Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club was held at the Club offices, 774½ Yonge Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, June 15th, 1922, at eight o'clock.

The President, Mr. Joseph Russell was in the Chair.

Directors in attendance included Mr. Wm. R. Aitken (Quebec), Mr. Robert A. Ross (Quebec), Mr. Harry Clayton, Mr. F. W. Jacobi, Mr. N. K. Swire, Mr. J. Waggitt, Mr. H. A. Wilson, Mr. Matt. Gracey.

The Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, and it was moved and seconded "That the minutes be approved as read." Carried.

The Secretary read the following letter from Mr. Wm. Robinson:—

34 Rhodes Ave., Toronto. June 6th, 1922.

June 6th, 1922. Board of Directors,

Canadian Kennel Club, Toronto. Gentlemen:—

I withdraw the statement I made in my letter to you of May 15th, 1922, re, the Registration of Dogs." Hoping this is quite satisfactory to you, I am,

Yours truly, Wm. Robinson

It was agreed to accept Mr. Robinson's letter.

The Secretary read correspondence in the Bickle-Ackerson case which showed that the former had received reimbursements of monies paid to Ackerson, and the latter's reasons for his failure to deliver the dog. In the absence of a report from Mr. L. H. Cooper, it was agreed to file all the correspondence in the case.

The Secretary read correspondence in the Hipkiss-Wylie matter which showed that an amicable settlement had been reached, and was instructed to file all the correspondence in the matter.

The Secretary read a letter from Hamilton, Read and Co., Barristers, Vancouver, B.C., which had been sent in by Dr. T. E. Sleeth (British Columbia). The letter was ordered laid over until the report on the Terminal City Kennel Club-McConnell trouble was available.

The Secretary advised the Board, that taking instructions from the President a message of condolence, had been sent to the widow and family of our late member, Mr. John Miles, together with a floral wreath, in the name of the officers and members of the Canadian Kennel Club, and that the Club was represented at the funeral by Directors, J. McNaughton, N. K. Swire, Dr. J. A. Campbell (Honorary Veterinarian) and himself, and read the following letter—

491 Ossington Ave., Toronto June 3rd, 1922.

To the Officers and Members of the Canadian Kennel Club—

Kindly accept the grateful thanks of myself and family for your kind expression of sympathy and floral tribute in our recent bereavement.

S. Miles.

An application was received from the proposed new Club "The Toy Dog Club of Montreal," seeking affiliation with the Canadian Kennel Club. The application was signed by ten members of the Canadian Kennel Club who were found to be in good standing, and accompanied by the fee of $5.00 as required by Constitution. On motion "It was agreed to register the new Club."

A complaint was made by the Montreal Great Joint Dog Show Committee, charging Mr. Charles Fleurquin, Miss Camille LaViolette, William J. McCorquodale and Mrs. D. Bourgouis with infringement of Dog Show Rule XXV The Secretary reported that he had written to the parties named, only the day before the Board meeting, requesting their explanations and asked that the matter stand over until next meeting, which was agreed to. Mr. Ross advised that the trouble complained of was prevalent at all Montreal Shows, and that immediate action by the Canadian Kennel Club was necessary to stamp out the evil now. Mr. Aitken endorsed his colleague's remarks, while other directors said that the trouble was not confined to Montreal, but seemed to be general.

The Secretary presented correspondence from the Canadian National Live Stock Office, bearing on the investigation of alleged improprieties, and advising that the matter be placed in the hands of the Quebec representatives. The Quebec Directors were in attendance and cheerfully accepted the task of possible peacemakers.

Albert Pleau advised that it was his intention to prepare a treatise on dogs in the French language, and requesting permission to reprint the Dog Show Rules and Regulations of the Canadian Club in French for the benefit of the French-Canadian dog fanciers. The matter was left in the hands of the Secretary with an instruction to have our Honorary Solicitor prepare any agreements that he may consider necessary. Mr. Ross and Mr. Aitken both endorsed the request made by Mr. Pleau.

The Secretary advised that he had received letters from Mr. John W. Brant, Accountant, Canadian National Live Stock Records and Mr. J. E. Brethour, Chairman Live Stock Record Committee, advising him that they were arranging a meeting of the Record Committee at as early a date as possible, to take up the matter of the proposed amendments to our Constitution, with our Executive.

The Secretary reported that he had received correspondence from Elizabeth Brownlie and from her legal adviser Mr. T. Frank Slattery, which was read. The letter requested consideration of the advisability of lifting the expulsion order of the former and permission to appear for Mrs. Brownlie by the latter. Without discussion "It was moved and seconded that no action be taken in the matter."

The Secretary reported that he was in possession of the defence supplied by Mr. Alfred Lepine, in the Strachan vs. Lepine case, and that Mr. James F. Strachan was in waiting.

The doors were closed and Mr. Lepine's evidence was carefully read and noted. The Secretary was instructed to invite Mr. James F. Strachan and his counsel, Mr. Peter White, K.C., Toronto, to enter the Board Room. Mr. White was introduced as an old friend of the Canadian Kennel Club, and as one who had participated in the creation of the Constitution of the Association. Mr. White at once read the following which formed the foundation of Mr. James F. Strachan's complaint:—

Montreal, March 27th, 1922. Mr. Jas. F. Strachan,

246 City Hall Ave., Montreal, Quebec.

Dear Sir:-

On the evening of January 10th, 1922, at the Union Club, 344 University St., Montreal, charges of the gravest nature were preferred against you by Mr. Alfred Lepine, of Brosseau Station, Que., before a group of persons of which I was one, the others being Messrs. A. Lane, W. Ponman, W. Nightingale and another gentleman whom I cannot remember.

As evidently, judging from his conversation, Mr. Lepine was speaking to me as editor of a kennel paper, I think it my duty to bring these charges to your notice, hoping that you can clear them.

Mr. Lepine said in part, speaking of you: "He bought an Irish Terrier a few days before the Toronto show to bribe Geo. S. Thomas and get first prize, then he turned around and when the dog is shipped to Montreal, instead of giving the dog to Kilby whom he had bought it for, he refused to hand Kilby the dog and gave it to Aleck Ross and his (meaning Strachan's) dog gets best in show under Bob Ross.

When pressed by the writer to repeat this, Mr. Lepine repeated his charges almost textually, omitting the word "bribe," when the writer called his attention to it, but saying: "No, I won't repeat the word bribe, but you can say that I, Alf. epine, says that Jas. F. Strachan bought an Irish Terrier from Geo. S. Thomas a few days before the Toronto show and then he got first prize, draw up your own conclusion; that he then gave the dog to Aleck Ross and he won best in show in Fredericton under Bob Ross a few days later, draw up your own conclusion. You can say that I said it and I dare you to publish it in "All Dogs." Why was Geo. Thomas' license cancelled by the A.K.C.? Because he was a dealer. I am glad that it was and it was about time, too."

Mr. Lepine then added something about a complaint which he had lodged with the A.K.C. or the American Fox Terrier Club against you and said speaking of you: "I have got him in dogs, I'll see him out of it."

I knew that these charges had been preferred before, however, as they had not been made in my presence, I did not pay much attention to them. But since I have heard them preferred myself in front of witnesses and I have been spoken to in that particular instance as a kennel journalist, I cannot help taking some step in the matter and you will easily understand that I cannot remain silent.

I have always considered the dog game as a sport and if it is, I take the stand that it must be kept clean. Therefore if Mr. Lepine's charges are mere slander, you can govern yourself according to your own judgment; on the other hand, if they are not challenged and hence a color of truthfulness is lent to them, in the interest of the game, and although sorry to have to take this stand, I will refuse advertising your kennels in my paper in the future.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) J. H. VILLENEUVE, D.M.V., Editor.

Mr. P. White then presented sworn statements as follows:

Province of Quebec District of Montreal I, James F. Strachan, baker, of the City of Montreal, being duly sworn depose and say:

That the charges made against me by Alfred Lepine in the letter handed to me by Dr. J. H. Villeneuve, are false from start to finish with the exception that I bought a dog from George S. Thomas. I bought this dog and had him for over five months before I showed him. He has been shown at the Irish Terrier Specialty Show, New York, in February, 1922, and at Madison Square Garden two days after the Irish Terrier Specialty Show, February, 1922, and again in Montreal at our last show in May, 1922.

He has never been shown by me under George S. Thomas or Bob Ross, and has only been shown once in Canada under Ben Lewis, Sr. This Irish Terrier was sold by me, James F. Strachan to Sam Bamford of Toronto on May 29th, 1922, and I believe is to-day in Toronto, Ont.

J. F. Strachan, Esq., Re Investigation.

Wednesday, June 14th, 1922 "At 9.30 a.m. we took the train for St. Hilaire and there saw Mr. Lane, the party supposed to have made two affidavits. After visiting the grounds and looking over his dogs and a little talk on different lines I brought the matter up about Lepine vs. Strachan and said I understood that he (Lane) was mixed up in it. He said that all he knew about it was that one night in January at the Union Club, a certain conversation had taken place in front of him (Lane), Ponman, Brown, Nightingale who was sleeping, and Dr. Villeneuve and Lepine was the speaker. The conversation was rather warm, and finally it was said that Mr. Strachan had bought a dog from George S. Thomas just a few days before the show, and that Thomas who was judge, gave Mr. Strachan first prize. When the dog was shipped to Montreal instead of giving it to Kilby, whom Mr. Strachan was supposed to have bought it for, he (Mr. Strachan) gave it to Alex. Ross and gets best in show under Bob Ross. Lane claims that Villeneuve said that Lepine had used the word (bribe), but that Lepine replied no, but that they could draw their own conclusion, which meant about the same thing and that certain parties had tried to get Ponman, Brown, Nightingale and also himself to sign an affidavit to that effect, but that the three named above had met afterwards with the exception of Ponman who could not be reached and they had signed a letter headed by Lepine in his favor denying Dr. Villeneuve's version of the affair and that Nightingale had made a notation under his signature that he was asleep when the conversation took place at the Club and that he (Lane) had never signed but one affidavit and this was in favor of Lepine and he could not see where they could do anything to Lepine. As Lepine was a poor fellow they were glad to help him out, but it was too bad it had happened and in future Lepine should never make any more remarks against Mr. Strachan.

Our conversation with Mr Lane shows that a meeting was held between these three fellows in favor of Lepine and furthermore that there was something wrong.

As nothing further was to be learned from Lane, we returned to Montreal."

June 14th, 1922 D. Major,
J. B. S. A. L. Robert.

Sworn to before me at Montreal, this fourteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twentytwo.

LAWRENCE F. CHURCHILL, Commissioner, Superior Court, Province of Quebec, District of Montreal.

Mr. White carefully brought out all the factors shown in the charges and sworn declarations, and suggested that if the Board failed to take action, the effect would be to discourage other gentlemen from participating in the sport of dog fancying. His client, however was not seeking for prosecution, but rather for protection, and was prepared to accept a complete retraction, failing which, he might have to consider what further action he would take.

At this point Dr. J. H. Villeneuve was introduced to the meeting. The defence of Mr. Lepine was read.

Brosseau Sta., Que. June 13th, 1922

Board of Directors,

Canadian Kennel Club, Toronto. Gentlemen:—

In reply to your secretary's letter of May 6th, I am forwarding him five documents by registered mail. These documents are my version of what was said on occasion complained of and signed statements of the other four individuals present at the time. Assuming that the Board are not interested in hearsay evidence or the troubles of George S. Thomas with American Kennel Club, I have dealt only with the two paragraphs which are in inverted commas, and which J. H. Villeneuve asserts are the actual words used by me on this occasion. I am unable to be present myself for good and sufficient reasons and realizing how difficult it is for the Board to handle a matter of this kind by correspondence I have endeavoured to furnish as much information as possible direct to the point and in plain language, and in as few words as possible. Dr. Villeneuve admits that he does not remember the name of an individual present whom he has known quite intimately for some years yet claims to remember this conversation word for word though he took no notes and English was the language used which he is not over familiar with. The Board will note that there were six people present and that with my reply you have a statement from each one of them and no doubt the Secretary will be able to verify these signatures, as I think all are members of the C.K.C. The Board will perhaps find it hard to credit a man of Dr. Villeneuve's apparent standing with a malicious exaggeration such as the evidence submitted proves this to be without a motive, so I will mention that my relations with Dr. Villeneuve have been far from cordial since an occasion when he purchased a puppy from me and tendered in payment a cheque which the Bank of Hochelaga twice returned stamped N.S.F., and I do not think mine is an isolated experience with Dr. Villeneuve in this respect, so the Board will realize that documents signed by J. H. Villeneuve are not always to be taken at their face value. I had a short conversation with Mr. James F. Strachan at the last Terrier Club Show in New York in February last and Mr. Strachan told me he had heard that I had said something about him that was Slanderous. I replied that he could not always believe what he heard secondhand as very often a tale gained in repetition, however he replied that "he had it in writing and signed," and that he had taken it to his lawyer with a view to taking legal action against me for slander, but his lawyer had told him he had 'BETTER GET MORE PROOF." Evidently he has been unable to do so as I have heard no more from him along that line. Why he should imagine that what his own lawyer considered insufficient evidence for a legal action would be sufficient for the C.K.C. I fail to comprehend. Once before Mr. James F. Strachan attempted to secure my expulsion from the M. K. Association because of an advertisement I was running in a local paper which he took offence at though it did not mention names of dogs or individuals other than my own. On this occasion I was upheld by the majority of the members of the Club who practically gave me a vote of confidence by confirming me in the position of I was employed by the Secretary. firm of James Strachan Ltd. for thirteen years, and Mr. Strachan became interested in Fox Terriers while I was there, and I think he will admit that I was the means of him taking an active interest in local doggy circles and our local Club. I left their employ for many reasons, the principal one being that I was fired so the rest don't matter. Since that time we did not see eye to eye, though Mr. Strachan had no more enthusiastic supporter than myself when he held office in the local Kennel Club. Mr. Strachan seems to overlook no opportunity to cause me trouble for any error of omission or commission which I might make and to me his conduct savors somewhat of persecution. I practically stopped advertising in Canada because he seemed so ready to take offence. We all try to make our kennels pay expenses from the wealthiest down to the humblest fancier and Dr. Villeneuve's pathetic allusions to dog showing as a sport do not ring true coming from him as it is well known here that he always has his eye on the main chance from a fat fee for superintendent at a show down to the humble five spot for acting as go between in the sale of a pup. I myself have paid too many $50 stud fees to wealthy people to consider dog showing merely recreation and to-day own around fifty Terriers and derive quite a considerable portion of my income from the sale of them. I try carefully to follow the C.K.C. rules and it does not sound reasonable that I would do anything to jeopordize my standing in the C.K.C. and point with pride to the fact that I have been a member of the C.K.C. since the time of Dr. Boultbee and have never had my attention officially called to the most minor breach of C.K.C. rules. I understand in this particular case the Board have been asked to act and knowing I am in the right I have endeavoured to assist the Board all I can to clear this matter up, but at the same time would like to mention that I had always associated By-Law 10, Section 3 with matters pertaining to C.K.C. fixtures and registration of pedigrees. As there are nasty rumors current here that I am in trouble with the Board on account of some fraudulent doggy transaction I would appreciate prompt action in this case. Trusting the information I have furnished will clear this matter up, I remain,

Respectfully yours, Alfred Lepine.

Actual Facts as Follows:

Time and place correct as submitted in Villeneuve letter. The individuals named and W. Brown present.

Subject of conversation was an item that was published in "Short Barks," column of current issue of All Dogs dealing with a fabulous price said to have been offered for a locally owned W. H. Fox Terrier. After this had been thrashed out following conversation took place:—

By A. Lepine:

"Doctor, here is an item for your short barks column. A prominent Fox Terrier Fancier buys an Irish Terrier from a noted International Judge, then shows Fox Terrier under him and does mighty well. He then gives the Irish Terrier to another man that has a judging appointment, shows under him, and again cleans up."

Dr. Villeneuve (very heatedly):

"That's not a direct statement, that's only an insinuation. Make a direct statement, then I'll publish it."

A. Lepine—"No, I'll make no direct statement, publish it the way it is and let people form their own conclusions."

Dr. Villeneuve then rose sharply from his chair, slammed it back and picked up his overcoat and left the room in a huff, and I saw him no more that night, and had no further conversation with him.

Montreal, May 17th, 1922 Alfred Lepine.

Witnessed by J. Todd. Witnessed by Arthur Henry Lane.

I have carefully read item No. 2 of correspondence received by Mr. A. Lepine of Brosseau, Que. Same being copy of a letter addressed to James F. Strachan of Montreal signed by J. H. Villeneuve D.M.V. of Montreal in which my name is mentioned by the writer apparently for corroboration of his version of what was said by Mr. Lepine on this occasion. I have also read Mr. A. Lepine's version of the same conversation and have no hesitancy in stating that Mr. Lepine's is correct as he mentioned no names and flatly refused to make a direct statement when pressed to do so by Dr. J. H. Villeneuve on this occasion.

Montreal, May 17, 1922 Arthur Henry Lane June 12th, 1922

Board of Directors, C.K.C., Toronto. Gentlemen:—

Mr. Lepine has submitted to me letters from Secretary of C.K.C. to him, dated Toronto, May 6th, also copy of letter, dated Montreal, January 27th, from J. H. Villeneuve to James F. Strachan relating to conversation at Union Club evening of January 10th. My name is mentioned by J. H. Villeneuve as being present apparently to verify his letter, but I wish to say that I have read Mr. A. Lepine's letter in reply, signed by him and witnessed by Mr. A. Lane and J. Todd, and that same is a true account of what was said. I think both Mr. Lepine and Dr. J. H. Villeneuve were so excited that it would be next to impossible to substantiate anything that was said with accuracy word for word. Mr. A. Lepine was asked to say that Mr. J. Strachan had bribed a judge, but he refused. I did not hear Mr. Lepine mention any name whatever.

Yours truly, W. Ponman,

176 Ontario St., Montreal.
To the Board of Directors, C.K.C., Toronto.

Gentlemen:

Mr. A. Lepine has submitted to me letter No. 2 of correspondence received by him from Secretary James D. Strachan of the C.K.C. I was the fourth party present that J. H. Villeneuve does not remember on the evening this conversation mentioned in said letter took place. I have also read Mr. Lepine's version of this conversation and find same correct.

Montreal, May 17th, 1922 Walter W. Brown, 75 Crescent St.

May 17th, 1922

In reference to item No. 2 of correspondence, re controversy between Messrs. Strachan, Villeneuve and Lepine, I can state that I was present on the occasion mentioned, but paid no particular attention to the conversation, and therefore have no exact recollection as to what was said by either party.

W. Nightingale,

133 City Councillors Street, Montreal.

Dr. J. H. Villeneuve insisted that his version of what occurred was a true reflection of the meeting and the conversations which led up to the charges being made by him in the interests of clean sport and explained his relationship with Mr. Lepine. The complainants were advised that their evidence had all been received and that the Board would further consider the case after the witnesses had retired.

Mr. White thanked the Board for the manner of his reception, and for the manner in which they had heard the evidence of his client and witnesses.

On the room being cleared the President cautioned the Board to be careful in their further consideration of the case, and suggested that they do not take cognizance of the D. Major, A. L. Robert affidavit and again outlined the pros and cons of the case. A general discussion was indulged in, and it was moved and seconded "That, on evidence submitted, it was considered in the very best interests of the fancy, that Mr. Alfred Lepine be given thirty days to make an unqualified withdrawal of the unwarranted charges, and that he offer a public apology to the complainant, Mr. James F. Strachan, through the columns of the official organ of the Canadian Kennel Club." Carried.

CANADIAN NATIONAL FIELD TRIAL CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

The ninth annual meeting of the Canadian National Field Trial Club, was held at Windsor, Ont., on Wednesday, April 26th, 1922, at 8.30 p.m., President James M. Cleary in chair.

In opening the meeting, Mr. Cleary briefly outlined the urgent necessity of greater efforts by the members to provide essential safeguards for this association. He advised those present, in view of the absence of some of the members who could not attend this meeting, that a drive must be made among the followers of the field sports with the dog, for all prospective candidates to fill up the vacancies of the last few years.

The Secretary's and Treasurer's report revealed receipts of $141.91 and expenditures of $191.95.

Election of Officers

The ruling officers were declared elected for another year by acclamation.

James M. Cleary, President; James M. Hendricks, Vice-President; Thomas M. Gilbert, 2nd Vice-President; Dr. C. A. Bromley, Hon. President; Edward Gray, Marshal of Trials; Frank H. Walker, Secretary, Windsor, Ont.; Dr. M. B. Perdue, Veterinarian; Directors: Dr. C. A. Bromley, J. J. Spracklin, Fred. Drouillard, L. L. Stewart. Field Trial Committee: George Able, James Hendricks, E. M. McConnell, Edward Gray.

VANCOUVER COCKERS IN WINNING STREAK

The "Obo" Cockers owned by F. J. McGauvran were bang up to the front at Puget Sound Kennel Club Show, (Spokane), April 13, bagging as spoils best puppy, best novice, reserve winners, (Black) bitches, winners (parti-colored) bitches, winners dogs, (Black) winners and reserve winners, (Black) bitches, best in show, best opposite sex in show, with the noted champion brother and sister (same litter) "Billy Obo, Jr." and "Junette Obo." This brace was returned best brace in show, all breeds.

At Peirce County Kennel Club Show, a week later, the above wonderful performance was repeated, with additions, when "Ch. Billy Obo, Jr." was returned as best of opposite sex in show, all breeds competing. "Ch. Junette Obo," winning for best sporting dog in show. At Vancouver Kennel Club Show it was a walk away for the "Obos".

The visit of "Champion Junette Obo" to "Lance Farewell's" noted "Man-o-War" has produced two males and two females that the coast fanciers declare to be wonderful stuff, and will no doubt mature into future contenders in upholding the prestige of the Kennel, and a brace of the newcomers may be seen at New York in 1923 to start their careers as did their famous dam (and her litter brother), in 1920.

. As We Were Just Saying

There is no use trying to disguise the fact, that the Canadian dog fancy is not enjoying that serenity of pleasure that should necessarily accompany the manifold issues so closely affiliated with what all are pleased to refer to, as the "game." The very word game is suggestive of play, and play in turn suggests pleasure. So we are admonished on all sides to "play the game." Take any grouch who has experienced the short end of a buying transaction, when he voluntarily banked his knowledge, or experience, plus his money, only to find out later that he had chosen a "lemon," invariably he will suggest that the seller "should have played the game." Clearly, in this case the game was played-only-the grouch lost out in the contest. An exhibitor sees in his entry a world beater, and he does not lose much sleep reflecting on why the other fellow fails to see eve to eye with him in his vision. The time rolls along for the Dog Show, and the marvel is entered. On the dogs being called to the ring, the awards are soon made, when, lo and behold, the marvel is found to be an "also ran." Amidst a torrent of audible abuse from the owner, who implores high Heaven to be his judge, that he has had the "rawest deal that he ever has experienced in his life." "Who brought that galoot here to judge?" he demands to know, who said he ever knew anything about dogs? Gee! if he was not so crooked-so terribly under obligation to his friends-If he would only play the game. As a matter of fact the chances are that the game has been played according to Hoyle, but that makes little or no difference to this particular chap. To him everything is so crooked that a corkscrew is the only comfortable arrangement for its repose. But is it? Is the dog fancy really crooked? The answer is emphatically no. In all games we must stand to win or to losein every start, only three can take their ribbon to show their position in the races. All the others must be content to lose, to accept the judge's verdict like men, and to try again. But, must we forever be obliged to hearken to the vociferous vituperations of the disgruntled dog man? Is there no way of muzzling the monster? There should be-and there will be.

History shows that organized dogdom is only 34 years old in Canada, and in that time our growth has been marvelous our experiences considered, possibly we have failed to keep the "check rein" on the unruly element, who seemingly must just make trouble in order to be happy, but it is not too late to start now, unruly tongues must be controlled, trouble makers must seek redress in an even temper at the proper courts, which are always available—or, take the consequences.

At the last meeting of our Board of Directors we were obliged to have before us-what may safely be considered Montreal's two best known Terrier men. The minutes of that meeting which appear on page 4 of this issue will give the complete details. Here is a case where the unbridled tongue of one good fancier compels the other to seek the protection of the Canadian Kennel Club, and that protection has been granted. Two prominent fanciers, each is accepted as a sportsman of a high order, both have given time, talent and money to the sport they love, both have striven to make their city and country famous for a certain breed of dog, both have been eminently successful in their endeavors, and the irony of it all, both have long been good friends, and just because one lets go a broadside of abuse against the other, that cannot be substantiated. we are all humiliated, but law and order must be our first consideration, if our interests in dogdom in Canada are to continue to flourish, and develop.

Talk is cheap. Talk is easy, and talk is dangerous. Let us—all of us—learn to talk as becomes sporting gentlemen, and we will be amply repaid in noticing the effect of our endeavors. On the novice who may from time to time, cast his lot in with ours, and be benefitted by his associations with us.

Learn the rudiments of the game. Play the game by the rules of sportsmen affiliated with the governing body. Learn that to win and to lose are the two great issues always at stake, and learn to take either as our portion, when it is handed to us by the referee. True, the referee is not always infallible, but who is there amongst us who is infallible? And because of that very circumstance, and because that "many men have many minds," and that refereeing is seldom uniform, making that subtle uncertainty that in turn makes the sport of dog breeding and benching so fascinating to us all. Just because of these things gentlemen, let us play the game.

There is ONLY one person in the world to whom we may be severe. There is one who deserves it, and on whom we may vent all our severity, and that person is our own self.

-Cardinal Manning.

THE SHEPHERD DOG—ALSATIAN INVADES CANADA

The Shepherd Dog of many aliases has at last taken a strong foothold in Canada. In England and in America for several years this breed has been extremely popular, and in both countries the German Sheepdog has actually topped all the other popular breeds in point of numbers benched at the Dog Shows. The war played havoc with his cognomen, and he has since been known as the Alsatian (in England) the Shepherd Dog (in America), and the Belgian Sheepdog (in Canada). This incongruous variety of applications would be amusing if it were not for the ridiculousness of the situation at the present time. In Canada no doubt we were the worst transgressors, with our name-the Belgian Sheepdog, and under this heading a grandson of "Ewald von Gigelberg," a son of "Nores von Kriminalpolizie," who was out of the noted producer "Gisa von Kriminalpolizie" is actually registered. It is to laugh. We wonder what the real Belgian edition think of this ridiculous situation. The sooner we get back to the German Sheepdog universally the better for all concerned

Messrs. Elliott & Keith, of Toronto have quietly enlarged on their cases of "Love at first sight," for this breed of dog, from actual contact and experiences made during the "great war" and now they have four corrals which kennel two stud dogs, and several high class brood matrons.

"Ben Alarich" has been purchased from Mr. H. E. Munson, Torrington, Conn., this dog won 2nd novice at the New York Show last February and has won well since, he has the best of breeding behind him, including several champions.

"Arco II.," this dog was imported by Col. G. S. O'Brien, Toronto, and has been acquired for the Dunnotar Kennels and registered.

"Star Princess" is a beautiful wolf grey female, whose blood contains the "Nores von Kriminalpolizie" and "Ch. Appolo von Hubenstein" strains. As her name implies, this female was secured from the Star Kennels, North Adams, Mass., whose exhibit at Montreal shows for the last two seasons was considered a feature.

"Dunnottar Grai Man," "Dunnottar Bruce," "Dunnottar Dinwiddie," "Dunnottar Ninette," "Dunottar Grai Bird," etc. are the home-bred specimens that are sure to be heard from when they mature.

Registration is a feature of the newly organized kennel, and no dog that cannot be registered will be offered for sale at any price, and clients will be able to do business there with a feeling of security on that very important matter. We draw our reader's attention to the Kennel's advertisement appearing in our business section.

Doggy Notes and News From the Old Country

By CAPTAIN R. J. DARTNELL, OF THE "DOG WORLD," ENGLAND.

The Shows

Well the shows this side are still drawing wonderful entries, and competition is very keen. Many excellent puppies are being brought out, and show after show in different breeds we are having pleasant surprises by the youngsters, which all goes to show that breeding and competition shortly not only will have surpassed pre-war days, but may well reach almost any height. I again repeat, dog breeding, rearing and exhibiting is not longer to be the sport of the wealthy, but is a rising and coming industry. Many, yes, very many more people are now entirely getting a living from dogs than ever before.

Kensington Show

What a show, yes it is rightly called the greatest one-day show in the world, and if entries continue to go up as they have done the last few years, if the show is to continue a "one" day show, we shall have to make up our minds that in that day we shall not see all the dogs. This year, energetic as I am it took me all the day to have a decent look-of course I did a bit of business, one has to do this-and when 7 o'clock came, I was just whacked.

Of the classes that took my eve Fox Terriers in my humble judgment was best, and of the two varieties I preferred the Smooths. The dog of the moment was Mr. Francis Redmond's "Dusky Dinah," she is a beauty, and such a keen critic and breeder as "The Rex." A. J. Skinner of Borlace fame I see, writes of the bitch as follows: "A bitch worthy of being compared with "Duchess of Durham" and "D'Orsay's Donna" and "Donna Fortune," one of the very best, body, type, character, quality, and expression only go to make me dream of perhaps the best bitches that have ever lived." Some criticism, but believe me I agree word for word with it.

Chows were good, but I did not see any new feature to record, and this applies to French Bulldogs, Old English Sheepdogs, and Gundogs, whilst Collies, Scotties, Pekes, Dachshunds and Griffons all came up well.

Great Joint Terrier Show

A real splendid show again was seen here. Sealyhams came out at the top of the bill and in Brush Bendigo we had an excellent dog champion and one who will, I predict, soon become a full champion. The show was held at Olympia, and the spacious rings were a great improvement and Mr. Holland Buchley again earned the gratitude of exhibitors for the excellent arrangements.

The Ladies' K. A. Show

A new venue this year was tried by the Ladies, and I unhesitatingly say it was a great improvement. Richmond with all its natural beauties being the charming spot fixed upon, judging was in the open and the show went off well.

At this show I met a real Kerry Blue, "Nofa Jacobin" by name, the property of Mrs. L. Gordon, and a beauty, and this dog certainly has a good and bright future. Bulldogs, Bull Terriers, Cairns, Great Danes, Poodles, Gundogs, and Pugs were an average lot.

Pekes were really good. Mrs. Ashton Cross and Mrs. Calley took the dog and bitch championships.

Dalmatians-This beautiful old breed turned up very well, and there was some hot competition amongst many choice specimens. Old English Sheepdogs also came up well, and I noticed Dr. Ford of the U.S.A. around the ring taking a very keen interest in the judging.

Mr. Batten, the U.S.A. President of the Greyhound Club, made his bow to the public, here his awards were very well received, and he was favored with a good entry. A new judge especially one with Mr. Batten's experience is always sure of a sound and hearty welcome.

Canine Distemper

An excellent book on Canine Distemper, its complications, sequelae, and treatment and written by that eminent authority, Mr. Hamilton Kirk, has been received by me during the month. It is an excellent book, and one I can strongly recommend. Its cost to Canada would be $2.50.

Everybody's Dog Book

Is the title of another work received. There is a human touch about this work that appeals to all dog lovers, and no library will be complete without it. The cost to Canada of this book is $3.00.

Sales Abroad

Many excellent dogs continue to leave here amongst others, Mr. Williams' "Speak of Rochdale." He sold his winning Yorkshire Terrier, "Cowan Toy" to a fancier at Rhode Island at a hefty purse for a dog of their variety.

Who Owns Britain's Best Bulldog?

For many weeks past Capt. Wellesley, the owner of "Manor House Master" has been challenging owners of Bulldogs to a match at twenty guineas a side against his dog. In the first instance Capt. Gerald Wellesley evidently disagreeing with the awards at Crufts challenged Mr. Harry Dorsey, the owner of "Ch. Jutland Jupiter," the Crufts' winner, but as the challenge was not accepted by Mr. Dorsey, he has now challenged any dog. One or two are nibbling at present and it remains to be seen if the match will come off. Rather startling if it does not. We certainly would have thought many would have been tempted for it would put their dog for Stud purposes in an unique position.

How to Medicine a Dog

Of course you medicine a pup or a bitch the same way, but really many do not understand how to do it, and medicine many people think the dog has swallowed has been lost. The proper method and the method is not difficult. Liquids are best given from a spoon or small phial, the latter for preference. Now there is no need to open the mouth, stand in front of the dog and pull the skin of the cheek away from the teeth, thus making a natural funnel into which you pour your liquid. With a large or unmanageable dog an assistant is necessary to hold the dog and keep his head in position. If you wish to give a tablet, pill or powder then open the mouth and place them well in the back of the tongue or you may put it in a slice of meat and give with other pieces of meat. Tasteless medicines may easily be given just mixed in the food.

BEAU BEL SPOTTIE" GETS DISTEMPER

Bird dog fanciers attending the joint Show at Montreal were much impressed with a pretty ten months old English Setter puppy, named "Beau Bel Spottie," that was in Bert Swann's string, and owned by Jack A. Newman, our director for Saskatchewan. The puppy as our awards showed went from puppy to winners, and made many friends. The trip ended disastrously for the youngster, as on his arrival at Regina, he was found to be in bad shape, and in spite of careful attention he slipped away a victim of the fancier's foe-distemper.

We sympathize with Jack, as it was no secret that in "Spottie," he believed he owned a coming champion, and he did, but, the fates had other fields for him to conquer.

And So He Answered That Imperative Summons.

TO BEAU BEL SPOTTIE.

TO BEAU BEL SPOTTIE.

Spottie was my chum he was, just an English Setter pup.

His Sire and Dam were Champions 'cause, they'd lifted many a Cup.

So HE thought he'd try and do the same, and win renown and fame.

To get amongst the very best, and make himself a name.

He left his Kennel in the West, to take in Montreal,

Went right up through his classes, and beat them one and all.

It was his first and only show, poor Spottie is no more,

He's gone where all good Setters go, where there is no SAWDUST floor.

The English Springer Spaniel

(Special to Kennel and Bench, by E. Chevrier, Esq., Winnipeg)

Probably no breed of hunting dog has ever before taken such instantaneous hold upon the fancy of the sportsmen of both Canada and the United States, as the English Springer Spaniel has done at the present time.

There has been in the past but a few of this extremely useful dog scattered about this country. A very few imported purebred ones, and the balance half-cockers and mixed varieties. In some parts of Ontario and Nova Scotia, however, one would occasionally stumble across descendants of the first Springers brought over by the early settlers.

Called Norfolk Spaniels, large Cocker Spaniels, sometimes Water-Spaniels, but nevertheless Springers they were, and first, last and all the time, workmen of the best quality. Until quite lately however, they have remained practically unknown to that large mass of hunting men who go afield, and this seems more or less of a mystery.

In the Canadian north-west, where the writer was born, the main reason was, that feathered game was very abundant and the opening of the season for prairie-chicken was early. Pointers and setters filled the bill when September 15th, and afterwards October 1st, was the opening

But ever since the season has been fixed as from October 15th on, and of course during several years closed season, the pointers and setters have been practically discarded. And the English Springer has come into his own, and is here to stay. Because for our chicken and partridge shooting they are ideal and the best close workers and retrievers imaginable. While for duck hunting they are in a class by themselves. Hardy and blessed with thick coats they stand up well under hard work in the marshes, even when it is so cold that they have to break the ice in retrieving, and icicles form on their feathering.

Many hunters ask, what is an English Springer Spaniel? Imagine if you can a Spaniel, two-thirds the size of a setter who combines within himself the quality of several best breeds of hunting dogs. A leggy, strong and agile dog, covering much ground in a day's hunting, usually under good control and of an obedient and tractable disposition.

A dog who possesses that almost forgotten quality of hunting to the gun and for the gun. With an amazingly sensitive nose that once put on the line of a crippled bird or rabbit, speedily finds and retrieves at a gallop. Mind I say gallop, because while many breeds retrieve I know of none that retrieve as fast as the Springer. He must always be recognized as the race-horse of the Spaniel varieties.

HERE'S A POINTER

Canadian Kennel Club Registrations
POINTERS

For April the Pointers recorded with the Canadian Kennel Club numbered, NONE.

For April the Pointers recorded with the American Kennel Club numbered, THREE.

For April the Pointers recorded with the American Field's Stud Book and Register numbered, SIXTY-SIX.

What's the matter? There's a Pointer.

And what tender mouths? Heredity counts here, no doubt. I remember an instance where I sent my favorite springer dog under my chicken house, more for a joke than for anything else. He had to crawl through a small hole and wriggle around nearly flat on his belly. He scared out a hen, and after awhile came out with an egg in his mouth which he deposited carefully in my hand. He brought out ten eggs in this fashion, without even cracking one. And there were witnesses present who can prove

As for intelligence, they are unsurpassed I could cite many incidents but one will have to suffice. This same dog was at my heel, while duck shooting at Lake Manitoba. My guide and I were lucky enough to knock down eight mallards out of one flock. They fell on a narrow strip of water, surrounded by oozy mud for 100 feet every way and then high reeds. Three ducks were quite dead, the other five managed to drag themselves across the mud into the reeds. Did he bother with the three dead ones? He did not. He trailed through the reeds and collected each of the five wounded firstly, then the dead ones. Money could not buy this dog from me. He is the apple of my eye.

I have imported, bred and used in turn Cocker Spaniels, Welsh Springers, Sussex Spaniels, Field Spaniels, Clumber Spaniels, Irish Water Spaniels, English Curly Coated Retrievers, and Chesapeake Bay Retrievers, but I have yet to see the equal of this dog (and others of his breed) as an all-round shooting dog.

When thoroughly trained they stop and drop when the game is flushed, and the shot fired. Then retrieve as ordered. Can be made to work out the thickest of bush and undergrowth or follow obediently at heel.

They are essentially a one man dog, and make the greatest of pals and companions. Very affectionate and kind with children, thus making ideal house dogs, in contradistinction with many other hunting breeds. Most handy in size for hunting in canoe or boat, as they hold a decided advantage over the larger kinds in this way. And still plenty big enough to pull a mallard out of any hole.

They make excellent dogs for pushing out rabbits, woodcock, grouse, pheasant or partridge from the thick woods. If I am hunting alone, I can sit my old dog at one end of a bluff and take up a commanding position at the other end. Then at my whistle he will work towards me, driving out the game my way. Equally good for snipe-shooting in the lowlands.

And some American sportsmen are now beginning to use them on quail. Mostly to remain at heel, or to work the quail out of difficult cover. In short the English Springer can be used on all manner of game. Even down to the warm States of Florida and California the merry working Springer is finding his way.

In England since the war, there has been a great English Springer boom and revival, and very high prices prevail. One of the reasons for this, is that the English Springers have been sweeping everything before them in the Field-Trials. And this boom has found its way to America, where the demand is enormous and the supply very limited. Out in Winnipeg we are forming an English Springer Spaniel Club, with the purpose of holding field-trials this fall, near Winnipeg, and these will be the first Spaniel trials ever held in America. The Club will foster the interests of the English Springer Spaniel and encourage the breeding and showing of them, undoubtedly the cream of all gun-dogs, especially from a utility point of view. Any sportsman interested in joining the Club or assisting at the trials should please write:

OLD MAN ROBINSON HAS HIS SAY

Harry Robinson, the versatile manager of the Northcliffe Airedale Kennels, Montreal, is happily enthusiastic over a home production which has been christened "Northcliffe Swell Nobbler," which he hopes to introduce to the fraternity at the Canadian National Exhibition, and he hopes that his youngster may be able to lead the others to the top.

The Terminal City Kennel Club Show

The T.C.K.C. officers and Executive are rejoicing over the fact that they were again able to show their strength by pulling off a summer show with a championship rating of four points at Hastings Park Venue, on May 23rd and 24th, when Messrs. Dan. Shuttleworth, Stanley Dorrell, and W. B. Fletcher handed out the ribbons, and gave a remarkably fine account of their ability to place canines correctly.

That the members rallied solidly to the support of their club is evidenced by the fact that 461 entries were made from the 257 dogs entered, 252 of which were actually benched. And it speaks volumes for this club at the present time to be able to make as good a showing as our award column indicates.

In many cases the judges have failed to mark the winners and reserve winners, and it will be an occasion for regret with many exhibitors who perforce will be unable to get their championship points earned at this show, but not shown in the judge's books.

VANCOUVER EXPRESS GETS "NORTHLAND QUEEN"

When M. U. Bates, of Metagama possessed himself of "Biddy" ("Northland Queen, C.K.C.S.B. 30011) he looked on her as somewhat of a prize packet. For wasn't she by "Rockley Ranger," who was by "Soudan Swiveller," who was by "Elruge Monarch," and out of "Silver Birch Charm," who was by "Ch. York Ryburn Swell," who was by "Powder Plot." "Charm" was out of "Bothwell Peggy," who was by "Ch. Soudan Swiveller," out of "Ch. Kenmare Sorceress," the whole, a well nigh perfect blood combination for an Airedale of size and substance, so essential to the requirements of the dual standard of the Hudson Bay Kennels-quality with utility. She was indeed a prize.

Mated to "Ch. Harvie Warlock," fortunately a good litter was born, two of which have been set aside, one as a stud proposition, and the other to fill her dam's place in the Kennel. "Northland Queen" was out on a three-day hunt in the woods with the "Old Walrus," and on their return struck the tracks about three miles from Metagama, the bitch was run over by the Vancouver express, and killed, making three valuable matrons to be sacrificed in the same way. "Old Walrus" evidently plans to take a little leisure in a safe place when such treacherous material as steam trains are around, and invariably comes home safe in wind

Has Mike quit? Not very much he says, and hopes to have a quality-utility Hudson Bay specimen benched at the forthcoming Canadian National.

LONDON'S DOG SHOW

Great preparations are being made for the Dog Show to be held in London, Ont., in connection with the Exhibition, Sept. 9th to 16th. The dates for the Dog Show will be Sept. 12th to 15th. A very liberal prize list has been prepared, and in addition to good cash prizes, several cups and valuable specials are offered.

The London Dog Show, held during the Exhibition has always been a favorite with exhibitors. The interior of the dog building has been painted and thoroughly cleaned, and a new judging ring erected. Everything possible will be done for the comfort of exhibitors, and a very successful show is anticipated. Entries are $1.00 per dog, and 50 cents for additional entry of the same dog. Entries close Sept. 5th. Send to the General Officers, London, for Prize Lists and Entry Forms.

PREFIXES GRANTED.

The Kennel name "Clanmount" has been registered in the name of Mrs. W. J. Mountain, Toronto, Ont.

The Kennel name "Sergeant" has been registered in the name of Robert Jacques, Toronto, Ont.

COLD CHRISTMAS CHEER

Dr. Young, the popular Sudbury Veterinarian, had a queer experience one morning recently. A nine months old female that had been bred to M. U. Bates' "The Black Eagle," was in an interesting condition, and only a day or so to go. The day before the event was due, the family who had the caring for the little matron called the doctor by phone, and advised him that she had been run over by a street car, that morning and killed. Dr. Young naturally felt quite bad on receiving this disconcerting information, as he had been looking forward to a litter of very fine puppies from the mating. At the same hour the following morning his phone rang again-and this time, he was informed that an ugly mistake had been made, because the supposedly killed female had come scratching to the door that morning, obviously looking for her breakfast, which was soon servedand as quickly eaten, then she showed unmistakable anxiety to again be let out, and on the good folks following her to a hole in the snow near the verandah of the house, they found a cold looking, but husky bunch of puppies-six in number, all alive and kicking.

The diehards must have been born there and may have been many hours in their cold nest, but they show no signs of having experienced any discomfort, and are now five months old.

"CHAMPION LIONHEART"

Bull Terrier fanciers who remember the fascinating Bull Terrier "Lionheart" brought out at the Central Canada Exhibition, September, 1920, by the owner and breeder, popular Fred. W. Coles, Toronto, (who may be better known to the old school as the Coles of the famous partnership, Miles & Coles), and made a run from puppy to winners under the expert Jack Holgate of Doncaster, England. "Lionheart" won well at Cornwall and Toronto the same year, and was later purchased by Mr. Floyd E. Waite, Cleveland, Ohio,

"Lionheart" was a son of the famous though ill-starred "Brockley Topper," and as such was considered ineligible for registration in Canada. Through an arrangement between the American Kennel Club and the Canadian Kennel Club he could not be registered in the country lying south without first being registered in Canada, an arrangement that has many virtues, but none in the case of "Lionheart." On the circuit he went, and won his American Championship, meeting and defeating all comers, and has been given a place in the American Stud Book on performance on the bench, and is now registered.

"CHAMPION LIONHEART" (A.K.C.S.B. 337645)

Congratulations to the breeder and to the owner. This accomplishment is good cause for rejoicing in the Bull Terrier camp.

"Brockley Topper," the wonderful stud force that begat "Champion Lionheart" is ineligible for Canadian registration, and his excellent breeding has been consistently denied a place in our records since 1919.

MOTHER DELANEY MEETS WITH A BAD ACCIDENT

Mrs. S. A. Delaney and her Italian Greyhounds are known to a large portion of the Canadian fancy, who will regret to be informed that the dear old soul is at present confined to Ward C. at the Western Hospital, Toronto, suffering from a broken hip and other injuries, the result of an accident sustained on Wednesday, June 7th. We certainly do hope to have Mrs. Delaney fully restored to a full measure of health and strength at the earliest possible moment.

TORONTO WHIPPETS AT CLEVELAND

We are indebted to Mr. Frank Tuffley the sporting secretary of the Cleveland Whippet Club, for an interesting letter describing in a most refreshing way the success of the Toronto "Long Tails," at the International Whippet Races, held on Decoration Day, May 30th, at Cranwood Park Track, Cleveland, under ideal racing conditions. Stanley Grimshaw handled and slipped several of the Toronto speed artists to a nicety, and it is said that $260.00 out of $300.00 offered came back to our Queen City, also two trophies out of four offered. The meeting was the first of a series of several on the season's programme.

Whippet racing has caught on in America, and at the Cleveland meet, a large and enthusiastic crowd enjoyed the races over a track that was wonderfully fast, making racing a feast to relish and to remember. Following are the complete results:

THE LATE JOHN MILES-AN APPRECIATION

By G. F. McFarland, "Franklyn," Toronto

I have been asked for a few words on the subject of the death of our old friend, John Miles

In his demise the dog game has suffered an irreparable loss. One could not but admire his all-engrossing enthuisasm for the Bull Terrier. In the show ring he was one of the best losers I have ever seen, and that is, after all is said and done, the true test of the sportsman. I have shown against him over and over again and I have also judged his dogs. He accepted victory with elation, and defeat without bitterness or rancour. Years ago he and I agreed to disagree on certain salient features of Bull Terrier conformation, and it was a controversy renewed from time to time between us, but always with the utmost good nature and with toleration on the part of each for the opinion of the other. One always felt that John Miles was in the game for pure love of the dog and in fact a little less for love for, and indulgence of, the individual dogs which he showed might have resulted often in their being shown in better condition.

He was a genial soul, and radiated good nature wherever he went, and the departure of such a man, invariably leaves a gap which is hard to fill, but who shall say that the dog game in Canada is not the better for the many years which John Miles devoted to it.

Regarding Our Russian Wolfhounds

"TOLSTOI" KENNELS DISBANDED

The Russian Wolfhound breeders of America will be surprised to learn that owing to business changes which necessitates the owners complete attention, the noted Tolstoi Kennels have been broken up, and although it is the owners' intention to keep his membership and other affiliations in good standing, still it may be frankly conceded that when a kennel has been built up on several year's study and endeavor, and is broken up and distributed to the very last dog, it is at once a calamity, and a circumstance that cannot be re-established in a day. Mr. A. V. Webley had never spared himself nor his means, in building the Tolstoi establishment up to perfection. Of a pleasant disposition and an optimistic temperament his missionary work on behalf of the breed had wonderful results. To hear him speak of Russian Wolfhounds was to leave you wishing that you owned

Last February at New York Show he brought out a youngster named "Morvich of Tolstoi," a home-bred beauty by "Ch. Krilenko" ex "Zahftra of Tolstoi," that created a sensation. An enthusiast who had imported hounds from Russia direct—proclaiming the young "Morvich" the best specimen alive in the world to-day.

Mrs. W. Harold Cluxton, Chicago, Ill. is the lucky lady to land the entire Kennel, and is now awaiting delivery. Her purchase includes "Morvich of Tolstoi," winners dog, New York, 1922, "Czarina of Tolstoi," reserve winners, New York, 1922, "Ch. Krilenko, Zahftra of Tolstoi," Zaplia of Ralova," dam of "Nicko," the winner at New York 1921, "Theresa of Petrograd," Zalenska of Tolstoi," "Zadi of Tolstoi," Mrs. Cluxton already owned the wonderful "Ch. Duke Boris of Cliffview Manor" and also of "Ch. Neva of Romanoff," so with her new acquisitions she undoubtedly holds the trump cards in the Russian Wolfhound game on this continent to-day, both for breeding, and for show benching burposes.

loff" (C.K.C.S.B. 27671) and "Nazimova of Tolstoi" (C.K.C.S.B. 25010) was the magnet. Blake Johnston had been meeting temptation in the way of flattering

We must again refer to the keen sense of loss that comes to us as we consider just what it means to Canada to have Mr. Webley's strong kennel broken up, the country is indeed the poorer from the fancier's viewpoint, and we trust that the business obligations which have led to the upheaval and dispersal, will soon run in smoother channels and that at no distant date we shall have the pleasure of seeing Mr. A. V. Webley in his kennel coat, with a good hound on the lead-preferably a Tolstoi-heading for the show ring and its sawdust carpeting there again to take the place he is now deserting through circumstances over which he has no control. We also wish the new owner, Mrs. Cluxton every success, and trust she will see fit to bring our Canadian hounds back to Canada for our Canadian Shows.

BRANTFORD HAS NOW LEADING KENNEL OF RUSSIAN WOLF-HOUNDS IN THE DOMINION

With the disruption of the Tolstoi Kennels at Toronto, and the transference of the Kennel inmates of that institution to Chicago, a terrible rupture was observable in our Russian Wolfhound holdings. But as we are preparing our last form for the July issue, we learn of an important rallying under the "Romanoff" standard at Brantford. The presiding genius of that important institution, Mrs. J. A. Patterson has for a long time been planing towards that day when the Romanoff Wolfhounds would be a credit to the country, and a monument to ambition achieved.

With this high aim as the goal, a visit was made to Toronto recently, and E. Blake Johnston's winning brace "Borloff" (C.K.C.S.B. 27671) and "Nazimova of Tolstoi" (C.K.C.S.B. 25010) was the magnet. Blake Johnston had been meeting temptation in the way of flattering offers for his winning pair, and there was no secret about it either, and to lose them all so suddenly, was to precipitate a calamity. Four figures were offered in the first parley, and bingo, the Roman-off establishment's Kennel strength was increased an hundredfold.

The dog "Borloff" is by "Ch. Johnson's Krilenko" (he by "Ch. Nazitka Orloff") out of "War Baby" who is by "Petrofski of Addlestone (Imp.)" and he by "Ch. Trumps of Addlestone." As a stud force, he is a most desirable asset to his new Kennel. "Nazimova of Tolstoi" is also by "Ch. Johnson's Krilenko," out of "Beauty Dagmar," who is by "Knave of Addlestone," and "Knave" is by "Ch. Ramsden Rajah." Both animals are yet on the threshold of their careers, neither one having seen their second birthday yet, and still they have two wins apiece towards championship honors.

Mrs. Patterson and her right bower Mr. Patterson are to be congratulated on their securing "Borloff" and "Nazimova of Tolstoi," and the transaction marks an epoch-making time for the Romanoff Kennel. Here's hoping the quartette—folks and dogs many happy days.

LATE CHAMPION MENDON MIKE

LATE CHAMPION HAYMARKET FAULTLESS.

Two Famous Terriers Take the Count

Our sportsmen whose leanings turn to terriers will realize a keen sense of loss on learning that the noted Bull Terrier "Int. Champion Haymarket Faultless." The well-known Irish Terrier "Champion Mendon Mike" have both passed on to their dog's heaven. Our pages are all too often chronicling such news items, and it means much to our Canadian standing in the dog game of this continent.

To be losing our good dogs so frequently. dogs of the calibre of those appearing in our obituary notices in recent issues, are not born every day, and it must mean a terrific loss to their owners. "International Champion Haymarket Faultless" was the most wonderful Bull Terrier that your scribe ever seen on a Show bench anywhere, and he had a host of worshippers who could subscribe to the truth of the same circumstance.

A son of the great producer, "Noross Patrician," out of "Glenmere Channel Queen," and born August 22nd, 1916. His breeder was R. "Humphrey" Elliott, of Ottawa, Canada, and friend Humphrey was proud of his possession. It was at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1917 that he got his first taste of the limelight, and earned half a championship. Dr. George W. Clayton having the honor to judge the great "Faultless" on that occasion. Central Canada Exhibition, Oakville and Montreal were also shows to proclaim him the best.

At Madison Square, New York, February, 1918, he created a sensation on being returned King of the Continent's Dogs under dramatic circumstances, which are now historical facts. In 1919 he came within an ace of repeating the 1918 achievement, when he was awarded reserve best in Show, all breeds. In 1921, he again paraded for highest honors at America's Crufts, and was again greatly fancied by a gigantic ringside. It was the great "Haymarket Faultless" on the one hand, and the strong contender "Phantom of Ashcroft" on the other hand-at least our spectacles showed that quite clearly. neither won, and so, we must not try to turn the mill with the water that is past. But wasn't "International Champion Haymarket Faultless" just the greatest Canadian-bred dog you ever seen? Wasn't he a beauty?

"Champion Mendon Mike," M. S. Kilby's best bet, and probably the best known Irish Terrier in Canada died on June 20th, the result of an accident. "Mike" was a son of "Reprieve," out of "Balleyhaise Judy," and she was by "Ch. Paymaster," and was born on February 4th, 1917 at the Sachuset Kennels, Rhode Island. For the years 1919 and 1920 he was benched at all shows within reasonable distance of Montreal, and won the winners prize on eight starts, out of eleven. One win-a reserve winners, he earned at the Ladies' Kennel Club Show in 1920. As a sire "Ch. Mendon Mike" was a wonder, and there are several of his get who will be seen on the show benches of our future shows. American Shows also knew "Mike," and the last time we noticed him at New York he looked fitting company for the other celebrties gathered there, and amongst them were the best specimens above ground. "Champion Mendon Spitfire" is a son, and "Mendon Mulligan," the New York winner this spring-also claims "Mike" as dad.

We surely sympathize with these sportsmen on the occasion of their being parted by death, from their best dogs and pals.

The Fox Terrier Specialty Show

It just goes to prove what a fellow can do if he tries, doesn't mind the conventional diffidences, but goes right for his objectives and that's the story of the Fox Terrier Club show. It was a show under the august auspices of the parent club, but actually the whole works consisted of "Jimmie" Spring, as his familiars call him, and aided and abetted by Miss Hinkle, who, living down Barnstable way has the open sesame to the various facilities that made the housing of the show possible in the Fair buildings. Mr. Spring got up a very attractive prize list in a hurry, and a number of real specials that made things worth while, but did not worry one's patience to wade through. Every attention was paid to detail of transportation from the Ladies' show on the Saturday, and if anyone went wrong and wandered into the sand dunes, it was his own fault or something else. After the show the dogs, handlers and what not, were loaded for the road to Boston at nominal charge, as trains are very shy out that way, especially at night. The terrible storm which covered Boston and vicinity did not seem to affect the Cape, and they had a good day, while here three inches of rain fell, and prevented many from attempting the long journey of near eighty miles. There was, however, a goodly company there. This week, we can deal only with the awards. The Hon. Joseph Russell of Toronto, and President of the C.K.C. judged very acceptably, his work seemed to be guided by good heads, fronts and sound action, and he cared nothing about size so long as they had the right build. The best dog in the show, $50 cash, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Owen's "Ch. King's Point Falcon." Best not a champion, and under eighteen months, same owners "K. P. Christmas Eve." GALT GOES TO THE DOGS AFTER ALL

The Gem City of Galt, has always been blest with a few good dogs, and a few good dog fanciers, and we were disappointed many a time when we met them, and heard their plaudits for their beautiful city and its doggie possibilities, and to find them going back home, and their enthusiasm—as we thought—dying down, was disappointing indeed.

Recently, their ranks were fortified by the versatile Jack Egan hitching on to their wagon, and giving them the needed push.

Letters, telephone calls, and telegrams were all introduced, and soon Mr. Eagan had the promise of the writer, and several other sportsmen, to the effect that they would go to Galt when called upon, there to judge an open air show, and help the good work along. The S.O.S. was out, and on Saturday, June 24th, Messrs. Norman H. Swire, John H. Kenvon, Dave Johnston, Bert Swann, and "Ye Editor" motored over to Galt and to the surprise of their lives, found a lovely little city in Galt, just like a miniature Old Country city-only prettier. We went to Mr. Eagan's home-"over beyond," we would have referred to a place like friend Jack's new home, as the "Big House." What commodious grounds, and arrangements, the collective verdict was: "Ideal Spot," and the "Lothian" West Highland White Terriers should just about lead the procession in the future, if environment counts for dogs.

Eighty dogs were on hand, all sorts and conditions of dogs, but they were as gay a bunch as we ever remembered seeing together anywhere. Mr. Swann would judge the show—he agreed. Mr. Swire would ring Steward for Swann—he agreed, Mr. Strachan would be official announcer—he agreed, Mr. Egan was "The Whole Works" excepting Mrs. J. Weldon, who in record time gathered in $40.00 in 25-cent entries, and was busier than we ever remember having seen her before.

Well, the Show was started to the King's taste, and Mr. Swann with his usual sweat bedecked smile, soon had the entries straightened out according to merit, and there were several surprises too. The entry to the casual observer was of a nondescript nature, but really there were some splendid dogs there. The most noticeable was the newly imported curly coated Retreiver "Good Girl," fresh from her Manchester, (England) victories. Boys-she is a beauty and no mistake, before leaving the "land of roses" she was mated to "Champion Bute Surprise," and is now showing in whelp. Retriever fanciers will do well to keep this interesting item in mind.

The importers are J. H. Marriott and G. L. Eastman, both enthusiastic sportsmen and citizens of the Gem City.

All the best people were on hand, and we could not see where the presence of the Chief of Police was made necessary, until we were tipped off that an elegant brace of Manchester Terriers were the Chief's property. A Shepherd Bitch was benched (Alsatian), and gossip has it that soon there will be more of her kind around-her family. Jack Lunan and Vince Perry brought two of their Globe Champions down, i.e., "Ch. Globe Sweet William," and "Ch. Globe Pal-O-Mine," and this brace of Bostons were much admired. Jack Egan had a team of his noted west Highland White Terriers on exhibition, and the gallery of over 1,000 persons, received the "wee hielanmen" with applause. Drs. McRae and McKendrick, were very enthusiastic, and helped quite considerably in making the Show a success.

There will be no excuses expected or demanded from Galt fanciers in future, they have an exceptional opportunity to form a Kennel Club that will be well supported by the fanciers, and citizenry generally. The visitors were heartily thanked for coming, and helping as they did, but if the true facts were known, the pleasure was all to the visitors.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR To the Editor.

KENNEL AND BENCH.

Dear Sir.

Perhaps you are deluged with articles for publication in your magazine, certainly you are not short of interesting copy, if one is to judge by the size and quality of KENNEL AND BENCH, but perhaps sometime you could publish this short resume on the Shepherd Dog. It is perhaps laudatory, but the trick is not too deeply veiled.

While overseas with the Canadian Forces, I was greatly interested in the various breeds of dogs in Belgium, France and Germany, not to mention the cosmopolitan tastes of our mother country in the matter of dogs. One thing can be said of the Britishers, and that is that they know how to, and do appreciate the qualities and value and companionship of a dog. However, it is of Europe that I wish to speak in regard to the peculiar "wolf-like dog," as it was spoken of by Caesar in the ancient days.

The French call this dog Berger d'Alsace, i.e. Alsatian Shepherd Dog. It is also called the French Police Dog in many districts and parts of France. Principally because in the questionable quarters of Paris the authorities used to have the streets patrolled by two policemen in company, until the qualities and sagacity of the "French Police Dog" became known, when one policeman and the trained dog now does the work of the two men. Paris to-day has her corps of trained dogs whose duty it is to accompany the various officers in their duties about the city, and the work which these dogs do would simply astonish the uninitiated, and would make the owner of the most intelligent dog look to his laurels were he still to acclaim his breed of dog the most intelligent of all.

However, I do not wish to take up space in your valuable paper, but I do wish to call attention to the erroneous names by which this dog is called by people in all walks of life here in Canada. The prevailing misnomer being Belgian Police Dog. There is of course such a dog as the Belgian Police Dog, and in shape and form and disposition he is very similar, although he is never quite as large as the French, and his is a one color coat-Black-of course we have the black French (Alsatian) Police Dog, but invariably it is only the tips of the hair which is black, while underneath the color is tawny. There are many Alsatian Shepherd Dogs in Canada now, but the number of Belgian is very small indeed. Personally, I have never seen a Belgian dog in Canada-nor indeed in the recent New York Dog Show.

The French Police Dog originated most probably in the Province of Alsace, and is spoken of-as elsewhere intimated in ancient history by none other than Caesar himself, so while the opinion expressed or the question asked by many "is he bred from the wolf," may or may not be true, nevertheless he has been domesticated for centuries, and is of the truest of pure bred dogs.

During the war of 1870, when the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine were lost to France, the Germans, in the years which followed, discovered the possibilities in this breed of dog and developed it to a remarkable degree. Hence he is a German Police Dog? If not,-is he Belgian? Is he a police dog? We must go back to the original provinces of Alsace and Lorraine and there he is called "Alsatian Shepherd Dog." That then being his name in Europe, let me digress.

We have Old English Sheep Dogs, we have Russian Wolf Hounds, Irish Water Spaniels, Scotch Collies, French Bulldogs, Pekingese, Dachshunds-no, Imean Badger Dogs, but shall I continue?

The world is proud of France, it is none the less proud of Alsace and Lorraine, but the name of one of the most sagacious breeds of dogs known, whose origin can be traced through centuries to the erstwhile last provinces of France, the official Canadian name is Shepherd Dog!—R. A. Elliott.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH.

From Woolwich, Maine, comes this story of devotion: While relatives were searching for Miss Juanita H. Wright, seventy-five years old, her three-yearold collie dog, dripping wet, appeared on the scene.

The dog, who had been an almost constant companion of the woman, led the searchers to an ice pond nearby, where the body of his mistress was found in shallow water. It was evident from tracks on the shore that the collie had tried to pull her from the pond. Miss Wright had been in poor health.

The Domestication of the Dog by Primitive Man

Every writer upon the subject whom I have consulted agrees in the statement that the dog was unquestionably the first animal to be domesticated by man, and that this domestication took place in primitive times. Now the fact that men and animals existed upon the earth, long ages before men had learned to express their thoughts by written signs, is known to most of us, but on the other hand, many people have only the most vague and nebulous idea as to what period is to be understood by the expression "primitive times."

There are still to be found very many who consider that Archbishop Ussher's chronology which they find printed in the margins of their reference Bibles, that fixes the date of the Creation at B.C. 4004, to be as undoubtedly true as the text of the Bible itself, and to such it will come with something of a shock to learn that, from astronomical data, it has been calculated that in our northern hemisphere the last glacial epoch began some 240,000 years ago, that it lasted with alternations of a milder, and even tropical temperature for nearly 160,000 years, and finally terminated about 80,000 years ago; while geology demonstrates that man was a contemporary of the mammoth and the woolly rhinoceros, and followed the retreating ice sheet which had covered Northern Europe during the last glacial epoch. There have been unearthed from ancient riverbeds, limestone caverns, lake bottoms, and refuse-heaps, from rude sepulchre and stone structures, an enormous mass of relics which reveal to us the story of man during periods when the continent of Europe stretched beyond Great Britain and Ireland into the Atlantic, and was joined at more than one point to Africa, Archaeologists have divided the period from the Ice Age to the dawn of history into a sequence of "Ages"-those of Stone, Bronze, and Iron. These ages are not necessarily synchronous in different countries. Greece had advanced to the Iron Age when Italy was still in the Bronze period, and the rest of Europe in the age of Stone. In the time of Homer the age of Iron was just commencing in Greece. He constantly mentions bronze weapons, while iron is still a rare and precious metal. But the ages of Iron and Bronze may be passed over; It is with the age of Stone more particularly that primitive and prehistoric man has to do.

The age of Stone is usually divided into two epochs-the palaeolithic (ancient stone) period, or age of chipped flints; and the neolithic (newer stone) period, when the implements used by man were ground or polished, an advance which evidences very great progress in culture and civilization. It was in the palaeolithic period that man was the contemporary of the cave bear, the mammoth, the woolly rhinoceros, and other extinct carnivora and pachyderms. The climate was severe, the distribution of land and water was different from that which now exists; pottery, even of the rudest kind, was unknown; the people, very sparsely scattered, were wandering hunters, living in caves or rock shelters. In the neolithic period, however, the distribution of land and water was little different from what it is now, caves were used for burial rather than to dwell in, pottery was made, animals had been domesticated, and the wild animals of Europe differed but slightly from those which were to be found at the commencement of historic times.

It is almost impossible to say when the palaeolithic period may have begun; some authorities believe that it is to be found in the quaternary period of the geologists some 240,000 years ago, but the neolithic period is comparatively recent, the earliest date assigned to it being about 20,000 years ago, while other computations give it a maximum antiquity of not much more than 10,000 years.

It would be outside my present purpose if I were to give at length an account of the calculations upon which these estimates are based, a brief resume must suffice. Some of the best of these natural chronometers are found in the Swiss lake dwellings. But even the earliest of the lake dwellings of Switzerland exhibits a state of civilization considerably more advanced than that to be met with in the palaeolithic period.

At Point de la Thiele, near the lake, there is a pile dwelling of the neolithic age, which is now 3,000 feet inland from the present shore of the lake. Calculations made of the rate at which the lake is being filled up with sediment would give for the foundation of this settlement a minimum antiquity of 6,750 years, or about 4900 B.C.* In these pile dwellings the evidence of the existence of various domesticated animals has been found. Some of the pile dwellings in Southern Germany belong to an earlier period, in which there were no domestic animals, and where even the rudiments of agriculture were unknown.

The kitchen middens or shell mounds of Denmark afford evidence of an antiquity more remote than the lake dwellings. The people, whose existence these middens record, had not yet reached the agricultural or even the pastoral stage—they were solely fishermen and hunters, the only domesticated animal they possessed being the dog, whereas even in the oldest of the Swiss lake dwellings the people, though still existing largely on the products of the chase, had domesticated, besides the dog, the ox, the sheep, the goat, and perhaps the hog. These kitchen middens were formerly mistaken for natural formations of the nature of raised beaches, but have since been discovered as the sites of ancient fishing and hunting settlements. They are mounds of various sizes, sometimes a thousand feet long and two or three hundred feet wide, and are composed of castaway refuse, myriads of oyster and other shells, bones of stags, dogs, and other animals, of birds, and of deepsea fish. The accumulation of these middens must have occupied an enormous period. They were certainly always formed by the seashore, but many of them are now at a considerable distance from the sea. When investigated it has been found that all marrow-yielding bones which they contain have been split open, and an even more certain sign of man's presence, fashioned implements of bone, stone, and wood abound. What is most remarkable for my present purpose is that there is a complete absence of bones of any other domesticated animal than the dog to be found in these

Professor Steenstrup, who made a special study of the subject, proved this domestication of the dog, the conversion of "the brother of the wolf into the guardian of the flock," by an interesting experiment. He noticed that nearly all the long bones of the animals taken from the mounds were reduced to their shafts, and that the heads were irregularly broken. He then experimented with dogs and found that they gnawed the heads of the long bones and neglected the hard and solid shafts, leaving the bones in an exactly similar state to those contained in the middens. The bones of dogs have also been discovered beside those of man, in prehistoric burrows, caves, and rock dwellings in this and other countries, in such cases the animal having no doubt been purposely buried with its master so that its soul might accompany him to the land of the hereafter. Again, among the rude drawings of animals which prehistoric man sometimes sketched with a pointed stone upon the walls of his cave, are those of the dog. What kind of dog was this which primitive man had converted to his service? These scrawls, made up of straight and curved lines, very similar to those which very young children draw at the present day, afford us no clue. If we may credit these early draughtsmen with a sense of proportion, and compare their sketches of dogs with those of the horse, the deer, and the bear, the primitive dog was a rather small animal. Professor Windle, writing some years ago in the Monthly Register, says that the dog was of medium size, while Professor Jeittles. a learned German savant who has investigated the matter, states as his opinion that the primitive dog was something like the modern Pomeranian.

Here I must leave the question, but the dog-lover who has not previously given the subject his consideration will at least be pleased to know that of all the animals which own the rule of man, the first to be domesticated was the dog, and that in the remotest ages of the world of which we have any knowledge the dog was the friend and companion of man.—F. A. R., in the Kennel Gazette (England).

They Are Both Intelligent Breeds

By R. S. TYRRELL.

The Editor.

Kennel and Bench,

Toronto.

Dear Sir.—A request was made by a correspondent in a recent issue of Kennel and Bench for incidents that would throw light on the respective merits of two of our most popular breeds, i.e., Airedales and Collies.

Not having seen any replies from their respective champions, I am taking up the pen in fear and trepidation, not with any pretension to authorship, but believing the old adage that "Comparisons are odious," will confine myself to actual "dog experiences" of a varied career.

My first was rather unfortunate. Some twenty-five or more years ago I became the proud possessor of a fine Airedale pup, who hailed from the birthplace of the breed. They were not very common in the south of England at that time. What was my surprise and consternation on going down to give him a run and some breakfast before school, to find him missing.

In spite of the efforts of several chums and myself, search proved fruitless. My father, with more experience of humanity, advised advertising for him. Two days later a somewhat seedy individual turned up with "Jock." The pup's delight at getting back was remarkable. The "beery" one had a long and plausible yarn about finding him some miles away. An exchange of half a guinea left everyone satisfied.

Alas, "Jock" was evidently too wellbred a dog for a schoolboy to retain, in those parts. After two more such experiences I was obliged, through the exchequer being empty, to leave him in other hands.

An uncle at that time also owned a good Airedale. This dog was one of the best scrappers I have met, though not of a quarrelsome disposition. Let any other dog, no matter what breed, raise the flag, he retired discomfited. His mortal enemy was a large, white, long-coated dog of no particular breed, that belonged to a neighbor. This animal, entrenched behind a pair of long glass French windows in his master's drawing room, hurled defiance at "Sandy," who was out for an early morning stroll.

"Sandy" took a heading dive, and in a few minutes not much was left of the long white-coated one, and a cyclone seemed to have struck the interior of that apartment.

This dog was a real guard. Tramps gave the house, which was rather a lonely one, a wide berth.

His fighting proclivity was unfortunately the cause of his doom. Being challenged by an unknown quantity on the reverse side of a six-foot fence, he took this in his stride, but not calculating on the sharp iron spikes with which it was adorned ripped himself so badly that he had to be destroyed.

Some years later, when "cowpunching" in the Birch Hills district, we had a black-coated collie. This dog was not pure bred and was unsexed.

The lake at which the stock were watering having frozen solid, it became necessary to drive the cattle some three miles to a deeper one.

I was 'batching' alone at the time, and with some seventy head to attend to, my time was fully occupied.

It was a severe winter, and it was no joke, after driving the bunch down, to wait till they had all finished drinking, before starting them home, at about forty below zero.

"Sallor" always at their heels, keeping the stragglers up, and seeing that none of the young stock wandered into the bush. It struck me that provided I saw the older cattle drink, there was no reason why he should not bring the rest back. This I informed him, whereon he sat down and I returned home. About three in the afternoon the cattle came straggling in and bringing up their rear was "Sallor." After seeing them safely in the corral he came over with a wag of his tail, for the praise and tidbit that was his due.

We did not lose a single head through any cause that minter; neither did any strange cattle get into the herd, both very common things in that country, which I give "Sailor" credit for. On the old "Crazy Two" Ranch, in the Little Arm Valley, where I spent many happy days, we had a collie that could kill alone, wolf, badger and fox, neither would this dog allow an Indian to come near the buildings while we were away.

A grandson of the owner, in more recent years, had a sable and white collie that, besides being a first-class cattle dog for the boy only, would retrieve both on land and water, and was as good as a trained gundog.

"RAGS" By EDMUND VANCE COOKE

We called him "Rags." He was just a cur.

But twice, on the Western Line, That little old bunch of faithful fur Had offered his life for mine.

And all that he got was bones and bread, Or the leavings of soldier-grub, But he'd give his heart for a pat on the head,

Or a friendly tickle and rub.

And Rags got home with the regi-

And then, in the breaking away-Well, whether they stole him, or whether he went, I am not prepared to say.

But we mustered out, some to beer and gruel,

And some to sherry and shad, And I went back to the Sawbones School.

Where I still was an undergrad.

One day they took us budding M.D.'s

To one of those institutes Where they demonstrate every new disease

By means of bisected brutes.

They had one animal tacked and tied

And slit like a full-dressed fish. With his vitals pumping away inside

As pleasant as one might wish.

I stopped to look like the rest, of course,

And the beast's eyes levelled mine.

And his short tail thumped with a feeble force, And he uttered a tender whine.

It was Rags, yes Rags! who was martyred there,

Who was quartered and crucified, And he whined that whine which is doggish prayer

And he licked my hand-and died.

And I was no better in part nor whole

Than the gang I was found among,

And his innocent blood was on the soul

Which he blessed with his dying tongue.

Well! I've seen men go to courageous death

In the air, on sea, or land! But only a dog would spend his breath

In a kiss for his murderer's hand.

And if there's no heaven for love like that,

For such four-legged fealtywell! If I have any choice, I tell you flat.

I'll take my chance in h-1.

Author Edmund Vance Cooke has, in the lines appearing above, created a profound impression amongst dog lovers everywhere, and everybody who owns a little "Rags" will appreciate the accusing verses, which are, no doubt, intended to deal a blow at vivisection.—(Ed. Note.)

THE FOX TERRIER FOR THE PAST FORTY-FIVE YEARS

By Prof. Eli Ward, L. M. B. P. A.

Yes, Mr. Editor, I will write you a few notes for your clean, useful, unbiased and well conducted paper "KENNEL AND BENCH." I cannot do this without very sad feelings. I am a bare faced lad in my teens. I see a big burly man nearly six feet, weighing 250 lbs. He has a little white dog on a lead. The dog has a small tan mark or two on his head. He has only half a tail, and would weigh twenty-one or twenty-two lbs. A crowd is gathering. I have a dog, mine, a twelve lbs. Bull Terrier, now called Boston Terriers. I compare mine with the big man's, and when he sees me doing so, with a voice like an infuriated bull he says, "Well, whatster think of him?" I said, "Well, I like mine best." "Well, why dusta like thine best?" and after a moment's hesitation, I said, "Because mine is a whole dog, and yours is only part (he having been docked)" A real Yorkshire laugh went off, and from that moment that big burly man and I were fast friends up to his death. He was one of the most popular all-round judges that ever lived and to win a prize under George Helliwell was some win. The Fox Terrier he had on the lead was the notable "Rattler," at this time he was the property of Mr. Fletcher, J.P. of Manchester, England, who was murdered in a cab on the streets of that city, and from which a great play, for many years very popular, was written, "The Mystery of a Hansom Cab." The mystery was never solved.

"Rattler" had an unbeaten record for eight years. He was bred by a Mr. Turner of Nottingham, not Mr. Luke Turner of "Belgrave Joe fame," and I believe it was about 1871 Jack Terry, another canine celebrity bought him. He was exhibited at the Free Trade Hall, Manchester, in '73. The Hon. T. B. Fitzwilliam and Mr. S. Hanley judged the Terriers and "Rattler" was placed 1st in the open class. The "Brother's Chance" and "Spring" being 2nd and 3rd behind him. There were many nibblers after him, and later in the day Jack Terry sold him to Mr. James Fletcher, J.P., for the then record price of Forty Guineas, about $210.00. From that day he was only known as "The Dreaded Rattler." To give the prizes won by him in solid silver cups, gold and silver medals, money, and other prizes would occupy a very large space, but from one end of Great Britain to the other he won all before him until about '79 or '80 he was beaten at the Agricultural Hall, Islington. Minrod, lowering his colors under the Hon. T. B. Fitzwilliam, the judge who awarded him his first prize. After this the popular idol fell.

For some time it was said his pedigree was doubtful, but that given in the Kennel Club Stud Book is as follows-"Rattler" (578) by Hulse's "Fox" out of Turner's "Fan." "Fox" by Trummer 2nd" out of "Old Trimmer." "Fan" by "Underwood Spot" out of "Dutch." My memory carries him as clear as if I saw him last week. A dog with fair length of head, short back, well ribbed up, good round bone, splendid hind quarters, and in fact if he was living to-day and was seventeen lbs. instead of twenty-one or twenty-two he could beat the best. His only fault to me in the ring, he was listless. He was a failure at stud, the only winner I ever remember him sireing being "Dairy Maid," a white bitch, 2nd at Birmingham. The crowds of dogs, owners, and judges that are at the moment passing before me, causes me to feel in a maze, for I can imagine the great number who have rounded the corner and are on the straight for the tape. I am one of those, and when I pass the tape and my number goes up, may there be no flag of objection raised, as in the Fox Terrier fancy I have known the best men in all grades of life. In my next article I shall deal with "Belgrave Joe," "Spice," etc.

OFFER AT STUD TO APPROVED MATRONS

THE AIREDALES

CHAMPION CLAYCLIFF COLONEL

FEE, $35.00

A combination of Ch. "York Ryburn Swell" and Ch. "Tintern Tip Top" strains.

This Sire surely produces the goods. Such as First Puppy Dog and First Puppy Bitch at Madison Square Gardens, February, 1922, and Second Puppy Dog and Second Puppy Bitch, at the same show last year, viz., 1921. A prepotent Sire that invariably stamps his own great quality and outline on his puppies from many different types of bitches, and that is the true test of any sire. Not one that gets a few good ones that look like anything in the world but their own sire. Champion "Claycliff Colonel" puts brains and a place to carry their dinner in all his puppies.

CHAMPION CLAYCLIFF TIP TOP

FEE, $25.00

Champion "Claycliff Tip Top" is every inch a Terrier and a gentleman. A full litter brother to above, which is sireing splendid stock.

CLAYCLIFF MAN O' WAR

FEE, $25.00

A good son of Champion "Claycliff Colonel," a beautifully built Airedale, with lots of substance and quality of the best.

CLAYCLIFF BANKER

FEE, $20.00

The Championship bred Stud Dog. Sire, Champion "Silver Birch Banker," Dam, Champion "Claycliff Swell Lady."

CLAYCLIFF BANK CLERK

FEE, $20.00

CHAMPION BYTOWN SPICE'EM

FEE, $25.00

If there is any "best of breeding," how is this? Sire, Ch. "Prides Hill Tweak'em," Dam, the celebrated "Bytown Spicey Lady," now known as "Grosse Point Matchless."

WYCOLLAR BARRISTER (IMP.)

FEE, $20.00

A combination of the celebrated Notts and Wycollar bloods, being a litter brother of the famous English Champion "Wycollar Trail."

CLAYCLIFF CORKER (IMP.)

FEE, $15.00

By "Catch of Notts," who is a full brother to the great "Comedian of Notts."

MERTON HOTSPUR

FEE, $15.00

From the noted Vickery strain, and producing Al stock.

THE FOX TERRIERS, SMOOTH HAIRED

CHAMPION MAXIM PERFECTION (IMP.)

FEE, $20.00

This English Smooth Fox Terrier won his American championships in good competition, and is bred to produce quality stock.

CLAYCLIFF RAZOO

FEE, $15.00

By "Sabine Razor," out of "Tanglewood Nancy," she by the world-famous Champion "Levenside Luke."

TERRIER FANCIERS! Above you will find twelve Stud forces which I have assembled together for the benefit of the breeds which they represent. Each one carries a sensible Stud Fee, their breeding considered, and they are at your disposal all the time. Use them frequently in your own interest, and you will soon leave the ranks of the "also rans" at the dog shows.

STUD DOGS, BROOD BITCHES AND YOUNG STOCK

We usually are in a good position to supply on short notice good young Stud Dogs that are bound to give satisfaction. The Brood Females which we sell are just the same that produce the stock that has carried our own prefix so proudly as far as it has gone internationally. The youngsters we sell provide you with a real chance to land on the top. Puppies we would have sold t $ 0.00 apiece are champions to-day.

OUR GUARANTEE—We undertake to give every client of ours absolute satisfaction for any money spent with us.

"Hefty Monarch's Progeny scored well at Birmingham show last week. Eleanor of Stourton, the young bitch, took six 1sts, and Barnards Green Charity was reserve for the Bitch championship, and both are by Hefty Monarch."

Isn't that remarkable—"Ten months after this noted sire has been in Canada—almost one whole year? I leave you to judge for yourselves.

IMPORTANT—Out-of-town females will be met on their arrival in Toronto by me, and I guarantee fanciers satisfactory attention.

THIS STERLING LITTLE TERRIER CANNOT BE EXCELLED AS A SIRE. READ THIS RECORD.

"Selected" has sired just five litters, last two being only six weeks old. Litter No. 1 produced "By Town Little Lady," Reserve Winners at London, 1921, and since sold to the U.S.A. "By Town Selected," who went so sensationally from Puppy to Winners at Montreal Kennel Association's Spring Show, 1921. "By Town Artist," 1st Puppy, 2nd Limit, Ladies' Kennel Club Show (Montreal) 1921.

THREE SHOW TERRIERS IN ONE LITTER!

Litter No. 2 produced "By Town Bootlegger," who went from Puppy to Winners, to Best Terrier in Show, all breeds, at only seven months old. This young dog, now 10 months old, is pronounced by experts to be one of the best now out.

Litter No. 3 produced "By Town Selected White," a beautiful all white bitch which went from Puppy to Winners Bitches and Reserve for Best Terrier, to her kennel mate, "Bootlegger." Then, coupled with "By Town White Lady," was best brace, all breeds, at Central Canada Exhibition Show (Ottawa) 1921.

Surely this constitutes a record—for a sire to produce three winners from the first three litters sired by him.

TIS DOGS DELIGHT

THERE'S nothing delights a dog so much as Spratt's Dog Foods. Tasty and crisp, they appeal to his palate; they satisfy his appetite; they agree with him thoroughly. And it is only natural.

Spratt's have devoted 60 years to the production and perfection of various dog food specialities. Their name is to-day a household word in the Canine world.

The best diet for big and medium dogs is Spratt's Meat Fibrine Dog Cakes with a change of Rodnim once or twice a week; for small breeds, Spratt's Puppy Biscuits or Ovals with Spratt's Pet Rodnim as an occasional change.

Remember each Biscuit bears the name Spratt's and Trade Mark X; each bag of Rodnim is sealed with metal seal. GIVE YOUR DOG
