FORT GARRY KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The third annual show of the above club has been awarded "Special for Best" by unanimous consent, best from first to last. By arrangement with our President, Mr. Joseph Russell, we were kept informed of the show's progress daily, and he is some reporter, too.

A Five Point Show.

Three hundred and twenty dogs benched and certified to, gives the possible rating to the fixture under our dog show rules and regulations, and marks the notable fact that "Winnipeg is herself again." The premium list bore eloquent testimony to the fact that all hands were on deck, and ready for sailing. Imagine a premium list carrying over fifty pages of advertising at $15 a page; figure it out for yourselves and mark on the calendar, at the date when your clubs show matures, and remember "where there is a will there is a way," and we must just compliment the committee or the individual who canvassed the where-withal to make this premium list what it was.

The near provinces were all well represented, particularly Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario and, of course, Manitoba, all of them sharing in the award columns, but it was left to an Ontario dog to win the highest honor.

Int. Ch. "Alstead Aeroplane" was returned the grand champion of the show, and the Manitoba Free Press said:—

"As predicted some days ago in the Free Press, the grand championship of the show went to A. Donaldson's magnificent tricolor Collie, which, well handled by G. E. Ward of Toronto, was awarded premier honors by J. A. Meadows, the judge, for the best dog of any breed in the show."

Having seen the dog before his departure we were not surprised at his splendid performance and heartily congratulate both the plucky owner and the untiring handler ("Ted" Ward) on the win.

Jack Meadows Makes Impression.

The judge, Mr. Jack Meadows of Oakville, Ont., in virtue of his work, has left his name a household word in Western Canada. Correspondents who are usually critically inclined, concede that Jack's placings were received as given, and taken as authoritative and final, and Winnipeg's gate will be on the latch, any old time, to Jack Meadows.

The President Takes the Trip.

Mr. Joseph Russell, for the second consecutive year, was on hand with a string of Airedales and Fox Terriers, and had the pleasure of completing the championship of his smart little Wire Haired Fox Terrier "By Town Spice 'Em." Everyone knows that Mr. Russell is an authority on affairs canine, and he speaks in terms of highest praise for the officers of the Fort Garry Kennel Club and their every arrangement in connection with the show.

Attendance was the chief source of satisfaction and the building was at all times comfortably filled, and if the second and third days were as well patronized as the first day, then a $600 gate was a possibility.

A snappy little bulletin was published by Dave Hutchison (Dandie Dinmont), brother to the famous "Hay Hutchison," so often encountered by his pen and ink sketches in "Our Dogs," (English). The bulletins gave in an informative way the progress of the show and named the men behind the guns one by one, and as we were well supplied with copies, it was a pleasure to study their contents. There was T. Kay. MacKenzie, termed the "grand old fan" of local Kenneldom and superintendent of the show. Tom's facial expression is similar to that which we noticed at Regina last summer. Secretary Humphries has his picture there too and the expression spoken by George's physiognomy seems to suggest: "Wherein H— are we goin' to put 'em all?" Alec Stewart, the club's president, and his henchman, the honorary president, A. W. McLimot, tell by their expressions, "We told you so." Play the game and success is waiting for us at the end of the road. The second issue of the bulletin featured the show manager, C. B. Beardsley, with jaws set, and seems to say: "Let 'em all come." George Kynoch is charged with being a popular breeder, exhibitor, expert handler and all-round judge. Served his apprenticeship to the game under International experts, should have been a sailor, as the girls are all after him. Won the beauty contest as a baby and has been winning ever since. Proprietor of the Silverdale Kennels. Known from coast to coast as "one of the best."

We don't know where Dave got this stuff about George, but will gladly second the motion, and now we do know "Where all the girls go," when Kynoch strikes the town. A good picture is shown of Jack C. Fletcher. Our old friend Benny Lewis, Sr., Geo. Kynoch, and "Young" Benny Lewis, and the bulletin aptly describes them as

The Four Aces."

We know that is a hand that is hard to beat, but according to Hoyle it is just possible.

George Bennie, president of the Western Collie Club, and Bert George, who specializes in Bostons, Whippets and Wires; Adam Cochrane and Charlie Cowell, the last two are classed as "war dogs" who helped trim the Berlin Kennels for

The Great Peace Stakes.

We compliment the editor of the bulletin and observe that his paper was good and breezy and believe that it is the first of its kind ever published.

We gladly compliment the Fort Garry Kennel Club on the success of its third show, and we thank several friends for the courtesy shown in sending us daily reports of its progress, thus enabling us to properly write up their show.

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

Tells of a Collie's Wonderful Sense of Location

Travels 956 Miles to be Near the Only
God He Had Learnt to Love—
Guided by Instinct Only.

"What is the most remarkable thing you ever knew a dog to do?" somebody asked Albert Payson Terhune, author and dog lover. "I could fill this magazine with remarkable and authentic dog yarns," replied Mr. Terhune, "but I will pick one alone out of the list." Not only is Mr. Terhune the author of "the most appealing dog stories ever written," says the editor of People's Favorite Magazine (New York) but he is one of the foremost American experts on the subject of collies, and has a large family of collie aristocrats. The editor submitted to him a list of questions about dogs, and it is in answering these that he tells the story of Bud. "Verify it yourself if you doubt my recital," he says. Bud was a collie belonging to Roy M. Coe, of Fort Scott, Kan., but his doggyish devotion seems to have been chiefly directed toward Miss May Hight, sister-in-law to Mr. Coe, and an official in the Fort Scott Gas Company. Bud's master moved, with his family, to Albuquerque, N.M., a trifle more than nine hundred miles away, and they took the dog with them. As Mr. Terhune tells the story:

Bud travelled to Albuquerque in a baggage-car. Thus he had no chance to study the route—if, indeed, a dog could do such a thing. In November, 1919, soon after the Coes' arrival in New Mexico, Bud vanished. For eight months nothing was heard of him.

Then in the middle of July, 1920, as Coe's sister-in-law sat at her desk in the Fort Scott Gas Company's offices, in Kansas, Bud came limping in through the open door and sank down, worn out, at the astounded woman's feet.

The collie had come home—home to the deity for whose sake he had travelled for the best part of a thousand miles—for nine hundred and fifty-six miles, to be exact—through unknown country and through uncounted dangers.

Nobody knows how Bud found his way all that weary distance, over unfamiliar grounds, nor how often in that eight months he had been captured and tied up, somewhere or other, and forced to bide his time until he could escape and continue his endless homeward journey.

The fact remains that this collie had travelled more than nine hundred miles, guided only by his mysterious instinct and by his yearning to be back at the feet of the human he worshipped. A human could have asked the way, could have stolen rides, could have begged or worked for food and railroad fare. The dog had only his uncanny collie brain to guide him to his mistress. I had a long letter from her, to-day, verifying this and telling me the story in full. She also sent me a good photo of Bud to incorporate in my article. She says the dog was in a deplorable condition when he dragged himself into her office and to her feet, and that he stiffens up and snarls in hatred now whenever he hears the howling of the wolves in the Fort Scott Zoo, some of his scars evidently being the marks of wolf fights on the nine-hundred-and-fifty-six-mile journey home.

Take it all in all, I think that is by far the most remarkable thing I ever knew of a dog's doing. Don't you?"

CANADIAN AIREDALE TRAVELS ON FOOT

From Near Edmonton, Alta., to Vancouver, B.C., Through the Rockies, on the Railroad Ties.

Dogs often travel long distances to return home, some instinct guiding them of which humans have no perception. Albert Payson Terhune in the Literary Digest told of a collie that walked 956 miles to get home. This roused John McLennan, of Edmonton, Alberta, who gave the following story of an Airedale's long trek:

T. A. Fee, an architect, of Vancouver, British Columbia, owns an Airedale dog, and in the spring of 1919 he sent it by express over the Canadian National Railway to a brother-in-law, Thomas Paton, at Androssan, a station on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, sixteen miles east of Edmonton, Alta., at the same time notifying Mr. Paton of the shipment. Express charges were prepaid, as well as a sum of money and food given messenger to care for the dog to destination. After waiting for some time and no dog arriving, Mr. Paton notified Mr. Fee of the non-arrival of Buster. Mr. Fee made enquiry of the railroad company, and express company produced a receipt from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway showing that the dog had been delivered to the latter company at Edmonton, the junction point. The express company connected with the Grand Trunk road, acknowledged receipt of the dog at Edmonton, but had no record of how it was disposed of. Androssan station on their line has no station agent, and the presumption is that the dog was put off at the station in the hope that Mr. Paton would come and claim him. This, however, is only conjecture, as Mr. Paton never received the dog, and he was given up for lost. Buster was not of sufficient value to make much fuss about him, and the matter was allowed to drop. In about six weeks' time Buster arrived at his home in Vancouver, emaciated, tired and footsore. The distance from Vancouver to Edmonton is 770 miles on the Canadian National, and Androssan, as already stated, is sixteen miles east of Edmonton, on another line. From Edmonton to Vancouver there is no travelled road except the railroad track, which passes through and over three chains of mountains two-thirds of the distance without habitation except the railroad section houses and at long intervals small stations many of them without a single inhabitant. Having in mind that there are twelve lines of railroad converging in Edmonton and that his road home was through mountains and uninhabited for the most part, not only is the feat of finding his way marvelous, but it is equally strange how he subsisted on the way. I think this accomplishment is of sufficient importance to place it side by side with that of Bud. It is also a record of a breed of dogs not credited with the same degree of intelligence as the collie.

Toronto Has Also a Travelling Airedale.

Robert J. Fleming, Toronto's most widely known citizen, is an ardent lover of animals, and has many rare specimens—particularly Jersey cows—at his Toronto homestead, and at the farm at Pickering, Ont., one of the favorites is an Airedale terrier with a Claycliff pedigree, and who, having disappeared from the Toronto household, was mourned as "one who had strayed from the fold," but it was only a matter of half a day when the bold Mr. Airedale turned up at Pickering, miles away, with his tail in the air, and a swagger look in his eye, as if to say:

"Back to the farm for mine."

Superior man takes unto himself all the credit for a monopoly on the "grey matter," but after reading the above, the most conceited amongst us must feel inclined to at least admit that our dogs never get that consideration which is their just due.

WITH THE CLUBS

REGINA KENNEL CLUB.

This hustling western organization has already every detail arranged for their sixth annual show to be held from August 2nd to 5th inclusive, in conjunction with the Regina Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition Association. Dates have been secured, premium list officially approved, advertising placed, judge selected, and date for closing entries decided upon, and of course this is the only sensible way to have the detail arranged months ahead of the show, when success is the object in view, and eastern clubs would be well advised to make a note of this plan, too often we have clubs announcing shows, and find their date of closing entries almost due, before a premium list has been mailed. Take Charlie Keating's "plenty of time to do things" plan, then sit back and light the pipe instead of worrying, as the last few weeks come into view, with but little done.

Mr. Charles G. Hopton will judge all breeds, and who is more able to judge any show than him, and it will not be any surprise to see another championship notch added to the last year's attainment. It is worthy of note that Mr. Swire, who judged at Regina a year ago, and Mr. Hopton, who officiates this year, were entrusted with the greatest responsibility—that of selecting best dog in show—at Madison Square last February, plainly emphasizing that only the best and most dependable judges are hired to work for Regina Kennel Club.

Premium lists from C. K. C. office or from Chas. S. Keating, 1755 Scarth Street, Regina, Sask.

QUEBEC KENNEL CLUB.

Quebec Kennel Club Show promises to be a real "homey" event for those taking it in on the circuit. Not only are the judges popular and reliable, but the secretary advises that the financing is already assured and that the club is now resting easy in that respect, through the munificence of the Quebec people, which we understand is characteristic of the folks down there.

His Honor Lieut.-Gov. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick has promised the club his continued patronage, and has again donated them with a beautiful cup.

LADIES' KENNEL CLUB.

The Ladies' Kennel Club, Montreal, under the aggressive guidance of their secretary, Miss Veva H. Robson, are fast whipping their show arrangements into shape. The breeds have been allocated to the judges selected as follows: C. H. Mower, Esq., of Burlington, Vt. St. Bernards, Bloodhounds, Newfoundlands, Great Danes, Collies, Old English Sheepdogs, Dalmations, English Bulldogs, French Bulldogs, Bull Terriers, Bostons, Manchester, Daschunds, Retrievers, Belgian Sheepdogs, Skye Terriers, Irish Water Spaniels, Greyhounds, Whippets, Bedlington Terriers, Cairn Terriers, Welsh Terriers and miscellaneous.

Robt. A. Ross, Esq., Montreal: Russian Wolfhounds, Deerhounds, English Foxhounds, American Foxhounds, Pointers, Beagles, English and Irish Setters, Gordon Setters, Cockers, Airedales, Fox, Wire and Smooth Terriers, Sealyhams, Irish, Scottish, Terriers, White West Highlands, all Toys.

A bumper show is expected, and there will be no end of specials worth competing for.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB'S SECRETARY LEAVES FOR WINNIPEG.

A monkey wrench was thrown into the machinery of the Toronto Kennel Club last Tuesday evening (May 10th), when the president announced the information that the secretary, George C. Briggs, was about to leave the city, with a view to taking up residence in Winnipeg, and a spontaneous outburst of regret at once met the announcement, and it was frankly conceded that Toronto Kennel Club was losing a valuable asset.

A motion was put to the house: "That Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs be made life members of the club, with full privileges" and was unanimously carried. Mr. Briggs, speaking for his wife and himself, made suitable reply, and invoked the members present to stand by the club and to keep her flag to the breeze at all times.

PREFIXES GRANTED.

The Kennel name "S. Kitts" has been registered in the name of M. B. Ellis, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The Kennel name "Earls court" has been registered in the name of Cecil Bethune, Ottawa, Ontario.

The Kennel name "Ellerslie" has been registered in the name of Joseph Perkins, Toronto.

CANADIAN COCKER GOES TO ENGLAND.

Complimentary to Canada, and to Mr. Lance Farewell, Toronto, is an order which has been received with a cheque in keeping with the importance of the occasion, for a buff Cocker Spaniel female sired by "Sir Obo," out of "Virginia Obo," with a stipulation that she be bred to the sensational youngster, "Man o' War," before shipment to the English purchaser.

When it is considered that this shipment must necessarily go into quarantine for six months, in conformity to the requirements of the license to import as issued by the British Department of Fisheries and Agriculture, and that the litter will be borne while in quarantine, it will be readily noticed just how important the transaction actually amounts to. Several months ago negotiations were opened, and amicably culminated with a thorough understanding a few days ago. We congratulate the breeder who can bring this distinction to Canada, and also the English importer for his pluck and declared faith in our Canadian Cocker.

THAT LITTLE COCKER SPANIEL.

Which we mentioned in our April issue as having topped the heap at New Haven, is keeping up his stride, and at Nassau County Show (Belmont Park), he again won the purple and was returned best sporting Spaniel, and later, with "Lucknow Lady Love," was awarded special for best brace.

The dog we hint at is the Winnipeg-bred "Major Oak Perfection," but now known as "Lucknow Lottery," and owned by Mr. J. R. Beard of the Lucknow Kennels, Connecticut. The judge was the International authority, Wm. T. Payne, breeder and exhibitor of "Midkiff Seductive," the sensational Cocker, which won for best dog in show at Madison Square last February.

ITALIAN GREYHOUNDS BECOMING POPULAR.

Mrs. S. A. Delaney, Toronto, reports mating Capt. R. Card's good female "Roma of Venice," to her good dog, "Lord Bobs," and that an exceptionally good bitch, "Tiney," owned by Mrs. Stuart, has been mated to the same sire.

Our old persevering friend, Mrs. Delaney, is probably the keenest and most ardent admirer of the above breeds in Canada to-day, and her efforts on their behalf is greatly appreciated by the few who follow her in her hobby.

WITH THE FANCIERS

CAN YOU IMAGINE THIS?

Alf Lepine, of "Malden" fame, in overalls, digging postholes, stringing "wires," and erecting picket fence, from morning till night? No, I'm sure you could not; yet we are informed that that is Alf's job at the present time, and no doubt some time in the near future he will be able to show "an honest blister" and claim to be "a horny-handed son of toil." Poor old Alf. When we think of the 86 (eighty-six) acres on the new homestead, to be known—and addressed as "Rousseau Farm, Brosseau Station, Que.," we wonder if your labors will ever end—will they?

We mentioned in our last issue that several of your good matrons had been bred to famous sires, such as Ch. "King's Point Falcon" and Ch. "Will o' Wane Gamester," etc., so it will only be a matter of time until you actually know what the "melting pot" has turned out for you. Rest assured, however, that "Kennel and Bench" wishes you every success in your undertaking, and that we will follow your successes in Wire-haired Fox Terriers closer than ever before.

"ROLLING HOME ACROSS THE SEA."

Mrs. W. Wylie, who has been in Britain for several weeks now purchasing Pomeranian for Canadian fanciers, will be "rolling home from Bonnie Scotland" when our readers are scanning this article. Starting off with $5,000 purchasing money looked bright enough, but several cables arrived craving for more, which of course was readily forthcoming. One Toronto fancier, advising Mrs. Wylie that "there was no limit" as far as her buyings for him were concerned.

This unbounded enthusiasm so apparent in Pomeranian circles, is manifesting itself amongst individuals, if we are to accept as a criterion the many importations now in progress—principally for Toronto fanciers, who are buying specimens calculated to further strengthen the foundation of exclusive breeding operations. Already a goodly number are on the water, after having been bred to the rarest specimens to be found in the Motherland.

Mrs. Wylie in her perambulations—which, though restricted through strikes and other troubles, have been extensive, has secured a rare Orange Sable, an English winner and sired by Champion Sunbright Sun, and another—a good winning Black, from the all black-bred Champion Chiswick Authority.

The dogs in the importations after their arrival will be placed at stud in our legitimate business columns, for the benefit of our readers.

In addition to above the Empress of Britain on her first trip out (leaving England May 24th) will carry twelve brood females, each one capable from their blood lines and type to be a credit to the kennels fortunate to eventually kennel them.

Mrs. Wylie's trip was on a "roving commission" plan, and has been a success from every angle, and now we await with interest her arrival to hear from her first hand "conditions as they are to-day in the Motherland."

CANADIAN DOGS AT AMERICAN SHOWS.

While scanning the show reports of the American press, one is attracted by the magnificent showing of many dogs with familiar names as for instance: "Flornell Lucky Pebble," the elegant Smooth Fox Terrier imported by Sam Bamford, Toronto, and exported later to the United States. This dog topped the heap at St. Louis in competition offering a 5 point championship rating. This same dog also won at Chicago, a four-point show.

Another notable dog, and probably one of the best known Canadian-bred Collies, "Old Champion Coltness Clinker," getting on to seven years old, came under the expert Edwin L. Pickhardt, at Chicago, and won first in open (sable or sable and white) and second in open (any color).

Ch. "Young Shi" of Homefield distinguished himself at Cleveland and Akron and Detroit and made a bid for American championship honors which no doubt will one day be completed.

In Airedales we notice Alf. Delmont winning with his Canadian-bred "Banker's Daughter of Grosse Isle," and known to us as "Banker's Daughter" only, and it is said that Alf. had her looking perfection.

"Burnaby White Countess," for long associated with J. J. Jackson of Vancouver, B.C., came out at Canton and won under the colors of Turk McBee of South Carolina.

MONTREAL WIRES A LIVE BUNCH.

At the recent circuit of American shows, held under the license of the A.K.C., the wire-haired Fox Terrier entry of James F. Strachan, Montreal, gave a lot of concern to their opposition at Akron, Ohio, on March 12 and

13. "Homeless Ector" almost pulled off the star turn by going to reserve winners, "Chappaqua Boatman's Selected" holding the winners position. At the same show, the pretty "Ormsby Artists' Model" hit the winners target and pulled down for herself a couple of American championship points. "King's Point Cricket" being the runner-up. C. E. Schaffert judged.

At Canton, the following day, "Homeless Ector" took the top rung, and stayed there, while the fair "Artists' Model" took reserve as her share, G. S. Thomas judging.

At New Haven, W. E. Baker, Jr., on the Woolsack. The Strachan entry were obliged to take reserve winners for both sexes, but near enough to be dangerous at that.

At St. Louis, Alex. H. Stewart officiating, "Homeless Ector" brings home the bacon, and incidentally three championship notches to boot; Ormsby's "Artist's Model," reserve winners to Gatineau Hill's "Truth" (a novice bitch that George W. Bailey of Ottawa produced, and now owned by Miss J. G. Hinkle).

Chicago Kennel Club's "Chesney Courtier" winners, "Homeless Ector" reserve.

Open bitches—1, "Wincanton Sylvia"; 2, "Aberfoyle Tuvelac Tid Bit"; 3, "Ormsby Artist's Model." (No better company anywhere than this, and Canada should be, and is, proud of her Wire-Haired Fox Terriers.)

AMERICAN FOX TERRIER CLUB.

Through the courtesy of O. A. Shaw McKean, proprietor of the Prides Hill Kennels, and chairman of the Bench Show Committee of the forthcoming Specialty Show of the American Fox Terrier Club, to be held on September 3rd, 1921, somewhere on the north shore of Massachusetts, we are able to announce that the committee have fortunately been able to secure the eminent services of Mr. A. H. Clarke, of Notts, England, to judge the show.

Mr. Clarke is one of the leading authorities on both coats in the Old Land, having recently judged at the Fox Terrier Club there (both coats). The Cheatham Hill Championship Show (Smooths) and the Edinburgh Bench Championship Show (both coats), and he will undoubtedly attend the greatest entry of Fox Terriers, smooth and wire, that has been seen in the United States for many years, and the Fox Terrier Club of America is to be commended on its judgment

WINNIPEG NOTES.

(Special to Kennel and Bench).

By WALTER BROWN.

The Fort Garry Kennel Club's annual bench show held in the spacious and attractive Winnipeg Skating Rink is now a thing of the past, and a fixture long to be remembered by all that visited the show, exhibitors and spectators alike. T. Kay MacKenzie deserves great credit for the way he "sooped" her up, as superintendent of show. A visit to the venue of the show the night before opening day revealed the benching all up, numbered, whitewashed, plenty of fresh pine sawdust round the benching that gave off a very refreshing smell, abundance of good dry, clean bedding, feed galore, plenty of good clean water and a pan for each dog. The building was kept spotlessly clean and continuously disinfected, reminding one of the old saying, a place for everything and everything in its place. Jim Skidmore worked like "L" and made a capital ring steward, keeping the ring well supplied with dogs and always a class waiting outside. Mr. John Meadows of Oakville, Ont., judged all breeds. The way he moved that 200 pounds of avoidrupois in his efforts to "get 'em right," made some of the Terriers look slow alongside him in the ring. One and all were unanimous in voting Jack a "regular fellow." He also made a great impression for the care he took of the novice handlers and the children's classes. Many new fanciers were seen exhibiting and numerous old timers getting back in the game. From outside points we had Jack Newman of Regina down with a string. Harry Selby had a collection of Wires and Smooths, also Airedales. A. E. Danby of Prince Albert, Ted Ward from Toronto with a classy bunch, also our genial C. K. C. President, Mr. Joseph Russel with a brace of Airedales and Wires. We regretted the absence of John C. Fletcher of "Brockley" fame. Jack seems to put "finis" at the end of a perfect day.

Cowell and Humphries were well to the fore with their exhibits. Archie Lappin captured Winners Dogs and Bitches with his "home rulers." Sam C. Taylor jockeyed his good Wire Bitch "Can So" to her C. K. C. Championship. Silverdale Kennels captured a goodly share of the spoils in Airedales and Bulldogs. Mrs. E. R. Mitchell's grand little Pom, "Highden Primrose Morn," backed up her reputation by capturing eight firsts and three specials and winners. George Binnie's handsome sable and white Collie, "Hannahfield Duke" was only beaten by an International Champion, a dog lead was seen in the ring with he of the "Madison" prefix at one end, and a winning Smooth Fox Terrier at the other. Bostons were strong as also was Sam Jackson, instead of being at home in bed (after his recent serious accident), he felt better with the trappy little fellows. Wires were live ones. Joe Russell's great little dog "Bytown Spice 'Em" had his hands full to take care of Sam Bamford's "Wycollar Barrister" for Winning Dogs. The winning dog pup in Airedales was bred and shown by the writer. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rigby of "Garfield" fame were visitors around the Toys. We missed their exhibits on the bench. Say "big fellow" view the landscape o'er again. I don't wish to learn that. What Ted Ward doesn't know about caring for his clients' dogs and handling them or how the Claycliffe string enjoyed facing Joseph with the gloves on. All Collies that did not have correct ear carriage and expression were "hind to fore" on their benches, busy hiding biscuits until Joe Guarnera had gone past their stall. Yes, dear readers, they were all there, the Airedales and the Smooths, and Wires, and even the Manchester Terriers, but one "Scotch" Callaghan of Winnipeg did well in English Bulldogs also completed several sales at very remunerative prices. Int. Ch. "Alstead Aeroplane" was awarded Grand Championship of the Show with Ted Ward's home-bred Airedale, "Albany Flower Girl," Reserve. The show was a financial success and a five pointer, with something to spare.

WINNIPEG WINKS.

The writer has just imported from Maple Grove Kennels, Lincoln, Neb., the great little Airedale bitch, "Nobler's Nifty Lady," a line bred Ch. "Soudan Swiveller" bitch and a winner at the last Kansas City Airedale Specialty Show, also five of her three months old pups by that great "Cragman Dictator."

After carefully scoring the Winning Airedale dog pup "Maxim's Authority," Mr. Jos. Russell wished to take him to Toronto in exchange for a nice long cheque, but I figure he "Authority" has other fields to conquer. "Billy Villiage" will take him on his string to Regina, under that astute Terrier judge, Charlie Hopton.

OTTAWA NOTES.

Special to Kennel and Bench.

By ALBERT KERR.

While we have not been spreading our doings in these columns this season, do not think that the dogs and their fanciers have gone to the bow-wows; on the contrary, the Ottawa Kennel Club has been carrying on as usual, and has had several successful meetings during the winter season just closed, and at present all are keyed up to the highest pitch and preparing for the local show to be held on Victoria Day, the 24th of May, out at the Dog Show Building in the Exhibition grounds.

A good list of specials in cash and merchandise have been donated and the judging will be looked after by Jack Milner, Andy Armstrong and F. C. McLean.

An energetic committee have the affairs in hand, and some of the boys say: "What about a C.K.C. for next spring?" "So we got to git a-goin'."

Well, this is where they make the good ones—just heard that Humphrey Elliott has an exceptionally grand young bull terrier dog, sired by Haymarket Faultless, that is a dead ring-er for the sire and a better pup than the son of their "World Famous" dog that went to winners at the Toronto spring show and at New York.

"Say, Fergie," what is the matter with Ed, these days? Why, he is going around with a smile as big as your hat; has he gone into Airedales?

Fergie—Gosh darn it, no; perish the thought; don't you know?—a new litter of Bostons, and dandies.

The above conversation refers to E. A. Runions, who is the proud owner of a litter of three—two females and one male—sired by "The Little Count," out of "Peace Girl," she out of Heinlein's "Dream Girl," by "Bantam King." From present indications all look most promising—the females real humdingers.

W. C. Baldwin, of American foxhound fame, has at present the best kennel of high-class foxhounds that he ever owned or bred, and the coming fall shows will keep them all stepping to receive the ribbons ahead of "Dude's" string.

A tribute to the same W. C. was handed to him in his selection as a judge at the last Boston Show, but to be asked to officiate as a judge at the National Foxhound Association Club Meet and Field Trials in November, 1921, at Kentucky, is something that the ordinary individual would have to order an extra size of head-gear about, but Dude's hat still fits good, but, right here we must say "that this invitation, coming from the oldest, the original and the largest Foxhound Club in the world, must be taken as a recognition of our friend Baldwin's achievements to date, in producing the best in American Foxhounds."

W. J. Newton is getting together a very strong kennel of smooth Fox Terriers and is importing one of the best stud dogs from England. Those in the know say that Billie is getting them from the right source, and under good selection.

Bethune and Potts are anxiously awaiting the arrival of a 10-months' Airedale male pup, that has been selected for them by J. J. Holgate of Doncaster, England, which ought to be enough recommendation and cut some figure in the future shows.

It has often been a much-debated question as to whether it was better to be born rich or lucky; anyway, we will have to put Geo. Robertson in the latter class. Some time ago his winning Scottie bitch—"Hazelbrae Pixie"—gave him a litter of seven, the majority of which were males. Quite recently his good bitch "Hazelbrae Kewpie" gave him a litter of four, all males; can you beat it? Who wouldn't believe in signs—$?

SCOTCHMEN EXCHANGE GREETINGS.

Those of our "die-hard" readers, especially those from the "land o' cakes," will read with interest the following clipping which we culled from the latest issue of "Our Dogs" (England). The writer is Alick Shearer, Mid Calder, famed for his Cairn Terriers, and "Erichie" MacKinnon, well-known to every Old Country fancier.

The letter will tell its own message:

Canines in the South African Colonies.

Mr. Archie MacKinnon, one of our esteemed Scottish contributors, has just received a most interesting letter from Mr. Alex Shearer, a very old and well-known Scottish fancier, who is at present on a visit to South Africa. Mr. Shearer's impression of the Johannesburg Show will, we feel sure, be eagerly read by fanciers in this country. We have pleasure, therefore, in publishing the letter. It is as follows:—

"28th March, 1921.

"Dear MacKinnon,—What an age it seems since I saw you, and here I am, 6000 miles away, and sitting down to tell you all about a Championship Show held here on 25th and 26th, in the Wanderers' Hall and Grounds, Jo'burg. It was under the auspices of the Witwatersrand Kennel Club. On Friday morning (25th) I hied me there, and got the shock of my life. First-class hall and accommodation, benching, etc., perfect. Judging commenced at 9.30 prompt. No fuss, no worry. Just like an everyday occurrence. I was lost in admiration; the quality of the dogs was an eye-opener. One saw dogs put down as nature intended; some certainly showed traces of a 'hand from overseas.' The rings were in the cricket ground alongside the grand stand—large, roomy rings giving judge and dogs no room to cavil. The judging (with one exception) to my mind was perfect.

"Bulldogs headed the list of entries with 69. A grand lot, and little between first, second and third. Smooth Fox Terriers came next with 33. Some of very nice quality. Airedales and Alsations, with an entry of 31 each, were the outstanding feature. Judged very carefully, in fact, I selected my fancy from the ringside, and was gratified to see the numbers go up as I had marked them.

"Wire-haired Fox Terriers followed with an entry of 18. Some high-class Terriers were on view. Greyhounds, 16; Scotties, 15; Bull Terriers, 11; Old English Sheepdogs and Setters, 10. Here again were dogs of outstanding merit. Irish and Sealyhams were disappointing, with an entry of 8 and 7 respectively.

"Toys were well represented, and great pains must have been taken by their fair owners in putting them down in the lovely condition they were on view. I spent until lunch time on Friday and all day on Saturday. In fact, I can recollect no more enjoyable show than this, though 6000 miles from 'home.'

"Of course, Scotsmen were there in force. I met many keenly interested and enthusiastic in home dogs, others standing loyally and dourly by the South African specimens. Mr. D. P. Milne, of Scottie fame, regretted the poor quality of 'home product,' as depicted in Christmas numbers of our doggy journals, and naturally he and I got into some heated arguments.

"Mr. Milne has the unique record of all dogs of note here being by his strain of Terrier.

"Now I will close. I hope to give you my later impressions, and as I will be 'handing out the favors' at an early date, I will give you some details. Kindest regards.—Yours faithfully, A. Shearer."

Where has Scotland found her fame?
Where has Scotland found her glory?
In men like Shearer and MacKinnon.

OUR FRONTISPIECE.

The dog of the month is none other than Champion "Tam Hin" (C.K.C. S.B. 21021), a good son of Fulton, out of "Daphne May," bred by J. C. Cowan, London, England, and imported by S. Almond, Montreal, Que., on May 20th, 1918. Made his debut at Longueuil Kennel Club Show on Aug. 20th, 1918, and marked the occasion by landing on top of the entry on that day, and has zig-zagged for premier honors against all competition until Saturday, April 16th, at the Bulldog Club of Canada Specialty Show, and under the expert, E. L. Boger of Philadelphia, Pa., he was placed winners, and completed his championship, a placing that was generally conceded, and well received.

Sam Crabtree Speaks.

Sam Crabtree when visiting Montreal en route to the Coast, and further around the world, said that the subject of this review if in England to-day, could finish his championship there in three Shows. "McNibbs," a brother of "Tam Hin's," was also a great favorite of Mr. Crabtree's,—who by the way gave "McNibbs" one of his championship certificates—but credits our Montreal dog with being a better headed dog. And our Bulldog readers will remember that Sam is one of England's foremost authorities on the breed.

The Shows where "Tam Hin" won his spurs were Longueuil Kennel Club, 1918, J. H. Sheehan, Judge; Sherbrooke Exhibition, 1919, Harry Silver, Judge; Bulldog Club of Canada, 1919, Mrs. Wm. Drew, Judge; Central Canada Exhibition, 1919, Robert A. Ross, Judge; Bulldog Club of Canada, 1921, E. L. Boger, Judge.

We understand that Mr. W. W. Marshall has assumed an interest in this good Bulldog, and in future "Tam Hin" will appear as being the property of Messrs. S. Almond and W. W. Marshall. And we trust the partnership will prosper and continue to keep Montreal on the Bulldog map of Canada.

MONTREAL KENNEL ASSOCIATION SPRING SHOW

The Sixth Annual Spring Show of the Montreal canine organization was successfully held at the Forum building, St. Catherine Street West, on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21, and was a success in many ways.

An entry of about 240 dogs, of which 225 were actually benched, was not quite what the show deserved, and easily 100 more dogs should have been on hand, and instead of a two-point rating, three or four points should have been a possibility. Wire-haired fox terriers were the largest and best entry. All the good ones being on hand excepting those of Jimmie Strachan's kennel, and it seems a shame that one of the largest and most representative kennels on this continent should be absent from this show particularly. The manager was on hand all the time, and all noticed his hand go to his pocket many times—as if by force of habit—in a vain endeavor to find a lead there. There is a good mission here for a man, or men of a diplomatic turn of mind. The "Ormsby" dogs are playing at or near the top at the American shows and absent in their own home city. Why?

Charlie Powlesland was there, too, with several of the Pride's Hill contingent, and here for the first time in history, was the writer of these notes in a position to say authoritatively which was Charlie, and which was his friend and countryman, Jack Steer. We always knew them as "real fellows," but somehow always got tangled up when elucidating "which was 'tother." Mrs. R. E. By-Town Webster had a "four flush" entry which was very attractive from the time their classes were called, right through to the last hour of the show, when her "By-Town White Lady" was selected as the best specimen of all the breeds benched.

Bulldogs and Bostons were about equal as to numbers, and to quality, the mean temperature being 82, spelt murder for the former breed. One of Mr. A. C. A. Chisholm's entry actually took his final count, while Bert Swann of Toronto worked incessantly for hours on end on Duranside Captain, and he it recorded the fact that the handler's fight against death with a client's dog was the only factor to be considered in the victory for the dog.

Belgian Police Dogs were out in force, 17 of this rare variety being entered, while 11 of the more popular Shepherd dogs (Alsatian) were on view, and attracted much attention. Of the latter, six were benched separately. This exhibit was from the Star Kennels, North Adams, Massachusetts. Mr. Holmes, his good wife, and their kennelman, were all present and explaining the merits of the Shepherd dog to those interested. This important kennel will appreciate show-giving clubs providing a good classification for Shepherd dogs, and by forwarding premium lists, and entry forms. The Alsatian is all the rage in Great Britain and in America and the Star Kennels propose popularizing the breed in Canada.

Cockers were 19, Poms 18, Pekes 16, with quality in all the breeds. Terriers made an entry of nine, and some real "micks" amongst them. Art Picard, Winnipeg's travelling handler, had with him the Fort Garry sensation, the recently imported "Ratbo Princess," owned by Archibald Lappin, Winnipeg. "Princess" is a "rale wan," born and bred in the "Emerald Isle," and we have never seen a more glorious red on any Irish Terrier any place, a trifle small maybe, but all quality.

The officers from the vice-president down to the catalogue sellers, were all in earnest; every sleeve was up and every collar was wilted, to mention the hustlers individually would be to name every man on the officers' list, excepting the president, and he was many miles away in the pursuit of his legitimate business. The building is an ideal one, glass on four sides and every window can be opened, plenty of ring room, plenty of bench room and room for everybody.

But the heat. Bring on another ice-cold drink. Charlie Trayford, Harry Silver and Flerquin were the judges, and their work was well received all through. Wires and Bulldogs were strong classes, and no one complained of Mr. Trayford's "Merry" as the classes came on. It was a matter of "sortin' em out right," and "takin' my time to sort 'em right."

TORONTO AND MONTREAL FANCIERS ANGLE FOR POMS.

We hear that several enthusiastic followers of the peaky Pomeranian have been fishing in Scottish cities for "something special," and that even as we write a dog and a bitch are on the water addressed to Toronto, while "search parties" are out after the Montreal specification. The breed may be small, but it is evident that it has many stalwart supporters, and we hope to be in a position to divulge further particulars in our July issue. Meantime we surely wish the fortunate speculators the best of luck.

WINNIPEG WINKS.

Walter "Yorkie" Wilson reports a demand for the services of his imported Airedale stud dog "Double Rough"—we never know where the good ones will come from next—do we?

Joe Hill, Toronto, has bred his good bitch, "Belle Ewart," to the unshown "Man o' War" owned by Lance Farewell, Toronto, and when those two experts agree on a mating, the results should at least be of interest to look forward to in anticipation.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB PAYS

Tribute to an Enthusiastic Official

When it became known that George C. Briggs was leaving Toronto for Winnipeg there were only eight clear days to see to things properly, but eight days is a long time for willing hands and hearts to tune up and get running in unison, in fact five days was all that was required by the Committee appointed by the Toronto Kennel Club to prepare the banquet, and to arrange a suitable presentation for the man who had given of his very best services to the club, in an untiring and unselfish manner.

On Monday, May 16th, sixty fanciers sat down to the festive board at Young's Cafe, Yonge Street, Toronto, under the chairmanship of Wm. Marr, the Club's president, and to say that the "sixty strong" made the rafters ring, is to put it mildly. A programme had been arranged which was at once cordially accepted, every artist being splendidly received. "Winners" prize going to Miss M. Bennett, an eloquentist of the first water, who carried her audience on her every word. Mr. A. Atkinson, a basso who gets his lower register from an unfathomed depth, easily won for "best of opposite sex," when he sang "The big bass viol"; Mrs. Tomkins, soprano; Mr. Wickham, baritone; Mr. Compton, comedian; and the pianist, Mr. E. S. Brampton, all had to acknowledge the thanks of the merry makers.

The toast, "Our departing friends," was proposed in a few well chosen words by the President, and responded to by Mr. Bert Swann, who said in part:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, we are gathered here to-night to do honor to George C. Briggs, the Secretary of Toronto Kennel Club, and it has been my observation throughout my experience that secretaries—and particularly dog show secretaries—are born, and not made. Of the born variety we have one or two in Toronto, and George C. Briggs, is one of the few, and I predict that as soon as George arrives in Winnipeg, a place will be found for him quickly by the Fort Garry Kennel Club and his superfluous energy harnessed there, to their advantage and to the decided loss of the Toronto Kennel Club.

Toronto has other things that makes it remarkable, Mr. Chairman. Take for instance, the ladies gathered here to-night, and the amount of "Braces" that are present, and lucky the fancier who has the interests of his hobby divided with, or shared by his better half. This circumstance, sir, is half the battle of the game. The ladies may not win for the "largest entry" here to-night, but I must admit they come dangerously near it, and so we have a great deal to be thankful for in that respect.

"Another thing, Mr. Chairman, that I feel free to tell you is this: That there are more and better dog men and women right here in Toronto, than may be found any other place on the Continent, and yet we feel that we cannot part with any of them, and feel keenly the losing of Mr. Briggs, but I would say, sir, that if Winnipeg does not appreciate fully just what Toronto is lending them in Mr. George C. Briggs, then I'm sure you will all agree with me when I say and declare, that he can come back to us, and to Toronto, any old time at all. I thank you."

The President called upon Mr. H. M. Jackson, to hand over to Mrs. Briggs a basket of roses, and the genial H. M. very easily and smoothly disposed of the honorable duty in a most diplomatic way, showing himself a past master in handling a delicate situation. Mrs. Briggs smilingly and blushingly acknowledged the kind words said for her sex at Mr. Jackson's hands.

Immediately afterwards Mr. James D. Strachan was called upon—in the absence of Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland—to make the presentation to Mr. Briggs.

Mr. Strachan in a few rambling remarks pointed out how a Secretary, particularly an aggressive Dog Show Secretary, was often in danger of being misunderstood. The first privilege of that official after the Show was agreed upon, was to go down into a fanciers pockets to the elbow, for the "guarantee fund," then, for the "membership fees," then the "entries," and so forth and so on, which to the uninitiated, seemed to be simply a type of highway robbery, and giving rise to a feeling of distrust for the Secretary who was only doing his duty to his Club, but the fear of such a feeling was no deterrent to George Briggs, the oftener he nabbed you the better he liked it, and this characteristic was a valuable and essential asset of a successful Show Secretary, and developed in the guest of the evening in a marked degree. A handsome suit case was then handed over to Mr. Briggs, in the name of the officers, members and friends of Toronto Kennel Club, and his acceptance in their name solicited. On Mr. Briggs receiving the gift of the members, "The Golden Voice" Mimico Quartette sang vociferously:

Very soon he's going to go, going to go,
go, going to go,

Very soon he's going to go,

Away from T-O-R-O-N-T-O;

Wishing you a real good time, a real
good time,

A real good time, wishing you a real
good time,

From friends you leave behind.

—And then—

Good-bye George, good-bye May,
good-bye Georgie,

Your going to leave us now.

—And after that, we all sang—

Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way,

We wish you health, we wish you wealth,

And joy upon your way;

Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way,

We will miss you George—you bet we will,

When you have gone away.

So-Long-George—Amen.

When order had been restored once more, Mr. Briggs speaking on behalf of Mrs. Briggs and himself, said, "Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, I don't know really why we should be signaled out for all these kind words and beautiful gifts. I have never done anything for the Club only my very best, and that is just what every officer should bring to the office he is selected to fill; my whole heart has been centered in an endeavor to make Toronto Kennel Club, a real live organization, and I'm very sorry that I am obliged to leave the work just when we are beginning to see fruits for our labors, and I exhort you one and all, never to let up in your interest for Toronto Kennel Club—work for it, support it, stand by it until you are proud of it, and when that day arrives I will rejoice in the fact of your achievement. I'm not leaving you altogether, as it is my intention to be with you at your Fall and Spring Shows, and if all is well, at the Canadian National as well." This declaration was received with cheers. It is worthy of note that no one felt like leaving the building until the last number on the attractive programme had been ably rendered, and with hands clasped and crossed the time-honored "Auld Lang Syne" was sung, the time and observance being taken from the President—himself a Scot—and well qualified to lead off the ancient lyric.

Expressions of love, hand-shakes, heartaches. Happy to meet, sorry to part; happy to meet again—God Save the King.

JUDGES FOR THE CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Will our readers please correct the list of judges which appeared in our May issue as follows: Ad dto the breeds to be judged by Norman K. Swire, Esq., Cocker Spaniels; also notice: That A. G. Rohr, Esq., Atlantic City, N.J., will judge the Boston Terriers entry.

Tom Hicks, Toronto, has received in excellent physical condition his good Bulldog "Hefty Monarch" from the kennels of Mrs. A. Maynard, Goring-on-Thames, Oxon, England. This bulldog is a splendid specimen, and will no doubt prove himself a "tower of strength" to the breed in Canada.

The landing of this importation in Toronto comes at a time when we are hurriedly closing Kennel and Bench forms for the month, yet we are glad to give our readers this notice, and refer them to our advertising pages (this issue) for stud fee, etc., and incidentally to you that a picture of the dog himself will adorn the front page cover of our July issue. Look for it. It will be well worth looking for.

IN JOY AND IN SORROW.

On Saturday, May 21st, at the show of the Montreal Kennel Association, there was no happier nor more cheerful exhibitor than A. C. A. Chisholm. It was Allan's day, as first vice-president of the organization, and in the unavoidable absence of the president, W. E. Baldwin, it was Allan's privilege to see to everything and to make his exhibitors comfortable, and to entertain his visitors. Everything from "soup to nuts" had been well attended to, and bulldogs had been called and judged, Mr. Chisholm's entry taking a wide swath down the award column. His joy was complete. Suddenly there was an uproar, and Paul Malovity made a record sprint to the stall of Mr. Chisholm's good dog, the recently imported "Horwick Nuggett," and found the dog in a state of collapse brought on no doubt by the intense heat, and then put in a commendable portion of first aid work, as only an experienced bulldog fancier would know how. Dr. Villeneuve always "Johnie on the spot" at a dog show, took over the case professionally, when every effort known to the veterinarians' profession was resorted to, but without avail, and the dog passed away, bringing gloom to the camp suddenly and heavily.

Expressions of sympathy and regret were offered on every hand, which the genial, big-hearted Scotchman accepted in all sincerity. Never mind, Allan lad, apples will grow in Egypt again, and we know your loss—keen as we know it to be—will soon be replaced with another of quality and at an early date.

IS THIS A RECORD LITTER?

T. Mellor, Winnipeg, owner of the English Bulldog female "Lady Betty," has quite a distinctive litter at his Kennels, sired by "Worsley Defender." This litter boasts, 8 males and 1 female, and the owner of the sire, F. W. Walkerdene, would like to know if this constitute a record, or records. Is nine an unusually large litter for the English Bulldog breed?—and is eight males in one litter ordinary, or otherwise?

Interested fanciers may send along their experiences to Kennel and Bench.

G. P. Farrell, Toronto, has had the satisfaction of knowing that his good English Bulldog bitch, "Champion Princess Pat" (C.K.C.S.B. 19144) actually had lost her life as he had supposed, and as reported in our March issue on page 9.

Three weeks ago Bob Dibble, Canada's famous skuller, was training in Lake Ontario, and at a point near Ashbridge's Bay came upon the dead body of friend Farrell's old favorite. Old as a pal only—as in years she was but three years old, and just at her best.

Business at the Kennel is most encouraging and is an offset to the tragedy referred to above. "Advance Guard" is kept busy attending on visiting matrons, a circumstance that leads Mr. Farrell to believe that the Bulldog fancy is awakening to a realization to the class of stock sired by this stud dog, of which he is so proud.

A Californian has been endeavoring to purchase the Cocker Spaniel, "Man o' War," bred by Lance Farewell, Toronto, but Lance has replied that the offer is very enticing but that "Man o' War" is needed in Canada for the present.

THE DOG THAT CHANGED PLACES WITH A BOY.

Part Four.

Rocks felt sure he would feel uncomfortable in Johnny's stiff collar and cuffs, but as the day went by he found that he did not mind them at all. It was just as if all the outside of him was Johnny the boy, while the inside of him was Rock's the dog.

"Now, I have lots of work to do, run out and play," Johnny's mother told Rocks, only of course she thought she was talking to her son Johnny.

Out to play! How Rocks had longed to have the freedom of the world when he had been a dog, and now that he had changed places with a boy that freedom seemed to be his. What romping he could have with his old mother in the back yard, for he felt sure that Fan, his mother, would have missed him and would be searching everywhere for him.

Imagine Rocks' dismay when he ran out in the yard and old Fan growled at him. He had not known that Fan did not like little boys, especially Johnny, who had teased her when she was a puppy, but he thought she would know him, even though he had changed so much. But that was not Rock's big surprise. What dog was that with old Fan—that pup that looked a little more than six months, and was acting so queerly at the sight of him? Why, it was Rocks! No, it wasn't either, for he was Rocks. Oh, what did it all mean?

And that's just exactly what Johnny was asking himself, for the boy who had turned into Rocks was staring at his own image and wondering how it had all come about.

Around the corner the Sandman was laughing to himself. Willy old fellow, he was responsible for all this—but can we blame him, for before they had gone to sleep the night before hadn't Johnny wished he were a dog and hadn't Rocks the dog wished he were a boy?

Part Five.

Rocks' mother, believing he was a boy, would have nothing to do with him, so the poor dog had to go out in search of other playmates. He had never been right out in front of the house before, and when he got on the sidewalk he spied some dogs playing farther down the street. Rocks tried to bark out a greeting to them, but all that came from his throat was a loud yell. At such a sound, the dogs took to their heels and ran away. After them went Rocks, but the faster he ran the faster ran the dogs, and soon they were out of sight. You see Rocks could not run so fast now that he was a boy, and he became tired more quickly than usual.

"Come on, Johnny, we are going for a swim," called some voices from across the road. It was not until three boys came over that Rocks knew they meant him.

"Thanks, very much," he heard his voice saying. "I'm not supposed to go in swimming, but I'll go," and then, although he tried to stop them, his feet started off with the boys, so, of course, he went with them. All the way there his voice kept talking to the boys, although the dog did not know what it meant.

Rocks knew that all dogs could swim, so he was not afraid of the water, but when he got in he could not swim at all. How heavy his feet were, and all he did was to get his eyes, mouth and ears full of water, and his hair very wet.

* * * * *

But to get back to the real Johnny—the boy who changed places with Rocks—he was not having a much better time of it than the dog that had taken his place. Old Fan was trying her best to get him to play, and he found himself playing with her. How she scratched and bit at him, and how it did hurt! It was awful being shut up in the yard like that, and that was the very day he had promised the boys he would go swimming.

"Where's Johnny," he heard his mother say, and the real Johnny tried to call out from the kennel to tell her where he was, but all that came from his lips was a bark. He tried to call again and again, but every call was a bark.

"Go down and make that dog stop its noise," he heard his mother say, and then his father came out with a big stick, and gave Johnny a good whack with it. Of course, if he had known it was Johnny he would not have hit him like that. But how was he to know?

Part Six.

Rocks had not enjoyed himself one bit. He knew that if he had been himself he would have had a fine time at the river swimming, but being a boy that could not swim made it different.

"Your mother will give it to you,"

he heard one of the boys say, but he did not know then that he meant him. "Your hair is all wet, and you know she said you weren't to go in swimming?"

Poor Rocks had reason to know very soon what the boy meant.

"Johnny, you have been in swimming again," cried Johnny's mother, when Rocks came home with Johnny's wet hair. "I'll call your father." And she did call his father, and his father called Rocks upstairs and spanked him soundly. Poor Rocks would have liked it much better if Johnny's father had bitten him, but, of course, fathers don't bite their sons—it's only dogs that bite their pups.

Yet that wasn't the worst. Rocks was put to bed without his supper. How he hated that. How he hated being a boy. Anything was better than that, he thought. Oh, why had he wished he was a boy when he had been leading the happy life of a dog.

And down in the kennel the real Johnny was thinking the same thing. How could he live all his life a dog when he was really a boy? he asked himself. Oh, if only he hadn't wished he was a dog!

And the Sandman, hiding close by, heard Rocks' wishes, and heard Johnny's wishes, and he smiled to himself. The joke had gone far enough, he thought.

* * * * *

"Just to think I'm a dog," Johnny began to whimper as he woke up. But what a surprise was in store for him. There he was back in his own warm bed—there was the porridge steaming on the range in the kitchen—there was his mother stirring about. He had been changed back!

In the kennel Rocks was waking, too. The first thing he felt was his tail. It had come back. There was his long nose, his long legs were curled up behind him, and his front paws were holding up his muzzle.

It was not until they were wide awake that Johnny and Rocks knew the Sandman had played a trick on them—it had all been a dream, and they had not changed places at all. Just the same, from that time on they were contented with their lot, Johnny was glad he was a boy and Rocks was glad he was a dog.

THE AIREDALE TERRIER

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPION KING NOBBLER'S DOUBLE.

Sire of International Champion Polam Maxim, and was owned by Norman Mackenzie, Esq., Regina, Saskatchewan.

Amongst the many and varied breeds of dogs there is probably none to equal the Airedale Terrier, his adaptabilities are such that no matter for what purpose he is required he can "fill the bill." As a guard and companion he leaves nothing to be desired, a willing and honest worker on land or water and an huntsman second to none. With such credentials as these it is no surprise that he has rightly become one of the most popular of the canine race. Fifty years ago he was unknown except as a more or less nondescript in certain parts of Yorkshire, England. Traditions tell us that these broken-haired, game little terriers were kept solely as vermin destroyers, and as fighting dogs, by the sporting fraternity on the banks of the river Aire; later on they were crossed with the Bull Terrier to increase their fighting abilities, then the Otterhound (which at that time was providing good sport for the huntsmen of a near district called Wharfedale) was introduced into their composition. From this mixture of blood came a game dog suitable for fighting or poaching, two of the recreations indulged in by the rougher element of that section of Yorkshire. The infusion of the Otterhound produced a grizzle and tan dog with heavy houndy ears, faults which remained prevalent up till about ten or twelve years ago.

During the years 1879 and 1880, a standard was formulated by the admirers of the breed, and a few years later the English Kennel Club provided separate classification for Airedales. For a considerable time there was no consistency of type; careful selection and breeding has produced a uniformity that is now very noticeable. How wonderfully the breed has progressed is shown by the very large entries seen at our present day shows. Very few breeds have increased as the Airedales have done in this country during the past few years, and they are fast gaining popularity both as show dogs and for utility purposes.

Much could be recorded about their wonderful courage and work during the recent war, and at home, but our object is to devote our space to giving a few details to the exhibition specimens. Careful attention should be paid to the feeding and exercising of the young growing stock. Later on his coat will need attention to put him in shape for the show ring. Many good terriers are often placed lower in the awards than their quality really merited, simply because they have been shown in poor condition, and lacking that essential finish of coat which may be noticed on the dogs of an experienced breeder. A very large proportion of the disgruntled exhibitors at our shows are people who have shown their dogs out of condition, and in poor coat. The novice is sometimes under the impression that the big kennels and professional handler exercise an unfair monopoly of the blue ribbons and trophies. Inexperience and ignorance are the causes of these false impressions. The dog from the big kennels or the ones shown by the professional handler are shown "fit to the minute," and are so handled in the ring that the best points are always brought out to the greatest advantage. This is the only advantage they enjoy. To put a Terrier down fit, and handle him in the ring as he should be is a fine art, and this skill can only be acquired by practice, backed up by work and patience. The only practical advice to give a novice is to learn carefully the points required in the ideals of his breed. To appreciate where his dog excels, and where he is lacking, then get an experienced trimmer to give him a few lessons in the art. Careful observation of this work and a study of the finished article, as he appears in the show-ring, are the best teachers. Only experience can determine when the stripping should be done, as it must be so timed that the dog's new coat will have grown the required length by the time that some important show comes around.

Daily grooming and exercise on the hard roads are essential for weeks prior to a show. This should not be delayed until close to a show, but must be attended to weeks or months prior to the proposed time of exhibiting.

Canada, through the intense and continued interest of a wealthy patron of the Airedale Terrier, boasts of two International champions, which for the benefit of the novice we herewith reproduce. They are worthy of careful study, and may be accepted as being as near the "Ideal" as any others that we know of.

We have used these half-tones without the owner's sanction, but in the full realization of the knowledge that Mr. MacKenzie is always willing to offer anything calculated to be of help or of interest to all Airedalers.

Following is the standard as approved by the Airedale Terrier Club of America:—

Head.—Long, with flat skull, not too broad between the ears and narrowing slightly to the eyes, free from wrinkle. Stop hardly visible, and cheeks free from fullness. Jaw deep and powerful, well filled up before the eyes, lips tight. Ears V-shaped with a side carriage, small but not out of proportion to the size of the dog. The nose black. The eyes small and dark in color, not prominent, but full of Terrier expression. The teeth strong and level.

Neck.—Should be of moderate length and thickness, gradually widening toward the shoulders and free from throatiness.

Shoulders and Chest.—Shoulders long and sloping well into the back, shoulder blades flat. Chest deep, but not broad.

Body.—Back short, strong and straight. Ribs well sprung.

Hindquarters.—Strong and muscular, with no droop. Hocks well let down. The tail set on high and carried gaily, but not curled over the back.

Legs and Feet.—Legs perfectly straight, with plenty of bone. Feet small and round, with a good depth of pad.

Coat.—Hard and wiry, and not so long as to appear ragged; it should also lie straight and close, covering the dog well all over the body and legs.

Color.—The head and ears, with the exception of dark markings on each side of skull, should be tan, the ears being of a darker shade than the rest. The legs up to the thighs and elbows being also tan, the body black or dark grizzle.

Size.—Dogs, 40 to 45 pounds' weight. Bitches slightly less.

It is the unanimous opinion of the Club that the size of the Airedale Terrier, as given in the above standard, is one of, if not the most important, characteristics of the breed; all judges who shall henceforth adjudicate on the merits of the Airedale Terrier shall consider under-sized specimens of the breed severely handicapped when competing with dogs of the standard weight.

STOCK-GETTER.

Irish Challenger, Mrs. Paul Malovitz's great bulldog, is certainly as sure a sire, as sires go, and out of 36 bitches mated to Challenger 32 have either produced, or are in whelp to him, and, considering the claims made on his patronage, which commenced as soon almost as he reached this country, his record is remarkable.

We seen a puppy by Irish Challenger, taken when only four weeks' old, which Mr. Malovitz proudly calls Challenger's Duplicate, and not without justification either.

BIRCHCLIFFE BRIGADIER PASSES HENCE.

James W. Bain, Toronto, was represented at the Montreal Kennel Association Show by a trio of representative Airedales, one of which was a promising puppy named Birchcliffe Brigadier. The heat, which was an affliction to most humans present, found in the youngster a ready victim, and the kennel today is minus a good young dog as a result.

BILLY VILLAGE, WINNIPEG, brought out a nice smooth fox terrier bitch at the recent Fort Garry Kennel Club Show, named "Madison Astrebe" (C.K.C.S.B. 26586) which Jack Meadows placed on top, with half a championship to keep her in company, truly a remarkable debut for a 17-months-old Terrier.

This bitch is by "Rolyat Reformation," out of Ch. Madison Atalanta, and authorities are agreed that she is the best specimen ever owned by Billy Village, and that is saying an earful. Keep up the good work, lad-die, SOMEWHERE IN THIS ISSUE we mention the affairs of James Giles, a well-known bulldog fan, but so uncertain are the affairs of men and of dogs that one never can tell what a day may bring forth, and Jimmie has had a nasty knock.

"Mayday" and real bred one herself had been mated to Mrs. Paul Malovitz's Irish Challenger, and had returned home in A1 spirits, evidently she got out on the Hamilton highway near Mimico Creek. She was killed by a radial car. After a whole day's enquiring and searching, a freshly dug hole was discovered and on digging being resorted to, the good "Mayday" was found, making a loss of two valuable kennel assets in less than one week. Kennel and Bench assures Mr. Giles that he has the sympathy of the fancy in his great loss.

ART PICARD, WINNIPEG, came down to Montreal Kennel Association's Show with a big string of dogs, which fared pretty nicely, everything considered. Fort Garry Kennel Club had just closed its doors, when the enterprising Picard was on his way east, and at that the patronage was divided, Mr. Trautman (the other partner of the Sutton Kennels) being at the Coast shows, and at this writing is winning with, and completing a championship for their good fox terrier "Airy Fairy Sutton" at the British Columbia Sportsmen's Association Show, said to be a four-point affair.

Our award columns will show the full measure of their successes, but it is very important to notice that Art's own Ch. "Madison Atalanta" was adjudged the best smooth fox terrier benched, and also that a Belgian Police Dog named "Rigo," owned by W. C. Poole, Winnipeg, scored high in that breed against the strong hand held in Montreal. Of course it should also be mentioned that several of the latter were benched for "exhibition only," their owner, Charles Fleurquin, being the ermine-bearer for the show.

We hope at future shows to have East and West meet each other more regularly. Recent events have proved this arrangement possible and practicable, if not profitable.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

Wanting to verify something that I knew I could find in the "Kennel and Bench," I came across an article by Mr. F. E. Trautman, commenting on the good service he got from the Live Stock Records Office in Ottawa, and I can assure you it made good reading.

Speaking for myself, I have never had the slightest trouble in any way in my dealings with the L. S. R. Office.

During my residence in Ottawa, I have had occasion to call in their office on business relating to pedigrees, and the least I can say is that I am surprised. Mr. Harvey, the gentleman in charge, has everything at his finger-ends. The first time I went in I threw my cigarette away, got in the elevator, went into the office, asked Mr. Harvey if a dog named A was registered. "I'll tell you in a minute," was the reply. Bulldogs A. No, he wasn't, Mr. Milner. Question 2, Can you give me the grandsire on the female side of B. Collies, B. The grandsire was "—" came the reply, and, Mr. Editor, I asked five questions and got five correct replies, and was in the elevator and outside before I had got the taste of the cigarette out of my mouth. "Service,"—why, it had Bowes' Lunch beat forty different ways, and I wondered at the many remarks I had heard passed in regards to not being able to get any satisfaction from Ottawa.

The only solution I could arrive at was that the average fancier would not take the trouble to make himself acquainted with the correct method and, the Lord knows, it's been published enough in "Kennel and Bench." It's not enough to make the necessary papers out and (guess) it's all right. If the fancier would make sure it's all right before he posts it, then the percentage of returned letters would not be worth mentioning.

The Canadian Kennel Club has directors and leading fanciers in every town who would just be delighted to give assistance and make sure that the proper signatures are attached before a fancier sends his papers away. They only need asking. Why make the Live Stock Records the goat for our own thoughtless actions?

When a fancier blames the Live Stock Records Office for what is really and truly his own carelessness, it's not just playing the game. Nobody can expect them to run an International Correspondence School as a side-line to give individual courses when the "Kennel and Bench" has been shoving it under the nose of every exhibitor for years.

It is as much a necessity to take the trouble to find out the proper way to make out the papers as it is to have a place to keep your dogs in, if you are a breeder of registered stock. A lot of growling at the Live Stock Records is like blaming the cow when you spill the milk. Careless handling is a brother of careless methods.

Ottawa is a beautiful city, but why it was chosen as the Capital I could never quite make out until recently. But you must admit that it was wonderful foresight to place the Parliament Buildings within a stone-throw of the only province in the East that is wet, will be wet and can't be made dry on a bet, so if any of your members want to have the great and glorious, independent feeling, get busy and represent your district at Ottawa.

Just another subject, Mr. Editor, then I am done. As an outsider looking in, and knowing the game, I can see a big dog boom coming our way. It has been growing stronger bit by bit. Many old-timers are breaking into the game. Prices are going to be high for the real good stuff. Canada will become the buying ground for America. Now's the time for clubs and individuals to "pack up their troubles in their old kit-bag and get together and help to swell the prosperity of this bright future for Canadian dogs that is rising over the hill-top.

Before I close my letter I would like to suggest that a certain day be set apart—a kind of a Dog Men's Tag Day—in which every member gets a member. There is a fine bunch of sports out West, as well as in the East, and the old club that has weathered many a storm has surely earned a recognition of its ceaseless activity on the behalf of us all. What say you—are we Dog Men all?

Yours very sincerely,

(Sgd.) JOHN MILNER.

WHAT'S THIS?

W. C. Andrews, Yonkers, N.Y., has just mated his good Airedale bitch, "York. S. L. & L." (recently acquired from Theodore Offerman's Kennel) to Claycliff Banker, and says: Behold the breeding of your future Champs. We surely trust that his optimism will be fully justified.

Editor of Kennel and Bench:

Your magazine is always read by me from cover to cover. And in the current issue I came across the first error I have ever discovered there. Therefore I am writing to beg you to correct this slip. I refer to Tom Miller's clever account of how the dog happens to have a cold nose. He is right in saying it was a Collie which Noah chose of all dogs to take into the ark. (Noah also planted the first vineyard, so the Bible tells us; and made the first liquor; so we owe him the best dog and the best booze.) But Mr. Milner is mistaken in saying the dog's nose became cold from being left outside the ark. I have the true version of that story. I received it from a lineal descendant of Noah. So I know it is truthful. Here is the correct version of what happened:

When Noah's journey was half finished, a leak sprang in one of the sides of the ark. The dog—the same collie—stuck his nose into the leak, to keep the cold water out. And ever since then dogs have had cold noses. But the leak spread. It got too big for the Collie's slender nose to plug it. So Mrs. Noah pressed the back of her arm against the leak—the part of her arm between elbow and shoulder. And ever since then, that part of a woman's arm has been cold. But the leak still spread. In despair, she doubled Noah's head and feet together, and thrust him, backward, into the leak. And, ever since then—men like to stand with their backs to the fire!

That is the true version of the story, as given to me by the aforesaid descendant of Noah. And it proves its own truth. I could not let the incorrect version go unchallenged.

Respectfully,

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE.

SHORT BARKS.

Cal Hage, Vancouver, B.C., has recently imported "Vinola General," a Boston Terrier of real merit, from the Kenwood Kennels of St. Louis, Mo. The dog has had quite a show record in the U.S.A. and should do much to improve the breed at the Coast.

H. F. Cowan, Toronto, reports a litter of 10 Irish Setter puppies (5 and 5) from his winning bitch, "Colleen Bawn," and sired by the Montreal producer "Tyrone Pat." This looks as if Eastern Canada would again be popular for this breed of a Setter, at an early date.

SHORT BARKS.

Despite his age of three score years and ten, our old friend John H. Kenyon, the Dean of Canadian dogdom, is still as enthusiastic as ever. Amongst his recent activities we hear of him importing a good Yorkshire Terrier bitch from England, which looks like going on the top in her classes, her quality and type being of the noted Haslingden order. We also hear that his Bedlington Terrier bitch has presented him with five nice puppies, which are above the average for promise.

H. Moore, Thorold, Ont., reports a litter of 2 Poms (2 blacks and 1 chocolate), by Kelvinside Anmar, and out of his own bitch, Lady Beatty Scott.

PRINCE OXONIAN SOLD.

B. Dent, Hamilton, Ont., has purchased from Jack Ingleson, Toronto, the well known Boston Terrier, "Prince Oxonian" (C.K.C.S.B. 22963), and says he is in the game with both feet, to say. Prince Oxonian was offered for sale in our last issue, and soon after the paper was mailed the change of owners had taken place, and both buyer and seller are satisfied with the transaction. We wish the new owner every success.

SHORT BARKS.

James Giles, Toronto, has just lost through death his old favorite Bull Dog female "Sunny Morn," in her eighth year. She was by the late "Homewood Jumbo" (imp.), and in her time was the dam of several winners, amongst them the well known Ch. "Jellicoe," who, it will be remembered, was sold to Alf. Delmont last year for a big figure. "Sunny Morn" when benched herself was never out of the money. Jimmie feels this loss keenly, but is in a way consoled in owning a granddaughter of "Sunny Morn," named "Mayday" (Ch. Jellicoe—Ch. Princess Pat), who has just been bred to the Montreal crack, "Irish Challenger."

Those two enthusiastic Montreal Bulldog fanciers, S. Almond and W. W. Marshall, who have so long been interested in the concerns of each other, are having the consummation of an understanding observed, whereby the following well known dogs now appear in their joint names: Ch. "Tam Hin" (21021), "Lady Rex" (20282), "Drummond Fulton Rival" (22285). We wish the combination every possible success.

Mrs. Thompson, Toronto, advises us that a litter of 5 Pekingese puppies (3 males) have arrived at her kennel, the dam being her "Lu Lu," and the sire "Fun Yeng Chuty." One of the litter is a parti-color, which, at the age, is considered more than promising.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

We don't claim Globe Sweet William is the greatest show and stud dog on the American continent, but—

Globe Sweet William is the only dog of his breed in Canada who has sired a dog that has taken two firsts at the big New York show, has gone to winners at a prominent American show, and has defeated American champions.

Despite limited opportunities owing to the scarcity of females of quality in the district in which he has been at stud, Globe Sweet William has placed more winners on the show bench during 1921 than any other stud dog in Canada. Four
