Scottish Terrier Standard as Adopted by the Scottish Terrier Club of America

Alice G. Howland, Secretary-Treasurer, Bryn Mawr, Pa., U.S.A.

The Standard adopted by this Club shall be the same as that of the Scottish Terrier Club of Scotland, as follows:

Skull (value 5) proportionately long, slightly domed, and covered with short, hard hair, about three-quarters of an inch, long or less. It should not be quite flat as there should be a sort of stop, or drop between the eyes.

Muzzle (5) very powerful and gradually tapering toward the nose, which should always be black, and of a good size. The jaws should be perfectly level and the teeth square, though the nose projects somewhat over the mouth, which gives the impression of the upper jaw being longer than the under one.

Eyes (5) set wide apart, of a dark hazel color; small, piercing, very bright and rather sunken.

Ears (10) very small, prick or half-prick, but never drop. They should be sharp-pointed but not cut. The hair on them should not be long, but velvety. The ears should be free from any fringe at the top.

Neck (5) short, thick and muscular; strongly set on sloping shoulders.

Chest (5) broad in comparison to the size of the dog, and proportionately deep.

Body (15) of moderate length, not so long as a Skye's and rather flat sided, but well ribbed up and exceedingly strong in hindquarters.

Legs and feet (10)—Both fore and hind legs should be short and very heavy in bone, the former being straight or slightly bent and well set on under the body, as the Scottish Terrier should not be out at elbows. The hocks should be bent, and the thighs very muscular; the feet strong and thickly covered with short hair, the fore feet being larger than the hind ones, and well let down on the ground.

The tail ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ ) which is never cut should be about seven inches long, carried with a slight bend, and often gayly.

The coat (15) should be rather short, about two inches, intensely hard and wiry up. The dog owing to the shortness of his coat should appear to be higher on the leg than he really is, but at the same time he should look compact and possessed of great muscle in the hindquarters. In fact a Scottish Terrier, though essentially a Terrier, cannot be too powerfully put together. He should be from 9 inches to 12 inches in height.

FAULTS

Muzzle either under or overhung.

Eyes large or light-colored.

Ears large, round at the points, or drop. It is also a fault if they are too heavily covered with hair.

Coat—Any silkiness, wave or tendencies to curl is a serious blemish, as is also an open coat.

Size—Any specimens over 20 pounds should not be encouraged.

It should be the spirit and purpose of the judge in deciding the relative merits of two or more dogs to consider the approximation of nature to the Standard rather than the effect of artificiality.

CALLUM DHU

Considered by many authorities a perfect

in texture and very dense all over the body.

Size (10)—About 16 lbs. to 18 lbs. for a bitch, and 18 lbs. to 20 lbs. for a dog.

Colors ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ )—Steel or iron-gray brindled or grizzled, black, sandy, and wheaten. White markings are objectionable and can only be allowed on the chest, and that to a small extent.

General Appearance (10) — The face should wear a very sharp, bright, active expression and the head should be carried

AVONDALE KENNELS

The Avondale Kennels of Mount Hamilton are offering at stud the services of their very latest importation, Avondale Roisterer, just twelve months old. This dog is a dark red brindle, and all over a good Scot. He is of splendid breeding, being by Aldon Clefton, ex. a Clydesford Pilot bitch, and is a proven sire even though such a youngster. In addition to the above new arrival Avondale Ascot retains his place. He is now pretty well known.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Mr. "Bob" Ross in sending us extracts from "The Twentieth Century Dog," by Herbert Compton, published in London by Grant Richards, expresses himself as follows:

I think I have marked opinions from experts enough to prove that a Scottish Terrier should be both low, massive and cloddy. In short a cart horse without any exaggerations anywhere and above all a common sense, "canny" and very game little workman. These were my views when I took up the fancy. In reality, I might say in selecting my brood stock absolutely sound double coats was one thing I insisted upon and got them. I am endeavoring to breed only the absolutely fearless kind and would not keep a highly nervous specimen around me no matter how good it was.

Personally, I can't see why so much difference of opinion exists. The Standard, if right, should be followed and I read it as follows on this much questioned point. "Legs—straight or slightly bent," the latter term I think means a front that will "trim straight" or very nearly so—not an absolutely straight front.

Might I suggest to the fancy at large that we try and keep our Scottish Terriers from being merged into the common Terrier type. Insist on a Scot being a Scot and don't let 'em get up on the leg, for to my mind, there are dogs winning to-day that are inclined that way and if caution be thrown to the winds it's hard to tell where we will get off at.

Bob Ross.

St. Pierre, P. Q.

"Mr. W. L. McCandlish (Hon. Sec. Scottish Terrier Club of England)—I am not satisfied with the type of the breed as it exists to-day, and this, in my opinion, is caused by placing too much importance on straight legs. Present-day dogs do not, as a rule, appear sufficiently let down in body owing to the same cause. The Scottish Terrier is above all things a heavily-built, short-legged dog, of great strength for his size, and I have yet to see a heavily-boned specimen standing low to the ground with dead straight pasterns, and question if I ever shall. If such a dog were produced we would in all probability look more like a wooden dog than an active Terrier. I do not desire turned-out feet, or dogs out at shoulder, nor weak pasterns, but a dead straight front, lowness to ground and activity are not to be had in combination—at least proof of it has yet to be produced. Nor is present-day expression right; the small, bright, slightly sunken eye is getting far too uncommon, and most of the prize-winning dogs are too round and full in eye, thus losing one of the charms of the breed—a bright, keen, knowing expression. The majority of Scottish Terriers can be traced back in all directions to Splinter II.

breed good Scottish Terriers, and from the best of parents puppies of all sorts come. This I consider due, to a large extent, to the antiquity of the breed, the weight of ancestry, bred anyhow, swamping the good qualities of the immediate parents. Judicious in-breeding from selected Terriers, with pronounced excellence in the commonly failing features, will in course of time remedy this. To preserve the characteristics of the Scottish Terrier it is important he should not be confounded as to type with any of the long-legged and Bon Accord, as the two great sires of ten years ago were inbred to this pair. More recently Heather Prince's name occurs with great frequency in pedigrees, while in current history Seafeld Rascal, assisted by his sons and daughters, seems likely to make his sire, Seafeld, a commonly recurring name in future pedigrees. It is thus impossible to avoid inbreeding to a considerable extent, and in certain strains the effect can be traced to an undue tendency to nervousness. This I do not put down to inbreeding itself, but to inbreeding from improper stock, as many of the progenitors of the affected strain are highly nervous. Whatever the cause, breeders nowadays must be most careful to select, for continued inbreeding, only such animals as show no sign of physical or mental defect. It is no easy task to Terriers. His shoulder formation is, for one thing, absolutely distinct. He should be broad in the chest, or I may be less misunderstood if I say he should not be narrow chested. His shoulder formation is as nearly as much akin to a Bulldog's as to a Fox Terrier's. He should not be swung between his legs, nor appear to be placed on them, and the best description I can give is that he should appear to be swung on the top of his legs. If we consider that he is a low-built dog, with good spring of ribs, and deep-chested, he must possess a certain width of chest; and if we are to get an active dog on short legs, the shoulders must have free movement to avoid stilted action."

"Mr. H. R. B. Tweed—The rage for straight fronts is giving us a leggy animal, light of bone, and quite at variance mal, light of bone, and quite at variance with the cart-horse stamp which is characteristic of the breed. English breeders are getting them too find in coat too."

"Mr. B. W. Powlet.—The type has certainly improved, but what the Scottish Terrier is in great danger of is being merged into the Fox Terrier group. At so many shows they come under a Fox, Irish, or Welsh Terrier judge, who has in his eye those narrow, dead, straight fronts, which are utterly foreign to the Scottish Terrier. We want a low, cloddy, heavy-boned every variety, and there is a danger of it in ours. But I think the most dangerous fad is the craze for short bodies, and, as usual, this has got to mean, not a naturally short body, but an excessively short one, which spoils the Terrier's action. Scottish Terriers are often shown very fat, to make them appear short, and it passes muster. A long-headed dog is usually long in body; a long-on-the-leg, heavy-boned dog is usually not straight in front. Now for a perfect Terrier we want a longish head on a short body, standing on

In Scotland no notice is taken of crooked legs; in England we like them straight. Of course it is very difficult to get a low, heavy-boned dog with straight legs. But we must try and bring about uniformity of standard of type in England and Scotland."

"Mr. John D. Malcolm.—The difficulty is to know what is the type of dog as it exists to-day! Snipey jaws get prizes, and strong, square jaws also win. Presumably both are being bred from, but as long as the correct one is not settled the type cannot be said to be definitely fixed."

We are glad to learn from Mr. Robert Mills of Montreal that his Bulldog, Royal Albert, whose portrait graced our front page some months ago, is being used freely by Montreal fanciers. There are a few good ones of his get in the big city.

The good Bull bitch, Lady Valeria, offered for sale in last issue by Mr. Tuson of Lethbridge, has been withdrawn for the very good reason that Mrs. Tuson admires her so much that she cannot let her go. We are asked to make this explanation for the information of those who wrote Mr. Tuson in regard to Lady Valeria. By the way, as a matter of record we might say that she was safely mated on April 23rd, to the Lethbridge winning dog, Silver Rival. Great hopes.

We were glad to have a visit a few days ago from our enthusiastic friend, Dr. A. W. Bell, Winnipeg. Dr. Bell had been travelling for about two weeks, together with several members of his committee, in quest of information as to how the Canadian Industrial Exhibition, Winnipeg, could be made the biggest and best show on earth. He was loaded up with volumes of valuable data, the results of which will be seen in the immense buildings to be erected on the new show grounds during the next two years.

Of course we had to talk dog with him, and we have the "official" information that Dr. C. Y. Ford will judge Collies, Pointers, Setters, Bulldogs, Pomeranians and most of the big breeds at the coming show to be held in July, while Mr. Wrightson-Thorp will take all Terriers and the other breeds not assigned to Dr. Ford. Thus even in the persons of the judges, east and west come together at Winnipeg.

We are at this writing (May 2nd), without official information from Calgary, but have it on good authority that the show to be held there this summer will be given under Canadian Kennel Club rules.

While we think of it here are a few other Western brevities that will show the trend

CHAMPION BRUNSFORD BATTLER

Imported by Grafton Kennels, North Grafton, Mass. Has beaten Clonmel Braw Laidie, Balgownie Laddie, Walescott Fiddler, Ems Morning Trip and Earlybird Dunrob. He is sired by Claymore Defender ex Brunsfield Vixen. Bred by Mr. McLaughlan, Edinburgh, Scotland. Now the property of Miss Alice Hager, San Francisco, Cal. Grafton Kennels have several bitches in whelp to him, and from his English records they should be good ones.

dog, with his body hung on his legs, not placed on the top of them as in a Fox Terrier. The type is entirely different, and many of us are awaking to the fact that we must stir ourselves to retain the charming individuality of the die-hard. The type, though generally improved, is in danger. Fanciers get hold of phrases, such as "long, lean skull, with punishing jaws," which means long jaws. That is all right in moderation, but one fancier goes one better than the other, and so the point gets exaggerated. This is one of the leading crazes of all fanciers in short, heavy, bowed legs. Straight, short fronts are very hard to get, but let a dog go up an inch or two, and it is much easier; and breeders are getting impatient, apparently, and seem inclined to sacrifice length of leg to straightness of front, and are encouraged by judges who are often Fox or Irish Terrier men. The Scottie has always been a low dog, and of necessity, for in old days he was only kept to follow the fox, otter, etc., into cairns, where none but a powerful, low dog could have got in. We must not forget the old uses of the breed in these modern days.

of affairs. Winnipeg sent one hundred and two dogs to Lethbridge show, in care of J. C. Fletcher and George Kynoch.

The Dominion Kennel Club Executive met recently and adopted Canadian Kennel Club rules, with few changes. American wins will be recognized.

Edmonton show will be held under Dominion Kennel Club rules, as will the Canadian Industrial Exhibition, Winnipeg.

Dominion Kennel Club memberships and registrations are piling in fast.

A Kennel Club is in process of organization in the twin cities of Fort William and Port Arthur, and at their request the Dominion Kennel Club have changed their Eastern boundary limit to Port Arthur, so as to include the show probably to be held in one of the twin cities.

Mr. James Lindsay's Scottish Terrier, Laidon Leslie, is one of the best stud dogs at present living, and is very like his sire, Laidon Lockhart, owned in Scotland. He was presented to Mr. Lindsay and is a household pet, the chum of the whole family. He is the sire of the winning dog at Boston, 1913, is as hardy as nails, no weather frightens him, and is as game as they make them. Like all of his breed, he can more than hold his own when necessary, but does not look for trouble.

Mr. Lindsay is one of our oldest Terrier breeders and has had them off and on for over forty years, but not the Scottie, which is a comparatively new breed to him and one that he is greatly enamored with.

Mr. W. P. Fraser is probably the earliest advocate of the breed in Canada, and he knows them from head to tail.

Mr. Lindsay's extended experience leads him to suggest that the Irish Terrier and the Scottish Terrier are much more faithful to home and master than is their handsome cousin the Fox Terrier. Mr. Lindsay keeps his dogs for the fun of it and likes to see them in the rough, with an occasional good brushing but not too much combing and scraping of coats.

We have tried in this issue to do well by our canny little friend, the Scot. If we haven't succeeded we don't think it is our fault. What do you think?

Since writing paragraphs re the Mount Royal K. C. coming show, Montreal, a copy of the premium list has reached us. From it we find that judging will commence promptly on the Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. No dogs will be received after 10 a.m. Thursday, May 29th. Dogs may be removed at 6 p.m. Saturday, this early hour enabling outsiders to catch the night trains.

This does not apply to puppies, these may be removed any night after their classes have been judged. The local classes are open to those residing in Montreal or within a radius of twenty-five miles from the city. The classification is quite extensive and there are specials without number. They will be added to, also.

We are simply astounded at the sumptuousness of the various forms issued by the Dominion Kennel Club. They far excel anything so far put out by any club, that we have ever seen. The point to us is how the D. K. C. can afford to do so much for its members on the very limited fee of $3 per year. The handsome certificate of registration is sent out on all registrations but the very convenient holder and several others, including winners certificate, and the certificate of wins, are naturally sent to members only. They are an inducement for those who are not already members to join the ranks of this aggressive organization.

It is our intention to specialize on the Pekingese for our next issue. This is one of the Toy breeds that is growing in favor in Canada and is already very popular in the States. We want photos and cuts of good dogs, articles on the breed, etc., and are looking to those interested in this little dog to see that we are supplied with a sufficiency. An engraving of a very famous Peke appeared in last issue of Gazette.

We understand that the Victoria K. C. Dog Show was quite a success though but a very meagre report has reached us. The Pointer classes were good as were English Setters. The C. K. C. medals were won by the following: Kootenai Chinook, Airedale, owned by the Kootenai Kennels; Charlemagne of Never-Never-Land, French Bulldog, owned by Mrs. A. G. Halstead; Ch. Emroy Bristles, W. H. Fox Terrier, owned by H. L. Cocksedge; Vivian Darkie, Pom, owned by J. Colbeck; Madame Mallwyd, English Setter, owned by Mrs. Ross Walsh, and Jesmond Monarch, Cocker Spaniel, owned by Mrs. J. W. Creighton.

The Indian Kennel Gazette for March contains a very handsome colored picture of the Bloodhound, Solly, well known in England. It has given us pleasure to pass this on to our old friend, Mr. Geo. B. Sweetnam, a consistent advocate of the Bloodhound year in and year out and we feel that he will appreciate it more than any one else that we could mention.

We are sorry to see by the Illustrated Kennel News that Mr. Chris Houliker, one of the judges at the Canadian National last September, has had to undergo an operation. The operation was successful and Mr. Houliker is going along nicely and expected to be out this month.

From the same paper we have the following:

Airedale Terriers—Messrs. Walmsley Brothers, of Cherry Tree, Blackburn, have just sold their Romping Sultan to Mr. Thurston, of Vancouver, British Columbia. How good a dog he is may be gauged from the fact that he is a winner at Darwen, Great Harwood, Hebden Bridge, Preston, Bamber Bridge, Rhyl, Birkenhead, Blackburn, etc.

We are sorry to have the following from Mr. W. N. Gibson, Secretary of the Alberta Kennel Club. We had quite a lengthy correspondence with Mr. Walker and appreciated the good fight he put up against great odds. Mr. Gibson writes:

"You will, I am sure, regret to learn of the sudden death on 27th instant of Mr. H. P. D. Walker, a member of the Executive Committee of this Club, since its inception in 1905. As a breeder and exhibitor of Fox Terriers Mr. Walker was known to dog men all over the Dominion. He has been in very poor health for a long time but his end came without warning on Sunday morning. He leaves a wife but no children. His funeral was on April 30th at Calgary and was largely attended. Mr. Walker was only forty-four years of age and was born in Dundee, Scotland. He came to Calgary from Oklahoma in 1904 and has resided in that city ever since."

A big winter show is now proposed for Toronto, something on the lines of that annually held in Guelph. We doubt if there is room for two such shows in Central Ontario, but welcome the proposal to hold a C.K.C. dog show in connection with the Toronto affair. Dr. Alfred Boulton, Secretary-Treasurer of the C.K.C., is on the Executive of the proposed Winter Fair and will take the dog show under his particular care. An amalgamation of all interests in one big show might help to solve the existing troubles in Toronto.

Toronto recently had a "cleaning up day," a feature that other cities have also adopted. It has even been passed on to the Canadian Kennel Gazette, for in this issue we clean up a lot of items that have been in type waiting to get in, some for several months. These include Mr. Haynes' letters on the new All Terrier Association, the article on extermination of rats, and several shorter pieces. This necessary clearance has rather disturbed some of our regular features, but tending

SCOTTISH TERRIERS.

To a lover of Scottish Terriers it has been most interesting to see the steady increase in the last ten years, not only in the numbers that are being shown but in the demand for them as pals and guardians in the home life. The demand far exceeds the supply and any well known kennel has hard work to find puppies enough to go round. The farmer has found them so helpful in exterminating woodchucks and the poultry man the same with rats and skunks, that even inferior specimens, from the show Standard, find good homes and are saved from the bucket in their youth. Children can manage them more readily than a larger Terrier and they adore their little owners with a most touching fidelity. For motoring their hard coats and sturdy constitutions fit them for the chills that would kill a weaker dog, while at home nothing in all the world is more welcoming to a tired home comer than the brisk and unmistakable thud, thud of a glad Scottie's tail.

Some years ago quite a number of shy ones were on the market but this fault has been greatly bred away and now they are the exception, even puppies at their first show take it as a good game and are glad to tear round the exercising rings with the new friends they have made. As a financial proposition a good bitch will, with a litter a year, pay all her expenses and give her owner a nice little amount of pin money for cigars or lingerie as the occasion requires. The litters average about five puppies and nothing can be funnier to watch than their baby antics.

Personally I have found that they grow well without too much coddling. Good nourishing food, little and often, all the cold water they can and will drink, and grass to run on will keep them steadily growing. Vermifuge in moderation is necessary of course but the numbers that have died from too much worm "dope" would exceed the many that have died from worms, I feel sure, could the records ever be made up. A healthy puppy can fight his own battles pretty well and real food, not slops, will keep away the worms. All my bitches get a raw egg a day while they are carrying the pups and one shaken in a good rich cup of malted good enough one with me to down any more "Balgownie Laddies" that may be hidden away in your Dominion. I realize it will take a good one as Canada has every right to be proud of him and his splendid record.—Margaret Brigham.

North Grafton, Mass.

The Joint show of Toronto and Ontario Kennel Club, was the deciding factor in the "Steggall Cup," which has been presented at the principal shows as a challenge cup for best Pomeranian any color, the condition being that the cup be won twice by same kennel, not necessarily same dog. Mrs. Herd, Toronto, Mrs. Howorth, Grimsby, and Mrs. Wylie, Vineland, had each made a win with Tottie, Kelworth Tidbit, and Cairndhu Tip, respectively. However, the Cairndhu Kennels, by winning again with Cairndhu Triumph, have succeeded in carrying off the honors.

Many ladies are supporting the show in Montreal. Mrs. Mathias is giving a model of her favorite, the Borzoi, for best dog or bitch of the breed, at least two to compete. Mrs. Mathias is too good a sports-woman to permit her own dogs to compete, so it will be confined to outsiders. Then, Mrs. J. C. Hanna is giving a silver vase for the best Irish Setter, owned by a lady and Mrs. R. A. Ross five dollars for the best black Cocker.

Mrs. G. A. Hart offers five dollars for the best imported Bull bitch, rather an unusual condition. Mrs. H. T. Humphrey, a cup in Boston classes and Miss Eadie a cup for the best Canadian bred Wire Fox Terrier. Mrs. J. A. Pitt offers a cup for best kennel of four Scotties. Mrs. H. Vincent Meredith, a cup for best Scotties' cousin, the West Highland.

Coming to the Toys, ladies are much in evidence, Mrs. William Steggall giving a milk for the first ten days after they are born. The pups are as fat as little pigs and the mother is in fit condition to keep them so.

I feel a particular interest in Canadian Scotties now that my two old favorites, Beechers Brook and York Scotch High Ball are up there and I hope when another fall comes round to get up and see them all at one of your shows, with a cup for best miniature Pom, bred and owned by a lady and Mrs. R. G. Taylor a cut glass bowl for best of either sex, owned and exhibited by a lady. Amongst the general specials Mrs. Jas. Carruthers, President of the Toy Dog Club of Canada, gives a gold medal for best Toy dog in show. Competition for this medal is confined to members of the T. D. C. of Canada.

Ladies should see what we say in Notes and Comments about featuring the Pekinese in our June issue. This is essentially a ladies' dog and we should be glad to have their assistance in making this number a success.

Perhaps many ladies do not know that the Lennox, Mass., show is, shall we say, captained by a lady, Miss Margaret Brigham, who is so deeply interested in Scottish Terriers. Miss Brigham tells us that Lennox promises to be one of the big shows this fall and she would be glad to have some entries from Canada.

The show of the French Bulldog Club was a most successful event. It was held over two days, affording the judge, Mr. Mortimer, ample time to give careful consideration to the numerous classes and especially to the immense number of special prizes awarded. April 18 and 19 were the dates the show was held, in the Belvedere on the roof of the Hotel Astor, New York. Mr. Chas. G. Hopton was superintendent and filled the position in his usual very efficient manner. One hundred and thirty-five dogs were entered with several absentees. Winners dogs went to Denault's Gamin and reserve to a puppy, Noswal Nomad. Winners bitches went to Lucia and reserve to Bow Gamin's Belle.

The following is what Field and Fancy says of the Produce Stakes:

"The judging of the produce stakes was one of the big features of the show and they brought out some very promising youngsters. This task was in the hands of Messrs. Ferond, Lennox and Halley, who devoted much time to it, especially in the bitch class where there was a disagreement. In dog puppies Noswal Nomad, a son of Ch. Noswall Nabob, stood away ahead of the field with Phil-Au-Rum d'Athos, by Athos, jr., second; Riquet's Dominique, by Gamin's Riquet, third; and Piastre, by Ch. Pourquoi Pas, the tail ender. In the bitch classes the blue was awarded to Beautiful Doll, by Magnifique, with Noswal Naiad, by Ch. Nellcote Gamin, second; Melisande, by Ch. Pourquoi Pas, third, and Gamin's Madeline, by Ch. Nellcote Gamin, reserve. The winner, as we have previously remarked, shows a distinct leaning toward the English Bulldog type, which is quite natural; if it is correct that her sire, Magnifique, is by the famous heavyweight Bulldog, Ch. Woodcote Hermit. The three winning bitches are distinctly French in type, and while Gamin's Madeline looses in ear carriage, might have rightly made her take the lowest position; Noswal Naiad and Melisande should easily have beaten Beautiful Doll. They both score in French type, expression, ear carriage and body lines, while Beautiful Doll shows the English sweep of jaw and foreface and is long cast and sausage bodied. As stated, there was considerable delay in handling out the ribbons in this class. This was caused, we understand, by Judge Ferond, who rightly held out for the two brindles to be placed over Beautiful Doll, but was overruled by Messrs. Lennox and Halley.

Mr. Chas. H. Mason, Port Washington, L.I., N.Y.

Who judges all breeds at the forthcoming show of the Mount Royal Kennel Club, Montreal. The dates are May 29th, 30th and 31st.

The judges for the Toy Dog Club show at New Bedford, Mass., are: Mrs. Charles F. Dennee, Miss Anna Whitney, Alvan Rosenberg, W. C. Codman, F. J. Lenoir, Mrs. E. W. Clark, F. A. Cadwell, Tom Shallcross, Mrs. A. M. Grierson, Mrs. H. C. Bowers, Frank Dondero, Vincent Turley and Miss Frances Pavon. We are not advised as to their assignments.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

only we hope to that "variety" that gives "spice."

Mr. Chas. H. Mason, always popular in Montreal, will judge all breeds at the forthcoming show of the Mount Royal Kennel Club, to be held on May 29th, 30th and 31st. Mr. Mason will have a big task to complete in the three days but he is able for it.

Mr. Secretary Hughes tells us that the list of specials is an especially fine one. So far forty-two cups, thirty medals, ten trophies and seventy-five other specials have been donated. There is also about one hundred and thirty in cash. And a hint—the specials won't all go on the best dog, others not so good will have a show to win. A big entry from outside is looked for and of course the local entry will be heavy.

Premium lists are now ready. Don't forget the closing date, May 17th. Just about time to send entries in.

By the way, those popular handlers, Messrs. Swann and Bamford, are ready to handle dogs for the Montreal show. Any breed taken. They advertise this fact elsewhere.

Mr. H. C. Nickle of Kingston has just imported from one of the leading kennels of England the winning Russian Wolfhound, Knave of Addlestone. Those who have seen him speak very highly of him and look forward to his doing some winning in this country. He will be placed at stud and advertisement will appear in this issue. The sire is the late Champion Ramsden Rajah considered to have been the best all round Borzoi in England.

Knave is thirty-two inches high at the shoulder, has a beautiful 12 inch head and in limb is exceptionally straight and sound.

The Canadian National Dog Show Committee, at a recent meeting, went one better than Mr. Ellison suggests, and decided to divide the puppy class in Scottish Terriers, giving a class for either sex.

At the same meeting, where Mr. Fraser was in the chair, the list of judges was fully discussed and after acceptance will be immediately announced.

Corona Captivator, a product of the Corona Kennels, Winnipeg, at the recent St. Paul show, amongst other dogs beat Dr. Bennett's famous Parbold Proclamation. Captivator is the dog that took first open, special for best Collie in show, special for best non-sporting dog in show and reserve champion of all breeds at Lethbridge last year. By the way, our report of Calgary show, 1910, says of Corona Daisy that she was a very poor type to breed from. As a matter of history we may state that this has turned out to be incorrect, for she is the dam of the three Coronas—Premier, Magnet and Coronation.

Corona Commander, the young dog that we referred to some time ago, a big, heavy-boned, sound dog, practically a duplicate of Ch. Corona Premier, is now offered at stud by the Corona Collie Kennels, Winnipeg. We understand he will be shown freely, and he is good enough to win, as others of his breeding have done.

Lethbridge Kennel Club Show

207 Dogs Present. Under D. K. C. Rules. Winner's Value, 3 Points

The Lethbridge Kennel Club held their first show under D. K. C. rules this month at Henderson Park, Lethbridge, Alta.

There were 132 classes to face Mr. Fred Miller, Winnipeg, and he handled the judging with general satisfaction to all exhibitors.

It was pleasing to see that the children's classes brought out more competition in the boys' class than hitherto. The juniors are taking up the fancy with avidity.

St. Bernards—In this class Mr. Harford showed a beautiful specimen in Monas Queen.

Russians—Mr. A. D. J. Collier's Satinas Kazli showed up very well, his condition calling for much admiration and comment.

Labradors—In this class Mrs. M. Berkley's aristocratically bred Dungavel Sea Dog was a prominent animal.

Clumbers—Mr. W. McCall's Riverton Ronald, although the only one in class, was favorably criticised.

Collies—There was strong competition in this class and the judge well considered his verdict which placed Mr. G. A. Hull's Braemar Perfection on top, the prize for best of opposite sex falling to the Weston Collie Kennel's nice bitch, Weston All Quality. Mr. E. T. Stedman Strassburg, exhibited a very nice bitch in Corona Lily and it is regrettable that the animal had not been looked after better than it was for some thought her a good looking specimen.

Beagles—Mr. F. W. Scott's Domino Warrior was a conspicuous animal and looked well, seems a pity that this breed does not meet with more popularity.

Pointers—This class was fairly represented, the winning dog being Mr. V. C. Kohold's Winnipeg champion, Prince Cash, and the best bitch Mr. W. J. Little's appropriately named Beauty.

Setters—In this class Mr. W. W. Jones, Calgary, with his Bierley Grouse took the honors in winners dogs, whilst Mr. F. W. Scott, Winnipeg, winners Litch, took the special for best. Some critics considered her somewhat small but she was in first-class condition and instantly showed superiority.

Cockers—This popular variety was very well patronized, the first going to Mr. Pat Kilty's Duke Obo, who was in splendid condition. Mr. H. J. Barr showed a beauty in Ferndale Goldie.

Bulldogs—This class was very prominent, the winning bitch, Mr. E. P. Tuson's Lady Valeria, capturing special for best dog in show. There was some rivalry between Mr. Adam's Chincham Tormentor and the local owned dogs, E. P. Tuson's Lady Valeria and Mr. J. E. Rannard's Silver Rival, the latter lacking condition, whilst Mr. W. W. de Rossiter's Sir Pat had many admirers. The awards went to Lady Valeria with Silver Rival as best of opposite sex.

Fox Terriers—A. P. Mutchmor swamped this class with his contingent of lively youngsters who showed up remarkably well. The Garry Kennels swept the decks, Warren Resemblance capturing 1st, whilst Mr. H. B. Sim's Rosemont Skipper had to be satisfied with 2nd honors.

THE SMOOTH FOX TERRIER, MARCONIAN

The likeness shown in this issue of the recently imported Smooth Fox Terrier, Marconian, property of A. Albright, Jr., Baughfell Kennels, 56 Ferry St., Newark, N.J., is a good one. His breeding is ultra-fashionable and he is considered by Fox Terrier experts on the other side as one of the greatest Smooth Fox Terriers ever bred. He created a sensation his first time out as a puppy at the National Fox Terrier Show, Mr. Robert Vicary judging, and was sold Mr. Albright shortly after by Mr. W. Jordison at a record figure for a Smooth Fox Terrier puppy.

He beat the lot on the other side and has proven equally as great as a sire, one of the very first by him, Marconico, Smooth bitch, winning highest honors at the Fox Terrier Club Show and being sold to Mr. Francis Redmond for £100 during that show.

Marconian has probably the longest, best shaped head, eyes, ears, neck, bone, front, legs, feet, body, coat, hindquarters and action possible to find, and on his individuality and superb breeding, which is an outcross from most of the Smooths on this side, should prove a rare acquisition to Fox Terrier breeders in America. He is placed at a fee of $25.00 and particulars can be had from Kennel Manager as per stud advertisement. He has only been over on this side a short time, but is already being used by the keenest Fox Terrier fanciers in the States, and breeders should avail themselves of his services as the opportunity presented is a most exceptional one.

Boston Terriers—Mrs. Wheeler, Edmonton, showed two beautiful specimens in Winchester Topsy and Victoria II., the former getting the honors, the 2nd being P. Bille's Capital.

Airedales—As usual this class was well contested but Mr. A. P. Mutchmor's dog, Clipstone First Shot was easily the dog of them all. Mr. Walter Brown's Gayfield Lad showed up remarkably well amongst the novices but was outclassed for special by Mr. C. W. Twaite's Hyborn Vixen.

Bull Terriers—Mr. D. Thody showed an unnamed bitch by Bloomsbury Flazer, Champion Epsom, that easily went into 1st place and Mr. Harry May's Stipendary following into 2nd honors.

Yorkshires—Mr. J. C. Fletcher exhibited a fine specimen in Brockley Jeanie, and thus secured the Spratt Cup.

Poms—The Pom. entry as usual was the largest class, Mrs. Hartridge, the cently imported from England. She looks a comer getting to reserve winners first time shown in Canada. She is now visiting at Mr. E. P. Tuson's Chinook Kennels, Lethbridge.

Mrs. Chas. Frazier, Lethbridge, who showed the nice looking Boston Terrier bitch, Jessie, and secured the Drombosky trophy at the L.K.C. spring show, recently added her name to that membership roll.

Lady Valeria, the Bull bitch best in show at L.K.C. Show, was paying a visit to Mr. J. E. Rannard's imported Bulldog, Silver Rival, quite recently after the show.

Messrs. V. E. Green and J. C. Barclay announced their intention of joining forces in a kennel with good Setters and Cockers as the object in view.

Mr. E. P. Tuson's Bull bitch, Lady Valeria, Mr. J. E. Rannard's Bulldog, Silver Rival, and Mr. J. P. Hall's Airedale, Choir Boy, have gone to contest matters in their respective classes at the W. C. K. C. meeting at Winnipeg.

Messrs. Newton and Nowers intend importing some good stuff in Bulldogs, they say, so the Bulldog fancy is receiving special attention in the West. They are L.K.C. members too. Competition is getting hotter than ever.

The dog circles in Lethbridge are expanding. Miss H. Mewburn recently brought back from her trip East a handsome Peking which she says she regrets she did not exhibit at the L.K.C. dog show.

Mrs. E. P. Tuson now owns Dolly Gray who took 1st in the French Poodles at the L.K.C. meeting.

Mr. Robt. Fairclough, Fernie, who owns some good Schipperkes recently imported from England, was unable to show on account of the sudden death of his wife. He is a member of the L.K.C. and the boys extend him their sincere sympathy in his bereavement.

MR. FRASER IS REMINISCENT

We have seen some capital Scotties on this side of the water. When I judged Scots at the Westminster Kennel Club Show in 1902 and again in 1903 there were four Terriers which stood out. The Laird—I gave him his first ribbon on this side—Silverdale Queen, Heather Charm and Nosegay Forget-me-Not, the last named bred in America, all toppers, none of these were ever shown in Canada to my knowledge. Some years ago when Mr. Harry Brooks was showing such a strong kennel and sent some good ones to Toronto, there were two Terriers brought on by George Thomas at the Industrial Exhibition Show, viz., Champion Tires and Rhudunan. The former was bred by that good sportsman, Captain Wetherall of Kettering—Tires was only beaten in England by Mr. Ludlow's Champion Kildee, I believe. Tires was a black dog with good punishing jaw, great loin and quarters, excellent for a Scot, great bone and a dense, hard coat, and I should say very game. Rhudunan also a black Terrier, very typical, but lacked the substance throughout of Tires. These Terriers won everything and Mr. Brooks added them to his kennel and they were subsequently shown as the property of Messrs. Brooks and Ames. Of all the Terriers I have seen I believe I like Tires the best.

Of recent importations, Ems Chevalier, brought out by the late W. C. Dulles, took my fancy most. Mr. Brooks brought the best of Mr. Ludlow's kennel, dogs and bitches. Of the former, Kilroy and Kilree were the best. Kilroy such a hard one, would kill anything his weight, Kilree perhaps the more modern type, cobbier and straighter. I wish I could remember the names of some of the good bitches. Mr. Ludlow was one of the first to show them in England and in partnership with a Mr. Blomfield produced some of the very best. Captain Wetherall with Tires, Queen of Scots and Scottish Jewel always made things interesting and the Messrs. Spelman, also of Norfolk, showed some good ones about the same time. I hope in Canada we may not lose sight of the good sturdy type with substance and coat.

Yours truly,

W. P. Fraser.

Mr. Francis Redmond on the Fox Terrier of 1912

And Conditions Pertaining to the Breed

In the Kennel Gazette, the official organ of the K. C., England, Mr. Francis Redmond, whose knowledge of the Fox Terrier is world wide, gives a retrospect of the breed as he found it in 1912.

Mr. Redmond has judged the breed in Canada—we hope to see him do so again—and is one of those men whom to know is to honor. Anything that he has to say we accept as being what our needs call for and his ideals are what we aim for.

Mr. Redmond writes:—

"A retrospect of the smooth and wire Fox Terriers of 1912 seems at the first sight a somewhat lengthy matter, but when it is noted how frequently the same dogs appear at the various shows the task is considerably narrowed.

Conclusions formed from visiting a number of our exhibitions impress one with the idea that the standard in both varieties is up to the average. At present we may not have specimens of individual excellence with some of our old time champions, but collectively the classes are generally level, and of average merit. Size—One of the most important considerations for breeders, shows a decided improvement, throughout the exhibits have been of a useful and workmanlike stamp in both varieties, and very many charming Terriers that fill these conditions have been benched, among which occur to me as I write, North-chapel Folly, Donna's Double, Ingate-stone Royda, Roundup, Double Wire, Chunky of Notts, Duchess Olive, Wat-teau Surprise, Morden Bumble Bee, Greenlands Retort, No Duchess, and others equally good—all quite big enough for their legitimate work at fox or badger. The majority, if not all of these, give one the impression of constitution and, if attached to a Foxhound kennel, would thrive on the hard work and kennel fare.

It is at least satisfactory to note this stamp is now more in evidence than the leggy, slab-sided type, which still occasionally appears, and is given a prominent place in the prize list, but fortunately his success is ephemeral, and he is soon lost to memory. In the matter of bone an advance can also be claimed, but room for improvement still exists, and the soft gummy bone so frequently found with the coarse, clumsy feet, and the soft profuse coat is still too general, but we have exceptions, and it is gratifying to find them taking their place in the prize lists, and I would instance among the smooths as examples of this, such specimens as Ingatestone Royda, the present holder of the Fox Terrier Club 50 Guinea Challenge Cup and Donna's Double, a past holder of this trophy, and in Collarbone of Notts, the present holder of the Wire Cup, we have an example of the hard bone allied to the hard wire coat, and it must be gratifying to breeders to find such good specimens as these holding the most valuable coveted trophies in the Fox Terrier world.

With bone—Legs and feet I think also show a slight improvement, but as Foxhound breeders well know, these valued properties may be lost in one or two generations and take many more generations to regain, and this may truly be instanced of the Fox Terrier of to-day who, with few exceptions, compares unfavorably in this respect with his ancestors of two or three decades back, when neat, hard bone, and sound legs and feet were much more in evidence. But it is gratifying to note more Terriers possessing these qualities have found their way into the prize list during the past year, and from among these a nucleus exists, which may help breeders to recover one of the most valuable points in the breed.

As our Terriers have got more sizeable and nearer to the ground they have undoubtedly improved in back, loin and hindquarters, where they show stronger and better development in second thighs and hocks, compared with a few generations ago. In neck and shoulders we may not have altered much, but I think the majority are good enough in this respect. They are generally strong and muscular in neck, a point of much importance to the Fox Terrier. Coats—At the present time, an extremely debatable subject, do not, I think, show improvement either in wires or smooths. I do not suggest that to the ordinary side observer the classes for wire-haired Fox Terriers do not present a more level and finished appearance, and even when casually handled many confirm this idea, but when closely examined it will be found that many of these apparently hard, dense and pinwire coats, perfect in length, texture and density, owe their virtue to the science and skill with which they have been trimmed, faked and prepared by those responsible for their appearance on the judging day; in fact, not a little of the success of a wire-haired kennel depends on the skill of the handler who prepares and conditions the coat. How frequently do we see Terriers that are known to have soft coats almost approaching silkiness put down perfectly trimmed, plucked, shaved, or pulled to the required length, and then hardened by artificial means. The same practice applies, but in a lesser degree, to some of the smooths, and breeders and exhibitors will recall instances where soft, profuse, almost fluffy coated smooths have been, on a change of kennel or kennel man, transformed into a smart, close, hard-coated animal, its coat having undergone the process of being either cut, shaved, or rasped, and then hardened by artificial means. At a recent show did we not see a notoriously soft and fluffy coated smooth Terrier put down in a condition of dazzling whiteness, with a coat almost as short and close as that of a Bull Terrier, and this animal in its natural state carries about as much jacket as a smooth-coated Collie?

Readers may ask why not lay an objection, but exhibitors naturally shrink from the annoyance and responsibility of raising objections in connection with their pleasure or sport, which, after all, may probably only result in the least culpable owner of the most clumsily trimmed animal being convicted, whereas the one prepared by the expert passes muster and gets off free. Having seen instances of this, I can readily understand the hesitation and reticence exhibitors have in laying objections, even when satisfied beyond measure that the rules of the Kennel Club have been broken and contravened. All I feel a judge can do under present conditions is to penalize an exhibit that he considers unduly trimmed, and were this done, I feel exhibitors and breeders who are now handicapped because they decline to recognize and exhibit their Terriers under the extreme trimming conditions that are now practised, would be competing on a fairer level, and dogs generally would be exhibited in a more natural condition. Notwithstanding the fact that clubs have been formed with the avowed object of improving coat, and breeders, exhibitors and, I believe, judges, have periodically been favored with gratuitous advice on the subject, despite all this, I fear we cannot claim that coats have improved during the past few years. Artificial preparation for show, and trimming to a certain standard has given our wire classes a level and typical character, but this is not what is looked for.

Take one of the recent and probably most important Fox Terrier shows of the year where several naturally soft-coated, trimmed and artificially prepared specimens were found holding prominent positions in the prize lists, under a judge who has probably written more on the subject of coats and declaimed on trimming than any other writer, surely, this points to a paucity of good coats. (Mr. Glynn was the judge.—Ed.)

Personally, I think it is possible to attach too much importance to the subject of coat, for after all, it is only a relative point, and when as at present suggested, a resolution is on tapis to give some 20 per cent. of points to coat, I submit that this is against the best interests of the breed. Surely it is illogical and playing into the hands of faking, to give one-fifth value to points that can be, and are, notoriously artificially produced. Constructive points must be of greater value, bone, legs, feet, shoulders, chest, back, loin, quarters, head, ears, size and character, are all of vital import, and must submit to reduced value, if we are to add still more to coat, which I feel would be most regrettable when one considers what the present scale, drawn up between 30 and 40 years ago, has done for the breed, which to-day still holds its place as one of the most popular of all Terriers, and is valued as highly as ever for his working, show and companionable qualities.

Nearly every lover of an animal has an eye for symmetry, and probably this harmony is most evident in the hunter, the polo pony, and the Foxhound, who are built on lines combining strength and activity in a moderate compass. This has ever been the Fox Terrier breeder's ideal, and the symmetry and activity of his Terrier has had much to do with its popularity. Long may he be bred on these lines, and with as good and natural hard jacket as possible, bearing in mind that the shorter, harder and denser the body coat, the less profuse will be the coat on the face and muzzle, but what there is should be hard and crisp. I would certainly feel happier in placing a Terrier really good in size, bone, legs, feet, head and ears, and general symmetry, with a moderate and unfaked coat, high up in the prize list, than one only moderate in the first named points with a good coat. I have known Terriers deficient in constructive points fail when put into hard work, but have never found coat a cause of failure."

HILLCREST KENNELS.

One of the latest additions to the ranks of the Bull Terrier fanciers is Mr. R. Nordheimer, Toronto, proprietor of the Hillcrest Kennels. Mr. Nordheimer imported that good one, Victor Lavender, that did so well at New York. We had the pleasure of visiting Mr. Nordheimer's kennels which are situated at "Glen Edyth" the old Nordheimer home and one of the most beautiful homes in Toronto. The estate comprises some thirty-five acres, a great deal of it in wood and orchard that makes ideal exercising ground for the dogs. Mr. Fred Smith, the well known and experienced Bull Terrier man, is in charge of the dogs which guarantees they will be shown fit.

The kennels are modern and have ample accommodation for about twenty dogs. Any owners shipping their bitches to any of the Hillcrest studs can rest assured that they will receive every comfort that ample accommodation gives as there is plenty of kennel room to spare at present. Mr. Smith will take in a few dogs as boarders.

The kennel is composed of the imported Victor Lavender, Mr. Nordheimer's personal companion, two young dogs bought at the Chicago show, one of which looks like a coming flyer and a bitch of Jno. Miles' strain. We wish the Hillcrest Kennels every success, they are going the right way to build up a winning kennel of dogs.

COCKER WINS.

Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. W. J. Jackson's, Hamilton, Ont., black Cocker Spaniel dog, Dunbar, won the silver cup for best Cocker Spaniel in the show at Winnipeg. Congratulations.

THE SCOTTISH TERRIER

What is looked for first in a Scot is substance, then quality. We want a "cloddy" compact dog without coarseness, but it is hard to draw the dividing line showing where "cloddiness" merges into coarseness. A dog that would be considered coarse by some judges might not be considered so by others, he would be merely "very cloddy." Weights and measurements are but poor guides to such a decision, a certain amount of experience and a natural "eye for a dog" are the only means of deciding. In regard to size, so long as he is small enough to go to earth for fox or badger, yet big enough to make his presence felt, an ounce or so on either side should count but little. Color is of little moment, black or any brindle will be acceptable. There is an old saying that "a good horse was never a bad color," but a bad Scot was never a good color.

He should stand close to the ground on powerful short legs, the elbows working just clear of his sides, but should not throw his elbows outwards to any extent, as many specimens do. The hindquarters should be very muscular and rather heavy, big both from a side or a hind view. The back should be short, straight and strong, and from the point of shoulder to the brisket the depth should be great. The head should be long and moderately narrow with a powerful foreface, the nose large and prominent and the teeth should be very large for the size of the dog. The double coat should consist of a hard wire outer coat and undercoat a soft velvety texture should be found.

He should give the impression of having a good "grip of the earth"—a dog hard to put off his feet—and if he is correctly built he really is so, as many a larger dog finds to his cost. He should look like a dog that could follow his quarry without tiring, and still be able to finish the job when he runs it to earth. He must therefore have ample breathing space, well sprung ribs, and depth of brisket. The spring of rib, however, can be overdone, a dog with too much rib (as in the case of Hyndman Thistle) is naturally more or less out at elbow or too wide in front, and he never has the depth of brisket to give him a really low to ground appearance. It is hard to get a long, narrow head on such a body, but it can be done as some few specimens prove, but there seems to be little danger of our getting them too narrow.

Whilst reading on the eternal "coat question" the other night in Our Dogs, it struck me that we are singularly fortunate in Canada, in having so many good coated Scots. A soft coated specimen seems to be quite a rarity, it is to be hoped that we will maintain this particular point. Good straight fronts seem to be on the increase, not the front of a Fox Terrier of course. We don't want that, as we want our Terriers close to the ground and the two don't go together. The predominating faults seem to be light eyes, big heavy ears, long necks and long backs. A long neck is not held as a fault by some but in my opinion it completely unbalances a Scottish Terrier. He is a Terrier all by himself in this respect, the Fox, Irish, Airedale, etc., all requiring a long lean neck. This fact causes the average Terrier man to keep this neck in his eye even when looking over a Scot. The latter however is a "cloddy," blocky dog and standing on short legs seems to me to lose symmetry when long in neck. I would think that the higher a dog stands at the elbow, the more neck he should carry, as he has further to reach when picking up small game, whilst a short legged dog does not require much "reach."

Lack of the real Scottish expression seems to be another common fault. The Scot should have a hard, forbidding look about him, never pleasant except to his closest friend. There should be a totally different expression to any other Terrier.

Before closing, I would like to call the attention of my fellow fanciers to the fact that the C. N. E. has divided the puppy class by sex, and has added a "Canadian bred" class for each sex. Let us therefore show our appreciation of these extra classes by each giving as much support as we possibly can. We had some thirty dogs on exhibit last year, mostly owned in Canada, so let us make an effort to double that number this year, and thus let the public see that we are not behind in the production of that grand little dog, the Scottish Terrier.

The Canadian Government Plays Pied Piper

BY FELIX KOCH

Illustrated from photographs

His Britannic Majesty's Government in the Dominion of Canada is up in arms against the rat, and the Honorable Deputy Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Manitoba is playing the role of a second Pied Piper, in order to rid the region of rats.

In the words of an official report from the centre of trouble, there is an area ninety miles long abutting the systematic method seems to be followed.

At Gretna, however, Mr. J. J. Golden, then Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and His Majesty's Pied Piper, conducted some interesting experiments last year in order to determine the amount of food a rat would consume per day, and, at the same time to test the virus.

At the present rate of increase, it will doubtless not be long before professional rat-catchers with trained ferrets will go about ridding houses and farms of rats at so much per head.

United States in its northern frontier, and sixty miles wide, in which the rats have made their appearance, and the Deputy Minister estimates that the damage done this year by the brown rat is over a million dollars. What is more, it will increase proportionately unless the people awake to the seriousness of the situation and stamp out the pest.

According to the report of the government inspectors, the rats in the province move in a radius of fifteen miles each year. As long as two years ago the Department produced a virus that it was thought would eliminate the pest. There was quite a considerable amount of interest at first, and many applications were made for the virus. Thousands of rats were destroyed by its use. But, by and by, the public interest lagged, and now no

A number of rats were caught alive in the traps and fed, and, while the amount of food consumed varied, Mr. Golden demonstrated beyond peradventure of a doubt the efficacy of the virus in the following manner:—

Two rats were caught and one of them received an injection of the virus. Within two days it died: while the other rat, not having been provided with food, proceeded to devour its dead comrade. Within twenty-four hours it had consumed all of the dead rat, with the exception of half an inch of the tail, and it succumbed, within a few hours, to the poison which had been injected into the other rat.

Among other interesting experiments, Golden found that the rats, while at present confining themselves to the cities and towns, made frequent visits into the fields and destroyed quantities of grain. Along the southern border of Manitoba corn is raised to a certain extent, and this spring a farmer found sixteen rats in a shock of corn, which demonstrated that this colony had lived in this particular place throughout the long cold winter, and had fed upon the grain and the cornstalks.

Just how Canada will continue to fight the rat it will be interesting to watch. Probably here, as in the English cities, professional rat-catchers, with trained ferrets in leash, will go from house to house, and farm to farm, ridding your place of rats, at so much the job. The rats will be hors de combat and the property of their captors, who may find some use for the accumulated skins.

Or again they might imitate, in each community, the example of some Ohio farmers, who not long since held what was, without doubt, the queerest hunt ever held in America.

As a matter of fact, this chase would have been funny, if it hadn't likewise been practical. There was all the need of skill that the best of hunts prescribes in it, for you and I are wont, again and again, to use the simile, as sly as a rat, aren't we?—and here the hunt was of rats alone.

The site was at Brush Ridge. The Brush Ridge country may be inferred from its name. In Indian times the brush thereabouts was so thick that the folk couldn't see a hundred yards ahead. The ridge is a part of the watershed between the Mississippi and the Great Lakes, lying in Marion County, between Toledo and Columbus at an elevation of about 1,000 feet over the sea. The soil is rich and supports prosperous farmers.

There came to them, even as to the farm-folk of Egypt, a plague. In this case the plague was of rats, and they swarmed into barns and cubs and out-buildings, they overran the corn-shocks and they wrought their damage everywhere. Hundreds of bushels of grain were devoured.

Rats burrowed into the foundations of the buildings and gnawed through roofs and partitions. It seemed utterly impossible to get rid of them.

Of course the farmer folk tried poison, and they experimented with cats and dogs and traps, but to no avail.

By and by two Nimrods of the country-side, Edward Campbell and Edward Baer by name, resolved to organize a hunt. The farmers were divided into two armies, thirty-three men apiece, and each with one of the two organizers of the affair for captain.

There was to be a six-weeks' war, and to the victor should go a banquet at the expense of the other. It was stipulated that the cost of this fete should not be more nor less than fifty cents the head. The tails of the rats slain should be kept and counted. One William Hero was appointed to keep score, as well as to hold the stake money. Then, just before the supper, the victors should receive back their own money-contributions.

On the first of November the hunt began. The Campbellites used ferrets to drive out the rats. The other side secured the use of four famous dogs of the region.

Everything was fair in this war, and if one side could steal the tails from the other, without being caught, there was no objection by the judges. Also, if one or the other could impanel outsiders to help, well and good, for the prime object was to get rid of the rats.

Daily for over a six-weeks' term, the combatants marshalled to the slaughter. There were men and boys and dogs joining to meet at some rendezvous. The captains then chose the particular farm to be used as battle-ground. Barns and outbuildings were blockaded, some of the hunters taking their places on the outside prepared to kill the rats as they came out. The others invaded the interior, proceeding to take up the floors, digging out bur-large barns, as well as a granary and a tool-house, and in this the rats were legion. Thirty-two of the Baer-ites were deployed to this place, and it

Enthusiasm, rivalry and fun combined in the rat-hunt. Now and then a dog-fight helped liven things up a trifle. Farmers passed apples and into companies of four, six or ten, and from houses to corn-fields they passed, the dogs locating the rats in the corn-shocks. The farmers then proceeded to upset the shock and the dogs went for the rats. In a single shock often as many as eight rats were killed. In one instance fourteen little rats were discovered in a shoe.

Sometimes, too, rats were found to have burrowed into the ground beneath the corn shocks, leaving a mound a foot in height.

In the long run, however, the Campbellites lost the hunt, and this by depending on the ferrets rather than the dogs, the former proving far the slower. There was much fun, nevertheless, with these ferrets. Two of them would attack a rat, starting a fight and then cutting the rodent's throat as with a razor.

Once the end of the hunt had come, only Hero knew just how the sides stood. There were one hundred and forty-eight people engaged in all, and there wasn't room for the crowd in one home, so some were deployed to the school, for the feast that was held.

After the meal the scores were read and it was shown that, all in all, 6,610 rats were killed, of which number the Baer-ites had slain 4,313.

Through the kindness of that interesting magazine, Canada Monthly, London, Ont., we are able to present Gazette readers with the above rather unusual article.

In years gone by we had a nodding acquaintance with several Messrs. Moleskin and you can take our word for it that Mr. Moleskin's work was never so complete that enough stray rats were not left to bring him a return job.—Ed. Gazette

The hunters laid regular siege to places where rats were known to be, some working inside and others waiting outside with the dogs, 526 rats being killed at one farm.

rows and the like. Then, as fast as the rats came out, men and boys would proceed to kill them.

On the Brown farm there are three cigars and there was a good time before they quitted one place for the next farm.

A meeting of the Executive of the Dominion Kennel Club was held in the South Board Room of the Industrial Bureau this 5th day of April, 1913.

Present: President Holman in the chair and Messrs. F. T. Miller, H. B. Sims and the Secretary. The President represented by proxy Mr. J. Drombosky. Mr. H. B. Sims represented by proxy Messrs. J. M. Taylor of Regina, and E. Scott Dudley of Moose Jaw. Mr. Fred W. Scott represented Mr. Geo. P. Stirling. Mr. R. G. Perse represented Mr. W. H. Smith of Lethbridge.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved of.

The Secretary reported that all proxies were in order and that all present were entitled to vote.

The Chairman announced that the object of the meeting was to consider by-laws and show rules for the Club, that numerous suggestions had been received from Western members, and he would ask the Secretary to read these suggestions. The Secretary read the suggestions that had been received.

After considerable discussion, By-laws and Show Rules were drawn up, to be submitted for approval to the first general meeting of the Club, and in the meantime the Secretary to have same printed and a copy forwarded to each member. It was agreed that until confirmed at the general meeting, these should be the By-laws and Show Rules of the Club.

The Secretary reported a request from the Lethbridge Kennel Club, to change their dates from April 15th to 17th, to 22nd to 24th, and same was granted.

Mr. T. Brownlee of the Brandon Kennel Club waited on the meeting for the purpose of obtaining further information re show matters.

A circular letter, addressed by the Alberta Kennel Club, to Western kennel clubs, was read and ordered to be filed.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

NOTES FROM ALBERTA

Lethbridge held their second annual Spring show April 22nd to 24th, a success all the way. Good sports are the "boys" who run this outfit.

Winnipeg, as usual, carried away most of the honors, well, the Winnipeg fancier puts down the money for the goods, the men who handle the dogs, put them down to win, you don't have to guess about the result. Mr. Novice should get the facts into his "nut" his sleep will be better, his number of friends many more, besides, the game will "go" better. (See Notes and Comments—Ed.)

That good sportsman, Geo. A. Hull, won out again with Braemar Perfection, a hard dog to beat in any company, he is type all through.

Another Calgary man wearing the right coat, E. D. Adams, did well with Retrievers. Yet another Calgarian in the same category, Andy Stickney, came out on top with Poms.

Billie Currie has returned from visiting his old home in Scotland and brought out quite a serviceable Wire hair by "Jac's" Holgate's great Ch. Southboro Salex.

We hear that Harry P. D. Walker has returned from the Coast a sick man, his host of friends will be glad to see him restored to health, he is of the kind we can ill spare.

Things in Poms are moving merrily the "ups" are "down" and the despised "downs" are "up."

The novice who goes blating about "knocking" other fanciers' dogs, should sit up and take notice ere they get chased out of the game, they

WESTERN NOTES

The Dominion Kennel Club held a meeting of the Executive on 5th inst. for the purpose of framing By-Laws and Show Rules. You will doubtless get a full official report for the next issue of the Gazette, but your correspondent learns the following to be the only changes in the present C. K. C. Rules. Wherever the word "Canadian" occurs change to "Dominion" and "C. K. C." to "D. K. C."

Word was received in the interests of Port Arthur and Fort William, asking that the Dominion extend their Eastern territory to take in those two cities, instead of making it "Winnipeg and West" as has been published.

All C. K. C. wins at shows held up to March 1st last will be recognized and after that date, outside of the territory Port Arthur and West.

In view of the last editorial in the Gazette, it was decided to recognize all wins under A. K. C. rules, including winners classes, at shows held outside of Canada.

Shows will be permitted to allow puppies under six months of age to be exhibited but not for competition, provided a suitable room, separate from the place in which the competing dogs are benched, is available. Show Committees allowing an underaged puppy to be exhibited in the same room in which the competing dogs are benched will be liable to the same penalty as under C. K. C. Rules.

Show Committees must employ a qualified Veterinary Surgeon, who must be present during the time the dogs are being received, and must each day of the show, accompanied by the Superintendent, make a thorough examination of all dogs benched.

The entry form must contain a notice to exhibitors informing them as to the necessity of providing suitable collars and bench chains.

It will not be compulsory for the catalogue to contain the show rules.

Entries for the Western Canada Kennel Club's show closed with over three hundred and fifty dogs, so that it will be a sure five pointer. We were surprised to see the number of local exhibitors that left their entries until it was too late, as Secretary Love closed down sharp on time, and a number who were in a position to get their entries in on time were disappointed. This should be a lesson to some who are always late. It does not help the Secretary, who needs all the time he can get to have his catalogue work prepared.

Winnipeg sent ninety-nine dogs to Lethbridge show in charge of Messrs. J. C. Fletcher and Geo. Kynoch. Entries were sent for 102, so that only three were scratched. This is what helps a show and makes it a success. The car left Winnipeg on Thursday evening and arrived in Lethbridge on Sunday evening. It's quite a contract to move a bunch of dogs such as this and bring them through in shape but Messrs. Fletcher and Kynoch are old hands at this game, and have it down to a science. On the way out they found that the dogs were not taking kindly to the dog biscuit, so they bought a cow and had it slaughtered and loaded on the car. This provided well for the dogs. They brought all back safely, in good shape and not a sick dog. They intend fitting up a car specially for the Edmonton show and think that they can arrange benching so that they can carry at least one hundred and twenty-five dogs. Their plan is to build suitable benching of a uniform size and shape and to suit the dimensions of a car. This is needed, as in addition to Edmonton, Brandon and Regina will also be attended.

Winnipeg fanciers are contemplating a one day's show for July 1st, under D. K. C. rules. Arrangements will be made for outside dogs to be looked after, until the Canadian Industrial Show, commencing on the 9th, so that they can take in both. A number of outside exhibitors have expressed themselves as willing to patronize a show of this kind, and there is no doubt as to the success of it.

Winnipeg has added another Clumber Spaniel to the two reported in the Gazette some time ago. Mr. W. H. Gardner has imported a dog and he will make his first appearance at the Western Canada Show. In looking over the stud books, I find it is some years since a Clumber has been registered.

The Beagle men of the city are talking of a Beagle Field Trial Club. There are only two in Winnipeg at the present but we hear of another half dozen that will be along some of these days, so that this will make a start. This will give variety to the Pointer and Setter Trials, and no doubt the Spaniel men will get busy also.

The Manitoba Field Trial Club will not give trials this year but will throw in their lot with the Western Canada Club, and make a bumper Amateur Trial. Owing to the death of Mr. Hamber, who acted as Secretary for so many years, and their inability to procure some one to fill such an important office, they decided to let this year go by without a trial. Arrangements will no doubt be made, whereby the dogs can be run in the Western Canada, so that those coming from the South will have an opportunity of trying out their prospects, as early as possible. The owner of the dog is supposed to handle the dog in the Western Canada Trials, but we think if this was limited to an amateur, that more dogs would be entered and the same results arrived at. After all, without competition, there is not much honor, so that the larger the field of starters, the greater will be the honor of the win.

We have been allowed the privilege of glancing over the entries for the Western Canada. Some of the classes that have not been well patronized heretofore will be out in force. Twelve Russian Wolfhounds will be benched. Mr. Collier of Mortlach, Sask., is sending his good young dog and the champions will have to move some. Five or six Yorkshires fill up a class that has not been supported very freely. A little more support here and the show authorities would put a weight class in. Airedales are one of the banner classes, with entries from Port Arthur, west to Lethbridge. J. P. Hall, of Lethbridge, sends Choir Boy for the puppy class. This dog put down right would take some beating, but I look to Jack Fletcher to put him down as well as possible. H. A. Ruttan, of Port Arthur, is credited with a dark horse in Thunder Bay. This dog is by Caerphilly Marvel. The Irishmen are a big class and on paper look a likely lot. Bulldogs, always a strong class in the West, are again to the front, and we note a lot of new ones. The Mersey Kennels of Winnipeg with their usual desire to support the local show, and keep it up to its standard, will bench ten. The Chinook Kennels of Lethbridge, have sent J. C. Fletcher, their sterling good bitch, Lady Valeria, to fit and handle and expect to have their new dog, Chinook Silent Prince, in Jack's hands in time to get ready. J. E. Rannard of Lethbridge has commissioned Geo. Kynoch to look after his dog, Silver Rival, and W. W. de Rossiter of Moose Jaw, will send Sir Pat. With the Mersey dogs in, a win here looks good to me. Arthur Smyth of Humboldt will bring down his string of four Bull Terriers and the Rellimderf Kennels will go to it with Gordon and Bloom. Where have all the Wires gone! Only two exhibitors. Mr. Sims of Moose Jaw has entered his string and Dr. Smith of this city will provide the other entry in Donington Princess. Visitors to Lethbridge have all remarked on the wonderful condition of the Rosemont dogs at that show. Done to the minute and looking their best. Both dogs were a great credit to their kennels. Every one of the Collie men have got something up their sleeve, but there seems to be a much easier feeling with Corona Premier out of the way. We are all waiting to see Premier's successor step out. I have it straight from the proprietors of the Corona Kennels that they think they have a better one, in fact they don't say "think." It will be a heart-breaker if they turn another Premier loose. Weston All Quality will take some stopping in the bitch class, but I look to the tri-color, Corona Crystal, to give a better account of herself, than at Lethbridge. J. B. Guarnera has entered Ormskirk Fanny, just to show them the "mammy" of them all. And at last Sandy MacPherson in the Skye class will have some competition. This will be the proudest moment in Sandy's life as heretofore, all he did, "was walk right in and turn right round and walk right out again." Sandy quit counting championship points long ago.

Always something new in the Setter classes and on looking over the list, we see some quality sticking out. Mr. Fred W. Scott's new bitch, Woodcrest Patsey, will make her initial bow to the Winnipeg show goers, and she is certainly the goods. Jack Fletcher has the Woodcrest string in hand, and Patsey's ring manners are a strong testimonial of the painstaking manner in which he looks after his charges. Pointers have not filled as well as usual but with Prince Cash and Bangs Doc, the quality will be there if not the quantity. Ed. Bissett has a good green bitch in Birdie Cash.

The list of specials is the most attractive that has ever been offered at a Western show. In all about one hundred and fifty and which the Executive have distributed in a careful manner. Forty-two of these are silver cups and with no string on them.

Owing to the weekly drill of the hundredth regiment, it is impossible to get the building until ten o'clock of the night preceding the opening of the show. This necessitated a little more organization work, and Secretary Love has arranged this detail by allowing thirty-six feet of benching to three men. In this way, three or four hours will see the building in shape for the dogs, however, it would not be the first time that the Club's Executive have worked all night, in preparing the building. One could not imagine a more suitable building for such a purpose. Cement floor, 70 by 150 with promenade walk all around, and a large gallery. The ring will be 24 by 30 with eight foot aisles between benching, and a main aisle of 11 feet.

On calling at headquarters of the D. K. C., I learn that the Canadian Industrial, Edmonton and Regina summer shows, have all sent in word that they will hold under D. K. C. rules. I was shown a circular letter from the Alberta Kennel Club of Calgary stating that they had decided on C. K. C. rules. I called on the different local members of the D. K. C. Executive but none of them had any comment to make. To borrow the words used in a recent editorial in the Gazette, they all seem to be of the opinion "that it is a free country, and men and women may do as they think best."

SEATTLE KENNEL CLUB SHOW

APRIL 9-12, 1913.

This show was held as last year on the premises of The Bon Marche, a large departmental store in the heart of the city. Mr. W. B. Bailey, Secretary, assisted by a large staff of efficient working officials made the show a source of pleasure and interest to all visitors, and as judge of the major portion of the show I cannot sufficiently express my appreciation of the courtesy and ready help I received from all.

Irish Terriers, Airedales, Bull Terriers and Bostons led the breeds in point of numbers.

Unfortunately I was, at times, almost incapacitated by a very painful attack of lumbago which lasted throughout the show, and which prevented my handling the large entry with which I was honored as speedily and satisfactorily as I could have wished. Owing to a reported outbreak of rabies in the State of Washington the Canadian dogs were barely represented.

The following notes apply to the classes which came before me. Other judges were Messrs. T. P. McConnell, Setters and Pointers; J. G. McFee, Chesapeake Bays; P. J. Heseler, Great Danes and Dachshunde; Dr. O. Hartnagel, Bull Terriers; F. Tadama, the large breeds, Bostons and French Bulls.

Airedales, (33 dogs). Puppy dogs, 1 Chief Charlie Kicking Horse, is a very well built pup, good in top, shoulder, neck and ear, nice color, but light in eye. A good shower, and an easy winner. 2 Mountain View Vigilante has immense bone, grand skull and foreface, fair eye and coat, but overdone in ear. 3 S. Prow. Extra good in foreface, ears large and coat might be better. Reserve, Lake Dell Trailer, has good bone and coat for his age and size. Novice dogs, 1 Hogani a big strong dog, shown very rough. He is not an attractive dog but scores on points. He has good length of head and skull, nice dark eye, well placed ear, good texture of coat, good top and loin, very short, strong back, and stands up well. He wants more bone and is thick in shoulder and short in neck, standing wide. 2 Mountain View Rory is a very shapely dog with excellent neck and shoulder and great bone. He is full of quality but has a rather light eye and has a fairly good front. His coat such as it was at the time was soft although it may be that the harder coat had not yet come through. 3 The winning pup. Reserve, Okanagan Bob, good color and a useful sort, but coat not characteristic. His stern is not well set on. Limit dogs, 1 Mountain View Rory. 2 Nailstone Corporal, round cheeked, hard as nails, coat rather curly but crisp, wants bone, wide in front. Open dogs, 1 The second pup. 2 N. Corporal. Hogan took winners with M. V. Rory reserve. Bitches, puppies, 1 Lake Dell Tempest, an easy winner, after making proper allowance for age and size. She has good bone for her size and age, 6½ months. She has perfect dark Terrier eye and expression, neat, small ears, well carried, well proportioned head, great depth of chest, strong loin, good quarters, legs and feet, and exceptionally good coat. She needs to tighten up a bit in back and the ultimate set of her mouth is just doubtful. 2 Conquet Nettle, a very taking bitch, with magnificent outline, good legs and a clever mover. She fails in eye and shows some wrinkle. 3 Mountain View Virago, a heavy boned bitch, good type, but overdone in ear, eye not satisfactory. Novice bitches, 1 Tidalgo Russie, a very big rangy bitch, with fair head, great bone, good ears, moderate eye, poor color, a good working type. 2 M. V. Vixen II., a heavy boned pup, a nice stamp. 3 Queen X., a big, sound grizzle, stands up well, skull a trifle round, coat good texture. Limit bitches, 1 Lake Dell Magnet, a big bitch, with great bone, good type of head, somewhat long in back, coat very good texture, a good brood bitch. 2 Triton Jess, light bone, good color, but tucked up in loin, and long in back. Head fair. 3 Triton Bess, very similar but fails to second in eye. Open bitches, 1 M. V. Jezebel has a good dark eye, but has her head spoiled by a low set, large ear. 2 Lake Dell Mittens is well coupled, has large ear and is light in bone. Skull is not satisfactory and foreface pinched. 3 Tidalgo Russie. In winners the 1 and 2 pups were far ahead of the older ones. The 2 pup is well grown and matured. Judged as an adult she should be placed above the half grown Lake Dell Tempest as the objection to awarding winners points to the half grown pups is obvious. This would have involved a reversal of the puppy awards, so I was obliged to place the little one first. I am not quite clear as to whether a reversal would not have been justified under the circumstances. A special prize for the best coat irrespective of color was won by Tidalgo Russie close pressed by Queen Vic, the property of Mr. C. H. Sweetser.

Cocker Spaniels, puppy dogs. A very good class of mixed colors. 1 Kushan Niban, has a lovely head, profuse coat and good front, legs and feet. He was shown in poor condition which detracted from the square finish of his quarters but is one of the best seen out here for some time. 2 K. Ichiban, a little longer, beaten in head only. 3 K. Sanban, and reserve, K. Yohan, are part of the same litter as the two first, a great quartette. Philindad a strong cobby dog with good head and color, took winners in black, beating by a narrow margin his litter brother, Quil Cuda Mateo. Open dogs (parti-color), brought to the front Kushan Langa, a six year old with good head, expression and body properties. For winners (other than black) K. Niban, was an easy winner, followed by K. Langa. Puppy bitches, 1 Quil Cuda Iris, a very correct, short backed small black, won with something in hand. 2 Cleopatra, longer in body. 3 Signa, only fair. Limit bitches black, O. E. Dzella, was alone and was placed reserve in the winners class giving way to the winning pup.

Collies, puppy dogs, 1 Glen Tana Chief, has a nice head, eye and ear, is too long and not high enough in shoulder. 2 Spruce Cottage. 3 Ben Nevis Baldwin, both moderate. Open dogs, 1 Southport Rock, a great shower, good color and texture of coat, short coupled, has sound legs and good feet head of moderate length, eye not small enough and ear carriage too low. 2 Glen Tana Cromwell, much longer in head, mouth somewhat over-shot, rangy in body. Rock took winners with G. T. Cromwell reserve. Puppy bitches, 1 Glen Tana Marchesa, a beautifully balanced little bitch, good expression, eye and ear carriage, great strength of loin, well sprung ribs and a good mover. She won the special for the best Collie in the show. 2 Handsome Trixy. 3 Lady Seedley Madge. Limit bitches. 1 Glen Tana Daisy, a very attractive tri-color, shows well, good coat, well shaped body, loses in substance to the G. T. Marchesa in the winners class. Fore-face might be better filled. 2 Southport Success, a big, heavy bitch, good head, but loose in shoulder.

Fox Terriers, Smooth, only two entries, and those only moderate specimens.

Fox Terriers, Wire, a fair dog with extra good coat is Madrona Bunker, well known at our B.C. shows. Joker, the only other entry, is very big and soft in coat.

Irish Terriers produced a large entry of 41 dogs. The manner in which the I. T. Club in Seattle have worked together to improve the quality and popularity of this breed is an example of what good fellowship and good sportsmanship can do in a short time. Puppy dogs, 1 Madrona Mac, long muzzle, fine skull, small keen eye, good coat and color, shows great character but is long in coupling. 2 M. Duke, long enough, good foreface and coat, feet flat, eye not equal to the winner. 3 Coast Native Prospect, very fine in skull, eye large, feet clumsy and rangy in body. Novice dogs, 1 M. Laddie, good head properties and expression, sound front and good shoulder, long in coupling. 2 M. Duke, 3 Tyee Terence, good body, front and coat, eye too large, ears clumsy. Limit dogs, 1 Pat alone, only moderate. Open dogs, 1 Baughfell Salute, Full size, grand body, chest, loin and quarters, skull right, quite the best foreface and muzzle, small well placed ears, eye rather large, giving way in front, coat fair. 2 M. Laddie. 3 Coast Native Son. Fair head, well placed, small ear, eye large, rather plain in body and not satisfactory in front. Baughfell Salute won in the winners class, with M. Laddie reserve. Puppy bitches, 1 Richmond Betsy, a very sweet little bitch, with good length of head, expression right, and well balanced body. 2 Kueen Made. 3 M. Bridget Muldoon has a good head, but is light in eye and carries her ears very high. Novice bitches, 1 Kenmare Nora. Fine in skull, good eye, excellent outline, deep chest, and wearing a dense hard coat, ears high. She won special for the best coat. 2 M. Trim, light in eye and high ear carriage. 3 Coast Native Gem, is light in color and plain in head. Limit bitches, 1 Crowgill Madcap, alone. Open bitches, 1 Nora, a useful bitch, long cast, but with nice skull, eye rather light, good quarters, well bent stifle, ear small and well placed, thick in shoulder and not right in front. A good shower. 2 Tyee Rose, extra good in eye, coat and shoulders, very short back, straight in stifle, one ear a bit off. Her quarters are strong but fall away on each side of a well placed stern. 3 Coast Native Spitfire, is fair, but weak in color. Nora took the paints in winners with Tyee Rose close up.

Scottish Terriers, Kildarton Betty, alone, is a good little one, with sound front, good coat, short body and fair head.

Black and Tan Terriers. Three classy specimens. 1 Kildarton Peter Pan, correct markings, good head and body. 2 K. Wanda, somewhat out of condition, but clear in markings. 3 Coquet Vixen, a nice strong bitch, better in foreface than the 2nd but not so well defined in tan.

Toy Black and Tan Terriers. Midget, very nicely marked, was alone.

Pomeranians. Puppy dogs, 1 Rufus, is a very little dog, but not very strong on his pins and out of coat. Open dogs, 1 Orange Dandy Boy, a bright little dog, moves well, has nice legs and feet, coat and color fair, ears not always correct. 2 Choc Boy. 3 White Teddy, a very big one. Bitches, 1 Puppy and Limit, Beautiful Doll, very moderate. 1st open, winners, and best in show, Midge, a very good coat ears and size, sound on her pins.

Japanese Spaniels. A classy company. 1 limit and winners, Yum, Al skull and muzzle, bright mover, good coat and tail, rather long in body. 1st open, Mikado IV., larger, but otherwise almost his equal and in better coat. Puppy bitches, 1 Tuji, a particularly good small, short backed bitch, but unfortunately not sound behind, which placed her behind Fan Tan in the winners class.

Maltese Terriers. 1 Romeo I., a very good specimen with a light nose, beat a pup, Romeo II., with the same fault. Special for best team of 4 dogs of one breed was awarded to Mr. Gamwell's Cockers. Special for best dog in show to the Bulldog, Rodney Merly, a grand fawn, great bone and chest, short back and sound legs and quarters, nice eye and ears, might be wider in skull and could do with a more accentuated turnup and layback.

The show was well managed and the judging was a great pleasure to me. I had the pleasure of meeting the finest lot of true sportsmen that I have ever seen at one show. With such men as Messrs. Keefe, of Butte, Palmer and Curless and Captain Tennant of Seattle, Gamwell of Bellingham, and old hands like Messrs. Tinto, Bailey, Campion and the veteran, Sweetser, it could not be otherwise.

Colin F. Jackson,
Judge.

THE NATIONAL SPORTING TERRIER ASSOCIATION

Enclosed you will find a circular letter that tells the story of the organization of the National Sporting Terrier Association.

You can see from the plans outlined that we are working very hard to have an Association that will be of very direct and practical value to all members and of real service to the various breeds of sporting Terriers. The work that we will do in publicity for these breeds will be considerable, and as a journalist you can appreciate its importance. The sales list feature is a new one, we believe, for a doggy organization, and should prove very valuable to members. The encouragement of breeders by offering the Association's medal in gold to the breeder of any champion of record is a third plan for being of real value to the thoroughbred terriers.

We have not the least intention of taking the place of the specialty clubs, but hope rather to be able to further their work for the different breeds. We shall always support the A.K.C. and the C.K.C., by offering specials only, at recognized shows and restricting them to registered dogs.

We are most anxious to have as many good Terrier fanciers from 'over the line' with us as possible, and we plan to offer our specially liberally at Canadian shows. Will you extend a very cordial invitation to your subscribers to join?

Thanking you, in advance, for anything that you may be able to do in bringing this new Association and its aims to the attention of Canadian fanciers, I am,

Very truly yours,

Williams Haynes,

Chairman Organization Committee.
Chicago, Ill., February 27, 1913.

THE NATIONAL SPORTING TERRIER ASSOCIATION.

Organization Committee—Williams Haynes, Chairman; Charles Perrin; Ralph W. Condee, Sec.-Treas., First National Bank Building, Chicago.

To American Terrier fanciers:

The National Sporting Terrier Association is being organized.

Membership is open to all sporting Terrier fanciers, and the object of the Association is to promote, by every proper and legitimate means, the best interests of these breeds. The Association will in no way conflict with the various specialty clubs, but will supplement and strengthen their efforts. Being national in scope and drawing members from several breeds, the organization will be able to do effective work for the dogs and to offer material assistance and encouragement to its members.

The plans formulated have several features that are new and which should be of great benefit to its members.

1st.—Members will be divided according to their breeds, into sections, each section electing two of its own representatives, from different parts of the country, to serve on the Board of Governors.

2nd.—The Association will publish a monthly sales list, which will be sent to members, to the kennel press, and to a list of other interested persons. Members can publish in this list, without any charge, dogs they have for sale. Efforts will also be made, by

ST. BERNARDS AT NEW YORK.

I read with great interest the splendid review article on St. Bernards at the late Westminster Show by Mr. F. E. Stewart. I must congratulate this gentleman upon the splendid manner in which he handled this subject, showing that he is thoroughly posted on this noble breed.

However, I must take exception to the account of Valais Flo where he mentions that she fails quite a bit in her hind legs. As the owner of Valais Kennels and Valais Flo, I would state that I see Valais Flo every day and have always been proud of her soundness in her hind quarters.

I have carefully gone over her this morning and have made the most minute examination and I can truthfully state that Valais Flo is fully as sound in her hind legs as Valais Jupiter who is undoubtedly one of the soundest dogs in this country to-day.

Possibly Mr. Stewart gathered this idea when she was released from her bench at the show and possibly was a little cramped temporarily. He could not have gone over her carefully and examined her. Several well known admirers of this breed have been to my kennels in the past few weeks and all will bear me out that Valais Flo is as sound a dog in hind legs as any would wish to have.

I make this correction with the kindest of feelings, as previously stated, to Mr. Stewart who is a gentleman undoubtedly possessed of considerable knowledge of this breed. We are all, however, at times liable to make mistakes.

Respectfully yours,

Valais Kennels,

J. T. Croxall, Owner.

East Liverpool, Ohio, U.S.A.

HAMILTON NOTES.

Mr. Mewburn has bred his Airedale bitch to Moorside Rock and as she is by the great Ch. Grayston Growler, he is naturally looking forward to some real Airedales.

Mr. Robertson purchased an unshown Airedale bitch from the Avondale Kennels, afterwards breeding her to Mr. Harry Clayton's Buster Briar and hopes to add to the interests of the show bench in the future.

The Avondale Kennels have been busy with Scottish Terriers lately, having sold a bitch in whelp to Mr. Alletson, of Battleford, Sask., and another to the Newcastle Kennels, Brookline, Mass. Both are in whelp to Avondale Ascot. A dog puppy went to Mr. Strathy of Toronto, two more to a lady in Rochester, and one to Mrs. Heaton of Toronto. A new dog, just arrived from England, seems likely to keep up the Avondale reputation. Although unshown he looks the part of a star performer.

Scot.

COCKER SALE.

In the March issue of the Canadian Kennel Gazette, I notice where E. S. Crookenden, Woodstock, sold a black Cocker bitch called Edna to W. J. Jackson, of Hamilton. I would like to have this corrected. Now that female's name is Maud, and I own Edna which won winners at London. She is in my kennel now.

The female Maud, sold to Mr. Jackson, was never shown at all, I took her to London to sell, but she was never benched.

John Tomlinson.

TO A TERRIER.

Crib, on your grave beneath the chestnut boughs,

To-day no fragrance falls nor summer air,

Only a master's love who laid you there

Perchance may warm the earth 'neath which you drowse

In dreams from which no dinner gong may rouse,

Unwakeable, though close the rat may dare,

Deaf, though the rabbit thump in playful scare,

Silent, though twenty tabbies pay their vows,

And yet, mayhap, some night when shadows pass,

And from the fir the brown owl hoots on high,

Then should one whistle 'neath a favouring star

Your small white shade shall patter o'er the grass.

Questing for him you loved o' days gone by,

Ere Death the Dog-thief carried you afar!

PROPERTY OF A. ALBRIGHT, JR.

Offer at Stud the Leading Terriers of the Breeds

AIREDALE TERRIER

Ch. King Oorang

Absolutely the greatest Airedale, past or present. Most recent win, under that eminent authority, Jas. Mortimer, Esq., 1st, winners and special best Airedale at Chicago, beating Vickery Soubrette, the New York winner. Also winner at recent Pittsburgh Show of special best all breeds. 1st, winners dogs at Boston, reserve winners at L.I.A.T. Club Show (the winner at this show going down to 4th in open class at Boston under an Airedale judge), beating the New York winning dog.

Ch. King Oorang is well high perfect in all Airedale Terrier points. He has the darkest of eyes. Small, perfectly carried ears, and a jet black coat of hardest texture with rich dark tan markings. Immense spring of rib. His front is absolute. Tremendous bone, small feet, short back and tail set on high and carried gaily. His action is correct and he is a stylish, game show.

We have two young dogs and a bitch by him that are real toppers. King Oorang is a very sure sire of large litters.

FEE, $25.00

SMOOTH FOX TERRIER

Marconian

We have recently imported this great Terrier, considered by the best judges in England the greatest Smooth Fox Terrier dog seen in years. Sold by Mr. Wm. Jordison at the Fox Terrier Club Show (where he created a sensation) for a record price. He has made a wonderful record abroad, both on the bench and at stud. One of his progeny, Marconica, sold for $500.00 as a puppy to F. Redmond, Esq., at recent Fox Terrier Club Specialty Show, where she went through her classes, annexing the Challenge Certificate. On his breeding and individuality, together with what he has produced during his few months at stud, is sure to prove as great a sire as his illustrious grandsire, Ch. Oxonian, whom he greatly resembles. He is most suitable as a mate for Sabine and Warren bitches. He is perfection in eye, ear, neck, front, bone, legs, feet, coat, body, action and set on of tail. Has most wonderful hind-quarters, that much desired quality so lacking in many of our otherwise good Terriers. We doubt if another Fox Terrier lives with such a long, clean, perfect head.

FEE, $25.00

W. HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIERS

Ch. Baughfell Talisker

The top show and stud dog of the breed. Has beaten every dog and bitch of note in this country, barring his kennelmate, Ch. Barlae Snowflake. Has won over 30 championship points. Sire of two champions and numerous challenge winners in England and America. Absolutely jet black eye and points, pure white coat, pin wire in texture. One of the gamiest dogs ever seen. Sure stock getter and one of the few of the breed having the powerful punishing jaw as called for by the standard of the West Highland Terrier Club in England. A sure sire.

FEE, $25.00

Baughfell Blizzard

Recently imported. Harsh coat, pure white, jet black eye, and very much like his half sister, Ch. Barlae Snowflake. Sired by that great dog, Master Hector. This dog has straightest front, and shortest back ever seen on a West Highlander. Very game, gray shower, and a sure champion.

FEE FOR A SHORT TIME, $15.00

We pay express charges one way on bitches West of Chicago.
