NOTES AND COMMENTS

W. C. K. C.: Some of those Western Clubs, including that wide-awake Winnipeg organizations can give the eastern organizations points on keeping their names and doings before the public. Frequent reports and full reports give interest and zest to the game. Where are Kingston, Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Montreal, all big doggy centres, or used to be so? Have they dropped out entirely? In the west the fancy grows apace, the love for dogs is ever on the increase. A healthy rivalry between east and west wouldn't prove at all harmful.

Reciprocity: It is in the air, and though we don't favor the kind talked of we do favor an interchange of judges east and west. There are many good men in the west that might be invited to take part in our eastern shows. The trend shouldn't be, and won't be, always westward.

* * *

Winnipeg: Dr. A. W. Bell is in Toronto this month. Winnipeg Dog Show bigger and better than ever next July. The judge question is one that is not the least puzzling for him and his associates on the dog show committee.

Pure hard luck: That the path of the Bulldog breeder is not one paved with roses has become a proverb. Some months ago we noted the loss of Mr. H. St. Lawrence, Winnipeg, in importing a Bull bitch from England. He tries again and a repetition has occurred. But he tells the tale so well we repeat his own words.

"I am sorry to say have just had a wire to say the brindle Bull bitch Lace Duchess died at Montreal while en route to Winnipeg. I seem to be having bad luck with my dogs all round. This makes the second I have lost within a few months. Lace Duchess was a litter sister to the famous Cymric Albert, and was bred by Captain Hinds Howell. She had the reputation of being dam to some real good ones, and could trouble the very best of them when on the show bench, her last wins being two firsts, Nottingham, under T. A. Stephenson. If you remember, I wrote you about the other misfortune I had. I did manage to get Linden Molly to the depot here, only to lose her the next day. She landed in Winnipeg on Sunday, June 26, and owing to her pedigree not having arrived, I was refused possession of her. On presenting myself on the Monday morning was again refused. During this time, a matter of nearly 24 hours, she was tied to a post in the baggage room, and with the mercury registering nearly 100 in the shade, you can easily imagine the condition a heavyweight Bull bitch would get in. On going to the Customs in the afternoon with the pedigree, I was informed she was dead. How she died or when she died I have been unable to ascertain from that day to this.

Linden Molly was a winner in England of over one hundred firsts and over three hundred prizes altogether, with more cups and jewellery than would fill an ordinary dining table. Both bitches had a splendid reputation for being good doers and reliable mothers, and I cannot express the disappointment I feel at losing them. I have been unable to get any information at all from the Dominion Express other than they received a wire from Montreal to say she was dead. She came over on the S. S. Corsican, and landed in Halifax on Saturday, the 28th, and it was not until Thursday evening, February 2nd, we were informed she was dead. What they had been doing with her to take six days in going from Halifax to Montreal goodness only knows. Henry St. Lawrence."

J. J. Biggs dead: We were pained to learn a few days ago of the death of a very old friend of ours, Mr. J. J. Biggs, of London, Ont. Death was caused by cancer, that insidious, incurable disease.

The late Mr. Biggs was one of those quiet, unassuming fellows that know more of dogs than they are given credit for. He was an old breeder of the Fox Terrier and generally had a few very fair specimens of this breed about him. An all-round fancier, we had many a pleasant chat with him on various fancy matters. His relatives and friends have our entire sympathy.

Whipping: The Canadian Kennel Club has formally pronounced in favor of the sport of Whipping. More, it has appointed a strong committee to report on details of management, and to take up the question of ways and means in the event of the C. K. C. deciding to take the sport under its paternal wing.

Personally, we approach the subject with an open mind. If control by Canada's national organization will uplift a reputable, legitimate sport, we can see no valid reason why the C. K. C. should not sponsor it. If, on the other hand, its good reputation is liable to be sullied by contact with what in other countries bears the mark of the beast, then we want none of it.

We hope the committee, which consists of representative men, some of our best fanciers, whose probity cannot be questioned, will weigh the matter carefully and without prejudice one way or the other. On their report will doubtless depend the future of Whippet racing in Canada, or at any rate in very great part.

 " $100 for bitten nose": Under this heading the Montreal Gazette of Jan. 18th, 1911, reports a case that came before Judge Girard. A rather curious feature of the case is the plaintiff's reservation to sue for further damages if his injuries should result more seriously. The report reads as follows:

Because a Collie dog had bitten him in the nose, causing grievous damages to that organ, John Kelly yesterday entered suit against Edward Thompson for $100 damages, reserving the right to claim more if his injuries should result more seriously.

The plaintiff claimed that he was a peaceable citizen, and as such on January 10th, was walking along the street when a Collie dog belonging to the defendant seized him by the face and chewed his nose cruelly, causing such grievous wounds that Kelly had to get hospital repairs.

It was further claimed by the plaintiff that the dog's attack upon his nose was quite unprovoked, and that the dog in question was a vicious animal which ought to be destroyed. Also that the defendant knew the dog was vicious, and it was due to his neglect that the assault occurred.

Through Mr. L. G. A. Cresse, K.C., the plaintiff yesterday made application for permission to sue for the $100 in forma pauperis, which was granted by Judge Girard.

 Guelph Club: Mr. F. E. Smith, Secretary of the Royal City Kennel Club is busy in his efforts to arouse his club to the standing and dignity of a C. K. C. show. As Guelph is out of the novice class as far as shows are concerned, this shouldn't be hard to do.

They have a balance on hand of a little over $100, which is in Treasurer Roswell Goldie's safe-keeping. They have had several local shows which met with much success, and it is Mr. Smith's great desire to have a show under C. K. C. rules. For a town the size of Guelph they have many dog fanciers, and if his duties as shoe traveller did not necessitate his being away from town so much he could help matters along faster. He will be an exhibitor at the Good Friday spring show in Toronto.

O. K. C. show: By the way, mention of Good Friday show reminds us that since writing report of O. K. C. matters that Club has satisfied all claims and there is nothing to prevent the club giving the most successful show of its career. We heartily wish it may prove so.

***
 Winnipeg Show: Mr. Frank Dole will find an interesting collection of dogs before him at the Western Canada Kennel Club show this week. The total number of dogs is four hundred and fifty, Pointers heading the list with 34. Then follow Bulldogs, 32; Collies, 33; Cocker Spaniels, 16; Irish Water Spaniels, 17 (what an unusually large entry); Setters, 22; Bostons, 17; Poms, 14; Whippets, 10; St. Bernards, 13; Bull Terriers, Mr. Dole's specialty, have 21; Great Danes, 7; Airedale Terriers, 23; Irish Terriers, 12; Borzois, 10; Greyhounds, 8; smooth Fox Terriers, 26; Wires, 5. All other breeds are well represented. The number of entries is well over the thousand mark. This is going some. Mr. Meadows, Toronto, took up a big string of different breeds.

 Canadians at New York: New York Show is on this week too. Canada is unusually well represented by the following breeders:

Mrs. G. G. Anderson, Toronto, 2 pugs; T. A. Armstrong, Ottawa, 3 Cocker Spaniels; Calmo Cocker Kennels, Toronto, 2 Cocker Spaniels; J. R. Constantineau, Montreal, 2 Dalmatians, Wm. J. Cundell, Winnipeg, 1 Great Dane; F. E. Curtis, Simcoe, 1 Cocker Spaniel; J. E. Dickert, Toronto, 1 Toy Black and Tan Terrier; Mrs. J. E. Dickert, Toronto, Italian Greyhound; Geo. Douglas, Woodstock, 4 Cocker Spaniels; W. P. Fraser, Toronto, 1 smooth Fox Terrier; J. C. Hanna, Montreal, 2 Irish Setters; J. H. Kenyon, Toronto, 2 Yorkshire Terriers; Jos. A. Laurin, Montreal, 1 Airedale Terrier; Mrs. J. Laurin, Montreal, 1 Scottish Terrier; Jos. Lemon, Winnipeg, 1 English Setter; J. J. Lyndon, Toronto, 1 Manchester Terrier; Mrs. P. F. Mathias, Montreal, 1 Russian Wolfhound; John Miles, Toronto, 5 Bull Terriers; J. Moran, Toronto, 1 Whippet; Dr. J. A. Campbell, Toronto, 2 Beagles; H. E. Page, Toronto, 1 Bull Terrier; F. & A. Stuart, Montreal, 2 St. Bernards; Trautman & Picard, Fort William, 1 Fox Terrier.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Just a few lines from this side of the line.

Seattle Kennel Club will hold a meeting on the 10th of this month for election of officers, and to make arrangements for holding their annual show.

I am glad to see by your paper that the fanciers around Victoria and Vancouver are getting such good stock ready for the spring circuit of shows.

The fanciers around here are making preparations. R. M. Palmer, of Airedale Terrier fame, thinks he has some flyers in his young stock. We will miss our friend, Mr. Guggenheim, for M. Robert has gone to New York City for good, so it is reported.

We may expect some keen competition in the Collie classes this spring, as I hear of some good ones being around. The most prominent breeder here is a Mrs. A. Stinson, a lady who has been in the game for some years, but who has been rather unsuccessful in the show ring. She is reported to have some young stock this season that is so fine that it will take something of some class to beat.

Mrs. Stinson breeds all the dogs she shows. We all know it is easier to buy good dogs than to breed them, but when she gets beaten in the show, she doesn't go home to her husband, crying that she did not get justice, and try to raise up strife. She looks around and when she hears of or sees a good stud dog she breeds to him at the first opportunity. She was one of the few who took advantage of using the writer's stud dog, Seedley Chief, as soon as he arrived on this side.

Mr. O. Murphy has been rather unlucky this winter with his young stock, but he will be heard from later in the season.

In English Setters Messrs. Hubbard and Brown and Mrs. Connors, of Tacoma, will be ready to give an account of themselves.

I hope some of your Eastern fanciers of Bedlington Terriers will send some of their dogs to the coast. We have none here except what Mr. Redelsheimer has in his kennels. Mr. Redelsheimer would like to get into competition with some of the Eastern cracks. He is very much taken up with the breed.

If the Bedlington were properly represented, and a few were sent around the circuit this spring, there might be someone who would take a fancy to them and take up the breed.

Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Yours of Jan. 21st, with cheque No. 1, dated January 23rd, for twenty-five dollars ($25) received. Of course you are aware that the officers of the Ontario Kennel Club are under suspension and the only thing I can do is to acknowledge your letter and lay it before the executive of the Canadian Kennel Club which I shall be glad to do. Yours truly,

H. B. Donovan,

Sec'y-Treas.

Toronto, Jan. 19th, 1911.

H. B. Donovan, Esq.,

Sec'y Canadian Kennel Club.

Dear Sir,—At the last regular meeting of the Ontario Kennel Club we appointed the following committee to wait on the officers and members of Canadian Kennel Club at their next meeting in reference to complaint made by Mrs. Meadows re Griffin Cup, and also of Mr. Chas. Mewburn re Oxford Cup and also suspension of O. K. C. officers. Kindly advise me of date of meeting. Yours very truly,

Sec'y O. K. C.

Committee:

Mr. Donald Wheeler.

Mr. Jno. Miles.

Mr. Jas. Scott.

Toronto, Jan. 23rd, 1911.

(Registered.)

Mr. W. Bowsfield,

Sec'y Ontario Kennel Club,

Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Replying to yours of Jan. 19th, I have pleasure in advising you that the next meeting of the Executive of the Canadian Kennel Club will be held in the Queen's Hotel here on Friday, February 3rd, 1911, when I am sure the members will be glad to see the delegation that you refer to. Yours truly,

H. B. Donovan,

Sec'y-Treas.

Dict. H. B. D.

I presume it is in order for me to say that the Toronto Kennel Club have also claimed dates for a show on Good Friday, April 14th. Their application was received on Jan. 9th, 1911.

2. Formal recognition of Boston Terrier Club of Canada show, Jan. 2nd, 1911. A deputation consisting of Mr. W. A. Little and Mr. T. E. Milburn on Nov. 28th, 1910, waited on the President and Sec'y-Treas. of the Canadian Kennel Club, making the statement that no Boston Terrier show would be held unless they were permitted to take part, both being actively engaged in the business of the Club. After considerable discussion the President issued the following permit, and it is for this committee to endorse or otherwise deal with this action.

Toronto, Nov. 28th, 1910.

In view of interview with W. A. Little and T. E. Milburn, they are given permission to take part in the forthcoming show of the Boston Terrier Club, pending next Executive meeting.

John G. Kent,

President Canadian Kennel Club.

3. Report on Whippet Racing:—I find that neither the Kennel Club England, with which the Canadian Kennel Club is affiliated, nor the American Kennel Club assume control over Whippet Racing. As far as I can learn this is altogether in the hands of individual organizations. Anticipating this meeting I reported in full on pages 6 and 7 of Jan., 1911, Canadian Kennel Gazette, also on pages 204 and 205 of November, 1910, issue. There is a good deal of valuable information in these, especially in the former report, for which we are indebted to Mr. Jaquet, Secretary, Kennel Club, England.

4. C. N. Exhibition delegates. The cards are here, the vote being a heavy one, and I would suggest that scruti-eers be appointed to count the vote, this being part of the work of the annual meeting.

5. Registration of prefixes and kennel names. The following have gone through the usual course without protest and are before you for final registration.

PREFIXES.

Crescentwood — R. G. Perrse, Winnipeg, Man.

Lyncote — Mrs. Sharp, Vancouver, B.C.

Rockfield — F. W. Cook, Rockfield, Que.

Swansea — Stanley Dorrell, Vancouver, B.C.

Walhachin — W. Miller Higgs, Walhachin, B.C.

KENNEL NAMES.

Camosun — Theed Pearse, Victoria, B.C.

Crescentwood — R. G. Perrse, Winnipeg, Man.

Dumleary, C. Bennett Thompson, Victoria, B.C.

Parkhurst — John Moxam, Winnipeg, Man.

Warden Count Kennels — W. Miller Higgs, Walhachin, B.C.

Rosedale — Request for transfer to Arch. Pride, Toronto.

6. Reception of new members. The following list is up for election:

R. H. Lord, Lodstock, England, proposed by E. C. Powell.

H. J. Barr, Winnipeg, Man., proposed by H. M. Dymont.

W. E. Mann, Edmonton, Alta., proposed by W. J. Cundell.

Sandy McLean, Calgary, Alta., proposed by H. P. D. Walker.

Chas. T. Hilton, Vancouver, B.C., proposed by W. M. Coats.

C. B. Stewart, Central Park, B.C., proposed by W. M. Coats.

Chas. E. Metcalf, Toronto, Ont., proposed by W. Sands.

J. Wilman, Toronto, Ont., proposed by Jos. Perkins.

And the following by H. B. Donovan: Jos. Reid, Elgin, Man.; W. B. Mathews, Montreal, Que.; Chas. May, Edmonton, Alta.; R. G. Perrse, Winnipeg, Man.; H. Barlow, Montreal, Que.; F. Edwards, Vancouver, B.C.; L. A. Gibson, Winnipeg, Man.; W. H. Samson, Winnipeg, Man.; W. E. Baldwin, Toronto; Alfred Orman, Toronto; Jas. S. Phillips, Fort William, Ont.

7. Report on revised office system. As already published in Gazette, the Sec'y-Treas., as instructed, visited the office of the American Kennel Club, and met with a most cordial reception from Mr. A. P. Vredenburg, Sec'y American Kennel Club, and his associates. In fact the whole office was thrown open for inspection, and I have here copies of the various cards and documents used in the system in operation in the office of the American Kennel Club, which, though elaborate, is simple in operation. The amount of detail work is enormous, but, as far as I can see, entirely necessary. Going into the matter with Mr. Vredenburg he estimated the cost of transferring our 12,000 registrations on to a modern system at from $300 to $500. I am inclined to think that this is an underestimate as this work will all have to be checked, but there is no doubt that our present system is obsolete and can not be continued much longer.

I would suggest that the formal thanks of this committee be forwarded to Mr. Vredenburg, Sec'y, and other officers of the American Kennel Club, for their kindness in this connection.

8. Championship certificates: We need badly championship certificates, to be issued to all owners of championship dogs. I have here a copy of the one in use by the American Kennel Club and I would suggest the adoption of something similar.

9. Dr. Boulton and the American Kennel Club: On Jan. 28th we received the following letter dated Jan. 16th, from the Sec'y of the Toronto Kennel Club. This was forwarded to writer to Montreal, and on Jan. 31st was replied to.

Toronto, Jan. 16th, 1911.
Secretary Canadian Kennel Club,
184 Adelaide St. West.

Dear Sir,—The following resolution was moved, seconded and carried at the last meeting of the Toronto Kennel Club, held Jan. 10, 1911.

"That the Toronto Kennel Club view with strong disfavor the action of the American Kennel Club in disqualifying Dr. Boulton, such action, and the procedure of the American Kennel Club in carrying it out, tending to the suppression of open expression of opinion and honest criticism and therefore not in the interest of honesty in dog matters.

"Further, that this Club consider that the whole affair is not under the jurisdiction of the American Kennel Club, but entirely under that of the Canadian Kennel Club, and draw the attention of the Canadian Kennel Club to the whole transaction. Yours truly,

"Toronto Kennel Club,
"J. E. Mumford, Sec'y."

Toronto, Jan. 31st, 1911.

Mr. J. E. Mumford,

Sec'y Toronto Kennel Club,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of Jan. 16th, received Jan. 28th. We will be glad to lay the matter before the Executive Committee at its meeting to be held here on Friday, Feb. 3rd. Yours truly,
Canadian Kennel Club,

H. B. Donovan,

Per E. Sec'y-Treas.

10. Application from Mr. R. H. Trimble: I beg to lay before you a letter from Mr. R. H. Trimble, applying for the return of a document, and would point out that Mr. Trimble's term of suspension has expired.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. B. Donovan,
Sec'y-Treas.

1. O. K. C. dates: A large committee from the O. K. C. appeared to present their claims for reinstatement. Mr. Jno. Miles, president of the O. K. C., spoke at length. After conference with Mr. Meadows, who was present, the following letter was handed the chairman:

Toronto.

Mr. H. B. Donovan.

Dear Sir,—I wish to say that the O. K. C. have settled the Griffin Cup to our satisfaction.

Mrs. J. A. Meadows.

Per J. A. M.

Received Feb. 3, '11.

Mr. Bowsfield stated that he had been instructed to purchase a cup to replace that won by Mr. Mewburn, called the Oxford Cup, and that these instructions would be carried out at once.

After discussion it was moved by Mr. McFarland, seconded by Dr. Boulton and carried, that as soon as satisfactory evidence is furnished the C. K. C. secretary that claims have been satisfied that suspension be removed.

It was further moved by Mr. McFarland, seconded by Mr. Atkinson and carried, that secretary allot dates asked for to O. K. C., provided he is satisfied that all claims are satisfied on or before Feb. 16th, 1911.

2. Boston T. C. show: Moved by Mr. Atkinson, seconded by Mr. Farewell, and carried, that the action of the President in issuing permit be confirmed.

3. Whippet racing: Moved by Mr. McFarland, seconded by Mr. Tibbs and carried, that application of Whippet owners and clubs be favorably entertained.

The chair then named a committee to meet and report as to all details. A special meeting of the Executive of the Canadian Kennel Club to be called if thought necessary. Following are the members of the committee: Mr. McFarland (chairman), Dr. Boulton, the President of the O. K. C. (Mr. Jno. Miles), the President of the T. K. C. (Mr. Arthur Atkinson), Dr. Campbell, V.S., and Mr. G. G. Mitchell. This committee was given power to call in any others they may desire.

4. C. N. A. delegates: Scrutineers G. R. Donovan and A. Atkinson reported Messrs. Kent and Fraser as elected.

5. Registration of prefixes, etc.: List as printed passed in full.

6. New members: The secretary cast one ballot for list as printed.

7. Revised office system: The necessity of this was fully realized, and the President and Secretary were appointed a committee of ways and means to report at next meeting.

8. Champion certificates. This was referred to the same committee, President and Secretary, as was the suggestion to use shields in lieu of cups for championship trophies. The committee was given power to act.

9. Dr. Boulton and the A. K. C.: After discussion — Dr. Boulton retiring — it was decided that while this committee sympathizes with Dr. Boulton it regrets it finds it has no jurisdiction in the case.

10. The Secretary was instructed to refer Mr. Trimble's application to the Hon.-Solicitor of the Club.

A letter from Mr. F. A. Metcalf was handed in at the meeting. It referred to his suspension as an officer of the O. K. C., and requested its withdrawal. Secretary was instructed to write that all O. K. C. suspensions would be removed as noted elsewhere in these minutes.

A word of caution: The Secretary was asked to point out to show managers the great undesirability of making statements guaranteeing any particular number of points. No absolute guarantee can be given, as the number of points awarded to any particular show is governed entirely by the number of dogs present at that show.

Meeting then adjourned.

H. B. Donovan,
Sec'y-Treas.

FIRST POMERANIAN SPECIALTY SHOW.

The first Pomeranian specialty show held in America was that which took place at the Waldorf, New York, on January 10th. While the judge, Mrs. L. C. Dyer, England, upset some previously conceived opinions, her awards will act as a stimulus and not as a detriment to the fancy on this side.

It is a matter of congratulation to see Canada figuring so largely in the award list, and Mrs. W. lie especially has our congratulations.

From that live youngster, Dogs in America, we reprint Mrs. Dyer's report in full. We also attach list of the Canadian wins.

I found the quality of the dogs in general to be very good, and, although I saw some very poor specimens, some very good ones, too, came before me. In fact the show was on the whole quite the equal of any of the English shows. Some very good American-bred specimens came before me, and I have not the least doubt that some of these would do well even in England.

In novice dogs, black, I awarded first to Banner Billikens, typical, rather curly in coat.

An extremely good American-bred Sweet William, made his appearance in the limit class, and won, as in spite of being a bit silvery in muzzle, his superior shape, set-on of tail and general quality, could not be denied. Close behind him was his litter brother, Minuit II., another stylish one. Banner Black Jack, a small one, but dead out of coat, landed third, with Lakewood Dazzle, a good little chap, held down by his poor condition, reserve.

Sweet William repeated his limit win in the open, followed by Banner His Lordship, too open in coat, Endcliffe Raven receiving third on account of grey hairs on his skull and lack of coat on the under part of the body. Lakewood Dazzle was again reserve.

Limit dogs, brown or chocolate, saw Cairndhu Merrymaker, a sweet little chocolate, though a bit shaded on the tail, win. Second went to Tuxedo Gem, another small one, but absolutely coatless. Livingston Prince of Dublin I gave third, penalizing him for the grey hairs on his skull, which was a bit too thick for my liking. Lakewood Pam, unsound in color and in poor form, I gave the reserve ribbon.

Open dogs, brown or chocolate, again found Cairndhu Merrymaker on top, closely pressed by Chocolate Swell, a stylish little chap with the best of legs and feet, but a bit grey in the muzzle. Third to Livingstone Prince of Dublin, and reserve to Tinder Torry, a good coated dog, with lots of fire and character, but too light in color.

Puppy dogs, sable, brought out Sandy Lynd, a very dark orange shaded sable, in all a stylish, cobby little fellow, who with age should always be found near the top of the prize lists. Banner The Corporal, a light sable with a wealth of coat received second, third going to Golden Bantam, a chocolate tipped one, very short in body, but does not carry his ears well, and was very ring shy. Lakewood Tonio, reserve, had not the coat of the other three, but will probably do better later.

A well shaped wolf sable, Lakewood Sable Prince, was the winner in the novice, second going to Firefly, lighter in color and rather too coarse in head. Third, Banner The Corporal, and reserve, Lakewood Tonio.

Lakewood Sable Prince added another blue in the limit class, while Firefly added another red. Tich, a bit too long in couplings, I gave the yellow, and to Dare Sable Mite, a cobby, well-coated wolf sable, but too light in color and thick in skull, reserve.

Open dogs saw Lakewood Sable Prince still invincible, second going to Olley Mite's Sable Fly, a small dog spoiled by big feet and ears and coarse in muzzle, second. Fox Hills Oriole, third, was out of coat, and is not close enough to the ground. I made Banner Tommy Atkins, a profusely coated orange sable handicapped by a poor head, reserve.

Of the whites, the least said the better. I was forced to withhold first from the best two, as the work of the scissors was too evident on their ears.

Limit dogs and bitches, blue or beaver, I gave premier position to Pom Patch Lady Bluey, a nicely colored and shaped blue, second going to Oak Hill Gentian, scoring a bit in head, but losing in body and color. Pengwerne Blue Imp, third is too dark and would be improved with a better head.

Open dogs and bitches, with the exception of Banner Sergeant Blue, a dog of good conformation and color, was a repeat of the limit.

Puppy dogs and bitches, orange or cream, I awarded to Cairndhu Mischief, an extremely light cream, with good color points and general conformation.

Limit dogs and bitches was won by the puppy winner, Little Sally Lynd fighting hard for first place, being very cobby, fine in bone and good in general quality. Lakewood Sprite, third, is very typical in head, and Marlow, reserve, loses in ear.

Open dogs and bitches gave Little Sally Lynd the blue, with Tangerine Mischief, a good headed light orange, second, and Champion Tip Toes, in wonderful coat, but losing in levelness of mouth, third, and Lakewood Sprite, reserve.

Limit dogs and bitches, any other color, was won by Pomeria Wooley Fly, a fawn, in grand coat. Cairndhu Narcissus, a black and tan plenty high enough from the ground, took second, followed by Livingston Beautiful Magpie, a rather coarse parti-color, and Bobby, by far too large in ear, and down in front.

Pomeria Wooley Fly still held his own in the open, with a tiny mite of a black and tan, Olley Muff, second. Rest repeat.

Open dogs and bitches, any color but white, 8 lbs. and over, was won by Lakewood Sable Prince with the greatest of ease.

Open dogs, over 5 and not exceeding 8 lbs., brought before me Champion Banner Prince Charming, a sound little black, good all over, a hard one, indeed, to find a fault. Lakewood Sable Prince, Minuit II., and Livingston Beautiful Magpie, which I placed in this order, have all been mentioned.

For winners, I placed Banner Prince Charming on top, with Cairndhu Merrymaker the runner-up.

Sweet William then received another blue in the open, American-bred, followed by Banner Messenger Boy, a nice-headed black, third; Nancy's Tim, rather flat in coat, and reserve, Milnshaw Masher, Jr., too long east and very timid.

In puppy dogs, any other color, American-bred, Sandy Lynd's superior quality again asserted itself, with Cairndhu Mischief, Banner the Corporal, Lakewood Tonio following in that order.

A new face appeared in the open, American-bred, any other color, Banner Nabob, a grand young wolf sable; Lakewood Sable Prince, second; Cairndhu Mischief, third, and Firefly dropping to reserve.

Veteran dogs, over 7 years, was won by Mignon, a stylish black with very profuse undercoat, but lacking top coat; one of the best of his age I have ever seen.

Passing over puppy and novice bitches, black, neither of which disclosed any world-beaters, we come to the limit, a very good class. Pom Patch Belper Tossie, though greatly out of coat, won on her good head, smartness and general quality. Cairndhu Dainty Mite, another small one, losing in muzzle, was second, with Oak Hill Poppy, another good one, a bit larger than the preceding two, third, and M'le Fifi, a good headed one, just between coats, reserve.

The first three still held their places in the open, but Fox Hills Chloe, a well coated one, was moved up one.

Limit bitches, brown or chocolate, saw Oak Hill Ivy, a sound colored little miss, on top of the heap, with Milnshaw Pansy not far behind. Dainty Betty, an extremely dark chocolate, but too long in middle-piece, third, and The Tiny Tad, in grand coat, but not sound in color, reserve.

Puppy bitches, sable, I gave to Foxina on her good body, but she is very bad in tail carriage. Bogota Sunburst, second, loses in body to the first.

In limit bitches, Trixie III., a small wolf sable of good conformation, won; Pomeria Buttercup, second, beating the first in head, but not in good coat, third going to Flornell Madge, a very rich shaded sable, but losing in body, and Ashton Goldmine, reserve, too loose in tail carriage.

Pom Patch Belper Tossie, Oak Hill Puppy, Pomeria Buttercup, and Eastney Elf, a small chocolate of good conformation, accounted for the open under 5 lbs.

Open, over 5 and not exceeding 8 lbs., was won by Oak Hill Ivy, with Milnshaw Pansy, second; Lakewood Sprite, third, and Banner Lady Else, lacking in undercoat, reserve.

Winners bitches I gave to Little Sally Lynd, her action, body and general quality being hard to get away from. I then gave Pom Patch Belper Tossie the reserve card.

In open, American-bred, black, brown or chocolate, I put Estney Elf up, with Dainty Betty second; Pom Patch Flyaway, losing in eye, third, and Banner Miss Chub, rather shaded in color, reserve.

Veteran bitches mustered two, Champion Pom Patch Lulu, still a good bitch, winning the blue, and Tiny Wolfina, another good old lady, second.

Lulu also won the champion class with Champion Black Pearl, a good bitch, but an indifferent shower, and out of coat, second.

The Swiss Mt. Kennels, with a very level team of blacks, could not be denied the brace and team class, and so, after finishing up some ninety specials, including best in the show, which went to Champion Banner Prince Charming, I completed a tiring but very delightful day.

(Mrs.) L. C. Dyer.

The Western Canada Kennel Club at Home and Abroad.

The members of the Western Canada Kennel Club held their monthly members' show on Monday evening, January 9th. Thanks to the generosity of A. A. Gilroy, the members were again allowed to hold the meeting in the garage connected with the big T. Eaton Co. store. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, which was 30 below zero, with a fierce blizzard just at its height, the room was crowded from one end to the other. Eighteen new members were enrolled, a fact in itself which speaks for the activity of the committee in charge. The meeting was probably the most enthusiastic held by the W. C. K. C. The breeds selected were Toy Poodles, Fox Terriers (both smooth and wire), Deerhounds, Pomeranians and Pit, Bull Terriers. Dr. M. C. O'Brien was elected to judge Deerhounds, but owing to professional duties was unable to be present. Fortunately, we will be able to call upon the ever-willing enthusiast, Mr. C. W. Twaites. The committee in charge have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Twaites on the committee for these monthly shows. Although but a recent arrival in this country, he has given a great impetus to all matters pertaining to the canine interests of this city. Hailing from Bradford, England, his reputation as a judge and an all-round authority had already preceded him, his name being familiar to readers of the English kennel journals. He was not allowed to retire in seclusion for long after reaching the city, having already handed out the ribbons on some half-dozen occasions to the satisfaction of all concerned. We are all hoping it will not be long before we see his name on the list of recognized judges on this side of the water.

The first class to be taken were Toy Poodles. Some lovely specimens were exhibited, notably those of Mr. J. C. Fletcher, whose dogs were in splendid coat and put down in fine form. The awards of the judge, C. W. Twaites, were:

Toy Poodle dogs — 1st, Byron, Mrs. M. Richardson; 2nd, Jumbo, Mrs. J. C. Fletcher; 3rd, Raffles, Mrs. M. Richardson. Bitches, 1st, Alice, Mrs. J. C. Fletcher; 2nd, Baby, Mrs. M. Richardson; 3rd, Babs, Mrs. Davis Little.

Poodles, (chocolate), over 7 lbs., Judge, C. W. Twaites — 1st, Prince, Mrs. Small; 2nd, Reggie, Mrs. Shaw; 3rd, Caesar, Mrs. J. S. Youille.

Choc. Poms, under 7 lbs. — 1st, Little Nipper, Miss Elmes.

Deerhounds, Judge, C. W. Twaites — 1st, Wolf; 2nd, Fly II.; 3rd, Fly. All three winners were owned by Mr. J. M. Merrick.

Fox Terriers (smooth), Judge, Dr. R. W. Kenny — Dogs, 1st, Ottawa Marquis, A. P. Mutchmor; 2nd, Togo, A. F. Picard; 3rd, Garry Mainstay, A. P. Mutchmor. Bitches, 1st, Vesta Sutton, A. F. Picard. Owing to the inclemency of the weather several prominent breeders were unable to exhibit in this class.

Fox Terriers (wire) — 2nd was awarded Ashbank Teddy, C. Cowell.

Pit Bull Terriers, Judge, Tom Gates — Puppies, 1st, Reno, D. Ritchie; 2nd, Floss, F. Houston; 3rd, Kentucky Bob, J. S. Baker. Dogs, 1st, Ginger, D. Ritchie; 2nd, Reno, D. Ritchie; 3rd, Monty, A. T. Frankfurter. Bitches, 1st, Flirt, D. Ritchie; 2nd, Jess, Mr. Galt; 3rd, Kentucky Floss II., F. Houston.

In the absence of the President, Ald. W. R. Milton, the chair was very ably filled by Mr. Geo. P. Sterling, who thanked the ladies for their generous support, and congratulated the committee on the efficient manner in which the monthly shows were being held. Among the lady enthusiasts present were noticed: Mrs. J. C. Fletcher, Mrs. M. Richardson, Mrs. W. P. Moss, Mrs. T. Lynch, Mrs. Small, Miss Elmes, Mrs. Davis Little, Mrs. J. S. Youille, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. M. Lloyd. During the judging Mr. J. C. Fletcher very ably assisted as ring steward.

Together with Mr. J. C. Fletcher, we had the pleasure of successfully piloting twenty-two Winnipeg dogs through the North Dakota Kennel Association's annual show which was held at Fargo, N.D., on Jan. 17, 18, 19 inst. It was our original intention to take down a carload, but owing to the severe weather and the high cost of express rates (which averaged nearly $10 per dog), several of our most prominent breeders were not represented. The Winnipeg contingent consisted of five English Bulldogs, three Bostons, four Pointers, one Irish Setter, one St. Bernard, two Poms, one Irish Terrier, one Skye Terrier, two Bull Terriers, one Irish Water Spaniel and one Cocker Spaniel. With the exception of Pointers and Setters we cleared the decks with every breed in which we competed, winning specials for best English Bulldog, best Cocker and Irish Water Spaniel, Bostons, Irish Terriers, Skye Terriers, Bull Terriers and St. Bernards. The judges were Dr. W. A. Moore, of St. Paul, Minn., who took Pointers, Setters and Collies, and W. J. Pegram, of Lincoln, Ill., who took the remainder. Of the kindness and courtesy shown us by the officers of the N. D. K. A. I could not say enough were I to write for a week. We were assisted throughout the show in every possible manner. I can assure you it was with regret we left on Friday, the 20th, to return to Winnipeg. The officers to whom we feel deeply indebted for such a pleasant sojourn were the President, Mr. J. C. Cowie; Sec'y-Treas., Mr. C. E. Porritt; Superintendent, Mr. J. P. Curran, and Mr. Art. Hansen, who was always on hand to assist in making the evenings the pleasantest we have had for some time.

The awards were: English Bulldog, puppy, 1st Crescentwood Tilley Clellan, R. G. Persee, Winnipeg. Bitches, limit, 1st, Crescentwood Nora, John Moxam, Winnipeg; 2nd, Crescentwood Tilley Clellan, R. G. Persee. Open, 1st, Parkhurst Empress, John Moxam; 2nd, Crescentwood Nora, John Moxam. Winners, repeats. Dogs, limit, 45 lbs. and under, 1st, Nuthurst Surprise, John Moxam. Open dogs, over 45, 1st, Parkhurst Demon, John Moxam. Winners dogs, 1st, Parkhurst Demon. Reserve, Nuthurst Surprise.

Bostons, novice bitches, 1st, Parkhurst Girlie. Limit, under 17 lbs., 1st, Parkhurst Nan; 2nd, Parkhurst Girlie. Winners bitches, Parkhurst Nan. Reserve, Parkhurst Girlie. Dogs, limit, under 17 lbs., 1st, Dandy Hooker. Open 1st, Dandy Hooker. Winners, Dandy Hooker, all owned by John Moxam.

Bull Terriers, puppy bitches, 1st, Relentless of Belmont. Limit, 1st, Relentless of Belmont. Open and winners, 1st, Relentless of Belmont. Dogs, limit, 1st, Bo'Swain of Wonder. Open 1st, Bo'Swain of Wonder. Winners dogs, Bo'Swain of Wonder, both owned by J. C. Fletcher, Winnipeg.

Cocker Spaniels, limit dogs, 1st, Calmo Bill. Open dogs, 1st, Calmo Bill. Winners dogs, 1st, Calmo Bill, Herbert Barr, Winnipeg.

Pointers, puppy bitches, 2nd Fisher's Dot. Ed. Bissett, Winnipeg. Dogs, limit, 1st, Prince Cash; open dogs, 2nd, Prince Cash, and reserve winners, V. C. Kobold, Winnipeg. Bitches, limit, 2nd Lue Pearlstone; 3rd, Rodondo's Prairie Queen. Open bitches, repeats. Reserve winners, Lou Pearlstone, V. C. Kobold, Winnipeg. Field Trial dogs, 1st, Prince Cash, V. C. Kobold, Winnipeg.

Irish Setters, novice dogs, 1st, Buff; limit dogs, 2nd, Buff; open dogs, 2nd, Buff; reserve winners, Buff, Ed. Bissett, Winnipeg.

Pomeranians, open dogs, 1st, Jim; open bitches, 1st, Fluff, W. Johnson, Winnipeg.

In judging for best in show the judges were unable to agree; after thinning the winners down to three dogs, Bo'Swain of Wonder, a fine English Bull Terrier, Parkhurst Demon, the heavy-weight brindle Bulldog, and Noodles, a fine Pointer bitch, the judges were unable to agree on winner, W. J. Peagram favoring Parkhurst Demon for 1st place, with Bo'Swain of Wonder reserve winner; Dr. W. A. Moore favoring Noodles winner, with Parkhurst Demon reserve. What looked like being a tie-up was settled by the committee calling in E. J. Walsh, of Minot, N.D., to give a casting vote, the result finally being: winner, Noodles; reserve winner, Parkhurst Demon, John Moxam, Winnipeg. Yours truly, Henry St. Lawrence.

LADIES KENNEL ASSOCIATION OF MASSACHUSETTS — TWO MEDALS FOR WINNIPEG — INTERESTING LECTURE ON THE BULLDOG.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts was held to-day at Huntington Chambers, preceded by a meeting of the executive board.

The President, Mrs. E. H. Seagrave, presided. The attendance was unusually large. Two medals are to be sent the Western Canada Kennel Club at Winnipeg, to be placed as their committee see fit. The entire list of breed trophies are offered for the Duquesne Kennel Club, with two medals to be placed as their committee see fit. This same offer is also made to the Erie and Haverhill Kennel Clubs.

Miss Fanny Brooks was elected chairman of the bench show committee: Mrs. Chas. F. Dennee was elected chief ring steward, and Mrs. Albert Geiger, Jr., will have charge of the trophy committee. The next meeting of the Association will be held Feb. 6th, one week earlier than usual, as the New York Show opens on the second Monday in February, which would be our regular meeting day according to the by-laws. It was thought necessary to make the change in order to have as many members present as possible. There will be no meeting of the executive board on that day. The "floor" will be given entire charge of all questions that are usually decided by that body. This will be done so that we may get as many ideas as possible from each member regarding the forthcoming bench show, which will be held June 1st at the Chestnut Hill Club grounds.

At the conclusion of the regular business Mr. W. U. Gilbert Clark gave a most instructive and interesting talk on Bulldogs. His talk took the form of an illustrated lecture, and as each point was discussed he brought out a chart with several drawings, which was invaluable from an explanatory point of view. During the talk, Mr. Clark mentioned the fact of the breed being known (erroneously) as ugly in disposition. He says this is not true as a general rule, but he does not claim that the dog is an angel by any means. The Bulldog is peaceful, but if set upon can easily take care of himself. Furthermore, he said, that no dog known is a more chivalrous protector of women and children. When he is walking with his master he will literally be found "dogging" his step and it will not be necessary to call him from someone's back yard or front stoop, nor yet dig him out of a neighbor's cellar where he has cornered the family cat.

Mr. Clark used the American Standard in scoring his dog, Meersham Tantalizer (a son of his well known Meersham Ham). The secretary won the medal awarded at each meeting. Her score being 88½, and Mr. Clark's 88, with Mrs. W. E. Blake again reserve. Mrs. Seagrave voiced the members in their unanimous vote of thanks to Mr. Clark for his extreme courtesy. The meeting then adjourned until Feb. 6th. Respectfully submitted,

Helen McClure Talbot, Sec'y.

PUPPIES AND PUPPY WALKING.

By Richard Clapham.

Walking a single puppy, or, better still, a couple, should be considered a duty by the man or woman hunting regularly with a pack of Hounds, provided they have suitable accommodation for the upbringing of the youngsters.

The knowledge that he has many willing and reliable puppy walkers is the greatest satisfaction to the Master, for it all depends on the exercise, feeding and general handling of the puppies at their various "walks" as to how they will eventually turn out when old enough to return to kennels. Puppies and puppy shows form a strong link between the hunt and those interested in the sport, whether they be members or the more humble foot-followers and the presentation of suitable prizes to successful puppy-walkers encourages them to continue their interest, and also forms a fitting conclusion to their period of responsibility.

Persons should not accept the care of puppies unless they have sufficient accommodation to enable them to do so. Puppies are proverbially mischievous, and require constant exercise to enable them to thrive, and unless the would-be walker can guarantee the latter and put up with the former it is better to leave the puppy to the care of other hands. It is quite as easy—in fact, more so—to walk a couple of puppies than a single one, for the former generally give less trouble than the latter, as they play with one another, and are less liable to get into general mischief. A couple will in all probability be more inclined to go off hunting in the woods, whereas a single puppy, pining for a companion, will usually go in search of one, getting into many bad habits during the quest; therefore the couple are less likely in the long run to give undue anxiety and trouble.

It is rather a moot point as to what class of people furnish the best "walks." Those who bring the puppy in contact with fresh people and new scenes more or less frequently, with plenty of exercise in so doing, are without doubt the most suitable to act as "walkers." Tradesmen have facilities for doing all of the above, for the puppies get plenty of exercise following the carts on their rounds, and naturally see fresh faces and different scenes each day. Farmers are usually quite as good, so long as they allow the puppies plenty of exercise, and do not stop them chasing hares, for the latter amusement teaches puppies to get their noses down and hunt, and they are none the worse for this diversion when back in kennels.

Puppies and Puppywalking.

Exercise and suitable food are the main things on which depend the health and general well-being of puppies, especially the former, for lack of sufficient exercise results in a puppy growing into a coarse and generally "throaty" Hound. There are no strict rules relating to the upbringing of puppies at "walk," yet a few remarks as to suitable diet and general management may be of use to intending puppy-walkers. Porridge made of the best oatmeal is the most suitable food — without any milk, as the latter is very liable to scour them. As porridge will be their future diet when they arrive at maturity, it thus accustoms them to it in early life, and they feed well when returned to kennels, which is not the case if fed on various foods when out at "walk." Spratt's biscuits may also be given, with a certain amount of broth, but no great quantity of meat is advisable. Bones are useful for the puppies to bite at, as these help their teeth, and keep the pups amused. Small bones should not be given, for they are liable to break up into pieces and stick in their throats.

Although puppies should have all the exercise they possibly can, and may be allowed to get their noses down on the line of a hare, they must be stopped at once on their showing a tendency to chase poultry, lambs, or sheep. If a puppy kills a fowl he can easily be cured of such evil propensity by tying the dead bird round his neck and leaving it there for a day, at the end of which the sight and smell of fowl will for ever have a nauseating effect on him.

It is not a wise plan to teach puppies to sit up and beg, or other "parlor tricks," for a Hound looks rather a fool on his return to kennels if he apes the Poodle, and the huntsman will not as a rule be pleased.

Puppies should have a warm, dry place to sleep in, and have access to it during the day, for when young they sleep a good deal, and it is quite as beneficial to them as exercise. A water-tight barrel makes a first-rate sleeping-place, and can be easily moved when necessary. Three-parts of one end may be knocked out, the remainder serving as a cross-piece to keep straw or other bedding from being dragged out. Fine pine shavings, such as are used for packing purposes, make the best bedding — far better than straw or hay, which harbors both dust and fleas.

Plenty of clean, fresh water should be within the puppies' reach at all times. When quite young, feed with small quantities three or four times a day, gradually lessening the number of meals to two a day as the puppy increases in age and size. Fleas are as a rule more or less in evidence on most puppies, and as it is not nice to see them constantly scratching, not to mention the irritation to themselves, it is advisable to kill these parasites. When quite young, puppies may be well covered with Persian insect powder, rubbing it well into their coats; and if troubled with these pests later in life they may be washed with a solution of Izal or creolin, the latter being one of the very finest disinfectants for kennel purposes. It is not advisable to wash puppies with liquid disinfectants when very young, as they are apt to get chilled and take cold. For washing purposes, one part creolin to ten parts water should be used, the dog to be thoroughly rinsed with clear water afterwards. One part creolin to twenty-five parts water will effectually disinfect kennels, and entirely drive out all fleas, ticks and lice, and these pests will stay out for good if this preparation is adhered to.

The one great bug-bear which the puppy-walker has to risk is the chance of his charges taking distemper. Should the puppies sicken, it is advisable to let the huntsman know at once, so that he can send pills to be administered, or can attend to them himself. The chief thing to do in a case of distemper is to keep the patient as warm and dry as possible, at the same time keeping up its strength. A very useful treatment in cases of distemper, and which usually effects a cure, consists of quinine and hyposulphite of soda put up in two-grain capsules. When first the disease is noticed, isolate the dog at once, then give a dose of castor oil. Follow this three times daily with a two-grain capsule of quinine, and half an hour after each dose of quinine give a two-grain capsule of hyposulphite of soda. If the dog refuses to eat even the most tempting morsels, break one or two eggs into his mouth three or four times a day, and force him to swallow them. This will usually keep up the dog's strength, and when he begins to improve, unless the stomach is very weak, give fresh, lean beef, for a dog will eat this when all other food fails to tempt him. When all fever has left the patient, discard the quinine and give a similar number of doses, consisting of five drops of nux vomica, which will act as a nerve stimulant and appetizer. Puppies or grown dogs may be treated as above, and if kept dry and warm will in nine cases out of ten recover without any ill after-effects.

When nearly time to return your puppies to the kennels see that they are not fat nor yet unnecessarily thin and lean. Try to return them in good, healthy, hard condition, which will please the huntsman, and if your charges are well built, with good shoulders, legs and feet, will help in no small measure to aid you in winning the puppy show cup for the best couple or the best single Hound, as the case may be; and encourage you to take an equal amount of care with any future puppies under your charge.—Our Dogs.

THE INDIAN "DOG-BOY."

By George Cecil,
London, Eng.

Most Englishmen who are exiled to India are satisfied with one or two dogs, and their toilet and feeding arrangements are entrusted to a colored menial who is known as the "mehter." Should the "Sahib," however, be the proud possessor of several animals, from imported prize-winners to "curs of low degree," an additional minion, who figures on the wages list as the "dog-boy," is engaged.

QUAINT CREDENTIALS.

Though his name may be Mahomet, Inyat, Khuda Buksh, or Abdul Ghafoor, he readily answers to "Hi!" or "Here, you!" Indeed, if he seeks employment in the establishment of a British cavalry subaltern, he obligingly requests the warrior to call him "John," and endeavors to intimate his wishes in English, knowing, from experience, that his master will not grapple with the mysteries of Hindostani. He next sallies forth to the "bazaar," and has a letter of the following description written by a professional letter-writer:—

"Honorable Sir,—Though my name being Inyat Ali, your Highness is having some difficulties in saying this so I being called John same as English dog-boy awaiting your Honor's commands, and I hope I gain some reply at early convenience as I am a poor chap with some aged and useless parents. Yours respectfully,

"Inyat Ali dogboy."

The reader will perhaps be surprised that the "dog-boy" should think it necessary to go to so much trouble about so small a matter. It must be borne in mind that the native has an extraordinary passion for putting the simplest request into writing. In fact, to so great an extent does he carry out this craze, that he has been known to indent (through the medium of the hired scribe) on his employer for a tin of flea-powder. Thus:—

"Allahabad. Tuesday. Sir, I am wanting some fleas powder medicine for Jack he have got six large sized fleas on belly and a prospect of more in other regions of body so kindly do all the needful and oblige. Yours faithful, "Ibrahim."

The educated Calcutta "Failed B.A." (a degree peculiar to Indian universities), who acts as amanuensis, charges two "pice" (a farthing) for the service, but if the letter deals with a proposed increase in the petitioner's wages, the "dog-boy" is expected to pay at least a rupee should his prayer be granted. It may also be noted that some of these remarkable people interlard their letters with Johnsonian, Shakespearian and Biblical phraseology, an extra sum being charged for such embellishments. Under these exceptional circumstances, a request for a day's holiday or for a cake of dog-soap may be an expensive matter for the youth in charge of the kennel department.

HIS CHARACTERISTICS.

The "dog-boy" varies considerably in appearance. Some give the impression that they are innocent-looking children, with dreamy—if mud-colored—eyes; a few have that prematurely aged look which one is wont to associate with little boys who study too hard; whilst many unite in their faces the wisdom of the serpent and the cunning of the habitual criminal. Still, the youth has his good points. If he is often lazy, he takes much pride in the social standing of his master, especially if the last-named is a "Commissioner," a "Collector," or a "Sessions Judge." Or he may be a confirmed liar; in fact, his religion places no obstruction in the way of his lying to his employer. Yet he is kind to the dogs entrusted to his care, and though he does not hesitate to help himself to "Master's" cigars, he is the first to lay information should any outside thief take so unpardonable a liberty as to poach on his preserves. He also cheats the "Sahib" when entrusted with the purchase of dog-soap and other kennel necessities. If he is sent to the "bazaar" to buy puppy food, he calls at each establishment which stocks this commodity, negotiating with the proprietors in the following highly unseemly manner:—

"Salaam! O shopman."

"Salaam! O little boy! What is your will to-day?"

"I need something for my master, the Judge Sahib."

"All in my shop is at your disposal, O customer—but you do not say what is required."

"First you must give me a buksheesh!"

"A buksheesh before business? Surely this is a preposterous demand, O servant of the Judge Sahib!"

"Good morning, O shopman, I shall not buy my puppy food from you."

"Pray do not run away. Though I cannot pay buksheesh in advance I will give you two annas commission in the rupee."

"Two annas, good shopman, are not worth this poor fellow's consideration."

"I think we understand each other. You want as much as you can get. I will charge you two rupees for what you have been told to buy and give you four annas commission."

"I think not, good shopman. You are my father and my mother—but I must have four annas in the rupee."

At this juncture, the shopkeeper signifies in the vernacular, that he will see his customer somewhere else before he accedes to so preposterous a demand, and the "dog-boy" leaves for another establishment. After idling away the morning at half a dozen shops, he returns to the first establishment.

"Here I am, O shopman."

"I am delighted to see you, O servant of the Judge Sahib."

"I have concluded to accept your offer, for though the other shop-keepers charge only one and a half rupees for what I want I prefer commission on two rupees!"

HIS DUTIES.

The duties of the "dog-boy" are comparatively light. He rises with the bul-bul (the Eastern equivalent for the lark), and takes the whole pack out for an airing; at least he exercises them if a chance meeting with an acquaintance does not give him the opportunity to sit and chatter over a "hookah." However, the dogs are seldom given quite as long a walk as the "Sahib" wishes, for no "dog-boy" has ever yet been known to resist the temptation to loiter, while many an indignant Anglo-Indian owner has come upon the youth buying "meetai"

Owing to business necessitating my removal to Hamilton, I have decided to dispose of my Entire Kennel of English Bulldogs, including MOIRA MAGNET

A white dog, with brindle head markings, weighs 44 lbs. At New York, 1910, whilst yet in his youth he proved himself one of the sensations of the show, and was pronounced by experts the most exquisitely finished bulldog ever seen, with the desired substance and lowness, and at this event money was fully offered to match him on points against any bulldog in America. Mr. Coghlin, at the B. D. B. A. Show, when explaining his decisions, in passing on MAGNET, said with great emphasis, "That is a bulldog". He is active, vigorous and a prolific sire, is a richly bred dog on thoroughly typical lines.

(native sweet-meats) in the "bazaar" when he should have been out in the country. The rest of the morning is taken up by attending to their toilet and preparing their food, and on wash-day he also is kept busy all the afternoon. The dogs are taken for another walk in the evening, after which the "dog-boy's" work for the day is over; he is then free to amuse himself in the company of his acquaintances. It may be pointed out that his relaxations are very different to those which obtain in this country. The fascination of marbles and hopscotch are unknown to him: he spends half his time asleep and the rest of it discussing the white population of the "station": "My Sahib is mean — very mean! He will not buy a new collar for Moti." "But mine is still meaner," he says that unless I buy another chain in place of the one I sold while he was on leave in England he will cut my pay." "Can't you say a budmash stole it?" "I did, and he said he always knew I was a budmash!" "The Captain Sahib cannot afford to buy the Colonel Sahib's Fox Terrier because he is going to be married." "My Sahib says he will get an Irish Terrier from England like the Rajah's." "The Rajah owes five hundred rupees to the London shop from which he bought the prize Bulldog, and he won't pay unless he is summoned." "He is like the Sahib I was with for a year." "My Sahib hit me this morning because I let his dog go into the garden before it was dry." "What did you do?" "I stole a cigarette from his case." "Shall you give him notice?" "No, I shall take cigarettes whenever I want them. He is a careless Sahib and the servants all take what they like. The bearer drinks his whiskey, and the khan-samah wears his boots on feast days."

THE AMBITIOUS "DOG-BOY."

Although the "dog-boy" is usually in his teens, one sometimes comes across elderly men who earn their living in this lowly state. Bred to the business, they begin and end their lives as "dog-boys." If, however, he has higher aspirations, he learns to read and write Hindostani, and adopts a business career, commencing as an assistant in a "bazaar" shop. Or he may, by dint of working influence, secure the post of clerk in a Government office, and eventually realize the height of his ambition by earning retirement on a pension.
