Men Prominent in Canadian Dogdom

MR. A. A. LEES, HAMILTON, ONT.

Mr. Lees jumped prominently into Bulldogdom a good many years ago when entries even at such shows as that of the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto, numbered not more than half a dozen.

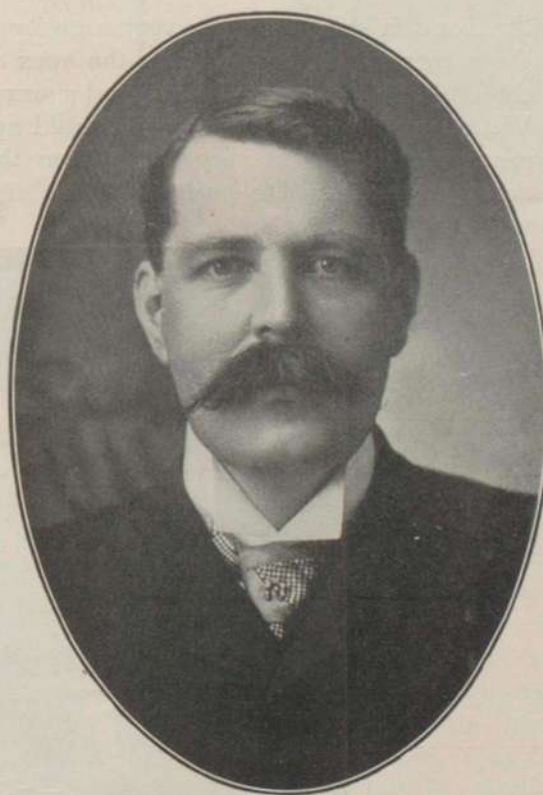

His first importation was the famous Shield's Rodney Stone, who made history for some time. Mr. Lees' importations numbered in all some twenty-five dogs and bitches, several of which were shown at various shows, generally with success. The Bulldog game is one that would tax the patience of a saint, and most dog men do not aspire to this high position. Mr. Lees has had many hard knocks but has always taken them with a smile.

Among the best specimens that he has imported we may mention Shield's Rodney Stone, Kelvin Punch, Sunny Jim, Pure Lee II., Lee Bank Squire, and Woodcote Merry Boy. Shield's Rodney Stone and Lee Bank Squire have sired a number of winners, especially the latter. The get of both these dogs won at Madison Square Garden, New York, as well as at other classic shows. Mr. Lees has been more fortunate in his purchase of dogs than of the other sex. He never owned a really good show bitch—or was it that he was too critical. He paid good prices for several of the bitches he imported but when they arrived from Great Britain they were, in most cases, very different indeed to the description which he received before purchasing. This was the case even with some of the dogs. For instance the stud dog, Sunny Jim, was described to him as a golden brindle when on his arrival he proved to be a fawn.

Mr. Lees has been out of the Bulldog fancy for about two years, owing to the drastic conditions governing the license laws in the Ambitious City. He hopes to get in again when some relief is afforded the men and women who love dogs as dogs.

At our request Mr. Lees is kind enough to give intending importers and breeders of Bulldogs some very valuable advice the result of his many years in the fancy. He writes:

Mr. A. A. Lees, Hamilton, Ont.

"As I have had experience with stud dogs I would like to express my opinion briefly as to their care, etc. Where it is possible an owner should make a pal of his stud dog, that is if his work, or business, requires him to be in and out and also necessitates considerable walking. This if your dog goes with you, keeps him from the monotony of kennel life, keeps his appetite and general health good. Feed liberally once a day on raw lean meat. I had one dog, when left in the kennel would not look at a bitch, but when treated as above he was very keen and a sure stock-getter.

I raised I don't know how many puppies and had some queer acting bitches. I will just mention Nelly, a brindle bitch, that I had mated with Crabtree's Ch. Moston Michael before she was shipped. Result, one puppy. Next mating Shield's Rodney Stone, again one puppy. I was very much disappointed, I paid $150 for the bitch. I consulted both V.S.'s and M.D.'s, they explained that owing to some trouble in the womb the cells were nearly all closed and that one puppy would be her limit. Next mating to Shield's Rodney Stone, ten puppies and she raised nine. I merely relate the above as it might be of some benefit to some fancier.

To those who might contemplate importing, I would just say, be sure of the party with whom you are doing business. Of the number I dealt with, there are only two with whom I would do business again, and of these, one is a lady. I bought four from her and in every case got value."

COCKERS AT BOSTON

Canadian Cocker breeders should note that Mr. Lance Farewell is judging Cockers at Boston and we hope that he may have a nice entry from Canada. He is assured of a big turn out from the States. Boston wanted him badly—and got him. The full list of Boston judges is given in this issue.

THE BULLDOG STANDARD

GENERAL APPEARANCE, APTITUDE, EXPRESSION, ETC.—The perfect Bulldog must be of medium size and smooth coat, with heavy, thick set, low-slung body, massive, short-faced head; wide shoulders and sturdy limbs. The general appearance and attitude should suggest great stability, vigor and strength. The disposition should be equable and kind, resolute and courageous (not vicious or aggressive), and the demeanor should be pacific and dignified. These attributes should be countenanced by the expression and behavior.

GAIT.—The style and carriage are peculiar, his gait being a loose-jointed, shuffling, sidewise motion, giving the characteristic "roll." The action must, however, be unrestrained, free and vigorous.

PROPORTION AND SYMMETRY.—The "points" should be well distributed and bear good relation one to the other, no feature being in such prominence from either excess or lack of quality that the animal appears deformed or illy proportioned.

INFLUENCE OF SEX.—In comparison of specimens of different sex, due allowance should be made in favor of the bitches, which do not bear the characteristics of the breed to the same degree of perfection and grandeur as do the dogs.

SIZE.—The size for mature dogs is about 50 pounds; for mature bitches about 40 pounds.

COAT.—The coat should be straight, short, flat, close, of fine texture, smooth and glossy. (No fringe, feather or curl.)

COLOR OF COAT.—The color of coat should be uniform, pure of its kind, and brilliant. The various colors found in the breed are to be preferred in the following order: (1) Red brindle, (2) all other brindles, (3) solid white, (4) solid red, fawn or fallow, (5) piebald, (6) inferior qualities of all the foregoing.

(Note.—A perfect piebald is preferable to a muddy brindle or defective solid color.)

Solid black is very undesirable, but not so objectionable if occurring to a moderate degree in piebald patches. The brindles, to be perfect, should have a fine, even and equal distribution of the composite colors. In brindles and solid colors a small white patch on the chest is not considered detrimental. In piebalds the color patches should be well defined, of pure color, and symmetrically distributed.

SKIN.—The skin should be soft and loose, especially at the head, neck and shoulders.

WRINKLE AND DEWLAP.—The head and face should be covered with heavy wrinkles, and at the throat, from jaw to chest, there should be two loose pendulous folds, forming the dewlap.

SKULL.—The skull should be very large, and in circumference, in front of the ears, should measure at least the height of the dog at the shoulders. Viewed from the front, it should appear very high from the corner of the lower jaw to the apex of the skull, and also very broad and square. Viewed from the side, the head should appear very high, and very short from the point of the nose to occiput. The fore-

Hillsborough Baron

STOP.—The temples or frontal bone should be very well defined, broad, square and high, causing a hollow or groove between the eyes. This indentation "stop" should be both broad and deep and extend up the middle of the forehead, dividing the head vertically, being traceable to the top of the skull.

EYES AND EYELIDS.—The eyes, seen from the front, should be situated low down in the skull, as far from the ears as possible, and their corners should be in a straight line at right angles with the stop. They should be quite in front of the head as wide apart as possible, provided the outer corners are within the outline of the cheeks when viewed from the front. They should be quite round in form, of moderate size, neither sunken nor bulging, and in color should be very dark. The eyelids should cover the white of the eye when the dog is looking directly forward and the lid should show no "haw."

EARS.—The ears should be set high on the head, the front inner edge of each ear joining the outline of the skull at the top back corner of skull, so as to place them as wide apart, and as high, and as far from the eyes as possible. In size they should be small and thin. The shape termed "rose ear" is the most desirable. The "rose ear" folds inward at its base, the lower edge, the upper front edge curving over, outwards and backwards, showing part of the inside of the burr. (The ear should not be carried erect or "prick-ear.") head should be flat (not rounded or "domed"), neither too prominent, or overhanging the face.

CHEEKS.—The cheeks should be well rounded, protruding sidewise and outward beyond the eyes.

"ed" or "buttoned," and should never be cropped.)

FACE.—The face, measured from the front of the cheek bone to the tip of the nose, should be extremely short, the muzzle being very short, broad, turned up wards and very deep from the corner of the eye to the corner of the mouth.

NOSE.—The nose should be large, broad and black, its tip being set back deeply between the eyes. The distance from the bottom of stop, between the eyes, to the tip of the nose should be as short as possible and not exceed the length from the tip of the nose to the edge of under lip. The nostrils should be wide, large and black, with a well-defined line between them. (The parti-color or "butterfly nose" and the flesh color or "Dudley nose" are decidedly objectionable, but do not disqualify for competition.)

CHOPS.—The chops or "fews" should be thick, broad, pendant and very deep, completely overhanging the lower jaw at each side. They join the under lip in front and almost or quite cover the teeth, which should be scarcely noticeable when the mouth is closed.

JAWS.—The jaws should be massive, very broad, square and "undershot," the lower jaw, projecting considerably in front of the upper jaw, and running up.

TEETH.—The teeth should be large and strong, with the canine teeth or tusks wide apart, and the six small teeth in front, between the canines, in an even level row.

NECK.—The neck should be short, very thick, deep and strong, and well arched at the back.

SHOULDERS.—The shoulders should be muscular, very heavy, wide-spread and slanting outward, giving stability and great power.

CHEST.—The chest should be very broad, deep and full.

BRISKET AND BODY.—The brisket and body should be very capacious, with full sides, well rounded ribs, and very deep from the shoulders down to its lowest part, where it joins the chest. It should be well let down between the shoulders and forelegs, giving the dog a broad, low, short-legged appearance. The body should be well ribbed up behind with the belly tucked up, and not rotund.

BACK.—The back should be short and strong, very broad at the shoulders and comparatively narrow at the loins. There should be a slight fall in the back, close behind the shoulders (its lowest part), whence the spine should rise to the loins (the top of which should be higher than the top of the shoulders), thence curving again more suddenly to the tail, forming an arch (a very distinctive feature of the breed), termed "roach-back," or more correctly "wheel-back."

FORELEGS.—The forelegs should be short, very stout, straight and muscular, set wide apart, with well developed calves, presenting a bowed outline, but the bones of the legs should not be curved or bandy, nor the feet brought too close together.

ELBOWS.—The elbows should be low, and stand well out and loose from the body.

HIND LEGS.—The hind legs should be strong and muscular, and longer than the forelegs, so as to elevate the loins above the shoulders. Hocks should be slightly bent and well let down, so as to give length and strength from loins to hock. The lower leg should be short, straight and strong, with the stifles turned slightly outward and away from the body. The hocks are thereby made to approach each other, and the hind feet turned outward.

FEET.—The feet should be moderate in size, compact and firmly set. Toes compact, well split up, with high knuckles, and with short and stubby nails. The front feet may be straight or slightly out-turned, but the hind feet should be pointed well outward.

TAIL.—The tail may be either straight or "screwed" (but never curved or curly), and in any case must be short, hung low, with decided downward carriage, thick

ROYAL ALBERT

We always had a good word to say for the Bulldog, Royal Albert, whose photo appears in this issue. We saw him when he first came out at Montreal, where he stood well out from the rest of his class winning with considerable ease. This win he repeated at the last show of the Montreal Kennel Club under Mr. Lacy.

Royal Albert, C.K.C.S.B. 12471 is the property of Mr. Robert Mills, 361 Aylwin Street, Montreal, P. Que. He is a low, cloddy, short-backed dog of great quality being a combination of Prince Albert blood on his sire's side and Ch. Moston Michaels on his dam's side. He has the sour, Bulldog expression so sadly wanting in many of our modern specimens. Royal Albert has been shown on two occasions in Montreal, getting winners both times. His owner has refused several tempting offers for him and intends putting him at stud in the near future. Although little used he is already the sire of some good puppies. He is an imported dog, just turned two years and one of the best under 45 pounds in the country. His owner, Robert Mills, is a well known Bulldog man in Montreal, having resided there for the past eleven years. He hails from Oldham, near Manchester, England, and is well known to the fancy in this great Bulldog district.

Royal Albert's breeding is second to none as will be seen by his pedigree printed below.

DOGDOM IN SWITZERLAND

BY GEORGE CECIL, LONDON, ENGLAND

The dog, as in every European country, holds first place in the affections of the Swiss. The kind-hearted inhabitants of the cantons may not, like the ancient Ethiopians, who used to elect a favoured dog as their king, venerate the animal, but the engaging creature is looked upon as a friend, treated like one of the family, and occasionally pampered in a way which is inimitable to the spoiled beast's well-being. And its name is legion, for wherever one goes,

"Mongrel, puppy, whelp and hound

And cur of low degree,"

may be found.

THE SOUGHT-AFTER ST. BERNARD.

First and foremost there comes the St. Bernard, which, owing to offers from dealers, is by no means a common object in its native land. Indeed, the demand far exceeds the supply; no sooner has a litter made its welcome appearance than the emissaries of the English, German, French and Russian fanciers appear upon the scene, and bid for it, often offering a tidy figure. Amongst these people one sometimes comes across a shivering native from India, who—at the peril of breaking his caste by crossing the "black" water—has been despatched by his employer, an opulent, autocratic "Rajah," to Switzerland, with instructions to return with the finest pup that rupees can buy—or for ever to hide his diminished head. Still, a certain number of St. Bernards are to be found in the cantons, and, as the reader can well imagine, they are enormously prized by their fortunate and much-to-be-envied possessors. Indeed, every member of the household takes an interest in the important animal's toilet, each person assisting in brushing and combing operations, the punishment for naughty boys and refractory girls sometimes being that they are put in the corner with their faces to the pinewood wall while the circumspect little brothers and sisters are allowed to use the brush and comb on Caesar's thick hair. Thus is the noble tyke made to assist in pointing a moral!

TEMPESTUOUS BUT USEFUL.

The Wolf-dog (from which, it is claimed by the learned, all dogs are descended) is fairly common. This rather fierce-looking Hound dashes about the mountains, disturbing the

"feather'd warblers of the grove" in the middle of their mellifluous song, uprooting the sweet-smelling Alpenveilchen, and scaring the browsing, dun-colored cows into the middle of the next field. The tempestuous one, however, has several uses, for in his sober moments he proves to be an excellent sentinel, and, having once made friends, he is as companionable as the heart of man, woman or child could desire. The bob-tailed English Sheep-dog, a few of which are occasionally to be met with, attaches itself to the mountain guide, bearing him company on many a long and steep tramp up the precipitous mountain slopes. The Swiss children, by the way, appropriately name the quaint-looking animal "Der Hund der Keinen schwantz hat—"the dog without a tail."

THE MONGREL.

Fox Terriers, Bulldogs, Bull Terriers and Manchester Terriers are rarely to be seen, and even those which exist in Switzerland have been imported from England. Diminutive mongrels, on the other hand, are as common as in France—and quite as unattractive to look at. At the same time, the most lowly object that ever called itself a dog often has pleasant traits which endear it to everybody. A grateful, affectionate and faithful creature, it appreciates every kind word and caress it receives; and if the owner goes away, leaving poor Fido to its own devices, great will be the deserted dog's tribulation. Upon the traveller's return, there are no bounds to Fido's delight—which is almost human in its expression.

THE KURZWEIL.

Sometimes, as a special treat, a peasant-child obtains permission from its indulgent parents to adopt a dog. Poverty preventing the purchase of a presentable animal, little Mariechen begs an unconsidered mongrel from a neighbour, teaches the acquisition pretty tricks, and makes it her companion upon long journeys up and down the steep hill-side. Should she be sent from the summit of the mountain to Engleberg to purchase the family groceries her "Kurzweil" (literally, "playfellow who makes the time pass pleasantly") runs ahead, gambolling right merrily, and cutting a hundred engaging capers; and if poor Mariechen, finding the load heavy, staggers to a boulder and throws herself panting upon it, the sympathetic "Kurzweil," frisking about his tired mistress and protector, endeavors to divert her despondent thoughts. The four-footed friend, in short, is at once the child's joy, solace, hope and pride.

REAL SCHIPPERKES AND ALLEGED POODLES.

Switzerland is rich in Schipperkes and Poodles—of sorts, the last-named being of the black, white, brown and mulberry variety, and of uncertain pedigree. Cropped in the fantastic French fashion, they are more or less adored by their gratified owners, and much petted by visitors, who surreptitiously stuff them with lumps of sugar and pastry dainties. Fine ladies from London also bring their Pekingese, King Charles, and Maltese treasures, hoping, no doubt, that the pampered, overfed, spoiled darlings will benefit from the beautiful fresh mountain air and change of scene. Some, however, gorging themselves upon the rich menu furnished at the excellent hotels, die, alas! of over-eating. They are buried beneath the flowering syringa bushes—and their inconsolable mistresses shed many salt tears.

George Cecil.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Champion Cheetham Squire, C.K.C.S.B. 12307, is a brindle and white dog, excelling in substance and possessing face and skull properties seldom found even in a light weight, and almost unknown in a heavy weight, as is well illustrated by his photo which is not exaggerated.

He has that rare combination, a short face and abundance of loose skin and wrinkle, along with a skull of great length, depth and width.

His head is finished up with a wide, well turned up underjaw, plenty of cushion, and the sourest Bulldog expression possible. His eyes, ears and nose leave nothing to be desired, his tail is short, cranked and set low.

He is a low to ground dog, heavy in bone, with deep brisket and well cut up loin, making up in body every day, so that when fully matured he will be hard to fault. Above all he has that quality so rare in heavy weights, absolute soundness.

He is a proven sire of healthy, short bodied puppies that promise to hold up the reputation of their sire. Squire is particularly suited for light boned or plain faced bitches, as he comes from a short faced strain, his sire, grand sire and grand dam all excelling in this particular. His weight is 60 pounds.

Squire's show reputation is one to be envied. He has never stood second. This reputation is the more pronounced when it is understood that he has been shown at every possible show since the day he reached six months of age, choosing or avoiding neither judges nor competition, even travelling to Winnipeg to meet the best the West could bring against him, so that before he completed his seventeenth month he had reached the distinction of being an undefeated champion. His winnings include, besides many firsts, specials, and cups, the following winners: Hamilton, under Mr. A. A. Lees; Toronto Kennel Club under Mr. C. G. Hopton; Winnipeg under Mr. Mason; Canadian National Exhibition under Mr. Sam Crabtree; London under Mr. C. H. Mason.

He brings Canada the distinction of being the first Canadian bred Bulldog from a Canadian bred sire and dam to win a championship.

We purpose for February issue of Canadian Kennel Gazette strongly featuring the ever and always popular Cocker Spaniel. The Cocker Spaniel has been aptly named Canada's national dog, and we hope that Canadian breeders of the sprightly, gay little Spaniel will enable us to turn out something worthy of the breed. A number of photographs of prominent dogs, the complete Standard of the Cocker Spaniel, and much other interesting matter will go far to make this, what we hope will be the best issue of Canadian Kennel Gazette ever printed. The time is opportune to place dogs at stud, and those who have such offerings should see that they go in this issue. Any breeder who has a good photograph of a Cocker Spaniel is invited to correspond with us as to terms of insertion. The front page has already been engaged.

Mr. Geo. W. Bailey, of Ottawa, the owner of the imported smooth Fox Terrier, Clapton Varnisher, that we have always had a good word for, takes rather a novel way of making known the merits of this sterling Terrier. Mr. Bailey has donated the Clapton Varnisher Championship Trophy to the Joint Terrier Association of Canada. The trophy is for competition between Smooth Fox Terriers sired by Clapton Varnisher, and to be won outright must be won three times by same kennel or owner, though not necessarily by the same dog or bitch. Until won outright the trophy is to remain the property of the Association, but for each win a miniature cup will be presented in commemoration of the win. Perhaps it is not necessary to say that the sportsmanlike owner of Clapton Varnisher will not compete for this cup.

By the way we notice in the new stud advertisement of Clapton Varnisher sent us by the Clapton Kennels, that until May 1st, the stud fee remains at $10.00, but after this date it will be advanced to $25.00.

More than once we have referred in Gazette to the two and three sided phase of many Canadian fanciers, generally Old Country men, Canadian by adoption. We are struck with it again in recent events. Here is big Arthur Atkinson judging Canaries at the recent show in Toronto, while H. S. Tibbs is an exhibitor. The following week we find Mr. Atkinson as Secretary of the Joint Terrier Show, next week we find Mr. Tibbs a winning exhibitor at the Canadian Boston Terrier Show, with Mr. Atkinson an interested ring sider—and so it goes.

One of the juniors told us that a Mr. Ward, recently from England, who had known us twenty-four years ago, was looking for us at the Terrier show. We ran across him a little while later and knew him at once, time has dealt kindly with him. Twenty-four or twenty-five years ago Mr. Ward and his brother Eli spent a while in Canada, when we struck up a friendship that we have never forgotten. As a matter of fact Eli sent us at that time a consignment of Cavies, with which we did a good deal of winning. We hope this will catch his eye and that he will see that we have not forgotten him.

Mr. Ward is interesting himself in securing in England, a Mastiff dog for Mr. Dickinson.

Mr. E. Wrightson Thorp in sending us a clearing out announcement of the dogs in his kennel, tells us that he wants to be quite free of either selling or exhibiting, as he has received many invitations to judge. Mrs. Thorp's Poms are also included in the sale. There is a splendid opportunity here for Western breeders to pick up some good dogs already on the ground.

Mr. John Miles, of Inferno fame, is importing several Bull Terriers, including the young dog, Willowdene Buster, negotiated by Mr. Swann from Mr. Harry E. Monk of Yorkshire.

Grayston Reflector, the well known Airedale stud dog has been sold to Mr. Alker of Chico, Calif.

We understand that two shows for Good Friday have claimed dates with the Canadian Kennel Club, that of the Ontario Kennel Club for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and that of the Toronto Kennel Club for the one day, Good Friday. This of course is a mistake and no good can come of it, better one big show than two with divided interests. We hope that both clubs will look on the matter in a sportsmanlike way and come to an amicable arrangement, as was done once before under somewhat similar circumstances. We are of course entirely unbiased in this suggestion and make it both for the good of the fancy at large and those connected with it.

While the Joint Terrier Show, held in Toronto on December 30th, made a splendid beginning, it is perhaps unnecessary to say that the Committee in charge were hardly satisfied with the support afforded them by Terrier men as a whole. If the magnificent classes of Airedales had fallen down to the meagre entry in other breeds the show would have been a fiasco. We understand that eighty-seven dogs were benched, our private estimate of the number, made prior to the show, when the excellent premium list came out, was one hundred and fifty.

The show was excellently managed by Mr. Arthur Atkinson, Secretary-Treasurer, and Assistant Secretary Swann, who now have details at their finger ends, while Mr. Joseph Perkins, as Superintendent, filled his position to the satisfaction of every exhibitor. Indeed an outside exhibitor, Mr. Bailey of Ottawa, very freely voices his sentiments of those gentlemen to whom the show was entrusted.

The Dog Show Committee, Messrs. E. T. Campbell, H. Acton Fleming, Ernest Sharpe, Sam Bamford, Thos. Harlowe, Walter Sands, John H. Kenyon, John Miles, and J. F. H. Ussher, were attentive and efficient.

What an old warrior James Mortimer is! Very few of the younger men could stand his work. Just imagine leaving New York at night, arriving in Toronto in the morning, beginning judging at ten a.m., running through everything without a break until five p.m. and then leaving again for New York in the early evening.

This is what Mr. Mortimer did, no break was made for lunch, the handy sandwich being consumed in the building. Mr. Mortimer, as usual was careful in giving every dog his due and his awards met with universal satisfaction. This phrase may be somewhat stereotyped but it is nevertheless true. Our regular report leaves little more for us to say.

Mr. Laurin, who was not present at the show, is to be congratulated on the splendid win of Colne Rockley Oorang, and he had plenty to beat. The Bull Terrier bitch, runner up to Oorang is a beautiful type, clean as a whistle, nice body, good dark eye, clean head, well filled in foreface. In fact she is a credit to her noted sire the late Ch. Inferno, she is full of Inferno blood.

Mr. Walter Sand's new Wire importation, Broadway Cackler by Ch. Briar Cackler, is a long-headed one with an excellent jacket. Mr. Sands imported him as a sire and in this respect he should do excellent work.

Mr. Bailey's Clapton Varnisher was placed second to Village and St. John's Madison Magnet, failing to the winner a bit in front. Both are good, sterling Terriers. The winning bitch was Mr. E. Bailey's Wise Girl, with Mr. Geo. W. Bailey's Clapton Vivacious reserve. The Clapton Kennels were unfortunate in having Clapton Vision, a very sweet type, turned down for showing some signs of nervous chorea.

Mr. Arthur Atkinson's Oxspring Countess, that is by Donington Rebel, was the winner in wire litches. Since the show he refused an offer of seventy-five dollars for her.

Irish Terriers brought out Mr. H. Acton Fleming's new importation, Walmer Straight Flush, a medium sized one, carrying plenty of bone, a good jacket and strong foreface.

In Scotties it was Avondale Ascot in dogs and Bob Ross's new one, York Scotch Highball in bitches, she is an excellent type with a real Scotty body.

We saw many old time Terrier men, including Mr. A. A. Macdonald, whom we hope to see back in Fox Terriers again. Mr. W. P. Fraser, who judges Fox Terriers at New York, and has kindly promised to report his classes for Canadian Kennel Gazette, had more than one of the Scotties off his bench to see what he looked like. He evidently hasn't lost his old love for the canniest dog that lives.

With but one day intervening, came, on January 1st, the specialty show of the Boston Terrier Club of Canada. We are entirely justified in saying all the nice things possible of this show. We never attended a show, big or little, that was better run, every little detail was complete, from the ring numbers that are appreciated by the looker on, to the exceedingly handsome ribbons that were quite seasonable in their get-up.

The president, Mr. T. E. Milburn, was here, there and everywhere. Mr. McQuillan makes an admirable Secretary. Mr. F. R. Williams had his business as ring steward, down to a fine point, and Mr. W. A. Curry, Superintendent, looked carefully after the inside and outside requirements of the dogs.

Mr. V. E. Haywood, Detroit, Mich., who judged at the Canadian National Exhibition two years ago, was very painstaking in his awards, with which little or no quibble was to be found. There always has been, is, and always will be, some slight difference of opinion as to the merits of various close competitors. He is a wise judge who pleases himself.

Mrs. Haywood was an interested spectator at the ringside from start to finish of the judging, and it would not surprise us to learn that this clever lady is, as Harry Lauder would put it "the thicker o' the twa" in Boston lore.

One lady was unfortunate in getting that last ounce into her Toy entry, which scaled exactly twelve pounds. It was the last ounce that counted here.

Our report of the show is a complete one to which we can add little. The man from Haileybury made a well deserved win for "best in show" with Ch. Bright Eyes IV. What a perfect little animal she is, teeming with type from nose to tail. The show all round was of excellent quality, with the usual half dozen superlatives sticking prominently out.

So as to avoid future complications we might as well say here that the junior puppy class is not a class recognized by the C.K.C., and for this reason the word senior in the next class was superfluous. The C.K.C. puppy class is for dogs over six months and not exceeding twelve months, therefore the winnings in classes one and fourteen, junior puppy dogs and junior puppy bitches will remain unrecognized. It is just as well to have this plainly understood. For this reason Dynamite, the winner in the junior puppy class should not have competed for winners, though as it happened his doing so did not affect the result in any way.

ACROSS THE LINE

New York, December 18.—Lovers of good dogs, and especially those interested in Terriers, the world over, will read with regret that the champion smooth Fox Terrier, Warren Remedy, died recently at the kennels of Mr. Winthrop Rutherford, Allamuchy, N.J. All experts, who had seen this remarkable bitch, conceded her to be the best Terrier of all breeds and all times. When in the zenith of her show career, she won the cup for the best dog of all breeds at the Westminster Kennel Club shows in 1907, 1908 and 1909, a feat which has fallen to the lot of no other Terrier anywhere. Mr. Walter S. Glynn, the English expert, who judged at the Westminster show, in 1908, wrote of her in the American Kennel Gazette, "She is not only good everywhere, but superlatively good everywhere."

The famous Bull Terrier, Ch. Bloomsbury Blazer is dead, full of years. He was a true son of the old Bloomsbury blood, being by Bloomsbury Charlewood, ex. Bloomsbury Lady. He was strong in the famous Woodcote Wonder blood. While a heavy winner, he was perhaps more prominent as a sire than as a show dog, although he excelled in the latter too. Amongst his get are such famous dogs as Ch. Lamplighter, Ch. Sir Knight Blazer, Ch. Bloomsbury Monk, Ch. Lady of the Crag, Blue Blazes and a host of others.

At the A.K.C. quarterly meeting, held on Dec. 17th the committee of which Dr. J. E. DeMund is chairman, reported very fully on the show of the Ladies' Kennel Association of New Jersey, held at Atlantic City in August last. We have not room for the entire report, the gist of which is in the committee's recommendations, which are as follows:

First—That Miss Lida R. Patton, who was the alleged secretary of the association and the promotor of the Atlantic City show, be suspended for the term of sixty days.

Second—That George F. Foley, who acted as superintendent of said show and who permitted the alteration of the entry form, be censured and warned against similar conduct at any future shows that may engage him in any official position. Mr.

Foley's offense is mitigated by his confession to this committee.

Third—That Mrs. M. Thorpe and B. F. Lewis, Jr., the judges, who decided an award by the toss of a coin, be severely censured and warned against a like occurrence. The proper plan to pursue when two judges cannot agree is to call a referee.

Fourth—That M. R. Guggenheim, the owner, and A. Delmont, the handler of the dog whose entry form was changed after the close of the show, be disciplined as follows: Mr. Guggenheim be removed as a delegate to the American Kennel Club, and Mr. Delmont warned against a second offense. The fact that Delmont confessed his guilt and further appeared before your committee at personal discomfiture and expense by leaving his dogs at the Toronto show in care of another, and traveling to New York and return to Toronto, in order to obey the command of your committee, is considered in a measure as a mitigation, hence the warning.

Fifth—The offense of Mr. Foley and Mr. Delmont are mitigated by the fact that they acted under the advice of a former official of the American Kennel Club, who interfered in an unwarranted manner with the show and show officials.

Sixth—That B. F. Lewis is censured for showing dogs as agent at a show at which his son was a judge, said son being an employe in the kennel at which such dogs were boarded.

YORKSHIRE TERRIER CLUB MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Yorkshire Terrier Club of America was held in Boston on December 4, and after the meeting was called to order by President T. G. Collins the report of the November meeting was read. The club voted cups to Fort Orange and Newark shows, open to members only of the Yorkshire Terrier Club of America, after which applications for membership were read from Mrs. Edward Spencer, New York City; Mrs. B. K. Archibald, New York City; and they were duly elected. The election of officers for 1913 was then held which resulted as follows: President, Mr. Albert Woods, Boston, Mass.; first vice-president, Mrs. G.

E. Peabody, Medford, Mass.; second vice-president, Mr. Thomas Lomasney, Boston, Mass.; secretary, Mr. G. E. Peabody, Medford, Mass.; treasurer, Mr. James Macdonald, Lynn, Mass. Trustees, Mr. T. G. Collins, Mrs. T. Lomasney, Mr. Philip Goldberg. Bench Show Committee, Mr. Bert Wood, Mrs. G. E. Peabody, Mrs. T. Lomasney. Delegate to A. K. C., Mr. G. E. Peabody.

G. E. Peabody, Secretary.

Mr. Harry Lacy's friends, and we are one of them, are congratulating him on his complete exoneration by the A.K.C. The charge against him was one conceived in iniquity, and in our opinion should never have had any consideration or publicity. The report of the committee on investigation closes with thanks to Mr. Lacy of the American Stock-Keeper and Mr. Skinner of Field and Fancy, for valuable information and suggestions in regard to show and other matters, rather putting the shoe on the other foot.

From all accounts Philadelphia show was but an echo of many great shows previously held in the "City of Brotherly Love." The prize list was on the percentage plan and did not draw an entry. This does not mean that there were no good dogs present but that there was not enough of them. King Oorang was the winning Airedale. Donald Munro's successor, Blewitt, lead some of Mr. Rutherford's Smooths to victory, while Donald himself went to the top with Mrs. Raney's Canejo Radical, the new Wire Fox Terrier. Mr. D. E. Lynn's Lynnfield Jessica was the winner in wire bitches.

A LADY SUPERINTENDENT.

Will you note that the Lenox Dog Show Association will hold their show Sept. 12th, 1913 and that I am to superintend it. I believe it is the first time a New England woman has had the nerve to do this so I hope you will all help me as much as possible.

Sincerely,

Margaret Brigham, Supt.

Grafton Kennels, North Grafton, Mass.

Here is the opportunity ladies are waiting for.—Ed.

A PAGE FOR LADIES

Edited by a Lady

Miss Maud Kennedy of Hempstead, L.I., has imported a crack Welsh Terrier bitch, Ch. Senny Model. She is reported to be about the best bitch of the breed exhibited in England of late years and was a frequent winner on the other side.

Mrs. Mary Winthrop Turner of the Never-Never Land Kennels, advises us of the shipment to Mrs. W. D. Chisholm of Wellington, Ont., of a very nice five months male French Bull puppy, by the well known Ch. Gamin's Riquet, conceded to be one of the very best French Bulls in America. Mrs. Chisholm's puppy is registered with the A.K.C. as Poupon of Never-Never Land, is a beautiful, dark brindle in color and should mature into an eighteen to twenty pound specimen. He has a very short spiked tail, rounded bat ears, is exceedingly heavy in bone, with nice head and body.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Brigham has lost her famous Scottish Terrier bitch, Ch. Smarty Girl. She passed away directly after whelping nine puppies, of which no less than eight were dogs. Smarty Girl was a good show bitch and an excellent producer.

Mrs. Hartridge of Calgary, Alta., has recently bought quite a large number of miniature Poms. in England and Scotland. They are in fact so good and so valuable that Mr. Hartridge crossed the water to bring them back to their far Western home. Nidsdale Sable Atom, Mrs. Hartridge's orange Pom, he considers the most perfect Pom he had seen. Mrs. Hartridge has been fortunate to have three lovely litters by this little dog from winning bitches, and five other females have been mated to him. It is evident there will be no dearth in Poms in Calgary in the near future.

Of the Pomeranian Show that opened on January 10th, the American Stock-Keeper says:

"The Pomeranian show, while it bids fair to be a fine exposition of the American bred in this perky breed, is not expected to be so numerous in entries as last year when Mr. Hopton climbed on the woollack. The Pom is having the fight of his life in this country to keep the Peke from usurping his proud position, indeed, as a general proposition, he is not doing as well as he might be. This is a good deal owing to lack of push on the part of those who have the dogs and might be remedied by greater publicity. Last year there were 175 actual dogs which is wonderful, but it is expected that this year the show will run about 150 which nobody should grumble at."

Perhaps Mr. Lacy has inside information. As far as Canada is concerned the hardy little Pom is more than holding its own and is likely to continue doing so.

The same paper referring to the Philadelphia Boston Terrier Show says:

When you receive a premium list that proclaims such prizes as $15, $10, $5 and $3 in every class, two puppy classes and all, it looks like fussiness to grumble if every one is not treated alike. Here there is the Philadelphia list, a Jim Dandy from the start with junior dog and the same for bitches right along to the open 17 to 22, in each sex, then when we want to encourage the big ones for the sake of the future of the breed, they (the 22 to 28) are sidetracked with 40 and so on per cent. of fees, along with the variety classes and the toys! We look at the principle of the thing. So long as the three weights are allowed by the standard whatever their advisability may be, they are each entitled to the same provision, and if there is not enough money to go on the $15 first prize order, sing smaller in the other weights and even up all round. To make a distinction against any Boston over 22 pounds is a detriment to the breed in view of the splendid classes seen at the Boston Terrier Club shows. Where would the breed have been last year and the year before but for the big ones?

If distinction is to be made then let us commence with the uniformity plan and simplify matters and bring all classification down to 16 to 22, then we should have a minimum and a maximum weight that would be within reason and not as at present admitting of a variation of sixteen pounds which is out of all reason and a distinct detriment to the breed. If toys under 12 pounds are not considered as Boston Terriers does it not seem ridiculous that one weighing a quarter of a pound over 12 pounds, is a Boston, one day, then losing flesh a trifle is not a Boston but goes as a toy. When one comes right down to facts—and time will show that it is imperative if there are to be the good sturdy Bostons that our shows have demonstrated are absolutely necessary—anything under sixteen pounds is not a Boston and do away with the toys. As well have toy Fox Terriers. So long as the toys are encouraged so long will a certain element be attracted to the little ones because they come under the mistaken category of "cunning." In every breed but the Boston where there is weight specification, the range is about six pounds, notably the Cocker which used to be ten pounds and was brought within the six pound range to secure greater uniformity. This little sermon is not aimed at the Philadelphia boys for we think they have done splendidly, but the idea of discrimination in the weights at the wrong end of the line. The idea of trying to arrange their specials so that the few good dogs do not get all the cream is a laudable one for a specialty club to pursue.

There may be a crumb of comfort here for the lady who showed a twelve pound Toy Boston at the recent show of the Canadian Boston Terrier Club. In this case also it was the last quarter of an ounce that caused the mischief. We agree with Mr. Lacy where he says, that to make a distinction against a Boston over twenty-two pounds is a detriment to the breed. Some of these days we will wake up to the fact that the almost invariable placing of winners on light weight specimens is not helping the game. The bigger a dog is, in any breed, the more pronounced any defect. A defect which would be almost unnoticed in a little one becomes prominent in a big one. It is largely a matter of proportion and this should be considered.

The most famous Pomeranian of America, Ch. Offley Wee Blackie, has been sold to a Chicago lady. This is a three and one half pound, imported, black dog that

What a wonderful production is the magnificent Christmas number of Our Dogs. The supplement in itself is a canine album, and all for a six penny bit (twelve cents). The Totteridge Fox Terriers are a splendid looking lot, and the magnificent engravings of the famous Silver Bulldog Kennels are eminently classic. We do not appear to be able to get such detail work on this side. From our Canadian point of view the Cocker Spaniels appear high on the leg and rather Settery looking. This breed has changed greatly since the old Obo days. There are several beautiful pages of Pekingese, possibly the most popular Toy is England to-day. As an old admirer of the Newfoundland the splendid picture of Ch. Gipsy Duke immediately caught our eye, we don't see his kind here.

The Airedale pictures are beautiful, though many of them appear to be stripped to the skin. West Highland White pictures give us a good idea of what is wanted in this bright Terrier, that needs but to be better known in Canada to become fashionable. The Bull Terriers seem to excel in shape and position of eye, judging by Mr. Fred North's quartette.

We spent two full evenings looking through this number and don't half know it yet. No use telling us that the tight little island is effete, in dogdom anyway. Congratulations all round to the producers.

To Trim or Not to Trim

The (English) Fox Terrier Club annual dinner gave several judges the opportunity of stating their opinions on this question, one that is stirring all doggy ranks in Britain. Mr. Francis Redmond, Mr. Walter Glynn and others high in authority spoke on the subject and direct to the point.

In responding to the toast of the judges Mr. Glynn said:

He had been told that he had given a "faked" dog a prize; if so, it was done inadvertently. He was disappointed at the texture of the coats of most of the dogs he had judged. The Kennel Club, he continued, some time ago passed through a crisis, and were now faced with another in the "trimming" question, which they would also weather successfully, because they were imbued with a desire to do what was right and best in the interests of dogs and the fancy, without fear or favour. (Applause.)

"The Kennel Club" was proposed by the President in most complimentary terms, and in replying, Mr. F. Redmond, for the first time, broke silence a little on the "trimming" question. He admitted the importance of it, and was of opinion that it was by no means settled. It was, he said, idle to deny that all breeds of dogs, with the exception of a very small percentage, were "trimmed," and had been so trimmed for years. Indeed, he would go so far as to say that no one could successfully exhibit a kennel of Wire-haired Terriers unless they were trimmed to a greater or less degree, as they required, either by the owner or some expert. The great question, of course, was where to draw the line. That was the problem the Kennel Club had to solve, and it was no use blinking the question. As they knew, the Club had now called in the aid of the specialist clubs to help in its solution. (Applause.) In conclusion, he said he was happy to be amongst them. He had been associated with the Fox Terrier Club from its inception by Mr. Harding Cox thirty-five years ago, and he was one of the few survivors among its founders, which included Mr. Robert Vicary and the late Mr. F. Burbidge, and, later, Mr. J. C. Tinne. (Applause.)

Mr. Redmond proposed the health of the Chairman in felicitous terms, and Mr. Tinne, in replying, pathetically described his connection with the Fox Terrier Club as being now his only doggy association, and which, he said, was a real solace to him, as it was reminiscent of the many happy years he had spent in the pursuit of Fox Terrier breeding and exhibiting. (Applause.)

Mr. Theo Marples said he had looked forward to the Club's annual general meeting as likely to furnish a veritable volcano in response to the invitation of the Kennel Club, and yet what happened? Of all men, Mr. Glynn proposed that the Club should make no recommendation, and thus the "trimming" baby was "still born." (Laughter.) He next looked for extra "copy" at the show, where he expected to see

Mr. Glynn slaughter the over-trimmed dogs as mercilessly as the Bulgarians had done the Turks; but to his surprise not a single dog was left out by Mr. Glynn for being over-trimmed, and no reference was made to there being any over-trimming at all, that we heard of. Indeed, so far as the judging went at the show, no one would imagine for a moment that there was any such thing on the tapis as "trimming," which has so agitated the kennel world of late. (Applause.) Mr. Marples contended that it did exist, however, and they all knew it only too well. He said it was so important and deep-rooted that it could not be glossed over or burked. He thought the K. C. Committee, as a concrete body, not representing all the "trimmed" breeds, had acted wisely in referring the solution of the subject to a special general meeting, which had called in the aid of the specialist clubs, who, if they would but tackle it, knew best what preparation each breed required, and what was legitimate. He hoped a sound, rational, and fair solution of the question would be found. (Applause.)

has won continually since he came out first at the Westminster Kennel Club Show in 1911. At the recent Toy Spaniel Show in New York he beat anything in sight.

Mrs. Carlin, very famous in Pomeranian circles in England, left on the Campania, December 28th to spend the winter on this side. Mrs. Carlin expects to return to judge the English Pomeranian Club Show in London on March 19th. This lady brought with her several high-class Poms., including Ch. Eastney Queen (an orange sable), Offley Dairyman (cream), and a good one. Little Grist (chocolate), a daughter of Ch. Offley Blackthorn.

Why do not Canadian ladies, who are interested in dogs, send us little items of news of matters going on in their kennels? We have to depend largely on outsiders for matter for this page, which is not as it should be.

The third annual show of the Pekingese Club of America, held on Dec. 17th was a marked success. One hundred and sixty-eight dogs were brought before Mrs. Sealy Clark, who crossed the ocean to officiate in the ring. Mrs. Clark said, while there was a lot of "rubbish" exhibited, that there were also several really good specimens. Nowata Chum of Egham was placed at the head of the dog division, he also won the cup for best in either sex. Reports would indicate that Mrs. Clark prefers a small dog, rightly or wrongly.

Champion Grayston Growler

Through an error that we regret, the word "Champion" was omitted in the ad. of this famous Airedale that appears on the back cover page of this issue of Gazette. Champion Grayston Growler is the dog's proper title.

North Vancouver Show

The first semi-annual show of the North Vancouver Kennel Club was held in the Fishery Building, Hastings Park, North Vancouver, B.C., on Saturday, December 7th. The judges were as follows: T. P. McConnell, Victoria, B.C., all Setters, Pointers, Cocker Spaniels, Field Spaniels and Irish Water Spaniels; John L. Bamford, Coleraine Co., Derry, Ireland, Airedale, Fox, Irish and Welsh Terriers; J. J. Jackson, Edmonds, B.C., Collies and Old English Sheep Dogs; Theed Pearse, Vancouver, B.C., St. Bernards, Bulldogs, Boston Terriers, Pomeranians, Toys, Hounds and all breeds, not assigned to other judges.

About one hundred and seventy-five dogs were entered, a remarkable showing for a one day show. The sporting classes turned out well, especially Cocker Spaniels, and English Setters. Collies were tight, Bulldogs fairly good classes, Airedales good with Pandora Queen winning right through in bitches, Kootenay Kennels, Kootenay Chinook taking the same position in dogs. Bostons and Fox Terriers made a nice showing, especially wires in the latter. There were many good representatives in other breeds.

in whisker, which bespeaks a soft coat. Broadway Crackler, the winner, and only other wire dog shown is a good imported one. He should make a good stud dog, good head with a nice eye and expression and a real hard wire coat. In puppy bitches Oxspring Countess won from the same owner's Dollie, the former is good in body and head but soft in coat and bad ear carriage, the latter is but fair, short in muzzle. These were the only two shown.

Bull Terriers numbered about a dozen. In dogs there were no puppies or novices. Pimlico, a big dog, good in head, well sprung in rib but in poor shape, won with Kim, good in body and tail, thick in head and full in eye, second, Mr. Miles' Inferno Buster though entered did not arrive in time to show and was replaced by his Bumper, a nicely set up Terrier, flat in rib, bad ears, good head and eye. Open was a repeat. Puppy bitches was won by Princess Nordica, a good lightweight, has not the well filled foreface of Inferno Queen, but is a nice one, more mature, good body and very nice head and expression. Queen placed third has an excellent head and true expression. Inferno Marie, second, a nice clean headed one, small eye, a very nice little bitch. Limit and open brought out Princess Patricia the winner, with Dufferin Venus second. Patricia is a real good one, a clean, nice headed bitch, full in face and nice eye, good in front. Venus is a good Terrier but is showing age. Patricia won the special for the second best dog in show and special for best bitch.

Irish Terriers were few. Walmer Blackthorn, the only junior shown, is a good headed one, on the big side, good sound color and good foreface. Dandy, the only entry in novice is but a fair one. Open brought out Quarrywood Commander as the winner, a nice headed one, might be better in eye, good body and front, but stripped of all his coat. Quarrywood Rory, second, fails in skull and eye. In bitches we had Walmer Straight Flush as the winner, a nice one, good in front of eye, straight in front, off in shape of ears, very nice skull. Second, Killarney Flirt, a big one, nice, wants fixing up. Third, Quarrywood Biddy, like the winning dog stripped of all her coat.

Scottish Terriers were a nice quality class, Avondale Ascot, the winning dog, is a nice cobby one, hard in coat, nice in head, expression and eye. Second Argyle Lad, a nice cart horse type of Terrier. Beecher's Brook, good cobby bodied one, on good legs and feet, now a bit strong in skull. In bitches the only puppy was Clifton Bonnie, immature but a likely looking one. Limit was won by Rolleston Wee One, good in bone and eye a nice typical Scottie. Second, Drumclaph Jade a nice one, with a good skull. In open Mr. Bob Ross' new one, York Scotch High Ball, was first, a nice coated one, cobby, good in expression, a real Scot.

Three nice Yorkshires, two Toys and two Bostons rounded off the show.

The Joint Terrier Show

The first Annual Show of the newly organized Joint Terrier Association of Canada was held in Toronto, Dec. 30th, 1912. There were some seventy-eight dogs present and while we were to a certain extent, disappointed in the small entry the association made a good start and should receive the support of all Terrier fanciers. Mr. Jas. Mortimer placed the awards. Mr. Arthur Atkinson, the Secretary, had everything in good order and the show was well run. The ring steward, Mr. Waters, did excellent work.

Airedales made up nearly half the show and were classy right from start to finish, the dogs themselves are reviewed in a special report by Mr. Jos. Perkins.

Smooth Fox Terriers brought out about a dozen dogs and bitches. First in puppy, Wharnccliffe Crack, is a big one, high up, but good in head and eye, two Wharnccliffe Billie, also a big one, too soft in coat. In novice dogs Richmond Jack was first, a good coated nice dog, fails in eye and expression. Two, Weatherbit, a fair one. Limit brought out a new one in Village and St. John's Madison Magnet, a long bodied one and not quite right in feet but good in head and Terrier expression, second, Clapton Varnisher, good in head and eye but a bit heavy in shoulder and not quite right in front.

Broadway Doner, reserve in open and limit, is nice in body, legs and feet, but thick in head.

In bitches, Clapton Vivacious won in the puppy class, a good one in head, bit weak behind. Wise Girl, the Novice winner is a bit long in back, but a nice headed one. Rolleston Bessie, third, a big bitch, very fair body, plain in head. Limit and open were repeat.

Wire haired dogs had Donington Boy in the puppy class, a good one, high up, nice, lengthy, good head, but soft

AIREDALES AT THE JOINT TERRIER ASSOCIATION SHOW.

BY JOS. PERKINS.

The Airedales at our recent show were I believe the finest lot I ever saw at any Canadian show. There were some thirty-two entries all of highest order, especially the young stuff.

Mr. Dalzeil of Quebec sent up a nice one. The most noted dog in the show was Mr. Jos. Laurin's Colne Rockley Oorang, this dog although not in best of shape not only cleaned up the Airedale classes but went back to Montreal with the president's cup, for best dog in show, either sex, any age. Those of us who had looked for a pretty tussle between the winner and Ch. Grayston Growler were disappointed as the latter dog was not in condition and did not appear. Another Airedale that attracted much attention was Mr. J. W. Bain's recent importation Clonmel Master Crack. This dog looks like a real good one but it was asking too much of any dog to step from crate to show ring after a week's journey.

One of the pleasing features was to see Mr. Black, an old time breeder, back in harness after some years absence.

Mr. J. W. Bain's Uncle Sam broke loose and was lost the day before the show and was not recovered in time to bench.

I would like to commend Mr. Waters, the ring steward, on the admirable way he handled his first show in Canada.

The puppy dog class brought out some good ones. The winner, Birchcliff Royal, is a dandy grand bone and color with a nice clean head and put down in good condition. The second and third are full brothers, very much the same, both have fine heads, second wins on condition. In junior dogs the winner was same as in puppy, second place going to Grayston Gambler, a good one not as finished as winner, the puppy winner was also good enough to capture the first in novice class. Second place went to Sir Masco a good fronted dog, nice head but somewhat rough.

In the limit class Colne Rockley Oorang, too well known to need further comment, won the premier place. Tintern Tecumseh followed the winner, he has a nice head and good eye. Mr. Bain's importation, Clonmel Master Crack, was not over effects of his long journey and had to take third place. Open dogs same as limit.

The new face in breeders and Canadian bred dogs was Mr. Dalzeil's Arcadie Marvel, a big boned strong dog, he got third place in both classes.

The puppy bitches were fine, the whole class were of the highest order, the winner, Rockley Logical Point, is a real classy bitch. She has a beautiful head, nice bone and an excellent coat, she also won special for best puppy in show. The second, Morning's Dawn, is a litter sister to first and also a real good one, though not in as good shape as the winner. The third, Moorside Daisy, is another good one. Junior bitches brought out Park-dale Preface, a nice bitch, too well known to need any comment.

The new face in limit and open bitches was Walnut Crystal, a nice bitch, good back and fine color.

Hamilton Notes

If Mr. T. O. Lucas was of a boastful nature I am sure no one could blame him as he has good grounds to boast. He has a kennel of Red Cocker Spaniels (the darkest of reds), that would make the average Cocker fancier envious. With twelve brood bitches and three stud dogs, all of a uniform size and color, to say nothing about the youngsters, they make a picture worth going miles to see. We do not know of any one who raises as many Cockers as Mr. Lucas and finds no trouble whatever in disposing of them just as soon as they are old enough to ship. He does not attend the dog shows, his time being taken up with his regular business. The foundation of this kennel was laid right to commence with, being from the Champion Hamilton Jack and King Raven strain. Hamilton Jack was one of the very best in his day as a show dog. Also a stud of the highest order, his get having the correct Cocker expression and the merry movement which is so sadly lacking in reds to-day.

A little suggestion might fit right in here. Any one having Hamilton Jack blood should look after it and get the best out of it while it lasts. The writer has handled a few Cockers in his day but the easiest sellers were always of the above breeding, there was something about their soft bright eyes and long, low down ears that seemed to appeal to every one.

We hope in the near future Mr. Lucas will have more time at his disposal. Possibly then he may turn his attention to show matters, where I am sure he would be welcomed most heartily.

Some person who could hardly be called human has taken a mania for destroying dogs, belonging to residents living in the neighborhood of upper James Street. Sol Mintz Terrier was poisoned two weeks ago and last week John Gartshore's Irish Terrier met the same fate. Last summer another dog belonging to Mr. Gartshore was destroyed in the same underhand manner. Evidently the scoundrel who is perpetrating this outrage on "man's best friend" means to poison every dog in the neighborhood. The writer hopes that the irresponsible, dastardly coward will be found out and run out of town. Such acts as these might have been excusable during the rabies' scare two or three summers ago, but now any one indiscriminately destroying valuable dogs must certainly be conscienceless and inhuman and if discovered his punishment should be worse than horse whipping.

Mr. John White, of Hempstead, L.I., has the sympathy of his Hamilton friends at the misfortune he had in losing eight of his field trial dogs. Mr. White was taking forty-two Setters and Pointers from Hempstead, L.I., to Thomasville, N.C., to take part in the Field Trials at Waynesboro, Ga. The dogs were all right at Washington but after leaving there baggage was piled on the dog crates and the heat turned on. When Mr. White went to look after his charges he found eight were dead and eighteen nearly suffocated. The Southern Railway will be sued for damages. We hope he will get good measure as the above gentleman is white through and through.

That there are women haters we know but they usually get wise and quit and there are dog haters, lots of them, and some of them repent. It is of the latter that I would like to say a few words about. The case in point that is so pronounced in change of front with Mr. J. J. McQuarrie that I think it is too good to keep.

No doubt readers of the Gazette have often heard it said by some one that they would not take the best dog living to keep. Any one who has had anything to do with getting a dog show in shape will know what it means, as I know. They have heard the above remarks, many times, more particularly, perhaps, when you are looking for donations and strike the dog hater who has no use for man's best friend in any way. The writer has had a little to do with the show business and has one case in particular where he and the secretary of a pending show called on this well known merchant who at that time was certainly a genuine dog hater, otherwise a very generous fellow, who always did something for us but not the dog. This was some years ago when the Gore Kennel Club took up the wreck of the Hamilton Kennel Club and pulled things together and made good against a stiff proposition. But what a change has taken place! About a year ago by some means Mr. McQuarrie became owner of a real good Boston Terrier and to-day he is one of the most enthusiastic owners I know of. No matter when you see him he has always something to say about the wonderful little bitch and it is only a few days since he told me that money could not buy her, and he meant it. This may not be of interest to your readers but being so familiar with the case and such a decided change that it is amusing to say the least. I hope some day to have the pleasure of having the editor of this paper seeing and hearing for himself. Whenever we meet Mr. McQuarrie we have a good laugh at the rebukes he used to hand out to every one who would waste valuable time conducting a bench show.

This goes to show very plainly how we all make mistakes and should never be too sure of our ground as one can never tell how soon we may be filling the other fellow's shoes.

What the Hamilton entries at the Terrier Show at Toronto lacked in numbers made good in quality. Mr. Arthur Ellison's imported Scotch Terrier dog, Avondale Ascot, went through to winners, taking down the silver cup for best in show, and incidentally beating the American champion, Beechers Brook.

Mr. W. M. Clendenning with his eight months old Scotch Terrier, Clifton Bonnie won 1st in puppy, novice and limit classes and went to reserve in winners.

Specialty shows are just what are wanted, to break the monotony between the regular dog shows which are very limited. They also give the dog more attention not having to wait so long to be introduced to the ever welcome bath and brush.

The Boston Terrier Club Show

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada held what was by far their best show on January 1st at Toronto. Some fifty-five Bostons were benched and the quality was really good, some noted cracks being present.

The show was indeed well run and all credit is due President Milburn, Secretary McQuillan, and a few of the committee who had the affairs in charge. The ring was kept well supplied and although the judging did not start till 2 o'clock, everything went through without cessation. The long list of specials, awarded in the evening, was a tedious one to go through and it was half past ten before the last one was allotted. The prize ribbons were the best we have seen and were seasonable. The catalogue was nicely gotten up and was correct. The cups offered made a beautiful display and contained many valuable trophies.

Mr. V. E. Haywood, of Detroit, placed the awards, and was well pleased with the dogs brought before him.

Mr. Deitscher's, of Buffalo, Ch. Rexonian won out for best dog in show beating Mr. Otto Knapp's Wampagne Prince. Rexonian is a typical Boston, sound, good in body and nice in head. He well deserved his win. He was entered in the class for stud dog and two of his get only so did not compete against Prince in the open class. Mr. Knapp's Bright Eyes IV. took the specials for best dog or bitch and for best bitch. She is a sweet little one, clean in head and muzzle, nicely marked, and nice in body, good front, might be improved in stifle.

Puppy dogs brought out Dynamite who won easily in the competition, a very fair one, nicely marked, second Bill Shongo, loses as he has a cast over one eye which he seems to be losing since we saw him last. Good body and tail, shows well. Bon Ton a fair one.

Puppy dogs 6 to 12 months was won by Rexonian Kid, good in back, and body, very nice head, Somerset Lazy Boy second, strong in back, compact in body, a poor shower and he is weak in muzzle. Oxonian Rex is a nice bodied Terrier, fails in cheek, legs and feet. Green dogs 12 and not exceeding 28 pounds brought out a new one in Peter, winning third, he fails in foreface.

Novice dogs, 12 to 17 pounds was won by Mr. Milburn's importation, Totem Boy, clean cut, good in body, nice head and markings, but grubby in muzzle and cheek, spike tail. In limit, Blondy Hooker was a new face, he is a nice one in body but lacks skull and expression, Onadaga is a small, good one but not in show shape, thin and would not show. Open, 12 to 17, brought out Mr. Knapp's Wampagne Prince, the winning boy, a good compact dog, good in markings, deep in muzzle, clean head, wrong in stifle which throws him off in movement of hind quarters. Second, Picktime Glencoe, defeated Totem Boy in muzzle, being squarer, the latter is better in body, back and tail, Glencoe being gay-tailed. Ted Shongo was placed reserve, a distinct Terrier type, liked by some, but of a different type to the winner. A clean cut dog, well marked light brindle in color, clean in head, good in body and tail, he could do with more depth of chest.

Novice, 17 to 22 pounds, brought a new one in the third prize winner, Clifton Rex, a fair one, coarse, off in marking of face. Limit, 17 to 22, brought out Clifton Yankee Doodle and Peach, placed first and second. Both lack muzzle, the winner is a nicely marked one and more matured. In open Fitzherbert was third, big, and lacks foreface.

Novice, 22 to 28, was won by Shongo Boy, a white dog, clean and well set up. Oxonian Rex is a nice bodied one but not up to the winner in legs and feet. In limit Sam Shongo was placed first, a clean cut heavyweight, well set up and a good shower, good body and tail, a bit lippy, half white face.

Puppy bitches, 6 to 9 months, first Kingston Girl, wins well in this company, a fair Terrier. Princess Pat and Patricia but fair, both bad in face.

Puppy bitches, 9 to 12 months, was won by Rexella, clean in head, neck and shoulders, nicely marked and good body, second Clifton Fern, third, Kingston Girl. Green bitches, 12 to 28 pounds, was won by Bessie II., a nice well set up one, not as much Terrier type as the second, Conewango Belle, but weak in muzzle. Novice, 12 to 17 pounds, brought out a nice one in Lady Tireless, a poor shower, but a fine, clean headed one, nice in eye and body. Second was Pretty Bessie II., and third Clifton Fern. In limit, 12 to 17, Kenilworth Dolly Logan, was placed second to Lady Tireless, she is a nice headed one, well marked, but is nursing puppies and not in shape. Open 12 to 17 brought out the winning bitch, Ch. Bright Eyes IV., a clean headed one, good in eye, well coupled up body, straight in front, might be better in stifle. Second Pretty Bessie II., three, Lady Tireless. Novice, 17 to 22 first was Revilo Girl best in face, second, Somerset Nettie, better in feet and legs but showing in whelp, half white face, third, Conewango Belle, on the Terrier type. Limit and open, 17 to 22, was a repeat. In 22 to 28 pounds Sullivan's Lady was placed the winner. She is a nicely marked bitch. Second, Victoria Lill, is better in front. Third, Miss Velma, bad in shoulders and coarse. A nice Toy was shown in Lady Margery.

Lady Verna, a typical Boston, good in color, compact in body, nice in head and eye, was entered only in the class for brood bitch and too of her get. She is a good one.

THE BOSTON TERRIER SHOW.

A line from the Judge.

I did not do as much for you as I would have liked to do owing to the fact that the classes came in so fast that it gave me but little time between.

There are two classes however that I am going to review for you now, if it's too late it will do no harm. Class 6, open dogs, 12 to 17 lbs., would make any of us sit up and take notice. Wampagne Prince, not having the best of hind legs scored over Picktime Glencoe in length of body, head and bone. Glencoe rather too Terrier to suit me, but beat Totem Boy in muzzle markings, more expression and a good shower.

Totem Boy won over Ted Shongo in color, better stationed, better body, Shongo being rather too high stationed. But he is a good mover and some might have placed him higher up.

Then the brace class, which brought out Ch. Bright Eyes IV., and Wampagne Prince, Ch. Revilo Beauty and Picktime Glencoe, Ch. Rexonian and Lady Verna.

My giving first to the first named was more on account of Bright Eyes whom I regard as one with but few faults.

To choose between the next two was as hard a task as I ever had but I thought Ch. Revilo Beauty enough better than Ch. Rexonian to make up what Glencoe lost to Lady Verna.

Sincerely yours,

V. E. Haywood.

CH. LYNNFIELD SALEX.

Champion Lynnfield Salex, whose ad. we are printing in this issue, is well known in Canada, having won everything under Mr. Francis Redmond at Toronto, who said that he was one of the best coated wires he ever put his hand on. Salex came out as a puppy under Mr. Vicary at New York, doing a lot of winning and Mr. Vicary's report of the show said that he was a great Terrier and advised Mr. Lynn not to show him again until he was about eighteen months old. Mr. Lynn felt that he could not win prizes keeping him home. So Alf. Delmont took him around the circuit and beat such well known Terriers as Ch. Live Wire, Ch. Johnny Canuck, Ch. Corn Cob, Ch. Kenmore Footman, Ch. Wire Result, Ch. Live Rail, Third Rail, Vickery Quick-sand, Ch. Member Sportsman, and many others, under such judges as Mr. Redmond, Mr. Mortimer, Mr. Nicholls, Mr. Vicary, Mr. Thomas, Mrs. Mayhew, Mr. Albright and others. He is the sire of the 1912 New York, Chicago, Plainfield, St. Louis, Devon, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Monmouth, Batavia, Boston puppy winners.

TERRIER NOTES FROM ACROSS THE LINE.

At the specialty show, held at the Lasalle Hotel, in Chicago, last week, Fox Terriers were a new feature, this being the first time Fox Terriers were ever shown at any specialty show, held west of New York. The Vickery Kennels won in the wires and that good sportsman, Mr. Ingerswen, took care of all the blues in smooths. The new wires which the Vickerys just imported made their first appearance in America at this show, and St. Giles Revoke went down to defeat, being beaten by his kennel mate, Vickery Quicksand, who is a nice little dog with good legs, feet and good coat, short back and would take some stopping if his head was longer. He always shows for his life.

St. Giles Revoke is a long headed dog with no Fox Terrier expression, has a long back, fair in legs and feet and a nice shower. Vickery Comedian is a heavy marked dog with good length of head, is long enough in body and not any too good in legs and feet.

The Vickerys won in the bitch classes with Vickery Spring Girl, Sepia and Spring Maid. Spring Girl is a very nice bitch with good length of head, good legs, feet and coat. Sepia is a quality bitch with grand coat, good length of head, good legs and feet.

In the smooths Mr. Ingerswen won with Niola Actor, Niola Invader, and Niola Goldleaf. These dogs are well known having been shown by Alf. Delmont around the circuit and at the Toronto Exhibition.

Mrs. R. A. Rauney of New York, has bought the Wire Haired Fox Terrier, Resurrection, from Alf. Delmont.

This dog was known in England as Legram Resurrection and was owned by Tom Ashton. Donald Monroe, Mrs. Rauney's kennel manager, put the deal through.

It is reported that Alf. Delmont is importing a Wire dog that he will show at all the leading shows starting at the big New York exhibition.

The Fox Terrier fanciers of Canada should support Mr. Fraser who is judging the Fox Terriers at New York show. Mr. Fraser is well known among the fanciers on this side of the border and there is no doubt but that he will draw a large entry.

Geo. G. Moore has bought the Irish Terrier Bulls Eye from Alf. Delmont. Bulls Eye took winners at the last Toronto show under Mr. Houliker. Mr. Moore, who is a breeder of fast horses, will send Bulls Eye to his farm at St. Clair. He is also the owner of that good bitch, Dromore Beauty.

It is reported that Chicago parties have asked Jack Holgate to put a price on Botanic Demon, his great Irish Terrier.

PIT BULL TERRIERS.

Regarding the awards of the Western Canada Kennel Club Show held in Winnipeg, February 7, 8, 9, 10, 1912, I notice in the last March issue of the Gazette that the so called "Pit" Bull Terrier had a class and was exhibited at the show. I am a breeder of that strain of dogs and would be pleased to have official advice regarding the exhibiting of them at dog shows throughout Canada, their recognition as a breed, with the C.K.C. and I for one know of several other breeders of the same dog, who would like very much to join the C.K.C. and register our dogs with the Canadian society, if we can have that privilege.

If you would kindly look up Frisco II., 12541, you will observe him as a Pit Bull Terrier, bred by myself, registered as a Bull Terrier. Frisco II.'s sire Young Frisco, a pit dog, he by Champion Dan, winner of 11 Pit battles, etc. On his dam's side, Buzzells Witch, ex. Buzzell's Roughhouse, etc. All dogs and bitches, registered in the A.K.C. or Pit Bull Terriers Breeders' Association Stud Book, Inc., with Pit records and called the best or one of the best strains of fighting dogs in the world. Now, I am not looking for a dog fight, Mr. Donovan, nor do I want my dogs to fight, but I love my dogs and want them given fair play. This dog Frisco II. is the first of my own breeding that I ever knew of as being registered in the C.K.C. and residing and breeding dogs in Canada. I prefer joining a society here and registering my dogs here. I also want to exhibit, but do not think it fair play to compete a dog like Young Frisco A.K.C. 106259, or other Pit dogs or bitches I own, against a Terrier like Ch. Inferno, for the judge would naturally give some one a ha, ha. Hoping we may soon be better acquainted I am, wishing you a prosperous New Year.

Respectfully,

W. C. Jackson.

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 1st, 1913.

We cannot now of course speak for the C.K.C. All we can say is that Pit Bulls (so called) are frequently shown at C.K.C. shows but the awards are not recognized. Even the Canadian National, if memory is not astray, has offered classes for Bull Terriers "other than white."

We can see no reason to refuse registration to Bull Terriers, no matter what the color, if pedigree is complete and color is plainly defined. The regulation white coats will often throw dogs with a patch of color here and there.

The Canadian Kennel Gazette, is and always has been opposed to Pit contests.—Ed.

FAVORS S.P.C.A. PROPOSAL REGARDING STRAY DOGS.

The proposal of the Montreal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that they should be given charge of the dogs found by the police wandering about the streets without licenses because of the facilities they will have for their care and destruction in the new home they are about to build, has received a favorable report from Chief of Police Campeau.

In view of the lethal chamber for the painless killing of animals and the public enclosure for the dogs they intend to provide he was in favor of the Society being given that right, but he thought that it should still remain with the police to cather them in the streets. He also thought the Society should be allowed to sell the dogs, but he stated that the money received for them should be sent to the City Treasurer. He believed that the animals destroyed should be sent to the contractor charged with the work of taking up the carrion in the public streets unless other agreements could be made between the contractor and the society. The intention of the society had been to incinerate the bodies so as to prevent a nuisance in the neighborhood.

At present these dogs are gathered by the police who can hold them for three days before destroying them. If the owner comes before that period he can get the dog by paying the city license fee and fifty cents a day for its keep.

COCKER SPANIEL CLUB EXECUTIVE MEETING.

The executive of the above club met on December 23 to wind up the business for the year. The secretary reported that all medals donated by the club at the various shows had been forwarded but that some of the cups were not yet delivered. A special committee was appointed to locate these and send them to the winners.

The committee decided to hold the annual meeting on Friday, January 31, 1913.

EDMONTON KENNEL CLUB ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Kennel Club took place on the 2nd of December and a majority of the fanciers of Edmonton gathered together to hear the reports of the retiring officers and discuss plans for the coming season.

The finances of the club were found to be in a healthy condition, and with the enthusiasm aroused by the successful show held in connection with the Edmonton Exhibition last August, prospects for 1913 are looking very bright.

The club are laying plans for a spring dog show for which the date has not yet been fixed, and anticipate being able to offer a list of specials even better than that offered at the exhibition show, and this without asking the winners of the challenge cups offered at that show to defend these cups at the spring show. In other words, an entirely new list of cups will be offered, the original cups being held over to be competed for at the Edmonton Exhibition in August next.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Charles May (re-elected); 1st vice-president, Harry Nash (re-elected); 2nd vice-president, W. Wheeler; Managing committee, Dr. C. J.
Reid, J. F. Peter, F. W. Pinchback, H. V. Shaw, J. A. Nickels; secretary-treasurer, W. McC. Moore; auditor, F.
W. Pinchback.

These matches took place, the judges for which were Mr. Smith, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Ward, and the prize was a beautiful timepiece, donated by Mr.
and Mrs. J. A. Meadows:

Fox Terriers—1, Broadway Donor, W.
Sands; 2, Broadway Double, Mr. Mumford.

Collies—1, Ormskirk Oberon, W. H.

APPRECIATES THE TORONTO SHOW

Can I through your valued columns tender to the officers of the Joint Terrier Association my sincere appreciation for the splendid way they looked after my entries and did everything one could ask to make a fellow feel at home, as I certainly did at the recent show of the above association. I, for one, shall certainly be on the job at future Joint Terrier shows. I am indebted to big Dr. Campbell, who put his splendid kennels at my disposal over Sunday, and after the show. Mr.
Water Sands, who is a game sportsman and a gentleman. To Mr. Arthur Atkinson also who was the obliging secretary. I spent a pleasant two days and could have stayed a week for there are some fine fanciers in Toronto who piloted me around in good style.

I am sure the future shall eventually see the Joint Terrier Association shows next only to the Canadian National and it's up to the Terrier men to come to the front and support a show that should afford the keenest competition of any of our shows.

My hearty best wishes to the success of future shows of the association.

Sincerely yours,

Geo. W. Bailey.

FOXHOUND FOUND.

I take the liberty of writing to you regarding a stray Hound dog, which we have here. It came to us about the middle of November last. We think that it may be a Toronto dog that got lost during the hunting season. It is apparently a well bred dog, has a leather collar on its neck, said collar is mounted with brass, and also has a brass tag something like the rough draft hereto attached.

If you could inform me as to who issues the dog tags for Toronto, and address of said person, it is possible that I might through that means find the owner of the dog in question. It is apparently too good a dog to be lost from its owner in any such way.

I enclose envelope for reply, and thanking you in expectation of same,
I remain

Yours truly,

James Brydon.

Gravenhurst, Dec. 23, 1912.

We gave the necessary information.
If not effective perhaps the insertion of this letter may bring owner and dog together.—Ed.

DOESN'T BELIEVE IN THE "DE- LIGHTFUL COMBINATION."

Permit me to congratulate you on the great improvement in the Canadian Kennel Gazette and only wish to say that, while I don't claim to know anything about Airedales, if they were manufactured from Bloodhounds Collies, etc., as claimed by one of the Canadian authorities they must be a delightful combination. But I don't believe it.

With kind regards and best wishes for a happy and prosperous year believe me

Yours very truly,

E. F. Doty.
