NOTES AND COMMENTS

We are glad to learn from our old friend, Mr. Jno. J. Tulk, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., now of Vancouver, B.C., that he has not given up his interest in dogs, of which so many bearing the sign manual, "Terra Cotta," he in past years led to victory, but has been instrumental in the formation of a sound club in Vancouver, and has indeed been elected to its presidency. We will let him tell the story of club-building in his own words:

"Just a few lines to let you know that after a lot of hard work and lots of talking, we have at last managed to reorganize a Kennel Club in this city. It has been a hard task, but last evening there was a meeting held in the office of the U. S. consul, when there was a very good turnout of those interested in dogs, and a great deal said pro and con. I may say that Colonel Dudley is a fine man, and seems to be the right man in the right place. It was decided to reorganize the old Vancouver club, with the following officers:

Hon. President—Colonel Dudley.

President—J. J. Tulk.

Vice-Presidents—Colin Jackson and C. M. Rolston.

Secretary—George Dyke.

Treasurer—A. J. Mayo.

Veterinary Surgeon—Dr. Hart.

Committee—Messrs. Padmore, Cocking, Fitzpatrick, Lyne and C. Herman.

There was some talk of holding a show in July, but it was thought better to have first of all a local show, so as to get the people interested in dogs to come to the front, I would think myself that the meeting would be the means of having a Kennel Club in Vancouver second to none in Canada, and I trust that this will be the outcome of the meeting. The matter of joining the C. K. C. or P. C. L. will be taken up at a later stage of the game.

X A good deal of interest has been displayed as to the location of the vote cast in the recent C. K. C.-A. K. C. question submitted to the members of the former club. Many had apparently the idea that the vote came from fanciers residing west of the Rockies, but that this is not so can be realized by a perusal of the following tabulated extract carefully prepared from the vote cast on the Stud Book question, its retention or otherwise:

Mr. Jno. J. Bostock, Victoria, B.C., was east this month on business, and, of course, had to talk dog with those of the fraternity that he met. He spent some time with the president of the C. K. Mr. F. E. Trautman, of Fort William, Ont., whose love for a good Fox Terrier we have more than once alluded to, has been to Mr. Macdonald again, from whom he has purchased Aldon Warrant, by Ch. Warren Safeguard, ex Aldon Delight, by Daddy, a good dog, that will help the western breeders, as we understand his new owner will not confine his services exclusively to his own kennels. He will be at Fort William after July 1st.

We learn that the great stud dog, Simcoe Duke, died some six or seven weeks back. He leaves behind him, however, a worthy representative in Simcoe Duke II., the dog that came out at Buffalo.

inst., and the following resolution was moved, seconded and carried:

"That the report of the Rules Committee, which was subsequently endorsed by the A. K. C. at the meeting of February, 1903, be adhered to and reaffirmed by the present meeting."

The report of the Rules Committee above referred to reads as follows:

"The communications received from H. B. Donovan, secretary-treasurer of the C. K. C., relative to recognition by the A. K. C. and referred to this committee at the meeting of Sept. 16th, 1902, were duly considered, and your committee recommends that, provided the A. K. C. has three or more active members in Canada, that the same powers conferred upon and now existing with the Pacific Advisory Committee, be granted to a similar committee in Canada."

Yours truly,

A. P. Vredenburg,

Secretary.

As reported in the American Kennel Gazette for May, the matter was summarily dismissed with scant discussion. The following is the report referred to:

"The Secretary then read a communication from the Canadian Kennel Club.

"Dr. Foote—I think this about the fourth time the Canadian Kennel Club has come to us for the purpose of a mutual arrangement to govern shows. If my memory serves me right, on two occasions we came to an agreement with them, and after a short time they disregarded these agreements and went back to their present status. On the last occasion committees were appointed, as they request now. Our committees met and came to terms. Our committee granted pretty much all that they requested, and their committee reported back to the Canadian Kennel Club, with the result that the whole thing was thrown down. It seems to me we have had enough of that tomfoolery, and I for one am opposed to any other arrangement with the Canadians beyond what we grant to the Pacific Coast Committee. I move that the report of the Rules Committee, which was subsequently endorsed by the American Club at the meeting of February, 1903, be adhered to and reaffirmed by the present meeting.

"Motion seconded and carried."

Another feature has now entered into any negotiations that may be further pursued, and that is that at the same meeting the A. K. C. Executive decided that no show, after a certain date, specified in subjoined report, may give winners classes unless $2,000 or over in prizes is offered. This would mean that no show in Canada, with one exception, the Toronto Industrial, under past or present conditions could offer any inducements as to winners classes.

This, we suggest, would be fatal to kennel interests here, as we believe it will prove to be the case in the greater portion of the U. S., more particularly in parts remote from New York, Boston and Philadelphia in the east and Chicago in the west. As the result of the request made by the C. K. C. to the A. K. C. for a more intimate connection has not yet been officially reported to the C. K. C. Executive, we must refrain from further comment, but give, in extenso, from the A. K. C. official organ the discussion and result on winners classes:

The Secretary—There is only one other matter that I have to bring before this meeting. I would like to have an official interpretation of the rules under which I am required to approve or disapprove of classifications. As I stated in my report, in the majority of cases the very full classification, particularly of dogs that are not generally shown throughout the United States, where there may be one or two exhibitors throughout the entire country, and where they may guarantee a class, at the same time only one or two or three specimens of the dogs shown during the whole year, and they take issue with me because they did make a full classification, and that I have no right to strike out the winners classes. I claim that according to the rules that matter was left to my discretion. Not long ago the sense of the Executive Board was that I did have discretion in this matter. Assuming, as I have, this discretion, I cannot recall a case where I have misused that discretion. I have no favorites in breeds, and am perfectly willing to accord a full classification to one breed just the same as another, if I am convinced, or if they will demonstrate to me that the breed is of sufficient importance and popularity that it will be shown in fair numbers and distributed among a fair number of exhibitors. That is the ground that I have taken, and I have been assailed for doing it. My right has been questioned. The particular shows that give the greatest scope to classifications are the shows that do not risk one dollar in prizes—what are generally known as Ribbon Shows. Take the New York Show, the Boston Show, the Philadelphia Show, and shows of that class, where they put up a large amount of money in prizes, they are governed, I believe, by statistics. They know what they have done in certain classes in previous years, where they have lost money, where they have made money, and they make that classification accordingly, but the shows that do not risk a dollar, which simply give out a blue, red or white ribbon, it is immaterial to them what classifications they give, and they generally give the fullest classifications that come to me during the entire year. In those cases I have used my discretion, and I have disapproved of winners classes in certain breeds, which to my knowledge are not owned by more than one or two exhibitors throughout the length and breadth of this country. If this meeting will put on record that it is at my discretion, I am perfectly willing to assume that discretion and to take all the knocks they want to give me. It is the sense of this meeting that I must approve of a winners wherever the necessary number of classes are entered regardless of whether the show is to pay out ten thousand dollars in premiums or about two dollars and a half in the cost of ribbons, I am altogether satisfied, but I would like to have it stated and put on record just exactly where I stand and where the different shows stand, and whatever that may be I will see that it is carried out.

Mr. Rodman, Mr. Chairman, before the secretary's request is taken up, I would respectfully ask, in view of the fact that I have an inkling that he may be answered to-day by the American Kennel Club as a body, a motion having been promulgated and formulated, and I hope tabulated sufficiently to explain the position of the party who makes the motion, which will answer to the fullest extent the question put by the secretary, or if it does not answer his question, at least relieve him in the future from all responsibility, and from an exercise of that power of discretion which so many of us have suffered under, and for that reason I ask that this question be allowed to remain in abeyance until the motion is made, which I think will obviate our answering his question.

Mr. Viti—Referring to the question of winners classes, I should like to call attention to the present system of scoring points. I have discussed this afternoon with some members the amounts that were offered at different shows, and found that the Westminster Kennel Club, which was a five-point show, offered $8,400 in prize money, and the Ladies' Kennel Association offered $9,000 in prizes, and that is only a four-point show, a smaller show according to the ratings than the Westminster Kennel Club Show, which offered $600 less. The Philadelphia Club offered $5,640, which was a three-point show; Boston offered $5,150, and was also a three-point show; while Atlantic City, with $3,438; Providence, with $2,968; Newark, with $2,396, and Pittsburg with $2,250, were also all three-point shows. Buffalo, which gave $2,180, a little less than Pittsburg, was a two-point show; Chicago offered $3,214, and was also a three-point show. These figures have been taken mostly this afternoon from the prize list, and may not be the full amounts as the catalogues may show, because very frequently classes are added after the prize list has gone out. It was my thought that it would be a much fairer way to determine the rating of shows if the amount of the prize money was considered the criterion; that shows that go to the expense of putting up large sums of money and offer prizes which induce competition from all parts of this country, should be considered as larger shows than shows that have a larger number of local dogs entered, and our thought was to have a rating in accordance with the prize money offered; for instance, a show that offered $2,000 should be rated at one point; a show that offered $2,500 should have a rating of two points; a show that offered $3,000 should have a rating of three points; a show that offered $4,000 should have a rating of four points, and a show that offered $5,000 and over should be a five-point show.

Dr. Foote—How does that control the number of winners classes?

Mr. Viti—Then there should be an unlimited number of winners classes.

Dr. Foote—I think it has been generally considered that the financial question should govern the championship record. We tried that some years ago, and we found complaints from shows in small sections, for instance, on the Pacific Coast, where they wanted to work that basis, and in other sections of the country they complained that if we demanded that they should put up a certain sum in order to be allowed to offer winners classes, or championship classes, they could not hold a show. I think Mr. Viti's idea is a good one, but I am very much afraid it would give rise to a tremendous amount of opposition, and be discouraging to the smaller shows.

Mr. Viti—I mean that they should be allowed to hold American Kennel Club shows no matter what they may offer, but they cannot hold winners classes unless they offer substantial prizes. I stated those amounts as a suggestion, and base it upon the amount of money that shows have been in the habit of offering.

Mr. Rodman—I do not think it is Mr. Viti's intention to have it understood that specialty shows or specialty club shows are included in that statement. Specialty club shows are to be left on their present basis. Take the condition of affairs as they exist to-day. They certainly do not give satisfaction. Take the condition which is perhaps to be expected from what is here suggested. If you take the number of dogs as the basis upon which the winner's points should be founded, we are met with this proposition. Take, for instance, a show like the New England Kennel Club, and the show of the Ladies' Kennel Association of America. We have their two illustrations which are apt in explanation of my argument. The New England Kennel Club has for years given an open-air show. The Ladies' Kennel Association of America is giving an open-air show. The present rating of the Ladies' open-air show is that based upon their entries received at the New York Show, and the present basis of the New England Kennel Club open-air show at Braintree is founded upon their show held in Boston last February. After carefully looking into this I state to you only what my personal investigations have proven to my satisfaction, and that is we cannot base this proposition on the number of entries which each show has, for the reason that if that show gives an open-air show, when that show has given its open-air show, at which only a few entries comparatively are received, the next time they hold their show in the city where they are expecting to receive the great number of entries which they are entitled to expect, they have got to go before the public standing, not on the basis of the show they held the year previous in such cities as Boston and New York, but on the basis of their open-air show, which may make Boston next year, as an illustration, open its books to the public with a statement that Boston may not have more than a minimum rating, which is one point. It is true with relation to Boston. It seems to me on the basis of entries we cannot make a rule which can be considered as equitable and fair, and the only way that the committee who have worked over this and given it their best consideration and thought, and which is both ready and willing to receive any proposition or suggestion from any member of the club to assist us in determining upon some plan whereby justice can be done, because we all know that the present rule is entirely inadequate and is certainly most unsatisfactory, we cannot find any other plan than that of basing our estimate of winners' points on the financial end of the show. We cannot find any other plan, and if a show does give, as we have suggested, a certain amount of money, it is entitled to have so many points towards winners classes. With relation to this suggestion which has been made here to-day, what are you going to do about winners classes, we say open winners classes to every breed of dog. Why? Because it is optional under our rules with the judge as to whether or not he awards that prize, and if a judge goes around the country awarding winners prizes to inferior dogs, it will not be long before he is asked to delineate the position of judge. It is in the hands of the exhibitor. I do not believe there is any other way in which this matter can be solved and solved to the satisfaction of all.

Mr. Vredenburg—I may be permitted to say a word here. I am one of the fathers of the present system of the rating of shows. I thoroughly believed in it. Sometime last fall, or in the early winter, there was suggested to me this very question which Mr. Viti has now brought up. I was very loath to give an opinion at that time, but I slept over it and thought upon the subject, and I have come to the conclusion that it is the fairest thing that has been presented yet towards the making of champions. The small shows say: Our only salvation is to have winners' classes. It will rest entirely with them whether they have winners classes or not. If they are willing to put up their money to get the entries which they claim that they will get if they have winners classes, then they ought to have winners classes, and it will also rest entirely with them, whether their show rates at one, two, three, four or five points. It does not rest with them; it rests with the exhibitor how many actual dogs will be entered. The show itself can determine before they issue their premium just exactly the rating of their show, and I have come to the conclusion that it is the fairest plan that has yet been suggested. If a show is not willing to put up $1,000 or $2,000, and simply wants to give a ribbon, let them give all the classes they please except winners classes. They cannot lose very much. If you send this to the Rules Committee I think you ought to consider it very well and consider it long enough to consider it favorably.

The Chair—I would like to ask Mr.

Rodman two questions. One is, according to your idea of rating, the open-air show would be rated on its own bottom?

Mr. Rodman—Yes, and the show held in the city on its own bottom.

The Chair—In all these championship classes, from $2,000 up, winners classes are added on everything?

Mr. Rodman—On everything. A show that will give a proper classification for certain breeds that they embody in their premium list and will also put up their $2,000 guarantee for prize money, is entitled to three points. The show that will put up $2,500 and obey the rules of the American Kennel Club relative to classification is entitled to four points, or as the case may be; I may perhaps be a point out of the way—whatever has been stated here. I suggest that this plan would take the matter of winners classes entirely out of the secretary's hands.

Mr. Emory—I would like to say a word in favor of the suggestion made by Mr. Viti. Take, for instance, our coming show; winners classes are allowed three points. In our open-air show we will have somewhere in the neighborhood of 300 entries. There may be one winners class, for instance, and a dog would be accorded three points, and it is a false representation, for if that dog appeared in New York or Boston he might not be anything more than a third-prize dog. It is an injustice to the other exhibitors, and I think it would be an injustice to our coming show in February, 1904, where we can only advertise one point. I want to state that I am in favor of Mr. Viti's suggestion of having winners points according to the amount of money offered.

Mr. Moore—It seems to me as if Mr. Viti's suggestion was the fairest one of all.

Mr. Viti—My resolution is: Resolved, That after August, 1903, the schedule of points to regulate the values of winners classes be as follows: That at shows giving at least $2,000 prize money in regular classes, the rating shall be one point. At shows giving at least $2,500 the rating shall be two points. At shows giving at least $3,000 the rating shall be three points. At shows giving at least $4,000 the rating shall be four points. At shows giving at least $5,000 the rating shall be five points. That specialty clubs holding shows confined to their own breeds, the rating shall be four points. That upon the Pacific Coast one-half of the amount shall substitute the above amounts of money. That the opening of winners classes at all shows shall be a matter entirely within the discretion of the Bench Show Committee of said club, subject of course to the rules governing winners classes.

Mr. Muss-Arnolt—I think we should be a little slow about a matter like this. It will affect small shows very decidedly which cannot pay $2,000. That knocks them entirely out, and I do not think it is our object to limit our shows. I think the general welfare of the dog is to give as many shows as possible. It will simplify the matter to a great extent to satisfy the majority, but I do not know how it will affect the general exhibiting public, and we ought to know that before we go into this and take the risk of adopting it.

Mr. Vredenburgh—It will be beneficial to the exhibitor.

Mr. Muss-Arnolt—I cannot see that except those permanent shows that are not able to give that much money are cut out.

Mr. Viti—I do not think there can be any better answer to that suggestion than the statement which Mr. Emory has made, who is secretary of a very important small show, the show at Braintree, and yet he has expressed himself as being heartily in favor of this change. As far as having a general discussion goes, I think the meeting this afternoon is a very representative gathering of those who are familiar with dog show conditions in this country. We have here breeders and exhibitors and those representing specialty clubs and show clubs. I do not think you could thrash the matter out before a more representative gathering of delegates.

Mr. Muss-Arnolt—I should like to have the time extended.

Mr. Viti—I do not wish to unnecessarily occupy the time, but the reason I suggested, and I merely make this as a suggestion, was so that this would not interfere with the fall shows. If we make it later, then you will have two classes of ratings during the autumn. If we make it earlier it may interfere with some shows that are going to be held during the month of June. I suggested the month of August because it would take effect during a period of the year when no prize lists at all are being issued and there would be sufficient time to promulgate it throughout the country, and have the secretaries perfectly familiar with it before the autumn shows commence.

The motion was carried, Messrs. Muss-Arnolt and Watson voting in the negative.

DOMINION OF CANADA INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.

Toronto's Big Show, Sept. 7th to 10th,
Under C. K. C. Rules—Mr. Jno.

G. Kent, Chairman of Dog Show Committee.

The Editor Canadian Kennel Gazette:

The dates, 7th to 10th of September, 1903, have been claimed by us with the Canadian Kennel Club, for our fifteenth annual bench show of dogs, in connection with the Industrial Exhibition, and we confidently expect it will prove the most successful in the history of our association.

Mr. John G. Kent has been elected chairman of the committee, which includes a large number of prominent fanciers.

Premium lists, names of judges and other items of interest will be forwarded you from time to time.

Yours very truly,
Industrial Exhibition Association of Toronto.

BENCH SHOW CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Under this heading the American Field of June 12th, in the following powerful leader, leaves no uncertainty as to where it stands on the recent action of the A. K. C. It is also a tacit acknowledgment of Mr. Donovan's action of some months ago in refuting unsustained allegations made by one of the Field's staff and reprinted in Gazette. It is what we would expect of the Field, a helping hand to the little show, sportsmanship as against $ $ $.

"That any national organization having for its object complete control of the entire field of operations should, just as that object is about to be attained more securely, wilfully and without due consideration pass an enactment which undoes the work of years, is almost inconceivable. Yet that is exactly the position of the American Kennel Club to-day. Nothing that the club has ever done, and it has gone astray more than once, nothing, indeed, that anyone has ever conceived whereon to wreck the organization, has in any way equalled the blindly led, fatal step it has recently taken. We called attention to it in our issue of May 30, and sounded the note of warning then.

The report of the American Kennel Club's action has been published in the American Field, but it is dry reading, so that the number who read it to the end are few. Hence we will resurrect the harikari paragraph, and by isolating it bring it into requisite prominence for all to see it plainly and understand its scope fully:

"Mr. Viti—My resolution is: Resolved, That after August 1, 1903, the schedule of points to regulate the values of winners classes be as follows: That at shows giving at least $2,500 the rating shall be two points. At shows giving at least $3,000 the rating shall be three points. At shows giving at least $4,000 the rating shall be four points. At shows giving at least $5,000 the rating shall be five points. That specialty clubs holding shows confined to their own breeds, the rating shall be four points. That upon the Pacific Coast one-half of the amount shall substitute the above amounts of money. That the opening of winners classes at all shows shall be a matter entirely within the discretion of the Bench Show Committee of said club, subject, of course, to the rules governing winners classes."

The proposer of this resolution gave the information that at their last shows the Westminster Kennel Club gave $8,400 in prize money; Ladies' Kennel Association, $9,000; Philadelphia, $5,640; Boston, $5,150; Atlantic City, $3,438; Buffalo, $2,180, and Chicago, $3,214, and Mr. Viti based his argument upon these figures. In looking through some of the premium lists, we have found but little difference in the foregoing figures. Providence, however, we made $2,414 and have since verified those figures, and Atlantic City we made $2,114, which is correct, as Mr. Viti added in the Spaniel Club show prize money.

Before going into the question as to how the resolution affects clubs not mentioned, let us tabulate the foregoing shows and see what the comparative result of the change will be:

	Prize Points	New money, sec'd. score.
Westminster K. C.	$8,400	5 5
Ladies' K. A.	9,000	4 5
Philadelphia D. S. A.	5,640	3 5
Boston	5,150	3 5
Atlantic City	2,114	3 1
Providence	2,310	3 1
Newark	2,396	3 1
Pittsburg	2,250	3 1
Buffalo	2,180	2 1
Chicago	3,214	3 3

Now mark carefully what the above demonstrates: Philadelphia, after three years' effort has never done better than just squeeze into the three points championship scoring class, although it has been worked as no other show ever has year after year. The owners will not support Philadelphia as they do New York shows, and the competition has been neither so large nor so severe. Failing thus to get out of the three point class, the new plan proposes to elevate the Philadelphia show to the five points class by an enactment which injures every other showing club in the country except Boston and the Ladies' Kennel Association. In order to get five points for Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Newark, Pittsburg, Providence and Buffalo each lose two points.

Are these clubs going to sit quietly down and submit to this? Not one of these was represented at the meeting.

Mr. Codman of the Rhode Island Kennel Club voted aye and chopped two points off his club's claim to three points, unless the club puts up an additional six hundred dollars for next year's show. Dr. H. T. Foote voted aye and deprived the Atlantic Kennel Club of the right to have winners classes because it is an under $2,000 show. Mr. Rodman voted aye and pinned the Chicago Kennel Club down to three points unless it gives eight hundred dollars more next year, which with one rainy day spells disaster. Mr. Keasbey, San Francisco Kennel Club, by his aye vote drove his club out of the American Kennel Club and thus turns the entire Pacific Coast over to the Pacific Coast League. In California some years ago the prize money was as low as five hundred dollars, but the clubs died under that, and it was wiped out by the present entry grading. Not a show on the Pacific Coast can afford to give $1,000 in prize money, and we prophesy there will not be a single A. K. C. championship point scored on the Pacific Coast as long as the present rule is in force.

Let us look a little further into the working of this new plan. A few prize lists remaining in the pigeon-holes of our desk give the following figures: Chatham, $888 prize money; Danbury, $2,354; Middletown, $800; Wakefield, $1,800; Denver, Rochester and New Orleans, ribbon shows; Uhrichsville, $1,167; Montreal, $475. Danbury was a two-point show, it is now a one-pointer, and not another show in the country will be able to give winners classes bar those named by Mr. Viti, and Danbury.

The shows that will suffer are as follows: Atlanta, Atlantic City, Aurora, Bar Harbor, Bay State, Binghamton, Buffalo, Champlain, Cleveland, Colorado, Columbus, Coshocton, Danbury, Pittsburg, Haverhill, Longansport, Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts, Long Island Kennel Club, Massachusetts, Mascoutah, Baltimore, Merrimac, Milwaukee, Montreal (this club must go back to the Canadian fold), New Jersey, Orange County, Providence, Rochester, San Francisco, New Orleans, Dallas, Sharon, Uhrichsville and Wissahickon Kennel Club. There are no less than thirty-four clubs, all of which will suffer by the new rule. At least twenty of them must retire from the American Kennel Club, as it is of no use to them whatever.

In the immortal words of the late Boss Tweed, "What are you going to do about it?" This to the members of the thirty-four clubs thus filched of their rights.

THE HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

In the same issue appears the following:

Galva, Ill.

Editor American Field: I am daily expecting a call for a meeting of the club I mentioned in your columns some time ago originated to hold a combination show at Peoria this fall. I am told that there is now over $2,000 in stock taken up, so we should be in line to start the ball rolling. We do not see any advantage of applying to the American Kennel Club for membership, as it is no benefit to small shows or small breeders.

I am heartily in favor of the idea of raising the standard of a champion, but think if I had an unlimited cash supply I could run an inferior dog to the coveted title in a short time. This reminds me forcibly of the change to ten points that was absolutely conceded by the A. K. C. to be the only system, while a great many breeders and the American Field contended that actual competition should regulate the points awarded, but some brilliant (?) fellow came to the front, saying these people writing their views to the American Field were not the Belmonts, Bloodgoods, Vitis et al. I cannot see that the American Kennel Club is trying to further the interests of the small clubs, of which we have not enough, and it remains to be seen if there now members will remain with that body. San Francisco was made an arbitrary value, because it ranks on the Pacific Coast as New York does for the Middle States and Atlantic Coast. For that reason, the San Francisco entry was not considered, but why did they stop there. Is not Chicago a criterion for the middle west, and are the fanciers in this district coming to the front.

In talking the matter over with a fancier friend of mine who is a prominent exhibitor and breeder, he suggested an idea that had not occurred to me. He thinks there is a day not far off when the west will formulate a club independent of the American Kennel Club, which will find means to affiliate with the Pacific Coast and Canada.

W. S. McClintock.

Field and Fancy and the American Stockkeeper have also cast doubt on the advisability of the recent decision.

The American Kennel Club has, in our opinion, made one of the biggest blunders of its life. We need the smaller shows; they are the life of the fancy in distant sections and in towns and cities where a large gate cannot be depended on to defray the expense entailed in offering large cash prizes. The Field puts the case plainly; it is autocratic in the extreme, and certainly un-American, to bring a radical change like this on without full discussion or prior notice, and can hardly fail to be inimical to New York's powerful organization. Mr. McClintock touches on a point that was broached not very long ago in the suggestion of an International Kennel Club, that would weld conflicting interests together. Who the promoters were or what they were doing we do not know, possibly waiting such contretemps as this.

CHAMPION PERFECTION.

The accompanying engraving is a picture of the red Cocker Spaniel dog, Ch. Perfection, A.K.C. 69546, C.K.C. 6865. This dog is owned by F. G. McIntosh, Franklin, Pa., who claims him to be the best red Cocker Spaniel dog in the United States or Canada. To defend his claim he furnishes a list of prizes won by this dog, being over thirty first and special prizes at all the largest shows, including Boston, New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Toronto, thus trying conclusions with the dogs in the East, the Middle West, the Pacific Coast and Canada. He also has a list of the dogs defeated by Ch. Perfection, which includes practically every dog of any prominence that has been on the bench in the last three years.

As a description of this dog we cannot do better than to reprint what appeared in one of the eastern kennel papers after the New York show in 1901, where he took 1st puppy, 1st limit, 1st open, 1st winners: "First, Perfection, grand head, beautifully set on ears, perfect muzzle, good neck and shoulders, good bone, straight front, grand ribs and loin, with a good stern and good Cocker action. He merits his name."

We could furnish other extracts from kennel papers, but it looks as if this one covered the ground pretty thoroughly.

This dog has only been standing at public stud for about six months, but in that time he has served upwards of twenty-five bitches, and has only missed on three of them, and two of these were sick at time of service. So his owner is certainly justified in calling him a sure stud dog. It is too early yet for any of his stock to be put on the bench, but it is safe to assume that they will be winners in hot company, judging by their appearance as young puppies.

May 21st, with Mr. Jno. G. Kent presiding. The meeting was called to discuss kennel matters in general, and our relations with the A. K. C. in particular.

The chairman, in his opening remarks, asserted emphatically that the C. K. C. could by no means be considered a local club; its membership extended from ocean to ocean.

Mr. Tallis spoke at some length on A. K. C. recognition, and asked for result of ballot, which was read by Mr. Donovan, together with the explanatory letter sent out therewith.

Mr. Vredenburg was present as a

Red Cocker dog, CHAMPION PERFECTION, C.K.C.S.B., No. 6865.
Owned by F. G. McIntosh, Franklin, Pa., U.S.A.

Mr. McIntosh has had several inquiries from our most prominent Canadian breeders in regard to using this dog, and he has decided to make a bid for Canadian patronage, as his announcement on another page will show. He has a proposition to make to Canadian breeders, and we feel sure it will pay every breeder in Canada to send for stud cards, and at least consider the use of this dog on some of their bitches.

THE MEETING AT MONTREAL.

An open meeting under the auspices of the C. K. C., was held in Montreal on guest, and reported unofficially on a direct question being put to him, the result of meeting held in New York on May 19th. Mr. Vredenburg stated that he was not present in any official capacity, but out of good-will to the M. C. A., and desired to congratulate them on the holding of a representative and paying show. While the A. K. C. has the kindest feeling for the C. K. C., it could only receive it as any other club. Mr. Vredenburg spoke at some length on this topic, but, as he said, "not for publication."

Mr. Douglas Ogilvie could not express officially the opinion of the M. C. A., as no meeting had been held. Personally, he had the success of their show in view.

The Chairman—This would mean our relinquishing all we have struggled for. We are growing stronger each day; our membership has increased 300 per cent. in about five years. I don't think Mr. Vredenburg is correct in placing the C. K. C. on a parity with any individual club in the United States. If held under C. K. C. rules, the present show would have had a larger entry.

Mr. Jas. Lindsay and Dr. W. H. Drummond endorsed the chairman's remarks.

Mr. Ogilvie voiced the entire willingness of the M. C. A. to do anything in its power in the effort to bring the two clubs in closer touch. We want reciprocity—or recognition, and it is essentially necessary that we obtain it.

It was the unanimous feeling of the meeting that the relinquishing of the C. K. C. Stud Book was not necessarily a bar to closer relations. After further desultory discussion, meeting adjourned.

FROM THE SAGE OF SHERBROOKE.

Looking back over last month's doings in the kennel world, Montreal Dog Show stands prominently first in our memory, and we must congratulate the M. C. A. on their splendid success. We do not, however, believe that this show was better supported by being an A. K. C. one, but success is due to the determined efforts of the Show Committee, leaving nothing undone that might tend to improvement on previous occasions, and the many enthusiastic dog fanciers in Montreal, men like Messrs. F. and A. Stuart, who have stood by the St. Bernard regardless of expense and occasional heavy loss, and how many we could name who have held to their favorite breeds through good times and evil. Such men can make up a show at any place.

There is much to be learned from Montreal, and it is proved that a successful show can be held without large money prizes. The true dog fancier prefers glory more than dollars and cents, and a good list of specials goes a long way to draw entries.

We will leave to some one more able to touch on the benefit derived from meeting enthusiastic fanciers, how we can measure our progress, study type, find fault and feel new encouragement to breed winners.

We had the pleasure of meeting for the first time Messrs. John G. Kent and H. B. Donovan, the president and secretary of our C. K. C. We believe it would greatly benefit the C. K. C. if these gentlemen could attend more of our shows. They are sure to make many friends, and thereby members and supporters of the club.

We beg to assure them of a hearty welcome at Sherbrooke Show.

Owing to pressure of private business we have done nothing in the E. T. Kennel Club, and are unable to give names of judges at Sherbrooke, first week in September, but will publish in the daily press as soon as arranged. We realize that we must get the best judges obtainable, and trust that we may have many of the friends we met in Montreal at our show. Do not forget that this is a new enterprise, and that we have worked hard for its success, and shall continue so a little longer. We are looking for a good entry both in quality and quantity.

Yours truly,

E. Bjorkeland.

THE FYLDE FOX TERRIER CLUB'S SHOW.

"Our Dogs" says of the Fylde Fox Terrier Club's Show, where Mr. Carnochan, of New York, judged the Smooths:

Unusual interest centred in the fifteenth show of the Fylde Fox Terrier Club, held in the Winter Gardens, Blackpool, on Wednesday and Thursday last, and quite an unusual flutter of excitement was observable amongst the large number of breeders and exhibitors who, whether represented by dogs or not, attended the show.

Everybody was eager to see how Mr. G. M. Carnochan, of New York, the famous American Fox Terrier breeder—and, we believe, the first American who has ever judged Fox Terriers at an important show in this country—would acquit himself in the Smooth ring. He certainly started in somewhat sensational style by turning some good smooth dogs out of the open class without a card, Champion Leander amongst them, which, upon the face of it, seeing that he is a champion and an admittedly high-class dog to boot, must be regarded as an error of judgment. Mr. Carnochan, however, soon settled down, and judged the succeeding classes much better, furnishing one or two surprises, no doubt, but still making no very glaring mistakes, and upon the conclusion of his task he was heartily congratulated all round, both by winners and losers alike. We trust this will not be the last time one of our American cousins will come amongst us to give us the benefit of an unbiased opinion, which, although it may not always be in direct accord with our own, is ever welcome to the true sportsmen which are to be found in our little island.

The entry was 426, singularly enough only one short of last year's total, comprising 83 Smooths and 70 Wire Hairs, most of the best known kennels in the country being represented.

The championships went to Dukedom (Smooth dog), Sandown Violet (Smooth bitch), the latter grand bitch, who never was in such form, also winning the Fox Terrier Club's 50-guinea cup for the best Smooth of either sex.

Raby Coastguard, who has not been out much since he was claimed for £150, annexed the wire-haired dog championship for Mr. G. Raper, the same owner's beautiful bitch, Hallgarth Vilda, annexing the corresponding honor in bitches and taking the 50-guinea cup for the best Wire Haired Terrier in the show.

One of the most successful debutantes was Mr. J. A. Doyle's Retail, who went clean through all the classes he was entered in, and, although many thought him lucky, we think the judge's estimate of him was not very far off the mark. Mr. Sidney Castle's Lustre also did well, but Mrs. Bennett Edward's kennel was not in a winning vein at all, and was at times distinctly unfortunate. Holmbury Royal (late Blue Prince), and a very smart Terrier indeed, also did well for his new owners, Messrs. J. H. and P. H. Wright.

Mr. McNeill judged the Wire Hairs most carefully, and there were few—very few—who cavilled at his awards. This section was, however, not so strong from a quality point of view as the Smooths, and the winners in many cases stood well out.

The show was attended by a large number of ladies, amongst them being Her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, Miss Armitage, Mrs. Bennett Edwards and several others. The gentlemen, of course, don't count, but nearly all the well-known breeders attended; in fact, it would be much more difficult to say who was not there than who were.

The management was absolutely faultless, the details having been most carefully worked out by the well-known secretary, Mr. Arnold Gillett.

THE ARRIVAL OF A BRACE OF TYPICAL IRISHMEN AT THE COAST—THE RESULT OF A VISIT TO ENGLAND.

Your communications found on desk upon my return to business a few days ago. I have been absent in England for the past twelve months, arriving here last Saturday week.

Whilst over there you may be sure I was in close touch with most things "doggy;" visited the big shows; met a number of well-known dog men, and looked up most of the Irish Terrier kennels, seeing at leisure the champions "at home" in their more or less "natural" state. I purchased and safely landed here two Irish Terriers, dog and bitch, which I consider as fine specimens of the modern type as is possible to get. Being right on the ground, I made the most of the opportunity to pick up something very choice; but it was astonishing how difficult a matter it proved to be, in a country where dogs are so common. The fact is everybody knows the value of good stock and "holds on to" anything laying claim to show points. I found that in England, where prize money and shows are so plentiful, prize-winning stock is a valuable commodity, and is rated at high valuation. Second rate stock is easy to get, but naturally it doesn't pay to bring anything but positively A1 dogs to this country, incurring such risks, expense and worry.

I had various hitches and small troubles on the way over, on steamer and train, and it was with a sigh of relief when Tacoma came in view and the dogs safe at home. I feel they should do some good out here, and especially have some influence on the Coast breed, as without doubt they can do credit to any dog centre on earth.

The bitch, Brinscall Doreen, is of the Sternfield Vic champion strain, and her mother at six weeks old coming direct from the late Wm. Graham's kennel. B. Doreen possesses a most phenomenal head, long and flat, with the true Irish square foreface, a grand coated animal, all perfect fibre. A bitch with a better foreface it is hard to find, something I failed to see all the time I was in England. Power of jaw is a quality so often lacking in the breed, and so seldom seen at all in the bitches, which is so very necessary to convey a true Irish expression.

The dog, Bolton Woods Despot, a trifle over nine months, I purchased from Mr. Samuel Wilson, of Bolton Woods Mixer fame (the phenomenal winner of over 2,000 firsts and specials). B. W. Despot is a son of the famous B. W. Bandit, and grandson of B. W. Mixer. He owns for dam Saskatchewan, the bitch that bred Bolton Woods Mixer, thus being inbred to Saskatchewan. Hence for point of breeding it is hard to find the equal of this young dog, B. W. Despot. He himself fully bears out his grand strain, is a worthy descendant, possessing a well-knit, racy body, free, easy movement, upstanding, true-fronted dog, a true-fibred coat, with remarkably long, flat, chiselled skull, and the smallest and blackest of eyes—a modern type Irishman.

There are numbers of old style stud dogs still in use in England, but an inquiry as to their birth date is sufficient to tell one their chief characteristics. The present aim is to breed the racy, wiry, cobby type.

Would say in passing that my visit to the noted Bolton Woods Kennels, in Yorkshire, was of especial interest, as I had the privilege of viewing at my leisure that grand old warrior, B. W. Mixer, who, despite his age, only last year saw his retirement from the show bench, on which occasion he was awarded, in addition to his class prizes, the special for best dog in show. He was looking seemingly as fit as ever, and barring accidents has still years of service ahead of him.

It is needless to say that aside from the fascinations of dogdom, my trip was replete with many other pleasant features. After an absence of thirteen years the visit to boyhood scenes, the glimpses of old-time landmarks, the renewing of old ties and associations combine intense interest. The days were far too short when it came to that part of my trip—hunting up scattered relatives and friends—to come in touch with old haunts, to rub again old familiar corners, places permeating with memories of that impressionable period of youth, to gossip and chat, to hear and to tell, to compare and to note, and see the changes, and seemingly the little change, of thirteen years. The severing of youthful links, the many knocks and stumbles in the swirl and rush of a new life "out west" is perhaps after all just a bit balanced by such a visit—one is somewhat repaid for such. England impresses one. Noticeably it has changed considerably; the constant influx of the American tourist is accounting for much in such changes. They are still slow in many ways, but they are waking up. The old cities have long rebelled against topsy-turvydom, but are at last about to succumb to many modern institutions. From a holiday view England is charming, and its ancient, historical and legendary countryside will always be a fascinating feature. Many little irritations, however, meet a business man there, used to this country's ways. Yours very truly,

Wm. Ollard.

Tacoma, Wash., May 8, 1903.

P.S.—During my absence I was notified of the loss of a favorite Irish Terrier bitch, Puget Prude, but afterwards received a cablegram, stating she was found. Imagine my surprise and feelings on landing home in Tacoma to hear she had been burned up in a large fire only a week previous. I thought a great deal of her, being an excellent brood bitch, and only equalled in style and type by the bitch just landed, and of course I had anticipated all kinds of good results from her and the young Bolton Woods Despot. She was registered in C. K. Gazette, and had done some little winning on the Coast here.

Wm. Ollard.

The relief ship sent out by the British National Antarctic Expedition returned to New Zealand after visiting expedition. The expedition appears to have undergone many privations owing to food having gone wrong, and especially as they lost all their dogs from this cause. They appear to have depended largely on tinned fish prepared somewhere in northeastern Europe, and to have taken only a comparatively small quantity of dog cakes. Previous expeditions have almost invariably taken large quantities of Spratts dog cakes, as in the case of the recent Ziegler Expedition just supplied by this firm. Expeditions thus fitted out have never had any trouble, and we understand that they have especially depended on Spratts Cod Liver Oil cakes.

MONTREAL SHOW.

The Montreal Canine Association once again scored at its fourth annual show, a most pronounced success in number of entries, quality of dogs present, and in that vital point—management.

The entry, including local classes, which were made a feature, was over 1,300, the number of dogs 550, but there were more than the usual number of absentees.

The show was again held in the Arena, the locale of last year's success, and there is certainly no better building in Canada for a dog show. The weather was summerlike, in fact quite sultry at some hours, and while there was not the crush that happened on one or two evenings last year, there was an excellent attendance at the advanced admittance fee of 50c, so that the treasurer's coffers had to suffer enlargement. We believe the association came out well ahead financially.

The show was held under A. K. C. rules, but we honestly failed to see where it brought additional entries, we presume the point aimed at. But enough of this; the show was a success, and could hardly fail to be so under the able management of a hardworking committee, at whose head was Mr. Douglas Ogilvie, literally and metaphorically a host in himself. Visitors carried away pleasant remembrances of his hospitality.

The officials of the show were: Superintendent, N. C. Ogilvie, who won out; Veterinarians, Dr. O. Bruneau, V.S., Dr. A. Lesperance, V.S.; Dog Show Committee, Jas. Ainslie, A. F. Brittain, S. Brécher, Arthur F. Gault, W. Henry, Jos. A. Laurin, D. W. Ogilvie, N. C. Ogilvie, J. A. Pitt, Jos. Reid, D. Robertson, F. Stuart, W. H. Tallis, H. L. Thomas, H. M. Walters, and secretary, J. R. Innes, who improves on his own record.

Auchairnie Smith was here, there and everywhere, and Mr. Taylor, though not on the list, did good service.

The judges were: Mrs. John A. Pitt, of Montreal, all Toys except Pugs; Mr. J. J. Lynn, of Port Huron, Mich., Fox Terriers and Boston Terriers; Mr. Geo.

Douglas, of Woodstock, Ont., Cocker Spaniels and Field Spaniels, and Mr. F. Freeman Lloyd, of New York, all other breeds.

Judging began promptly. Mr. Lloyd taking the big dogs and Mr. Lynn Fox Terriers. Mr. Lynn finished his classes—Bostons, early the following morning which let Mr. Douglas in the same day for Spaniels. Mr. Lloyd, who had a big task, and who does not work by electric power, did not finish his regular classes until after midnight of the second day, and Mrs. Pitt's task was an easy one. We certainly want a greater interest taken in Toys in Canada. A marked catalogue was issued on Thursday, of which copies may be had from Mr. David Taylor, Herald, Montreal.

There can be no gainsaying the fact that the multiplicity of local classes greatly adds to the judges' labors, especially when, as was the case here, Mr. Lloyd insisted in having all the dogs in again, we thought an unnecessary task, as with possibly one or two exceptions in each class, he had passed on them before. The specials were numerous and valuable.

Ivanhoe was the best of the St. Bernard puppies, a dog by the defunct Sir Hereward, a big youngster, with nice type of head and grand legs. Bayview Col. Steele should have won, if quality and not quantity counted. The Colonel yet wants more flesh. Alpine Abbess we preferred to Daisy, though here again quantity counted.

Newfoundlands made rather a good group, Black Boy the most typical.

The Danes were poor, not one amongst them good in head.

Kubelik, the Terra Cotta Kennel's Russian Wolfhound, in greatly improved coat and condition, was easily the best of a large and good entry of this handsome breed. The puppies were a very decent lot, and Strogoff and St. Ivans are both good dogs, the latter with perhaps a bit more quality. Kyula, though aged, retains in great part her charm of head and formation, and these points put her over the younger and more active Clonmel Glover. King Kita (peculiar name for a bitch?) was absent.

The one Deerhound was placed second in two classes. She wants size, but shows quality.

Defender we made the best Greyhound, though Grip beat him. The latter not so good in head and shoulders.

Foxhounds were a strong group, and several that we have oftentimes described were present. Plaintiff is a grand hound, good head, legs, feet and body, tail carried a bit high. Hector and Satellite are both good ones, well known. The bitches rather a nice lot, but not up to the dog classes.

The American Hounds were as usual rather mixed, and the difference between them and their transatlantic cousins is not increasing. If we are not mistaken, Jimerack used to be Hanks Jimerack, and considered to be our best specimen, though he is now getting up in years.

Mrs. Walters was prominent in the Pointer ring, where her Lord Bang won out. He is good in feet and legs, but rather plain-headed. Canadian Dexter, well-known, fairly beats him in this point and also in front. The first and second bitches are both smart ones, Rothwell Stout being the better head and bone.

There were several good average specimens in English Setters. We liked Alberts' Rumney Ranger for his beautiful Setter quality, his head and coat. He is very short in leg, which greatly detracts from his other good qualities. Max F. is plain in head, but of good size and a nice mover. H. C. did not fairly represent Alberts' Fleet position in this class. The good-bodied Clip was lucky in beating Royal Belle, whose cleaner head and good formation might have placed her in front.

Irish Setters made one of the most attractive classes in the whole show, and had some sixty entries. The judging here did not meet with the approval of exhibitors, and there were some cases in which the judges' awards were certainly opposed to what we have learnt to look for as type in the Irish Setter. The puppies were good, but Trailer, the novice winner, is so bad in legs and feet, actually unsound, that near the bottom was his proper place, and not at the top. Shamrock Bobs might have won, with St. Olave second. St. Elvan was placed at the front in the limit, open and winners, with Royal Grand, a bit throaty, behind him. Grand is the better mover, but has not the clear-cut head of St. Elvan. The best of the bitches were the well known St. Lambert Kathleen and St. Lambert Mollie and the puppy winner, Radiant Star, that should develop into a grand one.

Shown only twice, winning four firsts, defeating everything at W.K.C., Madison Square Garden, Feb. 19-22, 1902, and at Newark, N.J., a week later.

Mr. Lloyd was liberal in giving the one poor Gordon a first.

We have not seen as good a lot of Irish Water Spaniels before, not a poor one in the lot. Brian Boru, who won out, is a big, powerful dog, good bone and coat, but is too short in front of the eye and not right in head. Pat II., Con the Shaughraun and Micky O'Camp are all grand dogs, especially Pat, who might have won. In conformation and especially head he is well in front.

There were no Clumbers, and the Field Spaniels were a nondescript lot, Mr. Douglas withholding everything except thirds to a black dog too high up and not long enough in Bobs.

Cockers turned out in numbers, but the average was not good. Such dogs as Romany Rye, Braeside Blue Jacket, Ottawa Chief, Sir Walter Scott, Mr. Armstrong's brace and one or two others were high class, but taken as a whole there was a great divergence of type. Duke was placed at first, but was afterwards weighed and found to scale 27 1/4 lbs., which put him out of the running. St. Elmo, whose front is bad, is a long way behind Duke in this point. Red Sammie, the puppy winner, is a fair little dog. Ottawa Chief is a tricolor, a taking little dog, a bit light, that won well. Knoydart Tan is well known. Braeside Blue Jacket was put under Romany Rye and Sir Walter Scott, good in body, but gay in tail carriage. Girlie, the winner in bitch puppies, went through to winners. She is a sound black by Knoydart Robin Hood, carries a nice head, plenty of bone, nice body that is a trifle long. Black Dolores might have gone a peg or two higher without injustice. It looked funny to see that good old bitch, Ottawa Nellie, in the novice class. She shows her age, her white hairs are increasing, but she is the type. She was reserve in winners to the good-headed Nell Gwynne. Queen of the Snows, Prudence and Knoydart Blue Girl are all nice bitches.

Collies were an immense entry, about two hundred and thirty, including locals, and there was a lot of good stuff, too. Mr. Lloyd did not turn out many that might have gone quickly in the large classes, and so must have found some difficulty in comparing the merits of the many good ones. Bobs Perfection won with some ease. We have noticed him before, a smallish dog, with a good head and ear, and plenty of coat. Chiltern Ronald's head is none too good, and for this reason the third puppy might have been placed over him. In the following classes Mr. Cromwell Cox had his innings, taking both winners, the team prize and special for most representative specimen of a Collie, the latter with Balmoral Piccolo, whose beautiful coat and head took the judge's favor. This victory would bring a ray of relief to a good fancier who at the time was on his back in bed, the result of an accident that has confined him to his room for months. Farmer's Boy has gone a bit thick, but is a slashing big dog, whose coat, legs and feet leave little to be desired. Prince Rightaway, another big one, refused to get his ears up. Coila Joek, a good-bodied dog, might have done better. Limit class was Balmoral Piccolo with Balmoral Hope following, the lightly built Proclamation third, Farmer's Boy reserve. Same order in open with Mr. Cox's two taking both first and reserve in winners. Balmoral Duchess was our choice for best Collie, a grand bitch. First and winners puppies are both a taking sort. A lot of good bitches followed, and the local classes kept the judge going for some time. Two or three of the "Coilas" were above the rest in size and type.

The Bulldog entry showed an excellent increase over that of last year, due in great part to the efforts of the Bulldog Club of Canada, whose officers are mainly in the east. It looks as though Montreal would become the Bulldog centre of the Dominion. Mr. Thomas' Duke of Wellington has developed into a bigger and sturdier dog than ever his admirers anticipated, but is quite long enough in face, where Rodney Dauphin beats him. The Terror's good head does not serve to overbalance his rather plain body. Rose of Glenworth is quite a nice bitch, and won with some ease in puppy class. Another of Mr. Thomas' nominees, Oceana of Glenwith, won in the remaining classes clean through to winners, though she is none too sound in pasterns she won fairly. Hucknall Belle, well known, took reserve to Oceana. Lady Constance, with her good head and body and "type," was rather unfortunate.

There was a considerable mix-up in Bull Terriers, and as we did not see them in, we clip the following from Stockkeeper's report: Bull Terriers are always exciting in Canada, and this section is the home of one of the most successful breeders, of whose stock, however, we were sorry not to see more. A particularly neat puppy Ajax, scored well in its class, one of the best topped ones seen for a long time, and very good in head and tail. In novices Lord Strathcona won; he is undershot, but holds his good form; in the novice class Ajax was v.h.c. to Ringwood Director, whom he had beaten in the puppy class just before; in limit, however, came a further mix-up in placing Director second and Ajax, v.h.c., after E. Guardsman. In open, the winner proved to be the old Champion Faultless, who was looking just about as good as ever, except, of course, has has fallen in some with age. It was in the lightweight class that the funniest complication arose. Here Ring Director, who was second in the puppy class, was put at the head of affairs, notwithstanding he was palpably overweight, and that good little dog King Ed. came second, though he beats the winner in skull, eye and body; E. Steady, that had been placed third over the puppy winner, who again could do no better than v.h.c. Director was afterwards disqualified for overweight, and King Ed. moved up. By the way, we note that the patriotic compiler of the catalogue would not countenance any such familiarity as "King Ed." and therefore dubbed him King Edward! In the ladies division the judge quickly got on to E. Marguerite of Navarre's merits and put her all through to winners, beating eventually the good bitch Lady Fleetwood. Ottawa Bidy is rather pinched in muzzle, but is well built in other respects. Snip is a little long cast, but has a very fair head. In heavy open, Lady Fleetwood scored second to Marguerite, the latter being transferred from the lightweight class; our reasons for a difference of opinion were given last week; Imp, that was also reviewed at that time, was third. In the under 30 pounds classes the smart bitch Dame Fortune won easily, but Ottawa Bidy, that had won two seconds, went to h.c. in this class, but this must have been a mistake.

Bostons made rather a nice little lot for Canada, with the winners well ahead.

We should have liked a bigger entry in Airedales in this the Canadian headquarters of the breed. Colne Climax is a big dog, well set up, whose color is not faultless. Bonzer was missed in novice, a nice type, but was second to Colne Lucky Baldwin in limit. Baldwin is doubtless a grand Airedale, a big, strong dog, with plenty of substance, good head, a bit straight behind; could have been shown a bit "cleaner" in neck. The bitches a nice lot: Mr. Laurin's brace in good form. Sandown Delph Girl, rather a different type, and one we like, very much of a Terrier, and put down in faultless shape.

Mr. Carnochan's entries in Fox Terriers were all absent, and as a whole there was not the quality in smooths that we saw last year. The wires made the larger entry, rather a reversal of things. Norfolk, of course, was invincible in smooths, with their grand team, consisting of N. All Blue, N. Parader, N. Saddleback, N. Maple Leaf, N. Old Gold and N. True Blue. All Blue is a grand type of Terrier, long head, neat ear, short back and true front. He won with ease in winners, where reserve went to N. Parader, beating Vexation Knight Marshall in eye and ear. In bitches it was Norfolk again, with the invincible N. True Blue in front, followed by N. Old Gold, a smallish one, but all Terrier. Aldon Master's good head carried him to the front in wire puppies, and we thought him quite good enough to beat Dandy Macdonald, who is just a bit skully, still a dog with a long punishing jaw. The veteran Long Face was behind these two. The bitches present were just a fair lot outside Fiancée and Norfolk Peerless, the former with nice head, coat and front. The latter now well known.

There was much quality present in the nice entry of Irish Terriers that faced Mr. Lloyd. The Rev. Father O'Gorman did a lot of winning with the "gentlemen," his Blarney Wonder winning in puppies, a good all round Terrier. He also won in novice class, Patrick second, a better fronted one. Bullet Proof won in open limit; the rest of the class repeats and Ch. Celtic Badger in grand fit and looking better than a Buffalo, at the front in open and winners. Suffolk Bill was hardly treated here, a good coated, sturdy dog. Kinkora Kate and Raynham Olivet were the best of the bitches. We thought Kate's grand Terrier character, good long body, where the other fails, and bone were quite sufficient to put her rather easily in front. There was nothing new in Scotties of any account; really old Wishaw General shows more character than any other present. The Skyes were a grand lot, though Mr. Caverhill got well beaten by a grand one of his own breeding in the hands of a lady, Miss R. A. Cox.

The Black and Tans have been better. Wellesbourne, in grand fit, won out, Dandy, a bit weak in color, reserve. The bitches were better, where the little one, Topsy, full of character, and who has nothing but her size against her, was beaten in novice by Beauty, whose head and shoulders won't do. Lady Faultless, a grand bitch all over, was, in next class, put over Parliament Dime, hardly put down in her usual shape, and kept this position to the end, with P. Dime reserve.

Mrs. Pitt's classes did not fill well, and there were several absentees. We do want more interest taken in Toys in Canada. Mr. Ogilvie had easily the best Jap. and there were three good Yorkshires. Pugs had rather a revival, of which old Otterburn Treasure was best.

Beagles had the Round Plain Kennels present, whose team can win with ease from the others present.

Mrs. McGaughey showed an unusually good Dalmation, a well-marked, clear-colored dog of nice formation.
