The Dog in Health and in Disease.

INCLUDING HIS ORIGIN, HISTORY, VARIETIES, BREEDING, EDUCATION, AND GENERAL MANAGEMENT IN HEALTH AND HIS TREATMENT IN DISEASE.

By WESLEY MILLS, M.A., M.D., D.V.S., Etc.

Professor of Physiology in the Faculty of Human Medicine and in the Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science of McGill University, Montreal; Lecturer on Cynology in the latter Faculty. Author of Animal Physiology, Comparative Physiology, How to Keep a Dog in the City, etc. With Thirty-eight full-page Cuts, One Colored Plate, and numerous other Illustrations. 8vo, cloth. Price, $2.25.

Published by D. APPLETON & CO., 3 and 5 Bond Street, New York.

The author of this work has undertaken, in a clear, concise, untechnical way, to supply the large class of intelligent dog owners and breeders, and veterinarians, with the information necessary for the proper care, management, and treatment of the dog in health and disease. His well-known reputation as a writer and lecturer on human and veterinary physiology, his special study of canine diseases, and his long experience as a breeder of dogs, insure a thorough and correct handling of the subject.

UNSOLICITED OPINIONS OF THE PRESS AND INDIVIDUALS

"Altogether the work is one of great use to the breeder and the veterinary student, and one that should find a place in every dog-man's kennel-shelf and library."—Forest and Stream.

"Very interesting and valuable."—New York Times.
"A practical protest against the treatment of dogs according to the light of the horse-doctor. The book is intended for all persons who breed, keep, or in any way take a special interest in the dog. . . . One half the book is devoted to the diseases of the dog. The symptoms and treatment are carefully given, and there is added a table of doses of the drugs found most efficacious. The volume is one to be cordially recommended."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"It was the writer's aim to bring the book thoroughly up to date in all respects, and we think he has succeeded admirably. The illustrations are of famous dogs. The book contains over 400 pages, and the letter-press and mechanical work upon it are done in the very best style."—The Fancier's Journal, Philadelphia.

"Four hundred and seven pages are devoted exclusively to dogs. Thirty-eight full page cuts, one colored plate and numerous other illustrations, add much to its value. It is nicely printed on heavy paper, bound in cloth, and will prove of great value to the owner of one dog or a kennel, the student or the canine practitioner. The library of every one interested in the dog should contain a copy of this work."—The American Stock-Keeper, Boston.

"The numerous illustrations in the book have been drawn from various sources, especial pains having been taken to furnish models for judging the various breeds of dogs in the full-page plates. The book is intended not only for students and specialists, but for all intelligent persons who breed, keep, or in any way take a special interest in the dog."—Witness, Montreal, Can.
"The book is no predecessor to this book, not in the scope and purpose, or in the authoritative nature of its contents."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

"The best treatise on the subject that has appeared in this country."—Washington, D.C., Republican.
"The author is very conservative in recommending medicine or courses of treatment, and for this reason his book will commend itself to the owners of valuable dogs."—San Francisco Chronicle.

"A book to be welcomed, not only by veterinary surgeons, but by every lover and student of the dog. The typographical work and illustrations are of a very high grade. Of course those who are called upon to treat sick canines will be most interested in that part which deals with the dog in disease, but we venture to predict that the classification of the several breeds, and the chapters on the psychic characteristics and the care of the dog, will gain for the book its greatest popularity."—Chicago Interior.

"The more a certain brilliant French woman saw of men the better she liked dogs—at least that is what she said. . . . But if she could have read Dr. Mills' book on the dog she would have found that dogs are not really much different from men after all—perhaps that is why she liked them. . . . Dr. Mills has certainly produced a delightful book and one which should have a hearty welcome in these dog-show days."—N.Y. Tribune.

"You have not only taught us how to treat dogs in health and disease, but you have given those who may ever aspire to writing a book on such a subject an excellent example of how to do it."—Williamson Bryden, D.V.S., Boston, Examiner in Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science, McGill University.

"Your book proves a real treat on perusal and it must find a place in the library of every man who loves the dog. It has only to be known to be appreciated. I have shown it to several friends, who agree with me that it is the only work of the kind up to the times."—P. G. Keyes, Esq., Judge of Spaniels at the Montreal Bench Show of 1891.

"I consider your book on the dog the best that has ever been gotten up."—B. F. Lewis, Esq., Handler of Bench Show Dogs.

"The book is cheap at the price, and I believe will have a large sale, as it covers the entire ground in a very able manner."—Victor Haldeman, Editor Fancier's Journal, Philadelphia.

"The work is quite unusually complete. Dr. Mills is evidently an authority on this subject, and his work will be of value to those who deal with dogs whether they are sick or not. The work abounds in fine cuts of the different species of dogs, and contains a great deal of anatomical and detailed information concerning each species. No one who has a valuable dog can afford to be without this work."—The Boston Herald.

Extracts from Letters to the Author.

"The copy of your valuable new book I am enjoying extremely."—Miss Anna H. Whitney, Bench Show Judge.

"I consider your new book quite equal to anything of the kind I have ever seen, and a most valuable addition to any sportsman's library; indeed it is a library in itself by covering the ground so thoroughly."—John Davidson, Esq., Bench Show and Field Trial Judge.

"It is a good book, and I must congratulate you on it, carefully compiled and up to date; it should find a ready sale on sight. The illustrations are the best I ever saw in any dog book, bar none, and enhance the appearance very much."—H. W. Lacy, Esq., Bench Show Judge, etc.

"I have just finished your very admirable new work and hasten to congratulate you on giving to the public a book of such general excellence. I fully anticipated something very much beyond the ordinary before opening the cover, but was hardly prepared to find so much real, practical and useful, as well as scientific information contained in one volume."—C. H. Corbett, Esq., Supt. Kingston Bench Show.

"The work appears to be most interesting."—A. D. Stewart, Esq., Hon. Sec'y, Hamilton Kennel Club.

"The cuts are remarkably good and true. I am glad to see that you so decidedly insist that dog practice is not horse practice, or anything like it; young veterinarians cannot get to understand this fact too early. The classification is good, the remarks concerning prophylactic treatment excellent, and the drug table will be especially useful."—Dr. Charles Lyman Harvard Veterinary School, Boston.

"I have never read a work on the same subject (and I have read nearly all the published works on dogs) that has given me so much pleasure as well as information, a thing not often combined in such works."—J. S. Niven, M.D., the well-known Cynologist of London, Ont.

A T STUD—THE SMOOTH FOX TERRIER RIDEAU RIVET,

(Late Merle Guy) C K R No. 1908.

Dudley Dandy. Bodkin III.

Vesuvian. Lady Mayfair. Rivet III. Race.

Rivet weighs 16 1/2 lbs., is white, with evenly marked black and tan head, has very small V shaped ears, hard coat, plenty of bone, and a "wonderful front." In general appearance he is a lively little dog of good character and style. His breeding is of the best, and at the nominal fee for which his services are offered he ought to do much to advance Fox Terrier interests in Canada. Fee until further notice, $5.00. Address for cards—

NOTES AND COMMENTS

NEW WESTMINSTER DOG SHOW.

MR. W. J. CORBETT, who takes a very lively interest in doggy matters on the Coast, writes us as follows under date of October 13th. "We have had this week what I trust is only the beginning of better things, a Dog Show, in connection with our Annual Exhibition. This year it was gotten up in a hurry, only three weeks altogether for preparation, but it was a success in every way. We had a hundred dogs benched and every one fairly well satisfied. What I wish is that you could give me some information concerning the way in which the Toronto Show is run in connection with the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, as we expect to be able to amalgamate with the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition, and hope to be able to build up a strong club."

SHERBROOKE CLUB.

Our good friend Mr. L. A. Klein, an enthusiastic breeder supplies us with the following information regarding the birth of this club: "Let me thank you for the copies of Constitution and By-Laws of Toronto Kennel Club. We have been in the meantime hard at work, and last Thursday organized on a first-class basis the Eastern Townships Kennel Club, with the Hon. W. B. Ives as Hon.-President, Judge Brooks, Mr. Heneker and Senator Cochrane as Hon. Vice-Presidents. The honor of President has been conferred on myself, while our friend F. S. Wetherall was elected Sec'y.-Treasurer. Dr. N. Worthington is Vice-President and the Executive Committee consists of Messrs. T. S. Mitchell, the prospective President of the E. T. Agricultural Association, Mr. H. Fraser, the Sec'y of said Association and Mr. Nat. Crome, the C.P.R. Passenger Agent. So you see we got the right people to press our institution before the Agricultural Association for a bench show, and I believe we are pretty sure of it too." We must congratulate the members on being able to secure such prominent gentlemen to fill the positions indicated. Their names should be a guarantee of future success.

MONTREAL KENNEL ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of about fifty gentlemen was held recently in Dr. Robb's office, Drummond street, for the purpose of forming a kennel club. Dr. Wesley Mills was voted to the chair. After a few remarks, it was decided to form the Montreal Kennel Association, and the following were elected as officers: Patron, Sir Donald Smith; Hon. Presidents, Sir Joseph Hicks and S. Coulson; President, Dr. Wesley Mills; 1st Vice-President, Dr. W. H. Drummond; 2nd Vice-President, Jas. Lindsay; Sec'y.-Trea., Geo. Ianigan; Committee, Commodore Beaufield, Dr. J. C. Nichol, Dr. E. M. Robb, J. A. Pitt, W. T. Virtue, Geo. Morris, Irving L. Smith and J. H. McNally. A series of lectures by competent authorities will be given on subjects pertinent to the object and aims of the society during the course of the coming season. The subscription was placed at the nominal fee of $2, so that all who are interested should avail themselves of the opportunity by sending in their applications immediately. It is distinctly understood that the objects of the club are not to be purely "fancy" and the welfare of the dog will be considered in every particular.

WE MAY NOW HOPE

for a considerably increased interest in the dog in Canada and the formation of these clubs should prove no small factor in that increase.

HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB.

The Hamilton Kennel Club's local show will be held Saturday November 24th. The judges will be: Mastiffs, Great Danes, Newfoundlands, Collies and Barbettes, A. D. Stewart. St. Bernards, W. H. Thompson. English Greyhounds, Russian Wolfhounds, Danish Wolfhounds, Deer Hounds, Stag Hounds, W. J. Tulk. Fox Terriers, F. R. Close. Pointers, Setters, Foxhounds, Harriers, Beagles and Retrievers, E. Tinsley. All Spaniels, Terriers, except Fox and Bull Terriers, and Pugs, W. McDonald and Andrew Murdoch. Bull Terriers and Bulldogs, Dr. Griffin. Whippets, R. B. Harris. Dachshunds, Poodles and Miscellaneous, C. W. Ricketts.

NEW YORK—CHICAGO.

The Westminster Kennel Club has claimed February 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd, as the dates for the Annual Bench Show in New York. The Mascoutah Club of Chicago has fixed on the four days beginning February 26th.

THE FOLLOWING

is the proposed new classification of the American Spaniel Club: Classification No. 1: Spaniels, all breeds over 28lbs. Challenge class dogs, challenge class bitches. Field spaniels, black—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Field spaniels, any other color—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Cocker spaniels not over 28lbs., black or liver—Challenge class dogs, challenge class bitches. Cocker spaniels, black—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Cocker spaniels, red or liver—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Cocker spaniels (any other color than black, red and liver)—Open class dogs or bitches. Clumber spaniels—Open class dogs and bitches. Irish water spaniels—Open class dogs and bitches. Classification No. 2: Spaniels, all breeds over 28lbs.—Challenge class, dogs and bitches. Field Spaniels, black—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Field Spaniels, any other color—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Cocker Spaniels not over 28lbs., black or liver—Challenge class, dogs and bitches. Any other color—Challenge class, dogs and bitches. Black—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Red or liver—Open class dogs, open class bitches. Any other color—Open class, dogs and bitches. Clumber Spaniels—Open class, dogs and bitches. Irish Water Spaniels—Open class, dogs and bitches. Classification No. 3, is left unchanged.

C. K. C. AFFAIRS.

A vote by ballot is now being taken of the Executive of the Canadian Kennel Club to decide various matters referred from the annual meeting and which were to have come up at the meeting called for October 26th. It is hoped and believed that the result will place the Club in a better position than ever before.

INTERNATIONAL FIELD TRIALS.

The attendance this year was not as large as usual and "Old Probs." failed to treat the participants with proper respect, heavy rain and snow much interfering with the comfort of all concerned dogs as well as human. The judges were Messrs. W. T. Tristem, Detroit, Mich., Thomas Guttridge, Chatham, Ont., and John Davidson, Monroe, Mich.

THE WINNERS

in the Derby were Mr. R. Bangham's English Setter dog Dash Antonio, first; T. G. Davey's Pointer bitch Faustina, second; Mr. Stegman's English Setter Judy third and Dr. Daniel's Pointer Plain Sam fourth. In the all-age stake Mr. Davey's English Setter Brighton Tobe was first; W. B. Well's, English Setter Luke second and Dr. Totten's Warwick Nellie third.

NEW OFFICERS.

At a meeting of the club held the night before the trials the following officers were elected: President, Dr. Totten; first Vice-President, T. G. Davey; second vice-president, R. Bangham; Secretary-Treasurer, W. B. Wells; Executive Committee, Thos. Guttridge, Dr. Nichols, C. R. Atkinson, of Chatham; J. G. Armstrong, W. D. Tristram, F. W. Eddy, S. J. Miller, of Detroit, Thos. Johnson, Winnipeg, Man.; L. H. Smith, Strathroy, Ont.; Wm. Brailsford, Whitechurch, England.

MR. L. A. KLEIN, BLACK LAKE, QUE.,

writes us: "Dog matters are pretty quiet with me now. I have sold all I cared to and have only my old stock now for breeding purposes. The Dachshund Puck 3489, is not yet over the bad effects of his 35 days' voyage across the ocean, but is coming round gradually. The imported Great Dane Frithjof, is also still showing the strains of the voyage. The St. Bernard puppy I bought from Dr. Wesley Mills is doing very well indeed, and so is a Von Hood Black Emma puppy which I brought home from Toronto. The Dachshund family is well and in the usual game spirits. Imp. Hexe, the dam of the two bitches I had in Toronto was bred to Tuck (Imp.) 3489, beginning of this month and I look naturally for great things."

MR. GEO. B. SWEETNAM,

Toronto, has transferred his affections from the lively Spaniel to the lordly Bloodhound, and has placed a commission with a prominent kennel in the U.S., for a good dog puppy of this breed. We do not know of a single other specimen in Canada.

MR. F. S. WETHERAL'S

two entries for the Terrier Show, Compton Vindex and Compton Bruiser, although arriving on Monday were not delivered at the show till Wednesday, too late for judging. Surely some one is responsible for this unnecessary delay and the blame should be laid on the right shoulders. These delays and losses are not encouraging to Canadians who desire to show on the other side.

MR. T. G. DAVEY

has sold his well known Pointer bitches Lady Gay Spanker and Miss Rumor to Mr. George Gould of New York, at the reported price of $2,200. Mr. Davey accompanied the Gould party on an extended trip to Indian Territory and Texas.

DON PHYLLIS.

We learn that the rough coated St. Bernard Don Phyllis, late of Pottersburgh Kennels, London, has been transferred to the Bowmanville Kennels. Persons requiring the services of this well-known dog should communicate with the Bowmanville Kennels.

CARDINAL BEAUFORT DEAD.

J. J. Lynn, of Port Huron, Mich., has lost, from pneumonia, the well-known Mastiff dog Cardinal Beaufort.

KATHLEEN MAVOURNEEN,

the imported Bull-terrier bitch owned by Dr. Griffin of Hamilton, was struck by a trolley car a few days ago. She was not killed and some hopes are entertained of her recovery.

MR. J. B. ALLAN, MOUNT FOREST, claims the name of Foxeth Kennels for his kennel of Cocker Spaniels, Collies and Dachshunds.

THE SCOTTISH TERRIER AND THE IRISH TERRIER is the name of a neat little volume compiled by Mr. James E. Green, the Manager of the Wankie Kennels, West Medford, Mass. Mr. Green has got together and put into readable shape a great mass of material not easily obtainable otherwise; while not original, in most part, it is none the less valuable. We quite agree with the following excerpt from Mr. Green's circular:

"I confidently believe that the more thoroughly the general character and merits of the Scottish Terriers and Irish Terriers are understood the better will they be liked and appreciated, and, as I have taken advantage to the fullest extent of the labors and knowledge of acknowledged authorities, I believe that this book will be invaluable to breeders and fanciers of these splendid little dogs, that of late years have come so much to the front."

The price of the book is one dollar, post free, direct from the publisher P.O. Box 363, West Medford, Mass.

THE NEWCASTLE KENNELS,

Brookline, Mass., offer in this issue, Clumber Spaniels and Scottish Terriers both for sale and at stud.

ENGLISH KENNEL PAPERS.

From our Old Country exchanges we notice that considerable of an upheaval appears to be taking place in the English Kennel Press. "Segusian" in the Scottish Fancier writes:

In the last issue of the British Fancier it is stated that Mr. Theo. Marples, the editor, has ceased his connection with that paper. I suppose the concern will now be bossed by Mr. L. P. C. Astley.

I came across a new publication the other day at the book-stall in Perth Station. It bears the title Dogs. It is a penny weekly, and appears to be published at the Stock-Keeper office, Fleet Street, London. It is the kind of paper that should "go." I have long held the opinion that a penny weekly paper run on the same lines as Poultry would "catch on," and pay the promoters. The first number of Dogs is a bit of everything, and appears to cater more for the non-fancier than the fancier.

I have to-day received a prospectus of a new paper called Our Dogs. The capital is $25,000 in $5 shares. The directors are: Sir H. F. de Trafford, Lieut.-Col. Dean, Major Cane, Mr. Everett Millais and Mr. Theo. Marples. The company is to run a penny weekly paper called Our Dogs, under the editorship of Mr. Marples.

The starting of another penny paper called Dogs on the eve of this new venture looks as if there had been an attempt to forestall this publication. There is no doubt that a penny paper properly conducted will succeed.

I hear Mr. George Raper has ceased his connection with the British Fancier. He is without doubt the best reporter we have, and his loss to the British Fancier must be very great. Good reporters are scarce, judging from the twaddle, called reports, that I read in some English contemporaries.

Why is it that the Field reports are so different from the others, and so much admired by outsiders? I have asked the editor to reproduce part of the Palace report from the Field, and I ask any reader to compare it with what appeared in other papers.

THE NEWLY FORMED ASSOCIATION, the Ladies' Kennel Association have decided to issue a monthly journal devoted to the interests of that body, the first issue of which is to appear shortly.

MR. FRED GRESHAM,

has been appointed kennel editor of the Sporting Times not any too soon, as the kennel column in that paper was badly run down.

ROBINO,

Mr. Joe. Lewises' new Beagle, brought over by Mr. Mortimer and by him sold to Mr. Lewis, was run over a few days ago, in Brooklyn, N.Y., and so badly injured that he has since died. The loss is a heavy one and the dog himself will not be easily replaced.

MR. LEVY, OF QUEBEC, is making an endeavor to form a kennel club in that historic city. If this should catch the eye of any fancier in the far east who is desirous of seeing such an organization formed, we are sure Mr. Levy will be glad to hear from him.

MR. FENWICK,

of Bowmanville, has recently bought a Yorkshire bitch from Mrs. Pitts' kennel.

WE HEAR

that all Dr. Griffins' Bull Terriers are being offered for sale.

WORTH NOTICE.

BY "ONE IN THE KNOW."

THE healthy condition of a dog depends very much upon the amount of exercise he has. Some people never seem to realize this. They keep an odd dog for a "watch," as they say, tied up in a back-yard from week end to week end, never getting any more exercise than the length of his chain will allow. Happily they are comparatively few, but it is from such people that the many growls come about not being able to keep their dogs well. This is the case with the mange-grumble. If people would exercise and wash their dogs regularly and properly there would not be half nor quarter so many cases of mange as we hear of.

A dog ought to have at least two or three hours' exercise every day. If he does not, his blood is not properly aerated, his system becomes sluggish generally, and he will soon develop some disease or other. Of course he will not be limited to two or three hours' exercise—the more he gets the better, so long as he is kept out of mischief—but that is sufficient to keep him ordinarily healthy. When a dog can get a run into the country and regale himself—as dogs will do—on grass, it has an excellent effect. Town dog-keepers should remember this; and one might add, that if some of these gentlemen would get up an hour earlier on two or three mornings of the week, and take their faithful friend with them for a sniff of the air of the nearest country lane, they might derive some good themselves.

It is a mistake to give a dog too heavy a meal to begin the day with. Twice a day is often enough to feed him. In the morning he should have a moderate breakfast—just enough to satisfy him without making him lazy for the rest of the day. The substantial meal should be given at night. Attention to such little methods as these is very important—although, at the same time, it is impossible to lay down any fixed rule to apply to all sorts and conditions of dogs; and even if it were possible to do so it would be foolish for an amateur to follow it rigidly. A man must use his discretion, according to circumstances.

St. Vitus' dance, or chorea, is a grievous affliction to which dogs belonging to inexperienced owners very frequently suffer. It is caused by neglectful treatment during distemper, and is most difficult to cure; in fact, in many cases it is absolutely incurable. The symptoms are a continuous twitching of one or more limbs, generally the hind-quarters, which goes on asleep or awake. Often the head is affected, and when the dog is spoken to, and he turns his head towards the speaker, it seems to be a second or two before he recognizes the face of the caller, and so on. Altogether it is very distressing, and as it most frequently affects the dogs of inexperienced novices, a word or two on the subject in this column may be useful.

For the cure of chorea there is nothing better than strychnine; but strychnine is a very powerful poison, and its effect upon dogs is more potent than upon human beings. It is best given in the form of nux vomica, the homœopathic tincture being a handy way, or by getting a chemist to make us some pills containing a small dose of the nux vomica extract.

These will have to be given twice a day for several weeks. The amount of strychnine which is safe to give for a dose is so small that its use has to be continued for some time—even several months is necessary in some cases. It is sheer folly to try half a dozen different remedies. Whatever is commenced with should be persevered in: the only hope of a satisfactory issue lies in this. Quinine is a very useful thing for mild cases. Arsenic has been used with success; so have half-a-dozen other things. Taking them all round, however, there is nothing like the strychnine treatment, and amateurs are therefore advised to adopt this in preference to all others.

Paralysis and chorea are different things, although both may proceed from the same cause. Paralysis is not so much a twitching—in fact there rarely is any—but it is a sheer loss of power in the limbs. The dog whose hind-quarters are affected, walks a step or two and then falls on his haunches, or nearly so, the legs absolutely giving way under him. It is important in such a case to see that the bowels are freely acted upon every few days, and tonics such as quinine and iron are the best physics. As much exercise as possible should be given, and plenty of good nourishing food, there naturally being a very strong tendency to general wasting.

Old dogs chiefly suffer from paralysis, younger dogs from chorea. A blow will cause either, as both are nervous diseases. Animals suffering from either the one or the other should be kept as quiet and free from excitement as possible, and every effort should be made to ensure this just the same as would be the case were the patient human.—British Fancier.

THE SIZE OF FOX-TERRIERS.

A GOOD many English Fox-Terrier breeders think that the Fox-Terrier of the day is too large, and controversies on "The Size of Fox-Terriers" have been going on for weeks in English kennel papers. Unfortunately for the proper settlement of such a point the evidence seems to revolve on a question of weight, as if this was the sole evidence of size in Fox-Terriers.

The Fox-Terrier is a dog that is supposed to go to earth after a fox, not to draw the fox as many erroneously suppose, but merely to worry him into bolting and so affording another run for the hounds and an opportunity for them to kill in the open. If the fox will not bolt, the noise made by the Terrier in the scuffle directs the man with the spade where to dig, if practicable to do so. Here comes the question of size which is not so much one of weight as length of leg and structural formation that allows of a dog being able to go to any earth or drain in which a fox has passed; and a fox will never attempt a hole that is too small for him to turn in. The question should therefore rest upon height and comparative length of body. A Fox-Terrier, and there are lots of them shown, may be distinctly leggy and consequently too tall to bring himself down to his work, but still come well within the weight allowed by the standard, and this is where the mere weight of a dog forms no criterion as to its size. Instead of giving the weights of the crack dogs of the day the breeder and novice exhibitor would find a true guide if the height at shoulder and length of back were given, then the measurements would convey an impression to those who are not able to see the dogs, as to how the dog is built. A Terrier may be so thoroughly well put together, every part in unison and showing requisite bone and substance that like a well-built—neat—man he will not show his size nor weight to the casual glance until put on the scales or under the measure. Such an animal, to my mind, is what a Fox-Terrier should be—such a dog as Bacchanal was, for instance, or what Brittle might have been in his best days. A careful perusal of the Standard of the Fox-Terrier Club will better illustrate my meaning:

"The dog must present a generally gay, lively and active appearance; bone and strength in a small compass are essentials; but this must not be taken to mean that a Fox-Terrier should be cloggy, or in any way coarse—speed and endurance must be looked to as well as power, and the symmetry of the Foxhound taken as a model. The Terrier, like the hound, must on no account be leggy, nor must he be too short in the leg. He should stand like a cleverly made hunter, covering a lot of ground, yet with a short back, as before stated. He will then attain the highest degree of propelling power, together with the greatest length of stride that is compatible with the length of his body. Weight is not a certain criterion of a Terrier's fitness for his work—general shape, size and contour are the main points, and if a dog can gallop and stay, and follow his fox up a drain, it matters little what his weight is to a pound or so. Though roughly speaking, it may be said he should not scale over 20lbs. in show condition." (The italics are mine.)

I have seen a good many Terriers belonging to different packs in England, and compared to some of the winners of to-day, they appear decidedly low-set, and it must always be borne in mind that from these hunt-Terriers sprang most of the best strains of the modern Fox-Terriers.

In the Fox-Terrier Chronicle for September appears a list of weights of the principal Fox-Terriers in England, and I mention here the weights of some of the best known on this side: Dominie 16lbs., Hunton Billy 16, Charlton Victor 17, High Spirits 17, Cleek 18, Devereux 17, Charlton Vincit 18, D'Orsay 17½, Venio 19, Vice Regal 19, Valteline 16, Meiford Molly 15½, Beacon Tartress 16½, Dame D'Orsay 15½, Perseverance 17½, Vesuvienne 17½, Hunton Baron 19, Dudley Saunter 15, Starden's Thrift 17. In the same interesting article are given the weights of a number of the old Terriers that are recognized as pillars of their particular breeds: Brockenhurst Joe 19lbs., Buffer 17½, Tyrant 18, Bustle 16½, Old Dainty 17½, Pickle II. 16, Old Jock 18, Old Tartar 18, Old Tyke 17½, Trimmer 14, Buffett 18, Rattler 19, Venetian 18, Dickon 16, Brockenhurst Rally 17, Regent 18, Tackler 19½, Old Jester (wire) 18, Carlisle Tack (wire) 17. Now the question which I would like to ask is why is there this outcry about size when the above weights are so similar? I never saw the old dogs, but there are, no doubt, some of your readers who have had that pleasure, and if so, can they tell us where the difference really lay. Does not the difference in size lie in height from the ground rather than in weight?—TACKLE TYRO, in Forest and Stream.

SOME HINTS ON WHIPPETS.

LONDON, ENG.

EDITOR AMERICAN FIELD:—In your Kennel Notes of September 8, you have something to say on the size of whippets, quoting matter from the Stock-Keeper, in which three of our crack race dogs—Cowboy, Wiseman and Gipsy Nell—are mentioned, the two dogs' running weights being 36 pounds and the bitch's 38 pounds.

You do me the honor of asking my opinion in the same paragraph on the weights.

Now to my mind the big whippet and small greyhound are an abomination, and probably he would not be accepted here as an entrant, were it not for the greed of promoters of meetings, who will get all and sundry—a catchpenny for the public—it may be numbers, but not quality.

So far at those meetings (with the exception of one and that, my first) where I have been clerk of the course, I have always advised stakes for dogs 25 pounds and under, or at the most 30 pounds, and for these reasons :

Firstly—Because I think a dog ceases to be a whippet after 25 pounds or at the outside 30 pounds.

Secondly—Because the sight of the racing is destroyed although the big dog is on scratch ; indeed to see a great hulking animal dash past in the midst of a field of five or six dogs averaging 18 pounds is very much after the fashion of a man running in an infant school handicap.

Thirdly—Visitors to meetings thoroughly object to see the large dogs competing with the small ones, may the former be never so well handicapped; and in proof of this I have been over and over again met with the remark : “Look here—we paid our money to see whippets and not greyhounds.”

Fourthly—another serious objection, and one that will at once appeal to the practical man, is that large dogs, unfortunately, have a nasty habit of savaging small ones, and the natural instinct of the greyhound is to course something and when he gets to his quarry either to dash into it with his shoulder, or use his mouth. Here the small dog is placed at a great disadvantage, for once savaged by a large dog I should say a small one will never regain confidence, and use his old endeavor to be over the mark at the head of his field—or in other words when he hears the heavy weight behind, he is momentarily in fear of being interfered with, and so far as the small one is concerned he is shut up for the event, demoralized himself, and a loser of his owner's money. Cowboy runs in a muzzle, and when without it, and running in the final heat for £250 handicap, actually savaged the winner Tom, a dog of 23½ pounds. I ought to mention that this happened after the dogs passed the judge, but Tom had five yards start of Cowboy, which the later never made up. It is fair to suppose that if he had, he would have savaged Tom on the road, and that dog would have lost probably the most important handicap ever heard of.

So, therefore, as far as I am concerned, if large dogs are to run, let them be put in their own class. Then nothing could be more interesting, but to run a series of races off before a discriminating public of the better class, clerks of courses will find that they must show their patrons evenness, and by that I mean, events in which, if possible, the dogs are of pretty well the same weight.

It is with considerable pleasure the owners of whippets, and patrons of the sport they provide, hear and read that it is not unlikely that races will be carried on in the United States. Candidly, I know of no more exciting sport, and I can safely lay claim to having been, “through the mill,” and a life long follower of all field sports in the way of racing.

Say what you like, the chief charm comes in, at whippet racing, because of its wonderful opportunities of speculation, and a race meeting conducted on the lines of equine events cannot fail to attract immense gates, and consequently profitable investments for owners of enclosed spaces, or runners of fairs or shows ; but above all the sport should be kept well within bounds, and not a lax inch be perceptible in the management. I ought to remark that Mr. James Mortimer, when he was over here recently, said he was convinced some of us were trying to popularize a deserving sport, and I take it that our mutual friend is a man of the world, and knows a good thing when he sees it.

Therefore, I trust, American sportsmen will not be backward in patronizing whippet race meetings. They will be found to liven up dog and other shows considerably.—
American Field. FREEMAN LLOYD.

DISTEMPER.

BY FRANK TOWNEND BARTON, HONORMAN, ROYAL COLLEGE OF VETERINARY SURGEONS, IN British Fancier.

TREATMENT, which means placing the animal in such circumstances tend in the greatest degree to recovery, and in order to do this there are certain circumstances which must be attended to, more especially when fighting against the more severe attacks of distemper.

It must be remembered that it is a disease—like other fevers—which cannot be cured but must run a certain course, and which all medicine is powerless to cut short ; but it can be guided in this course, and as complications arise, endeavors made to arrest these. Hence it follows that whatever remedy may be applicable in one case would be useless or even productive of harm in another. However, the following may be laid down as a safe guide :

1. Place the dog in a nice, well-lighted, well-ventilated and warm kennel, which should be perfectly free from draughts, and at a temperature of about 60 degree Fahrenheit.
2. Fasten on a light woollen coat, in which should be included the throat.

3. To sponge eyes and nose with a little tepid water as often as may be necessary.

4. To administer the following mixture according to the doses prescribed below :

Concentrated acetate of ammonia.....6 drs.
Tincture of capsicum.....1 dr.
Sweet spirit of nitre.....1 oz.
Rectified spirit of wine.....1 oz.
Bicarbonate of potash.....2 drs.

Chloroform water added to make 6 ounces. Dose : from one teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, according to age, every four hours.

The foregoing mixture is most suitable in treating the simpler form of the disease and should be persevered with until the fever abates.

5. If the bowels are confined, do not give any purgative or laxative, but insert a glycerine jelly suppository into the bowels through the anus. These are made in two sizes, the smaller being suitable to pups of about three weeks old or so. The use of these is strongly advocated and their action is just what is required in distemper when the bowels are not purging.

6. To remove the woollen coat twice daily, shake it, and give a gentle brushing to the coat.

7. Allow milk, fish, fresh beef tea ; to the latter, half-a-teaspoonful of brandy every six hours. It is better to give these in small quantities and often. If the dog will not take them of its own accord then they must be given out of a small bottle, which must be done quietly by pouching the cheeks with the fingers of the right hand, at the same time holding and inserting the neck of the bottle within the pouch thus formed, and allowing the liquid to trickle slowly out, giving time for swallowing intervals.

8. If the cough is troublesome, be it the soft and moist cough of bronchitis, or the hard, dry and suppressed cough of pleurisy, it will be well to give some such mixture as this :

Tincture of belladonna.....1 drachm.
Ipecachuana wine.....1 drachm.
Syrup of squills.....1 ounce.
Tincture of hyoscyamus.....1 drachm.

Camphor water added to make four ounces. Dose : half a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, according to age, every six hours in addition to the mixture already perscribed.

Poultices, such as hot linseed and mustard, or what is better, thick oatmeal, applied as hot, and frequently as possible. Make the poultices by boiling them, not by pouring water on the linseed or oatmeal, which is the wrong way to make a poultice, no matter by whom taught, and then after adding the mustart, spread the whole between a double layer of thin flannel. The poultices must be of good size so as to reach well up through the fore-legs, and at the same time well behind the lower part of the shoulders. A small blanket with arm holes must enclose the whole.

It must be remembered that the very essence of poulticing lies in the application of as much heat and moisture as can be borne by the individual, and without this is properly carried out it is far better to leave it alone. Neglect in this direction is the cause of so many unfavorable results from poulticing.

The poultices must be persevered in until the breathing becomes more natural, when they may be removed and a little warm olive oil rubbed lightly over the chest.

If the hair is at all long over the chest it is better to clip it off before applying the poultices. When the lung symptoms increase in severity, it is a good plan to insert what is called a sexton in front of the chest. A sexton consists of an ordinary piece of tape which has been smeared over its length with turpentine ointment, and passed through the eye of a slightly curved and stout packing needle. It is then run under the skin from one point of the brisket to the other and the free ends are fastened round corks to prevent it slipping out of its place. Care must be taken not to go deeper than the skin, and the entrance into and out of the skin by the needle is made easier and more correctly by snipping the skin at these points.

SEND A STAMP FOR REPLY.

We receive annually some hundreds of postal cards asking for information not of a business nature. Each reply costs us a three cent stamp not to mention the trouble. The latter we don't mind, but don't you think the enquirer should bear the former expense? We do and no enquiries not relating strictly to business will in future be answered unless such is attended to.

For the first time in his literary career Jerome K. Jerome is about to write directly for an American audience. This work consists of a series of papers similar in vein to his "Idle Thoughts for an Idle Fellow," but addressed to American girls and women. The articles will begin shortly in The Ladies Home Journal, which periodical will print the entire series.

Outing for November, a special enlarged number, contains much seasonable matter from the field of sport and recreation; excellent fiction, and many beautiful illustrations. The contents are as follows: "The Emerald of Merida," by T. Phillip Terry; "Couleur de Rose," by Grace Ellery Channing; "The Ainos of Northern Japan," by Hy T. Finck; "A Woman in the Mackenzie Delta," by Elizabeth Taylor; "Deer and Deer-Shooting," by Ed. W. Sandys; "Goose-Shooting in the Dakotas," by F. B. Feltham; "Aquatic Sports in Australia," by Geo. E. Boxall; "Lenz's World Tour Awheel," The Northwestern Forces of Canada," by Capt. Hy. J. Woodside; "Pigeons and Pigeon-Nesting," by Lieut. Wendell L. Simpson; "Bicycling in Bermuda," by Percy C. Stuart; "Football of '94," by Walter Camp, of Yale; "Football in '94," by Lorin F. Deland; of Harvard, and the usual editorials, poems, records, etc.
