SPECIAL NOTICE

A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Dec. 19th, at the offices of the club, 774½ Yonge St., Toronto, at 8 p.m.

The Annual Meeting for the Election of Officers will take place during the week commencing Feb. 4th, 1918.

Notice

In writing your advertisements or other articles for publication in Kennel and Bench, do not abbreviate or omit words. Write all names plainly and correctly, so there will be no chance for errors.

Show secretaries are requested to notify us of appointments and dates for all shows to be held by them. All items of interest, such as matches, meetings of kennel or specialty clubs, will be welcomed and given due publicity. In short, we want this paper to be of every assistance to the fancy in as wide a sphere as possible. All matter intended for publication should be written on one side of the paper only and must be accompanied by the writer's name and address, not necessarily Nominations for Officers are now open and will be accepted until the evening of Jan. 4th, 1918.

We would specially call our members' attention to the fact that nominations are now open for officers of the Canadian Kennel Club for the year 1918 and that all such nominations shall be made in writing and sent addressed to the Secretary, to be in his hands thirty days before the annual meeting. As the annual meeting will take place during the week commencing February 4th, nominations will close on the 4th of January. When nominations are closed a ballot slip showing nomination for officers and Board of system will again be adopted in the coming election at the annual meeting in February. Each member will receive two envelopes; one is that for the ballot only, the other a return envelope, addressed to the Club. At the bottom of the latter envelope there will be found a space to fill in your full name and address. These can then be checked by the scrutineers with the list of members paid up for the year 1918, which will make certain that no member is voting that has not paid his membership fee

COMING EVENTS

Our readers will be pleased to hear that we are making our February issue into a Special Illustrated Number. We make this advance announcement so as to give all the fanciers an opportunity to obtain good pictures of their dogs, kennels and themselves in order that good half-tones might be made from them.

A determined demand has been made for this Supplement by those who have taken advantage of our previous efforts, as they have enjoyed a standing advertisement as the result.

The style and type of last year's issue will be closely followed and will be profusely illustrated on the best possible paper. The reading matter will be descriptive of the dogs and their kennels and will not resemble straight advertising in any way.

Don't put off until to-morrow what can be done to-day, for to-morrow may be a dull day and you will be unable to have that picture of your dog taken to advantage. Remember, this Supplement is prepared for the benefit of the fancy and YOU! Let the fanciers know who you are. It will do you good, as this number will be preserved in all homes to which it will be sent, and the cost is but a trifle. The Supplement will be sold at the regular price, 10 cents a copy, and hundreds of sample copies will be sent to fanciers all over the world, hence its great value to make yourself and your kennels known to all.

Let us hear from you at an early date and give us the privilege of introducing you to the fancy.

PREFIXES CLAIMED

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada are making elaborate preparations for their 10th annual specialty show, which will be held as usual on New Years Day. The officers and members are confident of making this the best ever. A large number of specials have been donated.

Real money, silver cups and numerous other trophies and prizes will be put up for competition. These will be spread over the classes and placed so as to give every dog a chance to win a prize. The ribbons alone are well worth competing for.

The show this year will be held at the Labor Temple, Church and Shuter Sts., which is about the most suitable place to be found anywhere. Mr. John Deitschler will officiate as judge. Mr. Deitschler, whose home is in Buffalo, N.Y., is so well known as an exhibitor and judge that it is not necessary to dwell on his qualifications.

Non-members are assured of the same treatment as members. All Boston Terrier fanciers should unite to encourage this popular fixture.

The Bulldog Breeders' Association of Canada will hold three evening shows this winter. First, on December 12th, in Broadway Hall, Spadina Ave., at 8 o'clock, for dogs only. Classes, Puppy Novice, Canadian Breed, Open and Imported dogs (champions barred). There will be a special for all classes. On the second Wednesday in January it will be for bitches only, with the same classification. On the second Wednesday in February it will be for dogs and bitches with the same classification, with the President's Cup for the best dog or bitch in the show.

The Ontario Collie Club have completed their arrangements for a series of evening shows. The first of these will take place in the Broadway Hall, Toronto, about the 12th of December. A liberal classification has been arranged and a friendly contest between the East and West will be the tit-bit of the evening. Any particulars regarding the event may be obtained from the Secretary, Mr. Frank A. Metcalfe, 149 Adelaide St. W., Toronto.

CLUB NEWS.

The Montreal Kennel Association held a very enjoyable Smoking Concert in their club room on Nov. 9th. There was a large gathering of fanciers present and everyone enjoyed themselves in a pleasant and social manner. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the graphic and entertaining description of how the Montreal boys conducted their first show over 30 years ago. The present club are alive to the requirements of the fancy and are staging two evening shows on Dec. 13th and 14th. Special will be provided for all breeds and the management have arranged for the care of "out of town" exhibitors' dogs who want to stay for both events.

The London fanciers are contemplating holding a show on Dec. 27th and 28th. The committee are now busy getting things "under way," and everything points to another successful venture.

The Toronto Kennel Club have decided to hold a series of evening shows during the winter months. Each of these events will be open to all breeds. Specials will be provided for all varieties, and competent judges will officiate. The first of the series will take place in the Broadway Hall on Dec. 18th.

We hear that a Ladies' Kennel Club is being organized in Montreal, no doubt with the idea of giving more prominence to the Toys. This should be a flourishing society, and we wish them every success.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Whippet Association was held on Nov. 6th. The election of the new officers were as follows:—Honorary President, Joseph Russell, M.P.; President, George White; Vice-Presidents, J. Lester, John G. Kent, J. Lowden, jr., John Wanless, John McCaffrey, W. A. Hewitt, P. G. Mulqueen, J. A. Murphy, Lou Marsh; Sec.-Treas., A. Lowenstein.

A committee has been selected as per the following:—J. King, A. Lake, F. Gr—iffith, A. Lowenstein, T. Laidlaw, J. Lord, S. Grimshaw. Official Starters, John McGarry, Fred Smith. Referee and Judge, T. O'Rourke, T. Flanagan. Veterinary Surgeon, Dr. J. A. Campbell.

The Toronto Whippet Association will hold a series of Whippet races during the next season, and is open to receive dates of sports in Toronto and out of town events where Whippet races could be held in connection with such sports; also attraction committees of the various fairs in Ontario would do well to get in touch with the Secretary of this Association, who no doubt can produce big attractions in the exhibition of racing Whippets.

The newly formed organization, The English Bulldog Club' whose headquarters are in Montreal, are a real live bunch. Numerous trophies have been donated, meetings are well attended and there is activity on all sides. The officers elected for the year 1917 are as follows:—President, Mr. P. B. Francis; Vice-President, Mr. W. Ogden; Secretary, Mr. T. Rowley; Executive Committee, Messrs. Ferguson, Villeneuve, Sheehan, Smelthurst and S. Alman; Hon. Vet., Dr. J. H. Villeneuve.

CORRECTIONS.

In the review of Poms. in our October issue open dogs (under 8 lbs.) should have read: 1st, Mrs. Almond's Almond's Jock; 2nd, T. W. Grant's Dick Turpin; also Mrs. Walker won the Pom. Club special for best kennel of four, the special offered by the C. N. E. for the best kennel of four being won by Mrs. Wylie.

On page 12 of our November issue, Boston Terriers, open dogs (22 to 27 lbs.), should read: 1st, J. Almon's Auburn Burley; 2nd, J. A. Davis, Cliffside Nobby; 3rd, W. Barnes, Oxonian Jack.

NOTICE.

We wish to call the attention of the fanciers that all registrations, transfers, duplicate certificates, copies of pedigrees, registration of litters; prefix, affix and kennel names, annual renewal of the last three named, and membership fees, should be sent direct to Ottawa, thus saving delay as they have to be forwarded by Toronto Office. Remember that when writing to Live Stock Record Department, no postage is needed not even for registered matter.

In writing your advertisements or other articles for publication in Kennel and Bench, do not abbreviate or omit words. Write all names plainly and correctly, so there will be no chance for errors.

DISTEMPER AND ITS MANY PHASES

By J. A. CAMPBELL, V.S.

In the treatment of a dog suffering from distemper three important features are to be considered, all of which assist materially in aiding an affected animal to make a good recovery. They are hygienic, dietetic and medicinal. Each has an important bearing on the outcome and if any be neglected or overlooked the chances of a dog overcoming the disease are hampered to a more or less extent.

The first step to be taken is to place the patient in hygienic surroundings, an isolated kennel should be provided that will allow ample space for the sick dog to move around, have plenty of pure air and light, without the danger of coming in contact with draughts and not too small to prevent the dog from soiling its bedding when the bowels or bladder are emptied. A small sized vacant room makes an ideal hospital for distemper cases. It is very important that an affected dog should not be allowed too much freedom, as exercise is very often injurious. Some of our patients are apt to forget their sickness very readily, particularly at the beginning of an attack or after they commence to get better. When shut up by themselves they become excited on being disturbed and run about, bark or whine. Rest and quietude are absolutely necessary in distemper, which is usually accompanied by considerable fever, and any excitement is sure to be followed by harmful results. There is always great danger of the nervous system becoming affected as it is very sensitive in this particular disease. Besides, when a sick dog is moving about too much the ever-present cough becomes more pronounced, which adds considerably to the animals discomfort, and does a great deal of injury to the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

The temperature of the room in cold weather should be kept between 60 and 65 degrees, not by stopping all means of ventilation, but with the assistance of artificial heat—hot water or electrical heating are by far the best means to use. There are two places to avoid keeping distemper dogs, and they are the cellar and under the kitchen stove.

The floor needs to be covered with sawdust to soak up any discharges, and to keep things dry and clean; any evacuations must be gathered up as soon as possible; if allowed to remain they tend to foul the air. A suitable box raised about six inches off the ground, with no top and well filled with straw makes the best sleeping quarters.

It is a very good precaution when the weather is cold to put a jacket on dogs, particularly the short-coated breeds, at the first indication of the disease; by keeping the chest and neck warm, lung complications are often guarded against. For the very small breeds an excellent coat may be made from a woollen sock cut down to fit, with two holes made for the fore legs and pulled over the head. With larger breeds coats must be made to fit over the lower part of neck and chest as far back on the body as just past the last rib—with dog patients it is necessary to see that the covering does not go too far back, as it may easily become soiled with urine. It is necessary to examine the coat twice a day to see that it is fitting properly and not in any way irritating or chafing the skin.

A DOG FANCIER'S POETIC TRIBUTE.

The poetic tendency is not very marked in dog fanciers as a general rule in this country, so it is worthy of remark that America has given a lead, for at the banquet of the Boston Terrier Club, Dr. Snow responded to the toast of "The Boston Terrier" in verse. As the sentiments apply equally well to a caninepal of any other breed we quote them:—

We talk to him when we're lonesome like,

And I'm sure he understands,
When he looks at us so attentively,
And gently licks our hands.
Then he rubs his nose on our tailored clothes,

But we never say aught thereat,
For the good Lord knows we can buy mode clothes

But never a friend like that.
So our good old pal, our ergular dog,
Our evenly-marked short-tailed friend
Has become a part of our very heart,
To be cherished to lifetime's end.

And if on judgment day we take the way

That leads where the righteous meet,
If our dog is barred by the heavenly guard,

We'll both of us brave the heat.

Our Recent Shows

NEW BRUNSWICK, ST. JOHN.

The New Brunswick Kennel Club held their ninth annual bench show in the St. Andrew's Rink, St. John, on Oct. 10th, 11th and 12th. The show was held under the auspices of the Loyalist Chapter I. O. D. E., and as all the proceeds were on behalf of patriotic purposes, a willing bunch of workers were on hand to give their services for the worthy cause. A more enthusiastic band of officials it would be hard to find and there is little wonder that so much harmony and enterprise prevailed amongst them with such a chairman as L. B. Wilson, who is known to one and all. W. C. McKay as Secretary is the right man in the right place, and carried out his duties in a masterly manner, every detail being carefully carried out. Amongst the others who played their part in bringing about this successful venture we noticed C. Conway, H. M. Jones, G. Gray, J. V. McLellan, R. B. Laskey, J. J. McGaffrey, B. A. Smith, F. Kerr and R. Magee.

The building in which the show was held is an ideal one for the occasion, being fitted up with all modern conveniences, and the crowds of people who visited the show was ample proof that dog shows are a popular attraction in the Maritime Provinces.

The committee made a wise choice in selecting Mr. Alf. Delmont as judge, his awards being well received, a state of affairs that once more emphasizes the importance of engaging competent men who know their business. The quantity and quality of the exhibits were superior to anything ever seen in New Brunswick. The local celebrities were there in full force, along with a nice string from Montreal under the capable care of H. T. Armistead. Toronto also sent up a small but select group with Bert Swann. The best represented breeds were Cockers, Setters, Airedales, Boston Terriers and Wire Haired Fox Terriers. Following is a list of the awards:—

Oakville Kennel Club

The above Club held their third annual bench show in the Trafalgar Hall, Oakville, on November 14th and 15th. Considering the time they had at their disposal, the management carried out this event in a very satisfactory manner. Everything was well arranged and the proceedings went off in clock-like order. Secretary Wilson and his small but energetic bunch of officials certainly know how to run a show, and their efforts were deserving of a better response from the exhibitors. No doubt the suddenness in which the show was sprung on the fanciers had much to do with the lack of entries. However, if the numbers was not up expectation, the quality was there. Seldom have we seen a small show with such canine talent in evidence.

The judges for this event were J. A. Meadows, Esq., Boston Terriers, and Dr. G. G. Anderson, of New York, the remainder. The former is our well known authority on the breed, and his placings are always well received. The latter is by no means a stranger amongst us and whatever his decisions are in the ring may be counted on as being honest, conscientious and fearless. He was most painstaking in his work and examined every dog carefully before handing out the awards which when given are satisfactory to all. We heard no quibbling or kicking, one and all being satisfied that they had received a square deal.

Both the judges promised to give us a criticism of the dogs they adjudicated, but up to going to press have not received same. We hope, however, to publish them in our next issue.

REVIEW OF THE COLLIES AT THE C. N. E.

Being asked for a report on the Collie section of the dog show at our last Canadian National Exhibition, I surrender entirely on the understanding that my remarks voice my own impressions, nothing more. Presumption would be so glaringly apparent were my remarks intended as a criticism on the placings of our honored friend Col. Robt. McEwen, the dean of the Collie cult in Canada, and, I venture to say, the most looked-up-to, competent and straight judge of the Collie on this continent.

My own impression is that the breed is making very marked progress. At this show of about 40 Collies I saw only one really bad specimen (and this one in the absence of its owner was taken into the ring by Mr. Donald Wheeler, a little incident which struck me that Donald won't have to tell us that he is a sport for fear we should overlook the fact); the heavy ears and full, round eyes are gone, and instead of three or four goods ones, standing right out from the rest, I noticed a uniformity of the right type and character in contrast with the diversity so conspicuous not so long ago.

In conversation with the fancy I found a pretty general appreciation of the desired type and that is certainly most essential to progress. Of course we all know the season is against the Collie at his best and could hardly expect the roughs to be carrying their heavy coats. And here is where Mr. Norman Swire gets in with his grand brace of smooths, Ch. Canute, Artful and Ch. Canute Treasure, a hard pair of nuts for the roughs to crack at any time, Treasure rightly being found the best Collie in the show.

In roughs, Ch. Coltness Clinker went to winners, a well known quality dog. It will be a happy day when he puts on his great coat. Following was a new one in Buccleuch Specialist, recently imported by Mr. Wemyss, a fine large upstanding sable and white, good legs and feet, long head, strong enough, well-carried ears, out of coat.

Two good tri-colors appeared in Mr. Roberts' Buddy and Mr. Newtons Major. A lucky dog, accounting for two blue ribbons, was Colonel Sterling, shown in grand condition, has a strong skull and pricked ears.

The unlucky dog, I thought, was Weston Sunbeam, a lovely clean-headed little dog, well filled foreface, correct eye and expression, in good coat, with wrong ears, and just a dog I liked so well. I would rather say no more, or I should have to admit he appeared to move by accident.

In bitches Mr. Wichellos' Quennie went to winners, a big upstanding tri-color shown in perfect condition and coat. She has a good long, well-shaped clean head, with large ears, carried rather low, eyes could be better. Following was Leith Kind, a 9 months old puppy, with a lovely head, eyes, ears and expression, good size, dense coat of right texture, moves and shows well, a champion ere long.

Mr. Wheeler was showing a really high class bitch in Edgebasten Alice, a tri-color, carrying a tremendous coat, good all over, could be improved in eye.

Other good ones were Imera Why Zetta, and a very young tri-colored bitch Imera Impression; with fair luck this youngster will be noticed before long.

Unfortunately that grand bitch Ch. Billesley Blush, owing to a mistake made in her entry, did not compete, but she can take care of herself in the best of company.

TOYS AT LONDON SHOW

By the Judge, Mrs. W. Wylie.

I do not think it would be an exaggeration to say that never in the history of Canadian dog shows has the quality been so intensely good in the matter of Toy Dogs as in the year 1917.

The time was when one had little difficulty in placing oneself in the forefront of the prize list of most of our Canadian fixtures. To-day only the best count, and London was no exception to what one must accept as a general rule.

I venture to remark that in the quality of Poms. at this western fair we had on exhibit a number of high class miniatures which would hold their own at any fixture, either on this or the other side of the Atlantic.

In the novice class, made up of nine entries, first went to Zetland Prince, a short-bodied black, with a coat of good texture. Second went to "Orangedale Shining Beam," an orange female of good quality and type. She has a lovely head, low to ground, and only lost to the winner in her temporary loss of coat. Third, "Ula," an orange shaded female that will do well later on, being but a nine-month puppy and not yet fully furnished. Reserve, "Orange Dale Julien," one who does not make the best of himself. This is a first-class dog, but a fourth-rate shower, and if he can by good handling be made to show himself in the ring is one of the best. I should have liked to place him higher, but his lack of performance at this time would hardly suggest a perky Pom.

In limit dogs, one could not get away from Mr. McNaughton's "Defender," and now a full-fledged champion. He is a splendid little fellow, good color, short in body, an ideal shower, and when one remembers he carries also the distinction of being sire to many of the 1917 winning puppies, we are forced to conclude his quality is of the kind which runs in the blood. Second went to "Bellevue Fortune," a puppy by McNaughton's "Defender." He is a chip off the old block, and when fully matured and furnished will be one of our best. Third, "Zetland Prince," noted.

Limit bitches, "Orangedale Shining Beam," already noted, was followed by Mrs. Briggs' "Little Gem," which is a nice black. Third to "Ula."

Winners, dogs, McNaughton's "Defender." Reserve winners, dogs, "Bellevue Fortune."

Winners, bitches, "Orangedale Shining Beam." Reserve winners, bitches, "Little Gem."

In Yorkshire Terriers, the quality was up to the high-water mark. Mr. Kenyon, of Toronto, seems to have adopted this breed for special care and along with Mrs. Weldon of Galt were responsible for the placing of a number of beautiful specimens of the breed on view.

To brag a little, to show well, to crow gently if in luck; to pay up, to own up, and to shut up if beaten—these are the virtues of a real sportsman.

VETERINARY DEPARTMENT

Questions relating to the treatment of ailing dogs MUST be addressed to the editor of "Kennel & Bench" and must reach us no later than the 20th of each month, if answer is to appear in next issue. Advice to breeders in this column is free of charge.

ADVICE BY MAIL — Where an urgent reply is requested a fee of $1.50 must be enclosed with letter to the editor.

Post Mortem Examinations—

Carcases for examination MUST be sent prepaid to Dr. J. A. Campbell, 8 Edward St., Toronto. A fee of $2.00 MUST accompany the carcase in all cases, or else it will be destroyed without examination.

Questions must be brief. In every case breed, sex, age and conditions observed should be given; proper name and address must be given (not for publication), also nom de plume over which he wishes questions answered.

B. A. Codd.

A Your puppy is evidently suffering from rickets. Give him about twelve drops of chemical food three times a day in a little water, also see that he gets plenty of exercise and fresh air. Give plenty of raw meat, on a bone if possible, as the act of gnawing it often improves the digestion.

Oorang, Manitoba.

Q. I am expecting a litter of Airedales. At what age and how much should be cut off the puppies' tails?

A. Cut the tails off before the pups are a week old, leaving slightly more than a half.

H. A. R., B.C.

Q. My English Bulldog, five years old, suffers all the time with small boils between the toes of the front feet. I have lanced them several times but they come back again in a few weeks.

A. When the boils appear to be "ripe" open them up the whole length and scrape the inside with your knife until it bleeds well — wipe out the haemorrhage and cauterize the inside with a stick of nitrate of silver. Have the dog's leg held very firmly while being treated.

Victory Loan, Toronto.

A. Have them removed by a qualified surgeon. Dew claws are not a deformity, but they are a useless appendage and should be cut off close to the leg about three days after birth; if left they are a constant nuisance, either through being frequently broken, or torn off at the quick, or else turning and growing into the flesh, which causes a great deal of pain.

Fancier, Guelph.

A. Keep the dog for a time in a dark room and bath the eyes three or four times a day with the following lotion: Laudanum 1 drach, sulphate of zinc 10 grains, rose water to 6 ozs. Anoint the eyelids at night time with vaseline to prevent them sticking together.

LEST WE FORGET.

What about the old dog that has served you faithfully for years, and does his best for you still? Earned its keep over and over again for you, hasn't it? Helped you put a little by for a rainy day, perhaps? Getting crippled, and past its work now? Better see it has extra good food and care, and a specially warm corner to lie in, for old blood is cold, and runs slowly. For mercy's sake, don't sell it or give it away. If you cannot afford to be liberal about it, at the least be decent, and have it painlessly destroyed. Perhaps when you get pretty ancient and worn-out yourself, it will be a comfort to you to feel that none of the things that trusted you were ever served or ill-treated in their old age through your thoughtlessness. Make the old dog comfortable—as comfortable as you possibly can.

NOTICE.

If there are any of our readers who are still in doubt regarding the procedure of registration, we shall be pleased to explain every detail to them if they will call or write either—to this office or to the National Live Stock Records, Ottawa, where all information can be obtained.

British Columbia Notes

By W. M. COATES

The Terminal City Kennel Club Puppy Show was held Oct. 24th. This is the first of the winter parlor shows. The judges were chosen from the club members, as follows:—Mr. W. P. Anderson, of Bellingham, Washington, one of the coast's best known Setter fanciers handled all sporting classes except Terriers, and the way Billy went over his classes proved beyond a doubt he knew his breeds thoroughly, being careful and painstaking in each instance. All his awards were well received. Mrs. G. O. Alsen took all Terrier classes and had some large classes, and, in some cases, very hard classes to pick the winners, but she proved equal to the occasion and placed them right. All her awards were well received also. Mr. Percy Hickling, of Nanaimo, well known as a Pom. fancier, took all Toys and Bulldogs. Percy looked them over carefully and placed the right ones on top, with the same results as the other judges. His awards also were well received. Mr. John J. Jackson took all other breeds and judged them to the entire satisfaction of all exhibitors. The Specials were judged by all four judges.

A very pleasant event took place just before the judging started, when Mr. John J. Jackson, on behalf of the Club, after a very pleasing and witty speech, presented to Mr. Geo. H. Galvin, the Club Secretary-Treasurer, an illuminated address, and to Mrs. Galvin a beautiful cut glass berry bowl. Mr. Jackson, in well chosen words, told Mr. Galvin how highly his good work in the past had been appreciated by the Club. Secretary Galvin replied in a short speech, thanking the Club members for the address and token for Mrs. Galvin.

The parlor show proved to be one of the most successful in the history of the Club. The place proved too small. The judging ring was somewhat cramped and made it hard on the judges where the classes were large. Many out of town fanciers visited the show, among them being Secretary-Treasurer D. W. Campbell, of the Capitol City Kennel Club of Victoria, B.C., and Mr. Jack Graham, one of the directors of the Nanaimo Kennel Club. After looking over the many fine puppies shown we all can look forward to seeing some high class young stock at our spring shows in English Setters—Vancouver

Rowland 1st, dog puppy; Lady Rowland 1st, bitch puppy, and Lady Ranger 2nd, bitch puppy. This trio were greatly admired and if nothing happens them they should all be heard from at the spring shows, as they all are high class Setters.

The Wire Hair Fox Terriers also looked a high class lot, especially Point Grey Sandy. It looks as if Mr. Milner will be in the running again at the spring shows if his puppies keep on.

Pomeranians were a good class. Many fine puppies were shown, the best Toy going to Mrs. F. D. Elsted's Pom., Seaforth Kilty.

The Club will run several parlor shows during the winter.

The Collies were greatly admired. Wyndale, winner 1st, dog puppy; Wyndale Winsome, 1st junior bitch puppy, and Llewellyn, 1st senior bitch puppy, were three nice Collies, all possessing lots of quality.

Terminal City Kennel Club Parlor Show awards:—

Dogs, 6-9 months—1, Seaforth Kilty, Mrs. F. D. Elsted; 2, Lord Roberts, Mrs. L. Fraser. Bitches, 6-9 months—1, Minnie, Mrs. Brown; 2, Bonnie Lassie, Mrs. Palmer. Dogs, 9-12 months—1, Teddy, Mrs. Tate.

SPITZ—Dogs, 1, Dinty, Delly Hinchley.

JAP SPANIEL, 9-12 months—1, Hap-py, Eldon Cathcart.

BULLDOGS, Dogs, 3-6 months—1, William of Wykehan, J. Hammond; 2, Jellicoe, J. Findlay. Bitches, 3-6 months—1, Futurity, Miss Harris M., Dr. Sleeth; 2, Princess Patricia, J. Findlay; 3, Futurity Bertha Dillon, Dr. Sleeth. Bitches 6-9 months—Swansea All White, S. Dorrell, Jr.

SMOOTH FOXTERRIERS, Dogs, 3-6 months—1, Teddy, Mrs. Fitken; 2, Chick, Mrs. Phillips. Bitches, 3-6 months—1, Daisy, Jas. Ross.

BULL TERRIERS, 3-6 months, Dogs—1, Invictus, E. Halliday. Bitches, 3-6 months—1, Etionian Mayflower, E. Halliday. Bitches, 6-9 months—1, Etionian Charity, Mrs. Halliday.

BOSTONS—1, Princess Vimy, Dr. Whiaker; 2, Lady S., H. Shannon.

WIRE FOXTERRIERS, 3-6 months, Dogs—1, Point Grey Sandy, T. P. Milner; 2, Point Grey Selected, T. P. Milner; 3, Joffre, Miss K. Alexander. Bitches, 3-6 months—1, Dinah, Harry Conling.

AIREDALES, Dog, 3-6 months—1, Glenside Tiger, J. McLeod. Dogs, 6-9 months—1, B. C. Cadet, N. McConnell; 2, Rusty, J. Donaghy. Bitches, 3-6 months—1, Mildren McConnell, Miss Vanev; 2, Glenside Mona, A. McLeod; 3, Peggy, Oliver Bryson.

The first junior Collie puppies, dog and bitch, were both sired by Mr. J. Thompson's Seedly Standard, and out of Percy Hartney's bitch Craigdale Dusky. In a previous notice I made an error in stating these puppies were sired by Mr. Hartney's own dog.

Mr. J. Thompson has imported a good Collie bitch in Orman House Princess, sire Orman House Parist, ex-Parbold Peeper. She is now in whelp to Seedly Standard.

Airedales were a very large class at the parlor show.

Mrs. E. Halliday had three very nice Bull Terriers entered. One of them especially, had quality all over, and ears good enough to go through without cropping.

The English champion, Mallwyd Rowland, was the sire of Vancouver Rowland, the winning English Setter dog, and Lady Rowland, the winning bitch. These are the first puppies sired by Champion Mallwyd Rowland in Canada.

F. Archer had some nice Cockers at the parlor show.

The Elmo Cocker Kennels filled a well known drug store window with ribbons and Cocker pictures, which made a good attraction for the store while advertising certain dog remedies.

Bulldogs shown, by Dr. T. E. Sleeth, J. Findlay, S. Dorrell and J. Hammond, all showed lots of quality.

Boston Terriers were not so strong at this show as other shows. Princess Vimy, by Geo. H. Galvin's Flashy Boy, looks like a promising puppy.

Mr. Moore, owner of several high class Cocker Spaniels, has moved from Medicine Hat, Alta., to Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. F. Wilds, the well known Calgary fancier, has moved to the Coast and settled in Vancouver. He will help the Boston Terrier game along, being a keen Boston fancier.

Mr. Moore's Cockers will add greatly to the Coast Cocker interest. I have seen over fifty Cocker Spaniels benched at some of our shows, but of late the number has been reduced considerably since the olden days when the late Col. Edwin Dudley and the late Chas. Atzel, and J. W. Creighton, R. G. Gemmell, Chas. Bolton, Dr. Campbell, Dr. Garrish, Miss Milen, Mrs. J. Gall and Geo. Dyke, the veteran Club Secretary, Robert Large, A. E. Johnston, H. Leggett, and several other keen Cocker fanciers, kept the interest up to a fever heat.

The 1st Wire dog pup Point Grey Sandy, and the 1st bitch puppy Dinah, look very promising.

Mrs. Thornton Sharp's Lyncoiti Hallmark was the sire of some of the Wire puppies shown. He has proven a good stud dog.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected by the Terminal City Kennel Club:—President, W. M. Coats; Vice-President, G. Pearson; 2nd Vice-President, A. Hogg; Hon. Vet., Dr. T. E. Sleeth; Hon. Sec.-Treas., G. H. Galvin; Executive, Mrs. G. O. Alsen, Mrs. A. R. C. Littledale, Mrs. Thornton Sharp, F. Archer, H. Cowling, S. Dorrell, E. C. Gravel, P. P. Hartney, N. McConnell, N. McLeod, J. Thompson, Wally Willgress.

The officers elected for the Bulldog Club were:—President, J. J. Jackson; Vice-President, Dr. T. E. Sleeth; 2nd Vice-President, P. Hickling; Sec.-Treas., S. Dorrell.

Mr. John J. Jackson has imported Falsworth White Connt, an English Bulldog. He is a heavyweight, with lots of substance. He is low to ground and owns a good head. He arrived in grand condition. His sire is the famous Ch. Falsworth White Knight.

NO HIGHER TAXES ON DOGS IN ENGLAND.

Mr. Bonar Law officially announced in the House of Commons that the government, owing to the way in which dog owners had loyally complied with the Food Controller's requirements in the feeding of their dogs and in a reduction of their kennels, together with breeding restrictions which the Kennel Club had instituted, saw no reason for increasing the taxation of dogs. That accounts for the Board's negative answer to the Essex Committee's Prussian proposal, particularly in reference to "ladies' lap dogs."

A tax on working sheep dogs is one we have always advocated, and still thing their exemption from taxation an act of governmental partisanship.

The announcement by the Board that the question of the number of dogs in the country was under government consideration will give rise to speculation as to the precise purpose for which this matter is still in their pigeonholes. There must be a reason. It is not for purposes of taxation; is it merely statistical, or what? Whatever the reason may be, the announcement indicates that the kennel atmosphere is not yet clear, and that the government may yet have some anti-dog scheme up their sleeve. It will be well, therefore, for dog owners everywhere, civil and military, not to allow themselves to be lulled into a state of false security, but to be ever on the alert, and, indeed, to take time by the forelock and organize, organize now their resources so that when another attack is made upon their innocent, innocuous and much cherished pastime they may be prepared to meet the machinations of the government, led by dog haters and anti-dog scribes, to whom it seems a crying scandal that the authorities should give their ears, as they obviously do.

OUR DOGS.

AIREDALE TERRIER CLUB OF AMERICA.

The above mentioned Specialty Club held their annual show in New York on Nov. 22nd. There was "over 80 dogs benched, including many of the top-notchers, consequently the competition in all classes was very keen. Our Canadian representatives made a good showing. Mr. E. W. Billinger's youngster Morning Commander carried off 1st puppy, 2nd novice, 2nd junior, 3rd breeders', and no less than 6 specials. Mr. G. Ward's Silver Birch Banker" accounted for 3rd puppy, 3rd novice and 4th limit, while our Star-turn Ch. Polam Maxim, owned by Mr. N. McKenzie, experienced one of his off days, and from his usual lofty position fell down to 3rd open, being defeated by Normington Tippet and War Lock.

HOME AGAIN.

Noted Canadian bred Smooth Fox Terrier returns to Canada. Ch. Clapton Sensation, the Canadian bred Smooth Fox Terrier, who Mr. Geo. Thomas purchased from Geo. W. Bailey for Mr. Thos. Rice Varick for a record price, was purchased back again by Mr. Bailey at the Specialty Show of the American Fox Terrier Club, where he scored high up in his classes, under the noted English judge, Mr. Holgate. Sensation is a Canadian and American champion, and has defeated nearly every Smooth dog in the States, and during his one year on the American circuit has won over 100 prizes and specials. We are not told of the price that it took to bring this dog back to Canada, but understand that same is a record for a Smooth.

IMPORTANT.

One of our prominent breeders and exhibitors of Toy dogs has promised to give us a little write-up on the various breeds of Toys. These articles will be in the form of a brief history and the present day standard of points and should be very helpful to the newcomers into the fancy. The first of these interesting articles is about the Pekingese and will be found on another page of this issue.

Our London Letter

Alexandre Dumas said somewhere: "Opinions are like nails: the more one hammers on them, the more one drives them in" (Les opinions c'est comme les clous: plus on tape dessus, plus on les enfonce). The thought of the above words suggests another: is it not advisable to revert to certain Cockerphil ideas to seriously discuss them, to closely examine them and to try, at least, to make, from their shock, spurt out sparks of truth in so far as the present and the future are concerned, for, with regard to the past, which, however, can serve as documentary study, this is entirely impossible, as can be seen from the opinions which follow and which I wish to submit to your readers in order to prove how difficult, well-nigh impossible, it is to form an idea from all this heap of contradictory opinions.

As a matter of fact, what do we find in the question of Cockers? Cockers of Devon, Cockers of Wales, innumerable varieties of Cockers, different colors, different weights, field-spaniels (breed), field-spaniels (general term), springers (breed), springers (general term), short Cockers, long Cockers, disappeared Cockers, re-appeared Cockers, old Cockers, modern Cockers, round skulls, flat skulls, short noses, long noses, short heads, long heads, Cockers-Dachhunds, Cockers-Fox, Cockers-Bassetts, pure-bred Cockers, etc., etc. What else? A dam Cocker would not find there her little ones! Come and judge for yourselves.

"The Dog," according to Stonehouse and Youatt:—

"The Cocker is on elegant little Spaniel, half the size of the English Spaniel, his forms are more delicate, his head rounder, his muzzle is more pointed, his ears are of good length, light and well-covered with soft and wavy hair, his eye is of average size, sprightly and intelligent. His coat should be thick, silky, slightly wavy, but not curly, the latter being a proof of a cross with a Water Spaniel."

"The Dog," according to Gayot, (1867):—

"In comparison with the springer, the Cocker has a round and short head, the legs shorter, the forms compact, but less harmonious, his ears are long and well furnished with hair, as well as the feet and the tail."

"Gun-dogs," by Fréehon (1884):—

"Cockers are smaller, lighter, more active than the other varieties of Spaniels. Compared with their big brothers, the Clumbers, the Cockers, in shooting, are what Beagles are compared with Foxhounds: a diminutive. Specimens pure-bred have become rare. The forms are light, the conformation reminds of that of the Setter. . . The original breed, that of Wales and Deconshire, does not exist any more: it was crossed with the Sussex and produced a new type."

Here are other opinions, French and English:—

French: "In France generally we give the name of Cocker to all the small English Spaniels which we use for shooting over, other than Clumbers, which are fairly rare, and Sussex, of which it is really difficult to procure oneself good specimens. The best judges find difficulty in fixing the precise measurements and descriptions of Cockers, but it seems that their average size was from 14 to 16 inches, their weight 25 lbs., and that a good type of these dogs is shown in Ansdell's engraving, which represents a small Spaniel lifting its head up in profile under a woodcock. It is said that brown and white, all-brown, roana were mostly encountered in the south. Orange and white, or lemon and white in Wales. Black and tan, black and white, wholly black in the north."

The Cocker has a round head, a thin muzzle, less square than that of the Clumber, a large nose, much stop, ears of average length, large, set on rather high."

"Cockers have a long, very low body, they are very active and easy to break. They carry their ears low, which are very long. The weight of a good Cocker should not exceed 25 lbs."

"The Cocker is the smallest of the Field Spaniels, his size is half of that of the others, and his weight does not exceed 25 lbs. His head is less heavy and more round, his muzzle is thin, not pointed, although less square than that of the Clumber and Sussex."

"With regard to the Cockers of Wales and Devonshire, it is difficult to find any of pure breed and of desired size. Many of them have been crossed with Springers, or owing to crossings, their weight has been increased from 20 to at least 30 lbs. The Cockers of Wales are brown in color, their ears are not too long for the work, and many show judges find that they are too short. The breed of Cockers is little defined on account of numerous crossings. There are actually two varieties, of different appearance: one has the forms of a small Field Spaniel, long in body on short legs; the other shorter in body and resembling a small Springer, the forms of which are those of a diminutive Setter."

"The original Spaniel was simply a Springer. The Cocker is the result of innumerable crossings with the Field Spaniel from which he is derived. There being a long Cocker and a short Cocker, it seems that two classes for Cockers should be allowed at shows. It is certain that the Field Spaniel weighing 24 lbs. (viz., Cocker), very low to ground, light, would possess more activity than its congener weighing 30 or 40 lbs., and could easily penetrate into thick cover, where others could not penetrate. Some Devonshire breeders assured me that it was owing to the influence of the blood of the Fox Terrier that the Cocker was so active."

"The number of crossings is without an end. They are of all colors, of all forms, they are curly, they are half-curly, they are with flat hair! There are crossings with the Basset, with the Fox Terrier, with the Poodle, with the Water Spaniel. Some years ago there were no classes for Cockers. It suffices to open the stud-book to become convinced. The famous champions Obo, Sally, Fred III, whose names figure in nearly every Cocker pedigree, are entered in the stud-book among the Field Spaniels. The Cocker is, therefore, a small Field Spaniel which has been so named through an abbreviation, owing to his having been used against the woodcock, and he ought to have been called 'Woodcock.' He should be as symmetrical as the Setter and the Pointer. In order to adapt the primitive Spaniel to the different kinds of shooting, blood of the Basset, the Dachshund and the Fox Terrier had been introduced. The crossing with the Basset had the purpose to produce a dog lower to ground, capable of penetrating thick cover. He became the Field Spaniel, and the 'diminutive' of the breed (the English stud-book proves this) became Cocker Spaniels."

I will revert to the subject in my next "Letter."

SHORT BARKS

Mrs. Kennedy is also feeling very proud of one of Red Peggy's pups, Sheila, a little King Charles bitch, sired by Celamo Leone. She also is noseless, and very good in coat and short stocky body. Red Peggy and Red Midget are litter sisters, out of Red Queen, by Ch. Celamo Redbeau.

Our enthusiastic Cocker Spaniel fancier, Mrs. H. Moore, of Medicine Hat, is moving to Vancouver and expects to take along with her the well-known dogs. Amongst them are two youngsters that are showing great promise. These are out of Rosaline by the late lamented dog Billy Obo. Naturally, great things are expected of them. The representatives of these kennels are fearlessly shown, so we expect to see them figuring conspicuously at the leading show on the Coast.

E. W. Jaquet, the secretary of the English Kennel Club, recently received a cheque for £420 from dog lovers in South Africa as a contribution to the British Sportsmen's Ambulance Fund. This is sufficient to purchase a car. The Natal Kennel Club made the donation on behalf of the subscribers.

Our Oakville friend, Donald McKellar, is rejoicing over a litter of W. W. H. Terrier pups. There are 7, strong and healthy, by Argyle Snowdrift out of Argyle Gill. Mr. McKellar's Scottie bitch Argyle Jenny, who went to winners at the C. N. E., is nursing a litter of 6 by that grand dog Romany Bishop.

H. Lauder, the Airedale fancier of London, Ont., is now on his way home after having "done his bit" in France. We hear that he is bringing out a Sealyham Terrier that he purchased in England. We wish him luck.

KENNEL MANAGEMENT

By N. K. Swire.

HINTS ON KENNEL ARRANGEMENTS

In dealing with this subject I shall merely make a few passing practical remarks on ordinary kennel arrangements, though they are not particularly applicable to one breed more than another. The kennel should neither have an easterly unsheltered aspect nor damp foundation. The ideal kennel should have a southern aspect, a fair possibility of sunshine, be spacious and capable of free drainage, well lighted and ventilated. Good air, dry atmosphere and sunlight are as essential to health and spirits in the canine as the human subject. It is all very well to argue as to what dogs are in a state of nature and what they are in the domestic state. Nature and art in kennel arrangement are not compatible. The South Sea Islander thrives in the hot humid atmosphere to which he is indigenous, and becomes fat upon the flesh of his own species, but he must be artificialized, so to speak, and civilized before he can accommodate himself to our colder latitudes and description of food.

So with the dog, domestication produces in him a like result. He accommodates himself to it because he is artificialized. Give him the bar ground for his bed, expose him to the bleak cold winds and allow no shelter from wet, and disease will inevitably follow. The kennel then should be dry, sunny, and cheerful. This is especially necessary for puppies, for the circumstances under which they attain their growth, as will be hereafter mentioned, will influence their disposition when they arrive at maturity. Regarding the architecture of the kennels, it is desirable to leave this for the owner's consideration, so much depending upon the number and breed or breeds of dogs to be accommodated; space, means, location, etc., and whether it is proposed to erect a temporary or permanent fixtures.

Dogs, like human beings, thrive best when comfortably housed, and proper shelter conduces greatly to their welfare. Costliness and style are not necessarily guarantees of perfection. The carefully planned, home-built kennel can be made to answer every purpose, and plainness and simplicity facilitates cleaning and disinfection. In every case, however, the kennel should be made to look as attractive as possible, both for the benefit of the passer-by and the owner. For kennel location, choose ground that lies high and dries quickly. However expensive a kennel, it can never be suitable for dogs unless perfectly dry, for dampness causes much sickness. If there is one thing more than another a dog cannot stand, it is dampness.

Let the kennel front, or entrance, face the south, and place the sleeping quarters on the sunny side of the building. Sunlight is one of nature's best preventatives of sickness, and is death to disease germs. Dogs cannot do well living in the dark, and can never thrive when deprived of sunlight. Every kennel should be well ventilated. Fresh air is cheap and absolutely essential. The ventilating openings should be small and numerous, as few and large ones conduce to serious draughts. All inlets should be larger on the inner side, so that the air passing in is distributed throughout the house in a fan-like direction. Many kennels are constructed with the idea that warmth is to be secured by the exclusion of light and air. Such buildings are hotbeds for breeding harmful bacteria. For preference the wall should be built of brick, stone or cement. If wood is used it should be well seasoned and the interior lined with match boarding. Between the two layers should be placed a lining of tarred felting. The advantage of this must at once be obvious. With regard to the flooring, cement undoubtedly forms the best and cheapest. Opinions differ on this point, as many prefer a wooden floor. If wood is your choice, see that it is made moveable, so that it can be taken up and cleaned.

Regarding the bed or sleeping quarters for the inmates, if benches are used they should be elevated above the ground and a strip of wood attached to the front to keep in the bedding. These should all be made moveable for the purpose of taking apart and thoroughly cleaning. The ideal winter kennel is a house within a house—a boarded off inner chamber or a commodious box, raised a few inches above the floor.

These hints on kennelling will be continued next month.

THE PEKINGESE

Origin and Standard of Points

Undoubtedly one of the most popular Toys of the day are the Pekingese, those miniature lion dogs of China, with their fearless and bold carriage and their quaint little ways. In fact they combine all the attributes of a big, courageous and intelligent animal in a diminutive frame.

The breed in itself is one of the oldest and was known in China as far back as the Tang dynasty in the 8th century, and is also traced during the reign of Shen Tsung in the 11th century.

These little dogs were kept solely in the Imperial Palace of Peking, and the punishment meted out to anyone removing one of them was death, first by the "thousand slices," and later one by "stoning."

The first specimens to reach England were in 1860 after the loot of the Summer Palace by the Allied troops, when five of these dogs were found in the dead Empress's apartments. One of them, a fawn and white parti color called Looty, was presented by General Dunne to her late Majesty Queen Victoria, then two chestnut browns with black markings were given to the Duke of Richmond, and Lord John Hay secured another pair, a bronze with black mark called Schlorff and a black and white called Hythien. These dogs, together with Pekin Prince and Princess, Ah Cum and Ninosa, imported between the years 1893 and 1896, share the honor of being the founders of the breed in England.

The standard of points as set up by the Pekin Palace dog of England are:—

Head—Massive, broad skull, wide and flat between the ears, wide between the eyes.

Nose—Black, broad, very short and flat.

Eyes—Large, dark, round and lustrous.

Ears—Long and drooping, leather not to reach below muzzle, long feathers.

Muzzle—Wrinkled, very short and broad, with level mouth; muzzle preferably black, except in parti-colors and black and tans.

Shape of Body—Broad, deep chest; body light in loins; loin like not long in body. Due allowance to be made between dog and bitch in regard to lightness of loin.

Legs—Short; forelegs heavy and bowed at elbows; hind legs lighter but firm and well shaped.

Feet—Flat toes turned outwards; toes should be feathered.

Mane—Profuse and coarser than the rest of coat.

Coat and Mane—Long with thick undercoat, straight and soft, not curly nor wavy; feathers on thighs and legs long and profuse.

Tail—Carried high on loins in a loose curl, long, profuse straight feather.

Size—Maximum weight, 10 lbs.; minimum weight, 5 lbs.

Color—All colors are allowable. In parti-colors the color must be evenly broken.

Action—Free, strong and high.

General Appearance—A sturdy, compact little dog of dignified and fearless carriage and sound and healthy.

Faults to be avoided by anyone with the interest of the breed at heart are:—A long pinched muzzle; Terrier set ears; domed skull; straight forelegs; shapeless body; a nose any color than black; and bad tail carriage.

I may add the necessity for anyone (who wishes to breed Pekingese successfully) to study the pedigrees, and any dog, no matter how perfect as a show specimen, if of poor parentage and used for breeding, is certain to ensure disappointment in the puppies, as the latter are more subject to inherit the grand and great grand sire's qualities or faults than their own sires and dams.

ELLIMAE.

GET FAMILIAR WITH THE DOG SHOW RULES.

This Is To You.

Breeders and dog lovers when buying that new dog, be sure that if it is registered, that it is transferred in your name before the next show you are showing at, as there is a fine of $1.00 imposed in the Canadian Kennel Club Rules and Regulations, VI., "When the name of the exhibitor differs from that under which it was registered." Also, when making your entries, be sure that you enter correctly in every detail.

WELL-KNOWN BULL BITCH COMES TO CANADA.

Importations of Bulldogs into Canada have been plentiful of late, the most recent one being that grand bitch Chestnut Ginger, whose remarkable career in the show ring both in England and the States are ample proof of her sterling qualities. Amongst her wins in the States she has accounted for winners on eight occasions and has been awarded special for best in show at five different shows. She made her debut on Canadian soil at the recent Oakville show, and easily captured winners. Her new owner, Mr. H. Gubb, of Toronto, is justly proud of her and we congratulate his agent, Mr. Sam Bamford, for having purchased such a wonderful specimen. We wish her new owner the best of luck.

Mr. J. D. Schaefer, Hanover, has purchased the Boston Terrier Clifton Chummy, C.K.C. 18955, and is offering him at stud in this issue of "Kennel and Bench."

NOTICE.

Any of our readers who have complaints to make regarding the registration of pedigrees, etc., will confer a favor on the Complaint Committee by sending in their matter in a concise and brief form. Long drawnout epistles are unnecessary and take up valuable time. Just state your troubles in as concrete form as possible and keep to the point.

NOTICE.

During the past few months the requests from new subscribers have been more than gratifying and unsolicited. Testimonials are coming in regarding our columns as an advertising medium. What we want, and what we are aiming for, is that our readers should be personally interested in the paper and know that it is devoted to dogs and their owners, and that we are endeavoring to make its columns as interesting and instructive as possible.

THE EXERCISING OF DOGS

By "GREAT DANE"

Dogs are naturally active animals, requiring considerable open-air exercise all the year round; and undue confinement of them is positive and unjustifiable cruelty. They are born with an inherited inclination to activity; and exercise is not merely good for them, but it is absolutely necessary for their health, vigour and reproductive powers. Speaking generally, growing animals need more exercise than matured ones, and big, heavy breeds more enforced exercise than smaller, inherently active varieties; and it is certain that our stud dogs and brood bitches must have liberty for ample voluntary exercise daily if their puppies are to be as healthy as possible. Indeed, we would go further, and say that enforced slow exercise is often highly beneficial to pregnant bitches of the heavier breeds.

Wherever possible, puppies must have absolute freedom to play about as they like; and when it is necessary to confine them, the pen must be dry, sunny, large, and so constructed that the puppies can look through its sides without weakening their backs and houghs by standing on their hind legs. Big-breed puppies confined too much in kennels or in too small yards are generally awkward, ungainly and slothful. Natural play is the best form of exercise for young puppies. Given playmates and ample space in which to play, they are, if left to themselves, almost always on the go. Play is instinctive in them. It is Nature's means of securing the well-balanced muscular development so necessary to graceful growth and vigorous health, for during play all the limbs and muscles are freely and naturally exercised by performing over and over again every movement of which they are capable. The more puppies play naturally, the more graceful and healthy their development; and it is folly to check the free indulgence of their playful moods from over-anxiety lest they play too roughly or hurt themselves. Accidents do occasionally happen, but they would have to be very much more frequent and severe than they are to justify real worry on this score or any restrictions on playing.

Where one has a single well-bred puppy, it pays to purchase a cheap mongrel pup, generally obtainable for two or three shillings, to play with it.

There is no risk of a well-fed puppy overtaking its strength in voluntary play, since, when it is temporarily exhausted, it can curl up and refresh itself with a short nap; but the enforced exercise of growing puppies needs to be carefully regulated. It is not in the least degree necessary to run a puppy off its feet to ensure its moving well at maturity. Teaching it to walk nicely lays the best possible foundation for other gaits. Many young dogs, especially amongst the larger breeds, are seriously injured and more or less stunted by over-exercise, without the cause being suspected by their owners. The fact that a youngster is spirited and ambitious to follow a cycle or trap is not an excuse for permitting it to uselessly squander its strength, and so become debilitated and played out by the time it should be in its prime. If a young and growing dog be allowed to do all it is willing to at, say, a year old, it will be capable of much less than it otherwise would have been at three or four years. Good judgment and common sense must be used, for the still soft muscles and ligaments binding young bones together cannot stand continuous or violent strain without injury. There is money in the puppies if you do not run it out.

Overtaxing the energies of breeding may not only weaken the puppies, but may also be as fruitful a source of non-conception as is over-feeding or confinement. During the first three or four weeks of gestation the bitch will be the better for her ordinary, accustomed exercise, if well fed; but she should never be exposed to a sudden strain or jerk, or to extreme exertion of any kind. Later, her exercise must be lighter and slower, though equally regular right up to the last. Any exercise that is not straining is beneficial; but none is better than that to which her muscles have been habitually accustomed. Never hurry her or put her to heavy work. Lack of exercise and so impaired health are stock by violent or excessive exercise often the cause of the stud-dog begetting small litters. Well-fed animals getting insufficient exercise soon become shy breeders. Dogs, too, that grow dangerous usually do so because of unexpended muscular energy; and proper exercise not only adds to their docility, but also to their fertility. The stud-dog cannot stand idleness any more than a man can. Present condition is a reliable guide to the degree of exercise required. Thus, loss of flesh, despite liberal feeding, indicates excess, while too great increase of weight, without over-feeding, points to insufficient exercise.

BREEDERS PLEASE NOTE.

A kennel which is not advertised properly must necessarily depend upon its owner's circle of personal friends, his efforts and what time he can devote to marketing its surplus stock for a market for its produce. A kennel that is properly advertised has little trouble finding a market for its stock and generally finds difficulty in supplying the demand for dogs. The difference is between the use of one's personal efforts and the use of publicity. Breeders of dogs should seek to establish a broad and permanent market and not a market dependable on their personal friends.

Conservative publicity and intelligent advertising, backed by straight-forward business methods, will not only create a market, but will also develop a "good will" that will last for years and will become one of the biggest and most valued assets of your kennel. Do you fully realize that every time you advertise your kennel you create or increase the good will of that kennel? So why not increase the "good will" value of your kennel, now, by some consistent, intelligent and persistent advertising? The most direct road to publicity and to the attention of those who, like yourself, are vitally interested in dogs, is through the kennel press.

SHORT BARKS

Mr. W. A. Harrington, the proprietor of the Midnight Sun Collie Kennels, informs us that he has purchased the grand dog Shadeland Chieftain from McNairn Kennels. This dog is considered to be one of our best specimens, and has done a lot of good winning. He is exceedingly well bred and should be a valuable addition to Mr. Harrington's strong team. Shadeland Ena is also in whelp to Shadeland Don. Good results are expected from this mating, as both are good show specimens and contain the blood of the world's most famous Collies.

Mr. R. Mee's imported St. Bernard bitch Bunty presented her owner with a nice litter of 13 on Oct. 26. These are by Clancey & Mountain's dog the King's Son, and are very promising.

Messrs. Clancey & Mountain have a nice litter of three Pekes out of Tango Ling, by Ch. Chum Chip. Two of the male puppies by the above mentioned dog out of Ma Ben Tai have been sold to Mr. A. Andrews and Mr. Jack Grimbelty, jr.

Our London Bulldog enthusiast, C. S. Webber, Esq., has sold his good dog Ellison King to the Marguerite Manor Kennels, Chicago, who are more than pleased with their new purchase. Another good one to leave Mr. Webber's kennels in Dundee Lady Brunella, her new owner being Mrs. A. E. Greenings of White Lawn Kennels, Mich., who exhibited her at the recent Detroit show, where she captured two firsts and special for best Bull bitch.

Amongst the recent matrons to visit Messrs. Preston and Johnson's Bulldog Croppers' Hill King we hear of Mr. Sloan's Kensington Daisy and Mr. Kordell's Rydall Stone Asyie. Good results are expected from these matings.

We hear of a grand brace of Scotties being imported by our Oakville fanciers. The bitch Romany Kittie is considered a real topper and presented her new owner with a nice litter of 7 a few days after her arrival. Her travelling partner, Romany Vap, is a half-brother to the great Romany Bishop and should prove a valuable asset to our Scotties on this side.

Mrs. H. G. Kennedy, Kenarden Kennels, Calgary, Alta., reports the sale of one of her young Blenheims, Dreamboy, to Miss Jean Macphatter, of Calgary. This pup was sired by Champion Celamo Daydream out of Lady Madge, and has a lovely massive head, fine coat and good carriage. He took two firsts and a special for best Blenheim in show for his new mistress at the recent Thanksgiving Day show.

Mrs. Kennedy has just shipped Dreamboy's litter sister, Lady Clorinda, to Celamo Kennels to be bred to one of their well known studs.

Lady Madge, mother of above pups, has just been bred to Mrs. Kennedy's own stud, Celamo Bobolink. He is a son of Romance of Caton Hill, sire of the winning Blenheim at this year's Toronto show.

Red Queen, a ruby bitch owned by Mrs. Kennedy, has just presented her with a litter of five nice rubies by her King Charles stud, Celamo Leone. Four dogs and one bitch, all strong and healthy, and a good color, are something to be grateful for.

Mr. R. H. F. Purdn, of Vancouver, B.C., reports two litters of Wire Haired Fox Terriers born last month. Ulidia Tillicum by Receipt of Paignton ex. a bitch by Master Collar of Paignton had three dogs and three bitches to Lyncoote Hallmark by Ch. Wireboy of Paignton ex. Catch of Paignton.

Ulidia Funny whelped two dogs and one bitch to Mrs. McConnell's grand young dog Madrona Record. This is his first litter.

The Wire Hairs are going strong in B.C.

At the recent Thanksgiving Day show, held in Calgary, Mrs. H. G. Kennedy offered a special for the best King Charles bitch in show, and was won by Mrs. A. L. Smith, of Calgary, her special being one year's subscription to "Kennel and Bench."

Major Donald F. Pigeon, St. John, N.B., has purchased a Smooth dog from The Clapton Kennels. He is by Clapton Invader out of Clapton Victorios.

Clapton Sensation stud advertisement will appear in the next issue of "Kennel and Bench," with a complete record of Canadian and American wins.

Regular readers of Kennel and Bench whose subscriptions have expired. Please renew at once.

Kennel and Bench realize that failure to renew is often a matter of negligence only and the paper would not like to cancel from their list the name of anybody who really wants it.

THIS IS NOT A THREAT JUST A REMINDER!

HOW ABOUT IT?

SHORT BARKS

The Clapton Kennels showed a Wire dog and bitch by Champion Wireboy of Paignton at the Fox Terrier show at Hamilton, Mass., and though only 7 months old, made such a good impression that Mr. W. F. Levesey, the well-known judge, purchased the bitch. Clapton Vimy Ridge Victory, Mr. Levesey intends shows this bitch at all the leading shows on the American circuit.

Mr. Chas. L. Mewburn, Hamilton, Ont., has purchased from the Clapton Kennels a Wire dog and bitch by Wireboy of Paignton out of Clapton Vivacity. The latter recently whelped a litter of five, three dogs and two bitches, to Mr. Arthur Atkinson's imported Wire dog, Combatant of Notts.

Mrs. Mildren Walker, of Toronto, reports good business with her Pomeranians since the Exhibition, selling two puppies and one female in whelp which are going to Texas, also her very good orange dog Orange Mascot, 10 months old, to a Toronto fancier. A Pekingese female, 10 months old, going to Tennessee as a pet and last, but not least, have just sold the well known Orange Cracker to Mr. Howard (Howard & Clark, the high class vaudeville artists), as a pet for his wife. A litter by Champion McNaughton's Defender out of a young bitch full of the noted Orange blood is expected shortly.

We hear Mrs. B. Brodie's English Toy Spaniel Ch. Queen Bess has been mated to Mr. A. Smith's Ch. Celamo Ivanhoe. From such stock extra good results are expected.

Mr. R. Shilton's Collie bitch has just whelped a nice litter of nine pups by Mr. R. Y. Wemyes's newly imported Buccleuch Specialist. Mr. Shilton says he knows where some of the Ontario Collie Club's cups will rest after next year's C. N. E. if nature is kind to this bunch.

One of our readers will give a good St. Bernard dog to any charitable institution that will guarantee it a good home. If any of our members or subscribers know of such a place we shall be pleased to put them in touch with the owner.

We are sorry to announce the death of Col. Frederic Nicholls' imported Chow Chow, Felecity's Blue Jacket. This dog was a well-known winner in England, but was never exhibited on this side, consequently very few of our fanciers had the opportunity of seeing this grand specimen.

Our well-known handler Sam Bamford, the proprietor of the Walnut Kennels, has sold his newly imported Irish Terrier bitch to J. G. Bates, Esq., of the Balarney Kennels, New York. We undersand a big cheque was the means of removing this grand Terrier from our midst.

Airedale fanciers will be sorry to hear of the death of Mr. George Kynoch's noted dog Ch. Clipstone First Shot, who died after a short illness. First Shot was perhaps the greatest winner amongst our Canadian bred Airedales, and held a wonderful record both as a show and stud dog. All Airedale devotees will sympathize with Mr. Kynoch in his great loss.

Breeders and exhibitors should get familiar with the Dog Show Rules before buying or exhibiting a dog see that he is transferred in your name and registered with the Canadian Kennel Club. A copy of the rules or any information regarding same may be obtained by writing to the office or direct to the Live Stock Record Department, Ottawa, Ont.

THE IMPORTED SMOOTH FOX TERRIER

ROCKLEY KNOCK OUT

LATE "ETONIAN"

Acknowledged by seven of England's greatest authorities to be the BEST 'smooth' seen for years. He has an exceptionally long lean head with deeply set black eyes, and perfect ears; shortest of backs, big rib, deep brisket, Redmond legs and feet, and can beat any Terrier (any breed) for hind-quarters and set-on of tail. He is covered with a perfect smooth coat, is dead game and as sound as a bell of brass. This dog would not have left England under any circumstances other than the prevailing war condition.

To give the smooth breeders a chance he will serve a few bitches at $15.00.

Soy Bean Meal (46% Protein)

Those who have not given this food a trial should not hesitate any longer, if you wish to solve your feeding propositions. The following letter is just a sample of the unsolicited testimonials we are receiving daily:

Dear Sirs,—I have been breeding Hounds for 18 years, during which time have tried almost every kind of food that a dog will eat, and after feeding Soy Bean Meal, Oatmeal and Bran, as recommended by you, I can safely say there is no other dog food to equal it. Have already advised other dog breeders in this district to try it, and I am going to order 500 lbs. more next week at the special offer you gave me.

Yours truly,

J. DOHERTY,

R.F.D., Belleville, Ont.

Owing to the increase in prices of all foodstuffs, along with difficulty in procuring Soy Bean Meal, we have been compelled to raise our prices as follows:

Less than 100 lbs. 5c per lb.
100 lbs. to 500 lbs. $4.25 per cwt.
500 lbs. and over $3.75 per cwt.
(F.O.B. Shelburne, Ont.)

Mixture.—Two measures of rolled oats, two of bran, and one of Soy Bean Meal. Add salt, mix together dry and add cold water or milk.

It is wise to add sulphur and powdered charcoal about every ten days, also beef scrap.

Read what Palmer says in "All About Airedales."

All orders filled promptly.

We are frequently requested to announce the formula of

Vermicide Capsules

We take this opportunity to state that for the present we are not willing to divulge the secret of their composition. If Dr. French ever did one thing well in his life he did it when he composed the formula of Vermicide Capsules and so we feel like keeping a good thing to ourselves. We will, however, go this far—we will announce what the Capsules do NOT contain, and thereby partly satisfy a natural curiosity. Vermicide Capsules DO NOT CONTAIN any extract of Male Fern, Kamala, Oil of Turpentine, Kousso, powdered Arecia Nut, Pelletierine, Santonin, Quassia or preparation of iron. The chief ingredient upon which the extraordinary efficacy of Vermicide Capsules depends is not ordinarily obtainable on the shelves of drug stores, but has to be specially prepared for its incorporation in these Capsules.

CINNABAR OF SHINING TREE. A. K. C. 232133, C. K. C. 18846. By Ch. Wireboy of Paignton ex Ch. Holmbury Reve. An excellent brood bitch.

2 BITCH PUPPIES whelped June 13, 1917. By Ch. Chequebook of Nott's ex Cinnabar of Shining Tree. The Pedigree of these pups is exceptional, and they should grow into something good. An opportunity for anybody to make a start in wires, or to introduce a fine combination of new blood.

2 BITCH PUPPIES AND 2 MALES whelped Sept. 25, 1917. By that good young Canadian dog Wireboy of Malden ex the prize-winning bitch Calderbank Colleen, who has won 18 firsts in big shows around New York, not counting puppy wins. Calderbank Colleen, has a very exceptional harsh wire coat, and is on the small side. She transmits these characteristics to her pups. These pups should be good to improve coats, and to keep down any tendency to oversize.

3 YOUNG MALES whelped Nov. 10, 1916. By Croydon Radium ex Calderbank Colleen. Two wires and one smooth. Sturdy, vigorous, good looking dogs.

We wish to make room in our kennels, and are offering all of these at most reasonable prices. Write for further particulars. To responsible people we will ship with return privilege.
