BRANTFORD NOTES

By Freddie Reid.

Fred J. Beney, who has just imported "Idle R. King 17th," Boston Terrier, sired by Peter King, Dam, Dobbin King, he having purchased it from Mrs. Swift, of New York. Friend Beney's personal opinion is that Idle R. King has the best head of any Boston that he has ever seen.

Thomas Yapp reports having a very fine English Bull puppy that will make a record at the coming spring show. It is a common occurrence to see Tommy and County Constable Kerr standing at the Post Office corner setting up the dog. Lady Mayflower is sired by Kilburn Facinator, Dam, Lady Maple, he being bred by Mrs. Peabody, of Peterborough. "'Nuf sed."

H. B. Charlton has just purchased from Mrs. Church, of Simcoe, a Boston Terrier female, Charlton's Sweetheart, C.K.C., 22760, sired by The Spirit, Dam. Princess. He is looking forward to her as being a good matron.

Mr. Jack Kerr, 1st Vice-President of the Telephone City Kennel Club, was seen carrying in his hand a copy of Kennel and Bench of the December issue. He met some of the boys and said to them: "Oh, my, did you see that Violet Beauty, owned by B. Shevel, had won second novice at Toronto Kennel Club's first annual Fall Show? And he says: "How is that for my raising?" eh, what.

Charles Smith, of Echo Place, is rejoicing over his Christmas present, it being a grand litter of eleven Airedale puppies from one of his matrons, Lady, Oorang, sired by Tintern Top Hole (imp.), owned by Matt Gracie, of Toronto. All are doing well, and he is looking forward to picking some winners from the bunch.

Our London Letter

in the November issue of that journal.

We are still muzzled. I mean to say that our dogs must still be muzzled, but, as this regulation is still in force, and continues to bind us all to many restrictions, one may safely say that "we" are still "muzzled." However, I understand that the Board of Agriculture are issuing licenses for the movement of dogs in the London and Middlesex areas under less stringent regulations than hitherto; in most cases dogs are now allowed to be removed directly to private houses, instead of their having to be detained for a certain period on premises of approved veterinary surgeons. Let us be thankful for small mercies.

I regret very much to mention that the Kennel Club's ninth Retriever Field Trials, which took place at Lowther Castle, Penrith, Scotland, on the beautiful estate of Lord Lonsdale, on the 11th of Nevember last, had to be abandoned. That is to say, that tests took place on the 11th of the above month, but, on account of a very heavy fall of snow, which continued falling during the Wednesday and the Thursday, the trials had to be abandoned. On the occasion of these field-trials, the visitors received a printed copy of a letter written by the Earl of Lonsdale in January, 1916, which sets forth his lordship's opinion as to the manner Retrievers should be bred. Lord Lonsdale's remarks were very interesting. In my last "Letter" I described shortly the last Great Terrier Show, and, if I remember aright, I drew your readers' special attention to the fact that, in the Bull Terrier section, the Certificate of Championship went to "Bing Boy," a brindle-and-white Bull Terrier, which, I believe, is absolutely unique in the annals of the Bull Terrier fancy. I must say at once that, in my opinion, and in that of those who really understand this breed, and for whom a Bull Terrier is what he should be, i.e., a strong, hard-bodied dog, and not a soft, drawing-room pet, "Bing Boy," apart from his color, is absolutely a most typical dog for his breed. Therefore, all the discussion which now arose in Bull Terrier "entourage" about the award in question turns simply around his color, and it is consequently of much interest to quote a letter which has been addressed by the honorary secretary of the Bull Terrier Club to the Editor of the "Kennel Gazette" and which appeared

It is as follows: The recent award of a Challenge Certificate to the brindleand-white Bull Terrier, Bing Boy, at the Great Joint Terrier Show, is an event deserving of notice, and which appears likely to raise two opposing camps in Bull Terrier circles. Briefly summed up, the views of the contending parties appear to be as follows: One party points out that the Bull Terrier Club's scale of "points" submitted annually (in their Club annual) to, and tacitly approved by the Kennel Club, contain the following definitions: (1) Color-pure white; (2) Faultmarking on head; (3) Disqualification -marking behind the set on of head. If this scale of "points" be correct, Bing Boy is disqualified for being "marked behind the set-on of head." The other party reply that no dog can be "disqualified," excepting under Kennel Club Rule 13, which contains no reference to color wherever placed in a Bull Terrier, and that, therefore, the Bull Terrier Club's "disqualifications" are no disqualifications at all, except as regards deafness, which is covered by Section G of Kennel Club Rule 13. Further, this party point out that "The Kennel Club offer their certificates to Bull Terriers, and not solely to white Bull Terriers, whilst the Kennel Club registrations of Bull Terriers include both the white and bringle impartially." Hence, it is argued, any dog registered at the Kennel Club as a Bull Terrier is qualified, if a winner in an Open class, to compete for the Challenge Certificate offered by the Kennel Club. It would appear that the arguments of this "pro-brindle" party are logically correct, but if so, what is there to prevent brindles from being entered in any class labelled "Bull Terriers?" It is also evident that there are greater issues at stake. For generations past, Bull Terrier breeders have aimed at a pure white dog, and the fusion of brindle blood with the white stock is likely to greatly increase the numbers of marked Bull Terriers-a retrograde step, I venture to think, in the opinion of most Bull Terrier fanciers. I would beg to submit that the only logical method of dealing with the position is for Brindle Bull Terrier fanciers to form a "Brindle Bull Terrier Club," and to approach the Kennel Club for classification as a separate breed (which would entail the necessity of registered brindles being bred from brindle parentage and not, as in the case of "Bing Boy," by a champion white dog from an unregistered brindle bitch), and thus leave the old title "Bull Terrier" to the white dog that has carried that name for so long.

Personally, I think that Mr. Bowell is right and wrong. He is quite right in advocating a separate classification for brindle Bull Terriers, and he is wrong in being of opinion that only the white Bull Terriers should retain that name. Take, for instance, the Great Danes. There are brindle Great Danes, fawn, blue, black, and, last but not least, harlequin Great Danes. At our large shows, before the war, the latter had classes allotted to them, but there is no Great Dane fancier in the wide world who would dream of suggesting that a harlequin, i.e., black and white, Great Dane, should not be called that name at all! If the Bull Terrier Club's rules have it a Bull Terrier should be of white color, then Mr. Bowell is quite right in his contention that a separate Club should be formed for brindle Bull Terrier fanciers, and in suggesting this course, Mr. Bowell admits himself that the new club should be called a "Bull Terrier" club. My old friend, Fred Greshan, used to tell me very often that "a good horse cannot be a bad color." This is all very well physically, but quite wrong aesthetically. Therefore, I think that Bull Terrier fanciers would do well in following Mr. Bowell's advice with regard to a separate club and a separate classification at shows for brindle Bull Terriers. However, as I have not yet seen any brindle Bull Terrier of the slightest merit at shows, I am sure that "waters will run" before it will be necessary to found a brindle Bull Terrier Club and grant a separate classification to that color at shows. With regard to "Bing Boy," I am of opinion that the question of his having been awarded a Challenge Certificate is one to be settled between the Kennel Club and the Bull Terrier Club.

As the Bull Terrier is very popular in the United States, Canada, and, especially, in India, it would be very interesting to hear the opinion of those fanciers on the above very important question.

What the Clubs Are Doing

TELEPHONE CITY KENNEL CLUB

The Telephone City Kennel Club, of Brantford, held their annual meeting recently, and elected their officers for 1920, when H. B. Charlton was elected President; J. H. Minshal, Past President; J. Kerr, First Vice-President; Dr. Briggs, Paris, Ont., Second Vice-President: T. Grant, Superintendent. Dr. Porter, Veterinary. H. N. Duckworth, Secretary-Treasurer. Executive Committee: Messrs. R. L. Wainwright, F. Lowie, G. H. Gilham, C. Plumley, A. Patterson, C. Smith, F. Beney, S. T. Lee, and J. W. Church. Simcoe, Ont.

Satisfaction was expressed by everyone on the results of the first year's activity, and confidence for the coming year. Affairs in Brantford dogdom are quite evidently in the best of keeping for some time to come.

OTTAWA KENNEL CLUB

The regular monthly meeting and evening show of the Ottawa Kennel Club was held in Clarey's Hall, Bank St., on Wednesday evening, Dec. 10th, and in spite of the inclement weather there was an exceptionally large turnout of members and friends, including many ladies, about 150 altogether, and over 50 dogs were shown and judged. Many new members joined the Club. which is now close to the 200 mark. and the energetic membership committee hope to reach 500 by the end of March. A pleasing feature of the evening was the work accomplished by the recently organized committees. who handled the evening's programme with smoothness and dispatch. After the business was concluded, an interesting paper was read by the Secretary on the history and general activities of the Scottish Terrier, which proved to be an old-timer as a show dog, and a very useful dog for the farm, and a good companion. After which the dogs were exhibited and judged. Mr. T. A. Armstrong placed the awards on the Terrier breeds, and Mr. F. C. McLean the awards on the Toy breeds.

Special for the best Toy dog in show was won by Mr. A. Smith's Toy Spaniel, Lord Eric of Cantenell.

Special for the best Toy Bitch in show was also won by Mr. A. Smith, with his Toy Spaniel, Celamo Beauty. Special for the best Terrier dog in show was won by Mr. J. R. Biggs' Scotch Terrier, Jock.

Special for the best Terrier bitch in show was won by Mr. A. Kerr's White West Highland Terrier, Argyle Byng.

We have great pleasure in giving the paper on the Scottie, as read by the Secretary:

The Scottish Terrier.

The Scotch Terrier, as a show dog, dates from about 1877, and he has attained popularity and has progressed gradually ever since. Scottish Terriers frequently go by the name of Aberdeen Terriers, an application, it is true, usually heard only from people who do not know much about them.

All in all, a typical Scottish Terrier is a small, dark, wire-coated dog, short in leg, with a logish head on a compact body, very strong and powerful in appearance, but quick in his movements, and wonderfully bright and wide-awake. We grant that he is not a "Rose" for looks, but handsome is that handsome does, and mentally he is the most lovable of dogs. But the wag of his tail is as unique as he is himself, which is saying a great deal. "He just wags his way into your heart," he does not, however, usually wag for strangers. He unreservedly devotes himself to one person. He is a first-class ratter, in fact an ideal dog for destroying vermin, around the farm or elsewhere, and besides being a good watch-dog, also makes an excellent house-dog, on account of his size, and can stand our climate well.

The standard for the Scottish Terrier is as follows:

Skull.—Proportionately long, slightly domed, and covered with short, hard hair.

Muzzle.—Very powerful and gradually tapering towards the nose, which always should be black and of good size. Jaws, perfectly level, and teeth square, though the nose projects somewhat over the mouth, gives the impression of the upper jaw being longer than the under one.

Eyes.—A dark brown, or hazel color, small and piercing, and very bright.

Ears.—Very small, standing erect, and should never drop, and should be sharp pointed.

Neck.—Short, thick and muscular, strongly set on sloping shoulders.

Body.-Of moderate length, and well ribbed up.

Legs and Feet.—Legs should be short and strong, very heavy in bone, feet small, strong and thickly covered with short hair.

Tail.—Should be about 7 inches long, carried with a slight bend.

Coat.—Should be rather short (about 2 inches), intensely hard and wiry in texture, and very dense all over body.

Size.—From 15 to 20 lbs., best weight being as near as possible, 18 lbs. for dogs, and 16 lbs. for bitches.

Color.—Steel, or iron grey, black, brindle, brown or grey brindles, black, sandy and wheaten; white markings are objectionable, and can only be allowed on the chest to a small extent.

Faults.

Muzzle.—Either under or overhung. Eyes.—Large, or light colored.

Ears.—Large rounded points, or drop, and if too heavily coated with hair.

Coat.—Silkiness, tendency to curl is a serious blemish, as is also an open coat.

Size.—Specimens of over 20 lbs. should be discouraged.

The next meeting and show will be held in January, when Airdales, Wire and Smooth Fox Terriers, Bull Terriers and Black and Tan Terriers will be shown and judged.

MONTREAL KENNEL CLUB BEGINS WINTER WORK

The Montreal Kennel Association held their annual evening show on Dec. 9 and 10, with over 250 dogs benched. The judges were Miss C. J. Laviolette, Toys, with 105 entries; Alf. Lepine, Terriers, with 133 entries; Bob Mills, Bulldogs, with 70 entries: Wm. Barnes, Bostons and French Bulldogs, with 41, and A. Trudeau, the remainder. The majority of the above were making their initial bow as judges, and it was gratifying to the officials of the Club to see the large entry of quality stock they drew in, and how pleasing to everyone their awards were. Best in the show went to Mrs. D. Beland's cracking little Pom, Stormlight of Dara, who showed like a veteran and also scored for best Toy.

Interest centred largely, apart from the best in show award, in wires. Here Henry Whitley's grand youngster. Short Cut, again topped a hot lot.

Collies at Fort Garry Show

(Specially reported for Kennel & Bench.)

Short Cut has improved immensely since September last, when, in his sensational debut as a puppy, he topped all breeds at the L. K. C. show. He has filled out wonderfully, and although a shade shy on coat last night. had plenty of quality to beat the good lot shown against him. Jack Steer's Matford Captain ran second to Short Cut throughout, and got reserve winners in dogs. It was unfortunate that after winning in his classes and getting best of breed in wires, Short Cut was seized with a fit, and was unable to compete for best in show honors. For a time it was thought that the little dog's condition was serious, but he was revived by a veterinary, though so weak after his gruelling that he could not enter the ring again. In the female division of wires. James Russell's Pansy got winners.

There was keen competition in Airedales, where the Cornforth and Kay kennels scored no less than twelve firsts, and won several specials. They got everything in this popular breed but winners dogs, an honor which went to Etudiant, the property of Mrs. J. E. W. Lecours, which won a special as the best Airedale shown. The Cornforth and Kay new importation, Suncrest Imperator, not in his best coat, got reserve, while Cornforth's and Kay's Northcliffe Floss won in bitches. The same kennels sent out the winning dog puppy, Northcliffe Soudan, and the winning bitch puppy, Northcliffe Vixen, two good home-breds.

J. Cutler's Sir Donald was reserve winner to Stormlight, in Pomeranians. James Whitham's Somme Tiny led the Pom. bitches with Pomona Baby Rose, owned by W. J. Goodman, in reserve. J. A. Gendron's Polo won in toy terrier dogs, while Miss Coupal's Beauty won in the bitches' section. Walnut Wei, the property of J. H. Holmes, scored a win in the Pekingese dogs, with Mrs. J. A. Pitt's Tito of Munday as leader of the bitches. Mirze, a Griffon Bruxellois bitch, owned by Mrs. C. Ward, was awarded a special prize as best Canadian-bred Toy (34 contenders.) Mrs. A. Trudeau's Sonora Fan-Tan, a real nice Peke puppy, won the special prize for the best toy puppy.

Best non-sporting was a well filled class and saw Joe Callan's Black Cocker Spaniel, Dunrobin Darkie, on top.

The Haig Kennels, Kitchener, have imported another famous Beagle, Afton Sportsman, a bench and field winner of the first water. This should about give our Kitchener friends the trump hand in Beagles in the Dominion.

Collies at the Fort Garry Kennel Club show were the premier class and, subsequently, through Mr. W. R. Wardle's latest importation, Heatherbelle Bradnor Chief, who won the grand championship any breed, proved they were highest in quality.

This dog was an absolute study in the ring, and in the grand final treated the large crowd gathered around to what was probably the finest piece of posing on the part of a dog that has been seen in Winnipeg for many moons. On condition, quality and showing power this dog won, and the decision was a most popular one. It is regrettable that he was not in the same splendid condition when he went to Winners at Toronto.

In the younger generation G. Mc-Robb's Deeside Prince won premier honors in Juvenile, Puppy, and Junior classes, a nice, strong puppy that carries himself well. In the Puppy class, Mr. Heap's Scottish Lad gained second, but I favored E. Johnson's Dean for this place. He looked to me the best set up of the two, showed splendidly. and although not by any means undersized, believe he had to give way to size and a better coat on Scottish Lad. In Juniors, H. Leslie's Scotia Prince was placed third. A well proportioned dog shown in splendid bloom, and only nervousness on the boards beat him into third place. Geo. Binnie's Hannahfield Duke romped home with honors in Novice and Breeders' class. also special best Canadian bred. He is a big, upstanding dog, great legs and feet, good face and skull, slightly wide in ears, but pushed himself ahead through fine action. A real dog, this, to get the judge's eye, and went to Reserve winners. In the Limit and Open competitions, after Heatherbelle Bradnor Chief helped himself to the pickings, a live tussle took place for second and third tickets between Tom Donald's Sergt. Lad and Tom Rait's Scottish Bouncing Boy. In limit the latter showed up to best davantage, and although not having the same movement or makeup that is to be found in the former dog, was awarded second. In the open class, Sergt. Lad pulled himself together and, after showing splendidly, Dr. White altered his former decision and placed the dogs vice versa. I favored this decision of the judge's. The death of

Mr. T. K. MacKenzie's tri-color Melfort Marquis during the show left R. R. Gray's Hiawatha with a clear field. This dog is too fine in bone for his height. A. W. McLimont's Bob was best of a very moderate white collie class. In bitches was to be found the hottest competition, the Juvenile class being won by T. Donald's Lady Snowdrop. A nice, rangy young bitch which carried herself well, and should have been entered in more classes. Second went to Scottish Naughty Girl, a more cumbersome class of a puppy, but with good expression and condition. Honors in Puppy and Junior Bitch classes were handed to J. Cherrett's Dartmouth Perfection, but a protest was lodged and upheld on account of her ears having been tampered with. This is regrettable, as she was a really nice little bitch spoiled. First in Puppy class went to T. K. MacKenzie's Melfort Marnee, a puppy with lovely expression and good carriage, but not in best of condition. Fanciers would do well to note this name. Second place went to H. Leslie's Scotia Daisy, a puppy slightly weak on hind legs, but a great front and full of vim. In the advanced classes T. Rait's Scottish Special ran out winners. A nice showy little bitch, could have smaller eyes and less gay ear carriage. She was set down in good bloom. Leith Queen, the property of T. Donald, was placed second limit and third open. rather a nice stamp of a brood bitch, slightly overshot. In open class Ch. Weston Refinement was awarded second place, but from the amount of avoirdupois she carried it looks as though she were resting comfortably on her laurels, but with it all she had lots of energy, and still carries her high quality mark. Reserve went to F. Webb's Mayflower Patricia. On the opening day I sized up this bitch and on comparison appealed to me as becoming the winner, but on the following day she entered the ring with a dopy and lifeless look, and in spite of a big effort on the part of her handler, failed to even raise her ears. She was either sick or worse, to my idea. It was certainly not nervousness. J. B. Guarnera had, on exhibition, Ch. Imera Whyzetta and Imera. Impression, both out of coat, but otherwise looking good and full of winning quality. In the brace competition, T. Rait was placed first, H. Leslie second, and T. K. MacKenzie third.

The subject of our front page illustration this month is that newly-imported bulldog, "Clevelock Unity," which arrived recently in Toronto to the order of that staunch supporter of the breed, Mr. T. Hicks.

We have had the pleasure of going over this grand little dog, and predict a big future for him, both on the bench and at stud.

He is a compact and exceedingly well-balanced little fellow, remarkably good head, big, flat skull, with eyes and ears correctly placed, deep, square muzzle, with under-jaw to match, excelling in shoulder formation and spring of rib, and the shortest of backs. Add to these his lowness to ground, with deep brisket and good bone, and we have a specimen that will be a valuable asset to the breed in this country.

His successes in the show rings of England are many, and we need only mention his wins under such authorties of Dr. Rowbottom, Messrs. Crabtree, Anderson, Ray, etc. These alone stamp the hall-mark of quality upon him.

A glance at his pedigree reveals a combination of strains that have been responsible for the production of our best specimens. With such credentials as these, we have no hesitation in introducing him to our readers, and at the same time congratulating his new owner on the purchase of such a typical animal. Turn to our advertising pages, and there you will find what may be described as a study in extended pedigree—a study of which will bear out every remark made in this short review.

BACK TO BONNIE SCOTLAND

One of the old Dundee fanciers, who went to Canada some time ago, Mr. John Ferguson, has now returned to his native city. During his sojourn in the Land of the Maple Leaf he was a prominent breeder and successful exhibitor of Bulldogs, and held the position of treasurer of the Regina Kennel Club (of which the Terrier fancier, Mr. Norman MacKenzie, K.C., is president). In handing in his resignation of that post, the committee, to show their appreciation of his services on behalf of the club, elected him to be the first honorary life member. He is now in course of forming a kennel of Bulls at his new home in Dundee .- "Our Dogs."

Items of Interest From Far and Near

G. E. White, Lacombe, Alta., reports that he has just purchased the grandly-bred Russian Wolfhound bitch, Rhazda of Anoakia, by the English champion, Ramsden Radium, ex Ch. Konsha o' Valley Farm, and bred by Mrs. Anita Baldwin, Santa Anita, California. The first six ancestors in Rhazda's pedigree are all champions. She is about 32 inches in height, and her individuality is in keeping with her blood lines. Mr. White believes there is nothing too good for the Cold Springs Stock Farm, and we wish him the best of luck with this latest addition to his breeding and exhibition

Charles Clark, Toronto, reports a nice litter of little "sour mugs," three males and two females, by Ch. Jellicoe, ex Lincoln Lass, every one a "Whatwe-have-we'll-hold" specimen.

J. Barlow, Ottawa, writes that the satisfaction he has had from the mating of his Riverside Topsy to Mrs. M. Beland's good stud, Stormlight of Dara, is such that he has reserved services for his winning bitches, Lansdowne Duchess and Lansdowne Betty, to this worthy sire.

Charles F. Sturgess, Arcola, Sask., sent a real snappy little Wire Fox Terrier bitch to Toronto to be bred to Ch. Mickey's Model while champion Mickey was at the kennel of Harry Selby, at Regina, scarcely 100 miles away, as the crow flies. But the sequel was O.K. The little traveller was in good keeping from the time of her reaching the "city of churches and banks," and was mated to Parkton Collarbone, and the results will more than likely bring more than compensation for all the worry. We wish Charlie the best of luck.

J. H. Crocker, Kildonan Kennels, Winnipeg, writes that a nice litter of "sour mugs" have appeared at his kennel from his good female Trilby, the sire, Sanfeild Marquis. Friend Crocker is general secretary, Central West Division, Y.M.C.A., and when he says the youngsters "are very good," then they must needs be so.

Mrs. C. B. Firman reports an elegant litter of Boston puppies, all dark seal brindles and nicely marked. The dam is the owner's good bitch, Peg o' My Heart.

A. Paterson, St. Julien Hotel, Market street, was the recipient a couple of days ago of a most unusual Christmas box. His Russian wolfhound, Lizka Henriette, presented him with thirteen puppies, all alive and in the pink of condition—eight males and five females. Mr. Paterson can lay claim to being the only wolfhound owner and breeder in this city, and is justly proud of his four-footed family.

The Scottish Kennel Club's show has come and gone, and it was in every sense an outstanding success. gate was a revelation-£321, splendid takings for one day. It was, however, a tremendous rush from beginning to end, and a show of this magnitude should certainly be of two days' duration. What a gathering of the clans it was, too, scores of fanciers greeting each other who had not met since prewar days. Retrievers were probably the best group on view. Scottish. Cairn and Dandie Dinmont Terriers also made a fine show, both in numbers and quality. Wire Fox Terriers were again a long way in front of their smooth cousins, numerically as well as regards merit. Bulldogs made a fine show, and a goodly share of the honors here remained north of the Tweed. The larger breeds were somewhat of a failure, Mr. "Willie" Shannon earned golden encomiums for the splendid manner in which he carried out the duties of show manager.

Humphrey Elliott, Ottawa, who bred Haymarket Faultless, the Bull Terrier that won best in show, all breeds, at Westminster in 1918 and was reserve winner at the same show last February, will not sell Faultless for less than $5,000. He has had several offers for the dog and turned all of them down. "It took me forty years to produce the result which Faultless represents, and I spent $20,000 in doing so, therefore $5,000 is not an exorbitant price for Faultless." Fanciers who know Humphrey Elliott know that he is most conservative in his estimations of his own dogs.

ENGLAND'S BEST PEKINGESE DOG COMES TO CANADA

Sam Bamford, writing from Blackburn, England, says he is having a real good time in the 'land of his fathers," and enjoying himself immensely. A town each day is Sam's speed, and may be considered good going.

England has the "real dogs" yet, but the prices are high, in keeping with the quality. At Formby the other day Sam was looking over England's great collie, Poplar Perfection, and asked for a price on him—£1,000 (quids, not dollars)—our correspondent was not sure whether it was bronchitis or asthma that was catching his breath.

Several good Pekes, including the best Pekingese male in England, some Fox Terriers and a couple of Airedales have been corralled for Sam, but no Bulldogs yet, although he is keen on bringing back something real "hot" in that breed as well.

A KENNEL AND BENCH, a New York premium list list, and a desire to wish the fanciers of Canada a Happy New Year, furnish Sam's list of wants, and as he will sail for Canada on January 3rd we will soon have him back with us again.—Ed.

A LUCKY DOG

A freak shot by a hunter in which a single bullet passed through the nose and jaw of his dog without seriously injuring it and then passing on killed a coyote, is recorded as having happened on Iron Mountain, near Merritt. in the interior of British Columbia, on Nov. 7th, 1919. Mr. F. G. Blankenship was carrying a small calibre, high power rifle. His dog was a long way ahead following a coyote, and when within a few feet of his prey was suddenly startled by a shot from his master's gun. Mr. Blankenship was about a hundred yards distant from the coyote when he fired and the dog was not within range. Just at the moment he fired, however, the dog jumped at the coyote, receiving the bullet through his nose. It came out through at the side of his jaw and killed the coyote. The dog was not seriously hurt, not even a bone being broken.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Miss M. Robson, Montreal, the energetic secretary of the Ladies' Kennel Club, Montreal, is in Toronto for a few weeks, and declares it a real good place for one to holiday in. She informs us that six little Sealyham Terriers are waiting her return. They are out of her winning female, Wilmington Wasp, and are extremely typical.

CHAMPION "ALSTEAD AEROPLANE" Property of Alick Donaldson, Toronto. Late Secretary Collie Club of Canada.

The MODERN PRODIGAL'S RETURN

THE EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD

THE EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD

Fanciers in general, and the Collie fraternity in particular, will be delighted to hear that the renowned Collie, Champion "Alstead Aeroplane," has been found and is now safely housed in the Alton Kennels.

It will be remembered that about 10 months ago this noted dog, fresh from his American victories, arrived in Toronto to the order of Mr. "Alick" Donaldson. A few hours after his arrival he escaped and has been at large until his sensational capture on December 29th.

During the ensuing period no effort was spared in the endeavor to locate the missing canine, handsome rewards were offered, search parties were organized, willing fanciers searched the city and sour rewards were offered, search parties were organized, willing fanciers searched the city and sour interest of the dog's recovery, alive or dead.

The enthusiastic owner, a great-hearted Scot and Collie lover, never gave in, but searched far and wide, late and early, until news reached him that the dog was cunning at large in the vicinity of High Park, Toronto.

A search party immediately went out and succeeded in tracking the dog to his lair (a comfortable home he had made for himself underneath one of the Park's pavilions.) Efforts to remove him from his den were unsuccessful until the assistance of that ever-ready Veterinarian and fancier's friend, Dr. J. A. Campbell, arrived. Under the Doctor's able guidance the runaway canine was soon safely captured, placed in the Doctor's auto, and eventually arrived at the Alton Kennels safely. The news of the dog's capture brought forth showers of congratulations to Mr. Donaldson, as the dog was very valuable, and now he should prove a great factor in the making of Collie history in Canada.

We feel sure the "fancy" at large will rejoice with us at the return of that "prodigal camne, Ch. Alstead Aeroplane, to our ranks, and extend our hearty congratulations to his owner.

The dog is in marvellous condition, everything considered, and it will only be a matter of time until he is

As I am writing, I am thinking of the Christmas of 1917, the last Christmas of the war-time! Our brave defenders, the English, the Americans, the Canadians, the Australians, the Indians, the French, the Italians, etc., were then still in the trenches, or at the different fronts generally, and many of them, alas, did not return home! The Christmas of 1918 was already not a "fighting" Christmas, but, being only about a month after the armistice, it was not the same as Christmas of this year, which is the Christmas of peace par excellence. For us doggy-people, the Festive Season, the Season of Seasons, so to say, is, first of all, the time of the Christmas numbers of our doggy journals, and it is usually to them that we all look eagerly with the approach of the month of December, and I know it for sure that many a conversation by the fireside turns round the question of "what sort of Christmas Number will be "Our Dogs"? "What sort of Christmas Number will be that of "The Dog World" (ci-devant "Illustrated Kennel News)"?

As I write, on the 14th of December, 1919, I have before me the two Xmas Numbers: that of "Our Dogs" and that of "The Dog World," and I must tell your readers that I cannot proceed with the present review as quickly as I would wish or as time requires, for, at every moment, I must turn to the pages of the above two numbers. I must again and again look into them, admire them, scan them again and again-and then, suddenly, I remember that I have these two numbers before me for the purpose of reviewing them to the best of my poor literary abilities. Now, I have just again lost a good ten minutes in looking through those numbers, but if your readers could only have a glance at them, they would do exactly the same, I can assure them!

If I tell you that the Christmas Number of "Our Dogs" for 1919, or, rather, its illustrated supplement, contains 164 pages, as against 80 pages in 1918, and if I tell you that the whole issue of the 12th December contains 252 pages, you will have an idea of what this Xmas Number represents. I think that if Mr. Marples, the esteemed Editor of "Our Dogs," and all his capable staff, were wizards, they could not have produced a better number, for it is not only full of interesting articles, but it contains illustrations and reviews of kennels, which should appeal to the most fastidious of all our fanciers, at home and abroad.

The Christmas Number of "The Dog World" is not an illustrated supplement, but is embodied in the weekly issue itself, but it is printed on good paper, contains interesting articles, and is profusely illustrated.

If we can consider our Christmas Numbers as criterions of the present position of our dog fancy, then I am sure the latter is again in a good way. and, if the rabies restrictions are removed beginning of the New Year, which I rather think they will, then our dog fancy will again be what it has been before the war, i.e., in a flourishing condition, and that very quickly, I can assure you.

And now I must leave your readers, with the strongest of all the strong advices, and this is: get the above Christmas Numbers as quickly as you can, or you may be disappointed in being too late to get them!

G. HOROWITZ.

A COMBINATION THAT IS SYNONYMOUS WITH SATISFACTION

THIS dog needs no introduction to the bulldog fancy. His stock is so well-known, both in Eastern and Western Canada, it being a well-known fact that every puppy from this stock is a show specimen.

READ the following comments from the press of Western Canada, which will serve to convince you that the fanciers of the West agree with our Eastern judgments:

BULLDOG WINNERS AT WINNIPEG SHOW

PRINCE ROLAND SCORES CLEAN-CUT VICTORY

(BY DANDIE DINMONT JR.)

The victory of Mrs. Frances Pratt's brindle bulldog. Prince Roland, over all other dogs of the British national breed at the Fort Garry Club's show last week, came as a pleasant surprise to the owner and to local bulldog fanciers. Though little more than two years old, "Roland" has done considerable winning both in Eastern and Western Canada, and, given good health and condition, he is practically certain to soon attain to the proud position of winning bulldog. He was bred by G. P. Farrell, secretary of the Bulldog Breeders' Association of Canada (Toronto) and purchased last spring by Mrs. F. Pratt for a substantial amount, running well into three figures. Born on September 2nd, 1917, a son of Jumbo Rollo and Sandfield Betty. Prince Roland is a capital type of the British bulldog, brindle smut in color, with first-class head properties, plenty of bone and substance, low to ground, and as sound as a bell of brass; and to cap his good qualities, he is endowed with one of the best dispositions we have yet observed—even among bulldogs, which, as a rule, are renowned for their amiability and good temper.

At the Bench Show held in the city last week, Prince rule, are renowned for their amiability and good temper.

At the Bench Show held in the city last week, Prince Roland was picked by the Judge, Dr. C. A. White, as best bulldog in the show. The judge awarded him first limit, first open, winners' dogs (over 45 lbs.), and he also captured seven special prizes donated for best limit and open dog over 45 lbs. in weight, and for best bulldog exhibited. He is just over 50 lbs., the ideal' weight for a bulldog.

Euldog breeding and raising are somewhat of the nature of a lottery in Canada and the United States, so that when two Canadian-bred dogs head the polls for their respective sexes, their owners are honestly entitled to the congratulations of their brother fanciers. Many obstacles must be overcome in founding a good kennel of British bulldogs, and most breeders suffer many disappointments before succeeding in their ambition of raising a champion dog.

ers suffer many disappointments before succeeding in their ambition of raising a champion dog.

No Canadian-bred buildog has become so speedily famous in canine circles, this year, as G. P. Farrell's typical white and pied bitch, Princess Pat, who, making her first appearance in the show ring this season, has had practically an unbroken winning career, and now only lacks two points of the number required to entitle her to championship honors. Princess Pat made her debut under keen competition at the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show, being awarded four firsts, winners' and three special prizes at that fixture. She next competed at the Ladies' Kennel Club Show, Montreal, where she again captured winners', two firsts, and three specials, including that for best bull-bitch in show. She then went on to the Telephone City Kennel Club's show at Brantford, Ont., where she was awarded two firsts, winners' and special for best bulldog in the show. Should her owner exhibit her at the Toronto Kennel Club's fall show next week, she can hardly fail to make up the quota of points entitling her to a CK.C. championship and cups.

As the dam of litters of prize-winning pupples, Princess Pat is in a class by herself. Every puppy is a show dog, and when old enough, can hold its own in the heavyweight classes. Two of Princess Pat's last litter (by Kilburn Fascinator) Advance Guard and Princess Disdain, have done well every time shown, and are a credit to their breeder in every respect.

A circumstance that adds to the interest attaching to Princess Pat's career, in the judgment of western fanciers, is that she is litter steried in every kennel Club's recent show.

ADVANCE GUARD has no need to rely on his sire or dam's performances to advertise himself. As a puppy be has competed in all large Eastern Shows and carried Blue Ribbons as well as winning the Puppy Variety Class, Canadian National Exhibition, 1919. Why resort to using imported dogs whose pedigrees are unknown, when you can have the services of a dog bred from stock that has been proven in your own Show Rings?

SHORT CUT

THE SENSATIONAL WIRE HAIRED FOX TERRIER PUPPY

Henry C. Whitley, Esq., of Montreal

Henry C. Whitley's "Short Cut," a sensational son of the noted winner and sire, Champion Pride's Hill Tweak 'Em, made his debut as a ten months' old puppy at the Ladies' Kennel Club Show in Montreal, on September 20, unknown and unsung, and there blazed a spectacular trail from the puppy classes right through to best of all breeds in show. In his trail finished such noted winners as International Champion "Polam Maxim," the great Airedale; the noted Boston Terrier, "Joyce's Prince," and the noted winning Wire, "Ridgeway Dark Boy"; "Short Cut's" kennel mate, "Pride's Hill Trench-man," another son of "Tweak 'Em," went to reserve winners in the same show, following "Short Cut" in second place throughout.

"Short Cut" is generally accredited with being one of the finest Terriers out in years. He owns a long, well-shaped head, with strong foreface, dark eye, small, well-carried ears, perfect front, fine legs and feet, excellent neck and shoulders, and bone carried right down to his toes. He has improved considerably over his puppy form, and is rated by those who have recently seen him, as a real contender for highest Wire Terrier honors. J. J. O'Callahan and George S. Thomas were the judges under whom "Short Cut" scored his sensational victory at the L. K. C. Show.

By Rothesay Shanty (Champion Shanty, ex. Rothesay Gypsy) ex. Rothesay Lena (Garnock Roy, ex. Eglinton Lass).

"ROTHESAY CRACK" was imported by Messrs. Lister Bros., the well-known breeders of Scotties, and after being placed third at Westmitter Show, New York, he was withdrawn from further showing on account of an injury to an ear, caused in a show-ring fight.

"ROTHESAY CRACK" is a low-hung, solidly-built, big-little Scottie. He has a grand dark coat, dark eye, straight front, heavy bone, with sound quarters, and a short, well-carried tail. He has small ears, deep chest, cobby action, and always showing. A dog full of Scottie character, even tempered and a true die-hard.

His puppies are uniformly good and none of them have shown that shyness which is found in some of the other blood lines. FEE, $10,00 Prepaid.

Bitches to be shipped Dominion Express.
