"WELL, WHAT DO I WEIGH NOW?"

Naturally pups want to grow. Growing is their chief business in life. That's why they are always so ready and willing to eat.

While they are little and before their teeth come, the mother is the best source of supply. But when weaning time arrives, the owner of the Kennel will have to provide.

Naturally, you want to see your pups develop into strong, well-boned, well-muscled dogs. What you feed them now will make them or spoil them. Be careful.

R-M "TINY TIM" KIBBLO

Wean your puppies on Ross-Miller "Tiny Tim" Kibblo when weaning time comes. This food contains the nutriments that young pups require to grow on, in digestible form. Feed it moistened with warm milk or broth.

R-M KENNEL KIBBLO

Later you may switch to Ross-Miller Kennel Kibblo, a great "buy" for your money. Among other ingredients it contains a carefully considered amount of charcoal to aid digestion and discourage worms. It can be fed dry, moistened with broth or mixed with ground fresh meat.

R-M PUPPY MIDGETS

You may feed them Ross-Miller Puppy Midgets—DRY, to help develop their teeth and increase the flow of saliva.

Ross-Miller Dog Foods are prepared from scientifically balanced formulae and baked at low temperature so as to preserve the vitamins.

For sale at grocery stores, department stores, feed stores and dog shops. Write us direct if you have any trouble.

Confined to his hotel room, Mr. Brumby had a trying time. Latest reports are that he has improved considerably, which will be good news for his many friends.

NOVA SCOTIA JOTTINGS

Mr. C. E. Power, president of the Nova Scotia Kennel Club, will have the sympathy of the entire fancy in the sudden and tragic death of his son, Frederick Power, who was recently the victim of a crossing accident in New York. The funeral of the late Mr. Power was held from his father's residence in Halifax and was largely attended.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. C. E. Power and his daughter, Mrs. B. H. H. Brinkman.

The Nova Scotia Kennel Club held a special C.K.C. Sanctioned Puppy and Novice Dog Show in St. Agnes' Hall, Halifax, on November 27th, drawing an entry of more than fifty dogs, representing twenty-two breeds. This show was judged by J. E. Burns, who found his Best of Show in a beautiful young Sealyham Terrier puppy, "Cardigan What a Lad", bred and owned by Miss Alice J. G. O'Brien of Halifax, owner of the Cardigan Kennels that have taken top honors at the regular point shows here and elsewhere.

The following is a resumé of the awards for which very attractive trophies were awarded:

Best in Show—Sealyham Terrier, "Cardigan What a Lad", Miss Alice J. G. O'Brien.

Best Sporting—Irish Setter, "Pat", S. C. Hope.

Best Working—Collie, "Oakland Major Lukeo", Sylvia Martin.

Best Non-Sporting—Boston Terrier, "Gipsy Sweetheart", Mrs. C. F. Payne.

Best Terrier—Sealyham, "Cardigan What a Lad", Miss Alice O'Brien.

Best Toy—Pekingese, "Man Chu Chog", Mrs. Ruddock.

Children's Class—Cocker Spaniel, "Freckles", Bill McLeod.

Novice Exhibitor—Doberman Pinscher, "Rust", D. Scouler.

We are pleased to note that Mr. G. G. Ryder of Halifax, Irish Setter fancier and breeder, has completely recovered from his recent severe and lengthy illness and has returned to his duties.

It is probable that we will see more than the usual number of shows in Nova Scotia during the coming season, as we learn that the Nova Scotia Kennel Club are planning a spring show for the coming year as well as the annual fall show, which has been the custom during the past fourteen years. It is possible that this latter show may be held in conjunction with the Nova Scotia Provincial Exhibition at Halifax.

EDITORIAL

● ON WITH THE NEW

WE step off on to the open road of 1938 in a spirit of optimism that those who witnessed the closing scenes of the "Old Year" can fully appreciate. Our vast hobby and international sport in every branch and sphere held the glow of enthusiasm and progress. When the sport was governed by the love of a dog, or, as in countless cases where the hobby element had outgrown itself and the technique and art of the progressive breeder held sway, the bright light of the future, burnished in prospect by the experiences of the past, beckon us on. The last minute interviews we were privileged to have did nothing to shake our formed opinion, but rather helped to cement the conviction that 1938 will be the brightest year that Canadian Dogdom has ever experienced.

● OUR CHRISTMAS ANNUAL

THE December and Christmas issue of Kennel and Bench enjoyed a reception from its readers and subscribers that was flattering in the extreme, whilst the appreciation expressed by our advertisers was most marked. To our Provincial Contributing Editors, writers of feature articles, Mr. R. H. Voss, our overseas representative, our advertisers at home and abroad, and to everyone whose contribution of thought and labour assisted towards the ultimate success of the project we tender our sincere thanks.

● COMMUNITY NEWS

THE British take their dogs far more seriously than we do and, in spite of the expressed opinion on the commercialised fancy "over there", it is quite safe to say that the Britisher's dog will never be the chattel of whim and commerce as he is with us. A case in point surrounds the death of the Scottish Terrier, Mr. Robert Chapman's noted Champion, "Heather Realisation". The canine and sporting press the world over will doubtless devote much space to this news item. But the Hamilton Advertiser, a Scottish weekly newspaper which features news from Glenboig, disposes of the happening in less than one hundred words, further expressing their opinion of its importance by giving it first place, the second being an account of a memorial service held on the previous Sunday in the Glenboig, Church of Scotland. From the same source we learn that a youngster, "Heather Independence", is being groomed to fill the gap caused by the passing of the champion, and it is quite on the cards that if he fulfills the local expectations accounts of his prowess from time to time will head the Glenboig column. It's the community spirit, and to be admired.

● SCARE HEADLINES

ALWAYS to be avoided. The prominence given recently to a case of dog rabies in Toronto is to be deprecated, whilst at the same time we would be the last to condone the withholding of necessary facts. It is one thing to grasp a serious situation sanely and handle it with a view to maintaining the public peace of mind, and it is another to shout from the housetops the necessity of wholesale treatment, and thereby get owners of household pets to a point approaching hysteria. This is to be thoroughly condemned.

● WHY RUN?

WE had the opportunity of witnessing the judging of the Groups and final awards at the National Kennel Club Show held at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Toronto, and we were struck with the lack of thought and consideration that was so apparent with the majority of exhibitors when moving their dogs. It appeared to be largely a case of "follow the leader", for if one, through ignorance, over-anxiety, or for any other reason started to run with their mount, the whole group, with here and there an exception, followed suit. The result was that the majority of dogs were thrown off their balance owing to the strange conditions imposed on them by a too short lead in the hand of a man or woman who were as strange to the experience as themselves. The use of a longer lead and a brisk walk on the part of the handler gives the dog more freedom of action, and enables the animal to assume a better pose more quickly after the exercise, and anything on the lines of the grotesque is not so apparent.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC.

WE trust that our version of the formation of the Canadian Kennel Club as it was chronicled in our Christmas Number of Kennel and Bench was at least interesting to Kennel and Bench readers. It should probably be remembered that Canada, our so-called young country, was very much younger fifty years ago. Confederation itself, with the younger provincial members, Ontario and Quebec, was only twenty-one years old, Alberta and Saskatchewan had not yet been admitted to Confederation. The Canadian Pacific Railway had just recently been opened for coast to coast traffic. Vancouver had become the western terminus of the great trans-continental. The recently laid "ribbon of steel" was still being tightened down into place when The Canadian Kennel Club was being discussed as the coming canine government for the Dominion. We mention, too, that the great trans-pacific steamships of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, like ourselves, were simply "feeling their way" at the time when we were raising our C. K. C. banner. It is rather thrilling to remember that we are so closely allied to our own country's development.

There was not a great deal more than fertile farmlands between the Ontario-Manitoba border and the foothills fifty years ago, but what a transformation has been evolved in the meantime.

The first dog show rules as formulated by our first officers for the control of dog shows in Canada have withstood the ravages of time and circumstance in many places as our more observant readers will notice. And our only reason for now publishing the early rules is to show the clarity of the early vision of the men who first sponsored the Canadian Kennel Club. May we always revere their names.

"Give them a passing thought sometimes,
The men of the early day.
The men who have founded the track we tread,
The men who have passed away".

CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB DOG SHOW RULES

"The word dog, where used in these rules, includes both sexes.

1. Every dog entered at any show held under these rules must be the bona fide property of the person making such entry on the day of closing the entries. The entry must clearly identify the dog to be exhibited by name, and, if known, its date of birth, name of its sire and dam and the name of its breeder.

Should any of these particulars be unknown to the exhibitor it must be so stated on the entry blank and inserted in the catalogue.

Prize winners at any show held under the rules of the Canadian Kennel Club must be entered in the Canadian register before prize will be given (American dogs excepted).

2. Every dog entered at any show held under these rules and owned in the United States must be registered with the American Kennel Club before being allowed to compete.

3. If the name of a dog which has won a prize has been changed, the old name must be given on the entry blank and inserted in the catalogue, together with a list of all prizes won by the dog until such time as it wins a prize under its new name.

4. If a dog has been entered without being clearly identified as directed in Rules 2 and 3, it shall be disqualified and forfeit any prize which may have been awarded to it.

5. The breeder of a dog is the person owning or leasing the bitch at the time of her being bred.

6. A puppy is eligible for competition in either the puppy or open class, or both, unless prohibited by the special rules of any show, but a separate entry must be made for each class.

7. The authorities of any show may reserve to themselves the right of declining any entries they may see fit, or of removing any dog on account of disease, vice, or other cause.

8. A castrated dog or spayed bitch shall be disqualified and forfeit any prizes which may have been awarded it.

9. Total blindness, deafness or lameness shall absolutely disqualify. If the judge or veterinary surgeon is satisfied that the deafness or lameness is temporary the dog shall be allowed to compete.

10. A dog suffering from mange or any contagious disease shall be disqualified and forfeit any prizes which may have been awarded to it, and shall at once be removed from the show building. The regularly appointed veterinary surgeon shall alone decide as to mange or contagious disease, and his decision must be given in writing.

11. A judge may disqualify a dog which in his opinion has been improperly tampered with, subject to the decision of the veterinary surgeon. Should the judge's disqualification not be sustained, the class must be immediately rejudged.

12. Full discretionary power is given to the judge of each class to withhold any or all prizes for want of merit. The judge's decision will be final in all cases affecting the merits of the dogs, and appeals can only be entertained where misrepresentation or breach of the rules is discovered.

13. Should any appointed judge be unable to fulfill his engagement the committee shall have the right to fill the vacancy in such manner as they see fit; all the separate classes of any one breed of dogs must, however, be adjudicated upon by the same judge or judges acting in conjunction.

14. In any class where there is a limit of weight, the person in charge of dogs entered in such a class may claim of the show committee the right at any time before the judging to have his dog weighed, and the weight of the dog shall be registered and hold good to the time of judging.

15. A dog to compete in a champion class must have won four first prizes, exclusive of puppy classes and classes not confined to one breed, at shows approved by the Canadian Kennel Club, a list of which, together with the rules, must be published in the premium list and catalogue of each show.

16. In estimating the number of prizes a dog has won with reference to whether it should compete in a champion class or not, the number of prizes won shall be calculated up to 12 p.m. of the day preceding the closing of the entries of the show.

17. In entering a dog in a champion class it is necessary to specify on the entry blank a sufficient number of first prize winnings to entitle him to compete in such a class, and this record must be given in the catalogue.

18. No dog eligible for special prizes can be withdrawn from competition unless it has been stated on the entry blank, "Not to compete for special prizes".

19. No special prizes can be accepted or offered by a show committee after the show is opened.

20. The age of a dog shall be calculated up to and inclusive of the day preceding the show. A dog whelped April 30 shall not be eligible on May 1 of the following year to compete in a class for dogs under twelve months of age.

21. An objection to a dog may be made by any person but must be in writing and be lodged with the secretary of the show within ten days of the last day of the show. The objection must (unless in the case of an objection made in the name of the Canadian Kennel Club or by the committee of the show, in which case a deposit shall not be necessary) be accompanied by a deposit of five dollars, and if the objection is decided to be frivolous the deposit shall be forfeited to the committee of the show. From the decision of the show committee appeal may at once be made to such members of the executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club as may be present, and if the show committee decision is sustained by them the five dollars deposited is thereby forfeited to the show committee. From any such decision, or decisions, appeal may be taken to the full executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club, but such appeal must be forwarded to the secretary within seven days of the decision being rendered, together with a deposit of $10.00. If the decision appealed from is sustained the $10.00 deposit shall be forfeited to the Canadian Kennel Club, but if the decision is reversed then all deposits must be returned to the appellant.

22. Any person who has been guilty of misconduct of any kind in connection with dogs, dog shows or field trials, may be suspended by the committee of any show. Notice of such suspension, together with all testimony in the case, must be forwarded within twenty-four hours to the secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club. The secretary shall thereupon notify the president, or in his absence, the vice-president, who may upon investigation of the case suspend the penalty until next meeting of the executive committee. At such meeting the penalty must either be removed or the person suspended be disqualified for such a period as the executive committee may decide. The disqualification of an owner shall apply to all dogs connected with the perpetration of a fraudulent act, but the executive committee of the Canadian Kennel Club may use such discretion in the enforcement of this penalty as shall protect innocent persons.

23. No person under suspension or sentence of disqualification can exhibit or take a prize at any show held under these rules.

24. Entries made in the name of a kennel must be accompanied by the name of the actual proprietor or proprietors, but not necessarily for publication. The partners in the kennel will be deemed equally culpable in the case of fraud perpetrated in the kennel name.

25. The premium list of each show must contain the names of officials under whose management the show is given, each of which except paid employees, shall be held personally responsible for the payment of all prizes within 60 days of the last day of the show. The secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club shall, upon evidence being produced that any such prize or prizes remain unpaid, issue notice of suspension of each and every official, and otherwise proceed as provided for in Rule 22.

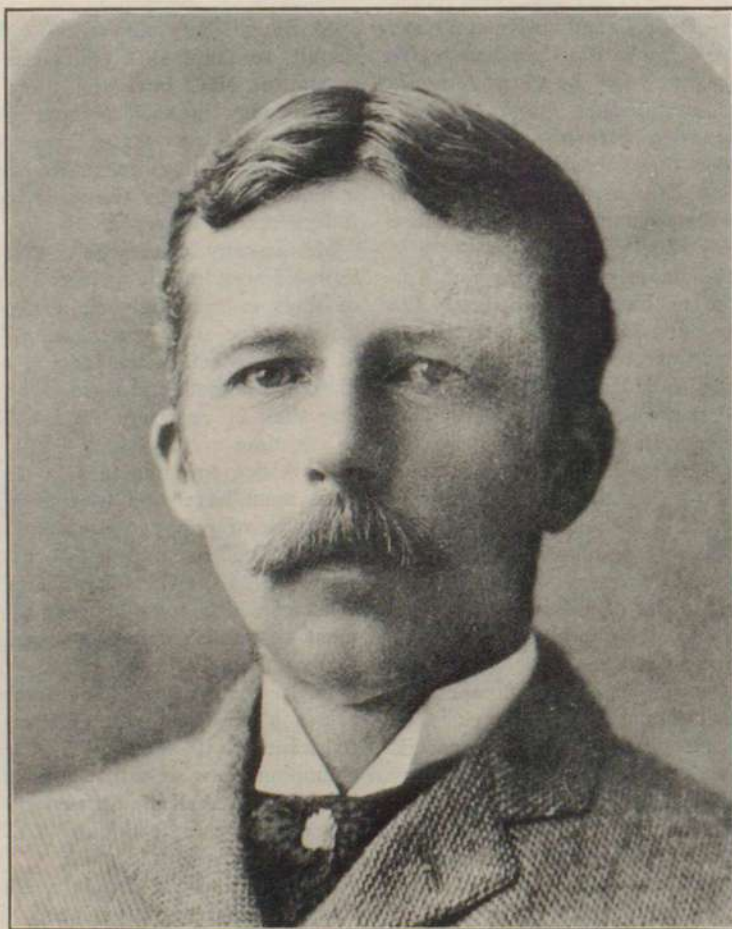

26. The person presenting the identification ticket shall be recognized as the agent of the owner in the latter's absence, and his receipt for prize money shall be binding on the owner unless notice to the contrary is endorsed on the identification ticket.

27. All prizes offered by the club or committee in charge of a show must be paid in accordance with description given to them in the premium list. Medals of silver or gold must be of the purity of Canadian coin.

28. The show committee may adopt such regulations as they see fit, provided they do not conflict with the foregoing rules.

29. A recognized veterinary surgeon must be appointed at each show held under these rules."

The rules promulgated for the governing of Field Trials were equally as logical and important as the Constitution and the Dog Show Rules, and show that our first officials were sporting dog lovers with a thorough understanding of what was required by the controlling organization which they had sponsored and whose destinies were now their greatest concern.

CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB OF CANADA

Regulations, Rules for Running and Instructions to Judges

FIELD TRIALS, 1889.

"1. The management of the meetings for the Annual Field Trials shall be entrusted to the Committee of the Club, and with them lies the interpretation of the rules. They shall decide upon all matters not provided for in these rules.

2. The judge shall be selected by the Committee, and their names shall be publicly announced as soon as possible after their selection. When a judge is prevented from attending a meeting or finishing it, the Committee shall appoint a substitute.

3. For all stakes, the names, pedigrees, ages, colors and distinguishing marks of the dogs shall be detailed in writing to the Secretary of the Club, to be filed at time of making entry or entries. Any dog's age, markings or pedigree which shall be proved not to correspond with the entry shall be disqualified, and all such dog's stakes or winnings shall be forfeited.

4. The forfeit money must accompany every nomination, and the balance of the entrance fee must be paid before the drawing.

5. The Committee may refuse any entry they may think proper to exclude; and no person who has been found, to the satisfaction of the Committee, to have misconducted himself in any manner in connection with dogs, dog shows, or dog trials, or who is a defaulter for either stakes or forfeits in connection with either thereof, or for money due under an arrangement for division of winnings, or for penalties for infraction of rules, or for any payment required by a decision of the Club, shall be allowed to compete in any trials that may be held under the auspices of the Canadian Kennel Club.

6. Any objections to an entry must be made in writing addressed to the Secretary of the Club, and will be acted on by the Committee, whose decision shall be final.

7. Immediately before the dogs are drawn at any meeting the time and place of putting down the first brace of dogs on the following morning shall be declared and posted in a conspicuous place.

8. All stakes shall be run in order of the programme when possible. Should, however, the competitors or their representatives in the various stakes agree otherwise, the order may with consent of the Committee be changed.

9. Dogs shall be drawn by lot, and numbered in the order drawn. Each dog shall run in the first series as a brace with the next available dog in that order, and the winners run in heats again in the order so obtained, except as hereinafter provided. Any dog absent during the first series for more than twenty minutes after his number is called shall be disqualified from further competition.

10. If two dogs owned or handled by the same person should come together in the first or any succeeding series, the second dog so owned or handled shall change places with the first dog not so owned or handled. This change shall be effected in the order of running if possible; if not possible then in the reverse order of running. If such separation is found to be impracticable, or without benefit, the running together of two such dogs may be permitted.

11. If in any series of heat there should be a natural bye, such bye shall run with the winner of the first heat of the previous series as the first brace of the next series.

12. Each dog must be brought up in its proper turn without delay; if absent more than twenty minutes, its opponent shall be entitled to the heat, subject to rule 9.

13. An owner, his handler or his deputy may hunt a dog, but it must be one or the other; and when dogs are down an owner must not interfere with his dog if he has deputed another person to handle and hunt him. In members' stakes every member must handle his own dog.

14. The person handling and hunting a dog may speak, whistle to and work him by hand as he may deem proper, but he shall be called to order by the judges for making any unnecessary noise, or for any disorderly conduct and if after being cautioned he persists in such noise or disorderly conduct, they shall order the dog to be taken up and adjudged out of the stake. An opponent's dog must not be interfered with or excited. In such case an appeal shall be made to the judges.

15. If the opponent's dog points game the dog must not be drawn across him to take the point, but if not backing of his own accord he must be brought around behind the pointing dog. Dogs must be hunted together and their handlers must walk within a reasonable distance from one another.

16. If a dog be withdrawn, with the consent of the Committee on the ground, from a stake on the field or at any time during the holding of a trial, its owner or his deputy having authority, shall notify in writing, with his name attached, the secretary or one of the Committee of the club. If the dog belongs to either or any of those officials, the notice must be handed to one of the others. When a winner of one or more heats is drawn for any reason other than defeat, the dog or dogs previously beaten by him shall not be deprived of competing for second or third prize, if, in the opinion of the judges, they have a chance to win. No owner or handler shall be permitted to withdraw his dog or dogs from a stake on the field or at any time during the progress of a trial after such dog or dogs have been allotted a position in any heat or race, without the consent of the Committee on the grounds; any such owner or handler withdrawing his dog or dogs, without the consent of the Committee on the grounds, may be debarred from any future trials, or be penalized at the discretion of the Club.

17. If any person openly impugns the actions or decisions of the judge or judges, or otherwise annoys them during the progress of a trial, he may be debarred from future participation in the trials, and ordered off the grounds.

18. No person other than the judge, judges or reporters will be permitted to accompany the handlers of dogs competing in any heat, except owners of such dogs running in charge of a handler or deputy, and they shall be permitted to accompany the stewards until the finish of such heat, when they shall retire until their dogs again come into competition. Two persons are prohibited from working one dog. If from any cause the handler of a running dog is disabled to such an extent that he cannot shoot, upon his request to the judge or judges, he may select some person to shoot for him, and the judges may in any case require handlers running dogs to go through minutely the evolution of shooting either a blank or shotted cartridge over any or every established point, upon being ordered to flush a bird. The handlers of the two dogs shall go together as if it were a brace of dogs, and hunt said brace or braces in the trials as in ordinary shooting so that the dogs shall be on an equality as to ground, opportunities for finding, etc. Spectators shall not be allowed nearer the handlers of dogs running than seventy-five yards at the rear. The privilege is granted handlers to ask the judges for information or explanation that has a direct bearing upon any point at issue, pending such questions the dogs shall not be under judgment. Dogs inflicted with any contagious disease, or bitches in season, or unduly attracting the attention of the competing dogs, will not be permitted on the grounds. Handlers shall not load their guns until a point be established.

19. When two dogs, the property of the same owner, or of confederates, shall remain in for a deciding trial, the judges may determine which is the better, either by prior performance or by further running, as they may order.

Should the owner of a dog or his representative induce the owner or representative of another dog to withdraw such dog for consideration or bribe of any nature whatsoever, all prizes won by either shall be forfeited upon the facts being satisfactorily proved to the committee. If, however, either dog be withdrawn without consideration, for lameness, injury, or from any cause clearly affecting his chance of winning, the other dog may be declared the winner, on the facts of the case being clearly proved to the satisfaction of the judge or judges. When more than two dogs remain at the end of a stake, which is not run out, stakes shall be divided; and in case of a division between three or more dogs of which two or more belong to the same owner these latter shall be held to take equal shares of the total amount won by their owners, and in the division the terms of any arrangements to divide winnings must be declared to the Secretary.

20. The last dog beaten by the winner of the first prize shall compete for the second prize with the best of those dogs previously beaten by the winner of the first prize. The winner of this heat shall be declared the winner of the second prize. The discretion is given to the judges of deciding which is the best of these beaten dogs in the competition for second by selection, or by running extra heats between them. After the first and second winners are ascertained, the judges may select the winners of any other prize from any of the dogs in the stake without further running.

21. The dog last beaten by the winner of the first prize shall not be obliged to run more than two heats on the same day, but at the option of his handler may run the final heat for the second place on the following day.

22. All protests, when practicable except as hereinbefore provided must be made and delivered to the Secretary of the Club, or in case of his absence, to the President of the Club, or in case of his absence, to a member of a Committee at or before midnight of the date of running of final heat.

TO OWNERS, HANDLERS AND BREAKERS

In issuing the Running Rules for 1889, the Committee of the Canadian Kennel Club hereby call attention of all owners and trainers to the following considerations and requirements: Experience has shown that a dog to exhibit his natural qualities to the best advantage, must be well broken, and in order to relieve the judges from all possible responsibility in awarding a heat between a dog of great ability insufficiently broken, and an inferior dog well broken, the Club will insist upon all dogs being thoroughly trained.

They will instruct their judges to insist upon perfect backing, steadiness to shot and wing, obedience and retrieving and to penalize disobedience, unsteadiness, false pointing, or any other quality impairing the usefulness of a dog for every day shooting, to the fullest extent of which the Rules admit.

INSTRUCTIONS TO JUDGES

The judges shall give each brace at least forty-five minutes and shall order up the dogs as soon thereafter as they have determined which is the better. Unless a dog shows such lack of merit that in the opinion of the judges he cannot be placed, all dogs shall, if time permit, have at least two chances to show their behaviour on birds. Either or both dogs of a brace may be ordered up by the judges for want of merit.

Pointing fur, feather, reptile or scent of game birds, if the judges deem the same excusable, shall not be considered a false point. The judges shall give a dog ample opportunity to discover whether he is on a true point.

No assistance shall be given by the handler to enable a dog to discover whether he is on a false point.

Judges are requested to avoid as far as possible holding a dog so long on a point for the purpose of securing a back or otherwise, as to enable the birds to run. Dogs should be brought up to back only when opportunity offers without interfering with the pointing dog, and a dog drawing or pointing game shall be afforded ample opportunity to locate the game, it being left to the discretion of the judges to direct the opposing dog to be held in check.

Should a dog be held an unreasonable time upon a point he should not be penalized for a resultant fault. The number of times a dog points, backs, etc., shall not necessarily give him the preference, but the judges shall consider the quality of the performance rather than the frequency of the occurrence.

Backing.—The judges are requested to give no credit for backing unless it appears to be voluntary. Any assistance from the handler shall deprive the dog of credit for his performance.

Ranging.—The judges are requested to give greater credit to the dog that maintains the most killing range throughout, viz., wide or close as the necessity of the case requires.

Obedience and Disposition.—The judges are requested to give greater credit to the dog that works promptly, without noise or severity, and is obedient, prompt, cheerful and easily handled.

The rules are based upon the principle that each heat is a complete race, and the winner of the trial is the unbeaten dog who has directly or indirectly beaten every other dog in the stake.

The judges are requested to observe that the scale of points given below are set forth only as the view of the Club as to the comparative value of the various attributes of performances referred to. But the judges shall not, except in case of an absolute equality between the dogs, deem it necessary to keep any score whatever.

DEMERITS

False Pointing, Breaking In, Breaking Shot, Chasing, these faults shall be gauged by the judges in their discretion. The second chase, however, loses the heat.

DEFINITIONS

Breaking In.—Is where a dog through imperfect breaking, or from excitement, leaves his position when the birds rise, whether the gun is fired or not, and starts to chase, but stops within a few feet from where he started of his own accord or by command.

Breaking Shot.—Is where a dog runs in, when a shot is fired, with the intention of getting to the bird, and does not stop promptly at command.

Chasing.—Is where a dog follows the birds, either when a gun is fired or not, to any extent to be beyond the control of his handlers for the time being.

Pointing.—The judges will rate a dog's merits under this head by the display of nose and judgment in finding and pointing birds, and accuracy and quickness in locating birds after he has caught the scent of them.

False pointing, flushing, or uncertainty will detract from a dog's score under this head.

Upon such foundations, then, the structure which we now recognize as the Canadian Kennel Club has been built up. To the men who laid our foundations we owe a debt of gratitude.

"In memories and moments that are gone,
In words recalling hopes and fears
In all our tender thoughts, in dark or dawn,
They live with us throughout the years".

It would be a mistake to leave the impression that our "Rome" was built in a day; it certainly was not. Let us try to remember that the American Kennel Club was in the process of its early up-building and had reached the point where around thirty clubs were holding dog shows. They had already recognized shows held at London, Ont., held prior to 1886; Manitoba Pet Stock Association, 1885; Montreal, 1883 and 1884; Ottawa, 1883; St. John, N.B., 1886, and Toronto, 1880 (Fair Grounds), 1884 and 1885 (Horticultural Gardens). So many Canadian fanciers were familiar with this rather substantial contact, and were inclined to be skeptical concerning the promotion of the Canadian Kennel Club. Ottawa and London were the only shows that featured our birth-year, 1888. Toronto, Kingston and Hamilton came later.

Critics of fifty years ago were just as kindly or as caustic as they are today, and for every boost the young Canadian Kennel Club received, the infant organization got twice as many knocks. Here are the samples. The boost: "No doubt the Canadian Kennel Club has the ability to govern successfully even when the two of them (Ottawa, London) run concurrently." The knocks: "In my opinion the Canadian Kennel Club must become Canadian and cease to be local". And: "It is plain that if the Canadian Kennel Club is to live and thrive there must be radical changes in its methods of management".

Focussing the picture at the end of the first year we find that the Canadian Kennel Club had sent its representatives to New York and that they had come back with the first Reciprocity Agreement. The Club had been instrumental in procuring an order-in-council whereby all dogs of breeding certified to by the Club could be brought into Canada duty free. It had defeated the Dryden Bill in Parliament, a Bill, which if it had passed, would have obliged a man to pay more for dog taxes than he had to pay for land taxes. Seventy members had been enrolled. Three hundred dogs had been registered in a Stud Book specially prepared for such recording. So that really knocks of any kind were more or less superfluous at that particular time. To show the optimism prevailing at the end of the first year, the objective for 1889 was set at five hundred members on the Roster, and fifteen hundred dogs in the Register. Neither of these goals were reached, but we do know that the race to get there was quite strenuous.

So now we pass on by noting that the Toronto Industrial (now the Canadian National Exhibition) had taken dates for their 1889 Show, and that there was mention of Kingston being added for further encouragement.

In our next contribution we will deal with the early development of the different functions of our beloved Canadian Kennel Club.

THE WESTMINSTER KENNEL CLUB SHOW

The Westminster Kennel Club this week is sending to dog fanciers in all parts of the country its premium list showing how the purse of more than $20,000 will be distributed during the three days of its sixty-second annual show, which will be held in Madison Square Garden on February 10th, 11th and 12th.

It assures the same colourful competition which in past years has surrounded the crowning of the canine grand champion at the Garden, a spectacle that is without parallel in bench shows. The expert judges, gathered from all parts of this country, will be nominating the breed champions during the first two days of the show. Then, on the third day, there will be the variety groups, the six winners of which will come into the ring on Saturday night to be judged by John G. Bates, of Morristown, N.J. He will bestow the title of Best in Show at the Westminster, the most coveted award in bench competition.

Last year, the Masters of Foxhounds' Association held its show in conjunction with the Westminster. It proved such interesting competition, especially in its final stages, that this year a special feature calls for judging of packs of beagles, basset hounds, foxhounds and harriers on the final night. Because of the limited facilities this competition will be by invitation. However, Harry T. Peters, the chairman of the Westminster show committee, is a Master of Foxhounds, thoroughly familiar with all the packs and the invitations he issues will bring to the Garden the most representative of the hounds.

Other colourful features, to be announced later, promise to make the Sixty-Second Westminster one of the most striking in the Club's history. It will be a show that not only will have its regular appeal to those familiar with the fine points of bench judging, but to the thousands who love dogs and want to see the finest of them under the most spectacular conditions.

And this show, for the first time in the history of the Westminster, or any other dog show-giving organization for that matter, will be a limited affair. The tendency of the show to expand in recent years threatened to cause overcrowding of the Garden. After it had been necessary to return some entries for each of the last two shows, it was decided to limit this one. That limit was fixed at 3,000 dogs. It will be a case of first come first served, but all the leading kennels are certain to make their nominations early in order to avoid the danger of being crowded out, with the result that the quality will be as high as ever.

Except for Philip Stockmann, who is coming from Pleiskirchen, Germany, to judge the Boxers; and W. A. Price, of Toronto, who will do the Cocker Spaniels, the judging slate this year is all-American. Few of the best known amateur and professional judges are missing. Typical of the selections are the six amateurs who will select the variety group winners from which Mr. Bates will pick his Best in Show. They are Samuel G. Allen, of New York, for the Gundogs; Joseph Z. Batten, of Montclair, N.J., the Hounds; Justice Townsend Scudder, of Greenwich, Conn., the Workers; Oliver C. Harri-man, of New York, the Terriers; James W. Trullinger, of Harrisburg, Pa., the Toys, and Theodore Crane, of New York, the Non-Sporting.

The hound packs will compete for trophies offered by Gerald M. Livingston and Dr. Samuel Milbank, respectively President and Vice-President of the Westminster. They will be judged by J. Watson Webb, of Shelburne, Vermont, and Gordon Grand, of Millbrook, N.Y. Mr. Webb, although he has not been induced to judge before, is one of the outstanding authorities on hounds, and Mr. Grand has been shown by his "Silver Horn" book to be not only one of the best informed but most literate devotees of hunting.

Although the show is to be limited in size, nobody has been slighted in the distribution of the premium lists. In all, 25,000 have been sent out, more than ever before, with the warning in the front that entries will be rejected after 3,000 have been received. They weighed 5,500 pounds and called for the expenditure of $500 in postage.

Again the Foley Dog Show Organization will superintend the show. Preparations have been made at the Club's office, Room 1111, 381 Fourth Avenue, to handle the entries which, now that the premium lists have gone out, will begin arriving in a steadily increasing stream until the limit is reached.

• Hounds of Muskoka

By W. H. PYM

AS this Christmas Season approaches my mind wanders back to the Hounds we used for deer hunting in the District of Muskoka, in the Province of Ontario, thirty and more years ago. In those days practically every deer hunter felt it his duty to own at least one good hound, and great was the rivalry between local hunters as to the merits of their dogs.

Regardless of color or breeding, all hounds in our community were referred to as Deerhounds, but of course they were a medley of Fox Hounds and so-called Southern Coon Hounds trained for deer hunting. Each November the district's canine population would be greatly increased when the special hunters' trains would arrive from Toronto and other Ontario points. These city bred hounds which the hunters from the south brought with them were subjected to a critical inspection by the local lads, and while there were good looking as well as highly useful dogs among the imports, we locals always felt that our hounds were the superior of anything on four legs when it came to hunting in vergin timber country.

For gameness, sagacity, and stamina, I still feel that the hounds bred in and about the town of Huntsville were the equal of any sporting dog alive. I personally favored the long eared black and tan, but of course a good hound could not have a bad color. While I favored the black and tans, the average hunter preferred the open marked dogs because they could be readily seen on a lake shore after the race had ended, and I doubt if there was any material difference in the quality of the "tongue" given by these dogs regardless of color. The black and tan appealed to my personal fancy because they were such docile looking beasts, yet when thoroughly aroused they could lick their weight in wildcats.

On a clear frosty November morning the roar of these hounds could be heard for miles in the stillness of the woods. Their blood-curdling "bellow" was not always confined to frosty mornings, as I have no doubt there are still residence of the town of Huntsville, who have not quite forgiven me for keeping a pack of hounds that would indulge in voice culture "baying at the moon", while the good citizens were intent upon a peaceful night's sleep. Mature judgment dictates that the complaining citizens were justified in objecting about my hounds, but those night roars were music to my youthful ears.

In our unscientific way, we were line and selective breeders. Practically all of our best Deerhounds descended from a lemon and white dog called "Clipper". "Clipper" was bred over a Southern black and tan female that gave me the dogs of my fancy. From there on "Clipper" was the community stud dog, and we selected our breeding females from those that had proven their actual worth in the woods. The others were readily destroyed, so in reality we were breeding from the "best of our best", and that is a pretty good breeding principle to follow today.

The requirements of a perfectly trained Deerhound were scenting powers to a marked degree (or as we called this virtue, a fast nose), gameness, tenacity, obedience and physical perfection. The training started when the puppies were from three to four months of age. Spring whelped puppies were taken to our favorite swimming place where the puppies were permitted to gambol around and eventually enter the water of their own free will. They were next taught obedience in a canoe, then backtracking to handler on land, and finally in company with their dam, they were taken to a local spot where deer fed on water lilies at certain times in the day. Before feeding time for the deer, the dam would be turned loose and she would not be long in starting a deer, and in a few minutes the puppies that followed her would be in on their first "deathless kill" because the deer would readily take to water to throw the dogs off the scent. A few similar lessons without the dam was all that was necessary to develop a puppy with the "hunt" in him. Of course, we had the advantage of being able to train our puppies on actual deer scent, therefore, the weaker scent of the fox or rabbit did not interest our dogs, whereas, the imported dogs had usually been trained on fox or rabbit, and many hunters have stood around shivering listing to the "tongue" of his dog and expecting to see a deer, when in reality his dog was fooling around on the scent of one of the smaller animals.

It was not deemed prudent to keep two hounds to work on one deer, yet many of the outside dogs would not run without their grace mate. Thus the necessity of a good nose and a high headed dog that did not putter around to get a start on deer, gameness to work alone in the big timber country, tenacity to follow the deer across rivers and sometimes lakes of ice cold water, obedience to lie quietly in the bow of a birch bark or Peterboro canoe when the carcass of a deer and your rifle was part of the cargo, and that physical perfection that enabled him to maintain the pace and backtrack to camp when the hunt for the day was over.

The sagacity of these native hounds was best demonstrated on afternoon hunts. If the hunter missed the deer, the dog would continue in pursuit until often he would be miles from his own territory before the race ended. There would be no possible chance of the dog returning right into camp that night, so such hunters as Billy McCaffery, the owner of "Clipper", and one of the greatest dog punchers that ever started a deer before daylight, would build a small shelter of brush and leaves, shoot and dress a partridge, and leave it in this shelter, returning on the morrow the dog would usually be found there rested and fed and ready for another race.

Often hounds would follow the deer so far that they would be compelled to give up the race from sheer exhaustion, or perhaps newly formed ice on the shore of the lakes would prevent his return to camp, so these dogs would invariably travel until they came to a Logging Camp. There was always a tinge of sadness in the heart of the hunter when it was necessary to return home with a hound still in the bush at the end of the hunting season, but just here let me say, "hats off" to those good old shantymen who always took care of these lost dogs and when they came to town for their "Christmas Cheer", delivered the dog to his owner looking as fit as a fiddle.

And what of "Clipper", the founder of this strain of hounds? I last saw him in the summer of 1910, when he was old and fat. He would spend his afternoons stretched full length across the plank sidewalk of Main Street, unmindful of the pedestrians who were compelled to walk around or over him. Perhaps he was dreaming of the deer he had chased in his younger days, as I sometimes dream of the music I have heard from the throats of these great dogs in deer territory of the Big East River and Cripple Lake country of Ontario, and if I could have my wish ALL OF THE HOUNDS OF MUSKOKA WOULD MAKE IT HOME FOR CHRISTMAS.

The Canadian Fancy

By Contributing Editor

WALTER H. REEVES

156 Bridge Street East, Belleville, Ont.

1938—THE GOLDEN JUBILEE of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. What a pity that some of the founders of our Club are not alive today. In my opinion very few of the old-time men who gave so unselfishly of their time and money, ever thought that our sport would grow into so great an industry, for that is what it really is today, giving profitable employment to thousands of men and women. The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., has certainly done its part, but have we, as members, done ours? I may be wrong and I know that many will disagree, but I have always held the opinion that we have tried to make our sport a closed corporation; granted that our sport has prospered, but by no means in Canada as it has in many other countries. If you read the remarks published in the Canadian Fancy, which were written by the Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., outside of Ontario, you must have noticed the remark that the "gate" at shows was not satisfactory except where the show-giving club had the backing of some welfare organization who put on a ticket selling campaign previous to the show. A show first of all needs entries and it also needs a gate to pay expenses. What are we doing to interest the "gate"? Very, very little. The time has gone for the general public to be interested enough to just visit a dog show to see the judging. I have visited many shows where there were not even chairs around the ringside for the public to sit. Then we never insist on the rule that all dogs must be benched. Very often the visitor came to the show to see a particular dog and he or she, as the case may be, went away disappointed for that particular dog was either being "dolloed up" or was taking it easy in his travelling case. The general public need entertaining. Shows could not be held without entries but, as I have said before, there has to be a gate to pay the prize money and the expenses. I happened to be able this year to see some of the "events" in the arena at the Winter Fair and I heard the following remarks: "Why bring dogs into our ring" from a horse exhibitor when one of the dogs was being posed in the ring. The management of the Winter Fair are alive to the "times". The jumping events were not enough to interest the gate. Today we have to have a variety of events. If you were present you must have noticed that much as the horse exhibitor objected to dogs being brought into their ring the general public did not. The management quickly sensed this, and arranged for a parade of the principal winners. This may not have induced a big gain in gate receipts at the dog show, but the fact remains that last year's total receipts were passed very early on the second day. Dog show officials in the States and in England have found that they have to give an added attraction to the judging of classes. I thoroughly agree with Dr. Cooper's following remarks: "But the trend is in the direction of the practical. People want their dogs to be companions and to be of some use, hence the great boom in field trials. With this trend so evident we must be ready to meet it and I think we could well follow the example of the American Kennel Club and be ready for Obedience Trials. Our fashions surely follow those of Great Britain and U.S.A. The Americans began having a few obedience tests in connection with their regular shows as special attractions. Now they are growing beyond that, and whole days are devoted to obedience tests. Besides, clubs are formed to meet Sunday mornings and holidays to put their dogs through their paces. I have predicted that within ten years obedience tests will outstrip in numbers and interest our present bench shows". I have before me the programme of The Star National Dog Tournament held at the Empire Pool and Sports Arena, Wembley, England. One of the judges was Her Grace The Duchess of Newcastle. The tournament lasted two days and was held to demonstrate the trainable qualities of all breeds of dogs, their sagacity and their service. Amongst the events were Obedience and Sheepdog Trials, Trick Display Dogs of Duty, the Bravest Dog of the Year, Children's Fancy Dress Class, High Jump, Parade of All Nations, and a Cossack Ride. A footnote at the end of the list of competitors in the obedience Tests reads as follows: By way of contrast, "Wee-Mean", a Griffon Bruxellois, will show that brains are not confined to big dogs. This little chap weighs only four pounds and is the smallest dog trained to important obedience tests. He has won many important tests but is not competing for the awards. By the way, the winner of the first prize netted for his owner the sum of two hundred dollars. I will bring this programme to the general meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., for our Provincial Directors to see, for I believe many of the events would prove an added attraction to many of our Fair Exhibitions. One thing we do know, that we have to do something to give a little pep to our shows for our visitors.

Well, now, what are we doing to induce the purchasers of our pups to exhibit? By no stretch of imagination can we admit that our list of exhibitors is growing as it should. Why? Because the novice finds it difficult to compete. Do we allow too much, to put it mildly, "dolling up". I believe we do. It is certainly difficult for a novice to place a Wire Fox Terrier in the ring with the "furnishings" the present dog show fashions dictate, and more difficult still to exhibit an Airedale with the coal black back and rich tan legs, without artificial aid. No, if we allow the present day "dolling up" we must confine some of the classes to the neophyte. In my opinion Canada is growing more and more interested in dogs and we must stop being a closed corporation.

Dr. Cooper gave us the information some time ago of the thousands of dollars spent by American trainers when they brought over their dogs to put the finishing touches on them for the American Field Trials. This is another place where there is room for expansion for Canadian dog breeders. We are living in an unsurpassed game country, yet you can almost count our Field Trials on one hand. A breeder of sporting dogs has written to me since the publication of the particulars of the "Special Golden Jubilee celebration cash prize offerings to be competed for at all licensed all breed shows", asking me why nothing is given to Field Trials. "Surely", he writes, "This is an omission". It is and I agree that something should be done for our "Beaglers" and Sporting dog men who are endeavouring to prove to the sportsmen that a well-bred sporting dog would prove a credit to his owner both in appearance and work. Send along your suggestions for I have to admit that since living in Canada I have not attended a Trial for either Sporting Dogs or Beagles. Greyhound racing hardly comes in this category, but there is a very real agitation to get this exciting sport properly under way in Canada. Here we have a real opposition from horse racing interests, but just mention to your member who is representing your constituency in Parliament that the manufacture of foods, etc., for Man's Best Friend is the fifth largest industry in U.S.A. and the holding of legalized Greyhound racing will bring in many thousands of dollars to the treasury, and that we have an unsurpassed place in our Western Provinces for the raising and training of Greyhounds. Some time ago I gave particulars of the revenue gained through racing Greyhounds in the U.S.A. I gather the following from the Sunday Express regarding the growth of the sport in England. "Five million pounds are today invested in Greyhound racing in Great Britain. Nine years ago a few pioneers launched the sport at Belle Vue, Manchester. From that day its growth presents the most remarkable story in the sporting history of our time. Another £1,000,000 is now invested in industries connected with Greyhound racing. The sport gives direct employment to 5,000 people, and another 15,000 workers are employed through it. Yet in 1926 sporting experts said, 'There was no money in the new sport; that it would not 'catch on,' but in those ten years that one Manchester track has grown to fifty-two licensed tracks in Great Britain and many farmers have become Greyhound breeders."

Tattooing

One evening recently I was playing bridge with some friends and my partner was George K. Graham, a prominent breeder of Jersey and Ayrshire cattle, silver foxes, fantail pigeons, and Collies. Whilst one of our opponents was doing her very best to shuffle the spots off the cards, George remarked to me: "I have been reading the letters published in the December issue of Kennel and Bench regarding the tattooing of dogs. I know you are interested, so come out to my fox ranch the first opportunity you have and I will prove to you how tattooing has saved me thousands and my breeding records".

Naturally I was interested, and therefore the very next afternoon I went out to the Quinte Farms, which are situated a few miles out of Belleville on the Toronto Highway. We have heard much about the positive system of identification through tattooing, but until that afternoon I was not entirely convinced that it was the last word in solving positive identification if this method was used. You see, I greeted my friend on my arrival, I have not wasted any time in coming out to hear your story. We were soon inside and pulling our chairs close to a log fire, and whilst I was filling my pipe, George started to give me the story. "You know", he remarked, "that early this spring I engaged a new man for the fox ranch. Well, the previous helper left the other day and he also left trouble that has needed some straightening out. You know the system used at the ranch. On each pen there was an identification card, giving particulars of the inmates of the pen. Well, when I took the new man over I found that his predecessor had allowed these cards to get weather-beaten; in fact we could not decipher on any pen the particulars of its inmates". "Well, George", I replied, "I am sorry; I suppose this means a heavy loss to you. Will you have to sell the lot?" "Oh, no," my friend replied, "I have identified every fox on the ranch and an up-to-date identification tag is now on every pen. We had only to read the tattoo marks on each fox. It took some time catching a hundred and fifty foxes, but very little time to identify them, the tattoo marks being in nearly every instance as clear as the day they were done". "But, George", I said, "some of your foxes must be getting on in years". "Well, yes," was the reply, "a few were, but all we had to do with one or two of the old ones was to rub a little alcohol on the tattoo marks and then the marks were easy to read."

This was certainly a real proof that tattooing will stand the test of time, and is of real value to breeders of live stock. I know of several instances where the owner of a kennel had died and it was practically impossible for the executors to identify the dogs. A case in point occurred in Belleville when the late Harry Hungerford died. I spent considerable time trying to identify the Collies, therefore I said to George Graham, "May I give your experience to dog breeders?" On his consent I said, "Thanks, let's start then".

W. H. R.: "How long have you been tattooing?"

G. K. G.: "Twenty years. We started with the letter A and are now using P. Only one letter has been left out—I. The reason that we left out I was that it was not easy to read".

W. H. R.: "Is it a difficult operation?"

G. K. G.: "By no means; any fairly intelligent person can do it and make a first-class job".

W. H. R.: "Foxes' ears are dark inside. Don't you have to use a special ink to make the tattoo marks stand out?"

G. K. G.: "No, just the ink supplied by the company who manufacture the tattoo machine".

W. H. R.: "How do you tattoo?"

G. K. G.: "We first clean the inside of the ears with a rag on which a little alcohol has been poured, then we rub the ink on, using a toothbrush. Then we use the tattoo machine and then rub a little more ink on the letters pierced".

W. H. R.: "Why the second application of ink?"

G. K. G.: "I don't know if I am right, but I am of the opinion that the ink soaks in better after the ear has been pierced and it stops any bleeding".

W. H. R.: "Have you ever injured an ear by tattooing?"

G. K. G.: "Never. We tattoo in both ears. The registered number in one and the year letter and number in the other".

W. H. R.: "You mentioned bleeding. It certainly sounds like a messy job. Does the tattooing cause much bleeding?"

G. K. G.: "There is very little bleeding. Of course, care must be used not to tattoo through a blood vein".

W. H. R.: "What happens if you do inadvertently pierce a vein?"

G. K. G.: "Nothing. Put a little ink on the place and the bleeding stops almost immediately".

W. H. R.: "What is your candid opinion of tattooing?"

G. K. G.: "In my opinion it is the only foolproof system of positive identification. It protects not only the breeder but also the purchaser. I use tattooing not only at my fox ranch but also to identify my herd of two hundred Ayrshire and Jersey cattle. You know that the government inspectors use a metal tag after testing a cow for T.B. These tags often get torn off. Tattooing is permanent".

W. H. R.: "Thanks, George, for a most interesting hour. I know Canadian dog breeders will be interested in the facts you have given me. You have convinced me that tattooing will stand a real test. I hope that within a few years we will have compulsory tattooing, not only in Canada but in every country where pure-bred are kept and bred after such an experience as yours. I agree that it saves a threefold purpose: first the breeder, second the purchaser, and third the executors of an estate".

The meeting of the Canadian Live Stock Record members, held at the Royal York Hotel, was particularly well attended by breeders. The Canadian Kennel Club was represented by Col. J. M. MacRae, J. D. Strachan, Peter Wright, P. Brown, Dr. H. E. Batt and W. H. Reeves. The case of artificial insemination, reported to the Board from The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., had caused some interest amongst the breeders of other kinds of live stock and the breeders present were interested in the particulars of artificial breeding so concisely given by Dr. H. E. Batt. It, however, seemed to be the consensus of opinion amongst the breeders present that this method would never become popular.

The National Kennel Club's recent show, held in conjunction with the Royal Winter Fair, proved easily the best yet held. The entries were a record and so was the gate, and the Foley organization, with Howard Foley in charge, surpassed itself with the excellence of the arrangements. H. V. P. Lewis, I believe, was the director who suggested to the Fair officials the "spot-lighting" of some prominent American and Canadian dogs in the Horse Arena. This certainly brought an increased gate and many excellent sales.

Happy New Year and a most successful breeding and show season to all is my sincere wish.

THE GREAT PYRENEES

For the third successive year the Great Pyrenees have sent a delegation to the Royal Winter Fair Dog Show held this year from November 22nd through to the 24th, under the auspices of The National Kennel Club in connection with the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Toronto. This year's entry was the largest to date, numbering twelve in all, and representing stock from three kennels, all three of whom shared in the final distribution of prizes.

Winners Dogs and Best of Winners went to the very beautiful puppy, "Basquaerie Houx de Noel", belonging to Mr. George M. Lord's Combermere Island Farms at Rockport, Ontario, who won a nice victory over three American Champion adult bitches to annex three more points towards his Canadian Championship. Winners Bitches went to American Champion, "Zayda van Euskara of Basquaerie", owned by the Cote de Neige Kennels of West Stockbridge, Mass., and Best of Breed to American and International "Champion Estat d'Argeles of Basquaerie", owned by the Basquaerie Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. Francis V. Crane at Needham, Mass.

The Great Pyrenees were royally received and featured throughout the wonderful exposition. Mrs. Crane drove "Champion Estat d'Argeles of Basquaerie" to Toronto early for his appearance as one of the feature exhibits at the Horse Show, where he was spotlighted on Saturday evening, November 20th, and described by Mr. C. E. Harbison of New York. Each night thereafter the Pyrenees were represented in the parade of the breeds around the ring of the Coliseum during the evening performances of the Horse Show, and in addition pictures of the breed were featured in the local papers. "Ch. Estat d'Argeles of Basquaerie", to stimulate interest in the breed, appeared at the radio station for a broadcast. Enthusiasm ran high and the Great Pyrenees would seem to be well on the road to permanent establishment in Canada if the interest evinced by the general public can be taken as a criterion of the feeling of the country as a whole.

For a breed claiming Canada as its home of origin in the New World, it is most fitting that after years of obscurity the Great Pyrenees should again be taking hold and making a comeback there. The story goes that Basque fishermen crossing to Newfoundland, where they established permanent settlements as early as 1662, took with them their beloved and trusted Pyrenean dogs to serve as their companions and protectors in their new home. Here the dogs encountered the black Retrievers of the English settlers and became crossed, with the result that the "Landseer Newfoundland" was originated. The breed evidently died out or became so merged as to have lost its individual entity, for nothing more is heard of it in Canada until recent times. A few stray specimens were brought to the Gaspé by a lady of French descent some fifteen years ago, but these dogs were never bred and were seen by so few that when the first Great Pyrenees were sent to Canada in November, 1935, for exhibition at the Royal Winter Fair, the public accepted them as a "brand new breed" and showed interest accordingly. The first Great Pyrenees to be registered by the National Livestock Records Office was "Basquaerie Marie-Blanche", sent from Mr. and Mrs. Francis V. Crane's kennels at Needham, Massachusetts, U.S.A., to Rev. Tom Greenwood at Fort McPherson, British Northwest Territories.

The interest expressed in the breed at the Royal Winter Fair this year was tremendous, with a great many more people alert to the charms of the Great Pyrenees and aware of their identity than in past years. At the first showing of the breed in 1935, six specimens from the Basquaerie Kennels made their debut at the Royal Winter Fair. In 1936, Basquaerie and Cote de Neige Kennels sent representatives to the number of nine, so that this year's entry of 12 at Toronto constituted the largest entry of the breed to date benched in Canada.

A NEW AIREDALE TERRIER

Mr. Ken. W. Fox of Toronto, who owns "Rockley Douglas", the stylish young son of "Shelterock My Superex" ex "Rockley Joy Bell", who after being awarded Reserve Winners at the All Terrier Show stepped up to win three red ribbons, Winners Prize and Best of Winners at the National Kennel Club Show, tells us that this is his first essay at the fascinating game of dog showing. "Rockley Douglas" will join our list of advertised sires early in the year.

SHEPHERD DOG CLUB ENTERTAINS

Following the custom of recent years the officers, members and friends of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada dined with their judge, Dr. Lewis E. Daniels, at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on Monday evening, November 22nd, when the club's president, Mr. Basil W. Essery, K.C., made the perfect chairman. Mr. Essery welcomed to the honor chairs Col. J. N. MacRae, Dr. J. W. Sherer, West Orange, New Jersey, Messrs. Anton Rost, John Gans of New York, and others, all of whom contributed much that was amusing and at the same time instructive.

The breed was distinguished this year through the presence at the show of Mr. Gans' splendid specimen, "Pfeffer von Bern", the German Sieger of 1936, who, since he became the property of Mr. Gans, was sent back to Germany in the interests of the breed, truly a great distinction for any dog. Then the great "Pfeffer" had two of his get at the show in Dr. Sherer's "Tell of Shereston" and "Abigail of Shereston", both were puppies, but "Tell" finally reached the Reserve Winners station as testimony of his inheritance of his sire's amazing qualities. "Frigga v. Kannenbacherland", from the Ruthland Kennels, N.Y., was another good Shepherd that added color to this year's show. She was the Czechoslovakia Siegerin of 1935, and Grand Victress of the United States for 1936. Still one more thing, a chap with a flair for analysis suggested that 51 per cent of all Shepherds entered were either straight "Northmere" or from "Northmere" stock. Well, anyway, these were some of the folks and some of the dogs that furnished much of the "flow of soul" which characterized the Shepherd Dog Club dinner.

A few of the remarks that registered with the diners were as follows:

Dr. Daniels: "I have never before seen a better pair of Shepherds at any one show in all my life." "Most of the dogs coming under me today were splendid in structure and in disposition".

Cameron Chisholm: "That was a splendid sporting spirit shown by Mr. Gans when he brought 'Pfeffer' to our show".

Dr. Sherer: "Don't try to raise too many puppies. The breeder in modest circumstances that is content to raise one litter in two years is to be congratulated". "Invest all the money you can in one bitch. Breed her to the very best dog you can get. Sell your surplus good dogs, but keep your good bitches. Never breed a big bitch to a big dog. Never try to manufacture puppies". "I never lost to a better sport than to your Secretary, Alick Gooderham". "Nature gives man the whelp and leaves it for man to make the dog".

Dr. Hassard (Portage La Prairie, Man.): "Every kindness that could be bestowed on a visitor from a distance, and to a young dog that travelled far to be here has been my experience, and on top of that I have actually seen the true type of Shepherd that fanciers must try to emulate".

Chairman Essery: "I am proud of the loyalty to our breed that is shown by the men and the women who make up this club". "I am grateful to the fellows who go abroad and create that brand of good fellowship which assists in the developing of that progress that is so essential to our breed and to our club". "I am pleased to have Col. MacRae and Jimmie Strachan with us tonight; their interest in our affairs has never slowed up".

The national anthems of the Empire and of the United States having been enthusiastically sung, the curtain was lowered on what must be written into the Shepherd Dog Club records as one of its "red letter days".

NEWS FROM THE BINSKARTH COCKER SPANIELS

We were so pleased with our litter of parti-colours by "Ch. Windsweep Gallant Sir" ex our "Ch. Tapdance of Barrie", that we have shipped our bitch back to the Windsweep Kennels, Sharon, Conn., for breeding again to "Gallant Sir".

Our solid black puppy, "Binscarth Shadow", won Best Puppy in Show at the National Kennel Club, Royal Winter Fair. "Shadow" is home-bred and sired by "Ch. Much Ado About Nothing" out of a cream bitch, "Sugartown Drusilla". She was only seven months old at the time of being shown. She won the solid colour bitch class in the Canadian Cocker Spaniel Association Novice Sweepstake. She was placed first in the Puppy Bitch class and was then judged Best Puppy in Show, all breeds, and was awarded the trophy presented by Mrs. Bethune Smith and the cup from the Canadian Kennel Club for Best Canadian-Bred Puppy.

"Ch. Much Ado About Nothing", is only two years old. At the National Kennel Club Show six of his puppies and young dogs from his first two litters were all placed in the money. They were:

"Coachman of Barrie" (Miss Elsie Mayhew. 1st—Novice Dogs, black.

"The Rogue of Barrie" (R. H. Heppleston). 2nd—Canadian-bred Dogs.

"The Rebel of Barrie" (R. H. Heppleston). 1st—Limit Dogs, black, and Reserve Winners.

"War Admiral of Barrie" (R. H. Heppleston). 2nd—Open Dogs, black.

"Binscarth Nugget" (Dr. F. M. Greig). 2nd—Puppy Dogs and 3rd in solid color males in the Cocker Spaniel Sweepstake.

"Binscarth Shadow" (Dr. F. M. Greig). 1st—Puppy Bitches. 1st—Solid color bitches in the Cocker Spaniel Association Sweepstake, Best Canadian-bred Puppy in Show, Best Puppy in Show, all breeds.

This young stud is also the sire of "Donna of Barrie" (W. F. Condy), who requires only two more points to her championship.

KAMEL KENNELS, LIMITED

What constitutes the outstanding news item of the month is the closing out of the Kamel Kennels, Limited, Toronto, Mr. Reg. P. Sparkes, proprietor.

It has been known for some time by his family and closer friends that Mr. Sparkes' health has been far from satisfactory, and after several consultations held by the attending physicians and specialists the peremptory order was issued that made it necessary for the well-known dynamic figure of dogdom to relinquish, at least temporarily, the reins of his hobbies, and relaxation, so far as possible, must be the order of the day.

It speaks well for the standing of the breed and volumes for the quality of the inmates of the Kamel Kennels, that in spite of the almost unheard of happening, when such a galaxy of outstanding specimens were put on the market, in less than ten days they had all found new homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harman Davidson, of Sioux Falls, Iowa, U.S., made the outstanding trio purchase of the decade when they closed for the Tri. Int. Champions, "Basford Ideal", and "Clarinda" and "Int. Champion Junior's Juno". Mr. Conway H. Olmstead, of Wayston Kennels, Lake Forest, Ill., U.S., then cleared the house by claiming "Int. Champion Kamel Moravian Mainstead", "Kamel Moravian Mainspring", and "English Champion Cefumably Queen", and an extra hamper for Wayston contained five bitch puppies from the latter, sired by "Mainstead", and if ever we saw champions in embryo, it was when we gazed upon these Kamel bred "quints".

With the expressed regret that none of this great Bulldog conglomeration remained in Canada, the very best wishes are extended to the plucky purchasers for the continued success of these additions to their kennels, some of them in no time whatever achieved the greatest heights of canine glory. To Mr. Sparkes every sympathy will be extended in the circumstances which have made it necessary for him to temporarily leave the hobby to which he is so devoted and where he exercised his love of the dog to a marked degree. His early acquisition of perfect health and return to the ranks of the faithful will be the wish of fanciers everywhere.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC., GOLDEN JUBILEE BANQUET

In order that the members of the Canadian Kennel Club may have an opportunity to come together socially for the purpose of marking the Club's Golden Jubilee year, a banquet will be held in the Alexandra Room of the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Saturday evening, February 5th, 1938, at six o'clock. This will be a member's celebration and we trust that many members will take full advantage of the occasion to show their appreciation of our organization, which has withstood the stress of change and circumstance for almost 50 years.

This banquet will be quite informal in every respect and its success will be measured by the standard of membership support. It is our Club's first and only Golden Jubilee, and there can never be another one.

Canada, from Nova Scotia to British Columbia, will have membership representation at this feature fixture. Many notables who have been identified with dogdom in Canada generally, and with National Live Stock particularly, will join with us in this celebration.

Positively, no tickets will be available after Thursday night, February 3rd, and we would thank our people to be governed accordingly so that there may be no suggestion of unpleasantness and no allegation of discrimination. Every member is cordially invited to share in the pleasures of this banquet. Kindly secure your tickets as soon as possible.

was under the management of the Foley Dog Show Organization, Inc., of Philadelphia, Mr. Howard Foley being in charge.

The entry of 630 dogs was a record for the National Kennel Club, and the quality was above the average. The breeds with the largest number benched were: Cocker Spaniels, 68; Dachshundes, 44; Irish Setters, 39; and German Shepherds, 38. The Terrier and Sporting groups had good entries throughout, but Toys were slightly less in number than last year.

The enthusiasm of the National Kennel Club Officials knows no bounds, and Mr. Bethune Smith, who holds the office of President, does his job well. He is backed by a Vice-President, Mr. Alec Gooderham, who has had a long experience in dog shows which stands him in good stead in this most important office. Mr. Gooderham acted as Chief Ring Steward, and his band of able assistants kept the rings working efficiently throughout the show. The Secretary, Captain Dudley-Waters, M.C., has also had many years of experience in this often thankless job, but has stuck to his work well and must have felt very proud of the record entry which was, no doubt, partly due to his past efforts. It was unfortunate that his recent illness prevented him from taking his usual active part in this, their record show. That the show was run without a hitch from start to finish was, no doubt, due to the team work of the officials of this Club.

There was an innovation this year in the "Parade of Champions" which did much to stimulate interest in the dog show section of the Fair, as well as to give publicity to many of the breeds which are not so well known to the lay public. This is the first time that dogs have entered into the Sanctuary of the Horse Show and have taken their place in the main arena. Every night a number of dogs representing the various breeds were paraded, and as the spotlight fell on each, the name, history and purpose of the breed were briefly reviewed over the public address system. We cannot speak too highly of Mr. H. V. P. Lewis for the very able manner in which everything was arranged. He carried out this work in a very commendable manner. With him it is the success of the show that matters, and to accomplish this, his efforts were untiring. This event was received with much enthusiasm, and it is hoped that it will be made an annual feature.

The laying out of the benching was in the hands of Mr. Frank Small, who went to great pains to take care of the comfort and convenience of exhibitors, in itself no light task.

The show was visited by His Excellency the Right Hon. Lord Tweedsmuir and Staff, who made a complete tour of the exhibits, entering into conversation with several of the exhibitors, and taking a keen interest in the Shetland Sheep Dogs.

The crowds attending on the first and third days were well over any previous records, the ringside being crowded during judging throughout the day and well into the evening. It was unfortunate that the judging could not be carried out as was done last year in the adjoining hall, as this method had proved to be a step in the right direction. If this could have been followed out this year the comfort of the spectators at the ringside would have been greatly increased, especially since the attendance was greater than at any previous show. We have since been advised that the reason the judging took place in the main hall was due to the fact that the adjoining hall was partly taken up by the Silver Fox Exhibit, and the portion of the hall allotted to the dog section was not adequate for the erection of judging rings.

Constructive criticism is usually welcomed by show committees and it is suggested here that signs be hung over the benches of each breed so that exhibitors and visitors can find any special breed for which they may be looking, without difficulty. It is also suggested here that some of the leading Terrier breeds could have been judged in the evenings, especially Airedales, Irish and Scottish Terriers, and the breeds where the entry is small be done in the mornings and afternoons. If this were done, it would, no doubt, be appreciated by a great many who are unable to get to the show during the day.

There were also many remarks for and against the public address system. The loudspeakers have a very peculiar effect upon some of the breeds, notably the Terriers, when announcements are made while the judge is having the dogs parade up and down the ring for movement. These sounds attract the dog's attention when he should be showing his paces. If this system of announcing is to be used, all announcements should be made before the judge commences his examination and not while he has his attention on any particular exhibit.

The Children's Classes created much interest, and were judged by Mrs. Thomas Gately. The Boys' Class was won by Master Goodwin Gibson with a Great Dane, and the Girl's Class by Miss Betty McColl, who handled a Russian Wolfhound to perfection.

A complete list of awards appears elsewhere in this issue. A few remarks regarding some of the breeds, the judging of which was witnessed by the writer, follows:

Wire Fox Terriers—26

Should have been a bigger entry under this well-known expert, Mr. John G. Bates. Dr. R. C. Boulding's recent importation, "Ch. Benholme Bayard" went Best of Breed. A little short of coat on the day, but otherwise difficult to fault was this well-balanced and sound-moving son of "Ch. Talavera Jupiter".

Smooth Fox Terriers—14

Here "Normay Saddler" went to Best of Breed. A really outstanding Terrier—one of the best seen for a long time. Hard to fault, he won with ease and was ably handled by Len Brumby.

Airedale Terriers—21

The going was heavy, for among the competitors were "Ch. Cotteridge Brigand", "Ch. Warland Wondrous", "Ch. Warland Wishbone", and "Ch. Briggus Princess". The four champions met the best of Winners, "Rockley Douglas", and after a tough struggle with "Ch. Cotteridge Brigand" (who had his many admirers), "Ch. Briggus Princess" was awarded Best of Breed.

Scottish Terriers—25

A good entry and showing improvement. It was noted that the mode of showing and quality of the dogs is getting better, but we still see too much "nursing" in the ring. It would be better if these dogs were given more opportunity to show their points on their own, for one cannot question the real sporting qualities of this game little dog. Best of Breed went to Mr. A. J. Milne's "Ardmore Argyle".

Sealyhams—9

Were a very sorry lot. Best of Breed went to Mrs. H. Giddings' "Marine Brazen Marina", who stood out on her own. This bitch was acclaimed by the judge as being "about the best he had seen in a long time", and was eventually awarded the trophy for Best in Show—a great win for this popular Sealy breeder.

Irish Terriers—24

Were a quality lot. To my mind, the most important question is size, for there seems to be a prevailing idea that only the big ones should win. There was no stopping the classy young bitch, "Seven Towers Serena" (owned and bred by Sam. Rudell), who went on to win Best of Breed.

Cairn Terriers—8

Were down in numbers but made up in quality. Mrs. Hyslop's recent importation, "Crystal of Crockshed" was Best of Breed.

Kerry Blue Terriers—11

In this breed, several promising youngsters made their debut, and they will make their presence felt at coming shows. Best of Breed went to "Drumhead Ballyshannon" (Longview Kennels), the dam of the promising youngsters referred to, who, when matured, will make the going tough. I believe this win makes "Drumhead Ballyshannon" entitled to the prefix "Champion".

Cocker Spaniels—68

The largest entry in the show, included some excellent specimens of this sporting and popular breed. "Ch. My Black Model" went Best of Breed for the third successive year—a great win. He also completed the "hat trick" in the Sporting Group, and was ably handled by Nat. Levine.

Springer Spaniels—29

A great entry with quality very prominent, which speaks well for this popular breed. The Best of Breed went to the Canadian-bred, "Ch. Dunoon Donald Dhu" (Mrs. J. H. Henneberry). This dog has had a wonderful career in the States, and was a really popular win.

English Setters—14

The dogs were superior to the bitches, which were a moderate lot. The Best of Breed went to "Baldone Buccaneer of Prunes Own" (Mr. and Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke).

Irish Setters—39

A good entry with well filled classes. Some very promising young dogs will be heard from later when fully matured. This speaks well for the breed with such promising stock coming along. Best of Breed went to "Colley Boy of Knocknagree" (Mrs. Laura F. Delano).

Dachshundes (Smooth)—44

The second best entry in the show. One of the faults chiefly noted was the number of bad shoulders and fronts. The Dachshunde is a sporting dog and has to move in rough ground as well as on the flat. He cannot do this if the front and shoulders are not correct, and this weakness will make the dog tire easily. The question of size should be given consideration and kept within the standard. Thin and fine coats were also noted, and this fault can easily be remedied by using more black and tan, and refraining from breeding red to red. Many are breeding red to red just because the reds are fashionable at present in Dachshundes. Best of Breed went to Miss Ruth Grant Jones' "Cid's Lone Ace V. Dachshafen".

German Shepherds—38

Were ably judged by Dr. Lewis E. Daniels, of Detroit, and from comments heard at the ringside, he gave entire satisfaction. Every dog had a good going over and none of his decisions was made without careful consideration. He knew what he wanted and went about it in a workmanlike manner. Best of Breed was awarded to "Pfeffer Von Bern".

SPORTING GROUP (9)

Judge: Mr. Macey Willets

A real good quality class with many having their admirers from the ringside. The final issue lay between the Cocker, "Ch. My Black Model" and the Springer, "Ch. Dunoon Donald Dhu". The Springer on his native heath was a tremendous favourite. The final decision went in favour of the Cocker, "Ch. My Black Model". This award met with rounds of applause, this being the third year in succession that this outstanding Cocker carried off this group at this show. Both dogs were handled to perfection and the margin between these two superb animals must have been very small. Third place went to the English Setter, "Baldone Buccaneer of Prunes Own", not in the condition of those above him on the day, but will trouble the best with more furnishing.

HOUND GROUP (6)Judge: Mr. J. Macey Willets

This group had six entries. Mrs. Cooper's Borzois, "Ch. Kado Strelka O'Dolina", in grand shape, took the group, followed closely by Mr. and Mrs. Duke's Beagle, "River Park Jim III", the third place being taken by the Whippet, "Burwhip Judy", of Burwhip Kennels.

TERRIER GROUP (14)Judge: Mr. John Bates

This group furnished the stiffest competition in the show and were as good a group of Terriers as one would wish to see. With so many splendid dogs in the ring many had their admirers for the premier honour. Wissaboo Kennels' Smooth Fox Terrier, "Normay Saddler" had many admirers from the ringside and certainly looked the winner from this position. (However, it is the diversity of opinion that makes a dog show. Small points apparent to the judge but perhaps not noticeable from the ringside are often the deciding factors which make a "ringside favourite" an "also-ran"). His keenest competition came from the Scottie, Wire, Airedale and Sealyham. After all the competitors had received careful scrutiny, these five were left, the balance being excused. All five were favourites for the top honour, and excitement ran high as they received the final going over. Amid rounds of applause, Mrs. Harry Giddings' Sealyham, "Marine Brazen Marina", was placed in first position, followed by Wissaboo Kennels' Smooth Fox Terrier, "Normay Saddler", third place going to Mr. Hinson Stiles' Airedale Terrier, Int. "Ch. Briggus Princess".

WORKING GROUP (12)Judge: Dr. Thomas D. Buck

The outstanding dogs in this group were the Old English Sheepdog, the Great Dane, the St. Bernard, and the Great Pyrenees. The Welsh Corgis (Pembroke) had many an admirer, as these dogs are somewhat of a novelty on this side. This group took some time to judge, and here again proved the "Glorious uncertainty of the show ring", the top honours going to Mr. J. L. Stewarts' Collie, "Ch. Laird O'Thrums II", followed by Mrs. Hyslop's Great Dane, "Aslan Von Loeland". Third place went to Mr. Len. Collins' Old English Sheepdog, "Int. Ch. Ideal Weather".

TOY GROUP (2)Judge: Mr. Walter Reeves

The Peke, "Ch. Tang Has of Caversham Catawaba" and the Pom, "Ch. Melbourne Supremacy" had this class to themselves, and were placed as written.

NON-SPORTING GROUP (5)Judge: Dr. Thomas D. Buck

This group had five entrants. Mr. Reg. Sparkes' "Tri-Int. Ch. Clarinda" won with ease from Mrs. F. Tompkins' Boston Terrier, "Tompkins' Lady Christina"; third place going to Mr. Ray McLaughlin's Dalmatian, "Ch. Sultan of Kurnool".

FINAL AWARD—BEST IN SHOWJudge: Mr. John Bates

The big event was the competition for best exhibit of All Breeds in Show. The eligible exhibits, Bulldog, Borzois, Collie, Cocker, Peke, and Sealyham, paraded round the ring watched by the excited crowd and enthusiasm ran high when the judge, after much deliberation, awarded the National Kennel Club Trophy for Best Exhibit in Show to Mrs. H. Giddings' Sealyham, "Marine Brazen Marina".

Best Brace—Miss Laura F. Delano's Irish Setters.

Best Team—Mr. Sid Perkins' Airedale Terriers.

Best Puppy—Dr. Fraser M. Greig's Cocker Spaniel, "Binscarth Shadow".

COCKER SPANIELS AT THE ROYAL*RAYMOND TYRWHITT

Although not like the good old days, before and just after the war, when there would be fifteen or twenty good Cockers from the U.S.A. at the C.N.E., there were a few at the Royal from the other side that added tremendously to the interest on this occasion.

"Ch. My Black Model", owned by Wm. Gass and Mrs. Nate Levine of Philadelphia, looking better than ever, which is saying a lot, was "Best of Breed" and "Best Sporting". This makes it three in a row at the Royal for this really good dog and a real showman, not only in posing, but he seems to enjoy himself thoroughly as a merry one should.

"Mardomere Dark Night", Mrs. George F. Henneberry's black from Chicago was Winner in solid colour dogs, with a good black belonging to Dick Heppleston, Reserve. From the ringside it seemed to me the Heppleston dog was unlucky. He is a beautifully set-up dog, good neck, shoulders, front, very heavy bone, nice top and shortly coupled, with profuse coat and feathering. He is a bit thick in skull but otherwise a good headed dog with a dark eye well placed and nice before the eye.

Other blacks well worthy of mention as typical Cockers were Miss Mayhew's "Coachman of Barrie", a litter brother of the Reserve Winning Dog and very much the same type, the same owner's "Glenrouge David" winner of the Canadian-bred Class, Fred Shawley's "Black Rod of Avalon" second to "Coachman" in the Novice Class and Dr. Greig's "Binscarth Trader".

The Red Dogs were not impressive. "Forbes Ross" went to Winners parti dogs with the black and tan American-bred "Orthodox Victor of Irolita", who also won the Puppy Class. This dog is still at the raw age but with maturity will win even more easily and will prove a decided asset to the breed in this country, or I miss my guess. I only hope I get the opportunity to use him. Reserve Winner was Harry Draper's flashy red and white "Walkley Cavalier", who won the open parti dogs; a strong class with an American entry among the "also rans".

Puppy Bitches had "Binscarth Shadow", a black owned by Dr. Greig, on top. She is a very promising puppy, clean cut all over with good head properties, eye and expression. Second was Mrs. Forbes Ross' "Orthodox Jewel of Irolita", another black and a good one. "Vivadora Black Jewel", owned by Mr. Price, won the Novice Class, and is developing into a very attractive bitch, who impressed me specially with her apparent merry disposition in the ring.

Mrs. A. H. Beal of Toronto, brought out a new one, "Nonquitt Lady Anne", a black American-bred. This bitch was not in good shape, being very rough, which was a very great pity as she is a good one. Good head in all details, with a lovely eye, well placed neck, shoulders, front, bone, all that could be desired, short coupled and good behind.

She could be better set-up, although her condition made this fault appear worse than it really is. If this bitch is mated to the right dog, I don't think there is a doubt but she will prove one of the greatest producers we have had in years and put her sporting owner right on top in no time.

James Haig brought out a yong red bitch "Sand Girl O'Raith", clean cut all over and should mature into a good sort.

Miss Mayhew's "Glen Rouge Val" was another good red, particularly pleasing head.

"Sugartown Drusilla", a buff owned by Dr. Greig, and "Claudette of York", a red owned by W. A. Price, have been shown consistently and so must be well known to all.

Winners solid bitches went to the black, "Orthodox Lady of Irolita", owned by Mrs. John M. Lazear of Pittsburgh, Pa., and handled by the popular Nate Levine. This bitch is good all over and if "My Black Model" had not been there, might easily have been Best of Breed.

"Bluffwood's Agricola Diana", a black and white, owned by Miss Ada K. Rew was on top in parti bitches with A. Kelman's "Princeton Good Humour" and Geo. Boyd's "Lucky Lady" next in line.

EDITORIAL EXTRACT

If I may be so bold, or impertinent, or conceited, or whatever it is, I would like to offer a few don'ts to men new in the game of field trials, be they owners, handlers or friends, if they would experience the same satisfaction I have in the sport these many years.

Don't expect every dog you raise or buy, regardless of its breeding, to be a winner. The percentage is very small. Many men are never so lucky, but the hope of success and the love of the game keep them forever trying.

Don't expect even a very high-class dog to win every time he goes down. The greatest bird-finder on earth can't find game on a birdless course. Dogs are but dogs after all and anything can happen at a field trial.

Don't think the judges are overlooking your dog. If he is showing what it takes they will notice him soon enough. If they didn't love a good dog they wouldn't be up there judging.

Don't sob and cry if you lose, but if you must, take the matter up privately with your hunting pals who came to root for old Pete, or best of all with your wife, if she is present. You can weep on her shoulder and she at least will be sympathetically understanding. If losing breaks your heart, field trials are no sport for you, as you will be unhappy much of the time. Better take up some game where you keep your own score.

Don't pay too much attention to the alibis of your inexperienced handler. The poor cuss has to say something. If he is the right sort he will learn much from his defeats and will come along all right.

Don't complain to a judge. He may ask you your dog's name and you may be stunned to find out he doesn't even remember your dog or the race he ran. If you are an officer of the club and are not satisfied with the judging, don't do a lot of talking. It doesn't do your club any good. Just don't invite these men to judge again.

If you think you would like to judge and get a chance, take it. It is a lot of fun. You can ride a horse for nothing, keep up in front of everyone, look important and do a little bossing without danger. A thick skin comes in handy and if you are a little deaf you may never learn just how dumb, blind and crooked you really are.

If you are a handler just starting, take your winning or your beating like a good sport. No one cares for sobs or alibis.

And now to owners, handlers and friends alike, I recommend the lines of that great American sportsman, Theodore Roosevelt:

Play fair,
Tackle low,
Hit the line hard.
But whatever happens don't squeal.

American Field.

Quebec Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor,

MISS VEVA H. ROBSON,
Rear 3424 Drummond St., Montreal, Que.

THE Sanction Show of the Montreal Kennel Association was a most successful affair and likewise very enjoyable. There were some excellent dogs shown and it seemed as though the usual "just pet" type was absent. Miss Nancy Brown's Pekinese, "Wun Dale of Hong Kong", was awarded Best of Breed, Best in Toy Group and Cup for Best in Show, all breeds. A great attraction was Mr. Diment's (of Toronto) life-saving Collie. It was the cause of a great deal of interest, also was on way of proving to the amateurs—a pure bred dog has got brains—why not? However did such a fallacy start, that the mongrel is cleverer than the aristocrat. This being Xmas week and everyone busy, news is at a premium, so let us just look over the past year. From my own point of view, the dog game is on the uplift. It seems to me, people are asking for better dogs and willing to pay more. The dog game has certainly become a large commercial enterprise, with possibilities of still going a long way yet. Pets have stepped up to a higher plane in our generation. They are now almost on a par with the family. Look at the smart outfits, the dog foods, the baskets and hampers, the boarding kennels, the walking service, the beauty shops. Further on you will read about a proposed dog cemetery in Montreal.

The North End Kennel Club are holding their winter Sanction Show in January. This, too, I am sure will be a success and we will all be able to spend another pleasant evening—going to the dogs.

The Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada, will have a new regime in January. Mrs. Enright will become Hon-President; Mrs. L. H. D. Sutherland, President; Vice-President, Mrs. Preston; 2nd Vice-President, Miss W. N. Stegall; Secretary, Miss Vera H. Robson; Treasurer, Mrs. Fred. H. Goodfellow; Committee, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Percy Adams, Mrs. Excell, Miss Hope Davidson. We all, I am sure, wish the old and the new officers the best of luck for the new year.

To my many readers (to those especially who have been so kind and considerate about sending in news, I thank you), and do wish you all a Very, Very Happy New Year.

MAPLE LEAF ANIMAL REST, INC., MONTREAL

Charter applied for

In many cities of Europe, United States and Canada, cemeteries for animals and pets have been established with great success, and as stated by the Massachusetts S.P.C.A. "The larger cities that lack them are poor indeed."

After giving this undertaking a great deal of study and consulting with different authorities, the organizers are assured of the necessity for such a cemetery and of the undoubted support of all those interested in this humane endeavour to create a final resting place for animals, pets and etc.

A company is being formed with a capital of $49,900 to finance this undertaking.

An option has been secured on approximately seven arpents of land in the town of St. Laurent, located opposite the Aerodrome and Montee St. Laurent Boulevard.

This property has a frontage of 557 feet on Bois Franc Road. Water mains and sewers run the full length of the property. The Montreal Tramways and the Canadian National Railways pass within a few feet of the property and it is easily accessible from any part of the Island of Montreal by excellent highways.

This property is being designed as a beautiful park by Frederick G. Todd, Landscape Architect. In this park anyone can purchase burial lots for their pets that will be cared for in perpetuity, a Trust fund being created for that purpose.

Many prominent animal lovers, including the officials of the S.P.C.A. have endorsed our proposals.

From an area of seven arpents, after deducting the allowance for roads, walks and building areas there would be left approximately 200,000 square feet for lot space.

Estimating plots to average 2 by 4 feet (8 square feet) would give 25,000 plots to be sold at from $5.00 up and after providing for development, perpetual care, sales, advertising and general expenses, would show a substantial profit.

These profits will be augmented by the sale of service and supplies and to reclamation of plots held under lease and to be resold.

• Tattooing For Identification

TATTOOING FOR IDENTIFICATION OF DOGS

It gives me great pleasure, says Mr. E. J. How, of the Institutional Farm at N. Battleford, Sask., to say a word on behalf of this wonderful cause.

I have been practicing tattooing for identification for the past 10 years and fully appreciate its protective advantages, as per the following example: A few weeks ago I received a letter asking me to furnish registration and transfer for a bitch I had sold to a Mr. A some considerable time ago. Mr. A had sold to Mr. B, and the latter wanted the essential papers. The first buyer, Mr. A, never had been given any papers, therefore, he had none to give the new owner Mr. B and this, you will readily admit, could easily have been disturbing in the regular way, but I said to Mr. B, send me the tattoo marking, and I will get the papers for you at once. Mr. B has never answered my letter, and I leave it to Kennel and Bench readers to draw their own conclusions. The records are protected. I am protected and Mr. B is protected—from himself.

Again, when selling a dog the owner tells his client about the identification marks before shipping, so exchanging animals in transport becomes a possibility that is fully protected. The dog is I.R. or B.P. and nothing else as the case may be.

Again, tattooing will simplify all age questions for the judges officiating at the shows who are familiar with The Canadian Kennel Club procedure, as a glimpse at a tattoo mark will at once convey to such a judge whether a dog is 1 year old or 10 years old according to his year letter.

Again, last Spring I got a phone call saying that a black Labrador had been found, and in its right ear was the letters A.S. and in the left ear I.N. In a moment I had referred to my private record book, and was able to advise the party on the other end of the line who the dog belonged to, and in jig time the rightful owner was in possession of his lost Labrador, fortunately the dog was one of my own breeding.

And finally, when two or more litters of any one breed are brought together, mixed, and allowed to run together for any length of time, I don't think the man has been born yet, who could separate them, and place them where they belonged with any degree of certainty. Tattooing automatically furnishes absolute certainty and there is nothing left to chance. The prospect who sees a young puppy in any kennel, and feels that he will want that puppy at a later date, if he is given the left ear tattoo mark they will be sure to get the right pup. Protection for the second owner, and similar protection for the breeder, and no room for error in recording, and so I am a staunch advocate of tattooing our dogs for satisfying protection.

(Signed) E. J. How.

TATTOOING HAS MANY ADVANTAGES

The Rockhaven Golden Retriever Kennels of Vancouver, B.C., and the Gilnockie Kennels at Englewood, Colorado (owned by Colonel Samuel S. Maggofin, Vancouver), both enjoy the protection of absolute identification, and since the practice was instituted in 1934, somewhere around 70 puppies have been tattooed, and so successful has been this new policy that the first encounter with any ill effects has still to be made, and there is no noticeable pain connected with the operation. After the marking has been made the puppy gives his head a shake and immediately forgets all about it, and is ready to gang up with his associates in the run for further play. The whole thing is harmless, though its efficiency cannot be questioned.

Tattooing is particularly good for a breed like Golden Retrievers, as may be easily imagined. When litters of about the same age, and all one color with no distinctive markings, get together in the exercising paddocks, it is hard to tell which is of which litter, but with tattooing all guesswork is eliminated. When a customer visits either kennel and selects a certain puppy, and takes the tattoo number, even if it is left for several weeks before delivery, it is impossible for any error to creep in, and, of course, the same applies to a lost or stolen dog to a great extent.

The advantages are so diversified that it would take considerable time to enumerate them all. So much so that Rockhaven Kennels have all their inmates indisputably protected for identification, and the dogs at our Gilnockie Kennels at Colorado are similarly treated for identification, although the American Kennel Club does not call for tattooing in this respect.

(Signed) R. Hall, Manager.

"THIS IS THE ONLY WAY"

Mr. A. C. F. Archambault, Montreal, P.Q., has tattooed all his well-known English Setters, old and young alike, and he is convinced that this practice provides the only positive means of dependable, certain identification. Tattooing makes errors of identification an impossibility in any kennel where several dogs of similar type and of similar color and markings are kept, it being so easy to mistake one dog for another, and particularly is this true in respect to the younger dogs in a kennel, that tattooing has been accepted as a perfect godsend to those who have adopted it practically. Once a dog has been successfully tattooed, all danger of error of identification has been eliminated, and the advantages of stealing dogs for profit are reduced to an actual risk.

Mr. Archambault says that tattooing on the ears is quickly done, the markings are permanent, and he recommends every breeder to accept this means of kennel protection. Not only that, Mr. Archambault is prepared to furnish the details of his tattooing experiences to any interested fancier, and his address is 5257 Delorimier Ave., Montreal.

(Signed) A. C. F. Archambault.

Here is a striking example to tattooing for identification: "R" is the year letter, and "25" tells that this dog was the 25th to be tattooed at this kennel this year. The ear carriage does not suffer from the operation apparently.

"THE ONLY THING TO DO"

Mr. W. Russell Sexton, Toronto, is another of our keen members who has found tattooing for identification to be a move in the right direction. As a matter of fact he says "It is the only thing to do for proper identification". Some time ago a party to whom Mr. Sexton had sold one of his good "Benair" Scotties, lost the treasured possession. As sometimes happens, the youngster was lost and the finder protested the loser's claim to his lost property. "Where was his proof that the dog was his?" "How could he identify the dog as his allegedly lost property?" All matters of doubt and suspicion were promptly dispelled, and identification was established beyond the shadow of a doubt when a simple telephone call brought from Mr. Sexton's Private Breeding Record Book the identifying letters and number as tattooed on the dog's ears.

The reference contact between the Private Record Book and the tattooed ears allows of different litters to be together without any possible chance of error separating them again, and this in itself is a great satisfaction to any breeder quite apart from its protective virtue.

It is a very simple operation to tattoo a dog. The pain suffered by the puppy is merely momentary. The puncture does not go all the way through the ear, but only the skin on one side of the ear need be punctured. I have tattooed 22 puppies so I know whereof I speak.

(Signed) Wm. Russell Sexton.

"ADVANTAGES OF TATTOOING"

For the past three years I have tattooed all my dogs as a means of positive identification, and am convinced that this practice ensures absolute protection for the breeder and buyer.

The operation is simplicity in itself. I tattoo on the ear, and when done correctly find that no harm comes to the ear carriage as a result of tattooing. I find the age of eight (8) weeks to be the best age for tattooing Wire Fox Terriers.

Apart from the satisfaction that comes from permanent, reliable markings, is the enthusiasm of one's clients when they are advised that the dogs have been tattooed for identification, they seem to think it furnishes a seal of distinction and protection.

Signed (Mrs. E.) Eva Cork.

"FORCED ADOPTION"

Mr. Harry Hogg, Toronto, is all ready to start tattooing his well-known Cocker Spaniels, a practice that he is greatly in favor of, believing that it will be helpful in making dependable records that will be an absolute protection for the kennel and Mr. Hogg's many customers. Mr. Hogg advances as a reason for most of the opposition to the general adoption of tattooing, the argument that a little too much pressure was used when urging the members to adopt the practice.

Perhaps there is more truth than poetry in Mr. Hogg's contention at that.

"FIRMLY CONVINCED"

That is what Miss W. M. Steggall, Ville St. Pierre, P.Q., offers as her opinion on tattooing for identification, and her breed is the Pug, who is not the largest of the breeds by any means. Says Miss Steggall: "I am firmly convinced that this method of identification will, in time, be generally adopted, as it is a simple, painless, permanent and, I believe, foolproof practice. I have convinced several of our Montreal fanciers of its reliable usefulness, and they have made application for their 'letters' accordingly".

Signed (Miss) W. M. Steggall.

"SIMPLE OPERATION WITHOUT DANGER"

Mr. G. C. Fraser, prominent Collie breeder of Guelph, Ont., is convinced that tattooing is going to be the breeder's most dependable safeguard in the future, and as tattooing is one of the simplest of operations, and being free from danger to young or matured stock, he cannot imagine how any breeder can object to its practice. Mr. Fraser is of the opinion that every interested fancier should step in voluntarily and help himself to the protective advantages of sure identification.

(Signed) G. C. Fraser.

"THIEVES AND CROOKS LOATHE IT"

Now it is Mr. Wm. Filman, Aldershot, Ontario, at the "mike", and, says Bill: "I cannot speak too highly of my experience in tattooing my Beagles, as it takes away much of the work, and all of the worry, in respect to breeding and raising the little hounds. I do not understand why people hesitate to adopt tattooing as thieves and crooks loathe it, and I would not accept any money for my tattooing outfit, not even a hundred dollars, if I could not replace it.

(Signed) Wm. Filman.

"THE ONLY SOLUTION"

Seeds & Birds Co., Ltd., Montreal, P.Q., offers an opinion which carries an abundance of conviction, i.e.: "We believe that the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., should enforce the tattooing of dogs, which we find to be the only solution to ensure authenticity of pedigrees. Furthermore, we are convinced that tattooing must be essential to breeders as this type of identification leads to dependable, absolute certainty".

(Signed) J. Laurencell.

OTHERS ARE DOING IT

Says the "Chase" for December, 1937. "Mr. Archie McDuffie unfortunately lost a very valuable bird dog, and after months of investigation, the dog was finally found and easily identified because it had been tattooed in the ear. Mr. McDuffie was so pleased to have his dog returned to him that he did not prosecute."

Mr. Frank J. Sedler, Cincinnati, Ohio, lost a Foxhound at the National Hunt, Jackson, Ohio, in 1934, efforts to locate the missing dog were continuously persisted in, and in the Spring of 1937 it was successfully traced and positively and immediately identified through a tattoo mark on the flank.

Because of the above, and similar such experiences in the Foxhound country, serious consideration is being given to the matter of proper identification at the present moment.

THE SUPREME BOSTON TERRIER CLUB

THURSDAY, Dec. 16th, was a gala night at radio station C.J.R.C. when the genial manager, Harry McLaughlin, turned the facilities of the station over to the Winnipeg Free Xmas Cheer fund. On this occasion George Kynoch of the Silverdale Kennels donated a handsome Springer Spaniel Puppy, to be sold to the highest bidder. As is usual with Mr. Kynoch he usually does things right or not at all, and on this occasion he stipulated that he would train the puppy free of charge, and guaranteed the puppy to be absolutely thoroughly trained by next September. The bidding on the puppy started at one dollar, and before midnight had reached the handsome sum of $140.00. To this amount the Free Press added 25%, which brought the sum up to $175.00. This will certainly make many hearts brighter at Xmas time. Well done, Free Press; Harry McLaughlin; Radio Station C.J.R.C., and their able announcers Jack Thompson and Claire Chambers; and not to forget our friend Mr. Kynoch, who made the thing possible.

The Silverdale Springer Spaniels have certainly made a great name for themselves during 1937. At every show where they were exhibited in Western Canada, they carried off the majority of the ribbons. Many trained dogs have been exported to the U.S.A. from these kennels, and recently I had the pleasure of reading some correspondence from the sportsmen who had bought these dogs. It was most encouraging to know that the trained "Silverdales" are making good in their new homes across the line.

It appears that as soon as George Kynoch makes a dog a champion he does not stay with us very long. The last Springer to make his championship under the Silverdale colours was "Quantock Fencer", a very typey black and white dog. This dog went Best in Show, all breeds, at the G.W.K.C. show in September, and then in November went to Best in Sporting Group in Calgary. I understand that he has been sold and shipped to California, and will make his American debut at the big Golden Gate Show the latter part of January in San Francisco, under the well known all-rounder, Alf. Delmont. He will be shown under the ownership of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Sewell of Beverly Hills, California. On taking a casual glance at the Silverdale Springers the other day, I could not help but notice a couple of lovely females, one of them I understand was Winners at Calgary, but what caught my eye most of all was two grand youngsters, about five months old, brother and sister. The male is a very stylish liver, white and tan dog, and looks, when fully developed that he will be ready for the big time circuit, and the same thing applies to the bitch. These are two very smart looking young Springer Spaniels, and quite the best I have seen in many years.

I understand that the Silverdale's have again engaged the services of their last year's trainer—Tommy Wade. And no wonder, as facts prove he certainly made a wonderful job of the many youngsters he trained. I believe negotiations are under way for the purchase of better and more adequate training grounds, and by March 1st, I expect the training camp will be again in full operation.

The fourth annual Banquet and Dance, sponsored by the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club in the Hotel Majestic on November 19th, was the greatest success yet recorded. Upwards of ninety chairs were occupied at the event. Mr. Harold Bentley, president of the Club presided and extended a kindly welcome to all. A long list of toasts were submitted: The King by the Chairman; The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., T. A. Smith, reply J. L. Pateman; Kindred Associations, Jack Cook, reply Mrs. J. L. Pateman; Fort Garry Kennel Club, reply Mrs. Marie Kerr, Boston Terrier Club; T. Kay MacKenzie, Scottish Terrier Club of Canada; The Ladies from the capable George Duncan, and ably responded to by Mrs. Wells of Norwood. At this point it was announced that a member, Mrs. Bob. Simpson of Isla fame, had topped the pole in her district for School Trustee. The visitors were toasted very ably by President Bentley, and duly responded to by Dr. Morrow. This part of the programme being ended, adjournment for a short period saw the room arranged for music and dancing. Secretary T. A. Smith called the company together and a telegram was read from Director George Kynoch, at Vancouver, wishing all a merry time. Prizes won at the Field Picnic were presented. The master of ceremonies for the remainder of the evening was Mr. Jack Murray with his orchestra and ably assisted by Mrs. Monro as vocalist. Auld Lang Syne brought the gathering to a close, all too soon for most of the company.

A recent sale of the high-class Orange Pomeranian, "Cromwell Golden Fairy", is now recorded by Mrs. Bentley, her breeder, sired by "Ch. Elnor Mite"; dam, "Ch. Sandhills Cherry." The new owner is Miss Betty Janceek, Chicago, who is delighted with her purchase. A nice specimen, 3 lbs. in weight, a winner, mated before leaving for her new home.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fort Garry Kennel Club was held in the Board Room of the Free Press on the 3rd December, Mrs. Jack Rogers, vice-president, in the chair. Minutes of previous meeting adopted. The Secretary, Mrs. Pateman, gave her completed statement of the financial position of the Club, which proved most satisfactory to all. Considerable discussion and many viewpoints were submitted regarding sweepstake or futurity without any success so far. The secretary informed the meeting that a speaker would be provided for the February gathering on the 4th, when a good turn-out of members and friends is looked forward to. Meeting adjourned at 10.30.

The monthly meeting of the Scottish Terrier Club of Canada was held at headquarters, Hotel Majestic, on the 7th December, President MacKenzie in the chair. Minutes of previous meeting adopted. Many points rising therefrom were discussed at length, resulting in the appointing of Tom Altham and George Kynoch to make arrangements regarding the Club Emblems, and the Secretary, with President and Mr. Kynoch to negotiate for the Club stationary, and for the requirements of the members in this respect. A well known exhibitor and supporter, Miss Pollexfern, who has been inactive for a few years, has now returned to the fold and was made a member of the Club. Kennel and Bench was on the secretary's desk, and the members expressed their pleasure, when the set-up was explained by the secretary. This being all the business the meeting, which was well attended, adjourned at 10.45.

The Contact Committee of the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club met the ladies of St. Agnes Guild in the parlor of the Hotel Majestic previous to the regular Club meeting on the 9th, when it was agreed to stage the Spring Show in the auditorium, Winnipeg. The Guild will endeavour to increase the pre-sale of admission tickets to offset the additional cost of renting. The meeting then adjourned.

The regular monthly meeting was then held, Mr. Bentley presiding. Minutes of previous meeting adopted. The General Committee's report and recommendations on the constitution and by-laws was heard, and was lodged as a notice of motion to be put forward at the Annual General Meeting of the Club to be held in January, 1938.

Nominations for office-bearers for 1938 were: President, Mr. George Duncan; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Robert Simpson; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Marie Kerr; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. T. A. Smith; Assistant, Mr. Charles Joplin; all by acclamation. For Committee of General Purposes, Mesdames R. Simpson, T. Eamens, A. Clements, J. Skuce, Messrs. J. Cook, J. Kerr, A. Gostick, G. Kynoch, J. Spinks, J. Masterman, H. Bentley, T. K. M. Kenzie, with power to add. Messrs. A. Gostick and J. Cook were appointed auditors. The installing of officers will take place at the annual meeting. Names of Judges for the next Show were submitted, and the secretary requested to ascertain if their services would be available on the dates arranged. Meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock.

From Dr. and Mrs. Hassard, Portage la Prairie comes the news of recent sales of German Shepherd Puppies over six months of age. Mr. Bert Neil of Winnipeg, now owns the black female, "Judy Joy of Javenhass." Mr. H. C. Munn, manager Bank of Montreal, Portage, purchased "Rhett of Javenhass", a dog. Miss Mae James of Portage secured "Flur of Javenhass", a female. Dr. Washington of Winnipeg bought a sister to the above, so did Inspector Melville of Winnipeg, leaving the Kennel with a male and female from same litter of 7, which were exhibited at the National, Toronto, and did well for youngsters. The dog, "Jon Breton of Javenhass", 3rd Novice; "Silvia of Javenhass", 3rd in Puppies.

The preview we are favoured with in the Christmas Number of Kennel and Bench, introducing the Golden Jubilee of the Canadian Kennel Club by Mr. J. D. Strachan, will be read with much interest by those whose interests have been associated with the Canine Fancy, and Kennel Club activities during that period and beyond. I am sure many will look forward with pleasure to the monthly contributions as they come along.

The Empire Exhibition in the City of Glasgow to be held in 1938 causes me to hark back to a previous exhibition held in the same city in 1888 where I was operating in the Fine Art Section, during the time the exhibition was open. My firm was engaged to collect the works of art, pictures and sculpture, and display them. A few of the journeys made to bring in exhibits included that to the estate of Sir Robert Jardine, Castlemilk House, Lockerbie, Dumfriesshire. On approaching the house we were accosted by a number of "Mustard and Pepper". Dandie Dinmont Terriers, which was most interesting to me. Knowing that Sir Robert was strong in Coursing Greyhounds, I noted in the entrance hall a full size portrait of Sir Robert with a Greyhound by his side. This portrait was presented by the Dumfriesshire Boroughs when Sir Robert was elected to parliament. Mr. Norman, the estate agent, directed us to the Kennels where some 80 Greyhounds were seen—Saplings and Breeding Stock and Coursing Dogs, all in separate large enclosures in a meadow within sight of the house, south of which was the Annandale and Nithsdale course. All gateways and slaps and approaches to them were painted white and kept open when the meet was on, to give the hares a sporting chance, when the dogs were slipped. This was the month of March and my mate and I conveyed the pictures back in late November. The two pictures were the largest in the British Section, and were rated very high and greatly admired by visitors. The subjects were: Prince Charlie entering Edinburgh, and Prince Charlie's farewell to Flora MacDonald. Both were painted on mahogany boardwood, one inch thick, and beautifully bound to prevent warping and handsome ornate frames; no glass. At the Glen Innerleithen, the homes of Sir Charles Tennant, Baronet, and Major Thorburn, Peebles, we received the same greeting from a crowd of Dandie Dinmonts. This variety was very popular in this district immortalized by Sir Walter Scott.

My first visit to the Glenboig Kennels of Robert Chapman (referred to in a previous article) was made when on the same mission for the exhibition to the home of Mr. James Donnachie, manager of the Glenboig Fire Clay Company, whose land adjoined that of Mr. Chapman's. After many years as manager for Bob Chapman Davie Bailie established his Kennel at Garbathill House, Castlecary, close by the scene of the railroad disaster reported a few days ago from Scotland.

Coltness House, Wishaw (the home town of Jimmie Strachan), was on our itinerary and a big collection of paintings and sculpture were moved by rail to the city. To obtain a conveyance from the house to station we had to wait until a funeral party was over, all the horses of the carriage hirer being engaged thereat. The dogs noted here were Black Retrievers. I visited Wishaw on two occasions before this with a crowd of Exhibition Pigeons on New Year's Day, 1884 and 1885.

At Hamilton Palace, then occupied by the Red Duke of Hamilton, father of the present Duchess of Montrose, owner of the Island of Arran, and the Pointers and Schnauzers carrying the Arran prefix. Here I became acquainted with Jimmie Donald, the gamekeeper, and a few Retrievers were noted here.

This Glasgow Exhibition was opened by Queen Victoria and was a great financial success, with a surplus of fifty thousand pounds left over.

The Scottish Terrier Club (Scotland), was instituted 1888, Hon. Secretary, J. N. Reynard, Clydeford House, Cambuslang. I have in my possession the original issue of the Rules and Regulations of this Club with date thereon, 1888. The standard of points adopted by this Club was drafted years before for the hard haired Terrier Club by Messrs. J. B. Ferguson (Greenock), Thomson Grey (Dundee), John McColl (Glasgow). The secretary was Alex. MacBrayne, who passed on early in 1885.

Alberta Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor,

S. W. FOSTER,
9617 101st St., Edmonton, Alta.

HAPPY NEW YEAR, folks, glad to greet you from the old stand! Yes, we must admit we breathed something that sounded very much like a sigh of relief when we received a letter from Mr. Swann informing us that, beginning with this issue, Kennel and Bench would return to its old set-up.

Honestly, we did our very best to conform to the new arrangement, and personally had very little fault to find with it, but what with the unfavourable comment heard on every hand, together with the fact, whether by coincidence or otherwise, that not a single outside contribution has reached us since its adoption, it is scarcely to be wondered at if we felt somewhat thankful when we learned that it was to be abandoned. We are sorry that Mr. Swann's letter did not reach us in time to pass the news along to our outside correspondents. But when they see for themselves that the Alberta page has been restored to its former place in the sun, we trust that they will rally to its support with greater enthusiasm than ever before.

We mentioned in last month's notes that the members of the Edmonton Dog Fancier's Club were holding a series of house parties with the two-fold purpose of replenishing their somewhat depleted treasury and of stimulating interest in matters pertaining to the Club. Since that time, on December 4th to be exact, another highly successful bingo party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gardner. Any doubt which may have existed in the minds of some as to the advisability of these parties, must be fully dispelled as they seem to be growing in favour with each succeeding event. A third purpose, one on which we had not counted, is being served, that of discovering the birthdays of the members of the Club, the honour this time going to Mr. J. G. Young. Who next?

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Clutton of the Victor Labrador Kennels, Edmonton, are being congratulated on the success of their dogs, and particularly some of those more recently sold, among which may be mentioned "Ch. Grand Duke Victor", now the property of Dr. C. A. Temple of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Clutton are especially pleased to see the advertisement which Dr. Temple has in the December issue of Kennel and Bench, and a letter recently received from the Doctor contained the information that since this dog's arrival in the East he has been mated to an imported female which, we understand, is being returned to the old land.

We are sorry to be unable to give a more detailed account of the Dog Show held under the auspices of The Children's Hospital Aid Society of Calgary on November 26th and 27th. We were unable to attend this show and, as already mentioned, having received no word from our Calgary correspondents we have no information other than that received from the Edmonton exhibitors who attended. These all report a very successful show at which upwards of 180 dogs were benched, including some noted winners from south of the international boundary, one of which carried off the award for Best in Show. The Edmonton fanciers also report the usual pleasant time which always distinguishes the Calgary shows and feel that they were successful in carrying off their fair share of the awards. A particularly pleasing feature of the occasion was a get-together at which Mr. W. H. Pym of Vancouver, who judged the show, gave an address on matters pertaining to Dog Shows gathered from his wide experience in both Canada and the United States, while Mr. Geo. Kynoch of Winnipeg gave a most interesting talk on his recent visit to the British Isles.

As we are suffering from an even worse than usual dearth of kennel news, we are taking the liberty of using some of the space allotted to us by bringing forward some matters pertaining to Canadian Dogdom in general, which we have heard repeatedly discussed.

We have been privileged to read an assortment of circular letters sent out by those who would seek office on the Board of Directors, and, while these letters in every case show a commendable degree of enthusiasm, it is the opinion of many with whom we come in contact that some matters of the greatest importance are being overlooked.

It is not our intention to discuss here the points which these gentlemen are making the main planks in their platforms, but once more we do intend to comment on some of their omissions and in doing so we may couple them with an opinion expressed by Mr.

Blair, the Director for British Columbia in his report to Canadian Fancy as published in the December issue of Kennel and Bench.

Mr. Blair apparently wishes to see the present system of point rating—as he expresses it—"tightened up". We know nothing of Mr. Blair's activities in the dog game nor of the particular breed of dog which he sponsors. By further reading this gentleman's statement, we are informed that twelve licensed dog shows were held in British Columbia during 1937, six being in the city of Vancouver and six on Vancouver Island, probably an equal if not greater number of shows than has been held in the other three Western Provinces combined.

Let us consider the case of the Edmonton fancier. With considerable of a struggle we manage to hold two small local shows each year. Calgary, the nearest outside point, and which also holds two shows a year is 200 miles away, while Medicine Hat the only other Alberta city (we believe) where a single show was held in 1937, is about twice that distance. Should we decide to take our dogs to a show in a Saskatchewan city the distance would be approximately 600 miles with Winnipeg bordering on a 1,000. Is it any wonder that dogs of the utility type such as the larger breeds in the sporting and working groups have almost disappeared from our shows? Consider the cost and inconvenience of transporting a dog weighing from 50 to 150 lbs. over these distances in order to compete in a championship even under our present system of point rating. And yet there are those, who, without giving anything in return, would increase the number of points required and also the number of dogs per point.

While there undoubtedly are circumstances under which the winning of a championship may appear "cheap" it is hard to understand why a deaf ear has been turned to the appeals so often put forward for a change in the system in at least so far as it concerns the judging of the groups.

How often have we seen a dog which was a 1-point winner, through circumstances over which his owner had no control, apparently, if not officially, placed 2nd or 3rd in the groups with a dog winning 4 or 5 points by reason of entries in his particular breed, being placed still farther down. Yet under the present system of no official placement but that of the group winner, only this one dog can get the benefit of the points so attained. Why not make—shall we say—four definite placings in the groups allowing each of these dogs the benefit of the higher rating of any dog over which they may be placed. This would, in some measure, recompense the owners of the larger breeds whose entries are usually few in number, for what they lost through the change to the present point rating system, while it would not necessarily do anything to tend to the cheapening of a championship.

ALBERTA COWGIRL'S AMBITION

Friends of R. S. Tyrrell, late of Botrel, Alta., and now of Darlington, England, will be pleased to learn that he and his family are perfectly at "home on the range" across the Atlantic. Puppies by "Cossack Carzoff" won well at Harrogate under Her Grace the Duchess of Newcastle, and Harrogate is a championship show, of course.

Then Mr. Tyrrell's eldest daughter won a scholarship at Simon Langton's at Canterbury, and has since passed her London University matriculation with honors, and at the same time winning the Simmonds Prize for first girl in all England for geography. On top of this she has got a grant from the Kent education authorities, another from her school and one from Whitehall. At present she is at St. Gabriel's College at Camberwell, S.E., and from there she will take a year at the Royal School of Art, and after that her "ambition"—to teach school around the world.

We certainly trust that friend "Stan's" lucky star keeps in the ascendancy.

TORONTO'S NEW ANIMAL CLINIC

The palatial and up-to-the-minute small animal clinic, built by Dr. Alan Secord, Toronto, was thrown open for public inspection on December 2nd, when, literally, hundreds of animal lovers, and particularly dog fanciers, visited this new haven for "Man's Best Friend".

Mr. Justice McFarland was to have officially opened the new clinic, but as he found it impossible to be present, this important office was transferred to Mr. Cameron Chisholm, and he certainly was the perfect substitute. Introduced by Dr. Secord's sports associate, Mr. Gregory Clark, feature writer for the Toronto Daily Star, Mr. Chisholm paid an elaborate tribute to the force behind the project—Dr. Alan Secord—and declared the new clinic to be the best of its kind on the continent. Mr. Chisholm's message carried to the remotest parts of the building over a new arrangement for that purpose, and as he continued to enumerate the modern features of the clinic, and dwelt on the operating room and equipment, where an operation could be seen through a spacious glass partition, and suggested that the doctor, whilst operating, could, at the same time, contact and be contacted from anywhere in the building, the magnitude of everything that had been seen became better understood.

In the X-Ray room an expert showed very interesting negatives and cleverly explained in detail exactly what they represented. The offices, waiting rooms, meeting rooms, laboratories, wards, washing and clipping departments, the spacious isolation department were all features reviewed by Mr. Chisholm cleverly and entertainingly.

Floral bouquets, telegrams and letters told of how the populace was receiving this new addition to the welfare of animals in Toronto, and Dr. Secord had every right to feel proud of his new undertaking, and at the manner of its being received at the hands of the general public, and no doubt he was, but all that the observant could read in his modest face, was that his heart was too full for extended vocal expression, and he was obliged to accept the many tokens of goodwill with a very quietly spoken "I thank you all".

Dr. Secord will be pleased to have interested persons call and look over his new clinic at any reasonable time.

HALDON KENNELS

"Haldon Crystal" following up her wins of Winners Prize and Special for Best Puppy at the All-Terrier Show duplicated them at the National Kennel Club Show, where her litter brothers, "Haldon Monarch" and "Haldon Sovereign" ran first Canadian-bred and first Limit respectively. The youngsters were nine months old, sired by "Haldon of Dunure" ex "Haldon Juanita". Their next appearance in public will be at the Westminster Kennel Club Show, New York. 1937 has been a successful year for the Haldon Scottish Terriers and the "sold out" sign is nearly due to be displayed. The outstanding feature of the year has been the unprecedented demand for Haldon bred bitches.

Saskatchewan Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor

MRS. PAT. RANDALL

2535 Melrose Ave., Saskatoon, Sask.

JUST as we were about to settle down to gathering up the odd gleanings of news for this month, word came in that Kennel and Bench would be reverting back to the old style. Nothing could have pleased us more, although we thought last month's issue was pretty good; so, the contributions for January being very meagre, we gladly present what little there is of them.

Paying a visit to the Lynn Kennels of Mr. A. G. Goddard, Saskatoon, we learned that Mr. E. Chevrier of Winnipeg had been a recent visitor, and had purchased that good Springer female, "Smiling Through of Lynn", shipping her later to a client in Waterloo, Iowa. "Florence of Lynn", and "Anthony of Lynn", two six-month-old puppies, were also purchased by Mr. Chevrier, these being shipped to his trainer at Lake Manitoba.

Another visitor to these kennels recently was Mr. D. W. MacNabb, of Vancouver, B.C., who acquired a promising young black and white female named "Lucky Girl of Lynn".

Mr. R. L. Winterton of Saskatoon, owner of the smart black and white male Springer, "Marksman of Lynn", that went Winners Dogs in a good entry under Geo. Kynoch at Saskatoon last spring, chose the same time as ourself to pay Arthur a visit. We derived a keen enjoyment from the discussion of these two sporting enthusiasts over a fortnight's shooting trip taken last fall.

There has been a great deal of comment lately as to the well-known "Monty" Wallace having entirely departed from the dog game since the disposal of the last of his famous Newfoundlanders. This talk, of course, is only among those who have not been in close contact with him of late. Take it from one who knows, both Mr. and Mrs. "Monty" have never been more enthusiastic over dogs, or for that matter, anything pertaining to them, particularly since "Monty's" initiation at the field trials last fall. Sporting dogs seem to be very much in the spotlight.

For some years past there has been a strong feeling of indignation among all dog owners in Saskatoon over the high cost of individual license fees imposed on them by the city. Representatives from both the Kennel Club and the Gun Dog Club have approached the city council with a plea for lower rates. The results have not yet been made public, but we have every reason to hope for a satisfactory reduction.

Saskatchewan may be suffering from hard times, caused by the drouth of previous years, but she still has dogs good enough to send out to the shows. Out of the number of dogs representing this province at the recent Calgary show, Best of Breed, Irish Setter, went to "Derry of Boyne", owned by Gill Scales, Regina. "Piccadilly Pride", English Bulldog, owned by J. R. Turner, Regina, made a nice win by going Winners Male in a class of five, making the long trip to the show worth while. "Ch. Chia-Wan's Chinky Wink", owned by Mrs. Pat Randall and Dr. M. D. French of Saskatoon, Best of Breed Chows. Two eight-months-old Collie puppies, "Elmhill Mac D" and "Elmhill Patricia", litter mates by "Elmhill Napoleon" ex "Oakland Memory", owned by Dr. J. T. Cooper of Saskatoon, really proved to be the Saskatchewan highlights. "Patricia" winning over "Mac D" for Best of Breed Collies, she going on to take Best Canadian-bred Working Dogs, Best Novice in Working Group, both puppies winding up by going Best Brace All Breeds over twenty-eight pounds.

The Calgary show drew a large entry of dogs, many of outstanding quality, again proving the old saying of "Get a good judge and the dogs will follow". The judge, Mr. W. Pym of Vancouver, B.C., went about his business in a most workmanlike manner, leaving little for the ringside critics to squawk about.

We had the pleasure of again seeing the Edmonton boys, Joe Caswell, Bill Quilley and "Red" McColl. Ye old firm of Quilley and Caswell were kept on their toes handling a string of nineteen dogs from their home town. From Medicine Hat came the well-known pair of Burroughs and Goff, while from Lethbridge came Mrs. J. D. Lonsberry and daughter. We were very sorry to hear that Mr. Lonsberry was in the hospital at the time of the show. Winnipeg had a strong representation in the persons of Messrs. Kynoch, Allen, Kirby and Sikorski. Was somewhat expecting to hear Geo. Kynoch sporting an English accent after his trip abroad. Should have known better; it would take more than that to change the Scot.

From Regina comes the report of the annual election of officers for 1938. The following attained office: Mr. J. Williams president; Mrs. E. Laing, secretary and treasurer; Mr. W. Semple, Dr. Hewett and Mr. J. R. Turner as vice-presidents, while the executive consists of Messrs. R. Laing, W. Pollard, G. Roast, D. Junor and Mrs. G. Lindsay.

The Argood Pekingese kennels of Mr. and Mrs. R. Laing, Regina, have undergone a complete transformation and have blossomed out to be the most stylish of stylish Peke kennels. Nifty curtains on the windows, mattresses with gay patchwork quilts, linoleum and rugs on the floor, separate sleeping compartments. The whole lay-out is cheery, sanitary and comfortable. (One would have to be a society editor to write up Peke kennels properly.) "Ninky Carlos", inmate of the aforementioned kennels, recently whelped one male puppy. We did not manage to get the name of the sire, but know it to be from the Richeleau Kennels, Winnipeg. Not being an authority on Peke puppies we cannot pass any comment on it, but the youngster's name, "Isgood of Argood", sounds good.

J. R. Turner of the Croydon Kennels will, with luck, have a number of Boston Terriers puppies for the early spring, having mated "Ch. Bell Rock Laura Daley" and "Croydon's Molly O" to "Bell Rock Count". "Croydon's Snow Fuss" to "Bell Rock Mon Nom". A litter of Cocker puppies sired by "Croydon's Black Punch" should help swell the number.

As we were about to sign off, word came in that Wilf Hoy's Fire Fox Terrier bitch, "Talaurora Susan", had whelped a nice litter of four males and one female, sired by "Rockcroft Velocity", a good son of "Vivadora Masterpiece".

If anyone should ask us what we found to be the most pleasant, interesting and tantalizing task we have ever undertaken, we would promptly reply, "Taking dog pictures for advertising purposes". Thereby hangs a tale.

IMPORTATION OF GREYHOUND

Mr. Joseph Farrell, of Fairbank, Toronto, Ontario, in advising us of his importation of the show Greyhound, "Deanfield Daisy", naively reminds us that it is many days since a strictly show "longtail" was imported to Canada, and immediately as if in panorama we visualize the great "Int. Champion Master Butcher", "Fighting Warplane", "Kenmar Big Drive", "Kenmar Iris", "Kenmar Lancer", "Champion Towyside Tarquin" and some lesser lights. The majority of these importations were pre-war ventures and many a Best in Show was lifted by the spectacular "speed masters" of that day. "Deanfield Daisy" hails from Cornwall, England, the birthplace of the greatest of her race. A daughter of "Prince William", she

British Columbia Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor

"VIC" W. WILLIAMS

4844 Quebec Street, Vancouver, B.C.

HELLO, EVERYBODY. In case you have missed some of the notes sent in from B.C. during the past two months, I would suggest you look through your last three issues from cover to cover. The change in set-up was worth a trial but did not meet with the approval of the majority of the members, and so we go back to the previous method of presenting news items from the provinces, and the writer hopes you will show your approval by sending in lots of material for this section.

Giving credit where credit is due, I think we should all appreciate the efforts of our Editor, Mr. Swann, and congratulate him on the Xmas number of Kennel and Bench. It is true we are not yet in the same street as the Xmas number of "Our Dogs", but one has to experience the amount of work entailed to obtain advertisements and compile articles to really appreciate the job on hand. The unfortunate part of it all is that the advertiser does not definitely know the exact value of his advertisement as it may bring in business in the future, but every successful business has an advertising appropriation, so why not run our doggy activities on good proven business methods, namely, with due consideration given to an adequate amount of advertising. Our friend Dr. Cooper offers some very timely advice when he states we should not let up on our efforts to make Kennel and Bench a bigger and better national doggy magazine, but this can only be done through co-operation and advertising support. The value of any periodical is largely measured by its circulation, and the circulation is made through offering good reading and authentic information.

The article in the December issue of Kennel and Bench on "Your Record Office" was most interesting, and this form of acquainting all members of the inside functioning of registration matters will, I hope, tend to retard hasty criticisms of a most important integral department of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. From personal experiences I can only say that we have a most efficient and obliging personnel at Ottawa who have on more than one occasion gone out of their way to expedite the completion of registration papers for the convenience of the member. There appears today a more complete understanding of the importance of registration requirements, and this is reflected in the minimum of time taken to complete a registration or transfer.

Now to our Jubilee programme. The cash prize offerings as tabulated in last month's issue and recommended by the special committee is quite attractive and is bound to bind together and stimulate the bond of benefit of owning a Canadian-bred dog, being a breeder of an outstanding dog of quality and exhibiting the same whilst enjoying the benefits of membership in The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. On perusing the different prizes offered it appears to the writer that it would have been better to segregate either the provinces or East and West, and my reasoning for offering this suggestion is due to the fact that shows are held at certain scheduled allotted dates which give the exhibitor who does not need to worry or study expense a decided advantage over the exhibitor with limited means who can only exhibit in his own local show or within a reasonable distance of his domicile; for example, Mr. X has a Setter and shows him at three Eastern shows and wins a Group at each show. We will presume that the first Western show follows the three Eastern shows and Mr. X invades the West and, let us say, in a three-show circuit he accounts for two more Group winnings, what possible chance has any dog exhibited at the Western circuit cited got of catching up to Mr. X and his dog? In British Columbia last year we held twelve shows, possibly too many, but suppose we hold only six shows this year. The advantage the Eastern exhibitor has makes the competition unfair. If the present suggested prizes could be reallocated per province or East and West of a certain part of Canada, I am inclined to think the competition would be keener and we should have better patronized shows. The prize money need not be increased, but at least it would be more evenly circulated.

The B.C. Gun Dog Club of Vancouver put on its first Field Trial for Spaniels under C.K.C. Field Trial Rules on November 28th. They were held at the C. M. Oldfield Farm, kindly loaned by Mr. Oldfield, who, by the way, is one of the officials of the West Coast Jockey Club. The weather was exceptional and conditions were ideal for the test. Judges were Messrs. Robert Reid and H. J. Olafson, whose decisions were well received by both exhibitors and spectators alike. Guns were Messrs. Rick and Henry Jacobson of Lu Lu Island, Marshal was Mr. C. H. Bradbury, whilst the Field Trial secretary was Mr. W. N. Edgerton. Stewards were: C. Johnson and J. Penrice. The trial was held on ring neck pheasant and all birds rocked took to wing, giving each dog a very fair test. "Keiths Patsy", the winner of the last Springer Spaniel Trial, was again the winner and special mention is due "Patsy" and her owner, Mr. Keith Coughlan, as added honors are brought to B.C., as this is the first Field Trial Spaniel to be recorded as champion under C.K.C. Field Trial requirements. Having personally seen this bitch retrieve perfectly from water, the writer can merely add that "Keiths Patsy" is truly a champion and worthy of the distinction bestowed on her. Second place went to "Bench Ch. Prince of Huntswell", owned by Mr. Chas. Butler, who also captured third place with his "Queen of Huntswell", and again fourth place with "Butlers Flirt". The honor of presenting the prizes fell on Mr. J. A. Blair, our director, and in a few well-chosen words a most successful trial came to a close with determined efforts forecast for a bigger and better trial next time.

News comes from the Snowden Kennels of Mr. Evan Grevell of Vancouver that sales in English Setters are on the uptrend and some tempting offers have been made for "Snowden Clincher" and "Snowden Patch", the winning dog and bitch at the recent Junior League Show. Mr. Grevell, by the way, is one of our oldest Setter fanciers and holds an all-breed license to judge in both Canada and the U.S.A. It is good to see an old fancier come to the front again, and we hope more successes will follow you, Mr. Grevell.

Local Shepherds did well at the last Junior League Show, Miss P. Prinsep accounting for Winners Male with "Sunshine Rajah", and Mr. Ashton Winners Female and Best of Breed with his "Notsa Cutie von Cito".

Sealyham Terriers at our last show were a quality lot, with Mrs. W. C. Woodward winning Winners Bitch and Best of Breed with her imported "Devdale Demure Damsel", and the Drumadon Kennels of Victoria Winners Dogs with another importation, "Manobier Messenger".

The Scottie fanciers turned out a very nice complementary entry for Scotty Kynoch, thinking naturally that a Scotchman knows a Scottie, and he did not hesitate in his awards which received general approval, Winners Dogs going to Carnation Farms' "Washington Carnation Count", and Winners Bitches to the same kennel's "Carnation Charmer", whilst "Ch. Carnation Classic", entered for specials only, annexed Best of Breed. Our own Dickie Burns was well pleased with Reserve Winners Dogs with his "Hepburn Emblem", a nice win in hot company.

Mrs. S. C. Sweeney cleaned the boards in Cairns, getting Best of Breed with her "Ch. Haileybury Scruff".

Wire-Haired Terriers were none too numerous, with the honors of Winners Dogs and Bitches going to the Tynedale Kennels of Mr. Joseph Dodds, his two new importations, "Newmaidley Knave" and "Fascination of the Forces".

A representative entry of twelve Smooth Dachshies resulted in a popular win for Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher with their "Betty" gaining Best of Breed.

Springer Spaniels were a disappointing entry, top place going to "Butlers Flirt", which is now a Canadian champion, owned by Mr. C. Butler of Vancouver; and talking about Springers, it is worthy of note that Mr. J. A. Blair's Springer, "Ch. Rocky of Avondale", claims the distinction of being sire of the recently crowned Field Trial Champion, "Keiths Patsy", and from the same litter, "Ch. Keiths Kim" recently sold for a record price. Unfortunately, the dam of these two outstanding dogs has passed on to her happy hunting grounds, but fortunately the head man is still going strong and has accounted for his share of pheasants this fall. (I know because I ate part of one.)

The sixth Annual Dog Show of the Kennel Club of the Junior League of Vancouver was held at the Armouries, Vancouver, on November 20th. This fixture, true to tradition, proved to be "the Show" of the year with over two hundred and fifty entries, which included many celebrities of canine importance from the States and Western Canada. Judges officiating were Messrs. Geo. Kynoch of Winnipeg and Vic. W. Williams of Vancouver. The smooth running of this show was indeed a credit to the Bench Show Committee, consisting of Miss Kaye Farrell, president;

Mrs. B. M. Wilson, superintendent; Mrs. John MacKinnon, show secretary; Miss N. McK Lang, treasurer; Miss Jean McD Russell and a host of very able assistants. Honorary veterinary surgeons were Drs. Ken. Sewell, R. G. Cuthbert, Jack Nelson, T. E. Sleeth and G. Pinder.

The honor of presenting the trophies to the Group Winners and Best in Show was graciously performed by Miss Jean Russell.

The parade of champions, numbering over twenty, was a hit with the crowd, who vigorously applauded each entrant as they paraded around the ring. Space will not permit more than a few passing remarks about the principal winners. Once again that Grand Doberman, "Int. Ch. Jockel von Burgund", took top honors. He was very ably shown by handler Russel Zimmerman and looked much better than the last time shown up here, and further comment on this grand dog would be superfluous as his record of performance speaks for itself. Reserve Best in Show and Best Toy was another international champion, the Pomeranian, "Int. Ch. Wembley Gold Shade", owned by Mrs. E. Bradley of the Milesleigh Kennels, Vancouver, B.C. The previous wins of this gorgeous coated Pom have been referred to so often through these columns that we will pass on to the next Group Winner, the American-bred Cocker, "Windridge Symphony", owned and shown by Miss Swalwell of Seattle. This dog has done considerable winning in Canada and very little criticism was heard over the placing in this Group, which was very hotly contested. Next we come to the Non-Sporting Group, headed by the Boston Terrier, "Playfair Rockfeller", owned and shown by Mr. Playfair of Portland, Oregon. This was a repeat from his last showing up here at Victoria a few weeks ago. This dog was put down right and shown expertly by his owner. The Sporting Dogs (Hounds) Group winner was the "Am. Ch. Afghan Barreyhill Dolly", who repeated her outstanding win of the Hound Group at the Los Angeles Ambassador Show, where 800 dogs were exhibited (October 30th). I almost forgot to mention that this dog is owned by the well-known Mrs. Jack Oakie of movie fame. The outstanding Terrier Group was also keenly contested with the final result of honors going to the Kerry Blue, "Ch. Kil Barney", Imp., owned and shown by his owner, Mrs. Gladys Peers of Vancouver, B.C. This dog has gone to the top on a previous occasion and so was quite at home in the final line-up. And so another show comes to an end with sighs, delight and, as always, disappointments, but with the one thought in mind that the whole proceeds of the show will be donated to charity to make some poor family happier this Yuletide. In fairness to the judges on the occasion, we can only remark that if the applause of the awards was any indication of the approval of the grandstand, then a great many minds thought alike at this particular show, and grumblings were noticeably absent.

Let us start the New Year with at least one good resolution, and that is: "If we cannot boast the other fellow, let us not knock him". As long as we play the game and let our conscience be our guide the law of average will give us our just desserts.

So to all fanciers everywhere, my sincere wish is "Good health and the best of luck in your doggy activities in 1938".

"Let us be as true as our dogs think we are".

GROUP JUDGING IN IRELAND

For the first time a system of Group judging will be introduced at the Ballsbridge Show, Ireland, on St. Patrick's Day, 1938. As compared with our six groups the Irish innovation will only number five: (1) Sporting Group (other than Gundogs and Terriers); (2) Gundog Group; (3) Terrier Group; (4) Non-Sporting Group; (5) Toy Group.

BRITISH COLUMBIA GUN DOG CLUB SPANIEL TRIALS

The British Columbia Gun Dog Club held their first annual licensed Spaniel trials for all Spaniels with the exception of Irish Water Spaniels at Lulu Island, B.C., on Sunday, November 28th. With six entrants in competition the following final placings were made: 1st to "Keiths Patsy", an English Springer Spaniel, owned by T. K. Coughlan. 2nd, the English Springer Spaniel, "Ch. Prince of Huntswell", owned by C. M. Butler. 3rd and 4th were the English Springer Spaniels, "Queen of Huntsville" and "Butler's Flirt", both dogs owned by C. M. Butler.

The trials were enjoyed by a large crowd who showed quite a lot of enthusiasm and the judges' findings proved quite popular with all concerned.

● The Dachshunde

This breed has been known in Germany, his own country, and also in Austria since the 16th century. His age-old service to man either in pack, brace, or single for general hunting and particularly in the burrow has provided him with a field of usefulness in which, to the delight and satisfaction of his followers, he has always excelled. He has also proved himself to be a dog of parts, particularly in the countries of his adoption, where oftentimes his natural fields of activity are few. Here, as a companionable member of the household, he has established himself amongst the indispensables. In the early days of shows, when the importing of dogs from Europe to this continent became almost a fashion, the Dachshunde was left severely alone by the professional importer with the result that with the exception of the real lovers of the breed he had no following that could give him the required lift into public favor. But along with the world changes that have taken place the public's taste and fancy in dogs has become broadened and the Dachshunde gained a foothold on the ladder of popularity and from then on his rise to fame savors more of romance than the cold facts of breed history. A member of the Hound group he is so far removed from his compeers in appearance and character as to be quite distinctive. He is now topping the breed entries at our large shows and often finishes the day with the highest honors to his credit.

Special characteristics of the three coat varieties of Dachshunde:

The Dachshunde is bred with three varieties of coat: (a) Short-haired (or Smooth), (b) Wire-haired, (c) Long-haired.

All three varieties should conform in the characteristics already specified. The long-haired and short-haired are old, well-fixed varieties, but into the wire-haired Dachshunde the blood of other breeds has been purposely introduced; nevertheless, in breeding him the greatest stress must be placed upon conformity to the general Dachshunde type.

Description and Standard of Points General Features

General Appearance—Low to ground, short-legged, long-bodied, but with compact figure and robust muscular development, with bold and confident carriage of the head and intelligent facial expression. In spite of his shortness of leg, in comparison with his length of trunk, he should appear neither crippled, awkward, cramped in his capacity for movement nor slim and weasel-like.

Qualities—He should be clever, lively, and courageous to the point of rashness, persevering in his work both above and below ground; with all the senses well developed. His build and disposition qualify him especially for hunting game below ground. Added to this, his hunting spirit, good nose, loud tongue, and small size, render him especially suited for beating the bush. His figure and his fine nose give him an especial advantage over most other breeds of sporting dogs for trailing.

Conformation of Body — Head — Viewed from above or from the side, it should taper uniformly to the tip of the nose, and should be clean cut. The skull is only slightly arched and should slope gradually without stop (the less stop the more typical) into the finely-formed, slightly-arched muzzle (ram's nose). The bridge bones over the eyes should be strongly prominent. The nasal cartilage and tip of the nose are long and narrow; lips tightly stretched, well covering the lower jaw, but neither deep nor pointed; corner of the mouth not very marked. Nostrils well open. Jaws opening wide and hinged well back of the eyes, with strongly developed bones and teeth.

Teeth—Powerful canine teeth should fit closely together, and the outer side of the lower incisors should tightly touch the inner side of the upper. (Scissors bite.)

Eyes—Medium size, oval, situated at the sides, with a clear, energetic, though pleasant expression; not piercing. Color, lustrous dark reddish-brown to brownish-black for all coats and colors. Wall (fish or pearl) eyes in the case of grey or dapple-colored dogs are not a very bad fault, but are also not desirable.

Ears—Should be set near the top of the head, and not too far forward, long but not too long, beautifully rounded, not narrow, pointed, or folded. Their carriage should be animated, and the forward edge should just touch the cheek.

Neck—Fairly long, muscular, clean-cut, not showing any dew-lap on the throat, slightly arched in the nape, extending in a graceful line into the shoulders, carried proudly but not stiffly.

Front—To endure the arduous exertion underground, the front must be correspondingly muscular, compact, deep, long and broad. Forequarters in detail:

- (a) Shoulder Blade—Long, broad, obliquely and firmly placed upon the fully-developed thorax, furnished with hard and plastic muscles.
- (b) Upper Arm—Of the same length as the shoulder blade, and at right angles to the latter, strong of bone and hard of muscle, lying close to the ribs, capable of free movement.
- (c) Forearm—This is short in comparison to other breeds, slightly turned inwards; supplied with hard but plastic muscles on the front and outside, with tightly-stretched tendons on the inside and at the back.

- (d) Joint between Forearm and Foot (wrists)—These are closer together than the shoulder joints, so that the front does not appear absolutely straight.
- (e) Paws—Full, broad in front, and a trifle inclined outwards; compact, with well-arched toes and tough pads.
- (f) Toes—There are five of these, though only four are in use. They should be close together, with a pronounced arch; provided on top with strong nails, and underneath with tough toe-pads.

Trunk—The whole trunk should in general be long and fully muscled. The back, with sloping shoulders, and short rigid pelvis, should lie in the straightest possible line between the withers and the very slightly arched loins, these latter being short, rigid and broad.

- (a) Chest—The breast-bone should be strong, and so prominent in front that on either side a depression (dimple) appears. When viewed from the front, the thorax should appear oval, and should extend downward to the mid-point of the forearm. The enclosing structure of ribs should appear full and oval, and when viewed from above or from the side, full-volumed, so as to allow by its ample capacity, complete development of heart and lungs. Well ribbed up, and gradually merging into the line of the abdomen. If the length is correct, and also the anatomy of the shoulder and upper arm, the front leg when viewed in profile should cover the lowest point of the breast-line.
- (b) Abdomen—Slightly drawn up.

Hindquarters — The hindquarters viewed from behind should be of completely equal width.

- (a) Croup—Long, round, full, robustly muscled, but plastic, only slightly sinking toward the tail.
- (b) Pelvic Bones—Not too short, rather strongly developed, and moderately sloping.
- (c) Thigh Bone—Robust and of good length, set at right angles to the pelvic bones.
- (d) Hind Legs—Robust and well-muscled, with well-rounded buttocks.
- (e) Knee Joint—Broad and strong.
- (f) Calf Bone—In comparison with other breeds, short; it should be perpendicular to the thigh bone, and firmly muscled.
- (g) The bones at the base of the foot
