As there are proposed amendments to the Constitution and to the Dog Show Rules, a large attendance of the members is particularly requested.

A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB will be held in the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday, January 21st, 1926, commencing at 8 o'clock p.m.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, December 17th, 1925. Directors attending were: Messrs. W. B. Cleland, N. K. Swire, V. G. Perry, M. Gracey and H. Clayton.

The Secretary reported that the Vice-President, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, had been at the office and had gone over the business coming before the meeting, but was obliged to leave, as he was suffering from a slight indisposition. Director W. B. Cleland was voted to the chair.

Before proceeding with the reading of the minutes, the following resolution was regularly moved, seconded and carried:

"That this Board expresses its deep and sincere regret at the untimely death of our President, Mr. Joseph Russell. It realizes that the Canadian Kennel Club has suffered an irreparable loss in the demise of a fine gentleman and true sportsman, who gave freely of his time and his great talent in the furtherance of the best interests of the club, the carrying out of the aims for which it was formed, and the preservation of the ideals which it strives to maintain. In addition to the loss to the club each individual director feels a sense of great personal loss in the departure of a tried and true friend, and the Board, both individually and collectively, offer their sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family."

The Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That the minutes be approved as read."

The following resolution was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That in accordance with the provisions of Section 6, Sub-section 4 of the Constitution, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland be elected President of the Club for the balance of the current Club year."

The Secretary reported that he had been favored with a visit from Director Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, who was now convalescing after his recent illness and who was leaving at once for Esquimalt, B.C., to join his son for the winter, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That the Secretary prepare and on behalf of the Board send a message of congratulation to the General on his splendid recovery."

The Secretary reported that Mr. H. T. Allen had called and had made an explanation regarding the delay in his conveying the papers required by Mr. J. R. Kennedy in connection with the registering of the latter's Doberman Pincher, and it was agreed to leave the matter in the Secretary's hands for the present.

A letter was read from Mr. W. Thomas, Toronto, which took exception to the decision of the Board in the Midmore complaint, and asking permission to appear before the directors and discuss the matter further, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That Mr. Thomas be invited to appear before the Board at its next meeting."

The Secretary reported having sent the MacNaughton protest file which he had found rather conflicting, to the Director of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, and had asked him to look into the matter, and to make a report. This arrangement was endorsed.

The following accounts were presented for payment:—

"WE GET ACTION"

This motto was placed on the stationery of the Police Department of Slick, Oklahoma, by Chief Joe Hagen. Action-getting Joe also breeds dogs in his Ironheart Kennels at Anderson, Mo. He writes: "I have paid in the past all the way from $3.00 to $20.00 to some Veterinarian to kill a dog with the Distemper, and in all my Distemper cases that I have shot with all the dopes that are used by the Veterinaries that doctored my dogs. I lost over ninety per cent. of them. I can say that I never lost a dog that I used Germolysin on for the Distemper. It don't take a Veterinarian to give Germolysin-Jensen. A child can do it!"

Joe's grammar may be faulty, but his common sense is good. He believes in getting action—whether in the Police Department, in his dogs or in his Distemper cures, and he knows that Germolysin gets it.

And it was agreed to endorse the recommendation as presented.

This being the business coming before the meeting, it was moved:—

"That the meeting adjourn."

CHAMPION GOLDSTREAM POLLYANNA.

This sounds like something from Winnipeg, and indeed it has considerable to do with a Cocker from that city, which is now the property of B. A. Smith, of St. John, N.B., a busy business man, who, when he gets a little leisure time, spends it in producing a worth while Cocker Spaniel—or in buying "the makin's." Eastern cocker fanciers will remember Mr. Smith's Ch. Sir Namgis, shown at the Canadian National in by the "old war horse," Andy Armstrong.

But to get back to the baby champion Goldstream Pollyanna, she is a good daughter of Farewell's Contender, out of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murray's splendid bitch, Ch. Lady Betty, and was purchased by Mr. Smith when she was only a few months old, through an advertisement in Kennel and Bench. The price paid was a good one, and the description given by Mr. Murray was far short of the wonderful quality of the puppy which reached the other end of the long journey east in fine form.

She just matured nicely in time for the Eastern circuit, and at the N.B.-K.C. Spring Show she won her first points under Ralph Preston, then at the fall show she won under Alf Delmont, and at Nova Scotia under Pint Breese when she completed her championship at only eleven months to a day, which is quite a record for one so young. There was competition too, for at St. John (Fall Show) 36 were entered and at Halifax 23 were entered.

Cocker breeders must be gratified with the part played at all our Fall Shows by Cocker Spaniels. From the far west to the extreme east, the Cocker is making its presence felt at all our shows. Let's have this state of affairs continue right along.

As We Were Just Saying

IN our October issue, and on page 45 there appeared two letters from members of the Canadian Kennel Club, who were widely separated by distance, but apparently not too widely separated in their interest in the Club—a circumstance that was duly noted when the letters reached our office. To each we will endeavour to make suitable reply.

Mr. Thos. P. Murray compliments the Club on the appointment of the Advisory Committee for his Province (Manitoba; the personnel of the Committee and the necessity for the Committee. Then he questions the scope of their usefulness and in comparison refers to alleged uselessness of all former Advisory Boards of this kind that have existed in past years. Ably he points out their restricted powers to function properly. Caustically he refers to the Club as a nation-wide organization, with a 100 per cent. local Government. Mr. Murray has every right to have his opinions, of course, but here he is too severe, and in some measure, he is obviously in error.

Assuming that the Provincial Committees would again be hampered in their work because of feared limitations, Mr. Murray very properly pictures a very dangerous condition that would be likely to ensue should the Committees be lacking in powers to operate. No doubt Mr. Murray has some reason for questioning the sincerity of the Board of Directors, having in mind past experiences.

If Mr. Murray only requires reassurance of the intention of the present Board of Directors, to create Provincial machinery that will function efficiently, perhaps the following (quoted from the Minutes of the Directors' Meeting held on October 15th last) will at once remove all suspicion and establish immediate trust instead:—

"That, the Provincial Committees already have power to render decisions on all matters referred to them, which do not affect the Constitution or Finances of the Canadian Kennel Club, that either party to the actions to have the right of appeal to the Canadian Kennel Club."

We need hardly say more on this matter at present. Our affairs are moving in the direction of general satisfaction all over the country and only time, effort and patience will perfect our plans.

A second letter appeared, which was sent by Mr. W. J. Archibald (Toronto). Mr. Archibald drew attention to a report (excerpt from Minutes) which had appeared in the April issue of Kennel and Bench, whereby the Board of Directors had voted a membership in the City of Toronto Club, at the expense of the Canadian Kennel Club, etc. Then Mr. Archibald asks that his letter be published in our October issue, and requesting that the writer make it clear to the members just what power the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club had to spend the Club's money themselves, and their authority to bestow upon a paid official of the Club unrestricted power to spend the Club's money.

The power of the Directors, I presume, would be given by Article 9 of our Constitution, and in the first paragraph which reads:—

"The income and property of the Club from whatever source derived, shall be applied solely toward the promotion and furtherance of the objects of the Club and no part thereof shall be paid or transferred directly or indirectly by way of bonus or otherwise as profit or gain to members of the Club, past, present or future, or to any person claiming through any member, provided however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the bona fide payment or remuneration to any secretary, treasurer, registrar, editor, officer, clerk or servant, or other person or persons for services actually rendered the Club whether such are members of the Club or not, and the expenses of the Directors or other officers incurred in doing the business of the Club."

When the Club had a very much underpaid official, that party could always rake sufficient coin together to entertain the friends of the Canadian Kennel Club, or its Official Organ, Kennel and Bench, usually at a Greek or Chinese restaurant, and although the surroundings were not at all dignified, nor was the fare offered any too palatable, yet we spent some pleasant times over the "been" soup that possibly had been "bean" at some former boiling. Still, I was painfully conscious that it was poor advertising for the Canadian Kennel Club or for Kennel and Bench. It was the best I could do for myself, so it had to do for my friends—the Club's friends if you will. Whether any member ever complained to the Directors of this hospitality, I don't know, but I certainly do know, that I never asked for any membership in the City Club. I did, however, appreciate very much, the membership, and I have taken the Club's friends there, and oh, what a difference it made. The advertising pages of the Official Organ shows the difference to a great extent, and the unrestricted power to spend the Club's money by a paid official has not cost the Club a cent to date.

Might I just mention here that our annual meeting will be held at the Carls-Rite Hotel, Toronto, on Friday, February 5th. There will be a lot of business coming before this meeting which will be chiefly centered around the Constitution. In our November issue we printed as many of these amendments as we could find room for, and in this issue they are repeated together with others that came to us within the prescribed ninety days. This early publishing was for the purpose of giving the members every opportunity to study the proposed amendments, and to prepare themselves for intelligent participation in the discussions that are sure to take place when they are being considered.

Why tinker so assiduously with our Constitution? Get it right, and then let it stay right.

It is with deep regret that I advise you of the death of our good friend and President, Mr. Joseph Russell. From the measure of strength at his disposal he gave generously to the Canadian Kennel Club. I am sure our members never realized just how slight was his hold on life, and looking at what has now happened, we can only say that his interest in our association must have been deep rooted indeed, when he insisted on staying with us so long after he must have known that his battle for a continuance of life was a losing one. However, finally he found he could not continue, and like the sportsman that he always was, he himself nominated the man that he felt sure should be his logical successor. This nomination was one of his last acts, and it will be treasured just on account of that fact.

He shall pay all accounts owing by this Club by Cheque, which must be countersigned by the President, but all such accounts must first be submitted to the Board of Directors for inspection and approval before payment is made. He shall transact such other business and perform such other duties as may be directed by the Club and Board of Directors. He shall furnish a bond of indemnity in favor of this Club in an amount satisfactory to the Club and the Board of Directors at the expense of the Club.

"The salary of the Secretary or Secretary-Treasurer shall be determined by the Board of Directors."

PROPERTY ASSETS, INCOME AND EXPENSES.

ARTICLE IX:

Change Article IX. to read as follows:—"The property, assets and income of this Club, from whatsoever source derived, shall be applied solely to the furtherance of the objects of the Club, as herein set forth, and no part of the funds of the Club shall be transferred or paid directly or indirectly to any member or person by way of bonus, remuneration or recompense, providing, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the bona fide payment or remuneration to the Secretary, Treasurer, Registrar, Auditor, Editor, Clerk, Servant, or other person or persons for services duly authorized and actually rendered to the Club; and other expenses such as rent, light, heat, stationery, printing, etc."

AMENDMENTS.

ARTICLE XI:

Change Article XI. to read as follows:—"This Constitution may be revised or amended at any general meeting of the Club (with the exception of a meeting called under Article 7, Section 5) by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present, but no revision, or amendment shall be valid until approved by the Minister of Agriculture for Canada and filed at the Department of Agriculture for Canada. Notice of a proposed revision or of proposed amendments shall be filed with the Secretary of the Club sixty days in advance of a general meeting, and such revision or amendments shall be included in the notice calling such meeting, otherwise the meeting shall have no power to deal with same."

Eliminate the following paragraph appearing under "AMENDMENTS":

"Providing the Secretary is given notice that an entire revision of the Constitution is to be before the meeting, a statement to this effect in the notice calling the meeting will be sufficient."

And further, on the same date, and at the same time and place, I will further move:—"That Article 3, Members, Section 10, which now reads as follows:

"The Board of Directors shall have power to suspend or expel any member who fails to observe any rule or regulation set forth in this Constitution, or whose conduct in relation to the registration or transfer of dogs is in the opinion of the Board prejudicial to the interests of the Club. A member suspended or expelled shall, after the expiration of sixty days, have the right to apply to the Board of Directors for reinstatement and shall be reinstated at the next meeting of the Board provided two-thirds of the members of the Board present thereat vote in the affirmative. If the Board of Directors refuse to reinstate a person suspended or expelled from membership such person shall have the right to apply for reinstatement by the next succeeding general meeting, provided 60 days' notice is given to the Secretary in writing, and further, that 60 days' notice of the intention be given in the official organ, but reinstatement by a general meeting shall be only by a vote of two-thirds of the members present thereat and voting."

And further, that on the same date, and at the same time and place, I will further move:—"That Article 17—Rules of Entry, Sub-Section E, which now reads:—"A dog born in the United Kingdom or the Irish Free State or Northern Ireland registered in the English Kennel Club Stud Book."

Dear Sir:—

Pursuant to the requirements of the Constitution of the Canadian Kennel Club, Article XI. (AMENDMENTS), I herewith give notice that at the next Annual Meeting of the Club I shall move (in enforced absence) the following motion, under:

ARTICLE XVII—RULES OF ENTRY.

That a new Rule, to be known as Rule 14, be added to read:

"That it be compulsory for the owner of a registered dog to report within 30 days to the Live Stock Records Office, the death of any dog registered in his or her name, under the same penalties which obtain under the other rules of the Article for Members, and barring all further registrations or transfers for non-members."

Mr. J. D. Strachan, Secretary,

Canadian Kennel Club,

25 Melinda Street, Toronto.

Dear Sir:—

Pursuant to the requirements of Rule 31, Dog Show Rules (AMENDMENTS) I hereby give notice that at the next Annual Meeting of the Club I shall move (in enforced absence) the following motion, under Rule 17—Classes:

"That the present system of awarding championship points at shows in Canada be cancelled, and the American Kennel Club system of awarding points "according to the number of dogs of each breed benched" be adopted, and such scale of points fixed by the Board of Directors according to Provinces on the earliest possible occasion".

(In my absence, I will be obliged if you, Mr. Secretary, will move accordingly, and in support of the above I would say that "such an arrangement would eliminate the cheap championships, some of which have been gained here in the West by dogs winning at 3 shows, without ever meeting a single specimen of the same breed, and thereafter being sold as Canadian champions, and possibly casting a slur on the fair name of Canadian Dogdom.")

ALEC McCLOY.

November 16th, 1925.

Mr. J. D. Strachan,

Secretary-Treasurer,

Canadian Kennel Club,

Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,—In pursuance of Dog Show Rule 31—Amendments—I will move at the next Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, That Dog Show Rule 30 be amended to take Doberman Pinchers out of the Sporting Section of the list of recognized breeds and placed under Dalmatians in the non-sporting section. And further, That the breed now appearing as Shepherd Dogs (Alsatian) be changed to the pre-war name of German Shepherd. And further, That the breed now appearing as Shepherd Dogs (Belgian) (Gronendael) (Malinois) be changed to the proper name, Belgian Shepherd, (Gronendael) (Malinois).

Yours sincerely,

N. K. SWIRE.

TOY DOGS AT HAMILTON.

By the Judge, Mrs. Foster, Toronto.

The Hamilton Kennel Club held their first show at the Hamilton Armouries, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25th and 26th, 1925.

I had the honour of being invited to judge all Toys, and before giving my report must first compliment the committee on the handling of the show. The spacious accommodation, the new benching, the heating, and general arrangements for the comfort and convenience of the dogs, exhibitors and visitors left nothing to be desired. The cheerful assistance of the indefatigable Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Geo. R. Day, and his co-workers, helped in no small measure to make my task a pleasant one.

There was a very good entry of Toys and the general class of the exhibits was of an excellent standard.

Pomeranians.—Puppy Dogs—First to Mrs. J. W. Bruce's "Melbourne Blackbat," a good-coated black. Second to Mr. J. Chadwick's "Mickey," on the big side, and refused to be handled. Canadian bred—First, Mrs. Bruce's "Melbourne Starbright," a classy chocolate, very small, good color and real good type, which went through to winners, dogs. 2nd—Mr. J. T. Waggitt's "Arndale Guinea-Gold," a lovely orange. 3rd—Mr. J. Greenwood's "Glenrose Flashaway," good type but wants more coat. Novice dogs—1st, Mr. T. Sims' "Sparky," a nice dog; 2nd, "Wee Pilot." Limit, dogs—All previously mentioned. Open, dogs, black—Mr. R. H. Sims' "Victor," alone, small, good colour and type. Open, dogs, brown or chocolate—1st, "Melbourne Starbright"; 2nd, "Authority's Double." These two are very much alike, but the latter is not so good in colour, and a shade larger. Open, dogs, under eight pounds, any colour—1st to Mrs. J. W. Bruce's "Tweedledum of Vertikop," a good orange-shaded sable in grand coat and condition. 2nd to Mr. Waggitt's "Arndale Guinea-Gold," a lovely orange. Open, dogs, white—1st, Mrs. E. Vallon's "Danforth Dodger," a pure white, grand coat. 2nd to same lady's "White Star Lad," a puppy coming along splendidly. 3rd, Mrs. Cooke's "Dandy Jack," a good white, but a shade heavier than the other.

Puppy Bitches.—1st to Messrs. Wickham and McNaughton's "Shaftesbury Sensation," a lovely puppy and one that can show, orange-shaded coat of the right texture, but wants to clear. 2nd, Mr. H. Pickering's "Black Beauty," a real nice Pom, good sound colour. 3rd, Mr. J. Greenwood's "Melbourne Myrtle," an orange with black mask, nice type, will do better later. The first in this class, went through to winners. Canadian bred, bitches—1st, already mentioned; 2nd, Mrs. J. W. Bruce's "Melbourne Gold-down," a lovely small orange female and a born shower, just needs more coat; 3rd to Mr. J. T. Waggitt's "Arndale Golden Locks," a lovely coloured orange, but short of coat to-day. Novice, bitches—1st and 2nd previously mentioned; 3rd to M. M. Brierley's "Black Lady III," a good solid black female, a bit ring shy, but good type and well coated. Limit, bitches—Already mentioned. Open, bitches, black—1st to Mr. G. Puncheon's "Black Dottie," a very good coated black, a shade bronzy to-day. 2nd already mentioned. 3rd, Mr. J. Greenwood's "Pride of Glenrose," another good black. Open, bitches, any color or weight—1st and 3rd already mentioned; 2nd, Mr. G. Puncheon's "Black Lady," a good black, plenty of coat, lots of quality. Open, bitches, white—1st, Mrs. E. Vallon's "White Star Lady," a grand young female, pure white coat and good quality. 2nd, Mr. A. James' female, a close runner-up.

In the buttery grass and flowers beneath their feet, the single word, "Chums," explained the whole situation. got from the offices of L. A. Gibson, Manitoba Dairy Commissioner.

Pekingese.—First in puppy dog went to Mrs. M. Dood's "Mei Wei Sing Toy," a lovely red sieve, a born shower. 2nd to Mrs. E. A. Whitehouse's "Ah Kim," a grand headed puppy, short of coat to-day, will do well later; 3rd, R. O'Brien's "Chuty of Chia Chu," good head and face, rather high on the leg, short of coat. Pearson's "Pung Chow," a good fawn brindle, black mask, good bone, just needs more coat. Limit, dogs—1st and winners to Mrs. P. Herd's "Roddy of Hartlebury," a big red dog full of type, plenty of bone and coat. 3rd, Mr. Geo. Eastham's "Portelet Yu Toi," extremely nervous in the ring and would not show. Puppy females—1st to Mrs. Dyson's "Chuty of Chai Chu," a very nice red puppy, good skull, ears and eyes, good bone, short of coat to-day. 2nd, Mrs. P. Herd's "Kelvinside Yenti," a fawn, with Jense black mask, good bone and coat for her age. Canadian bred—1st and winners to Mrs. M. Melville's "Lady Bell of Tokio," a good female, short face, flat skull, good ears and eyes, plenty of bone, and good coat, but rather dark in colouring. 2nd, Mrs. E. A. Whitehouse's "Lady To Wah," a good flat faced female, good bone, short of coat, did not show as well as the winner. Open, under ten pounds—Mrs. G. Eastham's "Chan Wei Hai" was alone in her class. She is a red and white parti-colour of good type.

WESTERN COLLIE CLUB SPECIALTY SHOW

THE Western Collie Club, of Winnipeg, Canada, held a one-day Specialty Show in Plebs Hall, Winnipeg, on Saturday, December 5, where 54 Collies were benched.

The show was held in this centrally located spacious hall and was splendidly handled without a single "hitch" by those in charge, and I found the members and exhibitors a keen bunch of Collie fanciers, with a heart and soul interest in the breed.

The dogs were as grand a display as one could wish to see, not a "mutt" in the lot and all of the best up-to-date breeding, in wonderful condition as a whole for this time of the year. The three most outstanding specimens of the show were:

J. Stokes' "Lord Clyde," a grand, sound, beautiful sable who went to Winners, which completed his championship. His greatest fault was his eyes, which were a bit too full. He showed beautifully and moved to perfection, being most ably handled by the renowned George Kynoch, of Winnipeg. Just leave it to George—one of the most capable and expert handlers in the ring to-day—who makes a specialty of Bull Dogs and Airedales, and who has brought these breeds to the front.

Joe Guarnera showed a grand specimen in a tri-color dog, called "Imera Man-o-War," who headed all tri classes from Puppy to Open and to whom I awarded Reserve Winners Dogs. I must honestly say if he had had meat on his bones I would have placed him Winners Dogs, but his poor condition lost him that honor, coupled with weakness behind—a dog that is a comer.

The Queen and Best in Show was one of the grandest quality Collies I have seen in many a day,—Ch. Scotia Stylish. After winning the Veterans' Class, Dogs and Bitches, she came in the ring for Best in Show and easily won the beautiful cup offered for the best of all, and at her age she was a wonder to me to keep such wonderful quality and condition. She was ably handled by her owner, Hugh Leslie, of Winnipeg.

Dr. Moyer, of Rosetown, Sask., who brought a lovely string of wonderful Collies to the show, coming over 600 miles with them, took home with him twelve specials, winners bitches, and won brace, trio and team classes in close competition—a fancier I sure was proud to meet and a real enthusiastic Collie fan.

I found a great deal of cow-backed dogs, receding skulls and out-at-the-shoulder Collies, and quite a few with Roman noses. "Sergeant Lad," now 13 years old, was shown in the Veterans' Class, put down in wonderful condition for an old stager and I cannot see why that dog missed being a champion. He must have been a good one in his younger days!

"Sterling John," another veteran, away off in ears and wrong behind, but with a coat that was simply wonderful to look at and the like of which we don't see often in a lifetime. Owned by the Abbotsford Kennels, who also showed "Abbotsford Stylish," a tri bitch puppy, a grand headed one, but a bit poor in flesh, who went first from Puppy to Tri Open and Reserve Winners.

In all there was a display of Collies worth going miles to see and the best bunch of real fanciers that "Yours truly" has met in a long time. Continued success to them!

PAGE MIKE BATES

"When I started out next morning, I left my hounds in camp, because I knew that I did not have nearly enough of them to hold up a grizzly that would really fight. I was not keeping fighting dogs at the time—the tiny, active fox-terriers that are the preference of most bear-hunters to worry the brute until the hunter arrives. Hounds are not active enough for fighting purposes. The much-vaunted Airedale I regard as the most useless dog that can follow a hunter into the field—no nose, no staying qualities, no voice, and seldom willing to go back after being once badly scared by a bear. And the Airedale is, like many men, thought to be intelligent because of his brisk, lively look, while as a matter of fact I have found him to be the most stupid creature I have ever dealt with."

WHAT OUR CLUBS ARE DOING

OUT Edmonton way they don't allow any let-up in their club activities during the year. In the winter, whist drives and dances keep the club circulation active, and as the balance sheet so clearly shows—the club coffers healthy.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club held its annual meeting at Memorial Hall on December 6th and to start off right for 1926 the first business after the receiving of the usual reports, the club by acclamation, elected for the twelfth consecutive year, Mr. Henry Nash as president. Mr. A. E. Figg, the wonder-worker for the club, was elected 1st vice-president; Mr. W. Nobbs, 2nd vice-president. The secretary-treasurer is Mr. J. A. Renton, 9624 95th Ave., Edmonton, Alta., and no one need hesitate writing this club secretary if a courteous attention to their correspondence is all that is expected. They will be sure to receive his closest attention. The executive, Messrs. J. Tanton (chairman), R. W. Cupdall, J. Caswell, J. Symes and J. E. Marshall.

When we referred to Mr. A. E. Figg as being a "wonder-worker," we had in mind the secretary's information "that Mr. Figg had sold 200 tickets at 50c each for one of the social activities of the club—himself." We happen to have experience in selling tickets and have been congratulated often enough for our talent in that respect, but 200 takes the crown, and so we ungrudgingly hand it over to the Edmonton seller with our congratulations.

During 1925 a summer dog show was held which was granted 3 championship points on the returns made to headquarters. This was a 2-point gain over the shows of 1924 and has given the club much encouragement for the year that now lies immediately ahead. Another activity that can be recommended was the provision made for prizes and judges for a dog show held in connection with the Edmonton Y.M.C.A. Boys' Fair, when 140 dogs were benched by the boys of Edmonton. Parlor events have been held and a show for terriers is now ready for the stage.

Collective advertising is still another slant on the club's work and many sales have been made in this way and matings have been arranged for and are still being attended to, the co-operative plan having justified itself with the club.

Mr. Joe Dodds, of Vancouver, was a recent visitor at one of the club's meetings and gave an interesting talk on Terriers generally and Fox Terriers particularly, earning for himself the thanks of the club. Mr. Dodds was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Renton whilst he was in Edmonton, and we are advised that the travelling "Tyne-sider" visited, among other towns, Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Redcliffe and Red Deer, and from Edmonton he was going on to Camrose and Calgary, and then home. We don't know why he should travel so far and so conscientiously (Doggy) and then hurry home like that. A few days more and he would have been in Toronto and he knows—or ought to know—that the gate is always on the latch here for any Western fancier. Make a note of that for future reference, Joe.

THE PEKIN PALACE DOG ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

The above association held its annual meeting at the home of the club's president, Dr. C. C. Clemmer, Toronto. The doctor presided and there was a good attendance of the members present. The treasurer's report showed the club free from encumbrance and in a healthy condition financially. The election of officers was an easy matter, as the officers already holding the governmental reins for the club were re-elected by acclamation. The club secretary is Mr. Geo. H. Eastham, 210 Westlake Ave., Toronto.

The membership is 50, with new members being admitted regularly. A point show to be held at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, March 6th, 1926, is expected to do much to further popularize the association and the breed that it caters to. Mr. A. Roberts, late of Winnipeg, Man., has been appointed show superintendent for the show, and as he has had 25 years' experience in similar work in the Motherland, the success of the fixture in the managerial department is already assured.

The Pekin Palace Dog Association has had a good year and the prospects for future activities are most favorable.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB IS ALREADY BUSY.

This reliable old club, with its Spring Show in the near distance, is busy on its "ways and means" activities, the object of which of course is to raise funds to stiffen the backbone of its prize list in connection with its forthcoming Good Friday all-breed show. With this in view an all-breed matinee show will be held at the Labor Temple, Toronto, on January 16th, when the breeds will be allocated into two sections, one part of which will meet in competition under competent judges in the afternoon, the other section to be judged in the evening. The special prize list offered by Toronto Kennel Club at these shows, is well known amongst Toronto fanciers, and success is never in any doubt.

This matinee event is sponsored by the lady members of the club, and they will have full charge of the show, accepting all the responsibilities in connection with it. Mrs. J. W. Bruce, of Melbourne fame, is the chairman of the committee of the whole, and

HAMILTON AND WENTWORTH KENNEL CLUB ACTIVE.

The annual meeting of the Hamilton and Wentworth Kennel Club was held recently in the I.O.F. Hall at Hamilton. The customary reports were presented which were considered eminently satisfactory to the members, and a programme for the 1925-26 season was reviewed and approved of. A lively season will be entered into which will keep the club officers and members always active.

The officers for next year are as follows: President, S. R. Gammon; Vice-President, A. A. Wylie; Secretary-Treasurer, R. Colvin (no address given); Executive, Mrs. H. Reid, Mrs. S. R. Gammon, Mrs. M. O'Rourke and Mrs. Aitcheson, and Messrs. D. A. McMillan, J. D. Liles and H. Boake. Other committees were named for special activities, which are at present maturing.

TOY DOG CLUB OF MONTREAL HOLDS CHRISTMAS SHOW.

On Dec. 19th the Toy Dog Club of Montreal held open house for dogs and their owners when quite a number of both took advantage of the hospitality offered and came together in friendly rivalry. After the judging was over, the two bests, or at least the very best and the next best perhaps, to put it correctly, were found. Very Best, Mr. Wm. Aitkens' recent importation, Dainfield Danny, a Wire Haired Fox Terrier, and a good one. The next best was Mr. J. Morrison's Whippet, Miss McGregor, ably handled by Mr. "Witty" Warren. The owner of Miss McGregor is doing a great work in creating a live enthusiasm in Whippeting centres in Montréal, and keeps bringing out good fast specimens to meet that enthusiasm.

BOSTONS AT TORONTO SPECIALTY SHOW.

(Reviewed Specially for Kennel and Bench by Judge W. F. Kubach).

The seventh annual Specialty Show of the Boston Terrier Club, of Toronto, was held November 9th and 10th in the ball room of the Prince George Hotel.

The bewitching array of decorations with the numerable and remarkable benching of 117 dogs, and the general attractive surroundings, gave a very elevating tone to the show in general. I appreciated being judge at such an event in Canada.

After the hustling committee of Mr. A. Craddock, the chairman and his able assistants, Messrs. G. Flood, T. Pezzack, L. Anderson, J. Fraser, A. Smart, C. Cathcart and A. E. Weller, from an early morning start, they turned over the ring to start judging at 2 P.M. and Messrs. V. Mathews and W. Evans, ring stewards, set out at once to call the classes for the judge.

Class No. 1—(Puppy Dogs 6 and Under 12 Months).

There was an entry of six with a very outstanding puppy in It's-A-Wood-Direct. Ideal color and marking, with gesture and pose of a school master, gait and carriage of a statesman. Easily he took 1st; Beau Brumell, full of health and size, 2nd;

Dorothy Dearden's Chummie, 3rd; Mrs. Rita Horner's Toc H of Toronto, 4th, strong on each end.

Class No. 2—(Canadian-Bred Dogs Under 15 Pounds).

First was Miss Florence B. Massacar's Mighty Atom, quite a nice balanced little dog, hard to fault in this class; a good shower. Second, Mrs. E. Daly's Laughing Cavalier, a pleasing head, lost out on body and gate. Mrs. F. Tomkins' Government Control, third. Dr. Hilliker's Byng Boy III, reserve.

Class No. 3—Novice Dogs Under 15 Pounds).

Yes, novice all over, not one making the best of himself, putting Mrs. Richard's Wee-Man, 1st; Dr. Hilliker's Byng Boy III, 2nd, with Count's Little Chum, 3rd. Reserve withheld.

Class No. 4—(Limit Under 15 Pounds).

Brought back the sensational puppy, It's-A-Wood-Direct, 1st; Miss Florence Massacar's Mighty Atom, 2nd. and Mrs. Daly's Laughing Cavalier, 3rd; Mrs. F. Tomkin's Government Control, 4th, making a real, smart class of classy little dogs.

Class No. 5—(Open Under 15 Pounds).

This is another class of Grade A's and the best to be had with It's-A-Wood-Direct on top; Mrs. Daly's Ch.

Jab's King Tut, 2nd; Mrs. Graves' Bar Gold, 3rd, and H. M. Jackson's Mike Murphy of Hanford, 4th.

Class No. 6—(Canadian-Bred 15 Pounds and Under 20).

This brought out the top notchers in the middle weights. 1st, G. A. Beaumont's Rialto Peach, with Highball Just It, 2nd, losing to the former in body and conduct. 3rd, T. E. Millburn Hillcrest's His Knibs. 4th, Dorothy Dearden's Chummie, a puppy entrant.

Class No. 7—(Novice Dogs 15 Pounds and Under 20).

1st, M. Samarelli's Morelto, lacking marking and faulty muzzle, otherwise trappy and full of quality. 2nd, Lyman Wilson's Babe's Pal, somewhat coarse. 3rd, Mrs. Charlotte Spence's Dream Maker Boy. 4th, Dorothy E. Dearden's Chummie.

Class No. 8—(Limit Dogs 15 Pounds and Under 20).

1st, Earl Brown's Highball Just It; 2nd, T. E. Millburn Hillcrest's His Knibs; 3rd, Mrs. Charlotte Spence's Dream Maker Boy. Reserve withheld.

Class No. 9—(Open Dogs 15 and 20 Pounds).

A repeat of the former class with Mr. G. Beaumont's Rialto Peach added to 1st; E. A. Brown's Just It, 2nd, and 3rd to T. E. Millburn Hillcrest's His Knibs. Reserve withheld.

1st, J. H. Francis' Babe G., rich color and good marking and sound mover, faulty otherwise; 2nd to Charles Keleher's The Sultan; 3rd, Mrs. M. Firman's Buddy Raffles.

Class No. 11—(Novice 20 Pounds and Under 25).

1st to H. Brunell's Beau Brumell; 2nd to H. Burrough's Lord Monroe; 3rd to Mrs. M. Firman's Buddy Raffles.

Class No. 12—(Limit Dogs 20 Pounds and Under 25).

1st, H. Brunell's Beau Brumell; 2nd, Charles Keleher's The Sultan; 3rd, H. M. Jackson's Full of Pep.

Class No. 13—(Open Dogs 20 Pounds and Under 25).

1st, J. H. Francis' Babe G.; 2nd, Charles Keleher's The Sultan, losing to the former on general appearance; 3rd, H. M. Jackson's Full of Pep.

The winner's class brought together the puppy, It's-A-Wood-Direct who beat all the light weights, and Rialto Peach who beat all the middle weights. Beau Brumell and Babe G. in heavy weights were eliminated from the running. The puppy, It's-A-Wood-Direct easily beat Realto Peach for winner, type, general appearance, and conduct, adding the second in light weight classes for Reserve. Ch. Jab's King Tut I like better from a dog standpoint, full of pep and general appearance. A sound little dog with a high degree of intelligence.

Class No. 14—(Bitches 6 and Under 12 Months).

This class brought together a mixed lot of pups which we carefully sorted out and placed Mrs. E. J. Grave's Conde Nifty Lou, 1st, well-balanced with perfect marking; 2nd, E. A. Runion's Blink Betty, a real useful bitch, wonderful conformation, losing to the former in underjaw and marking; 3rd, L. L. Broley's Opal's Rosemarie, losing to the former in station and length of body; 4th, Mrs. R. Clement's Gipsy Girl, a nice little bitch, unmaturing.

Class No. 15—(Canadian-Bred Bitches Under 15 Pounds).

1st, Opal's Rosemarie; 2nd, Albert Smart's Peggy Dees; 3rd, Miss Florence B. Massacar's Kitty Hawk; 4th, Mrs. V. M. Mathewson's Wonder Little Dream. This last named could surprise you if he had six months of good schooling.

Class No. 16—(Novice Bitches Under 15 Pounds).

This class brought out what produced the Reserve winner bitch. 1st, D. W. Wassup's Curiosity, a shower for your life and a hard one to beat from her eyes back, minus a slight blemish on one foot, moved perfect, full of quality and wonderfully balanced;

2nd, Mrs. R. Clement's Gipsy Girl, a puppy to be heard from in the near future; 3rd, Roselawn Kennel's Roselawn Georgette, with Sunnyside Some Babe, 4th, lacking marking.

Class No. 17—(Limit Bitches Under 15 Pounds).

1st, D. W. P. Wassup's Miss Curiosity; 2nd, L. L. Broley's O'Pal Rosemarie; 3rd, Albert W. Smart's Peggy Dees; 4th, George Flood's Miss Lady Intruder.

Class No. 18—(Open Bitches Under 15 Pounds).

1st, Mr. E. D. Daly's Ch. Braida Woods II, barring a few slight faults is a very handsome bitch, ideal color, marking and size, does not make the best of herself; 2nd, L. L. Broley's O'Pal Rosemarie; 3rd, Albert Smart's Peggy Dees; 4th, Mrs. Mason's Gipsy Babe.

Class No. 19—(Canadian-Bred 15 and Under 20 Pounds).

1st, E. A. Runion's Blink Betty; 2nd, W. G. Lewis' Our Peggy L., losing to the former in body and station; 3rd, Dr. D. Treadgold's Armour King Bench, did not make the best of herself, otherwise a good type; 4th, G. A. Beaumont's Edward's Beauty. This might have been the case of being too severe in penalizing for blemishes, but I consider it a serious one from a breeding standpoint.

Class No. 20—Novice Bitches 15 and Under 20 Pounds).

1st, G. A. Beaumont's Edward's Beauty, one I penalized so heavily in the previous class; 2nd, Geo. Flood's Flood's Queen of Hearts, nothing outstanding to comment on; 3rd, Mrs. J. M. Gow's Little Comet; 4th, Mrs. E. Thompson's Highland Peggy, wrongfully named.

Class No. 21—(Limit Bitches 15 and Under 20 Pounds).

This brought together an even balanced class full of quality, somewhat masculine in type. 1st, Jos. J. Feist's Feist's Speedy Girl, a well-balanced bitch with admirable culture; 2nd, E. A. Runion's Blink Betty, losing to the former in front of eyes; 3rd, Edward's Beauty, too doggy; 4th, R. B. Pincombe's Nation Dream Baby. Her two outstanding features were size and color and marking.

Class No. 22—(Open Bitches 15 and Under 20 Pounds).

Added Mrs. E. J. Graves' Rachel III feminine all over in attitude and expression, could have made more of herself; 2nd, Jos. J. Feist's Speedy Girl; 3rd, E. A. Runion's Blink Betty; 4th, G. A. Beaumont's Edward's Beauty.

Class No. 23—(Canadian-Bred 20 and Under 25 Pounds).

1st, R. B. Pincombe's Lady Sparkle, a well-balanced heavyweight and good mover; 2nd, Kingbencher Kennel's Lady Kingbencher, good quality bitch, a little more markings would help her; 3rd, H. A. Chambers' Raffle's Soubrette. This bitch has still the lovely feet and beautiful head I admired so persistently a few years back, has got coarse in neck and shoulders; 4th, Mrs. E. Thompson's Thompson's Mickey.

Class No. 24—(Novice Bitches 20 and Under 25 Pounds).

1st, Mrs. M. Firman's Lady Montjoy; 2nd, Mrs. E. Thompson's Thompson's Mickey. No question to their weights, otherwise no comments.

Class No. 25—(Limit 20 and Under 25 Pounds).

1st, R. B. Pincombe's Lady Sparkles; 2nd, Roselawn Kennel's Long Kewpie; 3rd, H. A. Chambers' Raffle's Soubrette; 4th, Thompson's Mickey.

Class No. 26—(Open Bitches 20 and Under 25 Pounds).

1st, Lady Sparkles; 2nd, Lady Kingbencher; 3rd, Raffle's Soubrette; 4th, Arthur Craddock's Fleur de Lis. On the last named, all I can say is a good head gone to waste.

Winners Class.

This brought in 1st puppy bitch, Mr. E. J. Grave's Conde Nifty Lou; 1st lightweight novice, D. W. Wassuop's Miss Curiosity; 1st open lightweight, Mrs. E. D. Daly's Brenda Woods III; 1st open heavyweight, R. B. Pincombe's Lady Sparkle. Easily the outstanding bitch was Brenda Woods III. To describe her is too sweet for words, nice size, beautiful balance, beautiful color and marking, wonderful eyes and expression. Her only glaring fault is bashfulness. Reserve was D. W. P. Wassuop's Miss Curiosity, faulty in front of eyes and handicapped with a blemish, but a sound mover with grace and style of a prima donna, well-balanced and the dignity that goes with culture.

JOE HILL, TORONTO, TIES FOR SECOND PLACE.

Joe Hill, Cocker breeder, judge and general dog enthusiast, as such is generally well known to the fancy at large, but few know that the same old Joe is one of Canada's best shots with the sporting rifle. So when we noticed in the sporting pages of the Mail and Empire the other morning that our old friend Joe had been trap shooting at Hensall, Ont., we made a note of it for future reference, and hence this tirade.

It was the annual trap shooting event, and Mr. Jas. Vance (Tillsonburg, Ont.) was high gun, whilst Mr. Sam Vance (Tillsonburg, Ont.—who, it will be remembered, was the individual winner at the world Olympia shoot last year) and Joe Hill, Toronto, were tied for second place. Following are the scores:

First event, 10 birds—Fred Kerr, Crediton, 9; P. Passmore, Hensall, 6; Jas. Vance, Tillsonburg, 9; Bell, Hensall, 7; Geo. Dunk, Toronto, 6; Webb, Hensall, 5; J. Hill, Toronto, 9; Mortell, London, 7; Dr. Barnhart, London, 9; Quick, 8; Saunders, Exeter, 2; S. Vance, Tillsonburg, 8; H. Payne, Tillsonburg, 7; Dougall, 9; B. Venner, 7; Dolymp, 7; J. E. Cautelon, 8.

Second event, 15 birds, for silver cup—Tie between Vance Brothers; J. Vance won on flip of coin. Scores: Fred Kerr, 10; J. Vance, 13; S. Vance, 13; Geo. Dunk, 10; S. Webb, 11; Joe Hill, 12; Martell, 9; Dr. Barnhart, 9; Quick, 9; H. Payne, 8; J. Nibener, 11; Dougall, 9; B. Venner, 11; P. Passmore, 10; Saunders, 10; Bell, 11; J. E. Cautelon, 11.

From this we conclude that amongst the gentlemen competing are reckoned the best shots that are to be found in this country, and when Joe Hill comes home with the bacon with 9 out of 10 in the first event, when nobody got their 10, and with 12 out of 15 in the second event, when the high gun accounted for 13 only, then "our Joe" must naturally be as good as the best, and we don't wish for any bad luck for James Vance particularly, but we are betting on Joe at the next meet.

"SHOOTIN' SQUARE."

In your dealings with your fellow man it is always well to remember that there is some good in everybody; that there are two sides to every question, and before forming a decided opinion it is wise and only fair to hear both pro and con.

PROGRESSIVE ALBERTA

(By Leonard H. Cooper, Calgary)

THE leading club of Alberta is the Alberta Kennel Club, who has held shows since 1905, and throughout this period has promoted the breeding of pedigreed dogs and tried to educate the people of Alberta to keep pure-bred stock instead of the mongrel cur.

Like all clubs, lean years have been experienced, 1917 in particular being a very trying one, and 1918 saw us back again in the Canadian Kennel Club fold.

Recently there has been happenings at two shows which threatened to disrupt the club entirely. Happily this trouble seems to have passed away and from all appearances there is a brighter outlook. Western fanciers are under the impression that the Eastern men regard the Western dogs as inferior to the Eastern ones. Dr. Sleeth certainly proved the contrary, and our Western stock can hold their own. The distance between Alberta and Toronto is the only obstacle to more Western dogs going East.

The latest development is the Field Trial Club and the first trials held this autumn were a huge success. We boast we have some of the finest Irish Water Spaniels on this continent right here in Alberta. Our Pointers and Setters if not of the highest bench type, can work in the field. I would rather see Pointers and Setters good workers and recognize the smell of a game bird than be an ornament to the show bench with no knowledge of what nature intended them to do.

I intend to give a few notes of the leading breeders and fanciers of Alberta. If I miss any I trust I shall be forgiven as I requested notes from various kennels, but some people imagine the editor of Kennel and Bench can wait for months for this article, but I know he cannot do so.

When one speaks of kennel matters in Calgary, the first name that comes to mind is that of John C. Fletcher, who has brought fame to Alberta by his work in the judging ring. He has judged as far west as Honolulu, where 600 real specimens were entered. Movieland considered it a favor to have him judge their show and the American fanciers hold the highest opinions of John C.'s ability. We can truly dub him an international judge and why the Eastern shows do not engage him we in the West cannot understand. Among Gun Dogs, Mr. J. Rudolph, with his Irish Water Spaniels, has brought this breed into prominence.

One of his breeding, Ch. Barney McShane, now owned by Mr. Ed. Jeffries, of Calgary, was shown at Toronto in 1924 and won all his classes.

The president of the Alberta Kennel Club is a Setter fancier, whilst the genial secretary, Mr. J. M. Miller, is a Pointer enthusiast, of the working type. Mr. Patrick is breeding Setters and Pointers on a fairly large scale and they are all workers.

Chesapeakes are still enjoying a measure of popularity and quality is improving, the standard of the Chesapeake Club being the standard of judging. Mr. F. E. Richmond, the resident club director, has assisted in this respect. Cocker Spaniels are still very popular and are always strong classes at our shows.

The Calma Kennels, of Calgary (Mr. George Climo owner), have had a wonderful run of successes. In three years, 1923-25, these kennels annexed six times Best of Breed, 58 firsts, 13 seconds and 3 thirds, and specials too numerous to mention. These winnings were made by seven dogs at such shows as Canadian National Exhibition, Newark, N.J., New Haven, Conn., Vancouver and Calgary, and under judges of highest ability, such as Walter Reeves, Esq., J. C. Fletcher, Esq., Townsend Scudder, Esq., and George Cranfield, Esq. Ch. Matlock Durbar heads the kennels, the other occupants are mainly bred from him. The females are of a very high class and are eminently suited to him, amongst which are Calma's Lady Mary, Calma Babe, Calma Brownie, Calma Red Ruth. Calma's Durbar and Calma's Field Marshal are two puppies that will, I feel sure, keep up the winning record.

The Cocker Kennels of Mr. H. P. Saunders are also strong in quality stock and Mr. Saunders has shown at every show that the Alberta Kennel Club has held. His respected father was the Alberta director of the Canadian Kennel Club for many years. Between Mr. Climo and Mr. Saunders there is rivalry in the ring, but withal they remain the best of friends. If the same could be said of other fanciers what a pleasure dog shows would be.

Mr. Saunders has recently exported two Cockers to Milwaukee, where at a recent show both won well, one going to Best of Breed.

Bull Terriers are coming back, mainly owing to the efforts of Mr. E. E. Ellis. He is breeding English and American. His English Bull Terrier, Ch. Brockley Topper's Son, won best Bull Terrier at Winnipeg, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Calgary.

His American Bull Terriers are getting to the type that F. W. Wilds made popular here 10 years ago. 30 American Bull Terriers benched was a common sight those days. Mack's Black Bess is the pride of kennels and is unbeaten. This bitch has a superb outline and her puppies are showing the same body properties.

Mr. Ellis has brought a new stud dog from the States and the combination of Black Bess and this dog should produce good stock.

Mr. W. H. Morgan still holds the trump hand in Bostons. His Ch. Colleen is still looking as well as ever and a female hard to fault.

Mr. C. B. Payne is beginning to breed Bostons on a good scale, but I fancy that he will return to his old love of the Whippet and English Bulldog. Of the latter breed he has just purchased Ch. Mersey Sally.

As elsewhere on the continent, Alsations are becoming popular. Mr. Mel. Dover has Ch. Leo von Stinshall, a well-trained dog, besides many good females.

Mr. Cain, of Brooks, has bred quietly for years and just recently exhibited a puppy, "Shah," that is a real good one. Mr. Norman Orr owns a champion bitch, so we have the basis of real Alsations.

Around Drumheller good individuals are owned. Wire and Smooth Fox Terriers are championed by Miss Carr and Miss Daintrey, whilst Mr. Lydiatt, of Redcliff, won Best in Show All Breeds with a wire female under J. C. Fletcher.

Airedales are not the class they were when Ch. Clipstone First Shot was winning.

Russian Wolfhounds are decreasing in number, but Mr. Tyrrell, of Bottrel, is still breeding and all his dogs are trained on coyotes.

Mr. H. Scott is still showing good Collies although the best of luck has not been his lot.

Sandy 27th is a real Collie type and has produced good puppies.

Since Mr. Robert Thomson gave up breeding Poms, the breed has lost ground, but there are still good Poms in the province owned by fanciers that will not exhibit.

Dr. Victor W. Wright made his two English Setter females champions, and moreover they are just as good in the field as they are on the show bench.

English Bulldogs are regaining their popularity and I can foresee the time when Alberta Bulldogs will again lead Canada. Looking back to the time when the Chinook Kennels were supreme in Canada, one remembers that grand female, Ch. Chinook Tenacity, possibly one of the best Bull bitches that Canada has ever seen. Of the other dogs exhibited by the Chinook Kennels one recalls Ch. Courtney Coronet, Ch. Chinook Silent Knight and Master Penfold. Mr. and Mrs. Tuson are breeding Bulldogs again and in Chinook Pal O'Mine they have a female which is going to produce dogs of high quality. Mrs. Shute, owing to ill-health, is not exhibiting now, but her string of five or six years ago was a delight.

Mr. Ellis, of Red Deer, has started a kennel on good foundations. He has an imported female of good type and two imported stud dogs. From all accounts the stock he is breeding is of good quality and he has some very promising puppies. Mr. Ashford has just purchased some of the Bulldogs lately owned by C. Y. Howlett, and if Messrs Brown, Westmoreland and Ashford get together, as only Yorkshire men can, something of outstanding quality will be produced.

The Vectis Kennels are breeding a few, but have little time at their disposal to exhibit. Vectis Resolution's only times out went Reserve Best in Show All Breeds, under W. H. Reeves, Esq., and Best in Show, under Mr. J. C. Fletcher and Mr. W. Forrest. A puppy, Vectis Valiant, is showing real promise.

Old stalwarts of the fancy are showing increased interest, particularly W. Forrest, Esq. It is a real pleasure to have him judging and attending kennel meetings. He still has good Scotties, but rarely exhibits.

Edmonton is showing renewed interest in dogs. Their show of 1924 was good. 1925 was better.

There are a collection of good fanciers in Edmonton and district and the loss of J. Griffin and Mrs. Wheeler was keenly felt, but whilst J. H. Tanton is breeding Cockers and Mrs. Shute Bulldogs, exhibitors are always assured of a welcome to the northern city. Looking to the future, better business conditions in the West, together with our good crop this year, should give Albertans renewed encouragement to devote time to the real hobby, that of breeding dogs.

ENGLISH BULLDOGS. Visits.

November 25—G. F. Taylor's (Winnipeg, Man.), Ch. Mersey Jennie Lind (C.K.C. 41515) to George Kynoch's (Winnipeg, Man.), Renton Laddle (C. K. C. 27012).

NOTED NEW BRUNSWICK FANCIER DEAD.

One of the real fanciers of the Maritime Provinces in the person of Mr. W. George Gray, famous for his "Micks" in Ontario, Quebec, and along to the Eastern Coast. Just the best were fit to associate with George, and when we met him at the shows, as we sometimes did, it was one of the joys of that show.

From the Telegraph-Journal, kindly sent to us by our Maritimes Director, Mr. W. W. Laskey, Fredericton, we learned some of the reasons why we liked to meet this good fancier that we did not know before. The Telegraph-Journal comes out with a streamer across five columns and says, "Operation Fails to Save Life of Geo. W. Gray." Then in bold type we are told that he was a prominent North End business man, who was active in fraternal societies, and other city interests, that he was a man of culture, and one who had been much travelled, and who had enjoyed a wide acquaintance and was held in great esteem by his fellows. Poor George! how could we help warming up to him as we discussed the doggie affairs of Canada generally, and of the Maritimes particularly.

When we received Mr. Jack Steer's (Montreal) good letter of sympathy in our losing our President, Mr. Joseph Russell, Jack recounted those who had been withdrawn from our ranks during 1925, and we were then surprised to find that such circumstances as sickness and death were so closely observed by our most active fanciers, and it is well that we should be interested in our fellow fanciers to the extent of knowing intimately just how they are faring in the war of life at all times.

Our good brother was a member of Albion Lodge A.F. & A.M., St. John's Lodge No. 30, Knights of Pythias, a past president of New Brunswick Kennel Club. In religion he was a Presbyterian, and he was a trustee and one of the leading supporters of St. Matthew's Church. He was also treasurer of the Cedar Hill Cemetery Company.

It is quite pathetic to read in a public newspaper that our late friend's spiritual adviser, Dr. J. A. Morison, admitted being unable to steel himself to make the sad announcement to the congregation from the pulpit, and he had felt that if reference had been made that many in the congregation would have broken down.

And so another of our real sportsmen has been withdrawn from the game, and from the associates he loved, and because of the circumstance we are all the poorer because of his death, and on behalf of the members of the Canadian Kennel Club, and the readers of Kennel and Bench, we extend to Mrs. Gray, her daughter, little Betty, and all sorrowing members of the family, the expression of our deepest and most sincere sympathy in this sad hour of their bereavement.

CELEBRATING THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Madame D. Beland, Montreal, can be depended on to get her share of the championship certificates which we prepare for Pomeranians, and this fall she finished two. To her it looked and felt like a double-header and something more to be fittingly observed than to be sneezed at. As if by a curious coincidence prompting the celebration, and considering the season of the year. One of the little champions was Ch. "Imperial Honey Dew" and this could not have been any more suggestive if it had been called "Johnny Walker," "Peter Dawson" or "Andrew Usher," and so it was just natural to call the clans together and celebrate.

The clan as far as Montreal goes is headed by our director, Mr. "Bob" A. Ross, and as his henchmen he has Messrs. Henry Whitley, "Witty" Warren, "Tommy" Ritchie, etc. For henchwomen, Mesdames Enright (president Ladies' Kennel Club), Palmer, Ritchie, etc. The two etc.'s including a host of Montreal's elite of dogdom.

It was on December 12th that the whole gang invaded the Pomona Kennels and Madame Beland's beautiful home at Pointe Claire to do honors to their majesties Ch. Stormlight of Dara and Ch. Imperial Honey Dew, and right royally were the newly-crowned champions lauded and toasted.

In the midst of the merry-making some bright individual disclosed the fact that the occasion was Madame's birthday, and right there and then a beautifully fitted out travelling case seemed to come from nowhere, and in a few words of happy felicitation the case and its contents suitably engraved with the words "To one of the best in the game." That "one" graciously accepted the described tangible token of high esteem from the hands of her admirers in a few happy words. Whether they included the words "Imperial Honey Dew" with or without the abbreviation, we don't know, but if we had been there we surely would have insisted on the distinction. More power to Pomona Poms and their mistress.

Rickets in Puppies, and the Cause Thereof

By LILLIAN C. RAYMOND-MALLOCK, ENGLAND.

RICKETS, as a rule, denotes bad rearing, and is seldom known in kennels where the inmates are properly housed and cared for. It may be caused by worms, but more often carelessness or ignorance are alone responsible.

The disease usually shows itself whilst the little ones are still in the nest, and seldom after they have gained their sixth month. It is essentially a young animals' complaint, the first symptoms being an enlargement of the joints, weak pasterns, swollen stifles, the arms are bowed, and the puppy walks on the backs of his legs. He is usually dwarfed in growth, pot bellied, and suffering pain more or less all the time, in fact, he is a miserable and unhappy sight for those who have any affection for dumb animals. There are medicines which will help the trouble of which I will speak anon, but no treatment is of any use at all without sunshine, fresh air, and liberty. It is one of those things which it is easier to prevent than to cure.

To go right back to the root of the question. In order to avoid Rickets and its accompanying evils, it is necessary that the health of the dam should be absolutely beyond question, and that she is perfectly clean and free from parasites, either internal or external. By this I mean that she should be cleaned of worms before being mated, free from any suspicion of skin trouble, and in firm hard condition, preferably on the thin side and never fat. Before whelping her breasts and belly should be bathed in a solution of Kur-Mange to cleanse the skin, and remove worm lava which adhere to the teats, and which otherwise would be sucked in by the puppies, and infest them with these troublesome customers from birth. I might add that the "bugbear," worms, has no terror for me. They will not occur to any extent in the offspring of well cared for bitches. When puppies have Worms or Rickets the owner has only himself to blame. I find that an eggspoonful of liquid paraffin or salad oil once a day in food acts as a lubricant and will keep worms away even if the infants are fed on scraped raw beef. It is also advisable to give small quantities of oil every day from the time the puppies are three weeks old.

Damp weather and gloomy kennels, or cramped, badly ventilated quarters will cause rickets because the puppies are debarred from the air and sunshine exercise so necessary for health and happiness to all young life. Puppies, just like human babies, must have a certain amount of exercise, proper food and oxygen. Impure air or gloom will never do either for human or canine babies, give them sunshine, and plenty of it, clean sweet beds to lie in and you will never have Rickets or the like. Your pups will be a pleasure and a credit to you instead of a pain and disappointment.

The state of the mother's health has much to do with the puppies' health. Give them a good start and it is amazing how the small things will thrive, but a bad start means dosing and conditioning, and no end of trouble for their owners later on. It pays to have the brood bitch in tip-top condition apart from anything else, and believe me, a little extra time spent on her before the puppies are born, will save many hours of labor later on.

It is best to give lime in some form or other to the expectant and nursing mother, a teaspoonful of Phosphate of Lime in food, twice daily, being a convenient way to give it. A crushed 5 grain Citrite of Soda tablet should be added after the puppies are born to correct acidity in the dam's milk and thus stave off colic or that plaintive wailing cry, caused by indigestion, which is so often heard when the mother's milk is not quite right, and which usually means the loss of such puppies. The wise breeder will therefore lay in a stock of Lime and Citrite of Soda in good time. Food is, of course, of the utmost importance both before and after whelping, and plenty of good lean steak must be given. Dogs are carnivorous animals, and meat is essential to their well being. To feed the mother on farinaceous food only, is asking for trouble, and laying the foundation for a litter of rickety puppies. The whelps and dam alike must have meat if they are to thrive and do well. Give the mother from 6 to 8 ounces of meat daily, and the puppies a little scraped raw beef twice a day from the time they are a month old if you want them to do you credit. I am very insistent on meat as a staple food for dogs, for I know its value, and especially raw or slightly sterilized meat for nursing mothers and puppies. Some good authorities claim that raw meat causes worms and I should hate to contradict them, but I personally have never known ill effects from its use. It has been a perfect boon to me in rearing delicate youngsters which I am sure would never have lived but for it. Lime, as I have said, is a preventative against Rickets and should be used if there is any tendency that way, either hereditary or otherwise, though personally I should never dream of breeding from any animal known to come from Rickety stock. Virol, Parrish's Chemical Food, and the following prescriptions are all valuable for any poor little dogs who are unfortunate enough to have this tendency.

Syrup of Iodide of Iron.....1 part.

Cod Liver Oil.....2 parts.

Shake well before using. Dose, one teaspoonful twice daily for adults, from 15 drops for puppies, according to weight and age.

I have but little faith in bandages for the legs, they only worry the puppies and do but little good, though in one very bad case I remember using, with success, small strips of adhesive plaster bound around the legs so that they did not interfere with the bending of the joints. This, and good food, coupled with plenty of sunshine, got the little creature "onto his legs" again, though he was never really sound. He was not one of my own puppies, I am glad to say, but one which was brought to me to "cure," by one of the ignorant breeders to whom I referred at the commencement of this article. The first step in treating Rickets is to build up the puppies' constitution with raw beef, lime and one of the tonics mentioned above, and trust to nature to do the rest, remembering always that sunshine is quite as essential as good food, and that one without the other is of no real value. You must treat your puppies as carefully as if they were human babies if you want to be really successful, and remember the good old saying that "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure." Never was a saying more applicable than this one in the case of Rickets.

Another Range Tail*

By R. S. TYRELL
BOTTREL, ALBERTA

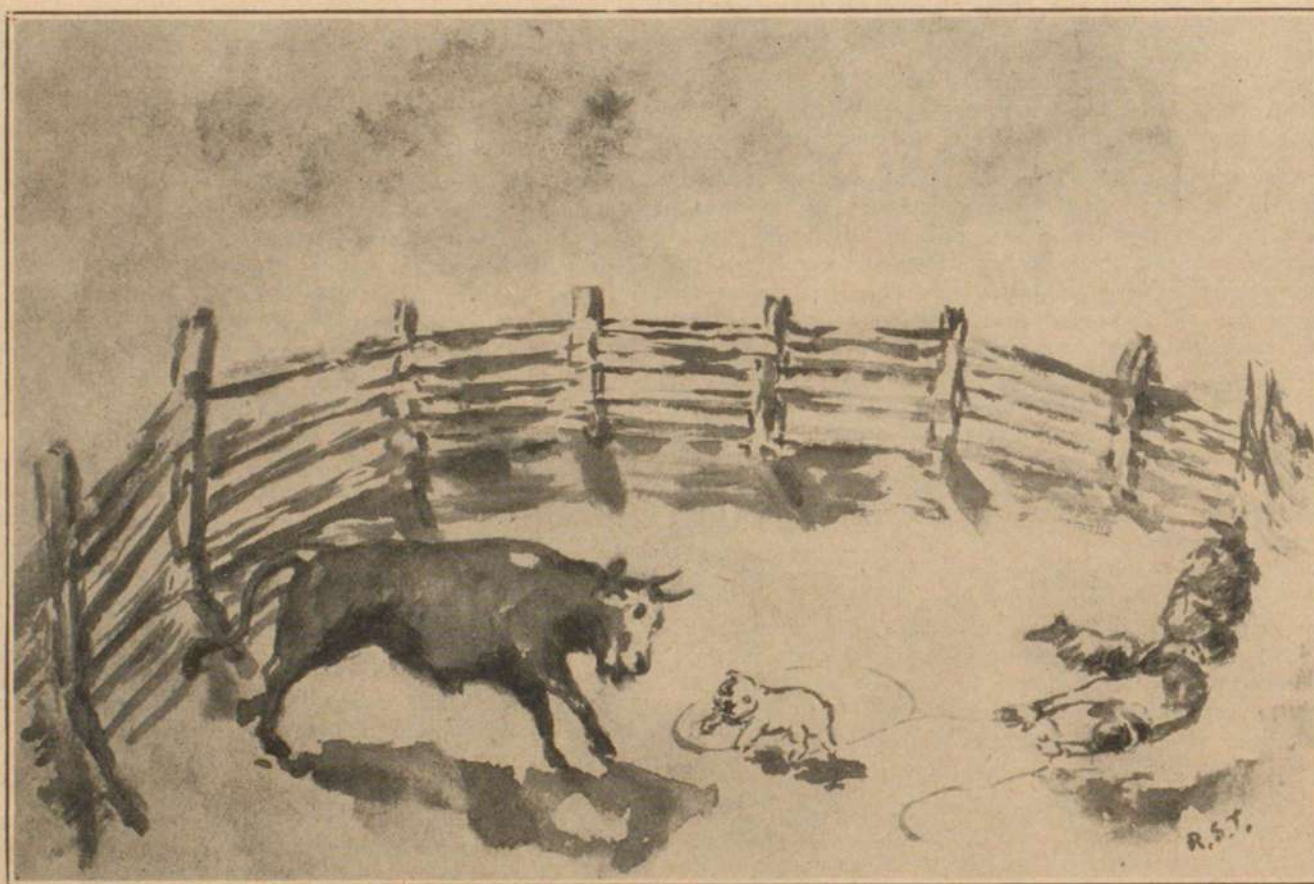

It is late Spring. In the living room at the "Crazy Two," two great Borzois that lie curled up by the stove are drying themselves. In various easy attitudes, four cow-punchers are gracefully reposing. For three wet weary weeks the outfit has trailed along on the horse round-up.

In spite of well-oiled slickers and caps, water trickled down their necks, formed pools on the saddles and oozed out of riding boots. Damp permeated their marrows.

Rain, rain and more rain. In buckets and bathtubs, occasionally whole lakes have descended, but singing and whistling cheerfully, the boys have ridden. For nine long dry months have gone ahead. Now there is green grass.

The Guv'nor, who has taken on the duties of cook, calls, "come a-running." We are at table when a mumbling and firmed, and left, both he and his team fed and watered, with complete direction how to find the "D. M. Ranch" where he was proceeding. "Won't the old lady be tickled to death," murmured Gov., as the apparition disappeared from view. The Dunn family consisted of Ma, a vinegary woman with a liver, and an uncertain temper, religiously inclined Matilda, a strapping lass of fifteen, who could ride and rope with the best. Bud, a bright boy of six as full of tricks as a monkey and Co. Pa was the antithesis of Ma. He had a slight corporation and a complete sense of humor, which was fortunately inherited by his offspring. Bud was a great favorite with the "Crazy Two," especially of Red's, who had shortly before given the youngster a pit bull pup. Ma Dunn had offered strong objection to the ungainly white animal, shuffling is heard outside the door. "Come in," yells Dick. Still the mumbling proceeds. "What's wrong with the fellow? Push the door," bawls the Gov'nor. A stranger's countenance appears—a lean sour visage of puritanical type.

"I was just offering up a prayer for the inmates of this house," he announced. "Must be for Red," answered the Guv'nor. He needs it most. "Sit in and fill your face." Red's plate is piled high. "If you ain't going to say grace, pass the spuds." During the meal we learn that the Rev. Ebenezer Sourit had been sent by a misguided Church to the Western Mission Field, under the impression that cow-boys were a species of native, similar to those inhabiting "Darkest Africa." Possibly the Rev. Eb. had his fears conwith a brindle patch over one eye and a jaw that looked like business.

However, she had become reconciled, for had not Towser saved Bud from being gored by a young bull, and slashed a portion of the animal's ear in the operation? True! Bud had been trying to rope the beast with a portion of Ma's clothesline, but the good Dame was not aware of this fact. It was late evening when the Rev. Ebenezer arrived, rather wet. His team balked at the ford—no amount of prayer having persuaded the obstinate brutes to cross, their driver faced with a wetting, or spending the night in the open, chose the lesser evil, tied the horses to a bush and there abandoned them, finishing the last mile on foot. Ma was, as Red foresaw, delighted. She congratulated herself that she had not that day spring-cleaned the guest room as intended, nor washed the blankets—soft water for this purpose was now plentiful.

Outside the kitchen door, two large barrels, full to the brim, filled the lady's soul with peace. Pa retrieved the horses while Ma entertained the honored guest. Bud eyed the stranger for some time, planting himself squarely before the Minister, he queried: "Can you ride?" "I'm afraid not." "Can you shoot?" "Don't you know, my little man, it's wicked, it's against my principles to kill anything." "Keep quiet, Bud," says Ma. "Can you rope?" "No, I can't say I can." "Can't you do nothing?" "What do you do for a living anyway?" "I am a Shepherd who leads his flock." Bud retired in disgust to find his Father. "Pa, that skunk's a sheep man, what do you know about that?" "Now, Old Timer, that fellow has come out here to help chaps like you and I be good." "I don't want to be good. I want to be a bronco buster like Red."

The sun was well up when Rev. Ebenezer arose. A savory smell from the kitchen told that Ma was preparing breakfast. Pa had milked the cows and turned them out to pasture. Red and I, driving a few strays with the D. M. Brand, turned them into the corrals as he swung back the gates. "Fine morning boys, after the rain. Did a stray pilgrim reach you last night?" "That's he coming out now." The object of our remarks looked around. It was the custom in the range country for the men folk to wash outside—a bench with basin, soap and towel being provided for this purpose. The Parson, while at college, had been in the habit of enjoying a morning tub. This was a custom of the resident students. He espied the rain barrels. Divesting himself of his shirt and vest, he proceeded to enjoy himself. We were approaching the house. Matilda appeared to call us to breakfast when she caught sight of the stranger at the rain-barrel. She hastily summoned her Mother. "That man's spoiling your soft water." Ma came on the run. For nine long dry months she had waited for rain to wash her best linen and woolens. "Now that idiot!—he could be nothing else—was wasting it! Seizing the broom, she fetched it down with a resounding whack on that part of the churchman most prominent to view. "Sic 'em, Towser" murmured Bud. The pup needed no encouragement. Fastening on to the spot lately vacated by the broom handle, he hung on.

A red, astonished, agonized angry face suddenly appeared. His mouth full of water, the Rev. Ebenezer spluttered. "Ouch! Quick! Take it off!!" "You can't holler down our rain barrel!" shouted Bud, dancing with glee. "That will teach him to butt into a cattle country."

We rescued the unfortunate pilgrim.

Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward," murmured Red.

PACIFIC COAST KENNEL CLUB'S 1st. SHOW

Bouquets and Brickbats, by Wm. H. Pym.

THE first annual show to be staged by the newly-formed Pacific Coast Kennel Club of Vancouver, was held under Canadian Kennel Club rules, December 11-12, in connection with the Vancouver Winter Fair. The first directors of this new organization were chosen from the executives of the different kennel clubs in greater Vancouver with the following personnel: Dr. W. J. Downie, president and treasurer; Charles Cary, vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Dunn, J. N. Neat, J. Anderson and G. L. Stock, chairmen of the bench show committee; P. K. Lomax, show secretary, and the old reliable Sandy MacLean, superintendent, while Drs. Sleeth, A. J. Damman and W. Swenerton were the honorary veterinarians, with four local gentlemen handling the judging. Stanley Dorrell handled the Toy group to the King's taste. Dr. Sleeth was in his element with the Non-sporting dogs. Wally Wilgress, so well-known as an importer, breeder and exhibitor of Setters, attended to the Sporting dogs and E. E. Gravel judged all Terriers.

The show was well supported by the outside exhibitors. Among those noticed at the ringside was Major H. W. Nevin, Esquimaux, B.C.; N. A. Atchison, Seattle; Mrs. T. A. Clark, Seattle; Mrs. and Miss Zingler, Everett, Wash.; Mrs. Bailey, Victoria, and several well-known exhibitors from Nanaimo. No doubt the show building, which is entirely unsuitable for a winter show, was responsible for the curtailment of the local entry. Once again the ring-siders who were "armed" with the official catalogue were unable to tell who was who in the ring, the absence of readable identification numbers which should be worn by the handlers rendered the catalogue useless. However, considering the fact that the idea of putting on a winter show was an innovation, and that working capital had to be raised from private sources, and with only a few short weeks to complete all arrangements, credit is due those responsible for staging this show and being mindful of the fact that mighty oaks from little acorns grow, it will only be a season or two until the Pacific Coast Kennel Club Show will be the "Royal" of the West.

Major Nevins' Whippet, Ch. Taffy's Pride, made his debut to a coast show and won practically everything with the exception of the flag on the building, including his breed classes, best sporting, best exhibit owned outside of Vancouver, and best dog in the show, all breeds, and he deserved it all. Let the critics examine this dog from the pads of his four excellent feet and fault him, if they can. Major Nevin with his kennel of Whippets will be a valuable acquisition to the coast fancy. The Bulldog, Ch. Sandy McNab, owned by T. Cruickshanks, won for best non-sporting in show, while his kennel mates, McNab's Safeguard and Peter Pum, accounted for winners and reserve winners dogs respectively. Mr. Neil Kelso's new importation, Kilburn Thistle, was the best female, and Herbert Bailey's entry, Beamsville Belle, was reserve winners. Miss Leigh Spencer's entries cleaned up in the French Bulldog classes and added a few more championship points to their list. Fox Terriers were a light entry. In Smooths, Malcolm McCraith's imported dog, Avon Reckoner, was best of breed and is well on his way to a worthy championship. The female classes caused a flurry of excitement. In the Canadian-bred class Duchess of Ascot won. On the day she was in the pink of condition, and while it is admitted she is bang up to size, she is the TYPE and should have been a champion long before this. In open bitches, with only four entries, the judge must have momentarily lapsed into unconsciousness. The spectacle of the judges choice going over any of the entries in this class was one of the most weird exhibitions of misjudging of Fox Terriers that we have ever witnessed. A specimen which just missed being of the Toy or dog show variety, and displaying about as much Terrier character as the average jack rabbit, was first and winners; the winner of the Canadian-bred class, and of the same type as the winners dog was second and should have been first or absolutely last; while a quality bitchy-bitch, Lady Flirt, owned by E. Hill, Victoria, was third. If a small one had to go up, Lady Flirt deserved winners. The judge reverted to type for the Wires and sailed right along. Mrs. Jack Thompson's Jarovian Bristles won the puppy and novice dogs class. Frank Nott's Martley Benedict led the way in the Canadian-bred and limit classes. The open class produced the "Tit-bit" of the show with Redcliffe Wire Boy, owned by Joe Dodds, Ulidia Fusilier, owned by Mrs. R. H. F. Purdon, and Martley Benedict right up on their toes fighting it out for the blue. The same dogs have met on several occasions during the past season and a win by either Wire Boy or Fusilier meant the completion of a championship. The judge took his time and went over the dogs thoroughly. In the final struggle Wire Boy seemed to relax, while Fusilier stood out on the end of a loose lead and did everything a real showman could be expected to do and won, so another Western home bred enters the charmed circle. A. E. Grant, the popular owner of the O'Grants' prefix, had a regular field day with his Wire female "Magic," winning the Canadian-bred, limit, open, winners classes, the specials for best of breed, best opposite sex sporting; Canadian-bred and limit, as well as being the best Terrier and reserve grand champion. P. J. MacLachlan's Lochaber Lawrie led the Collie females to winners, while V. O'Brien's Brunswick Bob led the male section. Mrs. V. H. Gordon's Shepherd Blitz Von Bern romped through from novice to best of breed. S. M. Saunders' Dolf Von Trifft, a grand dog who insists upon defeating himself while in the ring, was second. The Black Forrest Kennels' entry met with an accident while enroute to the show and of course was shown under a great handicap. Mrs. Zingler's Unna von Ritterborn accounted for winners and best opposite sex for the breed specials. Moore and Armstrong's Cocker, Moore's Cameo, was to the fore in solid colored bitches and the same owners parti-colored Ottawa Helen won in her division. Sam Jones' "Jones' Sambo," won premier honors over the male Cockers. C. A. Goodwin, of Victoria, was a prominent winner with his Pointer, "Patricia," and Pinehills Denny's Henry, owned by C. Dennis, also of Victoria, was best of breed. Mrs. Kennedy's Irish Setter, Golden Rufus, while showing age, was good enough to dispose of his competitors and was a popular winner. Russian Wolfhounds were an improvement over former shows with Katrunia, owned by E. A. McKenzie, winners dogs, and J. T. Rithwell's Olga of Bellecouver, winners female and best of breed. Bostons fell off in quantity as well as quality. Mrs. Clarke's Intruder III won over Ch. Rellim Richard, who appeared to be away below his usual form and suffered accordingly. Intruder III also won the special for non-members of the Canadian Kennel Club. The Toys were a nice show in themselves. The Vancouver Toy Dog Club supported this show exceptionally well. G. L. Stocks' Pekinese Soami, carried off several specials, and the same owner's Ch. Chong Yung Shi was best of breed. Mrs. Rita Lomax's Madame Tu Son won the blue and the purple in the female division. Mesdames Castle, Andrews, Shepherd and Nichols were also successful exhibitors. Dr. Downie opened the proceedings in the Pomeranian division by winning the puppy class with Princess Pat. Mrs. E. Bradley's Swansea Sunset led the procession through the Canadian-bred, limit and open classes for Orange or Sables. W. White had his blacks in superb form and seemed to be making a clean sweep, winning the specials for best Pom, best opposite sex and best black Pom. G. L. Stock won the special for best Toy in show with Ch. Chong Yung Shi, with W. White's Pom, Juliet, best opposite sex. Mrs. Lomax won the special for best bred-owned and shown by a lady. The Toys also provided the competition for best team. Two excellent teams paraded. W. White's black Poms won over G. L. Stock's Pekingese.

BOOSTING THE BLOODHOUND

To the Editor,

Dear Sir,—

For over 25 years now I have been keenly interested in man's best friend, the dog. Various breeds have from time to time claimed my attention but for the most part Airedales have been my fancy until during the war I went out of breeding altogether. Of late years, however, my thoughts have been centred on that wonderful and ancient breed, the English Bloodhound. In correspondence, however, with breeders in England and the U.S.A. I have found little to encourage me and in Canada only one lone name in the person of Mr. J. R. Tennant, of Princeton, Ontario, seems to be known as a breeder and his terrible misfortunes in losing so many valuable hounds through poisoning has made it impossible for him to do much for the breed of late. I am glad, however, that Mr. Tennant is building up his stock again and maybe yet we shall see him well to the fore again. Good luck to him. The sterling qualities of the English Bloodhound are such that I think if they were more generally known there would be a wider interest in the breed. As it is the kennel papers of England and America and our own Kennel and Bench very seldom refer to them (no reflections on our own paper, for let me say I believe the Kennel and Bench is doing a wonderful amount of good for the canine fancy in Canada) but my purpose in writing this is to issue a plea for the English Bloodhound one of the noblest creatures of God's creation. Can not breeders bring him more into the light of day that his qualities may be known? I have just purchased a couple of male pups of good promise and will "do my bit" for the breed in future as opportunity presents. Thanking you for space.

Yours truly,

L. B. HENN.

And Still the Springer Spaniels Come

WE are in receipt of a newsy letter from that ardent Scottish sportsman, Baillie A. McNab Chessels, of Coabridge, Scotland, the proud owner of the noted "Inveresk" prefix in that land beyond the Atlantic, Bonnie Scotland. Those of us who have seen Capt. Walter Smith's (London) Inveresk Cadet at the recent shows will have a pretty good idea of the to be of benefit to the Springer fanciers which are daily becoming more numerous on this side of the water.

In the illustration here we present two Inveresk champions. Ch. Inveresk Careful is now the property of Dr. Gifford, Oshkosh, U.S.A., and was sold to him at a price that was then a record price for a Springer Spaniel. Ch. Inveresk Coronation was pur-class of Springers bred by the Baillie.

He has shipped to Mr. J. H. Placey, of Sherbrooke, P.Q., a sterling specimen named Inveresk Cocksure, which is sired by Mr. E. Chevrier's (Winnipeg) new importation, Dual Champion (Field and Bench) Flint of Avandale. Inveresk Cocksure is a beautiful blue roan with wonderful bone and substance, fifteen months old, and although quite a youngster, has won over 50 first and special prizes at Scottish shows.

It is Mr. Placey's intention to place his new dog at stud to a very limited number of selected females and hopes chased by the Maharajah of Patiala, India, an interested visitor at the recent Scottish Kennel Club show at Edinburgh, at the very attractive price of three hundred pounds ($1,500.00).

Baillie McNab is disappointed in not having his kennel successes reviewed in our Christmas number this year, just as other fanciers in the Motherland have been disappointed, but we will have them with us all next year if we have to go over ourselves and tell them just what we want and when we want it.

VANCOUVER KENNEL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

Vancouver Kennel Club has just elected the following as their officers for 1926: President, Dr. T. R. R. Hoggan; vice-president, Mr. E. A. Dunn; 2nd vice-president, Mr. Jas. Mulholland; secretary, Mrs. E. A. Dunn, 1363 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. Executive committee: Messrs. Nat McConnell, P. Elsted, P. Cavanaugh and H. J. Dunn. Hon. veterinary, Dr. W. G. Ballard. Auditors: Messrs. O. Ballshaw and W. H. Pym.

The club has claimed the dates Good Friday and Saturday for their 1926 spring show and the executive are now working hard to make it as successful a fixture as any of its predecessors, and, if possible, the best show ever held by the club.

Notes from the American Side

By CHARLES G. HOPTON, New York.

"FOR Auld Lang Syne." How particularly apropos is this ancient Scottish saying around New Years, when our friends in the North are so keen on extending cordial greetings. One recalls the profound sincerity of the "Scotties" (engaged in the linen and woollen trades near St. Paul's Cathedral) when participating in their annual dance around the Queen's statue in front of the steps. With hands joined they would whirl around, singing the old refrain, and many a "Wee Doch" was indulged in with fervent hopes that the New Year might prove a prosperous one. If the truth were known our dear old Montreal friend, "Willie" Aitken, he of "Warrior" fame, has joined in the merry throng atop o' Ludgate Hill. It is with the same sincerity that the writer extends New Year's greetings to the doggy world at large with the hope that 1926 will prove a record one for Man's Best Friend and its admirers.

The Dominion is well represented on the list of judges for the coming Westminster show to be held at the new Madison Square Garden on Eighth Ave., New York city, February 11th to 13th, with the pretty little town of Belleville, Ont., right in the limelight for two of its most prominent fanciers, Messrs. Harry B. Hungerford and Walter S. Reeves, have been wisely selected to pass on a lot of breeds. The former is to do Collies and Belgian Sheepdogs, and right well he should do them, for very few fanciers on the American continent has had such experience in the sagacious Collie as the "Mountaineer" expert. One may lay a good wager that the winners will be sound, both in action and coat, as "Sir Harry" is a stickler for working ability in his favorite breed. Walter S. Reeves, fresh from his very successful tour of the Western States, will have his hands full, as among his many breeds are St. Bernards, Whippets, Greyhounds, Kerry-Blue and Bedlington Terriers. There will be lots of excitement among the last two breeds as quite a few noted English winners have recently been imported and the question of type, size and texture of coat is being discussed all over the country. The Kerry Blues, however, were cleverly handled last year by the noted English expert, Mrs. Cora Charters, of "St. Margaret's" fame, who kept to type and size when she awarded top honors, that is both Winners, to the noted champions, Victor of Leysfield, and Blue Divil of Leysfield, shown by the genial "Tommy" Grisdale. But in Bedlingtons we have not had such a clever demonstration of judging as this delightful old north country breed has been hacked about during the past year, with several of the judges mistaking them for the Dandie Dinmont, insisting on the low-legged sort. It is in coat, however, that so much confusion is seen, the majority being under the impression that it should be trimmed down close to the body with a straight silky texture. To settle this important question we will quote from the standard recently received from England, which reads as follows: "Coat,—very distinctive, thick and linty, standing well out from the skin, but not wiry. THERE SHOULD BE A DISTINCT TENDENCY TO CURL, particularly on the head and face. Weight about 20 to 26 pounds. It is interesting to note that 'the loin should be markedly arched, with muscular galloping quarters which are also fine and graceful.'"

Evidently our remarks about the noted Winnipeg-owned

St. Bernard, Ch. Sultan, has aroused the curiosity of an old-time fancier of the saintly breed, as a Mr. Jas. D. Greene (who must not be confused with T. H. Green, breeder of the immortal Ch. Sir Bedivere) has written for further information on the now famous Smooth bitch, Ch. Hercuveen Aurora Borealis, the superb home-bred owned by that charming sports-woman, Mrs. Gertrude Davies-Lintz, to whom much credit is due for her herculean efforts to resuscitate this beautiful breed. A partial list of this popular champion is as follows: Best of Breed 13 times; best in the keenly contested Working Group 6 times; many times reserve Best in Show and on several occasions has been adjudged Best of All Breeds. One recalls the universal applause that greeted the win of Best in Show made at the last Baltimore event, where in the keenest of competition this remarkable home-bred beat a host of international champions, even the handlers extending their congratulations to the proud owner who invariably handles her own dogs and is responsible for their perfect condition. When one takes into consideration the amount of work and anxiety, not speaking of the extra expense incurred in feeding and expressing these huge dogs, and the effort to put them down in the truly remarkable condition for which the Hercuveen champions have become world-famed, one may be pardoned for enthusing to a marked extent when such a well-merited compliment is paid the St. Bernard, it being a breed that is shown absolutely natural, for no trimming of coat or application of artificial methods will assist, hence the credit that is rightly due an exhibitor when their St. Bernard is shown fit and as sound as a bell, not to speak of the consolation to one who goes through the ordeal of handling such a huge proposition in the ring.

While the renewed interest now being taken in the aptly termed "Gentleman's Terrier" as so many of its admirers call the Manchester, is due those enthusiasts, Messrs. T. Pearsall-Field, Geo. H. Earle III, H. W. Flansburgh and others, one should not overlook the fact that the well-known Canadian fancier, F. C. McLean, of Hull, is really the "Saviour," as he has kept them true to type for the past three decades even though many of the shows relegated this impressive terrier to the Miscellaneous class. The fact that a new club has been formed with a most alluring list of specials to be offered at its inaugural show to be held in conjunction with the Combined Terrier Shows in February, is evidence that the future looks to be particularly bright for the Manchester. It was a happy thought to select the well-known terrier expert, Robert E. Sedgwick, of New York City, to judge their coming show, as he is quite one of the most up-to-date of all the modern school and should please everybody with his awards. With nearly five hundred dollars' worth of prizes, including several imposing challenge cups and a host of specials, there should be keen competition, especially when it comes to the Ch. Kearney Rose Trophy, donated by T. Pearsall-Field for the best American-bred, owned and bred by a member of the Manchester Terrier Club of America. As a matter of fact every class has a silver cup and other prizes to be won outright; then there are the "Educational" prizes that will keep the judge busy, as everybody is keen on knowing the right type. The following are a few, and the conditions: the Percy S. Straus specials for best headed dog, ditto bitch; the Carl H. Hilger's trophy for best tail, length, carriage and set on, to count; Mrs. Thos. Grisdale offers five dollars for the best eye, color, size and placement to count. The Wm. F. Kubach special is apt to be the most interesting as color and markings are the sole objects of consideration and we would suggest that the majority of the recent "experts" who have assumed the role of Manchester Terrier judge, should watch this judging, as the important points of pencilling, thumb marks, vent markings and breeching, of which they seem to be absolutely ignorant, will be thoroughly demonstrated. Five years ago we purchased the consistent winner, Noross Fanfare (he has since made his championship and sired quite a few real good ones). Later, meeting a friend on the Avenue who espied the dog and remarked, "Well, Hopton, whatever caused you to go in for this breed, it is absolutely passe' and will never come back?" There were then only four in the city, but present indications point to at least forty dogs for the Specialty, and a bumper entry for Mrs. Imogene Liggett's entry at the Westminster. It may be recalled that a decade or so back this versatile sportswoman owned a very good Manchester in Ch. Bad News. It is sincerely hoped that Mr. McLean will come on for the February shows as his favorite breed is bound to come out in surprising strength.

The writer does not want to appear "fulsome" by continually lauding up the many Canadian-breds that assert themselves, but the consistency in which they win in the keenest of competition arouses enthusiasm, especially when a debutante of but eight months puts up such a spectacular piece of retrieving as seen by the black Cocker puppy Rowcliffe Diana at the recent field trials of the Hunting Cocker Club of America. It was in the Derby for dogs owned by members that Rowcliffe Diana did such splendid work and the game manner in which this veritable Mulum in Parvo dragged in a pheasant to its proud owner, Mrs. A. R. Moffitt, was indeed a revelation that brought forth universal applause. Next in order was the more matured Corona Gunstock, who had previously put up a keen race with Silver Tip Ducrow in the Open Stake, but one could not get away from the remarkable work of the puppy who certainly reflected much credit on the Canadian strain running back to the early winners owned in Woodstock. Might we suggest changing the name of Hunting Cocker to WORKING Cocker, a term more apropos for such a keen gundog.

Another Canadian-bred to make history is the all white Bull bitch, Trusty Patsy O'Dare, one of the best lightweights in the East and a most consistent winner during the year. This very sound and impressive daughter of the Duke of Norfolk ex-Ruby, she Ch. Coster's Diamond bred, has made the going highly interesting for the best in New York State, winning Best of Breed and the subsequent Non-Sporting class at Utica, Winners at Cornwall, Tuxedo, Brooklyn, Newark, Syracuse and was well up in the running at the Westminster, all when in an immature condition. Owned by two very ardent admirers of the Bulldogs, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Russell, Trusty Patsy O'Dare should soon sport the coveted title of champion, thus adding another Canadian-bred champion to the Hall of Fame.

There is rejoicing in the Doberman Pinscher world over the remarkable win of the famous international champion, Westphalia Prince von der Favorite, the popular brown and tan dog who has so consistently won for Best of Breed and winner in the subsequent Working group. He surpassed all former records by annexing the trophy for Best of All Breeds at the recent Atlantic City show where many famous circuit and international champions competed. The win was very popular, as the manner in which Benny Lewis handled his charge and the pronounced type and individuality of the Westphalia champion seemed to impress everybody. One can truthfully say it was a well-merited victory and a great consolation to those keen enthusiasts, Messrs. H. H. F. Fleitmann and Howard K. Mohr, who have worked so diligently to place this very sagacious breed right in the van.

EATON AVENUE SLEEVE KENNEL.

A female Sleeve Peke, Sing Wahi Beautifly, sister to Ty Nee Beautifly, has just been bought into one of Toronto's wealthy homes at a very good price.

The breeder, Mrs. May Dodd, 12 Eaton Avenue, received a message from the buyer, telling her how pleased she was with her Sleeve, and how fortunate she was to secure such a beautiful specimen in the Queen City. —(Advt.)

Mr. Joseph

WHEN we went to press with our Christmas Number, and particularly when we set up "The President's Page," we tried our best to feel as optimistic as possible, so that the brighter side of our affairs would only be seen by our readers during the joyful season. Nevertheless, at that same time, our hearts were as lead within our breasts, as we were momentarily awaiting the fateful words, "Mr. Russell is Dead." Happily we were able to go to press as we had hoped to, and on Friday, December 11, the 8,500 copies which comprised the December Number were printed and in the bindery, and still Mr. Russell was with us.

On Sunday, December 13th, at 4 o'clock in the morning, our beloved President passed on to his well-earned reprieve from suffering and to his rest. We say "his well-earned reprieve" advisedly, for, when we consider that he has engaged in a steady battle for health during the past seven years, and was continually obliged to give ground, it was only logical to conclude that the end would soon come.

As a dog fancier Mr. Russell came to us with his first interest in Airedales, which was in 1914. (We are writing from the memory of many quiet conversations only). The late Mr. Walter Billinger, an employee of our late President, had acquired some good Airedales and the "Morning" prefix. The Airedale was then touching the peak of its popularity in Canada. The devotees of the breed were all splendid fellows, and included the late Jos. A. Laurin, Montreal; Philip Bawden, Ridgetown; A. J. Weller, Toronto; Jas. W. Bain, K.C., Toronto; Sid. Perkins, Toronto; Harry Clayton, Toronto; Fred J. Blake, Almonte; Walter M. Berwick, Shelburne; Sam Bamford, Toronto; Norman McKenzie, Regina; Nat. McConnell, Vancouver; Bert Swann, Humber Bay; Harry F. Morren, Estevan; W. J. Cardy, Edmonton; Jos. Perkins, Toronto; Fontinel Kennels, Toronto; E. G. Bingham, Orangeville; Nichol Jeffery, Guelph; C. Plomley, Paris; Frank Wood, Toronto; G. and G. E. Ward, Toronto; Reg. Pellatt, Toronto; A. E. Grant, Vancouver;

Pete Ross, Winnipeg; Paul Hamer, Montreal; F. H. Goodfellow, Montreal; H. T. Armistead, Montreal, etc., etc. Never lived a man with a more retentive memory for names and for incidents than our late President, and he was always able and quite willing on the least provocation to recite the prowess of the Airedales and the Airedalers for the last decade, or from his first introduction to the breed and to its sport. At the Canadian National Exhibition of 1915, his prefix "Claycliffe" first appeared and out of an entry of four he won 2nd and 3rd puppy, 1st and 2nd novice. At the Western Fair immediately afterwards he shared in the spoils of battle just a trifle better and he was in the game to stay, and it is history now, that in his coming amongst us there was introduced a man who loved the game and its players; the game and players in return loved that man. From this humble beginning he repeatedly touched the very centre of the targets set up at many shows on both sides of the international boundary. Just at this time the semi-annual meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club had been held and Mr. Russell had become interested in the affairs of the Club, and at the annual meeting of 1916 (the first to be held in conjunction with the other recognized departments of Canadian National Live Stock) he was returned to the Board of Directors. This was a critical period in the Club's history and heavy clouds had lingered on its sky. The late Dr. Alfred Boulton was at this time seriously ill, and Mr. George Barron was acting in the capacity of Honorary Secretary. An epidemic of suspensions and reinstatements was prevalent. Members were clamoring for stud books that had not been published. Advisory boards were created and after functioning for a time seemed to become inactive. At the semi-annual general meeting of 1916, our late President was called to the chair. The first year's operation under the Live Stock Pedigree Act was declared a success, the horizon generally was clearing, the Club was on the threshold of an epochal period. The secretary's report at this time declared that the membership increase for the year had more than doubled the increase of any previous year. More shows were being held. A unified Canada was the ideal most to be desired, and for this purpose a strong committee was named and given full powers to act for the Canadian Kennel Club. It will always be a regret that the work of this committee was never completed.

Mr. Russell was elected President on Friday, February 9th, 1917, and under his guidance a wonderful progress has been made. Whilst his health was a constant worry to him for the last three years, his interest in the Club's affairs never waned and as the "dark reaper" was running our late President a neck-and-neck race, the latter realizing that he was losing, asked the members to get behind his successor, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, our President-elect, and to "Go on and grow bigger." No doubt this last expressed wish for the Club will be carefully noted and our progress will even be more noticeable from now on than it has ever been before. This then in a very feeble way and acknowledgedly quite unworthy of his sterling worth, is a short resume of his life activities whilst amongst us as a fancier and leader.

Before coming into Canadian dogdom, he represented his section of the community in the Federal and Provincial Parliaments of Ontario and of Canada. To his fellows in both houses he endeared himself and he was a devoted follower of whoever happened to be his leader. A Conservative all his life, he was always faithful to his party, and no doubt if he had been given strength to have continued in the political field, in time he would have filled some of the higher places in politics. Titled opponents in politics were seen at his funeral paying their last tribute to a great man, and a worthy competitor in the political game.

It is hard for the writer to continue further, but it is my privileged task to inform our late dear President's many friends who were unable to be in Toronto on Wednesday, December 16th, the happenings of that day, when, at 2 o'clock p.m., the Rev. Canon Cody, of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Toronto, assisted by the Rev. F. E. Powell, of St. Barnabas' Anglican Church, Toronto, and the Rev. John Bushell, of St. Clement's Anglican Church, Riverdale, took charge, and the spacious residence was packed by many admirers of our late Chief Executive, drawn from all sections of Canada, and from many walks of life. Side by side with Sir Edward Kemp would be Mr. Russell's employees from the Brick Works. Snugly encircled in a multitude of fragrant blossoms, lay the beautiful casket of mahogany and in it all that once was our beloved President. The beautiful service of the Anglican Church in all its inspiring impressiveness was slowly read; and as the Rev. Canon Cody recited the many virtues of our departed brother, many a tear was shed in silent sympathy. We were much impressed to notice Mr. John G. Kent, General Manager of the Canadian National Exhibition who was the President of the Canadian Kennel Club from September 7th, 1898, until December, 1916, when Mr. J. G. Kent retired and Mr. Russell relieved him of the arduous task. We noticed, too, representatives from the Toronto Kennel Club, Bulldog Breeders' Association of Canada, Boston Terrier Club of Canada, Boston Terrier Club of Toronto, Eastern Collie Club of Canada, Pekin Palace Dog Club of Canada, the old Airedale Terrier Club of Canada, The Cocker Spaniel Club of Canada, the Pomeranian Club of Canada, the Russian Wolfhound Club of Canada, the National Kennel Club, Inc. We noticed floral tributes placed imposingly around the coffin which

When I am dead, if men can say,
"He helped the world upon its way;
With all his faults of word and deed,
Mankind did have some little need
Of what he gave,"—then in my grave
No greater honor shall I crave.

If they can say—if they but can—
"He did his best; he played the man;
His way was straight; his soul was clean;
His failings not unkind, not mean;
He loved his fellow men and tried
To help them,"—I'll be satisfied.

But when I'm gone, if even one
Can weep because my life is done,
And feel the world is something bare,
Because I am no longer there;
Call me a knave, my life misspent—
No matter, I shall be content.

Alas for him who never sees
The stars shine through the cypress trees;
Who, helpless, lays his dead away,
Nor looks to see the breaking day
Across the mourning marbles play!
Who hath not learned in hours of faith
The truth of flesh and sense unknown,
That Life is ever lord of Death,
And Love can never lose its own.

—WHITTIER.

bore messages of deep sympathy from Fort Garry Kennel Club, Winnipeg; the All Terrier Club of Canada, Winnipeg; Montreal Kennel Association, Ltd., Montreal; the Toy Dog Club of Montreal; Western Collie Club, Winnipeg; Toronto Kennel Club, etc., etc. Awakening from a sad reverie we became suddenly conscious that the pallbearers were preparing to bear the coffin to the waiting hearse. As we reached the street we noticed that three policeman and a captain were in charge of the congested street, where upwards of 200 cars were in waiting to convey the friends to the cemetery, who were able to go. These, as the feathery snow flakes silently fell on all around as a whispering benediction from Heaven itself on the mourners, which were made up of Masons, Knights of Columbus, Catholics, Protestants, Kiwanians, Rotarians, Members of Parliaments, Dog Fanciers, Millionaires and Brick Workers, a motley crowd indeed, the remains of our good friend and brother was returned to the bosom of Mother Earth.

Before concluding, I am privileged to offer the sincere thanks of the bereaved wife and family to all the many friends of the late husband and father, for the many kind expressions of sympathy sent by letter or telegram, and the many beautiful floral tributes sent to the stricken home almost momentarily for three whole days. Following are a few of the messages which were warmly appreciated:

From Mr. George G. Sinclair, Toledo, Ohio, U.S.A.:

"Please express my sincere sympathy to Mrs. Russell and the Canadian fancy, in your great loss of the President of your Club. He was extremely highly respected on this side of the line, as a man of sterling character, an unassuming, gentlemanly fancier who will be hard to replace."

From Mr. A. P. Mutchmor, Winnipeg, Manitoba:

"On behalf of the members of the All Terrier Club of Canada, will you kindly extend to Mrs. Russell and family our deepest sympathy in this their hour of sad bereavement; Mr. Russell will be greatly missed by his Western friends, of whom he had many, and our greatest hope is that we all may live a life that will ensure us a renewal of his friendship in the Great Beyond. Kindly arrange for suitable floral tribute to be sent in our name."

From Mr. W. R. Aitken, Fox Terrier Club of Canada, and Mr. Allan A. Chisholm, English Bulldog Club of Canada:

"Mrs. Russell, we have just received the news of your sad bereavement, and on behalf of the members of the Fox Terrier Club and the English Bulldog Club of Canada, we send you our deepest sympathy. Trust that you may be given the great consolation in remembering his great worth as we do, and in the abiding faith that a Divine Providence has ordered all things well."

From Director Dr. T. E. Sleeth, Vancouver:

"Accept all fanciers' condolence and sincere regrets at the departure of our dear brother fancier, Joseph Russell."

From Mr. Robinson Beard, New York:

"I am shocked at the sad news. Kindly extend my deep sympathy to Mrs. Russell and her family."

From Mr. F. W. Walkerdene, Winnipeg, Man.:

"On behalf of the members of Fort Garry Kennel Club, convey our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Russell and family, on the death of Mr. Russell, our Canadian Kennel Club President. Arrange for flowers to be sent."

From Mr. H. G. Harton, Western Collie Club, Winnipeg, Man.:

"It is with sincere regret that we learn of the passing of our dear President. Officers and members of the Western Collie Club wish to extend their sympathy."

From Mr. Harry Armistead, Montreal:

"Extremely sorry to learn of the death of our President, Mr. Russell. Please convey my sincere sympathy to Mrs. Russell and family."

From Mr. P. E. Aird, Montreal Kennel Club, Ltd., Montreal:

"Deeply grieved over the sad news of Mr. Russell's death. Kindly convey our deepest sympathy to his wife and family. If you will kindly arrange for suitable flowers to be sent in the names of the officers and members of Montreal Kennel Association, Ltd., the favor will indeed be greatly appreciated."

From Director Mr. George Kynoch, Winnipeg, Man.:

"On behalf of all Canadian Kennel Club members in the Province of Manitoba, will you kindly convey to Mrs. Russell and family our deepest sympathy."

From Mr. Walter Brown, Montreal:

"Regret very much the sad news of the death of our dear President, Mr. Russell. Kindly convey the deepest sympathy of The Toy Dog Club of Montreal, and please send flowers in our name."

From Director Mr. Robt. A. Ross and family:

"Telegram received containing sad news indeed. Have advised members through news item in Montreal Star. Kindly express our sincere regrets and deep sympathy to relatives and friends. He was a true sportsman, a clean, whole-souled man, and a staunch friend. Lord, that we were all men of his calibre."

From Dr. John De Mund, President of the American Kennel Club, New York:

"American Kennel Club wishes to express its sympathy to the Canadian Kennel Club, and to the family of Joseph Russell, in their sad bereavement."

In life our President was universally loved. In death he is universally mourned. Long live his memory in our hearts.

FORT GARRY KENNEL CLUB "FILLS THE EMPTY STOCKING."

Our hats are again off to Fort Garry Kennel Club for their magnificent contribution to the "Tribune's" empty stocking fund, said contribution amounting to $170.00—a real filling for any poor child's empty stocking.

To make this contribution possible, and to make it equally substantial to the effort made last Christmas time, a matinee show was held. The old timers, Messrs. Frank Walsh and J. Woodend were appointed adjudicators and turned in a full measure of satisfaction when they turned in their judging books. We notice that they found a couple of youngsters, which, in their opinion, were good enough to travel a long distance. The Airedale puppy of Mr. Geo. Kynoch's, Silverdale Tornado, is said to be a knockout and went from puppy to best in show, all breeds. This youngster with the destructive name is now being prepared for New York and other shows that follow. A Collie owned by Mr. Joe Guarnera and named Imera Man O' War, went from puppy to best of breed and in open variety was placed second only to Silverdale Tornado.

We would like to say more about this fixture, but it is contrary to the policy of Kennel and Bench to report in detail any but licensed shows, in fact it has been found impossible to do so, but anything that helps those who cannot help themselves, i.e., "Empty Stocking Fund" and such like charities, may always depend upon us to do our best for it, and we compliment our Winnipeg fanciers for the worthwhile Christmas activity.

ALBERTA FIELD TRIALS.

Brace No. 12.

"Nanton Boy," a white and brown Pointer dog, owned by T. Little, and "Nifty Boy," a Pointer dog, owned by H. Gould. "Nanton Boy" did not extend himself in this heat and inclined to work too close. He was unfortunate in not finding birds and consequently did not show his usual pace and ability. "Nifty Boy" covered beautifully, worked well to his handler, and carried with him the desirable plunging proclivities. He located twice but was only fairly steady to wing stopping on command.

Brace No. 13.

"Lady Mac," an English Setter owned by H. McDaniels, and "Bayfield Freckles," an English Setter dog, owned by M. R. Christie. Both started away well with "Freckles" going the wider and stronger of the two. "Lady" was the first to locate and was steady. A rabbit was put up and both dogs chased. "Freckles" was unfortunate in not finding as he covered his field well.

Brace No. 14.

"Bing," an English Setter dog, owned by Frank L. Watt and "Elliott's Lady Minto," an English Setter bitch, owned by W. D. Elliott. Just as these two dogs cast-off a covey flushed. Both picked up the foot-scent and pointed prettily, holding the point for fully five minutes. Carried on both showed plenty of style in their work, but "Bing," who found proved unsteady to flush chasing each time. "Lady" unfortunately did not show on birds or her work would have been improved considerably.

Brace No. 15.

"Nick," an English Setter dog, owned by A. Ballachey, drew the bye and had as his brae mate "Miller's Della Par." "Nick" hunted well, carrying a nice high head and going wide and merrily. He was indeed unfortunate in his course, as no birds were produced by either dogs, handlers or Judges, during his allotted time. Prior to being taken up by his handler he located and under trying circumstances proved himself steady to flush. Given an even break in luck "Nick" undoubtedly would have won his place in the second series.

This concluded the running of the first series, as the owners of the other competitors had not arrived.

Second Series All-Aged Stakes.

Seven dogs were selected for this choice class, viz.: "Elliott's Minto," "Armistice Chief," "Miller's Jock Par," "Ace K," "Peggy Sharper," "Bing" and "Dennie."

The first two braces put down were unfortunate in the course selected for them, due to the fact that both courses had been hunted two hours previously by dogs in the first series of the all-age event. The birds found were in consequence hard to hold and moreover the dogs lost time working out scents from where the birds had previously been located and flushed. It may be peculiar to the Hungarian Partridge that the strongest scent is that given off through the feet. It will therefore be readily appreciated that birds flushed any time up to two hours are bound to leave trace behind, and unless the dog is particularly sharp in the nose to detect the hot from the cold scent, false points will be changed. This did occur on three occasions and with the soundest nosed bitch put down in the all-aged event. Naturally her otherwise good heat was marred. A change of location was made for the balance of the field and in consequence a decided improvement in finding and holding was noticeable. The story of the running of the second heat is as follows:

Brace No. 1.

"Peggy Sharper" and "Ace K." Both dogs went away well and covered fast. "Peggy" again was working the centre of the course and "Ace K" the edges. "Ace K" pointed but was false. She followed shortly afterwards with another point with the same result. Between her first and second points birds were seen to flush from the field behind her. Again point was called over her but with no result. "Peggy Sharper" meantime had not located.

Brace No. 2.

"Miller's Jock Par" and "Dennie." Put down over the second course both dogs started into their work with a will. Birds were scarce, however, and when "Jock" did locate the birds flushed with his drop. "Dennie" pointed but his birds evidently ran back of him and flushed. "Jock" twice again dropped to point and birds flushed on both occasions before his handler could call point.

Brace No. 3.

"Armistice Chief" and "Bing." A fresh course was selected and "Chief" almost immediately located and held. "Bing" located twice, held but his birds rushed and he chased. The dogs were put down in another field and again were able to find. "Bing" however, was not steady to the flush and whilst he worked and found birds with any dog in the stake, he was unsteady. Given a little handling this dog will assuredly make his presence felt next year.

Brace No. 4.

"Elliott's Minto." The Judges elected to run this Bye dog alone. "Minto" started off well and hunted his course with a nice easy stride and high head. He inclined to cut in on his casts, however, as time wore on. He was unfortunate in not locating.

Upon the conclusion of this heat the Judges called for "Ace and Miller's Jock Par" to be put down in a fresh field. Cast-off both dogs headed side on to wind. Hardly had they gone 100 yards straight away than the gallery flushed birds that lay in between the course travelled by the dogs. "Jock" was steady to the flush of a rabbit. "Ace K" worked into the wind and on the crest of a hummock, pointed. Her handler called the point and "Ace K" continued to move on. Meantime, "Jock" cast into wind in the direction taken by "Ace K" and reached the bottom of the hummock and froze. His handler called point. "Ace K" had not as yet located. Her handler working to the lee side of her, flushed the birds in front of "Jock." The dogs were immediately ordered up.

The Judges returned to the waiting cars and announced the winners as follows:—

1st place and Calgary Brewing Co. trophy, to "Armistice Chief," owned by Major A. C. Taylor, Vancouver, B.C.

2nd place and trophy presented by Calgary Brewing Co., to "Miller's Jock Par," owned by J. M. Miller, Calgary.

3rd place and trophy presented by Calgary Brewing & Malting Co., to "Ace K," owned by Major A. C. Taylor, Vancouver, B.C.

In your October issue of Kennel and Bench there appears a letter from Mr. Thomas P. Murray, Winnipeg, commenting on the recent appointment of Provincial Committees for the different Provinces, etc., by the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club.

The points set forth in Mr. Murray's letter are well taken and worthy of due consideration. In the first place, the Provincial Committees so appointed appear to be subservient to the sovereign will of directors of the Canadian Kennel Club; consequently no Provincial Committees or advisory boards so appointed can properly function or serve any useful purpose, not because the members so appointed or elected thereto do not possess sufficient executive ability and qualification for the transaction of such business, but because such Committees or advisory boards have not the necessary power to deal efficiently with the administration of their provincial Kennel Club affairs.

It is apparent that there has been, for some time past, much dissatisfaction expressed, especially by the outside Provincial members of the Club concerning the administration of the affairs of the Canadian Kennel Club.

Under these circumstances, I submit that the time has arrived when the proper course to pursue is to have the matter brought before the next general meeting of the Committee to take this whole matter into consideration and bring in such recommendations as they may deem expedient in the best interests of the Canadian Kennel Club in general, and that such recommendations be published under notice of motion in the official organ and that action be taken thereon at a general meeting of the Club.

Yours truly, W. J. ARCHIBALD.

NEW YORK AHOY!

The judging list of the Westminster Kennel Club has been approved and the premium lists for the Jubilee show, to be held in the New Madison Square Garden on February 11, 12 and 13, will shortly be issued. The club has succeeded in obtaining an excellent list of officials in which not only this country but Canada, England and Germany are represented. The offices of the Westminster Club have been moved to 250 Park Avenue, New York, and requests for either premium lists or information should be directed to George Gall, the superintendent there.

It has not yet been determined who will judge the groups, but the judges for the regular breeds, with the varieties on which they will pass, follow:

Hair, Bridgeport, Conn., Basset Hounds, American and English Fox Hounds and Pointers; E. H. Carle, Smithtown Branch, L.I., Beagles; Walter H. Reeves, Belleville, Ont., Bedlington and Kerry Blue Terriers, Bloodhounds, Greyhounds, Irish Wolfhounds, Mastiffs, Newfoundlands, Norwegian Elkhounds, Pugs, Schipperkes, Scottish Deerhounds, St. Bernards, Whippets and the Miscellaneous classes; and H. BUYING FOR THE AMERICAN SIDE.

Mr. Bob Ramsden, late of Toronto and London, was a visitor on a purchasing trip that we had the pleasure of meeting the other day. Bob was after anything available and purchased four Russian Wolfhounds from the Romanoff Kennels at Brantford, a Sealyham from Mr. J. Paton, Brantford. Coming to Toronto the available supply of Sealyhams were looked over and three more were added to Bob's string.

The Outpost Kennels.

He has taken over the management of the Outpost Kennels at Ridgefield, Conn., and as may be seen from the illustration, the kennels look more like a castle than anything else, and Mr. Ramsden advises us that the kennel represents in every detail the latest in kennel arrangement and building.

OUR LATE PRESIDENT'S CORRESPONDENCE.

If anyone is without attention to their correspondence—and we happen to know that there are many such—you will just forget about it, and believe that he could not attend to it, for the very good reason that he had not the same clear faculty for business in the latter months of his life, that had been his chief characteristic for so many years, as Business Executive, Parliamentarian, and Canadian Kennel Club President.

It was his desire, as expressed to the writer, that the members would attend the general meeting in goodly numbers, and in this way show their interest in the Club's affairs, and simultaneously show their desire to show their new President and Directors that they were there to support the Club and the men appointed to handle its affairs.

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada's Specialty Show New Year's Day

EACH year marks another success and for the 18th time this old reliable club has staged a successful show on New Year's Day. This was not the largest from the point of actual dogs entered, but was one of the best in almost every other respect. The attendance was good and the quality of the dogs benched was the equal of anything seen anywhere; and our judge, Mrs. W. H. Dean, of Detroit, was also the equal of any judge seen anywhere. Keen, painstaking and thorough, nothing escaped her. She also judged for Boston Terrier quality and did not turn a good dog down just because it did not show well, or because it was poorly handled. Nor did she put a poor one up just because it showed well or was well handled, which is a mistake that about 99 per cent. of the judges make. In other words, Mrs. Dean did not fall for the flat catcher, either dog or handler.

There were a number of good dogs from the United States, also from outside points in Ontario.

The winners dog and best in show was Mrs. J. G. Woods' (Youngstown, Ohio) Itsawood Direct.

The winners bitch was Mrs. A. H. Endle's (Cleveland, Ohio) American Ch. Endle's Alice June. E. J. Bernhard, Buffalo, was also on hand with a dandy little pair of his own breeding, Pictime Bambino (male) and Pictime Po Go. This was Ed's first appearance at our show for ten years, and I must say that he has lost none of his old-time poise. His dogs were also trained to perfection and showed perfectly. Pictime Bambino was placed reserve winners, running next to the winner's dog throughout the lightweight classes. The bitch, Pictime Po Go, accounted for the lightweight classes in females.

Good old reliable Vincent G. Perry was also there from London, and although he had nothing entered himself, he scored well with Mr. Pincombe's Nation's Dream Baby, putting her through to reserve winners.

W. J. McLean was over from St. Catharines with Glen Ridge Intruder, who, by the way, is just about the best we have to offer in Canadian-bred lightweights. W. J. Welch, of Peterborough, brought up a string and was noticed holding his own in most of the classes. D. A. McMillan and J. Oregan, of Hamilton, also did well in their classes with Hello Bud and Oregan's Peggy O. The local fanciers turned out in large numbers and enjoyed every minute of the show.

Before closing I wish to mention that there was an organized effort on the part of a local element, who not only held out their own dogs, but used every particle of their influence to prevent others from showing. The cause of all this is quite easy to trace to one man, who, having had a little success, has let it go to his head. However, he has done himself and his friends a whole lot of harm and our club a whole lot of good.

Following are the placings:

Puppy Dogs.

1st. Mrs. S. G. Woods' Itsawood Direct, a real topper, good color markings and tail, excellent head, and a well-proportioned little dog all over. With a little better front feet would be almost perfect.

2nd. Mrs. W. J. McLean's Glen Ridge Intruder, also good color markings and tail, splendid head and expression. Loses to winner in hind quarters.

3rd. W. G. Sommerville's Jake-A-Loo, a very blocky type, flashy markings, very strong in head. His chief fault being one white ear—but not a half white head.

Canadian-Bred Dogs (Under 15 Lbs.)

1st. Glen Ridge Intruder.
2nd. Miss Florence B. Massacar's Mighty Atom, one of the best of our local lightweights. A good headed, well proportioned little dog, nice color, marking and tail. Always there or thereabouts.

3rd. Mrs. F. Tomkins' Government Control, a strong headed little dog and one of our consistent winners.

Novice Dogs (Under 15 Lbs.)

1st. Glen Ridge Intruder.
2nd. Jake-A-Loo.
3rd. Geo. McFadden's Little Mid-get, a sturdy little dog, nice dark mahogany color, nicely marked. One of the best type of stud dogs we have, but too stocky for a good show dog.

Limit Dogs (Under 15 Lbs.)

1st. Itsawood Direct.
2nd. Pictime Bambino, an alert Terrier type, dark mahogany, well marked, sound and good all over. Loses to winner a little in muzzle.
3rd. Glen Ridge Intruder.

Open Dogs (Under 15 Lbs.)

A repeat.

Canadian-Bred Dogs (15 to 20 Lbs.)
1st. G. A. Beaumont's Rialto Peach, a most consistent winner in this class. A smooth, nicely proportioned Terrier, dark seal with head markings only. Stands on all fours all the time.

2nd. Mrs. F. Tomkins' Tomkins' Sparkling Boy, a new one, uncropped, nice dark color and a well proportioned dog that has a future.

3rd. Lyman Wilson's Bob's Pal, a real good headed dark Brindle. A little long in body but will always be knocking at the door.

Novice Dogs (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Mrs. W. Stevens' Prince Walley, a well-marked dark Brindle with good head. Needs a little more finish and ears cropped to make him a good one.

2nd. Tomkins' Sparkling Boy.

3rd. Mrs. S. Eling's Ace of Hearts.

Limit Dogs (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Bob's Pal.

2nd. T. E. Milburn's His Knibbs, a well proportioned, good, sound dog. Does not make the best of his opportunities.

3rd. Mrs. S. Eling's Ace of Hearts. A real good Boston and with a little more finish will do better.

Open Dogs (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Rialto Peach.

2nd. His Knibbs.

3rd. Ingram & McQuillan's Johnny Canuck II.

Canadian-Bred Dogs (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. H. Brumell's Beau Brummel, a beautifully finished dark Brindle, well marked dog, full of life, good strong head. His principal fault is his size. If he was cropped it would tone him down some.

2nd. D. A. McMillan's Hello Bud, also a good heavyweight.

Novice Dogs (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. P. E. Housie's Bud, a nicely marked, good headed one.

2nd. Mrs. E. M. Graham's Graham's Tim, an evenly balanced dog. His chances are spoiled by a bad ear.

3rd. A. Linham's Mickey Hope, a good headed heavyweight. Too dark in color but a good type for stud.

Limit Dogs (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. Beau Brummel.

2nd. Chas. Keleher's good old campaigner, The Sultan, looking better than ever. A well marked mahogany Brindle, good all over. It takes a good heavyweight to beat him.

3rd. Hello Bud.

Open Dogs (15 to 20 Lbs.)

A repeat.

Winners Dogs—Itsawood Direct.
Reserve Winners—Pictime Bambino.

Puppy Bitches.

1st. E. J. Bernhard's Pictime Po Go, a trim little one, exceptionally good in head, nice color and markings. Very trim and well proportioned, but a little out of condition.

2nd. R. J. McMillan's Juno II, a real good one, but needs time to finish.

3rd. Mrs. Waring's Princess Marnadoll, nice color and markings, good in head. Also needs time.

Canadian-Bred Bitches (Under 15 Lbs.)

1st. Roselawn Kennels' Sunnyside Some Babe, a nice little one, good in head and a very cute fetching expression. Not too well marked, but a consistent winner.

2nd. L. L. Broley's O'Pal Rose Marie, a good headed one, nice color and markings. Might have changed places with the 1st.

3rd. A. W. Smart's Peggy D. S., a well turned dark Brindle, not quite strong enough in head. Also one of our most consistent winners.

Novice Bitches (Under 15 Lbs.)

1st. Sunnyside Some Babe.

2nd. M. Houston's Toady Lee, a nice trim, well marked little bitch. Beats the first in everything except expression.

3rd. Chas. Keleher's Wee Fanny. Lacks in finish, but real nice little Boston.

Limit Bitches (Under 15 Lbs.)

- 1st. Pictime Po Go.
2nd. Sunnyside Some Babe.
3rd. O'Pal Rose Marie.

Open Bitches (Under 15 Lbs.)

A repeat.

Canadian-Bred Bitches (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Roselawn Kennels' O'Glo's Bashful Betty, a good headed medium Brindle. A little long in body but a good one.

2nd. D. W. P. Worsnap's Miss Curiosity, a trim little female. A little too much to the extreme Terrier all over.

3rd. J. Oregon's Oregon's Peggy O. Also inclines to the extreme Terrier.

Novice Bitches (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Miss Hazel Ruttier's Constance May, a perfectly marked, dark mahogany Brindle, very short square muzzle, good expression. Is a trifle too thick set.

2nd. E. Holdsworth's Little Beauty III, nice color and markings. With a little more time to finish will be heard from.

3rd. Liftlock Kennels' Tiny King's Blink, a good headed useful kind. Not far behind the other two.

Limit Bitches (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. G. A. Beaumont's Edward's Beauty, a strong headed, dark mahogany. A little long cast but a real Boston.

2nd. O'Glo's Bashful Betty.

3rd. Oregon's Peggy O.

Open Bitches (15 to 20 Lbs.)

1st. Mrs. A. H. Endle's Ch. Endle's Alice June, a beautiful headed, mahogany color, well marked. A little long in body but a real high-class one all over and well deserving the title of champion.

2nd. R. B. Pincombe's Nation's Dream Baby, a splendid headed dark Brindle. A good shower but a little too narrow in shoulders and hind quarters.

3rd. Edward's Beauty.

Canadian-Bred Bitches (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. Roselawn Kennels' Little Princess, a good headed one and although she is past five years of age, is still going strong.

2nd. Hooey's Queenie. Also a good headed, medium Brindle. Would do better if cropped.

3rd. W. A. Currie's Lady Vera. Also uncropped, but a nice trim one. It is only fat which makes her a heavy-weight.

Novice Bitches (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. Chas. Keleher's Sweet Bouquet. A good headed useful bitch, nicely marked and good color.

Limit Bitches (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. Liftlock Kennels' Lizelo Toss, exceptionally good in head, well marked and good color. A little lighter all over and she would be up with the first flight.

2nd. Hooey's Queenie.

3rd. Lady Vera.

Open Bitches (20 to 25 Lbs.)

1st. Lizelo Toss.

2nd. Little Princess.

3rd. Hooey's Queenie.

Winners Bitches—Ch. Endle's Alice June.

Reserve Winners—Nation's Dream Baby.

THE DOG MAN'S FAREWELL.

It's no use for me to lie. This is twice I've said good-bye
To a game that I have loved with all my heart—
And to you friends that say, "Old beau, you can never leave the show,"
I'll admit it's mighty, mighty hard to part!
For I love them one and all, from the biggest to the small,
From the Great Dane to the smallest little Peke;
From the Bulldog, that's my god, to the Whippets that I laud,
To say good-bye I find it hard to speak;
When a Guy gets nerves like mine, and he's ordered to the pine,
You know the Pine of which the Poets sing,
He'd get better quick, I'll bet, if they'd suggest a doggy pet,
And let him smell the pine dust in the ring;
Oh! When I think of Jim, with his Wires, full of vim,
And Harry, my little pal, from old Quebec;
And others I could name, that's helped uplift this game—
Call for dog slaves, and you'll find them all on deck!
From the year 1902, when I showed a Kerry Blue,
And my pup went through that awful third degree;
There were ten dogs in the class, and I sipped the victor's glass,
That's where the dog game made a slave of me.
Now after all these years of mingled hopes and fears,
I leave the doggy game for parts unknown;
The white pals I leave behind, I would sure remind,
I take memories I am mighty glad to own.
Now re the "other birds," I won't waste many words,
To me they are like a rat that shows his teeth;
Or the lovely winter snow, when the spring sun makes it go,
You will always find them dirty underneath!
To the Judges one and all, the many I recall,
The majority I found were mighty fine.
But to those that played me "low"—just a word before I go—
I commit them to a higher mind than mine.
Now I leave the dear old game, without ill-will or shame;
My eyes are filled with honest teary fog.
But when I reach the pearly gates, and they are looking up my rates,
I'll stand a chance, for I once loved a DOG!!

Funny bunch these poets; here we have "Witty" quitting for the nineteenth time, and yet the old rhymster has just got back from the Maritimes after handling Mrs. O. Doherty's imported English Bulldog, "Donalaut," at St. John, where he piloted his charge from novice to best in show, and from open to best in show at Halifax. At St. John show his Whippet, Jack O' Diamonds, completed his run for championship, and if this is not a better tonic than the doctor's prescription, we miss our guess.—Ed.

Wild Ride of the Dogs to Bring Serum to Nome

Filming the Famous Dog-Pack on the Course Used "On the Mad Ride Through the Blizzards," Draws Attention to Their Wonderful Trip Once Again!

FELIX J. KOCH.

GO where you will now,—pretty much the English-speaking world over,—they are showing actual motion pictures of the dog-dash with the serum for the diphtheria victims to Nome.

Rather,—to be exact about it,—an enterprising film-producer has sent his camera-man to Alaska,—arranged with the same intrepid "musher" who drove his sleigh with the anti-toxin to Nome, to repeat the trip with the dogs, even to his long slide, down-mountain, to head off the team, and his stopping to place moccasins on tired, ice-hurt feet,—and so, to-day, you and I may sit in genial warmth and in comfort, and witness every mile, almost, of that long ride to Nome, that was a race against death to a stricken people.

Both from the pictures and from fellow-visitors to the cinema-house who have been to either Labrador or Alaska—where the Eskimo dog is employed thus as a steed—we may learn much about travel with the dogs, and learn therefrom.

The dogs, to begin with, are used in Alaska for winter-travel alone.

In the summer they are gathered together in so-called "camps" at stated centres—each dog chained to a long wire by snaps at a chain-end and this so arranged as to give the dog a comfortable run all to themselves. This is made necessary from the fact that were the dogs able to reach one another, trouble would quickly ensue.

In the winter, during the day's work, the long, seal-hide lash of the driver is more often used as a menace than cruelty, to maintain order with the pack.

Then it is—as was evidenced once again with the case of getting anti-toxin to Nome—that the dogs become indispensable.

Dog-drivers have each their own particular team of dogs, with every member of which they make a point of growing absolutely familiar. The dogs are of two distinct sorts. For one, there are the "huskies,"—crosses between domestic dogs, come from, who may guess exactly where, and prairie-wolves, and now constituting a species almost of themselves. Good huskies will weigh anywhere from sixty to sixty-five pounds.

Then, almost as popular with many of the drivers, there are Malamutes,—these crosses of other domestic dogs, that came into the North nobody knows when or how,— and the native timber-wolves. These dogs will weigh anywhere from seventy-five pounds up.

As among all other living things of which we know, certain animals of a species are considerably brighter,—sharper,—possessed of greater wits,—than their fellows; and from among these the driver always selects his "lead-dog," or leader.

This dog, quite naturally, becomes his favorite. Where the other animals of the pack may be regarded by him as just so many means to the end,—so many cogs in the machinery of cross-country transportation,—the lead-dog becomes his pet; may snuggle up close beside him in the dry snow to sleep; and usually receives whatever special tit-bits there may be about by way of food.

As a matter of fact,—a correspondent of the Associated Press, located at Seattle, and familiar with many dogs and drivers, suggested, at the time of the conclusion of the long race to Nome,—the bond between driver and the greater part of his dogs is not exactly that which would be pictured for the age-old friendship between Man and dog back in the comfort of the cities and country.

"The mushing dog, being half a wolf,—left alone, would ordinarily live like a wolf,—except for man's restraint. There is little that is actually loveable, then, about such a creature as the 'musher's' dogs, and aver, correspondingly, that the dogs feel no affection for them.

"But, for one to make such a statement as that in the North, is to invite instant challenge. No less an authority than Hudson Stuck, Episcopal Archdeacon of the Yukon and Arctic regions, otherwise affirms that SOME sled-dogs certainly do love some men, and vice versa."

Be that as it may, the dog-teamster selects his dogs for many distinct qualifications, in turn.

Naturally, a dog must not be too obstinate, too savage, or too morose, lest he spread contagion of rebellion in the pack. He must be tractable and trainable, be strong to draw, make speed, and have many other obvious qualifications of the sort.

Most of all, though, dogs are picked for a pack for their relative degrees of that marvelous path-finding power they possess, which, for want of any better explanation of the same, the naturalists still classify as INSTINCT.

SHEPHERD DOG SPECIALIST

After ten years' intensive study of breed development on the American continent, I am convinced that most disappointments and discouragements are due to one or more of the following causes:

A wrong choice of seed stock.
Lack of a definite breeding program.
Faulty kennel layout or management.
Unwise feeding.

I have decided, therefore, to make available, in a consulting capacity, to a limited number of clients whose interest is in Better Shepherds, the fruits of a wide experience in breeding and rearing Shepherd dogs (Alsations).

NOW—WHAT NEXT?

Calgary, Alberta,

To The Editor,

Dear Sir:

After devouring the Christmas Number of your valuable paper, we discovered there was something lacking in the flavor and on due consideration found the reason—there is not a single Western Wire mentioned.

We hasten to send our photos to show there are such animals out West, and please, we are not extra good, just ordinary, being regularly beaten in the show ring here by other Calgary Wires. Please, Mr. Editor, if you can, publish one our photos, the best one of us, don't bother about the human, she is only the person we condescend to live with.

There are other of our dog friends, of other breeds, who will only be too delighted to send their photos and show what a galaxy of canines there are in Calgary.

Could you spare a page to our Calgary friends, for instance, Mr. Rudolf's and Mr. Jeffries' Irish Water Spaniels, Miss Curries' Chesapeakes, Mr. H. P. Saunders' and Mr. Climo's Cockers, Mr. E. Ellis' English Bull Terriers and others too numerous for our little doggy brains to remember?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your courtesy, we are,

Yours to the last bark,

FARLEIGH WIDEAWAKE

and

FARLEIGH POLLYANNA.

(Hello, "Wideawake," just tip Pollyanna to take a run around the block and give herself the air whilst I talk to you, "attapup.")

Now listen, brother, if the pups in the kennels you mention and in the kennels that your little doggy brain cannot recall at the moment are as aggressive and as "nosey" as you are, I will be glad to hear from them also, conditional on their not having spent all their money at Christmas time on biscuits, blankets, collars and cages, and have left a little for pictures and printing.—Editor.)

EVERYTHING For The DOG!

The dog gives all to his master and asks for little in return. See to it that what you do give him is the very best that money can buy. Give him plenty of exercise, good accommodation, and Spratts' Dog Foods and Remedies.

We carry a complete stock of all Spratts' Dog Foods. There is a Spratts' Food for any breed from the Toy to the St. Bernard, from puppyhood to maturity, in sickness and in health. Every one is backed by years of study of the dog and his needs, and of unique and unequalled experience in dog food manufacture.

Spratts' Meat-Fibrine Dog Cakes or Puppy Biscuits, deservedly called the "backbone of the Canine Race," should be your dog's staple food. The fine biscuits are large, crisp and wholesome. They clean the dog's teeth, harden his gums, make his breath pure and sweet, and himself in fine, fit condition.

For an occasional change give him Spratts' Rodnim or Pet Rodnim Meal either dry or soaked in broth or gravy. Either way it is a tasty dish that appeals to doggy palates and provides the change essential to a properly balanced diet.

Insist on Spratts—from Harry Wilson's—it is your guarantee of unsurpassed quality.
