A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of the Canadian Kennel Club will be held in the offices of the Club on October 21st, 1920, commencing at 8 p.m.

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club was held at the offices of the club, 774½ Yonge street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, September 16th, at 8 o'clock, the first vice-president, Mr. Harry Clayton, in the chair.

The following members of the Board of Directors were in attendance: Messrs. Geo. C. Briggs, Harry Clayton, N. R. Miller, Norman K. Swire and Donald Wheeler. Directors H. M. Jackson and Neil Renwick were out of town on business, while George Ward was attending London Dog Show, and the president, Mr. Joseph Russell, was attending Ottawa Dog Show.

W. Stroud, Toronto, was present, and explained his difficulties in securing the necessary signatures required to effect registration for one of his dogs, and was advised that he leave the matter in the hands of the secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and on motion were declared approved.

The secretary introduced correspondence to show that the registration of a Pekingese female was being delayed on account of a member withholding the papers, and was instructed to write asking that such documents as were necessary be given over at once.

The following accounts were presented for payment:

And it was moved and seconded that the bills be paid.

The secretary presented the following list of applications for membership in the Canadian Kennel Club for approval:

George Moore, 510 Yonge street, Toronto; Francis J. Williams, 308 Queen street east, Toronto; Walter Wilson, 421 Centennial street, Winnipeg; Thomas P. Hord, Strathroy, Ont.; E. A. Fitzsimmons, 26 Marjory avenue, Toronto; Mrs. Alfred Smith, 119 Frank street, Ottawa, Ont.; Alex. Horne, 61 Cobourg avenue, Winnipeg, Man.; Wm. Evans, 91 Pears avenue, Toronto; H. E. Bimting, Woodstock, Ont.; Wm. de Valadores, 184 Concord avenue, Toronto; James Lockhart, 377 Avondale avenue, Hamilton; Dr. F. Blanchard, 9 Ridout street, Lindsay, Ont.; Frank W. Swaffer, 391 Bowman avenue, E. Kildonan, Winnipeg, Man.; John Harold Thorley, 5th street, New Toronto; Mrs. Florence Ogilvie, 45 St. Venieve avenue, Quebec; W. Lockhart, 345 Ossington avenue, Toronto; Mathew Willerton, New Toronto P.O., Ont.; Frank Hipkiss, 21 Badgerow avenue, Toronto.

And it was moved and seconded that the applications be approved and received to membership. Carried.

Several applications for registration of dogs which had been registered in the Dominion Kennel Club were considered, and it was agreed that "they lie on the table for the present."

This being the business before the meeting, it was moved and seconded "that the meeting adjourn." Carried.

A general meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club was held at the Administration Building of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, on Wednesday evening, September 8th, 1920, Mr. Joseph Russell, president, in the chair. Mr. S. Harris, a Canadian National Exhibition director, was present, the guest of the president, and addressed the members in an entertaining and pleasing strain, which indicated the fact that anything pertaining to the welfare of dogs and their owners as far as the Canadian National Exhibition was concerned could depend on all the support that he could offer in their interest.

The following members were present: H. Armistead, J. Renwick, G. Briggs, H. Clayton, A. Donaldson, Dr. C. Elliott, B. Finnie, J. Gordon, H. M. Jackson, T. Lacey, A. Marsden, N. R. Miller, Jos. Russell, R. Sparks, F. Simmons, B. Swann, W. Taylor, J. E. Thorpe, G. Ward, J. Waggett, D. Wheeler, R. Wilkinson, H. A. Wilson, and the secretary.

L. Parker, Toronto, again was in attendance to plead for the consideration of the members on behalf of himself and his wife. The president, with his usual consideration for justice, allowed the appeal, and ruled that Mr. Parker state the two cases, and that of Mrs. Jeannie Parker first. After hearing the appeal, the question opened for discussion, when it was moved and seconded "That the decision already arrived at by the Board of Directors be sustained." Carried.

Mr. Parker then stated his case on his own behalf, in what seemed to be a repentant spirit, and when he had finished, it was moved and seconded "that the case of Mr. Parker be not re-opened." Carried.

When the sense of both motions was made clear to the suspended member he immediately became disorderly, and had to be ejected from the meeting; his behaviour was considered obnoxious and altogether unbecoming in a gentleman.

The minutes of the last general meeting were read by the secretary, and on motion was declared approved.

The secretary submitted a comparative statement, showing a steady growth in every department of the club's business, which was well received.

Several members were present with complaints regarding registration, which opened up the general question of registered dogs, and it was moved and seconded that "a committee to be named to take up the whole question of registration." Carried.

One of the members took exception to the name "Belgian Sheep Dog," and produced proofs that dogs owned by him were registered in the land of their origin as "German Shepherd Dog," and it was moved and seconded "that the proper name for the several breeds of European sheep dogs be established." Carried.

It was pointed out by a member that an English bulldog named "Jellicoe," with a Canadian Kennel Club registration number, was benched, while another dog of the same breed had been recorded in that name. The secretary reported that this case had already been drawn to his attention, and was now under consideration, and it was agreed to leave the matter in his hands.

The meeting was very interesting, and adjourned at 10.30.

OUR FONTISPIECE.

The subject of our front page illustration for the current month is none other than International Champion Alstead Aeroplane, the well known Rough Collie, owned by Alexander Donaldson, Toronto.

Seldom have International championships come the way of Collie fanciers in Canada, and it is with keen pleasure we chronicle the unique event, and congratulate the owner for his dogged determination to own one of the very best of the Collie breed, a determination which his friends know was always uppermost in his mind, and his high ideal is now more than complete.

It will be remembered that the morning following "Aeroplane's" arrival in Canada, and before his new owner had time to thoroughly examine his good dog, the animal cleared a six foot fence and made a clear getaway that caused him to be a homeless celebrity for almost 10 long months, and it was generally conceded that the famous American champion was dead. The owner, however, never gave up the hope of one day finding his treasure, and no one ever heard him complain of complete loss. "Aeroplane's" re-appearance was almost as dramatic as his disappearance, and the morning that the great Collie was safely kennelled at the Alton Kennels saw the beginning of happy days for his enthusiastic owner.

His Canadian championship was secured in four askings, the most important of which was the Canadian National Exhibition, when Judge Norman K. Swire, Canada's foremost Collie authority, placed Alstead Aeroplane the best of his breed, rough or smooth.

It is not only as a show dog that International champion Alstead Aeroplane shines, brilliant as that admittedly is, but as a sire. Puppies by him are stamped by his individuality, and his influence on Canadian Collie-dom will be demonstrated at our forthcoming shows. Mr. Donaldson has been advised to raise the stud fee of his dog to $50, but he believes that $25 is a reasonable fee for all Collie fanciers to pay, and has decided that $25 will still be the stud fee of this rare Collie.

His breeding demands the attention of every student of the Rough Collie, it being a beautifully balanced combination of the best of the "Southport," "Parbold" and "Seedley" strains, the pillars of the breed all over the world. It is to be hoped, for the sake of Collie-dom generally, that the services of International champion Alstead Aeroplane, will continue to be in great demand. Fabulous offers have been made to Mr. Donaldson from American fanciers for the purchase of Alstead Aeroplane, while it is an open secret that Mrs. C. M. Lunt, the mistress of Alstead Kennels, and breeder of the subject of our review, would dearly love to have "Dick" back with her at Rahway, N.J., again. To all these "temptations" (as Mr. Donaldson aptly terms the offers), a smiling face and a deaf ear is the only reply. We again congratulate the owner, and trust that many further high honors may yet come his way. Alton Kennel is at 47 Alton Avenue, Toronto, where Collie fanciers are always welcome.

Our Recent Shows

Work and Prosper

The above was the slogan of the Canadian National Exhibition this year, and everywhere there were convincing evidences that the slogan had caught on in a most remarkable way, but nowhere so strikingly as at the Dog Show, which marked the thirty-second year of its existence. Over 700 dogs were entered and almost that number actually benched, for every available benching space in the building, a dog was snugly benched, and right here, we go on record as declaring, that the Canadian National Dog Show of 1920, was the best managed of all its many predecessors. The building, old as it is, was immaculately clean, fresh, and free from odor and reflects the greatest possible credit on the Dog Show Committee, (the Chairman of which is the President of our own club), the Superintendent Mr. Fred Jacobi (our 2nd Vice-President) and all the others associated with them this year. Mr. P. Herd, who had charge of the cleaning and feeding arrangements won the plaudits of the exhibitors for his unfailing energy and courtesy at all times.

The attendance surpassed anything ever experienced before, and at times the crowds were so great that movement was impossible. One wit, had it right when he said "I never saw such a hydraulic crush of humanity in my life before." Still everyone appeared to be enjoying their discomfiture as became the good sportspeople that they undoubtedly were.

Judging was punctually started, and the four rings were about as busy as beehives in clover time. For the first time in many years English Bulldogs were the first breed to be called, and 72 were on hand to answer the summons. Some of the Classes had over 20 entered for the inspection of F. Freeman Lloyd, and his was a titanic task which kept him busy the whole long afternoon and well into the night. That he made several reversals is not to be wondered at. It is one thing to sit on the rail and criticize, but a very different thing to get the huge entry of 67 bulldogs placed where they belong. Boston Terriers were 65, Cocker Spaniels 63, and Pomeranians 59, Airedale Terriers 50.

To name the out of town visitors we noticed, would be considered an outrage on the well-known scarcity of printing paper, suffice it to say they were legion and from every part of the Dominion of Canada and the United States. Jack Holgate, on his way from England to Ottawa, is the only exception we make, and Jack was greatly impressed with the magnitude of the Show, and the quality of the dogs benched, and Jack Holgate knows whereof he speaks.

We have outgrown our present building so much so, that entries had to be returned. Surely the Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition will not tolerate that state of affairs any longer than is absolutely necessary. We realize that many difficulties have been met, and that new buildings have been held up, but now we are passing them, and we will see what another year brings forth for us. Meanwhile let us Work and Prosper.

MONTREAL KENNEL ASSN. MID-SUMMER DOG SHOW.

This fixture was held at Longueuil Park on August 28th. The weather man was in an extra good humor, and the day and the location were both ideal. A large-roofed enclosure was prepared for the judging rings in case of rain, but luckily was not needed. There were several added attractions in addition to the dog show proper, and these are all well worthy of a word of comment. All the members' wives and families were invited as guests of the club, and were all present and were provided with lunch, consisting of Gaspé salmon salad with vegetables, sandwiches of all kinds, ice cream ad lib., tea, coffee, soft drinks and cake. Needless to say, the ladies' committee in charge of the lunch room were kept busy, and over 200 guests were entertained by the club. Another feature was a series of games and races for the members' children. Everything from skipping contests to sack races was on the programme and the club provided prizes for each event. A troop of Boy Scouts from St. Lambert were of great assistance to Judge Todd, of the M. K. A., in running off the different events. One other item is worthy of special comment before we get back to the dogs. This was an enormous receptacle containing a decoction consisting of lemons, sugar, ice, spices and other liquids that "Tommy" Ritchie (some brewer) refused to divulge the nature of. Bert Swann, Toronto, was present (in gala attire), and "Bert" said "Tommy" is wasting time breeding and judging dogs, as there is a fortune right at his hand these torrid "Dry" days if he will only concentrate his energies on what he has an undoubted gift for. Bert should know, as he devoted a portion of his holding capacity to finding room for a couple of samples which were free to all comers. Bert also remarked that this show would always be remembered by him, as it was the first time in his career that he had been at a show solely as a spectator, and also it was the first time in his life that he had the opportunity to get his shoes washed in such a fluid. When he had satisfied his thirst Alf Lepine, who was bartender, offered to throw "a wee drapple aboot him."

There were 140 dogs entered, and the prize list contained 130 Specials, including $200 in cash. Many youngsters came out at this show that were making their debut to the fancy. Quality was good, especially in Wires and Bulldogs, for which Montreal is noted. The judges were H. E. Whitely, Wires, Airedales and Irish Terriers; Frank Stuart, Large Breeds and Sporting Dogs; T. Ritchie, Toys, except Pomeranians, which were taken care of by Mr. W. T. Goodman; Bob Mills, Bulldogs, and Harry Silver, all other breeds and unclassified specials. Their work was done in a very careful and painstaking manner, and was very favorably commented on by the Fancy present. Bert Swann had a ringside seat and a large cigar, and followed the placings very closely, and evidently enjoyed the unusual sensation of being a spectator at a dog show. Best in show, all breeds, went to the bulldog "Who Goes There," and Ch. "Sonora Nancy" was best of the opposite sex. She also took all the sporting dog specials. A Yorkshire Terrier that John Kenyon would travel miles to see won special for best Toy in the show, and the grand old veteran, Ch. "Dusky Bounce," looking fit as usual, won for best Terrier in show. Wires were the hot section in the breed classes with 22 entered, and many promising puppies were out for the first time. Bounce headed the dog division, and the Malden Kennels also scored premier honors in the bitch section, with Malden "Dusky Polly," who went from puppy to winners, scoring over such good ones as "Devonian Khaki," Malden "Dusky Reba" and other good ones. This puppy bitch caused quite a sensation among the fancy present. She is not yet ready, but looks like a real comer, and her ring manners were perfect, as she showed like a veteran, and will undoubtedly go very high when she is finished.

We would like to publish the awards by classes, but there being so many licensed shows to report in this and several subsequent issues that we find this impossible. Montreal's summer show suggests one way of keeping the kennel club's enthusiasm at high-water mark, which, after all is said and done, is the backbone of every club.—Ed.

R. Wilkinson, Toronto, advises us that his "Bankers Conqueror" (see our advertising section) has been visited recently by the following matrons: J. Horrel's "Silent Duchess," D. Daniels' "Ugly Beauty," Mrs. Kellatt's "Lady Kootenay," Hornby & Rodgers' "Lady Jellicoe," and E. Connery's "Roxanna."

OTTAWA DOG SHOW

For many years the hard working, earnest, enthusiastic executive of the Central Canada Exhibition Dog Show department have looked forward to the day when their fixture would grow to, at least, three point strength; and this year, every endeavor was directed towards that goal. Chairman Dr. Geo. Hilton as early as January had declared that nothing else would suffice; he knew he had the Exhibition Board in sympathy with his ambitions, he had the money to offer, and plenty of it; he had the building, everything only the entry, and that was what would count, in the end.

Well, it must be a three point show, that was definite and final, every attraction lined up, but in order that no cog could slip in the perfected machine, an outside judge of international reputation, was considered to be the cope stone, and the services of Jack J. Holgate, of Doncaster, England, was secured, which justified the faith of the indomitable Doctor and his colleagues, who had the supreme satisfaction of having three hundred and sixty-three dogs actually benched, and his three championship point goal attained. Mr. Holgate certainly lived up to his advance notices, with lots to spare, and the remark, "That man knows the dogs all right," was general amongst all branches of the fancy.

Humphrey Elliott, Ottawa, and Wm. Austin, Toronto, cared for American Foxhounds and Boston Terriers respectively, and both were favored with flattering entries, testimony to their popularity and knowledge of these breeds.

Superintendent W. F. Turner is the right man in the right place. Kindly and courteous in his relationship to the exhibitors, whilst his building is always a model for cleanliness and order. No one takes their troubles to the Superintendent and comes away disappointed. Jack Ferguson has charge of the books, and he, too, is always on the job. "Bob" Ross, Montreal, is elected ring steward, and Jack Holgate thinks Bob 100 per cent. efficiency at the job, and says so. Mr. Holgate speaks optimistically of Canadian dogs, and pays tribute to their quantity and quality.

Ottawa is on the dog map to stay, and the consensus of opinion is "That it gets more like the Canadian National every year."

NEW BRUNSWICK KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Notes By the Judge.

Dear Mr. Editor: Just off for the Californian trip via boat to New Orleans, but before leaving, felt that I must send you a few notes on St. John show. It was the largest and best in the history of the club, with remarkable good quality in sporting dogs, and all of the winners were workers, by that I mean real good field dogs, and shown in rare form, as hard as nails, and looked the part. As a band of fanciers the St. John committee are truly remarkable, the secretary, W. C. McKay, a host in himself, plodding all the time, and with but one thought in his mind, the dog and its owner. As to the others, they did their very best; but four stand out, viz., E. J. Wallace, the superintendent; R. Alward, Thomas Killen, and John Scott, who were at my heels all the time, so much so that at the close of the show I remarked to McKay: "Well, you certainly are some hustlers here, and those four fellows who attended to the details of the show have earned every cent they get." To this he replied, "Pay, why we are all amateurs." Well, this took me completely off my feet. Here were men who had neglected their business for two weeks, fixing up the benching, all home-made, and working as though their very lives depended on the way in which every detail was carried out. It was, indeed, a revelation to me, and I take this opportunity of proclaiming the St. John committee as the very best ever. As to the exhibitors, I did not hear one single "kick" they may well be termed sportsmen in every sense of the word.

Sporting dogs were exceedingly good, with several puppies appearing that should make history. Racket, entered for specials only, beat the winning Irish setter, Barney II., for the best local dog. There was very little in it, both being in superb form. The winner had a shade the better muzzle, and more liberty both in shoulders and hocks. Both were good enough for the keenest of competition, and could make the going interesting for the best at American shows. A very good puppy, Count May Fly, by Racket, was best puppy, and winners dogs in English setters, a real good one all over, especially so in head, bone and quarters. She needs more depth of chest, but beat her noted dam, Princess Patricia, in shoulders, skull and condition.

Eighteen Irish setters, best of breed, going to the bitch, Sonora Rheola Jess, I believe Montreal-bred; not in the best of condition, that is, muscle, as she had just weaned puppies, but in good coat, she will at times favor her right pastern; otherwise I could not fault her; splendid color, with rare bone, perfect shoulders, sound quarters, with splendid action, while in head and expression is all that one might desire. She beat the winning dog, Barney II., in head, shoulders and hocks. Barney II. is a very striking dog, shown in perfect condition, and poses well, but he will not move in the ring; so I took him outside in the big exercising, where I saw that he is somewhat straight in hocks, and lacks liberty, a real good Irish setter nevertheless, and the best of a real smart entry in dogs, three of which could make the best go some in America. Two very smart puppies, Nip and Glencho Betty, show much promise.

Collies had but ten, the best of breed going to a rare-headed tricolor, Ormskirk Squire, in grand form. He might make more of his ears, but in flatness and length of skull, expression, front, body and coat, is all "Collie." The same might be said of the winning bitches, Campbell Stylish and Ormskirk Lady; placed as written, the former scored in ears and bone. Airedales had 22, all sorts, the majority being heavy in skull and overtrimmed. Evidently the majority had used "clippers." The actual winners, however, were good; best of breed went to an unknown, Crack Desire, a big rangy sort, with rare length of head, and good at both ends, but was too long cast. He won with a bit to spare from the rare-boned and cobby-bodied Sir Douglas Haig, with great bone, and some quarters, strong enough for a bull; he is coarse in head and heavy in ears. Among the also-rans was Belleview Ranger, a quality sort, but badly shown, being in poor coat, and badly trimmed. When fit he should get into the money as he is type. The L. McRitchie kennel had a "field" day in Cockers, getting all the winners with a very level entry of parti-colors, best being Sir Namgis, a good-headed black and white, and very sound in body. English Bulldogs had lots of quality, Wm. Mackin getting best of breed with a very promising brindle, Victorious, who should prove aptly named, as he is good all over. For reserve I gave the prize to Rocky Silent Witness, a very striking white with brindle patch. He was somewhat lucky to beat Guardsman, just out of puppyhood, which had the better head and bone, but at present undeveloped in body. If he lets down, he will be hard to beat. The Montreal champion, Nilamble Garland, not at her best, being much too thin, won easily in bitches from a good class. She is all type, and poses well. She should breed a champion. Bostons were a mixed lot, the best being First Chance, and Peter Hopeful, placed as written, the former scoring in markings and muzzle, but was not so cobby as second, which shows much of the rare type of that great sire, Peter's King. Fox Terriers were a surprise. An old favorite of a decade back, Ch. Warren Rascal, came into the ring, and while the old dog, now over 13, was not in the best of condition; his head and front are as good as ever. As a matter of fact, I question if there are any dogs under three that can beat him to-day in head. He is as clean as a yearling. Percy S. Clark introduced a pair of home-breds, Bellum Velocity and Bellum Mystic, that won in a walk, of the right size, with perfect legs and feet, cobby body, and sound quarters. They are all "terrier" in type and action, and should do a lot of winning, that is, if they keep clean in skull, as they are to-day. They won a host of specials, and may be rated as real good ones. Wires were strong, best going to Jennie, a very smart youngster by Crisp Corporal, whom she beat for the special. She was cleverly handled, and won with a bit to spare. While not so good in coat as her sire, she scored in expression, front and quarters. When real fit she should trouble the best. While the Irish terriers were small in number there was no questioning their rare quality. It was an easy win for that sterling "daredevil," Maritime Michael, cleverly handled by that game old, pardon, I should say young sportsman, Robert Magee, who is a keen admirer of the Irish terrier. Here is a dog that is type, some might describe as being on the small order, but we do not want Airedales when judging Irish terriers, and in Maritime Michael one can see the personification of the true "Irish" type and character, and one of the best-bred dogs out to-day. It was all "Drumclaph" in Scottish Terriers, the Ross-bred Mary winning with a bit to spare from Highland Lassie. Then came Sealyhams, which were not very good. As both Riverside Patch and Riverside Roger were too light and long cast, Manchesters went to Wisener's Anni, a quality sort all through, excelling in type, markings and style, a good one, that should be sent through the circuit, where she should hold her own with the best.

The one entry in Skyes was too much on the "Yorkshire" order. Winners was withheld, but one West Highland, Moccasin Lucie, a quality sort, but not in the best of coat. Pomeranians were a mixed lot, easily best being Pomono Hello Black Boy, a trappy black, with the right type, plenty of coat, albeit somewhat soft, but very sound in color. Pekingese lost some of their charm by the absence of the Montreal nomination, Shantung of Wangza, best of breed, was easy for Ting Fang of Meridale, a very typical light red, excelling in all head points, eyes, and front. He is good in body, and has a heavy coat; shading on the face would much improve him. Same owner's Black Prince of Cedercrest was reserve; a coarse black and tan, with square skull, but lacks finish of face. Maltese went to a very good-bodied bitch, Alward's Dewey, a grand shower, and had lots of type, but lacked coat. A level team of Toy Poodles, Bubbles, Peggy and Sylvia, shown by Mrs. J. V. Duggan, of Halifax, won easily. The last-named had the best coat and cleaner skull.

The various sweepstake and variety classes, judged the last night, brought about some very keen competition; best in show found an exceptionally smart lot competing. As a matter of fact, there were few shows on the American circuit that had so many really good dogs left in for the final, the Irish setter, Sonora Rheola Jess, with the English Britannia's Pride second, and the Bulldog, Victorious, a close runner-up. Best brace was a clean-cut victory for G.B. Taylor, Irish setters, Barney II., and Iowa's Irish Nellie. Best non-sporting brace went to the very evenly-matched Cameron Collies. Cup for best Provincial-bred was a close race between the English setter, Racket, and the Irish setter, Barney II., placed as written. The former had the better muzzle and sounder action. The Nova Scotia special brought in a good class, it being a very close race between the best French Bulldog, Cavanagh's Rowdy; the Pekingese, Ting Fang of Meridale, and the Manchester Terrier, Annie, placed as written. The winner is an exceptionally fine dog, excelling in all head points, with perfect ears and cobby body. During the judging we had the pleasure of seeing that noted French Bulldog expert, Warren Purdy, whose famous Warren Kennels were invincible a decade or so back, who was most enthusiastic about the winning dog, and proclaimed him a real topper.

Thus ended my first St. John show, which will long be remembered as one of the best managed events ever, with the best lot of sportsmen at the helm it has been my pleasure to meet. May they prosper and breed many future international champions is my heartfelt wish.

Yours sincerely,

CHARLES E. HOPTON.

AMERICANS ARE BUYING CANADIAN DOGS.

On July 27th Billy Livesy was a visitor at Montreal, and succeeded in corralling about a dozen wire-haired fox terriers at the Drumclaph and other well-known kennels. A "Hot Dog" at Jimmie F. Strachan's kennel was much admired and openly coveted, actual cash offered as bait, and lots of it; but to all entreaties the genial Jimmie turned a deaf ear.

Montreal has been doing quite an extensive export trade, particularly in Wires, Airedales and Scotties. The shrewd American buyers, having acquired "the habit," run across every couple of months or so, and seldom have to return empty-handed or disappointed. This is a healthy sign and a tribute to Canadian breeders generally. American buyers pay the price no doubt, but breeders will be well advised to draw the line when they get down to their best bitches. They will needed in the business if we are still to carry on seriously. Let us go ahead and take our share of good American dollars, to be sure, and why shouldn't we. England reaped this rich harvest from this same export trade, and surely now, with all our notable dogs, we are entitled to a share of the spoils. True, we may have no "Wireboys" to dispose of, but on the other hand, we must have something they want badly, or they wouldn't come so frequently and buy so regularly.

Again, we are ideally situated to use the very best dogs of all, or most breeds. The big American kennels import from Britain the very best that are offered almost regardless of cost, and Canadians are using these dogs probably more to-day than ever before, and the results become more and more apparent as time rolls on. But we must be careful they don't milk us dry! Take bull terriers, cocker spaniels and Irish setters, for instance. The Yankees kept taking them for years, and what has been the result? Irish terriers seem to be coming back strong, and the demand for young stuff far exceeds the supply. Canada is fortunate, indeed, if what I hear is true that "Crimblay-Gum" and "Moorclap Manus" were bred to a few good matrons before Sam Bamford sold them to our American cousins. The latter, we learn, was a "real Mick and Oirish entoirley," and may be depended upon to stamp his get with shamrocks all over. But, as I said before, Americans are buying Canadian dogs. "Bob."

CORNWALL DOG SHOW

The annual show of Cornwall Kennel Club was, frankly speaking, a disappointment to the management. Comfort for the dogs and their owners, an attractive premium list, and a well known judge was calculated to be sufficiently strong to draw an entry to Cornwall, in keeping with the premium list offered, but only one hundred and three dogs were benched, and the sporting gentlemen of Cornwall feel that if they are to be expected to continue, a larger scale of support must be forthcoming from the fanciers at large, otherwise they will be forced to confine their activities to the interests of local dogs.

We have prepared the awards, but were not advised of all winners or reserve winners, probably by an oversight on the show secretary's part, and will be sent to us later, no doubt.

Following are the awards:

Russian Wolfhounds—Limit Dogs: 1, A. V. Webley's Krilenko. Open Dogs: 1 and winners, Krilenko. Limit Bitches: 1, A. V. Webley's Zapla of Ralova. Open Bitches: 1 and winners, Zapla of Ralova.

WINNIPEG FANCIERS ENJOY THE CANADIAN NATIONAL DOG SHOW

Seldom has so many Winnipeg fanciers attended the "Crafts of Canada" at one time, as we had this year, when George Kynoch, George Binnie, F. Rust, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jackson, George Duncan and James Duncan were with us for the entire duration of the show and gave their verdict unhesitatingly—GREAT AFFAIR!

HOW DID THEY ALL GET IN?

On Monday, Sept. 6th, 1920, those who were privileged to be attending the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show no doubt asked themselves the above question, and no wonder; the crowd was literally a solid mass of humanity, and in case there is any "Doubting Thomas" in our midst, who doubts the great popularity of a dog show in connection with the "Big Fair," we give the following figures, which represent only paid admissions, and taken from the records of the Treasurer:

Monday, Sept. 6th, 10,000 paid for admission. Tuesday, Sept. 7th, 6,000 paid for admission. Wednesday, Sept. 8th, 7,500 paid for admission. Thursday, Sept. 9th, 4,500 paid for admission.

Then, as if that were not enough, there were the owners of the 750 dogs who were privileged to go and come on their pass cards, and attendants, whom no man could number.

Oh, yes, there is no doubt about it, the Dog Show has outgrown its present location, and something must be done at once to enlarge the accommodation in preparation for next year.

CORRECTION.

In the minutes of the monthly Board of Directors' meeting, appearing in our September issue, page 3, column 2, and where the words "Terminal City Kennel Club" appear.

This is wrong, and should read "Victoria City Kennel Club" instead. The protest affected the V. C. K. C. solely, and we trust this correction is all that is required to explain matters.

A. V. Webley, Ottawa, has purchased the great Russian wolfhound bitch champion, "Clontarfs Krassal," and tried his new dog out at Ottawa Exhibition under the English crack, J. J. Holgate, when she won 1st open and winners and special for best of breed against an entry of 14.

THREE RIVERS DOG SHOW

Three Rivers Kennel Club Dog Show was held on August 25th and 26th, in connection with the St. Lawrence Valley State Fair, and was entrusted to the capable and hustling Dr. J. H. Villeneuve, Montreal, who got out an attractive premium list, and secured the services of Frank Addyman, one of America's well known professional handlers, to adjudicate on the merits and demerits of the entrants. Just over 100 dogs were benched, which was not enough, the premium list considered. Montreal was strongly represented, all the best dogs being out, Toronto evidently being content to send some of her representative dogs down with Bert Swann, Humber Bay, and which drew quite a lot of purple silk for their respective owners. It is worthy of note that several Winnipeg canines were at this show, which reflects creditably on the sporting instincts of Manitoba fanciers.

E. P. Tuson's Southport Joffre had a regular field day, finishing Best Dog in Show, and breed, Reserve to him being James F. Strachan's natty little Wire-haired Fox Terrier, Ormsby Artist's Model, who, of course, also won for best terrier. Ch. Sonora Nancy, owned by A. Trudeau, Montreal, kept her already well known reputation untarnished by taking best bred by exhibitor, and Reserve best Canadian bred; this sweet Irish Setter always looks good anywhere. Best of the Toys was awarded to Geo. C. Briggs' Pomeranian, Askern War Cloud. Following are the awards:

BE A SPORT.

You may call yourself dull in a fit of despair,

Or drop all your pep, and say you don't care,

But I'll tell you, my friend, that's a habit to break,

In planning this world not a single mistake

Was made in the building. So when you complain

Take stock of yourself. You're the chap that's to blame.

Just right about face; it may hurt some, it's true,

But that's just the way any good sport would do.

When you wake in the morning don't look for a cloud.

You know what's behind it. Just swing in the crowd,

Be one of them, cheerfully, singing along.

You may get a bump, but don't stop your song,

Perhaps one will hear it who needs just a bit

Of courage now. Your song may be it.

What matter if yesterday's failures were big?

To-day is your day, so get in and dig. If you meet any trouble, why just change its name, And call it a ladder. They oft lead to fame.

But whatever you do, be quick and begin it;

You never can tell just how much there is in it.

—Jane Bates, in Forbes Magazine.

LONDON DOG SHOW

The Dog Show held in connection with the Western Fair Association was again in the hands of the London Canine Association, and under the direction of Captain W. Smith. At least a two point show was confidently anticipated, and, no doubt, would have materialized, only for the fact that Ottawa Show was being held on the same dates.

Charles H. Mason, Washington, L.I., was the "ermine bearer," and while we have heard rumors of discontentment, yet we believe that "Charlie" carried out his time-worn system of placing them where he said they belonged.

One hundred and fifty-three dogs were benched, and a one point rating earned.

Following are the wards:

Newfoundland—Open Dogs: 1, Dr. G. Renton's Highland Laddie. Winners withheld.

Great Danes—Open Dogs: 1, W. Lightfoot's Thor 2nd. Winners withheld.

COLLIES AT THE CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

By John Milner.

The quality of the Collies this year was, with the exception of a select little band (very mediocre). As a judge of Collies, Mr. Norman K. Swire has no superior on this continent, his attention to minor points is all that could be wished. In the dog section, Ch. Alstead Aeroplane "stood out" alone, he was in perfect bloom. He could be to advantage a little higher at the shoulder to make such a length of head more in proportion—nevertheless a beautiful Collie. The reserve winner to the above was G. Binnie's "Hannafeld Dake," from Winnipeg. Many thought he should have given way to George Ashbe's "Cambell Style." "Duke" is a big, sound, heavy-boned specimen, with long head of rather plain appearance, and could be much better in eye. "Cambell Style," a taking dog, with nice, clean head, was shown badly, his owner had no control over him, and paid the penalty. Of the others A. W. Everett's "Coleridge King" and Wm. Lockhart's "Boy O' Mine" (both puppies), had type, size and quality, and can win again in decent company. The junior class in bitches brought out T. Milner's "Weston Dusky Charmer," a tri-color; she is a duplicate of Ch. "Alstead Aeroplane," but was not in the best of coat. Mr. Swire put her through to winners. "Western Attraction" followed her, taking seconds, a big winner, but her coat was coming out. Ch. "Quarrybrae Colleen" accounted for "Attraction" in the open class. She was put down in splendid condition. Then came the great tussle of the day, between Ch. "Quarrybrae Colleen" and "Dusky Charmer." "Colleen" scored in coat, but lost this advantage by beging a little out of shoulders, the deciding factor being the beautiful ear carriage of "Weston Dusky Charmer."

IRISH TERRIERS AT THE CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION DOG SHOW.

There were 43 entries and 18 dogs benched. I was sorry to find that the entry was small and the quality was not up to the average usually seen at this show. Therefore, it is hardly necessary to give any detailed criticism of the different exhibits; sufficient to say there was nothing shown of outstanding quality worthy of special mention. Last year some especially typical specimens were shown here, and it was hoped that this would continue.

Awards.

Junior Dogs and Bitches—1st, Mendon Mullingar; 2nd, Westpoint Cadet; 3rd, North End Beauty Girl.

Canadian-bred Dogs—1st and 2nd, a repeat; 3rd, Ulster Boy (nice style).

Novice Dogs—A repeat.

Limit Dogs—1st, Westpoint Cadet; 2nd, North End Muddler; 3rd, Monarch Mike.

Open Dogs—1st, Monarch Mike; 2nd, North End Mixer (should have had first place); 3rd, Over the Top.

Canadian-bred Bitches—1st, North End Beauty; 2nd, Irish Molly; 3rd, Morning Glory.

Novice Bitches—1st, North End Beauty; 2nd, Morning Glory.

Limit Bitches—1st, Roughon Winnie; 2nd, Irish Molly; 3rd, Morning Glory.

Open Bitches—1st, Roughon Winnie; 2nd, Irish Molly.

Winners Dogs—Mendon Mullingar;

Winners Bitches—Roughon Winnie.

I noticed that many of the oldest and most enthusiastic fanciers of this breed—such as Messrs. Lindsay, Finlay, Ostell, Southcott, Britton, Barron, Insleay, Meehan Morlock, etc., have apparently discontinued, although most of them, I understand, still retain specimens of the breed.

It is to be regretted that this grand old breed of terrier is not more frequently exhibited at our Canadian shows. As a word of encouragement to the breeders and fanciers I might say that despite the increasing popularity of some more recent breeds, the Irish Terrier still holds his own, and when he shows breeding, he is a dog that will continue to demand admiration and attention. To the person who likes a medium size, smart, game, symmetrically built, fast all round dog, this old breed of terrier, with his good qualities, which are many, will always appeal.

He is truly described as one of the oldest and best breed of terriers in existence, and these are a few of his qualities: He will protect his owner and property with the most diligent care and attention. His intelligence and devotion are unsurpassed, and as a sporting dog he is all that could be desired; he seldom fails to gain the entire confidence of his owner, who would not part with him for any other breed of dog.—“Subscriber.”

ELECTION

Special Notice to Our Paid-up Members.

Ladies and gentlemen,—It is with much pleasure that I again announce to you the nearness of the election of officers for our Club for the year 1912. Since last election I caused to be mailed to every member on our books a copy of our Constitution and By-laws, which, I trust, you have preserved, and have now at hand for reference, in guiding your votes in the forthcoming elections.

Herewith are a few extracts from the Constitution which will help you:

Article 3, section 9.—No member shall hold office or be entitled to vote at a meeting if at the time in arrears for membership fees, and no member shall be entitled to vote who was not a member of the Club at the time the notice was given calling such meeting.

Article 7, sections 1, 2 and 4:

1. President.—The President shall be elected in each year, previously to the annual meeting of this Club by ballot of the members in good standing, on the 30th day of September preceding. Nominations for President shall be made in writing and shall be signed by at least two members in good standing, and shall be sent to the Secretary of this Club, so as to be received by him on or before the 15th day of November.

2. Vice-President.—The Vice-President shall be elected in a like manner and at a like time to the election of the President.

3. Second Vice-President.—The Second Vice-President shall be elected in a like manner and at a like time to the election of the President and Vice-President.

4. Directors.—Directors shall be elected in each year previously to the annual meeting of this Club, by ballot of the members in each respective Province in the manner hereinafter mentioned, and shall hold office until after the close of the next annual meeting.

Who are entitled to vote?: Members in good standing in respect to voting, or holding office, are members whose membership fees for the current year have been paid on or before the 30th day of September, 1920.

The number of Directors to which each Province is entitled, for the year 1921:

The Province of Alberta shall be entitled to one Director; the Province of British Columbia, two Directors; the Province of Manitoba, one Director; the Maritime Provinces, one Director; the Province of Saskatchewan, one Director; the Province of Ontario, seven Directors, and the Province of Quebec, two Directors. Total, fifteen.

How to nominate:

Nominations for Directors allotted to each respective Province shall be made in writing and shall be signed by at least two members in good standing in the respective Provinces, and such nominations shall be sent to the Secretary of the Club, so as to be received by him on or before the 15th day of November of this year, on which date all nominations close.

Nominate early. Nominate clearly. Nominate your very best and most enthusiastic members who are in good standing. Unless this provision is observed, your labor, however, well considered, will be entirely lost; which, of course, is to be deplored and if possible avoided.

Do not nominate anyone, before first referring to the list of members given underneath, and thereby making yourself sure of their eligibility.

1920 is the greatest year of your history. May it be totally eclipsed by its successor, 1921. For your convenience, we have arranged the paid-up membership by Provinces. Yours faithfully,

JAMES D. STRACHAN, Secy.

SPEAKING OF PEKINGESE.

The mistress of the Ashton-More Kennels, known to Pekingese breeders the world over, has recently had the misfortune to lose her well-known Ashton-More-Kwai-Kwais, 8 years old, from valvular heart trouble. At the time of his death he was carrying a superb coat and wonderful long ear fringes. Ashton More Kwai-Kwais was considered the best "sleeve dog" of his time, and the sire of more winners than any other sleeve dog on the English bench. Mrs. Malloch is fortunate in having his little son, Ashton-More Foo-Kwai, to take his place. Little Foo is much like his sire, and carries even a bigger coat, if such a thing is possible.

Ashton-More Wen-Chu is the pride of the kennel, a golden fawn, with black mask, immense eyes, the most wonderful head ever seen on a Pekingese; his figure is perfect, as are his legs and coat, 2 years old, and by Nanking Wen-Chu, ex Ashton-More Kenwha, and was bred by Mrs. Raymond Mallock. Wen-Chu is a "war baby," so is not eligible to be shown for competition in England. He is a proven sire of wonderful stock, and already many good offers have been made for him from America, while an English buyer has offered a price, said to border on the 4 figures.

Kiva-Kwai of Egham, whose daughter has just been purchased by Mr. Lambert of Montreal (only 3 months old and arrived in Canada in perfect condition). Mrs. Lambert was so delighted with her new Peke baby, that she immediately wrote to Mrs. Mallock for another one, evidently to keep the first from being lonesome, but really a great asset to the Pekingese fancy in Canada, who already are very strong in this breed.

Ashton-More Shoo-Weh, a wonderful headed fawn female, is another good one that went high at the last Pekingese Show in London.

Mrs. Raymond Mallock's new book on the Pekingese, which has been so long delayed by paper shortage and printers' troubles, will soon be on the market. Kennel and Bench has ordered a limited supply, which will be sold to fanciers strictly in the rotation of their orders, with cheque for $2 and exchange being received at our office. The new work is quite an improvement on the older issue, and is more comprehensive in every detail and, no doubt, will readily find an honored place in the libraries of every Pekingese fancier.

SHORT BARKS FROM MALDEN KENNELS.

There is quite a demand for our Malden Wires and they sure do get scattered. Recent sales include "Malden Duchess" to Mr. R. A. Kirk, secretary of the Copper State Kennel Club at Phoenix, Arizona; "Malden Fatma" to P. I. Osburn, Anaheim, California; "Malden Dusky Floss" to J. A. Jones, Springview Kennels, Niles, Ohio. The two former have reached their destinations and their new owners are more than delighted with them. "Duchess" was nine days en route and has since whelped a litter of three to "Wireman of Malden." "Malden Fatma" was eight days en route and also arrived in good condition. "Floss" is going to perform at some of our fall fixtures before shipment.

In addition to these Mr. A. McClure Halley, of New York, also secured a pair of Malden puppies recently and several of the local fanciers here have added to their kennel puppies of the Malden strain.

Does it pay to advertise? I'll say it does. Last week I received a letter from my elder brother, Chas. Lepine. We have not seen each other for twelve years and I had not heard from him since before the late unpleasantness that ex-Kaiser Bill was responsible for. When the war started, "Charlie" was located in Port Arthur and enlisted in the Cavalry Brigade and saw four years' service in France, Belgium and Germany. He was "demobbed" a year ago last June and on his discharge located in Vancouver, where he is in the boot and shoe business. During the war I lost track of him entirely and failed to locate him through the Discharge Depot at Ottawa, and had given him up as dead. This summer he had occasion to take a dog to Dr. T. E. Sleeth, the well-known V.S. in Vancouver, and in the course of conversation the worthy Dr. happened to mention the proprietor of the Malden Kennels and asked "Charlie" if he was any relation. "Charlie" said he had a lost brother of that name that he had been trying to locate for years, and that Malden sounded very familiar as it was the name of our home town in England; so he got my address from the Breeders' Register of "Kennel and Bench" and wrote on to me, asking if I was his brother. He enclosed the cutting of "Kennel and Bench" which I am sending on to you. As a result there will be some new Wires on the coast shortly sporting the Malden prefix in the hands of brother Charlie (who was by way of being a Bull Terrier and English Bulldog Fancier, but we will soon fix that). So the British Columbia fanciers had better look to their laurels.

We find time from our secretarial duties to "prep" a string of youngsters for the fall shows, and this year are confining our efforts to the female division and confidently expect to annex our share of the awards with our young team this year. A. Lepine.

W. H. Holitch, Mitchell, Ont., reports having purchased from Reg Sparks, Toronto, the English Bulldog "Impregnable" (C.K.C. 22107) by "Silent Prince" ex "Copham Daisy" whose picture and detail will appear in next issue of Kennel & Bench.

Same owners have purchased "Meddlesome Miss," bred by "Jimmie" Giles, Toronto, and is a litter sister to "Jellicoe." Both "Impregnable" and "Meddlesome Miss" are well known Toronto dogs, the acquisition of which should materially strengthen the Holhounds. A very noticeable feature of the Show was the predominance of the sporting dogs. Harry Nolan and Fred Howie having a good exhibit of beagles. Fred Kerr with his Foxhounds, Chas. M. Smith with his Airedales, grand-daughters of "Morning Admiration" and daughters of "Normanton Tipit." Jno. Kerr, C. Plomley showing their Wire Fox Terrier puppies. A. Parker, Paris, came down with two good Bulldogs. Thomas Yapp had his two, which made a good showing in Bulldogs. The Wainwright Kennels introduced their new purchase in French Bulldogs and won the ribbon for the best dog in the Show. Alex. Patterson running a close 2nd. Glynn Bowden was strong in Bostons, showing 3 good puppies. H. B. Charlton was there with his new Boston puppy "Charlton Gipsy Queen" winning best puppy, also winning 2nd best female in the show.

The judges were Messrs. Fred Kerr (the first exhibitor of Airedales at the Canadian National Exhibition), D. A. Briggs, Paris, and J. Church of Waverley Kennels, Simcoe, a prominent breeder of Boston Terriers.

The coast fanciers will learn with regret that the secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club was obliged to return to Toronto from Regina on account of unprecedented business at the office there. But he has promised to come to the coast at the earliest opportunity—probably in May, 1921. He says the entire Canadian fancy is one big happy family when they do get together, and as a rule the Eastern hearts ring true to those of the West, and vice versa, and he knows it to be so.

Mrs. C. M. Lunt when in Toronto judging the Collie Club Show, gave strong proof of her belief in the siring abilities of her good Collie Ch. "Alstead Aeroplane" when she purchased part of three litters sired by him. The purchases and selections (6 in number) were made from the "Alstead" Collie Kennels and the "Coltness" Collie Kennels.

SHIPPING TOYS.

Mrs. Anna Judd, Seattle, Washington, recently shipped a tiny Maltese, 11 months old, and weighing only 3 lbs., to Mrs. Noecker, Scranton, Pa., was six days on the trip (owing to a railroad accident at Dakota) and arrived at Scranton a little soiled, but physically perfect. Here is the mode of shipping procedure observed by this astute fancier.

Two days before shipping she goes to the express office company's office, makes out the necessary papers, declares a high valuation and advises advance instructions to the train messengers, which is observed to the letter. When the shipping day arrives, the dog is placed in a "Spratts" traveling wicker hamper, which the shipper has had lined with cotton flannel. A supply of cakes and a change of plows and bedding, cups, spoons, etc., are provided, then a typewritten label is attached, which gives the name of the dog, his age, states that he is bad and gentle, going a considerable distance, how often and how much food and water is to be given, and soliciting not to be placed near a draft, the whole message purporting to be a eloquent appeal from the puppy himself.

If all our shippers would take these hints and observe them carefully, no doubt the pains would be justified in the extra comfort that would ensue for the mute shipments, who we profess to admire and love so well.

FAITHFUL "TINY" OF THE "58TH."

(By Norman R. Fucker.)

Because Tiny, the mascot of the Drums of the "Fifty-eighth" was a very small dog with a glossy white coat, a knowing black and tan face and long silken ears it must not be thought that she was a lap dog. To do so would be to incur the enmity of the entire buglers, drummers and fifers of the battalion. She is a veteran of the great war, just as much as Bugler Bill Stewart, her master, or the other youthful buglers and drummers.

Tiny was born in the Somme in the summer of 1916, when the air was vibrating to the thunder of the guns. Her father was a black Pomeranian who used to kill rats as big as himself in the Ypres salient, and her mother was a fox terrier. From her birth she was adopted by the Drums of the 58th, and loyally has she followed their fortunes. She knew every bugle, and no matter what she was doing she would come at the first notes of a familiar call.

Through the muddy roads of France and Flanders she bravely marched with the battalion, never tiring, and only once was she carried, and that was when she had been rendered a casualty by a kick from a horse. Thirty-six kilometres is the distance she is said to have marched on one occasion, coming into billets with mud clinging to every part of her silken coat. But she never lost pride in her appearance, like the good soldier she was, and the next morning found her as spotlessly white as before.

Once during the battle of Arras she was lost for three weeks. But she had been found by the 38th Battalion, who had adopted her gladly, yet when the 58th were marching past she heard the familiar bugles sounding, and the men of the 38th caught sight of a flash of white, as their newly-found pet went racing recklessly back to her old comrades of the Somme. Again she was locked in a room of a French chateau. Hearing the bugles sound and fearful that she might be left behind, she leaped from a two-storey window to rejoin her friends.

Tiny had a dress uniform, too. When on parade she wore a khaki coat, which in addition to the rows of buttons and the regimental crest, carried the blue chevrons for her years of service, a good conduct stripe, two Mons medals and other decorations. There was a wound stripe, also; not received in action by the pieces of flying shrapnel she loved to chase, but in an encounter with a German dog, as big as a wolf. Undismayed by the size of the brute, she hung gamely to its throat until the buglers ran to her rescue and later informed the owner of the dog that if it indulged in any more Hun practices it would get a bullet in its head. The little dog was the mother of nine children, who were distributed among the battle units in France.

"There ain't money enough in the world to buy this dog," said one boy, fondly. And, indeed, many attempts were made to purchase her.

The Drums themselves have a record which would be hard to beat. They participated in every engagement, and so heavy were their losses that the band had to be reformed four times. Of the originals who went over with Drum-Major C. Pooley, only five have returned. With the Drum-Major now are Buglers W. Stewart, H. K. Foster, G. Rothwell, and Drummer P. Calverger. At the battle of Cambrai the Drums went over the top twenty-one strong, and when the roll was called only four answered.

When the time came for leaving France it was found that dogs were prohibited, but it would take more than this to separate the Drums from their pet. A hole was cut in a drum and in this novel kennel Tiny not only crossed undiscovered from France, but has crossed the Atlantic also. And now the little hero-dog lives in triumph with her comrades of the battlefield, under blue Canadian skies.

CHUBBY PRODUCTS OF THE WEST.

Westward ho! We've never been there, but now we want to go. Did you ever see healthier looking young Canadians than Elsie and Walter Hogg, of New Westminster, B.C.? Their daddy, Mr. Archie Hogg, is one of the bright lights in Western Dogdom.

At their recent show Elsie's "Scot-ty," and we think it's the one she has with her in this picture, beats out Walter's "Pom" for best owned and shown by a boy or girl. Walter won the prize for best of the opposite sex. Walter has declared he will win out next time, so they are looking forward to the next opportunity to compete with their pets. We wish them luck.

Highwater P.O., Prov. Que.

Dear Mr. Editor:

My Daddy told me you have commenced a children's page, and I am very pleased, and to be able to tell you about my dogs. I used to own a very nice dog named "Monarch of Armagh." I exhibited him and showed him to the judge myself, in Montreal. He was a Bedlington Terrier, his home name was "Piper," but he used to fight the other dogs in the block, so someone poisoned him. Everyone used to crowd around him in the street and ask me what kind of a dog he was. Now I have another, a puppy. He was black as ink when he was born, but now he is turning blue. My sister Dorothy has one also. She has several Blue, White and Red Ribbons too. Her name is "Mullabrack." She has been lost in the woods for six days hunting, and has just returned and is very thin. I hope to show my new puppy when he is old enough. My papa brought them from England for us when he returned from the Front on the S.S. Mauretania. I should like to know if any other boys or girls have any of same breed. Wishing you success with the new page, we remain, sincerely yours,

MOLLY & DOROTHY DAUBNEY.

Editor Juvenile Page:

Dear Sir,—My sister Dorothy and I are pleased you are interested in our Bedlington Terriers. "Mullabrack" is also a Bedlington. She won prizes at Montreal, Longueuil and Sherbrooke. She is named after a village in Ireland, near Market Hill, Armagh. She is very fond of hunting woodchucks and hedgehogs. She came home with 30 quills stuck through her nose and lips and inside her mouth a few days ago, and my daddy had to pull them all out and disinfect the wounds. But she is nearly well again now. Wishing you success with your Juvenile page and longing to hear of other little girls' dogs.

Yours respectfully,

MILLIE DAUBNEY.

We are pleased to publish your letters, Dorothy and Mollie, and we are sure our juvenile readers will be as interested in your pets as we were. You have done very well at the shows, haven't you? Here's wishing you heaps more wins. Even though your little dog had fought all the dogs in your block, he did not deserve to be poisoned. A dog poisoner is the most contemptible man on earth, isn't he? It is to be hoped the other little dog who got into the fracas with the porcupine has learned a lesson, but probably he hasn't. We have a little dog who keeps us in daily terror because she persists in chasing the heels of a horse in a pasture near by, and some day we are afraid those heels are going to cut short her career.

Now then, juvenile readers, heed the requests of these little Quebec girls, and write us about your dogs.

We have had a hurry up call from the editor. "Give us a story for the juvenile page this month," he asked, so we have dug down in our files and brought forth the story of a little dog we hope will interest you. You will remember the true story about Mike the Fire Hall dog, well here is a story of his successor; but you see, the writer writes a story every day for boys and girls to read and it is syndicated out to a number of newspapers, so we can't make all of the stories true ones.

THE STORY OF MIKE THE SECOND

In a certain city there was a very famous dog. His name was Mike. Mike had never won a prize in his life, yet not a dog in the whole city was as well known as he, for Mike was the fire hall dog. Long years before Mike had been owned by a wealthy gentleman, but he had been so long with the firemen he could hardly remember those days. Many are the stories that are told about Mike the first, how he went to every fire for years and years, how once he was lost for two days, how he had escaped death when some of his pals were injured—but you have heard all that. If Mike the first had not died there would never have been a Mike the second.

Just about the time old Mike was buried in a grave near the sound of firebells a little family of Boston terriers arrived in a far end of the city. What wriggley, wrinkled little fellows they were. How fat and pudgy one little fellow in particular was. Of course he was too small to know that a great future was planned for him, but that's just what was planned, for his master had decided that he was to be Mike the Second.

So, one day soon after little Mike was two months old his master brought him to the fire hall and presented him to the chief. Poor little Mike had never seen so many big men before and when the biggest man of all picked him up in his arms and tried to cuddle him the little pup shivered all over. The firemen were so proud of their new pet they made sure that every caller at the fire hall saw him before they left. How tired little Mike got of being so often put on exhibition. How much better he would have liked it had he been home with his brothers and sisters and his old mother.

The first warm day little Mike was allowed to play in the back yard of the firehall. He had never been there long before when over came Tips the fox terrier from across the road.

"Who are you?" asked Tips airily.

"I'm Mike," the pup answered meekly.

"Mike!" cried Tips. Indeed you are not, Mike was a much bigger dog than you. Poor Mike is dead now," and with that the fox terrier made out he was crying; though, sad to relate, he was not one bit sorry the old dog was dead for old Mike had kept him in his place.

"I'm the new Mike," the pup answered meekly.

"The new Mike indeed!" sniffed Tips. "What a joke you are! The other dogs will laugh at you. Why you couldn't climb up on the motor truck if you tried, and Mike was always the first on when the bell rang."

"I can try," Mike the Second spoke up, for he did not want Tips to laugh at him.

"Try then," Tips urged as he smiled to himself.

Elsie and Walter Hogg, New Westminster, B.C.

Poor little Mike! He was so small he couldn't even jump up to the running board of the big motor, let alone mount to the hose-rack where the first Mike had sat. How Tips did laugh when he saw little Mike fall on his back after the fourth attempt to mount the motor. It was not going to be an easy task to fill Mike the First's Shoes.

Mike didn't understand that a puppy isn't expected to be as clever as a grown-up dog, and so for a number of days his life was a very unhappy one. The firemen were as nice as they could be to him, but Tips, the fox terrier from across the street, had told him that they would soon learn he was no good, and then he would be "chucked out" in the street and left to freeze in the cold. Now, Tips had just said this, because he was jealous of Mike, for Mike was a very handsome puppy.

"Well, haven't they thrown you out yet?" Tips asked one morning, when little Mike was out for his airing. "It will be too bad if they let you stay until the real cold weather and then throw you out," he added with an evil grin.

"I don't believe they will throw me out," Mike answered.

"Oh, won't they?" Well, I'm going to tell you, I heard one of the firemen say the other day that he missed old Mike more and more every day, so that doesn't look as if you have taken Mike's place, does it? It's a wonder to me old Mike doesn't rise out of his grave to punish you for taking his place here. You just watch out or his ghost will do you harm."

Of course, Mike was so young and inexperienced, he did not know that ghosts did not exist. Tips' warning had caused him to be more nervous than ever. He had no way of knowing that old Mike was a kind-hearted old dog, and wouldn't have harmed him for the world.

There was only one thing to do—run away before the real cold weather came, Mike the Second thought. Somehow perhaps he could get back to his mother. No sooner thought of than little Mike ran down the street as fast as he could. He turned the corner and ran, turned another corner, ran on some more, turned another corner, and so on until he was exhausted. He stopped up in front of a large house and panted for breath. How thirsty and worn out he was. How cold it was getting.

"Why if it isn't a pup!" said a surprised voice, and the next thing Mike knew he was lifted up into a little boy's arms. It felt good to have a friend once more, and Mike nestled up to him as close as possible. The little boy hugged him tight, and then with a hop, skip and jump, started for the big house.

"Mother, mother, I have a little puppy," he called at the top of his voice.

Now, this little boy's mother was usually a very sweet-tempered lady, but this day she must have been ill, for when she saw her little son with the puppy, she became cross. "Take that dirty-looking little pup right out, Archibald," she told the little boy. That was a big name for such a little boy, don't you think, but fortunately they called him Archey for short, and never used the long name unless he was naughty.

"Oh, please, mother, let me keep him," Archey pleaded, but his mother was firm. Out the puppy had to go, and tearfully, Archey obeyed his mother's order.

Just as Archey was putting the puppy on the sidewalk, he was struck with an idea. His mother was cross just then, he knew, but perhaps later on he could get her to change her mind to let him keep the puppy. If only he could hide Mike some place in the meantime!

The little red box on the post at the corner suggested an idea. Archey knew it was against the law, but it was even worth risking going to jail to have a pup, so after a moment's hesitation, he turned the key in the little box and opened the front door. Inside the box was just room for a little pup like Mike. Archey pushed Mike in and closed the door.

How frightened Mike was in there. It was as dark as pitch, and the air was bad. He was sure he would be smothered. How foolish he had been to leave the firemen. They had really liked him, and he would have had a good time had he stayed, he thought. But it was too late to lament. He would probably be dead in a very few minutes.

Little Mike was so frightened in the dark box, he sat very still for a long time, and then he gained courage and started to yelp.

"Let me out! Let me out!" he yelped in puppy talk as loud as he could, but of course Archey had gone back home and there was no one to hear.

It was cold in the little box, and there was not room for Mike to lie down. How cramped and uncomfortable he was. How he wished he had never run away. Now he came to think of it the fireman had been kind to him, and he liked them very much. If only he could get back to them.

Now the firemen were not long before they discovered that Mike the Second had disappeared. "Where can he be?" they asked one another, and then the search began. Through every nook and corner of the big fire hall, among the hose, under the truck, up in the loft where the hay was stored, they looked in vain. Mike was nowhere to be found.

Tips, the jealous and saucy fox terrier, across the road, felt his heart sinking within him when he saw how disturbed the firemen were. He knew that Mike had been frightened away by his wicked and deceitful warnings. Tips had hoped he would be chosen for the fire hall dog, but now when he saw how badly the firemen felt at the loss of their new pet, he knew there was no hope for him.

"Ding, ding, ding!" It was the fire alarm. "Box 64!" the alarm had come from there. In less than a minute the fire hall was all in action. Out from their stalls dashed the horses. Into their harness they were in less time than it takes to tell it. Onto the wagon were the firemen, and with a dash the brigade started out. In front whirled the big auto truck, its huge horn and bell shrieking a warning for everyone and everything to get out of the way. Box 64 was a great number of blocks from the fire hall, but it was surprising how soon the fire brigade arrived there. "Where was the fire?" There was no smoke in sight, and no one seemed to know.

Box 64 was deserted. It was still ringing. As the assistant chief jumped from his motor car he wondered what had happened, for an alarm box did not usually ring that long. What a shock the assistant chief got when he opened up the box. There, sitting with a frightened look on his face, was, who do you suppose? Mike!

It is the story of the day around the fire hall now. Of course, it is a mystery to the firemen how Mike came to be in the box, but a certain little boy named Archey could tell well enough. The little pup had crawled up onto the key that started the alarm box ringing—the firemen did not know that, but that is what they guessed, so no doubt it is true. They were glad to get their pet back once more, even though it did mean a false alarm run, and Mike was glad to be back, too.

Our London Letter

Of the many breeds of dogs we possess in England there are several varieties which are short-haired and long-haired. We possess smooth and rough-coated St. Bernards, smooth, rough and long-coated dogs of the Greyhound type (Greyhounds, Borzois, Deerhounds, etc.), smooth and wire-haired Fox Terriers, smooth and rough-coated Collies, short-coated Alsatian Wolf Dogs (in Germany they have short, wire and shaggy-haired Sheepdogs), and, last but not least, short-haired Dachshunds. In Germany they have short, wire and long-haired Dachshunds.

There is no doubt that, so far as the St. Bernards, the Sheepdogs and the Dachshunds are concerned, the short-haired varieties have been the original ones, whereas the other varieties have originated from different crossings, so that, in order to maintain the type of a given variety, it is even now, and always, necessary to have recourse to the crossing of the smooth-coated specimens with the long-coated ones, and vice versa. With regard to the Dachshund, of which I am going to speak here especially, it is believed that the origin of the long-haired specimens was due to a crossing with the old German Spaniel (called "Wachtelhund"), which does not exist any more, I believe, whose color had been black-and-tan. In regard to the wire-haired Dachshund, it is believed that he originated from the two following sources: (1) From a cross with the Dandie-Dinmont; and (2) from a cross with a small, wire-haired Pinscher, low on legs. This latter hypothesis is justified by the appearance of some wire-haired Dachshunds: short, thick head, small ears, and temperament full of character.

Before the war, there was a lady in London, a very great enthusiast of Dachshunds, Miss Hawkins, if I remember aright, who used to exhibit a couple of long-haired Dachshunds, but, as there were no classes for this variety in England, her dogs had never the slightest chance of winning. There was, in England, before the war, one wire-haired Dachshund, imported from Germany, a splendid little dog of its variety, who used to climb up the trees like a cat. If I am not mistaken, this dog belonged to the second category of a cross, i.e., of a Dachshund with a Pinscher. The Dandie-Dinmont cross betrays itself through a larger size of the dog, and through the blue-grey color and the light, silky tuft of hair in front of the head. It appears that, in the course of time, these two varieties, or rather groups, have become blended together, and it is now seldom that one can notice that some of the wire-haired Dachshunds belong to the one or to the other of the two crosses.

A continuous mating between wire-haired Dachshunds is not to be recommended, for the dogs lose then in type, and the coat gets soft and shaggy. In the breeding of wire-haired Dachshunds it has been absolutely necessary that wire-haired bitches should be mated to smooth-coated dogs, whose hair was not very hard, in order to maintain the type and to get the wiry coat. It should not be presumed that the coat of a wire-haired Dachshund should consist of woolly, shaggy hair, which, after all, hides the form of the dog. No; the wire-haired Dachshund should differ from the short-coated one only in so far as the coat of the former consists of a somewhat longer, wiry hair, with a fine under-coat. If we mate a wire-haired bitch with a smooth-coated dog, whose hair is coarse, we should not use for further breeding the progeny which shows signs of a smooth coat: in order to continue the breeding of the wire-haired variety, we should only use the progeny with the wire-hair. I think that, of all the varieties of Sporting Spaniels, the English Springer is the one which is going to be the most popular with regard to work in the field. As a proof of my assertion, I may mention that the English Spaniel Club have decided to entirely strike out the Field Spaniel from their Standard of points, and to replace him by the English Springer. Of course, this measure can only be commended, and very highly, too, especially if we take into consideration the fact that the Field Spaniel is nothing more than an artificial dog, whose evolution is more than a curious one. At first this variety was represented by a curly-coated dog with long ears, weighing well-nigh 55 lbs. He was very long in body, and very low on the leg. I think it was Mr. Jacobs, of Newton Abbot, who has had the first idea of crossing some of these "Field" Spaniel bitches with Sussex Spaniels of a lighter type than those we have been used to meet with at shows just before the war. It was this crossing which produced the present-day type of the Field Spaniel, a nice animal enough for the show, but seldom useful for work. With the English Springer it is quite otherwise. He is a kind of a large Cocker, but he is much better for work in very thick, high undergrowth, where a Cocker not only cannot be seen, but where a Cocker very often cannot pass at all.

At the field-trials of the Spaniel stake for Cockers contained only three entries, of which two failed to make an appearance, so that the only remaining Cocker, Fairholme Rally (Mr. Gordon George), had simply a "walk-over." In the open stake for all other varieties of Spaniels there were one Sussex, one Field Spaniel, and nine Springers! The stake was won—and very deservedly, too—by the Springer Rex of Avondale (His Grace the Duke of Hamilton and Brabdon), and the second prize went also to a Springer (Rivington Robstan, property of Mr.

C. A. Phillips). In the brace stake there were three couples of English Springers!

There are sportsmen who think that the English Springer is a product of crossing between the Cocker and the Bassethound. However, as the pedigrees of our Springers do not contain any names of Bassets, how can we explain the origin of the English Springer? Some writers have it that "anything that is not low enough for a Field Spaniel, is too big for a Cocker and not curly enough for an Irish Water Spaniel, is a Springer—that is, if the specimens one sees at shows are to be taken as a criterion. The Norfolk Spaniel often competes in this medley, and should always come out on top, for he, at least, has distinctive type and Spaniel character, has liver and white markings, nicely shaped and intelligent head, and undoubted adaptability to work enable this particular variety of the Springer family to careful breeding, which would certainly ensure a greatly enlarged popularity." There is another variety of the Springer, though: it is the Welsh Springer, which is, after all, a Spaniel of the large Cocker type.

Some sportsmen are afraid that the growing popularity of the Springer may have a bad effect on that of the Cocker, but I am sure they are mistaken, for the Cocker has come to stay, and cannot be "thrown out."

Speaking of the Cocker, some writers are of opinion that, in order to improve the type of it, recourse was made to crossings with the Beagle, which crossings improved the nose, the stamina and the speed of the Cockers. If it be true what the above writers advance, I think these crossings are to be commended, if only for the sake of attaining the above improvements. It would be interesting to have your readers' opinion on the matter.

Two books of the greatest importance to lovers of dogs, be they breeders, fanciers or "simple" lovers, have made their appearance recently. One is the Kennel Club's Stud Book for 1920, edited by the ever courteous and hard-working secretary of our canine government, Mr. E. W. Jaquet. Published at the beginning of the month of July last, it proves that all the difficulties that stood in the way of "plain sailing" during and immediately after the war have now been overcome, and that our Kennel Club, just as we, simple mortals, is now able to resume its pre-war activities with renewed vitality. The 1920 Stud-Book, although not as thick a volume as are those of pre-war days, is a great improvement upon its immediate predecessors, and not only have all the special features which make it so invaluable to those consulting its pages been reinstated, but others have been added, namely, the Constitution and Rules of the Kennel Club. The Calendar and Pedigree sections, which, in 1919, were contained in 33 pages, now extend to 70. The summary of events which contains a record in brief of the work performed by the Kennel Club during the last year, affords ample proof of the very useful work done by the General and other committees during 1919 in their legislative and executive capacities. The price of the volume 1920 is 13s. 6d. post free from the publishers, "The Field," Windsor House, Bream's Buildings, London, E.C., 4.

The other important work in question is "British War Dogs: Their Training and Psychology," by Lt.-Col. E. H. Richardson, London: Skeffington & Son, Limited. Price: 21 shillings net. My esteemed friend, Colonel Richardson, the author of the above valuable work, has kindly sent me a volume, which, I must say at once, enhances the well-known high reputation of its publishers. I have seen several reviews of this book, but I do not think any is better than that which appeared in the "Kennel Gazette," the official organ of our governing canine body, the Kennel Club.

When the war broke out, in 1914, there were, so to say, no war-dogs at all in the British Army, and it can be safely said that the whole organization of the war-dog service, which took place later on, in the course of the war, was solely due, so far as Great Britain is concerned, to the efforts of Colonel Richardson, who was the commander of the British War Dog School. The book in question describes in a most interesting and instructive manner everything that has been done in this country with regard to training dogs as aids to the army. The volume also shows us what had been done in the same direction by the armies of France, Russia, America, Holland, Sweden and Germany. In the Crimean War the Russians employed dogs as sentries, and the same applies to the American Civil War. The French had sentry dogs in Tunis, Algeria, Madagascar, Dahomey, etc. Napoleon used dogs in his Italian campaign, and some of these dogs became famous, such as the dog "Moustache." Training of dogs for war service started in Germany, Russia, France, Sweden and Holland towards the beginning of the present century, and it was especially in Germany that this matter has always received the most careful attention. The Germans were quickly followed by the French, but the Italians had had experience with war-dogs in their Tripoli campaign, and in the last war they used the mountain sheep-dogs with their sentries on the frontier.

As I have already mentioned, Colonel Richardson, before the war, was the only man who had taken any active interest in training war-dogs, and in his work, in the chapter "How the Movement Began in the British Army," Colonel Richardson explains to us how the establishment of the War Dog School at Shoeburyness became a fait accompli. In August, 1914, he offered his services to the British Red Cross Society with some trained ambulance dogs, and his offer was accepted. Colonel Richardson had given a great deal of attention to the service of ambulance dogs, but this service was found unworkable under the conditions of modern trench warfare, so that the French War Office had entirely forbidden the use of these dogs with the French army shortly after the beginning of the war.

Colonel Richardson's book contains also extremely interesting stories of the individual achievements of many canine heroes, and this part of his work is so full of dramatic incidents that it is sure to greatly interest the reader, especially the dog-loving one. The volume also contains many illustrations of the above dogs.

I can heartily recommend Colonel Richardson's book to every one who loves "man's best friend," for from that book he or she will see what a dog can do, not only for us, but for our country.

The "rage" for Alsatian Wolf Dogs in this country does not seem to have abated one iota. And the proof can be found in the last Richmond Show, which took place on the 6th of July. The entries were about 60, but it is not generally by the number of entries that a breed should be judged, from the utility point of view, but by the quality of the exhibits, and the quality was "all there" at Richmond. The judge was the famous French authority Monsieur Paul Megnin, of whom the Germans (before the war, of course) used to say as being the "greatest Alsatian Wolf Dog authority outside Germany!" As was the case of Mr. Otto Rahm, the Swiss authority, who judged at the last Ladies' Kennel Association's show, Mr. Megnin said that our Alsatis were better than he had expected, and that, if our breeders "carry on," the Alsatis in England will bid fair to eclipse even the Continental ones. For the rest, Richmond Show would have been a great success if it had not rained heavily all day. There were 542 classes provided, with 1,917 entries, not so good as in pre-war days, but, then, we must not grumble. I think it will interest your readers if I quote the above entries seriatim, i.e., by breeds: 34 Bloodhounds, 15 Mastiffs, 46 Great Danes, 31 Borzois, 12 Deerhounds, 77 Retrievers, 21 Irish Setters, 15 Irish Water Spaniels, 20 Cocker, 26 Collies, 34 Old English Sheepdogs, 26 Samoyedes, 59 Alsatian Wolf Dogs, 60 Chow Chows, 50 Poodles, 84 Bulldogs, 40 French Bulldogs, 45 Bull Terriers, 59 Airedales, 65 Smooth Fox Terriers, 89 Wire Fox Terriers, 90 Sealyhams, 68 Scottish Terriers, 95 Cairn Terriers, 63 West Highland White Terriers, 17 Dandie Dinmonts, 10 Bedlington, 7 Border Terriers, 46 Dachshunds, 18 Schipperkes, 35 Shetland Sheepdogs, 12 Whippets, 124 Pekingese, 53 Japanese, 43 Pugs, 7 Maltese, 22 Yorkshire Terriers, 49 Griffons Bruxellois, 3 Italian Greyhounds, 100 Pomeranians, 32 Toy Spaniels and 72 Variety Classes.

I mention the details of the above entries in order to show your readers the ebb and flow of the popularity of our different breeds of dogs.

W. G. HUBBARD, SOUTH VANCOUVER, B.C., HAS WONDERFUL RECORD AS A LIFE SAVER.

W. C. Hubbard, a municipal electrician, of South Vancouver, has the unique record of having saved nearly 200 human lives. That his wonderful self-sacrifices has been noticed and recorded is proven by the fact that he possesses several decorations, ungrudgingly bestowed upon him by those whose business it was to notice his chivalrous deeds. Probably the distinction he would be expected to revere most is the Royal Albert Medal, given personally by Queen Victoria, for his saving the entire crew of 175 men off Her Majesty's Ship "Lily" in a terrible gale off the coast of Labrador, when with a splendid example of valor he was successful in taking a line ashore, after two volunteers had been badly maimed in their attempts.

At a review of the British fleet at Portsmouth, many years ago, Mr. Hubbard plunged off the deck of H.M.S. "Helca" and successfully brought aboard a lady who had fallen off a Royal yacht! The ex-Kaiser Wilhelm was a spectator to the valorous rescue, and no doubt thinks of the occurrence now that he is having time to put two and two together, in his little Dutch cabbage patch; for this deed Hubbard received the Royal Humane Society's Silver Medal.

The Royal Humane Society gave their Bronze Medal for an attempted rescue of a boy embedded in mud in the Leeds and Liverpool Canal; the boy, when brought to the surface, was immediately pronounced dead.

Other decorations awarded were the Silver Medal of the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane Society, for saving a woman who, tiring of life's struggle, attempted to drown herself in the river Mersey at Liverpool. A bar to the Royal Humane Society's Silver Medal was earned and given for rescuing two ladies from drowning at Phyl, in North Wales. The "Stanhope" and "Answers" medals offered "For the greatest deed of bravery during the year," were awarded to our Western friend for entering a burning house at the peril of his life and successfully rescuing three children who had been imprisoned by the vagaries of the flames.

W. G. HUBBARD, VANCOUVER.

But, what Mr. Hubbard himself claims to be his most cherished possession, is the Major Taylor's Irish Medal for successfully saving the life of a dog washed out to sea in a gale. This was the most thrilling experience of all the many the brave Hubbard can recount; the dog, a Collie, in his fright and excitement, fighting and clawing his would-be saviour, but the intrepid Hubbard, with the tenacity of a strong-willed man, out to accomplish his self-imposed task, with wonderful grit fought his quarry and succeeded in bringing him back to shore. A huge wave threw man and dog heavily on to the promenade, momentarily stunning both.

"I prize that medal above all the others, because I have been an ardent lover of dumb animals all my life."

"Greater love hath no man than to risk his life for his friends," and we are tempted to add, "and amongst them his Canine friends."

We trust that this lion-hearted individual may be long spared to posterity.

WESTMINSTER DOG SHOW GOES BACK TO MADISON SQUARE GARDENS IN 1921.

I am pleased to announce that the Westminster Kennel Club will forsake the Grand Central Palace and return to Madison Square Garden for its next bench show. It will be held during Lincoln's Birthday week, under the same superintendent, George W. Gall, and with William Rauch as chairman of the bench show committee. It must be nearly his silver jubilee in that responsible position.

The selection of judges is now under way, and, as "a burnt cat dreads the fire," there is little doubt that care will be taken to select those who are quite unsmirched with scandal, doggy or otherwise. It is a pity that the American Kennel Club debars professional experts and handlers from acting as judges, for they are men who know dogs thoroughly and it is an education to exhibitors to have their dogs judged by them. I believe the Westminster Show will be the greatest in its long history.

The Canadian Situation.

Whether there will be a large entry from Canada at the Westminster Kennel Club show depends upon the action taken by the United States Treasury Department, which, under the present rules, has practically banned dogs from the Dominion at American dog shows. That a bond has to be given for the value of the dog is not the complaint so much as the delays in getting the dog back to Canada and the extra expense incurred by the men who enforce the Treasury Department customs laws, who are termed throughout the Dominion, in plain words, to be "grafters and thieves."

The Canadian Kennel Club has laid its grievances before the American Kennel Club, with a statement that Canadians will find it impossible to bench their dogs at shows in the United States unless a change is made in existent methods. At the quarterly meeting on September 21, the matter was taken up and after a discussion referred to the law committee, with instructions to do all in its power to obtain a revision and more favorable provisions from the United States Treasury Department.

Not to change the law will be a loss to the United States now, and in the long run a benefit to Canada. Unless there is a guarantee of the quick return of their dogs and a reduction of the present costs, all Canadians except a few rich men will have to cut out American dog shows. At no time has dog breeding been so prosperous in Canada, and we need the dogs from the Dominion at our shows to stimulate the rivalry in the classes and to teach our owners the points in which the Canadians are beating them—if they beat them.

If the United States remains a closed land, the Canadian owners will give more support to their local shows, which will increase and multiply for the future benefit of the Dominion. The reasons why the Canadians excel as dog breeders are because they have at their shows the benefit as judges of professional handlers from this country, men who know dogs thoroughly and how to place them right, irrespective of the person on the leash, and also because they have inherited their love of the dog from British forbears. They love to breed dogs, and the owners pay more attention personally to the details of kennel management than American kennel owners do. By all means repeal the ban against Canadian dogs.—Frank F. Dole, in New York Herald.

Presentation to Charlie Powlesland From the Old M.K.A. Members.

Charlie Powlesland, of Montreal, took charge of the Pride's Hill Wires on October 1st, and before leaving Montreal several of the older members of the M.K.A. presented him with a handsome souvenir in the form of a handsome silver cigarette case, suitably engraved. The presentation was made on Tuesday, September 28, at the Pellico Club, which is the headquarters of the M.K.A. There were present Messrs. H. E. Whitley, W. E. Baldwin, Wm. R. Aitken (the many friends of this gentleman will be pleased to hear that he is fast convalescing from his recent serious illness), A. C. Chisholm, W. Holmes, J. Steer, Alf Lepine, G. Painter, Jack Nicoll, H. Silver, Bob Mills, T. Ritchie, A. Hurley, G. McCorquodale, J. Todd, and the recipient, C. Powlesland. In making the presentation the President, Mr. W. E. Baldwin, remarked that "when you find you are going to lose a member be sure and send them away happy." Mr. Powlesland in his reply to Mr. Baldwin's speech stated that the M.K.A. was really responsible for him moving, as they were responsible for him being in the Fancy.

Mr. A. C. A. Chisholm, in a short (?) speech remarked that Charlie was the second member of this club to remove to the United States in the same capacity, and was sure to be a credit to the club down there, as the Wires of Montreal were one of the strong breeds among the members, and Mr. Powlesland had been very successful as an exhibitor and breeder here.

The Pellico Club's specialities were quite a feature, and Mountain Dew was also present, and a very enjoyable evening closed with songs from Jack Steer and Harry Lauder impersonations by Mr. Chisholm (who was in grand form).

Mr. Powlesland is one of the newer exponents of the cult of the Wire-Haired Fox Terrier in Montreal, and is a living proof of the fact that some men can learn more about a breed of dog in four years than others will in forty. A few years ago he purchased his first show Wire from the Malden Kennels. This was a bitch by Leeds Idol, regd. Daphne. She was mated to Dusky Bounce, and produced Wire Betty, who won well here, and was purchased by G. S. Thomas. She left behind her a litter by Wireboy Vanguard, that contained Vanguard Khaki and Vanguard Queenie (now known in the United States as Pride's Hill Gill), and from these Charlie produced such winners as Nostrebor Zip and Devonian Khaki, both good winners at our Canadian shows. "Charlie" always put them down right, and attracted the attention of G. S. Thomas, who was the means of him going to take charge of Capt. Q. A. Shaw McKean's kennels, as we understand he secured this position on the latter gentleman's recommendation. No doubt he will make good in his new sphere, and he carries with him the best wishes of his amny friends for his success.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

W. R. Wardle, Winnipeg, reports a litter of 7 Collies (6 males) from a good brood bitch, sired by his Ch. "Heather Belle Bradnor Chief."

Short Barks

J. McNulty, Toronto, reports having purchased from Geo. Gaull his good brood bitch, "Lady Dusky," and has had her bred to "Prince Albert's Double," and is now living the fascinating life of waiting for the 63 days to disappear.

Mr. MacDonald's Scotch terrier, "Flashlight," of 107 St. Vincent street, was loaned to the owner of a College street tailor shop as a watchdog. Burglars broke into the store on August 26th, and the dog raised sufficient alarm to save the situation. Naturally both the merchant and owner are highly pleased.

Harry "Diamond" Wilson, Toronto, adds another new dog to his already strong string of sires, particulars of which may be had by referring to his full-page advertisement appearing in this issue.

The new kennels are now in full operation, and "comfort for all" can truly be said to have been established, now that Harry has decided to give all his time to the dog game. It is safe to assume that his services as "Ermine-bearer" will be greatly in demand soon.

Frank Chapman, Toronto, reports a litter of Alredale puppies born to his good matron, "Devonian Girl," four males and three females, sired by Hillside Prince.

Allan D. Pearce, Sr., Porcupine, has bred his recently-imported wire-haired fox terrier bitch, "Laddielass" (Bredbury Wise Boy, ex Barney Wise Girl), to "Beckside Bugler," and figures out that if breeding still counts, he ought to get a good litter as a result.

A. V. Webley, Ottawa, retrieved his Toronto misfortunes at Ottawa on September 14th, when he aeroplaned over the big Russian wolfhound entry, under Jack Holgate, the English authority.

Mr. Webley has recently imported the great Russian wolfhound champion, "Clontarfs Krassal." This welcome addition to the "Tolstoi" kennel was adjudged the best specimen of the breed at the show named.

Following the judging of Cocker Spaniels at the Canadian National Exhibition, the Robinhurst Kennels, Long Island, N.Y., purchased the winning dog, Major Oak Perfection, belonging to Jack Sutton, Winnipeg.

Jim Bewick, Brantford, informs us that a grand litter of French bulldogs have arrived at the Tutela Kennels, sired by Nabob Perfection, the Buffalo crack, and out of one of their best matrons. There were five in the litter, and all males.

F. J. Williams, Toronto, reports a litter of four bulldog puppies out of "Smiles," and sired by "Advance Guard." Mr. Williams claims he has the most promising litter sired in Toronto for some time.

Dr. Scott, Regina, reports that his "Queen o' Quality" has just given birth to six fine Collie puppies by "Lilac Hero." Beautifully marked, and one, if not more, of this bunch, will be reared for bench honors.

Montreal Kennel Association propose holding a euchre party at an early date, and also an evening show around Christmas time, both being part of their 1920 programme.

Alf. McCausland, Toronto, reports a litter of eight, five bitches and three dogs, all good specimens, by Clevelock Unity. Mr. T. Hicks has bought back one of these youngsters, which speaks well for his opinion of his own stud dog.

John McNulty, Toronto, reports a grand litter of eight male puppies from his good bitch, "Rodney Queen." The sire of this remarkable litter is the winning dog, "Clevelock Unity," which is offered for sale in our advertising columns this month.

Mr. Foster, Toronto, reports that F. W. Davey has bred an imported female to her Ashton-More-Kwai-Ku, and that she has bred two Pomeranian matrons to W. Wickham's stud dogs, Gold Security and Shaftesbury Supreme.

Jos. A. Gouin, Three Rivers, Que., reports that his good Boston, "Yankee Speed King," is proving quite a success as a sire. Mr. Anderson's "Queenie," of Montreal, a 12-pound bitch, whelped five perfectly-marked puppies. Mr. Audette's "Jennie," of Levis, P.Q., six puppies; Mr. Findlay's "Beauty," of Shawenegan Falls, P.Q., five puppies. The above goes to prove that "Yankee" can now be recorded for large litters of true-to-type puppies. Other bitches that have lately visited the Klassy Kennels are Mr. Reynold's female, Mr. Desautels' female, both of Montreal, and "Baby Ringleader," owned by Mr. Lesser, of St. John, N.B.

One of the saddest news items to reach Kennel and Bench office for a long time, was that of the passing of Ch. Southport Joffre, the splendid English bulldog, owned by E. P. Tuson, Lethbridge. "Shorty," as Southport Joffre had been named by his handler, Bert Swann, was a general favorite with the fancy, and was a born showman, whichever way he posed; that was where he was when the ribbons were handed out. Poor old "Shorty."

Just as we go to press, and as if in some way compensation for the loss of this valuable dog, we learn that Mr. Tuson's "Vesey Viceroy" has been returned best of breed, and best dog in show, at Vancouver Exhibition. "Warfleigh Molly" won reserve winners in the 'fair sex' section. We congratulate our Western friend on those two good wins, and offer him the sympathy of the fancy, on his great and deplorable loss.

Mr. L. T. McGivern, of Regina, Sask., reports that "Malden Countess" completed her championship at the Winnipeg show last month. This makes the third Malden now sporting the proud title of Champion in Canada.

Globe Sweet William

C.K.C. 22089

Weight 19 lbs.

The 22-months old Canadian bred dog they have to take Champions in the ring to beat.

By Champion "Ingram's Little Man" ex a "Kintore Raffles" female.

HIS LATEST WINS.

June 4-5—Rochester, N.Y. (Boston Specialty Show), Reserve winners to Champion "Ravenroyd Rolls-Royce" (finished at his next show).

Sept. 3-4—Cornwall, Winners.

Sept. 6-9—C.N.E. Toronto, reserve winners to Champion "Paddy Dee" (finished at this event)

Sept. 14-17—Ottawa, reserve winners to Champion "Count Dee Cee" (finished several months ago).

Sweet William's Future Reputation Won't Depend on His Show Record Alone!

At the first show where puppies by him were old enough to show, Western Fair, 1920, the first and second male puppies were by him. This six months old pair put an eleven months old Toronto winner to third place. Their litter sister was second puppy in a class of six and second novice in a class of eight. The third female puppy and third in the novice class was also by Sweet William—a record that will put some of the still-in-the-ring champions to shame.

YOU ARE SATISFIED WITH THIS BREEDING. ANYONE WOULD BE.

This magnificent trappy little Boston was whelped March 23rd, 1918, and is without any doubt the best Middle-weight Boston Terrier at stud in Canada to-day. He has already made a name as a reliable sire of perfectly marked, small, classy puppies that are easily whelped by their matrons. Ch. "Yankee Speed King" is a real, rich seal brindle, with absolute perfect markings and tight screw tail. He has a very strong head, large expressive eyes, set wide apart, broad flat skull with well-defined stop, short, broad, square, deep muzzle, very cobby body, grand conformation and a sound mover. He is a guaranteed sire of the type of puppies that sell for high prices. A glance at his pedigree will convince you that his blood lines cannot be beaten. As a show dog, he has been a sensation already. At the Westminster Kennel Club Show in New York City, February 11 to 14, 1920, he was awarded 1st Limit in a class of nineteen dogs of the richest quality, second open to the winner's dog, "Arroyo Arbitrator."

Warfleigh Kennels

ANNOUNCE THE PURCHASE OF

Strathway Kennels

Having purchased the entire collection of WINNING BULLDOGS owned by Alex. H. Stewart, of Chicago, Ill., and combining these with the already famous collection owned by us, it affords us extreme pleasure to announce THE LARGEST AND GRANDEST COLLECTION OF BULLDOGS, NOT ONLY IN THE UNITED STATES, BUT IN THE WORLD. We question if any kennel on earth can show a team of such quality, or twenty such Bulldogs as are housed in our kennels at the present time. We have, at all times, quality dogs and bitches that can win—brood matrons of the best blood lines and puppies of all ages—if you are in the market for anything good in the Bulldog line it will pay you to inspect the Warfleigh stock.

We Offer at Stud

(Each Dog is Limited as to Service)

White Hope

The grandest bulldog living—a brindle pled heavyweight of 56 pounds. Awarded winners at the Westminster Show, New York City, and the Chicago Specialty Show, also "Best in Show" at the latter. Produces the best—watch for his "gets" at the coming shows—$4,000.00 recently refused for three youngsters in the same litter. Fee, $30.00.

Dum-Dum

Sired by that wonderful Bulldog, Ch. At Last, to whom he bears a close resemblance. A heavy lightweight of 44 pounds, dark fawn with a black mask. Has the same beautiful headpiece as his sire—skull is well wrinkled, ears are perfect, stop in deep and his underjaw is wide and well turned up. His enormous shoulders are well placed and his front extremely wide, while his body is the true pearshaped, with a beautiful tuckup of loin and a short tail. Fee, $30.00.

Goytside Demand

Next to Ch. Strathway Prince Albert, the best lightweight imported to the States. At his last show in England he won ten firsts and special for Best In Show and left behind some pups that money cannot buy—he has repeated in this country. He weighs 42 pounds and is possibly the best balanced Bulldog in America. Is a dark brindle pied dog—has a grand head and ears, is extremely short in back and has a genuine roach. We claim he is the biggest-boned lightweight living and is bred to produce the best. Fee, $25.00.

Pressgang

The dog whose head is a study—extremely short in foreface, great sweep of underjaw, has a broad flat skull, topped with the neatest of rose ears. He is considered one of the grandest headed dogs to-day. Fee, $25.00.

It Costs Nothing to Breed

We know our dogs are producers—we guarantee each service—we simply hold the fee until the bitch proves in whelp—if not the fee is returned—stud card tells the conditions.
