NOTES AND COMMENTS

Arrangements may be made with the Canadian Kennel Gazette to publish portraits of prize-winning dogs where good photographs are supplied. Terms, which are reasonable, will be sent on application.

• • •

St Thomas show was a success in every way—the entries ran up to about two hundred and fifty, the attendance was big and the quality of the dogs in many instances was high. Mastiffs had six entries, Baden Powell was the sensation in St. Bernards; Collies were poor, some prizes withheld; Pointers a nice entry, beating the Setters; Cockers remarkably good, Fox Terriers good for a small show, Mr Macdonald's kennel being much in evidence. Mr. Bell had Fordham present and Mr Ford Otterburn Candidate; other Terriers were high quality, especially Bulls and Skyes. The only poor thing about the concern is the catalogue—said to be about the worst on record.

Toronto's thirteenth dog show in connection with Canada's big Industrial Fair did not have the entry of last year, but as far as local—Canadian—dogs are concerned, the turn out was remarkable and the quality never so good in many breeds. The falling off may be accounted for by the fact that Chatham, N. Y., held a show the same week, and this caught the dogs at the Pan-American, their owners taking it in on the way home. The show at Sherbrooke, Que., must also have taken some dogs that Toronto would otherwise have got.

Judging did not begin till well on Monday and was continued steadily until its close. We heard little grumbling at the awards, though of course there was the usual "difference of opinion."

Mr. Williams had a light entry in St. Bernards, but more quality in the local specimens than before. Dr. Wesley Mills had a nice entry in Dachshunds and quality to boot—but his other classes were not large. Mr. Davidson's classes showed a big drop and Mr. Tyler Morse had little trouble with the few Bull dogs that came up for his decisions. Mr. McEwen had fifty-two entries in Collies, Mr. Oldham's strength lay in the Cockers and Mr. Mortimer's lot were comfortably filled. We expected a bigger turn out in Fox Terriers. In Irish Terriers the quality of the Canadian specimens is promising.

• • •

Everything was ready on the Sunday prior to opening day, and in fact many owners had their dogs benched early on that day, thus giving them a quiet rest prior to the excitement. The weather on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday was insufferably hot—and more air is needed even in such a large building. The attendance at the show was good, especially on Monday during judging, when the ring sides were packed.

Messrs. Mills, Morse and Williams got comfortably through on Monday and Mr. Mortimer made big inroads in his classes. The upstairs ring was not used this year.

Mr. Fraser's work was quietly and efficiently done, the attendants were more than usually bright, and as ring steward for the largest classes we can heartily pronounce this a blessing, and the feeding and cleaning were properly looked after.

* * *

Mr. Geo. H. Gooderham, proprietor of the Norfolk Kennels and chairman of the Bench Show committee, dispensed his usual lavish hospitality and a drive to his extensive kennels and dinner at the Hunt Club was enjoyed by the veterans as well as by the novice class.

* * *

Spratt's Patent are sending out a very attractive pocket piece, a new copper cent embedded in a circle of aluminum, on one side inscribed good luck, on the other an invitation to send for a copy of Dog Culture, free.

* * *

Mr. William Wade, Oakmont, Pa., is going in for Bobtails, but has no use for specimens that are simply bench winners. They must, first and last, be intelligent workers. He received a dog from England last month.

* * *

We are obliged to Mr. Harold C. Padmore, Vancouver, B. C., for nice photos of his Bull dogs Jorrocks, a winner here and in England, and Sarah Drummond by Jorrocks ex Nancy Lee, the latter just a year old.

The Recent Toronto Show and the American Stock-Keeper

Mr. H. W. Lacy's usual urbanity appears to have deserted him on his flying visit to the recent show in Toronto, as in the paper of which he is kennel editor appears a report that is unfair to the management, to the superintendent, and in many cases to the dogs.

In brief he states that the show did not score its usual success, that there is a lack of system and executive ability, that the show as a whole was "passee," that Toronto show is not the show of old, that no "inducements" were offered the professional handlers, that there is dissatisfaction, and that the superintendent must shoulder some of it.

Mr. Lacy spent the entire last day of the show in Toronto, so that of course he is fully able to bear out all he states.

The show was an unqualified success, all things being considered. We have not seen Mr. Fraser since reading Stock-Keeper's report, but as a matter of fact the receipts at the dog show were greater in proportion to the number of people on the grounds than last year, and in the matter of entries only has there been a falling off. If "inducements" had been offered some men who control large strings this would have been changed, but the Toronto management, while welcoming every man who pays the regulation fee, has decisively decided that it will be no party to the offering of "inducements" to any special class of men, no matter how worthy they may be and no matter how desirable may be their entry. We can assure Mr. Lacy that this is irrevocable, and that those exhibitors who are not satisfied to take equal treatment with others will be offered no extra

"inducements" to favor Toronto with their presence.

We have never attended a show at which there was less grumbling from start to finish. Without any fuss, everything was ready in ample time, the attendants were sharp and civil and Mr. Fraser's part was done in his usual manner, which is about the highest praise we can give him.

Canadian exhibitors from far and near were out in force, and with more quality on the whole than ever before, and expressed themselves as thoroughly pleased with "a good show," as one phrased it.

We were prepared for a falling off in the entry, as, for one reason, many who take one week in the fall spent it this year at Buffalo the preceding week, and Chatham, N.Y., and Sherbrooke, Que., doubtless took many dogs that otherwise would naturally have come to Toronto. Among other things Mr. Lacy might remember is that it is every year growing more difficult to win in Canada, and that those who look for "inducements" are also generally on the lookout for "a sure thing."

Regarding difficulty with Customs at border the I. E. Association cannot do anything more than they are doing at present. It has been again and again pointed out that if exhibitors would arm themselves with a certificate taken out at point where the dogs are bonded, and would present that certificate on their return, there would be no difficulty, as the U. S. Customs regulations read that "hereafter dogs in bond for exhibition purposes must be bonded by name and description to facilitate checking, identification and return." Where this is complied with there should be no difficulty whatever with the American Customs authorities, where has always been the difficulty. In reference to the trouble experienced by some Canadian exhibitors at Buffalo, it must be borne in mind that these dogs were not shipped from and returned to the same point from which they were bonded. Another identification according to regulations had to be established before dogs could be released at Toronto.

We can assure you, Mr. Stock-Keeper, that the Toronto show was a sufficient success to satisfy its promoters, the exhibitors and the public, and it is too much alive to take with equanimity your euphonious appellation of a "once was."

Braehead Royal Scot, Mr. A. F. Gault's new Collie, is offered at public stud at the low fee of ten dollars. He has already sired some large litters in Canada. He is a black, tan and white, and excels in head, eye, expression and character, all so necessary in a successful sire. He was a big winner in England and has won in Canada, first in novice, limit and open classes at Montreal in May 1901, and in July, under Dr. Wesley Mills, first open and first winners at the Montreal Collie Club's show

* * *

Mr. H. L. Jeffrey (late of Stratford) is now residing in Lindsay, Ont.

* * *

On Sept 10th Mr. John R. Lewis' Collie bitch Strathcona Queen, 5185, whelped a large litter, four dogs and six bitches, to Braehead Royal Scot, Mr. Gault's imported black, tan and white. All are strong puppies and doing well so far.

Newcastle Kennels, BROOKLINE
MASS., U.S.A.

Mr Henry Y. Gault, Falls View, Ont, reports the advent of a litter from his imported Irish Terrier bitch Maude Goorme by Ch. Masterpiece.

Mr. W. P. Fraser has added to his kennel a Meersbrook Bristles bitch Brilliant, winner of second in novice at the Pan-American. Warren Careful is her dam, and she was an inmate of the Rutherford Kennel. Mr. Fraser has bred his Formosa, also by Meersbrook Bristles, to Dusky Don II., the Toronto winner.

Those breeders who desire to make use of Endcliffe Banker's services should secure early nomination as we hear the champion old sire's slate is rapidly filling, with owners hopes of another Bank Note resulting.

Mr. A. P. Vredenbrugh, secretary of the American Kennel Club, spent two days at Toronto during the show. We were glad to hear that his ocean trip had greatly benefited him and that his visit to England was so pleasantly spent.

Mr. James Lindsay came to Toronto after his judging engagement at Sherbrooke, Que., and spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Fraser at their lake side home. Mr. Lindsay and Mr. Fraser spent a day with Mr. Parker Thomas at Belleville on the former's way home. Neither ever mentioned Fox Terrier!

Hamilton is arranging to hold a show on Thanksgiving Day and either the day before or after. C. K. C. rules will govern and the same conservative ideas that have made previous shows such a success will prevail.

In addition to her large kennel of Irish and Scottish Terriers Mrs. Bradley-Dyne has added a wire bitch puppy by Aldon Quartermaster ex Donna, from Rev. J. W. Flinton's lot, and a rare Terrier-like one she is said to be.

In registering Newcastle Hector Mr. Jas. L. Little records the advent of a litter of seven, all dogs, from this prolific Scotsman and challenges any owner of the breed to equal it.

We were sorry to learn from Mr. Lindsay that Midlothian Chief had died on Tuesday at Sherbrooke. Chief was a Scottie of more than usual merit and was imported about a twelve-month ago from his native heath.

Another Scottish Terrier who recently passed in his checks is St. Clair Don, the dog that Mr. Fraser imported about seven years ago. He had been retired for some time and was an inmate of Mr. Parker Thomas' kennels at Belleville.

Mr. A. Allan, of Montreal, has imported a grandson of Meersbrook Bristles, in fact he has a double cross of this old champion blood.

Report of Annual Meeting held in Toronto, September 4th, 1901

The President of the Club, Mr. Jno. G. Kent, occupied the chair at the meeting held on above date, the attendance being larger than usual. Minutes of last annual meeting taken as read. Mr. H. Parker Thomas and Mr. W. H. Williams were appointed scrutineers to count the votes sent in by ballot. The secretary's report as follows, was read:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:

As you have been kept in touch with the business of the club during the past year through the Gazette, there is little left for me to report to you outside of the financial statement.

C. K. C. medals. At a recent show several of our medals were placed as specials for best local specimens. A member of the executive writes me asking if this was the original intention in offering the medals. Of course I can only reply most emphatically that it was not. The medals should be placed in my opinion so that the best dog or bitch in the show of the breed specified should win them, whether the owner is a member of the club or not. This is, I think, a broad and liberal view of the case. In the past we have left the placing of the medals entirely in the hands of the various bench show committees, but it may be desirable at this juncture to say under what definite conditions they will be donated.

The Customs on the other side seems to be a bugaboo that will not down. Appended is the latest ruling regarding dogs sent in for exhibition as sent me by the local manager of the Canadian Express Company:

Canadian Express Co.,

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 29th, 1901.

H. B. Donovan, Esq., Can. Kennel Gazette:

We are advised that according to U. S. Customs regulations hereafter dogs in bond for exhibition purposes must be bonded by name and description to facilitate checking and identification and return.

Yours truly,

R. G. Wilson, Agt.

The free entry of thoroughbred dogs into Canada has been made clear through the club's correspondence with the Hon. Commissioner of Customs. The interests of members in Ontario have been protected in that the proposed legislation greatly increasing the dog tax has been suspended.

The penalty for the crime of dog stealing has been very largely increased according to the new Criminal Code of Canada.

Registrations for the year number four hundred and ninety-one, an increase of five per cent.

The membership of the year is two hundred and twenty-five, an increase of but five. This to me is a disappointment.

Fifty-nine have already paid for the coming year.

The total number of registrations in the Stud Book is now six thousand and twenty-five.

The financial report is as follows.

I would suggest that if acceptable it be received subject to usual audit.

In closing I must congratulate the club on having at the head of its affairs a man of Mr. Kent's business acumen and one who is not afraid of a good deal of personal hard work in the building up of the strong organization that we have to-day.

To the executive also we owe our best thanks for their uniformly fair treatment of the cases that have come before them.

Respectfully submitted,

H. B. Donovan, Sec.-Treas.

The President in rising to speak said:

And now gentlemen we come to the Secretary Treasurer's report, copies of which are in your hands. We have had in many ways a most prosperous year. Our finances are in a very healthy condition, and the work of the Club is right up to date in every particular, and the registrations for the year show a most satisfactory increase, all of which goes to show that the internal workings of the club are going along nicely, without I may say any jar or friction.

In regard to the work that the Club has done for its members and the dog fanciers of Canada at large during the season, I would mention first that the status of the dog as a domestic animal has been clearly defined. Dog stealing now is not a matter of little consequence, and it is satisfactory to know that the penalty for this crime has been greatly increased. Also I might say that a recent movement on the part of the dog tax has through the efforts of this Club been side tracked and I do not think it will be heard of again. This is a matter which means hundreds of dollars saved every year to the dog owners of this Province, and it was only by united action on the part of your Executive as well as many members of the club that success crowned our efforts. By private letters, personal interviews of members of the Cabinet and private members, we succeeded in showing them the injustice of the bill. Other matters of like importance have from time to time been looked after by your Executive and brought to a successful issue, but the importance and benefit of either one of the above two named I think fully goes to prove that the C. K. C. is an institution that should be loyally supported by every dog owner in the country.

There is only one unpleasant feature in regard to the year's work, and I would wish to draw your particular attention to it, viz—the very slight increase in membership. It is certainly discouraging to your Executive to note the lackadaisical manner in which a great many of our members stand by and see work done for them which is a saving in many ways to them personally, and to find that they do not respond in the way of sending nominations for membership in the club. We cannot afford to stand still in this department above all others, and with the inducements that are now being offered for the paltry sum of $2.00 we should have at least 500 names on our list. The only reason that I can give is the fact that an ordinary member thinks that his influence is so small that it is not worth his while exerting himself to assist. But this is just where the mistake is made. If every member of the club would make up his mind that within one month from date he would send in an extra member, our club would be enabled to increase its usefulness wonderfully. I know that our Secretary has been depending entirely on increased membership to reimburse him for the annual outlay entailed in publishing the stud book and it is not encouraging to him to see members at large showing so little interest in increasing our ranks.

Of course some of the members have done well, but they are few. We should unitedly work to at least double our membership without delay and I trust that by our next annual meeting your executive will be able to report that this has been done, and even more, for I fully believe that a united effort on the part of the members, if they can once be brought to see the benefits to be derived from the club, would treble our membership in twelve months.

I thank you kindly for your attention.

Report accepted subject to the usual audit.

Re C. K. C. medals—Moved by Mr. Bertram, seconded by Mr. Britcher, and carried, that medals shall only be offered for best dog in the breed in which the medals are donated.

Customs—Several members spoke strongly regarding the trouble ensuing from the recent show at Buffalo, and the following letter from the Commissioner for Canada to Mr. Elderkin, live stock commissioner for Canada at the Pan-American, was put in.

To Mr. D. T. Elderkin:—

For your information I beg to advise you that the State Department at Washington have advised the custom officials of Buffalo that it will be necessary for all dog owners of animals in bond at the Pan-American Exposition, to make a personal export entry, of same at the custom house at Buffalo, between the hours of nine a.m. and four p.m. It is important that the owner should make the entry in each case, and if such is done there will be no trouble in removing the animals from this country, as everything will be arranged at Black Rock for the inspection, if the proper papers are filed with the custom authorities at Buffalo.

Mr. Elderkin will be communicated with as to how some uniform mode of procedure can be inaugurated, so that delays may be avoided.

The following letter was received:

Toronto, Sept. 2, 01.

Mr. J. G. Kent, Pres. C.K.C.:

Dear Sir,—I am sorry I shall be unable to attend C.K.C. meeting on Wednesday 4th inst., as I have a few suggestions to make, I enumerate them below, in case you deem any of them worthy of notice at the meeting.

(1) Duplications of names in C.K.C. stud book are forbidden." This evidently refers to registration only, and not to listings, as I can point out cases where one dog is registered and another listed under same name. Some confusion and perhaps dishonesty has been brought to light from same cause in A.K.C. I would suggest the following:—

No dog may be registered or listed under same name with which any other dog of same breed has been previously registered or listed.

(2) I suggest that applications for registered prefixes or kennel names be referred to a committee (perhaps the Executive) to consider same. In England, prefixes are very often refused, as being too general—they will not even grant the name of a city as prefix, it not being fair to the other breeders of the city. Here we have such prefixes as "Manitoba," "Ontario," and even "Canadian Kennels."

It advertises such kennels unfairly, and gives a wrong impression to the uninitiated. A Toronto evening paper made such a mistake last week.

(3) I would suggest that each volume of C.K.C. Gazette commence with the canine and not the calendar year. If a man is member C.K.C. for a year, he has part of one volume and part of another. Moreover, the present method is a nuisance to those who get their volumes bound.

(4) I think some restriction should be put on the prices of "selling classes" in shows under C.K.C. rules. At last spring show, 1901, in Toronto, the winner in selling class was entered as price $100. I see no limit mentioned in the catalogue. In previous shows, it was understood that limit was about $20. Why this change without any warning?

If you think any of above four points deserve consideration, I will make motion towards adoption of any one of them, if another member C.K.C. will second the motion.

Yours very truly,

H. E. M. Cobban.

With regard to listing the President explained that the great majority were not seen by the Secretary until after the close of the show at which they were taken.

The letter was referred to the executive committee and the members are requested in the mean time to send their views on the different items mentioned.

Dog Poisoning.

Minnedosa, Man., Aug. 21st, 01.

H. B. Donovan, Esq., Toronto:—

Dear Sir,—I enclose you a cutting from a local newspaper, which I think throws quite a new light on the subject of putting out poison. Surely if a man put out poison in his yard he may do so on the rest of his property? I have always understood that it is against the law to put out poison at all, except for gophers, and this is the only case that I have ever heard of to the contrary. Could you tell me if there is any act limiting people's yards? If not, and a man is allowed to put out poison on that part of his property, then the present poison law is useless, as he might call his whole property a yard.

I am very interested in this subject as I have had so many dogs killed from the same thing.

Yours truly,

Vere H. G. G. Pickering.

The report of the case is as follows:—

W. T. Armour, a druggist, of Hamilton, Ont., appeared at the police court on Monday for the purpose of explaining to the magistrate how it was he came to put poison in his yard, valuable dogs belonging to neighbors having died as the supposed result. Mr. Armour admitted having put the poison out, saying that it was intended for cats. Magistrate Jeffs dismissed the case holding that a man had a right to place poison in his own yard.

The Secretary stated that he had thought this matter of such vital importance that he had asked the Club's Hon. Solicitor to give an opinion on the whole subject entailed. Mr. Macrae's reply is contained in the following:—

Toronto, Aug 4, 01.

H. B. Donovan, Esq., Sec. Canadian Kennel Club:

Dear Sir,—The poisoning of dogs is a criminal offence and falls within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Legislature and cannot be the subject of Provincial or municipal legislation.

The Criminal Code of Canada (Dominion), Sec. 500, provides as follows:—

"Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to two years imprisonment who wilfully:—

"(a) Attempts to kill, maim, wound, poison or injure any cattle or the young thereof, or

"(2) Places poison in such a position as to be easily partaken of by any such animal, R.S.C., Chap. 168, Sec. 44."

This section relates to cattle only, not to dogs and is only cited by me so as to show the general trend of the legislation with regard to the poisoning of animals.

The Criminal Code, Sec. 501, provides:—

"Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $100 over and above the amount of injury done, or to three months imprisonment with or without hard labour who wilfully kills, maims, wounds, poisons or injures any dog, bird, beast or other animal not being cattle but being either the subject of larceny at Common Law or being ordinarily kept in a state of confinement or kept for any lawful purpose."

"(2) Everyone who having been convicted of any such offence afterwards commits any offence under this section is guilty of an indictable offence and liable of a fine or imprisonment or both in the discretion of the court."

This section (501) contains the whole law of the Dominion relating to the poisoning of dogs.

The gist of the offence is the wilful poisoning, and the question for the Magistrate to consider in cases under this section is—was the poison put out for the purpose of reaching the animal poisoned?

If a man places poison in his own yard for the purpose of destroying a neighbor's dog and for no other purpose, the Magistrate might convict under this section although the dog was trespassing, but if the object of setting out the poison was lawful, for instance for the destruction of cats, and it was done by a man in his own yard, then the poisoning of the dog would be accidental and not wilful, and the case would not be within the section.

I return Mr. Pickering's letter and clipping, and I will go into the matter further if it is so desired.

Yours truly,

H. H. Macrae.

Rev. Thos. Goghegan stated that the magistrate went carefully into this case and conviction would have ensued if the evidence supported such a course. Magistrate Jelfs had himself lost several valuable dogs from a like cause.

TRAGIC DEATH OF DR. JOHN DUNCAN.

I do not know whether Mr. Flinton has informed you of the tragic death of Dr. John Duncan, the promoter and treasurer of the Vancouver Island, K. C. His is a loss the club will suffer from, though I hope we shall be able to go on with it. We are also losing Mr. Flinton from the neighborhood and he will in future, I fear, be unable to take an active part in the club's business. Dr. Duncan and Mr. Flinton were our two most active, enthusiastic promoters, and if it had not been for the former there would be no V. I. K. C. He died as he lived, helping others to the last on the wreck of the steamer Islander coming from Skagway, and Victoria is universally bewailing his loss, for a kinder, braver man never lived.

Yours sincerely,

Katherine Bradley-Dyne.

Sherwood Kennels were unfortunate in losing, by hanging, at Buffalo, their new young Dachshund Sherwood Spark, a dog of great promise.

Toronto's Annual Fall Show

BULL TERRIERS.

The entry was small though the quality was well up to the best of recent years.

Newmarket Bendigo repeated his Buffalo win. Long lean head, free from cheek and looks like a laster, good body, stern and front. Second houndy in expression and leggy. Limit dogs (under 30 lbs.) Newmarket Baron II. won well in head muzzle and expression, good body, fair front, a bit weak in pasterns. Wentworth Terrence weak in face and cheeky. B. V. Flyer well known. Limit and open. Ottawa Major, the Pan-American winner won. Good expression and fore face, bone and substance, good body and tail, a really grand Terrier, a bit loaded in shoulders was his worst fault, was closely followed by N. Bendigo, who looks as though he might reverse it in time.

Puppy bitches, Golf Queen, short body, good front, looked apple headed, but is too young to say what she will be when developed. Did not look over four months old with her mouth full of milk teeth. Newmarket Baby, fair head, good body, faulty in front and high stern. Limit bitches (under 30 lbs.), Wentworth Vixen—best body, front, legs and feet, grand expression, though going cheeky won from B. V. Brilliant.

Open—Repeats to B. V. Beryl, who was sulky and would not show.

SPANIELS.

In other than Cockers we had the same old faces in their usual order.

In Cockers the entry of 118 including duplicates which greeted Mr. Oldham, must come very near a record for Toronto, and the dogs on the whole were an evener and more typical lot than have been put down in Toronto for several years past. This was particularly noticeable in the bitch classes. We were sorry to miss the usual strong string from the Woodland Kennels and hope their genial owner will not let it occur again, notwithstanding his increased responsibilities.

The puppy class for dogs was probably the poorest of any. Ole Obe distanced his field and won without effort. He is a nice size, flat coat, abundant feather,—in fact too much for our fancy,—good eye and ear; muzzle and skull will do if they do not get any coarser, though he might be cleaner cut before the eye and move better behind. Second, wide in front and long in body. Third, a particolor who earned his position though a bit common and must stop growing. Little Joe is too small entirely even for a puppy.

Novice dogs—Black Domino, light in eye, a bit long in body and a bad fronted one won. He can thank his good handling as the puppy winner seemed a sure thing. Shirley 3rd was short of coat and feather and looked light. His head is well proportioned but would be improved if a shade heavier in muzzle, beautiful skull, short body and good front. Sirdar, reserve, very crooked in front, otherwise as good as anything in the class.

Limit and open black—All repeats except Paragon 2nd who might have been a peg higher.

Novice (A.O.C.)—The new importation, Braeside Blue Jacket, is weak in muzzle, plain in skull, full before the eye and lacks lip, which gives him a wedgy appearance in face; back of the head he is all Cocker, excellent legs and feet, good body and stern and a nice mover. Yorrick, a sound, useful sort that must have been close up. Third repeat.

Limit (A. O. C.)—Bay View Beguiler beat his kennel companion B. V. Robin as the latter was very thin and out of coat, both well known.

Limit (particolor)—Blue Jacket beat Waverly Bobs. The latter a good Cocker whose front will always keep him back.

In open (A. O. C.)—Ch. Romany Rye first, Perfection 2nd, both looking very fit. Blue Jacket 3rd, a bit outclassed here.

Puppy bitches—Lady Dottie won handily, a light colored red, a really good little one, excellent in eye, muzzle and skull, good ear, fair bone, beautiful front, pity she is not a size larger all over. 2nd and 3rd were off their benches.

Novice, black — Maple Leaf won well, short cobby bitch with good legs and feet, nicely chiseled head. 2nd, Lady Omo, very bad in front and apparently heavy in whelp, was lucky to beat Deer Park Flirt.

Novice (A. O. C.)—Lady Dottie again won. Second, No Beauty, a tiny buff that could not possibly make the weight of any standard. 3rd, Betsy, weak in face and light eyed. Rosebud, a dark red, short in body, good front and fair head. Did not see her in the ring, but from the bench she looked better than reserve.

Limit and open black. Repeats—Bay View Josie Brooks, who won all down the line at Buffalo, was unnoticed in these classes. A grand bitch, a trifle coarse in head perhaps but little fault can be found with her elsewhere.

Limit and open (A. O. C.)—Lilith, looking well, won with Lady Dottie a good second.

Mastiffs were represented by a single specimen, which though not typical, is good in body and sound on his legs. He is rather small and his head lacks in massiveness, while his expression is somewhat spoiled by prominent eyes, a bad fault in this breed. We were glad to find his owner still keeping to his ancient love for this, one of the most faithful and reliable of all the many varieties of dogs.

Bloodhounds—One of the two shown was a fairly good specimen on the whole, with well developed body and legs, and the right type of head, which, however, might be better in several details. The dog was sufficiently typical to deserve first even in better company than that of his kennel mate, and he afterwards won the special over the best in Mastiffs, Newfoundlands and Great Danes. Baron, while a Bloodhound, is a poor one, being especially defective in body and wholly wrong in tail, but he is a Bloodhound and so was given second, considering how weak we are in this breed in Canada.

Newfoundlands were as usual few and inferior. Of the two shown only one has true claims to possessing the characteristics of his breed. The owner of 1st is good in body, fair in limbs and apart from a light eye not too bad in head, but his coat is almost curly in parts which greatly detracts from his general appearance. His muzzle is also somewhat weak, but I had no misgivings in awarding him the prize, which is more than can be said of the second one, whose head, though pleasing enough regarding the animal merely as a black dog, is very far from true Newfoundland type. He has a straight coat on a light untypical body.

Great Danes—While the representatives of this breed are far from high class form, yet it is a great pleasure for me to note the decided advance since I judged in Toronto two years ago. On this occasion no specimen was shown that was doubtfully a Dane, which has rarely been the case in Canada before.

The competition for first place among the dogs lay between the fawn Fordham Cyrmo and the two brindles Marco II. and Marco of similar breeding. I hold that in case of a breed in which type is none too well established type and character should win unless there be very marked unsoundness.

Notwithstanding the fact that the fawn has the best head in the class and a good one, and that he has good legs and feet, he is nevertheless defective in type and character. Like most of the others he is throaty which greatly detracts from that clean, smooth outline which should mark a Dane. He is rather poor in loin but it is to his chest formation and his slackness of musculature (lack of tone) to which must be attributed in no small degree his defects of type and character.

A Dane's chest must in no degree suggest that of the Wolfhound, as does Fordham's. Besides he is too wide in front.

Marco's head is too deep for its length, and, as often happens in such cases, the neck is too thick, which is exaggerated by throatiness in this instance.

Marco II. is straight in stifle, though not cowhocked and his loin is excessively arched, though in both respects being very young he may improve, and he also is somewhat throaty; but in spite of these serious defects he is so much of a Dane in head, neck, front, chest—in fact in all parts forward of his loin—that taken with his size and character, it was a case in which this dog must either win outright or get no standing whatever. I concluded that in spite of his defects, he was in the totality of the impression he made the most characteristic Dane.

Had the bitch owned by the same exhibitor shown better so as to allow of her better symmetry being supported by equal character, I should have selected her probably to represent the breed in the contest for the special in which the Bloodhound won. But she is very young and from what I saw of her on the bench afterwards did not do herself justice in the ring, while Marco II. has so much character he can to a certain extent cover up his defects, which must be taken into account very fully. I can quite understand, however, a judge taking a less favorable view of Marco II. than I have done.

The old bitch Cleopatra is rather past showing, while Rover was a better dog on the bench than in the ring. Most of the exhibits in the Dane classes are young and their relative merits may be greatly altered within the next twelve months. The show of Great Danes on this occasion really enhanced the value of the Exhibition as a whole, which certainly has not always been the case.

Turning to another German breed I can speak of equal or greater advances.

Dachshunds.—There is still however a good deal of difference in type and when there are very large ones with small specimens, it seems to me that it is in harmony with well established opinion in Germany to give our preference to the latter. Certainly a small Dachshund is more generally useful than a large one.

Mr. Donovan's pair are highly typical and show much quality. Unfortunately neither shows well and their shyness abstracts greatly from character, for these little fellows should manifest unbounded self confidence, otherwise a German breeder will have none of them.

Mr. Allan's Dizzie is a wretched type, and he had better dispose of him as soon as possible to someone who wants a dog irrespective of breed and character. Reba, a bitch owned by another gentleman of the same name, is better, but she is too short and her eyes are too full, though dark. The bitch Minto has tan spots over the eyes, which is quite wrong.

The Sherwood Kennel's exhibits are better, though not yet best. Sherwood Smoke is not typical in head, though she has character and was placed over Miss Rodi, solely because the latter is overshot—a bad fault in any kind of Terrier and one that is likely to be hereditary. For the same reason one of the Sherwood Kennels exhibits was put back—though in this case the fault is less pronounced—the teeth are gone though the jaws are level.

The black and tan of this kennel is lamentably defective in front legs. Sherwood Vixen is too houndy in expression and general character. Wellington Duoro is not a bad sort and shows some of the good qualities of his dam, a really nice Dachshund.

The red Windy Croft Joe is lacking in both type and quality, though he has character. To exhibit a specimen of such type, quality and character as Elly Ripon was worth Mr. Hartleib's while to come all the way from Pittsburg, and I trust that none of those interested in the Dachshund failed to see this little bitch in the ring. There is so much good in her that a critic can afford to refer to her faults. She might be a little shorter in ear, rather stronger in muzzle, and somewhat more drawn out in body—i.e., a little longer and a little more slender, but she is perfectly sound and shows as a Dachshund should. This breeder's large dog has plenty of character, is sound and very active, but he seems to me a little thick in neck and somewhat coarse in head, with eyes rather prominent which interferes with his expression, so I could not put him forward among good small ones though no doubt he is all a Dachshund in character, and valuable as a sire for a certain sort of bitches.

I trust that all who have shown Dachshunds this year will stick to the breed and not only make as much improvement as has been effected in the last two years, but by their enthusiasm induce others to join their ranks, and continue breeding until we have specimens of the right type and character and of high quality.

Sherbrooke Bench Show

The Sherbrooke Fair is an annual fixture which draws vast crowds from the surrounding country, and this year has, I understand, been a sort of record one in its history.

The beautiful situation of Sherbrooke and the loveliness of the country between that city and Richmond is a revelation to those acquainted only with the tamer parts of our country.

For some years, in one way and another a dog show has had the way prepared for it and rumour has it that there was a golden age some twenty years ago when a show with 400 entries was held.

Fortunately for this venture, the Secretary of the Eastern Exhibition, Mr. Tomlinson, has himself an interest in dogs as has also his wife who was one of the successful exhibitors; and the ladies can be a power in dogdom as well as in many another field in which they choose to exert their many sided influence, and I thoroughly agree with my colleague, Mr. Lindsay, that they mingle with us, the coarser sex, in such matters greatly to our good.

The Exhibition management was also fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Piercy, who has a knowledge of dogs and of English shows. As the night watchman engaged did not turn up, Mr. Piercy, himself sat up all night so that no harm might come to his charges. This is the spirit of the true lover of the dog and is worthy of all commendation.

The animals were provided with roomy stalls and there was no lack of ventilation, with a complete absence of foul odors in spite of the extreme heat of the weather. Inexperienced exhibitors had taxed the management a good deal by unintentional neglect and oversights, but with the help of some good-natured and experienced dog showers these difficulties were overcome.

The "ring" provided was perhaps the least satisfactory part of the arrangement; but everything cannot be ideal on the first occasion.

Though the entry was small—about 60—the quality was to all of us a pleasant surprise. One found here dogs that had a winning record elsewhere, and in some classes the competition was keen enough. The sort of dog so often seen at a first show was almost wholly absent, though as was to be expected, some breeds were not represented.

I was surprised at the number of inquiries by persons wishing to purchase. Among the exhibitors as well as the visitors were not a few of Sherbrooke's socially best people.

It was generally agreed that with a larger building and the avoidance of conflict with the dates of other shows, a really excellent dog show could be held in connection with this most successful fair.

I heard also the expression of satisfaction in that exhibitors had had what they were good enough to term an authorities decision as to the merit of their dogs, as distinct from the owners own views on the matter, a healthy state of mind not always encountered. Fortunately it was not necessary to withhold prizes, which is always unpleasant though sometimes demanded in the best interests of all concerned.

To my surprise a neat little catalogue was provided.

To speak briefly of the classes: As was to be expected, St. Bernards were not very high class, nevertheless among them was that good imported bitch Rosie O'Grady, that would appear to greater advantage if white were less her prevailing color. Passing by the puppies as only moderately good one comes to Diamond Rex, a large dog of good color in body but with a rather untypical long head marked by too much black.

The dog that got first, Bruce B., has a shorter head and broader skull, and is compact in body, but fails somewhat in muzzle. His color brindle and white is also objectionable.

Of the bitches, after Rosie O'Grady, only one is worthy of special mention, Dr. Hume's Phyllis. This animal stands on good legs and has the right type of head, though it is also marred in expression by an excess of black.

It was really a great pleasure to me to come across two excellent Irish Setter bitches, both of them young. The winner is beautiful in both form and color—an animal that any man might delight in possessing. Her mate falls somewhat in head, color, etc. The third bitch is coarse and untypical, especially in that all essential part, head. The only Irish dog is, though sound, not typical—in fact, almost as much English as Irish except for color.

In the contest for the best bitch in the show it was a near thing between the Irish Setter referred to above and the Bull Terrier Newmarket Kit. But when one dog is mature and the other is not, the doubt must it seems to me be given in favor of the older animal, as the puppy may go wrong as well as improve, and if she improves her chance may come again. In this instance the Bull Terrier has few faults in head and was nearly perfect in body.

Gordon Setters were represented by a single specimen, fair, but for very light eyes which destroy the expression in this breed.

Among Cockers were several specimens not to be despised. Mrs. Thompson's Dinah II. is a good typical specimen that but for minor faults in head would not be easily beaten.

Black Dolores, second, did not show well and failed in coloring of body somewhat.

The third, Gipsy Queen, is too high on the leg and of another type.

Collies were by no means bad.

The Colla Kennels sent a dog with a fine long head but practically without stop (we must have some) and with a very light eye that gave him a peculiar and undesirable expression. He is a young dog of nice size, outline and quality, and has moreover pretty good ears, but in very poor coat. He was the best among the dogs, but for the special he was beaten by a nice bitch. This Collie has a dark eye, small ears and is symmetrical throughout, showing quality. Ears interfered with some of the others being to the fore; but with one exception there was not a down right bad one in the lot.

But the highest quality was found among the Terriers, speaking generally, and I would have been glad if Mr. Jas. Lindsay of Montreal who judged them, had contributed his share towards this report. But as his profession necessitates a sedentary life, I had not the heart to break in on his holiday period even to serve the interests of the readers of the Canadian Kennel Gazette.

Of the four Bull Terriers shown, the bitch referred to above is a good deal the best specimen. She is a little strong in head, but it is of the right sort and she is in type and character a Bull Terrier every inch of her.

First place among the dogs went to a young one, but Mr. Thomas's Dangorse Pickles seemed to me on the whole possessed of more type and character. He is a little cheeky and might be better filled out under the eye but he is not a bad big one.

The third dog, Mousse, is of another sort—altogether too coarse in head. Mr. Laurin's Alredale Princess Brier did not put in an appearance.

Fox Terriers were quite strong for such a show.

I am sure Mr. Stockwell's Diamond Peter, in spite of a rather plain head must have appealed strongly to the judge because of his good body, bone and coat.

Among the locals Mrs. Tomlinson's John Bull was very successful.

General Lee, though too big is very much of a terrier.

Elmwood Electra has plenty of character, but is a little light especially in loin. Her head but for ears rather large, is pretty good. She is a capital shower.

Among wires Mr. A. Allen of Montreal showed a recently imported one that was able to get the best of all the others in spite of his present lack of coat. The latter won the special for the best Terrier in the show. Mr. Allen should make a first-rate member of the dog world.

Dr. Worthington's Tinderbox is too open and soft in coat, a defect of one or two other local dogs.

Among the puppies were a couple that may improve.

Endcliffe Glory's ears are now carried very high, and Mr. Learmont's Thirty Cents is open in coat.

Among bitches Mrs. Pitt's Dartmoor Carrie won first—a strong sort that should breed well if properly mated.

Dr. Drummond sent a couple of Irish Terriers of a much better type than he once had. The dog but for his ears and color is a good specimen, but such ears are simply an abomination on so good a dog.

Tagalog inclines to be somewhat coarse, and lacking in quality.

Dr. Drummond's Kinkora Gipsy is a nice one, though somewhat light in muzzle and short in neck.

The excellence of one or two of the Scotch Terriers sent was a surprise. But for his front legs I would myself have selected Wishard General to keep company with the best in the show, for he does look a Scottie from his nose to the end of his tail. The first bitch Mrs. Thompson's Balmoral Daisy, is also a good one. The second failed in head.

The Skyes suggested the toy too much in coat.

Mr. Piercy showed a fairly good Beagle.

Altogether the Sherbrooke show of 1901 is a pleasant remembrance.

Pan-American Dog Show

August is hardly the month for showing dogs, yet there was a very representative turnout at this International fixture. Entries made a total of 927, and dogs actually benched 568. The prizes were ten dollars for first and five for second all through, which for a two dollar entry fee may be considered generous. To pass on to the dogs, as usual a large share of the "good things" came to Canada, and the winners were born and bred on Canadian soil—what higher tribute could one wish?

St. Bernards found Mr. Fred T. Miller's Baden Powell to the fore and he never stopped going till he had captured four first prizes, and special for the best rough in the show. This is a greater achievement than one would imagine, as the multi-millionaire faction were in strong evidence. Dogs purchased at fabulous prices abroad went down like pine pins before the noble son of Uncle Remus and Zantha. He is a deep orange dog of good size, and very typical in head and expression; a sound, active dog, with good legs and feet. The others exhibited are old stag-ers.

Great Danes — The Montebello Kennels failed to show up, which left the classes rather short of quality.

Greyhounds — The high quality Leeds Elect had an easy time of it. Foxhounds were few in number, only one real good one, Newton Abbot Kennel's N. A. Ideal.

Beagles—A really grand collection, the best known in America being representatives of much merit.

Pointers and Setters—Thanks to the enterprise of the Vancroft Kennels, we were able to see the best that money could buy, at home and abroad. In English Setters the beautiful imported lemon ticked dog Parton Tory scored in general quality. He was beautifully shown by that astute ringmaster Ben Lewis.

Field Spaniels were not great in numbers, but in such specimens as Endcliffe Bishop and Princess Caroline one got a fair idea of the proper type to aim at.

Cockers—These popular dogs did not have an extraordinary gathering. Ch. Ono, a Canadian bred one, was the winning black dog. A real corking little chap in Fritz scored in novices. He has a good body and fair bone and a good sort of lead. His muzzle is a bit light but he will be heard from again.

In black bitches Mr. Miller furnished a good winner in Josie Brooks. She is a good sort all over, but a trifle large. What! Mr. Mason judging. Of the colored ones the beautiful Romany Rye was quite the best. Irish Water Spaniels—The Kingston dog Dan McCarthy gave one a true idea of what the breed should be.

Collies—An exceedingly poor lot, taken as a whole. Mr. Hunter judges carefully and well and should be in demand. Mr. Jarrett won with a high quality son of Balgreggie Hope. His head and ears are high class, and his fore legs and feet A 1. At present he is out of coat, but only needs time. Lady Lauriston was easily the best bitch.

Bull Dogs—The Vancroft Kennels scored heavily with their imported specimens.

Bull Terriers—A good display and a decided victory for Canada. Ottawa Major, the winning heavy weight, has few faults except that he has a mark on his head. Sidney Britcher and Mark O'Rourke each led a good dog.

Fox Terriers, smooth—The Norfolk Kennels brought out a stylish puppy in True Son, a younger brother of ch. True. He is a big one with few faults.

Mr. Winthrop Rutherford played havoc with the prizes with his new Redmond dog, Dusky Don II. He at first strikes one as a commoner, but from an analytical standpoint he has no faults that an expert could discover.

F. T. Bitches, smooth—Handicraft still is queen of her sex, was put down in good shape by Lyndon. Wire Haired F. Terriers—The Montreal dog Bank Note won all he could. He is a really grand dog on the large side.

Irish Terriers—A fair entry, of which the recently imported bitch Princess Vigilant wins. She might have a higher sterna—a bitch however with few faults. Skyes—Mr. Caverhill had a field day with his good team. The Scotties were good Mrs. Jack Braizier having the good ones.

Black and Tan Terriers—The prizes again stay in Canada.

The Swiss Mountain Kennels had a splendid exhibit of toy Pomeranians. The toy dogs were not of extraordinary merit.

COME AND WELCOME.

Dear Sir,—Received Gazette all O. K. We see by it that Miss Cherry and Lady Olive would appear at the Pan-Am. show. We are very sorry to say they will not, as we wrote twice for a prize list and did not get one here in time to enter; we fully intended showing our kennel of Cockers at Buffalo. We will try and attend some of your large eastern shows later on.

NOTES FOR NOVICES.

In regard to lice, these are of more frequent occurrence, and several species are known to afflict the dog. They are usually found upon the throat and neck and round the ears, but, of course, they move all over the body, and as they multiply with extraordinary rapidity, it is of great importance that they should be kept in check. It has been stated on eminent scientific authority that the louse is one of the means by which a dog becomes affected with tapeworm; and thus we go back to what we said in a former paragraph about the importance of keeping dogs free from all skin vermin. Lice cause great irritation, as they feed upon the blood of their victim, and the dog in consequence of their attentions is worried almost out of his mind. To get rid of them a good mange lotion will be necessary, or the use of mercurial ointment will usually be found effective, but as this is poisonous it will have to be used with care or the dog in licking it off will poison himself. This can easily be obviated if the dog's head be tied up so that he cannot get to his coat whilst the ointment is on it. Petroleum has been recommended as a cure for lice, and it is fairly effective, but, of course, it is dangerous to use, and in any case after a dressing with petroleum the dog ought to have a good hot-water bath. Here again, however many cures there may be the most important cure of all is prevention. No dog that is properly groomed and looked after ought to be afflicted with lice. When once a dog has had them it is not enough to give him one bath and think that they are got rid of, for the probability is that in his kennel or even about his body there may be eggs which will hatch out subsequently and the whole process will have to be gone through again.
