Old Trusty Dog Foods and Remedies

Unique in its make-up and purpose, the Old Trusty Dog Food Company is owned and managed wholly by dogmen and devotes its entire resources to the manufacture and sale of foods, remedies and accessories pertinent to the well-being of the dog. Due to specialization and the wealth of practical knowledge available, in a single decade it has grown from an individual's dream to a place of dominance in dogdom.

It is hardly necessary to describe the Old Trusty foods in detail, except to say that all of them are free from medication, and from sweetening or any other treatment to make them deceptively palatable. It is because they are natural dog foods, scientifically balanced, that the dog relishes them and does not tire of them.

Each remedy in the Old Trusty chest is compounded for its special purpose after years of study and practical research, from the famous formulas of Dr. G. G. Anderson, noted veterinarian. They are safe and dependable. Easily and effectively given at home.

NOTE TO THE TRADE AND THE KENNELS

It is our intention to call on you as soon as time will permit. In the meantime, we want you to know that we will be glad to supply quotations on all Old Trusty products and that your orders and inquiries will receive our prompt attention.

Montreal Canine Society Show

Saturday, May 9th, gave the fanciers generally an opportunity of indulging in their favorite pastime of showing their dogs in competition. The Canine Society of Montreal, being sponsors of the show, had secured the commodious Coliseum on Guy Street, and the otherwise uninviting venue was made attractive by great streamers of decorations across the rink whilst huge flags draped the walls.

The judges were: Dr. C. Y. Ford, Montreal, Harry Silver, Montreal, and Hector Huard, Jr., Winooski, Vt., and from the start of the show until well on in the night they were kept busy at their allotted tasks. An old-time Montreal exhibit of Bulldogs was an outstanding attraction and seemed to indicate that a revival of popularity in the National breed was just in the offing, somewhere. Mrs. Ratchael Boyle's Son o' Pugilist, who, as his name would indicate, is a son of the great English dog Ch. Pugilist ex. Dunstar Maiden, and Miss Lydia P. Rafter's Cloverly Bridegroom by Matchless Monarch ex. Ch. June Ruby Day were a pair that had recently come from England, and each one had a host of admirers during the show. Pugs were unusually strong for a Canadian show; an entry of nine was very noticeable.

A Toy Poodle, 20 years old, owned by Mrs. G. Dixon, Ottawa, was visited by many who believed that "Wee Jock" constituted a record for canine longevity.

Unquestionably the dog that attracted the most attention was the Japanese Spaniel Chickya, recently purchased in Japan by Mrs. G. W. Ross, Montreal, whilst on a trip round the world. We believe that Mrs. Ross brought three of these intriguing little dogs back with her. The award columns will show that this particularly beautiful and sound little "Jap" won for best dog in show all breeds, and that win was met with sustained applause, although it must be admitted that it is not every person who knows a Japanese Spaniel when they see one. However, here was a magnificently marked black and white colored Spaniel that was convincingly attractive and as sound as a dollar.

The "Wizbang" Kennels must have had a great portion of their kennel inmates attending the show, as the well-known "Wizbang" card decorated many a stall all over the building.

Ted Ward had a big string along and had a good share of the ribbons. "Dick"

Zwicker and "Robbie" Laskey had the Maritimes dogs under their care, and they had each a few good specimens along. Mr. Zwicker had a Smooth Fox Terrier from the Halagonian Kennels that was very easy to look at. We should imagine this Danby Moque would soon become a champion if given the opportunity to meet the competition.

Old Trusty benched and fed the show and Mr. Mowll was present in person to meet the Canadian fanciers and to bring to their attention the very complete line of foods and accessories which were on display at a huge stand at one end of the building.

Mr. H. E. Whitley, the society's president, was at the show the whole day and his secretary, R. H. Waddell, had his committees functioning perfectly, although more "runners" would have improved the service to the rings. The attendance must have been encouraging to the promoters and the crowd that visited the benches would have looked "plenty" in a smaller building.

Going down to Montreal on the C.P.R. flier "Royal York," one of the "ace" trains of the road, "Bob" McAdam and the writer experienced the thrill of speed when the train left

Smiths Falls at 7.45 and drew into Montreal sharp at 9.45, a distance of 128 miles in 120 minutes with stops at Montreal West, and Westmount. Despite the speed the comfort was clearly noticeable which speaks volumes for the train and the roadbed.

Then Mr. McAdam had another thrill, but this time of quite a different kind, when his Stormy Boy completed Championship honors on his tenth start, the record showing 4 winners and 4 reserve winners, a consistent effort for any dog.

The lady exhibitors found the committee had been considering their comfort, and the rest room and refreshments available made quite a hit. THE LAKELAND TERRIER BITCH:

Egton Lady of the Lake

These attractive little dogs have long been known in the English Lake District Hunting Circles, every pack having several couples of them, whose work it is to bolt or despatch the fox when he goes to ground in the rocks. They are the old original JOHN PEEL Terriers and have been used for hundreds of years in the mountain country of the North.

In 1921 the Lakeland Terrier Association was formed and the breed has now been granted a separate classification on the Register of the Kennel Club and has become eligible for Challenge Certificates.

They are game, intelligent and affectionate, and make good companions.

The colour varies—Black and Tan, Blue and Tan, and various other shades. White must not predominate. The average weight of a full-grown dog is 17 lbs. They stand about 15 inches high. Their coats are harsh, dense and wiry. The head of the Lakeland Terrier is broad, with a strong muzzle and dark or hazel eyes.

"BILLY" LIVESEY DEAD

It is with a heavy heart that the writer announces the death of dear old "Billy" Livesey. It was our intention to pay our respects in person whilst we were in Madison on Victoria Day, but we were advised that the visit was impossible. In fact we received instructions from the son of the well beloved old campaigner, to say good-bye for him to all his Canadian friends, and this assuredly was one of his very last thoughts.

Through the courtesy of Leonard Baumby, we have received the sad news by telegram that Mr. Livesey passed away (today), May 26th, and that the funeral will take place on Friday the 29th.

Having in mind the thousands of friends of our late comrades who are resident in Canada, and who will be sending messages of sympathy we give the postal address here: Mrs. W. F.
Livesey, Kings Road, Madison, N.J.

At Boston we noticed with deep regret, that Mr. Livesey was far from being well, his great happy spirit really permeated a select little gathering of friends and fancies, the particulars of which we mentioned at the time, and now having that, his last appearance—as far as the writer is concerned—in mind, we really believe that he could have endorsed the following lines, which we have taken from a recent issue of "Our Dogs."

"Come when it may, the stern decree
For me to leave the cheery throng,
And quit the sturdy company
Of brothers that I work among.
No need for me to look askance
Since no regret my prospect mars;
My day was happy—and perchance,
The coming night is full of stars!"

Boys that describes "Billy" Livesey as nothing else could do, and inquestionably the night that has now fallen on the old war horse will be full of stars.

The deepest sympathy of all Canada goes out to Mrs. Livesey and her family this, for them the saddest day of all time.

Montreal Canine Society Show

Saturday, May 9th, gave the fanciers generally an opportunity of indulging in their favorite pastime of showing their dogs in competition. The Canine Society of Montreal, being sponsors of the show, had secured the commodious Coliseum on Guy Street, and the otherwise uninviting venue was made attractive by great streamers of decorations across the rink whilst huge flags draped the walls.

The judges were: Dr. C. Y. Ford, Montreal, Harry Silver, Montreal, and Hector Huard, Jr., Winooski, Vt., and from the start of the show until well on in the night they were kept busy at their allotted tasks. An old-time Montreal exhibit of Bulldogs was an outstanding attraction and seemed to indicate that a revival of popularity in the National breed was just in the offing somewhere. Mrs. Ratchael Boyle's Son o' Pugilist, who, as his name would indicate, is a son of the great English dog Ch. Pugilist ex. Dunstar Maiden, and Miss Lydia P. Rafter's Cloverly Bridegroom by Matchless Monarch ex. Ch. June Ruby Day were a pair that had recently come from England, and each one had a host of admirers during the show. Pugs were unusually strong for a Canadian show; an entry of nine was very noticeable.

A Toy Poodle, 20 years old, owned by Mrs. G. Dixon, Ottawa, was visited by many who believed that "Wee Jock" constituted a record for canine longevity.

Unquestionably the dog that attracted the most attention was the Japanese Spaniel Chickya, recently purchased in Japan by Mrs. G. W. Ross, Montreal, whilst on a trip round the world. We believe that Mrs. Ross brought three of these intriguing little dogs back with her. The award columns will show that this particularly beautiful and sound little "Jap" won for best dog in show all breeds, and that win was met with sustained applause, although it must be admitted that it is not every person who knows a Japanese Spaniel when they see one. However, here was a magnificently marked black and white colored Spaniel that was convincingly attractive and as sound as a dollar.

The "Wizbang" Kennels must have had a great portion of their kennel inmates attending the show, as the well-known "Wizbang" card decorated many a stall all over the building.

Ted Ward had a big string along and had a good share of the ribbons. "Dick"

Zwicker and "Robbie" Laskey had the Maritimes dogs under their care, and they had each a few good specimens along. Mr. Zwicker had a Smooth Fox Terrier from the Halagonian Kennels that was very easy to look at. We should imagine this Danby Moque would soon become a champion if given the opportunity to meet the competition.

Old Trusty benched and fed the show and Mr. Mowll was present in person to meet the Canadian fanciers and to bring to their attention the very complete line of foods and accessories which were on display at a huge stand at one end of the building.

Mr. H. E. Whitley, the society's president, was at the show the whole day and his secretary, R. H. Waddell, had his committees functioning perfectly, although more "runners" would have improved the service to the rings. The attendance must have been encouraging to the promoters and the crowd that visited the benches would have looked "plenty" in a smaller building.

Going down to Montreal on the C.P.R. flier "Royal York," one of the "ace" trains of the road, "Bob" McAdam and the writer experienced the thrill of speed when the train left

Smiths Falls at 7.45 and drew into Montreal sharp at 9.45, a distance of 128 miles in 120 minutes with stops at Montreal West, and Westmount. Despite the speed the comfort was clearly noticeable which speaks volumes for the train and the roadbed.

Then Mr. McAdam had another thrill, but this time of quite a different kind, when his Stormy Boy completed Championship honors on his tenth start, the record showing 4 winners and 4 reserve winners, a consistent effort for any dog.

The lady exhibitors found the committee had been considering their comfort, and the rest room and refreshments available made quite a hit. We do not suggest that clubs should furnish refreshments for our lady exhibitors, but the practice of courtesy and of comfort for them has our commendation at all times.

Gastric Trouble

quickly ended.

Gastric, or stomach trouble, one of the most distressing and at the same time most common ailments in the dog, is also a warning of more serious trouble brewing. Therefore this symptom requires prompt treatment. Give Karswood Dog Powders at once. The trouble then will quickly be ended and all danger removed. Read this letter:—

32, Sunny Bank, Hull.

Some weeks ago my Collie dog, Hymer's Sensation, had a very bad attack of gastritis and was in a shocking condition, no appetite and losing flesh rapidly. I tried various advertised remedies, but nothing seemed to help until I wrote for two boxes of your Karswood Dog Powders. After 3 days the dog looked much brighter, and after one box of Karswood Dog Powders, was eating well. He is now quite fit, and has no return of stomach trouble.

(Mrs.) G. C. LEACH.

Karswood Dog Powders contain specific nerve foods and organic salts not contained in the dog's ordinary diet, but which are necessary to enable his system to throw off disease. No other dog preparation contains the same ingredients—hence none is so effective for the purpose. Prove this for yourself.

The Canadian Fancy

By WALTER H. REEVES,
Belleville, Ontario.

WITH the breeding season just now at its peak, it is only natural that the question of the unregistered champions is receiving much attention from breeders all over Canada. The writer of the Canadian Fancy has received letters endorsing the action of the Canadian Kennel Club directors who, at the last directors' meeting, decided to reopen the question of petitioning the Minister of Agriculture, that the Canadian Live Stock Record Stud Books should be reopened so as to allow the many unregistered Canadian Champions to be registered. Canadian breeders of all kinds of live stock have an enviable name all over the world as constructive breeders, who demand quality first in their selection of breeding stock, and as one particularly successful breeder writes: "What a wealth of breeding sires and dams we are allowing to go to the discard in these unregistered champions." The Canadian Live Stock Records have in the opinion of not only Canadian breeders, but breeders throughout the whole world, the best system of registration, but the writer, since he became a resident of Canada, has always viewed with some alarm the importance some Canadians seem to give to registration papers. Many seem to pay more attention to registration papers than to the dog they are buying. In reviewing some of the foundation stock I have come across in my many years' experience, some of the outstanding producers had no pedigree and were registered as pedigree unknown.

One of the most important questions that confronts the breeder is the choice of a stud dog. In all breeds we have now a plethora of choice at hand. Still strange to say, this is where the neophyte stumbles, indeed fails to make good as a successful breeder. Many breeders, and some of them can hardly be called novices, make the mistake of using their own stud dog to one and all of their bitches. Prepotent sires are worth considerable money and many breeders today would be in a far better position financially if they would sell their own stud dog as a companion and use the proceeds to pay stud fees. Breeders should remember "like begets like" and that if he wants his bobby to be a paying one he should always use the best sires available to his bitches. It is far better to breed a couple of litters a year using as a stud dog, a dog which has proved that he has the ability to sire good stock, than six or seven litters sired by mediocre dogs. Quality counts in everything and particularly in breeding.

The many friends of "Billy" Livesey will I know be sorry to hear that this well known handler is seriously ill, and has been since New York and Boston shows. The writer noticed at New York, when "Billy" so successfully handled the Airedale Terrier "Ch. Walnut Challenger," that he was far from being well. I know "Billy's" many friends will join me in the wish for a speedy recovery.

In the May 16th issue of Popular Dogs an illustration appears of the Lakeland Terrier. The reproduction of the photograph of Mrs. Graham Spence's "Egton Lady of the Lakes" carries the memory of the writer back to the summer of 1913, when he spent his holiday in the beautiful Lake district of England. We were staying at Windermere, and during our rambles, came across many of these attractive and game little terriers. The first few days I saw three or four black and tan in colour and at first, until I made enquiries, I thought there must be a breeder somewhere in the vicinity who was breeding the old English Terrier, for they were very similar in type and size. I gather from the article which appears in Popular Dogs that in 1921 the Lakeland Terrier Association was formed, and that the breed is now recognized by the English Kennel Club. The breed comes in a wide variety of colours—black and tan, blue and tan, red, mustard, wheaten and black, but in any event white must not predominate. The coat is dense, harsh and wiry, the skull broad, muzzle strong and not excessively long, eyes dark or hazel, and not too prominent. The body is moderately short, the front narrow, the tail carried gaily and docked not too short. I hope that some enterprising fancier will import some of these game little terriers for they make capital companions and would, I believe, soon become popular. The breed comes from the John Peel Terriers and have been used for many years by the "Hunts" in the Lake District to bolt the fox, when he went to earth amongst the rocks. Since writing about the Lakeland Terriers, I remember that some years before the late war, I was judging a show in the Lake District and had to rush through the judging so as to catch the only connection by train to enable me to keep my appointment to judge at a show the following day. I was accompanied to this show by a well known American exhibitor, who held the opinion that the judging would not be over in time to make the connection. I therefore counted the classes and allowed myself so many minutes for each class and I asked my American friend to time me. I kept my schedule right up until I came to the Variety classes where several of the Lakelands were entered and then the signal came from my friend that I had to hurry.

The Pekin Palace Dog Association of Canada held their last monthly meeting of the season on May 6th. A splendid gathering of members were present to hear Dr. Campbell give a talk on the Pekingese in health and sickness. Dr. Campbell certainly carried his large audience away with his interesting and instructive lecture, his advice on whelping troubles being very closely followed, and much appreciated. A visitor, Robert Scott Wilson spoke interestingly in describing some of the many famous dogs he had met on his travels. This enterprising club is now making plans for its second annual picnic. This I hear will be held at Eldorado Park on June 21st. The members will travel to the park by the Grey Bus Line and anyone wishing to participate in this enjoyable picnic should telephone Hargrave 3978, or 7187. During the evening on May 16th, I had almost forgotten to mention that three of the members of the club were presented with cups won under the club rules, the successful members were Mrs. Watson, Mrs. D. Morris and Mrs. Warrington.

Mrs. W. Batt of the Haldon Kennels, Guelph, Ontario, writes in particularly glowing terms of the kindness and courtesy extended to visitors at the recent Montreal Show. The Haldon Scotties were very successful at this Show, Haldon Linda qualifying as a Canadian Champion, and what makes it all the more pleasing, is that Champion Haldon Linda is home-bred. This beautiful little Scotty won best of breed at Hamilton under Frank Addyman and also a cup for best opposite sex to the best Canadian-bred. Owing to train connections at Montreal, Ch. Haldon Linda and her kennel companions had to leave before the Terrier Group and specials were judged.

writes asking my opinion about whether I think a kennel of Terriers would pay their way if the foundation stock was imported from England—my answer is unquestionably yes—The prospective addition to our ranks is leaving shortly for a three months holiday in England and proposes to visit some of the summer shows and also the leading Scottish Terrier Kennels and from this information I gather it is his intention to go in for Scotties, a breed which seems to be enjoying the boom I foretold through these columns eighteen months ago. Before me, as I am writing, is a catalogue of the one day championship show of the Kensington Canine Society which was held at the Crystal Palace where the Scottish Terrier "Champion Heather" won the special for best dog in the Show. From the ever increasing entries of Scotties, it certainly looks as if this breed may before many years be ousted the wire haired fox terrier from the position it has held for so many years now as the world's most popular terrier.

Mrs. D. Luscombe, London, Ontario, has certainly not been having the best of luck with her Scottish Terriers. Recently she lost that nice little bitch "Strewsall Queen Bess" by "Ardmore Legacy" ex "Ardmore Thistle" and now word is to hand, that "Ornsay Clansman" is dead. He was one of the most prepotent sires of the present day, amongst his progeny being that great Scotty "Champion Ornsay Rab." Mrs. Luscombe has done so much for her favourite breed in Canada that I am confident all Scottish breeders will wish to join me in offering sincere sympathy and the hope that the other stud dog of the Kennel "Heather Braw Lad" may sire a puppy good enough for New York. "Clansman" has left some very promising puppies in Canada and one may possess the ability to carry on in the place of his sire.

The information is to hand that "Bob" Ross has a great entry of Scotties to judge at the Madison Show on May 23rd. Two years ago I had the pleasure of watching "Bob" judge the breed at this Show, and on Saturday next I am looking forward to again seeing this capable expert at work. No doubt some of the recent importations will be making their debut in America.

THE SEEING EYE

It is not too much to say that Toronto was interested in the visit of Frank Morris, of Nashville, Tennessee, and his Shepherd dog, "Seeing Eye," on May 26th and 27th, and Toronto people were genuinely surprised to find this aid to the blind so remarkably dependable down through the busy thoroughfares. "Seeing Eye" piloted his master and the contact of man and dog was manifested in the confident manner in which Mr. Franks stepped out in response to the signals conveyed to him through the handle of the dog's harness.

At a meeting of those interested which was held at the headquarters of the Canadian National Institute for the blind on the morning of May 26th, Captain Baker presiding, all sorts of questions were asked and answered. For instance, a blind man asked Mr. Franks if the dogs were kept outside the home, and Mr. Franks' reply came back hot and quick as he replied, "Why should I keep my "eye" in a kennel?" Mr. Frank must have his "eye" with him all the time—why not?

Alex. Gooderham, the enthusiastic president of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, is to be congratulated in having Mr. Franks come to Toronto at this time, and also in having the clever Mrs. Harrison Eustis, founder of the Fortunate Field School for training dogs for this purpose, and founder of the "Seeing Eye" School at Nashville, Tenn.

The cost of completing a contract between a blind person and his dog is around $500.00, and presents a golden opportunity for those charitably or patriotically inclined to bring help and comfort to blind people, and in this work the Church and service clubs and other such organizations to step right in on such a desirable and praise-worthy work.

No doubt the visit of Mr. Franks and Mrs. Eustis to Toronto will bring the "Seeing Eye" forcibly to the front and it is now more than likely that trained dogs will be sent to Toronto, and it is just possible that a branch training school will be opened here.

SATISFYING YOUR BUYER

To satisfy your buyer is always a good advertisement for any kennel. To ship a Peke from Toronto to Sacramento, California, is quite an undertaking, and one likely to cause the shipper much concern, but Fred Shawley, of the "Mongolian" Kennels, Toronto, received quite a thrill when one he shipped to California arrived there in tip top shape. We don't know whether Mr. Shawley has ever seen the letter appearing hereunder or not, however, we print it as an incentive for sellers to treat their customers right:

Sacramento, Calif.

American Kennel Club Gazette,

New York, New York.

Dear Sirs:

Believing in passing along the good things, I would like to tell the Gazette readers of the purchase through an ad in recent issue of Gazette, of an exceptionally good red Pekingese male from the Mongolian Kennels, Toronto, Canada. I received puppy Christmas morning and he more than lived up to the description sent of him. I have never seen a better advertisement for a Kennel than the condition he arrived in. His crate, harness and lead, and new blanket showed class and shows that advertising does pay and gives confidence in the Gazette ads.

Knowing how dubious I was of buying sight unseen, I thought my pleasant experience might give some one else confidence in purchasing through your columns.

Sincerely,

J. B. M.

No doubt Mr. Shawley will be asked to ship other dogs to California from time to time in the future.

Leaves From a Kennel Note Book

By FREEMAN LLOYD.

IT appears that in the East of the United States we are in for a season of Sunday dog shows. The first big event of this kind will be held at Greenwich, Connecticut, on June 7. Then follow other affairs of the same kind, including one at Wissahickon, not far from Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania. This Sabbath gathering pretty well in the heart of Quakerdom, will be of the picnic, go-as-you please, happy-go-lucky, unbenched and unrestricted order, which, of course, means that Wissahickon, with good weather will have a pleasant outing. It will perhaps remind some of the older school of the kennel fetes held in the agricultural show grounds at Wissahickon, when George Clifford Thomas was president. Those were at the high time of James Mortimer's great days, when terrapin and sparkling wines graced the tables of the Philadelphians. It would seem that "happy days are here again." Furthermore, all be well at the gay gatherings of the American doggie folk in the near future.

However, there's nothing new in the holding of dog shows on the first day of the week. The very cradle of kennel exhibitions had its commencement at the Sunday shows held by the working men of London and Birmingham, England. These took place at the favorite sporting taverns in those two great centres of population. The Sunday dog markets held in London and other of the large European capitals, remain today, as they were of yore. They are as popular and well-attended as ever.

All Canadians will regret to learn of the serious and continued illness of William Livesey, of Madison, New Jersey, who, at this writing, had been confined to his bed for two or three weeks. From the tone of his son Harry's voice over the telephone, it is feared the ultra-popular public handler, owner, and judge, is or was in a bad way. But we all hope and pray for the best. For some months William has not been himself. He complained of weakness at the New York and Boston shows where he was so splendidly successful with his charge, the Airedale, Walnut Challenger, the property of F. H. Hoe of New Brunswick, New Jersey. Airedales and Irish Terriers always have been among the more notable winners to come out from the Madison quarters — each and every one of them put down as fit as competent hands could make them. For years William Livesey looked after the Irish and Wire-haired Fox Terriers owned by John G. Bates of Morristown, New Jersey. Great Danes, West Highland Terriers, and several other specimens of leading breeds have been successfully steered to victory by this William from Wigan who has been about 25 or more years in the United States. As an all-round judge, Mr. Livesey has been most favorably known throughout the length and breadth of dog-exhibiting in Canada. A Bull Terrier fancier at heart, Livesey has maintained an open mind regarding the breeds of all other terriers.

Mrs. Helen Greef of Greenwich, Connecticut, has again visited England for the sole purpose of judging her favorite breed—Wirehaired Fox Terriers at a show of great importance. The fixture in question was that of the All Terrier Show, held at the Crystal Palace, London. On reading Mrs. Greef's report on the Fox Terriers, it is to be interested in her statement that at the present time the Fox Terrier bitches are better than the dogs in England. Furthermore, the lady was of an opinion that as an aggregation the Wirehairs of yesterday were not as good as those of the day before—or, to be more specific, four years ago.

Leaving the dead to bury their dead, and the comparisons between the dogs of some time ago and those of today, it must be very pleasant for Englishmen to learn that they still possess so many good bitches of the Fox Terrier breed. For those are the gold mines which produce and pay handsomely. The prize dog terriers purchased every year by Americans and Canadians, must run into the hundreds! But how many bitches are bought by the same persons? Hardly any! May not that be the reason that more international prize-winning terriers are bred in Britain than in America? Here is food for thought; and, as it appears, there can be only one answer. Buy, if you may, the best of bitches. There are always plenty of first-class stud dogs available in the States and the Dominion.

The eighth annual field trials of the English Springer Spaniel F. T. Association will be held on Fisher's Island, New York, on October 21, 22, 23 and 24 next. The Island lies in Long Island Sound. It is about 6 miles off New London, Connecticut, from where plies a steam ferry. Hitherto, these trials have been patronized by two Canadians in Herbert S. Routley of Peterboro, and Roy Rymer, of St. Catharines, Ontario. These springer spaniel owners motored all the way down to the scenes of action, and declared they found everything just as it should have been, which expressed satisfaction is understandable considering the excellent management and scope of the tests made under the auspices of the association. This year the visiting judge will be Captain Onslow Traherne, of Aberkenfig, Glamorgan, South Wales. His associate—an American—will be named at a later date. Henry Lee Ferguson, 240 Park Avenue, New York City, is secretary of the organization. He may be written to at Fisher's Island, New York. I wouldn't be surprised if stakes for cocker spaniels are added to this year's card.

A letter from Merwyn Lloyd, of Greenlawn, Alberta, relates that his Sealyham Terriers have been tried and not found wanting in their desire for hunting and pluck in attacking the badgers on the ranch. When I was at Greenlawn, there were several earths to be seen; but it has since been learned that badgers are not so plentiful now, as a few years ago. These animals are all very well to try a terrier's pluck, but the earth pig is more than capable of playing the very deuce and consequently doing much damage to any terrier, or any other kind or sort of dog or hound. As one who has been present at very many badger-digging and baiting events, I would like to state that the Canadian badger is a bolder and more courageous fighter than his European cousin. Naturalists say there is a physical difference between the two animals. Many years ago when the late Alex. Smith was manager of the late Joe Laurin's Aierdales outside Montreal, we had some badger baiting. It was there I saw the different methods employed by the Canadian badgers to the actions of the creatures on the other side. Where the European badger awaited the onslaught of the dog, the Canadian badger actually leaped out to meet the attack. Therefore, as was thought, the Canadian was the pluckier beast. As would be expected the local brock was more than a match for those 45 pound Airedales of about thirty years ago.

Recently I have been writing a good deal about the life and times of the great Irish greyhound, Master M'Grath which on three occasions won the English Waterloo Cup. He ran four times and was put out in the first course on his third essay for the blue riband of the leash. Up to or until quite recently, it had been a matter of much doubt, also grave and bitter argument as to whether M'Grath had been interfered with or not on the occasion of his failure to run up to his old form. But now it appears clear that the dog was in some way doped and prevented from accomplishing what was reasonably expected of him. In the coming of June issue of the American Kennel Gazette will be published a letter from the present Lord Lurgan whose father was part-owner and nominator of M'Grath in the Waterloos. In this communication is named the instigator of the foul and successful plot. So after a period of sixty or more years, the greatest of all coursing mysteries will be laid bare. And here it must be right to declare that had it not been for the interest and persistence of Captain P. A. B. Galwey-Foley, of Fort Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, this coursing scandal perhaps would never have come to light. It was my friend's grand-uncle, James Galwey of Colligan Lodge, County Waterford, Ireland, who bred Master M'Grath; and all the family documents being made available, also the worthy co-operation of the Fort Qu'Appelle gentleman's brother—Captain E. G. Galwey-Foley, of Ardora, County Donegal, the whole and dastardly act will be disclosed for the benefit of the world's coursing community. I promise you that the documents will be worth reading. So don't forget the Gazette for June.

Should you be in New York during the first weeks of June, it will be well to remember to drop in and see the paintings of hounds and dogs of all kinds, exhibited at the Mid-Town Galleries on Fifth Avenue, between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Streets. These capacious salons have as their president Anton Rost, well-known to Canadian and American exhibitors of dogs, as a capable judge of all sorts and sizes of our four-legged friends. Many canvasses will be on view, including those of dead and living artists of international fame. Landseer, Cooper, Marshall, Ansdell, Alkin, Howitt, Reinagle, Barlow, Ward, Copley, Morland, Muss-Arnolt, George Earl, Maud Earl, Thomas Blinks, Osthaus, Rosseau, Tracy, Tallman and others will be represented. Many of these paintings and engravings have been loaned by well-known exhibitors of dogs—collectors and those who have commissioned past and present painters to convey to their canvasses portrait pictures of their favorite and much-prized dogs. Miss Earl's paintings of beautifully plumaged birds will surely claim much attention. Needless to add the exhibition will be free. Moreover, Mr. Rost says he will be pleased to see you.

There are certain indications that point to a return of the once great popularity in the country of the English mastiff. About forty years ago the breed was of paramount importance among the non-sporting dogs at American bench shows. There was quite a furore when such magnificent animals as the champions Minting, Cambrian Princess, Ilford Chancellor and others appeared in the judging rings at New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other of the prominent "doggie" centres of the East. Today, mastiffs are few and far between, but, as before remarked, there appears to be a well-backed movement with an onward and upward trend on behalf of the interests of this highly attractive, ancient and noble breed.

mastiff was bred in the country from which it takes its name. It has been there since the earliest times of which there is any reliable record. Whether the old mastiffs and the earlier bulldogs were each descended from the other, is not known; but there is some reason to believe such was the case. Now, as everyone knows, there is a vast difference between the heights and weights of the two breeds. The male mastiff should not be less than thirty inches high at the shoulder and weigh over one hundred and seventy pounds. The bulldog comparatively a much shorter legged dog, may exceed fifty-five pounds in weight, but is generally preferred when around forty-five pounds in avoirdupois. The mastiff is extremely bold and courageous when put to the heroic tests. Otherwise, he is an amiable creature when kept as the ordinary, unchained, unconfined dog.

Stow relates an instance of a contest between three mastiffs and a lion in the presence of King James I of England. The lion disabled two of the dogs, but after the third mastiff had laid hold of the lip of the great beast, the lion, greatly exhausted by the conflict, refused to renew the engagement. He took a sudden leap over the dogs and fled into the interior of the den. Two of the dogs died of their wounds, the last survived and was taken care of by the King's son, who said, "He that had fought with the king of beasts should never after fight with any inferior creature."

The German boarhound now known as the Great Dane and formerly used in Europe for the pursuit of the wild boar, was something of the mastiff kind. They also remain exceedingly noble animals, and are much valued and admired throughout the United States and Canada.

JUDGES FOR "THE BIG SHOW."

The list of judges who will officiate at the Canadian National Exhibition on September 7th, 8th and 9th has just come to hand, and includes C. S. Grosse, Rocky River, Ohio, who will have the Boston terriers coming before him for approval. It has been said that Mr. Grosse has made Ohio a hotbed for Bostons, and Boston fans. Undoubtedly he will draw a large entry here.

Arthur Garrick, Glen Head, Long Island, will take the sporting spaniel entry. Mr. Garrick has judged here before and justified his placings by purchasing the dogs most criticized and making feature dogs of them at shows in the United States.

Walter H. Reeves, Belleville, Ont., has the Toys and the non-sporting group to sort out, and this should be his easiest task for some considerable time past.

The well-known and competent Enno Meyer, of Milford, Ohio, will judge the balance and the sporting, working, Terrier and Toy groups. In other words, the "lion's share," but Mr. Meyer's reputation will command respect and we would not be surprised to see the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show making important gains in entries this year.

FAMOUS SPRINGER DEAD.

That famous old English Springer Spaniel bitch, Inveresk Countess, has joined the great majority at the ripe old age of 14 years. She was purchased by Bailie McNab Chassels, J.P., Coatbridge, in 1919 for purely sporting purposes, but she was destined to make the prefix Inveresk famous all over the world. As a brood bitch, she was a veritable gold mine, and her name will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest dams the Spaniel cult has ever known. In 1921 she produced the wonderful bitch, Ch. Inveresk Careful, and Ch. Inveresk Count. She was destined to go even one better, for in her next litter she had the world-famous Int. Ch. Inveresk Coronation, which was sold to H.H. the Maharaja of Patiala, at the S.K.C. Edinburgh Show, from which she went on and won the Supreme Championship at the K.C. London Show. In 1927 and 1928 she won like honours in India. Another famous son of I. Countess was Ch. I. Commander. Her famous grandchildren are legion. Amongst them are Int. Ch. I. Carenetta, who won a dozen Challenge Certificates, and was also sold to H.H. the Maharaja of Patiala, and who is now in America still winning. Ch. I. Chairman, and the great field trial dog, Dalshanghan Royal. There are also many others. For the last six years she has been pensioned off, as she became both deaf and blind, and had to rely on her splendid nose to get about. She was undoubtedly one of the greatest Springers that ever lived.

The Alberta News

THE Alberta Kennel Club held a general meeting, in the Police building, Calgary, on April 15th, when arrangements were completed for the Annual Dog Show to be held again this year in conjunction with the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede on July 8th and 9th. The Club announces the appointment of W. H. Pym, of Vancouver, as judge. Mr. Pym is a very competent all-rounder and officiates quite frequently on the South side of the line. He is booked for all breeds at Denver, Colorado, on Sept. 9th and 10th, and will later officiate in California. As one of our Directors for British Columbia his services have been simply invaluable.

J. C. Fletcher has been appointed Show Superintendent and the following have agreed to act as ring stewards: H. Price, P. Heather, J. M. Miller, E. Brown, W. Forest, J. Rudolph, W. Irons, Calder Duncan and R. Robson. Doctors McKay, Anderson and Price are official Veterinarians for the Show.

The executive have been promised a number of excellent specials and wish to extend their thanks to those who so willingly assisted the Club in this connection. The Alberta Fox Terrier Ass'n. is holding their Specialty Show this year in conjunction with the Alberta Kennel Club's fixture, the date of July 7th has been reserved and a good entry is expected. Chief Ritchie, the President, in a brief address, asked all members to co-operate in making this year's show the best yet and was assured of the support of all present. A number also signified that they would be on hand at the Medicine Hat fixture on the 25th of this month. We hear that both H. Price and George Westmoreland of Calgary are taking a number of dogs down by motor. The writer who is attending officially on behalf of the Canadian Kennel Club will also take a number of local dogs along with him.

"Ch. Monk of Burnside"

By R. S. TYRRELL, Bottrel, Alta.
Provincial Contributing Editor.

We have great pleasure in being able to reproduce a photo of Ch. "Monk of Burnside," the sire of Ch. "Vale of Burnside," who following her New York success was best Springer in Show at Saskatoon. Ch. "Monk of Burnside" was bred by Harry Crook, of the Woodland Kennels, Mirror, Alberta, whose Springer Spaniels are now world famous. Mr. and Mrs. Wize, who very kindly forwarded me the cut for this dog, are at present visiting at Spokane, Washington, and expect to show Ch. "Vale" at Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, also at some of the States shows on the Coast, returning to Alberta in time for the Calgary and Edmonton shows. Mr. Wize very much regrets that owing to an injury (triple) Ch. "Inveresk Chancellor" is not available at Stud at present, so he is breeding Ch. "Vale" to Ch. "High Tide Barney" again. Mr. Crook has purchased a nice black and white female from the last mating of this pair and is breeding her to his winning dog, "Woodland War Paint." Besides Springers, Mr. Crook has some excellent English Setters, including the well known stud dog "Spider Kelley," a field trial winner of note that he purchased from Dr. Gunn, of Calgary.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers Club are also well to the fore with their arrangements, the dates being fixed from July 14th to 16th. Edmonton has a very live club with no fewer than fifty members, and their show is noted as a model of its kind.

We have received a very newsy letter from A. R. Castle, Lethbridge, concerning the Southern Alberta Kennel Club. Mrs. Castle has been in England for some months where she attended Cruft's Show to see the Collies in particular, and has been visiting a number of the principal English Collie Kennels, with the object of bringing something of note back with her. She has paid two visits to that well known Collie fancier, G. Roberts, who was most hospitable. Mr. Castle has been most unfortunate in having a very promising Bitch puppy stolen recently. Rewards have been offered for her recovery and the local police are taking an interest in the matter. Ritchie Patterson, of Lethbridge, is having two flat coated Retrievers shipped from Scotland under Mrs. Castle's care and local fanciers are looking forward to seeing this brace. Though the Lethbridge Herald has been doing all it can to foster local interest and Dr. Steele has been writing on matters of Doggie interest every other day, at the time of writing the local fancy do not seem to have arrived at the stage where they can put on a point show. Perhaps with the assurance of outside support we may yet see Lethbridge on the map this season.

We are very glad to hear that our Directors are reconsidering the matter of the unregistered Champions. It has been almost a calamity in the past that so many first class dogs, that have stood the test of keen competition in the ring and have gained their title, were not available for Stud purposes. We must all agree that a pedigree is useless without an individual of sufficiently high quality and type to give it value, also a Champion of the very highest merit is of no value for breeding purposes unless it is officially recorded and thus available for breeding purposes.

Notes From Manitoba

THE Fort Garry Kennel Club held their meeting (to receive and discuss the report of the Committee appointed at the Annual General Meeting to prepare such report relative to holding a show under Canadian Kennel Club license this spring), on April 21st in the Winnipeg Free Press Committee Room. The discussion was a long one. The Committee went thoroughly into all the details involved in putting on a show, and at the request of the President, the Secretary furnished the statistics he had gathered from the Club records, relative to the expenditures in connection with the shows held by the Club for quite a number of years. He also went very thoroughly into the probable cost of the show under discussion. He pointed out too, that whereas in the past, where there was a balance on the right side of the ledger, it was made possible because exhibitors entered their dogs in quite a number of the classes, a practice he asserted was not being adhered to at the present time. Although there was talk about the work to be done, I noticed they did not say just how much work they had done in connection with previous shows. It is quite an easy matter to vote for a show if the other fellow is going to do the work, but the Secretary who does the real work often has to stay up until three and four o'clock in the morning before his work is ready for the printer, and I have heard of Secretaries working hard all night and well on into the morning before their work was finished.

As the discussion terminated the motion was put to the meeting, and it was unanimously decided to hold a show, the dates chosen being May 29th and 30th to fit in with Chris Shuttleworth's programme, who is officiating on the Pacific Coast Province in May and who has been selected as the gentleman to officiate as Judge of all breeds. Next came the work of selecting the show officials. Those who had worked with Mr. Henderson in the past, and particularly Mr. Ridge, were insistent in their demands that he undertake the Secretarial duties, so much so that he was not allowed an opportunity to refuse. Then Messrs. Walsh and Eamon were prevailed upon to undertake the duties of ring steward and show superintendent respectively. Mr. Ridge, the Hon. President, together with a select Committee of the ladies, accepted the appointment to deal with the matter of "Specials," which office requires at any time, and more so at the present time, an abundance of all those charming and appealing desirable qualities of tactfulness, persuasiveness and tenacity of purpose to obtain specials from reluctant donors. We wish the Fort Garry Kennel Club all the success they deserve not alone from a financial standpoint but also as regards the number and quality of the entries, particularly so because everyone speaks very highly of Mr. Shuttleworth's qualifications. And may we voice the hope too, that not alone the name of the Club but also the name of the Judge will bring entries from beyond the borders of Manitoba to battle for the honors.

It has occurred to me, that fanciers who do not reside in Winnipeg, and who may possibly have read "Manitoba Notes" in the April issue of Kennel and Bench, may say, oh he's a veterinarian and hopes to obtain fees for cropping dog's ears! Such is not the case, I am not engaged in private practice, and have only cropped the ears of two dogs since I graduated. I take the position so far as any kennel club is concerned because it is a practice which has grown up through the years with show dogs, because it is a practice which has been builded and firmly embedded into the very nature of our breeders, and because I think that to stop such a practice by a vote at the Annual General Meeting alone, would cause a division amongst our members. It is quite possible that many see the "Handwriting on the wall" and it would be good business for the breeders interested to breed with the object in view of selecting dogs of the ideal type which have the desired ear. Even that takes time and will be gained only after many a bitter disappointment. At that, too, it may be well worth the trouble, because that changeable quantity, public opinion, may cause it to become illegal. But should the matter come before the Kennel Club again I believe it would be wise to refer it to a select Committee on which the breeders in question will be represented.

A question relative to nervousness in a "Dalmation bitch" will be seen on page 665 of the April 3rd issue of "The Dog World" the answer reads, "Her extreme nervousness is possibly due to her parents having been mated at too early an age," an answer well worth any fancier's thoughtful consideration.

Harry Baker sold a Wire Haired Fox

Terrier puppy. "Bakerdale Boy" (C.K.C. 94024) by "Redcliffe Arclight" (C.K.C. 79048) ex "Silverdale Sayde" (C.K.C. 93344) to Margaret Pasquali of Seattle, Wash., U.S.A. There were four male puppies in the litter and although, quite recently he had the misfortune to lose a good one, he still has a real snappy one, the short bodied kind, that should prove a real competitor in the showing when he is a little older.

A. T. MacIntosh, Royal Northern Kennels, Selkirk, Manitoba, advises me he has sold three German Shepherd puppies out of his Ch "Brenda von Weithof" by Geo. Kynoch's "Lasso's Eugene Foreman." The result of this mating he says "was eminently satisfactory, and the progeny have been rated as 'exceptionally promising' by some of our best Shepherd breeders and Judges." "Dhirk Koeniglichen Norden" which is one of the most promising youngsters we have ever seen, was sold to Mrs. J. P. McMorrison of Winnipeg, and will undoubtedly be heard from in our future shows. "Duke Koeniglichen Norden" went to R. G. Morrison of Winnipeg, and "Denken Koeniglichen Norden" goes to Kamsack, Sask. We are meantime retaining "Dolf Koeniglichen Norden" for ourselves. This is a beautiful and most promising black and golden tan youngster and should be heard from in the future. We are proud of the record of our stock at last year's shows in the West when "Cassius Koeniglichen Norden" took Grand Championship at Regina and "Rex Koeniglichen Norden" went to best of breed at Winnipeg fall show, Caso and Rex are both out of our matron Ch. "Brenda von Weithof," the former sired by "Crewso von Bern" and the latter by Ch "Amor von Geyersberge." Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Wrye of the Wryeland Kennels (Pomeranian), Brandon, Manitoba, advise me that they have disposed of three puppies by "Chiswick Xanthe" (C.K.C. 86017) ex "Brandon Babe" one to Mrs. Bell of Regina, Sask., one to Mrs. Priog of MacLean, Sask., and the other to Mr. Benson of Brandon. They still retain one, a beautiful light orange sable. They advise me they had ill luck with a new lovely orange female obtained from Hamilton, Ont. She whelped four male puppies prematurely, about a week before due. We regret the ill-luck with this female but suggest that the next time she will carry her puppies the full term, as she will have become acclimatized to our Western climate.

We are pleased to report that S. Jackson is fully recovered from his severe illness and is about again as usual and incidentally we see in the May issue of "Dogdom" in the "Boston Terrier" section a beautiful cut of Ch "Winchester Aviator" the dog he sold to W. J. Harris of Camden, New Jersey. The note on Ch "Winchester Aviator" says in part: "Since his arrival in the U.S. he has taken winners at Philadelphia show and it is predicted he will be an international champion in a short time."

We took a trip a few Sundays ago to North Kildonan to see that noted Winnipeg Cocker Spaniel, and sire of winners too "Ottawa Aristocrat" (C. K.C. 64364). He is the property of R. Simpson. He went 1st limit, 1st open and winners, Parti Colors at the Manitoba Kennel Club show held in Winnipeg last November. Mr. Simpson has two very classy litters of puppies, one litter of five, three males and two females is by "Ottawa Aristocrat" (C. K.C. 64364) ex "Blossom of Isla" (C. K.C. 62594), the other litter of three puppies, two males and one female is by "Silverdale Commissioner" (C.K.C. 92417) ex "Winsome Lady of Isla" (C. K.C. 93620). Geo. Kynoch who is always looking for something good, acquired one of these puppies. Mr. Simpson, we may say, also breeds Silver Foxes and Mink and has quite an establishment a few hundred yards east of his Kennels. "Ottawa Aristocrat," we might add is the sire of "Silverdale Rosebloom" which lovely bitch went Best Cocker at Saskatoon and Winners Bitches at Minneapolis.

E. Chevrier has sold the following Springer Spaniels to purchasers in the United States. To E. P. Krueger, West Union, Iowa, a liver and white dog puppy. To J. E. Patton, Bass River, Cape Cod, Mass., a liver and white bitch puppy. To P. Dumont, Backus, Minnesota, a Black and White bitch, trained and also in whelp. To W. H. Yuncker a black, white and tan bitch, which had been bred. To Dr. Foster, Minneapolis, a liver and white dog. It seems the sporting fanciers resident to the south of the line still know where they can obtain the class of dog they desire.

Geo. Kynoch attended the show recently held in Minneapolis. He took with him E. Chevrier's Springer Spaniel "Aristotle of Avandale" which dog went first open, Winners dogs, Best of Winners, and best of Breed. The Springer Spaniel Bitch "Royal Flush of Avandale" which went first open and Winners Bitches. The English Setter dog "Harwood Kilmartin Grouse" which went first open winners

Colonel R. O. Alexander's Samoyed female "Galka" has been bred to his Samoyed dog "Grishka." These dogs are both bred in the purple and it is anticipated that something really good will result from the mating. "Galka" went first limit and first open in hot competition this year at the Westminster show in New York. Whilst

"Grishka" a young dog, claims Ch "Kara Sea" as his grandsire on the dam's side. Ch "Kara Sea" is an undefeated champion and the sire of Int. Ch "Tiger Boy of Norka" which was imported from England by the Norka Kennels of Nanuet, New York. I might add that both Col. Alexander's dogs are imported specimens of the breed.

THE POMERANIAN CH. SEALAND CAREER

It would be most difficult to say who is the more elated, Miss Henshaw, who bred Sealand Career, or Miss Viola Proctor, his American owner. That they are both tremendously delighted is quite sure, for few, if any, Toydogs is quite sure, for few, if any Toy dogs have caused such a furore as he and triumphantly won their way into the hearts of canine people on the other side of the Atlantic. He again stood out in his breed section, was premier in the Toy dog group, and stood third best dog of all breeds at Boston show, where the international judge, Theo. Offerman said "he was about as wonderful a little piece of miniature dog flesh as has been seen for many years." This was Sealand Career's third successive win at five point shows, making him entitled to the prefix of Champion—all in fourteen days, a record time for a Pomeranian in America. Ch. Sealand Career is the seventeenth champion Miss Proctor has owned, all in thirteen years. Amongst her other imported dogs to earn the prefix are: Chs. Eastney the Gem, Wastney Gaylord, Chiswick Beppo, Eastney Orange Pippin, Eastney Gold Puff, Goldspeck Imp, Perivale Pride of Perfection, Fire King, Perivale Golden Bracket, and Young Black Gentleman of Pomona; and she has bred three champions, Radiant Dream, Radiant Tiny Tim, and Radiant Lady Sandra. A wonderful record, and one that reflects the greatest credit on their owner.

ABSOLUTE IDENTIFICATION

In a large kennel, sometimes it is rather difficult to tell positively "which is which" and "which is 'tother." Not only has it been found difficult. It is also quite dangerous. As a matter of fact, the "danger" has been conceded. Such a kennel is the "Ormsby" Kennel of James F. Strachan, Montreal, but the matter of "mixing 'em" holds no terror for the "Ormsby" management, and tattooing has solved the problem.

Two hundred wire haired fox terriers, more or less, are kennelled at "Ormsby," and if anything untoward happened to the Kennel Manager, Mr. Armistead, Mr. Strachan, or anyone else for that matter, could walk into the manager's office, and by checking the numbers in the ears with Mr. Strachan's private kennel record they would know instantly and positively the name and breeding of any animal, and if the owner or manager met anyone in Winnipeg, New York, China or Jerusalem and the party said "this dog came from the 'Ormsby' Kennels at Montreal," a look into the ears and the claim would be instantly and authoritatively established or denied. The ear would show the number of the dog as tattooed when a puppy, not only by the number, but also by a letter marking the birth year G. 1929, H. 1930, I. 1931 and further by two letters specially assigned to the kennel by the Canadian National Live Stock Records Office, and considered to be the kennel trade-mark. For instance, Volume 34, page 321, C.K.C. Stud Book shows "Ormsby Venture" (91720) Tattoo A.A., right ear, 58H left ear. Mr. Armistead declares this system of identification to be positively the finest thing in the world.

When the writer was shown the paraphernalia some years ago, by the Canadian National Live Stock Records, he believed that it would fall down in practice, but in this respect, he was greatly in error, as it is now established beyond any shadow of doubt, that the system is as practical as it is desirable and fool-proof. When we visit a kennel and ask "what dog is that?" or "what bitch is that" and we are told by the owner, we wonder if he can tell positively and accurately. Tattooing makes everything reliable and authentic. Mr. Armistead is a pretty shrewd gentleman, and he declares "Tattoo them, and then anyone can tell as much as the owner or his manager."

Mr. Armistead may be away a couple of weeks, and the kennel help may get the dogs mixed up, but that does not worry Harry any, because his tattooing is his protection, and he honestly believes that the practice should be made compulsory as far as all registered Live Stock is concerned, so that identification would be beyond the possibility of doubt. In any case, whether the practice is to become compulsory or not, Mr. Armistead is satisfied that the "Ormsby" Kennels are to continue with tattooing and when he comes across the man or woman using an Ormsby-bred dog in any other way than the way he was bred, it will be a matter of "May the best man win."

If any breeder of dogs contemplates adopting the tattoo system of identification he should apply to the Canadian National Live Stock Records, Ottawa, Canada, for allotment of breeders' letters, which letters will be registered for the exclusive use of that particular person. Information will also be furnished by the Canadian Live Stock Records regarding tattoo instruments, ink and directions as to how tattooing is properly and effectively done. Canada's largest specialty kennel declares that tattooing is the last word in authenticity in record keeping, and he knows.

"A CHINAMAN IN SUSSEX,"

By Andrew Soutar.

There are few indeed to whom Mr. Soutar's name is not familiar—always a vast number eagerly awaiting the publication of his latest book. That he is a great lover of dogs is likewise well-known, and herein he brings his talents to bear on this, in these sketches of the doggy world, in a manner that is as novel as it is clever and amusing.

"Wun Lung" is a worldly-wise old ruffian (in the affectionate use of the word), the doyen and sage of a large kennel of show Pekingese in Sussex. His rather unfortunate experiences in early life have invested him with a cynical wisdom that is a constant source of joy from page to page. No social problems or aspects of every-day affairs in the lives of the "humans" are too abstruse for old Wun Lung—he airs his opinions on them all. One is kept in a perpetual chuckle, and wonderment as to what he will say next. I particularly commend readers to the chapter on a dog show, where the dogs show their owners, and the gossip is absolutely true to life.

No little insight too is afforded into the care and management of Pekingese in one of the largest and most successful kennels. The book is lavishly illustrated from natural photographs; and will form a valuable addition to the library of every lover of the Peke.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

For June—"the month of roses"—we have something different to present to our readers, something from the "land o'cakes." The Irish Wolfhounds, Kerry Blue Terriers, Salukis, property of the Misses Doyle of the Buchan Arms Hotel, Broxburn, near Edinburgh, Scotland. No doubt some of our readers will be well informed concerning this inviting hostelry that is known as the "Buchan Arms."

At the Granuile Kennels, Irish Wolfhounds take pride of place, and the magnificent Fonar of Bradbys retains his position as chief favourite and looks as well today as ever, and still adding to his long list of wins. As a stud dog, he is quite one of the best in the Motherland; all his progeny grow to immense size, great bone and substance, and are of beautiful type. He is sire of the well-known winners, Dermot Asthore of Granuile—sold for a big figure—and The Lone Jewel of Granuile, one of the best young bitches brought out for some time. She was first in a big variety puppy class at Dundee, first at Linlithgow; third and reserve at the Scottish Kennel Club Championship Show in graduate and limit classes.

The magnificent litter of puppies depicted speak for themselves. There must be several big winners there. Kerry Blue Terriers are prime favourites. Glengowan Blue Dusk, a lovely type, has not been shown much recently owing to maternal duties, and has excelled herself; her young son Felinn of Granuile, by Ch. Diehard Tailtean, is the living image of his famous sire and is bound to reach the top with ordinary luck. Then, there is another great young dog, Shaun of Granuile, by Int. Ch. Blue Sensation, ex-Jay's Pet, a glorious headed fellow, with a grandly moulded body, absolutely sound, with a grand colour and texture of coat. He has yet to make his debut, which is sure to be a great one. The stud of Salukis has grown; Zeraide of Granuile has had a wonderful litter by Orchard Soad.

Another lot of outstanding merit, is by Sarena Kishta, and Naima of Granuile is the sire of a superb lot ex-Naomi of Tulloch; then there is the handsome black and tan Horam of Granuile, whose wins include third Cruft's, first Richmond, third Kennel Club Show, besides many others last year; and last but not least, the founder of this branch of the kennel, Aziza of Grevel, a big winner in England, Scotland and Ireland and the dam of many winners.

The kennel is well worthy of a visit and the Misses Doyle are always pleased to see any one interested in the breeds they have done so much to popularize. Visitors from the United States or from Canada are particularly invited to visit the Granuile Kennels.

As information we would say that the top part of the illustration shows Naima of Granuile, The Lone Jewel of Granuile and Shaun of Granuile. Bottom part shows a litter of Irish Wolf Hounds by Fonar of Bradbys ex. Sulhamstead Donetta.

AT POINTE ST. CLAIRE

On Sunday, May 10th, a little party, which consisted of Tom and Mrs. Ritchie, Ted and Mrs. Warren and "Ye Editor," motored from Montreal to Pointe St. Claire to pay respects to Madame de Beland of "Pomona" fame. Arriving we were delighted to find the Madame sufficiently strong to enjoy receiving us. Naturally the discussion was dogs, their breeding and showing, and it was all obviously relished by our good hostess.

It was a treat to meet Miss F. O. Henshaw, the breeder of the sensational Pomeranian Ch. Sealand Career (Ch. Woodfield Diamond King ex. Sealand Caress) now owned by Radiant Kennels, Wenham, Mass. Sealand Caress is now in whelp again and Miss Henshaw will be in England when the "babies" arrive, and as soon as the "all's well" is hung up on the bulletin board, the mindful "Flo" will return to Pointe St. Claire and her care for her mistress again. Madame Beland is as cheerful as could be expected in view of the near calamity that has overtaken her.

Just as a Great Providence had ordained it, there is a litter of three "Pomonas" that are as even as they are real. Each one is quite outstanding for quality and Madame Beland is much comforted by their presence.

The few hours soon spent themselves and good-byes had to come. It was the genuinely expressed wish of all that Madame Beland would have the pleasure of seeing her precious Pomeranians in competition at the forthcoming Ladies' Kennel Club show next September the fifth.

"TO BE, OR NOT TO BE—"

That is the question" that has the attention of the directors of the Central Canada Exhibition at the present time. It is no secret, that the Central Canada Exhibition dog show has been a source of worry to the directors for the last two or three years, and it has only been in consideration for the loyal spirits that have always been identified with dogs in the Capital that the show has continued to this date.

Prior to 1915, the dog show held in connection with the Central Canada Exhibition was conducted by the Ottawa Kennel Club and those of us who are considered "landmarks" at the Ottawa show will recall, that ribbon prizes was the attraction that drew the entries good or bad as the entry would show. In that year the show was taken over by the Central Canada Exhibition with all indebtedness and Wm. MacDonald, the present Vice-Chairman was chairman in charge.

Since 1915, the Central Canada Exhibition has offered several hundreds of dollars in prize money each successive year in order to make the show attractive and to augment the entry, and it is felt that the response has not been commensurate with the offering. It is true, that after charging everything pertaining to the show to the dog show account, a profit was shown and all indebtedness was wiped out, but it is also true, that the directors feel that the show is not the success it ought to be.

A dog show building second to none in the Dominion of Canada is a feature at Ottawa. Courtesy and consideration are elements that are always present and that have often been commented upon in the most favorable manner. Still the entry was invariably quite discouraging, and because of that the directors feel now, that unless the 1931 fixture justifies it the show must necessarily be discontinued.

Fanciers should realize and remember that Dog Shows have been held at Ottawa, since before the days of the Canadian Kennel Club itself, and for the fixture to be discontinued would be little less than a calamity to organized dogdom, so surely the 1931 response from exhibitors will be the answer to the vexatious matter now so perturbing to the Central Canada Exhibition directorate.

In order to give the proposed discontinuance of this splendid show a fair trial, the most energetic and practical Committee of all time has been entrusted with the fixture. John W. Brant, a man that is known to every breeder of pure bred dogs in Canada, has been selected to act as Chairman of the Dog Show Committee, and although Mr. Brant is not a dog fancier as we understand that term, nevertheless, he is a known organizer of tremendous ability. Associated with Mr. Brant are Wm. McDonald of the Ottawa Citizen, and all that that at once implies as a newspaper man is always an asset to any Committee: W. J. Bell, R. H. Briggs, T. E. Gunderson, Allan C. McGuirl, H. Mason, J. Milner, John Ritchie, E. A. Runions, Major Drew Thompson, and M. M. Walsh.

Soon the premium lists (the best in the history of the Show), will be in the mails and intending exhibitors from the United States and Canada should file their names at once to receive a copy from the Exhibition Manager and Secretary, H. H. McElroy, Journal Building, Ottawa, Ontario, and when plans are being made for the circuit make sure that reservation be made for the Central Canada Show, as this fixture must be attained at all costs.

ROSE COLORED GLASSES

Mrs. H. E. Batt, of the Haldon Scottie Kennels, at Guelph, Ont., believes in looking at the dog game through rose-colored spectacles, and is looking forward to patronizing the complete circuit starting at Central Canada, Ottawa. Same as last year, unless some club claims dates prior to Ottawa, and allows the circuit to start earlier.

"Everyone seems to be talking hard times," says Mrs. Batt, "but it is no use missing the shows, and allowing the dog game to suffer if one can possibly prevent it," and of course, we heartily subscribe to this sentiment: "The Show Must Go On."

The Canadian National Exhibition is anticipating greater entries in Scotties this year than ever before, and separate classes will be made for puppy dogs and puppy bitches. This is also a sign that the C.M.E. are looking at the brighter side of the game too.

Ch. Walnut Baroness whelped a nice litter early in April, and we may see a Haldon Baroness take her place in the line and in her turn, turn the championship trick for her enthusiastic mistress.

NOTED DOG TRAINER DEAD

Death has removed from the ranks of bird dog men, H. O. McArdell, of Brynmarl, B.C., at the comparatively early age of 56 years. Mr. McArdell had been a member of the Canadian Kennel Club since 1927, and his correspondence was always welcome because of its invariable cheerfulness. Mr. McArdell came into Nanoose to get some groceries, and to get some business done on the telephone. At the Arlington Hotel he complained of pains in his chest and lay down to rest awhile, and alas never to rise again alive. The cause of his death has been attributed to heart failure.

The deceased, who was exceptionally well known in Old Country, Canadian and American sporting circles, was one of Canada's most prominent breeders of pedigreed dogs, making a specialty in Labradors, and his famous kennels at Nanoose will be continued in operation by his sons, Bernard and Hubert.

A native of Shropshire, Eng., aged 56 years, the deceased served in the Great War with the First Sportsman Battalion of the 23rd Royal Fusiliers, and was wounded in action. In 1922 the family left England for Canada, residing at Burnaby for a period of six months, two years on Lulu Island, and for the past six and a half years at Nanoose.

A sportsman in every respect of the word, the late Mr. McArdell was probably the best posted man in the province on horse racing and dogs. He knew all the noted horses of England and Canada by book and by reason of his extensive travels in England and Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Canada and the Eastern States, had a fund of knowledge which made him an instructive companion and a man who it was a pleasure to meet. His passing will be deeply regretted not only in Nanaimo and districts where he had a host of friends but also in many parts of the world, especially in sporting circles. This week he was to have left Nanoose to take charge of the largest kennels in Alberta and recently with a few friends he celebrated his 56th birthday anniversary.

LICENSING JUDGES IN CANADA

The members of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., at the Annual General Meeting of the Club, held on Friday, February 6th, 1931, endorsed the following amendment to the Dog Show Rules by a majority vote:

"All judges shall be licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club. Judges residing in Canada shall be recommended by the Chairman of Directors for the Province in which the applicant resides. All applications from outside of Canada shall be dealt with direct by the Board of Directors at Toronto. No fee shall be charged for judge's license."

This amendment became effective on May 6th, 1931. For the convenience of those interested applications in duplicate have been prepared and are now obtainable from the Secretary, Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., 25 Melinda Street, Toronto. Copies in duplicate have been sent to all Provincial Committee Chairmen as an added convenience for the use of applicants.

Application forms when prepared and duly sworn to before a Notary Public, must receive the following attention:

Applications in duplicate from persons resident in British Columbia must be sent to W. H. Pym, 406 Vancouver Block, Vancouver, B.C.

Alberta, to R. S. Tyrrell, Bottrell (via Cochrane), Alta.

Saskatchewan, to A. P. Semple, Cor. Queen and 13th St., Regina, Sask.

Manitoba, to George Kynoch, 50 Whitehall Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

Quebec, to R. A. Ross, Ville St. Pierre, P.Q.

Maritimes, to A. V. Martin, 3 Watermain St., Halifax, N.S.

Residents in Ontario will send for application forms to the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., when such forms have been filled in and sworn to before a Notary Public, they must be sent to Secretary, Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, Ont.

Residents outside of the Dominion of Canada will send for application forms to the Secretary, Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and when such forms have been filled in, and sworn to, they must be sent to the Secretary, Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., 25 Melinda Street, Toronto 2, Ontario, Canada.

It is respectfully suggested that all parties desirous of securing judging privileges in Canada, should make application at their earliest convenience so that the show giving Clubs may be in possession of information covering all available licensed judges.

THE EYES OF THE BLIND

By Witty Warren, Montreal

Peg's mother had been quite careless,
And her father had been quite slick,
That's why Peg had the head of a Poodle

And the form of an Irish Mick!

But she had the brains of a human,
Oh! she was wondrous wise and kind;
That's why the Almighty chose her,
To act as eyes for the blind.

Peg roamed from the day she was born
She knew no bed but the ground,
Till one day the dogcatcher caught her
And carried her off to the pound.

There she mixed with the other homeless,
(Some were sold at a dollar a leg);
Some were claimed by their thankful owners,

But nobody wanted Peg.

She was nearing the lethal chamber
When God by His infinite plan,
Sent a dirty kid with a greasy dime
To buy a dog for a poor blind man!

And now let me paint you a picture—
They're both running down the street—
A dirty kid with a happy smile
And a mongrel at his feet.

They ran till they came to an alley
In the heart of the sodden slums,
Where dwelt Dan, the sightless beggar,
Who lived on rich men's crumbs.

As I said at the start of my story—
Peg was so wondrous wise,
That's why the Almighty chose her
To act as blind Dan's eyes.

She led him each day to a corner
Where he sat with his tin in hand,
And beside him sat Peg, the mongrel,
The proudest dog in the land.

Have you noticed how terribly hollow
Coppers sound in a blind man's tin?

If not, then, my friend, I ask you

To listen when you drop one in;

And think of this little story

And the moral of my rhyme,

"WHY GIVE THE BLIND A PENNY
WHEN YOU KNOW YOU SHOULD GIVE A DIME!"

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Editor:

I would like to call attention to the proposed system of licensing Judges in Canada. No doubt this measure will do good, but only to the extent that only competent judges in the fullest sense of that term are to enjoy the privilege of judging.

We have had altogether too much of the "so-called" or "would be" variety of judges, who, in my opinion, have got by on their nerve alone, and not because they understood fully, the breeds they undertook to judge. No doubt we have some judges who have a fair knowledge of all breeds, but there are many who do not have that knowledge, and the "powers that be" must substantially protect the fancy by determining as far as possible, the ability of all applicants for judging privileges.

I trust that I may be considered in order, when I suggest, that a judge may not be granted license to judge, unless he has had practical experience in the breeds he sets out in his application. Theoretical judging will always give preference to people instead of to dogs in the belief that "so and so must be in the ring with a good one." Experienced fanciers are often crucified with this kind of judging, and it should not be tolerated. In fact, the governing body should be able to make such judging well nigh impossible. Perhaps it is not too much to say, that it is this very thing that causes most of the bad feeling, suspicion and misunderstanding that is so prevalent at so many shows. What can be so disheartening to an exhibitor than to realize that a good dog is placed below an inferior specimen for the reason that the judge is not sufficiently qualified to be able to place them correctly in the order of their respective merit.

I consider too, that a good, honest and capable critic representing various breeds and reporting to the Official Organ, would be a means of causing our judges to be more careful of their undertakings. If other breeders feel as I do in the matter of unqualified judges, I hope they will join me in airing our views in cold type, and in an open and fair-minded manner through the columns of our own magazine, Kennel and Bench, and so cease the endless and destructive comment as heard on the street corners throughout Canada.

—A. ROBERTS.

The London Show

It was a very inviting show that was held at Queen's Park on Victoria Day by the London Canine Association under the guidance of President E. H. Liver and his active Secretary Gilbert Jackson. The response from the fancies to the premium list was in the neighborhood of 150, the great majority of which were seasoned campaigners of known quality, and a real pleasure to look at.

Bert. Swann, Toronto judged all breeds and he was busier between noon and midnight on the 25th, than he has been during any similar period of time for a long while, nevertheless, he seemed to be in no hurry and his work showed his ripe knowledge of his dogs.

The whole was a quiet show nicely conducted, and a compliment to Mr. Lever.

Owing to this report being really Stop Press news, we refrain from making further comment on the Show at this time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
Kennel and Bench.

Dear Sir:—

With reference to the Show held on May 9th here in Montreal on behalf of the Canine Society, it is my pleasure to express their thanks to exhibitors and all who contributed to make it the success it was.

Unfortunately, several exhibitors did not receive prize ribbons towards the end, but if they will be good enough to get in touch with the writer, these will be mailed on receipt of any request made.

Canine Society of Montreal,
R. H. WADDELL, Sec'y.

IN PRAISE OF A DEAD DOG

In the gutter of the market place of an eastern town lay a dead dog, to the disgust of the passers-by, "How loathesome!" said one, and turned his head.

"Pah!" said another, "how he smells!"

"Look at his protruding ribs," said a third.

"He has not enough whole skin on his carcase to make even a shoe-string!" said a fourth.

"No wonder he came to a bad end!" said a fifth.

Then a gentle-rebuking voice broke upon the chorus of calumny, saying, "Pearls are not equal to the whiteness of its teeth." And the people drew away, whispering, "surely that must be Jesus of Nazareth, for who else would say a good word for a dead dog?"

This story was found written upon some ancient tablets. Has it not a message for us today?

TRIMMING THE TERRIER.

Anybody may own a terrier, or breed a terrier, but for every person who owns one, there are a thousand who are in absolute ignorance of the science of trimming one. Will Judy of "The Dog World," Chicago, has sensed this condition and he has just placed on the market a very complete chart which covers the subject of trimming the whole family of terriers that have to get this attention. No secrets have been withheld and the chart is as educational as it is interesting.

On strong paper that can be hung up in the kennel (framed or unframed), the chart has been printed and it is now obtainable at $1.00 per copy or 3 copies for $2.00, and orders may be sent to Mr. Judy direct or addressed to Kennel and Bench office, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto.

JOINS THE WIRE RANKS.

George Hatcher, Toronto, of Boltonia Pekingese fame, has listed in the ranks of the many and faithful that follow behind the banner of the Wire Hair Fox Terrier, and we hear that four bitches have been secured from the Burlington Kennels of Robert McAdam, Toronto, as foundation stock.

Of the four bitches referred to, two are by the recently crowned Ch. Stormy Boy, (Ch. Stocksmoor Storm, ex Mullagh Fly, a granddaughter of Ch. Talavera Simon). One by Knockout's Replica, and one by Brock Bridgroom (Int. Ch. Welwire Barrington Bridgroom, ex. Dogberry Frivolous Imp.).

George knows blood lines and his Pekes showed his skill without question, and should he take to breeding "Wires" seriously, he can be depended upon to bring plenty of knowledge into his breeding plans that will show itself in the animals which he will breed.

Canadian Dogs at Morris and Essex

The fame of the Morris and Essex outdoor show having continued to spread throughout the land, it was not surprising to find an augmentation of Canadian dogs and Canadian fanciers attending this most attractive and magnificent outdoor exhibition, held on the polo field of the Girakda Farms of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge, on Saturday, May 24th. The spectacle as seen from the "Lodge" being beyond description. It will be suffice to say, that the thirty-one breed featured were comfortably enveloped in 100,000 square feet of canvas—one hundred thousand square feet, just imagine it, in comparison the "tented cities of Barnum" become insignificant.

Each breed has its own commodious ring and judge, the judging commences simultaneously, and when the judging is over, there is very little effort made to hold the exhibitors, nevertheless it is a fact, that thousands linger around enjoying the feast that so pleases the age and await the splendid attraction of the Groups and Best in Show judging.

The waiter was pleased to notice, that the "Scottie" chosen by R. A. Ross, Montreal, as "his best" was a powerful contender for Best In Show, and also, the "Pom." chosen by "Joe" Greenwood, of Beamsville, came from the Toy Group as a contender for the higher honors, The Bedlington that came to the Terrier Group from Capt. H. Dudley-Water's ring was a nice one, and although implaced in the Group, this representative animal was much admired.

When the "select of the show" came before Walter H. Reeves, Belleville, the picture was indeed beautiful entirely satisfactory and particularly so in the non-sporting Group when the Bulldog "Glenarden" Dusky Ruth placed 3rd, and we remembered that "Glenarden" was the prefix of Chas. S. Webber of London, Ont., with a quiet dignity Mr. Reeves paraded the six animals selected by the thirty-one judges out of an entry 1,921 excellent and representative animals and each one a real contender, so great was the enthusiasm, that lightly clad men and women in great numbers, seemed not to notice the chilling winds that followed a warm though rather cloudy day. Outstanding in the minds of those qualified to judge, were the Cocker, the Scottie and the Great Dane, by and by it was conceded that the real battle lay between the Scottie and the Dane, having in mind Mr. Reeves' well-known distaste for our trimmed terriers, or dogs of other breed for that matter, the writer felt that the battle would eventually be one by the Dane, here was an animal of great character, substance and as sound as a silver dollar, and finally when the handsome solid silver Trophy of immense size was awarded to Ben F. Lewis, an untiring and sweating handler the crowds let loose in a splendid outburst of approval.

Camera men seemed to spring from everywhere at once, and the dog, handler, judge, steward, Mr. and Mrs. Dodge and a few others closely allied with the great undertaking were photographed the show closed, and like the Arabs, the crowds folded their tents and silently melted away.

The shepherd dog club of Canada had four representatives on hand to see the show, and no doubt to meet Lady Kitty Ritson of Cobham, England, who so efficiently judged shepherds here, and who will judge the breed on the beautiful Woodbine grounds in Toronto on June 20th, the four included Ed. Yates, H. McDowell, C. Covey, Wm. Unthank, and no doubt they considered the long drive of some 1,200 miles an effort well worth making, and with this in mind, we must refer here to the gigantic task which the "Wards" undertook, from Oakville to Madison, N.J., for the 24th, and to be back at London, Ont., on the 26th. The "Ward's" on this occasion included Grandfather, Father, and son, and they say the handlers job is "all velvet"—we know different.

Wending our way through the extent of the show grounds, we encountered, besides those already mentioned, Price, Mrs. W. C. Routley, Major Ward Wright and D. Nickle, all of Toronto, and Mrs. Jos. Greenwood, who accompanied her husband on the trip. We understand that a couple of well bred Irish Setters of famous breeding will follow Mr. Nickle to Toronto at an early date. Major Ward Wright was amazed at the magnitude and magnificence of the whole setting and frankly said so, and it would not be a bit surprising to see something in the manner of an open air show materializing in Toronto as a result of the Major's impressions.

Famous Dog Dies

By M. U. BATES,
Metagama, Ont.

"Old Chum," known to thousands of readers of the sporting journals, and famous for his exploits as a highly trained trick and hunting dog, has taken the "Last Long Trail." "Old Chum" was an Airedale, owned by M. U. Bates, of Metagama, Ontario, who writes the following tribute to a faithful four-footed friend. His master recalls that when he was purchasing the afterwards famous dog he was told the puppy would be sold cheap as he seemed "rather stupid," but was a "large, strong pup, and would develop into a good strong sled dog." He afterwards became one of the most famous dogs that the North Country has seen, having an intelligence that was almost human and a responsiveness to training that was really marvellous. There were several roles, writes Mr. Bates, to which he could adapt himself: hunter, guard, trick dog, movie actor or team leader at will. His most useful role, however, and the one in which he seemed to take the most pride was in locating persons lost in the woods. To accomplish this it was only necessary for his master to give him a note and show him the general direction which the lost person had taken. Then, with the command, "Old Chum, fetch!" the intelligent animal, seeming to know instinctively what was required of him, was off. Several times persons who were hopelessly lost were saved from a dreary night in the bush, if not more serious consequences, by the ability and sagacity of this faithful dog. On the note which "Old Chum" carried the master usually wrote: "Follow the dog; he will bring you out," and it is not hard to imagine the relief with which the message and its bearer would be welcomed by the lost one! Like most humans, "Old Chum" was not without a touch of vanity, and on the performance of all such exploits his tail gave ample evidence of the pride he took in his accomplishments. He had numerous other feats and tricks, such as finding of articles lost in the bush or on the trail, and he had been known to back-track as far as two miles over broken, hunting country to find and retrieve a hunting knife or other object dropped by his master. The tricks by which he was best known to the hundreds of persons who knew and loved the old fellow were the unlocking or unhooking of doors or gates; the opening and closing of doors; "guarding" his master or any designated object; and woe betide the person who made a false move once "Old Chum" was given the word to "watch!" At first he had to be told to "close the door!" Later, all that it was necessary to say in his hearing was "kind of cool here, 'Old Chum';" but his coup de maitre was attained after he became older and more highly educated, and when in the presence of assembled tourists and loudly after hearing the casual remark other visitors he slammed the door "there's a suggestion of frigidity in the atmosphere, 'Old Chum'!" That never failed to "bring down the house," and when he went out to visit the guests at the various camps after that the choicest bite of meat and an abundance of petting were always sure to be his reward. Out in the bush, however, is where he was most at home, and as his master took him out daily on hunting or trapping trips since the time he was a mere puppy his knowledge of the woods and of the woods people was nothing short of remarkable. Once when only eleven months old he saved his master's life by leading him out of the bush when lost in a blinding snow-storm. At six months of age he located and watered a badly wounded moose which would have escaped to die a lingering death in the woods had it not been for his sharp nose. Another time when off on one of his surreptitious winter hunts with a hunting mate the temperature dropped to fifty below. For five days and five nights they slept out in this bitter weather, the temperature at night never rising above the thirty-five below mark. As he had always slept on a warm rug in his master's library, he was given up for lost. On the evening of the fifth day, however, after a continuous search he and his mate were finally found. He had caught and killed a big deer; they had made beds for themselves deep down in the snow, and when found were sleek and fat, and it was not without some reluctance on his part he could be induced to leave his kill and cozy snow nest and return home. On another occasion while still a young dog he caught and held at bay for almost an hour a full-grown moose. The master hearing the commotion, and thinking it was a bear he was fighting and fearing for the dog's safety, made his way through the bush to where the noisy battle was in progress. The sight which met his gaze was a unique one: Standing on a large, flat rock was a full-grown moose, while leaping around her with the speed of lightning to escape the death-dealing blows of her sharp hoofs was a small ball of black and tan fury. It was his biggest quarry since the day when, a mere puppy, he drove the wounded moose to water; and was he proud of his find! His frantic tail, when he saw his master approach, saying as plainly as words, "Just look what I've got for you now, master!"

"Old Chum" (leading) on the trap line in the days of his youth

But no more will his velvety brown ears rise in eager expectation at his master's approach, nor the soft brown eyes search the spaces for his coming. Mayhap, however, on the mystic trails that lie beyond the evening they may meet again for another glorious romp and enjoy again golden, care-free days in the haunts of the mystic white-tails. To a brave hunting dog and a true and faithful pal, Good Hunting!

"Old Chum" as a well trained leader

Saskatchewan News and Notes

EXACTLY a month ago we made our first appearance as editor of the Saskatchewan page. We asked for letters, if possible from every dog fancier within the province, describing the news and gossip of the district. Well, a pile of letters and clippings that stands about four inches high is the result. Yes, the plot worked.

Now the thing is to keep it working. We'll require letters like that every month—about yourself, about your friends, about your dogs. If the readers of this page who live in Saskatchewan will set aside an hour or less each month—a small percentage—then we can have a steady stream of news material throughout the year. We hope the opinions of the page will represent all parts of the province. Letters are and will continue to be the answer—and no introductions required.

If some club or community feels it is not getting its share of print, it might be a good idea to appoint some one person as regular correspondent. As Kennel and Bench will be published in the future on the first day of the month, it is necessary that news matter reach here before the 15th.

Somebody is always claiming new titles. Here's one that will make the big town men take notice. Rosetown, although it has a population of only 1,500 claims to have sent more dogs out to the various shows during the past six years than any city in the province. This does not say "more dogs per capita"; it says simply "more," and the Rosetown people mean it.

Looking over the list of entries at the large shows in recent years gives one every reason to believe their claim is a very logical one. Rosetown fanciers have heavily patronized even the parlor shows.

A movement is under way in the town to organize a kennel show. The local fanciers have surveyed the district and believe that such a show could bench from 100 to 150 dogs, with the Rosetown itself providing fifty of this number.

Can such a record be equalled by any other town of the same size in the Dominion? The Rosetown fanciers politely place a chip on the shoulder to say that it can't. Collies, Bulldogs, Police Dogs, Scottish Terriers, Springer Spaniels, Setters, Retrievers and even a Chow are among the breeds represented; and now there are one or two fanciers who desire a Fox Terrier, preferably wire, in order to complete the collection. A show here at an early future date seems quite feasible.

Contributing Editor,
W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

Regina will hold a parlor show on the evening of Wednesday, June 3, according to a decision recently made by the club. Archie Semple, our Saskatchewan director, will judge. The object of this show is to raise money for a C.K.C. show, on Boxing Day, December 26.

Regina seems quite alive these days. O. J. Dean, of Pom fame, is getting his Bulldog ready to complete a championship this year. Russian Wolfhounds are becoming increasingly popular. Messrs. Jack Favelle, Pickering and Brown are having quite a time deciding who will have the best. But then, Mr. Mann, Wolfhound breeder of the same city, must be reckoned with. He has a habit of upsetting calculations, and is sure to be in at the kill.

This is the day of the emancipation of women. A few years ago they were battling for the franchise, and they got it. But voting once every four years didn't seem much exercise. So now they have invaded other fields. The Regina Kennel Club has had its membership swelled recently by a large number of new lady members. The ladies vote one way or other on every motion.

That well-known fancier, J. Stapleton, of Regina, has recently had a strange mixture of good and bad luck. "Ch. Corselet's Son-of-a-Gun," one of the West's best Springer Spaniels, was poisoned last fall, and within the last few months, "Trent Valley Firecall" and "Flashlight" have also gone to their rest. But sales are coming in as fast as ever. Four dogs have just been sold, one to Paddockwood, Sask., one to Jameson, one to Reston, Man., and one remaining in Regina. He has just bred "Pierpoint Bouncing Floss" to "Eskdale Chocolate Bar," a son of "Ch. Corselet's Son-of-a-Gun," owned by Lawer G. Barr. Recent purchases include two promising male dogs.

For the first time in the history of the city, Moose Jaw will have its Annual Kennel Show judged by a woman. She is Mrs. M. C. Edmiston, of Ralston, Nebraska, U.S.A., the unanimous choice of a recent meeting of the Moose Jaw Kennel Club. As far as it is known, this will be the first time that a woman has donned the ermine at any show in Western Canada. The fact should prove a good drawing card for the lady fanciers.

Mrs. Edmiston has a lengthy record as a judge and has had years of experience as a handler. The show, to be held this year on June 30 and July 1, promises already to be one of the largest ever held in the city. Business houses are behind the scheme as usual and are donating specials that will go to make a most attractive prize list.

A splendid downtown building has been procured, ensuring comfort for exhibits and exhibitors. The show-room has ample light and sunshine, with rows of windows on three sides, and is one of the largest halls in the city.

The Moose Jaw Kennel Club has had five successful shows to date, and hopes to make 1931 a four-point show. Enthusiasm is high among fanciers of the district at the present, and, with support from the outside, it seems quite possible that the goal may be reached.

Irish Terrier fanciers will be pleased to hear that Moose Jaw will be represented in the future with some real daredevils. Hugh B. Crawford has imported a beautiful female Irish Terrier direct from Ireland, J. R. Jackson, M.R.C.V.S., of Culbourn Kennels, Coleraine, being the breeder. "Culbourn Molly" is out of "Sporting Girl," a big winner in the British Isles. She has several sisters already champions. Her sire, "Brantvale Bombardier," is also a prominent winner. Before leaving the Emerald Isle, "Culbourn Molly" was bred to "Ch. Culbourn Conn," and has since produced two males and three females that look like history-makers.

A new Wire fancier has made his appearance at Eatonia, Sask. He is A. M. Defoe, a Justice of the Peace in that town, who recently purchased a male puppy from the Mutual Kennels, Moose Jaw.

"Ch. Antrim Bridesmaid," of the Mutual Kennels, has just produced a splendid litter of four males and two females, sired by George Tyson's "Int. Ch. Beckside Bonus," whose home is in Vancouver.

Some time back Saskatchewan fanciers gave a little thought to the forming of a Fox Terrier Association, and the name Mid West was suggested.

Since discussing the matter more fully, it was thought that the association be called the Saskatchewan Fox Terrier Association, as Mid West might easily overlap in its meaning with the clubs of neighboring provinces. Other suggestions as to name include the term Saskatchewan All Terrier Club.

If fanciers feel that such an organization would be helpful to the furtherance of the breeding of more and better Terriers, the writer would be pleased to hear from them. At this season when fanciers are meeting at the shows, the matter could be more easily discussed and machinery installed to run the concern. Suggestions and comment, then, are quite in order.

Friends of Mrs. Riome, who is an enthusiastic member of the Moose Jaw Kennel Club, will be sorry to hear that she is now confined in the hospital, following an operation. We planned to attend the Medicine Hat Show together, taking along a half dozen entries, but all arrangements, unfortunately, had to be changed.

American breeders are repeatedly stealing considerable Canadian business. Like the American business man, the American fancier realizes the value of advertising and uses it to increase his sales. There is no better medium for getting in touch with prospective buyers of dogs than through a recognized fancier's magazine. The attractive rates of Kennel and Bench offer an opportunity that should, it seems, be taken advantage of by wide-awake Saskatchewan breeders. This page will partly serve to keep interest alive in Saskatchewan matters, but its financial rewards are small unless backed up by direct methods.

J. McCormick has purchased an extra smart Black Cocker dog, "Calmas Brigadier" (93470). "Brigadier" is exceptionally well bred, William G. Climo, Calgary, being the breeder. Mack intends mating his new purchase to his red female "Vandalu Patsy." This new arrival to Moose Jaw should prove a valuable addition to our Cocker breeders. We believe he is the only registered black stud in the "Friendly City."

It's no wonder Alderman Hamilton is proud of his Kerry Blue and Bedlington Terriers, for both are splendid specimens and, being the lone specimens of each breed here, folks are naturally interested to know what they are and where they come from and "What do they use those dogs for, mister?" Can someone tell them? In our next issue we will try and publish their breeding. It may be interesting to fanciers of these breeds.

Vice-President and Elected for Life Ring Steward Chas. Hume, of M.J.K.C., suffered a great loss when his charming Irish Setter, "Hume's Irish Girlie," disappeared during the winter — lost or stolen, more probably the latter. She was one of the very best and the fact that she was heavy in whelp to "Madoc Chief" made the loss all the harder. No doubt "Chas." is looking out for another to fill her place. It will have to be good.

Mr. Robinson of Parkbeg, reports: 9 Airedale Puppies out of "Mooscan Pat," sired by "Rockcroft Cleland," these puppies are being booked up fast. For "Pat" has the reputation of being a great gun dog, both on duck and chicken. His owner says she will stand or point equal to any Pointer or retrievers tenderly to hand. Is there anything an Airedale can't do, that any other dog can do?

Springers will surely come to the front, for Bob Edwards has purchased a puppy to fill the place left by his old dog. After "Bob" gets through talking to you about this future field worker, you just feel that you can't purchase one quick enough.

In closing these notes, may we ask for news from points N., S., E., W. We could have pages of interesting news from Prince Albert and other northern points. Let's make July issue bulge with Saskatchewan news, news that is news, and of general interest to all fanciers.
