INT. CH. POLAM MAXIM LITTER.

Fred Goodfellow, Montreal, says that of the five puppies out of his good bitch Northcliffe Betty, by the above crack show dog, there is at least one who will make his illustrious daddy look to his laurels.

FRANK DOLE CRITICIZES CANADIAN AIREDALE.

Frank Dole, the celebrated canine writer to the New York Sunday Herald, under date of April 10th, writes his impressions on the 419 entry at Detroit Show, 34 of which were Airedale Terriers, and has this to say: "The Special for the best dog in the Show brought together a number of representative dogs of various breeds. The competition after a lot of sorting out, narrowed down to a Wire Haired Fox Terrier Bitch, 'Aberfoyle Trevelac Tit Bit,' owned by C. L. Gilliland of Chester, Pa., and the well known Airedale Terrier, 'Champion Polam Maxim,' owned by Norman MacKenzie of Regina, Sask. Both owners were at the ringside.

Two Wonderful Dogs.

"Although 'Polam Maxim' is 6 years old, he never looked better. He was put down in wonderful form by Bert Swann, the Canadian professional, who always shows him, deserved a lot of credit. Many critics have claimed that he is somewhat coarse in head, and shrunk in body. I went over this wonderful Terrier very closely at this Show, and I must say that he is just as good as he ever was in every particular.

"Good as he was on that day, he was unable to stop the wire-haired Fox Terrier, another dog about which there has been much discussion. She was also shown to the hour by Percy Roberts. Mr. Hopton who was judging gave them both a thorough examination, and finally decided in favor of the Fox Terrier. Let me say that they are two grand dogs, and the decision could have gone either way without doing either an injustice."

Canadian Airedalers will be glad to have this contribution from this acknowledged eminent authority, and as it re-iterates our own opinion of Int. Ch. "Polam Maxim," we, too, were pleased to read the critic. "Maxim," by all the laws known to the science of showing and breeding, should now be showing his years, but that is just where we are in danger of fooling ourselves, when we go on record as saying that he is showing age, basing our belief on the law of acceptance for granted. Those of us who were privileged to see this "celebrity" leave his corner, for the block at the first request of Russell Johnston at New York Show last February, and later when he came up in response to the second asking and then going through his paces, were able to follow the dog correctly, but lost, in our effort to follow the merit which was eventually placed over the Canadian entry. But there you are, many men, many minds, and good dogs are sometimes the targets for the inconsistencies of both.

We congratulate both the owner and the handler on "Maxim's" good performance at Detroit.

CANADIAN DOGS CAPTURE MANY PRIZES AT DETROIT SHOW.

One of the noticeable events at the above mentioned show was the remarkable victories of our Canadian exhibits. These canines were in charge of that capable handler, Bert Swann of Humber Bay, Ont., who deserves great credit for the superb condition in which the dogs were exhibited. Following is a list of the dogs' wins, which are all the more noteworthy when we consider they were competing against the very best in America. In Airedales, where competition was keen, Int. Ch. "Polam Maxim," once more carried all before him, his "bag" for the day being first open and winners, cup for best of breed, and several other trophies, including the coveted cup for best in show (all breeds). We congratulate his owner, Mr. Norman MacKenzie, on this wonderful dog's remarkable record.

Mr. J. W. Bain's "Ellerslie Queen" romped through the bitch classes with ease, carrying off first limit, first open, winners, and cup for best bitch. Mr. A. E. Danby's "Barnsley Boy" landed first in novice and second limit in strong classes. A very promising young bitch named "Briarwood Bouquet," owned by Briggs and Wilson, of Toronto, made a successful debut in the American show ring, winning first puppy, first novice and third in any variety puppy.

In Bulldogs our enthusiastic western fancier, Mr. E. P. Tuson of Lethbridge, carried off first novice, second limit and reserve winners, with "General Byng." Mr. G. C. Briggs' "Duran-side Captain" followed up his Toronto successes by going to winners, and annexing the cup for best Bulldog in show; also third in any variety non-sporting.

Fox Terriers (Wire).—In this section the competition was of the keenest possible nature. Messrs. Briggs and Wilson's well known dog, Ch. "Flornell Rapid Fire" was first in limit dogs.

Canadian dogs, wherever they go, across the International boundary, invariably make their presence felt, no matter how strong the competition. —Editor.

OUR RECENT SHOWS

BULLDOG CLUB OF CANADA'S SHOW A SUCCESS.

The spontaneous applause which greeted Judge Ed. L. Boger's placings at the Bulldog Club of Canada's spring show, at the Auditorium Hall on Saturday, April 16th, was proof that the club had succeeded at last in getting a judge who knew Bulldogs well and could place them right. The criticism that regularly followed past shows was entirely absent and the good feeling that existed all through the show ended in three hearty cheers for the judge, enthusiastically tendered.

The outstanding feature of the show was the finishing of a championship in Almond & Marshall's "Tam Hin," who gained the honor after a hard struggle. The judge's decision was greeted with applause.

The contest between "Sally of Montreal" and "Roxton Mickey," which ended in the Toronto bitch winning out, with public opinion about fifty-fifty. When the judge handed the blue to the Toronto bitch the good Montreal sports cheered lustily, even though they lost.

Many classy pups were shown, and Libby & Ross' "Alston Ace" being given best dog with H. L. Thomas' "Brynhyfryd Playfair" best in bitches.

There were nearly eighty dogs benched, which is a record for Montreal. Some of the classes had as many as fourteen dogs and competition was so keen that many good dogs were obliged to take the gate.

The show was a great success, and everyone seemed to leave the building satisfied. Two hundred and sixty-five entries were made. Seventy-nine dogs were actually benched out of the 87 catalogued, giving the show a championship rating of three points.

TIP-TOP BOSTON KENNELS

Chas. Keleher, 113 Arundel Ave., Toronto

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION DOG SHOW, 1921.

The management of the Canadian National Exhibition (through courtesy of the evergreen Superintendent, Mr. F. W. Jacobi), have sent to Kennel and Bench a partial list of their selected judges who will officiate at the "Big Fair," commencing September 5th, 1921. In fact, we understand that with the exception of the judge for Boston Terriers, the list is complete.

Canadian judges will predominate in numbers, and why not. Our American cousins appreciate their great ability, and too often we are apt to lose sight of this important fact, in our hunt for an "imported judge." Robert A. Ross, Esq., Ville St. Pierre, Que., will have as his allocation of breeds: Mastiffs, St. Bernards, Bloodhounds, Newfoundlands, Great Danes, Russian Wolfhounds, Greyhounds, English and American Foxhounds, Pointers, English Setters, Irish Setters, Gordon Setters, Doberman Pinchers, Poodles (other than Toy), Beagles, Badger Dogs, Whippets. Miscellaneous Class and Variety Class A.

Dr. C. Y. Ford, New York (late of Kingston), will pass his rule over the Collie entry (rough and smooth), Old English Sheep Dogs (Bobtails), and Sporting Spaniels.

This will be Dr. Ford's first judicial appearance in Canada since 1914, when he offered his services to Great Britain, and after acceptance stayed with her until the job was completely finished. The Doctor will meet a host of "old-time friends" at this Show, who will be delighted to again renew his acquaintance.—Editor's Note.

Norman K. Swire, Esq., Toronto, will assume the arduous task of placing the English Bull-dog entry—probably the hardest item on the programme. Pekingese, Pomeranians, Chow Chows, Dalmatians, French Bulldogs, Schipperkes, Pugs, Italian Greyhounds, Toy Poodles, English Toy Spaniels, Yorkshire Terriers, Maltese Terriers, Shepherd Dogs (Alsation), Belgian Sheep Dogs, and Variety Classes B. and D.

George Steadman Thomas, Esq., Hamilton, Mass., fresh from his English excursion, and looking as though the trip had been of a beneficial nature, takes on all the Sporting Terriers, which include: Airedale Terriers, Bull Terriers, Smooth Hair Fox Terriers, Wire Hair Fox Terriers, Sealyham Terriers, Irish Terriers, Scottish Terriers, Cairn Terriers, White West Highland Terriers, Bedlington Terriers, Manchester Terriers, Variety Class C. and Classes 401 and 402.

The classification will to all intents and purposes be the same as last year, due provision having been made, however, for the taciturns of fashion, and classes have been made for Shepherd Dogs (Alsation), and Belgian Sheep Dogs, Pugs and Schipperkes, whilst puppy classes have been added to the classification for American Foxhounds and Pekingese.

The Dog Show Committee have the following well-known fanciers serving: Messrs. Joseph Russell, President Canadian Kennel Club; Harry Clayton, First Vice-President, and Fred W. Jacobi, Director and Past Second Vice-President, so it is proper to assume that the Dog Show of the Canadian National Exhibition will be again conducted according to Hoyle.

Same old building again? Sure! but each succeeding year emphasizes its undesirability as a fixed building. That it must soon disappear and give way to a location which must be very desirable to the Exhibition authorities and soon we will either be housed in a new building on the old site, or in a different building somewhere on the spacious Exhibition grounds. It must come. It has often been promised, but we must not forget the monkey-wrench which the war threw into the machinery of the world and stopped everything more or less for a period of at least five years. Anyway, the Canadian National Exhibition is preparing for the greatest Dog Show ever held under their auspices, this 1921.

BRENTMOOR BLINKMORE A SIRE?

Brentmoor Blinkmore is an Irish rapsallion when it comes to raising families a-la-mode. Here's how they run so far to his credit: Mendon Spitfire, 3 males and 5 females; Sheer Gold, 3 males and 4 females; Queen of St. George, 6 males and 3 females; Coast Native Princess, 2 and 2, or 14 of each sex in 4 families. We'll bet there's ructions aplenty in store for the Irish yet.

Blinkmore's waiting list includes: Rosecrea Nora, and Edgcombe Belle. Next year should be a good one for the Irish section of our dog shows on both sides of the boundary.

SHORT BARKS.

Mrs. S. Delaney, Toronto, just works away, breeding her little Italian Greyhounds and showing them at every opportunity. A litter of five (three males), have arrived at the kennel, the family of Lady Lena, by Lord Bobs, and all going good.

OLD FANCIER GIVES UP BREED- ING AND SHOWING.

Mrs. Howarth, the famous White Pomeranian breeder of Grimsby, Ont., has decided to abandon her activities in raising Pomeranians. We very much regret her decision and she will be greatly missed at all the Shows and the Kelworth prefix will not so often be heard from in the future. Kennel and Bench trusts that Mrs. Howarth's travels down the far side of life may be of the very happiest nature, and that she may long be spared to her family and friends.

ANOTHER PARTNERSHIP HAS BEEN FORMED.

A partnership has been effected between the well known George W. Bailey of Ottawa and James Eggins of the same city, whereby the two popular breeds of dogs, i.e., Fox Terriers and Airedale Terriers, will be specialized in and the individuality of both men would lead us to believe that the partnership will be a success from the very first. The foundation stock embrace the best inmates of both kennels.

NORTHCLIFFE AIREDALE KENNELS

Again Re-inforced, This Time Materially So.

Conforth & Kay, Montreal, have added to their stock that cracking good son of Ch. "Abbey King Nobbler," Ch. "Young King Nobbler," a dog that boasts the best strains of Airedale blood, and should prove himself a wonderful stud asset to the Northcliffe establishment.

Friend Conforth sends along a clipping from our American contemporary, "Field and Fancy," which is not only very interesting, but has a historical value as well. So we reproduce the article for the benefit of our Airedale readers, and which they will no doubt greatly appreciate:

Some Airedale Champions.

We are in receipt of a long and lengthy letter from Ira D. Bloom, owner of the Pineyblu Kennels of Pine Bluff, Ark., that would delight any lover of Airedale lore. Mr. Bloom wrote some time ago a letter anent "Abbey King Nobbler," that great dog, and Arthur Goulding sent in a letter in reply thereto. Mr. Bloom takes exception—in a friendly spirit, of course—to Mr. Goulding's statement that "Swiveller is the sire of more champions than any other dog." In this he is certainly in error, writes Mr. Bloom, as statistics will show. The two most famous Airedales of all times are Champion "Clonmel Monarch" and "Elruge Monarch." Both sired ten champions; "Elruge Monarch's" tenth and last champion being Champion "Bilmer Bingo." "Elruge Monarch" is also the sire of "Swiveller." The following dogs also sired more than "Swiv": Champion "Crompton Oorang," six; "Master Briar," five; "Rockley Oorang," four; "Bolton Woods Briar," four; "Tone Master Pierre," four. The following dogs were not fortunate enough to become champions, but they were great sires: "Odsall Crack," four champions; "Crompton Marvel," four; "Tintern Desire," four. While in my opinion (all fanciers are entitled to their own), "Abbey King Nobbler" was a greater show dog than a sire, writes Mr. Bloom, he was, however, a successful producer, especially in the second generation. He is the sire of the famous English "Sire Karama Rex"; "Abercorn Gold Edge," who lacks but one point for championship; "Champion Young King Nobbler," who claims the largest stud fee of any Airedale in this country, namely, $50; "Yankee Girl of Ashbourne"; "Fair Maiden"; "Rock Water Cress" and others. The following famous Airedales claim him as grandsire or great-grandsire: Champion "Rex Persaultum," "Brookhaven Laddie," "Boxwood Blimp," "Elmhurst Empress," "Briargate Buckley Great Scott," "Mystery Marine," "Furore First Flight," and others. I do not mean to detract from "Swiveller's" wonderful record, writes Mr. Bloom, as a show dog and sire. In fact, it would be next to impossible, for the reason that "Swiv" is an outstanding figure in the Airedale world. "Swiveller" probably holds a record, that of being the sire of two champions in one litter, namely, Champions "Gold Heels" and "Kirks Patricia."

"Kinder Lou" was bred to the new Champion, and is now showing heavy in whelp, and if the "Elruge" and "Swiveller" strains assert their known influence, the resultant litter should be a sensational one, anyway there are "hopes deferred" awaiting the results.

HAMILTON NOTES.

Hamilton-Wentworth Kennel Club held a very successful parlor show recently in the 20th Century Club rooms. Poms, Skyes, Scotties, Poodles, and several of the larger varieties were out.

Geo. Day, Hamilton, has imported a splendid "Yorkie" from England, and has purchased two from a Montreal fancier; add to this his existing stock and his further intentions for importing, and you will find where Hamilton is soon to have a say in "Who's Who in Yorkshires" at a very early date.

Mrs. Gammon, the well-known Cocker Spaniel breeder, who has been content to rest on her laurels for a considerable time now, is—as we prophesied—back into the game again, and has secured a very fine Cocker Spaniel female from a St. John breeder—we wonder if it is from Ritchie's kennel—and she says that future shows will see her and her dogs around.

May her shadow never grow less.

Chas. J. Clapham, Hamilton, has purchased from Mrs. R. P. Adams, Montreal, a Skye Terrier puppy (male) known as "Talisker Iron Monarch," by "Moorland Chief,"—ex "Talisker Grey Girlie." Charlie owns two "Skyes" now, and says he can recommend the "Scotch" every time.

CRABTREE IN CANADA!

Sam Crabtree, England's representative globe-trotting ermine bearer, descriptive writer, and famed the world over by the prefix "Fallsworth" and the word "White," will soon be with us in Canada. We are advised from the Coast by our good friend Bert Finch that Sam will arrive in Montreal with the S.S. Victorian on May 13 or 14, and we have it on reliable authority that the "followers of rover" in Quebec Province are already getting their house in order for the reception of this distinguished visitor.

Will it be possible for Toronto fanciers to have Sam stop off here for a "biscuit and cheese and two-pennorth o' beer"? Toronto fanciers are generally alive to their responsibilities in this respect, so we will wait and see.

Winnipeg will be on the "Fort," and a good lookout kept from there, and Mr. Crabtree will be made to realize that Canada is a part of the great Empire and that Canada's great heart rings true to the Motherland.

WHY A DOG'S NOSE IS ALWAYS COLD.

Upon many occasions has the questions been asked, Why is a dog's nose always cold? and What breed of a dog did Noah take into the Ark?

Here is the answer, and explanation: When Noah was fulfilling his duty of getting the animals into the Ark, a great deal of trouble and worry soon was experienced, chiefly through the stupidity of some of the quadrupeds, and some were running in and out, and round about, here, there and everywhere, till at last Noah got exhausted and sat down to think. After a rest and serious thinking, he thought of the dog. Now, which kind of a dog will be most useful to me to help me out of this awkward situation. Then he came to the conclusion that it must be a Collie. The Collie soon made good, and Noah soon found out that he had solved the problem, for right well did this canine set to work, and much to the delight of Noah, had them all where they belonged, in spite of the protests that the pigs, hyenas and mules put up, attending strictly to his duty and not giving up until the last animal was inside the Ark. But so, through being the last to get aboard, the Collie found the room for him was limited, in fact, was obliged to squeeze himself in with his nose sticking out, during the whole of the voyage, and this adventure has been responsible for the canine race to have a cold, wet nose, for evermore.

TOM MILNER.

THE PERKY POMERANIAN

Dogs are peculiarly susceptible to the caprices of fashion—one variety, after being quite the rage for some years, may suddenly fall into disfavor, another entirely supplanting it in popular esteem. Amongst all these changes there is no variety amongst the Toy section that has remained so popular as the perky little Pomeranian. Whether they will have ultimately to yield pride of place to the Pekinese is a question which time alone can answer. The numbers to be seen in our cities and towns is satisfactory proof that this handsome fellow is not wholly in the hands of the exhibitors. Wherever we go he is in evidence.

The Pomeranian is reputed to have originated from Pomeria, a northern Province of Germany on the shores of the Baltic; he was originally known as the Wolf-Spitz, weighing from 20 to 30 pounds, mostly white in color, and closely resembling the Samoyede and Esquimaux. It is from this kind of stock that the present-day miniature specimens have evolved, and demonstrates what the British pioneers can accomplish by selection and careful breeding. They were first classified as a breed by the English Kennel Club in 1871. At this time there was only a few large white specimens in evidence, and from then on little was seen or heard of them until 1891, when the Pomeranian Club of England was organized. The birth of this club was the signal for activity. The Pom seemed to spring from partial obscurity to complete popularity in a day, the craze being for small ones of good color. The bantamising and grading of colors went on apace, until to-day, we have almost every known shades of color, and dogs ranging between three and eight pounds in weight. A proof of their rapid growth and claim for popularity can be gauged from the writer's knowledge of the breed when only a few large specimens adorned the show benches and a few years later on when visiting the Northern Pomeranian Club's Show, which took place in November in 1907, I found over 500 entries divided up into 40 classes of all colors and weights. Personally, I think the craze for diminutiveness in many cases has been overdone, hence the reason we occasionally see at our shows undersized weaklings, lacking type and soundness. Those who have the welfare of the breed at heart can, and are, producing diminutive specimens true to type, sound, and possessing all the characteristics that are desired in the make-up of these dainty little canines. Breeders have gradually grasped the fact that the best judges will not recognize such undesirable weaklings, and that the only way to obtain the correct type is to breed from healthy bitches, of sound constitution and weighing from four to eight pounds, and by using small stud dogs, preferably those bred from small, sound stock. The puppies are fairly hardy and somewhat easy to raise. Like all other puppies, they should be treated for worms when they are between four and five weeks old.

A regular system of grooming is essential if success is to be attained in the show-ring. A little hair tonic sprayed into the coat from time to time is beneficial, and the coat should be brushed and combed (the wrong way). By this, I mean from back to ing towards the head. By this means you are helping to develop the stand-off coat and prevent the hair from becoming matted.

The following are the standard description and points of the breed, as laid down by the Pomeranian Club, front, starting at the tail and brush-and which have, I believe, been adopted by several other Pomeranian Clubs:

(By Theo. Marples, F. Z.S., in Show Dogs.)

Appearance—The Pomeranian, in build and appearance, should be a compact, short-coupled dog, well-knit in frame. His head and face should be fox-like, with small erect ears that appear sensible to every sound; he should exhibit great intelligence in his expression, docility in his disposition, and activity and buoyancy in his deportment 15

Head—The head should be somewhat foxy in outline, or wedge-shaped, the skull being slightly flat (although in the Toy varieties the skull may be rather rounder), large in proportion to the muzzle, which should finish rather fine, and be free from lippiness. The teeth should be level, and on no account under-shot. The head in its profile may exhibit a little "stop," which, however, must not be too pronounced, and the hair on head and face must be smooth or short-coated 5

Eyes—The eyes should be medium in size, rather oblique in shape, not set too wide apart, bright and dark in color, showing great intelligence and docility of temper. In a white dog black rims round the eyes are preferable 5

Ears—The ears should be small, not set too far apart, nor too low down, and carried perfectly erect, like those of a fox, and like the head should be covered with soft short hair. No plucking or trimming is allowable. 5

Nose—In black, black and tan, or white dogs, the nose should be black; in other colored Pomeranians it may more often be brown or liver-colored, but in all cases the nose must be self or parti-colored, and never white. 5

Neck and Shoulders—The neck, if anything, should be rather short, well set in and lion-like, covered with a profuse mane, and frill of long straight hair, sweeping from the underjaw and covering the whole of the front part of the shoulders and chest as well as the top part of the shoulders. The shoulders must be tolerably clean and laid well back 5

Body—The back must be short, and the body compact, being well ribbed up, and the barrel well rounded. The chest must be fairly deep, and not too wide. 10

Tail—The tail is a characteristic of the breed, and should be turned over the back and carried flat, being profusely covered with long, spreading hair. . . 10

Coat—Properly speaking there should be two coats, an under and over coat, the one a soft, fluffy undercoat, the other a long, perfectly straight and glistening coat covering the whole of the body, being very abundant round the neck and fore part of the shoulders and chest, where it should form a frill of profuse, standing-off straight hair, extending over the shoulders, as previously described. The hindquarters, like those of the Collie, should be similarly clad with long hair or feathering from the top of the rump to the hocks. The hair on the tail must be, as previously described, profuse and spreading over the back 25

Color—The following colors are admissible: White, black, blue or grey, brown, sable, shaded sable, red, orange, fawn and parti-colors. The whites must be quite free from lemon or any color, and the blacks, blues, browns and sables, from any white. A few white hairs in any of the self colors shall not absolutely disqualify, but should carry great weight against a dog. In parti-colored dogs the colors should be evenly distributed on the body in patches;

a dog with a white foot or a white chest would not be a parti-colored. Whole-colored dogs with a white foot or feet, leg or legs, are decidedly objectionable, and should be discouraged, and cannot compete as whole-colored specimens. In mixed classes, i.e., where whole-colored and parti-colored Pomeranians compete together, the preference should, if, in other points are equal, be given to the whole-colored specimens. Shaded sables must be shaded throughout with three or more colors as uniformly as possible, with no patches of self color. Oranges must be self-colored throughout, and light shadings are allowed, though not desirable. 10

ESSAY ON TEETH

Not one puppy in every ten, probably not one in fifty, requires the attention of the dentist, professional or amateur, yet every puppy's mouth should be glanced at occasionally just to see that all is going on correctly. The puppy, no more than the nervous child, likes having his jaws forced open, and held open so that his mouth may be critically examined, and when the operation is accompanied by dire threats it becomes especially alarming.

The puppy struggles, or the child howls, and an affair which should be entirely trifling becomes for the moment serious, especially should one of the parties concerned lose his temper. A little patience and a good deal of petting soon overcomes the infant's objection to having its mouth examined. In next to no time the whole affair becomes a mere game. It is not in order to see whether the roof of the mouth is aroused, nor is one nowadays concerned about the "worm" under the tongue which causes (sic) madness, or yet the mysterious lump on the roof of the mouth which was supposed to bring about some other evil. Such things belong to yesterday. Our search is for something much more simple. For better understanding a few words on the subject of a dog's teeth are necessary. These first appear at a very early stage of a puppy's career, tiny pin points forcing their way through the gums. They seldom cause any trouble, if that is to come, it is later.

These first teeth, which before long are quite serviceable and very sharp, as most of us know to our cost, are of milky whiteness, hence their name of "milk teeth," for they have nothing to do with the consumption of milk. They last from five to seven months, the period varying considerably, and are then replaced by the permanent set, which are to serve the dog for the rest of his life.

If there is trouble it is during this change, though most healthy puppies do not suffer at all.

It is important that they should have plenty of opportunity of using their teeth so that they may loosen and get rid of the baby teeth and so make room for the second set which are growing beneath them. This is why puppies are so liable to get into mischief, and there would be less trouble for all parties if only the youngsters were kept supplied with big rough bones to gnaw and hard biscuits to chew. Even a tough string ball is useful.

It occasionally occurs that the puppy teeth, which should be right, tumble out of their own accord, or be pushed out by the second set growing underneath them, remain firm. The permanent teeth in such a case are thrown out of their true position, they grow by the side of the first set, and are therefore out of line. Eventually the puppy teeth are certain to come out, but by that time the harm has been done, and all chance of a level mouth is over.

It is for fear of this happening that the experienced fancier keeps an eye to his puppy's mouth, and should he find the first teeth remain too long he whips them out. It is not a very serious operation, if performed by an experienced man, but is a very distressing one if undertaken by a bungling amateur.

A former generation never hesitated at all, the teeth were dragged out with a key, indeed, it seems to have been the fashion to torture a dog with this homely implement without a thought of his suffering. As has been already pointed out, rough bones, dog cakes to chew, tough balls to play with will do all that is necessary, but just occasionally such common sense means will fail.

Then should the dog be taken to the dentist without any delay, because—forgive the repetition—if the mischief is allowed to continue for even a few weeks it will be too late to rectify matters.

No one need be afraid of trusting the veterinary surgeon who specializes in canine practice. He is quite unlike the old race of practitioner, who assuredly did not err on the side of gentleness. The up-to-date Vet. has no desire to cause pain; he is probably quite as tender-hearted as those who consult him, while he knows, also, that he gets better results from gentle methods than harsh ones. If a tooth is really obstinate, firmly embedded, and difficult to move, he is not above using a little cocaine for his patient's sake, and one of our greatest Vets pointed out long since, that whatever value this drug might have for human sufferers, it was, so far as animal patients are concerned, one of the most valuable discoveries ever made. ACROSS CANADA WITH THE FANCIERS

FREDERICTON KENNEL CLUB.

When we referred to the possibility of a new Club being formed in New Brunswick we did not imagine that the actual formation was even at that time well under way, but that is just how we find things were.

On April 8th the Fredericton Kennel Club was formed, and the following officers were appointed to manage Canada's baby Canine Organization through its initiatory degrees, and we wish them every success, right from the start.

President, Mr. J. J. McCaffrey; Vice-President, Mr. W. W. Laskey; Secretary, Mr. Arthur Crowley; Treasurer, Mr. R. N. MacCunn; the Executive combines the aforementioned officers, with Mr. Jas. Laidlaw added.

The objects of the Club embrace all that is essential for the better breeding of thoroughbred dogs; to improve their number and quality in Fredericton and district, and to co-operate with the Provincial Exhibition there in holding a show on Sept. 21-22 and 23, towards which end every eye is focussed.

Affiliation with the Canadian Kennel Club is anticipated, and the requisite stationery has been forwarded for that purpose and we know that with W. W. Laskey's experienced hand on the helm, there will be lots of "pep" behind the new club from the start. We offer the youngsters our congratulations.

QUEBEC KENNEL CLUB TO HAVE SUMMER SHOW.

Ancient Quebec will be treated to their 2nd Annual Dog Show on June 15 and 16, and have secured for judicial purposes, Miss C. J. La Violette Longueuil, well known to the Toy fancy, and particularly to our Pekinese exhibitors, and will no doubt draw an entry for the Club she has consented to work for. Norman K. Swire will pass the rule on the balance, and it will be worth while to notice whether he can command the same measure of success in Canada as he quite evidently can do in the country to our south. It has been said that "A prophet is without honor in his own country," but we predict that this quotation will go meaningless and unrewarded at the coming Show at Quebec, and that the judge elect, will more than be satisfied with the encouragement accorded them by the fancy in general.

G. E. Letourneau, who was so elo-quently written up in the Kennel Press following Quebec's first show, will again be in charge of the reins of superintendence, and will have as associate Frank W. McKeen of the "Torchlight" prefix, who is also a tireless worker. Send to either of these gentlemen for your premium list. You will get their addresses in our business columns, and on page 36.

CORNWALL KENNEL CLUB.

Cornwall Kennel Club held its annual meeting on March 30th, when the Treasurer's and Auditor's reports were read and adopted, and the following gentlemen elected to office for the 1921-22 term:

Hon. president, I. H. Weldon; president, T. W. Ault; first vice-president, J. C. McDonald; second vice-president, H. C. F. Poste; third vice-president, James Whitham; hon. veterinarian, Dr. McGuire; hon. solicitor, J. A. Chisholm; directors, Major S. M. Gray, J. H. Bonar, Dr. W. D. Knight, A. E. Currie, W. B. Newton, Dr. Robertson, T. R. Dunkin, Wm. Parkinson, P. Bigelow; secretary-treasurer, W. F. Corbett; show secretary, O. Larin.

The members discussed the prospects of holding a fall show, and, although no final decision was reached, it was the feeling of most of the members that they would favor a fall exhibition, open to members only. As the club has a number of members throughout the three united counties and along the American border, it was felt that a larger entry could be obtained.

The club has met much to discourage it in its license shows since its inception, and nothing short of assurance of support will be able to induce them to consider this feature seriously this year.

CANADIAN WIRE GOES ON TOP AT ST. LOUIS.

The Canadian-bred Wire Fox Terrier, "Gatineau Hills Truth," recently sold by G. W. Bailey, Ottawa, to an American client, came out at St. Louis Show, with Percy Roberts in attendance, and went through her classes to winners and landed on top of the heap and won the Special for best Fox Terrier in the Show. A remarkable win for a Canadian-bred Wire at an American Show. The breeder, owner (Miss Hinkle), and handler deserve our congratulations and we heartily tender them unreservedly.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Ted Henshaw, the well known English Fox Terrier (Wire) breeder, is now in Montreal and with him came three "real" wires, "Bredbury Wire Boy," "Lillias," and "Parrs Fold Double." Upon his arrival this "stranger-within-our-gates" intimated casually that "Lillias" was for sale. This intimation whetted the appetites of the Montreal "red-hots" and our friend Harry Silver had quite a time "receiving" the would be aspirants to her good graces. But it was left for "Jimmie" Strachan, and a big cheque bearing his autograph, to carry her off. She is a dream, and Bob Ross is the authority for the statement, "She is the best bitch that ever came here," and even if that statement is only approximately correct, the "Ormsby" establishment is again further reinforced and we must be content to await her appearance on the bench for a personal introduction.

Henry E. Whitley has parted with his famous "Short Cut" and "Pride's Hill Trenchman" to the great Pride's Hill Crossing firm, and we can imagine Charlie Powlesland a happy man when they arrive and go under his personal care, as both dogs are sons of the same sire, and he a Pride's Hill dog. "Pride's Hill Tweak'em," hero of many a ring contest—they will no doubt be a "constant care" with the Pride's Hill manager.

We wonder what Mr. Whitley has in view at this writing, as we cannot possibly imagine him dropping out of the "wires" completely.

Capt. O. Shaw McKean is to be congratulated on retrieving this brace for himself.

ALMONTE COMES BACK.

Fred J. Blake, Almonte, Ont., has been rather quiet lately, at least as far as Kennel and Bench is concerned, but when we heard that he had purchased from Jas. W. Bain the winning Airedale, "Parkton King Fisher," we felt it would only be a matter of time until Fred would be telling the world about it, and our deductions have proved correct.

We noticed this dog at all his C. K. C. starts, in 1920, particularly at Montreal (Ladies), where he went to reserve winners, and thought very well of him indeed, and Mr. Blake will make the most of the dog as head of his extensive kennels.

LONDON CANINE ASSOCIATION SPRING SHOW

The Fourth Annual Spring Show of the above association was held at the grounds of the Western Fair on April 28th and 29th, and for the first time a two-point rating was reached. Two hundred and eighteen dogs being actually benched, and included many of the dogs who are perched near the top of the "ladder of fame" at Canadian and American Shows, as our award columns will clearly show. The first day was of a mid-summer character, but the second day was a reminder that the "weather man was boss after all," and a shower of the proverbial "cats and dogs"—in it to a finish—was the order of the day.

John A. Lunan, unassuming, yet aggressive, ably assisted by more willing and competent help than we ever noticed at London before, kept the Show moving, and the rings supplied in a most creditable manner. Vincent G. Perry left a spell of sickness to be on hand and the experience—for a wonder—seemed to work all right. Fred J. Simmons and Jack D. Eagan, were the ring stewards, and kept the judging ring running very smoothly. Donald Soper, J. E. Keayes (the good Samaritan), Capt. W. Smith and Dr. W. McDonald, and others, were there, ready at all times to "dig in."

George (Dad) Ward, Toronto, was the Club's selection of "ermine bearer," and apart from any "ifs or buts" gave an efficient account of his stewardship. Free and easy of deportment, a kind word for one and all, and the ability to grade the qualifications of the dogs coming before him, in a masterly manner, makes Mr. Ward a very popular adjudicator in any ring.

There were several puppies of very tender age permitted to enter the building, and were present during the length of the Show, and when one considers the prevalent and justifiable feeling that some of our shows are too long drawn out, and that one day is long enough for a puppy (up to 1 year old) to be present. Then it naturally follows that puppies of tender age should be denied admission under any circumstances to any Show held under a Canadian Kennel Club license, and show giving Clubs without exception should see to it that one of their additional rules should read:

"No dog not duly entered in the regular classification prepared for this Show, will be allowed within the precincts of the building. The penalty for infraction of this rule, will be expulsion from the Show, and forfeiture of any prizes that may have been won by the exhibitor transgressing this rule."

Fancier's keep your baby puppies in the nest, a dog show is not the best place in the world for their future prospects, if their presence at a Show is, of a purely commercial motive, then it immediately develops into a question of commiseration on the onlookers' part, and who views their presence as a system of cruelty. LUKE CRABTREE, CELEBRATED BULLDOG BREEDER, DIES AT MANCHESTER, ENGLAND.

Bulldog breeders, the wide world over, will mourn the "passing thence" of the master of the well known "Moston" prefix. Luke was widely known and highly respected by a circle of friends whose number was legion. A capable judge, and one whose services were in constant demand in England, the Continent and right here in Canada.

Our departed brother fancier had been ailing for a considerable time, and had just recovered from a serious illness, which had left a heart weakness, from which he finally and suddenly succumbed. He leaves a wife, one son, and three daughters, and a world wide circle of friends to mourn his demise.

His activity in English Canine affairs may be deduced from his associations in the game over there. An associate of the Kennel Club (English), President of the Manchester Bulldog Club, and a past President of the British Bulldog Club, etc.

On behalf of the Canadian fancy, "Kennel and Bench" offers this Dominion's sympathies to Mr. Crabtree's immediate family, and to his myriad of friends.

CLAPTON DIPPER WINS AGAIN.

"Clapton Dipper," the 6-months-old Smooth Fox Terrier, who sailed from puppy to reserve winners at the latest Canadian National Exhibition, and was later sold to Len Brumby, has evidently matured into a real top-notch and landed on top of the heap at the recent New Haven Show, and leaving in his trail the well-known "Droxem Perfection," and "Perfection" has taken on all-comers successfully at one time or other.

Canada is still much in the game in Smooth Fox Terriers, and Geo. W. Bailey has earned the right to expect a lot of credit for this national distinction, in this particular breed, "Dipper," being "Clapton"-bred and a product of in-and-in breeding back to four generations.

THE DOG THAT CHANGED

PLACES WITH A BOY.

"Rocks" was a small puppy—not more than six months old. His life had not been an adventurous one, and he wished something would happen to make it worth while.

"Just you wait your turn," his mother told him. "Something will happen to you some day. You won't always be shut up here with me in this run. Soon you'll be old enough so that you won't run away when you are let out, and then our master will let us both run free."

What a wise collie "Rocks'" mother was! That very day their master decided that they had been shut up long enough, and that the garden was too far advanced for them to do any harm to it, so he opened wide the gate and freed the dogs. How "Rocks" and his mother did play about the yard. At first "Rocks" had an inclination to run away, but when he thought of the supper he might miss, he decided it was best to stay. Anyway, when he had run away once before he had been brought back and shut up, so perhaps it was not worth trying, he thought.

In the house, Johnny, his master's 8-year-old son, was complaining about the warm weather. Johnny was an awful boy to complain anyway. He was tired of playing, tired of picking berries, tired of pulling weeds in the garden, tired of everything—even tired of being Johnny.

As he stood looking out of the window at "Rocks" and his mother playing in the garden, his brow puckered all up. "A dog has a merry life," he wailed. "Nothing to do but play. No hateful old school to go back to, no catechism to learn, no chores to do, nobody to wash his face, nobody to make him change his clothes. The clothes he wears are the ones he has on all the time. I wish I was a dog."

And what do you suppose "Rocks" was thinking? He was thinking how lovely it would be to be a boy. "A nice piece of bread with jam on it whenever you cry for it; a nice, warm soft bed to sleep on, no hateful hot old fur to catch in burs when you are playing. How I wish I was a boy!"

The Sandman had heard what Johnny had said, and the Sandman could also understand what dogs say, so he heard "Rocks" too. "A boy and hands. In fact, "Rocks" had that wants to be a dog, and a dog that wants to be a boy," he said to himself. "Well, I'll see if it can't be arranged."

That night "Rocks" went to bed a little after it was dusk. Somehow he did not seem able to keep his eyes open. His old mother knew that he had played hard that day and would naturally be tired, but of course she did not know that the Sandman was hovering about blowing sleepy-sand into "Rocks'" eyes.

Johnny, too, was tired early. He seldom went to bed before half past eight, but soon after supper his head began to drop and his eyes to burn. He rubbed them good but the Sandman's sand would not come out. It was the Sandman's wish that they get to bed early that night for he had lots of work to do before they awoke. So it was, that at 8 o'clock both "Rocks," the dog, and Johnny, the boy, were fast asleep.

How had he got out there? Johnny woke up all of a sudden with surprise. His bright wall-papered room had disappeared, his comfy bed was no longer under him, and his soft blankets and sheets had been taken away, it seemed. What had happened? Where was he? It did not take Johnny long to find out. He was in the kennel. He was lying on the old carpet that "Rocks" and his mother had had for their bed, and at his side "Rocks'" mother was sleeping soundly. Johnny put out his hand to wake her up, then what a surprise he got. His hand and arm had changed to a long thin paw, covered with fur. He looked for his feet, and found they had changed, too. He had wondered why his nightie felt so tight and warm but now he saw why—his nightie had changed to a suit of fur. Oh goodness me, Johnny had had his wish; he had turned into a dog and had taken "Rocks'" place.

"Rocks" woke up suddenly, too. Somehow his bed felt more comfortable than usual, and how clean and nice it seemed. How light the kennel had got. But it was not the kennel. He was in Johnny's pretty bedroom—and in Johnny's bed, too. What was this loose thing about him? Why, it was a snow-white nightie! But his paws—where were they? He hadn't any paws, they had changed to arms changed all over, he discovered. His wish had come true—he had turned into a boy and had changed places with Johnny.

"Rocks" knew that he would have to act like a boy—though he had never watched a boy enough to know just how he did act. When he heard someone at the bottom of the stairs call "Johnny," he felt his legs, or at least the legs that had changed places with his own, jumping out of bed, and he had to follow them. His strange hands, too, seemed to know just what to do for they started down the stairs and took him into the breakfast-room.

Johnny's mother and father were waiting for their little son to come to breakfast, and, of course, when "Rocks" came in, changed to Johnny, they did not know the difference. They spoke to him. What would "Rocks" do? Of course, he could not talk anything but dog-talk, and human beings could not understand that. Yet, while "Rocks" was wondering, he heard Johnny's voice answering his parents. Why, he did not have to worry about talking at all!

His new voice, like his new hands and feet, knew what was expected of it, and was answering on its own accord. How strange it was to be a boy! "Rocks" did not like to eat breakfast sitting at the table, for he knew that that was not a dog's place, and he was frightened that at any moment Johnny's parents would know what had happened. But they did not. He had a nice breakfast, and he just seemed to eat like a regular boy.

Down in the kennel the real Johnny, turned into "Rocks'" old self was wondering what he was supposed to do now that he was a dog. He knew that dogs had some way of talking to one another, so thought that when "Rocks'" mother woke up and found him there she would know he was not her puppy and would cast him from the kennel. How strange it was to have hands that were feet and such long hind legs. Then, too, there was his tail. He was sure he would not be able to wag his tail, but he soon found out his tail wagged on its own accord. When old "Fan," for that's what "Rocks'" mother's name was, woke up, she did not know that Johnny had been exchanged for her pup. How could she?

There was a sound of steps from the house, and Johnny knew it was his father. "Fan" ran forward to meet him, and Johnny found his new legs carrying him off after her. Surely his father would know him in spite of the change that had come over him; but Johnny's father did not. He patted "Fan" and Johnny, thinking, of course, that Johnny was "Rocks," and put down two plates of feed for them. How awful it was to eat like a dog, but Johnny found himself eating away as if he enjoyed it. What a funny experience it was!

TORONTO FANCIER HONORED IN WINNIPEG.

At the annual meeting of the Boston Terrier Club of Western Canada, quite recently, the first appointment made in the election of officers for 1921-22, was that of honorary president, the highest office in the gift of this live Western club, and was given to Jack (J. W.) Ingleson, Toronto, an old past president of theirs now resident in Toronto, and holding the important position of manager and secretary to the Scarboro Golf and Country Club. This appointment is not only timely, but is well placed, and Toronto Boston Terrier devotees have found Mr. Ingleson just what his press notices claimed for him, a hard-working, conscientious disciple of the breed; and in doing this honor to Jack they have done greater honor to their club and to themselves. Congratulations.

The annual meeting was well attended and considered one of the most enthusiastic ever held. A flourishing, financial report—always the pulse of a progressive club—gave an impetus to greater efforts, which the Club has on their programme for this year's accomplishment. It was agreed to give their fullest support to the Fort Garry Kennel Club Show on May 12-13, which may also be taken as a token of confidence in the judge-elect, Jack Meadows of Toronto, who, by the way, is, and always has been a staunch supporter of the Boston Terrier, and a flattering entry of this breed will, no doubt, greet Mr. Meadows with a tail wag when he commences the work of separating their "wheat from their chaff." The other officers who were elected were: President, George Duncan; Vice-President, J. F. Kerr; Sec'y-Treasurer, Sam Jackson, Suite 9, Markland Court, Winnipeg; Executive Committee, fore him.

Messrs. H. L. Bowker, H. D. Price, Charles Humpherson and M. Lynch; Western Representative, Mrs. Wm. Wheeler. This is also a nice compliment to a good faithful follower of the destinies of the Boston in her Province of Alberta, and follows the Shows regularly. Mrs. Wheeler has been a member of the Canadian Kennel Club since 1913, and is well able to advise the fanciers of her locality in all things pertaining to the rules and usages of that organization.

CANADIAN FEMALES VISIT AMERICAN STUD DOGS.

Charlie Powlesland, the Pride's Hill Push, is, as he says, "tickled tipsy" at the support from Canadian Wire-haired Fox Terrier breeders given to the stud dogs under his charge. "Malden 'Tweak'ette," a smart, little daughter of "Short Cut" (see page 44 February issue), was bred by Ch. "Will o' Wave Gamester," and Alf. Lepine, Montreal, knows where to buy "his apples."

From Campbelltown, N.B., came another "Short Cut" female, owned by W. R. Millican, and she was also bred to Gamester."

Miss Vera Robson, Calumet, Que., has two females there, one of which is a granddaughter of Ch. "Wireboy of Paignton," bred by Tom Moore of Montreal (a veteran and a staunch supporter of the breed), and has been bred to "Gamester." The other "Daphne" has been bred to "Pride's Hill Spicenut of Paignton."

A curious coincidence was brought to light the other day, when that good bitch, "Marbold Warspite," arrived at the Pride's Hill establishment, after a long journey from Wheeling, W. Virginia, to be mated to Ch. "Pride's Hill Tweak 'em," and later in the same day there came a daughter of "Warspite's" from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to be bred to a son of "Tweak 'em's."

A reflection of the popularity of the Wire-haired Fox Terriers is to be found in the copious correspondence, sales and enquiries, which include Texas and Mexico.

Jack Sturgess, who will be remembered as the all rounder at Brantford last year, has accepted the nomination to judge the sanction show of the Alfredale and Fox Terrier Club of Cleveland, Ohio, on Decoration Day. The Club itself can put down over forty dogs, and so, Mr. Sturgess may anticipate a good entry to come be-

The Pomeranian that adorns our front cover for May is none other than "Lillyhill Gold Dust," (late "Gold Dust of Dara"), a worthy specimen of the breed recently imported by the well-known fancier, Mr. J. T. Waggett of Toronto. This new arrival has made many friends; a clear bright orange, free from black hairs or shadings, and carries an abundance of coat of the correct texture; for color, density and length of coat he has no equal in Canada.

He possesses a typical foxy head, fine muzzle, nice eye, small, well placed ears, short and compact body, standing on the soundest of limbs, which are exceptionally fine. Add to these excellencies his vigor and style, and we put the finishing touches to what we look for in a perfect Pomeranian.

His career on the show benches of England bear testimony to his sterling quality, having won numerous prizes at the leading shows, and under the greatest authorities on the breed.

This record, although quite remarkable, is only equalled by his abilities as a stock-getter. We have heard of many and seen a few of his recent litters and we miss our guess if his progeny do not figure conspicuously amongst the Blue Ribbon winners at many of our future shows.

A perusal of his pedigree will convince the most ardent student of the Pomeranian, that this specimen now under review, is bred on scientific lines, his ancestry being of the very best orange and sable stock in England. We predict big things from this dog, and congratulate Mr. Waggitt on this plucky purchase, which adds so much prestige to his already strong hand in Poms.

THE WESTERN TOY DOG CLUB.

The first parlor show held under the auspices of the above Club was a great success in every way. Eighty-eight dogs of the Toy breeds were out, and constituted a record for the Province of British Columbia. The Club's President, Dr. W. J. Downie, is already arranging his plans around a more pretentious fixture to be held some time in the Fall, and under Canadian Kennel Club Rules.

John Thompson, Victoria, has lost several (rough) collie youngsters of great promise through the insidious agency of distemper. John is a hard cork to keep under, though, and cheerfully says, "Well, it's all in the game."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

London, Ont., April 29, 1921.

To the Editor, Kennel & Bench:

Dear Sir,—

Mr. Pat E. Dowd, in his short review of the Canadian Boston Terriers that were judged by him at the recent show of the Boston Terriers Club, of Toronto, makes some rather extravagant claims for certain imported champions that should not be allowed to pass by unchallenged.

In the first place, Mr. Dowd names several dogs that he has either sold to Canada or has been interested in the sale of, giving them credit for the high-class Boston Terriers that passed before him at the show.

Ignorance of the pedigrees of the dogs he placed to the top certainly is the only excuse Mr. Dowd could offer for making such a statement. The winners dog and the the reserve winners dog were both sons of Canadian-bred dogs and grandsons of the Ch. Ingram's Little Man, a Canadian-bred one, and the runner-up dog, who was also the sire of the winning dog, was sired by Ch. Little Man; the reserve winners female was sired by Oxonian's Rex, another Canadian bred dog. The winning female was a recent importation of foreign blood lines. Through the classes too, the Raffles and Oxonian strains that form the foundation of most of our Canadian breeds were well in the front.

The Champions named by Mr. Dowd are all good dogs. Yet it is a notable fact that a Canadian bred dog was placed over them all in the stud dog and two of his get class by Mr. Dowd himself at the recent show, and that not one of the dogs mentioned has produced a dog good enough to win in fast company.

It is not the intention of this letter to detract from the glory of the champions mentioned by Mr. Dowd, but it is to defend the Canadian bred lines of Boston Terriers that have been produced by careful breeding. A close study of type and type requirements has produced Canadian bred dogs that can hold their own on the bench and as stock dogs with the most expensive importations.

As further evidence of the fact that Canadian bred dogs are well up to the type of the day, we cite the recent Detroit show. Here under an American judge, a Canadian bred dog (three generations Canadian bred, at that), was returned winner, defeating the latest American Boston Terrier champion, and several well known eastern winners, including the dog that has been advertised as the sensational dog of 1921, and placed accordingly by several judges. This Canadian bred dog and his sire, who was runner-up dog, were returned the best brace of Bostons.

Too much stress is put on the word "imported" by Canadian dog fanciers: A certain dog that not so long ago attained its championship, was placed over a certain well known Canadian bred winner three times by Canadian judges. The first time the dogs met under an American judge the imported dog went down before the Canadian dog—the next show under another American judge—the imported dog met the same fate, and again, this time under a Canadian specialty judge the imported dog was out of the ribbons while the Canadian dog went to the top.

VINCENT G. PERRY.

"BULLDOG BARKS."

(By Reg. P. Sparkes.)

The B.B.A. of Canada certainly mean to make their coming specialty show a world beater and will make all past shows look small in comparison, if the event turns out as the Show Committee mean it to, and seeing that all these gentlemen are of the "Nothing but the best will do" type that means that the 24th of May will go down in the Bulldog history as a great event.

There are Cups, Shields and Medals galore and besides these there are some very attractive "Specials," so all owners of "Sour Mugs" should start to get ready for this event, and those that do not happen to own Bulldogs should come and see "The Greatest of all Shows," especially after bearing in mind that the English Bulldog is the National Breed.

Enno Meyer who has been selected after very careful consideration by the committee, has never passed judgment over Bulldogs in Canada before, and has the credit of being known in the States of being quite fearless, and a gentleman who pleases all that exhibit under him, and that is saying a whole mouthful these days.

By the advertisement on another page of this issue it will be noticed that the show will be held in Community Hall on Danforth Avenue. This hall affords wonderful accommodation for an event of this nature as it is absolutely free from drafts, clean and bright—and there is plenty of room for all.

GIVING CREDIT, WHERE CREDIT IS DUE!

Mrs. F. G. Lacey, Toronto, has asked us to take the credit given to her in connection with the success of the Euchre and Dance held under the auspices of the Bulldog Breeders' Association, and reported on page 18 of our April issue, and "share the spoils" with the Committee which comprised the following ladies: Mrs. W. Stroud (owner of the famous "Roxton Mickey"), Mrs. W. Mills, Mrs. C. Cordell and Mrs. F. Oswald.

This we are glad to do Mrs. Lacey. Not that we feel under any obligation to do so, as we consider our report embraces everything, but we know that your sensitive and unselfish nature makes you feel that your co-workers must needs be named individually.

Your Committee's task was a colossal one and when one realizes that your expenses were so high—and your family so big (475 people catered to), and that you turned over $100.00 into the Club's coffers; your efforts must have given all concerned the greatest satisfaction.—Editor.

SHORT BARKS.

R. Jacques, Toronto, is rejoicing over a litter of four male Poms, sired by "Dandy Sarjeant."

How big's your business, Mr. Man?
A speck in life's great fryin' pan!
And yet we all are prone to think
There's not a solitary gink

In all this grand and glorious land
Who Doesn't Know Our Make and

Who doesn't think that what we do
Is just the thing! Beyond taboo.

And so, because we are so wise,
We hate like sin to advertise.
We hate to spend our hard-earned

To tell the people "What They

But if we'll stop and take our stock,
We're apt to get an awful shock
To find how small's the measly bunch
Who even have the slightest hunch
Of what we do and what we make,
Now isn't that enough to take Away Conceit and in its place
Make You Look Facts Straight in the

If You'll do this, then I'll surmise
You'll go ahead and Advertise

OFFERS AT STUD. The famous winning, siring Boston Terrier

Ch Jacksons Paddy Dee (C.K.C.S.B. 20796)

Ch. Jackson's Paddy Dee.

One of Canada's slickest and trappiest Boston Terriers alive, one which has always given and taken in the show ring, and one which has fought his way right bang up to the top through all opposition in competition. A sure sire of splendid pups. FEE, $12.00.

Jackson's Dream Girl

This brace of elegant Boston Terriers have the distinction of being returned the "Best Brace in the Show" under the great authority, Pat Dowd of Boston, at the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto Specialty Show, on March 19th, 1921.

Jackson's Dream Girl.

We produce a picture this month to show four puppies sired by Ch. Jackson's Paddy Dee. Two are males, and two are females, proving that this great sire is quite impartial as to which sex he invests with his innate qualities, and at once commands the breeder's attention.

The owner of the Town Talk Kennels, Mr. H. M. Jackson, is the gentleman at the right hand side of the picture.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

We don't claim Globe Sweet William is the greatest show and stud dog on the American continent, but—

Globe Sweet William is the only dog of his breed in Canada who has sired a dog that has taken two firsts at the big New York show, has gone to winners at a prominent American show, and has defeated American champions.

Despite limited opportunities owing to the scarcity of females of quality in the district in which he has been at stud, Globe Sweet William has placed more winners on the show bench during 1921 than any other stud dog in Canada. Four of his get have already taken the blue at our leading shows, one lacks but two points to its championship, another has been reserve winners, two others have won in fast company. The latest puppy out by Sweet William was reserve best puppy in show all breeds at London.

SHORT CUT

In future to be known to the fancy as

PRIDES HILL SHORT CUT

This young dog has had tremendous success both on the show bench and at stud in Canada. He will be at the Spring shows in tip top form, and in our opinion, he is capable of topping the lot. He is a beautifully balanced Terrier, with splendid lean head, little well-placed ears, real Terrier expression, the best of legs and feet, a coat like nails, and a neck and shoulder that would make a horseman sigh. "Short Cut" is a "big little one." Here is where we feel he can beat the best Terriers now on the bench. He has all that the others have, and in addition is a size smaller. He reminds one of a miniature Hackney, and is a credit to his wonderful sire. He is offered at stud at $25 to a limited number of approved bitches. A stud card will shortly be available.

Cairndhu Orange Fly

(C.K.C. 21113)

Imported—Correct Weight, 3¼ lbs.

The most brilliant Orange Shaded Sable and outstanding stud dog in the fancy. "Orange Fly" is sire of the New York winner, "Cairndhu Felicitous." The judge in his report says: "There was nothing to beat this bitch for color, which is magnificent. She is a splendid specimen and was next best of breeds, a distinction no other Canadian Pom. ever attained."

That quality counts is thus wonderfully illustrated in his progeny; for instance, he is sire of 1st prize puppy, 1st Sables, Reserve Winners, Canadian National Exhibition, 1919; sire of 1st puppy, 1st open, and Winners, New York (Westminster) Show, 1920; sire of 1st puppy, 1st novice, 1st limit, 1st open, and Winners, Canadian National Exhibition, 1920; sire of 1st limit, 1st open and Winners, Pomeranian Club (Specialty) Show, 1920; sire of 1st open and Winners, Toronto Kennel Club Show, 1920.

But other points as well are responsible for the enviable position Spratt's Dog Cakes and Puppy Biscuits hold both in the esteem of the dog and the confidence of his owner.
