DIFFICULT TIME FOR DOGS AND DOG LOVERS AS BSL ADOPTED IN MONTREAL

The Canadian Kennel Club is deeply concerned by the adoption of a breed-specific animal control bylaw in Montreal on September 27, 2016. We advise our members and all dog owners to carefully read the details of this new bylaw, effective October 3, 2016 and to call 311 (Montreal) / 514-872-0311 (outside Montreal) or contact your local Montreal councillor should you have questions concerning interpretation and enforcement. Note: CKC is investigating the possibility of special provisions for restricted dogs travelling to and participating in CKC events.

Our position remains clear: The Canadian Kennel Club categorically opposes breed specific legislation (BSL). BSL is a reactionary, fear-based measure that punishes the breed and not the deed. Such legislation in and of itself, will not and cannot change the attitude and actions of irresponsible dog owners.

We strongly support appropriate Dangerous Dog Legislation that serves to protect the public and promotes responsible dog ownership. Well-crafted dangerous dog legislation can be extremely effective, as seen in the Calgary model—with its zero tolerance approach to licensing and enforcement, and public education programs—which resulted in a 70% reduction in dog bites over a 20-year period and a financially sustainable animal control program.

CKC believes that public awareness and education, stronger enforcement of existing bylaws and stiffer penalties for irresponsible owners is more effective than breed specific legislation. We also support:

- mandatory licensing
- strong enforcement of leash laws, running at large laws, property confinement laws
- spay/neuter requirements for all dogs not considered breeding stock
- increased regulation of the selling and transfer of dogs
- universal identification of dogs by either tattoo or microchip

With the impending Quebec ruling on proposed BSL, CKC shall continue to reach out to policymakers to offer our assistance and expertise and promote legislation that is reasonable, enforceable and non-discriminatory.

PROTECT YOURSELF AGAINST PHISHING AND OTHER SUSPICIOUS EMAILS

Spam is an unavoidable aspect of the internet. Spam or 'phishing' emails will often use familiar logos and sender email addresses to look like they have been sent from a legitimate source. If you think you have received a suspicious email, do not open attachments or use any of the links — just delete it.

There are many ways for spammers to infiltrate your email and contacts. To minimize risk, create an alternative email address and use it only for signing up to websites and services.

The CKC does not send emails to its members requesting personal details – i.e., membership number, password, banking information. If you receive a suspicious email, contact your email service provider to verify its legitimacy and the best course of action.
