Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club Inc., was held at the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday evening, April 20th, 1933, at 8 o'clock.

First Vice-President Col. J. N. MacRae presided. Directors present were H. A. Wilson, Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, Wm. Stockdale, Capt. H. Dudley-Waters and W. H. Reeves.

The Secretary reported that the President was attending the Toronto Assizes as Crown Counsel and would be unavoidably absent. That Major E. Ward Wright was out of town on business.

The Minutes of the Directors Meeting, held on Thursday, March 16th, were read, and it was regularly moved and carried:—

"That the Minutes as read, be approved."

The Secretary advised that he had received a parcel of catalogues, stud books and other papers of historical value from Mr. A. A. MacDonald, Toronto, and it was regularly moved and carried:—

"That, an expression of the Directors' appreciation of Mr. MacDonald's generous gift be sent to the donor."

The Quebec Provincial Committee having reported on the Wizbang Kennel matter, and in connection with the report, a letter was read from the Canadian National Live Stock Records. It was decided to leave both communications over to a Special Meeting of the Directors.

Certain Constitutional matters referred to the Club's legal adviser were laid over for a Special Meeting of the Board.

Directors W. Stockdale and W. H. Reeves reported on the Annual Meeting of the Live Stock Records. The reports submitted were anything but encouraging and indicated the circumstance of the necessity of the Canadian Kennel Club asserting its influence, and of taking its rightful place in the affairs of the Records Committee as a member association.

The Secretary reported that Mr. George Miller Potts, Toronto, was in attendance in response to the notice sent to him by the order of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Potts was called, and it was explained to him that a certain Court Stenographic Report was on hand, the content of which was alleged to be wrong, and was asked if he had anything to say on the matter which would show cause why he should not be denied the privileges of the Canadian Kennel Club.

Mr. Potts advised that he had not come prepared to defend himself in any way, as he had not been notified of any charges preferred against him, and suggested that he did not want the Directors to feel that he thought he would not get a fair hearing. Mr. Potts further suggested that his evidence as given in Court might have been wrong as to the year he had given. He felt that it would be fairer to the Board of Directors and to himself if the case was postponed until a later date.

It was moved and carried:—

"That a Special Meeting of the Board of Directors be called for Wednesday afternoon, April 26th, at 3 o'clock. That Mr. Potts be advised to attend, and that all matters requiring legal attention be dealt with at such Special Meeting."

Correspondence from the Minister of Agriculture was read re the proposed amendments to the Constitution as passed at the Annual General Meeting. The Minister's communication was not considered satisfactory, and the Secretary was instructed to write the Minister concerning the Board's views of the correspondence.

A letter was read from the Records Office concerning the registration of an animal whose existence had not been declared in the regular way, when the litter to which it belonged had been recorded. An application for membership in the name of the party responsible for the arrangement was also considered.

It was regularly moved and carried:—

"That, the application for membership be refused, and that a letter be sent to the Live Stock Records giving instructions, that any application made for the registration of this dog be also refused."

A letter was read from the Records Office advising that the Printing contract had expired, and that a new arrangement was on hand which showed a 10% reduction for profit and a 6% reduction overhead. It was moved and carried:—

"That, the Record Committee of the Canadian National Live Stock Records be and is hereby authorized on behalf of the Canadian Kennel Club to enter into an agreement (annexed) between the said Committee and National Printers Limited, this Association hereby satisfying and confirming whatever may be lawfully done under the said agreement and hereby undertaking and agreeing to pay to the said National Printers Ltd., referred to in said agreement, such sums of money as shall from time to time become payable thereunder for printing, binding or other work of this Association.

"That, the President and Secretary are hereby empowered and required to affix hereto their respective signatures whereupon the said agreement shall in all respects be binding as if this Association had been an original party thereto and had executed the same."

A letter was read from the Canadian National Exhibition requesting the dates September 4, 5, 6 and 7 for the Dog Show to be held this year. After discussion, it was moved and carried:—

"That, the dates be granted as requested, providing that the Dog Show be held in the Coliseum Building and with new benching."

A letter was read from the Toronto Ladies' Kennel Association requesting the date September 7th conditional on the Association being allowed to use the Canadian National Exhibition building and to make other satisfactory arrangements.

It was moved and carried:—

"That, the date cheque be returned, and the Toronto Ladies' Kennel Association advised that the date requested had been allocated to the Canadian National Exhibition provisionally."

A letter was read from the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada which advised that a Puppy Futurity stake would be judged in conjunction with the Club's Specialty Show to be held on June 24th, and pointing out that the eligible puppies would not be allowed near the dogs entered in the Canadian Kennel Club classes.

A letter was read from Mr. Bert Swann, Toronto, and it was moved and carried:—

"That, the letter be tabled and referred to the Special Meeting of the Board."

Correspondence relating to matters from the Province of Manitoba—was agreed to leave them on the table for the Special Meeting of the Board.

Letters from Mr. John Longo, Toronto, and from the Toronto Kennel Club were presented, and it was moved and carried:—

"That, the letters be referred to the Special Meeting."

A letter was read from Alberta Kennel Club, and the Secretary was instructed to have it placed in the Rules Committee file.

The applications for Judges' License on behalf of Marie A. Kerr and George Duncan, Winnipeg, having been properly endorsed were declared granted.

The Secretary advised that he had not heard from George Potts, Toronto, giving reasons for extension of his judging privileges, and it was agreed to leave the matter in abeyance for the meantime.

A Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held at the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday afternoon, April 26th, at three o'clock.

Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland, presided. Directors attending included Major E. Ward Wright, Capt. H. Dudley-Waters, Col. J. N. MacRae, H. A. Wilson, W. H. Reeves and Wm. Stockdale.

The matter of the Wizbang Kennels was considered, and it was regularly moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the report of the Quebec Provincial Committee be accepted and endorsed, and that the recommendations of the Live Stock Records Office, be adopted, i.e., that Miss S. Fincham, Miss E. E. Sparrow and the Wizbang Kennels be refused further participation in the privileges of the Canadian Kennel Club; that registration be refused for all dogs for which applications are now on file at the Live Stock Records Office, and for all for which no application has yet been filed, and further, that transfers of ownership of any dog not now transferred be also refused, and that the expulsion of the parties mentioned be reported to the American Kennel Club forthwith."

The President submitted the following report on the matters of the Club's disciplinary powers over certain aspects of the Club's business which had been referred to him in his capacity of the Club's legal adviser for consideration. April 26th, 1933.

Canadian Kennel Club, Incorp.,

25 Melinda Street,

Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Sirs:—

As I understand it from your Secretary's letter of the 19th instant and conversations with him my opinion is desired on two questions—

(1) The Directors desire to know whether they have the power to withdraw a Judge's License which has been granted by them. I am of the opinion that as the Directors have the sole jurisdiction as to granting a Judge's License, they have full power to grant or withhold it for any reason they see fit, and also have the power to withdraw or cancel the License for any reason which they see fit.

(2) The Directors wish to know what their disciplinary powers are as applied to non-members. The Constitution, section No. 3, subsection No. 10, which gives power to suspend or expel is clearly confined to members, but I am of the opinion that the Directors have power to refuse for cause to non-members, the privileges of the stud-book, registration, kennel names, etc. I take this view because the stud-book and records are the property of the Canadian Kennel Club and are maintained for that Club by the Records Board, which is remunerated therefore, out of the funds of the Canadian Kennel Club.

The question as to what rights the Directors have by way of debarring non-members from the privileges of shows sanctioned by the Canadian Kennel Club is another matter, and falls under Dog Show Rule No. 52, which reads as follows:—"Any person guilty of misconduct of any kind in connection with dogs, dog show or field trials, may be suspended, disqualified or expelled by the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club." I am of the opinion that this rule gives power to the Directors to disqualify non-members from showing or handling dogs, but that such action can be taken only on the ground of misconduct in connection with dogs, dog show or field trials.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed) G. F. McFARLAND,
Pres., Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.

A letter was read from Bert Swann, Toronto, requesting that his position with the Canadian Kennel Club as a Judge of dogs at Canadian Kennel Club Shows be re-established.

After discussion, it was moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, no action be taken."

A letter was read from John Longo, Toronto, which alleged that dog No. 174, English Bulldog, "Lady Challenger," as benched on Good Friday, was represented by a substitute on Saturday.

A letter was read from Toronto Kennel Club, preferring charges against H. Wilson of substituting a dog at their show. The charges stated that dog 174, "Lady Challenger," was judged on Friday, and on Saturday was not brought back into the show as required by the rules, but that another dog was substituted in its place.

The President requested Mr. Wilson to explain the incident.

Mr. Wilson explained that "Lady Challenger" had been stricken with illness at the show and refused to stand up when in the judging ring. Dr. Campbell had attended, and prescribed for her, instructing Mr. Wilson that if she did not respond to the treatment, not to bring her back to the show next day. The animal not having responded to the treatment, and not desiring the bench to be empty, he brought another animal to take her place. He had intended to report the matter to the show management when he arrived at the show, but the officials had not arrived, and he had to hurry away to open his store for business. He had intended to explain the circumstances immediately upon his return to the show, but before he had a chance to do so, the show superintendent advised him, that a complaint had been received laying a serious charge against him.

Mr. Wilson furnished the following certificate from the show veterinary:—
"TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

"This is to certify that I examined the Brindle English Bulldog Bitch, No. 174, the property of Mr. H. A. Wilson, at the Toronto Kennel Club Show last Friday afternoon and found the dog suffering from a nervous condition and administered treatment.

"Mr. Wilson informed me that he intended to take his dogs home at night and I advised him not to bring it back if there was no response to the treatment.

(Signed) J. A. CAMPBELL, V.S."

It was moved, seconded and carried:

"That, the Directors view with disapproval the substitution—owing to the illness of the dog originally entered—and direct that the $5.00 fee be refunded to Toronto Kennel Club, and Mr. Wilson be severely reprimanded."

And it was moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, the letter be tabled."

A letter was read from J. C. Fletcher, Calgary, Alta., requesting that the suspension of his judging privileges be lifted.

The Secretary reported that Mr. Fletcher had met the requirements of the Office.

"That, the suspension be lifted, and the judging privileges be restored."

A letter from the Secretary of Fort Garry Kennel Club, Winnipeg, Man., which had been sent to the President of the Canadian Kennel Club was read. The letter having alleged that it seemed impossible to obtain any consideration from the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, a full statement of the Kynoch's case, and the application for dates was being prepared for submission to the Minister of Agriculture.

Other items of correspondence from the Province of Manitoba were read, and it was moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, in view of the fact that certain matters were being referred to the Minister of Agriculture, they are not now within our jurisdiction."

The Minutes of a meeting of the Manitoba Provincial Committee were considered and it was moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, in view of the findings of the Manitoba Provincial Committee, as submitted, that, the judging license granted to Frank A. Walsh, Winnipeg, Man., be now revoked."

George Miller Potts, Toronto, being in attendance, it was agreed to hear him.

Mr. Potts having entered the meeting, the President suggested to him, that he make a statement. Mr. Potts advised that he did not wish to make any statement, but he would be pleased to answer any questions put to him. After making several observations, Mr. Potts retired, and it was moved, seconded and carried:—

"That, in view of the legal information on hand, the matter be now dismissed."

The following application for Judge's License was considered:—

MRS. L. SINGLER, Everett, Wash., U.S.A. All working Dogs. License granted.

It was moved: That, this meeting do now adjourn.

Note.—These Minutes are subject to correction when presented for adoption at the next meeting of the Directors.

First time shown—on this side of the Atlantic—Treblig Ina went Reserve Winners at the Cairn Terrier Club of America Specialty Show last February 11th. This was a remarkable win as she only arrived from England the day previous. Treblig Ina also won Winners ribbon, and Best of Breed at Buffalo.

Isabel Hoopes, in her Cairn notes in "Popular Dogs," says: "Treblig Ina is a most beautiful female, a silver grey. Just the right type and size."

At the recent Toronto Kennel Club Show, which marked her first appearance in Canada, she got Winners, and was only beaten by our Tinker of Tapscot for the Best of Breed.

The Canadian Fancy

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ont.

A WELL-KNOWN breeder and exhibitor of Pekingese was asking me the other day to explain the reason why our Canadian-bred Pekes, when competing across the border, were not more successful, in fact, the assertion was made, that our breeders were not paying enough attention to fronts and bodies and were breeding in many cases from light, straight boned stock, lacking also in body properties. I was caught somewhat unprepared to refute the statement, but at the same time was able to mention several Canadian-bred Pekes that I had judged and considered of the correct type. A few days after this somewhat heated argument, my mail contained a letter from a Peke breeder of repute, who writes as follows:—"I consider the standard of the breed is losing ground, all that a Pekingese requires today is head. The height and shape of the forelegs, and length of body, has no consideration. The stockily built dog, which is considered the true type, you very rarely see at our shows, unless they are visitors from across the border. The majority of dogs that do the winning in Canada today are nothing more than a dog with a Peke expression, an English Toy Spaniel body, straight legs with all kinds of daylight under them. We are not keeping up to the English or American standard. As a proof of this statement, notice the Canadian champions, that when competing across the border can only get third prizes, even when entered in novice classes." This is a distinctly discouraging indictment. The writer does not agree with his correspondent, but our breeders are aware of the fact that when judges from across the border come to adjudicate in Canada upon our Pekes there is usually a great deal of dissatisfaction amongst the exhibitors.

The history of the Peke really starts, as far as exhibitors are concerned, in the year 1860, when Admiral John Hay and another naval officer found five of China's sacred dogs in the gardens at the Summer Palace at Peking. These five were brought to England and General Dunne presented one to Queen Victoria and some were taken to Goodwood, and it is from these dogs and also a dog smuggled out of China by Mrs. Douglas Murray's husband and registered as Ali Cum that many of our present day Pekingese trace their descent.

It is a moot point whether the start of the popularity of the Peke does not really belong to Mrs. Ashton Cross and her world famous winner, "Champion Chu-erb of Alderbourne," for it was his dog which by his wins of "Best Dog in Show" called the attention of the general public to the breed and also gained many recruits. Be that as it may, during the times when "Ch. Chu-erb" was practically invincible in the show ring the sacred dogs of China began to steadily but surely oust the Pomeranian from the position of the world's most popular toy variety. In those days some of the original exhibitors viewed with alarm the diversity of type, and it was due to Lady Algernon Gordon Lennox, Mrs. Douglas Murray, and Lady Samuelson that the original scale of points were drawn up. The maximum weight was fixed at ten pounds. The changing of the weight to eighteen pounds brought forth considerable discussion, many acknowledged authorities claiming that the Pekin Spaniel, an entirely different variety from the original Pekingese, brought from China to England by Admiral Lord John Hay and General Dunne was being used.

The writer can remember "Champion Chu-erb of Alderbourne" very well, and in comparing him with some of the great winners of the last ten years, there is a striking resemblance—short, heavy bowed forelegs, and a lion shaped body, with a broad chest and much lighter hindquarters. The writer may be wrong, but it is his firm belief that the breed began to lose ground in type, particularly in front and body, just after the sleeve specimens were becoming popular. Mind, I do not mean that all the sleeve specimens failed in front and body, but a great many were straight in forelegs, fine in bone, and lacked the lion-shaped body of the larger specimens. The popularity of the sleeve specimens was helped by the fact that it became fashionable for ladies to carry one of them in their arms when shopping in Bond St. or Fifth Avenue. Breeders in due course used some of these sleeve specimens as sires to their ten pound and over females and the result was, that today, we often see in a litter of Pekingese one or more of the litter decidedly lacking in the true characteristics of the breed, namely, short, heavy bowed legs and the lion-shaped body. Our breeders will be acting wisely if they, in the future, take care in their breeding that they do not use either as sires or dams specimens which fail in these essential points. A constructive breeder will even go further, and try to get particulars of the ancestors of their breeding stock. It is many years ago since last I visited the Ashton Cross Kennel, but in reviewing this kennel after my visit I wrote, "that this breeder's success can be traced to the fact that she never breeds from mediocre stock." How much more profitable and pleasant our breeding experiments would be if only we would remember that "like begets like." At times we see a chance bred great winner but I have yet to see a chance bred one ever become a success as a sire or dam.

A welcome, and far too seldom, communication was amongst the present month's mail from W. W. Laskey, of Fredericton, N.B. The story last month of the profitable litter of Newfoundlands, brought forth the following particulars of another profitable litter. Chas. Middlemiss, of Saint Stephen, N.B., had a litter of English Setters. The litter numbered seven, all males. These he raised, and when broken, were sold for $1,700.00. This I thought would interest you as you maintain that the price of good dogs have increased in value since the war." My correspondent continues:—"A few weeks ago I visited the Easco Kennels, belonging to "Bob" Orr, Saint John, N.B., and I saw two wonderful puppies, which have only to live to make history. This news is not at all surprising to the writer, who was much impressed with the loveliness and quality of the team of Pointers shown under me at Saint John show a year or so ago.

There have been rumors for some time of a Field Trial Club being formed in Ontario for the purpose of holding Trials for Pointers and Setters and also for Spaniels and Retrievers. I am sorry to hear that the plans for this worth-while club have been abandoned for the present, as the sportsmen who are interested consider the times are not propitious. The writer sincerely hopes that the plans, although postponed, will not be entirely abandoned, for he is firmly convinced that a Field Trial Club would prove a great success, in fact, he hopes the day is not far distant when Field Trials will be held in different parts of Canada. They would certainly give a great impetus to our different varieties of gun dogs.

Is the Dachshund, the dog that is so often caricatured, going to become popular. Only a few days ago a well known Terrier man certainly surprised me by writing and asking where he could obtain one, and now I hear that the well-known U.S. Dr. MacDonald is importing one. This breed, at one time, enjoyed quite a vogue in England, and the last few years they have become quite popular across the border, especially the rough coated specimens, which lean more to the Terrier type, especially in head properties. I have yet to see as good a specimen as Sidney Woodiwi's famous "Champion Pterodactyl," the outstanding specimen in England some twenty years ago.

Some interesting Great Dane news has arrived from Mrs. M. Hopkins, who writes that barely a week goes by without two or three inquiries coming to the kennel. Sales are not so numerous, as Danes cannot be sold for twenty-five dollars. However, four sales in six weeks is not bad. There has been a big cry for harlequins, so I am going to specialize in these attractive animals and of course keep a few fawns and brindles. Enclosed is a snapshot of my latest importation, "Mira." As you know, the harlequins are coarser and inclined to fail in neck and skull to the brindles and fawns, therefore it took me some time before I decided on "Mira." She is, as you can see, particularly good in skull and neck, her sire is a son of "Int. Ch. Ajax v.d. Klausenberg," and she is equally well bred on the dam's side. I am also importing another female, and expect her to be busy rearing puppies this summer while "Mira" is doing the shows. She is a daughter of "Imp. Rolf v.d. Romeurer," and with seven champions behind her. D. Johnstone, of Buffalo, has two of her puppies from last year. I am hoping also to get a male, as you know it is very difficult to breed well marked black and white harlequins, the badly marked ones have to be destroyed or just kept for breeding. This is the reason that the harlequins are so expensive." Mrs. Hopkins is hoping for great results with two home bred puppies which are shortly to make their debut.

The Toronto Kennel Club, Inc., 25th annual spring show has been claimed by the Daily Press as the best show ever held in Toronto. The writer is going to go even further and write that in his opinion, for lay out, venue, and all round quality of the exhibits it was the best show he has ever attended in Canada. On arriving at the Arena Gardens one could not fail to be most favorably impressed with the benching and the two splendid rings set apart for the judging. To Secretary G. Percy Brown, President John McNaughton, First Vice-President Peter Herd, John Bruce, and to the show committee, and also to the Toronto Kennel Club members, the writer extends most sincere and hearty congratulations for staging a show that would have been called great in boom times. It needed optimism and pluck to stage a show of such magnitude in these pessimistic days, the Club went out for a big success and they got it, and the reason why they can claim a great show and a financial success is that they went out to get the General Public interested, and the "gate" was a proof of how they succeeded. Dog shows will always be a success providing that the show giving clubs remember that exhibitors never have and never will make a show a financial success without the help of the gate. Advertise, and do as the Toronto Kennel Club did; ask the Daily Press for their help. As a press man I know it will be given willingly, and show giving clubs all over the Dominion can not only make their shows a success, but gain recruits for our sport. At this show I was asked by no less than five of the visitors for particulars of what steps had to be taken to join the Canadian Kennel Club.

When the writer looked over to the adjoining ring and saw George Steadman Thomas judging, it carried his memory back to 1914, the last time we were judging together in England, but the positions were reversed, for George had the work to do at Toronto, and I was able to watch one of, if not the greatest, dogman of modern times, sort out the many strong classes. Needless to say, such an expert made a most favorable impression, for his awards were given without fear or favor; a pity that we have not more judges like him today. Going over the breeds it was pleasing to note the impressive entry of Newfoundlands and Great Danes. Mrs. T. C. Hopkins' harlequin, a recent acquisition to this strong kennel, made an impressive debut. Mrs. G. W. Hyslop's well known fawn, "Ch. Ironwood Queen of Sheba," was the heroine of the day, and right well this beautiful fawn was looking. Russian Wolfhounds were not a very impressive group, except that it contained the sensation of the show, Mrs. H. Kedney's "Ch. Volga of Rosseau." This beautiful specimen of her impressive breed has been enjoying a life of ease for the last two or three years. The writer understands that it was through the efforts of Mrs. McColl that "Volga" made her appearance at the show. What a pity that "Volga" could not be seen by the three great breeders of England, Her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle, Miss Robinson, and Mrs. Vlasto. All three have bred and shown many beautiful Russians, but not one have ever shown a better specimen than "Volga" as she appeared in the ring and gained the title of being acclaimed "Best Dog in the Show." The writer went over her very carefully and he agrees with George Thomas that she comes perilously near to perfection. Her victory was by no means a walkover, for she had to meet and defeat four great dogs—Mrs. J. Bruce's Pomeranian, "Melbourne Supreme," Sid Perkins' great English winning Airedale Terrier, "Quality Peggy," Peter Henderson's Schipperke, "Excellidall of the North," and F. T. James' Old English Sheepdog, "Snowball." A brace of really nice Pointers were forward in T. Warne's "Nancolleth Revel" and the Hibank Kennels' "Hibank Perfection." The Happy Valley Kennels were represented in English Setters with "Mallhawk Banker" and "Inglehart Jenny," the latter being shown in very indifferent condition. Irish Setters made a great showing with Dr. Brink, C. A. Stone, and F. Radcliffe all being represented, the latter's "Ch. Moira" gaining the right to compete in the group class. G. Kenneth Alton's "Lammond Challenge" placed another best of breed to his list in Springer Spaniels. C. R. Tibbrook brought out a great puppy, aptly named "Professor of Moira." H. V. P. Lewis must have been pleased at the entry in flat coated Retrievers. He had the satisfaction of seeing a bitch reared by him placed best of breed. "Lady Towerwood" was given to the writer when a five months' puppy by H. V. P. Lewis. The writer, after breeding a litter out of her by "Ch. Gronwen Mutant," gave her to her present owner, R. H. Martin, who was making his debut at this show as an exhibitor. Collies came forward in goodly numbers, Fred Mansfield's "Highland Milady" acquiring the right to compete in the working group. George Thomas informed me he was very favorably impressed with the quality of the German Shepherds. F. T. James' Snowball led in Old English Sheepdogs, but the Clearbrook Kennels' youngster that was awarded reserve winners will, if nothing unforeseen happens, quickly gain his title of champion. Chow Chows were quite a big entry, the winner, Mrs. R. W. Spike's "Chiawans Sunbeam," being a very typical red, which could do with a little more size. Bulldogs saw a number competing. K. M. Bruce's "Drinkmoor Moonshine," an impressive heavyweight, a brindle and white, gained the special, but he will not be at his best for another year. Where were the Bull Terriers, the breed can certainly make a better showing than they did. Boston Terriers certainly lacked evenness in quality and type. The winning dog was J. Brancier's compact and good headed, "Jubilee Chummy Boy." Mrs. R. Lipe's "Kay Don 2nd," the reserve winning dog, just needs time yet to knit together and couple up in body. Mrs. M. Stevens' "Jubilee Happy Day" is a light weight puppy of promise. E. A. Brown's "Brown's Miss Prim" stood right away in bitches, her closest opponent, Mrs. Stevens' "No No Nanette" showing signs of recent maternal worries, was not looking her best. Cocker Spaniels I failed to see judged, except the final, when I saw a real good black in "Stanley Topsy II," belonging to R. Tyrwhitt, gain the special for best Cocker. I did not have an opportunity of handling her but from the ringside she was most certainly a pleasing specimen. Wire Fox Terriers came up in goodly numbers. I caught glimpses of them but was sorry not to see this breed judged. J. R. Kennedy's "Talavera Tantalus" was by no means in the form in which he was shown at the National Kennel Club or the Fox Terrier Club shows. The special winner, "Ontario Reliance," I saw in the Terrier group and from what I could see she would have pressed the winner, the Airedale, if she had only settled down. I watched the nice entry of Scottish Terriers with a very keen admirer of the breed, Dr. R. Tennant, of Belleville, who travelled three hundred miles to see his favorites judged. Hibank Kennels' "Hibank Cheer of Corse" gained one special. A puppy with a future, when she gains confidence, is Dr. N. E. W. Batt's "Haldon Carol," the possessor of a very beautiful head, a compact body and sound going and coming. Cairns were one of the best entries, Mrs. Hyslop and Mrs. Routley both having excellent teams forward. "Tinker of Tapscoot," the Special Club winner at New York, placing some more points to his credit. Pomeranians, although not very numerous, were a very nice quality group. Mrs. J. Bruce's "Melbourne Supreme" had no difficulty in gaining the special. P. Proctor's "Harlow Countess," a very sweet little bitch puppy, not only gained winners but in a later competition was awarded the special for best puppy all breeds in the show. Pekingeses saw Mrs. R. Strathy's "Whitworth Michael," a really good all around specimen, winning winners dog and the special for best, his nearest opponent being R. Robert's "Chensi Hi Wunda 2nd," a dog with many sterling good points, especially front and body. Bitches were disappointing, Dr. C. C. Clemmer's "Beau Tie of Clem Mere" not having to extend herself to score from Mrs. Warrington's "Nancy Koo," a black and tan which fails in chin. Samoyedes were represented with a nice team of A. H. C. Proctor's, and last, but certainly not least, were the merry little "Bargee's," the Schipperkes; here "Exceldall o' the North" gave the breed some worthwhile publicity with his win in the non-sporting group. Just a final word. Apparently there has been some discussion as to my placings for Best of Breed in Pekingeses. I placed Mrs. Strathy's "Whitworth Michael" for the special. Mrs. B. Foster had entered "Ch. Pem Chu," a dog I have always admired for specials only. Mrs. Frances Luke also entered her "Ch. Wee La Dee" for specials only. On looking over my judging book I find that I did not place a reserve for the special, therefore, neither lady can claim that her champion was placed reserve.

Apparently in E. L. Kerr we have quite an enthusiastic Doberman Pinscher breeder and exhibitor at Hamilton, Ontario, for news is to hand of a very select kennel being formed. "Ashland Gax," an inmate of the kennel, is at present busily engaged rearing four puppies, the sire of which is the well-known winner, "Prince Zmitri of Starkanhart." "Lady Nibelemgent," so successfully shown on the circuit last year, is also in whelp to Prince. Dr. W. S. Connell, also of Hamilton, is the owner of the well known red, "Ch. Lady Claus v.d. Spree," and the writer hears that this bitch has been mated to "Prince Zmitri."

Particulars are to hand of an interesting bulldog sale, Mrs. C. M. Gibson, of Lansing, Ontario, having sold "Maccliffie Galleon Master" to the Tresu Carr Moving Picture Cor., Hollywood, Cal. This good specimen was bred by Mrs. Gibson, his sire being "Ch. Marwell Marquis" and his dam "Lady Jellicoe II." Making his debut at the York Puppy Show he made a good start by winning best of breed and reserve for best dog in the show. Going to the Westminster Kennel Club show at N.Y. he won second prize in a puppy class of fourteen. His closing show under his breeder's colors was the Toronto Kennel Club, where he won the puppy and was reserve winners to "Drinkmoor Moonshine."

A decided acquisition to the growing fancy in Belleville is Sergt. H. E. Thompson, of the Provincial Police. Sergt. Thompson has for many years taken an active interest in dogs and he will be known to those interested in Shepherds as being the owner of that beautiful bitch, "Pet of Warland." The Sergeant strayed from Shepherds to Boston Terriers and he has now quite an exceptional kennel, having no less than twenty-two bitches of blood lines hard to duplicate. For some considerable time Sergt. Thompson has been on the lookout for a stud dog with blood lines suitable to cross with some of his bitches and today I had the pleasure of inspecting "Master Rock-away," a very typical young terrier by "Int. Champion Reigh Count," his dam is "Introduce Me Lady Lore," whose dam is the great American winner, "Champion Introduce Me." Sergt. Thompson is following the practice of the most successful English breeders in placing all his bitches out "at walk" and the writer is confident that in the near future Belleville will be the birthplace of some real Bostons.

TORONTO KENNEL CLUB ALL-BREED SHOW

"WORTH while waiting for" seemed to be the general consensus of opinion when the doors opened at the Mutual Street Arena Gardens for the 1933 edition of the Toronto Kennel Club Show. The whole arena floor was encircled with the benching for the larger breeds, and the Toys were comfortably kennelled at the end. The centre was given over to spacious ring accommodation, and the comfortable arena chairs were sufficient to take care of the comfort of all who desired to take the show in ease, and the great majority decided to take the fixture just that way. Many declared that the show was on a par with the Westminster Kennel Club event, and to tell the truth this fixture came nearer to comparison with its great New York competitor than anything yet seen in Canada in the last 25 years.

The uniformity of color, the uniformity of benching space, the cleanliness of the showroom, the sweet smell following continuous disinfection were all little circumstances which drew their own mode of approval from the crowds patronizing the show.

To the Shepherd Dog Club of Canada goes much credit for the tests to which the trained dogs were put. This feature held its audience from start to finish, and the hearty applause spontaneously given was proof that this feature has indeed become popular at our dog shows.

Children's classes furnished further interest, and show-giving clubs should note the "pull" of this feature and cater to it whenever possible.

The judges were the life-long friends, George Steadman Thomas of Hamilton, Mass., and Walter H. Reeves of Belleville, Ont., and although many were disappointed, nevertheless the judging was of a very high order indeed and was carried through with dignity and despatch from opening to closing.

President Jack McNaughton had the limit of support from his officers, and everything they had to give was essential to the success of the show. Inside information showed that over 100 late entries had been refused rather than have the secretary's work upset and the catalogue distorted. The Canadian National Exhibition refused late entries last September. This was repeated by the National Kennel Club in November, and now Toronto Kennel Club has stamped its approval on the practice, and it is hoped that in time our people will see that it is to their advantage to co-operate with show-giving club managements by sending in entries prior to the closing date. No doubt the limit of championship points could have been attained on this occasion if exhibitor co-operation had been available.

Quality and quantity were perfectly satisfying, and very few mediocre specimens were on the benches; in fact the show was really high class in every possible department.

The Group Classes, with perhaps the exception of the Toy Group, were all well filled, and all were strongly contested. In the Sporting Group the assembly was just as splendid as might be seen at any show anywhere, and perhaps it was something of a disappointment to the gallery when the Russian Wolfhound took top place over the English Setter. Be that as it may, the fact remains that, if there was any disappointment it was not of the lasting kind, if one is to judge by the roar of approval sent up by the ringside in agreement with the decision.

The Working Group was filled to the limit, and here an upstanding bob-tail, who was as sound as a dollar and in wonderful coat, took the topmost place.

Terrier Group was filled, too, with the exception of the "Manchester" representative, and here an honest looking Airedale "strutted his stuff" in care-free fashion, and his win was a popular one with the crowd.

Non-Sporting was without the Dalmatian, but it was a representative class outside of that, and here a Schipperke won the "nod" from the judge.

Toys answered the ring steward's call by sending a Pom and a Peke, and both were really good specimens.

When the "five best" came to the ring it was conceded that every one had a chance to go to the top. An analysis of ringside feeling might have shown the following preferences: Airedale, Russian Wolfhound, Old English Sheepdog, Pomeranian, Schipperke. Anyway, the parade was on and the expectations ran high; the supporters of each breed enthused audibly as the representative dogs gaited or posed as desired by the judges, and still the ringside seemed to be decided as to the outcome and content to wait for the ribbons to be handed out.

The Russian Wolfhound, "Ch. Volga of Rosseau," who had been away from the shows for several years, and nicely handled by Mrs. R. McColl, Toronto, came back in nice shape, moved sweetly and in perfect rhythm, and was not denied the choicest gift at the hands of the judges. The Airedale, "Quality Peggy," ably handled by "Ted" Ward, was a real contender and was awarded the cup for second best in show. "Ch. Volga of Rosseau," being Canadian-bred, came in for a choice variety of special prizes.

Best Puppy was won by P. Proctor's, Toronto, 8 months old Pomeranian, "Harlow Duches," who looked and played a finished part to win over a class of nice young uns.

NEW HOME OF CLAIRMAR CAIRN TERRIERS

We stopped off at the Clairmar 100-acre farm the other day and found the Cairns of Clairmar all safely kennelled in comfort. There is only one Harry Robinson in dogdom, and there we found him and his charges in the very pink of condition. The new kennels are commodious and substantial to a degree seldom seen around these parts. Plenty of light, abundance of good country air, and lots of romping room so essential to proper development.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Robinson we were shown over the new Routley home, and here someone with a penchant for color and comfort schemes has succeeded in excelling in both arts, and when the workmen have finished their labors a wonderful addition to the country homes on the Dundas highway will have been made.

The dogs, puppies and adults, were just teeming with "pep", thanks to their keeper's aversion of anything timid being around him wherever he is.

SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF CANADA

The boys and girls comprising the membership of this progressive club have their sleeves rolled up and are busy tackling a programme of club activities which promises to keep all hands busy until the snow flies again. At present there is a weekly trial which is to ensure smooth action at the shows where trials are to be featured this year.

A fund raised a couple of years ago to place dogs with blind persons having been returned to the club, has been responsible for a committee having been named to look out for someone minus his sight who would be suitable to take over a trained Shepherd as guide.

Puppies will have a show all to themselves down at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds on Saturday afternoon, May 13th, at 2.30, when Wm. A. Warwick will place them for merit. On June 24th the club's specialty fixture will be held and an experienced breeder-judge will be selected to award the prizes after the appraisals of merit have been recorded.

Social evenings are being planned for the purpose of showing moving pictures taken at past trials, and for the purpose of having authorities on the breed address the members from the educational viewpoint.

BRINGING ON THE PUGS

The Budworth Pug Kennels at St. Lambert report the arrival of a litter of Pugs from "Ch. Budworth Babs," who has proved such a consistent winner at the shows during the last two years. These youngsters are by "Rangitsinhji," and though only beginning to "blink" so far, they are very sturdy and as promising as they are sturdy. This is "Ch. Bab's" first litter, and judging from appearances they are to be likely representatives of the kennel.

WHAT GEORGE STEADMAN THOMAS SAID

"My visit to Toronto was a pleasant one. I enjoyed myself every minute, both in the ring, and out of it. It was a real good show, the best I have judged in some time. And I was delighted to meet such a hard-working lot of officers."

British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
R. H. F. PURDON, Vancouver, B.C.

WEST Highland Terriers are in for another boom on the Coast as Mrs. Alec. McCloy's classically bred "Alta Alistair" out of the grand bitch "Polmont Snowflake," has sired two litters of the most promising puppies seen here for years. The dam of one litter is the New York-bred "(Ch.) Springmeade Peggy," and the other bitch is a grand daughter of the great "Ch. Lothian Douglas." This breeding combines the best old country, Canadian and U.S.A. blood lines, the pedigree of the young puppies goes back over forty years and contains the names of many champions. The owners of Kilmartin Kennels, after producing several Scottish Terrier Champions, will again devote their efforts to their old love the White West Highlanders, a breed which the McCloy family have raised in Scotland for close on ninety years, when the breed was known in Argyleshire as Paltalloch Terriers.

Old time fanciers will regret to hear of the deaths of two pioneers of the dog game on Vancouver Island, in Robt. Large and Thos. Withers. The former was eighty-four years old, he never missed a dog show up to the time of his death, and was always a willing helper.

Tom Withers was one of the men who made history for Vancouver Island English Setters, owning the great "Ch. Arbutus Swallow," "Arbutus Lady Bird" and "Sirdar." He had a marvellous collection of cups, and was a generous supporter of the prize lists, even after he had given up breeding. His cheery smile and good sportsmanship will be missed.

In my notes of March about the "Of Moray" Kennels, owned by Mr. & Mrs. H. A. Rhodes, of Cowichan Station, Vancouver Island, my calligraphy was responsible for two errors, the young imported dog is not by "Regent of Ware," he is by "Colinette Pete" (one l this time), and his correct name is "Weathercock of Ware," as a matter of fact, the name "Regent of Ware" had been applied for, but for some reason was not given the dog.

The new imported black bitch "Sweetheart of Ware," has rejoiced her owner's hearts by whelping seven dogs and two bitches, of which five are red, three black, and one blue roan, so fortune favours the brave in this case, and it is our sincere wish that the vane at the "Of Moray" Kennels will ever point fair for these good fanciers.

Vancouver Island and the Mainland have now each their own Canadian Kennel Club Provincial Committees, and a very excellent arrangement, evidently evolved in the fertile brain of our Director, W. H. Pym. Some of the readers of Kennel and Bench may not be acquainted or know much about the different members of these committees, so let us throw some of the spot-light on them, and see what manner of persons represent the governing body of Canadian Dogdom. On the Mainland division we have Herbert Swinden, a breeder of Wire-haired Fox Terriers, who has had a long experience in all things pertaining to the dog, has been a C.K.C. Provincial Committeeman, held various offices in shows and clubs, and is at present the competent secretary of the B.C. Fox Terrier Association of which he is a charter member.

C. P. Starck, a breeder of Shepherd Dogs and Pekinese, experienced as a Provincial Committeeman and one greatly interested in canine affairs.

H. Wilkinson, breeder of Smooth Fox Terriers, has held various offices in dog societies, and a well-trying Provincial Committeeman.

O. Balshaw, breeder of English Setters and the able secretary of Vancouver Kennel Club, who is familiar with every detail of the game.

In the Vancouver Island division we have Miss L. A. Hickling, of Nanaimo, well-known toy Judge, Secretary of Nanaimo K.C. and breeder of Pomeranians, has had previous service on Provincial Committee.

C. W. Lonsdale, of Shawinigan Lake. I regret not having the pleasure of knowing Mr. Lonsdale, but know of him as a breeder of Shepherds, and Head Master of probably the largest boys' school in the province, and as such must be a fine Judge of character and wonderfully fair minded, is a keen sportsman and delightful host to the Shawinigan Lake Show, which is held in the beautiful grounds surrounding his school.

Alec. McCloy, of Victoria, a breeder of West Highland and Scottish Terriers, late Director of C.K.C., probably has held almost every office connected with dog shows, clubs, and everything that is for the betterment of the dog fancy.

The chairman for these committees is W. H. Pym, our C.K.C. Director, and Admirable Crichton, of British Columbia dogdom, he is so well known throughout Canada, it would be superfluous to eulogize his qualifications for this office.

A letter came to me from a city outside this Province asking for the addresses of two exhibitors in certain more or less uncommon breeds, which I was able to supply by return. Kennel and Bench are glad to be of service and hope that satisfactory arrangements can be completed on all sides. We take this opportunity of reminding breeders of the greater advantages to be derived from advertising in Kennel and Bench.

Letters from my old friend A. H. Dodds, of Victoria, may be few and far between, but he has always something of interest in them for all of us, and sends an account of the Thibetan Terriers owned by Miss Margot Torrible. As this breed will probably be eligible for registration shortly, it is interesting to note what Mr. Dodds says of them: "they are lovely little dogs and look like a small O.E. Sheepdog"—further Victoria news is that Miss M. Robertson has imported two more Sealyhams from Mrs. Critchley Salmonson, Tytherton Kennels, in England, one, "Fearnought of Tytherton," is ten months old, all white with one badger-marked ear, his sire is "Sirius of Stobery," by "St. Margaret's Slicko," ex "Babs of Stobery," and his dam "Pixie" by "Ch. St. Margaret's Serene," ex "Anxious Moments." Mrs. Cox, of Seattle, has already mated two bitches to this young dog. The other importation is a bitch, "Tytherton Tingle," she has an all white body, with even badger-marked head, is by "Ch. Eastfield Candidate," by "Ch. Seapatrik Dandy," dam, "Ch. Eastfield Capture." Miss Robertson has just purchased a beautiful home of ten and a half acres and new kennels are under construction. This kennel is registered as "Drumadon." Several of the inmates are being groomed for the spring shows. "Brampton Buttercup" is nursing a nice litter by her imported "Christopher of Tytherton"; there is no doubt that this enthusiast intends to have one of the strongest Sealyham Kennels in Canada. We must all admire her pluck in importing high class stock in these times, and may the Drumadon Kennels be amply rewarded for their enterprise.

Mr. Dodds has himself purchased from J. M. Livesey, of Vancouver, the young wire fox terrier dog "Craven Fine Cut," by "Craven Short Cut," who should do well in the Island Capital, he looks like a real stock-getter, and his new owner knows how to make them, as he bred the best litter of Wires we ever had on the coast, in my time at any rate, and his hand has not lost its cunning.

The match of the B.C. Fox Terrier Association held in the early part of April, drew a larger entry for H. Wilkinson to Judge, than we have had at previous meetings. Mr. Wilkinson went over the Terriers in no uncertain manner and must have given onlookers the impression that here was a Judge with a real grip of the essentials of the breed. The next and final match of the series will be held in the beginning of May, with F. Withers, last year's President of the Association, as first man in the ring. Mr. Withers is well versed in his breed and competent judging can be expected.

From the Saffron Kennel of Golden Retrievers, owned by E. N. M. Vernon, of Kaleden, B.C., comes news of a very nice lot of puppies by "Ch. Saffron Peter Boy," ex "Saffron Betty Boop." The owner of the Saffrons is trying the same experiment as a well-known English breeder, of inter-breeding the Golden with the Yellow Labrador, several of these inter-bred puppies having done well at Field Trials. Mr. Vernon's trouble was to find a suitable sire, however, he found one in "Vernon," belonging to Mr. Kinloch, bred from imported stock by Col. McLaughlin, of Duncan, B.C., and after a drive over terrible road conditions, the imported "Ch. Dame Daphne" was mated, the result is due at the end of April. Mr. Vernon has promised to let me know how the experiment works out, as he thinks it should be of considerable interest to owners and breeders of gun dogs, and adds, "I shall, of course, breed back again to the Golden."

The Irish Setter authority, Jack Cottle, of Nanaimo, again kindly sends some news from his quarter, also a newspaper with the awards at the recent Nanaimo Parlor Show. North and south sent in some really nice dogs. C. W. Lonsdale, of Shawnigan, was on hand with a couple of Shepherds, Miss Hoggan's Boston "Easterbud" and her Pointer, won their classes, both put down in superb condition. In Shepherds, a young local fancier, "Bob" Slaughter, who is the well-known and popular goal-keeper of the Nanaimo City football team, won the special for the breed, this was his first entry into the show game. Competition in English Setters was, as usual, hot, H. Patterson's "Patsy of Bank Bay" winning, also getting Best Sporting in Show. Wire Fox Terriers read like old times, the winner in Open Dogs and Best Terrier was F. Carrot's "Templehill Lad," carrying the prefix of our old friend Robert Mercer. Harold Kneen was there with "Kerby Crack O'dawn," it seems a long time since we have had him out, the Kerby's used to cut a swath in our prize lists some years back. One of the Willgresses (A. W.) was showing—not English Setters this time, but a Wire, winning Open Bitches. The show was Judged by H. Lester, of Vancouver, and we are told he was congratulated on his job by many exhibitors who did not get the coveted red, as well as several old timers at the ring side, a very satisfactory ending to any show.

Fanciers will be interested in news of

Our Best Dogs

ARE USING NU-LIFE

letters from satisfied users.

Quandalla Kennels,
4 mile Hill, Victoria, B.C.

Dear Sirs:

Kindly send me another bottle of Nu-Life Dog Mixture. I find it a good tonic for my Alsations. It is also good for dogs with poor coat, especially females before and after whelping.

the black Newfoundland, which breed is being sponsored by Miss Rhoda Shepherd, on Vancouver Island. Her recent purchase of five weeks ago, from Ontario, whelped ten puppies in the beginning of April; this should do much to stimulate interest in this grand old breed of great traditions; we hope she has every success. By a later mail I have just had the very sad news sent me of the death of Miss Shepherd's mother. While not being a dog fancier from a show point of view, Mrs. Shepherd was extremely interested in her daughter's Newfoundlands, and thought what a nice hobby it was for her to have. We offer our sincere sympathy to Mr. Shepherd and the family in their irreparable loss.

Vancouver Island Setter and Pointer Clubs are holding their Annual Field Trials this month, a report of which has been promised later.

E. A. Sparrow, of Enderby, whose hobby is Springer Spaniels, reports a promising litter of five dogs and two bitches by his "Silent Messenger," ex "Placid of Avondale," who is by "Ch. Springbok of Ware," also that a bitch puppy by "Ch. Aristocrat of Avondale," ex a daughter of "Ch. Springbok of Ware," shows all indications of being a good one, and is feathering out nicely. Mr. Sparrow has entered his "Silent Messenger" for our April shows; this will be his first time to exhibit. His entry will be in charge of a very capable handler in Miss V. C. Rogers, who has nothing to learn in putting a Spaniel down in condition, and getting the most out of them.

This month's notes will close with the news just received that the appointed Judges for the Shawnigan Lake Show are Messrs. W. H. Pym and Joseph Dodds, both of Vancouver.

ENNO MEYER TO JUDGE REGINA SHOW

Ever since the likeable Enno Meyer judged for the dog show, held each summer in conjunction with the Regina Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition at Regina, Sask., he has been invited to renew his engagement as often as he himself considers it to be good policy to accept. And he will decorate the "Woolsack" there this summer.

Fanciers from the United States and from Canada who intend taking in the Regina fixture this year should remember that the World's Grain Show will be on at Regina at the same time as the dog show, and that hotel accommodation is likely to be taxed to the limit at that time; therefore, reservations are indicated to be essential. Kennel & Bench will gladly co-operate in securing accommodation for visiting exhibitors if requested to do so, and a fair margin of time is allowed to make such reservations possible.

Saskatchewan News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

ONCE more the time has come round when our notes must be sent off to the Editor-in-Chief. While we are not in any way flooded with news, it is pleasing to receive a few more letters than usual this month and from now on our fellow fanciers should have lots to report. The early puppies will be shaping up and sales more easily made now that the bright days are here. Your correspondence is always welcomed and an endeavour made to get your general news items inserted in the next issue of Kennel and Bench. Saskatchewan should be well represented at Medicine Hat Show on May 24th, for many are quite anxious to trot out the prospects that have been groomed and fitted during the early spring.

We will all agree that the mouth-piece of Canadian Dogdom, and the medium through which we are all bonded together has been very interesting of late. Without Kennel and Bench we would be like a lot of sheep without a shepherd. The report of the annual meeting is extremely interesting, it gives us out West an idea of how our "Brothers in the East" are thinking and we would like to congratulate our officers and Board of Directors on the capable way in which they handled all the subjects under discussion.

Turning to our April issue of Kennel and Bench, we note the large number of shows already planned and realize that within a few weeks we will be able to study the show reports, and note who has been rewarded for their careful breeding plans and came out victors from the fray. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors is always interesting reading. Then we turn to the Canadian Fancy so ably edited each month by Walter H. Reeves, covering so much territory, and brimming over with information we all enjoy reading. Then to those who have been fortunate to meet Charles H. Park, realize we have in this sincere sportsman a pillar of strength to the Alberta fanciers, one to whom we can look for all that is helpful and assured of a real interesting page month by month. Our B.C. page is eagerly sought for as we have many good friends out there and Mr. Purdon has a wonderful way of presenting them and their kennel activities to us—undoubtedly we will miss the snappy items from Fred La Rue, Quebec. But Mr. Waddell has already given us a page that has brought the Quebec fanciers right before our eyes.

From Nova Scotia, G. D. Anderson tells us all about the boys there. Our neighbouring province of Manitoba so well cared for by W. B. R. Knowles is always of an educational nature and appreciated from coast to coast. These several pages, coupled with such articles as the one so ably written by Director W. G. Climo on his "impressions of the annual meeting," and other leading articles, advertisements, etc., etc., cause us to realize that we owe a debt of gratitude to our governing body and to our Editor and Secretary-Treasurer, James D. Strachan for their untiring efforts in presenting to us each month this journal of which we are justly proud.

Jack Ayre, the permanent Secretary for Saskatoon Kennel Club, tells us they are running a show in conjunction with the Saskatoon Exhibition Fair Board next August; this show will follow Regina.

A large number attended the recent executive meeting held by the Saskatoon Club and much valuable work was done in preparation for the show even though it's four months away. Their idea of advertising through the columns of Kennel and Bench for an all-round judge is to be commended. It not only saves the Secretary a lot of writing but throws the field open to all who care to offer their services.

Jack Ayre had a steady outlet for his Springer puppies, having made sales to Moose Jaw, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Drumheller. Two eight-month puppies are developing in a way that makes Jack just pleased, bidding fair to surpass his "Prince of Leventdale," the Black and White that did so well last season.

Among recent visitors to Moose Jaw were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson from Medicine Hat. Mr. Wilson has a keen eye for a Wire and spent quite a while looking over the Mutuels. If we have not missed our guess this Medicine Hat fancier will be among the contenders in wire circles.

Another new face to the writer was Mr. Bell of Moose Jaw. We were more than surprised when this hitherto unknown fancier drove up with a couple of wide awake "die-hards" in the car, and say, how they were groomed, tartan collars and leads just put the New York touch on them.

The older dog was sure a live wire and retrieves a ball or stick, in fact, he seemed to understand all that his master said. The puppy will be shown this year and it will be a good one that steps ahead.

Here's what we have been looking for, news from Hughie Leslie of Rosetown. Hugh tells me there are quite a few fanciers in the Rosetown district who have taken a leaning to the Irish Setters, notably among them is Mrs. Crowbar, with two high-class females that can make competition hot anywhere.

Dr. Christian, the genial Veterinary of Milden, brought in a handsome male pup which he purchased from Mrs. Crowbar, this youngster has quality written all over him. There is every possibility of at least two Springers making future history from Rosetown, more will be written of these later.

In the Scotia Kennels, owned by Mr. Leslie, there are several Collie females of real quality. One of only eight months being a born shower, beautifully set up. This bitch was bred by Dr. S. Moyer. She was, however, raised in the Scotia Kennels. Her sire is "Glenogle Guardian," Dam, "Queen o' Scotia." We rather think Scotia Kennel has some dark horses for this owner did not mention his imported Black Curly Retrievers. From a previous conversation we learned that Hughie considers the Curly Retriever to be the all-round gun dog that sportsmen in this province have been looking for. While on the subject of Gun dogs our thoughts turn to Game Birds.

Mr. W. H. White of Saskatoon recently purchased the male Wire puppy, "Mutual Expectation," this puppy is a son of "Thet Trio" imp., and out of "Mutual Consideration," a daughter of "Int. Ch. Beckside Bonus."

"Mutual Consideration" has recently returned from a visit to "Talavera Tantalus" imp., owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, Vivadora Kennels, Toronto.

Sorry to hear our good friend, "Archie Semple," has been under the weather of late and wish him a speedy recovery. Mrs. Semple has had a busy time caring for Archie and superintending the wants of the inmates of "Cactus Kennels" where many notable prize winners "have been," are now, and will be raised.

From Saskatoon comes the report that Robt. Hogg, the old-timer in Airedales and Wires, has bred his good Airedale bitch, "Ch. Miss Winnitoba" to "Rockcroft Crag," he is also grooming a Wire bitch puppy for the forthcoming shows.

Frank Jackson, also of the Hub City, has a splendid array of Bulldogs, puppies from his imported dogs are very promising.

Wilfred Hoy is keeping busy with his Terriers and can always be relied on to contribute a few entries. Ben Perry, the old Bulldog fancier, has again joined the ranks and acquired one or two from Frank Jackson's kennel. Some years ago Mr. Perry was most successful with stock from "Ace of Aces." Harry Goodill also a Bulldog fancier from the same city, Saskatoon, has a nice female that he expects to give him some good stock. He further has a great liking for the fascinating Wires, and has a litter of this variety. Mr. Bennet, the Cocker fancier is expecting a couple of litters. Saskatoon is strong in Dogdom. In our next issue we hope to hear from some of the other kennels.

"Like peas in a pod." A recent litter by "Hercuveen King."

The Airedale, "Rockcroft Call Girl," recently arrived in Moose Jaw to be bred to "Rockcroft Cleland." "Call Girl" is a daughter of Mr. Child's old favorite bitch, "Miss Briton," a daughter of "Int. Ch. Warland's Ditto." At seven years of age this old lady is as smart as a yearling, still carries her jet black saddle and retains her 'girlish' lines. This bitch has been responsible for a large number of first-rate Airedales in and around Saskatoon, and is the dam of several champions.

We appreciate the interest taken in our page by D. C. Macleod of Yorkton each month, we can rely on a newsy letter telling of the good dogs housed at "Glendhall Kennels," Reg. Latest sales comprise two Irish Terriers in Yorkton, one to Moose Jaw district, one to Melford, also a Scottie to Corbin, B.C.

"Mac" is expecting two more litters of Scotties—"Haldon Lyra," and "Haldon Tessie" being the expectant dams. "Nortobas Mickey" and "Molly Bawn" have both been mated to "New townhards Mickey." The Glendhall Kennels are being enlarged to take care of increasing numbers of inmates and by the way increased business.

That good sportsman Mr. Cochrane will leave Illinois, U.S.A., after the Easter season for Saskatchewan. He intends to bring along a couple of Springers and finish their education as far as possible, ready for fall work, then, after the hunting season is over he will return to his home over the line.

Walter Pym, of Regina, can always be relied upon to send in the news of the Queen City. His Bronwyn Kennels at present house some promising stock. Very noticeable amongst them is a youngster by "Moat Hill Dark Boy," and out of "Wryecote Merry Madcap," another puppy named, "Bronwyn Stormfiend," by "Wryecote Tempestuous," he by "Ch. Stormy Boy," imp. These together with the Smooth bitch, "Your Choice," are being groomed for the early shows.

The Regina Canine Society gave a surprise visit on the 12th of April to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Busby of Springer fame.

The surprised ones were presented with a gift from the Regina members in appreciation of their loyalty and services to the club, both having been tireless in their labors to help the club in every way. Mr. and Mrs. Busby expect to leave about April 20th for Vancouver, and will take up new residence at Abbotsford, B.C. They will be accompanied by three Springers, one being bred to Dr. Hardy's outstanding dog, "Beatie of Avondale."

R. W. Cook of Albert Street, Regina, manager of the Mutual Insurance Co., is welcomed to our ranks as a breeder and importer. R. W. recently imported an English Setter bitch from Mrs. D. Chambers, England. The new arrival is a Blue Belton, arriving here on the first day of March. She is registered "Sundial Agnes," born July 18, '31. She is strong in "Crombie Blood," her sire is "Shiplake Surprise," and her dam, "Orange Tip of Lynne," by "Bob of Crombie," ex "Wolvershill Sundie." Unfortunately, one week after her arrival she lost her eight puppies. Through the skill of Dr. Howitt, veterinary surgeon, the female was saved and has recovered nicely. Mr. Cook intends to show his newcomer, and later on, breed her to a suitable dog.

Mr. Middlemas reports the arrival of two males and three females out of his imported Scottie, "Heather Sunflower." This litter arrived on March 19 and were sired by his imported stud, "Ruglen Rabbie."

Ray Kennedy is preparing his Wire, "Redcliff Bouje," for the coming shows. This Wire spends much of his time on the roof of "Hotel Saskatchewan." Here he is fairly safe, unless he takes a notion for a high dive. He has got sand enough to try anything once. His owner is one of the most busy men in Regina, as manager of this, one of the finest hotels in the province. Yet he finds time to help the club along and assist in many ways.

John Blake, Regina, has purchased the Springer female, "Field Sensation," from Geo. Busby and intends raising some puppies from her this year. This bitch has done quite a lot of winning.

Swift Current have for various reasons decided to defer their show. It can readily be realized that many factors would contribute to this decision. We hope, however, that at another meeting the possibility will present itself of holding the show in the near future. Swift Current is rich in fanciers, so we may look for big things from this little city. Hans Rothgordt, the popular president, has worked hard both in Swift Current and other cities to help the good cause along. His imported St. Bernard female, "Vox Wobelmont," is due to whelp on the 30th of April, and stock of promise may well be expected from this pair. Hans expects to meet the boys once more at Medicine Hat. Believe me, three of these Saints constitute a carload.

The most welcome letter we received this month was from the hand of our old friend, J. Willox, Prince Albert. John says it's hard to get news when there is no kennel club, so we suggest Prince Albert gets the kennel club functioning right away; it's absolutely necessary for the well-being of dogdom in this northern city where so many fanciers of note reside. John has not been breeding so many Springers for the past while, but once prosperity is here again in its full meaning, John will be among the ringleaders. His blue roan dog, "Blue Boy of Teviotdale," is leaving some good stock around the country. It must be remembered that Mr. Willox was one of the first Springer breeders in these parts, having bought a male and female from Mr. Chevrier, Winnipeg, in 1918, and has been breeding good ones ever since. The best he ever bred was perhaps "Medeline of Teviotdale," which he showed at Madison Square Gardens, New York, in the spring of 1929, when she was awarded third in the open class.

To Scotch Terrier fanciers the following is of interest, for before leaving the old home in Scotland, John Willox often used to visit the kennels of Robert Chapman at Glenboig and spend many pleasant hours among the Heather Scot-ties kennelled on his wonderful farm. Mr. Willox relates that the late R. Chapman, Sr., was a real man to meet, always giving a cordial welcome and a feeling that you wanted to return at the very first opportunity.

From P.A. also comes word from Herb. Barr of Cocker fame. Herb. has been a breeder and exhibitor of Cockers for the last 33 years, having shown at both eastern and western shows. Amongst his good ones, which are now passed along but not forgotten by Herb., are "Ch. Ferndale Don," "Ch. Ferndale Goldie," "Ch. Brookdale Blossom," "Ch. Ferndale Flossie." These and others have brought to the Barr home many lasting memories in the shape of cups and trophies. In the kennel at the present time are several of same breeding that would take a lot of beating if Herb. lived in a more central locality, convenient to the shows. Mr. Barr recently visited his old home in the East and attended the annual meeting of the C.K.C., where he enjoyed meeting many of his old acquaintances.

Then also in P.A. we have our good friend Geo. Eggleston, who is still keeping up his well-earned good reputation as a Springer fancier. There are several good winners in the kennel, and all are equally as good in the field, and remember, they have been trained in a country that might well be called a "Hunter's Paradise." We hope to hear from other P.A. members in time for next issue.

We noticed in the Manitoba news that the Smooth, "Ch. Danby Mogul," has come west to Winnipeg. "Mogul" is full brother to "Ch. Danby Molly," owned by Mutual Kennels, Moose Jaw. "Molly" has given us some classy stock and she will shortly leave for her new home in Georgia, U.S.A., having recently been sold to a U.S.A. fancier. Her son, "Mutual Masterpiece," unshown but one that can win in the best of company, has also been sold to U.S.A. Other Smooths to leave the Mutual Kennel having been sold to U.S.A. are "Ch. Oxford Fairy" and "Ch. Calgary Chosen Don." While we have enjoyed showing these Smooths and raising some nice puppies from them, we look forward to them conquering fresh fields and feel assured the three champions will soon earn their international honors. Smooths are certainly gaining ground, for we have sold all the Smooths we can spare and have had to turn away business to four other United States buyers, also orders for puppies, not having a Smooth pup left. The Irish Terriers, too, are in demand. Two more females will shortly leave for U.S.A., and most of our males have gone. We are looking forward to meeting the fanciers at the shows, if business will permit, and again ask you to send in your news as early as possible. Also remember there are buyers waiting if you will only tell them what you have to sell, and the best way to do this is an ad. in Kennel & Bench.

CH. HASLINGDEN RAGS

This typical "Yorkshire" gentleman was bred by Harry Smith, Hamilton, Ont., and never knew the taste of defeat on his way to the "Charmed Circle." During 1932 he won at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, the National Kennel Club, Toronto, and in his "own home town," Hamilton. Faultlessly groomed and always splendidly presented to the judges by his breeder, Mr. Smith, his bench, box or table was always thronged during show hours by a host of admirers.

"Ch. Haslingden Rags" is a true steel blue and tan coated dog, and weighs only 4½ lbs. Standing at stud, and at a fee of $15.00, his services are in much demand by discriminating "Yorkie" breeders. Anyone interested in the subject of this short review may communicate with Mr. Smith, at 81 Park St. N., Hamilton, Ont.

The Alberta News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
C. H. PARK, Medicine Hat, Alta.

THE Spring, or shall we say the continued Winter of 1933, will be memorable in the minds of Alberta fanciers, if only for the fact that April has kept up the succession of snowstorms and cold weather snaps that has made the past one such a long winter. Whether due to this or not, the news in the Medicine Hat district of spring whelpings is disastrous. "Bill" Burrow of Springer fame has had the misfortune to lose his good Boston, "Winsome Bunty," through inability to whelp, and the litter sister, "Winsome Peggy," still lies in a precarious condition. These two were bred respectively to "Ch. Trapystock Personality" and "Trapystock Headlight," and great things were expected from these matings. The writer, Frank Bell, and that genial medico, Dr. McCharles, an angel in disguise where the service of a veterinary is unobtainable, spent five hours working with "Bunty" and "Peggy," taking one abnormal sized pup from "Peggy" after she had successfully whelped two puppies, and removing piecemeal the one dead pup that seemed to be all that "Bunty" was carrying, in a very advanced state of decomposition. "Bunty" seemed to be safely over her troubles at midnight and resting comfortably, though terribly exhausted, but her brave heart that had stood up so well right through, failed to rally, and she passed away next morning about seven o'clock. Harry Champ, Redcliff, of Wire fame, whose boy "Eddie," a worthy chip of the old block, well known in Western show rings, and who bids fair to outdo his father in his love and knowledge of dogs, has been very ill during the past winter, and now that "Eddie" is well on the road to recovery the ill luck continues, and on Wednesday, April 12th, the "dark horse" that Harry was grooming for the spring shows passed away very suddenly. This was the lone pup in a litter from a "Beckside Bonus" bitch, litter sister to his well-known winner, "Cliff Becky," by R. A. Cross' dog, "Vivadora Masterpiece." This young dog had a phenomenal head and all the earmarks of one that would go far, so the loss is all the greater. That is the dark side of our picture; on the other is the news that Walter Armstrong, brother to "Bill" Armstrong, president of the Medicine Hat Kennel Club, has got a nice litter of Collie pups from "Maggie," daughter of "Rose Brae Rising Sun," the litter sired by Harry Gibson's winning dog, "Ben Lomond 2nd". Clarence Westwood, whose good Labrador must try to hold up automobiles, judging by the number of times he has been laid out by them, has again tried conclusions with one, and coming off second best, landed in the care of Dr. MacKay of Calgary with a broken hip. Thanks to skillful treatment and his own ruggedness, "Prince" is back home again looking for fresh cars to conquer. Still the good ones come to Medicine Hat. Now we have the third Scotty within a very short time. This time it was C. M. H. Roche, local manager of the London Life Assurance Co., who "dug down in his jeans" for a good sized cheque for a beauty that will make the best step later on. Particulars of breeding are not to hand but will be given later. Your correspondent has started out another young fancier in Miss Margaret Taylor, who has purchased a splendid Smooth Fox Terrier dog pup that should make history if all goes well with it. His sister goes to that good fancier, John E. Hunter, of Calgary, who only parted with the mother, who is by "Ch. Prides Hill Resultant," ex "Ch. Danby Molly," on condition that he got a bitch pup from this bitch, the sire of these pups being H. Cheney's good winning dog, "Calgare Real Spice". Another bitch puppy has gone to L. Dunn of this city and the remaining one will be retained in the kennel. Enquiries for young stock are numerous, and to fill same two bitches are showing in whelp to "Medalta Simple Simon," whose young stock show great promise, one having been shipped by Mrs. Render of Calgary to New York, and John Hunter, who is preparing two in "Calgaree Jack" and "Calgaree Stampede Jill" for the circuit, says they are away above the ordinary. Mr. Hunter is sending three more bitches to "Simon" in due course. Whilst on terriers, Mrs. Daintrey of Calgary sends a budget of news. She also says the boom in Wires is really on, four new kennels starting up having been reported. Dr. J. H. Harvey and his wife, Dr. Ruth Johnstone-Harvey, of Alsask, Sask., have started a small kennel of Wires, using as their foundation stock a bitch bought from Mrs. Daintrey, "Tysbutt Madame Cure," by the well-known "Farleigh Whoopee," out of "Tysbutt Bella Donna," and a dog from the Farleigh Kennels, "Farleigh Lord Lister". A litter will shortly be expected. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webber, Ponoka, have also gone to the Farleigh Kennels for their first pair of Wires, purchasing the bitch, "Farleigh Fancy Free," by "Ch. Farleigh Beau Brummel," out of "Farleigh Psychie," and the dog, "Farleigh Chick Weed," by "Grand National," out of "Rockcroft Chick". A litter of three bitches and one dog are reported. Mrs. W. B. Price, the wife of Calgary's well-known veterinary surgeon, has bought

"Farleigh Speculation," by "Grand National," out of "Farleigh Sister Ann," and a litter is due early in April. Mrs. Price has also bought the undefeated Smooth bitch, "Farleigh Fortuna," by "Int. Ch. Oltee Lempal," out of "Farleigh Dream Maiden". "Fortuna" is bred to "Farleigh Little Pal." Mrs. Price has persuaded Mrs. Carr (most unwillingly) to part with "Farleigh Rosemary," a young bitch by "Farleigh Simple Simon," out of "Farleigh Peep O'Day," which Mrs. Carr considers one of the most promising bitches she has ever bred. "Rosemary" will be bred to "Farleigh Chunky Not O'Notts," and if maternal duties do not interfere, will appear at some of the shows. Mr. and Mrs. Harding of Nelson purchased a stud dog, "Farleigh Kootenay Beau," from Mrs. Carr last year and report a litter out of a bitch purchased from W. Oates of Vancouver. They have now bought "Farleigh Couquet," by "Grand National," out of "Rockcroft Chick." The parent kennel would like to extend through these pages every good wish to the new adventurers. Mrs. Dooley had the misfortune to lose a particularly nice pup out of her bitch, "Calamity Jane" ("Just Jannette"). He disappeared from their yard and has not been seen since. He is an all white dog with a black spot at the root of his tail. If anyone has seen him, Mrs. Dooley would be very grateful for a report. Mr. Houghton reports a nice litter of Smooths by "Farleigh Little Pal." H. Price has also bred a bitch to "Little Pal." Mr. Field has a good litter of Wires by "Farleigh Simple Simon." It is unfortunate the dam cannot be registered as the pups look very promising. Mr. Munro has an exceptionally nice puppy, "Tysbutt Goggles," that will be appearing at the shows. She is by his dog, "Farleigh Whoopee," who gives promise of being an exceptional sire. Mrs. Daintrey's "Tysbutt Sarah Ann" is expecting a litter shortly. Mrs. Carr's well-known bitch, "Farleigh Psychie," has a litter of three males by "Grand National" and five other bitches will be whelping shortly. The writer owes a sincere apology to J. H. Tanton of Edmonton, who was one of the first to send us a contribution to these pages and which also contained some matter for the Medicine Hat Kennel Club. The letter was put amongst the letters to be brought up before that body, and afterwards filed away with their letters instead of being included in Kennel & Bench file and consequently overlooked, and was only found now when looking back for some data. Will Mr. Tanton accept a sincere apology and a promise that any further contributions will not be treated so scurvily? In congratulating us on our appointment as scribe, he says that although "old man depression" is still hanging on he feels that in a good many ways this is going to be a better year than we have had for some time. He believes that in our representative, Geo. Climo, we have a man, who both as a man and as a dog fancier, is second to none. He knows him to be fearless and a straight shooter and one that plays no favorites. L. E. Wize of Edmonton has a string of seven young Springers being trained by W. W. Thompson of Red Deer. Mr. Wize has proven his abilities in the bench department, having won "Best of Breed" with a Springer in 1931 in New York and making other numerous wins of almost equal merit. Now he is desirous of trying his hand in the field trial end of the game, and with several others has expressed his desire to have a field trial held in Alberta for Springers and Cocker. One of the staunchest C.K.C. members is Albert Figg, and he is now rejoicing in the recovery of his son Allister. For several months Allister was a very sick young man, but we are glad to know that he is now well on the road to recovery. We have two or three very valuable members of our club here that I think are again becoming C.K.C. members. Our very good friend, Mr. Tyrrell of Bottrel, says: "Can we raise dogs in Alberta?" and proceeds to answer that pertinent query. He says: "We'll tell the world." Canadian "Ch. Cossack Michael," bred by Cossack Kennels Regd. of Bottrel, Alberta, carried all before him at the Bench Show staged in connection with the Mardi Gras Festival and Carnival, staged by the Louisiana Kennel Club at New Orleans, U.S.A., defeating the cream of the United States, with over 300 dogs benched, including many champions and international champions. Old "Mike," now seven years old, trained for racing, coursing, sleighing, show dog and coyote killer, took the measure of them all. Described by Judge Spence of Dallas, Texas, as truly a wonder, the like of which he had never seen before, a hound that seemed to be made of iron, he nosed out the celebrated Great Dane, "Bohrer's Hellen," for premier honors, America's greatest Boston Terriers, "Ch. Million Dollar Kid Boots," who after a great tussle beat "Int. Ch. Globe Glowing Ember," the first occasion on record that this truly great bitch has suffered defeat. She went down before the great Canadian Russian aristocrat. After the show, Canadian "Ch. Cossack Michael," adorned with his rosette, a victor's floral wreath of Mardi Gras colors round his neck, presented by the Louisiana Kennel Club, became the guest of honor of the famous Roosevelt Hotel. Installed on a gorgeous wine-colored Oriental rug in the lobby of the hostelry, hundreds of

Once a Week for your dog's sake—do this.

Every dog has his off-days. Some have more off-days than others. The quickest way to cure a doggy ailment is to give Karswood Dog Powders. But you can—and for your dog's sake you should—do better than this. Every Sunday morning give your dog a Karswood Dog Powder—regularly, without fail. This is what the World's leading dog breeders are doing to keep their dogs fit and happy all the year round.

Karswood Dog Powders are an entirely new improved dog remedy, containing specific nerve foods and organic salts which are not contained in the dog's ordinary food, but which are necessary to the perfect functioning of his system. Get a packet to-day—and give your dog a powder next Sunday morning. Miss F. Ethel Dixon, owner of the famous Champions Karzadoc, Honeystake, etc., etc., says: "Karswood Dog Powders are now a regular part of my Kennel equipment."

Here is another enthusiastic testimonial:

"Splendid Tonic and Conditioner."

I sent to you some time ago for some of your well-known Karswood Dog Powders, and found them of great benefit. As I dare say you know, I am an exhibitor at most of the leading shows, and I have to keep the dogs in good show condition, and I find a weekly Karswood a splendid tonic and conditioner. I am enclosing a photo of a few prize-winning Cocker, which speaks for itself.

citizens, guests and carnival revellers, flocked to pay the Alberta-bred wolf-hound homage. "Mike" is well known in Calgary, especially to dog fanciers and racing fans, having on many occasions appeared at Victoria Park. There are three sons of this celebrated hound resident in Calgary, the property of Mrs. H. Phillips, Mrs. Manning, Jr., and Mrs. Procter respectively, and if you want to see real dogs, boys, go and look them over. "Mike" is now the property of Mrs. D. Christman of Shreveport, Louisiana, U.S.A. Walter A. Thompson, who is very pleased with our efforts and especially of the picture of his favorite Labrador, promises some real authentic stuff on the Labrador breed. He says there are probably more intelligent and really constructive facts to be written on the Labrador than any other breed today, and as he has been collecting this data for twenty years, we can look forward with pleasure to his article. Mr. Thompson says the city of Red Deer is in despair over the dog nuisance, and, of course, the police dog is blamed. Apparently he is "Peck's Bad Boy" now, and must suffer irrespective of his deserts. They have advanced the 1933 licenses to $3.00 for males and $5.00 for females, and, I believe, they have installed a dog catcher. I also notice that none of the "City Fathers" own a dog, so perhaps there's the reason. Mrs. M. E. Render of the Wymund Kennels sends word of the purchase of a two-year-old Scottie female, "Daisy O'Balgownie," from a fancier in Victoria, B.C. "Daisy" has been purchased as a brood only, but Mrs. Render is so delighted with her that she will be put in the shows—if not in whelp. She thinks they are great terriers and hopes soon to have a number of them. Wires are all sold out, and others are anxiously awaited. Several fanciers have lately visited the new kennels and have expressed their appreciation of the layout. From Mrs. M. Earnshaw of Calgary, a newcomer to these columns, comes the news that she only has one dog now, her red Chow Chow, "Ch. Ching Sun Tee," which she bred in England nearly five years ago and won with at the Crystal Palace there when he was ten months old. He has never been beaten in Canada, and at the Royal Winter Fair Show in Toronto in 1930, his last eastern show, he won for Best of Breed, and another of Mrs. Earnshaw's won Winners Dogs over a large class, including some well-known American Chows who had come up for the show. The Winners Dogs, next March in Buffalo, beat the dog, a champion, who won the American-bred Cup at the Madison Garden Show in New York the month before. This dog Mrs. Earnshaw sold to New Jersey before coming west. She has now leased "H. M. H. Ming Toi," a dark red granddaughter of "Ch. Chang of Kang Shi" and imported from the States by Mr. H. Hansford of Rosetown, Sask. Puppies are expected from this bitch by "Ch. Ching Sun Tee" about May 1st and great things are expected from this litter as from an earlier litter there were some good ones. This dog's pedigree contains fourteen English Champions. From Trevallen Kennels comes the news that at the time of writing, although they still have a heavy blanket of snow, there are absolute signs and sounds of spring. The partridges have paired after strenuous days of fighting and calling. The crows have returned and after a few more warm days, the rapidly beating pinions will herald the arrival of the ducks. Associated with the return of the wildfowl is the renewed interest in the sporting dogs and this is already quite evident judging by the general tone of recent correspondence received. The puppies are always a source of interest and nothing benefits more from the warm spring sunshine than the little ones just able to crawl from the nest, under the mother's jealous supervision. During the next few weeks we are expecting what might be classed as an unusual addition to our Western sporting dogs, in the form of a litter of Beagles. The comparatively recent arrival of the jack rabbit in the vicinity of the kennels is responsible for the introduction of these sporty little hounds. We were fortunate in having presented to us by our relative, Freeman Lloyd, who is president of the Merry Beagles Club, New York, a particularly handsome "couple" with the view to raising a "cry", so we hope that next October the delightful autumn mornings will have an added attraction and the neighbouring ploughman will be able to rest his team and listen to the merry bugling notes as the "cry" jumps its quarry from the form. The dog hound is "Giraldo's Commodore" from the famous pack owned by Mrs. Hartley Dodge. In 1930 he was placed third at the Westminster Show, New York. The bitch, "Thorpe Satchville Ransome of Giralda," was imported from England by Mrs. Dodge after having been hunted in the well-known Leicestershire pack of Otto Paget. Among the old sporting proverbs there is none with more truth than "Once a dog lover, always a dog lover." A decade ago the name of George Ryman was one of the most important amongst the bird-dog fraternity throughout the vast continent. His handsome setters were unapproachable in the grouse thickets, and it was well known that a dog had to have good looks and type before he would consider entering him in his exclusive kennels. Somehow the future of business life became too strong during those remarkable years—the 20's, and this veteran left the dogs and the woods, leaving only his reputation behind him. But although the lights of the city were bright, the drumming of the grouse was ever in his ears. Last Fall he was unable to resist the thrill of witnessing that which is dear to all sportsmen's hearts—the dog on point and his old love proved too strong for him and now he is busy laying the foundations of a new kennel with which he has fond hopes of regaining his discarded popularity. There is significance in the fact that in reconstructing his kennels he comes to Alberta for his stock. Recent shipments to him include some young bitches in whelp, and the dog with which we gained the "Winners" ribbon last July.

From D. B. Young of Shaughnessy comes the welcome news that the Southern Alta. Kennel Club are going to stage their show on July 1st, subject to receiving the necessary Kennel Club sanction. It looked at one time as if this was not going to be possible, as although a dance was put on in Lethbridge to help the funds, this proved a liability instead of an asset. However, sink or swim, they are now going ahead, and it is to be hoped that all fanciers within reach will rally to their assistance with entries. Mr. Younger, whose activities are confined mostly to sporting dogs, has at the present time in his kennel Springers, Setters and Pointers, and he also owns a flat-coated Retriever. Of the latter he says they are bound to become popular as they are very obedient and great workers. Two bitches, Springers, are due to whelp in the near future, one an experiment in in-breeding and the other in Line breeding. Two of the younger Springers are being prepared for the shows, both are good ones, and he gives our local Springer expert notice to be prepared. A nice English Setter bitch was acquired from H. P. Saunders of Calgary, and she will also be at the "Hat" show, also the Retriever. A Wire-haired Terrier is nursing a nice litter of two dogs and a bitch and are doing fine. Mr. Young sold his German Wire-haired Pointer to H. P. Saunders of Calgary, but he still has one of her male pups left, but as it was advertised in Kennel & Bench it may go any day. A visit was paid Mr. Young by "Vic" Williams, "Duke" Wellington and E. F. Brierly a short time since, and a miniature dog show was held, these visits being in Mr. Young's estimation all for the good of the fancy. At the Lethbridge show to be held in the Arena, Hugh Leslie of Rosetown will hand out the honors and all who know this genial Scot will know that he knows his dogs and calls them as he sees them. "Vic" Williams has gone to the Coast so they will be without his help, but Jimmy Clelland has been appointed to take "Vic's" place and things are going right ahead. Meetings are being held weekly, and at the last one the "evergreen" fancier, E. F. Brierly, gave an interesting address on the Collie, its origin and uses, which proved both interesting and instructive. Mr. Young's Springer, "Piyami Sequence," has presented him with a litter of five sired by "Piyami Prince" an upstanding dog. Both sire and dam are typical Springers and great Retrievers, so something good may turn out from this litter. Two Airedale pups, two Wire-haired Terrier pups and one Springer dog have left these kennels for new homes during the past two weeks and orders are in hand for two more Springers from this last litter. Another English Setter has been added to the kennel and there should be some fine Setter pups from these two bitches by fall. Mr. Young had the great misfortune to lose his very good Pointer bitch last week, cause unknown. She was a great bird dog and brood bitch and has left some young stock behind. Mr. Brierly has some extra nice Collies in his kennels at the present time, the best of which will be taking in the Summer Shows. "Tommy" Walker, who also sponsors this breed, has some that will have to be reckoned with. Jimmy Clelland, who took Vic Williams' place as secretary, has both German Shepherds and Irish Terriers and reports a nice litter of "Micks" from the bitch purchased from Vic Williams.

Notes from Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. B. R. KNOWLES, Winnipeg, Man.

IT might be of interest to readers of Kennel & Bench if I outlined briefly some data that has just recently come to hand relative to distemper.

Major Dunkin, of the British Distemper Research Fund, was visiting this Continent in 1931, and a conference was arranged with him on June 3rd. The conference was held in Toronto at the office of the Ontario Research Foundation. There were present Major Dunkin, Drs. Speakman, Wickware, Hadwen, G. Watkin, Dr. Watson, Dominion Pathologist, Dr. Hilton, Veterinary Director General, Mr. Sharpe, President of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Ass'n., and Mr. Harding, President of the Fox Exhibition Ass'n.

Major Dunkin gave a very comprehensive review of the distemper researches. Carried out under the auspices of the Medical Research Council, and drew attention to the many difficulties and failures which must be overcome in research in virus diseases. He pointed out the necessity of constant control of many factors, and the exclusion of others, before progress could be expected in intensive research with highly infectious diseases.

The manifestations and peculiarities of the disease or diseases affecting foxes were fully explained to Major Dunkin, as also the measures taken to suppress them.

Advantage was taken of Major Dunkin's promise to endeavor to confirm the work in Canada by forwarding to him at Mill Hill, England, samples of virus obtained from foxes suspected to be affected with distemper.

These samples were dried and packed in accordance with Major Dunkin's directions and arrived in good order. Major Dunkin and his colleagues took prompt action and a cable was soon received stating the virus was infective for the dog, and the dog was protected with dog distemper anti-serum.

Four reports subsequently received showed conclusively that fox virus gave strong serological reactions with distemper virus; that it infected two susceptible puppies with dog distemper, and that dog distemper anti-serum neutralized the virus.

Dr. Watson later says: "It has been determined that a highly infectious disease occurring in foxes and in mink is caused by a filterable virus apparently closely related to the virus causing distemper of dogs. It would appear, however, that foxes and mink, also dogs, may suffer and die from infections which in their clinical manifestations cannot as yet be satisfactorily differentiated from those caused by the filterable virus of distemper, but which, nevertheless, are the result of a different virus or disease entity. The whole problem, therefore, especially as regards vaccination and immunization, is an exceedingly complicated one and one that requires very extensive research and investigation.

Wire Haired Fox Terriers—Hugh Allen, Antrim Kennels, is grooming a particularly good seven months' bitch, "Antrim Patricia," for the coming show. She is a splendid specimen and shows to perfection. Mr. Allen says she is the best Wire ever bred in the Antrim Kennels. Her dam, "Antrim Wedding Belle," is again in whelp to "Yorak Sun Fire."

"Antrim Flower Girl" is nursing a nice litter of puppies by "Yorak Sun Fire," a dog that is making a name for himself, as a sire of real Wires. On Good Friday, I dropped into the Fort Garry Kennel Club Matinee Show for a few minutes (we had company at the house) and another of his get, a typical specimen owned by J. Woodend, went not only to best Wire but later, I am informed, to best in show. Harry Baker, too, of Bakerdale Kennels, has several good puppies by the same dog and it looks as though there will not alone be some real competition but that Judge T. K. McKenzie is going to have a real job on his hands. And we must not forget the Smooths, they will be up against Mr. Pickard's "Stall Superb," Mr. Sikorski's "Ch. Danby Mogul" and let us hope some entries from the Mutual Kennels, Moose Jaw, and of course other kennels, too.

G. D. Anderson, Provincial Contributing Editor for the Maritime Provinces, writes very appreciatively of "Ch. Danby Mogul" in the April issue of Kennel & Bench. He says: "'Mogul' had an enviable record in the ring, and has also established for himself a stud record that is hard to beat. His last litter out of 'Halogonian'—are indeed a nice looking lot. The two dog pups are particularly promising and appear to have all of their sire's good points and then some. It was only Mr. Willis' enthusiasm over these young studs that tempted him to part with their sire."

Cocker Spaniels—Harry Joule reports that "Wimaca Lady of Quality" is nursing a real litter of puppies by "Kimbourne Laddie" and that his "Dusky Belle of Chalvey" is showing "heavy in whelp" to "Kimbourne Laddie." She is a particularly nice bitch and it is anticipated there should be good results from her mating with "Kimbourne Laddie." Mr. Joule is quite enthusiastic about the puppies "Lady of Quality" is nursing, particularly one that is blue roan in color.

German Shepherd Dogs—Mrs. Matthews has recently purchased a young dog, "Derich von Stephanitz," from Mrs. A. B. Calow, Stephanitz Kennels, Toronto. "Derich" is just getting over the effects of his long journey and the separation from his old kennel mates. He is a good "mover" and should show to good advantage when he has put on a little weight. For a young dog he has quite an enviable show record and has been awarded reserve winners no less than five times. We shall be interested in his record as a stud dog and believe it is just possible he is the dog for which Mrs. Matthews has been looking.

Mr. Morris has been in communication with Major Baldwin, Picardy Kennels, relative to a young dog from Dr. Funk's, Hans-Schutting Kennels, Germany. He has won sixty-one first prizes and also two challenge certificates.

Carl Tangstad reports the purchase of a young dog "Sieger Erich von Grafenwerth," "Sieger Cito Bergerslust" and "Saalwehn Speeding." Carl is very much pleased with him and, well, he knows a German Shepherd.

Pomeranians—H. Bewley is very pleased to have received communication from St. Louis, relative to the show records made by the Quality Pomeranians purchased from time to time from his kennels by that enthusiastic fancier, Mrs. Griswold. Unfortunately I have not yet been able to obtain an account of the records, but expect to do so in the near future. It must be a pleasure to hear from appreciative and satisfied clients. If breeders could only visualize the numbers of fanciers who turn out to pass on every new dog that comes to town, I think that if they are looking for more sales and repeat orders, they will send them "as advertised" or "as described in their letters."

Boston Terriers—Geo. Duncan reports the sale of a real quality, perfectly marked puppy to J. H. Westbrook, Lethbridge, Alberta. He has been registered as "Trapystok Rex." Another one of the same litter that he considers a real one is being registered as "Trapystok Beware." A female of the same litter was purchased by Mr. Harvey of St. James, Manitoba, and yet another female of the same litter, "Trapystok Fairy Queen," is the property of Miss E. Knowles. They are by "Trapystok Headlight," ex "Trapystok Hagerty Firefly," a combination of "Sigourney King" and "Hagerty" blood lines.

A. H. Kirby sends me a very interesting letter. He says he took a fancy to the Boston Terrier two years ago because of their beautiful markings and frisky, peppy nature. He purchased "Valente's Trixie," a litter sister to "Ch. Valente's Aviator." "Trixie" has been bred three times to "Winchester Joy Caster," raising in all ten fully marked puppies. She was bred again February 24th to "Winchester Joy Caster" and looks very promising. His "Kirby's Sensation," one of the ten puppies, has been entered in ten classes, in four Matinee Shows, and has been awarded Best of Breed twice, besides receiving nine firsts and one second. "Kirby's Dandy Boy," a litter brother, has been shown twice, on both occasions being awarded first prize. A litter sister, seven and one half pounds at five months, went to first puppy, first novice and reserve winners.

Mr. Kirby so far is fully satisfied with his venture, but doesn't intend to stop until he has caught up to his brother Boston fanciers who own champions. The record of all his breeding operations is always kept up-to-date, with his registrations all in order. He further reports the sale of "Kirby's Dandy Boy" to A. C. Wemmer of Winnipeg and the registration of his remaining female puppies as "Kirby's Bonnie Lassie" and "Kirby's Lady."

WEST HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIERS

By ALEC McCLOY Victoria, B.C.

NOTICE in Canadian Fancy in Kennel and Bench my friend Mr. Walter Reeves refers to this breed as White West Highlands, an error often made. He mentions the breed at Pontree, Skye, where the dogs were grey, and no doubt he is correct, as in some parts of Argyleshire, especially on the Islands, these dogs were interbred with Cairns by gamekeepers, who simply desired to produce a working terrier. The true West Highland Terrier, however, is a distinct breed and their breeding was kept jealously guarded by several old families. The Malcolm family of Poltalloch have records of them going back 300 years, and there are also records of same date at Inverailort Castle (now Mrs. Cameron Head's). The Poltalloch Terrier of ancient days was creamy and was kept so, as the Malcolm family did not wish them confused with the Roseneath Terrier kept at one of the Duke of Argyle's castles (Roseneath) and which terriers were white but had curly, woolly coats. In 1904 several ladies and gentlemen met in London, England to consider the formation of a club and to draw up a standard. Miss McLaren (afterwards Mrs. Blackburn) of Ostaig, Skye, was given the task of drawing up a tentative standard, and such at a further meeting in 1906 was finally adopted and the name fixed as W. H. W. Terrier, and one of the important personages there was Colonel (afterwards Lord) Malcolm. On the Colonel's return to the castle the kennel manager was informed that in future the Poltalloch terriers were to be white, and I happened to be there when the orders arrived at the kennels. It took many years to eliminate the creamy tint in the coats and the white coats obtained by selective breeding at first were very soft in texture. Miss McLaren of Ostaig, Skye, the McLeods and other families had white terriers at the time of Mr. Reeve's visit, also the famous Mocassin strain of Inverness, owned by Mr. McKenzie, I remember the early terriers at Poltalloch and Loch Sween 45 years ago were bigger dogs, wide in ear carriage, longer in back and tail, lighter in eye and not straight in front, in fact a characteristic of the breed at that time was the left front foot turned out and presumed to cast earth behind them when digging. The supposed first dog to conform to the 1906 standard was "Ch. Morven," owned by Colin Young, and this pillar of the breed turns up in the back pedigree of most present day winners. I remember my grandfather kept his own stud book of this breed and he died 30 years ago at the age of 84. This stud book went away back to dogs long before "Ch. Morven's" time. As a boy I was out on the hills with these game terriers after foxes in the lambing time. We usually waited until the dog fox and vixen were out of the cairn (or den) and then put in a terrier to bolt or kill the cubs. On one occasion, after putting a terrier in, we heard a great fight going on underground and then after a while, silence. We whistled and called for the terrier (a bitch) to come out but got no results. I was sent down the mountain to shoot a rabbit, and on returning this was opened and held to the mouth of the hole, expecting the strong scent would bring her out, but again no results. We finally went for crowbars, picks and spades and started to dig down. After many hours' labor we found the run sloped down and then dropped three feet on a rock face into the den, and to our amazement there was the two old foxes, two cubs and the terrier bitch all dead. She had put up a great one-sided scrap and was horribly torn, but had her jaws fixed in a death grip on the dog fox's throat. In these days a shy Westie was an unknown thing in Poltalloch strain. My uncle, Jas. Fraser, now 92 and living on Poltalloch Estate, bred many fine specimens, and even in the early days got $125 for pups. What was known as the Dunollie (near Oban), bitches were much prized 40 or 50 years ago. The sire of Morven was Brogach, and his sire, a dog called "Sidier" and out of a bitch called "Calhaig". Another outstanding old-timer was "Balloch Bhan" (White Boy), who sired "Ch. Baughfell Talisker," and was himself out of the fine bitch "Ch. Ginagach." Many years ago a fine dog, "Ch. Ross-shire Hellvellyn," was sold for $1,500, a big price for a dog in Scotland in these days. "Ch. Lothian Defender" was sold for $500 as a pup at first show exhibited. "Ardoch Beauty" was sold for $500 and was by "Ch. Athol," whose photo I have. Another fine dog was "Glenmhor Model," sold for $1,500. A dog named "Dunvegan Heath" was sold to England, I remember, and because of the name being disallowed there, he was renamed "Chief of Childwick" and did a tremendous lot of good at stud in correcting the soft white coats. Dunvegan is in Skye, referred to by Mr. Reeves. An outstanding dog in Wales was "Ch. Highclere Rhâlet" by "Ch. Moress" by "Ch. Morova." Rhâlet was seldom defeated and was a game dog with snow-white coat and more conform to present day standard. I have a young bitch in my kennels descended right from him. It took me many years to get almost black eyes, black eyelids and black toenails on these white dogs. This breed is no new fashion and, unlike the Scottish Terrier (often erroneously called Aberdeens), which, according to the published book of pedigrees, only seems to go back in authentic pedigrees 56 years, the West Highland White Terrier goes back 300 years. The Inverailort Castle strain produced many fine dogs, including "Inverailort Roy," the fine bitch "Sperlach," by the great dog "Ch. Kiltie," and I have a faded photo of his sire and dam, "Cannoch" and "Dileas," both with fronts like a daschund. These few rambling reminiscences may be of interest to modern fanciers of the breed in Canada and dispel any ideas that the West Highland White Terrier is a freak albino of the Cairn Terrier. He is the "airthe dogge" of which James I ordered two pairs sent from Argyllshire to France as a present to the King and with orders that they be sent in two different ships so that they come to "nae skaith" (no harm). He is indeed in character, bearing and gameness a gallant Highland gentleman. The aforementioned Lord Malcolm died recently at the family seat, aged over 90, and before succeeding to his title was the tallest man in the House of Commons. He was very fond of the terriers at Poltalloch and of their ancient lineage. The Malcolm family goes back over 500 years, but it is uncertain when and where, in the dim distant past ages, these little terriers sprung from. D. McKellar of Oakville, Ontario, was born near Poltalloch and has imported and bred many fine specimens, as C.K.C. show records will prove. With the great popularity of the Scottie and Cairn today, it is more than likely that the "Westie" will soon spring into popularity again, as they are of a gay, happy and affectionate nature and true pals.

PEKINGESE

FOR SALE—PUPPIES WHEPLED DECEMBER, 1932. Sire, Ch. Kingwin Kao Shing. Dam, Wee Bud of Chinatown, Imp. Kingwin Kennels, 2134 Halifax Street, Regina, Sask.

James Bain, chauffeur to the late Professor Turton Price, outbid Isaac Sharpe for "Pilot of Crombie." The price, 133 guineas.

Now we learn that not only "Pilot of Crombie," Britain's greatest English Setter, was purchased for Dr. A. A. Mitten of Philadelphia, but that "Diamond of Crombie" and "Duchess of Crombie," two other famous winners, were also purchased for the genial Philadelphia sportsman.

WELLAND KENNEL CLUB OFFICERS

The officers chosen by Welland Kennel Club to take care of the club's affairs this year are: Pres., Thos. Wilson; Vice-Pres., Mrs. H. Peel. Executive—Messrs. Geo. Smith, J. N. McMurray, J. Wright, F. Lane, H. Lampman, P. Edwards, G. Bartz, P. Steglich and Dr. H. H. Hodgson.

The club had planned for a Summer Show to be held on Saturday, July 1st, but Hamilton Kennel Club will be functioning on that date. Perhaps the Welland Club will find desirable dates later.

CANADIANS DOWN CALIFORNIA WAY

Saskatoon fanciers will remember Mrs. A. R. Jordan, who, after her husband's death, packed her dogs in the family car and motored to California. Mrs. Jordan is still interested in her dogs and amongst her Pekes are Hioo, a son of Ahoo, who is a son of the Pacific Coast "Champion Lon Chaney O'Mi."

Mrs. E. A. Bonner, formerly of Toronto, and a daughter of Prof. T. C. Rogers, late of the Ontario Agricultural College, of Guelph, has some promising Boston Terriers. Mrs. Bonner is planning a trip to Canada this year to take in some of the shows on the several summer circuits. The Bonner Bostons come from the well known Ralmin Kennels.

Richard Smith, son of the late Richard Smith, well known hotel man at Seaforth, Ont., who owned a kennel of St. Barnards, was a visitor at the Riverside Dog Show, and sends his regards to Canadian friends through the media of Kennel and Bench.

The Canadian Champion Irish Terrier "Madrona Carry On," now owned by H. H. Heath, California, was nosed out of top honors at the Irish Terrier Club Specialty Show of California, by "Ch. Bodigo Bobby."

Mr. Griffith Bonner, late of Sherbrooke, P.Q., had the misfortune to lose his Boston Terrier "Tar Boy" (a son of "Hit The Deck"), in the recent California earthquake.

"E 'AS IT"

Leatherneck Kennels of Long Beach, California, introduced a son of Canadian and American Champion Bulldog "Cloverdale Birthday" to the judges at the English Bulldog Specialty Show at Hollywood, on Sunday, April 2nd, the youngster carried the rather intriguing name of "Leatherneck 'E 'As It," and he lived up to the prophecies made at his christening by winning open, winners, best of winners and best of breed.

GOES BACK TO "GOD'S COUNTRY"

Dr. H. A. MacDiarmid, formerly of Winnipeg, Man., has been a veterinary surgeon for the past 15 years, and for some time back has been located at Pulver City, California, but has "heard the call" and, we believe, he will soon be back in Western Canada again.

Notes from Old Quebec

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
R. H. WADDELL, Doval, P.Q.

THE month of May sets the ball a-rolling with C.K.C. Shows in Montreal and I do hope that the Montreal Kennel Association will be fortunate with their venture. It's up to all the owners of dogs in this old province of ours to give them all the support they can, and to make this show the success it should be.

The list of judges needs no comment from me but will commend itself to all exhibitors. See advertising columns for complete list.

In my note last month I made reference to the number of Beagles that were exhibited at a recent evening show and it is no surprise to know that a Beagle Club has now been formed about two weeks ago, with Recorder J. A. Thomin as President. The formation of this club will do a lot of good for the game little sporting dogs and under the able guidance of Recorder Thomin should further the interests of the Beagles.

An important transfer of a Scottish Terrier that will make his presence felt is the sale of "Ch. Haddon Julius" by Mrs. Batti of Guelph, to Mr. "Guy" Manby of Montreal. This is an outstanding Terrier and a bone-bred one. By Mrs. Batti and was shown fearlessly and always gave a good account of himself in the hottest competition. I congratulate Mr. Manby on his foresight in securing this dog.

Mr. Weighnam of the Wallworth Kennels has purchased a Scottish Terrier bitch, in whelp, from J. N. McKim, through the agency of A. Collins.

Scottish Terrier breeders will be interested to know that R. W. Picken of Barhead, Scotland, is in Montreal at the moment on a business trip. Mr. Picken's "Hagha O' Fashion" was runner up to Mr. Chapman's "Heathier Hail" at the last show of the Caledonian Society in Edinburgh.

It may not be generally known that Mr. Picken shipped a dog to a client in Montreal some time ago, and by size, this dog could go for championship honors.

Understand that Frank Ross, President of the Oka Sand & Gravel Co., has imported two Springer Spaniel puppies. No doubt they will be in good time for the Ladies' Show in September.

Irish Terrier breeders will be pleased to know that before long there will be an English Champion in Montreal and one that I have always thought a judge of. He is certainly bred right and will give our Ontario friends some food for thought when he is exhibited in Canada.

Mrs. G. M. Pitfield of Carletonville has some wonderful puppies in her kennels, sired by her own dog, "St. Margaret's Marquis." This dog was Best of Breed at the Toronto Kennel Club's Show on Easter Friday. To gain this award he had to beat a Sealyham bitch, bred by me, and now owned by Miss M. O. Boulter of St. Catharines, Ont.

In September last, it was my pleasure to import for Miss Boulter, the Sealyham Terrier bitch, "Doddie Dairymaid," and two weeks later she presented her owner with five puppies sired by "Samphire Specialist." Sealyham breeders will note that this breeding is hard to beat, as both "Dairymaid" and "Specialist" have been very favourably commented on by Roland Buckley.

The Montreal "West Highlanders" made a brave stand at Toronto on Easter Friday. Mr. Newman's "Donallic's Clansman" being Winner's Dog, and Mr. Creighton's "Glenyan Warrior," Reserve, but "Clansman" failed to Mrs. W. Neilson's imported bitch, "Burnwell Dinkie" for Best of Breed.

The writer had the pleasure of being in the prize list with the Scottish Terrier "Glen Garrett Treasure," which is sired by "The Masher" out of "Seren-sall Portia." "The Masher" is the litter brother of "Ch. Heather Fashion Hail." A puppy out of "Portia" has just been acquired by a Connecticut client. The sire is "Heather Marten," which is sired by "Fashion Hail." No doubt, Mr. Greene of Ottawa and Mr. Hoy of Saskatoon, will be interested to know of "Treasure's" winnings, as both own litter sisters.

Mr. Breakley of Breakerville sold three Smooth Fox Terriers to Mr. Bailey of Ottawa. Mr. Roberts Mitchell of Granby, purchased one of them from Mr. Bailey.

It is with regret that I chronicle the loss of the Cairn Terrier bitch which J. N. McKim secured from Mrs. Mason of Winnipeg.

Bulldogs are going ahead in Montreal. The formation of the English Bulldog Club of Montreal has gone over in good strength and have some well known fanciers at the head of affairs. How Presidents are: W. Odgen and an old friend, Mr. Malovitz; President, W. Salmon; Vice-President, E. M. Wright; the Secretary is R. Abbott, 486 Ash Avenue, Montreal.

The Club's purpose is to promote the advancement of the breed, to provide a means of co-operation in matter of common interest and to encourage good fellowship among all dog lovers. The near future should see a Bulldog show from this club.

Mrs. Enright informs me that the ladies are going ahead quietly with their arrangements for their forthcoming show in September, and that the judges have already been appointed.

The newly formed Mount Royal Kennel Society held a very successful evening show in the Mount Royal Hotel on Wednesday, 19th April, and while the attendance could have been better, nevertheless the competition at times was pretty stiff. The judging of Best in Show by A. Collins was followed with great interest and when he handed over the prize to Mrs. Enright it was a very popular decision. Mrs. Enright's Cocker Spaniel was followed by Mr. Barnes' Boston Terrier as runner up. This Society hope to put on a points show later on in the year.

It is some time since we heard from Mr. Placey of Sherbrooke, but it is evident that Springer Spaniels still take up his attention as the letter I have from him tells me that his "Ch. Belvidere Florrie" whelped five males and two females on February 2nd. The sire is his own triple "Ch. Inveresk Collymore."

E. D. Knight of Charleston, West Virginia, believes in sticking to the "Belmont" line of breeding, as a bitch which he secured from Mr. Placey out of "Int. Ch. Belmont Countess" was bred to "Ch. Moris Duke of Errol," who is a son of Mr. Placey's famous "Chancellor." The outcome of this mating was eight flashy marked puppies. The Belmont Kennels stud dogs have been visited by quite a number of females recently. We hope to see Mr. Placey with some of his young stock at the Montreal show on May 20th.

F. J. Rowe has been so long associated with the German Shepherd dogs that to think of him with any other breed seems ridiculous, but it appears that his "Noonie" has been so lonely that he thought it wise to get him a companion, so he bought a Japanese Spaniel puppy from Mrs. W. G. Ross. This puppy's picture appeared in the Christmas Number of Kennel and Bench. Mr. Rowe is very proud of his purchase, and so well he may be as "Noonie" has all the markings of his wonderful sire "Ch. Chiyu."

Maritime News

By Provincial Contributing Editor
G. D. ANDERSON, Halifax, N.S.

I WAS indeed pleased to receive copies of the Bermuda newspapers which gave the details of an all-breed show recently held there. The number entered was, if I am not mistaken, about one hundred and fifty, and a great many breeds were represented. The sporting dogs were not present in large numbers though several breeds were entered. The Terriers and Toys were well represented, with a goodly showing of practically all breeds. Of interest to Canadians, and particularly those of the Maritimes, is the fact that "Haliburton Pat III," an Irish Setter exported by Henry McLeod of Halifax to the Hon. Thomas Falls of Bermuda, romped through his breed classes and the Sporting Group with little difficulty, and later won the Murray Cup for the best dog owned and shown by a Bermudian. He was displaced for the Spratt's Cup for best in show by a very attractive Wire Fox Terrier owned and shown by Jock Pitt. The officiating judges were Mrs. Maurice Bonn, Mr. E. and Mrs. Campion Acheson of London, England, and New York City, and H. Willoughby Sharp of Vermuda.

It appears to me that Bermuda should be a real good prospective market for our dogs. This is particularly true when one remembers the adverse exchange conditions affecting the American breeders and the favorable exchange rates in our case. For those who may be interested in advertising in Bermuda I will say that the papers I received were "The Mid Ocean" and "The Royal Gazette and Colonist Daily." Both of these papers are published in Hamilton, Bermuda.

May I suggest that if any Canadians are fortunate enough to sell dogs in Bermuda that they give to the Bermuda purchaser a year's subscription to Kenel & Bench. The merits of such a policy are apparent.

R. B. Laskey of St. John, N.B., sent his usual newsy letter and says that in New Brunswick the Terriers are now riding the crest of the sales wave, with both Scottish and Fox Terriers in the lead. Ronald Vaughan is skimming the cream from his Garwood Kennels and disposing of them at his own price. His latest sale was that smart Smooth, "Ch. Garwood Tip Top," who has now gone to the U.S.A. "Tip Top" is a first-class Terrier who has yet to meet defeat in his classes. In Canada he was Winners Dog each time shown, and at the last Royal Winter Fair in Toronto he went Best of Breed, where competition was indeed keen. "Tip Top" is now in his early prime, being just under two years old. He was sired by a son of "Ch. Herman Heir Borlase Huntsman" (now deceased), whose dam was the sterling bitch, "Borlase Spawwife," owned by Rev. Mr. Skinner. "Tip Top's" dam was "Danby Marjorie." These same parents also begat "Ch. Garwood Major," who was exported to the U.S. about a year ago. I might mention here that "Tip Top's" sister was quite recently sold to a Western Canadian fancier.

"Tip Top" is a Terrier of the right size. He is stylish and attractive, well-balanced, keen and sound. Just a week or two ago he was shipped to his new owner, T. C. Hudmon of Atlanta, Ga., who wrote that he was well pleased with his purchase and felt that the price was very fair. This Terrier, now in professional hands, is entered in five Southern shows. Already he has five points toward his American title, having annexed the "Winners" and "Best of Breed" ribbons at a recent Birmingham, Ala., show.

It was news to me that Geo. T. Kane of Saint John, N.B., owned the first pair of Boston Terriers seen in his own home town. A bitch, "Kammera's Flirt," was one of the first pair; she came from Charlie Kammerer of Boston, one of the originals who drew up the first standard of the breed in the U.S.A. and also helped to organize the first Boston Terrier Club. He was also the owner of the long known Dorchester Kennels in Jamaica Plains, Mass.

About twenty years ago Alf. Redmond and Jack MacDonald, both of Halifax, owned and bred Bostons. At that time we think the best Boston show dog in the Maritimes was "Driscoll's Spider," a handsome, well-marked Terrier owned by Mrs. Le B. Driscoll. He was a typical son of the then famous "Ch. Dallen's Spider," who, we regret, was not used more and to better bitches.

George T. Kane, James Latimer, the brothers Tom and Harry Short, were Saint John's earliest breeders of the Boston. These were all active before the Great War days. Of this quartette "George" is the only Boston exhibitor today, although the others all own dogs.

Those who saw and admired Mr. Kane's show dog and sire "Shack" at the last C.K.C. fixture in St. John will be interested to know that he has a new owner in the person of Mrs. J. W. Bundick, Atlantic, Ga., who already speaks highly of his merits. "Shack" is an evenly marked, lovely balanced, rich seal brindle; a sound, good-moving Terrier with a commendable show record. He has been in the money at several specialty shows—Boston, Rhode Island, and Auburndale, Mass. Another American winner unshown here, bought and resold by "George" some weeks ago, was "Lane's Boy," who was sold to J. J. Moran, president of the Boston Terrier Club of Saint Louis, Mo. "Ch. Lord Brilliance" is the sire of this "Boy," whose dam was "Atlantic Baby Doll," owned by Chas. McNaughton, breeder of both dam and son. Two new Bostons now replace those sold by our veteran fancier. Both are medium weight, American-bred dogs. One a proven sire and stud is "Spindle City Flash," a fifteen-pound mahogany brindle, flashily marked son of "Joyce's Little Prince," who is one of New England's veteran show dogs. His dam, "Judea Bea," is a daughter of "Ringmount Tiny King, Jr." "Flash," bred by the noted Boston breeder, Mrs. L. Barret, can boast in addition to good color and markings, a big, flat skull, dark round eye, small ears, capital front, excellent feet and well-formed body. He stands and moves well. His other new purchase, a twelve-month-old uncropped puppy, is "Million Dollar Punch." A stylish fourteen-pound, well-marked fellow, with a pleasing flat, square skull, broad, short muzzle, good eyes, and nice body. He is a bright prospect, having the best of breeding, with "Million Dollar Ring" of the Dorchester Kennels for sire—none better bred. His dam, "Lento's Peggy," is also a fast show bitch. No Maritime fancier in this breed has better personal contact with the American fancy than our "George," to whom we wish the best of luck with his new ones.

The monthly shows as put on by the New Brunswick Kennel Club during the winter months were worth while because they have brought forward new dogs, shown us new puppies, new members and friends for the club, and made brighter the outlook for the annual C.K.C. show.

It seems almost an assured thing the N.B.K.C. annual show, their 25th Silver Jubilee fixture, will have three or four of our local judges officiating. We are fortunate in having four C.K.C. members as licensed judges in New Brunswick, all with long years of breeding experience and whom we feel sure can do justice to themselves and the fancy in the show ring. Why not!

In Nova Scotia we find a number of dogs changing ownership, some new ones being imported, and a fairly good local demand for puppies.

Eric Flowers recently sold a promising young Irish Setter dog to Harry Roper. Mr. Roper is an Irish enthusiast but has been quite unlucky with the breed and has lost several good ones during the past year or two. His present dog is developing nicely and will be in prime condition for our spring show, where he will doubtless make his presence felt.

Carleton Bowes, manager of Armdale House, and F. A. Groves, advertising manager for Eaton's, have each imported a Springer bred by A. McKim of Amherst, N.S. These are both promising puppies and they should in time do the breed some good in Halifax. They are litter mates and claim "Prince of Tautrowar" as their sire, and "Lovely Lady of Amherst" as their dam.

H. G. Stairs reports the sale of four male and three female Springer puppies out of "Romany Lass" by "Judge of Thorndean."

Jock Burns is more than pleased with a litter of seven dogs and two bitches out of his classy Irish Terrier matron, "Ch. Fermanagh Rusty Maid," and sired by Dan Currie's "Maritime Tony." The "Irish" apparently are not worried about the depression. We agree with you, Jock, they don't often come in bunches as nice as that.

The Haligonian Kennels recently shipped a red Cocker dog that owned Fred O'Connell as his breeder, to Mr. M. K. Pyke of the Northern Electric Co. in Montreal. This dog, "Golden Rod," is by "Overcross Firelight," out of "Garwood Trixie." He is about a year old and has developed nicely and will doubtless be "in the money" at future Upper Canadian shows.

At Glen Moir Kennels, J. D. Whiteley's Irish Water Spaniel, "Glen Moir Surprise," is being visited by "Pat." "Pat" was bred in the West and his breeding is not known by me at the moment of writing. He is owned by Commissioner Le Nause of the R.C.M.P. and is undoubtedly the best specimen of his breed in the Maritimes. He is exceptionally sound, has a wonderful coat, short back, perfect quarters, and head. He is well trained and works equally well on both water and land birds. It was indeed interesting to watch this dog work. He will do the breed some real good in the Maritimes if he has the stud opportunities that he deserves.

Lorne Teasdale of Dartmouth is very pleased with his Irish Setter bitch, "Witty Nora," which he recently imported from England. "Nora" is about two and a half years old and is thoroughly trained. She is by "Heathericks Malcolm" and out of "Rushbrook Norah" and boasts in her pedigree such ancestors as "Ch. Heathericks Friar," "Ch. Heathericks Dundee," "Ch. Coolfadda," "Ch. Tipperary Bhoy," and others equally well known.

Mr. Teasdale is now awaiting the arrival of a litter out of "Nora." She was mated to a noted English stud just previous to her departure for this country. He is also, daily, expecting to learn that an Irish Setter dog has been shipped to him from England. The dog in question is a very promising young, show-type stud who was sired by the famous "Ch. Jim O'Moy." This note should be of particular interest to the Irish fanciers in the East.

At Bluenose Kennels "Bluenose Bonnie Lass" is being visited by "Ch. Haldon Cruachan." "Lass" is ex "Gaisgill Maggie" Imp. and by "Ch. Haldon Cruachan." This inbreeding should produce something real good in Scotties.

A visit to W. G. Smith's kennels was indeed profitable. He informed me that "Maritime Mayflower" had recently been visited by "Broomhill Knockout," and that he expected some real Wires from this mating. This visit gave me the opportunity to view as nice a looking litter of Wires as I have ever seen. There were three dogs and two bitches in the litter and all were in wonderful condition and form for three-month-old puppies. They are by "Broomhill Knockout" out of "Queen Road White Collarlass."

F. W. Johnson, of Haligonian prefix, writes as follows:—

That smart, little, Smooth Fox Terrier, "Danby Model II," is in the pink of condition and never looked better than she does at the present time.

Word of her last litter by the "Champion Danby Mogul" has been received from the several owners, which would give the impression that there will be a nice show of Smooths for the contemplated Spring Show of the N.S.K.C.

Regret will be universal around Halifax at the passing of "Champion Nan Browne," that beautiful old Setter that gave so many Irish Setter fanciers so much good material.

"Nan" was brought to Halifax in 1927 and was the dam of that beautiful specimen, "Ch. Mike Haliburton," now owned by Mr. Eric Flowers.

She was eight years old and was sired by the famous "Terry of Boyne" out of "Sable of Ryhill."

For the past three years she had been owned by Mrs. F. W. Johnson, to whom she was a great companion, and her loss is keenly felt.

F. W. J. rejoices in the fact that he has a very promising puppy from "Nan's" last litter, a beautifully colored specimen with a glorious disposition, and one whom we hope will prove a worthy son of a worthy dam.

I want to advise the fancy that I am joining the great army of May 1st movers and that my old address will be no longer of use. Any mail addressed to P.O. Box 770 or care of the Nova Scotia Light and Power Co. at Halifax, will, however, be sure to reach me.

REPORT OF ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

MR. MACONCHIE: I think in a case like that there may be a future agreement between two parties concerned that the name may be used, with a request to Ottawa for that purpose.

MR. WILSON: That is what we want. I think this gentleman here will tell you, and I have tried to do that two or three times, and it can't be done.

MR. GUNDERSON: I might say, ladies and gentlemen, that it was done quite a number of years ago but discontinued.

MR. WILSON: Discontinued, I know it was.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. President, I would like to ask these persons if it is going to make any difference to the quality of the dog, carrying somebody else's prefix?

MR. MACONCHIE: Of course not.

MR. KYNOCH: Certainly not. It is an asset, that is all.

THE SECRETARY: Just a moment before you put it to the House. I would like Mr. Stockdale to allow his proposed amendment to read this way:

"Any person may register for his, her or their use the name of their kennel, which may be used as a prefix or affix or in combination . . ." so that it may be used either front, middle or end.

MR. STOCKDALE: That is acceptable.

KENNEL NAMES GRANTED

The Kennel Name "Arwenack" has been registered in the name of W. T. Nicholls and Son, Montreal, Que.

The Kennel Name "Brantford" has been registered in the name of Thomas Warne, R.R. No. 4, Paris, Ont.

The Kennel Name "Hillview" has been registered in the name of Mrs. J. W. Sharpe, Port Stanley, Ont.

The Kennel Name "Inver Ruthven" has been registered in the name of A. R. Thompson, R.R. No. 5, Cayuga, Ont.

The Kennel Name "Of Glengarry" has been registered in the name of J. A. Raymond, Williamstown, Ont.

The Kennel Name "Lauriston" has been registered in the name of Arthur W. Hogg, 1328 Pembina Highway, Winnipeg, Man.

The Kennel Name "Sing Song" has been registered in the name of Mrs. John Russell, Toronto, Ont.

COL. MacRAE: Who is your second of this motion?

MR. ROSS: I will second it.

MR. DONALDSON: Mr. President, before you put that motion, the Constitution calls for any amendment having to be ninety days before the annual meeting. Is that amendment that Mr. Secretary has just put in ninety days before the annual meeting?

COL. MacRAE: The amendment, or the gist of the amendment is in and it is quite possible to change the wording of it. That is quite orthodox.

MR. DONALDSON: That is quite feasible? Therefore you don't need ninety days' at all. Then that is a farce.

COL. MacRAE: You can rehash it you know, Mr. Donaldson.

MR. DONALDSON: You can mash it a bit?

COL. MacRAE: Yes, it has been done.

MR. DONALDSON: I know it has been done, but according to the Constitution it shouldn't be done.

COL. MacRAE: Oh, it is quite legal.

MR. DONALDSON: Don't give us any more of that.

MR. BROWN: You have to take it the way it is.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor of this motion as amended? Contrary? Carried.

Mr. Stockdale again.

MR. STOCKDALE: I move:

"The breeder of a dog whelped after the first day of January, 1933, which is eligible for registration, shall furnish the original purchaser with a fully completed application for registration, together with a fully completed application for transfer, which the original purchaser may have registered at his expense if he so desires. The failure of the breeder to supply the forms described above, shall be grounds for his suspension, if a member of the Club. If a non-member, any application for litter registration, individual registration or transfer of ownership shall be refused."

The foot note reads:

"In submitting the above I do so with a view to removing the vexatious and onerous conditions under which breeders have been compelled to register dogs at their expense, even after they have listened to the oft repeated phrase, 'I don't want a show dog, I only want a pet.'"

MR. KYNOCH: I second the motion.

COL. MacRAE: This is one case I am doubtful it would go through.

MR. STOCKDALE: So am I, Mr. President, but it is there and—

MR. CLIMO: I am of the opinion that every dog that is sold the papers should go with it and even if we give away a dog let us give away the papers. If we don't do that we will find ourselves in the same strait as we do at the present time, with a whole heap of unregistered champions.

MR. WILSON: Mr. MacRae made a remark he didn't think it would go through even if it passed here. Is this a Club or is it the Live Stock Records?

COL. MacRAE: It must conform within certain lines to the general regulations.

MR. WILSON: No, that is not it at all. The Live Stock Records wants as much money as it can get and by doing that they can get as much money and more than by letting the papers out to the people.

COL. MacRAE: This must be sanctioned by the Minister of Agriculture.

MR. WILSON: They will just do what they like every time then; any amendments passed here they can pass them if they want to. What is the good of having the Live Stock Records if we are going to do that all the time? We are not working as a Club, we are working as the Live Stock Records.

MR. BROWN: Just why have we to submit to all this dictation? Just why?

COL. MacRAE: If you had been up against that as frequently as I have and had these turned down you would begin to appreciate that.

MR. BROWN: But I am asking a question, why?

COL. MacRAE: Because we must come under their regulations.

MR. BROWN: Because why? We are affiliated.

COL. MacRAE: I say we come under these regulations.

MR. BROWN: Because we are affiliated.

COL. MacRAE: Yes.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, I have come to the conclusion since we have affiliated with the National Live Stock Records we have sold our birth right. (Hear hear).

MR. BROWN: But it is no place and time to deal with it now.

COL. MacRAE: Any other discussion?

MR. WALKERDINE: I would like to ask Mr. Gunderson is it not a fact if we accept this the Minister will turn it down because it is controlled by Section 18, paragraph B? I think the Minister will turn it down anyway.

COL. MacRAE: You see, Mr. Stockdale, that you are changing a Dominion Statute by your amendment to the Constitution, just as Mr. Walkerdine said.

MR. STOCKDALE: No. I am not changing it. I realize that I cannot change that. We were asked this afternoon to get an expression of opinion and we haven't expressed ourselves in any way that will go before the Minister as a reason why we turned down several which were submitted by Brig-Gen. Nelles and, irrespective of the fact this will be turned down if this goes through, as an expression of the feeling of this meeting of this Club it will give the Minister some knowledge as to why we don't conform with his request to pass these other sections that he has put before us. That will let him know our feeling, that is why I submit this in that form before this Club.

MR. MORGAN: That amendment was made at a general meeting in 1925, and why did we alter it at another general meeting in 1932?

COL. MacRAE: No, we didn't alter it. That was put through in the Pedigree Act, was it not? We confirmed it, but we had to.

MR. KYNOCH: If it has gone through the session of Parliament what is the object of us bothering and wasting our time with it?

A MEMBER: We can break away from the Live Stock Records, can't we?

MR. BROWN: Sure, but not yet.

COL. MacRAE: That Dominion Statute will still cover you.

MR. BROWN: Yes, but not tonight.

MR. ROBERTS: Supposing I were to sell a dog and I had an agreement signed, that I had this given pedigree as the man didn't want one and I were to sign an agreement to that effect, would that not stand?

MR. GUNDERSON: Mr. Roberts, I think Mr. Reeves' amendment covers your question.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared carried.

A MEMBER: It is unanimous.

COL. MacRAE: The next one is by John W. Bruce. Is Mr. Bruce here?

MR. STOCKDALE: I will read this. It is submitted by John W. Bruce and reads as follows:

"In accordance with our laws I wish to give notice, that Section 20 of the Constitution and By-Laws be eliminated and the following substituted, and I move accordingly:

"This Constitution can only be amended by a referendum vote of the total membership. When a majority vote of those voting upon questions submitted shall be declared at the Annual General Meeting, but no amendment shall be valid until approved by the Minister of Agriculture for Canada and filed at the Department of Agriculture for Canada. Notice of all proposed amendments shall be given the Secretary ninety days in advance of the General Meeting, which notice shall be submitted to the Board of Directors, who shall have same submitted to the General Membership, and returned at least 30 days prior to the Annual Meeting and the vote recorded for or against, so that it shall become part of the proceedings." In his absence I second his motion.

MR. BROWN: Mr. President, I rise to oppose this amendment. I think it is unworkable, expensive and ridiculous. Every amendment that would be submitted by any member of this organization—there might be ten or there might be 100—would have to be sent out in the regular way of course and every individual member would have to receive one ballot for every amendment that was submitted to the organization. That would mean that the office staff of the Canadian Kennel Club would have to send out 1000 per cent more communications, they would have to send out 1000 per cent more printing, and you would be voting on a question which would be final. We have to discuss that question here tonight. The Chairman says an amendment to an amendment that is presented ninety days previously is in order. That is correct. Well, if this carries they come back here and the votes kill it, and that is final, whether it is good, bad or indifferent, there might be ninety per cent of the members of this organization agree with ninety per cent of what is in the resolution and the other ten per cent would practically nullify the ninety per cent that agreed to it, but you would have no redress, you couldn't change it, because there is no chance to amend the amendment submitted; and furthermore your auditors and your scrutineers would have ten times more work to do which would be an added expense, and anything that is going to add any expense in these days when we have deficiencies is ridiculous to my mind. I think it is absolutely ridiculous from start to finish, because you have got to take everything that carries whether you like it or not and you can't alter it even if you have the finest idea in the world.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, I don't know what the mover had in mind when he brought that before the Canadian Kennel Club to be discussed before this meeting, but I think everybody in the room including yourself will realize that to put the subject under discussion is the only way that a possible sound result can be had with regard to any question that might be brought before the Canadian Kennel Club. It might be a question that we all, each and every one of us, was vitally interested in and it might be so worded or misconstrued if it were sent out through the columns of our Kennel and Bench that those who are most vitally interested would be possibly in the minority. These folks from all over the country who have not had the privilege of attending our meetings might possibly just mark their ballot, having read it and taken it literally. You know as well as I do you have gone to a meeting fully bent on talking a certain way on a subject and, when the pros and cons of the subject were brought before you, you thought it all over and you changed your idea and voted absolutely the other way because you have found there is something about it that you didn't realize, some bad faults about it that might hinder you, not be a help, and I think an amendment of this kind if carried would certainly be a perfect detriment to the Canadian Kennel Club if we didn't have discussion on the floor and learn the pros and cons of everything that came before us.

MR. PYM: In the absence of Mr. Bruce I believe I am justified in saying that the object of Mr. Bruce's proposed amendment is to extend the ballot to all members of the Canadian Kennel Club regardless of which part of Canada they may reside in. It is not a case, as the previous speaker has just pointed out, of a member receiving his ballot from the head office of the Canadian Kennel Club and marking such a ballot; the members outside the Province of Ontario are so well organized by the provincial committees that annual meetings are held, sometimes semi-annual and quarterly meetings are held. I might tell you that some three weeks ago at a meeting held in one community in Vancouver with fifty-eight paid up members in attendance and more prospective members present every article coming before this meeting today was read just as carefully as it has been read here and it was discussed just as carefully as it is being discussed here, and I submit on behalf of Mr. Bruce, in his absence, that those members who attended that meeting could go home and mark their ballots quite as intelligently as if they were present here tonight. That amendment, we have carried it not only in Vancouver, but I understand it has carried more or less from the Atlantic to the Pacific and I submit on behalf of Mr. Bruce in his absence that he desired to extend the ballot to each and every member of this Club in good standing regardless of where they reside, and while we know you are extremely fair we must also keep in mind that, as the president pointed out this afternoon, in the Province of British Columbia there are 152 members, and while these rules are being discussed and acted upon those 152 members have but one single vote the same as any individual who got on a street car and came to this meeting tonight, and those members whom I have the pleasure to represent are 3,000 miles away from here, and the only chance they have of expressing their own individual opinion is through the preferential vote.

COL. MACRAE: Any further discussion? Are you ready for the question?

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

COL. MACRAE: The next one is Mr. Reeves'.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I beg to propose the following:

"1. That in the case of any dog sold or given for any other than breeding or exhibition purposes the breeder need not register the dog with the Canadian Live Stock Records. If the dog has already been registered and the breeder does not wish to give the registration certificate, the certificate shall be forwarded to the Canadian Live Stock Records with full details of the transaction. The transfer of ownership so reported shall not be recorded on the records of the Club."

Ladies and gentlemen, the reason that I am bringing this before you tonight is, you know very often that you give a puppy away; you don't think in your own mind that that pup is or ever will be any use for breeding purposes at all. In six or seven months' time the people you have given that puppy to have probably sold or given it away to someone else. The second owners very often come to you and insist on you registering that puppy. Now, I think, ladies and gentlemen, that is very unfair, that if you give a puppy away, not thinking in your own mind that it is any good for show, you have received no money for the puppy, you have given it away with the intention of that puppy being a companion, and I don't think, ladies and gentlemen that you should be put to the expense of registering that pup with the Canadian Live Stock Records; and if that dog has already been registered and if in your opinion you do not think that that dog or bitch is fit to carry on, physically fit, except for a companion, I think, ladies and gentlemen, that you should be able to send the registration form to the Canadian National Live Stock Records to be transferred and it is not recorded in the books of the National Live Stock Records. I feel that we are all out for the good of the Canadian dog and, ladies and gentlemen, it is my firm impression that when these pups are sometimes given away they get in undesirable hands and probably inferior dogs are put onto the market and it is not helping the good, well-bred Canadian dog. I do hope, ladies and gentlemen, that you will be with me in this and let us carry it through tonight and show the Live Stock Records and the Minister of Agriculture that we are out to produce good dogs and if in our opinion they are not good enough to be registered we do not want them registered. I would like that question put, Mr. Chairman, then I will put the second.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Pym.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. President, if I am in order to ask Mr. Reeves a couple of questions: First of all I might say I am in favor of his amendment. The first question I would like to ask Mr. Reeves: Will the Canadian Live Stock Records give a man credit for $1.25 for the certificate of that dog? They charge him $1.25 for the certificate for that dog. What right has the National Live Stock Records with the certificate of that dog? That breeder has paid for it. Another question is, what penalty will be imposed on the dog breeder who refuses to make such an entry?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I don't think really that I can answer this, because I am not one of the officials of the Live Stock Records, but I do feel that we need something like this. We have all had the experience, we have all given dogs away, why should we be compelled to register them? Why should we be compelled to give the transfers? For the good of Canadian dogs, ladies and gentlemen, do let us show the Live Stock Records and the Minister of Agriculture that we are out to improve our dogs, we don't want these mediocre dogs and their progeny to go all over Canada, the aim of the Canadian Dog Show is better dogs, better dogs all through the country.

MR. CARTER: I would like to ask Mr. Reeves a question: Did he ever give a dog away that he was ashamed of at any time?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I will tell you that since I came to live in Canada, and I was called upon to judge all over the country I feel that as a judge it is much better for me not to be a breeder. I am not a breeder and I never show. I am only looking, gentlemen, when I bring in these things it isn't for myself, I am looking to help you; I have no axe at all to grind, I don't breed and I don't show. When I bring these things up I am trying to help you, ladies and gentlemen. (Hear hear).

MR. CARTER: Speaking to the question, Mr. Chairman, this amendment may be perfectly in order, but as a breeder I certainly think it is not conducive to the best interests of dogdom. I cannot myself nor can any dog breeder tell you, when I have a litter of pups six weeks old or two months old, whether they are going to be good dogs or not; I can't tell you if they are out of the ordinary or not; a bulldog doesn't attain its carriage until twelve or eighteen months old, sometimes more than that. I might give a dog away feeling that it was of no use at all only as a pet. If that is so, I feel that I wish to have the name of that dog erased from the Live Stock Records. I see that dog a year from then and I buy it back but it is no use to me, a man can't show it, he can't sell it, because it isn't registered. This amendment, ladies and gentlemen, is conducive to making a man or woman dishonest, because if that dog is a good one he is going to try to get him into the show ring somehow. The fact a dog happens to be a good dog after having its name erased from the Live Stock Records is going to tend to make a man dishonest.

MR. BROWN: I agree with this resolution; I think it is very good. The idea, I take it, the gentlemen is trying to protect the man who bred the dog and if he has given it away that is simply debarring the people he gave it to from registering it at any future date.

MR. REEVES: That is perfectly right.

MR. BROWN: And that doesn't debar him from getting back his papers and registering it.

MR. REEVES: That is absolutely right.

MR. BROWN: Then I am in favor of that, because that doesn't debar the man buying the dog back.

MR. CARTER: As it reads now the amendment means it will be erased from the records.

MR. BROWN: I would like to move, with the consent of the meeting, an amendment to the amendment.

COL. MacRAE: All right, go ahead.

MR. BROWN: And that is, that the breeder of the dog at any time has the privilege of registering the dog. That is not the absolutely correct wording but I think it is proper. Would you add that, Mr. Reeves?

MR. REEVES: Oh yes. When I say to register a dog, when you are giving a puppy away you are giving a puppy away when it is about six weeks or two months old, you know perfectly well you can see pretty well what that puppy is going to be.

A MEMBER: Oh no.

MR. REEVES: Now wait a minute, ladies and gentlemen, I say you can see what it is going to be pretty well at six weeks or two months old, but I don't bar you registering that puppy yourself if you think that that puppy is good enough afterwards, but what I do want to bar, that if you have got a dog in your kennel that you have already registered and you think that the dog is not fit to carry on then there is no need for you to give those papers to the person that you have given the dog.

MR. WILSON: That is a different proposition altogether.

MR. REEVES: No no, "in the case of any dog sold or given away for any other than breeding or exhibition purposes the breeder need not register the dog."

MR. WILSON: But if he has.

MR. REEVES: If he has registered the dog the dog is old enough that he knows. If he has registered the dog first and he thinks it is not quite good enough he needn't give the transfer with it.

MR. KYNOCH: I don't think we are discussing this thing from a breeder's point of view, inasmuch as I can cite an incident where a bulldog cost $35, from one of the greatest bulldog breeders in Great Britain, when he was eight and one-half to nine months old—I can prove that that dog was sold for £7, however many dollars it is—and that dog was sold for $1,500 when he was two years old. Now what I want to get at is, if that dog is registered before you give it away to your neighbor's boy why should we have to turn the registration certificate of that dog in to Ottawa at any time?

COL. MacRAE: You don't have to.

MR. KYNOCH: Well, it is in the amendment. At any time if I come along and see the dog and say to myself "Well now, that is better than any pup in the litter, I would like to buy that dog back," and I have complied with the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club and the National Live Stock Records and given up the certificate, where do I get off at? Do I then apply for the certificate on that dog to be given back to me? He is a dead dog as far as I am concerned.

COL. MacRAE: It doesn't say that you must turn it in.

MR. STOCKDALE: Yes it does: "Shall be"—imperative.

MR. KYNOCH: It isn't workable, ladies and gentlemen.

MR. CLIMO: I think I can quote a parallel case to Mr. Kynoch's. At one time in Calgary I gave away a Cocker Spaniel. Later it was transferred to another man who was interested in Cocker, that is the one that "Jimmy" Hamilton had, and I gave him the papers for that dog as I thought he was entitled to them, as the papers are part of the dog. I gave it away just as a young dog, didn't think it was going to make an awful lot. Later, that family went out to Victoria and Mr. Fletcher saw it and he bought it for $25 and it came east here for about $150.

MR. KYNOCH: I certainly agree with the amendment to a certain extent but not all through it.

MR. WARD: If I interpret Mr. Reeves' motion correctly, he means the litter registration, is that it?

MEMBERS: No.

MR. WARD: Then do I understand, Mr. Chairman, that a pup that would be given away, that he would register at the age of say six or seven months old and then give it away?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, may I reply to him?

COL. MacRAE: Go ahead.

MR. REEVES: No, Mr. Ward, that is not my intention at all. My intention is that in three or four or five months it is never registered and you give that pup away, that you don't think that that pup is good enough to be registered, not good enough to go in the Live Stock Records, you give it away to somebody for a companion; now that pup given away may be given to someone else, they might get tired of it, the person you have given it to, and the second owner comes back to you and tries to compel you to register that pup; now I don't think it is fair.

MR. WARD: I quite agree with that explanation of Mr. Reeves, because the pup would only be registered as a litter and wouldn't be registered as an individual dog, so that if any person did give that pup away, if they did it out of the goodness of their heart, or, some other reason best known to themselves, the fact still remains that the person who did receive it and tired of it, or for some monetary reasons passed it on to someone else, and someone else saw a little bit more value in it than the breeder of that dog and said "Here, we are going to compel that man to go back and give it," they would be prevented. And then we have the illustration of our good friend George Kynoch where a man bought one for so much and sold it for a lot more.

MR. KYNOCH: What about the certificate of the registered dog that you give away?

MR. WARD: To be very frank with you, Mr. Kynoch, if I had a registered dog I was ready to give away he would go right to the Humane Society and into the gas house.

MR. KYNOCH: But look at that man in England who made a big mistake when he sold that bulldog for $35 and it went to Cleveland for $1,500; now that man has bred many, many champions which were good enough to beat anything they had in the United States. We will say Harry Wilson breeds a bulldog and gives it away to his neighbor's kids. First of all it looked a very promising puppy, and you know how they go, they are up today and down tomorrow—I have bred lots of them—he looks to be weakening, and his ears are buttoned, and he is down on his pasterns, and he looks like a freak and he says "Get rid of it, So and So needs a pup, give it to him," and he has already registered that pup thinking he was going to be a good one before he was registered. Sometimes you will find, after he is registered, Mr. Wilson comes around and says, "I made a mistake giving that puppy at the start, I have not lived up to the registration rules of the National Live Stock Records by not giving the registration." What are you going to do? That is the point.

MR. STOCKDALE: I can see some virtue intended by this resolution. I believe Mr. Reeves is trying to do what some more of us have tried to do, relieve us of the burden of giving pedigrees with a dog intended for a house dog, and I don't think it did nor will enter into George Kynoch's mind to get back the $1,500 dog.

It reads this way—I will deal with the part under discussion:

"If the dog has already been registered and the breeder does not wish to give the registration certificate, the certificate shall be forwarded to the Canadian Live Stock Records with full details of the transaction."

I would suggest to Mr. Reeves a provision could be made by adding the following:

"And said certificate may be reclaimed by the original registered owner of the dog with the consent of the other party."

Now that would allow the original registered owner,—it is not recorded and never gone out of your name, Mr. Kynoch, there is no record of the dog being transferred, you just send the certificate down to read, shall I say, in trust.

MR. KYNOCH: Why should we send it there?

MR. STOCKDALE: As a protection I think, and a guarantee that you are hiding nothing, and in the event of a squabble arising, just as you yourself have pointed out.

MR. REEVES: I think your point is very well taken.

MR. STOCKDALE: There is another feature of it, let me deal with it just for a moment:

"That in the case of any dog sold or given for any other than breeding or exhibition purposes the breeder need not register the dog with the Canadian Live Stock Records."

Very well, he is a pure-bred dog, he is of pure-bred stock; he may be a mutt in the judgment of the man owning him when he is a puppy — Mr. Kynoch has given you the picture, he looks like a million dollars today and goes out the next day and he is button-eared and long pastern and anything can happen to him and the kid may have him—but his blood is just the same as his brother's in the same litter that you keep and what is to prevent that dog being used for breeding purposes irrespective of anything you intended? You didn't sell it for breeding purposes. Am I right? Very well, you didn't enter into any agreement for breeding purposes, but there isn't anything to prevent the man who owns it using it, nothing whatever to prevent him using it.

MR. REEVES: No.

MR. STOCKDALE: All right. This afternoon we asked for the privilege of registering unregistered champions, and as a result of that maybe a champion is produced, unregistered. Now, are we going to add to that by such a thing as this? This just comes to my mind in dealing with this, it is an unregistered dog. George Kynoch says I can't get it back, but I will get a service from him, and I want that blood, and I have sold all the rest of them and that is the only one I know in this part of the country and I am going to get that strain back into my kennel.

MR. KYNOCH: Through the back door.

MR. STOCKDALE: And you are prepared to give just what we have asked the Live Stock Records to accept; you know the breeding of the dog, you know he is by So and So out of So and So, and can give anything from a three generation to a five generation pedigree and they are all recorded, but the dog by arrangement was not a registered dog though carrying the blood of a pure-bred dog.

I would suggest to Mr. Reeves just dealing with the first part of it; then when he does that, that he vary the second section and to the second section add that they may be returned to the original registered owner.

MR. CARTER: The condition is this today, that we have to register a dog whether we give it away or sell it. This question cropped up last October and November on three different occasions and our Mr. Roberts approached the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club and asked him to give him a ruling as to whether a certificate signed by the purchaser that he was reselling that dog for the purpose of a pet only would be recognized, and he brought the answer back that that was the ruling of the Canadian Kennel Club. Am I right in that, Mr. Roberts?

MR. ROBERTS: I don't say it was the ruling, but Mr. Strachan, yes, he figured it would be all right.

MR. CARTER: Just for the Toronto members I might say this, that you all know that we appeared before the Board of Control and the City Council in regard to your license fees here in the city and it was very thoroughly threshed out and, happily for us Toronto breeders and exhibitors, the fees remained the same, or the result would have been to put a lot of dog people out of business. However, notwithstanding that, if I may tell you this, there are now rules and regulations being framed by the Legislative Committee of this city dealing with mongrel dogs, and the question to be considered in this case is this, that if you give a dog away and have him struck off the records of the Live Stock Records he immediately becomes a mongrel dog, and it is only a matter of a few weeks I am led to believe, because Controller Sam McBride told the deputations of the dog people of this city that that would be dealt with this year, when each and every householder will be asked if he keeps a dog and if he does he will be asked to show the registration certificate of the Live Stock Records and must be registered direct in this office. Now what the penalty will be for mongrel dogs I don't know, but it seems to me to be making a mongrel dog by erasing him from the Live Stock Records, that he will come in that category.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President, that same ruling applying to licensing, particularly applying to females, is in force in Calgary at the present time; a dog that has not any registration recognition would have a license refused as an unregistered dog.

MR. REEVES: You know perfectly well this doesn't make any difference to me; I don't care what you do about it; I am trying to help you, I am giving you my experience, that is all. I am trying to safeguard you; if you don't want it turn it down.

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question?

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken was declared carried.

MR. MacRAE: Mr. Reeves, the second part?

MR. STOCKDALE: The amendment takes care of it, and he withdraws it.

MR. REEVES: The second amendment I want to bring to your notice is,

"That a dog once lost to its registered owner shall, after particulars are sent to the Canadian Live Stock Records, be declared non-existent."

The reason I am giving you this is again to safeguard you. You may have a kennel and one of your dogs gets lost; it is taken to the pound. Some one knows that dog, they go past the pound, they see the dog there and they purchase that dog and then they come on you and make you deliver the paper to them.

Now, this has been brought up in two or three cases where a dog has been lost, it has been taken to the pound, probably sold for three or four dollars; the man has gone down to the pound and bought that dog, knowing that dog, in many cases, belonged to you and for that reason buying it for three or four dollars. He doesn't tell the pound men there, he doesn't come and tell you that he has seen your dog in the pound, but after he has got that dog he comes to you and says "Now then, I have bought this dog and you have got to give me the papers."

Now, if this goes through, if you lose a dog and it gets to the pound all you have to do is to notify the National Live Stock Records and you are not compelled to give the papers to that man. That is going to safeguard you ladies and gentlemen if one of your dogs runs out of your place; one of your children opens one of the kennel doors and one of your best dogs gets away and gets down to the pound.

MR. BROWN: Mr. President, any man that will not make application to the pound the very first thing when he loses his dog, if he loses a valuable dog he can lose anything. You can get to the pound much quicker than you can get to the Live Stock Records.

MR. PYM: Mr. President, I wonder if Mr. Reeves would consider adding to his amendment that a dog once lost to its registered owner shall, after particulars are sent to the Canadian National Live Stock Records, be declared non-existent until such time as it has been restored to its registered owner?

The reason I point this out, Mr. Chairman, is Mr. Reeves has quoted actual facts. I am personally acquainted with a dog that has been lost to its registered owner through the dog pound route, and the reason that dog was lost; say some one knows the owner, well, he may have had knowledge that this dog was in the dog pound, like lots of others today, through no fault of his own. He can report his dog, but it has passed to other hands, and there is a great possibility of the dog being restored to its original owner, and then of course we would naturally like that original owner to have his papers, and that is why I suggest Mr. Reeves consider adding that to his amendment.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I would like very much to have that added. I believe one gentleman got up and said it is only on the floor that we can find out if we are right or wrong. We argue it out, and there are many things that come out, and I think a meeting like this helps everybody.

COL. MacRAE: Will you read that?

MR. REEVES: "That a dog once lost to its registered owner shall, after particulars are sent to the Canadian Live Stock Records, be declared non-existent, except to the registered owner."

COL. MacRAE: Ready for the question? Contrary?—Carried.

I think that is all cleaned up on that page except Mr. Wainright's amendment. Is that correct? Carry on with your amendment, Mr. Wainright.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Ladies and gentlemen. Dealing with article number 20,

"I will move at the next annual meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club that Article 6, section 4, be amended to read as follows:

Nominations for officers and directors shall be made on the form described in the Schedule hereto, and shall be signed by at least two members in good standing in the respective provinces. Any member in good standing shall be eligible to be nominated as President, Vice-President, Second Vice-President or Director except professional dog show judges, professional dog show handlers, professional dog show superintendents, professional dog show secretaries, and professional writers of Canine news and dog show reports or any person acting in any of the aforementioned capacities for a monetary consideration."

Ladies and gentlemen, I haven't much to say, I have read it off and I think it has been given serious consideration. You can see my point; the matter has been under consideration for the last year.

MR. PYM: I second the amendment and reserve the right to oppose it later.

May I ask the Mover, through you, to enlighten us as to his object in barring from office those members of the Canadian Kennel Club who might be dog show judges, superintendents, handlers or writers?

COL. MacRAE: Mr. Wainright, will you answer Mr. Pym?

MR. WAINRIGHT: Surely. The question of a judge on the Board, a member's name comes in for a license, if they want to hold the job to themselves they can tie a can to him.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I am afraid I am still in the dark. Nevertheless, I can't for the life of me see why any member in good standing, who properly behaves himself, should not be eligible for office, from the President down. If a member is elected to an office and he misconducts himself there are certainly sufficient rules to take care of him, and I know you do take care of him if such an occasion arises, and I probably have the wrong impression in my mind. I was under the impression that as the word "professional" is used, one may be paid a sum for acting as an agent or a writer or superintendent or handler. I had that impression in my mind, and of course if we were to carry this to its logical conclusion we could say one would be criticized if they held a position of director or officer of this club, but we are all subject to that, we are subject to criticism the minute we take a public position, they are going to be criticized by some one no matter how good they are, and I think it is entirely beyond the spirit of fair play to attempt to keep any member of this club from holding office if he conducts himself properly.

MR. CARTER: I take it Mr. Pym is a judge himself. Take a case of judging a show in his own Province, if some one doesn't agree with his decision and perhaps he refuses it, what happens? Mr. Pym sits on the Board of Directors that deals with him, and it only comes down to this fact; first he judges the dog and then he judges you. He made a remark if a man misconducts himself there are rules to take care of him. What do they do to deal with him? Gentlemen, you haven't dealt with it and I am going to say it on this floor; you recently suspended a man in Toronto who honestly and in good faith made a statement to some one in the West, and what happened to him? When he came to his trial he came down here before the Board of Directors, but they didn't bring the party up, they merely suspended him, and yet out in the West you have a judge who contravenes one of the most flagrant rules and regulations of the Canadian Kennel Club, and what has been done about it? Nothing. That is where the trouble is; first they judge the dog and then they judge you.

I agree with Mr. Pym if the rules and regulations are adhered to we will get rid of all these difficulties we are having in the Canadian Kennel Club, but until such time as they are carried out to the satisfaction of the Board of Directors and the members at large the same difficulty is going to continue.

MR. PYM: As the previous speaker mentioned a few moments ago—

MR. BROWN: I rise to a point of order. He is talking to the question the second time. If he wants to answer the question it is O.K. with me, but I want to see the rules carried out in a fair way. If one man can speak half a dozen times we all can. I am rising to the point of order in view of the fact you made your decision some time ago—

COL. MacRAE: I think I am trying to do it in fairness to everybody; I am trying to be fair.

MR. DONALDSON: When it is not a director I suppose it is all right.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I believe you can trust me to exercise ordinary, every-day, common courtesy to a group of ladies and gentlemen such as we have here, and I am trying to become enlightened on this motion, because I intend to vote upon it.

Now, through you with your permission may I ask the previous speaker to give us further information? He intimates that a director who may be a judge or a handler or superintendent has certain privileges which are denied ordinary members. I do not agree with that, but if he can give us further information that such conditions exist I am going to be with him, and that is the question I am asking.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, in answer to that there is no specific case, I would like to move before the meeting at the present time. If you require me to do so I naturally will, but what I am trying to bring out is the proposition that might arise, as I stated when I first got on my feet, if such a case did arise in his Province, that a person contravenes the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club, and he had occasion to report it, naturally, to a director in that Province. He would sit on his case, and either that man would be suspended or he would consider what punishment, if any, would be meted out to him. That naturally follows, you can't get away from that.

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. Chairman, I have had some of this kind of stuff myself handed out. Some time ago you brought me before the Kennel Club simply because I said "dishonorable judging." Now then, on that Board there were three or four judges, and I maintain this; I didn't get a square deal that night. I say this; that if there had been an exhibitor on that Board there would have been more attention paid to it, but where there were judges, and it was judges only they were not going to put themselves in a hole.

Now then, it was placed in the Kennel and Bench, it came out and we got a letter from Mr. Pym. I don't blame Mr. Pym he said unless Mr. Roberts can prove his statement—suspended. I tried to prove my statement, by sending a letter to him.

Now then, I know this; if we had breeders and exhibitors on that Board I feel sure that letter would have been published. I think when a man demands an explanation he has a right to have the letter published for that explanation. Here is a letter I got back (reads) "Dear Sir: In the matter of your letter sent to this office with a view to its publication in the Kennel and Bench, I am directed to the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club of Thursday, June 16th, when the writer was instructed not to publish your letter. Letter enclosed herewith."

Do you call that a fair answer? What I call that is telling a man to go to Hell and be done with it; that is put in plain English, and you can't call it anything else.

I say this; I have a perfect right to know why that letter was not published, and I maintain this, if it hadn't been against the judges my letter would have been published, and I think it is only right when a man sends a letter it should be published.

MR. WARD: I can't see at the present time what the remarks of Mr. Roberts has got to do with this issue. If you read this over it says "professional dog show judges." I don't know whether I am in error or not, but the only dog show judge that I know of that is on the Board is Mr. Reeves.

MR. CARTER: You are entirely wrong.

MR. WARD: If you will be just good enough not to interrupt; I didn't interrupt you, Mr. Carter, if you will try to be a gentleman for a minute I will appreciate it. Mr. Reeves is the only judge that I know that is a professional judge and a professional writer.

I think the only fair thing that should have been done in a case of this type is that if there was some charge that should have been read against Mr. Reeves do not hedge around the bush at all but come out openly and frankly and say we have a serious complaint as far as Mr. Reeves is concerned, and bring it up at the general meeting and thrash it out in a fair and square manner.

Then we may look a little bit further and find that we have the dog show superintendents. Now, Captain Dudley-Waters is the only one I know of that has been superintendent of shows, and I think, Mr. Chairman, the same thing applies as far as Captain Dudley-Waters is concerned. If there is any complaint as far as they are concerned I think we should be men and women and come out and put our cards on the table and say what our grievance is as far as these two men are concerned.

I am not one of the oldest dog owners in the City of Toronto but possibly have been in the dog game just a little bit longer than what some of you may figure that I have been. I don't mind telling you I have handled dogs for about twenty-five years. That may be a little surprise to some of you but at the same time I just say this, Mr. Chairman, that in fairness to these two gentlemen—and I don't mind saying I have had quite a few knocks and bumps and in some things I didn't agree with them, but at the same time I think we should be all real good sports and smile in the face of our adversities. If I am in error I will be tickled to death to be enlightened on that subject.

MR. DONALDSON: I may say there were eleven judges on the Board last year, out of twenty-one, and Mr. Wainright's motion really means this, getting down to facts, you can hardly expect those fellows to criticise one another, because it is your turn today and it will be mine tomorrow. That is really the substance of his motion. Is that right?

MAJOR WARD WRIGHT: I don't think Mr. Wainright submitted this motion with any spite to those two men, I think it has been sponsored owing to the fact the way things have turned during the past few months, with the expulsion of one member. That is what it is to my mind. We have had here in Toronto a man was expelled from the club for a year; another gentleman out West was down here and he was not suspended, and from what I can learn that was the reason, or one of the reasons, why this motion has been put forward by Mr. Wainright; it is not Mr. Dudley-Waters or Mr. Reeves or any other member at all, it is only to try to have fair play with the executive board whether he is a judge or superintendent or a breeder like myself, and I think the motion is quite in order, and I think Mr. Ward is quite out of his bearings altogether in thinking he wants to blame these men by this motion.

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. President, I am very sorry that anybody should gather from this resolution that it was aimed at any individual at all, or that even the construction should be put upon it that it arose out of the suspicion of a Toronto member. It was submitted prior to the action taken by the Board of Directors and it is not aimed at any individual. There are I think five judges sitting on the Board today.

COL. MacRAE: Professional judges?

MR. ROSS: No. professional nothing.

MR. DONALDSON: He is a professional if he gets paid.

MR. STOCKDALE: I repeat, there are five to my knowledge, there may be more, but it has been stated last year there were eleven out of twenty-one total number of directors that were judges. Now, it is beyond the limit of imagination that there would not be some leaning among those eleven men towards another man in the same position, the same status in this organization, if some particular charge was made or some question was referred to the directors and eleven men, or ten of them out of the eleven sitting in judgment on a brother judge, and also a director, the feeling would be natural. The case would be dealt with from a different angle entirely than if the members of the rank and file, who are not judges, were dealing with the case on its merits as presented by the parties presenting it, both pro and con, both for the plaintiff and for the defendant, and the ultimate aim of the men as stated by me, who are not judges, would be to disassociate themselves with any feeling towards a judge whatever, not holding a judge's license, they themselves not holding a judge's license.

It has also been stated that the ultimate outcome of a case such as I have cited is that the man holding a judge's license first judges the dog in the ring and then judges you as a director. It is a positive fact the only Court to which you can bring him is your Board of Directors. He is a licensed judge, licensed by you, and a brother judge, and for some action of the individual has had him brought before them. He has already judged you, he will eventually judge you both ways. Supposing that other than a judge is brought before the Board, supposing you have displeased him, can you disassociate yourself from the fact that for some reason or other you and he having disagreed when he was the judge that he will take some exception to your attitude, and that he will not have a reflex action on his mind when he is judging your case? In other words, can he come in with a clear, unbiased mind to judge your case?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen. I don't like getting up to speak at all on this matter. I have been a judge for thirty-five years, I have been a writer for the same number of years, but ladies and gentlemen, why bring this up? You elect us, the members of this club have elected me. I didn't ask you to elect me as one of your directors. If you think I am not a fit and a proper person to sit on your Board why elect me? You have the remedy in your own hands.—Applause.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, up to the present time we have only heard the judges' angle here. We have professional dog show handlers, professional dog show superintendents, professional dog show secretaries and professional writers. I understand any of these men that have received remuneration for their services are termed professionals. I may say in the West what we generally term professional show superintendents is out of the question. We have to pay a man probably a day or two's wages, that he has to lose to look after the show, and he volunteers to do the work, and then this man would turn around and bar him from the privilege of acting on your Board because he is considerate enough to do that work for a club that isn't in a position to employ a superintendent in any other way.

Referring to the secretary, I may say in Calgary we have a secretary that isn't even a dog fancier, and at the same time if he was a member of this association you would also bar him from the privileges of acting as a director.

As far as the judges and others are concerned, when your Provinces have spoken they have spoken for the men they want, and I feel certain that to put this motion through we are barring the very men that have really got the dog interests at heart from taking any real, active part in the work of this association. And then again, it was also referred to that you may have spite against the judge. Probably there are some directors sitting on that Board who isn't a writer or a judge or a show superintendent or anything, but yet due to some other reason you have a grievance against him.

MR. ROSS: I just want to say a word. I want to concur in what Mr. Reeves said to this extent; we are put here by the vote of the members at large, by a public vote. If you don't want us, don't put us on.

In the second place, I just want to make a statement that I haven't made in public before, and I think now is the time to do so. I got my start in Toronto, and I am still grateful to Toronto in giving me the start-off. Now, the situation is this: I came from an outside province, and whether I am included in this or whether I am not I don't know, I haven't the slightest idea. This professionalism, I don't like the word. I may tell you, ladies and gentlemen, I have a record of twenty-three or twenty-four years with the Montreal Tramways, and the Lord look sideways at my wife and children if I depend on what I pick up in dog shows to feed them and bring them up like true Canadians.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Mr. Chairman and fellow members. That motion wasn't brought up with any intention of antagonism at all, and I still think I am right, and therefore I will have to state a case of Mr. Reeves' part, that at the banquet of the wire-haired terrier show he told about faking dogs, and the curse of using a safety razor on a wire-haired terrier dog, and all that kind of stuff, then he deliberately goes and places a safety-razored dog from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail as best in show. And furthermore, he writes in the Kennel and Bench some of these times a courageous judge will report such actions to the Canadian Kennel Club. If he is such a courageous judge why doesn't he bring those points out instead of placing a dog that everybody knows has been safety-razored? Why didn't he report the dog instead of placing him? He is not so courageous after all.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen. You will find that I tried at this meeting to bring something in force that we judges in Canada can stop faking. You have nothing in your rules and I am trying to bring this out in the rules so that when I get in the ring and see a dog safety-razored I can report that dog to the Canadian Kennel Club. There is nothing in the rules today that I can report a man for over-trimming the dog.

MR. WAINRIGHT: You can refuse the dog.

MR. REEVES: No, sir. When I am judging for the Canadian Kennel Club I can't do it.

MR. WAINRIGHT: You can withhold the ribbon.

MR. REEVES: I can not under your rules do anything of the sort. If I was judging in England I would not do it. That is why I am bringing this in and proposing it, that I can stop this faking and trimming.

MR. WAINRIGHT: Why did you put such a faked dog up?

MR. REEVES: Because I thought he was the best. I considered it was the best dog and I judged him according to your rules, I am judging according to your Canadian Kennel Club rules.

MR. DONALDSON: For my satisfaction, doesn't it say in our rules that a dog that has been tampered with may be disqualified? I think you will find in the rules that a tampered dog can be disqualified.

COL. MacRAE: We are getting away from the question, gentlemen.

MR. WATERS: Mr. Chairman, I think perhaps Mr. Donaldson is under a slight misapprehension here when he is speaking of tampering. To tamper with a dog is to alter the dog in some way; that is to say, the conformation, tampering with the ears or something of that description, but trimming a dog, as you know very well, is permissible in the wire-haired breed. There are many that are over-done, but that is a question for the judge to decide, whether it is over-done or not, that would influence his judging, but that is not faking. The judge didn't think he was over-trimmed, evidently. Was he trimmed any more than any other dog that was there?

MR. DONALDSON: Yes.

MR. WATERS: However, that is apart from the question. I just want to say to you, Mr. Donaldson, there is a difference between trimming and tampering.

COL. MacRAE: Let us get back to the question. There is a gentleman down there that wishes to say something.

MR. BANNISTER: I want to bring this up. As I understand this, say I disobey the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club, that is, somebody thinks I have, we will say it is a judge, and I am brought before you. I do my best to give my views of what I had done, but the judge, probably being a director of our Board, has more influence with the rest of you judges than I will have. Now then, I am speaking this way from experience, not exactly in the Canadian Kennel Club but in another organization. I was taken to task one time by a superior officer in an organization to which I belonged. We had quite a bit of difference and they were going to do this and going to do that, and I wanted them to do it but they wouldn't do it, they just threatened to do it. Finally, I took it to what I thought were the proper parties in the organization, and they turned me down entirely.

Now, I am speaking in regard to myself and its bearing on this. It carried on until such a time I couldn't stand it any longer trying to get it through the organization. Why? This man was a higher authority than I was. He was a bigger man in the organization than I was. Finally, I had to go to the Civil Court. I went to the Civil Court, it cost me every cent I had, and believe me, gentlemen, if it was in the Canadian Kennel Club, if the same thing was to happen in the Canadian Kennel Club and I believed I was right I would go to the Civil Court to prove that I was right, judge or no judge.

But, here is the point, I say that this motion at least should go through for this reason. It gives everybody, the outside members, that is, the lower members of the club a fair chance. Then in case any trouble comes up, not that I have anything against any judge that I have ever shown a dog under, I haven't a thing against one of them, but I believe in fairness. For instance, we will say Mr. Reeves appeared at a show and I was showing a dog under him, and he claimed that the dog's tail was docked, and there is many a dog that looks as if its tail is docked and it is not docked, and I say it wasn't but he would stick to it that it was and disqualify my dog on that ground. We come up here before the Board, we will say. Whose word would you take for it?

COL. MacRAE: The veterinary surgeon.

MR. BANNISTER: Can every veterinary surgeon tell whether a dog's tail is docked? That is the reason why I think a motion of this kind should go through, and I vote for it.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, I just want to answer this question. I think many of you were present at the Canadian National Winter Fair. I was judging Cocker Spaniels, I had my suspicions whether one of the dogs being shown under me was not blind in one eye. I stopped my judging, called for the veterinary surgeon, who examined that dog.

If I think that a dog's tail is being tampered with all I can do, ladies and gentlemen, is to go to the duly-appointed veterinary surgeon in that show. I have got to abide by the duly-appointed veterinary surgeon that has been appointed by that show. It has nothing to do with me. That man says the tail is all right; I go on with my judging, I can't disqualify that dog, it doesn't matter if I think the tail has been docked, I can't turn a dog out because I think the dog may be blind in one eye. You have appointed a veterinary surgeon at that show for one purpose and one purpose only, if a judge is in doubt then he can call in the duly-appointed veterinary surgeon to decide whether that dog is blind or whether that dog has been cut. It has nothing to do with me at all.

MR. DONALDSON: Mr. Chairman, I know this is out of order, but I would like to go so far as to say I don't like the way you have shut me down. I am going to read this paragraph 14 in the Dog Show Rules (reads):

"A judge shall disqualify a dog which, in his opinion, has been improperly tampered with." It is in the rules, and it is up to the judge, if he thinks a dog has been tampered with, to get the veterinary surgeon.

MR. PYM: If you are satisfied every one has spoken on this question that wishes to speak I ask your indulgence to speak again.

MR. MacRAE: We have given a lot of latitude and I think we had better get it off our chest.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, there are 152 members in the Province of British Columbia who have a perfect right, and some of them will exercise that right to ask me to give reasons for the actions of this assembly here tonight, and I am still not satisfied if this amendment will go through that I can give a satisfactory explanation to them. I was criticized long before I came down here, not because I am a director and so-called judge, but because I positively refused to judge in the Province of British Columbia and haven't accepted a judging engagement in British Columbia. This is the fifth trip to Toronto that I have been elected a director, so I am criticized both ways and criticism does not hurt me, but after hearing the remarks here tonight I am going to enlarge that territory and I will restrict myself from accepting a judging engagement in the whole of the Dominion of Canada as long as I am a director of the Canadian Kennel Club. But that doesn't give enlightenment to the people I was to take enlightenment to.

We are criticizing gentlemen here, and I think very wrongfully, because they sometimes take a fee for judging, but what about the professional stud dog owners who insist upon a fee for the use of their dog? And the whole bunch of us, if we get down to dollars and cents, we are all professionals and know it, but what I want to know is what reasonable explanation I can give 152 members of this club in British Columbia why they made a mistake in electing me for five consecutive years, and I would like somebody here to give me that information so I can take it back to them.

MR. BROWN: When the gentleman says he won't judge any more dogs in the Dominion of Canada he is agreeing with the motion.

MR. PYM: No, I am not. I think the motion is an insult to every conscientious man or woman who has rendered service to the Canadian Kennel Club or their members or fanciers.

MR. WALKERDINE: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I have never asked any club for one cent for my services going back probably fourteen or fifteen years, and yet I think Mr. Kynoch will bear me out I have been the recipient of a very nice chest of silver, and for every consecutive year after that for three years the Fort Garry Kennel Club paid me $50.00. Am I a professional?

MR. WAINRIGHT: If he had to contend with some of the stuff that my fellow members, the club that I belong to had to contend with this year from the Board of Directors he would change his opinion a whole lot.

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question? All in favor of Mr. Wainright's motion signify in the usual manner.

MR. PYM: Note me, Mr. Secretary, as refusing to vote.

COL. MacRAE: Motion lost.

MR. DUCKETT: Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask you to try to keep the meeting in better order.

COL. MacRAE: This was a question that seemed to have a lot of feeling back of it, and I thought it would be better to get it off your chest.

Now, is there anything else on that back page we haven't touched? Are you ready to go ahead with the amendments to the Dog Show Rules?

Mr. Wilson takes the Chair.

MR. DUCKETT: Wasn't that to be left till the last? That was placed at the end of the agenda this afternoon.

MR. WILSON: Other proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules. The proposed amendments to regulations should really come after the dog show rules. I think we had better go in rotation order, starting with the Proposed Amendments to the Dog Show Rules, over the listing.

MR. WATERS: Should we not put this amendment of Mr. Donaldson first, because if we spend our time discussing these others and then Mr. Donaldson's motion is carried we have wasted all that time?

MR. WILSON: Will Mr. Donaldson read that over?

MR. DONALDSON: (reads) "Pursuant to Dog Show Rule No. 64, Amendments, I hereby give notice that at the next Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., I will move that dog show rule number 13 be deleted in its entirety."

MR. WILSON: Number 13, that all judges should be licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club. (reads)

"All judges shall be licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club. Judges residing in Canada shall be recommended by the Provincial Committee for the Province in which the Applicant resides. All applications from outside of Canada shall be dealt with direct by the Board of Directors at Toronto. No fee shall be charged for judges' licenses."

Mr. Donaldson's motion means that it will be deleted in its entirety. Anybody second that motion?

Seconded by Mr. Waters.

MR. ROBERTS: I am much opposed to that. I think judging licenses is one of the finest things we have ever got. We have all got a chance to bring a man to toe the line if he doesn't do what is right, and if we take the licenses away we won't have that chance, and I say this, that the judges' licenses should still carry on, to protect ourselves. If a man can judge dogs, all right; if he can't judge dogs then he can be brought before the Canadian Kennel Club and show the reason why he can't do it.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, in connection with the licensing of judges, it seems to me from what I have read in the last few years and what I have heard in the previous years, that it has turned out absolutely to be a farce. We all know if you go to buy an article and you find it to be a poor article you don't buy that article. I think the person to tell who is a judge and who is not a judge is the person that employs them. I think the condition exists today that the judges we have in Canada are either proving themselves to be a judge or not a judge. The fact you bring it before the Canadian Kennel Club to criticize them or to ask them questions as to whether they can judge a dog or not, I would like to ask anybody on the existing Board whether they can tell whether a man can judge a dog or not. I don't think there is anyone can tell another person who can judge a dog and who can't judge a dog.

It seems to me it eventually works out a person who is judging dogs, if he gets a show in Toronto or a show in Windsor or Hamilton and is a failure insofar as his judging is concerned, bad news travels fast and it is certainly a good point the other clubs will not give that judge a chance, but on the other hand if he gives a good judging he receives the recommendation and other clubs will be seeking his services. I think this question of judges is only a matter of form.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I consider it a very great honour that I am licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club as one of your judges. I have judged in England, I have judged in America, I have judged in South Africa, I have judged in India; I have judged in every part of the world where dogs are shown.

Ladies and gentlemen, your license system may not be perfect, no system yet has been evolved that is perfect, but don't forget that when you license a judge you have the right to take that man's license away; you have the right to bring him before the Canadian Kennel Club. Ladies and gentlemen, as a licensed judge, as a judge that has judged all over the world, I say without fear of contradiction there has been nothing ever done in this wonderful country of yours that is going to improve your dog shows like the licensing of judges—nothing you have done.

I agree with you that the system is not perfect. A lot of men have been brought before the different Provincial Boards who received a license. Those men may not be capable judges, but ladies and gentlemen, don't forget that you have the right today if that man does not judge your dogs, and don't forget that any man that goes into the ring to judge dogs, to judge a breed that he doesn't know, he can go outside this hotel and go into a shop and take a coat down and rob that shop of that coat. And that man or that woman is doing the same thing if he or she goes into the ring and judges a breed he or she doesn't know.

Ladies and gentlemen, let me tell you that the licensing of judges is one of the greatest safeguards you have in this glorious country of yours. Let us go on and prosper and make this a real sport, a clean sport, and let the man that goes into the ring know that if he does anything wrong that he can be brought before your directors and his license taken away. Ladies and gentlemen, let me advise you strongly to go on with your licensing of judges. Improve on it, but don't go and abolish something that is bringing this sport up to something that is worth while. —Applause.

MR. WAINRIGHT: What does the Canadian Kennel Club do towards paying the man you want to judge your show? Nothing, absolutely nothing, and yet they tell you that if we want a certain man that man has got to have a license. Do you think they are entitled to that kind of stuff? They don't help you, all you are doing is reporting to the American Kennel Club. In another three years you may just as well quit, make out your membership to the American Kennel Club, and that is all you will have.

MR. DONALDSON: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Reeves says if we are not satisfied we can bring it to the Board of Directors. Very good. What would the Board of Directors say if I brought a case where there was four dogs in a class, first, second and third were tampered, and I accused a judge of not knowing his business. What would they say about that? Why I would absolutely get the gate.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, may I say another few words?

MR. WILSON: Yes.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, when I first came to America, what did I see? John Brown judging in that ring, John Thomas judging in this ring. What did they do? They jumped over the boards, John Brown going in and judging in this ring and the other judge going over and judging in that ring. Ladies and gentlemen, I am going to give you my word, I have never seen anything that has done so much for dog shows on the American Continent as the licensing of judges.

Ladies and gentlemen, this doesn't mean any hardship on you. You have more judges today than you ever had; more people have applied for licenses, but there is only one thing that you have got the right over that man, to play the game square and to make this sport a clean sport.

MR. DONALDSON: I get back to the same old place as this, that the Board of Directors are not qualified to tell a man whether he is qualified to do the job or not. I am basing my whole case on that. If it don't carry it is all right.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, in many instances in the past I think our judges that we have licensed have been the selection of some show-giving club, and by their selection they are responsible for a lot of the licenses being granted today. And if the show-giving club doesn't know anything about that man they shouldn't appoint him, whether he is licensed or unlicensed. Then again, if that judge doesn't given satisfaction at their show they are open to have him suspended or have his judge's license suspended. I believe there are cases to that effect even today.

MR. ECCLES: Ladies and gentlemen, I would like to ask Mr. Reeves if he can tell me this: For instance, on Friday of this week the licenses had not come into effect and Mr. Reeves was judging on Friday, and then on Saturday he judged a show with a license. By having a license would it make him able to judge the dogs any better than it would on Friday? What is the use of having a judge's license? That is just what I want to find out.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, that question is very easy to answer. The licensing of judges only means one thing. We don't tell you that the man we have given the license to we think only he is fit to go into your show ring and judge, but on the back of that license form that man has put there a sworn statement, which has been witnessed; he has to get other people to say that that man can go into the ring and judge. Because I am a licensed judge doesn't make me go into the ring and judge any better, but ladies and gentlemen, don't forget this, when you are licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club don't think that you can do any of the tricks in Canada that I know were done on the American Continent twenty and twenty-five years ago. You cannot do it today. You can go and destroy the sport that you are building up, and ladies and gentlemen, I can give you my firm opinion we don't say when we license a judge that that man is capable of going into the ring, but there is one thing, that we do protect you;

we say if that man does not behave that his license will be taken away, and we have taken a man's license away within the last month or so because he did not do something that he should have done. In the old days what could your Board of Directors have done with that man?

COL. MacRAE: Ready for the question, gentlemen?

MR. WAINRIGHT: I remember a case where a Canadian applied for a license, that was before licenses were in force. Our secretary refused to pass him into the American Kennel Club for an all-breed license, which in my mind was quite correct. Last year I sat on the Board of Directors—you were with me, Mr. Wilson—the same man applied and he was refused an all-breed license, and I still think that was right. He only had to be elected and apply and he was granted one. What can Mr. Reeves say to that?

MR. MORGAN: This, in my mind, is going to be a question of getting an honest judge. If you can't make a man honest by giving the license you can't make him honest by not giving a license, but you can keep him in line if you have a system to do it. I am in favor of having the licenses, and if these gentlemen that are sponsoring the resolution don't think they can get a square deal from the Board of Directors, well then, they want to get out and work and get somebody that they thing is satisfactory and then they will get some proper decisions in regard to judging.

MR. DONALDSON: That is not the attitude I am taking. I maintain who is going to judge the judges? That is what I want to know.

MR. ROBERTS: As Mr. Donaldson says, who is going to judge the judges? Well then, why doesn't he say we haven't any men in Canada capable of judging? That is what that means, and nothing else.

MR. DONALDSON: It means there is no man in Canada qualified to tell a man whether he can do it or not. He is not capable of passing on whether any man is qualified or not, I maintain.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, and upon a vote being taken was declared lost.

MR. DUCKETT: I would ask that a vote be taken on this sheet.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, I don't think we can do that because there is a considerable portion on that sheet on the dog show rules that has got to be taken up.

COL. MacRAE: You mean they are completed?

MR. CLIMO: No, the top portion of this is a carry-over from the front page.

MR. STRACHAN: Those that are on the top of the page, Mr. Climo, are part of the Dog Show Regulations and came from the committee on rules and regulations. All those under the heading of Other Proposed Amendments to the Dog Show Rules are proposed amendments that members have sent in from all over the country.

GEN. NELLES: Are you going on with those?

COL. MacRAE: Is that agreeable, ladies and gentlemen?

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen, in submitting this proposed amendment I assure you I do it with an open mind. I am convinced this regulation is not satisfactory to the majority, for the reason that the committee who drafted it could not foresee the fact their efforts would be taken advantage of. I do not say you will approve of what I am about to submit to you, but I submit it merely to get the feeling of this meeting.

Mr. Chairman, is it necessary to read it?

COL. MacRAE: I think you had better read it.

MR. PYM: (reads) "The selection of judges shall be left to the discretion of show-giving clubs holding dog shows under Canadian Kennel Club rules, and any person in good standing with the Canadian Kennel Club and otherwise eligible and selected by a show-giving club to judge their show, shall be immediately given a permit to judge that particular show only."

Before I proceed further, let me explain I had in mind retaining for the show-giving clubs the constitutional right to be the show selecting the judge. Further, to give a license to the judge.

"Permanent licenses to judge dogs under Canadian Kennel Club rules shall be issued upon application to those who can qualify, and the basis of qualification shall be:

1. Having previously judged a dog show held under Canadian Kennel Club rules, or licensed to judge dogs by any other Governing Kennel Club affiliated with the Canadian Kennel Club.

2. Demonstrated knowledge of the standards of the breeds applicant wishes to judge, and references satisfactory to the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club. And also; those who have judged at least one licensed show under the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club or any other Governing Kennel Club affiliated with the Canadian Kennel Club, may make application for a permanent judge's license without regard to a temporary one show permit."

I have also provided here that a group, a small minority such as a Board of Directors who meet once a month in the interests of the Canadian Kennel Club, if a show-giving club selects John Smith, John Smith goes out and he proves to you that he can judge dogs or he proves he can not judge dogs, but I say if a person goes out and judges his first show and he isn't as good as you think he should be, you do not expect perfection, but we can always demand improvement, and I think that the average exhibitor is fair enough to say that John Smith did the best he could and he is a promising judge and should be developed, and you will all be ready to get behind him and encourage him.

On the other hand, if John Smith is hopelessly out of his sphere then John Smith will come to the conclusion himself that he should not apply for a permanent license, but if John Smith still thinks he is entitled to a permanent license then I say it is the duty of the officers in control of the affairs of this club to see that John Smith doesn't secure that license until he has devoted sufficient time and study to the art of judging dogs, and then he is competent to go out and protect your investment and my investment which is represented in the dogs we present in competition in the show room, whether it cost us $10.00, a thousand dollars or a hundred thousand dollars.

I have no personal interest in this other than the fact I devoted some time to thinking it out, and I give it to you with an open mind merely to test the feeling of this meeting, and I say, Mr. Chairman, this amendment is no longer mine, it belongs to you, and do with it what you think in your wisdom is right.

Motion seconded by Mr. Roberts.

MR. DUCKETT: Have we not just passed on the first; that the Dog Show Rules be amended by cancelling all judges' licenses issued by the Canadian Kennel Club? Hasn't that just been voted on?

COL. MacRAE: It was voted down, we voted down the motion to strike out number 13. You have the two there; the first clause is practically covered in that other motion.

MR. PYM: It is perfectly all right to me what you do with it, Mr. Chairman.

COL. MacRAE: What about the rest of that?

MR. BROWN: Delete the first part of it.

MR. WAINRIGHT: I don't think it is necessary to take a lot of time on that stuff. Some of us want to get home tonight, we have a lot further to go than some people staying in Toronto.

COL. MacRAE: Well, we have cut that part out. What do you want to do with the rest of it? Do you make a motion?

MR. PYM: I have no further interest.

COL. MacRAE: The rest of that is simply to figure out a method of improving the selection of judges.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, I am hardly in accord with Mr. Pym. As we see it today in the existing conditions a person applying for a judge's license is granted it if you have knowledge that he can judge dogs. This motion, in my opinion, is just making it in the same line exactly but making it a little more intricate, in that he applies for a temporary license. We will deal with it this way:

Number one reads "Having previously judged a dog show held under Canadian Kennel Club rules, or licensed to judge dogs by any other Governing Kennel Club affiliated with the Canadian Kennel Club."

It naturally follows a man comes here and asks for a license, and is granted it. These same conditions are borne in mind now when you deal with an application for a license.

Then number two, (reads) "Demonstrated knowledge of the standards of the breeds applicant wishes to judge, and references satisfactory to the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club."

Why not give him a judge's license and let him go out and judge his first show, and if he makes a mess of it you have the right of withdrawing his license. You can either let the license stand or else withdraw it.

And the rest, of course, applies to this, when you judge a show this year or last year under the Canadian Kennel Club.

COL. MacRAE: Any further discussion? Are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Question.

The vice-president put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared carried.

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. Chairman, I don't think there is any use in going on and wasting time; I withdraw my proposed amendment.

COL. MacRAE: You withdraw?

MR. ROBERTS: Yes.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, in the absence of Mr. Stock I move this motion, which reads:

"Pursuant to the requirements of Dog Show Rules, article 64, Amendments, I will move at the next annual general meeting that the Dog Show Rules be amended by adding thereto the following:

The Official Veterinary Surgeon of a show-giving Club in the event of his rejecting any exhibit for just cause, shall immediately write in the Judge's Book 'Rejected' against the catalogued number of the rejected dog. The Official Veterinary Surgeon's decision shall be final and non-appealable."

COL. MacRAE: All in favor?

Carried.

MR. STOCKDALE: You are passing something that is unconstitutional. The veterinary surgeon or no one else has any right to inscribe anything whatsoever in the judge's book. Our rules definitely cover that the judge is the only man that can write in that book.

COL. MacRAE: Up to the present. This would give the veterinary surgeon that right.

MR. STOCKDALE: But even then, Mr. Chairman, let us give it some consideration. You are giving the veterinary surgeon, the official veterinary surgeon, power to do something which may be very detrimental to a dog that may be rejected today and accepted next week. You are going to make a record in a book, the dog being rejected by the veterinary surgeon, and there is no qualification on it, it is just rejected.

COL. MacRAE: There is only one thing he would reject it for.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, I think this thing could be covered if the veterinary surgeon would produce a certificate giving the reason why the dog was rejected.

COL. MacRAE: I was a little previous in putting that motion, ladies and gentlemen. I am sorry I didn't notice Mr. Stockdale, and with your permission—

MR. DUCKETT: Mr. Chairman, I would like to speak to the question, the question of a veterinary's opinion. At a recent show there was a dog removed from the ring, he could not see the dog in the ring, he had to take it out to see it, and in doing so instead of taking the attendant with him he took the owner with him where no one else was able to see the dog, and it was decided he was not a defective dog, but Mr. Stockdale's point is well taken. If that dog had been rejected the surgeon should have shown why he was a rejected dog.

COL. MacRAE: Any further discussion?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I know for one I would very strongly object to any veterinary surgeon coming into my ring and touching my book. That judging book is my property and I do not allow anyone to touch that book until I take that book into the office. If there is anything wrong with the dog I call the veterinary surgeon in myself. If the veterinary surgeon says that dog has been tampered with I mark that myself. I am in the ring to look after that, and every judge is in the ring to look after that. The judge's book is the judge's property and no one else should be allowed to touch that book.

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question?

MR. STOCKDALE: Question.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

MR. PYM: In the absence of Mr. Stock, I would move this resolution (reads):

"All dog shows held under license of the Canadian Kennel Club shall be sponsored by a regularly constituted Kennel Club; said Club shall be an affiliated member Club of the Canadian Kennel Club, the registration fee for which shall be five dollars. A member club holding a show one year, shall be entitled to the same dates in the following year. In the event of a member club not holding a show for two consecutive years, this Club's membership shall be declared null and void."

GEN. NELLES: Mr. Chairman, I would like to point out that in making all dog show clubs affiliated members of the Canadian Kennel Club it would be necessary to change our rules. We have no such thing today as a club affiliated with the Canadian Kennel Club, and kennel clubs holding dog shows hold them under license and under the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club. We have no such thing as an affiliated membership, and in order to bring that into effect there would have to be a change in the constitution.

MR. CARTER: If a club is registered is it not presumed to be registered with the Canadian Kennel Club?

GEN. NELLES: No, there is no such thing.

MR. SHAWLEY: Hasn't that been discontinued for some time?

MR. WAINRIGHT: I don't think it would do any good; it would cost a lot of money.

COL. MacRAE: Question? All in favor of Mr. Stock's motion signify in the usual manner?

Contrary?

Lost.

MR. STOCKDALE: I will move this motion for Mr. Rowe, and I will drop the preamble (reads):

"All Clubs holding non-point shows must obtain a permit from the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., before holding such show, and that only one show be allowed in each city during any month, said permit to cost the sum of five dollars."

I move the motion, and exercise my right to oppose it.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, while I am not altogether in favor of matinee shows, there are reasons why we should really oppose them, but let it not effect the holding of matinee shows. Very often, speaking for Calgary, Calgary members, we often hold a little matinee show of one or two breeds with the idea of getting some dogs there. We will say after the judging these dogs may be placed upon a table and the judge of the evening gives the exhibitors, and those others around, the reason why he placed the dogs in such a position, and then again he answers a lot of questions defining the fine points of the dog and the breed, which can't be put into words in any ordinary way. There are certain things that you can point out to people when you have specimens in front of them but it is kind of hard to describe.

Therefore, if we do this, where a club is probably dealing with six or seven different breeds, on six or seven different evenings you are going to run that club into twenty-five or thirty dollars, and I don't think we should do it.

MR. ECCLES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I think this motion is altogether out of order. In the first place, take the Hamilton Kennel Club. We are not affiliated with the Canadian Kennel Club, if we want to run a dog show any night of the week or Saturday afternoon it is nobody's business. Then again, to pay the sum of five dollars, we are going to pay five dollars to do a lot of hard work.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, in connection with the Toronto members here, if this rule is adopted, we all know we have thirteen or fourteen specialty clubs in Toronto today; this amendment is going to permit us to have one show a month. Some club is not going to have an evening show or a non-point show. We are taxed enough now without having to pay fees to the Canadian Kennel Club.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

COL. MacRAE: Mr. Donaldson, your proposed amendment?

MR. DONALDSON: (reads) "Pursuant to Dog Show Rule No. 64, Amendments, I hereby give notice that at the next Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., I will move that Dog Show Rule Numbers 61, 62, and 63, be deleted in their entirety, and be replaced by the following rule:

All dogs having been placed Best of Breed in their respective classes shall be brought into the ring at the completion of judging the regular recognized breed classes, and from this group, the judge, or judges acting in conjunction with each other, shall select the Best Dog in Show, and at the same time the judge, or judges acting in conjunction with each other, shall declare a second award, this award to be known as Reserve Best Dog in Show."

MEMBER: I think that, Mr. Chairman, is to revert back to practically the old times, when we did away with the variety groups. I remember in 1911 there were 21 puppies in the puppy variety class at the Toronto Kennel Club Show, and when it comes to the best dog in show at night it would draw better and make a far better finish to the dog show if there were perhaps fifty or sixty eligible to compete, and it would make a better showing all round for a finish. As it is now there are only five dogs in the show when it comes to the best dog in show, generally left to the last thing at night, and I venture to say one out of every fifty people that come into the dog show don't know really why they are in there, but fifty out of fifty-one dog men know there are a lot of dogs in that building could beat any one of those five.

MR. ECCLES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, in answer to Mr. Donaldson I would like to say I don't agree with him in any way, because the last time we had that, the dogs coming in for best in show, I think Mr. Reeves was judging in Hamilton, and it is an impossibility, I figure, for the judge to decide the best dog in show, when there is a miscellaneous group, a chow and spitz and so on. Now, naturally there aren't as many dogs in the ring as when all the dogs are in there, I figure naturally they find the best dog the better dog that way, than if they all come in for best in show.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make one remark about this group, if you went back to the old way of judging. Now, you have a little Pom., you have a Great Dane, you have a Chow, you have thirty or forty other dogs, and what chance has that little Pom. for best in show? If you first bring that Pom. in the Toy Variety Class, that Pom. is not nervous, you are able to see that Pom. to much better advantage when it is shown amongst its own small class and variety.

Gentlemen, I believe the groups are something that draw a big gate, and I am quite in accord with the speaker, because I believe today your groups and best in show are one of the most drawing features of the game, and in my opinion I would not like to see it altered. I would say to leave the groups and best in show the way it is today.

MR. CLIMO: As I have said before, we discussed all these things at the Edmonton Kennel Club, and I want to give you what I say now as really the voice of the Edmonton dog fanciers. There is one thing that they impressed on me, that they would hate to see this thing done away with as it has been one of the best features the dog show has ever experienced.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

MR. ECCLES: (reads) "Pursuant to Dog Show Rule 64, Amendments, I will move at the next Annual Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., that Dog Show Rule 36 be amended to read as follows:

Rating. The number of Championship points allotted at Show, shall depend upon the number of dogs actually benched, as follows: Not less than 400 dogs shall count five points; not less than 325 dogs shall count four points; not less than 275 dogs shall count three points; not less than 175 dogs shall count two points; not less than 100 dogs shall count one point."

COL. MACRAE: May I interrupt Mr. Eccles, if you don't mind. This method of counting points is coming up in the course of a few minutes, I hope, then yours, I think, could quite easily be taken up at that time.

MR. ECCLES: If you will allow me, I would like to add an amendment to my amendment, the following words: "All breeds in Ontario," and also draw your attention that there is a printer's error here in the number; it reads "275 dogs shall count three points," and it should read "250 dogs."

COL. MACRAE: Are you agreeable to bring this up with the other point?

MR. ECCLES: It is this way, Mr. Chairman; whichever way it goes if I bring it now or leave it over, if the new scale of points that we are trying to bring on now carries you will have to bring this on to see if it defeats the other one—

COL. MACRAE: You see, either can be amended, and I think it would save time.

GEN. NELLES: Mr. Eccles could bring it in as an amendment to the new Dog Show Rules.

MRS. WALKER: I withdraw my proposed amendment.

MR. DUCKETT: As Mr. Price is not here I will read his motion (reads): "Pursuant to Dog Show Rule 64, Amendments, I hereby give notice that at the next Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., I will move that the Dog Show Rules be amended by striking out in its entirety the rule governing weight in Cocker Spaniels.

My reason for proposing this Amendment is because I believe that the matter of weights should be a matter for the Specialty Clubs sponsoring the breed, and not particularly for the Canadian Kennel Club."

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, you will grant it is most difficult to build up but very easy to tear down. Somebody did tear down the motion which was adopted here last year. I am not a Cocker breeder myself, although I bred them in this Province many years ago, and lots of them, and I haven't bred them since then. But speaking now for the members of British Columbia, and it is their opinion which I convey to you, that when those Cocker fanciers came here in Toronto in 1909—and I am glad to see we have among those original workers who drafted the Cocker Spaniel rule, Mr. Peter Herd, Mr. Climo, and Mr. Tyrwhitt, and possibly others, they built a solid foundation, and the breeders throughout the country endeavored to live up to the standard which those gentlemen drafted at that time, but they have changed their stock and now they are in the position where they have greatly improved the type of the Cocker, and it appears to me it would be a great pity at this time to tear down just what these men have been building up since 1909, and which this club adopted officially last year.

Mr. Price says it should be left to the Specialty Clubs and not the Canadian Kennel Club. In rebuttal I submit until such time when the Canadian Kennel Club adopts a complete set of standards and has those standards available to judges and exhibitors there is only one place this Cocker Spaniel weight can be kept. I understand the Beagles and the Cocker Spaniel standards are the only two standards which have been officially adopted at an annual meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, and I sincerely hope the voters here will be mindful of the effect on the Cocker Spaniel breeders, and some members throughout the country desire to have the rules left as they are.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President, as a Cocker fancier this is one of the things that I would hate to see taken out of our present dog show rules, and I may say that the majority or all of the Cocker fanciers in Alberta that have been approached on this matter have signified that the standard of our present day Cocker is not in the least bit too high, and that the ratings as they are shown in our rules should be allowed to stand at our shows. I have here the signature of Mr. H. B. Saunders. Even his father before him was widely known in the Cocker Spaniel breeding and who, I believe, was one of the Provincial Presidents of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Canada some years ago. There is Mr. Harbin of Calgary, another enthusiastic breeder; Mr. Wilfred Smith, J. H. Staunton, Sandy Robinson, and Mr. R. E. Smith. Those are from Edmonton, and I may say they would very much regret seeing this thing deleted from our present rules, and left to a Specialty Club to control.

MR. DUCKETT: In our Kennel & Bench that has been in force for a little while there was a reference made to a shortage of entries at the Coast show. Was there?

MR. PYM: Replying to this gentleman, I would say emphatically no, and I submit a very fine letter showing the number of entries of all breeds, or most of the breeds that had competed at British Columbia shows, and it proves conclusively to every person that reads that article that the weights had nothing to do with the Cocker Spaniel Entries in British Columbia last year.

While I am on my feet, with your permission I would add that at the last all-breed show held in the Province of British Columbia a few months ago the Cocker entry was the largest in the history of that Province.

MR. DUCKETT: I thank you, Mr. Pym.

Now, I believe the standard of the Cocker should be set, but I am convinced the Canadian Kennel Club has no right to set the standard, but the breeders should have in mind a different type of dog than was being shown. We had American judges coming here, and one dog when put on the scales weighed eighteen and a-half pounds, yet that dog went very near to winning, in as much as some of the American judges rather like to have them small; in other words, they rather like the toy.

Now, I am sorry this was ever voted on last year, inasmuch as we had a delegate from the Cocker Spaniel Club come here, he got you to vote. That does not get away from the fact that I am still of the opinion that Cocker Club has no control over us, but they could give us support as a Specialty Club when a judge is being selected, ask the Cocker Club or any other club to make their recommendation for the judges.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, it seems to me as a Cocker Spaniel breeder that this standard of the Cocker Spaniel has been tampered with just a little too much. One year they want a big Cocker and the next year they want a carpet sweeper. I would like other Cocker Spaniel breeders in this room to stand up and we will see which type they want us to vote on.

I am breeding Cocker Spaniels at the present time and have about fifty, and I can give you ten big ones and ten little ones, and personally I don't really care which way this amendment goes, but I do contend that there has got to be something done either one way or the other, and fix a standard that can not be tampered with at any time. I say, ladies and gentlemen, I am of the same opinion today as I have always been, when we voted that the standard of the Cocker Spaniels should be raised to a certain weight. I don't say Cockers that are over-weight or anything like that, I maintain a Cocker Spaniel should be a dog of a respectable size, and a dog that can go out and do a fairly good day's work, not the little short-legged, crooked-legged dog that were bred here thirty years ago, which today fulfil the standard that the Americans have. The breeders of Cocker Spaniels that I come in contact with prefer the fairly large dog, but where the Cocker breeders put their foot in it last year, they did not submit the standard in the proper manner to the Canadian Kennel Club. If they had submitted the standard in a proper way to the Canadian Kennel Club we wouldn't have had this stuff that a dog can go to work and get all the firsts and he can't compete for winners. I don't blame the present day standard for causing that trouble, I blame the people that sponsored it.

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question?

MR. SHAWLEY: Mr. President, there has been no change in the situation for a considerable number of years, that standard has stood for a long time, and the only thing we wanted last year was to have that standard embodied in the Dog Show Rules, which was done. Now, why do they want it taken out this year? There is no use in having a thing one year and taking it out in the next; that is not doing any good, and all breeders at the present time down here in Toronto are fully conversant with the weights and they are satisfied with the weights, but the only thing they don't like is for it to be embodied in the Dog Show Rules. They can't see where you are going to stick it over somebody's head when you have that in the Dog Show Rules, whereas if it wasn't in the Dog Show Rules they wouldn't have a leg to stand on.

COL. MacRAE: It was put in by the Cocker Spaniel breeders themselves.

Are you ready for the question?

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President, as far as the large and small Cocker is concerned, I have had experience with them both, and I may say any Cocker that is less than twenty-two or twenty-three pounds in my kennel is going to go out, for the simple reason that the larger dog is a dog that will work in the field, and the small Cocker, after trying them for several years with probably an odd exception they can't stand the gaff. We find such breeds as the Springer has come in and set the Cocker aside as a sporting dog. Let us remember the Cocker Spaniel is a sporting dog, and not a toy, and the sooner we can remember that the sooner we will have Cockers that can hold their own in the field and on the bench.

MR. DUCKETT: If I may say, at the last Exhibition there were dogs taken in that were taken to the show and the exhibitor knew before he took the dog there it was over weight. Those dogs were put on the scale and turned down. Although I read the motion, I still maintain I want to breed to the standard.

COL. MacRAE: Is there any person who has not spoken that wants to talk on this?

MRS. McCOLL: I have a Cocker Spaniel that weighs about twenty-three pounds that is good enough to go to Belleville to win. If I want to send that dog to Ottawa it is going to lose weight on the journey if it is without food all day. It is three ounces under the twenty-three pounds; it gets penalized. There are eighty-six breeds of dogs; if every standard weight in every breed of dog was compelled to be weighed as it entered the ring, how many dogs would get in a dog show? Why should it be any more in the Cockers than in any other breed? I don't think the people here just understand the question as it is, but why should a person be penalized because the dog is two ounces under twenty-three pounds?

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question?

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I haven't conveyed to you all the opinions of the people I represent. I may say they anticipated the fact the same argument was put up last year, you were losing the market for Cocker Spaniels.

The Canadian Kennel Club many years ago provided a rule to conduct the weighing of each and every dog that is required to be weighed, and the certificate given at the time of weighing holds good during the whole operation of that show, but while they received some adverse publicity, they also received some very favourable publicity from a very prominent Cocker man, Mr. Knox of Los Angeles, who writes for a Cincinnati paper—Dog News. Mr. Knox in his article referred to the mix-up and he also went on and said it is not an argument against the weights of Cockers but an argument in favor of it, and he complimented the Canadian Cocker breeders in having the courage to attempt to establish a uniformity of Cocker size. Last month, in the widely-circulated Field & Stream, a sporting paper, you will find that a subscriber wrote to the editor, asking him to give the standard of the Cocker Spaniel. The editor pointed out the Canadian weights and the American weights, and added the note that he was in favor of the larger dog. You go into the southwest and the northwest of the United States of America, you will find that the dogs there winning today could easily qualify under the present weight system in Canada, and I think you should not, in my opinion, lose any market at all. I repeat, it is the pleasure of those fifty-odd Cocker breeders whom I represent that this be kept as it is, but if you feel you cannot keep the Cocker weights, then you, I know, will be fair to those absent members, and you will also delete the height of Beagles, treat them all alike, because they are both in the same dog show rules.

And I will say this, in my own opinion now I do believe that the Cocker Spaniel breeders made a mistake when they did not put a lower weight for the females, and I also believe that the puppies, males or females, under twelve months of age should not be included in the weight scale, and if it is acceptable to you I would move an amendment to Mr. Price's proposed amendment that the weights for Cocker Spaniels now in effect in the Canadian Kennel Club shall not apply to Cocker Spaniels under twelve months of age.

COL. MacRAE: They don't now.

MR. PYM: Further; that females, the weights of females shall be a minimum of twenty-two pounds.

MR. HERD: They don't recognize the Cocker has a standard in the American Cocker Club, do they?

MR. PYM: I would suggest in fairness to Mr. Herd that he will get the information if he asks Mr. Reeves or Mr. Ross or someone else here.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen, I think here tonight that the Cocker Spaniel Breeders are to blame themselves; they went to work and they didn't use their heads. They used too much English blood, and they got their Cockers too big through using too much English blood. I did it myself; I admit it. They did not use the little bit of English blood that they intended to, and they are sorry for it today.

COL. MacRAE: Are you ready for the question? All in favor of this motion of Mr. Price please signify in the usual manner?

MR. ROSS: Is that altering the weight, Mr. Pym?

MR. PYM: I will make an amendment, if it is acceptable, that Cocker Spaniels under twelve months of age shall not be included in the weight scale, and also the weight of female Cocker Spaniels be reduced to twenty-two pounds.

MR. KYNOCH: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make an amendment; it would be a shame to go to work and cut out the Cocker Spaniels under twelve months of age. Mr. Pym's amendment was that we withhold a Cocker Spaniel under twelve months of age.

COL. MacRAE: No. Put your motion again, Mr. Pym?

MR. PYM: I will move an amendment to Mr. Price's amendment, that the weight of Cocker Spaniels shall not apply to Cocker Spaniels under twelve months of age, and I also add that the weight of the female Cocker Spaniel be reduced to twenty-two pounds.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor of Mr. Pym's amendment signify? Contrary?—Carried.

COL. MacRAE: Who is presenting Mr. Bruce's amendment?

MR. STOCKDALE: I will. (Reads). "The Dog Show Rules and Regulations can only be amended by a referendum vote of the total membership when a majority vote of those voting upon questions submitted shall be declared at the Annual General Meeting. Notice of all proposed amendments shall be given the Secretary ninety days in advance of the General Meeting, which notice shall be submitted to the Board of Directors who shall have same submitted to the General Membership and returned at least thirty days prior to the Annual Meeting, and the vote recorded for or against, so that it shall become part of the proceedings, and no new rules adopted shall become effective until three months after its adoption."

COL. MacRAE: That is practically the same as Mr. Bruce's amendment to the constitution. I don't think it is necessary to discuss it.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared lost.

COL. MacRAE: Mr. D. B. Young?

THE SECRETARY: That has been taken care of; that is in the proposed new rules.

COL. MacRAE: The proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules. Mr. Reeves, which do you want to take up first?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, it is getting very late, and I think we had better take them as they are, and get through. Ladies and gentlemen, before dealing with the proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules I would like to tell you that my committee, in trying to bring the rules and regulations up to date have not suggested one single alteration for your consideration without very careful investigation and with but one thought, the advancement of the Canadian dogs and shows.
