PAY-AS-YOU-GO REMINDER

The CKC is moving forward with a significant project called IT4YOU, that will completely revamp CKC's IT system, offering members an enhanced user experience with tools that make doing business with CKC more efficient. The new system will help CKC streamline and shorten the processing cycles and shift focus and resources to better grow our membership and secure the future of the Dog Fancy in Canada.

The new system will be pay-as-you-go, which will require payment in full to complete your application.

Online applications will require payment via credit card (accepted forms include Visa and Mastercard), and are fully secure.

Payment made by cheque, e-transfer (by sending payment to etransfers@ckc.ca, followed by an email to the same address with the password) or Electronic Fund Transfers (using your 7-digit Membership number with a zero in front [0+Membership Number] as the account number) will still be available, but must be submitted through the office accompanying a paper application. Processing of these applications may have a short holding period pending receipt of payment in full.

Please Note: As of June 28, 2019 member statement details are no longer available online. As CKC moves forward with pay-as-you-go transactions, previously issued statements can still be viewed online, but all future completed transactions will require immediate payment and will be accompanied by an invoice.

Thank you to all members who have settled their accounts. We request that members who still have an amount owing, please settle their account as soon as possible. To view any outstanding balances and make a payment please visit www.ckc.ca/login or contact Membership Services at 416-675-5511 or 1-855-364-7252 (toll-free).

NEW TOP DOGS ADDITION FOR 2019: HERDING

The Canadian Kennel Club is excited to announce that herding has been added to the 2019 CKC Top Dogs program!

Celebrating the achievements of Canadian competitors and their dogs in CKC-recognized events, Herding will be included in Top Dogs results for points earned as of January 1st, 2019. A herding trial reflects not only instinct, ability and training of the dog, but also an effective working partnership of dog and handler for controlling and moving livestock calmly and efficiently.

CKC looks forward to sharing the successes of our members and their dogs competing in this event!

The Top Herding Dogs system will award points based on the level and the dog's score each time it qualifies.

Started, 3 points	PLUS score over 95, 5 points
Intermediate, 4 points	90.5-95, 4 points
Advanced, 5 points	85.5-90, 3 points
	80.5-85, 2 points
	75-80, 1 point

Examples:

- Herding Started Cattle competes with a Q of 82. This dog would earn 3 pts + 2 pts = total of 5 points.
- Stock Dog Advanced Sheep competes with a Q of 76. This dog would earn 5 + 1 = total of 6 points.
- Herding Advanced Sheep competes with a Q of 89. This dog would earn 5 + 3 = total of 8 points.

Share this news with your fellow members, competitors, events staff and clubs to help spread the news about the addition of herding to CKC's Top Dogs program!

NANAIMO KENNEL CLUB'S PARADE OF BREEDS A SUCCESS

A great way to introduce the public to purebred dogs

As a writer and influencer for the Canadian Kennel Club I'm always thinking of ideas to introduce the public to purebred dogs or to remind them of the great, predictable qualities they have.

While dog shows are a fantastic place to learn about the CKC's many incredible breeds, if you don't know who to ask, a newcomer to the dog world might leave with only visual memories of beautiful dogs and questions left unanswered.

Unlike most people, February is one of my favourite months of the year. Is it because I have a snowmobile? The conditions for skiing? No and no. It's because I head down to Manhattan for Westminster. While the two day conformation show is the main attraction of Westminster week, I always get pumped to attend their "Meet the Breeds" event. This is a casual affair that invites the public to experience 200 different breeds at booths hosted by national breed clubs. There's food, a bar serving beer and wine and endless opportunities for the general public to interact with purebred dogs while learning from the people who live with and love them day in, day out. The event has sold out in recent years and capacity has been reached to the point that they close down that terrifying staircase connecting the Piers. Needless to say, I think the public is hungry to learn more about purebred dogs, we just need to find ways to bring the two together.

This spring I was thrilled to be asked to MC the Royal Canin Parade of Canine Breeds at the Canadian Pet Expo in Mississauga, Ontario. The show drew a huge crowd and all dogs, handlers and audience members had a fantastic time. Since this event went so well here in Ontario, I was excited when I heard from CKC member Sandi Malcom that the Nanaimo Kennel Club was going to throw their own Parade of Breeds at their 2019 show.

Nanaimo Kennel Club's Parade of Breeds happened on Saturday, June 15. It was open to breeders, owners and handlers. Having almost 30 breeds represented along with the enormous support from breeders and owners involved made it a wonderful contribution to all dogs.

"It was very well received by the general public, and we had a lot of people come especially to watch the parade. It is well worth all the work and effort to get it done. I advertised it in all the newspaper calendar of events sections, all tourism sections, school boards, seniors homes, flyers out to other clubs, on our premium list, and through our tent sponsors and of course Facebook." Says Malcom.

I'd like to point out how fantastic it is that Sandi does this type of Public Relations and Marketing for her club. I believe that all kennel clubs need to assign at least one member to be in charge of getting the word out about their events. This is a crucial role each club must have to ensure that dog events continue. I truly believe the public does want to attend CKC events, however, when I tell people I was at a nearby dog show over the weekend, their response is usually that they would have gone had they known one was happening in the region.

The Parade of Breeds went from 5:00 to 7:00 pm. Sandi believes that in the future a slightly earlier time would work better as it can be hard to get people to stay after Best in Show.

A great variety of breeds took part in the NKC

Parade of breeds including: Norwich Terrier, Russell Terrier, Cairn Terrier, Miniature Schnauzer, Soft-coated Wheaten Terrier, American Cocker Spaniel, American Staffordshire Terrier, Australian Cattle Dog, Afghan Hound, Beagle, Cane Corso, Clumber Spaniel, Finnish Lapphund, Miniature American Shepherd, Golden Retriever, Labrador Retriever, Newfoundland, Norwegian Buhund, Old English Sheepdog, Rottweiler, Schipperke, Tibetan Terrier, Vizsla, Chihuahua, Chinese Crested, Silky Terrier, Miniature Pinscher, French Bulldog and Yorkshire Terrier.

Each breed was introduced one at a time, they entered the ring highlighted by a huge movie spotlight, did one trip around the ring and found their breed sign and waited there, while the rest of the breeds came in. A brief bio on each breed was then read out by MC Grant Townsend, who all agree was a great asset to the event. Information was read about the breed not the dog in the ring and showcased their personalities, habits and how well they may fit into a family.

All humans and dogs looked fantastic and Sandi would like to give "A huge thank you to all who took the time to do this for our purebred dogs and a special thanks to the U.S. competitors that came in for support."

NOTICE BOARD

After the presentations in the ring many of the breeds had tables outside the ring and stayed and talked to people about their breed and how they might fit into their family. Everyone enjoyed the information, especially the children that attended.

Port-mortems were sent out to all participants on how to improve the Parade of Breed at next year's show and the club took were several excellent suggestions that they will implement in 2020.

"All in all, great support from our dog families, a fun event. In my opinion, every kennel club in Canada should be doing this to support our wonderful purebred dogs. The opportunity for education is limitless and so very much needed." Says Sandi and I couldn't agree more.

MILESTONES

We regret to announce the passing of the following member. The Canadian Kennel Club wishes to extend condolences to family and friends.
