OWING to the fact that this paper is to be taken over by the Club or some private party, the January and February issues have been combined, so that all business in connection with the late management can be settled before it changes ownership.

The financial standing of the club is better than ever, which will be seen by the statement to be published in the next issue, and which will be presented to the Annual Meeting on Friday, February 9th.

As will be seen by the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors in this issue, the resignation of the Assistant Secretary, Miss M. L. Rominger, has been accepted to take effect on March 1st. Anyone wishing to apply for the position of Secretary-Treasurer would do well to send in their application, to be in time for the Board of Directors' meeting, which will be held on the evening of February 9th.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB.

A meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the offices of the Club, on the evening of January 19th, 1917, at 8 p.m.

Mr. James W. Bain, Vice-President, was in the chair.

There were present Messrs. Geo. Barron, Dr. J. A. Campbell, Fred W. Jacoby, T. E. Milburn, Jos. Perkins, Jos. Russell, M.P.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The committee appointed reported that they were awaiting a reply from the Dominion Kennel Club re meeting them at Ottawa.

It was moved and seconded that the accounts presented be passed by this committee and paid.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that the Secretary be asked to write to the National Live Stock Records for a detailed statement as to how our account is made up, and to forward them a cheque in full of account.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that the Secretary be instructed to write to Mr. A. W. Greene, Ottawa, and explain to him that the ballot papers had already been printed when his letter was received to have his name withdrawn, and that his letter will be placed before the next meeting.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that the list of new membership applications presented be passed by the Board of Directors and elected.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that the resignation of the assistant secretary, Miss M. L. Rominger, be accepted, to take effect on the 1st of March. That the appointment of the new Secretary be left to the new Board of Directors, and with the suggestion that the position be filled by a returned soldier, if possible.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

TORONTO BULLDOGS DO WELL AT MONTREAL.

Three of our Toronto bulldogs gave a creditable account of themselves at a bulldog show held in Montreal, on January 20th. Mr. H. A. Wilson's Coster Diamond not only captured first breeders', first open and winners, but also lifted several trophies, including cup for best in show. This win completes the dog's claim to championship; henceforth we shall know him as Champion Coster Diamond. His kennel mate, Walnut Crib, captured first limit. Mr. Renwick's good bitch, Blue Diamond, also came out with flying colors by winning first limit, first open and reserve winners.

THE AGITATION AGAINST DOGS.

We have received a large number of letters from correspondents who are disturbed by the agitation against dogs and dog owners, which has recently been engineered by a section of the press. These letters are but a tithe of the number received by the secretary, for the consideration of the Committee of the Kennel Club.

Of the letters addressed to ourselves considerations of space permit of our printing only some four or five, which are in a measure representative of the opinions of most of those who have written to us. Another reason which has decided us to limit the number of letters to be published is, that we are disposed to discount the importance of the attack, originating as it does from that portion of the press ever on the lookout for a fresh sensation, and more particularly because we are certain that the vast majority of English people are sincere lovers of dogs, and that the tirades in the press by no means represent general popular opinion.

There is, and always will be, a certain class of persons who show positive hatred to any sport, recreation, or avocation which is not in accord with their own tastes or sentiments, and so, while there are in this country many millions of dog lovers, there are probably to be found in the United Kingdom quite a few thousands who are inimical to the companion and friend of man. It must be remembered that outbursts of irritation and of malevolence against dogs or their owners appear periodically in one or other organ of the London press, and probably in every local newspaper in the kingdom, and we consider the present outburst one of them.

It will, however, not be forgotten that the occasion for the present outburst of newspaper malignity had little to do with the question of dog ownership or dog showing. It arose from the reply to a question put to Mr. Pretymann, by a member of the House of Commons, regarding an increase in the charges for dog licenses. In his reply, Mr. Pretymann indicated that a reduction in the number of dogs might be considered before the new licenses are issued in January next. This reply has suggested in some quarters that people may be forced to destroy their dogs from a fear of the national supply of food running short. We do not think that any such interpretation should be given to Mr. Pretymann's reply; we take it to mean that steps may be taken to reduce the number of stray and ownerless dogs. The other hypothesis appears to us incredible. The Germans would indeed think us reduced to extremities if the nation should contemplate taking such a drastic and retrograde step. Some of the newspapers have published absurdly exaggerated statements as to the cost of the keep of dogs at fashionable hotels and elsewhere. The vast proportion of dogs live upon a few biscuits a day, in addition to what would otherwise be waste material.

A further consideration is, as a correspondent of one of the newspapers eloquently pointed out last week, what may be termed the sentimental one. There is quite enough sorrow and bereavement in the world without doing anything so Hunnish as deliberately to add to it. With some people, their dog is almost the only thing that they love that has not been destroyed. Many of them belong to a loved sailor or soldier away fighting. Many of them were the gift of the dead. Many of them are loved dearly for their own sakes. Any Government that attempted to interfere with the Englishman's dog would, if we are not vastly mistaken, raise a storm of opposition so profound as would cause them to recognize very quickly the inexpediency of any such attempt.

In conclusion, we complain that that section of the press primarily responsible for the present agitation, while giving great prominence to every statement in support of their own views, have failed to give equal prominence to statements that tell against their contentions. As an instance, the report of a very important interview that their own representative had with Mr. Pretymann is relegated to an obscure paragraph at the bottom of a column in the newspaper chiefly responsible for the present commotion. The representative had invited Mr. Pretymann to explain his suggestion that numbers of town dogs may have to be destroyed. Mr. Pretymann's reply was: "Owing to the present situation, I am unable to afford any explanation, and, as it involves a question of policy, it must, I am afraid, remain in abeyance for the present." The crusade begun in the journal in question was very largely based upon the forced interpretation of the first statement made by Mr. Pretymann, which we have quoted above, and it might have been expected that the further statement should have been given equal prominence. One consolation, however, remains, as Mr. Pretymann's later statement certainly tends to show that it is not the intention of the Government to move in the matter at the present time.

In Defence of Dogs.

Again referring to the suggestion so freely made that Mr. Pretymann's statement in the House inferred that it was desirable to reduce the number of dogs in the urban districts, and that this would be considered before the new licenses are issued in January, it may be pointed out that in 1914 dogs licensed in England and Wales numbered 1,844,565, and in Scotland 133,875. The total duty paid for the year was £741,902. If the tax were increased it is very questionable whether the revenue derived from it would increase in proportion. No class of the community shows greater affection for, or receives greater consolation from, the faithfulness and companionship of his dog than the working man, and it is he, and not the richer classes, who would chiefly suffer from the imposition of a higher tax. Mr. Jaquet, in his letter to the press, refers to the fact that the Kennel Club has given its support to all measures having for their object the more effective administration of the Dog Licensing Act, especially with the view of lessening the number of stray and ownerless dogs, and further draws attention to the large sum received every year from America and other neutral countries as the price paid for English pedigree dogs—money which is a direct benefit to the nation.—The Kennel Gazette.

OUR LONDON LETTER

Comparisons have often been drawn between the English Greyhound and the Russian Greyhound (the Borzoi), and as France is highly interested in both the above varieties, it would be as well, I think, if I mention our friends' and Allies' opinion on the matter.

The Greyhound, which for the moment considered in France, from the hunting point of view, as a "prohibited article", has there had his hour of glory and had enjoyed the universal consideration at the time when his services had been required to hunt the wolf which, for a long time, had ravaged France, pushing, as he did, his enterprises up to the walls of Paris itself. The hunting of the wolf, with Greyhounds on the leash, was, up to the 16th century, the only one in use, and that hunting had not been abandoned until the Revolution: Gaston Phoebus does not know of any other manner of hunting the wolf; Robert Monthois owed his best successes to this method of hunting, and Leopold, the duke of Lorraine, destroyed many wolves with large Greyhounds in the neighbourhood of Nancy.

England has kept the use of the Greyhound, although there are not any more wolves in the British Isles, but the aptitudes of the breed have been applied to the hunting of the hare under certain rules and conditions, which constitute the coursing, a very attractive sport, about as attractive as horse-racing. However, there is no sign that, owing to the above sport, the number of hares in England had been greatly diminished; as a matter of fact, the hares breed very fast in England, but it must be admitted that hunting, as well as shooting are conducted in England in quite a different spirit than in France, where the "prosecution" of the game has far too often degenerated into the mania of destruction. Before the war, there were some amateurs who had tried to introduce coursing in France, and successful meetings took place in closed parks with "bagged" hares. It is much to be desired that this sport in France should be renewed after the war.

It is in Russia and in countries of the Orient that we find the Greyhound being used in big huntings. The different breeds of these Greyhounds solicit the attention of the hunting man. One of the most famous, if not the most famous, is the Russian Borzoi, introduced into England and into France about 20 years ago, and which rapidly became popular as a breed de luxe, for, in coursing against the hare, the Borzoi could not compete in speed with the English Greyhound. Otherwise, the Borzoi unites all the qualities of the ideal Greyhound of Gaston Phoebus: "The Greyhound should have a long head, of the shape of the pike, black eyes of the sparrowhawk, small, high set ears of the serpent, a thick and long neck, like that of the swan, tucked-up loins of the lion, high shoulders of the roe-buck, feet of the cat, long ribs of the hind, thick hind-quarters of the stag, belly of the lamprey, thighs of the hare, tail of the rat."

If the Borzoi is not as speedy as the Greyhound, he is very superior to the Greyhounds of England, Ireland and Scotland in the hunting of the wolf, and his powerful jaws do not let go the beast they have seized. The Borzoi are held on the leash, in twos or threes, by riders, on the borders of glades, whereas a pack of hounds are beating the wood. When the wolf debouches, he is allowed an advance of about 200 yards, before the Borzois are allowed to go: they quickly catch the wolf and gripe at each side of his neck. The wolf then is done for, and it is then easy to knife him or to muzzle him, if it be wished to keep him alive. Young Borzois quickly learn to catch the wolf by the side of his neck, and when a single Borzoi is let go, he catches the wolf by the throat and, although down, does not let go. I have often been interested in the stories of the late Monsieur Leon Cremiere, who had been captain of the hunts of the Grand Duke Nicholas, in which he had told us the splendid exploits of the Borzois belonging to the Imperial Kennels and to those of the Grand Duke, where the breeding of the Borzoi is being done on quite scientific lines. The colour of the dogs is orange or brindled on white ground, they are very big and exceptionally strong; the coat is sometimes long and silky, sometimes short and wavy. The black colour is not liked, and, of course, the white should predominate.

The first Borzois in England had been, about 30 years ago, presented to the then Prince of Wales (afterwards King Edward VII, or, rather, to his Consort, Queen Alexandra, and they had often figured at shows. It is a pity, however, that their pedigrees could not be traced far back. Her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle had imported some very beautiful Borzois. In any case, as times go, England is now the country with the best collection of Borzois.

In France there are also many Russian Wolfhounds. Some time ago the Marquis de Montebello imported a splendid specimen from Russia, for this diplomat, to whom France owes the first steps of the ladder of alliance with Russia, had been instrumental in two enormous brindled Borzois of Gatchina having been sent in 1867 to the Universal Exhibition by H.L.M. the Czar of Russia.

To every Pekingese breeder and fancier the name of Miss Smythe ("Lady Betty" of "Our Dogs") is familiar now, and every one of them has no doubt heard of or read her very instructive book "The Pekingese." If, however, there be some of those interested in Pekingese who have not read the "Monograph on the Pekingese Dog," they should at once procure a copy of the fifth edition of that work (published by Miss L. C. Smythe, at 9, Lisgar Terrace, West Kensington, London; price three shillings, post free). This is the very latest edition, and represents a real vade mecum of the Pekingese fancier, breeder and exhibitor. It is also an "edition de luxe", printed on the best of papers, with pages and pages of beautiful illustrations of our best Pekingese, and contains chapters on the "Imperial Pekingese," on the "Chinese Dogs," on "The Ancient Palace Dogs of China," on the "Type," on the "Present and Future of the Pekingese in America," on "Pekingese in America," and many other most useful articles contributed by experienced breeders. As illustrations, there are "Celebrities of the Past" and illustrations of present-day dogs. The work contains over 300 pages, and considering the very important place the Pekingese occupies in the fancy of the United Kingdom, America and other countries, it should, of course, figure in the library-shelves of not only those interested in the breed, but of every dog-lover, if only as a source of very reliable reference.

Whereas most of the breeds of dogs are now passing, owing to the war, through a very hard crisis, the Pekinese does not seem to have suffered at all, if one can judge from the number of entries at our principal shows, and from the great demands our American cousins continue to make on this breed in England, and I can safely prophesy that the same state of things, with regard to the Pekinese, will go on after this terrible war. A bon entendeur, salut!

CLAPTON GLENGARIAN RETURNS TO THE CLAPTON KENNELS.

Mr. Geo. W. Bailey, Ottawa, informs us that he has re-purchased from Jas. T. Cumming, of New Glasgow, N.S., the the smooth Fox Terrier dog Clapton-Glengarian, the only living son of Ch. Clapton Varnisher, whom Mr. Bailey had the misfortune to lose over a year ago. Glengarian was sold to Mr. Cummings in the spring of 1915 who only showed him once, getting winners at St. Johns 1915. We are informed he is a grand Terrier and shall be fitted for New York Show. We also understand that Mr. Cummings has placed a commission with Mr. Bailey for the best smooth he can produce for Toronto Exhibition Show 1916. Clapton-Glengarian shall shortly be advertised at stud in these columns, and has already been mated to some good Clapton bitches. Mr. Snyder, of Westboro, Ont., has also bred a good wire bitch to Glengarian.

SHORT BARKS.

Mr. T. E. Milburn's well known prize winning bitch has whelped a litter of three to Dr. Cameo, jr.

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada's New Year's Show proved a grand success, both numerically and financially. A full report will appear in next month's issue.

Dr. V. E. Cartwright, Gravenhurst, Ont., and Mr. Fred Jacobi, both report that their bitches bred to Dr. Cameo, jr., are showing heavy in whelp.

Mr. W. B. Levack, the well known Boston Terrier fancier, and owner of such good ones as Fashion Plate, Dowd's Glory, Little Pete II and others has left for Bermuda with his wife and family, and on his homeward journey will meet the Toronto bunch at the W. K. C. Show in New York.

Among the visiting bitches to Mr. T. E. Milburn's Dr. Cameo junior, were Major W. G. Thompson's of the R. A. D. C., Exhibition Camp, and Mr. J. E. Freeman's of Port Arthur, Ont.

The Boston Terrier Club does not intend to let the interest in the "Boston" stand dormant, and are arranging to hold a series of evening shows every few weeks from now on, notices of which will appear in the evening papers.

Mr. T. E. Milburn reports the death of his well known "tailless wonder" Hillerest Trixie. She died whelping.

We are sorry to hear that our well known Vice-President is not in the best of health, and has been ordered south by his medical advisor. Before leaving Mr. McKay has disposed of a large part of his extensive kennel, and on his return will come back into the game stronger than ever.

Mr. T. E. Milburn has bred his bitch Hillerest Delight to Dr. Cameo junior. This should be an ideal cross, and some flyers should be produced by this mating.

What augurs well for the success of the Boston Terrier is the fact that out of 50 exhibitors at the last show, 22 of them appeared in the ring for the first time.

We hear that some of the members of the B. T. of C. were rather disappointed in not having dogs good enough to make good at the show, and are now on the war path to get something to clean up with. We wish them success, but with the bunch of good ones coming along it will keep them busy.

Mrs. W. C. Ingram reports a litter of six dogs by Oxonian's Rex and a Ch. Prince Rexworthy bitch.

Mrs. J. W. Weldon of Galt, Ont., reports a litter of three dogs and three bitches sired by Oxonian's Rex.

Malvern Kennels report a litter of three dogs, two bitches by Raffles X. and Belle F.

Mr. H. E. C. Brennen reports a litter of three—two dogs, one bitch—by The Clown.

Mr. R. E. Stonehouse has sold a female puppy by Goldrest Valecartier and Goldrest Babe to Mr. R. S. Allen of Ottawa.

Ardoch Model and Lothian Lady, two of the West Highland White Terriers, owned by J. D. Eagan of London, are being prepared for the Westminster Show in New York next month.

J. D. Eagan of London reports the sale of five West Highland White Terriers during the Xmas season to parties across the line.

The West Highland White Terrier population has been increased by eleven. Lothian Snowball and Lothian Betty, owned by J. D. Eagan, being the proud mothers, and that sterling little "white" dog Ardoch Model, the sire. Model has been real busy since his importation by Mr. Eagan. These two litters bring his total up to thirty, and twenty-five of them dog pups.

Mr. J. H. Brown of Toronto has sold his good little Boston female Spirits Joy to Mr. Davis of Hanover, at a good figure.

Mr. J. H. Brown's Boston female Oxonian's Lady is heavy in whelp to The Spirit.

Miss C. J. LaViolette of Montreal reports a very fine litter of five Pekinese puppies, three males and two females, by her beautiful dog Yuan Li of Wangza (imp.) out of Chin Lu Oh, also imported. There are 34 English champions in the parents' pedigrees, so the youngsters should do well in the show ring.

There are rumours of a dog show to be held in Kingston, Ont., in the near future.

Mr. Geo. Pilmer of Victoria, B.C., reports a litter of six healthy Scotch Terrier pups, 4 dogs and 2 bitches, by Donald Dhu Ah Diaghah A.K.C., 200979, out of Rislin Belle C.K.C., 17277.

SUCCESS MARKS WINNIPEG'S FIRST JOINT BENCH SHOW

Success crowned the efforts of the two kennel clubs of Winnipeg, the Western Canada and the Winnipeg, in their joint bench show yesterday at the Industrial Bureau, for, not only was it the biggest matinee show ever staged in this city or the west, but it was the best attended. Financially, the affair exceeded the expectations of the joint executive, and in the number of entries, the classes of same, and the manner in which the awards were made, the two clubs found every reason to rejoice over the happy thought that inspired the joint show. As a beginner for a new year of interest in high class canines, the event proved just what the promoters hoped to establish, that the two clubs have reached the end of their differences, and are well on the way to harmonious co-operation in all that they aim to achieve, especially the promotion of more intelligent interest in the preservation and refinement of the best kinds of dogs owned in Winnipeg and the province.

All of the judges selected, except two, were able to attend. Tom Love and James Henderson being prevented by illness and business out of the city, from handling the specials allotted to them. T. Kay McKenzie made the awards in the classes assigned to Mr. Love, and G. Kynoch took those of Mr. Henderson. In all there were 160 dogs benched, the last best record in that particular being 108. As a result of the show the joint committee will have a little over $100 to divide between the clubs.

COLLIE CLUB SHOW.

The Ontario Collie Club of Toronto held the first of a series of evening shows, on Wednesday, Dec. 13th last, when a very nice muster of collies appeared in the ring, with the following results:

Puppy dogs under 6 months—1, J. Martin's Leith Prince, a very nice quality puppy, with good bone, nice eye, good long head and small well carried ears. If nature is kind he should prove a real good one; 2, J. Strachan's Coltness Boy Blue, a merle with good long head, nice eye and ears, but in time may develop into a nice dog; 3, J. P. Gregor's Craigroyston Clinker, a fair puppy.

Puppy dogs under 12 months—1, Leith Prince; 2, Coltness Boy Blue; 3, W. Everist's Sandy, a nice upstanding puppy, little round in eye and needs to flatten in skull.

Junior dogs—1, Coltness Boy Blue; 2, Sandy; 3, F. McGraw's Laddie, this dog is too round in eye, high in ear carriage, with a dark muzzle which altogether spoils expression.

Novice dogs—1, J. Vivarh's Campbell McGregor, a well built dog with good coat, body, legs and feet, but could be finer in skull; 2, Coltness Boy Blue; 3, Sandy.

Limit dogs—1, J. P. McGregor's Western Emperor, a big ranging dog with a very long head, but hardly the type like, needs more spring of rib, and was all out of coat; 2, J. Gray's Bellfield Creator, this dog has a better type of head, but it showing age, lacks coat, and appears on the small size.

Open dogs—1, J. Strachan's Coltness Clinker, a fine long-headed dog with good body, legs and feet, well carried ears, nice eye, well sprung ribs and good front, this dog has improved in coat since I saw him last; 2, Western Emperor; 3, Bellfield Creator.

Tricolor dogs—1, S. Donaldson's Bellfield Prince, a big, well built dog, long head, poor ears and a little course; 2, Coltness Boy Blue.

Green dogs—1, Leith Prince; 2, Campbell McGregor; 3, Sandy.

Puppy bitches under 6 months—1, C.

Carter's Princess Teasie, a well made puppy, with good coat and ears, but could do with longer fore face; 2, T. Tomlinson's Tango Topsy, a nice mouth; 3, J. Miller's Tessie, a stylish puppy, but on the small side for her age.

Puppy bitches under 12 months—1, G. Whichell's Lady Inverness, a fine big, good bodied bitch with long head, the right type, good coat, but a little high in ear carriage, a bitch that should produce something real good; 2, J. Sinclair's Parkdale Flash, fair size with fine head, fair coat, a little high in ears, and light in bone; 3, Princess Jessie.

Canadian breed—1, Lady Inverness; 2, W. Jupp's Queenie, a big well coated bitch, nice eye, good body, legs and feet, but prick ears; 3, A. Schonfield's Otterburn Bell, fair body legs and feet, a little course in lead.

Novice bitch—1, Lady Inverness; 2, W. Wylds, Fairie Queen, a nice stylish bitch with good head, eye and ears, good coat, needs a little more bone and size; 3, W. Fear's Delphine, a fair tricolor with good coat, nice eye, but bad in front.

Limit bitches—1, Fairie Queen; 2, J. Gray's Bannockburn Beauty, a very stylish tricolor, but on the small side, and has a roman nose; 3, Delphine.

Open bitch tricolor—1, Bannockburn Beauty; 2, Delphine; 3, J. Waddell's Darkrose of Bosalim, a good big bitch with good wealth of coat but wavy, good ears, fine length of head, but showing age.

Green bitches—1, Lady Inverness; 2, Nellie; 3, Parkdale Norah.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are pleased to announce to our readers that our show critic, Mr. N. K. Swire, has promised to give us a few practical hints on the management of dogs in the hope of familiarizing the novice with a few details and information regarding our four-footed friends. It is not in any way intended to be an exhaustive treatise for the expert, but rather to help the inexperienced fanciers. These articles will appear from time to time in our journal when space permits. The first of these interesting and instructive articles appears in this issue.

BOSTON TERRIER SPECIALTY SHOW

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada held their ninth annual show in Occident Hall, Toronto, on New Year's Day, and the excellent classification and large list of specials brought out an entry of nearly 100 dogs. A better collection of Bostons has never been seen in Toronto before and the all-round type and quality was very noticeable. The energetic secretary and officials had everything well in hand, and the proceedings went off like clockwork. In fact, it was what one would call a "hum-dinger."

Dr. C. F. Sullivan of Dorchester, Mass., officiated as judge and gave universal satisfaction. There was very little quibbling or kicking and no half-way decisions, his work being characterized by a consistency to a certain type. During the judging the ring-side was packed to an uncomfortable degree by a crowd of interested exhibitors and visitors. All in all, it was a huge success. The officials were pleased, the exhibitors were pleased, and so were the public in general to see everything move along so smoothly and without friction. The awards were as follows:

Junior puppy dogs (over 6 months and not exceeding 9 months)—1, Mr. Brennan's Derby Speed; 2, S. H. Hicks' Kenmore Raffles; 3, Marchants & Brown's Torontonians.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB EVENING SHOW

The Toronto Kennel Club held the first of their monthly evening shows in Broadway Hall on January 23rd. Classes were provided for all the large breeds and the cups and specials which were offered for competition brought out a bumping entry. The large hall which is spacious, clean and well lighted was filled with a crowd of interesting exhibitors and spectators. These events cannot fail to impress an observer that a steady interest is growing in thoroughbred dogs in Toronto. There are many persons for this and probably foremost amongst them is the fact that the various speciality clubs monthly evening shows have done much in fostering this growing interest. Many persons who would not have a chance to get a prize at the big events are given the opportunity through these mediums to win a trophy that is prized almost as much as if it were won at one of the feature events. Furthermore many good dogs have been discovered at these evening shows which would still be hiding their lights under a bushel because the owner would not have ventured to exhibit at the big shows. Once a person wins a prize, even if it is only a ribbon, that person is going to go right along and try to do better, and perhaps get a better dog, for the spirit of competition is born at once. It is apparent that these evening shows have come to stay and are helping to swell the ranks of the fanciers. The T. K. C. officials are to be complimented on the excellent way in which they managed this event, everything went off with a swing, two large rings had been provided which allowed ample room for the spectators to get a view of the exhibits. Collies, Airedales and Bull Terriers made the largest sections, and many promising youngsters were brought out that should be amongst the prize lists at our future show. All the appointed judges toed the line, but owing to the large entry it was deemed advisable to appoint a few other experts to take over some of the classes.

PRACTICAL MANAGEMENT

BY NORMAN K. SWIRE

The first question the would-be fancier should ask himself is: "Have I the proper accommodation for the health and welfare of dogs?" No man has a right to keep a dog unless he is prepared to shelter him. I am no advocate of excessive fondling such as we see from time to time. These practices are transgressing all the laws of hygiene. Still there is a happy medium between these bedroom pets and those housed in barrels and exposed to all the winds that blow. The average adult dog doesn't need coddling behind a stove or hot water pipes. An ingenious man could rig up a lean-to kennel which would be perfectly warm and comfortable and sufficient for any but the most pampered pets.

Toy dogs and those kept for protection against unwelcome nocturnal visitors have a just claim to the house at night.

If it is the intention of the reader to launch out into the fascinating hobby or business of breeding and exhibiting he must be prepared for a more considerable outlay at the beginning. Prudence dictates that before embarking upon a venture of this description one should carefully consider the space at his disposal and how many dogs of his choice it will accommodate. The fact that some breeders succeed with the most indifferent accommodation is scarcely a reason for imitating their example. A large grass run is a necessary complement to every range of kennels. If puppies are to be raised they need this facility, as overcrowding is fatal. An isolation hospital is a most desirable adjunct, for not only can it be used for your sick animals, but those coming home from shows can be segregated and thoroughly disinfected before placing them back in the kennels. If fanciers would pay more attention to this we would have far fewer outbreaks of distemper.

Much could be said regarding the accommodation and arrangement of kennels, but the reader will gather from the few hints already given that his future success depends to a great extent on the proper housing of his dogs.

Having satisfied yourself on this point, the next most important thing is: "What breed or variety shall I keep?" People are constantly asking this question. My advice is suit your own choice and purse. A mongrel may be as companionable as a thoroughbred, but naturally will not give you as much satisfaction to look at or be half so profitable as the well-bred one. The difficulty is to know which variety shall have the benefit of your patronage, as we have about 70 different established varieties. If you are in doubt as to what some of these are like go to any of our leading shows. Some are adapted for one purpose and some for another. Each breed has its own peculiarity and charm. After you have made your selection the next thing that arises in your mind is: "How much shall I give for the dog?" The price of a dog depends largely on its merits, either for exhibition purposes or breeding. Ascertain who are the most reliable breeders of the variety you have selected, tell them your requirements, and should he be a fancier of good reputation and experienced, he will guide you right. Don't be misled by those advertisements offering cheap dogs that can do wonders both on the bench and in the field. If your intention is breeding something that will be a credit to you, choose matrons from well-known strains that have stood the test of time. They need not of necessity be prize-winners, although by choice one would naturally prefer having one that could be exhibited when occasions arose. It is essential to select healthy bitches with plenty of bone and substance, unless we are dealing with toys, which is quite another matter. Avoid those that are anyway diseased or of a nervous disposition. Assuming the budding fancier's mind is made up regarding the proper housing, selection of breed and the purchase of matrons to establish his kennel, we now come to the fascinating part of the hobby—breeding. This is where we are more or less on equality with one another, the poor man having just as much chance to breed winners as his wealthy brother, providing he gives the matter his careful consideration. To my mind, there is far more honor and credit due to the man that breeds a good one than there is in buying one. You cannot look for success in your breeding operations unless you know something about the ancestry of the material on which you are going to work. I could quote many instances where wealthy people have bought all the best dogs and bitches of a variety, and have failed ignominiously to achieve any results worthy of consideration. There is an old saying that "like produces like." Experience teaches us that this needs considerable modification. It is a mistake to think that by mating one champion to another that the progeny will be champions also. It is the skill used in bringing about the fusion of the blood that will produce the results at which we aim. Many of our champions are the result of a happy chance, and the probabilities are that he will not have the power to transmit his good qualities to his progeny.

In selecting a stud dog see that he is of sound constitution, without any apparent congenital defects, and they should not only embody in themselves the points we wish to reproduce, but they should come from a strain in which these features have predominated. Some dogs are much more prepotent than others—that is to say, they are more capable of stamping their desirable characteristics upon their progeny. As a general rule it is not wise to breed from animals that are at all advanced in years, although there are times when it is necessary for the preservation of a particular strain to use a dog eight or nine years old. Unless you have plenty of capital and sufficient knowledge to judge wisely it is not advisable to buy a stud dog at the outset. Possibly as you gain an accretion of experience you may find a young dog that fits your requirements and whose pedigree is well suited to your needs if he is a typical specimen and his family tree will bear investigation. You may reasonably assume that other fanciers would use him at a reasonable price.

EXPORTATIONS FROM ENGLAND TO THE UNITED STATES.

Mrs. E. K. Lincoln, the owner of the famous American kennels of "Greenacre," and one of the foremost breeders and exhibitors in the United States, has lately been very busy importing dogs from England through Mrs. G. Horowitz, the wife of our English representative and correspondent. Mrs. Lincoln does not look after trouble and expense, provided she gets something very good, and we can congratulate her upon her high sporting instincts. About the end of last year Mrs. Horowitz shipped to Mrs. Lincoln that beautiful son of the wonderful Champion Red Shyllock, the red Chow Chow male Shyllock's Double, whom, on arrival, Mrs. Lincoln, who understands a Chow, found simply perfect. By the Ss. "Baltic," on the 10th January, Mrs. Horowitz sent her the above dog's litter-brother, the red Red Dazzler, who is an exact replica of his famous sire, and even better than the latter, and this is saying much! We may mention that Mrs. Horowitz had been at great pains to persuade its owner, Mrs. Johnston, to part with that dog, and, of course, a very large cheque was one of the inducements.

Just after Shyllock's Double, Mrs. Horowitz purchased for Mrs. Lincoln the winning red Chow bitch Kako Kwhy, from Mrs. Scaramanga, and by the "Baltic" she shipped to the above lady the young red Chow bitch Lodmore Mahlie. The latter is just over 12 months old, but, when fully developed, and Chow fanciers know that this breed requires time to develop properly, she will be very, very hard to beat anywhere, as her head, body, expression, legs and feet are perfect. By the same boat Mrs. Lincoln received from Mrs. Horowitz the following two Toy Spaniel males: the beautiful King Charles Ashton More Young Remus, bought from Mrs. Mallock, and the wonderfully perfect Blenheim Merry Lees Wyngold, purchased from the Misses Clarkson and Grantham. Of course, the King Charles and the Blenheim are big winners in England. The former will be a splendid kennel-companion for that marvellous unbeaten King Charles bitch Ariadne, property of Mrs. Lincoln, which had also been procured by Mrs. Horowitz. We cannot finish without congratulating Mrs.

Lincoln again on her latest purchases, on her intrepidity, and on her true sportsmanlike spirit, and we wish the "Greenacre" kennels every further success, as they so well deserve.

LITTLE NOTES ON PEKINGESE.

The Canadian Pekingese is generally good in bone, with wire legs, splendid massive square skull, large lustrous eyes, but most of them a bit long in body which prevents that lion appearance given by a well defined waist. The mane which should be of coarser hair and form a thicker frill around the neck, seems also forgotten. This is indispensable to the real Peke appearance and should be encouraged by brushing upwards from the shoulders and downwards the rest of the body.

The tendency to make a Pekingese a "lap dog" has been practically eradicated in England. I do hope it is not prevailing here as a dull sleepy Pekingese is lacking in the true type which is most lively, playful and even turbulent, he has written broad upon his face the words "courage and independence, and anything like the soft languid expression of a Toy Spaniel, would spoil completely the unexplainable "tout ensemble" which makes a Peke a Peke!—Canadian Breeder.

PRESERVING ONE'S PET DOG AS RUG WHEN HE'S GONE.

Unique Pad Spreading Among Dog-Lovers of Converting Deceased Canines to Rugs.

(Felix J. Koch).

Latterly, down in the Queen of the West (Cincinnati), a great tanning establishment has been building up no end of business along the line of preserving man's best friend, the canine, in the form of a rug, or sometimes lap-robe, when he's gone.

Time immemorial, the affection between man and dog has been close, indeed, as the proverbial one between brothers; and when, through sickness, accident, the dog passes on, his master will not rest content to merely lay him away,—as he might other of the dumb things.

Thanks to this, converting the pelt of the dog to rug, cover or mat has become a recognized industry, and, in the Middle West, one great concern, at least, receives skins to such end from dog-lovers of miles about.

The process undergone with the skins is simple; withal interesting.

Owners of the dog are directed to have the hide removed from the body itself; this work done by any local butcher. Usually a fee of a dollar is exacted by the butcher for work of the sort.

This hide is then shipped to Cincinnati, where, first of all, it is cleaned thoroughly. All dirt removed, it passes into tan-liquor, prepared accordingly; remaining in this, then, from two weeks to a month.

After the tanning, the skin is dried by hand; then re-dampened, in order to remove the stiffness, or "bone", so that it may be worked and limbered generally.

The skin thus far prepared, the next stage consists in the dressing of the hair-side; beating out the skin and combing the hair to natural look.

The skin is set aside to mellow a bit; when a finishing touch to the hair here and there and the addition of the usual mat, and it is done.

Skins vary, of course, in size; and prices for the work are in accord.

Wee lap-dogs will be put into shape, as rule, for a dollar and a half. Shepherd-dogs and collies,—the latter the most popular for mounting of all,—come to two dollars. Newfoundlands and St. Bernards range at two and a half dollars, as a rule, while very large and fine specimens may cost as high as three dollars.

Usually sixty days is required for the work, that it may take its course and be done satisfactorily.

At that, there is profit to the tanners, in turn; while dog-lovers receiving the finished rug, or mat, for their homes, are seldom loth to acknowledge money put to better end,—better value receiving,—than that for this new rug for the home.

Vancouver, B.C.,

January 23rd, 1917.

To the Editor Canadian Kennel and Bench, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Will you please find space in your paper for this letter?

For some reason some busybody is questioning the ownership of the Black Pomeranian dog champion Vivian Darkie.

To whom it may concern let me say once and for all the dog is the sole property of yours truly,

(Mrs. Lena Colbeck.)

COLLIE CHATTER BY JAS. D.
STRACHAN, TORONTO.

Ontario Collie Club.

The Third Annual Meeting of this live club was held on Monday evening, January 9th, 1917, at Harry Wilson's "gathering ground," 206 Queen Street east, the President in the chair.

The Secretary-Treasurer submitted a report which was well received, and reflected great credit on that official's ability, carefully detailed and itemized, it was a pleasure to watch the funds grow from a humble little $20.00 at the beginning of the term, until it had reached the generous proportion of $50.00 odd, with material assets of a similar value. The new officers are:

President—James D. Strachan, re-elected by acclamation.

Vice-President—George Ashbee.

Secretary-Treasurer—Frank A. Metcalfe, re-elected by acclamation.

Executive—Messrs. Wheeler, Gray, Getby, Thetford, Miller and Donaldson.

Auditors—Messrs. Weyms and Rose.

Press Representative—James D. Strachan.

Three very successful evening shows were put on during the 1915-1916 season, and while they all showed the balance on the wrong side, they were more than profitable from the great amount of enthusiasm created, and healthy increase in the membership. Applications at one meeting were actually 16, while the annual meeting provided 6 more. Surely enough to make our specialty club friends a trifle jealous, and the watchword is "Keep goin'".

During the year just closed the members supported, by way of judges and entries, the following show giving clubs: Orangeville, Toronto K.C., Winnipeg, Oakville, Toronto Fair, Ottawa, Montreal, St. Johns, N.B., Blue Cross, Albany, N.Y., and Boston, and have the satisfaction of knowing that their co-operation was well received, and their dogs honored. 15 winners ribbons came to Toronto. The following were well in the limelight, and I feel certain that the owners of the dogs about to be reviewed are proud of their charges. "Ladies first," so "Ch. Weston Billesly Blush," won the coveted "white" at Orangeville, Oakville, Toronto K.C., and Blue Cross, and between times found time to raise a swell litter, to Ch. Knockladye King Hector. Some of the latter will be benched at our coming shows. Congratulations to you Cecil Culbert. Your females achievement is a source of real satisfaction to the fancy. Still another champion was created, and the envied "ten" won by "Campbell Sterling," the property of our Vice-President, for the current year. Mr. George Ashbee, congratulations George. "Coltness Clinker," who was evidently eclipsed in his "own home town", had a brilliant career on the circuits. This young dog drew down reserve winners at the Panama Exposition in a class of dogs, recognized as the best on the coast, meeting 23 in limit and open, which included many a well known importation—he accounted for them all, excepting "Seedley Blue Sky," one of Mr. Lord's very best. Oakville gave him (Clinker) reserve winners, while at Winnipeg he not only was accorded winners, but best non-sporting as well, at his Western fixture. Ames Aldritch, Esq., proprietor of the Amescroft Collie Kennels, offered an oil painting entitled "A River in Normandy" and valued at $200.00, for the best Canadian-bred, of all breeds. "Clinker" won that and all other specials offered as well. Ottawa, St. Johns, N.B., gave their winners ribbons to him. Blue Cross reserve winners one first and two seconds. At Albany show one second and two thirds at Boston. Here he met the newly-imported Ch. Laund Luminous, the greatest coated collie ever imported, and other Stellar collies were known in the collie sky. Clinker is a born traveller.

Other good dogs to make their mark were Bob Weyms's Prince Charlie, winner at Orangeville, reserve at Toronto Fair. Coltness Countess went to winners at Ottawa. Coltness Cymbeline also done well wherever shown. While a Coltness puppy dog took premier place in his class at the big fair.

In smooth collies, our one and only Norman Swire, had everything his own way, and it surely was a case of can the "rough" stuff, when the smooths were let loose in the ring. Pretty smooth stuff Norman, eh?

Three evening shows are on the slate for the present season, one of which is already history, and brought out some new ones, some classy, some otherwise, some old friends were also brought out, which we were glad to see, and bid welcome to. The visitors were Mr. McGregor's recent purchase Weston Emperor, late of Winnipeg, a dog with a large share of quality, and the pride of our old friend and brother Tommy Milner. Coltness Blue Boy, the Blue Merle puppy so generously donated by Mrs. C. M. Lunt, of Alstead fame, to our late Blue Cross Show special lists for a review of dogs mentioned in connection with our evening show I refer you to the judge's report in this issue of Kennel and Bench. The next evening show will take place on Friday, February 2nd, when one of our latest recruits, Mr. J. T. Waggitt, will don the official ermine on that occasion, and as I am informed from a reliable source that his awards will go to the "proper end of the lead." I trust he will get a large entry from the club members and others.

In England, where the war is a very serious, every-day, every hour affair, where sadness and sorrow have entered every door, we find our doggie men equal to the occasion. The younger fanciers have all done, or are doing their "bit," and doing it wholeheartedly and well—as our enemy can bear testimony to—while the older men attend to the homes and find time to make the old show landmarks still possible, viz., Northern Collie Club, Manchester, Chatham Hill, Newport, Crufts, etc., shall I just review some of the best? Just for our collie readers—well let me begin with Ch. Laund Luminous, he was the outstanding Collie at the Northern C. C. Show in January, 1916, while Laund Laureate, although quite a puppy, ran Sonnenburgh Squire, a neck for neck race at the Ladies' Kennel Association Show last June, surely Mr. Stanfield brings out some rare Collies from time to time.

Other Collies who may be considered "big guns" are Ch. Magnet, Eastwood Energy, Ch. Wishaw Rival (this dog, in a show held at Glasgow last March, and boasting seventeen hundred entries, won all his classes, first any variety and special for best in the show). Ch. Porchester Blue Sol, now a veteran, carried Hume Robertson's colors well to the breeze right through the year. Ch. Parbold Peepshow was probably the sensation of the Northern Collie Club Show, carrying off the challenge certificate there. Then came to America and made a repeat at our New York Derby. This shows that friend Ainscough still retains all his cunning in the production of real Collies. Sparkhill Special, Eastwood Blue Bell, Ch. St. Helens Sensation, Ch. Eden Ethel, Ch. Stanton Sylvia, all these Collies and many more excellent dogs have been mentioned in "honorable despatches" in the Collie folio.

Our American cousins to the south of us are to be congratulated on their having become the owners of several of the aforementioned English winners. Here are some names of dogs now on this side. Ch. Wishaw Rival (Dr. Bennett), Eastwood Energy, Southport Sign, Wishaw Masterpiece, Ch. Parbold President, Ch. Parbold Peepshow, etc. (the latter two imported by Mrs. C. M. Lunt). Those imported Collies with others imported in other years together with the best American bred dogs, give the fancy on this side the Atlantic, the winning hand in any competition now open to the world. Ch. Parbold President and Ch. Parbold Peepshow won at New York last February. Just you watch the Lady of Alstead (Mrs. Lunt) make history repeat itself at our coming New York Show in February, her Alstead Aeroplane, a 14 months puppy (reserve winners at Boston) will want close watching—go to it Mrs. Lunt, we Canadians wish you every success. Ch. Knocklayde King Hector, although admittedly a dog of great merit, somehow it don't appear in any of our show reports. Dr. Bennett's Collies keep consistently ahead in competition, but are often beaten by puppies by the Doctor's stud dogs. No doubt at all about friend Bennett being a busy man, and we notice from last issue of Field and Fancy that he will judge Collies at Madison Square. Let us hope the entry will justify his selection. Mr. Laudsee's Seedley Sultan, Joe Burrell's Knocklayde King Ned, Miss Bullock's Knocklayde King Stam, Mrs. McCurdy's Ch. Seedley Sterling, Dr. Bennett's Tazewell Tantalizer, Pat Tully's Alstead Altus, J. Leighton's Howgill Teador, Mr. Gallatius Ch. Billesby Barbara, etc., etc. May all be safely accepted as outstanding Collies in America to-day, and it neither takes a prophet, nor yet the son of a prophet to declare to the dog world that the aristocrat of all Dogdom, I mean the beautiful Collie is coming more into favor every day. Let us try by all fair means within our reach and means to do our rightful share in raising his prestige still higher yet, by choosing our best females only for the reproduction process. Much may be accomplished in the right direction.

Before concluding let me say that all the dogs mentioned are for the most part from memory and are not to be considered as my placing. Any one who has been left out need not consider it any reflection on his or her dogs, it being simply a review of outstanding dogs as they occurred to the writer whilst penning those rambling notes. One dog that really should have been mentioned first, is our own Ch. Parbold Picaroon, the property of our own gallant soldier boy, Dr. C. Y. Ford, and the charge of our own Dr. John Webster, of Hamilton.

"Dogs may come, and dogs may go, But—quite evidently—Picaroon goes on forever."

He still retains all his great wealth of coat, his Anfield Model expression. But above all, at least, to Dr. Webster, magnificent companionship.

SHORT BARKS.

Two male King Charles puppies bred by A. J. Lewis, of Gray Creek, B.C., took quite a trip recently, one going to Mr. Bronson, of Endicott, N.Y., and the other to Mrs. Thomas, of Columbus, Ohio. Both puppies reached their destination in nice condition, and the purchasers were highly pleased with them. Mr. Lewis has orders for two more which will be shipped to the States before this item goes to press.

Mr. Robert Laskey, of St. John, N.B., reports a litter of six Wire-haired Fox Terriers by Drumclaph Darkie out of Hardtack.

Mr. Doyle has bred a good bitch by Walnut Regalia to Drumclaph Darkie.

Mr. McMillan has bred a Broadway Cackler bitch to Drumclaph Darkie.

No less than sixteen Airedales have been sold from the Walnut Kennels since Jan. 1st, 1917.

Mr. Dan Lyn reports a litter of ten by the Airedale Walnut Directum.

Mr. A. Lester, of Toronto, has purchased from Mr. Sam Bamford, the well known smooth Fox Terrier The Colonel, also the Irish Terrier Quarrywood Buster.

Mr. Morgan reports a litter of six Airedales by Wanut Directum.

Mr. Sam Bamford, of Lambton Mills, Ont., reports two litters of Airedales, six and seven: out of Walnut Daisy and Walnut Ivy by Walnut King Nobler.

Mr. Sam Bamford, of Lambton Mills, Ont., sold two Wire-haired Fox Terriers to Mr. Long, of Toronto, who intends going into this breed strongly.

Mr. J. F. McDonald, of St. John, N. B., has bred Patricia of York to Mrs. E. P. Tuson's Bulldog Chinook Buster Penfold.

Mrs. Tuson's Chinook Pixy Penfold, her latest importation, has been bred to Chinook Buster Penfold.

Mrs. Anita Baldwin intends coming into the limelight by showing at the Westminster Kennel Club Show at the Madison Square Gardens, in New York this coming February. It is rumoured that she is intending to exhibit 18 dogs in Airedales, English bulldogs and Old English Sheep dogs, and that Mr. J. W. Phillips and Mr. Sam Crabtree, of England, will cross the ocean for the purpose of showing the Americans "how to handle dogs."

Mr. J. D. Schaefer, of Hanover, Ont., has purchased the good Boston Terrier bitch Maxine Belle from Mr. W. A. Currie, of Toronto. At the recent Boston Terrier Specialty Show, she won the limit and open classes, also special for best heavyweight bitch.

Mr. W. H. Shortt, of London, Ont., had a 4½ months old puppy known as Short Wire by Short Circuit over at the all Terrier puppy parlor show at Hotel Addison in Detroit, where he won the Jos. Schiappacasse cup for best puppy, either sex, all breeds, under six months old.

Mrs. K. Reid, of Toronto, reports two litters of Poms. Three dogs and one bitch, all chocolate, by Sailor's Prince out of Reid's Trixie, and two dogs and four bitches by Sailor Prince out of Ruffles. Five in the latter are chocolate and one black.

KENNEL AND VETERINARY DEPARTMENT.

Questions relating to the treatment of ailing dogs MUST be addressed to the editor of "Kennel & Bench" and must reach us no later than the last mail at the end of each month, if answer is to appear in next issue. Advice to breeders in this column is free of charge.

ADVICE BY MAIL — Where an urgent reply is requested a fee of $1.50 must be enclosed with letter to the editor.

Post Mortem Examinations—

Carcases for examination MUST be sent prepaid to Dr. J. A. Campbell, 8 Edward St., Toronto. A fee of $2.00 MUST accompany the carcass in all cases, or else it will be destroyed without examination.

Questions must be brief. In every case breed, sex, age and conditions observed should be given; proper name and address must be given (not for publication), also nom de plume over which he wishes questions answered.

R. F. Toronto:

Q. My Hound dog, eight months old, has a poor appetite, has continual flow saliva from its mouth. His teeth are all right but gums and inside of the lips seem very red and inflamed.

A. Get the druggist to make up borax mouth wash and swab out the mouth three times a day. Coax the dog with anything you think he would eat.

Todmorden and Collis, Earlscourt:

Q. What treatment is required for a Beagle dog, two years old, he seems to have trouble with his head, continually shaking it and holding it sideways. He has been doing this for the past three or four months?

A. He has canker of the ear, swab out the ear with the warm boracic solution, when clean, dust in the dry powder. Continue every second day until improvement, then once or twice a week.

Regina:

Q. I have an English Bull puppy, six and a half months old, that falls over on the joints of the front legs, and no desire to move. I have been told the trouble is rickets. Would you advise applying supports to the joints?

A. Your puppy has rickets, there is not much benefit to be derived from supports to the joints. Feed the pup-

The successful Bulldog Chinook Buster Penfold, born Dec. 3, 1914, Reg. E. K. C. and C. K. C., owned by Mrs. E. P. Tuson, Chinook kennels, 612-15 St., Lethbridge, Alberta.

Is a red fawn with black mask, weighing 60 lbs., excelling in head, ears, shoulders and substance with a correct pear-shaped body and light hindquarters and sure stock getter. The type and sound, he has won at the following fixtures since Feb., 1916: Orangeville—1st junior, 1st limit, 2nd openers winners. Westminster, New York—2nd junior. Philadelphia—2nd limit, 1st open. Winnipeg—1st junior, 1st limit, 2nd open res. winners. Oakville—1st junior, 2nd limit, 3rd open. Mineota, Long Island, N.Y.—2nd junior, 2nd limit, 2nd open. Calgary Kennel Club—1st limit, 1st open winners. Pony Variety, Edmonton—1st limit, 2nd open res. winners. Calgary Exhibition—1st limit, 1st open winners, 1st any variety, also best in show any breed. Albany, N.Y.—2nd limit. Boston, Mass.—2nd limit, 2nd open, a record his sporting owner can be proud of, as the wins have been made at the largest fixtures and amongst the best bulldogs in the world. A few matrons kept are Ch. Chinook Tenacity, known the world over, Chinook Velocity Chinook, Ubetcha Chinook, Pixie Chinook, Miss Canada, all winners in the best company. Address communications and ship bitches to Sam Bamford, Walnut Kennels, Lambton Mills, near Toronto, Ont., where the dogs may be seen any time by appointment.

py on one part of raw lean beef and three parts of brown bread. Alternate with boiled meat, vegetables and bread diet. Give malt and Cod Liver Oil of Emulsion.

T.M., Oshawa:

Q. I have a Toy Poodle bitch that is subject to diarrhea with a great deal of pain. It gets better for a few days and then the trouble comes back.

A. Give a dessertspoonful of Castor Oil with five drops of laudanum. Feed on buttermilk and brown bread. If she won't take this, try boiled fresh milk and the bread. You should also use boiled rice. If the trouble persists give five grains of Bismuth Subnitrate three times a day.

Ottawa:

Q. One of my Boston bitches whelped three days before her time in an out-house during the very cold weather. She had lots of milk and took good care of the puppies, but they all died off in two days. Was the reason of their dying due to being born before their time, or the cold?

A. Puppies are frequently whelped two or three days before their time without any apparent ill effects, they must have been chilled as it is very essential that they should be kept in a warm place when first born.

Q. I have a dog under treatment by a local veterinarian for chorea following distemper. It is an English Setter, eight months old. The jerking and twitching of the muscles is in both legs and along the back, and sometimes I notice same symptoms on one of the fore legs. The dog is unable to stand up without assistance, and has a very poor appetite. Is there any hope of the dog getting better?

A. Considering your dog's age, the condition he is in and the extent the chorea symptoms are present. I consider him a hopeless case, and I would advise you to destroy him.

A.M.G., Brantford: " "

Q. Our little three pound Pom has a cough and a cold, which is sometimes very tight, causing her to make a noise like the croak of a frog

A. Give white pine tar cough syrup—dose as for a child—see that bowels move freely.

B.:

Q. I have a bitch 20 months old who had a litter of four pups last year. She came in season late in September, was mated to a reliable sire, but with no results. She is coming in season again now. Do you think there is anything wrong with her. She seems healthy and playful.

A. It is no indication that there is anything wrong with the bitch quite a large percentage miss. Now is the best time for mating.

E. M., McNeill:

Q. My bulldog bitch seems to breathe very heavily, and very short respirations. She has also a cough when out in cold and when going up and down stairs; gut, not indoors. Her heart beats very heavily. Is this bronchitis. She seems to sleep on her haunches and does not lie down. She eats fairly well and drinks a good deal of water.

A. Your bitch is suffering from asthma, resulting from heart disease. Feed two light feeds daily, see that bowels move freely. Give desertspoonful of following daily, after meals:

Tincture Digitalis, 1 drachm.
Nux Vomica, ½ drachm.
Ether Sulphuric, 4 drachms.
Simple syrup to make 6 ounces.

SHORT BARKS.

Mr. R. B. Carter, prop. of the Bell Rock Kennels, Assiniboia, Sask., is rejoicing in a litter of Boston Terriers, born Dec. 26th. This is the largest and best litter that Mr. Carter ever owned, they are all perfectly marked, dark in color and short screw tails. Mr. Carter has been a Boston Terrier fancier for eight years.

Matrons recently visiting the Malden stud dogs. Mr. Jas. F. Strachan's Ormsby Venus to Ch. Dusky Bounce, same owner's Lady Ormuir also to Bounce. Mr. F. Leonard's Sylvan Result bitch to Bounce. Mr. F. A. B. Wilson, a Northern Regalia bitch, to Collamore of Malden. Mr. Jas. F. Strachan's new Wireboy of Paigntor Matford Vic bitch to Collamore of Malden.

Ch. Dusky Bounce was considered best dog in show all breeds by Messrs. Paul Hamer, A. C. A. Chisholm and Jack A. Almon, the adjudicators for unclassified specials at the recent show Dec. 20 and 21 held by the M. K. Association.

Wireboy of Malden, the winning puppy at New York City, won for best novice or puppy in show at the same show. Wiremaid of Malden was 2nd in open and res. winners bitches. Wireman of Malden won 1st and special, and went from puppy to res. winners. The winning puppy and novice bitch was owned by Mr. A. B. Strachan, and her dam is out of Virgiedot of Malden by Ch. Hawes Broom.

Mrs. Calverley, of Oakville, reports a very promising litter of 4 females by Ch. Dusky Bounce.

Mr. Jas. F. Strachan of Montreal reports a litter of 5, all dogs, and all doing well by Bounce, out of the Ch. Hawes Broom. Raby Superb is the bitch he purchased from Messrs. Aitken and Silver.

Virgiedot of Malden presented her owner with a litter of five, 4 males and 1 female, all doing well. These are sired by Ch. Dusky Bounce, and should make things hum one of these days.

Mr. W. A. Twigg, of Kingston, Ont., has sold five Cocker puppies by Ch. Romeo, also a pair of red Cockers shown at Toronto and Montreal to a kennel in Syracuse, N.Y.; also a Black and White Cocker by Ch. Romeo to Mr. W. Dery, Norfolk, Va.

Mr. W. H. Shortt, of London, has sold the Wire Terrier bitch puppy Molly Circuit to Mr. O. A. Shaw McKean, of Boston, at a record price. This bitch was a winner at the recent Boston and Albany shows.

Lady Madge, lovely little Blenheim bitch owned by Mrs. Kennedy, Calgary, Alta., presented her with three noseless puppies for Christmas. They were sired by Ch. Celamo Daydream, Rochester, N.Y., and show the splendid heads characteristic of the Celamo kennels. The smallest weighed four ounces at birth, the largest six. They are strong and healthy, and look good.

We notice that the Westminster Kennel Club added an additional feature in that they provided a class for a Canadian owned variety class open dogs and bitches of any breed, owned in the Dominion of Canada, the prizes for which are $15 for 1st; $10 for 2nd; $5 for 3rd and $3 for 4th. The Smooth Collie classes were also divided by sex, and were given separate classes.

Mr. H. G. Frame, of South Porcupine, writes us a very interesting letter, in which he states that Mr. Cecil A. Culbert, also of South Porcupine, has a few very good collie pups, which should make some of the dogs down here step lively, when he gets ready to "turn 'em loose." Personally he is interested in Airedales, which he states is known by all to be the homeliest dog in the world, with more sense than a lot of men. While still a novice at the game, he claims to have as good a foundation as will be found anywhere. His brood bitch is Almonte Kitty, a daughter of Ch. Tintern Tip Top, who has just been bred to Mr. Fred J. Blake's Clonmel Master Crack. His belief is that Canada is the greatest country in the world for raising Airedales, as we have miles of woods, and lots of country with bear, deer, moose, duck, geese and smaller game, short ideal summers, and cold hard winters as a rule. The Airedales in his part of the country are being used for sleigh dogs and hunters.

VARIETY TOY KENNELS

Mrs. H. E. Short, St. Thomas, Ont., breeder and importer of quality dogs in Poodles, Miniature, black and white Pekingese, Pomeranians all colors, Maltese Terriers, Japanese Spaniels. The stud dogs she keeps in these breeds are all imported.

She has been breeding and shipping dogs for the past 28 years. At present she has 75 tiny dogs, being the largest collection of toys in this country. Her Maltese Terriers are sired by Major Mineris of Brixton. This grand little dog sired many winners in Europe before coming to Canada. He is the only stud in Canada or the United States or Europe, that has a coat fourteen inches long at the weight of six pounds. Maltese breeders would do well to use him, as he sires large litters. Little Man (3 lbs.), Country Gentlemen (4 lbs.), The Little Wonder (4 lbs. 2 oz.), are a few of the noted stud dogs he has produced. His pedigree contains the blood of Lord Mineris and Major Mite on his dam's side. Mrs. Short has shipped during the past year one dog and one bitch to the Fretona Kennels, Seattle, Wash.; one to the Studebaker Kennels, New Rochelle, N.Y.; one dog and one bitch to the Melita Kennels of Seattle, Wash. American fanciers know where to get this strain. Mrs. Short can usually supply your wants in Toys. Write her direct. Bank reference, Royal and Imperial, St. Thomas.

IDLE HOUR KENNELS

DALHOUSIE, N.B.

This small but select Kennel is always with us, north or south, east or west, where'er the Show may be; and with successful results. They are in a class by themselves both for show and for man-trailing.

Although the Bloodhound breed is rare and not given the attention it should receive, Mr. Wallace M. Sheehan has been doing his utmost to awaken the interest of English Bloodhound fanciers.

We have not met him, but working on that knowledge we can say that he must be an enthusiastic sport from the ground up. Had it not been for him, Bloodhounds would have been as dead as the proverbial door nail with us in Canada, and the breed owe him a hearty vote of thanks for keeping it alive. Nearly every Show has been helped by Sheehan's Bloodhounds.

Miss Gamille J. LaViolette

36 Sherbrooke St. W. - Montreal, Que.

These dogs were just imported in September, 1916, and are all by renowned English winners and all registered at the Kennel Club, England, for many generations, 46 full champions in three generations. Miss LaViolette is a very enthusiastic Pekingese breeder, and we are glad to have her with us. The Pekingese Spaniel is greatly admired in Canada, their popularity at the shows proves this.

Mr. NORMAN K. SWIRE

AND HIS

Smooth Collies

We don't know of any kennel who foster a variety still in the infancy of popularity who require as little an introduction as the one under notice.

It is about a year ago since Mr. Swire imported his brace, "Champion Canute Treasure" and "Canute Artful," and in the ensuing period hardly a week has passed without one or the brace distinguishing themselves on the show bench either in Canada or U. S.

"Champion Canute Treasure" in England was a specimen to conjure with, for did she not lift the Blue Ribbon of Collie-dom, viz., the 50 guinea cup for best in show at the Collie Club Show at London, in addition over 100 first prizes and seven championships fell to her lot. On this side Treasure has won special best Collie in show at London. Judge, Dr. Jarrett, special for best Collie in show, St. Johns, N.B. Judge, Geo. S. Thomas, special for best Collie in show. Blue Cross Show, Judge, Frank A. Metcalfe. Best brace with "Canute Artful", Toronto Exhibition. Judge, Dr. De Mund in addition 1st prizes Westminster Kennel Club and N. Y. and Mineola in variety competition, competing against roughs she has figured prominently at Albany, Boston, Detroit and many American fixtures.

"Canute Artful" was shown only twice in England lifting seven prizes. Size, quality, length of head perfect, eyes, ears and coat this dog excels in.

In Canada he has won 1st and winners, Toronto Exhibitions. Special for 2nd best Collie in show, London. Special for best dog either coat, also one of the winning brace Blue Cross Show.

The young stock (now 9 months old) running around from this pair also points to their producing qualities in no uncertain manner. In Melandra Canadian we have without doubt one of the best home breds ever. Wonderful size, quality, soundness and colour, we venture to say his head, eyes and ears have never been approached. As showing his owner's faith in him, he will make his debut at New York not only in his breed classes, but will also "take a fling" in the variety classes.

"Melandra Sailor," another brother, possessing the size and substance desirable, but losing nothing of the family quality, viz., head, ears and general finish.

MR. JAS. F. STRACHAN'S WIRE FOX KENNELS

Mr. Jas. F. Strachan, of Montreal, has the nucleus of a fine kennel of wires, and with ordinary luck should have some classy young stock for the fall shows. "Collarmore of Malden" is at the head of the kennel. He is a heavily marked dog with a tan head and has the true Terrier expression, small, well placed ears, a nicely made body, well carried stern and moves like a hackney. His pedigree given below contains the names of many of the best dogs of all time. And if breeding counts for anything should do his share of the production of future winners.

"Lady Ormwire" is by "Donington Resurrection" out of "Virgiedot of Malden." She made her debut under Joe Perkins at the M. T. Club show last May where she acquitted herself with honor. She is now bred to Ch. Dusky Bounce and her owner is looking forward to the result of this mating with great expectations.

"Ormsby Venus" is by Ch. Hawes Broom out of Raby Superb. She is now nursing a litter of five promising dog puppies by Ch. Dusky Bounce. They are a very even lot and it would not surprise their owner if he should develop a flyer from among them.

"Ormsby Vic" is by Ch. Wireboy of Paignton out of Ch. Matford Vic. She inherits coat from both sides and is brimful of Terrier quality, bearing a marked resemblance to her noted dam. She is on the small side for show purposes, and has been mated to "Collarmore of Malden," and her progeny on their breeding should have a great future before them. Mr. Strachan's dogs will be shown under the prefix of "Ormsby" in future.

DR. CAMEO Jr.

A.K.C. 209767

C.K.C. 17353

He is a rich dark brindle, perfect white markings, has a strong head, a short square muzzle, two inch tail, large well placed eyes with the true Boston expression.

He is a strong, young and vigorous dog, not having been used at stud until 18 months old.

To ensure strong healthy pups, his services will be limited to approved bitches only.

With his strong blood lines, strong head, short square muzzle, short tail and perfect markings he should make the ideal stud dog.

MALDEN FOX TERRIER KENNELS

The Malden Kennel of Wire-Haired Fox Terriers made their bow to the fancy this past year, and the manner in which the inmates have asserted themselves at our shows seems to prove that the breeding and buying are conducted along the right lines. The owner, Mr. Alf. Lepine, of Montreal, has been an exhibitor of Wires on a small scale for a number of years, and in 1915 decided to form the nucleus of a larger kennel.

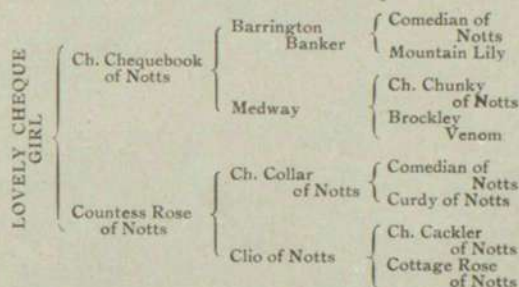

His brood and show bitch "Virgiedot of Malden" was mated to Wireboy of Paignton, and the result was the winning dog puppy at New York, and the second bitch puppy at the same show. The other litter brother made his debut at the Montreal Show, Dec. 20-21. While waiting for the young stock to mature Mr. Lepine decided to import a young dog that could do some winning in the meantime, and purchased "Cracker of Notts" (a promising youngster from the kennels of her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle) that had scored in some of the best English shows). Unfortunately he died before shipment and Mr. Lepine decided to replace him with "Dusky Bounce" from the kennels of Mr. Francis Redmond. "Bounce" arrived in Canada safely, and in good condition, and eight days after he made his debut at the Can. Nat. Ex., Toronto, in Sept., 1916. He won in his classes, secured winners dogs and numerous specials, including the Redmond Challenge Cup medal for best Fox Terrier either coat or sex under 17 lbs. This was the first time for several years that a Canadian owned Fox Terrier had topped the Ex. Show. Since then "Bounce" has been at eight shows across the border and in Canada, finishing his Canadian championship at the Blue Cross Show, Toronto, in October. "Bounce" is now retired to the stud to make way for the home-breds, and should make as good a reputation for himself as a sire as he has on the bench, his breeding being of the very best, being by "Cromwell Bantams Double" (sold to the Vickery Kennels for a large figure) out of "Oleliffe Becky", the dam of "Oleliffe Supreme", and many more good ones.

DUSKY BOUNCE

"Lovely Cheque Girl" of Malden is an all Notts bred bitch, her pedigree given below is a study, being by Chequebook of Notts out of a Ch. Collar of Notts bitch. She is a nice size, has the Notts coat and front, the best of Terrier eye, very short in back, lovely neck, and wonderful depth of brisket. Before shipment she was bred to the well known show and stud dog "Bishops Selected", owned by Major Hoskins, the results of this mating was three females, and they are coming along nicely and look like setting a high standard at future shows.

PEDIGREE OF "LOVELY CHEQUE GIRL"

"Virgiedot of Malden" has all white body and black and tan ears, she excels in coat, smallness and carriage of ears, has tremendous bone the best of front, wonderful small well placed dark eyes full of Terrier fire, and she is game and very assertive, and when in the ring it is never necessary to hold up her tail as she is quite capable of attending to that herself. She is the dam of many good ones and has plenty of honors in the show ring to her own credit, she is now nursing a litter of five very promising puppies by Ch. Dusky Bounce which will undoubtedly be heard from in the future, barring accidents.

"Wireboy of Malden" is by Ch. Wireboy of Paignton out of Virgiedot of Malden. Her inherits his sound jacket, gameness, keen terrier eyes, small ears, and tremendous substance from both his parents, but in head, neck and front and general appearance he shows a marked resemblance to this illustrious sire, and when he gets the body furnishing he needs which will undoubtedly come in time he will trouble the very best. He already has annexed premier honors under no less an authority than Mr. Theo. Offerman, and assuredly has a great future before him.

"Wireman of Malden" is a live one and hot stuff to handle, both in and out of the show ring, he is a white bodied dog with black and tan ears, is exceptionally short in back, has tremendous substance. Legs and feet like a Foxhound, his foreface is eight inches in circumference by actual measurement. His coat is all wire, and he is practically a non-trimmer. His first time out went from puppy to res. winners. We understand this dog is for sale, and his breeding will no doubt appeal to discriminating fanciers.

"Soubrette of Malden" is a half sister to Virgiedot of Malden. Her sire combines the blood of Chs. West Point Result and Southboro Salex. She had quite a successful show career as a puppy but was unfortunately too large for show when fully matured. She has a wonderful head, and shows quality all through, and is now heavy in whelp to Ch. Dusky Bounce, and he should correct the size in the progeny.

This concludes the review of the Malden Kennels as "Collamore of Malden" has been purchased by Mr. Jas. F. Strachan.

Wish To Announce

The following splendid AIREDALE TERRIERS AT STUD

POWDER PLOT (Just imported from England)

Sire: Sowerby Oorang, he by Ch. Crompton Oorang. Dam: Nell, she by Ch. Illuminator.

Powder Plot is one of the best bred dogs in the world to-day, and has proved himself the champion sire of the breed, by producing that sensational winning champion, Ch. York Ryburn Swell, the dog that has defeated all the best dogs of the breed he has met. Powder Plot is the sire of Whitebirk Tyrant, York Sunshine, and many other winners on both sides of the Atlantic, and is making such a name as a sire. His stock is always in great demand. His fee for the present will be $25.00.

TINTERN HIGH EXPLOSIVE

Sire, Havelock Nyppe, a son of Tintern Desire. He was imported last year, after a most successful career in the puppy classes in England, and is making good in the stud with a vengeance, having two winners out of his first bitch, they being Claycliff Cricket, who has won eight first prizes in four shows this fall, and her sister, Claycliff Trinket, who was only shown at one show, where she took four seconds to her sister; then from his second bitch came ten of the soundest and best puppies one would wish to see, one a powerful big puppy, going 47 pounds at seven months, and winning second puppy and third junior at Toronto, second in puppy and novice at London, and first puppy at Montreal, and many others in same litter that will give a good account of themselves when opportunity offers. Tintern High Explosive looks at you with a pair of small blackeyes that are correctly placed, nice ears, well carried, a correct front, lots of bone and good feet, good coat, and A1 color, and a Terrier every inch, weighing 48 to 50 lbs. His fee is $15.00.

The sensational young Airedale "MORNING ADMIRATION"

Airedale fanciers wishing to breed winners cannot do better than give him a trial; his breeding is of the best, being by the great international champion, "King Oorang," out of "Morning Sunbeam," she out of probably the greatest winner producer in America to-day. Admiration's success at all the leading shows in America, under judges of world-wide reputation, such as Messrs. Geo. Thomas, Wolcott, Spring, DeMund and Ober, make him without a doubt the best Airedale ever bred in Canada. His latest success at the Westminster Kennel Club Show, New York, was 2nd limit, 3rd open, and special for best dog or bitch bred by exhibitor, beating, among others, the great "Patrick Oorang," also Canada's latest importation, "Polam Maxim." At Toronto Kennel Club Show he won 1st Canadian-bred, 1st limit, 2nd open, two specials, and with his kennel companion got special for best brace, beating the imported brace, "Nobbler's Double" and "Sunshine." Another success was his son, "Morning Recruit" at eight months old, shown at Oakville, where he won 1st puppy, special best Canadian-bred dog or bitch, special best bred by exhibitor.

BULLDOGS

DUNDEE REX E.K.C.S.B. 1960
48 lbs., Fee $10.00

ENGLISH BULLDOG (recently imported)

DUNDEE REX winning 1st puppy only time shown, is one of England's best youngsters, was whelped 24th August, 1915, sired by that famous dog Kilburn Regal, dam, a Flagstone and Lord Hesketh bred bitch. (Note)—"Well over $5,000 worth of Kilburn Regal stock just out, one of which sold for $2,500." Dundee Rex weight 48 lbs. is a dark red brindle with white markings, a massive fellow and I don't fear to say the lowest shortest legged dog his weight, he is a little cart-horse. In bone, lowness to ground, width of front, depth of brisket, and shortness of body, he is his grandfather Carslake Rex over again, very big skull, tiny little rose ears, deep short fore face, broad well turned up underjaw, very small crank tail, his skull a mass of wrinkles is 19 inches, ribs 29 inches, forearm 7 3/4 inches. "Our Dogs" Christmas number says of him "Dundee Rex by Kilburn Regal ex a Flagstone and Lord Hesketh bred bitch, fifteen months, a lovely cloddy brindle, with huge bone and substance difficult to fault and a proved stockgetter." Since his arrival December 24th, 1916, he has served a bitch for Mr. A. C. Levey of Clinton, and for Mr. Clare of London, and is booked for six more. Send for stud card and spend five minutes studying his breeding, he is a wonderful bred dog. During the year 1917 his fee will be $10. Puppies guaranteed. Photo and stud cards.

ELLISON KING E.K.C.S.B. 177683
C.K.S.B. 16840
(Weight 54 lbs.)

IMPORTED BULLDOG

This wonderful son of Knight Central has a remarkable pedigree, as it contains the blood of the famous Stone dogs, Buckstone and Ch. Royal Stone combined with that of Ch. Prince Albert and Clansman.

Ellison King is a rich dark brindle. One of the best fronted dogs living, immense bone and substance, big, flat skull, very short, extra well broken up foreface, perfect rose ears, and correct tail. He is siring wonderful puppies; he is sound, and a sure stockgetter. His English record of 16 firsts, 3 times best in show, speaks for itself. Photo and stud cards. Fee $15.00.
