WEANING & REARING PUPPIES

EQUALLY SUITABLE FOR KITTENS & SILVER FOX CUBS

PUPPIES have small stomachs, and the milk of a bitch is therefore a concentrated food, being more than twice as strong as cow's milk. LACTOL closely resembles the puppies' natural food, which is why they do so well on it. Puppies reared on LACTOL thrive remarkably, and do not suffer from indigestion, vomiting, diarrhoea, rickets, etc., as when given cow's milk or other foods.

LACTOL is already used by many breeders in Canada and the U.S.A., whilst in the British Isles no kennel of any importance is ever without it. PUPPIES LOVE LACTOL.

WESTERN FAIR, LONDON, DOG SHOW, SEPTEMBER 12th and 13th

Meeting of Board Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club was held at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, June 21st, 1928, at 8 o'clock. In the unavoidable absence of Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, President, the First Vice-President, Lt.-Col. J. N. MacRae, presided. Directors present were Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, Major Ward Wright, R. Lee Wainwright and N. K. Swire.

The Secretary read a telegram which he had received from Capt. W. S. Smith, advising with regret his inability to attend the meeting.

The Secretary reported the death of Mr. Charles W. Dickinson, Toronto.

The minutes of the previous Directors' Meeting were read, and on motion regularly proposed:

"The minutes were adopted as read."

The Secretary called attention to the framed historical pictures of the first President of the Canadian Kennel Club, Mr. Robert Gibson, and of the first Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club, Mr. C. A. Stone, as samples for their consideration or approval. The Secretary was instructed to have the work finished as per the samples submitted.

A letter from Mr. W. H. Pym, Vancouver, was read in connection with the recognition of the Vancouver and District Whippet Stud Book, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, it is the desire of this Board, that, the Constitution be amended to meet the requirements of the situation if possible."

The appeal of the Toronto Humane Society in connection with their building programme was considered, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the matter be laid on the table for consideration at a future meeting."

The Secretary reported that at the Annual Meeting of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the following resolution had been endorsed:—

"Resolved, that this eighth annual meeting of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals wishes to go on record as strongly opposing the cropping of dogs' ears," and that a copy of the resolution has been ordered sent to the President of the Canadian Kennel Club, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, in view of the fact that no evidence had been submitted, that no action be taken in the matter."

A letter was read from Mr. Geo. W. Bailey, Ottawa, concerning dogs shipped by him on approval which had been received but not paid for.

It was regularly moved, seconded, and carried:—

"That, the matter was considered as being outside of the jurisdiction of the Canadian Kennel Club, and suitable for the Civil Courts, and that no action be now taken."

The Secretary reported that in connection with the competition for the Governor-General's solid silver trophy as offered during 1927 for the Best Canadian-bred Dog or Bitch, three dogs had won an equal number of points on the Trophy, and that he had—as advised by the Board at the May meeting—written to the parties concerned, suggesting that they allow their names to be drawn to decide the winner. To this arrangement each one had agreed, and in compliance 24 pieces of paper had been prepared, 21 of which were blank.

The slips were placed in a hat and thoroughly shaken up, and the Vice-President, after drawing 6 blanks, then drew the slip that showed "Int. Ch. Glenrose Flashaway," owned by Joseph Greenwood, Beamsville, Ont., to be the winner. The Vice-President declared accordingly.

The following applications for membership in the Canadian Kennel Club were presented:—

Important Announcement to Alsatian Breeders:

AT STUD

ARMOUR VON VOGEL

ARMOUR VON VOGEL

I have recently imported this noted Alsatian,
ARMOUR VON VOGEL

for the purpose of improving the breed in this country. Armour is sired by the World's Greatest Producer: German Sieger, 1920; International Grand Champion, Hamilton—Erick Von Grafenwerth, out of a Daughter of the 1922-23 German Sieger and International Double Grand Champion—Cito Bergerslust. Armour, therefore, has the much coveted Erick-Gerry Combination of Bloodlines and is the best Shepherd dog in Canada, and is considered by many to be the finest show specimen yet seen here. "Armour," whilst suffering from the effects of his long journey, took 1st Open, Special and Winners at the recent Winnipeg show, in the largest entry of Shepherds on record entered there. He is now offered at Stud to discriminating breeders.

WHIPPET NOTES.

The Toronto Whippet Association has had a hectic month. Every man and dog has been training hard for the Whippet Association Cup Race. That is the big event of the season, it is a handicap affair of 200 yards, in fact the writer has trained off 10 pounds getting the dope on the various contenders. It is no job to get up in the "wee small hours of the morning" to walk a "long tail" four or five miles. Every dog has its regular course both walking and running, to say nothing of the rub down. It may take anywhere from one half hour to one and one half hours, according to the trainer's view. Anyway, the results will be history on the second day of July.

Of course the favorite is Hasty Daisy. Mr. Winch is the owner and trainer, but the writer doubts if she will be able to give such good dogs as Gaffsman's Just in Time, Andy Gump, and other good ones, the three yards.

We look for Gaffsman to show us a race soon; this dog has been working well, 200 yards in 13 seconds flat is good time on a dirt track.

We see Sam Allen and White Wings out at sun up.

Hasty Joe is credited with 200 yards in 13 2-5 seconds.

Hasty Daisy goes around Dufferin Race Track five or six times before breakfast, time 100 yards in 7 seconds.

Baby Peggy is likely to do a come back, 220 yards in 14 seconds.

Mr. George Gross trains his Just In Time in secret. George has a match race in view, a "Canny lad" is George.

Mr. Winfield had Sir Hairy after the rabbits this morning.

We caught Mr. Eakens' Queenie in 13 seconds flat, pretty good.

Several new fans have "taken unto themselves" a Whippet, and the Cup of Cups may go to a new comer with a long shot.

We hear of a good one called Circus Rider.

Peter Smith is not convinced that C. Rudds' Monkey is a better dog than his Ch. Jean, and has put up his money for a match race again. It will be interesting to see if Monkey can run after his long lay off.

Mr. Joe Storrer goes in for midnight training, but did not escape the watchful eye of your correspondent. Minstrel Boy, 200 yards in 13 1-5 seconds, track heavy. How's that, Joe?

Jolly Bob, winner of the Futurity, got himself mixed up with an automobile, but will be racing again soon.

There will be one of the keenest whippet races ever run in Canada at the Dufferin Race Track on Saturday, July 28th, at 3.00 p.m., between Eddie Rudd's "Eddie's Monkey," the international champion, which Monkey has held for three years, also winning 70 starts out of 73, and Peter Smith's champion "Jean," of Oldham, England, late of Westbury, Long Island, N.Y., for a purse of $600 and the International Championship. Jean has beaten them all except Monkey and his good sister "My Own," owned by William Gibson, and is open to run any male dog or bitch in Canada, 17 pounds each, off a mark of 200 yards under the American Whippet Club Rules. Jean has won races both in England, America and Canada, running and winning three races in England, beating her own brother twice, out of the same litter Rockfire, which at the present time is one of the best 19½ pound dogs in Great Britain. Jean is the full sister to James Gilligan's "Commaso," late "Fireworks," of Oldham, England, only a litter younger. Fireworks is one of the best 20-pound bitches that ever run in England in her day. Jean and Monkey ran a match race last year for a purse of $500.00, Monkey winning by 18 inches, before an enormous crowd of 17,000 people. Monkey and "My Own," his sister, were barred out of the Toronto Whippet Association for winning too often, and had to give them all a nine-yard start above their handicap, except Jean.

Mr. George Grass says he will run the winner of the match race between Ch. Jean and Monkey any time, or place, for a purse, the amount to be agreed upon.

Mr. Jack Chappell, with Gaffsman, is also in the ring with a challenge to the same effect. Where there is smoke there must be fire, so look out for forthcoming racing of interest.

VICTORY—THEN CALAMITY

There are very few of our toy dog fanciers who have enjoyed the wonderful thrills of being in the glory of the spotlight to the extent enjoyed by Mr. Joseph Greenwood of the Glen Rose Pomeranian Kennels at Beamsville, Ont. Nor was the glory confined to Canada, but radiated across into the United States quite extensively, and to that great little wolf sable, Ch. Glen Rose Flashaway, goes the full credit for all the brilliance that came to Glen Rose.

Wonderfully bred, and along the breeding lines of the greatest English breeders, Ch. Glen Rose Flashaway just had to be good. Born on July 11th, 1923, he made his debut at Toronto Kennel Club Show in 1925. He climbed to a commanding position from the very start, but it was not until the same fixture in 1926 that he decided to create a stir in dogdom, and it is now a matter of history how that he made the pace for dogs of all breeds at our shows, and "Best Dog In Show" came to be tacked on to his day's work as he appeared at different shows on different occasions, and this good work was carried through 1927 quite impressively, so much so, that, whilst entered for specials only, and by winning in this direction at Montreal, London (twice) and Hamilton he annexed 6 points on "The Governor General of Canada Trophy" and whilst there were other dogs that had as many points on this Trophy, the fates favored "Flashaway" (See Canadian Kennel Club minutes for May, in this issue) so much for the "Glory—and now for the calamity".

Calamity is the only suitable word in connection with what follows: At the end of a peaceful day in May the inmates of the Glen Rose Kennels having been cared for in every particular as per the "Glen Rose" fashion, the whole establishment retired for the night. When morning broke it gave no hint of anything unusual having happened in the night, and the kennel doors were thrown open as usual, immediately joyous barks proclaimed the joy of life in abundance, but strangely enough the happy yelpings seemed to lessen in volume, and so Mrs. Greenwood went to "ascertain the cause", and to her dismay she found the dead body of the Kennel's favorite—the great little Flashaway—near the door step, and nearby lay the dying body of that sweet little black female, "Pride of Glen Rose," herself a good winner at many shows and six championship points to her credit. A short distance removed lay in the

Boston Terriers

Our Globe strain has produced such celebrities as International champion Nation's Little Queen, International Champion Little Miss Muffet 2nd, Ch. Nation's Dream Baby, American Champion Daley's Detroit News, American Champion O'Glos Midgie, and many more with championship points.

This strain is strong today in the blood of our

a dog of most intense type, and strong line breeding. He is the most typical son we know of Ch. Globe League O'Nations, sire of three champions. His dam is the best daughter of Ch. Globe Sweet William, sire of two champions, and she has produced a good one in every litter.

Allied Nations is half brother to two Canadian champions and two American champions. His half-brother is the sire of one international champion and other winners of note. His full litter sister defeated champions the only time she was shown.

He has full ideal markings, possesses the sound well-made limbs and good feet for which this strain is noted, and he is one of the best headed dogs we have ever owned.

Every male dog except one on the pedigree of Globe Allied Nations has sired a champion, and that one dog which did not qualify sired the dam of two champions.

Is it any wonder this good dog is siring some of the best puppies ever produced by his prolific strain. If you wish to breed the type that wins on both sides of the border, this dog is at your disposal. Stud fee, $15.

throes of death the three-year-old orange sable "Glen Rose Star of Beechwood."

Enough is always sufficient in most cases, and this was no exceptional case, so a hurried inspection was made of the kennel runs, and much as we hate to write the gruesome story, it must be recorded that sufficient fresh meat, carrying sufficient deadly poison to have wiped out everything animate on the place. Naturally the happening has had a depressing effect on the whole Greenwood family—and they are all dog lovers—and dog showing and breeding was about to be sacrificed for something that would be less susceptible to the poisoners craft.

However, it was the writer's privilege to travel through the Niagara Peninsula immediately after the last directors' meeting and a stop was made at Glen Rose for the purpose of advising Mr. Greenwood that "dame fortune" had decided that he should become the owner of the Governor General's Cup, which circumstance has given renewed encouragement and enthusiasm and after a time we may see Glen Rose Pomeranians again benched at our shows.

The Poisoner.

Our views concerning the man or woman who would be guilty of placing poison for "Man's Best Friend" would not look well in print, therefore they must necessarily not appear here. However, last month we printed some verse concerning the monster and we again repeat in part that prayer to which the writer heartily subscribes.

"Like Dives' shriek from burning throat
For cooling drink, while devils gloat
To see you shrink and squim and grin
While flames curl up your scorching skin.
And may the dog that guards the gate
To that dread place, forever howl
With drooling laps and grinning jowl,
Into your ears the combined hate
Of all dog lovers ever known
And joyful leap to hear you groan,—"

RICKETS NO LONGER WORRY US!

When Chief Veterinary Surgeon Arendsee of the Berlin Zoological Gardens says that about Vitakalk, he tells most of the story in five words. Rickets is a disease due to improper nutrition. No ordinary diet for captive animals can hope to prevent it. No diet, no matter how carefully chosen, can supply the proper calcium and phosphorous, and particularly the anti-rachitic D vitamins. So when Dr. Arendsee says, after using Vitakalk for all the animals under his care "We may safely say rickets no longer worry us" he says something of great importance to dog breeders and fanciers. He proves that Vitakalk, curing and preventing the commonest animal scourge, is supplying what animals need in their diet.

Vitakalk

Full information on request from our offices and agencies in United States and Canada or supply sent C.O.D. or on receipt of price. 1 lb. can, $1.40; 2 lb., $2.25; 10 lb., $9.50. Slightly more in British Columbia and Alberta. Get yours today. Your dogs will thank you for knowing what they need.

Vitakalk's efficiency in counter-acting or preventing rickets is only one of its features. It strengthens bitches in whelp, improves milk supply, carries pups safely through weaning, builds strength and bone and muscle during the early days when so many pups go wrong, and keeps the growing dog full of vigor and health. You can see Vitakalk's effect in general alertness, glossier coats, bright shining eyes, good appetites—all the signs animal lovers look for as proof of well dogs. Vitakalk is not a food. It is the famous German tonic and conditioner, used for years in the most famous German Shepherd Kennels, the home of so many great prize winners—now available in the United States. Vitakalk is a combination of highly nutritious calcium phosphorous compounds, vitamin-yeast, strongly active vitamin vegetable substances. Dogs like it and assimilate it easily. The essential anti-rachitic D vitamins are present because the preparation has been subjected to ultra violet light.

THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

LOOKING over the situation closely, I feel that the most pleasing feature of the Canadian fancy to-day is the vastly increased interest that is being taken in dogs and dog shows. My mail during the last six months has contained many letters from novices who have or are taking up the breeding of dogs, and nearly every letter contains the query, "How can I successfully breed dogs which will be good enough to win prizes and championships?" This, I suppose, is only a natural question from the novice who may have been informed that anyone can succeed as a breeder, providing that they buy the right kind of bitches and stud dogs. But my experience in breeding has been that there is no golden pathway to success. To be successful one must have patience and some luck. Many successful breeders may not agree with me when I say that luck enters into the game of breeding dogs, but in certainly does, and that is why the game is so fascinating. I can recall many instances of bitches that were supposed to be non-breeders and to have been sold as non-breeders, and their proving in whelp the first time they were mated to some dog nominated by their new owners. One instance that comes to my mind as I am penning these lines, is the Irish Terrier bitch, Champion Breda Iris. She was bred several times by the late Billie Graham without any result, and afterwards by the late G. R. Krebil. The latter tried her twice and then sold her to George Mayall, and she not only bred for her new owner the first time she was mated, but produced three champions. The novice who is taking up the breeding of dogs should undoubtedly consider blood lines, and study the strains that are producing most consistently. Many novices seem to think that they have only to buy a bitch and then send her to a champion dog, and the result will be a litter containing winners and probably one or more champions, but, believe me, the game is not as easy as this—fortunately for all concerned—if it were so, we would very soon see an awful slump in values. A few of the fundamental laws that govern breeding are, that from the sire is derived the external structure and color, and from the bitch, the constitution, temper and habits. In choosing your bitch, be certain that her breeding contains the names of ancestors that have proved of value in the breeding kennel. Don't just buy a bitch because she has won a few first prizes. There are many instances of bitches that have proved almost invincible in the show ring and as many instances of dogs that have had great show careers, yet, when placed in the breeding kennel or at stud, have proven utter failures. Some strains consistently produce winners, others, only occasionally, and I must frankly state that the strain that only occasionally produces winners, usually, when a winner is produced from this strain, it is a real winner, and I believe that probably why so many novices come and go so quickly is that they do not go to the strain that consistently produces winners, but use the strain that occasionally produces one of the leading dogs or bitches of the day.

I think sometimes that we are not progressing as quickly as dog breeders as other breeders of animals, and that our knowledge of the principles of successful dog breeding is lamentably slight, but we do know the proven fact that the longer certain qualities—good or bad—have been consistently handed down from generation to generation, the more confident one can feel that they will be carried on. There will always be the curious and wonderful factor of prepotency to be reckoned with, but we have the knowledge that any particular characteristic is dependent for its fixity upon its having shown itself to be constant during many generations. Regarding prepotency we all have known cases where there has been two dogs in a litter, one of which has proven himself a consistent winner in good company, yet practically a failure at stud—the other dog, as far as show points were concerned, was decidedly lacking, yet at stud he proved a very great success.

In a close study of the methods of our most successful breeders of stock, I find that nearly all of them inbreed to a large extent. But in inbreeding one must study the principles of breeding very carefully, for when you inbreed, the time comes when your stock begins to get weedy and lack constitution, and one has to go out for an outcross, and in outcrossing, a breeder will find that his stock, for a time, lacks type and quality. The mistake most often made in inbreeding is that the breeder who steps out with a definite programme to inbreed just studies pedigrees, and forgets the individual animals he is inbreeding. Success can only come in inbreeding if the breeder not only studies pedigrees and the characteristics handed down by certain strains, but also before mating, carefully considers whether the dog and bitch he intends to mate are suitable to each other.

"Always beautiful is the English Setter."

The novice who intends to take up the breeding of dogs will save himself a lot of disappointment if instead of relying on his own judgment in selecting his foundation stock will seek the advice of some reliable breeder and remember, that when the litter is born, rearing counts as much towards success as careful selection in mating. In a close study of the names of the breeders of our great dogs, it will be found that the small breeder has been more successful than the large. It is not that the small breeder has taken greater care in his mating problems, but that the small breeder can and does give greater care to the rearing of his puppies. In Canada, we have two problems with which to contend, which do not enter into the programme of the breeder across the pond—namely, climate and lack of puppy walks. The first we can overcome, but my experience has been that it is utterly impossible to attain success as a breeder in an overcrowded kennel, which has no suitable accommodation for puppies. Some breeders may not agree with the following—that 60 per cent. must be allotted to rearing. I have found that in large kennels one of the most important essentials to success as a breeder, change of diet for the puppies, is almost entirely forgotten and in this important factor to success is where the small breeder has the edge on the big kennel owner. Puppies will not thrive if the same old food is given to them three or four times a day. They want their food little and often and the breeder on the other side usually selects "walks" where his puppy will be allowed to roam at will and where its diet will be varied.

I was indeed pleased to see through our "President's Page" last month that the authorities of the Canadian National Exhibition have at last consented to the demands of the Canadian Fancy to be given a suitable building for what is generally admitted to be the most important dog show in Canada. The old building was a positive disgrace, and visitors never wanted to stay long in it. I remember my first visit to the Exhibition, and my astonishment that such an obsolete building was given, and I have never been surprised at the fact that the show was fast losing ground and that many exhibitors are of opinion that the show given by the National Kennel Club was the premier show in the country. The consent of the authorities has been brought about through the tact of our president, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, to whom the thanks of the Canadian Fancy are due. I notice that the all-round judges will be "Bob" Ross, our Quebec director, and J. W. Marples. The former will be sure to draw a big entry in his section. J. W. Marples has a world-wide experience with dogs, and is particularly strong in sporting dogs, or was when I was actively engaged in England some thirteen years ago. Our "Bob" is the only Canadian to officiate, for Clarence Grey, of Boston, Mass., will judge Bostons and French Bulldogs, and W. McFadden, of Plymouth, the Toys. It is now up to the Fancy to make a bumper entry, for there is no gainsaying the fact that the Canadian National Exhibition is a show where under suitable surroundings our dogs can be brought to the notice of more visitors than at any other show in the Dominion.

This month, July, is going to be a busy one for the Western fancy. Brandon starts the circuit on July 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th. J. E. Rettie is the secretary, and J. C. Fletcher is the judge. The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club are out for a record for their forthcoming show. A very attractive premium list has been issued by J. G. Young, the secretary, who believes that I shall have a busy time on July 17th, 18th, and 19th. The show will be held in conjunction with the Exhibition. It will be the first time I have had the pleasure of meeting the Edmonton fanciers, and I am looking forward to the show with a deal of pleasure, for I have heard so much of the real fancier spirit which exists at Edmonton from our "Jimmy." The Alberta Kennel Club, at Calgary, on July 11th, 12th and 13th, will be judged by J. C. Fletcher. The show brings back pleasant memories of a most enjoyable time spent there some four years ago, where the officials, knowing my keenness for good horses and riding, very kindly arranged my judging programme so that I was able to take in all the principal events of the stampede. On the morning of the show I ran across Jack Fletcher and Geo. Kynoch in cowboy attire; in fact, it is cowboy week, and everyone seems to don their attire. I hope if Jack dresses up for the occasion, the weather will not be as hot as it was when I was judging at Calgary. After judging Edmonton, I am spending a few days seeing dogs and golf courses, and then go on to renew the many pleasant friendships I made two years ago at Saskatoon, where the sixth annual show of the Saskatoon Kennel Club will be held, in the Fair Grounds, on July 24th, 25th and 26th. J. E. Chater, the secretary, announces that all kinds of valuables are to be given in the way of specials, and everyone may be sure of receiving a real hearty welcome from the band of good fellows who run this show. Just remember that entries close July 19th. Regina closes the month with its show on July 31 and August 1st and 2nd, and the judge for this show will be J. W. Marples, of Stockport, England.

Sincere congratulations are due to the Hamilton Kennel Club, and its secretary-treasurer, Arthur Fairbanks, for the way they are preparing for their big show in September. The judges are, Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, Shepherds, sporting spaniels, and all gun dogs; Geo. Hatcher, Pomeranians, Pekingese, and all Toys; Arthur Craddock, Boston Terriers; Capt. H. D. Waters, all other breeds. The matinee show held on June 16th proved an unqualified success, Alf Loveridge having a very representative entry in Shepherds, and needless to say his awards gave general satisfaction. Similar remarks apply to Mrs. Stevens, who certainly showed by her placings that she knows her favorite breed very thoroughly.

The Central Canada Exhibition will be held at Ottawa, on August 21st, 22nd, and 23rd. I have been asked, and accepted, the invitation to act as judge. With such an enthusiastic band of fanciers as the Ottawa fanciers are, combined with the fact that they have a really up-to-date building, an exclusive classification, and many inducements in the way of valuable specials, should enable this show to easily beat all their previous records.

H. E. Batt, the owner of the Haldon Kennels, Guelph, Ont., very naturally is delighted at the fact that his beautiful Scotty bitch, Cedric Countess, has gained her championship title without defeat. Coming from England in August last year, she made her debut at Hamilton, where she gained Winners and Best of Breed. Similar honors were awarded to her at the Canadian National. Early in September she was engaged rearing a litter by Orusay Cameronian, and this year she finished her title at Toronto Spring Show and Brantford.

I have received a very welcome letter from Mrs. A. R. Jordan, and am very pleased to hear that she is meeting with much success with her kennel of Wire Fox Terriers, Boston Terriers and Pekingese, at Rosewood, Cal. The Idylwyld Kennel made an enviable record when it was at Saskatoon, and Mrs. Jordan's many friends there will, I know, join me in wishing her continued success.

The most important deal in Bulldogs that has come to my notice for some time is the purchase by R. P. Sparkes of Kippax Jock, whose record on the other side proved him to be one of the outstanding Bulldogs competing over there. His new owner writes in enthusiastic terms of how Kippax Jock impressed him on his arrival, and judging from the photograph, Jock is likely to cause a thrill amongst "Bulldoggers" when he makes his debut.

I have received a long and interesting letter from my friend, Dick Zwicker on the progress his favorite breed, Russian Wolfhounds, are making in N.S. Success is following the Marlboro Kennels and the reports I have received of the quality of the young Marlboro's shows that Dick is undoubtedly on the right road to realize his ambition, namely, to found one of the outstanding strains of "Russians" on the American continent. The foundation of Marlboro strain was very carefully thought out by its founder, and although Dick Zwicker certainly did not have the best of luck at the start, Dame Fortune appears at last to be smiling, and it is quite within the bounds of possibility to see one of the Marlboro's heading the classes at New York in the near future.

I hear rumors of several important importations of different breeds having been made by Halifax fanciers. I formed the impression last year that with very little encouragement Halifax could be made a very important dog centre, and from the reports I have received it would seem that the impressions "Jimmy" and I got at Halifax were correct.

TO BOOST THE IRISH SETTER

LOVING a good Setter always and to have been a Setter enthusiast for over half a century is something well worthy of note, but to have continuously retained that love and enthusiasm to well on towards a full century is something that is quite remarkable, and that is just about the correct record of The Honorary President of the

Canadian Kennel Club,

Mr. Charles A. Stone, whose interest and love of Setters has always been, is, and—apparently—always will be.

As proof of Mr. Stone's abiding enthusiasm for the Setter, and in the present instance, particularly for the Irish Setter, Mr. Stone has volunteered to sponsor a drive that will have for its essential virtue the popularizing of the Irish Setter in the Dominion, and for this purpose he has invested a suitable sum of money in the purchase of a handsome Trophy, a picture of which appears on this page, and will be offered for competition in Canada until the Trophy has been won outright by some fortunate fancier, and it is Mr. Stone's desire to have his Trophy announced in all premium lists from now on, and of course this will be an easy matter that will be attended to in the regular way.

The particulars and conditions of the Trophy are as follows:

The Honorary President
of the
Canadian Kennel Club,
Mr. Charles Arnold Stone,
Toronto,
Offers the

C. A. STONE TROPHY.

"The C. A. Stone Trophy" is offered in Canada for the purpose of popularizing the Irish Setter in the Dominion, and subject to the following conditions:

For the best Canadian-bred Irish Setter—male or female—with no less than two of his or her progeny—to be won three times by the same owner, but not necessarily by the same sire or dam or progeny. The male or the female to be the sole property of the exhibitor.

The progeny may be owned by any person or persons eligible to compete at shows held under Canadian Kennel Club Rules.

There will be no age restrictions.

But, there must be at least two competitors at shows where the cup is offered, otherwise it will be considered void.

The Championship rating of the shows shall be the rating which shall be recognized as the rating of points.

The Trophy shall not be considered in competition at any show unless it has specifically appeared in the Premium List of the Club holding the show.

The donor being a breeder, and being desirous of sponsoring interest in this competition, retains to himself the privilege of competition.

The Trophy will be in competition from August 1st, 1928, until August 1st, 1931, or until it has been won three times by any owner, whichever event should happen first.

The Trophy shall remain in the custody of the Canadian Kennel Club until won.

"The C. A. Stone Trophy" is now in the custody of the Canadian Kennel Club, where it will be properly kept and cared for until it has been won, and we are wondering now just who it is going to be that will have the honor of making the first win.

The feet small, very firm; toes strong, close together, arched.

Tail.—Moderate length, set on rather low, strong at root, and tapering to a fine point; carried as nearly as possible on a level with or below the back.

Coat.—On the head, front of legs, and tips of ears, short and fine; but on all other parts of the body and legs to be of moderate length, flat, and as free as possible from curl or wave.

Feathering.—The feather on the upper portion of the ears long and silky; on the back of the fore and hind legs long and fine; a fair amount of hair on the belly, forming a nice fringe, which may extend on chest and throat. Feet to be well feathered between toes. Tail to have a nice fringe of moderately long hair, decreasing in length as it approaches the point. All feathering to be as straight and flat as possible.

Color and Markings.—A rich golden chestnut, with no trace whatever of black; white on chest, throat, or toes, or a small star on the forehead, or a narrow streak or blaze on the nose or face not to disqualify.

DOGS OF THE EMPIRE

By FREEMAN LLOYD.

(Illustrations from the Author's collection).

DOG Shows, Field Trials, Whippet and Greyhound Racing are the products of the brains of sportsmen. These sports and pastimes (for dog racing may be styled a pastime) have been evolved from man's consciousness—his being aware of the fact that not only is there something very beautiful and lovable about a dog, but that the dog's abilities as a hunter or runner, or both, may be exploited in several ways. Thus it is we have this wonderful dog cult and the every day business that is carried on in connection with dogs and the implements used in the pursuit of sport.

New people are approaching or entering into these realms of kennel sports. Such persons come along every day of the year. In the case of the Old Country, the new comer generally signs on for life; but in other parts where carrying on the doggie game means all going out and nothing coming in, it has been estimated that the middle aged or new exhibitor lasts only about four years. These men generally keep their dogs in the kennels of the public handlers. As a matter of fact they have not been used to dogs from their childhood; and, probably, they never will become dog lovers or acquainted with dogs, in the sense of having or possessing dogs as friends and companions.

If we study the list of name of the foremost breeders of dogs—sporting dogs especially, all over the Empire, we will find the votaries of dog showing and field trialing are stickers; and year in and year out, they persist in their endeavors to breed something better and better—something that shall do some honor to their kennels and even the district in which they dwell.

As the old cock crows the young ones learn; and it will be found that one man going into a neighborhood with a lot of well-bred dogs, will set a fashion, and one, moreover, that will never die out. Later on an interchange of breeding stock takes place between the people interested, and the nation is enriched. For good live stock is a country's pride as well as among the chief of its treasures. In Canada, in the winter months, the dog is an economic necessity. For sport—the pointers, setters, retrievers and spaniels; greyhounds, deerhounds and their crosses are workman-like and good looking. The British Empire has just reason for being proud of its dogs; indeed, no other Race can compete with the British in the production of high-class dogs, if we except the Germans who, down through the centuries, have bred good and grand dogs. Were it not for the mutilations that some (or several) of the German breeds have to undergo, there can be little doubt that certain of the German dogs would be still more popular among the nations of the Earth.

"THE SPORTSMAN"

An engraving depicting the pleasures of the young sportsman. Here are portrayed the indoor delights of the lover of the dog and gun. May his kind ever prosper.

The picture of "The Sportsman" is not as old as the general run of prints that have been used to illustrate these articles. But it has been chosen for the reason that it pretty well fills the bill in the way of portraying those subtle pleasures which one experiences when overhauling his gun, his fishing rod, his tackle and all of those other little etceteras that go to make up the delights of the sportsman. To have a brace of setters, pointers, spaniels or other gun dogs at your feet, and looking on, surely gives a double ecstasy to the disciple of the dog and the gun. It is a happy setting that J. F. Lewis gives his subject. There are the signs of comfortable affluence, and the happiness of the man who has his dogs in his own house and breakfast room. Such a sportsman as Mr. Lewis gives us, was born a sporting-dog lover. He lives as a sporting-dog lover should live; he enjoys his life just as his Creator meant a curly headed and handsome young man to rejoice in his habitation and his out door life.

Over and over again it has mentioned that the new comers interested in dogs, arriving in Canada, should be kept in sight, so that their "fancies" and knowledge regarding dogs, may not be lost to the Commonwealth. Next to the British Isles, no country of the population of Canada, produces such a lot of well-bred, useful and good-looking dogs. There are more working men dog breeders in the Dominion than there are in any other of the countries of the Empire; and the Canadian dogs have ever commanded capital prices from purchasers in the United States.

The fact that such an abundance of game exists in Canada, will assure a continuous outside market for gun dogs. For where there is no or little game, there cannot exist the opportunities to break or train sporting dogs. The circumstance that one Canadian Province has turned out not less than six to seven thousand springer spaniels alone, must point to the immensity of what has been accomplished in the way of breeding, training and selling all around and useful land and water sporting gun dogs.

The call for Canadian-trained "bird" dogs will become stronger and stronger. Already several American dog trainers are located on the Canadian prairies, although the very great majority of these men are only interested in field trial pointers and setters. This will be all the better for the home-made and strictly bird dog trainers of the Dominion.

Field trialing is not everyone's sport nor is it everyone's pleasure. It is an expensive amusement for the owner. The trainer-handler takes all in the way of the prize money that might be won, while the owner pays the piper for everything accomplished on behalf of his dog. This is all very fair, no doubt; but while these professional handlers are making their hay on the prairies, there can be no reason that more Canadians should not be employed in breaking shooting dogs. For shooting dogs there is always a ready market at remunerative prices. Guaranteed pointers, setters, spaniels and retrievers are worth all sorts of money in the United States.

Among the most beautiful of the setters are the Gordons named from a Duke of Richmond and Gordon whose setters became more and more famous during the last century. To-day there is a distinct revival of Gordon setter interests. Field trials have also been given for dogs and bitches of the black-and-tan setter breed. As everyone knows, the Gordon setter of to-day must be black-and-tan, with no white about him. Some of the best dogs of the mid and late Victorian periods, had white hairs—few or many—on their breasts. But to-day, a white chested or toed dog would be sent cardless out of the judging ring, although the Duke's Gordon setters were black-white-and tan in color.

According to Frederick van Wyck, Scarsdale, N.Y., the first Gordon setters arrived in 1842 in the United States, when Mr. van Wyck's grandfather George W. Blount imported Rake and Rachel direct from the Scottish nobleman's kennels. The duke sent a water color of Rake, so the dog could be identified. This picture portrays a black saddle-and-loin marked dog with an otherwise white and ticked head, body and legs. Such a dog would not by any manner of means, be identified or even classed with the Gordon setters of to-day. Rake was a light-built, deep-chested, and ribbed dog; small in ear, and very light in head and the finish of the face before the eyes. He pointed or set in a slinking, slouching style; but he was evidently a particularly fast dog. The portrait picture was the work of Thadeus H. Lane; and it would be expected that the Duke of Gordon must have commissioned a competent artist—one who could convey to his canvas the likeness of the dogs being sent to America for Mr. Blount and Daniel Webster. Subsequently, in consequence of Mr. Blount's behests, Henry Clay became interested in this Gordon breed of setters.

"WAG"

A pure black-and-tan Setter in 1809. This portrait of H. B. Chalon, goes to prove that a wholly black-and-tan Setter existed before the days of the 6th Duke of Gordon's black-white-and tan Setters.

There were wholly black-and-tan setters quite three and thirty years before the time of the black-white-and-tan Gordon setters of 1842. This can now be fully proved by the disclosure of the picture of a big and upstanding black-and-tan setter dog called "Wag," painted by H. B. Chalon. The picture was engraved by H. R. Cook, and published in 1809. I have possessed this print for many years, and it is now presented to demonstrate that "somebody," not necessarily a Duke of Gordon, possessed big and well-boned, long and heavy coated, spaniel-eared black-and-tan setters, at the end of the 18th century. It must have taken several years previous to the year 1809 to produce such pure-bred appearing gun dogs.

It would seem that the black-and-tan setter existed before the later black-white-and-tan dogs of the Gordon strain or breed of 1842. Some there are who have said or written that the black-and-tan collie or the black-and-tan bloodhound, put the solid black-and-tan into the modern Gordon variety of setter. But it will be admitted that such a dog as the Chalon black-and-tan setter of 1809 was a breed unto himself, and one highly distinguishable from the collie and hound families. There is not a trace of likeness to the sheep dog or the hound.

It is ever hateful to wreck the romance that floats like a halo around the head of your devoted Gordon setter. We have been taught that in his original state he was a black-white-and-tan dog, and that the present day wholly black-and-tan dog owed his beautiful shiny black color, and his deep, rich and mahogany-tan markings to the Highland shepherd's helpmeet, or the sleuth dog descended from the old man-hunting hounds of the Borders. Such kennel lore dies hardly. Old beliefs tend to make solid gospels.

In regard to the black-tan-and-white setters sent over in 1842 to America by the 6th duke, Charles Henry Gordon-Lennox, from Gordon Castle, Banffshire, Scotland, I am now able to present pictorial evidence that a wholly black-and-tan and an actually much better looking setter was in existence quite a generation of men prior to the time of the Blount, Webster and Henry Clay Gordon setters. There could not have been any reason to use a black-and-tan collie or hound cross to put the wholly black-and-tan markings into the so-called Gordon setters.

Over and over again there has been occasion to remark on the lessons we may learn from our old and sporting prints. Chalon was noted for his sporting pictures. He did not waste his time and offend his friends and patrons with the presentation of portraits of mongrels or dogs which might have been designated as of the undignified and useless dogs of the common people. From such a dog as "Wag" the color of the black-and-tan spaniel could have come; but it would have been hard to breed "collie" ears on such a dog as Chalon (1809) gives us.

The recent aviators' flight from America to Australia, will force to the mind of all Canadians that their country and another vast territory of the Empire, are now only about four or five days of an actual flying time distance apart. The ocean steaming voyage of the mail steamer takes about twenty-one days. So, eventually a still greater knowledge and comradeship will exist between the vast British countries, north and south of the Equator. Australia is a continent free of rabies—a blessing in itself. The disease has never existed there. So it is likely that a strict quarantine on imported dogs will exist for all time. You cannot blame the Australians for keeping their island-continent free from the scourge of canine madness.

Australians like Canadians have bred dogs for the services these domesticated animals can provide for the use of men. The sheep and cattle of Australia, could never be handled or managed without the dogs the Australian station owners possess. The squatters' sheepdogs are small and of a breed that is distinct. Some of them are black in color, and not unlike small Belgian sheepdogs, or glorified Belgian Schipperkes with their tails undocked. Sheep dog trials provide a national sport, and these tests are held at every show. As the annual agricultural and industrial exhibition is a part and parcel of every village, town and city in the Australian Commonwealth, the sheep dog trial becomes as regular as the cricket match, with the result that even the brain of the small schoolboy becomes educated to the fine points of sheep dog trialing and all that goes with it. So the Australian breeds a small sheep dog, in some cases not much larger than the Welsh Corgi which old-fashioned farm dog is now being rescued from the back countries of ancient Demetia, to become the fol-de-lols of the metropolitan dog shows.

"NATIVE DOG OF NEW SOUTH WALES"

An unusually large and good looking specimen of the Australian Dingo or wild dog, probably descended from ships' dogs wrecked off the Coasts of the Island Continent. This engraving, after Abram Cooper's picture, was published in 1892.

Australia has had Scottish deer hound—Borzoi or Russian Wolfhound dogs to run down dingoes, the wild dogs of Australia. These dingoes enjoy just the same existence as do the coyotes of Canada. But the dingoes are real bad as sheep killers. Consequently, any tinge of their blood will affect the domesticated dog. The color of the dingo is generally red or a sandy red. I have heard of black dingoes, and once observed a cream-colored dog at Perth, Western Australia. A solid silver model of this almost-white dog, was presented by the children of Perth and Fremantle, to the Prince of Wales in 1901, when the prince was a small boy and just getting over an attack of measles. When the dingo cross was used on to the sheep dogs or kelpies of Australia, a great mistake was made. The viciousness and the sheep-killing and biting propensities of the wild dog or dingo cropped up in the progeny from the sheep dog, when the matured puppies were taken among the sheep. Naturalists and scientists will probably tell you that the dingo is as foreign to Australia, as is the white man to that vast country licked and lapped by the South Pacific and Indian Oceans. For only the marsupial and pouched animals are indigenous to Australia, say some people.

The "Native Dog of New South Wales," engraved by W. Smith (1822) after Abram Cooper R.A., will give one the idea of a somewhat large and tall dingo. The original was most likely a captured specimen which had been sent to England. There is the wild dog or "wolf"—appearance about the head and expression of this "native dog" which, however, possesses a round eye and of a fairly dark color.

Whence came these wild dogs of Australia?

Mayhap the spirits of the ancient mariners, alone hold that secret!

A SATISFIED CUSTOMER IS A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT.

Every particle of selling success lies with the satisfied customer, and there is only one grade of satisfaction in this connection and that grade is nothing short of 100% satisfaction. It is a grade that brings buyers back to you again and again; not only that, a satisfied customer will bring or send his friends to buy from you. Sell goods worthy of yourself, sell at reasonable prices, and deliver satisfactorily, and the customer is yours for life.

Dog selling has reached considerable proportions in recent years, and selling dogs is going to continue to be a profitable business for those who will give the business care and attention.

Testimonials from satisfied buyers to thoughtful reliable sellers are just as valuable to a dog breeder as they are to a patent medicine concern, and just as "Sales and Service" has made the automotive world what it is today, so will the same slogan bring business to your kennel if you care to practice it.

In selling a dog, the seller says the price is $50.00, and when that amount has been paid over, and a receipt given for the purchase price the selling part of the arrangement has practically been completed. Service must now be the feature, and to deliver the dog satisfactorily is the next obligation. Then, perhaps the greatest element of virtue in the service end of the transaction is the furnishing of the papers showing registra-tration and ownership. When the papers as described have been supplied to the buyer, then you are ready to mark his name in your ledger as a "customer," and get ready for your next prospect.

A Pernicious Practice.

Is the growing practice of charging a purchaser for the certificate of registration showing his ownership of a dog you have sold him in direct opposition to Rule of Entry No. 8, which reads as follows:—

"In case of a sale of a registered animal (dog), the seller must furnish a certificate of registration in the Canadian Kennel Club Stud Book showing the purchaser's ownership."

And it is the intention of the Live Stock Records Office, and it is the intention of the Canadian Kennel Club to curb and to eliminate this evil, and purchasers are advised that in all cases where they are requested to furnish registration or transfer fees, or for any part of the registration or transfer fees, that they take a receipt from the seller outlining exactly what the payment is for and then report the matter to the Records Office at Ottawa, or to the office of the Canadian Kennel Club, when action will be taken that will be satisfactory to the purchaser.

We have on file certain items of selling letters that are pretty velvety, and a credit to the "sales letter" writer's art, but, in some instances, after hundreds of dollars have been collected by the seller, we are asked officially to interfere in the interests of fair play and justice. In fact, we have knowledge of two persons coming from the Southern States of America to Canada in quest of the forced fulfilling of a written agreement between the visitors and a Canadian seller. Now, if "a satisfied customer is the best advertisement," why, in the name of common sense, should our buyers be subjected to such terrible business methods on the part of our sellers. We have used the word "pernicious" in this article, and unless conditions become more favorable we will be obliged to use still stronger words in the future.

Make your clients your friends. To do so means so much to your business. If you fail to do so, do not be surprised when you are forced to "square the deal."

London Canine Association Spring Show

"Its always fair weather when good fellows get together," or so the songster tells us, and if he is truthful about things, what kind of "fellows" were the bunch that assembled at the Fair Grounds at London on June 6th, when the rain came down before we were astir in the morning, fell consistently the whole day long, and was still at it when we had all retired for the night, and yet there were a real lot of good fellows at the London Show, which, by the way, was one of the most successful shows to have been held in the Forest City for some considerable time.

President C. S. Webber and his committee experimented on a one-day dog show, which was the last word in consideration for the exhibitors. Noon was the starting hour for judging, and by that time exhibitors coming by rail or motor were able to present themselves in an even temper. The judge was John D. Burton, of Chicago, Ill., one of the very few American judges carrying a life license to judge from the American Kennel Club, and there was no fooling with the honest Chicagoan, who kept at his labors from noon until near midnight in a steady, satisfying manner, and whilst we have no desire to write disparagingly of the ring service at the show, we do say, in fairness to Mr. Burton, that if the dogs had been brought to him more speedily he would have given an exhibition of fast judging seldom seen at any show. He was quick in his movements and seemed able to appraise merit values in dogs promptly and accurately.

Comforting to the members of "Canada's oldest dog club" was the returning to the fold of many of those who had left to become members of another club some few years ago, and this strength so recently added was quite noticeable at the show by way of added entries and of greater enthusiasm, so much so that we have good reason to believe that there will be special inducements offered to exhibitors to come to London for the shows to be held in the Forest City this year yet.

Fanciers from the United States were quite numerous at London, and this manifestation of interest in Canadian shows by American exhibitors seems to become more prominent at each successive show held in the Dominion. The Cup for Best Dog in Show went to Mrs. S. Dower's Ch. Dowser's I'm Alone, a Boston Terrier of great merit, who has been quite prominent as a winner at all recent American shows, and, good as this dog unquestionably is, he was in fast company with Mr. and Mrs. H. Kedney's Russian Wolfhound, Ch. Volga of Rosseau, who was the best Canadian-Bred at the show and won the Canadian Kennel Club Cup. This dog was in full bloom on the day and was well handled by Leslie Lievers, Toronto.

The award columns will show how Mr. Burton rated the dogs.

Leonard Seppala and his racers, winners of both the All Alaska Sweepstakes, 1915 and 1916, and the Ruby Derby. Lomen Bros.,

By PROF. S. HADWEN, University of

(From Saskatoon Star.)

Editor's Note:—Dr. Hadwen was chief pathologist at Ottawa for several years. He left the Government service in 1920 at the request of the American Government and became chief veterinarian and parasitologist for the Bureau of Biological Survey. He was senior officer in a party which was sent to Alaska to study reindeer. It was during this trip that he found excellent opportunities for studying sled dogs, which lasted for two summers and a winter. When Dr. Hadwen was leaving Nome he was made an honorary member of the Nome Kennel Club in recognition of the help he had given dog owners.

Later, Dr. Hadwen visited Norwegian and Swedish Lapland for the American Government, also Labrador for the Canadian Government. It will be seen that Dr. Hadwen has had exceptional opportunities for studying sled dogs. In 1926 he was made an F.R.S.C. on account of research work in animal pathology. He is at present research professor of animal disease at the University of Saskatchewan.

Commissioner Cortlandt Starnes of Royal Canadian Mounted Police has ordered a large number of copies of The Star containing Prof. Hadwen's article for distribution among his men at northern posts.

DOG racing in cold countries is fast becoming a real sport that is deserving of encouragement. The same argument in favor of dog racing can be used as that which applies to horse racing, namely, that it gives men an incentive to breed the fastest and best types of animals.

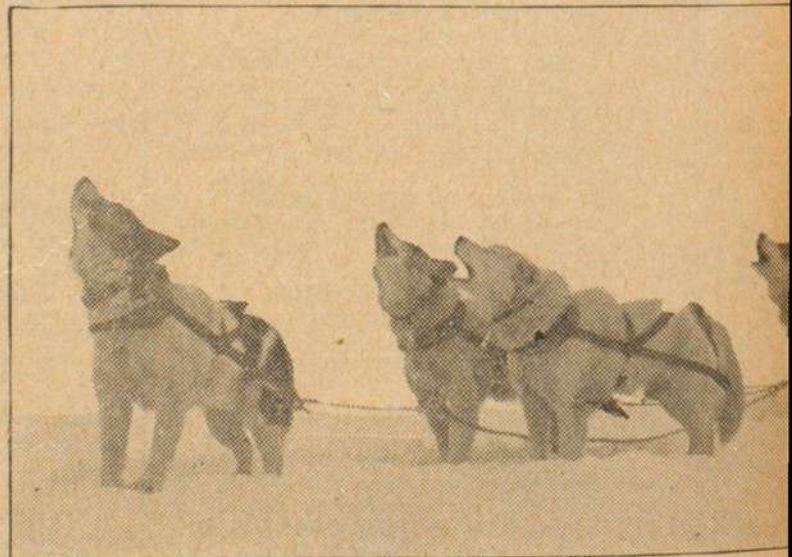

In northern countries where there are no roads, and even the trails are hard to follow, dogs are the only satisfactory animals to drive.

The main purpose of this article is to encourage the breeding of northern dogs—not from the point of view of the dog fancier—but from the utility standpoint; and also to try and discourage the promiscuous introduction of alien blood into such a useful animal as the huskie. The Eskimo, or huskie, is a dog who has followed his master through all the hardships of the north. He has lived on short commons and sheltered like a wild animal, so that he has survived owing to his fitness. The writer advocates the introduction of the Siberian dog, not so much as a work dog—because he is smaller than the huskie—but for the use of travellers, the police and others who desire to move rapidly from place to place.

The Eskimo Dog, Huskie or Malamute.

Malamutes, as they are usually called in Alaska, are unfortunately now a mixed breed. It is not easy to find dogs along Bering Sea which do not show traces of hound or other breeds of dogs, and as one goes south towards the Yukon, it gets worse or better, according to individual taste. There the dogs are, generally speaking, larger and there is an evident admixture of heavy breeds. In some parts of Canada, the huskie has remained somewhat purer than he is in Alaska, because in such districts there have not been gold rushes or other influxes of white men. In Labrador, the writer saw several good huskies, and from reports he has received, there are probably plenty of good dogs round Hudson Bay.

The huskie may be described as a good-sized hardy dog of 75 pounds or over with prick ears and a good rough coat, running to greys with yellow, white and brown, usually, with black along the back. His feet are good, generally round, and he stands well up on his toes. In some cases, the foot is longer, but usually it is compact and well furred between the toes.

A dog with an open flat foot is inclined to pick up snow and to ball, so that an open foot is a very bad fault. The huskie is heavy in the quarters and has a good pair of shoulders, but his neck is rather short as a rule. The curve of the flank is not great. He is a strong long distance dog, and not built for speed. Generally, he is a good natured dog and is seldom vicious, his voice is high pitched, and he delights in howling. When a huskie is approached, he will often raise his head and howl or gurgle a greeting, which is meant in a friendly spirit. It is evident that the wolf has interbred with the huskie, and in 1921, along the Yukon, there were several teams of half-breeds and of smaller dilutions of wolf blood. These crosses have been very satisfactory. The half-breeds are shy and shifty-eyed, but the quarter-breeds seem to be as gentle and nice mannered as can be. They are large, strong, tireless dogs, with grand feet as one would expect. The only criticism heard against them was that when they sighted reindeer or other game, they were hard to hold. The following standard for the huskie, it is hoped, will assist in keeping this splendid breed of dogs from disappearing, as the Newfoundland did from his native country.

The Eskimo Dog, Huskie or Malamute.

General appearance—A general resemblance to the wolf, of moderate size, well built, covered with thick fur.

Voice—Howls, seldom barks like a dog.

Head—Wolf head.

Muzzle—Fairly pointed muzzle.

Lips—Tight to jaws—not loose.

Teeth—Good and level.

Eyes—Fairly light in color, placed obliquely in the head, which gives the dog an untrustworthy appearance, though this is not at all the case.

Ears—Small, erect, the ends rounded. Covered with dense short hair.

Neck—Strong and arched.

Shoulders—Oblique.

Chest—Deep, long and well muscled.

Legs and Hindquarters—Must be solid and muscular and have good bone. The width of the thigh should be carried well down to the hock. The hair on the legs is short.

Feet—Nearly round, the toes well arched. The hind feet are generally a little longer than the front. Pads close together.

Tail—Hairy and thick—carried over the back.

Coat—Dense, thick and standing up. To the touch it must be hard and stiff like a brush, especially on the back. The under coat must be short and woolly.

Color—Silver grey, sometimes a dirty white. Black with light grey or buff markings on chest, belly, and underside of tail. Commonly a black mask on face. light spots over eyes.

Weight—60-90 lbs.

Head—Square, muzzle, or loose lips, hanging ears.

Neck—Straight, not arched.

Body—Not symmetrical, ragged hips, weak loins, narrow chest.

Legs—Weak or cow hocked.

Feet—Flat or open with long hair between pads.

Coat—Poor or open.

The Siberian or Samoyede.

This is the most popular dog in Alaska for racing. Its introduction really dates back to 1910 when Mr. Fox Maule Ramsay went over to the Kolima River in Siberia and brought back three teams of picked dogs. The weights of the dogs ran from 40 to 60 pounds. The only drawback this dog has is his lack of size. The colors run much the same as the huskie, but in the black markings one often sees red hairs. Many people believe there is fox blood in these dogs. However, this is incorrect, as the dog and fox cross has never been successful. But the best way of comparing the Siberian with the huskie would be to say that one looks foxy and the other resembles the wolf. The Siberian has the "hare foot." In the author's opinion, the hare foot is the best for speed, but when it comes to heavier work, perhaps the round foot is superior. It is again a case of comparison between the fox and the wolf.

The Siberian has trim prick ears and carries his tail well curled over the back; he is better in the flank than the huskie, having a more compact and cobby build. The greatest difference in expression between the huskie and Siberian is in the eyes, the latter having a frank friendly expression. As would be expected, the Siberian is more gentle and easier to handle than the huskie. He does not seem to have such an inclination to howl as the huskie. The writer has not been able to compare the European Samoyede with the Siberian type and possibly the standard he has set may differ in some particulars.

The Siberian Dog, Samoyede or Laika.

Standard:—

General appearance—Medium-sized dog of cobby build.

Head—Medium-sized, skull slightly rounded, very slight stop.

Muzzle—Pointed.

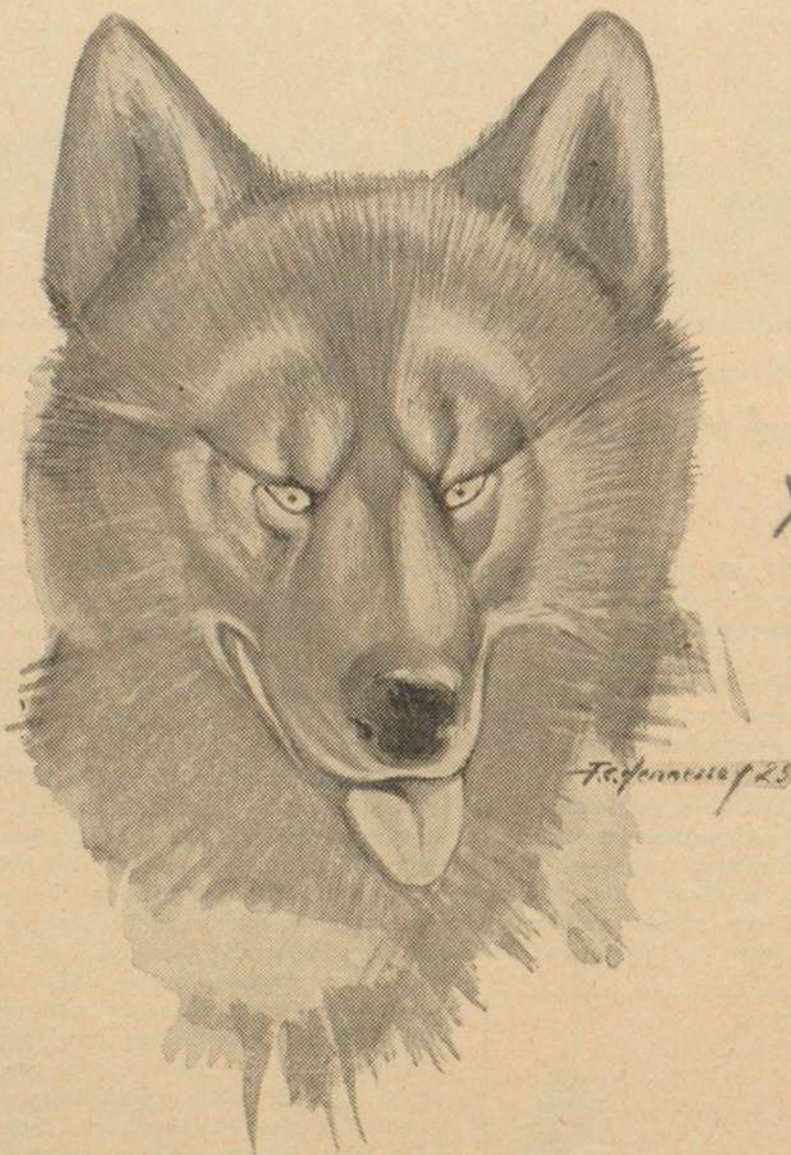

Nose—Black.

Lips—Tight to jaws, not loose.

Teeth—Good and level, not overshot.

Eyes—Intelligent, and lively. Nearly round, not too small. Dark brown in color, placed a little obliquely.

Ears—Erect and pointed wide at base.

Wolf-Huskie.

—Drawn by F. C. Hennessey

Neck—Strong and well muscled.

Breeds of Dogs Used in Racing.

In Alaska, where dog racing may be said to have originated, the first races were run by dogs of very mixed breeding. The foundation of these breeds was, in all cases, the huskie crossed with pointers, setters, Airedales, fox hounds or other breeds. It cannot be denied that many of these crosses produced fast, useful sled dogs which were superior in speed to the native bred dogs.

In Canada the same thing may be said of the cross bred dogs of the greyhound huskie variety. It must be remembered that the native huskie never was a very fast dog.

He was built for endurance and strength and there is no doubt that he can endure more hardships and outlast any of the cross bred varieties. To the writer it seems a crime to see the huskie crossed indiscriminately with other breeds of dogs—"Let him remain the working dog of North America." If the huskie needs improvement, he should be brought up to standard by careful selection and breeding.

In more temperate climates where dogs are raced against time, or where comparatively short runs are made, it matters but little what dogs are used, as it is only a question of sport; borzois, foxhounds, greyhounds, in fact, any fast dog, may be driven, but in a long race in a northern country, where a dog's feet must be of the best and where he needs a good thick coat to keep his flanks from freezing—then the dogs to choose are the huskie for strength and endurance, and the Siberian for speed.

During the past racing seasons, 1927-28, it has been a genuine pleasure to see the veteran driver, Leonard Seppala, winning races with his Siberians under rules which were new to him and under most severe handicaps. At Quebec, for instance, where he came in second, he had to race with only seven dogs in competition with larger, heavier dogs of the huskie-greyhound cross. The time made by Seppala's dogs was very good, and it seems quite safe to say that if Seppala had been allowed to drive sixteen dogs, as he did in his Alaskan races, that he would have won easily. Up to the present time in Canada, only small numbers of dogs have been allowed in the teams; it is owing to this fact that the drivers have had to run almost as much as their dogs in order to husband their strength. This habit of running came from the Indians, who only drove a few dogs at a time, so that when they were pulling a load naturally the driver had to walk or run alongside. In the Alaskan races, the drivers did a good deal of running also, but they had plenty of dog power, and in such a race as that from Nome to Candle of 408 miles, no man could run such a distance in a little over 74 hours and in addition take care of his team. This time was actually made by John Johnson in 1910.

Dogs Had Sore Feet.

The writer went to see the finish of the dog races held in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, on March 11, 1927. On this date he obtained further confirmation about his belief that cross bred dogs have inferior feet to those of the genuine huskie or Siberian. Emile St. Goddard, who had beaten Seppala in Quebec, was one of the entrants for the race. He took part in the first day's run of 40 miles and finished first, but on the second day of the 120 mile race he had to withdraw his dogs on account of sore feet. It is quite true that the snow conditions at Prince Albert were very bad. This was on account of alternate thawing and freezing during the day and night, so that in the mornings the track was covered with sharp spicules of ice. It is only fair to state that St. Goddard's dogs had raced several times during the winter, but the distance they had travelled would be much less than that covered by many ordinary teams in the north. As an example, the writer and his partner, Mr. Johnstone, in Alaska, drove 11 dogs 900 miles, averaging just under 30 miles a day with eight days' rest. This same team was driven on several other long trips that winter and covered well over 2,000 miles. During the whole winter we only had one really bad sore foot in the team. There is another interesting fact which should be mentioned about St. Goddard's team; his brother Leo St. Goddard also drove a team in the race, which was composed of the discards from Emile St. Goddard's kennels. These dogs were of the same breeding as the dogs in the disabled team, and though they suffered somewhat from sore feet, they kept in the race, winning third place. All this goes to show that the St. Goddard breed of dogs are fast and strong under conditions which suit them but have not got that prime requisite of the north—good feet.

Before summing up on the question of what is the best dog for fast driving, it should be mentioned that the temperament and character of the dogs must be considered. Dogs like borzois, greyhounds, or foxhounds, are all likely to try and break away if one comes across the particular game they are used to chasing. This is a very objectionable fault with a team dog. It cannot be said that the huskie is blameless in this regard, especially the wolf-huskie cross. The writer once met a very fine team of wolf-huskies coming along the trail; their driver was still suffering from injuries received in a runaway he had had with his team when they came across some big game. As far as the writer knows, the Siberian dog is not nearly as troublesome as the huskie in this regard, and in his opinion he is the most dependable and all round speedy dog for the north.

Dog Races in the Far North.

The Nome Kennel Club is the most active society in Alaska for the encouragement of racing. Many of the members are enthusiastic breeders, but so far as the writer is aware there has been no attempt made to set a standard of points, and to establish breeds of sled dogs.

The best dogs in Alaska are undoubtedly at Nome, and the Kennel Club has had repeated requests to furnish dogs for such noted explorers as Amundsen, Stefanson and others. The French government also purchased a large number of dogs for the Chasseurs Alpins. The most important race of the year was the All Alaska Sweepstakes. It was first run in 1908, and there were nine races held, the last being run in 1916. The course was from Nome to Candle, 408 miles. It ran along a telephone line, there being road houses and villages along the course. Only one stop was stipulated during the race, at Candle, 204 miles from Nome, otherwise the drivers might stop wherever they liked along the road. Food for the dogs was distributed along the road before the race.

Rules Governing Entries.

It will be of interest to run over some of the rules briefly.

The number of dogs driven in a team was entirely optional with the driver, and varied according to his personal idea of how many could be used to advantage.

Starting—Teams will start one minute apart. Each team must return with the same dogs (alive or dead) to the starting point at Nome. This is a wise rule, since a dog may become exhausted, or lame, or perchance get killed through some accident. The driver must unhitch the animal and carry it back to the starting point.

When one dog team meets another, the right of way belongs to the homeward bound team. The driver of the outgoing team must assist the homeward bound team in passing.

When one team overtakes another the team ahead must pull out and allow it to pass. If after passing a team the one behind shall hang on to the team in front for half an hour then, upon demand, the driver of the team in front shall pull out and assist him in passing. This rule applies except upon the home stretch. The reason for the above rule is that when a team of dogs sees another ahead, they invariably want to catch up, but as soon as they have passed them, they very often try to hang back.

Pacing is prohibited—No person shall aid a driver or give advice while racing.

Cruel treatment of dogs by the driver, prohibited under penalty of losing the race and forfeiture of team.

Up to 1909, the dogs used in the races were Malamute crosses, as a rule, the mixture being generally malamute-hound. In 1909, a team of Siberian dogs came third in the race. The following year the Ramsay's Siberian teams took first and second places in the race (1910). From this time on Siberians have taken the lead in Alaska.

In 1910, Ramsay's team covered the distance of 408 miles in 74 hours 14 min. 37 sec., which averages about 5½ miles per hour, including stops.

The Solomon Derby is a race of 65 miles. The fastest time over this course was 5 hours 32 min. 3.35 sec., being just under 12 miles per hour.

The Fort Davis race is a race of 6 1/3 miles. The fastest time made was 21 min. 39 sec., being a mile in less than three minutes, or over 24 miles per hour.

Sled Dogs in Northern Alberta.

In the Autumn of 1927, the writer had the good fortune to visit Northern Alberta and to see some of the country round about Fort Smith, N.W.T. This region is almost entirely wooded and travel is done wherever possible on lakes and streams or along trails in the woods. Heavy oak toboggans are used and the dogs are cross-bred huskies of large size. A fine specimen from Fort McMurray is shown in one of the accompanying illustrations. This dog was said to weigh 120 pounds.

Only three or four dogs are driven at a time, one in front of the other. It is a fact that local conditions generally determine the method used in travel, but although the writer does not doubt the information he received about the country—that the snow is deep and soft and that the trails are too narrow to drive dogs in pairs, he cannot see the necessity of the heavy oak sleds which are fastened together with iron nuts and bolts. On inquiry, he learned that years ago the native sleds were not of this type, they were light and held together with rawhide. There are many advantages of using sleds or toboggans of this type for besides being light they bend and give with the inequalities of the trail and if a break does occur the repairs are easily effected.

SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

By Provincial Contributing Editor, MONTAGUE WALLACE, Saskatoon.

ACROSS the Prairie Provinces the climax of all things doggie is reached in the month of July. It is the month that the Western Circuit of Industrial Exhibitions is active, and in connection with each exhibition a dog show. This Western circuit is one of wonderful shows, of wonderful dogs, and judged by the best talent obtainable. It is the real "trying out" time for all western breeders, as well as the "get together time" for the fans.

The Circuit opens at Moose Jaw where a two-day affair is always of the best. Keen competition and the fine spirit of sportsmanship are always in evidence, and we all anticipate big things at Moose Jaw. George Kynock will wear the knee breeches and wig as well as the usual smile, and hand out awards as a practical dog man is expected to do.

Then follows Brandon with Mr. J. C. Fletcher presiding in the ring. Next Medicine Hat, a new comer to the circuit, is wedged in just in front of Calgary, which is on July 11th, 12th and 13th. This town accepts a local "prophet" in the person of Mr. Fletcher. They know a good thing when they see it, and they know that Jack usually draws a five-pointer.

The show then moves on to Edmonton, where Mr. Walter H. Reeves has been selected to do the selecting. Mr. Reeves then comes on with the show to Saskatoon on July 24th, 25th and 26th, where he again acts as judge. He has to pass the palm to no one when it comes to wide experience in judging in shows all over the world. He judged at one of the Saskatoon shows in 1927, and will get a real welcome back again for this show. Regina follows Saskatoon, with none other for judge than Mr. J. W. Marples from England. Mr. Marples is another with a splendid record as an international judge, who has seen service in many countries, and is extremely popular as an all-rounder. We predict for Regina the largest entry they have ever had. Prince Albert will bring up the rear of the procession of shows with their usual good show and good-fellowship, which makes one forget any bitterness that may have developed, and sends one into winter quarters with a kindly feeling for the whole fraternity.

It greatly grieves us to have to chronicle the fact that Mr. Jas. B.

Lawson is on the sick list. The Western circuit will scarcely seem right without some of Jimmie's Pekes and Bostons, of which he breeds many, and the quality is as noticeable as the quantity. Everyone who knows this earnest fancier hopes for his speedy and complete recovery.

We have noticed with pleasure, the announcement in the English press of the inauguration of a "National Dog Week," Sept. 23rd to 29th, 1928. This is endorsed by the most influential and best informed people of Great Britain. Its purpose is for the betterment of our faithful companion, the dog. It is proposed to use every possible channel of publicity to reach this end. Wireless, movies, etc. will be widely used to focus public attention intensively upon dogs and their sane care, to educate dog owners as to their responsibilities to their dogs and to the public, and to inculcate in the young and in the adult a kindly feeling towards animals in general and dogs in particular. We feel sure that those directly in charge of the affairs of the C.K.C. will not let this week pass unnoticed, and will get the necessary propaganda into the right channels, so that the Canadian public may have their doggie consciences quickened like unto our overseas friends.

Mrs. E. A. Bennett, 912 Ave. A., Saskatoon, has some Pekes of which anyone might well be proud. She has not yet broken into the show game, but her pets have been busy growing and multiplying, and soon we hope to see her out for the ribbons. She has made a wise start by joining the C.K.C., and will soon have the competitors wondering where all these good Pekingese have come from.

Mr. Joe Powell, 302 33rd St. W., Saskatoon, has taken up Springers in earnest. He too is a new member of the C.K.C. His Springers are largely of the Avondale blood, and will soon be stepping out for their share of the spoils offered at our shows.

A fine male collie puppy from Dr. J. T. Cooper's recently imported bitch Sedgemoor Simplicity, leaves shortly for its new home in Ontario. This puppy is sired by Fashion of Sedgemoor, he by Ch. Backwoods Fashion. This litter of puppies is very promising and should do much towards bettering this splendid old breed in Canada.

What the dickens is going to become of our dogs, especially the larger breeds. Our President calls attention to the fact that they are sometimes troublesome in the city, troublesome mostly to those poor nervous creatures who are always expecting trouble. Now comes along the Sask. Govt. and puts on its statute book a law limiting the number of dogs that may be kept by farmers in the rural parts of the Province. One saving feature of it is, that this law must be accepted by the Rural Municipality before it applies to that district. We believe that the sheep breeders are responsible for this move. But we must not let the apprehensions of these people work any unfairness on the large army of dog lovers. Such legislation as this is likely to spread easily, so I mention this merely to warn our sister Provinces not to be caught napping. So I say poor doggie! No place in the city for him! No place in the country! Never mind Rover, you still hold a place in the hearts of humanity, so you need not worry much about legislation.

Now comes word that a new Police dog puppy has just arrived from the Moose Kennels for Mr. Vandenburg, Vice Pres., Saskatoon Kennel Club. Be careful Van, some night when you go home he'll not let you in.

It is a source of much satisfaction to know that "Kennel and Bench" will publish the article "The Sled Dogs of the North Country," written by Professor Hadwen of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon. The Professor's work among the Reindeer of the North put him in touch with sled dogs at their real every day work, and he knows them well. We have had the pleasure of reading this article, and know what a treat is in store for those interested in these dogs. We have no objection to calling this THE Canadian dog. We hope it will not give a wrong impression. The only thing we object to is this everlasting advertising of Canada as the frozen north. From the days of Kipling's "Our Lady of the Snows" and especially recently in every movie that depicts Canada, ice and snow bound. We would suggest that when an official picture of this Canadian dog is made, the foreground show a vast field of waving wheat.

NOTES FROM THE COAST

By Provincial Contributing Editor, ALBERT KERR, Vancouver.

FROM all angles of observation the Spring Circuit of Canadian Kennel Club Shows put on by the B.C. Clubs has again demonstrated that the interest and enthusiasm of the Pacific Coast fanciers is up to 212% and in fact is bubbling over, favored at all three shows with weather conditions "to the King's taste," each was well patronized both by the fanciers and interested spectators.

Victoria Kennel Club led off the procession and here was staged a real nice show, the show building, the Armouries, were most suitable and could not be improved upon, large and airy and with all the comforts, both for the people and the dogs, and possessing all the conveniences necessary from all angles for a successful show location with a nicely decorated ring and individual chair seatings.

The committees in charge of the show deserve a great deal of credit for the admirable manner in which it was managed. The members of these committees are: Bench committee, W. Creighton, H. Dodds, J. Mann, J. Angus, H. Mackenzie, A. G. Tyler and J. Bryant; ladies' committee, Mrs. J. Bryant, Miss R. E. Duke and Mrs. R. Eastham; auditor, H. R. Ella; veterinary surgeon, Dr. R. Hamilton; show superintendent, H. Dodds; ring stewards, Major H. W. Niven and J. K. Angus; judges, E. N. Barker, for sporting breeds, and Joe Dodds for non-sporting breeds. Both judged for all specials and carried out their duties to a successful close and while it is impossible to please all the exhibitors the general comment was favorable to their placings.

The quality all through at this show was outstanding and especially in the Sporting breeds was this noticeable. In Kennel and Bench from time to time has appeared certain differences of opinions on the English Setter as they are here in B.C., at this show in the hot bed of the Setter fancy they were out in full force, and if any enthusiast of this breed was wanting a fixture where he could look over the good ones and convince himself as to the previous reports about them, this was the spot. Selkirk Primrose went Best of Breed in the Irish Setters, Miss R. Duke's imported Sweet Anne was just as her name implies. Pointers were also in numbers and the best of breed in these was Raps Daisy Cash, a real good one owned by P. Henry, and shown by that good old sportsman and old timer, Mr. Frank Topp Turner. Cockers were out strong as were the others members of the sporting varieties, but space will not permit a detail of each though worthy, but a glance at the awards in the report of this show will give the line on them.

Taffy's Pride, the Whippet owned by Major Niven, was awarded the first place in the champion's class.

We were particularly struck with the desire of those in charge of this show to run things in a first class manner and according to "Hoyle," but a little over zealotness was the cause in some classes for dogs being in the ring that should not have been there, all of which meant extra work which could have easily been eliminated, and here perhaps a word from an outsider who hears the comment of the exhibitors might be a word in season to this club, and that is, remove from your specials, as far as you possibly can, any strings which tends to make them local, if you want to put on an open show throw them all open as far as possible to the world. For it is the outside exhibitor that goes a long way to make the show possible, and a success. Do everything to encourage them.

The Canadian Kennel Club Cup for best Canadian bred, was carried off by Mr. Geo. Lydiatt's Wire puppy, Red-cliff Sunrise, while best terrier in show went to Gough & Gravell's imported wire Defnog Desire, a real good one.

An item of note at the show was the sale of the 16 months blue roan Springer Spaniel, Pinehill Blue Rock, sired by Flint of Avandale out of Coila of Avandale to Mr. David H. Miller, of New York for $350.00. Mr. Miller was Secretary to ex-Pres. Wilson and accompanied him on his trip to sign the World's Peace Treaty. Mr. Miller has his summer home at Metchisin, B.C., amid the beauties of nature in this wonderland.

Pinehill Blue Rock was the first time shown and went to best of breed, and winners, and was formerly owned by Miss L. Gibson.

One of our Victoria fanciers, Mrs. W. Creighton, Kinross Kennels, breeder of registered Scottish terriers, is in receipt of a letter from St. Louis, Missouri, which states that one of her dogs "Kinross Jean," was shown at the St. Louis annual dog show in April, and went first in puppy, first in novice; went winner and also won the special prize. This dog was only ten months old at time of showing. There was an entry of 600 dogs at this show. Just another bit of evidence that we breed good ones in B.C.

Being in Victoria over the week end, advantage was taken of the opportunity to pay a visit to the Dovedale Kennels of Mrs. E. M. Bissonette, and Mr. Frank Topp Turner, where under ideal conditions were housed a number of outstanding specimens of the Sporting breeds. Being made welcome and meeting other fanciers who were present to chat over the show results, we then paid a visit to the occupants of the Kennels where in a nice shady wooded run beside the water's edge were housed some promising Setter puppies. Amongst the larger dogs were field trial winners and show specimens, in English and Irish Setters, and Pointers. Here was the outstanding Pointer bitch, Raps Daisy Cash, which eventually went to the top of its breed at the Victoria, and the two succeeding shows. Also in English Setters was that old favorite of other days, Ch. Peg O' My Heart, Moonshine Heather Mist, and Heather Dawn, this latter one having done some nice winning at this show, she is a litter sister to Ch. Heather Grouse and Heather Shot Over, two outstanding Setters of note in the U.S.A. We are enclosing a photo of Heather Dawn so that our readers can see the quality she possesses.

In closing our remarks on the Victoria Kennel Club Show would say that the whole affair was a very pleasing event and with more attention to the little details, and the catering to the outside exhibitors, the future holds possibilities for the staging of a show of good size, for judging from the number of outside visitors there is no doubt the fancy would book on a holiday trip to Victoria.

The Vancouver Kennel Club Show was the next in order on May 24th and 25th and here again was the feeling demonstrated that the doggie folks like to congregate at the B.C. events. Here was another show well managed in every detail and everything in ship shape to greet the Judge, Mr. J. Bradshaw. The weather man was smiling at his best, and a large contingent of American fanciers were on hand, inter-mingled with our friends from Nanaimo, Victoria, New Westminster and other B.C. points.

This was a very well balanced show, for entries from the different breeds, Pekes, Fox Terriers, Wire and Smooth, Whippets, Bostons, Cockers, Setters, all had a good entry. Scotch Terriers the best we have seen for some time, Bulldogs came back strong, Springers were good and the Alsations were out in force.

The order of judging was led off by the Inter-Club Challenge Cup for the best five dogs of different breeds owned by members of one club—this was won by the new Coast City Kennel Club, making a very good start for this organization.

The Best in Show was captured by N. McConnell's McConnell's Nori, who also accounted for the C.K.C. Cup for best Canadian-bred; Best Sporting was won by J. J. Cottle's Int. Ch. Rackets Rummy; best opposite sex by P. Henry's Raps Daisy Cash; best American bred dog or bitch was won by Dr. Alex. Grimstein's Boston, S. Kelly's Fifty-Fifty, who also won best from the State of Washington and best non-Sporting, opposite to this, went to Mrs. May Jervis' Alsatian, Ch. Con-Doris Fraulien of Tannenhorst, the best Terrier was awarded to Alex. McCloy's Scottie, Eglinton Sweet Memory, the opposite sex going to Mr. Geo. Tyson's imported Wire Fox Terrier, Right Away, Mrs. N. E. Corkett's Ho-Jo getting best Toy, while Mrs. G. O. Alsen's Griffon (Brussels) getting the best opposite sex. The best novice in show was won by Mrs. Thornton Ghays's Wire Fox Terrier, Lyncote Heartease, which also accounted for best Fox Terrier owned and bred by exhibitor. Best puppy all breeds was won by John Lewis, with his Boston, Mc-Intee's Tommy.

In our previous notes we looked forward to a good entry, both local and outside, and in this we were not disappointed, and the attendance of so many visitors added quite an international touch to the whole show.

The action of the Canadian Kennel Club with regards to sending out rules and notices to the judges and show-giving clubs had a beneficial effect, for at all the shows given, we noticed a determined effort to live up to all these rules in detail, the result was a more smoother run show and less complaints.

A pleasing feature at this show was to see the new faces and new dogs up in the running. Mr. Geo. Tyson produced a picture in his new imported wire, Right Away, and is to be congratulated on getting to the top, which he deserves. Gough & Gravell's imported Wire, Defnog is also a dandy. Mrs. Dunn had a sweet little Boston in Betty Marie, Alex. McCloy's Scottie was a real one. Mr. Linclop did well with his Bulldog puppy, Radio Sandy, a very promising one, but we have heard since the show he was unfortunate to have lost this puppy, and a sale at a good price was refused for it.

It was an all round good show with quality paramount in the exhibits by good fellowship, the outstanding feature amongst the exhibitors and officials all of which was the result of the previous co-operation with one another.

To add to the good fellowship, Mr. and Mrs. O. Balshaw entertained all of the visiting and many of the local exhibitors to luncheon at their residence, all being transported to and from the show grounds in apple pie order and which was a pleasant break in the proceedings.

An interested visitor at this show was Koh Tsurumi, from Tokyo, Japan, who had come on a special mission to see and learn how Kennel Clubs and Dog Shows were run on this side of the water, and particularly to take back with him a Bulldog bitch he had purchased Ch. Hefty Patricia. The above noted visitor was, at the request of our President, Mr. Kelso, and myself shown the town, and made acquainted with the doggie folks and kennels hereabouts, and has returned to Japan very much pleased with his short first visit to Canada and the Coast and stated he would return again.

The Royal City Kennel Club followed with their Show on May 6th, a one-day fixture, under the judging of Mr. Geo. Cranfield, and what we have said of the two previous shows applies also to their's. The entries were not quite so large, but it was a well managed first-time show. The prevailing good fellowship abounding, and everything in apple pie order, under the superintendent, Pete McLachlan—and let us say here, Pete kept one eye on the rules (which were posted handy) and the other on the show, an energetic committee worked to put this over and the results were well deserved.

We have not the awards to hand but while a number of awards were the same as at the previous show there were some reverses. Mr. Cranfield reversed the order for best in show and best Canadian bred, by giving these to the Bulldog, Ch. Kamel's Hefty Legacy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Armstrong, of Oregon, this is a Toronto bred one. Alex. McCloy again went high with his Scottish Terrier, and Miss Duke was well placed with her Irish Setter, Sweet Anne. Geo. Lyson also repeated with his Wire Terrier, Right Away.

Altogether this was a well run and pleasing show, and we may look for it as an annual fixture in the future, the published awards will give more detail than the writer has to hand at present.

HEATHER DAWN

A pleasing English Setter owned by Mrs. E. M. Bissonette, at Victoria, B.C.

The Royal City fanciers lost an old-time breeder in the person of the late John Thompson, who passed away on May 16th, after a lingering illness. Mr. Thompson was born in Montrose, Scotland, and came out to this country in 1905, settling in Manitoba, but two years later moved to the Coast, where he spent the rest of his life. Mr. Thompson was a breeder of high class Collies. Ch. Lochaber Loyal was one of his breeding and he imported a number of good ones, amongst them was Suncludge Rose, which went to the States later, and Oman House Princess, and a number of other good ones. The sympathy of the fanciers goes out to his wife and children which are left to mourn his loss.

The next fixture is the Coast City Kennel Club Show on July 2nd, a one-day event to be judged by Jack Meadows, and reports to hand state it will be a high rater.

The Canada Pacific Show in August ought to be the top notch event of the season, here will be a judge of world-wide fame, Mr. J. W. Marples, of Manchester, England, son of the famous Theo. Marples of "Our Dogs." Mr. Marples' experience ought to draw a bumper entry, and his placings be worth while verdict. Be sure and book on coming to this show.

A welcome little visitor to Vancouver was "Roger," a Schipperke, being consigned by Mr. Geo. Cranfield, en route to "J. D." Toronto. I wonder if he intends taking to the boats on the bay.

BRITISH BULLDOG COMES TO TORONTO.

When we have visited out of town shows recently and particularly when we have been attending shows across the international boundary, the question has been, "What has happened to your Canadian Bulldogs?" and to the query we have invariably replied, "American dollars account for some of our best, and death accounts for some of the rest."

To Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, Toronto, belongs the credit of again bringing Canada back into the ring of Bulldog competition, through his having purchased at an exorbitant price—at least to me—from Mr. H. Dooler, of Manchester, England, that splendidly bred stud and show dog, Kippax Jock, who is sired by the great I-Be-He and out of a daughter of the famous Irish Alaunt.

Kippax Jock arrived in Canada on Saturday, 9th June, and on the following day the writer was privileged to look this glorious Bulldog over, and what a privilege it indeed was. White with brindle markings, sound as a dollar, and playful as a kitten, and looking fit for competition amongst the very best on the day. A dog of wonderful substance, big skull, foreface cushioned bang up full, with wrinkle to throw away; nice sweep of underjaw; a front that is a front all the time, and no posing need be resorted to; just let Kippax Jock walk up naturally and he is all there; well and heavily boned, and a nice bulldog tail. All that is needed now to start things going in real earnest is some good dog shows, and an international championship will be easily secured irrespective of the competition.

We compliment Mr. Sparkes on his having secured such a dog for Canada, and trust that the dog may be allowed to remain in our own country.

Westfalenheim, and will be a real asset to Shepherd Dog breeders in the Province of Alberta.

However, the services of Derich will not be available just yet, as he is only 14 months old at the time of writing, and naturally he will not be at stud until the early fall, and by that time it is believed that he will have completed his Canadian championship, which has yet to be commenced.

Notes From Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor, J. C. WOODEND, Winnipeg, Man.

The Cult of the Bulldog in Winnipeg.

DURING recent years, owing to the Great War and the various changes which followed in its train, the cult of the British Bulldog, in Winnipeg, has fallen short of the high standard of excellence for which it was distinguished during the decade 1910 to 1920. For all that, there are several select breeding kennels in and around the city, owned by two or three of the old-time fanciers—whose kennel prefixes are known the world over—and a few comparatively new comers to the game whose ambition is to restore the fame and prestige of the Bulldog in the city, and throughout the Province of Manitoba.

It is a well-known fact that some of the most successful kennels of Bulldogs in Canada are owned or managed by members of the "fair sex." Winnipeg, perhaps, leads the way in this respect in Western Canada, and the writer recently had the pleasure of looking over two typical groups of "Sour Mugs" owned respectively by Mrs. Frances Pratt and Mrs. J. J. Adams.

In Mrs. Pratt's kennel, that capital little brindle and white stud dog, "Merrie England," has proved the sire of many high-class puppies; his stock being in great demand. He is just four years old, and in type, conformation and general qualities resembles his sire, Moravian Model,—imported from England by F. W. Walkerdine. About a year ago, Mrs. Pratt disposed of several good brood bitches, retaining only the smart little brindle and white matron "Queen of Hearts II," a daughter of Ch. Ace of Aces. The pride of Mrs. Pratt's kennels at the present time is a magnificent two year old Bulldog named "Guinea Gold II," by Merrie England ex Queen of Hearts II. This is a splendid fellow, brindle and white in color with massive skull, extraordinary short face, lots of wrinkle, nicely carried small rose ears and the genuine dour Bulldog expression. When measured round the skull in front of the ears, Guinea Gold's head exceeded 22 inches in girth. He is an active dog, low to ground, with great bone, very wide front, deep chest and short roach back. Altogether, what is described as an "all-of-a-heap" fellow, and gifted with an amiable disposition, this is a well-bred individual descended from such well known dogs as Moravian Model (Imp.) Prince Roland, Sandfield Marquis, Uno Peggy, Grandview Lady, Astoria Lady Betty and other noted British and American-bred Bulldogs, including the best stock bred in Canada and registered in the Canadian Kennel Club records at Ottawa.

Mrs. J. J. Adams' Mersey Bulldogs.

Mrs. J. J. Adams, of "Mersey" Bulldog fame has, since the Great War, given her attention to breeding quality stock, more than to exhibiting dogs at shows. Nevertheless the Mersey Bulldogs in other hands continue to hold their own on the bench at all the principal shows in Western Canada, and are well-known in the middle and western American states.

Three dogs in Mrs. Adams's ownership are particularly worthy of notice. These are: Mersey Sadie, a grand looking brindle and white brood bitch, great producer, and good mother, by White Challenger, (C.K.C. 38117) out of Mersey Jessie (C.K.C. 31292). Then there is a two-year-old dark brindled matron, good for show and breeding purposes, named Uno Mersey Lady, by the well-known sire, Leicester Butcher Boy, and dam Uno Betty—both registered with the C.K.C.

Mersey Supreme, a very typical brindle-pied puppy, born July 25, 1927 is the youngest member of the Bulldog trio under notice. This is a good all round puppy, sired by Manitoba Mirifie, ex Mersey Sadie (C.K.C. 45192). One grand-sire of Mersey Supreme was the celebrated Bulldog, King Jack, and a grand-dam, Grant's Phoebe. All above are either registered with the C.K.C. or eligible for registration.

Famous Kennel of "Wire" Fox Terriers to be Disposed of.

Few owners and breeders of dogs in Winnipeg take the personal interest in their dogs, and are as careful to breed to the correct types of the breeds they fancy, as Harold Bentley, owner of the Cromwell Kennels. For many years past Mr. Bentley has specialized in Wire-Haired Fox Terriers and Boston Terriers, and has been rewarded with a fair measure of success in both his show and breeding speculations.

Owing to an accident which occurred about two years ago, Mr. Bentley has not enjoyed the best of health, and contemplates taking a trip to England to visit his people and renew old friendships. Before leaving for the Old Country, he wishes to dispose of his kennel of Wire-haired Fox Terriers.

All the "Cromwell" terriers are in the pink of condition, and are famed for their hard weather resisting coats—good health, condition and coats of the proper texture being qualities that Mr. Bentley insists upon in his kennels, and has always mated his dogs with a view to continual improvement in these respects.

Boston Terriers have been favorites at the Cromwell kennels ever since that happy little dog Cromwell Fascinator, won the specials for Best Boston and Best Terrier at one of the first shows promoted by the All Terrier Club.

Perhaps the best Boston Mr. Bentley has had in years is the smart little 14 lb. dog, Cromwell Stylish Announcer, a beautifully marked brindle and white son of Cromwell Fascinator, and there is a remarkable litter of seven puppies by "Fascinator" which all have white collars, white forefeet and other correct markings.

A recent visit to the Chollerton Kennels, located in East Kildonan, Manitoba, found the owner, George Miller Potts all smiles as his smart young Wire bitch, Chollerton Flashlight was showing heavy in whelp to that great winning Wire dog, Int. Ch. Aman Fox Trot.

Chollerton Flashlight is a home bred and on her first appearance in the show ring under the well known judge, Mr. James Sullivan, went from 1st puppy to reserve winners, also annexing several specials. If all goes well with this mating George expects to be the owner of some of the finest Terriers in the country, he thinks he was very fortunate to be able to take advantage of Fox Trot's visit to Winnipeg. Flashlight without a doubt is the best Terrier ever bred at these well-known kennels. Two very nice quality bitches, one all white, with black ears, the other a hound marked one, looked very promising, and will be heard from in the future. Their sire, Chollerton Squire, a hard-bitten game little Terrier will be remembered as Best Wire in Show a year ago under Mr. Norman K. Swire of Toronto. This dog later met with very bad luck as he met with a painful accident at Prince Albert which cut short his show career. A very nice young dog pup by Silverdale Fox Trot ex Chollerton Mona who is now sold to Mr. Killet of Saskatchewan, and leaves for his new home in a day or two, he looks very promising and should be heard from later in the West.

Two other brood matrons, Chollerton Snowball and Chollerton Judy, mother and grandmother of Chollerton Flashlight, the former again bred to Brock Benedict, and owner is hoping for another as good or better than Flashlight. Another very interesting inmate of these kennels, or more correctly "the outside guard" of the kennels and home is Chollerton Cinders, a splendid specimen of the Eskimo breed, owned with great pride by Mr. Pott's young son "Billy" whose constant companion and playmate he is. Cinders started well on his show career gaining two firsts and reserve winners in his classes at seven months old, and to the intense joy of his young owner, winning special for boy's dogs shown by their owners.

Notes From Alberta

By Provincial Contributing Editor, R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.

PREPARATIONS are well forward in connection with the forthcoming Western Point Shows.

The prize committee of the Alberta Kennel Club, consisting of Mrs. M. Carr, Mrs. Daintrey, Miss A. Clarke, Messrs. Raby, Prons, Heather, Orr and Duncan, report that the list of specials will eclipse that of any former occasion. The reception committee includes the same ladies with the addition of Mrs. G. Hardy and Miss Brown. They have discarded the mere males. Evidently the balcony boys have not yet learned to make the honest flapjack and what about the dandelion brew? The show superintendent, Mr. W. Irons, will unavoidably be prevented from acting. Mr. C. Duncan has very kindly assumed this responsible position.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers Club report that their committee have received such a generous response from the various merchants approached, that it is anticipated an equivalent of some seven hundred dollars will be available for specials.

In regard to the proposed visit of our President, Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland, the war veterans of Calgary feel so strongly on the subject of a suitable reception that they state they will dine the entire members of the Alberta Kennel Club, sooner than miss the opportunity of welcoming their distinguished comrades. It is a pleasure to report that the two Calgary Chesapeakes, "Cris Boysey," who were taken by their owner, Miss M. Currie, to California, have greatly distinguished themselves at the Oakland show.

The dogs took two firsts, two winners and two specials, while "Boysey" captured the silver cup for best Chesapeake in show. Congratulations. The whippeters of Calgary are making great progress. Miss A. Clarke has purchased a very nice one from Mr. Fletcher. Mr. Hunter has been trying to obtain a really good male registered in the C. K. C. stud book. Will anyone having such a book please communicate with him giving particulars. Mr. J. G. Young of Edmonton has purchased from Major G. Y. Baldwin of Terrice, Callestick, Cornwall, Eng., the well-known winning Alsatian bitch "Bridget of Picardy." Bridget is by Ch. Allabeson of If, out of Florina of Wye, who is by Lord of Picardy (litter brother to Cilla of Picardy). She will be mated before export to Champion Caro of Welham.

Mr. Young who has been interested in obtaining an Alsatian of the famous Picardy strain for some time, noticed a local advertisement of a puppy by "Hern von Falko" out of "Stella of Picardy." On inquiry from Major Baldwin the fact came out that no bitch of that name had ever been registered by the Picardy Kennels. It is unfortunate that duplication of Kennel names can be recorded in the Canadian, English and American stud books.

It is confusing enough to the experienced, more than misleading to novices and offers a fine opportunity to the unscrupulous to take advantage of the reputation of a well-known strain.

Mr. W. H. Edwards of Edmonton has purchased an orange-shaded female Pom from our director, Mr. A. E. Figg.

Mr. R. W. Cundall of the same city is breeding English Bulldogs.

"TOWSET" THE MAGAZINE SELLER.

He finds a ready demand for the breed and has recently sold a female puppy to Mr. W. A. Phillips of Vancouver and a male to Mrs. J. M. Pearson of Bashaw, Alta. Bulldog breeders in England appear to have organized to make a very sensible improvement in the breed.

This is a lengthening of the forehead and lengthening the underjaw, to allow the dog to breathe more freely.

The average life of an English Bulldog recently had been reduced to five years, when as a matter of fact the dog should just be in his prime then.

At the championship show at Bloomsbury recently fully one-fifth of the dogs had the longer or brick-shaped head in place of the old square type.

Some being two inches longer from the apex to the tip of the under jaw than was previously seen. Ch. Nizam of Woodhouse is a fine example of this development. This province has now a great many Alsatian supporters. At the last point show in Calgary fifty-one were entered and it is fully expected that double that number will be benched in July. Mr. T. Fendall of Rose Lynn has joined the ranks having purchased a black and tan from Mr. P. Vernon of Hanna. Mr. S. W. Dean of Edmonton also obtained a black female from the same breeder.

Gordon Setters have enthusiastic supporters in Messrs. W. H. and Bob Crossley, Calgary, who have registered their kennel under the old Indian name of "Sarcee". We have few enough followers of this beautiful and useful breed at present. So far back as 1898 Mrs. Barclay Bruce of the Knee Hills imported some very fine "Gordons" dogs that had taken their championships at Crufts and the Palace. At one time they had as many as thirty dogs in the kennels.

Now that the shows are upon us fanciers should make every effort to get their dogs in as good condition as possible. An easier matter to write than to do with long-coated dogs in the heat of summer. With point shows so few and far between the Western fancier is under a handicap and is often obliged to take chances.

Judges can only judge a dog on its merits as they see them in the ring and we all know the importance of first impressions created by condition and coat. Mr. Walter H. Reeves has recently pointed out that he has on occasion had to put down a dog on account of lack of condition, which at another time went to the top. A judge may suspect your dog would be a different animal under other circumstances, but it is not his business to do any guessing. What he is expected to do is to judge 'em as he sees 'em, on the day they come before him. We all hope to get that cup which is now only open to Canadian-bred dogs. This is as it should be. The various clubs always have a cup for best of breed open to all, so it is only right that the Canadian Kennel Club's official trophy should go to a Canadian-bred dog.

The credit for this change was made, we understand, on the original suggestion of Mrs. Barr of Farleigh fame, for a cup for best Canadian-bred puppy.

In order to demonstrate that by the co-operation of Kennel Bench readers the circulation of "Our Own Magazine" can be materially stimulated. Arrangements have been completed whereby I have been enabled to have a Kennel Bench stand at most of our Mid-West summer shows, and will be pleased to meet at my stand anyone desiring to subscribe for our magazine, or those desirous of becoming members of the Canadian Kennel Club.

Time was when Kennel Bench did not represent the whole Canadian dog game as it should, but the boldest amongst us can never complain in that respect at the present time, as the "powers that be" have made it quite possible for every province in the Dominion of Canada to be fairly represented in Kennel Bench, and readers should make full use of this privilege. Items of general news interest concerning dogs in the Province of Alberta are welcome at all times, and any fancier desiring to have such news items illustrated can do so by assuming the responsibility of paying the cost price of the half-tone used for illustration purposes, and as the cut automatically becomes the property of the party authorizing its use, the matter becomes a pleasing arrangement to the end.

Exhibitors and that section of dog show patrons not acquainted with the "Red Cover" that represents the only Canine magazine published in Canada, and is known pretty well all over the world.

Little Bits From Here and There

Frans E. Davies, the popular Secretary of the Professional Handlers' Association, and who is the manager of the Wilinez Weather Kennels at Monmouth Beach, N.J., has a new enthusiasm on his hands these days, being busily engaged working with Tom Heeney, the contender for the Heavy-Weight Championship, now held by Dempsey's conqueror, Gene Tunney. Tom is training on the Rumson Farm Kennels estate, and promises to be a real contender.

Professional handlers are all red-hot fight fans, and when the wallops resound through Tex Ricard's palatial boxing booth at Madison Square Gardens it is possible for Mr. Davies "to call the boys together and read the minutes of the previous meeting."

Our Pomeranian readers will learn with regret that Wm. Robinson, the proprietor of the well-known "Woodbine" prefix it at present "resting up" at Weston Sanitarium, and fanciers of Mr. Robinson's acquaintance should bear in mind that a "little visit" would be very much appreciated from time to time. The roads are good and the run to Weston is a most enjoyable one.

J. E. McSorley, of the Malone Shirt Manufacturing Co., Malone, N.Y., dropped into Montreal the other day just to give out the information that his Irish Setter, Sonora Marjorlane, had whelped a litter of twelve to Patrick Doyle's (Montreal) Wild Irish Dan., said "Dan" being—we believe—the only son in Canada of the great Rory 2nd.

"A chip of the old block" is Sam Doyle (Montreal), son of the one and only Patrick Doyle, of the Canadian Metropolis, and many will remember the tall, slim, quiet and unassuming ring steward that performed so efficiently at the Ladies' Kennel Club and Montreal Kennel Association Shows last month, well that's Sam Doyle, and Sam had a sneaking desire for an English Setter. The Cockers and the "Red" Irish were always all right for the Doyle family generally, but with Sam it was just a little different, he inclined to the English, "donther-know," and a real English Setter that had had shortly left Stockton, California, came out at Montreal, and, to make a long story short, Sam got it, and now he is sending the partly-broken dog to Sutton Junction for the purpose of "finishing his education." When the training has been concluded we will likely here more about "Sam's English Setter."

Leave it to the Western Shows: When a rule has to be enforced, clubs like the Southern Alberta Kennel Club comes out with their Rule 24 in 10 point black caps, and reads:

"NO DOGS WILL BE ALLOWED WITHIN THE PRECINCTS OF THE DOG SHOW BUILDING THAT ARE NOT ENTERED IN SOME REGULAR CLASS. THIS RULE WILL BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED."

That's the spirit of Southern Alberta. There is no good reason why the great majority of the exhibitors should furnish a ready market for the sale of someone's surplus stock of tender age.

Dropping into Wilson Wylie's noted "Cairndhu" Pomeranian Emporium quite unexpectedly the other night, we were horrified to find that the favorite formula for home brew known at "Cairndhu" was "Ridgeway's Tea." Well, perhaps it was not Ridgeway's at that, but it was a magnificent and satisfying brew, whoever the blenders were. The Poms were galloping around in high glee, and there was a youngster or two amongst them that will be willing to "pick fruit" this summer in order to pay their way through the 1929 shows on both sides of the boundary line.

Everybody knows "The Kennedeys," who own the "Vivadora" Kennels, on the Kingston Road, and many have been making enquiries concerning their absence from all recent shows. So it is with regret that we report that there has been lots of sickness at "Vivadora" this spring, and just as we felt that everything was on the mend there, we learn that the popular "Jack" Kennedy is at present in the Toronto General Hospital. However, Jack is a man with lots of good common sense and he will be co-operating with his medical advisers in such a way that the very best results will be obtained.

It seems rather foolish to be getting all "het up" about the Irish so long after the "17th of March," but Dr. Hoggan, of Vancouver, is guilty of that offence, and claims that by the next "17th" there will be a "Donnybrook," when the litter by Ch. Celtic Patriot, out of Ch. Harwood Sheila, learn the art of swinging their "shillelahs." The genial Doctor had better instruct them regarding the Good Book, where it says "Thou shalt not kill"—even if you are Irish.

That was a bad knock that the expert writer, Judge Levi Wilcox, of the Philadelphia Enquirer, got when they had to amputate his right arm following an infection arising out of blood poisoning. It is somewhat cheering, though, to learn that the popular Levi is on the mend now, and it is hoped that he will soon be back "on the job" again.

What a celebration it must have been when Joe Galloway, of New York, officially took over the Hotel Grisdale. Report has it that at the "house warming" over 60 of the "regulars" were present rarin' to go—and went. Those of our readers

What
SANAHIDE
Will do For
Your Dog

HAS YOUR DOG MANGE?
SANAHIDE

Will Conquer It This Way:

Sanahide dissolves the waxy, sebaceous secretions overlying the mites, frees the mites and then kills them.

Sanahide is no hit or miss remedy. It is scientific. The best kennels recommend it; Veterinarians endorse it; hundreds of unsolicited testimonials prove it.

The following experiment is interesting: A well-known Veterinarian, of New Haven, Conn. (U.S.A.), whose dog had a bad and long standing case of mange, divided the dog into two zones. On one he put his own remedy, and on the other, Sanahide. In a little while the side of the dog on which he put the Sanahide was completely well, while mange was still present on the other side.

FOR RINGWORM AND ECZEMA

CHAMPION dogs reach top form with Sanahide. For grooming a dog for the show bench, nothing equals Sanahide. Blue ribbons prove it. Try it and see.

who attended the Montreal shows and watched the decorous looking little Scotchman from Dundee, Dr. George Anderson of that ilk, will be surprised to learn that George was the official piper for the occasion, silver buckles, kilt, sporran, etc., etc. Hoots mon! And it is said that the globe trotters, Tommy and Mrs. Grisdale, wirelessly their good wishes from mid-Atlantic, which means that they were interested, and further, that they are on the way back to England again. No place like home for Mr. Grisdale, and Mrs. Grisdale will tell you without turning a hair that she loves England.

Fanciers visiting New York should visit two celebrities when they get there. One, Alf Smith, the coming president, and John Galloway at the Hotel Grisdale, 135 W. 63rd St. They are two of the best.

The "Bergholtz" prefix made famous by Alf and Mrs. Loveridge has been transferred from Courclette Road, Toronto, to Milliken, Ont., and from the ordinary city lot to a miniature farm, and already the advantage can be readily seen, the dogs are all up on their toes and the five champions look like being ready to start all over again. Because of these changes, Alf has been content to work from early morning until late at night making things over to suit himself, and yet in the meantime he has been able to spare sufficient time to make two new champions with his Emir v. a. Sudenburg and Alnea v. Bankernhof. And there is a litter by Emir that are now enjoying their "Vita-kalk" that will be heard from as they mature.

That reminds the writer of a visit to the "Alva" Kennels out at West Hill, Ont., where spacious kennel buildings are ready to take in their summer boarders. The kennels are ideal, and the location quite prominent and thanks to "Pratts Patent Limited" it is impossible to travel along the Kingston Road without noticing Alva.

That Mrs. D. Beland, of Pointe St. Claire, P.Q., is always "getting out of Poms," but if she would say that she was always "getting out—new—Poms" that would be more correct, and much nearer the whole truth. We notice from our esteemed English contemporary, "The Dog World," that madame has just bought, for a good figure, from Mr. E. Judge the lovely orange bitch, Saucy Bit, who won so well at the South of England Pomeranian Kennel Club Show.

Walter S. Glynn, who judged the terriers at the Morris and Essex show at Giralda Farms, Madison, N.J., on May 26th, reporting the fixture in "Our Dogs," says: "Imagine this show, held 500 feet above sea level, amidst most beautiful scenery, with unlimited space, on a sort of plateau surrounded by thickly wooded hills, tents, rings, signs and flag posts all newly painted in the colors of the club, and you will get some idea of the gorgeousness of this new show, at which I had the honor to judge." And Mr. Glynn has described the scene beautifully. It was a grand affair.

Have you noticed the shows that are at present being held, or arranged for all over the Dominion, from Nanaimo to Halifax. Many of them are quite startling in many respects, as, for instance, Alberta Kennel Club, who has selected as their judge a fellow townsman in the person of Jack E. Fletcher. This seems to give the ha! ha! to the fellow who made the wise crack concerning the prophet being without honor in his own home town, and just wait for the results to appear. The popular Fletcher never fails to draw the crowds behind his banner, and 1928 Alberta Kennel Club Show will be no exception.

The "native sons" seem to be quite popular, as witness Jack Meadows judging the Coast City Kennel Club Show, and George Kynoch judging Moose Jaw fixture. Jack C. Fletcher will judge at Brandon, Harry Selby will "don the ermine" at Medicine Hat, and Wm. Forrest will judge for the Southern Alberta Kennel Club at Lethbridge. Vancouver Exhibition, Regina Exhibition, and many of the breeds at the Canadian National Exhibition will be taken care of by Mr. J. W. Marples, of Manchester, England. "Bob" Ross, of Montreal, who is still another "native," will share in the burden of the big Toronto Fair.

Charles G. Hopton has been chosen by the faithful at Halifax, and "Charlie" Davis, of Bakerstown, Pa., will place them for the New Brunswick Kennel Club at Saint John. Hamilton Kennel Club has selected local talent, and it may be said that the club has shown considerable good taste in its selection.

There will be something attractive about the London shows that will bear watching this year, and someone must have been using sound judgment when making the 1928 arrangements, for the claim is made now that cash prizes—second only to Canadian National Exhibition money—real judges, and two shows in four days, i.e., a two-day show will be held by the Western Fair, and this will immediately be followed by a two-day show given by the London Canine Association.

Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, has a lot of attractions to offer for this year's dog show—big money, new building, Ottawa courtesy, and judges—well, we will not tell you who the judges will be, at least not yet, but you may depend on Central Canada selecting the best and most reliable judging material.

The Alsatian Shepherd Dog Club of Canada Specialty Show is already assured of success, and a pleasant time will be enjoyed at Toronto on August 18th. W. H. Ebeling will judge the breed, and "Willie" Ebeling is an ardent student of the Shepherd and knows 'em inside and out. Not only that, but Mr. Ebeling "can talk the breed," and we trust that an opportunity may be given him for that purpose after the show, and if such arrangements are made it will be well worth while for those interested in "better shepherds" to be present.

It was quite a shock to the writer to learn of the passing of his good friend John Thompson, of New Westminster, B.C. A "Cannie Scot" was John, and how he did know and love a good Collie. With full Masonic honors tendered by Union Lodge A.F. and A.M. he was laid to rest in Fraser Cemetery. Our sympathies go to Mrs. Thompson, her son and daughter, in their deep bereavement.

When "Little Bits From Here and There" was started, the writer had no idea that there would be so much to mention, and it is devoutly to be wished that we have not bored our readers unduly.

Desk K.B. DECATUR, ILL.

TRANSFER OF FAMOUS KENNEL NAME.

The widely known prefix "Ottawa" for so many long years used by an old friend the late T. A. Armstrong of Ottawa, has by arrangement become the property of that splendid sportsman Mr Allan C. McGuirl, of 53 Glen Ave., Ottawa, Ont.

The "Ottawa" Kennels as managed by Mr. McGuirl are headed by that sterling black (with white mark on throat) Cocker Ch. Carleton Mickey (C.K.C.S.B. 52598) who has had a long run of splendid show successes, and at Peterboro in 1927 he completed championship honors, and for extra good measure he was awarded Best of Breed Specials at The Ladies Kennel Club Show, Montreal, and at the Montreal Kennel Club Show, both fixtures having been recently held.

The breeding of Ch. Carleton Mickey is a befitting tribute to the oldest school of Cocker breeders, and the basic foundation is laid with the combination of the Ottawa strain of the late one and only "Andy" and the Cerleton strain of his life long friend Mr. C. E. Living, of Westboro, Ont., the owner of the Carleton prefix. And Mr. McGuirl will make no mistake in following in the footsteps of such splendid fanciers.

Ottawa Belle (C.K.C.S.B.) has never been rated lower than reserve winners when she has left the breeding kennel for the show bench, and is a full blooded "Ottawa" bred one, with the exception of the "Midkiff" blood of Ottawa Warlock, the grandsire, paternal and maternal of this good black and white bitch.

Ottawa Oneta (C.K.C.S.B. 64365) is also of strong "Ottawa" blood, that has for its mixture a desirable infusion of the noted "Robinhurst" strain.

The latest addition to the Kennel strength is Blue Roamer (C.K.C.S.B. 70056) a blue roan sired by Ardleigh Critic, who is by Cymbal of Ware, and out of Silver Mist (Imp.) Dam of Blue Roamer is Brampton June Girl, and she is by Ch. Wall's Gaylord, ex Brampton Beauty and she by Teyton Billie, who is by Farewell's Man O' War. So that in this recent purchase Mr. McGuirl has acquired a combination of the famous English "of Ware" strain, the well known "Wall's" and "Overcross" plus the noted "Farewell" and "Brampton" strains.

Possibly some Cocker breeders will be interested in the dog we mentioned, i.e., Blue Roamer, because of the animal's English breeding, and for that reason we might add that Cymbal of Ware, the sire of Ardleigh Critic, is himself a son of Southernwood Critic, considered by the English judges to be the "Wonder Cocker," and undoubtedly this sobriquet has been tacked on to this dog for merit possessed. He won the Lonsdale Cup at the Kennel Club Show for the Best Dog Any Breed in 1924, and in 1927 he actually repeated this marvellous performance at the Kennel Club Show, and on this occasion this "King of Cockers" had the distinction of winning the American Kennel Club Gold Medal and the Ceylon Kennel Club Gold Medal.

There is an opportunity here for any serious minded fancier to produce Cockers that may become famous in our country, and we believe that Mr. McGuirl is going to be heard from regularly in future as the kennel develops and the shows materialize
