CANADA'S TRIUMPH . . .

MORRIS AND ESSEX

By James D. Strachan

OVER 45,000 people—over 4,000 dogs—over 60 judges—over 50 judging rings—automobiles in such numbers that would make General Motors on a busy day look like a mongrel Chihuahua with a tapeworm—over 300 cocker spaniels—over 300 dachshunde—over 150 Boston terriers—over 140 German shepherd dogs—as many Irish setters—almost as many collies—doberman pinschers and great Danes—Kerry blue terriers topping the 100 mark. That was the 1938 Morris and Essex.

What a show! Judges from England, Germany, Ireland—from Maine to California and from Vancouver to Quebec.

A great dog, a great handler, a great show and a great judge combined for the greatest of all Canadian triumphs in the canine world when Alf Loveridge piloted the Toronto dog, Ideal Weather, owned by Leonard Collins, to the most coveted achievement in dogdom—best in show at Morris and Essex. From over four thousand of the finest dogs in the world judge Harry Peters selected Ideal Weather. For the dog, the win is the culmination of a sensational show career. For Canadian dogdom, it evinces the prominence and quality of Canadian breeding. For Mr. and Mrs. Collins, it justifies the faith and confidence they have placed in the dog for six years. And for Alf Loveridge, it is the apex of a handling career that has been studded with outstanding successes. THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, Inc.

An intense anticipation itself transforms possibility into reality, our desires being often but precursors of the things which we are capable of performing.—Samuel Smiles.

That was a rather broad jump we took in the last issue of Kennel and Bench, but in order to function within the limits of our self imposed time Schedule, we just had to increase the tempo—and did, we showed our readers that the membership at the end of 1897 was only 92 (after nine years) and that the registrations were 268 for that year, and only slightly over 4,000 registrations after nine years. We also mentioned that only five shows had been held in 1897. We also showed that the 1898 income had been $469.38, and expenditure to have been $394.89, and from that point we passed on to 1899 when the income had passed the thousand dollar mark for the first time in our Clubs history. In 1902 our expenditure passed the $1,000.00 mark for the first time, in 1907 we had passed the $2,000.00 figure for income, the whole leaving quite a reliable kind of yardstick with which to measure, what must be considered, a healthy, though none too vigorous development.

It would appear to this recorder, that the pulse of the Canadian Kennel Club could always be interpreted more accurately by the number and quality of the dog shows held in any given year, than by any other means, we hardly expect all our readers to agree with us when making this observation. But we would expect them to concede that we have based the suggestion on an honest impressive conviction, so we would mention here that the present chapter of our serial will start with a cursory glance over the compilation of figures which represent the 1898-1907 episode, for the first of those years we had a membership of 92 with a registration of 268 dogs and five dog shows, as mentioned above. At the 1907 station we found 265 members (a new high) 641 registrations, and nine dog shows.

In the misery of our growing pains, we had struggled to take the grip of our elder sister—the American Kennel Club, we had taken grips with the Pacific Kennel League—the Western Kennel League, but as the “pains” decreased, chiefly because of the growth of dog shows in Canada, and particularly in Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia. The real pleasures of managing a National Canine Government finally began to give our officers a comfortable, satisfying feeling. Mr. Kent's declared platform being “The Welfare of the Club”, “The Promotion of Dog Shows” and “Every Obligation Due to Members”, and no President could have had any more substantial foundation, upon which to build, than that.

With the coming of 1910, came an alarming extension of the Rabies Scourge which had reared its ugly head in 1908 when six cases of Rabies had been sent to the Pasteur Institute from Ontario. In 1909 twenty-two cases had been sent to the Institute, and at the end of January, 1910, fifteen cases had been sent. Naturally every fancier's thoughts were turned to England, where Rabies had been more or less prevalent from 1887, when two hundred and forty-seven cases had been treated, until 1889 when three hundred and twelve cases focussed public opinion on the menacing scourge, and it was this public opinion which later crystalized into compulsory muzzling as an essential precaution, results were at once convincingly satisfactory, and the muzzling order was rescinded. The most devastating results followed immediately, so much so, that in 1895, rabid dogs in England had reached the almost unbelievable figure of six hundred and seventy-two, then the muzzling order was again introduced, and by 1897 the number of cases had been reduced to one hundred and fifty-one. New teeth were inserted in the muzzling laws, and by 1903 the British Isles was free from Rabies. But the wisdom of the British law makers had arranged for the added protection of a six months compulsory quarantine.

The western part of Ontario bore the brunt of responsibility for the continuing outbreaks. Tillbury and Strathroy standing out as afflicted centers.

Past President Dr. J. S. Niven, London, Ont., (1893-1895) gave valuable leadership to the Provincial and Federal Authorities by suggesting that they should resort to muzzling, and to force their edicts to cover all dogs on the streets or in public places. All other dogs to be kept in confinement. Stray dogs were doomed under the measures advocated, and were soon removed from consideration. The good Dr. Niven, always mindful of “Man's Best Friend”, had some substantial, sensible advice to offer in respect to muzzles from the humane viewpoint.

In every instance where there is an element of tragedy, there is also a vein of humour, and Dr. H. J. Grasset, Toronto's Chief of Police, at that time, gave it as his opinion that “One way to make dog's mad was to muzzle them”, and hoped that the measure would not be enforced in Toronto. The good Chief soon found that he had spoken out of his turn, for the very next day the precisely similar Orders-in-Council, representative of joint Provincial and Federal action were circulated and made public. There were no alternates, you either conformed to the muzzling laws or faced a fine not exceeding $200.00 under the Dominion Act, and $20.00 under the Provincial Statute. And for good measure the destruction of the dog was also involved.

Canadian citizens were hard to convince that the laws were not obnoxious beyond the limits of rhyme and reason, and during the whole of 1910 they writhed under their subjection to the new legislation. That the situation was indeed serious may be realized, when we mention that all the Provincial shows. All-breed and specialty were dispensed with because of the uncertainty of entries, and the possibility of contagion.

Even the great Canadian National Exhibition Show was more or less isolated, and the taking of entries from owners of dogs east of Toronto, or from the United States was discountenanced by those empowered with the administration of the muzzling orders.

Dr. J. A. Campbell, Toronto, the Honorary Veterinary Surgeon for the Ontario Kennel Club, then as now, was looked to for a contribution for the information of the layman. In response he furnished the following paper for publication, it represents a paper which the learned Doctor had read before the Toronto Veterinary Medical Association.

"In making a diagnosis of rabies in a dog, it is preferable to preserve the animal in order that the development of the disease may be observed, but in case the dog has been killed it is possible to make a diagnosis, if the brain has not decomposed, by the inoculating process, or by means of the Negri-bodies. These are small round or oval structures found in the nerve cells, located chiefly in the cells of Hippocampus Major, and can be demonstrated by proper staining methods. This procedure is universally adopted by state authorities.

"Now the question arises when and when not is a dog suffering from a true case of rabies. No doubt everyone has seen a dog suffer from hysterical convulsions which appears to the average layman to be raving mad.

"It has been my experience to attend a number of dogs which have presented typical text book cases of rabies. I might cite two cases in point, one a Fox Terrier that I was called to see. On Arriving at the house I was informed that the dog had been acting in a peculiar manner for two days, and suddenly seemed to lose all control of itself. I found the animal in the cellar in a highly excited state, oscillating eyes, frothy muzzle, snapping and biting and giving vent to a characteristic howl-like bark. Here was apparently a typical text-book case of rabies.

The dog rushed aimlessly about, colliding finally with the clothes horse of which it seized the leg. I took the opportunity to grasp the animal by the neck and carry it to the laundry tub, allowing the cold water to run over its head. During this period the animal was furious, snapping the tap and sides of the tub. I was almost convinced that it was a case of true rabies and decided to take the dog to my hospital, so that I could watch the development of the Disease. On arriving at my office I administered a dose of chloral hydrate, and placed the animal in an isolated cage. It protruding and cyanosed, eyes staring and oscillating, marked paralysis in the hind quarters and great emaciation. On careful examination the case proved to be one of Gangrenous Stomatitis.

"These cases simply go to show that one must not be too hasty in rushing blindly to a diagnosis, but must view such cases from a sane and scientific standpoint, and I may truly state that many of the above conditions require the keenest observation. Now we must admit the actual existence of the disease rabies, but it is not common, and in a large percentage of cases said to be rabies it has been found that the diagnosis is at fault, the condition is simply one of cerebral or spinal irritation, brought about by gastric disturbances, example, due to poison, teething, intestinal absorption of toxic products or retained faeces, or extreme irritation brought about by intestinal worms.

"The condition may also be brought about by a rapid rise of blood.

"This being the first occasion that the question for the prevention of rabies has been brought so prominently to the public notice, and owing to the extreme agitation in the public mind concerning this subject I consider this a most opportune moment for bringing the question of rabies before this society for discussion.

"I shall endeavor to epitomize a few of the widely scattered facts concerning the disease.

"Rabies, coming from the Latin "rabere," to rave, is all that the name indicates. It is a disease of the dog and his species, communicable to man and domesticated animals, the infection transmitted by inoculation only and under no circumstances does it develop spontaneously. The virus, whatever it may be, is located in saliva and the nerve centres of the body. It is found that in man the period of development extends from was very much exhausted and crawled into a corner and collapsed, remaining in the same position up till ten p.m. No new symptom appearing I left for home. On the following morning I found the dog apparently normal except for a slight condition of exhaustion. On being offered food the animal ate greedily, and from then on steadily improved. I had the case under my observation for a week, and sent it home in a normal condition. Here was a case in which the condition was brought on by teething.

"The second case I might mention is that of a Bulldog which was suffering from what appeared to be a case of dumb rabies, the lower jaw paralyzed and drooped, the tongue

True Tales of Real Dogs

The Afghan Hound, Hero of a Strange Conquest.

By Albert Payson Terhune

SOME of you have seen the Saluki—the Afghan hound—at dog shows and elsewhere, during the past few years. There are only a few of them in America thus far, though they are becoming popular in Europe, and though they have been used for hunting in various parts of the Orient for centuries.

The dogs are of various colors, and they look like rather small grayhounds with shaggy tails and with longer hair than the grayhound's. They are incredibly swift runners. Their Oriental masters use them chiefly for hunting antelopes.

I am going to tell you the true story of one such hunt, in the Near East, a hunt with a strange ending.

The hero of this story was a Saluki named Halil, which is the Arabic word for "The Well-Loved." Halil lived up to his name. For he was the favorite possession of Uthman, lord of the Kifri tribe.

Uthman loved the beautiful brown-and-silver hound, and kept Halil at his side, wherever his tribe wandered. The dog slept at the chief's feet at night in the royal tent, and ate all his meals with him. This in a land where a dog usually is regarded as unclean.

But Halil deserved his master's favor. He was an inspired hunter and faster in the chase than any other dog in that region. Fleet indeed must be the desert antelope which Halil could not run to earth.

To westward of the Kifri domains lay the country of the Beni Zor. Ysouf, chief of the Beni Zor, was Uthman's mortal foe. Time and again the two tribes had clashed.

In fair battle the Kifri warriors nearly always were victorious over their foes. But in craftiness—such as the successful raiding of unprotected Kifri flocks and herds of supplies of grain and the like—Ysouf's men were far more successful.

For generations the two tribes had hated one another. Many a time had the sands been stained with blood, from single fights or wholesale combats between them. It was a hereditary feud.

Then, because each side was exhausted and becoming impoverished, truce was patched up between them. Neither had ceased hating the other. And Uthman and Ysouf were as bitter enemies as ever. But it was good policy just then to hide this mutual hatred and to pretend to be friends.

As part of this friendly policy a grand hunt was arranged; a hunt which was to end in a feast to which the foremost men of each tribe were to be bidden.

Now one of Uthman's fiercest grievances against Ysouf was that the chief of the Beni Zor owned a big jet black Saluki dog, "Shaitan" by name, (Arabic for "devil"), which Ysouf had always declared was twice as fleet and three times as brave and clever as was the gentle Halil.

Ysouf had joked unkindly about Halil and about Uthman's devotion to the dog, and had said Shaitan could race the legs off the Kifri dog. So, craftily, Ysouf now proposed that the hunt begin with a race between the two mighty hounds.

Eagerly, Uthman accepted the challenge, for he knew Ysouf was as proud of Shaitan's prowess as he, himself, was proud of Halil's. He saw a chance to humiliate his life-long foe in the presence of all their tribesmen by the defeat of the black dog of which the Beni Zor men bragged so loudly.

Many ounces of silver and many Arab horses were wagered on the result of the race. These were to be the conditions of the contest: The two chiefs and their respective dogs were to go out to a gully which was a favorite feeding place for antelope. Their followers were to accompany them.

The hounds were to be held in leash until one of the "beaters" should scare up an antelope and send it scudding away, over the flat miles of sands just beyond. Then, at a signal, Halil and Shaitan were to be let loose.

Whichever of them should first overtake the antelope and pull it down was to be ad-

The conditions were simple, and they were fair. The test would prove, once and for all, which of the hounds was the faster. On that vast expanse of sand, the conflict could be seen by everyone.

The morning of the hunt arrived. The two chiefs, each holding his dog by the leash, stationed themselves upon a hillock. Behind them the sands were black with spectators.

Beaters crept forward to the gully. Presently an antelope flashed up the slope, in terrified flight across the desert.

The signal was given. Uthman and Ysouf unleashed their straining dogs. Both hounds had caught sight of the antelope. Both tore away at top speed in pursuit of their prey.

The race was on!

The chiefs and their retainers sprang to the backs of their horses and galloped after the fast-flying dogs, in order not to miss one detail of the contest.

Arab-like, they scourged their steeds to a mad run, while the riders spun their long muskets high in air with their free hands and screeched encouragement to the hounds.

Across the sands sped the antelope. Close and closer

THE COCKER SPANIEL

CH. MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

A splendid head study of the solid black cocker spaniel, Ch. Much Ado About Nothing, owned by the Binscarth Kennels, Bracebridge, Ont. The typical cocker expression that has played an important part in placing the cocker in the forefront of popularity is very evident in this picture. The influence of this dog in Canada is apparent in his progeny at many Canadian shows. He is also the sire of several younger dogs well on their way to a championship.

The Cocker—Its History and Standards

ALTHOUGH not generally recognized as an ancient breed, the cocker spaniel undoubtedly existed in the sixteenth century for Arcussia, writing in that time, mentions a "small black spaniel" the description of which can fit no other breed that what is now known as the cocker. The first authentic record of them, however, is in the nineteenth century when the field spaniel breed, tremendously popular at that time, was divided into two groups—large spaniels (springers) and small spaniels (cockers).

These smaller spaniels were principally used in Wales and Devonshire as sporting dogs because their size thoroughly adapted them to the low, close growing covert to be found in those districts. Blaine's description of the breed in those days was: "The cocker is so called from the appropriation to woodcock shooting, has a short round head when compared with that of a springer; he is also much smaller in size, more compact in frame, and not high on the legs, his ears are usually long and well feathered, as are his legs and tail".

These spaniels were indeed a hardy lot. In South Devon sportsmen gathered them from anywhere in the neighborhood for a day's sport and allowed them to find their own way home after the fun was over, much as a trencher-fed pack of foxhounds does. Whatever merits may be credited to them, their greatest recommendation is that no covert was too thick or forbidding for them to face.

Most of them were allowed to breed in their instinctive fashion, but a few owners kept their own strains. It is surprising how well they kept to type, although some were a bit curly in coat and some had their ears set on a little higher than we care for them today. Principal colors were liver, liver and white, blue and liver roans, and, of course, black.

The classification of "large and small" field spaniels existed until 1901 when the English Kennel Club saw fit to provide separate classes for springers and cockers.

In the meantime cocker fanciers in Canada and the United States had been importing splendid examples of the breed from England and breeding along their own theories. So successful were they that late in the nineteenth century English breeders imported a few Canadian-bred dogs to correct a snipey condition developing in the heads of their dogs. Among the first of these was "Toronto" a dog bred by George Bell, in Toronto, and sold to C. A. Phillips, one of England's most prominent breeders and author of several splendid books on the breed.

Today's cocker is a very different animal from that of fifty years ago, or even twenty-five years ago. As gun dogs they still maintain the determined qualities that first popularized them; but in more recent years they have developed another appeal as house-dogs and pets. Their merry, lovable and protective disposition constitutes an appeal all its own and today, if we may judge by the registrations, they are the most popular dogs on the continent.

The following is the description and standard of points recognized by the American Kennel Club:

Skull.—Not so heavy as in other Sporting Spaniels, with smooth forehead and clearly defined eyebrows and stop, the median line distinctly marked and gradually disappearing until lost rather more than halfway up, a well developed, rounded and comparatively wide skull showing no prominence in the cheeks, which, like the side of the muzzle, should present a smooth, clean-cut appearance.

Muzzle.—Proportionately shorter and lighter than in the Field Spaniel, showing no fullness under the eyes, the jaws even and approaching squareness. Teeth sound and regular, the front ones meeting. Lips cut off square, preventing any appearance of snipiness. Nose well developed in all directions and black in color excepting in the reds, livers, parti-colors of these shades and in the roans of the lighter lines, when it may be brown or black.

Eyes.—Comparatively large, round, rather full, yet never goggled nor weak, as in the Toy Spaniel kind. They should be dark in the blacks, black and tans, the darker shades of parti-colors and roans. In the reds and livers and in the parti-colors and roans of these colors they should be brown, but of a shade not lighter than hazel.

Ears.—Lobular, set low, leather fine and not extending beyond the nose; well clothed with long, silky hair, which should be straight or wavy.

Neck and Shoulders.—Neck sufficiently long to allow the nose to reach the ground easily, muscular, free from throatiness and running into clean-cut, sloping shoulders, which should not be wide at the points.

Body.—Comparatively short, compact and firmly knit together, giving the impression of a concentration of power and untiring activity. Chest deep rather than wide, not

Trimming the Cocker Spaniel

By Sam Saidman

"TO TRIM or not to trim—" has long been a subject of much controversy among Cocker exhibitors in this country and it is this writer's opinion that the sooner the question is settled, the better for all concerned.

It is true that the show rules do not permit the trimming of any but the few breeds named therein. However permission is given to "remove dead coat in all breeds". Just what parts of the coat may be termed "dead" in a full coated Cocker may be debatable, but common practice has it that the coat may be trimmed down by the commonly accepted methods (i.e. stripping knife and comb) to give the body the full benefit of its natural grace and balance and to set off the beauty of the head and expression.

Often we hear complaints from exhibitors whose dogs are shown in poor condition with coats that defy even expert trimming. Dogs that are well "put down" are accused of being faked, clipped, or otherwise tampered with. Naturally any suggestion of faking should be investigated and if found to have been practised the usual C.K.C. penalties should be imposed.

Mrs. Ella B. Moffitt in her excellent book "The Cocker Spaniel" sums up the trimming of Cockers very nicely in the following: "... I can hear raise the subject of whether trimming of dogs with the idea of enhancing the value of the good and reducing that of the poor points does not approach what is known as faking. My answer is to compare a well turned-out man or woman with a well finished dog. Should a man to whom a smooth face is more becoming wear a mustache? Should a woman with an inclination to have hair on the face be seen in public with it? Should a man with a long neck wear low collars? Should a woman whose hair is most becomingly worn around the face, wear it straight back? Finally should a man be seen in public unshaved or a woman with a shiny face? Faking of dogs is comparable in my opinion to face-lifting and hair dying".

This writer believes that Mrs. Moffitt, who is one of America's greatest authorities on Spaniels, has put the whole situation in a nutshell and it is with the objects outlined above that the following suggested methods for trimming are given.

Before going further, a word of warning to the novice might be well placed. A good trimmer is nothing less than an artist, and as such his work must have a background of experience. A tyro, without the knowledge gained from mistakes would be foolish indeed to make his first trimming effort on a dog about to be shown or whose appearance must be perfect. First he should practice on a dog whose only need is a decent appearance in polite canine society. A lady can very well look after her own hair dressing for every day appearance, but for that special occasion when she must look her best she will always turn to an experienced operator. Similarly, the amateur showman is well advised to turn his show trimming over to an expert and wait until practice on lesser dogs has given him that experience that makes for perfection.

Using a Duplex or other sharp stripping knife, remove all the thick or wooly hair from the skull, leaving it clean smooth and short haired. Take care not to leave any choppy marks of your work. Carry this trimming down the line of the neck, especially if the dog shows a tendency toward a short or thick neck. Bring out the presence of stop at the junction of the skull and neck and work your way down the sides of the neck removing all surplus hair that tends to spoil the graceful lines.

From the point where you left off on the sides of the skull keep on trimming to the set on of ear and shorten all the hair on the top of the ear to a point one inch down the ear itself. Sometimes it is found advisable to trim even lower down the ear to give lower ear carriage. Remove all surplus hair on the inside of the ear and on the sides of the neck under the ear to give a flat close-lying appearance.

Remove whiskers and all superfluous hair from the muzzle, taking care to leave enough on if the muzzle is inclined to be snipey. Smooth the cheeks in a similar manner and carry the procedure down the throatline, being careful not to leave any loose ends, and smooth the cheeks.

Examine the dog carefully and see if it needs trimming of the coat on the shoulders to give it the required streamlined appearance. Every individual dog requires special treatment and only a general rule can be given here. Try to get the appearance as near as possible to a long graceful neck with clean sloping shoulders.

Side feather on the legs is

COCKER SPANIELS

We had great hopes to make this issue a much larger one with a larger amount of display advertising, but it just seems to be in between seasons. But I am holding high hopes that you will all come across for our great Golden Jubilee Souvenir Issue, which will be the September number.

The cocker spaniel breed is still the most popular breed; and I see that in 1937 cockers lead all Breeds in the United States, with 15,110 registrations, with Boston terriers coming second with 9,400 registrations.

I was very sorry indeed to have missed the Morris and Essex show because of other business but I am much indebted to our good friend, Mrs. M. E. Loomis, of Sheridan Farm Kennels, Lewiston, N.Y., for the following news covering Morris and Essex.

Morris and Essex Show was as usual a grand show with Mr. C. B. Van Meter of Van Nuys, Calif., doing a complete job of judging. An entry of 260 American Cockers and 59 English, made a total of 319 Cockers.

Mr. Van Meter started judging at 9 a.m. and finished his best of breed at 2.30 p.m. H. E. Mellinthin's "My Own Brucie" went best of breed, an outstanding black cocker shown in top form.

The cockers at this show are so good in quality that it takes a Judge who knows more than the fine points to be able to make his placings satisfactory. Mr. Van Meter, who is a most conscientious person and a Breeder, was perplexed for a while due to the fact that he was rushed. But his keen eye did not miss a good dog that was placed before him. He was very particular about quarters as well as heads.

The only Canadian entry was a parti colour dog, owned by Mrs. R. C. Vaughan, "Kindon Freckles", which was placed third in the limit dogs and was shown by Mrs. Alf. Loveridge.

Mrs. Loomis asks us, "Why can not there be an entry of at least 25 Canadian Cockers at next year's Morris and Essex show?" From what Mrs. Loomis has observed in her many visits to the Canadian shows and kennels, she feels that the Canadian cocker can well hold his own at this show.

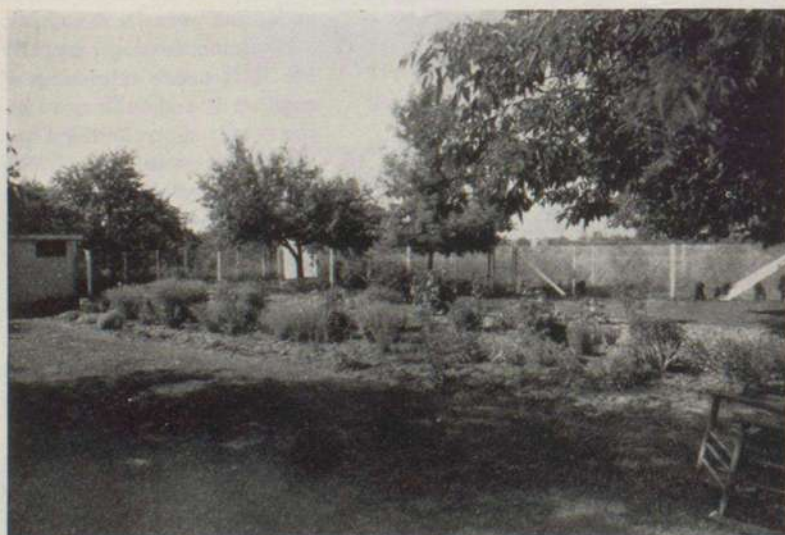

In answer to Mrs. Loomis's question, I may say that there were several Breeders from this part of Ontario would like to have shown, but the train service was not very convenient for them and they were also afraid of not receiving over night accommodations upon arrival, although several other Canadian exhibitors took advantage of the low week end fare from Buffalo. But I hope to have an earlier start on Morris and Essex next year and will be able to show the folks down there a good entry of Canadian cockers. I am sure this can be accomplished by advanced arrangements.

I was happy to receive a letter from Lt. Col. Geo. A. Carruthers of the Sirdar Kennels, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and I cannot help but give it to you. He says:—

"I have been a subscriber and reader of the Kennel and Bench since this magazine was first published and must say I have enjoyed it very much and want to congratulate you and members of the staff of this magazine on the cocker spaniel section.

"In as much as you ask for criticism in your article, here is one for book and take it for what it is worth:— I have been racing horses as well as raising dogs all my life and agree with you that Horse Racing is the Sport of Kings, but I am afraid that you will unintentionally step on some one's toes, when you say that Cocker Spaniels are the Sport of Gentlemen. I think you might add "and Ladies", for I know if it was not for a lady I would not be in cocker spaniels, and I know there are a great many in the same boat. I also know a great many ladies, who are cocker spaniel fanciers, whose husbands are not even interested in cocker spaniels.

"Mrs. Carruthers and I own the Sirdar Kennels; we left Canada and came to our present abode in 1935, and while I do not want to appear to be boasting, I know it is the opinion of every one that has visited our Kennels that we have as comfortable a place for our kennel of cockers as there is any where in the country. At the present time we have about 60 cocker spaniels including puppies, so we think we are doing pretty well considering the fact that we came here with about 15 Dogs. While we are just commencing to show our first crop of youngsters, we got winners bitches at Madison Square Gardens Show in 1936, and made our black dog, Sirdar Gobetween, a champion last year. He went best over all breeds at one of the large eastern shows, and we have some very high class youngsters by him. Gobetween is by Ch. My Own Again, out of Ch.

Thanks very much, Col. Carruthers, and I may say I did not mean to leave the Ladies out, when I mentioned that the Cocker Spaniel is the Sport of Gentlemen. It is an understood fact that we would be at sea without the ladies in the cocker spaniel fancy, so may I add "The Cocker Spaniel is the Sport of Ladies and Gentlemen". I hope to have further news from Sirdar Kennels, as Canadians are always glad to receive any Cocker news from the United States.

And away down East in Derby Junction, N.B. I have received good news that Mrs. R. F. Houlston is delighted over the nice litter of five males and two females whelped by the grand black bitch "Pauline of Barrie" she purchased from Mr. R. H. Heppleston. "War Admiral of Barrie" is the daddy of these promising youngsters. We are glad to hear about Pauline of Barrie as she was admired by many around this part of the country and I would appreciate it if Mrs. Houlston will keep us advised as to the progress of these puppies. Mrs. Houlston also tells me that her lovely golden cocker, Gypsy's Tiny Margie, presented her with a litter of three males on April 18th, two blacks and one beautiful red. They are great specimens of the breed and are sired by Sherbrooke Flying Cloud, he by Ch. Alhambra Chief.

We had a great time at Ulster Stadium on June 11th when we attended the open air show put on by the Canadian Terrier Club. This is an ideal place for an open air show and we would like to see another show put on here in the very near future. Jas. Wilson's "Glen Rouge Black Ace" went Best of Breed again. Andrew Dunn did a nice job of judging the sporting group, and, as always when Andy is judging, no good or bad points misses his eagle eye.

When the new motion picture of the Dionne Quintuplets, tentatively titled "Five of a Kind", appears on the screen in Canada, it will be interesting to note that the five red Cocker puppies which appear in several of the scenes were bred and owned by the Kindon Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. George Davies. These puppies were secured for this picture through the efforts of our Ontario Director, W. J. Risewick.

No doubt by the time this appears in print, these young actors and actresses will be back in their own home (we hope have not gone Hollywood) and the Davies will undoubtedly be pleased to show them to anyone wishing to see them.—A. E. McC.

"Of all sporting dogs there are none more generally useful, beautiful and sagacious than the Setter."

Edward Laverack.

I thank the Editor of Kennel and Bench for giving lovers of English Setters this opportunity to gather and print news of this great breed, and hope that while I am its Editor, this column will become a real clearing house of information from breeders across Canada.

With practically no exceptions, the

CALMAS FASCINATOR

With a fair companion. The property of J. H. Tanton, Edmonton, Alta., Fascinator is rated among the best part-colors in the West.

George Climo, Benny Lambert, Sandy Forbes, and numerous others on their way to fame and we hope fortune, in the good old cocker fancy.

Mrs. Davidson's "Dauntless Coon of Tulloch", and "Dainty Charmer of Tulloch", are winning right along.

Mrs. M. Mt. Joy MacKinnon and Mrs. W. W. Boulton make the competition very keen on the coast. Their cockers always give a good account of themselves.

Mrs. Gertrude Munson's "Sweet Susanne of Dene" is a good one. Arline and Corrine Swallow, from just across the line always take a major part of the awards. It is competition like theirs that keep us up on our toes. May they bring their entries to more of our shows. I have a snapshot of a couple of their first cockers. I hope some day to see some of their latest models. Their Windridge Symphony has a habit of going best of breed.

Albertstan Kennels are in the game to stay, although they have adopted the English accent. I hope they will keep up their American type as well.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Willett are real contenders, and they have the type that seems to please.

Miss Kathleen Taylor, with "Sinaloa Black Brucie" and R. R. Clark's "Holdfast Midnight" made the going good and strong.

Mrs. O. Balshaw, Mrs. M. S. Duffie, Mrs. D. Lauder, Mrs. Seymour and

English Setters now being bred and shown in Canada have improved considerably in the last few years. This is undoubtedly due to the painstaking efforts of certain breeders who have spared neither time nor expense in their quest for perfection. This has had another result, that of popularizing the breed, for there are more English Setters in shows and more people interested in the breed than ever before, so that the perseverance of men like Joseph Maski is now being rewarded.

J. B. Magee of St. John, N.B., has recently imported Shiplake Serenity, a fine bitch from the famous Shiplake Kennel in England. She is by Maesydd Mist ex. Fane of Nutbrown and has in her pedigree such noted dogs as Withinlee Albert and Maesydd Mustard. Serenity was bred to Ch. Shiplake Surprise a well known sire of English Champions, so her litter is awaited with much interest. Mr. Magee has a good foundation for his kennel, as last year he imported a fine young dog, Grouse of Fermanar from England and purchased the bitch, My Great Surprise of Glen Grove from Joseph Maski.

In closing the column for this month I urge you: Let's make this a clearing house for English Setter news, but please remember that it can only be done with your help, so let's hear from you.—B. S.

A splendid turn-out of high class Bostons favored the Toronto Kennel Club show in Maple Leaf Gardens. Judge R. E. Lipe selected Ch. Flash Again Leading Lady, from the Hayhurst Kennels, Kankakee, for his best of breed; and placed Mrs. M. Stevens Golden Jubilee See-Me-Go close behind her in reserve winners female. Winners dogs was another good American dog, Rackabye High Hat, owned by Geo. Allen, Niagara Falls, N.Y. Reserve male was a new dog in the Jubilee Kennels (now jointly partnered by Mrs. M. Stevens and Thomas Richardson), Prince of Ringmaster.

J. N. Halle, of Cleveland, passed on our breed at the York Kennel Club show. His ultimate selection was Int. Ch. Lipe's Bonny Kaye, entered for specials only and shown by her owner, R. E. Lipe, Toronto. Cayley Flash was winners male, followed closely by Prince of Ringmaster. Females were topped by Buddling Marie who nosed out Maid of the Mist who placed in reserve.

From Bowmanville comes the news that Mr. Dilling has bred two females to Ch. Square Shooter and is looking forward to some fliers from this mating.

At Morris and Essex this year, Princess Pal II, of the Princely Kennels, brought honor to Canada by placing second in her class. A nice win at this show.

Int. Ch. Royal Kid Regards is the sire of a promising litter in the Kennels of H. Shaw, Toronto. The dam is his Duncan's Spitfire and the litter includes 3 males and 2 females.

In my own kennels I have two litters that are beginning to show a little promise—one from Ch. Square-shooter and the other from Hazlewood Kid.

The Boston Terrier Club of Toronto will hold their annual picnic in High Park on August 13 with a cordial welcome extended to all dog lovers.

Mrs. M. Firman, Argo Kennels, reports a litter of three males and one male by Argo Hello Bobby out of a dam sired by Hello Yourself. The latter dog has also sired a litter of six for Mrs. G. H. Rowe's good bitch.

R. E. Lipe, Toronto, is to judge Boston Terriers and Best in Show at the Kennel Club of Buffalo sanction show on June 26 at the Saddle and Bridle Club, Buffalo.

Recent wins of the Jubilee Kennels, Toronto, include reserve winners at London, Windsor, and Maple Leaf Gardens to Int. Ch. Flash Again Leading Lady and best of breed, second non-sporting at Canine Breeders with Golden Jubilee See-Me-Go, an eleven month old puppy who is carrying on the tradition of quality set up by her

CANADIAN TERRIER CLUB MATINEE SHOW

The Canadian Terrier Club held its first show on June 11th. at the Ulster Stadium, Toronto, and in spite of sultry, threatening weather and thundershowers that kept many exhibitors at home, there were approximately 150 entries. Best of all, judging was started soon after the scheduled time, and the final award made at 9.45 p.m., which in itself almost constitutes a record!

The Hon. Manning Dougherty's Trophy for best in show fell to Dr. Secretan's home-bred Lindburn Braw Wee Laddie, a Scottish terrier who can show his own good points, as this owner's terriers usually do. Specials for best Canadian-bred handled by owner, and for best owned by a member of the Club also fell to Silvertip, with the group trophy awarded him by Mr. J. Latham.

Geo. Davies found best working dog in Mr. Johnsons collie Lukeo Lanny Boy, while A. Dunn's best sporting dog was Wallace Clancy's Red Prophet, an English setter. Best Non-Sporting, judged by Reg. P. Sparkes, was Mr. Weatherall's bulldog, Stonecroft Sonja, and best Toy, judged by Mr. Roberts, was Mrs. Proctor's Pomeranian, Peggy. Best puppy in show was Mr. Palmer's Ballycliff Sandstorm, the Irish terrier who did so well at the Canine Breeders' Show the previous week.

Club members feel they owe the success of the show in no small measure to the efforts of the President, Mr. Wm. McDerment, and particularly the Secretary, Mr. C. R. Trimble, with the other members of committees, Mr. Ellison, Mr. Palmer, Mrs. Lea, Mr. McAdam, Mr. Fox, Mr. Adair etc. who did the necessary routine work. A second show is planned for the autumn, with a championship event in the more distant future.

DOBERMAN PINSCHERS

Breed Editor,
Edwin L. Kerr,

Hamilton, Ont.

After a splendid start at the early spring shows entries have fallen down badly. Possibly the result of too many shows in such a short time and uncertain business conditions. At Guelph on April 30th, Lenora of Heideparf, owned by Arthur Vickers, was the one lone entry. Lenora (Min), sired by American Ch. Prince Claus of Pontchartrain, needs only a point or two to complete her championship. In Toronto on May 7th, Roch of Kiswar owned by Miss Eleanor Warde was the puppy and his sire is Baron Egon of Pontchartrain, owned by Harry Lampman. Baron Egon needs only one point to complete his championship.

Mr. Richard Mason reports a litter of nine, six males and three females from Selma von Burlingdorf, owned jointly with J. Gordon Blair, Burlington, Ont. All are black except one red male. The sire is the writer's Ch. Prince Zmitri of Starkanhart, son of American Ch. Prince Claus of Pontchartrain. Selma has lived on a farm since she was six months old and is a great hunter. Used generally by her owners on cotton tails and jacks, she has cleared the surrounding farms of ground hogs.

The Doberman Pinscher Club of British Columbia is holding a speciality show in conjunction with the Jubilee show in Vancouver, July 1st. Sgt. F. C. Fuqua, well known breeder of Seattle, will judge, starting at 10.30

A.M. on the lawn outside the dog show building. Immediately after the judging the first obedience class in the West will be held with W. H. Pym judging. Nine entries are expected and all are Dobs. I believe this to be the first doberman pinscher specialty show to be held in Canada and our Western fanciers are to be congratulated for their enthusiasm in arranging this event. The obedience tests are always interesting and create a very favourable impression on the general public in the interest of our breed. Personally I do not favour public exhibitions of police or man work. I have seen many exhibitions of this kind in Detroit, Chicago and other American cities, and many of the people came away with the idea that Dobermans were vicious and only good as a watch dog. Our Western friends are busy working their dogs for the big event and many gather Sundays at the Dorn Dog School and some very intensive training takes place. Most are in training for the C.D. degree and this obedience training is splendid for any Dobe. Several of our breed are somewhat headstrong but, starting at around nine months to a year old, they respond very readily to training and the true character can be brought out by a competent trainer. Dr. F. G. Pinder is donating a trophy for the winner of the obedience class.

Robert E. Leary, of Vancouver, had a great heartache when his good dobe Herr Consul von Weissburg, was poisoned a month ago. Herr made seven points in two shows but his owner could not spare the time to campaign him. Igor von Dorn, a ten months old son of Ch. Dilla von Dorn, has been purchased by Mr. Leary and is doing his best to replace the lost one.

Jasper M. Daniels reports a splendid litter of ten, seven males and three females, from Ch. Beda of Plantation Grove and Rolf von Lackenblick, whelped May 16th. Ch. Beda of Plantation Grove is from Prinz Noah of Pontchartrain and Ch. Princess Pan of Pontchartrain.

The picture appearing in this section is of Solvent Ruffles who finished at the Hamilton Spring Show. Bred by the Pocahontas Kennels of Buffalo, N.Y., from the German imported dog Claus von Raufelsen a son of Sr. Helious von Siegestor. The dam of Ruffles was Ruby of Pocahontas. Her owner contemplates breeding her to Yan of Pocahontas, a son of Ch. Big Boy of Whitegate.—E. L. K.

Toronto.

W. J. Risewick, popular bulldog fancier and proprietor of the Wellstone Kennels, once remarked "If I owned a building in which it was proposed to hold a dog show, I should first insist that Scotties be brought into the ring with steel collars and chains, so that they could not break away from their handlers and make a hole through my wall". W. McDermott, critique extraordinaire and the Sherlock Holmes of judiciaries, has said "I will not put up a Scottie, no matter how good a specimen, that has to be propped up or is grovelling around the floor of the ring. It must show itself à l'Anglaise at the end of a loose lead".

Bravo, gentlemen. You have called the trick. And yet another to join your ranks is the famous breeder and judge, Reg. P. Sparkes, who recognized the Scottie "distinctivuality" in judging best in show at the Canadian Terrier Club show in Toronto. He awarded top honors for all breeds to a Scottie—that game little Aberdeen showman "Lindburn Braw Wee Laddie". He is not a "Realization"; nor is he a "Fashion Hint", but has he got distinctivuality! Placed best of breed by John Latham, best of group by the same judge, Laddie attracted the admiration of Judge Sparkes who gave him the highest award of the day. Most of the judging was done in the rain, and you breeders know that the average Scot does not look his best in a bathing suit.

Getting back to distinctivuality, it is a fine recommendation to own a dog with every sire a champion and the old slogan "blood will tell" (or nearly will) will probably hold good in your breeding. But in my humble opinion, the character of the sire is of paramount importance. Investigate the proposed stud's ancestral showmanship propensities. Mrs. Batt, of the famous Haldon prefix, once told me that Laddie owes his gameness and style to his grandfather, Int. Ch. Haldon Minstrel, the gamest Scot ever bred in the Guelph kennels. Thus the character of the sire follows through in his offspring.

This win for the Scotties will perhaps encourage our good friend, L. C. Lindsay, of the Lindburn Kennels, Thornhill, to again be seen in the ring with Segaris Jo Jo or some of his other good ones; for it was he who bred Lindburn Braw Wee Laddie.

The Maple Leaf Gardens show was great entertainment but seemed to lack the atmosphere to which we have become accustomed. No barks, no nothing, although benching was decidedly better than anticipated. Walter Reeves passed on our breed and fancied Chanters Jaunty Lad who was also placed best Canadian-bred in show. Mr. Stewart at the Canadian Terrier Club show had two extremely fine little puppies of Jaunty's with marvelous quarters.

The York Kennel Club's annual show at Richmond Hill was its usual brilliant success. Lunch at the United Church was a pleasant affair with the Great Dane Jernigans, the Borzoi Coopers, the Setter Clancys, the Fox Terrier Beers et al. Aberdeen Kennels' Susan of Agbrigg obtained her fifth best of breed under Anton Rost, an international judge who had a busy day (which probably helped to keep him warm). The Haldon entry, Boldmere Binder, Chanters Jaunty Lad and several others were unlucky to the winner that day.

Mrs. Lefroy, of Thornhill Kennels situated five miles north-west of London, has moved three times since commencing to breed Scotties. She is now definitely settled for good and is busy preparing that good puppy, Thornhill Thereabouts, for the Canadian National Exhibition. Incidentally, London was the pup's first show and he went reserve winners.

We hear that Mr. Bennett, of Heather Sensation fame, is bringing back two females from England—one for himself and one for the Blochins, of Rowmore Ardfeir renown. It looks as though competition will be hot this fall, with Mrs. Batt returning from England with (perhaps) a good one. Even if she comes back empty-handed, you can bet she has some topping youngsters at home all ready to go.

JAPANESE SPANIELS

The Japanese Spaniel, or as it is known in its native land, the Chin, is a toy dog of great beauty and intelligence. It must not be confused in any way with the general spaniel family of which the English toy is a member. It is an ancient breed and descended through the same ancestry as the Pekinese, though differing considerably in coat and conformation. It is very showy in appearance, black and white or red and white, the coat straight and fine, with profuse neck ruff and well feathered legs, and plume-like tail carried proudly over the back, the body neat and trim with slender legs and paws and a very stylish high-stepping action, a hardy, active and affectionate little dog.

At the Mount Royal Toy Dog Club Show, Montreal in February, there was an entry of five Japanese Spaniels, a breed fast becoming popular on this continent. "Best of Breed" went to "Nippon Chichba San," born in Japan and brought to Canada by Mrs. E. R. Huntington, of Huntington, Cape Breton.

Now that the Spring Circuit is over, talk has veered round to the Canadian National Exhibition where Herman E. Mellethin will make the awards. Mr. Mellethin is truly a past master in all spaniels and I believe there will be a record entry for him. There has been so much criticism of spaniel judging and so much diversity of opinion at Canadian shows of late, that we will all look forward to seeing the awards of one whose ability and integrity is so well known.

And while on the subject of criticism, frequent and unstinting of late, would it not be very much to the point if a great majority of those who criticise would ask themselves "Does my own knowledge qualify me to criticise?"

More good news is that Edgelea Kennels, comparatively new to the fancy but none the less enthusiastic and energetic, are building new kennels and spacious runs on Drake Crescent, Scarborough. Partnered by Mrs. Kerr and Mr. Sharp, these kennels have been quite successful during the past few months. Their Roseheath Freckles, although not quite out of puppyhood, has already brought them one winners ribbon and four reserve.

Congratulations are due W. P. Gudgeon, of Canaline Kennels, Hamilton, on the completion of his Whitelight for his Canadian and American title. Whitelight achieved his championship with a series of splendid wins and is indeed a worthy champion. Trent Valley Silvertorch, another good one from the Canaline Kennels, upheld Canadian springers at Morris and Essex with a third ribbon in competition with the best of our breed on the continent.

Congratulations also to Mrs. D. J. Lerch, of Nodnol Kennels, London, who piloted her Dunoon Donna to her championship in three shows while still a puppy. She has two sporting groups to her credit. Mrs. Lerch is one of the breed's most enthusiastic supporters. It is an effort for her to attend our Toronto shows with little Miss Jean in hand as well as several dogs—and we all appreciate her enthusiasm, not to mention Dan's.

John Ritchie, of Ottawa, had his new importation, Ottawa Mac, at the Canine Breeders show along with another springer and a Labrador. I like Mac very much. Although not finished, he has a lovely front, nice head and expression, short back, and only needs time.

It is a matter of considerable pride to Canadians that the best of winners at the great Morris and Essex was sired by a Canadian dog.

W. P. Gudgeon, owner of the Canaline Kennels, Port Nelson, Ont., reports an outstanding litter of ten—7 males and 3 females out of Int. Ch. Dormond sired by his own stud, Ch. Trent Valley Silvertorch. Silvertorch has apparently started his stud career in the same thorough-going manner that marked his success on the show bench. All these puppies are healthy and there is not a runt in the litter. An interesting feature of the whelping was the fact that Dormond Rascal whelped a black and a liver alternately throughout the process. Earlier in the week, these kennels received another litter of six by the same sire. The dam is Trent Valley Dawnlight and her litter includes five males and one female.

the executive and Mrs. Pateman, the secretary for staging one of the most successful shows held in Winnipeg for some time, not only from the standpoint of attendance, but also from the fine quality of dogs and the large entry. The judge was Dr. Frank Porter Miller, of Los Angeles, California, whose decisions were favorable with the large majority of exhibitors. His winners dog was a sliver roan owned by Frank Stossel, of Winnipeg. The dog was well topped, with splendid legs and feet, and a good mover, but he was entirely wrong in head, being very plain, with a very light eye. It is also true, that the quality of springers entered were not as good as usually an exhibit in Winnipeg, yet, in my opinion, there were several shown that were better taking them all round, than the winners dog, who eventually was placed best of breed. Irish Water spaniels were again very much in evidence at this show, with A. L. Stewart's Bridget O'Donahue going best of breed. I believe this good bitch finished her championship. She is a nice sort, and a credit to the breed.

The Manitoba Gun Dog Club are busy arranging for the first trial of the year, which will be held the middle of July, weather permitting. This trial will be for retrievers only, and I understand that a large number have applied for entry forms. Towards the latter part of August the springer spaniel trials will be held, and this event promises to be one of the best of its kind held in Western Canada for many years. I understand that there will be many entries from the West, and I would like to see some entries from the East. There is nothing like competition, and we can take a licking in the West, if the East has something worth while in a field trial springer spaniel, send them along.

It is with regret that I have just learned that the noted show judge and field trial judge Frank Walsh has again been rushed to the hospital. Mr. Walsh had a major operation a month ago, and I understand that he has not rallied to the satisfaction of his physicians. Mr. Walsh has been engaged to judge the Calgary show next month, as well as one of the Western field trials, and it is hoped that he will be sufficiently recovered in time to fill his appointments.

I was very pleased to receive a letter the other day from my old friend Mr. W. C. Burns of Vancouver, who in the last few years has been very much in the limelight as a springer breeder. He informs me that he has one or two nice ones coming along, and he has made one or two very good sales lately to distant lands. There is no doubt, that Mr. Burns has the blood, which should be reproductive of good springers.

I am also pleased to be able to report that Charlie Cowell of Winnipeg, who has long been associated with the breeding of springer spaniels in the West, has a couple of real field trial prospects for the coming trials. Nobody knows better than the popular Charlie Cowell, just what a springer should do in the field, as he has handled and seen the best of them perform.

Several springers from the U.S.A. are in training at the Silverdale Kennel Training camp, where trainers Tommy Wade, Frank Owens and Bert Hill, are putting them in shape not only for the Winnipeg trial, but also many U.S.A. trials. Chief amongst those encamped there are, Kim, owned by W. A. Daniel, Cincinnati, Terry owned by West Shell Cincinnati, Red, owned by K. A. Wildason, Cincinnati, Silverdale Gamester, owned by J. E. Hoenes, Milwaukee, Silverdale Dignity, owned by Dr. Lyons, of Ellinwood, Kansas, and the ever popular Silverdale Jean, owned by the ardent sportsman, E. J. Morgan of Minneapolis.

Kew Beach Show Scheduled for Civic Holiday

The Kew Beach Kennel Club show whose last show attracted six hundred and eighty-five dogs is scheduled again this year for Civic Holiday, August 1. The locale is the Kew Beach Gardens where sponsors of the show are attempting to reproduce the true Morris and Essex outdoor setting. Several bands have been arranged for and there will be something doing every minute of the day. An added attraction is to be a series of greyhound races provided by the Canadian Greyhound Association. A champion parade and a costume parade will add further interest. It is held to be an acknowledged fact that this show provides the best trophies and prizes of any Canadian show, and its sponsors have forecast that this year will be no exception. Because of the close proximity of Lake Ontario and because of the many shade trees in the Gardens, summer heat will be no hardship for exhibitors or their dogs. Show superintendent is E. J. O'Hara, 45 Lee Ave., Toronto.

Just before 1910 had spent itself, and on the 7th day of December, the "muzzling order" expired and it was not renewed, and fanciers were once more at liberty to breathe naturally. The mongrel variety of dog had disappeared almost entirely, leaving the field an open market for the better kind of dog.

Next month we will notice a strikingly improved condition continuing to develop encouragingly in our affairs from an all-round angle.

DOGS ON TARRED ROADS

Road tarring has begun again, and with it an annual menace to canine well-being. People exercising dogs should avoid using freshly tarred roads, for dogs' feet are liable to damage not only from tar, but from the sharp, gritty particles of road metal that adhere to the tar. The most vulnerable point is the tender skin between the toes. This should be examined daily and any tar or other foreign body removed. Tar can be easily wiped off after applying a little fresh butter, olive oil or eucalyptus oil—but never turpentine, which can be excruciatingly painful to a dog.

To allay foot irritation, immerse the dog's feet for a few minutes daily in a bath consisting of methylated spirit (one part) and water (four parts).

CHIEF LONG LANCE

other than "Chief Long Lance", not only completed his Championship but took home everything but the benches.

It was at the Tailwaggers show held by The Fort Garry Kennel Club in Winnipeg May 20-21. The Chow class, the largest and best ever shown in Winnipeg paraded before the Judge, and many a dollar was wagered on the outcome. Finally after going over the dogs in a most efficient manner two were in line, "Chief Long Lance", owned by Frank Bell, and "Tohio G. Man", the new import of the Winnitoba Kennels. The award going to Chief Long Lance; who then went on to win, Best of Winners, Best of Breed, Best Non-Sporting, Best Canadian-bred, Best dog bred and handled by exhibitor, and finally Best dog in Show.

Frank and "Chief" both, have taken a lot of hard knocks since they got into the Chow game in 1935 and anyone with less enthusiasm would have fallen by the wayside, but not Frank, he stayed with his guns and finally registered with a bang.

I've followed "Chief's" 3 year show career closely and never have I seen him as well conditioned or as lucidly coated and he had to be, because he had no less than 7 imports to beat in the Chow class before he got under way towards his beat in show win.

We willingly hand the laurels to Frank and the local Bred "Chief", their triumph was earned the hard way but the plums will be that much sweeter.

I have just returned from a western trip and I believe I have seen the majority of the Chows in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and find all breeders very enthusiastic regarding the future of the breed. At the home of Mrs. Pat Randell in Saskatoon we had the pleasure of exploring her Kennels and viewing that superb specimen of Chow-dom "Ch. Chinkey Wink". At present, in my opinion he looks much better than when he completed his Championship in Winnipeg.

SMOOTH FOX TERRIER NOTES

*Breed Editor,
A. H. Bassinder,
71 Cozwell Ave., Toronto.*

Now that the string of Spring Shows are over and the various winnings are tabulated in the records, let us sit back and take stock of where we fell down or where we were successful, and try to correct the faults in our stock, so that we can bring the Canadian-bred smooth to a level where we can be regarded among the world's best smooth Breeders. R. Ray McLaughlin, of Oshawa, is one Breeder who is doing a real job of boosting Canadian-bred Smooths. He tells me of an interesting trip 3 of his smooths, 1 male puppy and 2 bitches, have made to the States. First at the American Fox Terrier Club show at Summit. Mr. McLaughlin got one 1st, one 2nd, one 3rd with his respective dogs.

At the Morris and Essex Mr. McLaughlin had his 2 bitches entered only, where Ch. Winsome Peddler's Double took 3rd in open class and Timothy's First took 1st limit and went on to get reserve winners in an entry of 23 bitches.

The following day at Overbrook, Pa., the same 3 smooths brought in one 1st and two 2nd ribbons.

At Whitmarsh, Pa., they accounted for two 1st and one 2nd ribbons.

The trip these dogs travelled is approximately 1,200 miles. After traveling that distance and showing at 4 shows in 4 days, I think you will agree with me that is a real good showing, and one which will have a tendency to boost the Canadian-bred Smooth.

Congratulations to Mr. McLaughlin on the success of Timothy's First, in Canadian shows. She was undefeated 5 times and went on to gain her Canadian Championship at the last Canine Breeders Show at Toronto.

At the last three championship shows I was greatly disappointed at the small entry of smooths. I would like to impress upon the breeders the fact that if we hope to attain any measure of success as breeders, we must realize that the show ring is the starting point. The show bench and ring bring us into contact with other breeders, prospective customers, and the general public, and the greater the entry of our breed, the more popular will it become.

Dear Friends:

We would like to extend to all of you a sincere and cordial invitation to visit our new boarding and handling kennels. It is being operated in conjunction with Dr. Boulding's famous Talaurore Kennels of wire haired rox terriers. Our new quarters have just been completed and we think they are comfortable and sanitary with spacious tree-shaded runs. We would like very much to have you see them, so drop in any time you are in our vicinity.

In addition to boarding dogs in our new kennels, we will be open for handling contracts for all breeds except wire haired fox terriers at all shows in Ontario and the Eastern and mid-Western States. Since it is usually found to be more economical to have your dog conditioned and shown by a reliable professional handler, we would like you to feel that we are at your service.

We also trim and condition all breeds requiring such care either for summer comfort or show purposes. Our prices are reasonable and your dog will receive the same care you would give him at home.

If you have any problems concerning your dog's welfare, we will be pleased to help you if you will pay us a visit.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. (Bill) Adair.

two of the events. The judging has been better than at some of the previous shows and the quality of dogs shown has been high indeed.

The York Kennel Club Show at Richmond Hill brought out a nice entry. Richmond Hill Arena afforded ample accommodation.

Ch. Thet Thelma, owned and shown by Mr. Scarpa, of the Malabar Kennels, Point Fortune, Quebec, was adjudged best of breed in Wire's and went along to Best Terrier—Congratulations to her owner who had her looking "in the pink". After the show "Thelma" was sent along to Talaurore Kennels where she was mated to Ch. Talaurore Symington.

At the Canine Breeders show Int. Ch. Benholme Bayard won the wire section, was judged the Best Terrier and finally went reserve best in show. Ch. Benholme Ballet Girl, returning to show form after recent maternal duties, was winners Bitches, thus completing her Canadian Championship.

Mr. R. McAdam, passed President of the Canadian Fox Terrier Club recently disposed of his well known dogs Ch. Burlington Bridegroom and Burlington Dictator, and has purchased a son of Int. Ch. Benholme Bayard—to be known as Talaurore Playboy—to help fill the vacancy left by the departure of these two favourites.

Mrs. McLaughlin, of Duncan, B.C., recently purchased a "Tally-Ho bitch in whelp to Int. Ch. Benholme Bayard.

Rev. W. H. Dunbar, who has been exhibiting a nice young dog this season, "Wings of the Morning", has mated his dependable "Lobo Camp Cheer" to Mr. Towler's Talaurore of Wildoaks.

Mr. Wm. Adair, manager of Talaurore Kennels at Aurora has just completed building a new kennel at Talaurore where he will, in future, condition and show dogs of all breeds.

The Canadian Fox Terrier Association are sponsoring an all breed matinee show in Ulster Stadium, Toronto, the last week in July.

Now, Wire fanciers, how about some news. Write to me giving the history of your kennel—when founded, what dogs, your plans for the future. It will make interesting reading for us all and will give you a personal interest in the column.

GREAT DANES

Breed Editor,
Mrs. A. McColl,
2388 Gerrard St., E.,
Toronto.

Inclement weather having been reported all along the line it was finally decided by a few squeemish dane fanciers, not to chance the motor car but entrain for Morris and Essex. No advance arrangements having been made we found ourselves completely shut out from the pullman cars and were dumped unceremoniously onto the hardest seat ever designed for a railway train. After a night of misery and fear as to how the dogs were faring in the baggage car we finally coaxed the conductor to stop at Madison, where to our amusement, we found the dogs had slept comfortably on top of the mail bags and were so full of beans that the darkie taxi man demanded extra fare if those elephants were to go along in his car.

Back to the Great Danes, and the writer still feels very sick every time they are mentioned, because the only Canadian entry who didn't get a place was my own Alva Gretta, but there was enough Irish floating around at the time of my birth that one little beating isn't going to stop me.

Top honors in danes for Canada went to Aslan Von Loheland, owned by Mrs. G. Hyslop, and never has that lady shown a dog better. Rumours flew around the ring side. Here was the grandest brindle seen and a real threat for best of breed. Alas and alack; he walked out with the reserve winners ribbon. Best in the open fawns was Nalty's Max, owned by Mrs. T. C. Hopkins and John Bain of Toronto. He could easily have gone over the winners dog, and in the writers opinion should have fought it out Aslan for the winners ribbons. The other Canadian-bred entry was "The Dictator" owned by Carl Jernigan and he placed fourth in a class of sixteen. At the close of the show the Int. Ch. Rhona of Kittyglade was bred to the best of breed, Int. Ch. Czarus V. Eppeleinsprung-Noris, owned by R. P. Stevens. Czarus has several group wins to his credit and is a beautiful dog, the litter will be awaited with interest.

Aslan Von Loheland, not to be daunted by his Morris and Essex defeat, went on to Wissahickon where he vanquished his rival, placed best of breed and fourth in the group. Incidentally the Old English Sheepdog, Ideal Weather won the group and best in show.

IRISH TERRIERS

Martin's Irish Jig, year old dog from Martin's Irish Kennels, Toronto, was shown at the Monmouth Country Kennel Show, at Rumson, N.J., last month and was placed first novice. Jig has now been sold to Dr. Lee Hanson, Philadelphia, as has Irish Trimmer II, litter brother to the now famous Irish Battler. Jigs is by Newtownards Brian Boru out of Irish Queen. Trimmer was also shown at the Monmouth show and was placed second in the limit class to Mulcahy's Knockalong Happy Warrior in the closest of decisions.

Further news from Martin's Irish Kennels reveals an empty kennels except for Irish Battler, another youngster and a couple of old faithfuls. Such has been the popularity of Irish puppies lately that most breeders have had trouble keeping enough stock for themselves. However, Jimmie Martin has a litter on the way by Seventowers Stormer out of Irish Queen that will fill up the gaps left by recent sales.

How should a good dachshund look? There is a great variety of opinion on this subject, reference to which will appear in later articles.

As a preliminary, you should, of course, read the German standard or the American standard which is a close translation. The first thing mentioned is that the dog should be "short-legged, long-bodied, low to the ground." Here is your first difficulty. How short-legged, how long bodied, how low to the ground?

You will be in danger if you read the standard and interpret it literally with only your imagination to guide you. In order to really understand it, you must have seen hundreds of dogs of various famous blood lines and you must be aware of the various schools of thought which have gone into the breeding of various types. Otherwise you will come to a narrow-minded and, possibly, an unjust conclusion in considering an individual dog.

A person faced with a choice between two very fine animals will probably resort to the point system to aid him. The perfect dog rates 100% with the points allotted in the following way:

dog's anatomy are considered important. If you add the points for head, neck and forequarters, you will find thirty-five points—more than a third of the total. You will readily understand why this is when you recall that the front of the dog is the busiest part of him during a badger hunt. He needs good lung and heart room, strong jaws with well formed teeth, a powerful and supple neck and a clean-cut long head.

gether disagreeable—nothing to induce the greatest optimist to remember the "silver lining" promise. Even the weather man had made a gloomy prediction for the morrow. Then, what happened? The 28th of May dawned with a clear sky and a sun that promised freckles for many a nose. The grounds were a riot of color, the club's purple and gold vieing with the green of grass and shrubbery and the whole combining into a never-to-be-forgotten picture.

Ten o'clock finds the judges and their stewards already in the ring and may the Lord help late-comers.

Wonder of wonders! Here we find Ernest E. Ferguson, from far-off California, judging the Old English sheep dogs. For his best he selects Leonard Collins' Ideal Weather; and our Toronto handler, Alf Loveridge is enabled to take the comely dog to the working group. There, he meets the greatest of the great working dogs; but he still maintains his superiority and comes out with top group honors.

While this has been going on, similar elimination processes have been effected; and now they gather for final selection. It is a tense moment. Among the contestants are such dogs as Maro of Maridor, full litter brother of Daro of Maridor who was best dog in show at Westminster last February, and himself a tremendous favorite to take the Morris & Essex crown to-day—the pomeranian, Sealand Moneybox—the borzoi, Vigow of Romanoff—one of America's stellar performers, the fox terrier Nornay Saddler—the poodle, Ch. Blakeen Jungfrau. Remember that any one of these dogs is a creditable best-in-show dog and all have been winning the highest honors regularly. And so into a ring that has undergone a complete transformation since the opening hour. Now it is a blaze of color with the red of hundreds of geraniums and the green of shrubbery. Into the ring steps veteran Harry T. Peters, M.F.H., of Islip, L.I. His task is to select the very best specimen of 4,213 dogs.

The striking English setter attracts a cheer from the crowd as from a single throat. The borzoi gets a vociferous ovation. The poodle has an army of well wishers. So have the fox terrier and the pomeranian. But judge Peters has had the roar of the populace in his ears before and on him its reaction is lost entirely. Finally he centers on the easy-striding, great coated bob-tail and it is only a matter of moments until the master sportsman has Alf Loveridge and Ch. Ideal weather standing on the most coveted spot in the grounds—that marked "Best in Show". There was very little about Ideal Weather the judge did not know when he finished. Yet he found in the honest little Toronto bob-tail the dog that came nearest to perfection in his estimation.

I have known Alf Loveridge for some time and I have seen something of his various moods. But I have never seen him with a more happy satisfied look than when, on one hand, Mr. Peters was handing him a trophy and, on the other, Mrs. Hartley Dodge was handing him another.

There have been twelve Morris and Essex shows at Madison, N. J. Each has been better than its predecessor. The 1938 fixture will be written into the records as the world's greatest outdoor dog show. I can only apologize for my failure to do the show justice in this altogether inadequate description.

CAIRN TERRIERS

Breed Editor,
Phyllis Stephen,
80 Gormley Ave., Toronto.

The Spring Shows have brought quite a good "turn out" of Cairns this year, and I feel sure that before long we shall see a great many more of them in the ring.

At the Canine Breeders Association show last week Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baker's Bunt Junior won the Best of Breed Ribbon, thereby making her the new Champion of the month. This little lady has had a strenuous season, besides going the rounds of the show she has raised a family of very fine puppies. Along with these honours to the Happyhill Kennels comes news of the death of "Wellaway Brunie". This will be a real loss to Mrs. Baker and to the Breed. Fortunately, she has left some good stock behind her.

Pimpernel of Mercia, recently imported by the Cairndania Kennels, has taken the show world on this continent by storm. At her first two Canadian shows, when she had only been in the country about six weeks, she went Best of Breed—placing second in group at London. While at Morris and Essex, where Mrs. Hyslop showed 5 Cairns and placed with them all, "Pimpernel" won 1st open bitches and winners ribbon—no small award, at a show where there were between 50 and 60 Cairns. At Wissahicken, Pimpernel again went best of breed, while Chunk of Crockshed was winners dogs. Mrs. Hyslop tells me she has bred several of her bitches to "Chunk" and is hoping for some outstanding puppies. Mrs. L. M. Wood of Victoria, B.C. has a litter sired by "Chunk"—4 females and 2 males. This is surely a record litter for a Cairn.

P. Manley's Diver's Ditto is again well up in the month's show results; it should not be long before his name is added to our steadily increasing list of Canadian-bred champions.

At Maple Leaf Gardens, G. M. Stephen's Hamish of Clairmar gave a good account of himself and at Windsor the honours went to Chas. Powlesland's Pepper, a particularly attractive dog, a son of Harvester Out of the West, I believe. We should like to see him more often on the bench.

WESTERN NOTES

Breed Editor,
Mrs. S. C. Sweeney,
2991 Mathers Ave.,
Vancouver, B.C.

The month of May just ended, we have had two shows, at one of which the Vancouver Island Dog Fancier's Association held at Victoria, the Judge F. L. Woldenden of San Francisco, the Cairn entry headed the list; this, I believe, is the first time on record, the number being 20, including two from California. The wins were as follows:

Winners Dog—Haileybury Sapper; R. W. Haileybury Buckaroo.

Winners Bitch—Dochfour Joan; R. W. Dochfour Dervaig; B. of W. Haileybury Sapper; B. of B. Ch. Haileybury Scruff.

While in Victoria I visited the Conwood Kennels (Mrs. Wood) and there saw some nice young pups, already on their toes, also signs of many more to come. Rauntaich of Melita nursing five by Finebrand of the Sheiling. Trinket, daughter of Ch. Sue of Two-bees, with a litter of six by Chunk of Crockshed, the sire of both parents being Ch. Splinters of Two-bees. Ch. Sue herself had a litter of three very husky pups by Lucin Duffy. Morag of Melita leaves for Banff very shortly for Dr. Atkin, a nice pup by Hamish of the Sheiling. I brought home a little two month old female by my Ch. Seatoller Broc, from a Hamish bitch. I understand Merry Monarch of Melita is a dark horse from England, but owing to a bad journey was not shown.

At the Show on May 24th, held by the Vancouver Kennel Club, Judge Dr. Frank Porter Miller of Los Angeles, there were not quite so many Cairns benched, eleven in all, missing several from the Island.

The wins were as follows:

Winners Dogs—Haileybury Buckaroo; R. W.-Skoki Calardia.

Open Bitches—Douchfour Dervaig, (1st) Douchfour Joan (2nd).

Winners Bitches—Douchfour Dervaig; R. W.-Bonshaw Tamworth; B. of W.-Haileybury Buckaroo; B. of B.-Ch. Haileybury Scruff.

TRIMMING THE COCKER

generally removed, but if the legs are not too straight, careful trimming is indicated to lessen the faulty effect. It is advisable to study the individual dog carefully before attempting this job, and then trimming accordingly.

Using shears, the feet are then trimmed to give the required cat's paw effect. Excess hair between the toes should be removed.

Sometimes excess coat on the back, where it meets the tail, should be trimmed down especially where the back is long or where the tail is short. Trimming at this point may shorten the appearance of the back by an inch or more, and will give this much added length to the tail. In a short backed dog which has a low set on of tail, this part of the coat is best left on. Shorten the hair at the base of the tail and carry this procedure down to, but not including, the feather between the hindlegs. Leave all feather on the back of the hind legs from the hock downwards, trimming off all side feather as noted above.

After the dog has been trimmed to your satisfaction, the next move is to give him a good bath. We have found that soap chips such as Lux give the best results since they appear to remove excess oil and dirt better. However a good cake soap or liquid shampoo should do the job very nicely. The dog should be rinsed in clean water to remove any soap left in the coat and then dried; and if the coat is inclined to be fluff or unruly a blanket should be fastened on and left on until the show.

Frequent brushing to bring out the natural sheen of the coat should then follow, using a stiff brush or a wire glove brush. Follow this with further brushing using a soft brush or cloth, and finish with polishing with the bare hands.

WE want to congratulate Mr. Devereux of Bracebridge on his beautiful little bitch, Muskoka Carol. She is the latest champion, and a little beauty. She recently married our Ch. Rowmore Ardifuir, and we are hoping for great things. Last month, when I was reminiscing about Westy bloodlines, I forgot to mention Carol's father, Huttonville Archie, who is the chief portal of the Derri-ford Ben blood in these parts since Mrs. Neilson's Ch. Ronny of Braco retired to private life. I think Archie is about the most prolific pappa in our kennel, and to think I forgot him and it so near Father's Day! Poor old Archie—there he is with two of his children in Hollywood and another just turned champion, and he was almost the Forgotten Man. Archie was shown only once. He was then owned by my brother-in-law, and when our Ch. Cotopaxi worsted him, it took all the wind out of his master's sails, and he decided that he had better stick to fox-breeding, and leave the dogs to us. So we bought Archie, (he was the son of one of our own dogs that was a pet, by Derri-ford Ben) and here he has been ever since, just doing his best and never being heard of except in the Stud Book, where he shines like a beacon for nearly a page! It just goes to prove that you have to step out and show yourself or no ones ever hears about you. And

There is to be a fine show in Vancouver in July, and I keep getting news from my two good correspondents, Miss Rosamond Billett and Mrs. D. J. Barclay of B.C. Mrs. Barclay is going to show her Bencruachan Brimstone and her new venture, Bencruachan Crystal, just now on the way to her, and Miss Billett will show her new purchase, Edgerstoune Workman, just imported from Concord, New Hampshire. She writes that he is "six months old and full of health and spirits." She is very pleased with him. I'm sorry we couldn't supply Miss Billett with a Canadian-bred, but the situation is now that we just can't breed them fast enough to have one of show age to sell at all times. The demand for Westies is growing every month, it seems. All we have to do now is produce good ones, and with

Charlie Ruggles, the movie star, bought these three Canadian Westies. The first two are "Romeo and Juliet" children of "Huttonville Archie" and half-brother and sister to Mr. Devereux's new champion, "Muskoka Carol." The third is "Ochi Chernia", full sister to Mrs. Lefroy's "Foam Flower", out of "Bencruachan Vicky" by "Cooden Solario" let that be a lesson. You never get fame by appearing in "Who's Who."

I had a letter from Mrs. Lefroy, who now has a kennel at Hyde Park, near London (Ontario!). She promises to come to the shows, which is the best news I've had. We must have more competition if we want to keep the kettle boiling. Mrs. Lefroy has a sterling little bitch who nearly went begging at one time, but she landed on her feet at last when Mrs. Lefroy bought her from a master who didn't appreciate her. She is Bencruachan Foam Flower by Cooden Solario out of our Vicky of great fame, and Mrs. Lefroy has had several Major Thomson's sires at stud at her kennel and bred her accordingly. There ought to be gold in them thar hills, and we'd like to see the color of it. The best advertisement any kennel has, is its show stock.

all the fine stock dotted around the country, there oughtn't to be any difficulty in keeping up the Standard. What we must aim for is good sturdy breeders and pups that show their bone and coats from the cradle. Avast with the sometimes heard plaint—"I got him just a leetle too fine." I like them fast as butter and as hard as nails up to six months. If the breeding's there, the points will follow as the night follows the day. If I had to, I could buy a flyer with my eyes closed if someone read me his pedigree and I felt his strong little well-fed body. What we want to produce is a varminty, hardy, race in Canada. The only criticism I would have made of some of the typey little fellows at Madison Square Garden this year, was that they lacked that "self-esteem" that the standard calls for, and they didn't bounce enough. Their little hindlegs were too lady-like. They ought to spurn the ground, as though they were going to start scratching at any minute. (By the way, did you ever notice how the Westy bitches scratch? Just like dogs. They're often just as swashbuckling as any Lothario.) And those grand doggy bitches are the best of mothers—whelp easily (in a paw-made nest in a fence corner if they have to) and bring up the babies faithfully. I'll never forget Mrs. Lefroy's surprise and joy at the little trouble she had with her Foam Flower, after the sorry times she had had with other breeds. Yes, let us keep them forever the braw "earthedogges" that they are. It seems to me that Canada is the ideal place to naturalize a Scotch dog, too. I never saw a Scotsman that didn't flourish here.

Speaking of Westies being good mothers, Mrs. Barclay also told me in her last letter, that her Derrigs still takes a toy pup to bed with her every night. She hasn't had any of her own for a while, but is hoping to wake up and find one some day, I think.

Letters continue to come in congratulating "Kennel and Bench" on its wonderful new lease of life, and I am most grateful for the heartening correspondence I have received personally. Where everyone is interested and giving a hand, there's bound to be success. So, just to set a good example, we are removing our regular ad from an American magazine where our contract is up, and placing it this issue "alongside reading matter" here. You can't support a good magazine on praise alone, and I therefore urge my enthusiastic correspondents to lend a hand too. There's nothing makes such interesting reading matter as a good advertisement if you're looking for a dog, and would like to buy one in your own neighborhood. We ought to have representatives for every part of Canada, from coast to coast. I just learned of two Westies I never knew of before to-day, Mossvale Tatters bred by Mr. Jackson of Vanderhoof, B.C. Miss Billett finally bred her Kirsty to him, so he must be in Victoria. And an American breeder has just sent one of his pups to Moosejaw, Sask., Mrs. Graves of Iowa who bred Kirsty. I do not yet know the owner. I keep thinking that if our Canadian sires and kennels were advertised, there'd be more "beezness" right here at home.

AIREDALES

Breed Editor,
Mrs. W. H. Humphries,
R.R. No. 1,
Richmond Hill, Ont.

The controversy about Airedale temperament continues, both in the U.S.A. and in England. Judging from a recent article in the Old Country magazines, Airedales have been shown there to the highest success honours with their tails between their legs. Perhaps we are lucky in Canada, but I cannot recall one adult Airedale at a show that could not keep his tail where it belonged, and certainly some of the grandest showmen of recent years have been Airedales and bitches at that. From far and near have come letters supporting my contention that show-bred dogs, given the opportunity, can hunt with the best. Mr. Geo. Shuppe, U.S. Game Warden, of Corpus Christi, Texas, writes of a brace purchased from Mr. L. R. Krueger, of San Antonio, "Their intelligence is little short of marvellous, and it is indicative to me of what their get will be." In building a pack for killing power and intelligence, and real hard work over rough ground and in a trying climate, show-bred Airedales were chosen, bred from outstanding English winners, some of them well-known in Ontario, notably Int. Ch. Flornell Walnut King, who spent his last few years with Mr. Krueger, and sired some of his best stock. The same tale is told by Mr. McQuin, of Masson, Que., who was showing a fine brace by Ch. Cotteridge Brigand ex Fallcrest Charm at the Maple Leaf Gardens show. Some of his dogs, bred from imported winners for generations have gone north to forest rangers, and all have proved that the old hunting spirit is still there, only waiting for the opportunity.

The Morris and Essex was a triumph for Canadian dogs, and Mr. Perkin's famous Int. Ch. Rockley Riot Act kept the flag flying by going to best of breed in the very best of company. Her brother R. Roastine Hot topped open dogs and went to winners, and another brother and sister, Rockley Sweet Memory of Shelterrock, and Shelterrock Jock, the property of Mr. S. H. Stewart, were high up in the award list with a half-brother, Rockley Brigadier, heading his classes. I understand the Shelterrock brace are well on their way to the championship. Mr. McQuin's puppy, Rockside Tyrant, came 2nd. in his class, and Mrs. Marlatt's puppy bitch, by her own dog, Warland Michael, was 2nd. puppy, 1st. novice. Apologies if I have missed one, but I had to get news of this show second hand.

Dr. French writes that entries have been poor in the west, and economic conditions of recent years have discouraged several exhibitors. However, Mr. Danby who bought Rockley Patent Pending from Mr. Perkins last year, has sent one of her daughters to Int. Ch. Wycote Special Edition, and as L. Madame Hobbler is to be mated to the same sire. Perhaps in 1939 there will five-point shows again in the prairie provinces.

PEKINGESE

Breed Editor,
Mrs. C. de P. Doniphan,
4047 Dorchester West,
Montreal, Que.

Ti Ti of Rivercourt and his kennel mate Ah Kwa of Rivercourt both owned and bred by Mrs. Denyer Morris of Toronto have certainly been in the limelight since the new year. Shown at the Ontario Spring Shows they accounted for 6 Winners, 3 Res. W. 2 Best of Breed and 1 Group. Quite a record for two inmates of a same kennel and surely a great credit to the Owners.

Mrs. F. C. Cannon, of Saint John, N.B., is delighted with Shun Kee of Cedarcrest recently purchased from Mrs. Margeson. Shun Kee is a daughter of Ch. Mickie of Toytown and her mating with Shang T'Sun of Toytown should certainly produce very fine puppies.

We greatly enjoyed the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Marnoch, who were honeymooning in our good city. Apart from the usual sight seeing tour, the Pekes were not overlooked and Mrs. Brander the popular owner of the Rosevale Yorkshire Terrier took us around; first to Mrs. De Grandpre, where amongst a lot of Wang and Wangza dogs Miss Capel, or rather Mrs. Marnoch, was able to admire "Tan Fuh's Pee Chee Lee" a fine little puppy bred by herself and sired by Ch. Tan Fuh of Alderbourne just before he left to join Mrs. Austin's famous Catawba Kennels. Then we drove over the mountains and called on Mrs. Leupold and her China Pekingese who are summering in Val Morin. Her China Ching of Wangza was in full bloom, and Shu Fuh also a daughter of Ch. Tan Fuh of A., bred by Miss Capel, had fully recovered from raising her recent litter by Kylin Khan and was being groomed for the fall fair shows. We hear Mr. and Mrs. Marnoch intend making their home in Fort William and as they are taking five Pekes along with them, we wish them the best of luck and hope to hear from them often.

To Mrs. G.—Every colour is allowable and merely a matter of personal taste and there are no preferential colours in the show ring; I've even read somewhere "that a good Peke cannot be of bad colour" but, be that as it may, there is no doubt that an attractive colouring goes a long way and will sell many otherwise plain puppies. Breeding for colour is a "will O' the wisp" as a few strains (except perhaps the new specialists in Blacks or Whites) are to be found who have not intermixed their colours in their aim to produce specimens, correct in points rather than of uniform colouring. I would rely more on the Dam to transmit her colouring, than on the sire, all the more so if one particular colour predominates in her pedigree, but it isn't a sure bet and you may get lots of throw backs and surprises. Particolours are most flashy and attractive and often carry more coat than reds or blacks. The ground colour which may be black, red, biscuit or sable must be evenly broken with the white; ideal markings being white blaze on forehead and cheeks, white chest, mane, legs, half tail and breechings. Good luck to you and the Parti.

Animals not registered but whelped prior to January 1st, 1939, must be identified by tattoo marking with the registered letters of the owner at birth. In addition to the owner's registered identification letters there must also be tattooed a kennel number followed by a designating year letter. The "written request" calling the above meeting having been signed by fifty members in good standing, it will be strictly in accordance with Article 7—Meetings, Section 7.

ADMISSION BY 1938 MEMBERSHIP CARD ONLY.

A Special General Meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., will be held in the Belmont Hotel, Vancouver, B.C., on Friday, August 12th, 1938.

The object of the meeting is as follows:—

"WHEREAS:

The Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., have made provisions for holding a General Meeting of the Members of the said Club in the city of Montreal, Province of Quebec, on the 30th day of August, 1938, for the express purpose of presenting to the Members there assembled, certain resolutions that if the same were adopted, they would become binding on all Members of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., And,

"WHEREAS:

In the opinion of the Members signatory hereto, the Directors at the Meeting held in Toronto on May 19th were not acting in the best interests of the Members of this Club as a whole, in agreeing to call a Meeting in the City of Montreal to reopen and deal with matters definitely disposed of at the properly constituted Annual Meeting of the Members held in Toronto in February, 1938. And,

"WHEREAS:

That it was expressed at the Directors Meeting held in Toronto on May 19th that the reason for holding the Meeting in Montreal instead of the accustomed venue Toronto, was because the Members in Quebec were considered favourable to the proposed amendments. And,

"WHEREAS:

The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.

Meeting of the Board of Directors, June 16, 1938

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room of the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda St., Toronto, on Thursday afternoon, June 16th, 1938, at 3.30 o'clock. The President, Col. J. N. MacRae, presided. Directors present included: Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. R. McColl, W. H. Reeves, W. J. Risewick, W. W. Rooney (Montreal), and Dr. H. E. Batt.

The President received the felicitations of the Directors on the speedy recovery he was making following his accident.

The Secretary reported that Capt. H. Dudley-Waters was improving and it was hoped that he would soon be leaving the hospital for home.

The Secretary read the minutes of the previous Directors' Meeting, and it was regularly moved by Mr. Risewick, seconded by Mrs. Brown:

"That, the Minutes be taken as read, with the exception of the Minute dealing with the Montreal Meeting which should be laid on the table for the time being."

The President put the motion and it was supported by Mrs. Brown, Mrs. McColl and Mr. Risewick. Against were Mr. Reeves, Mr. Rooney and Dr. Batt. The President refused to use the privilege of breaking the tie, as he was not familiar with the motive behind the motion. Mr. Risewick advised that the date of the Montreal Meeting, as endorsed by the Directors at the May Meeting, and the date which had appeared in the published Minute differed and, as a Director, he felt that he should have been consulted before such change was made. It was agreed to defer the adoption of the Minutes until later on in the Meeting.

Another letter was read from Mr. Jones pointing out that, because of promotional activities in respect to Kennel & Bench, the present staff was being extended to the limit. Having in mind that the forthcoming Golden Jubilee Special issue for September would call for still further promotional activity, the Editor requested permission to hire additional help for the months of July and August.

After discussion, it was regularly moved by Mr. Rooney, seconded by Mrs. McColl and carried:

"That, the Editor be granted the permission to engage additional help for a period of two months (July and August), but that any contemplated extension of the privilege would be a matter for further consideration by the Board of Directors."

A letter was read from G. Tamblin, Limited, seeking the co-operation of the Club in naming one of its members to function as a judge in connection with their photography contest "PICTURES OF PETS". Mr. Risewick was selected to function in this capacity.

The Secretary submitted a proposed revised judging agreement which had been prepared by the American Kennel Club for the attention of the Board of Directors. After discussion, it was regularly moved by Mr. Rooney, seconded by Mrs. Brown, and carried:—

"That, the Secretary write the American Kennel Club suggesting that the proposed agreement be amended to include: "Any resident of Canada not previously licensed by the American Kennel Club, must first be approved of by the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club before being permitted to judge in the United States."

It was now agreed to discuss the matter of the Minutes and the change in date referred to. Mr. Rooney explained the impossibility of members of his Province attending a general meeting of the Canadian Kennel Club in Montreal on August 24th, a date which conflicted with the Central Canada Exhibition dog show, and hence his reason for changing the date to August 30th. He assured the Directors that his action had been prompted by the most sincere motives, and that he felt obliged to register his objection to the remarks made by Mrs. McColl in respect to his attendance at the Directors' Meeting in May.

The President was requested to make an explanation concerning the present position of the Club's standing with the Department, and, in response, submitted the following statement:—

"After our Annual Meeting the position of the Department of Agriculture regarding our Constitution was so impressed upon me and on the Live Stock Records that Col. Bull, Chairman of the Record Committee, Mr. Strachan and I went to Ottawa to interview the Director of Agricultural Production, Mr. Rothwell, who is responsible to the Minister of Agriculture for the carrying out of the provisions of the Live Stock Pedigree Act, to try to have our position straightened out. The Live Stock Pedigree Acts stipulates that all breed associations registering under the Act must provide in their Constitutions for some method of identification of animals. An amendment to this effect was first introduced at our Annual Meeting, February, 1935, but has been consistently turned down ever since. The Minister of Agriculture being willing to grant us time, has provisionally approved of our Constitution until this year. At the meeting in Ottawa above mentioned, the situation was thoroughly discussed, it being the consensus of opinion that the annual meeting being held in Toronto and being controlled by Toronto members, that it was useless to try to have the amendment passed there. Various ways of having it passed were suggested, one of them being to have a general meeting either in Winnipeg or Montreal, both of which centres seemed to be favourable to the amendment. Nothing, however, was decided, awaiting the decision of the Minister.

"On April 30th last, a letter was written by the Assistant Director of Production advising us that ministerial approval of our Constitution would not be further granted. This left us in the position of not being able to register dogs. Realizing the seriousness of the situation, Col. Bull and Mr. Hitchman, chairman and Director of the Records, got in touch with Mr. Strachan and myself suggesting that, as it seemed impossible to have matters straightened out by a Toronto general meeting that the Directors' meeting of May 19th call a general meeting in Montreal to endeavour to pass the amendment adopting identification, they having the promise of the Department that if the Directors would agree to do this, that registrations would be continued up until that time. Col. Bull, Mr. Hitchman and Mr. Rooney, at my request, attended this meeting and explained the position of the Kennel Club to the Directors, and they passed a resolution calling for a general meeting in Montreal, and an amendment was introduced to be brought up at this general meeting, which would cover the situation. The Department at Ottawa was wired as to the action taken, and provisional approval of our Constitution to September 15th, up to which time dogs will be registered, has been received. As to whether dogs will be received after that time or not depends on the action taken at that general meeting.

My chief interest lies in the good and welfare of the Canadian Kennel Club, but the Kennel Club has been more than leniently dealt with. One other Association in the Records, the Minister of Agriculture himself being a member of that Association, has been checked up much more harshly than we have. It has been stated that we would be much better off out of the Records but again this is not correct. Under the provisions of the Live Stock Pedigree Act no person or Association can issue registration certificates without the approval of the Minister of Agriculture. Since our affiliation in 1915 with the Records, the Kennel Club share of the Department grant has amounted to $25,755.68. The total revenue of the Kennel Club during that time was $356,984.22. The cost of conducting the work at the Record's office was $114,021.35, of which the above $25,755.68 was paid by the Government. The actual cost to the Club was therefore $88,265.67, or 24.6 per cent of the money received, leaving the Club a net profit of 75.4 per cent. In addition to this we received free postage or franking privileges (paid by the Department of Agriculture). This cannot be estimated in cash, but on the 1100 Stud Books sent out in 1937, the Department paid sixteen cents per copy alone, and more correspondence is handled for the Kennel Club than for any other Association. In addition to all this the Government furnishes the Records with a free building, light, heat, cleaning and elevator service, printing service in everything except Stud Books, which if the Records had to pay would add very materially to the cost of the various Associations.

"There are only two things to do if we wish to continue to register dogs, either to bring such pressure on the Minister as to get him to agree to further provisionally approve our Constitution, and in this we would have the strong opposition of the majority of the other Associations in the Records, or to approve the amendment at the general meeting."

After further discussion, it was regularly moved by Mr. Reeves, seconded by Mr. Rooney and unanimously carried:—

"That, the Minutes be adopted, showing the date of the general meeting to be held at Montreal as on Saturday, September 3rd, 1938, at 7 o'clock p.m. (daylight saving time), and not August 24th, as in the original Minute."

This being the business coming before the Directors at this time, it was moved: that

"That, this meeting do now adjourn."

NOTE: These Minutes are subject to correction when presented for adoption at the next meeting of the Board of Directors.

CORRECTION

HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB

In reporting the awards of the Hamilton Kennel Club's most recent show, ownership information in respect to the cocker spaniel, Cavalcade of Barrie and the English setter, Blue Lady of Glengrove, was given as it appeared in the show catalogue. However, the ownership as officially on record at headquarters shows that the cocker spaniel is the property of R. H. Hepplestone, and the English setter is the property of Joseph and Mrs. Maskie. Any interested readers are requested to make a note of these corrections.

to the fugitive raced the two Salukis—Halil and the big black dog neck and neck—and behind them thundered the chiefs and their followers. By way of further encouragement many of the riders discharged their muskets into the air.

Perhaps it was this constant firing ("powder play" is the technical name for it) that gave Ysuf an idea which flashed into his wily brain;—a rottenly unsportsmanlike idea, on a par with his stealing of the Kifri livestock in other days.

For a time the two hounds had been running side by side, without an inch of advantage to either of them. Now, slowly but steadily, Halil was forging ahead. The pace was too hot for the black hound. Halil was winning. Everyone could see that.

Ysuf swung his inlaid musket high in air. As the weapon came down, he leveled it as if by accident at the brown-and-silver Saluki and pulled trigger.

He had staked a fortune on that race. Now he saw himself about to lose, and he took the only method of saving his bets.

Moreover, he knew how bitterly unhappy Uthman would be at the loss of his loved dog. It would be easy to swear it had been an accident, and to offer profuse apologies.

Just as Ysuf fired, Shaitan swerved to the right, directly between his master and Halil.

The bullet imbedded itself deeply in the black dog's body. With a yelp of agony, Shaitan rolled over, dead.

THESE THREE . .

A dog looks well only when he feels well—his outside is a mirror to his inside. Take a look at these three—sparkling eyes, gleaming teeth, cold, black noses—have you ever seen three dogs look better?

SPRATT'S DOG FOOD is the reason for their tip-top condition, for SPRATT'S is prepared after a careful study of every canine feeding need—a study extended to sizes, breeds and even temperaments.

How about YOUR dog? Do you feel he lacks that indefinable something which separates champions from also-rans. If so, its certain sure it's SPRATT'S he's missing.

Try him on SPRATT'S delicious hard-tack diet. He'll enjoy it and do himself the world of good at the same time.
