Wyrecote Watalad (Imp.)

Wycote Commodore (Imp.)

Ch. Walnut Rouge (Imp.)

Offers at Stud the Following High Class

Wire-Haired Fox Terriers and Scottish Terriers. Dogs which have been most consistent winners in the show ring. Dogs which have proven their worth in the stud kennel.

CHAMPION WALNUT RATTLER (Imp.)

A double cross of Champion Fountain Crusader, and a sure fire producer of high class typical stock, too well known to require any further comment here. STUD FEE, $20.00

WYCOTE COMMODORE (Imp.)

A wonderful and desirable outcross for Simon bitches. Sire, Tirydail Trademark, ex Gelly Flower, winner of the challenge certificate and over 40 first prizes at open and championship shows from July to December. STUD FEE, $20.00

WYRECOTE WATALAD (Imp.)

The hound marked sensational son of Champion Talavera Simon, an honest winner and a real producer. A big winner in England prior to his coming to Canada and in Canada he has come within striking distance of his championship. At Hamilton, under the English judge, Guy Cowper, Wyrecote Watalad went on to Best of Breed, beating the several champions in competition there. At Nova Scotia last October this smart Wire went to Best Dog in Show All Breeds, under Judge Robt. A. Ross, at the N.S.K.C. Show, and he was Winners Dog at both the Nova Scotia fixtures. STUD FEE, $15.00

WALNUT LEADER (Imp.)

By Champion Weltona Pebble, a really outstanding wire, smallest of dark eyes, long, clean cut head, and a coat of pinwire texture, a consistent winner, and a stud dog who has enjoyed the companionship of over 30 visiting matrons from the United States, and whose services are in great demand in Canada. STUD FEE, $15.00

WELBECK CRUSADER

A Wire Fox Terrier which is an ideal cross between Champion Fountain Crusader and Champion Epping Extreme. A many times winner, and the conqueror of Ch. Walnut Rattler at Montreal in 1931. He is particularly suited for bitches lacking in size and substance. STUD FEE, $10.00

BRAEMORE SCOTTISH TERRIERS

offer the very choicest blood combinations obtainable in the Scottish Terrier world today.

CHAMPION WALNUT ROUGE (Imp.)

A black brindle "Scottie," who is a splendid son of the world's greatest Scottish Terrier, Champion Heather Necessity. STUD FEE, $25.00

KEMPTON NACAIR

Very black brindle, short back and tail, low to ground, a real Scottish Terrier. STUD FEE, $20.00

BURKET MORVIN

Dark brindle, by Burket Luminary, dam Burket Barbara, who has Rookery Robin for her sire. This little dog has all the qualifications, but have too many dogs at the present time, and offer him for sale for $100.00. STUD FEE, $20.00

TARVIT TORCH (Imp.)

An extremely smart "Scottie," who shows twenty-seven champions in his five generation pedigree. He is by Champion Albourne Barty, ex Mannock Mikadoo, who is a full sister to Champion Albourne Arthur. STUD FEE, $20.00

FOR SALE

Wire Haired Fox Terrier puppies, and Scottish Terrier puppies from choicely bred and carefully selected matings, and a few nice Scottie females, due soon in season. Reasonable.

The Canadian Fancy

By WALTER H. REEVES, Belleville, Ont.

AT the next meeting of the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club the President, Lt.-Col. G. F. McFarland will no doubt name a new Rules and Regulation Committee to finish, or rather I should write try and finish the work begun by the 1932 committee. May I ask for the whole-hearted support of members and show-giving clubs throughout the Dominion. The committee last year through the Canadian Fancy repeatedly asked the members and clubs for their suggestions and help in drawing up a new Championship Rating, but until the Annual General Meeting the response and co-operation was practically nil, and when the committee from the data they had at their disposal, after many meetings and discussions suggested a rating for the consideration of the members of the club, the committee found that instead of a peaceful club they had disturbed a hornet's nest; rumours were spread that the Rules and Regulation Committee were going to force the rating through and nearly all the Directors from outside of Ontario came with the intention of killing the suggested rating and all were prepared with suggestions at the thirteenth hour. One member who is evidently somewhat of an authority on statistics took up considerable time of the meeting by making a long statement he had compiled, but why leave all these suggestions until they were too late to be of use to the Rules and Regulation Committee or the members? I had the honor of being chairman of the committee and I know that the members of the committee very often at considerable inconvenience to themselves practically registered 100 per cent attendance. Take my own case for instance, at some of the meetings I had to catch a 4 a.m. train from Belleville, and after the committee meeting I attended the ordinary Directors' Meeting the same evening which meant that I arrived home the next morning between 3 and 4 a.m. I am only mentioning these facts so as to try and prevent a similar lack of interest by show-giving clubs this year. My good friend, W. Pym, proposed that the Rating should be referred back to the committee, and a promise was given that the clubs would co-operate. We are, or will be when these lines are printed, in June and I believe so far one suggestion has arrived. In reviewing the 1933 Annual Meeting I came to the conclusion that the members of the club were taking a real interest in the Rules and Regulations and I sincerely trust that this reminder will have the desired effect, namely, that all clubs will call a general meeting and thoroughly discuss the Championship Rating and send their suggestions to the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club.

In reading over the discussions of the General Meeting I notice that Mr. Wainright accused me with placing a "safety-razored dog from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail as best in show." The terrier accused of being safety-razored was Dr. and Mrs. Milbank's "Champion Lone Eagle of Earlsmoor" and the handler, Leonard Brumby. The reason I am mentioning this is that I hope Mr. Wainright when he is judging Wires will not dismiss a terrier that is being properly prepared but is short of coat for being "Barbered." I have known all the Brumby. Leonard and his brother, Frank, were taught how to prepare a Wire Fox Terrier by their father, the world-famous founder of the Briar strain. Leonard Brumby I consider has few, if any, superiors in trimming a Wire Fox Terrier, and I have yet to see Leonard bring a Wire into the show ring showing signs of being safety razored. "Lone Eagle" was shown at the National Kennel Club Show and was placed Best of Breed by my friend, Frank Addyman, the day before the Club Show. At this show "Lone Eagle" won the Terrier Group and his win entitled him to compete for Best Dog in Show. Frank Addyman and the writer, in debating whether to place the Terrier or the Old English Sheepdog ahead, came to the same conclusion, namely, that "Lone Eagle" was short of coat but not safety-razored. "Lone Eagle's" coat had been taken down and timed for a later show than the National Kennel Club.

The writer mentions this accusation for two reasons, first, to vindicate Leonard Brumby, and secondly, to offer his opinion that the reason why Ontario owned and bred Wire Fox Terriers have not so far been able to achieve the great wins accomplished by British Columbia owned Wires, is that Ontario breeders in many instances are too prone to take a "chance" with an indifferently trimmed or hurriedly prepared Wire. I venture to say that "Matford Vic" or Wireboy of Paignton, if they had been purchased by a novice and taken into the show-ring without expert attention being given to their coats, would, if even competing against mediocre terriers have finished amongst the also rans. "Matford Vic" was purchased from her breeder by W. Trimble, the famous Field Spaniel breeder and exhibitor for ten dollars. She was really acquired to try and clear the Trimble Kennel of rats. Trimble was the possessor of a good eye for form and he quickly saw possibilities if "Vic's" coat could only be properly trimmed. Trimble had a master's hand for placing his black and colored Field Spaniels in the ring, but he took no chances with "Vic", which was sent to Arthur Cartledge to prepare,—how well he succeeded is now a matter of history for "Matford Vic" made her debut, if my memory is correct, at Western Super Mere where I offered for her on behalf of a well-known American Fox Terrier man—£250 (two hundred and fifty pounds). Later on she was sold to my friend, the late George Quintard, for £450 (four hundred and fifty pounds), roughly about two thousand five hundred dollars, in those days a record price for a Wire Fox Terrier. About the most concise description of how to prepare a Wire Fox Terrier appears in the "Wire Fox Terrier," written by that keen and constructive breeder and judge, J. Irving Ackerman. He writes as follows: "Assuming that your terrier is completely in the rough, it is necessary to strip his entire coat off at least six weeks before the show. However, as some dogs grow their coats more rapidly than others, this is not a hard and fast rule. A study of the coat growing characteristics of the individual dog must determine the exact period necessary to strip in order that the dog be ready to show at the given time. The author continues with most minute instructions for the successful trimming and I strongly advise any of my readers who do not possess this authoritative book to write to the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club and obtain a copy.

The whole world has been living at too fast a rate and undoubtedly some of our Wire exhibitors have been trying to prepare their Wire-Haired Fox Terriers by express methods. Unfortunately they have gotten by in many instances, which naturally makes them more and more prone to take a chance. Sooner or later, however, they will find out that you cannot cut holes in a wire's coat with either a stripping comb or a safety razor a week before a show and then show the hurriedly prepared terrier under a judge who knows wires and does not care whether the terrier is a champion or not, and therefore places the terrier where he belongs, low down in the prize list.

I have often placed a wire high up in the prize list when shown a little short of coat, but never one that showed signs of having been safety-razored on his, or her neck or shoulders. My education may have been neglected—but I have yet to see a Wire-Haired Fox Terrier—shown with his facial decorations safety-razored. The Pacific Coast have brought out a number of great Wires, the writer was not aware of the fact until the news was chronicled by the well-known Fox Terrier expert, R. H. F. Purdon, in his chatty and authoritatively written—"British Columbia News," in Kennel and Bench, that the beautiful "Shadow Hill Melody" placed by the writer Best in Show at the American Fox Terrier Club Show was bred in Canada, she was indeed a beautiful terrier. Through the same interesting pages I have read with much pleasure the great wins achieved by G. Tyson's "Lyncote H.C.O.L." which was bred by Mrs. Thornton Sharp, and "Ch. Keythorpe Pansy" which was bred by the Hon. P. B. Tyrwhitt and exhibited by Dr. F. P. Miller of California. "Lyncote H.C.O.L." was placed Best Dog in Show at Portland, Oregon, always a great show for Wires due to the fact that the successful breeder and exhibitor, W. Fletcher, lives in Portland. "Ch. Keythorpe Pansy's" win was obtained at San Francisco, under no less an authority than George Steadman Thomas. Such wins are all the more meritorious in view of the fact that breeders out there have not the cream of the Wire Studs—practically at their back door. Ontario breeders have not only some great producing sires in Ontario but within a night's journey they have practically the pick of the world's best wires. James F. Strachan, of Montreal, before he became so interested in hockey gained many notable victories with his home-bred "Ormsby's" which were always creditably handled and conditioned by Harry Armistead. What a loss this sportsman is to the ranks. I have been trying without success to find out the name of the exhibitor of the wire bitch I placed winners at the Canadian National Exhibition some years ago. Alf. Delmont was around the ring-side and I could see by the expression on his face that his fingers were itching to handle the lead. This bitch properly conditioned and handled could have made the best across the border step lively. Jimmy Strachan and myself go to New York year after year hoping that we are going to see a repeat of Humphrey Elliott's great win and personally I am always hoping it may be accomplished by an Ontario-bred wire. How about it for the 1934 Show?

I have often been asked why I advocate using a stud dog somewhat over sized but never an over sized bitch. My reason is that my experience has been that the small stockily built sire is seldom, if ever, a great producer—the very opposite is the case with brood bitches, of course there are exceptions to every rule—for instance, take the case of "Round Up," a real huntsman's stamp, beautifully bred and a great winner. If a terrier can be too game "Round Up" certainly was. It was not until "Round Up" was well on in years that he had his chance at stud. In 1915, I had the chance to buy "Round Up" for very little money, but on account of his age and temperament, fortunately for English breeders, I did not accept the offer. Some strains "nick" better with others and some Stud dogs possess to a far greater extent the ability to transmit their quality to their progeny. One of my earliest recollections is "Meersbrook Bristles." The late Francis Redmond built up a wonderful producing strain with the help of the Duchess of Newcastle's "Of Notts" strain. Besides many beautiful bitches, such as "Dusky Peri" and "Mermaid",—Mr. Redmond was the breeder of "Ch. Dusky Admiral," a very beautiful terrier, but with an indifferent coat and it was not until "Admiral" was purchased by Chris. Houliker that he became almost invincible in the show ring. "Cackler" and "Commodore of Notts" were probably the most consistent sires of that day. Another great sire of later days was "Ch. Short Circuit," still later we had "Ch. Barrington Bridegroom" and "Ch. Wireboy of Paignton." There has never been such a wealth of great sires as we have today available to breeders and breeders should certainly be encouraged by the wins accomplished by American-bred wires in England. Just a final word, don't think you can get a Wire ready for the show ring the day before the show.

Fred Carswell, of Oshawa, reports that his good Springer, "Budweiser of Moira" has been killed by a hit and run driver. This is the second good Springer that he has had killed during the last eighteen months. "Buddy," as he was called was a great favorite and since his debut in the show ring as a seven-months puppy, had matured into one of the best looking Springers in this country.

A member of the club living out West has asked for my assistance in locating a good Bloodhound Stud dog. Can any of my readers help? He writes:—"In past times I have bred and developed some wonderful man trackers, but I fell for the fanciers' propaganda and became an importer. I brought out three from England and I stipulated particularly for practical qualities. I have no hesitation in stating that the English Bloodhound is decidedly decadent. From a show point I have what is probably one of the best females on the continent, but she is lazy, stupid and neurotic. Could you please tell me if you know of anyone old-fashioned enough to maintain some bloodhounds for real hunting, or preferably man tracking, one who breeds for utility, anything goes providing mentality is right, but in view of the exaggerated estimate this country places on 'papers' I would prefer that the progeny are eligible. Some years ago, I cannot remember where, I saw in Ontario some big robust and very long-eared black and tan Fox Hounds that might possibly have been a fairly suitable cross failing being able to obtain a suitably bred Bloodhound." I am confident that there is no need for my correspondent to go to such extremes although I am convinced that some of the Southern Type American Fox Hounds have Bloodhound in their pedigrees. When in England before the late war the writer was present at several of the Bloodhound Trials held and the competitors certainly showed no signs of decadence. Many were nervous but once they were "on line" they showed great determination and how they could pick up a trail. I have an idea that there is a Bloodhound Kennel somewhere in the Maritime Provinces, perhaps A. V. Martin, or Bobby Laskey could help.

A Scottish Terrier breeder has written asking if I have heard of a revised standard on the breed having been drawn up by the Scottish Terrier Club of England. By the same mail my copy of Popular Dogs arrived in which particulars were given by Dr. Ewing of the new standard and I note that several radical changes have been made regarding size, coat, head and tail. In a future issue I will go more fully into the changes as I agree with Dr. Ewing when he writes:—"Though we may rip and snort and create a modified standard of our own (as we did when the Scottish Terrier Club of America revised the British Standard about 1925—only to have the new features sunk into "innocuous desuetude" we tactically admit the authority of the British when we continually import not only to improve our stock but to be successful on the show bench."

From a contemporary I gather the news that one of the great dogs of the last few years is to be retired from the show ring. I refer to Dr. Mitten's beautiful English Setter, "Ch. Blue Dan of Happy Valley." Like all dogs "Blue Dan" had his faults, one of which at times he showed more than on his best days. "Blue Dan" fit and well and handled by Benny Lewis, in the opinion of the writer, was not only one of the best English Setters he has ever judged, but one of the best dogs of any breed. He was almost as well-known in Canada as in the U.S.A., and like everything that is successful he had to undergo criticism but strange but true—Those that criticized seem to forget that the other competitors were not faultless. I hear that Dr. Mitten has made some purchases of English Setters in England and their debut on this side will be awaited with much interest.

The writer understands that Jimmy Strachan will be present at the Madison Show and therefore we will be sure to get a report of the greatest one-day show in the July issue of Kennel and Bench.

Evidently judging from an editorial in Popular Dogs, judges are going to be made to toe the line as regards starting their duties on time. Not only judges but exhibitors also seem to be of the opinion that everyone has or can wait for them. There are very few shows at which I have officiated on this side where I have not had to wait and wait for dogs to be brought into the class. Some of these tardy exhibitors would find a very different ending to their delay if they were exhibiting across the ocean. The judges there have to work fast and if a dog is not in the ring when the class is called he or she as the case may be is marked absent in the judging book. Of course, English shows are different, many of them are only one-day fixtures, but even at two and three-day shows all the regular classes are judged on the first day, and judging is not the long drawn out affair that it is on the American Continent. A judge over there is never approached by one of the show officials to go slow, on the other hand, he is asked and helped to speed up. The Gate and Rating has a lot to answer for on the slow action and playing to the gallery by judges on the North American Continent. The judges not only try to fool the public but they often fool themselves, first impressions are usually right, and a long drawn out inspection seems often to mix the judge up in his awards. Mind, I do not mean that the dogs should not be carefully examined. No matter how indifferent the exhibit may be—the exhibitor has paid an entrance fee to get the judges' opinion and this entitles him to have his dog examined. We have all had to start as novices and a little advice after the judging. I say after the judging and not in the ring has often been the means of gaining a real recruit to the sport of breeding and exhibiting dogs.

"MARVEL OF AVONDALE" AT BENTON HARBOR

"Int. Ch. Marvel of Avondale" has been one of Canada's outstanding home-bred show bitches. A white, liver and tan colored bitch, sired by "Ch. Laverstoke Powder Horn" ex a daughter of "Ch. Rex of Avondale," she cut a wide swath in the prize lists of all shows during the years 1924-28. She is going on 10 years old now, having been born on July 6th, 1923, and is now owned by F. H. Martini, of Benton Harbor.

Mr. Martini is keen to have the very choicest specimens of the Springer Spaniel to breed from that he can afford to buy. He has discovered that it is hard enough to breed good type dogs from good bitches when bred to equally good stud dogs, and that it is absolutely impossible to try and produce good specimens from inferior brood bitches no matter how good the stud dog may be, and in this respect the old story is only re-written, that no kennel is any better than its best breeding bitches, and so Mr. Martini now owns three champion females, and other brood matrons which have partially finished the championship race, and hopes to make good headway by breeding the right bitches to the right sires, after carefully planning the bloodlines of each.

THET THELMA IN CANADA

L. W. Scarpa, Point Fortune, P.Q., has returned to Canada after spending four years in England, and with him he brought "Thet Thelma" ("Ch. Fourcourts Rocket"—"Simon's Dimple"), and before leaving England, "Thelma" was bred to "Lanark Bramble," the Manchester and London Championship Certificate winner, and "Bramble" is by "Ch. Crackley Startler," ex "Lanark Ceres."

Whilst living at Antwerp, Belgium, Mr. Scarpa was breeding Wires there, and one of the females, "Malabar's Sunshine," will join the kennels shortly. She is being held at The Hague, Holland, to be bred to "Thet Timber of Earlsmoor," and it should be of more than passing interest to have puppies born in Canada by this famous sire.

British Columbia News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
R. H. F. PURDON, Vancouver, B.C.

OUR two April shows went off successfully and drew representative entries from Vancouver Island, the Coast, and interior parts of British Columbia, also from as far east as Calgary and Winnipeg, the United States sent entries from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California. Many exhibitors took advantage of the two shows following each other, and on the other hand, owing to the holiday on Good Friday some exhibitors were only able to attend the show on that day.

An analysis of the entries at the two events shows the Shepherd Club to have had an entry of 283 dogs with twenty-four entered for specials and exhibition only, and the Coast City Kennel Club 226, with twenty-five for specials and exhibition only, the former had thirty-eight varieties and the latter thirty, made up as follows, the first figures represent the Shepherd Show in each case.

Shepherds, 43-22; Cocker, 22-20; Pekingese, 20-13; Cairns, 19-19; Collies, 19-12; Wire Fox Terriers, 18-12; Springers, 13-10; English Setters, 9-10; Scottish Terriers, 9-15; Sealyhams, 9-6; Great Danes, 8-7; Poms, 8-5; Bulldogs, 7-5; Chows, 7-6; Kerry Blues, 5-3; Whippets, 5-2; Golden Retrievers, 5-11; Bostons, 5-4; Yorkshires, 4-0; Welsh Terriers, 4-2; Labradors, 4-5; Dachhunds, 4-3; Dobermans, 4-7; Airedales, 4-6; Irish Setters, 3-2; Bull Terriers, 3-4; Smooth Fox Terriers, 3-6; Irish Terriers, 3-4; Schnauzers, 3-1; Tibetan Terriers, 3-3; Toy Poodles, 2-0; Chesapeake, 2-0; Pointers, 1-0; Irish Water Spaniels, 1-0; Russian Wolfhounds, 1-0; Dandie Dinmonts, 1-0; Pugs, 1-1; Dalmatians, 1-0.

Mainland fanciers were treated to a view of the Tibetan Terriers belonging to Miss Torrible, of Victoria, which were exhibited at both shows, this being their first appearance at a Canadian Kennel Club fixture on the Mainland. They are fascinating little dogs and to judge by the interest taken in them were apparently a great attraction, no doubt but that when they become better known this will be a popular variety at our shows.

The Coast City Kennel Club judges turned in their last awards at 9.30 p.m. a fact that reflects credit on the management. R. W. Hatley made an efficient superintendent, and J. A. H. Irving, as Show Secretary, would be hard to beat, and he compiles a first-class catalogue. The President, H. Lester, was a busy man and helped along with other officials to keep things moving. One regrettable oversight was the deplorable shortage of seating accommodation, which I understand was not the fault of the management. However, it is to be hoped it will not occur again, either at this or other shows, they should be made as comfortable and attractive as possible if exhibitors and visitors are to be encouraged in their attendance. The award of Best in Show went to Mrs. Geraldyn Lohman's Chow, "Gordi Petti Sing," all the way from Hollywood, California. We take great pleasure in congratulating and sharing in the joy of the fair owner on her fine win.

The Shepherd Club's Show was something quite unique for these parts, out of town fanciers who could not attend the show might be interested to know how it worked out in the Hudson's Bay Store. Well, if you know this store, about one-third of one of the vast floors in the building was completely boarded in for the show. The dogs all went in by the freight elevator and exercising rings deep in sawdust were provided for the dogs, while Dr. Ballard was responsible for the benching. Visitors went up to the floor on which the show was held, paying their admittance in the ordinary way at the entrance to the dog show, and by the way, the writer very much appreciated the compliment paid him by the club of receiving a pass for himself and friends. As far as the show went there was only one drawback, and strange to say it was one of the most encouraging ones ever experienced by a show executive in Vancouver, namely the enormous crowd that paid for admission. They simply filled up the space making it at times difficult to get near the judging rings. However, this is something quite easily rectified in future events. A club that was able to run a show in the H. B. Stores can quickly overcome such an obstacle. All the officials were on hand to make the show a success, including the versatile W. H. Pym, this time in the role of Supervisor, and the busiest man in the whole of the Hudson's Bay Store on that day.

Jonathan Davies of the Abarard Kennels, and the club's president, made the huge entry of twenty-one dogs, twelve Shepherds, two Wires, three Sealyhams and four Welsh Terriers. To pay out such an entry fee in these times is certainly backing the club to the limit with the most evident support possible. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rhodes "Of Moray" Kennels had an entry of eight Cocker and one Labrador at both shows, these coming from Cowichan Station on Vancouver Island. That also takes some beating. Other entries of a dozen or so were made at both shows by Mrs. Sweeny in Cairns and J. A. H. Irving in the same breed. To Mr. and Mrs. Bjorklund, of Spanaway, Wash., we offer our congratulations on winning Best in Show with the English Bulldog, "Sir Oliver Buckshot."

W. R. Willgress, of Vancouver, whose name is a household word wherever English Setter fanciers foregather, is another one who has braved the depression and imported a Setter of his favourite variety in "Shiplake Suggestion," his sire, "Shiplake Surprise" has won two challenge certificates, eighteen times Best Setter in Show, and has won under thirty-two different judges. The dam, "Pandora of Nutbrown" is by "Ch. Maesydd Mustard," said to be the best English Setter in England for the last four years. "Shiplake Suggestion" is eight and a half months old and coming from the best bred dogs in England should be a valuable addition to Canadian Setters. He made his first appearance at the recent Coast City Show where he beat the band by winning from puppy to best of breed. Mr. Willgress is a near neighbour of mine and I had the pleasure of seeing the dog a few days after his arrival, which happened to be about two weeks before the show. He was bought as a good one, and I personally know has come up to his owner's expectations, one whose knowledge and experience of this breed no one would care to question. A good many years ago he imported two English Setters that had made sensational wins in England, "Mallwyd Roland" and the peerless "Mallwyd Juliet," the most beautiful Setter that ever graced a Coast Show. "Roland" was a wonderfully prepotent sire, and to him is largely due the present pre-eminence of our British Columbia English Setters. Since those days Mr. Willgress has stuck to the descendants of his original stock and consistently kept at the top of his variety for eighteen or twenty years. His many friends will wish him continued success in a breed he has worked for with such devotion. We know his generous nature will allow us to give Mrs. Willgress a very large amount of the credit for the beautiful condition in which the dogs invariably appear.

We seem to have reported many importations in the last few months, and to offset this adverse trade balance in our good Canadian dollars by a credit in Japanese yen. T. P. Milner, the well-known Wire Fox Terrier breeder of Vancouver, has exported to the land of Cherry Blossom his Wire Bitch, "Point Grey Signal," by "Simon of Cantilupe" ex Keythorpe Rose, a clever combination of "Simon" and "Crackley Sensation" blood, the new owner is T. Nakamura of Tokio, Japan, to whom we offer our best wishes in his new purchase.

The British Columbia Fox Terrier Association's puppy match held in May brought to a close the series for the season. Unfortunately, some of the entries dropped out for the final and missed the careful going over they would have received from F. Withers. These matches have been the means of bringing forward really good talent, which has been far too long hidden under a bushel, as far as judging capabilities go. This Association will put on a matinee show early in July, at a place not yet decided on, there is a possibility that it may be on the roof garden of a well-known hotel, and that one of the most sought after judges in Canada will don the ermine.

W. H. Pym, of Canada, has just returned from a judging trip to Glendale in California, our Directors popularity as a judge covers a wide field.

All fanciers of this Province will regret to hear of the death of the imported Scottish Terrier, "Ch. Gaisgill Great Scott," the property of Stanley Dorrell of Vancouver, after an operation in hospital from the effects of swallowing a solid rubber ball. His last outing was at the Coast City Show when he went to Best Terrier in Show, with the ball at that time inside him. He had a brilliant career in his short Canadian life, never being placed below reserve winners, and that only once, also Best Terrier in Show, Calgary and Coast City Kennel Club, all breeds. As a stud force his loss will be keenly felt, his breeding being superb by the great "Champion Heather Necessity," and his dam by "Ch. Albourne Arthur," he proved his capabilities by producing winners in England, and while in this Province was rapidly making a name for himself. In his loss which is a severe one, Mr. Dorrell will have the sympathy of all fanciers.

Readers of these notes will be very sorry to hear that the Editor of Kennel and Bench has been under the weather for some time, and in the hands of his medical adviser, while still carrying on at Melinda St. We trust that a contemplated holiday at the end of May will restore him to his usual robust health.

GLENBOIG SCOTTIE KENNELS IN NEW YORK

From the "Sunday Post"—England, we learn that Robert Chapman, of the famous "Heather" prefix is establishing a kennel in New York. This venture is being undertaken for the reason that dogs shipped to buyers in the United States often suffer from sea-sickness, and as a result, kennel losses run into thousands of dollars annually.

The "Sunday Post" tells a good story of the Scottish Terrier "Craigieburn Bar." This dog was run over by a motor truck outside the slaughterhouse at Stirling, Scotland, where James Allan was attending to some "killing" for his butcher business. So severe were the injuries suffered by the dog, that he was thrown on a nearby manure pile, apparently dead. Later, however, some children playing nearby noticed the dog moving, and an investigation showed that the animal was still alive. Mr. Allan rushed the dog to a veterinarian, where, after skilful treatment, and a period of careful nursing, "Craigieburn Bar" lived to annex four championship certificates to an already distinguished show career, and later, came to the United States for a price said to be in excess of five thousand dollars.

DOGS FROM SCOTLAND

It is 30 years ago since Ex Provost Dalgleish, Galashiels, Scotland, he of the famous "Ellwyn" prefix, sent his first dogs to Canada, and it is 20 years ago this summer since he judged at Edmonton, Alta., and at Vancouver, B.C., and now he sends us copy for our business columns with a view to assist Canadians desirous of securing dogs in the British market.

Ex Provost Dalgleish is recognized as one of Scotland's most competent judges, just as he has been a most successful business man for the past 40 years as head of The Ayrshire Market in Galashiels. So his offer to select, and to deliver—in sound, healthy condition, dogs required for sport, for the show bench, or the breeding kennel, should merit the attentive consideration of all Canadian fanciers who may be thinking of importing stock from the Motherland at this time.

COAST CITY KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Two hundred and sixteen dogs faced their judges Messrs. G. L. Stock, J. McMann, and Evan Gravell, at Hastings Park, Vancouver on Good Friday, April 14th. The entry was chiefly drawn from British Columbia, although strong support came from United States points—chiefly from Seattle. The highest honor of the fixture being captured by Mrs. Geraldyn Lohman's noted Chow, "Gordi Petti Sing," who came up from Sunny California to do the trick. In fact, the invaders helped themselves to the Sporting Group, Working Group and Non-Sporting Group, leaving the Terrier and Toy Groups to the home talent.

The following shows the particulars and awards:—

TRAINING SHEPHERDS IN WESTERN CANADA

We are indebted to Norman Gurr, Lethbridge, Alta., for newspaper clippings which show a definite interest being taken in the Western Provinces, in respect to the training of dogs for Field Trial work. This spirit has been encouraged through the importation of "Elfe v. d. Polterweise" from Germany, and significance is lent to the occasion as we notice "Elfe" has brought with her the titles S.P.R. and Sch. H. which she won with honors. Miss E. Brown, Calgary, is the importer we believe.

Mr. Gurr has for a long time been interested in training his own dogs, and his Bernhardt knows what it is all about when he takes to his work. Mr. Gurr and Mr. Kahn, who is caring for "Elfe," and other Shepherd dogs may be visitors at the Annual Field Trials of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, which will be held at the Manor Farms at Clarkson, later on this year, and should these gentlemen find it convenient to make the long trip East, the result would be a better understanding in the Dominion of Canada for training dogs generally, not only that, but new clubs would be formed and training would be specialized in to the limit, at any rate, we trust the new enthusiasm now so apparent will continue to develop over a wide area.

"SUCH THINGS WILL HAPPEN"

Inspector George Tustin, of the London (Ont.), Humane Society, had something new brought to his attention at the beginning of May, when he was called to pick up a strange looking animal, said to have been dropped from an automobile driven by a United States tourist.

Inspection showed unmistakable signs of interbreeding, the animals being a sheep, and probably a Shepherd dog in Mr. Tustin's opinion. The coat was thick and fleecy, the head, like that of a sheep, but the tail, feet and legs were those of a dog. Whether the strange interloper barked or baa-ed was not determined, as the wail remained mute.

THE SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF BRITISH COLUMBIA SHOW

The Shepherd Dog Club of British Columbia gave the Toronto Kennel Club a run for the distinction of securing exceptional locations for the holding of dog shows in Canada. At Toronto the Mutual Street Arena Gardens were secured, and at Vancouver the apparently impossible was achieved when the second floor of the Hudson's Bay Company's departmental store was given over to the dog show, on Saturday, April 15th.

President J. Davies gathered a great portion of Vancouver's experienced talent around him for the occasion of this fixture, and right well did the said talent give of its very best.

The Judges, J. A. Meadows, W. T. Oates and W. T. Squelch acquitted themselves most creditably, Mr. Meadows having as his share of the entry of 269 dogs the working sections. Mr. Oates had sporting and non-sporting dogs, and Mr. Squelch had the Toys and Terriers to care for. The three in conjunction selecting the choicest specimen in the last analysis. It has often been said that every judge does not see the same dogs the same way, and it is a true saying, too, but that is just where the uncertainty comes from that urges the exhibitors on in the competition of the shows, for "just that man's opinion."

Space forbids further comment and hence the particulars and wards herewith:—

Dogs benched, 269.

REVIEWS

By CAPTAIN R. C. BAYLDON, ENGLAND

One is called upon to review every sort of dog book. Though it may be extremely difficult to praise the poor and indifferent ones it is not the reviewer's place to crab books, unless they should disgust him or are absolutely futile. Moreover, such books are all well-meant, however indifferent they may be; even the otherwise ineffectual book serves its useful purpose in helping to popularize a worthy breed and to create new fanciers.

When a work such as "The Pekingese Dog" arrives, it is a genuine pleasure to even contemplate the reading of it; one knows in the first place that it bears the hall mark, and thereafter little room is left for doubts.

The 370 odd pages deal with the Pekingese from every possible aspect. The authoress does not devote too much space to the archives of the breed, which, beyond that we know his origin to be of very great antiquity, are largely problematical. His real history begins from the first importations into Britain, and the Alderbourne Kennel may be said largely to constitute that history. Mrs. Ashton Cross lays great stress on health, and completely dispels the fallacy that Pekingese are delicate or lapdogs, which the writer was very pleased to read, because he has run them outdoors on the same terms as the terriers, and knows full well that they are as hard as nails.

The chapter on "Buying" should appeal particularly to the fancier abroad. "Breeding" fascinated me—the more so because the proof of the pudding is in the eating when the Alderbourne affix can turn out champion after champion. Among much other interesting and valuable matter, "Exhibiting," "Judging," and "The Commercial Side" are to be specially commended. In addition to the wealth of beautiful illustrations there is a supplement, in "Illustrated Kennels," which provides over a hundred more photographs of the best specimens in the leading kennels of today.

A sumptuous volume. It is safe to prophesy that it will be treasured by its fortunate possessors.

*"The Pekingese Dog," post free. £1 1s. 9d., from Mrs. Ashton Cross, Little Shardeloes, Amersham, Bucks, England.

Records are usually associated with the dull things of this world, but the moment a Fox Terrier breeder, be it of Smooths or Wires, gets hold of the latest Club Annual,* I warrant that he will at once postpone any other work or pleasure that he may happen to have in hand, and go straight through this book, to refresh his memory and bring himself right up to date.

The Contents include—for Smooths: Review of 1932 by Her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle. Challenge Cups and Winners, for 1928-1932. Table of Winners of Grand Challenge Cup. Photograph and pedigree of 1932 winner of above. Judge's report, Club Show, 1932. Championship Shows, 1932—Awards in Open, Limit, and Puppy Classes. Challenge Certificate Winners, 1932, with pedigrees. And all the above is duplicated for Wires, with the Review for 1932 written by Mr. Holland Buckley.

*"Fox Terrier Club Annual and Stud Book, Vol. XX, 1933." Post free, 2/9d., from:—N. Dawson, Esq., Bevis Marks House, London, E.C. 3, England.

The rise of the Kerry Blue has been a rapid one. It is only about ten years ago that the breed took up a recognized position, and even then the writer well remembers the soundness and attractive outline of such a specimen as Mrs. Keane Franks' late "Ch. Nofa Jacobin."

Not a great deal of water has flowed under the bridge since those days, meanwhile the possibilities of the breed have impressed many others in the same way. Now the best specimens are not far off perfection; and it is recent history wherein "Ch. Muircroft Thora" and "Ch. Another Prince of the Chevin" have carried off "Best in Show" at some of our principal Championship events for Mr. Calvert Butler, whose eye, and love, for symmetry are sufficient guarantees that the Kerry Blue possesses it, and, moreover, that the latter is genuinely a Terrier.

The variety is now fairly on its feet. One was expecting a book about it. It appears.* And surely no one is better qualified for the writing of it than is Mrs. V. E. Handy, who took a leading place in the running at the start, and stays there.

Going through the official standard of the breed, she illustrates, with masterly studies of her own, every point of conformation—how it should be, and what is faulty. To me this seems a most excellent idea, and absolutely fool-proof. If, after reasonable study, the novice does not then realize for all time how a Kerry (or for that matter, any Terrier) should be made, he must be quite beyond instruction.

Essentially a dog that for exhibition needs some training, the authoress goes fully into this, with the addition of photographs, showing the progress in the art, and covering a decade. Messrs. J. H. F. Barlow, Holland Buckley,

NOTED SCOTTISH TERRIER DEAD

"Ch. Gaisgill Great Scot" is dead, and Canada has lost a great show dog, and a producing son of "Ch. Heather Necessity." As a show dog he was wont to take his place at the winners station, and there was but one lone exception to this rule. Best of breed, and best terrier in show, were awards which further emphasized his great quality at the hands of his appraisers. He died on April 27th.

The day before the Coast City Kennel Club Show, "Ch. Gaisgill Great Scot" was playing with a solid rubber ball, and swallowed it, at the show he won for best Terrier—all breeds. In spite of the best veterinary attention he has joined the great majority, and has passed on to that happy play-land where all good dogs go to after death.

"Swansea Technocrat" is a son that will carry on the good work commenced by his sire, and that is a consolation worth having at this time. Those who have seen the "Technocrat" speak highly of his great quality.

There is a danger in the rubber ball of any size, and fanciers should take notice of the unfortunate occasion of this good dog's death. Any dog is quite liable to swallow a ball wet with saliva, therefore, if you must have a ball as part of your equipment, make sure it is of a size too big for swallowing. Another danger we would refer to at this time, is the danger of throwing the ball in the air, and encouraging the dog to "catch it" as it comes down. You will recognize in this a real element of danger when you are called upon to witness "a perfect catch" ending in a broken leg. If you use a ball for "playing purposes," make sure the "play" is restricted to running and not to jumping.

The Alberta News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
C. H. PARK, Medicine Hat, Alta.

RAIN, rain and still more rain. Well, if it means a crop to this part of the West we should not grumble, but it is sure hard on the young pups having to confine them to dry quarters after they have had a taste of sunshine. Hard on the heels of the news of the splendid triumphs of that grand Russian Wolfhound, "Int. Champion Cossack Michael" comes the sad news of his death.

The following extract from the Dayton, Ohio News covering his death shows that the Post Mortem examination by expert analytical chemists and vets that all the vital organs were in perfectly healthy condition, yet the condition of the intestines and stomach looked as if burnt by poisonous caustic. Following Dayton where "Michael" had taken Winners, Best of Winners and Best of Breed, Mrs. Christman was taking him to Cincinnati and from there to the Morris and Essex Show. "Ch. Cossack Michael" was buried in the Dayton Dog Cemetery and a stone marks the last resting place of this famous undefeated Canadian Russian Wolfhound. Mr. Tyrrell is breeding two daughters of his and a granddaughter by his famous hunting son, "Cossack Semski," and only picked puppies from these litters will be raised. It is also intended to breed the Boston "Cossack Kewpie" to Mr. Hulse's stud and John E. Hunter's Whippet "Last Chance." With a lot of grand youngsters coming along, for the summer shows, the Cossacks will have to be seriously reckoned with. In a three way effort to help the boys with their Summer Camp, instil and foster in the minds of the younger generation a love of pure bred dogs, and to increase the attendance at their show, the Medicine Hat Kennel Club have turned over the gate privileges to the local Boy Scout Association on a split basis and the way those boys are selling tickets is nobody's business. The tickets are numbered and in addition to admitting to the show, each ticket is numbered and entitles the holder to a draw for three pure-bred registered puppies, a Collie, a Springer and a Wire Haired Fox Terrier, donated by various members. In addition, the writer has donated a Smooth Fox Terrier puppy to be won by the Boy Scout selling the highest number of tickets. With unanimous satisfaction at the choice of judge, the Medicine Hat Kennel Club show is going strong and everything points to a record, "Prexy Bill Armstrong" going around with a very confident smile on his face. Another new fancier to join the local ranks, or shall we say an old one returning to his first love, is R. B. Smith, who in previous years has kept many Bostons and has now signalled his return by breeding a good litter of two males and one female from his splendid brood "Lady Anna Belle Toss," by Dr. McCharles' sound trappy stud, "Cromwell Medical Student." One of these, a male, has already found a new home with Dr. W. C. Campbell and ere these lines are in print the other male will have found new quarters with the female being retained in the kennel. Mr. Rawlings, of Edmonton, of Springer fame, shipped his good bitch "Quantoct Vale of Kent" to Vancouver, where she went to Winners at the Vancouver Kennel Club Show held on Good Friday, and she is now within two points of her championship. A litter of pups disposed of around Xmas time contained two that will be heard of later on when they mature. "Madge of Quantoct Vale" has been bred to Mr. L. Wize's good Springer "Kim of Kent," and something good is expected from this mating. The latest addition to the kennel is a black and white male pup purchased from Symis, this pup being by "Kim of Kent" out of a litter sister to "Ch. Vale of Burnside" and he has the makings of a good one. Mr. Rawlings sends the glad news that that ever-green Joe Caswell has recovered from his severe illness and is able to be around again amongst the fanciers. He has a nice litter of Irish Terriers from "Rosy O' Grady," by "Ch. Erincrest Dignity," which will be ready to go in a few weeks' time. H. C. Leinweber, of Ogden, formerly of Medicine Hat, who owns that sterling Wire Fox, "Medalta Kempercraft," by the late Chas. W. Twaites' dog, "Kemphurst Craftsman," reports the arrival of a nice litter by this dog out of "Medalta Fearless Foxie" consisting of three dogs and three bitches. The mother is owned by John E. Hunter, who has some splendid young stuff coming along that will doubtless be there or thereabouts at this summer's shows. Fanciers in general, and Alberta fanciers in particular, will welcome the news that J. H.

Tanton, of Edmonton, has promised your correspondent some interesting items of doggy interest that happened twenty years ago and it is hoped to have some early reminiscences from other old-timers in the fancy from other points in the province possibly in the June or July issues. It is understood that Mr. Bradburn, of Edmonton, is shortly expecting two high class Airedales from England that will do the breed some good. J. G. Young, of Edmonton, has forwarded the following items of interest: Mr. and Mrs. Burbridge, when they recently returned from a holiday in England, brought back to Edmonton with them a most promising pair of young Golden Retrievers. It is rumored that good prices were paid for these dogs that came from the most outstanding kennels in the British Isles. We all wish Mrs. Burbridge success in the breeding of these popular sporting dogs. You will notice we omitted Moss, as we are positive the lady of the house is the dog fancier. The Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club are busy completing arrangements for their Annual Summer Dog Show, to be held in conjunction with the Edmonton Exhibition on July 18th, 19th and 20th, 1933. The judge of all breeds is to be that well known international judge, J. C. Fletcher, of Calgary, and premium lists will be mailed to fanciers in due course. The Normandy Kennels report a litter of three males and two females sired by their "Albourne Adventure" (Imp.) ex "Ch. Heather Lulu" (Imp.). None of the puppies will be offered for sale until maturity. They also report that "Albourne Adventure" is proving himself a prepotent sire and ask the fancy to be on the lookout for a young dog sired by him that will make his appearance at the shows later in the year. "Peter" is known by the glorified name of "Normandy Gallant." The latest litter sired by "Albourne Adventure" was five males from J. S. MacPherson's "Aber-tay Lassie O'Mine."

One of the features of the Annual Summer Dog Show of the Edmonton Club this year will be the presentation of suitable awards to Mrs. Grace Abbott's Springer Spaniel, "Laddie Boy," who recently saved his mistress' life in Edmonton. These presentations will take the form of a free license for life from the City of Edmonton, a suitable medal from the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, and the medallion of the Tail-waggers Club for Sagacity. We are all proud of the fact that this particular dog was bred by one of our most ardent fanciers, Jack Rawlings. Mr. and Mrs. A. Warry, whose specialty in the variety kennel was formerly toy dogs, seemed to have changed their favorites as when the writer visited their kennels he noticed two exceptionally nice litters of Springer Spaniels which carry such desirable blood lines as "Ch. Vale of Burnside" and "Int. Ch. High Tide Barney" in their pedigrees. Calmas Kennels report that J. H. Tanton, of Edmonton, has had his good female "Merry Duchess" on a visit to "Calmas Recorder." "Merrie Duchess" is a litter sister to "Merrie Durbar," that grand little dog that did so much winning last summer and much is expected from this mating. "Sandy" Robertson, of Edmonton, has secured a parti-colored Cocker bitch from the Middlesex Kennels, a black and white with plenty of size that will be known as "Middlesex Sister," the sire being "Middlesex Hercules" ex "Nita of Barrie." This female should be a welcome addition to the parti-colors in the province and provided she is mated right, should produce some good stock. The other inmates of the Merrie Kennels are looking fit and ready to offer resistance to any invaders at the forthcoming shows. Smith Foster, also of Edmonton, has certainly made some excellent matings of his Chesapeakes. "Ch. Major Bud Parker" and "Ch. Airline Golden Eye" have sure produced some wonderful youngsters. Chesapeake breeders be careful, "Look to your laurels for Smith has sure 'got 'em.'" Wilfred Smith, a Cocker fancier of Edmonton, has secured a black female from Dr. Walsh, of Minot, sired by "Bristol Silent Knight" ex "Mino Dot Goldie." He has also secured a good black male from the Calmas Kennels sired by "Ch. Calmas Durbar" ex "Lucky Girl." With this breeding, the Edmonton Cocker fanciers are surely building up a fort of resistance and the home-breds will certainly come into their own. H. P. Saunders, of Calgary, a well known gun dog breeder, has some promising English Setters of Bench and Field Trial stock. Several of these will make their debut at our summer show and field trials. Much speculation is taking place as to the results of a recent visit of "Saunders Minerva" to "Ch. Calmas Durbar." The Calmas report good business both in services and sale of young stock. "Calmas Golden Frills" recently gave birth to seven pups, four males and three females, all red and sired by "Ch. Calmas Field Marshall." Most of these were sold when only a few days old. The Calmas prefix will be evident at all our Alberta shows this year when a number of youngsters will campaign the province in search of honors. It is rumored that "Crusader" and "Quality Girl" will have to be reckoned with in blacks. "Lucky Girl" is also in splendid condition. "Golden Dawn," a beautiful golden with a dark eye and nose, is quickly ended.

Gastric, or stomach trouble, one of the most distressing and at the same time most common ailments in the dog, is also a warning of more serious trouble brewing. Therefore this symptom requires prompt treatment. Give Karswood Dog Powders at once. The trouble then will quickly be ended and all danger removed. Read this letter:—

32, Sunny Bank, Hull.

Some weeks ago my Collie dog, Hymer's Sensation, had a very bad attack of gastritis and was in a shocking condition, no appetite and losing flesh rapidly. I tried various advertised remedies, but nothing seemed to help until I wrote for two boxes of your Karswood Dog Powders. After 3 days the dog looked much brighter, and after one box of Karswood Dog Powders, was eating well. He is now quite fit, and has no return of stomach trouble.

(Mrs.) G. C. LEACH.

Karswood Dog Powders contain specific nerve foods and organic salts not contained in the dog's ordinary diet, but which are necessary to enable his system to throw off disease. No other dog preparation contains the same ingredients—hence none is so effective for the purpose. Prove this for yourself.

very attractive and is liable to give a surprise in that section. We are very pleased to hear that Wilfred Smith, the Cocker fancier of Edmonton, is recuperating from an operation and we hope he will soon be completely recovered. The owners of unregistered dogs sure got a scare when Chief Ritchie made his suggestion to the City Council re dog licenses. Dog purchasers are now demanding registered stock in the event that such an act should come in to force. Your correspondent, speaking as a secretary of a successful show-giving club and now in the sixth consecutive year of office, would like to point out to the Alberta fanciers that we cannot exist and live as show-giving clubs without the co-operation of fellow-members of other clubs and we cannot ask and expect a bumper entry from any other city if we are not prepared to reciprocate. Let us all get together this year and despite "Old Man Depression" determine that even if we cannot personally attend a show in another city, we will make it a point to at least enter one dog and so swell the entry. To fellow fanciers we would point out that with the show season in full swing this good red magazine is widely read from coast to coast and an ad. in Kennel and Bench will bring results.

BOOK ON THE GREAT DANE

D. E. Hale, famous himself as a breeder of Great Danes, has produced an inclusive work which will be welcomed in the ranks of fanciers who sponsor the larger breeds. To the uninitiated the raising of the larger breeds must always be more or less of a problem. Foundation stock must be typical and sound. Mating must always be a pre-eminent consideration. Raising puppies must ever rank in importance to mating, therefore feeding, for size and substance must go hand in hand with kenneling and proper exercising if success is to rank ahead of failure.

The "Will"—Judy Publishing Co. of Chicago, have given us a series of books from time to time, and each one has been splendidly received by the dog-loving public.

The new book sells at $2.50 (United States currency), post-paid, and copies may be ordered through Kennel and Bench office.

Saskatchewan News

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. W. RIOME, Moose Jaw, Sask.

ONE would expect every kennel in Saskatchewan to be brimful of activity just as we are entering on the show season, puppies are bound to be arriving at this time, and yet, from the writer's viewpoint, there seems to be scarcely any news in circulation. Perhaps the fault lies right at home, for I must confess I have been too busy to write to fanciers for their news items. Then, again, should they need reminding month by month, we know Kennel and Bench will be published, and we realize news items are essential to make the Provincial Pages interesting. But somehow we have not just acquired the habit of writing each month. May I once more appeal to all the breeders in Saskatchewan to send in their news items of general reader-interest by the 10th of each month. Before these notes appear, Medicine Hat, Winnipeg and other cities will have had their shows and the boys will be looking forward to their annual trip to the Friendly City of Moose Jaw on July 1st—You will note we have decided to make it a one-day fixture, this will cut the expenses of visitors and for this reason will be a greater attraction. Medicine Hat are planning on a well patronized show, and we would not be surprised to know that four points have been earned as a result.

If Moose Jaw is as successful it will be a great help to those needing championship points. At a meeting held at the club's headquarters, with President Sergeant Smallwood in the chair, enthusiasm ran high and all present were determined to put things over in the usual successful way. Then, since Saskatoon decided to forego their spring show—all present at their last meeting decided to concentrate on a monster show at the Industrial Exhibition on August 8th, 9th and 10th. By the advertisement appearing in May issue, you will see they are seeking the services of a top notch judge, and breeders will do well to keep these dates open and attend the show in the Hub City. Sandwiched between Moose Jaw and Saskatoon, will be the Regina show, held in connection with the world's grain exhibition. The Regina Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition Association are planning to accommodate tremendous crowds of people from all over the world and undoubtedly the entries at the Dog Show will be even greater than usual. We hope, with the large number of grain exhibitors from other countries coming to the Queen City, some of them will bring their dogs along, it certainly would make competition more interesting when showing against our cousins from other lands.

News arrived too late for our last page, notifying us of the death of Tom Masson, one time resident of Moose Jaw, and latterly of Vancouver. It will be remembered Tom was an enthusiastic Collie fancier and was very successful in the show ring.

Mr. Holt, of Saskatoon was well pleased with his trip to Vancouver visiting the coast shows. His "Schipperkes" are of the choicest breeding, and Mr. Holt hopes to add considerably to his silverware during the season.

The Sable and White Collie puppy, "Elmhill Elsebeth," owned by the Sask. Director, Dr. J. T. Cooper, also made the long trip to the coast and succeeded in going to Winners and pulling down four points at the Shepherd Dog Club's all-breed show held in Hudson Bay store on Saturday, April 13th.

J. Davidson is grooming his mahogany sable Collie, "Elmhill Cheerio" for the coming shows and if he retains his former form will make the best of them travel.

Here's how I got it—"When you see the most stylish Airedale that ever trod the streets of Saskatoon coming along you know Dr. Margaret French is not far away." It's no wonder Dr. French is proud of him.

The Irish Setters of Jack Birkenshaw are enjoying new and spacious kennels and are looking in the pink of condition. This aristocrat of gun dogs is evidently enjoying a boom in the West.

Scotties have found a new admirer in "Bill" Gilmour, who is importing some from the Old Country. Bill is not making much noise about the expected arrivals, but we understand they will be ready for a surprise in the near future.

To Newfoundland breeders the following will be of interest. "Sailor Boy" went best novice and "Waseekas Louise" went to Winners Newfoundland bitch at the great Westminster Show at New York. Both of these Newfoundlands are out of "Waterwich of Drumnod," bred by Monty Wallace, of Saskatoon. Monty believes he has a young bitch that can beat the best of them. After Westminster, "Sailor Boy" won first open and reserve winners at Boston and seems destined to be a great show dog.

Mrs. Fred Eagle is experiencing a great demand for her Poodles. To see these snow white little dogs in the home of Mrs. Eagle, make you feel that you must own one.

Joe Gillon, of Moose Jaw, has sold his male Scottie, "Rory-Ruat" to Mr.

Shaw, who had the misfortune to lose the last one he had, being run over by car. Joe has since paid a visit to the Wycote Kennels, owned by Hamish Middlemas, Regina, and purchased the dark brindle Scottie, "Dugal Crator." His sire is "Ruglen Rabbie" (Imp.), he by "Rockery Repeater"—His dam is "Lady Necessity" (Imp.), a daughter of the great "Ch. Heather Necessity." "Crator" is twelve months old on the 28th of May, and those who have seen him say he is a worthy son of such aristocratic parents.

This young dog will in all probability make his first appearance at Medicine Hat. From news to hand we imagine there will be a great gathering of the "Scotties" at the Hat.

We were pleased to have Bill Burrow, of Altawana Springer Kennels, Medicine Hat, visiting Moose Jaw for a few days.

The days passed rapidly visiting the homes of Moose Jaw fanciers. "Bill" was keenly interested in his visit to Moose Jaw's Wild Animal Park where Buffalo, Deer, Moose, Elk, Mountain Sheep, Cariboo, etc., etc. roam the hills, in the pens are all varieties of smaller animals and bears. The wild fowl are well worth seeing, the 300 Pheasants being a great attraction. We found Bill made several visits to see a litter of Springers out of "Bridgewater Belle" and side by his "Toddler of Beechdale." "Toddler" is by "Ch. Trent Valley Strongbow" and his dam, "Ch. Dammaugh," five of the litter are duplicates of "Toddler" black and blue Roan. At least a trio of these youngsters will make their future home at the Hat.

We were pleased to receive correspondence from Manitoba re those interesting little Toys the "Chihuahuas." This graceful, alert, swift moving little dog with saucy expression is not very well-known in the West. Despite their extreme smallness they are very game, are natural hunters and will tackle any vermin, being full of Terrier qualities. It is expected the little black bitch, "Santa Juana 2nd," owned by Mr. Perrin, will make her appearance on the bench this season. She is a daughter of "Santa Juana," her sire being "Perrito Meron." These parents are typical of their breed. "Meron" has only to gain one point to obtain his championship certificate.

We were pleased to receive news of Regina. Walter Pym, of Bronwyn Kennels can always be relied upon to fulfill this duty. Walter has a nice litter out of "Bronwyn Busybody" by "Bronwyn Stormfiend," there are 2 males, 3 females in this litter, all doing well. "Sans Gift" (Imp.) by "Ch. Barry Benedict" was bred to "Wyrecote Tempestuous" he by "Ch. Stormy Boy." "Tempestuous" is now owned by J. C. Brown, Regina. This mating will be watched with interest.

"Wyrecote White Tips," owned by Hamish Middlemas, Regina, visited "Moat Hill Dark Boy" recently. It will be remembered "White Tips" gave an excellent account of herself when in the ring.

Regina can boast of a real enthusiastic English Bulldog fancier in the person of Frank Chance. He has just purchased the 18 months old brindle bitch, "Manitou Minerva." She is out of "Manitou Muggins," and sired by "Pedlar Palmer." This bitch was purchased from Harvey Bannister, an old-time Bulldog breeder. Mr. Chance will be on the lookout for others to add to his kennel.

Mrs. Winnifred King, of Kingwin Kennels, Regina, is very enthusiastic over her puppies out of that "goldmine," "Wee Bud of Chinatown" imported. The sire "Ch. Kingwin Koa Shing" is well-known to all visiting the Western circuit. All being well, a son and daughter will be started out this season to follow in his footsteps.

Jack Droppo has a real smart Boston puppy. We noticed he chose a cosy corner in the best chair for his resting place. If he continues as he has started he looks like having a record equal to a previous kennel occupant, "Ch. Trapystock Ti-Dee Miss."

At the Mutual Kennels the Irish Terriers, "Mutual Courage," and "Mutual Vindication" have been bred to "Ardbahn Tim," he by "Culbahn Conn," and out of "Ch. Culbahn Molly" imported. "Ch. Culbahn Molly" is expecting a litter by "Mutual Leader," he by "Pat Healey."

Before leaving for U.S.A., "Ch. Danby Molly" was bred to "Cargaree All Alone." "All Alone" is sired by "Ch. Prides Hill Resultant," and out of that Queen of females, "Ch. Prides Hill Sapphire." We trust her new owner, J. C. Hudmon, Atlanta, Georgia, will get some with the Sapphire heads and all round quality.

Here's hoping we will have the opportunity of reviewing the winnings of Saskatchewan Dogs in our next issue. Your notes sent along in time will be much appreciated.

NOTES FROM CALIFORNIA

We are indebted to Griffith Bonner for the following notes from the land of sunshine:—

All the Canadian dog lovers, especially Cocker Spaniel breeders, will be shocked to hear of the sudden death by heart failure, May 2, 1933, of (Dick) R. G. Shute, secretary of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Southern California. A gentleman, sportsman, dog lover, and champion among men has crossed the great divide.

Like old troopers, the Cocker Spaniels owned by the Knebworth Kennels Registered (Mrs. R. G. Shute) carried on at the Specialty Show in Hollywood, May 6. "The Show Must Go On" was the slogan. Mrs. Lillian B. Rice, Fred Appleton, and other international dog authorities helped show the Shute string of 12 champions on to further glory.

Miss "Gerry" Lohman, Los Angeles, California Chow Chow expert, left in May to attend the Canadian shows.

The Hollywood dog show, May 20-21, made dog history—it was a 2-day open-air benched show, the first of its kind ever to be held in the United States, according to experts.

As a former resident of Sherbrooke, Province Quebec, we are pleased to announce we have added "Queen Marie," beautiful St. Bernard bitch, to our show string for summer and fall shows.

DOGDOM IN JAPAN

Through the courtesy of Viscount K. Ohowla, Jr., Hon. Sec'y of The Japan Canine Club, we learn that the unification of dog world in Japan is well in hand at the moment with a view to setting up a governing body for all Japan. In fact, the good work has progressed so far and so favorably that reciprocity agreements are being sought with the other canine governing bodies of the world.

We wish The Japan Canine Club God Speed in its endeavors.

Dear Sirs:

Sometime ago a prominent breeder recommended Nu-Life Tonic to me and having just received a new stud dog which arrived in poor condition I gave this dog a course of your tonic. The results have been wonderful and everyone says he looks a different dog, in health, coat and spirit, so I can truly say the mixture is a "Tip-Top Tonic."

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sirs:

I have used Nu-Life Dog Mixture on my setters as a remedy and as a conditioner for considerable time and would not be without it in my kennels. At the first sign of trouble I give Nu-Life. A few doses and the dog is well. Regular use of Nu-Life also improves the coat.

Notes from Manitoba

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
W. B. R. KNOWLES, Winnipeg, Man.

FOX TERRIERS (Smooth). Smooths are beginning to gain headway already in Manitoba. Mr. Sikorski, Winnipeg, reports an attractive looking litter of puppies out of his "Sutton's Bona" by his "Ch. Danby Mogul." He says, also, that, "Mogul" is in splendid show condition. He is also having inquiries made for him in England, and expects to import two outstanding specimens of the breed; one of each sex to further increase the number of Smooths in the Bonadale Kennels.

Mr. Poole, a recent arrival from the "Old Land," and a Terrier specialist too, advises me, the Smooth Fox Terrier is gaining favor over there rapidly.

Chesapeake. Mr. Dewar, Winnipeg, has purchased from Geo. Fairbairn, Neepawa, Manitoba, "Major Brownlee Parker," a very attractive dead grass colored puppy. He is by "Ch. Bud Parker," he by "Richmond's Donald" ex Ch. Belle II" she by "Ch. Bang." Chesapeakes of this breeding have done well at the shows held, both in New York and on the Pacific Coast.

English Bulldogs. Mrs. Harry Hughes, Minneapolis, Minn., has purchased the English Bull bitch, "Silverdale Sue" from the Silverdale Kennels. Her "Ch. Silverdale The Tin King" purchased some two years ago, is being entered for the Morris and Essex, and other Eastern fixtures. The Silverdale Kennels have also sold and shipped "Ch. Silverdale Leader" to Mr. Chu Sem, of Honolulu, the transaction being arranged by cable.

Springer Spaniels. E. Chevrier has at last been induced to part with his English Springer Spaniel bitch, "Int. Ch. Marvel of Avondale," one of the greatest, if not the greatest Springer bitch ever benched. She has been awarded Best in Show, all breeds, no less than twenty-two times. F. H. Martini, of Benton Harbor, Mich., is the purchaser. Before being shipped to her new home, "Marvel" was bred to "Masterpiece of Avondale" which Mr. Chevrier says is the best Springer dog he has bred. And I am advised that Mr. Chevrier has had the biggest offer ever yet made to him for "Masterpiece," an offer that runs well up in the four figures.

Scottish Terriers. One can never tell what will happen next. But if anyone had told me that Mr. Chevrier would take up the "Scotties" I would not have believed him. But there it is, he has imported a bitch in whelp from the "Old Land" and at the time of writing, she is nursing a nice litter of lusty puppies. The bitch, "Buckholm Iriscella," imp., is by "Ornsey Waddie" ex "Coberaton Bogie." The puppies are by "Ellwyn Red Robin," and he is by "Ch. Rookery Robin," and out of "Ellwyn May."

Geo. Kynoch has sold his outstanding stud dog, "Ch. Normandy Airth" to R. Brown, Wilmette, Ill. Besides obtaining his championship in the best of competition, he was awarded best Scottie at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto in 1931. He has also sold "Springtime Jane" by "Ch. Normandy Airth" to G. B. Huxtable, Peoria, Ill., U.S.A.

Cocker Spaniels. G. B. Huxtable, it is evident, is also interested in Cocker Spaniels. He has also purchased from the "Silverdale Kennels the beautiful bitch, "Ch. Silverdale Rose Bloom."

Fox Terriers (Wire-Haired). A. Summers, perhaps better known in Hockey Circles as being a member of the winning New York Rangers, has purchased a four-months' dog puppy by "Yorak Sun Fire" ex "Silverdale Sadie" from the Bakerdale Kennels, Winnipeg, and another puppy of the same breeding, "Bakerdale Peter," has gone to Mrs. J. C. Williamson, Winnipeg and another puppy by "Yorak Sun Fire" ex "Bakerdale Peggy" has been purchased by Mrs. G. Coutts, Winnipeg. And from the Silverdale Kennels "Silverdale Jimmie" has been purchased by G. B. Noble, Montreal. "Silverdale Jimmie" is by "Yorak Sun Fire" ex "Silverdale Flashlight."

Curly-Coated Retrievers. "Prince" has been purchased from the Silverdale Kennels by J. B. Foster, Sioux Lookout.

English Setters. "Silverdale Tiger" has been purchased by Mr. Willetts, Fort William, Ontario.

Boston Terriers. "Trapystok Firefly" has again been bred to "Trapystok Headlight."

Scottish Terriers. I thought I had finished my list of Scotties, but I notice I had omitted some puppies by "Ch. Normandy Airth" ex "Grizelda." Mrs. Alexander, of Winnipeg, has purchased a bitch puppy of this breeding. Whilst Sgt. Colin McKenzie, Dr. L. D. Collins and J. B. Nicholson has purchased dog puppies. These were bred at the Silverdale Kennels.

FAMOUS ENGLISH JUDGE DEAD

From the Canine Press of England we learn with deepest regret of the death of Mr. Walter S. Glynn, of the famous "Brynhir" prefix, a prefix which has told the world of many Fox Terriers, Welsh Terriers, and Sealyhams, which owed their fame to the cunning of the old master of "Brynhir." On his several judging expeditions to this side of the Atlantic, his placings were received almost with reverence, irrespective of what they were, or to whom. Such placings were the opinions of a master, and they were accepted in that sense and spirit. The writer has been privileged to watch Mr. Glynn at work. On more than one occasion and in spite of the fact that every dog was carefully examined, my reaction to his judging was that he had them sorted out before he left his chair in the judging ring. He always seemed to have the values appraised as the dogs came into the ring one after the other. He certainly had a sharp eye for terrier quality to an almost uncanny degree.

Old countrymen, resident in America, North and South, will realize that in the death of Mr. Glynn, England has lost one of its most popular judges, and one of its most brilliant and authentic writers. Not only that, but many will feel that they have lost a personal friend. Mr. Glynn died on Easter Monday and was in his sixty-seventh year.

SAM BAMFORD FORGES AHEAD

Canadian fanciers who have the privilege of knowing Sam Bamford, late of Toronto, and now residing at Blackburn, England, are taking notice of the very important judging assignments which are being handed to their erstwhile friend. Such shows as Birmingham Championship, Kensington Championship (Crystal Palace), are not judged by novitiates, and when Mr. Bamford reports to the "powers that be" on his assignments, his remarks carry substantial criticism that cannot be misunderstood.

J. L. E. A. (Mrs. Aspinall) reporting for "Our Dogs" says, "The owner of the 'Walnut' prefix was up to concert pitch and enhanced his reputation as an authority on Airedale Terriers." Mr. Bamford does not confine his judging to England at all, as he was one of the four judges called upon to place the dogs at Falkirk, Scotland, on April 19th, and who can tell but some day he may even judge at the Westminster, New York, and the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. At any rate we wish our old friend many more engagements and the best of luck.

Notes from Old Quebec

By Provincial Contributing Editor,
R. H. WADDELL, Dorval, P.Q.

TO many fanciers, not only in this Province, but all over Canada, the demise of William R. Aitken will be regretted as his friendships were not confined to those who could only talk "dogs." His passing leaves a blank in the ranks of the "old school" which cannot be filled. To those who knew him the memory of the happy times spent together will always be remembered.

During this month there has also passed away Alderman Smith, of Verdun, and "Ned" Withers, who were keen fanciers of dogs. Our sympathy is extended to their families.

Fanciers generally will be pleased to know of the elevation of Recorder J. A. Thouin to the position of Chief Recorder of the City of Montreal. Recorder Thouin is a keen Beagle enthusiast and as President of the Montreal Kennel Association is leaving no stone unturned to make their show a real success. A fancier, who still has "Heather" growing out of his ears, told me the other day that the first time he had the pleasure of speaking to Recorder Thouin it cost him ten dollars, but he has forgiven the sentence passed on him long ago as any man who loves dogs the way Recorder Thouin does could only be a man after his own heart and he is pleased to be acquainted with him.

The Fox Terrier ranks have been enriched by the importation of an outstanding dog which is the litter brother of the Cruft's Championship winner this year. His new owner, Mr. Manby, is delighted with his purchase, and so well he may be, as it is a delightful little terrier and I have no doubt will give a good account of himself in any show.

It is a real pleasure to see that the once Society rage of popularity in England, the Pug, bids fair to come back to favor along with the present early "Victorian" feminine style of dress. Montreal and its environs are favored with three ardent admirers of this old English breed. Miss Winifred Stegall, who might be called the "Dean of the Fancy" in Pugs, suffered from a scourge of influenza in her kennels last autumn carrying away all its inmates, including the "Int. Ch. Tally Ho of Broadway." However, nothing daunted, Miss Stegall has made a fresh start by purchasing from Miss Bouchard a smart young fawn bitch, and the Winter Fair Show winner, imported "Sleigh Bell of Broadway," who has proved herself to be a wonderful brood bitch.

Miss Victoria Bouchard, who possesses a small but select kennel of fawn Pugs, is busy getting her New York winner, "Winna Treasure," ready for the coming shows. His daughter, "Victoria Princess," a gem of the first water, has been purchased by Dr. Munn, of New York, at a price in keeping with her merits as a show specimen. Dr. Munn purchased "Victorian Swell" some time ago and wrote to Miss Bouchard "he is a real 'Willoughby' Pug, the kind I like — Silver Fawn with correct black shadings."

Mr. and Mrs. Threlfall are making a gallant effort to popularize the black pug, little understood in this country. Their smart little bitch "Ch. Budworth Babs" is nursing three blacks and a fawn.

All fanciers who remember Miss Ida Eadie, of Montreal, one of the best horsewomen in Canada and a keen Terrier fancier, will be delighted to know that this fine sportswoman is again with us; this time with a very fine red Cocker bitch from the famous kennel of W. T. Payne, of "Midkiff" fame.

WILLIAM AITKEN, MONTREAL

AFTER more than a year of being confined to his home and chock full of Scottish grit until the very last, this splendid Scotchman of the "Old School" passed away quite unexpectedly on the evening of May 9th.

The sad news of Mr. Aitken's death reached the members of the Montreal Kennel Association whilst they were in session and immediately the chairman, T. P. Ritchie requested the members present to rise and remain silent for one minute as a tribute to one of the "Originals" of the M.K.A.

Mr. Aitken was laid to rest on Friday, May 12th, when a veritable host of his friends and admirers filled the funeral chapel where the services were held. Scores of floral wreaths were mounted around the solid oak casket so typical of the strength of character of the man it contained. Solid oak—What could have been more fitting?

Mr. Aitken's love and devotion to the Scottish Terrier remained eloquently until the very last as only two days before his death he received from England the promising young dark brindle dog, "Bark Hill Tallyman," a son of "Albourne Admiration." This splendid youngster was brought direct from the Cunarder, Aurania on the Sunday evening to Mr. Aitken's bedside much to the satisfaction and delight of the "old master" who was so soon to leave for other eternal and happier shores.

Mr. Aitken was just born to be a dog fancier. In his younger days he was considered a regular stalwart in the ranks of the Scottish Kennel Club, and the early officers continued to be his lifelong friends. In Canada his presence was a tower of strength in the Canadian metropolis, and far beyond the borders of his beloved home by adoption—Montreal. Indeed, he gave yeoman service to the Canadian Kennel Club itself and on more than one occasion he presided at the Annual and Semi-Annual Meetings of the parent body in Canada. A member in good standing since October 15th, 1913, shows that our late friend was in harness with us for twenty years. An associate of A. C. A. Chisholm, W. E. Baldwin, Robert A. Ross, George Caverhill, James Lindsay, Dr. Wesley Mills, Joe Laurin, Rev. J. D. O'Gorman, Bob Mills, all men of standing in dogdom; and friend of James F. Strachan, Harry Whitley, Mary Enright, Tom Ritchie, and all the men and women of modern action in the Montreal field, as a matter of record every fancier in Montreal was a friend of "Willie" Aitken's, and he was a friend of theirs.

Dr. Ford has put it nicely when he says "solid oak—what could have been more fitting." What could have been more fitting? The writer recalls a social hour spent at the Pelican Club some many years ago now. All the "spirits" had gathered to meet the "new Secretary." Matters of canine government were of grave consideration at the moment, things in general were said to be slipping, the Dominion Kennel Club had been making headway and there was much to disturb the camp in general and here was a regular pow wow at the headquarters of the Montreal Kennel Association. One man had declared, that to be a director of the Canadian Kennel Club was nothing more than an empty honor. The atmosphere was tense and I clearly recall Mr. Aitken sitting there with his brows all puckered together and his whole countenance clouded in serious thought, and the idea flashed across my mind then, "What a typical old Scot," and I felt that it surely would have "been sinful to whistle on Sunday," in his domicile, yet he was optimistic for the future. His words of encouragement were not lost and what has transpired in the meantime is sufficient justification of his great confidence in the then officers of the club and their power to bring order out of apparent chaos and I happen to know that Mr. Aitken was proud of the Canadian Kennel Club and his close associations with it. Another old landmark has been removed.

Maritime News

By Provincial Contributing Editor
G. D. ANDERSON, Halifax, N.S.

FOR some reason quite unknown to me my notes for this month are very limited. While the Nova Scotia Kennel Club and its members are as active as ever there seems to be little news of general interest to the fancy as a whole. In Nova Scotia, particularly in Halifax, the spotlight is focused on a number of new dogs that have recently been brought in by several of the local breeders. Bostons seem to be enjoying a new revival of popularity with the result that several really good specimens have arrived at local kennels during the past few weeks. Two "Scots," well worthy of mention, are new arrivals at the Bluenose Kennels.

While I have not had an opportunity of getting in touch with all of the local fancy and viewing all the new arrivals I will at least try to comment on them as they have been reported to me.

John Fry, Jr., has returned to his old love, the Boston, by importing from J. J. Briggs, of Arlington, Mass., a particularly nice stud which should do the breed some good locally. This dog is several years old and has proven himself to be a sire of real worth. Many of his get are to be found "in the money" if one examines the records of the shows held in the New England States during the past few years. Jack does not intend breeding because his main interest today lies in judging; but he does want to have available for his old friends a real good Boston Stud—and I think that his present fancy is all that a Boston should be. His breeding is not known to me at the time of writing but will appear in a later issue of Kennel and Bench.

Fred Fougere has become a decided Boston fan of late and has imported two particularly nice specimens. The first, a dog, he imported through J. J. Briggs, of Arlington. This little dog, "Tunney Again"; with "Ch. Introduce Me" and others, equally well-known, in his pedigree, is a well-marked, good colored, mahogany brindle, with good quarters, well set, kinked tail, good deep brisket, and a strong typical head. He aroused a lot of admiration among the Boston lovers and appealed so much to Roy McKay, one of our oldest Boston breeders and fanciers that we now find "Tunney Again" in Roy's kennel, and we hear that the price paid was a large one.

Fred's second importation arrived but a very few days ago and full particulars about it will appear in next month's issue of this magazine.

Jack Huggins for many years a breeder of Bostons has added two new ones to his kennel. Both of these were purchased from Mrs. B. M. Frost of Saint John, N.B., and both are very promising looking youngsters. The male, a seven-months' youngster, is by "Ch. Dorchester Billie Hagerty," and out of "Saint John Sigourney" with such names as "Ch. Highball Just It," "Hagerty's King"; "Highball Right Away" appearing in the background. A short, outstanding head; perfect body and limbs; good tail properly carried; perfect markings and color are all owned by this dog who is a good mover and should finish at about sixteen pounds. The female, about five months' old claims the same general breeding and the same sire; but is out of "Saint John Surprise." She is typical in every way and owns an exceptionally short body set on good straight limbs, balanced with a lovely head and a one-inch properly carried tail. Her markings are perfect and she should, with her small size and attractive gait, develop into a real one.

Two "Scots" from Inverness Kennels recently arrived at Bluenose Kennels. Both are males and have qualities which should tend to improve the stock in this part of the country. "Inverness Rab," a brindle son of "Haldon Storm" ex "Inverness Donna" boasts a choice combination of Heather and Gaisgill lines. He has a particularly harsh coat, good body on excellent quarters, straight front, short tail, a wonderful head with neat pointed ears, a good eye and true expression. The other "Inverness Murdo" is out of "Haldon Inverness Lass" and was sired by "Haldon Cavalier." This seven-month stallion youngster is without doubt the lowest and cobbiest of his breed in the East. He has perfect front and rear quarters, a strong head, well placed neat ears, a marvellously short tail, is jet black, and in movement is all that a Scot should be. He is a real little cart-horse and very soon he will be visiting some of the Bluenose matrons. These two "Die-hards" are a real acquisition and will doubtless improve the type in the Maritimes.

Bluenose Kennels also report that the Bloodhound, "Madam X" will be visited by a particularly well-bred and typical stud within the next few days.

W. G. Smith, of Maritime prefix, advised me that his Scottie female, "Glen Moir Mona" is being visited by Captain Evans' "Limestone Whiskey." He also tells me that he recently sold two Wire pups out of "Queen Road White Collarlass" by "Broomhill Knockout."

One of these, a hound marked male, went to Dr. O'Brien of Halifax; the other, a female, to Mr. Webber, the well-known north-end merchant.

Mrs. Jack Burns phoned to say that her litter of Irish Terriers out of "Ch. Fermanagh Rusty Maid" are rapidly finding new homes. A dog pup was recently shipped to Prof. Dawson of Acadia University in Wolfville, N.S., another male went to Mrs. Tufts of Mahone Bay. The only two females in the litter were taken by Dan Currie and W. G. Smith.

Wm. W. Laskey, Fredericton, N.B., now owns a new lemon and white Pointer bitch, bred by her former owner, Robert Orr, Saint John, named "Easco Princess Helena," the dam of the worthy "Easco Jingo Red" referred to in these columns of April issue. Fredericton is the home city of The N. B. Cover and Field Trial Assn. That in itself is an incentive for more and better Pointers and Setters in the Maritimes. Already the location of covers, and the committee, are named for the coming trials in early October. A letter from Mrs. A. Latulippe, Montreal, tells of satisfaction received from the Saint John Boston Terrier Kennels, from whom she bought "Saint John Sweeping All," a lovely marked winning puppy, sired by "Ch. Dorchester Billie Hagerty" ex "Hagerty Gambles." The dam also claims the same champion as sire. This "Billie Hagerty" has proved himself a most consistent and prolific sire of winning Bostons, as our Maritime show record proves.

Geo. T. Kane, who has been visiting his son and the Harvard closing exercises, purchased another attractive Boston while in New England, named "Little Billie Boss," a show and stud dog. His sire is "Smith's Billy Boss" and his dam is "Dusty Silk." Droll and Rosebloom's "Ch. Dusty Boss" is a litter brother, claiming the same age and parents. "Billie Boss" is a good colored terrier, evenly marked. Has everything to commend him for a coming champion.

Cossar Farms, Lower Gagetown, N.B., stock breeders and horticulturists, who have about fifteen Scotties, report their young stock is by "Ch. Heather Reveler," "Heather Radiant," and "Heather Highlander." "Highlander" was, during May, visited by several bitches. Mr. Stanley Kirkland's "Bonny Doon" and Wm. and Robt. B. Laskey's "Drumclaph Lucie" were among the number and their owners are hoping for good results. Ronald Vaughan, who heretofore has had indifferent success with his Scottie, "Campbellcroft Black Maid," reports a record litter of nine, including seven males. He is raising five of this splendid litter which was sired by that grand headed Scot owned by Wm. and Robt. Laskey and named "Highland Warrior."

Ralph Preston, of Glen Falls, N.B., reports that he is sending a bitch to visit "Thet Trio." Commissioner La Baron Wilson, of Saint John, is also to send his wire bitch to another sire of Vivadora Kennels, Toronto.

Despite the depression, shortness of money, and unemployment, there is a continued demand in Saint John for Smooth and Wire Fox Terriers, Scotties, Spaniels and Setters.

Garwood Kennels report the continued success of "Ch. Garwood Tip Top," now owned in the Southern States. "Tip Top" has already been awarded winners at four or five shows since our last issue of Kennel and Bench. This will account for thirteen points toward the necessary fifteen for his American title. The Garwood champion's new owner, Mr. Hutmon, of Atlanta, Ga., expected to finish him in May. We wish them success.

The New Brunswick Kennel Club, at its monthly meeting, two weeks ago, decided to hold its annual dog show again beginning Labor Day, Sept. 4-5-6. The United Trades and Labor Council are holding a mammoth fair on the Exhibition Grounds at that time which will assure the Kennel Club of a gate and the publicity necessary to meet the extra expense of their Jubilee Show. This will also avoid moving and dismantling the benching from their present splendid show building, which cannot be equaled in the Maritimes for light, accommodation, and space. This will also affect a big saving in rental and labor, both big factors in show expense.

On with the shows!

"MEGGIE" AND "MAJOR" IN DISGRACE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt has certainly made history in the receptions he has extended to the world's outstanding statesmen in recent days, so much so, that the whole world stands in open admiration of the President of the United States at this moment. Every newspaper the world over is featuring the happenings at the White House—even as we write, but this is not a newspaper, and so we concern ourselves most at the present time with the canine members of the President's household.

It was appropriate that "Meggie," the Scottish Terrier at the White House, should have been prominently around when the British Premier, Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter, Ishbel, were the guests of honor there. The atmosphere must have been to "Meggie's" particular liking, because even Miss Ishbel's reprovals only helped to make "Meggie" forget it was the "Sawbath Day," and to forget the Scottish upbringing of her "forbears" in that respect.

The first "diplomatic overtures" were to get an airing on the Schooner, Gertrude L. Thebaud, and "Meggie" was one of the party. When the White House car drew up at the dock, "Meggie" was unleashed, and to show her "independence," away she scampered, unheeding all commands to "come back and behave herself," and it is said that Mrs. Roosevelt threw dignity to the winds, and got under an automobile herself to rescue the "wee Scottie" that had misunderstood the intent of the secret service men who had tried to show her "proper behaviour, appropriate to the occasion."

Now the White House, Shepherd dog, "Major," has "gone and done it" too. "Major" "took a nip" at our own Canadian Premier, Mr. R. B. Bennett. Probably "Major" wanted to emphasize his pleasure at the turn world affairs were taking, and being over zealous in his enthusiasm "ruffled the threads" of Mr. Bennett's trousers a trifle. Senator Mrs. Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas, was a visitor at the White House at the same time as Mr. Bennett, and "Major" was rather too "demonstrative" with her, so much so, that in future the rascal will be muzzled and kept away from the visitors by order of Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Boys will be boys," and "every dog has his day." To the writer, both quotations are almost synonymous. Boyish capers often lead to misunderstandings, which when analyzed, reveal only the spirit of play, and of dogs the very same condition is found. Very often a dog will take a playful hold, and a sharp "pull" on the part of the party held will result in a torn garment, or in torn or bruised flesh, when the intent of the dog is perfectly friendly. Anyway, human beings with their boasted powers for reasoning, should at all times remember that our dogs are dumb animals, and as such, their actions must frequently be misunderstood. We feel sorry for "Meggie" and "Major," realizing that both were "properly vouched for," before they ever went to the White House at all. And we do like to remember that it was Mrs. Roosevelt who went under the car for her dog—God bless her.

ALD. E. SMYTH DEAD

Another good fancier has been lost to Montreal district in the death of that good Collie breeder, E. Smyth, of Verdun, P.Q. Alderman Smyth was buried on the day following the funeral of his friend, Wm. Aitken. Alderman Smyth had been in failing health for some considerable time and during the last six months he suffered severely and although confined to his bed he insisted on his only remaining dog being shown at the last two evening shows held in Montreal. It is of such material that real fanciers are made, and we will miss this good friend, too, when we find ourselves in Montreal in the future.

Morgan Dennis, supporting "Jock and Jill," the two Scotties who are starring in the new series of movie shorts he is producing.

A series of movie shorts entitled "Jock and Jill," which feature two live thoroughbred Scotties, are being produced by Morgan Dennis, noted by here and abroad for his etchings of dogs. They should prove excellent propaganda for furthering the interest in pure-bred dogs.

The first of the "Jock and Jill" series had its premiere showing at the Fine Arts Theatre in Boston the week of May 7th and national distribution is now under way.

"Jock and Jill" are played by two Scotties from the kennels of Mrs. T. W. Durant on Long Island. "Jock" is the nom de cinema of "Albourne Revelers Lad of Hillwood," who has sired seven champions, and "Jill" is represented by "Rarity of Hillwood," whose blood line is equally impressive.

The dogs are not dressed up and forced through the usual "tricks" such as begging, jumping through hoops, etc. Instead they are allowed to "be themselves" and appear on the screen in natural doglike postures which are much more appealing.

Mr. Dennis is planning to use outstanding representatives of other breeds in subsequent pictures of the series. These thoroughbreds will be co-featured with the two Scotties and will extend the opportunities for publicizing thoroughbreds to all species.

REPORT OF ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

W. H. Reeves continuing, said:—

Yesterday I heard rumours that it had been stated that the committee appointed by your President to bring the rules and regulations up to date were going to try to force these alterations through. Ladies and gentlemen, the destructive member who started such a rumour must have known that the actions of my committee in past years' service to the Canadian Kennel Club has been to build and not destroy the confidence of our Ontario members. We are only submitting these alterations for your consideration.

My ambition since I took up my permanent residence in Canada has been to make the sport we are all so keenly interested in, a clean sport, and also a national industry as it is in England today. Some of the alterations to the rules and regulations may not meet with your approval, but I know I can count on the members to show the same sporting spirit with which they have always taken my decisions in the ring. I want you to vote on them with a view to the effect they will have on the whole fancy, and not just how they will affect our own breeds. As probably you all know, I have over thirty-five years' experience in dogs and dog shows, not only in Canada but in the British Isles, the United States of America and other parts of the world, and I know that conditions are such that different rules have to be made for each country. This applies particularly to championship points.

Ladies and gentlemen, may I take this opportunity to express to you, especially the Ontario members, my appreciation of the honour they have done me in selecting me again as their Ontario director.

Now I will get on with these proposed amendments.

MR. BROWN: Do I understand this special matter was submitted to a special committee to bring forward to this meeting? Is that what it is?

COL. MacRAE: A committee was appointed to spend five afternoons or seven afternoons going through the Dog Show Rules and Regulations, and to endeavor to bring them up to cover everything.

MR. BROWN: I happened to read the last minutes, and I notice there is a resolution by Mr. Jack Bruce that a particular question was submitted to a special committee to bring in a recommendation for the next annual meeting, and it was a specific question, and I claim, Mr. Chairman, everything respecting the question that this gentleman here is sponsoring is out of order because they were appointed to do the work that they have already done.

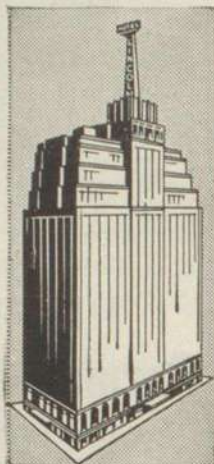

MR. CARTER: What the previous speaker is thinking of, I think it was last year at our annual meeting a motion or a notice of an amendment to the constitution was brought forward, I think, by Mr. Eccles of Hamilton, which was in connection with the point rate, and I remember correctly there were two amendments to the amendment and it was finally disposed of by reading it in the notes of the directors of Ontario to appoint a committee to go into that one phase of the dog show rules, the point system.

I would like to ask, Mr. Chairman, if this committee is the result of that notice of amendment, and why isn't the report before the general meeting to-night as it was requested last year?

COL. MacRAE: That is covered in this.

MR. CARTER: If it is covered in that amendment I suggest the remainder of this amendment dealing with the dog show rules is entirely out of order.

COL. MacRAE: No, it is all within ninety days' notice.

MR. BROWN: Were they submitted as individual members or as a committee?

COL. MacRAE: The committee worked on this endeavoring to straighten out—

MR. BROWN: They weren't instructed to do so.

MR. ECCLES: As I understand it, I thought there was a committee appointed and it was Mr. Bruce's amendment that caused the committee to be formed; it was my own amendment that is the cause of this argument, and they had to form a committee to see what they could do for the smaller clubs in Ontario, but what they are bringing here is covering all Canada, and I say it is out of order.

COL. MacRAE: The notice of motion to this effect has been given.

MR. BROWN: Why are they submitting it as a committee?

COL. MacRAE: That committee was also appointed, and was so appointed by the President.

MR. BROWN: I appeal the decision of the Chair.

COL. MacRAE: Do you want a vote of confidence?

MR. BROWN: I want it carried out according to parliamentary procedure. The Chair has been appealed against, it is up to you, Mr. Vice-President. Shall the Chair be sustained? That is the question.

COL. MacRAE: He says "yes".

MR. BROWN: Before he puts the question I want to say I am appealing against a decision of the Chair, after reading the minutes of the last meeting, and my opinion of the situation is that that committee on the previous motion was appointed to deal with a specific question that was brought forward in reference to point ratings, and instead of bringing that question back, as they were instructed, they are bringing in one hundred and one things that they weren't instructed to do. That is my point of order, Mr. Chairman.

MR. WILSON: All those in favor of upholding the Chairman?

MEMBER: I don't understand the question.

MR. BROWN: I am appealing the rule of the Chair. The question is, if you vote in favor of upholding the Chair you agree to listen to all this stuff, and if you vote against the decision of the Chair then we will not need to discuss the question that they weren't instructed to carry out.

MR. STOCKDALE: On Mr. Wilson's request, who was presiding for a few minutes, I think Mr. Brown has fairly stated the question. You are going to vote now on this question: the Chair has ruled that this is properly before the House. Mr. Brown has appealed the ruling of the Chair, and the question before you now is, shall the Chair be sustained. If you sustain the Chair, as Mr. Brown has told you, you take up these resolutions. If you do not, then these are not before you.

MR. BROWN: Just the question in regard to Ontario alone.

MR. STOCKDALE: Your contention is this is in committee form?

MR. BROWN: Sure.

MR. STOCKDALE: All in favor of sustaining the Chair signify in the usual way.

THE SECRETARY: Twenty-nine.

MR. STOCKDALE: Contrary?

THE SECRETARY: Nineteen.

MR. STOCKDALE: The Chair is sustained.

MR. CARTER: I challenge that vote. I counted that vote and I am going to ask for a standing vote. I don't care which way it goes, as far as that is concerned, but I want to see it done fairly, and when the Secretary says "twenty-nine" I say there weren't twenty-nine hands up at that time. I counted them twice.

MR. STOCKDALE: I will ask you to vote again on the question. All those in favor of sustaining the Chair signify in the usual manner?

THE SECRETARY: Twenty-eight.

MR. STOCKDALE: Contrary?

THE SECRETARY: Twenty-two.

MR. STOCKDALE: The Chair is sustained.

MR. REEVES: In view of the discussion which has been going on, I think some explanation is due to you from the Secretary, and I would like him to make some remarks before I go on.

THE SECRETARY: Mr. President, in years gone by when members have brought proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules and had them incorporated in the Dog Show Rules, never at any time did they take the precaution to take into consideration the relationship of the Dog Show Rules to the Dog Show Regulations, and when Col. McFarland appointed this committee to follow out the instructions you gave to him at the last annual meeting, that condition was drawn to his attention, and because of that he asked the committee to go into the whole question of Dog Show Rules and their relationship to the Dog Show Regulations, and that is just exactly what has been done.

MR. CARTER: Mr. Chairman, could we refer to this? We have only got it by word of mouth; I would like to have the minutes produced so we can refer to them.

COL. MacRAE: Well, the Chair has been sustained.

All right, Mr. Reeves.

MR. REEVES: (reads) "1. The word 'dog' whenever used in these Rules includes both sexes."

COL. MacRAE: No objection to that, the same as it was before.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"2. Every dog entered under these rules must be either registered or listed with the Canadian Kennel Club previous to being exhibited. Penalty for non-compliance is cancellation of wins. The show secretary shall collect listing fees of twenty-five cents from exhibitors for every dog entered at the show, unless the dog is registered in the Canadian Kennel Club Stud Book, and the registered number given on the entry form. All such fees must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club within ten days from date of closing the show. Penalty for non-compliance shall be five dollars."

COL. MacRAE: Any objections?

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, as I said before, most of our secretaries in the West are working men, and they can't devote an awful lot of time to the dog show, and seeing that we are two or three days' travel from Ontario I would like to have that to read "mailing dates."

MR. DUCKETT: Mr. President, that is all wrong, I think. If I understand the rules and regulations a club has to have their returns in within seven days, and you have given them ten days.

COL. MacRAE: No, the same time.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, the reason for this was, a lot of the exhibitors thought they were not having enough time; therefore my committee, which was appointed by your President to go over these rules, decided it should be ten days.

MR. CLIMO: The old rule says ten days. The only thing I am asking is about the mailing date.

MRS. McCOLL: You have raised the fee from one dollar to five dollars.

COL. MacRAE: Let us settle this other one first, Mrs. McColl. Do you wish to amend that to ten days mailing date?

MR. CLIMO: Yes.

COL. MacRAE: Is that agreeable? All right. The next, "Penalty for non-compliance shall be five dollars." All right, Mr. Reeves.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"The cost of listing a dog is twenty-five cents for each show. Canadian owned dogs eligible for registration may only be listed for three shows, after which the dog (if eligible) must be registered. The fee for registering a dog, which is good for life, is one dollar to members of the Canadian Kennel Club, and two dollars to non-members. The fee for transfer of ownership is twenty-five cents to members of the Club, and fifty cents to non-members."

MR. PIERSON: How about dogs that are not registered? What are you going to do with them?

COL. MacRAE: It says "if eligible."

MR. PIERSON: There are ten thousand dogs registered in the American Field that you can't get registered here. What are you going to do? I have Canadian owned dogs registered in the American Fields and I can't register them here and I can't show them.

COL. MacRAE: Yes, you can.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Pym and I think that rule is quite plain. It simply says dogs that are eligible for registration in the Canadian Kennel Club may be shown or listed for three times. That doesn't bar a dog that is ineligible for registration from competing fifty times. They can keep on showing him.

MR. WAINRIGHT: I may have a personal reason not to register a certain dog; I don't see why I should only show him three times.

COL. MacRAE: If he is eligible unless registered you can't show him.

MR. MACONCHIE: As far as showing a dog, if you show a dog in three shows he is surely worth registration. What is the use of putting it in if it is no good?

COL. MacRAE: It applies to the dogs that are eligible.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, the way I read it is this way: It forces a man that has got a dog eligible for registration, to register the dog, and that is the very thing that should be done.

MR. COOPER: May I ask why the committee has recommended three shows? A dog could get a championship and we would have an unregistered champion. Wouldn't it be better to make it two shows?

MR. REEVES: You are paying twenty-five cents every time you list this dog; by paying a dollar you can show that dog for evermore. I don't see where we are trying to get any money out of you.

MEMBERS: Carried.

COL. MacRAE: Carried.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"All applications for registration and transfer of ownership must be made on the official forms provided for that purpose and sent direct to the Accountant, Canadian National Live Stock Records, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ontario, together with the necessary fee or fees."

COL. MacRAE: The same as before.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"Every dog must be the bona-fide property of the person making such entry on the day of closing the entries, and must be not less than six months old. The entry must clearly identify the dog to be exhibited by name. If the dog is already registered in the Canadian Kennel Club Stud Book, number of the dog must be given with the entry."

COL. MacRAE: The same as before.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President, I have been asked for a ruling as to what constitutes the ownership of a dog. At the present time there are certain people that are showing dogs and they are not the registered owner of those dogs.

MR. KYNOCH: Does that refer to a professional handler?

MR. BANNISTER: I would like to ask a question. When is the dog six months old?

COL. MacRAE: That is laid down.

MR. BANNISTER: But as I understand it here, a puppy whelped on the 30th day of April, 1932, we will say, is not eligible to compete for a dog under twelve months of age on April 30th, 1933. Am I right? That is according to the rules, I believe.

COL. MacRAE: He is a year old that day.

MR. BANNISTER: That is what I am after, that a puppy whelped on the 30th day of April, 1932, is he six months old, or eligible to compete for a puppy six months old on the 30th day of October?

MRS. McCOLL: On that day, yes.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President, I asked a question just now, and I have been asked to try and get an answer to it. What constitutes a bona-fide owner of a dog?

COL. MacRAE: The registered owner.

MR. MACONCHIE: Mr. Chairman, if I would be in order, would it be better if Mr. Reeves only read out the revised rules and leave the standard ones as they are, which would save a lot of time. I mean to say it would save quite a lot of time in discussion.

MR. REEVES: You have all these rules before you, gentlemen. I will just read them through and you tell me if you want any of them read out. Change of name of a dog, same as before, breeder, same as before, fines, same as before.

MR. MACONCHIE: "Breeder" is changed, it is "mated" instead of "bred."

COL. MacRAE: It is the same thing. Next, refusal of entries.

MR. REEVES: Refusal of entries: (reads):

"The authorities of any show may decline to accept entries for just cause and may refuse to receive or may remove any dog from the show building on account of disease or vice, and no one shall have any claim or recourse against the organization holding the show or any official connected therewith."

MR. WALKERDINE: May I ask Mr. Reeves the reason for deleting the last part? I think it was four or five years ago that was added there, "But the said authorities must file their reasons for doing so with the Canadian Kennel Club."

MR. REEVES: We considered these rules, ladies and gentlemen, very carefully. We didn't think it was necessary to put that in.

MR. ROSS: Mr. Chairman, I remember that question being brought up, it was a Quebec case, where an exhibitor came in late on Saturday night and made her entries at a certain club in Montreal; these entries were accepted, with a cheque, and the cheque was put through the bank, and the story we got a few days afterwards was that some of the members had been through these entries and seen whose dogs were there, and there was a wholesale resignation coming in from members on account of this lady's entry, and her entries were returned to her, and the cash accompanied that transaction seventy-five cents short of what had been remitted. That was the cause of those few words being put on there, and I will second Mr. Walkerdine's motion if he puts that in the form of a motion, that it remain there, for the protection of exhibitors in future.

MR. WALKERDINE: I will move that amendment, Mr. Chairman, if Mr. Ross will second it, that "said authorities must file their reasons for doing so with the office of the Canadian Kennel Club."

MR. ROSS: I will second it.

MR. SHAWLEY: That means, Mr. President, leaving the rule as it is now?

COL. MacRAE: Yes.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"A castrated dog or spayed bitch shall be disqualified and forfeit any prize that may be awarded to it."

Total blindness, total deafness, or lameness, shall absolutely disqualify. If the veterinary surgeon is satisfied that the deafness or lameness be temporary, the dog shall be allowed to compete. See Rule 53.

A dog shall be disqualified from winning a prize or from receiving one if awarded at any show (except as hereinafter provided) if it be proved to the committee of the show or the committee of the Canadian Kennel Club, as the case may be:

Any dye, coloring, darkening, bleaching, or other matter has been in any way used for the purpose of altering or improving the color or marking of a dog."

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I have been instructed to oppose articles from twelve to seventeen inclusive. That is merely the instructions I am following out.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, I may say from the Edmonton Kennel Club I was asked to oppose article sixteen—

COL. MacRAE: We haven't come to that yet, Mr. Climo. We are at number 12.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, I am only suggesting these things. If you want this faking to continue—

MR. DRAPER: It is up to the judge to disqualify them.

MR. REEVES: No, it is up to you now to decide.

MR. LOVERIDGE: What does that word take into consideration?

COL. MacRAE: "Faking" means to deceive. It is laid down here.

MR. LOVERIDGE: There is faking and other ways of putting it, whichever you like. Is it faking a dog to cut a bulldog?

MR. MACONCHIE: Speaking on the question of faking, by so-called faking in the case of a Pomeranian where you may take the dog to a show and that dog gets dirty on the ride down and you have occasion to wash that dog in the show, which renders that dog as he was to start with, and you have to put a little preparation on him, do you call that faking? If you are not putting a dye or a coloring in?

COL. MacRAE: You are getting beyond number 13. Let us clear up on 13.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"Any preparation, chemical or otherwise, has been used for the purpose of altering or improving the texture of the coat.

Any powder, oil, greasy or sticky substance has been used and remains in the coat during time of exhibition."

Supposing you bring a wire Fox Terrier into the ring so full of powder that when you put your hands through the coat that you know there has been powder left in that coat, it has only been left in the coat because the dog has got a poor coat. If we put this rule in, ladies and gentlemen, it will mean if a wire Fox Terrier comes in and I consider it is too full of chalk I am going to give that man the right to take the dog out of the ring and bring it in within five minutes—

MR. CARTER: This rule says "any powder". If a judge adheres to those rules the moment he sees any chalk marks or grease marks on a dog he is going to disqualify it.

MR. REEVES: If you bring a Terrier into the ring full of chalk he will tell you to take the dog out of the ring and remove the chalk out of that dog's coat.

MR. CARTER: Anybody judging under these rules will say "any".

MR. MACONCHIE: Mr. Chairman, speaking to that, that is from your point of view as a judge, that you would use that discretion, but supposing there are other judges here, supposing we get some judges from the States. They will go by our Dog Show Rules; they can turn around and disqualify the dog.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, I will tell you this much; the thing we all do want to stop is coloring of Airedales, coloring of Irish Terriers, coloring of the Bostons. If you put any dye or any stuff to deceive, in the way of dye, or coloring matter that is what we want to put our foot down on.

MR. MACONCHIE: That should have been put in the rules, because if we are going to adhere to the rules we are going to abide by the rules.

MR. PIERSON: The only reason I can see anybody hollering over that is because they have an axe to grind.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, in regard to the applying of dyes, there are several professionals that can apply dyes that it is almost undetectable, and this puts the graft into the professionals' hands and the amateur is thrown out; he is detected because he can't do it.

MR. REEVES: You know perfectly well and I know myself today that I am judging Airedales; after the first few classes have come in I look down at my hands, I know perfectly well those dogs have been colored, I know that many of the Airedales that are brought into the ring today haven't got the real tan we see them with. However, as I have told you before, it is up to you.

(Reads): "Any part of a dog's coat or hair has been cut, clipped, singed, or rasped down by any substance, or that the new or fast coat has been removed by any means except in the following breeds: Bedlington Terriers, Bull Terriers, Collies, Fox Terriers (Wire and Smooth), Kerry Blue Terriers, Pomeranians, Poodles, Retrievers (Curly-coated), Retrievers (Golden), Scottish Terriers, Sealyham Terriers and Yorkshire Terriers. The old or shedding coat and loose hair may be removed in all breeds."

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, that is the one that the Edmonton fanciers take objection to.

MR. REEVES: Let me go through and you can take them all after we are finished. (Reads):

"If any cutting, except in Bull Terriers, Bostons, Great Danes, Schnauzers and Dobermans, piercing, breaking by force, or any kind of operation or act which destroys tissues of the ears or alters their natural formation or carriage, or shortens the tail, or alters the natural formation, or color of the dog, or any part thereof, has been practiced, or any other thing has been done calculated in the opinion of the committee of the Canadian Kennel Club, to deceive, except in cases of necessary operation certified to the satisfaction of the committee of the Canadian Kennel Club. Dewclaws may be removed in any breed, and shortening the tails of dogs of the following breeds will not render them liable to disqualification: Spaniels (except Irish Water), Airedale Terriers, Doberman Pinschers, Fox Terriers, Irish Terriers, Kerry Blue Terriers, Schnauzers, Sealyham Terriers, Welsh Terriers, Old English Sheepdogs, Poodles, Toy Spaniels, Yorkshire Terriers, Schipperkes, Griffon Bruxellois, and such other breeds as the Rules Committee may from time to time determine.

The lining membranes of the mouth have been cut or mutilated in any way."

We have got from ten to eighteen. Is there any discussion on these?

MR. CLIMO: In regard to sixteen, the Edmonton Kennel Club raised this point of trimming, and after considerable discussion they thought it was a very unwise thing to put in, for the simple reason that nine out of ten of our judges, when the dog comes into the ring, even if he is well groomed and all that, if he hasn't been clipped in some way or another and another dog has, they are put down in better condition; and then again it is a general practice among all long-haired breeds. I don't see why a Collie should have crept into this exception list, but evidently it did, and it is permitted to be trimmed. Then it is practically necessary to clean down a few other breeds. I know under this ruling you are allowed to remove a lot of old hair. Well, that has always been permissible, but at the same time it is necessary in many instances to bring the outline of a dog out and show his true conformation, just the same as in a Terrier, to remove a little of the hard and fast coat to be able to do it.

If this thing goes through, as it appears now, it will just simply mean plucking your dogs down at an earlier date some place, a little earlier and letting them come back into a fuller coat, and come into bloom. You are not going to stop it by putting this in. I have seen this done years before I came to this country, in the Old Country the same condition existed for several years, but they wakened up and put it aside. I say in the Old Country, with the experience they have had, if they have thrown the thing overboard I don't see why we should pick it up.

MR. REEVES: In regard to the last speaker, it has been described at this stage, and there is no necessity to discuss it, we have stamped out, we have stopped a man bringing a dog in and putting the razor down the side of his face and down his neck; that has all been stopped today. Ladies and gentlemen, I can assure you if this thing goes through that you are going to give your judges in Canada a much stronger hand than they have today, and if a dog has been cut, the razor has been put on it, they have got their remedy, and you will find, ladies and gentlemen, if this thing goes through it will be the same thing as it is in the Old Country today; there won't be any necessity for it because we will stamp it out the way they have stamped it out in England.

MR. CLIMO: With regard to stamping it out in the Old Country, if you will refer to the—I think it is the November issue of the English Dog World, I wouldn't be exactly positive to the issue, there is a very good article there on the method by which the Cocker Spaniel is trimmed in Britain today; he is plucked by finger and thumb, and they definitely tell you it takes an expert to do it.

MR. KYNOCH: You used to use the same method that they use in this country to clip their ears?

MR. CLIMO: I don't know about clipping their ears, but they were plucked.

MRS. McCOLL: Mr. Reeves, what does eighteen mean? "The lining membranes of the mouth have been cut or mutilated in any way?" Does that include the tongue?

MR. REEVES: Certainly.

MRS. McCOLL: Well, would you mind putting that in? I would like the tongue included.

COL. MacRAE: Add "the tongue" to that last one. "Lining membranes of the mouth, and tongue."

MR. REEVES: I am going to ask you to put number ten to eighteen to the meeting.

MR. MACONCHIE: I wouldn't have it in that I opposed dyeing dogs, because in some cases it is necessary. I don't see it is detrimental to the dog or anything else and it is not a factor at all but it is just a showing factor.

MR. REEVES: Then what do you want to do, put the novice at a disadvantage? Is that what your intention is?

MR. MACONCHIE: Mr. Chairman, Mr. Reeves, I would be very slow to say I would put any novice in the dog business at a disadvantage if it is in my power at all times to avoid doing so. If I can do anything for a novice at a show to help him exhibit his dog I will certainly do it by trimming or doing a little to the coat, which I don't think is reprehensible, but still it doesn't mention it in the ruling.

MR. REEVES: What does your standard call for?

MR. MACONCHIE: As far as the coat, it calls for harsh coat. Don't they all do it?

MR. REEVES: That is what we are trying to stop.

MR. MACONCHIE: The question is will they do it whenever it is passed? Will the judge use his discretion?

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, we are trying to help you. This is no advantage to us, we are trying to help you, in my opinion and in the opinion of the Board, and I can assure you, gentlemen, that the members of your Board have gone into these things very, very carefully, there is not one man on that Board who is not interested in our sport, who doesn't want to make it a clean sport. We want to be in the position today that the novice can go into the ring and show with the professional. Why should the professional have all the chances? Why should the professional, when he goes into the ring, have forty or fifty per cent. advantage over new men who are in this room tonight?

MR. DUCKETT: He is entitled to it from his experience.

MR. WAINRIGHT: I make a motion that we rule out 12 to 16, I mean the whole disqualifications.

COL. MacRAE: There is an amendment. Have you a seconder for the amendment?

The motion was duly seconded.

MRS. McCOLL: I move we take these one by one.

COL. MacRAE: We will take the amendment first. All in favor of the amendment?

The Secretary reports 19 votes in favor of the amendment and 9 contrary.

COL. MacRAE: The amendment is carried.

MRS. McCOLL: No. 10.

COL. MacRAE: I don't think that is No. 10.

A MEMBER: Yes.

COL. MacRAE: All those in favor of No. 10? Contrary? Carried.

No. 11? All in favor of No. 11? Contrary? Carried.

No. 12? All in favor of No. 12? Will you count them, Mr. Secretary?

THE SECRETARY: 22.

COL. MacRAE: Contrary? (None). Carried.

No. 13? All in favor of No. 13? (23). Contrary? Carried.

No. 14. All in favor? (21). Contrary? (14). Carried.

No. 15. All in favor?

MR. HOFFMAN: It says any powder or oil. I show Pointers and Setters. If I powder a Pointer, a liver and white Pointer, I get some powder on the liver spots, how am I to get that powder off the liver spots without using a little oil?

A MEMBER: Soap and water.

MR. HERD: I am telling you that is the only way I take it out.

MR. HOFFMAN: I can't wash my dog at nine out of ten shows without him catching a cold.

MR. HERD: I want to tell you that a Pointer is not liver all over; you don't have to wash him all over; you can take a handkerchief, and there is only a spot there that shows, about 6 inches in diameter, and I have shown as many as you have, and I don't know who you are, and I can do it in two minutes.

MR. HOFFMAN: I have showed thousands of Pointers and done that, without an argument about it.

COL. MacRAE: You will see it says "and remains in the coat during time of exhibition."

MR. McADAM: In regard to No. 15, it is almost impossible to show a Terrier without a little whitening in the coat. It doesn't say you may use a little soap and water! What if you have a pure white Fox Terrier?

MR. REEVES: May I suggest something to you? May I, with your permission, put in "any excessive powder"?

MRS. McCOLL: That is better.

MEMBERS: Yes.

MR. REEVES: That only applies to the powder.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor of No. 15 with that amendment signify? (31). Contrary? (15). Carried.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor of No. 16?

MRS. COOPER: Does that mean we can put any dog into the ring just the way it grows?

COL. MacRAE: You have to use a brush on him. All in favor of No. 16, please? Count them, Mr. Secretary. That is carried.

No. 17? All in favor of No. 17? (22). Contrary? No. 17 is carried.

No. 18? With the addition of "tongue" added? All in favor of No. 18? (36). Against? No. 18 carried.

Judging?

MR. ROBERTS: Judge's licenses was carried tonight and is finished.

COL. MacRAE: No. 19 is all right. No. 20 is all right, is it not?

MR. REEVES: Is No. 21 all right?

MR. CRAIGIE: I move, Mr. Chairman, that that clause be adopted in its entirety.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor? Carried.

COL. MacRAE: Weight of dog.

MR. REEVES: Nos. 26, 27, 28, 29. Do you want me to read these?

COL. MacRAE: I don't think there is any change. Nos. 26 to 29 inclusive, o.k.?

MR. PYM: No. I think the weight of Cocker is not included here.

COL. MACRAE: I mean the weight of Cocker would be a new departure. It only takes in the conditions of weighing.

MR. PYM: That is all right. Let her go.

MR. ECCLES: Just put on the new ones you have altered.

MR. REEVES: All right.

MR. BANNISTER: Well, it was stated from 21 to 25, and I think they went through pretty fast.

"Any person acting as a judge at a show held under these rules, shall not exhibit for competition, nor act as an agent or handler as such show, and the penalty for violation shall be suspension, and cancellation of all wins made by him or her at such show. No judge shall judge any dogs he has handled or boarded within 90 days prior to the date of the show."

MRS. McCOLL: The last line is all that is changed.

COL. MACRAE: Yes, that is the only change, the last line.

MR. BANNISTER: Well, I don't think that is right.

COL. MACRAE: Yes, that has been one of the big kicks, you know, about a man judging a dog at one show and handling it at another; that is one of the big things we have been up against.

CAPT. WATERS: You are going back on it now.

MR. BANNISTER: I thought this question was outlined already by Mr. Reeves, about handling a dog in one ring and jumping into another ring. I thought that was all right.

COL. MACRAE: The classes are not changed, are they?

MRS. McCOLL: No.

MR. REEVES: Except in that there is some change with the Canadian-bred class.

THE SECRETARY: We considered it would be advisable to have in the words "Born and bred" in the case of Rule 33. "Born and bred", that would surely designate a Canadian-bred dog.

MRS. McCOLL: Yes. No. 34, Mr. Reeves, the limit class is changed.

THE SECRETARY: The open class is changed around a little bit.

COL. MACRAE: Is that all right, that limit class?

MEMBERS: Yes.

MR. REEVES: The open class there is no change. Winners and reserve winners.

MRS. McCOLL: What does that mean, "Unless sanction has been obtained from the Canadian Kennel Club", the open class? (Reading amendment 35). Is that to cover dogs which are in for bravery and things like that?

COL. MACRAE: Yes.

MR. REEVES: Now then, I think we are coming to what we are all waiting for, No. 41:

"Champions. Ten points, which must be won under at least three different judges at three different shows, two of which shows shall be of two-point rating, shall constitute a Championship, the winner of which shall be recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club, and duly recorded as such, and shall be granted a Championship Certificate. A dog becomes a Champion only when it is officially recorded by the Canadian Kennel Club."

MRS. COOPER: And does that mean you couldn't win at three four-point shows?

MRS. McCOLL: Yes.

MRS. COOPER: It means that two of them must be of two-point rating?

MR. DRAPER: That is an impossibility to put through because these dogs at the top of the class will be penalized to such a large extent they can never be made champions.

MR. REEVES: Do you want to leave that over?

MR. DRAPER: Yes.

MR. REEVES: No. 42 (Reads proposed amendment to Dog Show Rules No. 42).

MR. CLIMO: Mr. President. It says "The number of points allotted at any show shall depend upon the number of dogs actually competing in the approved classes." Now, for instance, we will say there are five or six males in one class, which is equal to a five-point rating; in the females there is just the one lone entry. I believe then you will put up a separate cheap champion now if there is no competition against that one female; then our object in eliminating the cheap champions is shot. What I wanted to really find out is will that female carry the same rating as the males that have competition?

MR. MACONCHIE: No.

MR. CLIMO: Because they have no competition.

MR. DRAPER: Mr. Chairman, I take exception to the last speaker's remarks. If a judge awards the decision and gives it winner's points don't put the slur on the dog.

MR. REEVES: (reads):

"Champions. Ten points, which must be won under at least three different judges at three different shows, two of which shows shall be of two-point rating, shall constitute a Championship, the winner of which shall be recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club, and duly recorded as such, and shall be granted a Championship Certificate. A dog becomes a Champion only when it is officially recorded by the Canadian Kennel Club.

Rating. The number of points allotted at any show shall depend upon the number of dogs actually competing in the approved classes."

MR. CLIMO: It says "the number of dogs". Now, I think it is apparently put up to stop the cheap champion. For instance, we will say there are five males in one class which are entitled to a five-point rating. In the females there is just one lone entry. What I really want to find out, will that female carry the same rating as the males that have got competition, according to this rule, because she hasn't got competition.

MR. REEVES: No.

MR. CLIMO: I didn't intend to cast any cheap championship stuff, but that is a term that has been applied. I was referring to what has been termed "cheap champions". That, in my opinion, is very wrong because cheap champions are very often the most expensive ones, but it was used just for the case of bringing up the point that a dog has been credited, in some classes, as being a cheap champion. I quite agree it is just for the want of backbone of the judge if a dog becomes a cheap champion, and they should just make their awards according to the merits of the dog, but what I really asked this question for was, that female has not got competition is she entitled to the same rating as the dogs where they have competition?"

COL. MACRAE: No.

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I think we can save a lot of time if I just read this over to you, and I am sure you will never think of putting that through.

MR. REEVES: Do you mind if I make a few remarks before you go on, Mr. Roberts?

You know, ladies and gentlemen, I have very often left Belleville at four o'clock in the morning to come up to attend these meetings. That was the only train I could get in order to save the Canadian Kennel Club the expense of paying my hotel bill. I have gone over this matter very carefully; I want to pick out one or two points that I haven't put in writing. These are very interesting comparisons. The British Isles in 1931 awarded 264 Championship certificates, and their registrations were 43,876. The American Kennel Club awarded 542 Championship certificates, and their registrations were 46,800. Canadian registrations, ladies and gentlemen, were 7,144, and 250 Championship certificates were awarded. The percentage works out in the British Isles, one Champion is made out of 166 registrations; in the United States a Champion is made out of 86 registrations; in Canada we have one Champion out of every 28 dogs that were registered. One Champion out of every 28 dogs that were registered with the National Live Stock Records.

Now, gentlemen, before I say anything about the new scale of points, I wrote and asked you to send in your opinion to our Board. Ladies and gentlemen, I want to tell you the interest you took in the work of this committee. We had three people in Canada that sent their suggestions in for the Champion ratings; just three people. That was the interest that you took.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, you know what a time this took last year. We have given you our time and we have given to the best of our belief the best judgment we can give on this Championship rating. I am only bringing this up for your consideration. I want to bring one or two points out about the ratings. At the present time you don't welcome competition, you don't welcome it, but you want to get your Championship points. If you have a rating, ladies and gentlemen, what is it going to mean? I think one man wrote down the other day and told me there was no reason why he shouldn't show seven dogs out of his kennel, but mind you, ladies and gentlemen, if Jones sends seven dogs so as to get the rating, Brown, if he has got five dogs, is going to send five dogs, another exhibitor if he has three or four dogs is going to send all he can. If the rating goes through—I don't care if it goes through, but I say if it goes through, the onus of getting entries you are placing where it should be today, not on the show-giving club but on the exhibitor. The exhibitor is going to look out and see if he has got a dog that he thinks has got a chance to become a champion.

Ladies and gentlemen, I ask you today, what is the value of your Canadian Champions? What does that mean to you if you do get a Canadian Champion? One dog out of 28 registered is your record for Canada. If you get some competition you are going to increase the value of your Champion; you are going to increase the entries at shows. What is your biggest curse today in the dog shows? Your damned ribbons. Why shouldn't you have shows where the exhibitor can go and get his $10.00, and $5.00, and $3.00? And ladies and gentlemen, I can assure you this rating, as much as it has been criticized, should be given a trial. What is it going to do? It is going to increase your interest in shows and it is going to increase your pocket book because you are not going to a show and the judge has to give you three ribbons, you are going to take money away from that show, when you have a Champion. What is it going to mean if you have a Champion dog because Brown has got a dog that he wants to make a Champion? You are not going to let an inferior dog become a Canadian Champion for the simple reason, ladies and gentlemen, that the fewer Champions we have got in this country the greater return to the man that has got a Champion, the greater return in stud fees. Supposing a breeder wants to mate his bitch, there is a Champion dog three or four hundred miles from the place. He knows that that dog has had competition; he is willing to send his bitch there. Supposing, ladies and gentlemen, you have a dog that you think can become a Champion and you have got a show that is 500 miles away today. What are you going to do? You are going to say: No, I can't afford to go down to that show, what is the good of me getting a few yards of ribbon. But, ladies and gentlemen, if you can go down to that show and get real money, what is it going to mean to you when you have a Canadian Champion and you know it will increase the value of that dog $250.00 or $500.00? Ladies and gentlemen, I am not trying to, nor is your committee trying to kill your shows, it is the suggestion that this new Championship rating is going to take the burden off your small shows; in my opinion, and in the opinion of the committee that sat with me, we believe we are going to increase, not decrease. Do you think, ladies and gentlemen, we want to kill your shows? Don't you think it is in the interest of the committee, that my committee that sat on this rating, returned by the Ontario members on its account, that they have confidence in us and we appreciate that confidence and we are not going to put you in the hole by proposing something we think is going to kill your shows.

MR. ROBERTS: Mr. Chairman, I quite agree with Mr. Reeves that they don't intend to kill our shows, but they are apt to make a mistake just the same as anybody else, and I would like to point out to Mr. Reeves, this: Here are some notes I have taken from catalogues, it isn't what I think or what you think, these are absolute facts. I will just read them over to you, here are some breeds here that they have over $200.00 in prize money. These men pay their hotel expenses, pay their entry fees and stay at the show three days. They knew very well they weren't going to get any prize money; do you mean to tell me that you are going to have these men go to your shows if they are not going to get points? Here are these breeds of dogs: Smooth Fox Terriers, Bedlington Terriers, Chihuahua, Chows, Dalmations, Greyhounds, Irish Terriers, Kerry Blues, Lakeland Terriers, Maltese Terriers, Newfoundlands, Doberman Pinschers, Pointers, Retrievers, Samoyede, Black and Tan Terriers, Whippets, Irish Wolfhounds, Russian Wolfhounds, Yorkshire Terriers, Griffons.

Now, they were all shown at the 1931 Winter Fair. They paid over $200.00 in entry money and didn't get one cent prize money. Now then, if you are going to take the point rating from them they are not going to come to shows.

As Mr. Reeves says, cheap champions, I am going to show Mr. Reeves where he is going to make more champions than he ever did, in four breeds. We will take the Wire Fox Terriers. In 1931, the shows at Hamilton, Welland, London, Ottawa, Sherbrooke and Montreal, which you will agree with me are very small shows, the Wire Fox Terriers—these are popular breeds that you are going to make many champions if you put this through; two Hamilton shows in 1931 made ten points. Now then, in all these small shows they made a matter of thirty points; then at the Winter Fair at the National Exhibition where they were sure to make another five each, and that is another ten, that is forty points. How many champions are you going to make in Terriers? It runs the same in Pomeranians and Bostons, and also the same in Pekingese. These are my own breeds, and I know very well I have a champion and I have a chance of making a champion three times over what I have at the present time.

Now, I included the Winter Fair in this. Here is the Kerry Blue; if it had gone to all these shows and that one dog had practically won every point, not including the Winter Fair, he would only have got five points. The Retrievers would have got four, the Yorkshire Terrier would have got three, the Dalmation would have got three, the Bedlington Terriers would have got one, and the Samoyede would have got one, and the Chihuahua would have nil. Now then, it is going to take them seven years before they can name themselves a champion. When those dogs come to be five or six or seven years of age what are they going to be? They are going to be put on the shelf, they are no good. I have mentioned to you twenty breeds there and I can mention another fifteen that are going to go the same way if you are going to put that rating through.

MR. REEVES: I will answer Mr. Roberts. In the first place, we are not putting the point rating through, it is you that are putting it through; we are suggesting this to you. Now then, there is one thing. You take your scarce breeds, we have got two or three breeds here. What are they doing today with your scarce breeds?

You sell your dogs, you sell them as companions, but what are you going to do if you have a point rating? You are going to encourage these people that you have sold your scarce breed to be shown, you are going to look after it and see that there are four or five or six dogs shown at that show. You are not going to put all your work into the show to get six entries, you are going to go around and try to get some competition for your dog.

Now then, in regard to your Fox Terriers, today you have forty points at these three shows. Ladies and gentlemen, if you have a real Fox Terrier that can win what are you doing today? There is a show at Hamilton, you are going to show your dog at Hamilton. There is a show at London, no, I am all right, I have won two points at this show, I am not going into London. But what are you going to do if this is going to increase your dog's value by $250.00? You are going to London, you are not going to let another dog win a championship, you are going to keep your dog if your dog is the champion and you are going to see a better dog is bred or brought out before you are going to keep your dog in the kennel.

MR. WALKERDINE: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I am strongly in favor of a scale of rating for each breed, according to the number actually benched. I have pointed out previously that Ontario should stand alone to best suit its own purposes from time to time and the scale of rating proposed for adoption by the committee is subject to constructive criticism.

In my opinion, the order of the rating scale for Championship points should be entirely reversed, showing the highest scale of rating first, covering the popular breeds of Wire Fox Terriers, Alsations, Cockers, Bulldogs, Bostons, etc., which number eight, followed by the second group comprising Airedales, Collies, Bull Terriers, etc., which cover fifteen breeds. The first group, as set out in the newly proposed scale, should be entirely eliminated for the reason that it is unnecessary for any fancier to wade through so much reading matter covering no less than sixty-six different breeds, which mean little or nothing when read. All that is required to cover this long group of different breeds is the following few words immediately underneath the second group. "All other breeds recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club, the following rating shall apply."

By adopting this procedure it will be seen that any new breed recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club from time to time will automatically fall in under this latter group without any cost or expense in making alterations to the printed rules carried by the Canadian Kennel Club office. There will be instances where, through no fault of the exhibitor, only one dog of a breed will be entered and no points will be awarded, and possibly that dog may be a winner of one of the group classes. Under such circumstances the dog in question should receive the maximum number of points obtained by any other dog competing in that group, or if obtaining the winner's ribbon in the breed classes, then one point should be awarded.

I appreciate the work entailed by the committee, and I feel they have adopted this new scale of rating without any thought whatsoever to the competition in its true light in comparison with the various shows held across the Dominion, and I fail to see on what basis the scale was arrived at, especially in the more popular breeds. To substantiate this statement I shall deal with it along the lines of facts and figures which speak for themselves, and will do my best to show the members that we must have at the very least two separate scales of rating, one for the Province of Ontario, and another to govern the other Provinces both east and west. I might mention there are numerous breeds who would not be able to obtain any points in the East or West but I shall take for my comparisons the popular breeds, such as Bostons, Alsations, Cockers, Wire Fox Terriers, Bulldogs, Pekes and Poms, during the year 1932. The five shows selected outside of Ontario are as follows: Victoria, Vancouver, Saskatoon and Winnipeg in the West, and Halifax in the East. I propose to analyse these with five shows held in the Province of Ontario as follows, namely, Hamilton, London, Canadian National Exhibition, Royal Winter Fair, and Welland. It is not my intention to deal with each individual show to quote these figures on account of the time it would take, although I have the figures if the members desire to have them, but I shall deal with them by the number of each breed total for the five shows held outside the Province of Ontario and compare them with the same total of each breed for the five shows held within the Province of Ontario. The total number of English Bulldogs shown East and West is 23, compared to 77 exhibited in Ontario. This is an increase over the West of 234.18 per cent. Cocker Spaniels shown East and West number 33, as compared to 104 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase of 215.5 per cent. Alsations shown East and West number 45, as compared to 84 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase of 86.30 per cent. Wire Fox Terriers shown East and West total 41, as compared to 136 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase of 230 per cent. Poms shown East and West number 25, as compared to 100 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase of 300 per cent. Poms shown East and West total 28, as compared to 91 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase over the West of 225 per cent. Boston Terriers shown East and West total 27, as compared to 105 exhibited in Ontario, showing an increase of 288.24 per cent.

Thus it will be seen that several of these popular breeds cannot even obtain one point at some of the Canadian Kennel Club shows held East and West of Ontario, while in this Province the popular breeds exceed by far the allotted number to obtain five points, and instances prove that while 22 dogs are required for five points, there have been actually benched numbers such as 39, 46, 48, 50, 56 and so on, hence the comparisons clearly prove they are out of all proportion. Other startling figures can be ascertained in the same manner covering other breeds, but I think the members will agree with me, that the scale of rating proposed for adoption is not suitable in its present ratio. I am confident that a system of point rating can be made adaptable to suit all concerned, although whatever scale is first adopted will stand some correction, but this can be remedied by experience of the various clubs throughout the Dominion, and rectified at the following Annual meeting.

When this matter was discussed last year I quoted figures to show that Ontario had 51.37 per cent of the total number of members in the Canadian Kennel Club. Ontario obtained 52 per cent of the points registered by licensed shows held throughout the year. Ontario alone registered no less than 3,624 individual registrations as compared with 400 to 450 individual registrations made by the other Provinces with the exception of British Columbia and Quebec, whose quota was slightly in excess. Thus it will be seen Ontario has the dogs, the members, and exhibitors far in excess of all the other Provinces combined.

Had the committee studied these figures they certainly must have realized that more than one scale of rating was essential and should have been proposed; in fact, I would even go as far as suggesting three scales, if necessary.

While, as I have mentioned before, I am strongly in favor of a scale of rating adaptable to the competition of each breed, I cannot agree with the scale presented to this meeting for adoption, and would suggest that the committee re-consider the matter and bring forward at least two scales of rating that would be fair to both Ontario as well as the East and West, the latter being so handicapped when it comes to competing with Ontario.

In concluding these remarks, Mr. Chairman, I sincerely hope the members will accept my efforts as a constructive one, seeking fairness for everyone, on this all important amendment which means so much to all exhibitors.

MR. DRAPER: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I used to have a few champions and would bring them out at a time or two, but this harsh method you have of dealing with rare breeds has killed it off. Now, two years ago, at the Exhibition, there was a little English Toy Spaniel entered, and I said to the party when I saw it, you have got your little dog here again, but what do you think it had to be shown against? A husky in the miscellaneous class. A year or two before that I had a Yorkshire puppy about ten months old, about ready for showing. There was no class for puppies at the Winter Fair, so I rang up the secretary and told him about it and asked him, are you going to put the class on? What is the use of breeders getting the dogs ready if there isn't any class for them? He said I think we will put a class on, but when I got there there was no class and I had to put it in another class, and when I told the secretary about it he said, what does that matter, one dog. I said, Mr. Waters, it will mean the abolition of a scarce breed.

CAPT. DUDLEY-WATERS: In the first place, you were asking for three or four classes to be put on for the one dog to be put in the show.

MR. DRAPER: I am not fighting for one dog, I am fighting for a breed. That breed should have an equal chance in a show with any other breed.

CAPT. DUDLEY-WATERS: Mr. Draper, I don't know whether you have had any experience in running shows. We start off with the breeds that come with one dog, and they ask for a class and we put a class on. Personally, I always put two, at the Winter Fair, as you know—

MR. STOCKDALE: Captain Waters, are you not drifting away from point rating when you get talking about shows? I have given you considerable leeway in answering criticism, but the Chair must rule we are dealing with point ratings, not classes.

MR. DRAPER: Well, I am not finished yet. How can a dog get his championship points if there are no classes put on in the shows for these breeds? You have got a covenant in here that absolutely kills the dog game. We had a committee getting these rules up and still they haven't solved what is wrong with the dog game. If they knew more about it they would have done so. It all runs in that one to the "may" instead of "must". One breed of dog has just as much right to be on the show bench as any other breed. Dogs know no class, they are all equal. You have it altered to read "For which separate classes must be provided".

MR. STOCKDALE: Mr. Draper, I will have to do the same with you. Kindly confine yourself to the point rating.

MR. DRAPER: I am speaking and showing how these breeds can't come into that point rating because there is no class that is put on at our registered shows, although they are registered breeds.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I think this gathering can profit a great deal from the extensive work which has been put into this matter by Mr. Reeves and his committee if we would approach this subject in a more co-operative spirit, and I also have a chart covering a period of three years from British Columbia shows. While I have no intention of doing so, I could give you the number of points which have been won by every show in that Province in the last three years, as well as the number of points that would have been won if this proposed system had been in effect, and it is remarkable in a few instances how close this committee's suggestion has come to the actual number of points won. On the other hand, there are some breeds which would suffer greatly, and I think we could overcome that point by changing them from class to class. An illustration, if Mr. Reeves would put this group as number one and the second as number two, and number three, then I think we could identify the various classes of those breeds. I am merely speaking from the British Columbia point of view, but please understand I want to assist for all Canada, not just British Columbia.

To get this thing going, I would suggest that Bull Terriers be moved from Class 2 to Class 1; Pekingese, Class 3 to Class 2; Pomeranians, from Class 3 to Class 2; Bostons, from Class 3 to Class 2; Bulldogs, from Class 3 to Class 2; Irish Setters, from Class 2 to Class 1; Cocker Spaniels, from Class 2 to Class 1. And then I would suggest that for the breeds which only have one or two dogs compete, that any dog that can win the group, his respective group, that he automatically receive three points.

MR. ROBERTS: As Mr. Pym says, I am speaking about my own breed. He said move the Pekingese from three to two. Well, now, I have pointed out to you how many points the Pekingese could get today; we are going to make cheaper champions again.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I was merely suggesting these from our own community, and if other communities would do likewise we would arrive at a logical conclusion. It was just merely British Columbia I was suggesting.

MR. ECCLES: Mr. Chairman, I would like to say if this new scale goes through you can count our club out, because it will kill it; it will kill all the small clubs one by one.

MR. PIERSON: I would like to say, in regard to cheap champions, I have twelve to fifteen cups for dogs up in the kennels now; and I believe if you will look it up since 1925 or 1926 I have won the best two and the best four at the Exhibition, and I believe the best of breed, and my own dog has between six and seven championship points, and I am open for competition, but we are not going to get it if I have got to go to a show and pay out ten, fifteen or twenty-five dollars to get a champion. They are no good to me. I say, leave it the way it is.

MR. CLIMO: Mr. Chairman, we in Alberta have gone into this thing. I am sorry I haven't come with the same readiness as Mr. Pym has worked it out for British Columbia, but after considering the whole thing, the advantages and the disadvantages, the disadvantages were so great that Medicine Hat have definitely decided if this rating goes through, they have already got their application for a show in here, subject to a refund of the $25.00 if this rating goes through tonight, and the Edmonton Kennel Club intimated that they would have to give the thing very serious consideration before they would accept it. We found out that more than one-half of our entire show would come away without a championship rating, and the majority of the others wouldn't come up to the average rating that we would get under the usual show system. You have had the advantages set before you, these are some of the disadvantages that have been brought out by the various members in discussing this matter. For instance, as we have just said, the females don't get the ratings of the males because she has got no competition, and at the same time she may come best in breed, but there is no provision made for it, and we have to take it as we get it. The next thing is, Calgary is rather a strong Wire-haired Fox Terrier town. There we could probably comply with the ratings that are here. Edmonton is not. You can go there and get one dog or maybe two. You can't get anywhere doing it for maybe one or two dogs. In a Province like Alberta we don't get many dogs coming in to our shows. We know that Tom has a good one, and a better one than the majority of us. Well, this rating is set before us with the idea it can be altered from time to time, according to competition. Well, if I am a breeder, taking my own self, for instance, I know there is somebody coming in with a real good dog and I can't win if I put ten or fifteen dogs in there. The next day I find out my rating has been altered, and I put a rope around my neck by supporting the show. It is perfectly all right as far as the show is concerned because this year you may have fifty dogs and next year not have any of that particular breed. Now, are the fanciers always going to be supporting the shows with their big entries, without their having to put a rope around their neck in making a champion next year? I don't figure they will. There was another thing. For instance, I have got spite against another man with a real good dog coming to our town. Now, I may say I practically control Cocker Spaniels in Calgary. If the man wasn't a real sport to put his dogs in the show when Jack Brown isn't going to make a champion at this show, or get a very high rating, I am not going to show my dogs. Now, you are making the rating in the Prairie Provinces to suit yourself, you are going to kill the other fellow if you want to. Another thing is, there is such a large percentage where there is only one and two of the breed in the whole Province. Where can we go for competition? They are just owned by pet owners; that man isn't a breeder just because he owns and shows a dog. Then again, we can't expect those fellows to go out and get a lot of dogs because they are not being bred by those people who breed them.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, I don't think the members of this meeting are in the frame of mind to adopt anything tonight in regard to the point system, and if there is any criticism coming to anybody it is coming to all of us rather than Mr. Reeves and his committee, for the reason we have not given to the committee the support which we should have given. I apologize to Mr. Reeves and his committee for not giving him this information; he should have had it six months ago. I am going to propose the following to this meeting: Motion, that Mr. Reeves point recommendations be referred back to the Rules Committee, and that the Provincial directors in each Province be instructed to furnish Mr. Reeves with the information such as I have here, which they will require.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, in the first place, I think we all owe a large debt of gratitude to Mr. Walkerdine for these figures he brought tonight, but ladies and gentlemen, he has had months and months, why didn't he send them along to the committee before this meeting? The committee has been asking for suggestions. We have been asking for suggestions from all of you. I have left my home at four o'clock in the morning, hoping something would be up there to assist us in this. Why does he bring it up at this late hour?

Now then, ladies and gentlemen, with regard to Mr. Draper and with regard to our esteemed friend, from Calgary, they are talking of shows as they exist today. You can't compare this rating with shows that exist today. We have given this very earnest thought; we believe if this rating goes through you are going to increase your entries. Mr. Draper says why doesn't Captain Waters provide me with classes; that is what you are all doing, you are all doing that. Why should Captain Waters provide you with classes? Why shouldn't you look after the entries of your own breed? Why shouldn't you see those five or six dogs shown at the Winter Fair so that Mr. Waters can give a classification? Our friend from Calgary, he said if this proposed rating goes through it is going to kill his shows. His shows are not going to be as they are today; if we bring this rating through we are going to have big shows. Why are we going to have big shows? Because you are going to make entries, you are going to look after your breed, you are not going to ask Captain Waters to put on the classes for you, you are going to see there are plenty of dogs there to make those classes. That is the fault of all of you today, that you do not assist your shows, and you say your shows don't pay. Why don't they pay today? For the simple reason, ladies and gentlemen, you are all looking after yourself, you are not looking after the show, you don't want the show to be a success, you want to get your points for your dog, you don't welcome competition today. Let this rating go through and you have to get competition. You are going to make the purchaser of your dog a member, you are going to make him show your dog. That is what you are forgetting today.

Ladies and gentlemen, you are looking after yourselves so much you are not helping your shows; we are trying to help the shows.

MR. DRAPER: Mr. Reeves, can you tell me anybody that has shown Yorkshire Terriers more consistently than I have during the last ten years?

MR. REEVES: Mr. Draper, I know perfectly well that you have, but you are selling your dogs. What do you do with your dogs? You sell them. Why don't you try to get some entries for the Winter Fair instead of only showing your own dogs?

MR. DRAPER: You can't show dogs here, there is no class for that breed in the show. They won't put them on.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, I can remember the time when I was a boy and I wanted to go to a dog show. Do you think that I told my father and mother that I was going to a dog show? No, for the simple reason that the dog show was held in a public house. How did we increase our shows? What did we do? We got the exhibitor to guarantee the class, we made the exhibitor look after the show. Are you looking after the shows today? Ladies and gentlemen, no, I say no, you are not. You are not looking after the shows.

Ladies and gentlemen, I tell you this much, when you sell your dogs today you can get entries for shows, but you do not try to get entries for shows.

MRS. COOPER: Mr. Reeves, if we could get our own classes, I wonder if you are taking human nature into consideration? If a man has a dog that he thinks can beat yours and you are going to show, and he is very certain his dog is going to beat yours, he is willing to show it, but you are going to have a very great difficulty in persuading a man who knows his dog is an inferior dog to show it, if you are showing. Of course, you might go and lease a dozen or so inferior dogs and bring them in and make up the entries so your dog would get the points. I know that it is very difficult just now to get dogs in the particular breed in which I am interested, it is very difficult to get anybody to show a Russian Wolfhound. They say there are one or two dogs in Canada that will win, what is the use of bringing theirs out?

MR. ECCLES: Ladies and gentlemen, the reason I bring this amendment is this: I have had ten years' experience with the Hamilton Kennel Club. We find it is an impossibility, no matter how hard we work, to get above a two-point rating, for the simple reason that we have to run a dog show with the same rate of points as the Exhibition and the Royal Winter Fair, that have two added attractions. All we have to give is a dog show, all we have to depend on is the entry money and the gate money, and as far as I see it we are making a big noise about nothing. As I understand it, the West and the East are perfectly satisfied with the scale of points they have now, and all the Canadian Kennel Club has to do is find some way of making a better scale of points for the smaller clubs than what we are getting now. For instance, this is 100, and then it goes to 200, and can anybody tell me why it goes from 200 to 350? In other words, it is an impossibility for any dog show outside of the City of Toronto to get even a three-point rating. In other words, our club since 1924—and I can show the balance sheets—is out $2,000.00 guaranteeing dog shows. We have worked hard for it, anybody knows the Hamilton Kennel Club don't go to sleep. While these hard times have been on we have run two Canadian Kennel Club shows. How we are making our money is by having the evening shows, the City grant, and a matinee show. We run all the year round and when we finish up at the end of the year we have as much at the end as when we started, and it seems to me we are not getting a square deal when we attempt to run a dog show on the same scale of points as the Toronto Exhibition or the Royal Winter Fair. Or put it the other way around; could the Toronto Exhibition or the Royal Winter Fair get the same points at the dog show as what they are getting now if they didn't have the Toronto Exhibition or the Royal Winter Fair as an added attraction?

CAPT. DUDLEY-WATERS: I will answer your question. I say yes. I am telling you it has been done.

MR. ECCLES: We are just asking for our just rights, and Mr. Reeves has said we don't welcome competition; I take exception to that, Mr. Reeves, for this reason: If the Hamilton Kennel Club had a rating of 250 dogs for three points, and we could ever get a three-point show, that the winner's ribbon would be better earned. As far as competition is concerned, Mrs. Horner was up at the last evening show and came all the way from Port Credit to Hamilton. This is the first time in years we didn't have a Boston Terrier there, and I asked one of the boys, I said, isn't Mrs. Horner showing? He said, no, there is no competition. We had to try to get entries of Chows from Toronto. This lady wasn't at Toronto, because there wasn't any competition, and one of the boys said we always have Chows in Hamilton. Two years ago at a show in Hamilton I knew how many Smooth Fox Terriers were entered in that show. There was my female and she had seven points on her championship, and I knew two good females that I bred, one belonged to a business man and he said he couldn't show because he couldn't get away. I said I will fix that, you enter your dog and I will put it on Saturday afternoon, when you are not busy. Another fellow was out of work, I paid his entry money to put it in, and they both beat my entry. We don't welcome competition. I could have got two points there without any competition.

I say if they give us a better rating of points, and we are not asking for something for nothing, all we are asking for is something to draw the public to the smaller clubs.

MR. REEVES: You know, Mr.

Eccles, it has been a great pleasure for me to listen to you tonight. You are a true fancier and I wish to goodness there were more of them like you in the country that did welcome competition. Now, we are going to take up a lot of time, and I think the best thing we can do with regard to this report is put it to the vote. I want you all, ladies and gentlemen, to understand this much, that this rating will help you. If you don't think it is going to help you we don't want you to have it; we are not trying to push this rating down, the only thing I am trying to do is to make this sport in Canada a successful sport. If I come to Hamilton and see you with 500 or 600 entries down, don't you think, Mr. Eccles, I wouldn't be just tickled to death? That is what I am trying to do.

MR. ECCLES: When Mr. Pym was good enough and sport enough to offer us the same rating as they got, Mr. Bruce took objection, and said it was crucifixion of Toronto; I took it he meant the Toronto Exhibition and Royal Winter Fair, although he didn't say so in plain English, and that if the Royal Winter Fair, as Mr. Bruce thought, was getting the same scale as Mr. Pym wanted to give for all over Canada, it would naturally cheapen the Exhibition and the Royal Winter Fair, because they are on that rating, for the simple reason they are the Royal Winter Fair and the Exhibition.

MR. HERD: Does Mr. Eccles want to make this for all Ontario, after the Canadian National Exhibition had to fight for their life to make the five-point rating?

MR. ECCLES: I took it from Mr. Bruce's remark that he meant it would cheapen the Exhibition or the Royal Winter Fair. If you want to let it stand as I have it here, o.k.

MR. STOCKDALE: If I understand it, Mr. Eccles submits this applies to all Ontario for all breed dog shows?

MR. ECCLES: Yes.

MR. PYM: Is that for the Province of Ontario only?

MR. STOCKDALE: Yes.

MR. PYM: I would regret to see all this work of Mr. Reeves' committee go for nothing, and there is just a possibility, it is up to you before you adopt this motion, which will have to come in the form of an amendment, which would be that the dog shows in Ontario, outside of the limits of the City of Toronto, be governed by the same rate of points as now in effect in the East and West outside of Ontario.

MR. HERD: I am going to tell everybody in this room that the Canadian National Exhibition had just as hard a fight as anybody in the country to make a five-point rating.

MR. PYM: You know, Mr. Chairman, we worked till three o'clock yesterday morning, and it is now two o'clock. This is merely a suggestion if you wish to use it.

MR. STOCKDALE: I recognize the fact that the Chair is in somewhat of a peculiar position. You have something to be dealt with, and to adhere to the Chairman's promise that Mr. Eccles' motion would come up at this time, we have allowed it to come up.

MR. REEVES: May I ask a question, Mr. Chairman? It seems to me the feeling of the meeting is that it is necessary for the betterment of the ring, and the encouragement of the real workers, that these points should be raised, also necessary to raise that championship rating for the time being another five points. Is that a sensible suggestion? If you raise your rating of your shows and leave your points at ten then it looks like we are going to get that old law again of cheap champions. If you raise it to fifteen or twenty, there is no use in putting in all night about it, if the feeling of the meeting is this proposed new rating goes back to be reconsidered and brought up at the next general meeting, I think for the twelve months that would safeguard the whole works by raising your championship to fifteen or twenty points, twenty I would be in favor of, considering the rating is raised.

MR. STOCKDALE: The Chair is still open for suggestions.

MR. BROWN: I am going to suggest this: There would be no harm in passing this resolution and there is no harm in the committee continuing to work for another year, but it is absolutely a disgrace for us to let the small shows suffer during the time this committee is doing the work. It doesn't matter what they do here tonight if they bring something next year that is better, but in the meantime let us give these people a little relief.

MR. REEVES: If I may reply to our worthy friend here, I don't want him to misconstrue my remarks. I vote for it strongly, but I do think at the same time we should protect our championship to the same extent. I am strongly in favor if the local conditions are such they feel they require these extra points, yes; if they don't, no.

MR. ECCLES: I say, Mr. Chairman, give my amendment a show for a year anyway, maybe two, but give it a year anyway.

MR. SHAWLEY: I think the points should be raised to fifteen, and cut out the cheap champions.

MR. WARD: I take exception to all the remarks that have been passed here tonight, as far as this question is concerned. I feel that everybody has been decidedly lax in not sending in recom-

"Where can I buy the best Life Insurance Policy?"

Several things enter into the consideration of this important subject. What is the premium rate charged? What dividends are given on the policy? Is the company economically managed so that its future prospects for dividends are good? Does it earn a good interest rate?

recommendations to Mr. Reeves and his committee. I would also like to point out this to you: Possibly you will agree with me when I say we are going through a very strenuous depression, and would it be advisable, without doing any harm to Mr. Reeves and his committee, to adopt the motion of Mr. Eccles for this year, and then we one and all send in our recommendations as suggested by Mr. Pym. I think that would be fair to every person, and possibly when a year rolls by the depression will be down the hill and we will be up the hill, and every person, I think, will feel much better.

THE CHAIRMAN: We are about to vote on the motion made by Mr. Eccles. All in favor will signify in the usual way. Contrary, if any?

Motion carried, without amendment.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, will you accept a new motion I make?

MR. STOCKDALE: No, I can't consistently accept it now.

MR. PYM: I now move that the recommendations submitted by the Rules Committee be referred back to that committee, and that the Provincial Committees in the various Provinces outside of Ontario supply that committee with the necessary data.

MR. BROWN: I second that motion, and suggest to the gentleman at the other end of the room that is not satisfied, that he send his recommendation to the committee, too.

MR. STOCKDALE: Moved by Mr. Pym, and seconded by Mr. Brown, that the recommendations submitted by the Rules Committee be referred back to the committee, and that the Provincial Committees be responsible for forwarding data to this committee to further the work of this committee, to come up at the next annual meeting. You have heard the motion, are you ready for the question?

MEMBERS: Question.

MR. CLIMO: I would like to reply to Mr. Reeves.

MR. STOCKDALE: Let us clean this up first. You were told we were here till three o'clock yesterday, and you want us to be that late tonight. Is there any discussion on this motion to refer the recommendations back to the committee? If not, all in favor signify in the usual way? Contrary, if any?

I declare the motion carried.

MR. MacRAE: What about your Specialty Club Rating, Number 43?

MR. REEVES: We have got to the Specialty Club Rating (reads):

"Not less than 100 dogs, 5 points. Not less than 75 dogs, 4 points. Not less than 60 dogs, 3 points. Not less than 50 dogs, 2 points. Less than 50 dogs, but not less than 25 dogs, one point."

MR. STOCKDALE: I am rising to a point of order. I take it this meeting felt they were dealing with this in its entirety, all the amendments that were to come before this meeting tonight in regard to point rating.

MEMBER: That is right.

MR. REEVES: Mr. Chairman, which shall I go on with now? Is it Number 45?

MR. MacRAE: Yes.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, the time is getting very late. You have got here Special Prizes, that is from 45 to 53. I think, ladies and gentlemen, you have had ample time to read them, and I am going to put those to you as they are.

MR. HERD: I move the adoption.

The Vice-President put the motion for the adoption of the amendment, which, upon a vote being taken, was declared carried.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, we have now reached the Benching of Dogs, and Penalties, 54 to 62.

MR. PYM: I move they be adopted in their entirety with the exception that Tibitian Terriers be added to the list of breeds.

COL. MacRAE: All in favor?

MR. STOCKDALE: I rise to a point of order. Is there a quorum present?

THE SECRETARY: I declare the meeting to be two short of a quorum.

MR. PYM: Mr. Chairman, it is obvious we can't proceed without a quorum, and before these members adjourn I would like to be permitted to extend my personal congratulations to Mr. Reeves and his committee for the work they have performed for this club, and in addition I might add I am sure you will all agree with me that no man ever entered into his work more earnestly than Mr. Reeves has tonight.

MR. REEVES: Ladies and gentlemen, all I can say is I thank you very much indeed. It has been a pleasure and you can always count on me doing the very best I can for you.

COL. MacRAE: I don't think we can adjourn because we haven't got a quorum.

MR. PYM: It is automatically adjourned, Mr. Chairman.

2.15 a.m., meeting adjourned.

BOB MILLS—A TRIBUTE

In conversation, with a few friends down in Montreal a short time ago, the chat turned to the "untimely death of so good a man" as the late "Bob" Mills, and we take pleasure in giving publicity to a warm tribute paid to the memory of our old friend by one well qualified to offer an opinion, we refer to big, warm, Irish hearted "Witty" Warren, friend of "Owd Bob's" for those many years past.

"Owd Bob" has gone. A gentleman has passed. This would be a true and appropriate heading for Robert Mills' obituary notice, for, if ever there was a gentleman as nature makes them, that was "Bob" Mills.

The doggie world knew him as the very personification of honesty, and of good nature. For many years he was always a familiar figure amongst us, and especially amongst those of us who love our English Bulldogs. His opinion was much sought after, and when he gave it, either in the ring or outside the ring, you felt it was honest and true.

I have spent many happy hours listening to him expounding the virtues of the "Sour Mugs," and no man knew them better. We will miss him, his dogs will miss him and at least one little child will miss him.

I know not the circumstances of his passing, I only know that the man by whose hand his life was taken, no matter who he be, could never be a better man than he.

Editor's Note.—Thanks "Ted," you have said it for us all, and the sentiment so tenderly expressed deserves mention in this particular magazine.

WHEN OLD FRIENDS MEET

When our Honorary President, C. A. Stone, met George Steadman Thomas at the Toronto Kennel Club Show, the occasion marked the first meeting of the two men in 40 years. Four decades ago Mr. Stone was the secretary and superintendent of the Canadian National Exhibition, and one morning near the close of the four-day show, and the judging being almost completed, a large gathering of the fanciers and judges assembled on the grass plot in front of the dog show building, amongst them being Jim Mortimer, Charlie Mason, John Davidson, Harry Lacy, Major Taylor of "Forest & Stream" and the "American Field," Frank F. Dole, then physical instructor at Yale College and now editor of the canine section of the "New York Herald-Tribune," Dr. Harry Jarrett, H. P. Hopkins, Joe Spracklin, Mike O'Rourke, Joe Lewis, Ben Lewis, George Steadman Thomas and Dan O'Shea. The breathing spell was quite welcome, because in those days it was considered nothing remarkable for Ben Lewis to dry around 100 dogs that had been washed by George Steadman Thomas. So with nothing in particular to do but to kill time, some started jumping in the various styles in vogue at that time. Running was introduced, and there were several sprinters of note amongst the sportsmen interested in the morning capers. Outstanding runners were Harry Lacy, Geo. S. Thomas and Herbert Stone, who had brought considerable fame to the old Jarvis Street School.

Dan O'Shea suggested a 100-yard race and Dan was always ready to back his whims with his money for cock fighting, horse racing or impromptu foot racing, and declared he was ready to give decent odds on Herbert Stone. Jim Mortimer fancied Geo. S. Thomas as the man to carry his money and the fun was on in earnest, and the betting was spirited and plentiful.

The result of the race is forgotten by Mr. Stone, but the excitement of it is still a pleasant memory, and to meet Mr. Thomas at Toronto after all these years made a bright spot for Mr. Stone this Spring, and it was very pleasant to see these old friends meet again.

It was the writer's privilege to be with George "Dad" Ward and Mr. Thomas at dinner at the former's home whilst Mr. Thomas was in Toronto, and here again memories, now misty with the years intervening, were recalled in a manner which brought honest tears to eyes no longer young, which, to say the least, was worth going many miles to witness. Old photographs, old canine press notices, etc., would bridge the years of memory and add much zest to conversation denied to the average fancier, and no doubt Mr. Thomas will long remember his 1933 visit to Toronto.

PETER AND PATTY

Peter and Patty went for a walk,
Peter could bark and Patty could talk.
"I think," said Patty, "it's going to rain,
We'd better just go to the end of the lane."

Peter could bark and Peter could run,
"Come on, Patty, and have some fun.
If you hurry, before it can rain,
We'll both be back in the house again."

They came to the pond, and the Ducks said "Quack!"
And the wind came up and the clouds grew black.
"Run," said Patty, "we'll get home yet!"
"Quack!" laughed the Ducks, "you're afraid of the wet!"

"Pooh," said Patty, "if I could swim,
I'd take off my clothes and I'd jump right in,
I'd push you under and make you flop."
"Woof!" said Peter, "we'd better hop."

"I've got my 'brella," said Patty, "and you Can cuddle up close till the rain gets through."
So they sat on a bench and hummed a song.
It was lucky they brought that 'brella along.

“When do we eat?”

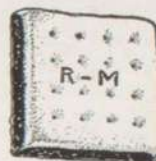

“Some folks don’t know how hungry us young dogs get. They give us bread and potatoes and mushy table scraps---that’s not the stuff we need to grow on and build bone and muscle. No wonder we get hungry. Give us Ross-Miller Dog Foods and then see us grow!”

Ross-Miller Dog Foods are prepared by experts who know what nature requires. Their recipe includes high grade beef and pork cracklings, bone meal, fish meal, alfalfa meal, milk, cod liver oil and other ingredients in studied proportion.

Ask your grocer to supply Ross-Miller Biscuits for your dogs, regularly. They cost about one cent per meal.
