TORONTO DOGS WIN AT HALIFAX

Just as we go to press, we learn that a select string of Toronto dogs, sent to the Halifax Shows in care of Alf. Loveridge, one of Toronto's leading handlers, have had a wonderfully successful visit to the shows there. The outstanding winner being C. A. Ward's (Toronto), "Wyrecote Watalad" (Imp.), a Wire Fox Terrier, by "Ch. Tavalera Simon," who went to winners at both shows down by the Atlantic, and to add to this lustre Mr. Ward's dog "Wyrecote Watalad" won for best in Terrier Group, and best dog in show all breeds at the second show. Congratulations.

Mr. C. A. Ward's Wire bitch "Walnut Damsel" (Imp.), was winners at both shows.

The Cairn Terriers of Mrs. G. W. Hyslop had things pretty much their own way in their breed classes, with the well known English and American Champion, "Divor of Gunthorpe," going to Winners and Best of Breed at both fixtures. The same owners' "Mocassin Mercy" (Imp.), won winners at both shows, Mrs. Hyslop won further honors when "Tinker O' Tapscot" went to Reserve Winners to the preferred "Divor" at both fixtures.

It's a long tiresome trip from Toronto to Halifax, and it takes enthusiasm plus money to attend the shows there, but no doubt Mr. Ward and Mrs. Hyslop feel amply repaid by the results obtained, and as for Mr. Loveridge, it is all in the day's work as far as he is concerned, but we happen to know, that he was rather more than pleased to bring back the Best in Show award to Toronto with him.

At the next Annual Meeting I will move an amendment to Dog Show rule thirteen of the Canadian Kennel Club, as follows:—

No person shall be granted a license to judge dogs under Canadian Kennel Club Rules until they have proved themselves capable of judging their breeds, before the Board of Directors, or Tribunal in which province they may reside, to judge by the standard of the breeds he or she may desire to judge, any member of any Tribunal giving favours, or misrepresenting any person so that he may receive a license, shall be suspended.

And, should my previous amendment carry, I wish to make a motion, that,

All judges holding Canadian Kennel Club licenses be given six months' notice from the date of the annual meeting, to appear before the Board of Directors, or Tribunal of which province they reside, to prove their ability to judge by the standard all the breeds they have sworn on oath to be capable of judging. Failing to do so their license to become void.

(Signed) A. ROBERTS.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

Pride of place for our November number of Kennel and Bench, has been given over to the sensational winning "Champion Walnut Rouge," a son of Britain's greatest show and stud Scottie, "Ch. Heather Necessity," and out of "Flornell Selena," a daughter of "Ch. Albourne Brigand," son of the famous producer "Ch. Albourne Barty."

The recently crowned "Champion Walnut Rouge" was imported in April of the present year, and as soon as the shows were available he made his debut at Ottawa, the Capital City of the Dominion, and there, under Judge Geo. Kynoch, Winnipeg, our feature dog's first championship points were emphasized when he won for Best Scottie in show over a large entry of Eastern Canada's most representative specimens. At Sherbrooke, P.Q., the Ottawa wins were duplicated under the globe trotting judge, J. Willoughby Mitchell, Montreal. At the Canadian National Exhibition, the supreme test of the circuit, the Ottawa and Sherbrooke wins were again duplicated, and the quality of "Walnut Rouge" was again definitely emphasized under Judge Clarence Grey, of Boston, Mass. At Hamilton, under Judge Frank T. Eskrigge, Boston, Mass., "Walnut Rouge" was again stamped "Best of Breed," and here Mr. Ward had the satisfaction of completing his good Scottie's Championship, and was the recipient of enthusiastic felicitations from many who had been watching the sensational show career of the new Champion.

At London Canine Association, on September 13th, under Walter H. Reeves, who had the distinction of judging over 150 of America's greatest Scottish Terriers at the Scottish Terrier Club of America's Specialty Show, last February, at New York, the show described by James Chapman, of Glenboig, Scotland, as "the greatest gathering of the world's best Scotties that I have ever seen," and it is this same authority—i.e.—James Chapman, who has just completed Championship honours for his "Heather Ambition" at the Kennel Club Show, England. When "Ch. Albourne Romance" was mated to "Ch. Heather Necessity," James Chapman agreed to buy the whole litter at that time and the new champion, "Heather Ambition," is one of that litter, so Mr. Chapman's opinion has a value all its own, and Mr. Reeves knows his Scotties, and he put "Walnut Rouge" up to Best of Breed.

At London (second show), held by The Western Fair, and under Judge George Kynoch, "Walnut Rouge" was Best of Breed—the whole run of wins constituting a remarkable winning record for a Scottish Terrier in this country.

But judges don't always see the dogs alike, and this truism was never more strikingly demonstrated than it was at Welland Show a couple of weeks after the Hamilton fixture. At Welland under Judge Bert Swann, Toronto, the hitherto unbeaten "Ch. Walnut Rouge," still roseate from the afterglow of his previous successes was unable to get into the picture. Nothing daunted however, Mr. Ward has that particular show out of his record, and will endeavor to demonstrate that "Ch. Walnut Rouge" is still a "Best of Breed" Scottie at future shows.

From our front page illustration, Kennel and Bench readers will be able to judge for themselves that in "Ch. Walnut Rouge," Mr. Ward owns one of the outstanding Scottish Terriers to be found in Canada at the present time, and that he is quite remarkably stamped with the great quality of his illustrious sire.

NEW KENNEL CLUB FOR TORONTO

A new Kennel Club has been organized in Toronto recently under the name of "The Canine Breeders' and Exhibitors' Association of Canada," and already the membership is approximately 100, the great majority being members of the Canadian Kennel Club. At the organization meetings a desirable enthusiasm was prevalent and maintained on the foundation of "promoting the best interests of breeders and exhibitors of pure bred dogs."

The officers elected are: President, Wm. Stockdale; 1st Vice-President, A. Patchell; 2nd Vice-President, R. S. Wilson; Sec.-Treas., W. H. Carter. An Executive Committee was elected but this information is not before us at the moment. The next meeting will be held at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Tuesday, Nov. 8th at 8 o'clock.

Kennel and Bench Annual Christmas Number

We are prepared to make the Christmas Number of "Kennel and Bench" for 1932 a number to be proud of, but we can only make it what our readers want it to be. And this can only be measured by the amount of support our readers are prepared to give us. Last year the provinces gave us splendid support, and a repetition of that support will enable us to make our Christmas Number better than ever.

Our advertising rates have been slightly increased to take care of our extra costs, but the increase is so small, that we believe it will not deter any reader from advertising in the Christmas Number.

Here are the advertising rates which we feel will be entirely fair to our readers, and to ourselves for this special number.

One page, $40.00.

One half page, $22.50.

One third page, $15.00.

One quarter page, $12.50.

One eighth page, $7.50.

One inch (column wide), $2.50.

These changes will have no bearing on contracts.

Intending advertisers for the Christmas or those intending to take space for the purpose of reviewing their winning records, or the activities of their kennels, should arrange to send their copy and photographs (or cuts) at once, so that we may be the better enabled to create their lay-out, and send our conception of their requirements for approval before printing.

Further particulars will be gladly and promptly furnished to those desirous of purchasing space.

Gastric Trouble

Gastric, or stomach trouble, one of the most distressing and at the same time most common ailments in the dog, is also a warning of more serious trouble brewing. Therefore this symptom requires prompt treatment. Give Karswood Dog Powders at once. The trouble then will quickly be ended and all danger removed. Read this letter:—

32, Sunny Bank, Hull.

Some weeks ago my Collie dog, Hymer's Sensation, had a very bad attack of gastritis and was in a shocking condition, no appetite and losing flesh rapidly. I tried various advertised remedies, but nothing seemed to help until I wrote for two boxes of your Karswood Dog Powders. After 3 days the dog looked much brighter, and after one box of Karswood Dog Powders, was eating well. He is now quite fit, and has no return of stomach trouble.

(Mrs.) G. C. LEACH.

Karswood Dog Powders contain specific nerve foods and organic salts not contained in the dog's ordinary diet, but which are necessary to enable his system to throw off disease. No other dog preparation contains the same ingredients—hence none is so effective for the purpose. Prove this for yourself.

CHAMPION IRISH TERRIERS

For keen alert dogs our illustration seems to warrant first prize in these respects, to H. M. Elliott's "Ch. Fermanagh Postboy" (left) and "Ch. Fermanagh Red Rogue" (right) a couple of good "Micks" that look to be as keen as mustard, and are quite an eloquent testimony to the care given the dogs at the Fermanagh Kennels by the owner, H. M. Elliott, Kingsville, Ont.

The sire of the above champions was himself a champion, i.e., "Kilvara Postman." The dam being "Fermanagh Nell." There were three puppies in the litter, and the other one, so far not referred to, was "Ch. Fermanagh Peggy Postgirl," indeed quite a nice litter to be born in one kennel, at one time.

Mr. Elliott has been successful in tapping the United States market, and most of the Fermanagh youngsters find their new homes in the United States.

The proposed new rating for champion status in Canada, has found a booster in Mr. Elliott, who believes that any such new rating as may be found favorable to the majority of Canadian breeders, will tend to raise the prestige of Canadian dogs in the United States, where the future market for Canadian-bred dogs is going to be. He also has found, that there will be virtue in any improved rating, and quotes as an instance whereby an entry of seven Irish Terriers at a recent show gave but one championship point, whereas a reasonable rating would at least have furnished two championship points.

"More and better Irish Terriers in Canada," is the motto of the Fermanagh Kennels, and Mr. Elliott has already helped to make the slogan more than a possibility, and he is keener today than ever before in those respects.

The Canadian Fancy

By WALTER H. REEVES,
Belleville, Ont.

DOES the Canadian Kennel Club's present system of licensing judges need some readjustment or tightening up with regard to applications? Judging by the many letters criticizing the present system from all parts of the Dominion, apparently our present system is not working out as satisfactorily as it might. We will always have the disappointed exhibitor who looks at his own dogs with tinted glasses and, therefore, cannot or will not see their faults, but when looking at the other exhibitor's dogs apparently uses a magnifying glass. Knowing this so well, I am fully aware that no judge can please all and, therefore, one expects to hear some criticism where judges are concerned.

It has always been the desire of the directors of the Canadian Kennel Club to do everything in their power to further the interests of dogs and dog shows, and our present licensing system is, in the opinion of many, not having a beneficial effect on our shows; therefore the present system should be adjusted at the annual general meeting. The American Kennel Club's licensing system has also been criticized but, nevertheless, the majority of exhibitors admit that although the system is by no means perfect, it has been of much benefit to the American fancy. The latest report, however, is that the American Kennel Club, instead of tightening up on their licensing of judges are modifying the qualifications necessary to obtain a judge's license. The Canadian Kennel Club today are not criticized on account of holding back judges' licenses, but because they have given too freely, and in the opinion of many without sufficient investigation of the applicant's qualifications. A well-known breeder and exhibitor writes me as follows:—"The dog shows have come in for a considerable amount of criticism as to the placings of the judges employed, and I think the time is here when the Canadian Kennel Club should insist on some stricter form of qualifications before granting the licenses of judges. Personally I think the present form of licensing judges is most irregular in one way, and most unfair in another way. Take for example the application of a fancier for a judge's license outside of Ontario; the applicant may live in a small town and in this town the Canadian Kennel Club have no representative to their Provincial Committee, and maybe not another member of the Canadian Kennel Club. The present procedure is, that the application is forwarded to the Provincial Director to deal with, together with his Provincial Committee. If none of the committee have knowledge of the applicant's ability, what right have they to disapprove of his application on the one hand, but, because of this lack of knowledge of the applicant's ability, is it fair to the applicant that he should be refused a license to judge at Canadian Kennel Club shows? My contention is that the applicant for a judge's license is making his application, with due respect to his ability, to officiate in that capacity for the object of monetary gain. If you will agree with me under the allusion above mentioned, I think you will also agree with me that if such applicants are to be granted a judge's license they should be prepared to stand the expense of travelling to some central point to pass an examination by a proper investigation committee as to their knowledge and ability. I am, like yourself, most anxious to see the ground work of the Canadian Kennel Club on a structure that will stand the test of time, but from my reasoning their present system of licensing judges will not measure up to that standard. It is quite true under the present existing regulations of judges' licenses, if a show-giving club are not satisfied with the manner in which the judge officiated in his designated capacity they are entitled to complain to the Canadian Kennel Club as to his ability. But, under existing circumstances, when a club hires the cheapest judge they can afford, I will venture to say that the majority of the clubs who make their selections under these conditions do not feel at liberty to make any criticism. This is a matter I wish you would think over and if you concur in my remarks advocate a more stringent measure for the granting of licenses of judges to officiate at dog shows under Canadian Kennel Club rules at the next annual general meeting of that club. I feel that the arguments I have put forward are sound and logical and that the system of granting licenses to judges to hand out the awards at Canadian Kennel Club shows needs some readjustment in order that show-giving clubs may be assured of employing competent men for their fixtures."

The writer of the Canadian Fancy is of opinion, based on the number of letters received from all parts of Canada, that my esteemed correspondent's views as to our present system of licensing judges will be endorsed. Time alone can prove whether a judge is competent. The writer knows of several breeders that everywhere except in the judging ring can sort out the wheat from the chaff; they know their breed well but whatever the cause may be, whenever they get into the judging ring their placings are always severely criticized. Many I know suffer from a form of stage fright. One very successful breeder admitted to me that his first class was a nightmare and that in this class he made a very quick decision. I have watched him often and many of his snap decisions caused him serious trouble in the succeeding classes when he had his nerves in order so as to be able to recognize type and symmetry. We, all of us, know the "Home Town" judge who, when officiating in his own locality, seems to give fair satisfaction. Yet, if ever he accepts an appointment at a distance makes a deplorable hash of the awards. These so-called judges have never tried to develop their eye for type or form, but have tried to develop another sense, that of memory, and by following the majority their awards get by in their own locality. Personally my opinion is, that Canada, under present conditions, is a most difficult country to develop judges. Our shows are not numerous enough and the distances they are apart makes it almost an impossibility for an embryo judge to visit many for the purpose of gaining experience. . . I was most interested at the recent London exhibition watching the judging teams, composed of students from colleges and agricultural colleges, judge horses, cattle, sheep and pigs. After giving their placing they were asked for their reasons for their awards; an admirable system to develop judges. I thought as I was watching these boys at the London Exhibition that we could develop our dog judges on somewhat similar lines, using some of the recognized all round judges and some of the specialty judges as instructors. At the majority of shows at which I have officiated in Canada there has been several hours during the duration of the show that could have been profitably spent in developing judges. The time may not be ripe now but I am firmly convinced that it will have to come that before a license is granted the applicant will have to give satisfactory proof that he can judge. I will close these remarks hoping that exhibitors will send me their opinions as to the best way to improve our present system of licensing judges. I was talking over our present system with a man who has had plenty of experience in the Old Country, across the border, and in Canada, and when I remarked that our judging was better than in the so-called good old days he replied: "Oh, I don't know; my pocket suffers just the same. In the old days I was robbed by a crook, and today I am robbed by a man who should never have been granted a judge's license, for they certainly don't know dogs."

Apparently there is a deal of dissatisfaction in the West and also through to the Coast with regard to the judging of Scottish Terriers. A well-known breeder writes:—"We have imported a number of good ones and have been subjected to nothing short of vicious and consistent knocking. Then along comes —, mentioning a certain dog, and look at the breaks he gets! I could tell you plenty more, but what's the use. We go to a show and get a raw deal and within a few days begin to get letters from fanciers and sportsmen stating that they understand we are cutting down on our Scottie kennel and that they would be interested in a good bitch providing the price is very reasonable and terms are allowed. I have just answered two of those letters. You would hardly believe were I to tell you the names of some of the gentlemen who have written such letters. Believe me the Chicago kidnapping racket is just a nice clean business compared to the dog game around here to day. Don't think I am whining only you asked me what was the matter with our Scotties out here and I'm telling you." Pretty strong remarks but I have the utmost confidence in my correspondent and I am hoping that in publishing same I may get letters from other exhibitors.

By the time the issue of Kennel & Bench appears there will still be time to send in entries for the National Kennel Club show. This show is unique in the class of visitors which hitherto have patronized it—a very wealthy clientele that recognize good dogs and are able and willing to pay reasonable prices for good dogs. In the last issue of Kennel & Bench the judges' names were published and a post card will soon bring a schedule if one has not already been received. Everything points to a record show as far as entries are concerned.

Mrs. Henry F. Price, the secretary of the Cairn Terrier Club, has sent me a copy of the standard for Cairn Terriers which has been sent to all approved judges of the breed. Cairns seem to be slowly but surely gaining ground in Canada and therefore I believe the standard to be of sufficient interest to publish in this column.

Cairn Terrier Club of America Standard:—1, General Appearance: To be a game, alert, fearless, small terrier. To be shaggy, hardy, active and well proportioned. To be strongly, but not heavily built. To stand well forward on forefeet. To have strong hind-quarters and to be deep in the rib. Coat

Kennel & Bench, as I have so often remarked, is the shop window of the Canadian Fancy. Our Secretary is to be congratulated on doing his part to get the magazine known across the border and is fully alive to the fact that now is the time for Canadian breeders to capture this wealthy market. The front cover of The American News Trade Journal contains a reproduction of the familiar red and white cover of Kennel & Bench right on top of the pile of America's foremost sporting magazines. Remember, that if you want your hobby to pay its way, an advertisement of your kennel should appear in every issue. I have often wondered why more kennels are not included in the Breeders' Register. This page has been the means of selling many dogs. Day after day, week after week I am asked for the names of reliable breeders and I have but one reply: look through the business columns of Kennel & Bench. It costs you four dollars a year to carry a monthly announcement in Kennel &

Bench and I know of one breeder that is sitting on top of the world through a sale made through his announcement. When mentioning the sale he wrote: "The Breeders' Register brings me more sales than all my other advertisements."

Mrs. D. E. Thomas, of the Peerless Kennels, Port Hope, sends me some interesting news of her Old English Sheepdogs. She writes:—"A little over a year ago I imported a good bitch from the Pasterale, and within two weeks after introducing her to Canadian shows she gained her title of champion. Last winter I bred her to "Ch. Snowflake" and she produced a litter of eleven. I have sold a number of the puppies and am hoping that the purchasers will exhibit them." I intend to avail myself of Mrs. Thomas' invitation to visit her kennel and inspect not only the "Bobtails" but also the Sealyhams and Pekingese.

No doubt it is owing to several somewhat unsatisfactory awards which have been made recently that my mail this month has contained several letters suggesting that the special for best dog in show should be abolished. Many exhibitors seem to forget that show-giving clubs have to do something which will appeal to the general public, and that if the "gate" is not satisfactory the club have to dip down deep in their pockets to make up the deficit. Nothing that has so far been introduced at shows has had such an appeal to the general public as the judging for best dog in show. One of my correspondents writes that the judging for this special is a farce; how can any judge weigh up the merits of the different dogs competing? It is not nearly as difficult as my correspondent thinks. The judge for best in show has the winners of the different groups brought before him, and after a walk around and an inspection of the competitors, the question he has to decide is which of the competitors comes nearest to the standard of perfection. Surely not a very difficult problem if the judge is competent. Probably the judge may find amongst the competitors two or even three that he has difficulty in separating and he has to take into consideration before making his final decision, condition, movement, and handling. Frankly, I am of opinion that now that it is customary for one judge to decide where this special should go, it is a comparatively easy special to award. Very different to what it used to be when all the specialist judges came into the ring and all of them seemed to hold the opinion that they had to vote for the breed they had judged, and then started an argument which went on until the strong man in the ring managed to get the majority of votes. It was not a case of which dog came nearest to perfection, but which dog the strong man in the ring fancied. My mentor in judging, the late L. P. C. Astley, and undoubtedly one of the best judges, surprised me once by stating that when he was undecided he always gave the award to the dog which was the most valuable.

Decidedly unfair, as I told him, for he might have a bulldog, a wire-haired fox terrier and a Bedlington terrier competing. I am, of course, referring to pre-war days, when we had such stars in bulldogs as Ch.'s "Phulnana," "Kitty Royal," "Broadlea Squire," "Unthrust Doctor," etc. The bulldog, if competing against these celebrities, would have been in the also rans, as would the fox terrier if competing against the top dogs of his breed, whilst the Bedlington might be the best ever seen. If it came to values the Bedlington would be amongst the also rans. The special called for the best dog, not for values, and, therefore, the Bedlington should receive the award. "Best Dog in Show," if abolished, would have a very detrimental effect on the gate, for it is a special that draws the crowd.

The following letter has reached me with regard to our championship rating from J. Eccles, the secretary of the Hamilton Kennel Club:

"Dear Mr. Reeves:

"I feel it my duty as a member of the Canadian Kennel Club to give you my views on the scale of championship points as it was my amendment submitted at the last annual meeting that the present sub-committee be formed. Now after reading Mr. Bruce's suggestions as to the new rating of championship points I did think they were very good, but I think that the present time is not a good time to try it. I think it would be much better if the scale of championship was made to read as follows: 100 dogs, 1 point; 175 dogs, 2 points; 250 dogs, 3 points; 325 dogs, 4 points, and 400 dogs, 5 points. Now you know, in fact we all know, that due to these hard times that all the dog shows are hard put to to make ends meet, and feel sure that if the scale of points I submit was adopted it would help the game along and also help the clubs that are unable to run a show at the present time, clubs such as Brantford, Windsor, Peterboro and Kingston. I was given to understand the committee was formed with the view of helping the smaller clubs, and if Mr. Bruce's suggestions are followed it will put all the small clubs out of business altogether. Therefore, I shall submit the above scale of points at the next general meeting if Mr. Bruce's suggestions are put forward.

"Yours truly,

"J. Eccles.

I am sorry but I cannot quite follow my Hamilton friend. He loses sight of the fact that the suggested new championship rating would mean that instead of the show-giving club having to worry about the entries it would be the seeker after championship honors who would have to do the worrying. Our present system and my correspondent's system do not call for competition, whereas, J. Bruce's suggested system insists on competition, and competition means entries and assistance given to smaller clubs.

The Haldon Kennel of Scottish Terriers, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Batt, are looked upon by American breeders as one of the leading kennels. The Haldon strain being most highly valued, no effort having been spared to improve it by the founders. After careful consideration it was thought that a bitch by the great stud force across the border, "Albourne Wattadorg," would "nick" in well with the strain, and with this object in view a "Fairwold" bitch has been acquired by "Albourne Wattadorg," the dam being that extremely nice bitch "Fairwold Scotch Bonnett." Writing of the Haldons reminds me that in perusing the entries for the Seventh Sweepstakes of the Scottish Terrier Club of America which is to be held at Grand Central Palace, New York, on February 11th that the only Canadian entry amongst the stud dogs nominated is "Haldon Julius."

Alex. R. Craigie, the secretary of one of the most influential specialty clubs in Canada, the Canadian Fox Terrier Association, informs me that their annual championship show is to be held in the Alexandria Room of the King Edward Hotel on Thursday, November 24th, the day after the closing of the National Kennel Club show. Everything points to one of the very best turnouts of Wires, for the show, coming as it does after the big open show, exhibitors will have the unique chance of competing for championship points at two shows with one shipping expense. Our friends across the border no doubt will avail themselves of this opportunity and by doing so help to make the show a real record in numbers and quality.

Just as my copy is ready the following letter has arrived from the well-known Setter breeder, W. T. Daws, of Victoria, B.C.:

"I note that you are asking for expressions of opinion as to the proposal for some change in the method of awarding championship points.

"I would like to add my voice to those who favor a change to the American system. The system at present in use in Canada has not a single redeeming feature that I can see, except its simplicity, and should have been abandoned years ago. I think, however, that Mr. Bruce, in his proposed rating, is much too generous. I would not consider a dog worthy of five points unless he had defeated at least twelve of his own breed and sex. This would mean an entry of about 24 in the breed, which seems about O.K.

"In my humble opinion a change of this sort will mean a great increase in entries at our shows. At present, if a man has a good dog it does not pay him to encourage competition in his own breed; quite the reverse. Some outsider may spring a surprise and beat him. Should the new method be adopted, competition will be necessary or no points."

"It will be seen that Dr. T. Daw shares the same opinion I expressed earlier on in these pages.—Editor.

"Have read the new standard adopted for the English Setter with much interest. Let us hope judges will pay some attention to what it calls for. For instance, skull shall be of medium width, and yet many breeders and judges seem to think that a Setter's head should be long and narrow. In one particular I believe the standard is quite in error. I allude to the matter of weights. Dogs, 55 lbs. to 70 lbs.! I think it would be correct to say that the vast majority of good English Setters today fall below 55 lbs., while what earthly use is an English Setter of 70 lbs.?

"What would have become of some of our famous International Champions if those weights had been insisted upon?

"Bitches—50 lbs. to 65 lbs. Most judges today will place a 40-lb. bitch over an equally good 50-lb. one. As for 65-lb. bitches, I doubt if they exist.

"Personally, I think the weights should be:—Dogs, 50-60 lbs; bitches, 45-55 lbs. Two or three pounds, more or less, not to count against a dog or bitch.

"Would like to know what other setter breeders think about those weights."

The argument put up by my friend, as regard the weights, is worth the serious consideration of English Setter breeders. When the new standard was sent to me, I thought that maybe the weights as printed might be due to the "Printers' Devil." However, no correction has so far appeared. I hope that other Setter breeders will send their views in as regards to this very important question. Letters should reach me not later than the 15th of the month.

Just as I was ready to mail "Canadian Fancy" I received the following interesting letter from Mr. J. D. Brien, Chairman of the Canadian National Live Stock Records Board:—

Dear Mr. Reeves:

Regarding our correspondence pertaining to the registering of dogs and having in mind the following resolution passed at the last annual meeting of the Canadian National Live Stock Record Board reading as follows:—

"That the matter of accepting for registration dogs that have become champions under Canadian Kennel Club rules be referred to the Record Committee with the recommendation that a meeting of the Live Stock Commissioner, representatives of the Canadian Kennel Club and the Record Committee be arranged and make a report to the Canadian Kennel Club."

I am pleased to say that we will arrange for this meeting to take place at the next meeting of the Record Committee, which, I trust, will be in the near future. The secretary of your association shall receive due notice of the meeting.

Judges Officiating at The Junior League Show, Vancouver

The list of Judges include such well-known fanciers as Miss Lillian Hickling, Dr. T. E. Sleeth, Jack Meadows, W. J. Moffett, Nat. McConnell and Tom P. Murray, and to the latter has been given the honor of judging the best dog in show, all-breeds.

The dogs who may be fortunate to take the higher placings at the show will receive cups to mark their achievements. A feature of the show will be classes for dogs owned by children and shown by the children themselves. For these classes the age limit for the handlers and owners has been set between 6 and 14 years. Fifty per cent will be allowed for handling and 50 per cent for condition of the dogs entered.

Dr. Ballard has accepted the feeding problem of the show, and his Health Foods—plus, will be available in generous quantity for this fixture.

It will be of great interest to showing clubs functioning in the cities of Canada to learn that the Junior League at Vancouver supports the Department of Occupational Therapy in the Vancouver General Hospital, maintaining a paid worker to supervise and instruct the volunteer workers of the Junior League. Other activities of the Junior League include the providing of workers at various clinics throughout the city of Vancouver, and aids the underprivileged and under-nourished children of the community. The Sewing Room aids in furnishing clothing to the Children's Aid Society and to the Victorian Order of Nurses for distribution where needed most. The Transportation Committee is kept busy throughout the year taking patients to and from the hospital and in driving district nurses in their work of investigation and nursing.

Surely a dog show held under the protection of such a worthy banner will succeed in making its own special appeal to every fancier in or around the city of Vancouver, and the writer's own desire can only be rated second to the desire of the Junior League itself, and that is just this, that the First Annual Dog Show will prove to be an unprecedented success both for the Junior League and for the exhibitors who respond to its appeal. Sportsmen in every country and clime are imbued with the spirit of sympathetic helpfulness, and the success of this fixture will depend greatly on that very virtue. Vancouver dog fanciers have been given an opportunity at this time which might well be envied by every other city in the Dominion of Canada. Since the dog is conceded to be "Man's Best Friend," there can be no denying his right to be allowed to do his share on behalf of suffering humanity. Here's hoping for the unqualified success of First Annual All-Breed Dog Show of the Junior League at Vancouver.

"FRIENDSHIP"

True friendship may be hidden out of sight,

Beneath a guise of seeming surliness,
Yet, thoughts some friends at times cannot express

Are there like buried treasures gleaming bright,

He may not speak, but we can read aright

A message loyal, full of tenderness;
A handshake more to us than a caress,
A seal of comradeship which we require.

We walk in step along life's broad highway,

When sorrows come he helps us bear our load,

He trusts in us, stands by us to the end.
No matter what we chance to do or say,

Though we may leave him, take another road.

He, still unwavering, will remain our friend.

Nov. 1932
Welland Kennel Club Show

Report by Judge Bert Swann, Toronto

Welland Dog Show held in connection with the County Fair, Sept. 28-29, was a successful event. The step from tent accommodation to a large, airy and comfortable building had been taken to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

The officials with this, their third annual fixture had still further seasoned experience of dog show routine and everyone profited. The result was a well run, smooth affair, and congratulations all around are in order.

Mr. Walter Lee, the secretary, carried out his multiple duties in a most efficient manner. Many old faces were noticed around the ringside, and these with the newer enthusiasts plentifully sprinkled with exhibitors, and visitors from the United States made up a goodly crowd, and with a strong local following also present the gate receipts, we were assured, were highly satisfactory.

The dogs, a good entry which was free from any filling in, was a fine turn out composed largely of circuit travellers. Many had been on the road for some weeks, and a few showed the strains of travel which such an experience produces in spite of the best of care.

The Sporting Group was a good collection. Here Oscar C. Pierson's Beagle, "River Park Some Boy," stood out an easy winner. This dog is all his name implies, beautifully balanced, excellent legs and feet, lots of heart room, good top and correct hindquarters and carriage. He is fronted too by something extra in headpiece. Maturity is all he needs. He was runner up to Best in Show, and also lifted the Cup for Best Canadian-bred, any breed.

Second in this group was W. E. Collin's Springer Spaniel, "Lansdowne Pride." This son of "Ch. Inveresk Cocksure" and "Ch. Boghurst Bushie" is a very fine specimen of his breed. Light eyes are still common however, and "Lansdowne Pride" is no exception in this respect. His skull is heavy enough but his shoulders, body, neck, legs and feet are of such merit, backed by a level top, grand bone, substance and correct free spaniel movement, all going to make him a hard dog to beat in any competition.

My third dog was Erik Bergis-hagen's English Setter, "Tula II Jager-sbo," a well known and outstanding member of her breed. Her great head, expression and generally striking appearance could not atone for her soft front, none too good top, and again she could be more free in hind movement.

In the Working Group, the first was Peter C. Greig's Harlequin Great Dane, "Dolf St. Magn," the hero of the show as he was afterwards declared Best of All Breeds. He is a very fine specimen indeed, being beautifully balanced and well put together, immense bone with substance down to his toes. His attractive colouring and well defined markings do much to add to this spectacular specimen. To be hyper-critical, though his skull fits him, I would like to see more squareness of muzzle and lip corner, though again if so improved would it add a tendency to throatiness? From which at present "Dolf" is entirely free. It goes without saying he was in grand shape and put up a very fine show.

I gave second to the Old English Sheepdog, "Blue Bunting" belonging to Miss E. M. Bragg. She is a very typical, well put together youngster for her age, well covered with a coat of fair length and good texture. She was well presented. The question of her size is her most serious "if." She beat for 3rd, R. Howling's Alsatian, "Arry of Dell Park," and probably was a bit lucky as "Arry's" fine movement could not be displayed in the limited ring space, neither was he quite in accord with his handler.

The Terrier Group was another good turn-out. Mrs. W. C. Routley's Cairn Terrier, "Ch. Scotty of Clairmar," very well known since his C.N.E. appearance, has added some avoidupois which gave him an aldermanic appearance not conducive to good form in such a little fellow of excellent proportions as he is. He won handily from the well known Wire Fox Terrier bitch, "Yorick Yearning," belonging to Dr. Thomas C. Buck. She is a good one but showed travel strain. Third went to Mrs. Harry Gidding's Sealyham Terrier, "Brazen Sparkler," a beautifully sized typey one, nicely stationed, lots of bone, good front and quarters, excellent head piece with correct Sealy ears. She was not in top bloom.

The Toy Group was small. This section was robbed of interest by the absence of the Best of Breed in Pekes. Of the two remaining competitors, Mrs. W. Wylies' "Cairndhu Diadem" was easily first. A real good one, beautiful style and carriage, a bit short of body coat which is of good texture excelling in plume, fine in bone, correct at both ends, good head, ears and expression, with the best action possible. Second, Yorkshire Terrier, Harry Smith's "Haslingden Tiny Girl," low, level topped, beautiful steel blue, and tan colour. Her profuse coat could be better done, particularly at the ends.

The Non-Sporting Group—1st, M. Girouard's Boston Terrier, "June Rose

III." Her style, short back, level top, good head and showing qualities easily put her in front. Mr. V. Pedden's Chow, "Muchow of Chia Wan" was second. He is well proportioned and in good shape, of rather undecided colour, and very emphatic in temper at least with strangers. Third, another circuit traveller, J. Tillet's English Bull bitch, "Moyers Girl," a dog headed one with great expression, tiny rose ears, good shoulders and very massive. Her abundance of flesh accentuates a lightness of bone to her disadvantage.

Hamilton Kennel Club Show

Comment by
JUDGE F. T. ESKRIGGE

HONORED by the Hamilton Kennel Club with an invitation to judge all breeds except Fox Terriers, Bostons and Toys, I journeyed to that city on Saturday, Sept. 10th, and was met by the president, Walter Foster, and by him conveyed to my hotel. Later, after breakfast and a short walk to limber up, we went to the show, and shortly after the noon hour started a real day's work. I had asked for it and I surely had it, and can sincerely say that I enjoyed every moment of the ten hours' spent in going over about one hundred and thirty very attractive dogs of many and varied breeds. This may appear slow judging, but the well filled aisles made travel to and from the rings quite difficult at times. About a year ago, I made my first trip into the Dominion and thoroughly enjoyed it. Now I have repeated the experience and can again testify to the kind-hearted sportsmanship which I encountered on every side. The entry of over two hundred dogs and the dense crowd of spectators which thronged the aisles all day and well up to the closing moments of the show were in themselves a great tribute to this progressive club, and from personal experience of many years I know just what that work means to the enthusiasts of any such organization. As the evening drew to a close it was very pleasant to be greeted by the genial secretary of the C.K.C., James D. Strachan, and by a gentleman, whose name is a household word in Canadian doggy circles, George Kynoch, who had a kindly word for the visitor. Last, but not least, the few words I had with J. R. Kennedy, owner of the Vivadora Kennels, relative to an event of a year ago, caused me to still better appreciate the greeting from a good sportsman, and it will be long remembered.

The last award was made just as a nearby church bell sounded the midnight hour, and what could be more appropriate than that this final award for the best puppy should be made to Secretary "Jimmy" Eccles' Smooth Fox Terrier, "Fairfield Sprig," amid generous applause.

On my notes I find Cocker Spaniels listed first, and as my final award of best of this breed may have been not quite clear to some readers, may I offer a few words of explanation. As I consider the Cocker Spaniel a real hunting dog, which should have all the attributes of a worker, I cannot reconcile myself to the apparently increasing fashion of trimming, which, started in the States, seems to have spread into the Dominion. Grooming, brushing and hand rubbing of the coat, all of which are conducive to good, clean looking and attractive appearance, are to be commended as most desirable; and to obtain a smooth appearance a slight trimming may be permitted; but a sporting dog denuded of eyebrows, whiskers, etc., and with skull, neck and shoulders shaved in an attempt to give a low earset, or to slenderize the neck and shoulders, I may say frankly does not appeal to me as it may to some. I believe that perfect balance or conformation—the complete harmony of all parts blending into a perfect whole—is what we should aim for, and not for just a beautiful head, neck and shoulders without the complement of a fitting body carried on well-formed, well-muscled and adequate legs and feet moving in a beautifully smooth gait.

Winners Dogs (Solid Color), Brampton Kennels' "Brampton Onward," a black dog with nice small head, good neck and body, but shown somewhat low in front when moving. Winners Dogs (Parti Color) to Nelson Duckett's "Wayridge Freck," an orange and white with nice head, although a little fine in muzzle, but with good body, legs and a nice clean mover.

Winners Bitches (Solid Color) to R. Tyrwhitt's "Stanley Topsy II," a nice black, with very nice gait. Best of Breed to "Wayridge Freck."

Springers—Winners Dogs—G. K. Alton's "Lammond Challenge," a dog with black back, and setter markings, good head and nice mover. Winners Bitches—John Ritchie's "Ch. Follow Through of Solway," a very pleasing bitch of good type, nice head, body and movement—very attractive, but not in the best of condition. Best of Breed to the Winners Bitch, "Ch. Follow Through of Solway."

Great Danes—Winners Dogs to Peter C. Greig's "Dolf St. Magnificent," a rugged type of harlequin, black and white, large and thoroughly masculine in appearance, with ample bone and substance. Winners Bitches, Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson's "Korn Dyke Princess," a sweetly attractive fawn which won instant favor with many, but four years old. Reserve, E. Braid's "Darkie of Greatdania," a black bitch, about ten months old, and with a good chance for development. Best of Breed to "Dolf St. Magnificent."

Collies—Winners Dogs—J. L. Stewart's "Sir Douglas Haig," a splendidly coated dog with nice head and expression, good body, and a nice mover. Winners Bitches, W. H.

Thompson's "Tipperary Sue," a good sable and white. Best of Breed, "Sir Douglas Haig."

German Shepherds—A good entry of thirteen. Winners Dogs, Mrs. A. B. Calow's "Karl of Bismarck," a very good specimen, good head, good formation throughout, and very typical. Winners Bitches, Mrs. G. H. Slean's "Lady of Dawn," a greyish brindle, with good head, nice conformation and very good gait. Best of Breed, to that good winner, R. Howting's "Array of Dell Park," entered for specials only.

Bull Terriers—Winners Dogs—Capt. H. R. M. C. and Mrs. Wilks' "Trafalgar White Ensign," a thoroughly typical White Cavalier, masculine in every particular, splendid bone and well balanced. Winners Bitch, H. S. Thornton's "Trafalgar Peggy," litter sister of the dog, and just as feminine as he is masculine in type, lighter all through in appearance, but what might be called sweet. Best of Breed to the male.

Cairn Terriers—Winners Dogs—Mrs. Wm. Bryans' "Kingsman," a pepper and salt, well formed dog with good body. Reserve, to Mrs. Hyslop's "Knip-ton Ratal." Winners Bitches, Mrs. Routley's "Clairmar Susette," a fairly light pepper and salt, nice body, good station and nice head, body, legs and feet, although possibly a trifle short in body. Reserve to Mrs. Hyslop's "Jean of Cairdania," a darker colored bitch, somewhat longer in body, but shown too low at shoulders, otherwise very attractive.

West Highland White Terriers—Winners Dogs and Best of Breed, Mr. and Mrs. Blochin's puppy, "Bore Stone Solos Robin," a very good type, with true expression, nice head, good body, legs and feet. Winners Bitch, the same owners' "Bencruachan," a very pleasing type, better coat, but still not quite able to beat her kennel mate on this occasion.

Scottish Terriers—Winners Dogs and Best of Breed, C. A. Ward's "Walnut Rouge," a dog of very good type, with mighty good head and body, well coated. Reserve, to H. E. and W. Batt's "Haldon Gillie," another nice dog, slightly over seventeen months' old, at present needs development. Winners Bitches, C. A. Ward's "Tartoit Ton Tein," a brindle with good head and coat, all of nice type.

Sealyham Terriers—Only one, Major E. Ward's bitch, "Wright Peggy of Uskvale," an attractive lady with nice head, good body and legs, slightly under two years' of age, imported.

Bulldogs—A very flattering entry of very good quality. Winners Dogs, Percy Alderson's "Dewhurst Durham," good type with nice head, body and limbs. Winners Bitches and Best of Breed, J. W. Tillett's "Moyer's Girl," very good head and foreface, body and more typical rear gait than the others.

Mrs. V. G. Fielden's red Chow Chow, "Muchow of Chiawan" had things his own way. A good dog which should have had some competition.

Group No. 4 for Toys was judged first, three contestants, Pekingese, Pomeranian and Yorkshire, and the decision went to the Yorkshire, a very typy and tiny creature, Harry Smith's "Haslington Rags."

Group No. 1 for Sporting Dogs next, with four entered. First place to the Cocker Spaniel, N. Duckett's "Wayridge Freck," for general conformation, limbs and gait.

Group No. 2 had only one contender for the honor, the Great Dane, "Dolf St. Magnificent," owned by Peter C. Greig. Group No. 3 for Terriers brought out four good dogs, Airedale, Bull Terrier, Smooth Fox, and Scottie. Rarely, if ever, having seen a Smooth Fox Terrier go Best of Breed in the States, it was a surprise to me to find one in this group. After going over each of these four, while I was greatly pleased with their quality, all through the Fox Terrier forged to the front, and when they had all been moved up and down the ring in turn, I was convinced that the Smooth deserved the honor for his all round excellence. A sweet head in good proportion to the clean neck, good shoulders, well formed body, legs and feet with very clean moving gait, Frank Beer's "Call Again," received the first prize in the group.

The Non-Sporting Group No. 5, brought out only one, the English Bulldog, J. Tillett's "Moyer's Girl," good head, body and typical gait.

Best Canadian-bred came next with the Cocker Spaniel, Fox Terrier, English Bulldog, and Yorkshire Terrier in the ring. Again the Smooth Fox Terrier, "Call Again" went to the top. This left the contest for best in show between the Fox Terrier and the Great Dane.

Once more the contenders were examined and moved, and soon the final award, The President's Trophy for the best in the show, was handed to the exhibitor of "Call Again," and a Smooth Fox Terrier had fairly gone to the top in a contest of elimination over more than two hundred dogs of his own and other breeds.

The Special for the best puppy found four dogs entered, Cocker Spaniel, Airedale and Smooth Fox Terriers, and a Collie. A very nice lot, but this was Smooth Fox Terrier day, and a representative of that variety took the prize, Mr. James Eccles' "Fairfield Sprig," an award which was greeted with sincere approval for a good worker's reward.

PRIMA DONNA MISSES HER DOG

When Rosa Ponselle, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, visited Toronto the other day, she gave her impressions of the Queen City to a "Telegram" reporter, and at that time she paid a nice compliment to dogs, and dog shows when she said "I miss my dog when I get back here—for I can't take him with me when I travel. They make him go in the baggage car, and that isn't any fun for 'Whiskers' is it?"—"Whiskers," by the way is an Irish Terrier—"There isn't a dog show on here today is there? I hoped there might be, for there's nothing I'd rather go to."

WHAT THE CLUBS ARE DOING

The Pekin Palace Dog Association held its first meeting of the season on October 5th, when an encouraging turnout of the members gathered together to discuss the association's activities for the winter months. It was decided to hold an evening show, at which money would be included as special prizes in some instances, it being believed that this new attraction will be much appreciated. The Spring Specialty Show has been given a date in March, and very likely it will be held on a Saturday during that month, and quite probably in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto.

Notes from Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. B. R. KNOWLES, Winnipeg, Man.

GONE are the gorgeous colors of early autumn. The late fall is with us and already signs of early winter are everywhere in evidence. All too early most of us think, because the russets and browns, gold and all the shades of red, intermingled with splashes of green clothed the trees but a short while this year. But they were with us long enough to call all ardent sportsmen, and guns, blankets, waterproofs and provisions were hastily gathered as shooting parties made ready to get away for the lakes and woods. One party is not back yet and evidently remaining to take advantage of the few days allotted for chicken shooting.

I met Mr. Corson the other day. His two English Setters are coming along splendidly. One, he says, shows more promise than the other, which is inclined to chase the birds. I saw them at the Fort Garry Matinee Show, and the care and attention they are receiving was evidenced by their splendid coats.

We were sorry to hear Mr. Eamon's Irish Setter bitch had been in an accident, in which she received a flank wound that necessitated quite a number of sutures (stiches). We hope before these notes appear the wound will be healed.

The Fort Garry Kennel Club were happy in their choice of Judges for their Matinee Show. Mrs. Bassinette, that ardent sportswoman and lover of sporting dogs kindly consented to judge sporting dogs. She says: "The quality of our Sporting dogs is improving." And this is worth noting when it comes from the lady who breeds such magnificent English Setters as "Heather Dawn."

Perry Biller, the old reliable and one of the pioneers of the Boston Terrier game in Manitoba was selected to judge Boston Terriers. Needless to say, there could be no discord on his placings. Everyone interested, seemed to be perfectly satisfied with his awards.

Mr. Woodend was kept busy with the breeds allotted to him, in fact he seemed to be the busiest of all the judges; and he went about his work in a thorough businesslike manner.

Harold Bentley, had the Toys and litter classes to take care of. The Toys were nicely judged by him, which is as it should be. Himself an importer and breeder of high class stock, he should be in a position to know a good one when he sees it. Particularly interesting amongst the litters he had to judge was a nice group of Samoyedes, which were awarded first place.

Carl Tangstad, perhaps the most outstanding supporter of the German Shepherd dog in Winnipeg was persuaded to judge the German Shepherds. He seemed to know what he was looking for, but on more than one instance, the dog he seemed to choose, just wouldn't show. In my own opinion a number of both sexes, whilst possessing an abundance of hindquarter, angulation were deficient in this desirable quality in the front quarter. And this brings back to my memory a remark made by Lady Kitty Ritson, when she judged German Shepherds at the Westminster Kennel Club Show in 1930. She said on that occasion: "Where are the shoulders of years ago." And this remark would apply equally well to many of our Winnipeg Shepherds. In many of the Shepherds the Humerus or Shoulder bone, seems almost to be a continuation of the radius or leg bone. Whereas it should go upwards and forwards from the elbow joint to assist in forming the great fore chest, so much in evidence in the really good specimens of the breed. In those instances where the humerus is properly placed it forms a right angle with the Scapula or Shoulder blade.

Taking all things into consideration, particularly the inability of owners to handle their dogs, Mr. Tangstad made as nice a job of judging Shepherds as I have seen in Winnipeg.

And last, but not least was the judging of the children's classes by Mr. Ridge. Mr. Ridge is always happy whenever a dog show is concerned. But he excels in this particular event, teaching the youngsters how to handle and show their dogs, bringing a smile here and putting a little joy into some other child's heart there, and what could be better in these troubled times.

A very nice show, in which the officials were kept busy from the commencement to the conclusion, and their exertions were rewarded by the show being a brilliant financial success.

English Setters—Phil Lillie, Moose Jaw, has purchased a Blue Bilton puppy by "Maesydd Malcolm" from Mr. Chevrier, and L. Hinton, of Toronto, has purchased a Lemon Bilton puppy by the same sire.

German Shepherd Dogs—Mr. Moore of Winnipeg, has purchased a male puppy by "Wolf von Ripley" ex "Gipsy von Eldon" from Mr. Tretiak. A. Sroscki, Portage la Prairie, J. Skiba, Morton, Manitoba, and Mr. Sorby, Winnipeg, have purchased female puppies by the same sire and dam from Mr. Tretiak.

English Bulldogs—Charlie Joplin's "Ch. Semper Fidelis" has whelped nine puppies by "Ch. Markus Samson."

"Lady Sylvia" the property of Mr. Ransom, has just weaned five very nice puppies by "Silverdale Leader." Mr. Shackley, of Winnipeg, has purchased one of them. Geo. Kynoch has also obtained a nice male from the same litter.

Scottish Terriers—Mr. Goslick's two females, "Bunt" and "Vic", have been bred to Mr. Wade's "Ornsay Druid."

Cocker Spaniels—Mr. Farler has disposed of the last litter of puppies by Mrs. R. William's "Ch. Calmo Black Boy" ex his imported bitch "Ch. Emigrant of Five Diamonds." "Emigrant" was imported from the well known "Five Diamond Kennels of England." "Dusky Bells of Chalvey," a lovely black was purchased by H. Joule, of Winnipeg; "Diana of Chalvey" by Phil Lillie, of Moose Jaw, Sask.; "Duke of Chalvey" by Mr. McPherson, of Vancouver, B.C.; "Sunnyside Boy of Chalvey" by W. J. Francis, Whitewood, Sask.; "Spinney of Chalvey" by J. Drew, Milwaukee, Wis.; and "Nippie of Chalvey" by Mr. McKenzie, of Winnipeg.

Pomeranians—Mr. and Mrs. Rogers' "Beverley Topsy" has whelped three beautiful male puppies by "Adanac Prince," one little fellow looks particularly good, he has a remarkably short back and a nice stand off coat.

Boston Terriers—Mr. Clare, of St. James, has been remodelling his kennels and enlarging his runs. He is evidently anticipating to go in for his favorite breed more extensively. He reports a litter of nicely marked puppies by "Ch. Valente's Aviator." This note should have appeared last month but was inadvertently misplaced.

Geo. Duncan, of Trapystok Kennels reports that the stud business has been fairly brisk since the show season. His clients are evidently looking forward to a litter for the Christmas season. The next move will be a looking forward to spring litters. He reports several bookings registered ahead for January and February matings to "Ch. Trapystok Personality" and "Trapystok Headlight." He also announces the arrival from across the line of a four months' old youngster. He is a perfectly marked Seal Brindle and sired by "Ch. Million Dollar Kid Boots" ex "Bearcat Lady Gay." This breeding should prove to be a great asset to breeders in this locality, as it is a combination of the blood of "Katina Going Up" and "Mushula Bearcat." George is very pleased with him, and reports he is setting him aside until the spring along with a promising young male by "Ch. Trapystok Personality," remarking that those kind always bring real money.

"Where can I buy the best Life Insurance Policy?"

Several things enter into the consideration of this important subject. What is the premium rate charged? What dividends are given on the policy? Is the company economically managed so that its future prospects for dividends are good? Does it earn a good interest rate?

Mr. Carr, of Seven Sisters Falls, Manitoba, had the misfortune to lose his "Tarbaby Tanakey" by "Trapystok Headlight." He was run over. Mr. Carr and family drove to the city and immediately called the Trapystok Kennels. Their tearful remarks showed how the loss of the little fellow affected them, but when they drove away they took with them "Bobby Boy," a perfectly marked youngster by "Kewayden All Hagerty" ex "Trapystok Bonnie."

Perry Biller, has bred his favorite bitch, "Bubbles" to "Trapystok Headlight." Both dogs are perfectly marked and strong headed, which is as he likes them. And he is looking forward to something good from this mating.

Mrs. F. McClain, of Neepawa, Manitoba, announces a beautiful litter by "Ch. Trapystok Personality." She writes: "Kit has four of the nicest pups I ever saw, two males and two females. Everyone is perfectly marked. They all appear to have everything called for to make a real Boston."

"Trapystok Bonnie", one of the headliners in the brood class has passed away. She was seized with paralysis of the hindquarters a few days previous to whelping. Fortunately, Dr. Morrow was able to save the litter which are being taken care of by a foster mother.

Saskatchewan News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

HAVING just returned from a trip to the bush country in the Big River district, the writer made a careful survey of the dogs and dog owners en route. From information gleaned in various ways, we found that dog teams were practically a thing of the past in this district, the country far north of Big River is becoming well settled. Planes, cars, and horses taking care of transport and travel. We came across one bachelor, who still planned on using his sleds and dogs, two of the team were in the cabin, big typical husky fellows that had a "hands off" expression. We saw lots of dogs, but with the exception of one Irish Water Spaniel, and a young Springer, saw nothing worthy of the name of a pure bred. We took "Bridgewater Dan," the Springer along, and he was greatly admired by many. We found most of the folks we met were most interested in dogs of various sorts, and without doubt, pure bred dogs will find their way into these new homes when the earning power of these settlers becomes greater. At Prince Albert, we were able to ring up and meet some of our Canadian Kennel Club members.

Our good friend, Mr. Willox, of Springer fame, entertained us to supper, and we spent a couple of hours, discussing shows, past and present, looking over records of Springers that have passed through the Willox Kennels, and admiring two nice males who are privileged to make their home in the house. Mr. Grosser came along, accompanied by his Irish Setter, a lovely bitch about two years old and a great worker.

Mrs. Burton is as enthusiastic as ever, and has her Springers in wonderful shape.

Herb. Barr, a Cocker fancier of many years' experience, has a few good ones around him. He is a stickler for type and quality. Mr. Eggleston is still breeding Springers and beside some wonderful breeding stock has a litter of 7, that are very well developed, and also a brace of Cockers that can give a good account of themselves in the ring. Our time being limited we were unable to stay in Prince Albert for any length of time, but feel assured there is lots of enthusiasm in this city to keep the dog game well to the front, and we would not be surprised to see the fanciers in Prince Albert putting on a nice show in 1933. Saskatoon our next stop, has been well written up in these pages during the past months, the breeders and their dogs being well known and their shows will go down in history, for few cities can boast of two shows each year, so well supported as those at the Hub City. A new fancier to most of us is E. Vandenberg. Mr. Vandenberg has been a fancier for many years but like many others "just dropped out" for a spell. However, the call of the Smooth has reached his ear once more, and from now on he is going to help along the boom in the Smooth Fox Terrier that has made such a good start in the West. We hear of others, too, who contemplate increasing the number of their Smooth females, and we hope, this "gentlemanly terrier" will soon be on a par with his Wire cousin.

Jack Woods, of Swift Current, is turning his attention to the Irish Terrier—maybe his idea is to have one all ready for the 1933 Swift Current Show, for with the band of fanciers in this city, things are bound to boom again.

Another new fancier in our midst is the Rev. J. E. Jeary, B.A., of Caron,—Herbert Mission, the Rev. gentleman has favored the Smooth in the past, but is anxious to give the Wires a trial. He has purchased "Mutual Quartette," a son of "Thet Trio" (Imp.), and out of "Ch. Iclas Altheway."

We were pleased to get news from Mrs. Gladys D. Johnston, "Glenavalon Kennels", Lone Rock. Mrs. Johnston reports that the Sporting Dogs and their owners are now enjoying the glorious fall weather. The Collies at Glenavalon are doing well. "Topsy of Glenavalon" has a nice litter, 3 dark sable females, and two tri-color males. This owner is a firm believer in early fall puppies as they have the opportunity of free range, and, coming at a time when the crops are garnered in,—much more time can be expended on them.

Mrs. and H. C. Graham, of "Lea Park" Kennels, have been in the Collie business for the past 25 years, and during this time have bred many good ones. Two females from these kennels have gone to strengthen Glenavalon Kennels and will later be mated to Glenavalon's "Sandy Mac," the result should be a few more good ones, for the two new additions are teeming with quality, and "Sandy Mac" has already shown his ability to sire stock of the superior type.

Mrs. Johnston's letter contained several snaps of the beautifully wooded farm.

We were glad to have a visit from another of our dog loving clergymen, Rev. John McKnight, Mrs. McKnight and daughter, of Grand Coulee. John reports that his champion Shepherd "Wawota Chieftain" is looking better than ever. "Chieftain" was well trained when he became the property of Mr. McKnight, but since that time he has added to his abilities. To our great surprise, we saw in the McKnight car, a black Scottie, female, 4½ months old, purchased from Mr. Middlemas, Regina, this young "Queen of Scots" is out of "Lady Necessity" (Imp.), and sired by "Ruglen Rabbie" (Imp.). She shows her good breeding, while we understood this little "Scot" was to be the companion of the young daughter, "Kathleen Mary." We noticed that Mrs. McKnight was deeply in love with the "Diehard" herself.

Walter Male, one of the leading Shepherd breeders in Moose Jaw, reports the sale of a whole litter before 7 weeks old, but that is no surprise even in these quiet times for Shepherds at this kennel are all from imported stock. Well raised and cared for every day, their condition is always an attraction and they are thoroughly used to city life, and taught to mind their own business right from the start. Beside the ability to win at the shows, and do most anything they are asked to do, Walter has found a new work for his eagle eyed Shepherds. Two years ago, Walter spied a rat in his large barn and then more of them, each morning. "Nora Vondernorden" would take her master and show him the night's kill. Walter marked them down daily, with the result that to-date these Shepherd's have killed over 800 rats,— "Nora" is as patient as a house cat and as soon as the rat's whiskers appear in sight you can bet it means another for the incinerator.

Mrs. Ruth Corby, of Cutknife, Sask., has had her Pekingese "Lee Nah" bred to "Ch. Kingwin Kao Shing." Mrs. Corby hopes to start a kennel when the opportune time comes.

"Vivadora Masterpiece" and out of "Mutual Confidence," had been struck by a passing speedster and instantly killed.

It's something new to see Robert Forest of Moose Jaw taking a great interest in a snappy wire female by "Thet Trio." "Bob" is a brother of William Forest, the "Scottie" specialist, and all-round judge of Calgary. Some years ago Mr. Forest was known as one of the leading Collie fanciers in Scotland, and like his brother "Bill" is well posted on all breeds. After so long in retirement from the dog game, we hope to see "Bob" and "Bill" in the ring, competing for best Terrier in show some day.

When approached for news for the Saskatchewan Page for our last issue, Miss Freda Henderson, secretary of Moose Jaw Kennel Club, said there was nothing new but hoped to have something interesting for the November issue. Here it is. Miss Henderson already had a nice kennel of Pekingese, but with these new additions will be a pillar of strength among Peke breeders in the West. The kennels have been strengthened with an importation from the kennels of Mrs. Richard S. Quigley, of Lock Haven, Pa., U.S.A. This new one is "Hans Doa Wah of Orchard Hill," a lovely fawn brindle daughter of "Ch. Sutherland Av Han Shih" out of "Ch. Trinklet of Balcroft." This is the best possible combination of bloodlines of "Sutherland Ave," "Aldbourn," "Hesketh," "Shantung" and "Chinatown."

"Ch. Sutherland Av Han Shih" is a son of "Ch. Yu Chuan of Alderbourn" and is from the world famous English kennels of Mrs. Frances Mary Weaver. He is considered by those who know the breed to be one of the best Pekingese on the American Continent. Judge Geo. Kynoch made him best Toy at Ottawa.

Miss Henderson has also purchased from Mrs. M. Mitchell of the famous Badminton Kennels a very fine female puppy, sired by "Robin of Blossomlea." "Robin" was imported by Mrs. Peter Herd, Toronto, from the kennels of Miss J. E. Grant of Scotland. He is a son of the famous "Ch. Mo Ghradh of Earlsferry" and is noted in the Old Country as a fine show dog and sire of beautiful puppies. Miss Henderson concludes her notes by remarking that Mrs. Mitchell of Toronto is the best friend a novice in Pekingese could have. We do not wish to suggest by the last remark that Miss Henderson is in the novice stage, having been a student and breeder for many years.

"Bob" Cross, the owner of "Vivadora Masterpiece," is getting some nice stuff from this dog. "Bob" says they are all short coupled and excelling in heads and feet. A female belonging to the same owner is on a visit to Vivadora Kennels, Toronto, to be bred to Mr. Kennedy's latest importation, "Talavera Tantalus."

The annual Sheep Dog Trials were held in connection with the Southern Saskatchewan feeder show at Moose Jaw on Friday, October 14th. These trials were watched by a crowd of several hundred spectators. Nine dogs competed in the trials and of their number seven successfully completed the tests. The performances were judged by George Herringer, Maple Creek, and Mr. Shaw, Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Saskatchewan.

Each dog was required to drive a group of five sheep across a three hundred yard course, through the space between posts representing gate openings, then separate in "twos" and "threes" and finally driving them into a pen at the end of the course. The only instructions the dogs received were by whistle and hand signs, given by their respective owners. The remarkable ability of these "Bearded" Collies in herding sheep commanded the respect of farmers and townspeople alike.

Proving himself a master Shepherd, "Jerry", owned by George Hatton, Sutherland, took first place, and was awarded the "White Horse Silver Trophy" in addition to a cash prize. The trophy is for annual competition. "Don" owned by John McCuish was second, with "Gyp", owned by Wm. Horsborough, a close third.

The next issue of Kennel and Bench will be our Xmas Number bringing forcibly to our notice the closing days of 1932. Last year at this time we made an appeal for a "Saskatchewan Picture Page" with fair results. We would like to see this next issue a double page of pictures of Saskatchewan fanciers and their dogs, and believe that it is a possibility that we should all strive for. Send your pictures and advertising copy now.

An advertisement in the regular columns or in the classified ads may be a great help to many, and bring in cash at a time when it is needed most. Kennel and Bench has a very far reaching circulation and the cost is far less than any other means of advertising. Please send your notes in early for December. Our genial Editor will appreciate receiving contributors notes in good time, owing to the pressure Christmas business.

The Alberta News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
J. G. YOUNG, Edmonton, Alberta

THIS business of being a Provincial Contributing Editor to a "doggy" paper is not all beer and skittles. When I started to sort out my correspondence for the Alberta Notes this evening, I found that I had two letters from out-of-town members of the C.K.C. to include in my contribution for the Alberta fancy. I don't know whether the price of stationery has increased lately, but it is certainly apparent that Alberta members of the C.K.C., with the exception of two, are suffering from severe attacks of "writer's cramp." How about the other sixty members in Alberta getting busy to insure that the Alberta section of Kennel & Bench in the December issue will be filled right up with newsy items, and when they are writing their items for the columns at their disposal, I would also like to remind them that the financial success of any newspaper or magazine is dependent upon its advertising space and ask them to include an advertisement for insertion in the December issue. The December, or Christmas Number of Kennel & Bench, which is read the world over, offers you an opportunity of bringing the activities of your kennel to the whole world, and you are assured that the insertion of an advertisement at the revised rates for Xmas Number which can be found on the first page of our magazine will offer you a medium of bringing your activities to the "doggy" people of the world. In addition to your advertisement, it will be my privilege to liberally refer to the quality of your dogs if you will so advise me in the columns at my disposal. All copy of advertisements and information in the "Alberta Notes" for inclusion in the December issue of Kennel & Bench should be received by me not later than November 10th, 1932. If you have suitable cuts of your dogs, they should be included in your ads., as they will greatly enhance the value of same. If you do not have the cuts, they can be made from suitable photographs at the cost price to the publishers of our own magazine. Come on Alberta, you are better off than the rest of Canada insofar as the depression has affected you, so let's tell the world what we have in the way of dogs, and we have some "real" ones. Don't forget, November 10th is the closing date for advertisements, along with the information you wish included in the 1932 Christmas Number of Kennel & Bench.

S. W. Foster, Edmonton, whose Chesapeake Kennels carry the "Airline" prefix, reports his good bitch "Airline Patricia" showing in whelp to his stud dog "Airline Sir Bud." If the saying "blood will tell" proves correct, the mating should be worth while. "Patricia's" dam carries seven American Champions in her pedigree, being the very cream of the blood from the famous "Chesacraft Kennels" at Lutherville, Maryland, in their heyday, while her sire, "Richmond's Beaver," was considered the ideal by F. E. Richmond, a member of the committee on the standard adopted by the American Chesapeake Club. "Sir Bud" is by that peer of producing sires, "Champion Bud Parker," ex the undefeated "Ch. Airline Golden Eye." In his two shows to date "Sir Bud" has two "purples" and one "tri-color" to his credit. This is a litter of exceptional merit, and as both parents have real type with right size, color, and coat, together with exceptional temperament, their owner is justified in expecting a real flyer from the mating.

Jack Rawlings, Edmonton, whose "Quantack Vale" kennels in Springers is one to conjecture with, reports a very promising litter by Mrs. H. Husband's "Champion Freeman of Avondale," ex his "Quantack Vale of Kent," who is by Int. "Ch. High Tide Barney," ex "Ch. Vale of Burnside," of two males and eight females, which will be offered for sale in the advertising columns of Kennel & Bench when ready.

Joe Caswell, whose love is for the "Mick"—Irish Terrier, reports the sale of a very promising male puppy to Mrs. Walsh, the wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta.

Harry Champ, Redcliff, whose "Cliff" Kennels is one to contend with when Wirehaired Fox Terriers are mentioned in this part of the country, reports the following whelping: One litter of four males and three females, sired by "Medalta Nifty," ex "Cliff Flapper," and an exceptional litter of three males and one female sired by "Medalta Simple Simon," ex "Cliff Becky" (this is the bitch that did so well at the Western Canada Shows last year). He also reports the mating of his "Cliff Pluck Jenny" to R. A. Cross' "Vivadora Masterpiece," and the result of such a mating should produce some "real" ones.

In order to give the Eastern members of Kennel & Bench how hard their fellow members in the West in the various towns and cities just what their activities are to make their one show a year a success, I would like to mention that the members of the Medicine Hat Kennel Club, whose show is held on the 24th of May each year, are already planning and arranging various activities which will make their show in 1933 the success it should be by arranging for whist drives and dances throughout the Winter months to provide the necessary funds for their forthcoming show.

The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club has also arranged similar entertainments for members and friends, and propose to hold a social evening on the first Saturday of each month commencing in November and ending in April. Three of these evenings will be held on the North side of the River, and two on the South side. In case the reader does not know to what river I am referring, it is the North Saskatchewan, which divides Edmonton (proper) on the North side of it and Edmonton South (formerly Strathcona), on the south side. If any out-of-town fancier happens to be in Edmonton on the first Saturday of the month for the next five months he is assured of a real "doggy" welcome to these festivities.

Sandy Robertson, "Merrie Cocker Kennels, Regd.," reports the sale of that beautiful Red Cocker, "Merrie Duke" to Mrs. Mae E. Fawdry, Orbus Kennels, Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, along with his kennel mate "Merrie Bubbles." "Duke" should be a strong contender for "Best of Breed" and "Best Sporting Dog," at future shows held in British Columbia, and his quality should do much to improve the breed in the coast province, while "Bubbles" is capable of producing "real" Cockers.

George Kirkwood has just returned from a most enjoyable holiday and shooting trip spent at the well-known "Greenlawn Kennels" of Lloyd Brothers at Greenlawn, Alberta, where he had a real good time. In fact, George says he was so interested in the ability of the trained Setters and Springers that the majority of the time he was watching the performance of the dogs, not the birds. George advises that Lloyd Brothers have an ideal situation for the training of bird dogs, as there is an abundance of fur and feathered game for them to work on. Incidentally, I think the Kirkwoods will be changing their breed in the near future, as George brought back a "real" Sealyham with him. Unfortunately, through his working qualities this dog is debarred from showing, a badger having bitten his leg so bad that it has a permanent injury, but he is a "real" Sealy. just the same, full of vim, pep and vigor. Mr. Kirkwood advises that Lloyd Brothers have quite a variety of Sporting Dogs, including fifty-four fully trained English Setters, a number of fully trained Springer Spaniels, a Greyhound bitch from Harry Cook's breeding, as well as a pair of Beagles, so that the real Sporting Dogs should not suffer from lack of patronage in the Province of Alberta.

Jack Tanton, who in former years was an ardent breeder and exhibitor of the "Merrie Cocker," advises that he is going to be another contender at coming shows of this popular dog. He recently acquired the bitch "Merrie Duchess," by "Ch. Calmas Durbar," ex "Ch. Merrie Beauty" (the same breeding as that sensational winning dog "Ch. Merrie Durbar"), which he has bred to "Ch. Calmas Recorder," who is by "Ch. Calmas Durbar," ex "Ch. Calmas Lady Supreme." If "blood will tell," is going to tell any kind of story, here is its chance to tell plenty.

M. B. McColl, Edmonton, has recently received a male and female Springer Spaniel from the well-known Belmoss Kennels. These puppies are black and white, and sired by "Belmoss Jacobite 2nd" ex "Ch. Belmoss Countess." Of the fourteen dogs in the pedigree of these puppies ten are champions and seven International Champions, and such breeding as they carry should do much to improve Springers in this part of Canada at a later date.

Don't forget, fellow members of the Canadian Kennel Club in Alberta, that it is within your power to make the Alberta Section of Kennel & Bench the most popular in the December or Christmas Number—send in your advertisements and information for the columns of "Alberta Notes" so that they will reach me on or before November 10, 1932. Think about it today and send your advertisements and news tomorrow.

TRANSFERS HIS COCKERS

A. E. Price, Toronto, suffering from the effects of a recent operation, and having in mind that he is not as young today as he was 50 years ago, has decided to transfer all his well known Cocker Spaniels over to his son, W. A. Price, Toronto. This does not mean that the "Pater" will lose his interest in the breed, as he still loves the Cocker Spaniel as strongly as ever he did, but it does mean that "W. A." takes over all the dogs in his own name, and that "A. E." will continue only in the office of supervisor, and no doubt as adviser as well.

TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL Tradition and the West White Highland Terrier

By John England.

It is doubtful whether even the sponsors of the West Highland White Terrier know of the curious and interesting history attaching to this breed which claims to be among the oldest of those native to Great Britain. In the National Gallery there are four paintings—and many more in the Art Galleries of Europe—based on the Apocrypha story of Blind Tobit's son Tobias, Sara the heroine and the angel Gabriel. Without going into details about the story itself, one of these pictures, painted by a fifteenth century artist and entitled "Angel and Tobias," shows Tobias returning from a fishing adventure—and trotting alongside him is a very fair specimen of a West Highland Terrier. The painting may call for criticism . . . but there is no doubt about the breed of dog featured.

The Apocrypha is remarkable for many things, and not the least among these is that a semi-Biblical character should be credited with taking a dog with him on his journeyings. Elsewhere in the Bible there is no mention of a dog being the companion of man—an idea repugnant to the ancient Jews.

Times, however, have changed and today there are few more popular "four-legged pals" than that game little sportsman, "The West Highland Terrier." His origin is a mystery. It is known that the dog was originally pre-eminently a fighter and worker. It is asserted that the West Highland or Cairn Terrier was originally a native of Skye and that eventually it became known as a Skye Terrier—a description which must not confuse the West Highland with the breed officially known as Skye Terriers. Another tradition has it that these Terriers are the descendants of white Spanish dogs which were cast on the Hebrides when the Armada was wrecked and in due course mated with the aboriginal dogs of the Islands. Be that as it may, the seeker after a "real" dog—a dog with character and grit coupled with gentleness and devotion, will find it more than difficult to make a better choice than a "West Highland White." He is as "hard as nails," an excellent house dog and absolutely fearless.

His general appearance can be summed up thus . . . small, game, hardy looking, with a varminty appearance, strongly built; deep in chest and back ribs, straight back and powerful quarters on muscular legs. Coat should be about 2½ inches long, white in color, hard and non-curly. Tail straight, not bushy. Skull not too broad but proportionate to the very powerful jaws. Ears small, sharp pointed, erect. Eyes widely placed, dark hazel in color, bright, sharp and intelligent looking. Muzzle not too long. The nose, roof of mouth and pads of feet distinctly black in color.

The West Highland White in common with all dogs, thrives on two regular feeds a day. It is a good plan to feed "dry" dog biscuits or hound or terrier meal for the morning feed, and a warm mash for the evening. A thoroughly nourishing warm mash can be made by thoroughly soaking terrier meal in hot gravy or soup. Dinner table scraps can be added to introduce variety. Biscuit foods fed dry are not only a highly nourishing ration in easily digestible form but provide healthy exercise for jaws and teeth. They are essential to a dog's wellbeing.

The more exercise he has, the better. Give him a daily grooming with a stiff dandy brush and comb. Besides adding to his smart appearance it will keep his coat free from the dirt that breeds disease.

It is perhaps difficult to know what of the three varieties of Scotland's terriers to recommend—the "Scottie," the Cairn or the White Terrier—as each has its own particular charm. It is just a matter of personal taste . . . but whatever the choice, the West Highland will take a lot of beating.

British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
K. H. F. PURDON, Vancouver, B.C.

WE all welcome a new fancier, this one to the Springer Spaniels, in the person of E. A. Sparrow, of Enderby, B.C., who is a reader and subscriber to Kennel and Bench. He has made a good start with a litter of promising puppies by "Ch. Aristocrat of Avandale" ex his good bitch "Placid of Avandale" by "Ch. Springbok of Ware." Mr. Sparrow has also purchased "Silent Messenger" from D. B. Young, of Shaughnessy, Alberta. Being a new fancier, Mr. Sparrow may have been a little reticent about sending in his news, but as several of my correspondents lately have been new comers to the game, I should like to again remind you that Kennel and Bench welcomes your news and your spirit of co-operation.

Stanley Dorrell, of the Swansea Kennels, Vancouver, has been having a busy time with his Scottish Terriers, many inmates leaving the kennel. "Swansea Desert Song," his young bitch that went to "Winners" at the recent Vancouver Kennel Club Show, has gone to one of our oldest fanciers, John McMann, who has lately returned from Scotland to Seattle, after taking in all the leading shows in the old country. "Desert Song" is in whelp to "Ch. Gaisgill Great Scot."

A promising dog pup also by "Ch. Gaisgill Great Scot" named "Swansea Sentinel" has been sold to Dr. Eaton, of Trail. Dr. Eaton says that "you had better gather in all the prizes you can at present, because I shall bring a string of Scotties to the coast next spring." The Doctor has a Scottie bitch, only once shown when going to "Winners," he has also a strong kennel of Irish Terriers and Pokes, we can assure him of a warm welcome to the Coast.

"Swansea Enchantress" owned by Mr. Sitzler of Tacoma and bred by Mr. Dorrell, was successful at Puyallup Show, winning a couple of firsts, she is by "Albourne Simon" and is in whelp to "Ch. Gaisgill Great Scot," another bred to this champion is "Haldon Rosemary," owned by Mr. Leiper, of Victoria.

"Swansea Destiny," by "Albourne Simon," has been sold to W. T. Oates, and Mr. Oates has bred his "Oates Fooler" to "Albourne Simon."

From Jack Cottle, of Nanaimo, comes a kind and appreciative letter and congratulations to Kennel and Bench on the splendid reproduction of the photo of the Shawnigan Show in our September number. Most of the Island sportsmen have given their dogs a work out on the Blue Grouse, the first week of the season, but owing to the dry weather the birds are a bit scarce, they are now waiting for the pheasant and a good morning with the duck.

The closing down of the Granby mine at Cassidy has been a great blow to many, including that good Setter fancier, Wm. Griever, it is to be hoped that he will still live in the district, as his loss would be an irreparable one to the Island Shows, and the Nanaimo Setter and Pointer Club, for which he worked so hard giving help and encouragement to all.

Mr. Cottle would like to see the annual "Daily Province" Christmas show made into a C.K.C. fixture, and asks me to particularly mention this, personally, I have often thought what a good thing it would be, as there is room for an all-breed show at this season, well, if you read on further Mr. Cottle, you will hear of the Junior Service League Show to be held in November.

Mesdames Purdon and Thornton Sharp, who jointly owned the Wire-haired Fox Terrier "Kamphurst Craftsman" (imp.), recently sold him to Irving C. Ackerman, of the well known Humberstone Kennels in San Francisco. Mr. Ackerman is very pleased with his purchase, "Craftsman" is by "Ch. Barry Benedict," ex "Kemp-hurst Cadeau," who is a grand daughter of the famous "Kersley Pandey." Bred by Geo. Howlett, "Craftsman" had a very successful career in England, being in the money at most of the shows at which challenge certificates are given, he has left some nice stock in Vancouver.

My notes in last issue of Kennel and Bench on championship ratings, has brought me some favorable comment, one breeder, however, thinks my suggestion that Mr. Bruce's scale of points should apply to each sex of the breed is too severe, well, if a change is made in our championship ratings, do not be misled into any system that can possibly make unworthy champions, you may get them with competition, but you will certainly get them without competition.

John Rose, of Vancouver, whose name recently appeared in these notes regarding Yorkshire Terriers, has just imported another dog, this one is "Lily-hill Select," by "Ch. Lilyhill Supreme," he weighs 4½ lbs., was born June, 1931, he has a good coat, dark blue and nice rich tan. Mr. Rose says he is "all Terrier and ready to go with the best of them," anyone who knows this Yorkshire Terrier enthusiast will realize that his latest importation has come up to expectations, and we anticipate seeing him exhibiting a strong team of these attractive little fellows.

I have to thank H. A. Rhodes, who with his wife, own the "of Moray" Cocker Kennel, Cowichan Station, Vancouver Island, for his appreciative letter, he is one who realizes the value of the space Kennel and Bench allows this province, so do many of you, but the trouble seems to be apathy from within. Having got this off my chest, let me proceed with Mr. Rhodes' news.

This kennel specializes in the old country type of Cocker, every inmate at the present time is either imported or from imported parents.

The foundation of the kennel has been "Ch. Felbrigg Mark" (imp.) a wonderful sire by "Southernwood Critic," who never throws a badly marked pup.

Over a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes imported the two crack bitches "Cinderella of Ware" and "Ditch Girl of Ware," both good winners at championship shows in England. "Dutch Girl" was bred to the champion, of champions "Lucky Star of Ware" before shipment, but unfortunately did not prove in whelp, which must have been a tremendous disappointment.

Determined to have "Lucky Star's" blood, a son of the great dog was next imported in "Lucky Streak of Ware," which Mr. Lloyd was keeping to bring out at Crufts, it almost seemed there was a fate against getting this blood, as soon after his arrival "Lucky Streak" went down with distemper. However, good nursing and care brought him round, although not in fit condition to show. He is now living up to his nomenclature. There is certainly not a better bred dog in the country, and his sire's record on the bench is unique, being placed best dog in show any breed for two years in succession at Crufts.

"Cinderella," mated to "Ch. Felbrigg Mark," produced a litter of four outstanding pups which will, unfortunately, be seven days too young for the November 25th show. Two of these puppies, "Marksman" and "Cinders of Moray," a blue roan dog and bitch, would hold their own in any company anywhere.

"Dutch Girl of Ware" was bred to "Lucky Streak of Ware," four bitches and one dog of great promise resulting.

"Cinderella" has now been bred to "Lucky Streak" and something equally good can be expected at Cowichan.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes are certainly not doing things by halves; now intend adding Blacks to the kennel and have written their requirements to the "Ware Wizard." If he can find the right bitch she is to be mated to one of the best black dogs in England, probably "Do-minorum D'Arcy," previous to shipment. Enquiries are also being made through the same "Wizard" for a young black stud dog, and nothing but the best for these good fanciers.

Mr. Rhodes says that next year they intend to try to make the Shawnigan show the biggest on the Pacific Coast. I have heard from several how successful it was this year. One fancier of experience described it to me as being just like one of the delightful English shows judged in the open, and while speaking of this show, Mr. Rhodes hides his light under a bushel, as I happen to be well informed of the splendid work he put in; in fact all the officials vied with one another to make the exhibitors feel welcome.

Something entirely new in the way of a dog show will be held in Vancouver on November 25th when the first annual all-breed dog show, under the auspices of the Junior League of Vancouver, will take place, all proceeds to be devoted to Junior League Charities.

Dog fanciers are ever to the fore in a good cause, so a show of this class should appeal to them. Times are not as they might be with all of us, nevertheless we should do our best to make this show successful and give a liberal entry. While we are getting an all-breed show under pleasanter conditions than the rush of a circuit, there is also the satisfaction of supporting a worthy cause which will appeal to the lovers of the "friend of man." The show officials are well known to all of us, and last but not least we have a slate of experienced judges.

FIRST TIME ADVERTISERS IN "KENNEL AND BENCH"

This month we welcome to our business pages The T. Eaton Co., Ltd., Toronto, known from coast to coast as one of Canada's major distributing agencies. It has long been known that The T. Eaton Co., Ltd. carried inclusive lines of dog foods, medicines and general kennel accessories, still there must have been thousands quite unaware of this convenient market place which was always near and easily accessible. Our readers are invited to write or phone concerning their requirements to The T. Eaton Co., Ltd., or to call at the fifth floor—Pet Stock Department where every want may be supplied.

Kent's Limited, Toronto, the makers of Canadian Kennel Club cups are bidding for your business in connection with your requirements in trophies and other special prizes. The reputation of this House is your protection, and justification for doing business there.

Canadian National Beagle Club Trials

The week of October 3rd to 8th was the "event of the season" as far as the Beaglers of the Border Cities were concerned, and it is now a matter of history that the 19th Annual Trials were outstanding in every respect. The weather was inclined to be rather erratic at times, but it takes more than the inconsistencies of the weatherman to disturb the activities of a Field Trial, and every day was just another day with the competitors, gallery and judges.

The judges for the Trials were G. G. Black, Medina, Ohio, and Frank "Honey" Walker of Windsor, Ont., with that popular Beagler, Frank G. Kingsbury as judge of the bench show.

The first day of the Trials featured the 13 inch Derby, when an entry of 16 answered the summons of Secretary F. L. Petersmarck and from the eight braces put down there were three called to the second series, when the judges found their winners in the following: 1st, Frank G. Kingsbury's Kingsbury's Bashful (Kingsbury's Ramsay—Jackie); 2nd, Bruce Norris' Gold Hill Beauty (Kishwaukie Pepper—Meadow Glow Charmer); 3rd, John R. Turton's Turmay Cutie (Turmay Sheikie—Bessie Jones). Reserve, Mrs. Jim Hendrick's River Park Bashful (Model Swampy Diamond—Model Swampy Emmelue). The championship points earned were: 16, 8, 5 and 4 to the dogs in the rotation as recorded.

Tuesday was the day for the 15" Derby, when seven braces were glad to be alive and ready to hunt for "bunnies" in the first series. The second series found 3 braces still in contention, and the final results favored as first, A. B. Ogle's Ogle's Ringer (Shady Shore Silkclad—Shawano Countess); 2nd, Jack Wilson's Willcliff Lou (Seibolds Panel—Shady Shores Showgirl); 3rd, Wm. Lynch's Cataract Queen (Swingalong Banker—Swingalong Queen). Reserve, Jim Hendrick's Watch This One (Ch. Barney Boy—River Park Queen). Championship points, 13, 6, 4, and 3 to the dogs as written.

Wednesday, October 5th, and all hands were on deck to catch "the dew on the daisies," as "Jimmie" Hendrick would say. Eleven braces of bitches were lined up and ready to go at day-break. It was to be a bang-up day for all concerned, and a long one at that. Eleven braces of 13" all age bitches, a real day's sport and a hard one for judges and handlers alike. Five braces came to the second series, and the top dogs were, first, Frank G. Kingsbury's Kingsbury's Bashful; 2nd, C. H. Bissell's Bangor Topsy (Clear Creek Jasper—Clear Creek Lassie); 3rd, Warren Webber's Shawano Red Lady (Stewart's Little Billy—Shady Shores Sadie II). Reserve, C. H. Bissell's Bangor Ritzzy (Vernon Somerset Layman—Vernon Somerset Homeric). Championship points, 21, 10, 7, 5, as recorded.

Thursday was, comparatively speaking, an easy day, which was a greatly appreciated circumstance following the day and the night before. The 13" All-Age Dogs was the feature which mustered three braces, and brought 4 dogs to the second series. First to Harry Austin's Canomich Duke (Whiteheart's Challenger—Shawano Betsy); 2nd, Frank E. Dueweke's Swingalong Bugler (Swingalong Banker—Swingalong Queen); 3rd, Geo. Abel's Sunnybranch Toney (Croy's Superfine Toney—Sunnybranch Dolly II). Reserve, H. C. Feet's Masterly Nifty Boy (Masterly Ringban—Masterly Opal). Championship points, 6, 3, 2, 1, as written.

Friday found the competition to be quite hot, and there were half a dozen braces ready to offer contention in the 15" All-Age bitches, and for the third time one of Frank Kingsbury's beagles held the judges attention the best, and of the 4 braces in the second series the following were the chosen hounds: First, F. G. Kingsbury's Kingsbury's Stateley (Kingsbury's Rascal—T. S. Stateley); 2nd, Geo. W. Sherman's Swingalong Sadie (Blackford Captain—Swingalong); 3rd, Lemmon Bros.' Swingalong Fan (Blackford Captain—Rockfield Honey Girl). Reserve, F. C. Richmond's Shelly Queen IV (Ritzlers Ted—Graff's Daisy). Championship rating, 11, 5, 3, 2, as written.

Friday and Saturday were the cleaning up days, and featured six braces of the 15" All-Age dogs, and here the second series found three braces doing their utmost to stay in the picture for the points. The final results finding: First, E. W. Thomas's Haig's Bell Boy II (Klinck's Sailor—Armco Belle); 2nd, Frank Dueweke's Swingalong Driver (Blackford Captain—Swingalong); 3rd, Frank Dueweke's Swingalong Slider (Blackford Captain—Rockfield Honey Girl). Reserve, Jim Hendrick's Hendrick's Bill (Klinck's Sailor—Hendrick's Firefly). Championship rating 12, 6, 4, 3, as written.

NEW FACES AT WESTMINSTER

At Westminster Kennel Club Show each year, seats around the rings featuring Wires and Airedales are always at a premium during the judging hours, and usually there is an outstanding attraction for both these divisions. Nineteen thirty-three fixture will be no exception to the rule when the curtain is raised next February in New York.

Philip Bondy has returned from his judging engagement at the Kennel Club Show, England, and brings with him the good news that "Ch. Crackley Startler," the only Wire to win the three most important shows for the breed in England for any one year, i.e., Crystal Palace, Fox Terrier Association and Fox Terrier Club Shows. "Crackley Startler" is by Ch. Beau Brummell of Wildoaks, ex a "Talavera Simon" bitch, and Mr. Bondy declares that it is the most perfect Fox Terrier that he has ever seen.

Harold M. Florsheim has added England's most sensational Airedale of the year to his Harlam Kennels, in English "Champion Warland Perfect," an Airedale declared to be one of the most outstanding dogs of the breed of the century. The dog is by "Ch. Wrose Anchor," ex a "Clee Brigand" bitch. This is indeed good news and gives the Airedale breed its greatest fillip since the war.

Especially for Exporters

On page 14 of our September issue of Kenel and Bench, we were able to furnish our readers with some very excellent information concerning exporting pure bred dogs to the United States. The furnishing of the information mentioned, was only made possible through the splendid co-operation of United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry Branch.

"Ye Editor" having in mind that the term "entered for free duty" might not be understood properly by some of our readers, it was also felt that it would serve a useful purpose if our readers were familiar with the procedure of clearing an animal through the first point of entry into the United States when the Canadian certificate of registration showing the ownership of the United States purchaser accompanied the shipment, and what was the final disposition of the Canadian Certificate of Registration so sent. Also, whether it was advisable or necessary to employ a Customs Broker to clear pure bred dogs through the Customs. So we referred these matters to the Bureau of Animal Industry for further enlightenment.

To our request for this further information, Mr. J. O. Williams, Senior Animal Husbandman, in charge of Certification of Pedigrees, very kindly referred our request to the Bureau of Customs of the Treasury Department at Washington, and Mr. F. J. Murphy, Assistant General Counsel, very generously has supplied the necessary information in the following letter:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
Bureau of Customs,
Washington

Sept. 19, 1932.

Chief, Bureau of Animal Industry,
Department of Agriculture,
Washington, D.C.

Sir:—The Bureau refers to a visit to this office by Mr. Dean on September 14, 1932, when certain correspondence with the Canadian Kennel Club was left for review, with a request that he be advised concerning the replies to be made to certain inquiries involving customs procedure.

It is noted that Mr. Strachan, Secretary-Treasurer of the Organization in his letter to you of September 3, 1932, refers to an article prepared in your office and published in the "Kenel and Bench," a magazine issued by that organization. He requests for his own information, a statement as to the meaning of the expression "entered for free duty." He also inquires concerning the procedure to clear a dog through the first port of entry when the Canadian certificate of registration showing ownership in a purchaser in the United States has been furnished; whether duty is collected and refund made automatically on instructions sent out by your Bureau; what final disposition is made of the certificate, and whether it is advisable or necessary to employ a broker to clear dogs through customs.

The expression "entered free of duty" is equivalent to "claimed at the time of entry to be free of duty." When pure bred animals are imported and reach the port at which they are to be cleared through customs for release to the importer, the latter, or his agent, must make a declaration of his intention to seek their free entry, as it is a fundamental principle of our tariff laws, that all articles imported are subject to duty unless specifically exempted therefrom, and in cases where free entry is conditionally authorized by law, as in the case of certain pure bred animals, duties will be assessed unless the claim for free entry is made at the time the importation is cleared and the appropriate regulations are complied with.

When a dog is received at the first port of arrival in the United States accompanied by a certificate of pedigree, properly indorsed to show transfer to an owner in this country, an entry is made either for consumption or for transportation to some other port. In either event, the animal is compared with the certificate of pedigree, and when entry is made for consumption, the person making the entry is required either to give a bond equal to the duties that would be due if the dog be found later not to be entitled to free entry, or to deposit the duty. In the latter case, the importer may, within 10 days, file a written stipulation to produce the certificate of pure breeding within six months from the date of entry. After the dog has been compared with the description shown on the certificate of pure breeding, the certificate is forwarded by the customs officer to the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Dogs are entitled to free entry only after all the conditions of the law and regulations have been met. The requirements include an affidavit of the citizenship of the importer; which must be filed with the collector, preferably at the time entry is made, and a certificate of pure breeding issued by the Secretary of Agriculture which must also be filed with that officer. Collectors of customs have authority to refund the duty deposited on pure bred animals only when satisfied that all the requirements of the law and the regulations have been met. The certificate of pedigree after being returned by the Department of Agriculture to the collector at the port where entry is made, is by him forwarded to the person making the entry.

There is no provision of the law or of the customs regulations which requires the employment of a customs broker, but customs officers are forbidden to make entries for importers, and in many cases where importers do not find it convenient to visit the customs office where an entry must be made, or where they are not familiar with customs procedure, the services of a customs broker or other agent of the importer are essential.

By direction of the Commissioner.

Respectfully,

F. J. Murphy,
Assistant General Counsel.

SABLE SOUVENIR DEAD

"Sable Souvenir" was a Boston Terrier, born on May 12th, 1923, and had for his sire, a noted Boston of his day, "First-Up," the dam of "Sable Souvenir" was "Chick," a daughter of "First-Up." Followers of the shows between Montreal Kennel Association Show of 1924, and the Canine Society of Montreal fixture of 1931 could hardly have failed to notice "Sable Souvenir," or to meet his owner L. B. Seguin, Montreal, but she has lived her day, and has now left for the "happier shores of the other side," leaving her owner with an empty place in a sad heart, that he will find rather hard to fill, for the very good reason, that a decade of companionship with any dog, of any breed always leaves a sad heart in any fancier, when the time comes for such a dog to cross the river Styx.

BOSTON TERRIER CLUB OF CANADA

The Boston Terrier Club of Canada, and better known as "The Old Club," because of its many years of activity for the Boston Terrier, held its Annual General Meeting on October 13th, and elected the following officers:—Pres. W. L. McGill; Vice-Pres., Mrs. J. Tompkins; Treasurer, W. C. Routley; Trophy Sec'y, E. Holdsworth; Executive, W. L. Morgan, F. Brunton, J. Lynch, E. Holdsworth and Mrs. Brenning; Auditors, E. Holdsworth and Mrs. Tompkins.

A good year was declared after the Treasurer's report had been adopted, which report showed a substantial bank balance.

The Club Secretary is F. Blackledge, 189 Church Street, Toronto.

A regular pal, a friend who's true,
And always can be trusted;
One you'll love and he'll love you,
His friendship can't be busted.

He's for you morning, noon and night,
In sickness, health, distress,
And all he asks for his reward,
Is the feel of your caress.

"A friend in need, is a friend indeed,"
Is a saying old but true.
But the greatest friendship known to man,
Is the love of your dog for you.

Boston Terrier Club of Toronto Specialty Show

Thanksgiving Day is the most important day of any year's calendar for the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto, and this year it was no exception to the rule. Off to a late start, and with a show secretary, who was show secretary, only because he was a man who believed in the old saying—"The Show Must Go On," the entry was naturally a trifle down from the entry of recent years, but the show was none the less successful on account of that handicap, and the eighty Bostons benched in the ballroom of the Prince George Hotel was a sight that was not at all hard on the eyes.

At the banquet which featured the dinner hour, President R. H. D. Sim paid a well merited compliment to popular "Paddy" Boughs for the herculean efforts that Mr. Boughs has brought to the assignment of show secretary. The entertainment furnished at the social hour was indeed very enjoyable, and particularly splendid was the vocal rendition of "Sylvia," that sweetest of songs, by Mrs. Albert Patchell, this offering demanded a clamorous encore which could not be denied. Miss M. McIntosh, and Mr. R. Mumford entertained on the piano in an acceptable manner.

The Boston Terrier Club of Toronto again favored one of its own members with the judging honors, and this time the compliment fell to the lot of Lorne E. Anderson, who accepted the club's favor in a serious spirit indeed, and the writer heard one party remark: "Lord, does that man never smile at all?" Anyway, Mr. Anderson was judging, and he realized that only his best would be good enough, and that is just what he gave to his task. The award columns will serve to show the dogs that found most favor with their adjudicator.

The president intimated that Mr. Anderson would report to Kenel and Bench, therefore, no effort of ours will duplicate or interfere in any way with that report, it is sufficient to say, that the dogs were judged by a man who gave all he had to the job.

The club itself is to be congratulated on its most recent effort on behalf of the breed that it exists to sponsor.

Hesitate Before You Shoot a Dog—A Warning

THE law is a strange piece of machinery, and quite as intricate as some machinery is known to be. It is interpreted differently on occasion, but its proper interpretation is a study for those whose life work has been given to it, and it is to such that the interpretation should be entirely left. It is taken for granted by many well read people, that a man may shoot a dog at sight, if the dog happens to appear on that man's property—but can he?

Mrs. J. De B. Cowan, owner of the famous Rungmook Kennel of Great Danes, late of England, but now located at Crystal Creek Ranch, Kaslo, B.C., has recently experienced the shooting of one of her Great Danes at the hands of a neighbor rancher, that will no doubt be of interest to Kennel and Bench readers, and which may act as a deterrent to all would-be dog shooters in the province of British Columbia in the future.

On August 27th, when some of the Rungmook Great Danes were being exercised along the public road around seven o'clock in the evening, one of the puppies became frightened at something, and ran howling in the direction of the house of a man named Carnock located about 90 yards off the road, the youngster was followed by three of the older dogs, and suddenly it ceased yelping, and almost immediately afterwards the report of gunshot rang out from the direction of the Carnock home. Running up on the dogs, the owner found "Rungmook Rukham," one of the best dogs of the kennel lying dead.

On being called to the door by Mrs. Cowan, Carnock raised the gun, and pointed it at her. He gave, as his reason for shooting the dog, that he had heard a noise, and that he thought the dogs were hunting something. Later, three members of the Cowan ranch went out and interviewed Carnock, who then stated to his visitors, that, he did not know what it was that he was shooting at the time that he fired the gun, and later still, and very evidently as an afterthought he said that the dogs were chasing his chickens, and without making any endeavour to substantiate this latter statement he ordered the callers off the premises.

The constable from Kaslo was requested to make an investigation, and when his report was furnished it was found that he had accepted Carnock's story about the dogs killing the chickens.

The owners of the Rungmook Kennels brought action against Carnock for shooting the dog, and asked as damages the sum of $750.00. Carnock's defence was, that he saw three dogs worrying three chickens which were all huddled together on the ground, and admitted that he knew the dogs well by sight, but swore that he had not recognized until the moment he had fired.

In rebuttal the prosecution pointed out that the light was sufficiently good for him to have easily recognized the only dogs of their kind for many miles around at the range (20 yards) at which he had fired. That he swore to having seen the hens, in long grass, though he stated he could not see the dogs clearly, that there was exceedingly little probability of any hens lying on the ground so long after roosting time, and particularly so with so many trees around, and that, though Carnock swore to having heard chickens squawking, the owner of the dogs standing some 80 yards away, and listening intently, swore to there being a dead silence after the puppy stopped yelping. The prosecution also offered as supporting evidence, the circumstance of Carnock not having made no effort to tell the owner of the dog that the dog was chasing the chickens, and pressed this claim as an afterthought as already mentioned. Carnock was quite unable to produce any hens with feathers missing, though the defence had claimed that the dogs had pulled out feathers to the extent of making a trail 36 feet long by 3 feet wide. The constable's report had only mentioned "a bunch of feathers," and those had been under a tree, probably as the result of moulting.

Evidence was produced by the prosecution to show that the Rungmook dogs were perfectly safe as far as poultry was concerned.

The judge who heard the case, when summing up the evidence, stated that it was rather difficult for him to arrive at the value of the dog, there being no evidence to support it, other than that of the most interested party, and he, having in view, the particularly depressed times, he could not award the full claim of damages as stated, however, he ordered Carnock to pay the owners of the dead animal the sum of $450.00, and to pay the entire costs of the action which had taken three days to hear.

No doubt the cost of defending the Rungmook Kennels' action would be as much, if not more than the damages allowed, so we can easily see, that our good friend the dog has considerably more protection in the courts of this country, than very many ill-advised people are aware of, and this case should make farmers, and others who may feel like looking for a gun everytime a dog happens to be on their land, to think twice, perhaps three or four times before allowing their fingers to reach for the trigger.

"Rungmook Rukham" was greatly prized by his owners, and they believe that his death will prove a great loss to the breed in Canada. He was bred by Mrs. Cowan, and was sired by "Rach-chas of Rungmook," a famous Great Dane in England, and out of "Rojh of Rungmook," who also was brought to Canada from the kennels in England. He was one of the tallest and soundest Great Danes that his owners had ever seen or heard of, 36½" at the shoulders, a height that is greater than any authenticated height given in Dr. Norval MacKenzie's book, "Great Danes, Past and Present." A well marked harlequin, with a beautiful quality head, and was a likely dog to have won championship honors if he had not been so cruelly murdered.

Our illustration shows the dog named in this little story, and shows Master Robin Cowan astride with both feet off the ground. Don't shoot a dog! To do so, is liable to cost you plenty in cash and in lifelong regrets.

"There wasn't a dog biscuit my dog would look at till I tried BONIO: now he's so eager you'd think he'd had dog biscuits since he was a pup."

LITERALLY thousands of experiences similar to this account for the amazing success of BONIO: after only a few months on the market, it commanded a world-wide sale. Yet this was before this remarkable new biscuit had ever been advertised in the press. Travelers introduced it to enterprising traders, traders recommended it especially for "biscuit-shy" dogs, dog owners discovered that here really was a biscuit that had only to be seen and smelt and tasted to break down a dog's oldest, stubbornest prejudices. Spratt's BONIO has been carried to a huge success on a wave of personal recommendation.

Shaped just like the bones that dogs like most, BONIO is made of whole-wheat meals and Meat-Fibrine, and impregnated with cod-liver oil. But there's an additional something about BONIO which makes it as unique and irresistible as it is health-giving. It is recommended to breeders and exhibitors as the biggest advance in the production of dog foods for the past fifty years. If your dealer is enterprising, he already stocks it in handy cartons.
