"LEADS TO LOVELY LITTERS"

WEANING & REARING PUPPIES

EQUALLY SUITABLE FOR KITTENS & SILVER FOX CUBS

PUPPIES have small stomachs, and the milk of a bitch is therefore a concentrated food, being more than twice as strong as cow's milk. LACTOL closely resembles the puppies' natural food, which is why they do so well on it. Puppies reared on LACTOL thrive remarkably, and do not suffer from indigestion, vomiting, diarrhoea, rickets, etc., as when given cow's milk or other foods.

LACTOL is already used by many breeders in Canada and the U.S.A., whilst in the British Isles no kennel of any importance is ever without it. PUPPIES LOVE LACTOL.

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, April 18th, at 8 o'clock.

First Vice-President, Col. J. N. MacRae presided. Directors attending were—Brig. Gen. C. M. Nelles, Major Ward Wright, Capt. H. Dudley Waters, Reg. P. Sparkes, Vincent G. Perry, John W. Bruce, Walter H. Reeves and Harry Clayton.

The Secretary reported that President Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland had been called out of town on business.

The minutes of the previous Directors' Meeting were read, and on motion duly moved, seconded and carried, the minutes were declared.

"Adopted as read."

The Secretary reported that in virtue of the resolution passed at the last Board Meeting, the President had purchased two Province of Ontario bonds each one of $1,000.00 denomination and due in May, 1936. It was regularly moved, seconded and carried;

"That, the action of the President be approved of, and the purchases ratified."

The Secretary reported that he had approached the renting agents concerning re-decoration of the Club's Offices as per instructions given to him at the last Directors' Meeting, and that the Agents had agreed to re-decorate as soon as convenient for the Office. It was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the whole matter of re-decorating the premises be left in the hands of the Secretary."

The matter of the fifth place on the British Columbia Provincial Committee have resulted in a tie vote between Messrs. Smith and Starck, was referred to the Chairman of the British Columbia Provincial Committee, and he had recommended the appointment of Mr. Starck.

It was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the recommendation submitted by Mr. Pym be endorsed."

The Secretary read the report of the meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Committee held at Vancouver on March 30th and referred to a meeting of Canadian Kennel Club members held at Nanaimo, at which the British Columbia Directors Messrs. Pym and McCloy were present on behalf of the Canadian Kennel Club.

It was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the Board of Directors approved of the activities of the British Columbia Directors."

The Secretary read correspondence which had been sent to the President from Fort Garry Kennel Club, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the Secretary write Fort Garry Kennel Club, advising that the matters mentioned in the correspondence had been carefully considered, and as far as this Board is concerned the incident is closed."

Correspondence was read from Mr. V. E. Byfield, Toronto, requesting that he be given a definition of the Club's policy in respect to the Secretary's privileges whilst vested with the Club's powers.

It was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, after careful consideration of Mr. Byfield's letter, the Board endorses the action of the Secretary on the matter referred to in the letter."

The Borzoi Club of Canada having made the necessary deposit claiming the date May 25th for the purpose of holding an All-breed Show in Toronto, it was agreed to grant the date requested.

The Secretary submitted the following applications for membership in the Club:—

COAST CITY KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The second annual show of the above club was held at Hastings Park, Vancouver, B.C., on Good Friday, March 29th, when a total of 162 dogs faced the judges, W. H. Pym and J. S. Playfair, the former taking terriers, sporting and miscellaneous and the latter toys, non-sporting and working dog sections. The judges withheld the favors where merit was lacking in a consistent and desirable manner that was most gratifying.

The groups produced Gerald L. Stocks' Peke, Ch. Chong Yung Shi, Imp., as best Toy; George Goughs' English Setter, Groeswen Rock, best sporting; Mrs. H. Bates' Boston Terrier, Mushon Peter Blink; Best non-sporting, George Lydiatts' Wire Haired Fox Terrier, Redcliffe Swell, best Terrier and this good Toronto bred dog won the Canadian Kennel Club Trophy for best Canadian bred dog or bitch in show. Miss May Jervis' Shepherd dog, Con-Dors Boda von Yongo, best working dog.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Kingston, Ont.,

April 5th, 1929.

The Editor,

Kennel & Bench.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

I was one of the Exhibitors at the recent Toronto Kennel Club Show who didn't get as many prizes on my entry of Cocker Spaniels that I might have, but the fact remains, that, in my judgment, Dr. G. G. Anderson, the Judge, gave each and every dog a fair looking over and awarded the ribbons as he thought best. I was very sorry to see in the Star of Wednesday, April 3rd, that there was a feeling in some quarters of discontent about the judging of Anderson for Best of Breed. To Harry Draper, the owner of Ch. Lord Byng, that magnificent Yorkshire Terrier, I extend my sincere congratulations on a well-deserved victory. I am satisfied that in putting Ch. Lord Byng best of all breeds, that Anderson acted in good faith, and before awarding this very coveted prize, was satisfied as to the soundness and correctness of gait concerning this little Yorkshire Terrier. As one of the Exhibitors who came some distance to give the Toronto Kennel Club an entry, I at least, and I am satisfied I speak the view of most Exhibitors, that John McNaughton, Peter Herd, Leonard Morris, John Bruce and their voluntary assistants worked faithfully and courteously for the success of this show, which is the best yet as far as I am concerned. Had I swept the boards with my Cockers, people might have said, "Why should I not be enthusiastic?" The fact of the matter is my good friends, William A. Price of Toronto, Raymond Tyrwhitt of Oakville, and Allan McGuirl of Ottawa did most of the winning in Cockers.

I, therefore, feel that these few lines might help to clear up an unhappy situation. In closing may I say that, if all goes well, I will be at the next Toronto Kennel Club Show, as I believe that honorable defeat is better than mean victory, that the meeting of good friends is better than prizes, cups and specials, and for these reasons I will continue to support the Toronto Kennel Club Show, win or lose.

Yours sincerely,

W. M. Nickle.

SASKATOON KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Saskatoon Kennel Club showed its sand when it came back with its annual spring show after a series of discouraging setbacks concerning which our readers have already been advised from time to time.

President G. C. Hanselman and his officers are to be congratulated on being able to get 156 dogs benched so early in the season, and situated geographically as Saskatoon so awkwardly is, from the centres that have dogs available for showing and no doubt terrible freight charges kept the entry form reaching the point set by the management.

Our Alberta director, J. C. Fletcher, Calgary, judged the show, and we are very grateful to notice that dogs lacking merit at the fixture had to go without championship points. It has been said that it is our judges who are responsible for any cheap champions that may ever be made, and undoubtedly such is the case, and if the men chosen to adjudicate at our shows will only bear in mind, that unworthy material passed by their approbation, can only continue as a testimony to a judges inefficiency, or lack of discriminating courage, we will soon raise the judging standard to a high plane in Canada.

The groups were hotly contested, and it is pleasing to note that the winner of the Canadian Kennel Club Trophy for best Canadian bred dog or bitch in show, was also awarded the Dr. J. T. Cooper Trophy for best dog in show, all breeds. It was Sam Jackson's (Winnipeg) Boston Terrier, Winchester Aviator.

Chas. W. Crother's English Setter, Jimmy's Rex, best sporting dog; J. G. Young's Shepherd dog, Mint of Gold, best working dog; Hugh H. Allen's (Winnipeg) Wire Haired Fox Terrier, Antrim Bar None, best Terrier; Russel Chambers' Pom, Surrey Flashlight, best toy, and S. Jackson's Boston Terrier, Winchester Aviator, best non-sporting.

Once a Week

for your dog's sake—do this.

Every dog has his off-days. Some have more off-days than others. The quickest way to cure a doggy ailment is to give Karswood Dog Powders. But you can—and for your dog's sake you should—do better than this. Every Sunday morning give your dog a Karswood Dog Powder—regularly, without fail. This is what the World's leading dog breeders are doing to keep their dogs fit and happy all the year round.

Karswood Dog Powders are an entirely new improved dog remedy, containing specific nerve foods and organic salts which are not contained in the dog's ordinary food, but which are necessary to the perfect functioning of his system. Get a packet to-day—and give your dog a powder next Sunday morning. Miss F. Ethel Dixon, owner of the famous Champions Karzadoc, Honeystake, etc., etc., says: "Karswood Dog Powders are now a regular part of my Kennel equipment."

Here is another enthusiastic testimonial:

"Splendid Tonic and Conditioner."

I sent to you some time ago for some of your well-known Karswood Dog Powders, and found them of great benefit. As I dare say you know, I am an exhibitor at most of the leading shows, and I have to keep the dogs in good show condition, and I find a weekly Karswood a splendid tonic and conditioner. I am enclosing a photo of a few prize-winning Cocker, which speaks for itself.

(Miss) B. A. CLIFT.

THOROUGHBREDS NEED MILLER'S A-1 DOG FOODS

Owners of those fine dogs that win the trophies and the admiration of dog lovers at the shows, can't afford to risk the health and condition of their thoroughbreds with haphazard feeding methods. That's why you find them insisting that Miller's A-1 Foods form the basis of the daily diet schedule.

The glistening coat, keen eyes, and taut alertness that score with the judges are largely the result of correct feeding. After years of research the Miller's A-1 food experts have developed foods that are perfectly balanced to give dogs of all ages and all breeds the correct essentials to build health and maintain it.

You'll get a lot of satisfaction watching how hungrily your dog goes after these appetizing foods, and especially when you know they are so good for him. He surely deserves the food of champions—and it will surprise you to find that Miller's A-1 Foods are more economical than cheap meat.

You can purchase these famous health foods in convenient packages or in bulk from most pet shops, feed and seed stores, grocers, druggists, sporting goods dealers, and veterinarians. THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

I MUST say that I am agreeably surprised at the interest that has been taken in my remarks in these pages last month with reference to an all-Canadian team for the New York Show. I have received a number of most enthusiastic letters from fanciers all over the Dominion, who are not only in favor of sending teams under the care of some of our admirable handlers, but also willing to contribute their share of the expense, and to send one or more dogs to make up the team. I have also received a number of suggestions, one of which is as follows: That the members of the different clubs throughout Canada should vote for two dogs belonging to its members to make up the Canadian team, and the club to defray the expenses, but not the entrance fee. What a splendid team could be gotten together if fanciers throughout the Dominion will only show the same enthusiasm next February as they are doing now. To-day I don't think there would be the slightest difficulty in getting together a team of a hundred or more Canadian dogs. Will the members of the different clubs talk this suggestion over, and if, as it looks like at the time of writing, we could bench an entry of a hundred or more Canadian dogs, I would get our "Jimmy's" assistance in approaching the proper authorities and ask if it would not be possible that the Canadian entry could be benched together. A representative entry would prove a splendid advertisement for all our breeders and fanciers, and would show our good friends across the border the splendid quality of the dogs that are to-day being produced by Canadian breeders.

At the Chicago Show, held last month, George Kynoch, who is as well known across the border as he is at our shows, made a very representative entry, but his boxes were hardly as heavy when he returned, for some of the weight had been transferred to his well-lined pocket-book. George was certainly a busy man throughout the show, and his genial nature and good sportsmanship has gained for him a host of friends.

Writing of sportsmanship in the show ring has reminded me of our president's remarks in the last issue. They are certainly apropos on account of the lack of sportsmanship that was shown at two recent shows. At one I attended recently, the owner of one of the dogs who was competing for best dog in the show, evidently for some reason has made some enemies, who spread themselves around the ringside, and every time he was asked to move his dogs these cheap sports told the world what poor citizens they were by making a public demonstration against his chances of winning the special. I happened to be the judge, and if any of these men who helped to create the disturbance happen to read these lines, I would like them to understand that pulling for any particular dog by the "rail birds" never did and never will make any difference to me on the day it is the judge's "think" that counts. Such a poor exhibition of sportsmanship carried my mind to some of the boxing matches I have seen, where a certain portion of the spectators applauded every action of the local boy, and tried everything in their power to influence the referee's decision.

Our president writes that the letterhead paper used by Albert Payson Terhune, who has done so much for collies, contained the motto of the Kennels, "To win without boasting and lose without excuses." He goes on to say what a delightful game the breeding and showing of dogs would be if this motto was universally adopted and invariably lived up to. I believe that ninety per cent. of the people who exhibit dogs are good losers, but the trouble is that the good losers are unobtrusive, whilst the other ten per cent. are blatantly obvious. If the bad loser could only be made to see that his attitude is financially unsound, perhaps he might attempt to change it; yet it is literally true, because nothing alienates the public more quickly or more effectively than such petulant outbursts as we have seen at recent shows.

The show season is once more with us. The Eastern Collie Club of Canada are holding their club show on Empire Day, May 24th. Congratulations are certainly due to the show secretary, T. H. Pardoe, for the liberal schedule he has issued—which should mean that a big entry will come before the critical eye of the judge, Bert Swann. The show superintendent is Alex. Donaldson, which means a well managed show. Collies are booming now. The boom has been close for some time, and it only needed the push to bring it right to the front, such as the breed got and deserved when Master Neil Kennedy, of the "Vivadora" Kennels, with Ch. Coltness Little Skipper.

Mrs. F. Ilch's beautiful puppy secured the most desirable special on the American continent—Best Dog in Show at New York. The Collie is admittedly one of our most beautiful breeds, and he has not only beauty, but brains. I sincerely trust that Collie breeders will take advantage of this soon and help the real come-back of the Collie by making a bumper entry.

A few days after the Collie Show we have the two-day All-Breeds Show, held under the direction of that go-ahead club, the Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada. Mrs. F. H. Goodfellow is the show secretary, and here is a chance to pick up double points, an opportunity which should not be missed.

Ottawa is becoming a great stronghold of the fancy. It would be difficult to name any city in the Dominion where one meets so many real good fanciers as at Ottawa. The Central Canada Exhibition evidently is managed by a very live board of directors. Noticing the interest that was taken by the visitors in the Dog Show, they, at considerable expense, built a new and up-to-date dog show building, which is admittedly one of the best now in Canada. This year they are going still farther, and intend to hold two shows, one under the auspices of the local club, and the other by the Central Canada Exhibition. This will mean that dogs will be exhibited at the Exhibition for four days, and fanciers will be able to obtain double points at very little expense. Surely this decision of the Central Canada Exhibition will be appreciated by fanciers and result in a great collection of our best dogs and a real bumper and representative entry from all parts of the Dominion.

The slogan of "Talk Shows" is already proving that clubs are not putting off their arrangements until a few weeks before the holding of the show. The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club are already out with their announcement that their next show will be held on July 16th, 17th and 18th, and that Bert Swann will be the judge. Mrs. G. Kirkwood is the show secretary, and I feel pretty confident that the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club will reap the benefit of making their show dates known at this early date. One thing I can say, that fanciers from a distance will receive every consideration. What about a team from Ontario and Quebec? The Western fanciers want and mean to have the best dogs. Here's a chance for some of our Ontario and Quebec fanciers, but remember the West want good dogs, not champions that have seen their best days. It is dogs and not reputations that count amongst our Western fancy.

Bert Swann is evidently going to do some travelling this year, for I see this well-known expert has been engaged to judge the London Canine Association Show, which is to be held at London on June 5th. With such a show authority as Vincent G. Perry as secretary, this influential Association should reap the benefit and obtain a four-point show.

Monday, May 27th. These two clubs are out to get a record entry, and with such inducement as they can offer, they should certainly succeed. I regret exceedingly that business calls me to the Atlantic and not to the Pacific coast this year. I have experienced what a real lot of fanciers we have in the West, and they have my best wishes for the success they deserve.

Apparently the Wire-haired Fox Terrier fancy are going to have some real opposition. The Vivadora Kennels, owned by those two real fanciers, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, are not going to be satisfied with "the crumbs." I heard a rumour last year that they intended breaking into the Wire fancy, and judging by the very attractive announcement which appears in the last issue of Kennel and Bench, Wires have been taken up in real earnest. Amongst the recent importations by the Vivadora Kennels is the sensational English winner and sire, Watteau Review, a classically bred little Terrier, who should prove himself of great value in bringing his new kennel right into the limelight, and on account of his breeding, he should prove invaluable to breeders. Amongst Review's kennel companions is Rare Treasure, whose dam has proved herself one of England's most consistent producers of winners.

Reg. P. Sparkes' experiences overseas has made him a hard man to keep down. The news has hardly come off the Atlantic cable that for the sum of one hundred and eighty pounds he has become the purchaser of Bere-Regis-Jummy, when I hear of another important acquisition. This time from across the border, Reg. Sparkes having induced W. Earl Smith, of the Westdorf Kennels, Louisville, Ky., to part with his sensational winner, Westdorf Miss Cintrason, in exchange for a cheque of twelve hundred and fifty dollars. Westdorf Miss Cintrason, although only sixteen months old, has had a unique run of successes, included amongst them being Best in Show. Bulldogs are evidently booming, and Toronto undoubtedly now has a team that will be difficult to beat—in Champion Kippax Jock, Bere-Regis-Jummy and Westdorf Miss Cintrason, who is to make her debut under her new colors, under my friend, Clem. Woods, at the Bulldog Club of America's Show at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, N.Y.

The Saskatoon Kennel Club Winter Show proved very successful, J. C. Fletcher having some particularly nice classes to judge. J. G. Young, the Edmonton breeder of Alsations, was repaid for his long journey by winning Best Working Dog with Mint of Gold. A local fancier, C. W. Crothers, gained Best Sporting Dog with his English Setter, Jimmie's Rex. Another local fancier, R. Chambers, gained the Special for Best Toy with his Pomeranian, Surrey Flashlight. H. H. Allen brought Winnipeg into the light when he won the Terrier Special with his Wire, Antrim Bar None, and S. Jackson showed how strong Winnipeg really is with dogs when he won the Special for Best Dog in the Show with Winchester Aviator, a very smart little Boston Terrier, who had to show his best paces to get away from "Monty" Wallace's beautiful Newfoundland bitch, Lady of Drumnod. Dr. J. T. Cooper, our Director for Saskatchewan, headed a good class of twenty-two Collies with his home-bred Champion, Elmhill Jerry. Hugh Allen at this show completed the points required to place the title of Champion in front of the name of his good Wire bitch, Antrim Bridesmaid. Amongst the many good youngsters that made their debut at this show, one of the most promising was Mrs. Archie Middleton's Boston Terrier puppy, Stadamas Major Domo, a puppy who looks like hitting the top lights.

Through mentioning Wire-haired Fox Terriers in the previous paragraph reminded me of a very pleasant time I spent with my old friend, Roger Phillips, at Chicago Show. I was pleased to see that Roger has very quickly made good with the Chicago fancy. He was for many years one of the leading Terrier judges across the pond, and he will prove a very welcome addition to our list of reliable judges. On arrival at Chicago I was very sorry to hear that Roger Phillips had met with a very serious accident, having been knocked down and run over by a taxicab. Roger was only out of the hospital a few days, but this did not keep him away from the show; in fact, he said that the show was the best tonic he could possibly have had.

MEDICINES FOR DOGS

I wonder if our "Jimmy" is responsible for the number of letters I have received asking for particulars of the Schipperke! Apparently the place Ch. Coltness Little Skipper gained in the All-Round Specials at recent important shows in the United States has made several of my readers express the desire of seeing a photograph and a description of the little Bargee, as he is known in the land of his origin—Holland. I happen to be fortunate enough to be able to give some of the early history of the breed in England. As to his origin, like so many of our breeds, this has never been thoroughly established, but one has only to look at the exceedingly smart little black dog to know that the Spitz had something to do with his origin. When a boy in England who was never happy unless he was with dogs, I can well remember the first Schipperkes which were brought to England. They were imported by Dr. Seelig. Drieske and Mia were purchased by G. R. Krehl, at that time editor of the Stockkeeper, and his friend and assistant editor, E. B. Joachim, purchased Skip and Mirza. Evidently from the very start the Schipperke caught on in England, and before many months were over, "Skips" were quite a feature at our shows, for they quickly made good.

It would be difficult to name a more intelligent or a gamier dog than the little Bargee. Drieske and Mia quickly became champions. Skip did some minor winnings, and Mirza in due course had a litter. The English fancy were given to understand that the puppies were born tailless. Mirza quickly disproved this, for all her puppies had tails. A leading veterinary surgeon was instructed to dock them, and he was so anxious to get the "guinea pig rump," a desirable point with Skips, that his knife went too close, and all the puppies died. Champion Drieske was the leading dog until the debut of Shtoots under E. B. Joachim's colors. Shtoots, when he was shown by F. Green, was a dirty rusty color, but he was so good in type and shape that E. B. Joachim was induced to purchase him. Special feeding and a specially constructed kennel was advised by a leading veterinary surgeon, and after a couple of months Shtoots was brought out at one of the Central Hall shows and went right through his classes. Someone spread the rumor that Shtoots was dyed, and E. B. Joachim laid an objection to his own dog, which, on investigation and on the evidence of the leading veterinary surgeon of the day, was overruled. Shtoots was generally admitted to be the best dog being shown at this time, and was purchased by J. N. Woodiwiss with the rest of the Schipperkes owned by E. B. Joachim, with the exception of Skip, who belonged to Miss Joachim. After the sale E. B. Joachim was asked to judge at Spa, Belgium, and here he put up a dog known as Fritz of Spa, who, after the judging, he purchased and brought back to England. Having told J. N. Woodiwiss that he did not intend to again go in for Schipperkes, E. B. Joachim wrote and told Woodiwiss that he had purchased Fritz of Spa, and would he either release him from his promise or buy Fritz. J. N. Woodiwiss saw Fritz, and very quickly became his owner. The dogs I have mentioned were really the foundation of the English Schipperkes, which in a very few years became one of the most popular breeds in England. When the breed was in the heyday of its popularity, several of the members of the Schipperke Club resigned, and G. R. Krehl stated a rival club known as the St. Hubert Schipperke Club, named after a dog acquired by G. R. Krehl, a dog absolutely at variance with the type of Drieske, Mia, Shtoots, Fritz of Spa and Aunt Chloe. St. Hubert, as I remember him, had almost as much coat as some of our present day Pomeranians, which is the wrong class of coat required on a Skip, and this dog did considerable harm to the breed. W. R. Temple and Miss A. Lupton introduced some chocolate-colored Skips to the show, but the "Other Than Blacks" never caught on. From time to time importations were made in the U.S.A., but for some reason the breed never became really popular, therefore it is certainly pleasing to those who know the sterling all round character of the breed to note that much greater interest is being taken in the breed.

The Standard of Points

1. Head—Foxy in type. Skull should not be round, but broad and with little stop. The muzzle should be moderate in length, fine, but not weak. Should be well filled up under the eyes.
2. Nose—Black and small.
3. Eyes—Dark brown, small, more oval than round, and not full, bright and full of expression.
4. Ears—Shape of moderate length, not too broad at the base, tapering to a point. Carriage stiffly erect, and when in that position the inside edge to form as near as possible a right angle with the skull, and strong enough not to be bent otherwise than lengthways.
5. Teeth—Strong and level.
6. Neck—Strong and full, rather short, set broad on the shoulders, and slightly arched.
7. Shoulders—Muscular and sloping.
8. Chest—Broad, and deep in brisket.
9. Back—Short, straight and strong.
10. Loins—Powerful, well drawn up from the brisket.
11. Forelegs—Perfectly straight, well under the body, with bone in proportion to the body.
12. Hind Legs—Strong, muscular, hocks well let down.
13. Feet—Small, catlike, and standing well on the toes.
14. Nails—Black.
15. Hindquarters—Fine compared to the foreparts; muscular and well developed thighs, tailless rump well rounded.
16. Coat—Abundant, dense and harsh; smooth on the head, ears and legs, lying close on the body and sides, but erect and thick around the neck, forming a mane or frill, and well feathered on back of thighs.
17. Weight—About 12 pounds.
18. General Appearance—A small cobby animal with sharp expression, intensely lively, presenting the appearance of being always on the alert.

19. Disqualifying Points—Drop or semi-erect ears.

20. Faults—White hairs are objected to, but are not disqualifying.

The Chinese Kennels, Toronto, have an enviable record in Pekingese circles. This well-known successful kennel started breeding and importing Pekingese in 1920, and since then have not only brought fame to the kennel, but have also started a number of new fanciers. Amongst the many importations that have been made are Charm of Chinatown, Yu Tu of Chinatown, Shimmerk of Chinatown, Daffy of Hartburn and Ch. Portelet Yu Toy. The sale of Shimmerk of Chinatown to the Balcroft Kennels was always regretted, and on the death of this beautiful headed dog, Mrs. Eastham succeeded in getting a son of Shimmerk's from Mr. A. Whitehouse, who was registered as Chaun Sang. This typical little Celestial looks like having a very bright future. Champion Chinky Chog, after completing his Canadian championship, was sold to Mrs. Dowser, of Detroit. When Mrs. E. J. Dowser gave up Pekingese, Ch. Chinky Chog was re-purchased, and has amply repaid the judgment shown by the Chinese Kennels, having gained Best of Breed under the following judges: Dr. Henderson, George Kynoch and B. Lewis. Ch. Chinky Chog made his debut under the writer at the Toronto Exhibition, where he was placed ahead in puppies.

Arthur Fairbanks, the Hamilton Kennel Club secretary, is right on his job. He writes that the open show of his club will be held at Hamilton on August 9th and 10th, and that it will be held at the Alexandra Academy, with no less an expert than Robert A. ("Bob") Ross as judge. I understand that the entire club are all putting forth their very best efforts to get a record entry, and their efforts should be crowned with success, with so popular a judge as our Quebec Director.

DOGS OF THE EMPIRE

By FREEMAN LLOYD.

(Illustrations from the Author's Collection)

IT is very evident that the Old Country has not lost its cunning in the way of breeding dogs—any creature in the way of dogs from Pointers to Pomeranians. Dogs and bitches of these and numerous other breeds are being continually imported into the United States (and Canada), and these have proved so good that they have been smart enough to win from coast to coast at the American events. The Old Country dogs ever appear to be good enough to go one better than the New World-bred dogs; and it is possible there must be something besides freshness or novelty about them that appeals to the eye of the average judge. Such an adjudicator cannot be aware that each shining example of a good dog must necessarily be a new dog. So we must give all the credit to the fresh importation, which has not only been cleverly acquired, but smartly handled in his new sphere or circle of competition.

February month might be looked upon as a poor time to import dogs, for the reason the weather is at about its worst on the broad Atlantic. Moreover, dogs purchased at that period of the year would be too late for competition at the earlier and certainly the best shows in the States—notably those of the great annual events held in New York and Boston. Yet at the very slackest time of this year forty-two valuable and A.K.C. pedigreed dogs were sent from Britain to this side. Added to this were the numerous German-bred dogs, about which no records are now available. The British exports to the United States were

English Setters, Irish Setters, one Pointer, Retrievers, Springer Spaniels, Smooth Fox Terriers, Irish Terriers, Scottish Terriers, Sealyham Terriers, West Highland White Terriers, Bulldogs, Chow Chows, one Mastiff, one Newfoundland, one Samoyed, Shetland Sheepdogs, Pekingese Dogs, Pugs and a Yorkshire Terrier. Here is variety enough, but one that might not be compared with the numbers of the importations which shall arrive in New York during the rush back-home season from August to Christmas. So great is the demand for the English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh-bred dogs—both show and field, non-sporting and sporting—that dogs are very much dearer or expensive in England than in any other place in the world.

Perhaps the most remarkable successes ever achieved by Pointers bred by one man, was witnessed at the recent New York Show, when pretty well all of the chief prizes went to dogs bred by Isaac Sharpe, a Scotsman very well and internationally known not only for the goodness of his gun dogs, but because of the numbers he possesses. I have heard about the hundreds—some one said "eight hundred"—of sporting dogs to be seen inside and outside of the Sharpe yards. Be that as it might, there can be no question about the quality of the "Stylish" gun dogs the portly Isaac has exported to North America. They have won, and won handsomely.

The crack Pointer at the W.K.C. Show, New York, was R. F. Maloney's Herewithem J.P., which won for the best of his breed. J.P. was bred by Mr. Sharpe, as were J. G. Shearer's Herewith'em Mustard, and Herewith'em Toots. Stylish Mac, the sire of all these, was another bright light at the Garden. Mac had also arrived from the Sharpe Kennels. It is thought that another Pointer of the same breeding as J.P. (or was it J.P. himself?) was successfully exhibited under Mr. Reeves somewhere on the Pacific Coast. Anyway, there was heavy scoring, not to say anything about the other big wins made by J.P. on the circuit held since the great gathering in New York during the second week of February last. He was the best dog of any breed at the Chicago Show, a month or so ago.

With all the flare and fuss made over Herewith'em J.P., there were men—Pointer men—who had a wonderful liking for J.P.'s litter brother, Herewith'em Mustard, owned by Mr. Shearer, of Ford City, Pa. Charles Mason (than whom does not exist a more accomplished and experienced judge of Pointers) declared he believed Mustard to be the best heavy-weight Pointer seen for years—"seventeen years" I think he said. If that be so, Mustard must be a remarkably good Pointer—aye, quite as good as seen for a long time. Mason is conservative in his praises; indeed, he must be classed as a hypercritical, hypersensitive, fault-finding individual, more given to pulling dogs and men to pieces than bestowing on them even the slightest measure of praise. So if Mason was right when he said that Mustard was the best heavy-weight Pointer he had looked upon for nigh on a score of years, this white-and-liver son of Stylish Mac and Herewith'em Mustn't must be no darn dunce of a dog, although he was whelped on All Fools Day, 1925.

Incidentally, Mr. Mason was this year paying his forty-ninth annual visit to a New York Show. He won with his Pointers in the year 1881. As in 1881, British-bred Pointers got to the head of affairs at New York in this year of grace, 1929.

I can never hear or read the name of Isaac Sharpe without thinking of potatoes and the large amount of common sense that must belong to the man who is not afraid to feed his dogs on what they enjoy as a satisfying food. A couple of years ago, a couple of Americans visited Scotland and called in on Mr. Sharpe. They were shown over his establishment.

Mr. Hochwalt wrote that the Sharpe dogs were in wonderful form. But the sportsmen-tourists were seemingly astounded when they saw that potatoes were largely used as a part of the food for dogs young, dogs half-grown, older dogs and stud dogs. And why not? What's good for a man is good for his dog; and, let us hope, all of us are friendly to Patrick's pratee! As an invigorator, the potato has wonderful virtues, it is said. About three or less years ago a prominent Canadian imported a stud dog of a gun dog kind. This particular winner was not only a super-dog, but the sire of super-dogs. Bearing such a distinction, this dog arrived in the Dominion after he had cost about $3,500. Admired by everybody who saw the dog, it was to the natural dismay of his importer that the super-dog was "no good" when introduced to a young or old lady of his breed. It was feared that something was wrong—damnedly wrong! So the cables were set agoing. Thirty-five hundred bucks for an ornament! Came the almost immediate reply from Scotland: "Give him potatoes!"

And that good dog's day was saved! He became a father of numerous litters, among which have been famous Canadian and American winners in the field and judging rings.

And 'tis now history that the originally potato-fed Pointers won at New York, Boston and Chicago.

The illustrations for this issue have been chosen because of their artistic quality and the truly sporting impressions they must convey to the observer—the man who is fond of his dog and gun. The picture of the English Gamekeeper at the stile with a brace of Pointers and shot game, is interesting; indeed, it portrays a very human delineation of that class of men often referred to as "Velveteens"—from the fact that gamekeepers invariably wear coats of velveteen—hard-wearing material that will keep out the wet and cold of the damp and misty atmosphere of Great Britain. Moreover, this cloth constitutes an unofficial livery that is as quickly recognized as the blue of the policeman or the red of the soldier boy. This velveteen is not only a sure protection against the thorns and other arboreal annoyances of the covert, but a warning to evil-doers, a sign of the employer's highness of station, and, perhaps, his arrogance and wealth. The Pointers are a token of high-class ownership and the shooting rights over untold acres. Such men as "Velveteens" have been responsible for the working qualities of the British Pointers of our own times.

It is to the firm of Velveteens & Company we must offer our devoted thanks for not only the steady and reliable shooting dogs of the Old Country, but for the establishment of Field Trials. These tests originated in or about 1871. It was the late Edward Armstrong (father of Jack, Ned, Bob and Bill, well-known in Canada and the States) who originated Field Trials while Mr. Armstrong was the head gamekeeper for the celebrated Mr. Garth, Q.C. So it was to a Velvetreen, long since dead and gone, that field trialers must be thankful. The first dog show (1859) at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, had the gunmaker, Pape, at the back of it. A Velvetreen in William Brailsford was one of the promoters of the first National Show in England. That was held at Birmingham, soon after the Newcastle event. For very many years the Birmingham Show remained the best sporting or gun dog exhibition on this planet. So when we look upon the Velvetreen's picture, let us try and think back a little, and bear in mind that had it not been for such as the man in the illustration we might have dragged out our hum-drum existence without the benefit or the blessings of dog shows and field trials.

Few of the sporting artists of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries are nowadays more esteemed than Ben Marshall (1768-1835). Marshall had a keen eye for the beautiful — of the beautiful in woman-kind, as well as a fine fancy for horses and dogs. At first he was a portrait painter, but when he discovered that the possessor of a pretty wife or lovely daughter would pay only fifty guineas for the portrait of the lady, but was willing—indeed anxious—to expend four times that sum on a good picture of a favorite horse or dog, Marshall decided to go and set up his easel at Newmarket—then, as now, headquarters of English horse racing. And to "tell the world" he had removed to the neighborhood of the historic Heath, Marshall added "of Newmarket" to his signatures. The artist did this when he signed the original portrait (and engravings after the painting) of his publisher, a copy of which is now presented to my readers. The Setter and Pointer may be classed as belonging to a sort of lackadaisical type; indeed, they didn't seem to have the "go" in them—the dash and action generally to be found in the pictures of hounds, greyhounds and other sporting dogs, given to us by the great Benjamin. However, this print is very popular, and close-held by collectors. It is a fine example of the cut and stamp of the English gentleman-sportsman as he existed at a period at least two years before Victoria, of blessed memory, ascended the throne.

Once again I would point to the proud traditions of the land which has provided and is providing the best of gun dogs. And, bearing this in mind, Britishers must never forget they have inherited a trust that must be kept safe, sure and inviolated.

The third illustration of the white or almost white English Setters, is from a picture I once owned, but now in the collection of George A. Ellis, of New York City, one of the greatest of the old and present-time supporters of this breed of Setters in the United States. The design will surely appeal to the lover of this gentle and very beautiful variety of gun dogs. The scene is evidently Scottish. The dogs have quality as well as ample bone. The coats are flat and silky; there is an abundance of feather. Here are examples of the Setter — the active, strongly-built dogs required for a rough, high and rocky country. From the bench point of view, their heads are somewhat pinched or light in the fore-faces. But the heavy-head Setter dogs were distasteful to some of the older breeders—among them the famous Edward Laverack, whose name became associated with a strain of English Setter dogs—perhaps the handsomest of all!

"I will commence with the head," wrote Mr. Laverack in 1872, "which should be long and rather light, though not too much so; I do not like a heavy-headed or deep-flewed dog; it indicates sluggishness."

So Laverack of old might have been pleased with the type of English Setters as may now be seen in this publication of close on sixty years after Laverack's THE SETTER came off the printing presses.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

We are delighted to be able to introduce to our readers, this month, a new fancier in the person of Mr. Alex. L. Gooderham, Toronto, and his recent purchase, "Champion Pia Vom Haus Schutting," Sch.H.

Pia is one of the most outstanding Shepherds of the present day. Among her wins before coming to America, is the title seigerin of Austria, and at the Seiger show in Germany, 1927, was awarded the first prize in the Youth Class.

Since coming to the United States, and taking the show circuit over there, the beautiful Pia ran up a consistent record of wins that few Shepherds have equalled. Following is the list of wins to date:

New Orleans, La., Winners, Best of Winners.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Reserve Winners.

Indianapolis, Ind., Winners, Best of Winners.

Chicago, Ill., Winners, Best of Winners.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Winners, Best of Winners.

Boston Specialty Show, Best of Breed.

Minneapolis, Minn., Best of Breed, Best Working Dog.

Patterson, N.J., Best of Breed, Best Working Dog.

Sioux City, Best in Show.

Omaha, Best in Show.

Red Oaks, Iowa, Best of Breed, Best Working Dog.

Kansas City, Best in Show.

Toronto, Best of Breed.

Baltimore, Best in Show.

New York, Best Bitch.

Louisville, Best Shepherd Dog, Second Working Dog.

Cincinnati, O., Best Shepherd Dog, Third Working Dog.

Chicago, Best Shepherd Dog, Best Working Dog.

Canadian exhibitors will remember Giralda Farms remarkable Shepherd that won for Best Breed at the National Kennel Club show at Toronto last fall, and the manner in which her handler, Mr. McClure Halley had her so perfectly under control when off or on the lead. A sign, word or whistle was always sufficient to bring the well trained Pia to see things in Mac's way, and at once.

An Sch. H. herself, she is by Ewald Vom Haus Paland, Sch.H., and out of Krimhilde Vom Boxberg, Sch.H. She comes by her beauty and intelligence quite naturally.

Best of all, Pia is bred to Husson v. Boadman, Giralda Farms unshown dog, of whom they think more highly than any of their long string of winners.

That Mr. Gooderham intends taking up the cult seriously, is proven by his determination to start his kennel operations with the very best obtainable only, and we surely hope and trust that his advent into Shepherdhood will mean much for the breed in Canada.

SHEPHERD'S SHEEP DOGS.

We cull the following from the Peoples Journal, issue of March 2nd, 1929, and offer it to breeders of Alsations (German Shepherd Dogs) as food for thought:

"An old Aberdonian shepherd, over 70 years of age, who has been working in that capacity since the age of 8, has just returned to London to start another season's work with his flock on Hampstead Heath. Apart from being London's oldest shepherd, Mr. George Donald has achieved something of real fame. He is the first shepherd in this country who has trained Alsations to work a flock of sheep. With him are his two Alsations, Birk and Brisk, which may be described as two of the best trained dogs in existence—certainly Birk is. He is about six years of age, and at the very prime of his powers. At his birth he was the weakest of the litter, and showed signs of nervousness, which unfitted him for the show-ring. His owner, knowing that in their native Germany they are used as sheep dogs handed him on to Mr. Donald to train for the work. The result surpassed all expectations. Today his work rounding up sheep is a joy to watch. Each movement of his master's hand and each note of his whistle has its meaning to Birk. He is possessed of all the best qualities a dog can have. He shows remarkable faithfulness to his master, is dignified and aloof with strangers, and refuses to take food, no matter how tempting, from them, unless his master commands him. Yet with children he is kind and playful, and no amount of tail-pulling can upset him. 'That dog,' said his master, 'is as good with eleven sheep as with eleven hundred'—which is the real test of a true sheep dog."

What Mr. Donald has proven possible with Birk and Brisk should be an inspiration to all owners of the Alsatian and an inducing encouragement for Shepherd fanciers to start training their dogs.

NOTES FROM THE COAST

By Provincial Contributing Editor, ALBERT KERR, Vancouver.

THE Second Annual Show of the Coast City Kennel Club culminated in a very pleasing and successful event with several new and appreciated innovations introduced that were both helpful and instructive, both to the exhibitors and spectators, in particular the final placings in each class being placed opposite a marked off space on the ringside fence with the respective color of the prize ribbon and marked first, second and third, gave to those interested the opportunity of marking their catalogues at once and goes a long way to the elimination of a series of score boards. We would commend the idea to other shows not using it, for a trial, knowing that it will gain the appreciation of the ringside followers. I would also speak a word of commendation on the arrangement and display of the trophies and special prizes, which were very artistically set out in an enclosed cage where they were on view to the visitors to the show, until claimed by the fortunate winners, who, on receipt of the trophies won, had to sign for receiving them, which arrangement, in the writer's opinion, will certainly eliminate a whole lot of after-show troubles and complaints.

The judging of the show was led off with the competition for the "Lovers' Cup", an international club challenge cup for the best five dogs of different breeds belonging to members of any kennel club. The Coast City Kennel Club and the Royal City Kennel Club were the only two clubs competing, the cup being awarded to the Coast City Club with the following dogs: T. Cruickshank's English Bulldog, McNab's Marquis; P. Willox's Whippet, No Fun; G. Gough's English Setter, Groeswen Rock; G. D. Ireland's Wire Fox Terrier, Redcliffe Milady, and Gerald L. Stock's Pekingese, Ch. Chong Yung Shi.

The show had a good entry and had not the embargo placed against the entry into Canada of dogs from certain States been in effect at the time of receiving entries, no doubt a larger representation of dogs would have been present from the United States. Unfortunately, the removal of this embargo as affecting dogs was lifted a little too late to be of any benefit to this show. We noticed an exceptional measure of high quality amongst the English Setters, one of which was G. Gough's latest importation, Groeswen Rock. This one topped the sporting section. N. McConnell was on hand with his old favorite, Ch. McConnell's Nori, and a couple of quality females. Bill Willgress bobbed up with a real good one in Savannah's Sensation, backed up by Mr. Spencer to hold up Nanaimo's end in the English Setter alley. "Mac" MacKenzie was over from Victoria with his contribution and was up to the front when the ribbons were passed out. Geo. D. Ireland showed a strikingly clean cut youngster that with a little more development will make them all step fast, and Mrs. O. Balshaw had her charges in tip top shape. Altogether, the competition in this section was keen, with a lot of good ones shown, which lack of space prohibits mention of, but Kennel and Bench readers will find them in the award columns of the show. In Alsations, the entry was some thirty-odd, and the judge had his work cut out to separate them, as the quality throughout was of a high order.

The "merrie little Cocker", as usual, had a large entry, and the local fanciers were out in force, while Mrs. Edna Rowans and Mrs. Nugent were on hand from across the border with their charges well up in the running.

As at all shows, it is pleasing to note that while the old-time fanciers manage to keep in the limelight, that sometimes the novice fancier steps in and upsets the dope and comes through on the top. One of them was Mr. McRoberts, in English Bulldogs, with Briton's White Commander getting best of breed.

Throughout, the show was well balanced and competition was keen. The judges, W. H. Pym and J. S. Playfair had difficult assignments, particularly in the English Setter and Alsatian classes. Alex. McCoy, of Victoria, representing the Canadian Kennel Club, declared the show open.

The management was well handled by the Secretary, Mr. Lester, and the Bench Show Committee, while the Superintendent, Mr. Johnston, kept everything working smoothly. The only fly in the ointment was just what the weather conditions warrant, that shows at this season of the year, both for the comfort of the exhibitors, visitors and the dogs, require a heated building, and if closer to the centre of the city, so much the better for all concerned.

Wm. Moffit has been selected as the judge of all breeds for the coming show of the Vancouver Kennel Club, to be held May 24th and 25th at Hastings Park, and as Mr. Moffat is held in high esteem as to his ability and integrity, a large entry is looked for, both local and from across the line, at this fixture. At the Royal City Kennel Club Show on the 27th of May, the judging duties will be in the hands of "Archie" Hogg, and it is expected that the exhibitors will take advantage of these two shows and book in on both and spend the week-end holiday in Vancouver. We can vouch for a splendid list of specials at these two shows.

The B.C. Toy Dog and Boston Club, at their annual meeting, closed the year with good reports, increased membership and activities. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Hon. President, Wm. Dick, M.L.A.; Hon. Vice-President, J. K. Mathieson; Hon. Vet., Dr. Cuthbert; President, John Anderson; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Saker; 2nd Vice-President, Wm. White. Directors: John Mackenzie, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Corkett, Mrs. Wood, Miss Wood and Mrs. E. Smith. Secretary-Treasurer, T. G. Bertram.

This club put on a social evening recently for its members and friends, at Cottillion Hall, with the President, J. Anderson, presiding, the evening being spent with music and song, the following members taking part: J. Anderson, Mrs. Saker, Mrs. Wood and T. G. Bertram. Neil Keko gave a short address on dog topics, after which a delightful tea was served by the ladies, closing with the company joining in singing "Auld Lang Syne".

We would broadcast at this time some news of importance to all the fans within the radius of attending the Canadian Pacific Exhibition Dog Show, to be held in Vancouver during Aug. 15th to 17th, that A. B. Korbel has been selected to judge all breeds at this show, and we would say that Mr. Korbel is a stranger to these parts and this will be his first visit, but comes very highly recommended by the Western Kennel Review. Mr. Korbel has filled a number of important engagements throughout California and the Western States, and is also booked for an engagement in New York. We are hoping that the fanciers will give this show their full support and a large entry to greet Mr. Korbel.

In the realm or circles of the doggie game, as one places before them a certain object or achievement to strive for and according to the measure of success attained the attended pleasure resulting from such, even in a small degree, has a tendency to make one feel compensated for the knocks and up-downs received in that progress towards that ideal of such we would say of the Keystone Bulldog Kennels (Reg'd.), owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Elliott, of New Westminster, B.C. Both Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have been keen fanciers of the English Bulldog for a number of years, and have striven to produce something worth while. A short time ago, a dog was shipped to Phoenix, Ariz., and in the letter acknowledging the arrival, the purchaser states: "He sure comes up to all expectations, and in all my dealings with the Canadian dog fanciers, this is the first shipment I've ever received that came in such style and a No. 1 condition. You might well be proud of yourselves and your dogs." We think this speaks volumes for these fanciers and we would say that more business will be the result and an object lesson for others.

THE LADIES' KENNEL CLUB SHOWS.

After a siege of tremendous battling to put everything in its proper place for the two Montreal shows to be held under the banner of the Ladies' Kennel Club at Montreal on May 29th and 30th, the fight has finally been won, and judges, show building, and prizes have been declared.

The judges are both men well known as efficient adjudicators in matters canine. Anton A. Rost and Otto H. Gross, have wanted to come to Canada for long enough and at last here they are, the lateness of their arrival on this side of the border may be attributed to the expense involved, and to think that it was left to the Ladies' Kennel Club to pay the price is indeed good news.

The location is none less than the Mount Royal Arena, and a new floor will be put down especially for this show so that dampness will only be a consideration because of its absolute elimination. Profit on these fixtures must be quite problematical, and yet if profits are made, they will be handed over to The Grace Dart Home, a non-Sectarian Hospital for incurable tuberculosis.

The premium list will be its own best appeal, and our readers are invited to send for copies now. "The Ladies" are determined that 1929 will see a new high water mark for Montreal dog shows of all time.

THE BUSY MONTHS—MAY AND JUNE.

These two engaging months are always the busiest of the first half of our Canadian dog show yearly calendar. Victoria Kennel Club start with May 18th as their date. Vancouver Kennel Club, May 24th and 25th, and Royal City Kennel Club on the 29th and 30th, shows that our British Columbia fanciers are to be properly taken care of.

Ontario and Quebec will be busy centers during May and June. The Eastern Collie Club will hold forth under their specialty banner with Bert Swann on the woosack at Toronto on May 24th. The Borzoi Club of Canada will try its strength in the all-breed field on May 25th, at Toronto. A list of specialty judges have accepted judging appointments, and as the show will be held in the—now well known—Commerce and Transportation building a successful show is anticipated.

The The Ladies' Kennel Club's brace of shows at Montreal on May 29th and 30th as mentioned elsewhere in this issue.

London Canine Association show at London, on June 5th with the slogan "One Day, Then Away" will make an admirable bid for the dogs that will travel in that direction for the London show itself and for the Telephone City Kennel Club show that takes place at Brantford on June 6th and 7th. The highways are pleasant ways at this particular time of the year, and autoing is a very definite pleasure indeed, the country-side being most inviting, and no doubt hundreds of dogs will share with their owners the enjoyment of motoring to London and Brantford shows.

For particulars as to secretaries' names and addresses our readers are referred to our business columns.

Notes From Alberta

By Provincial Contributing Editor, R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.

AT EDMONTON preparations are already under way to make the 1929 show one of the best ever held in Western Canada. Bert Swann, the well-known all-round judge of Newcastle, Ont., is to hand out the ribbons. As this is the first time Mr. Swann has judged in Edmonton a record entry is looked for, his appointment as judge has received the sanction of the Alsation Shepherd Dog Club of Canada and their trophies will be offered for competition. As usual the show will be held in conjunction with the annual exhibition, and the dates this year are July 16, 17, 18.

Merchandise, prizes, cups, etc., will be offered for practically every class in the show. Already promises for these prizes amount to well over $300 in value, and most probably this will be more than doubled by the time the premium lists are printed. The Club held a very interesting Parlor Show on the evening of March 14th, when classes were provided for Cocker, Springers and Setters. Mr. Schooley won the special for the best Cocker with his good red dog, "Blondie". J. Rawlings secured the special for Springers with a home bred "Blue Boy of Edmonton", he was hotly pressed for this place by L. E. Wyze's well-known bitch, "Vale of Burnside". In the Setter classes Mrs. A. K. Hall obtained all three prizes with her well-known team, "Molly Rowland" taking first and special, "Freckles" second, and "Hall's William," third. "Molly Rowland" also won the special for best dog in show. Mr. Schooley won the special for the best puppy with his Cocker "Blondie". A class was provided for Springer puppies, J. Black winning this class with his "Ted". Mr. Senator second with his "Paddy", and Mr. Black the third with "Jim". The judging was carried out by three judges, Harry Nash, Joe Caswell and Jack Tanton, on the point system. Each judge scoring the dogs according to the Standard, and the dog winning the highest number of points from the three judges taking first, etc.

The Chief of Police of Edmonton is trying to have a by-law passed restricting the liberty of German shepherd dogs by compelling their owners to keep them under control at all times. We don't think it will get through as the local fanciers are contesting same hotly.

A number of members sent their dogs to the Saskatoon show on Good Friday and the following Saturday. Arthur Wright looked after the welfare of the dogs while there.

An extraordinary General Meeting of the Alberta Kennel Club was held in the Public Library in Calgary on the evening of March 15th, there was a very large turnout of members and some slight changes were made in the appointment of officers, probably the most important being the replacement of Mr. Raby by George Climo of Calma Cocker fame, as Sec.-Treas. Mr. Climo is familiar with his duties having held this important post on a previous occasion. The financial situation was thoroughly gone into on the Auditor's statement. The feeling of the members was that it was up to every one of them to put their shoulders to the wheel and give every assistance possible to the new executive, so assuring the most successful season in the Club's history. A drive for new members has already been instituted. Application has been made to Head Office for the Summer Show in connection with the Exhibition in July. The following is a complete list of this year's officers, etc.:

Hon. Patrons, His Excellency, Viscount Lord Willingdon, Her Excellency, the Viscountess Willingdon; Hon. Presidents, M. R. White, P. O. Patrick, E. W. Bavin, Lt.-Col. D. Ritchie and J. E. Hunter; Vice Presidents, J. W. Hugill, K.C., E. Cheeney, R. Thompson; Executive Officers, Dr. V. W. Wright, Mrs. G. R. Swan, Wm. Forrest, Harry Price, A. H. Julian, Geo. Westmorland, T. R. Flent and H. F. W. Greenhill; Sec.-Treas., George Climo; Veterinary Surgeons, Dr. A. M. McKay and Dr. J. G. Anderson.

Phil Heathers' Gordon Setter "Sercee Princess" got first prize and went best of breed at the Saskatoon Winter Show, which completes the required points for Championship honors in the Canadian Kennel Club. John E. Hunter's famous Whippet dog "Edina Dictum" took first in open and went best of breed in show, also completing his Championship points. Mr. Hunter's whippet "Victor Lady Manner" won first in the open class. His beautiful fawn matron "Lady Flying Mistress", who ran second in the Montreal Handicap last Fall, has just whelped four puppies sired by Champion "Epinard", she was purchased from R. Holiday, Lachine, Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Curry, who have been wintering in Panama, are expected home shortly. His white Whippet bitch "Snow Lady", who ran second to "Jack Fairman" in the Calgary races last Fall, is as fit as a fiddle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith are also training "Mona" and a litter from "Tess", sired by Champion "Jack Fairman", is expected shortly.

Now that Spring is here Mr. Cheeney, like all good dog men, is getting busy. Most of us leave a lot of work that should be done in the Winter till the warmer atmosphere of Spring arrives, then we are as busy as a pup "chasing the enemy from behind his ears". What with whitewashing kennels and washing pups, and not omitting the good wife's wails about the "shacks going to ruin" and that "dog men generally think more of their animals than they do of them", etc. What a life we do have, but, cheerio. Having nothing much to do one day last week our friend wandered down Main Street, i.e. 8th Avenue, and naturally sauntered into the office of a certain well-known auburn haired solicitor (H. P. Saunders). Harry, as one might know, was very busy, but the Calgary fancier stuck around and eventually had quite a chat with him, mostly about English Setters and Cockers. In the course of which it came out that a female puppy by that great dog "Gorshill Haeae", which, by the way, is a son of the great English dog known to us all as "Oh by Jingo", H.P.S. hopes to catch the judge's eye with this one. He also has two nice Setters from "Diedle Daw", a son of International Champion "Racket's Rummy". From our observation Setter men will be casting envious eyes at these dogs before many months have passed. of benefit to all. In Cockers, Harry has three good ones too, both blacks and reds. Puppies from his well-known dog "Saunders Prince Charming", reds from "Red Ivanho" and "Red Rosa".

The Alberta Kennel Club is practically assured of a good entry from this source.

Rumours are stirring about the city, a rich one being that the genial J. C. Fletcher of Brockley fame is so busy with Canada's famous oil field that he has no time to worry about dogs, but when the Superintendent calls out for Pekes and Poms it will be something of an "eye opener" if Jack is not on deck with some good ones.

All are working like whales for the Show and we expect it will be one to suit the most fastidious.

TORONTO BOSTON FOR DETROIT.

Like "carrying coals to Newcastle" is the selling of the Boston Terrier puppy Town Talk Jack, son of Town Talk Kennel's Flashy Ted and out of Floss A, a daughter of Jackson's Ch. KENNEL CLUB FORMED AT WINDSOR.

For some considerable time past the fanciers at Windsor, Ont. have been concerning themselves regarding the formation of a Canine Club in their city, and at last action has been taken and the club actually formed with pro-tem officers in charge for the present.

With the unanimous consent of the Windsor Board of Health a matinee show will be held on the afternoon of May 24th at the grounds of the Windsor Jockey Club. It is part of the plan to have a well known Battle Creek man "don the ermine" for the occasion. Puppy classes for dogs and bitches, with open classes for dogs and bitches of each breed. A class for breeds under 25 lbs. and a class for dogs and bitches over 25 lbs and the first prize winners of the respective breeds chosen from these weight divisions to come together for best in show.

In the evening the first club dinner will be held, future plans formulated, the whole to be reviewed and consolidated at the first annual meeting which will be held on June 30th. Motorists looking for something novel for the May holiday could do much worse than to take a couple of their good dogs to the Border City, join the activity in the afternoon, the club dinner in the evening, encourage the new club in its first venture and call it a day.

Particulars required by those who intend taking in the show, or desirous of becoming members of the new club should write to the Vice-President, Mr. C. R. Tweney, 301 Caron Ave., Windsor. He will gladly reply.

CH. FOREST NANETTE SOLD.

There are very few Irish setters on the bench to-day that are as well known to the exhibiting fraternity generally as Chas. A. Stone's, Ch. Forest Nanette (53716) sired by Ch. Forest Larry Lloyd ex Aunt Mary Law. "Nan" as Mr. Stone always called her came out at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1926 as a novice, and following all the shows as they came within 200 miles of Toronto, she won her championship at the Toronto Kennel Club Show last spring, and for good measure she has since tacked on 8 more points, 5 at the C.N.E. last September, and 3 at Toronto Kennel Club Show just closed, and which marked her last win in these parts, and possibly her last bench win for all time.

For almost a year Mr. N. O. Grosser, of Kerrobert, Sask., has been trying to buy Nanette, and now she is the latter's property. He having seen her speed, range, style and retrieving qualities, he just had to have her for field work, and whilst Mr. Stone hated to part with his good bitch, he was also anxious that the Irish Setter should get a chance to show the breed's adaptability in the field, we believe that he is trying to persuade her new owner to let her be shown at Edmonton Dog Fanciers Club Show in July, so that the breed fanciers out there may see her as a bench specimen, and later as a field performer.

"Nan" in appreciation of her master's devotion to her, left him a litter of 12 sired by Ch. Ronald, (Imp.) four have been chosen for later reference, and the balance will be disposed of to interested fanciers.

SPORTSMANSHIP

By
"YE EDITOR"

When the word sportsmanship appears with an interrogation mark attached to it, it suggests that something has slipped somewhere—the term has been questioned. We do not like to see the word hackneyed so, and for that reason let us sink the "ship" and confine ourselves to the word "sportsman" instead. Possibly to its several definitions, i.e., "One who in Sports is fair and generous," "One who has accourse to nothing illegitimate," "A good loser and a graceful winner". The first and last quotations sound sweet, the words appear to be strung together in a beautiful phraseology. If they truly describe the genuine type of sportsman, then it must be admitted that there are only a very few qualified to measure up to the standard as set for their acceptance.

"One who in sports is fair and generous." Surely any right-thinking person should desire to measure up to that point at least, even in the bluff game of poker there is a point that can be reached where the true sportsman-gambler will blush because of self consciousness arising from his knowing allegiance to the sportsman's code of honor. To bluff is to be self conscious of a digression from that code, therefore, to look the world in the eye, and to say "what about it?" One must at least be prepared to "be fair and generous" to a high degree. It may not always be easy of accomplishment, but that allows of no difference—it is the code.

"A good loser and a graceful winner." Surely this is the true measure whereby a good sportsman may be measured up correctly, and in all-round fairness. What a lasting pleasure must follow in the wake of those who size up to this high level, to say nothing of the pleasure that comes to those of us who may be called upon to witness the living, individual, a representative of this creed.

Possibly the present time is opportune to call upon our people to examine themselves as to their qualifications for, or standing towards, their being known as sportsmen. The year is young yet and we may all improve our position by such an examination. The words "Sportsman" and "Game" are linked up together in a very definite manner, we refer to our activities of dog breeding and exhibiting as the "game", we, then, must be the "players" or the "sportsmen," whichever you will, and so it behooves us to be what we ourselves say we are.

The dog show season is on in Canada, and whether we realize it or not there will be many sizing up our height and width as sportsmen, and making note of how we "play the game".

Toronto Kennel Club started the ball arolling in the East, and Coast City Kennel Club obliged in the far West. The efforts of the former resulted in the best show held by the Club in its twenty-three years of holding dog shows, and yet a Toronto paper came out in large type captions declaring to the general public that:

Demonstration Mars Kennel Club Show, Judge Loudly Decried For Awarding Best In Show To Yorkshire Terrier. Pressed For Time. Three Prominent Handlers State Disappointment at Dr. G. G. Anderson's Work.

The only demonstration in evidence was the demonstration of astonishment when a Toy dog won for best in show and the demonstration of congratulations to the winner, which started on the part of the losers themselves, and ended with the congratulations of the President of the Canadian Kennel Club—all sportsmen.

No judge is ever anxious to receive congratulations on his work, that he has been selected to judge the show, and that his work has been found satisfactory, is always sufficient congratulations for him.

Since Bert Swann left the ranks of the prominent professional handlers, we only have had one prominent handler in Toronto, and that one publicly denied personal dissatisfaction through the columns of the same paper that carried the truly unsportsmanlike report on Monday, April 8th. One other budding handler denied disappointment, and still another coming handler stuck to his guns declaring that his criticism was fair, and of course that was his privilege.

It has been said that the erring scribe was himself a loser at the show, and possibly this circumstance caused him to get a perverse view of the whole thing generally, at any rate his "story" was responsible for an energetic deputation waiting on his paper immediately after his report appeared in print, and in their securing prompt redress. We trust the occurrence will be fruitful in teaching him to be "fair and generous," to have "accourse to nothing illegitimate" and to be "a good loser."

At The Coast City Kennel Club the appointed judge withheld the Championship points from dogs deficient in merit. A most justifiable procedure for any worthwhile judge to follow, we believe that the owners of the dogs in question had no complaint to make concerning the judge's actions, but, another fancier, who himself takes pride in "donning the judicial robes" at frequent intervals at shows held in the United States, took exception to the withholding of the winners' prizes, and had some nasty criticisms to offer concerning the same, declaring that "better judges" would eventually make it possible for—at least—one of the above dogs to complete its Championship. And to think that sportsmen, so-called, should have themselves appear in the public eye, as portrayed here. If the incidents as described were not so terribly serious, to say nothing of their unjustness, they could be passed up with a guffaw, but they are serious, and quite unbecoming to men claiming an even distant relationship to the true sporting fraternity.

It is to be sincerely regretted that our sport seems to absorb much that is undesirable, and there are those amongst us who are always ready to suggest any possible protection for the transgressors. The writer himself has a tendency to bend to the side of leniency, but readily agrees that, at least, to feel so inclined is but a weakness on his part, if men will just walk straight in on trouble they should be prepared to walk straight out again unscathed or chastised as the outcome of their bravado may demand.

Complaints are made to the Board of Directors from time to time, and for the major part they are made in such a half-hearted manner that they are hard to deal with, whereas, if anyone with good cause for complaint would come straight out with a specific charge, quoting article and section of the Constitution, or Dog Show Rules to govern, satisfactory hearing would be possible, and blame attached or removed as the case might warrant, the game generally would be greatly benefitted by the results obtained.

"A good loser and a graceful winner." This quotation has served as a suitable heading for many a sermon, or lecture, the words when strung together as above, gives us an unobstructed view into the very soul of the true sportsman. At the closing of Toronto Kennel Club Show, already referred to, the best specimens of the various breeds came together in five distinct groups. Each one of these groups gave one of their number to the contest in a final group. The winner of which was to be declared the best dog in the Show. The sporting group furnished a Springer, and what a springer! The working group a Collie, the Terrier group a Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, and the Toy group contributed about 4½ lbs. of dog flesh in the form of a Yorkshire Terrier, as its share. In the process of elimination those who fancied certain animals clapped their hands, whistled and shouted. What for? We hate to think that their manifestations were tantamount to attempt at influencing the judge in favor of their choice in the contest. Still, many people thought so, and if they were correct in their deductions, then the parties stampeding were guilty of displaying a poor grade of sportsmanship. Anyway, the "chosen five" came together—a beautiful sight to look at, and to remember later. They actually represented the judge's choice of the 360 entered, a truly small percentage. The ringsiders no doubt had their favorites. A few of them were capable of judging the class. Even some may have marked their choice before the official judge marked his own book. The Yorkshire Terrier was the official judge's ultimate choice. The other exhibitors one after the other came frankly up and shook hands with the owner of the winning dog in a hearty manner as a token of their sportsmanship. "Good losers". On the other hand, the winner picked up the prizes awarded to him, thanked everybody and retired from the ring in an unassuming manner, silently heralding to all within view "The graceful winner". Seldom have we witnessed the exemplification of the sportsman's creed so calmly, so beautifully and unobtrusively consummated.

Let us have many more such endings to our shows, the Star writer's criticisms notwithstanding. Let us have more he-man judges, and less cheap champions, judges of the other calibre notwithstanding, and in that way our future progress will become more appealing to the general public—our good friends—and to ourselves. Surely we can educate ourselves to lose without whining, and to win without barking, or as Burton Braley prayed:

"Dear Lord, in the battle that goes on through life,
I ask a field that is fair,
A chance that is equal with all in the strife,
A courage to strive and to dare:
And if I should win, let it be by the code;
And if I should lose, let me stand by the road
And cheer as the winners go by.
And Lord, may my shouts ungrudging and clear,
A tribute that comes from the heart,
And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer.
Or play any sniveling part;
Let me take off my hat to the warriors who strode
To victory splendid and high;
Yea, teach me to stand by the side of the road
And cheer as the winners go by."

NOTES FROM SASKATCHEWAN

By Contributing Editor, MONTAGUE WALLACE, Saskatoon.

Again Saskatoon has put over a wonderful Show and I say "wonderful" advisedly. There were wonderful dogs—wonderful fellowship and wonderful judging. There were large crowds of interested and enthusiastic fanciers around the ring at all times that showed a renewed and greater interest in our Canine friends than Saskatoon has ever seen before.

Mr. J. C. Fletcher, who is always good in the judges role, was in top form for this fixture. He was never seen to better advantage—his eagle eye never failed him from the opening of the show until the last prize was handed out. He gave universal satisfaction and many who called him "Jack" Fletcher formerly now speak of him as "Mr." Fletcher. Anyhow Jack, take it from me we are mightily pleased with your work at this show.

O, yes, I believe he did make one mistake. After thoroughly examining a certain dog, as he is wont to do, he confided to the owner, "He has but one testicle." Actual count and careful recount proved this to be an error. But a great judge does not necessarily have to be a great mathe-matician. He was only out one in his count anyway.

Much credit for the staging of the show was due to Mr. J. M. Ayre, who acted as Superintendent. He had everything nicely arranged and the show was run more smoothly than is usual. There were no delays.

The dogs were of unusual quality and a great variety of breeds. Collies led in the number exhibited being about twenty-five and many of them exceptionally good dogs. Many Kennels of this breed were represented including the Elmhills of which there were half a dozen. Mr. J. T. Keyser who had five, Dr. Moyer brought three in from Rosetown, Mrs. Ben Lewis of the Pleasant Hill Kennels had a nice entry and many exhibitors had single dogs. These Collies attracted much attention and their judging in the evening gave great pleasure to a large audience.

In numbers Alsations came next with sixteen. The prizes were distributed among a large number of entrants. Chesapeakes followed close with twelve. These dogs are very popular here as retrievers of ducks at which they are hard to beat.

Newfoundlands had not a large entry. Mr. R. G. Marshall of Mildred was in with his fine bitch. The Drumhods were represented by but one entry, Lady Drumhod, which won best of breed and was "runner-up" for best in show.

Charlie Crothers swept the boards with his English Setters which were put down in splendid shape by Mrs. Randall.

Springers were a nice lot with several local dogs entered and some good ones from outside the City. Mr. Egglestone of Prince Albert, and Mr. W. M. Aseltine of Rosetown had nice exhibits in this breed.

Great Danes brought a good exhibit from Edmonton as well as some good locals.

Mr. P. H. Green of Saskatoon is going strong in Bull Terriers, Mr. Hogg was in from Punnichy with his Airedales. There were half a dozen good wires representing Winnipeg, Regina, and Saskatoon. In this breed Hughie Allen of Winnipeg usually leaves the ring smiling. Mr. Trautman was on hand with his rare little smooth. There were about ten Bostons coming from Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Saskatoon. Sam Jackson's Boston went best in show and no one begrudged this good sportsman his win. Arthur Wright of Edmonton, Mr. J. B. Lowson and Mrs. A. Middleton were among the chief contenders in this breed. Mrs. L. B. Eagle had an entry of five Poodles just fresh from the beauty parlor. They attracted considerable attention. We noticed a nice pair of Whippets from Mr. Hunter's Kennels in Calgary. There were also half a dozen nice Poms and about the same number of Pekes and Cockers. Dr. Wilfred Moyer of Rosetown exhibited a string of "Diehards."

One remarkable thing about this show was the large number of dogs that changed hands. Nearly everyone was mixed up in a sale and this means a good crop of new fanciers for the shows to come.

For a long time we have had in mind a pet scheme to still further draw together and unite the fanciers in our far-flung field. Our scheme in general is this: Each year have a show called the Canadian Kennel Club Show. We do not advocate the C. K. C. putting on a show but each year have a show chosen which will have dogs from every Province brought there at the expense of the C. K. C. or by a fund under their control. Each Province could pick a team of five or six dogs—say not exceeding five hundred pounds of express. All the Western dogs could be handled by one handler and all the Eastern dogs by another handler. Or the Club putting on the show could provide a caretaker and handler to look after the bunch. These details could easily be worked out. The dogs could be chosen by the Provincial Committee or in any other satisfactory way.

Now, how about financing this scheme? The money could come from the Special fund that the C. K. C. cups come from. But this fund will not stand constant drain as it is increasing but slowly. How then can we boost this fund so that the income from it will cover this extra expense? That's an easy one. The fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of the C. K. C. is just around the corner—two or three years away. Why not make a special drive for funds? Each Provincial body could manage this matter in their respective Provinces and all could be under the direction of the Board of Directors of the C. K. C. If each member of the C. K. C. only gave five dollars in three years it would supply about $7,500 and the interest therefrom

ANOTHER SHOW FOR TORONTO

The Premium Lists are out for the First Annual Dog Show of the Borzoi Club of Canada, and if the promoters secure that measure of success which they fully anticipate receiving, a real event should be the result. No stones are being left unturned by the officers of the club to make a hit with the show-giving public at the first attempt.

The usual sliding scale prize money will prevail, with $10.00 cash for the winners of the five groups, i.e., Sporting, Working, Terrier, Toy and Non-Sporting. With the usual club specials and a host of others secured for this show, which will be held in the Commerce and Transportation Building, Toronto, a venue already admired by exhibitors and public alike.

The show will be a one-day fixture only, and no less than eight judges will divide the judging task between them. Alsations, Boston Terriers, Bulldogs and Collies have been apportioned specialist judges, whilst the balance will be well and easily taken care of by the all-rounders, Chas. G. Hopton, Bert Swann, Frank Berry and Fred Smith. Mr. Hopton will take on the Sporting, Working and Toy groups; Mr. Berry, Non-Sporting, and Mr. Swann, the Terriers, Mr. Hopton having the distinction of placing the "crown on the king" of the show.

Features in ring arrangements, lighting, comfort for patrons, are all on the tapis, and the Show Committee are frankly ambitious to make their first show a smooth success.

SCOTTIES BOOMING

Scottish Terriers are always in demand, and good specimen command good prices. Discriminating breeders are not slow to take notice of such circumstances, and we are pleased to note that Mrs. C. W. Wilson, of York Mills, Ont., has two new specimens in her kennels in Walnut Blizzard and Rolleston Dulcie as a result of this good sportswoman's visit to the Motherland recently.

Then there is that Albourne-Laindon blood combination that came to us with Caringorum Chief, imported recently by H. E. and W. Batt, of Guelph, Ont. This dog has lots to give away, and will no doubt be much in demand as a service dog by those who know their business. By Ch. Albourne Arthur ex a daughter of Dagwood Tambo, who was by Laindon Lancelot, Caringorum Chief's influence will soon be felt in Scottie circles hereabouts.

Dr. and Mrs. Batt, of the Haldon Kennels at Guelph, take their doggie affairs quite seriously. Realizing that there is a ready market for good dependable specimens of Wire and Scottish Terriers, they have collected together some splendid blood combinations of both breeds, and are producing young stock that will do justice to the kennel name.

Quite recently the writer paid an unexpected visit to the Haldon establishment, and enjoyed viewing the kennels and the kennel inmates, particularly the three Scottie champions, Jhelum Julian, Laindon Lyra and Cedric Countess, and the imported specimens, Albourne Betsy and Albourne Diana. What a bevy of beautiful breeding propositions, and the latest addition the "Chief" himself!

When Scotties take their places in the front line at forthcoming shows, the "Wilson's" and the "Batt's" will feature in the breeding of many of the winners.

THE WIRES ARE COMING.

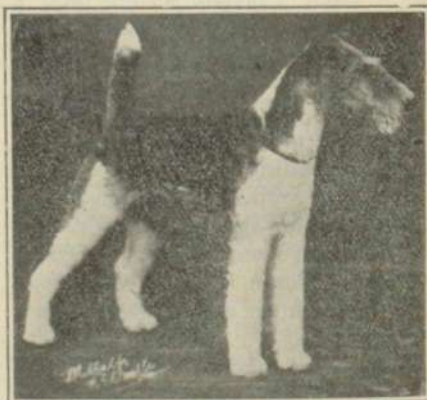

Surely Wire Haired Fox Terriers—as a band—are the most popular of all bands in the public mind at present. Every boat leaving England—that is known to have a dog loving butcher on the ship's pay-roll—has its quota of "Wires" on board labelled "Canada," "United States," "Africa," "India," "Australia," etc. At the New York, Buffalo and Detroit shows the "Wire" section was the Mecca of the faithful followers of the breed, and of the neophytes taking their first interest in Wire Fox Terriers. At Toronto Kennel Club show held on Good Friday and Saturday at Toronto four recent importations were benched, and all were in the money, three of them contended for winners, two landed the purple, one reserve, and still another won for the Terrier group. All of which goes to prove that "Wires" are good generally, and always contenders to the "last curtain" at any show.

Wireboy Simon (C.K.C.S.B. 76333) was the "Wire" that made his way to the front at Toronto Kennel Club Show. He is a son of Ch. Talavera Simon ex a daughter of Ch. Lapworth Wireboy, and was imported by Math Gracey, Toronto, just before last Christmas, and has been busy at stud since his arrival.

Watteau Review, just off the boat, was second to Simon, and these two smart terriers will battle things out to suit themselves at some of the forthcoming shows.

Walnut Blazer is offered to our readers this month for the first time as still another stud force that is available in Toronto. Blazer was imported two months ago by Jack Latham, Toronto, and is a son of Frenchwood Knut ex a daughter of Ch. Wyche Warm, and is said to have much to warrant his taking his place in the quest of improving the breed in these parts.

EDGEMOOR ENEDICT

Edgemoor Enedict has been purchased by Mr. Gracey, and may have arrived in Toronto by the time our readers scan this column. Our illustration shows just how good that "Matt's" new dog really is, and our terrier readers can draw their own conclusions, certainly Edgemoor Enedict looks like a winner and a producer. He is sired by Ch. Bary Benedict and he is out of a daughter of Ch. Wycollar Trail, so his breeding is of the best.

Mr. Gracey is to be complimented on his recent purchases in England.

Notes From Old Quebec

By Fred La Rue, Cap St. Martin, Que.

I jumped off a St. Catharines Street car in a wild rush and instead of waiting for my transfer I sprinted down Atwater Street, up Mrs. Enright's steps. I flew like an aeroplane and sat on a heap of loose sheets of paper in the lady's dining-room without having so much as touched the door bell. The Hon. President of the Ladies' Kennel Club stood up cool-headed as ever:

"Is that you, Mr. LaRue; what is wrong?"

"Oh, madame, I am so sorry—such a catastrophe!"

"What do you mean?"

"Well, going by the Forum Building a few minutes ago, I saw two monster storks and I was so much afraid that your twin shows would have a premature birth, I thought I would let you know before they let the storks out of their cage."

"Our show will not be staged at the Forum, and the animals you have seen are not storks. The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is performing in the Forum and they have a giraffe, but how did you come to see two giraffes?"

"I am glad that your shows are to be benched on the dates advertised. I had an argument with Pat this morning about entering his dogs in your shows."

"Oh, I get you now; you had an argument with Pat and you settled it over some of that Irish '20-year-old' that he keeps in his cellar. No wonder you thought that giraffe was TWO storks. You better stick to the 'VIN DE PISSENLIT' which you make at Cap St. Martin. What will Mrs. LaRue say when she sees your face all flushed like that?"

"Oh, she won't see me that way; she is down in New York just now."

"But I am going to tell her all about it."

"Please don't. I will present the Ladies' Kennel Club with a Silver Rolling Pin Trophy."

"Thank you very much, but we have rolling pins to spare. If you want to make or say something for the club say it, not with flowers or rolling pins, say it with entries for our two shows. We have the biggest list of specials for these shows which was ever presented in Canada. In spite of the disastrous condition of the stock market subscribers have been very generous, and if the enthusiasm displayed in Canada finds an echo in the States these shows will be the best ever benched in the country. But Mr. LaRue you are sitting down on our prize lists."

Well, believe me or not, brothers, there was a heap of papers fully 3 feet deep, and just to get some composure after that false alarm, I started to read the top sheets.

The prize list is to be mailed (over 4,000 copies) on May 1st to all the dog fanciers of Canada and United States.

May I be permitted to call the attention of Kennel and Bench readers to the following:—

There will be two cups offered each day for Best in Show—one by the Canadian Kennel Club and one by the Ladies' Kennel Club, the former for Canadian-bred, of course.

Mr. R. A. "Our Bob" Ross offers $5 each show for the best Canadian-bred dog or bitch, and Mrs. R. A. Ross $5 each day for best American-bred dog or bitch in show.

Doctors Etienne & Etienne offer a cup for each day of the show—and there are scores of others who have offered double prizes for the two shows.

The L.K.C. offers $5 each day for the American handler and the same for the Canadian handler with the largest entry of dogs from outside the 150 miles radius of Montreal. Mrs. C. B. Keenan, of Montreal, is to judge the children's variety class at 4 o'clock on the 29th, and Mr. J. R. Innes, secretary of the S.P.C.A., is to judge the same class the next day. There will be prizes for every contestant in that class.

Two boys, about twelve years old, will also give on both evenings a demonstration with their perfectly trained dogs. There is to be an invitation each evening for pointers and setters, not necessarily show specimen, to compete in field trials, and if the ladies can coax the master of the hounds to bring them in for a parade, the "standing room only" sign should be out early each evening.

The Mount Royal Arena, where the shows will be benched, stands, for those that know Montreal, on the very "pivot" of the city. It is nearly at the corner of St. Lawrence "main" street and Mt. Royal Ave. The first named street is the division mark for east and west and the last named parts south and north side.

The Arena is one of the most up-to-date buildings in Canada, and its staff, which has been also hired by the L.K.C., is going to try and give the Madison Square Garden staff a lesson in efficiency and service. A brand new board floor has been installed throughout and the benching has been newly painted.

It is useless to insist here on the personality of the two judges, Otta H. Gross, of Pittsburgh, Penn., and Art A. Rost, of New York, are so well known to the fancy as fearless and capable all-rounders, that they cannot fail to draw a big entry from both sides of the line. Many exhibits from the United States, whose owners are desirous of securing the much coveted title of "International Champion" are expected to compete.

Miss Sybil Fincham, of Surrey, England, who is an associate of the Kennel Club of London, a member of the Ladies' Kennel Association, the Irish Setter Club, the Gordon Setter Club, and the Pointer and Setter Club, may also send some of her dogs to compete in the L.K.C. shows. There are over one hundred blood matrons and eighteen stud dogs in her kennels, and Mr. Harold E. Dunn, the well-known Irish setter breeder of Montreal, had the pleasure to pay a visit to the said kennels in 1926, when he bought the well-known Wizard Barrieboy.

He is going to handle Miss Fincham's dogs in the ring at the L.K.C. shows if they land on time.

Now there is a big bet between Pat and myself about the handling of those dogs. Everybody knows that, in hot competition, a handler has got to be all there. And though the ringsiders may think that Mr. Dunn is all there, I know that his mind will be in England, because he has lost his heart to the fair Surrey lady and she is soon to be his bride. I say that Mr. Dunn will be so absent-minded in the ring that it may be worth the price of admission to watch him. On the other hand Pat says that his love will spur him to greater achievements.

Qui Vivra Verra! Miss Fincham is expected about the middle of June. She will be accompanied by Miss Sparrow, another member of the Ladies' Kennel Association, and vice-president of the Chanteclair

King Charles Spaniel Club. These ladies will be a welcome addition to the Ladies' Club of Canada.

Whoever said that the parlor shows, which are not held under C.K.C. rules, should not be patronized, made a big mistake. These are to the dog game what "Sunday School" is to religion. And I tell you that one cannot imagine a better setting for these parlor shows than the Parish Halls where they are being generally held. It's right there that the young sons and girls of the dyed-in-the-wool fanciers make their debut in handling and showing dogs. It's right there that they see their own pets go down to defeat with a smile. It's here where they learn to win without boasting. The earliest lessons of sport, those that will last for ever in their minds, that will creep, so to speak, in the very marrow of their bones, are learned under the eyes of their families and friends in these local shows.

I wish you had been in that parlor show in Ottawa on April 13th last, to see two "big-little" sports go down to defeat with their beloved pets. Miss Mary Coleman with her grand Cocker bitch "Mary's Love", and Master Fraser with his good

Scottie Parkhead Poodler. Both kids' faces flushed with surprise at first, then they bit their lips and suddenly forced a smile and said the same words when they came out of the ring: "Wait till we show them in Montreal next month!"

A few minutes after there was another sight for the gods in the behaving of Master Freddy McLean with his winning Doberman Pinscher Willowdale Rusty. No king of old, no warrior bold alongside his mighty steed looked more magnificent than that kid with his arm on his cup-winner. And there was "our" Harry Armisted talking over the good points of the dog with the little showman just as he would have done with "Grand dad" McLean himself.

A score of dogs owned by C.K.C. members and shown in grand form were undoubtedly exercising there for the Big Montreal twin shows.

Most worthy of mention was the imported Sealyham Brazen Bonaparte of Glen Gyle Kennels, who went best of all breeds. Then came the great little wire hair bitch Craig Machie Flapper, owned by Moses Girouard, E. A. Runion's excellent Boston Terrier, Come Again Haggerty; John Ritchie's Springer Lansdowne Chancellor; Corona Club Kennel's wonderful Collie, Collie Club Special; A. R. McGuirl's cockers, Church Leigh Lavinia, and Brampton Silver Critic; Mrs. Geo. Thompson's Poms, Gay Lad and Ambergold Thelma, etc.

At 7 p.m., April 10th, I got a long distance phone. Sorrowful news! Glen Gyle Laird, owned by Mr. C. D. Cowie, of Notre Dame de Grace, was run over by an automobile and Mr. Cowie said that he must have Glen Gyle Piper, my own stud dog. Oh! these Scottish Terriers, how they work their way into one's heart until their death, nearly as great a loss as that of a human being. I have kept Newfoundlands, English setters, Pomeranians, cocker spaniels, Fox and Airedale Terriers. I have bred and owned the most intelligent and affectionate bull terrier which ever existed, Lachine Pansy; but I tell you right here and can prove it, Scottish Terriers are different; they seem to have a soul and you can nearly see them reason and think.

Mr. Cowie wound up his telephone conversation by telling me to "name my price", which I did and his retort was quick and short: "All right, we will be there early in the morning." And there was the big limousine at the door and the fat cheque on the table, and Piper had to go at 9 a.m.. Ever since he has been gone there is an empty corner in the house and I hate that "Judah money" which took him away from us. My wife is calling him in her sleep, and we often talk of the coming holidays when the Cowie family will go to Scotland and leave Piper in our care. And while we are at it we might recall that Piper's dam, Craig-

BOSTONS AT THE TORONTO KENNEL CLUB SHOW.

By the Judge, Mrs. W. H. Dean, Detroit.

On March 29th it was my pleasure to judge Bostons for the Toronto Kennel Club show. The entry was fair for an all breed show, the ring spacious and the ring steward all to be desired. Winners dog went to Billy Disturber, a middle weight Canadian bred dog, a flashy marked one, a grand shower and sound as a bullet. In perfect proportion all over and one that cannot be overlooked. Reserve winners to Highball's Little Man, owned by Mrs. Burridge, another flashy marked one, with not the best disposition, but a real one. Winners bitch went to Miss Toronto 2nd owned by Mrs. C. B. Firman of Toronto. This female in spite of the fact that she has raised a litter or two of puppies is good enough and fit enough to win in any show. Notwithstanding the criticism that she is perhaps a trifle high, I doubt that measurements would make her anything but the right height for her length. A beautiful female from every point of view, a heavy weight but why not place the heavy weights where they belong as well as the lightweights. Reserve winners went to Jubilee's Million Dollar Girl, owned by Mrs. Stevens, who also took best of breed with the Canadian Champion, The Burglar Dee Cee.

Following the show I called at eight places trying to find puppies to buy and finally ended by purchasing a lovely little female from Mrs. Firman, and a grand perfectly marked type little male from Mr. Jackson, President of the Toronto Boston Terrier Club. This little fellow will be registered Town Talk Jack in compliment to Mr. Jackson, and the hospitality I received from the different members of the Toronto Boston Terrier Club.

BOSTON TERRIERS AT CINCINNATI.

(By the Judge, Vincent G. Perry)

If I were an editor of a Dog Publication, and a writer sent in a late review on a show, I would immediately tear it up. If the writer wrote me, like this one is writing this editor, and said: I have been rehearsing an amateur production of a three-act New York success for presentation before a very critical audience of so-called highbrows in London, Canada, I would still consign it to the waste-paper basket—because there is no real excuse why any judge or writer-judge should break his promise to send in a review of his classes. But for the past two months I have forgotten I am a writer, forgotten I have judged dogs and only remembered that I am the hardest working producer of amateur plays without salary or remuneration on the American continent. But the curtain has come down on the last performance of the play, the press reports were glorious—and here I am back to dogs and bubbling with enthusiasm.

The first show I promised to review was Cincinnati where I passed on the Boston terriers.

Quite a neat entry and a splendid show all through. I dare not review the classes dog for dog for fear my memory will play tricks on me, but I can review the dogs that stood out—my memory of them is as clear today as it was a month ago to-day when they stood in the ring.

To begin with a most promising specimen headed the senior puppy class. This dog, The Patent Leather Kid, Jr., bred and owned by Mrs. Eloise Kuertz is a real one, extra well developed for a puppy, beautifully marked and with a rich dark mahogany coloration that is most pleasing to the eye. He was timid and carried much extra flesh which gave him the appearance of being loaded in shoulders, a fault which would not exist were he conditioned properly. His clean, well chiselled skull, good feet and limbs, large dark expressive eye and shapely body that could not be ruined by the extra poundage were his strong points. A tendency to wedginess in muzzle was his greatest fault in my eyes, but age will bring him more strength there. This dog reminded me a great deal of Ch. Count Dee Cee when he was a young dog, but in my opinion is a better specimen. Second to him was Jab Kennels' Happy Jab, a terrier rascal with plenty of spirit, but a bit whippety yet, all through.

In novice dogs, lightweight first went to a well marked typical dog, Tad's Impression owned by Mrs. E. Schweninger. Second to Mrs. W. Wiechering's Winna King Blink, a showy tyke asking for his ribbon all the time. He was of the old fashioned toy type, but with enough real Boston to him to find his place in this class. Third and fourth I do not recall.

American-bred lightweights found the old campaigner Fascination Lot of Fun, owned by Mrs. Winnifred Graves, alone. Open lightweights brought in the best Boston in the show, Mrs. L. B. Daley's Haggerty Sensation II. He stood in a class by himself here. A beautifully proportioned youngster, ideally marked, dark and rich in coloration, and possessing four sound limbs that stand soundly under him on the block and carry him about the ring with one of the most pleasing gaits fore and aft, that one can ever hope to see on a Boston terrier. As if conscious of his remarkable running gear this beautiful creature was always ready to be on the move, always stepping at the end of his lead and as playful in the ring as a kitten. He could have carried more weight at this show, and it would have given a needed roundness to his ribbing. His head—well I have heard what the critics say of his head, at least one particular point of his head—and my answer to that is that I placed him best headed dog in the show, (and I am not a judge who believes that the best dog in show must of necessity be the best headed one). He could be blessed with a bit more underjaw it is true, but in every other respect this dog's head is ideal. My one general criticism of this good dog is that his refinement of type makes him not quite masculine enough—yet one would never mistake him for a bitch. Second to him was a dog much in the same order but not so good anywhere, Jab Kennels' Dark Gold, a wellmarked, pleasing terrier, which just falls short of the topper class. Third was Mrs. E. M. Lewis', The Spirit of Buffalo, of more than passing merit.

Middleweights were easy for the senior puppy winner, The Patent Leather Kid Jr. and all the classes were well filled. Heavyweights found the old-timer Ba Ro Raider owned by W. N. McCoy taking second place to a younger and more active big fellow, Oh What Fun, owned by Robert L. Martin.

Winners went with ease to Hackerty Sensation II, Reserve winner's dog was difficult to find. Sticking closely to the type of my winner, Dark Gold would have had the award, but I felt his faults were more outstanding than the faults of the senior puppy, and then there was no denying the claims of Fascination Lot of Fun. I purposely left this dog to this time to review. Full of Fun is an extremely good muzzled dog, possesses remarkable cushion, good underjaw, no suggestion of a lay-back, and his width of muzzle is carried right out to the tip. In a show with a lot of wedgy muzzled ones this was a point that one could not overlook. True, the dog is careless in front feet, a bit overdone in bone, and his body could be neater—but he is not a bad-bodied one, is better than the average there, and he does move well, and taken all in all he is Boston. With the puppy doing everything to defeat his chances and his overweight condition, the award was justly earned by Lot of Fun.

Bitches were more even in the classes than the dogs but there were fewer specimens that stood out. My winner's bitch was Friendship, owned by Mrs. Hilda Ridder, Friendship found the going easy here where her quality, good markings color and fine ring deportment put her well ahead of the field. Reserve winner's was Jab Kennels' Jab's Divine Lady, an extra good headed daughter of Ch. The Patent Leather Kid, and resembling him a lot. With a bit more time and finish this bitch will hold her own.

I was much impressed with the junior puppy winner, Francis Anne King's Sunnycrest Mitzie, which headed several of the classes. This trim little miss was shown by a little girl and was a bit immature for highest honors, but I had the feeling that if I had my choice of any bitch in the show this was the one I would take home. With luck and development in muzzle here is a future champion.

Ray J. Volt had a nice bitch in Winna Mick first in one of the middleweight classes. She makes the most of her chances in the ring, an over-emphasis of strength in type and a tendency to bulliness in shoulders and limbs retards her chances with the toppers in the show ring, but what a producer she would make.

Open middleweights went to Greenlawn Princess owned by Greenlawn Kennels, an evenly balanced bitch not outstanding but one that can win in good company.

OUR PROVINCIAL COMMITTEE.

The Provincial Committees for the several Provinces, as elected or appointed are as follows:—

British Columbia, Wm. H. Pym, (Chairman), Vancouver; Alex. McCloy, Victoria; H. Swinden, Vancouver; H. Wilkinson, Vancouver; and C. P. Starck, Vancouver.

Alberta, Jack C. Fletcher, (Chairman), Calgary; H. P. Saunders, Calgary; Mrs. Mary Carr, Calgary; Leonard H. Cooper, Calgary; and Albert E. Figg, Edmonton.

Saskatchewan, Dr. J. T. Cooper, (Chairman), Saskatoon; A. P. Semple, Regina; J. Droppo, Moose Jaw; John Willox, Prince Albert; and M. Wallace, Saskatoon.

Manitoba, George Kynoch, (Chairman), Winnipeg; S. Jackson, Winnipeg; R. C. Henderson, Winnipeg; F. E. Trautman, Winnipeg; and D. E. McLean, Winnipeg.

Quebec, R. A. Ross, (Chairman), Ville St. Pierre; Thos. P. Ritchie, Westmount; H. Doyle, Quebec; Col. S. E. Francis, Sherbrooke; and P. E. Gird, Montreal.

Maritimes, Jack Fry, Jr., (Chairman), Halifax; C. C. Sullivan, St. John; R. B. Laskey, St. John; A. V. Martin, Halifax; and H. M. McLeod, Halifax.

All names appearing in black are the elected Directors for their provinces, the first name appearing being chairman in virtue of having received most votes in the nomination-election.

INT. CH. ROMANOFF PETEROFF DEAD

We regret to have to record the death of this wonderfully bred, strikingly handsome animal. Winner of one of the handsome gold medals at the Sesqui-Centennial show, and conqueror of the best of his breed at many shows in Canada and in the United States. A white, with brindle markings, he was bred by the Romanoff Kennels at Brantford. Sired by Bolivia of Glenwild, a son of Ch. Duke Boris of Cliffview Manor, and out of Kesamis of Kingswood, a daughter of Ch. Johnston's Kailenkeo, the great Peterhoff could not miss being a remarkable dog at stud and on the bench, and his passing leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill in both of these departments.

Maritime Notes

By Contributing Editor, Helen Mitchell
Doherty, Halifax, N.S.

Spring has brought with it more than the usual renewal of activity in all matters pertaining to the dog, but no event has caused more interest than the decision of our Maritime director, John Fry, jr., to give up his business here and move to the States, there to make his hobby his business. Mr. Fry left Halifax last week and is now in the New England States looking for a suitable location for a kennel. It is his intention to establish and conduct there on a large scale a boarding and breeding kennel. Interested from the time he was a very young boy in both horses and dogs, it was partially due to his efforts that the present Nova Scotia Kennel Club was formed, and from the first he has proved an indefatigable worker in the cause of the thoroughbred dog.

Mr. Fry's departure means the end of the Acadia Kennels and a cessation of the pleasant visits and chats. Every Sunday morning—after church was over, of course—a half dozen or so of local fanciers were wont to gather to exchange the gossip of the week, view the latest litter in the Acadia nursery, conduct at least one argument, and last but by no means least, watch Mr. Fry give a demonstration of just how a terrier should and should not be "put down."

At the end of the present month Mrs. Fry and family will join Mr. Fry in their new home, and every good wish for success and prosperity will accompany them.

Only a few weeks before deciding to try his luck in the States, Mr. Fry imported several new dogs, most of which have since been sold to local fanciers. The cream of the lot were two Airedales; the dog, "Yankee Madness", by "Warland Ditto" ex "Betty Bri, together with a brood bitch, was purchased by C. W. Nickerson, of this city. The bitch, "Pine Centre Blushing Rose", by "Fern Top Rockett" ex "Fern Top Della", is now owned by D. Currie, of Halifax. These are among the finest specimens of their breed yet come to Nova Scotia, and with any luck at all should do much to improve the Airedales of the province.

Passing through Saint John Mr. Fry stopped over long enough to view some Pointer pups bred by Mrs.

Whitebone, with the result that when the train pulled out it carried Mr. Fry and the pick of that particular litter. He also took from here a snappy young wire from his own kennel, and these two youngsters will shortly make their debut at some of the forthcoming American shows.

To the regret of her many friends Mrs. P. A. Margeson, of "Cedarcrest" fame, has undergone a very serious operation at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, where she is now a patient, and it is expected that it will be some little time before she will be well enough to return to her home in Kentville. The wish for her complete recovery and speedy convalescence is general and sincere.

Percy Scott, of Moncton, N.B., has recently received from the kennels of F. McLean, Hull, Quebec, a young Manchester terrier, about nine months of age. This dog is considered a likely show and stud prospect, and is expected to make his presence felt at the local shows. Mr. Scott is also an admirer of the Doberman, and is the owner of a very fine brace recently imported.

Moncton has gone decidedly doggy, and it is expected before this present year is over this very busy town will form a kennel club of its own.

A few weeks ago there arrived at Saint John on the C.P.R. liner "Montclare", two Irish Wolfhounds, destined for H. S. Foster, Knowlton, Quebec. If the measurements stated are correct, the male, only a youngster as yet, is of phenomenal size. There are far too few of these dogs throughout the Dominion, but although slow to win popularity in a country which knows very little of them as yet, we venture to predict that once entrenched in public favor their popularity will never wane. A fine young dog is the constant companion of Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, at Goldsborough Hall, and the fact that Mrs. Hoover was presented with a very valuable hound by Mrs. Norwood B. Smith, may do much to popularize the breed in the States. Distinctly not the dog of the masses, this breed will be known and honored wherever a dignified dog is desired, a dog possessing intelligence almost more than human, a dog, though gentle, kind and chivalrous to all, yet recognizes but one love and one master, a perfect guard, a devoted playmate and nursemaid for the "wee folks", a sympathetic friend, and a companion devoted unto death.

Irish Wolfhounds are an experiment, we understand, for Mr. Foster, but we have heard that he has at his stock farm some pure bred Arabian horses. This is news of great interest, because so few worthy specimens are to be found outside of their own country; Lady Wentworth possesses at her stud in England, a white stallion, combining in his veins the most to be desired blood obtainable outside of Arabia. A decided effort is being made to breed these horses in America, but there are very few in Canada.

WALNUT GAMECOCK GOES TO GROSSE POINTE FARMS

When Sam Bamford, of the "Walnut" prefix, came over the "herring pond" the other day, he had a select string of "sellers" along, that had been carefully chosen for certain possible purchasers, according to plans that few salesmen outside of Bamford himself could have planned. The shipment consisted of Wires, Scotties, Cairns, Sealyhams, Pekes, etc. The leading dog was undoubtedly Walnut Gamecock, a son of Ch. Talavera Simon ex a Ch. Barrington Bridegroom bitch, and this particular dog Mr. Bamford really wanted to have stay in Canada. Walnut Gamecock had been featured on the front cover of our English contemporary, "The Dog World," issue of March 15th, and so was right in the public eye.

The local talent either did not care for Gamecock or his price was too steep; at any rate, we were surprised to learn that J. C. Button, of the Grosse Pointe Kennels, Mich., had quietly landed in town, and had, with the aid of a man-sized cheque, become the new owner of Walnut Gamecock. Mr. Button knows his "Wires," and he is more than enthused over his new purchase, in which he recognizes a real showman and a dog that is simply choicely bred.

The other dogs are being picked up one after the other, and after Madison Show, it is Mr. Bamford's intention to go "back over" and line up another string that the "boys" will be waiting for on his next trip to Canada.

PALS? CERTAINLY!

Mr. Van Camp, of Montreal, is back in Toronto again after his 6 months tour with The D'Oyley Carte Opera Company, and relates meeting many dog fanciers in the different cities in Canada and the United States, where the company has appeared. At Victoria he went fishing with our Coash Director, Alec McCloy, and would have judged Shepherds for Victoria City Kennel Club only for the fact that a matinee called for his appearance at the theatre on the day of the dog show.

"Love me, love my lion."

At Los Angeles friend Van had to "see the stars" and "go the rounds" like all visitors have to do, and of course to be photographed as well, and it being known that he was an animal lover, and quite something of an animal trainer, it was natural to photograph him to the best advantage and so we show the combination that was considered best, Jackie the favored lion of filmdom does not look "wormy" in the photograph, neither does Van Camp look squeamish at all, both are wearing their natural smiles, and so we take it that both of their livers needed working right on that particular day in Luna Park when Jackie was celebrating his 18th monthly birthday.

Shortly after the picture was taken Jackie got in to a Kennel scrap with a little brother as we would say in Kennel parlance, the fight was strenuous whilst it lasted and for a time it looked as Jackie would exterminate the heir to his throne, and so their trainer, Mr. Kutz essayed a separation, and in doing so was bitten in no less than 14 places. Recent advice from Los Angeles informs Van that Mr. Kutz is making good progress towards recovery.

Little Bits From Far and Near

By A. HAMILTON, JR., Dennyloanhead, Stirlingshire, Scotland.

That great Airedale Ch. Brineland Bashem will leave Britain at the end of June for Bombay.

The King has lent the Royal Padocks, Hampton Court, for the annual horse parade and pet show of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to take place on Whit Monday. Some peculiar classes are listed, such as the dog with the longest tail, the tail with the longest dog, the happiest dog, the dog with the best curled tail, the dog with the least resemblance to any known breed (mongrel), the best spotted dog, the fastest and slowest dogs, the dog with the most beautiful eyes, the best hand shaking dog, and the best begging dog.

Mr. Alec Hyslop is to judge Collies at the Collie Club Show of Sweden on May 9th.

That magnificent Pointer dog, Hainton Spruce, the property of Mr. T. Moorby, was the best exhibit at the Scottish Gundog Assn.

Mr. David Newton, Polmont, has sold his winning West Highland White Terrier to a Canadian client.

42 expert pedigrees were issued by the English Kennel Club during February for dogs bound for Canada and the United States.

There were 55,006 dogs registered at the English Kennel Club for the year ending February 28, 1929.

Mr. P. J. O'Callaghan, Omagh, Ireland, has sold for export to Norway the well-known bench and field trial winning Irish Setter Corona Rosey. This young Setter was 1st in the Irish Derby Field Trials.

Mr. Geo. S. Thomas is down to judge Dalmatians at Mitcham and District C.S. His awards are awaited with interest as he does direct from the United States, he will no doubt judge from the American standard.

From the beginning of this year, cats as well as dogs are not allowed to land in Britain from overseas (except Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man) unless their landing is authorized by the Ministry of Agriculture.

Entries for the first fortnightly sale of Greyhounds arranged by the West Ham Stadium authorities have come in surprisingly well. Over 100 dogs including some of the best in England and Ireland will be put up for auction.

Before each dog is offered for sale it will have a trial with the mechanical hare half an hour before the sale. Special arrangements are being made for the comfort of visitors.

What picturesque figures our Indian visitors made at the Kennel Club Show held in the Crystal Palace. H.H. the Maharajah Dhiraj of Patiala is always a commanding figure with his blue turban and pearl and diamond ear-rings which were looked upon with envy by many feminine eyes. The Maharajah of Jind wore plus-fours and a Fair Isle jersey and soft hat. The ladies of the various suites looked very charming in their different colored saris.

The Kennel Club of India have approved of Mr. T. W. Hogarth, Mr. D. McDonald (The L'ille Wizard) and Mrs. Leslie Thornton for the Indian Show season and have decided to grant challenge certificates to breeds judged by the above lady and gentleman.

Many will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Cameron Dalglish, elder son of ex-Provost J. C. Dalglish of Galashiels, Scotland.

Mrs. I. Bradshaw, The Hermitage, Ringmore Teignmouth, has sold the Golden Afghan hound, Sult. of Waksdard to a client in Buenos Aires, who intends later to go in for the breed. We believe this will be one of the finest, if not the finest Afghan to be seen in the Argentine.

The second day's proceedings at Manchester were full of interest. The Puppy Lincoln had an entry of 43, won by G. Berry's Bulldog, Manresa Mascot. Novice National (37 entries) Manresa Mascot. The Limit Sporting Class (22 entries) was won by Mr. Calvert Baker's Wire Fox Terrier, Cypris. The non-sporting limit (25 entries) Mrs. Ainscough's Pike Ch. Wee Mon of Heskell. The Northern Derby (20) was a great class if ever we saw one. Excitement ran high when it was obviously seen that the two judges could not agree between the Wire Fox Terrier, Cypris and the famous Bulldog, Ch., Pugilist for the first place. The referee, Mr. Theo. Marples, had to be called in and he decided in favor of Mr. Calvert Butler's Cypris. The Variety Gundog Class was won by the Cocker, Falconer's Choice. The judging for the 100 guinea Warwick Bowl, brought out the Challenge Certificate winners and proved a difficult task to the judges, and amidst rounds of applause the trophy fell to the Bloodhound, Ch. Lee of Reynalton, owned by Mrs. Elms.

ROUGH COATED COLLIE AT STUD

CAPTAIN LUKEO (C.K.C.S.B. 69670)

A handsome sable and white son of Ch. Laund Lukeo, ex a daughter of Ch. Alstead Seedley Victorious. If breeding counts, and if blood lines mean anything, Captain Lukeo is up to standard in both.

He is a proven sire, and his run from Puppy to Winners at the Royal Winter Fair (beating two American champions) and his still larger wins at Toronto Kennel Club just closed, where he won the Working Group and was much favored for Best in Show, stamps him as a real winner.

Have Your Dogs in Condition For The Shows

By Selective Feeding Such As ROSS-MILLER DOG FOODS

"The Feeds That Satisfy"

ROSS-MILLER DOG FOODS—ARE GOOD FOODS

The Dogs themselves have so declared, and their owners have so advised us.

And when better Dog Foods can be made, Ross-Miller will make them.

"THE FIVE VARIETIES"

R-M DOG BISCUIT—THE STANDARD DOG FOOD

is a product fairly high in protein, containing meat cracklings, cod liver oil and all the other ingredients, in exactly the right proportions to make a balanced ration. Feed dry.

R-M SQUARE PUPPY MILK-AND-BONE BISCUIT IS THE IDEAL FOOD

for young growing dogs, containing an increased percentage of powdered whole milk and ground bone. This food is literally full of vitamins and bone-building elements and insures strong muscles and big bones. Feed dry.

R-M KIBBLED DOG FOOD IS EXACTLY THE SAME as our large Dog Biscuit, only ground up into small pieces for convenience. To it is added just the right proportion of our Charcoal Biscuits (ground up) to aid digestion and to help eliminate worms. It is being fed by owners of large dogs—toy dogs—and to pups after teeth have come.

R-M PUPPY MEAL IS THE SAME AS KIBBLO, ONLY—

ground finer and is more suitable for feeding with milk, especially to young pups just after weaning.

R-M CHARCOAL BISCUIT IS STRONGLY RECOMMENDED

for keeping dogs in good healthy condition and to help eliminate worms. They should be fed once or twice a week instead of the regular Dog Biscuit.
