"LEADS TO LOVELY LITTERS"

"Lactol" for WEANING & REARING PUPPIES

EQUALLY SUITABLE FOR KITTENS & SILVER FOX CUBS

PUPPIES have small stomachs, and the milk of a bitch is therefore a concentrated food, being more than twice as strong as cow's milk. LACTOL closely resembles the puppies' natural food, which is why they do so well on it. Puppies reared on LACTOL thrive remarkably, and do not suffer from indigestion, vomiting, diarrhoea, rickets, etc., as when given cow's milk or other foods.

LACTOL is already used by many breeders in Canada and the U.S.A., whilst in the British Isles no kennel of any importance is ever without it. PUPPIES LOVE LACTOL.

"Kennel and Bench" Christmas Number

WE are busy with our 1929 Christmas Number already, and we ask our readers to join us in the work, so that our Christmas Number for this year may become our best effort to this date.

THERE will be no increase in advertising rates for this year's Christmas issue, and kennels desirous of being reviewed may refer to the scale of rates appearing on the third page of this issue for guidance in computing the cost of their work.

HALF-TONE cuts will be prepared by us and sold to our advertisers at schedule cost, and for this purpose we will require good, clear photographs, featuring the animals and kennels to be reviewed.

OUR circulation for the Christmas Number will be 6,000 copies at least, and as Kennel and Bench circulates freely over an amazingly large area, results may be confidently anticipated.

WHAT we will require chiefly will be photographs, appropriate copy, your co-operation and your cheque, and conditional upon our receiving such material and support, we will guarantee every advertiser satisfaction up to Kennel and Bench standard.

REMEMBER that Kennel and Bench reaches the entire Canadian field and far beyond. Remember that Canadians are buying and selling dogs to-day at prices that would have staggered the breeders of a decade ago.

A GOOD dog can always be sold at a good price, and the secret of selling at a desirable price is the advertising of the animal in a dependable media, such as Kennel and Bench unquestionably is.

WE have already received requests for the reservation of space in our Christmas Number from Great Britain, United States, and from several points in Canada, and this augurs well for the success of the Christmas issue.

MAY we have your reservation now? You can send us the copy and cuts (or photographs) later. Space will be allocated without favor as the reservations are made.

Make Kennel and Bench Christmas Number a Success!

NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS

IN this issue is published the list of members qualified to vote at the forthcoming election for officers and directors of the C.K.C. There is published also in this issue the form on which nominations may be sent in. It may fairly be said, threfore, that this is the most important edition of Kennel and Bench for the year.

The ballot and the intelligent use of it is the very corner-stone of British constitutional Government. Countless thousands of men have died in order to preserve for their children this heritage of liberty.

Human society is so constituted that no one person can perform personally all the functions which it is his right and duty to perform. Certain of these functions must be delegated to others, and thus it comes that one person becomes charged with the duty of speaking and acting for a group or a community to which he belongs. Not only does he speak and act for this group or community, but he also presents to the world at large a composite photograph of that group or community. The member for Podunk in the legislature, to all those people who do not know Podunk, embodies their idea of what the inhabitants of Podunk are like.

In the light of all these phases of the matter, how tremendously important it is that the proper type of representative be chosen! A "misrepresentative" not only acts and speaks against the interests of those whom he is supposed to represent, but he also conveys to the world at large a totally wrong picture of his constituents.

Would it not be well for every member of the C.K.C. to ponder on these things before sending in his nominations, and especially before marking his ballot? In an organization such as ours, which embraces some of the finest citizens in the Dominion, it should surely not be difficult to find the proper type of men to act as officers and directors; and before sending in a nomination, a member should satisfy himself beyond peradventure that his nominee is a man who will not only perform his duties adequately, but will worthily represent the organization in his every action.

The importance of this selective process of nominating and balloting simply cannot be over-estimated.

BE CAREFUL HOW YOU BALLOT AND WHOM YOU NOMINATE.

Club Inc., for 1930

THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

APPARENTLY Alsatian fanciers all over the world, are at last waking up to the unmistakable danger signs on the wall, that if something is not done, and that quickly, the breed will in a very few years share the fate of so many other varieties and practically pass out as far as shows are concerned. Alsatianists are asking amongst themselves, the reason for the waning of popularity shown to the Alsatian; and this is not a very difficult question to answer. Years before the war, men who had been instrumental in bringing many other varieties to the front, watched the propaganda of the Alsatian fanciers with a deal of interest, and many authorities on dogs said, that in a few years we would see exhibited dogs in Alsatian classes that would be difficult to recognize as typical specimens of the breed. The Alsatianists scoffed at these authorities and said, that the reason for the criticism was, that other fanciers were jealous of the progress that was being made with the breed. Time has proved that these authorities were right, and that the Alsatianists were wrong. Not only in Canada but all over the American continent we see dogs exhibited as Alsatians, that bear very little resemblance to the breed, except possibly that they have angulation and gait. When the breed began to get popular in England fanciers of other breeds watched with astonishment the Alsatian judges at work. The dogs were paraded up and down the ring for an hour at a time, and the judges only seemed to be looking for two things, namely, gait and angulation; apparently no attention was paid to symmetry, placement and carriage of ears, color or placement of eyes, crooked forelegs and cow hocks were not penalized. No breed could expect to improve under such conditions. These strange judging tactics were bad enough, but worse was to follow. Dogs have for countless ages been the friend of man—they loved and feared man. Some of the propagandists evidently thought this was wrong, and we began to see judges trying out the temperament of the exhibits, they would feint with their canes or judging books at the dogs, and if they cringed, they were dismissed for wanting in temperament. Trying for temperament to my way of thinking has done more harm to the breed than any of the other strange tactics of the propagandists for in a very few years the Alsatian, Wolfdog, German Shepherd, and Shepherd dog, as he is known, in different parts of the world, instead of fearing and loving man, began to lose his fear of mankind and began to attack man, and the breed came in for a lot of unfavorable notoriety in the press, and at shows where several judges were badly bitten, and if an exceptionally good specimen was placed Best in Show, the decision evidently was unpopular with the spectators.

During the last twenty-five years I have taken considerable interest in the breed and, when judging at the German shows, I always tried to watch the German judges sorting out the big classes that came into the ring. My memory takes me back to a certain Berlin show, where a particularly good entry was obtained. The breed, at this show, struck me forcibly, for the wonderful uniformity of type of all the exhibits (how different to-day). In those days the judges did not have to ask each handler whether his dog was safe to handle, and the farcical spectacle of seeing dogs brought into the ring and paraded for an hour to two hours and then dogs with crooked forelegs, cow hocks and light gooseberry colored eyes being placed in the money were not known. The Alsatian, however, has such just claims for popularity that, in spite of the wrong tactics of the propagandists, can come back, and hold the position his all round sterling merits deserve, providing that the methods I have so strongly criticized, not only in this article, but for many years, are discontinued. The Alsatian I knew twenty and twenty-five years ago was par excellence as a companion, extremely intelligent and safe with either man or child. We have numbers of this type to-day and if Alsatian fanciers really want to see the breed prosper they must first of all look for type and symmetry. Gait and angulation must come last, instead of first and a bad tempered dog should be dismissed from the ring, and another thing has to be discontinued and I cannot write too strongly on this point, that exporters throughout the world must discontinue sending mediocre specimens to Canada. We apparently have been the dumping ground for all the mediocre Alsatians, and I have often heard the remark expressed, that speaking of a certain poor specimen, "Oh, he is not good enough for competition here, but he will do for a Canadian order." When in Europe, some seven years ago, during the year and a half that I lived there, I tried to impress the overseas fanciers with the idea that we had good dogs in this country and wanted good dogs, and were willing to pay the price for good dogs. Canadian fanciers have sent thousands and thousands of dollars to the U.S.A. and Europe for Alsatians and in many cases when the dogs arrived they proved a bitter disappointment, for many were not worth the money paid for their carriage, let alone the purchase price. In many instances these purchases have done untold harm to the breed, for their new owners have tried to get back some of the purchase money by breeding them, and this is one of the main reasons why we see such really awful specimens exhibited in Canada. Judging Alsatians at many of our shows is farcical. Possibly, in an entry of twenty to thirty exhibits, two really good specimens will compete, the rest being made up of four or five fair specimens and the remainder might be Huskies, for they certainly show more resemblance to Huskies than to the true Alsatian. In conclusion, I trust that my Alsatian readers will not take offense at my remarks, for I sincerely want to see their favorite breed go on and prosper. I want to see that they have a fair deal when they import and I want to see an uniformity of type in the Alsatians at our shows. Let us take as a model, specimens such as Mrs. E. C. Whitelaw's "Cito Von Bordorf" and Alex Gooderham's "Pia Von Hans Schutting." I am mentioning these two dogs because they stand out in my memory as the best Alsatians, owned by Canadians, that were exhibited or came to my notice at the Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Canadian Ntional and Kingston shows.

Great Dane fanciers will, I know, welcome the fact that Canada. Mrs. H. M. Cowan, who will probably be better known to Dane breeders by her maiden name of Dickinson. Mrs. Cowan is now living at Crystal Creek Ranch, Kaslo, B.C. In writing to me, informing me of the fact, Mrs. Cowan states: "I brought out the nucleus of my kennels of Rungmook's with me last fall, and have since bred two litters, one of which is one of the best I have ever bred. My great difficulty is the great distances to shows and, being a busy ranch owner, I cannot spare the time to exhibit at present. My present stock are all up to standard. My stud dog being Rachchas of Rungmook. He was the tallest dog being shown in England, being 35 inches at shoulder, perfectly sound and a lovely mover, and a perfectly-marked black-and-white harlequin. I am still breeding blues, my one brood bitch being a descendant of old champion "Raughild" and her mother, "Rubina," to whom you gave her first championpionship certificate at Edinburgh in 1910. I have only one blue in her first litter, but next year's breeding should produce several more of this color." I feel that I can offer a very hearty welcome to Mrs. Cowan on behalf of Great Dane fanciers on this continent, and assure her that her Danes will be welcomed at our shows whenever she decides to exhibit some of her famous Rungmooks. Her Danes will be able to acquit themselves well when they make their Canadian debut, and their owner will also strengthen our list of judges, for I know from personal observations, that Mrs. Cowan is rightly famous as one of the very best judges of the breed. Mrs. Cowan sends me a cordial invitation to visit the Ranch, and I certainly intend to avail myself of the invitation the next time I am out on the Pacific Coast.

A. Steadman, a recent recruit from England to the ranks of wire-haired fox terrier fanciers, writes me, "that he was present at Hamilton show and was surprised at the poising of terriers by their handlers." My correspondent writes: "As you know, in England, they will dismiss a terrier from the ring if he won't stand up or carry his tail. The poising of all breeds on the American Continent, is certainly a novel practice to any fancier used to exhibiting across the pond, but one gets used to the practice after living here for a few years. Personally, I believe in the English method of bringing a terrier into the ring on a long lead, and I believe this method gives a novice a better chance. I remember, when I fulfilled my first American engagement at Philadelphia, a good many years ago, that I made myself somewhat unpopular by insisting on terriers being shown on a lead, and refusing to allow any of the handlers to poise their terriers. A. Steadman, who is now living in Toronto, writes that he intends as soon as he is settled, to start a kennel of Wires and Scotch terriers.

Quite an attraction at the recent Canadian National Exhibition, was D. R. Oliver's black Newfoundland, "Baron", an extremely typical dog, who, on account of his type and the excellence of his breeding, cannot fail to be of extreme value to breeders. "Baron" is by Champion "Skelton King", out of Champion "Rothwell Bess." D. R. Oliver, who lives at St. Marys, Ontario, has also acquired Wasceka Hilda, a bitch bred by Geo. Bland of England, and evidently it is his intention to go in strongly for Landseer's favorite dog. I hope that "Baron" may be in our Canadian team for New York show.

August and the early part of September have proved busy times for Eastern fanciers. The Forty-first International Show, held in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition, was one of the best-managed shows I have attended in Canada, or anywhere else. In all my experience I have never met two more efficient officials than Fred W. Jacobi and his assistant, Peter Herd. And having such efficient officials, I cannot understand why such a progressive executive board as the Canadian National officials, do not take advantage of it, and make the C. N. E. show the New York show of Canada. My experience, of over thirty years, attending shows all over the world, gives me every confidence in writing, that if the C. N. E. would set apart an up-to-date building and curtail the length of their show to three days, instead of four, a thousand dogs would be benched at the show, and the gate, good as it undoubtedly was, at the recent show, could be doubled. The day of the cross-bred dog has gone. Canadians want and are buying pure-bred dogs to-day, and the C. N. E. Dog Show could easily be made as great a society event in Toronto as New York Show or Kennel Club Show in England. I believe I am not over-stating the fact that over ten thousand visitors have been present at New York to see the final judging for Best Dog in the Show and the admission charge is a dollar. Toronto is so easily accessible for our friends across the border, and I can assure the C. N. E. officials that a new building and a three days' show would not only be the means of drawing a big entry, but it would prove one of the great attractions at the Exhibition. Harking back to the recent show, the cleanliness of the judging rings and the exercising rings reflect great credit on Messrs. Jacobi and Herd; the temperament of both these officials help them to fill a very difficult position. I noticed particularly their extremely courteous treatment of exhibitors and the general public. Our Editor was present on all four days, and I therefore shall leave it to his able pen to describe the incidents and give a brief survey of the classes that came before me. In Airedale Terriers, I was surprised not to find a more representative entry, the Waterside Terrier is one of the most useful of all-round terriers we have, and I sincerely hope the day is not far distant when we will see a far more representative entry. Sid Perkins, some years ago, one of the leading exhibitors across the pond, was exhibiting a useful brace in Rockley Flirt and Gleam, very ably handled by G. M. Potts, who is proving himself a very valuable addition to our list of handlers.

With the exception of a few, the quality in Bulldogs was disappointing. I had an extremely difficult task to judge the breed, for the heat was almost tropical, and very few of the exhibits could be induced to close their mouths, thus making it extremely difficult to detect wry faces. Reg. P. Sparkes' Champion Westdorfs Miss Centrason stood right out for quality, type and substance; her nearest opponent being Charles Webber's Glenarden Regal Presence, a youngster who should improve with time. H. A. Wilson's "Crewe So Favorite" is another dog that impressed me very favorably. Personally, I am of opinion that if shown two or three pounds heavier he would be improved. I was much impressed with the great body properties of Mrs. J. Killett's "Kaslo Robin Adair", but this dog could not be induced to close his mouth. Breeders need to pay more attention to ears and also to turn up and shape of underjaw, many of the exhibits being decidedly "hooky" in underjaw.

Bull Terriers were a grand collection, not a bad one amongst the open dog class. Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland's Ch. "Alban Victor" had a somewhat easy win, as he shows so much more fire and terrier character than the Rev. F. J. Heaney's "Fieldstone Bru," a symmetrical well-built terrier, sluggish in the ring. F. W. Coles' Rosevlyn Airrycsis is most impressive in head, and very few terriers have so good an eye. Franklin Galloper is a nice, all-round youngster. Bitches introduced R. H. Elliott's Champion "Haymarket Dawn", and, in my opinion, comes perilously near to perfection. Fox Terriers, smooth, were decidedly poor, the only exhibit of really high-class show prospects, being Bailey & Gromoll's "Clapton Forever." Wires were good, several decidedly nice youngsters coming out. "Vivadora Jack Spratt" will, with luck, head many good classes in the future. "Vanity Prince Charming" shows much promise, but needs time yet to let down. J. Lathan's "Walnut Blazer", a corky high-class terrier was shown in the best condition of any of the terriers. J. R. Kennedy's "Watteau Review" continued his winning career on the day. I found his coat and his forelegs and quarters a bit blowy. J. F. Strachan's nice, all-round team were ably shown by Harry Armistead. Amongst the new faces to me, were G. P. Brown's "Wilbeck Brenda", a really good puppy; her coat needs stripping. If she sheds the blue linty stuff on her skull, she may make history. J. E. Mumford owns a real gem in "Sandy Slope Vaux", shown with a little more hair on her legs, in fact, with a little more coat all over, she can give the very best a run; she is not exaggerated in any one point, and is a real model in size, compactness, neck, shoulders, bone, legs and feet, and it was a real pleasure to see her move, coming and going. To be hypercritical, I found Vaux just a little full in eye. Sealyhams introduced a new comer of great merit, F. E. Small's "The Kitty", who had the advantage in head properties over the Glen Glyle Kennels' sound little Sealy, "Brazen Bonaparte." Nothing very great amongst the Irishman, Ch. "Celtic Eileen" finding nothing to really extend her when competing for the special. Scottish Terriers were a grand collection, undoubtedly the best group I have ever judged in Canada. Dr. and Mrs. Batt brougth out a couple of particularly promising puppies in "Haldon Whirlwind" and "Wendy." A. Buchanan's "Claudale Chieftain' is a far better terrier than he appeared in the ring. In the first class he sulked, but improved greatly in the succeeding classes. The Open Dog winner, Fairwold Kennels Ch. "Fairwold Currie", is one of the best Diehards I have ever judged,—but why show him with such an over-abundance of whiskers and hair feathering on his legs! Dr. Batt's "Haldon Jhelum" will give the best a run when he is ready, which he certainly was not on the day. What a different terrier he was than at Ottawa. Evidently Jhehum has found himself. Bitches were an outstanding group. "Albourne Pride of Fairwold" and Mrs. J. E. Atkinson's

CHAMPION THE BURGLAR DEE CEE
Stud Fee - $15.00

This grand dog is now showing the Boston Terrier public his great ability, strength and quality of blood lines in the stock he is so consistently siring and which have appeared at the recent shows. The Burglar stands right out as never before, a circumstance that was positively noticeable by his winnings at the Canadian National dog show, not only as a show Boston, but as a producer as well. The puppies shown by Mrs. E. Horning, Toronto, and the little Miss that we sold to France and showed in our last advertisement, were all sired by the Burglar.

STEVENS' CONDY BOY

MRS. M. STEVENS, 1698 GERRARD ST. E. TORONTO, CANADA

"Langrange Trifle" are good enough to win anywhere. Mrs. Wilson's "Rolleston Dulcie", an exceptionally good bitch, is evidently bored with shows, and absolutely refused to try, and had to pay the penalty. One can forgive a Toy dog for not showing, but a Terrier has to be game. "Walnut Lady Ruffles" will need to be reckoned with when her coat is right. I understand that she had milk fever when crossing the pond. Cairn Terriers were practically the same as Ottawa, but the placings were reversed, for the little bitch, "Crochan of D'Ormure" showed well and had no difficulty in beating Cedarholme Smut, who is a little too "Scotty" in type. Pomeranians were an average lot. Mrs. Bruce's smart little orange "Chiswick Sunkist" being easily the best of the dogs, and R. E. Young's "Madam Fashion" of the bitches. Of the puppies, Mrs. E. Brownlie's "Laudervale Primrose" is a real prospect when she grows her body coat. Pekingese were a nice all-round collection. Breeders, however, need to pay more attention to chin and skull. Mrs. Foster's Pim Chu gained his full title of champion, and A. Roberts had a nice sequence of wins with "Shensi Sei So Teep." The all-round specials were very interesting. In the Sporting Group, the Irish Setter bitch, E. W. Smoot's Ch. "Delaware Kate" very ably handled by Benny Lewis, won, but many, including the writer, were disappointed that the Pointer, "Ch. Herewithem J. P." was not brought in. In the Working Group there was absolutely nothing to extend Alex L. Gooderham's beautiful Alsatian bitch, "Pia Von Hans Schutting." The Terrier Group saw the Bull Terrier, Ch. "Haymarket Dawn" continuing her winning carreer, and Non-Sporting, Reg Sparkes gained another victory with his good Bull bitch, Ch. "Westdorfs Miss Cintrason," and amongst the Toys, Mrs. Foster's Pekingese, "Pim Chu" could not be denied. The three judges then paraded the five group winners, and the award for Best in Show went to E. W. Smoot's Ch. "Delaware Kate." Ch. "Haymarket Dawn' gained the Canadian Kennel Club Trophy for Best Canadian-bred dog or bitch.

Sincere congratulations are due to the Kingston Kennel Club for the excellent show they held in conjunction with the Kingston Fair. The President, W. M. Nickle, certainly worked hard to make the show a success, and it must have been gratifying to him to see such an excellent quality show. The dogs were benched under a large marquee and the outstanding feature of the show was its clean new benching and the very orderly way in which the show was carried out; praise for this being due to W. M. Nickle, the Secretary; R. G. Dudley, the Superintendent; J. E. Brunett and Major E. M. Cartnier, P. Schetagne, Chas. Bowen and Col. Tamblyn. In the three days the show was held, close on six thousand visitors paid admission to the show, and the impression that I got was that Kingston had come to stay and that in a very few years it might become one of our very best shows. The quality all through was good, strange, but nevertheless true the Alsatians being the feature. The Marden Kennels' "Utx Von Hans Schutting" came perilously near to defeat, being very closely pressed by Mrs. E. C. Whitelaw's "Cito Von Borsdorf," a homebred Canadian Alsatian, a really beautiful dog, kindly in disposition and very hard to fault in symmetry or type. The beautiful trophies won at the show were presented by Lieut.-General Sir A. C. MacDonnell, K.C.B., Best in Show and Best Canadian being awarded to R. H. Elliott's Bull Terrier, Ch. "Haymarket Dawn" ably handled by "Dad" Ward.

nel Club and the Central Canada Exhibition went off without a hitch and were undoubtedly a great success. The Ottawa Kennel Club was, in my opinion, one of the best all-round quality shows I have ever judged, and it gave me a deal of pleasure to again renew acquaintances with its officials, a real body of fanciers. The superintendent, Arthur S. Davies, usually plays a strong hand with Smooth Fox Terriers, and a more courteous official it would be hard to find. Jack Ferguson, who fancies, and certainly knows, Sealyhams, is a ring steward par excellence. George Robertson, who fancies Chickens and Scotties, but finds the two varieties difficult to keep together, and probably for this reason was not showing a "Diehard," was there to see his favorites judged. "Dude" Baldwin had a great new American Foxhound, and Frank H. Plant evidently is bent on owning a great variety kennel. Cecil Bethune, last year's President of the Exhibition, came in just too late to see his Airedale bitch gain the special for Best of her Breed. The best of a real nice class of American Foxhounds was Baldwin's "King Pin," who is certainly well-named. English Setters were just fair, with "Leo Charlebois" gaining the special with "Peter." The Glen Gyle Kennels' "King Morello Oge 2nd" had no difficulty in winning in Irish Setters, although in bitches they had to give way to J. E. McSorley's "Horseshoe Nancy," a real nice Irish, except that she is a little plain in head. Cockers saw the Glen Gyle Kennels successful with their black Nishua Botna Pepper and their neat-bodied little parti-color Glen Gyle Comet. The Ottawa Kennels, however, could not be denied the special, with their typical and sound all-round black Ch. Carleton Mickey. H. J. Placey had a field day in Springers with Ch. "Inveresk Chancellor" and "Belmoss Rosebud." John Ritchie was well up with his good bitch, "Inveresk Comfort." Collies were just a fair group Alex Donaldson's "Alton Quarry Brae Elenora" having little difficulty in securing the special. Alsatians were very mixed in quality, the Marden Kennels' "Utz Von Hans Schutting" and "Christel Von Stunomberg" standing right away. Ch. Earlscourt Moreen stood well out in Airedales. Ch. "Albion Victor" and Ch. "Haymarket Dawn" were the best of a rather nice gathering of Bull Terriers. Wire Fox Terriers made a nice showing, J. R. Kennedy's "Watteau Review" and J. F. Strachan's "Ormsby Paradise" being the best. Scotties saw Dr. and Mrs. Batt's colors to the fore, with the aid of the home-bred Halden Jhelum. Brazen Bonaparte, the neat-bodied little Sealyham, created a lot of favorable comment. In Pekingese, Mrs. Sears gained Best of Breed, with Ch. "Rajah of Hesketh." The special for Best Dog in Show, went to the Bull Terrier, Ch. "Haymarket Dawn."

From Ottawa we motored on to Quebec and spent one of the most enjoyable holidays I have ever had. The rolling green country, so pleasantly reminiscent of rural England, its beautiful lakes and the more austere mountains beyond, impressed me very greatly, and the thought that was uppermost in my mind when motoring along the pleasant roads, was what a place for rearing puppies, and why some of the Quebec fanciers had not made friends with some of the farmers and induced them to walk a couple of puppies. In all my travels throughout Canada, I have never seen more ideal country for puppy walks, and yet, apparently, it was not being used. It would certainly pay some of our breeders in Quebec to spend a few days around Knowlton and North Hatley, and another thing I noticed, that around these delightful rural villages were a number of good dogs. In my travels I saw a couple of Irish Wolfhounds, the dog, a real good one, a Dalmatian, good enough for any company, and at North Hatley the American visitors who make this beautiful spot their summer home, had usually a dog or two running about their cottages, and yet, as far as I could see, there were no notices or advertisements shown of a dog show being held at the Sherbrooke Exhibition. I am passing this on to you, Col. S. E. Francis, for I firmly believe a properly conducted campaign would result in an extra hundred or more dogs being entered. After a very pleasant time motoring around the country and trying to get pars. on some of the sporty golf courses, our little holiday was over, and we came into Sherbrooke expecting to find a real day's work in front of me—but in this I was disappointed, for the Eastern Township Kennel Club had not gotten together a very big show. Probably it was a good thing that the entry was not a bumper one, for the building set apart for the Dog Show by the great Eastern Exhibition is not a very large one, and I heard that they had no way of lighting up the judging ring. I had a very pleasant time with our Quebec friends, many of whom came and asked me where "Jimmy" Strachan was and why he did not visit their show. I hope Jimmy, you had a good reason, anyway, when you do decide to pay them a visit, you will, I know, receive a real welcome, for I found them a real keen bunch of sportsmen, who certainly know how to make a stranger welcome. John Fitzsimmons, the secretary-treasurer, received valuable assistance from Sam Doyle, who acted as ring steward. H. J. Placey, one of the directors, had quite a field day with his Springers. Sam Doyle did well with a really high-class English Setter, in "Pagaro Diane." "Ted" Ward had a big team of good dogs along, and certainly went away with the cream of the spoils for his clients, finishing up by again winnig Best in Show with H. E. Elliott's Bull Terrier, "Haymarket Dawn." We had intended to stay in Sherbrooke for the night, but I wanted to see more of beautiful Quebec, so we packed up and arrived in good time for dinner, at North Hatley, where we spent another couple of days, then home in time for the C. N. E.

May I, in closing, thank my many friends at Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Kingston and the C. N. E. for making my duties at their shows so extremely pleasant.

The National Kennel Club are certainly out for a record show on November 25th, 26th and 27th, for they are issuing a schedule that should not only bring entries from all over the Dominion, but also from our friends across the border. The N.K.C. are fortunate in having such a splendid list of real sportsmen amongst its executive, who have one ambition, to stage a real show, no matter what the cost may be. The show is held in conjunction with the Winter Fair, which is now acknowledged to be the most popular society event in Toronto during the winter, and one has only to visit the show any of the three days to agree with my statement—that any kennel of note must be represented, for an entry means publicity amongst the right class of people. The show secretary, Captain H. D. Waters, is a most efficient show manager, and he deserves the hearty support of all exhibitors for issuing such a liberal schedule. And if you have not received a copy, you should send for one right away. See the centre pages of this magazine for detailed list of judges—then make a good entry.

Every Sunday morning for your dog's sake—do this.

Every dog has his off-day. Some have more off-days than others. The quickest way to cure a doggy ailment is to give Karswood Dog Powders. But you can—and for your dog's sake you should—do better than this. Every Sunday morning give your dog a Karswood Dog Powder—regularly without fail. This is what expert Dog Breeders are advising their customers to do to keep their dogs fit and happy all the year round.

Karswood Dog Powders are equally as efficient in preventing ailments as they are in curing them. These powders contain specific nerve foods and organic salts which are not contained in the dog's ordinary food, but which are necessary to the perfect functioning of his system. Get a packet to-day, and give your dog one next Sunday morning. Mr. J. Slater, of Blackdown Stores, Deepcut, Hants, whose Alsatian Stud dog "Willowboy" is shown above, writes: "I have tried your Karswood Dog Powders with wonderful results on my Alsatians, and I advise all breeders of dogs never to be without them."

AN OLD-TIMER VISITS THE CANADIAN NATIONAL DOG SHOW.

There was one man outstanding as a ring-sider at the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show this year, who did not seem to think with the majority as to four days being too long for the show, probably he was alone in this respect, but that is another matter entirely.

The man was Fred Miller, at one time on the Advisory Board of the Canadian Kennel Club for Manitoba, owner of the Boswain Kennels of Bull Terriers, famous in Canada in their day. Mr. Miller has been living in Vancouver for some years, and no doubt he liked that part of Canada exceedingly well, but as he tersely said, "Winnipeg, my old home, never looked as good to me as it did when I passed through it on the way down here"; and according to report, this good old time fancier,—whose name is mentioned in James Watsons' great work, "The Dog Book," in conjunction with the name of Mark O'Rourke, as representative Bull Terrier breeders in Canada,—is about to locate in Toronto.

We will be glad to have Mr. Miller added to the list of Toronto fanciers, as his great experience can only be helpful to our Bull Terrier' breeders here, at a time when Bull Terriers are staging a comeback to popularity on the American Continent generally. Father Heaney, the President of the Bull Terrier Club of America, says that there will be 100 Bull Terriers benched at Westminster Kennel Club Show next February. And a bull Terrier has been going on top as best of all breeds at many recent shows, and who can tell, so possibly Mr. Miller will have his hat in the ring again with the rest of the gang to help put Father Heaney's ambitious program across big.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION SHOW

"Empire Year" was the Canadian National Exhibition slogan for 1929, just as, Golden Jubilee Year was the slogan a year ago, and as All-Canada will be the slogan in 1930, but outside of that it was just the greatest Exhibition that the writer ever remembers attending, and he has not missed one since 1912.

But the dog show feature was no greater than before. The same old crowd with the fringes frayed a little fore and aft. Several well-known faces were absent, and many new faces were present for the first time, and of course this holds good for the dogs as well as for the fanciers. It is just possible that this is the condition that gives attraction to the Canadian National Dog Show, year after year.

The old Dog Show building with its wealth of happy memories was fresh with the odor of limewash, and bright by the installation of colored bunting; still it was soundly cursed for for being there. How the fanciers hate that old building.

The Canadian National Exhibition is the pride of Canada. The Federal and Provincial Governments, backed by the Civic Fathers of the City of Toronto have time and again declared their pleasure in this institution. Much money is spent annually to take care of the natural development of the "Big Fair", but apparently there is no development anticipated in the Dog Show department, the same old benching, rings and general equipment, in short the same old dog show, no noticeable change for better or for worse, no change for the better seems to be possible, since it is always easy to get the 550 odd dogs to fill the old building and thus secure the maximum of championship points, year after year.

As a dog show building there are few buildings as good in Canada, but it is positively in discord with all the other fixtures on the grounds, and it certainly permits of no development in the size of the dog show. Given a new dog show building, with accommodation for say, 1,000 dogs, plus up-to-date equipment and conveniences, there is no reason to doubt the possibility of the Canadian National Exhibition becoming the "Westminster" of Canada. As it is there is a danger of the Exhibition losing the distinction. The records for 1928 show that the number of dogs benched at the Canadian National show was 575. This year the number benched was 565, or ten dogs less than last year. The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair (National Kennel Club) was able, after only a very brief existence, to bench a five point show, with 554 dogs benched last year; and so coming within challenging distance of the great Canadian, National Dog Show with forty years' experience behind it. What is going to happen can only be imagined, but, a larger dog show building for the Canadian National is at the moment an absolute necessity if that feature of the fair is to be allowed to develop any at all. We have been at the peak for the last 20 years and we are controlled at 550 odd dogs for the reason, that, say 750 could not be housed. Fanciers from the United States are more and more warming up to the International Championship idea, and at most of our smaller shows this element is noticeably increasing, and the Canadian National Exhibition presents a most desirable meeting place for those after the greater championships. It is at the Canadian National that this element will become imposing just as soon as preparations are made for its comfort and convenience. We do need a new dog show building for the Canadian National Exhibition, and we need it badly—and now.

The quality of the dogs were of a high order, and more than one tasted defeat, that at recent shows had stood on top of the pile. Particularly was the quality of the show imposing when it was noticed that when the winners of the groups came together for Best in Show, only one of the five was of the sterner sex, and he, Mrs. B. Foster's Pekingese, Pun Chee, was excused from the ring for some reason that could not be understood from the ringside. Surely his time to leave the ring, was when the specials had been handed out to the victors. The other four contenders were of the gentler sex and included the English and United States winner, Ch. Delaware Kate, a superbly knit and richly colored Irish Setter, owned by Ernest W. Smoot, Washington, D.C., and handled by the Philadelphia expert, Ben F. Lewis, who was attending his 27th Canadian National Show, this year. The Bulldog, Ch. Westorf's Miss Cintrason, owned by Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, Toronto, and cleverly handled by Mr. Sparkes who had come out of a Toronto hospital for the occasion. Ch. Westdorf's Miss Cintrason was honored by sharing the higher honors of the show with Ch. Delaware Kate. The German Shepherd dog Pia von Haus Schutting carried aloft the banner for the working group, and here again the quality was rich, and at least one of the trio of judges was seen to be favoring this comely Alsatian. Then there was the lily-white Bull Terrier Ch. Haymarket Dawn, fresh from her Ottawa and Sherbrooke victories, owned by R. "Humphrey" Elliott, Ottawa, and handled to perfection by "Ted" Ward who kept her on her toes all the time. This little miss is a sweet morsel indeed.

Many were present who talked of having attended the Canadian National for 25 years more or less. One of this group was the well-known Mrs. S. A. Delaney, Toronto, who had left the Western Hospital to be present. The pluck of "Mother" Delaney was suitably recorded when, as a result of a subscription taken up by two enthusiastic fanciers, i.e., Mrs. E. Brownlie, and Mrs. R. McColl, a cheque for $100.00 was presented to the frail little fancier before she left the ring after the judging of the Toy Group. By many this thoughtful incident was considered to be one of the highlights of the show.

Pekingese breeders had as a fellow exhibitor H. W. Waters, the General Manager of the Exhibition, his puppy bitch Sheba of Badminton won 3rd prize in rather a large class, and in fact to win a third in a breed that boasts of 71 dogs entered is quite an achievement, and we hope to have Mr. Waters as a dyed-in-the-wool fancier, just as his predecessor in office, the late John G. Kent, famous as an exhibitor of Russian Wolfhounds and Greyhounds for many years in Canada and the United States.

In the visitors' gallery we noticed such celebrities as "Jimmie" Strachan, Montreal, and the popular "Alf" Delmont and G. Sinclair of Toledo, Ohio, this little party seemed to enjoy the show thoroughly. G. J. Glebe, Bryn, Athyn, Pa.; Dan. and Mrs. Crawford, Philadelphia; Miss Marie J. Leary, Greenwich, Conn.; Miss Adelaide Clifford of the "Seeing Eye" movement, Nashville, Tenn., etc., etc.

Mrs. Beatrice Grimshaw had a trio of the Benson Wire-Hair Fox Terriers at the show, and her Ch. Benson Dark Horse had as many admirers as ever.

All in all this year's Canadian National show was up to standard.

The judges were all men of experience and included Dr. H. B. Kobler, Philadelphia; Dr. Thos. Buck, Rochester; Ad. Lederhos, Weston, Mass.; "Tom" Hunter Jr., Roxbury, Mass.; and Walter H. Reeves, Belleville, Ont. Kennel & Bench has been promised the impressions gathered by the judicial quintette, and no doubt these impressions will appear elsewhere in this issue.

The officials were Fred W. Jacobi and Peter Herd, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, respectively, and any reference to the excellence of their labors would appear superfluous here. Sufficient it is to record that both men are past masters in their line, and that their 1929 show was indeed a pleasant fixture. The Veterinarians in charge were Drs. J. A. Campbell and Harold O. Bond, and the health of the show was never questioned during its continuance, and this in spite of the weather, which was just as hot as the weatherman himself could stand.

THANKS

Mrs. S. A. Delaney, Toronto, desires to thank her many friends for their generous response to an appeal made on her behalf at the Canadian National Exhibition dog show. She finds it extremely gratifying to find herself so thoroughly respected at the end of 25 years showing and breeding dogs. It was an effort for her to be present, but the surprise gift of $100.00 made the effort worth while, and the show a real pleasure.

Mrs. Delaney says she will not be able to attend many more Canadian National shows, but we all hope that in this respect she will be mistaken, and that she will be an active exhibitor for many years to come yet.

THE CLAPTON SMOOTHS.

We are advised by George W. Bailey, of Ottawa, that the appearance at the Canadian National Exhibition of Clapton Forever—the bitch that won for Best of Breed—marks the passing of his activities in Smooth Fox Terriers.

This decision on Mr. Bailey's part is to be sincerely regretted, for the reason that he has certainly made his prefix, Gatineau Hills, famous in the field of Smooth Fox Terriers as far as this Continent is concerned.

However, we are not to lose Mr. Bailey, nor are we going to lose his famous prefix, but rather he has made his plans and set his goal, and hopes to produce ere long a Canadian-bred Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, born and raised in Ottawa that will go to the Westminster Kennel Club Show and win for best Wire, just as in the past he has, on different occasions—won for best Smooth, and although late in starting this unique trial he hopes to be the first Canadian breeder to turn in the trick.

It is now 22 years since the clever master of the Claptons started out in Smooths at the Canadian National Exhibition in company with A. A. McDonald of the noted "Aldon" prefix—from whom Mr. Bailey purchased his first smooth, Aldon Trifle. Much water has passed under the bridge in 22 years, and still Mr. Bailey is only a young man comparatively speaking. He knows the game from A to Z, and it will be no surprise to this scribe when it comes to be recorded that a Gatineau Hills' Wire has accomplished the task set for it by its breeder and owner, George W. Bailey.

COCKER SPANIEL SPECIALTY

The Cocker Spaniel Club of New England have advertised quite extensively through Kennel & Bench columns for the last two years in an effort to induce some of our Canadian dogs to partake in the rich spoils offered at its specialty show, and the Club officials are depending on a decent-sized Canadian representation to be on hand November 11th and 12th, this year.

Class prizes are $20, $15 and $10 in the regular classification with rich special prizes as additional attraction, so it is obvious that expenses can be made when a Cocker of merit is a contender.

A Boston welcome is assured to every exhibitor, and an especial welcome is guaranteed to visitor exhibitors from Canada.

DOGS OF THE EMPIRE

THE LAND SPANIEL. By Freeman Lloyd.
(Illustrations from the Author's Collections.)

THE first field trials in North America for Springer Spaniels took place in September, 1922, under the auspices of the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada, near Winnipeg, Manitoba. There was an abundance of prairie chicken, ruffed grouse and varying hare (snowshoe rabbit), and the recently imported Springers were found to be as good and better than the older and home-bred entries. What Canada started, the United States soon accepted as good and reputable, with the result that several sportsmen and sportswomen, more or less connected with the affluent Fishers Island, N.Y. Club with its game preserves, inaugurated field trials for spaniels, and such was the initial success, that Fisher's Island with its splendid heads of game in the forms of pheasants and cross-bred rabbits, not only became a household word among the working and field trial spaniel owners of America, but the scene of the greatest and best spaniel field tests held in the New World. The short cover of bay bush, thorns and brambles, to be found on Fishers Island, must always try the powers of the best spaniels; indeed, it were foolishness to expect a shirking, no-liking-for-cover spaniel of any breed, to make any showing on the rolling lands of the famous shooting property in Long Island Sound. No trials could be held under better, fairer, well-arranged and managed conditions.

The spaniels are required to hunt, find, spring and retrieve their game. They must work within the killing range of the gun, remain steady to shot, wing or fur, and retrieve when ordered to do so. The pick-up for the retrieve must be quick, and free from any mauling; the return must be fast—the quicker the better; the mouthing must be tender. A hard-mouthed dog is considered a disgrace to his kind; for, 'tis said, hard-mouthed sires or dams pass on their faults to their undeserving progeny.

The good nose or scenting power of the spaniel is of first consideration. A spaniel must hunt with his nose and not with his eyes, although sometimes at field trials spaniels may be seen that pretend to quest. These keep their eyes upwards or outwards instead of placing their noses on or near the ground. Field trial judges are advised to keep a sharp lookout for such spaniels for they are shirkers. Any spaniel is practically worthless that does not care about entering, and thoroughly hunting in the wickedest of cover. That is the spaniel's work, and the very great majority of them seem to like it. It is incorrect to say that a setter, pointer, griffon, retriever or any other breed of gundog, will face, enter and hunt a short, thick and close-lying brake or cover, as well as a spaniel will and must. That is principally the reason the spaniel has been employed by practical men for hundreds of years.

There are now thousands of springer spaniels—mostly of the English breed, — in Canada and the United States. So far as may be judged from the official registrations, the numbers of pedigreed springers are fast approximating those of the American Cocker Spaniels, very beautiful little dogs, but because of their shortness of legs and weights (not over 25 pounds) cannot possess the strength and activity of the larger land spaniels. The Canadian Cocker Spaniel of 28 pounds, will be found more useful than the smaller dogs.

COCKER SPANIEL AND EUROPEAN WOODCOCK
This woodcock is larger than the American bird. A Cocker Spaniel of the Mid-Victorian Period. After the painting by R. Ansdell, R.A.

Great care should be taken that springer spaniels are not bred too high—on the leg approximating the stature of a medium-sized setter. Be it ever borne in mind that the springer has to work in a cover where no setter may be expected or cares to go. The setter's place is in the open; a spaniel's delight should be in the thorough negotiation of those hide-away retreats where game rests and shelters during the day time.

The weight of the English Springer Spaniel should be around 45 pounds. A bigger, higher-on-the-leg dog or bitch will be found more useful for marsh and wildfowl shooting. Flat coats are the best for working land spaniels which should have docked tails. Just a shade more than half of the tail is left on. A good time to cut off the end of the caudal appendage, is when the whelp is nine or ten days old, and their eyes have just opened.

Light-colored eyes in liver or black-marked spaniels, may be looked upon as a disfigurement although not a strictly tangible fault. The color of the eye often follows the shades of the markings of the dog. Thus we see light or yellow eyes in the heads of the lemon-marked Clumber spaniels, and the darker gold-colored eyes of the spaniels which have light-tan markings, the tan being mixed up with the liver on the lips, over the eyes, and on the extremities. I have had white-and-black colored light-eyed springers. These were unpleasant to look upon. There is an old saying that a light-eyed hound will not take the whip as complacently as the dark-eyed hound. The sulky hound or sporting dog is disliked. It was a huntsman of harriers who made that assertion, and the reason, he said, he chose a spaniel bitch from a brace of liver-and-tans matched in every particular, save a slight difference in the shades of the color of their eyes. Dick Harries might have been right; very likely he was wrong. But I am still a believer in and an admirer of the dark-eyed spaniels of the liver and black-marked kinds.

Flat coats are desirable on land spaniels. Burrs and other detachable thorns of the underbrush soon become entangled in curly nd even wavy coats. But the flat coat does not so readily accept and harbor those undesired trifles that will give the dog no rest until, tired out as he is at night, he will be able to do his best to pull out his tormentors. The curly-coated dog will be found the better as a water spaniel. There is a lot of oil in the skin that grows curled hair. The grease in a dog's skin, evil-smelling though the odor be, means greater bodily protection for the dog while working in water, slush, snow and mud.

Major space has been here given to the Springer (sometimes call Springing Spaniels) because they are considered to be the best of the all-round land spaniels. They are more active than the Clumber and Sussex Spaniels, and more powerful than the Cocker Spaniels. As for nose and temperament, all may be equal. One is as breakable or trainable as the other. All have the fault of wilfulness. They require restraint rather than encouragement in their hunting propensities. Good, bad or indifferent in appearance, all of them will hunt.

The Clumber Spaniel was originally exported from France and into England. The Clumber is named after Clumber House the Nottinghamshire seat of the dukes of Newcastle. This dog's color is white with lemon markings; orange is permissable for the slight head and ear-markings. A white body is preferred. Weighs from 75 to 50 pounds. Clumbers are strictly mute while hunting, finding and flushing or moving game. They are comparatively slow and possess wonderful noses.

The Sussex Spaniel is named after the English county of that name. In color he is solid liver with a golden tinge. A gayer colored spaniel—one with plenty of white about him—is the easiest to be seen while working in thick cover. The Sussex Spaniel is muscular and fairly active; he should weigh from 40 to 50 pounds.

As before written the Cockers are the smallest of the Sporting Spaniel kinds. They were so named or classed because of their usefulness for woodcock shooting. They are handsome as well as smart dogs; they are given to barking or throwing their tongues more than the other and larger breeds of land Spaniels. The outside weight of the American bench show cocker, is 25 pounds; in Canada, he may be 28 pounds, while in Europe, he may be of any reasonable weight or avoirdupois, so long as he remains "cocker" in appearance, and does not too closely merge on the larger heights and weights of the Springer, Field, Clumber, and Sussex Spaniels. A Cocker may be any color.

Twenty or more years ago there appeared blue-colored Cocker Spaniel puppies in a litter or litters bred from long pedigreed and apparently honestly-bred pure, black Cocker Spaniels. These puppies were whelped at Englewood, N.J., U.S.A. But they did not live to reproduce their kind. Otherwise there might have been brought into existence a blue or smoke-colored strain of woodcock spaniels. Where the solid blue came from, it would be hard to say.

AN EARLY ARRIVAL IN THE UNITED STATES
The Scottish-bred Springer Spaniel, Cossar of Leam. Owners: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carr, Mount Kisco, N.Y., U.S.A.

The term "bustling" as applied to working Spaniels is a very old one. Moreover, bustling, ever-on-the-move, diligence and enthusiasm describe what a spaniel must be if he is to be of the greatest use to the active want-to-kill-something shooting man. A brace of hard-working Spaniels will keep the best of men going in all sorts of rough and tumble localities where game is wont to find security from predatory animals and birds, not to say anything about the human being, his dogs and his gun. When a pedometer has been carried at Springer Spaniel field trials, it has been found that the judges and guns traveled at the rate of a little over four miles an hour. This was the average pace for eight hours of each of the three days. Such is a good walking gait, even on the high road. Over what is known as a "Spaniel Country" this speed of locomotion will be found quite fast and tiring enough for the average adult.

As the spaniels hunt every moment, it is likely that the dogs cover at least three times as much ground as the shooting man. Occasionally the shooter stands for a moment or so when he discerns his Spaniel feathering—or about to make game. For it is the extra bustling of the Spaniel that is the sure sign of the proximity of game. Thus does the Spaniel give the cue to the shooter that his master must be prepared and have his gun good and ready for the springing of a bird or the quick dash of a rabbit along the runs in the thick and difficult undergrowth.

Some there are who prefer a Spaniel that will give tongue; indeed, inquiries often come from correspondents who require Spaniels that will bark at a treed partridge. Such a practice is not honored among the followers of Spaniel field trials. These persons delight in shooting game over strictly hunting, dashing, bashing Spaniels ready to crash through the awfulest of cover; and, by their eager methods, hunt and drive out every living creature that might happen to be there.

The quicker the Spaniel is in a cover, the more opportunities there will be for his finding, springing or moving his game. But nothing must be left behind. The dog must not only go where he pleases to hunt, but dash into any patch of briars or other difficult place where the hand or even a finger might direct.

The Spaniel is required for the work that belongs to the Spaniel—a task that has been accomplished by the same style of dog for centuries of time. For the open field work of the gun dog, the Spaniel is at distinct disadvantage in the superior presence and capabilities of the pointer, setter griffon or dropper. On the other hand, not one of the four of these dogs is so suitable for short, close, thorned and brambled patches of cover as is the forceful willing, capable, hustling, bustling Spaniel.

ANOTHER LANDLUBBER OF A SPANIEL.

I was a scholar; seven useful springs
Did I deflower in quotations
Of crossed opinions 'bout the soul of man;
The more I learnt, the more I learnt to doubt.
"Delight", my spaniel, slept whilst I baused leaves,
Tossed o'er the dunces, pored on the old print
Of titled words; and still my spaniel slept.
Whilst I wasted lamp-oil, baited my flesh,
Shrunk up my veins; and still my spaniel slept.
And still I held converse with Zabarell,
Aquinas, Scotus, and the musty saw
Of Antick Donate; still my spaniel slept.
Still on went I; first, "an sit anima;"
Then, an it were mortal. O hold, hold; at that They're at brain buffets, fell by the ears amain
Pell-mell together; still my spaniel slept.
Then, whether 't were corporeal, local, fixt.
"Ex traduce", but whether 't had free-will
Or no, hot philosophers
Stood banding factions, all so strongly propt;
I staggered, knew not which was firmer part,
But thought, quoted, read, observed, and pried.
Stufft noting-books; and still my spaniel slept.
At length he waked, and yawned; and, by yon sky.
For aught I know, he knew as much as I.

BOSTON TERRIERS AT CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Special to Kennel & Bench by Judge, Thomas Hunter, Jr.

I feel that I have every reason to feel highly complimented over the splendid support I received from the fanciers on my second visit to Toronto. With an entry of seventy high class Bostons awaiting my judgment, I fully realized I had no easy task confronting me. Competition was very keen in many of the classes. Several very good dogs were greatly handicapped by not being shown to good advantage. When I say I was greatly impressed with the very noticeable and marked improvement in the breed since my last visit in 1924, I say it with all sincerity. The quality of the Bostons displayed at this Show was exceptionally good. I do not hesitate in saying that in my opinion they compare most favorably with Bostons of any Show I have recently attended. After all the classes had been judged, competition for the honor of Best Boston Terrier in the Show had dwindled down to the Winner's Dog, Ch. Reight Count, and Winner's Bitch, Gipsy's Jewel. These two evenly-matched, classy lightweights made a very pretty picture as they stood together on the block—both excellent specimens of the breed, and typical of their sex, beautiful in conformation, color and markings. After a careful comparison, and thorough going over of both dogs, I finally decided that the dog in my opinion outscored the bitch in head formation, and was the better fronted of the two. So the honor of Best Boston in the Canadian National Exposition went to Ch. Reigh Count of the Reight Count Kennels, owned by the well known and prominent fancier, Mrs. L. B. Daley of Detroit. He is a wonderfully well balanced little dog with an expression that is hard to beat, and has as correct an eye placement as I ever saw on a Boston. This little fellow is just brimming over with quality and refinement, and displays vigor and substance that you seldom find in a small dog, which, in my opinion, indicates he should prove a valuable asset to the breed.

Mrs. R. Clement's "Gipsy's Jewel"—Winner's Bitch and Best of opposite sex—is a remarkably fine quality bitch. She was put down in wonderful condition. In my opinion, she is outstanding, possessing all the qualities that should make her a Champion in a very short time. She is the kind that can go out and win anywhere, no matter how keen the competition may be.

Reserve Winners, Bitch, Mrs. M. Steven's "Ch. Jubilee's Million Dollar Beauty". A beautifully well-balanced bitch with good conformation and plenty of substance. Shows her quality, and is well worthy of title of Champion. She is the type that should prove very useful at the conclusion of her show career.

Res. Winner's Dog, L. B. Anderson's "Billy Disturber". An exceptionally good middleweight, very good headed, strong in muzzle, well proportioned, very good mover, in fact, he is good all over. With just a little more refinement he would be a wonder. He is the type of dog that should prove a credit to the breed as a producer.

By far the outstanding puppy of either sex was Mrs. E. Horning's "Honey Boy". He is a very promising youngster, well set-up with beautiful color and markings, which add to his general appearance. He is one that shows every indication of a very bright future.

The best dog in the Canadian Bred Class was Mrs. L. B. Daley's "King of Jubilee"—a very attractive and flashy Boston with good conformation; has style and refinement that is hard to beat. In my opinion, he is a dog that just missed being a flyer.

Mrs. George A. Allen's "Allen High Hat", that was first in the "Limit Class" under fifteen pounds, and second in the "Open Class", is worthy of mention. He is a very good type, shows a lot of quality, not as well balanced as the winner of the "Open Class".

Mrs. F. Cayley's "Gipsy's Highball". The outstanding heavyweight of the Show. He is without a doubt one of the best heavyweights I have ever judged. I have never seen a heavyweight with such wonderful conformation and so well balanced. He has beautiful color and markings, and is just chock full of quality and refinement. This dog can go to the top if he is handled by someone who could show him to advantage.

E. A. Brown's "Highball Sweet One" is very appropriately named. The first in the Canadian Bred Bitches class, and running second to the Winner's Bitch in her classes. A most refined and classy little female. Compares most favorably with the outstanding females in the Show. She is one that no doubt will make a reputation in the show ring.

I was most favorably impressed with the quality of the several Champions that competed for "Specials" only. They were all excellent specimens of the breed, and in my opinion rightly entitled to that distinctive title of Champion.

I would like to give a more detailed review of the classes, but as my time is limited, I can only review the outstanding dogs of the Show.

In conclusion, I desire to express, through Kennel & Bench, my sincere appreciation to the fanciers of Toronto who made it possible for me to realize an ambition I have long entertained—the honor of judging Boston Terriers at the Canadian National Exhibition. My visit was a very pleasant and most enjoyable one in every way.

Notes From Old Quebec

By FRED LA RUE, Cap St. Martin, Que.

DID you ever dream that you were in heaven? As no dog fancier can conceive "les demeures celestes" without canine inmates, which kind of dogs did you dream of then? One, of course, would not expect to meet terriers in heaven as there is too much deviltry in them? I had been worrying, during my last illness, over leaving my beloved "diehards" behind. "quand ma derniere heure sonnera," but my dream of August 28th has taught to me that there are indeed heavenly dogs which can satisfy any fancier's love of dogs without being troublesome and noisy.

I dreamt of a beautiful shrine, all covered with white, blue and purple ribbons, surrounding a score of silver and golden chalice—like cups, and right on the first steps of the so-called altar, were a dozen beautiful dogs of medium size with coats shining like angels' wings; but the most striking part of these dogs was their eyes. They wore such an expression of contentment, displayed such a mixture of humility without fear, and courage without bravado, that I immediately thought of the quaint knights of Malta, who could pray like nuns or fight like lions and die like heroes, giving away their life with a smile for the protection of the Christian world.

But somebody was shaking my shoulder. Indeed I was not dreaming but I could not believe my own eyes, and "Je n'etais pas paf non plus". I was in Sherbrooke and Mr. A. E. Bourgeault, the most capable show superintendent, was addressing me:

"How do you like the Belmoss Kennels benching of Springer Spaniels?"

"Wonderful indeed, and I have never seen in my life such a collection of perfectly conditioned dogs!"

"But meet the owner, Mr. H. J. Placey."

"Congratulations Mr. Placey for the class and conbition of your dogs. How did they come out in the ring?"

"My new importation, Int. Champion Inveresk Chancellor, won best of breed and best sporting dog. He became a Canadian champion in six shows inside of nine weeks, and he is just short of one more point to become an American, and therefore triple international champion."

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPION INVERESK COCKSURE
Owned by H. J. Placey, Sherbrooke, Que. The pioneer dog of the Belmoss Kennels and sire of several champions.

"Is he field broken?"

"I should say so. In England, sporting dogs have got to be field trial winners before they can carry the title of champion."

"And what about this other one next to him?"

"That is Inveresk Cocksure, the first one I imported. I was in poor health and had to give up my business, so I imported a dog for a companion and he proved to be such a stock getter that he has built up another business for me. Now I own some of the biggest kennels of sporting dogs in America. Cocksure is both Canadian and American Champion and is the sire of many a champion."

And together we reviewed some of his gets and kennelmates: Ch. Belmoss Countess lacks one point for her American Championship. Ch. Belmoss Jacqueline, full sister to Countess, started her show career on Good Friday at Toronto, and made the grade in nine weeks at six shows. She is the very type of her sire.

Another daughter of Cocksure got winners' bitches in Sherbrooke: Belmoss Blue Bird, an eight months old puppy, beating her own kennelmate, Belmoss Rosebud, who made her debut at Hamilton, and was awarded best of breed by "Bob" Ross. the same Rosebud also went to winners under W. H. Reeves in Ottawa, and again best of breed under C. G. Hopton, also at Ottawa, making six points in a few days.

The imported dog, Inveresk Collyshot, the sire of Rosebud, is also a field trial winner, and another example of the wonderful stock that is being shipped to Mr. Placey, to use his own words: "By an honest Scotchman from Scotland, Mr. A. Chassels McNabb." Collyshot is a marvellous example of the sagacity of his breed. He will carry the mail from the door to Mrs. Placey for her to read the addresses, then he will deliver each envelope to the member of the family addressed. He was scolded on the day of his arrival for coming in the dining room, and to this day he has never trespassed the door of the said room. No coaxing from the Rev. Father Fiset will get him to infringe the rule either.

VIVADORA KENNELS (REG'D)

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, Owners

1673 Kingston Road

TORONTO, ONT. - CANADA

I have visited the Belmoss Kennels and have seen there, what I never thought could be found on earth. Dogs behaving like well trained aristocratic children, no barking, no fighting, and above all no scratching. The runs are situated on a slope behind a big church and the cleanliness of the lawn is only surpassed by the cleanliness of the rugs to be found in every stall. Really, this has been a revelation to me, and anybody that thinks I am exagerating in my praises is invited to go and see for himself. There were only four puppies left in the kennels out of 49, which were bred this season, others having left for new homes in Canada. But every dog in the kennels was in just as good coat and general condition as those that were benched. Consequently, many were those who questioned Mr. Placey on what he was feeding his dogs. He was kind enough to give out his secret to those that visited Sherbrooke, but I cannot mention the name of the food here, as, I think, this should go to the advertising columns, but I am sending the manufacturers' address to "Ye Editor", so that he may take the matter up with them.

Frank K. Addyman, of Ardsley, N.Y., had no cinch on his hands when it came to awarding best in show with the following group winners, all veteran campaigners doing their utmost to attract his attention:—

Toys.—Ch. Rajah of Heskett Wu Ku, the Montreal show winner, ably showed by his aristocratic owner, Mrs. Harry L. Sears, of Milburn, N.J. Rajah, a 10½ lb. black Peke, got best in show at the Beaux Arts Club in Toronto, where 76 Pekes were benched under C. G. Hopton. He is a triple international champion and probably the only toy in the world to carry that title.

Terriers.—Ch. Haymarket Dawn, so ably handled by "Ted" Ward, and which had gone to best in show in Ottawa under W. H. Reeves.

Non-Sporting — The grand Boston terrier Jubilee Prince Condy, owned by Mrs. M. Stevens, of Toronto, and which had been best of breed in Ottawa.

Sporting.—Ch. Inveresk Chancellor who had to beat such wonderful dogs as J. E. McSorley's great Irish setter bitch, Horseshoe Nancy, and the wonderful English setter Pajaro Diane, owned by S. T. Doyle, and ably shown by Mrs. J. H. Enright, before he could point to the best all breed title. He did not, however, retrieve the title for his owner this time as the super dog that Arthur Sickinger had chosen as the grand winner of the Fourth Annual Alsatian Specialty Show at Toronto, was there in all his striking "grandeur" and showed his paces as he did later at Detroit to finish in Sherbrooke best all breeds! Two wonderful Shephard puppies, owned by F. J. Rowe, Montreal, won the puppy classes and the Judge predicted a great future for them. They were Lon Von Ludendorff and Wanda Von Ludendorff, both sired by Loop Von Ludendorff, and carrying all the best points of their great sire. Mr. Rowe is busy at the present time forming an Alsatian Shepherd Club in Montreal, and all those that are interested should communicate with him at the above mentioned address. I have known Mr. Rowe for years and dare say that he will make the grade.

TORONTO BOSTONS GO TO UNITED STATES.

R. H. D. Sim, of the "Fashion" prefix, Toronto, has just exported to a Maywood, Ill., client a pair of nice 5 months old puppies for a good price. Both youngsters were sired by Highball's Little Man, ex Flashy Girl 3rd. Seal brindle with full white markings were characteristic of each, and they are called upon to make the Bostons in the vicinity of Chicago look to their laurels.

ALSATIAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUB FIELD TRIALS

By Judge Ad. Lederhos.

The annual trial was held on Sept. 1st at the estate of Mr. A. L. Gooderham. I heartily disapprove of such a late start; namely 1:45 P.M., especially when three distinct field trials are to be judged by one judge. Fortunately I was assisted by Mr. Edward Galiano, our able club trainer and so was able to complete the work at 8:00 P.M. The following classes were to be judged:

Puppy Class
Companion Dog Class
Service Dog Class

In the Puppy Class only two dogs were entered, namely, Junker of Oakridge, owned by Mrs. Henderson, and Dick, owned by Mrs. Dunn. A minimum of 60 points out of a total of 100 points are required to receive a certificate. First in this class was Junker, who received a total of 87½ points and Dick followed with 80½ points. It was a pleasure to note how splendid these two youngsters performed their exercise. Both dogs received qualification excellent.

COMPANION DOG TRIALS.

Total entries, 6.
Total points, 210.
Minimum points required for certificate, 120.

Entries.

Roland von Rhein.
Astor of Rouva-Fel.
Senta vom Rhein
Beta vom Prinzenhof.
Goldie of Rouva-Fel.
Wolf von Stettin.

The average temperament of the six dogs entered was very pleasing. The only fault I noticed during this particular trial was oversharpness on the part of Astor of Rouva-Fel whom I was forced to penalize 12½ points on temperament.

First C. D. with 200 points out of a possible 210 and qualification "Excellent" was Beta vom Prinzenhof, who lost 2½ points in retrieving for not returning promptly, another 2½ points for going too far off her trail in scenting but who worked splendidly when she recovered the lost trail. The last 5 points she lost in general obedience due to not promptly returning in retrieving exercise.

Second C. D. with a total of 199½ points and qualification "Excellent" was Goldie of Rouva-Fel, who lost the following points: 3 points in heeling off leash (too far away from guide), 2½ points for being too slow in giving up object after nice job of trailing, lost object and 5 points in general obedience due to the above mentioned faults.

Third C. D. "Excellent" with a total score of 190 points was Senta vom Rheim, who lost 2½ points in jumping, 7½ points in retrieving, 5 points in scenting test and 5 points in general obedience. Senta did not give up readily and dropped found object. Due to hasty adding up of score sheets after the trial, Senta was announced as fourth winner with Wolf as third but close inspection of score sheets later revealed that Senta was third best in the Companion Trial.

Fourth—Wolf von Stettin with C. D. title, qualification "Very Good" and a total of 179½ points. Wolf is the old working type dog and with proper handling should make an excellent trained dog. I faulted him as follows: 3 points for being too far away in heeling off leash, 7½ points for moving in exercise No. 6, 2½ points in retrieving, 5 points in scenting test, 2½ points in optional test and 10 points in general obedience.

Fifth C. D. qualification "Very Good" with a total of 177½ points was Roland von Rhein, a dog whom I admire very much for his steady temperament and who undoubtedly will come to the front with additional training. I understand that he was only started recently in his training. Roland was the only dog who was faulted in only one excercise; namely, in optional exercise with 2½ points. I was, however, compelled to give him a zero mark in "Giving voice on command" where no test was given as his guide stated that he never trained the dog for it. The same held good for exercise No. 8, in which the dog had not received training. For this reason and because the last one is not an obedience test but an intelligence test, he was the only dog who received his full 50 points in exercise.

Sixth C. D. with qualification "Very Good" and a total of 162 points was Astor of Rouva-Fel whom I was forced to fault 10 points for oversharpness and 12½ points for not being under control in exercise No. 11. Both penalties due to aggressiveness beyond reasonable control. He also lost 3 points for being too far off in exercise No. 2, 7½ points for exercise No. 3, 7½ points for not staying quiet in exercise No. 6, and 2½ points for not returning promptly with retrieved object. He was, however, the only dog who received a full 20 points for scenting lost object which he found in record time and under a very difficult condition, trail being laid in three sharp angles. I note that the Canadian rules do not include a gun test nor a meat test and also require only 2 minutes "stay down" against 3 minutes in our American Field Trial rules.

At the last New England Field Trials, out of a total entry of eight dogs, six received their certificates. At the Canadian Trials, six out of an entry of six passed successfully the lowest with 162 points out of a possible 210. I congratulate the Field Trial Group for their excellent work in the Companion Dog Classes, but must severely criticize the work shown in the Service Class where I was compelled to deny certificates although there was an entry of five dogs and bitches of whom not a single one came anywhere near the required three hundred points out of a total of four hundred and ten points. I do not blame the dogs at all, because four of the dogs entered in the Service trial had shown very fine results in the Companion Dog Trial where they were entered. As a matter of fact, it is just this very same fact which is responsible for the fiasco in the Service trial and here is my contention. The Service trial as required by our Canadian friends is a mild form of a police dog trial without man work. These two, Companion and Police dog do not mix well, no more so than a dog trained for war or police work and one trained for leading the blind or rather a Red Cross dog. One is trained to distrust everything and everybody and the other to trust and help everybody. While I believe it is possible to train a Companion dog for police work, I am pretty certain that this training will spoil him as a companion dog. I sincerely suggest to our Canadian Field Trial Group to revise their service rules, especially exercises 10 and 12 where the points are too high with 60 and 80, respectively and to increase points in exercise 4 considerably. As far as the work itself in this Service Trial is concerned, I was unable to award any certificates at all as the highest number of points awarded to the best in this Trial, namely, to Pia v. Haus Schutting, reached only 235½, whereas a minimum of 300 were required in order to receive a certificate.

The order in which I scored the entry runs as follows:

First (no award), Pia vom Haus Schutting, 235½ points.

Second (no award), Roland von Rheim, 220 points.

Third (no award), Senta vom Rheim, 215 points.

Fourth (no award), Wolf von Stettin, 202 points.

Fifth (no award), Beta vom Prinzenhof, 125 points.

During this trial I discovered that two dogs, or rather bitches, who showed excellent temperament in the Companion Trial fell down rather hard in regard to temperament as soon as the meat test was applied. I refer to Beta and Senta. This being a distinct trial, however, and independent from the Companion Trial, I did not feel justified in changing my Companion Trial score. I also think that the time from one to eight o'clock is too long for any dog however willing to work. There was quite a happy crowd waiting for the final results and quite a number of attractive prizes were awarded to the respective winners.

My thanks to the very active chairman of the trials, Mr. T. W. Lee, and to Dr. Hodgson for the valuable information given me in regard to the rulings.

SHEPHERDS AT THE CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

According to written instructions coming through the office of the Bench Show Committee, I was to report on Monday, September 2nd and start judging Shepherds at 1:00 P.M. Reporting at the office on time I was informed that I was not to judge at all that day but was scheduled at four o'clock on the next day. This interfered greatly with my plans, but I found it rather difficult to make the superintendent of the show realize that a whole day's delay meant a great sacrifice to me and so finally I consented to stay over for another day after being promised that on Tuesday afternoon I was to have the whole ring for Shepherds. This promise also was not kept and at four o'clock part of a very small ring was allotted to Shepherds. Perhaps I would have given better service to our Canadian friends in refusing to judge at all, it being utterly impossible to give any satisfaction as the dogs could not be gaited at all and to my mind gait is all important in determining the quality of Shepherds. It is for this reason that I refrain from making a detailed report because of the fact that if I ever should see these dogs again in action, I might be compelled to change and reverse my decisions of the day considerably. Especially does this hold good in regard to dog No. 73 and female No. 68. No. 73, Billo von Bergholz, a plain gray-looking dog was unable to assert himself, although I suspect that he would be a changed dog if he had plenty of space to move in to be given an opportunity to gait. The same holds good in regard to No. 68, Pia vom Haus Schutting, with the exception that here the case is reversed. Pia shows herself splendidly at rest but I doubt her ability to hold her own in a severe gait test. As it was, ring conditions were in her favor as I was forced to place them all as they appeared to the eye standing in a crowded ring. I wish to comment, however, on the fact that the temperament of all dogs and bitches was very pleasing; in fact, I have never seen better temperament at any Shepherd dog gathering. Only in one single case was I forced to place a female lower than her conformation warranted because of shyness.

KENNEL AND BENCH

25 Melinda St. - Toronto, Canada

The British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor, A. H. DODD, Victoria.

The Victoria City Kennel Club staged their annual Outdoor Parlor Show on the afternoon of the 17th ult, in the beautiful grounds of the President, Major H. W. Niven. A more ideal spot to hold such an event could not be found, the spacious lawn where the judging takes place, being surrounded by large oak trees, where both visitors and dogs can enjoy the shade and at the same time watch the progress of the judging. Mr. Clavert, of Tacoma, filled the duties of the judge in a most satisfactory manner, and passed on the fifty-four exhibits in record time.

Both the ladies and children handlers' classes were filled to overflowing, and presented quite a problem to Judge Calvert, who awarded the former to Miss R. Duke and the latter to Miss V. Dodds.

Judging from the number who passed through the gate to witness this show, the dog game is certainly on the upward trend in Victoria.

The Nanaimo Kennel Club are to be congratulated on the excellent show they staged on the 24th ult. I am informed that one-hundred and fifty-two dogs were benched, and that their ambition to get into the "two point" class was realised through the "pull together" slogan, and no one was more pleased at the success than the faithful little secretary, Miss Hickling, who deserves all and more than the praise she got. She was on the job continually and had everything working with clock-like precision, and always cheerfully giving advice and doing her utmost to make the show pleasant for all. Mr. W. Greives acted as superintendent which duty he filled in a very pleasing manner and was also on the job to welcome the fanciers in his big hearted way. Jack Cottle, of Irish Setter fame, very ably filled the duties of Ring Steward.

It was very pleasing and encouraging to note, that the two B.C. Directors of the C.K.C., "Bill" Pym and Alex. McCloy, were present, and no doubt these two stalwarts of the game were collecting data for the good and welfare of all, and it is to be hoped their presence in the capacity of directors will be felt at the shows for many years to come. Many notable breeders and fanciers from the South were present, and all expressed their appreciation of the warm welcome they had received and were more than pleased with the awards of the judge.

Mr. Jack Meadows officiated as judge of all breeds in his usual impartial manner, and his awards in all cases were received in a very sportsman-like manner. Many of the Gun Dog classes were very heavy and all of high calibre, and it was no easy task to pick the winner, and the day was waning fast when he handed out the last ribbon.

Full report of this show will appear in this issue elsewhere but I cannot refrain from mentioning a few of the winners of the Open Specials which are as follows:

Best in Show and Best Sporting and Best English Setter going to the handsome son of O'By Jingo "Groeswen Rock," owned by George Gough, and handled in beautiful style by the veteran Even Gravell.

Best Terrier in Show was caried off by the imported Airedale, "Master Simon," owned by Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, a dog with a beautiful Terrier outline and possessing a gorgeous front.

Best Opposite in Show and Best Working was awarded to Sergt. Fugn's Doberman Ch. Blanca vd. Lenburg, a dog with a beautiful conformation, and at all times asking for the coveted ribbon.

Best Canadian-Bred and Best Non-Sporting being the dapper little Boston, Ch. "Mushon Peter Blink," handled by his fair owner, Mrs. A. Bates.

Best Toy and Best Novice in the show was carried off by the little drawing-room aristocrat, "Kow I. Nur of Wen Lew," put down in excellent form by his owner, G. L. Stocks.

Best Limit in the Show going to the beautiful son of Southboro Savannah, Mrs. Willgress' "Southbore Sensation," very ably handled by "Wally."

Best Veteran in the Show was Joe Cottle's grand old English Setter, "Grayland's Snowbird," the dam of many of the high class bench dogs of today.

Vancouver fanciers have again been successful exhibitors at shows held in the State of Washington, and we have been favored with visits from prominent exhibitors from Washington and Oregon. We have also had an interchange of judges which tends to advance a very friendly relationship between the fanciers of both countries.

The Arlington, Wash., show was the first on the fall circuit, J. A. Meadows and Wm. Moffatt split the breeds and variety classes with the exception of Bostons, which were judged by Albert Quartier, of Portland.

The Canada Pacific Exhibition show followed with Anton Corbell, of San Francisco, judging all breeds. Mr. Corbell made many new friends for himself, and "Welcome" will always be on the mat for him in future in B.C.

The Vancouver show was in charge of Oswald Balshaw, Albert Kerr and Norman McConnell, with the ever-willing and capable Mrs. A. E. Dunn as show secretary. The task of ring stewards fell on Mesdames Woodhouse and Balshaw and Thos. P. Murray, with Sandy McLean looking after the benching. Owing to the building propramme which is now being executed at Hastings Park, this year's dog show was held under canvas. However, if local fanciers will simply show General Manager J. K. Matheson that they really want a show where prize money is paid, I am sure a real modern dog show building will be constructed before the spring show circuit opens.

George Pearson, of Vancouver, donned the ermine at Everett, Wash., show with Dr. Hartnagel, of Seattle, as co-judge. The Everett show attracted several U.S. fanciers who usually come to Vancouver, but it was noticed that Dan Morgan, of Fir, Wash., won the Canadian Kennel Club cup with his Canadian-bred Springer Spaniel.

The Nanaimo show was next in order and J. A. Meadows received a record entry. The particulars of this show will be well covered by our Island correspondent, Harry Dodds.

In spite of a devastating fire which completely burned the principle buildings, the Provincial Exhibition show at New Westminister was held as usual, opening on Labor Day, with Norman McConnell as judge of all breeds, with Wm. Squelch, Alderman

Archie Hogg, Neil Kelso, Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse and others, whose names escape me at the moment, looking after details, and the one and only P. J. McLachlan filling the roll of superintendent in the usual thorough McLachlan mannner. Owing to being absent from the Coast at the time details are lacking at this writing.

As a fitting climax to the International fall circuit, the Puget Sound Kennel Club, of Seattle, held their show Sept. 6-7, with Anton Rost, of New York City, judging all breeds. Vancouver owners were quite prominent when the ribbons were being handed out. Mrs. Bates with her Boston Ch. Peter Blink, and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cruickshank with their bulldogs, "McNab's Marquis" and McNab's Defender, added spice to the non-sporting division. The Toy group had Canadian competitors from the Pekingese kennels of Mrs. N. E. Corket, and the Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stock "circuit chasers."

George Pearson was successful in guiding his Wire Fox Terrier, "Ace of Vanity," to winners, while the Sporting group was supported by the entries of Miss Duke, of Victoria, and other well-known Island exhibitors.

The Ascot kennels accounted for one winners and two reserve winners ribbons with Whippets, and also completed an International Championship with the Whippet dog, "Ascot Blue Eagle." The same dog also won outright the Challenge cup which has been up for competition for the Whippet winning the greatest number of points during the seasons 1928-9.

One of the most graceful gestures imaginable, and one that will be fully appreciated by all Canadians, was the presentation of a "Friendship" medal by his American admirers to that grand sporting dog man, Mr. Topp Turner, of Victoria. The presentation was made by Captain Charles Tennant, president of the Puget Sound Kennel Club in the huge judging ring before 3,000 spectators and the ovation which Mr. Topp Turner received will long be remembered.

If we can have such wonderful cooperation beteen American and Canadian fanciers, does it not behoove all of us to develop this theme to the utmost in our own country, so that each and every show will receive maximum entries. A wise man once said, "Let us go forward hand in hand rather than split up into rival factions and starve our souls over dogmatic differences."

The next big event will be the annual Thanksgiving Day Show of the B.C. Fox Terrier Club.

We are glad to welcome a new fancier to Victoria, the "Hot Bed of Scotties," in the person of Mrs. Nantes late of Nappen, B. C., who has brought with her a beautiful litter of five Scotties sired by the great dog, Ch. Brestonian Venture ex Merlewood Portia imported in whelp. "Grouse of Balgownie", a beautiful dog out of this litter has already commenced a winning career by going best in show at Vancouver and also at Nanaimo. The introduction of this new and rare blood should prove a valuable acquisition to the breed and Mrs. Nantes is to be congratulated on her selection. We wish Mrs. Nantes and her Scotties every success in their new abode and hope to see more of them when time will permit.

Before concluding my notes I would like to remind the fanciers of Vancouver Island that these columns are not alloted to any particular kennel, breed or fancy, but for the good of the fancy at large, and any doggy news will be welcome and should be forwarded to me by the 5th of each month in order to appear in the following month's issue. We have on this tight little island some of the best dogs in the Dominion of Canada, and also many of the best fanciers, so let us try and forget our imaginary grievances and petty jealousies and all pull together, and we will get a good deal more pleasure out of the game and possibly a few more biscuits for the "tyke." There is absolutely no doubt but what our neighbours to the South are purchasing more stock from us and also patronising our shows more each year and we want to keep them coming, so let's all pull together, like the Victoria and Nanaimo Kennels Clubs did this year and raised their shows to four and two points, respectively.

Let me have your news and help to make these columns the most interesting of the whole Kennel & Bench.

OUR BREEDERS REGISTER SELLS 'EM.

Dear Mr. Strachan:

Enclosed please find order for four dollars for renewal of my card in the Breeders' Register appearing in Kennel and Bench. I am pleased to inform you that the results from advertising in the Breeders' Register have been extremely satisfactory. While I have had very few dogs for sale, I have had numerous enquiries from many parts of Canada, the U. S. A., also Japan and China. Last Monday I shipped a beautiful show bitch to Tokio, Japan, and did my very best to select one that I thought would be truly representative of the breed. I have also other enquiries from Shanghai, China, so Kennel & Bench must travel some.

Thanking you for all past courtesies and timely attentions, I remain

Yours sincerely,

James Booth.

NEW WESTMINSTER KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The Annual Dog Show held in connection with the Provincial Exhibition at New Westminster was again a success, in spite of the disastrous fire which ruined the principle buildings. The New Westminster spirit of "never say die" was again in evidence when Chairman of the Dog Show Committee, Wm. Squelch, Alderman Archie Hogg, P. J. McLachlan, Neil Kelso, Mrs. Alsen, Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse and a score of stalwarts put their shoulder to the wheel and put this show over with a bang. Norman McConnell was judge of all breeds and gave excellent satisfaction.

The outstanding win of course is for the Canadian Kennel Club Cup. This year it was won by the English Setter puppy, Edmond's Blue Feather, bred by Mrs. G. O. Alsen and W. T. Squelch. This puppy also won the W. H. Pym Cup for best Canadian-bred puppy. The awards follow:

"COME TO THE WEDDING."

That's what the message said in a certain item of this morning's mail, and on inspection we found that it came from none other than our poetically inclined contributor to these pages "Witty" Warren of Montreal.

The happy event will take place at Montreal on October 10th, and the honeymoon trip will either take the "voyageurs on the matrimonial sea" to Quebec or Toronto. Selfishly we have insisted on Toronto getting the preference, as it will be a real joy to welcome "Alice Vier" and "Ted Warren" and if the writer was mayor of this town why, good friends like these would surely get the freedom of it—at least.

Here's how they show up as dog lovers. Alice loves Pekes, owns a clever one all the time. Knows a good Irish Terrier when she sees one, and that possibly accounts for "Witty" appearing in this picture. Once she flattered the writer by declaring that "The Scotch have a place in the world" and on being pressed to enlarge on her declaration, she qualified by adding "in bottles."

"Witty" loves "The National Breed of Old England," a good "sour mug" in "Witty's" eyes, shuts his optics definitely to all other distractions, he has bred good ones, bought good ones, and it is well-known that he can appraise merit in the breed quite uncannily.

And now that "Witty" is to have domestic ties, possibly he will allow us to publish more of his splendid verse from time to time. He is not a "Robert Burns" or "Thomas Moore" but his verse is decidedly "Witty Warren" verse and can be easily distinguished from anything of a similar kind that is written.

Well here's hoping for lots of joy and plenty of happiness for the couple that have decided to become pals for life.

CANADIAN PACIFIC EXHIBITION SHOW

(Special Report by Albert Kerr, Vancouver, B.C.)

The Canadian Pacific Exhibition Dog Show was held on August 15-17 and proved to be another successful event and a very decided attraction in connection with this year's exhibition.

Owing to the expansion and construction of new buildings the dog show was held under novel conditions this year. The regular dog show building being incorporated in the general scheme is being connected up with other buildings, and as a consequence this year's show was held in two large tents, with the judging taking place in an outdoor ring. Fortunately the weather man was on his very best behaviour and the only complaint directed at him was in respect to the over comfortable conditions along the heat line.

The entries were up to the average for the summer season, and whatever support was not forthcoming from some of the old timers was nicely offset by the appearance of many new names in the list of exhibitors.

Judge Anton Korbel, of California, made his debute in the official capacity as far as Canadian shows are concerned and much speculation was indulged in as to how Mr. Korbel would hand out the ribbons, however his work was pleasing and altogether satisfactory, and the dogs that were best in his judgement fared well.

On the Saturday afternoon a series of Whippet races were run off under the management of the popular Whippeter "Bill" Pym, and this feature was considered to be one of the outstanding features of the fair, the bally-hoo associated with Whippet racing generally was conspicious by its absence.

The show was managed by Vancouver Kennel Club with "Nat" McConnell, Oswald and Mrs. Balshaw looking after the interests of the dogs and their owners. Mrs. E. Dunn and Albert Kerr were in charge of the secretarial work for the fixture, and it is now a matter of record that all concerned received the thanks of the Fair Board for their very efficient services.

Notes From Alberta

By Provincial Contributing Editor, R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.

The Alberta Fox Terrier Association went over the top in their first Specialty Show held in the Dog Show Building, Victoria Park, Calgary, on Aug. 24th. With seventy-nine dogs benched a four-point rating was attained, this being the first one-breed show ever held in this Province, we must congratulate the founders, Mrs. M. J. Carr and Mrs. J. M. Daintry, on the success attending their efforts.

While mere men are holding important posts in the association, we arrived at the conclusion that the credit for the venture belongs to the ladies. Some of those who worked hardest at the show were Mrs. Render, Miss A. Dewdney and Miss A. Clark. Also Mr. A. McLeod and Mr. Price took a hand in the heavy end of the preparations.

The color scheme of mauve and white carried out in floral decorations and bunting in the ring and with kalsomine on the benches gave a very refreshing look to the interior of the building. These colours though were most attractive when seen in conjunction with the ladies' kennel coats. (This is a tip for our members who belong to the Men's Dress Reform Society. We are wondering how George Climo would look attired in Magenta with Peacock green trimmings? Or A. Figg in Champagne and Black?)

The club is greatly indebted to Lady Lougheed, Mrs. W. Weller and Mrs. McLeod, who generously contributed beautiful cut flowers and it may be mentioned that the lovely bouquet of dark and pale mauve blooms presented to Mrs. West Jones, who gave away the prizes, were from a garden where the owner's dogs are allowed to run at large. Our marked Catologue having gone astray in the mail we regret not being able to give the result of the Specials. We understand that Judge Thirlwell is sending a report on the Terriers and the official results of his placements will be found in this issue. We might mention that "Bill Bolivia Bristles", "Farleigh Brilliant" and "Farleigh Orcadian' gave the winner an uncomfortable minute while the judge was making up his mind as also did "Farleigh Happy Giggles" with Mrs. Winters' "Mattie".

Thanks are due to the Exhibition authorities who kindly gave the use of the building, to Mrs. Jouvenat (Anti-Vivisection and Humane Society) for their help, to the hotels who presented two handsome cups for the benefit of outside dogs and to Mrs. Walter Weller, president Women's Conservative League, and to the donors of the various Challenge Trophies. Our Director, J. C. Fletcher, was on hand with a select string. Mr. Forest was keenly observant of the judging and Messrs. Quierly and Wright, of Edmonton, were interested spectators. We very much regret to report that the latter recently lost his select little Boston, "Mayart Bondsman," who died on the Station platform at Saskatoon on his way to the show. He was a Terrier of outstanding quality and will be greatly missed by the Boston fanciers. He lacked just one point of his championship. Every one enjoyed the show including those responsible, many owners were exhibiting for the first time, and while naturally all could not win, every one went home happy in the knowledge that their own particular pal had got a square deal.

By a curious coincidence there arrived in the same mail two letters of widely divergent views on Dog Topics. The first was from a dear old lady, a grandmother of the Victorian period, who after criticising the dress, or lack of it worn by the present generation, states that "human sleep and peace of life is sacrificed that dogs shall bark and prowl and breed whilst their owners refuse to bear or help child life. It makes me sick to see the maudlin care and caresses some women lavish on their pets whilst refusing to carry a baby and there are plenty of deserving mites needing homes". But why pick on dog owners? The case of the illigitimate or deserted child and the mongrel dog are not without parallel. Fanciers who have a natural and healthy affection for their dogs are more likely to have a similar regard for unfortunate infants than those people who lack this virtue, but not all of us feel capable of taking on the responsibility of bringing to maturity a human being whose parentage is perhaps of a doubtful nature.

The second letter we are going to ask our Editor to print in full for here we see the dog fancier at his best:

August 8, 1929.

Dear Mr. Tyrrell:

Mrs. Cooper and I thank you for the kind reference you made in the last Kennel and Bench regarding the loss of our pals. It was a terrible blow to us and when one thinks that our dogs were never off the property except when on a lead makes it worse. The poison was thrown at night into the kennel runs. We lost at the same time 25 high producing Ancona hens, all my breeding stock. The hens' run is only three feet from the dogs' runs.

All our females were poisoned, one died the hour she should have whelped, and when Dr. Price opened her there were 11 puppies.

This litter I had great hopes of being able to call a scientific litter. The mother before breeding and whilst in whelp I had fed on the vitamines to produce good pups. I stated that if my theory was correct all the pups would be the same size and weight at birth, and also that we would raise them all and they would grow evenly. Bull pups are notorious for coming big and little. The first part of my theory was proved, all the pups were the same weight and length, the second part I might be able to prove it we start to breed Bulldogs again. Had we not been cleaned out we would have had four generations at the last show, and four stud dogs and bitches with three of their progeny competing for the breeders' cup. All our interest in dog shows seems dead. I sometimes wonder if we shall ever start again. We have got to buy to get going and then I suppose someone will poison them off again.

Kindest regards,

Leonard H. Cooper.

To many of us the real sport of Dog Showing is not the accumulation of so many prizes or cups, it is in the fact that we have been able to produce a dog that can not only step ahead of the other fellows but that beats our own previous best efforts. Mr. Cooper has applied his scientific knowledge to the production of superior Bull Dogs and his letter we are sure will interest our readers as much as it has ourselves. We are giving another view on this breeding question and that is represented in results obtained by a practical live-stock breeder of twenty-five years' standing. The results of this particular effort have been achieved through a series of operations extending back over more than ten years. At this time we commenced a system of line breeding from two hounds of the celebrated "Roseau" strain, the result of this a female four years ago was bred for a complete outcross to "Romanoff Atamen", a grandson of Int. Ch. "Krilenko." A daughter from this mating has now been bred to Ch. "Cossack Michael," also of the same famous Romanoff blood lines. This bitch was held till three years of age before being bred and resulted in six male puppies, all of the same size and length and each weighing one pound and a quarter at birth. At the same time two females of the Romanoff line, also over two years old, were bred to a son of "Michael" out of a Rosseau bitch. The sire in this case being the same age as the dams. Result six puppies of almost similar weight but in the first litter two males to four females and in the second, three of each. This confirms our theory previously stated that the younger sire generally produces the larger percentage of females whilst the older dog will produce most males. All females were only served once. Food consisted of 75% whole wheat product, 10% whole milk, 15% raw meat and cod liver oil. Neither matrons or stud dogs were confined, except at night, all hunted around as usual. There were no whelping troubles and the puppies were all fat but Dams a shade on the thin side. One bitch dug herself into a den four feet deep under an ancient spruce tree root to whelp and we had a little difficulty getting her out. There was a side issue to these experiments and that was in respect to markings. In an effort to produce an absolutely all white wolfhound we were not altogether completely successful, though three of the youngsters have only faint markings around the ears. On the other hand the rest of the puppies are marked with almost every variety of colour.

Mrs. F. L. McKenzie, of Kapuskasing, Ont., reports a litter of ten puppies ex "Cossack Vera," by Ch. "Cossack Michael". It is perhaps significant in view of the foregoing that this bitch was served twice. Mrs. McKenzie bought "Vera" through our little ad in the Breeders' Register and we would like to call the attention of Alberta readers to this inexpensive method of advertising. Our good friend has also bought that excellent Wolfhound "Russian Prince" from Mrs. Paterson of Romanoff fame. He is a beautiful chocolate coloured dog, with white face, collar and legs, sired by Int. Ch. Galaroff, ex Lady Olga, she by Ch. Orloff of Tolstoi ex Elegance. Vera's breeding is no less distinguished.

Mrs. McKenzie is certainly starting on the right lines and will be a force in the Russian Wolfhound game to be reckoned with in the near future.

The idea of cancelling the registration certificates of inferior pure-bred live stock is undoubtedly a sound one, but it is much simpler to carry out in a dairy breed which shows its results in the milk pail, than in any other form of live stock. We very much doubt if it could be applied to dogs; it is probably one of those things which sound better in theory than in actual practice. For instance, it is not always the Champion that produces Champions. And it is certainly contrary to our rule that compels us to provide a registration certificate with every pure bred dog, no matter of what quality.

ALBERTA FOX TERRIER ASS'N SPECIALTY SHOW.

The Judge's Impressions, by Judge E. Thirwill.

The Alberta Fox Terrier Associations' first annual show at which I had the privilege to judge, was very successful, being well organized and put on. The Fox Terriers brought before me were good terriers, the Wires were good all through, the Smooths were not so good, with a few very good ones amongst them. The Wire-coated terrier I put Best in Show is a well-balanced dog rather on the large side, but a sound one, the Smooth which was reserve is very good too and all I said about the Wire, I can say about him. In the other Wire classes I liked Bill Boliva Bristles very much, and would have put him right up, but he is showing his age a bit in his feet. The puppy Wire was a nice pup but needs to be out in more company to make him show. Burley Prince, the Novice winner, was the most stylish terrier I have seen for some time, and properly dressed should e hard to beat, he took best Novice, Wire or Smooth. The Novice dogs, were all good, though there was one nice dog shown far too fat. Mayart Six Shooter in the Limit dogs is a nice young one but needs time. The Open dogs class was a very good one, and not a bad dog in. I was very pleased with them. In the Wire bitch classes the Puppy and Novice brought out good type with Wymund Pricsilla winning. In the Canadian-Bred, I put Mrs. Winter's Matty up, she is a grand little terrier. In the Open Wire bitches I put up Farleigh Happy Giggles, a grand fronted dog; this class like the dog class did not have a bad one shown in it. Brockley Misty Morn is a good young one needing time. The Winners Bitches I gave to Matty, she was in better condition. I liked her very much.

The Smooths, Puppy on the large side, Novice a good little one, H. Price's Farleigh Coon Song in the Canadian-bred was a really good little one. In the Open class there were two outstanding terriers and it took me some time to make up my mind, but Farleigh Orcadian has a wonderful long lean head, and real terrier expression, a smart dog. Farleigh Coon Song, also belonging to H. Price, did not show so well in the Winners class. Farleigh Orcadian is a good terrier all through. In the Smooth Puppy bitches Farleigh Whimsical is a really good little terrier, Farleigh Fantastic is a nice lean headed bitch too, but had the misfortune to knock an eye coming in to the show. Farleigh Twinkle is a grand little bitch, Farleigh Pickanniny the Open winner is a real terrier, and shown in good condition.

The Show Superintendent, Mrs. Carr, and the ring stewards had their show very well managed. The clerk, Mr. Render, was very good, I had no waiting, and all dogs, when their owners were not there, had as good handling as if they were their own by the ladies, and Mr. McLeod, and Mr. Price. I met Mr. Tyrrell, Mr. J. C. Fletcher, Mr. Forest, and several gentlemen from Edmonton, who I was very pleased to meet. Mr. Price took me out to see Mrs. Carr's terriers on Sunday. Mrs. Carr has some very good dogs, and a wonderful place for them

COCKERS AND SPRINGERS AT THE CANADIAN NATIONAL.

By the Judge, Dr. H. B. Kobler

I should like to compliment the Cocker Spaniel exhibitors at the Canadian National Exhibition on the general appearance, type and quality of the dogs I had the pleasure to judge.

The Blacks and Parti-Colors reminded me of the days when we all had to come to Canada for a good Cocker. The Reds were much of a disappointment, they were either too small on the one hand, or too large on the other, and of course cannot be compared with the Blacks or Parti's.

The outstanding Cocker, and eventually the best Cocker at the show, Mistover Daffodil is a very beautiful lemon and white. She is a real Cocker and can maintain her place in any company. Nevertheless she was hard pressed by the typical Black Cocker, Prospector, who only need a bit of more weight to bring him up to scratch; he can be made a real contender quite easily.

Beauty of Barrie I made my third best. She is a beautiful Black bitch, just a trifle thick in front shoulders, and not quite square enough in muzzle. Mistover Daffodil, Prospector and Beauty of Barrie are indeed three very pleasing specimens.

I look for the winning puppy dog Middlesex Merewry to improve quickly and to come right to the front in Partis', at present this Cocker gives much promise. Generally speaking the Parti-color males like the Reds ran from one extreme to the other, too small and not very sound, or to large and inclined to oversize and coarseness—with the exception of the Buffs—and their color robs them of whatever chance they might have in strong competition.

The Brampton Kennels romped away with the Brace and Team classes with some uniformly nice Blacks that were really a delight to see.

In closing I may add that some otherwise good Cockers had to be placed 2nd and 3rd because of poor coats and bad ring manners. As a collection of Cockers they gave me very much pleasure indeed when judging them and I sincerely hope the Cockers coming to the Canadian National in the future, will be a better lot each succeeding year.

Springer Spaniels were a nice lot, but I had hoped to see a larger entry of this breed. What was lost in quantity was recompensed in the quality that came before me. The winners dog, Ch. Inveresk Collyshot, could be a bit shorter in body, and he could move a little better too, nevertheless he is a good sound Springer.

Open bitches brought out the cream of the entry, and easily the most typical of these I was obliged to place 3rd due to soft feet and sagging back, quite obviously not herself on the day. I was not flattered when placing this good bitch and felt that she had earned her retirement, and should have been resting on her laurels and not in competition, but rather leaving the strife to the younger animals. Second was Inveresk Countess, a bit large and not just right in rear. 1st the beautiful bodied Belmoss Rosebud, whose tendency towards "Roman nose" and lack of stop just keeps her from being a leader in Springers.

CO-OPERATION

By Canadian Kennel Club Director, W. H. PYM, Vancouver.

WITH the spring and summer dog show season at an end, one is inclined to look back and ask if we made the best of our opportunities. It is true that we had more shows than ever before, but the three and four point shows so common a few years ago were conspicuous by their absence. Can it be that we have become satisfied with the two point shows?

The Victoria City Kennel Club set a mark that will keep all the Coast Clubs busy to equal. This live organization went over the top with a four point show for the first time in twenty years, and every person exhibiting at this show was so satisfied that the Club Officials became dissatisfied and determined to have nothing less than a five point show next year, and it is a safe bet that those enthusiastic Victoria fanciers WILL have a five point show in 1930, and the secret of their succes is CO-OPERATION.

It can be said that we have too many shows on the mainland to secure three and four point rating with any degree of regularity. I do not agree with this theory at all, but I do believe we are taking our shows too seriously and overlooking essential success elements to our own detriment. Have we lost that enjoyable "Holiday spirit" that was so prevalent at all Coast shows ten and more years ago? The old timers well remember the days when the prairie contingent would make an invasion on the Coast with a car load of dogs, some good enough to win —others not so good, but everybody had a whale of a time just the same at those harmless house parties where everybody knew everybody else in five minutes.

It is true that a great many of the genuine fanciers of those days have gone to the Great Beyond, but still a glance at any dog show catalogue reveals the names of exhibitors who were prominent in the game fifteen years ago, as they still are to-day, and fanciers who didn't mind losing the odd night's sleep or being marooned for twenty-four hours on an overloaded launch in the Gulf of Georgia in their efforts to attend the Nanaimo show; to say nothing of the host of new fanciers who are the real back-bone of the fancy in any community, and it is my conviction that if we will pay a little more attention to that harmless holiday spirit, and not take our wins or losses as a life and death proposition, we will all benefit.

With the Coast City Kennel Club; the Victoria City Kennel Club; the Vancouver Kennel Club; and the Royal City Kennel Club; we have the material for a spring circuit that ought to draw entries from Winnipeg to Los Angeles. In the mid-summer we have the Nanaimo Kennel Club (Everybody likes Nanaimo), the Canada Pacific Exhibition show at Vancouver, and the Provincial Exhibition show at New Westminster, giving us three additional shows within a period of two weeks, which gives every successful exhibitor a wonderful opportunity to compete a championship on either the spring or mid-summer circuits. Is there any other part of Canada that can excel this group of shows as an attraction for outside exhibitors? Our American friends have generously supported our shows, Washington fanciers are looked upon as our own, and each year finds more Oregon exhibitors attending our shows, and it is certain that a California contingent would come to our shows if the proper effort was put forth to secure their entries.

Who among the old timers do not remember the benefits derived from the car loads of dogs that travelled the circuit a few years ago in charge of Jack Fletcher, George Kynoch, "Billy" Village, "Donny" Samson, E. P. Tuson, et al, to say nothing of the string of high class dogs brought out from the east by Bert Swann, including the bulldog Ch. Homewood Jumbo, Otta Knapps' Bostons; Int. Ch. Polar Maxim; and other luminaries of those days, with the great Mortimer, Crabtree, and others of note handing out the ribbons. I am not making the error of "clinging to a memory" when I say those were the days. Still we have better travelling facilities and more shows to-day than ever before and all it requires is a little get-together Spirit with a determination to co-operate and insure a maximum entry for each and every show within our reach regardless of what Club might be sponsoring the event to surpass all former records. Let we Coast fanciers send a string of dogs to the prairie shows, and invite those prairie fanciers to our shows, and have Secretary Strachan make another trans-Canada tour, and 1930 will go down in history as a banner year for the Canadian Kennel Club and the fanciers in general.

VANCOUVER PEKE GOES TO EVERETT, WASH.

Mrs. Jennie Larsen, of Everett, Wash., who has been a non-resident member of the C.K.C. for several years, evidently intends to have another string to her bow. A consistent exhibitor of Frenchies with the Lar-Sen prefix she is now assembling a kennel of Pekingese and is planning an intinerary that will take her to the California fall shows. Spotting "Wen Lew Velasques" after winning the novice dogs class at Everett as a worthy representative for her kennels Mrs. Larsen made a trip to Vancouver with the result that Mr. and Mrs. Stock will have one less peke to feed. By the Wen Lew Kennel's imported "Ockley Boo Boo," who is a product of Faraline and Chinatown blood out of the very prolific bitch Belle of Lakebourne, he is expected to make a name for himself both on the bench and at stud. His full brother, "Mo Ghradh of Wen Lew," who, in his two starts, went reserve winner to "Ch. Chong Yung Shi" in the States and winners dogs at the recent Nanaimo show, is being retained by his breeder for the Spring Circuit.

NATIONAL KENNEL CLUB SHOW.

That the National Kennel Club Show of 1929 is going to create new records for Canada is already conceded, since the list of judges—20 in number—constitutes a record in itself, and it is said, that, even this huge list may be added to yet, well, "the more the merrier." or "let 'em all come" type of phraseology style of acceptance being in order, it is obvious that each breed is to have its own special judge, perhaps we better qualify here and say, almost every breed will have its specialist judge.

The dates claimed are the 25th, 26th and 27th of November, the venue the Royal Coliseum, the judges, 20 in number, and the benching will be similar to that which caused sensations at Crupts, England, and Westminster Kennel Club, New York, this year, and Canadian fanciers who have not yet seen Spratts Patent Limited, latest type of benching have a treat in store for them when the Royal Dog Show is declared open. That this year's Dog Show is to be a feature of the "Royal" is already definitely assured.

The cash prizes, cups, trophies, etc., that are the attractions of the premium list, are to be won outright. The National Kennel Club will not countenance any offerings from clubs or individuals where strings have been attached for purposes of control, and "to be won outright" is a feature peculiar to the Royal Show alone.

That the Show will wear an international aspect is a foregone conclusion, seventeen of the twenty judges come from the United States. Exhibitors and handlers from the other side of the boundary line are, even now, swamping the Show Secretary, Captain H. Dudley Waters, M.C., at his office, Royal Winter Fair, King and York Streets, Toronto, with letters asking for information, premium lists, and extra entry forms. And, of course, the gallant Captain never tires of receiving such correspondence.

Izal will disinfect, Spratts will bench and feed, and accommodation will be made for 1,000 dogs if necessary, in fact the limit of entry will only be declared when the last entry has been recorded. There is lots of room and plenty of benching.

CHAMPION CLAPTON FOREVER IN DETROIT.

When F. W. Reynolds, Detroit, Michigan, was attending the Canadian National Exhibition Dow Show, he naturally found his way to the Smooth Fox Terrier section, he being an old-timer of 38 years standing behind the breed. Ch. Clapton Forever took his eye as she was all dolled up with the Special for Best Smooth in everything. So he slipped out and wired Bailey & Gromoll, of Ottawa, for their price, and on hearing the quotation wired acceptance.

Mr. Reynolds intends mating "the last of the Clapton Smooths" to her grandson, Ch. Flornell Lucky Pebble, who is his own property, and no doubt Mr. Reynolds will carry on the work laid down by the Clapton Kennels, who have declared their future policy to be wires only.

C. G. HOPTON JUDGING IN ENGLAND.

From England comes the information that Mr. C. G. Hopton is finding life pleasant as his health returns to normal. At Burton-On-Trent he will judge all-breeds for the Burton-On-Trent Kennel Association Members' Show. And whilst there he will empty a tankard of ale in a health to his friends this side of the Atlantic.

HERE AND THERE NOTES.

It is interesting to note that there are in Italy only two breeds of Sheep Dogs recognized by the Italian Kennel Club. One is the "Bergamasqui", which greatly resembles the French "Briand", and the other is the "Marimmano", or "the dog of the Abruzzi", which is to be found in Central Italy, especially in a region of Tuscany (Marimma).

Northumberland and Durham Fox Terrier Clubs' Championship Show was held on September 18 at Newcastle-on-Tyne. There was an entry of 284 and the judges were Capt. S. R. Vernon, Smooths and W. S. Glynn Wires. The Challenge Certificates in Smooths went to Semlok Superman and H.H. The Maharaja Dhiraj of Patalias Ch. Sample Magnum, and in Wires, That Timber and Ch. Penolley Calling gained the coveted honors.

The Manchester and Counties' Bulldog Club held its show on September 14 with 257 entries. The judge was Mr. Andrew Brooks. The Challenge Certificates went to Leese's Noisette and Naylor's Ch. Duncan Draftsman. A feature of the show was the struggle between Ch. Duncan Draftsman. and Ch. Pugilist. There was cheering for several minutes when Mr. Brooks decided in favor of the seven year old.

One Million Three Hundred Thirty-one Thousand Six Hundred Seventy-nine Dollars

(1,331,679.35)

This amount was received in March, 1929, by America's largest fox-breeding establishment,

Fromm Bros., Nieman & Co., of Thiensville, Wisconsin, for their 1928 crop of silver fox pelts sold at Public Fur Auction in January, 1929, in New York City.

Every one of the foxes that produced this stupendous result in tangible dollars was brought safely through the Worm Menace incident to Puppy-hood by means of

VERMICIDE CAPSULES

Is it to be wondered that this firm wrote us as follows:—

"We feel grateful to you people for the benefit derived from your Worm Capsules and cannot praise them enough. They have always stood the test and they stand supreme over all makes of worm remedies."

This year, Fromm Bros., Nieman & Co. have order from us no fewer than

27,000 No. 2 VERMICIDE CAPSULES

The Greatest Individual Order for a Worm Remedy on Record, for the safe bringing of their 1929 out-put of cubs to maturity.

Have you tried Vermicide Capsules on your Puppies?

Is it not better to play safe like Fromm Bros., Nieman & Co.?

"THREE MUSKETEERS"

THERE have been many trios noted for their winnings that have gone down into the records, but here is a trio that is perhaps not so well-known generally as some others that we have in mind. Yet, the trio here illustrated have won many notable battles individually and collectively. If the grim reaper had stayed his hand for a brief period, our story might well have concerned a winning team instead, but who may stay that ruthless hand?

By way of informal introduction to the "three worthies," let us hurry and say that reading from left to right the three celebrities are John Swire, Hollingsworth, near Manchester, England; J. A. Campbell, B.V. Sc., Toronto, Canada, and George Swann, The Clock, Glossop, near Manchester, England. Mr. Swire is notable as the Sire of our late friend, Norman K. Swire, and George Swann is famous as the Sire of our present friend, Bert Swann. The giant of the party is quite a feature and fixture in the Canine life of Canada.

We will endeavour to give our readers a thumb nail sketch of all three men, believing as we do that Kennel and Bench notaries will appreciate our efforts in this direction.

The Swire family is considered to be one of the oldest and most respected in all the extensive Hollingsworth district, and it is said that Norman's father can look back on over 60 years of business and social activity with considerable pride, his prime qualities as a citizen have endeared him to his community and beyond, and he is now recognized as a veritable and cherished landmark by old and young alike.

But it is John Swire, the hobbyist that we wish to speak about and his hobby leans entirely to more and better livestock. Many varieties of prize fowl have claimed his attention from time to time, with Bantams as his prime favorite variety. Rabbits, too, and of the many known varieties Dutch and English, were always foremost in his affections, prize pigeons have always taken up much of his time and attention.

His activities in the world of dogs are of particular interest, and to this source we trace the training and known ability of his late son, Norman, as an authority on pet stock generally and of dogs particularly. Mr. John Swire and his family have been associated with many breeds of dogs at one time and another, as they have journeyed down the years, Airedales, Russian Wolfhounds (Borgois in England), Schipperkes and etc. Mr. Swire himself has steadfastly sponsored the cause of the English Toy Spaniel, King Charles, Blenheims and Rubys, have in turn had their innings.

Bert Swann, Toronto, recalls with joy that over 30 years ago it was his privilege to travel many miles in Mr. Swire's company, the "end of the road," in each sojourn was always a dog show.

From English newspapers just to hand (Glossop Chronicle, August 30th), brings us the regrettable news that a "Big Loss to Public and Business Life of Glossop" has been sustained in the death of Thomas Swire, J.P., "after a life of useful and valued service." Thomas Swire had lived to the ripe age of 73 years, and his remains were borne to the grave by a host of loving friends, amongst which were his brothers, John (Subject of this Sketch): Hardy and Hezekiah. As the second oldest member of Devonshire Lodge, No. 625 of the Order of Freemasons, in which he had held the highest offices, no less than ten Past Masters were noted of the many craftsmen who had turned out to pay their last tribute of respect.

We trust that our fortunes may one day lead us to the door of Mr. John Swire, first to meet such a good man in the flesh, but chiefly for the sake of his dear departed boy, Norman K. Swire, who in his lifetime was your friend, my friend, our friend, and the always welcome friend of our dogs.

Next to be mentioned is Mr. George Swann, Glossop, life long friend of John Swire and cronies of an ancient vintage, whose likes and dislikes have been noticeable for their similarity, the one exception being that whilst Mr. Swire is admittedly an authority on dogs generally, Mr. Swann hastily and seriously refutes any insinuation concerning his ability or authority on dogs whether for the bench or the field.

"Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part, Happy to Meet Again"
Left to right: John Swire, Dr. J. A. Campbell, and George Swann.

However, the records cannot be overlooked when the subject turns to historical matters, and it is written that at the Kennel Club (England) show held at the Crystal Palace, in 1898, the subject of this part of our review, received the following telegram from his son Bert.

"Crystal Palace, Sydenham,

To Mr. George Swann,

Cocker Spaniel Breeders' Club of New England

332 NEWBURY STREET, BOSTON, MASS., U.S.A.

30 years ago, and further, it was that telegram that caused Mr. Swann, Sr. to fill the carpet bag and hie himself off to London town, not so much to see the dogs generally, as to see the immense entry of 121 Saint Bernards, and to immediately get a close-up of the particular dog that had cost so much money and that had been vanquished by "Ben," the joy and pride of the Swann family at that time.

Then, we are face to face with the knowledge that he fostered his son's fancier ambitions to the extent, that, to-day, one of his boys Fred Swann, is prominent in England, as a judge at Kennel Club Championship Shows, and another, Bert Swann, is equally prominent as a judge at Championship Shows in the United States and Canada, therefore, we must decline to accept old John Swann's denial of Canine knowledge or interest and rate him without bias according to our own findings. It is pleasant to know that the little "Scrap of yellow paper" that caused all the excitement 'way back in '98," is still in existence, as is Ben's Championship certificate even to this day.

Mr. Swann continues at 84 years to be continuously active at his business of Jeweller and Clockmaker, which business he has followed for the greater part of his life, and as such "grand old men" only live once, we sincerely trust that Mr. Swire, father of Norman, and Mr. Swann, father of Bert, will continue to be spared to their families, to their communities and to England.

The "Giant," to whom we have already referred is none other than Dr. J. A. Campbell, Honorary Veterinarian to the Canadian Kennel Club since 1913, who has just returned from an extensive visit to the Motherland with hurried visits across the English Channel, "To see the sights of Europe."

It was to Dr. Campbell's Hospital that the late Norman K. Swire naturally drifted upon his arrival in Canada; it was under Dr. Campbell's expert tuition that Norman so quickly became recognized as an adept in treating the smaller animals and particularly dogs of all breeds, and it is no secret that Norman was regularly referred to as Dr. Swire, a title that he had earned and richly deserved even though he had never passed through "The Halls of Learning," for the qualifying degree of V. S.

That a strong feeling of the father and son variety generated and developed to an amazing degree between Dr. Campbell and Norman K. Swire is now, and has always been well-known. Many tempting offers were made to Norman with a view to transferring his personality and known ability to other spheres, but no offer was ever sufficiently magnetic to sever the connection between him, and what he considered to be his life work, and when death broke up the partnership, no father ever grieved more for the loss of a son than Dr. Campbell grieved over the loss of his boy, Norman.

Always a busy man in the business and social life of Toronto, Dr. Campbell as a clever Veterinarian was selected by the City of Toronto for the position of Curator of the Public Parks where birds and beasts were on view for the public education and entertainment. Journeys into many countries have been made for the selection of wild life, and Dr. Campbell's many successful excursions have endeared him to the Toronto public. Rotary, too, made its claims on the Doctor's time, and he is favorably known as one of the most enthusiastic Rotarians in Canada, but with all these—and many other—inroads on the Doctor's time and means his Hospital has never once suffered, and our readers will realize first how much it meant to him to have a man trained by himself for his particular work, such as our late friend, Norman.

It was to Glossop that the giant Campbell made his way first when he reached England, there to meet in person the father of his boy, and methinks that our illustration may safely be left to tell the balance of our story in its own wonderful way, and as we draw this little sketch to a close we are impressed with the thought, that our story has only been told in part and in a very incomplete manner. The illustration itself tells a story that this writer's pen could never relate, so we leave it with our readers to furnish their own conception of its great wealth of meaning, and their own measure of further satisfaction.

Just another word, "The Norman K. Swire Memorial Fund" now stands at $225.00, in a few days the books will be closed. The writer realizes that many have overlooked our appeal in this direction, and now advises that this is positively the last call for subscriptions. If you happen to be one who has overlooked sending in your cheque, you may send it to J. D. Strachan, Kennel and Bench office, 25 Melinda St., Toronto, to-day.

NEW BRUNSWICK KENNEL CLUB SHOW

It was the twenty-first annual show of dogs that was staged at St. John on September 2nd to 5th in connection with St. John Exhibition, and as New Brunswick Kennel Club is one of those institutions where the members individually and collectively feel the responsibility to there Club, there are always plenty of workers to absorb the labors of the show. The officers are all experienced fanciers, many of them are old in the service sense of dogdom. Some are fixtures and have earned the right to be so considered. President Francis Kerr, Secretary Tom Linton, Superintendent John Scott are three that keep themselves in condition in the interests of their hobby—N.B.K.C.

Frank Addyman was judge of all breeds and his work was smooth and well accepted by all, visitors and local fanciers alike. Mr. Addyman retains his popularity in Canada, and after he has served any community in the capacity of Judge, he can always depend on being invited back there later.

OVERSEAS NOTES.

Baillie H. McNab Chassels, Boatbridge Scotland is sending another Springer Spaniel to the United States named Inveresk Cashier.

A new advertiser in our columns is Miss B. B. Douglass of Broughty Ferry, Scotland, who is very well-known as a breeder and exhibitor of the Pekingese. Miss Douglas has had many good wins to her credit in the Old Country, including nine firsts, four seconds and seven specials at the late Forfar Show. I would like to draw the attention of those interested in Pekes to the fact that a dog pup out of the bitch advertised was the best dog pup at Forfar Show, while a bitch pup was the best bitch pup at the same show.

The widow of a French deputy decided to sell Pekingese dogs as a method of earning her own living on the death of her husband. Instead of breeding, she inserted in the local papers—Pure-bred Pekingese lost, return to Mme. X. Reward £4. She found that many persons went out of their way to "find" Pekingese and she collected about a dozen every week. These she sold at a good profit and by the time the police stepped in she had cleared about £2,000.

The Leeds Dog Show Associations' Seventh Annual Championship Show was held at the Fenton Street and Harwood Barracks on Aug. 31. The Challenge Cup for the best Sporting dog or bitch in show was won by Ch. Lattamaid of Devoir. The Mellox Cup for the best Non-Sporting dog or bitch was won by Ch. Nizam of Woodhouse, that good bulldog which won the same honour at this show last year and the Challenge Cup for the best dog or bitch, owned by a member of the Association, also went to Ch. Nizam of Woodhouse, as did the 100 gn. Challenge Cup for the best exhibit in the show.

A meeting was held on August 9 in the Adelphi Hotel, Singapore, Straits Settlement, and is was decided to form a Kennel Club for Singapore. There were about forty persons present, two of whom were Chinese, the rest being Europeans and all immediately joined the proposed Club which was then formed and officers and committee appointed, with Mr. J. H. Wright, who judged at Joint Terrier Show, London, England in 1924, as Hon. Secy. One of the first objects of the new club is to hold a dog show in the near future. The last dog show to be held in Singapore was in 1910.

KINGSTON KENNEL CLUB SHOW

What was said to be the first annual all-breed dog show of the recently formed Kingston Kennel Club, was held in conjunction with the Kingston Industrial Exhibition at Kingston on September 11th to 13th, and proved itself a very pleasant addition to the last of Canadian shows. The dogs were benched under canvas and judged in the open air. The benching was all new and the atmosphere at all times was sweet and inviting. The president, W. M. Nickle, had his henchmen all drilled into the observance of dog show ethics at their best, and the results were all that could be desired. Liquor was absolutely taboo and anyone suspected of having a supply internal or external were promptly asked to excuse themselves from the building. On account of this precaution drinking openly or in secret was noticeable by its absence.

There were a few dogs that won classes where winners were withheld for lack of merit, but on the whole it was a classy entry, with many of the recent circuit winners benched. The judge, Mr. Reeves, showed his consistency when he again found his best specimen in the Bull Terrier Ch. Haymarket Dawn. No doubt Mr. Reeves will have some comment to offer on the show, and this will appear in his Canadian Notes elsewhere in this issue, so we will leave that to him for attention.

We desire to thank Messrs. Nickle, Dudley (Secretary), and Brunett (Superintendent) for the many courtesies and kindnesses shown to the writer when he attended the show. It was a pleasure to attend Kingston show, and we trust that it will indeed be an annual affair.

The gate was well patronized on the Wednesday and Thursday and approximately 3,000 people paid admission to see the dogs. Unfortunately Friday came in wet and gloomy and practically closed the fair itself; only for this undesirable feature a record attendance for a small show would easily have been made at Kingston.

MRS. M. STEVENS GETS A NEW BOSTON.

Mrs. M. Stevens of the Jubilee Kennels, Toronto, has the happy faculty of bringing out a new Boston to our shows every once in a while, and usually, her choosing stamps her as a connoisseur of no mean ability, as has been demonstrated time and again since she joined the ranks of the Boston fraternity in Toronto.

This time the new comer will be the aptly named Jubille's Dapper Dan who comes from the Nichols' Kennels. Dan is out of a bitch by Ch. I'm the Guy and is bred to be a producer and winner and no doubt he will make his debut just as soon as his fair owner considers him to be ready.

CAIRNS ARE COMING BACK.

It was quite encouraging to notice at recent shows some nice entries in Cairn Terriers. As for instance at the Canadian National Exhibiton, where an even entry of five were benched, four of these had come across the Atlantic, two from Scotland and two from England, whilst the fifth was said to have been born in Cincinnatti, Ohio.

Western Canada has its cairns coming along strongly, at Winnipeg and at the Coast there are many good specimens kenneled.

Mrs J. K. King, of Bolls Rapids, Ont., has been bringing out the odd good cairn from the Motherland, and her most recent importation is Fussy of Hyver, a splendid bitch by Dutton of Gunthorpe, ex Choice of Hyver, who is by Ch. Gillie of Hyver. Fussy, before leaving England, was bred to Brotum, a son of Offley Brick, with the result that Mrs. King is daily admiring a litter of four nice puppies which combine the choicest bloods of the Cairn world.

CANCELLATIONS.

Wire Fox Terrier, Puppy Dogs, "Richmond Dark Boy" Ineligible, being too young.

Maritime Notes and News

By Provincial Contributing Editor, MRS. HELEN DOHERTY, Nova Scotia.

THE seventh annual show of the Nova Scotia Kennel with, and on the fair grounds, of the provincial Club was held for the first time in conjunction exhibition. The attendance was large, and the many advantages obvious, but on the other hand there were some unpleasant features which must not be overlooked. Only the fact that this, the initial showing with the Exhibition must be made a success, kept the dogs of many of the exhibitors on their benches. Not an inconsiderable number of people, arriving at the fair grounds, refused to enter, because the full admission fee was demanded, before they were allowed to proceed to the dog show building and obtain their passes. Prejudice dies hard, and here again, the Exhibition management made another grave error; the dog exhibitors were charged just double the amount, for a four day pass, that the other exhibitors paid for a pass good for the duration of the whole week. After much trouble and many meetings, we believe this matter was finally adjusted.

The building itself, a frame one, was much too small and low roofed to allow sufficient air and ventilation, but better things were promised for next year, and on the strength of this, the exhibitors and show committee struggled bravely on amidst many handicaps. A double fakirs' row completely obscured the building from sight, and it was only by dint of signs and much advertising that many visitors knew how to "go to the dogs."

The exercising field was ideally situated and enclosed for privacy, but once again we suffered from lack of space, and it is to be hoped that another year at least two places will be provided, one for the larger, and one for the smaller dogs.

In the olden days before the great explosion — which tragedy has determined a local B.C. and A.D. — the provincial exhibitions were held from about the fifteenth to the twenty-fifth of September. This proved more satisfactory to everyone, and the exhibits, such as fruit, vegetables, etc., were at their best, the work on the farms was done, and the farmers could more easily get away and come to town, the weather was less trying to man and beast, and the first vague hints of autumn in the air, seemed to put an added freshness into everyone and everything. Since the re-opening of the annual fair, it has been held almost a month earlier, and the disadvantages are noticeable.

As though to try the patience of the dogs and exhibitors to the limit, the weather was exceedingly warm, particularly on the opening day, when the attendants were kept busy with the ice and water. Eventually, it was decided to keep some of the more excitable dogs outside and underneath the building, where in the coolness and privacy they became normal once again.

The judge, Mr. Alfred Delmont, of Wynnewood, Penn., is to write up the show, with comments and criticisms of the various dogs which came before him, so I shall confine myself to general comments and ringside observations. While it seems humanly impossible to please everybody, it is some time since so little dissatisfaction with the placings has been voiced. Always ready to explain his decisions, Mr. Delmont has courtesy, and that rare thing—in judges—punctuality itself. His work in the ring was pleasant to watch, and each and every dog was gone over thoroughly.

Most of the old faces, and many new ones too, were noted around the ringside. Madame Beland was rewarded for her journey from Montreal by eventually going best of opposite sex to H.M. McLeod's Irish setter bitch, "Champion Lady Haliburton," put down in wonderful bloom, and in which Mr. Delmont found his best in show all breeds. Mr. Lasky from Saint John, was with us once again, and Harry Armistead was here with the splendid entry of nine "Ormsbys." Mrs. Frost of Saint John was present with a lovely pair of Boston terriers, "Dorchester Billie Hagerty" and "Lady Wynnewood," which were eventually winning dog and winning bitch, best of breed going to the local bitch, John Reid's "Champion the Little Rosebud."

Miss Alice O'Brien showed a new bitch, a recent importation from Mrs. Charters' kennels called "St. Margaret Mirth." This is a remarkably well balanced bitch, and is easily in the front rank of Canada's Sealy-hams. All ready a proven brood, this bitch should do much for the Cardigan kennels, both in the ring and in the nursery.

Several young dogs, mostly home-breds, were a credit to their breeders, and tell more than mere words, of the most striking examples of this, province, towards the improvement in type of the thorough bred dog. One of the most striking examples of this is the Borzoi "Peterhoff of Marlboro," bred and owned by the Marlboro kennels of Halifax. This youngster accounted for best of breed, best puppy any variety, (this being the eighth time this honour was won by a pup bred in these kennels), best novice dog or bitch. Needless to say, he was put down in the usual good form for which these kennels are noted. J. D. Whiteley, of Bedford, was the breeder of another good one, the bull terrier, "The Gay Caballero of Nova," which was placed best of breed, and winner of the Special, Members' Best Terrier. Mrs. P. A. Margeson of Kentville, was present with a nice entry, and looked once more like her old self after her recent severe illness. Congratulations are due, as we understand "Pagan Prince of Cedarcrest," finished his championship at this show and now bears the princely title in both senses. Ralph R. Proctor's great Dane bitch, "Model of Evangeline," F. W. Johnson's smooth fox terrier, "Onyx of Evangeline," and W. A. Baker's bulldog, "Lord Roberts," were other home-breds which gave a good account of themselves.

In spite of all the handicaps, such as weather, size, or rather lack of size of building, smaller number of dogs, etc., the show was another step forward in the right direction, and all things being considered, was smoothly managed and run, with the spirit of good sportsmanship prevailing.

Owing to the crowded quarters it was a bit difficult to do much in the way of decorating benches, but even this did not deter the indomitable H. M. McLeod, and M. B. Zwicker. The Irish setters were a most taking exhibit with their rich red coats against a background of spruce, and the whiteness of the Russian wolfhounds was more fully emphasized against their kennel colours of purple and gold.

There was not a member of the Nova Scotia Kennel Club, who was not saddened by the sudden and tragic death, just the week following the show, of John Mahoney, Minister of Natural Resources. A young man, still in his early thirties, he enjoyed the esteem of all who knew him. Possessed of that rare quality in public men, the courage of his convictions, he was a staunch supporter of the Kennel Club, and it was largely due to his efforts that the show was held in conjunction with the Exhibition. By his death, the Club has lost a real friend.

"BLACKIE" (unregistered), Newfoundland, bred by Isaac Hann, now owned by John S. Pollock, Saint John, N.B. New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1926, 3 points; New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1927, 4 points; New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1928, 3 points.

"MAX" (unregistered), Newfoundland, bred by Dr. Jenkins, Gagetown, N.B., now owned by O. S. Trentowsky, Saint John, N.B. New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1927, 1 point; New Brunswick Kennel Club, September, 1927, 2 points; New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1928, 4 points; New Brunswick Kennel Club, 1929, 3 points.

that the Canadian system of live stock record keeping, controlled as it is under The Live Stock Pedigree Act, is the admiration of the live stock world—insomuch that South Africa and Newfoundland have adopted our system almost in toto. Countries not of the British Empire are keenly interested in Canadian systems. Norway and Germany have adopted the Canadian system of fox registration, and it is said that other European countries, including Switzerland and Austria, are about to do so. Therefore, we have come to be extraordinarily zealous and jealous of our records, and it is not surprising in the remotest degree that we have looked upon all recent prosecutions under The Live Stock Pedigree Act with a calmness and absolute lack of sympathy with the transgressors—that, in certain quarters, we have been described as a cruel and heartless organization.

Annually, the breed associations that operate under the Act, spend stupendous sums of money in compiling books of record that bear the hall-mark of authenticity as far as human effort is able to make them so, and it is an absolute outrage when the unscrupulous breeder or dealer seeks to bring contamination into the records. And just as cold-blooded murder incenses the populace against the murderer, so does contamination —direct or indirect — incense those whose lives are spent on compiling dependable records against those who seek to contaminate or corrupt. It is small wonder, then, that we have no sympathy with the contaminators or corruptors of our records. So let it be thoroughly understood that wrongdoers, irrespective of who they are or may be, shall take their punishment under the Act, to whatever extent the courts of Canada may decree, without any particle of sympathy from organizations interested in dependable record-keeping. On the contrary, we shall deliberately assist in the prosecution of such, so that the Live Stock Pedigree Act shall be the deterrent that will keep Canada before the live tawa Valley, Ontario, and extending as far west as Innisfail, Alberta, and through into several important centres in the United States, an extensive investigation was carried out under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, with the result that before the investigations were concluded, and in spite of all influences, convictions for the false registrations of various breeds were secured. Numerous cases were presented to the courts; convictions were almost invariably obtained, and fines approximating no less than a sum of $10,000 and costs were imposed. Alternate jail sentences were imposed in every instance—the maximum sentence of three months in each case, and in instances where several convictions were obtained against the same transgressor, time sentences were made to run consecutively and not concurrently.

The investigations were wide open in their scope. The investigator was authorized to and did visit the exporters in Canada and importers in the United States, and those who registered or attempted to register animals featuring in the investigations. The results were considered to be highly satisfactory to the Canadian National Live Stock Records Committee, and to all the associations operating under the Act, and particularly so to the Canadian Kennel Club, a member association desirous of absolute authenticity in its own records.

These investigations were made at the request of the Canadian National Live Stock Records to the Federal Department of Agriculture, and were authorized by Commissioner Courtland Starnes, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who detailed Detective-Sergeant Frederick Syms, of the Criminal Investigation Branch, to conduct the enquirings. From results stated above, the several cases were thoroughly investigated and reached the proper completion.

That we heartily compliment the Live Stock Records Committee, the Federal Department of Agriculture, ada, it is only fair to say that, with the exception of one individual implicated in the foregoing, all were dealers and not breeders.

In addition to the investigations made by Detective-Sergeant Syms, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police throughout Canada have been looking into several other alleged violations of the Live Stock Pedigree Act.
