ROSS-MILLER PUPPY FOODS

Raising well-bred puppies is more of a job than meets the eye. Breeding close seems to reduce natural stamina. Puppy diseases which mongrels throw off frequently prove fatal to dogs of high breeding.

The way to build up a puppy's stamina is to take the job in hand immediately he is weaned. Feeding, housing, bathing, exercising are all important and should be systematized and regulated. Pure fresh water at all times is a vital necessity. Keep him healthy and well fed during his growing time, but not over-fed.

R-M "TINY TIM" KIBBLO

As soon as weaned begin with Ross-Miller "Tiny Tim" Kibblo until he gets his teeth. He'll thrive on it. It is nourishing and digestible, and rich in the vitamins which stimulates growth. Feed it moistened with warm milk or broth, six times a day.

R-M KENNEL KIBBLO

And next, when he is coming along as an active, tumbling and rolling young devil, hungry all the time, a little ground fresh meat should be fed regularly. Just the right amount of charcoal is in the Kibblo to aid digestion and eliminate worms.

R-M PUPPY MIDGETS

As he begins to grow up into a rangy youngster feed him R-M Puppy Midgets, something on which he can chew and develop his teeth. They contain a high percentage of bone, and all the other nutrients necessary to development. They are baked at low temperature so as to retain the vitamin values. Feed Midgets dry, alternating with the moistened Kibblo.

Grocers, department stores, feed stores and dog shops sell Ross-Miller Dog Foods. If you have any difficulty, write us direct.

Meeting of the Board of Directors

of the Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room of the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday afternoon, January 20th, 1938, at 3.30 o'clock. The President, Col. J. N. MacRae, presided. Directors present included: Dr. H. E. Batt, Mrs. E. Brown, B. W. Essery, K.C. and Capt. H. Dudley-Waters.

It was regularly moved by Capt. Waters, seconded by Dr. Batt, and carried:

"That, the Minutes of the previous meeting of the Board of Directors be taken as read."

The Secretary reported that Mr. Reeves was unable to attend the meeting because of a judging engagement in California.

The Secretary advised that, acting on instructions received at the last Board of Directors' Meeting, he had purchased a desk set to be presented to Mr. Peter Wright as a token of appreciation for his services as legal advisor to the Club. The Secretary explained how the desk set had been included with the other Christmas gifts on the Christmas Tree at Mr. Ward Wright's home, as a surprise for Mr. Peter Wright on Christmas Day. The Secretary read a letter from Mr. Wright expressing his appreciation for the gift and also expressing his desire to serve the Club whenever the opportunity presented itself.

The Secretary read a letter from the Club's legal advisor which read as follows:

"I am pleased to report that, through the efforts of Mr. R. G. T. Hitchman, arrangements have been made with the Department of Secretary of State for the forfeiture of the Charter of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., granted in 1929. Mr. Hitchman took the matter up with the Department and the matter has been completed in such a way that no disbursements have been incurred and the matter of that incorporation is now closed."

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. C. E. Living, the Club's oldest living member, wherein the latter expressed his regrets at not being able to accept the Club's invitation to attend the Golden Jubilee Year Banquet to be held February 5th.

The Secretary reported that a copy of the election returns and the financial statement, as prepared by the Auditors, Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth & Nash, were on the table for the inspection of the Directors.

The Secretary read a letter from the Club's Auditors, who had advised that, while the "book value" of the bonds held by the Club amounted to $32,606.85, the market value was $33,277.50.

The Secretary read a letter from the Canadian National Live Stock Records Office which showed that, during the year 1937, the Records Office handled 29,240 transactions on behalf of The Canadian Kennel Club. The actual number of transactions for all breeds totalled 209,274. The cost per transaction worked out at 23.71 cents less 2.77 cents of Government grant. Actual cost to The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. was, therefore, 20.9 cents per transaction. This, the President advised, was considerably below the per transaction charge of several years ago.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

● THIS EVENTFUL YEAR

THE Canadian Kennel Club's Inc. Golden Jubilee is marked by the present year and that fact brings forcibly to our mind that 1938 is the "red letter" period of Canadian dogdom.

The commemoration of fifty years of longevity, even if it be just that, is an occasion for rejoicing, but when it is infused with usefulness and progress as in the case of this half a century old birthday of the parent body, it provides material for deep thought and consideration.

We may look back on the earlier happening of that existence and the retrospection shows the efforts of the early pioneers in a favourable light and does much to foster a resolve that henceforth even greater efforts for the future will be our aim.

This occasion under notice has no precedent and the programme of events will be governed, thought out and sponsored by those in charge, and the magnitude of the proceeding at this early stage is by no means determined.

Every member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and anyone who may enjoy those privileges during the year cannot take their responsibilities too lightly, for chances are, the opportunities will not be repeated for any of us, and the tone of sincerity and latent grandeur that surrounds happenings of this nature leave a life-long impression.

● CANADIAN-BRED, CANADIAN-OWNED

THESE are magic words, and their full significance will certainly be brought forward during the present year, and 1938 will go down in history as the period when Canadian-bred and Canadian-owned dogs really came into their own. The Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club Show to be held at Winnipeg this month will see the introduction of The Canadian Kennel Club's, Inc., Golden Jubilee. Special prizes are to be offered at every all-breed dog show held under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., this year. This encouragement for the Canadian Breeder and Canadian Owner calls for unanimous approval and every support.

● LET'S GO

A FEATURE that will appeal to many of our readers this month is the publicity covering the four coming American shows which appear in our pages. These just-across-the-border shows provide a wonderful circuit opportunity for Canadian exhibitors and those who aspire to the distinction of International Championship Honours for their dogs cannot allow the opportunity to pass unnoticed. As listed they are: Niagara Falls Kennel Club, Niagara Falls, N.Y., February 25th; Buffalo Kennel Club Show, Buffalo, N.Y., February 26th and 27th; Genesee Valley Kennel Club Show, Rochester, N.Y., March 1st and 2nd; and the Detroit Kennel Club Show, Detroit, Michigan, U.S., March 5th and 6th.

● WHAT'S IN A NAME?

OUR contributing editor for Saskatchewan, Mrs. Pat Randall, supplies the information that on Thursday, January 13, a new club named "The Kennel and Bench Club of Regina" was formed in that city. The date chosen for the inauguration gives definite proof that superstition has no part in the make-up of those taking part. The title chosen, associated as it is with that of the "official organ", surely calls for our blessing on the project, and the new organization has our best wishes for a long and useful life.

● OUR GALLERY

TO our combined picture gallery, which includes past celebrities both human and canine, one more has been added which will give lustre to the collection. We are indebted to the generosity of our old friend, Mr. Henry Draper, of Toronto, who has presented us with a photo from life of that thrice celebrated Toy wonder, the Yorkshire Terrier, "Champion Lord Byng", whelped on November 3rd, 1921, and bred by Mr. E. A. Fitzsimmons of Toronto. He came into Mr. Draper's possession when six months old. Through his sire, "Champion Monsieur" (imported by the late Mr. John Kenyon, of Toronto), and his dam, "Dainty Girl", the celebrated English strains of "Harpurhey" and "Pellon" were introduced into the Dominion. His remarkable career was dotted with top honours won at the National Kennel Club Show, 1924; Toronto Kennel Club Show, 1925; London Canine Society Show, 1925; Toronto Kennel Club Show, 1925. The Toronto Kennel Club Show of 1928 saw him emerge once more and, though in his seventh year, he not only topped his breed and all other Toys, but went on to win the Special Prize for Best in Show, all breeds. Dr. George Anderson of New York City was the judge. "Champion Lord Byng", with the daintiness of a supreme Toy dog, possessed all the Terrier attributes of style, activity, and gameness, whilst his long straight coat, always in abundance, and almost uncanny "knack" of pose placed him with the spectacular kings of dogdom.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, INC.

FOR the Christmas number of Kennel and Bench we published the first chapter of a serial story featuring the "stock-taking" of the affairs of the Canadian Kennel Club for the past fifty years. Then the January issue called for the second chapter almost before we had time to take a deep breath, and now comes February on the gallop. How the time does fly!

In many respects February will be quite the outstanding month of our Golden Jubilee Year. For the fiftieth consecutive time the club's officers will have been appointed or elected, and from the moment that the Election Commission's report is adopted at the Annual General Meeting on Saturday, February 5th, 1938, the officers having received preferment at the hands of our members will be charged with the control of the club's affairs for the most interesting year since organization itself. May their several tasks be as pleasant as they are certain to be varied, multiple and colorful.

Reverting back to the misty past, where we really belong, we find our club being served by its second president, and by its second secretary; both of these officers had been charter members, both were men of stout, courageous heart, and of good sound judgment; both gave freely of their time and of their diversified talents in spite of a garrulous opposition which continued to make itself felt in a most discouraging manner. Such queries as "Why was the Canadian Kennel Club necessary?" "What progress could the Canadian Kennel Club hope to make with only two shows a year, and both shows being held on the same dates?" "Why wasn't registration with the American Kennel Club sufficient for all Canadian requirements?" and "Why wasn't the competition at dog shows in the two countries under American Kennel Club rules the most to be desired?" These, and other rather disturbing criticisms, were ignored as far as humanly possible by our early leaders as their objectives slowly began to come within focus.

The registering of kennel names was clearly indicated as an additional membership service and also as a source of revenue which was badly needed. To Mr. Harry A. Carter, Simcoe, Ont., went the honor of registering the first kennel name, "Canadian". The second kennel name to be granted was "Mount Royal", for Dr. T. Wesley Mills, Montreal, P.Q., and the third name to be registered was "Corktown", on behalf of our good friend Mr. C. E. Living,

Golden JUBILEE Year

1888 --- 1938

Westboro, Ont., who may now be our oldest living member. Mr. Living registered "Cleo II", a Cocker Spaniel, as No. 80 in the first Canadian Kennel Club, Stud Book, and he has the further honor of being the only person upon whom has ever been conferred the distinction of "Honorary member with full privileges". And so we see that registering kennel names became popular almost over night, much to the gratification of our second and third presidents, i.e., Mr. Lorne Campbell and Mr. Tom Davey.

Individual dog registrations were 402 for the first year, 1889, 455 for 1890 and 847 for 1891. These figures represented a great deal of spade work, but very little cash in the bank to show for it.

The year 1891 was featured by shows held at Kingston, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. For some reason that we have been unable to discover, London dropped out of the show picture of 1891. All the show fixtures mentioned were held in the rotation we have recorded and between the dates of September 1st and October 1st of that year.

That there was a very definite doggie consciousness abroad in the land can be gathered by a perusal of the following article which appeared in the "Farmers Advocate" for June, 1889, under the caption of "Are Dogs a Necessity?" The article was written by Mr. Jno. Dryden, Brooklyn, Ont.

"This question will be answered by different persons in accordance with the circumstances in which they are placed, and their early education. To the shepherd, handling large flocks of sheep without any other assistance than his dog or dogs, they are certainly a necessity. But to an ordinary farmer in this country who has no such work to perform, I unhesitatingly affirm that the presence of a dog on a farm is not at all essential. Nor are dogs generally kept because of their usefulness. The affirmation was made in the legislature, and elsewhere as well, that not one dog in fifty, take them as they come, can be proven to be of any use whatever. They are nearly always pets of the family, as much endeared and doted upon as any member of it. No one may harm it without incurring the ill-will of almost every member. Such persons think they cannot do without their dog, but any outside opinion of the same dog would be of an utterly reverse nature. For at least twenty years in the past, on my farm of four hundred acres and upwards, no dog has been allowed; not because there is no fondness for pets, because that is a characteristic of the family; but because the conviction has been growing that a dog is not needed, and may prove not only useless but destructive and even dangerous. He has, therefore, been discarded, and no inducement could be given after these years of experience, strong enough to cause one now to be kept.

"There are some useful dogs, but they are vastly in the minority. Few people have taken the trouble to inquire what the dogs of our country cost to maintain. Early last winter, from actual returns received from the township municipalities in south riding of Ontario, I discover fully $1,000 worth of sheep were destroyed annually by dogs. Presuming that the same death rate occurs in north riding, we have an annual destruction in the County of Ontario of two thousand dollars. This has been going on from year to year for a long time. In 1882 a return was asked for in the legislature, showing the number of sheep killed and injured for the three years previous. Out of four hundred and eighty municipalities only one hundred and thirty were heard from, which is less than one-third of the whole. In these municipalities the return showed that the number destroyed for the three years was 9,943. Total amount paid, $38,611. But, this it will be remembered, covers only two-thirds of the actual value. If we add one-third, we shall have $51,494 as showing the actual value of sheep destroyed during the three years covered by the return. But as only one-third of the province was included in that return, and assuming that destruction was similar in portions not reported, we have the astonishing sum of $154,497 worth of sheep destroyed in the province of Ontario during those three years, or an average of $50,000 each year.

"If it be any comfort to know that others are similarly situated—and it is said that misery loves company—perhaps it might be interesting to note how the destruction goes on annually in Ohio, U.S.A. From returns published through the proper department, we learn that the total number of sheep killed and injured for the year 1888, was 59,560, and the total valuation, $146,202. The Ohio Farmer of October 27th, 1888, published a list for the past eight years. The totals of killed and injured were 432,828, and the total value $1,215,747. The number of dogs owned in that State is computed at 300,000. I do not know what it costs to keep each one, but perhaps a fair estimate would be $5 per year. If that be correct the total cost of keeping these dogs that worried the sheep during the eight years for which the table is given would be $12,000,000. Add to this the value of sheep destroyed, and you have a total of $13,214,746.

"The question I ask just here is, are they worth it? I maintain they are not and should every dog be banished from this province tomorrow and the destruction of sheep stopped, an immense gain would be made in this branch of agriculture. This province would be just that much richer. This, however, cannot be done, and if dogs must be kept by persons who determine that they cannot get along comfortably without them, what course shall be sure to follow? The thought upon which the bill before the legislature during the last session was based, was that to double the tax on dogs and make it universal, would limit the number kept to those alone which were of practical value, and would prevent large numbers of persons, unable properly to keep themselves, from being the harborers of dogs allowed to prowl about the country at will. Dogs of value are generally cared for and kept under proper control. It is the dog of no merit, except that he is my dog, which most needs extirpation. The second thought was, that persons who insisted on keeping dogs should be compelled to keep them in charge and under control; that if they permitted them to wander about the country at large they did so at their peril—such dogs being liable to be shot while straying away.

"My position is briefly: First, outside of exceptional cases, dogs are not a necessity, but, at best, an expensive luxury. Second, the vast majority can be shown to be utterly useless except as pets of the household. Third, they are dangerous both to person and property. Besides the destruction of sheep, so constant, how many ghastly wounds are inflicted on children by dogs roaming around in the street? How many valuable robes are torn and ruined by a useless road cur grabbing at the sleigh and cutter? How many flower beds are scratched and torn beyond recognition by these night prowlers? How many vegetables are saturated and made unfit for food by these inveterate leg-lifters? How many horses are daily frightened and set to kicking, tossing the occupant of the vehicle headlong into a ditch, at the risk of neck and limb, by these barking whelps, who allow no one in peace to use the Queen's highway? And this for what? Who can tell?"

Mr. Dryden certainly had a formidable and damaging line of argument that was fearlessly advanced, and there can be no doubt that his article created a hostile feeling toward dogs in general in the minds of the non-dog loving populace of that time, but it is, and it always has been, and it will continue to be an indisputable fact that dogs bred for exhibition and breeding purposes have never been the dogs featured in the matter of sheep worrying; at least our official files fail to show where any of our recorded pure-bred dogs were ever involved in matters of this most regrettable kind. It is also a fact that our early members became greatly perturbed from time to time as the outcry against sheep-killing dogs arose to high heaven, and it can only be cause for gratification to us today to remember that after "fifty years" we have no record that we know of to show that we ever received one solitary complaint to say specifically that any pure-bred dog appearing in our records had ever been shot at a sheep-worrying debacle.

We rather like the reaction of lovers of pure-bred dogs to Mr. Dryden's article, and their spokesman appeared in the person of Dr. T. Wesley Mills of McGill University, Montreal, who had the following to offer in reply:

"Mr. Dryden's charges against dogs may be all true, yet there is an air of harshness, a total lack of sympathy with dogs and those that admire them, in what he has written, which is repelling. One gets to believe that Mr. Dryden understands dollars and cents better than either canine or human nature, and so he is very apt to feel that this writer's own nature has in it some barren or undeveloped tracts. Not only are Mr. Dryden's charges against dogs true, but

MR. T. C. DAVEY,
The Third President of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., September 16th, 1891—September 13th, 1892.

if he had known a little about comparative pathology he might have multiplied them.

"The remedies for the evils complained of are worthy of dispassionate discussion. What is to be done to rid us of the evils we must acknowledge to exist in some degree at least?

"Should the tax on dogs be increased? That would, no doubt, remedy matters in part; but is it the best way? Is it fair to those that are spending time and money on high-class animals, and importing the many breeds of dogs, which belong to the classes that are not allowed to roam at large at all hours of the day and night, and do not fall under the condemnation pronounced on the vagrants?

"About the other proposal, viz., that all dogs should be kept under control, there can be no doubt. A little judicious inspection would accomplish wonders. Now if valuable pedigreed dogs were exempt from taxation, and all mongrels, especially females, heavily taxed, would not the case be better met than by doubling the tax on all dogs irrespective of destruction?

"But there is a remedy for the evil complained of that no parliamentary or other enactment approaches in efficiency. The best remedy for any evil is to destroy its cause. In this case it is to educate the public mind up to the point of demanding only thoroughbred dogs or at all events valuable ones. How, and by whom, is this to be done? By two classes of persons largely at present. Firstly, the educators of youth. Let every child be taught to understand and respect animals (the latter follows from the former), and the axe is laid unto the root of the tree. Discrimination will soon follow, especially if the youth of the land get a chance to see the higher class of animals. Second, let dog shows be multiplied in order that the education of the entire public as regards dogs may be accomplished. Already we find announced at least three such exhibitions of dogs, in different parts of Canada for the month of September. To realize that the breeder becomes an educator elevates his calling no matter what the varieties of stock he raises.

"To hope to eliminate from man's nature the love of a creature like the dog, is as hopeless a task as to turn back the St. Lawrence; and if it could be accomplished it would be a calamity for mankind. The dollar-and-cents argument does not go to the bottom of the matter. But what of the man too poor to buy pedigreed dogs? We reply that if properly educated in this matter he would prefer to have none rather than a miserable mongrel; and that he could not, without doing a violence to his nature that is inconceivable, starve or otherwise misuse any sort of creature. Besides, if the demand for high-class dogs were greatly increased, very soon they would be bred at a rate to supply that demand at a much reduced price. How many female dogs out of all the various litters of puppies produced are yearly destroyed because there is not a sufficient demand for them?

"The remedy for the canine evil rests at present in great part with the press and the breeders and lovers of the dogs. It will take a little time; and whatever may be the value or otherwise of increased taxation as a remedy, it cannot be too well borne in mind, in the writer's opinion, that the real remedy lies in the education of the public mind to know the good from the indifferent dog, and to realize what are the true qualities of the noblest specimens. Let Nature's law, 'survival of the fittest', prevail; but that will be best accomplished in the way we have endeavored to indicate".

Bravo, Dr. Mills! Well spoken indeed. We shall see later on that Dr. Mills became President of the Canadian Kennel Club, and in other respects as well he was destined to become Canada's leading dog fancier of his generation.

Next month we will deal with the early attempts to handle the delicate matter of discipline so essential to successful canine government in Canadian dogdom. We will mention names of the early offenders, state what the offences were, show how they were heard, the penalties which were imposed, if any, the reaction of the offenders to the penalties, and the reaction of the factions which might be referred to as the "for" and "against" factions, because then, as now, there were "sides" who declared that the Directors were right, and that the Directors were wrong. We will show that the strenuous objections to the findings of the "court" by the parties found to be guilty, and later we will show the same parties tendering their apologies and placing themselves at the mercy of the courts set up from time to time by the members themselves. We feel reasonably sure that our readers will find much interest in the recording.

Ribbons or Money

AT a recent Canadian show the writer heard considerable criticism regarding the lack of prize money in many of the classes, even amongst the popular breeds. Apparently if we are correct in our diagnosis of the diminishing entries at our shows, a few inches of silk ribbon is losing its attractiveness. It must be remembered that our sport in this country is by no means a wealthy one. Exhibitors have found out that silk ribbon does not help to pay entry fees and other expenses incurred in exhibiting our dogs. I heard one man say, that the only fair way would be to divide the entry fees received as follows: Forty per cent. to be kept by the show-giving club, 60 per cent to be awarded in prize money, and I believe that if this were done it would mean a big increase in entries. The falling off generally of entries was not confined only to Ontario. A notable exception, of course, was the National Kennel Club which received a record entry; there may have been other exceptions, but from the information gathered from reliable sources all over Canada, there was a falling both in entries and gate. Considering that business conditions were so much better during 1937 there must be something wrong to cause the shrinkage. The writer during last year carefully studied the prize lists published in Kennel and Bench, and he was surprised to find out how very few new exhibitors' names were amongst the successful exhibitors. Well, you have to admit that the "giving" is a bit heavy for the novice, it takes some time to find out how to place a dog fit and well in the ring, and also how to bring out his best points before the judge, who is called upon to place the class as the dogs appear before him in the ring, and not in past or futures. The writer has mentioned the "re-cruiting" classes that have proved so successful in England. Why not try out the experiment here and give some classes confined to novice exhibitors for the popular breeds? A few years ago I grant this would have been difficult on account of the lack of interest that was shown by the dailies and the monthlies, but it is a different story to-day, for hardly a day passes without some mention of dogs in our daily papers, and some of the monthlies are giving pages to dogs. Old fashioned methods either in business or sport are out of date today. There has never been a more favourable time to induce novices to join our sport than there is in the Golden Jubilee Year of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. I have often said before, and I again repeat it, that we are too fond of building a fence around our sport. There are hundreds and hundreds of well bred dogs kept today in Canada as pets, guards or for sport and with a very little inducement some of their owners would only be too glad to find out by exhibiting how good their dogs really were, but they have not only to be induced to exhibit but to stay in our sport. When I have suggested to some of these one-dog owners that they ought to enter their dog at their local show the answer invariably has been, "Oh, what chance would I have competing". Why not make their chance a more equal one and let the novices compete amongst themselves. You know yourself how very fascinating our sport really is. Perhaps when you started you had a friend who helped you to condition and show your dog. Some years ago I was judging at the Guelph Show, and Dr. and Mrs. Batt went to everyone to whom they had sold a Scotty and asked them to show, and they even went further than this, for they kept their dogs out of competition and Dr. Batt trimmed many of the novices' Terriers. This is the kind of sportsmanship we need. With the greatly increased interest that is being taken in dogs any show-giving club can readily meet the additional expenses, which would happen, by giving novice exhibitor classes, and prize money in some of the popular breeds by attracting a gate. Judging may be attractive to you, but it gets mighty tiring to many of the spectators, so why not try out the suggestion of Dr. Cooper and stage an Obedience Test every evening. These tests are drawing a greatly increased gate, not only at the English shows, but also at the shows across the border, in fact so popular have they become that I venture to say, that very few shows will be held across the border in the future at which there will not be one or more Obedience Test.

Type

The following remarks made by my old friend Holland Buckley after the sensational debut of S. M. Stewart's Airedale Terrier, "Sheltercock Merry Sovereign", in England that "I can only recall in the hall of memory one that would have stood a chance of downing him and that was the great "Ch. Cloumel Monarch" whose blazing Terrier fire might have decided the issue", has evidently caused considerable discussion amongst Airedale breeders in Canada. I have received three letters asking if I knew "Cloumel Monarch", and if so, how in my opinion he would compare with "Sovereign". A very difficult question for it would be like comparing a cob with a thorough-bred horse. "Monarch" was a short backed Terrier whose length of head compared well with his length of back. Three of the by-gone celebrities, "Monarch", "Duke of York" and "Polam Maxam" were built on similar lines and type and all three excelled in Terrier character and fire, and certainly not one needed his handler to hold his tail up. There has been a very great change in type in Airedales. During the last ten or fifteen years heads have lengthened and so have bodies. The difference of opinion which exists is what makes our sport so fascinating. Personally of the old-time Airedales I have always held the opinion that the best I had seen was "Aman Gem", the bitch which was bought at the Lost Dogs Home at Newport, Wales, for a dollar and a half, and within a very few months was awarded the special for Best in Show at Detroit.

Distemper

Judging from reports there has been quite an epidemic of this disease recently. Some months ago there appeared in Our Dogs a letter written by W. E. Mason on the new treatment for distemper which was so at variance with the prevalent treatment prescribed when I was living in England prior to 1915 that I cut the letter out and placed it in my doggy scrap book and also wrote to several English breeders asking them if they were using the new treatment, and if so, with what results. The replies have been so convincing that the new treatment is successful that I am giving part of Mr. Mason's letter. In pre-war days with the first symptoms shown, we used to start giving medicine and nourishing food. If the patient would not take the food we used to feed with a spoon, giving beef broth, eggs and milk, etc. Mr. Mason has this to say about food:

"We have fifty years' experience in the prevention and cure of distemper in dogs, and six years ago published a book entitled 'Nature Points the Way', in which the public is urged to consider distemper as Nature's method of ridding the system of impurities and during the fever stage, to withhold food, and on no account ever to resort to the use of drugs.

A. ELSIE MAYHEW
MARKHAM - ONT.

"This is no new philosophy and we do not claim to have discovered it. As long ago as B.C. 400 the Greek philosopher, Hippocrates, propounded the theory of permitting Nature to pursue her own methods in curing disease, but so far as we know we believe we were the first to urge its application to the treatment of dogs in distemper.

"If we may be permitted to explain the reasons why fasting the patient is so eminently practical, we submit for your readers' interest the following excerpts from the book mentioned above, a copy of which can be obtained free of charge by any dog lover who cares to send us his or her address:—

"Generally speaking, disease is not a thing at all; it is a condition. There is a cause for every disease, manifested in a variety of symptoms. These symptoms are too often mistaken for the disease itself, whereas they are only the outward proofs that something is wrong. What we must do is to discover and remove the cause and when that is done the symptoms will disappear. Symptoms are in the majority of cases purely prognostic of a curative effort on the part of Nature to rid the physical system of impurities. The symptoms—or the disease, as it is commonly called—are themselves the curative processes in operation. In other words, disease is a process of cure.

"Skin disease, so common in many dogs, distemper, loss of hair and teeth, are merely symptoms, and indicate a diseased condition within. The blood is out of order, the leukocytes in the blood stream have lost their power to destroy the various organisms, which, to use non-technical language, get the upper hand; a lack of necessary mineral salts, owing probably to a deficiency diet, is the root cause of many diseases.

"To administer drugs or rub in from the outside one or more of the nostrils thrust upon the public will not cure the cause, though they may for a time mask the symptoms. The skin eruptions and the nasal discharge so familiar in distemper are manifestations that Nature is ridding herself of the trouble. This conception of the nature of disease is an entirely new one to the average dog man. When he is told that disease in itself is a curative process he can hardly believe it, and too frequently will not believe it, yet it is a fact.

"In distemper the blood becomes contaminated, and loses its quality, so to speak, and the distemper organisms which normally are being kept in subjection by the good organisms (or 'policemen', as some style them) get the upper hand, distemper ensues, or skin eruptions disfigure and irritate the dog, fits occur, worms gain control, and the dog loses condition. The alimentary canal has become blocked with putrifying matter. We note a set of pathological symptoms which we call disease. As a matter of fact, they are the benevolent endeavours on the part of Nature to right the wrong, and what we term diseases is the process of cure taking place before our eyes. In the case of distemper this process of elimination is greatly aided and hastened by an injection of the approved vaccine, which increases the activity of the leukocytes in the dog's blood, and enables him to dispell the distemper germs.

"The Remedy. — Following are the main lines of procedure:—

"(1) Withhold all food in distemper during the fever stage, allowing pure water only or fruit juices.

"(2) Give an injection of the approved vaccine, which is known to greatly increase the activity of the leukocytes in the blood stream, and so assist Nature to destroy the distemper organisms.

"(3) If the bowels are not acting freely, give an occasional gravity douche via the rectum, but not if dropsy or inflammation of the bowels is indicated.

"The fast.—Now, as we shall show, the speediest way of assisting Nature to eliminate the various poisons and impurities by assisting the various organs in their work is, first of all, to withhold food. The skin, the liver the kidneys, the bowels, and the lungs are then urged to greater effort in order to throw off the load of impurities within the body. In time of disease food is no longer a support, but, on the contrary, it is a positive danger, and when given at such time does not nourish the body, but poisons it.

"It is only when the body is functioning normally that food is utilized properly, and when the body is ill and diseased food substance is not digested or assimilated, but is actually poisonous, and retards the process of cure. Fasting is the correct way to raise the bodily resistance to all disease. The various organs and the tissues are cleared of their obstructions, inasmuch as fasting permits the effete material already contained therein to be disposed of in a natural way, and at the same time allows no new material into the body. The dog's instinct is to fast when ill. Encourage him in Nature's way. All animals share this instinct, and will actually refuse food at this time. Man's mistaken kindness in offering him tasty dishes, and sometimes by forced feeding, has killed more dogs than it has saved, and in every case has prolonged his suffering and distress. Nature's way with animals is the basic principle urged in the curing of disease."

The Proposed Amendments

Going over the proposed amendments which will be brought before the Annual General Meeting the writer notices that as usual the vexed question of judges will occupy considerable time. Col. MacRae's, that any judge that has not functioned for three years shall automatically have his name removed, if passed, should have beneficial results. George Kynoch's, that every judge must be a member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., would mean that our good friends across the border would have to become members before they could act as judges here and if passed might deprive us of the services of some world authorities. J. M. Ayre's would mean that if it was passed, that Canada would be deprived of the services of men who have had a wealth of experience. Then we must not forget that our 2nd Vice-President, W. H. Pym, will no doubt have something to say about his amendment which was brought before the 1933 annual meeting.

It is pretty evident that there is a dearth of reliable judges, not only in Canada but in other countries. England is trying out methods to discover judging talent and if over there, when it is easy to go to a different show every day in a month, they are trying out a judging competition somewhat similar to the live stock judging and the agricultural shows it is easy to understand how much more difficult it must be for our novice judges to get experience attending our comparatively few point shows. Why not try the experiment at our matinee shows and have a judging competition. Whatever we do don't let us pass amendments which would restrict men who know dogs from judging.

I am entirely in sympathy with C. M. Butler's amendment that before a sporting dog should receive a championship certificate, he or she, as the case may be, should have received a certificate of merit in competition at a Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., Field Trial—but the question is that probably it would be wise to wait a while until the holding of Field Trials become a little more general in Canada. Those who have worked so hard to get our unregistered champions recognized feel that it is fitting that the amendments to Article 17, Rules of Eligibility, should be brought up for the approval by the members at the annual meeting of the Club's Golden Jubilee Year.

Death of a Noted Breeder

The writer regrets exceedingly to record the death of Mrs. Janet Patterson, one of Canada's most successful breeders and exhibitors. With her strain of Romanoff Russian Wolfhounds the late Mrs. Patterson achieved many notable victories. At the Chicago show last year, the writer placed two of the Romanoff's Winners Dog and Winner's Bitch, and he is of opinion that her strain compared favourably with any of the great strains founded in England, not excepting even the Duchess of Newcastle. Mrs. Patterson was a most popular exhibitor and I know all my readers will join me in offering sincere sympathy to her family.

Winter Puppies

An enquiry is to hand asking my opinion as to whether it is necessary to have artificial heat in the winter to successfully raise Airedale Terrier puppies. When the writer came out in 1916 to manage the famous Vickery Kennels, undoubtedly the most up-to-date kennel in America, he found a most elaborate puppy kennel, heated in the winter. The first winter he spent at Barrington there were probably close on to a hundred puppies at the beginning of the winter sired by world famous sires and out of proven dams. In spite of what was considered ideal kennels and feeding the results were most disappointing. The second winter the writer tried out an experiment. Instead of trying to raise the puppies in the heated puppy kennel he placed the dams and their puppies in the outside kennels, instructing the puppy man to place an extra liberal supply of straw in the sleeping benches. In spite of the severity of the weather during the winter of 1917 the puppies thrived under this treatment. Of course, some of the Toy breeds could not stand this treatment, but the majority of our breeds seem to thrive better without artificial heat providing the sleeping quarters are free of draughts and plenty of straw is used and be sure to see that the straw is changed frequently.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

The Scottish Terrier, "Boldmere Binder", owned by Mr. D. C. MacLachlan, Toronto

The subject of this notice is the latest British exportation to join the ranks of the Scottish Terriers in Canada, and with his breeding, well-known show qualities, and ability as a sire, he will, no doubt, make his presence felt in no uncertain manner when the opportunity arises.

His sire is "Champion Radical of Rookes", and his dam, "Barffdene Bunt", is a daughter of the great "Champion Sandheys Silvertip".

"Boldmere Binder" is an ideal sized black dog with extra short body and stands out in head expression movement, and style. In really stiff competition at some of England's leading shows, he has accounted for first prizes by the score, eleven times Best of Breed, whilst no less than twenty-five Challenge cups were added to his previous owner's collection.

His owner, Mr. D. C. MacLachlan, pleads the amateur standing, but we have known him in Western Canada and also in the East for two decades or more as a keen student of Terrier make and shape, and a delver into blood lines and breeding. His quest for good dogs has taken him to the land of their birth and to the leading kennels over there, he is no stranger. "Boldmere Binder's" arrival in the Dominion was the result of Alf. Lovelidge's recent trip to England.

HONOURED

Miss Jean F. Grant, who is well known in Canada, where for some time she was in charge of the Talaurora Kennels for Dr. C. R. Boulding, Aurora, Ontario, has been appointed to judge Boston Terriers at the great Cruft's Show, London, England, February 9th and 10th. Congratulations.

Two litters of five—ALL CHAMPIONS! Read these letters and decide whether Mrs. Threlfall of St. Lambert, Quebec, or Mr. Shanks of Sevenoaks, England, has the better claim! Canada versus England! Sevenoaks, Kent.

Dear Sirs,

I am particularly proud of my success having created a world's record by rearing five champions in a litter of Old English Sheepdogs. The chief credit for this remarkable achievement must be given to SAVAL. The championships won by each of these five dogs are due, I feel convinced, to the solid foundation of health, stamina and constitution that SAVAL built up for them during their early days. This food is in my estimation the safest and most efficient of all puppy-rearing foods.

Gentlemen,
Mr. Shanks' claim is by no means a world record and I beat it with ease with a litter of Pugs. In my kennels I bred a litter of five puppies (no more in the litter). Of these, two won Canadian Championships, two won U.S. Championships, and the other an International Championship, being Champion in both countries. I think you will agree that five Champions, with one an International Champion, out of a litter of only five really holds the record. Incidentally, it were all reared on SAVAL.

You may quote me as saying, "SAVAL IS THE FOOD FOR CHAMPIONS."

GUELPH DOG SHOW

The Captain Frederick Bond Chapter, I.O.D.E., is to again sponsor an All Breed Dog Show, under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., at Guelph, Ontario. The date is Saturday, April 30th, and the venue will, no doubt, be the Armouries which has previously been found so satisfactory for both exhibitors and their charges. The appointment of Mr. H. S. Routley of Trent Valley fame to pass on the Springer Spaniels is a very happy one and the committee are to be congratulated on their choice. Mr. Routley is one of the most popular of the breeds enthusiasts, his only previous appointment on the woolsack was at the great Morris and Essex Show last year, where he had no less than one hundred and eighteen Springer Spaniels to pass on.

At this, his first judging appointment in Canada, every Springer Spaniel should be at Guelph. Mr. Bert Swann of Toronto, will judge all other Breeds, Groups and Best in Show. (See advt.).

SCOTTISH DEERHOUNDS

The recent importation of "Sheena of Journeys End" from Ireland by an Ontario resident member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., should do much to bring into favour this grand old breed. "Sheena" was one of the outstanding specimens of the breed over there, and the only time she graced the show bench was awarded four first prizes, Reserve Championship and eight Special prizes at the Scottish Kennel Club Show. One of her daughters won the Junior class at the recent English Kennel Club Show, and before leaving "Sheena" was bred to the unbeaten winner of twelve championships, "Ch. Prophetic of Ross".

THE OAKVILLE KENNEL CLUB

On Monday, January 24th, saw the Annual Meeting of the above named club, held at Oakville, Ontario, with Acting President Mr. H. G. Slean in the chair. The routine business, which included reports of committees, auditor's report, and that on the financial standing of the organization each being received with approval. The election of officers for the present year took place with the following results: President, Mr. H. G. Slean; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Harry Beauchamp; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Kenneth D. Marlatt; Committee, Mr. A. Patchell, Miss D. Rosamond, Miss D. McBain, Mrs. H. G. Slean, Mr. Alex.

Phillips; Secretary, Mrs. James Kellett, Oakville, Ontario.

The future programme will include a Sanction Show for all-breeds and the annual all-breed show (under the rules of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.), will again be one of the open-air summer events for which this Lake Shore town has become noted.

TORONTO LADIES' KENNEL ASSOCIATION

Another successful year has closed for the ladies responsible for the welfare of the above named association. At the recent annual meeting held in Toronto the following members were elected to office for the present year:

Mrs. C. B. Firman, President; Mrs. F. Small, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. R. E. Lipe, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. C. N. Gibson, Lansing, Ont., Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Elsie Mayhew, Markham, Ont., Show Secretary; Mrs. M. Stevens, Trophy Secretary.

DEATH OF MRS. JANET PATERSON

The tragic death of Mrs. Janet Paterson of Romanoff Borzoi fame, on January 13th, as the result of an automobile accident which took place on a highway the previous night, has shocked a large community. Her home town of Brantford, Ontario, has lost a prominent citizen and the Telephone City Kennel

SCOTTISH TERRIERS

Aberdeen Kennels, Reg., Dr. F. H. Secretan, reports the sale of the very promising young black bitch, "Aberdeen's Adoration", that was being groomed for the spring shows. This bitch is full litter sister to "Aberdeen's Silvertip" and "Aberdeen's Braw Wee Dougal". Mrs. E. Baker of Quebec City is the purchaser, also the owner of "Tartan" whose litter of eleven pups sired by "Callboy O' Bonnyrig", was a Canadian Record last year. All this litter was sold, one going to Clearwater, Florida, and another to Boston, Mass.

FIRE TRAGEDY

Mrs. Viola G. Fielden of Lakeview P.O., Ontario, suffered a terrible loss when fire caused the death of four adult Chow Chows and nine puppies. The kennel building and all the contents were destroyed in the Christmas tragedy which occurred on December 28th. The loss is a severe one and Mrs. Fielden will receive much sympathy on the loss of many years' work and endeavor.

lady's early problems were solved through that channel. As a breeder, and one who excelled in the raising of stock that could take the measure of all comers, Mrs. Paterson had no peer. The outstanding success of the Romanoffs, which provided the most joy and intense satisfaction for Mrs. Paterson was the occasion of the American Kennel Club Show held in connection with

The late Mrs. Janet Paterson and some Romanoff Borzois.

Club will mourn one of its most generous supporters. Mrs. Paterson joined the ranks of exhibitors at the Toronto Kennel Club Spring Show, Toronto, 1920, and the intervening years have seen the Romanoff Borzoi carry off the leading honors at the most prominent shows on this continent. Commencing in those early days a warm mutual friendship existed between Mrs. Paterson and the writer, and many of the the Sesquicentennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, Pa., U.S.A. Here, in the face of strong competition, a pair of Romanoff Borzois (one, home-bred) carried off Winners Dog and Winners Bitch and the gold medals that accompanied the win were Mrs. Paterson's most cherished possessions. To the bereaved husband, Mr. Alex Paterson, the dog world extends its deepest sympathies.

282 Davidson St., Winnipeg, Man.

THE Christmas Eve party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wade was well attended; upwards of forty guests were seated. All the city clubs were well represented, Director George Kynoch presiding. Before rising from the table Mr. Cook, on behalf of Mr. Kynoch, presented the hostess, Mrs. Wade, with a handsome gold brooch featuring a "Scottish Terrier" which was much admired by all, and highly prized by the recipient. Mr. Wade suitably replied, and thanked the donor on behalf of Mrs. Wade.

The music was up to the high standard set by Winnipeg fanciers at those functions. New and old numbers were heard and received well, while the dancing was carried on with great glee till early morning. With the old parting song, "Lang Syne", the happy gathering was ended, adding one more real night to be numbered with the past.

The New Year's Eve party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jopling was one great success. Many fanciers responded to the call from the popular Jopling family, when over sixty guests were gathered around, creating an atmosphere of jollity and frivolity. The first foot to cross the threshold on New Year's Day was the writer, who wished the hostess and the company all the best for the year we had just commenced. With good music and lots of vocal talent the community and solo singing was of a high order. Dancing, always a feature in this home, was carried on with great glee. Refreshments were served, and a fresh start made with singing and dancing continuing to early dawn. Toasts to the host and hostess were heartily endorsed. The usual parting songs were rendered and the cars were soon loaded up and the event became a thing of the past.

The regular monthly meeting of the Scottish Terrier Club of Canada was held in the Hotel Majestic on the 4th January, President MacKenzie in the chair. Minutes of previous meeting were adopted as read. Business arising therefrom was approved of and left with the secretary. Three names were tabled for membership and were duly admitted to the club. A long list of correspondence, chiefly from members outside the Province of Manitoba, was read and highly appreciated by the city members. Allocation of trophies and specials from the club for the forthcoming show was made known and the list sent to the secretary of Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club. The next meeting will be the annual and office-bearers will be elected for the ensuing year, notice for which will be by circular letter. Meeting adjourned to attend the special meeting of the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club.

The special meeting of the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club was held in the Hotel Majestic on the 4th, President Harold Bentley in the chair. The notice calling the meeting was explained by the secretary, and the replies to the club's enquiry for judges were read. As in former occasions, voting for the appointment was by ballot, and Mr. Bert Swann, editor of Kennel and Bench, was duly acclaimed judge for the forthcoming show to be held in the Auditorium, Winnipeg, on the 18th and 19th February. Many special prizes were donated, the Specialty Club, the Boston Terrier and the Scottish Terrier Clubs supporting with their trophies and many specials. Various sub-committees were arranged for, and the necessary help for the show agreed upon, the superintendent being T. Kay MacKenzie. The meeting adjourned at 10.45.

The Fort Garry Kennel Club regular meeting was held in the Free Press Board Room on the 7th January, Mr. Greenwood in the chair. The notice calling for attention of members was read, and the lecturer, Captain Wilson, was introduced to the meeting, which was representative of the membership. The speaker, one of the Admiral Bryd exploring party and in charge of the dog teams on that trip, gave a most interesting account of the doings of the dogs, numbering 160, which he had under his care. Interesting was the descriptive account of the successful raising of eight Husky puppies, all of which matured early and were hitched up on the long journey of 1600 miles while under seven months old, covering on an average 40 miles per day and finishing fit and well. A rest period of three or four minutes was called every hour, irrespective of the feeding period, this proving beneficial to men and dogs. With sleighs loaded with food stuff and camping outfit, it was a constant "mush on", the objective being reached by snow shoes and moccasins on the dogs. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Captain Wilson for his fine talk. Meeting adjourned.

The Annual General Meeting of the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club was held at headquarters, the Hotel Majestic, on the 13th January. The minutes were adopted as read. The statement of the club affairs was placed before the meeting, showing a successful year, financial and otherwise, and a substantial balance in the bank. The report of the auditors, Mr. J. Cook and Mr. A. Gostick, who certified that the books of the club were in their usual and accurate form, a tribute to the Secretary, T. A. Smith, for his work. Before demitting the chair, Mr. Harold Bentley, the retiring president, was presented by Mrs. Robert Simpson with a handsome silver cigarette case suitably engraved. In handing over this token of good fellowship from the well-wishing members, Mrs. Simpson paid tribute to Mr. Bentley for the excellent service he had given the club during a period of three and a half years, hoping that his interest would continue on behalf of the fancy, and this club in particular. A happy response was made by Mr. Bentley, and on leaving the chair he welcomed the new President, Mr. George Duncan, and handed over the gavel. Replying, the new president hoped to have the same support as his predecessor. The remaining business on the agenda was then attended to. The notice of motion amending the constitution and by-laws was put before the meeting, point by point and voted on, the whole being passed as per the motions. Many specials were further donated for the show. It was moved and carried unanimously that a banquet be held on the first evening of the show, the arrangements being vested in the Ladies' Auxiliary with Mrs. Charlie Jopling, the president. Meeting adjourned at 10.45.

Mr. Tom Altham of the Rosewood Kennels, Norwood, reports that his Scottish Terrier Bitch "Invicta Ebony" visited the recently imported dog, "Jovial Gauger", owned by the Ornetzie Kennels, Winnipeg, owners Mr. and Mrs. Wade.

We regret to tell of a serious accident that happened to Mrs. Alice Williams, the well-known Old English Sheepdog fancier. A slip while boarding a street car on an ice covered street caused her removal to the General Hospital with a broken limb. Mrs. Williams is now at home, but will be confined for some time until the cast is removed. Meantime good progress is being made towards recovery, and it is hoped Mrs. Williams will be able to visit the forthcoming show. Such is the wish of her many friends, in which we join.

The passing of Walter R. Wardle takes away another well-known fancier of bygone days. A native of Sheffield, England, and long a resident of Manitoba, he was laid to rest on the 15th. A breeder of Collies before the World War, Mr. Wardle went overseas as Sergeant-Major with the 78th, and on his return after Armistice he imported "Bradnor Chief" from Sandy Watt of Shotts, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

"Chief" was first shown in this country at Toronto in 1919, where he gained top honors, and on his return was shown at the first show of the Fort Garry Kennel, October 20th, 21st, 22nd, 1919, in a strong gathering of 47 Collies, under the late Dr. White, Chicago, again winning Best Collie and going on to win Best in Show in an entry of 277 dogs. "Chief" was a very successful dog at stud, and sired many winners in his day. His sire was "Ch. Magnet", who finished his days in U.S.A.

The late Mr. Wardle's family are all married, and the deepest sympathy is extended to the widow, residing in St. Boniface, Man.

A DOG IS DEAD

To the man on the street, a dog is dead. To the world of dogdom the Prince of Dogs, "Heather Realisation" has passed on.

Just twenty odd pounds of muscle, bone, character and intelligence, but he beat them all, big and little. Even the wonder Chow, "Champion Choonam Hung Kwong", who was best in show at Cruft's out of 4,388 dogs, had to bow to him on several occasions.

What a pity he had to go so soon, he was only four, maybe they were just a wee bit too proud of him and showed him just once when he should have been kept at home. We would probably have done just that ourselves. Anyone who can breed such perfection of character and physique into an animal is entitled to all the pride of ownership they care to indulge in.

We didn't ever have the honor of an acquaintance with "Realisation" but have read articles by and talked with those who have, which has given us excellent insight as to his character, and we have an untouched photo sent us by Mr. Chapman, which tells all there is to know regarding his physical qualities.

Only short months ago we had occasion to write Mr. Chapman, on behalf of The Scottish Terrier Club of Canada, offering condolences over the death of "Necessity" and now his grandson goes to join him. Hope there's a dog-heaven, so both may sit and grin, Scotty fashion, at man's attempt to produce their equal. Maybe man will, if so we hope it's a Chapman (or us).

Dr. Ewing quotes the late Robert Chapman as saying, in answer to a question as to what scientific breeding methods he used, "I don't know what you are talking about, if I have a good dog and see a good bitch that suits him, I mate them together, that's all." If such discernment of class makes possible the production of "Necessities" and "Realisations", maybe the Chapmans will produce another.

The sculptor chisels granite, and monuments arise,

But the breeder calls on science, a matron and her mate,

And reproduces nature, for man to idolize.

Dr. H. J. Hassard reports the sale of his very promising young Shepherd Dog, who made his debut at the Royal where he was much admired, so much so that (he) "Jan of Javenhass" was shipped to Mr. Lyman Crawford Brown, Bridle Path, York Mills, Toronto, on January 3rd, arriving at his new home on the 5th much to the delight of his new owner and family. This youngster is developing into a grand specimen, with friendly actions at all times. Mrs. Hassard is delighted that this one of her favourites has gone to such a fine home where he will be well cared for. We are looking forward to a grand display of the Shepherd Dogs at our next show, chiefly through the support of Dr. and Mrs. Hassard and their friends who own fine specimens of German Shepherd Dogs.

The year now gone was the most successful in the history of the Deeside Kennels, West Kildonan, Man., owned by Mr. Tom Donald and his daughter, Ina. Two of the inmates of the Kennels have become champions, "Haldon Bugler" and "Braw Lass II." "Braw Lass II" is by "Ch. Albourne Barty" ex "Ellyn Wendy" (Imp.)

by "Talavera Real MacKay", "Ch. Heather Necessity" ex "Dunsappie."

"Ch. Braw Lass II" has been mated to "Ch. Viceroy", "Ch. Heather Realisation" ex "Heather Louise."

"Haldon Black Rose", "Ch. Nosegay Cuckoo Bud" ex "Ch. Haldon Baroness" is nursing four puppies—three males, sired by "Haldon of Dunure", "Calrach Carnac", "Ch. Heather Fashion Hint" ex "Canmohr Dimple".

"Torphichen Darroch". This home-bred one, whose sire is "Ch. Haldon Roundlay" ex "Scotch Lass II", made his debut in the junior classes at Fort Garry with much success and is now well matured, and will be hard to stop by any of the young bloods. If this youngster does as well in the show ring as his name-sake (all will be well and another champion added to the kennel) who was a good winner round the Diamond Jubilee Year, 1897 for Johnny Rhind.

The added offerings have a sporting and sentimental value which is without parallel, the club's commercial advertisers and business friends, in their own inimitable way, have expressed by generous gesture their deep appreciation and good wishes for this significant and important occasion, by the presentation for competition the most beautiful trophies and Golden Jubilee Certificates that will add lustre and color to all dog shows held in Canada this year.

Pride of place for valuable added prizes must be given to the House of Spratt's Patent Limited, London, England, for the very good reasons that our official organ has carried "Spratt's Patent Limited" advertising since February, 1889, or, in other words, for the full period of the magazine's existence, and also because Spratt's Patent Limited will donate a solid silver cup valued at 15 guineas to the winner of the Club's $100.00 cash prize which features the Golden Jubilee Programme. Very special also is the generous offering of Spratt's Patent Limited of two solid silver cups valued at 10 guineas each, to be offered in conjunction with a special Spratt's Patent Limited certificate featuring the Golden Jubilee Year of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. These attractive certificates will be awarded to the dog and bitch winning the regular Canadian-bred Classes at every all-breed show held in Canada under The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., dog show rules during the year 1938. Each Golden Jubilee Certificate will be engrossed to show the name of the winner, the name of the breed, the name of the animal and the name and date of the show. The dog and bitch having won the greatest number of these Golden Jubilee Certificates at the end of 1938, will win the two "Spratt's Patent Limited" solid silver cups. Apart from the two silver cups altogether, the Golden Jubilee Certificates will be very desirable because of their own individual worth and beauty.

Ross-Miller Biscuit Co., Ltd., of Napanee, are presenting a beautiful English Sheffield reproduction of a Silver-plated Serving Tray as an award for the Grand Champion Dog of the Canadian Kennel Club's Golden Jubilee year.

This tray is a faithful reproduction of an Old English antique. It is generously silver-plated on fine massive copper. An all-over design in the classic Acanthus leaf covers the main surface of the tray, leaving an oval space in the centre for the inscription. The border and handles consist of a rococo scroll in a raised English Rose design, modeled in the style characteristic of an old choice piece. The tray is a product, both in design and workmanship, of one of England's foremost silversmiths.

The inscription reads as follows:

THE ROSS-MILLER BISCUIT CO.,
LTD., TROPHY

Awarded for the Canadian-bred, born and registered dog winning the greatest number of Championship points

During the

CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB
GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR
1888 1938

Won by

The Golden Jubilee Committee look with much confidence to the promotion of increased interest at all-breed shows this year, and it should be noted that, in order to compete for Golden Jubilee Prizes, the dogs must be Canadian-bred, they must be registered in The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., Stud Book and they must be owned by a member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., in good standing. We wonder who the lucky members and the lucky dogs are to be that will garner in these rich offerings next time "Santa Claus" makes his rounds.

The Committee's objective at the moment is to offer handsome additional prizes for the dog or bitch winning the most Group Classes in the Provinces not featured in the winning of the three major awards. By the three major awards is meant the Club's $100.00 cash prize, the Spratt's Patent Limited fifteen-guinea solid silver cup and the Ross-Miller Biscuit Co., Ltd., Sheffield reproduction.

We have already noticed the stimulation of membership, and of registration, and we do anticipate a marked stimulation in the number of shows to be held this year, and we can visualize the stimulation in entries in respect to every licensed fixture that can be used as offering opportunities for competition.

Kent's Limited Trophy
A special prize that someone will win this year.

● The Oldest Living Member

Not having General Nelles, Col. McEwen, or the old weather-beaten Charlie Stone with us in the flesh to mark an unbroken membership record of fifty years, we felt obliged to look around to see if we could locate the man who might now be considered the oldest living member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and it is possibly something more than a coincidence that having located our man, we found that his name was "Living", i.e., Mr. C. E. Living, of Westboro, Ont., who we now recognize as "The Grand Old Man" of Canadian dogdom, and the only person in Canada having the distinction of being an honorary member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., enjoying full privileges. This rare distinction came to Mr. Living in virtue of a resolution which came before the Board of Directors on Thursday, February 21st, 1924, and was carried unanimously, and read as follows:—

"That, Mr. C. E. Living, Ottawa, Ont., be made an honorary life member of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., with full privileges".

For the purpose of refreshing memories at this time we would mention here that Mr. Living's contribution to the Club in the late summer of 1923, was the "makings" of twelve complete volumes of The Canadian Kennel Gazette covering the years 1888-1900, which gift, in the writer's opinion was priceless, and probably no other such contribution could be duplicated in the whole world today.

We asked Mr. Living to tell us his story, and his response has been so brilliant, his age considered—78 years old, that we have asked the Editor of Kennel and Bench to publish the story in Mr. Living's own words, and here it is:—

"Date of birth—25 June, 1860; place—Sally St., Ottawa. Early education began in the old Engine House School with its class room above the fire hall in which was stored the old 'Chaudiere' hand engine. The building still stands; but the tower with its alarm bell, that I often had to ring to summon the 'boys of the old brigade' to man the ropes to draw the engine to the scene of conflagration, then to man the brakes to pump the water on the fire, is gone. Those were the only 'movies' of my young days. Only two or three of these 'old boys' are still left, and the same may be said of my school mates.

"A new school was built on Kent Street, and I was one of its first inmates. In those days only rich men's sons attended the Grammar School which occupied most of a long wooden row on the site of the old Russell Theatre; but in the early 70's the first Entrance Examination was held and the six highest candidates from Central School East and Central School West were granted life scholarships. I was one of the fortunate ones from the West School. Nearly all of the twelve have passed on. Shortly afterward the Lisgar Street Collegiate was built, and we were removed to the new building. I had been there about a year when I left to take a position as Entry Clerk in the Wholesale Dry Goods establishment of J. W. Russell & Co., in which position I acquired a quick and accurate efficiency in the use of figures which has since always stood me in good stead. (I have recently completed my twenty-fifth annual audit of the books of S.S. No. 2, Nepean, with an expenditure of over $50,000). After three years of Dry Goods I wrote for and obtained a Third-Class Certificate, passed through the County Model School and taught for a year in a country school. Then back to the Lisgar Collegiate for six months and finished the year in the Ottawa Normal School after obtaining my Second-Class Grade A Certificate.

Our Oldest Living Member
MR. C. E. LIVING
Westboro, Ontario

"In January, 1882, I was appointed to the staff of the Ottawa Public Schools. Finally I became principal of the old Wellington Street School which was destroyed in the big fire of 1900; then Principal of the new school which position I held until I retired in 1921 to accept the position of Clerk of Supplies or Purchasing Agent, which post I held until June, 1934, when I resigned after giving fifty-two years and six months of service to the School Board, a record that will probably stand for all time, as the retiring age has been fixed at sixty-five years.

"In 1876 I enlisted as a full private in No. 1 Company, Ottawa Rifles, which afterwards became No. 1 Company, 43rd Battalion. I rose to the post of Colour-Sergeant and obtained a first-class infantry certificate after attending a Short Course of Instruction in B Battery, Kingston. I mention this because I am now, I believe, the only surviving member of the old original company.

"I am also one of the two "oldest parishioners" of St. George's Anglican Church, Ottawa.

"I purchased my first Cocker Spaniel in 1887, and in 1888 or 1889 I bought 'Cleo', C.K.C.S.B. 80. For a time, about 1903, I was reduced to one dog, 'Mopo'. One evening a violent storm of wind and rain came up and the cover of the manhole in the roof was blown off and crashed into poor 'Mopo' as he was making for shelter. Shortly after Andy Armstrong loaned me one of his bitches, 'Ottawa Dot', which had been bred to 'Ottawa Gold Dust'. There were eight pups—two red dogs, two red bitches, one black dog, one black bitch, one black and tan dog and one black and tan bitch—a rather unique litter, don't you think? Andy and I shared the pups and he sold the black bitch to Judge Scudder, from whom I received a very nice letter thanking me for having signed the papers for her registration. Recently I noticed an item in the Ottawa Journal which stated that some neighbors had objected to the noise made by Judge Scudder's kennel of seventy Cockers, and the authorities ordered them to be reduced to ten. The township council here cut out kennels altogether, and I was forced to retire. I am allowed to keep only one or two dogs.

"Your reference to my 'Russian Cossack' appearance in one of the snaps I sent you reminds me that the cap which gave me that appearance was part of a set of mink cap, collar and gauntlets, still in fairly good condition, that I purchased with the money 'Andy' Armstrong gave me for his first Cocker Spaniels in 1898.

"For many years I was a member of the Ottawa Kennel Club executive and for the last eleven acted as treasurer.

When I resigned I was presented with a handsome ebony cane which is now quite a support to me in my declining years.

"I don't expect that you will be able to make much use of all the foregoing, but, I thought while I was about it I would show you what a back number I have become, and that I am the 'oldest parishioner' of more than one institution. However, trusting that you will find it fitting to your needs, with every good wish for the future, I remain,

"Very truly yours,

"C. E. LIVING."

Thank you very much, Mr. Living. "Back numbers" and "oldest parishioners", like "old soldiers", never die.

offered on almost every subject of the day has not previously been approached.

Dog World (England) Annual, 1938. Presents a most striking and excellent "frontispiece" of a Bloodhound head study, in colour. This popular "weekly" has provided a Yuletide offering that exceeds all previous efforts, and congratulations are extended to the editor, Mrs. Phyllis Robson (who, later dispatches tell us, is taking a well-earned rest in some sunny clime), and everyone who took part in the mammoth task. There are more than one thousand illustrations and sandwiched in between are judging scenes from some of the leading American shows, whilst the feature articles on almost every important subject should provide interesting reading to everyone.

The American Kennel Gazette, the official organ of the American Kennel Club, presents its Yuletide number in holiday garb and included in its two hundred and fifty pages are some splendid offerings of the colour plates. The feature writers are evident with articles on seasons and other interesting subjects, whilst Freeman Lloyd's "Sporting Toasts for Christmas", are embellished by splendid illustrations by courtesy of the Newhouse Galleries Kennel Club. Information and the vast amount of news on current events all go to make up this one of the outstanding offerings of the season.

Dog World, Chicago, of which Mr. Will Judy is the presiding genius, provides a Christmas issue of the highest class, as may be expected from this source. Nearly one hundred and fifty pages with unlimited illustrations and articles of profound interest written by recognized masters of their subject. The amount of advertising submitted readily designates this all-the-year "alive" magazine as the dog mart of America, the whole a work of unbounded interest that will be held for reference for some time to come.

DARKER DOGDOM

Found guilty of ill-treating a dog, George Eddie, colored, was fined $5 and costs or five days, in County Police Court. Inspector William Weatherston, of the Humane Society, testified that the dog, which was tied to a kennel, was "nothing but skin and bones" and that it weighed but 35½ pounds, while its normal weight was 65 pounds.

Eddie said he had been feeding the dog on potatoes and bread because he was unable to obtain meat for it.

"If you couldn't feed it properly, then you should have given it away," said Magistrate Keith.—Toronto Evening Telegram.

Alberta Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor,

S. W. FOSTER,

9617 101st St., Edmonton, Alta.

AN article headed, "How 'Champion Goldstream Guard of Cordova' has helped the American Cocker", which should be of interest to Cocker fanciers in Western Canada, and particularly in Alberta, has just been called to our attention. This article by Mr. Rudolph Dahlstrom, manager of the Windsweep Kennels of Miss Alice Dodsworth, Sharon, Conn., was published in a recent issue of a prominent American magazine devoted to the dog fancy. Mr. Dahlstrom says: "In 1927 Mr. Charles Hopton, one of our best-known judges of dogs, came across a young black Cocker in Canada. After looking the dog over thoroughly, he communicated with Miss Alice A. Dodsworth, of the Cordova Kennels, now the Windsweep Kennels, suggesting that she purchase the dog, for Mr. Hopton felt certain that 'Goldstream Guard' would not only prove his worth as a show dog but also as a stud.

"Relying on Mr. Hopton's discernment, Miss Dodsworth immediately got in touch with Mr. Thomas P. Murray, of the Goldstream Kennels, Winnipeg, Manitoba, breeder of the dog, and shortly after became the owner of 'Goldstream Guard of Cordova', as he was registered in the American Kennel Club.

"Physically, 'Guard' was a big dog, high at the shoulders, with a superbly long neck and a magnificent front. For a dog his size his back was short and his hindquarters showed remarkably fine angulation."

Mr. Dahlstrom further points out how this dog transmitted his good features to the American Cocker that is shown today and how, combined with "Red Bruce" blood lines, he was instrumental in producing a large number of outstanding Cockers, and proceeds to give a list of 24 American Champions of this breeding.

While we are perhaps not keen enough students of Cocker history to name the most outstanding dogs on this list, we would mention "Ch. Windsweep Ladysman", "Ch. Gorohill Trader", and "Ch. Nonquitt Nobleman" as fair examples.

The party who drew our attention to this article has presented us with a catalogue of the annual summer dog show of the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, held in July, 1925, which shows, in the list of specials, a stud service donated by Mr. W. G. Climo, of Calgary, for the best Cocker bitch. This catalogue also shows that "Ch. Lady Betty" (No. 28995), owned by Mr. Thomas P. Murray, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, the winner of this special. We are also informed that Mr. Murray accepted Mr. Climo's offer and in due time "Lady Betty" was mated to "Ch. Matlock Durbar" (38964), and the puppy, which later became "Goldstream Guard of Cordova", was one of the resultant litter.

We feel that as a patriotic Albertan we should not let the tribute paid to this grand dog pass without calling attention to the part played in his production by that well-known Cocker lover, Mr. W. G. Climo. We also feel that recognition is due to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Murray, of the Goldstream Kennels, formerly of Winnipeg, now of Vancouver.

The catalogue to which we have already referred contains the names of several Cockers sired by "Ch. Matlock Durbar", among which was that noted Western producer, the late "Ch. Calmas Durbar", at that time a puppy of 10 months, which all goes to show how closely related are Western Cockers to the aristocrats of American Cockerdom.

While speaking of this catalogue of 12 years ago we may say that we could not help drawing a few comparisons between it and one of recent date and hope that these may be of interest to the reader.

First, we notice that this catalogue contains an entry of 224 dogs, a number which we believe has not been exceeded and seldom approached since that time. A less favorable feature, however, is the fact that 137 of these dogs were listed, or unregistered, against 87 which were registered. We are sure that had we time to make a check-up of the recent catalogue, it would show a much more favorable comparison in this respect.

We notice also that several of the breeds which predominated a dozen years ago have now but a small representation and vice versa. When first looking over the entries of some of the larger breeds we were somewhat elated by the fact that these entries seemed to bear out our contention in last month's issue to the effect that the present system of point rating had worked out to the detriment of these breeds. A more thorough check-up, however, revealed the fact that the entries in some of the smaller breeds also exceeded those of the present day, as, for instance, 13 Pekingese, 14 Pomeranians and 18 Boston Terriers as against Pekingese none, Pomeranians 2, and Boston Terriers 2, at a recent show.

Of Bull Terriers (other than white), which in those days meant Pit Bull Terriers, there was an entry of 10, while, so far as we can recollect, there has not been a single entry in this breed for several years.

Regarding the larger breeds can any one who has only attended the more recent shows imagine an entry of 8 Great Danes, 6 St. Bernards or 12 Chesapeakes. While, on the other hand, Labrador Retrievers and Springer Spaniels, which have since become very popular, were represented by 2 entries each—all from outside the province.

Scottish Terriers, also a most consistent entry of recent years, were at that time conspicuous only by their absence. All of which but serves to emphasize the fact that the vogue in dogs, as in other things, is ever subject to change.

The annual election of officers of the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club was held on Wednesday, January 12th, the following being elected: President, Mr. Harry Nash; Vice-President, Mr. M. B. McColl; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. J. R. Benson; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. M. B. McColl. Executive Committee: Messrs. M. A. Ainslie, J. Caswell, J. Rawlings, R. E. Smith and Mrs. E. D. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Smith of the Fidalta Kennels, Edmonton, have just received a young red male Cocker from the Tulloch Kennels of Mrs. B. Davidson, Victoria, B.C. This young dog, which shows much promise, is sired by "American Ch. Sandspring Red Rust" ex "Southgate Sylvia". He is named "Star Dust of Tulloch". A further addition to these kennels is a very nice litter of Cockers sired by "Fidalta's The Brat" ex "Whin of Moray", and consists of 3 beautifully marked black and whites and 3 all blacks.

A Cocker breeder who we feel has not received due recognition is Mr. M. A. Ainslie of the Doreen Kennels, Edmonton. Mr. Ainslie's kennels have produced an enviable list of winners in the past few years and, to go no further back than the recent Children's Hospital Aid Society of Calgary Show, we find 1st Novice, "Doreen's Dixie Belle"; 1st Canadian-bred, "Doreen's Bonnie Queen"; 1st Open, Winners, and Best of Winners; "Doreen's Minikan Mitzi", Reserve; "Doreen's Bonnie Queen". All of these were bred by Mr. Ainslie though no longer in his kennels.

A late addition to the Quantock Kennels of Mr. J. Rawlings, Edmonton, is a litter of Springer Spaniels from "Quantock Hope", sired by "Apslyn Advancer" (Imp.). "Hope" is a daughter of the late "Ch. Quantock Vale of Kent", dam of such noted winners as American Champions "Quantock Beauty" and "Quantock Supreme" and Canadian "Ch. Quantock Fencer". As "Advancer" is also the sire of "Ch. Quantock Supreme" and "Quantock Fencer", this litter is one that should bear watching.

Mrs. Mary D. Gardner of the Felbourne Kennels, Edmonton, having disposed of the last of the litter of Wires by "Talauro Goldfinder" ex "Ch. Eastbourne Mary", during the Christmas season, has recently shipped "Ch. Eastbourne Mary" to the Talauro Kennels of Dr. C. R. Boulding, Aurora, Ont., to be mated to his latest importation, English "Ch. Benholme Bayard".

Mr. Joe Caswell of the Varscona Kennels, Edmonton, reports some good sales during the Christmas holiday season, among others having sold a Wire-Haired Fox Terrier which was carried by plane to his new owner in the Northern mineral field at Cameron Bay, this being three puppies which Mr. Caswell has shipped to that district.

Several local fanciers report fairly brisk sales of puppies at satisfactory prices during the Christmas season despite the fact that vendors of one to five-dollar puppies were more in evidence than ever before. Of this particular species of pest there are several varieties of which we shall mention two. There are those who keep a female as a pet and are tempted to breed the occasional litter, only to find when the puppies arrive that they have not the accommodation for handling them that must be provided by the regular breeder, and so are forced to dispose of them quickly almost regardless of price. For these a certain allowance may possibly be made. The great menace, however, and the one which is a constant source of annoyance to the true fancier, is the person who deliberately makes a business of breeding cheap dogs and whose motto is: "Never let a customer away without a pup". For these—well, we can't help wishing sometimes that we had the making of the laws.

Although the year is still young, rumours are being circulated in regard to coming shows. We understand that the ladies of the Junior Hospital League, of Edmonton, are making at least tentative plans for holding their annual show in the Memorial Hall on Easter Monday and Tuesday, April 18th and 19th. Should these dates be definitely decided upon, we hope to be able to make the announcement in next month's issue, together with the name of the judge selected, and trust that all intending patrons will make their plans accordingly.

Saskatchewan Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor

MRS. PAT. RANDALL

2535 Melrose Ave., Saskatoon, Sask.

DR. COOPER has asked me for space for a message to all Saskatchewan members of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. He writes: "I wish to gratefully thank all members of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. for their most generous support in the recent election. It is most satisfying after serving them in the capacity of Provincial Director for several years, to come back and get their almost unanimous endorsement for another year. I appreciate this more than I can tell and hope I may serve them as well and as faithfully as they all deserve."

Now that we have safely spanned Christmas, New Year's, and the Provincial election, Saskatchewan dog fanciers are beginning to settle down to the usual routine, with rumours of spring shows, contemplation of judges, prophesying on the outcome of expected matings, etc.

Stan Webb, Scottie breeder, who has been ill for some time, celebrated his return to better health by procuring a five-months' old white and orange English Setter male from the writer's kennels. He is the most promising young Setter we have turned out so far.

Joe Burkinshaw dropped in from his training quarters, at Donavon, Sask., to pay Saskatoon a flying visit. Mr. Burkinshaw expressed high hopes for his own and his client's dogs during the present year. Out of last year's crop Mr. Burkinshaw turned out a good showing of winners and placers in field trials. One Pointer dog in particular has been covering himself and his trainer with glory at the trials in the U.S.A., having won four stakes out of four starts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Block left the doors of their home wide open on Thursday evening, January 13th, to welcome a number of fanciers to a "Bingo" party. The proceeds from the evening's entertainment went to help pad the Kennel Club's treasury. Among the prize winners were: A. G. Goddard, Mrs. Bevis G. Bowes and Mrs. Lawson. Although sickness made it impossible for some of the members to attend, there was a very satisfactory turnout.

J. Hair has had the misfortune to loose one of his best English Setters. It is needless to say that the entire Hair family is wrapped in gloom over the loss of their favourite.

J. Olsen, who has a training camp at Mair, Sask., writes that he has some thirty Pointers and Setters there in training for next fall. His brother Louis is in charge of the Saskatchewan camp, while he himself is now way down South in sunny Georgia training some of his client's gun-dogs on quail.

Included in the group at Mair are three Pointer dogs carrying the best in blood lines. This trio includes a son of "Ch. Seaview Rex", who has sired some excellent pups. There is also a son of triple champion "Schoolfield", and a son of the mating of "Canadian Seaview Rex", and a daughter of "Ch. Schoolfield". A number of pups are being put into shape to start training in the early spring.

Mr. Olsen expects to be back in this province about the 10th of March, however, he is planning to attend the National Championships at Aimes Plantation, Tenn., before returning North. The National will be run off starting February 28th. In his letter Mr. Olsen commented on the splendid climate of the South, however, he indicated he was looking forward to his return to the wide open spaces of Saskatchewan. He did not mention any anticipation of the high winds and dust storms, possibly that's all forgotten, or maybe Mair is one of the more fortunate parts of the province.

Although our Regina correspondent, J. R. Turner, is down in bed taking the count with the flu he still manages to help us out with news from there. Here's hoping for your speedy recovery, Jack.

Gill Scales, Regina, is fast becoming a dyed-in-the-wool dog fancier. Having recently christened his kennels

Red Boyne Kennels. He has added to his growing number of Irish Setters by purchasing "Old Kilarney Pride" and "Armagh Red Rose". While Irish Setters are the main object of these kennels we noticed on a recent visit, a couple of Boston Terriers, a nice female Peke puppy, and an English Setter puppy, from our own kennels. The arrival of a Cocker puppy, granddaughter of "Red Brucie" is expected later on in the year. The latest addition to the kennels is one of the Dewdney Wires. We welcome this newcomer to the clan with open arms.

Sales have been brisk around the Dewdney Kennels of late. Miss Hazel Mabson writes in that Corporal and Mrs. Griffith, and Mr. Smith have purchased two female puppies by "Ch. Bron Wyne O' Stormer" ex "Dewdney Garbo". Lydiard Wilcox also purchased a male from this mating. A female out of "Susan of Billmont" and "Ch. Bron Wyne O' Stormer" went to Gill Scales. Several of the Dewdney Wires are being carefully groomed and prepared by their owners for the forthcoming shows. One youngster, still in the breeder's ownership seems to be slated for big things.

A Christmas card from Mr. and Mrs. J. Willox, of Prince Albert, Sask., indicates that they are still in the land of the living.

Tattooing has been brought right to the front in recent issues of Kennel and Bench, as it should be. I have in my kennels a couple of Elmhill Collies that are tattooed in a way I have never seen mentioned before. Dr. Cooper tattoos his dogs on the inside of the upper lip opposite the canine tooth. This he claims is very conveniently done, is hidden from view, and is always legible, as the mucous membrane is always clean. These marks show up very clearly even on dogs with chocolate-coloured mouths. The registered letters are put on the right lip, and the year letter and number on the left lip. I feel doubly safe with these tattooed dogs, as they can always be identified. In the case of Chows with their blue or black lips, possibly a white ink could be used for tattooing. It is a question as to whether this could be used on the shorter lipped dogs, such as Pekes, but it would be interesting to know just how it would work.

The urge having been felt by a large number of breeders and owners of dogs in Regina to form a new club, a meeting was held on Thursday, Jan. 13th, and a new club formed under the name of The Kennel and Bench Club of Regina. The officers elected were: President, F. J. Williams; Vice-President, E. Mabson; Secretary, Hazel Mabson; Treasurer, W. M. Maynard.

The Executive: J. S. Bowers, Corp. Griffith and Mrs. W. King.

The above officers are well-known show dog breeders or owners, and were associated with the Regina Kennel Club in the past. The meeting was well attended and a very keen interest taken in the aims and views of the new club. The drive for membership is well under way, and associate members from clubs outside of Regina would be appreciated. Some of the members of the new club intend to attend The Saskatoon and Medicine Hat Spring shows.

Correspondence of interest to the well-being of dogs and shows in general from other clubs would be very welcome, and can be addressed to the Secretary, Miss Hazel Mabson, 3033 Dewdney Ave., Regina.

WHERE TATTOOING IS INVALUABLE

Dog lovers around Ontario who have admired the large exhibits of Beagles benched by the Dominion Brewery Co., Limited, Toronto, at many of our larger shows will, no doubt, have marvelled at the sameness of many of the dogs in respect to size, color and markings, and wondered how the owners could tell one from another. Mr. C. Allen Snowden, the enthusiastic overseer of the kennel, tells us how it is done.

We have practiced tattooing in these kennels for the past two or three years, and have found it of great assistance. Our young puppies are all tattooed and sent out to be boarded by farmers in our district, and upon their return to us when about seven or eight months old the tattooing tells us all there is to know about them, what litter, when born, sire and dam, etc. In addition, we have, on several occasions, had hounds left out after hunting, and sometimes, when the finder is inclined to give us an argument as to ownership, we find it very simple to prove our ownership by referring to our tattoo markings. I cannot imagine why there should be any prejudice against this means of positively identifying our dogs.

IF THAT DOG HAD BEEN TATTOOED

Mr. Ben R. Stitt, the genial secretary of the London Canine Association, has declared that he is one hundred per cent in favor of tattooing for identification, and every dog born his property from now on will have this protection.

At the last meeting of the London Canine Association, Mr. Stitt had a couple of puppies on view to show his club members tattoo markings in a practical way. This demonstration was favorably received, and from the exchange of viewpoints Ben would like to know, what, if anything, could be the objection to persons in various parts of Canada setting up headquarters for the tattooing of members' dogs at a nominal fee for their time and trouble. If this suggestion was to find any favor, it is believed that the objection to the practice would quickly disappear.

Mr. Stitt believes that any one person tattooing for a locality would become an expert at it, and so the breeders generally could be spared the cost of tattooing instruments and supplies.

Two years ago Mr. Stitt shipped a German Shepherd bitch to a client in the United States, but the little lady was lost in transit, and so another animal was secured from the pound at Detroit, and went forward in place of the original bitch, and if tattooing had been the vogue this substitution would have been an impossibility.

Mr. Stitt has placed himself at the disposal of all breeders in his locality and he expects to be kept quite busy tattooing puppies born their property.

KENNEL AND BENCH SELLS STOCK

32 Chilton Road,
Toronto, January 14th, 1938

Dear Mr. Swann,—

Our advertisement in the Christmas Number of Kennel and Bench resulted in selling "Tantalizer of Wildoaks" whom I imported from the Wildoaks Kennels of Mrs. R. C. Bondy at the advertised price to Mr. Alberto Principe through the agency of Mr. W. Maynard, of 1750 Georgia St. East, Vancouver, B.C.

"Gallant Lady of Royal Oaks" by "Int. Ch. Crackley Startler of Wildoaks" ex "Tantalizer" is sold to Mr. R. A. Cross, Victoria, B.C., and leaves Toronto on February 1st, when she will have finished nursing duties to 3 males and 1 female, by "Ch. Gallant Invader of Wildoaks". She was sold by wire the day Kennel and Bench Christmas Number arrived in Victoria.

I might say that two of the U.S.A.'s best Terrier judges wanted "Tantalizer", but, we thought that she had better stay in Canada as her blood lines are needed so badly, being full sister to "Gallant Fox", also, her litter born on September 16th, 1937, now four months, 3 males and 1 female are going fine, and I have refused an offer for a pup which we hope will create a big stir at the Toronto Kennel Club.

Thanking you for the space and wonderful response to the advertisement.

Yours truly,
Mrs. D. Reucassel, Pro W. R.

"VIC" W. WILLIAMS

4844 Quebec Street, Vancouver, B.C.

WITH the advent of the New Year we hear the old question, "When is the next show?" It's a great game, this dog fancy. We no sooner get over a dog show than we look for new fields to conquer. There is an unusual good crop of home-bred youngsters coming along in several breeds and it looks as if 1938 will be another outstanding dog show year. Rumors are already in circulation about a mammoth all-breed outdoor dog show to be held in the summer during the tourist season. Such a show, if run right, will bring an entry of dogs which will surpass any show held heretofore. It is to be hoped that a careful selection of judges will be made and only men of recognized ability and integrity will be employed to pass on "Man's best friend". The Swansea Kennels of Vancouver, owned by Stanley Dorrel, report the purchase of "Heather Recollection" and "Black Diamond" from the Vivadora Kennels of Toronto. "Recollection" was imported by the Kennedys and his show record, although only shown twice, is two firsts at Crufts and two firsts at the Scottish Specialty Show, Glasgow. This dog is royally bred, being by "Ch. Heather Beau Ideal" and his dam is a sister to the one and only "Ch. Heather Realisation", who was by "Ch. Fashion Hint". The bitch, "Black Diamond", is by "Ringup of Rookes" ex "Rufert of Rookes". These two additions to the Swansea Kennels will bring new blood into our B.C. Scot-ties. Mr. Dorrel reports the sale of "Ch. Gaisgill Nicotine" to Dr. Petticord of Ohio. The lately imported Bedlington bitch, "Carina of Simonside", is now nursing a litter sired by the outstanding stud dog in England, "Ch. Decklam o' Precious". It will be interesting to watch these new faces in our coming shows, and we wish Mr. Dorrel all the luck in the world in his plucky purchase. The Blue Chip Kennels of Vancouver, owned by Miss Brunton and Mrs. Fray, report a record year in dog sales. Progeny from their internationally known stock claim as their parents and grandparents such well-known names as "Int. Ch. Kingdom Hero of Cheriton", "Int. Ch. Regina of Oakcrest", "Ch. Nanette of Oakcrest". Matrons include daughters of "Int. Ch. Helter Skelter" and "Sheephead Lad". Puppies have been sold for nice prices to many parts afar, including Winnipeg, Chicago, Seattle, California, Indiana, etc. The Blue Chip Kerry Blues are proud of the characteristic of their stock in so far as the Blue Chip Kerrys are true blue as the name of the breed implies. These kennels also have a weakness for Chows and have lately imported a young black female Chow of "Int. Ch. Choonam Brilliantine"—"Ch. Blue Stocking" strain from California. While this young miss is bred for her blue color, she has black, red and blue ancestors, and is line bred to "Brilliantine" on both sides and he, whilst a red himself, contained some of the best black blood in England. We are glad to report that Miss Barbara Percy, who has not been too well of late, has now recovered and is home again able to enjoy the festive season of the year. Some very smart young stock in Alsations are being groomed from the Werrington Kennels, and Mr. Tom Percy might well be proud of his stock as they contain some of the best blood-lines obtainable.

Next, news comes to me from the Alberstan English Cocker Kennels of New Westminster. It appears that the demand for English Parti-color Cockers was so great at Xmas time that the Dainards had to pass up some orders, and this sort of thing hurts. These Cocker enthusiasts have now moved into their new home at Green Timbers and have probably the finest dogs' paradise one could wish to see. Any intending visitors to the Coast this year should not fail to drop in on the Dainards at the Green Timbers Pacific Highway. We regret to report the sad loss of an imported Sealyham who was only a few days from whelping a litter. The unfortunate owner is Mrs. R. W. Woodward of the Wynn Kennels, Vancouver. Mrs. B. Davidson of the Tullock Kennels is diversifying her kennel operations by going in for Poodles; we hear a new importation has arrived on the Island from California. This fascinating breed may yet be one of our fair sized entries and provide strong competition in the Non-sporting Group.

We also hear that Mrs. Bloomfield of Victoria has imported a parti-color Cocker (American type) from the Wirehaven Kennels. The details to hand merely state that the new Cocker is by "Wirehavens Top Flight" ex "Takalon Best Wishes", and our best wishes to you, Mrs. Bloomfield, on your purchase. An admirer of the Afghan Hound, "Am. Ch. Barberryhill Dolly", recent winner of the Hound Group at the last Junior League Show, held here in Vancouver, has asked me to record any important wins made by this dog, and I am supplied with the following: "Ch. Barberryhill Dolly" completed her American Championship in the Eastern States before becoming the property of Mrs. Jack Oakie. "Dolly" went Winners Bitches at the Garden Show, New York. Following on February 2nd, 1936, she went Best of Breed and Best Hound at the Golden Gate Show, San Francisco. She was then retired for maternal duty until October 23rd, 1937, when she went Best of Breed over nine Afghans at Sacramento. October 31st she went Best of Breed over eleven Afghans and Best in Hound Group, and Second Best Dog in Show at the Ambassador, Los Angeles. Since then she has been Best Hound on two occasions and has the record of winning over her little brother, "Ch. Barberryhill Charlie", the dog who went Best in Show in Canada on two recent occasions.

I would just like to add to these records that it takes a darn good dog, especially a bitch, to do her stuff on the show bench, do her bit on the maternal side and make a comeback and still hold more than her own, and so we say, good going, "Ch. Barberryhill Dolly".

Our congratulations to Mr. and Miss Matheson, the Shetland Sheepdog enthusiasts, on making a champion of their "Caulfield Silver Lady". Here's hoping there will be more champions coming along from these kennels in the near future. We also offer our congratulations to Mr. Joseph Dodds on the completion of making his Wire, "New-maidley Knave", a champion. We welcome to our B.C. membership of the Canadian Kennel Club, Mr. A. L. Crease of Essondale, Miss V. Davidson of Hope, Mr. D. G. Miller of Cadboro Bay and Mr. T. S. Wilson of Chapman Camp, B.C. If the writer can be of service to you in any way I shall only be too glad to help you. Mr. E. M. Floyer of the Floydenn Kennels, North Vancouver, has some very promising Wires coming along, and his latest purchase, a son of "Talavera Marne", Imp., will be a dog to beat at the forthcoming shows. This dog has greatly improved of late and is siring some quality puppies. Our old friend, Tommy Milner, possibly one of the oldest Wire breeders at the Coast, has one or two youngsters from "Int. Ch. Simons Jack Coats" that look like their sire, and when matured will be contenders for the Red, White and Blue Ribbon. It is good to see old fanciers still take an active interest, and the old saying of being once a dog fancier always a dog fancier, is ever true. Mr. Pat Brennan of the Mountview Kennels is now in the process of moving into his new home at 3640 Irving Street, Burnaby, where Bostons will be specialized in. He has erected a new kennel of the most modern type and has the best part of an acre of well-drained land for exercising runs, and we predict the dawn of Boston Terrier activities in the Mountview Kennels which will be one of our premier kennels at the Coast. The latest arrivals at these kennels have already been referred to in previous comments. Some late news has just come to me from the Blue Chip Kennels to the effect that they are importing from Hungary three Hungarian Pulis which should arrive in time for the spring shows. This will indeed be an innovation in British Columbia doggy circles. This interesting breed was shown for the first time on the North American continent at the Madison Square Garden Show in New York last spring and created quite a sensation. The Puli is a recognized breed in the working group and given due recognition in the American Kennel Club. It does not resemble any other recognized breed in this group. Its characteristics are: intelligence above the average, extremely active, very courageous and strictly a one-man dog. He is of medium size and colors permissible vary from cream to black, averaging from 17 to 20 inches high, carrying a long, profuse coat of fine hair which gives him the appearance of being larger in stature than what he really is. We wish the Blue Chip Kennels the best of luck in bringing this new breed to our shores.

Mrs. W. Powles of the Yangtze Pekingese Kennels has a very extensive kennel programme for the year and still some more new inmates are expected to arrive from the other side. Her latest importation, "Chunky Chong", is in demand and available to matrons of approved breeding. Mr. George Tyson of the Barovian Wire-Haired Terrier Kennels is busy schooling some young stock for the forthcoming shows, and it looks as if the competition in Wires this coming year will be keener than it was in 1937. News from the Island hint at a super gigantic show to be staged by the Victoria Kennel Club in commemoration of the Jubilee of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., under the able direction of Messrs. Bowdens, Davidsons, Dodds, Clarks, Dodsworth, Dr. Daw, Mrs. Buckley, Mrs. Wood, the Byron Masons and a host of other good sports which do not come to my mind at the moment. It is safe to say that the Victoria City Kennel Club Jubilee Show will be a very outstanding event in British Columbia doggy history. On perusing the different articles written in the January issue of Kennel and Bench, I think the article written on page 24 by Mr. Fred C. Leggett of American Field is deserving of special mention, and it is to be hoped that

"where the hat fits" in this case it should certainly be "worn", and the article referred to be inwardly digested for the future betterment of dogdom in general.

A recent visit to the Milesleigh Kennels of Mrs. E. Bradley, Vancouver, prompted the writer to suggest to the owner, Mrs. Bradley, that she might hold a dog show entirely supported by her own dogs, as here is a kennel of sufficient number and quality to give any Toy judge a good afternoon's work.

We predict even greater success for the Milesleigh Pomeranians in 1938 than what they enjoyed in 1937.

News travels far, and this month we hear of several very tempting offers being made to Mr. Keith Coughlan for his Field Champion, "Keiths Patsy", but we are glad to report that this outstanding Springer will remain in B.C. as her owner has no intention of parting with Patsy, and we hope to see her in future trials although Mr. Coughlan is busy these days training two youngsters from Trent Valley breeding, and bred by Mr. Vic Williams, who now has an extensive kennel of Springers.

The Strathbogie Kennels, specializing in Sporting dogs, promise to make keen competition with their Pointers and Irish Setters this coming show season. "Ch. Strathbogie Mac" is in great demand as a stud force and some promising youngsters are rounding into shape at the kennels sired by "Mac". Mr. Jack Forbes, the owner, is always glad to see visitors, and there are rumors of his branching out into some more sporting dog breeds. There is one thing for sure and that is, if Jack sets his mind on getting to the top it will not be for the want of trying that he does not get there, and that is the type of fancier who makes the game worth while.

The various arguments pro and con regarding tattooing and expressions of opinion printed in last month's issue leave little doubt in the writer's mind as to the value of tattooing. The main obstacle to be overcome appears to me to be the method to be enforced and the practicability as it applies to the different breeds. There always will be loopholes for the breeder who is looking for a way of avoiding authentic identification, but every law has its weak spot and it remains for those in authority to make the law of tattooing when it does come into effect as foolproof as possible.

Before closing this article for this month, I am going to make a little suggestion; that is, we see in Kennel and Bench a recently taken picture of the dog awarded Best in Show at our Canadian fixtures. Not overlooking the fact that pictures are somewhat deceiving and can be touched up, an outstanding dog does not require the photographers' art of touching up; an untouched photo if taken correctly will do sufficient justice to merit the quality of the dog.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

A steady flow of kindly greetings were received by the writer from a host of friends and well wishers from far and near. The urge that was responsible for these kind expressions of thought has our deepest appreciation. Thank you.

Quebec Notes

By Provincial Contributing Editor,

MISS VEVA H. ROBSON,
Rear 3424 Drummond St., Montreal, Que.

FROM a letter from Kennel and Bench, would like to quote the following in regard to front page Kennel and Bench advertising:—"In sixteen months this position was disposed of regularly but, seeking details, we find that with the exception of four American advertisers who had their dogs in that position, the remaining 12 front covers were all sponsored by dog owners in Ontario. This, to us, appears to be somewhat of a monopoly and we would welcome the appearance of dogs on our front cover from time to time from your province. It would provide a further spread of interest in Kennel and Bench, tend to foster our policy of making the magazine equally welcome and necessary in every part of the Dominion, and has so often been proved is a really worthwhile line of advertising. Also, this would further assure our readers that we are out to serve Canada as a whole."

This is a very fair appeal and I am hoping exhibitors and breeders will come forward. Am sorry to say Quebec Province does very little to add to the interest of Kennel and Bench, as your editor and I know it. Time after time I have made my appeal for news, but to no avail. We are starting a new year, will you all come to my aid and don't forget to advertise.

There has passed from our midst one of the most prominent veterinary surgeons, Dr. Joseph Honore Villeneuve, at the early age of 52, founder of the Canadian National Veterinary Association, former president of the Montreal Veterinary Medical Association, an enthusiast in athletic sports and one keenly interested in church and charitable works. Among other activities Dr. Villeneuve for two years edited "All Dogs". He was a life member of the Montreal Kennel Association; he was created a Knight of the Order of Agricultural Merit by France in recognition of his services to agriculture. To his family we express our deepest sympathy.

The North End Kennel Club of Montreal put on a very successful show Saturday evening, January 15th, in the Rialto Hall, 5711 Park Ave.

Organized just about a year ago with a mere half dozen enthusiastic fanciers this Club has grown rapidly and now numbers close to one hundred members, many of whom are prominent in the dog game. Mr. Harry Smallcombe is President, the Secretary is Mr. J. Ballantyne Brown. The show was the first held by this Club under the new C.K.C. sanction show rules; 152 dogs, representing 251 entries, were exhibited.

A feature of the show was the interest taken in the Green Class, which drew a large entry, representing dogs never before entered in a show and handled by a green exhibitor.

Mr. Ralph Preston, who was born and brought up in the dog game, his father before him having been a noted authority and handler of dogs in England, judged this class. After the judging, Mr. Preston outlined the points of the dogs and gave a few demonstrations on how they should be handled in the ring.

Another unusual feature was the prompt manner in which the various groups were judged. The show started promptly at 7 p.m., each class being called according to schedule and ending with E. M. Wright's English Bulldog going Best in Show at 11.15 p.m. The results in order of Best of Breed and Best in Show are as follows:—

Best of Sporting variety: Burwhip Kennel's Whippet "Pocon Roses of David".

Best of Non-sporting variety: E. M. Wright's "Basford Elite".

Best of Toy variety: Pom, "Adorable of Pamona".

Best of Terrier variety: W. W. Rooney's Bull Terrier "Vicktops Spitfire".

Best of Working variety: Scotch Collie, E. Vanier's "Sunderland Blue Splendor".

Best in Show: E. M. Wright's International Champion, "Basford Elite".

The annual general meeting of the Club, at which officers for the ensuing year will be elected, will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 24th.

The Mount Royal Toy Dog Club arrangements are all completed; believe the premium list is even better in prizes than last year. The Reception Hall of the Y.M.C.A. has again been reserved—an ideal location—comfortable and airy, with a restaurant in the building. This Club has been fortunate in securing Miss Iris de la Torre Bruno as a judge, who, apart from being secretary of the Pekingese Club of America and the Progressive Dog Club has had wide experience as a breeder and a judge. Profits of the show will go to the free clinic of the S.P.C.A. towards the purchase of an X-ray machine.

The Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada held their annual meeting for installation of officers. The complete list is as follows: Mrs. Enright, Hon. President; Mrs. L. H. D. Sutherland, President; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Preston; 2nd Vice-President, Miss W. W. Steggall; Secretary, Miss Veva H. Robson; Treasurer, Mrs. Fred. H. Goodfellow. Committee: Lady Meredith, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Percy Adams, Mrs. A. T. Paterson, Miss Hope Davidson, Mrs. Excell. A Canadian Kennel Club show will again be held the last Saturday in September and the proceeds will again go to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind "Seeing Eye Service" for the purchase of a second "Seeing Eye Dog". This is the news for the month. Am looking forward to a real bumper crop next month.

The Labrador

This breed of Sporting Dog, so popular in Great Britain, and the one that a sportsman who has had any experience with swear by, has not yet taken on with the shooting fraternity on this continent, and the reason for this condition is hard to account for. We have previously been told that there are more Labradors in British Columbia than in all other parts of Canada, and Mr. R. Leckie-Ewing of Ewing's Landing, B.C., a well-known Labrador enthusiast, contributes to the "Game and Gun and The Country Estate" some interesting facts on the Labrador at work in British Columbia. Also interesting from a breeder's point of view is Mr. Ewing's article in "The Field" on winter puppies, and here he does much to remove the bugbear which is so associated with the raising of winter litters.

Possibly it may be news to many of your readers that Labrador bitches can successfully raise their litters during our cold Canadian winter months. I like to have a litter or two born in the months of November and December, so that they may be ready for field work the next autumn. I would not risk a winter litter from a newly imported bitch, but it is quite safe to do so from bitches raised in Canada, where they have been acclimatised to the rigours of our climate.

The breeding stock of course has to be good and sound, strong and healthy, and the bitch should already have been breeding once or twice before and accustomed to the raising of a family. Given these qualifications there is no necessity for any coddling or artificial heat. A good non-draughty shed and a deep bed of hay and dry cedar shavings is all I ever use, and I have had litters whelped when the thermometer registers 15 or 20 degrees of frost, and I seldom lose a pup, although of course they require watching.

When the pups are six to eight weeks old they run around out of doors when the thermometer stands at zero and even lower, and feel the cold no more than do the older dogs. If well fed and looked after, and given lots of good fresh milk and a liberal dosage of cod-liver or pilchard oil, my winter pups are in appearance and strength little behind spring or summer pups. These winter pups most certainly tend to produce a strong and hardy type, and they carry on the great traditions of the finest all-round gundog in the world to-day—the "Labrador."

SASKATCHEWAN FIELD TRIAL CLUB PLANS AHEAD

As if to demonstrate the "far-flung battle line" of field trials, in other words, the divergent frontiers, by the same mail which informed me of Jersey activities came one from Moose Jaw, Sask. Scarcely necessary to amplify that the correspondent is W. G. Ross, K.C., who has done such yeoman service for the cause of the bird dog in the Province of Saskatchewan and all of the Dominion of Canada, for that matter. There is no question that "Bill" Ross, as those who know him well call him, has always displayed an almost uncanny foresight in planning things ahead, in looking into the future, to be ready not only to meet the eventualities of the present, but be prepared for what is likely to follow in the natural train of circumstances. Perhaps it is this ability to be ready for whatever may happen that spells the success of the Saskatchewan Field Trial Club, and those who really know are quite willing to admit that but for this eternal vigilance the club up at Moose Jaw which sprang into popularity in a few short years might not be holding the distinguished position among major prairie clubs that it now does.

Mr. Ross places his cards on the table and states the matter frankly. This is what he writes: "I have just completed arrangements to spread two tons of wheat screenings among the farmers on our field trial course to feed the birds over the Winter. As you will remember, the whole country from Portal to Prince Albert was devoid of crops in 1937 and there has been much suffering among the upland birds on that account. It has just struck me that the handlers who train in Saskatchewan might desire to do something about the birds on their own training grounds. To this end, if such trainers who are directly interested were to send, say, a $5 bill to the Saskatchewan Club it will insure sending to any farmer whose name and address the handler may give us, two hundred pounds of wheat, express prepaid. I do not know of any better method of securing a seed crop of birds on training grounds for this year's work. No doubt each trainer knows some farmer on his grounds that he can trust to do this work. Most of the farmers would feed the birds without help, but are now on the strictest rations of grain. We will be ready again at the end of August to repeat our record of last year in field trial entries."—A. F. Hochwalt, American Field.

Maritime Notes

The Halifax police have strict orders from their chief to do everything possible to locate a man described by the chief as "a dirty, low, cowardly cur", who tied three puppies in a bag and hurled them over the Young Avenue railway bridge on the evening of January 11th.

The distance from the top of the bridge to the tracks below is 44 feet. At the bottom of the railway cutting are large rocks and double lines of rails. A young man who witnessed the act reported that, at about 7.30 p.m., he noticed a car stop at the bridge. A man got out with a "parcel" in his arms and tossed it over the parapet. He returned to his car and drove off before his license number could be seen.

Immediately after the car had left the witness heard a dog howling from the vicinity of the tracks. Another man was called and the two went down into the railway cutting, where they found a bag containing three puppies, one living and two dead. The agent of the S.P.C. was immediately notified. Later, in conversation with B. J. Kelly, agent of the S.P.C., the writer was informed that the young man who witnessed this act took the living pup to his home and left the dead puppies to be cared for by the S.P.C. agent. More than an hour had elapsed from the time of the perpetration of the crime and the arrival of Mr. Kelly upon the scene. Upon his arrival Mr. Kelly made a complete search but was unable to find either of the dead puppies or the bag. It is generally supposed that the person guilty of the inhuman act later returned and disposed of the evidence of his crime.

Outraged by the brutal act that has shocked Halifax people, officials of the S.P.C. have announced that the Society will pay a reward of twenty-five dollars for information leading to the arrest of the person responsible for this cowardly act. Other rewards have been offered by private citizens and it is to be hoped that the necessary information will soon be supplied.

Mr. Fred O'Connell, Gorsebrook Kennels, Halifax, reports the loss of his good young Cocker Spaniel bitch, "Duchess of Gorsebrook". This attractive red and white bitch was born April 12th, 1936, and was by "Thetford Tiny Tim" and out of "Thetford Jolly Mistie". During the past year Mr. O'Connell has lost a number of good Cockers and it is evident that his kennels are now practically depleted. It is discouraging to note the loss of such good stock as that recently owned by Mr. O'Connell, particularly so when we consider the quality of the Cockers that are now being bred locally.

Dr. Arthur Murphy of Halifax has joined the Irish Terrier fancy and has just secured a good young male puppy bred by Mrs. Burns and sired by "Donegal Michael" ex. "Ch. Donegal Red Riot".

Wire-haired Fox Terriers appear to have been much in demand during the Christmas season, and we understand that W. G. Smith, Maritime Kennels, Halifax, sold a number of puppies of this breed during the past month, most of these being puppies sired by his winning dog, "Ch. Burlington Bondman".

It is probable that the Nova Scotia Provincial Exhibition will be held during the early part of September next. During the past two years this fair has been held at a much later date, this being one of the main reasons for the absence of the Nova Scotia Kennel Club Show at the Exhibition during that time. It is now probable that arrangements will be made to have the dog show as a part of the fair next fall and, if so, there will be arrangements made to supply a more suitable building for the use of the show-giving club. The dog show has always been a feature of the Exhibition and has been greatly missed during its absence of the last few years.

CHANGES IN JUDGES AT THE WESTMINSTER KENNEL CLUB SHOW

Oliver C. Harriman, who was to have judged the Terrier Group and several of the breeds at the sixty-second annual Westminster Kennel Club Show in Madison Square Garden on February 10, 11 and 12, will be kept in California by business, necessitating a change in the judging schedule.

Harry T. Peters, chairman of the bench show committee, announced that Mr. Harriman's assignment to the Terrier Group would be given to William Prescott Wolcott, of Milton, Mass. Mr. Wolcott is a veteran breeder, exhibitor and judge who has been interested in dogs since his boyhood. He was one of the early Airedale fanciers in this country and made history in that breed. He also fancied Irish Terriers prominently and at one time or another has had almost every breed. Mr. Wolcott had already consented to judge Cairns at the Associated Terrier Show, the day before the Westminster opens.

Mr. Harriman's breed assignments for Old English Sheepdogs, Pulis, Rottweilers and Corgis have been given to Dr. Henry Jarrett, of Philadelphia. He will take these on in addition to the Dachshunds, for which he previously had been booked. Mr. Harriman was also to have judged the Airedales at the Associated Terrier Show. That task will be taken over by Charles A. Gardiner, of Pleasantville, N.Y.

In announcing the judging changes, Mr. Peters disclosed that entries have been coming in at an amazing rate, even though fanciers had been informed that this year the show is to be limited to 3,000 dogs.

SPILLERS, LIMITED

This well-known London, England, house of dog food manufacturers set forth their claim to a World Record in a full-page advertisement in this issue of Kennel and Bench.

Some time ago, Mr. Thomas E. J. Shanks of Sevenoaks, Kent, England, boasted of five home-bred Old English Sheepdogs from one litter having attained their individual championship status, and credits the food qualities of Spillers, Limited, Saval with being responsible for their solid foundation of health, stamina and rugged constitution. Then along comes the well-known Canadian Pug fancier, Mrs. M. S. Threlfall of St. Lamberts, Quebec, with the history of a similar number of home-breds, also of one family who each completed full championship honours, and here again Spillers Limited played a part, for the puppies were raised to maturity on Saval No. 1 and Saval No. 2, and apart from escaping the common ails of puppyhood their general condition and bone development was a subject of comment on the part of many prominent judges who had the opportunity of passing on them.

Mr. Harry Brogan, the Secretary, in sending us the list of judges approved for this popular (with Canadian exhibitors) show to be held February 26th and 27th, adds the further information that Mr. H. M. McDowell, of Toronto, will judge the Obedience Test Classes. The expectation of nearly fifteen hundred dogs being benched would appear to be quite within the realms of possibility, too, when our attention is drawn to the amount of prize money to be on tap. Classes of seven or more dogs will have $10.00 first, $5.00 second, $3.00 third, and in addition a further thousand dollars are offered as cash Special Prizes, and the Trophies up for the numerous competitions provide the usual formidable array. ## The Morris and Essex Kennel Club, Madison, N.J.

The judging slate for the annual fixture of the Morris and Essex Kennel Club, this country's largest dog show and the greatest one-day show in the world, has received the endorsement of the American Kennel Club and was announced recently. As usual it shows the club has brought together an unusual group of experts from all parts of this country, Canada and from overseas to judge the show which will be held May 28 on the polo field at Giralda Farm, the country home of the club's president, Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge, in Madison, N.J.

The distinction of selecting best in show this year has been given to Harry T. Peters of New York, widely known for his interest in all sport but especially for his devotion to horses and dogs. He is serving this year as chairman of the Westminster Kennel Club's dog show committee, and dog fanciers are bound to feel it is especially appropriate that the chairman of the most brilliant indoor show should be making the highest award at the most colorful outdoor exhibition.

The variety group judges who name the six contenders from which Mr. Peters will select the winner are all-arounders known to every fancier of show dogs. The gun-dog candidate will be selected by William Pym, of Vancouver; the hound by Robert Vagt, of Jamaica, L.I.; the worker by Charles G. Hopton, of Brooklyn; the terrier by George S. Thomas, of South Hamilton, Mass.; the toy by G. V. Glebe, of Bryn Athyn, Pa., and the non-sporting by Anton Rost, of Brooklyn.

Five of the judges are coming from abroad, two from England, two from Germany and one from Ireland. The Irish official, who will pass on the Airedales and Kerry Blue Terriers and make the award for best Fox Terrier is Justice Henry Hanna of Dublin, chief justice of the Irish Free State. Coming from Germany are Gustav Alisch, of Hamburg, for the Dachshunds, and Willi Kloth, from Aachen, for the Doberman Pinschers. Both of them have been for years officials of the specialty clubs of their breeds and each was recommended by their breed organizations as the men the German fanciers felt best qualified to represent them as judges at America's biggest show.

The English representatives on the judging list are equally well qualified, Mrs. Kathleen Thornton, of Farnborough, for the German Shepherds; Mrs. Alice Dixon, of Marlow, for the Cairns. Each of them has been an important factor in the British fancy for years and has had wide judging experience.

Again Morris and Essex has succeeded in bringing into the judging list persons exceptionally well qualified for their work but who are seldom seen at shows in this section. R. Gilliland is coming from Siloam Springs, Ark., to do the English Setters; C. B. Van Meter, of Van Nuys, Cal., for Cocker Spaniels; Ivan W. Carrel, from Decatur, Ill., for the Beagles; Monsignor Robert F. Keegan, of New York, for the Samoyedes; Forest N. Hall, of Dallas, Tex., for the Wire-haired Fox Terriers; Mrs. R. B. Choate, of Danvers, Mass., for the Sealyham; Mrs. Eva V. Hill, of Los Angeles, for the Chihuahuas and English Toy Spaniels; and Miss Lydia Hopkins, of Redmond City, Cal., for the Pekingese.

Contrary to general belief, and in spite of the fact that it has been this country's biggest dog show for the last five years, the Morris and Essex fixture has never been an all-breed affair. It was first started by Mrs. Dodge, who formed the Morris and Essex Club, with the idea of giving an ideal dog show from the exhibitors' point of view, but confined to a few of the more popular breeds.

From the start the show proved exceptionally popular, and in answer to the pleas of fanciers, the number of breeds included in the show was increased over a period of several years. Then it was found that some breeds were not drawing entries even at the biggest show, and a reduction was begun. Seventeen breeds were dropped last year and sixteen more are being omitted this time. In the elimination, the club used as a yardstick the average number of entries at the three succeeding shows. A breed which failed to show an average of ten over the three-year period was dropped.

The arrangement, according to the show officials, is elastic. It is not designed to discourage any of the newer breeds. Several which have not had three years to prove themselves are still included in the list. Others which did not quite come up to the average will doubtless be reinstated at future shows if their popularity increases.

Under such a plan almost every breed can have its own judging ring. There are to be seventy-two breeds and sixty judges, so that few have more than one breed. Furthermore, there is less likelihood of spectators coming to the show to watch their favorite breeds being judged only to find that the breed has been completed in the first hour of the show, a thing that has happened in the past in cases of breeds with only a handful of entries.

With the judging slate completed the club is now preparing the premium list. It will show the same huge purse with cash to be won outright, not conditioned by the number of entries, in every class. And, again, there will be the huge collection of sterling silver trophies for competition in each breed. Everything will be done to advance the reputation of the Madison fixture as the largest, richest and most spectacular dog show in this country if not in the world.

The full judging list follows:

Best in Show, Harry T. Peters of New York; Gun-dogs, William Pym of Vancouver, B.C.; Hounds, Robert Vagt of Jamaica, L.I.; Working Group, Charles G. Hopton of Brooklyn; Terriers, George S. The breed judges with their assignments are: Dr. George G. Blair of Pittsburgh, Pointers; Grover C. Rauch of the Bronx, German Short-haired Pointers and Golden Retrievers; Anton Rost of Brooklyn, Chesapeake Bays, and Clumber Spaniels; Robert A. #### HIGH HONORS FOR MISS G. N. PYM

Our Second Vice-President, Mr. Wm. H. Pym, will be looking rather "chesty" when he gets here for the Annual Meetings of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and he will have just cause for the chest expansion. Mr. Pym's daughter Gwen is known to be the "apple of his eye", and again, there is just cause for that condition. Well sirs, Miss Gwen Northcote Pym has been honored by the Alpha Delta Pi Grand Council by being appointed to the office of Province President with jurisdiction over the Montana, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia Chapters of the Sorority. Miss Gwen, who is still within the shadows of her early twenties, is one of the youngest National Sorority officers in Alpha Delta Pi, not only that, but she claims further distinction by being the first Canadian to be so honored during the 87 years of the Sorority's existence.

Miss Pym is a graduate of the University of British Columbia with the Class of 1936, and she later took post-graduate studies at the University of Montana.

And for additional good measure, and to prove that Miss Gwen is, without doubt, "a chip off the old block", she is the world's youngest President of an organized—well organized—Kennel Club.

CORRECTIONS

Mrs. J. B. Maxwell, of Toronto, informs us that her Irish Wolfhound, "Brinda of Ambleside", was third in the Hound Group at the National Kennel Club Show and not as we reported.

Mr. V. Blochin also draws our attention to the fact that his and Mrs. Blochin's West Highland White Terrier, "Champion Rowmore Ardifuir" finished fourth in the Terrier Group.

GENESEE VALLEY KENNEL CLUB, INC., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

Judges for the 2nd Annual All-Breed Show of The Genesee Valley Kennel Club at Rochester, N.Y. will be as follows: Hon. Townsend Scudder of Greenwich, Conn. will judge Best in Show, and Cocker Spaniels. Robert A. Ross of Montreal will judge the other sporting breeds, excepting Springer Spaniels, and will also judge some of the terriers and Boston Terriers. Alfred Lepine of Kensington, Ohio, will judge the Hound Breeds and the rest of the terriers. Dachshundes will be judged by Hanns Kniepkamp of Ovid, N.Y.; Mrs. Leroy Siegrist of Eggertsville, N.Y. will do the Chow Chows, and J. C. Baumgartner of New York City the Bulldogs. Mr. Joseph Quirk of Greenwich, Conn. will judge the Springers and all the Working Group, and Mrs. A. W. Ocorr of Pittsford, N.Y. will do the Toy Breeds and the French Bulldogs.

The show will be held March 1st and 2nd, the Tuesday and Wednesday following the Buffalo Show. The East Main St. Armory has again been secured to stage the show, which insures ample room and perfect facilities. Under the direction of Dr. Thomas D'Arcy Buck, bench show chairman, the club officers and the various committees every provision is being considered for the convenience and satisfaction of exhibitors, handlers and visitors. For the annual all-breed show, March 5 and 6, the Detroit Kennel Club will have the greatest one-floor space in the country, the entire north half of Convention Hall. It is expected that the entry will be the largest the club has enjoyed owing to the liberality in cash and the abundance of specials.

The serious illness of D. E. Hale of Glen Ellyn, Ill., who was to have done Shepherds and Great Danes, has necessitated a substitution. Col. Alex. Gooderham of Toronto will take care of the Shepherds, which should please the fancy as he has one of the largest kennels of this breed in the country. Alva Rosenberg will judge the Danes.

REGISTRATIONS, 1937

During 1937, the number of pure bred livestock registered with the Canadian National Live Stock Records, approved by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, was 79,303. Of that number 4,226 were horses; 37,860 cattle; 14,329 sheep; 6,720 swine; 6,672 foxes; 7,733 dogs; 1,659 poultry, and 104 goats.

FROM VANCOUVER

Mr. Stanley Dorrell of the Swansea Kennels, Vancouver, B.C., informs us that his Bedlington Terrier, "Carina of Simonside", illustrated in our issue of September last, is nursing a fine family by "Champion Deckham O'Precious". The establishment has been further strengthened by the purchase from Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy of the Vivadora Kennels, Toronto, of the imported Scottish Terrier, "Heather Recollection", whose Old Country honours included some first prizes at the great Cruft's Show. "Black Diamond", a Scottie bitch, was also added from the same source.

ALL SCOTCH

Among the list of New Year's honours is "Ch. Cossar Constance", bred and owned by G. C. Cossar, C.B.E., M.C., M.D., M.A., Lower Gagetown, N.B. She was the most consistent Scotty winner during the past show season in the Atlantic provinces. It seems creditable to say she is the first bred-by-exhibitor champion in the Maritimes. Her sire is a former kennel mate, "Ch. Heather Highlander", now in New York State, "Constance's" dam being "Heather Margot", an Ormsay bred one.

Your review editor asking a Maritime breeder re dogs in those Provinces of 1937, remarked their were no outstanding dogs, but opinions seem to differ—fact is he was too modest to mention his own parti-colour Cocker, "Kendon Freckles", one of the most outstanding winners of the past season. Speak for the breeds, Scottish and Bostons were most outstanding numerically, and for winning home-bred terriers, Saint John Boston Kennels of Mrs. B. M. Frost and the Cossar Kennels of Dr. G. C. Cossar, who did most for their breed in bringing forward something good in the bred-by-exhibitor winners, with always a rod in the pickle for the next show.

The outstanding sire of the Maritimes for this breed column was the "Eng. Ch. Reefer of Rookes". Only two of his were shown, "Cossar Clarisa" and "Cossar Clansman" were successful winners in puppy and variety classes; they are still puppies with a bright future. Others by this sterling sire are "champing on the bit" to meet their rival Clansmen in the show.

The Sanction Show that will be different is the description given to this coming event by the sponsors, and from what we are told it will be all that, and more. The new location, the Naval Club, Ball Room, Yonge Street and Davenport Road, Toronto, is everything to be desired, and the parking space adjacent will be one of the features of convenience. Judging 8 p.m., and a reasonable hour of curfew is anticipated. (See advt.).

THE VOICE OF TWO CONTINENTS

A Canadian Christmas Number

"Kennel & Bench" the official organ of The Canadian Kennel Club, is to hand, and seems to have many more illustrated reviews and advertisements than heretofore. There is the usual business of the club reported. Some valuable special prizes are to be offered next year to mark the Golden Jubilee of the club—1888-1938. It is even suggested that a banquet should be held in February to celebrate the occasion, and the club's able secretary, Mr. J. D. Strachan, has been deputed to write its history, which will appear in due course in the official paper. There is an interesting British section confined to reviews of kennels of Bulldogs, which adds greatly to the interest of the paper. I congratulate Mr. Bert Swann, the Editor, upon his interesting Christmas issue.—Phyllis Robson, "Dog World", England.

Kennel and Bench Christmas Issue

The December and Christmas issue of Kennel and Bench, official publication of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., is a very well compiled issue of 84 pages, under Bert Swann's editorship, with a goodly number of full and half-page advertisements, plenty of pictures and excellent feature articles.

Mr. R. G. T. Hitchman, Director, and Mr. A. R. Dawson, Assistant Director, present an interesting article on the routine work by the Canadian National Live Stock Records, Ottawa, where all dogs are registered.

Of course, prominence is given to the history of the Club from 1888, in view of the fact that 1938 is the Jubilee

Year. Club Secretary, J. D. Strachan, is contributing a series of historical articles.

Mr. Wm. H. Pym, of Vancouver, all-round judge, in both Canada and the United States, has a good feature entitled "Our Sporting Dogs".

Mr. R. H. Voss, of England, writes on "Bulldog Reminiscences".

All in all a splendid issue indicative of the continued progress of dog affairs in Canada and the wise supervision of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., on all dog matters.—Will Judy, Dog World, Chicago.
