NOTES AND COMMENTS

SALE OF GREAT DANES.

At the dispersal sale of the effects of the late Mr. C. F. Tilford, Mr. Beaumont Jarvis, Toronto, bought the Great Dane bitch Kate Allen, a golden brindle with white breast, whelped Nov. 12, 1892. She has been successfully shown and has proved a good producer. Mr. Jarvis also procured a young Sandor Vom Inn bitch, also a golden brindle, eight months old. The star of the kennel, Sandor Vom Inn, who was shown in Toronto under Mr. Muss Arnolt's care, although catalogued, was not offered for sale with the other dogs.

ANOTHER BLOODHOUND GONE.

In spite of the best of care and ceaseless attention, the Bloodhound puppy owned by Mr. Laurin, whose advent we chronicled some time ago, has succumbed to distemper. The breeder who can devise a method of raising Bloodhounds to maturity is on the rapid road to fortune.

A SMALL SHOW

will be held in Peterboro this fall in connection with the Agricultural Society's fall fair. Mr. Alf. Terrill is looking after the doggy interests.

PETITION RE EXPRESS RATES.

The return of the forms sent out with the last issue of THE GAZETTE has been fairly liberal, but there are still many to hear from. We want representation from all over Canada. Extra forms can still be supplied to those who can use them, and will be gladly sent on application.

WINNIPEG SHOW.

Notice of this show will be found elsewhere, and full particulars may be had by addressing either the manager or the dog show secretary. A copy of the list has not reached us, but we understand it is now ready for distribution and anyone desiring one should apply at once. About six hundred dollars in cash is offered and the classification is good. The dates, July 12th to 15th, should suit some of our Eastern breeders, and we hope the East, as well as British Columbia, will be well represented, as, of course, Manitoba and the Territories. C.K.C. rules will govern, and all wins will, therefore, count.

THE AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB

has cancelled the wins at New York of the Black and Tan Terrier Canadian Duchess and the wins at Grand Rapids of Black Duke Jr., both for wrong entry. Omo's win at Grand Rapids was also cancelled for the same reason.

SHOW DATES

so far claimed are: Winnipeg, July 12th to 15th; Toronto, Sept. 4th to 8th.

MANITOBA FIELD TRIALS CLUB.

The following arrangements have been made in order to prevent expense, trouble or delay at any of the Customs ports of entry, viz., Neche, Pembina and Gretna: All dogs that have been duly entered in any of the Manitoba Field Trials Club events are allowed to enter Manitoba, and remain for ninety days, free of all duty. In order to benefit by this arrangement an accurate description of each dog is absolutely necessary, giving name, breed, sex, color, event entered in, owner's name, name of person having charge, and line of railway travelling by, must be mailed to Mr. W. C. Lee one week previous to date of arrival at port of entry.

COLLIE CHAT.

NOTE—We invite items of interest, news, etc., for this department.

CANADIAN COLLIE CLUB'S ONE DAY SHOW.

THE second annual spring show of the Canadian Collie Club was held May 24th at Logan's Homestead. The judges were H. B. Hungerford and T. Swan-Smith, of Pittengardener, Scotland; Mr. J. D. Duncan, of Montreal, acted as referee. Never before has a finer lot of Collies in Montreal faced the judges, or have the exhibitors been better pleased with the awards. The judging took place in the beautiful grove, an excellent place for a show in the open, and was visited by thousands of people. The old homestead was finely decorated for the occasion.

THE AWARDS.

Auchcairnne Kennels (Alex. Smith and R. S. Kellie, proprietors) won the first and special for the best dog or bitch in the show, with the grand old bitch Auchcairnne Patti. Mr. J. A. Brosseau's Farmer Boy won first and medal for the best dog in the open class. Mr. N. Smith's bitch, Norwood Queen (a rare good one) won three firsts and second to Auchcairnne Patti in the winners' class.

Special for the best brood bitch, judged by three or more of her get, won by Joseph Reid's Peach Blossom. Best kennel three or more, won by Auchcairnne Kennels. Best brace, won by Auchcairnne Patti and Hieland Rory, of Auchcairnne Kennels. Best bitch pup, Norwood Queen. Afton Kennels won first and special on veteran dogs, with Callendar Bruce. THE JUDGES ENDORSED.

Westmount, May 25th, 1899.

I have taken the liberty of writing you a few lines, as to the manner the dogs were judged at the Canadian Collie Club show, held on the Queen's Birthday, and in commemoration of same.

Judging commenced at 10 a.m. Judges, H. B. Hungerford, Belleville, Ont.; J. G. Smith, Montreal; referee, J. D. Duncan, Montreal. Mr. Hungerford being the first judge, placed his dogs in a manner which I may say will be a lesson to some of our past judges how to place dogs, etc., in the future. I, being a judge of dogs and a great admirer of Collies, I cannot but give the judges my heartiest endorsement in all their decisions. I may say I only heard of one who was a kicker, his dog being put out of the ring for being lame. I would have considered it a great favor if the dog had been my own. The President, Mr. Jos. Reid, had the same luck with his grand bitch Apple Blossom, but took his medicine like the true sportsman he is.

R. S. Kellie acted as Superintendent and Secretary, in which duties he filled the bill.

Hoping that the Collie Club will long be spared to help the Collie and keep up shows.

I am, Yours truly, C. C. S. G.

Montreal.

Matters have been very active lately in the Mountaineer Collie Kennels, of which Mr. H. B. Hungerford is now sole proprietor. A new bitch has been brought over from England, Wide Awake Pride, by champion Ormskirk Emerald. She comes out in whelp to champion Barwell Masterpiece, surely a mixture of the best winning blood lines. Laurel Laddie, a winner of about one hundred regular and special prizes, has been imported by Mr. H. B. Hungerford, Belleville, and Mr. C. B. McAllister of Peterboro, and will at once be offered at stud. He has been a successful sire in England and should prove equally so here if given the opportunity. He will be sent the rounds of the U.S. shows, as well as those in Canada. The "Stock-Keeper" of May 26th says: "Laurel Laddie is about one of our best Collies." "Our Dogs," in noting his expatriation in its issue of June 3rd, speaks highly of him in the following words: "Canada has just become the richer and England the poorer by the transference of one of our most typical and attractive Collies, in Mr. C. Wrigley's well-known Laurel Laddie (K.C.S.B.), who has been sold for a good figure to Mr. McAllister of Ontario, one of the leading Canadian Collie enthusiasts. Laddie is by Lord Houghton, by Ormskirk Bendigo, and has won upwards of seventy-five prizes, including thirty-four firsts and specials and one silver cup, in a little over twelve months. He is a rich sable and white, with a phenomenal frill and beautiful chiselling of head. Laddie, who was recently illustrated on the front page of 'Our Dogs,' sails on Thursday next in the Allen line steamer 'Tamar,' through the Canadian Express Company, Forwarding Agents."

The services of Rufford Ossory have been used to the following bitches: On Feb. 21st, Mr. A. Lockhart's Floss of Maple Grove; March 20th, Mr. Lloyd's Flora; April 30th, Mr. F. Miller's Floss; April 17th, Mr. Drummond's Pearl of Maple Grove; May 3rd, Mr. S. W. Thayers' Bonnie; April 23rd, Mr. John Clarke's Daisy; April 20th, Mr. W. Wilson's —; April 29th, Mr. J. Peters' —; April —, Mr. C. B. McAllister's Lil; May 12th, Mountaineer Beauty; May 21st, Mountaineer Nellie—a list that should result in producing more than one winner.

Floss whelped eleven, of which six were dogs, on April 22nd, and Flora six (four dogs) on May 23rd.

TORONTO DOG SHOW.

The announcement that Toronto's big fall fixture will be held on September 4th to 8th reminds us once more that this is the time of preparation. This notice is merely preliminary; no work has yet been done, except to call the committee together for formation and to outline the year's work. Mr. Fraser will again be the man at the wheel.

TERRIER TALK.

NOTE—We invite items of interest, news, etc., for this department.

Dr. Fayette Ewing's Ch. Romany Ringlet has been bred to Mrs. C. W. Sherman's Roxburg.

Mr. Jos. A. Laurin has a nice litter of seven Irish Terriers from the imported bitch Lorna by Norfolk Ambassador. A healthy lot and doing well. He has bred Totterina, a daughter of Ch. Jackanapes and Ch. Milton Droleen to Jack Brigg's Best.

Mr. Macdonald offers a most tempting list of Fox Terriers for sale, including such well known dogs as Von Voit, Aldon Praetor, etc. Several puppies are for disposal, including some by Meersbrook Bristles.

The smooth bitch offered for sale in last issue by Mr. Cobban is by Aldon Swagger by Champion D'Orsay, and not as it was printed.

Scottish Terriers are distinctly on the rise in popular favor here, and as a companionable dog none better could be desired.

Mr. Jas. L. Little is getting over from England two bitches in whelp and two from Scotland in the same interesting condition. He has an order to import, for a Colorado breeder, three bitches in whelp. They are to form the nucleus of a new and strong kennel. Mr. Little will import soon the best stud Scottie to be procured. Both his well-known dogs, Bellingham Bailiff and Ashley Crack, came home from the last circuit with the additional appendage of Champion. He has a Tíree bitch due soon to Crack and another by same sire has been bred to him.

Contravene, Mr. Duncan's good Bull Terrier bitch, we regret to learn, never recovered from the distemper contracted at Pittsburgh, and has since succumbed.

The Woodmere Kennels offer the services of Risk, a champion Endcliff Banker dog, to breeders at a low fee. Card with list of winnings, etc., will be sent on application.

Mr. Macdonald, we hear, is sending a Valuator bitch to receive Meersbrook Bristles' attention and Norfolk Fidget, the dam of that good dog Norfolk Bristles, is also going down.

The Invincible Kennels of Montreal have purchased from Mr. G. M. Carnochan of New York that royally bred wire-haired Fox Terrier bitch Cairnsmuir Calliope, by Cairnsmuir Kinsman, he by champion Thornfield Knockout, ex champion Thornfield Nora. Before leaving New York Calliope was bred to imported Raby Ding Dong, a winning son of the noted champion Go-Bang.

MANITOBA FIELD TRIALS CLUB.

EDITOR GAZETTE.

WINNIPEG, June 1st, 1898.

I HAVE pleasure in enclosing you herewith a blank form of entry for the Thirteenth Annual Trials of this Club, to be held at Morris, Manitoba, commencing Wednesday, September the 6th, the stakes to be two in number, namely, Derby and All Age.

The Club enters on this its thirteenth season with more promising prospects of successful trials than for a number of years past, recent reports from the Club's grounds being that chickens are very plentiful this spring, and with even a fair rearing season the supply of birds by September should be abundant.

Morris, Manitoba, is a thriving town with ample hotel and livery accommodation, charges for both being very moderate, while the adjoining prairies are of the best for field trial purposes, spectators being able to drive anywhere. The town also being connected with daily train and mail service.

As judge of the trials the Club has been successful in securing the services of Mr. W. W. Titus, of West Point, Miss., one of the most prominent and experienced field trial men of this continent.

Handlers desirous of training in Manitoba, can obtain good quarters in the best of game localities at very moderate charges.

I have the honor to be,

"THE VERY HARDEST KIND OF LUCK."

WORD has been received from Dr. A. A. Babcock of Brantford, Ont., that he has been having the very hardest kind of luck lately. But he seems to be a man of the right sort. He has had the misfortune to lose two litters of Fox Terrier puppies, and within a very short space of time two brood bitches, one in whelp; this last one being poisoned, he thinks. Then, turning his attention to Irish Setters, he purchased a brace of good ones from Mr. Dunbar—Glenny, a promising bitch pup, and Larry, a fine stamp of a dog; he won 1st in novice class at our last show. But still his bad luck was not over, for he lost his bitch from distemper. But he was not to be outdone, and so bought two more Setter bitches from Mr. Dunbar and a brood Fox Terrier bitch from me, and informs us that we may look out for him in the near future.

Toronto, June 1, '99.

T. R. JONES.

NOTES FOR NOVICES.

The expression required in both varieties of the Fox Terrier is the same. The eye should be dark, but must not be too small, or else it becomes too cruel looking, and causes the expression to partake of the Bull Terrier, which is altogether wrong. On the other hand, if the eye be too large, the keenness and intelligence of expression required and, to that extent, lost, since a large eye denotes a want of quick intelligence. The set-in of the eye, too, has much to do with the expression. If the eyes are set in too wide, the true expression is an impossibility, as it is, if the dog is devoid of stop, that is, has a very level head, with little or no indentation immediately below the temples.

This is one definition of the details which go to give a Fox Terrier the true and correct expression, and expression in its turn is one of the details which constitute character.

Another important factor is the dog's coat. If the coat in a smooth is too short, it takes away from the true character, giving the dog, again, a Bull Terrier-like appearance. The top and set-on of stern of a Fox Terrier has a great deal to do with its character. A short back and hound-like set-on and carriage of stern, which should be a decent length, contribute largely to, just as a long back and short back detract from, the desired character.

The limbs of a Fox Terrier have little to do with his character. A dog, of either variety, may not be quite true in front, and a bit cow-hocked behind—both serious faults—and yet be very characteristic, or, in other words, possess the true character required. Ears have more to do with character than limbs, since a large ear, carried at the side of the head, would give the dog a somewhat "Beagle" appearance about the head, which would detract from the Terrier character, as would ears too small or thin.

We think we have said sufficient to place the novice, or amateurish portion of our readers, "au fait" with these very important features in the modern show Fox Terrier.

The same points apply in the selection of puppies, to both varieties, except the coat. In both cases a coat harsh to the touch is required, being a little more profuse in a wire-hair, but really there is, as a rule, very little difference at the age at which they leave the dam. A heavily-coated puppy at this age would be one likely to grow too much coat—a sort of dog that would everlastingly require "faking" before he could be exhibited. Such coated dogs are to be avoided. A coat that is going to be soft—which, as a rule, is also too profuse—is indicated most on the top of the head and legs.

The main points to choose for, are shortness of body, hard coat, straightness of forelegs, short feet, a fairly long head, dark eyes, set in as we have described, and ears neither too large nor too small, good bone, clean shoulders.

The size of the puppies to select must be regulated, to some extent, by the size of the parents, and the tendency they have to breed them, if this can be ascertained. The tendency of small brood bitches is to breed dogs either too small or too large, one of their progeny of such, the correct size, being the exception rather than the rule. A roomy brood-bitch is best for all purposes, the puppies of such being likely to grow up to the best size. This is, when full grown, 16 to 18 lbs., half a pound either way mattering little, if the dog is good in most other points.

As regards the "novice" section of the readers of "Our Dogs," for whom this particular series of notes is written, we endeavor as far as possible to base our suggestions either upon some question that has been asked, or else upon the subjects which are always a source of inquiry. Some of these are subjects almost continuous, as, for instance, "distemper"—a trouble that always visits the unfortunate novice. There is no apology needed, therefore, for reverting to this or any similar topic from time to time. If we may begin here with some more remarks on distemper, we should like to point out how necessary it is, before jumping to the conclusion that a dog has got it, to carefully notice whether the symptoms his case presents are those which distinctively point to distemper. Often when a dog has nothing more than a slight cold, his owner begins to treat him for distemper; prompt action is always to be commended, but there should be some evidence to go upon, and the mere fact of a dog having a cold, or discharge from the nostrils, is not of itself sufficient to indicate distemper.

What then are the symptoms of distemper? Well, in the first place the animal shows evident signs of being "not up to the mark." He is listless and dull about the eyes; he is inclined to shiver now and again, yet seems hot and thirsty; has no appetite for solids, and loses flesh rapidly (which latter is an important sign clearly indicating something serious). Sometimes there is, and sometimes there is not, a cough, but there is usually a more or less severe attack of catarrh. As the disease progresses, various symptoms present themselves, according to the locality of the disease, which usually affects one part of the body more severely, although there are plenty of cases which seem to present all the complications known. An attack of diarrhoea, or alternate purging and constipation, point to what is known as "bowel" distemper; a fit is a sign that the brain is the chief organ affected; an attack of short, quick breathing shows the lungs to be affected. Obviously each of these different phases needs different treatment, and the main thing to be done when several are present is to determine which to treat first, as being most serious.

The symptoms which are most dangerous, and as such need earliest attention, are fits, kidney trouble and difficulty of breathing—each one of which indicates inflammation—the brains, kidneys and lungs respectively being attacked seriously. On the other hand, the most favorable symptom is an eruption; as a rule this is looked upon as a bad sign, and gigantic efforts are made to suppress it. But this is an error; the eruption acts beneficially by unloading the blood of the impurities with which it is charged, and it is only advisable to apply to the skin some simple lotion, such as warm water containing a grain or two of permanganate of potash. This should be sponged on as often as is necessary to keep the skin clear of any discharge. It is a curious coincidence—well, perhaps not curious in view of the explanation above—that very few cases of distemper accompanied by a skin eruption are followed by the much-dreaded "chorea"—a paralysis of the limbs, from which recovery is very difficult, and in many cases quite hopeless.

As we have quite recently given in this column full details as to the medicinal treatment best suited to each of the different phases referred to in the preceding paragraph, there is no need to go through them again; but a few lines on diet, and on the "after-results" of distemper may be useful. A little ordinary common-sense should determine the former; no hard and fast line can be drawn—so much depends upon details. The food must be very light—not calculated to increase feverishness, nor to cause constipation, nor ever to be difficult of digestion. Boiled milk, with a little oatmeal; beef tea or mutton broth; egg and port wine, with milk, and a little extract of malt. The patient will need to have a little at a time, and that little often. If dysentery supervene, arrowroot or corn-flour must be given, with milk and a little port wine or brandy may be added to that. In many cases there occurs the most extreme weakness, and the greatest care is necessary; in fact, in some instances only the most attentive nursing will pull the sufferer through. Should an aperient medicine be needed during a critical period, it may here be mentioned that a little olive oil is best, particularly for small, delicate dogs.

In regard to "after-results," the most to be feared is, of course, "chorea;" but apart from that, there are various forms of weakness, such, for instance, as impaired eyesight, a constantly recurring eczema, or a troublesome liver, which seems to give perpetual trouble to its possessor. These things can be minimized, or at least they can be prevented from being as bad as they otherwise would be, only by careful nursing and by wise management during convalescence. The animal must not be overtaxed when in a weak state; nor on the other hand is it desirable to keep him from enjoying the tonic effects of fresh air as soon as possible. Cod liver oil and Parish's Food ought to be given—a small dose three times a day, which is much more rational than to give one large dose once a day. Mild—very mild—aperient doses may be given advantageously when the dog has got over the main attack; and ordinary quinine pills make an excellent "pick-up," as is also syrup of hypophosphites (what is known to chemists as "Fellow's syrup"). We hope to deal further with these matters in a few weeks' time.

SPANIEL SPARKLE.

We invite questions and correspondence for this department.

FIELD SPANIEL STANDARD.

ADOPTED BY THE CANADIAN SPORTING SPANIEL CLUB.

GENERAL APPEARANCE.— Considerably larger, heavier, and stronger in build than the "Cocker;" the modern "Springer" is more active and animated than the "Clumber," and has little of the sober sedateness characteristic of the latter. He should exhibit courage and determination in his carriage and action as well as liveliness of temperament, though not in this respect to the same restless degree generally possessed by the "Cocker." His conformation should be long and low, more so than the "Cocker."

Intelligence, obedience, and good nature should be strongly evident. The colors most preferred are solid black or liver, but liver and white, black and white, black and tan, orange, and orange and white are all legitimate Spaniel colors.

HEAD (value 15) long and not too wide, elegant and shapely, and carried gracefully; skull showing clearly cut brows, but without a very pronounced "stop;" occiput distinct and rising considerably above the set on of the ears; muzzle long with well developed nose, not too thick immediately in front of eye and maintaining nearly the same breadth to the point; sufficient fleshy to give a certain squareness to the muzzle and avoid snipiness or wedginess of face; teeth sound and regular; eyes intelligent in expression and dark, not showing the haw, nor so large as to be prominent or goggle-eyed.

EARS (value 10) should be long and hung low on the skull, lobe shaped and covered with straight or slightly wavy silky feather.

NECK (value 5) long, graceful and free from throatiness, tapering towards the head, not too thick but strongly set into shoulders and brisket.

SHOULDERS AND ARMS (value 10).—The shoulder blades should lie obliquely and with sufficient looseness of attachment to give freedom to the forearms which should be well let down.

LEGS AND FEET (value 15).—The forelegs should be straight, very strong and short; hindlegs should be well bent at the stifle joint with plenty of muscular power. Feet should be of good size, with thick, well developed pads, not flat or spreading.

BODY AND QUARTERS (value 20) long with well sprung ribs; strong, slightly arching loins, well coupled to the quarters which may drop slightly towards the stern.

COAT AND FEATHER (value 15).—The coat should be as straight and flat as possible, silky in texture, of sufficient denseness to afford good protection to the skin in thorny coverts, and moderately long. The feather should be long and ample, straight or very slightly wavy, heavily fringing the ears, back of forelegs, between the toes and on back quarters.

TAIL (value 10) should be strong and carried not higher than the level of the back.

"UNCLE DICK" DOES NOT LIKE THE NEW COCKER STANDARD.

EDITOR GAZETTE.

YOU ask what do your readers think of the change in Cocker weights? Well, for one I think the Standard and weights will produce more baby Cockers and runts than the American Spaniel Club Standard. Why not call it the Non-Sporting Spaniel Club? What would the late lamented Messrs. Kirk, of Toronto, and Mr. Kelly, of Woodstock, think of such a dog as the Standard calls for, and does Mr. Tinsley, of Hamilton, think it would fit his old Busy, or Dr. Niven, of London, think it would fit Frank, Black Bess or Lass O'Breda? The above were Cockers and they could work. Did the men (or women) who made that Standard ever see a twenty pound Cocker work in a black bog, or retrieve ducks? If they call them sporting dogs let them be able to do their work. Because a few dude judges have put toys and baby Cockers to the front the new beginners think they are the right sort, but these same judges are physically and mentally incapable of working a Cocker a-field.

All breeds of animals produce "cunning little things," as the ladies call them, but unless the human race is degenerating or has degeneracy, they cannot and must not accept with credit or profit to themselves such toddlers and assorted runts with big heads, weak eyes, knotty legs and abnormal ears that one sees on the Cocker benches at the dog shows now-a-days, which is the direct result of incestuous breeding and lack of work.

Head (value 20), "fair length"; muzzle, "cut off short." Better cut the whole head off and put on a Cocker's head, not a Pug's or Mastiff's.

I helped to make the A. S. C. Standard, but it was changed after the committee had all agreed. My draft was as follows, and any old breeder will tell you it is right:

Head—Not so heavy in proportion and not so high in occiput as in the modern Field Spaniel, with a nicely developed muzzle, or jaw, lean but not snipey and yet not so square as in the Clumber and Sussex, but always showing a well developed nose; forehead perfectly smooth, rising, without too much stop, from muzzle into a comparatively wide and well developed skull with plenty of room for brain."

How is a "stern that is docked" a characteristic stamp of blue blood? They had better dock that part also. Laidlaw used to dock so they had no stern, so I suppose his were royal purple blood.

Yours for work, J. OTIS FELLOWS.

A C.K.C. LETTER AND REPLY THAT ARE SELF-EXPLANATORY.

Fruitvale, Cal., May 21st, 99.

H. B. Donovan, Esq.,

Dear Sir,—The C.K.C., as I understand from Rev. J. W. Flinton, of Victoria, has decided to recognize all A.K.C. and P.K.L. wins, past and future. Such being the case I offer you my sympathies, as you will have your hands full straightening out championships, etc.

I will give you a little bother to start with. My blue roan Cocker dog Knight of Los Angeles, C.K.C. 4840, has the following wins to his credit. First and special puppy, Sacramento, 1897; first novice and second open, Sacramento, 1897; first open San Jose, Stockton, Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco, 1897, making five firsts in open class, S. F. entries closing before judging at Oakland. The P.K.L. has recognized the last open win as one win in winners class (same as challenge), then he wins first winners, Sacramento, 1899, and first winners, Seattle, 1899. Now, under P. K. L. rules he goes in the champion class, being a P.K.L. champion.

As I understand the C.K.C. requires four winner's wins to entitle them to championship, what shall I do to make him a C.K.C. champ?

By solving this problem for me you will greatly oblige,

Yours in C.K.C.,

PERCY WARD.

P.S.—I am trying to figure how to get a C.K.C. champion medal.

P. W.

Toronto, June 6th, 1899.

Mr. Percy Ward,
Fruitvale, Cal.

Dear Sir,—I delayed replying to your favor of May 21st so that I might confer with the President, who was out of town. First, let me state that we are not looking for trouble, and do not anticipate that any extraordinary friction will occur. There will probably have to be a little "give and take" on both sides. As we understand it now, the dog referred to is a P. K. L. champion. To make him a champion under our rules it will only be necessary to get one more win at a show recognized by the C.K.C.

Yours truly,

H. B. DONOVAN,

QUAINT OLD QUEBEC.

To me, and perhaps to all visitors, Quebec is the most interesting city this side of the Atlantic. Quaintly picturesque, nine-tenths of it, with only sufficient of what is modern to sharpen the contrast with what is ancient, the city seems to cling to her cliffs as lichens cling to the rocks. And over all is the atmosphere of romance and chivalry, for many a gallant blow has been struck and knightly deed performed in and about this strange and venerable city.

Below, the "swift shuttles of an empire's loom" plow the breast of grand St. Lawrence, where once the frail craft of the French pathfinder cautiously stole into the unknown. Yonder, the "Cove," where Britain's best and bravest gathered in darkness for a deed which was to shed light through centuries. The flaming creeper trailing from a crag might represent a fragment of a red coat or a splash of that fiery blood that stained the rocks again and again. Above, a glint of genuine scarlet and the grim muzzles of cannon ready to hurl destruction upon the first unwelcome intruder; and behind the city the storied "Plains," with their memorial shafts to tell where the Lion trod the Lillies into the turf, which now knows no more warlike sound than the tumult of mock battle, the drumming of the hoof of the thoroughbred or the thump of the cricket ball.—Ed. W. Sandys, in Outing for June.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 9, 1898.—Mr. F. L. Ackley, I received the box of Taxider some time ago, it works fine. I have just finished mounting a beautiful swan. I have already a nice collection of birds, and a class of seven boys. It is really wonderful how it works.
The very first bird I mounted was a success. Please find enclosed money order for one dozen boxes. Please rush as I am in quite a hurry. Thanking you for past favors, I remain, truly yours, J. H. Flanders, Tacoma, Wash.

I have letters like this from hundreds of people and all are having success. Send for a
