INFORMATION ON IDENTIFICATION

In order to be eligible for registration in the records of the CKC, a dog must be identified by one of two methods set forth in Section 26 of the Club's By-laws so that the certificate of registration issued for the dog makes it possible to distinguish it from any other dog of the same breed. The owner of the dog may choose which of these two methods is to be used and is responsible for ensuring that the dog is properly identified.

Methods of Identification

1. Microchip Transponder Implants

- A dog owned by a resident of the United States may possess a microchip that meets the Canadian Standard. In such circumstances, the chip will be accepted if it meets the following criteria:
- The chip is implanted in the appropriate location, which is under the skin between the shoulder blades.
- The chip contains a maximum of twenty (20) characters.

For a list of acceptable Canadian Standard microchip transponders, please visit our website.

2. Tattoos

Any person wishing to use this method must apply to the CKC on an official application form, for the allotment of "Tattoo Series" for his exclusive use.

Where a dog is owned by a resident of the United States, the dog must be identified with the tattoo letter series allotted by the CKC along with a serial numeral.

Example: If the owner is allotted the letters ABC, such letters are tattooed on the dog, plus the numeral "1" for the first dog tattooed, or the serial numeral "2" for the second dog, and so on. Note: A year letter is not required on a Foreign Dog.

Any tattoo mark placed on the dog for registration purposes must be recorded on the application for registration in the spaces provided for the purpose and the person who physically places the tattoo mark on the dog must sign the section.

The tattoo marks can be placed in the right or left ear, on the right or left flanks or on the belly or lips. If on the ears, care should be taken to avoid piercing the cartilaginous ridges also as to affect ear carriage.

For further information, please refer to the CKC Identification Regulations brochure, which is available from the CKC Order Desk or visit our website www.ckc.ca.
