NOTES AND COMMENTS

The very interesting article entitled The Dogs of the North appearing in this issue, is reprinted from that splendid, all-round Canadian sporting magazine, Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont. Mr. Taylor is a personal friend of ours of many years standing, and Gazette readers who are interested in the rod and gun, hunting, fishing, etc., should add Rod and Gun to the list of their periodicals. It may be bought at any news stand each month for fifteen cents, or better still may be had for a year at the subscription price of $1.50, postage paid.

Mr. Chas H. Mason will again judge all classes at the Western Fair Dog Show to be held in London on September 15th to 18th. Announcement of the show will be found in this issue. Twelve hundred dollars are offered in cash prizes, and in addition a fine lot of specials. London is one of the best show towns in Ontario, a thriving center that has always been famous for the number of good dog men residing in and about the city. Mr. A. M. Hunt, the Secretary, will be glad to send all information to those who write him.

The first annual show of the Medicine Hat Kennel Club will be held in Medicine Hat, Alta., June 7th, 8th and 9th, 1914, entries closing on June 27th with Mr. W. O. Clare Forster, Secretary, 322 12th Street East, Medicine Hat, Alta. The show will immediately follow Calgary, and will itself be followed by Winnipeg, so that a large entry is expected for the first show. The promoters have been promised a car-load from Winnipeg, twenty-five dogs from Regina, a like number from Moose Jaw and from Lethbridge, and a car from Edmonton and Calgary. Besides these there will be a great many local entries, and British Columbia has promised to support the show both from Vancouver and Victoria. The locale is to be the curling rink, one of the finest buildings in the country for such a purpose. It is sanitary and well ventilated. Dr. Robert Blyth will look after the veterinary end and the health of the dogs will be in his care. A large number of cups and specials has been promised and silver medals will be awarded winners in every class. The judges are Mr. Bart. Oxley, the well known old country judge, who has officiated at such shows as the Crystal Palace, Crufts, Manchester, etc. He will take Collies and Toy classes. Mr. J. L. Dombrosky, the noted breeder of Boston Terriers, will handle his favorite breed, and the services of another good judge will be secured to take the sporting classes, Terriers, etc. Further announcement of the show will be made in our July issue.

As we expected, we have received by wire and letter, as well as in person, a great number of protests against the recent ruling of the Canadian Kennel Club, whereby officials at shows other than those of the C. K. C. are disqualified by that Club, and we have been asked from several quarters how we are going to "attack it." We do not intend to attack it in any way, but to endeavor to point out where, in our opinion, it is wrong, from the standpoint of sport, business and law.

First, as to the sporting side of the question, on which we do not intend to say very much, as we greatly fear that dog showing in Canada has, of late years in some quarters, developed into a question of dollars and cents, especially in some of what may be called the older centres. The C. K. C. may think they have the right end of the "big stick" but popular opinion may reverse this and the officials eventually find themselves clubbed with their own bludgeon. Coercion is never sportsmanlike and it is open to question if any serious attempt has ever been made to bring the two Clubs together, as was voted on at the last annual meeting held in Toronto.

MR. GEO. R. FARQUHARSON.

Who will pilot the first show of the Queen City Kennel Club on June 13th.

If such has happened it has never come to our notice, and we now suggest a joint committee from either Club, with an independent chairman, preferably a man who is not a member of the C. K. C. or of the D. K. C. Nothing in above refers to meetings held at Winnipeg.

Now for a look at the business side. The C. K. C. as well as the D. K. C. have something to sell—their influence, their prestige, their services. We know what would happen, and quickly too, in any business that we are connected with, if we were to say, because some of our clients purchased what we had to sell, from another source, “you are in our black books and we will in future refuse to sell you.” What a splendid opportunity for others in the same business to cultivate our fields and to increase both their sales and their clientage! From a business standpoint we submit that the recent move is a foolish one, as it cuts off at once a number of members of the Club, for we understand that the D. K. C. has now reached over into British Columbia and that the Vancouver Exhibition will be held under D. K. C. rules. And more than that, that the Vancouver Kennel Club has been re-organized and have unanimously decided to hold future shows under Dominion Kennel Club auspices. The C. K. C. ruling has limited their field of operations to that portion of Canada east of Port Arthur, with the exception of what scattered shows may remain loyal to them in the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. We know of none in the former.

Legally we don't believe that the Canadian Kennel Club has the jurisdiction over Canada that it may think it has. It must not be forgotten that the C. K. C. is incorporated, not under a Dominion Act, but simply under an Ontario Act of incorporation. It may have—although we doubt it—power to say to its members and others living within the bounds of Ontario, “if you do not do what we say we shall debar you from taking part in the control of any future shows held under our rules, nor will we allow you even to exhibit.” They may have this power in Ontario, though it is open to very grave doubt, and for many reasons. One is, that the law in restraint of trade would probably over-ride any ruling they can make, for a man cannot be deprived of his right to make a living, and it could easily be proved that the buying and selling of dogs has developed into a business of considerable magnitude. Again we have grave doubts as to whether any group of men could be disqualified, in other words restrained, at any rate in some cases, from earning part of their living, holus bolus. Independent trial is the privilege of every man under British rule, and in our opinion, this would apply to C. K. C. enactments as it would in any law court. Passing out of Ontario, we think it will be found that the authority of the C. K. C. might be successfully questioned in a case of disqualification in Quebec, the Maritimes, the Prairie Provinces or in British Columbia. We cannot imagine that a provincial charter would give the Club authority over, say our neighbors in Quebec, if they decided to hold a show in Quebec under D. K. C. or A. K. C. rules, and we hope they will do neither. The C. K. C. might possibly be able to say, “you shall not show in Ontario,” although even this is doubtful.

We may be wrong in all this but we do not think so, and if the recent C. K. C. law is carried out the probable result will be that some prominent man will be automatically disqualified and will bring the matter legally to a test. This should settle it.

Canada cannot be compared and cannot be put on an equality with England, for the English Kennel Club is a proprietary club, one of absolute ownership. Nor can a fair comparison be made with the United States for the A. K. C. is a club of clubs, not individuals, and their work is in the hands of delegates.

We write advisedly in asking the C. K. C. to look carefully into what powers of disqualification they really have individually, and as one of a group of three clubs differently constituted.

And once more we ask why cannot the two clubs be brought together before the trouble grows any more acute?

Mr. Geo. A. Cranfield of Vancouver, B. C., will judge all classes at the Alberta Kennel Club Show to be held in Calgary on June 30th, and July 1st and 2nd. Mr. Cranfield judged at Winnipeg this winter, and it will be fresh in the minds of Gazette readers, that our Western correspondent wrote in high terms of Mr. Cranfield's judging, and as one who knows his own mind and acted upon it.

In addition to a good list of specials Calgary is putting up one thousand dollars in cash prizes. It should not be forgotten that entries close on June 20th, with Mr. W. N. Gibson, Secretary, Calgary, Alta.

On the Saturday afternoon of the Montreal Show, through the kindness of Mr. Ormiston Roy, and accompanied by Squire Joe Reid, we were given a run up the mountain in Mr. Roy's car, and a private view of the magnificent collection of Darwin Tulips that Mr. Roy is so proud of, and which were then in their full beauty. Montreal lovers of the beautiful who missed seeing these newest of the Tulip family, lost a sight that cannot be duplicated anywhere in America.

We also saw for a few minutes Mr. Harold Hughes, the Secretary of the show, and were glad to hear from him that the Mount Royal Kennel Club would at least break even on their latest venture.

Later on we had a little family party at the Windsor, including Mr. Reid, Mr. Ben. Lewis, Mr. Coristine and one or two others, and it was here that we got the details of Mr. Lewis' purchases. All in all the week was an extremely pleasant one and one that we shall long remember.

Since writing the paragraph about London, the Secretary tells us that entries for the dog show will close on Sept. 8th. This should be noted by intending exhibitors.

We are very much afraid that Canadian Kennel Club Rule XIX., is being honored more in the breach than in the observance. This rule reads as follows:

“Dogs may be entered for exhibition or for specials only, if so stated on the entry blank; but any dog entered for competition and received at the show building must compete in all the classes for which it is entered, and failing to do so, shall be fined an amount equal to the entrance fee for each class. Dogs competing for specials only must be entered in one of the regular classes in which they need not compete.”

The part that we especially desire to draw attention to is that governing dogs competing for specials only, where it says that they “must be entered in one of the regular classes.” Now an American-bred class, or bred-by-exhibitor class, or a local class, is not a regular class as designated by the C. K. C., so that dogs entered in one or more of these classes only, are as though they were not entered at all, and are not eligible to compete for specials. It is just as well to draw attention to this or some of these days a dispute will arise that may result in unpleasantness and a certain amount of ill-feeling.

Late advice brings the information without any doubt whatever, that the Dominion Kennel Club, whose office is at Winnipeg, have entered into the British Columbia field.

The Vancouver Exhibition Association show, which takes place on September 3rd, 4th, and 5th, is being held under D. K. C. rules, and their prize list has already been issued, containing these rules. We hope for more detailed information for July Gazette.

Then the report of Mr. W. J. Lutley, Honorary-Secretary of the Vancouver Kennel Club, Limited, which appears in this issued, gives the names of the new officers, and the information that it was unanimously resolved that the V. K. C. support the Dominion Kennel Club and hold its next show under D. K. C. rules and regulations.

On another occasion we made the remark that “things were happening quickly in the west.” They seem to have gained speed further west still and all we can do now is to wait for developments.

Mr. Lacy, in writing in the American Fancier and Stock-Keeper, of the recent enactment made by the C. K. C., says, among other things: "The Canadian Kennel Club have in the present rather ticklish times, when their balance of power is being tilted a bit by the new Western organization, The Dominion Kennel Club, with headquarters in Winnipeg, issued an edict that officers and judges, supes, vets, etc., at any other show than under their rules, shall be disqualified. This is coercion in its worst form and the Canadian Kennel Club, if we mistake not, will feel the effects of it, for it bids fair to spoil the entente cordiale that has existed between the two ends of the Canadian fancy, and will only add to any feeling that may have brought about the Dominion Kennel Club, that we see has just got the Alberta Kennel Club away from the old Club's dominion. This, we believe, is the last of far Western Clubs to affiliate with the new organization whose official organ, the "Canadian Kennel Gazette" is published in Toronto. We have no interest in the Canadian troubles, except as an old friend of many good Canucks, and only touch on the subject as a protest against the silliest kind of boycott in this day of our Lord. Exhibitors of course having no quarrel with either element will not be coerced either way, for such a course would be a splendid basis from which to reduce Kennel Club bank balances."

On June 1st we addressed the following letter to Mr. Lacy and doubtless it will receive his usual attention.

Toronto, Ont., June 1st, 1914

Editor, Kennel & Field, American Fancier & Stock-Keeper.
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir: In your very timely remarks in your issue of May 30th on the present status of kennel matters in Canada, you refer to the Canadian Kennel Gazette as an "official organ." I think that Mr. Lacy is familiar with affairs here so this probably is but a slip of the pen. The Canadian Kennel Gazette is not the official organ of the Dominion Kennel Club, Incorporated, but has a business arrangement by which each member of the Dominion Kennel Club is supplied with a copy monthly, and the Club buys from us each month what space they need for advertising, registrations and similar matters. Perhaps you would be kind enough to make this correction in next issue, and oblige.

Yours truly,

H. B. Donovan.

The Western Canada Kennel Club, Winnipeg, is putting on a one day show on June 20th, particulars of which will be found in another portion of this issue. This is the first show to be held in the west since the new C. K. C. "uitlander" regulation went into effect and it will be of interest to see the names of those who have the courage to stand by their convictions. We admire the courage of Winnipeg in bringing on the first fight on their own ground.

A month or two back we noted the very serious illness of the wife of Mr. Arthur Atkinson, Toronto, an illness that we are sorry to say resulted fatally. Mr. Atkinson has our entire sympathy, and we are sure not ours alone but that of every reader of this journal.

Mr. C. Plomley, who is interested in Airedales, has removed his photographic studio from St. Thomas to Paris, Ont., where he is now located.

Dr. A. W. Bell informs us that the date for the closing of entries for the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show, Winnipeg, has been changed from July 1st to July 4th.

This show, together with all Western shows, is now amply supplied with an efficient slate of experienced judges. Indeed we are of the opinion that the recent move will tend to build up the West in this way as in others, so that they will eventually be quite independent of Eastern judges, and will, in fact, be enabled to supply all demands in this way from their own territory.

A wire from Winnipeg, dated June 4th, tells us that on that date a Canadian Kennel Club deputation waited on the Executive of the Canadian Industrial Exhibition in an effort to have the July show changed so that it might be held under Canadian Kennel Club rules. The mission of the deputation was not successful, as the Executive of the Exhibition Association unanimously decided to hold the show under Dominion Kennel Club rules.

TERRIERS. Mr. J. A. Meadows has lost that good Boston bitch Babe, that he purchased from Mr. Collins of Buffalo. She was the dam of Madam Sherry, also of the puppy that Mr. Meadows won with at the recent evening show given by the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto. Babe and Della, a Bull bitch, had a tussle and the unfortunate Boston got much the worst of it, dying from the effects.

Mr. Sam. Bamford has sold to Mr. Jack Fletcher of Winnipeg, the Irish Terrier bitch Walnut Coleen and her puppies, by Leeds Historic.

Mr. George A. Cranfield has leased, for breeding purposes, the Bull Terrier Champion, Dorian Grey, a bitch he once owned and won many prizes with in the United States, from Mr. A. H. Fraser of Vancouver. Ch. Dorian Grey is the dam of winners and Mr. Cranfield will mate her to one of Canada's best dogs. It was said that Mr. Cranfield would give up Bull Terriers after losing Ch. Bow Bells, but it will be noticed in our advertising columns he is after more.

A recent addition to Canadian Airedale Terriers is Mr. Harry Clayton's Silver Birch Falka, imported through Mr. Sam. Bamford. She was bred to Ch. Rebound before leaving England, and though entered at Montreal, unfortunately arrived too late to be shown.

The following were bred to the Airedale Clonmel Master Crack during May: Mr. Wood's Moorside Nell, Mr. Clayton's Bothwell Peggy, and Mr. Walter Brown's, Winnipeg, Western Gamestress, formerly Walnut Crystal.

Mr. Sam Bamford has purchased the winning Airedale, Buster Briar from Mr. Clayton. He will later be offered at stud in our business column.

Visitors to the new Wire Fox Terrier, Walnut Regalia, include Mr. Sharpe's Oxspring Pansy, Mr. Gardener's Trixy, Mr. Atkinson's Oxspring Daisy, and Mr. Hudson's Hillcrest Feature.

Mr. Bamford tells us the result of the Walnut Colleen—Leeds Historic mating is three dogs and two bitches. As we noted elsewhere they have been purchased by Mr. Fletcher.

Mr. J. J. McQuarrie's, Hamilton, Boston bitch is nursing a litter of three puppies, which we hope will do him some good.

Mr. Don McKellar of Oakville, Ont., who was unfortunate enough to lose his two recent importations of Scottish Terrier bitches, has got over another bitch by Abertay Hero, winner at the Crystal Palace and at the Alexandria Palace. Her dam is by Ch. Claymore Defender. Before leaving England, Mr. McKellar's latest purchase was bred to Albertay Aviator, who is by Keppoch Dougal, now in America.

Mr. McKellar has also imported a White West Highland bitch of the best blood obtainable.

Mr. E. G. Bingham, Orangeville, Ont., had a fine litter of Airedales, no less than ten, of which seven are dogs, out of his Bonnie Vic, by Ch. Soudan Swiveller. Bonnie Vic is the dam of Rugged Mr. Bub, who won the special for best Airedale puppy at the Joint Terrier Show in January last.

That the Airedale is a prolific breeder there can be no question, and that the dams whelp with but little trouble is undoubted. We hear that Ch. Culmington Nettle has ten puppies by Rockley Ranger. A "Cliffside" bitch has a large litter by the same dog, and Logical Point has a litter of five of which four are dogs, by Rockley Dark Saint.

Mr. Sid Perkins, Toronto, recently purchased three Ch. Hawes Broom puppies, of one of which he is greatly enamored, as he feels that in him he has a sure winner.

Mr. Bob Ross has bought from Dr. Mooney, the Irish Terrier Thorncroft Dictator, and will use him as a stud dog.

Mr. H. M. Whitsitt, Watford, Ont., is holding a good Fox Terrier puppy for Toronto, by Sabine Racer ex. Windermere. He bred his Bonnimoor Logic by Sabine Resist ex. Sabine Frilla, to Autocrat on May 12th.

In writing to replace his well known Scottish Terrier Avondale Ascot at stud, Mr. Arthur Ellison, Mount Hamilton, Ont., gives us the news that Avondale Roysterer has been sold, and with him went Avondale Aintree, in whelp to Argyle Lad, Avondale Arrow and a young bitch by Roysterer ex. Aintree. This draft went to an old and valued fancier and correspondent of the Gazette, Mr. James L. Little of the Newcastle Kennels, Brookline, Mass., one of our earliest advocates of the canny little Scotsman.

From Mr. Ellison the same gentleman bought last year, Avondale Agate, in whelp to Avondale Ascot.

Our acquaintance with Mr. Little has been of so many years standing that it is with more than usual pleasure that we see he still retains his interest in the breed.

Passing some of it along Mr. Ellison has bought from Mr. Sam Bamford, a young bitch by Roysterer ex. Rolleston Wee One, that he is greatly taken with.

The case of Geo. A. Cranfield against the Dominion Express Company for alleged negligence in the death of the Bull Terrier Ch. Bow Bells, was set for May 28th, but at this writing we have not heard the result. Mr. Cranfield's case was in the hands of Mr. D. G. Macdonell, a very prominent lawyer in the Province, and more than that, a lover of dogs, being the owner of some winning Field Trial Pointers and Setters.

It is a bit unusual for a Manchester Black and Tan Terrier to win the special for best in show, so that the win of Chicago Flyer, owned by Mr. Chas. Wilson of Chicago, is worth noting. Chicago Flyer took the cup for best in show at Kansas City, Kan., Show, and we congratulate Mr. Wilson on the win.

SPANIELS. Before leaving Montreal Mr. Ben. Lewis completed a deal with Mr. Alwyn Coristine, whereby the latter's three excellent Black Cocker bitches returned with Mr. Lewis to Lansdowne, Pa. Mr. Coristine held a strong hand in black bitches and we are genuinely sorry to see them leave us. Two other Cockers were included in the deal, the parti-colored dog, Braeclough Pacaud and the buff puppy shown at Montreal and bred by Mr. Dymont.

Mr. Coristine takes up Field Spaniels and has secured the imported Black dog Matford Baron, well known in England, and that was third at New York in February. At Rochester, however, the tables were turned and Mr. Coristine's purchase went to the top, winning also at Boston and Philadelphia. Mr. Lewis is also importing for him a Black bitch said to be a topper.

While this has pretty well cleaned out Mr. Coristine's kennel of matured Cockers, he still has up his sleeve two very excellent Black puppies that will undoubtedly be heard from later on.

Mr. John Campbell has another by the same litter. They are by Martello.

Mr. McNicholl of Hamilton who has been connected with the Cocker fancy for some years and has bred some real classy stock, made a very profitable sale when he sold an aged bitch and four puppies to Mrs. Gammon. They are a nice lot and should do their new owner a lot of good.

Mr. W. J. Jackson's champion Black Cocker, Durbar, has put in a very busy May, having calls from E. S. Crookenden, Woodstock, H. C. Davis, Dundas, Mr. Ackland, T. O. Lucas, A. Axton, and F. L. Flynn. Mr. Jackson is contemplating a holiday trip to the Coast, and will take in the big show at Winnipeg in July and will be pleased to have an eye on any dogs going from the East.

Superintendent Jacobi, of the C. N. E. Dog Show, Toronto, tells us that Mr. Joe Hill is to judge Sporting Spaniels at the coming show in September. The choice of Mr. Hill is a good one and we bespeak for him a rousing entry of what used to be called, Canada's national dog, and we hope will be again.

BULLACITY. The opening of the Mount Royal Kennel Club Show in Montreal was somewhat marred by finding, on arrival, that the Bulldog Worsley Costermonger had been smothered en route to the show from Toronto. Mr. H. A. Wilson,

Mr. H. A. Wilson's late Worsley Costermonger.

Toronto, will have the sympathy of all good dog people in his continued ill luck, for the owner of the Diamond Bulldog Kennels has had considerably more than his share of that same. Costermonger was a winner in England and a winner at Toronto Exhibition in the only class in which he was exhibited.

Our Oakville friend, Mr. R. Scott Wilson, reports a litter of five puppies, of which four are dogs, and two exceptionally good ones, from his Oakville Betty, the sire being Woodcote Merry Boy.

Mr. Bert. Finch, who is spending some months in England, reviewed the Bulldogs at Leicester, for Dogs Weekly, and has kindly sent us a copy of his notes. Not having the catalogue we are unable to use them in full. The following will no doubt be of interest to Bulldog men on this side. Mr. Lamb of Manchester judged dogs and Mr. Jemmet Browne, bitches. Mr. Finch was appointed referee in case of dispute. Mr. F. Walker was amongst those present and he had in tow Mr. and Mrs. Collins of New York, who had visited Tunbridge Wells the previous day. Amongst the dogs present and described by Mr. Finch were Kilburn Regal, the winner in open dogs. A grand specimen, low to ground, wide front, with deep brisket, grand spring of rib, large nostrils, could do with more under the eyes. Second to him was Moray King, a typical light-weight, low to ground, cloddy, short coupled, well tucked up in loin, with a good large skull and deep foreface, coat not pleasing and tail too long. Third, Country Model, a grand light-weight, hard to find fault with, could do with a little more under-jaw, was a little stubborn in the ring, and Mr. Finch thought might have gone higher. Reserve went to Parkway Squire, low to ground, good body, nice turn of forearm but wanting substance and under-jaw. This was a good class in general and fully representative of the breed.

In open bitches the first went to Columbia Rose, put down in good condition, splendid body, with good spring of rib, could be improved in under-jaw, stood out by herself. There were a lot of other good ones and the whole show was a great success, largely due to the efforts of the untiring Secretary, Mr. W. McKechnill.

Mr. Sid Perkins had rather an unfortunate time with his litter by Punch, the son of Lee Bank Squire. Three dogs and a bitch were whelped and seemed to be healthy and thriving but two of the dogs later succumbed, as did also the bitch.

Mr. Perkins has recently bought a dog by the Montreal owned Ch. Prince Albert.

SETTERS. While in Montreal Mr. Ben. Lewis, in addition to his Cocker purchases, bought also the winning English Setter bitch Queen, from the Point Calumet Kennels. A very good style of a Setter, and he got a bargain in her. He also bought for field purposes the reserve winning dog, Major, from the same kennel.

A wave from the terrible disaster to the Empress of Ireland even reached the dog show held in Montreal, for at the time of the accident Mr. and Mrs. Lyman's Irish Setter, Laddie, was on his bench at the Coliseum. Mr. Henry H. Lyman was one of Montreal's prominent business men, and was interested in many philanthropic and other movements that go to make up the life of a big city. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman were both lost in the wreck.

We have it on the authority of both Mr. Hanna and Mr. Ross that the old Champion Irish Setter, Ch. Montrose Shamus O'Brien, will now be retired on his honors and will not again appear on the bench. Despite his nine years we never saw him looking better than he did at Montreal. He has retained his form and vigor and was in most excellent coat. In future he is to be used entirely for stud purposes, leading to the advancement of the breed in Canada.

Mr. J. P. Bowman of London, Ont., when he wrote us earlier in the month, was on the qui vive for a litter of English Setter puppies that were expected about June 8th, from Victoria, B. C., the sire being Destiny's Roy, who was second in 1912 and first in the all age stakes in 1913 at the International Derby. A combination of these two strains should produce puppies, good enough for both bench and field, as the bitch herself is a good hunter and a sure game dog.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Alban Sturdee of St. John, N. B., in this issue are offering at stud, the New York winning Irish Setter, Corry Law, that is well known to Gazette readers. With the impetus that is being given to this handsome breed, Corry Law should be of great value, especially where mated to good sized bitches that may fail somewhat in color and in coarseness of head, as many of them do.

TOYLAND. Mr. James Greenwood of Hamilton, is having excellent success with his Poms, making many sales at good prices. He finds his business prevents him from showing frequently.

Referring to the paragraph in last Gazette, we were glad to know from Mrs. Gruenwald while in Montreal, that her disagreement with Mrs. Williams had been satisfactorily settled, and that Mrs. Gruenwald's brother had returned to Montreal with the grand Orange Sable Pom bitch that we refer to so highly in our Montreal report. Mrs. Gruenwald had over at the same time a jet Black dog that weighs but three pounds, but at present is entirely out of coat. The Black came from the kennels of Mrs. Deary, Bristol.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Pitt several times during the Montreal Show. Mrs. Pitt has taken a great fancy to the Pekingese, and purposes importing the nucleus of a kennel.

COLLIES. Owing to the new A. K. C. ruling, Dr. Ford's new Collie has got to retain his old name and will be known in America as Parbold Picaroon.

By the way, the first Canadian to make use of the dog's services was Mr. Metcalf of Toronto, who sent his best "Waldren" bitch to him.

Dr. Ford had hoped to have a good entry to meet Mr. Ormiston Roy, who judged Collies at the Ladies Kennel Club show, but as the Chow Chow Club had him down to judge Chows, he was compelled to refrain from showing.

Mr. A. B. Armstrong of Coderington, Ont., reports rather an unusual occurrence that recently happened in his kennel of Collies, in so far as color is concerned. In a litter of six puppies, four of them were beautifully marked sable and white, and two all white except their heads, which were as regularly marked sable and white as if the puppies had the ordinary sable bodies. The heads are as evenly marked as it would be possible to paint them, and if Mr. Armstrong raises them to maturity he should have something out of the ordinary in appearance.

It is cheering to see a revival of interest, in at least one of our Canadian Collie Clubs, of which at one time we had a surplus. The Ontario Collie Club held a very nice evening show on May 15th, results of which are given elsewhere in this issue. Such an old hand at the game as Mr. J. T. Reeve, was sure to acquit himself well, for the owner of the late Woodmanstern Conrad and other good ones knows a Collie from tip to tail. Woodmanstern Conrad was one of our very best, high-class Collies and was bred by the late Rev. Hans Hamilton.

Mr. Thomas Brownlee was in Winnipeg May 26th and visited the Imera Collie Kennels. It was like a Collie specialty show and Mr. Brownlee became so interested that he purchased Imera Indian Beauty, by Imera Peacock ex. Imera Maid, litter sister to Imera Toreador. Beauty is a big tri-color bitch, of good conformation. She was best Collie bitch at Fargo, N. D., in January and best tri-color bitch at the last Western Canada Show in February. As a brood bitch she should prove a valuable addition to Mr. Brownlee's kennels.

Champion Imera Whyzetta is looking as good as ever and will be ready for a summer campaign.

The Imera Kennels have also sold D. J. Cote, of St. Boniface, Man., Imera Gold Nugget. This is a promising young sable and white dog by Billesley Barm ex. Bellina, and he will make his first appearance at the Western Canada Matinee Show, June 20th.

Mr. Thomas Brownlee has sent his Collie bitch, Bonnie Bell, to visit Imera Peacock. This mating should produce something good.

DACHSHUNDE Messrs. W. R. Aitken and Silver showed a very nice quartette of Reds at Montreal, of which we particularly liked the bitch, Nancy Lee, that is low to the ground and absolutely sound. The Dach is an old favorite of Mr. Aitken's, who had the breed for several years before coming to Canada.

Mr. Aitken had stolen from his kennel a short time ago a Black and Tan Dachshund bitch that he has been unable to get any trace of. The breed is so uncommon in Montreal now-a-days that it seems extraordinary that the reward he offered did not bring results. Any Eastern fancier who runs across a Black and Tan bitch of quality, who seems to be ownerless, or whose ownership is doubtful, would confer a favor on a good fancier by passing on the information to W. R. Aitken, 99 Union Ave., Montreal, Que.

Aitken and Silver, Montreal, have sold the Red Dachshund dog Cicero, winner in the novice class at the recent Mount Royal Show, to Mr. Beigent Rach, also of Montreal. Cicero is a good one and we hope that his new owner will do more with him than simply keep him as a companion.

OLD ENGLISH SHEEP DOGS. We are glad to know that Mr. E. E. Langford Vice-President of the Vancouver Kennel Club, Incorporated, has purchased from Messrs. Tilley Bros. of Shepton Mallet, Somerset, England, no less than seven Bob-tails, two bitches and five dogs. They arrived in Vancouver in excellent condition, considering that they were twenty-three days en route. Mr. Langford's kennel is headed by the stud dog Ch. Sir Alex, and the bitch Shepton Pleasure, a winner in England, and since on the Coast, special for best bitch at Terminal City Kennel Club and also Victoria City Kennel Club shows. We congratulate Mr. Langford on this importation from Messrs. Tilley Bros., who, to our knowledge, have been connected with Old English Sheep Dogs of the highest quality, from almost as far back as we can remember.

THE DOGS OF THE NORTH

"Mush! Mush! Damn You, Mush On."

BY BERNARD MUDDIMAN, IN ROD AND GUN IN CANADA.

The husky dog belongs to the pre-historic age. His manners are those of the dogs that crept from out of the great forests to join the hairy men, who squatted on their naked haunches gnawing meat off red bones. He is a creature of an age of club and fang. He lives where the right to survive belongs only to the strongest and the fiercest. Yet he belongs to the fraternity of dogs, for he has a man master. Probably his half-brother the wolf calls him a fool and servile for this allegiance; but the husky cares not, for he has the reckless devotion of the true dog. In spite of blows and starvation he comes to his man master, knows him and bows before him. But other men he knows not, and that, again, is true to the canine creed. For no dog serves man in the abstract; he serves man in the concrete, the one who feeds him. He serves one master, but never two. An allegiance once contracted has something deeper than the flesh-pots of Egypt to bind him. He has no sense of philanthropy, and is unethically indifferent to his master's morals. So the husky is of the canine fellowship, even though at times, he will point his long nose to the polar stars above in the Arctic night and call the wolf call. But he is not really a wolf, for he has found a god, and the wolves, timber or grey, have no god.

He is short in the legs and chunky of body, over which arches resplendent a curled bushy tail. His "pelt" is of a coarse thick fur in which nature has overcoated him free of charge from the severe Northern cold. Some have said he comes from Alaska, others from Greenland and Labrador. This much, at least, is certain, he belongs to the Esquimaux, for his appellation, "Husky," is the Indian insult for anything pertaining to the blubber-eating Esquimaux.

The husky's life has but two phases or seasons, year in and year out. Without him in the far North in winter the white man or the Indian, who owns him not, is helpless, for the husky is the dromedary of the snows. But in summer man needs him not, and he becomes a wolf in habit, since he has to feed himself or starve. In winter the long raw-hide lash cracks need into the great white North's crystalline heart. Viciously beaten, overworked and underfed on white-fish, he staggers on with bleeding or frozen paws—the slave of man. Now and then one drops out, but the trail goes on. Men only swear and ask whose dog it is. Now and then one eats through the traces and vanishes northwards where the wolves are. Fasting and gasping and flogged on hard trails, like the famous Esquimaux, on he goes for days at a time. Upon the barrens, however, where caribou fall to his lord's gun, he feeds for a space like a king on venison. In the southern wastes tallow and corn-winter blow. Until then, it is true, he roams at will, but he roams also a slave to hunger. For it is the time of the canoe and water transportation. The husky is useless. And as no work is required, no food is given him. He must find for himself. So the wolf in him rises. The call of the wild comes to him in all its full meaning. He goes inland for days and nights together to the hills, hunting his prey after the manner of his wolf sires. But food is scarce and to take life, life must be given in the grim north where man and beast cling passionately to the gift of breath. What can one dog work with about his ears, and the cry, "Mush! Mush!! Damn you, mush on!!!" goads him on to the long white trail, while answering he springs to his feet and strains at the raw-hide harness of the toboggan. In teams of five or six hitched to ice-shod Komatiks, or to a freight toboggan, he hits the trail from dawn to dark, each dog pulling, his hundredweight. He brings food, letters, and the thousand things men meal keep his body, and, I think we may say, his soul together for weeks. Round the igloos of the far North he wins his share of the "Blubber." But this is a glorious time compared to the summer. How the husky must be thankful for its northern brevity. For if it is one long, unending day of muskeg smells and flowers, it is also for him a day of starvation, until the sun at last sets and the winds of a moose or a stray imported horse? So they gather hungry and cruel, and sweep the land more ravenous and bolder than the wolf in pack. Even man, when alone and unarmed, is unfeared so that they may fill those hollow bellies of theirs, staunch that gnawing at their vitals. Of their ways in summer and how they subsist, when they belong to the shiftless Cree or improvident Esquimaux, no man knoweth more than he knows of the way of the wolf.

Yet the first deep snow finds them back at the trail again working out their destiny in a waste of snows.

alone. These huskies that now slave on under his lash have been known to eat him. There is no mercy here either for the dog or the man who peters out. He who falls, sometimes swing out for the last of the day's marches. But the vim of the trail, the elasticity of the dawn is dying in weary man and beast. If a side wind swings your sledge off the trail, those a frozen river. You find your huskies edging into the bank, for they know. But the camping-ground lies up stream, and you lash at them furiously like a devil without mercy. It has got to be made. Your eyes are wicked, and theirs have the ugly green light.

At last you come to the day's goal, and look for the lee side of its trees. A sleeping place is dug in the snow and floored with green spruce. Men light the two fires—the camp and the cook fires. But the veterans of the party turn to the huskies. They bed them. That is, they choose a spruce about eight feet tall, lop it of its green, which they pile on the weather side, and chain the husky up to it. They feed them. That is, each dog gains his white-fish or moose meat. Afterwards the men may feed and smoke. Then betwixt their eiderdown quilts in the sleeping bag comes happy-hearted sleep. Until another trail stretches out for men and dogs, until another dawn leers across this white world, and the heavens are again filled with the mirages of the North. "Mush! Mush!! Damn you, mush on!!!"

COLLIE CLUB OF CANADA SHOW.

The Collie Club of Canada held an evening show in Occident Hall, Toronto, on Monday May 15th. Mr. J. T. Reeve placed the awards as follows:

Puppy dogs under six months, 1 Campbell Glen, W. G. Ashby, 2 Wishaw Pride, M. Glover; six to twelve months, 1 Cleopus, C. White,

And the trail has no end all winter long beneath the austere sky, where the northern lights flash and flame like battling angel hosts.

And only the men of the north in their parkies, with frost-lit eyes and clouds of frozen breath, know how the huskies go on barking for joy with their curling brushes in the air up to the world through the violet creamy light of sun-kissed snow. Each man, then, knows that nothing matters save the dogs. On them depends everything. For them everything is planned and done. For the trail is the husky way, and God pity him who forgets it.

Let us go with them a little way. In the bright moonlight of early morning, long before the brilliant starlight of the North has lost a vestige of its lustre, the guide, half-breed or pure-blood Cree, gets up from his spruce bed to rekindle the cooking fire. Then he wakes the party to "boil the kettle" (which in Northern parlance means food). It is cold and clear. Now they hitch up their teams long before the dawn spills itself along the east. Bells ring. The men shout. Their whips crack and the dogs bark. "Mush! Mush!! Damn you, mush on!!!" One team after another goes forward in its turn to break the trail. By ten o'clock the dogs must be rested, and the bannock is thawed out and breakfast gobbled from the frying-pan before it has time to freeze. Then on swing the teams again. Sometimes a blizzard lashes down, lifting the snow, stabbing the men's faces with cold-sores. Each man ploughs his own way with the twanging crunch of snow-shoe beneath his feet. If he falls, he is

ONTARIO COLLIE CLUB OPEN AIR SHOW.

The Ontario Collie Club will hold an open air show on Saturday afternoon, July 4th, at Moss Park Rink.

A nominal entry fee will be charged but entrance to grounds will be free.

Judging will commence at 3 o'clock. A Collie judge will place the awards.

With Finch Among the Bulldogs in England

A visit to the oldest fancier in England and to the genuine sportsman dog owner and lover who is in the game for the love of it has been my two last visits. I visited Mr. Charles Hopwood accompanied by another young Bulldog fancier named Mr. Bill Webster, who has a pup at present that will, I predict, have a great future. Mr. Hopwood is proprietor of the Collier Hotel, and we wandered along taking in the sights until at last we reached our destination. We vanished into the parlor, which in England is part of the hotel which is most comfortable for a sit and chat while drinking.

The walls were covered with pictures of dogs mostly Bull Terriers and Bulldogs, and went back as far as 40 years. I may say although Mr. Hopwood is 68 years of age, he is as active as a youngster, he surely knows a dog and loves to talk dog. It's certainly amusing to hear him tell some of his experiences as a shower and judge. He is very much sought after in this capacity, and is now engaged to judge at Durham, and Chester.

He was always in the front with Bull Terriers, champion after champion passing through his hands. He is also a breeder of prize pigeons, his first attempt being the winner of the most prized cup for Antwerps at Birmingham. We visited his kennels and saw his variety prize poultry, prize pigeons, rabbits, and his beautiful winning bitch Sally, now rearing four pups, and one a coming champion by his own dog. He has several brood bitches in whelp, also a great dame, Manchester Terrier, "a right 'un," as he says it, a whippet that could go across the water and make a name for itself, two years old. We afterwards talked dog and they all seem here to be of the same mind that Courtney Coronet was one of the best dogs ever sent to Canada. This is the general opinion of all the Lancashire Bulldog men.

While we were talking dog there was a singing crowd there with a piano, and they were continually calling for order, but it was very hard work to stop us talking dog, especially with such a fancier and old timer as C. Hopwood. Our Dogs in 1901 in an article giving his life as a fancier, stated then that he was one of the oldest fanciers at that time. Without a doubt he is the most talked of man as an old timer in Manchester, and what he could tell you about the different dogs and fanciers would be sure interesting, if he would, as he knows all the tricks in the game. He is a very horsey looking man, rather short, thin featured, the picture of a sport, and as it was getting near to closing time I was sorry both Mr.

Webster and I had to break away, so we bid Mr. Hopwood good-bye and will have pleasant memories to take back home, and if any of our fanciers come to England be sure and give him a visit. The Colliers Hotel, Manchester, will be worth your while.

My next visit was to the genuine

MR. CHARLIE HOPWOOD AND CHAMPION CRAWFORD LILY.

How does the B. T. look with her ears on? Not a bad pair of lugs.

British sport who is in the game for the love and not the money that is in it, this is Mr. McKrill, Oakfield Lane, Altrincham, on rather an awkward day, for a stranger to pay a visit and not even advised as to our coming, both I and the two brothers Webster, who are without a doubt the nicest and most obliging fellows ever met. Nothing was too good, and no place too far for these fellows to make my trip pleasant. And as to Bulldogs, I'd love to have some of our fellows hear these boys talking Bulldogs fifty years back, the strains, the faults, they never miss anything.

Their one aim is to breed a flyer, and if I am not mistaken they have got one now. We had taken the car to Altrincham which is only eight miles from Manchester, and we had lunch at the Unicorn Hotel which is a great house for tourists and autos, I had a pleasant memory of the place last year.

We then called on our genial, smiling friend Mr. McKrill, just when they had guests and were partaking of tea, but nothing would postpone our visit, we were made to come inside and be treated like lost friends instead of strangers. What a beautiful collection of Bulldog paintings, magnificent! We were seated in the dining-room when in rushed Coadjutor, and what a beauty, about 45 lbs., and such a perfect specimen, lovely head and body, grand one all over, impossible to find fault with it, and the tail which is nothing, and full of activity and as nimble as a cat. She played with me and jumped round which reminded me of Home-wood Jumbo which came from these kennels. By the way Mr. McKrill spoke of Bert Swan, and Mr. Chadwick, and wished to be remembered to each. Mr. Chadwick's sister is living opposite Mr. McKrill, also had Alex. Stewart as a visitor his last time over and he wished to take one back from this kennel, but they all seem to think that without a doubt Strathay Prince Albert is the best living to-day, the perfect specimen, and quite a bunch of Bulldog men are sorry he ever left these shores.

Our host, "Mac," as he is usually called, is sending his dog to Dublin, watch the result, this dog cannot be stopped, he is bound to go ahead. Afterwards he showed us the kennels. Peter was the first, a beauty, and a puppy called Contempt which is another "going to be in the first flight." He has several brood bitches in whelp. He believes in giving his dogs exercise and plenty of it, eight miles a day and plenty of fresh air.

COGITATOR.

They have fully one hundred acres of ground in which they play and they tear up the cabbages and flowers, but no matter, it's the dogs. Then last but not least we were shown the father of Coadjutor, which is the dog Stewart wanted. Coadjutor is now eight years old and his son is very jealous of him, as they of course naturally pet the two. He is a white dog good underjaw, well set, short body, good roach, as good as his son with two exceptions, the son is set lower, and has a better chop. He moves like a Terrier and is still siring some of the best to be seen here. It's got to be the right kind of bitch too, before they will allow her to be served by this dog as several fanciers have found out.

I forgot to mention the house, it is a grand building, lies back from the road, approached by a drive with a lawn facing the front of the house, and this is where we were shown the two best I have seen yet. The wife of "Mac" is some dog woman, she shows all the dogs herself, and the kennelman is directed by her also. The daughter is as enthusiastic as the mother, so with fond memories and a pleasant time, I regretted to leave for Manchester.

On my return to town I had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Mr. Carlton the Editor of Dogs Weekly, Leeds, he is known very well across the water, by the doggy men, having been connected with several dog papers over there. We had quite a chat together with Mr. Dibley the owner of Great Danes. He is the joint owner of Sandy of Argyll, winner of over 100 firsts, and two silver cups, also Figards Revival, winner of 30 firsts, 30 specials and two cups all in one week. We had quite an interesting chat more so because Dibley had sent my friend Sansome of Calgary a bitch which I hope is in the money.

With best regards to all the boys and success to the dog shows.

I remain,

Yours truly,
B. Finch.

Manchester, England.

I visited Mr. Sturgeon's residence the other day at Altrincham and saw the whole of his dogs, from Solid Oak down. He is eight years old, but one of the finest Bulldogs I have ever seen in my life, and one of the best that ever lived. He is built on the same lines as Trafford Bulacuity, only heavier and bigger boned. They have pensioned him off, and no money could purchase him, I also saw Oak Leaf, no money would buy this dog. I think Champion Oak Nana is certainly a picture. Sails to-morrow for New York by S. S. Caronia.

Well I was so interested that I did not like to break away from the dogs, and they are all as active as kittens. Each one is kept in the house that's why, they state, they have met with such success.

Mrs. Sturgeon knows every point of a dog, and could talk Bulldogs from the time of King Orry. I am enclosing you a photograph of Mrs. Sturgeon showing Oak Nana on her right hand side, and Oak Leaf on the other.

LAND BELGIAN POLICE DOG FOR USE IN WEST.

A magnificent Belgian police dog was landed at Quebec from the C. P. R. liner Mount Royal. The dog was consigned to Western Canada, where it will be used for police purposes. Two Belgian horses were unloaded here and sent West at once.

RECIPROCITY?

While so much talk is going on with reference to the recent move by the C. K. C., and as the English Kennel Club seems to be the pivot point so far as the enforcing of the disqualification rule it to become effective in Canada, it might not be amiss to quote the following rules from the English Kennel Club's published rules.

15. Delegation of powers of the Kennel Club Committee: There shall be no right of appeal to the Kennel Club Committee against the decision of a delegated authority acting under powers conferred by these rules.

But the Kennel Club Committee shall not delegate to any sub-committee or other body, the power to disqualify or suspend any person under rules 16 or 17.

16. Disqualification of persons officiating, etc., at unrecognized shows: Any person promoting, exhibiting, judging, or in any way officiating at an unrecognized show, shall, at the discretion of the Committee of the Kennel Club, be disqualified from judging, competing, winning a prize, making an objection, or taking any part at a show or field trials held under the permission of the Kennel Club Committee or delegated authority.

17. Suspension for discreditable conduct or default: 1. Disqualification or suspension for discreditable conduct. If, in the opinion of the Kennel Club Committee, a person shall have been guilty of any discreditable conduct in regard to a dog, or any matter whatsoever connected with, or arising out of, a dog show or field trial, or any matter relating to the same or to these rules, they shall pass a resolution to that effect, and they shall have the power to suspend him from taking part in or having any connection with any show or field trial held by permission of the Kennel Club Committee or delegated authority or attending the same if held at a place under the exclusive control of the committee.

2. Suspension of defaulters, including show guarantors, committees and promoters. If, in the opinion of the Kennel Club Committee, a person shall have been proved to be in default in regard to any transaction whatsoever, connected with or arising out of a dog show or field trial, or any matter relating to the same, or to these rules, they shall pass a resolution to that effect, and shall have the power to suspend him as under clause 1. for such time as they see fit, and also any dog or dogs of his, registered in his name, for a period of such suspension, as from the date of the charge being lodged at the Kennel Club.

The Kennel Club Committee shall have power in any case under this rule to publish the account of the same, together with the proceedings in respect thereof, in the official organ of the Kennel Club, viz., The Kennel Gazette, together with his name, description and address, and further to publish the names of such disqualified or suspended persons respectively under clauses 1 and 2 of this rule, in two separate "Black Lists," which they shall have power to forward to any person or persons concerned, as they may think fit.

Definition of delegated authority: The majority present and voting at a properly convened meeting of a quorum of a sub-committee or other body to whom powers have been delegated by the Kennel Club Committee.

If the readers of the Gazette will take the Reciprocity Agreement as between the English and American Kennel Clubs, and place it beside the above, they will readily see the misfit. You get the meaning intended in the term "black lists" as used in clause 1 of the Reciprocity Agreement. Rule 16 refers to disqualification for persons officiating at unrecognized shows, but the clause in rule 15 distinctly states that the English Kennel Club shall not delegate to any sub-committee or other body the power to disqualify or suspend any person under rule 16 or 17. Where or how does an affiliated club get in? I'm from Missouri. "You can fool some of the people all the time, you can fool all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time." If we are going to play let us tear up the joker before we start and get down to cards and spades. The claim of the C. K. C. as a party to the Reciprocity Agreement, is through their affiliation with the English Kennel Club, and not by any agreement with the American Kennel Club. No need to ask the latter as to their stand. Certainly, if the English Kennel Club disqualifies anyone, we are bound to do so under that agreement. Before any club claiming affiliation with the English Kennel Club, can convince me that the English Kennel Club will endorse all their disqualifications, the missing link must be supplied in the shape of proof of delegated authority. It will be quite apparent from the clause of rule 15 that the English Kennel Club intend keeping control of "delegated authority," and place such value on the power of disqualification, that they will not even grant the power to a sub-committee of their own Club.

We are getting all kinds of dope in our papers here. Some of it is "bad medicine," some of it is foolish, and most of it is misleading and contrary to facts.

An article appeared in one of our papers the other morning under the heading "New Kennel Club Discuss Several Important Items." To quote: "One item that was specially brought before the meeting was a letter from Dr. Boulbee, Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Kennel Club, Toronto, emphasizing the statement that under the new agreement entered into between the English and American Kennel Club, and the Canadian and American Kennel Clubs, any disqualification made by the Canadian Kennel Club would be enforced, if necessary, by the Kennel Club, England, and by the American Kennel Club. It was also pointed out that any dog fancier or official under the ban of the Canadian Kennel Club would be unable to obtain an export certificate, the effect of this would be to bar exhibitors from showing their dogs in the United States, and preventing their dogs from competing in any American Field Trials."

Again I say, I'm from Missouri. One field trial man here had the above unloaded on him by one of the busy canvassers, but it had a bad effect. No, I do not think for a minute that the C. K. C. wrote such rubbish. I give them credit for greater wisdom. But I would hate to father all they are credited with saying. I may be getting mine, alright, alright, but I am not the only one, however, "it's all in the game." No matter what comes or goes, or what is said, my prayer will always be:

"Oh, Lord, I acknowledge Thy existence and the existence of a lot of other things, less godly, which I can overcome with Thy help and the help of my backbone. I fully realize that on all hands are invisible forces which seek my destruction, and that, if I am to come through unscratched, I must fight every inch of my way.

Give me strength to lightly bear my burdens of living, and to smile until my burdens become a joy, for verily this is the secret of all earthly gladness.

Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and one hundred cents one dollar.

Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow, and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

Grant, I beseech Thee, that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and in doing thereof that I may not stick the gaff where it does not belong.

Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts.

Blind me to the faults of the other fellow but reveal to me mine own.

Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with my children and to lose myself in their play.

And then, when comes the smell of flowers, and the tread of soft steps, and the crushing of the hearse's wheels in the gravel out in front of my place, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—"HERE LIES A MAN."

A. P. Mutchmor.

Hound Trails

This form of sport has long been in existence in the district known as the Borderland, that is, the North of England and the South of Scotland, commonly called the "Dandie Dinmont Country."

The sport was instituted first amongst the Dalesmen in Westmoreland and gradually spread over the border, and now at some of our annual gatherings in the North of England "the Hound Trails" are of the greatest importance.

It has been the writer's privilege to attend such gatherings on both sides of the border and many happy incidents could be recorded on the happenings on the trail day.

No finer race of people can be found than the Dalesmen, big, broad shouldered fellows and the best sports the world has produced. The dogs of the Dalesmen are of few breeds, they comprise the Greyhound, Foxhound and two breeds of Terriers, the little Border Terrier and the Dandie Dinmont.

Now it is not our intention to slight the Greyhound, which dog produces the big event of the year at the Border Union Coursing meetings, but unlike the Foxhound provides no sport in the summer, and the Dalesman when he goes forth to compete at the games, be it in the running, wrestling, or jumping events, must at the same gathering see what mettle is in the village Foxhound. So a test is marked out for the Hound on the same day as his master. They are both in training.

It has been arranged that one of the athletes in the village shall run the trail. He sets out to run round the fells for a distance of ten miles, dragging behind him a bundle of rags soaked in a mixture of aniseed, turpentine and paraffine. He starts in time so as to arrive back just before the Hounds are let loose. The course selected is usually one where the public can get a good view of the dogs, that is to say, they see the start and have a good view of the finish, but for most of the time the dogs are out of sight, and it is anxious moments to the various owners until they see their favorite Hound appearing over the hill top. Many Hounds are so much alike to the onlooker that there is great difficulty in distinguishing the one from the other, but the owners and others interested can soon pick them out, and you hear an old Dalesman in his native language shout out, "Smuggler leads, Ruler follows," and Ranter, Ring-leader, Chanter, Wyndham and Screamer are all in a heap. At this point they are a good mile from the winning post, but as they get nearer the same voice shouts out, "Smuggler's beat, Ruler wins." His glasses are on the dogs all the time, they come closer and when the dogs see the crowd the pace of Ruler slackens and four or five come close in together. Now the difficulty of the judges increases, but Wyndham sees his trainer standing with a tit bit in his hand and he makes a bold attempt to get it and wins the trail. Cheers go up for the old dog, he is a favorite and belongs to a working man in the village who has trained many winners and is supposed to have better methods of training than the others which is really not the case.

It has been proved that on many occasions the same dog which takes the lead usually keeps it, but is what is termed "a bad finisher," he is shy or nervous when he sees and hears the crowd.

This is delightful sport and is usually run in the early morning, that is if the weather is oppressive. At the same time it is a common sight to see a Hound Trail run between the horse races at such fashionable gatherings as Hexham Steeplechases, in the very heat of the day.

Hound training is a great hobby of the working man in the Dandie Dinmont country, and a healthy one because, to keep the dog fit he must daily walk many miles and in addition run a few short trails, so the trainer must be fit himself, that is if he is to make his dog fit.

Should you be in the Daleland try and see a Hound Trail, you will never forget it.

Collies at Ayr were a good lot and in open dogs Mr. Lord's decision was reversed. Ch. Wishaw Rival beat his English opponent Parbold President, and while they are both above the average, the judge had no hesitation in placing the old dog at the top. Later on he was awarded the special for best Collie in the show.

James C. Dalgliesh has just purchased the sable and white Collie, Primside Boy, and has shipped him to Mr. John Craig, Tracy, Minn., U. S. A.

Then the winning Bulldog, Cap-sicurate, has been shipped by J. C. Dalgliesh to Mr. Frank Mahan, Edmonton, Alberta. This dog has to his credit over 130 prizes, and has proved himself one of the Old Country's best. A sound, red brindle, with dark marks, rare body and one of the soundest in movements.

When in the New World last fall James C. Dalgliesh could not pass Winnipeg without visiting his friend and countryman, Mr. W. R. Milton, a native of the Scot country and a great fancier of sporting dogs, and the owner of the celebrated Manitoba Kennel, which is, and has been, the home of some great working dogs, including the renowned field trial winner, Champion Manitoba May. Mr. Milton has now instructed Mr. Dalglish to send him a Pointer dog, capable of improving the breed in the district, and on the Donaldson Liner Cassandra, which sailed on the 9th, Mr. Dalglish shipped to him, Broom Hill Dan, a four year old who has won at such shows as Carlisle, Otley, Shrewsbury, Manchester, Crystal Palace, Darlington, Crufts, Birmingham, etc., and under such judges as Dr. Salter, Harding Cox, Marples, Wearring, Potter, Lowe, and Steadman. His best win was at the Scottish Kennel Club's show in Edinburgh in 1912, when, under Tom Steadman, he gained dog championship. It is worthy of note that "Dan" is transmitting his good looks to his progeny, as we note Garleat Dinah, Mallwyd Freedom, Nancy of Marton and Wellbank Rhoda, are sired by him.

The general opinion amongst Bulldog men is that the removal of such a high class Bulldog as Capsicurate to the land of the Maple Leaf, should be the means of greatly improving the breed because this dog has left behind him some wonderful youngsters and as he is just in his prime the chances are that what is the Old Country's loss will be the new ones gain.

Mr. Frank Mahan is, as we all know, hard to please with a Bulldog, but he has certainly taken away Scotland's best.

The kindest act an old fancier can do to a young one, is to put heart into him. No one should be guilty of damping or crushing out high hopes in a brother fancier. We all remember the time when we could not get higher than a second or third, often not even so high, but now when we know what it is to attain winners time and again, let us remember the struggler on the road, and inspire hope in him. Hope for the future is the best thing we can possibly do for him; the greatest satisfaction has come to the heart of the writer by putting heart into young struggling fanciers. Just try it and the reward is yours, and you will miss a great deal of pleasure if you don't.

The Caledonian Canine Association are making a good attempt to draw a big crowd to the Scottish Capital on June 10th. No fewer than two hundred classes are provided and the fair sex, who are in some sections to make the awards, are courageous enough we know, to profoundly express an honest and judicious opinion.

Faithfulness is now being sought after in dogs and we all know the most beautiful are not always the most faithful. Example: what dog looks so handsome as the prize winning Collie, and yet he has to give place in the homes of many in the Old Country to the long back, rough and ragged little Dandie Dinmont.

Collies are on the wane, while Dandies are on the ascendancy.

The International Sheepdog trials will this year be held on July 25th, at Falkirk, Scotland, when some clever work will be witnessed.

Last month quite a number of exhibitors and fanciers who visited Ayr Show stayed over and paid a visit to the birthplace of the National bard, Robert Burns, and have returned to their various districts singing, "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon," or reciting "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

All are of opinion that to visit Ayr show and leave out a look through the little window in the peasant's cottage, and not to see the "Auld Brig o' Ayr," is worse than not getting in the prize list.

When you come to Scotland don't forget "Auld Ayr," and the cottage where Burns was born.

THREE KENNEL CLUBS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA CHANGE FROM CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB RULES TO DOMINION KENNEL CLUB RULES.

The Vancouver Exhibition Association of British Columbia will hold its next show September 3rd, 4th and 5th, under Dominion Kennel Club rules, and the prize list is now ready for mailing. Officers of the Club: President, J. J. Miller; Vice-Presidents, Alderman S. J. Crowe, Thomas Duke, J. L. McTaggart, E. S. Tisdall; Treasurer, G. F. Baldwin; Secretary, H. S. Rolston.

The Vancouver Kennel Club, B. C., Incorporated, which has held twelve annual shows, but has been dormant for a couple of years, has again come to life. The Club was reorganized at a meeting of members on May 28th, and at the same meeting it was unanimously resolved to hold all future shows under Dominion Kennel Club Rules. Officers for present and ensuing year are: President, Dr. T. Glendon Moody; Vice-President, E. E. Langford; Secretary, W. J. Lutley; Treasurer, F. W. Welsh; Auditor, E. S. Hooper; Directors, Frank D. Elkins, E. G. Rolston, George A. Cranfield, H. F. Montgomery, T. W. Wyndham, W. A. Hunter, Graham Jardine.

The North Vancouver Kennel Club held a meeting on June 1st, when it was unanimously resolved to hold all future shows under Dominion Kennel Club rules. Officers for present and ensuing year are: President, William Gordon; Vice-Presidents, J. G. S. Troake, J. Simpson, William Lea, Peter Larson; Directors, J. C. McLeod, Arthur E. Harris, S. A. Lawrence, Dr. G. C. Martin, W. Wagner, Roy M. Miller; Treasurer, M. McCullum; Secretary and Manager, George A. Cranfield.

The following Kennel Clubs of Canada now hold their shows under Dominion Kennel Club rules: Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver Exhibition Association, Vancouver Kennel Club, Inc., and North Vancouver Kennel Association. B. C. Breeder.

"HONI SOIT QUI MAL Y PENSE."

As one of the fanciers likely to be affected by the new rule passed by the Canadian Kennel Club, I have been considerably interested in the discussion on this matter and awaited with interest the reply to the statement recently issued by the Dominion Kennel Club, so that I might be posted on the arguments from both points of view.

I was, however, disagreeably surprised on reading the article published by the Winnipeg Kennel Club (who apparently are acting as the mouthpiece of the C. K. C.), to find that the reply I looked forward to, instead of joining issue on the arguments put forward by the other side, devolves into a personal attack on the Secretary of the D. K. C.

So far as I can see the points at issue are: Firstly, not whether the C. K. C. is affiliated with the English K. C., but as to what powers such affiliation confers upon the C. K. C. The C. K. C. claim that by virtue of this affiliation they are empowered to disqualify all and sundry who refuse to obey their rules, and that the English K. C. and American K. C. are bound to recognize such disqualifications.

The English K. C. rules as they appear to me are directly opposed to this claim of the C. K. C., as they clearly state that the power to disqualify cannot be delegated to any other body.

The second point at issue is, whether the fanciers of Western Canada are willing to be governed by a Toronto Club which allows them no representation—not even the right of a vote by proxy.

The executive of the Winnipeg K. C. assert that there was no necessity for the formation of the D. K. C. Well to my mind the great strides made by Western shows since the D. K. C. took over control is sufficient answer to this argument.

It would be presumption on my part to take up the cudgels on Mr. Mutchmor's behalf, as from what I know of that gentleman he is well able to take care of himself, but as the author of the statement from the Winnipeg K. C., apparently considers Mr. Mutchmor the embodiment of all that is evil and dishonorable I may perhaps be allowed to quote an old adage that strikes me as being particularly applicable, viz.; "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

An Interested Party.

"EVERY KNOCK A BOOST."

Editor Canadian Kennel Gazette.

This City has been quite alive with "doggy" talk this last few days, and of course the chief topic is the disqualification rule proposed by the Canadian Kennel Club. Looking at it from an independent standpoint, I am inclined to think that the C. K. C. have lost ground, as the majority of men, and Westerners to a certainty, will not allow themselves to be coerced. You cannot excuse the action with "we told you so," or "we gave you plenty of warning," as the attempt to force cannot be disguised. While the publication of the rule has had the effect of arming a few here with an excuse to form a new local club, yet, I think it would have been much better to have allowed matters to proceed as they have been doing. It will always be impossible to run kennel matters so that all will be pleased and think alike, but it is a well known fact that the displeased ones this year are the pleased ones next year, and vice versa. This is soon fixed up, so long as the difference of opinion is a local one, but when outside interference comes in it is usually harder to get things back to the old state. In the heat of argument, or in pressing their claim for recognition of their cause, men are liable to say things that they will be sorry for later, and sometimes a strong friendship is severed through such. As to the formation of the new local club, I have nothing to say, but I do not approve of their method of canvassing for new membership, or at least some of them I have heard of, and I am sure the C. K. C. would not sanction it either. Kennel clubs, like an ordinary business must have something to offer the public in exchange for a membership application. You never see a good business man running down his opposition personally, as this acts as more of an ad for the opponent than otherwise. It takes him all his time in advancing the quality of the wares he has to offer. He does not even find time to tell you what a good fellow he is. "It does not matter what you say you are, but what others know you to be." I have not heard of any canvassing being done by the older local club, and this appears to have carried some weight with a number of fanciers. Some are afraid of the C. K. C. threat, and I have heard a number of others express themselves as not caring. The largest kennel owners in the city, are amongst the latter.

It would appear to me that someone had "kidded" themselves into thinking that they had a lot of "dubs" to deal with, but the sooner they get this out of their heads the better. Any outfit that can take control from an old organization, in such a large territory as from Port Arthur to Vancouver, and that in one year, deserves some credit for their management of affairs. The C. K. C. had them guessing for a couple of days, to use an expression of one of the canvassers of the new club, but that is all over now, as they are busy preparing for a one day show on June 20th, just the same as if nothing had happened.

It speaks well for their organization to find Calgary, Edmonton, Medicine Hat, staying solid, and Vancouver coming through with three shows.

From what I can learn it has the appearance as if the C. K. C. move had strengthened the hands of the D. K. C.

Yours truly,

"Fair Play."

FLOWERS.

Kindly accept my congratulations and thanks for the valuable knowledge which I have gained through the bright and up-to-date manner in which the Canadian Kennel Gazette is published. I might say that while I am only a novice in the dog business, the Canadian Kennel Gazette in my estimation has got any one of the other papers beat off the map for neatness, news right off the bat, and the paper is well arranged, which is a great credit to its publisher. I hope you will not think I am trying to make you feel good, but in the dog game or out of the game, I should certainly hate to be without the Gazette.

Yours truly,

Jno. S. Jerome.

Edmonton, Alta.

When little Margaret passed her plate the third time for chicken her mother said:

"My dear, you must not eat so much chicken. I am afraid you'll be ill."

"Well, mother," said Margaret, "I'm not eating this because I want it. I'm collecting the bones for Fido!"

"I don't see how it is," Jenkins began, eying the tramp and his performing dog with frank envy. "Here is this mongrel of yours doing all these tricks, and there is my dog, with a pedigree a yard long, that can't be taught a single thing! I've hammered at it till I'm tired, and he can't even be trusted to roll over when he's told to."

"Well, sir, 'tain't so much the dog," the tramp replied, confidentially. "You have to know more'n he does, or you can't learn him anything."

MOUNT ROYAL KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Held in Montreal, May 26th to 29th, 1914

Dogs present, about 315. Winners value, two points.

We set out to say, and we stick by it, that this show was the cleanest, sweetest dog show that we have ever attended, and we have seen a few. The Coliseum, with ample floor space, high ceilings, and splendid room outside the building for exercise makes an ideal dog show building. The worst thing about it is the approach and this does not matter much for this is forgotten once you are inside. About three hundred and fifteen dogs were benched and this gives the show a winners value of two points. As announced in Gazette, the Toys were the first to face the judge, and after these the catalogue arrangement was followed. The judging was protracted for a reason, and while it no doubt serves to draw a gate, it is somewhat trying to both exhibitors and exhibitors. Still without money, shows could not be sustained, and Montreal is an especially expensive city in which to hold shows, as compared with other cities in Canada that have free buildings, sometimes civic grants, and other privileges.

A great deal of good feeling prevailed during the entire time of the show which wound up as a semi-society affair, with the distribution of cups to the winners by Mrs. H. Vincent Meredith. Mrs. Meredith was surrounded by officers of the Club and others interested in dogs and dog showing.

We have never attended a more pleasant show and one in which everybody seemed so to work together for the good of the dog, forgetting self. This is how it should be and the Mount Royal Kennel Club, as long as they continue to work along these lines, and we hope this may be forever, will be assured of the support of, not alone all local dog lovers, but that of those from a distance, also.

The number of outside dogs was quite noticeable this year, there were about fifty from Toronto, principally in the hands of Mr. Sam Bamford, Mr. Bert Swann, and Mr. Nordheimer's very efficient kennel man, Mr. Fred Smith.

Mr. G. M. Tyrrell was present in charge of the Ottawa contingent, and a little item of news he gave us was, that he had moved into the suburbs and now had a splendid opportunity of giving more time and space to his own dogs, and those of one or two others that he has in charge.

There were a number of exhibitors from the province of Quebec outside Montreal, and we must not forget Mrs. Sturdee, who had courage enough to come all the way from St. John, N. B., with the Maritime entries. From Sarnia, Ont., to Montreal is no short jump, but Mr. W. J. Parker was not afraid of it.

Officers of the Club and of the show are as follows:

Hon. President, H. Vincent Meredith; President, Edgar C. Budge; 1st Vice-President, J. C. Hanna; 2nd Vice-President, Frank Stuart. Executive committee: H. A. Rutley, J. R. Innes, Stanley O. Laing, Alwyn Coristine, Frank Lamb, Ralph Burnett, and B. Casgrain. Bench show committee: The executive and F. R. Phelan, R. A. Ross, W. H. Parkinson, F. W. Cook, R. C. Binning, J. H. Sheehan, Harold Hendery, W. Berry, J. H. Silver, H. B. Donovan, E. Fortune, Bert Evans, Arthur Hersey, E. M. Collinson, J. F. J. Burnett, and W. R. Aitken. Judge:

Ben Lewis, Lansdowne, Pa. Honorary Veterinarians: Doctors Piche and Etienne, Montreal. Secretary-Treasurer and Superintendent, H. H. Hughes, 109 Place d'Youville, Montreal.

Mr. Ben Lewis was conscientious and painstaking in his judging, and while there are always places in which one does not agree with the judge, there was invariably room for a reasonable difference of opinion.

The competition for the best dog in the show was made a feature of Friday evening, simmering down to about half a dozen, including the Irish Setter, Ch. Ruminantly Rhu, the Bulldog, Ch. Prince Albert, the Bull Terrier, Ch. Glenedyth Imperator, the Boston Terrier, Sparkling Beauty, and one or two others. The award, after an examination occupying some forty-five minutes went to Mr. Hanna's great Irish Setter bitch, that for the best of opposite sex going to the Bulldog. Glenedyth Imperator was the choice of many, including that of the writer. He was put down in such splendid condition that he looked absolutely like a piece of white marble. He was trained to stand like a statue too. Probably the judge could not get past his rather peculiar eye color and moderate feet. This must always be an unsatisfactory award to make. However, Imperator took the cup for best Terrier all breeds in the show, made one of the best team variety class.

Now to the dogs. Many of them are well known and will need brief mention. In the absence of Alta Eva, in St. Bernards, Messrs. Stuart's brace, Beethoven and Thanksgiving, had no trouble in taking all they asked for.

There was but one moderate Dane, winners being withheld.

There were half a dozen Russian Wolf Hounds, which gave an interesting competition, Alexander of Spring Farm, a beautiful, big, white dog winning, with Nicholas of Spring Farm, good in head and front but not shown in such nice condition, following. There was only one bitch.

Sheriff was alone in Greyhounds, just a moderate one, and the same may be said of Jess, the English Fox Hound, and Sport the Pointer. The Fox Hound packs did not eventuate.

In Irish Setters we had a really splendid class of twenty-six. Far better than New York, was Ben Lewis' opinion. The best of the dogs was Ch. Montrose Shamus O'Brien, put down in really magnificent form and looking as well as ever he did. He was a credit to Mr. Ross's hard work, and it takes hard work to put a dog down in this shape. A dog of beautiful outline, splendid head and true Irish Setter color. Next came Corry Law that we have seen looking much better, not particularly in coat, for he has a splendid colored coat, but he was shown very thin and looked flat sided, and while we do not want barrel bodies on Irish Setters, we look for some spring of rib. Following him was a new one of Mr. Campbell's, Pat O'Brien, and in our opinion he should have been second. He is a dog of good size, nice clean neck and a head that is typical. Time will give him the coat that he now wants. There were several good ones behind these, in fact the class as a whole was a credit. The best in bitches went to

Ch. Montrose Ruminantly Rhu, who eventually won for best dog or bitch in show. Following her came Mr. Trudeau's Queenie, quite a typical one. There were a number of good bitches shown, some of them wanting size and quality. Mr. Hanna won the brace class followed by Mr. Trudeau's brace.

English Setters were hardly classical enough. The winners bitch, quite a nice type with good body, legs and head, and the winners dog and reserve winners were very fair.

There was one moderate Gordon. Dalmatians numbered five. Quite a good class, winners going to the dog best in formation and color, though little fault can be found with Ch. Windholme Forever, a good all rounder.

Cockers, a nice class of twenty-one, where Mr. Coristine's kennel was quite prominent. We are sorry to see so many of his good ones leave us. The puppy winner, Twigg's Black Silk, was moderate, bit heavy in head. Braeclough Professor a nice headed dog, but too high on the leg. Peter and Red Bobs fair in head. Braeclough Pacaud was excellent in body, legs, and is sound, but is a bit heavy in head. In bitches we have more quality. Puppy winners, Braeclough Rheingold is nice in head, but a bit light. Braeclough Dolly Dollars in novice, quite a nice bitch with a fair eye. Braeclough Dark Gem, a nice type, a bit short in face, good enough for any company. Redeemed has a sweet head and good coat. Welsh Queen, a fair Cocker but poor in expression. She took winners in the colored class, winners black going to Braeclough Dark Gem. Reserve to Redeemed. Mr. Coristine took the team and brace classes.

We are promised a special report on Collies. The winners dog, is a big Collie with a heavy coat, but on the coarse side. Winners bitches went to that quality one, Weston All Quality. Collies made about the best entry in the show, with a total of thirty.

Bulldogs were a very mixed lot with comparatively few good ones, and the puppies were poor. We are evidently not breeding from the right kind of bitches, as we certainly have the sires. There was not much in puppy dogs. Nylo far the best in head, just fair. Drummond Little Irish Boy has not a bad body. There was nothing special in junior dogs. The winner in novice dogs, Amherst Jeff, was best in front and a bit more made up than the others. He is a bit high up and not too good in tail. In limit dogs, forty-five pounds and over, the best looker was spoiled by his crooked front. He was third in open dogs, Royal Albert being the easiest kind of a first, and looking as well as we have ever seen him. His coat was in excellent condition, and he is more broken up in face, which improves his appearance. Worsley Costermonger entered in this class was smothered on the way down from Toronto. Royal Albert was winners. Worsley Dreadnaught, that has a good deal to commend him, reserve. The winning puppy bitch is best in front, body, and foreface. Belgrave Lady of Lambrae was winners. Cheethams Daughter taking reserve. Belgrave Lady, the winner, is far the best bone and body. Cheethams Daughter is well known.

There was quite a nice little class of French Bulldogs. The winning bitch being the best of the lot.

Bull Terriers introduced us to a classy lot. The first class to come before the judge was junior dogs and bitches, in which Glenedyth Imperator had little trouble in going to the front. He has improved in head and was shown in absolutely perfect condition, something that must have told badly against Franklin Dynamo, who sadly needed a good dressing down. Glen-edyth Elfin, quite a nice little bitch, divided these two. Imperator retained his position to the end, reserve winners going to Glenedyth Bob, who has a practically perfect tail, a good thing in a Bull Terrier. He was well beaten in head and front by his kennel mate, Franklin Dynamo, 3rd. Knock-Ne-Chree-Leader, thick in skull and short in foreface but very much of a Bull Terrier, sturdy in type and with an excellent body, took reserve in limit, and 3rd in open where Inferno King was reserve. Princess Patricia was made the best of the bitches. We have seen her looking better. She is a bitch that needs to be shown in top notch condition. Glenedyth Sprite, the puppy winner, quite a nice little one that needs time. Glenedyth Elfin took reserve winners. The winner in open bitches, light weight, Calumet Rosaline, is quite a good one but was badly shown.

Sound End Sombrero won in American bred dogs.

Bostons numbered twenty-four. There was quality in the first three or four of either sex, the puppy winner in dogs has far the best head, second puppy being pinched in face and poor in tail. Blondy Hooker is quite a good all round Boston and well known in Montreal, he was reserve winners, Clifton Star beating him with considerable to spare, better in body and hind parts. Sullivan's Jack is a dog with much to commend him, an excellent shower, nice body but beaten in front of the eye by those placed above him. That beautiful little bitch Sparkling Beauty went right to the front. She was shown to perfection, in absolutely perfect fit, was sweet all over, with beautiful head, eye, body and front. Dolly Spanker was transferred to the seventeen to twenty-two class, a very nice type and little to choose between her and Battleford Beauty, that was 1st in open bitches 12 to 17 lbs. In novice bitches (17 to 22 lbs) Dolly Spanker beat Mrs. Rioux's Hope in body, front and head. Mrs. McQuillan's Ashland Pride, well known, was reserve winners. The only heavy-weight bitch entered, Sniffer, was decided by the judge not to be a Boston.

Airedales came next with an entry of eighteen. The dogs had much the best of it, although varying greatly in type. The bitch class was weak throughout. The puppy dog winner was found in Moorside Bonsor, far the best in head, carrying a plenty of bone. 2nd Colne Tango, quite a fair one and an excellent shower, a bit light in eye. Third, Rocky Diamond, beaten in head. The first three held their places in juniors, reserve going to Julius Caesar, that was badly dressed. Colne Tango was alone in novice dogs. The tricks were changed in limit, Birchcliffe Oorang, a strong headed, heavy boned dog, shown with a bit too much coat, which by the way is what he wants, was 1st, 2nd, Clonmel Master Crack, a different type and not in any too good condition, a good headed dog with an excellent front, and when he got up steam, a very beautiful shower. Colne Express Order 3rd, Colne Tango reserve. The same order in open but that Julius Caesar took the reserve. There was little to choose between 1st and 2nd in puppy bitches, both quite moderate. Birchcliffe Babs, who won from junior to winners, rather nice type all through. She did not have a great deal to beat. Bothwell Peggy, a very fair one, that wants time, was reserve winners.

Aitken and Silver showed a very good quartette of Red Dachs, the best being the bitch Nancy Lea, low to the ground, sound and with excellent outline. Of the dogs we liked Cicero about as well as any.

The least said about the smooth Fox Terriers the better. The winning bitch, Wharncliffe Bell II. was the only one of any quality. No dogs were shown except in the local classes. In Wires it was very different, twenty-two competing. The winning puppy, quite a nice one, short in back, good ribs, very fair front. Second and 3rd were very fair puppies, with not much between them. Donnington Pete, the winner in juniors, was a great fronted dog of the hard bitten type. Clockwork, 2nd, good in head, front and coat, third to the puppy winner. Clockwork won in novice dogs, but went down to the new importation Walnut Regalia, in the next class. Regalia has plenty of substance, with a grand front, good coat, carries plenty of bone, he might be better in eye and foreface and doesn't want to grow an awful lot more. In open dogs he met Ch. Hawes Broom, that got overly excited, which must have told somewhat against him. We liked the little dog and always did. He is a very showy Terrier and beats Regalia somewhat decisively in eye and foreface, failing to him in front. He is a dog that requires to be shown in perfect coat condition, and Mr. Lewis, after the judging, said this was why he put him back, otherwise Hawes Broom would have won. We understand that they are to come together again at Toronto on the thirteenth, and are looking forward with a good deal of interest to the result. There were a number of good bitches but nothing so out-standing as the first three or four dogs. Lady Tess had rather an easy win in junior and novice bitches. She is one of the "Donnington" kind and was shown in the ring by Mr. Moore. Drumclaph Wasp, quite a nice stamp of bitch, shown with a bit too much beef. Hillcrest Feature, winners, a good coated and headed bitch, reserve winners going to Lady Tess. Amongst the locals Mr. Lindsay handled a nice stamp of dog, that in color and make-up showed his Matchmaker lineage. He was aptly called Matchmaker Dandy.

Irish Terriers made thirteen, so that we suppose it was an unlucky day for some of them. There were no puppies. The winner in novice dogs, Carnlough Murphy is quite a stylish Terrier but wants time to fill out. Pat, 2nd, has a very decent head and is stout in foreface. The winner in limit and open was found in Micky of York, a good shower, stylish, nice long head, with a good neck, nice ears and is also a good coated one. Second to him came Kinkora Barney, a dog that makes a lot of himself, all a Terrier but is big and coarse in skull. Third, Kilbarron Statesman, sluggish in the ring at first, a dog of nice outline, good front, clean in foreface that seemed rather over-balanced by his skull. He is nice behind and before, has a true coat, none too long in neck, nicely carried ears. He should at least have been second and we hardly thought that Mr. Meehan got the most out of him. These three retained the same position in open dogs, Quarrywood Commander being put reserve. Ross of Rockfield showed a very fair type of bitch in Copper Queen, that did not have much to beat in those below her and did it rather easily. Nice head and foreface, good eye, wants attention to one ear. Quarrywood Bell, placed reserve, has a very fair head and face but a bad, soft coat.

An even dozen Scotties, the well known ones winning. In winners dogs, it was Drumclaph Ruffian and Drumclaph Laird. Bitch winners went to York Scotch Highball, reserve to Drumclaph Beauty. Highball was feeling her oats and gave a perfect exhibition of ring manners. She was looking at her best and really is a beautiful Scotty.

Laddie Heath was the only West Highland and was just moderate.

Mr. Campbell "came back" in Black and Tans, winning with a very sweet puppy in Brilliant Boy, nice clean head, good eye, excellent color and outline. He fails in front to Mr. McLean's well known Willowdale Standard, that was second.

Just imagine, ten Skyes. It is getting back to the old times in Montreal to see such a class, and so many good ones and well shown. The winner was found in Miss Townsend's Talisker Grey Girlie, long and low, carrying a good coat but light in color, if color now means anything (the judge said it didn't). Donald Scott took the reserve, and is one that we like, a dog of more substance, somewhat better in head, and with more spring of rib, a good coated one of sound color.

German Sheep Dogs and Belgian Sheep Dogs were quite a novelty here and attracted a good deal of attention.

We were looking for a larger entry of Poms. Some of the older exhibitors seem to have dropped off. Mrs. Gruenwald's kennel was largely represented. Mr. Bently supported the show with three, Mr. Almond with two, while Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Kelly each had one entry. Mrs. Gruenwald had a round half dozen. Windsor Masher had the best of it in novice. In limit dogs, any color, Sir Bruce, a beautiful little black, won and went through to winners, the reserve being found in Windsor Masher. In open dogs, black, the order was, 1st, Sir Bruce, 2nd, Cheeky Tiny Boy, 3rd, Little Snitch. It was in limit bitches, a mixed color class, that we failed to agree with the judge. First went to Fox Hill Connie, a sweet headed little Pom, nice body, profuse in coat, but for a black, with altogether too much rust. We could not see how Mr. Lewis got by Cheeky Harrogate Duchess, the shaded sable, quite a natural shower, carrying the most profuse coat and a practically perfect plume. We could see nothing wrong with her eyes, although she is perhaps a bit coarse in skull. Still where coat counts for so much, as it does in a Pom, we thought she was an easy winner for best Pom in show. Second, limit went to Cheeky Little Nipper. Winners bitches was Fox Hill Connie. Cheeky Little Nipper reserve.

There were not many Toy Spaniels. Mrs. Sturdee's Ruby taking winners in dogs, winners bitches going to the King Charles Queen Bess, with the reserve to Muggie, also a King Charles.

There were five Pekingese. Mrs. Casgrain's Togo winning. Reserve in mixed winners class going to Mr. Marr's Wee Chinee.

Mrs. Campbell had the only brace of Yorkshires, the dog winning largely on account of color.

There was one Toy Poodle, and Mr. Van Camp showed two excellent little Griffons. Four Pugs, where Dine was made the best in the bitches, with Dundee Princess, that we thought had rather the best of it, reserve. Ch. The New King was the only dog and of course won, as did Mrs. Delaney's Toy Terrier, Bonnie Boy II., also the only one in his class.

A DEATH SENTENCE AGAINST DOGS.

Our old friend, and Past-President of the C. K. C., Dr. J. S. Niven, London, Ont., was kind enough to send us the following editorial from the Toledo Times, which he suggests is worth reproducing, and it certainly is, although part of it we have used before. We are always glad to get stories or clippings referring to the dog as a dog. The editorial is headed,

"A Death Sentence Against Dogs," and reads as follows:

Chief of Police Murphey has issued a death sentence against all stray dogs, to be carried out to-day.

Is such a sweeping sentence just?

Are all dogs dangerous and evil?

Would it not be just as fair to issue a death sentence against all vagrant men—just because a few of them had committed murder?

Those who would kill all homeless canines are advised to read a tribute to the dog that was delivered by Senator Vest of Missouri some years ago. He was attending court in a country town, and, while waiting for the trial of a case in which he was interested, was urged by the attorneys in a dog case to help them. Voluminous evidence was introduced to show that the defendant had shot the dog in malice, while other evidence went to show that the dog had attacked the defendant. Vest took no part in the trial and was not disposed to speak. The attorneys, however, urged him to speak. Being thus urged, he arose, scanned the face of each jurymen for a moment, and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury: The best friend a man has in the world, may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter, whom he has reared with loving care, may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name, may become traitors to their faith.

"The money a man has, he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps, when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor; when success is with us, may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, one that never proves ungrateful nor treacherous, is his dog.

"A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer; he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince.

"When all other friends desert, he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journeys through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him, to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies.

"And when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad, but open in alert watchfulness—faithful and true, even in death."

Then Vest sat down. He had spoken in a low voice, without a gesture. He made no reference to the evidence nor merits of the case. When he had finished, the judge and jury were wiping their eyes. The jury filed out but soon entered with a verdict of $500 for the plaintiff, whose dog was shot; and it was said that some of the jurors wanted to send the defendant to the penitentiary for life.

DOG SHOW AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

The following is given for what it is worth. It is from the Pan headquarters. An open show, under all existing circumstances, would probably be a success if it had any kind of management.

The Pan must have a descendant of the late lamented P. T. Barnum at the publicity end. The innuendos will fall flat on those in the know.

The "Day of the Dog" will be tripled at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The dog of a king, prince, millionaire or peasant will be entitled to a place and equal rights on the bench of the International Dog Show to be held in San Francisco, November 16, 17 and 18, 1915.

All that is necessary for the ambitious dog to do is to obtain a master or sponsor who is willing to advance transportation expenses and entry fee and he may find himself in the lists and under the critical eye of expert judges.

The amount that has been set aside for cash prizes is $3,588, and the classifications will be as modern as the best dog fanciers of the world are able to make them.

In the International Dog Show the department of live stock will live up to the standard it is maintaining in every other branch of its exhibits, and to the standard every other exposition department is exemplifying. It is to be a universal show and can not be considered a part of any circuit. It will be an institution that will put its own brand of excellence and pre-eminence on every line of human endeavor, including the arts and sciences, manufactures, agriculture, live stock breeding and athletics.

No dogs will be singled out for special treatment in the matter of prize awards, and the American or foreign dog that is declared a winner in his class will be the best dog in that class; regardless of the rules of any organization. To the winning dog will be given a diploma of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and the cash awards that accompany the honor.

The exposition officials have found some exhibitors of dogs who have been, at first, disinclined to appreciate the fact that an International exposition can not permit any organization, however worthy, to say who may and who may not exhibit dogs.

This attitude was discovered when the exposition department of live stock made application to the American Kennel Club of New York asking co-operation in presenting the greatest dog show the world has seen. It was not the intention of the department that the 1915 show should be treated as a point show.

The American Kennel Club simply was requested to regard the San Francisco show as an International event and permit members of the club to have record wins placed in the stud book. August Delmont, president of the American Kennel Club, expressed his approval of the plan in a letter to the Secretary of the American Kennel Club, but the plan was rejected at the annual meeting of the Club.

Later inquiries have elicited the information that the action in refusing to co-operate for the largest dog show in the history of such events.

The International Dog Show in 1915 will be given under the exposition rules and special care will be taken in the formation of the rules so that the owners of pure bred dogs will not have real reason to take exception. Recognition will be given the stud books of the kennel clubs of this and other countries.

The refusal of the American Kennel Club to assist, means that the International Dog Show will not have the unanimous aid of related societies and organizations as will every other exposition enterprise.

The opportunities and rewards that will be open to exhibitors and the fairness of the rules makes the appeal so strong that no difficulties are anticipated. There is no feeling of resentment toward the American Kennel Club and the rules will be prepared with the aim of keeping all exhibitors from evoking the displeasure of the authorities of kennel organizations.

Dog fanciers will find interest in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Field Trials to be held in February, 1915. After the trials the hunting dogs will be shipped to San Francisco and benched in the department of live stock, where the awards of prizes will be under the direction of the exposition board of directors.

There will be three cups awarded, one to the "Derby," one to the "All Age," and one to the "Champion Stakes," first prize in each event will be designated "The Panama-Pacific International Trophy." This will be the first of the special activities in the department of live stock.

Members of the Haswell Company Relate Dog Stories

The Star, Her Leading Man, and the Stage Manager Spin Yarns About Amusing Experiences With Canine Friends

As a rule actors are fond of animals. Particularly are they fond of dogs. Talk to an actor and switch the talk around to canines and nine times out of ten he will have something interesting to tell you about a dog he owns or used to own.

One day this week after rehearsal of the Percy Haswell Company, at the Princess, as the actors were taking a little breathing-spell, dog stories were started.

"A friend of mine down in Texas," one of the actors was saying, "gave me a Cocker Spaniel pup which I took with me on tour. The little fellow was a favorite with the company, with one exception. There was one man who didn't like Timmy. This was Wilson who played a prominent part in our play. He was a grumpy sort of chap and I've no doubt the dog had displeased him by some of his puppy tricks, and the dog didn't like him.

"One wet night, in New Orleans, Wilson lost a gold-headed umbrella and started raising a rumpus about it. He just about accused the rest of us jointly or individually of stealing it.

"I was in my dressing room when Wilson, with a couple of others, dropped in. We chatted for a moment or so, then Wilson pointed to the curtain that hung before my closet and answered as a door. Sticking out in plain view was the head of Wilson's umbrella.

"Of course I felt like five cents, I couldn't for the life of me explain how the beastly thing got there, because I didn't know. Wilson tried his best to laugh the matter off.

"Suddenly someone asked 'Where's Timmy?'"

"I called the dog but he didn't come. Then I pulled back the curtain and there he lay with Wilson's umbrella tightly gripped in his mouth. Its owner reached for it, but Timmy snarled and refused to give it up. I saw quickly that if I didn't get hold of that umbrella there wouldn't be anything worth getting hold of soon, so I coaxed Timmy to give it up. He had deliberately stolen the thing out of pure vindictiveness, I do believe, and had done his utmost to conceal it."

"When I was here two seasons ago," said Miss Haswell, "I brought with me a Boston Terrier named Barney. He was the dearest little fellow, so kind and affectionate that everybody loved him. On our opening night someone sent up a great sheaf of roses and cunningly concealed in the heart of the huge boquet, I found a bird cage and in the cage a yellow canary. I have always liked birds and undoubtedly I made too much fuss over the wee singer to suit his lordship, Barney. All the time the canary was in my room he sulked and turned his back on me if I spoke to him. This was so unlike him that I thought he must be ill, so the following night when I went to the theatre I left him at home to keep the bird company. When I returned he welcomed me with all his old-time fervor. The reason was all too obvious. On the floor lay a battered tenantless cage. The little canary was no where visible, not one sign of it could I see, save one, pitiful little feather that hung to Barney's jaw. As I was sitting back thinking out some dreadful punishment to inflict on him for his crime, he jumped into my lap and snuggling down went to sleep as sweetly as an innocent child."

"Your stories are good, both of 'em," said the stage-manager, shuffling forward, but I've got one too, if you don't mind my telling it, Miss Haswell."

"By all means do," invited Miss Haswell.

"Well, I owned a Collie about seven years ago and that dog was so conceited he thought he knew more about running my business than I did myself. His specialty used to be in saving my life. Every time a piece of scenery would fall he'd grab me by the trouser-leg and yank me to one side. He really thought he was saving my life, you could tell by the tickled look he wore. Everybody thought him a wonderful dog and they'd just about made me think so too, when one night that sagacious animal pulled me right underneath a piece of scantling and I was in bed for two weeks after it. I sold the Collie and if anybody so much as says dog now, I get a headache."

DOG LEADS WIDOW TO DEATH PLACE.

Swims All Night Round in River Searching for Dead Master.

Soaking wet and shivering, a little dog named Corbo scratched at the door of his master's home at 22 Ninth Ave., Lachine, P.Q., on a recent Saturday evening, and barked a message of death to Mrs. John Fitton, whose husband had gone to his death in the icy water of the St. Lawrence. John Fitton left his home about seven o'clock Saturday morning, declaring he was going for a little walk, and taking the dog with him.

At about eight-thirty the dog returned with water dripping from him and whimpering the message he wanted to give.

Alarmed, Mrs. Fitton went for her son Walter, who is employed at the Allis-Chalmers works, and led by Corbo they went down to the river bank to search. The dog led them to Cider Mill where he jumped into the water and swam about, apparently looking for his master. Search was made for the body, but owing to the rapids being so close the body may have been carried into the middle of the river. Late Saturday night the dog began whimpering until finally his mistress was forced to let him out of the house. He remained out all night and returned the next morning soaking wet from a continued search in the river.

MRS. THAYER EXPLAINS.

Editor Canadian Kennel Gazette.

Dear Sir,—Owing to misleading reports which have been persistently circulated regarding me in my former capacity as treasurer of the Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts, it seems but just that I make a statement setting forth the facts in their true light.

I have been for several years treasurer of this organization, and at the annual meeting held last June, the legality of which was drawn into controversy in the courts, I was re-elected treasurer, and was the only officer concerning whose election there was no controversy.

Later, the legality of the election was contested by mandamus proceedings, in which it was decided by the Court that Mrs. Elta H. Seagrave, who claimed to be president, and Mrs. Louise M. Squires, who claimed to be secretary, were not legally elected, and declared that Mrs. Lizzie M. Blake and Mrs. Helen M. Talbot had been elected, respectively, president and secretary.

After the mandamus proceedings had been brought, but before they had been tried, a meeting was held at which those claiming to hold office by virtue of the election held last June, were present. I reported to the meeting that I had on hand $254, proceeds of the Bench Show, which amount belonged to the association. Mrs. Seagrave ordered me to pay this sum over to Mr. Channing H. Cox, attorney, who was present, for legal services, which services were, according to the receipt, given by Mr. Cox, on account of proceedings of Helen M. Talbot et al., Mrs. Talbot being one of the plaintiffs in the mandamus proceedings. This amount was paid Mr. Cox on June 18th, 1913, from the funds of the association, and approved by Mrs. Elta H. Seagrave, claiming to act in her capacity as president, and with the assent of those present at the meeting.

Last December the association questioned the validity of this payment from the treasury of the association for the purposes as set forth in the receipt, and demanded that I repay this sum. A suit was later brought against me, and being advised by counsel that I was legally liable, I paid personally the amount claimed.

I have on many occasions requested Mrs. Seagrave and other officers, by whose direction and assent this payment was made, to make their fair contribution to meet the sum for which I am out of pocket, as a result of paying this bill out of the club funds, but no one of the officers has made any contribution toward this sum.

I have made a complete settlement with the association, and hold its receipt for any indebtedness which may have been occasioned by any action of mine as treasurer, and I am the only one who has financially suffered by reason of the payment above referred to.

Very truly,

(Mrs.) E. K. Thayer.

IRISH TERRIER SHOW, SEATTLE.

The Annual Matinee Show of the Irish Terrier Club of Pacific Northwest was recently held at Madison Park, Seattle. This is an event of considerable interest to the members, when new and young stock and "prospects" are presented for the first time. Some forty dogs were on hand, the judging taking place in the open under ideal weather conditions.

The placing of the dogs was done by Dr. T. R. Hoggan of Vancouver, B. C., an Irish Terrier breeder of many years, and his awards were well received.

Classes provided for three divisions of puppies, novice, bred by exhibitor, open and winners. Nothing very startling in the first and second divisions puppies, the winning Hope dog and the Griffiths bitch being faulty in coat, otherwise both have good heads and muzzles and neat ears. In all puppy class, dogs, Captain Tennant trotted out a youngster of which much had been rumored and upon which much interest was centered, everybody wondering and guessing as to what the judge would do with this dog on account of his size. Dr. Hoggan did what any Irish Terrier judge should have done—he quickly acknowledged this dog's rare qualities in spite of his bigness, and gave him the blue, and kept giving him the blue in each succeeding class right up to winners. This dog, Madrona Brick, is one that any breeder could well be proud of producing. True, he is a big one, and what he will be six months or a year from now is questionable, but to-day he is all quality and entitled to unstinted admiration. He has an extremely long, lean head, a coat of an intense red color, and strictly all texture, could do with more of it, great bone, good front, stands nicely off ground and shows well.

Novice and open dog classes found several very good dogs facing the judge, including the eastern importation Baughfell Salute, concerning whom there exists considerable difference of opinion. Two coast judges had previously put this dog up, while one had failed to place him at all.

With a number of excellent dogs in the ring Dr. Hoggan rightly declined to recognize Salute, giving his attention to Madrona Brick, and Laddie, Bantry Mike and Murphy (C. P. Curtiss), Madrona Mick (C. B. Yandell), placing them Brick, Murphy, Mike. Brick got winners with Mr. Curtiss' dog Murphy, reserve. Barring his foreface this is a very good youngster, capital body all through, well coated and a very nice size dog. Bantry Mike, with lots to commend him, with the best pair of ears of the lot, was out of condition and loaded in shoulders.

The pick of the bitch classes was shown by Wm. Ollard, Captain Tennant, C. P. Curtiss, A. J. Richardson and Captain Griffiths, the winning bitches being Coast Native Maid (Wm. Ollard) first puppy, and bred by exhibitor, Henry Hope, bitch second in novice and open and reserve winners, Coast Native Worth (Wm. Ollard) first novice, open and winners. This bitch particularly pleased the judge. She is all Irish, lovely short-coupled body, good coat, color and texture, strong, well-filled foreface, small ears, a keen mover and withal the right size. Captain Tennant with Brick got best in show with Mr. Ollard's Worth best opposite sex.

The weather was just right for the event, the best of good feeling prevailed and everyone had a pleasant time.

A fitting climax to a most enjoyable day was the excellent entertainment given to judge and members by Captain Tennant at his residence overlooking Lake Washington.

WESTERN CANADA KENNEL CLUB WILL HOLD FIRST MATINEE SHOW ON JUNE 20.

A general meeting of the Western Canada Kennel Club was held in the Industrial Bureau building for the purpose of completing arrangements to hold the first matinee show on June 20. The show will be held at the Canadian Industrial exhibition grounds, and the club will endeavor to make arrangements with the railway company to run a special car to convey the canines to the grounds. No admission fee will be charged, and it is expected that the show will be well patronized.

The show will be governed by Dominion Kennel Club rules, winners point to count. Judging will start at 2 o'clock. The judges for the various classes will be announced at a later date.

The following is a list of the breeds which will participate in the first show, also the prize list:—

Irish Terriers—Western Canada Kennel Club cup—J. J. Adams, best Irish Terrier; 4 ribbons, head, body, legs and feet, coat.

CROPPING.

Referring to an article in your paper which reads: "Seek to debar all dogs with cropped ears," I want to protest in the strongest possible way against cropping and I think that you should come out in the strongest possible manner advising the people holding shows to refuse dogs that have been mutilated in this manner.

A case has been called to my attention which has happened in Montreal, where a couple of dogs had been cut without an anesthetic. The dogs are at present in the most pitiful condition. I am going to investigate every detail of this case and the parties will be punished as they most richly deserve. These dogs were first brought to a veterinary surgeon, he refused to mutilate the dogs and then they were handed over to a man, whom I thought was too good a sport to do such a thing.

I want to ask you what is necessary for me to do to bring this matter to the attention of the Canadian Kennel Club, and to have it taken up by them. In any event I will prosecute to the limit anyone that I find, in the future, in the Province of Quebec, lending themselves to this practice.

You will oblige me by publishing this matter in the interest of dogs.

Yours very truly,

J. R. Innes,

TERMINAL CITY K. C. SHOW.

Held at Vancouver, B. C.

The third annual show of the Terminal City Kennel Club will go down in history as the best show ever held in Vancouver. First the quality of the dogs throughout was a record, far above any show ever held in Vancouver. The management of the show was a credit to the officers in charge, the good feeling and harmony of the Club in general was shown throughout the show, everyone working hard, and the show went with a swing from start to finish. The Club has now over one hundred paid-up members and the show made enough to pay off the debt of last year's show, $233.00, and will have some money left, thanks to the hard work of the officers and members.

The trophies this year were a grand lot and one win was all that was needed to take any of the prizes home for keeps. This is how all the shows should be, the Club refused any prizes with strings on them.

On Saturday at one o'clock p.m., about 150 fanciers sat down to a luncheon with all visiting exhibitors as guests of the Club.

The Toys at this show far out numbered any previous show on the Coast. Poms, a large class, 18 being benched, and some nice ones among them, but a lot shown out of coat. A Pom without a coat should not win. Vivian Dwarf looked the best among the dogs, being a very attractive little fellow with a lot of Pom quality about him. Ch. Vivian Darkie, a nice one but not at his best was reserve winner to his son. Billiken the parlor show winner was in no show shape, and this applies to a lot of the Poms. Marie in the Japanese Spaniels was all alone, a nice little Jap. Two Blenheim Spaniels were shown, Biddy, first and special, has nice head, ears set on low and a good length, nice compact body and a very good coat. If Biddy had a shorter muzzle she would be a flyer. Waratha Peggy second, only a fair one. Spitz a small class, Teddy best in the dog and Petrosky winner bitches.

Dachshunde, Tootsie won special for best, Schubert best of opposite sex. Whippets, Polly Jones had things easily for best whippet.

Scotch Terriers, Dundhu, special for best Scottie, a real good one in every section. Myrtle not as good as Dundhu, but at that a good one.

Fox Terriers, a large class of all kinds, no flyers among the puppy dogs. Jock best among the dogs closely followed by Cumberland Lad and Coats Jack Rustem, three fair ones. Among the bitches Hope had clear sailing all through her classes, securing special for best smooth dog or bitch in show. Hope is a Terrier all over, shows quality throughout, nice body, legs and feet. Wires, a large class. Receipt of Paignton won the special for best Wire, closely followed by the winning bitch Longstone Darling, both owning good coats.

Irish Terriers, Harwood Finnegan easily the best, beating Ch. Neta for best in show.

Airedales, the largest and best class ever benched on the Coast. Bachelor Boy secured special for best Airedale in show, Bradford Midland Nell best opposite sex, two good ones. Some good young stock was also shown which no doubt will be in the running later on. Killarney Imperius, Killarney Millmaid and Killarney Marion are three fine young bitches.

Boston Terriers, another record breaker for British Columbia, and the quality was good throughout all the classes. Ch. Wampagne Delight won the special for best Boston in the show, having no trouble to beat his kennel mate, Grand Master Doll, who secured best of opposite sex.

French Bulldogs, Ch. Charlemagne of Never-Never-Land headed the list of Frenchmen, securing special for best in show, also won the special for best in the ladies variety class. Rodney Brenda secured special for best of opposite sex.

Bull Terriers, a large class, Prince Grey won the special for best. Etonian Bess won best of opposite sex.

English Bulldogs, a good entry, Trafford Bullcity beat her kennel mate Trafford Bill for best in show, Bill securing special for best of opposite sex.

Old English Sheep Dogs, General Wainwright best in show, Shepton Pleasure best of opposite sex.

Collies, Lady Sonsie had clear sailing, cleaning up all her classes, also secured special for best Collie in show and special for best puppy of all breeds in the show, Lark securing special for best tri-color and special for best of opposite sex.

Cocker Spaniels, Alberta Rose won special for best in show, Rex won special for best of opposite sex. Clumber Spaniels, Drake Mawson won the special for best in show. Irish Water Spaniels, Barleywater Mike had things easy, winning special for best in show.

Retrievers, Mallard gave the rest of the class the flag, winning all alone everything in sight.

Irish Setters, a large class and some rare good ones shown. Killarney Kim secured special for best, Oaks Lillie Lamont won special for best of opposite sex. Gordon Setters, Victoria Pedro won special for best in show. English Setters, Ch. Golden Rule secured special for best, his kennel mate, Ch. Victoria, winning special for best of opposite sex.

Pointers, a class of quality, Victoria Bell winning the special for best Pointer, Victoria Grouse secured special for best of opposite sex.

Fox Hounds, Jailor best in show, Crazy best of opposite sex, two strong Hounds. Russian Wolf Hounds, Ch. Genest of Roseau won special for best in show in a large class, Irma best of opposite sex, a worthy daughter of Ch. Genest of Roseau.

Great Danes, Golden Fawn won the special.

St. Bernards, Knight Templar of Arslan secured the special for best in show.

VANCOUVER KENNEL CLUB, LIMITED.

A general meeting of the Vancouver Kennel Club, Limited, was held May 28th, 1914, for the purpose of electing officers and laying plans for active work for the coming season.

Many old timers were present, and just as enthusiastic as ever where the dog is at interest. Further I am glad to be able to report that many new friends were amongst our numbers.

The report from the President, Mr. F. W. Welsh, showed the Club to be in splendid financial standing, and noted in particular that thirty new shares had been applied for by new fanciers.

Among the numerous subjects discussed was the rules, regulations and advantages governing the clubs in the West, shown under C. K. C. and D. K. C. rules. The pros and cons were entered into at great length, and thoroughly threshed out.

Finally it was unanimously resolved that this Club support the Dominion Kennel Club, and hold its next show under the D. K. C. rules and regulations.

It was further resolved that this Club assist the Vancouver Exhibition Association in making their show, the first to be held under D. K. C. rules in B. C., a success, and trusted that the D. K. C. would exert its influence by helping outside clubs to compete at the Vancouver Exhibition next September.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. Glendon Moody; Vice-president, Ernest E. Langford; Treasurer, F. W. Welsh. The directors are: C. G. Rolston, F. D. Elkins, H. F. Montgomery, T. Wyndham, Grasham Jardine, W. A. Hunter, and Geo. A. Cranfield; Hon-Sec., W. J. Lutley; Hon-Solicitor, D. G. Macdonnell; Hon-Auditor, E. S. Hopper.
