THE VAGARIES OF THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE

STAG BANQUET IN HONOR OF LORD HOTTE-DOGGE ON HIS ARRIVAL IN BOSTON.

You-ah-ask me to give you my impressions of your great-ah-country. My word, if I may be allowed to say so I think you are rather abrupt in your mode of speech. For instance, I got into a crowd today, and one of your bally policemen came along and told me to get a movement on! I get you, Mr. Stevenson, said I, and, not wanting to appear ungracious, I jolly well went and bought a box of those alphabetical LAXATIVE GLOBULES.

LAXATIVE GLOBULES

THE GREAT HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE FOR THE FAMILY PET

In globular form, making them convenient and easy to administer. Just the right thing for dogs to which it is difficult to administer liquids, and so small that they can easily be given wrapped in a piece of meat in cases where dogs rebel at taking medicine in any form. Excellent for emptying the bowels before and after worming and for pampered pet dogs and old house dogs that have difficulty in effecting a movement.

THE CANADIAN FANCY

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

AT the time I am getting my notes together for the purpose of compiling and writing my pages for the September issue of Kennel and Bench, fanciers through Ontario and the Maritimes are anxiously watching and grooming their prospective winners for the splendid circuit of shows that will start on September first, and secretaries are hoping that their shows are going to be the success they anticipated. We have been going through a business depression, but fortunately I hope the clouds will have rolled by before the final date for entries closing, and instead of being pessimists we are again optimists, and made as big an entry as we possibly could for this splendid series of shows. Labour Day is going to be a big day for the Toronto Fancy, for it is the opening day of the Canadian National Exhibition, the largest exhibition of its kind in the world. I do hope that the Fancy have supported this great show with all the entries they could get into condition, and that our "Jimmy" will be able to show. Mrs. Phyllis Robson, the Editor of The Dog World, a really representative entry. I have known Mrs. Robson a great many years, and no one is better posted on doggy affairs throughout the world, but I believe the 1930 Canadian Exhibition will be the first Canadian Exhibition Mrs. Robson has attended. Bull-dog breeders will be particularly interested in her visit, for she was for many years one of England's most successful breeders and exhibitors. I am sorry to see that Mrs. Robson has deserted the "National Breed" for a "Sheik." It only seems the other day that I saw Mrs. Robson competing against those two great bitches, Ch. Kitty Royal and Ch. Silent Duchess with her Dorothy Vernon at Manchester Show in 1906 under my late friend, W. W. Crocker. I don't know how long Mrs. Robson will be in Canada, but I am hoping that I may be back in time from St. John to see her and have a chat over past and present times before she goes back to the Old Country. Our "Jimmy" will have to be on duty at the C.N.E., and I am sorry he will not be able to join "Charley" Sullivan, "Bobbie" Laskey and myself dissecting one of those Maritime lobsters at St. John, for the New Brunswick Kennel Club Show also opens on Labour Day. My plans are somewhat changed for this trip. I intended—until I started looking at road maps and routes—to motor to Nova Scotia, but I am not keen enough on motoring to ride a thousand miles, and therefore have to decline the many invitations I have received from Quebec and Nova Scotia fanciers to visit their kennels en route. Freeman Lloyd is sure to get a big entry at Halifax, and I do hope that the pluck of the Eastern Exhibition in again having a show at Sherbrooke may break the jinx that has always attended the Sherbrooke Show. Lt.-Col. Sydney E. Francis and his committee surely do deserve better support than they have received. Charles G. Hopton, the judge, has had a life-long experience, and therefore ought to be a big drawing card. Unfortunately the dates clash with Halifax. Coming back to Ontario, I hope to have some news of Hamilton and the Ottawa Shows before having to post my copy. Following the Canadian National we have the London Canine on the 9th, and the Western Fair on the 10th, 11th and 12th. "Jimmy" Sullivan is judging the former and "Bob" Ross the latter. Again we have a clash of dates, for on the same days as the Western Fair the Kingston Kennel Club are holding their show. It is a great pity these clashing of dates, for both shows naturally suffer, and very few of our kennels are strong enough to divide their teams. The month will be closed with the Welland and District Kennel Club on the 24th and 25th. Dogs and their owners will have a couple of weeks rest, and I am therefore anticipating a really big entry for this latter show.

My remarks last month on pedigree fakers have been commented upon by several of the canine journals and by many good fanciers, especially the statement I quoted "that a prominent fancier had said that it was a common practice to add one or more to the number of the litter when registering the litter." As I wrote in the August issue I have enough faith in our fanciers to doubt very much this statement, and I am glad to see that my correspondents share my view. However, to safeguard our pedigrees and breeding, I am bringing this important matter up for discussion at the next general meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club. Meantime I will welcome any suggestions from fanciers which could be forwarded on to the Live Stock Records for consideration.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club Show was, from the accounts I have received, a most commendable show, and I offer sincere congratulations to the Secretary-Treasurer, J. G. Young, and Geo. Kirkwood for staging it so successfully. George Kynoch made a very pleasing impression with his awards. Very naturally, with such a Springer Spaniel expert as the judge, Springers were quite the feature. Those two young and enthusiastic fanciers, L. and S. Wize, came in for very hearty and sincere congratulations on the success of their team, their beautiful bitch, Ch. "Vale of Burnside," although rather busily engaged at the time of the show rearing a month-old litter, consisting of two dogs and five bitches by Dan Morgan's "High Tide Barney," and naturally therefore hardly looking her best, still had quite a field day, gaining Best of Breed and a number of handsome trophies. "Vale's" Kennel companion, "Ch. Monk," was Winner's dog. William Forest of Calgary was a very proud man when his recently imported Scottish Terrier, "MacWilliam of Tayside," gained the special for best dog or bitch in the show. This really game little "Diehard" created quite a diversion by getting loose from his handlers when competing for the special, and on looking around evidently thought "Shelton Cabin Boy," Monty Wallace's Newfoundland, was the most dangerous opponent, so promptly attacked him. Both "MacWilliam" and "Shelton Cabin Boy" being imported, naturally they could not compete for the Canadian Kennel Club Cup, so our handsome trophy was awarded to J. E. Droppo's "Ti Dee Miss." Jack Young gained the trophy for best opposite sex to "Vale" with his "Scotty," and also the President's trophy. Harry Nash, the Retriever authority of the West, was very naturally delightful at the success which attended the debut of his latest importation, "Ellwyn Vanity." Besides being an exceptionally good specimen of her breed, I understand she performs beautifully in the field. The handlers' prizes always create much interest when they are being judged. Arthur Wright won the men's and Mrs. Wize the ladies', and her beautiful little daughter won the prize offered for the best girl handler. Little Miss Wize's handling was quite the best seen, and she evidently takes a very keen interest and takes after her mother in really liking dogs. These classes always create much interest, and it is rather a pity that more shows do not have them. Writing of the handling reminds me of an incident which occurred at Fredericton Show a few years ago when I was judging. A young boy, who was a real budding fancier, brought in a black Cocker in the early classes and did not make a very good job of his handling. Later events proved that he profited by watching the handling of "Bobby" Laskey, George Kynoch and Bert Swann, for he showed when he came in for the boy handler prize that his time at the show had been well spent. Moreover, he had gotten around Geo. Kynoch to give him a lesson in trimming, and, believe me, his Cocker in the latter class was handled with all the handling tricks of the artists mentioned, and in far different condition to what he appeared in the earlier class. I have often wondered if this boy is still showing, and must ask "Bobby" Laskey when I see him at St. John, for he evidently had designs on Kynoch's throne.

Scotties are coming, and coming fast into their own in Canada, which is hardly to be wondered at, when we consider the great number of Scotchmen interested in our shows. Mrs. Dorothea Lascombe, who, it will be remembered, imported John Campbell's noted winner, "Ornsoy Clansman," writes that owing to a series of misfortunes which resulted in losing two litters in the fall, and almost all of a third, this keen fancier has not yet been able to bring out any of Clansman's get. However, I am glad to write that the Strensall Kennels have now some promising stock coming on, proving that Clansman is a prepotent sire. All his puppies have neat ears, great substance and short backs, and the real "Diehard" temperament. This, as Mrs. Luscombe rightly says, appeals to the writer, for nothing looks worse, or is so foreign to the old-time Scotties than some of the cringing, skulking Scotties we see in the ring to-day. Another point on which I agree thoroughly with Mrs. Luscombe is that Clansman's pups are real hard-coated and are not Scotties with Nanny goat beard and soft furnishings which hide all kinds of bad faults, such as bad fronts and snipy muzzles. A son of Clansman has just been sold to a well-known U.S.A. breeder, who has acquired him for stud purposes, and it is likely that some more of Clansman's get will be shown at the Exhibition and the Royal. Mrs. Hunter recently visited the kennel and bought one of Legacy's puppies.

Vivadora's Latest Importation,
CHAMPION CYPRIS.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest Wire Fox Terriers of all times, I refer to the great English winner, Ch. "Cypris," has recently arrived in Toronto, having been purchased by those keen and enthusiastic fanciers, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, of the Vivadora Kennels. I have not yet seen "Cypris," but I have her photograph in front of me as I am writing, and also a description of this beautiful bitch from an uninterested friend, who at one time played an important part in the magic wire ring, and his description bears out the opinion that anyone would get by perusing and studying "Cypris's" photo, that thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy we now own in Canada a Wire Fox Terrier that can go across the border and make John G. Bates' "Pendley Calling" and also "Frizzette" "go some" to get in front, and may I be there to see these three beauties competing against each other. The following are some of the most important wins of Ch. "Cypris":

"Cypris" won the Dog World $250.00 Challenge Cup for 1929 and 1930, open to all breeds.

Ch. "Cypris" arrived at Toronto showing signs of being heavily in whelp to that great sire, "Danoch Recompense," so here's hoping that she can repeat her great ring success in the breeding kennels—a wish in which I know all wire hair fanciers will join.

At Windsor Show I had the pleasure of meeting a very keen Irish Terrier fancier in H. M. Elliott, whose "Fer-managh Rusty Maid" impressed me most favorably. I now hear that Rusty Maid's litter sister has been acquired from Sidney Ferris. H. M. Elliott has served his apprenticeship in the Fancy with a man who is a firm believer in line breeding, for his father has had considerable success with Jersey cattle and chickens, so may be the Harrow Kennel may again bring fame to the Dominion, and "Dare Devils" of the quality of the exhibits of Father O'Gorman's Terriers may again be seen in Canada.

"Doode" Baldwin is a very wide-awake fancier, and evidently he has taken cognizance of the way the wind is blowing towards the merry little Beagles, and therefore, knowing "Doode" as I do, I am not surprised to hear that the famous hound kennel at Ottawa, or rather Hull, has some particularly promising puppies by Ch. "Swampy Diamond." Beaglers will remember what "Doode" remarked at one of their jolly Field Trials—that it was just as easy to breed good-looking working Beagles as the mediocre ones, and he evidently is out to make good his statement.

"Doode" knows what is required, so I watched him judging from my ring when I was waiting for his classes to be brought in at Montreal Show some years ago, and after the judging Ben Lewis made up the party, and we had a most interesting chat on Beagles. "Doode," by the way, walks some of his Fox Hounds with Bill Dawson of Trenton, and I had the privilege of going over a young Hound the other day that is going to give King Pin the argument of his life if they ever meet in the show ring. I have never seen a better built Hound. Such a mover, and with a real American Fox Hound's head.

All who are interested in our larger breeds must be gratified to see a revival of interest being taken on both sides of the border, particularly in Great Danes. Mrs. T. C. Hopkins, of Toronto, has sent a photograph of her beautiful brindle bitch, Ch. "Nannie K.," a descendant of the best German strains. This exceptionally good Dane was bred to Ch. "Janko von Odemvald," a son of Germany's most prepotent sire, Ch. "Dolf v.d. Saalling," and the result of the mating was nine puppies, eight of them living, so it looks as if we are going to have some real Danes competing at future shows.

Leonard Brumby has been looking over the Wire Haired situation in Ontario, and amongst other kennels he visited the Shortt's select little kennel at Lambeth, where he was greatly impressed with "Vanity Bantam," a Terrier that looked like a "comer" at Windsor. Evidently he has gone on, for Brumby tried hard to get Miss Shortt to agree to a change of kennel, but without success, I am glad to say, for Canada can do with many more Terriers of the quality and type of "Bantam." One of the Vanity Terriers, however, did go to Leonard Brumby, for he purchased that nice bitch, "Vanity Patricia." The Lambeth Kennel has also been strengthened with "Lone-acre Student Prince," a very attractive hound marked son of "Chappaqua Boatsman." These items of news were sent for the August issue, but arrived too late. Will correspondents kindly remember that news intended for the next issue must reach the writer not later than the 20th of the preceding month.

A correspondent in the last issue brought up a way of helping along the great interest in the well-bred dog by radio. This has been tried out with wonderful success across the border, and the writer has often had the pleasure of listening to Frank Dole and others by turning the dials. We do have a few stations looking after the interest of dogs, and I hope the day is not far distant when some of the stations in Toronto will induce our "Jimmy" to talk. The writer received an invitation from R. H. Waddell to speak from Station CFCF from Montreal when en route from there to St. John, but train connections will not permit. Our President, Lt.-Col. F. F. McFarland, might also be induced to talk over Canadian Kennel Club affairs, and as time does not permit him to go out West and through to the Maritimes as often as the Fancy could wish, a chat from our President would, I know, be much appreciated, and busy man as I know he is, I know full well that anything to help along our Fancy always has, and will have, the very hearty co-operation of our deservedly popular President.

I am pleased to get quite a budget of news from Mrs. Janet Paterson about one of our most beautiful varieties, the Russian Wolfhound. Her newsy letter starts off as follows: "For a long time now I have wondered why the Russian Wolfhound gets so little publicity, and just a few weeks ago I decided that the fault was the breeders." Quite right, Mrs. Paterson. I keep on sending the cry out to breeders, "Send along your news," and although now the response is greater than it used to be, I am still hungry for news, so that the "Canadian Fancy" can be the mouthpiece of the whole Canadian Fancy. You may have made an excellent sale or have something of interest to tell to other breeders, so why not get into the habit of sending the news, to reach me not later than the twentieth of the current month. Just send along the items, and Kennel and Bench will do its part in giving your kennel the publicity every kennel needs. To hark back to Mrs. Paterson, I hear that a few weeks ago she sent to Mrs. Donna Dorsey Wilson, Asherville, N.C., an extremely nice bitch in whelp, and since her arrival, news has arrived that she has presented her owner with no less than eleven puppies. In fact, Mrs. Wilson is so pleased with her purchase that she is importing two more Russians from the Romanoff Kennels, a young dog and bitch, the dog being by Ch. "Romanoff of Peterhoff," and the dam being Ch. "Nazimova." The bitch puppy is by Ch. "Rostoff." Mrs. Wil-

CHAMPION Scottish Terrier

Conditioned on Karswood Dog Powders

"Eglinton Sweet Memory,"—Canadian Champion.

Read this letter from Mr. Alec McCloy, a former Chairman of the Provincial Board of Directors for the Canadian Kennel Club, and owner of Ch. Eglinton Sweet Memory, the Canadian Champion Scottish Terrier. This is what Mr. McCloy says:—

Victoria, British Columbia.
I am sending you a photograph of Champion "Eglinton Sweet Memory." This bitch was conditioned on Karswood Dog Powders previous to and during the three big provincial shows in British Columbia, as follows:—

1. At Vancouver, 24th of May, under the International judge, Mr. Jack Bradshaw, going Best of Breed, then Best Terrier in Show (all breeds), and finally to Best Bitch in Show (all breeds), only being beaten by an International Champion English Setter for Best Dog in Show.
2. At New Westminster Show, end of May, under International judge, Mr. George Cranfield, went Best of Breed, and Best Terrier (all breeds) in Show.
3. On July 2nd, under International judge, Mr. Jack Meadows, repeated the above success and won the title of Canadian Champion Scottish Terrier.

I may say that through Karswood Dog Powders I saved the lives of two pups belonging to a friend. These were very poor and in an almost dying condition, but picked up in marvellous fashion under repeated small doses of your Karswood Dog Powders.

My West Highland White Terriers and English Setters have all benefited greatly from using your powders.

1st September, 1928.

The reason why Karswood Dog Powders are so successful in tackling doggy ailments and producing such high condition, is because they contain specific nerve foods and organic salts which the dog's system must have if he is to enjoy the perfect health which resists disease.

son is, the writer understands, a new recruit, and she is therefore to be congratulated on her judicious purchases. The Russian Wolfhound's popularity can be traced in all countries to lady breeders and exhibitors; in fact, the start of their popularity can be traced back to the late Queen Alexandria, and in later years to the Duchess of Newcastle and Mrs. Vlasto, and to a West of England breeder, Miss Robinson, in the Old Country. A perusal of the history of the breed on both sides of the border shows how the ladies have interested themselves for the betterment of a breed that has always appealed to the visitors at a show. No more attractive sight can be seen than a big class of Russian Wolfhounds being judged or several laying side by side on the bench. A very impressive sight at the present time at the Romanoff Kennels is a litter of eight male and two female puppies sired by "Romanoff of Bolivia." They are all white except that their ears are tinged with grey.

A nice kennel of Wires has been started at Marmora by Thos. W. Rhind, who made his debut in the show ring at the Shriners' Show. Since this show the kennel has been strengthened by a litter of five puppies by the late Ch. "Watteau Review" out of "Aryo." The bitch ought to produce a real good Terrier.

I have often heard of Dan Morgan's Springer, "High Tide Barney," and welcome the photograph that has been sent of this extremely good Springer, a most consistent winner and an excellent sire. I really must ask George Kynoch the next time we meet how this dog managed to get away from Winnipeg.

The Windsor Fancy have been strengthened of late by a very keen Collie man in Clarke Simpson, who hails from Vancouver, and he should prove a tower of strength to Collie-dom in the East. Often I hear news of good Eastern dogs going out to the West, but this time the position is reversed, and the West has strengthened the East, for Clarke Simpson has induced W. G. Hassell, owner of the well-known Alandale Kennels, Burnaby, B.C., to part with a daughter of Ch. "Elmhill Alandale," a puppy already with a past, for she has gained four points towards her championship. This bitch, whose name is not given, was accompanied on her long journey by a bitch puppy by Ch. Elmhill Alandale" ex "Elmhill

Jack Young is cutting a wide swath with his Scotties around Edmonton. "Normandy Ascot," a black brindle son of Ch. Merlewood Aristocrat" ex "Heather Essy," the daughter of England's great sire, Ch. "Albourne Scot," has certainly made a big impression on Canadian soil. Under Alf. Delmont at Calgary he was placed first in the puppy class. Geo. Kynoch not only placed him ahead in puppies, but also awarded him Reserve Winners at Edmonton. The Illinois expert, J. H. Burton, evidently saw eye to eye with the first-named judges, for at Saskatoon "Ascot" won Puppy Novice and Limit, and was Reserve Winners to Ch. "Donald Scot." Charles Hopton reversed Burton's placings at Regina, for "Ascot" beat Ch. "Donald Scot," and was Winners Dog and Best of Breed. From this it will be understood that Jack Young has undoubtedly a Scottie of great merit. "Heather Lulu," imported from Robert Chapman, is soon to be mated to "Heather Jock," and from this mating the Edmonton Kennel ought to produce a champion.

Walter A. Thompson, the bird dog man of Red Deer, Alberta, sends some interesting news of a wonderful kennel of English Setters owned by G. F. Saunders, a native of New Brunswick, but now living at Bozeman, Montana. G. F. Saunders has always taken the keenest interest in English Setters, and now owns close on fifty real good working Setters, many of which are up to the highest show form. This owner's ambition is to own a home-bred Field Trial Champion that can also win the necessary points in the show ring. With this laudable ambition in view, he has spent thousands of dollars, crossing the best show and field strains. I have been privileged to see some of the pedigrees, and no student of blood lines and constructive breeding can help but be interested in the care and forethought shown in their production. A friend of Walter Thompson, H. Mc Ardell, and a trainer of note, has now sixteen of the Saunders team to train on chickens, and as my correspondent writes, "It is a real treat to see them work on the training grounds around Red Deer." Besides Setters, there are also some really good Labradors bred from stock imported by that well-known sportsman, Major J. G. Fordham, Vancouver, B.C.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Mrs. A. Paterson, of the Romanoff Kennels registered at Brantford, is probably the busiest fancier, who at the moment is getting ready for the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show. Her entry of Russian Wolfhounds is five all told, and in the process of preparing the exhibit for the bench, she is sharing her time in quite another direction.

A litter of eleven puppies, sired by a son of The White Wonder, and the dam is sired by the same dog, and so some of the puppies are pure white, all are nearly all white with cream tipped ears, in fact, it is the nearest all white litter ever born at the Romanoff Kennel. At the time of writing all are alive and now a foster mother is being sought, and here's hoping a good one will soon be found.

"PRINCE'S OBITUARY."

The Editor of Kennel & Bench.

THIS IS AN OPEN LETTER. I should like to call it "Prince's Obituary". Truly it is now tho' when I wrote it, he was still alive.

Prince was an English Collie. I bought him from a farmer on the Dundas Road with his brother, whom I named David. Two lovely little black collie pups, in June, 8 years ago. David died in Oakville. Prince, we brought on here with us to Boston. May I digress? I own now, a lovely old Colonial house with a hundred acres surrounding it. The house built, I think, in 1645, by Col. Timothy Pickering, the first Post Master General in George Washington's cabinet. Lovely old Colonial detail, wonderful woodwork, etc. This morning I looked out my window and I saw eight small chickens whose mother was loitering. Then a pheasant hen with her young brood of 6, I also saw "Larch", a big duck whom I brought here from Oakville—as an egg! I have six lovely Russian Wolfhounds whose mother was bred in Canada and whose sire was from Mrs. Pattison's in Brantford. I have taken many prizes, in many shows with them, but now we come again to Prince whose heart was of gold. Not a Scotch Collie, but an English one. His first indiscretion was with an Airedale in Oakville and six lovely babies they had. Prince died last Tuesday. He was a gentleman truly, with a love, a wonderful brain, too intelligent, not to have been able to use his tongue—believe me, he could do all else. He was loyal, obedient, honest, faithful. This is my tribute to Prince.

THE "NORMAN K. SWIRE" MEMORIAL

When the sponsors of the "Norman K. Swire" Memorial Show closed its doors after the fixture came to a close on February 6th, it was not anticipated that the official report would necessarily be delayed to this late date. However, just as every show-giving club has its troubles, this show was no exception, and the officers experienced some difficulty in collecting certain sums that were considered essential to show the margin of profit that could reasonably be labelled "Memorial".

The statement, as furnished by the Secretary, Mr. Walkerdine, and which appears below, will furnish at a glance just what was accomplished, and the cash on hand which shows the proceeds to be $171.03, which amount plus $261.50 held by the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club, and making a total of $432.53.

Any lover of the late Mr. Swire who may have overlooked subscribing to the Memorial, and has now the desire to contribute may send the contributions to the President of the Canadian Kennel Club, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, K.C., Excelsior Life Building, Toronto Street, Toronto.

DOGS OF THE EMPIRE

THAT FONDNESS FOR SPORTING DOGS By FREEMAN LLOYD.

WHY is it that some people are fond of sporting dogs while others take their pleasures among the non-sporting varieties? There is still another or third party, that delights to be associated with some toy kind of dog, perhaps representing a one time larger race or breed that has become decadent, petered, or worked out, so to speak.

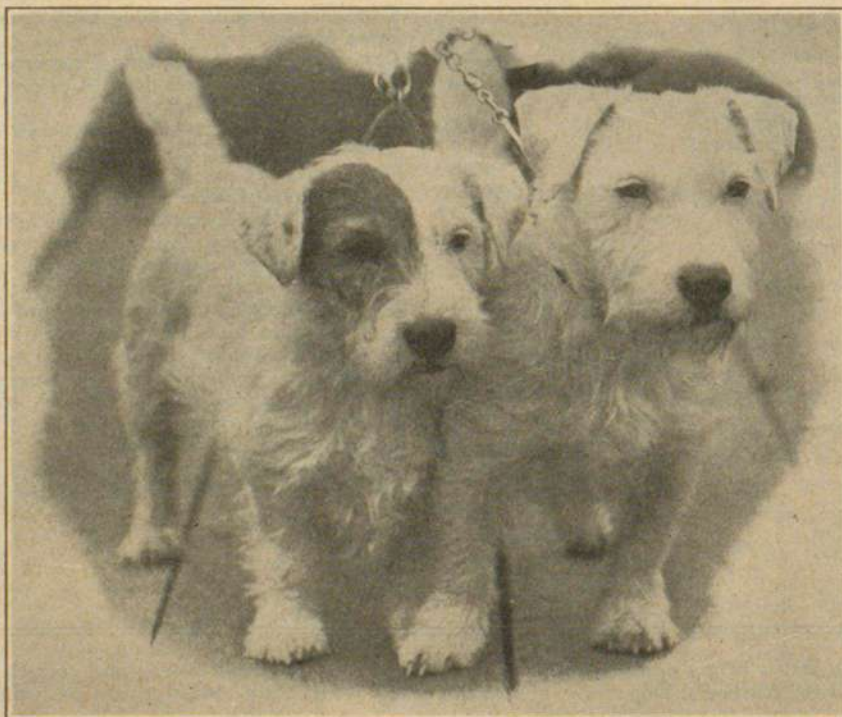

Here is a long question, but it is one that may be easily answered. We probably like this, that or the other breed of dog, because of our early bringings up—our homes in the countries or towns; large cities or small villages; a cooped-up lodgings, or a good sized house with a capacious back yard, or, better still, large grounds, stables or other out buildings. In regard to our likes or dislikes for dogs, we are as often as not the creatures of circumstances—just those grown-up beings who as children were either confined to the pavements or sidewalks of the large cities, or the more freedom of the sporting or open air surroundings of the small town set in the midst of the fox hunting, hare hunting, otter hunting, coursing, badger digging, rabbiting and ratting community or country side.

Like good or bad-mannered children, we are just what we are, because of the associations of our young days, not necessarily in the immediate circles of our own family circles, but, rather from the mixing up with those other persons of an older age who seemed to be the more pleasant people, simply because they were fond of a bit of hunting, fishing or other sportings that appeared to exactly fit in with the developing tastes of the bird-nesting, minnow-catching young reprobate. This class of youngster wore out more shoes and knickerbockers than any other two or three of the boys of the Little Lord Fauntleroy or stay at home goody-goody types, but while catering to the industries of the cobblers and tailors, our lads of the outdoors were gathering health and a good deal of knowledge regarding dogs and the hunting of different kinds of game—animals and birds. The more they learned the more they desired to become acquainted with other forms of sport connected with the pursuits of strange animals—even those of the more powerful and dangerous kinds. The longer they lived the more they wanted to see. As industrious men they saved their money so that they might go on safari in Africa, and rent deer forests and grouse moors in Scotland. Although ducks were plentiful enough in their own neighborhood, they needs must go to north-western Canada or the Gulf Coast for their wildfowl shooting; their moose hunting in the Maritime Provinces, their salmon fishing in Norway, and their shark catching off the north island of New Zealand.

And so it is that the sporting-dog boy has become a man with highly developed tastes in the ways of sports; in fact, the youngster has grown into that full blown specimen of healthy manhood, commonly known, and, let us hope, respected as the sportsman. You will find that he is very fond of sporting dogs, and knows a good deal about the whys and wherefores of what is right or wrong about the constructions or makes and shapes of the hunting and coursing dogs; the heights and weights of hounds of all the varieties from the staghound to the beagle; also the sizes and weights of the terriers and their usages in connection with the different kinds of vermin these small dogs are supposed to equal—in the fighting sense. All these matters have been drilled and soaked into the brain of the man I have been trying to portray. This acumen did not come to him "all of heap" or by the correspondence school method; it arrived slowly, filtering bit by bit, drop by drop into his understanding. Some of the matter was good, some of it bad; but his was the power to distinguish the one from the other. The sand he cast aside; the sugar he kept; and that material and acquired knowledge added to the sweetness of his existence. He at least became thoroughly acquainted as to what was sand and what was sugar. He was cognizant that each was useful for the one or the other purpose.

And so it is with dogs. For each and every breed of dog there is a job or use in the flood, field, house or boudoir. The men like the dogs of the outdoors, while the women have a partiality for the pets of the domiciles. The exertions connected with sport with the dog and gun are often too enervating for the powers of the weaker sex, generally not so imbued or held captive by the passions for hunting and fishing, as are their lords and masters. And so it is that the ladies, as a rule, stick to their fancy dogs, while the menfolk hanker after the other creatures—the hunting, shooting, and terrier dogs.

But with all this, it must not happen that simply for the reason women have taken up certain breeds of running and hunting dogs—these dogs might be looked upon merely as ornaments. These running, coursing and hunting dogs shall not be allowed to become undersized, weak and practically useless little animals for the purposes they, as sporting dogs, were originally bred. Here is where the world might be going wrong in the way of dogs!

If dogs must be bantamized let there be "bantam" classes; but the liliputians must not be designated "sporting" dogs. People who are fond of sporting dogs, are naturally jealous regarding what they consider to be the just-right sizes and portions of their sporting dogs. They do not complain because of the fads and fancies of the Toy Dog fancier who as often as not appears to revel in the monstrosities dog, has been recognized and found to be a good one. The sportsman knows that the forms, habits and scents of the wild animals and birds, have remained unchanged through the centuries of time. He has not to be told that the dogs and men of the past were quite as good hunters, and, perhaps a little better than they are today. The superior firearms in the forms of shooting guns, have not improved the noses or scenting powers of the gun dogs. The greyhounds of today are not speedier than those of yesterday; nor will the greyhounds of tomorrow be faster and cleverer because of the track—racing longtails of the moment. Racing might deteriorate rather than improve the greyhound's staying powers. The coursing dog that leads up to the hare, has a mighty advantage; but it is the persistent working, clever, close-to-the-scut greyhound to which you take off your hat as he or she wipes off the couple or more lengths advantage scored by the speedier dog in the run-up to the game.

And going into the niceties of the "lengths" and "points" in a course as seen or observed in the instance of a brace of greyhounds coursing a hare, at a distance of perhaps a couple or three hundred yards away from the looker-on, what cannot the ordinary sound-eyed human take in? Mostly everything! Yet, the other day, a man declared, in writing, that another man could not form a right opinion as to what a coursing dog was like, for the reason the observer had not been closer than fifty feet to the dog that was being discussed!

See a dog at sixteen or seventeen yards! There must be many dogmen who can almost note the dog's structural perfection or failing at quite one hundred and fifty or two hundred feet away from where they stand. When there are other dogs of different breeds in the judging rings, the human eye takes in the comparisons of heights and weights as then presented to the watchful optics of the ringsider. The movement of the dog as he walks, trots, or gallops around or along the enclosure, will be sufficient for the trained observer to immediately discover what he is looking for. As a matter of fact, the judge as well as the critic is mostly on the sharp lookout for the failings rather than the good points in a dog. The dog with the fewest imperfections should be returned as winner. Like the perfect man, the perfect dog will be hard to find. If a man cannot see farther and better than his dog, the man's sight is imperfect.

Just as I finished the last paragraph, I looked up from my writing, and through the glass window of my study, and the screened porch beyond, espied a humming bird hovering at the opening of each honeysuckle bloom on the woodbine the other side of a very small meshed screen. The workings of the humming bird's wings are so fast that only the head, neck and body of the little creature may be distinctly seen; he appears like a glorified bumble bee as he sips the nectar from the tubes of the open flowers. Yet the human eye without the help of glasses of any kind, could discern more or less distinctly, the blurred pattern or structure of the wings. It was afterwards found that the tiny bird had been observed from a distance of exactly fifteen feet. Now, as the human eye may take in all there was to see about a humming bird on the wing fifteen feet away, how much could the same pair of eyes be expected to see of a wolfhound standing thirty-five feet farther away, with no window glass or mosquito screen to baulk the vision? As a matter of fact you can see more of a dog and what he is like when you stand well away from him; and that is the reason "block" judging—especially when three or four dogs are at the same time on the small platform—is usually a snare for the judge, albeit a joy for the astute and "fix 'em up" professional dog handler.

As before remarked, there is danger ahead when severe and unwarranted changes in types of dogs are more or less forced on undeserving peoples. See for yourselves what the "fancy" is doing for the Sealyham terrier that was once upon a time accounted as a sporting terrier fit and able to run and hunt with a pack of otter hounds or a moderately fast pack of foxhounds in a hilly country. Also to go up a drain or into a holt to drive out the hunted or lying-up otter. Look upon the pictures of Ch. Ivo Caradoc (on the right) which was the first of the very expensive Sealyhams to reach America. He cost the late Mr. Ross-Proctor, of New York, not less than $3,500, it was said.

Caradoc was a Sealyham terrier that could travel. Ch. Gessima (left) was another very expensive Sealyham, but considerably shorter on the leg than her kennel mate. But she looked or appeared "hard;" the hair on her head was of the wire not "fluff," soft-coated description. And what has become of the more or less pointed V shaped fox-terrier ear cartilage that we used to see on Sealyhams? "O the fox terrier has been bred out 'em!" some one will say. Perhaps so; but why endeavor to breed lop, rounded lugs on any terrier that was used for just the same work as the hunt or kennel fox terrier. From where comes the Dandie Dinmont ear?

There can be no excuse for anyone now to declare that the Sealyham terrier is no longer a working terrier. Beating swords into ploughshares might sound very pretty from the pulpits; but terriers like warriors take care of themselves and are none the worse for being able to do a bit of scrapping! So keep your powder dry, and your terriers serviceable and game as well as good looking.

It is noticed that Beagling is becoming very popular in Canada. How about breeding a little hound of the type of the years-ago living model for the clever brush of the late Gustav Muss-Arnolt? Here is the type of the miniature American foxhound. This is a type that many believe to be the correct one. But wouldn't you like to own a pack of little hounds of the stamp of Harry T. Peter's old time favorite? Of course you would, for like Mr. Peters, Master of the Meadowbrook Foxhounds, New York, you possess in a marked degree that fondness for sporting dogs which has been the main subject of this article.

McCANDLISH APPROVED AS JUDGE OF FISHER'S ISLAND TRIALS

William L. McCandlish, chairman of the English Kennel Club, has been approved by the American Kennel Club as judge of the 1930 field trials to be held by the English Springer Spaniel Field Trial Association at Fishers Island, N.Y., on October 21-24 inclusive. The trials will occupy the first three days and the bench show for which Mr. McCandlish has also been selected as judge, on the final day. Mr. McCandlish whose home is Redditch, Foxlydiate, England, is a breeder, judge and exhibitor of great experience, being especially proficient among shooting dogs and terriers. His associate judge will be William J. Hutchinson, of New York, one of this country's keenest enthusiasts in the cause of Spaniel field trials and now president of the association at Fisher's Island. Other officers include Dr. Samuel Milbank, Vice-President; Harry L. Ferguson, Secretary; S. Prescott, Treasurer, and Charles H. Toy, Delegate to the American Kennel Club.

Notes From Old Quebec

By FRED LA RUE, Cap St. Martin, Que.

HER name is "Wee Fluffy" and she claims the record for being the dam of the biggest litter of Poms born in Canada this year; that is seven beautiful orange sable puppies "nes" on Aug. 17th at the Fairness Kennels of Laval Rapids, Que. The proud sire is Fairness Whippyman. This was the first litter sired by the said stud. Some debut for such a wee representative of the most beautiful breed of toy dogs. Breeders of these very interesting house dogs should bear in mind that studs kept in the country are always healthier and throw stronger and more numerous litters than those kept in the city. The Fairness Kennels have advertised their studs in Kennel and Bench at very low fees, which fact may have led some breeders to think that they were keeping second raters. Their winning in recent shows and the fact that they are importing the best that can be bought from England, should make people stop and think. Their kennels are easily reached by St. Denis & Bordeaux, Tramways also the Cartierville auto bus. All fanciers are invited to come and look over their latest importations, a beautiful blue female called Blue Fairy and a wonderful orange male called Gold Bay of the Rapids. Both were bred by Miss Crawford, Hull, England. These will be fearlessly shown in the Winter shows and I will probably handle them myself at the big Madison Garden show.

When I go down there I hope to meet that "Savant docteur" from Philadelphia, who wrote such wonderful stuff in the Montreal Standard lately to try and prove that the Mongrel dogs are more intelligent than thoroughbred dogs. I now have a story to prove it! Here is the fact as it was related to me by Pat the other night at the end of a perfect day! About two years ago Pat's son, (his name must be Mike), though I forgot to ask it, was walking down St. Catharines Street, when he heard the noise of a dog fight. He ran to the spot where a crowd was sheepishly watching a big police dog giving the last touch to the killing of a poor 4 or 5 months old puppy. Mike, who has many times stopped kennel fights amongst his father's Irish terriers, walked right into the "melee" and inside of 2 minutes he had the big dog whining for liberty, and he gave him a good kick for an "au revoir". Of course he could not leave the masterless puppy with a leg apparently broken to be finished by other dogs or run over by some automobile. So he took it home and hid it in the coal shed. Poor Mike knew from the start that it was useless to try and get permission from his father to keep a mongrel. The fact, the staring fact was that the dog looked the mongrellest of all mongrels. He had a pug nose with St. Bernard eyes and Doberman Pinscher ears; his bulldog body was set on Greyhound legs, the whole thing being adorned with a Pom tail. Now, being such a perfect mongrel you must believe that he was very intelligent. He was a real clown and gave more fun to Mike during the three weeks that he managed to keep it away from his father's sight than all his Irish Tefiers ever did. But the fatal day had to come, and Pat drove the poor outlaw to the S.P.C.A. inside of 5 minutes after he discovered it in the coal shed. But Mike never forgot his four footed friend and easily recognized him this summer performing in the big circus that visited our city. Grown to the size of an Irish Wolfhound and trimmed as a French poodle it was drawing "un tonnerre d'applaudissements" and many encores from the audience when it suddenly stopped in the middle of a very difficult act, gave three joyous barks and made a rush for the back seats where Mike was sitting. The hugging of these two friends was worth witnessing. How they shook hands and how the dog kissed his saviour's hands! But the trainer of the hound or mongrel or whatever you may call it was whistling fiercely to call him back to the ring, so the poor dog took his saviour gently by the wrist and led him "triumphant" from the 25 cent seats to the $2.00 ones!! Now if you don't believe this story write to the C.K.C. members of this Old Province and ask them the reason why they don't send me some news. I receive some wonderful letters from other Provinces and from across the line that parts the "wets" from the "drys", but no news comes from this Province, and that is why. I have got to write about mongrels.

The fact that I managed to go to Ottawa on the fourth day of the twin shows does not relieve my mind of the worry that falls to a correspondent of Kennel & Bench when he has reached the 21st of the month without receiving any news. For pity's sake, be human, and shoot some news to me every month.

Especially if you want to turn over a new leaf and advertise in Kennel and Bench for the Christmas number. Although I am a French Canadian, I hate to be a John the Baptist preaching in the desert.

The Ottawa Central Canada Exhibition and Ottawa Kennel Club twin shows were full of surprises and greatly enjoyed by those whose appetite enjoys a mixed menu. What more spicy and more tickling to the tongues than seeing a bitch go Reserve Winners on one dog under an international judge, take the beating with a smile, and say, "every dog has his day". Then see another judge put the same animal Winners Bitches, Best of Breed, Best Terrier and then Best in Show. Some stomachs enjoy it very much, others need of a chaser to swallow their surprise. I know of a lady, we might call her the Queen of this Old Province for all the advertisement she is giving us. She is, so to speak, keeping this oldest (how old) Province on the map by advertising regularly in the largest Canadian doggy paper. This lady must have had an indigestion when she saw her beautiful Kerry Blue which had been rated 100% Terrier, and had nailed the most coveted Best in Show trophy at the "Shriners" show at Toronto, get beaten by his own kennel mate of the opposite sex when she, (the Queen) was nursing high hopes of carrying again the Best in Show or at least the Best Terrier trophy with the much superior male.

Whether these quick reversal of awards hurt or help the game, I am ed before, they tickle the tongues! not in a position to say, but as I stat-

WINDSOR, ONT.

The Province of Quebec, (who said it was old, anyway?) made quite a wonderful showing in Ottawa this year. First the Ormsby Kennels came out with a wonderful string of Wires. Suffice it to say that the award columns will show their list of wins.

Ch. Humbervale Dancing Master, owned by the Glen Gyle Kennels, who was entered, for special only, got Best Wire Fox Terrier but was beaten under Percy Roberts by the smooth Gallant Fox, owned by W. J. E. Newton for Best Fox. Both Gallant Fox and Dancing Master should thank their stars for the fact that Towne Tenacity and Hatweed were entered by Geo. Ward, "for exhibition only", as it would have made the running very hot for the winners. Towne Tenacity, who boasts of Ch. Talovera Simon, is good enough to give both Eden Aristocrat and Weltona Fризette a run for their money. However he is a different type. He is more on the lines of Thet Timber who got winners at the Garden last winter. However, I believe he should beat Thet Timber any time he meets him as he looks more finished and shows more roundness all over. As we saw him in Ottawa, he needed 2 or 3 pounds more flesh but we could not fault him. As for Hatweed, another Wire, bred in England by J. Bassett and also imported by Geo. Ward, his sire is Dogberry Invincible, and he is not far behind Tenacity for class lines and substance. As a matter of fact, he is just as good as him everywhere but in hindquarters. He is a real flyer, good enough for any show and we must congratulate Geo.

W. Bailey for his new acquisition. The dog is nicely hound marked and he carries a wonderful neck perfectly, and I might as well remark here that when the running is getting very hot in Fox Terriers you may always depend on the longer neck to win. Another dog which I thought a lot of but who failed to show in the ring on account of the shooting from the Wild West side show which had unluckily been placed near the dog show building was Wrightville Select, which we believe to be one of the best sons of Ch. Watteau Review whose lamented death was so badly felt by the fancy at large. There are bitches in whelp to select now and we are glad to see that the strain is here to stay as it is the shortest bodied strain in foxterrierdom.

Miss Sybil Fincham, of St. Johns, Que., had the following breeds entered in the show: 1 Pointer, 2 English Setters, 2 Irish Setters, 1 Springer Spaniel, 2 Smooth Fox Terriers, 3 Scottish Terriers, 2 English Toy Spaniels, 2 Pekingese, 2 Pomeranians, 1 Dalmatian, 1 Gordon Setter and last but not least, 3 Kerry Blue, including the great Ranker O' Rom, who has written his breed name in letters of gold at the "Shriners' Show. That he should have been defeated for Best of Breed by his kennel mate is one of these accidents that will sometimes happen in the best run shows under the best judges. Miss Finchman was handling the dog herself in the dog class then she came with the bitch against the dog for Best of Breed. It was all done in a minute and nobody was more surprised than Miss Fincham when the dog on whom she had tacked her fondest hopes to finish Best Terrier in Show went down to defeat. She took it with a smile; what is the use of crying over spilled milk anyway? She is a great sport, owning one of the best Terriers in the world and you will see her with the same dog heading the Terrier groups before the season is over. How much do you want to bet? Bring your money to Toronto where all the good fellows go! We will also meet there another great ever-smiling sport, Mrs. H. E. Batt. I would have given one of my fingers to see the Best in Show trophy carried away by an exhibitor from this province. But next to any exhibitor from the shores of the St. Lawrence or Richelieu rivers, nothing rejoiced my heart more than the winning of the "Queen from Guelph". I will never forget how warmly she congratulated me last year when a Craigellachie female beat a Haldon owned Scottie at Sherbrooke on her showing. Even at Ottawa she was feeling depressed because another exhibitor did not like the judge's decision. I think that she would have smilingly changed ribbons with the other lady if it had been in her power to do so, just to relieve her feelings. That Walnut Baroness should have beaten Glen Garrell Cutie, the Montreal winner is no drawback at all, as Baroness proved her class by going up to Best in Show under such a judge of Scottish Terriers as Percy Roberts, the very man who imported and handled some of the best terriers in the world. Mrs. Wm. Dingwall certainly owns one of the best Scotties bred in Canada but we are bound to face some importations in every show that have just a little more finish than the home bred ones. It's all in the game and nobody knows more than myself how hard it is to produce a group winner. Best congratulations must consequently be offered to Mrs. R. T. Stephens for winning the best toy group with her home bred toy poodle King Jet, and to J. Lane, of Toronto, for the winning of his lovely Boston Terrier bitch, Highball Canada, another home bred in the Non-Sporting group. But we must not forget our personal friend, "Moses", not the one of the Scriptures, but the one who boasts of a great French name: T. M. Girouard, and who had such a lucky day by repeating his Montreal win with Dows Lake Tommy, the greatest bodied and best footed Boston in Canada. Indeed there was not much to choose between him and the real flyer that was shown by E. A. Runions: Come again Hagerty.

Miss Laviolette, of Montreal, who owns some of the best horses in America, departed from the Ottawa exhibition with a beautiful Boston Terrier female called Bayswater Pepita, which she acquired from W. A. Crowley of the Bayswater Kennels, Ottawa. In Bulldogs, Montreal exhibitors gave a good account of themselves, Walter C. Wolfe having gone to first limit with his Misnot Montreal most ably handled by Harry Armistead. When one comes to think of this particular occasion, he can't help wondering how Harry could manage to keep from trying to put the bulldog's front legs close together after having handled for a score of years so many straight fronted Terriers! W. Ogden's Guinea Gold, the sire of Misnot Montreal, got Reserve Winners on both days. There was a sad occurrence indeed in bulldogs when Percy (himself) withheld the winners ribbon from Bernard L. Gray's kennel Tattling Girl. Personally I cannot blame Mr. Roberts for doing so, because I always admired a judge who has the courage to withhold a ribbon when necessary. I admired Anton Rost in 1929 when he withheld the winners ribbon from my own Craigellochie Fearnought. However, Mr. Gray, having worked like a trojan to get all the bulldog entries, (don't I remember when there was not a single entry under Ch. Hopton 2 or 3 years ago in Ottawa) and claiming that "Bob" Ross had told him the day before that Tattling Girl was a typical bulldog and that, while she had faults, and would be more of a show specimen with a shorter body, yet any judge could put a bag over her head and still see that she had a real bulldog body and furthermore, that he could put her down in the ring in Madison Garden and not be ashamed to stand at the end of her lead; Mr. Gray also claiming that Ch. Hopton, the acknowledged bulldog expert, said that she was a real typical bulldog female and just the type to throw some real pups, nobody will, under the circumstances, be wondering why he was really stunned by this last decision after having won under both the aboved named judges. It's all in the game, dear friend, don't cry over spilled milk, don't fuss over the New Zealand butter either; 1930 has brought out many a surprise to both political men and to dog breeders. It can't be raining all the time; tomorrow, may be, the sun of success will shine over Tattling Girl again.

In the Sporting Dogs group this Province was very well represented first in the Golden Retrievers by a beautiful trio owned by Mrs. A. MacLaren, of Buckingham, and most ably handled by John Ritchie. Miss Fincham as above stated, had two beautiful English Setters and many were the ringsiders who had picked her English Setter to beat the flat coated retriever who won the group.

In Irish Setters Squire of Kildona, owned by Mrs. A. Hird and so perfectly handled by Mrs. J. H. Enright, got first Open and Winners. Ir. Cockers, The Honorable President of the Ladies' Kennel Club also got Winners Parti-colour bitch with Enright's Sylvia, and Winners Solid Colour other than black with Enright's Dee Light. As for Miss S. Fincham's wins, they were so numerous that I cannot repeat them all here with the space at my disposal and must again refer my readers to the awards published in this issue. I have not yet made good my promise of a full review of all the inmates of the Wizbang Kennels having been kept back by unexpected visitors when I had figured on going to St. John. Que. But before the snow falls I will go there and let you know of all the marvels that are housed on the shores of the Richelieu River. Harry Collins, of Chaudiere Kennels, Hull, Que., had a beautiful display of Parti-Color Cockers and Allan C. McGuirl exhibited a great lot of perfect coated Cockers which upheld the international fame of the Ottawa Prefix. I am being told that Leigh Levinia which was winners at the Shriners' show is now nursing a fine litter of puppies. Still more interesting is the fact that Mr. McGuirl is importing, at a big cost, the great Champion bitch, Leigh Lady Bird, in whelp to Ch. Leigh Royalist. This will certainly help to keep Ottawa to the very top in cockerdom.

Working Dogs had a good representative from Montreal in Ludendorff Supreme carrying second puppy and novice in hot competition. T. E.

Gundersen's most wonderful bitch, Afra Von Der Iser, went to Winners Bitch and nothing short of the great winning dog Derich of Cosalta could keep her away from Best of Breed.

Chow Chows had only one entry, Airdrie Chubby Chin, owned by E. J. Ellis and good enough for hot competition. We must close up this hasty report of the Ottawa shows by calling the attention of the Montreal Scottish Terrier breeders to R. H. Waddell's Glen Garrell Warbler wins which appears below.

I was very sorry not to meet Albert Collins of the Wynot Kennels in the capital. So I stopped in Montreal before returning to Cap St. Martin and put him through the "third degree" to try and find out why the kennel that is having some of the best Terriers of the Province of Quebec was not represented in the Ottawa shows. I was agreeably surprised to see such a haven of rest and shade only a few feet from Montreal's busiest main street; wonderful centenary trees and a high board fence isolate the kennels from the noise and sights of the big city. Mr. Collins lost no time in telling me that he had a new imported dog just arrived from England which was not in coat for the fall shows. So he paraded the said importation through the yard and my remarks were to the effect that I thought the new inmate quite good enough for the big shows and much on the lines and type of Eden Aristocrat. And do you know who the dog was? None other than Kold Kash which he bought from H. E. Whitney, and which is moving like a 12 months' old dog. The joke was on me, but I warn others that the joke will also be on many a young dog in the ring because Kold Kash is rounding up in the same form that placed him winners in New York years ago. He is just as clean in cheeks and shoulders as he was 5 years ago, and God only knows what Albert is feeding him with to put so much dynamite in his eyes and gait. That he is still siring some of the best puppies around Montreal was well proven at the last M.K.C. show by the winnings of an exceptionally good young bitch bred and shown by H. Smallcombe.

Never Neglected was next paraded before me. A son of Ch. Bishop's Neglected, sired by Ch. Tolavero Simon, he from Ch. Fountain Crusader and, his dam is also a granddaughter of Fountain Crusader and consequently line bred to the winning strain that is sweeping the four corners of the world with dog show awards.

Another wonderful pedigreed dog housed in these kennels is Little Corporal, sired by the Great Ch. Coyenne of Carce, which no American money has yet been able to carry across the big pond. Coyenne's dam was Peri, that daughter of Briar Tetratema, who whelped the great Int. Ch. Signal Circuit of Halleston. Peri is a full sister to Oldene Primus which was imported by the Warrior Kennel of Montreal and if any body owns a daughter of Primus or any descendant of Signal Circuit he should line breed her to Little Corporal. In offering that dog to the fanciers at public stud, A. V. Holliday is certainly giving them a chance to produce stock that will be classy enough for New York. There are two hound marked females in Mr. Collin's yard which were sired by Never Neglected and promise to be good enough for the hottest competition. They have bone to spare, wonderful fronts, real good bodies and hindquarters, first class coats and the best of eyes. My pick up for a New Yorker feil, however, on a 5 months old, all white body female with a reachy neck. She was sired by Never Neglected and her dam is a Kold Kash female called Daymond's Surprise. Watch her debut! Oakenclough Rejected, owned by H. G. Dinsdale is also housed in the Woynot Kennels. He is the longest headed Fox Terrier in Canada and as he is full of Tolavera Simon blood he is sure to throw the goods. Last but not the least is that marvellous Irish Terrier Kilvera Postman well on the way to his second championship and which has never been defeated in Canada.

Notes From Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor, W. B. R. Knowles, V.S., B.V.Sc.

IF you read the Boston Terrier awards at the Alberta Kennel Club Show, held in Calgary, you will notice I made an error in my August article. Best of Breed in Boston Terriers was awarded to the puppy, Ti Dee Miss. She was bred and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Droppo, Moose Jaw, Sask. But insofar as the Manitoba Fancy is concerned, it is a pleasure to know that Manitoba shares with Saskatchewan in the wonderful achievement of this young puppy. Her sire, Ch. Winchester Aviator, is owned by S. Jackson, Winnipeg. Ti Dee Miss made her championship in five shows this summer, and is now only about nine months old. At Calgary she was Best Puppy, Best Open, Winners' Best Puppy in Show, also Best Boston. At Edmonton, under George Kynock, she was Best Puppy, Best Open, Best Boston Terrier in Show, Best Canadian-bred All Breeds and Reserve Grand Champion. At Saskatoon, under John W. Burton of Chicago, who is credited with being one of the leading authorities on the Boston Terrier in the United States, Ti Dee Miss was awarded Best Puppy, Best Open, Winners, Best Boston, Best Canadian-bred and Best Dog in Show, All Breeds. At Regina, under C. Hop-ton of New York, Ti Dee Miss was awarded Best Puppy, Best Open, Winners, Best Boston Terrier in Show and Reserve Grand Champion. At Moose Jaw, under Judge A. Semple of Regina, she was awarded Best Puppy, Best Novice and Winners. She was defeated, however, for Best of Breed and Best Non-Sporting Dog by her sire, Ch. Winchester Aviator.

This young bitch, I am informed, made her championship in twenty-nine days. She was whelped October 25th, 1929, her dam being Ch. Trapystok Madam Tousand.

We might mention, too, Ch. Winchester Aviator sired two extra good puppies in addition to Ti Dee Miss in 1929. Miss Aviator, owned by Percy Biller, went from Puppy to Winners under Judge Perry, the recognized Canadian authority on Boston Terriers, at the Fort Garry Kennel Club Show in 1929. Mr. Perry is the author of the book, "The Boston Terrier," as advertised on page 40, August issue of Kennel and Bench. He said Miss Aviator could go East and win. Unfortunately she caught a cold at the show, from which she did not recover. The other puppy, Winchester Flying Queen, owned by Mr. Clare, was awarded Best Puppy, Best Novice, Best Open and Best Boston Terrier at the Fort Garry Kennel Club Matinee Show. Also Best Puppy in Show, All Breeds. She was then only seven months old. Mr. Jackson thinks she is the best Boston female in Winnipeg.

Mr. Jackson reports that Ch. Winchester Aviator has bred twenty-three females in 1930, including females shipped by Mr. P. Lillie of Moose Jaw, Sask., Mrs. Junget of Lethbridge, Alberta, and one this week by R. B. Carter of Assiniboia, Sask. Perry Biller has purchased a very nice young Boston, Just the Guy, from Toronto. Almost immediately on his arrival in Winnipeg he commenced his show career. His awards will appear below with the achievements of other Winnipeg dogs. Mrs. and Mr. J. Kerr's Boston Terrier bitch (Mac's Queen of Hearts, 69765 C.K.C.) has been bred to Mr. Duncan's Trapystok Personality, both of which dogs gained awards at the Regina and Saskatoon Shows.

Awards given to Winnipeg dogs at the Saskatoon and Regina Kennel Club Shows, under Judge John Burton of Chicago and Judge Chas. Hop-ton of New York respectively; George Kynock, handler.

Saskatoon.

Mr. Chevrier's Springer Spaniel, Aristocrat of Avondale, 1st Open, Winners, Best of Breed and Best Sporting Dog. George Kynock's Irish Water Spaniel, Ch. Admiration Southborough, 1st Open and Winners, Dogs. This Irish Water Spaniel, which is a real classy-looking dog, was purchased by Mr. Kynock at Edmonton. Mr. Chevrier, however, bought him on his arrival in Winnipeg. The dog came West from Hull, Quebec, where he was bred. Mr. R. Williams' Cocker Spaniel bitch, Lady Camden, 1st Canadian-bred, 1st Open, Winners and Best Cocker Spaniel in Show. I believe, too, that this winning Cocker bitch was bred by Mr. Farler, the owner of Emigrant of Five Diamonds. Mr. G. Kynock's German Shepherd, Cass

Keoniglichen Morden, 2nd Open, Reserve Winners. Mr. Perry Biller's Boston Terrier, Just the Guy, 1st Open and Winners. George Duncan's Boston Terrier, Trapystok Personality, 2nd Open, Reserve Winners. Mrs. and Mr. J. Kerr, Kerr Kennels, Boston Terrier, Mac's Queen of Hearts, 15 to 20 pounds, 1st Open, Reserve Winners. Mr. H. Baker's Wire-Haired Fox, Silverdale Fox Trot, 1st Limit, 1st Open, Winners. George Kynock's Wire, Redcliffe Arc Light, was awarded Best of Breed and Best Terrier in Show. George Kynock's Pekingese, Marvel Saw Tong, 1st Open, Winners, Best Pekingese and Best Toy Dog in Show.

At Regina, George Kynock's German Shepherd Dog, Cass Keoniglichen Norden, 1st Open, Winners, 1st Canadian-bred, Best of Breed and Grand Champion of Show, for which he obtained the Gold Medal. He was also awarded the Canadian Kennel Club's Cup. We understand this is the first time a Canadian-bred German Shepherd Dog has been awarded Best Dog in Show in Western Canada. H. Baker's Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, Silverdale Fox Trot, First Limit, 1st Open and Winners. I should say Champion Silverdale Fox Trot, because I understand the dog has gained the required number of points and is entitled to the much-coveted title of Champion. George Kynock's Wire, Redcliffe Arc Light, Best Wire-Haired Fox Terrier and Best Terrier in Show. Mr. Chevrier's Springer Spaniel, Aristocrat of Avondale, 2nd Open, Reserve Winners. George Kynock's Fresh Water Spaniel, Ch. Admiration Southborough, 1st Open, Winners and Best of Breed. Mr. Duncan's Boston Terrier, Trapystok Personality, 1st Canadian-Bred, 1st Limit, 1st Open, Winners Dogs. Mr. Perry Biller's Just the Guy, Open Reserve Winners, 15 to 20 pounds. Mrs. and Mr. J. Kerr, Kerr Kennels, Boston Terrier, Mac's Queen of Hearts, 1st Open, Reserve Winners. George Kynock's Pekingese, Marvel San Tong, 2nd Open, Reserve Winners. Mr. R. Williams' Cocker Spaniel, Lady Camden, 1st Canadian-bred, 1st Limit, 1st Open, Winners and Best Cocker in Show.

I was privileged, through the courtesy of Mrs. and Mr. Kerr, to go into the country and visit the farms on which Mr. Chevrier's Springer Spaniel puppies are being raised. Maisie of Avondale has three puppies by Aristocrat of Avondale, two bitches and one dog, just three weeks old. In this litter one bitch puppy seems to be the best of the litter. Marvel of Avondale has four puppies, three months old, by Aristocrat of Avondale, two dogs and two bitches. A liver-and-white dog puppy in this litter gives promise of being a good one. He is almost the image of his dam, and has the particularly strong fore face so much sought by Springer breeders. Then in another litter by Aristocrat of Avondale, the name of whose dam could not be remembered, in which there is a particularly nice blue, black and white bitch puppy. These puppies are five months old. I made another mistake in my last article. I mentioned I saw some puppies, the property of Mr. Hefflefanger. These puppies were Springer Spaniels by Aristocrat of Avondale and not Cocker Spaniels by Ottawa Aristocrat.

A short while ago, through the courtesy of the Editor of Kennel and Bench, I was privileged to read the reprint of a paper on "Pyorrhoea in the Dog," read by Henry Gray, M.R.C.V.S., West Kensington, London, England, at the annual general meeting of the National Veterinary Association of Great Britain and Ireland, in Dublin. Dr. Henry Gray is not alone a forceful writer. He has one of the largest practices in London. Whatever he writes is backed up by practical experience gained by observation in the practice through many years of his profession. In Hoare's "System of Veterinary Medicine," 2 vols., containing together 2,960 pages, perhaps one of the best veterinary text-books in existence and edited by Prof. E. Waller Hoare, Dr. Gray has written on thirty-three subjects. His Canine Distempers covers 285 pages. I became acquainted with Dr. Gray's writings in 1911, in an English veterinary journal, and since then I have always eagerly read anything that comes from his pen. I always feed adult dogs in a somewhat similar manner to that recommended by him, and yet I have a different reason or object in view for so doing. I think, however, his method of feeding young puppies, especially of the larger breeds, will possibly need to be enlarged upon, and their meals increased to several a day. It is common knowledge that the dog belongs to the order carnivora, an animal that feeds on flesh. The dog has, however, become domesticated, and a large amount of starchy food has in the majority of instances been added to his meat ration. The price of meat, too, makes its exclusive use almost prohibitive to all except the rich. Digestion first commences in the mouth by mastication or chewing. Starchy foods, bread, etc., must be reduced or changed to sugar (there are quite a number of different kinds of sugar) before it can be absorbed and used by the body cells as food. The first change should take place in the mouth. It cannot be done if the food to be so changed is swallowed before it is masticated, which is the case if dog is given soft or soaked bread or biscuit. All food should be reduced to pulp by the teeth. Digestion is more easily effected, and less work is placed upon other organs. Several salivary glands are in close relation to the mouth. Their ducts open into the mouth. The sub-maxillary and sub-lingual secrete mucin. Mucin lubricates the bolus of food in order that it may be easily swallowed. The most important salivary gland is the paroted. It secretes ptyalin and mucin. Ptyalin is an enzyme which breaks down starches (bread, etc.). The action of ptyalin is further augmented by enzymes secreted by the duodenum and pancreas. The dog, being a flesh-eating animal, has a small paroted gland, which is all the more reason he should be given bread hard enough so that he has to chew it before he can swallow. "The paroted gland is wide and divided into two lobes by a deep notch into which the base of the ear is received. The lower end is small and overlaps the sub-maxillary salivary gland. The duct leaves the gland at its anterior (front) border, crosses the masseter (cheek) muscle and opens into the mouth opposite the third upper cheek tooth. Small accessory glands are sometimes found along the course of the duct" (Sisson's Veterinary Ovatomy). This gland is affected in the disease called mumps. When it is necessary to punish an animal for any cause, it can readily be seen why the cheek or ear should be avoided. Inflammation of the gland or duct or both may ensue, which might cause a stoppage of the duct. I have seen such a stoppage of the paroted duct in the horse. I first feed my adult dogs stale bread, so hard as it is possible to obtain it. This I obtain from the bakery. The baker also makes biscuits for me (not so hard as the commercial dog biscuit). These are made from an English formula, from which biscuits were made for packs of hounds. When the bread or biscuit, as the case may be, is eaten, then I feed meat and possibly soup or water. Bones should also be given to dogs. I give the knuckle end of beef soup bones and beef neck bones, or sometimes brisket bones. Brisket bones are more loosely textured and are relatively soft. That portion of the bone which is passed in the feces presses on the anal glands situated in the rectum, and so presses on and releases the material they secrete. If this material is not pressed out, as is the case when soft foods are always used, an irritation is set up. In such cases an operation is sometimes necessary. Irritation of the anal glands will cause a dog to rub his rectum along the ground. And in a number of cases worms are blamed, when the cause is injudicious feeding. Mutton should never be fed in the raw state, nor yet rabbit meat. The sheep and rabbit are the intermediate host of certain dog tape worms, just as the pig and cattle are the intermediate host of the human tape worm. Taenia solium and taenia saginata respectively. The host of the cystic form or cyst of probably the most common tape worm of the dog is the dog louse and dog flea. Tape worm, dipylidium caninum; cyst, cryptocystis trichodectis. The tape worm, dipylidium caninum (L), (taenia cucumerina) varies from 10 to 40 centimetres in length. The head is small and has four rows of hooklets. The segments of the worm are somewhat like a cucumber seed. The rabbit harbors the cyst, cysticercus pisi-formis of taenia serrata, probably the next common tape worm of the dog. The worm is from one-half to one metre long. Its head contains about forty hooklets in a double row. The sheep harbors the cyst, cysticercus ovis of the taenia ovis. This tape worm is 45 to 100 centimetres long. The head, which is wider than the neck, has 24 to 36 hooklets, contained in a double row. This tape worm is not considered common, although I have seen the cystic form in the heart and carcasses of mutton at several places in Western Canada. The sheep and pig harbor the cyst, cysticercus tenuicollis of taenia marginata, the longest tape worm of the dog. This worm is from 1½ to 2 metres long, and has a double row of hooklets, about 40 in number. This cyst can easily be recognized. If found in the hog it is usually attached to the liver. In sheep it may be found on the liver, caul fat or on the fat of the peritoneal and pelvic cavities. It is a small bladder-like form, almost as large and sometimes as large as a hazel nut. Its fluid contents contain a white spot, which is the head of the tape worm. The ox is said to harbor this cyst also. I have only seen one case, about 16 years ago, and that one was doubtful. Sheep harbor the cyst, coenurus cerebphalis or taenia coenurus. The cyst is found in the head of sheep, and causes the condition called gid by flock-masters and herders. Taenia coenurus is about 50 centimetres long. Its head, which is broader than the neck, contains a double row of about 30 hooklets. The rabbit harbors coenurus serialis, the cyst of taenia serialis. This somewhat resembles the former worm. Preventive treatment in the case of the first-mentioned tape worm is simply attention to the dog's skin, and means keeping it free of lice and fleas. And in the case of the other tape worms it indicates that mutton and rabbit should be cooked.

There is a tape worm of the dog which is several metres long. This, however, is only found in districts where dogs have raw fish fed to them, and again where the particular species of fish are common, which may contain the cyst.

Mr. Harry Baker's Wire-haired Fox Terrier bitch, Silverdale Saidie, has three puppies by Ch. Silverdale Fox Trot. Mr. McIntosh of Selkirk, Manitoba, is a well-known breeder of German Shepherd dogs, his bitch, Ch. Brenda Von Weithof, has four puppies by George Kynock's Lassos Eugene Foreman, C.K.C. 72208.

I have just read a paper, or an address, that was given by J. A. Campbell, V.S., B.V.Sc., Toronto, in the North American Veterinarian, a copy of which was given me by a friend. The address was delivered at the annual meeting of the Iowa Veterinary Medical Association at Des Moines, Iowa. After talking about skin diseases of dogs, he spoke quite exhaustively on the feeding of dogs, both in health and disease. His method of feeding healthy dogs quite agrees with the methods advocated by Dr. Henry Gray and myself.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Frank Shea of Winnipeg is going into Bostons. He recently purchased two Boston Terrier puppies from Mr. Valente at quite a fancy figure. The puppies are by Ch. Worchester Aviator.

The German Shepherd Specialty Show

In the beautiful setting of the paddock at Belmont Park Race Track, the Shepherd Dog Club of America will hold its Sixteenth National Specialty Show on October 11 and 12, under the auspices of the Long Island Shepherd Dog Club. On the 13th, at the same place, the National Field Trials take place.

This should easily be the banner event of the Shepherd year as the eminent authority, Dr. Curt Roesebeck, of Hannover, Germany—Vice President of the Verein fuer deutsche Schaeferhunde, and President of the German Kartell—will judge both the Bench Show and the Field Trials. Dr. Roesebeck has twice before visited the United States to judge National Specialty Shows of the Shepherd Dog Club of America—first in 1922 and again in 1926. His painstaking, thorough and educational performance on both occasions won for him the confidence and esteem of the American fancy.

Having judged at the Sieger Show or Grand Championship exhibition in Germany annually for many years and at other major German Shepherd dog events on the Continent and in England, Dr. Roesebeck is regarded as one of the best balanced and most constructive judges of the breed. At the coming show he will qualify every dog which is brought before him and qualification cards will be awarded in addition to the cash prizes which, as usual in this national event, are of generous proportion. The prizes, in addition to important specials, are as follows: Puppy Classes: 1st, $10.00; 2nd, $5.00; 3rd, $3.00; Novice Classes: 1st, $15.00; 2nd, $10.00; 3rd, $5.00; American-bred Classes: 1st, $35.00; 2nd, $25.00; 3rd, $15.00; Limit Classes: 1st, $25.00; 2nd, $15.00; 3rd, $10.00; Open Classes: 1st, $25.00; 2nd, $15.00; 3rd, $10.00.

The von Stephanitz World Prizes for dogs and bitches will both be in competition at this show. These are the magnificent silver permanent challenge trophies valued at $500.00 each, which already bear the names of some of the flower of the breed.

An interesting feature of the show will be a parade of Champions on each day, dogs being paraded immediately before the afternoon session of the first day, and bitches at the same time on the second day. There The German Shepherd Spec. Parker 2 will be no competition in this class but the animals will be walked in the order of their age and announcement will be made from the ring of their name, titles and breeding. From present indications this will bring out the greatest galaxy of famous animals ever seen in one ring in the world. It will be a rare opportunity for the amateur photographer.

There will also be two interesting specials—one for Stud Dog with two of his get, and one for Brood Bitch with two of her progeny.

Further Specials are two professional handlers prizes: 1st, $50.00 provided 10 dogs are entered by one handler plus $2.00 for each additional dog entered over 10, 2nd, $25.00 provided at least 8 dogs are entered by the handler having the second largest number of entries.

Arrangements are now being made for a demonstration at the show of the marvelous work of German Shepherd dogs as leaders of the blind.

Local clubs can if they desire bench their animals together in groups and the Shepherd Dog Club of America and the Long Island Shepherd Dog Club have undertaken to care for and assist in the showing of group entries coming from an unusual distance.

Fanciers desiring any further information about this show, entries for which close on September 27, should write either to the Shepherd Dog Club of America, Inc., 5629-a Grand Central Terminal Bldg., New York, or to the Superintendent of the show, Rupert Kobza, 30 Huntington Avenue, Boston Mass.

Canadian National Beagle Club Notes.

The annual meeting for the election of Officers and final arrangements for the Fall Trial was held at the Norton Palmer Hotel, Windsor, Ont., on Friday evening, Aug. 8th.

That congenial gentleman of Irish fame, Jim Hendrick, was again elected President, also his Scotch friend, First Vice-President, Thomas Beath, but let me set you right, boys, Tom is not tight—only when measuring Jim's dogs; Geo. Sherman, Second Vice-President; John Turton, Third Vice-President; Harry C. Austin, Secretary and Treasurer, with O. S. Edwards as his assistant, were also elected.

President Hendrick then appointed a very able Executive and Field Trial Committee as follows: Frank Bueweke, Chairman; Jack Shaw, Nelson Mayhew, Art. Bourne, Dr. J. G. Knapp, Al. Rawlings, and Geo. Abel. Mr. Frank "Honey" Walker was appointed Field Marshal and with the assistance of Mrs. Walker will report the trial in detail. We are looking forward to something good from these people as "Honey" has had considerable experience, having reported trials for a number of years for American Field and Stream, now is the chance for your little beagle to get some real publicity. Mrs. Walker will add the comedy by reporting the all-night running at the Hotel.

Now comes some more good news. Look who we have for Judges this year; beat this pair if you can: W. W. Blakely, of Shelbyville, Ind., and Homer Graham, of Van Wert, Ohio. You all know that Blake can follow the hounds, and Homer writes he has fully recovered from a very successful operation and is in the best physical condition in years. You may rest assured that each hound will be looked over and awarded his proper place. These two gentlemen's knowledge of hound work cannot be questioned.

The Canadian National has always had the reputation of trying to do something better. Each year we have gained our objective. This year we are changing the location of the trials to West Lorne, Ont.

Larger and better hotel accommodations, bigger and better kennels for the hounds, right back of the hotel, a former race horse barn, with all box stalls, lights and running water, with a kennel man on duty at all times. Game? Yes, a good many more rabbits and grounds more open and rolling.

Stakes. We always have wanted to run pack stakes and this year we have the ground suitable for this class of running Special Trophy and beautiful rosette ribbons for first and reserve.

Last, but best of all, on Friday, Oct. 10th the Championship Stakes will be run. This is something for you all to aim at.

We have planned this year to make the week of Oct. 6th to 11th a record-breaking event in Canadian National's history, for we have the promise of some of the largest and best string of hounds in the country, for it is a known fact that we enjoy much cooler weather and better trailing conditions in the north at this time of the year than the trials farther south.

While waiting between classes you may take your hounds fifteen minutes' drive from the trial grounds and give them a real driving test on Canada's celebrated European Hare, the kind that weighs from fifteen to twenty-five pounds. They will look like young mules to you.

Only a couple of hours' drive from Detroit on paved roads. Come and see one of the most beautiful sections of Canada via Detroit, over the new Ambassador bridge and Windsor. The Customs Officers will extend you every courtesy (no duty or red tape), they are sportsmen too.

Take either Highway No. 2, out of Windsor, follow signs for 85 miles, then turn right five miles, or take Highway No. 3; they both start at the bridge. Follow No. 3 about 90 miles, then turn left two miles.

Read maps and full information may be had upon application to Secretary. Come and spend a week where Canadian hospitality reigns supreme.

TORONTO FANCIER DEAD.

Shepherd dog breeders will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Wm. Storey on Thursday, August 14th. Mrs. Storey had been in failing health for the past year or more, and although she gave her many friends the pleasure of seeing her at the Shriners Show, it was realized that she was far from being well.

Billo von Bergholtz a son of Alpha Von Krone, was Mrs. Storey's constant companion and the palship between the two was always noticeable in a large degree. Billo was campaigned at no less than twenty shows and finished his championship at London this spring, much to the joy of his fond mistress.

SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

By Provincial Contributing Editor, MONTAGUE WALLACE, Saskatoon.

JULY still continues to be Saskatchewan's big doggie month. Three shows in three different and distant cities was the record for this month. No sign of general depression was noticeable at these fixtures, as all were right up to the mark. Moose Jaw saw the beginning of the circuit, and staged a show that was a success from the word "go," and has already been reported to the readers of Kenel and Bench.

Saskatoon show—held in connection with the big Industrial Exhibition—came next, and was an unqualified success. An innovation this year was the giving back to exhibitors all the entry money in the way of prizes. This helped wonderfully in defraying travelling expenses, and the Saskatoon Club were warmly commended for this step. The result is that we have been promised liberal support from outsiders at our next summer show, and a marked increase in entries is predicted.

John W. Burton, of Chicago, played the role of Judge, and John W. is no amateur. He placed the dogs as he saw them, and his eyesight was good on the day. Altogether Mr. Burton gave the very best of satisfaction, and no one regretted having brought him all the way from Chicago. His years of experience in the dog game apparently had not been spent with his eyes shut, and his placings were well received.

A large number of outside fanciers joined the local enthusiasts to make the show one to be remembered. Among the visitors were noticed Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Semple of Regina, Mr. Handrahan and Mrs. Droppo of Moose Jaw, John Willox of Prince Albert, Bob Hogg of Punnichy, Hugh Leslie of Zealandia, Rev. McIntosh and George Kynoch of Winnipeg.

The detailed prize list appearing in this issue will show you how the dogs were placed, but especial mention must be made of the group and special winners. Best working dog, winning the Drumnod Trophy, was Mr. A. P. Semple's splendid German Shepherd, Wawota Chiefton. Mr. E. Chevrier's Springer won the Pinder Cup for best Sporting dog. The best Terrier was Geo. Kynoch's Redcliffe Arc Light, which won the Pat McKeen Cup. The Empire Meat Market Trophy for best Toy was awarded to Geo. Kynoch's Pekinese, Marvel San Tong. The Quaker Oats Trophy for best Collie went to Dr. J. T. Cooper's Elmhill Betty, and the handsome H. L. Martin Memorial Shield for best dog owned by a member resident in Saskatoon went to Bluebelle of Lynn, a beautiful Springer owned and bred by that enthusiastic breeder, Mr. A. G. Goddard. Last but not least among the winners was Mrs. Droppo's Boston Terrier that carries, and carries well, the name Ti Dee Miss. She is a real little satin lady, and in face of mighty strong competition, walked away with the much coveted C.K.C. Trophy for best Canadian Bred, the Saskatoon Auto Mechanics' Trophy for best Non-Sporting dog, the Birks Trophy, the Stacey Bros. Trophy for best Boston, the J. D. Miller Trophy for best Boston puppy, and finished up by winning the J. T. Cooper Trophy for best in show. It was surely a wonderful day for Ti Dee Miss and the Droppo Kennel of Moose Jaw.

All these Trophies were presented to their fortunate winners by Mrs. Hanselman, wife of our worthy and capable President. These two members, Mr. and Mrs. Hanselman, have certainly done much for the Saskatoon Kennel Club, having filled their positions with very great acceptance to the Club and all who come in touch with it.

Dog show goers greatly missed Mr. and Mrs. B. Lewis at this year's show. Both were ill in the hospital. Mr. Lewis met with a serious accident that will keep him on his back for months. However, both are progressing surely, if slowly. Mrs. Eagle was another absentee—in flesh at least. She, too, should soon be ready to take her seat amongst the rail-birds.

The Scottie boom is not going to pass Saskatoon by. The tide is rising fast. Some mighty good Scotties were seen at our recent shows. Dr. Moyer, of Rosetown sent in his contribution in the way of some fine exhibits. Mr. J. G. Young, also sent along a good one. Now we learn Mr. Wilfred Hoy, of Saskatoon, is importing one. That should make the going a little bit steep.

Alf. Ashby is bringing up a fine pair of Russian Wolfhounds, and heaven help the Coyotes when Alf. turns these loose.

We have been unable to obtain a report on the Regina show, but understand Don Sampson's Peke went to the top of the Toy group under the well-known judge, Mr. Charles Hop-ton.

The Western circuit was especially favored in its judging talent this year. Mr. A. P. Semple "did" Moose Jaw; Mr. Alf. Delmont, Calgary; Mr. Geo. Kynoch, Edmonton, and Chas. Hop-ton, Regina. Each had his instructions to withhold awards from any unworthy specimens, so any points won at these shows are well merited.

The Newfoundland market has been very active recently. Several of the Drumnod dogs have been spending their good money on railway tickets. During the past week one has travelled to Stonewall, Manitoba; one to Brandon, Man., and two to Edmonton, Alta.

Mr. Albert Burgess, Winnipeg Collie fancier, recently paid a visit to the Elmhill Collies. Speaking of the Elmhill reminds us that Elmhill Rastus, now owned by Mr. Dave Latta, of Edmonton, went to Winners Dog and Best of Breed in that town. Elmhill Molly was Winners Bitch, and completed her Championship at this show.

When the Corn-Huskers' excursion arrived in Saskatoon from Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Edminson stepped off for a short visit. Mrs. Edminson is known far and wide as an expert handler, and was very interested in Saskatoon's dogs. Unfortunately, the stay of these good people was very short, as they continued on their journey to the Pacific Coast. Come again, folks.

The writer had the very great pleasure of visiting the show put on by the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, on July 15-16-17. This show came as near the standard requirements as any we have seen. In fact, we considered it a Model Show from every angle. First, from the angle of organization we can say that the Edmonton Club takes second place to no club run by amateurs. Every little detail had been carefully thought out and arranged for, and every assigned duty was given prompt and efficient attention. The pleasure of seeing this well-oiled machine in motion, after seeing some shows run in a haphazard manner, is only second to seeing the high class dogs and their congenial owners. But the success of this show is not to be wondered at when you know the personnel of the Club—officers and members. Harry Nash, as President for many years, is the right man in the right place, and gathered around him are a group of workers that co-operate in such a way that it is a real pleasure to see them in action. Such men as J. G. Young, Secretary, and Arthur Wright and L. E. Wize as Vice-Presidents are a genuine help to any Club. Then we have the Superintendent, Mr. George Kirkwood, and his very helpful wife, who could run a show single-handed. Mr. J. H. Tanton, Provincial Director of C.K.C. for Alberta, is also one of this capable body, and doing his duty to his local Club as well as to the Province at large in a way that makes him a much-loved and valued member and co-worker. There are many others, too, whose names do not come to me at the moment, but who by their faithful work help to make this show one of the best in Canada. But there is one man that I would like especially to mention. This member of the Edmonton Club, battling against ill health, yields the palm to no man when it comes to work. He doesn't make much fuss about it, but if you look, you'll surely find him busy and probably at some task others do not care to tackle. Early and late, and I am told in season and out of season, he is ever busy in the interests of his Club. You'll see him every day burning up his own gasoline and his own strength to make the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club show a real success. I propose a toast to Mr. A. E. Figg, who is as loyal to his Club as any dog is to his master.

With such a Club as this it is to be expected they would choose just such a judge as George Kynock. I would like to say many nice things about George and his judging, but right here my English fails me and I'll have to leave it to your imaginations. But let me say George Kynock did a "real job."

From the social angle the show was a marked success. Not only the banquet put on in the Rose Room of the King Edward Hotel, but in every contact through the three days everyone felt this was a "good will" gath-

A few Particulars of

BENBOW'S DOG MIXTURE

What it's for and what it does. Will be found most Beneficial for Dogs of all Breeds for

1. Producing a SMOOTH and HEALTHY APPEARANCE in their COAT, which often becomes Rough from the effects of Worms and other diseases of the intestines.
2. Getting Dogs into GOOD CONDITION for showing, as it seldom makes any visible alteration in the bowels, but PURIFIES the BLOOD. A dose should be given on alternate mornings for a week or two previous and continued for a day or two after the show.
3. Dogs in TRAINING for the FIELD or TRACK.
4. DISTEMPER. It is safe and effectual, it operates so mildly on the system that it does not distress the Dog; a dose of this mixture should be given as soon as the disease makes the slightest appearance, and continued every day until complete recovery, which seldom fails, if taken in time.
5. DESTROYING WORMS. It should be given for eight or ten times, leave off for three days, then commence again and continue according to circumstances; increase the dose if the desired effect is not obtained, but not to purge too much.
6. Cases of MANGE and ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN. It should always be administered and continued a short time after the disease appears cured.

As a TONIC, a dose once or twice a week will be found very effective. ALWAYS ASK FOR AND SEE YOU GET ering. Good sportsmanship was shown on every side, and the kindly atmosphere that permeated the whole gathering made many say: "We'll be here again next year."

But do not get the idea the competition was not keen. The quality of the dogs was far from poor. The judge, in his silver-tongued oration at the banquet, stated that if these dogs were taken to the big shows their owners would be pleasantly surprised to see them winning consistently at shows to which few of them had ventured.

The awards in the classes will be found in detail in this issue. The judging of the groups attracted many and were extremely interesting. When one's mind runs back over these groups it is easy to understand that Mr. Kynock believes they could win anywhere.

The Toy class was won by the Peke, Whitworth Kiss Kisch, being hard pressed by the Sable Pom, Miss Bunt. The Non-Sporting group saw the Boston puppy, Ti Dee Miss, owned by Mrs. Droppo of Moosejaw placed over the Edmonton Bulldog, Edmonton White Lad. The working group was topped by the writer's imported Newfoundland, Shelton Cabin Boy. The Terrier group brought together the recently imported Scottie, McWilliam of Tayside; the Smooth Fox Terrier, Gamester; the Wire, Mayart Six-Shooter; the Bull Terrier, Limestone Betty; the Airedale, Bromfield's Marvel, and the Irish Terrier, Gillingham Patrick Boy. The Scottie stood out from the rest and won at a canter.

Then came the final scene, and it surely was a thriller. The Scottie, McWilliam of Tayside—a most excellent dog—won greatest honor of the show, but not without being pressed to the last inch by the Newfoundland, Shelton Cabin Boy.

THE PERFECT DOG, AND DOGS

By A. V. Lloyd.

Almost every owner of a dog is firm in his or her belief that their dog is the perfect dog—the ideal dog for the home! And each individual is more or less right so long as their expression of opinion is based on commonsense reasoning! The fact that there are some 76 different breeds is an indication that "opinions sometimes differ"—that it is quite impossible to popularize any one breed of dog, and so satisfy the idiosyncrasies and varying tastes of human nature.

Perfection in a dog is not so much dependent on the dog as it is on the dog's owner. Dogs are far more selective in their dispositions than most people imagine. By some extraordinary intuition, they can determine whether they are in capable hands or otherwise. The choosing of the "right" dog is the first step towards having a "perfect" dog; and the second is in taking the trouble to know and understand his characteristics—how to keep him happy, healthy and fit.

Opinions may differ on many questions, but so far as dog-management is concerned, there are certain fundamental principles which can only be disregarded with ultimate harm to our canine "pals." Few, if any, people are deliberately unkind to their pets and yet, thousands of dogs are rendered "imperfect" by forms of so-called kindness which are ill conceived, and entirely wrong.

For instance, the food and feeding of a dog. The joy with which a dog will "snap up" pieces of bread, cake or anything that may be on the table, is doubtless very pleasing—but it is from that source alone that innumerable intestinal and digestive disorders arise. Dogs should never be fed more than twice daily, morning and evening for preference. Soft, stodgy foodstuffs, and the giving of in-between-time snacks should be rigidly avoided. The evolving of a suitable diet for dogs living in civilized conditions has long since received the consideration of the world's greatest scientists. Unromantic though dog biscuits may seem, they nevertheless provide a dog with the maximum nutriment in a form that is both appetizing, sustaining and almost entirely digestible. It is seldom that the biscuit-fed dog is off color or out of condition. Another form of mistaken kindness is coddling, fussing and spoiling. That is the way in which nasty, ill-tempered animals are made; the method by which many a perfect dog has been ruined. Every dog is the better for plenty of outdoor life and exercise. Never mind the weather. Dogs are naturally hardy creatures, and in the event of their getting wet or muddy, a good rub down with old newspapers is all that is necessary to prevent them catching cold.

Notes From Alberta

By Provincial Contributing Editor, R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.

OWING to the very limited time between the close of the Calgary Show and going to press, we were obliged to hold over a larger review for this issue. We have much pleasure in giving herewith Mr. Delmont's critique of the dogs and we wish that all judges would follow his example. In our opinion the only person who has any right to make such comments is the officiating Judge and that is the reason that any personal criticism on the dogs does not appear in our notes. Mr. Delmont is under a misapprehension in thinking that three point shows are somewhat exceptional in Calgary, in fact it is only a few years since our noted international Judge, Jack Fletcher, drew a five point event in his home town. But for all that, this year's show was a vast improvement on that held last year and was undoubtedly a compliment to Mr. Delmont.

Pekingese—A very nice male took best. "Whitworth Kiss Kisch" owned by the Marvel Kennels, Edmonton. A real good headed dog with a nice compact body, not carrying as much coat as some of the others, but plenty to win. Sound and a good mover.

Pomeranians—A good entry, in nice coat and bloom, small and type showing much quality. I placed the Sable Puppy "Bunt," owned by Mrs. C. Little, Calgary, best, an extra good one with a real foxy head, small ears little black eyes and short back, which moved well, showed to perfection and felt as sound as a dollar.

Pugs were a surprise, about ten coming under me and real good ones too. Short backs, good heads, worthy of any show. Best went to the open dog "Bosley Surprise" owned by Miss A. K. Clarke, Calgary.

Boston Terriers—Quite an ordinary lot, barring the winning bitch. "Ti Dee Miss," owned by Mrs. J. F. Droppo, Moose Jaw, Sask. She has class is nicely marked, with extra good head, bone and front, short body, sound mover really a promising one. She just stood out alone, the rest being of the Bully type and then some?, big and little. Calgary should be a good market for one or two real Bostons which should help the breed.

Mr. Charles W. Twaites' winning and producing Wire.

There is lots of room for improvement.

Bull Dogs—A small entry, quite a nice one ran second, spoilt by a button ear. He is a short compact, hefty boned, low to ground fellow, a real good headed one with lots of wrinkle. The winner "Irish Boy" owned by Mrs. S. Ryan is a sound one at both ends, good head, not so big in rib or as short in back. He has a beautiful ear and eye, lots of bone and turn up. As a Bull Dog I like the second but could not over look his ear.

Airedales—had a few very nice ones shown, but you had to look close to see them. Well made dogs, lots of bone, long heads, good colour, but shown rough. One in particular, a big upstanding youngster in proper hands would hold his own.

Irish Terriers—Two were shown rather rough. Winning dog looked well "Frontier Leader" H. Dargey, owner. Shown well he simply stood out.

Scotties were in much better trim and looked their part. Winners dog; "MacWilliam of Tayside" owned by William Forest, and second "Abertay Trigg" owned by Coln Ritchie, both Calgary dogs are good enough to compete in any fast company. Long heads, small ears, short back and good coats. Bitches were a moderate lot.

Smooth Fox Terriers had about a dozen nice ones. One in particular the winning bitch, "One More Nanette" is a real made one, a quality lady with good head, eye and ears, short back, shown well, perhaps a bath would have improved her.

Wires made quite a showing. My best, or the one I liked the best, I had to give second on account of a little over trimming. Too bad, he was easily the best Wire. My Winner "Arc Light," owned by George Kynoch, had a long head, good coat, lots of bone, wonderful front, just too long in back and full up to size. Rather a nice puppy class, headed by a short backed one "Fairleigh Whoopee", owned by E. S. Munroe, a game shower, perhaps too game, he would bite your hand off. Bitches were not so good as the dogs, still a nicely made bitch "Redcliffe Ginger Cake", also owned by George Kynoch, won. She was not a good shower, needing ring manners but has a long lean head, good coat, extra good front and is a hard coated lady.

"Black and Tan," a very good toy, a hot one which could easily account for top honours round here and a show man. Name "Ripper", owned by Mrs. Galagher.

Shepherds. My largest entry had a few real good ones. Quality very fair and condition good. My winning dog, capturing best, was a very stylish puppy, rich black and light tan, good angulation and easily the best mover. Nice head and eyes, lots of bone, sound shoulder placement, nice rib and hind quarters. Just a wee bit smaller ear would help, though he will improve there and as we say "grow up to them."

This puppy is owned by L. Cunningham and named "Gerri von Bergerlust". To my way of thinking, he simply stood out. Another promising one was my Reserve Winner, a real top one, good mostly everywhere, shown in wonderful coat and condition, at times an indifferent shower but could travel nicely both front and back. A nice entry of bitches throughout, the winning bitch had her work cut out to beat the Reserve, but nosed it out by her wonderful condition and movement and made the grade. Unfortunately the ring was far too small for this breed and perhaps handicapped one or two which were slow to gait. Still everyone had the same chance on the same day, which equalized all.

Only one Doberman Pinscher, on the small side of life, shown well and very fit.

Of the Russian Wolfhounds, a rather good looking puppy, "Cossack Dominique", won. Needs time to build up, but has a good down face and nice body outline.

Crocker Spaniels made a good showing, both as the quality and numbers. Blacks were much better than the reds with better heads, muscles, bone and size. Reds seem to lean to the toyish order. Mr. Climo, who showed the winners seemed to own all the good ones. A good one was picked up by the Winnipeg fancier, George Kynoch, that is bound to be heard of later.

Springer Spaniels had a few real good ones shown in splendid condition. George Kynoch captured both winners, though it was a near thing between the winning dog and the Reserve winners. The Winner scoring in movement. Two or three good puppies were shown.

Collies had about a dozen. I put up a very nice blue merle dog for best, "Rosebrae Rising Sun", owned by Vic Williams, Lethbridge, long head, clean cheeks, small well carried ears, dark eye, nice front, good body and coat. A real good sable bitch, "Brookland Belle", owned by E. Brierley, also of Lethbridge, won. Beautiful head, eye and ears, lots of coat, good bone and front, but she would show only once in a while. I gave her every chance but finally gave it to the merle for best.

Last but not least, was a real good Greyhound bitch, shown in the pink of condition, "Freedom's Maid", owned by Mrs. McNaire Calgary. White and black markings, hard as nails, best legs, feet and front one could ever hope to see. Long neck that just fitted into a pair of wonderful shoulders, body perfect, loins and hindquarters along with set on of tail and turn of hocks, as good as they could possibly be, and a show lady to the manner born. I made her easily my Best in Show, all breeds, and she rightfully won, midst the applause of every exhibitor, as well as lookers on. Everything went off in a satisfactory manner and the Officers deserve great credit for a successful Show. Mr. Climo, the Secretary, and the President, Fred Curry, were ever on the job to make my visit a most pleasant one."

Racing men are still optimistic and Alberta breeders are doing their bit to be prepared when the game gets going in Canada. James Lowther, of East Coulee, is sending his Greyhound matron on a visit to the States to the Imp. dog, "Wolfs Crag", a brother to "White Collar", the Waterloo Cup winner.

In Whippets, J. E. Hunter's Champion, "Victory Flying Mistress", is nursing four beautiful puppies by Ch. "Tafy's Pride," three males and one female. We had an opportunity of looking them over during our visit to the show and they look like real fliers.

In Russian Wolfhounds "Cossack Zenoza", the runner up for the Canadian track record, has just weaned five females and two male puppies by Ch. "Cossack Michael." One of these has been purchased by E. Kennedy, of Calgary.

Our picture this month is of "Kempthurst Craftsman," imported by Chas. W. Twaites, of Medicine Hat. He is sired by Ch. "Barry Benedict", Dam, "Kempthurst Cadeau." He took the Cup for best dog or bitch in show at Medicine Hat. Before coming to Canada he had taken two-thirds at the Crystal Palace under Theo. Offerman and was favourably commented on as a Terrier of correct size and type by J. F. Hitchens, the Fox Terrier expert.

The "Stockade Kennels", Edmonton, report the sale of their German shepherd brood bitch, "Queen Romney", C.K.C. 49327 to A. Higham Jr. of that city. Great things are expected of her as she was mated to Ch. "Armour von Vogel" prior to delivery. Queen is a producer of rare quality, her last litter by U.S. Ch. "Cito von Mundstorf" Sch H., have already won their spurs taking first Novice, first Canadian-bred, first Open Winners and Best of Breed at Edmonton, where George Kynoch found his Best in Show in the Imp. Scottish Terrier, "McWilliam of Tayside", owned by William Forest, Calgary.

Following are the Winners of the Group Classes: Pekingese, "Whitworth Kiss Kisch." Toy Section, Non-Sporting, The Boston, "Ti Dee Miss". Sporting English Springer, "Ch. Vale". Terrier Group, Scottish Terrier, "McWilliam of Tayside." Working dogs, the Newfoundland, "Shelton Cabin Boy", who was left to fight it out with the Scottie for Best in Show; further report must follow in my next notes.

On account of being recalled to his regiment, Major A. J. Stewart was unable to officiate at the Alberta Fox Terrier Specialty Show on the 2nd inst., but his post was very ably taken by "Bobby" Thompson, who kindly stepped into the breach.

MAKING THE MOST OF A DOG

By A. V. Lloyd.

Perhaps the most uncomfortable days of a dog's life are those when he first comes into the possession of a human being. He is fussed and petted, picked up and admired, stuffed with a variety of toothsome—but nevertheless harmful foodstuffs, and seldom left in peace for longer than a few minutes! It is just as well that dog-worship of this kind is a passing phase . . . better still if never started. A dog, like most other things, has to be understood if the best of him is to be forthcoming. It is quite impossible to make the most of our canine pals without an elementary knowledge of their requirements.

So many foolish things are done in the belief that one is being kind and considerate, that a few hints on the care of a dog in the home will not be out of place.

Firstly, choose the "right" dog. Big dogs, such as Wolfhounds and St. Bernards are most unsuited for life in a small house or flat. The same comment applies to sporting dogs. How can any animal do himself justice, be happy and contented when confined to surroundings altogether foreign to its inherent instincts! The Terrier and Toy breeds, among others, provide dogs of the right size and temperament for domesticity. Having made a wise choice, be equally discreet in being kind. At lunch or tea time, for instance, it is unkind to give tit-bits to your dog. Cake, bread, in fact anything soft and stodgy is the worst thing possible for him. Two regular feeds a day should never be exceeded, and they must have as their basis, dog or puppy biscuits in one form or another. Breakfast can consist of "dry" biscuit—good for jaws, teeth, digestion and nourishment. At mid-day, hound meal or terrier meal should be thoroughly soaked in hot gravy, or mixed with dinner table scraps . . . pieces of lean meat, green vegetables, etc.

Plenty of clean, fresh drinking water should always be available.

It is not kind to allow dogs to sleep on chairs and beds. Their place is on the floor, or in a kennel, basket or box. In any case, arrange for a dog to have its own resting place, and let it be clean, dry and roomy and away from draughts.

The daily use of stiff brush and comb is as necessary to a dog's well-being as sound feeding. Neglect in this direction is too often the direct cause of skin trouble.

HOUNDS AND HUNTING

Desk K.B.

DECATUR, ILL.

Take your dog out in all weathers. Nature has equipped him with adequate covering—there is no need to worry about him catching cold. If he returns home wet and muddy, give him a good rub down before allowing him to "snooze" in front of the fire. Dogs are liable to most of the ailments of mankind. It is unkind to doctor him yourself unless you know what is the matter. Avoid patent medicines unless recommended by a Veterinary Surgeon. A visit may cost a few shillings, but if you value your "pal", deal with him in sickness and health as you yourself would be treated.

OUR VISITOR'S DAY

Since our last issue we have been favored by visits from Phyllis Robson of "The Dog World" (England), who has just completed a nice holiday around New York and will be in Toronto for the Canadian Exhibition dog show. Before returning to England it is hoped that Mrs. Robson may be able to speak over the air to Canadian fanciers through a Montreal station. On September 6th, Mrs. Robson sails from Montreal and it will be interesting for our readers to have this distinguished visitor's impressions of her visit to Canada, and we hope offer the same in an early issue.

Gekko Y. Hayashi, a Japanese lover of dogs and resident in Vancouver, dropped in the other day and we could not fail to notice the enthusiasm for dogdom so plentifully abundant in Mr. Kayashi. Mr. Kayashi represents the Mutual Life Assurance Co., of Canada and from records we were privileged to see he is admittedly one of that company's best "go-getters."

We showed our visitor an application for membership in the Canadian Kennel Club that had come in from another Japanese fancier, and it was quite interesting to hear Mr. Hayashi tell in his sibilant tongue of the great demand for certain brands of dogs by his fellow countrymen.

The British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor, A. H. DODDS, Victoria.

THE Nanaimo Kennel Club staged their fifteenth annual show on the 9th inst, in the School Gymnasium, which was an ideal building for the event. Unfortunately the St. John's Hall, where the show was to originally be staged, was burnt to the ground a few days previous to the show, which meant quick action on the part of the committee to secure a suitable building. However, the building as stated above was secured at the last moment and by sheer dint of hard work, was ready for the exhibits on the morning of the show, with benching erected, numbers up and straw in all benches and the president and committee on hand to greet exhibitors and help in any way possible to make the show pleasant and comfortable for all.

Bill Grieves, the congenial superintendent was on the job continually and kept everything working in proper order. Jack Eastham acted as ring steward in a very capable manner and on which he was complimented by Judge Hopton. Bill Willgress and Jack Cottle, both great workers for the club, were busy all the time as outside stewards. Miss Hickling, the secretary, who endears herself to everyone, is worth her weight in gold to the club, was as usual on the job all the time and always wearing a smile, had everything in apple pie order. Pa Hickling and also Percy were very busy men around the ring helping in any manner possible.

The club and those mentioned above are to be heartily congratulated on the very nice show they put on and the manner in which it was run in general and it is to be regretted that this show was not patronized better.

C. C. Hopton of New York judged all breeds, and it was anticipated that this fixture would be a "three-point," and would have been, had the usual support from the mainland and the U.S.A. been given. However, it turned out to be a good two-point."

The Toy Group had a representation of twenty, composed principally of Poms, Pekes and Pugs. The best was found in Miss Hickling's "Lindum Gem," a sweet, little home-bred Pom.

Non-Sporting group brought out an entry of eighteen, with Mrs. Margaret Drew's Bulldog, Ch. "Famous Lady Beauty," going best. It was pleasing to see this fine bitch go so high, as without a doubt she is a worthy specimen of the breed.

The Working Group mustered an entry of fifteen, and the best of this went to Shadowbrook Farm, with "Erick von Zuchtgut of Picardy," the beautiful black and tan Shepherd dog recently imported from Germany. Competition in this group was very keen, as all entries were "top notchers." The Terrier Group consisted of thirty-nine entries, with Ch. "Beckside Bonus," that great little Wire-haired Terrier owned by George Tyson of Vancouver, going best.

The Sporting Group took premier honors in entries with seventy-two, with Ch. "Goldstream Ambassador," the dapper little Cocker Spaniel, owned by "Tommy" Murray, being placed on top.

The judging of the Sporting Group was very severely criticized by the "ringside" and many of the exhibitors, and especially the awards in the English Setter classes. Criticism such as was levied against the placings of this particular breed was not unwarranted, as Vancouver Island is the home of the English Setter, and many of those who could not follow the placings are men who have spent a life time raising and training these dogs.

The fanciers of the Terrier were greatly pleased when Ch. "Beckside Bonus" was awarded Best of All Breeds in the show, with Mrs. Margaret Drew's Ch. "Famous Lady Beauty" next best. "Tommy" Murray's Ch. "Goldstream Ambassador" carried away Best Canadian-bred.

Airedale fanciers will welcome the news that Mrs. C. S. Sweeney is importing a bitch, "Penelope of Handforth." This bitch is being shipped by that great breeder, Mrs. G. Nowell of Handforth, Cheshire, who describes her as the "correct article." It is understood that this young bitch has done considerable winning at the larger shows in England. This good sporting lady owns the imported dog, Ch. "Master Simon," and doubtless has in mind the reviving of the "king of all terriers" in B.C., and once again bringing this once popular Terrier to the fore.

Scottish Terriers are growing in popularity by leaps and bounds in B.C., and almost every day one hears of new importations, the latest being two beautiful bitches shipped by that master breeder, E. G. Cowley, of "Albourne" fame, to the Shadowbrook Farm at Chemainus, Vancouver Island, B.C. The bitches were both bred to "Albourne Blackbird" and "Albourne Brigand" respectively. With the addition of these valuable blood lines to those we already possess on Vancouver Island, there is no doubt that in the near future we shall have something very startling to offer the world in the way of Scottish Terriers. Shadowbrook Farm also owns the imported bitch, "Heather Essy," imported from the famous "Heather Kennels," owned by Robert Chapman of Glenboig. This bitch is now nursing a nice litter of five puppies—two dogs and three bitches—sired by the imported "Abertay Trigg," claiming as their grandsires Ch. "Merelewood Aristocrat" and Ch. "Albourne Scott."

A very serious loss to this breed was the bitch imported by Stanley Dorrell of Vancouver, B.C., who arrived in whelp to "Gaisgill Simon," was is the son of Ch. "Albourne Arthur." This good little bitch died whelping a litter of five—three dogs and two bitches. Fortunately a foster mother was secured, and the puppies are all alive and doing well and very promising.

Stanley being one of the oldest fanciers of the Terrier in B.C., has in latter years been somewhat inactive in so far as breeding is concerned, yet never losing interest and keeping right up to the minute with the game. It is pleasing to note that he is reviving the "Swansea" prefix and ere long we hope to see him at the opposite end of the lead to a real good "Scottie."

Jack Cottle of Nanaimo, B.C., the well-known breeder of the famous "Northfield" Irish Setters, reports the arrival of a litter of eleven puppies. The mother of these puppies is "Rosy of Glenora"—whose sire is Ch. "Ronald of Boyne"—a bitch brought out by Jack from Alberta. The sire is "Northfield Irish Boy," who carries the double blood lines of the imported Ch. "Golden Rufus," who is strong in the "Boyne" blood. Jack is great on line breeding, and the result of his experiments and study are bringing the "Northfield" dogs to practically a state of perfection.

The Victoria City Kennel Club staged their annual out-door Parlor Show on the 2nd inst., in the beautiful grounds at the home of the president, Major H. W. Niven. The large green lawn, surrounded by shrubs and flowers and stately oak trees, makes an ideal setting for such an event. Ample seating accommodation was provided for the patrons in the shade of the oaks, where all had an excellent view of the judging ring and exhibits. Mrs. Niven acted as hostess and very kindly provided refreshments.

George Pearson of Vancouver, B.C., of international fame, very kindly came over and passed on the fifty-five dogs entered in record time and in his well-known impartial manner. To be favoured with the services of such a celebrity at a Parlor Show is not an everyday event, and on this occasion this canine expert judged the show "gratis."

Doubtless the Terrier fanciers of B.C. are beginning to realize that we still have some good ones, in view of the fact that at Nanaimo a Wire was awarded the premier honors, and at Vancouver a Smooth carried off similar honors. It is many years since a Terrier has been placed so high at our shows.

A pathetic episode of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, depicted in the remarkable motion and sound pictures now being shown in this city, involves one of the "huskies," Spy. The dog had to be shot, after a laborious and painful effort to keep pace with his mates, because of illness, lameness and the impracticability of carrying him along or sending him back to the base.—Countesy Buffalo Evening News.

Somewhere 'mid the bleak Antarctic waste,
'Neath the chill and dreary polar skies,
Mocked by win'try blasts so bravely faced,
Cold and still your mortal body lies;
Seals and penguins guard your lonely grave,
Far from human gaze and friendly care,
Honored sepulture for one who gave Loyal, faithful, honest service there.

Patient, kind and true, you did your best,
Filled your niche and bore an ample share,
Day by day, in irksome, awesome test
Greater than your weakened frame could bear,
Till your willing feet could "mush" no more,
Till your dauntless spirit sought release,
And, your duty done, your journey o'er,
Gentle hands in sorrow brought you peace.

Though your form be held by snow and ice,
Let the dogs' Valhalla claim your soul,
In which distant canine Paradise
You have reached a fair and well-earned goal,
Where, with Balto and his gallant pack,
You may now with boundless vision scan
Regions, long unreached by beaten track,
Opened, with your priceless aid to man.

Who are we, poor fools in human guise,
Cruel, sordid, greedy, crafty, vain,
That we should not laud and highly prize
Your unstinted gift, in health or pain—

Unrewarded, but no less of worth—
Such as neither gold nor fame could buy,

To the grateful nations of the earth;
Eagerness to labor, suffer, die?

Noble Spy, your sacrifice is made;
Let your "marker" be the Southern Cross;
Rest requites you for the price you paid,
While we shirking upstarts mourn our loss;
Flags half-mast, we tender fond salute
Due each hero who to death has gone,
Banner reading—be he man or brute—
"Work and serve, be game and carry on!"

WILLIS R. PERRY.

A GOOD IDEA—FIND THE DOG.

Mac dashed into the police station at midnight, explaining that his wife had been missing since eight o'clock that morning, and asking that search be made for her.

"Her discription," said the sergeant. "Height?"

"I—I don't know!"

"Weight?"

The husband shook his head vaguely.

"Color of eyes?"

"Er—average, I expect."

"Do you know how she was dressed?"

"I expect she wore her coat and hat. She took the dog with her."

"What kind of dog?"

"That'll do!" gasped the sergeant. "We'll find the dog!"

THE OTTAWA SHOWS

ROBERT A. ROSS, Montreal, was the chosen adjudicator to set the ball a-rolling in the Capital for the 1930 dog show features held in conjunction with the Central Canada Exhibition, and as might be expected, "Bob" was no disappointment to his employers or to the exhibitors. His task on this occasion was quite light and as a consequence the show was easily run on schedule and in comfort.

Commendable to a degree was the judge's decision on the first night of the show, when he called a halt on the judging when the fireworks started in front of the grandstand, with the accompanying disturbance in the dog show building, and this action on the part of Mr. Ross was often and favorably commented upon. We mention the circumstance advisedly in the hope that the same precaution may be taken at shows where fireworks are a feature, for it cannot be denied, that the fireworks upset most dogs, and it is not at all fair to the dogs, exhibitors or the judge for the work in the ring to go on at such a time.

It is true that Mr. Ross loves to see a good dog giving a good account of himself before the adjudicator, and when opportunities for exceptional movement or posing in the ring present themselves, he seldom rushes the feature out of the picture, and as a result, the unkind and unjust comment of "playing to the gallery" is heard at the ringside from fanciers who should know much better, and we would remind such commentators who attend the Ottawa shows, that Mr. Ross got to the same point in his judging, on the first day, as did Percy Roberts on his first day, and yet the same gallery dubbed Mr. Roberts as being the fastest judge ever seen in Ottawa.

When Mr. Ross had judged the dogs entered for the Ottawa Kennel Club Show, the exhibitors left the building wondering what the fates had in store for them on the morrow.

Thursday and Friday were the dates of the Central Canada Exhibition dog show, and the well known Percy Roberts, of Norton Heights, Conn., graced the "woolsack." It was Mr. Robert's first appearance in the Dominion in the judicial capacity. His fame as a successful handler being well known, his ability to judge efficiently was awaited with expectancy.

From his first class, it was seen that he had a wide knowledge of ring department, a first rate ring appearance and a willing desire to place the dogs himself. So that the best they had to offer was easily brought out and this was exceptional value to novice handlers, and to other who do not consider themselves as novices, and what a difference the judge's personal touch made to many many dogs. The touch was the touch of a master.

Cockers presented the first and real opportunity for Mr. Roberts to show his wares, and right smartly he set to work. And dogs with winning records and press reports in their favor, but shy on bone or ?—?, or strong in height and length, found their proper level as the judge found their respective winning stations. From this point the gallery settled down, quite confident that Mr. Roberts had brought competence into the ring with him.

If our readers will compare the award columns, it will be forcibly noticeable, that the judges of both shows agreed in most of the placings. In the few instances where they did not agree, no doubt both had their reasons for the differences, in any case, judges leave that margin of uncertainty that keep the fanciers eager to make their entries as the shows come along.

Possibly few men of Mr. Roberts' years have enjoyed the limelight of the show ring in the same generous measure that he has. As for instance, the Airedale Ch. Warland Strategy, who was best Airedale at Madison Gardens, and 12 times Best of All Breeds. Ch. Deykin Surprise Winners Wire Fox Terrier at the Garden, and 8 times Best of All Breeds, Ch. Wyche Wondrous Wire Fox Terrier 25 times Best in Show All Breeds, Ch. Scotia Swell, the Sealyham Terrier Best All Breeds 8 times, twice Best Sealyham at the Garden, Ch. Scotia Pures, Best Sealy at the Garden. The wonder dog Ch. Pinegrade Perfection, 15 times Best All Breeds including Best at the Sesqui Centennial to come back almost immediately to take this same high honors at the Garden. Ch. Del Discriminate, another Sealyham, shown but 6 times and was awarded the Best of All Breeds as many times. The great Airedales Ch. Flornell Mixer, Ch. Fennies Pride, Ch. Flornell June, Ch. Flornell Masterpiece, Ch. Flornell Charm, Ch. Warbuck Eclipse, Ch. Flornell Tavern Maid. Another Wire Fox Terrier, Ch. Signal Circuit with the record of 6 Best of All Breeds at the largest shows in the United States two of which were Madison Garden, and the Eastern Dog Club of Boston, these six wins were made in a straight row.

Win or lose, the Smiling Roberts leaves his ring unperturbed always. A pupil of the world's favorite dog judge J. J. Holgate, of Doncaster, England, Mr. Roberts is without question one of America's foremost and most finished dog fanciers. His visit to Ottawa was greatly appreciated by the exhibitors and much enjoyed by himself.

SCOTTIES IN DEMAND.

Mrs. Batt of the Haldon Kennels, at Guelph, advises us that her winning Scotties, Cairngorum and Admiral, have been sold to a New York purchaser since the "Shriners'" show and that dogs from the Haldon Kennels are greatly in demand.

Cables from England tell of Dr.
Batt visiting the shows and the kennels over there at present, and perhaps we will be looking at some new Scotties sporting the Haldon colors at Canadian shows before very long.

Congratulations were the order of the day at Ottawa, when Mrs. Batt's trim little Scottie, Walnut Baroness
(Imp.), was placed Best Dog in Show
All Breed by the terrier expert, Percy Roberts, the officiating judge, and it was pleasing to note that the congratulations were general and heartily given, and possibly the occasion marked the happiest moment of Mrs.
Batt's career at our dog shows.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Montreal, Que.,

August 21st, 1930.

Editor Kennel & Bench:

I wish to complain through the columns of Kennel & Bench of the actions of some of our older Dog Fanciers here in Montreal who are forever knocking the German Shepherd dog at every show. Some of these gentlemen take a great fancy in saying something mean about this very intelligent breed. I think it unfair and unsportsmanlike for such actions on the part of men who should know better. As one of the few breeders of this breed, I would ask those fanciers not to be narrow and if they have no use for the Shepherd dog they should keep quiet at the ringside when others are listening.
There is room enough for all breeds in this great city and lots of people like a big dog as well as others like a smaller one. So be fair, fanciers, and see if we cannot work together and not knock. Yours, F. J. Rowe.

BRITISH COLUMBIA SHOWS

The season at the Coast has been obliged to pass without the New Westminster Exhibition dog show. It will be recalled that a disastrous fire took toll there a year ago, and 1930 found the Exhibition just partly ready, and so we were denied one of the good B.C. shows as a result.

The judges slated to officiate were Dr. Frank P. Miller, Chas. E. Moore, D. C. Kok and Frank Foster Davis, all well known and acceptable judges. However, the first two named were unable to keep their appointments, and so the duties fell on the able shoulders of Mr. Davis, our Canadian Kennel Club director making the announcement as he officially opened the show, and the inevitable was accepted in good grace, the judging started, and everything went off perfectly satisfactory.

CHAMPION TI DEE MISS
(C.K.C.S.B. 86511)

"Handsome is as handsome does"—Ti Dee Miss was bred right in Jack Droppo's Kennels at Moose Jaw, Sask., with Mrs. Droppo named as the actual breeder. This smart youngster, who by the way, is still a puppy, is a daughter of Ch. Winchester Aviator ex Ch. Trapystock Madame Tassauds. Born October 25th, 1929, and of course, as the illustration shows, the charming little lady is a dark brindle with perfect white markings.

The show record started at Moose Jaw and extended to Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, and finishing at Regina. 10 first prizes and 5 times Winners, a truly wonderful accomplishment for a Boston Terrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Droppo take their dog show sport seriously and are to be congratulated on breeding Ti Dee Miss, a worthy champion in any man's town.

Notes from the Maritimes

By Provincial Contributing Editor, M. B. ZWICKER, Halifax, N.S.

TO Harry Richardson, Saint John, N.B., goes the credit and honor of owning the first pair of Maritime Whippets. He started right with Canadian bred dogs, also went to a good kennel. . . . "Victory" by fame and name. His dog a nice marked brindle of lovely shape and form is sired by the noted Ch. Victor Epinard, the sire of many good ones. Mr. Richardson's bitch is an attractive fawn by Ch. Sept. Both bred by R. Holliday, Lachine, P.Q.; these are creating a lively interest in the hope that others will take up this sporting breed and form a local Whippet club.

This new fancier is fortunate in having the international authority on this breed judging for the Nova Scotia Kennel Club. Freeman Lloyd's, his name is a household word among these racers and on the track. While Mr. Richardson is absent from home on business his dogs are entered at the Maritime dog shows where they are sure to give a good account of themselves.

"Pat" Keefe, known for good horses and shooting dogs around about Saint John and the New England circuit, has been showing dogs for over forty years, to be exact it was under Geo. Walton in Saint John 1884, that this Boston veterinary judged and the first imported judge to officiate. Mr. Keefe had black and tan terriers and a Yorkshire about that time. Always fond of horses—and good ones. Peter Farren 2.07½, Manrico Belle 2.15, were both money earning pacers. His trotter, Four Feather 2.16, was also an excellent stud and is now training a 3 year old colt for the Maritime tracks. As a breeder and owner of dogs, other than Manchesters and Yorkys, his breeds have been bull terriers, English and Irish setters and points.

Being exceptionally keen on a shooting dog he has sold, traded and gave away to rich and poor. . . . leaving himself poor! His best bet for a gentleman's shooting dog is "Sue" with a local record of over 100 woodcock 'brought in' and accounted for by this well put up black and white heavy weight bitch—and looks like a tireless worker. Several excellent Irish setters are now included in his kennel, soon ready for the field. "Nancy" is the largest red puppy I've seen; reminds one of Howard's Tyrone stock, so popular ten years or so ago. This bitch if masculine is a sound well made true fronted big ribbed, grand bodied Irish whose owner plans to 'break' next month. His brood bitch, "Grace", just up off a promising litter, is a rich colored one with capital front, good body of splendid make and shape. One cannot but notice the splendid condition in flesh and coat of all "Pat's" dogs—probably horse-training experience counts!

Among the terrier fanciers who deplore very much the untimely death of Ch. Watteau Review is the local breeder George W. McAuley, who nevertheless prides himself as being the owner of a two months old litter, nicely marked, out of his smart matron, Florence Grove Judy, (imp.), their sire being the deceased Watteau Review. Robert Orr, who is doing so much for the popular pointer in these provinces, is using field sires as well as bench show stock. The sire of his last litter by Ch. Post Road Jeff II, whose untimely death the day before Morris and Essex show accounted for his absence, was one of a famous litter two others being Ch. Post Road Dover and Ch. Post Road Fritz. The sire of Orr's litter of seven Ch. P. R. Jeff II, is himself sire of Ch. Falescroft Mager. Mr. Orr's bitch, Gaines Dapple Josie, whose pedigree is as long as your arm is not only sired by the noted show winner Ch. Dapple Joe, but has a champion lineage on the dam's side with Ch. Miss Zigs Mopsie, Ch. Miss Mopsie and Ch. Mopsie all in direct line. Mr. Orr has young stock now by other American pointer sires whose bench and field records plus their good looks and get demanded generous stud fees. With a few exceptions, local dog men have failed to go beyond their own circle for new pointer blood until recently. Now with some of the best English and American field and bench stock strains here pointers in Saint John must soon make a niche for themselves.

Our most consistent toy breeder, Mrs. P. A. Margeson, of Cedarcrest, Kentville, N.S., reports a real busy summer with practically all saleable stock sold, purchased by mostly new fanciers and some by American breeders. A new purchase for Cedarcrest as a future show or stud dog is "Sundah's Master", a flat faced fawn with black mask although a puppy has every promise for a heavy coated Peke. His sire is Int. Ch. Sundah of Chinatown ex Mistress of Shantung. The latter by Masterpiece of Shantung, is himself, by Bulah of Chantung who sired the New York winner the Champion Fu Chow Paladin. Mrs. Margeson's Pekes have a continued American demand, quite a few tourists go out of their way to see this popular breed. Mrs. Petrie, Brewer, Me., purchased two, one out of her Fi Fi of Tien His by Pagon Prince of Cedarcrest; a sleeve mate to Mrs. Newman, Moncton, N.B., by Pagan Prince—ex Tama Lee of Cedarcrest. Another bred the same way of a former litter goes to a Mr. Newton, Green R.I., a former purchaser. Another to Mrs. McGrath, Cambridge, Mass., a brood bitch by the same sire ex Princess Chin; also one booked for Cincinnati, Ohio, and demand for more. These with a number of foxes and summer visitors keep Cedarcrest busy as the proverbial bee. A letter reaches me from Wallace M. Sheehan asking about Maritime dogs and the shows. Mr. Sheehan, some will recall, annually visited us from Dalhousie, N.B., attended the Saint John show with bloodhounds, airedales, fox terriers and pekingeses. The last ten years or so having been spent in Western Canada, he is now back in New Brunswick and looks forward to renewing our acquaintance in Saint John or the Halifax dog shows.

DOGDOM IN THE CANADIAN WEST

(Special to Kennel & Bench, by Director George Kynoch, Winnipeg.)

AFTER spending a very pleasant hour with "Charlie" Hopton, who was passing through Winnipeg on his way home to New York, the thought has just occurred to me that the readers of Kennel and Bench might like to hear what I think of the "dog game" in Western Canada as it is today. The dog business, like all other businesses in the West, is suffering to some great extent from the general business depression that exists more or less all over the world, and consequently the dog business at the present time is not in a flourishing condition, but it is encouraging that as far as the West is concerned, conditions appear to be more normal than they have been for some time.

My first trip across the West this year was to Victoria, where I had been engaged to judge the Victoria City Kennel Club Show, in company with George A. Cranfield. On my arrival at Vancouver, I was met by one of our B.C. Directors, Bill Pym, and after having lunch, drove over to see the New Westminster Show, where the reliable George Steadman Thomas was at work placing the dogs as he saw them. I was quite surprised at the fine quality of dogs entered, and whilst I could follow Mr. Thomas in most of his placings, I certainly could not agree with him when he placed "Ch. McConnell's Nori" best in show, all breeds. This was the first time I had had the pleasure of seeing this much-talked of English Setter, and at this time I feel it my duty to voice my opinion. I must admit quite frankly that I was very disappointed in this dog and feel that he has been very much over-rated, both by writers and the press. It was heart-breaking to see him go over such a sound and pleasing specimen as George Gough's "Groeswen Rock." However, it's a difference of opinion that makes dog shows and every judge is entitled to his own opinion. After the New Westminster Show I left at once for Victoria and was met by my old friends, Major and Mrs. Reynolds (late of Winnipeg), who entertained me royally until show time. I was pleased to see the Major and his wife comfortably settled in their new home and feel that the Coast has another real fancier that Winnipeg once had, and I wish them both all the luck in the world in their hobby of raising and bettering the breed of the Springer Spaniel on the Pacific Coast. It was very gratifying to Mr. Cranfield and myself to learn that a four-point show greeted us, and the officials and exhibitors are to be congratulated on their splendid entry of dogs worthy of showing. For our Best in Show dog, we picked George Gough's ideal English Setter dog, "Ch. Groeswen Rock," the most typical and outstanding dog of the day. This dog is one of the soundest setters I have seen for a long time, and can hold his own amongst the best of them in New York or any place else. Best Working Dog went to the Shepherd bitch, "Katja von Blaisenbergl," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Heckert, Jr. This bitch is one of the best Shepherds out today, a little weak in pastern, but otherwise a real one. Best Terrier went to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson's Kerry Blue, "Ch. Lenister Leader," who is one of the best Kerrys I have ever set my eyes on. Best Non Sporting went to the Daschund, "Ch. Kensal Call Boy," a nice specimen, but a little thin on the day. Best Toy was Mr. and Mrs. Fraser's Pomeranian, "Fraserwood's Little May," a nice puppy, but lacking coat. Best Canadian-bred in Show went to Mrs. T. Sharke's Wire bitch, "Keythorpe Pansy," a little on the small side, but otherwise a nice one. After the show was over I felt at leisure to see some of my old friends and I was made very welcome at the beautiful home of Major and Mrs. H. W. Niven, where I saw the most beautiful Dahlia garden imaginable. This ardent sportsman and his charming wife are just the same as ever and still very much interested in their favorite breed, Whippets. I was glad to see "Ch. Taffy's Pride" and "Ch. Raf" looking like youngsters. After lunch I was the guest of Alex McCloy, a British Columbia Director, who entertained me to perfection; showed me some good dogs and did everything that was possible for me. On the evening boat I left for Vancouver, intending to go right home, but as the Vancouver Kennel Club was holding their show the latter part of the week, I decided to stay over, and I was pleased I did so, as my visit was one worth while—thanks to all my good friends. I am deeply grateful to that enthusiastic Wire Haired fancier, George Lydiatt, and his son, Walter, who practically drove me all over the Province of British Columbia.

Vancouver should be proud to have in their wonderful city two such renowned Wire Fox Terrier breeders as

Mr. Lydiatt and Mr. Tyson. These two gentlemen have two of the best kennel buildings I have ever seen and their stock of Wires is commendable. They have Wires in their backyard that, when stripped and put in condition, can win on any circuit in America. These two fanciers spare no expense to gain their objective to breed a good one. I was again pleased to meet Tom Murray and his wife and to see "Ch. Lady Betty" and "Ch. Goldstream Ambassador" looking so fit.

At the Vancouver Kennel Club Show for the first time I had the pleasure of seeing a lady filling the roll of an all-rounder—Mrs. H. P. Rosemount, and whilst some of her placings did not suit the public, I thought, after following her very closely, that she made an excellent job.

My next show was Calgary, where Alf. Delmont gave a true exhibition of how to judge, and he is to be congratulated on his placings. He rightly placed Mrs. Jack McNair's Greyhound bitch, "Ch. Freedom's Maid," Best in Show. I was very sorry to see Charlie Thwaites lose control of himself when Delmont put his imported Wire, "Kenphurst Craftsman" reserve winners. However, I hope that he is now satisfied since John Burton placed him the same at Saskatoon, as Delmont did at Calgary, and then again it was not pleasing to read the Alberta correspondent's criticism of Mr. Delmont's placings in Shepherd dogs in the open class. I think it would be advisable for this gentleman to learn something about the breed before he starts to criticise such an expert as Delmont, because the records will now prove that Delmont was right, as Hopton placed the same dog third again at Regina.

After the show was over I was the guest of Calder Duncan (a brother of Trapystok Duncan) who drove me to see the oil wells burning at night. I have never seen such a sight before. From Calgary I drove to Edmonton with my good friend Arthur Wright, some 230 miles, and being a keen hunter, was naturally very much interested in the vast flocks of Hungarian partridge that we saw enroute.

On entering the dog show building at Edmonton I was greeted by many old friends, and it was indeed gratifying to learn of such a splendid entry—a three pointer. I must certainly congratulate Jack Young, the energetic Secretary of the Edmonton Club, for the very efficient manner in which he handled the show, as it was one of the best-conducted shows I have ever seen. The Nash-Young combination is a hard one to beat, and when they make a rule they stick to it. The dogs that came before me were of excellent quality. For my Best in Show I picked Wm. Forrest's imported Scottie dog, "MacWilliam of Tay-side," a real typical one, in good shape and showing to great advantage and quite the best on the day. Best Canadian-bred, Best Boston, Best Opposite Sex and Best Non-Sporting was Jack Droppo's beautiful little Boston bitch, "Ti Dee Miss," handled to perfection by the owner's charming wife. This little home-bred is outstanding in quality, a wonderful shower and Mr. Droppo is to be highly congratulated on breeding such a magnificent little animal. Keep up the good work, Jack. Best Sporting dog went to L. E. Wize's good all-round Springer bitch, "Ch. Vale of Burnside," one of the best Springer bitches I have seen since "Int. Ch. Marvel of Avondale" was leaving them all in the rear, and it is regretted she was not in a better condition on the day, otherwise she would have gone a great deal higher. Best Working dog went to Monty Wallace's, of Saskatoon, "Ch. Shelton Cabin Boy," one of the best Newfoundlanders out to-day. I have heard some critics pass the remark that this dog has a face like a St. Bernard, and I now wish to correct this impression as I examined this dog very thoroughly and found him ideal in type, quality and head, and for a big dog, is exceptionally sound. He is far superior to Mr. Wallace's old dog, "Ch. Knight of Drumnod." Best Toy was Mrs. Budd's Pomeranian, "Whitworth Kiss Kisch," a real nice Pom, but looking thin on the day.

After the Edmonton Show I went straight home, picked up some dogs and beat it for Saskatoon. On arriving there was very disappointed to see such a poor entry greet the reliable John Burton, of Chicago. With only 97 dogs entered it was not at all encouraging to the judge or the exhibitors, especially those exhibitors who paid express and train fares for just a one-point show. I can safely say that my Winnipeg customers were not all satisfied when they learned of the small show. Saskatoon officials should commence now to make preparations for 1931. Instead of being in a dog show building, it was more like the "bull pen" at a stampede. At this show Mr. Droppo's Boston bitch, "Ti De Miss," carried away the Best in Show ribbon and quite rightly so. I then moved on to Regina for the next show and the old town did not seem the same without my old pal, the late Harry Selby, meeting me at the station. However, I was pleased to see his family comfortably settled down and I am sure Harry Jr. will carry on where dear old Harry left off. He has already made a good start and in a few years will be right up amongst the West's best handlers. On the morning of the show I was indeed pleased to meet my good old friend, Charlie Hopton, looking the same as ever and ready to do his stuff. A fine entry of dogs greeted him and I will now tell all the readers of this article that, in my opinion, he made an excellent job of his placings, and he is to be highly commended for the painstaking way he went over all the dogs.

After the show we were the guests of the Saskatchewan Director, Archie Semple, the occasion being his annual birthday party, and we all had a most enjoyable evening. The only missing link was the "Trapstok artist" who failed to put in an appearance.

It was very pleasing indeed for me to have the companionship all over the Western Circuit of Mr. Alex T. Macintosh, that enthusiastic Shepherd breeder from Selkirk, Manitoba, and I must say that I think "Mac" thoroughly enjoyed himself, especially when one of his own breeding went Best in Show at Regina.

This week I have had many outside "dog" people dropping in on their way through Winnipeg. Some of them were Dave Ritchie, chief of police, Calgary, who did not want to execute a warrant, but just to see the dogs; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Edmiston, from across the line, who are spending a holiday up in Canada.

Sales in Winnipeg have not been very brisk of late, chiefly due, I think, to the conditions across the line, but I am glad to be able to inform my readers that our local breeders are not in any way down-hearted and are still plugging away to breed a good one.

My next hop will be off to the one and only Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, where I am billed to judge a large number of the breeds, and I hope to see a record entry.

WELL-KNOWN FANCIER DEAD.

It will come as something of a shock to Bulldog fanciers to learn of the death of "Jimmie" Marsden, for many years the respected and trusted treasurer of the Bulldog Breeders' Association of Canada. The late Mr. Marsden had been a member of the Canadian Kennel Club since 1916, and there never was a time when he was not keenly interested in everything that pertained to dogdom generally, and particularly anything concerning the "national breed," of which he was a great admirer. He was one of the members of the Election Commission of the Canadian Kennel Club, and no more trustworthy man may ever be found to fill the place made vacant by his death. He was the soul of honor and it may well be said of him now, that "his life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world 'This was a man.'"

The end was sudden, and quite unexpected, and we believe his death has been attributed to a hemorrhage that has been hard to account for. To Mrs. Marsden and other friends, we extend the sympathy of the Canadian Kennel Club members, and readers of Kennel and Bench.

The Choice of Wizbang Kennels

Ross-Miller Biscuit Co. Ltd.,
Napane, Ont.

Attention—Mr. J. E. Robinson.

Gentlemen,

My first thought on bringing my large kennel of 100 imported dogs to this country, was to find a satisfactory maker of fresh dog foods. I have found in Ross-Miller dog foods everything I require, from the necessary bone building ingredients which goes to make champions, and also the necessary stamina for hard field work to that "something" which gives good coats and a fine glossy finish. As this is a variety Kennel, I can say with certainty that the Ross-Miller Co. makes a suitable food for every breed, from Toy Spaniels, and Pekingese to Collies, Fox Terriers, Cockers and Setters, etc.

I am attaching to this letter a photograph of my two noted Irish Setters, Wizbang Buntiebelle (winner over 400 Firsts and Specials, Ch. Cert. and 7 res. Ch. Certs., and many times Cup Best all Breeds in Show, Best Bred by Exhibitor, etc., in England, and started her career this side by winning Ch. Cup best all Breeds in Show at her first Canadian Show and being Best of Breed and 3rd Sporting Section at her first 3 points Show in the States) and Wizbang Chummienelle, left, her sister, (winner over 50 Firsts and many Specials in England). I am very glad to recommend Ross-Miller dog feeds to anybody wishing to rear the very best, whether for work or the shows.

Yours very truly,

S. FINCHAM,
Assoc. Kennel Club, Eng., M.C.K.C., Etc.

Two dogs that were born and brought up—Right

You'll go far to find two better bred, better conditioned bitches than this champion pair of Irish Setters. They have won between them approximately 500 firsts, seconds, thirds and specials in kennel shows in England, United States and Canada. They are a pair of full sisters, and beauties!

The condition of these Irish Setters and of some sixty other highly bred dogs in the Wizbang Kennels is a compliment to the care that has been devoted to them by Miss S. Fincham who imported them to this country. Miss Fincham believes in feeding Ross-Miller foods. Ross-Miller foods contain the necessary bone building ingredients, the stamina qualities and the vitamins which impart health, liveliness and glossy coats. Read her letter herewith.

R-M DOG FOODS BUILD CHAMPIONS

A seventy-year-old argument

Over seventy years ago Spratt's first pointed out the need of a specialized diet for dogs, and provided for it in a series of foods which are now famous throughout the civilized world.

For seventy years Spratt's-fed dogs have shown by their successes in the show ring, by their greater health and happiness, that Spratt's meaty biscuits and nourishing meals meet the needs of the doggy constitution as do no other foods or feeding system.

Imitations have come — and gone. The seventy-year-old argument remains. Dogs—YCUR DOG—need a specialized diet, and in Spratt's foods alone are their special requirements catered for in a way that definitely ensures increased health and condition.

Spratt's world-wide organization is at your service for the selling, shipping and insuring of dogs as well as in their care and management.

It's the sturdy puppy that makes the future champion

Feed him well. In Spratt's "PUPPILAC" is found the ideal food for the hand rearing and weaning of puppies and for the bitch before and after whelping. A pure, full cream dried milk preparation it provides immediate nourishment without putting the slightest strain on the puppy's digestive powers. It resembles in both taste and nutriment the milk of the bitch, and puts the puppy safely on the road to robust maturity.
