SPRATTS PATENT (AMERICA) LIMITED.

Westminster Kennel Club, Babylon, L.I., October 6th, 1887.

GENTLEMEN,—I think it proper to state that I attribute the excellent condition of our pointers, and particularly of Bang-Bang (always a most difficult dog to get right), to the fact that six weeks prior to the Waverly, N.J. show I fed them almost entirely on your Cod Liver Oil Cakes. I have also found the cakes invaluable for puppies recovering from distemper and other complaints of a debilitating nature. Send 500 pounds some time next week.

JAMES MORTIMER, Superintendent.

Especially valuable for preparing BAD FEEDERS for EXHIBITION. In cases of DISTEMPER, ECZEMA and other diseases, they are especially valuable, and are a most successful food for DELICATE and DAINTY FEEDING DOGS. The abundance of natural phosphates they contain insures their being a perfect food for young, growing puppies, particularly of a large breed, such as St. Bernards.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THE BULLDOG BITCH,

PURCHASED last month by Mr. A. D. Stewart, of Hamilton, from Dr. Bedell Benison, of Birmingham, died suddenly in that city on May 1st. She had been bred to the celebrated Forceps and Mr. Stewart has certainly had a stroke of bad luck, but says he will get another equally good bitch at once.

SUFFOLK CORONET GOES TO HAMILTON.

Dog lovers in Hamilton will be pleased to learn of the purchase made this month by Mr. J. W. Morden, who has secured the famous Fox-Terrier Suffolk Coronet from Mr. Jas. Mortimer of New York. Coronet is known all over the continent and is one of best dogs living. His color is white, with a richly marked black and tan head. He has good shoulders, narrow front, capital hard coat, excellent feet and legs, and is dead game and full of Terrier quality. As a show dog he has not often been exhibited and yet whenever benched, has secured signal victories over the best dogs which could be put in against him. As a sire he is well known, and has produced some of the best puppies of the day. He is by England's champion Result out of champion Diadem, and has a long and blue-blooded pedigree, which is undeniable. Mr. Morden has to be commended for his pluck and enterprise in bringing such a valuable dog to Hamilton, a fact which dog-breeders will not be slow to realize and take advantage of, as we see he has been placed at stud in our business columns.

ANOTHER GOOD TERRIER, PUNCH, has also been added to our stud list this month. He is by Parker out of Tootzie and was a frequent winner last season. His services have been placed at a very moderate fee.

A PROGRESSIVE KENNEL CLUB.

From the first, Hamilton has assumed a good attitude in the kennel world and has struck out a path for itself, so that we are not surprised that Hamilton has decided to have no puppy classes at its bench show in September next.

NO PUPPY CLASSES AT MONTREAL.

Montreal will have no puppy classes also; in fact "Mount Royal" who was asked to organize a committee made that a stipulation, we understand, before he would undertake the task. With three shows at all events in Canada leading the world in this matter, we think there is something to be proud of and worthy of imitation. Bench shows may be managed either so that selfishness and the mighty dollar or the general good of dogdom shall prevail.

A FINE MATING OF LLEWELLYNS.

The Mount Royal Kennels, Montreal, have bred their bitch Nellie Dale to the Kingston and Bancroft Kennels Grouse. The bitch is a beautifully marked Blue Belton with an almost perfect head, while Grouse is a fine up-stand dog of capital form and markings throughout. Nellie Dale is fast and Grouse is reputed to be a first-class field dog in all respects. Both are winners on the bench, so that fine form and field capacity may be looked for in the issue. Each dog is rich in the best Llewellyn blood.

MR. H. W. LACY AS A CORRESPONDENT.

It is said that certain persons in Canada are wondering if the esteemed H. W. L. makes it the exception rather than the rule to answer private letters. They have not heard that he is suffering from writer's cramp or paralysis.

A BENCH SHOW FOR MONTREAL.

The Montreal Exposition Association has decided to hold its first bench show on Sept. 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th and has claimed these dates, thus coming in between Toronto and Ottawa. Details will shortly be arranged. "Mount Royal" has been asked by the Association to select a committee and direct the management of the show.

TORONTO BENCH SHOW.

Mr. E. Clinton Wilmerding has been asked, and has consented to judge all Spaniel classes. In addition to the regular classes, a series of dog races will be held on three days of the show, and fifty dollars has been appropriated for this purpose. No entry for the races will be charged but all competing dogs must be entered in the usual way for competition.

A WELL-BRED LITTER.

We notice that Mr. J. W. Morden's Fox Terrier bitch Bachante has recently whelped six puppies to Suffolk Coronet. The results of such a union should turn out well.

MR. S. F. GLASS,

London, the Secretary of the C.K.C. was in Toronto on the 5th inst. Mr. Glass has great hopes of Phillis' last litter, some of which are coming along splendidly, and will develop into immense dogs which will, he hopes, give a good account of themselves at the Canadian fall circuit.

PHILLIS—WATCH.

Mr. Glass intends breeding Phillis to the great smooth dog, Watch, the next time she comes in season.

LONDON BENCH SHOW.

It has not as yet been definitely settled as to whether London will hold a bench show this fall or take a holiday for a season. In the event of a show being held, it was intended to come in between Toronto and Ottawa, but Montreal having now claimed these dates, we presume such intention must be abandoned.

MR. T. G. DAVEY,

London, was in Toronto on April 23rd. We had the pleasure of a short chat with him.

UNGENTLEMANLY CONDUCT.

Several times during the past season it has been brought prominently to our notice that a certain class of exhibitors are in the habit, if the judges awards do not agree with their ideas, of giving utterance to language at once unfair, unjust and ungentlemanly, and this at the ring side, or indeed even in the ring. Such conduct should at once be put down, and it is the duty of committees to see that judges while at the performance of their official duties are not interfered with and in some (we hope isolated) cases actually insulted.

ON THE EXHIBITORS

side it is but right that they should conduct themselves with respect and dignity, and bear with silence the sometimes unjustness (to them) of the judge's decision. If protest must be made, let it be made at the proper place, at the proper time and in fitting manner.

OUR ILLUSTRATION.

Our English contemporary the Fanciers Gazette thus describes the shaggy looking dog of which we give a portrait this month.

This dog is one of the most notable specimens ever seen on our benches, and yet so much like our own Sheep-dogs that he could easily win if our classes were not usually restricted to "Old English" Sheep-dogs. Khelat was brought from the far north of Afghanistan by an English regiment on its return from service there, and was presented to Mr. Taunton by Lieutenant E. Gunner, R.H.A. He was first shown at Eastbourne in 1881, and has since won many prizes, including firsts at Alexandra Palace, Sheffield, Frome, Warwick, Maidstone, and elsewhere. He has a very dense undercoat, and has also the well feathered legs so much esteemed. Readers will doubtless be surprised to learn that the dog has no ears, those appendages having evidently been torn off close to the skull. The openings are, however, well covered by the hair, which is very thick and long on the head. Khelat has a good honest bark, an accomplishment doubtless due to his long residence in Mr. Taunton's kennels, and which differs widely from the "yelp" more or less common to "foreign" dogs.

MR. GLASS' LETTER.

We would call particular attention to the communication from this gentleman in another column. We can still supply from this office a few blanks to those who can use them advantageously.

THE HELEN KELLER FUND.

We regret not having to report any further addition to the fund for this most commendable object explained in last issue. We shall wait a few days further in the hope that we may have the pleasure of forwarding an augmented sum to Mr. Wade.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB.

At the regular meeting of this club, the President, Mr. Boyle in the chair, a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the Industrial Exhibition for the greatly increased list they will offer for their next show, and the members pledged themselves to do all in their power to forward the interests of the show. Several new members were proposed and accepted, and it was resolved to hold a competition for members dogs on May 14th, of which we hope to give a few notes before closing this column. Messrs. J. F. Kirk, Toronto, and T. G. Davey, London, will officiate as judges. It is proposed to hold another members competition in August next.

TWO MORE BULL-DOGS

are to be domiciled in America, which, up to this have been residents of England. Mr. E. D. Morgan gets the all white dog Cardinal Wolsley, and Mr. Frank Dole, who is at present in England, has purchased H. M. Stanley, a son of German Monarch and Princess Brindle.

THE SWISS MOUNTAIN KENNELS,

Philadelphia, have purchased the St. Bernard bitch, Castlereagh. She is supposed to be in whelp to Lord Bute.

MR. RUPERT, JUN'R, NEW YORK, has had a large deal with Mr. S. W. Smith, who is at present on this side of the pond. Scottish Prince, the phenomenal young St. Bernard, Aristocrat and a young bitch by the defunct Alton are included in the purchase.

ANOTHER ST. BERNARD,

There appears to be no end of St. Bernard's leaving the land of their birth for the land of the free, this time it is the bitch Marghareta, 1st Dundee and 1st Kilmarnock. She has been purchased by Mr. F. C. Lamb, Baltimore, Md.

THE CANADIAN LAND COMPANY

have imported from England two Colie bitches of the famous Border black and-white type. Both are in pup.

CHAMP. BLACK DUKE.

We are pleased to be able to insert the word Champion before Black Duke's name on his stud card.

Forest & Stream

in writing of the Judges at the coming show in Toronto says:

This reminds us that the Toronto dailies seem to be made the medium by certain people to discuss questions which strictly belong to the Canadian kennel organ. The position of judge is a thankless one at best, but if in addition to this they are to become the subjects of abuse in such a public manner it will not be long before our Canadian friends will have to choose judges from among their own fraternity.

We are obliged to our contemporary but the "Canadian kennel organ" much prefers that such matters will not find space in its columns which are all too limited for the insertion of such ill-natured utterings and which are very far from creditable both to the writers and to the paper which gave them space in its columns.

DOES THE TRUTH NOT SIGNIFY?

In an article in the last number of the GAZETTE, for which we hold ourselves responsible, attention was called to the slanderous character of some of the statements in "Nutcracker's" letters in the English Stock Keeper. This is spoken of as "going beyond the bounds of good taste," by this journal in a recent "whisper." That these letters contain infamous untruths we re-assert, and as regards one of these we gave the proof, viz: the word of the owner of the dog concerned. The Stock-Keeper was informed of the untruthfulness of its statements by this gentleman, whose word has probably never been questioned, and whose position should be some guarantee to the Stock-Keeper that he could not afford to imitate "Nutcracker" in mendacity. If this is the attitude of the Stock-Keeper it must continue to fall in the esteem of all whose good opinion is worth having. "Crisp criticism" is good, but true criticism, or true statements as to matters of fact are better. We always thought it was but necessary to inform a respectable journal of the untruthfulness of any of its statements to ensure some sort of reparation, and certainly so in good old England, which still, we hope, prides itself on its honor.

THE SEATON KENNELS, TORONTO, are importing a pair of Greyhounds from England. This kennel now owns Jolly Ranger (2nd Chicago, etc.), and have recently purchased a litter sister to this dog, White Wings. With their new purchases they hope to have a look in for the team prize at the Industrial.

CANADIAN DOGS AT U.S. SHOWS.

At Chicago, Canadians were well in the list, i.e., Mr. H. Gorman, Sarnia, in St. Bernards; Mr. Dan O'Shea, Newfoundlands; C. E. Ireson, Toronto, Greyhounds, 2nd open dogs, Jolly Ranger; Mr. T. G. Davey, London, had several winners in Pointers, English Setters, and Fox and Irish Terriers; Mr. Campbell's Becky Sharpe repeated her win in the challenge bitch class; the Clumber Kennels, Ottawa, captured all awards in their variety; and Messrs. Bell, Toronto, Laidlaw, and Woodland Kennels, Woodstock, were the principal winners in Field and Cocker Spaniels. Messrs. McEwen & Gibson's kennels did remarkably well in Collies, and with the same breed Mr. H. P. Harrison, Toronto, was awarded 3rd on his bitch, Nancy. In Cleveland also, many of the awards at Chicago the previous week were repeated.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB.

This Club held its first members competition last night (14th) and it proved to be an unqualified success. About 75 entries turned out, Cocker, Fox Terriers and Toy Spaniels being the most numerous. About two hundred visitors and members were present and as usual at dog shows in Toronto the ladies took a special interest in the exhibits. Mr. T. G. Davey, London and Mr. J. F. Kirk, Toronto, divided the classes between them. The prizes consisted of the usual ribbons and nicely gotten up diplomas for 1st, 2nd, 3rd, V. H. C. and H. C. This competition was so successful and so many dogs turned out that we think the Club would do well next time such a meeting is held to have the dogs benched by 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and let the classes be gone over slowly, the judges being requested to kindly point out the good and bad points of the competing dog as they go along. The members, especially those young in doggy lore, would look on this as a boon.

The Toronto papers of to-day (15th) publish full lists of awards but the names in many cases are not correct. We must heartily congratulate the Club on the success of the meeting. Such gatherings must do much to advance the interest in dogs in Toronto.

BARKLETS.

“WHAT'S in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet.” The little town of Oban, situated on the west coast of Scotland, seems destined to become famous for having suggested a popular name for Canadian Cockers. So far we have two bearing this euphonious appellation, one of which has been registered in the Canadian Kennel Register the other “listed” in the A. K. C. In all probability both these dogs will beget their kind—as a matter of fact the original “Oban” is already the sire of numerous progeny. What a legacy for the pedigree student of the future!

* * *

But there is another side to this question which may possibly have more influence with the owner of the winning “Oban” than did Mr. Sarney's letter. Section 2 of Rule 2 “for the Government of bench shows in Canada” reads as follows:—Prize winners at any show held under the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club, must be entered in the Canadian Kennel Club Register, before prize will be given (American dogs excepted). Let me digress a moment. The last clause would appear to be anomalistic, and not altogether complimentary to our intelligence. I have somehow gained the impression that Canada is a part of America. However be that as it may I presume the true intent of the rule above quoted is that only dogs owned in the United States and registered with the A. K. C. are exempt from its provisions. The construction of Section 3. bears out this conclusion. Now if all dogs owned in Canada must be registered in C. K. R. before prize will be given, and no duplication of names is allowed (and there ought not to be) in the same breed, it would seem as if no other course is open for the owner of the dog in question, but to rename him, should he wish to exhibit at the coming Canadian Circuit.

It is evident that politics is not my forte, and to tell the truth I'm not sorry as the present state of the egg trade alone, I should think, would give a politician the blues. However, relying on the statement made by the worthy President of the C.K.C. that "Americans do admit dogs free of duty provided they are accompanied with a certificate of registration from the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club," I started "Sambo" towards Uncle Sam's dominions accompanied by certificate of registration, and in charge of the Canadian Express Company. In justice to the company I will say that the Agent informed me that I must furnish a Consul's certificate, also an affidavit from the consignee that "Sambo" was being imported for breeding purposes. I visited the Consul located in our town, for the purpose of obtaining the requisite authority to land "Sambo" on American soil, and was told that a certificate would cost me $2.00. This was a tax for which I had made no provision, when quoting price to purchaser, and as the President of the C. K. C. had said nothing about it, I concluded to send on the dog without the certificate. On my agreeing to assume all risks, the Express Company forwarded "Sambo" and I congratulated myself that the C. K. C. was a good institution, and that it was quite the proper thing to have for its President a gentleman who knew "what he was talking about."

The evening following "Sambo's" departure for the U. S., I was waited upon by a telegraph messenger, who handed me a telegram, for which I paid 50 cents. The message was dated from Port Huron and contained the announcement that my dog was detained there awaiting Consul's certificate.

Here was a dilemma for which I was unprepared. The Consul's office had been closed for some hours, so that I could do nothing but patiently wait for the morrow. Telegraphed the agent at Port Huron that certificate would be sent without delay. Paid 50 cents. The next morning I procured the document, and "after many days" Sambo was received by his new owner free of duty in so far as he was concerned, but my book shows the following items on the debit side of Sambo's account. Registration in C.K.C. 50 cents. Cost of telegram from Port Huron, 50 cents. Telegram to Port Huron, 50 cents. Consul's Certificate, $2. Total, $3.50.

From the above it is evident, to me at least, that our dogs are not admitted free into the U. S. even if accompanied by a registration certificate, and the worst feature of the whole matter is that it is the exporter who must pay the duty, in the shape of fees to resident Consul before they will be admitted into that country. On the other hand when we import from the U.S., or any other country, we must also pay the duty of 20 per cent ad valorem. As a general rule, I have reason to believe that the duty paid to our Government averages less than that paid to Consul's of the United States for certificates to enable us to export, for the reason that imported dogs are not usually considered of much value until they have passed the Customs House, and have become denizens of their owner's kennel.

There would be little satisfaction in discussing the question as to whether all dog breeders are "honest." I agree with the Editor when he says they "should be" and I hope they are. I am not an advocate of the formation of such an Association in Canada as 'twas intended to organize in Chicago so long as the C.K.C. is disposed to "take the bull by the horns." A club such as we now have can do much toward keeping the kennel atmosphere pure, and its members above reproach. So long as we steer clear of the blunders which characterized the early history of the American Kennel Club, our little bark has nothing to fear from any opposition it is likely to receive from "honest" Canadian dog breeders.

I confess to a feeling of surprise as well as a certain sense of humiliation at the course pursued by some of my countrymen in respect to the opposition manifested towards the Toronto Bench Show Committee, in the matter of the selection of judges. That any gentleman should become the subject of public abuse and contumely because of an invitation to judge is a cause for regret, but to suppose that such splutterings would have any weight with the Committee is too ridiculous for contemplation. If this sort of thing continues, a judge with a grain of self-respect will hesitate to accept a position that gives every disappointed exhibitor a chance to throw mud from behind the barricade of a nom de guerre. Upon this subject the Forest and Stream man pertinently remarks;—"The position of judge is a thankless one at best, but if in addition to this they are to become the subjects of abuse in such a public manner it will not be long before our Canadian friends will have to choose judges from among their own fraternity." While this might not prove to be an unmixed evil, the principle (or lack of it) complained of, is bad.

"To wilful men the injuries that they themselves procure must be their schoolmasters." Should the judge selected not be all that he ought to be, we are at liberty to withhold our entries. A quiet protest of this kind will usually prove quite as effective as the more noisy one, and speak volumes to any committee.

I note your reply Mr. Editor to Mr. Sarney's letter re duplication of names in same breed. You say, "No other Cocker dog but yours can be entered in C.K.C. register under this name," (Oban). If your answer is correct, and I believe it is, I presume the same rule will apply to all other breeds. If so, I would call our C.K.C. Secretary's attention to the Fox Terriers "Pickle" No. 166, and "Pickle" No. 741.

BARKUS.

OUR BREEDING STATUS AND HOW TO IMPROVE IT.

THE writer in his notes on the New York show promised to give his impressions on the above subject for such as cared to consider them through the columns of the GAZETTE. It is not the intention to discuss the subject of breeding in an exhaustive way; but to outline what is needed in general to breed successfully, and what in particular we have to take into account in Canada just now.

It is as necessary to consider the brood bitch as the stud dog; and as regards the stamina and health of the offspring more so. It is impossible to breed vigorous puppies capable of resisting disease from a bitch that has not an excellent constitution.

The vigour of puppies is dependent on the health of both parents and this is the prime consideration in every case. After that should come intelligence and disposition and lastly form. I am sorry to say that I think the latter is usually the chief thing in the mind of the breeder, and for this bench shows are in part responsible; and and herein we see that these institutions though indispensable are by no means an unmixed good for the canine race.

Vigour is however not only hereditary but is largely dependent on the age of the parents.

No bitch should be bred from in her first season, and no dog of any breed used at stud under at least fifteen months of age, and better if not till two years. This is especially true of the larger breeds, but applies to all. However apart from the question of stamina in the puppies there are other reasons why the stud dog should not be used till his development is complete. Before a certain age (generally not less than eighteen months or two years) it is not possible to be certain as to what the ultimate form of the dog will be. He will almost certainly develop certain faults or excellencies or both; and his mature form, etc. is what he will most likely impart to his offspring, (a scientific law). As a rule a stud dog over seven or eight years of age is deficient in vigour and cannot beget puppies with the necessary vital power to reach a strong maturity.

For these reasons I regret to see the owner of a nice puppy that has been doing a good deal of winning at the shows proposing to place him in the Cocker stud. A good little dog he is now as my New York notes state, but he shows some faults already which if they increase will quite alter the case as to his being a dog to be largely used for stud purposes. Apart from all that, no ten months puppy should be allowed to mate with any, even an old bitch.

The problem with the owner of a bitch then stands about thus: To what dog can I mate my bitch so that the puppies may be strong, intelligent, true to type and combine strength and quality. I assume that the owner rises above the question:—How shall I mate so as to sell the puppies, for although that is a very important consideration it is a rather short-sighted one after all. In the end the man that breeds best sells best, even if he does not trumpet loudest. All this implies that the breeder knows the true type, understands wherein his own bitch is defective and tries to get a dog that at least has not the same defects as the bitch, nor any very glaring ones of another kind.

Pedigree is of great importance for that is a sort of summary of the history of the strain and from it may be gathered in a general way the breeding probabilities. Beyond this however, pedigree should not be trusted. The individuals of the proposed mating must be considered on their merits.

From merely looking over the stud advertisements of a journal little information of the desirable kind can usually be gleaned. It is necessary to get information as to weight, size, measurements, and if possible to see a photograph of the dog. Those of rough haired dogs especially are not unfrequently sad caricatures of the animal they are supposed to represent. I know one man who can and does write descriptions of his dogs that I would prefer to the average photograph, but then he is one in a thousand. Better still is it to see the dog, hence the value of bench shows, though it is by no means wise to breed to a winner simply because he is such. That is clear from what has already been said. A dog's faults seem on the whole more likely to be reproduced than his good points, so that it is undesirable to breed to an untypical, weakly, stupid, ungovernable or vicious dog—in fact to one with any serious defect of intellect or disposition, as well as of bodily form or constitution. It is not very commonly the case that a highly tempered and very finished bitch breeds as good as herself. But it does happen often enough that a rather coarse bitch with a good pedigree, having an even, quiet temperament, a good appetite and digestion and easily kept in condition, when mated with a dog of high quality produces some very fine puppies in her litters. These bitches are often at shows only the "commended" ones, but when judiciously mated the breeders of the celebrities. How frequently is such valuable breeding material despised and neglected, while perhaps the show bitch dies when whelping, eats the puppies, lacks milk or breaks down before her offspring are three weeks old. Of course I do not say that the show and brood bitch may not be combined. That is what we should aim at getting; but fanciers and specialty clubs, are so apt to run things to extremes that sensible notions regarding dogs are in perpetual peril.

There are some defects in the parents that are so likely to be reproduced that when they exist to a pronounced degree they should be regarded as disqualifying for breeding. The worst of these are in the brood bitch a pronounced tendency to worms, indigestion or very weak digestion and skin disease on the one hand, and extreme shyness, stupidity and viciousness on the other; unless these qualities are known to be exceptional in this bitch and never exhibited in others of the same breeding and have perhaps been developed by bad treatment, though even in such cases there is some risk. Certainly if such bitches are to be mated at all the stud dog should be pre-eminent in the corresponding good qualities.

A stud dog should above all be healthy, vigorous, of a good disposition, true to type and with at least fair quality himself no matter what the excellence of his pedigree. Even then there will with the best of mating be many disappointments. For assuming that he is all that can be desired it will be no easy matter to find an equally good bitch or one that if good will meet those obscure conditions which breeders call "nicking" but which I fear too often only means a haphazard mating instead of a carefully studied one. What may be termed breeding to a name is extremely common in America, i.e., using as a stud dog a celebrity simply because he is that. Now manifestly a dog may be excellent in himself, worthy enough of his title of "champion" it may be, and yet not suit the bitch in question as well as a dog of less renown. One of the results is that such a dog is apt to be so much used in the stud that his vitality is weakened and the puppies he begets, while they may resemble him in form fall far below him in stamina and a large proportion will not live even to maturity much less make themselves good sires or brood bitches. The sexual act is the most exhaustive of all functions and hence nature guards, in the wild congeners of the dog, against excessive employment of this function, by regulating the times at which the females come in season, so that no wild animal can have sexual intercourse all the year round as is to some extent the case with stud dogs.

But worse than breeding to a name is the custom which is common enough both in Canada and the United States of owners of bitches breeding to their own dogs. Unless the kennel is very, very large indeed, it is all but impossible that the best matings can thus be secured. There are not six such kennels probably in the whole of America. Yet I read the other day of a Canadian breeder that had mated about a dozen bitches to his own stud dog. He will get puppies—but how can such mating improve the breed? When the Chestnut Hill Kennels of Philadelphia, with their splendid resources offered the services of their stud dogs at a reduced figure the step was one in the best interests of Collies. But enough for the present. In my next I propose to apply these principles to the various breeds as they exist in Canada. Mount Royal.

OTHELLO.

HAPPENING to be in Windsor on the 6th inst., I paid a visit to Mr. J. C. Guillott's St. Bernard Kennels, to see his stud dog Othello. I was kindly received by Mr. Guillott, and found his kennels in excellent order, clean, airy, well littered, and just such a place as befitted a set of aristocratic dogs.

The kennels contain several good animals, but Othello is, of course, the gem of the collection. He is a very large dog, measuring fully thirty-two inches. His color is white and tawny and his markings excellent. His head is massive and his coat all that can be desired, whilst his bone is tremendous. He has a splendid disposition and is one of the most docile of dogs.

His weak point is his tail, which strikes one at once as being too short but this is characteristic of all Valentine's get.

Othello is by Champion Valentine out of Bellamona, and won six first prizes in England before coming to Canada. He has only once been exhibited in America, at St. Josephs, Miss., where he took first prize in open class and special cup.

Owners of bitches have a grand chance here to breed to a heavy and reliable dog, and should not be slow to grasp this opportunity. SILVER SAINT.

HAMILTON NOTES.

THE last of the winter series of members exhibitions was given by the Hamilton Kennel Club in Forester's Hall, Wednesday evening, 29th April. There was a large attendance, over a hundred members being present, and thirty new names were added to the Club roll. The breeds exhibited were black and tan Setters, Collies, St. Bernards and Newfoundlands. Some of the animals brought into the ring were good ones, whilst others were by no means up to the standard. Mr. Andrew Laidlaw of Woodstock was judge, and fulfilled the duties of his responsible position to the entire satisfaction of all present. In handling the dogs submitted to him, he pointed out their defects as well as their good points so that the judging was an interesting object lesson which could not fail to be productive of good results.

Mr. Laidlaw brought with him his black Cocker Oban, which made such a sensational win at the late New York Show. The little dog was looking well and received an ovation when he was put on the platform, as it was well known that he was a Hamilton dog, having been bred and raised here by Mr. Charles Searles, who sold him to Mr. Laidlaw.

Dr. Nelles, of Brantford was also a visitor and brought with him his Cocker, Brantford Red Jacket, for exhibition.

Dr. Mole read an interesting paper on "Mange and the Skin Diseases of the Dog," for which he received a hearty vote of thanks.

The awards for the night were as follows:—

Collies—R. S. Morris' Trim, V.H.C. Newfoundlands—No diploma on account of lack of merit. St. Bernards—H. P. Breay's Mary Jones, 2nd prize. Black and Tan Setters—Harry Bryants' Jack, 1st prize; John Hackett's Jacko, 2nd prize.

Mr. J. F. Kirk of Toronto, and Miss Anna H. Whitney of Lancaster, Mass., have both accepted positions as judges at the Hamilton Kennel Club bench show to be held in September.

Mr. Kirk will take all the Spaniel classes and Miss Whitney will handle St. Bernards, Great Danes, Newfoundlands and Pugs.

Mr. H. W. Lacy of New York, has been invited to take the rest of the show, and will, if he accepts it, have the lion's share of the work to do.

There will be no puppy classes at the Hamilton Bench Show. H.

MR. AKERLEY'S KENNELS.

Editor Gazette:—

HAVING just paid a visit to the kennels of Mr. Charles H. Akerley, of Tonawanda, N.Y., a few notes may prove interesting. The kennels are situated at Winger P.O., Ont., about eleven miles from Welland, Ont., and one mile and a half from Perry Station on the M.C.R.R. Here I would like to say to the readers of your valuable paper and to all lovers of dogs, particularly the St. Bernard, that it is well worth a visit to those kennels, if for no other purpose than to see the grand dog Mount St. Elias, which I, and my friends that were with me pronounced it to be the finest we ever saw. We also saw thirteen full grown dogs, two of which were Minion, a fine large smooth coated St. Bernard bitch, and Marigold, a very large rough-coated bitch with a large head and great bone as good a one as we ever saw. Also six very fine pups. The manager, Mr. Martin Sider, kindly showed us through all the kennels and fully explained to us each variety, also the manner of taking care of his pets and all about feeding them, and what is best to feed. Thanking you for your valuable space.

PETITION TO THE GOVERNMENT.

Editor Gazette:—

I regret very much to report that our appeal to the dog men of Canada to obtain signatures on the petitions to the Government to place dogs imported for the improvement of stock on the Free List, has not met with as liberal an effort on the part of those interested as I had expected. Strange to say outsiders, who are not members of the Club, have taken a more active interest in the matter than many who have been members ever since the organization of the Club. Mr. A. Mathers of Watford, and C. A. Bucke of Hamilton whom I might mention here, deserve the Club's best thanks. Ald. A. D. Stewart of Hamilton, and Mr. Jas. Lindsay of Merchant's Bank, Montreal, have done good work. I am well aware that there are many who have not yet reported, who will likely do so before the 15th. But as there have been so few applications for extra blank forms of petition, I am afraid our request to the Government will not be as strongly backed as we would wish to have had it. I trust members who have so far been inactive will forward as many names as possible before the 25th.

HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB.

Editor Gazette:—

I HAVE the pleasure to inform you hereby that the Bench Show of the Hamilton Kennel Club will be held in this City on 9th, 10th, and 11th, September 1891 and the Club now claims these dates.

I am Dear Sir,

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS ON DISEASES, BREEDING, MANAGEMENT, ETC.

Correspondents are requested to make full use of this column. The answers to enquiries as to diseases will be answered by a well-known medical man and breeder. Please read the following rules carefully.

1. Give a concise, clear and exact statement of case, always giving age, sex, and breed.
2. Enclose 3 cent stamp for reply.
3. Report result, not necessarily for publication. This is absolute.
4. Acute cases requiring immediate treatment to be answered by mail in the first instance, later through KENNEL GAZETTE for the benefit of our readers.
5. Write legibly and on one side of the paper only.
6. Answers to be to name in full, initials or nom de plume, the second preferred.

QUE.— A friend and neighbor of mine has very fine pups. He has been feeding cooked corn meal and raw milk for some three weeks; they were taken very bad with diarrhoea; he gave them of bismuth one oz., laudanum one drachm, mixed; dose half teaspoonful, every four hours. Feeds them boiled milk. Two of them run some at the eyes and are stupid, will not eat; other pups seem allright. They are Newfoundlands and St. Bernards; they do not run at the nose neither is their nose dry and hot. He thinks the cause of pups running at the eyes is because he used so much Chl. of Lime which might have got into their eyes.

I want you to send me immediately your best remedy for distemper for fear my pups may get like his, I have been feeding the same.

H.

ANS.—You give neither the breed nor age of your puppies. Your friend's puppies likely have distemper. It may be, however, that they have been over-fed. He should completely change the diet—feeding on boiled rice, rice and broth without fat, and in very small quantities every two hours. The addition of lime water is good. It would be advisable to put a flannel roller on each one to keep the belly warm. For the diarrhoea an injection of boiled starch, containing 20 drops of laudanum may prove helpful. There is no distemper cure, i.e., nothing that will abort the disease. The reliance must be on careful nursing and judicious feeding, treating the symptoms as they arrive. During the febrile stage light easily digestible food in small quantities and often, pure air, and warm (comfortable) quarters. When the discharge from the nose and eyes gets thick wash it away very gently with a soft rag and warm water. Keep a little vaseline around the edges of the eyes and on the nose. No exercise, but a very comfortable bed. If shivering, put a coat on the dog.

Medicine can do only a limited amount of good. Try a combination of Quinine, Sodium Hyposulphite and Potassium Bromide for 7 to 10 days, after that change to Citrate of Iron and Quinine. Assuming that the puppies are over three months old, the doses might be Quinine 1 grain, Pot. Bromide 8 grains, Sod. Hyposulphite 4 grains. These may be made into pills to be given 3 times daily. The dose of citrate of Iron and Quinine is about 5 grains which may be given in solution in water after food. See an article on Distemper in the CANADIAN KENNEL GAZETTE for June last.

QUE.—Taking advantage of your kind offer to procure me advice for the treatment of my St. Bernard puppy dog, I herewith beg to submit to you a description of him and his symptoms. He is 3½ months old, and up to about two weeks ago seemed to be getting along nicely, when I noticed a weakness in his hind legs, raising himself with difficulty and evident pain after lying or sitting down. He can now barely raise his hind limbs from the ground and his front legs are bending like bows. I notice that he passes some worms occasionally, and I believe they are tape worms. I have been feeding him until within this last day or two on oatmeal porridge and milk, three times a day. This last two days have given him some meat and bread and milk, with Spratts bone meal sprinkled over. Shall be greatly obliged to receive the benefit of your advice as to treatment for his case.

E.J.D.

ANS.—Your account is clear and so we can advise you with confidence. The larger breeds St. Bernards especially tend to go wrong in legs, owing to weight of body and rapid growth. Your feeding has not been generous enough. Treatment: (1). Dose for worms. Feed about 4 p.m. on porridge and milk and give nothing more that day. Next morning give 1 grain of Areca nut (powdered) for each pound weight of the dog. Make into pills with butter or give in gelatine capsules. After three-quarters of an hour give a large tablespoonful of castor oil. An hour after give a light feed of porridge and milk which will assist the action of the oil. If worms are passed repeat this treatment in a week. (2). Feed the puppy for a while 4 times a day, giving besides well-cooked porridge and milk some lean raw beef cut up fine. Also cooked meat, broths, etc., with occasionally vegetables well-cooked cut up fine or mashed. Of course thicken the soups, etc., with stale bread, etc. Continue the bone meal. (3). Give a teaspoonful of cod liver oil (with food if he will so take it) morning and evening, and the same quantity of Parrish's phosphates at mid-day. Let the last meal be the largest to last the puppy through the night.

QUE.—About seven weeks ago a sore broke out on the shoulder of my Irish Setter dog. At first I thought he had been shot; the sore was about as big as a five cent piece and about a quarter of an inch deep or more. It is better than it was at first, but does not heal completely. It is watery and always wet with a sort of watery matter. Last Sunday I noticed another such sore on his back. The dog is three years old, rather fat, fed once a day, in the evening, on vegetables and scraps of cooked meat. I have treated him for worms and found that he had none. Would you kindly advise me what to do in this case.

Yours, etc.,

S.S.

ANS.—Your dog has probably been feed too much and exercised too little. Commence treatment by giving him one compound cathartic pill at night (no food at all that day) followed by a teaspoonful of flowers of sulphur in his food next morning. Feed lightly on bread and milk for about four days. Exercise him a good deal. Keep giving the sulphur daily for a week. He must be reduced in flesh. Give little meat for a while. Apply to the sores three times a day a little tar ointment, to be obtained at any chemist shop.
