Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

The regularly monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, March 16th, 1933.

First Vice-President, Col. J. N. MacRae, presided.

Directors present were: H. A. Wilson, W. H. Reeves, Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, Capt. H. Dudley-Waters, Major E. Ward Wright and Wm. Stockdale.

The Secretary reported that the President would not be able to attend the meeting on account of keeping an important engagement, and mentioned that messages of condolence had been sent to the families of our late members, Albert N. Connery, Toronto, and N. R. Miller, Toronto, and that acknowledgments had been received.

The Second Vice-President mentioned the passing of our late member, Robert Mills, Montreal.

That the Policy covering the Secretary's Bond, now raised to $15,000.00 was on hand, and that Miss E. Wilson was no longer on the office staff, and that her position had been filled by Mr. N. Brown.

The Minutes of the previous Directors' Meeting were read.

The Secretary was instructed to insert the words, "The motion was voted upon and was declared carried" (Secretary's salary), and to correct the resolution re $5.00 cash prizes, by striking out the words "owned and shown by the breeder," and to insert the words, "bred and owned by exhibitor." (See resolution top of page 4, March issue, top of left hand column).

It was moved and carried, That the Minutes, as corrected, be adopted.

Col. MacRae extended his thanks and appreciation of flowers sent on the occasion of his mother's death.

The Committee on "doubtful accounts" submitted the following report: "To the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club:—

Your Committee re doubtful accounts owing to Kennel and Bench, met in the Board Room on Wednesday, March 8th, with the Secretary, who provided us with a list of accounts owing.

We were also supplied with the correspondence passing between this office and the delinquents, from which to arrive at a conclusion on which to base our recommendations and we have recommended to the Secretary (subject to your approval) that certain accounts as per list attached be stricken off, and that in the case of others whose accounts are overdue and from whom further business has of necessity been declined, that our advertising columns are still open to them on a strictly cash basis if some payment on account is made. Others who are no longer offering business to be informed that failure to make some payment on account will lead to their being deprived of the usual credit in the future.

Some who are still members of this Club and in some cases have been in receipt of certain emoluments from this Club, are, we feel abusing the privileges extended to them, and should, we feel, liquidate their account at once and are to receive a letter to this effect.

Respectfully submitted,
Signed, H. A. Wilson,
Signed, Wm. Stockdale."

And it was moved, and carried, "That the report be adopted as submitted."

The Secretary reported on the matters of Williams-Steggall, and Witzbang Kennels, and it was agreed to leave the same over until next meeting.

A letter was read from J. W. Bruce, and it was moved and carried, "That the judging license granted to Bert Swann, Toronto, be now revoked."

It was moved, and carried, "That George Miller Potts, Toronto, be requested to appear before this Board, to show cause why he should not be denied the privileges of the Canadian Kennel Club."

Mr. Bruce having requested assistance in prosecuting an investigation of a recently circulated circular, it was agreed to refer this matter to the Club's Honorary Solicitor for consideration and report.

A letter was read from Medicine Hat Kennel Club expressing appreciation of Mr. Climo's visit, and report of the Annual General Meeting, and showing a resolution of confidence in the present Board of Directors. The Secretary was instructed to send a copy of the letter to Mr. Climo.

The Secretary submitted an explanation on the Annual Financial Statements (Ottawa-Toronto) and the explanation was considered satisfactory.

It was moved and carried, "That the Secretary be empowered to deal with all routine matters in connection with dog show dates."

OUR FORTHCOMING SHOWS

Nineteen thirty-three promises a return to more and better shows in Canada. So far thirteen cheques have come to hand claiming dates. And several clubs have made enquiries, concerning available dates.

On Good Friday week-end there will be dog shows going on in Toronto, and in Vancouver, in the latter city the Coast City will keep open house for all-breeds, and on the following day the Shepherd Dog Club of British Columbia will entertain all-breeds under different judges, and for the first time.

Montreal shows were greatly missed from the 1932 dog show calendar, but the talent will have an opportunity to visit the Metropolitan City of Canada on May 20th, and again on September 9th.

Hamilton Kennel Club is fairly itching to get going for the year, and the first available and suitable dates will be theirs.

The Canine Breeders and Exhibitors Association of Canada, which was recently organized in Toronto, have also been discussing ways and means. And it is very likely that this new club will claim dates to hold a summer show.

Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club is still another new club that will hold an all-breed show this year, the dates being May 23rd and 24th.

On May 24th the Eastern fanciers will choose between London and Ottawa, for their Victoria Day holiday, the latter club represents still another new club function this year.

That May 24th is a popular dog show date is disclosed by the many claims sent in for it, at Medicine Hat the lads and lassies there will have their dogs touched up to the very last hair in order to make the most of their chances at the dog show.

Fort Garry Kennel Club had also made a claim for May 24th, so this fixture will very likely materialize later.

Then along comes Vancouver Kennel Club, who will have as their joint guests the Royal City Kennel Club, and these two Western Clubs will act jointly in putting on a dog show at Vancouver, also on May 24th—the popular date.

July will find Victoria City Kennel Club providing for all-breeds on the very first day of that summery month, and on July 3rd the West Coast dogs will be entertained by the Shownigan Kennel Club—the "Morris & Essex" of Canada as the fixture was dubbed last year.

July 25-26 and 27 calls for the dogs from Canada's gateway—Winnipeg to this side of the "Rockies"—to come to "Charlie" Keating's Show at Regina, where the ever popular Enno Mayer will adorn the "Woolsack," and pass on all comers. We must not get Mr. Keating annoyed, therefore we hasten to state, that dogs from any point in Canada or the United States will be welcome at Regina, at the end of July.

September 4th, 5th and 6th, the great Canadian National Exhibition will be the Mecca for fanciers gathering from the four corners of the Continent, and there is some talk of the Exhibition management planning a surprise package for this year's show, we wonder what it is going to be.

Then as already mentioned the Ladies Kennel Club will entertain at Montreal all and sundry from the Exhibition attraction—plus.

Saint John Kennel Club will hold its Golden Jubilee Show on dates which will "nick" with the Halifax features.

Swift Current? Lethbridge? well we'll see.

The Canadian Fancy

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ont.

THE growing interest in the several varieties of Retrievers accounts for the many letters received with reference to the opinion expressed by the writer as to the origin of the Golden—The origin of the majority of the many varieties will always be a debatable point, and the writer has been too long in the sport to agree or disagree with the opinions expressed unless he has evidence that cannot be disputed. No doubt many of our readers thought in their early days of dog breeding that it was fairly easy to be able to name the breeds involved in some of the cross breeds seen on the streets. I have to admit that I did until I had indisputable proof that breeding is a mystery. Beside me as I am writing these pages I have what looks like a Scottish Terrier dog fit to try conclusions with any of our present dog cracks. His dam is a real good Scotty, bred by Dr. and Mrs. Batt and his sire our Irish Terrier. The dam of the best old English black and tan Terrier I ever saw was an Old English Sheep dog. George Steadman Thomas, the peer of the world's Terrier judges—(who by the way I see will be in Toronto this month to judge at the Toronto Kennel Club Show) can vouch for the following statement, that when many years ago we spent two or three weeks in Scotland looking for White West Highland Terriers; we had somewhat of a shock when we arrived at Portree, Isle of Skye, and saw that the dams of the wee white doggies were little gray females, similar in every way to the Cairns of today. Speaking from memory I believe it was my friend, W. H. Pym, who made the following statement, that in Vancouver there was in his opinion a black Pointer without a peer and his dam was a Labrador. Harking back to the Golden Retriever, E. W. M. Vernon, the owner of the Saffron Kennels of Golden Retrievers at Kaledon, B.C., very kindly sends me the origin of this breed as published in the Golden Retrievers' Club Year Book.

The Golden Retriever was made popular by the late Lord Harcourt, who used no other on his Nuneham Shooting, near Oxford, and the breed was taken up by Mrs. W. M. Charlesworth, Mr. W. A. Sturdy, and Macdonald, the Ingestre Park gamekeeper. The Golden Retriever is identified with the breed which was known for some time as the Marjoribanks and Ilchester trackers, brought to public notice by Col. the Hon. W. le Poer-Trench, of St. Huberts, Gerrards Cross. The breed was introduced into England shortly after the Crimean War by the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks (afterwards Lord Tweedmouth), who first saw them at a Circus in Brighton, where they were being exhibited as performing dogs by their Russian owners. Mr. Marjoribanks was greatly impressed by the intelligence of these Russian dogs, their uncommon colour, and their extremely handsome appearance. He believed they would be useful as sporting dogs, and he resolved to possess them. He, therefore purchased the entire troupe and transferred them to the Guisachan deer forest in Inverness-shire and so founded the Guisachan strain. They were found to possess in a high degree the qualifications of tracking and retrieving. They had very soft mouths and were tractable, easily broken, and fine workers as well as delightful companions. They bred absolutely true to their fixed type and colour, and were so much valued that the family kept the strain apart in its unsullied purity, the only kennels breeding from them being those of Lord Tweedmouth and of his nephew, the late Lord Ilchester. Bitches were never disposed of, and the favoured few sportsmen upon whom dogs were bestowed cherished them with exclusive care. But the process of in-breeding which was continued for some twenty years, had its inevitable result in the loss of stamina and softness, and by 1880 the variety had lost much of its mental alertness and working capability. Lord Tweedmouth dispatched an agent to Russia in search of new blood from its original source. The quest, however, was unsuccessful. The locality visited could not produce a single specimen of the genuine breed, although it was ascertained that dogs of similar character were known to exist in a wild and unfrequented part of Asiatic Russia.—As there was no possibility of obtaining specimens of the original breed for strengthening Lord Tweedmouth's strain, a bloodhound cross was tried. The result was disastrous, the breed being robbed of its typical character. A dog bred by Lord Ilchester, however, had passed into the hands of Col. le Poer-Trench, who took infinite pains in experimenting for years with cross-breeding the Ilchester and Tweedmouth dogs until fixity of type was restored—Already in 1904, the late Lord Harcourt had formed a kennel of Golden Retrievers bred from specimens acquired from Lord Portsmouth and from other sources, and it was in 1908 that he exhibited a first team at the Crystal Palace Show. He exhibited under the prefix "Culham," and his "Culham Copper," "Culham Rossa," and "Culham Flame" were among the most perfect examples of the breed." The claim of E. N. M. Vernon that the Golden is more suitable for shooting on the prairie, especially on stubble, than the black, has been expressed by other shooting men to the writer, who himself has had practical experience of the breeds working qualities when living in England.

The Canadian Kennel Clubs rule against faking has caused much favorable comment. We cull the following editorial from Popular Dog's issue of March 11th:

"Elsewhere on this page will be found an article by Walter H. Reeves which lists the rules just instituted by the Canadian Kennel Club against faking. This is a step in the right direction. Some months ago the English Kennel Club legislated against faking also, and it is inevitable that America must follow.

From time to time Popular Dogs has sounded warning against this deceitful practice which has gradually come to be so much the custom of the country that it is everywhere condoned and sometimes even admired as an achievement. Our warnings evidently have not been heeded for never within the history of dog shows in this land have we observed so much dyeing, doping and fixing as has been perpetrated at the last few big shows.

It is most unfortunate that fanciers themselves so often make necessary legislation of a kind that in itself carries an unpleasant significance. But faking as practiced today has come to be a disease, and the disease must be cured."

The word doping takes the writer's memory back to a famous Racing Scandal, when the English Jockey Club warned off the turf a great trainer, and an equally well-known jockey, and unless some exhibitors take timely warning we are going to have as big a scandal in our own sport. Probably some of my readers may think this is an exaggeration, but let them ponder a few seconds and carry their minds back to any of the judging rings at the shows they have attended. What about the "Statues" in the Terrier rings, where even the merest neophyte must know the statuesque attitude of many of the terriers competing is most unnatural and can only be produced by giving dope. As my friend, Miss Josephine Z. Rine, the able editor of Popular Dogs rightly claims—faking has become a disease and steps have to be taken to cure it, and the sooner it is done the better, not only for our shows but also for Canadian and American breeders. Doping as it is practiced today, must have a detrimental affect on the preponderancy of the sires and dams on which it is practiced.

Wm. Stockdale and the writer, after attending the last monthly meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, caught the night train for Ottawa for the purpose of attending the Annual Meeting of the Canadian National Live Stock Records. Our Secretary had also made an arrangement for an interview with the Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. Robert Weir.

Unfortunately through the indisposition of the Minister this arrangement could not be carried out, but your two directors were very grateful to the courtesy extended to them by the Deputy Minister, Dr. Barton, who very kindly at extremely short notice, granted us an interview and listened to our arguments pertaining to registration, and promised to give the cases we brought to his attention due and careful consideration. At the luncheon of the Live Stock Records I was indeed sorry that "Bob" Ross was prevented from being present for he would certainly have enjoyed the speech of Dr. Barton. This constructive breeder in the course of his remarks said that probably in the past breeders had paid far too much attention to pedigrees and not nearly enough to the individual animals from which they were breeding. The writer will always remember this meeting because of the fact that he was able to enjoy a talk with A. A. Macdonald, a few years ago, one of Canada's most prominent Terrier breeders and exhibitors. What a loss he is to our sport and how fortunate the Hereford Breeders' Association are to have such an ardent breeder.

To while away the hours before my train left Ottawa for Belleville, T. Gunderson of the Record Staff, very kindly placed his car and self at my disposal, so that I could visit some of the Ottawa fanciers. Our first call was on John Ritchie, now an international figure in Springer Spaniel circles. John was away—but Mrs. Ritchie very kindly showed us the Springers and also the latest addition to the Lansdowne Kennels, a brace of real Scotties just arrived from Scotland. Before giving the particulars of the Scotties, let me say that John is really fortunate in having such an enthusiastic helpmate and one with such an eye for the salient points of the Springer—Bear these remarks in mind, any Show Secretary looking for a good Springer judge. Now for the Scotties, they were imported from McNab Chasels, of the Inveresk Kennels, Coatbridge. John Ritchie asked for something good and he certainly has them in "Inveresk Chito" and "Inveresk Copper Smith," the first mentioned is a beautiful bitch, owning for her sire the great sire "Ch. Heather Essential," and her dam, "Inveresk Camseth is a grand daughter of the great "Annie Laurie," one of the greatest producing bitches of all times. "Chito" is due to whelp before these lines are out, having been bred to R. Chapman's "Heather Radiant," a son of "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint." I would not be surprised to see a New York winner out of this mating, the dog sent from Scotland is a seven-months' puppy, and I certainly envied John possessing such a promising puppy, whose career in the show ring I shall watch with much interest. The importation has given quite a filip to "Die-hard" circles in Ottawa. George Robertson, I could see, was taking a far more active interest in the breed, and I heard rumours of other recruits. On calling on "Dick" Briggs, we were sorry to hear that he had been under the weather of late and was still not really fit. "Dick" extended a hearty welcome to the writer and together we were just inspecting a neat little Wire bitch by "Thet Timberstone," when a knock was heard at the kennel and in came the burly figure of John Ritchie. The talk from then on until it was time to get to the train was Springers and Scotties. The time had gone so quickly that a promised visit to Humphrey, Elliott, George Bailey, "Dude" Baldwin had to be left for another time. The one and only "Billy" Newton was waiting for us at the hotel and he just had time to tell us that he intended to bring a pup for George Thomas to look at this month at the Toronto Kennel Club Show.

Mrs. D. Luscombe sends a very important item of news, namely, that she has imported the Scottish Terrier, "Lambley Luna," which is a daughter of "Ch. Laidon Lunen" and came over heavy in whelp to "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint," and at the present time the London Kennel has been greatly strengthened by three young "Fashion Hints" which give promise of being a credit to all concerned.

Owing to the notice I have received from my Editor that Kennel and Bench, on account of the lengthy proceeding at the annual general meeting still to be reported has the "Full House" sign out. I am compelled to leave out a number of interesting items this month and just briefly run through the Buffalo Show. On arriving at the show I was met with the bad news that "Bob" Ross was unable to fulfill his engagement owing to illness; what a host of friends our "Bob" has across the border! Almost every other fancier stopped me to ask for the latest bulletin. It is pleasing to be able to record that the Buffalo Show was in every way a great success. Glancing around the ring sides—one could hardly believe that we were not judging a Canadian Show. We do appreciate a kindly welcome and at no show I have ever attended have I seen the officials so unrelenting in their anxiety to see that their visitors were looked after. It would be invidious to signal any particular official for they all tried and undoubtedly succeeded in giving the Canadians a real good time and only those that have visited Buffalo Show can have any idea of what the Buffalo Kennel Club Inc. consider extending hospitality and a welcome. In practically every breed, Canadian-owned dogs gave an excellent account of themselves and their wins showed our good friends that we in Canada were breeding dogs that have and can hold their own no matter how fast the company may be. Percy Roberts came in for very hearty congratulations when, by clever handling and conditioning, he was able to take home the President's (Thomas Keaton's) beautiful silver trophy for best dog in the show awarded by the writer to Halleson Kennels' Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, "Burlsdon Gipsy of Halleson."

The Heppleston Kennel of Cocker at Barrie have been most consistent in producing winners and they own in "Ch. Beauty of Barrie," a really outstanding brood bitch. Some months ago the kennel imported a black dog from across the border and his breeding would please any constructive breeder, for Duck wing "Gigolo's pedigree contains the names of the leading strains across the border. The writer hears from "Dick" Heppleston that "Gigolo" was mated to "Beauty" with the result that there are now eight little "Gigolos," four reds, two blacks and two black and whites. "Dick" writes and he certainly should know that they are the best litter ever bred at Barrie.

The merry little Beagle seems to be enjoying rightly quite a little publicity through His Excellency, the Governor-General Earl Bessborough having enjoyed one of the "Runs" with an Ontario Pack. It would not surprise the writer to see the interest in Beagles very greatly increased for already I have heard rumours of several "packs" being started in Ontario. These merry little hounds have lost a staunch supporter through the death of James W. Fox, the founder of the Delco Pack, and the breeder of "Ch. Delco Minor." Frank Small, Toronto, is all warmed

TINKER OF TAPSCOT

TINKER OF TAPSCOT

This remarkable dog at the age of sixteen months was awarded the distinguished honor of Winner Dogs at the Cairn Terrier Club of America Specialty Show, at New York, February 11th, 1933, with 82 Cairns competing. Tinker also went to Reserve Winners at Westminster Kennel Club Show the following Monday. He is a very sound, active Cairn, with splendid body, excellent dense coat. A grand headed dog, with true Cairn Terrier expression. From the puppies he has sired, indications are that they will possess the qualities which have gained for this wheaten colored Cairn so many outstanding distinctions at our leading shows, English and American.

CHAMPION DIVOR OF GUNTORPE

continues to transmit his sterling qualities to his progeny. Reports from England indicate further success at the leading championship shows in England and Scotland of the puppies sired by him before he was imported by Cairndania Kennels.

Both Tinker of Tapscot and Divor of Gunthorpe have been entered in the sweepstakes of the Cairn Terrier Club of America Specialty Show, 1934, and all their puppies will be eligible to compete.

There were six in this litter, two of them males and the reason for Frank's jubilation is that the great "Lone Eagle of Earls-moor" is the sire of the puppies and according to Mr. Small they are "the goods."

THIRTEEN YEAR OLD BULLDOG DEAD

Through the courtesy of the Floral Park Bulldog Kennels, Floral Park, N.Y., we learn of the death, on February 18th, of the Canadian-bred Bulldog "Challenger Boy" (26203), said to be the last survivor on this side of the Atlantic by the famous "Irish Challenger."

A white and brindle, "Challenger Boy" was bred by Mrs. Paul Malovitz, Montreal, and was born October 23rd, 1920, and was out of "Alban Queen," a daughter of "Alban Darkie," Imp.

It is unusual for Bulldogs to live, and it is claimed that only one other Bulldog surpassed "Challenger" in age, "Int. Ch. Warleigh Sensible Fred," who is believed to be still alive.

"Challenger Boy" was never beaten by any other Bulldog when contending for specials offered for the "Best headed Bulldog," and on such occasions he took the measure of such famous Bulldogs as "Ch. Gotham Sensible Fred," "Int. Ch. Prince of Wales II," "Int. Ch. Warleigh Sensible Fred," "Ch. Sparrow Bush Sir Don," and etc.

Floral Kennels, whilst regretting the death of "Challenger Boy," feel compensated to some extent through the Kennel retaining his bloodlines in goodly quantity, and Mr. Bogdan, the proprietor, pays a nice compliment to Canada, when he says that he knows of none better.

THE PEKIN PALACE DOG ASSOCIATION SPECIALTY

Reviews by the Judge, Mrs. C. de P. Doniphan, Montreal.

I shall always recall with much pleasure my recent trip to Toronto; the courtesy, enthusiasm and efficiency of the officials and the good sportsmanship of the exhibitors made everything very pleasant indeed. The show, both in entries and attendance, was a big success and the large hall, the lighting management, the layout and decorating of the cages presented a very pretty sight. The quality of the dogs was very good and the competition keen throughout. The afternoon classes proved interesting and educational and the "colour" classes reminded me of the first time I brought my grey brindle female, "Ch. Priorwood Pansy" to an evening show; she didn't get a ribbon, the judge later explaining he couldn't place her as she was "wrong" in colour; a Pekingese must be red! On this day it was unfortunate that "Tai Tu of Glenn Denn," a most typical and nice-headed, golden red dog shown in very good condition, was entered only in the fawn class where he couldn't compete.

Puppy dogs—"Pekin Peter" was hard to fault, a natural shower with the real Pekingese roll, sound fore and aft, compact, well shaped body and a typically normal head, short nose up between his eyes, strong well-cushioned muzzle and flat wide skull with correctly placed and carried ears. Although he was a little short of featherings I could not prevent him from going to winners.

Novice Dogs—"Boltonian First Prince" headed a smart entry of fifteen, he is a heavily coated small dog with short face, nice head and ears, shapely body and a good mover.

Canadian-bred Dogs—"Goldmine New Toi," a very pleasing good almond red, showing well, flat thick skull, nicely placed ears, short face, large dark eyes and good front.

Sleeve Males—"Wei Yin of Barton," a nice little one not making the most of his chances.

Open dogs under 10 lbs.—"Tiny Tim," a red sable, carrying a beautiful coat and featherings, nice face, skull and ears and a smart shower.

Open Dogs over 10 lbs.—"Goldmine Neu Toi," closely pressed by "Li of Sunddh," shown in beautiful bloom; a very flat-faced dog with strong, well wrinkled muzzle, large dark eyes and a splendid body.

Puppy Bitches—"Chi Ki 2nd," a very promising puppy, typical and well built, good face, skull and ears.

Canadian-bred Females—"Kadio Yang Koo," a very good almond red, with a very nice head, strong well bowed legs and moving well.

Sleeve Females—"Fu Fu Lily," a sweet little parti-color, well marked, nice face, skull and ears.

Open Females, under 8 lbs.—"Beautie of Clem Mere," a very good red sable, shown in beautiful coat and featherings, low to ground, shapely body and a good mover and shower, flat skull with well placed and fringed ears and a good flat face, she went to winners bitches.

Open Females, over 10 lbs.—"Nancy Koo." Another one of the cart horse type, with a rolling gait, short, compact, sound as a bell and with a splendid head, I liked her awfully well, but she was terribly short of coat, a good second was "Sonia of Hesketh," another splendid headed black, but not so "tight" in action and tail carriage as No. 1.

"Champion Wee La Dee" carried off the Best in Show honours. He was put down in grand form and carried himself with all the pride and dignity of a well-known winner.

Now just a word of thanks to Mr. Strachan for "chaperoning" me around on the proverbial Toronto Sunday, which passed altogether too quickly for me. Of course, I could not help missing some of the old-time Peke exhibitors, the Richardsons, Redways, Trainors, Melvilles, Bamfords, Wards, etc. with whom I had many big times and wee scraps in the old days but we rediscovered Mrs. Tompkins, Mr. Treleven, who has shamefully gone to Terriers, Mr. Hatcher, my hard-working ring steward, Dr. Campbell as genial as ever, but I honestly enjoyed calling upon such enthusiasts as Mrs. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. Climmer, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Luke. So here's hoping we all meet again, long before the 1934 Pekingese show.

The Alberta News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
C. H. PARK, Medicine Hat, Alta.

WM. G. CLIMO, our newly elected director for Alberta, wishes to thank all his supporters through the Alberta page for the splendid support given him in the recent election. He attended the Annual Meeting and reports of same are being furnished by him to the different Clubs, and he assures fanciers that he is at all times at their service in an earnest endeavor to do all in his power for the dog fancy in general.

From Lethbridge comes the welcome news that a meeting has been held, and the Southern Alberta Kennel Club is away again to a good start with J. C. Henry at the helm as President, D. B. Young (Shaughnessy), and C. M. (Duke) Wellington, Vice Presidents, and our old friend "Vic." Williams filling the secretarial post. With a view to raising funds a couple of dances are to be held in the near future, and on the success of them depends whether the show will be held on the circuit with Medicine Hat and Swift Current or later in the season.

From that prince of secretaries, C. B. Cummer, Calgary, comes the news that the Alberta Kennel Club of Calgary managed to wind up its 1932 activities on the right side of the ledger despite the heavy drain on its funds during the past year, according to the financial statement presented to the Annual General Meeting held recently by C. B. Cummer, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Club, and with a strong slate of officers at the helm this coming year, on which will be found the names of many veterans in the dog game, predictions are that the Club will hold its own during 1933 whatever "Old Man Depression" may have up his sleeve. Lt.-Col. D. Ritchie, M.C., who was re-elected President of the Club, in an enthusiastic address to the General Meeting stated that he had every confidence in the future success of the Club, and thanked the members for the loyal support he had received during the past two years of his presidency. The officers elected for 1933 are as follows:—President, Lt.-Col. D. Ritchie, M.C.; Secretary-Treasurer, C. B. Cummer; Vice-Presidents, Wm. Forrest, P. Heather, J. C. Fletcher; Executive Committee, E. Brown, Calder Duncan, J. Rudolph, P. M. Render, R. J. Robson, J. M. Miller, Bobby Thompson, Harry Price. The Annual July Show is to be held on July 12th and 13th and Geo. Kynoch, Winnipeg, is to make the awards.

Chief Ritchie seems to be running into a bunch of trouble with his Scot-ties, as, in addition to the loss of "Abertay Trigg" some three months ago, he has had the misfortune to lose "Albertay Rita," who died whelping, and none of the puppies were saved. These two were both imported from the Old Country, but the Chief says he is not downhearted and is going to stay right with the game, and hints that this fall will see just the same number of trophies on his mantelpiece if not more. Congratulations on your spirit Chief!

From Mrs. Daisy Daintrey, Secretary of the Alberta Fox Terrier Association, comes a budget of news. Mr. and Mrs. F. Jebson are new recruits to the Dandie Dinmont ranks, they have bought a pair from a friend in Victoria. They (the Dandies), are from imported stock which Mrs. Hadley-Peek had brought out from England. Mrs. Hadley-Peek has imported quite a number of Dandies and Dachshunds from England, and has a large kennel at the Coast. The dog's name is "Widbrook Wode," by "Popinjay of Canford" (Imp.), Dam, "Widbrook Wasp" (Imp.). The bitch is "Widbrook Molly," Sire, "Ch. Matching Cleikum Deil" (Imp.), Dam, "Canford Buttercup" (Imp.). They were looking forward to a litter of pups but unfortunately it has not materialized.

E. Brown, of the Alberta Kennel Club executive, has some very beautiful English Bulldog pups. Mr. Houghton is looking forward to some Smooth Fox Terrier pups by Int. "Ch. Oltee Lenpal," out of a bitch of his own breeding. Harry Price has some very nice youngsters by his good young dog "Farleigh Westward Ho," out of "Farleigh Twinkle." We have all found, I think, that Fox Terriers are still, in spite of bargain counter breeders, one of the best selling dogs. Mrs. Carr has sold all hers, but has some February-born ones yet. Mrs. Dooley, Mrs. MacKay and I have none but we only have one or two females. From Dick Smith, of Lethbridge, comes the bad news that his young "Beckside Bonus" dog was run over and killed by a car. Mrs. F. J. Fairbairn, of Staveley, is the proud possessor of a good specimen of Wire Fox Terrier in "Calgaree Loyal Pal."

The following will, we understand, compose the Alberta Provincial C.K.C. committee along with Director Climo; Ed. Kirkwood, H. Champ, John E. Hunter, and F. Tatham. Frank Moore of 705-20th Ave., N.W. Calgary, sends the following message after reading Alberta News in Kennel and Bench, that he is glad to advise the readers that from a sportsman's point of view, he has got a perfect running machine up a distance of 440 yards for racing any breed of dog that will chase a Jack rabbit, for five or seven dogs or more. The machine can be set up anywhere in fifteen minutes, and can be taken on a small truck to any grounds. Frank has six good racing Greyhounds in training. John E. Hunter reports that a goodly number of Whippets will be in training this year in the vicinity of Calgary, also that the training of German Shepherd dogs for "tracking," in connection with police work, etc., is being carried out, and that demonstrations of the kind of training can be seen very frequently now. D. G. Latta, of Bellatta Collie Kennels, Edmonton, advises that he is going to the Coast to reside in the near future, and consequently he has decided to dispose of his choice kennel of collies at present consisting of six males, five females and three pups. He has been advised that an ad. in Kennel and Bench will bring him in touch with the right people and we hope to see this in our next issue.

Walter E. Thompson, of the Cowichan Kennels, Red Deer, is very enthusiastic over the election of W. G. Climo to represent Alberta on the C.K.C. directorate, believing him to be a "square shooter" with the courage of his convictions. Last year Mr. Thompson had one Springer to train from Mr. Wize, Edmonton, of the "Ch. High Tide Barney-Vale of Burnside" breeding, and this year he has received seven more, and he has never seen in Canada, Springers that respond to their work than dogs of these blood lines. All dogs handled by Mr. Thompson and his partner, H. P. Ellis, of the Arlington Hotel, Red Deer, are trained to the "Field Trial Standard," and right now they have, in addition to the Springers mentioned, a dozen young Labradors which will be trained for fall shooting. Last year Mr. Thompson had one Gordon Setter from Mr. Free, of Edmonton, and this year he has had two and promise of more. Mr. Thompson reports having received dozens of enquiries from all over America for "Labs." which looks very promising for the breed, and although they only have blacks, in Mr. Thompson's opinion if a dog gets the right training, it does not matter what color it is. An English Setter brood bitch, lemon and white, has probably retrieved more game birds the last four seasons than any dog of any breed in Canada, and Mr. Thompson says it would be easy to find $100 in that district to prove this statement. In enclosing a photo of his Lab. bitch, "Cowichan Biddy," a real good bitch, taken just after she came out of the river, he says there never has been a picture of a Labrador in Kennel and Bench and there never could be a better one than

COWICHAN BIDDY (C.K.C. 80639)
Owned by W. A. Thompson.

"Biddy." From Richard Forshaw, of East Coulee, comes the news that he has installed a new heated kennel, 12 ft. x 16 ft., with individual boxes, and three special breeding compartments, to house his Bostons. Last year he purchased the bitch, "O.K. Peggy Ann," in whelp from Alfred Patchell, of Toronto, from which he got two dogs which he sold, and one bitch which he kept. With "Peggy Ann" he won last year 3 1sts and Reserve Winners Calgary, and 3 2nds. Saskatoon. On Feb. 26th "Peggy Ann's" daughter, "O.K. Kitty," presented Mr. Forshaw with a beautiful litter by "Bob" Carter's "Haggerty's King's Laddie," with which we wish Mr. Farshaw a continuance of good luck. The writer is rejoicing over the arrival of an outstanding litter from his good Smooth Terrier bitch, "Calgaree Maid of Mirth," and "Calgaree Real Spice," a Smooth belonging to Mr. Cheney, of Calgary, that did well last year at Calgary and Edmonton. The litter consists of two dogs and three bitches. H. C. Gibson, of Medicine Hat, also has a nice litter of Rough Collies from his "Oakland Betty" by "Ben Lomond 2nd," which are going on well.

From the Rev. Sceviour, of Sceptre, Sask., has come a real Newfoundland pup of good breeding to J. J. Fitzgerald, who also has a very nice red Cocker that has done some good winning in the past. From J. Sewell, Bingville, comes the sad news of the loss, through distemper, of his good Springer bitch, "Altawana," that went to "Winners" at the last Medicine Hat Show, however, Mr. Sewell has the consolation of having good pups from this bitch left to carry on with. From Earl Kennedy, of Calgary, comes the news that he has recently shipped two good Bostons to J. F. MacKay, of Negutors, Peru, South America. Mervyn Lloyd, Green Lawn, sends me the following notes from Trevallen Kennels. Several new and important introductions have been imported during the early months of the year. The English Setter, "RHE-J-Hunter," from the RHE-J Kennels of Mrs. Bessie Hunt, Salem, New Haven, is a nice young blue belton with tan eye spots. He represents a combination of the "Willowbrook" and "Edendale" strains. He shows a great deal of quality, and although his months do not number very many, he is already interested in the game birds. However, he has much to learn before he will be capable of locating and holding his coveys with composure. When he has proved himself in the field, he will then be considered as a suitable mate for some of our home-bred bitches. An importation from England arrived on Dec. 26th, in the form of the Sealyham dog, "Manorbier Mascot." Hailing from the Manorbier Kennels, Pembroke, South Wales, he is a full brother to the English Champions "Wireless," "Manorbier Molly," and many other championship winners, who claim as their parents, "Brash Benedict" and "Moselle of Manorbier," both C.C. winners. Produced in the home county of the Sealyhams, he lacks none of the characteristics of his rugged breed neither in conformation nor temperament. We now have the imported bitch, "Manorbier Mint," mated to him and are eagerly looking forward to having a litter of high class puppies. Early January heralded the arrival of some new Springer blood coming from the celebrated Drew Farm Kennels, of New York. "Marobar's Moorland Maid," a lovely liver and white bitch, is one of the best Springers we have seen. Sired by "Ch. Horsford Hazard," ex "Belle of Drew Farm," she by "Beechgrove Duke," she represents the cream of English breeding. She was accompanied by the black and white dog, "Cushmere's Avondale Dash," whose sire was "Ch. Flint of Avondale." Both of these Springers have been winning in the hottest of company on the Eastern U.S. show circuit and now will remain here, we hope, for the benefit and improvement of Alberta Springer blood both for the field and show bench. Rabbits appear to be increasingly numerous this winter, affording excellent opportunities for Springer training during all but the most severe weather. The snow is deep and these conditions force a dog to develop his hunting and retrieving ability to the utmost.

Having purchased the Pointer bitch, "Ch. Alberta Bess," from Dr. W. A. Wilson, we hope to raise some high class puppies from her this spring. She holds the unusual distinction of securing her C.K.C. championship in conjunction with being a consistent winner of field trial stakes in Alberta and the U.S. She is a granddaughter of the famous American Champion "Doughboy." Soon we shall be looking forward to Spring with its usual influx of city visitors, anxious to renew acquaintance with some of the older inmates of the kennel, to greet the new arrivals, to forecast the futures of the puppies, and to inspect the prospects for next fall's sport.

From Mrs. Florence E. Jullien, Calgary, comes the news that J. H. Wolsey was presented by his "Alex Vom Ermslaben II" with a litter of six males and one female by that good German Shepherd "Ch. Derich of Cosalta," of which she is raising five males and the female. Alex is Derich's granddaughter, and we are hoping that the line breeding will produce something exceptional. At the age of one month they are a very uniform husky lot of German Shepherds, and all are dark in color. Miss Margaret E. Brown's Shepherd, "Lady Aida Vom Baraunberg," is being trained by Mr. Kuhn. At the present she is being worked at trailing and is doing exceptionally well for her nine months of age. It is Mr. Kuhn's intention to start a class in the Spring for the training of German Shepherds, and undoubtedly will be supported by the ardent fanciers in this locality. Miss Brown, Mr. Kuhn, and myself were at the station to see the German-bred "Elfe V. D. Polterweise," the German Shepherd imported by Miss M. E. Brown which arrived in Calgary a few days ago. "Elfe's" arrival has been anticipated for some time, and to have in our midst a Z.P.R., Sch. H., trained German Shepherd certainly is a treat. "Elfe" was in very poor condition when she arrived here so it would be hardly fair at the moment to comment on her conformation, for when she has become acclimated and conditioned she will look like a different dog, and when in condition she will look like a very different dog, and be able to compete with the best. Eugen Bauer, of Durlach, Baden, Germany, is to be congratulated on breeding such a dog and in training her, and with all the training she has retained the excellent disposition which is of all importance in our present day Shepherds. "Elfe" is very well bred and comes of a long line of ancestors, who had in most part, the various working qualifications. In Calgary she is to be left in the capable hands of W. Kuhn, who has had considerable experience in breeding and training these dogs in Germany, in fact he and Mr. Bauer are great friends.

KENNEL NAME GRANTED

The Kennel Name "Broadlands" has been registered in the name of Miss E. M. Bragg, Bowmanville, Ont.

BANQUETING THE DOGS

Why not? They are worthy of it. At the Pennsylvania Athletic Club, Philadelphia, Pa., the Airedale Terrier "Ch. Warland Protector of Shelterock," owned by S. M. Stewart, of Montclair, New Jersey, was banqueted in regal fashion and given the place of honor between Russell H. Johnson, Jr., president of the American Kennel Club, and Judge Frank B. Smith, president of the Penn. A.C., much to the enjoyment of around 1,000 members who came to pay the great dog homage.

Concerning "Ch. Warland Protector of Shelterock" Mr. Johnson said: "This dog is a gem, one of the best Airedales of all time, one of the immortals, even, among all breeds. I like everything about him." "Rip," the name that "Warland Protector" is known by on week-days, nodded his head in endorsement of Mr. Johnson's last remark very much to the merriment of the audience—and Mr. Johnson knows his Airedales.

The Western Seeing Eye Dog Owners Association met at San Francisco on March 22nd, when over 20 dogs sat at the table with their blind masters, enjoying the annual banquet of the Association, and later when the simple games were being enjoyed, the dogs piloted their dependent charges in perfect safety much to the utter amazement of the hotel guests.

Through the Association, blind persons are enabled to purchase trained German Shepherds, paying for them in many cases—on the instalment plan. Twenty-five members have been enrolled, and this list is added to as additional trained dogs become available.

CANADIAN RUSSIAN BEST AT LOUISIANA!

Let there be rejoicing! Alberta has furnished the "Best in Show", at Louisiana Kennel Club Show, held Saturday and Sunday, February 25th and 26th. The dog was "Cossack Michael", Canadian Kennel Club, 55008, and was bred by Stan, of Bottrel, Alta., and was judged by Louis G. Spence, of Dallas, Texas. Martin Mayer, reporting the show for "The New Orleans Item Sports", said of "Michael": "With the blood of ancestors who gamed with Czars and other nobles coursing through his veins, Canadian "Champion Cossack Michael", undefeated and regal, sapped out confidently from the other chosen group representatives of the blue bloods of dogdom for Judge Spence's merit to climax the show."

A feature of this show was the amateur judging contest, for which a prize of $25.00 had been provided. The result was a deadlock when Master Murray Petitpain and Miss Anna Wood selected "Michael" as their choice, and so the prize was shared between them.

"Champion Cossack Michael" is no longer a youngster, having been born on October 5th, 1925, and Martin Mayer described the dog correctly. The Sire of "Cossack Michael" was "Ch. Borloff", "Ch. Johnston's Krilenko", ex "War Baby", a daughter of "Ch. Petrofski of Adalestone" (Imp.) Dam was "Roma Romanoff", and she was daughter of "Ch. Orloff of Tolstoi", ex "Lizka Henrietta", a daughter of "Almaz of Spring Farm."

"Ch. Cossack Michael" became the property of Mrs. D. H. Christman, Shreveport, La., on December 28th, 1932, and has started well for his new owner, of course it is well known that he never was beaten in his classes in this country, therefore it is most gratifying to learn of his success at Louisiana, when we consider that he is no longer a youngster. We are glad to learn that this son of the ranch is well liked and greatly admired by his new owners, and he appears to be "living the life of Riley" in his new home.

We can well imagine the owners of many of the dogs appearing in "Cossack Michael's" pedigree getting a real thrill out of reading this little story, we would have used the word "all" instead of the words "many of" only for the thought that several of the owners of dogs showing in this particular pedigree have "passed onwards". To those who remain we extend sincere congratulations.

It is with the utmost regret that we learn of the death of "Ch. Cossack Michael" just as we go to press.

"Ch. Lyncote H.C.O.L." is a white, with tan ears, born July 21st, 1930, and bred by Mrs. Thornton Sharp, Vancouver, but has been owned by George Tyson, Vancouver, since August 20th, 1931, and made her Championship whilst in Mr. Tyson's possession, and at five shows held in British Columbia in 1932 she was four times winners and one time reserve winners. ## British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
K. H. F. PURDON, Vancouver, B.C.

THE many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Sheldon of Seattle, will be delighted to hear that they are now the proud parents of a baby boy, Ray Gerald junior. Mr. Sheldon was until recently manager of a Seattle hotel, and most fanciers from this Province who visited that city made their headquarters there, and appreciated the kindness and hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon. They were popular and frequent visitors to our shows and now that they have returned to Seattle we shall look forward to their future visits.

News come from Mrs. Collings of the Gilmartin Kennels, Cliffside, Vancouver Island, the blood lines of this kennel contain the "Inveresk," "Belmoss" and "Avondale" stock, her stud dog being a son of the famous triple "Champion Inveresk Chancellor," the chief brood bitch comes from the Belmoss Kennels, her dam being "Ch. Belmoss Jacqueline" by "Ch. Inveresk Cocksure" ex "Ch. Belindere Flossie," her sire being "Ch. Inveresk Chancellor." At present there are in the kennels three young dogs by these parents, also a bitch from a former mating. At the recent Parlour Show in Victoria, "Robin of Gilmartin" was a good winner, taking best gun dog never before shown. Springers had an entry of fifteen, the largest in the show, a compliment to the judge, and one who knows them, W. C. Burns. "Robin" is shortly to be mated to an Avondale bitch and great things are expected of the mating.

Unfortunately, Mrs. Collings notes came too late for inclusion in our last issue, please see to it that news of your doings reaches me not later than the 12th of the month, and earlier if possible.

Following on the recent successes of British Columbian-bred Wire-Haired Fox Terriers at the Golden Gate Show in San Francisco, comes news of the Oakland Show in California, the Canadian "Ch. Keythorpe Pansy," bred by the Hon. Mrs. P. B. Tyrwhitt, went to best of breed and later to Best in Show. In Limit Dogs, the first prize winner "Weyburn Eldorado," the first and second in Novice bitches, "Weyburn Cygnett of Willopi" and "Weyburn Frizette of Willopi," these three being bred by Wm. J. Moffett of Burnaby. But we must not keep all the good things to ourselves, for the first open and winners dogs in the same breed, "Earl of Burlington," owned by

Leo. M. Goldenberg, of San Francisco, was bred by Robt. McAdam, of Toronto, being by "Knockout's Replica" ex "Burlington Queen."

In "Our Dogs" of Feb. 17th, the following notice appears in the Toy Dog Talk section: "Mrs. H. G. Burbidge, of Royal Oak, Victoria, received probably one of the rarest gifts delivered on Vancouver Island, British Columbia, during the Christmas season. This was a Yorkshire Terrier bitch sent to her by Sir Woodman Burbidge from London. This little bitch, which weighed less than two and a half pounds, arrived in splendid condition, due to the care of the Canadian Pacific Express Company's officials, both on the ship and on the train. Although she is only six months old, she stood the trip magnificently. She was bred by Mrs. Lingwood, of Staines."

The first annual meeting of the B.C. Sheepdog Society was held in the Atangard Hotel, Abbotsford, on Monday, Jan. 30th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, D. S. Blacklock, Matsqui; vice-president, W. Robson, Cowichan; directors, J. D. Edwards, Miller Ranch, Victoria; F. Nelson, Cloverdale; E. A. Gamble, Abbotsford; J. D. Campbell, Abbotsford; R. C. Sibbald, Matsqui; C. Turner, Kilgord; A. C. Stewart, Abbotsford; R. McFarlane, Coghlan; R. Gardner, Colony Farm, Essondale; Secretary, A. Macfarlane, Colony Farm.

A general discussion followed and it was decided to ask the Canadian Live Stock Records, Ottawa, to form a Sheepdog stud book as there have been $1,000 worth of purebred Sheepdogs imported here from Britain in the last four years and there is nowhere to register their progeny. A programme of trials was made out for this summer to be held at various agricultural farms throughout the province.

The Shepherd Dog Club of British Columbia will hold their annual show on Saturday, April 15th, at the Hudson's Bay Company store, Vancouver. Following are the judges: W. T. Oates takes sporting and non-sporting groups; J. A. Meadows, working group; W. T. Squelch, toys and terriers; the venue is situated right in the heart of Vancouver, nothing more central for exhibitors and visitors could be wished for. The club, or who ever had the foresight to secure such an admirable place for a show, is to be congratulated. This follows the Coast City event, to be held on the 14th, which has already been referred to.

The annual general meeting of the Nanaimo Kennel Club was held on March 3rd, when the following officers were elected for 1933: Hon. Pres., John Hunt; Hon. Vice-Presidents, Senator Planta, Mayor Hall, F. Busby, T. R. Jackson and Geo. S. Pearson, M.P.P.; Hon. Veterinarian, W. G. Moore; President, J. Easthorn; First Vice-Pres., J. Cottle; Second Vice-Pres., C. Thompson; Executive Committee, J. Cottle, A. W. Willgress, W. Grieves, C. Thompson; Secretary-Treas., Miss L. A. Hickling. A Nanaimo show without a Hickling would be like Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark; this family have long been associated with Nanaimo shows; Miss Hickling's father was usually secretary of the first ones I remember, and her brother, Percy, also took a prominent part, and the Cottles, Kneens and Willgresses, the latter's name is legion, and they all had English Setters, with the family habit of acquiring good ones. It will be seen with pleasure that some of these, if I may call them old-timers, are still connected with the local club, for most of us have happy recollections of Nanaimo shows of the past, as well as recent ones; one episode that will never be forgotten by some of us was the memorable trip back to Vancouver in a tug, about nine years ago, and the tempestuous seas encountered.

The Club has a balance on the right side from their recent parlor show, and another event of this sort is to be held in April. After the meeting Mr. Cottle informed me a pleasant discussion took place on the events of the New York Show; he also told me that Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied by her Scottish Terrier at the inauguration of the President; and while on the subject of Scottish Terriers, I have just read in a London Morning Post of the arrival of the train bearing the King and Queen from Sandringham to London; three dogs were passengers on the Royal train, they were Bob, the King's Cairn Terrier, and two black Scottish Terriers belonging to the Duke of Gloucester. Now to get the Wire somewhere into these high places, in Mr. Buckley's ever interesting notes in "Our Dogs," we read that H.M. the Queen of Spain recently visited the kennels of Brig-General Lord Roundway and selected an attractive youngster, Roundway Bryony, which is now installed at Fontainebleau.

Now for some real good news which comes from Mrs. D. E. Arnold, of the Garforth Kennels in North Vancouver, is the formation of the North Shore Kennel Club of B.C., the president is E. Cargill; vice-pres., Mrs. N. E. Corbett, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. E. Arnold. The Club has already a membership of approximately twenty, and takes in all that territory known as the North Shore, which includes both the city and district of North Vancouver and West Vancouver.

On Feb. 4th was held the first All

HERE'S hoping all fanciers will be pulling for the Canadian Kennel Club Show being held in Montreal, on May 20th.

The Montreal Kennel Association is staging this affair in the new St. Antoine Market, on Atwater. This Market has not yet been in use and it says a great deal for the officers of the Montreal Kennel Association to secure such a wonderful and commodious place for this event. Exhibitors and visitors will find this to be the most up-to-date venue for the show. It is well situated and conveniently located for either the C.P.R. or C.N.R. stations.

Local fanciers have been treated to a series of evening shows by the Montreal Kennel Association, and it's now up to those fanciers to give their whole-hearted support to the Montreal Kennel Association to make this show a real success.

It takes a great deal of money to run a show and, I have no doubt, the interest taken in this show by dog-lovers generally will repay the Montreal Kennel Association for all their hard work.

Stick to it, boys, and put it over big.

The last evening show of the Montreal Kennel Association, on March 9th, was marred by the severe weather, but it did not keep the exhibitors away. The staging of thirty-five Beagles was something to be proud of. Let's hope that they all appear at the Canadian Kennel Club Show along with many more.

The final stages of the show were followed with keen interest and when Harry Silver placed "Son of Pugilist" at the top, his award was warmly received. This Bulldog, belonging to Harry Boyle, was closely followed by Mrs. J. H. Enright's Cocker Spaniel, "El Capitaine of Golden State." W. H. Guest's Wire Fox Terrier, "Dynamite of Netherwood", placed third, and F. J. Rowe's German Shepherd followed.

I understand that several dogs are in preparation for the Toronto Kennel Club's Show on Good Friday, and some of them should make the going hot.

This old province did not come away from the Westminster Show empty handed and we are all justly proud of Mrs. W. G. Ross making the trip with her Japanese Spaniel, "Chiya", and landing the rosette for Best of Breed and being placed third best Toy. Better luck, Mrs. Ross, at the Morris and Essex.

Breeding activities are going on apace and when one man claims to have three champions in one litter, and another five, it looks as though the fall shows are going to be well patronized with puppies.

J. N. McKim, of the Bay D'Urfe Fur Farm, is the proudest fancier I have met for a long time. The Cocker Spaniel bitch which he purchased at the Royal Winter Fair from Mr. Duckett, had a litter of four males and two bitches, and in conversation with him today he says "there are three that will not be sold. His Scottish Terrier, "Heather Marten", which he purchased on the Scottish Trade Ship, is beginning to make a name for himself. He has one bitch with a litter by him, while the writer bred a bitch, "Strensall Portia", to Marten and the result was two dogs and four bitches. This union brings together a combination of "Ch. Merlewood Aristocrat" and "Albourne Annie Laurie" on both sides. A. Collins has also made use of "Marten". He knows his line on breeding and is looking forward to his bitch giving him something real good.

I understand Mr. Guest's "Dynamite of Netherwood" paid a visit to Mrs. Cork's "Warsington Cyclone" the other day, so that the results of this union will be watched closely.

Several enquiries have been made for the services of the "Masher", from across the line. The "Masher" is the litter brother of "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint", so Scottie fanciers know that our province is not lacking in good ones.

Mrs. Dingwall's "Glen Garrell Cutie" had a litter sired by her own stud dog, "Craigsidde Confident", five dogs. Who said depression?

Mrs. G. M. Pitfield's Sealyham, "St. Margaret's Marquis", has been in request recently. Mrs. Pitfield has three bitches with litters sired by him.

Mrs. A. Riou is justly proud of her Pekingese dog "Ti Pong", which she purchased recently and was placed first in a class of seven at the February Evening Show of the Montreal Kennel Association. It is claimed this Peke is the most promising one in the province at the moment. Now then, Pekingese fanciers, see what you can do at the Canadian Kennel Club Show on May 20th. "Ti Pong" will be there.

It is up to all members of the Canadian Kennel Club to further the interests of the club, and if they will remember when speaking to someone who owns a dog to mention that membership would be to their advantage, then something useful has been done.

At the last evening show it was my pleasure to get two new members and both parties were delighted that I mentioned "Membership".

As these are my first "Notes from Old Quebec", I hope that fanciers will send along all their news of interest. It's good to know what's going on, and when friends don't see each other for a long time, the mere reading of a "Sale" may bring to mind some forgotten message to a friend and help us to keep in touch with each other.

What's this I hear? Another Evening Show. This time in the Mount Royal Hotel. Montreal is certainly stirring itself these days and there is no doubt that the more shows there are the more dog lovers are being made. The Piazza of the hotel is an ideal location for a show and no doubt another record crowd will be on hand.

J. H. Preston of Mackayville, has recently sold a smart Wire Fox Terrier puppy to J. R. Latham of Montreal. This puppy will be out to get the prizes at the fall shows.

Will readers please note that my address is now 67 Cote de Liesse Road, Dorval, P.Q.

NEW POMERANIAN FOR WINNIPEG

Mrs. A. L. Oxenham and Mrs. A. Henderson, Winnipeg, have received from England, the brilliant red orange Pomeranian bitch "Queen of the Rubies," sired by the noted "Sheldon Orange Pip," winner of over 100 firsts and 14 silver cups in 1930 alone. Her litter brother, "Gold Vision," is fast making a name for himself at recent shows in England. The new importation is a gorgeous color, short backed, with well carried head and tail.

Saskatchewan News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

At the time of writing spring-like weather is in order. We notice a number of folks, taking their first walk on the Prairie, enjoying the great outdoors. Hugh Crawford was out exercising his Irish Terriers, and also taking a great interest in the early feathered visitors studying them very closely with the field glasses. Hugh has a promising male puppy, a dare devil inside and outside.

We were pleased to see, through the medium of the Alberta Page, that Vic. Williams had taken up the Irishmen, and wish him every success. The Irish Terrier is becoming popular in the West, and larger classes will be seen at the 1933 shows. Ernie Yardley had the misfortune to lose his Irish Terrier youngster. He was a son of "Ardbahn Patricia," and sired by the late "Pat Heeley." We saw this puppy a short time back and considered him one of the best in the city, but a few day's sickness, and then he passed out.

Dr. Margaret French, of Saskatoon, reports "Ch. Spring Lake Mollie" has nine beautiful puppies. We understand this litter was sired by Geo. Kynoch's "Ch. Silverdale Tornado." Saskatoon is a stronghold for good "Airedales." Breeders owning females will now be able to avail themselves of the services of the imported stud "Ch. Wycote Special Edition," owned by Dr. French.

Mrs. W. Herron, of Saskatoon, has purchased an Airedale puppy from Dr. French, this puppy is from the litter out of "Ch. Spring Lake Mollie," and will be given every care in raising.

Hamish Middlemas, of Regina, is building up a strong kennel in Scotties, his latest importation "Heather Sunflower," who is by "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint," ex "Ch. Ornsay Baba," is showing heavy in whelp to his imported dog "Ruglen Rabbie," who is by Int. "Ch. Rookery Repeater." Mr. Middlemas has every right to hope that this exceptional breeding will produce something good. "Heather Sunflower" is due to whelp about the 20th of March. The Wyrecote Kennels have a great display of imported Scottish Terriers and their offsprings. Several are now being prepared for the forthcoming shows, and all are in the pink of condition.

Mrs. Winnifred King, of Kingwin Kennels, Regina, reports a litter of Pekes, by "Ch. Kingwin Kao Shing," out of "Kingwin Lao Mo," born on 6th of March. One male and two females, all doing well. Another litter born on 26th of December, 1932, have made pleasing progress, sired by "Ch. Kingwin Kao Shing," and out of the imported female "Wee Bud of Chinatown." A male and female of this litter are being retained and will be around the circuit if they continue to develop the way they have already been going.

There was a large attendance at the Regina Canine Society's club meeting to hear Dr. L. L. Hewitt, V.S., speak on the "Development and Maintenance of Health in Dogs," and all present enjoyed the talk.

A social evening was held at the home of Walter Pym, between thirty and forty members and friends were present and enjoyed a good time. The programme consisted of bridge, music, and a "Ghost Sketch," so realistic in its setting, that those who participated in the scare will never forget it.

Mr. Neate, of Regina, was a recent visitor, and reports his Labrador doing well, a little wayward during puppyhood, perhaps, but since then he has become a most intelligent animal and is very clever at performing any duties that most dogs are called upon to do.

Mr. Alldritt, of Prairie Kennels, Winnipeg, was a welcome visitor on Sunday. A pleasant time was spent, viewing and discussing Terriers, past and present.

All arrangements are well in hand for the big show at Swift Current, to be held on May 26-27. This should be a most interesting event at it follows Medicine Hat and Lethbridge Shows. Three shows in one week, and all fairly close together should be well patronized. Swift Current has a number of fanciers within the city limits and every man is doing his best to make this show a success. In our next issue we will make an endeavor to give a few details of who is who in the dog game in Swift Current.

Judge McLorg, of Saskatoon, recently purchased the German Shepherd male "Prince Von Derberg," this young dog of two summers is a beautiful black and tan, and if he was not an outstanding specimen Judge McLorg would not have purchased him.

"Bob" Carter, of Assiniboia, Sask., is still going strong with his Bostons, there are many promising youngsters at the Bell Rock Kennels, representing the finest imported blood lines. "Bob" can always be counted on to bring out the good ones. Many Western fanciers owe their start to this old timer in Bostons.

D. C. Macleod, the owner of Glendhall Kennels, Yorkton, Sask., reports terribly cold weather, with heavy snow drifts. It's a problem to get dogs stripped and in condition under these conditions, but "D.C." will find a way, and his Terriers will be ready for the early shows. Two litters of Irish Terriers 3½ months old are in great shape and ready for new homes. The Scottie, "Haldon Mary Anne," has a litter about one month old at time of writing. The sale of two Irish Terriers, is reported, to budding fanciers.

Mutual Kennels, Moose Jaw, have just received a telegram from a client in Japan—purchasing three Wire-haired Fox Terriers, two females, one male. The females will be shipped after being bred.

Now the spring is here we hope fanciers will have something more to report, i.e., their kennel activities, and contribute a little more freely to the Sask. Page, also take more advantage of the advertising columns. Kennel and Bench is read by all interested in dogs, and from now on sales should be brisk.

FAKING

Faking continues. At one of the large shows on the midwestern circuit a contender for best in show was so drugged that for a time he was unable to stand. At length he was resuscitated sufficiently to be taken into the ring for the final judging. It was evident to those present that an overdose of some drug had been administered and this was later substantiated by the attending veterinarian who diagnosed the case as one of poisoning from dope.

This is only one of the flagrant examples of faking perpetrated within recent weeks. Fanciers who persist in the practise are hanging hopes around their own necks.—(Popular Doge).

SOLOMON DETERMINES OWNERSHIP

Down in Monroe, La., two Negroes were agitating themselves over the ownership of a little "yaller dog." Their dispute landed them in Court before Judge W. M. Harper, who admonished "You boys will have to quit making so much racket about this dog. I order that it be forfeited to the city and further that it be put to death."

One Negro sat back and smiled smugly, the other "paled" at the order of the court and blurted out: "Nawssuh, judge, Doan you do dat. Gi'n hit to dis yer udder nigger, but please sir, don't kill it," he pleaded. "It's your dog to keep and cherish forever," Judge Harper ruled with the Solomon severity of justice—the little "yaller dog" wagged its tail.

MY IMPRESSIONS OF THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

By W. G. CLIMO, Calgary

MY first attendance at the Annual General Meetings of the Canadian Kennel Club, in the capacity of Director for the Province of Alberta, was a very enjoyable experience indeed. It gave me a great deal of pleasure to meet the Directors from the sister Provinces, and particularly was I pleased to meet our Eastern Directors, and I trust that next year I may be elected again to represent Alberta, and so be privileged to again meet the men I met on this memorable occasion.

I am convinced that the men elected by the members, and who are now at the helm of the clubs' affairs are men who will do their very utmost to further the best interests of dogdom as a whole in the Dominion of Canada, and men likely to retain the goodwill of their affiliations with the canine governments of other countries.

Naturally I could not close my eyes to certain circumstances which I found prevailing at Toronto, circumstances which do not seem to be in the best interests of the Canadian Kennel Club. Such matters as I have in mind made themselves clearly manifest at the Annual General Meeting, and to my way of thinking, the sooner some of the Toronto fanciers can be made to realize that the Canadian Kennel Club is no local organization, that the Canadian Kennel Club is not a Toronto organization, nor yet an Ontario organization, the better it will be for all concerned.

Of course I agree that the very backbone of the Canadian Kennel Club is furnished by the province of Ontario, but what I took most exception to, was the many obvious personal differences which seemed to be of a very definite petty nature, differences, which if injected into the workings of the Club would only cause untold disruption, suspicion, and distrust. To those who attended the Annual Meeting, I could easily imagine them becoming nauseated, and coming to the conclusion that there was "something wrong in Denmark." The members should remember that their Directors are their own chosen representatives, the men selected by themselves to govern their affairs. The members should give credit to the Directors, who, in the past have lifted our organization from its former condition of rickety helplessness and brought it to the proud position it holds today amongst the affiliated association comprising the Canadian National Live Stock Associations of Canada, a position which is respected, and of which we must be justly proud as dog fanciers. In my estimation the Canadian Kennel Club is without a peer in the world today. We have the whole country at our back in the form of the Canadian National Live Stock Records, and at their back the Live Stock Pedigree Act, what tremendous strength, and where can we find its equal? and who was it that put our organization in this impregnable position of which we should be so proud? Was it the puny critics I met at the Annual Meeting, oh no, rather was it the men who have served us so well in the past, the men who had plenty to lose, and nothing to gain by giving their time and their talents so ungrudgingly to our club, aye, and their money, too. To such men we owe a mountain of gratitude. These were the men who placed us in the enviable position we hold today, and what they have built up for us at tremendous sacrifice to themselves, we must, at all costs preserve.

Our respected President, intimated to the Annual Meeting that he would not be available for the office of President next year, and I wondered why. We cannot afford to leave the helm in other hands at this time. Not that the ship is in any danger of running to the shoals, but in order that it shall sail in open seas the dependable captain and crew must unquestionably be retained.

Those who may seek to throw the monkey wrench into our machinery at this time are not the men to be trusted with the management of our affairs, they may be sincere in their criticisms, their intentions may be good, it is perfectly true that many of us do not see eye to eye with each other, but isn't it a suicidal policy to change horses in mid-stream, and because of the times we are passing through at the moment, and because of the times we have been passing through for four years now, we cannot afford to change horses just now. I am fully confident that we shall reach the shore in safety, the sky may be clouded a little at this moment, but it only foretells the darkening which precedes the dawn of more prosperous times, a time when our finances will again climb, when our officials will again be adding to our already healthy reserves, and let us remember this too, that such reserves as may be built up come back to ourselves, and to nobody else. Why should the critics seek to make capital out of existing conditions? and where was their criticism during the period of our transition from helplessness, to our known strength of this day? When our officials were piling up our reserves everything in the garden was roses, but now that we have lost some ground as a Club, are we to blame our officers for the condition? Isn't it a fact that the only reason for our recent club losses, is because of conditions experienced by ourselves as members, the conditions which made us slow down in our breeding operations when we realized that buyers for our surplus stock were not available? Let us be sportsmen, and with a sportsman's fairness look at our own picture through our own glasses. Am I to listen to the critics and decide that the interest of our tried leaders has waned? No, I declare that I cannot conceive such a decision as being wise. There is still that affiliation between man and his dog, there is still that unbreakable chain which holds us to the affairs of dogdom, that I prefer to use my own judgment. What we require is simply what we have been getting in recent years, strong, unselfish, unbiased leadership, and as one chosen to lead, I shall endeavor to furnish a full measure of effort from my province of Alberta in support of the general policy, the policy I believe to be sound and in most capable keeping.

It will be of general interest for Kennel and Bench readers to be advised, that I stopped off at Edmonton on my return home, and here the enthusiastic Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Association had very kindly arranged a banquet in my honor as Alberta Director. Later, I gave a little talk on the business of the Annual General Meeting, and expressed my views as to the many problems which confront our directors and to the various accomplishments of the last year, and at the close of the meeting a motion of confidence and of appreciation of the Directorate of the Canadian Kennel Club, was moved and carried. I have sent a similar report, and an expression of my views to Medicine Hat Kennel Club which is also within my jurisdiction, and on Monday, February 27th I spoke to the members of the Alberta Kennel Club for almost two hours, and only adjourned because we had to leave our meeting place at ten o'clock—the Public Library, and I have made arrangements to further discuss Canadian Kennel Club matters with our Alberta members at a time suitable to their convenience, at which time I will endeavor to create a better feeling towards the Canadian Kennel Club.

I am glad that I was chosen to represent the province of Alberta, as Canadian Kennel Club Director, and I will be pleased to be re-elected some other time, and in spite of the criticisms I was obliged to listen to, I am more than ever convinced that our Club affairs are being well-managed by capable men, by men who are wholly deserving of all the encouragement that the members are capable of giving.

ANOTHER LANDMARK REMOVED

To have been a member of the Canadian Kennel Club for twenty-eight years without a single break is a record that any fancier might well be proud of. To have served this organization as a Director, and to have acted on committees re rules, constitution, etc. might well add to such pride.

That was the record of the late N. R. (Nick) Miller, Toronto, the owner and founder of the "Fiscal" prefix in this country, a prefix which first brought Fiscal Fighter (8320) from Belfast, Ireland, in 1904, a son of "Ch. Colin" ex "Ulster Shamrock," whilst "Fiscal Fancy" was one of the early Irish Terriers to become a Champion in Canada. "Nick" was a Tipperary man and was proud of the fact. Gifted with a sense of smileless Irish humour, one was apt to believe there was a chip on his shoulder when he was invariably laughing an invitation to dare, "Tread on the tail of my coat." A man had to know this typical Irishman well to appreciate him fully. His kind are not met with every day.

THE LATE N. R. MILLER,
A lifelong lover of Irish Terriers.

The late Mr. Miller had been confined to bed for the last two months and died in Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, on March 1st. In business he represented the leading fabric manufacturers of Great Britain, and was widely known amongst the Textile Corporations of the world. A Past Grand Lodge Officer, A.F. and A.M., member of R.C.Y.C., and Board of Trade, he had friends everywhere.

Mr. Miller's only son, G. H. Miller, was associated with the business, and will very likely "Carry on." He and Mrs. Miller survive our old battling comrade, who is now laid in his last earthly resting place.

Resting in a veritable embankment of floral tributes, Mr. Miller's many friends viewed for the last time his earthly remains.

Among the floral expressions of sympathy were noted the wreaths of the Nation Kennel Club, of which club Mr. Miller had been a Charter Member, of the Canadian Kennel Club, of which he had been one of its oldest members, of Col. McFarland, our president. Other tributes were noted which had been furnished by cable from England. And so we bid adieu to another of the old landmarks of Canadian dogdom, and to a man who was "All wool and a full yard wide."

NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY FOR DOG SHOWS

Amazed as we have been on many occasions when we have noticed streamer lines across our newspaper pages, telling the world of the achievements of dogs at the shows, such profound wonder was greatly magnified when we picked up The Evening Telegram, Toronto, on Thursday evening, March 23rd, and found popular "Ted" Reeves's, double column "Sporting Extras" given over to the many breeds of "pooches" found in the Canadian Kennel Club classification. An evening's reading of the most enjoyable kind.

"Ted" facetiously told his readers this:—"Perhaps you wonder where an old Duplex dweller like us started to find things out about dogs. The answer is at the Bowles A.C., over at that coffee and discussion Club you can catch an argument on any subject." And we would like to add that Mr. Reeves was an apt pupil at this well known college, because he started in 1400 years B.C. and introduced such dog lovers as Xenophon, Napoleon, Chaucer, Shakespeare, Caesar, Commander Scott, Sir Walter Scott, Dickens, Byron, etc. (Shame on you Ted Reeves, what about Robert Burns and his "twa dogs?")

In short Toronto Telegram is to be complimented on having men of the calibre of "Ted Reeves" on its sports staff, and Mr. Reeves is to be congratulated on producing such a splendid article, and particularly is Toronto Kennel Club to be congratulated on having its show to be held in the Mutual Street Arena, on Good Friday and Saturday, so ably featured by such a brilliant contribution. The writer has always advocated making friends of the sports writers of our newspapers, by all dog show giving clubs, all-breed or specialty. These men are all dog lovers. They are our friends, and it is up to us to tell them all about the reciprocation of their friendship.

Maritime News

By Provincial Contributing Editor
G. D. ANDERSON, Halifax, N.S.

WHILE this column was conspicuously small in the last issue, for the reasons stated, let it not be inferred that Kennel activities were in any way limited. Truth is, there has been a lot of activity and most of it of a very constructive and pleasing nature. And the fact that this activity has been in evidence in both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is indeed good news in these strenuous days.

We are all feeling the effect of the adverse conditions that are prevalent and a great deal of credit is due, I think, to the individuals and to the clubs who are bravely facing most depressing outlooks, by saying, "On with the show." Several of the provincial exhibitions and fairs that were annual landmarks will not be held this year. Only a few days ago I learned that our neighbors in New Brunswick have decided not to have the usual Saint John Exhibition this year. But the New Brunswick Kennel Club have voted to hold their annual show and will arrange the date so that it will just precede the Nova Scotia Kennel Club shows in Halifax. Only those who have attended the Saint John show can realize the gloominess of the outlook that faced the New Brunswick Kennel Club when shows were discussed at a recent meeting, and those people should, if at all possible, do their cheering by supporting this show with their entries. For the past twelve years the New Brunswick Club have held their annual show in conjunction with the Provincial Exhibition, but they carried on for many years before that time and held successful annual shows as an independent attraction.

A great many of our permanent military force in Canada are genuine dog fanciers, and due to the regular transfer programme begun several years ago by the Dept. of Militia and Defence, these officers are periodically moved to the various stations in Canada. Recently Capt. and Mrs. D. E. Smith were transferred from Halifax to St. John and they, of course, took with them their Cairns and Scots, with the exception of their imported Scottish bitch, which was left in Halifax to be visited by "Ch. Haldon Cruachan." Their Cairn bitch, "Gertrude of Glaisee," is now in whelp to their imported dog, "Ch. Crochan D'Ornum." One of their Scots, "Limestone Peggy" ex "Paragem," by "Ch. Greyhope Grit," is soon to be visited by one of the Saint John studs.

While speaking of Scots it would be well to mention the fact that R. C. Vaughan, of Garwood prefix, has sold his splendid Scottish, "Ch. Haldon Storm King," to Mr. L. V. Drury, of Peoria, Ill. Mr. Drury, who is the district manager of the Sun Life Assurance Co. in Illinois, spends his summers at Saint Andrew's-by-the-Sea, which is about two hours motor drive from Saint John.

C. West, of Saint John, a new breeder, has profitably disposed of a litter of red Chows. The registered names and breeding is not, as yet, at hand, but we do know that this stock represents some of the choicest bloodlines obtainable today. We learn that T. A. Linton, the busy secretary of the New Brunswick Kennel Club, and Miss McLaughlin, will each be exhibiting puppies from this litter at the Fall shows.

Rosedale (Pom) Kennels, of Saint John, have added to their stock a new orange-sable dog, "Red Dawn." "Dawn" boasts as his breeder Mrs. L. P. Summers (London, Ont.), as his sire, Mrs. Wylie's "Cairndhu Gold Ray," and as his dam "Goldbound's Mist O'Gold." This junior dog has already sired several good litters and his new owner, Mrs. Short, is delighted with him due to his abundant coat of perfect color and his general balance and type. He should do a lot of good for the breed in the Maritimes.

Mrs. Short also reports that her "Rosedale Pretty Girl," a light orange female, has been bred to "Melbourne Little Sheik," who went best of the Poms at the 1932 N.B.K.C. show.

The Saint John fanciers, with the support of the N.B.K.C., have been very successful in holding several evening shows. Already an evening has been devoted to the Sporting dogs, and one to Working dogs. In the near future an evening will be taken up with the Terriers, Toys and Non-Sporting varieties. This evening will also see all the group winners meet for the "Best in Show" award. Local C.K.C. judges have been officiating at these shows which catered particularly to the puppies and novice dogs, and to new exhibitors. A large number of new exhibitors came forward and most of these are now members of the N.B.K.C. and will in all probability be seen with their dogs at the regular annual show.

The Nova Scotia Kennel Club held their annual meeting on March 9 and a goodly gathering of the "old guard" was present, but, sad to say, few of the newer members were in evidence. However, the meeting was a very successful one from many viewpoints.

The treasurer's report revealed the fact that while the Club had no money, it also had no debts. So the situation is not too bad at all. And when the 1933 membership dues roll in this club will be in quite a comfortable financial state.

The following were elected as Directors for 1933:—C. E. Power, H. M. McLeod, A. V. Martin, Eric Flowers, John Fry, Jr., Miss A. J. E. O'Brien, and G. D. Anderson.

These directors later elected Mr. C. E. Power as president, Mr. Henry McLeod vice-president, and Mr. A. V. Martin as secretary-treasurer.

With this experienced and seasoned crew manning the ship it is a certainty that the club will safely sail the uncharted seas of 1933 and cautiously circumnavigate the dangerous shoals of depression.

The show committee for the year was also appointed at this meeting. It is comprised of the directors previously named with the following additional members:—J. E. Burns, W. A. Cornwall, B. G. Edens, Gordon Carnell, J. D. Whitely, Fred Fougere and Dr. B. Keyes as show veterinary. Truly an able staff.

At the close of the annual meeting the show committee held their first meeting. The writer was elected chairman and discussion commenced. It was unanimously decided to hold the two regular shows in the fall to coincide with the Provincial Exhibition dates. This means that these shows will probably be held from Oct. 3 to Oct. 6, inclusive. There was some discussion as to the advisability of giving money prizes rather than silverware; but no definite decision was reached.

There was also some eager discussion regarding a spring show and it seems quite possible that this affair will take the form of a regular "point show," to be held out of doors and to last one day only. The lateness of the hour caused the meeting to be adjourned before the final decision was made; but if the financial situation will permit, I am sure that the next committee meeting will be taken up with the arrangement of details for this show. The Wanderer's Amateur Athletic Club's grounds offer an ideal site for such an affair. It is central, has good seating accommodation and the necessary benching can be easily arranged.

A note from Mrs. P. A. Margeson, of "Cedarcrest" prefix, at Kentville, N.S., proved very interesting. Mrs. Margeson has been studying Leon F. Whitney's "Basis of Breeding" and vows it is the best she has read to date. Let's hope that its teachings will result in even better "Toys" from this well known Kennel. Just at present a litter of three six weeks' puppies out of "Mai Wong of Cedarcrest" by "Rajah's Mon Chink," is claiming a lot of attention. These are reported to be three particularly good ones, with an exceptionally good bitch puppy for its age.

Harry Willis, of Bedford, tells me that he is indeed pleased over the success that "Harvest Molly" had at the recent New York Show. "Molly" is a Manchester female that Mr. Willis sold to F. C. McLean, of Hull, P.Q., some time ago. The Bedford Kennel also reports the sale of that marvellous Smooth Fox Terrier dog, "Ch. Danby Mogul" to Geo. Kynoch, of Winnipeg, who purchased him for a client. "Mogul" had an enviable record in the "ring," and has also established for himself a stud record that is hard to beat. He has sired some of the best "Smooths" in the East, some of whom have already shown their wares with distinction at recent Maritime shows. His last litter out of "Haligonian" are indeed a nice looking lot. The two dog pups are particularly promising and appear to have all of their sire's good points and then some. It was only Mr. Willis' enthusiasm over these young studs that tempted him to part with their sire. While the East has lost one of its best dogs it is indeed lucky to have so many young Smooths who claim "Danby Mogul" as their sire. To these young ones we will have to look for our future winners and studs. It is to be hoped that "Ch. Danby Mogul" will be able to improve the breed in the West to same extent that he has done in the East.

Here I might mention the fact that one of the dog pups out of this last litter of Smooths was today sold to Dr. N. B. Dreyer, of Dalhousie University. Dr. Dreyer has had a great deal of contact and experience with our canine friends in South Africa and in England, and is a very critical purchaser. The fact that he has bought one of these pups speaks well for not only the quality of the pup but also for the quality of its sire and dam.

H. G. Stairs is indeed pleased with a litter of five dogs and four bitches out of his Springer bitch "Romany Lass," and sired by "Judge of Thorndean." This litter is now about five weeks' old and the whole lot are doing nicely. These will certainly help to swell the entry at our 1933 shows and should get their share of the "bacon."

Robert Orr's "Of Easco Pointer Kennels," Saint John, who, we learn, is greatly improving his stock by careful breeding with his home-bred bitches has made a most generous offer of a tried gun-dog, his own product, named, "Easco Jingo Red," to the New Brunswick Kennel Club, who have accepted this splendid Pointer for a draw Sire: Ch. Stocksmoor Storm by Ch. Gang Warily by Ch. Barrington Bridegroom. His dam is a grand-daughter of Ch. Talavera Simon and Ch. Crackley Sensation. Stormy Boy has been a great asset to the breeders of Wires in Canada and America. He has proved himself to be one of the greatest producers ever imported into Canada.

Take a glimpse at the show catalogues and see the winners sired by him. Some of them are: Burlington Bridegroom, Burlington Knight, Burlington Irene, Burlington Stormy 2nd, Burlington Sylvia, Wyrecote White Tips, Winners bitches at Regina; Wyrecote Temptons, Reserve Winners dogs at Regina; Humbervale Storm Cloud, Sunnieholme Vizen, Reserve Winners bitch at Welland; Balcroft Peggy and Mavisbank Stormy Girl, the most consistent winning puppy in the circuit, 1931; and lots more on the way. All above winners won at open championship shows. Don't hesitate, give him a trial, he won't let you down. I am continually hearing glowing reports of his stock all over America. to increase their club funds. The dog, already broken to wing and shot, needs another season, being only a junior, yet has much promise with a good nose. He is lemon and white, stylish made Pointer, stands over lots of ground, steady and handles well.

The New Brunswick Kennel Club greatly appreciate this gift Pointer—(which some sporting dog men value at $200.00), as a means to supplement their funds necessary to put on their twenty-fifth jubilee dog show; because this year, with no support, or building, from the Saint John Exhibition Association, means extra effort to put out a more attractive prize list, and bench "a better show than ever."

Our New Brunswick correspondent writes of having a visit from J. Jackson, of Cossar Farm. Cossar Farms have several good brood Scottish bitches from Chapman Bros., also quite a smart looking terrier in "Heather Highlander," a junior black Scot by "Heather Spellbinder" out of "Heather Annie Laurie." The "Cossar" folk have, we believe, about four imported bitches, all nicely bred, "Devorgilla of Charmary" and "Heather Hilarity," both daughters of "Albourn Vindicated" have litters, all sired by "Heather Radiant." These, with other young stock in St. John and in Halifax, will mean strong entries for our Maritime bench shows.

Knowing the growing interest in this Scottish breed, some of their exhibitors have been favored with a copy of the Scottish Terrier Club of America's breed pamphlet, published annually by the breed's specialty club.

Maritime fanciers appreciate the gift.

EIGHTY—AND GOING STRONG

C. A. Stone of the "Forest" prefix, says he has achieved his ideal in regard to the breeding of Canadian-bred Irish Setters. Entries of the "Forest" breeding, and from "Forest" stock at Canada's largest shows seem to give Mr. Stone cause for his continued enthusiasm. At the Canadian National Exhibition, 1931, he claims 9 out of 12 entries. In 1932, 11 out of 17. At the Royal Winter Fair of 1931, 13 out of 19, and in 1932, 6 out of 13. In 1930, with 4 Irish Setters out of one litter, Mr. Stone scooped up 40 prizes against all comers, and at the present time he knows of over 100 Irish Setters of "Forest" blood in and around Toronto, many of which are first rate field dogs over which this sprightly octogenarian has shot over himself, and some of them he is quite likely to shoot over again.

Notes from Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. B. R. KNOWLES, Winnipeg, Man.

Fox Terriers (Smooth). We are pleased to report that Mr. Sikorski has purchased the Smooth Fox Terrier, "Ch. Danby Mogul." "Ch. Danby Mogul" is a wonderfully muscled short-backed dog with remarkable limbs and small feet. An attractive Terrier which Judge George Kynoch says will stop any Fox Terriers in the West. He was purchased from Mr. Wills, but bred by Chas. L. Newburn, of Hamilton, Ont. Whelped October 29th, 1929, he obtained his championship in nineteen months, and went to best of breed under Judges Freeman Lloyd, Walter H. Reeves, Dr. C. Y. Ford, Frank Addyman and L. Brumby. We wish Mr. Sikorski every success with him. "Ch. Danby Mogul" has been mated to the owners, "Suttons' Bona," she is by "Ch. Suttons' Friar Tuck" ex "Ch. Suttons' Gwynne Darrell" and Mr. Sikorski is looking forward to something real good from the mating.

Fox Terriers (Wire-Haired). Harry Baker's "Bakerdale Sylvia" is nursing a nice litter of puppies, they are by George Kynoch's "Yorak Sun Fire." The puppies have well developed nasal bones, and this desirable feature should give them the foreface so much sought in the ideal Terrier. He also has a nice three months male puppy out of "Bakerdale Merry Minx" by "Yorak Sun Fire."

Scottish Terriers. Mr. Pratt's "Bonnie McGras" is nursing a fine litter of "die-hards" by "Bob" Simpson's "Normandy Erich."

Boston Terriers. George Duncan writes me that business at the Trapystok Kennels is very good, and that January and February of this year stand out as the two major months, so far as stud business is concerned, in the history of the kennels. Twenty-three visiting matrons were bred to those phenomenal sires, "Ch. Trapystok Personality" and "Trapystok Headlight," and that according to requests for bookings, March and April promise to be equally as good.

Two beautiful litters worthy of mention by "Trapystok Headlight" are out of Lucille Millward's "Adanac Forget-Me-Not" and Mrs. Newell's "Patsy." Eleven puppies in all, eight males and three females, every one perfectly marked, and several showing signs of quality, were in the two litters.

Trapystok Kennels has had the misfortune to lose by death, the imported "Trapystok Kid Boots Katinka." Mr.

Duncan had looked forward to placing him at stud in another month, and had predicted a bright future for him as a show and stud dog. Perry Biller was so pleased with his beautiful litter out of his favorite bitch, "Bubbles" and by "Trapystok Headlight" last fall, that deciding he cannot improve on the combination he has accordingly bred her again to the same dog.

Thick Skull or Thick in the Skull—

I have long wondered how I could approach this subject without hurting anyone's feelings. Because, from my experience some people are extremely sensitive if they imagine anyone is taking a dig at them, and dog fanciers are by no means exempt. It really is an art which one must subconsciously or intuitively learn, and perhaps laboriously master; that is, the intricate or complex and exact procedure of how to write notes on dogs and at the same time scrupulously avoid anything that would make it appear as though one was being too personal. But lest anyone should think I am taking a dig at him and say "The blighter, I'll call him up and let him know where he gets off at," let me say that Geo. Kynoch, himself, gave me the opportunity I have long been seeking. Those who attended the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club meeting at which Wire-Haired Fox Terriers was the subject of T. K. McKenzie's address, will remember that when Mr. Kynoch was explaining his method of trimming, he put up one of his dogs, a Canadian champion, and also related to "Ch. Gallant Fox of Wildoaks" and said, "He's a little thick in the skull now, but then he's three years old and he can still beat a lot of them yet."

And why shouldn't he be a little thick in the skull. Yes, I have heard the same remark used about a dog and rather disparagingly, too, which dog had left his puppy and young doghood behind him. It is entirely wrong, and just such a remark, uttered thoughtlessly within the hearing of a judge, might have some effect on his decision; that is, of course, if he doesn't understand that such a condition is quite natural in a dog of mature age. It is in fact a good and essential feature from the working terrier point of view and really should be the same in all dogs of mature age.

The parietal bone forms the greater part of the roof of the cranial cavity. In front of this bone and joined to it by the parieto frontal suture is the frontal bone. This bone forms what we might call the forehead. The two frontal bones meet in the centre at the frontal suture, which is slightly depressed to form a groove. From the parieto frontal suture at the frontal suture the frontal crest extends in a curve to the supra orbital process, which process is just above the eye. The frontal crest is a well-marked thickening of the bone, and is fitted by nature to protect the frontal sinus. The frontal bone, of course, forms the frontal sinus; that is, the two plates, external and internal, or, correctly speaking, the superior and inferior surfaces, separate and diverge in front and so form the frontal sinus.

The frontal crest is quite well marked and can be easily felt even in dogs as young as six months of age, more particularly where it terminates in the supraorbital process. Whilst the frontal crest, like the keystone of an arch, is the strongest part and protects the frontal sinus, so also the supraorbital process protects the eye, not alone from the sun's rays but also from the claws of animals, i.e., fox or badger, the hounds have run to earth. All bones ossify from one or more centres and the centre of ossification of the frontal bone is in the supraorbital process, and this, together with the frontal crest, naturally becomes thicker and harder as the animal matures.

In the accompanying rough sketch some small bones under the eye have been omitted.

Report of Annual Meeting

MR. REEVES: Mr. President, the way I feel about this, it is really treating the Canadian fancy like a lot of children. I really think that this is something that should not be allowed. The Canadian fancy are a clean, sport-loving fancy and I don't think I would want to cast any slur on the Canadian fancy such as is done by this paragraph that we have before us tonight. (Hear hear).

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Yes.

MR. BROWN: Whoever is responsible for that resolution I think should have done a little bit of thinking before he put it down in black and white. If I had an idea of that description I would not be a member of any dog owners' association. If I couldn't assemble with the rest of the dog people without considering them crooks and trying to put something in the Constitution which makes them appear that they are not honest I wouldn't have anything to do with the organization at all. I am surprised that anybody would have ever brought a resolution along that line which intimates that everybody in the dog game is trying to put something over; and that is not so, and I think anybody with any red blood in their veins would resent a resolution of that kind.

GEN. NELLES: I rise to a question of privilege. I don't want you gentlemen to think that I personally am putting this up for you, or you, or you, or anybody else. (Indicating various members). These amendments were forwarded to us by the Live Stock Records Board, and it was asked that they be passed by the Association if possible. I was delegated to prepare and put it up before you and that is all I had to do in the matter, so please don't think there is anything personal in the resolution.

MR. DUCKETT: Excuse me for rising a second time, but Mr. Gunderson and other members of the Live Stock Records without a doubt will realize that the dog game is a fancy, not a business. All these other twenty-six live stock people who are connected by that Act are breeders for profit. A dog breeder can't breed for profit.

COL. MacRAE: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, last night there was brought up before the Board of Directors the case of a kennel down in the Province of Quebec, Mr. Ross' province, where the Royal Canadian Mounted Police had to be called in there in order that the Records Board could find out what these people were doing, and when the records were produced there were so many alterations, amendments and erasures that nothing could be made out of them. Now this amendment as I understand it is not aimed in any way at the honest breeder and consequently is not aimed at any person in this room, but it is aimed at the breeder where something crops up and so that access can be had to his records without having to call in the police and go to a lot of extra expense. It is not aimed at anybody in this room, because we are all honest here.

MR. STOCKDALE: Well, but, Mr. President, that is just it exactly. The Vice-President has told you that if it is necessary to get your records they can do it now, but this amendment says these records shall at all times—all times—be open for inspection by officials of this Club.

Designate officials, Mr. President.

PRES. McFARLAND: An official, I would say, would be any officer of the Club.

MR. STOCKDALE: Any officer of the Club. Well, now, they wouldn't want me going in.

COL. MacRAE: Why not?

MR. STOCKDALE: And officials of the National Live Stock Records Board and officials of the Department of Agriculture now have the machinery and it doesn't cost this Club anything; they will prosecute under the Pedigree Act, under the Code, they will prosecute, and if they can do so they will do it.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Yes.

The President put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES: The next change I don't think will be contentious: Article 15—Kennel names. Section 4 now reads:

"4. A resident of a foreign country may register a kennel name without becoming a member of this Club, provided the name has not already been registered. A fee of ten dollars for each name so registered will be charged. Names so registered shall not be transferable. After the expiration of ten years from the date of registration, registration will lapse unless a name is re-registered."

My amendment is:

"Section 4, after the word 'resident' in the first line add the words 'of Canada or'."

PRES. McFARLAND: In other words a non-member of the Kennel Club can register a name if he lives in Canada, where he cannot at present.

MR. STOCKDALE: I would second that amendment.

The President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared carried.

GEN. NELLES (reads):

"Article 16.

Section 3, add paragraph as follows:

After January 1st, 1934, no application for the registration of a litter will be accepted if the sire or the dam was under nine months of age at the time of the birth of the litter, nor where the dam or the sire is over twelve years of age, at the time of service."

This is No. 3 as at present:

"3. Registration of the birth of all litters must be made by the person who was the owner at the time of birth, otherwise individual dogs of the litter will not be eligible for registration. Application forms for this purpose will be supplied free by the Canadian National Live Stock Records. All blank spaces must be filled in and the form must be signed by the owner of the litter at the time of birth, by the breeder of the litter and by the owner of the sire at the time the dam was served. The dam must be registered in the Canadian Kennel Club stud book in the name of the owner signing and the sire must be registered in the Canadian Kennel Club stud book in the name of the owner certifying the service, except as provided in Section 1, clause D of this article."

I move that.

Seconded by Mr. Reeves.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MR. ROBERTS: It refers to breeding a pup at a certain age, does it?

PRES. McFARLAND: Yes, Mr. Roberts.

MR. ROBERTS: My experience with breeding small dogs is, the very finest thing out is working them out the first time they come in, and the reason is their bones are setting. I have been working thirty years at least on small dogs and Dr. Campbell can say this, that while I have been in the City of Toronto he has never had a case from me yet, and I put it down to breeding a dog the first time it comes in. Nature supplies the answer: What about the animals that are going wild? Is there anybody to protect them? No. And where do we get our finest furs from? From the wild animals. And that shows you Nature doesn't go against that, and I am prepared to oppose the amendment.

MR. SHAWLEY: Might I ask Mr. Nelles' reason for this? I am very much opposed, Brig.-Gen. Nelles, if you are sponsoring this.

PRES. McFARLAND: Mr. Gunderson, what is the purpose of this?

MR. GUNDERSON: We figure it reduces the standard of registration, because dogs that are bred under nine months of age you must consider that they are practically pups and then they have a litter before they are nine months of age.

MEMBERS: No.

MR. DUCKETT: Is it not a fact that a country near to us has passed an act similar to this, that this Act is made to follow the United States?

MR. GUNDERSON: We haven't taken any notice of any other country that may be following it. This is new here.

MR. SHAWLEY: I haven't bred puppies and I don't believe in it, because they are only babies. I will give you an instance: We all knew poor old "Andy" Armstrong. Andy bred some of his best dogs from bitches and dogs over twelve years of age. That is one instance; but I don't believe in breeding babies.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, we have heard both sides of it, but Mr. Roberts points out that he refers to small breeds; Mr. Shawley doesn't refer to small breeds.

MR. SHAWLEY: Any breeds, Mr. President.

MR. STOCKDALE: But speaking for a breeder of small dogs, Mr. Roberts points out that, and I think the lamest answer that has come from the Live Stock Board representative is that it weakens the registration. It has nothing to do with the registration at all.

PRES. McFARLAND: As I understand Mr. Gunderson he said it weakens the standard.

MR. STOCKDALE: Of registration. He is not a breeder, and why the standard of registration, if they are the offspring of the sire and dam?

PRES. McFARLAND: I took him to mean it weakened the standard of registered dogs.

MR. STOCKDALE: He didn't put it that way.

PRES. McFARLAND: That is the meaning I took from it.

MR. WAINRIGHT: How does it weaken it?

MR. GUNDERSON: We feel this way, as I said before, we are breeding from puppies, and as this gentleman said over here—

MR. WAINRIGHT: How many have you ever bred?

MR. GUNDERSON: No doubt there are quite a number haven't thought of it before—

MR. WAINRIGHT: How do you weaken them?

MR. GUNDERSON: As you know, the progeny of them—

MR. WAINRIGHT: How many have you personally bred?

MR. GUNDERSON: Have I bred myself? I haven't bred any, because I don't believe in doing it. I am a breeder of dogs and I have been at it for ten years. Not out of pups.

MR. WAINRIGHT: How do you know that?

MR. GUNDERSON: I have seen pups.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Have you ever seen a French bulldog?

MR. GUNDERSON: No.

PRES. McFARLAND: Will you please address the Chair? This is not a cross-examination.

MR. WAINRIGHT: I would like to put the questions through you, the same way as you answered my letter lately—ignored it. I guess I have the same privilege, since my membership is paid.

PRES. McFARLAND: All right. Are you asking Mr. Gunderson a question?

MR. WAINRIGHT: Yes, I asked him a question.

PRES. McFARLAND: What was the question?

MR. WAINRIGHT: I asked him if he ever bred French bulldogs.

MR. GUNDERSON: I never did, Mr. Wainright.

MR. WAINRIGHT: How can you breed them without mating your puppies first?

MR. GUNDERSON: Break their bones. The same in any other breed, I think.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Can you give me any answer?

MR. GUNDERSON: I never bred French bulldogs.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Or in fact any other breed.

PRES. McFARLAND: Are you ready for the question?

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. President, I might say this: I think experience is the main thing, and I have been dealing and breeding small breeds, Pomeranians and Pekingese, for over thirty years, and I am going to tell you this, that I have never had any trouble with my puppies, but I am hearing about other people having plenty of trouble with their dogs through that reason, not breeding them when they are young, and some of the best pups I have had are of young females. The one that I made champion in particular was from a female ten months old. Practical experience is the main thing.

MR. SHAW: I have been breeding Bostons twenty years and the only time I have had trouble is when I let them pass their first period.

MR. MACONCHIE: I have heard for years as regards Pomeranians this: for instance, you have a small female around three and one-half to four pounds which you are going to breed and you let that female go on too long and you let that female form into its proper form and probably you can't breed it without trouble, and I think myself that this motion is ridiculous.

The President put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES: I don't know whether it is safe for me to go on or not: Article 16, this is the old:

"5. Application forms for registration will be supplied free by the Canadian National Live Stock Records. All blank spaces must be filled in and the form must be signed by the owner of the dog at the time of birth."

The addition reads:

"Applications for registration of dogs over five years of age shall be accompanied by a statutory declaration made by the breeder which shall set forth the reason why the dog was not registered at an earlier date and if it is not then in his possession, identity shall be established by him. If not in the breeder's possession the then owner shall also make a statutory declaration as to the identity which shall be satisfactory to the Canadian National Live Stock Records."

Mr. Sweetman seconded the motion.

PRES. McFARLAND: Any discussion?

MR. DUCKETT: I think that is a constructive amendment. There is no reason why a kennel should keep a dog for four or five years without obtaining some kind of proper registration.

MR. STOCKDALE: The only question in my mind, supposing the breeder of a dog is dead?

MR. SHAWLEY: There is another angle to that. Mr. President: Supposing I have a puppy which I think is not good enough and I sell it but eventually it gets to be a good dog, four or five years afterwards, and I never see that dog from the time I sell it to the time he brings it back and I endeavour to buy it back?

A MEMBER: No.

MR. SHAWLEY: It cuts both ways, you see.

COL. MacRAE: Question? All in favor? Contrary?

We will have to have a count on that.

A MEMBER: I don't think we understand what we are voting on.

COL. MacRAE: That is to say a dog that has not been registered up until the time he is five years of age, on the application for registration a statutory declaration must be made identifying the dog, accompanied by an affidavit; it is a simple thing.

MRS. McCOLL: Who does it, the breeder or the other?

COL. MacRAE: The man who applies for registration. It is a very simply thing. All right now, you understand it, I think, a simple matter for your consideration. All in favor? Contrary if any?—Carried.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, as the hour is drawing very late I would like to move an adjournment till, say, eight o'clock. It is now a quarter to six.

MEMBERS: 7.30.

COL. MacRAE: Make it 7.45.

It has been moved by Mr. Stockdale, seconded by Mr. Ross, that we do now adjourn, to convene here again at 7.45. All in favor? Contrary?—Carried.

EVENING SESSION

(7.45 p.m.)

MAJ. WARD WRIGHT: Gentlemen, as this meeting was called for a quarter to eight and Col. McFarland is delayed, I move that the Vice President take the Chair and the meeting proceed.

MEMBERS: Carried.

COL. MacRAE: We left off, ladies and gentlemen, in the middle of Gen. Nelles' dissertation (that is a good word). Will you be good enough, Gen. Nelles, to carry on where you left off?

GEN. NELLES: Yes, Col. MacRae.

MR. DONALDSON: Mr. Chairman, would it be in order for you to read this financial report to the newcomers?

A MEMBER: No. They should have been here.

COL. MacRAE: Why, Mr. Donaldson? We have an awful lot of work here.

MR. DONALDSON: I know, but we have all day to do it in, haven't we?

COL. MacRAE: We will have to do it tomorrow, then. How will it be today? With what we have here now it will be two o'clock tomorrow morning. All right.

MR. DONALDSON: No.

A MEMBER: Do I understand we have got no financial report this year?

COL. MacRAE: It has been passed this afternoon, read out by our auditor, Mr. Dilworth.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Do you think that is fair? I have attended here for years. What is the reason, I would like to know, why haven't we had that? I was late getting here this afternoon—

COL. MacRAE: Mr. Strachan explained that there has never been any regulation that they should be printed, except in Kennel & Bench, and it has been printed in previous years but there were so many of these amendments to the Constitution there was not room this year and he didn't want to spend the extra money on it, but it is there and Mr. Donaldson has the president's copy right in his pocket.

MR. WAINRIGHT: I know, but Mr. Donaldson's copy is no good to me.

COL. MacRAE: But it has been read out to the meeting and passed by the meeting.

All right, Gen. Nelles.

GEN. NELLES: Ladies and gentlemen, you remember the last change we made was in reference to the registration specifically of dogs over five years of age. The next paragraph merely makes an addition, the fees charged for that then, that is, the registration of those over that age, shall be as outlined in Article 17 of this Constitution. That is to say, that it is stated in the paragraph that refers to fees for registration that that should be included. It makes no change in the cost of registration but merely calls for an expression that the fees for those dogs shall be the same as the others. I move the adoption of that section.

The motion being duly seconded, the Vice President, Col. MacRae, put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared carried.

GEN. NELLES: Section 9 now reads:

"9. In case a male or female is leased or loaned for breeding purposes, the form of lease supplied by the Canadian National Live Stock Records must be filled in and signed by the lessor and forwarded to the Canadian National Live Stock Records to be placed on record. The lessee will in all cases be considered the breeder of the progeny of leased or loaned females. The charge for the registration of a lease will be fifty cents."

Now that is the old paragraph; they now propose an addition to that:

"The foregoing paragraph shall apply under every condition where a female temporarily changes hands on a share and share basis of progeny. The conditions of the arrangement shall be fully disclosed on the form of lease."

That is merely clearing up and making a hard and fast rule regarding such female.

COL. MacRAE: Simply putting it down in black and white.

GEN. NELLES: Simply putting it down as it should be.

Vice-President MacRae put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared carried.

GEN. NELLES: Section 13 at present reads as follows:

"13. A duplicate certificate may not be issued unless a statutory declaration is furnished, stating that the original is lost or destroyed and accounting as far as possible for such loss or destruction."

The new paragraph is the same with the exception of the last line, excepting that it now reads:

"A duplicate certificate may be issued if the registered owner or his authorized agent files a statutory declaration on a form supplied by the Canadian National Live Stock Records, showing in a satisfactory manner that the original is lost, destroyed or unobtainable."

That is where they don't know whether it has been lost or destroyed, but it is unobtainable. I will move that.

The motion being duly seconded, and put by the Vice President, Col. MacRae, upon a vote being taken was declared carried and the amendment adopted.

GEN. NELLES: The next, Article 17, in regard to fees, a condition is made which has never been in before:

"Transfer of ownership of dogs, change to read:

Transfer of ownership if made within 30 days of date of sale, 25c.

Transfer of ownership if made after 30 days of date of sale, 50c.

Transfer of ownership to non-members, double the above fees."

That is an additional.

COL. MacRAE: That is simply a matter to prevent delay in transfers.

GEN. NELLES: I move the adoption.

COL. MacRAE: It gives you thirty days.

MR. DUCKETT: It means if we sell a dog, in the event they are not hasty in naming that puppy and they write back to you and through their neglect or perhaps some delay in the mails if it goes over thirty days your fee is doubled, which I don't think is fair. It is rather too close, figuring from coast to coast, it doesn't give the mail time.

MR. BROWN: Harder for the dog owners to pay. In my opinion anything that increases the expenditure to the dog breeders at this time is very bad legislation.

COL. MacRAE: Of course it is not an increase.

MR. MORGAN: I don't think there is anything to this at all. If I sell you a dog, or you a dog (indicating a member), and you say to me: "Well, you needn't hurry registering this dog if you are tight", I think as long as the salesman can satisfy his customer that there is no need for this; it is putting the dog seller to inconvenience sometimes and I don't think that this amendment should go through.

MR. GUNDERSON: Mr. Chairman, the only reason this rule was offered was to speed up registration of transfers, because I know from experience that, for instance, if I sold a dog to Mr. Walkerdine and the dog went to him and I never transferred the dog he might eventually have a litter and want to register the pups to sell to individuals and I have no transfer of the dog and it means we have to write a letter to the seller and to the buyer and sometimes difficulties arise and end up in pedigree cases. It is not looked on as a monetary gain at all but just to speed up registration and help the breeder.

MR. DONALDSON: What are we paying for? Aren't they to give us some service and work? I think myself this is out of order entirely and I would like for it to be thrown out.

COL. MacRAE: That is not necessary, Mr. Donaldson.

MRS. HATTIE: Now, I sold a dog last July and the party has just told me now they want the pedigree. Now, am I going to be penalized?

A MEMBER: I had the same case and there were four dogs.

Col. MacRae put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES: Item 21; this is new. Listen, ladies and gentlemen, because this is entirely new:

"1. Any member who violates any rule or regulation of the Club automatically suspends himself from making further registration or transfer."

It was suggested that the matters be dealt with separately.

COL. MacRAE: Any discussion?

MR. ROSS: Does that mean knowingly or unknowingly, Mr. President?

COL. MacRAE: I don't know; just what it says.

MR. DONALDSON: Any member might make a little mistake and it leaves it up to you, the directors and the president, to automatically suspend him when he might make it unknowingly.

A MEMBER: It is a lucky fancier can get through a year without violating some of them.

MR. ROSS: If you kill the amendment that will decide that.

Col. MacRae put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES (reads):

"2. Every person who knowingly and with intent to deceive, signs or presents or causes or procures to be signed or presented to the recording officer of an association, or to the person in charge of the Canadian National Live Stock Records, any declaration or any application for registration or any transfer of ownership respecting any animal or bird containing any material false statement or representation or falsely holds out any certificate of registration as applying to an animal or bird other than the one in respect of which it was issued or wilfully commits any act in contravention of the rules promulgated by any association or Canadian National Live Stock Records, is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and costs and not less than one hundred dollars and costs, and in default of payment to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months (22-23 George V, Chap. 49, Sec. 17)."

COL. MacRAE: This already is in effect in the Live Stock Pedigree Act; is that right? And your idea is that it should be incorporated in our Constitution? Why?

MR. GUNDERSON: It is in every other association.

COL. MacRAE: What is your idea, Mr. Gunderson?

MR. SHAWLEY: I would like to ask Mr. Gunderson a question: What would happen to the C.K.C. if we didn't ratify this? I know you are putting it in the Pedigree Act and coming to us and asking ratification of what you have done.

MR. GUNDERSON: This Pedigree Act applies to all breed associations affiliated under the Live Stock Records.

A MEMBER: Since when?

MR. GUNDERSON: It was passed at the last session of Parliament.

MR. GRAHAM: You asked, Mr. Shawley, what would happen to us in case we did not ratify it.

MR. SHAWLEY: Yes.

MR. GUNDERSON: Well, it will go before the Minister. How this meeting turns out will go before the Minister. All these amendments must be approved of by the Minister of Agriculture.

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. Chairman, that is all right if we were breeding Holsteins and such things as that, but we are just in the pet dog shop now; this is just breeding dogs for a hobby; how many of us here are making money out of dogs? It is as much as they can do to feed the dogs. Just reckon your bill up; you have fifteen or twenty dogs; at the end of a month; and you will find out all that. I think it is ridiculous.

MR. WAINRIGHT: What would happen if we pulled away from the Live Stock Records? How would you do about that?

MR. BROWN: I am moving the previous question; that is, that this motion now be put.

COL. MacRAE: It is moved that we put the question.

MR. ROSS: I would like to ask a question.

MR. BROWN: This gentleman is out of order: I have moved the previous question.

The motion for the previous question was seconded.

COL. MacRAE: It is moved and seconded the question be put. All in favor please signify.

MR. BROWN: Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. It is your duty to put the question: "Shall this question now be put?" and you put the question before the house.

COL. MacRAE: Probably I didn't understand you. I understood you to say that we put the question.

MR. BROWN: For your information, Mr. President, I moved the previous question. When a man gets up and moves the previous question and it is regularly moved and seconded, it is the duty of the Chair to ask the people whether they want a vote on the question submitted by this gentleman here and not on the question as submitted. That is Parliamentary procedure, if you don't know it.

MR. SHAWLEY: Now, Mr. President, is not the question before the House?

COL. MacRAE: The question is before the house now.

MR. BROWN: The question is before the House: "Shall the question be put?"

MR. ROSS: Does that mean we can't get any intelligent information of this thing? Are we to be muzzled or hanged? I may be dense.

MR. BROWN: It means that it is a gag rule on this question because it is so ridiculous.

MR. ROSS: I move—

MR. BROWN: Mr. Chairman, I want you to put the question. This gentleman has no right to put a question of this kind.

COL. MacRAE: Yes, there is a right of discussion of a motion.

MR. BROWN: There is not a right to put the question. There is of discussion of this amendment but not of your question. I ask one of your Board of Directors or Vice-Presidents to give his version of it, if you permit it—he is very familiar with Parliamentary procedure—Mr. Stockdale.

MR. STOCKDALE: May I, Mr. President?

COL. MacRAE: Go ahead.

Do you permit him to speak?

MR. BROWN: Yes.

MR. STOCKDALE: Let me put it this way to this meeting: If you put the motion as called for by Mr. Brown and it is carried you have no more discussion or no more questions can be asked on the motion before the House; it is, as he said, gag rule. Now if you want to ask our questions, vote against his motion.

MR. SHAWLEY: Mr. President, I don't think it is fair to this meeting to apply gag rule to it.

COL. MacRAE: I am sorry you are gagged.

MRS. McCALL: We haven't had a vote.

COL. MacRAE: All right, those in favor of the question being put? Contrary if any? Now here I guess we have to count these votes. All in favor? (23). Contrary? (28).

COL. MacRAE: The motion is lost. That is a question of majority and not a two-thirds.

MR. BROWN: That is quite all right.

COL. MacRAE: We still have the motion, I take it.

MR. BROWN: That is right.

COL. MacRAE: Fine! We won't be gagged any more.

MR. BROWN: Lots of time, they have got that.

COL. MacRAE: Yes, it is early yet.

MR. ROSS: Mr. Chairman, my question was simply enough and there wasn't anything to it. I simply wanted information. I wanted to know how we managed to operate without this up to this date and why is this suggested at this date when we have come, shall I use the term, under the jurisdiction to some extent of the Live Stock Records Board for a number of years? That is all my question is, it doesn't involve a thing, but is information I would ilke to get.

MR. GUNDERSON: Mr. Ross has asked a question there. The Live Stock Pedigree Act is an Act of Parliament covering all breeds of Live Stock and every association must conform, with their rules, with the Act of Parliament as put through. This is the Act that was passed in the House and we must conform with the Live Stock Pedigree Act. Every other association, twenty-six other breed associations are following the practice of the Live Stock Pedigree Act; they cannot sidestep it; and the Kennel Club is just asked to come in with it the same as the other breed associations.

MR. DRAPER: Does the Canary Club comply with this?

COL. MacRAE: No. Poultry.

MR. DONALDSON: It is easy to vote this down; I understand our annual meeting don't mean a thing anyway.

COL. MacRAE: We are still under it anyhow.

MR. DONALDSON: Get me right on that; we stay here all night and pass anything we like and it goes down to Mr. Weir and he says "Nothing doing" that is all there is to it, or very likely when we go down to them and he says "O.K." likely it is a matter of form, is that it?

MR. DUCKETT: Then, Mr. President, we want to move a lack of confidence in the Minister in regard to this so that when an intelligent body votes a motion each time in regard to this he can take it down to Ottawa and give effect to it. Is it because he is lucky enough to sit in a seat he is going to overrun us here? The point is, the other breeds that are controlled by the Live Stock Records are marketable products whereas the dogs are a fancy. There is no way here you can take a dog down to the Stock Yards and get five cents a pound for it; you can for beef; you can take a horse down and get a price, but there is no price for dogs, it is a fancy, and therefore we cannot be burdened with all these things. We have rules and regulations and sometime or other we will step over the line and there is an elaborate fine of $500. Ninety-five per cent of us here tonight are workers and haven't $500 to spend.—Applause.

COL. MacRAE: Your motion is out of order.

MR. DUCKETT: I am making an amendment to the motion.

COL. MacRAE: That isn't an amendment to the motion here, that is another subject.

MR. STOCKDALE: May I ask, Mr. President, if this, as stated by Mr. Gunderson as having been passed by the Dominion Parliament, is now operative?

MR. GUNDERSON: It is now operative.

MR. STOCKDALE: Well then, it is not being submitted for us to ratify and for the Minister's final o.k., but it becomes operative and I don't see anything to it.

COL. MacRAE: It has been passed.

Ladies and gentlemen, by the way things are going we are going to be here for the rest of the week. I think it is necessary that we should attempt to confine our discussion, that a person shall endeavor to say his say when he is once on his feet. Now, that is not a criticism of anybody, because I would like to be able to do some talking myself. So that I think we will have to confine it to one speech. (Hear hear).

Of two minutes. I think we can all say our say in that. I want to be fair, but if we don't we will be here all day tomorrow.

Now, we have this question about ratifying this addition to our Constitution. Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Question.

Col. MacRae put the motion on the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES: (Reads).

"3. The Live Stock Pedigree Act provides that 1142 of the Criminal Code is not operative in connection with the time limit for laying information for any violation of the Act."

Will you explain that, Mr. Gunderson?

MR. GUNDERSON: That means that there is no time limit, if an offence has been committed there is no time limit for prosecution; the prosecution can take place no matter when it happens that a violation occurred.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. Chairman, I submit there is no question before us in this paragraph 3; that is only information. It reads: (Re-reads the paragraph in question). And I move that we pass on to the next section.

MR. ROSS: I second that.

MR. STOCKDALE: It is there and we are not asked to do anything with it.

COL. MacRAE: That is an amendment to—?

MR. STOCKDALE: No, there is nothing to it.

COL. MacRAE: They are asking us to incorporate that. You are making that an amendment to Gen. Nelles' motion?

MR. STOCKDALE: No.

COL. MacRAE: We have a motion before us now to accept this. Am I right?

MR. STOCKDALE: No, I think I differ with you there.

COL. MacRAE: Gen. Nelles moved the adoption of this and it has been seconded by—

MR. STOCKDALE: In its entirety, did he?

COL. MacRAE: That paragraph.

MR. STOCKDALE: Oh, pardon me.

The Vice-President put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

MR. STOCKDALE: It is not part of our Constitution at all; it should not be there. It is the Criminal Code of Canada.

GEN. NELLES: (Reads).

"Export of dogs from Canada, or transport of same from province to province within Canada, or sale or contract to sell any such dog or dogs as pure-bred without furnishing the actual buyer a certificate of pedigree registration issued by this association, is prohibited under the penalty provided for by the Live Stock Pedigree Act. (22-23 George V., Chap. 49, Sect. 18)."

I am moving that.

COL. MacRAE: Any discussion?

MR. ROBERTS: Does that mean when we sell a dog we are to furnish its pedigree on the day of the sale?

MR. GUNDERSON: Not necessarily the date of the sale.

MR. DONALDSON: Mr. President, we have already got something on our books dealing with this I think. The law stands today that when we sell a dog or donate a dog as long as we get a written agreement from the buyer we don't need to register it. This will cancel that.

MR. STOCKDALE: You bet it will.

"Where can I buy the best Life Insurance Policy?"

Several things enter into the consideration of this important subject. What is the premium rate charged? What dividends are given on the policy? Is the company economically managed so that its future prospects for dividends are good? Does it earn a good interest rate?

COL. MACRAE: No, it simply makes it more binding I think. It is simply putting it down in legal phraseology.

MR. DONALDSON: It will just do the same thing; we have to give them a pedigree irrespective of whether they ever give us $5 for a dog.

COL. MACRAE: Any further discussion? Are you ready for the question?

The Vice-President put the motion for adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

GEN. NELLES: There is only one more. I hope that will be the last.

"Article 22, Non-Member, New. Any person not a member of this Club registering and transferring dogs on the records of the Club shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as a member except as otherwise specifically provided for."

I move that.

COL. MACRAE: Explain that change, please?

MR. GUNDERSON: A person not a member of the Club, that is the same thing; that applies, the same thing, to members.

COL. MACRAE: Any more discussion? That makes it simply apply to non-members. Are you ready for the question?

All in favor? Contrary? You have to count them; it has to be carried two-thirds.

Upon the vote being counted the motion was declared carried and the amendment adopted.

COL. MACRAE: The next amendment is Mr. Stockdale's. Will you introduce that, Mr. Stockdale?

MR. STOCKDALE: Yes. I will drop the preamble, Mr. President, to save time: (Reads):

"Any person may register for his, her or their use the name of their kennel, which may be used as a prefix or affix in naming dogs bred by them, or of which they were the registered owner of the sire at the time of service, the dog being registered in their name at the time application is made to use such kennel name, but same to comply with the requirements of Section 16, sub-section 7."

That is, it cannot be done after a dog has been registered for thirty days. I beg to move that.

COL. MACRAE: Will you explain that, please?

MR. STOCKDALE: As it stands now only the breeder of the dog can use his kennel name either as a prefix or as an affix, and where you find the owner of the dog has the dam and not the sire my amendment would allow the man who owned the dog, and as the foot note explains it: "The above amendment is submitted with the intention of allowing the owner of the sire to use his Kennel Name if such exists. The said owner of the sire may have invested considerable money in an animal and placed it at public service with a view to improving the breed, and if, as often happens, he takes a puppy in lieu of service fee in cash, he being a party to the breeding, why should he not be allowed to use his Kennel Name?" Supposing the owner of the sire could not use his kennel name in the registering of that puppy, he may have considerably more investment in his dogs at public service than the owner of the female, so that I think it is only fair that he should get the benefit which would accrue from the registering and the use of his registered prefix for which he pays in catalogues and in hard work when exhibiting.

MR. WARD: How about the party who has the female, when he has a kennel name?

MR. DUCKETT: It is going to encourage the bartering of puppies for service, there is no doubt about that, and I think the breeder is the man who holds the female.

MR. HARRY WILSON: I think this gentleman who just spoke is speaking of a man who must not have had stud dogs at all. At the present time there are hundreds of people want to breed the females who haven't money to pay for it, and the man who has the stud dogs has got to take a pup or be without getting the service, and the man who takes a pup and has to sell with the female's prefix attached to it is getting no publicity at all for all the money that he spent in stud dogs though he most likely has spent hundreds of dollars. I am one of the "suckers," and I think that motion should be passed and give the man who has a stud dog and has put the money into it a chance to get a little bit of publicity through that source.

MR. BROWN: Mr. Chairman, I quite agree with this motion, and as the speaker to the left points out, it is not fair that the man who owns a stud dog should get no benefit from it. I believe myself on a fifty-fifty basis on a deal of that kind, as near as you can. I think if the owner of the bitch has got several pups, using her own kennel name, surely to goodness we can help the man who is having only one pup out of a litter and give him the privilege of getting a little bit out of the dog he has.

A LADY MEMBER: What about the lone pups?

LITERALLY thousands of experiences similar to this account for the amazing success of BONIO: after only a few months on the market, it commanded a world-wide sale. Yet this was before this remarkable new biscuit had ever been advertised in the press. Travelers introduced it to enterprising traders, traders recommended it especially for "biscuit-shy" dogs, dog owners discovered that here really was a biscuit that had only to be seen and smelt and tasted to break down a dog's oldest, stubbornest prejudices. Spratt's BONIO has been carried to a huge success on a wave of personal recommendation.

Shaped just like the bones that dogs like most, BONIO is made of whole-wheat meals and Meat-Fibrine, and impregnated with cod-liver oil. But there's an additional something about BONIO which makes it as unique and irresistible as it is health-giving. It is recommended to breeders and exhibitors as the biggest advance in the production of dog foods for the past fifty years. If your dealer is enterprising, he already stocks it in handy cartons.
