"Most Satisfactory Prepared Dog Food on the Market"

CH. YEN OF TSAO SHIH

Mr. Renton wins $5 with this beautiful snapshot and his interesting letter.

July 12, 1932.

Dr. Ballard's Animal Food Products:

I enclose a snapshot of my dog, Ch. Yen, which I would like to enter in your competition. I have used Dr. Ballard's Health Food consistently for several years and in my opinion it is the most satisfactory prepared dog food on the market.

When I discovered Dr. Ballard's Health Food several years ago, I commenced feeding it regularly to my dogs and I have had such excellent results that I have used it ever since. Yen's picture will give you some idea of what I mean by excellent results.

Since I began feeding my dogs on your food, I have found that their coats are more glossy, they have been free from skin trouble, they have enjoyed excellent health and I find that the dogs actually prefer it to other foods. From the way my dogs have thrived on it I can only conclude that it must be a well balanced ration. Certainly it is very convenient and it enables me to regulate feeding so that the danger of over-feeding is eliminated. This, in my opinion, is very important, particularly in the case of house dogs.

I have also had excellent results with breeding and have produced many strong, healthy pups by feeding Dr. Ballard's Health Food to the mother before the birth of the litter.

I consider it a privilege to say a good word for a product that has given me such complete satisfaction and that has undoubtedly saved me the expense of doctoring and medicine. Wishing you every success, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

J. A. RENTON.

BOSTON TERRIER CLUB OF CANADA AT PLAY

On August 13th, the officers, members and friends of the above club sojourned to the "Miles" place on the Lake Shore Road for a day's outing in a social way.

Prizes for various contests were eagerly striven for, but the prizes for the lady and gentleman, who had bred Boston Terriers for the greatest number of years were the outstanding attractions. Mrs. J. Tompkins won for the "oldest" and in this respect was joined with the club's president, W. L. McGill. "Old wine is best" they say, and the thoughts of the old timers turned naturally to their old confrere in Bostons, the late Mrs. W. C. (Midge) Ingram, whose old home was within a stone's throw from the Miles' Park, where the picnic was held. It is rather nice to realize that those of us who have been spared to continue in the dog game, will very often—on occasions such as this—allow our minds to travel back to former days, and quietly commune with the older players who have been recalled from the Sport.

Maritime News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
Robert B. Laskey, Saint John, N.B.

AS advertised elsewhere in Kennel and Bench, the Halifax fanciers are benching two shows in the same building, the same week. Quite a saving in expressage and exhibitors travelling expenses, for extra winners points under different judges. It is now confirmed and a printed fact that Chas. C. Sullivan, of Saint John, will judge all breeds for the Nova Scotia Exhibition Show, Oct. 17 and 18. "Charlie" Sullivan is well known beyond these provinces-by-the-sea as an experienced exhibitor, breeder and student of many breeds. He has judged all breeds before in Saint John with credit. We feel sure he will do justice to himself and exhibitors alike.

This will be the tenth show season of the N.S.K.C. and the twenty-fifth year of the N.B.K.C. These milestones of decades and jubilee years are and should be commemorated in some timely way—featured in the prize list and catalogues. The Nova Scotia Kennel Club Inc. have benched repeatedly the largest dog shows in the Maritimes. Many times since their first show a Nova Scotia owned dog won the supreme honor for best exhibit over all. Because their dates have been favorable, Quebec and Ontario entries have won many winners points here under some of the best judges on the continent, such well known adjudicators and authorities as:—Frank Addyman, Chas. G. Hopton, Alfred Delmont, Vinton P. Breese, Freeman Lloyd, Walter H. Reeves, also Robert A. Ross, who is to fill his second appointment in Halifax and fourth visit to these provinces as judge.

It is expected extra efforts will be put forward by the show committee to outdo all former shows—so back them up—send in early every possible entry.

With food prices down so low, advantage seems to be taken by breeders raising more puppies—no puppies, no sales—for show time, when dog publicity is at the peak.

"Rosedale" Pom Kennels, Saint John, have recently had some quick sales, two for export. "Rosedale Miss Bubbles," by "Ch. Tommy Tucker of Melbourne," ex "M. Opal" was sold to T. McMahon, Brooklyn, N.Y., and "Rosedale Miss Lou," by "Melbourne Gold Midger," ex "Panseretta Flossie" to a Mr. Clayton, a Massachusetts visitor. Another of the same litter as "Miss Lou" was sold to a new local Pom fancier, Chas. McLaughlin, Saint John, this one a brood bitch puppy. "Rosedale Miss Tresa," also a companion female, "Rosedale Miss Peggy," out of "Melbourne Nesta" by "Trixie Triumph." With this useful pair Mr. McLaughlin is making a good start—we wish him more than beginners' luck. There is always room on the top for high class specimens of any breed.

Fred Dayment is another local breeder who has had a flair in Poms for some years. His first Toy was a blue Pom bitch imported from England about 1915, with no breeding results until he purchased "Princess Sparkling Gold," a Canadian-bred out of "Melbourne Molly O," by "Ch. Chiswick Gold Star." "Princess" mated to Miss Gillis's "Topsy Triumph" produced "Sonny Boy," probably her best winning son. The popularity of this Toy breed is vying for chief place with Pekes; these promise a big entry at our shows.

The New Brunswick Kennel Club, whose show will be in full swing by now, is most fortunate in having for Superintendent such a capable, efficient and energetic dog fancier as John Scott, whose ambitions are not dulled by his years, yet time has passed him more than the Biblical quota of three score and ten—his youthful ways belie the years—may be like Tennyson's brook, "go on forever." A life-long resident of Saint John, a happy father of a large family, who have sympathetic eyes and ears for his hobbies, fancy fowl, pigeons, canaries and the canine race. "John," known to all local sportsmen, was invited to judge the poultry show for the Saint John Exhibition Assn., but passed up this attractive offer to superintend the Dog Show, a duty he has performed gratis nearly fifteen years for the Club. Known as a local authority on poultry, we know him best as a successful dog breeder, owning at present four well bred parti Cockers, two Irish Terriers and a couple of prize Wire Fox Terriers whose awards annually appear in these columns. His latest success as a breeder has been with Irish and Fox Terriers, bitches that have produced very promising puppies—all sold. He bred "Irish Idol"; she won the special, seven entered, for best Irish Terrier under Walter Reeves. His last litter of Wires out of his "Tillie" bitch, were by the American bred sire, "Justamearwire," imported by our late respected friend, Robert Smith. It is men like John Scott who have been faithful to the fancy—rain or shine, win, lose or draw—that has kept the New Brunswick Kennel Club thriving these twenty-five years.

This season we are assured of better things by the return to exhibiting after an absence of years, experienced breeders who can fill the gap made by some who have passed on; also we have new exhibitors, breeders, too, who are benching for the first time on the Maritime circuit. We welcome them and wish them all success!

All you owners of Setters and Pointers that boast good noses and field qualities and would like to start your dog on early covers or field trials, have an opportunity now with competition under field trial judges, good prize money offered by the North American Cover and Field Trial Club, whose headquarters are Fredericton, N.B. Write Wm. G. McIntyre, Richmond St., Saint John, N.B., today for entry forms and information. He will tell you the exact date, somewhere near the middle of this month. With three covers to choose from the place will be chosen where the birds are most plentiful. It is proposed, too, that an open air specialty show will be held under Canadian Kennel Club rules. Quite a number of American entries are pledged to come, qualified officials and experienced judges promise to make this a two-day event sporting dog men will remember.

The Canadian Fancy

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ontario.

CONSIDERING the interest shown by the members at the annual general meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club in the discussion which took place over one championship rating, it is strange but, nevertheless, true that very few clubs have sent any suggestions to the committee appointed by the president to go thoroughly into the rules and regulations and bring them up-to-date. The writer, like many members of the club after listening to the discussion on the present point system of the Canadian Kennel Club, felt that the present system was obsolete and that showing clubs needed a rating that would conform to present conditions. A few clubs have sent their suggestions in, but there are still a large number of clubs throughout the Dominion to be heard from, and if those clubs would call meetings of their members and thoroughly discuss our present rating and send the result of the discussion it would greatly assist the committee in their endeavour to formulate a rating which would be fair and workable in all parts of the Dominion.

The Boston Terrier Club of America are to be congratulated on having the courage to remodel their standard. The alteration in the new standard differs from the old standard in color, black now being permitted. The alterations are as follows: "Ideal color brindle with white markings, the brindle to be evenly distributed and distinct, black with white markings permissible, but brindle and white preferred. Ideal markings—white muzzle, even white blaze over head, white collar, white breast, part or whole of forelegs, and hindlegs below hocks. Disqualifications—Solid black, black and tan, liver or mouse color, Dudley nose, docked tail or any artificial means to deceive the judge." As regards last sentence, "Any artificial means to deceive the judge," I would like to hear from those responsible for drawing up the new standard exactly what in their opinion constitutes "any artificial means to deceive the judge." Does it include excessive preparations for the show ring, such as evening up the blaze on the skull and blackening the muzzle? Unless I hear to the contrary I intend to disqualify any Boston shown when I am judging that I consider has been "artificially prepared for the show ring"; in other words, faked. In the writer's opinion it is quite time that some steps should be taken to try and stop the artificial coloring that is so prevalent, not only with Bostons but also with Airedales, Irish and Welsh Terriers.

Airedale Terriers have really staged a great come-back across the ocean. At the recent Windsor show "Warland Prefect" gained the Special for Best in Show and also at Leeds Sam Bamford did particularly well with "Walnut Supreme," and "Aristocrat" was Reserve Champion at both shows. I suppose Mr. Bamford will have both these terriers competing at the National Kennel Club.

Coming back from the last meeting of the directors, the writer and Captain Dudley Waters paid a surprise visit to the Vivadora Kennels. We were pleased indeed to hear that sales had been particularly good and more than interested in trying to forecast which of the "Scotty" puppies would be the New York puppy winner. A news item of particular interest to Wire-haired Fox Terrier breeders is that probably before these lines appear there will be an addition to this famous kennel, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy having induced the great English breeder and exhibitor, Captain Phipps, to part with "Talavera Tantalus," a most consistent winner at championship shows and a terrier that will go far when fully matured, in fact one of England's best judges considers that "Tantalus" is the best young dog out at the present time. This is certainly interesting news. Bred as he is, by "Ch. Beau Brummel" ex "Talavera Cleopatra," who is by "Ch. Talavera Sun," "Tantalus" can hardly fail in being equally successful as a sire.

Speaking of "Wires" reminds us that we received a very welcome letter from Harry Armistead, the manager of the Ormsby Kennels. The writer is particularly interested to hear that at Notre Dame St. E., Montreal, there are a number of really promising "Wire" puppies. May one of them turn out to be another "Lightning." If this could happen the writer feels sure we would see one of the most popular Canadian fanciers, James F. Strachan, taking as active an interest in "Wires" and shows as he did before he became interested in hockey. Harry writes that sales are particularly brisk, in fact the kennel is now down to normal, considerably over a hundred terriers having found new homes during the last few months.

A reliable correspondent from Montreal sends pleasing news of the increased interest that is being taken in bulldogs. Miss Rafton's recent importation, "Cloverley Bridegroom," a real bulldog, I am given to understand, of the low cloddy and massive type, is proving that he possesses the ability to transmit to his progeny the sterling bulldog qualities for which his strain have always been noted. A number of the best known breeders have already availed themselves of being able to breed their best bitches to "Cloverley Bridegroom." Then Mrs. Boyle of Verdun, P.Q., imported from England a son of the great "Ch. Pugulist," the dog that has more championship to his credit than any bulldog of all times. Little did the "bulldoggers" that were present at Patterson Court, Redhill, Surrey, the home of Mrs. Edgar Waterlow, to celebrate the coming of age of "Ch. Nuthurst Doctor"—after he had won his twenty-first challenge certificate—ever think that this wonderful record would ever be equalled, much less passed. "Ch. Nuthurst Doctor" was somewhat of a disappointment as a sire, but before he passed to the "great divide" he sired "Ch. Nuthurst Lad." "Ch. Pugulist" has not only shattered all previous show records but he also has proved a very successful sire. Bulldog breeders in Canada should, therefore, be grateful to Mrs. Boyle for importing "Son o' Pugulist." Miss Rafter has availed herself of the opportunity and bred two bitches to "Son o' Pugulist" and has two very nice litters. A very few years ago Montreal was quite a hotbed for bulldogs, and my correspondent writes that Messrs. Malovitz, W. Ogden, Hibbs, Smith and others are all helping to stage a real comeback. Bulldogs, like some other breeds, suffered severely during the war, and it is about time that the competition should be as interesting as it was in the time of "Nuthurst Lad," "Kitty Royal," "Rival Stone," "Royal Stone," "Centaur," "Rollicking Randy," "Woodend Thaddius," "Kilburn Barrister," "Uxbridge Model," "Uxbridge Mauretania," "Churcham Young Jack," "Connie," "Phul Nana," "Cloverley Bitte," etc., made things so interesting for the other varieties when competing for all round specials.

A very welcome letter arrived from those keen Springer Spaniel breeders, L. E. and Mrs. Wize of Edmonton. They write: We have little news to send; we put an advertisement in Kennel and Bench to dispose of "Vales" last litter and have just received my copy of Kennel and Bench and three letters enquiring about the litter. How the letters came by the same mail is beyond me. Quick returns, certainly. Maybe the Wize's copy of "K. & B." was a day late. It is not often that Springer exhibitors have the opportunity to purchase puppies from a dam which created a sensation by gaining Winners Bitch at New York.

Toronto is fast becoming the "Paris of Dogdom." We now have a beauty parlor for dogs in that city and, we understand, it is already doing a splendid business.

Shepherd dog fanciers must view with a deal of consternation the crusade that has spread all over the American continent against one of the most useful of the varieties of dogs. The cause for this is, first, the Germans themselves who through pure commercialism flooded this continent with many specimens which were not worth their passage across the continent. It has always been an open question whether the tests or trials have not also helped to spread distrust amongst the general public. Whilst the boom lasted here and puppies were easily disposed of from seventy-five dollars and upwards for six weeks' puppies, breeding was carried out without any discrimination at all, in-breeding was carried to such an extent that at show after show the judges were called upon to judge a number of specimens which were nervous wrecks, with the result that several judges were badly bitten in the ring. In all my experience I have known no breed that were favored with such a boom; but the bubble has now burst and unless the few real fanciers we have, such as Alex. L. Gooderham, Col. J. N. MacRae, and others take active steps, it certainly looks as if the Shepherd will, before long, have to compete in the miscellaneous class. R. M. Cleveland, one of the best authorities we have, in a recent issue of "Popular Dogs" wrote very optimistically of his favorite breed. He is of the opinion that the breed is now on a sound basis. He writes:—"For a time it became a common recreation to label every animal that bit a child or attacked a man as a "police dog." It is safe to say that not one-tenth of one per cent of such stories had any basis in fact insofar as the animals concerned were indeed trained "police dogs." In most cases they were not even German Shepherd Dogs at all. It all hung on the familiar old adage, "Give a dog a bad name," etc. Fortunately the period of such hysteria is waning. Moreover, the popular rush to the breed as a commercial opportunity to make a great deal of money is beginning to wear off. The thing was grossly overdone. The unfortunate Shepherd, naturally very fertile, was subject to mass production methods which destroyed in many cases its inherent good qualities and spread so-called Shepherds which had much better never been weaned, broadcast over the land." I certainly agree very much with what R. M. Cleveland has written, but he might have gone still farther and placed the blame for the nervous wrecks where it really belongs, to the German sellers who flooded the American continent with pedigreed Shepherds which in an earlier part of this article I said were not worth their passage across. I will go still farther and say, from a breeding standpoint, they were not worth the value of a collar and lead. The sooner we have some form of inspection before registration the better it will be for the future of our dogs. Day after day, week after week, it goes on—the unscrupulous dealer passes on to some unwary novice a dog which bears little or no resemblance to the breed of which it is said to be a descendant, and the "herring" attached is a pedigree. This reminds me of a true story. A very well known Englishman living on this side was over in England buying dogs. He visited a kennel over there and the owner, before taking him to the kennel, started showing him the pedigrees of his dogs. The visitor's patience at last was exhausted and he exclaimed: "Never mind the pedigrees, let me see the dogs, they are the only things that count in the show ring!"

One of the most important sales which have occurred in Scottish Terrier circles for some time has recently taken place at the famous Haldon Kennels owned by those enthusiastic fanciers, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Batt. Their kennel was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Macleod of Yorkton, Sask., last fall. These successful Western fanciers purchased from the Batts "Haldon Lyra," and this spring they bought "Haldon Maryella." Evidently the two purchases gave satisfaction, for, like Oliver Twist, they "asked for more." With this object in view, Mr. and Mrs. Macleod visited the Haldon Kennel and before leaving induced a change of kennels and ownership of "Haldon Mary Anne," showing unmistakable signs of being in whelp to "Haldon Cavalier," "Haldon Tessie," a very promising young bitch by "Haldon Julius," and also "Haldon Baronet," a young dog which has already given proof of his potential value. Dr. and Mrs. Batt afterwards motored their visitors to the Wards Kennels at Oakville, where they purchased an Irish Terrier dog belonging to Mr. McCord. They also visited the Rushton Kennel of Wire-haired Fox Terriers and, I understand, were very much impressed with the quality. A postscript to Mrs. Batt's newsy letter announces the fact that the well-known "Scotty," "Haldon Bluebell," is busily engaged rearing a litter of much promise by "Ch. Haldon Julius."

A very newsy letter has arrived from Jack Cottle, the well-known authority on Irish Setters, who lives and owns the Northfield Kennels at Nanaimo, B.C. My correspondent writes "that he and other fanciers living in British Columbia were disappointed that I wrote so little about the Irish Setters that I judged at the Morris & Essex Kennel Club show. Considering the world-wide depression my correspondent continues, "it was certainly wonderful that the Irish Setter fanciers honored you with such a wonderful entry and I would much like to have your opinion of the quality of your classes." Well, naturally I would like to oblige, but I have to consider our Editor and that space is very valuable in Kennel & Bench. Bearing this important fact in view I will just briefly say that I was surprised at the uniform quality of all the classes at the great Morris & Essex show; in fact in many of the classes I had to dismiss, without prizes, several of the competitors which were good enough to win at most other shows. I noticed a very great, all round improvement, particularly so in type and symmetry, but I think Irish Setter breeders could, with advantage to this beautiful variety, pay a little more attention to movement. Several of the exhibits failed badly in hind action. C. F. Neilson's "Ch. Higgins Red Coat" I consider one of the greatest Irish Setters I have ever judged and I am not forgetting the "Boynes," owned by my friend, J. Carberry. Writing of Irish Setters reminds me of the irreparable loss the breed and fancy have sustained in the death of W. W. Higgins' "Ch. Higgins Red Pat." For three years in succession this great "Red Coat" won the Davis Memorial Cup offered by the Irish Setter Club of America for the greatest number of Best of Breed wins made during the year. "Pat" was one of those rare show dogs, being equally successful as a sire. Jack Cottle ends his interesting letter with the following: "I hope you will be able to convince Mr. Weir with regard to the unregistered champions." I will be taking this important question up again with the Minister of Agriculture after the Imperial Conference is over.

Mrs. Mercedes Gibson of Woodstock, Ont., informs me that her kennel of Newfoundlands has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of a daughter of "Ch. Siki," who is credited with having sired more champions than any other Newfoundland. Mrs. Gibson very naturally expects great things from this bitch who was purchased from D. R. Oliver. Particularly interesting is the fact that she has been mated to the exceptionally typical dog, "Ch. Baron." The letter containing this important item of news ends with the following: "I have orders for three females and five male puppies."

SELF PROTECTION IN DOGDOM

There are so many things done in the dog fancy, and in so many slipshod ways, that almost daily we are obliged to listen to tales of woe, and we are daily called upon to help straighten out tangles that should never have "tangled" in the first place, if any common sense had entered into the arrangements.

But let us be more specific. The other day a chap came into the office, at once he sought to leave the impression that he, at least, was all for the "straight and narrow," and that he could never understand how some people could feel when they would "pull one" on anybody, the same as had been "pulled" on him.

Someone had given him a bitch to care for, and the "gentlemen's agreement" had been, that when the bitch came in season, she was to be bred to the "Generous One's" own stud dog, and when the bitch whelped, her puppies would be the property of "Generous Jack," and the bitch would then be transferred as agreed, and thus become the sole property of the "Favored Party." The puppies came as puppies will, and "Generous Jack" took them all away as generous people will do, and then the fun began, as may easily be gathered from such a dialogue as follows, and as related to the writer:—

"I came to get the papers for my bitch."

"Oh yeah! what bitch do you refer to?"

"Why the bitch you gave me."

"When did I give you any bitch?"

"Don't you remember, you gave me a bitch, and told me that when she raised a litter for you, you would transfer her to show my ownership?"

"Why, man, you must be crazy with the heat or something. Do you get this way very often? I never promised to give you a bitch."

"Oh yes you did, and if that is the way you feel about it now, just try and get her back—she's mine now."

But there is no protection.

The "Generous" chap still has the papers and if he is so minded—and he very often is—he just sits tight, and is in a nice position to claim that "so and so" is holding a bitch of his under false pretences, and if the "other fellow" has any desire to prove to the contrary he will very likely go to court, and very likely he will be asked how he comes to have another party's dog in his possession, a registered animal that does not show the "other fellow's" property by the Records.

Such cases invariably reach the Canadian Kennel Club office in the manner already described, or by correspondence. Their variety is practically unlimited. Sincere efforts have been made to bring about the necessary understandings. Very often "Generous One" says "I did not" and the "Other Fellow" says "yes he did," but what can anybody do about it if "Generous Jack" sticks to his argument?

Agreements in Writing

There is only one thing for fanciers to do, if they really want to "play the game," and that is to have all their agreements and understandings reduced to writing, and to have them all properly signed, and the signatures witnessed, and if this measure of protection was rigidly observed, there would be plenty of suspicion and distrust eliminated from the game at once.

Surely we need not emphasize on the foregoing. The whole thing is but a protective business proposition. If it is raising a litter for a "consideration," have the "consideration" protected in writing.

If it is a stud service that cannot be paid for at the time of service have the "reason" and "agreement for the signature of the owner of the service dog to be given at the proper time," in writing. If it is a bitch to keep and to raise a litter, for "stated compensation," have such "compensation" in writing. If it is any one of a hundred possible "agreements" never enter into any such unless you are protected in writing, and failure to so protect yourself is simply to protect somebody who is likely to refuse you protection. Therefore, protect yourself, and make sure you are protected, it is all in your own hands.

STUD REGISTER YORKSHIRE TERRIERS

July 17, 1932—R. Ewen's (Toronto), "Avenue Queen" (C.K.C. 84536), 4 males and 2 females, by Harry Draper's (Toronto), "Ch. Lord Byng" (C.K.C. 31191).

OUR FRONTISPIECE

Our feature dog for Exhibition month is a likeable little chap indeed. "Divor of Gunthorpe," a grey brindle Cairn Terrier, who swears allegiance to the Union Jack. "Divor" was born on August 17th, 1928. He was bred by the astute breeder judge, Mrs. Alice Dixon, that charming lady, to whom the invitation was extended, by the Cairn Terrier Club of America, to judge its most recent Specialty Show, and whose work was so impressive to Cairn Terrier breeders generally.

Since becoming the property of Mrs. George W. Hyslop, of the Cairndania Kennels, Toronto, this typical Cairn Terrier has been on a most extensive invasion of the American shows, where he was aptly handled by Ben F. Lewis. At Boston Eastern Dog Club, Buffalo Kennel Club, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Devon, Huntingdon Valley and Sewickley Shows. "Divor of Gunthorpe"—already an English Champion—made the Championship grade in the United States, and now he is ready to do battle for his third crown in the country of his adoption.

At the Ladies' Kennel Association Show at Olympia last year, "Divor of Gunthorpe" won the L.K.A. American Trophy for best Cairn, the L.K.A. Van Open trophy for best bred by exhibitor and the Lady Evelyn Ewart trophy for the best dog or bitch in show, bred by exhibitor, the only Cairn to have won this honour. The comment of the judge, Mrs. C. Bird, was as follows: "Divor of Gunthorpe," a very difficult dog to pass by, full of fire, with the wicked expression a Cairn should know how to assume. He might appear small, but he is really a perfect little dog with plenty of substance."

Much credit is due to Mrs. Hyslop for the support she has given the Cairn Terrier in recent years, and the popularity that the breed is enjoying in Canada at the present time is very largely due to her great interest.

NEW WHIPPET FOR TORONTO

Peter Smith, Toronto, owner of "My Kitty" and other well-known speedsters of the 200-yard track, has imported a mole-colored dog Whippet from Great Britain. This smart "long-tail" ran into second place for the Lord Lonsdale Cup in England during the 1921 racing season, and because of his breeding and racing record and registration, he will no doubt be a valuable addition to the Whippet colony of Toronto.

Championship Ratings

(Special to Kennel and Bench)

By Director John W. Bruce, Richmond Hill, Ont.

ONE of the most important problems within the Dog World both from the standpoint of the breeder and the exhibitor, is that the Championship rating, and whether the prefix "Champion" on a dog's pedigree should mean merit based upon competition that removes doubt as the eligibility of the animal, or upon mere performance worked out upon attendance at shows without any competition, in which the numerical attendance of animals gives it the right to such qualification.

The apparent injustice of the present practice in the Canadian Kennel Club and the oft expressed term "cheap champion" has awakened a keen interest in this controversial subject, and it is fairly evident that the membership of the Canadian Kennel Club are not satisfied with the present system, hence the efforts of many members to bring about some change, and establish a more equitable and reliable system, a system that would commend itself to all who believe that merit based upon competition should be the sole factor in computing the points of championship rating.

In theory a dog show brings together dogs of all breeds in competition and should have for its objective the attainment of points based upon perfection of standards and uniformity conformation of type decided by judges competent to appraise the same. This, however, is an ideal very seldom realized, as opinions very often vary, and standards in many instances differ. But a dog show also gives to the public opportunities to view dogs and examine them in an effort to see their relative merits and compare them in their own minds with the selections of the judges, competition in the ring proving theoretically that the best specimens receive the awards.

In practice however, it is regrettable that we have to admit that this does not work out properly, and all over this country, because of our system of rating, there are numberless specimens carrying the prefix "Champion," an honor that could never have been secured in the weakest of any desirable competition, and in the judgment of those interested in dog breeding, the condition is indeed an injustice that should be speedily corrected.

A casual survey of the situation speaks for itself. Our readers are very well aware of the facts that I mention, readers who within their own experiences have seen dogs awarded points and securing Championship honors because of lack of competition, dogs which were not even representative specimens of their breed, but our present methods automatically gave them championship honors, because of our now obsolete system of championship rating, and whilst arguments may be adduced that this is to some extent the fault of the judge in awarding winners ribbons, when such should have been withheld, does not help the situation, but rather intensifies the desire for some practical change, it being well known that there are very few judges who will use their prerogative, but rather do they follow the line of least resistance.

In recent years it has been the desire of our membership for some change in rating because of the hardships experienced in securing sufficient entries to make a show successful, and interesting for exhibitors, so much so that our Dog Show Rules and Regulations have been amended from time to time, and as such it appears to some that they now work out to the disadvantage of our exhibitors in various portions of this Dominion, and so creating a feeling of injustice that should not be allowed to exist, and consequently making it more difficult to stimulate the interest and to make dog shows a success, the breeders generally taking the logical position of, why they should aid in raising the points of a show in which they do not share the full benefits. For while one may aid their own breed materially by a few additional entries under the present system, such additional entries would not materially change conditions in which the total number of entries in all breeds would constitute the basis. Take for instance popular breeds like Wire-Hair Fox Terriers, Pekingese, Bulldogs, Cockers, Bostons, Pomeranians, Alsations, etc., where there is always considerable interest, and in which there are sufficient entries in all classes generally to warrant a maximum number of points, and compare them with breeds in which there is less interest such as Newfoundlands, Great Danes, Toy Spaniels, Bedlington Terriers and other numerous breeds who find it difficult to secure competition. Why should popular breeds be sacrificed because of a declining condition, or lack of interest in the less popular breeds when in merit and performance, they are worthy of all that should be theirs by right and not compelled to make sacrifices for such less popular breeds. Then again we have the problem of the authentic count at shows. Many of our Club officials will admit that in an effort to make shows a success and secure sufficient entries to make points, that the entries have been loaded with all kinds of dogs, some of which were often unworthy of being allowed within the precincts of a show. This practice is neither fair or just and should be soundly condemned. However, our system condones this very thing and many dogs today are carrying championship points secured under these conditions, and it now behooves us to give earnest study to the situation and to investigate conditions thoroughly, so that we might with advantage establish a more uniform and equitable system that will make merit alone the sole basis of championship points.

At the present time there are three prevailing systems that are known to most of those interested. That is our own Canadian Kennel Club point system, the English Kennel Club Certificate system obtained only at championship shows and the American Kennel Club system of zone graded rating.

In Great Britain it has been the practice to hold local or sanction shows which has kept alive keen interest in dog breeding, and exhibitors can with ease attend such shows and thereby find out locally the merits of their most valued specimens, such dogs being later put forward in competition in the recognized Championship Shows of the English Kennel Club to secure their three Championship Certificates and thus meet the very best in competition, and this leaves us with an opinion that it is a very sound system, and the dogs with a prefix of Champion secured under these conditions may be truly declared as worthy representatives of their respective breeds. But this system can only be applicable to a country such as Great Britain in which the large centers of population are contiguous to each other, or within easy reaching distances, with plenty of cheap available transportation both for exhibitors and their dogs, and so there can be no great physical barriers, but a casual survey will convince the most ardent that this is not possible in Canada, a land of magnificent distances, where transportation, both for exhibitor and dogs are vital factors making it impossible to bring the dogs of the various cities and provinces together, and I feel satisfied that many who advocate this system, that if they were situated in some of the outlying and far flung portions of this Dominion, they would at once recognize the impossibility of such a system, which could in no way solve our problem, but bring us far more discontent than we experience under our present conditions.

Then there is the American Kennel Club system of merit rating based upon competition and while this might not be ideal, for this can also in a measure assist in producing a degree of cheap champions, still it has a greater degree of merit than our own, and if made universal on this Continent, it would probably work out to the greater advantages of our breeders. However, there are a few important factors we should take into consideration because of our extreme geographical conditions, so as not to make it unnecessarily difficult for the owner of the less popular breeds to secure an equitable recognition of the merits of their dogs. Adjustment of points could still be regulated either by individual provinces or groups of provinces east and west, according to the ability of clubs to hold dog shows. In all shows held under Canadian Kennel Club Rules any dog securing a winners ribbon could be awarded at least one point irrespective of the competition. Another means of encouraging the one dog exhibitor might easily be the circumstance of a dog having met no competition in his class, but such a dog having received a winners ribbon, and so having earned the minimum number of points, if the dog enters his group class and wins the same, he could then be awarded the maximum number of points of the nearest dog that he defeated in that group irrespective of what he won in his own breed competition. The new system could be so framed that the Board of Directors would be charged with the responsibility of adjusting the new system from time to time in accordance with changing conditions, or at each Annual General Meeting the Board of Directors could recommend for approval a rating for each province or group of provinces that would apply for the following year.

While the American Kennel Club system applies to each sex it might be desirable for our purposes to make it apply to each breed as far as the minimum number of points apply, so that in the event of their only being two of a breed showing, and of each sex, they would at least secure one point.

After a very exhaustive study of the situation by attending shows all over the Dominion and of conferring with our members upon this very important subject I am firmly of the opinion, that if we adopted such a system and adjusted it according to our own needs, that it would create a considerably more desirable condition than that prevailing at the present time. There would be a greater incentive for the breeders to stimulate competition in their own breeds, so as to secure the maximum number of points, whereby, under the present system they do not accept much responsibility. The larger and more popular breeds would secure that recognition which is theirs by right, whilst a similar number of dogs in a recognized Specialty Show would be rated proportionately.

The proposed system would eliminate the practice of padding figures and would discourage the indiscriminate and unwarranted entries that are known to be made for the purposes of raising a championship rating, and would establish a more equitable and desirable system of championship rating based on justice that would remove the opportunities of making cheap and undesirable champions.

Under the American Kennel Club system about 70 per cent of the classifications receive the minimum rate of points and the other 30 per cent are divided according to their ability to meet competition. The following table will give some indication which I think would about meet our situation for a start.

In submitting this for consideration I do so because of the action taken at our last Annual General Meeting by adopting a resolution which referred the whole matter of championship rating to a Committee for investigation and report at the next Annual General Meeting, and it is perfectly advisable that a discussion take place through the pages of Kennel and Bench, the outcome of which may guide the committee in coming to some specific conclusions that will aid in solving this most important problem.

The fact that United States tariff duties on purebred dogs, which may be entitled to free entry into that country, are being paid by American importers because of carelessness or ignorance of U.S. Government regulations on the part of Canadian shippers, has been brought to the attention of the Canadian Kennel Club. Through failure to have three-generation pedigree certificates and official transfers to the American importer presented at the United States port of first arrival at the time of entry of dogs, many American importers lose the duty, which amounts to a considerable factor in the purchase prices of dogs and is particularly vital at this time while business is more or less depressed. It has been brought to the attention and is the opinion of the Canadian Kennel Club that this carelessness on the part of Canadian sellers and shippers, whereby an unnecessary 15 per cent ad valorem duty has been assessed American purchasers, has done much injury to the Canadian market for purebred dogs and sales to the United States may seriously decline if this condition continues. On the other hand, an understanding of United States Government regulations affecting the importation of dogs may serve materially in eliminating the loss of duties to American importers and thus contribute to increased sales in the future.

The United States tariff law provides that certain classes of farm animals, including dogs, may be imported into the "States" for breeding purposes by an American citizen, providing these animals are purebred of a recognized breed and duly registered in a book of record recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture for that breed. While the question of duties on these animals comes wholly under the jurisdiction of the United States Customs Service, the matter of determining the purity of breeding for admission into the United States free of duty under the American tariff law devolves upon the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, and free entry cannot be granted unless this is properly determined. The regulations of this Bureau, about which Canadian sellers of dogs should be particularly informed in order that entries may be made free of duty, stipulate that three-generation pedigree certificates and official transfers to the American importer should be presented at the American port of first arrival at the time of original entry. Government regulations outlining these requirements are contained in B.A.I. Order 325 of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, and are quoted as follows:

Regulation 1, Section 2, Paragraph 2. Certificates of pedigree.—Certificates of pedigree for such animals, issued by the custodian of one of the books of record given in regulation 2, section 4 of this order, shall be furnished to the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Section 2, Paragraph 4. Ownership.—Complete transfer of ownership of imported animals from the breeder to the importer must be shown, such transfers to be either officially recorded by the registry associations issuing certificates, or on official certificates of transfer of such associations.

Section 3. Applications will be given consideration in the order in which they are received.—When the application and accompanying papers are satisfactory, certificates to that effect will be issued and forwarded to the collector of customs at the port of arrival and the pedigree certificates returned to the importer or his agent. However, the certificates of pure breeding of the Bureau of Animal Industry will not be issued until the descriptions of the animals submitted by an inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry at the port of arrival are received in Washington. Descriptions will be taken only at the time of entry of animals which are declared for free entry and are accompanied by proper pedigree certificates and official transfers. All papers for animals which do not meet the requirements of this order will be retained or returned, at the discretion of the department.

From Regulation 1, Section 3, it will be noted that it is required that pedigree certificates and official transfers must be presented at the United States port at first arrival at the time of entry of animals. Failure to present these papers at that time will result in one of three courses, viz:

(1) Waive privileges under the tariff law providing for admission of purebred animals free of duty for breeding purposes;

(2) Detain animals at port of arrival until receipt of pedigree certificates and official transfers; or

(3) Return animals to Canada.

Presentation of Papers

In the case of importations of purebred animals, including dogs, pedigree certificates and official transfers must be presented at the American port of first arrival at the time of entry as set forth in the regulations cited above. The port of arrival may not be the customs port of final entry in cases where the first customs entry is for transportation in bond to some other port for final clearance through customs, but the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry specifically provide that descriptions be taken of imported animals at the American port of first arrival. Failure to present these papers at the port of arrival, eliminated animals from further consideration for admission free of duty under the American tariff law, and cases are not considered where papers are subsequently furnished at a customs port of final entry, when such port is not the port of arrival and original entry.

Method of Presenting Papers

Pedigree certificates and official transfers to the American importer must be secured prior to the shipment of dogs to the United States in order that these papers may be in proper form for presentation at the American port of arrival at the time of entry. When shipments of dogs are accompanied, the person handling the shipment may present the pedigree certificate and transfer to the Government inspector for examination. If shipments of dogs are unaccompanied to the United States and are made in standardized crates made for conveying dogs by express, the shipper or exporter in Canada may forward pedigree certificates and official transfers with animals as required under United States Government regulations by enclosing these certificates in an envelope and attaching same securely to the crate in a conspicuous place. This method of forwarding certificates has been employed by shippers for a number of years and envelopes for attachment to crates are obtainable from express companies which are familiar with this procedure.

The Canadian Kennel Club has on hand a supply of B.A.I. Order 325 of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, which Order contains the regulations relative to the importation into that country of animals under the American tariff law, and single copies will be furnished to interested parties upon request. The Canadian Kennel Club emphasizes the importance of breeders and others in this country interested in the sale of dogs to purchasers in the United States to acquaint themselves thoroughly with Government regulations as given above, and it is believed that sales of animals will be measured largely by their understanding of these regulations, and compliance therewith, to the end of saving duties on animals sent to clients abroad.

EXPORTERS!

First things first. Send for a copy of B.A.I. order No. 325. It will be sent to you free. From B.A.I. order No. 325 you will learn how to export dogs to the United States in a manner that will satisfy your customers, the United States Customs, and yourself, and retain for you, your market in the United States.

POM FANCIER DEAD

If ever there was a Pomeranian fancier who retained an abiding and enthusiastic interest in the breed, through all sorts and conditions of discouraging handicaps, that fancier surely was "Tommy" Johnston of Toronto. Any expressed criticism, kindly or otherwise, that was endorsed by sportsmanship would meet with "Tommy's" smiling acceptance, but criticism not so substantially endorsed would immediately be given all the battle that our late friend was capable of giving.

Tom Johnston joined the Canadian Kennel Club in the early months of 1920 and continued his membership until 1923. He had the "eye" for appraising merit in Pomeranians that could only come from constant contact with that breed, and his opinion was eagerly sought by prominent fanciers time and time again because of its infallible worth, whilst his hand held the cunning art of preparation that was almost uncanny.

Like many other good Britishers, Mr. Johnston rallied to the "Call to arms," and like many others he came back in a more or less disabled condition. The very many minor and major operations that fell to his lot from time to time, were just so many experiments made to prolong his life, and as such were wholeheartedly and smilingly accepted. The fight for life was a long, drawn-out struggle, and many a time his friends thought that his end had come at last, but the golden-hearted "Tommy" would turn up at a show, here and there, and

Doggy Ills

If anything ails your dog, give Karswood Dog Powders immediately, and the trouble will soon be put right. Karswood Dog Powders are enthusiastically accepted by the World's leading breeders as the most efficient means of relieving and preventing illness in the dog.

Miss F. Ethel Dixon, of 6, Blackheath Park, London, the well-known lady breeder and owner of Ch. Honeystake, Ch. Karzadoc, etc., etc., says: "Karswood Dog Powders are excellent for bringing on poor feeders, and for getting dogs into condition when they have been ill."

No dog need suffer from loss of appetite. Poor appetite and listlessness are two of the first symptoms of more serious trouble to follow. But Karswood Dog Powders will soon cure the trouble and ward off any further disease. Read this letter:

104, Jamaica Street, London, E.1.
I can truthfully state that after using Karswood Dog Powders on my Alsatian bitch for loss of appetite, as she was a very poor feeder, the results were like magic. Her appetite improved after giving her four Karswood Dog Powders, and her coat, which was rather backward, also improved and began to grow splendidly. I am more than satisfied with same and would not be without them, as Karswood Dog Powders are worth a good deal more than the advertised cost.

Karswood Dog Powders contain specific nerve foods and organic salts not contained in the domesticated dog's dietary, but which are necessary to perfect health. No other dog preparation contains the same ingredients—hence none is so effective for the purpose. Prove this for yourself.

when anyone enquired about his health, he would say with the greatest nonchalance that it was possible to imagine, "Aw, fine, you know, but there are plenty far worse off than I am. You see, I'm still on the go yet." That was characteristic of "Tommy" Johnston.

On July 23rd he succumbed to his old enemy, cancer, and as we have already remarked he only relinquished the struggle after giving many years of battle. A total disability case, his late comrades will readily understand the circumstances. His remains were interred in the beautiful Mount Pleasant Cemetery, where a host of loving and loyal friends gathered to wish him smooth sailing into that Pleasant Harbour where such mariners as Tom Johnston sooner or later are bound to safely arrive.

THET TIMBERSON SOLD

The Wire Fox Terrier "Thet Timberson," imported recently by Geo. W. Bailey, of the Barrack Hill Kennels, Ottawa, has been sold to Mrs. Carl F. Weifenbach, Columbus, Ohio. Another good one sold by Mr. Bailey is "Thet Topsy"; as a matter of fact all the bitches mentioned in Mr. Bailey's most recent advertisement in Kennel and Bench were sold within 48 hours of the magazine going to the mails, and all went to buyers in the United States.

A Wire Fox Terrier dog, and a Smooth Fox Terrier bitch are due to arrive at the Barrack Hill Kennels at any time now, and no doubt, as soon as convenient to Mr. Bailey Kennel and Bench readers will promptly be made acquainted with these importations.

The Alberta News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
J. G. YOUNG, Edmonton, Alberta

I AM very sorry I "missed the boat" for the August issue of Kennel and Bench, but what with Dog Show work and business taking up the majority of my time, as well as my correspondents being somewhat lax last month, there was really nothing very much to write about that would be of interest.

The first show on the Western Canada Circuit this year was held at Calgary by the Alberta Kennel Club. I understand it was the twenty-seventh annual fixture of that Club, and it undoubtedly proved a financial success from the size of the entry and the constant gallery at the ringside. I would like to make one suggestion to those responsible for the management of this Show which would make the judging much more interesting to the spectators, and that is, use the Spratts identification cards for the handlers of the dogs when they are in the ring. If these cards are used it greatly enhances the interest of the gallery and gives them an opportunity to refer to their catalogs to ascertain the name of the owner and the dog before the final award is made. Where classes are large and some dogs receive no awards it is impossible to identify any of the dogs except the prize-winners. Judge Forrest's comments on the dogs exhibited appeared in the July issue of Kennel and Bench, and I am sure the majority of his placings met with the approval of the exhibitors.

From the out of town visitors present at the Show it looked as though the members of the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club were there in force to make the show of our sister Club to the South a success. It is regrettable that the Calgary fanciers fail to appreciate the support our members give their shows with our entries, by reciprocating the favor for our show which is held the following week; however, next year may tell a different story.

Edmonton was not alone in the support of this Show, as I noticed D. B. Young of Shaughnessy, Alta.; A. O. and Mrs. Bean and Chas. Park of Medicine Hat; Norman Gurr of Lethbridge, and the "brither Scot," George Kynoch of Winnipeg, all busily engaged in handling representative specimens of the various breeds.

A great deal of the success of the Show was due to the untiring efforts of the very able superintendent, Jack Fletcher, who was on the job, it seemed, from dawn to midnight, so you can figure out how much asleep he must have had during the duration of the show.

R. A. Cross of Calgary is rather unaware of the quality of the Wire-haired Fox Terriers he owns, as he nonchalantly mentions that he has in his kennels, "Vivadora Masterpiece," who is sired by "Ch. Watteau Review," ex a daughter of "Talavera Simon," and "Trio's Bridesmaid," who is sired by "The Trio" ex "Bingham Flygirl." Both these dogs done very well at the recent shows held in this Province.

Mrs. H. Husband reports the mating of her Springer, "Ch. Freeman of Avandale," to Mr. Goddard's good bitch, "Halcyon of Lynn." It will be recalled by Western fanciers that "Halcyon of Lynn" is the Springer Bitch that did so well at the Westminster Kennel Club Show this spring, so some real Springers should result from this mating.

Norman Gurr of Lethbridge advises that his Shepherd bitch, "Lady Flora of Picardy," who is by Int. "Ch. Falko von Cleve" ex "Bridget of Picardy" (imp.), whelped three males and four females from her mating to "Fritz of Lindenther (Imp.)." While the litter is quite young yet, he feels they should develop into representative specimens of the breed.

Tom Walker of Lethbridge reports that V. W. Williams, E. F. Brierly, "Duke" Wellington and himself had a most enjoyable time at the recent show of the Medicine Hat Kennel Club. They took eighteen dogs with them in a trailer attached to their car, and are all enthusiastic over the hospitality extended them by the officers and members of the show giving club. He also advises he was very much pleased with the winnings of his tri-color collie bitch puppy, "Bonny of Belton foot," who is by "Winsome Marquis" ex "Brookland Belle," and just missed "Best of Breed," being defeated by her grandsire, Vic Williams' well-known winner, "Rose Brae Rising Sun." Mr. Walker is expecting some promising Collies from the mating of his "Brookland Florence" to "Winsome Marquis."

I am sure the members of the Edmonton Club will join with me in congratulating Archie Allen on the completion of the championship of his good Shepherd, "Detleft of Stockade," as well as the breeder of this dog, Ross G. Elliott, who has spared no expense in shipping his "Queen Romani" all over the country to be mated to the best possible stud dogs. Incidentally, "Ch. Detleft of Stockade" is a son of "Ch. Cito von Mundsdorf" from a mating which took place before "Cito" was exported to China.

Mr. Allen reports the mating of his "Ch. Detleft of Stockade" to "Joan of Gold Bond," owned by James Lane of Islay, Alberta. "Joan" is a daughter of that well-known producer, "Shah of Longworth," who disappeared so mysteriously this spring. The offspring of this mating will contain intense line-breeding to the Reidekenburg and Uckermark strains, and something really worth while can be anticipated.

Mrs. Grace Kirkwood is to be congratulated on the success of the two young dogs she exhibited at the recent shows in this Province. Both are exceptionally promising young dogs and when mature should trouble the best of them, and are absolutely sound all over.

John J. Patterson of Edmonton advises that he has a most interesting litter of Newfoundlands, sired by his winning dog, "Turk 2nd" ex his "Carodoc Mermaid." It is good to see a local breeder reviving the interest in this favorite breed.

"Merrie" Cocker Kennels, registered, have experienced a very great loss in the death of "Merrie Lady Betty," from that dreaded malady, distemper. "Betty" was only shown once, at the Medicine Hat Kennel Club Show, where she appears to have contracted the disease, and died on July 13th, 1932. Every effort was made to save this most promising Cocker puppy, but they proved of no avail. While she was only a puppy when exhibited, she was good enough to go to "Winners" over a representative entry of the breed. This kennel also has a most promising black bitch puppy out "on walk." She is the same breeding as "Ch. Merrie Durbar" and "Merrie Duke," who have done so well whenever exhibited. Incidentally, "Merrie Durbar" has never been defeated by any male Cocker at the shows he was exhibited at to attain his championship, and only once defeated for Best of Breed by his dam, "Ch. Merrie Beauty." The officiating judge told "Durbar's" handler that the dog was too big, but apparently the judge had forgotten about the revised weights in the standard of this breed.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club annual summer show on July 19th, 20th and 21st, 1932, was a great success morally, if not financially. The quality of the exhibits generally was highly satisfactory, and the judge's comments on them appear elsewhere in this issue.

I would just like to say a few words with regard to the manner in which W. T. (Billy) Oates of Vancouver, carried out his appointment to judge all-breeds at this show. He was most painstaking in going over the exhibits; had an explanation for everyone who wanted to know his reason why he placed the dogs the way he did, and his manner of inspiring the exhibitors' confidence is most commendable. We have had a number of judges of international repute officiate at our shows during the past few years, but I venture to say that none of them gave as good satisfaction as "Billy" Oates, and the members of our Club look forward to the time when it will be opportune to have him again assume his place of the "woolsack" at one of our shows to pass on the exhibits before him. Mr. Oates is a gentleman of the highest ability and integrity, and the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club can heartily recommend him to any show giving club as an exceptionally efficient judge of all breeds.

Unfortunately, this year the Club was compelled to operate under different circumstances to former years and it was necessary to carry on some of the judging in the evening under artificial lighting conditions. This was most unsatisfactory, and another year all judging will be done in daylight.

The annual banquet of the Club was held on the evening of the first day of the show. Mr. Oates, in his remarks, has commented on this affair, so it is unnecessary for me to say more in regard to same, except that the banquet at Edmonton is one of the features of the show at which out-of-town exhibitors are the guests of the Club. We are very sorry that some of the visitors were overlooked this year, but promise there will be no repetition of this kind in the future.

It was regrettable that the members of the Alberta Kennel Club in Calgary did not see fit to support our show with a similar number of entries as our members did their show; however, as this is the second year that the Edmonton Club has received similar treatment from our sister Club to the South, next year is going to tell an entirely different tale.

Miss M. E. Brown of Calgary, Alberta, reports a most interesting litter of Shepherds, sired by Mrs. A. A. Julien's "Ch. Derich of Cosalto" ex her "Calypso von Braunberg." These puppies have behind them the blood of five champions, including one International Champion, four American Champions and two Canadian Champions, including their sire.

Mr. and Mrs. Render of the "Wymund Kennels," Calgary, have received their latest purchase, "Wrightville Dolly," from George Bailey of the "Barrack Hill Kennels," Ottawa. This bitch was bred before shipment to that excellent Wire-haired Fox Terrier sire, "Thet Timberson," and the next issue of "Kennel and Bench" should contain the results of this mating. Both Mr. and Mrs. Render, as well as their children, are genuine fanciers and deserve the best wishes for success from the entire Canadian fancy.

A. O. Bean of Medicine Hat reports a most enjoyable visit to the show of the Regina Kennel Association, where he was successful in completing the championship of his young dog, "Goldendale Toronado," who is sired by George Kynoch's outstanding Airedale, "Ch. Silverdale Toronado" ex his "Ch. Aberdeen Patricia." This young dog has been exhibited, to complete his Canadian Championship in the three prairie provinces, where he met and defeated the best of them. Mr. Bean also advises of the purchase of three female puppies from W. A. Childs of Saskatoon, who are of the Int. "Ch. Warland Ditto" strain, ex Mr. Child's good bitch, "Rockcroft Miss Briton," which, with proper mating, should put him in line to produce real top-notchers of this popular breed.

Other Medicine Hat owned dogs that were successful at the Regina Show were Chas. Park's Smooth Fox Terrier, "Calgaree Chosen Damsel"; Mr. J. Goff's Shepherd, "Medicine Hat's Pride."

D. B. Young of Shaughnessy, Alberta, advises that he had a most enjoyable time at both the Calgary and Edmonton shows, and regrets exceedingly that he did not have the opportunity of visiting all the kennels he had intended to visit in these two cities. He also informs me that he intends to breed his good Springer bitch, "Little Mistress of Burnside" to Mrs. H. Husband's "Ch. Freeman of Avandale," and if bloodlines count for anything, the mating should produce something good.

Mr. Young is very busy at the present time putting the final touches on the training of the dogs he hopes to use for shooting this Fall, and as ducks and Hungarian Partridge are very plentiful, and as the Provincial Government has lately raised the bag on the latter to two hundred birds for the season, he should have a pretty good time this Fall.

Mr. Young says in part in his communication to me, "I may say that I was very much disappointed in the placings of the Springers in both Calgary and Edmonton (my criticism is unofficial of course), but I feel the time has come that a Standard should be adopted for Springer Spaniels, and judges regulated by same. (Contributor's note: Evidently Mr. Young is not aware that a Standard of this Breed has been adopted by the Canadian Kennel Club in the American Kennel Club's book, "Pure Bred Dogs"). There seems to be at least four types of Springers, but it is left to the Judge to pick out the Winner, not according to a Standard, but just his fancy. The Springer breeder is "out on the desert without a compass," because he does not know what the Standard Springer is."

"George Kynoch, in the May issue of the Kennel and Bench, gives a Standard, which I feel is very good, and (I understand) has been adopted by the American Kennel Club. Why has this Standard not been adopted by the Canadian Kennel Club? If it was, we would have something to aim at."

Chas. Park, the genial secretary of the Medicine Hat Kennel Club, sends me a regular budget of news of the happenings in his locality. He accompanied Jack Goff in his motor car to the Regina Kennel Association Show last month, and reports a most enjoyable time at that fixture. Mr. Goff exhibited his Shepherd, "Medicine Hat Pride," and Mr. Park his Smooth-coated Fox Terrier, "Calgaree Chosen Damsel," and are both very much pleased with the success of their dogs at this show.

Mr. Burrows and his wife of Medicine Hat made the trip to Regina by train, taking two Springer Bitches, "Countess and Marchioness of Alta-wana" with them, as well as their Boston bitch, "Winsome Bunty," all of which were first prize winners in their respective classes. When the Winners Class for Springers bitches was called it was found that "Countess," "Marchioness," and "Helen" of Alta-wana, litter sisters, and the latter owned by Mr. Riome of Moose Jaw, composed the class. It was a real sight to see these three litter sisters fighting it out for Winners Bitches, which was eventually won by "Helen of Alta-wana," "Marchioness" being Reserve.

The banquet of the Regina Kennel Association, which was held in the evening of the first day of the Show at the Saskatchewan Hotel, which is owned by a brother fancier, was all that could be desired. The main topic of the speeches was the recent Medicine Hat Show, and all who attended told of the wonderful reception there, the good building, ring, etc. and advised all present to attend our future shows.

As a result of his visit to Moose Jaw, two of Mr. Burrows' Springer bitches remained with W. Riome, Moose Jaw, and Mr. Burrows has only his two stud dogs, one bitch, his Cockers and his Bostons.

Mr. Park reports considerable breeding activity and sales in Wire-haired Fox Terriers. Harry Champ's good bitches, "Cliff Becky" and "Cliff Flapper" were mated to "Medalta Simple Simon" and "Medalta Nifty," respectively, and both are now showing whelp. Mr. Park's Medalta Patricia has whelped a litter of seven by "Medalta Nifty"; "Medalta Charmaine," a litter of three by "Mutual Divident"; "Medalta Simon's Dimple," a litter of five to "Medalta Kempcraft." A good dog puppy has been sold to Mr. Lienweber, Medicine Hat, another to Mr. Riome, Moose Jaw, a good bitch to John E. Hunter, Calgary, and a dog puppy to R. Brown, Chapman Lake, B.C., and despite the depression, prospects look good for further sales.

Merrie Cocker Kennels, Regd., report the mating of their "Merrie Bubbles" to George Climo's "Ch. Calma's Durbar." "Bubbles" is a litter sister to "Ch. Merrie Beauty," who has already produced that excellent black dog, "Ch. Merrie Durbar," the good red one, "Merrie Duke," so something real interesting should result from this mating for next year's shows.

About a year ago when my friend George Kynoch acquired his Scottie, now "Ch. Normandy Airth," Mr. Knowles, the provincial contributing editor for Manitoba reported that Mr. Kynoch had purchased "Normandy Ascot" from Arthur Wright of Edmonton. This item was corrected in a subsequent issue of "Kennel and Bench," and Dr. Knowles made some remarks about "Ascot." If Dr. Knowles will be good enough to refer to the official reports of the Edmonton and Saskatoon Shows this year he will find a good and sufficient reason as to why Mr. Arthur Wright was enabled to sell George "Normandy Airth" instead of "Normandy Ascot."

It was, indeed, a pleasure to be able to renew our acquaintance with Mrs. M. J. Carr, whose famous "Farleigh" prefix is known all over the continent by breeders of Fox Terriers, both of the Smooth and Wire-coated varieties; as well as that of her charming sister, Mrs. D. Daintrey, who is the most efficient secretary the Alberta Fox Terrier Association could have in that position, at the recent show of the Alberta Kennel Club held in Calgary. Here are two women whose hearts and souls are sacrificed to the breeding of Fox Terriers of either varieties that will make a success on the show bench, and their efforts in perpetuating the breeds they sponsor should be an incentive to all Canadian fanciers to stick to their favorite breeds. Through ups and downs for a considerable number of years, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Daintrey have been loyal to their first-love, the Fox Terrier, and I am sure the time is not far distant when their untiring efforts will attain the success they are entitled to.

At the recent show of the Alberta Kennel Club in Calgary, Mrs. Murchison was showing an exceptionally good Scottie in her winning bitch, "Tayette"; had the writer been officiating on the woolsack, this bitch would have gone to the place she belonged, even though the judge was her breeder. "Tayette" is a Scottie, who was put down in perfect condition, is true to type, and one that can win in the best of company, and is a credit to her breeder, Wm. Forrest, Calgary. But I feel in his placings at Calgary Mr. Forrest was contrary to the well-known saying that "discretion is the better part of valor"; "Tayette" was undoubtedly the best Scottie at the show, and should have been placed accordingly.

The Alberta Director of the Canadian Kennel Club for last year, R. S. Tyrrell, Bottrill, Alberta, was very much in evidence when the classes for Russian Wolfhounds and Whippets were called, and gave a good account of the exhibits he was handling.

It is unfortunate that a disagreement occurred in connection with the judging for the Best Canadian-bred in Show at the Alberta Kennel Club fixture. After Judge Forrest had awarded the best in show to the imported Setter, owned by E. Chevrier of Winnipeg, the only dog eligible to compete for the Canadian Kennel Club Cup for the award of Best Canadian-bred in Show was the Boston Terrier, "Trapystok" Headlight, and the cup was automatically handed to him. My contention is that all "Best of Breed" Winners, which had the good fortune to qualify as Canadian-bred, were entitled to compete for this trophy, although the Alberta and Manitoba directors of the Canadian Kennel Club over-ruled same.

Normandy Kennels, Reg'd., have two most promising litters of Scotties at the present time, both sired by their imported "Albourne Adventure"; one litter ex their "Ch. Heather Lulu," and the other out of a daughter of "Ch. Heather Lulu," who is sired by "Heather Jock" (Imp.), by "Ch. Heather Necessity" ex "Ch. Ornsay Baba." When ready, these puppies will be advertised through the columns of "Kennel and Bench."

[Editor's Note: — Our Alberta contributing editor is perfectly right. The special for the Best Canadian-bred should logically be judged immediately prior to the judging of the Group Classes, and not after the Best in Show award has been made.]

EDMONTON DOG FANCIERS CLUB SHOW

W. F. "Billy" Oates, who judged all breeds at the Edmonton Dog Fanciers Club Show, held at Edmonton, Alta., certainly pays two nice compliments to that energetic organization, when he says, "I venture to say, that there is not a Club in Canada that has a better feeling amongst its members, than the Edmonton Dog Fanciers Club," and "Oh, what a show Vancouver could bench if the fanciers there had Edmonton's harmony." That the compliments paid to the Edmonton fancy by Mr. Oates are well deserved cannot be questioned seriously, as the records show no traces of difficulty following Edmonton fixtures. Mr. Oates is quite enthusiastic concerning the kind and thoughtful treatment that was his from one and all whilst he was the guest judge at Edmonton this year.

Following are Mr. Oates' comments on the fixture generally:

"The first evening of the show the Club had its annual banquet. The banquet was held in Edmonton's leading cafe on Jasper Avenue. The banquet hall was most modern in decoration. I never counted the number present, but I would figure that at least 100 of Edmonton's best citizens were present. The President, Harry Nash, was in the chair. On his right was the Mayor, and on his left the Chief of Police. Both these notables are dog lovers. After speeches from the President, Mayor, and Chief, and all three are good orators for such a gathering, it made a few others, including myself, rather stage shy. The entertainers were J. Jones, Comedian, Miss Kingsbury, Soprano, Mrs. Jas. Scott, violinist, Mrs. Martin, pianist, and I would suggest that these four entertainers form a troupe, as all four are stars of the first water.

Now for the dogs.

Poms — Winners Dog: 'Cairndhu Courtier,' a nice shower, true to type, at present out of coat. Winners Bitches and Best of Breed went to 'Miss Bunt,' a nice one, and when in coat should be sent to where competition is a little stronger.

Pekes — Winners Dogs and Best of Breed, also Best Toy in Show, a particular: 'Moy San of Peiping,' in wonderful coat, beautifully put down, a real showman. A little 'pop-eye,' or would have gone to higher awards. Winners Bitches: 'Daddy Hou Ng Tschu,' typy, in good coat, but very shy.

Bostons — Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Reigh Counts Sensation,' shows lots of quality. Sound. A little larger than I like. Winners Bitches: 'May Art Susanne,' not in show shape.

English Bull Dogs — Nothing outstanding came before me on the day.

Collies — Were good, bad and indifferent, pricked ears and roman nose were very conspicuous. 'Westwood Glenn,' a very nice dog, not just in full coat or would have gone to Best of Breed. Winners Bitches: 'Elmhill Mandy,' a very good one, in perfect coat, which put her Best of Breed.

German Shepherds — Not a large class, but the quality was good. Should have been judged in a much larger ring. Winners Dogs: 'Abarard Dutch 2nd.' A real showman — correct temperament, nice gait, well handled. Reserve Winners Dog: when a little more developed and not so shy will be a strong contestant. 'Fritz II Von Kirk.' Winners Bitches: 'Chloe Von Rudenkenburg.' Nice type, good gait, sweet expression, nice temperament, can win again.

St. Bernard — One only, very 'cow hocked' and he knew it, as he would do nothing but sit down. Winners withheld.

Irish Terrier — Not a large entry. Winners Dogs: 'Gillingham Patrick Boy,' good all over, sound and well handled. Winners Bitches: 'Ch. Erincrest Dignity,' this female could pick up another 10 points quite easily.

Airedales — Nothing outstanding. Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Modland Bob,' starting to show age. Winners Bitches: 'Springlike Peggy.' Good head and front, in fact good all over, but lacked character.

Fox Terrier (Smooth) — Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Calgaree Real Spice.' Showy, sound, plenty large enough. Winners Female: 'Nippy of Acme.' Fair.

Wire Haired — Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Mayart Six Shooter.' Put down and shown 100 per cent. Winners Female: A very nice one, but showed no interest in her surroundings.

Scottish Terriers — Winners and Best of Breed: 'Normandy Ascot.' A real Scottie, beautiful head, front and coat — good tail and a real showman. Reserve Winners — 'Gaisgill Great Scot.' Gave the winner a close race, losing out on length of back and size. Winners Female: 'Normandy Dacia,' and Reserve Winners: 'Normandy Annie' — not in the same class as the dogs.

Chesapeake — A quality lot. Winners Dog: 'Airline Sir Bud,' a good sound one — the ideal color, not quite matured. Winners Bitches and Best of Breed: 'Airline Theresa,' one of the best that ever came before me.

Irish Water Spaniels — I expected a better lot in this part of the country. Nothing outstanding.

Retrievers. Flat coated — Winners

Dogs: a large unruly one, too fond of his master. Winners Bitches: 'Ch. Ellwyn Vanity' and Best of Breed. Full of quality. A perfect shower—slightly on the small side.

Retrievers. Golden—Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Saffron Peter Boy.' When fully matured can meet the best.

Labradors—One only—just a Labrador.

Russian Wolf Hounds—A nice lot. Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'General Brutennelle of St. Albert.' Nice headed one—covers a lot of ground, best of legs and feet, now in good coat. Winners Bitches: a nice type one, going down to Best of Breed though out of coat.

English Setters—A good entry. Condition was noticeable in them all, in great working shape. Winners Dog: 'Trevellen Sailor,' good body, in good coat and feathering, a little thick in the skull. Winners Bitches and Best of Breed: 'Trevellen Tess.' This one can come to the Coast where the good ones are bred and make them all take notice.

Cockers—A good entry, no particular colors. Winners Dog: 'Merry Duke' (red). Nice headed one, good mover, sound, my ideal size, around 25½ lbs. I would like to own him. Winners Bitches: 'Calmas Lucky Girl,' beautiful head, good front, lovely dark eyes, moved well, about 24 lb. Can hold her own with the best out West. Best of Breed—a solid black: 'Merry Dunbar,' a Cocker that is hard to fault, put down in perfect shape and handled smartly. Should be sent to meet hotter competition.

Springer Spaniels—A large entry and a quality lot. Winners Dog and Best of Breed: 'Kim of Kent.' A very nice balanced dog, in perfect condition. Could have a little darker eye. Reserve Winners Dog: 'Freemans Aristocrat,' gave the winners dog a close run.

This breed was judged in the evening, light not so good. If judged in daylight, my decisions might have been different. Winners Bitches: 'Quantock Vale of Kent,' a quality one, nice shower, beautiful head, nice size, put down and handled well, a little straight in hock.

Newfoundlands—Winners Dog: 'Turk the Second,' not enough size. The same goes for Winners Bitches: 'Dinah.' Best of Breed: 'Ch. Shelton Cabin Boy,' a magnificent specimen. After going over him, I thought of my Best Dog in Show. However, he was second best, a little more coat and he would have won the highest award in the show.

Doberman Pinchers—Two only. Show good breeding, both too low to ground.

Group winners will be found in the general report."

CHAMPION FREEMAN OF AVANDALE

"Ch. Freeman of Avandale" is from the kennels of that famous breeder, E. Chevrier, Winnipeg. He was purchased by Mrs. Husband when he was only four months old. At Calgary last year, under the internationally noted judge, W. H. Pym, "Freeman of Avandale" was awarded winners and four championship points. At Saskatoon, under Judge George Kynoch, winners and two championship points were added to the record. At Edmonton, under Judge Geo. Climo, winners and still two more points, and at Calgary this year, under Judge Wm. Forrest, "Freeman of Avandale" was winners and a full-fledged champion on his own account.

A comparison of photographs will reveal that "Ch. Freeman of Avandale" is really a replica of his famous and illustrious grandsire, "Ch. Adonis of Avandale," who boasts ten champions on his pedigree.

"Ch. Freeman of Avandale" is a most valuable asset to all Springer breeders located in the Western Provinces, and discriminating breeders should avail themselves of his services before it is too late. He is advertised for sale on a business page of this issue of Kennel and Bench.

W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

FOLLOWING Moose Jaw Show, the attention of Saskatchewan fanciers, was centred on Saskatoon Summer Show. Arriving in Saskatoon, we found the "boys" hard at work, President Hanselman and his faithful band. It's all so very interesting when a show is opened, the public comment on the wonderful dogs, how nice and clean everything is, etc., but it's a different story from the club members, who have toiled hard the night before. Yet we like to do it and next year it will be just the same all over again. Jack Fletcher, the all-rounder, was on the job at 2.30 Wednesday afternoon, and from then on, everything went with a swing. Jack Ayre, the busy Secretary, sees that everything is ready. Jack Fletcher leaves no opening for doubt, and there is no appeal beyond—"Ceaser." For those who were around the show from start to finish, the time was a little long, and the work of judging could just as well have been cleaned up in two days, then those from a distance could have been on their return journey. However, we are not complaining for it was a most enjoyable show, well conducted in every way. We noticed some new faces and new breeds, and also missed some of the old ones. We hope this enthusiastic society will at least break even, for it takes courage for a society to put on two shows in each year. The folks in Saskatoon sure know how to take care of visiting fanciers. The writer, and son Howard, enjoyed visiting Saskatoon homes and kennels. Dr. Cooper, the Saskatchewan Director, devoted the whole forenoon of July 28 for our pleasant visit to the home kennels, where we saw some wonderful "Elmhill" matrons, a couple of litters of youngsters, and best of all, that wonderful Collie "Elmhill Emerald," a son of "Ch. Alstead Eden Emerald." "Emerald" is a grand dog, combining all that a Collie should own. After inspecting this kennel, we visited kennels where "Elmhill" Collies are farmed out, and raised, but no matter where you see them, "Elmhill" quality is stamped right in them. After seeing all the dogs we made a tour of the city, right on to the University buildings. Here, Dr. Cooper explained the past, present and future of each building, from the small stone schoolhouse, the first to be built, to the magnificent stone structures, built from stone quarried within a few miles of the buildings. Most of the buildings are built with squared and coursed rubble, and built to stand the test of time.

The gardens were at their best and the big barns house the most valuable livestock to be found in the province. Before leaving this place, Dr. Cooper found the Young Scotch Shepherd hidden away in the shade of a cluster of Scotch pines. I'm sorry I have forgotten this interesting Shepherd's name. Three keen eyed sheep dogs kept watch beside their master, who had a big flock of sheep under his care. After a most interesting discussion on sheep dogs, trials, etc., we heard all about the doings at field trials, adventures of two of the dogs before us, the third was a young female, whom to us seemed to be a wonderful worker, but her master still wanted to put more finish to her work, before she was master of her job, in his eyes. Our good friend demonstrated to us the ability of the dogs, just a word, a slight movement of the hand, and a whistle, was all that was needed to gather the sheep, or to do whatever that was willed. We next saw a couple of litters of puppies—sired by Will Martin's imported dogs that won the Trials last year, and out of the bitches before us. How crafty these little black and white bearded Collies appeared to be, as slick as foxes, and paying no attention to our appeals to come within close range. Some day these youngsters will be making records for themselves. We could have spent the whole day here, but we drove on to the Government Nursery Farm, where flowers, trees and shrubs were to be seen in grand profusion. This place has to be seen before any idea can be formed of the immensity and beauty of these trees and flowers grown on our Saskatchewan Prairies. Our time gone, we drove back to dinner, and thence to the show, where Jack Fletcher was hard at it, sweltering away in the heat. After the evening show we spent the evening at the home of W. A. Childs. The old "Warlands Ditto" female posed on the lawn for our inspection, an Airedale, second to none, for quality and breeding. "W. A." had, the day previously, received from the East, the little Smooth Fox Terrier that he has sought for a long time in "Gebfe Wilsonia" (81977). She was trotted out for inspection. Now that "W.A." has got his desired bloodlines we may look for something outstanding from this experienced Terrier breeder's plans. Dr. Trench has a great kennel of Airedales, including champions. We had the pleasure of dining at this lady's home, together with Mr. and Mrs. Mantle, of Grand Prairie. Here again the time passed all too quickly, with stories of travel, and dogs, ever interesting. Our friends from the North told us many interesting things about their exhibit, the Norwegian Elkhound "Kruger," bred from imported parents owned by Roy Braxton, Sexsmith, Alberta. "Kruger" probably attracted more attention than any dog in the show. Unfortunately Jack and Mrs. Mantle could not stay until the group specials were judged, being obliged to start their long trek home to attend to business engagements. Much of our time was spent at the homes of Jessie Howe and Jack Ayre. Jessie has still the lead in Chesapeake, his "Ch. Howes Pal," by "Ch. Bud Parker," getting Best of Breed at Saskatoon and Regina.

Jack Ayre is truly a very busy man and keeps his "stenographer" busy taking notes, in between bites, when discussing the ability of his Springers in the field, for Jack has very little use for a Springer that can't work as well as win. Sporting dogs have a charm for Jack and it is no wonder that he has branched out and purchased that beautiful English Setter "Iona Perfection," adjudged Winners bitches at the recent show. We were admiring this bitch on the bench, later to learn that she was by "Ch. Jock of Crombie" and her dam "Vitas Juno."

We were indeed pleased to see at the ringside, when the groups and best in show were being judged, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eagle, of Toy Poodle fame. Mrs. Eagle had the pleasure of seeing her choice exhibits in the ring. Attending the show would be quite an effort for Mrs. Eagle, who has not been feeling just well of late.

Arthur Wright, of Edmonton, had quite a number of dogs at the Hub City fixture. Mrs. Wright arrived at Saskatoon in time to visit the show, as she was on her way home after having visited the Old Country, and needless to say, was welcomed back by all the fanciers with whom she came in contact. We noticed Walter Pym, of Regina, busy most of the time putting the finish on a team of "Wires" and talking Regina show. Walter was well repaid, for we believe he gathered up between 30 and 40 entries, and how that Regina show did go over.

Regina's First Annual Show, Aug. 3 and 4. Judges of Boston's, Sam Jackson, Winnipeg; Judge of all other Breeds, Frank Walsh, Winnipeg.

Regina Canine Society stepped right out and in face of many obstacles staged their first show, and if things go on right, we may in future years have two shows in the Queen City, one held in conjunction with the Exhibition Board, and one by the Canine Society.

But how did they put it over so big? The show was well attended, and went over without a hitch. True, the building could have been larger, but who expected to see so large a show? It meant work, from the President down. Archie Semple was show superintendent, and Harold Pickering show secretary. Walter Pym ring steward and "Bill" Semple, assistant. Jack Favelle, D. Kliman, R. Baker, J. Brown, Roy Kennedy, Geo. Busby, T. Savage, Drs Hewitt and Fawcett, and others will some day have the pleasure of knowing they helped to stage the first club show in 1932.

Probably the most remarkable feature was the number of specials handed out to successful exhibitors. It just shows that the Regina merchants got right behind the Society and helped out in a very liberal manner.

Charlie Crothers and Frank Jackson, of Saskatoon, were at Regina, these two pillars of strength that only slept 1 night out of 5 to put their own show over, trundled down to the Queen City with fifteen dogs, via car and trailer. The first trip of its kind from Saskatoon and Charlie says, "Believe it or not, it's the best way to take them along, they sleep on the way and arrive fresh and ready to give a good account of themselves." Altogether, twenty-three dogs from the Hub City, graced the benches at Regina. Saskatoon hopes that Regina will reciprocate in kind next spring.

We noticed amongst Saskatoon exhibitors at Regina, Dr. Trench of Airedale fame, picking the plums. Mr. and Mrs. J. Davidson with their splendid Collie "Elmhill Cheerio" by "Elmhill Emerald." Jessie Howe, watching Charlie Crothers accepting the winners ribbon for "Prairie Jeff." Jessie's young Chesapeake, by "Ch. Bud Parker."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bean and Son from Medicine Hat did some nice winning with their Airedales, the younger members of the kennel being sired by "Ch. Silverdale Tornado" and out of "Ch. Aberdeen Patricia." By the way, Albert has recently purchased from W. A. Childs of Saskatoon three topping young females out of his "Int. Ch. Warlands Ditto" bitch, and sired by "Rockcroft Crag 15th." Albert looks like being—Sid Perkins the 2nd. We wish him success. There's lots of room for high-class Airedales in the West, and they are coming back fast.

It looked good to see the Medicine Hat boys present at Regina. Mr. and Mrs. W. Burrows, of Altawana Springer Kennels, were pleased with the success of three of their home-bred bitches going to first place in their respective classes, and then "Helen of Altawana" getting Winners, "Countess of Altawana" Reserve with "Marchioness of Altawana" a close runner-up. These litter sisters are sired by "Lammonds Successor," brother to "Lammonds Mike."

Charlie Park, the Medicine Hat secretary, had a couple of Terriers along, getting well placed. Harry Gibson, the "Hat" Collie breeder, was also present. When we parted, these Alberta fanciers all declared they had had a real nice time in the Capitol City of Saskatchewan.

Moose Jaw responded well to the call of their sister city, and many of the benches were filled with Moose Jaw entries, and around the ringside could be seen many who had just come along to see the judging.

We noticed Jack Fletcher and Geo. Kynoch among the ringside, and missed "George" carrying out his usual routine work.

Harold Bentley was a busy man with his Toys, and what a splendid reward he received for his labors.

D. E. McLean had a grand brace of English Setters from Winnipeg, "Iona's Blue Rock" and "Iona's Sweet Marie."

Bob Carter of Assiniboia has been a strong supporter of the shows this year, his Boston, "Reigh-count Sensation" being a strong contender.

We missed our good friend Hughie Leslie of Rosetown. It's seldom Hughie misses a show, and it must have been business reasons or sickness that kept the ardent supporter away. Hughie is building up a splendid kennel of Scotia Collies and next year we may expect to see Collies of high calibre from this district. Speaking of Hughie reminds me that he and Mr. Rothgardt, Swift Current, of Saint Bernard fame, and others may stage a show at Swift Current, in the future. There are other enthusiasts in the district and we offer them every encouragement.

Fanciers will be sorry to hear that Miss Hazel Mabson lost her Wire Fox Terrier female, "Bronwyn Queen", while on the holiday trip. "Queen" had started out with much promise, but sickness overtook her and she passed out. This incident put an end to the joy of the holiday trip, and while a Scotch Terrier female puppy has been purchased to fill the breach, the show at Regina was not the same to the Mabson family, where they had hoped to see "Queen" add more ribbons to her name.

Mr. and Mrs. Raines, Saskatoon, are proud of their Smooth, "Prince," going to Winners at Regina. "Prince" is a born showman.

Wilfred Hoy, of the same city, finished his Irish Terrier, "Erins Typonne Rambler."

With the promise of an abundance of Ducks and Hungarian Partridges and an extended hunting season, sporting dogs appear to be moving and making new friends. Jack Ayre, sold a repeat order to Mr. Tucker, Rosthern, also two females locally, and shipped a puppy to Winnipeg.

The Humberville Kennels, Saskatoon, owned by Joe Burkenshaw, in defiance of hard times has many broken and partly broken "Irish Setters" on hand for this fall's work, also some nice puppies, line bred, from "Ch. Lillies Moose Jaw King," and out of "Nance of Homerville."

Charlie Crothers is busy training for clients, two Irish Setters, two English Setters, and two Springers, when Charlie gets through there will be 6 more ready for field work.

Earl Droppo, of Moose Jaw, is also filling in his spare time with a most promising Cocker, this little fellow will have lots of work this fall and will have to be fast to keep up with Earl's gun.

Phil Lillie, also, has purchased a Cocker female from Winnipeg. Black and White Parti-Color. She is a dandy. Sired by "Calmo's Black Boy" (90849) and out of "Emigrant of Five Diamonds," Imp. (66005). This little lady is a born worker, and will give Phil a lot of pleasure this fall around the small lakes.

Art Goddard is looking forward to some happy days in the field this fall and Art's Springers are in steady demand, for they are well known as steady workers.

James Whalley, of Shaunavon, writes a most interesting letter, chiefly on his Springers, and enclosed some snaps of "Bridgewater Dan" and "Bridgewater June," both black and white. The dam of this brace is "Countess of Burnside" out of the same dam as "Ch. Vale of Burnside." "Dan" and "June" worked well with Hungarians last season. "Dan" would steal away this spring and visit the wild duck's nesting places and come home with a young duck absolutely unhurt, after carrying it a long distance.

On Sunday we had a visit from Harry Shaw, who is spending a holiday in this country after having been back to the Old Land for ten years. The conversation was turned to gun dogs. Harry told us of a friend whom he had been visiting over home who would let his canary out on the lawn; the canary made no attempt to fly. On command an old Springer would walk across the lawn and tenderly take the canary in its mouth and retrieve it to her master. This little performance was often carried out to show visitors just how tender the Springer can be.

Our old friend "Will Wade called recently, and as a parting shot told us that if hunters could train their dogs just one half as well as his was trained there would be some great workers in this western country. There is nothing like enthusiasm.

From D. C. McLeod, Glendhall Kennels, Yorkton, Sask., comes quite a bunch of interesting news. "D. C." has just returned from a holiday trip east, visiting the "Haldon Scottish Terrier Kennels," owned by Dr. and Mrs. Batt, Guelph, Ont. "D. C." says you will know we have seen some wonderful "Scotties." Our Yorkton friends purchased several additions to their kennels as follows:—A young female in whelp, "Mary Anne," sired by "Haldon Gaisgill MacSimon," Dam "Haldon Mari-gold." This bitch is bred to "Haldon Cavilier." Puppies are expected before this appears in print.

Also a young dog to be used at stud, "Haldon Baronet," Sired by "Haldon Storm," Dam "Ch. Walnut Baroness" Imp. "Baroness" was Best of Breed, Buffalo, 1930, Reserve Scottish Terrier Club of America, New York show, 1930. Same wins Detroit, 1930. Best in Show, all breeds, at Ottawa, under the U.S.A. expert Percy Roberts. Another puppy, sired by "Ch. Haldon Julius," Winner at S.T.C. of America, also Madison Square Gardens, N.Y., 1932. Stud by S.T.C. of A. His pups are eligible for Sweepstake, N.Y., U.S.A., 1933. The dam of this puppy is "Cedric Countess." Another purchase, "Haldon Lyra," was left at Haldon Kennels to be mated. Geo. Wards & Sons' Kennels were also visited. At the "Albany" establishment an Irish Terrier, owned by W. T. McCord, of Clarkson, Ont., was purchased. This "Newtownard's Mickey," a good winner, will be used to mate with the Glendhall females and also placed at public stud. Mr. McLeod says in conclusion "that the new additions to his kennels are just what he was looking for, and he feels well repaid for the long journey. The above purchases should be a valuable addition to our Western stock."

Mrs. Nancy Driver is caring for two Boston puppies for Phil Lillie. The dam of these youngsters took a turn for the worse and passed out after everything possible had been done for her. Phil is pleased with the progress these youngsters are making, and gives all the credit to Mrs. Driver.

Howard Riome's White Whippet, "Victory Patricia," has a bonnie litter of five—four Blues and one Fawn—Sired by Mr. Tyrell's "Last Chance," he by "Ch. Edina Dictum." "Last Chance" recently went Winners at Edmonton. "Pat," while of only light weight, proved to be an excellent mother and the puppies are already showing signs of speed. "Gallant Fox," also owned by Howard, went Best of Breed at Regina and completed his championship.

Mr. Williams of Moose Jaw reports a nice litter of Irish Terriers—five males and one female—Sired by the writer's late "Pat Healey." We hope there will be some good ones in the litter to carry on "Pat's" good work.

Glad to get word from our American friend, "Bob" Roberts, of Roberts Kennels, Seattle. "Bob" is a well-known handler and takes a keen interest in all terriers. He looks forward to the Kennel and Bench each month.

This week Mutual Kennels received a promising male puppy from Charlie Park of Medicine Hat. This puppy is sired by "Mutual Dividend" and out of "Medalta Charmaine," she by "Sutton of Kerror."

"Ch. Oxford Fairy" has a litter by "Ch. Chosen Don." Here's hoping they are as good as their parents. Smooths are gaining in popularity. We hope next year to see larger classes of this neat, gentlemanly, terrier.

Choice Puppies Usually for Sale.

Mrs. Driver, Moose Jaw, has disposed of three of her Pom. puppies, sired by "Ch. Surrey Gold Dust" and out of "Lillians Honeydew." One to Miss Elizabeth Hume, Moose Jaw, a male to Mrs. Jeffries, Regina, the third to a Saskatoon buyer. Mrs. Driver has had several offers for her Boston, "Bell Rock Haggerty's Beulah." "Beulah" did well at Regina. She is by "Hagerty's King Laddie" and out of "Bell Rock Queen," but "Beulah" is not for sale. "Ruby Taylor," bred by Phil Lillie and owned by Mr. Noble, has been bred to Mrs. Driver's "Jim Hagerty." This combination should produce some nice Bostons. "Kate Kearney," the Irish Setter bitch, is bred to Charlie Humes' "Ch. Humes Madoc Chief." Four puppies of this mating are already spoken for.

Many of the Moose Jaw dogs were placed high at Regina show. Space will not allow for mention of all these. The show report will give the winners.

Your notes for October issue of Kennel and Bench will be gladly received, early in the month, at 320 Caribou St. W., Moose Jaw.

BOSTON TERRIERS AT REGINA

By Judge Sam Jackson,
Winnipeg Man.

Before commenting on the dogs I wish to extend to each and every member of the Regina Canine Society my sincere thanks for their kindness and many courtesies to me while in their city.

This being my first experience as Judge of Boston Terriers at a Licensed show, my feelings can easily be imagined when, on entering the ring, I find five all-round Judges by the ring-side, some of them with paper and pencil taking notes as the dogs came into the ring, but the feeling of nervousness soon passed off when I started to look the dogs over. There were nineteen entries in Boston Terriers and I cannot truthfully say that we are making much headway in the breed, in the West. There is a complete absence of uniformity of type and breeders here seem to have no objective in their breeding operations and want to breed to the dog that wins, regardless of him being suitable for their female or not.

There were two very outstanding dogs, "Valente's Aviator," bred by Joe Valente, Winnipeg, and "Reigh-Count's Sensation," bred by Mrs. L. B. Daley, of Detroit, Mich., U.S.A., and now owned by that good sportsman, R. B. Carter, Assiniboia, Sask. "Valente's Aviator," to my eye, was the best on the day, being better in eye, better filled under the eye, shorter in back and a better mover. I placed him Winners and afterwards Best of Breed.

"Reigh-Count Sensation," which I placed Reserve Winners, is a flashy marked dog with lots of quality and when he matures a little more will be a hard one to stop.

"Winsome Bunt," the winner female owned by W. Burrow, Medicine Hat, is a very flashy marked one with a good head, nice body and good feet and legs; she should make a useful brooder if mated right.

"Bellrock Hagerty's Beulah," the Reserve Winner female, owned by Mrs. Driver, Moose Jaw, a nice headed little female that is still in the puppy age and when matured should make a nice typey one.

The special for best novice went to "Donnie Laddie," owned by Mrs. Ada Mary Taylor, a very nice headed dog with good feet and legs but shown too fat.

Special for Best Puppy went to "Bellrock Hagerty's Beulah."

British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
R. H. F. PURDON, Vancouver, B.C.

OUR latest Scottish Terrier to become a Champion is Stanley Dorrell's "Gaisgill Great Scot," winning his final points at the Shawnigan Show, his previous wins since arrival in this province being at Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Calgary, this is a splendid run of victories and well worthy of the good terrier I am told he is. Mr. Dorrell has just shipped a promising puppy to Mr. Olson, of Denver, Col., and the following report of splendid litters by him: Mrs. Seiper, Victoria, five puppies; Mr. Henry, of Powell River, six; H. Dodds, Victoria, six; and Mr. Dorrell's own "Gaisgill Dusky Maid," nine; and "Gaisgill Heather," five; Mr. Sitzler, of Tacoma and Mrs. Arnold, of North Vancouver, are expecting arrivals. From time to time, I have seen winners advertised for sale in "Our Dogs" by "Gaisgill Great Scot," so there is not the slightest shadow of doubt about the quality this terrier can produce, they will be a great asset to this increasingly popular breed.

We are glad to hear of a Newfoundland gracing one of our shows and congratulate Miss Rhoda Shephard on winning with her recent importation and hope it will be the means of making this grand old breed popular in our province.

Lord Martin Cecil of One Hundred Mile House, Carriboo, has just imported from England, a German Shepherd dog; he was conveyed from the C.P.R. depot at Kamloops to the ranch in a truck and landed in the best of condition. It is to be hoped that we will have a new exhibitor in Lord Martin Cecil, who will be very welcome at our shows.

John Rose, of Vancouver, has recently returned from a visit to the Old Country, and while in Edinburgh, visited the well known Lilyhill Yorkshire Terrier Kennels. Being so impressed with the quality of this famous Kennel, he was determined to bring something back with him to astonish Vancouver friends, and purchased "Lilyhill Peggy" by "Ch. Blenheim Prince," having her bred to "Ch. Lilyhill Supreme." Unfortunately, the bitch got upset on the journey and the puppies were all lost, his many friends will regret to hear of his misfortune and wish him better luck next time. As a companion for "Peggy," he also purchased "Lilyhill Fairy Queen," now ten months old, and turns the scale at two and a quarter pounds; she is all terrier and full of go. Mr. Rose thinks she must undoubtedly be the smallest Yorkshire Terrier in the province.

On Sept. 23rd, 24th, 25th, will be held the show of the Western Washington Kennel Club at Puyallup, Washington, where our Vancouver C.K.C. Director, W. H. Pym will be first man in the ring, taking all breeds. Mr. Pym's experience is far from being local, he is one of our most extensively travelled adjudicators, and has had the honour of judging several breeds at the greatest show on the American continent. His numerous visits to the biggest shows in Canada and the United States has given him an opportunity such as few have had of studying at first hand the many breeds that are never seen in our province.

Our notes for this issue take a small amount of our allotted space, so do not forget next month.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE KENNEL CLUB SHOW

There has been no show held in Canada in recent years which has been followed by so much favorable comment as this second show of Shawnigan Lake Kennel Club, held on Saturday, July 30th. One exhibitor says, "I was nearly surprised to death when I found my prize was sterling silver and not the gaudy silver plate I had thought it was." Another enthusiast says, "Believe it or not, Mr. Secretary, this is surely the 'Morris & Essex' of Canada." Still another says, "It was really a respite from the ordinary run of dog shows to be privileged to exhibit one's dogs at Shawnigan Show." All of which is enthusiastic appreciation of the efforts of President Mrs. H. A. Rhodes, Secretary C. W. Lonsdale and the other co-workers behind this very pleasant fixture.

The illustration shown herewith would seem to suggest great possibilities for out-door shows in Canada, and we add our own felicitations to the Shawnigan Kennel Club management. The judges were Miss L. Hickling of Nanaimo, who had charge of the Toy section; T. P. McConnell, Victoria, who judged the Sporting end of the show, and Jack Meadows, Vancouver, who judged the other breeds.

The show was held on the pleasant Lonsdale School grounds, a school operated on the lines of Eton and Harrow, and representing an investment of some $300,000. The dogs were benched in the huge gymnasium and the rings were arranged on tennis lawns topped like billiard tables. Refreshments for man and beast were a feature of the fixture.

Our Canadian Kennel Club Director, Alick (Kilmartin) McCloy, introduced the judges, complimented the officials, and then stepped into Mr. Meadows' ring in the capacity of steward. These things we mention to show the spirit of the occasion.

Judge T. P. McConnell accepted our invitation to specially mention the dogs coming before him on the day, and his comment follows:

"We had no entries in Gordon Setters, which was a pity, as this old breed seems to be dying out at our Coast shows. Irish Setters were but an ordinary lot with nothing outstanding, the winning dog, a big fellow with good color and conformation, but put down in an unfinished state without brushing or washing—a pity, as he did not do himself justice. English Setters had a small entry, due mainly to distemper being in many of the leading kennels of this popular Coast breed. The winning dog, a big orange belton, had a good head, coat and conformation, but was too long in body, a bad mover, and in top company would not be a winner. The winning bitch, 'Rackets Nel,' was a well-built, attractive blue belton, good conformation, good head, but very bad mover behind. The winning Pointer 'Wow,' formerly known as 'Don Wonder,' was a big, fine specimen, good head and conformation, with perfect feet, legs and bone, good tail, a fine up-standing dog that can hold his own in any company. Golden Retrievers, a comparatively new class out West, had three nice specimens shown, "Ch. Speedwell Pluto" being much the best of the lot. He is a good color dog, good in head and other points. Unfortunately he was off the bench when called on to appear for best shooting dog in B.C., so could not be judged for that special which went to the Pointer 'Wow,' above mentioned. Labrador Retrievers were a good class, but with few exceptions lacked the proper tail for this class of dogs. 'Max of Bryn' was much the best of this class, good head, deep chest, proper tail, etc. In the bitches 'Trixie' came nearest to standard.

"Mongst The Pines"—an ideal setting for what has been described—"The Ideal Out-door Dog Show."

"Cocker Spaniels were the most pleasing class I had to judge, particularly the part-colored, each and every one being of the parti-colored good enough to win in any company. 'Naramata Dawn,' just under a year old, was a magnificent blue-ticked bitch, one of the best I have ever seen, of nice size, beautiful clean head, perfect legs and feet, ear carriage good, perhaps a little longer in body than some might like, but quite in proportion to the rest of her make-up. She was perfectly ring broken, showed herself to perfection, and went to best bitch any breed in the show. In the open dog class entered for specials only we had 'Ch. Fellbridge Mark,' an English importation and a good one, now seven years old and showing his age, but a dog with splendid substance, good conformation, and should make a success at stud. Whippets were an exceptional good lot with little to choose between the four shown—all good ones; our choice going to 'Prince of Glasson,' a near perfect specimen, fawn in color and hard to find fault with. He also took special for the best Sporting dog. Summing up the dogs that I judged, the following were my choicest selections:

"The Whippet, 'Prince of Glasson.'
 "The Cocker, 'Naramata Dawn.'
 "The Pointer, 'Daw.'
 "The Golden Retriever, 'Ch. Michael of Moreton'."

NEW SCOTTIE FOR REGINA

H. Middlemas, Regina, has purchased from Alex. Murray, Rutherglen, Scotland, a Scottish Terrier bitch who claims for her sire, "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint," and for her dam, "Ch. Ornsay Baba," and better than all that, Mr. Middlemas' latest purchase has been mated to "Heather Spellbinder," who was reserve champion at Edinburgh and London as a puppy, and is one of the stud forces of Robert Chapman, Glenboig, Scotland. "Spellbinder" in turn is by "Ch. Heather Necessity" ex "Ch. Merlewood Cleopatra."

Notes from Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. B. R. Knowles, Winnipeg, Man.

THE west has held its usual Summer Dog Shows this year, and they appear to have been successful ones. The entries have been good too, and the show giving clubs are to be congratulated on their courage and energy, because it requires an almost unlimited amount of both these attributes to put on a show and carry it through successfully in these trying times. We congratulate the fanciers who have supported the shows, more especially those who have forwarded or taken their dogs to support the shows held in cities other than their own. The reward, the end in view, or objective to be attained may be the incentive, but a lot of time and money must be expended and work done, too, before the dogs are ready to leave their home kennels.

We offer our congratulations to Joe Valente because of the awards obtained by his Boston Terrier, "Valente's Aviator." Joe hails from Southern Europe, but after his arrival in Western Canada, he was adopted by the Boston Terrier. They both took each other to their hearts, so much so, that he now has quite a family of Bostons. He bred and raised "Aviator" and has shown him so persistently this summer that we understand he has obtained the requisite number of points that entitle him to the coveted prefix of champion. We hope this encourages him to persevere until he has bred a dog that will win anywhere in the hottest competition on the North American Continent. We congratulate George Duncan, too, on the magnificent award obtained by his Boston Terrier, "Trapystok Headlight" at Saskatoon. George has bred many winners but he considers "Headlight" one of the best he has ever bred. And Judge Jack Fletcher evidently shares his opinion, because he placed him best of all breeds over such notable winning dogs as the English Setter, "Maesydd Malcolm" and the Pointer, "Maesydd Monsoon."

Harold Bentley deserves a share of the congratulations. He is becoming quite a steady importer of dogs from the Old Land. His recently imported Pomeranian, "Elnor Mite," who has already obtained his championship was placed, and deservedly too, best in show at Regina by Judge Frank Walsh. He is not alone a dog that shows wonderfully but is a good "Stud dog" also. There are some remarkably good puppies of his yet in Winnipeg and word has come from Mrs. Gradwold of St. Louis that "Jaunty Queen" has whelped two males and one female puppies. "Jaunty Queen" was bred to "Ch. Elnor Mite" and forwarded to Mrs. Gradwold along with "Jaunty Spark" shortly after the Fort Garry Kennel Club Show.

Wire Haired Fox Terriers.

Harry Baker, Bakerdale Kennels, has bred "Bakerdale Betty" to George Kynoch's "Temporary Husband." He also reports the sale of a female puppy, by "Ch. Fox Hollow Startler," ex "Silverdale Sadie" to Mr. Hulls, of Winnipeg. George Henry reports his "Silverdale Flashlight" has whelped six puppies to "Ch. Fox Hollow Starter." C. Beatty also reports his "Cromwell Radio Girl" has whelped one male and four female puppies by Mr. Todd's "Cromwell Jingo," and also that his "Cromwell Tattie," which female was awarded first Canadian-bred at the Fort Garry Kennel Club Show, has been bred to "Kickapoo Cyclone Twister." Mr. Bentley advises me he is importing one male and one female (in whelp) from England, and that the dog has gone eight times Best in Show under best judges.

Boston Terriers.

Mr. Millward's "Adanac Forget-Me-Not" has whelped six very nice puppies to "Trapystok Headlight." Mr. and Mrs. Kerr report their "Ch. Mac's Queen of Hearts" has whelped four puppies by "Ch. Trapystok Personality." The puppies are even in size and nicely marked, and one female is a real good one. Mr. Bentley advises me he has sold two female puppies, one to J. A. Jackson, Tuxford, Sask., and the other to C. W. Copper, Winnipeg. Both are by "Cromwell Stylish Announcer" ex "Miss Springtime" (imp.).

Pomeranians.

Mrs. A. Oxenham, Winnipeg, has imported "Maid's Model," a beautiful red orange female from the famous "Minnegold Kennels, Southport, England. At the Royal Lancs, Agriculture Show at Preston, Lancs, "Ch. Minnegold Justit" went Best Toy and best exhibit in show and at Norwich, he won the Cup for best dog or bitch in Show. "Maid's Model" was bred to "Ch. Minnegold Justit" before leaving England, and whelped two lovely puppies two days after her arrival.

H. Bentley is importing another dog of the same breeding as "Ch. Sandhills Gold Puff." It will be remembered "Puff" went through to his championship without defeat shortly after his arrival in Canada and "Ch. Elnor Mite" followed with the same success this year. "Ch. Sandhills Cherry" has two exceptionally fine male puppies by "Ch. Elnor Mite," both have short bodies, fine bone and remarkable stand off coats.

Mrs. Wrye, Brandon, writes me she has disposed of the brood bitch, "Lillian Honeydew" to Mrs. Nancy Driver, Moose Jaw, Sask., that she has sold four young dogs to the following purchasers. Dr. P. A. Jackson, Winnipeg; G. E. Miles, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. C. Crum, Saskatoon, Sask., and Mrs. H. Christman of Herschel, for which good prices have been received. Mrs. Wrye says although there are a few more promising puppies to dispose of, yet she is greatly pleased with the progress made by Wryeland Kennels.

Mrs. Wrye also advises me she is importing a dog from England, which she is confident will give adequate competition in future shows. "Ingleton Bonny Jean" has been bred to "Chiswell Xanthe."

Geo. Henry reports the sale of a male puppy by "Melbourne Imp." ex "Wimaca Pretty Pansy" to Mr. Waytowich of Kenora. Mr. H. Bentley's "Sandhills Red Robe" has been bred to "Ch. Elnor Mite."

Pekingese.

Mr. Bentley reports that "Sandhills Flo" (Imp.), has whelped two male and three female puppies by "Sankow Chanticleer," (Imp.), and that his "Manking Pao Myra of Cromwell" has whelped one extraordinary good, black puppy, positively noseless, by "Sankow Chanticleer" also that his "Nanki Ponzee of Cromwell" has whelped three females and one male puppy to the same sire.

Scottish Terriers.

Geo. Kynoch has sold a puppy by "Ch. Normandy Airth" ex "Gale May Flower" to Dr. Brundage of Chicago, Ill. He reports that Mrs. Dunsire's (Brandon) "Haldon Betty," Geo. Gilen's (Moose Jaw) "Tayside Sheilah"

THE JUDGES FOR WESTMINSTER

IT is a long stretch from the summer dog days to the doggy days in February when the greatest of the country's dog shows, the annual fixture of the Westminster Kennel Club, is held in Madison Square Garden. However, many fanciers are already starting to prepare their dogs for that canine event and, so that they may know under whom the dogs will compete, the club has already prepared its list of judges. On September fourth, the list was made public by John G. Bates, Chairman of the Bench Show Committee, at the offices of the Club, 450 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

The Westminster Club has always prided itself on the quality of its judging and the list of experts announced for the Fifty-Seventh Annual Show which will be staged on February 13, 14 and 15 of 1933, is one of which the Bench Show Committee is proud. It is "all-American" in its competition in that it includes no judges from Europe although it has drawn from north of the Canadian border in the person of Dr. Carleton Y. Ford, of Montreal, who will judge Shetland Sheepdogs, Pomeranians, Poodles, Schipperkes and the non-sporting group of the variety division. The men and women it includes have had long experience in the breeds assigned them and each is widely known to fanciers. Leading professionals and amateurs will divide the work of making the awards in the regular classes and the variety groups.

To Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge, of Madison, N.J., has been assigned the task of making the decision which fanciers recognize as the greatest canine award of the year, the naming of best in the show at the Westminster. Mistress of the famous Giralda Kennels, Mrs. Dodge has been associated with and interested in the dog show game since childhood. While she has gained widest recognition for what she has done for Shepherd dogs, she has at one time or another owned virtually all breeds and at the present time has a variety kennel which has outstanding stars in a number of different species. As chief sponsor for the annual show

Application for them may be made at the offices of the Club or of the Foley organization at 119 South Nineteenth Street, Philadelphia.

The Irish Terrier

Origin and Historical Sketches of the Irish Terrier, written especially for September Kennel and Bench

By N. R. Miller, Toronto, of "Fiscal" fame.

THE late F. M. Jowett, an eminent English authority on dogs, writes in his book on this breed, in part:—

"The Irish Terrier, as his name denotes, is the representative of the Emerald Isle, and it is well known that Irishmen of whatever rank they may be, whether gentlemen, farmers or cotters, have always been noted sportsmen, and there is no doubt whatever that a Sporting Terrier has been kept in Ireland for many generations, as they are referred to in old Irish manuscripts. They are described by an old Irish writer as being the poor man's sentinel, the farmer's friend, and the gentleman's favourite.

"The advent of dog shows induced a few fanciers to look after them, and try and 'pick up' or breed a decent one; and the foundation of the Irish Terrier Club was the means of a standard being formed by which breeders were given an ideal to aim at.

"For a few years prior to 1879, the Irish Terrier had been exhibited occasionally at such shows as the Kennel Club, Birmingham, Dublin, Belfast, and a few others, generally having only one class. At this time it was the fashion to crop the ears of all Irish Terriers.

"A considerable amount of correspondence having taken place between the late Geo. R. Krehl of London (England); Geo. Jamison of Belfast; Dr. R. B. Carey and a few others, meetings were held in Dublin on March 31, 1879, and the following day, for the purpose of founding a Club for the protection and advancement of the breed.

"Draft Rules were laid before the meetings and the first resolution passed was proposed by the late William Graham and seconded by Dr. R. B. Carey as follows:—"That an Irish Terrier Club be called into existence". This was carried unanimously.

"The Draft Rules were considered and passed and afterwards submitted to a general meeting of the English Section held in London in April of the same year, and with a few trifling alterations were then generally agreed to.

"The following were the first office holders of the Club:—Vice-President (Irish), Richard J. Ridgeway of Waterford; Vice-President (English), the late Geo. R. Krehl of London; Hon. Secretary for England, Albert F. W. Krehl; Hon. Treasurer, T. S. Carey of Dublin.

"At the first general meeting, held in 1880, there was a regular discussion of the 'cropping' question, which later became of such moment, and resulted in the Irish Terrier Club being the pioneers of the movement to put an end altogether to cropping of the ears of all breeds of dogs for exhibition. To C. J. Barnett belongs the credit of being the pioneer-in-chief of the attempt (which soon proved successful) to abolish, in toto, the cropping of Irish Terriers.

"At a general meeting of the Club held in Liverpool, in January, 1889, Mr. Barnett proposed 'That the time has now come that we should request the (English) Kennel Club to fix a date, say 1st July, 1889, and make a rule that all Irish Terriers born after that date, if exhibited at any Show under Kennel Club rules, must be uncropped'.

"An amendment to the effect 'That the present cropping rule do stand' was defeated, and the resolution was carried by a large majority. It is now a matter of history how the Kennel Club afterwards abolished the cruel and useless practice for all breeds and exhibition dogs."

Mr. Jowett further states:—"As a sporting companion, the Irish Terrier has no equal, in my opinion, and I have kept most breeds of working terriers and a good many so-called sporting dogs from my boyhood. He is a very bright, companionable and sensible dog, very hardy, easily broken when properly handled, is a useful size and full of fire and courage when required.

"When well trained, they are also very good on winged game, and they do love a gun. I have seen a couple of Irish Terriers work a stubble field after partridge as well as any spaniels, and retrieve the birds to hand, too, when they were shot. They are also very good at winding and running pheasant, or finding and retrieving a wounded bird.

"My experience of Irish Terriers is that they have no superior as smart, varmint-killing, working Terriers, either in the water or out of it; and though they are very sensitive, and cannot stand being harshly treated, yet they prove to be highly intelligent and will face anything, and are most devoted companions; and from their peculiar, hardy, active habits are deserving of a foremost rank amongst working Terriers."

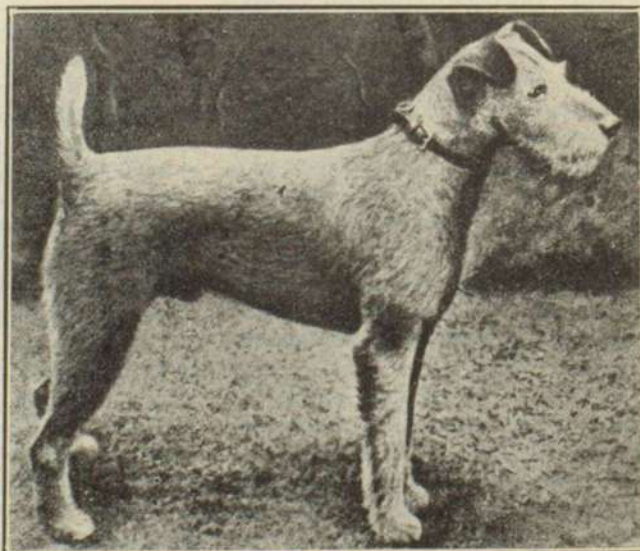

H. Benner, in an annual review on this breed to the Kennel (English) Gazette some years ago, stated in part:—

"Despite the increasing popularity of other breeds, the Irishman still holds his own, if we are to judge by the satisfactory entries at most of the big fixtures. 'Paddy,' when he shows breeding, is always a dog to demand and consequently to receive attention, and when a good specimen stands in the ring he is rarely overlooked.

"To the man who likes a medium-sized dog, fast, game, and hard, the Irish Terrier will always appeal, and when he stands and shows himself, proudly conscious of his descent, or scampers around in search of fun in the shape of a rat or rabbit, or lies at your feet with one ear half-cocked and one eye open—that dark, wicked eye, of which so much has been written—his expression seems to be 'Second to none'.

"If Paddy's general good qualities, and they are numerous, are not sacrificed to the craze amongst some fanciers for exaggerated points, he will always retain his well-deserved popularity.

"There is a pronounced tendency to over-size and a distinct leaning to coarse skulls. We do not want big red fox terriers, neither do we require small airedales, and it should be possible still to show dogs which do not exceed 25 or 26 pounds. And then if we lose the characteristic clean level skull, we say goodbye to one of the most prized points in a class Irishman. We cannot dispense with the true index of any breed, the characteristic head."

The late Geo. R. Krehl, editor of the London (English) Stockkeeper, the English Vice-President of the Irish Terrier Club, stated:—"That this is a true and distinct breed, indigenous to Ireland and that no man can trace its origin which is lost in antiquity."

W. Ollard, Tacoma, Wash., in a letter comments in part:—"With all due respect to the big breeds and presuming them to be quite entitled to the hue and cry and all the good things said of them, I wish to claim equal praise and glory for one other good dog of somewhat less weight and size, one that we should more often hear about—one that is distinctive and deserving of the strongest commendation."

ARE YOU THE EDITOR?

"Are you the editor of the 'Canine Journal'?" The caller was a stranger with his hat on the back of his head and a broad smile on his face.

"I am, Sir," answered the man at the desk.

"Then it was you, I presume, who wrote that notice of the sale of my airedale dog that was in the paper last Saturday."

"Yes, Sir," said the editor, cordially, but with some misgivings. "It was all right, wasn't it?"

"Oh, yes! it was a good job, an excellent job. It was all right. You don't mind shaking hands with me!"

"Certainly not."

"It was all right," said the smiling stranger, jerking him out of his chair in the excess of his hand-shaking zeal. "It was all right," he added, smashing him against the wall. "There was not anything wrong with it at all," continued the affable caller, grabbing the editor by the collar, pushing him backwards over his chair, catching him by the heels, hauling him round the room, upsetting the furniture with him, and finishing by jamming him into the wastepaper basket. "There was nothing wrong with it, Sir, except that I never kept an airedale terrier, I always kept Irishmen. Good morning."

Editor's Note: Mr. Miller kindly furnished a copy of the original standard of the Irish Terrier, but this document is so very similar to the present governing standard that we do not deem it advisable to reprint it here.

CHAMPION MERRIE DURBAR

"Ch. Merrie Durbar" is a choice Black Cocker who pins the league of featured champions in this issue of Kennel and Bench. This dog is teaming with quality and claimed by critics to be one of the most outstanding dogs of his breed today. Sired by "Ch. Calma Durbar" and out of "Ch. Merrie Beauty," his breeding leaves nothing to be desired. His symmetrical build, size and weight leave no room for criticism. His show career commenced at Saskatoon, where Stanley Dorrell proclaimed him the best Puppy and Winners. At Medicine Hat, under Archie Semple, Best of Breed and Best Sporting dog. At Calgary, under Wm. Forrest, Best of Breed. At Edmonton, judged by Wm. Oates, the best Cocker and Best Sporting dog. At Winnipeg, best Cocker. This is truly an enviable record and no wonder his stud services are being eagerly sought after. Cocker Spaniel breeders should make haste to avail themselves of the opportunity to use the services of this good dog. We understand that several tempting offers from the United States have been received, and at no distant date "Ch. Merrie Durbar" may be the enviable possession of some new owner.

THINGS EVERY DOG OWNER SHOULD KNOW

The first edition of "Things Every Dog Owner Should Know" made its appearance early in 1927, and enjoyed a splendid reception. Now we have a second edition that looks like a continuance of the popularity of this really inspiring book.

To know the author, Major A. J. Dawson, is to have as a close friend, one well versed in doggie lore. One that you can appreciate and understand, frankly outspoken, the Major imparts his information most generously, and in a way that it is readily absorbed, and easily retained. The Major covers his subject from the time the puppie comes into the home, until the owner has become a successful breeder exhibitor. A postscript on parasites is well worth the price of the whole book, and the price is 3/6d in England, and can be secured

DOGS KNOWN AS "TURNSPETS"

Abbey Dogs and Monks

By Peter Dawson

Just as the origin of the dog is "wrapped in mystery," so also are countless doggy episodes of historical interest, lost in the mists of time. There would seem to be little or no connection between a dog and a monastery . . . and yet, it is perhaps owing to the lavish hospitality of the Monks in the 14th century that the "Dachshund" dog, as we know him today, came into being.

In those early times, cooking arrangements were of primitive design. Guests were numerous. It was no uncommon thing for the King, his Court and retinue to accept the hospitality of the Abbot. History records that the second Crusade started from Bermondsey Abbey, near the south of the present Tower Bridge (London), and that many hundreds of men were provided with food and lodging. "Necessity being the mother of invention" . . . the problem of catering caused the monastic cook to seek ways and means of simplifying his many duties. Among the numerous assistants required for the preparation of food, we find small boys employed for the turning of the joints whilst roasting. These lads—known as "Turnbroaches" worked in a cage, somewhat after the style of a miniature treadmill, and their labour caused the broach or spit, on which the meat was hung to revolve.

Tradition has it that on a certain day, the cook evolved the idea of utilizing the services of his terrier dog for the same purpose. In due course the practice extended to other monasteries, with the result that the "Turnspet"—later known as the Turnspit Dog—came into being. We find that great care was taken in their breeding to ensure the necessary shortness of legs for their work. Every large secular household possessed their own strain of dog and several of England's Kings were proud of the prowess of their own "Turnspets." It is interesting to know the type of the "Turnspet" or "Turnspit" Dog. They were of no particular colour, long in body and very strongly developed in front, with the fore limbs powerful but bent and moving freely at the shoulder blades. Their work made them muscular and further developed their peculiar shape. It is without question that the "Dachshund" of today is descended from the humble and useful "Turnspet"; and it is very remarkable what little noticeable difference there is after the passing of centuries.

The evolution of food for dogs from the crudity of offals and scraps to the scientifically balanced ration of modern times is an equally fascinating subject. Dog Biscuits owe their origin to the windjammers of days gone by, when the staple food of the crew was hard ship's Biscuit. Two or three dogs aboard was not uncommon . . . their function being to keep the rats away from the cargo. So splendidly fit were these dogs . . . their diet consisting mainly of ship Biscuits and rats . . . that "land-lubbers" began to seek a reason!

And so the idea of a "meat-biscuit," suitable for the peculiar digestive requirements of a dog, was born. If any proof of mankind's wisdom in this direction is needed, it is only necessary to examine the general all-round health and vigour of present day dogs. Speaking generally, no matter whether they be pedigree or mongrel . . . the dogs of today are models of fitness. In this respect, Dog Biscuit foods have contributed in no small way. Veterinary Surgeons, Breeders and Exhibitors, are the first to admit that the perfect condition of their dogs is due to a "biscuit-diet."

It is a 'far-cry' perhaps, from 1392—when few distinct breeds of dogs were known—to 1932, when no less than 79 different breeds have obtained an official status. 600 years, or thereabouts, have brought about many changes. The "Turnbroache" gave place to the "Turnspet" or "Turnspit" dog . . . and so, to the "Dachshund." Whether the churches of today, will in any way be responsible for the dogs of tomorrow remains to be seen!

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF DOG-OWNERSHIP

"The individual who undertakes the responsibility of dog-ownership without giving every consideration to the dog's point of view, is little short of a criminal . . . no matter whether the dog has been bought for five dollars or for fifty dollars. It is a common fallacy that the pedigree, or pure bred dog requires more care and attention than his more humble counterpart; no greater mistake can be made. In 'show-points' the animals may be as opposite as the poles but their physical needs are practically the same. To get the best out of any dog it must be remembered that 'palship' is essential and 'palship' can only exist when mutual regard and understanding are present. No animal is more responsive to kindness than a dog . . . it is that peculiar characteristic which makes dog-ownership a really worth while thing."—"Tailwagger."

Canada---The World's Greatest Playground

The Country of many Holiday Advantages

THE majority of Canadians probably do not realize what a wonderful choice of vacation opportunities this country offers. How many of us in any one province have first-hand knowledge of the wide range of attractions of our neighbouring provinces? Many no doubt have gone abroad to seek a holiday, forgetting that our own Dominion is unequalled in the exceptional variety and range of its recreational resources. Surely a country which attracts visitors from other countries by the tens of millions must have recreational features of interest to its own citizens.

ways, well equipped with direction signs and danger signals. Tourist accommodation, from campsite to hotel, is available almost everywhere.

National and provincial parks in Canada cover nearly 25,000 square miles. They are areas which have been withdrawn from exploitation and are being preserved in their virgin beauty and wildness, for purposes of pleasure and recreation. The largest national parks are in the Rocky Mountains section of Alberta, a region of unsurpassed scenic splendour admirably equipped by nature for all forms of sport and recreation. There are also important parks in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Mani-the most varied nature, including as they do, sea-shore, mountain, lake and forest resorts. Along the lower St. Lawrence, summer colonies have been established at many points. North of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers the Laurentian mountains, clothed with pine forest and dotted with lakes, constitute a vast summer and winter playground. The Eastern Townships, which adjoin the international boundary, also have a number of well-established resorts, on picturesque lakes and rivers.

Ontario has perhaps the largest number and greatest variety of developed summer resorts of any of the provinces. The Thousand Islands, Lake of Bays,

"Yield not to temptation"—good advice, maybe, but who could resist this invitation?

It is so easy to travel in Canada that an interprovincial tour is a recreation which every Canadian vacationist may well and profitably undertake. All the developed and much of the undeveloped part of the Dominion is easily accessible by train, boat, or automobile. Canada is served by two of the world's greatest railway systems and a number of smaller lines. The equipment and service are of the highest standard. Steamers built specially for pleasure cruising afford many pleasant trips along the coast and on the extensive inland water system of lakes, rivers and canals. A cruise from the head of the Great Lakes to the Maritime Provinces is nearly equal, in distance, to an ocean voyage. Good roads lead to practically all scenic and sporting territories. Canada's road system includes many thousands of miles of surfaced high-toba, Ontario and Quebec. Accommodation ranges all the way from large modern hotels to log cabins and tents. Fishing is one of the chief attractions in the parks, but game animals and birds are rigidly protected and their fearlessness never fails to interest visitors.

Throughout the Dominion there are many summer resort districts which offer a wide range of attraction and variety of accommodation. On the Atlantic coast, in the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, are typical sea-shore resorts, where salt-water bathing, sailing and deep sea fishing are the principal attractions. The rugged beauty of this coast and the picturesque charm of the fishing villages, at the head of every inlet, cannot fail to enchant the summer visitor.

Quebec's summer playgrounds are of Muskoka lakes, and Georgian bay are known throughout America, but there are in addition equally attractive, only slightly less known, districts. Accommodation includes everything from campsite to palatial hotel, and cottages may be rented, in any district.

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta many attractive resorts are located along the shores of the lakes and rivers. The Canadian Rockies are world famous for scenic beauty and contain some of the most highly developed tourist resorts on the continent.

British Columbia, with varied and splendid scenic attractions, is a tourist wonderland. The province has majestic mountain ranges, and extensive lake area, stately forests, an imposing coast line, any many attractive resorts in settings of exceptional natural beauty.

For a number of years the Department of the Interior at Ottawa has been engaged in the promotion of the Canadian tourist industry, more especially the development of tourist travel from the United States to Canada. It is also endeavouring to influence Canadians to spend their vacation in the Dominion. The National Development Bureau of that Department will gladly furnish inter-provincial road maps and other information for the use of those planning a Canadian tour, and where necessary will refer enquiries to provincial and local tourist organizations. Applicants should be as specific as possible as to the section of Canada in which they are interested, in order that available information may be supplied.

Eyes should be bright, mild, intelligent and dark brown in color.

Neck—The neck should be long and lean, arched at the crest, and not too throaty.

Shoulders—Shoulders should be formed to permit perfect freedom of action to the forelegs. Shoulder blades should be long, wide, sloping moderately well back and standing fairly close together at the top.

Chest—Chest between shoulder blades should be of good depth but not of excessive width.

Ribs—Ribs, back of the shoulders, should spring gradually to the middle of the body and then taper to the back ribs, which should be of good depth.

Back—Back should be strong at its junction with the loin and should be straight or sloping upward very slightly to the top of the shoulder, the whole forming a graceful outline of medium length, without sway or drop. Loins should be strong, moderate in length, slightly arched, but not to the extent of being roached or wheel backed. Hip bones should be wide apart without too sudden drop to the root of the tail.

Forelegs—The arms should be flat and muscular, with bone fully developed and muscles hard and devoid of flabbiness; of good length from the point of the shoulder to the elbow, and set at such an angle as will bring the legs fairly under the dog. Elbows should have no tendency to turn either in or out. The pastern should be short, strong and nearly round with the slope from the pastern joint to the foot deviating very slightly forward from the perpendicular.

Hindlegs—The hindlegs should have wide, muscular thighs with well developed lower thighs. Stifles should be well bent and strong. Hocks should be wide and flat. The pastern should be short, strong and nearly round, with the slope from the pastern joint to the foot deviating very slightly forward from the perpendicular.

Feet—Feet should be closely set and strong, pads well developed and tough, toes well arched and protected with short, thick hair.

Tail—Tail should be straight, set low and taper to a fine point, with only sufficient length to reach the hocks, or less. The feather must be straight and silky, falling loosely in a fringe and tapering to the point when the tail is raised. There must be no bushiness. The tail should not curl sideways or above the level of the back.

Coat—Coat should be flat and of good length, without curl; not soft or wooly. The feather on the legs should be moderately thin and regular.

Weight—Dogs, about 55 to 70 pounds; bitches, 50 to 65 pounds.

Height—Dogs, about 23 to 25 inches; bitches, 22 to 24 inches.

Colors—Black, white and tan, black and white; blue belton, lemon and white; lemon belton, orange and white; orange belton; liver and white; liver belton, and solid white.

Markings—Dogs without heavy patches of color on the body, but flecked all over preferred.

Symmetry—The harmony of all parts to be considered. Symmetrical dogs will have level backs or be very slightly higher at the shoulders than at the hips. Balance, harmony or proportion, and an appearance of breeding and quality, to be looked for, and coarseness avoided.

Movement and Carriage—An easy, free and graceful movement, suggesting rapidity and endurance. A lively tail and a high carriage of head. Stiltiness, clumsiness or a lumbering gait are objectionable.

GOOD ADVICE

A questionnaire was recently addressed to one of the leading veterans among English dog breeders. It took this form:—

(a) Advice to the amateur on how to doctor dogs; (b) General policy and methods regarding disease and illness in dogs.

In his reply, which arrived on a post card, the veteran showed clearly that he had not forgotten the words, "brief, concise." The answer read:

(a) Don't.

(b) Avoid 'em.

"What's this I hear about a Balanced Ration?"

A dog needs a balanced diet to look, act, feel his best. Too many dogs are fed table scraps—mushy bread and potatoes and bits of over-cooked meat.

To make matters worse they are kept on the leash, or in the yard, and consequently have no opportunity to pick up supplementary foods such as a dog's instinct craves, by foraging for themselves.

Ross-Miller Dog Foods contain the proteins, the carbohydrates, the minerals and the vitamins that scientific study has proved a dog's nature requires. They cost about one cent per meal. Your grocer has them. Try them, and see how grateful your dog will be.

The reason is not far to seek. Veterinary surgeons, breeders, exhibitors, handlers and dog owners generally, have learned from direct experience that Spratt's crisp, meaty biscuits and wholesome, vitamin meals are the purest and most nourishing foods that science, coupled with the makers' unrivalled specialized knowledge of the subject, can provide for the daily diet of dogs, whether of the sporting or non-sporting variety, of large, medium or toy breeds.

In the kennel, on the bench and in the ring itself, the splendid condition and stamina of the "Spratt's-fed" dog invariably "tell" in the "hottest" company. Elsewhere than in show circles, the ordinary pal-dog, reared on a "Spratt's" diet, is everywhere a credit to his owner.
