THE ANNUAL MEETING

THE Annual Meeting for 1930 passed off smoothly and harmoniously, as has been the custom with our Annual Meetings during the past few years. It was not ever thus, but the other side of the picture was only a passing phase, and had much to justify it in the conditions which existed, and which have since been almost completely rectified. The financial statement, while not as satisfactory as one could have wished, was as good as could be expected under prevailing conditions, and the net result was a substantial addition to our accumulated surplus. The meeting was held in the luxurious Library of the Royal York Hotel and the surroundings could not have been improved upon.

Once more we had the pleasure of welcoming our out-of-town Directors and this year, for the first time, they were all present. The Annual Meeting was, as usual, preceded by a meeting of Directors which lasted practically all day, and in which many contentious problems were "ironed out." This Annual Directors' Meeting, with all parts of Canada represented, is just about the most valuable meeting of the whole year.

VISIT OF A.K.C. OFFICIALS

During the week of the Annual Meeting we had the pleasure of greeting and entertaining Dr. John E. deMund, President; Mr. Charles T. Inglee, 1st Vice-President, and Mr. P. Hamilton Goodsell, 2nd Vice-President of the American Kennel Club, who came to Toronto to officiate as judges at the Norman K. Swire Memorial Show. It was a great delight to meet these gentlemen and to discuss with them the relations between our two organizations and the problems confronting both. They are very enthusiastic about the beneficial results accruing from the system of licensing professional handlers which they have recently introduced, and this question will be seriously considered by the Canadian Kennel Club during the year. They are also indissolubly wedded to the licensing of judges, and they are very anxious that we should co-operate with them in both matters, which co-operation would automatically come, under the reciprocity agreement between the two clubs if our club adopted either or both.

CROPPING

This is another matter which must be considered during the year. The Solicitor for the Toronto Humane Society has been instructed, we understand, to prepare certain amendments to the Criminal Code to be presented at the present session of the House of Commons, and we understand that cropping is one of the subjects to be dealt with. We had always been under the impression that in England cropping was definitely forbidden by the Criminal Code, but we find that there is no law against it, but merely a Kennel Club rule. There is, however, a law forbidding cropping without a general anaesthetic, and we are told that an application will be made for the insertion of a similar provision in our Criminal Code.

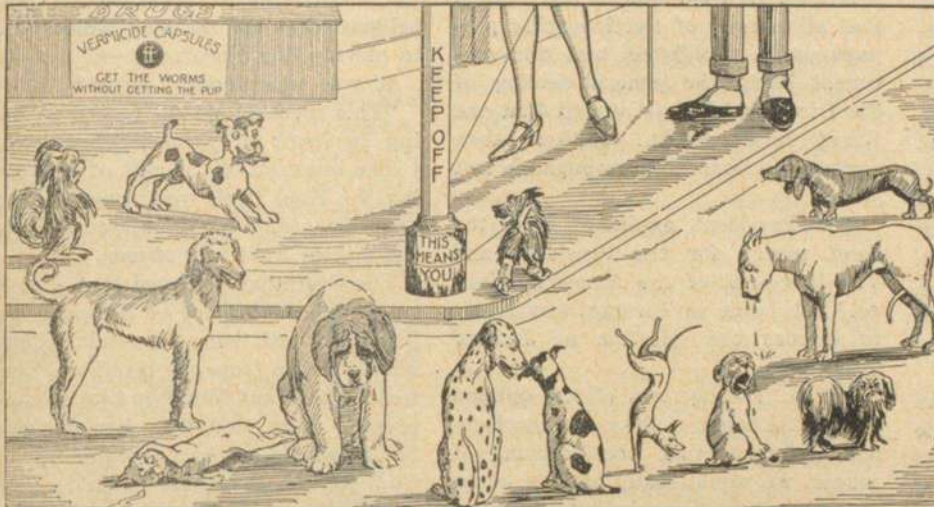

IMPORTERS AND BREEDERS

One constantly hears stories about enormous prices being paid by wealthy New Yorkers for imported dogs. Most of these stories are well authenticated, and it is quite well known that several of the prominent New York dog fanciers will pay any price for a dog that can win at Westminster and give their English agents practically carte blanche as far as the purchase price is concerned. One is rather puzzled at this conception of sportsmanship. Compared with winning with a dog of your own breeding, this winning combination of a fountain pen and a cheque book must be very tame. Apparently, however, they must get some satisfaction out of it, because we find that in the Open Class for Wire-Haired Fox Terrier dogs there were fourteen entries, not one of which had been bred by the exhibitor. Similarly in Open Bitches, there were twelve entries, not one of which was exhibited by the breeder. I choose the Wire-haired as an example because it is one of the most popular breeds, and also because the winner of Open dogs was placed Best in Show.

TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE!!!!

In many towns in England by-laws have recently been passed making an owner responsible for the good behavior and cleanly habits of his dog when abroad on the streets.

The sign of  a good thing

This is the time of year when the prudent breeder takes steps to protect the youngsters from the Great Worm Menace

incidental to puppyhood by worming every one of them at about one month of age with the

No. 2 size (round)

VERMICIDE CAPSULES

It used to be thought that puppies should be wormed at about weaning age, viz., six weeks, but many a breeder has learned to his regret that it is often then too late, owing to the now scientifically-proven fact of pre-natal infestation. Therefore, the only safe and sure course to follow is to begin worming at one month. But the danger is even then not past, for a worm can gain access to the intestines the day after the animal has been treated and freed and will reach maturity and be reproducing its kind within three weeks. Therefore, the only absolute protection against this insidious scourge is every month until the highly worm-susceptible age is well past, viz., at six months. It is then wise to treat once more at nine months and again at one year and thereafter every six months throughout life.

A switch should be made from the No. 2 size (round) to the No. 1 size (oval) at three months of age.

CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB INC. ANNUAL MEETINGS

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB INC.

A Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the Club's Offices on Friday morning, February 7th, 1930, commencing at 11 o'clock. The President, Col. G. F. McFarland presided.

The following Directors were in their Chairs when the meeting was called to order—1st Vice-President, Col. J. N. MacRae, (Galt); 2nd Vice-President, J. W. Bruce, (Richmond Hill) and Directors Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, (Niagara-on-the-Lake), W. H. Pym, (Vancouver), Alex. McCloy (Victoria), J. H. Tanton, (Edmonton), A. P. Semple, (Regina), G. Kynoch, (Winnipeg), Thos. P. Ritchie, (Montreal), Wm. R. Aitken, (Montreal), Robt. B. Laskey, (St. John), W. H. Reeves, (Belleville), V. G. Perry, (London), Reg. P. Sparkes, Major Ward Wright and Capt. H. Dudley-Waters.

The President announced that there was no regular agenda, and that the meeting was arranged so that the visiting Directors could get acquainted and to review such matters as might be introduced by the Directors.

Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles introduced the topic of cropping, and referred to the enactments recently passed in New York and Massachusetts and gave it as his opinion that the matter of cropping was catching on, and that the matter of public opinion against the practice was spreading.

Mr. V. G. Perry, himself a breeder of Bostons, a breed affected by the question, was emphatic in his declaration that cropping was a dirty, messy business no matter who performed the cropping, nor how it was done.

Mr. Wm. R. Aitken advised that cropping was prohibited in Great Britain at the instance of the Kennel Club there and that the Kennel Club had been requested to prohibit the practice by Queen Alexandra.

Mr. A. McCloy suggested that, if the Canadian Kennel Club would prohibit cropped dogs from appearing at shows under its rules, half the battle would be then won.

Mr. W. H. Reeves remembered that the argument in England, was, that if cropping was prohibited the breeds affected would suffer and probably become extinct, such had not been the case however, but on the contrary some breeds had actually increased 75 per cent. after the measure became Kennel Club law.

A test vote showed that 8 were in favor of abolishing cropping and that 7 were otherwise minded.

Mr. R. P. Sparkes said the vote was unfair, and that if there was to be any prohibition of cropping, that the matter be left for the members at large to decide.

The matter of electioneering propaganda was reviewed, and Mr. J. W. Bruce was of the opinion that if it was allowed to continue, that it might quite easily become the means of disrupting the Club.

Mr. W. H. Pym was of the opinion that all manner of electioneering propaganda be prohibited, and this sentiment being the general feeling of the Directors, it was agreed that the Board re-affirm its position taken against electioneering propaganda last year.

The President explained that the chief reason for the President and Vice-President of the American Kennel Club being in Toronto, was really to discuss the question of Judges' licenses.

Mr. A. McCloy was of the opinion that in the event of the Canadian Kennel Club adopting the licensing of judges, we would really have to adopt the American Kennel Club licensing system, but he felt, that when an application came before the Board of Directors at Toronto, it should be referred to the Provincial Committee from which the application had come, as the Provincial Officers would more than likely know more about the calibre and ability of the applicant than the Toronto officers could be expected to know.

The President advised that it was his desire that the question of licensing judges should be thoroughly discussed before the American Kennel Club Officers, came before the Directors later on in the day.

Mr. J. W. Bruce said that it was known that certain licensed judges carried the privilege for some breeds that they were not familiar with, a circumstance that was to be deplored. Licensed judges should be men who knew their breeds, men of high moral calibre and likely to uphold the dignity of the Canadian Kennel Club.

Mr. W. Reeves advised that the American Kennel Club would not issue their judging licenses to anyone who made their livelihood from trafficking in dogs or in dog foods or furnishings.

Col. J. N. MacRae explained what constituted the qualifications to secure a Judge's license under A.K.C. rules and what disqualified.

It was unanimously agreed that,—"This meeting go on record as being in favor of Judges being licensed."

The licensing of Handlers was next considered, and the matter of drunkenness amongst handlers at recent Shows was discussed. It was pointed out that we had good handlers that really were a credit to the Canadian Kennel Club, but unfortunately we had others that were not, and it was reported, that, the handlers in the United States were pleased that the American Kennel Club had arranged for their being licensed, and it was believed that the measure would tend to elevate dog showing.

It was unanimously agreed that—"This meeting go on record as being in favor of licensing handlers."

The question of the cost of publishing the Stud Book was reviewed, and after discussion it was agreed to leave the matter as it now stands.

The Secretary reported that a most successful conference of Beaglers had been held, and that as a result a Committee drawn from the Hamilton, Central Ontario and Windsor Clubs would prepare rules that they hoped would be acceptable to the Canadian Kennel Club for the governing of field championships.

It was agreed that the Canadian Kennel Club would prepare a plan that will cover the whole question of field trials.

This being the business coming before the meeting at this time, It was moved—

"That this meeting do now adjourn."

NOTE: These minutes are subject to correction when presented for adoption at the next meeting of the Directors.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Friday afternoon, February 7th, 1930, at 2 o'clock promptly.

Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland was in the Chair. Directors present were—J. W. Bruce, Col. J. N. MacRae, Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, W. H. Pym, Alex. McCloy, J. H. Tanton, A. Semple, George Kynoch, Wm. R. Aitken, Thos. P. Ritchie, Robt. B. Laskey, W. H. Reeves, V. G. Perry, Reg. P. Sparkes, Major Ward Wright and Capt. H. Dudley-Waters.

Guests attending—Dr. J. de Mund, P. Hamilton Goodsell and Charles T. Inglee (American Kennel Club); Jno. W. Brant, R. G. T. Hitchman, William McCulloch and T. Gunderson (Live Stock Records Office).

Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland said it gave him a great deal of pleasure to note the unique event of having as guests of the Canadian Kennel Club, Dr. John de Mund, President of the American Kennel Club, together with his First Vice-President, Mr. P. Hamilton Goodsell and Mr. Charles T. Inglee, Second Vice-President. He appreciated having their company and the opportunity to discuss with them such matters as licensing judges, licensing handlers and any other questions of mutual advantage. The President called on Dr. de Mund to address the meeting.

Dr. de Mund said that he considered it to be a great privilege to be attending a meeting of the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club at a time when every Province was represented. For the past twenty years he had worked strenuously to bring about a healthy state of understanding and good feeling between the two neighboring Kennel governments. He recalled that quite recently a conference had been held at New York when the Canadian Kennel Club was represented by its able President and Secretary, with the happy result that a measure of reciprocity was drawn up, decided upon, and was soon found to be in actual operation, with mutually beneficial results to both organizations. Again referring to his pleasure at being present, he called upon Mr. P. Hamilton Goodsell to further address the meeting.

Mr. P. Hamilton Goodsell said he greatly appreciated being able to attend the meeting, to be privileged to address the Directors, and to say a few words. The American Kennel Club and the Canadian Kennel Club were engaged in the same business and were both working to the same end, the betterment of the breeding of dogs. Questions of mutual interests were continually confronting both organizations. The American Kennel Club had been obliged to take measures for the improvement of the sport, one such measure being the licensing of judges. The system adopted for licensing judges was believed to have yielded desirable results, inasmuch as a man would be obliged to think twice before he would swear false information to secure a judge's license, and his friends would hesitate to swear such information wrongly. Mr. Goodsell said he hoped he had not left the impression that it was their desire that the Canadian Kennel Club should adopt their system of licensing judges.

Dr. De Mund having thanked the Board for hearing Mr. Goodsell and the other representatives, retired at this point.

The Directors from the several Provinces reported on the Kennel activities in their respective Provinces.

Mr. McCloy introduced the matter of permitting the general membership to have a say on major matters concerning the Club, such as proposed amendments to the Constitution or Dog Show Rules.

The President advised that he was quite in sympathy with such an arrangement, and it was agreed that the proposal meets with the approval of the Board, and that they would endeavour to have it carried through as soon as possible.

A letter was read from The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, which embodied the following resolutions:—

"Resolved that the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., be requested to reimburse its Provincial Directors for expenses incurred by them in attending Dog Shows in their particular Provinces held under Canadian Kennel Club rules in his capacity as a representative of that Club to the extent of his railway fare. After discussion, it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

That, for the year 1930, when it is found necessary to have a Canadian Kennel Club Inc. Director attend any licensed show held in his district as representative of the interests of the Canadian Kennel Club, that the railway fare and expenses of such Director be paid, the sum not to exceed $150.00 per year in any one Province."

A letter was read from The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, and was referred to the General Meeting for attention.

A letter was read from the recently formed Western Cocker Spaniel Club of Canada, requesting the Canadian Kennel Club to instruct judges to judge Cocker Spaniels according to the Canadian standard which calls for Cocker Spaniels weighing between 23 lbs. and 28 lbs.

It was agreed to refer the matter to the Cocker Spaniel Club of Canada.

A letter was read from The Alsatian Shepherd Club of Canada, which advised, that, at the Annual General Meeting of that Club, an amendment to the Constitution and By-Laws had been voted on and passed, which had changed the name of the Club to "The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada."

A letter was read from The Alsatian Shepherd Dog Club of Canada which advised that it was the desire of that Club, to have the Canadian Kennel Club arrange for and recognize the title "Field Trial Champion."

It was agreed to consider this matter when the general question of Field Trials came before the Board later.

A letter was read from The Canadian Association of Exhibitions and it was agreed on motion to refer the letter to the General Meeting.

A complaint was read protesting against the manner in which the recent election of Officers of the Canadian Kennel Club had been conducted in the Province of Manitoba.

It was agreed to leave the matter in abeyance for the present.

Nominations for representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair were called for and on motion regularly moved, seconded and carried, H. Clayton, Col. J. N. MacRae and Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland were declared re-elected.

Nominations for the Election Commission were asked for, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried;—

"That, the Election Commissioners for the year 1928 be re-elected for the year 1929."

The proposed amendment to article 3, section 7 of the Constitution, as submitted by the President on behalf of the Live Stock Records was duly seconded and upon a vote being taken the motion was declared carried and the amendment adopted.

The proposed amendment to Article 7, Section 1 of the Constitution as submitted by the President was submitted to the meeting, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried;—

"That, Article and Section as amended be adopted.

The proposed amendment to amend Article 16 of the Constitution with a new section to be known as Section "L" as proposed by W. H. Pym was introduced and was discussed at great length (whilst the discussion was on the President asked to be excused to attend another appointment and called upon Col. J. N. MacRae, First Vice-President to take the chair).

The motion having been seconded was put to the vote and declared carried and the motion adopted.

The proposed amendment to dog show rule 21 was submitted, seconded and having been voted upon was declared carried and the amendment adopted.

The proposed amendment to dog show rule 5, was seconded and having been voted upon was declared carried and the amendment adopted.

The proposed amendment to dog show rule 30 and the adoption of new rules to be known as rules 31, 32 and 33. Much discussion arose whilst consideration was given the proposed amending of rule 30 and the proposed new rules, so with certain alterations all covered by resolutions properly presented and carried, the amendment to rule 30 and the new rules 31, 32 and 33 were put to the meeting, voted upon and carried and the amendment and new rules as altered, adopted.

At this point the Vice-President declared the business ended and the meeting open to the members for their pleasure.

The matters of Kennel License and signing ballots were discussed and at 11.40 P.M. the meeting was declared adjourned by motion.

PRES. McFARLAND: What is your pleasure with regard to the minutes?

MOVED BY Mr. Shawley,

SECONDED BY Capt. Waters

THAT the minutes be adopted as read.—CARRIED.

PRES. McFARLAND: The next order of business is

THE PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

INTRODUCTION.

Once more I have to thank the members very cordially for re-electing me by acclamation as your President for 1930. I think it is a very significant fact that the entire directorate has been re-elected. The fact that no change whatever in personnel has taken place through the recent elections must surely indicate that the membership at large is satisfied with the manner in which the business of your Club has been conducted during the year 1929.

May I crave your indulgence for a few moments to be devoted to personal reminiscences and to an announcement? I first became President of the Club in 1925 on the death of the late lamented Joseph Russell, under that section of the constitution which provided for the election of a President by the directors for the balance of an unexpired term. As First Vice-President, I had been Acting President for two years previous to that, during the illness of Mr. Russell. I was elected President at the Annual Meeting in 1926 and was re-elected in '27, '28, '29 and '30, the last three times by acclamation. It will thus be seen that when I have finished the present year, I shall have been performing the duties of the office for about seven years. I have given a great deal of my time to the Club's affairs, but it has been at all times a labour of love and I have been amply repaid in the firm friendships that I have made thereby and the delightful companionship of the men who became my friends. During my term of office I have seen the Club transformed from a narrow, unstable, loosely-knit organization, with a membership nursing grievances and exhibiting petty animosities, into a strong, financially-sound and harmonious organization, performing efficiently the purposes for which it exists. I wish, therefore, to announce that unless something entirely unforeseen, occurs, I shall not offer myself for re-election as President in 1931. That intention is supported, in addition to what I have said before, by my deep conviction that it is not fair to other members of the Club, who have given so much of their time and talent to its affairs, that they should not be given an opportunity of filling the highest office in the gift of the members.

Once more we have the pleasure of welcoming our out-of-town delegates, which we do most warmly, and we have a special welcome for Messrs. Laskey, Tanton, McCloy and Semple, who visit us now for the first time. The value of these annual visits to the Club is so firmly established that I cannot foresee any return to the old system.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The financial statement for 1929 which is in your hands is not as satisfactory as we could have wished, but it is merely a reflection of the universal condition of the business world. You will note that the surplus for the year is $1,530.62. The surplus for 1928 was $3,857.36, so that our profit on the year's operations shows a decrease of $2,326.74. If you will examine the statement, you will see that our expenditures for the year are just about the same as in 1928, so that the inevitable conclusion is that our revenue has decreased. Examining the items we find that "Kennel and Bench" shows a deficit of $650.00, and that the membership fees decreased by $600.00, the registrations by $1,075.00, and the income from rules and listings by about $200.00, while the sales of the stud book increased by $250.00. (These are all approximate figures, the odd dollars and cents being left out). These decreases in revenue supply the explanation and a comparative examination of the books shows that the decrease occurred in the last four months of the year, corresponding to the severe business depression which was universal throughout the country. Our Auditor tells me that in every single audit which he has made of the books of business concerns of any kind, this decrease in the revenue for the last four months of 1929 has occurred, so that I do not think that we need exercise ourselves unduly over it. The net result of the year's operations is the addition of $1,530.62 to our accumulated surplus, which is now $39,374.20 and is all liquid, being in cash and bonds, except the item of $2,600.00, "accounts receivable." The deficit on "Kennel and Bench" is accounted for largely by a decrease in revenue of $500.00 and an increase in the cost of half-tones of $360.00.

During the year we invested an additional $2,000.00 in Ontario Government 6 per cent. Bonds maturing in 1936.

MEMBERSHIP AND REGISTRATIONS.

The paid-up membership for 1929 decreased slightly over 1928. In 1928 we had 1,547 members and in 1929, 1,460, a decrease of 87. The membership for 1929 is distributed by Provinces as follows:—

Ontario	766
British Columbia	179
Quebec	169
Manitoba	93
Saskatchewan	87
Alberta	85
New Brunswick	24
Nova Scotia	21
Prince Edward Island ..	5

In addition to the above, we have 30 members in the United States and 1 in England.

From this statement it will be seen that more than one-half of the total membership is in Ontario, and that British Columbia is in second place with Quebec third.

The registrations by Provinces were as follows:—

Ontario	4,140
Quebec	1,223
British Columbia	920
Alberta	553
Manitoba	549
Saskatchewan	521
Nova Scotia	98
New Brunswick	82
Prince Edward Island ..	10
United States	32

Total 8,128

In 1928 the registrations were 8,849, so that here again is a decrease of 721. It might be noted that whereas British Columbia leads Quebec in the number of memberships the order is reversed in the matter of registrations.

I have been perusing a copy of the official organ of the Club for June, 1890, and it is interesting to note that the registrations for the month of May of that year amounted to 31. For the month of May, 1929, the registrations were 589. It is interesting also to note the breeds which were registered for the month of May, 1890. Here is the list:—

Cockers	9
Black and Tan Terriers	7
English Setters	7

and the following breeds one registration each, viz:—

Mastiff, Pug, Irish Terrier,
Gordon Setter, Greyhound,
Irish Setter, Field Spaniel,
Irish Water Spaniel.

You will note that practically all of the most popular breeds of today are not mentioned, the only breeds which have retained their popularity being the Cockers and the English Setters.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION AND DOG SHOW RULES.

Certain amendments to the Constitution and Dog Show Rules will be presented to this meeting, to all of which I invite your careful attention. These have all been published, as provided for by the Constitution, in the January number of "Kennel and Bench."

OBITUARY.

There are again several notable gaps in our ranks which must be mentioned with deep regret. One of the best loved and straightest Dog men in Eastern Canada was Tom Grimshaw, who died last summer. He was a credit to his profession and to the Dog game generally, and his death was universally deplored. It is impossible in such a far-flung organization as this Club to keep track of all the changes in the personnel, but one is able to mention the death of Mrs. Frances Singleton of London; Mr. J. H. Axon of Victoria; several members in Montreal, viz:—Mrs. F. Fawcett; Mrs. J. Neville, Mrs. Sykes (all of the Montreal Ladies' Kennel Club) and Mr. J. Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Snow, and Mrs. Robert Mills. We also offer our sympathy to our Director of the Maritimes, Mr. R. B. Laskey who lost his Mother during the year.

Special mention is due to the death of Mr. W. P. Fraser, for many years Secretary of the Ontario Jockey Club. Mr. Fraser was one of the original charter members of the Canadian Kennel Club when it was organized in 1888, and throughout the forty-two years of its existence had taken a very keen interest in all its affairs. He was known throughout Canada as a sportsman of the very highest type, and a competent judge of any breed of dogs, particularly of Terriers. His death leaves only three of the charter members still with us in the persons of our Honourary President, Mr. C. A. Stone, our Director Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles and Colonel Robert McEwen.

LIBRARY.

During the year the equipment of the Club has been notably augmented by the addition of a library of about one hundred and twenty volumes which was donated to the Club by Brig.-Gen. G. D. Macpherson. This collection of books is an extremely valuable one and I doubt if there is a canine library in America which is more complete. The Club is very deeply indebted to General Macpherson for his munificence.

DIRECTORS AND STAFF.

It is again my duty and privilege to express my appreciation of the co-operation of the directors and the staff in carrying on the work of the Club. The average attendance at the directors meetings for the year was eight, out of ten, which, considering the fact that five of the ten directors live outside of Toronto, is, I think, very creditable. There has been at all the meetings of the Board a spirit of co-operation and harmony, and a sincere desire to solve the various problems presented in the very best possible way for the welfare of the Club.

There have been no changes in the staff which continues to carry out its duties in an eminently satisfactory manner. The Secretary continues to exhibit those talents and qualities which render him pre-eminently fitted to carry out the duties of his position. In Miss Crewe, Miss Wilson and Miss Prosser, we have a trio of ladies who afford the Secretary that enthusiastic and efficient co-operation which is essential.

I also wish to pay tribute to the activities of the directors outside Ontario in handling their local problems and in assisting the directors in Ontario to carry on intelligently. The Provincial directors have never failed us when called upon for information or action, and their co-operation is very deeply appreciated.

In conclusion, I congratulate the Club on the progress which has been made during the year and on the sound position financially and otherwise which it occupies at the present time. I feel sure that during the year which has just opened that progress will be duplicated, and that the Club will continue to minister to the needs of the Dog men all over Canada and to continue its effort to uplift conditions throughout the Dog World.—
APPLAUSE.

RESPONSES.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, in rising to move the adoption of the President's Report I am sure that I express the wishes and the feelings of all of our members from coast to coast when I congratulate the Canadian Kennel Club on having had Col. McFarland as our President these past five years. (Hear hear) And I am sure that it is the sincere wish of all of our members from coast to coast that sufficient pressure will be brought to bear upon him to cause him to reconsider his intention of not standing for President next year. (Cries of "Hear hear" and applause).

In moving the adoption of this report I repeat, as words fail me, that he has the wholehearted support and the loyalty and you might say the love and everything that goes with the human being for his welfare and we appreciate everything that he has done through his influence for this Club.—APPLAUSE.

MR. LASKEY: Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I take great pleasure in seconding the motion of my friend Mr. Pym. I can only reaffirm all he has said and I hope with the other members that Col. McFarland will consent to fill the Chair next year.

PRES. McFARLAND: Ladies and gentlemen, I appreciate your kind words more than I can say. As a matter of fact the loyalty and the support that I have had and the good feeling and friendships that I have made have all contributed to change this job from a task to a pleasure, and as I say it has been a labor of love and I would not give up the friendships I have made and the companionship I have had for anything, but I think it is time to pass on the office, and unless, as I say, something entirely unforeseen occurs I will not be a candidate next year.

All in favor of Mr. Pym's motion to adopt the President's Report? Contrary if any? I declare the motion carried.

The next order of business is

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

THE SECRETARY: Mr. President, Ladies and gentlemen, after having listened to what Col. McFarland has said to you I am sure you don't want to hear anything very much from me. I just want to go on record here with the rest of this meeting as saying that it will be one of the regrets of my life when Col. McFarland relinquishes his hold on the Presidential Chair of the Canadian Kennel Club. If there has been one thing come to me more than another as an official of the Canadian Kennel Club it most assuredly has been that encouragement that has come to me through the enthusiasm that the President invariably has brought to me. It has been a great inspiration to work with and for Col. McFarland and I certainly assure you that I will regret it very sincerely when he leaves the Chair.

The Colonel has covered the ground very completely, leaving very little for me to say.

He has advised you that any shortage in our financial statement all came within the last four months of the year. That is so. It is no secret that when I was getting out my Christmas number of Kennel and Bench, I had no less than twelve pages cancelled at the last moment; people were in the market crash and felt it and just said, "We can save here and there," like that, and it curtailed my Christmas number to that extent. I had a number of pages made up for that issue that would have appeared had the appearance been justified by paid business but it wasn't forthcoming and so much was ripped out. Those pages may appear a little peculiar when they come out from time to time but I think they will appear all right.

I have nothing further to say, Mr. President, only that I have the financial statement for 1929 to read.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

THE SECRETARY then read the Auditor's Report and financial statement for 1929. (SEE NEXT PAGE FOR FINANCIAL STATEMENT.)

PRES. McFARLAND: Will somebody move the adoption of the Auditor's Report and financial statement?

MOVED BY Mr. Ritchie,

SECONDED BY Mr. Aitken

THAT the Auditor's Report and financial statement be adopted as read.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any discussion?

MR. F. W. WALKERDINE: Mr. President, in connection with this loss of $645.85, it does not seem to me that Kennel and Bench is receiving the right treatment in connection with subscriptions. In your Kennel and Bench revenue, subscriptions total $1,082 and then your membership fees are over $6,000. Each of your members has a $2 subscription. I don't see any amount transferred to offset that arrangement. Are the auditors aware of that fact? You make a revenue there according to this on subscriptions, but you only turn in $440 and you say there are membership fees of $6,046. It is a known fact that members do receive Kennel and Bench absolutely free. Is there any way—I think it can be done—that the auditors can transfer that amount to the credit of Kennel and Bench when it shows a loss? Because we are actually getting Kennel and Bench free, we are not paying for it, and that is not fair to the magazine.

PRES. McFARLAND: No, the point is well taken. I think the auditors might well find some means of crediting Kennel and Bench with its proper proportion of the membership fee. Of course it doesn't make any difference in the net result as you know, Mr. Walkerdine, but it would make a better statement for Kennel and Bench.

MR. WALKERDINE: Absolutely.

PRES. McFARLAND: You might mention that to the auditor, Mr. Strachan.

THE SECRETARY: I will Mr. President.

MR. SPARKES: Might I ask the Secretary through the Chair what became of the amount booked up against bad debts, or dubious bad debts? Were they written off the books?

THE SECRETARY: Written off.

PRES. McFARLAND: We had to do that, Mr. Sparkes, there is no use carrying them along and kidding ourselves. You will remember that was discussed at the last annual meeting and it was then decided it should be done.

CAPT. WATERS: Mr. President, don't you think we might write down that office furniture a little more than we have done here?

PRES. McFARLAND: It has been written down thirty per cent., Capt. Waters.

CAPT. WATERS: I think it could be cut a good deal more than that. I think it should be.

MR. F. W. WALKERDINE: I think thirty per cent. is ample.

PRES. McFARLAND: When it gets to a certain age we do. As a matter of fact we leave those matters pretty well to the auditors who are skilled accountants, and doing these things every day. I am certainly not competent to tell them whether it should be ten per cent. or thirty per cent.

MR. STOCKDALE: May I ask what the deductions of $250.34 under the heading of "Membership fees" is? The second item in the statement of expenditure and revenue.

THE SECRETARY: Well this is really the Canadian National Livestock part of it, Mr. Stockdale. I would say this, that supposing you sent in $5 with some application for registration; that would go into the bank the day that you sent it in, and if anything happened whereby they couldn't put through your registration for any reason why that would have to be refunded to you, and I suppose we had a percentage of them during the year, and that would explain that.

MR. STOCKDALE: Quite satisfactory, Mr. Secretary.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any other questions? Are you ready for the question? It is moved by Mr. Ritchie, seconded by Mr. Aitken, that the auditor's report and the statement as PRES. McFARLAND: What is your pleasure with regard to the Election Commissioners' Report? I will receive a motion for its adoption.

MOVED BY Mr. Stockdale,

SECONDED BY Mr. Semple

THAT the report of the Election Commissioners be adopted as read.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any discussion? Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Question.

PRES. McFARLAND: All in favor of the motion? Contrary if any? I declare the motion carried.

The next is the Election of Representatives to the various Boards.

I would ask Mr. Stockdale, Mr. Walkerdine and Mr. Shawley to act as scrutineers if they will be so good.

MR. WHEELER: Don't you agree, Mr. Chairman, it would be well to have the report of the last representatives of those Boards before we take a vote on that?

PRES. McFARLAND: I am just going to give you that, Mr. Wheeler. In each case I will give you the last year's representatives.

MR. WHEELER: But don't you think it would be well to have a report from them on last year? When they were nominated last year and elected we didn't have a report and didn't hear what they had done during the year.

PRES. McFARLAND: Oh, I see. The first then is the Canadian National Stock Records, Messrs. R. A. Ross, Clayton, Elliott and Capt. Waters. Capt. Waters is the only one that is here. Have you a report to present, Capt. Waters?

RECEPTION OF REPORTS.

CAPT. WATERS: No, I have not, Mr. President. I wasn't present last year when I was re-elected on that Board; if I had been I certainly would not have stood. It is not my intention to go on it this time. The year before I attended a meeting and I was the only one present and I considered that it was a dead letter. I looked up the previous record of the attendance of the Live Stock Records and found that the dog men never attended, so I just simply wiped that off the slate and said to myself, "No more of that for me," so I am in that position now, Mr. President, that I don't want to be re-elected to that Board.

PRES. McFARLAND: Well now the representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition. I will ask Mr. Bruce to say something about that.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: Mr. President, as far as the representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition are concerned I guess you will find us on the job all the time. There are very few meetings of the Committee held, recognizing the fact that the work of the administration of the Dog Show is carried out by the officials of the Exhibition. Matters that come definitely before them, however, are the questions regarding the appointment of Judges, the classifications for the show, and this last year we again pressed our claim for some consideration in the way of a new building. This year we got a little more encouragement than we have had for many years by the fact that we believe that there is going to be an adjustment of the buildings in the Exhibition grounds. There could be no assurance given us that we will go into a new building the only hope that we can even entertain of any possibility of getting the old Construction Building if the arrangements in the new Electrical building are carried out in the housing of some of the exhibits from the Construction Building. That is the only hope that we can see or get any encouragement from the management. The receipts this year as far as the Exhibition is concerned have stood up, according to the annual reports, to anything that has been held before. While there were not as many dogs this year as previous years still we feel that the standards were maintained as well as they ever were. We have tried in some instances to reduce the number of classifications. There was a little bickering, some of the individual breeders tackled me during the last year, and I understand they also tackled Col. McFarland, for the taking out of some of the classifications of dogs. If the breeders will only realize there is a certain sum of money set aside each year by the Exhibition authorities for prize money and if you force too many classifications in which the money has got to be divided you are going to rob yourself of the real money or the real class. Therefore in some instances we were able to advance the $8 to the $9 rate for open classes and in some instances from $9 to the $10 rate by the elimination of some of the classifications. And I feel that with the elimination of a number of classifications and keeping the volume of the prize money the same, which the Superintendent judiciously guards, along with Mr. Jenkinson—they have at all times the interests of the dog breeder in mind—at the same time not having too much money spread over classifications, we will do very well. If the money is not used up by the General Committee, the Manager of the Exhibition may want to lay his hands upon it for other uses and therefore we have tried to use up as much of the money as we possibly can, in consultation with Mr. Jenkinson and Mr. Jacobi, covering all those classifications.

Now I think we have done as well as could possibly be expected of any representatives with the limited amount of power that we have; we are only two on a committee of ten that are there; there are other representatives, representing the directorate itself and the cats, and we are only two speaking for the dogs, but I can say this honestly that at every turn we have the full co-operation of the Board; the General Manager has like his predecessor shown a keen interest in the Dog Show and as to Mr. Jenkinson and Mr. Jacobi I don't think we could get anybody more interested than those two officials, and we have had very active co-operation from the Canadian National Exhibition Board. Our only hope is that within the next couple of years with the changed conditions that are taking place annually at the Exhibition we are going to get a building that will be worthy of a dog show. One of the main things that militates against getting a building is the fact that there is a resolution before us tonight that will possibly curtail some of our chances, the fact that we are urging a three-day show. The cats are limited to the same. They haven't any building that they can adapt or equip for a dog show that can be used for anything else during the rest of the period of the Exhibition. If there were any means by which the building could be used for other purposes I believe it might be possible to do something with the Exhibition authorities in getting a building, but when you figure that the Exhibition is run for at least fourteen to sixteen days now with the extended time that they have been running it, and that there is no other use for a possible building, when we press them for a building of our own which might reasonably run to between $400,000 and $500,000 to meet the requirements of modern conditions we are running up against a stone wall, and our best hope is to urge them to build other buildings with the hope of capturing one of the buildings that is being discarded which would suit the purpose. But there is this, as I note Mr. Herd is in the room, we haven't any plan to remodel that building in any way that it would be satisfactory to meet the requirements of the fanciers at the present time, and therefore we must be entirely dependent upon the will of the City Council and the Exhibition authorities themselves to put enough money into the building of a modern building that will meet our requirements or give us one of the other buildings that they are discarding.—APPLAUSE.

PRES. McFARLAND: There is only one thing I think that Mr. Bruce didn't mention in regard to that Committee and that is the fact that the representatives of the Canadian Kennel Club I think are always referred to in the matter of the choosing of the judges. As far as the choosing of the judges is concerned and the classifications, that Mr. Bruce has so ably explained, we are the experts on it and I may say that the attitude of the rest of the committee on those two points is entirely satisfactory to us and the Canadian Kennel Club.

Now I see Mr. Bethune is not here, from Ottawa, but I will ask Col. MacRae, one of the representatives on the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Committee, to say something.

VICE-PRES. MACRAE: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, as you are aware the dog show at the Royal Winter Fair is really run by the National Kennel Club and your committee that you appointed, really had very little to do, than to proffer their advice when asked. I think you agree that it was rather a good show, and that it will improve and carry on to bigger things. I have nothing further to report than that, Colonel.

PRES. McFARLAND: Well now, will the scrutineers I have named act, and we will proceed?

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, if you will bear with me, in this report by Capt. Dudley-Waters it seems that (I am not laying any blame or onus at his doorstep at all) but it seems to me that the National Live Stock Registration Board being a live issue I can't see that the representatives should report that he found his predecessors did not attend and take any part in the workings of that Board. I don't know why. But I think that the closer that we can get to the Board and the more information we can get through attendance at the meetings of that Board the better for us when we are dealing with questions which come up for discussion here, and I think some of us are in the dark. I was really very much disappointed to hear that, without laying any blame on Captain Waters' shoulders whatever.

CAPT. WATERS: I was the only one present.

MR. STOCKDALE: And I hope sincerely this body will be represented by the members elected at this meeting here tonight.

PRES. McFARLAND: There are four representatives to the Canadian National Live Stock Records to be elected. Last year's members were Messrs. R. A. Ross, Clayton, Elliott and Waters.

The following members were nominated: Messrs. Sparkes, Strachan, Stockdale, R. A. Ross.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. Bruce's nomination of the Secretary-Treasurer I will rule out of order.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: The only reason I did so was he is an employee and in placing his name in, in that way it was to have somebody there who couldn't dodge any of the responsibilities of the position by claiming other duties. That was the only thing that prompted me to name the Secretary-Treasurer, that he could always be depended on to be there and take an interest in the proceedings, but the position you take is well founded.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. Stockdale and Mr. Sparkes have been nominated, and Mr. R. A. Ross.

CAPT. WATERS: I would like to nominate Col. McEwen.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I nominate Peter Herd.

MR. HERD: I decline.

PRES. McFARLAND: That is five and four to be elected. Any further nominations?

VICE-PRES. BRUCE was nominated but declined.

THE SECRETARY: With Mr. Herd's name off the list we have four.

Mr. F. W. Walkerdine was nominated but declined.

A motion by Gen. Nelles, duly seconded, that the nominations be declared closed was carried.

PRES. McFARLAND: Then I declare Messrs Sparkes, Stockdale, R. A. Ross and Col. McEwen elected.

The next one is the election of two representatives to the Canadian National Exhibition. The present representatives are Mr. Bruce and myself.

GEN. NELLES: I move the same two representatives be elected for this year.

MR. SPARKES: I seconded that.

PRES. McFARLAND: Is that your pleasure, ladies and gentlemen?—CARRIED.

The next is the election of one representative to the Central Canada Exhibition.

MR. STOCKDALE: I move the same representative, Mr. Bethune.

MR. HERD: I would second that.

A motion, duly seconded, that the nominations be closed was carried and Mr. Bethune was declared.

PRES. McFARLAND: Next is the election of three representatives to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. The present representatives are Col. MacRae, Mr. Harry Clayton and myself.

MR. LASKEY: I nominate Col. MacRae, Col. McFarland and Mr. Clayton.

A motion by Mr. Perry, duly seconded, that the nominations be closed, was carried and Col. McFarland, Col. MacRae and Mr. H. Clayton were declared elected.

PRES. McFARLAND: The next is the election of the Election Commissioners. Last year's Commission was Donald Wheeler, Chairman, James Marsden and Richard Wilkinson.

MR. SPARKES: Might I ask, Mr. Chairman, if it is compulsory for the Election Commissioners to be members?

PRES. McFARLAND: Oh yes.

MR. SPARKES: And if they are members, the three last year's members?

THE SECRETARY: Yes.

CAPT. WATERS: I move the same Commission be re-elected.

Motion seconded.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any amendment or discussion? Ready for the question? All in favor? Contrary if any? I declare the motion carried.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

MR. PYM: May I ask if the Secretary has a report on the disposal of the amendment that were submitted to the Minister of Agriculture at our last annual meeting?

THE SECRETARY: Yes. We have a report here, not that it is here intentionally; it just happens to be here. Here is a report which was received from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture under date of October 14th, 1929. (Reads).

October 15th, 1929.

Dear Sir:

I beg to attach hereto amendment to the Constitution and By-laws of the Canadian Kennel Club passed at the annual meeting of the Club, held in Toronto, on February 8th, 1929, to which is attached certificate of ministerial approval.

I am attaching also the proposed amendment embodying the addition of a new section known as "L", Article 16, to which is attached certificate of non-approval.

Yours faithfully,

C. M. MACRAE,

Acting Live Stock Commissioner.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, am I in order in moving that this matter be laid over until we finish some of the regular business?

PRES. McFARLAND: Quite, Mr. Pym.

MR. PYM: I make that a motion then.

NEW BUSINESS.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION AND DOG SHOW RULES.

PRES. McFARLAND: The first amendment is one moved by Mr. Clayton.

"That, Article 6—Officers—be amended by the insertion of the words, 'Any person nominated for office in the Club that seeks the support of the members through the media of election literature to assist him in his election, shall become disqualified.'"

"That Article 6 — Officers—paragraph 15, be amended by striking out the words, 'Sign the voting paper.'"

That latter matter you will remember was discussed and voted on at our last annual meeting.

Is there a seconder to the motion of Mr. Clayton, which I make in his absence?

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I will second it.

MR. F. W. WALKERDINE: What is the position if Mr. Vauxstead had been nominated this year, regarding signing the ballot papers?

PRES. McFARLAND: This is just simply a confirmation of the rule passed at the last annual meeting.

Is there any discussion on the question of election literature?

A MEMBER: No.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, have you Mr. Clayton's reasons for putting his motion before the house?

PRES. McFARLAND: I haven't, Mr. Stockdale.

MR. STOCKDALE: I really would like to hear the mover's reasons for putting this resolution before us.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: Mr. President, in seconding the motion, I am absolutely in support of the proposition, believing that the greatest form of democracy that we can have is getting the expression of our members, but I am absolutely opposed to anyone using their wealth or the machinery they may have at their disposal for the influencing of ballots of those members by sending them circular letters and preventing, from the fact that the man hasn't the power and the machinery, his placing his case before the electors by election literature; I don't care whom it comes from or where it comes from, setting out the very best side they can of an individual even to the detriment of perhaps an opponent. We have seen plenty of evidences of it in our own political campaigns; you know they resort to lies, perhaps not with intent but they have innuendoes leaving the impression that somebody is crooked or they are not carrying out the wishes of their membership and blackening men's records. That is why I am opposed to it, and we have had two or three instances of it where all of the truth wasn't told. I am not taking any particular letter because there are some that have been sent out which were fair in their construction, but the one that practically prompted this resolution was so absolutely outrageous in its misstatements it compelled your Board to discuss the question last year along this particular line. I believe, as I said, in the freest degree of democracy, and if you are going to get a man to run for office in this organization who has the best interests of the dog game at heart you are not going to put him in the position where he has to spend money out of pocket to refute statements of somebody who has the machinery to put them out. (Hear hear). That is the point you have got to watch. Here is my own opinion, if the dog fancier is not interested enough to read Kennel and Bench and know who attends meetings or speaks at the meetings of our directorate or those who are taking an actual interest in it, well then, I claim they are not interested in electing anyone if they have got to be influenced by election literature. I am going to say this quite frankly, that if you gentlemen don't pass this resolution I think I can prove to you conclusively in a year that I can elect anyone to this Board of Directors that I want by going out of my way to build up election propaganda, and of you men there are a number of you in the room who know what election propaganda I have been talking about. Pretty nearly anyone in the room can elect whom he likes independent of the capabilities of the man who wouldn't perhaps put a pen to paper to tell you what their qualifications are to influence you, and I feel we are outraging the principles of democracy by electing men who will go a long way to tell you what they think of themselves or somebody else. That is the position I take in the matter.—

GREAT APPLAUSE.

PRES. McFARLAND: I am entirely in accord with what Mr. Bruce says, but in justice to the other side of the case I am going to ask the Secretary to read a letter which was sent by Mr. Trantman.

PRES. McFARLAND: All I remember of the letter was it was a very strong denunciation of Mr. Clayton's motion.

THE SECRETARY: Mr. Chairman, his opinion was that all the aspirants to municipal, federal or provincial political life made it their business to solicit all the support they could, through the agency of letters and any other such instruments, and that being so he couldn't understand how it was that this Kennel Club could prohibit the practice, and he was very strong in the statements he made, and I don't know whether it can be prohibited or not. Apparently down in Western Canada they think it cannot be. Mr. Trantman gives quite an argument on the question. I don't have the letter here apparently.

PRES. McFARLAND: I can remember one thing in addition, that he drew the analogy I remember as between Mr. Clayton, if Mr. Clayton took it into his mind to run for the Ontario Legislature, and wanted to know if Mr. Clayton was prepared to forswear all election literature and all advertising in the paper. I remember that was in the letter.

CAPT. WATERS: Mr. President, perhaps he hadn't thought that the Ontario Legislature is a paid office. These offices are unpaid.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, in regard to this motion I would explain that the British Columbia residents in and near Vancouver a week ago had an opportunity of expressing their opinion on that proposed amendment and on a vote being taken the majority were opposed to the adoption of the first part provided that the literature was within due bounds and was legitimate literature, but they were heartily in accord with the last part of this proposed amendment.

MR. SPARKES: Mr. Chairman, as the Board of Directors took this matter up this afternoon I am somewhat surprised that one of the previous speakers, Mr. Bruce, mentioned the fact that in these letters inuendoes and so forth should be sent out. But if anybody sends out a letter to the members, to the voters in their district, or two or three individual provinces, there is the proper machinery in the Canadian Kennel Club to deal with it if it goes beyond the bounds—absolutely, yes—and I can't see if a letter is sent out by an aspirant to an office what harm it is going to do, he is not casting any reflection on any other seeker of that office; and you well know in any political party they do jump beyond the bounds, but I don't think that anyone running for office in the Canadian Kennel Club would ever stoop to allude to anything that would go beyond the bounds of the Canadian Kennel Club jurisdiction.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any further discussion?

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, I congratulate Vice-Pres. Bruce on his summing up of this question from the side of the mover and it was ably put, but as director Sparkes has pointed out it is within the power of the directors to deal with anyone whose conduct is unbecoming a member of the Canadian Kennel Club, and the machinery is there and the power is there to deal with anyone who circulates a scurrilous or filthy letter.

I think that if ever there was a time an example was present that would point to the necessity of circularizing the members it is the time now present when we have listened to the report of the Election Commissioners, that out of the membership of 700 odd we have about 200 voting. (Hear hear).

PRES. McFARLAND: You are speaking of Ontario—733.

MR. STOCKDALE: Yes. And we have approximately fifty members present here tonight and a great many of them, or at least some of them come across the continent to make up the half hundred, and within the radius of Toronto, or I think I am safe in saying within forty miles of Toronto we should have at least a membership of 450 out of that 700 and we have fifty here tonight. I think I am right.

Now then, if anything will arouse the interest of the members, if anything will make them partake of their part in the work, if it is only the marking of a ballot, so that the men elected will know that they represent the majority of the members that compose this organization, let them circularize.

You have seen there are no questions and at the past election there were no questions arising to be dealt with by our organization or needing to be brought before the members but if we bridle them—"Muzzle" does better for dogs, bridles suit horses better—if we muzzle the members, in the future when some burning question may be confronting the members of this organization we are going to do something that is harmful for the future. Let us have a broad enough vision to look to that time. Nothing has happened in the past that has been of a nature that we should at this time pass such a motion, so far as I know, but if we pass that motion and it goes on our books and a man is compelled to refrain from circularizing the members, from bringing before them the fact that he is a member and thinks that a certain side of a policy perhaps which is coming for consideration before the directors and the annual meeting is right or wrong, it is wrong, and I say by all means give him the power to circularize and let him put this before the membership.

Then the wording of it doesn't prevent me circularizing for Reg. Sparkes or John Jones or Tom Brown, the very wording of this will not carry out the thing that is proposed which it is supposed to do, and I will submit it to the President for his ruling on it if he wishes that. What is to prevent his friends and members of a Club to which he belongs getting out literature and saying that Tom Jones is aspiring to a position on the directorate? What is to prevent a non-member as a friend of his, and he is beyond your reach altogether? There is nothing in the world, it will go through the mails and be carried and be delivered to the members, and a non-member can buy a copy of Kennel and Bench and get our membership, it is sold on the newstands, and you can't prevent him getting our membership; it would be ridiculous, I submit, Mr. President, to pass this as it is here, it wouldn't reach what the member intended to reach and we would be a laughing-stock if we tried to do something here that we couldn't and I don't think we ought to be holding the meeting up to any ridicule whatsoever. I feel we should be big enough and broad enough to leave it to the individual as to anything in connection with the election and let him circularize the members and use your own judgment, because after all that is what you will use, those of you who do vote, and if there is any question about the truth of that I think all you have to do is look at my friend Bruce and the President and other directors and you will see the kind of men who will be elected.

MR. F. W. WALKERDINE: After hearing from Mr. Bruce, I am one of the culprits who sent out a letter apparently. I came down from the west in 1927 and was willing to give up my time for the benefit of the common welfare and I sent a letter out, I never heard any word about it, I wasn't there to defend myself, but I am here right now to defend myself. Was there any objection to my letter?

PRES. McFARLAND: Do you appeal to me personally, Mr. Walkerdine? It is a long time ago since I read your letter but I don't remember anything objectionable.

THE SECRETARY: No, there was nothing objectionable in the letter sent out by Mr. Walkerdine.

MR. F. W. WALKERDINE: I am a stranger down here and I am prepared to do all I can for the welfare of the Canadian Kennel Club and if there was anything said that was objectionable I would like to defend myself while I am here.

THE SECRETARY: Yours was nothing more than a legitimate letter.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question? We will put the two separately. All in favor of the first amendment proposed by Mr. Clayton? I will take a vote on this, Mr. Secretary, there has to be a two-thirds vote. All in favor signify in the usual manner.

THE SECRETARY: Seventeen.

PRES. McFARLAND: All opposed?

THE SECRETARY: Fifteen.

PRES. McFARLAND: I declare the amendment lost not having a two-thirds vote.

MR. STOCKDALE: Real democracy wins.

PRES. McFARLAND: All in favor of the second amendment, for a secret ballot? Contrary? That is carried.

The next is an amendment to the Dog Show Rules which I am proposing, rule No. 4, and in doing this I don't want you to feel that I am pressing this unduly or personally. A great many people have suggested to me that a four-day dog show is too long and, speaking from the standpoint of the dog, I entirely agree, I think four days is too long to keep a dog continuously on a bench. I don't think as a matter of fact the decrease by the one day will affect the receipts seriously because as you know the people if they know that the show is going to be open four days put off from day to day going to see it and I think as a matter of fact you may gain in your receipts. But I am looking at it from the standpoint of the dog and I think in order to give him a break, as the boys say, a three-day show is plenty long enough, but I bring this up simply to have it discussed.

MR. HERD: I would second that, Mr. President.

MR. SPARKES: Mr. Chairman, you remember about this same thing, that we brought this same matter up before and it was passed before the membership here and then we as it were had to go out the back door again, the Canadian National Exhibition were going to hold a four-day show whether we wanted them to or not, and even if they had to hold a show without the dogs. Now, have they been approached on this matter and how would their feeling be regarding this if it carried?

PRES. McFARLAND: I can't speak, Mr. Sparkes officially for the Canadian National Exhibition but I can say this that the Canadian National Exhibition, I think if we pass this will instead of holding a four-day show hold two two-day shows following each other, the same as the Ottawa people will do. I was speaking to Mr. Bethune the other day and he said Ottawa is going to do the same.

GEN. NELLES: Are you saving the dog anything then?

PRES. McFARLAND: Yes, because the first two days will be divided, the breeds will be divided, the first two days will be an all terrier show. A fair division will be made of all the breeds.

MR. KYNOCH: I don't think that is a good suggestion, Colonel. I bring dogs 2,000 miles and I have got to leave the sporting dogs in my place while the other ones are being left in the show.

MR. HERD: That wouldn't be a good idea for the points alone; the show would be divided in groups and there wouldn't be the same rating of points in groups as there would be on the all breed show.

CAPT. WATERS: And quite a number of the dogs will be on the bench for four days too.

MR. KYNOCH: Dogs entered in that show cannot be in the other, they would have to stay out in the hot tent, in hot weather.

MR. SEMPLÉ: I think that the Canadian National Exhibition, if they should be the only show in the year that demands a four-day show, that it would be all right to have the four-day show provided that in each day you allow a space or a period of time for these dogs to exercise or rest up.

MR. KYNOCH: I believe, Mr. President, it was the general opinion at the Canadian National Exhibition when that time was passed that we should have a four-day show, but I think if we approached the Canadian National Exhibition we could get a three-day show.

MR. LASKEY: Mr. Chairman, representing the Maritimes, I was instructed by the two kennel clubs, of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, that they were supporting a four-day show. They contend that it is the fourth day of the show that is the paying end of their show. They won't bother calling a three-day show. In that I am not expressing my own opinion; personally prefer a three-day show.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: The Colonel has pretty well stated the thing when he spoke of the necessity of getting away from the long grind of a four-day show, but there is only one thing, in the hours you can really say that a four-day is really a three-day show, they allow you up to noon on the first day to get in and start to let you out around between four and five on the fourth day. I believe we should pass this amendment to the Rules, perhaps with some limitations in it whereby the Board of Directors may be able to overcome a particular situation. The Colonel has this in mind, everything that might be said as far as the situation is concerned cannot be very well said in public, there may be some information lying in the backs of our heads that we can't just make plain to everybody, but if our constitution were such that the Colonel and I as your representatives could go before the Exhibition Association and the Dog Show Committee pressing for a three full day show possibly if you got in earlier and finished up late on the night of the third day we might be able to get away with it.

Everyone I think will agree that three days is plenty long enough around the Exhibition. If you don't, I do, for myself; I am only speaking for myself, I think three days around there is plenty, particularly if it was like last fall, or last Exhibition, when it would bake you up during the day. However, the position is this, generally speaking this body when it has had an opportunity of expressing itself has gone in favor of the shorter show, everywhere, and you have seen how they have manipulated it, that is by calling it two shows of two days. I don't think that we want to stoop to that practice. Let us be fair and aboveboard and say, we desire a three-day show. We said it once and you know what happened. We said it here and then our own members went out and welched on us. That is all there was to it, our members assured the Exhibition that they might have a four-day show, and that the dogs would be there irrespective even though they had to go to work without recompense or recognition, and they were assured at that time that they would get sufficient dogs to hold a show. So let us be sincere here, if you are going to let your representatives to the Exhibition Board go forward with your request let us be sincere in it, and if we can't get away with it why then allow us the opportunity of vetoing it until we can induce somebody to see it in the same light as we see it ourselves, that is about all you can do with it, and that is why the Colonel has brought it forward at this time, we feel that it is an opportune time and there is a possibility of putting this over at the present time.

PRES. McFARLAND: Would an amendment to the rule as proposed get over the difficulty? Supposing you passed a rule whereby "The duration of a show shall not exceed three days unless in the opinion of the directors a four-day show is necessary, but the duration of no show shall exceed four days," then the way that would be working out would be when a show sent in their applications for license for a four-day show they would have to submit good and sufficient reasons in writing for wanting longer than a three-day show.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. Chairman, I am heartily in accord with that, but before I speak of that I want to make one explanation: I happened to be a speaker of this organization at the Exhibition Association, and I say when we passed this our members did not welch on us, I clearly protest, there were members who did not welch on us, members who suffered by it; paid their entrance fee and suffered by the ruling, and the Canadian Kennel Club backed up. Now let us be honest, let us deal with it as it was. This body backed up, that is the truth of the matter, and they compelled us to back up. (Cries of "That is right"). Let us deal with it and don't mince matters, other members suffered under that and we looked to the C. K. C., and the C. N. E. forced the C. K. C. to back up. That is the way it was.

PRES. McFARLAND: If you want to put it that way.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: But they had sufficient assurance as you know—

MR. STOCKDALE: Of non-members.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: No, of our members too. They had sufficient assurance that they would have a show.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, I don't want to play on words but if this was confined to registered dogs and members of the C. K. C. then you could say that the members backed up, but it is open to the world and there are sufficient non-members to hold a show and members who were loyal to the C. K. C. were deprived of winnings in various breeds that year.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MR. McCLOY: Might I ask for some information? Might I ask if it is in order to alter this wording of this amendment, from the fact that it has not been printed, and giving our western members a chance to think about it? We had a meeting there before we left to discuss this, now we are making an addition to it and our members in the west, 179 members in British Columbia, won't know anything about it probably.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. McCloy, my answer to that is that the amendment doesn't change in essence the rule at all. It still makes a four-day show available if it is required.

If there were a fundamental change proposed I would rule it out of order.

MR. McCLOY: I accept your ruling, Mr. President. With that in view I have very much pleasure in supporting our President's resolution as it stands. I happen to be a director of two of the largest exhibitions in the west, and running dog shows for them, and I can assure you that we have the Exhibition Associations educated up to the fact that we do not want any more than three days for dog shows. We have worked for years we get that and we now have that position established in the west, they have all agreed to accept that, and we are working accordingly. I have therefore very much pleasure in supporting the motion.

MR. STOCKDALE: I have much pleasure in seconding the amendment to the motion.

PRES. McFARLAND: With your permission I am simply going to submit it in this form as the original motion if there is no objection. Then are you ready for the question?

MR. WHEELER: Mr. Chairman, before you put that, wouldn't it be better to add, "Three full days," and then they wouldn't be starting at noon on opening day, and finishing at noon on the closing day?

PRES. McFARLAND: I think we can leave that to the show-giving club, Mr. Wheeler; they are after the revenue.

MR. CHEETHAM: Don't you think it would be the best way to make it if you entered in your rule, that everyone entering in that show would be disqualified and all their dogs would be written off?

PRES. McFARLAND: We have that power now.

MR. CHEETHAM: I don't see it in the Dog Show Rules.

PRES. McFARLAND: No, in the Constitution.

MR. CHEETHAM: Then why not refer to it if the Canadian National Exhibition are now going to run a four-day show?

PRES. McFARLAND: The resolution reads:

"Rule No. 4, Section 1, be amended to read as follows:

"The duration of a show shall not exceed three days, unless in the opinion of the directors a four-day show is necessary, but the duration of no show shall exceed four days."

All in favor of the motion? Contrary if any?

I declare the motion carried.

The next notice is proposed by Mr. Stock.

MR. PYM: Mr. President, I would move the adoption of the motion and in doing so I would explain it is Mr. Stock's idea that any dog entered at a show must compete in one of the regular classes if that particular entry is to in any way benefit the show regarding points. I would move the adoption of his amendment.

MR. McCLOY: I second that.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. Pym moves, and is seconded by Mr. McCloy:

"That, Rule 17, Sub. Section—Rating—shall be amended, insofar as the word 'benched' be expunged and 'Competing in one or more of the regular classes' be substituted."

MR. SPARKES: I presume, Mr. Chairman, that our director Mr. Pym is acting on Mr. Stock's behalf and that it would be in order if Mr. Pym would just outline the full meaning of that proposed amendment.

Mr. Pym: With your permission, Mr. President, I would be glad to.

PRES. McFARLAND: Yes.

MR. PYM: I understand Mr. Stock's proposed amendment to be this: If a person desired to put in a dog we will say who has won his championship and doesn't want that dog to compete against other dogs so benched under the present rules I understand that the dog would be taken into the count when you were computing your championship points and I believe it is practice throughout the country according to the catalogues I have looked over for various people to put a dog on exhibition and exhibition only and those dogs so placed on exhibition are taken into the count as I understand it could be, and Mr. Stock desires to prohibit that and the count should be computed from dogs only that have competed in one of the regular classes.

PRES. McFARLAND: Of course our rule says: Dogs entered for specials only shall also be entered in one of the regular classes, but Mr. Stock's point I take it is that it must not only be entered but must compete.

MR. PYM: Yes, that is the point, must compete, or cannot be taken into the count.

MR. REEVES: Supposing a dog were entered in "specials" only, that dog would be counted?

PRES. McFARLAND: Yes. You mean if this motion is passed. If this motion is passed he wouldn't be taken in the count. Is that your understanding?

MR. PYM: Yes, he wouldn't be taken in the count.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: That would mean the count of the show would be the actual dogs shown as going in the ring by the judges' book and would have nothing to do with the benching.

MR. SPARKES: This is going to work an awful hardship on some of us. We will presume that some person brings a real good dog out from England but this dog has just one glaring fault that prohibits it then it would be to the detriment of the dog and to the owner to exhibit that, or rather put it in competition in the ring, but at the same time he wants to give the breeders and so forth a chance to see his dog, he is good enough to put that entry in and put that dog on exhibition.

It also helps to boost the game, by showing more dogs. If you are going to start to prohibit the dogs at an exhibition you are going to take an awful lot of points away from some clubs, especially the small clubs who are trying to build up their points at this time.

MR. HERD: I think, Mr. President, it would be a wrong thing to do because I have in mind about twenty-five or thirty dogs entered for specials only, we had about thirty at the last spring show, we had about 385 benched and with this we wouldn't have 385 dogs benched, and I think it would be a hardship.

PRES. McFARLAND: Of course there is the other case of hardship on the exhibitor who has a champion that has been winning all over the circuit and also a young dog that he is trying to make a champion. In that case—that is my own case—I have been sending some of my dogs for championship points and the others for specials only and not showing them in the competition classes, now I would have to send some to get points, and the other dogs wouldn't be in the show at all.

MR. McCLOY: Mr. Chairman, as this happens to be a western notice of motion I wish to explain my position on it, in seconding the motion, that there had been a lot of discussion before this was brought down.

PRES. McFARLAND: Oh quite, explain.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I think I can explain Mr. Stock's idea even though the director here has not done it. It arises out of the Kennel entry.

MR. PYM: No, no.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: That is practically what is behind the proposition. In the west they have what is known as a Kennel Entry.

MR. McCLOY: Pardon me, that is wrong.

MR. BRUCE: I know what is behind it, I have discussed it with Mr. Stock.

MR. PYM: If you will pardon me, I have the minutes with me and I can explain this. These are true copies of the minutes and it is plain Mr. Bruce is wrong there.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I have discussed it with the boys out there. As you know, one of the chief causes of discontent over the show which I, following the direction of the Board, held an investigation over, in Vancouver three years ago, was the question of that Kennel Entry, where you came along with $10 and you could put in as many dogs as you liked and you didn't show them but it went to make up the count. That was the thing that caused all the trouble, that matter of three or four years ago.

MR. PYM: On that, yes.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: And this is the outcome of that, Mr. Stock has had that in his mind ever since. What else can you read into it? You can read into it, Mr. Stock's idea is just as I stated, that only a dog that is a matter of record as having been shown under a judge shall be considered in the official count, which I consider is entirely wrong. If you have four or five outstanding dogs which have already won their championships and you think it worth while putting them out as an advertisement in the show, if you have the desire to show them and you pay for them I don't see why they shouldn't the clubs have the value of the dogs. You are going to militate against show-giving clubs too, particularly in points. Let us be fair. It is difficult enough under present conditions to get sufficient dogs to guarantee your points that if you get to a point where you needed perhaps a dozen dogs and you went to the extent of putting in a dozen dogs on exhibition, dogs of merit, why shouldn't the clubs have the value of the rating, particularly if they were champions? Some may be foolish enough to want to use dogs that are not of merit but at the same time if you have dogs that are of merit that are benched why shouldn't they be given credit as being in the show? That is the point you have to keep in mind?

MR. PYM: Mr. President, personally—I am now speaking for myself—I am very glad to hear Mr. Bruce express himself as he has and I would add that there is a difference of opinion among our own British Columbia members in regard to this. Some are in favor of it. In one district a vote was taken and Mr. Stock's motion was supported; in another district it was lost unanimously, and so they are divided. Mr. Stock contends that there are a lot of nondescript dogs gathered up and placed in the show in order to boost the count. In opposition to that it has been shown that there are others who are good sports who will spend money on their entry fees and put the dogs in and good dogs, not nondescript dogs at all, but good dogs, and not compete even with specials, to let the other fellow go behind him and get what points he can, at the same time keeping in mind the requirements of the attendance at your show and put their best dogs up in order to allow other people to look at your dogs. The bull terrier, Champion Haymarket Faultless was mentioned, after winning the Best in Show in New York, he was a greater attraction to the show than most of the dogs that were benched and he was taken into the count, but in this motion they take away the attraction, he would be simply a side line and his owner just simply throwing his money away. Mr. Stock is wrong about this nondescript dog proposition. A nondescript dog comes from the novice exhibitor, that has the one dog and someone has possibly told him to take it down to a show or they think they should take it to the show, it is not the experienced breeder who is going to risk his reputation as a breeder by putting in these nondescript dogs that Mr. Stock takes issue on. As I am saying to Mr. Stock now, that if this practice is wrong good sports have been spending money in this way; and as I have told Mr. Stock, and which he will read in Kennel and Bench, that he is wrong in this and I am glad to say he is wrong because Mr. Stock holds all championship medals for padding shows inasmuch as he claims that he boasted a three point show to a five point show, so he knows something about putting dogs in a show, and he still carries sufficient entries in the shows in order to be sure they are making the points. And, speaking for myself, I carry a few dogs around to shows and confess I spend considerable money. I have heard is mentioned that some get their entries for nothing, but that hasn't been accorded to me, and I would like to get in right if such is going on. I am not in accordance with his motion and I believe he is not bringing forward a movement that will help our shows but will injure our shows, and if I feel disposed to enter two or three or four dogs to help the receipts I consider that is strictly my business, and I ask Mr. Stock if he, or if he knows of anyone that had ever written to the Canadian Kennel Club and asked them to take from him championship points which his dogs won by virtue of the fact that other good sports put in dogs to put a show over?

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Question.

MR. REEVES: If this amendment went we might have in special instances dogs that were entered for Specials only given the special for the best of their breed and then competing with one of the group classes and probably getting best in Show and yet that dog couldn't be counted as an exhibit in the show.

MR. McCLOY: Not as a director for British Columbia but as a member of the Canadian Kennel Club I am entitled to express my opinion on this. I am entirely against it, personally, and my heart is in support of Mr. Bruce's remarks on the question.

PRES. McFARLAND: The motion is: "That, Rule 17, Sub. Section—Rating—shall be amended, insofar as the word 'benched' be expunged and 'Competing in one or more of the regular classes' be substituted."

All in favor of the amendment?
(2) All opposed? I declare the motion lost.

The next amendment is proposed by Mr. William G. Climo.

The old rule reads: "Dogs may be entered for Exhibition or for Specials only if so stated on entry blank, but dogs entered in this manner must be entered in one of the following classes in which they shall not compete—Puppy, Novice, Canadian-bred, Limit, Open. In judging 'General Specials' the competition shall be restricted to dogs that have won the Specials for Best of Breed."

It is asked that that be amended to now read: "Dogs having won their Canadian Kennel Club Championships may be entered for Exhibition or for Specials only if so stated on the entry blank, but dogs entered in this manner must be entered in one of the following classes in which they shall not compete—"Puppy, Novice, Canadian-bred, Limit, Open. In Judging 'General Specials' the competition shall be restricted to dogs that have won the Special for Best of Breed."

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: Read it correctly it means it is absolutely barring champions. He says, "Dogs having won their Canadian Kennel Club Championships. . ."

MR. TANTON: I would move that.

MR. PYM: And I second it.

MAJOR WARD WRIGHT: Might I ask, Mr. President, if this proposed amendment was received within the time limited by the Constitution?

THE SECRETARY: That seems to be a printer's error; it should be November 18th.

MR. SPARKS: Both of them should be.

THE SECRETARY: Quite obviously.

MR. SPARKS: As I see this amendment to our rule the thing would be just to bar champions; and everything else, as the dogs entered for specials and exhibition, would be just as it is now, the only difference would be to bar champions. I don't see why, just speaking personally, a champion should be barred from a class?

PRES. McFARLAND: That is the general effect, there is no doubt.

MR. SPARKS: Therefore I have pleasure in making an amendment to the original amendment, that the original amendment be not considered.

PRES. McFARLAND: Just vote it down, that is all you do.

Our Honourary President has pointed out or asked a very pertinent question as to how a champion is going to compete in the Puppy and Novice, Limit class.

MR. McCLOY: Mr. President, I was just going to take that point up, to know where it is possible that a champion be a Puppy. No champion could win the Novice class. That resolution is worded wrongly I think and I would move that it be thrown out.

MR. PERRY: The intention is it is not to bar champions, the man is wording this to limit dogs that should be entered for exhibition only to champions; the only difference between this and the original rule is that it is a champion instead of just a dog, that is the only thing.

MR. STOCKDALE: Question, Mr. President.

PRES. McFARLAND: All in favor of the motion to amend the Dog Show Rules? Contrary? I declare the motion lost.

The next order is:

GENERAL BUSINESS

Then I will receive a motion of adjournment.

MR. PYM: Mr. President, I believe we have the matter of amendments passed at the last annual meeting?

PRES. McFARLAND: Oh yes, I am sorry, Mr. Pym. Then you have the floor.

MR. PYM: Mr. President, I think it will not be felt disrespectful on my part if, holding views opposite to the Minister of Agriculture, I express them here. I believe that the proposed amendment as submitted and carried at our last annual meeting held in this city last year is an outlet to a situation that is not only serious at the present moment but will continue to become more acute as time goes on. I cannot believe for the life of me that we have the proper system, and while it may be said, and I believe we have those who defend the action of an open Stud Book to unregistered champions as the equivalent of granting the same privilege to horses, poultry, sheep, swine, goats and so on, I do not follow that argument because I do not personally believe that we have anything in common with the registration of those animals and birds other than the system of record keeping, and I do not think that the system of record keeping should interfere with the improvement of the breeding of dogs and I am firmly convinced in my own mind that that is the case at the present time. I cannot believe for the life of me that we should deny privileges to Canadian-bred dogs who have an authentic three generation pedigree and who have won their championships and then grant these privileges to a foreign-bred dog of no proven merit and previous record. I think we are here to improve the breeding of Canadian-bred dogs, not dogs of other countries, and I also believe we are keeping a lot of good fanciers away from the Canadian Kennel Club on account of this rule, in addition to that, I think, when you place a premium on registration certificates. I realize there was opposition several times to the Minister of Agriculture after this amendment was carried at the last annual meeting. This was carried notwithstanding the fact that sixty days' notice had been given and that was the time they should have submitted their opposition. There are two owners I believe who have opposed that resolution after it was adopted and one is the genuine fancier who has registered stock and has read something foreign into my proposed amendment. I think that all he requires is enlightenment, but that there is another opposition, and a dangerous opposition for the Canadian Kennel Club, and it is the fellow who is a registered owner and he is out to sell a $25 dog with a $75 registration certificate for a total of $100, and that is where the serious opposition comes from, if I am correctly informed.

I believe we are organized for the purpose of developing the breeding of Canadian-bred dogs, the compiling of breeding records and at the same time granting a service to all worthy breeders of pure-bred dogs in this country and I submit that we are not granting the privileges that we should grant, and I also submit that we are not receiving the benefit as breeders of pure-bred dogs to which we are entitled. It is hard for me to believe that we could come here last year and discuss this proposed amendment at length and then we find some eight months afterwards that one man has vetoed our motion. I cannot believe that that is right or that it is even just in any shape or form. We pride ourselves on having the most democratic Kennel Club in the world but if we were to follow that procedure out here if I may put that in, then we would become the most autocratic Kennel Club in the world and it would boil itself down to a one-man autocracy, and I don't think such a condition could ever stand the test of time. I think this matter should be referred back to the Minister of Agriculture with the recommendation that it be given more consideration and that the service that the breeders of pure-bred dogs are entitled to should be granted to them. And before taking my seat I want to impress upon you I have made that over again at this meeting to receive the views of others. I would like to hear the views of others.

MR. STOCKDALE: I would second the motion.

PRES. McFARLAND: I don't think there was any motion. I just gave Mr. Pym the privilege of the floor to bring this matter up.

MR. PYM: Then I will, Mr. President. I would move that the proposed amendment in regard to the registration of unregistered champions with an authentic three generation pedigree adopted at our last annual meeting be referred back to the Minister of Agriculture with a recommendation that it receive more consideration along the lines on which I have advocated to-day.

MR. STOCKDALE: I second it.

MEMBERS: Question.

PRES. McFARLAND: All in favor? Contrary if any? I declare the motion carried.

Before we adjourn, there are a couple of matters here that I was to bring up; I don't think they require to keep us in discussion although I am going to ask for an expression of opinion on one of them. The first is this: You may remember that I think two years ago one of the delegates, it was Mr. Kerr, wasn't it, from British Columbia, brought up the question of freight rates?

THE SECRETARY: Yes.

PRES. McFARLAND: I wanted to explain to the meeting at large Mr. Kerr brought up the question of exorbitant freight and express rates charged by the railways on dogs, particularly in the west where they had the long haul, and it was quite thoroughly discussed and at the request of the meeting I gave my personal undertaking that if they would furnish me with the material necessary to support it I would go to Ottawa and appear before the Railway Commission and explain the case and make an application for lower rates. Now I was assured at that meeting that that information would be sent me and I told them exactly what I wanted were specific instances with statistics and figures. About a month later, their information not having arrived, I ordered the Secretary to send out a letter pointing out that this information was required before the application could be made. I waited another month and sent out a similar letter and we had not one single reply from anywhere in Canada. I mention this simply to show to the meeting that my undertaking was not carried out only because I was not given the co-operation which the meeting led me to expect I would have.

Now the other matter is the question of the color or ribbon and I have a letter here from the Canadian Association of Exhibitions. The gist of the thing is the last paragraph: "I trust that you will have this matter placed before the annual meeting and this Association sincerely hopes the Canadian Kennel Club will see its way clear to adopt a uniform standard of prize ribbon colors." The colors adopted by the Canadian Association of Exhibitions were as follows:

First—Red
 Second—Blue
 Third—White
 Fourth—Yellow
 Fifth—Green
 Sixth—Pink
 Champion—Royal Purple
 Reserve Champion—Mauve
 Grand Champion—Tricolor.

You see that is a radical departure from ours. Now that I might say has been brought up before the Board of Directors I think on two occasions and on each occasion the directors have decided not to accede to the request but to continue to give the blue ribbon for first prize and the red for second and so on. But we have been informed, unofficially I think I should say, that we are the only Association that has not conformed to that color scheme, and that the Canadian Association of Exhibitions are prepared to take the stand that if we continue to be outside the color scheme there will be no dog shows held in Canada in connection with exhibitions. Now that, I don't know whether,—as I say, that comes to us unofficially but there is the question.

MR. SPARKES: Mr. Chairman, the Secretary I believe attended a meeting of the Exhibition Boards. Did you, Mr. Secretary?

THE SECRETARY: Yes.

MR. SPARKES: I don't believe when you brought your report back to the directors that they had given any thought on their part of intimidation by not holding shows unless we changed our colors. Did they?

THE SECRETARY: No.

PRES. McFARLAND: No. My information didn't come from the Secretary at all.

MR. SPARKES: I would think as the Secretary attended their meeting that if they felt disposed that way, Mr. Chairman, they would have told the Secretary and that not having told the Secretary I don't think we should take very much notice of that.

PRES. McFARLAND: It would mean a very serious thing if they did.

MR. REEVES: Mr. President, I think we should take notice of this because we have information given us at the directors' meeting this afternoon by a most reliable director that the Exhibition Board were seriously considering not holding dog shows with the exhibitions unless we complied with their request. Now you all know that through the west a dog show is always held by the Exhibition and it is going to mean a very very great hardship to the west if dog shows are not held with the Exhibition and I think this is a very very serious question and one that we have to consider very carefully.

MR. SEMPLE: Mr. Chairman, I make the motion that the wishes of these Exhibition Associations be granted.

MR. KYNOCH: I second the motion.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any further discussion?

MR. RITCHIE: Mr. President we in Quebec are not fortunate enough to have any grants but in speaking to the directors I found throughout the west there are many exhibitions which are sponsored and perhaps paid for by the Exhibition Association, and I believe the time is ripe now that we should decide to give these people our support if necessary. Positively I feel that the ribbons should be changed.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

GEN. NELLES: Isn't it a fact we would not be able to do anything definite on this matter to-night, that that would have to be a change in the Dog Show Rules?

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: It would mean an amendment, but you get the feeling of the meeting.

PRES. McFARLAND: Just to get the feeling of the meeting.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: All you do is like we did last year, to get the feeling of the meeting for some of these amendments that have been here to-night so that the necessary notice may be given during the year; but the position of your Board during this last year when the matter came before it is the fact that all down through history it has always been considered, if you read literature much, that the blue ribbon on anything is the winner. Everything in the United States in livestock merits awards is blue for the first; everything that we know in England, dogs included, is blue. Even in the United States it is blue.

MR. McCLOY: Excuse me, Mr. Bruce, you are incorrect.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I say yes.

MR. McCLOY: I say no.

MR. SEMPLE: I have heard of red first prize ribbons in England.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I saw blues there; in fact I will be candid with you, I have some blue ribbons here that were sent out here with dogs that we have imported; I have them and will produce them.

MR. McCLOY: I have never heard of it yet.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: However the position of your Board has been that we should stick to the traditional color scheme that has gone down pretty nearly through life. In Canada it seems that the Livestock Association have adopted a standard of their own and the Exhibition Boards are attempting to continue that color scheme. I am not one of those who are dictating in the matter but I feel that in standing to the color scheme that is generally recognized as far as our own dogs are concerned that they have been passed by the clubs of this North American Continent and it is going to be peculiar to get red ribbons in Canada, anywhere around here, and go to New York or go to any of the American shows and get blue, it is going to make it difficult perhaps for a man displaying his winnings to have blues and reds both representing first prize winners. But we have perhaps the other practical side to look to, from the information that has been brought to us to-day, that the great majority of our shows in Western Canada are either subsidized or financed in that way by the Exhibition Associations who take part, who are making this request upon us at this time; the directors who come from that part are also appealing to us, and particularly some of our Ontario directors who are in the same position. The request has never been made upon us yet by the Exhibition Board Directors here in the City of Toronto and I don't know whether they are interested in the matter although I presume we will find that out at one of our meetings.

We are now in this position, your Board feels that it is a matter worthy of consideration for this meeting and is therefore bringing it here with the idea of sounding this meeting out that we might, if this meeting thinks that it is not too much of a radical change, prepare the necessary amendment for next year so that this thing could be brought in line with the Exhibition Association to meet their wishes so that our own members in the various parts of the country can co-operate with the Exhibition Associations and get their unanimous support in all things they are doing for the benefit of the dog game.

rather than be ostracized by having the color scheme different.

PRES. McFARLAND: Ready for the question? It is.

MOVED BY: Mr. Semple.

SECONDED BY: Mr. Kynoch.

That the feeling of this meeting is that the request of the Canadian Association of Exhibitions in the matter of colors should be complied with.

MR. SPARKES: Mr. Chairman, I think we ought to think this matter over. As you know, and as was pointed out, around the United States the A. K. C. and the C. K. C. both had the same color ribbons for dogs. Now why make the distinction now that they call themselves this Exhibition Board?

PRES. McFARLAND: Canadian Association of Exhibitions.

MR. SPARKES: Now sheep and swine and so forth are always blue, they always have blue for first, or until just recently.

PRES. McFARLAND: No.

MR. SPARKES: The sheep did. They have only just changed them.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: Red.

MR. SPARKES: They are now; just changed over.

PRES. McFARLAND: I don't think that makes any difference.

MR. SPARKES: But if we pass this now we don't know really the position of this Exhibition Board or this Exhibition Committee and I have pleasure in making an amendment to the motion, Mr. Chairman, that the matter be left in the hands of the directors.

PRES. McFARLAND: Does anybody second Mr. Sparkes' amendment?

MR. SHAWLEY: I do.

MR. CAESAR: Mr. President, I am Secretary of the Toronto Open Air Horse Parade Association and that our Board of Directors used to give blue for first, but as they say, in England red is the first, and we changed our awards from blue to red on account of that, and the blue is an American idea, not the English idea.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MR. PERRY: I am in a position to know probably the stand that the Fair Associations are taking on this. Mr. Jackson, the Secretary of the Western Fair, in London, is the Secretary of this organization and he summoned me to his office and asked me to particularly speak on this question and he told me that there was absolutely no doubt that if the Canadian Kennel Club did not fall in line with the other Associations that there would be a concentrated effort and it would be a rule passed by their Association to cut out dog shows in connection with the fairs, that they would bring the Canadian Kennel Club to time. He didn't say that in an antagonistic way, he didn't think that he was exceeding his rights, he thought that if we were all standing out where all the other Associations had fallen in line that the Canadian Kennel Club would be the ones that were falling down upon a very small thing; because after all it is a small thing when you figure it out, some of our ribbons are different than the American Kennel Club, our Reserve Winners ribbon we have a white ribbon; it isn't very many years ago when we used to have a white ribbon for winner's ribbon and that was changed and didn't work any hardship on us. After all the percentage of Canadian dog fanciers that show in American shows is not as great as the percentage of cattle breeders that show in American shows. No, I am wrong: The percentage of Canadian Exhibitors that show at American shows dogs is not as great as the cattle exhibitors that show in American shows. So if we accede to this thing we are not doing anything that other Associations have not done, and after all it is a small thing to decide upon.

MR. SEMPLE: I would like to have one more word. I made this motion; I am open on it myself, and I am out to get the sounding of the members here, but I would like to just say this, that they are meaning business when they say they won't give us the shows, and you are going to kill the west. We have an awful struggle keeping in touch with the dog game and when all is said and done it is not much. The ladies one time have long dresses and by way of a change have short dresses, and you would never catch a lady buying the same color hat twice, so I think it is not a big matter.

MR. STOCKDALE: I am pleased to hear Mr. Semple say that he was open on it and his reference to the ladies is always pleasant to me, but the reference made by Mr. Caesar to the horses and the cattle rather makes me take the bit in my teeth—I am a horse lover too. You take the Canadian Association of Fall Fairs and the representatives from the other Livestock Breeders' Associations, if they are as anxious to get co-operation with the representatives of the Canadian Kennel Club why do they not support motions that we send up to the National Live Stock Registration Board and help us get them and not have things got for horses and for cattle and pigs that they refuse to give to dogs? Personally I am going to support the amendment.

MR. SPARKES: Mr. Chairman, the reason I made this amendment is the fact that the previous speaker was my fellow delegate to the Royal Winter Fair several years ago and we were the two dog men and I felt like a fool because whenever dogs were mentioned we were told just to sit down, we were just told we ere no use there. Isn't that right?

MR. STOCKDALE: That is right.

MR. SPARKES: But they had no use for dogs or anything else.

PRES. McFARLAND: Then it is

MOVED BY: Mr. Semple.

SECONDED BY: Mr. Kynoch.

THAT it is the feeling of this meeting that the request of the Canadian Association of Exhibitions in the matter of colors should be complied with:

It has been.

MOVED IN AMENDMENT by Mr. Sparkes.

SECONDED BY: Mr. Shawley.

THAT the matter be left for disposal by the directors.

All in favor of the amendment? That is the amendment of Mr. Sparkes' that it be left to the directors? Opposed?

I declare the amendment lost.

All in favor of Mr. Semple's motion that in the opinion of this meeting the Canadian Association of Exhibitions' request should be complied with in the ordinary way?

MR. SEMPLE: I think, Mr. Chairman, if you would put the thing just clearly again it would make a big difference.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. Semple moves and Mr. Kynoch seconds the motion that in the opinion of this meeting the request of the Canadian Association of Exhibitions in the matter of color of ribbons should be complied with:

Mr. Sparkes moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Shawley, that the matter be left to the discretion of the directors.

According to Parliamentary procedure I am obliged to put the amendment first.

MR. HERD: May I ask a question? If it is left to the discretion of the Board of Directors and they decide, which I have no doubt they will under the expression of the meeting here to-night, that they would give the west what they really want, then they wouldn't be up against any controversy with the Exhibitions and shows running their shows; if we kill this motion of Mr. Semple's it will lie on the table till next year.

PRES. McFARLAND: It will do so anyway, Mr. Herd, because it has to be an amendment to the Dog Show Rules which has to have notice.

All in favor of the amendment, that the matter be left to the discretion of the directors, please hold up their hands. (13).

All opposed to leaving it to the directors? (27).

I declare the amendment lost.

All in favor of Mr. Semple's motion that in the opinion of this meeting the request of the Canadian Association of Exhibitions to change the colors of the ribbons should be complied with hold up their hands. (33).

All opposed?

I declare the motion carried.

MR. KYNOCH: I would suggest that the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club notify the Association Breeders what has been done so that they will know we are going to do something, just as an expression of opinion.

VICE-PRES. McRAE: Mr. Chairman, I would move that we adjourn.

MR. HERD: I see by one of the daily papers of the Province of Ontario here that you are advertising that you are going to apply at this session of the Legislature for power to have invested all the assets of the Canadian Kennel Club to the Canadian Kennel Club and I ask what it is?

PRES. McFARLAND: No, you will find that that bill is to vest the assets of the Canadian Kennel Club in the Canadian Kennel Club Incorporated, which is the corporate body incorporated by Dominion Statutes two years ago. It is just carrying out the organization of this institution as a Dominion Company.

VICE-PRES. BRUCE: I move we adjourn.

A LADY MEMBER: I would like to know why the wolf-hound was barred from the over weight class in the Exhibition?

PRES. McFARLAND: I rule that discussion out of order.

Is there a seconder to the motion to adjourn?

MR. WALKERDINE: Last year I brought up, and another year, away back to 1927, and I believe Col. MacRae will remember it, in connection with the date as to the Election of Officers being altered from December 21st to the 31st. I was promised it would be seen to, and the Stud Book has come out again with no alteration. Can I be assured that the next Stud Book will have that alteration? It is a motion carried away back in 1927.

PRES. McFARLAND: It was duly forwarded. Mr. McCulloch will probably know about it.

MR. McCULLOCH: No, I don't know anything about it.

PRES. McFARLAND: Will you make a note of it?

MR. McCULLOCH: Yes.

PRES. McFARLAND: I have a motion to adjourn before me. All in favor? Carried.

10.30 P.M. meeting adjourned.

KENNEL AND BENCH

25 Melinda St. Toronto, Canada

The Secretary presented his financial report showing the club to be in a very healthy state and owning their own Benching, which was made expressly for the club by Spratt's Patent Lt., London, England. This benching is the very latest style benching, and the English Bulldog Club of Canada is the only club in America that owns this type of benching.

Throughout the year the club has progressed quite considerably, holding several matinee shows and one Point Show. At the Point Show, sixty-one English Bulldogs were benched, many representatives of the breed being from the U.S.A.

In the President's report, he remarked that the officers were desirous that at least two Point Shows should be held during the present year, if at all possible.

A great many American fanciers are numbered in the membership of the English Bulldog Club of Canada, and it is hoped that an Executive Committee will be added to the club which will be comprised of only American members, so that they can look after the interests of the Organization in the U.S.A. And at some future date the officers are going to make efforts to meet the officials of the Bulldog Club of America to talk things over and see what can be done to further the interests of the Bulldog game in both countries, namely in the U.S.A. and in Canada.

DOGS OF THE EMPIRE

Hunting the Big Cats of North and South America. By FREEMAN LLOYD.

(Illustrations from the Author's Collections.)

THE other day I received a visit from a distinguished Virginian, and, naturally a Foxhunter. He bore the name and was of the family residing on the old property that had much to do with the career of the first President of the United States, George Washington, who, as a surveyor, had been employed as such on the Fairfax estate, in Colonial times. The origin of the American Foxhound was discussed, the enquirer was desirous of finding out some particulars regarding the missing links in the chain of written evidence as put into print by various American authors including the late General Roger Williams, of Lexington, Kentucky. Mr. Fairfax Harrison, of Belvoir House, Belvoir, Fauquier Co., Virginia, was good enough to remark that he thought I had been as near hitting the mark regarding the origin of American hounds as anyone had been; and he wished to know where I had obtained so many particulars regarding the older American Foxhounds, and their probable ancestors. Where could he (Mr. Harrison) obtain the necessary information: in what books, etc., etc.

The reply was "not usually in books but mostly in pictures."

And it will be from old paintings or prints after the pictures by famous, and therefore reliable, artists, that we shall be able to discover just what we have the patience to look after. The "find" might take a long time to discover, but, let us hope, the hunt will be successful, as it surely will be pleasant.

It will be gathered that I am inclined to place much faith in pictures; more so than in the printed word, which often is the garbled cribbing of one author from another writer. No words can convey the actual style and formation of some dog; but if we picture him, the eye will at once take in the peculiarities of whatever breed the looker-on is interested in—either as an out and out dog fancier or the man who keeps hounds or gun dogs simply for the sport these dogs are able to give to himself and sporting neighbors.

Recently I have been enabled to uncover some remarkable pictures of Old English hounds, which, centuries ago, were used for hunting the stag, otter, fox, hare and other animals. In North America, as we know, the same stamp of hound or harrier is used for hunting anything from fox to bear, mountain lion and panther. In the picture where a couple of black and tan colored hounds are sniffing around the recently shot jaguar, it will be realized that just such hounds as these would be chosen for hunting any other of the larger quadrupeds—carnivorous or ruminant. A hound, because of the keenness of his scenting powers, enjoys hunting anything on four legs. He has, at times, his own inclinations; but he must be made aware that he is only required to hunt, find, and run on the line or trail of the one and only animal to which he has been entered. The hounds in the picture are of a fine robustness. They might be described as American Bloodhounds, a strain made up of the bloods of the pure-bred English Bloodhound and the American Foxhound, the latter probably descended from a cross between French and English hounds. The first pack of French hounds to arrive in America was a gift from General Lafayette to General Washington.

These French hounds were used for hunting deer: the red fox was not in the land. The French hounds were and are descendants from the white hounds and black hounds of Continental Europe. There were and are, rough and smooth-coated hounds, and these were employed in pack, or as single hounds. These drove deer, bear, wolves, foxes and hares towards the waiting and armed sportsman. There was not much of the hard-riding to hounds as is practiced nowadays. The hounds in the jaguar picture are well-matched; obviously they are well bred, and of an established strain or type. Their heads are hunting heads and remind one of the 17th century pictures of the Harriers and Pole hounds as designed by Francis Barlow (1626-1702). Barlow's work was published around the year 1671. The huntsman and hunt servants carried long poles, such as are used to-day while otter-hunting. The men ran on foot after the hounds, and instead of heading off the hounds when they desired to stop them, the hunt officials placed their poles in front of the hounds, and held them up, as if they had been drilled as soldiers. The huntsman bore a hunting horn, but, apparently, the day of the hunting whip had not arrived. Seemingly the day of the Pole Hound has passed.

The hound-lover will at once notice the large skulls of the jaguar hounds, as here illustrated. It was and should be considered that a hound must have a more or less massive head. Such a hound will be found the better equipped as a hunting hound. It is imperative that he possess olfactory organs of the very highest order. In this connection it may be mentioned that the better scenting powers of the old and heavy-headed American Foxhound or coon hound, when compared with the finer skulled English Foxhound, must be put down to the influence of the blood of the Old French hounds which, in turn, were close relatives of the Talbot Hounds introduced into England soon after the Norman Conquest, (1066).

According to an old, and it is thought, reliable authority, the Talbot hound was gifted with superior olfactory organs. He had a very large head, by comparison, larger than any other dog of his kind. Because of the size of his divided very minutely, and thus that exquisite acuteness of smell is produced, which must be always found to obtain in dogs with large, broad heads. Hence, the Talbot Hound stood pre-eminently conspicuous.

It should be borne in mind, it is declared, that the largeness and flexibility of the lips and skin about the nose admit of a greater extension of the olfactory nerves. These resemble a bunch of small white cords, one end of which is connected with the brain, while the other, descending the head, spreads into numerous ramifications, reaching the edges of the lips, as well as to the extremity of the nose.

A sharp nose on a dog or any other animal does not necessarily point to indifferent or poor scenting abilities. Both the wolf and the fox have pointed faces or noses, but, as we know, they have wonderful hunting abilities. It would appear that the hunting faculties find their home in the skull, rather than before the eyes of the hunting hound or dog.

Once again referring to the jaguar picture that has been enlarged from a photographic film owned by the Field and Stream Magazine, New York, it will be observed that hounds do not attempt to mouth the shot and fallen feline. Hounds and dogs are not partial to the flesh of the greater or smaller of the cat tribes.

neither may they be easily cajoled to eat the flesh of a wild boar or wolf. Only this week, my nephew, Sydney Lloyd of Greenlawn, Islay, Alberta, said that he had noticed that dogs—wolf or long dogs, would at once leave the body of a freshly killed coyote: or as he put it: "They seem to know the moment the life is out of the wolf: they leave the creature as if he were poisonous. On the other hand, they will tear to pieces a rabbit or porcupine, and gobble up the remains, as often as not before the hunter arrives on the scene in the bluff or other cover where the kill had taken place.

A curious incident is related by the famous Colonel Thornton in his "Sporting Tour Through France." This excursion was in the 18th century. Thornton was an Englishman and a profligate at that! It is said that he wished to become a subject of France, but that country declined the honor. However, to the wolf hunt with the Colonel's English hounds, the native French hounds, a bobbery aggregation of other dogs, guns and pistols.

"Another shot proclaimed that the game was again seen, when the wolf turned shorter and the hounds got nearer; and on my representing to the gentlemen that our hounds would out-rate him, they politely agreed they would fire no more. The wolf was now frequently seen, and at every time the horns gave notice. He crossed an avenue that was tolerably clear, when Vixen, who had joined us, saw him, and, although just before jaded, the little devil got the scent and gave tongue when she seemed to be near and teasing him, my hounds came up within two hundred yards of his jack, all in a sheet; and even some of the French hounds, which had given up the chase, now came in. One of them, between a Newfoundland dog and a deep-mouthed Norman hound, worked very well . . .

"At this moment the wolf turned to us, when the terrier (Vixen), having a decided advantage from the thickness of the cover, continued catching at his haunches. I hallooed, the huntsman blew away, and the game was now on the point of death, surrounded by his enemies. His tongue hung out, and he was evidently wounded in more places than one, as he scarcely could draw his near hind-leg after him. After he had been tormented for some time by Vixen, he came to a sort of opening in the ride, but in crossing some deep ruts, he fell, and could not recover himself. The Norman hound and three others rushed in, and threw him on his back. He snatched, but they seized him by the throat and back, while Vixen had got hold of his haunch. I thrust the end of my whip in his mouth, and the huntsman coolly tied his nose, and drew his couteau de chasse, which I told him was unnecessary; the hounds being at him, he must soon expire . . .

"Having opened our canteens and taken some refreshments, I ordered the carcass of the wolf to be thrown to the hounds, and the greatest part of it was soon devoured. But the French hounds would not touch it. On examining the dogs, we found that one of Consul's ears was almost bit off, Caustic was sadly cut on the side of her face, and the rest a little injured. Vixen had escaped with only a bloody nose; that was indeed a severe wound for a terrier, but she did not seem to mind it; and indeed they all suffered much less than I expected . . . This wolf hunt took place in the forest of Berci."

It is evident that the English hounds, in their excitement, didn't know what they were eating.

THE GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG.

Hitherto the German Shepherd dog has been known as the Alsatian Wolf-dog, the Police Dog, the Shepherd Dog, etc. The club sponsoring the breed in Canada was known as the Alsatian Shepherd Dog Club.

Now things are to be different. At the Annual General Meeting of the club it was decided to change the name of the club to "The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada," and this brings the club into harmony with the correct name of the dog as it is officially known by the Stud Book registrar at the Live Stock Records office. It was also decided to amend the constitution of the club by striking out the word "Alsatian" wherever it occurred, and by substituting therefore the word "German" in every such instance.

The reports of the several committee chairmen were submitted, considered favorable, and were adopted.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Dr. H. H. Hodgson; Vice-President, Thos. W. Lee; Directors, A. Cecil Corry, G. H. Gilchrist, Alex. L. Gooderham, Harry McDowell, M. J. Morgan, Randall Perry and F. Paul Steglich.

Secretary, T. E. Yates, P.O. Box 312, London, Ont.

THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

THE chief event of the year, as far as Canadian Dogdom is concerned, is the full directors' meeting and the annual general meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club. Early in the forenoon of Friday, February 7th, our "Jimmy" called a get-together meeting of the Directors, and on my arrival at the commodious clubroom at Melinda St., I found a number of the Directors already present, in fact, Alex. McCloy, who was the life of the party, and is the Ruling Grand Master of the Loyal "Moo's", had already initiated a number of the Directors into the order with the able assistance of Secretary Ritchie of the "Moo's." "Bobby" Laskey, as cheery as ever, was full of enthusiasm for the future of dogs and shows in the Maritimes. J. H. Tanton is going to prove a tower of strength for Alberta, and he will get every assistance from his fellow Western Directors, A. P. Semple and Geo. Kynoch. Of course W. H. Pym was full of vim and when you meet our two live-wire British Columbia Directors, Messrs. Pym and McCloy, one does not wonder why the club and the Fancy is progressing so rapidly in B.C. Before many minutes were over, our "Jimmy" had introduced all the Directors to each other and a round table conference was held, our President, Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland being in the chair. From the constructive criticism that was brought forward by all the Directors, one could not fail to be an optimist as regards the future prosperity of our club.

After the luncheon interval, Lt. Col. McFarland had the pleasure of introducing to the Canadian Kennel Club Directors, the three chief officers of the American Kennel Club, the President, Dr. J. E. de Mund, Charles T. Ingle and P. Hamilton Goodsell. These gentlemen had very kindly waited over from the Norman K. Swire Memorial Show so as to meet our Directors and talk over matters concerning the future progress of dogdom on the American continent. All three gentlemen gave their views, which were particularly well received by our Directors. The annual general meeting was not as well attended as the 1929 meeting. Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland was in the chair and was supported by Col. J. N. McRae, J. W. Bruce and Secretary "Jimmy" Strachan and we were all delighted to see our Honorary President, C. A. Stone, present and almost completely recovered from his recent operation. Harmony reigned all through the meeting and particularly helpful criticism was offered by all our Board, a full report of which will be found in another part of this issue of Kennel and Bench.

On the Saturday the luncheon so kindly given to the Directors by Lt. Col. McFarland, was attended by all, who thoroughly enjoyed the kindly thought and hospitality of our host. Grand Master Alex. McCloy, of the Loyal "Moo's", had another busy session and before the time came to say good-bye to our host, one and all of the Directors had been initiated to the Loyal order. The out of town Directors made a thoroughly well-deserved presentation to Secretary "Jimmy", which took the form of a very handsome walking stick. Many of the Directors were going on to the New York Show, and all too soon for us, all the party had to be broken up and a rush made back to our hotels to pack up, the time evidently was not enough for Capt. H. Dudley-Waters, who missed the train entirely, and "Bobby" Laskey only just caught it by a breath-taking margin.

Arriving in New York, "Jimmy" gathered his party together at the Hotel Philadelphia and in a few hours we were watching F. H. Farwell making one of his ever-welcome appearances in the ring, judging smooth fox terriers and a real workmanlike job he made of it. The wires naturally created the most interest and around the ringside, watching for "Thet Timber," "Prudley Calling," and "Weltona Frizette," we met "Bob" Ross, "Bill" Pym, "Jimmie" Sullivan and Capt. Dudley-Waters (who, by the way, put all the blame for missing the train on the taxi man), the Word family, grand sire, sire and son; "Witty" Warren, Harry Armistead, who was taking a busman's holiday, in fact the first holiday he has had since joining the Ormsby Kennel. I was sorry to hear that Harry had been through a very worrying time, having experienced a very bad epidemic of distemper since the Winter Fair. Harry, like the good scout he is, was assiduous in his care of his patients, and I was glad to hear that the loss was practically nil. Visitors from overseas included Walter Glynn, W. L. McCandlish, J. Cooper, J. J. Holgate. "Dude" Baldwin represented Ottawa. Great excitement prevailed over the awards of Stanley J. Halle. Naturally we could not always see eye to eye with the judge and it is the glorious uncertainty which makes the dog game so interesting. Was "Thet Timber" going to get the special, and would "Prudley Calling" get ahead of "Weltona Frizette" were the general topics of conversation amongst the cognoscenti around the ringside. What a class! the open dog was well worth the long journey from Toronto. Last year's Gardens Champion, "Eden Aristocrat of Wildoaks," admirably handled by "Bob" Barlow, could only get third to Nedwob Tallyman of Blarney and Thet Timber, the general opinion being that "Timber" would have been improved if shown a little heavier in flesh. The "Garden" judge, Walter Glynn, evidently thought differently, for he awarded "Thet Timber" Winners at the Garden the next day. It is a moot question which was the better class, the open dogs or bitches. Believe me, very few around envied the task of the judges in having to decide between Prudley Calling and Weltona Frizette. John G. Bates handled the former to perfection, and Frizette stood like a bronze statue for Mr. Barlow. It was indeed a Ladies' Day for "Prudley Calling" gained the special for best wire or smooth. F. H. Farwell having this question to decide.

On the Monday, the fifty-fourth annual show of the Westminster Kennel Club started at Madison Square Gardens and it was certainly an outstanding success. The arrangements were simply perfect and much praise is due to the George F. Foley Dog Show Organization for the excellence of their arrangements. The main floor was given over to the judging rings and the dogs, with the exception of the Toys, were all benched on the lower floor. President William Ranch, Secretary Robert Sedgwick and Treasurer John G. Bates were everywhere and they came in for well-deserved congratulations on the result of their efforts to make the show a success. Exhibitors and judges alike owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Samuel Milbank, the chief steward, and to Joseph C. Hoagland for the promptness in bringing the dogs to the rings. In fact, in my thirty years' experience I have never attended a better managed show, which, from Monday morning until W. L. McCandlish handed the Special for best dog or bitch to John G. Bates' great wire bitch, "Prudley Calling," late on Wednesday night, went off without one single hitch. I must not forget a word of praise to Frank F. Dole, the able press representative, who, in his usual kindly way, looked after the representatives of the fourth estate.

Going over the breeds, Chesapeake Bays were poor in number, why? when such an acknowledged authority as W. T. Payne was judging! Pointers were a great group, Frederick J. Leuois, the judge, was most painstaking in his placings and also with English Setters. Joe Armstrong's Ch. Post Road Dover was ahead in Pointers, Ch. Gilroy's Speckled Chief, a son of Ch. Primley Nebs, was given the Special for Best English Setter, Dr. J. D. de Ronde received splendid support in Irish Setters, Ernest W. Smoot's Ch. Delaware Kate, well-known to Ontario fanciers, again gained the Special. Climber Spaniels, once so popular, showed a very great falling off in numbers. W. T. Payne had a great entry of Cockers. Mrs. Harkness Edwards' "Prospector," bred by Miss A. Mayhers, and purchased by Geo. Kymoch at the Canadian National, gained Winners dogs, and the Special for best solid color. Allen C. McGuird's Carleton Mickey was third in open dogs, thus repeating previous victories of Canadian-bred Cockers at New York. Walter E. Stoddart was easy to follow amongst the many good classes of Springers. In puppies, E. Chevrier gained the premier award in dogs, and also in bitches, "Inveresk Cashier," a son of "Inveresk Cannon," was the winning dog and "Ch. Lilac Wonder" the winning bitch. We heard some differences of opinion, expressed with regard to Chetwood Smith's placement of Beagles, yet he found a hound in Louis Batjer's Ch. "Meadow Lark Watchman" good enough to head a rare good group class. Leon F. Whitney's sorty team of Bloodhounds caused a deal of attention. George West, who used to play such a strong hand with Airedale Terriers, was ahead in Grayhounds, his "Gamecock David Wales" is a very shapely hound with great power behind. A small but high-quality entry of Irish Wolfhounds came before G. V. Glebe. Russian Wolfhounds were decidedly poor in numbers and the quality after the top winners was mediocre. The new breed, Briards, are undoubtedly gaining ground. Collies were one of the best collections I have ever judged and the quality of the exhibits in the puppy classes speaks well for the future of the breed. Mrs. Florence B. Ileri had a wonderful team competing, and their condition was a credit to "Mike" Kennedy. I made "Lucason of Ashstead O'Bellhaven" the best and I understand he is a brother to last year's New York winner of Best Dog in Show. Judging by the interest taken in the Great Dane judging, this breed is enjoying increased popularity. I was sorry not to see any of our Newfoundlands competing. Tenacre Kennels' sound "Bobtail Montford Marksman" was well ahead in Old English Sheepdogs. Lady Kitty Ritson created much interest with her judging of Shepherds, she certainly backed up the judgment of Col. McRae with her winning dog, Edward Zuerker's "Siegbreed Von Schulberg," but he had to give way when competing for the Special for Best Shepherd to Giralda Farms' "Giralda's Lola," a home-bred one, by Ch. Giralda's Iso Vom Doernerhof, her dam being Lola Von der Secretainerie, and this beautiful bitch had quite a following for Best in Show.

All the terrier groups were splendid for quality and numbers. In Airedales, Geo. Ward's "Courtier's Boy" gained Reserve Winners to "Warbreck Eclipse." Lt.-Col. and Mrs. M. R. Guggenheim's latest purchase, "Wolstanton Superb of Firenze," recently imported from England at a cost of $2,750.00, gained the Special, and the same kennel's "Deckham O Great of Firenze" was easily the best of the Bedlington. Once more Ch. "Haymarket Dawn" got the Special for Best Bull Terrier. In limit dogs, Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland's "Franklin's Galloper" gained second, and Ch. "Albion Victor" gained second to "Fieldstone Bru" in Open, and R. H. Elliott's Ch. "Haymarket Senator" was fourth. R. H. Elliott was placed second and fourth in puppy bitches. Lt. Col. McFarland was at the top of Novice Bitches with "Franklin's Lucky Change." R. H. Elliott won first and third in Limit Bitches not exceeding thirty-five pounds, with "Haymarket Bell" and "Haymarket Isabelle" and in Open the same bitches won first and second. Lt. Col. McFarland was placed ahead in Limit Bitches with "Franklin's Lucky Change." Our President also scored top hole in the Brace class. Around the Fox Terrier ring we all seemed to gather, anxious to see what Walter S. Glynn would do with the really marvelous collection of wires, probably the most uniform in quality ever seen at this famous show. Mr. and Mrs. Bondy headed the dog puppy class with "Beau Guest of Wildoaks," a son of Ch. "Eden Aristocrat," and also led in American breeds with "Supremacy of Wildoaks." The excitement became more tense in Limit Dogs, where Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Milbank's "Love Eagle of Earlsmoor" reversed the placings of the previous day, gaining first. Dr. and Mrs. Homer Gage's "Wycollar Diamond Merchant," who had beaten him under S. Hale, being relegated to fourth place. "Thet Timber of Earlsmoor," who is by the judge's "Brynhir Burner," won the Open class and was placed Winners dog. J. G. Bates' Ch. "Nedwob Tallyman of Blarney," who had won at the American Fox Terrier Club, being placed second, and when competing for Reserve Winners was beaten by "Love Eagle." Walter Glynn had reversed so many of the placings of the previous days that everyone was on their toes to see how J. G. Bates' "Prudley Calling" would fare against R. C.

Property of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Milbank, N.Y.

Bondy's "Weltona Frizette," but evidently the two judges thought alike and "Prudley Calling" gained the award, and on the evening of the third day, gained the most coveted award on the American continent, Best Dog or Bitch at the feature show of America. It is needless to say the award was popular amongst the huge gathering who were present to see W. L. McCandlish award this prize. Leaving the wire ring, I went along to see W. L. McCandlish placing the remarkable entry of Scottish Terriers and was sorry that Dr. and Mrs. Batt did not do better with their good team. Still it was no disgrace to get unplaced in this extra hot company. "Bob" McKaiven did well with his Ardmore's, but Bert Hawkinson's game little Diehard, "Ch. Scotshome Surprise," a son of "Ornsay Black Watch of Earlybird," gained the Special for best; in doing so, meeting and defeating one of the greatest collections of Scotties ever brought together on this side of the Atlantic. Walter Glynn had some real good classes of Sealyham's and awarded the Special to the Pinegrade Kennel's "Delp Discriminate of Pinegrade."

Passing on to the Toys, the writer had the pleasure of again meeting Miss Ashton Cross, who was handling Ray M. Cushman's marvellous headed Peke, "Funchon Paladin of Alderbourne," who has certainly made a sensation at all the shows at which he has competed since he arrived on this continent. In the Toy group, "Funchon Paladin" continued his winning career and he must have been a strong contender for Best in Show. Around the Pomeranian benches we saw signs that the team of Mrs. W. Wylie and Mrs. A. R. Kiltermaster were taking home a fair share of the spoils. Then we took another trip to the lower floor to see the Boston "Million Dollar Kid Boots" placed ahead by Julian M. Platz. There was then just time to take a look at Allan Chisholm's Bulldog, "Hazelwoods' Pride II," and a very cursory glance at Mrs. Brown's nice team of Schipperkes and then a hasty good-bye to our many friends and then we hurried to the Grand Central Depot to catch the train for Belleville, having thoroughly enjoyed our holiday.

Most of the "Canucks" attended the tenth annual dinner of the Old Guard of the Kennel World at the Hotel Victoria, on Sunday evening, February 9th, and enjoyed a few hours in the atmosphere of the "old timers," as will be noticed from the illustration.

A telegram was read from our Hon. President, C. A. Stone, regretting his inability to attend the dinner. Our Director, Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, was accepted as a life member, and our Secretary, Jimmy Strachan, was again elected Canadian representative.

I hope that those who are desirous of seeing reduced rates given to exhibitors when travelling with their dogs to shows will at once get in touch with their Canadian Kennel Club Director and give him the particulars asked for by our President, who stated at the Annual General Meeting that he had offered, months ago, to interview the Railway Commission at Ottawa, if exhibitors would only give him some facts to place before the Commission. We all feel that the freight rates on dogs are excessive, but one can hardly expect to see any redress unless exhibitors do more than talk about them. Lt. Col. G. F. McFarland has offered to do his part, so let's get some action amongst ourselves and give our President facts and figures so that he can place them before the Railway Commission without any further delay.

J. Ritchie, of Ottawa, had thoughts, sometime ago, of giving up Springers and taking up Scottish Terriers, but at New York I saw him, much interested in watching Walter Stoddart place the Springers, and whilst waiting for a class to be brought in, I gained the information that Scotties are off, and that a new Springer dog is on his way across the pond. The new dog is the Richmond Championship Winner, "Lile Donson," a liver roan by "Don of Crombie," ex Ch. "Lile Ladybird" breeding which comments itself to the most critical student of Springer breeding.

I had the pleasure of attending the Canadian National Exhibition dinner, given by the President and Directors to Live Stock Breeders and Exhibitors of Canada, and was very much interested in the address given by Sir Henry Worth Thornton, K.B.G., but was disappointed that in his address he did not mention dogs. The next time I meet Sir Henry Thornton I must certainly tell him of his omission and let him know that the breeding of dogs in England is now looked upon as a national industry, and that there is no reason why dogs in Canada should not also become a very paying industry. When I saw the crowds around the New York rings and heard of the many thousands of dollars that had been spent by our friends across the border, I wondered, more and more, why we do not do more to cultivate market.

Mrs. R. McColl, of the Alta, has the information that she has just a Scottish Terrier bitch, "Walnut."

catering for, and cater to, this produc-

as purchased from Sam Bramford the "Walnut Blossom," who, as recently as

November last, won five firsts and specials at the Port Sunlight Show. "Walnut Blossom" is by Ch. "Albourne Barty," her dam being a daughter of Ch. "Lumen." The information is also to hand that Mrs. McColl intends, in the near future, to open an exclusive Dog Shop in Toronto, not a puppy market, but a place where only dogs of registered lineage will be sold. Mrs. McColl has quite a variety Kennel now and the writer is of the opinion that she is going to fill a long-felt want in Toronto.

I am sorry to hear that J. R. Trunant met with rather a serious accident a few weeks ago, which resulted in a dislocated shoulder. Whilst he was in the hospital, his well-known Bloodhound, "Ajax," started hunting for his absent master, and after being away from home for four days, was found dead under an apple tree. This is indeed sad news, for "Ajax" was the last of the greatest strain of Bloodhounds that has lived in many years. It is to be sincerely hoped that "Ajax" may have left a son good enough and able to carry on this prepotent strain.

Evidently there was quite an outbreak of distemper after the Winter Fair—amongst the many sufferers is Miss Earnshaw, who is getting together a very good team of Chows at Camp Borden. I am glad to hear that the kennel is now free and that Miss Earnshaw only lost one puppy. By the way, whilst writing about distemper, I would like to ask any of my readers who have used the new toxin, to give me their experiences with it. George Kynoch was telling me his experience with it and evidently there is something wrong, for it certainly did not prove a success when used on the Avondale Springers.

I was sorry not to be able to spend more time at the "Norman K. Swire Memorial Show." Owing to pressure of business, I was only able to spend one morning there, watching our B.C. Director, W. H. Pynn, judge Schipperkes and Pomeranians and Alex. Stewart place the Fox Terriers and Airedales. Sam Bamford was disappointed at DanyCraig Wire Boy's low position in Wire dogs—but there were reasons for it, for Wire Boy was in very poor form. H. Whitley's rare bodied little Wire, "Never Neglected," was in great form, and in spite of the fact that he could have a little more refinement in skull, I voted him unlucky in not getting nearer the top. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy were both present to see the successful debut of their Winter Fair purchase, "Lights O' Lone-ond." I was sorry to find that this show had not been better supported, and that a more central venue could not have been found—particularly so in view of the facts that the proceeds were to go to the Memorial Fund and that Dr. John de Mund, P. Hamilton Goodsell and Charles T. Ingle were judging. Apparently the want of a suitable building in Toronto is a real issue. "Bruny" Lewis, Jr., as usual, had a nice team competing and R. F. Maloney's Pointer, Ch. Herewithem J.P., gathered in another cup for Best in Show.

This is the last chance I shall have to remind my readers that entries close March 10th for the Windsor Kennel Club Show, which is to be held on March 19th and 20th. Mr. A. H. Graves, the secretary, has done his part in issuing a most attractive schedule and he now wants exhibitors to do their part to make the show a success by entering often and many.

Nothing can succeed without co-operation, and I am asking you all to help me make the "Canadian Fancy" the rendezvous of the whole Fancy. Send along particulars of your forthcoming Shows and news of your dogs and remember that I am always willing to help you with your breeding problems. The Canadian Fancy section of Kennel and Bench is yours—make good use of it.

Mrs. Batt, of the Haldon Scottish Terrier Kennels of Guelph, Ont., writes me that she thoroughly enjoyed her trip to the Westminster Show, and that she sold one pup, "Haldon Whirlwind," and left him in New York. I realized, writes Mrs. Batt, as soon as I saw the other Scotties, that ours were in too full coat, however, one must live and learn. Recently another addition has been made to this select kennel. The new comer, a hard-coated, compact black, with a beautiful head and a daughter of Ch. "Albourne Barty." She arrived on the Friday and on the Sunday presented her new owners with a promising litter by "Walnut Bumper," who is a son of Ch. "Merlewood Aristocrat." Other items of news are that Ch. "Cedric Countess" has a litter by Ch. "Haldon Jhetum," and Ch. "Laindon Lyra" a litter by "Haldon Storm." Ch. "Cairngovern Chief" has been sold to a fancier in Ohio, U.S.A., but I understand he left some nice puppies at the Haldon Kennels, amongst them a black dog out of "Albourne

FEE, Prepaid — — — $20.00

I have found it to be contrary to Irish Kennel Club law to change the name of a dog after it has won the "Green Star" Championship, therefore the name of my most recent importation will remain Knockout Replica, and not Burlington Storm as per my advertisement last month.

SIRE: Ch. Stockmoor Storm by Ch. Gang Warily
 Roeside Knockout Mullagh Biddy by Lisna Riddler

DAM: Ocliffe Corker by Ch. Common Scamp of Notts.
 Tangle Tip Toes Tangle Tail by Ch. Lapworth Wireboy

Knockout Replica won his joint championship (1929, Ireland) under Mr. Calvert Buller, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Harry Calvert. He also won 4 firsts at Belfast Open Show under the noted judge, Mr. Turner, "Wycollar" Kennels, in classes of as high as 18 dogs. Teeming with quality, nice size, good long head, small ears that are placed right, small dark eye. Long reachy neck with short back and good set on. Wonderful front and extra good feet, with splendid action, and a real wire coat. Come and look him over for yourself. I have some male puppies 4 months old, by Brock Bridegroom by Ch. The Detroit Kennel Club premium list is to hand and this club usually is well supported by Canadians. Amongst the judges it will be seen that Lt. Col. J. N. McRae is the Shepherd judge—as he is admitted to be one of the soundest judges we have, and by no stretch of imagination can be called a faddist. He should certainly draw a big entry. Auton A. Rost is the all-round judge and also awards the Special for Best in Show.

Finally—note the fact that membership fees are due to the Canadian Kennel Club and they should be sent to the Canadian Live Stock Records, Ottawa and let us all see if we cannot increase our C.K.C. membership this year.

"Monty" Wallace, the successful Newfoundland breeder and exhibitor of Saskatoon bees, sent me a snapshot of his new dog who should prove of great service to the kennel. So far nothing definite has been decided about the usual Spring Show. Some difficulty is being experienced in obtaining a suitable building and many of the members of the Club are in favor of concentrating on the Summer Show, which is held in conjunction with the Exhibition.

Whilst waiting for some of my classes to be brought into the ring at New York, I was able to watch Auton A. Rost judge some of the Schipperke classes and I was much impressed with the quality and type of Mrs. E. Brown's Prince O' the North, who made a most successful debut, gaining Winners Dog and Best of

I understand that some breeders contend that the English breeders have crossed the Schipperke with the Pomeranian and Manchester Terrier. This is certainly news to me and my interest in the breed goes back to Skip. Mirza Drieski and Mia, the first Skips imported to England by Dr. Sielig. WATCH THE BEAGLERS

By Emerson Robertson, Toronto.

Saturday, Jan. 25th, will be a red letter day in Ontario Beagle Field Trial history. That was the day on which James D. Strachan, Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club, invited delegates from each of the three existing Beagle Clubs to be his guests at a meeting to discuss the Field Trial situation in Canada.

In response to his invitation, the following delegates represented these Clubs:—

James Hendrick and Frank "Honey" Walker, of the Canadian National Beagle Club, Border Cities.

Fred Perron and Sid. Gourlay, the Hamilton and District Beagle Club.

W. J. Archibald, N. F. Tonkin and Emerson Robertson, the Central Ontario Beagle Club.

The meeting was called for two o'clock, and when the hour struck, each delegate was in his place. These Beaglers are very keen fellows, and were never known to be late for a meeting, a trial or a hunt, although they may be late for everything else on earth.

Mr. Strachan welcomed the boys, told us how pleased he was that each club had responded so splendidly to his invitation, and expressed the hope that a great amount of good should come of our little meeting. He recounted his experiences at the Fall Trials, and assured us that the sporting spirit there shown had prompted him to call us together. He had been royally treated by the various clubs, and felt that the time was now ripe for a closer co-operation of the Beagle Clubs. He thought we were all missing something if we did not more intimately know one another and take a more active part in the competition of each other's club. He suggested that we conduct our meeting with this end in view, and that we arrive at an agreement as to the proper method of declaring a Canadian Field Trial Champion. Mr. Strachan then asked Jim Hendrick, as the senior Beagler present, to act as Chairman, and the writer to take down the notes.

Mr. Hendrick explained that he had been very ill, and that he had made a special effort to be with us, as he was sure that now was the time to give the Beagle game a helping hand so that Beagling would become one of the greatest of Canadian sports, as it justly deserved to be. Mr. Hendrick advised the meeting to come to an agreement on the championship question, so that we would all be working in harmony and in the best interest of the sport. The meeting was then thrown open for discussion.

Mr. Gourlay spoke on the advisability of forming a Central Association, to which each club would send delegates. The Hamilton Club was in favor of this. They were in favor of uniform scoring rules and the requiring of all hounds shown on the bench having some field ability, and his club would like to see a common meet where the Canadian Championship would be decided.

Mr. Archibald in his remarks suggested that the championship be run on Cottontail. This seemed to meet with general approval. He made a motion, seconded by Mr. Walker:—

"That each club hold their Annual Fall Trials, and that hounds placed in the all age classes at these trials or any other sanctioned trials in the U.S.A. or Canada be eligible to start in the Canadian 13" and the Canadian 15" championships. This motion to be approved by the various clubs, when a formal notice of motion would be sent to the Canadian Kennel Club, requesting them to change their rules with regard to Field Trial Championships."

Moved by Mr. Gourlay, seconded by Mr. Perron:—

"That the clubs be requested to appoint delegates to a future meeting, with power to select dates, judges and trial grounds for a Canadian Field Trial Championship meeting."

Moved by Mr. Tonkin, seconded by Mr. Walker:—

"That we are greatly indebted to Mr. Strachan for the interest he has shown in our welfare, and the progress he has made possible by calling this meeting. That we hereby tender him a hearty vote of thanks for his aid."

The meeting then adjourned on the suggestion of Mr. Hendrick that we proceed to the King Edward Hotel for dinner. Mr. Hendrick invited us to use his room for a wash-up.

After the toast, "May you never die until I murder you," we enjoyed a very hearty repast of Little Neck Clams, Planked Georgian Bay Whitefish, Ice Cream, Coffee, and the other frills. After dinner we were entertained by an entertaining verbal quarrel between Jim Hendrick and Jimmie Strachan as to who was the host of the day. Mr. Hendrick finally announced that an Irishman had never been known to lose a fight, and that he was not going to disgrace his race by losing one now, so Jim Hendrick won. Jimmie Strachan said he would give way on this point, but that, as he had started things, he intended to finish them, so he chartered a couple of taxies and wheeled us all off to the hockey game, where we were further entertained by seeing the Detroit Cougars defeat the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1. Jim Hendrick had a great evening, as he was the only Detroit rooter in the crowd. Frank Walker could not be with us, as he is the trainer for the Detroit team. I am sure that "Honey" had the most fun of all, for after getting Beagle affairs settled so satisfactorily, and then having his team win, his heart must have been filled with joy.

"Norman K. Swire Memorial Show"

THE "Norman K. Swire Memorial Show" was exactly what its sponsors expected it to be—a real dog show, and if we except the minor disappointments in the size of the entry, and extent of the gate, the show can be declared a big success in every other respect; and it is not hard to imagine what the measure of gate support would have been forthcoming if the building had been closer to the streams of traffic, for never since the Blue Cross Show of 1916 has so much publicity been given to any Toronto dog show. All the leading Toronto newspapers gave the show strong support, and particularly the Toronto Daily Star must be mentioned, inasmuch as on Saturday, February 1st, and under the name of Lou Marsh, the sports editor, almost half a page was given over to the show and to what the show meant and stood for, and, in addition, streamers spanned the streets at the busiest corners, so that the location of the show building might be considered the only "fly in the ointment."

The sponsors left nothing undone that could have been done to warrant our success, and the chairman might well be proud of the quality and quantity of the service rendered to him by his managing director, Reg. P. Sparkes, and his secretary, F. W. Walkerdine. Seldom have any two men accomplished so much when their only possible award lay in the satisfaction of them having given their very best as a labor of love to the memory of a beloved comrade who was with them no more.

The judges were ten all told, and each one was on hand as required by the Secretary's schedule, and when it is remembered that of the ten judges, three were from New York City, one from Chicago, one from Braddock, Pa., one from Wyandotte, Mich., one from Brooklyn, N.Y., one from Buffalo, N.Y., one from Vancouver, B.C., and one from Toronto, and each one giving their services absolutely free, and paying their own expenses, the spirit of sportsmanship will be seen at its very best.

Particularly impressive were the closing hours of the show, when the cream of the exhibits were coming together for the best and most select prizes. The officers and judges dressed in black as an added token of affection and respect, moved around silently. Judge Chas. T. Inglee had finished his Sporting Group, and Judge Bert Swann was busy with Working, Terrier, Toy and Non-Sporting Groups, when a halt was called to enable Controller James Simpson, as representative of His Worship Mayor Bert Wemp, to offer thanks to all who had supported the show, and to present, on behalf of D. J. A. Campbell and family, a large framed photograph of the late N. K. Swire, to the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland accepted the picture on behalf of the Canadian Kennel Club, and he, too, tendered his tribute of thanks, and spoke encouragingly of the rare display of sportsmanship that had made the proceedings of the show so thoroughly splendid and satisfying.

On resuming the balance of the judging, it was not long before the last placings were being made; the five best of the three hundred and fifty (more or less) entered were now battling for the best prize, and Dr. de Mund found the beautiful Pointer, Robert F. Maloney's Ch. Herewithem, J. P., irresistible. As if hewn from granite, he stood motionless and appealing under the able handling of Ben Lewis, his handler. J. P.'s nearest contender was the elegant German Shepherd, Pia von Hans Shutting, owned by Alex. Gooderham, and it was obvious that the judge found much that was real dog merit in both animals as he handed the ribbons out in the order described.

Best Canadian-bred was Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland's noted Bull Terrier, Ch. Albion Victor, in that magnificent bloom that carried him to Reserve Winners at Westminster Kennel Club Show immediately after his good Toronto win.

In drawing this short review of this remarkable show to a close, we feel that it is quite essential that we should offer thanks on behalf of him who has "crossed the bourne", to every friend of his for their kindness in remembering him through the eloquent channel that was chosen, i.e., "The Norman K. Swire Memorial Show."

Notes From Alberta

By Provincial Contributing Editor, R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.

MR. E. CHENEY, Calgary, is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the Alberta Kennel Club in 1930, and anticipates a record show. He reports a nice litter of English Setter puppies, and has a great many enquiries for them. The demand for pure-bred dogs in general in this part of the world is very much keener now than it has been in the past, and the public are beginning to appreciate the cash value that lies in quality. Earl F. Kennedy, formerly well-known as a breeder in Saskatchewan, is now a resident of this city. He breeds Boston Terriers, Pekingese and German Police Dogs. He has an excellent Boston Stud in "Bell Rock Cappy", who took three firsts at Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon in 1927. He reports that Sam Jackson of Winchester Kennels, Winnipeg, has shipped him two very fine Boston female pups by his Ch. Winchester Aviator. His Pekingese, too, both male and female, are of high quality. A. D. Murison's Scottish Terrier, "Galette", is nursing four beautiful puppies, sired by Col. Ritchie's imported dog, "Abertay Trig", who had such a successful show career last season. E. J. O. Roland, who is engaged in business with Messrs. Black and Armstrong of Winnipeg, is now living in Calgary, and expects one or two Golden Retrievers from Mr. Armstrong's famous Kennels within the course of the next month. We wish Mr. Roland good luck in his new location. It is with great regret that we hear our old friend John E. Hunter has been very much under the weather, but the latest report is that he is progressing favorably, and we trust that he will soon be restored to his normal health again.

Mr. Hunter has been very busy with his Whippets of late. Jimmy Booth, of Moose Jaw, has recently shipped him a puppy of great promise. His Black and White Whippet "Edina Nomad Dawn," registered both in the A.K.C. and C.K.C., has proved a wonderful stud force at the Calgary Kennels. He has now taken up new quarters in the famous "Victory" Kennels owned by R. Holliday, Lachine, Quebec, as there are a number of outstanding females at this Kennel. Quebec will undoubtedly be seeing some high-class puppies before long.

Miss Fox, who purchased the well-known "Brockley" Kennels last Fall, has had the premises completely overhauled and put into tip-top shape. Being centrally located, it is an ideal place for outside fanciers to send their dogs to, at the time of our Dog Shows. They will undoubtedly receive the best of care and attention. People in the city who want a home from home for their dogs when they are on holidays, are already appreciating the service given by "Fox Hall Kennels", which is the name that has been registered by Miss Fox. She specializes in "Doberman Pinschers", and her beautiful bitch, "Nora", has recently been on a visit to New Westminster to C. A. Roy's trained stud, who was featured in the November Police Gazette.

It is with great pleasure that we have heard from a real old-timer of Alberta in Walter A. Thompson, who was well-known in the dog game in this Province more than twenty years ago. Mr. Thompson was badly crushed in a car accident in Duncan, B.C., last April, and is now at Red Deer trying to regain his health. He hopes to re-locate in this Province, where he can extend his activities in both show and Field Trial Gun Dogs. For many years he has bred and owned some of the best English Setters on Vancouver Island. His "Kildare Gun Dog Kennels" of Duncan, B.C., being well known all over the Continent. He was connected with his old friend Ed. Stock with the dog show game since 1912, and he has been a member of the Nanaimo Pointer and Setter Club since its inauguration, and also a member of the Nanaimo Gun Dog Club. He adjudicated at the Spring Trials of the former Club last year, when there was an excellent turn out of first-class dogs, and one of the most successful meets so far held on the Island. The last few years he has been breeding Labrador Retrievers and Wire Haired Pointing Griffons, and we understand he has the only registered dogs of this breed in the Western Provinces. His Labradors have been bred from the only son of that famous dog "Dual Ch. Banchory Bolo", known in America as "Ban-chory Jock", and a cross of his Majesty King George's "Wolferton Sapper". Mr. Thompson hopes to induce his old college chum Hubert McArdeil of Brynmarl, Vancouver Island, undoubtedly the greatest bird dog trainer in Canada, to join him in his venture here in Alberta. This partnership should be of great value to the gun dog men, for McArdeil's Labradors and Springer Spaniels have made their mark in "Field Trials" all over the American Continent, and particularly in the Eastern States.

Our Secretary and Editor having recently reported to me that it would be impossible for him to devote so much space in Kennel & Bench to Alberta Field Trials unless they were held under Canadian Kennel Club Rules, we took the opportunity to obtain the opinion of one who has so long been associated both with dog show and field trial work in Western Canada, and the following is Mr. Thompson's letter.

Dear Mr. Tyrrell:—

Thanks for yours of the first inst., and I beg to say that I think the Canadian Kennel Club has the greatest opportunity to get unlimited support if they will institute Gun Dog Field Trial Rules, and give support to same in Challenge Cups, etc. Of course, you will find many of our Field Trial supporters who believe that a bench winner is not built for hard work, and no doubt you have seen many sporting dogs go to winners, as selling platers? I can mention lots of them, but I maintain that a registered dog is, and should be, an animal which can stand work. In the old land they hold Gun Dog Trials for all the various breeds, and, as you know, dogs in that country are looked over by experts who are above suspicion. Since the inauguration of the Nanaimo Pointer and Setter Club in 1924 I have noticed many of the competitors gradually drifting from the nondescript to the registered dog (C.K.C. Setters and Pointers), and if needed, I can give you names of many owners who have taken up pure breds. However, Mr. Tyrrell, you can rest assured that my friend McArdeil and myself (and a host of our friends) will give the Canadian Kennel Club and anything of British origin, our support, and if I am successful in finding a place suitable for training dogs, McArdeil will come to Alberta, and we shall try to encourage Gun Dog Trials both for Retrievers and Spaniels, also Pointers and Setters. Personally, I can foresee the end of the "American Field Trials" (as held to-day). The introduction of foreign game, such as Chinese Pheasants and the Hungarian Partridge, which depend on their legs for a lot of protection, are not suitable for wide ranging dogs, and I believe you will see them fall in line with the British ideas of Field Trials.

Thanking you,

Sincerely yours,

Furthermore, my experience in the West, going back personally over a quarter of a century, and by Association more than fifty years, gives me a practical and far-reaching experience. Canine affairs, which include dog shows, field trials, coursing and dog racing are, so far as the Canadian West is concerned, still in their infancy. We have yet no leisured

The British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor, A. H. DODDS, Victoria.

AT the time of writing these notes our two directors of the Canadian Kennel Club are on their way to Toronto, to attend the Annual Directors' and General Meetings of the C.K.C. British Columbia has never been so well represented, as these two stalwarts of the game—Bill Pym and Alex. McCloy, have the interest of both dogs and fanciers genuinely at heart, and if there is anything put forward that will benefit either, these two will be shoulder-to-shoulder fighting for it in the true British spirit.

Doubtless before their return they will have convinced the popular secretary of the C.K.C. and also the "Wise Men of the East" that the West does not end at Winnipeg, but extends a few strides further, to one of the largest cities in Canada, namely Vancouver, and just beyond that is that tight little island known as Vancouver Island, which is also a part of the West, and a mighty big part in the dog world, as Victoria, B.C., which is situated on the southern end of this island, put over a "FOUR POINT" show last year, being the second largest in the Dominion.

We hope our directors have persuaded the esteemed President of the C.K.C. to take a trip out this way, as doubtless he would meet with many of his old comrades, who are now brushing up their "tykes" instead of their "brass buttons."

The Victoria City Kennel Club held a very enthusiastic meeting on the night of the 3rd inst., when the following were elected as a Bench Show Committee for the ensuing year: Harry Mackenzie, Harry Dodds, W. C. Burns, G. L. Brodie, J. K. Angus, W. Moore, Mrs. W. Moore, Mrs. Castle, Miss Garnett and Mrs. Drummond-Davis. The chief topic of the meeting was the Annual Spring Show, which was decided to be held on either May 16th and 17th or only the 17th. If the former is definitely decided upon, only one judge will be appointed, but if the latter, two judges will be appointed. The premium list is already under way, and it promises to be the best yet, with cash prizes predominating. A "Five Pointer and nothing less" is the slogan for 1930.

Mrs. (Bill) Moore, who is a great worker for the Victoria City Kennel Club, and a fancier in the true sense of the word, has acquired a beautiful kennel of Pekingese in a very short time.

Her first fancy being Alsations, she bred that beautiful bitch, Ch. "Lorraine of Glenmhor," the first champion of this breed to be bred on Vancouver Island, and possibly the first in B.C. Finding this breed rather large to handle, her fancy turned to Pekingese, and "Lorraine" was sold to the Shadowbrook Farm for a tidy figure, where she soon became a great favorite on account of her sweet disposition and good manners, which was doubtless due to the early training received at the kind hand of Mrs. Moore.

For a time Mrs. Moore's kennel name was "Glenmhor," but it was found necessary to change it to "Craigmhor," and future Pekes will carry his name. The first acquisition of this breed being "Glenmhor Sheik," a born showman and one that you cannot help but admire as he struts around the show-ring in that gay jaunty manner which he is blessed with, his luxurious coat, and a plume that comes almost to his head are certainly Peke luxuries and shows the care and attention bestowed upon him by his fair owner. "Glenmhor Sue Kee" did considerable winning last year. She possesses a wonderful coat, plume, and a glorious head, and is now in whelp to "Sheik" and some real ones will no doubt result from this mating. "Shantung Craigmhor Belle," another very valuable brood matron, is also in whelp to "Sheik," this bitch being bred by Mrs. Castle, who has produced many good ones in her famed "Shantung Kennels," and "Belle" is a true representative. "Craigmhor Nan Toy" and "Craigmhor Chung 'E'," two other inmates of this kennel, are very promising, they are being prepared for the coming show season, when great things are expected. "Craigmhor Hsia Tze," by "Glenmhor Sheik" ex "Wen Lew Chunette," is a beautiful six-months-old puppy, who fails to tip the scale at three pounds, is being watched very carefully and will doubtless prove a surprise, as he is just as gay and as good a showman as his daddy, who is well on the way to his championship.

Recently Mrs. Moore—of course Bill had a hand in this—purchased a beautiful new home overlooking the Gorge waters, where neat little kennels have been erected for the Pekes. No doubt Mrs. Moore had in mind the effect of the salt air on their coats when she selected this location.

Incidentally, Mrs. Moore, along with here congenial husband, is on the Bench Show Committee of the Victoria City Kennel Club. Last year Bill had the honor of superintending the largest show put on by the club for many years, and owing to the very efficient manner in which he performed this duty, he has been slated to carry on for the next fifteen years.

Probably one of the oldest fanciers in B.C. is our good and respected old friend, J. K. Angus (Jimmy) of Victoria, B.C. No show in his adopted city would be complete without him officiating as ring steward, a duty he has performed for the past thirty years. His great personality and cheery manner and warm welcome extended to all, certainly make Jimmy a very popular man around the show, and a big asset to the club.

Forty-five years ago he arrived from Forfar, Scotland, and if his contemplated plans materialize, he will return there this summer, accompanied by Mrs. Angus, for an extended visit. While there, he intends to take in as many shows as possible, and doubtless he will return full of "dog news."

For many years he was a great breeder and exhibitor of Smooth Fox Terriers, his prefix being "Swagger," and of the many that carried that name with great honour are Lady, Mac, Vic, Dot, Vex, Spot and Foxy, Lady and Mac being the two outstanding ones.

At the present time his kennel is somewhat reduced, owing to the indifferent health of Mrs. Angus. However, we hope Mrs. Angus will benefit in health by the trip "back home."

Recently Jimmy was the recipient of a handsome piece of Sheffield Plate from the members of the Victoria City

Kennel Club, in recognition of his many years of valuable service to the club.

In wishing Mr. and Mrs. Angus "bon voyage" and a safe return and in good health, I am sure I am voicing the wishes of their many friends.

In B.C. we have doubtless our share of good "Scots", as dog fanciers, and very few are better liked by those who know him, than that big-hearted Aberdonian, Bob Mercer, of Nanaimo, whose Wire-haired Terriers carry the "Temple Hill" prefix.

The writer had the pleasure of selling to him his first Wire, named River Beauty, which did considerable winning before the American dollar lured her away. During his career Bob has owned many good ones, including Temple Hill Boy, which he imported, and which proved to be a valuable stud dog and a true terrier, combining as he did substance with quality, good legs and feet, and a body to be greatly envied. Grovefield Vixen, which he purchased as a brood, certainly proved that his judgment was right, as she produced many good ones, including Ch. Chasing Girl, Mary Morrison, Temple Hill Wonder and Temple Hill Chunky. Bob's Terriers are noted for their great bone and substance, and their is no room in his kennel for thin feet and light bone. Wonder and Chunky still occupy their place in his kennel, and despite their five and a half years of age, they still retain beautiful lean heads and glorious fronts and the true Terrier expression.

At one time Bull Terriers were Bob's fancy, and like most "Scots," he has a soft spot for a Collie, and has owned some good specimens.

At no place on Vancouver Island is the fancier more welcome than at the home of this "big-hearted Scot," where both he and his "guid wife" are ever ready to extend a hearty welcome.

The show season is near, and we would like to see more of Bob and his famed Terriers in the ring, as without doubt he has the material to make very interesting competition.

In extending congratulations and best wishes for future happiness to Miss Ruby Duke, that good little lady fancier, who has just become engaged to Mr. R. Snape, I am sure I am voicing the sentiments of all B.C. fanciers. After the happy event takes place, the famous Irish Setters carrying the "Avoca" prefix will once again be housed at her old home, "Kenmare," on Blenkinsop Rd., Victoria.

Overlooking the Esquimalt Harbour, Victoria, is the beautiful home of Mrs. R. V. C. Bessonette, one of Victoria's most accomplished horsewomen, dog fancier and artist. Being the daughter of the grand old veteran sportsman, Frank Topp Turner, it is only natural that she possesses so many good sporting qualities.

On two occasions the Victoria and District Gun Dog Club have staged their Gun Dog Trials in the beautiful grounds of her home, and the first Retrieving Contest ever staged on the North American Continent was put on by this club in these grounds, and which proved a great success.

At one time Mrs. Bessonette was the proud owner of two excellent specimens of the Bedlington Terrier, which she imported from England, both doing considerable winning on the bench, as well as contributing to many a good day's sport. Her father, being very fond of these dogs, was very seldom seen without either one, and more often the two, and tells some very interesting yarns concerning them. After their demise, Wire-haired Fox Terriers carried the "Dovedale" prefix with great force and honour, and as many as twenty could be seen enjoying their freedom in the large grounds. Gun Dogs being her father's weakness, was evidently shared by Mrs. Bessonette, for in 1922 she became the proud owner of Heather Dawn, a grand blue belton English Setter, it being a gift from her father, the sire of this bitch being Leonadias of Ware ex Ch. Peg o' My Heart. Dawn, when mated to Moonshine, produced Ch. Elmhurst Don, now owned by K. F. Wheeler, of Wilkesburg, Penn., and Elmhurst Donita, now owned by Dr. Stewart, of Pittsburg, Pa. Both these dogs did considerable winning in the field as well as on the bench. Dawn's last litter were sired by the imported Mallwyd Monarch, and puppies from this litter have acquitted themselves in the ring in great style on several occasions. Three of them being retained are Dovedale Charmer, Fashion and Morn, and are being prepared for the coming show circuit, and will doubtless make interesting competition.

Scout of Oxon, a beautiful imported Whippet covering lots of ground, and possessing a nice deep body and roach, with neat galloping hind-quarters and a glorious front, neck and shoulders, possibly a size too large for the judges of to-day, but a wonderful stud proposition, combining, as he does, great bone, substance and quality, is another inmate of this noted kennel.

Shantung Dodo, another inmate, is a beautiful fawn Pekingese with a grand black mask, glorious eye, immense coat, good ear fringe, and well bowed front, is certainly a great credit to his breeder, Mrs. Castle of Shantung fame.

When not attending to her dogs or out hunting, Mrs. Bessonette can often be found with a paint brush and canvas, and many of her magnificent paintings of dogs and horses adorn the walls of her beautiful home.

No day is too long in the saddle, when out with the hunt, for this fearless rider, and it is not to be wondered at, that her son Jack has been appointed to carry the horn as Master of Fox Hounds to the Victoria Hunt Club. This fine young horseman rides at the head of a field that would do justice to old "John Peel" or Tom Firr, or even Will Dale. Jack could turn hounds with the best in the old land.

For many years Mrs. Bessonette has been a very valuable worker for the Victoria City Kennel Club, and has always held an important post.

The news has just reached me that Reece Jones, of Nanaimo, has had the misfortune to lose that grand old English Setter bitch, Stylish Pretty Polly, who is the dam of a great many of the good ones on the bench to-day, and, fortunately, some of which remain in the large variety kennel conducted by Reece.

Harold Thompson, of Royal Oak, V.I., having purchased Cragside Jenney Eglington from Fred Dodsworth and Merstone Bonnie Jean from the writer, intends starting a small kennel of Scotties, and we wish him the best of luck in his new venture.

SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

By Provincial Contributing Editor, MONTAGUE WALLACE, Saskatoon.

WE rather hesitate to again send Sask. notes for publication as we have never noted any excess of enthusiasm over this page when we sent monthly notes with regularity, nor any excess of sorrow when we ceased sending notes. However we are highly concerned about having Sask. represented with the other Provinces in our official organ and are trying again to stir up some interest in this direction.

We once more pass out the invitation for all dog fanciers to send along any news of their Kennels or anything that would be of interest to Kennel and Bench readers. It is rather unfortunate if Saskatchewan with approximately one hundred members should have to give up its page for lack of interest of these hundred members and many other people who are greatly interested in our hobby even though not members. Now let's try again.

The first matter that comes to our attention is that A. P. Semple of Regina was chosen to represent Saskatchewan at the annual meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club at Toronto, succeeding Dr. J. T. Cooper whose work would not permit of him seeking re-election this year. In Mr. Semple we feel we have a worthy and fair-minded representative, who will do his best for all members of the C.K.C. in Saskatchewan and no one need hesitate to approach him about any matter concerning the C. K. C. or Sask Dogdom. We bespeak for Archie the most cordial support of all interested in dogs in this Province.

A Saskatoon Kennel Club Show is always a congenial meeting place for fanciers. In fact Saskatoon always prides itself in putting on a show where good sportsmanship and good comradeship stand out as high spots. So it was with much "inward joy" that we learned that the Saskatoon Kennel Club had decided to stage another spring show to be held about the middle of March. It is as a new opportunity for a couple of days of pleasant associations with people of common interests in our ever-growing hobby.

We have not yet learned the venue nor the name of the Judge, but these can safely be left to the club members. Judges for this Club's Shows of all members attending a general meeting.

Our city felt it was in close touch with the central organization of the C. K. C. when we received a short visit from three chosen members of the Board of Directors, viz., Messrs. Pym, McCloy and Tanton, when on their way to Toronto. It was easily seen they were plumb full of enthusiasm for the cause of the dog in Canada, and for the C. K. C. as the best medium for forwarding Mr. and Mrs. DOG'S interests. They were met here by a few fanciers, who wished them "Good Luck and a Successful Meeting."

All Saskatchewan will learn with gladness that Mrs. L. B. Eagle of Saskatoon who has had a long siege of serious illness is able to be about again. Mrs. Eagle's Poodles have made their presence felt at the Western Shows for several years and that they and their highly respected owner will again be on the circuit is cause for congratulations all round. Cheer up Mrs. Eagle you'll soon be in the thick of the battle again.

The name "Ben Lewis" is a big one in the dog world. Saskatoon is not without its Ben Lewis and Mrs. Ben too. Mrs. Lewis is another that has had a long winter of poor health, but as soon as a spring show was mentioned she began to mend at once, and the Pleasant Hill Collies will be out again doing their "darndest" to out-do all competitors. Mrs. Lewis is one of the hardest workers for the success of the show.

While mentioning the ladies, there are some others it would pay you to keep an eye on. Mrs. Middleton never has much to say, but you may be sure she is busy getting a satin finish on a little Boston, that will make the judge adjust his monocle and take notice. Now don't be fooled by Mrs. Middleton's silence.

Setters also have a capable woman to champion them. I have in mind Mrs. Randall who knows where she is at in the Setter business. She has a fine bunch to choose from and you may be sure they will be put down right when the steward calls her numbers.

Robert Hogg of Punnichy has had a change of heart. He used to keep all the sundry Airedale men in hot water right until the last class was judged. Now he is going to take a crack at the Wire For Terrier men. When he hits he always hits above the belt and he hits hard. I merely mention this to warn the Wire people to bring their best and to bring them fit.

The Wire-haired Fox Terrier has found a new friend in W. Hoy who has been getting some stock from Hugh Allen of Winnipeg. Mr. Hoy has secured the good bitch Antrim Lily by Antrim Rascal and out of Ch. Antrim Bridesmaid. We note in the pedigree such names as Selected of Paignton, Ch. Barrington Bridegroom, Ch. Haycliff Varsity Captain, Ch. Stockmoor Stormer, Ch. Cappitol Foundation, etc. What more could any breeder desire?

That Western Canada was represented at the Norman K. Swire Memorial Show is entirely due to the enterprise of Mr. Geo. Kynoch dog enthusiast supreme of the Western part of our vast Dominion. That George's Setter was the leader of a very large class of this breed is a great pleasure to his Western friends who are legion. George doesn't know what it is to go to a show and come back without his arms full of the choicest silverware. Congratulations Geordie.

Collies got a rude set-back from Hugh Leslie recently. But the set-back was only a temporary one to give Hughie time to take unto himself a wife. Now Mr. and Mrs. Leslie are located in their new home at Zealandia, Sask., and we understand have already received a crate full of Collies from the Elmhills Kennels of Saskatoon. These will be brought up in the way they should go and will be out for inspection later. Hughie couldn't exist let alone be a good husband if he didn't have a few Collies about.

Speaking of the Elmhills reminds me that this Kennel recently had the distinction of shipping a very high class Tricolor to the Orient. It was too bad that this fine dog (Ch. Eden Emerald ex Elmhills Betty) could not have gone to a Canadian Kennel, but the Gold of the Orient came first to hand and the Orient is probably richer in good Collie blood than they know.

This Kennel also has a wonderful pair of sable studs by Ch. Elmhills Jerry ex Imported Sedgemoor Simplicity. They were at full bloom when we saw them and were a sight for the gods. We have also learned that three litters of puppies totalling twenty-four have already arrived at these Kennels and several more to follow. The litters that have already arrived are sired by the splendid son of Ch. Eden Emerald—Elmhill Emerald. I cannot see where Dr. Cooper will have much time to practise medicine this year.

The writer's Drumnod Kennel of Newfoundlands has not been altogether idle either. We have waited many months to see what kind of stock would be sired by our Imported Stud Shelton Cabin Boy. He came to us with a wonderful reputation as a Daddy. The young stock has arrived in plenty—both in quantity and quality and we are most gratified that this dog has proved so suitable a sire for these bitches. Both Lady of Drumnod and Lady Cabot have given us litters of puppies the like of which we have never had before. Several of these have already been placed in new homes and we hope to raise a strong team for the future shows.

Now we shall close our gossip contribution by once more pleading for the co-operation of fellow members. We want Sask. represented in our official organ. We want a fair representation of all parts of this Province. We can only get it by the help of our members. Now don't fall down on the job—give us a lift.

OUR FRONTISPIECE.

For March—the month of mating—has been given over to Sid Perkins' newest and greatest Airedale, Rockley Warbreck Mixer, described in "Our Dogs" (England) as having "everything that is wanted in an Airedale." Connoisseurs of the breed who have been privileged to look over Sid's latest purchase, proclaim the dog to be the greatest Airedale ever seen in Canada.

Rockley Warbreck Mixer comes from a line of famous winners and equally famous producers. His sire has produced many champions, and a great many noted winners, and for himself, he has won no less than thirteen championship certificates and has been declared "Best Airedale in Show" many times. His Dam, Flornell Bentwood Lady, is also mother to many of England's winning Airedales. She is by Ch. Flornell Mixer, the dam of some twenty champions to be found in England and in the United States. So it will be noticed that it was no chance breeding that produced our feature dog of the month.

At Bingley Hall, Birmingham,—

This dog is never ill.

Once a week—regularly as clockwork—his master gives him a Karswood Dog Powder. This new improved dog remedy, containing nerve foods and organic salts, provides the dog's system with increased resistance to disease. Prevention is better than cure, and as the cost of Karswood Dog Powders is very small, and the difference to the dog's well-being and happiness enormous, it is a cheap form of insurance indeed. Read this letter:—

A Splendid Tonic.

7, Gyllyngvase Terrace, Falmouth.
I have used your Karswood Dog Powders consistently, with excellent results. A brood bitch about whom I was anxious had one powder weekly before whelping, and her pups, now 5 months old, are in the pink of condition, and have been maintained on regular dose of Karswood Dog Powders given ever since weaning. I used to find my dogs very difficult to keep free from skin trouble—living so near the sea—but since giving Karswood Dog Powders there has been no trouble of that kind with any of them. It is a great boon to have such a splendid tonic put up in a very convenient and evidently palatable form.

Karswood Dog Powders contain nerve foods and organic salts which are not contained in the dog's ordinary food, but which are essential to the healthy functioning of his system. No other dog medicine contains the same ingredients as Karswood Dog Powders, hence none is so effective for the purpose.

said to be the oldest show in the world—in 1928 he won the coveted championship, defeating, amongst others, Ch. Belfort Supreme. His full brother won first and winners at Westminster Kennel Club Show just closed. Whilst a half-sister won first open, winners and Best of Breed at the same fixture.

Canadian Airedale breeders have an opportunity now to participate in the desirable task of bringing their favorites back into the prominence that was theirs not so very long ago.

Rockley Warbreck Mixer possesses every stud essential, long, correct head; powerful, well filled in forehead; long, lean, flat skull; ears splendid in placement and carriage; coat coloring natural and most pleasing, with a density and hardness that gratify the new owner. The ideal shoulder formation, deep in brisket, real galloping hindquarters, legs and feet that charm the Airedaler's heart.

Mr. Perkins has decided to place his new acquisition at the disposal of all parties interested in the breed at the nominal fee of $25.00, and advises that his undefeated Ch. Rockley Masher, by Ch. Ileene Brigand, ex one of England's greatest bitches, i.e., Rockley Reminder (a certain champion only for her maternal duties) stands at stud, the fee being $25.00. Also, Rockley Brigand, full brother to Ch. Rockley Flirt and Rockley Masher, whose services are obtainable at a fee of $15.00. The whole furnishing a unique opportunity to breeders to use the very cream of England's choicest Airedale bloods at nominal fees.

As we go to press we are advised that Mr. Perkins has acquired still another of England's winning Airedales in Walnut Fashion Plate a bitch that won her share of first prizes at Leeds, Doncaster, Birmingham (Ch.) Manchester and Bolton, so it looks as if Toronto's popular fish king was holding all the aces at present in Airedales, with the possibility of having the "joker" as well. At any rate he is holding a powerful hand in Airedales at the present time. "Walnut," of course, signifies that Sam Bamford was the seller of Fashion Plate, and by the same token, Mr. Bamford has been busy disposing of several of the good specimens which he brought over on his most recent visit.

Correspondence addressed to Sid Perkins, Fish Merchant, Toronto, Canada, will receive prompt and careful attention.

Notes From Old Quebec

By FRED LA RUE, Cap St. Martin, Que.

NOTHING reminds me so much of a clear sky full of shooting stars as the ready witticism of our friend from Montreal, the irrepressible "Witty" Warren. Well do I remember a beautiful night last August when, sitting on our balcony with a few newspaper friends, we would try in turn to count the number of stars shooting from the four corners of the horizon; one would soon give up trying, as the God-made fireworks which we were witnessing was like an endless crackling.

But if we must thank the Almighty for such luminous displays, how much more should we be thanking Him for putting amongst us that mirth gardener who pulls the weeds of taciturnity from our uncultivated minds.

Is it not real luck that I should be born a man, since I could never write half of that outburst about "Witty" if I was a lady, without making somebody jealous!

The fact is that he entertained us on our trip down to New York better than an army of actors could have done. He made me laugh and cry in turns, and since my bank account has been quite curtailed by the above-mentioned trip, I am trying to pay him in words rather than in kind. Breeding Scottish Terriers, one gets that way!

Escorted by Allan C. Chisholm, of the healthy laugh, and one legionnaire from Cap St. Martin "enbottines de feutre et bas de laine du pays". "General Mirthgiver" soon carried the smoking car by storms, and inside of a few minutes the floor was scattered with victims "malades de rire."

"It's ne mourraient pas tons, mais tons etaient frappes" used to say our French Fabulist.

The trip down to the city where the Statue of Liberty is making "antichambre" seemed like a couple of hours, though it is scheduled on the time-table as a ten-hours' run. During one of the intermedes of that "theatre d'un nouveau genre" "Witty" lent me the manuscript of the beautiful poems which he was taking down to the city of the Woolworth Building in quest for an editor. Suffice it to say that most of them sing the praises of the dog soul, and I am not ashamed to confess that I actually shed a few tears over one entitled "The Eyes of a Cocker."

Under cover of a fun-maker, "Witty" hides the soul of a "profond penseur. Wait till you read his book!

The American Fox Terrier Club Show, benched on the roof garden of the Pennsylvania Hotel, was the "entree" to the great "festin" which your correspondent enjoyed during that never-to-be-forgotten week of February 9th, 1930. There, I met Harry Armistead of "Ormsby" fame, and understood why his smile "brillait par son absence" when told that, after breeding some of the best "Wires" in the history of the leading Montreal kennels, he had been obliged, through "des circonstances incontrôlables", to leave them behind. It is the first time during nearly a score of years that the "Ormsby" Kennels has not gone down to New York with a chip on their shoulders to challenge the American and English bred champions.

Our international judge, "Bob" A. Ross, accompanied Harry through, what must have seemed to the "Ormsby" man, "un chemin de la croix".

However, I was soon to meet with a merrier hand-clasp when that real "sun that never sets" which you have come to know as "ye Editor", greeted me. Soon I was presented to R. C. Bondy, of "Wildoaks" fame, and Mrs. Grief, of the "Croydon" Kennels, both famous for their importations and exportations of the world's classiest wire fox terriers.

When Ch. Eden Aristocrat, the last year's winner, was only third this year, he gave us the opportunity to see that Mr. Bondy was, and is, the greatest sport in the world. We had been told that much, many times before, but how proud we felt of the dog fancy at large, and of the man whom we had eulogized in "Popular Dog" last year, when we noticed how smilingly he could take a beating. As for Mrs. Grief, she took us over to see our old friend, "Oldene Primus", probably the best wire stud ever imported by the "Warrior" Kennels of Montreal. Primus was bred by A. Kirk, on December 17th, 1919, sired by Briar Tetratema, and had Lady Floss as dam. This is the blood that is flying the star spangled colors to the front for the "Wildoaks" Kennels just now, in England, through Beau Brummel, Primus being the brother of Peri, dam of Signal Circuit. That I have produced Craigellachie Fireside through line-breeding Oldene Primus three times, is something that I will always be proud of. I am on a lesser scale but in the same position as the "Ormsby" Kennels, having been unable to take Fireside down to the Madison Square Garden this year, through one of his eyes having developed cataract; but it remains that Primus will go down to history as a producer and a laster. His cheeks and shoulders are just as clean as if he was only 2 years old and he was used at stud last month.

Ch. Medwob Tallyman of Blarney, who went to Winners dogs was beaten by the winning bitch, Pendley Calling of Blarney for Best of Breed and Best Fox Terrier, and it reminds me of "les sept annees d'abondance" of the Scriptures, when I note that the same owner, John G. Bates, also owned the first American-bred in Superman of Blarney, and the first Limit bitch in Flornell Miss Unexpected. Many were the "know it all" who prophesied that Mr. Stanley J. Halle's placings would all be reversed at the Garden show; however, Pendley Calling also went to Best for Fox Terrier, under the English judge, Walter S. Glynn.

However, The Timber of Earlsmoor went to Winners at the Garden, after being Reserve at the Specialty Show. He is an unusually badly marked dog, and reminds us very much in color of a broncho horse. Nevertheless, he has the head, the front and body with the right size; the size that I am glad to have in Fireside, who has been pronounced by so-called Canadian experts, as being too small!

The greatest win made by a Canadian exhibitor at the Madison Square this year was won by a Bull Terrier from the Province of Quebec, Ch. Haymarket Dawn, the female owned by R. M. Kenny, of Buckingham, Que. She not only went to Best of Winners but also came through with flying colors for Best of Breed after defeating the great Ch. Marihuana Mary Moonshine, from California, the wonderful Champion Bucaneer, Shure Thing, Blodwen of Malwood, and Newcoin Regret.

Ch. Lionheart, now over 10 years old, was also present and as game as a yearling stud.

That R. H. Elliott bred "Dawn" and also the winning dog, Fieldstone Ben, sheds a great glory on the Canadian Fancy at large.

Mr. Elliott is a typical gentleman breeder with such aristocratic manners and undying sportsmanship that we dare say he belongs to the Canadian Fancy rather than to a certain city or province. We stated long ago that he is the Sir Wilfrid Laurier of the Canadian dog world. There were 81 bull terriers entered, and Haymarket All White, Haymarket Esther, Haymarket Isabelle, Haymarket Reltra and Haymarket Bell were all in the money. Ch. Albion Victor, also bred in the Haymarket Kennels, was Reserve Winners. Other Fanciers from this Province were the imported Scottish Terriers, Robin the Ranter and Ranter Robina, both sired by the greatest Scottie in the world, Ch. Heather Necessity. That our Provincial Director, Wm. R. Aiken, of Montreal, is a great sportsman, was highly proven by his entering these two unfinished youngsters in Limit and Open at the greatest American show. Suffice it to say that there was as many as 28 Scotties in the same class and a total of 113 Diehards all told.

Mr. R. H. Waddell, of Montreal, who was handling the Aiken and Silver entry, also took down his most promising young Scottie, Glen Garrell Warbler, sired by Rothesay Kenneth, out of his own imported bitch, Barmston Baroness. This puppy, being only eight months old, was evidently not matured enough for the big event.

Another great sport, R. R. Merchant, of Montreal West, also entered one of the best Airedale bitches ever bred on this island: Belmore Dark Girl. She was sired by Boxwood Badmington, out of Belmore Vic. She is as close as ever was bred in Canada to the standard, except for size. There was an outstanding imported Airedale female which went to Best of Breed Wolstanton Superb of Firenze, which gave the Fox Terrier, Pendlly Calling a big argument for Best Terrier and might have gone to Best in Show all Breeds if only "Calling" had been out of her way.

Mr. Merchant intends to breed Dark Girl, only after she is over 2 years old, and then to a big sire, so that he may eventually get a flyer for New York. He also breeds Welsh Terriers, having acquired his foundation stock from Mr. Harrison, of Westmount Boulevard, who imported some of that breed from Wales. Housed in his kennels are also four "Wire" bitches and two other Airedale bitches. He owns a stud Airedale and a stud "Wire" which we hope will eventually be advertised in Kennel and Bench. But pride of place is being held in the house by a Scottie female, "Last of Tully" of Ch. Tullibardine stock.

Mr. Merchant, who had to submit to my endless talking on the returning train from New York, told me that J. Almond, late of Montreal, was in New York during the eventful week. I was not lucky enough to meet him, but I hope he enjoyed himself and did not stop at the Manger Hotel where the orchestra would keep on playing "Prendre un petit coup c'est agreable prendre un petit coup c'est doux", causing many a roomer loss of sleep!!

Mrs. A. Bickingham, of Montreal, made a good show in Yorkshire Terriers with her Ch. Wedgewood Mist (imp.). He had Reserve Winners, and the winner had nothing to spare in beating him.

The Toy black and tan bitch, Willowdale B. B., ably shown by her owner, F. C. McClean, the silent gentleman from Hull, went to 4th Open. She is Willowdale bred through and through, being out of Willowdale Don from Ch. Willowdale Geraldine. He was not so lucky, however, with the Canadian winning Smooth Fox Terrier, Dame Darkie, that wonderful daughter of Fearless. We did not see the judging nor did we interview Mr. McClean after the show, but we know she is good enough to be placed anywhere, and would like to hear further about her failure to be in the money.

The Whippets, which are now included in the "Sporting Hounds" Group, was well represented for the Canadian breeders, by our "Never say die", R. Holliday, of Lachine, Que. His were wonderful wins. "Ima Pleasure" having unhooked the 2nd Novice dogs and bitches, 2nd Limit, and 3rd Open bitches, while Victory Craganoor was first Limit in dogs. Pleasure is a striking fawn-colored lady with white blaze and four white feet, indeed very aristocratic-looking. Craganoor is fawn with a black mask which gives him a striking "eager to win" appearance. Mr. Holliday much laments over the fact that even in New York, as in Toronto, there are not separate classes for dogs and bitches. He claims that it would be easy to bring in an entry of 50 Whippets wherever separate classes would be granted.

Another glorious win for Canada was made in Bulldogs by Allan C. A. Chisholm, of Montreal, who got 1st Limit dog with Hazelwood Pride II, a son of Hazelwood Samson. The Best of Breed Bulldog eventually went to winners in the Non-Sporting Group, both having been judged by the well-known A. A. Rost. The Sporting Dog Group, ably judged by Dr. J. D. De Ronde, was won by the Irish Setter, Ch. Delaware Kate, ably shown by Ben Lewis. Our beloved Province was represented by Mike of Kildona, owned by W. F. Canavan, of Ville St. Pierre, and very well handled by Arthur T. Keiller. Mike is a son of Ch. Aintree Dunster Lady Louise, and boasts of Wild Irish Barney as sire. Ch. Aintree Dunster Lady Louise was also entered and made quite a good showing.

Altogether the New Westminster was a wonderful success, and we have taken tons of notes to which we will refer for further write-ups, but we cannot close this hasty report without mentioning what, in my dumb mind, looked like the "clou" of the whole affair. The Club had gone the limit and tied a nice little pencil to every catalogue. This is the height of efficiency and could well be imitated by the Q.L.C. by tying a small corkscrew to every bottle sold in this Province of Real Liberty.

THE OLD TRUSTY DOG BOOK.

Quite the most interesting book to be sent out to dog owners in recent years, is "The Old Trusty Dog Book" that has just been mailed. The book is just as beautiful as it is interesting, and is made up of fifty pages that are similar in size to our Kennel and Bench pages, and, like Kennel and Bench, it appears in a hand-lettered jacket of red and black.

Diet (of course) is featured, since "Old Trusty" is one of the best-selling dog foods offered to dog owners in the United States; but ailments and their remedies, administration of medicines, and photographs of many of the popular breeds of dogs are also featured, the whole making a book that forces us to sit up and take notice of it.

We believe that The Old Trusty Dog Food Company, Needham Heights, Mass., U.S.A., will be pleased to send a copy free of charge to anyone sending for it.

SCOTTIES IN DEMAND.

We have had many enquiries for Scotties recently, and it is obvious that there is a market for good young stock. We are offering, through our business columns this month, a litter out of Language Trifle,—the dam of one of the best to be shipped from England to the United States this year,—the Reserve Winners bitch at the Canadian National; the sire is Haldon Storm, who was sold by Mrs. E. J. Atkinson, Toronto, together with Ch. Cedric Countess, to the Haldon Kennels.

COCKER SPANIELS AT THE WESTMINSTER SHOW, NEW YORK.

By W. A. Price, Toronto.

"Of all the dogs that are so sweet,
The Spaniel is the most complete
Of all the Spaniels none compare
With Cocker Spaniels as they are."

I am sure that all Cocker owners will be interested in hearing what transpired in this particular breed at the Westminster Show, held at New York on February 10, 11 and 12. The showing of this breed had a classy entry of about 140. The entry was about evenly divided between parti-colors and solids, although the parti-color entries appeared to be stronger.

There was only one Canadian Cocker entry—"Prospector", a black dog, bred by A. Elsie Mayhew, who sold to Mrs. Worthy, who in turn sold him, and he is now owned by Mrs. Harkness Edwards, of Kentucky. He is a solid black of excellent quality, splendid head and good conformation. He did not show in New York as well as he did here at the Toronto shows. He was not in as good a condition and his coat appeared to be ragged. The comment of the judge, W. T. Payne, on this dog, was that he is a real fine type, and with a little conditioning will be hard to beat. "Prospector" went Winners, solid color, and the final decision for Best of Breed was between "Prospector" and "Idahurst Belle," owned by O. B. Gilman. "Idahurst Belle" won the decision, and rightly so. She is a parti-color female of rare quality and in the pink of condition. This splendid female won Best of Breed at the New York Specialty Show, the Boston Specialty Show, and repeated at the Westminster Kennel Club Show. Her class is emphasized by the fact that she won from dogs such as Ch. "My Own Perfection," Ch. "Superman," Ch. "Rowcliffe Ringleader" and Ch. "Merryfield Wildfire."

Another splendid female that appealed to the writer, was "Welcher's Vesta," owned by George C. Welcher. She got Reserve Winners at the New York Specialty Show and is hard to fault.

The kennel entries were as follows: My Own Kennels, owned by H. E. Mellenthin, showed 2 blacks and 1 red, the most distinct being "My Own Miss Worthy." They won 6 firsts, 1 second, 1 Winners, and 1 Reserve Winners. Merryfield Kennels, owned by Miss Fischer, showed 2 blacks and 3 reds. Miss Fischer is breeding Cockers of excellent quality. She got 3 firsts, 1 second and 1 Reserve Winners. Sandspring Kennels, owned by Mrs. L'Hommedieu, Jr., made a splendid showing with an entry of 3 parti-colors, 1 red and 4 blacks, and got 2 firsts, 2 seconds, 1 third, 1 Winners, and 1 Reserve Winners. Mrs. L'Hommedieu's dogs were in splendid condition and were of excellent quality. Mrs. A. R. Moffatt, owner of Rowcliffe Kennels, showed 2 reds, 1 parti-color and 1 black. She received 2 firsts, 4 seconds and 1 third. Her dogs were in wonderful condition and looked fine. She did very well at the New York Specialty Show also. Idahurst Kennels, owned by O. B. Gilman, of Boston, showed 5 parti-colors, all lemon and white, 1 red and 1 black. This was a particularly fine display, both in kennel arrangement and the dogs on exhibit. Mrs. Clapp, also of Boston, owner of Mistover Kennels, showed 1 black and white, 1 lemon and white and 1 solid black. She got Reserve Winners with the lemon and white and first with the black. These dogs were particularly nice and in splendid condition. They appealed to the writer on account of their likeable dispositions. Milbrooke Kennels, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, showed 3 parti-colors of good quality—one of these being Ch. "Superman." Barkley Kennels of Philadelphia, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Meally, showed 2 blacks, 2 reds and 1 parti-color, and received 1 second and 1 third. They had one particularly fine female which should be heard from later. Mepal Kennels and Cassilis Kennels did not show, and I might say that Pat Shea, their kennel man, who is a fixture at any Cocker show, was conspicuous by his absence.

A number of the readers, I am sure, will be glad to know that Arthur Garrick, formerly of Hamilton, and now kennel manager for Judge Scudder of Robinhurst Kennels, is looking fine. He had 11 reds at the show and did very well.

In commenting on the show the following day, W. T. Payne, the judge, emphasized the rare quality of the parti-colors, and was particularly interested in Mr. Gilman's entry, also the Canadian black entry, "Prospector." He predicts a bright future for this dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson entertained a number of Cocker fanciers to a very splendid luncheon at their apartments, and afterwards showed moving pictures of the Field Trials at Cornwall, New York, also pictures of some of the summer shows and judging around New York. These pictures were very distinct and showed the Cocker Spaniel at an advantage as a field dog. It did the writer's heart good to see the Cockers perform to perfection in the field. They certainly show to great advantage as a working dog. The final award was given to Mrs. A. R. Moffatt's male dog, "War Dance." This Cocker showed real class and careful training, and worked with great activity, which won the esteem of all present. Another Cocker which showed to advantage, was "My Own Peter Manning," owned by Mr. Mellenthin.

During the show the writer had the opportunity of talking to all the breeders, and most of them felt that they would like to standardize the Canadian American Cocker. Would a suggestion along the following lines appeal to Canadian breeders? If not, will you kindly comment on same, as it is open to criticism. Our standard of 28 pounds for male dogs might be dropped to 27 pounds, and the American standard of 26 pounds raised to 27, making a standard weight for male dogs 23 to 27 pounds, pounds. O. B. Gilman, of Boston, was very anxious to standardize the Cocker in America, as it would be to the interest of all concerned. I feel sure that if the Canadian breeders would co-operate, it would be to the advantage of all. The writer got the impression that the American dogs were being bred a little larger for field work. In standardizing the Cocker, it would make breeders on both sides of the line feel that the competition would be on an equal basis, and also in view of conditions as they exist at the present time, where American judges do not favor dogs quite as large as ours. Canadian shows in a number of cases have American judges, and in placing a larger dog out on account of its size, has a tendency to discourage the breeder rather than encourage him.

I would like to ask the readers of this magazine to be kind enough to write to W. A. Price at 394 Bay Street, Toronto, giving their opinion on this matter. Any criticisms along these lines will be cheerfully received.

If any of the Canadian Breeders would like to get any additional information as to the final awards, or as to the breeders of any of the American dogs shown at the New York show, a letter to me will bring the information desired.

Cocker Spaniels in the United States are rapidly becoming the most popular of all breeds, and justly so. They are beautiful dogs, friendly, good hunters, intelligent, not noisy, clean, never vicious and make splendid house dogs.

Canadian breeders would do well to attend the Boston Specialty show, or the Westminster show at New York, as the hospitality of the American breeders is unsurpassed.

The Late W. P. Fraser and Matchmaker

THE death of the great Canadian sportsman, W. P. Fraser, which occurred January 2nd, marks the passing of another pioneer breeder and importer of wire fox terriers.

Some of us, whose memory goes back more than a score of years, will recall the fact that as early as 1899 Fraser was showing wires at the Westminster Kennel Club show in New York. At this show, Fraser brought with him from Toronto the wire dog puppy, Druid, a son of A. A. MacDonalds' then well-known dog, Aldon Quaestor, out of Banker's Briar, a daughter of Fraser's Ch. Endcliffe Banker, a famous little dog which Geo. S. Thomas had bought in England from Sam Hill (Banker was known in England as Meersbrook Holiness).

Druid won first in a fairly good puppy class. Of course, in those early days, there were but a dozen wires competing, the majority of which were a somewhat nondescript lot.

The year following (1902) Fraser brought another good wire dog puppy to New York. This was Financier, by Endcliffe Banker out of Lamefield Beauty. Financier not only won his class, but to the astonishment of all, went to Reserve Winners, defeating most of the importations. This is the first instance of a wire born on the American Continent having been Messrs. Fraser and Lindsay's Champion Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, Matchmaker.

Geo. Raper, who bought Matchmaker, made a great record with the dog in the show ring, and at stud, and later resold him to Messrs. Fraser and Lindsay for a large sum.

placed over any of the imported English terriers.

Fraser's win enthused him to such an extent that, in association with Mr. Jas. Lindsay, he now purchased the famous English winner, Matchmaker, from the late Geo. Raper, at a price said to be $1,000. The dog immediately started a remarkable sequence of "Best in Show" in Canada. As a consequence he was conceded a sure winner at the "Garden" the following February. To the astonishment of all, the great dog was defeated under Winthrop Rutherford, by the late G. M. Carnochan's home-bred son of Ch. Barkly Ben, Cairnsmuir Bull's Eye. The upset doubtless remains indelibly imprinted on the minds of all of the Old Guard who were present upon that memorable occasion of 1903. A characteristic example of Fraser's sportsmanship and composure in defeat may be evinced from his comment as he led the defeated champion from the ring, "The judge knows which he prefers."

As to Matchmaker himself: he was one of the greatest of the early day wires to leave England, and his importation caused a furore at the time somewhat akin to that created when the late Homer Gage, Jr. imported Barrington Bridegroom a few years ago.

A little of the history of Matchmaker may not be out of place here.

Charles McNeil, M.F.H. (on left) with his three home-bred wire champions, the litter brothers (left to right), Matchmaker, Microbe and Mortgagee. The photo was taken at Fylde Foxterrier Club Show, England, in 1898. Behind McNeil is the late Sam Wilson, father of Hildebrand Wilson.

In 1898 Mr. McNeill electrified the fancy when he brought out three grand wire dog puppies of his own breeding. These were the litter brothers, Matchmaker, Microbe and Mortgagee. Their sire was All Bristles, a son of the great Meersbrook Bristles, and their dam, the smooth Ornsay Value, a daughter of Ch. Valuator, out of a daughter of Ch. D'Orsay, out of a daughter of Ch. Venio. This was a blending of the best wire and smooth blood of the day.

Although Matchmaker, Microbe and Mortgagee were extraordinary and outstanding terriers, each was handicapped by a similar and serious failing, poor shoulders, inherited from the sire. Judges, sticklers for soundness, usually penalized them for this defect. Nevertheless, their other superlative qualities won for them literally shoals of prizes.

Matchmaker, by far the best and most famous of the trio, defeated every wire in England, after the expatriation of the great, Go Bang. Matchmaker, a raw puppy, caused a sensation at Leicester show in 1898 when Mr. Maxwell placed him over everything. However, at Crufts, ten days later, the dog received merely a "commended" thus exemplifying the honest difference of opinion between good judges. But Matchmaker quickly turned the tables on his rivals and George Raper, realizing the potential value of the dog, induced Mr. McNeill to part with him for 250 pounds. The dog seemed to strike his stride under the clever handling and conditioning of Raper. He won over two hundred firsts, championships and "best in show" galore and finally, in 1901, was sold for a then very large sum to Messrs. Fraser and Lindsay. Matchmaker had the cleanest and longest head ever seen up to his time, and his eyes, ears and expression were considered faultless. Moreover, he possessed an excellent coat, good bone, legs and feet. In addition to his faulty shoulders, he, to-day, would be considered a bit long cast, and "up to size."

Matchmaker sired a great number of winners in England and a few in Canada, but neither his show or stud record in Canada was in any way comparable to his English record. This was no doubt due to the tremendous amount of campaigning and stud work undergone by the great dog before he was sold to this continent.

The more famous of the English progeny of Matchmaker included Matrimony, Married Man, Match

CH. ENDCLIFFE BANKER.

Work, Match Girl, Monogram, Miscellaneous, Matrimonial News, (purchased from Raper by G. M. Carnochan), Raby Morman, Raby Fearnaught, Raby Holdfast, Hallgarth Vesta, Richmond Faithless, Richmond Matchless, Richmond Bride, Richmond Victoria, Nux Vomica, Cairnsmuir Make Believe, (purchased from Raper by Carnochan), Gomersal Nettle, Mearns Flirt, Sandown Mischief, Mearns Proctor, Humberstone Mearns and Humberstone Maggie the Maid, the two latter being the property of the writer, and well-known champions more than twenty-five years ago.

The dominance of Matchmaker as a stud was exemplified in the fact that although he possessed only twenty-five per cent. wire blood, he invariably threw wire puppies and even when the great dog was mated to pure smooth bred bitches, Raper stated that over fifty per cent. of the progeny proved to be wires.

Microbe, the second best of the famous triumvirate, resembled to a marked degree, Matchmaker, but lacked the assertiveness and extraordinary head qualities of the latter. Mr. Roland Philipson, a famous fancier long since dead, paid Mr. McNeill 110 pounds for him and when Matchmaker was not exhibited, Microbe usually carried away leading honors.

The third brother, Mortgagee, was not shown extensively until after the late Sir Humphrey de Trafford purchased him from Mr. McNeill for 100 pounds, and gave him the Barton prefix. He too possessed the family resemblance and was preferred by many to Microbe as a show dog.

Mr. McNeill, elated at the success of the first litter produced by his Ornsay Value, again mated her to All Bristles, and this time got a puppy which he named Microbean. Geo. Raper liked this dog so well that he purchased him for 100 pounds, and rechristened him Raby Matchbox.

Matchbox was infrequently seen at English shows, but attained fame when Raper first brought him to America, where, at several important shows, he defeated the best wires of the day in a sensational manner. Raper left the dog in America with the late E. M. Oldham for sale. Matchbox was later purchased by Mr. J. Wallace Wakem, the well-known Chicago early day fancier who died a short time ago. Wakem exhibited Matchbox a few times, but with only moderate success.

Matchbox was an extraordinarily good terrier, and unlike his older brothers, was perfect in front and shoulders.

CH. ALPHA VON KRONE GOES TO CHINA.

It is with a lot of regret that we learn of that sterling German Shepherd Dog, Ch. Alpha Von Krone, having left Canada to join the kennel of Denis Mar Chen, at Shanghai, China, where he will associate with the sensational Sieger Eric Von Clockenbrink, the German Shepherd Dog that twice won the German title.

Undoubtedly Ch. Alpha Von Krone was one of the greatest German Shepherd Dogs ever born in this country, and one of most consistent winners of the breed as well. Sired as he was by Int. Ch. Cito Von Ischeland, and out of Elsa Von Bern, daughter of Int. Ch. Erich Von Grafenwerth, a double cross of the great Alex. Von Westfalenheim was available to our Canadian bitches visiting Alpha, and this breeding he successfully transmitted to his progeny.

J. C. Goldie, of Galt, was the breeder, but it was left to Alf. Loveridge, Toronto, to tell the German Shepherd world first how good Alpha Von Krone really was, and this Mr. Loveridge did in a most consistent manner.

Ch. Alma Von Banierenhof, born in Holland, by Joop Jonker Frans ex Bella Von Spangen, another consistent winner to be campaigned by Mr. Loveridge, has been sold to W. R. Andrade, New York. Still another champion from the Bergholtz Kennels has gone to Mr. Andrade. This one is none other than Ch. Emir Von der Sudenburg, a noted circuit winner.

We hope that the foregoing will not mean Mr. Loveridge's retirement from active breeding of German Shepherds, after such wonderful winnings as he has undoubtedly enjoyed, but the news of the selling of these three great dogs is quite disturbing at the moment.

CH. MILLION DOLLAR BEAUTY DEAD.

Mrs. M. Stevens' grand little Boston Terrier, Ch. Jubilee Million Dollar Beauty, can now be numbered with those that have left the scene of battle for the happy hunting grounds of all good dogs. And perhaps there was no Boston Terrier in Canada so often on our show benches during 1928 and 1929 than this bitch. From Halifax to London was the stretch of her far-flung circuit, and she took in most everything that came between.

Born on November 27th, 1927, by Mrs. M. Waring, Toronto, she became the property of Mrs. M. Stevens' noted Jubilee Kennels, Toronto, on January 24th, 1928, and made her debut at Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, the same year, marking the occasion by stepping on the winner's silk the first time out. After Ottawa she remained to fight her battles with all comers, under all the judges as they came along, and her record stands six times winners and, of course, her championship, and there is a run of eleven Reserve Winners credited to her in the Stud Book records.

Sired by Count Dee Change and out of Queen O' the May, she had in her veins the bloods of all the Bostons that have kept the breed prominent in Canada for the past many years, in short, she was a treasure in the Kennel she represented.

The one comforting circumstance as far as Mrs. Stevens is concerned, is the thought that the dead champion has left one male and one female puppy out of a litter of five by the Caesarian route, that were sired by Ch. The Burglar Dee Cee, and these two, at the time of writing, are encouragingly promising and particularly does the male puppy please his fair owner.

The winning Irish Terrier, Rolez D., who completed his championship at Regina last year, was born on November 2nd, 1927, and was bred by H. L. Dargie, of that one-time hotbed of the breed—Winnipeg. Rolez D. was shown twice in Winnipeg, once each at Moose Jaw, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Regina, and his record shows

CH. HUMBERSTONE KERBY CHALLENGER DEAD.

This noted wire hair fox terrier was imported in her dam, Kerby Countess, by Messrs. Kreen Pearson, Nanaimo, B.C., and was born on December 8th, 1920. He came out as a puppy at Nanaimo the following year and marked the occasion by going to winners. During 1922 and 1923 he was shown fearlessly at all shows in British Columbia, finishing his Canadian Championship at Victoria.

The late Ch. Humberstone Kerby Challenger.
I. C. Ackerman, San Francisco, owner.

Irving C. Ackerman, of the famous Humberstone Kennels, at San Francisco, purchased the "Challenger" and also his litter brother, Ch. Humberstone Kerby Wireboy, and both accounted for considerable and worthwhile prize-taking at all the shows where the competition was expected to be strenuous.

Challenger was the sire of three champions and about forty other noted winners. Many of his puppies have won at our eastern shows, including Madison Square Garden.

The sire of "Challenger" was Olcliffe Nibs, a litter brother to the Duchess of Newcastle's great little Champion Coaeotina of Notts, and his dame was a daughter of Winning War Loan, out of the famous Badminton Miss Corker.

Mr. Ackerman has two remarkably fine male puppies by Challenger at the present time, and these will shortly make their appearance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Dear Mr. Strachan:

Your last issue of "Kennel & Bench" interested me greatly, and the "ambitions" of Mr. A. P. Semple are bringing back hosts of reminiscences of the old days of the "Ladies' Kennel Club". "Just get folks interested and keep them interested" is precisely what is lacking here in Montreal. One big show a year is not enough to keep people in "Dog Trim". This event should be looked forward to as a climax of the year, the top notch exhibition to be arrived at through the medium of several small shows, where the individual dog owner and the novice shall have gained confidence and experience. Otherwise the novice enters the Big Show in a complete atmosphere of strangeness; the untrained dogs are nervous, excited and miserable, and become a serious cause of anxiety to their owners, and stand a very meager chance of touching the ribbons. Result—physical discomfort and moral disappointment, a combination which has discouraged many a would-be fancier on their very first venture.

As for the Clubs, they have developed a cut and dried "incorporated" attitude, there is no longer the proper sporting spirit, and in fact not enough "Dog" to them. The L.K.C. was founded in 1917 for the purpose of promoting the breeding and owning of thoroughbred dogs, with ladies as owners, its associated charities were the Blue Cross and the S.P.C.A. As there were no social activities connected with the club there was a consequent lack of class distinction. Anybody owning or interested in dogs was welcome as a member, and we had enthusiasm and good will from every member of the organization; needless to say, that was the spirit we required. Our shows were not always perfect models of efficiency, and were sometimes held in rather uncomfortable places. I particularly remember our two Open Air Shows, one took place at the Hunt Club, miles from nowhere, and it poured rain; the other at the Khaki Club Grounds under a burning sun! Of course there were complaints from the exhibitors, but then, on the whole, I think they sympathized with us, and I do know that there were no ill feelings, and as the following year gave promise of a roof to cover our heads, handlers breeders and novices would flock back to the old L.K.C. show again.

Another drain on the Clubs is the prize money. Personally I don't think that the sums offered are large and tempting enough to warrant the capital expenditure they require. Most exhibitors prefer to carry home a cup or medal to show friends or prospective buyers. Let the usual Handlers' cash prizes be increased and eliminate the columns of $2.50 which make the premium list so unattractive.

Let the exhibitor speculate as to what the "Special for best Puppy" will be. Often these proved to be complete surprises indeed. I wonder if "Dad" Ward remembers winning a bottle of French perfume, or "Ben" Lewis a pair of electric curling irons, and many others who provided much laughter and amusement for everybody, including the winners. These specials were not confined to Montreal alone, I well recollect the homeward bound journey from a Toronto November show with Mesdames Beland and Trudeau. Mrs. B. had won 10 rolls of wall paper and a ham; Mrs. T. rejoiced in the possession of a water jug and six glasses, and I had carried off a brass jardiniere accompanied by a basket of very tall red paper roses, so strongly wired that they defied wrappings of any kind and, of a necessity, were taken home "as were" in all their glory.

Well, those were happy days. Here is to the best of luck to the dog fancy in general and Montreal in particular.

Yours very truly,

Mrs. C. de P. Doniphau.

A GOOD SERVICE—IF PRACTICAL

Kennel and Bench has been requested to make the following suggestion to all show secretaries:

"That show secretaries of all-breed shows notify the secretaries of the various specialty clubs as to the time and day that their respective breeds are to be judged. They in turn can convey this information to their members, enabling them to be present at the judging."

It is claimed that, with the suggested information available, the gate at dog shows would possibly be increased. With time so valuable as it undoubtedly is, such information would enable parties to arrange for their being present when certain breeds in which they were particularly interested were sure to be judged.

The suggestion has virtue, but it will rest with the secretaries of all-breed shows to decide as to its value in actual practice.

CHAMPION TEDDY BROWN DEAD.

We regret to learn of the death of this sterling Collie by Alstead Altus ex Miss Sable Lass. That "Teddy" has Collie character is established from the circumstance of his having won Winners at six shows and Reserve Winners at six more. As dogs go, Teddy lived a trifle over 10 years, so that he was no longer a youngster; nevertheless his owner, E. Smyth, and a one-time part owner, J. S. N. Dugan, both of Verdun, P.Q., both regret the passing of the old dog very much indeed.

Mr. Smyth had further disaster fall upon him, when his good winning bitch, Knocklayde Surprise, matched her strength with an auto and lost out, leaving her master without a dog. However, the old Dugan and Smyth partnership has been revived around a Collie known as Verdun Buster. And no doubt we will find these two Verdun cronies appearing at many a show in the future.

"The God of Dogdom"

(Suggested by "Witty" Warrens' Poem.)

God made first all the greater things,

The spirits of the just,

The angels. Then He fashioned man

From the same heap of dust.

But when He rested from His task

So curious and so deft,

He saw that, in a dark corner, A little dust was left.

'Twas not enough to fashion man,

As man thought he should be.

And there was missing still the grain of immortality.

That dust he touched with tender hand.

And so the dog was made.

That, with the angels and with man,

His wondrous craft displayed.

There is another tale that's told.

That grain was found, they say.

And placed within a loving heart That else had been but clay.

Now of these tales which is the best?

And which, think you, is true?

I say the one of the found grain.

And what, my friend, think you?

"An ugly, beautiful dog."

THE BULL TERRIER.

By H. Hutchinson.

The old saying, "Give a dog a bad name . . ." was never more applicable than in the case of a Bull Terrier! Apart from his pugilistic appearance, which has gained for him the reputation of being both fierce and quarrelsome, there is also his historical record of being associated, in years gone by, with the bull-baiting and dog-fighting rings. The home of the Bull Terrier was then the tavern and the tap-room, it was even considered bad form to own a dog of such lowly origin and common pursuits!

No greater injustice, however, could be done to this age-old aristocrat of the canine race, than to condemn him because of the vocation allotted to his antecedents.

The passing of time has wrought many changes both in the physical appearance and temperament of this relic of bull-fighting days. There was a time when the Bull Terrier's ears were subjected to clipping and trimming — a practice that was happily abolished by the late King Edward (then Prince of Wales) in 1895. The evolution of the breed as we now know it was brought about mainly by crossing the Bulldog with the white English Terrier, common to the Midlands round about Stafford. Other blood was later introduced through the media of the Greyhound, Pointer and the Dalmatian, with the ultimate result that a dog, second to none as a sportsman and companion, was originated.

Apart from his companionable qualities, the breed has no superior in the matter of pluck, gameness and indomitable courage, of which virtues he can be said to be the very embodiment. He is as gentle and harmless as a kitten, as docile and tractable as a child, and as staunch and true as steel. The short coat of a Bull Terrier makes him a very cleanly dog to have about the house; only a minimum of grooming is necessary to keep him spick, smart and span. The Bull Terrier is also one of the most cosmopolitan of dogs. He is not only a great favourite in this country, but also one of the most popular of varieties in the United States of America. In Canada the breed has been selected as the National breed of this great British Colony, and throughout Asia and Australia the Bull Terrier flourishes and thrives. No climate seems to disturb or undermine his extraordinary hardiness and excellent health.

The Bull Terrier is an ideal woman's dog, domestic pet and house-dog. Little or no trouble to look after, he readily adapts himself to the surroundings in which he finds himself placed. On no account should he be overfed—a rule which is equally applicable to every dog. Feeds must be regular—two per diem—and not spasmodic or casual as is so often the case. Haphazard and faulty feeding are the direct causes of more canine troubles than anything else. Soft sloppy food tends to overload the small digestive organs of a dog, clogging the intestines, and preventing the assimilation of nutriment into the system. "Hardness" must characterize the diet, coupled with maximum nourishment in as small a compass as possible. It was a realization of a dog's needs when living in domesticity that led to the devising of dog biscuit foods, which foods comprise a complete diet, appetizing, sustaining and satisfying. The powerful jaws and teeth of a Bull Terrier make it essential that he must be given something to grind and bite. Nothing is better than a dog-biscuit. Hound meal and terrier meal are just as good, and as a change these can be well soaked in gravy, soup or stock. A large meaty bone occasionally is much appreciated by our friend, the "White Gladiator."

that to bring on a show in Toronto on April 18 and 19 so soon after the show held on February 5 and 6 was expecting too much from the fanciers, and so it was decided to feature Toronto Kennel Club fixture during the Shriners' convention and hold a Matinee Show on April 19th.

In featuring Toronto Kennel Club's licenced show for 1930 on June 10, 11 and 12—when it is believed that no less than 150,000 Shriners will be in the city for the convention and when, it is also believed, that 150,000 members of Shriners' families will be in Toronto and a further 150,000 Shriners' friends will bring the total of visitors up to 450,000—a "ten strike" has undoubtedly been made, and particularly so when it is considered that the well-known Canadian National Exhibition grounds will be the centre of what will be known as "Shriners City," and that the Exhibition dog show building will house the show. Toronto Kennel Club is to be complimented on its foresight in the matter and a great show will undoubtedly further reward the Club's initiative.

The possibility of having judges drawn from the ranks of the Shriners themselves is now under consideration, and if the plan materializes, it will add further in making this dog show the most unique event in dogdom since that historical day when the dog first associated itself with mankind, or vice versa, whatever the original arrangement was. Full particulars of the show will be found in the business pages of Kennel and Bench from now until the curtain is ordered up on the event.

FEEDING PRIZE DOGS

When it's your dog, he or she means just as much to you as a prize winner whether he or she be a prize winner or not.

You are interested in feeding your dog right. You are interested in knowing what the owners of prize-winning dogs feed them on.

Lady of Dawn is a recent prize-winner. She thrives on Ross-Miller Puppy Midgets and Ross-Miller Puppy Meal. Presently she will be big enough and old enough for Ross-Miller Standard Dog Biscuits and Ross-Miller Charcoal Biscuits.

Many other prize-winners are developing their physique, glossy coats and alert "taking" manner on Ross-Miller Dog Biscuits. These biscuits are prepared with scientific care. They contain the muscle making, bone and blood building elements, including the precious vitamins without which any food is "dead". And the dogs like them!

Information and samples on request. Ask for them at your grocers.

A seventy-year-old argument

Over seventy years ago Spratt's first pointed out the need of a specialized diet for dogs, and provided for it in a series of foods which are now famous throughout the civilized world.

For seventy years Spratt's-fed dogs have shown by their successes in the show ring, by their greater health and happiness, that Spratt's meaty biscuits and nourishing meals meet the needs of the doggy constitution as do no other foods or feeding system.

Imitations have come — and gone. The seventy-year-old argument remains. Dogs—YOUR DOG—need a specialized diet, and in Spratt's foods alone are their special requirements catered for in a way that definitely ensures increased health and condition.

Spratt's world-wide organization is at your service for the selling, shipping and insuring of dogs as well as in their care and management.
