A MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB will be held in the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday, May 20th, 1926, commencing at 2 o'clock p.m. Kindly note change of time.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the offices of the club, 25 Melinda street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, April 15th, 1926, at 8 o'clock. The President, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, in the chair. Directors present were: Brig.-Gen. C. H. Nelles and Messrs. V. G. Perry, N. K. Swire, Reg. P. Sparkes and J. W. Bruce. A telegram sent by Capt. W. S. Smith, conveying the intelligence that the Captain was suffering from the "flu" and was unable to attend.

The minutes of the Directors' meeting, held on March 18th, 1926, were read and on motion were declared adopted.

The Secretary reported that he had made enquiries regarding the rabies' situation, as instructed, and that his report was substantially what had already appeared in Kennel and Bench.

A letter was read from Mr. J. R. Kennedy, Toronto, requesting that his complaint against Mr. H. Allan, Toronto, be withdrawn, on the grounds that Mr. Kennedy now believed Mr. Allan had done all that was possible to secure registration of Mr. Kennedy's Doberman Pincher, and was not to be held further responsible. On motion the matter was allowed to drop.

The Secretary reported that Mr. J. C. Fletcher had furnished Mr. H. L. Jordan with registration for his dog. The report, however, was not official. It was agreed that no action be taken pending official confirmation of the matter.

The matter of show dates for Western Fair, London, were again discussed, and a motion was proposed:—

"That the Western Fair be granted the dates they originally applied for." This motion failed to find a seconder. It was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That the Western Fair be granted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 14, 15 and 16, and that Peterboro Industrial Exhibition be granted Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 16, 17, 18, 1926."

The Secretary presented the following accounts for payment:—

 Mr. and Mrs. Kane Mundiff, 245 Clarke street, Montreal, Que.
 And it was regularly moved, seconded, and carried: "That the applicants be received into membership in the club."

A complaint was read from Mrs. E. A. Dunn, Secretary, Vancouver Kennel Club, and on motion regularly moved, seconded and carried: "That the complaint be referred to the British Columbia Provincial Committee for investigation."

A letter was read from Bain, Bicknell, White and Gordon, solicitors for Mr. H. B. Charlton, requesting that the suspension of Mr. Charlton be raised. The Secretary advised that Mr. Charlton's suspension had been imposed on Thursday, April 16th, 1925. It was regularly moved, seconded, and carried: "That the suspension of Mr. H. B. Charlton be raised as from Friday, April 16th, 1926."

The Secretary reported that he had received tenders, sketches and sample cups from the following firms: J. D. Bailey, R. W. Ellis, Ellis Bros., Ryrie-Birks, Standard Silver Co., Toronto Silver Plate Co., Trophy Craft Co., and that these were now on the table for the consideration of the Board of Directors.

After careful consideration, it was agreed, on motion regularly proposed, seconded and carried: "That the tender submitted by Trophy Craft Co. be accepted."

It was agreed that the ratings of all breed shows held in 1925 would govern the offering of Canadian Kennel Club trophies, open to all, at all breed shows held in Canada under Canadian Kennel Club Rules in 1926, and that the trophies so offered would be in five sizes to conform to the championship point ratings one to five.

This being the business coming before the Board at this time, it was moved:—"That the meeting adjourn."

MOOSE JAW FANCIERS SUPPORT SASKATOON.

The Western lads are right up on their hind legs this summer—look out for their smoke. No less than seven of the officers of the Moose Jaw Club took the trip to boost the Saskatoon Kennel Club show, and to show their neighborliness, took 18 of their best dogs along to help fill up the benches. And whether they won or lost, the records have it that the seven had the time of their lives, and as Billy Murray would say, "That's worth while waiting for."

The "seven" on their return just jumped into their places—like so many cogs in a wheel—to make their own show go. At present there are 28 cups on the shelf which have been donated, and which later will be looking for owners to take them home to favored places in their collection. The value of the 28 is conservatively placed at $600, or about an average of $21.50 apiece—some cups. Other specials valued at $250 have been garnered in and the committee of that activity are still at work. The Club members are planning on making Moose Jaw the largest and best fixture in the Prairies this summer. The writer hopes to be at this show in person, and if he has anything to take back from this story at that time he will do so.

And if the Eastern fancy still think they have all the best dogs in Canada, they are cordially invited to bring them West, and if they come, they are promised Western hospitality plus real competition.

CANCELLATIONS.

Toronto Kennel Club.

Shepherd Dog (Alsatian). Novice bitches, "Borne" ineligible, as no breeder or place of birth is given, placing "Brenda V. Wenthof" 1st, "Lorraine V. Princenhoff" 2nd, and Lady V. Schienferschloss" 3rd.

THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ont.

THE somewhat sensational comeback of the rough-coated Collie, must be very pleasing to those few breeders in the United Kingdom, the United States and Canada, who, in spite of the lack of interest taken in one of our most beautiful varieties, have still continued breeding and exhibiting.

It is rather interesting to go back twenty or thirty years, and in doing so, I find that the Collie has had many reversals of fortune.

Many of our oldest authorities on the Collie consider that it was mainly due to her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, that the Scotch Collie was first brought to the notice of dog lovers in England.

This occurred in the early sixties, when her late Majesty was on a visit to Balmoral, where she became fascinated with the intelligence and beauty of the Highlander's companion and helpmate, the Scotch Collie.

The result of this visit was very soon noticeable, for, before leaving Scotland, Queen Victoria added several Collies to her team of favorites, and up to the time of her death she always had three, and sometimes four Collies accompany her in her walks in the beautiful grounds at Balmoral and Windsor Castles.

The outcome of her Majesty's interest in the Collie resulted in quite a number crossing the border, and their intelligence and beauty soon gained for them a number of staunch friends in England.

In going over some of the old records I find quite a number of Collies were exhibited at Birmingham Dog Show in 1865, and from this time the breed continued to gain a great deal of attention, so much so, that a number of men interested in the breeding of dogs added Collies to their kennels.

The early specimens exhibited did not show the quality or beauty of our present winners, and it was not until the coming of old Cockie and Trefoil that the type became fixed.

These two remarkable sires became pillars of the stud book. Trefoil's progeny showed the most quality, and one of his direct descendants, Champion Christopher, who was bred by the late Rev. Hans Hamilton, was the cause of the Collie becoming the most popular dog in England for some years.

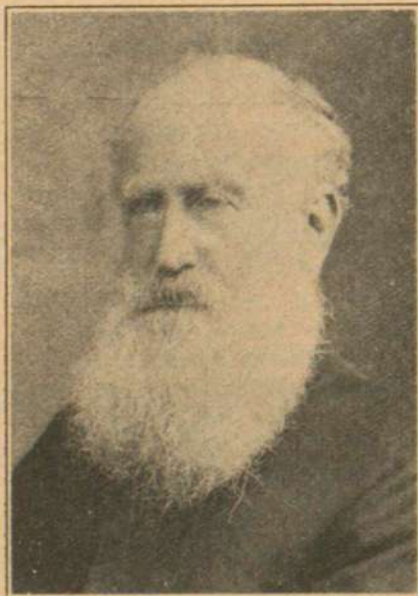

We pause here to pay our tribute to the Rev. Hans F. Hamilton, so long the honored president of the Collie Club of England, and to his well-versed tutor, Mr. C. H. Wheeler, father of our own respected Mr. Donald Wheeler, who, I believe, is the Chairman of the Canadian Kennel Club's election commission. Mr. C. H. Wheeler can safely be mentioned in connection with the earliest life of our present-day show Collie, history showing him as an exhibitor with Lufra and Old Bess shortly after the show held by the Birmingham Society, held in 1861, when Old Cockie first came into prominence as a show and stud force in England. It was old "Charlie" Wheeler who was selected by Dr. O. P. Bennett, of the Tazewell Kennels, Washington, Ill., to write the English section of Dr. Bennett's wonderful book, "The Collie," which has enjoyed a remarkable sale everywhere. Mr. Wheeler chose 1875 as the year best suited to him as chronologist for the breed, and in 1878 the two men, Rev. Hans F. Hamilton and C. H. Wheeler came together as Collieites in this manner, but we will let Mr. Wheeler tell it in his own way. He says: "Whilst dilating on the merits and demerits of the various exhibits at Birmingham show, I observed the reverend gentleman apparently following my movements for quite a considerable time, when he introduced himself with words to the effect of—'You are the most conversant young man on the Collie that I ever listened to, and being keenly interested in the breed, I should esteem it a favor if you would spare me an hour at your convenience to discuss its characteristics.'" Here two budding fanciers came together, both bloomed into full life, both gave much to the breed and both men are beloved and respected by the older fanciers to-day.

Christopher's debut was made at one of the Collie Club shows, held at Knightsbridge, London. He was purchased by Mr. Tom Stretch, the famous breeder of "Ormskirk" for £60 (sixty pounds). Christopher had a very notable career, both in the show ring, and at stud, and I believe was the first dog to be sold for five thousand dollars.

Christopher's purchaser was Mr. Mitchell Harrison, of Philadelphia, who, after purchasing Christopher, left him to be exhibited and used at stud in England for some time, for he was not brought to America till 1894.

The influence of Champion Christopher has been very great, for he proved not only a most consistent winner, but also possessed the ability to transmit his sterling character and type to his progeny. So great was his potent power as a sire, that in going back over the pedigrees of thirty or forty of our great dogs and bitches that have made history not only in the show ring, but also in the breeding kennel, I find the name of Christopher appearing in their pedigrees.

REV. HANS F. HAMILTON

Christopher, although he did so great a service to his breed, also was the cause of a great deal of harm, for every breeder was striving to produce Collies with the Christopher head. This would have been to the advantage of the breed if it had not been for some commercial breeders, who were "pot hunters," and also had the main idea of selling. They conceived the idea of getting even a longer and finer head than Christopher's, and with only a mercenary end in view introduced the Borzoi or Russian Wolfhound cross into the Collie.

It is claimed that a Collie bitch was bred to a Russian Wolfhound, and her offspring bred back to a Collie, and by continuing to breed the get of the second generation to a Collie, these breeders attempted to cover up their productive operations.

The result of this cross did untold harm to the breed, and but for the determined stand taken by

CHAMPION CHRISTOPHER
By Metchley Wonder, ex Peggie II.; Born in 1887.

CHAMPION CHRISTOPHER

BRED BY THE LATE REV. HANS F. HAMILTON, AND ONE OF THE EARLY ENGLISH CHAMPIONS, CONSIDERED IN HIS DAY TO BE A DOG OF GREAT CHARM. LUXURIOUSLY COATED, SABLE AND WHITE, MAGNIFICENT HEAD, WITH SUPERB EXPRESSION, HIS FAULTS WERE A TRIFLE LOW ON LEG AND SLACK IN EAR CARRIAGE. SHOWN AT THE AGRICULTURAL HALL, HE WAS PURCHASED BY THE WORLD-FAMOUS "TOM" STRETCH OF "ORMSKIRK" FOR £60-0-0. AS A SHOW DOG AND SIRE HE HAD A WONDERFUL CAREER WITH THE "ORMSKIRK" WIZARD, WHO SOLD CHRISTOPHER TO MR. MITCHELL HARRISON OF PHILADELPHIA FOR £1000-0-0.

old time breeders, the Collie might have been ruined forever.

These cross-bred Collies were none too reliable in disposition, and spread the impression in many quarters of the world that Collies were of uncertain temper, and not to be trusted, and undoubtedly did untold harm, for these cross-breds proved most unreliable with cattle and sheep. Collie entries began to fall away at shows, and the dog-loving public began to lose interest in the breed.

At the time when we saw the Borzoi head on a Collie body with the Borzoi feet thrown in, a new crop of exhibitors and breeders became active. These novices were very aggressive, and extensively advertised Collies with heads eleven and a quarter inches, and sometimes more, in length. Our best Collies have seldom been more than ten inches. Length of head was everything to these wreckers of the true Collie type, and they sold their Collies with the Borzoi head to other novices. They were not content with this, but also found means to get the Borzoie Collie put up at the most important shows. This state of affairs very naturally disgusted many of the old time Collie breeders, who could plainly see the way the breed was being ruined, and ceased breeding.

CH. MOUNTAINEER MINERVA

CH. MOUNTAINEER MAGNET

The Mountaineer Kennels have decided to popularize the Collie in Canada again, and Mr. H. B. Hungerford is already in the field for that purpose.

While this crusade was in progress, there were a few old breeders who, in spite of lack of encouragement, stuck to their guns and in the end routed the Borzoi contingent.

These old time Collie breeders drove the cross-breds from the show ring, and to-day very few are exhibited.

Amongst those who stood firm in Canada and the United States were such well-known judges as Colonel Robert McEwen, probably the oldest Collie judge in point of years living to-day; William Ormiston Roy, of Montreal; Dr. C. Y. Ford, of Kingston; James Mortimer, Dr. Harry Jarrett, Harry Lacy, James Watson, J. I. Belling, J. A. Long, D. E. Gardiner, and Harry B. Hungerford, who has certainly an enviable reputation as a most successful breeder and judge.

The Canadian Collie Club was inaugurated in February, 1897, and consisted of twenty-two members. Sir Donald Smith, afterwards Lord Strathcona, was the Honorary President; Dr. Charles McEachran, President; Alex. Robertson, Secretary-Treasurer; Executive Committee: H. B. Hungerford, Robert McEwen, Jos. Reid, W. O. Roy, C. Y. Ford, C. Thomson, A. F. Galt, and H. M. Childs. In 1898 the first Collie Club Specialty Show was held in Montreal, Dr. C. Y. Ford acting as judge. This show proved so successful that an out-door show was held the following spring at Logan's Farm, H. B. Hungerford being one of the judges.

Interest in Collies was very strong at this time, and many great Canadian-bred Collies were exhibited with success in the United States. The late Joseph Reed of Montreal, Col. Robert McEwen of Byron, C. Y. Ford of Kingston, and W. Ormiston Roy of Montreal, were consistent and successful breeders and exhibitors. In fact, so strong was the invasion of Canadian-bred Collies in the United States, that exhibitors there were forced to import Collies from England and Scotland to compete against the Canadian breeders of twenty-five years ago.

While the Canadian Club breeders were more than holding their own as breeders of high quality Collies, their old associate, Harry B. Hungerford, who had moved to Glencoe, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, was forging ahead in the line of breeding champion Collies in the Western States. One can hardly pick up a folder containing kennel papers from 1900 to 1912 without running across articles mentioning the Mountaineer Collie Kennels.

Mr. Hungerford was acknowledged to be a consistent breeder of Collies, possessing all the essentials required in a high-class Collie, and many a first prize winner and champion was bred in his kennels at Glencoe.

In the year 1907 Mountaineer Magistrate was sold as an eight-months-old puppy to the Greystone Kennels of Yonkers, N.Y., for a thousand dollars—at that time a record price for an unshown Collie puppy. Magistrate very quickly won his championship, and in doing so met and defeated many an imported winner.

The year following the sale of Magistrate, Mr. Hungerford brought out two great home-breds, namely Champion Mountaineer Minerva, winner of the special for best dog or bitch in the show, all breeds, on more than one occasion, and Champion Mountaineer Magnet. Opinions were divided as to which was the best Collie—one judge fancied the bitch, and the other the dog—but such is one of the fascinations of dog shows, and no two judges think alike all the time.

At the time Champion Mountaineer Magistrate, Champion Mountaineer Magnet, Champion Mountaineer Minerva, and Champion Mountaineer Muff were bred by Mr. Hungerford, the founder of the Mountaineer strain. He had probably the strongest kennel of stud dogs ever owned in one kennel. Amongst those he had at this time were such pillars of the stud book as Champion Parbold Peacock, Champion Sir Roger Trelawney, Mountaineer Moderator and Hartwood Bruce. He also owned a half interest in Parbold Prior, who eventually came into the possession of Dr. Bennett.

A great deal of excitement was caused when Mr. Samuel Untermyer, of New York, paid the thousand dollars for Mountaineer Magistrate, and there would have been even greater cause for comment had Mr. Hungerford accepted the offer made by Dr. M. D. McNab (of Ch. Rightaway fame) of three thousand dollars for Champion Mountaineer Magnet. Tempting as the offer undoubtedly was, it was turned down by Mr. Hungerford, and his good judgment is shown by the fact that Magnet earned more than the sum offered in two years at stud.

Champion Mountaineer Magnet was a real champion and a great force at stud. It was this notable Collie that brought fame to the Winnipeg breeders, Messrs. Harvey and Milner. They sent Corona Daisy to the Glencoe Kennels, and asked Mr. Hungerford to kindly use his judgment in selecting the sire. She was bred to Magnet, and the result of this mating was several winners, including Champion Corona Premier, sold at a big price to Dr. Bennett, and afterwards known as Champion Tasewell Triumph. Mr. Hungerford, who is now residing at Belleville, Ontario, and although probably not breeding on such an extensive scale as he was—ten or fifteen years ago—is still keeping his position as one of the most successful breeders. In fact, I doubt if any of his former triumphs were as complete as the New York one last February, where he caused a sensation with the wonderful train of home-bred bitches he took along from Belleville.

What Canada has done before, can be accomplished again, and the time is certainly ripe to break into the Collie game again—Mr. Hungerford has demonstrated this—and the necessary blood lines are in Canada.

International Champion Alstead Aeroplane strain crossed on to Sylvan Superior bitches is the cross Mr. Hungerford used to produce his Collies—so now Collie breeders, you know the secret. Let's go at once. More! Bring Canada to the fore as a great producing ground for one of our most beautiful and useful varieties, the Collie.

I cannot close this review of Collies, without paying a tribute to that gifted writer and breeder of Collies, E. Payson Terhune, whose clever stories about Collies has done so much to bring the breed before the dog-loving public all over the world.

The fourth annual show at Portland, Oregon, proved a very great success, a big increase being made on entries and the gate was most satisfactory. The Portland Kennel Club are indeed fortunate in their officials. The President, Mr. D. J. Clough, is an ideal officer. He received invaluable assistance from Mr. Norman Perry and Messrs. J. R. McDonald, H. C. Hill and L. O. Hachell. The competition in all the classes was keenly contested. Geo. Kynoch had quite a run of successes, his Airedale Terrier, Silverdale Tornado, scoring in several classes, and gaining reserve winners to Mrs. Guggain's Western Boy, who is certainly one of the best of his variety I have seen. This good terrier eventually came reserve for the special for best dog or bitch in the show. The best classes were amongst the sporting section, particularly Springer Spaniels. Mr. E. Chevrier's exceptionally fine team made quite a sensation, and, judging from the rounds of applause which greeted the awarding of the handsome cup for the best dog or bitch to Mr. Chevrier's International Champion Marvel of Avondale, it was exceedingly popular with the interested crowd which were gathered around the ring. Geo. Kynoch is to be heartily congratulated on his handling, and also for the splendid condition of all the dogs he was exhibiting.

The sixth annual show of the Puget Sound Kennel Club, which was held at Seattle, Washington, was very well supported by Canadian exhibitors. Mr. John C. Fletcher and Mr. W. H. Pym judged all classes with the exception of Spaniels, which were taken by that well-known breeder, Mr. Roland C. Gamwell. Geo. Kynoch was handling a big team, and with them run up a fine sequence of firsts and specials, finishing up a great day by securing the special for best dog or bitch with Mr. E. Chevrier's beautiful Springer Spaniel, International Champion, Marvel of Avondale.

Geo. Kynoch's recent invasion of the United States must have been one of the most successful trips he has ever had in his career. Every show he attended he created quite a sensation with Mr. E. Chevrier's team of Springer Spaniels. At Pasadena, besides winning in nearly every class in which he competed, he sold at a big price his recent acquisition from Scotland, the bulldog, Champion Muiranside Bob, and at Seattle his persuasive tongue enabled him to secure from Mrs. Roman what George considers the best Cocker Spaniel to-day on the American Continent. This is rather a strong statement, but it was borne out by several other authorities who had seen the dog.

Heartly congratulations are certainly due to Mr. J. Cassina, who has just returned from a most successful tour of the States with his bulldogs. At Chicago he gained Winners and best of breed with Beach Park Dominator, who also led in the non-sporting group, and many good judges fancied his chances for the handsome gold cup offered for best dog in the show. At Huntington, Ind., under that sound judge, Mr. Turk McBee, the Beach Park bulldogs won in every class they competed. International Champion, Dauntless Dan, getting best of breed and winning the non-sporting group. At Toledo Beach Park Dominator was awarded Winners. At Battle Creek, Champion Dauntless Dan got Winners and the special, and at Milwaukee, International Champion Dauntless Dan was awarded Winners and the special for best of breed, and the best of opposite sex was his kennel companion, International Champion St. Roch Girl Guide. Mr. Cassina has invaded five of the States on his recent tour, and gathered Winners in every one — a splendid showing for our bulldogs.

I am indeed sorry to hear of the death of that good Scottish Terrier, Peter Bredenhill. He was bred by Dr. Tennant and made a most successful debut at the National Kennel Club show in 1924, where he gained a number of firsts. Peter was a general favorite with all who knew him and his place will be a difficult one to fill. Peter was named after the famous Irish Terrier, Bredenhill, who was bred by a cousin of Dr. Tennant's. Bredenhill, came out about the same time as Ch. Brickbat and Bencher, and was not only one of the best "Dart-Devils" of his time, but generally admitted by all competent authorities to have been one of the best Irish Terriers to ever enter a show ring.

I hear from Mr. Geo. F. Foley, the Superintendent of the American Kennel Club's first dog show, that arrangements are well in hand for this important event. The show is being held in conjunction with the Sesqui Centennial on September 30th and October 1st and 2nd, and everything points to the first show of the American Kennel Club being easily the largest and most important ever held on the American Continent. The classification will be on most liberal lines, every known breed having classes provided, and the prize money and list of specials are on a scale that has never hitherto been attempted. With such valuable inducements and the fact that Philadelphia the Venue of the show, is sure to be full of visitors, it can be taken for granted that no kennel of any importance can afford not to be represented. I have been invited and have accepted the invitation to judge Belgium Sheepdogs, Fox Spaniels, Brussels Griffons, Italian Greyhounds, Japanese Spaniels, Pekingeses and Irish Wolfhounds.

GEORGE LYDIATT MAKES FOX TERRIERS POPULAR AT VANCOUVER KENNEL CLUB SHOW.

Mr. George Lydiatt, late of Redcliff, Alta., and now at Vancouver, is very proud of the showing of his Terriers at Seattle and Vancouver lately. At the Vancouver Kennel Club All Breed show held on Good Friday and Saturday, his Ch. Crack 'Em Lad went to Winners in Wires, and at the same show his Sweet bith, Ch. Olcliffe Sappul won for best Wire-Haired Fox Terrier in show, best Terrier any breed, and reserve for best dog in show, all breeds. But even better than the above, as far as George is concerned, is the fact that Ch. Olcliffe Sappul is now in whelp to Olcliffe Captivate, and naturally this mating is being specially guarded.

CHAMPION OLCLIFFE SAPPUL
One of our best wire bitches—best in the East—best in the West.

Olcliffe Captivate has Olcliffe Gingerback busy tending to her family duties morning, noon and night, and at the same time Ormsby Frisky is doing similar duty for a litter by the same sire, and it should be noted that this female, Ormsby Frisky, is the dam of the puppy Saddleback, that won so nicely at both fixtures and was robbed out of the championship points by Olcliffe Captivate, and the youngster has his own idea of that beating. The sire of Saddleback is none other than Ormsby General, who is producing such wonderful puppies for Mr. Jas. F. Strachan at Montreal.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The Toronto Kennel Club held one of its best shows at Toronto, on April 2nd and 3rd, and it has been responsible for many good shows during its long and honorable existence as an all-breed show giving club. This year the club was successful in securing the judicial services of the noted Anglo-American judge, Mr. George S. Thomas, of Hamilton, Mass., although Mr. Thomas' English address would find him oftener, as the greater part of each year has been spent there in recent years and reference to the English classic of dog journalism, our contemporary, "Our Dogs," will always show that the versatile George is a very popular judge "over 'ome," where his services are always in great demand. In his work he always was master and the dogs that got his opinion were rated correctly as he seen them. There were odd fanciers who differed from him, some of these told him he was wrong; some told him out loud, some out low, in a whisper, perhaps, but this display of poor sportsmanship only ended in a losing battle for the complainers as usual. A warning of complaint to the Canadian Kennel Club ended one argument effectively, whilst an American fancier of huge proportions with a dog away beyond the standard size was handled nicely and the judge never turned a hair; both of these parties should pat themselves on the back that their troubles are permitted to end with this light exposure.

President Jack McNaughton had lined up one of the best bunch of helpers that we ever noticed at a Toronto Kennel Club Show before and he will be well advised to hold on to their services for future reference. They were not too many, but all were good. His secretary, Arthur Hanson, and his superintendent, Peter Herd, deserve special mention in this respect. Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. F. Tomkins may be rated as the best brace of workers that ever assisted Toronto Kennel Club at any time. The president was loud in his praises for the work put into this show. 353 dogs were benched, which gave the show a 3 point rating towards championship and several dogs finished the championship race here. Montreal dogs were obliged to forego the pleasure of attending the show owing to the rabies restrictions now in force in that good doggie city, a hardship that we believe will not be removed for some time to come.

Russian Wolfhounds, Collies, Alsatian Shepherd Dogs, Bulldogs, Boston Terriers, Cocker Spaniels, Pomeranians, Pekingese—the largest entry, 46 dogs—were the big entries, and Mr. Thomas was much impressed with the general high grade of many of these breeds. Irish Terriers were a small but select entry, one of which distinguished itself by taking the premier honor of the show. This dog was the noted winner, John G. Bates' Blarney's Better'n Begorra, handled smartly by that veteran handler, Billy Livesy, of Madison, N.J., and begorra, it was a worthy dog to win the honors.

The building was, as usual, the fly in the ointment, and it is worthy of note that good buildings are always available to dog shows in Great Britain, on the Continent, and in the United States whilst in the Dominion of Canada, with its great abundance of splendid dogs, and good fanciers find a tremendous problem on their hands when they come to look for a dog show building, and we are advised that Toronto Kennel Club was obliged to rent their building for two months in order to make sure of shelter for two days, so a spirit of that kind cannot be criticized without giving offence. Outside of this drawback and one day of dirty weather, everything else was O.K. Following are the awards:

Oh, please don't make me laugh. Really, I know how good I am. But Mr. Thomas said that I was A "knock-out." Leave it to "George." He knows a "real 'un" when he sees it. Ha! Ha! Ha! and I'm it.

BY-TOWN KENNELS GETTING READY.

Doctor and Mrs. Webster of the By-Town Kennels, have arrived back in Canada, after wintering delightfully in Sunny Florida, and are taking stock of their Wire-Haired Fox Terrier holdings, already—a litter of five, out of By-Town Bridesmaid and by Mr. Henry Whitley's crack Terrier, Kold Kash. Mrs. Webster very properly draws our attention to the fact that Donington Irish Rose, of Prides Hill, the beautiful little bitch that went to Winners at New York under Judge Winthrop Rutherford, was out of By-Town Benshee, and that Benshee was a litter sister to the noted Cr. By-Town Bit O'White. She further nails us down to noticing that every By-Town Terrier at New York show was either at the top or knocking at the garret door. (Well, what about it, Mrs. Webster? That's where the By-Town dogs have always been.—Ed.).

On the way back to Canada, Mrs. Webster heard that she had a corking young puppy, waiting to get the "once over" from her as soon as she reached Ottawa; but Mrs. Webster is a cautious fancier, and she says "I have not seen it yet—and seeing is believing." We hope when she sees this youngster that it will be so good that she will have trouble in believing what she does see.

A full sister to Cr. By-Town Bit O'White was purchased in Richmond, Virginia, on the way home, and will be used in the brood kennel for results later.

Skin Afflictions of Young Puppies

By LILLIAN C. RAYMOND-MALLOCK, England

IF there is one thing more than another upon which the careful breeder can pride herself it is the fact that her puppies always have perfectly healthy skins. This means you may be quite sure that they have been well cared for and properly fed, and that, barring accidents, they should grow up in the right way. Skin affections are at the root of many puppy evils, but, like worms, rickets and all such abominations, they can be prevented, if the proper precautions are taken. Any skin disease, however slight, becomes a source of great annoyance, not only to the puppy, but to its owner. The skin of young puppies is exceedingly sensitive and delicate, and a continual irritation such as a rough, wet or dirty bed, would probably cause a rash and intense discomfort to the unfortunate infants. Indigestion is likewise indicated by clusters of small red spots on the belly, and under the legs. This rash, however, does not cause much irritation, and should be dusted with starch powder and magnesia. But if fresh crops of spots appear, bathe the affected spots with Cook's Asepo soap, 3 per cent. Bino-dide, and after drying, dab on the following prescription, which is also worth its weight in gold to clear off any kind of pimples, or the like:

Skin Lotion For Puppies.

Milk of sulphur, 1 oz.; glycerine borax, 2 oz.; camphor water, 8 oz. Shake well and apply several times daily. It is perfectly harmless and will not irritate in any shape or form. It is also wise to give the puppy a course of citrate soda to correct any tendency to acidity. Dose from 1 to 2½ grains, three times daily, after food, according to age. This is another perfectly harmless drug and of immense value in puppy rearing. I give it to all my young puppies, and also to the nursing mothers, consequently we are seldom troubled with indigestion or gastric attacks. Magnesia in any form is beneficial both for external and internal use, and again it is quite harmless even in the hands of the veriest novice. The ordinary puppy rash is an eruption which sometimes attacks pups when they first leave their mother, due to the change of diet, and also possibly to the fact that the infants are not properly assimilating the food given to them, and that it does not altogether agree with them. This form of rash has the appearance of a bright red moist surface covered with dried-up discharge in the form of a crust or scab, or the skin may be spotted with small pimples. The most common parts to be affected are the belly and groins, though the inside of joints are also frequently attacked.

Teething will also cause irritation and eczema. This latter is a troublesome thing to get rid of, and relapses are common.

In treating eczema or any other sort of skin irritation, one must first seek for the cause, which is commonly some error in diet, i.e., bringing up the puppies on starchy foods, and too big meals, thus causing irritation of the bowels, indigestion, and irritation of the skin. Benbow's Dog Mixture or some other blood tonic should be given, and the puppy fed principally on scraped raw beef, and dry Marie biscuits. Milk or milk foods should be avoided. It is of course essential that the bowels be well looked to, and opening medicines given from time to time. I find one or two Carter's Little Liver Pills very useful for puppies. They will be readily swallowed if rolled up in a small piece of meat, and their action is very mild and helpful.

Ringworm luckily is unknown in well-kept kennels, but it is not always recognized, and for that reason I shall describe it here. This complaint is caused not by a worm, but by a vegetable fungus. It is very contagious. The first indication is a dull red circular patch, often covered with little scales. This patch slowly increases in size, fading somewhat in the centre as it spreads. The hairs in the affected part break off near the surface, leaving a bald patch. They do not drop out by the roots. These broken off hairs are very characteristic of the disease. The treatment consists of destroying the fungus which is the real cause of the trouble, and to do this the affected parts should first be cleansed with hot water and Cook's Asepo soap, and then tincture of Iodine painted on, and the operation repeated about once a day until a cure has been accomplished. The careful breeder will examine her puppies thoroughly every day to see that their coats and skin are in a perfectly healthy condition, and if pimples or any eruption appears, the cause must immediately be sought out and corrected. I am not dealing with serious skin complaints, but merely with what is commonly called "puppy rash," which, however, may very soon become serious if neglected. It should always be remembered that it is easier to prevent than to cure affections of the skin, and that well cared for puppies should never have anything the matter with their skins, beyond an occasional pimple.

COURTESY IN THE RING

LAST month we had an article on Sportsmanship and Misrepresentation, and we have been immensely encouraged through the fact that many of our members took the time to 'phone or write us saying that the article was appreciated, and so, we take this opportunity to say a word on "Courtesy in the Ring." Fortunately, it is not at all a common practice to take discourtesy into the ring with one's dog, and a judge's decision is almost invariably taken with a "thank you, sir." To this there is the odd exception, and once in a while we have the pitiful spectacle of a fancier so far forgetting himself as to throw a dirty look in the judge's direction, or to pass a mean remark directly or indirectly at the judge. At Ottawa, last September, an exhibitor asked one of our most gentlemanly judges "if he knew anything about a certain brand of dog." On receiving a courteous reply in the affirmative to his most insultingly insinuating interrogation, he very promptly came back with "Like h— you do." At the National Kennel Club shows of 1925 and 1926, little disgraceful incidents were noticed. At the Toronto Kennel Club show a fellow had a dog in the ring that he had a very high opinion of, but Mr. Thomas—who judged the show—did not see eye to eye with the exhibitor and there was a "scene." The following class the exhibitor had his dog at the gate, and the judge courteously asked the exhibitor if he was going to bring his dog in? "Oh, what's the use," was the tantalizing reply. Later, another person brought the dog in for another class, but the judge's trained eye noticed the substitution of handlers and excused the exhibit. All these little exhibitions of lack of control on the part of exhibitors over themselves are all very regrettable and must, sooner or later, be eliminated if the prestige of our judges is to be maintained.

Sometimes a fancier will imbibe too freely and, as a result, forgets that he is a gentleman, and says something nasty to a judge or a show official that should never have been said, but, being under the influence of liquor does not let a man out when he appears before the magistrate, neither will the condition be in his favor when his transgression comes before those to whom the affairs of the Canadian Kennel Club have to be placed for attention.

Eastern Canada has no monopoly of lack of courtesy in the dog show ring, and reports from Western shows sometimes reveal a "fall from grace" on the part of some one. And whilst we are always inclined to take a broad view of the happenings at a dog show, still the prestige of our judges must be maintained at all costs. The Canadian Kennel Club leaves a perfect freedom in the selection of judges to every show giving club, therefore, we expect that club executives will be zealous in only selecting the ablest men for the judicial work at their shows. Men that the club will respect, their exhibitors will respect, and men who the Canadian Kennel Club can uphold in the event of such irregularities as have been mentioned being brought to their attention by some outraged judge.

At the risk of repeating what has already been said, we again point out the important fact, that a show-giving club declares its intention to run a dog show; they secure the services of a judge that they have confidence in as to ability and fairness; the premium list is sent out with all particulars plus an entry form. The exhibitor has the sole right of saying whether he subscribes to the judgment of the show-giving club in their several offerings, such as prizes, building and judge. If he agrees, he enters his dog and signs the entry form, which establishes his acceptance of the contract, and so, he should be prepared to abide by the consequences. To do otherwise is not only bad business, but shows a terrific lack of self-respect and self-control. If your dog wins, "Mr. So-and-So is a fine judge," so you tell yourself and your friends. If the dog loses, "Mr. So-and-So is a rotter," so you tell yourself and your friends. The arrangement, like oil and water, simply will not mix, and the whole thing redounds to your discomfiture. You have been foolish—first, with yourself, and then with everybody else. You know you have been a fool; your friends agree with you; but your foolishness has perhaps caused someone untold unhappiness, and perhaps has caused him to cogitate with himself—as to whether he should continue the thankless task of judging dogs for any club. Perhaps the most pitiful object at a dog show is the disgruntled exhibitor declaring that "the judge" does not know a good dog "when he sees it," or that "the judge is a crook." Verily such an exhibitor is unbearable. If the judge agrees with you, thank him; if he disagrees with you, give him credit for knowing his business, and in finding out the shortcomings of your dog, and if you don't feel like thanking him, then, for goodness sake, hold your feelings in subjection, leave the ring with the best grace at your command, and hold your council to yourself. And another thing to always remember to do is this: The fellow who listens so sympathetically to your tale of woe, and whom you think is such a good friend, will be quite liable to say, "So-and-So is a darned grouch, he sure makes me sick, he's a real miserymonger; I wish I hadn't come to this show at all."

Now, if you are a good judge of your own dog; if you think no one could judge your dog and give the dog justice, then don't enter your dog at the dog shows, let the dog stay at home and judge him yourself as often as you like. But, on the other hand, if you think something worth while of Mr. So-and-So's opinion of dogs generally, and your breed particularly, give him the credit that is his just due. If you don't agree with his opinion as given, that's all right, and your privilege, but as Harold Lloyd would say, "For heaven's sake" don't say that the judge is a crook. Go into the ring smiling, sober, and respectful, and if perchance he steals your smile away from you, you can always deny him the right of purloining your sense of respectability, your gentlemanliness, your respectability and your sportsmanship.

Refuse to be a grouch yourself, and refuse to associate with that breed. Be a man!

OUR FRONTISPIECE.

One of our latest champions is the noted Russian Wolfhound, Ch. Romanoff Peterhoff, a striking white dog with brindle head markings, sired by Bolivia of Glenwild out of the producing daughter of Ch. Johnston's Kislenko, Kisamis of Kingswood, Bolivin of Glenwild, being Ch. Duke Boris of Cliffview Manor, out of Ch. Neva Romanoff, who, in turn, was sired by Boris Romanoff; therefore not only is the new champion the get of many champions, but he is also quite a Romanoff by his breeding.

Ch. Romanoff Peterhoff has won seventeen prizes, twelve of these were Blues and five were Royal Purples. Ever since he made his debut at Peterboro Industrial Exhibition in 1924 as a puppy, his stock has been at, or near, par. He has competed at ten shows, taking the competition and the judges as they came along, and this at a time when the breed has always been strongly represented with dogs of an admittedly high order, champions and International champions often competing, some of which have gone to best dog in show, any breed, many times. At Toronto Kennel Club all breed show held on April 2nd and 3rd, the internationally noted all-round judge, Mr. George S. Thomas, fresh from the judging rings of Great Britain, was much impressed with the new champion, but it was no snap decision, as will be remembered by the ringsiders who were privileged to watch Mr. Thomas put his open class of five through their paces, and finally his measuring up of the qualities of his winner and reserve winners dogs. They will also remember the thunderous applause that greeted the decision that made another champion worthy of the distinction; they will further remember the demonstration of affection as displayed between the new champion and his proud owner, Mrs. A. Patterson, Brantford, Ont. It surely was a great win, and well won.

The picture on the front cover is just a snap that was taken hurriedly, yet it shows a dog of dignified bearing, proud and pretty; a specimen that would thrill that great patroness of the breed, the Duchess of Newcastle herself. Perfectly balanced head, clean sloping shoulders, long back, well arched, powerful loins and well developed thighs, and carrying a wonderful coat on the day; in fact, one of the sweetest male Russian Wolfhounds ever bred in the Dominion, and a credit to the breeder, to the breed, and to the Russian Wolfhound Club of Canada that has been so active for the betterment of the breed since its formation.

"JOE" DOWNEY DEAD.

Coming past the office of the Toronto Telegram a moment ago, we paused to notice how the Toronto ball team was making out at Baltimore, after their two beatings yesterday, and the first thing that caught our eye on the bulletin was "Joseph P. Downey, Ontario Hospital, Orillia, dead, 61 years."

Mr. Downey was an old friend, and a good friend, so much so that we denied ourselves the celebrating of a perfectly good new year, Scotch style in 1924 to visit Orillia and look over the "Origine" Collies as his guest and at his request. The memory of his disappointment when we refused to accept—as a remembrance of the visit—a sweet bitch puppy of the highest lineage, will long remain. An ex-member of the Ontario Legislature, he was a finished debater and to cross him on the question of collies called for much experience, and a lot of diplomacy. However, whether you won or lost, the vested battle made no difference to the hospitality, and so, a day with our late friend was always enjoyable. Collies here and collies there—and there, a high-powered car, with Miss Downey at the wheel as special chauffeur for her "Daddy," and we soon encompassed any area however extensive. His stud dog, Barronore Britton (21115), by Ch. Knockladye King Hector (formerly Weardale Lord), who was by the famous Ch. Ormskirk Foxall, was out of Eltham Park Primrose (imp.), and she was by Ch. Seedley Victorious, always threw typical puppies, which, farm-raised, as they invariably were, always lent color to the landscape, and as you came within earshot you would see a beautiful bunch of golden yellow and white come tearing towards you, mad as the dickens to look at, but with their tails wagging an eloquent welcome all the time. We promised to go to Orillia for a day and nominate the entry for Toronto Kennel Club show, but was quite unable to fulfil the promise; now, we will have to wait for a later meeting, perhaps under happier auspices.

All Toronto daily newspapers carried editorials which helped to show how the community of Orillia had lost a valued friend, and the country generally a popular citizen.

We mourn with his family in their bereavement and bespeak for them the sympathy of the Canadian fancy in their irreparable loss.

THE KADIO KENNELS.

Mrs. G. Foster, Toronto, is experiencing a continuation of wonderful success with her Pekingese, both of her imported Stud dogs siring excellent stock that is finding a ready market in Canada and in the United States. Not only that, but United States breeders, with all their noted imported sires to draw from, are actually sending their females to the Kadio Kennels for service. Only recently, females from Akron, Ohio; St. Paul, Minn.; Albouguerage, Mexico; whilst Kadio Brilliantine, a bitch that Mrs. Foster was hiding away for the summer show, was discovered and is now the property of Mrs. H. Crome, Mexico, in exchange for a cheque that was too tempting to be denied. This buyer purchased another female and an orange-shaded Pom. A nice little black Pom has been shipped to Manitocoe, Wis.

"TURK" McBEE LIKES TORONTO BULLDOGS.

Mr. "Turk" McBee, Greenville, South Carolina, has just completed judging Bulldogs at Huntingdon, Ind., where he enjoyed an entry of 46 "sour mugs," several of which were from Canada.

From a letter to hand from Mr. McBee, we gather that he had believed that all the good bulldogs had left Canada last fall, and he was pleasantly surprised to find in the entry of Mr. James Cassina, Toronto, an entry of real merit. Int. Ch. Dauntless Dan and Int. Ch. St. Roche Girl Guide took the versatile Carolinian's eye, and he considers the above two dogs well worthy of their high honors. Beach Park Dominator was another good one that was preferred over his Kennel mate Beach Park Dictator on account of a better sweep of underjaw and as a born shower. On the circuits across the line Mr. Cassina has experienced a wonderful and continued streak of winnings, several times being in with the best for the best Specials.

THE LONDON SHOW.

Shows may come—and shows may not come—but the old reliable London Canine Association can be depended upon to stage each year its annual Spring show. This good dog club is one of the few clubs that successfully puts on two dog shows each year under Canadian Kennel Club rules—its Spring show and the Fall show held each year in connection with the Western Fair at London.

There is every evidence of a great deal of hard work and hard-thinking in preparation for the annual Spring event this year. The dates set aside, May 26th and 27th, are particularly attractive, as by that time the weather man will have himself well under control, and "Old Sol" will have obliged by making all roads to London just what they ought to be.

In the selection of judges for the London show, the committee has been fortunate. The list is made up of Lt.-Col. J. N. McRae of Paris, who will judge the Alsatian entry; Mr. Harry Waldron, Secretary of the Boston Terrier Club, of Detroit, for Boston Terriers and Mr. W. F. Livesay of Madison, N.J., all other breeds. Colonel McRae and Mr. Waldron are well-known specialists. Mr. Livesay is one of the best all-rounders of the day. His knowledge of all breeds cannot be disputed. The fact that he has been too occupied to accept judging engagements and that this is the first time he has judged in Canada since he judged the Toronto Kennel Club show eight years ago, should be a point that will draw entries for the London show.

It would have been difficult to find a trio of judges to match these three men in the confidence of the fancy—they are all of sterling worth.

London has first claim on the support this Spring. The Association is offering a wide open premium list, plus reliable judges, and an opportunity to get our championship points. What more can any club do? Let us show our appreciation by making the committee hustle to the making of extra benches to take care of the extra influx of dogs, that we will surprise them with at this show.

Vancouver Kennel Club Show

The fifth annual show of this progressive organization was held at Hastings Park, Vancouver, B.C., on April 2nd and 3rd, when 258 dogs were benched. The President, Dr. T. R. R. Hoggan, M.R.C.F.S., one of our old timers in Canadian dogdom, and a staunch friend of the Irish Terrier has been successful in gathering around his standard many of the best fanciers of his Province, and this combination was responsible for this successful show. Dr. W. G. Ballard was veterinary, he is a bulldog fancier and knows when a dog is in health when he looks into its eyes. Mrs. E. A. Dunn, the Secretary, is a team worker and accomplishes great things every time she sets out to help in any activity, her returns to headquarters are invariably prompt and well prepared. Mr. Nat McConnell was show superintendent, and it was said that if "Nat" would only give the same colossal attention to his own business that he gives to the dog game he would soon become one of British Columbia's wealthy men. At show time he forgets everything else and goes to the dogs heartily and on both feet.

Mr. Jack F. Lakin, late of Toronto, and now of San Francisco was judge of all breeds, a report has it that his work was as good as most, and better than many who have been given this important position at dog shows at the coast. We expected to receive Mr. Lakin's own report on the show, and in fact we were asked to wait for it, but as we write this the calendar reads, "Apr'l 30th," so we must hurry along. However, we notice that he found the very charming Ch. Marvel of Avandale as his best dog in show, and this sweet little lady no doubt deserved the ultra distinction. She is the property of that sterling Winnipeg sportsman, Mr. E. Chevrier, and was piloted to the premier place by Mr. George Kynoch who has had an extremely successful tour all along the Pacific Coast. Best opposite sex was won by Mr. Gerald L. Stock's imported Ch. Ckong Yung Shi. This specimen was entered for "Specials Only," and apparently no ring steward was able to induce Mr. Stock that in order to compete for the specials he would have to appear in the regular classes. We regret to notice this evil at the shows on the coast, a dog entered "Not for Competition," or "For Specials Only," or "For Exhibition Only." Any dog so entered is governed by dog show rule 21, which is extremely explicit and reads: "Dogs may be entered for exhibition or for specials only if so stated on the entry blank, but dogs entered in this manner must be entered in one of the following classes, in which they shall not compete." The idea of entering a dog "For Specials Only" and then competing in the regular and Winners class is a practise that is foreign to our dog show rules and should be discountenanced as such by every exhibitor.

Possibly we should not have introduced the foregoing paragraph into this report since we have no complaint with Vancouver Kennel Club in this respect, and we hope Dr. Hoggan will excuse the liberty we take here, as the reference is only made for the good of the game generally.

Best sporting was awarded Mr. J. J. Cottle's choice English Setter Ch. Racketts Rummy, and we congratulate Mr. Cottle on his dog finishing the championship race at this meet. Best non-sporting went to Ch. Playfair Let's Go, and by the same token we notice that the owner was another old timer in the Canadian dog game, Mr. J. S. Playfair. The other specials seem to have been given to specimens worthy of winning them.

A SIGN OF SUMMER AND OF SHOWS.

The climax of social events given by The Ladies' Kennel Club, Montreal, this winter, took place on Wednesday evening, April 14th, in St. Anthony's Church hall. The rear of the hall was converted into a veritable fairyland. In this wonderland beneath an arch of Easter lilies, ferns and smilax, the guests were received by the club's officers, Mrs. J. H. Enright, Mrs. John W. Fawcett, Mrs. Geo. Domus, and Mrs. Fred H. Goodfellow. The hall and stage were profusely decorated with Easter lilies, palms, ferns and smilax (about two thousand lilies being used). A table with the special prizes was placed on the stage, and the three electric lamps thereon fully illuminated, added an extra attraction. The lamps were presented by Mr. John T. Neville, Mr. John W. Fawcett and Mr. R. A. Ross, respectively. Other prizes consisted of a beautiful cut glass bowl, given by Mr. E. Briffa and a silver cake basket donated by Jas. A. O'Gilvy, Ltd. A prize was also given by the club for each table. Cards were played at nearly a hundred tables and Miss Mary Mulhern, late of Scotland, made her debut in Montreal as a pianist, and richly deserved the whole-hearted applause accorded her.

The club's president thanked all those who in any way had helped to make their undertakings so successful. She said she was glad to be able to welcome the friends of the Ladies' Kennel Club to her parochial hall, where since childhood she had been accustomed to hear from the pulpit upstairs the exhortation as it were, "Show me your friends and I'll tell you what you are." She said she was proud to introduce the clergy of St. Anthony's, and proud on this occasion to show them her friends and associates of The Ladies' Kennel Club.

Rev. Jas. J. Flood then addressing the assemblage said that he was glad to meet the members of The Ladies' Kennel Club, and their friends, and that he would be pleased to meet each one personally, those of them who were interested in "Man's best friend," the dog, and he hoped that soon the muzzling order would be rescinded. According to his observation the dogs were not very comfortable with their muzzles on. In conclusion, Father Flood said that the Ladies' Kennel Club would always have a hearty welcome from him to hold their entertainments in St. Anthony's Hall.

Harry B. Hungerford, Belleville, Ont., All-Rounder at California

After a few months more than ten years our friend, "Mountaineer" Hungerford, has been selected to judge all breeds at the fashionable society dog show to be held by the Del Monte Kennel Club at San Francisco, California, on June 12th and 13th. We mention the 10-year period to bring out an historic epoch that should not be permitted to drop out of the history book, and we will refer to it later. But at present we wish to draw attention to the fact that Mr. Hungerford, although generally rated as a Collie specialist, he is really an all-round judge, as good as they come and better than most. True, he has not been before the show-going public very much in recent years, but that was more his fault than theirs, for the reason that he was too busy to give his time to the work. At Del Monte show he will start in again and the chances are that in future he will be just as busy judging as he wants to be.

Now we will tell you the "ten-year" story, and leave it to you to judge the circumstance on its merits. The name of this story might well be termed "Bribing the Judge." At Spokane show held during March, 1916, it was referred to as "a millionaire's show," and many noted dogs were benched by exhibitors of influence, affluence and wealth. Many of the exhibits were dogs of fame, so, on one end of a lead would be a society dame and on the other end a canine aristocrat, and judges being just humans, both ends of the lead would be worth looking at, at least once, perhaps twice, possibly oftener than that. Anyway, "Mountaineer" Hungerford got through the regular classification nicely and had arrived at general specials with no complaints from any source. When the special for best dog in show was called the elite of the 300 dogs entered came to the ring. Amongst them a colored lady with a Scottish Terrier, the expert eye travelled past the "rustling of silk" and the "pampered pet," and finally drew up in front of "old mammie an' her dawg." "Mammie" meant nothing to H. B., she being on the off end of the lead. But that "Scottie" could not be denied, and so the "wee callant frae Aiberdeen" won the coveted "glory of the show." The "high brow" exhibitors stood aghast at the spectacle of a "Coal Black Mamma" with the treasured trophy held close to her heart on the one hand, and the unabashed Canadian judge on the other, a regular nightmare of a combination, and it has taken ten long years for the incident to be forgiven, and as far as Mr. Hungerford is personally concerned it could have been ten more.

When the versatile judge from Belleville started to leave the show building, he was advised by a smart official that he had made a terrible blunder in giving the best special to a colored lady. Mr. Hungerford with righteous indignation replied that he gave the special for the best dog in the show to the best dog in the show, and as he was brought to Spokane to judge dogs, he was satisfied that no mistake had been made. At this juncture the "Old Mammie" grabbed Mr. Hungerford by the shoulders with a vice-like grip, and in her soft southern voice said: "Lor' bless your heart, chile, you-all done give me de best prize in dis hyah show, dat wuthles little good ole dawg o' mine he turns now to be pow'ful good. I want to thank you-all judge, an' if you-all could come down to ma house, I would sure cook you-all some genuine fried chicken and corn pones—Lordy, lordy, dis am some day!"

Mr. Hungerford says that in all his experience this is the only bribe he was ever offered—and that he felt like accepting it.

"WHERE A MILLION DOLLARS IS SMALL CHANGE."

The above caption readily calls to mind, first, "Coral Gables," and second, Miami, Florida, where fortunes are, or were, made overnight, not so long ago. But, that is nothing for us to worry over, and it don't mean much to dogs, still, we bet there are dog-lovers there, too. For instance, Mr. S. P. Picken, late assistant secretary of the Montreal Kennel Association, Ltd., is now down in that land where it is always June, amongst the buccaneers and the land pirates, and better than that, he has his family with him, and still better, his Irish Setters and Wire-haired Fox Terriers are already in this "Summerland" even as we write.

Miami is too new to be much of a dog city yet, still the Dade County Fair in Miami each summer, and for the coming show Mr. Picken has been invited, and has accepted, the invitation to judge the sporting dogs at the show.

On a recent afternoon whilst scouting around, Mr. Picken ran into Mr. Forrest Lord, of Sherbrooke, Que., who had a bunch of the Russian Wolfhounds that Mr. Charles G. Hopton writes so enthusiastically. Of course the two from "Old Quebec" had to shake hands at least, and while they were at it the crowds that stopped to "see the dogs" became so dense that police interference was required to disperse them, sounds like a healthy market for some good dogs, eh?

In closing we mention that Mr. Picken wishes to be remembered to "that old gang of—his."

(Picken is a pretty sly old fox at that. Slipping the snow for the sunshine—and leaving the rest of us to do the shovelling.—Ed.)

SOFT-HEARTED HANNAH—HARD-HEARTED HARRY

HARKING IN TO THE HOUNDS

By W. J. ARCHIBALD.

TO all fellow sportsmen in whose veins courses the red blood fed by their love of the great out-of-doors, and particularly to those who love the gun and the old hound, and are content to tramp across the fields over the hills and through the swamps, thrilled to the finger tips by that music dear to the heart of all true hunters of old "Ring" in full cry, The Central Ontario Beagle Club extends hearty greetings.

You will agree that there is no more pleasant way to spend an evening than to sit around the fireside with a bunch of kindred spirits "Talking Dog." Naturally, that dog is always a Hound, and how much there is to say about him! I have been talking Hound for thirty years and have not exhausted the subject yet. Only last week I sat up till 2 o'clock in the morning, discussing hound matters with a couple of friends and enjoyed every minute of it. Through the columns of Kennel & Bench I want to have just a chat with you hound men throughout the Province of Ontario, and right here let me say, we all owe a debt of gratitude to "Rod and Gun in Canada" for the splendid work they are doing in the interests of clean sport and the preservation of game in Canada. So many enquiries have come to hand recently by reason of the activities of the Central Ontario Beagle Club, asking for information regarding the club, field trials, and bench shows, that I decided the time was ripe for this little chat about our friend, the hound.

First of all, to clear the atmosphere so that we may understand each other from the beginning, I must explain my own position. Frequently I am asked the question, "What are you, a Foxhound man, doing in the Beagle Club?" My answer is this, "Because there is no Foxhound club to work in at present," and, further, I am going to prove to you, from my view point, that I was not only justified in associating myself with the Central Ontario Beagle Club, but believe it was my duty to become a member.

For over thirty years I have loved the Foxhound, have bred, trained, hunted, and exhibited him at bench shows, and I love him to-day more than ever. So great is my love for him, that I grieve at the manner in which he has been and still is, neglected. The finest sporting gun dog on earth, and yet no organized effort being made in his behalf! Just stop for a moment and view the situation seriously. Throughout the country I believe there are more Foxhounds than any other single breed of dogs, and yet how poor the type! An old thing that looks like a Hound seems good enough! In my lengthy experience I have visited many camps, having from four to ten Hounds, with only one or perhaps two out of the bunch worth the transportation charges, paid to get them there, and in several cases I have known parties who destroyed all their dogs rather than pay the transportation charges home.

Speaking generally, little or no attention has been paid to the breeding and training of this noble dog, and no fixed type or standard has been established. The motley exhibit of Foxhounds at our bench shows gives further evidence of this fact. Oh, yes! I know, for I have heard it as well as you, everywhere I go, men bragging about what a wonderful Foxhound they have, and many of them are honest in their belief that they have a wonderful Hound, because they know no different, never having seen a real Hound perform, and never having had their dog in real classy company.

To sum the situation up, I think I am safe in saying that, taking the country as a whole, one good dog in a district, or one out of every twenty Hounds, would be a fair average.

Now, then, for the application. For years I have dreamed of a Foxhound organization, men who would work in a united effort for the betterment of our favorite Hound, to place him in his proper position in dogdom, from the background to the forefront, from the position of an unpopular breed to that of the most popular breed at our dog shows. But my dream has not yet come true.

This was the condition existing when the Central Ontario Beagle Club was born, and later when I was invited to join the club I did so willingly, as did several other Foxhound men, believing that by so doing we would have an opportunity to do our part at least in creating an interest in the future welfare of the Hound in Canada. The results so far have more than justified our action. Now you will understand why I am going to talk Central Ontario Beagle Club and try to tell you in as few words as possible what it has accomplished in three short years. The object of the club is to promote the welfare of the Beagle and his owner. The first move made amongst the members was to discard all the dogs whose breeding was not known, and to secure as a foundation, pure-bred registered dogs of known blood and quality, both on the bench and in the field, and then in breeding to use great care and discretion in choosing stud dogs, whose blood lines and records were what was required in the young stock. Meetings of the club were held at which round table talks were enjoyed. The merit or demerit of certain dogs were discussed, the most desirable crosses to be made, and many other interesting topics, until things developed into shape to talk field trials, and bench shows, and in due time these were forthcoming. Three having been successfully staged, the results of which have more than justified the efforts of the club. The standard of the Beagle has been improved to such a marked degree as exemplified at the field trials, and at the Canadian National Exhibition dog show last fall, that now nothing but the best need apply, and added to this, interest in the Beagle has grown apace all over the Province.

Toronto, and his Canadian-bred American Foxhound, Champion Archibald's Commodore, by Archibald's Skipper, ex Ch. Archibald's Lady Belle, a black, white and tan marked hound of ideal size and conformation, who won his championship at the best shows; i.e., Canadian National Exhibition, Hamilton Kennel Club, National Kennel Club and Toronto Kennel Club. And he is just as much at home on the field as on the bench, and an ideal pal to his master.

Another outstanding thing accomplished through the efforts of the club, was the securing of special Hound judges for the Canadian National Exhibition for the past two years, a long felt need amongst the Hound fanciers, for the Foxhounds and Beagles had been tacked on to the tail-end of the list of whatever judge had time to do the job, and in most instances such a judge hardly knew which was the Foxhound and which the Beagle.

Personally, I am surprised and delighted with the progress made in these three years. For three years I have had the honor of being appointed one of the judges at the field trials, and last fall had the added honor of judging the bench show, so am in a position to speak authoritatively of what I have seen, a marked improvement in standard of quality and type, together with greatly improved performance in the field. This speaks volumes for the work of the Central Ontario Beagle Club and the work is only in its pioneer stages as yet.

By way of digression, let me ask here, "Brother Foxhound Man, What are you doing in the interest of your favorite Hound?" You can make a good beginning by becoming a member of the Central Ontario Beagle Club, giving it your moral and financial support. Every great movement has had a small beginning, and the Beagle is the little brother of the Foxhound. May we not, by our united efforts, carry this good work along to greater and more far-reaching proportions, when the Foxhound will be included in a decisive definite way, not in an indirect way, as at present.

Do not forget, that all of us who love the sport of hunting, and who love a good Hound, and are interested in his welfare, owe a debt of gratitude to the Central Ontario Beagle Club for the work it is doing, and if you are a real he-man, the kind of fellow I believe you are, you owe it to yourself, and you owe it to your Hound to vigorously support this club. Your support and your Hound are in danger not only because of the depreciation of the good qualities in the Hound, but also by reason of an organized effort which is on foot quietly, but surely, working for the purpose of influencing the Government to place a ban on the hunting of deer with dogs. Brother Houndmen, let us stir ourselves and get busy. Let us show our love for the Hound in a practical way, by doing something for him. Every last man can help by joining the Central Ontario Beagle Club, thus showing your sympathy with the movement and giving it your moral support. It will surprise you how your interest will grow when you become a member. The concentrated knowledge and experience of the entire membership will be at your disposal. You will benefit, the club will benefit, and the Hound will benefit.

Our Secretary, Mr. Emerson Robertson, 38 Follis Ave., Toronto, is giving unsparingly of his time and energy in the interests of the club and its work. He is an enthusiastic hunter himself, and in his capacity as secretary of the club, is in constant touch with the secretaries of all the important Beagle and Foxhound clubs in the United States, and has gathered a vast fund of valuable information regarding the "Hound." The best blood-lines, the standard type, the most successful methods of handling and training, etc., etc. Mr. Robertson will be glad to hear from you at any time, either with a suggestion you may have to offer, or a request for information.

In another article I will try to give an idea of the requirements necessary in a field trial and bench show dog, and how to attain them.

SPILLERS PHOTOGRAPHIC PUPPY SHOW AWARDS.

The Puppy Photographic Contest succeeded in drawing a photographic show of literally "thousands of entries" and the judging of the show was no sinecure for those ladies and gentlemen who so bravely undertook so gigantic a task.

Out of the 56 classes which were open to competition, we are officially notified that three classes were won in Canada, i.e., Class 21, for Pointers and Setters (dogs): 1st, Mr. Patrick Doyle (he was 74 years old the other day, March 7th, to be exact), 220 St. Martin's Street, Montreal, Que.; 2nd, Mr. Robert Flinton, 117 Wardle Road, Wardle, Rochdale, England; 3rd, Mr. T. Whalen, Merryton, Hamilton, Scotland. Class 22, for Pointers and Setters (bitches): 1st, Mr. Patrick Doyle, Montreal. Class 25, fifth prize to Mrs. Zeba Bond, 423 Broadview Ave., Toronto, Ont. Congratulations.

We believe that the photographs sent in to the contest by Mr. Doyle were those of Wild Irish Barnay, and Wild Irish Susan. The prizes were not "5-lb. bags of biscuits," either, but real honest to goodness shares of the £387 offered, and Mr. Doyle's share was $30. Quite a handsome little birthday present as unexpected as no doubt it was welcome. Actually it amounted to forty and one half cents for each year of Mr. Doyle's seventy-four—figure it out for yourself and see.

$1,200 TO BE GIVEN AWAY

The Battle Creek Dog Food Company, of Battle Creek, Michigan, have taken generous space in the Canine Magazine of this Continent, to tell all and sundry that they are going to give away the sum of $1,200 to persons who will take time to write them a letter—sounds easy, doesn't it? Sounds a kind of inviting to at that. How about trying it out? You can try for a share of the "twelve hundred cartwheels" just for the fun of it, or from purely business reasons, just as you may feel about it. Briefly, here is the proposition. They give $1,200. You write a letter of 200 words telling them what you have discovered when feeding Miller's A.I. Ration. A picture to put an added punch to your letter is even suggested for your benefit. Then you stand a fair chance of winning $50, $25, $10 or $5, or $5, or $5. You see the Battle Creek Dog Food Co., will give these six prizes each month for the next twelve months, or $1,200 given away in twelve months.

Canada won three of the Spillers prizes; how many can she win from the Battle Creek Dog Food Co.? We'll see when the "stewards mark the award board."

"TUFF-FUT" (TOUGH FOOT)

Tuff-Fut applied to your dog's feet is guaranteed to prevent and cure soreness caused by working dog through stubble, brush and over hard or rocky ground. We know that when you grab your gun, your dog is ready to go, but is he ABLE to go? Keep his feet in working condition with Tuff-Fut.

The BERGHOLTZ KENNELS

Wish to Announce the Purchase of the Famous Shepherd Dog

ALPHA V. KRONE

This wonderfully bred dog is now placed at stud. The breeding offered to the fancy is the very best obtainable. Sired by the noted Ch. Cito v. Ischeland, out of a female by Int. Ch. Erich v. Grafenwerth, he is a double-cross of the noted Ch. Alex v. Westfalenheim and a wonderful combination of the Fuerstenburg, Dusternbrook, Herkulpark, Kriminalpolizei and Riedekenburg strains.

Alpha has the conformation of the real Shepherd type. Perfect front and rear angulation, nice long body, wonderful gait, depth of chest, with perfect ear carriage. As a show specimen he has proved himself to be one of the best; although only 20 months of age, he has already annexed half of the coveted championship. In breeding to Alpha you are getting the best blood-

Who Said Airdales Were Unpopular?

To make the above caption modern and complete, we might ask "Who said Airdales were slipping in popularity?" and in answer we might have the reply in chorus, "We did." Well, what if we did? because it seems that "we" are all wrong, and I will tell you why. Mr. W. J. Phillips, the "Tintern" celebrity who cares for the "Airedale Amenities" column in our esteemed English contemporary, "Our Dogs," has this to say in the issue of March 26th, 1926:

"There is no questioning the popuweight with our American cousins than a dozen second-raters, and there is always a good market there and here for our very best."

And mind you he is speaking over in England, the home of the breed.

Here is a front view of an Airedale that has just recently arrived in Canada, imported by that astute Terrier fancier, Mr. Sam Bamford, Toronto, for Mr. Wm. Davay, Toronto, an Airedale Terrier that has been creating an atmosphere of importance for himself at recent English shows. At Liverpool show Nalus Monarch (now Flornell Walnut King), just cleaned up the show from best puppy to best dog in show, any variety. His bag for the day was one of 7 firsts, 10 specials, cup best novice, cup best Terrier, and Mr. Tom Hooton, writing to "Our Dogs," says "Puppy dogs 1st—Nalus Monarch, real quality youngster, great length of head, good eyes and ears, coat and color of the best." Such then is the quality of this young Airedale who has come to Canada and to Toronto to a fancier that will appreciate him and make the most of his new acquisition on this side of the water.

Flornell Walnut King (Imp.)

larity of the Airedale, and if there ever was a doubt it is now blotted clean out, for one has only to read the result of a recent competition held by a prominent daily paper for the 'six most popular breeds or variety of dogs' to see Airedales at the top. Friend Airedale, your star is in the ascendant, and we all take our hats off to those who placed you an easy winner. They certainly know a good dog."

And further down the same column the same discerning writer says this:

"It will come as pleasant reading to breeders generally to learn that our 'English-breds' are monopolizing the prize lists once again across the herring pond. At the recent Boston show, U.S.A., Winners of both sexes went to recent importations, Ch. Flornell Mixer, securing 'Winners' in dogs, and Authority's Reality the bitch 'Winners.' The latter secured the decision for 'Special for best Airedale' over Mixer, and naturally her late owner, Mr. E. Thomas, of Bramley, and secretary of the Airedale Club, is delighted at this early success of his home-bred. It only seems recently since I went over her myself. She is a charming bitch of exquisite quality. There is no doubt about the class of both these Airedales. They will carry more Flornell Walnut King (length view).

Mr. Bamford advises us that an Airedale bitch of equal merit will be here any day now. So, we hope to see an immediate revival of interest in this breed, which is one of the most faithful and most fearless of all the Terrier varieties.

A NEW "WIRE" FOR TORONTO.

In another part of this number we draw attention of our readers to an Airedale Terrier that has quite recently come into our midst, with a promise of more to follow. Our business pages will introduce a new Wire-haired Fox Terrier in Sultan of Keror, a son of

Ch. Fountain Crusader, out of Ch. Chantry Casey. Sultan has done considerable winning in England and has plenty of winning left in him yet to try his strength in the competition offered at the forthcoming shows. It was not as a show dog particularly that Mr. Sam Bamford, the importer, brought this dog to Canada. The Sultan was brought over primarily to take care of Ch. Chantry Cuddy and Renfern Reaper, bitches, whose bloodlines he is suited for. The picture, which is not at all capable of doing the new dog full justice, is the best available at the moment, and we hope to show our Fox Terrier fanciers a better picture of the dog in an early issue. From England he brings the following credential:

"Sultan of Keror."

Is a high-class Terrier, as naturally he should be. His pedigree is like himself, second to none. He has a beautiful rich, tan head, a lasting skull, wonderful length of foreface, shortest of backs, shoulders front, feet and quarters are the soundest, well ribbed, extra good coat and body, moves like a hackney, is siring wonderful puppies, of which much will be heard in the near future, and as a stud dog his name will become famous. Only shown once at championship show. He obtained three seconds and two thirds in his five classes. He is the soundest and most attractive stud dog alive today, with delightful eye and expression.

THE FORWARD STEP

Those who listened to the president's address at the last annual meeting, and those who have read it in these columns, will remember that he called attention to the fact that the interest on the bonds, which had been purchased by the club, had been set aside by the directors as a special fund for the encouragement of dog breeding and dog shows throughout Canada. At the last meeting of the directors the first step was taken in fulfilment of the president's promise when it was decided that at every show held under Canadian Kennel Club auspices, a handsome trophy, to be known as "The Canadian Kennel Club Trophy," should be awarded to the best dog in the show of any breed. There will be five different sizes of these cups, identical in design, material and workmanship, and the size of the cup awarded will be determined by whether the show is a one, two, three, four or five point show. The directors have wisely determined that these cups shall be awarded only at all-breed shows. There are two reasons for this. First, that the all-breed show benefits more fanciers than the specialty show, and secondly that if the trophies were awarded at specialty shows as well, this club would be faced with the alternative of either giving an inferior trophy or of exceeding the amount available for the purpose. The action of the directors is retroactive and the cup will be awarded to every show held in the year 1926. In determining the size of the cup awarded to any particular show, the number of dogs benched at that show in 1925 will govern. This may, possibly, in isolated cases, work hardship, because a club which gave a four point show in 1925 might give a five point show in 1926, but it was felt by the directors that it was essential that the cup in each case should actually be at the show and should be awarded to the winner before the show closes, and the above method was the only one which would enable this practice to govern.

The design of the cup is a particularly beautiful and artistic one and was submitted by Trophy-Craft, Limited, whose reputation makes it certain that the cup will be worthy of the Canadian Kennel Club and greatly prized by every recipient.

The directors have decided, wisely, we think, to offer the cup "with no strings attached." It had been suggested that only members of the Canadian Kennel Club should be eligible to compete, and that only Canadian-bred dogs should be eligible, but the directors felt that Canadian Kennel Club trophies should represent the actual championship of every show, and that to bar any dog from competition because its owner is not a member or because the dog itself is imported, would entirely defeat this object. It is felt that the Canadian Kennel Club is big enough and important enough to cast aside all petty restrictions, and the directors feel that in taking this stand they have behind them the almost unanimous backing of the members at large, who have not forgotten the message on "Sportsmanship" which the president brought to the annual meeting.

It is gratifying to know that the president's promise to the annual meeting has been so quickly and satisfactorily fulfilled.

CANCELLATION.

Shepherd Dog (Alsations). "Strong Heart Prince," Novice dogs, ineligible, having already won a first prize in the Novice Class at the Vancouver Kennel Club show in 1925, placing "Rex" 1st, and "Rin Tin Tin Silver" 2nd; no reserve.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS for SPRATT'S

We carry the largest and most complete stock in Canada of Spratt's Dog Remedies, Foods and Accessories.

SPRATT'S FOOD FOR DOGS

"THE BACKBONE OF THE CANINE RACE"

The dog constitution needs a dog diet. Table scraps—toothsome and tasty though they may be—are not only totally unsuitable for the physical requirements of the dog, but are more often than not a direct cause of unfitness. For sixty years SPRATT'S have made dogs and their requirements the subject of continual observation and research; and to-day for every dog, old or young, healthy or sick, there is a Spratt's Food guaranteed to suit exactly his requirements.

BELOW WE LIST AND DESCRIBE SOME OF SPRATT'S FOODS AND REMEDIES REGULARLY STOCKED

SPRATT'S FOOD FOR DOGS

Spratt's Meat-Fibrine Dog Cakes—Used by leading breeders and at shows throughout the world; should preferably be given dry, not soaked, as their being gnawed compels a copious flow of saliva in the dog's mouth, which, being mixed with the food before it enters the stomach, materially assists digestion. These cakes keep the dog's teeth and gums in fine condition.

Spratt's Ovals—The Pocket Dog Biscuit—A small Meat-Fibrine Dog Biscuit, suitable as staple diet for small dogs and toys, and to be carried in the pocket as an occasional snack when on a ramble with the dog.

Spratt's Fibo—A unique dog food containing, in addition to Spratt's world-famous Meat-Fibrine, pure yolk of egg; is very tasty, and for shy or dainty feeders offers an excellent method of bringing them on to a rational dog diet; a very nutritious meal for delicate dogs and puppies.

SPRATT'S FOOD FOR PUPS

Spratt's Meat-Fibrine Puppy Biscuits—A complete and perfect food for puppies from weaning time onwards, and for small breeds as the regular food instead of Spratt's larger Dog Cakes.

Spratt's Pepsinated Puppy Meal—For Delicate Puppies—Should be used instead of Spratt's Plain Puppy Meal for puppies with weak digestion; is extremely assimilative and will make most unpromising youngsters thrive.

SPRATT'S DOG REMEDIES AND TOILET REQUISITES

Spratt's Alterative Cooling Powders—For heated blood and general slight indisposition. Two sizes.

Spratt's Chemical Food—A valuable tonic; can be given in water or mixed with the dog's food. Various sizes.

Spratt's Cough Pills—Give quick relief of coughs and colds.

Spratt's Chorea Pills—A fine remedy for Chorea, St. Vitus Dance, and nervous disorders in dogs.

Spratt's Chronic Skin Disease Remedy—Should be given in all obstinate cases of Mange, Eczema, etc.

Spratt's Diarrhoea Cure—An effective check for Diarrhoea and looseness resulting from internal irritation.

Spratt's Disinfectant—An extremely cheap yet effective sterilizing agent, for kennels, poultry houses, piggeries, etc.

Spratt's Distemper Pills—The best known remedy for this great canine scourge.

Spratt's Distemper Powders—Prepared in this form for those who find it difficult to give the dog pills.

Spratt's Ear Canker Lotion—Makes treatment of canker simple; soothing and easy to apply.

Spratt's Eczema Lotion—Should be given in all cases of skin disease arising from internal blood condition or from parasites.

Spratt's Eye Lotion—For all eye affections in the dog; valuable also for poultry.

Spratt's Jaundice Pills—A specific for Jaundice or "Yellows" in the dog.

Spratt's Locurium—An oil dressing for quickly healing cuts, wounds and bruises; effective with all animals, and good for human use. Three sizes.

Spratt's Mange Lotion—A powerful penetrative and extremely effective. Destroys Lice, Fleas, Tick, etc.

Spratt's Purging Tablets—A safe but powerful aperient medicine. Two sizes.

Spratt's Rheumatism and Sprain Ointment—Economical to apply.

Spratt's Rheumatism Pills—For Rheumatism, Lumbago, and Chest-founder or Kennel Lameness.

Spratt's Tonic and Condition Pills—For treating debility and for preparing dogs for Exhibition. Two sizes.

Spratt's Rissicol—Castor Oil in Powder form.

Spratt's Vermifuge for Puppies—A safe treatment for worms in young dogs; entirely a vegetable preparation.

Spratt's Worm Powders—A combination of the finest anthelmintics, and most effective.

Spratt's Worm Pills—A certain expellant.

Spratt's No. 1 Dog Soap—Prepared especially for coat and skin condition; used all over the world by exhibitors in preparing their dogs for show; prevents scurf, mange, and other parasitic affections.

Spratt's No. 2 Dog Soap—While beneficial to coat and skin, the No. 2 quality has incorporated powerful insecticide properties; absolutely eradicates lice, fleas, tick, and all parasites. Entirely harmless.

Spratt's "Fomo"—A liquid shampoo; slightly wet the dog's coat and sprinkle on a few drops of "Fomo" and instantaneous thick lather results; largely used by exhibitors.

Spratt's Dry Cleaning Powder—Preferred by a large number of dog owners for the winter cleaning of their dogs; needs just to be rubbed in and brushed out of the coat.

Spratt's Special Canister Brushes—For use with Spratt's Dry Cleaning Powder. The powder is placed in a small canister attached to the brush and perforations near the bristles allow it to shake out into the coat as the brushing is done.

THE SIXTH SENSE

(Special to this issue by Mr. R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.)

RESIDENT of London, England, describes how a terrier of his goes into a paroxysm of fury when a certain cart passes the flat in which he resides.

The dog cannot see or smell the object of his distrust, and there are thousands of vehicles passing daily, so the writer puts his antipathy down to what is vaguely known as "The Sixth Sense." Does such a thing exist? If so, is it solely an animal attribute, or is it also lying dormant in the human family? The following personal experiences may throw some light on the subject, given for what they are worth, the reader must form his own conclusions. In the case in point, apparently there is nothing to prevent the dog from distinguishing the object of his distrust by sound!

My own Borzois, however, invariably give warning even when shut up in their kennels at night, should a wolf come within half a mile of the ranch. Wolfhounds have but little scent, and in this case it is highly improbable that they could hear the enemy, must we then presume they know of his presence by inherited instinct?

Some writers credit a dog's ability to return to his home from distant points to the "Sixth Sense." All wild animals and most domestic animals have this ability. With respect to wild animals they generally stop at a point where conditions are favorable to the preservation of life, whilst with domesticated animals they return HOME even should conditions be unfavorable there.

Turn a range cow out from the corals alone and she will find her herd even though it is at pasture in rough bush country, observe her as she goes head down sniffing both air and ground, scent is here largely used, she stops and bawls, waits for an answering call, and then goes steadily on.

Horses are most persistent in their efforts to return to their range, since moving from Saskatchewan by train, my own horses have made repeated attempts to get home, and are always travelling in the right direction when they are stopped. At the old ranch a work team sold to a farmer sixty miles distant, returned to their range after an absence of ten years.

A saddle horse sold by a friend of mine to a party going into the Yukon overland during the Klondike gold rush, turned up at his stable the following fall.

Some years since, when batching alone, I owned a collie and a Scotch Deerhound; they were my constant companions; one Sunday I decided to ride over to visit a friend whose wife had been an invalid for some years. When starting out something seemed to "tell" me to leave the dogs at home, but I brushed the feeling aside as being absurd. It was a fine day and the run would be enjoyed. I had not gone far, however, when the thought obtruded itself again, and I was almost on the point of sending them home; however, I went on again, but to my everlasting regret. Arriving at my destination I stayed but a short while, and on leaving called the dogs, and I immediately noticed that something was wrong; they had picked up an old wolf bait left by a careless trapper, and though we did all that was possible for them, both died shortly afterwards.

A friend, some years previously, had a similar experience while away on a deer hunt. Coming into camp one evening he had a premonition that some danger threatened at home. Hastily eating his supper, he strapped on his snowshoes and started on the long tramp of sixty miles through the bush, arriving next morning only to hear that a brother had died suddenly at the time of the strange warning.

Has this peculiar phenomenon any relation to a dog's "Sixth Sense?" Both these cases were a presentiment of evil, but in those days while living alone I found the same "sense" just as acute with happier results.

Some people still believe that animals do not reason, but use their "senses" as a substitute. Nothing is further from the fact.

Animals, following for their natural disabilities, reason equally as well as most humans.

One of the wildest night rides I ever took part in stands out vividly in my memory. We had located a bunch of horses at sunset, forty miles from the ranch. Before we had time to formulate any plan, they started off at a wild gallop. Fortunately my companion and I were mounted on thoroughbreds. Pressing our mounts after them at full speed we managed to head the herd for home, just as the light of day faded.

So dark did it become that our own mounts' heads were quite invisible, and only by the thud of the hoofs could we keep in touch with the herd. The harder we rode the faster galloped the bronchos. We arrived home safely at eleven that night, having ridden through every slough and mud hole on the way. How was it done? Simply by the "feel of the wind." Every time the herd tried to break back we headed them into it. What object had they in travelling on the low levels? Badger holes are invariably on the knolls. Those horses knew from experience we were taking them to the ranch, and no doubt reasoned that they preferred their range. Did they know the way to the ranch by the "feel of the wind," or was it some more acute animal sense? Does a dog return home by scent, sound, sight, or "Sixth Sense?"

Note.—The writer is of the opinion that, prompted by their "sixth," a dog's acute natural senses occasionally produce results which seem to us as akin to the supernatural.

ITTSAWOOD DIRECT IS DEAD.

Through the courtesy of that sterling Boston Terrier fancier, Mrs. E. D. Daley, Detroit, we learn that Mrs. Woods has lost her magnificent Boston, Ittsawood Direct, so well known to the Boston fancy in Ontario, and it will be remembered that two really brilliant wins were made as 1925 went out and 1926 came in. We have in mind the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto Specialty, and the Golden Jubilee Show at Madison Gardens, where the little chap cleaned the boards and made for himself and his admirable owner a host of staunch friends. The little champion caught cold at New York, and he, with ten kennel mates, gave their lives as sacrifice to unrelenting distemper.

Mrs. Daley, our correspondent advises us, that she has been suffering from a severe cold contracted at the New York show, and that Mrs. Graves has been ill from pneumonia. Fortunately she is now nearing a complete recovery. Mrs. Woods, the Canadian fancy extend to you sincere sympathies.

THE BADMINTON PEKINGESE.

Mrs. M. Mitchell, Toronto, is one of those genteel-looking, white-haired, motherly-looking persons that have made English women the pattern of the world. Pekingese are her chosen friends, as far as canine friends are considered, her Kennel name, "Badminton," is also a friend, in its association with the days when she was much younger and her nearness of her home to the Duke of Beaufort's estate in Gloucestershire, England. No wonder, then, that the Badminton Pekes are so much favored by our show judges, and by discriminating purchasers. At Mrs. Mitchell's Kennels there are ten matrons, who represent the very best bloodlines available of several famous strains, which include Ch. Ting Fang of Meridale, Ch. Prince Cha of Alderbourne, Int. Ch. Lo Hai Chi, Roddy of Hartlebury, Ch. Priorwood Pagan, etc. The progeny of "this little army of Peke mothers are much in demand and very seldom are they permitted to stay long around the Kennel." When they go to new owners, and these owners happen to like the ups and downs of competition, their new possessions never disgrace them in the dog show ring. Only the other evening (April 19th), we noticed a beautiful study in the pictorial page of the Toronto Telegram, under the caption of "Canadian-bred Champion,"—Fu Chien Lokke of Badminton. This splendid little specimen was one of Mrs. Mitchell's choice breeding, having for its sire the imported Roddy of Hartlebury, out of a Badminton-bred female who had for her paternal and maternal grandsires the following famous Pekes: Ch. Ting Fang of Meridale, and Ch. Prince Cha of Alderbourne. Fu Chien Lokke of Badminton won the Winners prize at Toronto Kennel Club show, under Mr. Geo. S. Thomas, and made a start towards her championship, but, of course, is not yet a champion.

Mrs. Mitchell, in her modest manner, pays homage to Dr. R. S. Richardson, Toronto, for bringing Ch. Prince Cha of Alderbourne, International Ch. Lo Hai Chi, and Roddy of Hartlebury to Canada for the use of our breeders. The beneficial influences of those three great sires on the Pekingese of Canada are just now being fully realized at the present time.

To name the many Badminton dogs that have done well at our shows would call for much valuable space, therefore we must content ourselves with giving a few of those who have won prominently and in good company. Fan Ling of Lakebourne, Winners first time shown; Beau Fang of Badminton (brother to the above), best Canadian-bred under five International judges; Lutsi of Lakebourne, Fan Ling of Badminton, Little Beau of Lonsdale, Fan Lou, Bumble Bee of Badminton, Wool, a pug of Badminton and many others too numerous to mention.

CHAMPION BULL TERRIER SOLD.

Mr. J. E. Brunett, of the Limestone Kennels at Kingston, Ont., has sold his Champion Limestone Leo, to Mr. C. H. Colman, Cincinnati, Ohio, for a nice price. "Red," as our Kingston friend is familiarly known to the Bull Terrier fancy, is a regular attender at all the shows convenient to Kingston, but in the championship race for Limestone Leo, the battling ground was exclusively in Toronto—the Canadian National and the National Kennel Club Shows of 1925 and the Toronto Kennel Club Show, held on Good Friday and Saturday, turning the magic trick for "Red's" good "White Cavalier." The dog is an all-white one, and has for his breeding some of the choicer strains of Bull Terrier blood, and no doubt Mr. Colman adds strength to his kennel in securing the new champion.

NOTED SHEPHERD DOG IN NEVADA.

Tello V. Oldingen, in whose veins flows the combined bloods of the greatest Shepherd dogs of the world, a son of the great Orpal von Grunen Eck, who was the Holland Seiger of 1924, and is also the sire of International Champion Donar V. Overstolzen, Seiger 1924 and Dutch champion of 1925. Tello V. Oeringer is half-brother to Donar. As far as is known, Tello is the only son of Orpel in America. A young dog, too, only three years old, he is considered excellent in all essentials, black, with rich tan markings, and possesses a wonderful temperament.

Mrs. H. Dana West of the Lewanno Kennels at Nevada, is the proud possessor of this acquisition to the breed on the American Continent, and she is taking every opportunity to meet the very strongest available competition in order that Tello von Orlingen may truly be rated in time as a great champion.

PUGET SOUND KENNEL CLUB SHOW.

(Specially Reported for Kennel and Bench by Mary White-Bible).

On Thursday, March 25th, the Puget Sound Kennel Club began its three-day Bench Show, at the Crystal Pool, in Seattle, Washington. The remarkable list of 547 entries included canine royalty of distinguished lineage. The judges selected for the difficult task of tying the ribbons were Messrs. John C. Fletcher, of Calgary; William H. Pym, of Vancouver, B.C., and Roland Gamwell, of Bellingham, Washington.

One of the most outstanding features of this show was the entries from the kennel of E. Chevrier, of Winnipeg, Canada. Mr. Chevrier, with his twenty-one prize-winning Spaniels, fresh from a veritable conquest in Pasadena (where, by the way, they won in every class), came with full force into the Puget Sound show seeking new worlds to conquer. Among his entries might be mentioned the International Champion Marvel of Avandale (Ch. Laverstoke Powder Horn, Imp. Woodelf of Ware), "a royal daughter of a royal son," and whose sire is now offered for sale at the modest price of $2,000. This little winner was given the blues in the following classes: Bred by Exhibitor, Winners, Open, and Limit.

Imp. L'lie Messenger Boy, from this same kennel, also added laurels to Mr. Chevrier's well known kennel winning in the Limit, Open and Winners classes.

Mr. George Lydiatt, of Vancouver, B.C., brought to this show his wire-haired Fox Terriers, and among his winners might be mentioned Saddle-

During the entire judging of Pointers, Pinehill Denny's Henry, a product of Pinehill Kennels, owned by Mr. Clark Dennis, of Victoria, made the competition strong, winning in the following classes: Winners' Dog, Pacific Coast Bred Dog, Bred by Exhibitor Dogs, Junior, Debutante and Limit.

Mr. George Kynoch, of Winnipeg, with his Airedale Terrier, Silverdale Tornado, won in every class in which he was shown and was awarded the Trophy for best of the breed. Mr. Geo. Lydiatt's Polar Star won 3rd in the class for Limit Dogs.

In the classes for Setters, the contesting Canadian exhibitors were Mr. J. W. Taft, of Vancouver; Miss Edith Maud Bessonetter, of Esquimalt, B.C., and Dr. W. F. Daw, of Victoria, B.C.

This show, which in dollars and cents approximated $135,000 of canine aristocracy, was the most notable ever staged by the Puget Sound Kennel Club and all the classes presented the strongest competition. Entries were listed from all over the Northwest and throughout Canada.

Notes from the American Side

By CHARLES G. HOPTON, New York.

ONE of the most popular and well-merited wins was that of the now famous Irish Terrier, Blarney Better'n Begorra, whose great achievement of Best of All Breeds at the recent Toronto Show has given the eastern fancy much joy, for not only is the dog an exceptionally sound and typical terrier, but his owner is quite one of the most popular all-round sportsmen in New York, one to whom much credit is due for the present popularity and improvement seen in the "Dare-devil." Then again, the fact that the dog—as all of the Blarney champions in the past decade—was prepared and handled by that versatile fancier, Wm. Livesey, of Madison, New Jersey.

When the news that "Billy" and the Blarney champion had gone right through at Toronto appeared in the New York papers, there was a general rejoicing, not only among the members but on the floor of the Stock Exchange where a jubilant feeling was apparent among the members, and if one may judge by the numerous enquiries now being made for typical Irish Terrier puppies—preferably by a Blarney sire—the competition among "Dare-devils" at the forthcoming shows should be especially keen. As a matter of fact, the "ticker," so it is rumored, has made arrangements to record the awards at future shows so that members on the "Floor" may get the results early. Blarney stock is certainly away above par, and justly so.

Another breed to get an extra fillip from recent awards is the Collie whose Specialty shows held within the past month extend from Coast to Coast, but no such popular win, or list of wins have ever been recorded than those at the Pittsburgh Collie Club show, and at the Interstate Collie Club show at Philadelphia when that truly superb international champion, Treffynnon Blue Sol, went right through to Show Champion on both occasions, thus repeating its wins of last year.

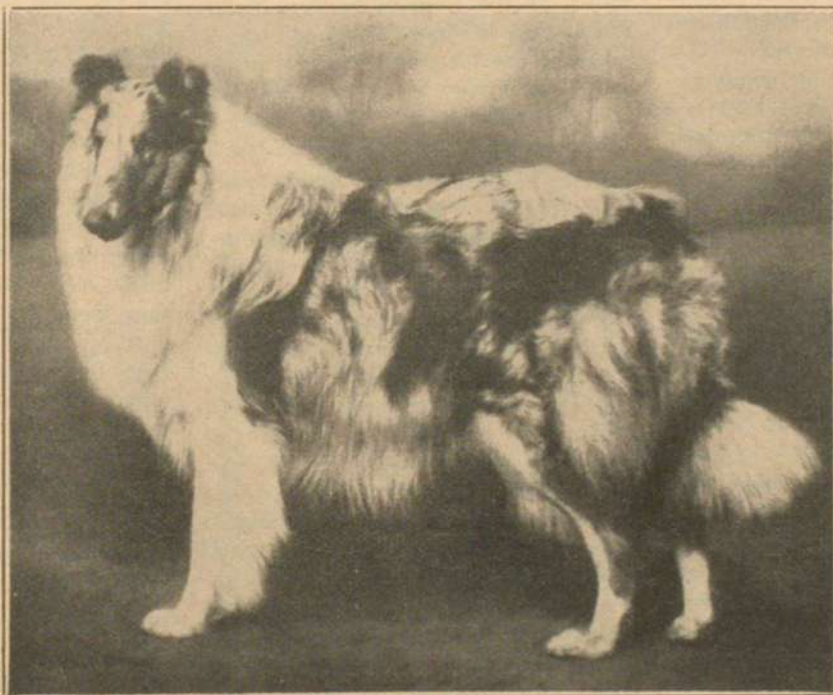

Rightly acclaimed on both sides of the Atlantic as the "very best blue merle ever benched," in his present form it would be no idle stretch of imagination to say that Treffynnon Blue Sol is one of the very finest Collies of any color and of any decade, for here is the personification of Collie type, with plenty of size, a perfect double coat, the best of shoulders, bone and feet, with long, sloping shoulders denoting speed, and his remarkable loins and quarters speak volumes for his staying powers, in all a true Collie and as near perfection as any dog, of any breed, now being shown. It is interesting to note that Treffynnon Blue Sol is just as great a sire as he is a bench champion, and, if rumor is correct, then a recent importation (by the "Squire of Bournbrae, the Rev. Roger McGinley, one of the most genial and certainly popular fanciers out to-day) from the famous Laund Kennels near Manchester, England, is apt to run Blue Sol a great race. Anyway, the pair when in full coat should make a most beautiful sight, as there are few, if any, breeds that can compare with a beautifully matched pair of Collies, especially the attractive blue merles when of the depth of color and so well blended as seen in Treffynnon Blue Sol.

It is somewhat disheartening when watching the Working groups and Best in Show judged to see breeds not in good muscular condition and smooth of coat placed over such a difficult breed as the Collie. When we say difficult we refer to the length and texture of coat. One may take a smooth, or semi-rough coated dog who is out of coat and transform him, hence the prevailing idea that condition, when considering these important classes and specials, should be taken more into consideration. It was when the final line-up took place at Philadelphia, for here one saw the Collie, Ch. Laund Lero of Bellhaven, awarded the cup for best, and while he did not move as freely as at New York, caused perhaps by the somewhat irregular flooring, he put up a great performance and made a popular win, thus proving that the fancy at large have a soft spot in their hearts for the sagacious and impressive Collie, a breed that should be more often seen competing at their legitimate work, herding sheep.

The two most spectacular shows of the month were the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia shows, the former surpassing all previous records for the "Smoky City," where a most genial lot of sportsmen gathered to make both man and dog feel thoroughly at home. Here is one town where the right sporting spirit prevails, as every member of the Show Committee which comprised such enthusiastic fanciers as Robert F. Maloney, owner of the world-famed Pointer, Ch. Governor Moscow, who, it may be recalled, won for Best of All Breeds at the 1925 Westminster; Sam Kenning, Ralph English, Charles Lange, Joseph P. Hildorfer, who has worked like a Trojan to resuscitate the Smooth Fox Terrier; Dr. John Lehner, P. M. Chidester, of Pencraft Beagle fame, to whom much credit is due for the marked improvement in the miniature Hound; Dr. G. F. Berg, and other such real sportsmen, who are to be sincerely congratulated on their recent annual event, the very best show ever seen in Western Pennsylvania. With nearly 1,000 dogs and a tremendous gate, it was a most spectacular event, with the keenest of competition prevailing, when the various Group winners were lined up for the imposing President's Trophy for Best in Show. Here is one town where the onlookers will wager on their favorite, and it is no idle statement when one says that all five carried many bets with the Toy division most keen on the now famous Canadian-bred Pomeranian, Ch. Glen Rose Flashaway, Joseph Greenwood's famous little champion, possibly the most consistent circuit-winning Toy ever seen on the western circuit, for since his sensational win at New York he has met and defeated all of the Toy breeds, and in the final line-up has made the going highly interesting for the big fellows. On this occasion, however, he had to go some, as in the Toy group he had an exceptionally good Pekingese and one of, if not the very best Bruxellois Griffons to beat. The last named was the favorite, but when it came to pace and action, where the great little Pomeranian scored, the little Belgian refused, and was rightly beaten.

For a time it looked as though the popular circuit champion of 1925 and 1926, Giralda's Teuthilde V. Hagenscheiss, unquestionably one of the soundest and most typical Shepherds ever seen, and shown in superb form by A. McClure Halley, would repeat her last year's great victory when she won the cup. This year she was much better than on the previous occasion, but she finally finished third to the noted Greyhound, Ch. Rosemont Liskeard Fortunatas, who seems to know every thought of the clever "Benny" Lewis, and the popular down-east bred Bull-terrier, Ch. Cloudland White Mist, with the Pomeranian, and a very impressive red Chow Chow, Ch. Yuan Chu of El Cher, well up in the running, as all were worthy of the honor, the awards seem to meet with universal approval.

As a prelude to the planned American Kennel Club's inaugural show, the Sesquicentennial to be held in connection with the Exposition in Philadelphia this fall, the thirteenth annual event of the Kennel Club of Philadelphia, was quite representative with nearly 700 dogs, but one was surprised, as at least 1,000 should have competed, for the list of prizes was very liberal, as was the classification. Then again the fact that two Specialty shows were held in conjunction with the same, the Boston Terrier Club of Philadelphia and Interstate Collie Club, such a gathering would have been only normal, however. There was keen competition and a very representative lot of dogs, especially in the Groups and final line-up for Best in Show.

It was deeply regretted that the popular Montreal fancier, Robert Ross, could not fill his engagement, as his classes were good. However, with such qualified experts as Theodore Offerman, W. Fred Ford, Dr. Webb Vaughan, Fred C. Haven and Chas. T. Inglee, the talent on hand proved equal to the occasion. A topping entry of Shepherd Dogs greeted the charming Lady of Giralda, Mrs. Geraldine R. Dodge, who had a most efficient steward in Mrs. Charles W. G. Baiter. There was no prolonged swanking or taking of notes, as each class was quickly but thoroughly judged, with a marked consistency in type that proved refreshing after some of the "playing to the gallery" that has been recently seen. In the regular dog classes top honors went to the much-lauded "Seigar" Ch. Donar von Overstolzen, a big, upstanding black shown by the English fancier, F. N. Pickett, of Welham, England, which repeated the Pittsburg award, but he was beaten for the specials by the more evenly and sounder gaited American-bred bitch, Cosalata's Irma, a very symmetrical black and tan, not fully matured but excelling in type, shoulders, feet and hocks.

Somebody "put the cat among the pigeons" when the winning Boston Terrier dog was protested for "being dyed," and the committee sustained it. Here is a case of the pot calling the kettle black, for one is justified in saying that at least fifty per cent. of this trappy and most interesting breed are treated artificially when it comes to preparation, for no green room in a burlesque show ever had so much grease, paint, chalk, pencils and other methods of improvement as used previous to the judging. The objection came as a complete surprise, but, like the drastic ruling of the noted English Terrier expert, Wm. L. McCandlish at the recent Westminster when he refused to consider a noted West Highland White for having too much chalk in its coat, much good may come from it, for exhibitors have taken too much for granted, and the sooner some action is taken in the manner in which Terriers and other breeds are shown on absurdly short leashes, and tails held up when being posed, the better it will be for the fancy at large.

A very typical and sound home-bred bitch, Fangann's Sandra, shown au naturel, was rightly best in Bostons, but in Bulldogs it was a nip and tuck finish between Fernstone Chummy, a very massive white with brindle patch on head, same owner's Canadian-bred Fernstone Sylvia, and the Baltimore winner, Ch. Alaunt's Double, the former winning, having the better outline and finish of face. Among the also-rans was the well-known English winner, Rhylsdale White Marquis, a very typical all white dog, who did not make the most of his chances, but he is all Bulldog in type, and when at his best is a hard one to beat.

The Groups were keenly contested with a very close finish for best Sporting when the Greyhound, Liskeard Fortunatas, met the much improved Irish Setter, Ch. Londonderry Ambition, and Cocker Spaniel, Ch. Sand Spring Sweet Marie, placed as written. In view of the fact that the latter had been adjudged best of breed over such famous champions as Midkiff Miracle Man, Sand Spring Farm Storm Cloud and others, one may know that the going was extremely heavy.

This made the Greyhound favorite for the final line-up, though the Terrier division was keen on the rare headed Wire-Fox Terrier, Ch. Crackley Sensational not quite at his best, but he had beaten a smart entry in the breed. He finished third to the Collie, Ch. Laund Lero of Bell Haven, who had the pull in condition over Rosemont Liskeard Fortunatas, who seemed to show the effects of his hard tussle at Pittsburg. Among the also-rans were the Airedale, Ch. Willinez Defiance, the nicely topped Irish Terrier, Blarney Better'n Begorra, and others of international fame, so one may know there was plenty of excitement.

FEE $50.00

Alf von Minkwitz is a wonderful producer of quality stock, as all future shows will prove. Sired by the world-renowned Alex v. Westfalenheim, he is by breeding suitable for mating to the several important strains of recognized Shepherd blood—his last three litters totalled 20 puppies.

His fee has been reduced from $100.00 to $50.00 for only one purpose, and that to encourage the breeding of better Shepherds in the Dominion of Canada.

Out of the last three litters sired by Alf there were 18 male and 4 female puppies—an ideal and a natural average.

Alf v. Minkwitz was best of breed at Toronto Kennel Club Show under the breed authority, Enno E. Meyer. He was also best of breed at the Canadian National Exhibition under the specialist R. M. Cleveland. Intelligent breeders will at once recognize the value of these opinions and arrange their breeding operations accordingly.

EXCERPTS FROM THE EDITOR'S MAIL

"It is very nice to think that at last the Canadian Kennel Club is independent. I never could see how starting other kennel clubs out West would help matters, and never did I, personally, give these new ventures any help. Having known something of the trials of the early Canadian Kennel Club, it was always my opinion that we should stick to it. Possibly it did not do one much good out West, but now that it has come out right in the end, we feel like patting ourselves on the back.

"In 1903 or 4, when I was doing the dog end of Field and Fancy in New York, we had a great controversy as to the origin of the red color in Cocker Spaniels, and it waxed fast and furious. Some of the oldest breeders attributed the red color to crossing with a Dachshund. Accidentally we obtained a small dog-book, quite ancient, that had as a frontispiece, a red—with a little white—Spaniel, a bright red, and this rather settled the controversy.

"A few days ago I was at Hampton Court Palace, looking at the pictures. My eye caught a small black and white Spaniel, not much black: I could not see any tan. The face was short, nose a bit turned up, but not as short as the Toy Spaniel of to-day, but this was evidently one of the early Cockers or Toy Spaniels, and as the King Charles 1st and 2nd both lived at Hampton Court a good deal, the picture should be true of the dog of their day. Lately, they have been rather welding the Toy Spaniels all into one. When I was a boy I was around Blenheim quite often and lived not far from there; we used to have requests from friends to buy puppies for them; these we usually obtained at the park gates from the lodge-keepers who bred them; there were also quite a few at Ditchley Park, not far away, but all these were red and white and were called Blenheims. I never saw one with any black on him in that neighborhood; so as we find pictures of those with black on them in a palace, lived in and frequented by Charles the First, and more especially Charles the Second, there seems to be some grounds for calling the black, white and tan, King Charles Spaniels, and the red and white, Blenheims. Now, I had better beat back to my red and white.

"Leaning quietly on a rail, looking at another picture, I suddenly noticed in the foreground a good-sized Spaniel which was clear, dark red; his head was turned away, but he was about three-quarters on, his hindquarters to the front, i.e., you looked at him from the hindquarters forward; he was red all over, except for an irregular narrow belt of white across the loins and evidently going round him; he is not ginger, but a good, strong red, and anyone can go and see him that is willing to spend sixpence at the door, and also see all else there is to see. This picture, if I remember right, is about 1560 or thereabouts, therefore about 366 years old.

"Now that the Springer has come back with such a rush, it is also interesting to note that the dog they want in the show ring is very much like those depicted in old prints, when shooters shot in pot hats and knee breeches. I have some good old prints of these. How the Spaniel, built like a drain-pipe, with four props, came in we do not know, but he monopolized the dog shows for a long time, but was not the common Springer of our boyhood, or the one most commonly seen in odd counties. However, he has now disappeared from the shows."

"That was some wallop you gave us last month in your editorial on Sportsmanship and Misrepresentation. I had no idea that you packed such a mule-like kick behind your lead pencil. I will say this, though, that you are quite a diplomat; no doubt you could have handed out a 'solar plexus' instead of so much sparring if you had felt inclined to be rough. A sport is always a sport, but we all have our different temperaments, you know: some of us are hot-headed and act fast, sometimes only to regret it all later on; but if we are really sports, we will always regret 'flying off the handle' when we come to think things over. For misrepresentation there can be no excuses, and I, for one, would feel insulted if anyone offered me a winners ribbon at any show that was not licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club.

"Well, good luck to you; give us more of these 'straight from the shoulder hits'—when we need them; as children we could be chastized with good results, as men we should always be amendable to what is right, and able to turn our backs on anything wrong. If you notice where we are sorry for our wanderings from the paths of rectitude, or hear of us making amends for our wrongdoings, I

"I have read your Sportsmanship—Misrepresentation, over several times. 'As we were just saying' should be your feature column each month. I have been often disgusted when attending shows, licensed and unlicensed, by the open back-biting, the vulgar criticism, the out and out knocking that seems to be a necessary adjunct to the pleasure of some of the fanciers at the shows. Not long ago I overheard a miserable exhibitor of quite intelligent appearance, saying, 'That long-backed, big-eyed, cow-hocked dog could never win under any judge who knew a Cocker.' While the truth was that the dog referred to was one of nice length of back for his height, had a nice soft eye of nice size and placement, and certainly it was not cow-hocked. Surely this critic had allowed her better judgment to run riot, and her sense of sportsmanship to leave her altogether. This is no isolated case, Mr. Editor, it happens all the time. It is not the first time that I have noticed you being held up and forced to listen to some of this dirt, something from the critic direct, and sometimes from the party criticized. I feel very proud of 'Kennel and Bench' to-day; it is, after many years,

In its most attractive 'Little Red Riding Hood' jacket, with its offerings on 'Kennel Management,' 'Co-operating with the Canadian Fancy,' 'Notes from the American Side,' 'Toy Dogs at Crufts,' and the kindly reference to 'Our old friends of yesterday,' the late Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon, and in lighter vein, 'Who Stole the Priest's Cat?'—a good story can always stand repeating, the whole, a most creditable issue. And, keep the "As we were just saying" contribution right at the front. Canadians Visit Cruft's Show

(Special to Kennel and Bench by Mr. E. N. Barker, Calgary).

AFTER many years and after many miles of travel, is quite exciting to find oneself back in a building such as the Agricultural Hall, Islington, in 1926, which is crowded with dogs and crowded with people. It was in 1878 that I took in my first dog show at the Agricultural Hall, when Collies were just coming in as show dogs, and not too many of us were quite sure what were the points of a show Collie. Fox Terriers were also having an early boom, but there again only a few seemed to know just what a judge wanted. Since that day we have gone through many phases and much alteration, and have gone into or through many states, provinces and countries where dog shows are held, and yet some of us are not so very old, but still able to sit up and take a little nourishment when we met an old friend from across the Atlantic, in London, and he says, "come and have one?"

The biggest entry in Cruft's Show, at Islington, February 10th and 11th was that of the Alsatian Wolf Dogs. It was tremendous; too big, in fact, for one judge to satisfactorily sort out at one show. However, some of us greenhorns from Western Canada have now some idea as to what is wanted in the breed and what is meant when we read the critiques and they speak of "gait" and "angulation" and other fine points of the breed, etc., etc., unheard of in our youth.

The next on the programme was the mastiffs, of which 20 were shown and there are still some good ones and it looks quite like old times to get up against them. Along side these were the Bull Mastiffs, I believe, enjoying their first classification here. There were just ten benched and the type is evidently understood. They are a sort of modified mastiff, lower on the leg with a broad, flat head, of the usual mastiff colors, but not wrinkled much or turned up blin muzzle. There were also ten Newfoundlands, one black and white, which they say is something not seen for some time.

Then we come to the Elkhounds who turned out over 40 strong and seem to be one of the coming new breeds. Borzois numbered 35 and a good one is much the same anywhere. St. Bernards are not all dead yet for there were 36 on view, looking good and just as familiar as of old. Some of us old-timers can remember when they were almost as valuable as diamonds, in the days of Sir Bedivere et al. We hazard the opinion they have not anything quite as good as Sir Bevidere now on view. Bloodhounds numbered 13 and there were some grand ones in the bunch and nothing weak among the lot. But they are hard to raise, yet we get some good work out of them in the West.

Great Danes were a good muster of over 60. Transportation and distance make it easier exhibiting big dogs than in North America; but, on looking over the catalogue in many breeds, we see one man or one woman does not mind coming all the way from Scotland or Wales with one dog to exhibit. And then there are the dog ladies and the dog girls in smock and breeches and boots almost as numerous around the benches and many in the rings. This is now a profession for women as well as men and everything seems to go along smoothly. Some of the dog girls can show a setter with all the points stretched out and the frills and all the pose necessary (a la Ben Lewis of old) that is required to win. Us old-timers would greatly love to see old Ben up against these lady experts, in stiff competition his expression should be ideal.

We counted 11 Deerhounds and 20 Irish Wolfhounds. These latter seem to get larger and larger and are splendid specimens of a big dog, but too big to run wolves with out West on frozen ground, and where they slip up and fall hard on winter ice. Still, they look grand in London, in a show.

Now, when we go to a big dog show like Cruft's, and come from the boundless prairie, it is only natural that we must enthuse on the splendid array of gun-dogs on view. The Britisher loves a good gun-dog and not only shows them but also uses them. What struck me very much was the splendid array of gun-dogs at this show, their quality, condition, manners and general soundness.

The task of judging them was a severe test on any judge. The Labrador Retrievers were almost a show in themselves and anything that got into the money or received a letter had to be a good one, showing type, quality and substance. If too fine in bone and light in frame they took a back seat. They are not all blacks, though most are, and more latitude is allowed in color of eyes than in the flat-coated. These latter were also strong classes showing a lot of quality, about 60 benched.

There were half a dozen good curls and then we came to the newest thing in Retrievers, the boom in Golden Retrievers, over 70 on hand. To those who have not seen them it may be as well to say that they are coming into line by degrees with the flat-coated Retriever, as to type, but all have not reached there yet. At present, they vary somewhat but are big, good looking dogs of the color of a light Irish Setter or possibly more the color of light red cocker. They seem to be one of the coming breeds over here. Pointers turned out to the tune of 32. Here it was a pleasure to see the judge sticking to good old pointer type. The shortcoupled dog, coupled like a terrier, with very short back, very round feet and thick pasterns did not get to the very top. So many of our later-day dog show judges seem to think there is only one type, and that a good old-fashioned heavy-weight pointer has no business in the ring. Probably some judges of pointers have not studied "Arkwright on the Pointer," or have not shot over pointers in a hilly country, so we must forgive them; but it is good to see some of the old judges judging gundogs once more.

"CRUFTS." What Britisher of any standing in dogdom does not know "Charlie" Cruft, and his annual classic "Crufts' Dog Show"? We venture to answer our own questions by saying, "There ain't no sich animile."

We were surprised to receive this interesting and descriptive article from our old member, Mr. E. N. Barker, Cardstone, Alta., who seems to have been doing considerable "globe trotting" recently. And as it is not every day that we get a "close up" of Crufts' Show, we are pleased to print Mr. Barker's impressions on what he noticed as he strolled through the labyrinth of benches at the Agricultural Hall, Islington, on February 10th and 11th. HANDLING I am getting a string ready now for New York Show and am open to consider handling a few more really high-class dogs. Get that good one of yours properly started. I have shown and handled at nine shows since June, 1925, and was awarded best in show at St. Paul, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon and the great National Kennel Club Show at Toronto (Royal Agricultural Winter Fair); Reserve Best, all breeds, at Fort Garry Kennel Club, All Terrier Club, and at the great Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto. Now, how about that good one of yours?

Stock of all breeds, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dogs, for sale and to choose from.
Communicate GEO. KYNOCH - - - 50 Whitehall Ave., WINNIPEG, MAN.

English Setters, not very numerous, but there were some good ones and that looked like going. The cloddy dog did not win the Challenge Certificate, but a gundog man was judging them and wanted a mover with reach and stride. Gordons, just seven. Then we come to a surprise; 96 Irish Setters and a very good-looking lot. It seems that the Irish Setter is enjoying great popularity not only as a gun-dog but as a companion. He is much admired for his good looks, his color and his disposition and is being freely kept by even those who do no shooting. Some of us can bear witness to the fact that out on the prairie he is hard to beat. You may kill a good bag of grouse over him in the morning and he will, in the afternoon and evening, retrieve for his boss 50 or 60 ducks and possibly some geese.

These are dogs descended in some cases from ancestors taken out West by the Mounted Police in the 70's and early eighties and they know their business.

Then wandering along among the gundogs we come upon a long array of spaniels, too numerous to take in detail, cockers and springers being especially strong. To put this in somewhat of a nutshell, with a general sweep, the long and low seems to have disappeared altogether. The present show dog is shorter in the back, more up on the leg and more active, the springer being of the same general type as the cocker only heavier and larger. The field spaniel seems to have followed suit and even the old Clumber of which there were 25, seems to be slightly condensing himself in these later days. Irish Water Spaniels numbered about 14 and there were some good ones, size bone and character. Nothing that was not sound, fit, good in bone and frame with good action could get anywhere in the spaniel division.

Rough Collies numbered about 50. There are so many fancy breeds nowadays that have come rapidly up, the old days that have come rapidly up the old breeds have to divide the honors with them. At one time we would not expect to see Chows doubling the Collies in numbers at a big show, but so it is. There were over 100 Chows here. Then there are Samoyeds, Salukis, and Afgan Hounds, all very distinctive breeds, that look pure-bred and do not poach on each others preserves in type. Dalmatians, I thought, were a small lot, but very good. Poodles are not enjoying much popularity except the toys. Bulldogs numbered about 70, a good representative exhibit, among over 3,000 dogs benched; bull terriers, about 40 benched and many good ones in the bunch, some colored.

Then we come to terriers. If the editor should ever be rash enough to publish these notes, no doubt some of the critics will say that old fool does not know what he is talking about; but this same "old bird" used to write quite a lot of terrier notes in the days gone by, that some of them did read with varying feelings, and we have been criticized before.

To commence with Airedales. The last big show I was at in London in 1899 or 1900, I had the pleasure of looking over the great Master Briar and some others, and we had Domnel Monarch, the New King et al a little later. Compared with the dog of today it was a different dog and for a sporting man a better dog. The present day Airedale may be a good show dog, with his long legs, short back, slim waist and very long head, but is not the dog that made the Airedale dog popular with the sporting man who used him for bears, mountain lions and so on down to smaller game. At this show the Airedales were much outnumbered by other terriers; possibly a hark back would not hurt the breed, to more sensible lines.

Smooth Fox Terriers numbered 56—not a big entry of this once famous variety. There were some nice dogs on view but we must again hazard the opinion that these are drawn a bit too fine for working terriers, and the punishing power seems somewhat gone. Wires were a great exhibit and an old-timer would say that the dog that travelled to the very top had what a good many lacked, punishing power as well as good looks and great quality. A good many of the wires are natty, cobby little dogs with long heads and lots of moustache, but seem to lack skull back of the eyes and strength of jaw. The Sealyhams, a great exhibit, seem to the wanderer from the wilds to have what the fox-terriers used to have and they are very fascinating terriers, if they, also, are not carried too far.

The West Highland White Terrier, 40 in number. A man that is looking for a neat, serviceable dog with character that looks like a worker would not go far amiss in buying one if he needed a nice little pal. The same may be said of the Cairn who seems to have lots of brains. The Scottie is still going strong, and possibly because his admirers have stuck to type and character are not afraid of a little strength and substance. He is a Scottie yet. Dandies, over 40, a goodly lot, more settled in type than they used to be.

Border Terriers, neat, perky little chaps, with a character of their own. He would be a rash man who went to judge these without getting some pointers on the breed first. Irish Terriers, a fair turn out, but here again, we think, us old-timers, that the present Irish Terrier is drawn a bit fine and lacks in character. There was not a Bolton Woods Mixer that I could see at Cruft's, but my eyesight may be failing. Then we come to one of the coming breeds, the Kerry Blue. A strong, powerful, punishing dog, looks like a worker and a good sort to have out on a ranch when you are alone. They are supposed to be blue, but, being Irish, at present, a Kerry Blue winner may be black and get away with it. Later they will probably all be blues when in the money. A black Kerry Blue may or may not be an Irish bull, it's a matter of opinion to be left to our many Irish friends. It looks as if the Kerry Blue was a comer unless they draw him out too fine later.

Bedlingtons seem to be looking up a bit, but Black and Tans are on the down grade, and we have seen much better classes in Toronto in the days of yore.

A fascinating new face is the Shetland Sheep Dog. In fact, a miniature collie of the old sort with lots of character. If they keep away from the Borzoi head, should become very popular.

The show of toys is very strong with an exceptionally good turn out of the old-timer, the Yorkshire Terrier. Of course, numerically, the Pek'ngese is the thing just now and others, but these should be handled by the ladies' men and not by gun-dog men of the wild and woolly prairie.

It was a great show with over 60 judges and 30 rings going. All had to be done in two days but there did not seem to be any scuffling going on and everything moved quietly and with precision. One thing to remark is that there seems to be a better chance for the novice and the new dog to get a footing than there used to be. By this I mean the modern classification in England, such as Special Limit Class, Tyro, Graduate, Special Graduate, etc., etc., bring out more dogs and more exhibitors than the old form. The interest in dogs is remarkable. The last afternoon the crush in the building was becoming lively, and when I left, about 4 p.m., there was a queue formed from the ticket windows right down the hall and the stairs, round the corner and extending down the street, how far, I could not see, all waiting to buy a ticket and get in. The gate started at five shillings and ninepence the first morning and dropped to one shilling the last afternoon and evening. Another thing to note at English shows is the catering. Once in you can get all your meals during the day and anything you want to drink or smoke; and if you have come a long distance, you can spend the whole day there at your leisure and need not leave the building until ready to go home.
