NO MORE NO LESS

Dogs should be fed as much as they will promptly clean up in one round—no more and no less.
Too many dogs in captivity nowadays—dogs on a line or a leash most all their lives—are fed more than is good for them—and more than they can comfortably digest. They get "loggy" . . . listless . . . droopy . . . fat . . . useless.

Dogs fed the Ross-Miller Way are not over-fed. They get the nutritive elements they need, including the minerals and the vitamins. But they don't get an excess of proteins to make them scratch and hang around half alive and half dead. They don't get an excess of starch. They get a healthful balanced ration.

Ross-Miller Dog Foods are for sale most everywhere—groceries, department stores, feed stores and pet shops. If you have any difficulty drop us a line direct. Tell us what your dog is like—size, breed, etc., and we'll prescribe a diet.

CHAMPIONS OF 1938

January Kennel and Bench

The January Kennel and Bench will contain a special section done in attractive gravure devoted to the champions of 1938. It will list all the Canadian champions of the year and give their show records preparatory to their championship. Special arrangements and special prices are being arranged for the inclusion of pictures of all new champions whose owners would like their dog's picture shown. Write today for details of the plan. The gravure process requires no cuts or engravings—simply a clear photograph.

THE COVER

The most recent Airedale champion in the United States and the latest contender for Canadian honors is the dog pictured on this month's cover. He is Champion Eleanor's Prince Hal, by International Champion Shelterock Merry Sovereign out of Champion Eleanor's Dorothy who is a daughter of the famous International Champion Walnut Challenger.

In an impressive show record in the United States, Prince Hal, has gone five times best of breed and twice best of winners in his last seven shows, beating most of the top dogs on the continent. His entry into Canada was made possible by Sid. Perkins, owner of the famed Rockley Airedale Kennels, who, having, sold Rockley Riot Act and Rockley Roasting Hot, gave his agent, Ted Ward, a blank cheque with instruction to buy the finest Airedale male he could get. Prince Hal is the result of Mr. Ward's search, and his influence as a stud force is expected to carry the Rockley prefix through to more championship honors for the kennel. He will make his Canadian show debut at the All Terrier Show of the Canadian Terrier Club.

KENNEL and BENCH

The Year's High in Advertising Influence

NO OTHER issue of the entire year receives the reader attention of the Christmas Kennel and Bench. Chock full of interesting articles, representing all breeds and all dogdom's many activities, the 1938 Christmas number will attract and hold the attention of every Canadian interested in pure-bred dogs. Your advertising message will be placed before a greater number of people than ever before. It will be truly an advertiser's golden opportunity.

YEAR ROUND REFERENCE BOOK

An advertisement in the Christmas number is not effective for one month only. The issue is kept throughout the entire year as a reference and, hence, your message is effective for twelve months at the cost of one month's advertising. Advertise your stud dogs where their names are kept before the fancy for the rest of the year.

CHRISTMAS PUPPY MARKET

More puppies are bought in December than in any other month of the year. The Christmas number will support further puppy buying next month by making "Give a Pure-Bred Puppy This Christmas" the dominating theme of the editorial. Somebody must satisfy the Christmas puppy demand. Advertise your stock and make sure you get your share.

SPECIAL CUT PRICES

For the Christmas issue only, Kennel and Bench will supply one cut free with every full page advertisement. Picture to be supplied by the advertiser.

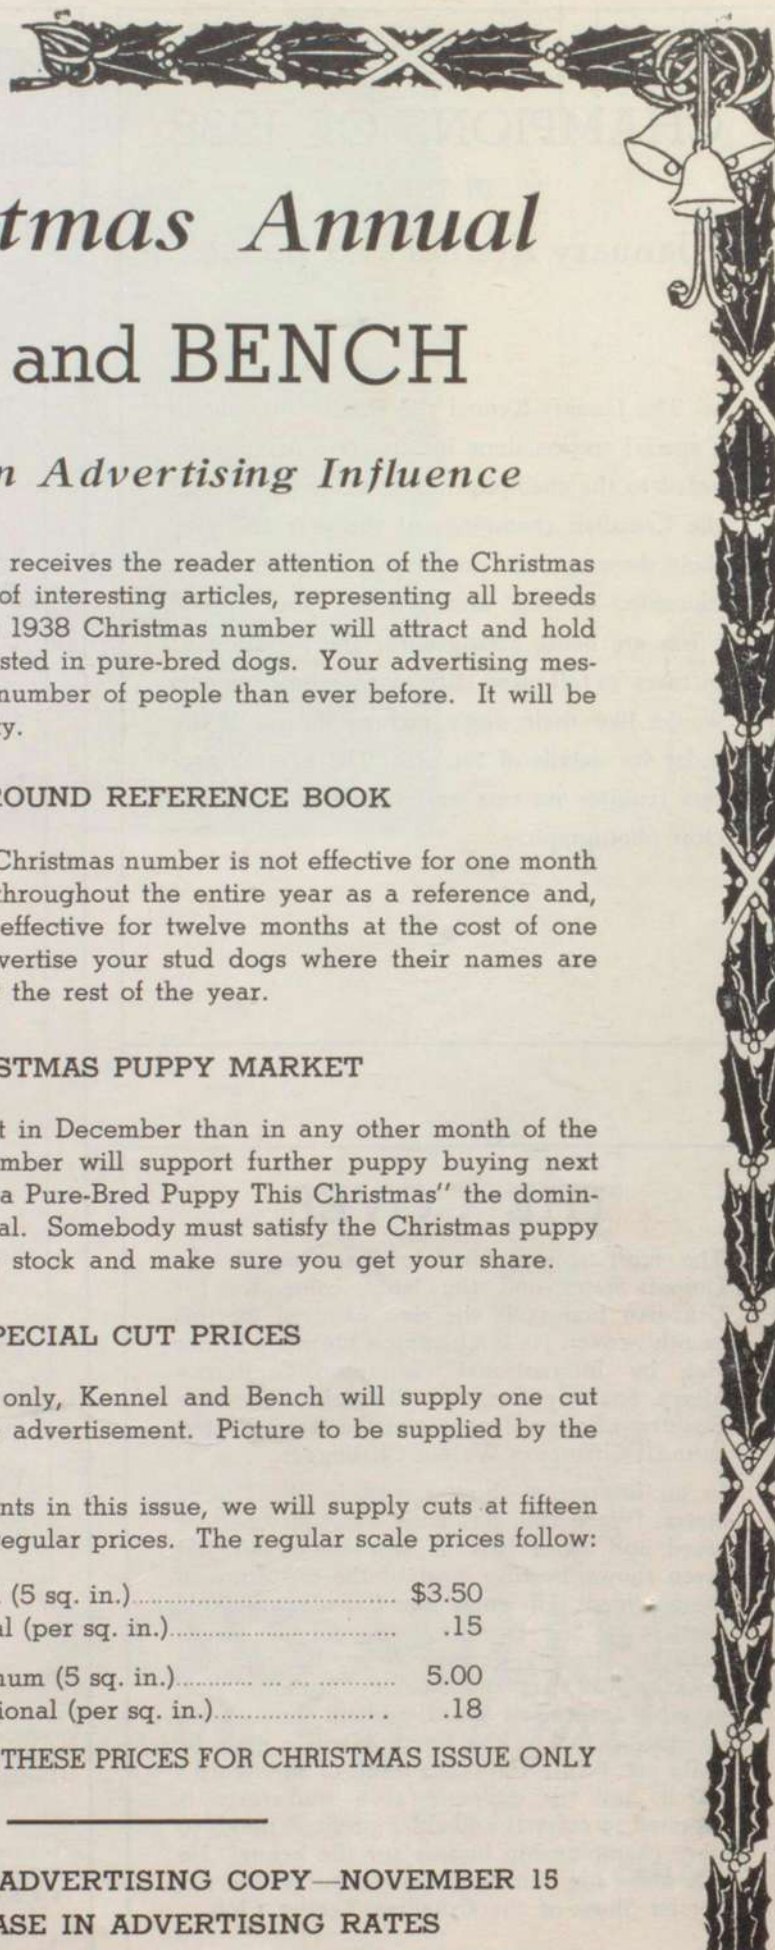

For all other advertisements in this issue, we will supply cuts at fifteen per cent reduction from regular prices. The regular scale prices follow:

METHODS OF IDENTIFICATION

In order to comply with the provisions of the Live Stock Pedigree Act in the matter of Identification, the committee appointed by your Directors, viz. Mrs. R. McColl, Mr. F. W. Walkerdine and myself, after consultations with the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Barton, and after writing to each Provincial Director for his opinion, has decided to place before the Annual Meeting an amendment to the Constitution covering three forms or methods of Identification, viz., tattooing, nose-printing and charting, the breeder to have his or her own choice of which method to employ. These three methods are each explained by a member of this committee and subject to the approval of the Department of Agriculture and to the Annual Meeting. The acceptance of methods, providing they are workable, reasonable in cost of application and constitute a practical and effective system of identification, will ensure the Canadian Kennel Club a Constitution on a par with all other member Associations of the Records.

J. N. MacRAE.
President Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.

TATTOOING

By Colonel J. N. MacRAE

The Shetland sheep dog illustrated here is permanently identified as the fifth dog registered by J. D. Strachan during the year 1938, a positive identification for the lifetime of the dog. AE are Mr. Strachan's registration letters allotted to him by the National Livestock Records; S is the year letter for 1938; and 5 marks this puppy as the fifth registered by Mr. Strachan in that year

Anyone who may have had an ear to the ground in recent days, will have come to the conclusion that the question of identification in respect to pure-bred dogs, must now be given the consideration that it has been denied for the past several years. Chapter 4, sub-section (n) of section 1 of the Live Stock Pedigree Act must now be complied with if the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., is to continue functioning under that Act. The sub-section to which we have made reference reads as follows:

"A practical and effective system of identification." These seven simple words in themselves cannot possibly be misunderstood, literally their meaning is perfectly clear, but the difficulty has been in finding and deciding on what might be considered 'a practical and effective system'. As an association we have steered clear of the issue for several years but now it lies on our doorstep, and there it will remain until we see fit to remove it, but the onus for its removal lies with each individual member of the Canadian Kennel Club.

The brains of our organization have been called upon to face the situation, and so far three possible systems have been proposed, and each system has found its own percentage of membership support. The three systems referred to are Tattooing, Nose Printing and Charting, and the object of this section of a covering article has to do with tattooing exclusively as 'a practical and effective system'. This system has been largely adopted by other associations already and its efficacy has been conceded.

Many members from coast to coast have voluntarily asked for, and have been allotted tattoo letters. Many members own their own tattoo outfit. Such provinces as Quebec and Alberta have taken to tattooing quite enthusiastically, the Edmonton Dog Fancier's Club accepted the principle of tattooing by unanimous resolution.

The illustration used in this section shows a Shetland sheepdog which has been tattooed. Our readers may see at a glance that this system is at least effective. The notation on the certificate of registration reads, "—tattoo AES5 right ear"—so that this dog and his certificate are really synonymous, the one is the other, and the other is the one, and both are the same, and herein lies the breeder's protection as a seller, and the client's protection as a buyer, and with all due respect to "Henry's 20th Century Book of Formulas, Processes and Trade Secrets", nothing will ever remove this identification without showing a permanent mark of interference. Once the certificate and the dog it represents are together protection is fool-proof and absolute, of that I am satisfied.

The process of tattooing is quite simple, although the beginner may find it to his advantage to practice placing the letters and figures into the holder of the tattoo instru-

NOSE PRINTING

By Mrs. R. Alva McColl

ON ORDINARY DESK PAD

Indicative of the simplicity of nose printing is this print taken on an ordinary desk pad with printers ink at a meeting of the Mount Royal Toy Dog Club in Montreal

Although dogs have been man's best friend and constant companion for thousands of years, it was not until the year 1938 that a means of identification was found as positive as the fingerprinting of humans.

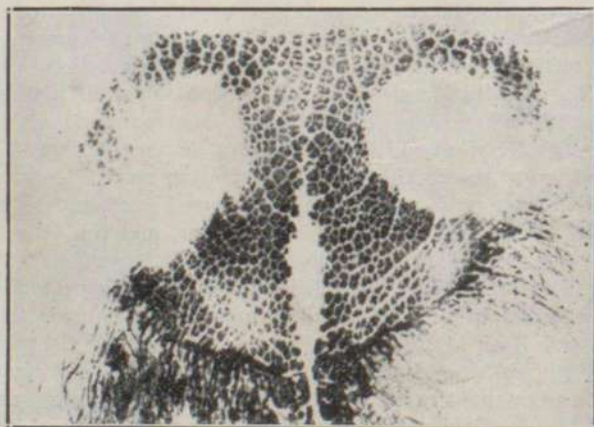

For the past five years, the question of identification has been before your Board of Directors and each year tattooing was the only method brought to the annual meetings.

It remained for the challenge to be hurled on May 19th before the members became serious, and the result has been the discovery by the Canadian Kennel Club of the practicability of nose printing of dogs. While an article in the "Philadelphia Inquirer" started the Canadian fanciers to work, the finished product and the adoption of it as a practical and effective system of identification belongs to the Canadian Kennel Club. Most opportune is the fact that this discovery was made in our Jubilee year, and will always be remembered as a highlight of the event.

While a very great deal has already been done to promote ease and effectiveness of the system of nose printing, there remains the necessity of gaining the confidence and whole-hearted co-operation of the dog fanciers as a whole. To this end we hope to enlighten the readers on the basic principles of this method of identification, and to correct some mistaken ideas concerning it.

Probably it would be wise to set forth some of the requirements any method of identification must necessarily possess before it can be considered of value. The first requisite, of course, is that the method be absolutely fool-proof in determining the individual dog—it must differentiate between dogs of the same litter, as well as between dogs belonging to different breeds. In addition, the system must be equally effective for dogs of all sizes, breeds, coats and colors. Following this, it is necessary to satisfy our love and high regard for dogs by assuring ourselves that the method is not only humane but fool-proof to the nth degree, and will not inflict any unnecessary pain on the subject. The third quality the chosen method must possess, just as important, probably, as the first two, is the practicability of its use. The novice must find it as

A COMPARATIVELY EASY NOSE

This impression, taken with fingerprinting ink by rolling the printing roller from side to side, is that of a wire fox terrier, one of the easiest noses to print since the whiskers do not interfere

A DIFFICULT NOSE

The nose of a boxer is one of the most difficult of all breeds to print. Note the clarity of this print taken with fingerprinting ink by rolling the paper from bottom to top rather than from side to side easy to use as the veteran breeder. Last but not least, it must be reasonably economical.

From the foregoing it is easily seen that many methods of identification must fall by the way-side through a process of elimination when subjected to these tests. It is reasonably logical to assume that if a suggested method can come through these tests with colors flying, it will be well worth the serious consideration of all dog fanciers.

The experiments already made have proven that the print of a dog's nose is as absolutely individual as any one of the hundreds of thousands of human fingerprints on file in the criminal investigation departments of our law enforcement agencies. The photographs of noseprints reproduced herewith if given studied attention will demonstrate to the naked eye the difference in formation and position of "channels" in the print. In order to make the system practical, the identification provided by these prints may be transmitted by telegraph.

In discussing the method of nose-printing, let us imagine you actually working with your dog. The first step is to wipe the nose dry. Then place a minute portion of the ink on the centre of the nose, spreading it lightly over the entire nostril. A piece of smooth surfaced paper is wrapped around a small round bottle, the size of your finger. The actual print is then taken by rolling the paper from one side of the nose to the other. The curiosity of the dog is such that the whole movement can be completed before he knows it has happened.

There is nothing in this treatment which requires professional knowledge or years of experience. Any novice with a small amount of practice will become proficient in taking good, clear prints. The other advantage of the system is the economy. The cost of the necessary equipment (paper will be supplied with your application blanks) is comparatively negligible.

The simplicity of the process is indicated by the three prints herewith taken on ordinary desk pad paper and common printers ink by the Montreal Toy Dog Club whose letter follows:

"At the annual meeting of the Mount Royal Toy Dog Club held on Tuesday, October the 18th, 1938, the nose printing system was explained and with the following resolution, endorsed by ninety-nine per cent of the members, was passed: 'That we strongly approve and recommend the method of nose prints as the most humane and positive means of permanent identification for dogs'".

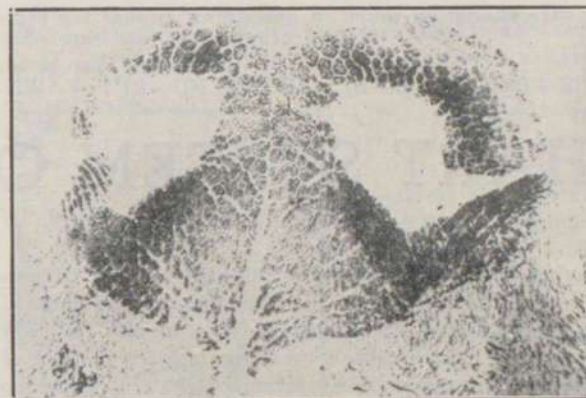

The co-operation of the Live Stock Records office has been valuable in that it has been made possible to embody nose prints on the actual registration form, thus making it impossible to remove the nose print without destroying the entire registration certificate. Two prints will be returned with each application blank, one to remain on file in the office and the other to be applied on the certificate.

The ink has been secured through the efforts of W. A. Fuller, Jr., of Ottawa. It was due to his research work that a suitable type of ink, containing no injurious acids, in a tube container was located, which will efficiently handle the work of obtaining clear prints. These tubes, when purchased by the kennel club in sufficient quantities to supply a large number of dog owners, will be extremely economical for anyone's use.

To those who generously gave of their time and energy in the development of this system, we owe a debt of gratitude. To Mrs. E. Brown, Eric Hutton, of the Toronto Daily Star, and Wilfred Warner, who so ably assisted in photographic work.

GREAT DANE AT ONE WEEK

GREAT DANE AT THREE MONTHS

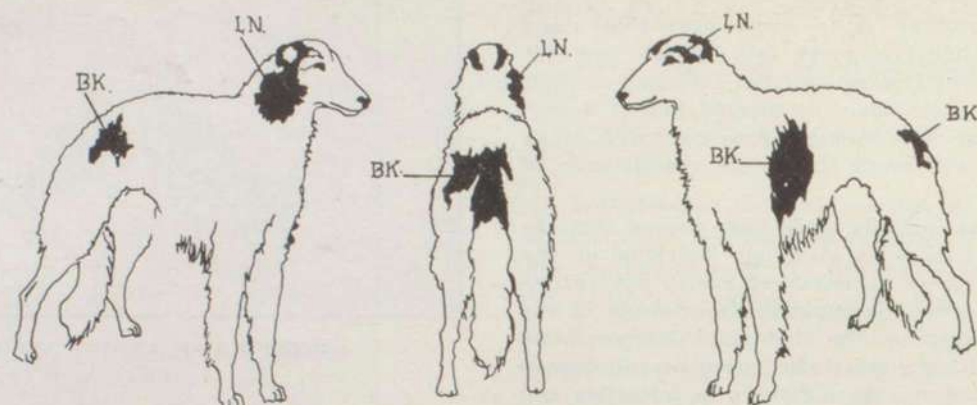

GREAT DANE AT TEN YEARS

The above three prints of THREE DIFFERENT dogs shows the constancy of the channels of the dog's nose. Puppies can be nose printed at birth as easily and as effectively as at maturity; and even in old age the channel markings remain the same

IDENTIFICATION CHART

Predominating Colour is - White.

Great care should be taken in describing animal for registration. It is essential to draw all markings accurately on identification chart, showing shape and relative size of markings

Colours may be abbreviated as follows:

TICKED—T; WHITE—W.

CHART SYSTEM OF IDENTIFICATION

By Fred W. Walkerdine

Having been appointed as a delegate to visit Ottawa and discuss the matter of Identification by the method known as Tattooing, it seemed possible to me, (in view of the fact so many breeders were against the method of tattooing), that some other system or systems could be made available for consideration and adoption. On Friday August 5th last we had the pleasure of discussing this all important matter of Identification with the Deputy Minister of Agriculture. During this conference I suggested an amendment to the original one, which dealt only with Tattooing, so that a breeder who fails to adopt the principle of tattooing for any reason, could adopt other systems if found practical and effective.

Dr. Barton, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture was very interested in any method that would prove practical and effective as a means of Identification, and now the committee has been working toward creating these systems to a point that has satisfied the Minister, action is now the real thing. The dead line of August 15th for Registration has been extended to one week following our Annual Meeting of February, 1939.

In this issue, three systems are being placed before the Members. I shall deal with the Chart System I have recommended. Above is set out an Identification Chart, and it will be seen that the dog is profiled from three different positions. Without a doubt all the markings necessary can be placed in their respective positions, if instructions are carefully followed, so that identification would be a simple matter. It is, of course, understood that this system could not be adopted for dogs of solid color, but nevertheless it would cover a good many varieties of breeds. I have also taken into consideration that sometimes a dog's markings may change in color, but at the same time it is hardly possible for the markings to actually change to a degree that the dog could not possibly be identified from the original application when registered.

Practically every known color has been embodied into these instructions, each one having its own abbreviation, and from the markings set out on chart below it should be a simple matter to complete. It will be noticed on the very bottom line of chart the predominating color is set out, and in this instance the color is white.

It does not necessitate a separate chart for each breed, but drawings of a dog could be adopted to cover as many breeds as possible, such as one for a good many terriers, hounds, etc., etc. In fact, this part can very easily be handled once the system has been adopted and embodied into the Club's Constitution.

In concluding, I sincerely hope that a definite system or systems of Identification will be adopted at the next Annual Meeting in order to comply with the Live Stock Pedigree Act.

impressions on a piece of heavy paper, then when he is satisfied that he understands the method he is ready to commence tattooing.—AES5—found on a dog's ear, his lip, belly, flank or other suitable location would mean that this was the fifth dog registered by our Secretary J. D. Strachan in 1938, AE being Mr. Strachan's allotted letters. 5 would represent the fifth dog registered in S the year letter for 1938.

To tattoo properly is simplicity itself. First you clean off the location chosen for the tattoo marking. This may be done with a wet rag, although a piece of cotton wool soaked in rubbing alcohol will be found very efficient.

Then you will spread the ink evenly over the chosen place, put the instrument there and bring it together quickly. Following this, the procedure is that the ink must be rubbed into the spots made by the needle points of the letters or figures. Time removes the ink left on the surface, leaving tattooed markings—a clear cut identification and then trying the combination out, by making tification for the lifetime of the dog.

As President of the Canadian Kennel Club, I have been obliged to favor tattooing as the only method brought forward up to that time, and as your President, I was duty-bound to ask the members to conform to the requirements of the Live Stock Pedigree Act, and that I have conscientiously endeavoured to do without fear or favor.

True Tales of Real Dogs

NIPPER: THE CAVALRY MASCOT

By Albert Payson Terhune

BACK in 1923, Nipper joined the army. In the summer of 1932, a file of soldiers fired a military salute over his grave and two regimental buglers sounded "taps" over him. Those were the first and the last scenes of Nipper's martial experience. But between the two lay nine years of gallant and unflinching martial service.

Nipper came from nobody-knows-where. One morning in 1923, he strolled—or, rather, strutted—into the cavalry barracks of the Royal Canadians—known as "Lord Strathcona's Horse"—in Winnipeg.

As I said, he strutted into the barracks as one having a legal right there and entitled to a welcome. He did not slink in seeking for food or shelter, nor wag his way ingratiatingly into those sacred precincts. No general officer could have made a more pompously self-assured entrance. He made the round of the premises. Then he settled down in the stables, evidently choosing them as his future home. He belonged to nobody there. He did not make particular friends with any one of the cavalrymen. He just made himself calmly at home.

That was Nipper's introduction to the Canadian cavalry service. That was the start of his nine years of volunteer military duty. Perhaps because of his self-assured manner, the troopers welcomed him.

Professional dog-breeders, seeing Nipper for the first time, described him as a "black mongrel," but they were careful not to speak of him in that way where any of the cavalrymen of the Strathconas could hear them. Troopers have hard fists. And they hit first and listen to explanations afterward. Also, their whips have a nasty sting when they slash across the faces of civilians who speak ill of anything connected with the service.

The Strathconas, themselves, characterized Nipper as "a mixed Scottish terrier." I have seen photographs of the grand little dog. And assuredly he was much more a Scottish terrier than anything (or everything) else.

The best kind of Scottish terrier—"Scotty," if you prefer—is hard to equal. He has the heart of a lion in the body of a pigmy, the brain of all canny Scotland encased in a small and rough-haired head.

In any event, Nipper quickly won so many friends and admirers among the Strathconas that it would have been next to suicidal for any outsider to have referred openly to him as a mongrel or a mutt.

Soon, the newspapers were mentioning the queer little mascot of the Strathconas. And one of these articles about him, in the Winnipeg Free Press, gives a mighty good reason for the ever-growing devotion of the cavalrymen for him.

"Nipper adopted the 'Straths', and particularly their horses, as his especial charge. He was small and black and wise. He was always present, but never in the way. He bore himself with the dignity befitting a soldier. Ever he kept himself clean and dapper.

"Nipper scorned civilians. Perhaps before he enlisted with the 'Straths', civilians had not understood the little fellow, and, with canine sagacity, he liked his revenge.

"Unless a man were in Khaki, Nipper ignored his presence completely, and remained as aloof and isolated as a dead planet. Despite his short legs, Nipper religiously kept his place in the troop, taking, as if by right of seniority, either the head or the rear of the column, as his fancy dictated."

Never in all his nine years of service did Nipper miss a parade. No matter how fast nor how far the regiment might ride, his flying black legs were always carrying him along with it. Sometimes the strain must have been terrific, as when the order came for a charge or for galloping. But Nipper was right there. With almost miraculous cleverness he picked up the duties of the regiment.

For instance, within a very few weeks after he "joined up," he knew the meaning of every one of the various bugle calls, and what actions on the part of the men and the horses these bugle-calls entailed.

In Winnipeg, as in the northern parts of the United States, the summers are often grillingly hot and the winters, bitter cold and snow-laden. But mere trifles like sun-stroke weather or zero-and-snow could not keep Nipper from his place in every parade of every squadron of his chosen regiment.

If the heat half-singed his coarse black coat, if the cold struck to his very vitals, if it was hard wading through the deep snow in which even the horses floundered, Nipper did not flinch. His place was with his men and his horses. And always he was in his place, "either at the head or the rear of the column."

Always he was the perfect soldier, alert, fearless, visiting the various posts, accompanying the pickets on night duty, up at gray dawn to superintend the first activities of the men who were on stable duty.

And for nine long and happy years, this busy mode of life went on, while yearly the "Straths" grew more and

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB, Inc.

"Since the Canadian Kennel Club became incorporated under the National Live Stock Pedigree Act of the Federal Department of Agriculture, it has risen from a practically obscure organization to an honored place amongst the most prominent Live Stock Associations of Canada."
—Kennel & Bench, August, 1917

Golden JUBILEE Year 1888-1938

By James D. Strachan

THE above quotation can be taken as being literally representative of the feeling of the management at the time it was written. Indeed the dark days were over and the Club's lucky star continued to climb encouragingly. In Canada the people were becoming alarmed as the war dragged towards the end of its third year. Information had come through the English canine magazines that, because of pressure which had been brought to bear on the Kennel Club there by the British government, a resolution had been passed not to register any dogs born after September 7th, 1917. This was a virtual prohibition of breeding that was traceable to the country's food requirements and it is quite possible that the measure had a sobering effect in every country in the world having canine registration control. This prohibitory measure was enforced in England until after the signing of the armistice and was only removed on and after November 22nd, 1918, when breeding operations were resumed. More could be written around this epochal legislation, but it is sufficient to say that many puppies were born during the prohibited period, and whilst arrangements were made to allow the 'war babies' to be exhibited, registration in England was frowned upon, and so, many found their way to the United States and Canada, giving an impetus to importation such as had hitherto been unknown. Bulldogs came out steadily and included such dogs as "Joe Penfield", "Penfold Selection", "Quapaw Civilian", "Mersey Pilot", "Jellicoe Westall", "Try Again William", "Overgreen Marquis", "King Moston", etc. Airedales to come over were "Parkton Sweet Olive", "Pottery Invader", etc.

When 1918 came into focus, and before our people had got over exchanging their New Year Greetings, Mr. Humphrey Elliott had taken his beautiful bull terrier "Ch. Haymarket Faultless" to Westminster Kennel Club Show sporting his Canadian crown, when lo and behold the noble "Faultless" was chosen as best dog of all the 1,636 dogs benched. This Westminster Kennel Club Show dates back to 1877, a mere trifle of 41 years at that time, or 61 years at the present time, but the great "Haymarket Faultless" was the only dog ever to bring Westminster's highest honors to Canada and this outstanding incident in itself made 1918 Canada's greatest year from a purely dog show standpoint.

At the election of 1919 the writer was elected 2nd Vice-President of the Canadian Kennel Club, but the fates had decreed that he was not to be permitted any length of tenancy in the new office, as on February 10th, 1919, he was offered the Secretary-Treasurer-Editorship and accepted the same. The vacant 2nd Vice-Presidency was then filled by Mr. Fred W. Jacobi.

During the preceding thirty years of the Club's existence no established office routine had been perfected, as for instance when a championship had been completed it was customary to send a claimant an Application for Championship form, leaving the onus on the applicant to show where the dog had been in competition, when, under what judges and the championship points claimed, this aggravating policy was provocative beyond description, and usually the form came back to headquarters with a letter of sarcastic criticism and the only check at the office was the marked catalogues and oftentimes these were missing. One of the first adjustments made was to enter up all winnings on the reverse side of the office copy of a dog's pedigree as the shows were held, carrying the number of points won to the extreme right of the form, and in a column for that purpose, so that when ten points showed, and a check showed three different judges, a letter was promptly dispatched to the owner of the new champion advising of the distinguished event, and offering the Club's congratulations, and in the past twenty years this practice has not been improved upon. Banking was something that had been neglected terribly, and the policy of banking each week, on Friday, was inaugurated and still continues. Filing equipment was procured, suitable desks were purchased, and for the first time the Canadian Kennel Club headquarters took on the appearance of a place of business. The long standing complaint that "the office was never open," was at once removed and anyone with Club business to be taken care of could find satisfactory service from 8.30 a.m. until 5.30 p.m. This policy has continued for twenty years, too, only the hours are now 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Saturdays 1 p.m. It took some considerable time to spread satisfaction, and to engender confidence from the one coast to the other, but in time that happy condition became actual. In this work of revamping the Club's structure and policy the co-operation of the President and the Directors was always enthusiastically given.

As further encouragement at this time the President of the Canadian Kennel Club was honored by being made a Director of the Canadian National Exhibition. This preferment was greatly appreciated by Canadian dog lovers who remembered the long years given to the Presidency by the Exhibition Manager, Mr. John G. Kent.

During 1919 the remnants of the Western Canada Kennel Club, The Winnipeg Kennel Club and the Manitoba Kennel Club merged and the Fort Garry Kennel Club was born. Our Manitoba Director, Mr. George Kynoch, was given full credit for giving the new club its name. Each of the merging clubs had assets and liabilities, but the F.G.K.C. assumed everything, and after a period of readjustment Winnipeg became one of Canada's leading canine centers.

Just as the year 1919 was drawing to its close, and to be more exact, on December 29th the American Champion Collie, "Alstead Aeroplane", which had been brought to Toronto early in the year and had taken "french leave" of his importer, Mr. Alex. Donaldson, the Sunday morning after his arrival in Canada and had been at large for ten long months, was recaptured in High Park, Toronto, by Dr. J. A. Campbell, and hard as it may be to believe, this magnificent animal was in excellent condition when he was brought back to the owner, who naturally was of the opinion that his collie was one of the best in the world, and in this respect there were many who agreed with Alick. "Champion Alstead Aeroplane" came out at Toronto Kennel Club Show in April, 1920, and from there he was campaigned from London in the east to Winnipeg in the west, and he never met defeat by one of his own breed or sex. Canadian Kennel Club records show that he won breed honors at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1920, 1922 and 1924. Such winnings mark this lovely tri-colored collie as the best specimen ever to come to Canada.

From a financial viewpoint 1919 was a most encouraging year, and income had exceeded 5 figures for the first time, and Kennel & Bench had shown a substantial profit in its first year.

At the Annual Meeting of 1920 Mr. Russell embarked on his fourth term as President from a kindly acclamation at the hands of the members, but it was with a measure of alarm that they received the information that he had given up his seat in the Provincial House because of ill-health, and it was a great relief when he made it clear that he would continue as President of the Club. The Financial Statement showed Receipts $13,037.07, and Disbursements $9,794.55. Kennel & Bench had earned $2,378.08 and spent $2,208.82, so that in spite of meeting heavy obligations in every department, the Club was living well within its means. However, just to make ends meet comfortably and to get beyond the financial stringency which had so long been characteristic of the Club's functioning, the members agreed to raise the membership fee from $3.00 to $4.00 per year.

The cost of printing the February, 1920, Special February Number of Kennel & Bench was $610.94, a new all time high, and there were many who criticised the outlay, however, the President and Directors had agreed that in order to make money, some money would have to be spent, and their answer to the critics was raising the Editor's salary $10.00 per week at the Directors' Meeting held on March 18th. A further mark of growing interest in the Club's magazine was the invitation extended to the Editor by the Regina Kennel Club to attend their summer show in the capacity of official reporter, all expenses to be paid by the host club. The Directors authorized acceptance of the invitation and arranged for the necessary leave of absence. This visit to Regina was the appetizer that led to the later visit to the far west in 1926, and to the east in 1927 when contacts made in every city and town visited led to friendships which have had a steadying influence on Club affairs ever since.

Just prior to the Canadian National Exhibition of 1920 the Club's Honorary Veterinary Surgeon, Dr. J. A. Campbell, had the degree of Bachelor of Veterinary Science conferred upon him by the very conservative Ontario Agricultural College. This preferment was well deserved and the worthy Veterinarian received the congratulations of a host of admirers.

As 1920 spent itself the years business showed that an income of $14,773.72, when added to the Bank Balance of $3,242.52 had piled up the extraordinary total of $18,016.25. The expenditure being $10,857.09, the balance to be carried over to 1921 was $7,159.15. Small wonder then, that one of the Club's members in an outburst of enthusiastic appreciation of the Club's affairs went

This is the twelfth of a series of thirteen articles by James D. Strachan, Secretary of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc. This series, when complete, will chronicle the history of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., from its inception fifty years ago to December, 1938, and is being written as a feature of the Golden Jubilee Celebrations being held this year. A few copies of the issues of Kennel and Bench containing the first five articles by Mr. Strachan are available at the offices of on record as saying: "The salvation of the Canadian Kennel Club only came with the selection and election of Mr. Joseph Russell as President." This excellent encomium, deserved as it unquestionably was, could not be complete without acknowledgement of the Live Stock Records affiliation.

The Annual General Meeting held on February 7th, 1921, was indicative of a returning Provincial confidence when the election results showed that the President, Vice-President, Second Vice-President, the Directors for Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, the Maritimes, Quebec and Saskatchewan were all elected by acclamation. At this election Col. G. F. McFarland came back to the Ontario directorate.

At the beginning of August, 1921, the teeth of the Live Stock Pedigree Act bit into our Canadian dog fanciers with a vengeance when it was found that an application for registration containing a false or fraudulent statement regarding the pedigree of a dog contrary to Section 17, Chapter 31 of the Act. A fine of $100.00 without costs had a deterring effect that must have been to the advantage of Canadian dogdom generally. As it will serve no useful purpose to mention names, or to give further particulars regarding the above indiscretion we make no further reference to it.

September brought a new Patron to the Club in the august person of General The Right Honourable Baron Byng of Vimy, G.C.B., K.C.M.G., M.V.O., Governor General of Canada.

The summer of 1921 found the 'grim reaper' overtaking some of the men who had rendered major service to Canadian dogdom generally. June noticed the "passing hence" of Mr. John H. Kenyon, and July marked the passing of Mr. Arthur Atkinson, both men had given leadership to Toronto Clubs, and service to the Canadian Kennel Club.

The year was magnificent from a financial viewpoint, and it was most gratifying to the officers to find the business expanding beyond their fondest hopes. Receipts $26,179.00, and Expenditure $17,503.75, with the difference carried forward into 1922.

February, 1922, found Stud Book No. 24 in the office, and this marked the Club's stud book obligations met to December 31st, 1920. The book was one of 377 pages and included the 2,526 pedigrees between 22,950 and 25,476. Two volumes had been published during 1921, and it was hoped that Stud Book No. 25 for 1921, and so right up to date by the time of the Annual Meeting. This made three stud books to be distributed to the members in a period of two months. The Directors felt that arrears of stud books constituted the Club's first obligation to the members, and it was a great relief to find that in future the Club's finances would be freed from this terrific strain, and the future was welcomed with a feeling of joyous security.

When 1922 gave way to 1923 it was possible to start off the new year on the right foot with a Bank Balance of $10,638.18, and it was a source of official pride that the Official Organ continued to show an encouraging surplus from year to year.

1923 was marked indelibly in many ways, as for instance it was found that the Alsation Shepherd Dog Club of Canada was to be the instrument used in bringing the breed (now known as the German Shepherd dog), into great popularity in Canada. Then the old established Toronto Kennel Club which had remained in a more or less dormant condition during the years 1920, 1921 and 1922, left its legathic cobwebs, and due to the application of new energy at the hands of Mr. George Ward, Mr. Ed Ward and Mr. George Eastham, the loose ends of the old club were brought together. Some were inclined to raise the old banner under a new name but sane judgment prevailed. The new officers with the old club found themselves on an even keel and with an asset of 300 benches, all in good condition, then of course there were valuable club dies, etc., which meant an excellent start from the very beginning. The Toronto Kennel Club, like the Shepherd Club are both aggressive organizations at the time of writing. 1923 will always be an outstanding year in the dogdom of the world. It was then that the "Field Distemper Research Fund" was first placed before the world's dog lovers. The appeal was favorably received officially in Canada and the Canadian Kennel Club handling their first genuine, untrammelled surplus funds decided to donate one hundred guineas in four yearly instalments, and so $124.04 was donated in 1923, $118.65 in 1924, $127.95 in 1925 and $125.64 in 1926. Surely no better investment ever was made and the mortality of dogdom owes its present enviable rating to the research made possible by the success of the "Field" appeal.

We pause here to pay tribute to a cocker spaniel that first saw the light of day at Winnipeg, Manitoba, believing as we do that this particular dog was never

SMOOTH FOX TERRIER NOTES

Breed Editor,
A. H. Bassinder,
71 Coxwell Ave., Toronto.

In this part of the country, the championship shows wind up this month for the year. I think you will agree with me that it has been a busy year for us all. We now have the All Terrier Championship Show sponsored by the Canadian Fox Terrier Association, to be held in the Labor Temple on November 12th, when W. McDerment will judge our breed. A big entry is expected. There are lots of specials, trophies and extra prize money.

In the coliseum on November 21st, 22nd and 23rd the National Kennel Club All Breed Show will be held. This is advertised as Canada's Greatest Dog Show. I think that those of us who are fortunate enough to be able to attend will heartily agree that it certainly is.

Captain Dudley Waters is judge of our breed at this show, and in public opinion it is a popular choice. We, in Toronto, will be glad to meet exhibitors and visitors from any out-of-town districts and will also be glad to meet old acquaintances from distant points. Let us make these two shows a fitting climax to a busy show year. Send in your entries and let us swell our members to break all previous records.

I omitted, in my last article, to congratulate Mrs. V. Springstead of Hamilton on finishing her female, Champion Lady Dyan, when she gained her championship at Ottawa. Congrats, Mrs. Springstead, if it is not too late! Mrs. Springstead's Champion Firefly has had a lovely litter of 2 males and 2 females sired by a grandson of Champion Heeley President, all doing fine.

Since my last article I have had several letters asking me to describe more and pass my opinion on Champion Nornay Saddler, just as I saw him in Toronto. Well, first and foremost he is a terrier and of correct size. A lovely head, not too finely chiselled, a lovely short coupled dog with nice spring of rib and deep chest, tail on top and nice hind quarters. When he appeared for best in terrier group at the Exhibition, in my opinion he moved perfectly, and although he had very keen competition in this group he was well worthy of the win, to carry him to best in show, on his action and movement alone, without taking into consideration his other excellent points. In short, he is the best I have seen over a number of years of fancying and breeding smooths.

And now what about that letter for the column. Write and tell us what you have and what are your prospects for the future. If you don't write, we can't tell the news and we certainly cannot make this column interesting, so please drop that letter to the above address to reach me before the 12th of the month for the following month's article. Before closing, let me again remind you of the last two great shows of the current season—November 12th at the Labor Temple for All Terriers, and November 21st-22nd-23rd at the Winter Fair for All Breeds. We're hoping to see you all.—A. H. B.

WIRE FOX TERRIERS

Breed Editor,
Dr. C. R. Boulding,
Aurora, Ont.

November brings the cold wind and snow. Have you got your kennel in ship-shape for winter, and your dogs safely sheltered from drafts? I think it is a mistake to feel that from now until spring, coats need little or no attention. There should be a daily grooming even if the coats are allowed to grow a little shaggy for warmth's sake. Step up the feeding a little for winter, particularly the meat content; and a dash of cod liver oil daily in the winter is most useful.

What has happened to the good resolutions you made—and I know your intentions were excellent—to help out with these news items about our grand little wires?

"Dewdney Kennels" send along some items of their kennel for which we are grateful. Dewdney Garbo is now a full-fledged Canadian Champion, as is also Burlington Gallant Punch, the stud force of this kennel. Dewdney Judy needs only two more points and the coast will be clear for new young ones to be brought out in the spring. Splendid work, Dewdney, and best wishes!

Barovian Miss Dainty, owned by A. J. Wilson, Winnipeg, arrived at Talaurore to be mated to Int. Champion Benholme Bayard. This lovely "Gallant Fox" granddaughter should produce some interesting pups with this mating.

Wm. Quilley and Son of Edmonton have augmented their wires by the recent acquisition of Talaurore Spicy Piece. After being mated to Int. Ch. Benholme Bayard, she will leave for her new home. Mr. Quilley is quite enthusiastic in his opinion of two pups he purchased from Mrs. Mary Gardner out of her Champion bitch, Eastbourne Mary, by Bayard.

It is never very interesting to write about one's own kennel but we must send in so much copy or lose our job. Here is an item of interest. Talaurore has gone "Smooth". We recently obtained a smart young male from Wm. Quilley and Son of Edmonton. If not disposed of before the Specialty and Westminster shows he will be shown. However, he has been looked over with "desiring" eyes and he may appear under other colours at these events.

Cooler weather, longer evenings—let's hear from you. Cheerio! C. R. B.

BILL and MRS. ADAIR

EVERY member of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and thousands of friends throughout Canada and the United States will mourn the recent death of Mrs. J. D. Strachan, beloved wife of the club secretary, who passed away on October 24 in Toronto. Throughout her life Mrs. Strachan shared her husband's interest in dogs and their welfare, placing the interests of the Canadian Kennel Club first in every respect. Her door was ever open, and the only entrance qualification, rich or poor, was a sincere interest in the dogs she loved. Dog people from coast to coast have enjoyed her kindness and considerate hospitality, and her passing leaves a void in the ranks of dogdom that will be difficult to fill.

THE Canadian fancy has lost a sincere friend. To her mourning family we extend deepest sympathy. To Mr. Strachan we offer our condolence in the loss of the help-mate who must have assisted him greatly in the strenuous years he has given to the Canadian Kennel Club and whose quiet, unseen assistance must have been a valuable factor in the many achievements he has made for the organization.

THE COLLIE

104 C.P.R. Bldg., Saskatoon,

Perfectly compact, utterly lithe, imitatively graceful with his airy-fairy action; you could not help but stare at him—Owd Bob O'Kenmuir.

—From "Bob Son of Battle".

The above quotation referring to the blue dogs of Kenmuir brings up the subject once more of Blue Merle collies. Of these there are all too few in Canada but interest in them is steadily growing—August number of Dog News carries a good article on Blue Merle Breeding. Not so long ago W. Ormiston Roy expressed the wish that he could go to Westminster and win best of breed with a worthy blue as he has done with other colors. Many others would be proud to own a real Blue Merle. Looking over the Canadian field we believe E. F. Brierly of Lethbridge still produces and distributes the largest number of these beautiful Collies. Vic Williams, of Vancouver, is seldom without a good one and he knows what constitutes a good one. The Conwood Kennels at Victoria, B.C., frequently are reported as winning with a blue merle. Mr. Vanier, Longueuil, Quebec, put his Mousette through to a Canadian championship and sold her to Mrs. Bernice Gile Unwin, of the highly regarded Sunderland Kennels, at Winchendon, Mass. This fine bitch later found a new home in Maryland. Mrs. Unwin also supplied to Mr. Vanier Sunderland Silverdust which won his championship but later died on the show circuit. But Mr. Vanier was not to be without a blue merle and soon purchased Sunderland Blue Splendor and Sunderland Blue Jean. These blues are by the famous Sunderland Blue Faverdale. Mr. Pardoe of Toronto bought Sunderland Tetrarch and took him through to his title. Then we cannot forget Mrs. Jean O'Mahoney of Canfield, Ontario, with her trained Collies many of which are blue.

Mr. J. T. Sharp of Duncan, B.C., must be numbered among the Blue Merle enthusiasts. At present he has a fine litter of Blues and Tris out of Canwood Blue Cloud. They are sired by a tri son of Champion Elmhill Black Watch and Anahasset Adelaide and should develop into good ones. Mr. Sharp is a comparatively new breeder but is making a good start. He favors critiques of the dogs at our shows after the English fashion. This he feels would give us a better idea of the distant dogs that are impossible to see. Mr. Sharp had just visited Mr. Galloway's Kennels at Nanaimo and spoke very highly of his Bannockburn Monarch and a fourteen month son of his as well as some young stock.

A real old timer, an associate of Bobby Tait and Tom Stretch and other notables of the Scottish Collie world in the person of Bob Mercer lives on Vancouver Island and could surely tell us some interesting things re Collies from his long experience. We await your pleasure Mr. Mercer.

Interesting news comes from Mr. G. C. Fraser, Strathisla Collie Kennels of Guelph, Ontario. He has recently purchased Sunderland Lady Lukeo, a daughter of International Champion Major Lukeo ex Sunnynook Swiftfoot a granddaughter of American Champion Cracker Jack. She has been mated to that fine dog, also owned by Mr. Fraser, Gleneden Emerald and a good litter is anticipated. In the same kennel there are two fine litters one out of the tri bitch Wallis of Strathisla and Halmaric of Strathisla. Strathisla Lassie 2nd also has a good litter sired by the young dog King Edward of Strathisla.

Another real tid-bit in Collie news comes to hand. Our own Jimmy Strachan, whose name is almost synonymous with Collies and who sails under the name of Coltness, has been quietly carrying along a nice Tazewell bitch and now she has presented him with eight lovely puppies (mostly males) and the Coltness name will soon be in the show reports—watch Jimmie smile!—J. Gordon F. Burton, 322 Robina Ave., Toronto, is the new owner of "Poona of Barrie" a wonderful black female recently purchased from Mr. R. H. Heppleston, Barrie, Ontario. "Poona of Barrie" is sired by Plutocrat of Barrie ex Thetford Black Opal.

Well! What a surprise. I have just received a letter from Mrs. R. McColl, owner of the Alva Kennels and in part she says that time will not allow for a new letter head, but it will not be long until cocker spaniels grace the heading of the writing paper used by Alva Kennels. Mrs. McColl tells me that one of our prominent breeders, A. H. Beal, having heard that she would like to start a good cocker kennel, made it possible for her to purchase a pair of good cockers, believing that they would give her a start as promising as that achieved in the harlequin great Danes. Mrs. McColl purchased a male and a female. The male dog is Sir Gallant Boy of Victoria and the female is Lady Barbary of Victoria Park.

I am thankful to the Michigan Cocker Spaniel Club for the following article entitled "Why"

"Why don't Cocker go Best in Show more often than they do? This question has come up many times in the past and it is one that should be given careful thought.

"Records from April, May, June and July issues of the American Kennel Gazette give results from 71 shows, having a combined entry of 32 187 dogs. Of this number 3,083—nearly 10 per cent of the total entry—were Cocker Spaniels, yet the Cockers had the honor of going Best in Show but twice. Had the percentage of Best in Show wins been in accordance with the entries, the breed would have gone Best in Show seven times.

"Now what is wrong? Is it that the Cocker Breeder is not careful enough in his breeding to produce more sufficiently good dogs? Is it that he shows any specimen so that the shows will have a large entry? Is it that the Cocker is not a sufficiently attractive and dignified dog to be worthy of the honor of Best in Show? It doesn't seem possible that so many good Judges could be overlooking good Cockers, and it doesn't seem possible that out of 3,083 Cocker entries only two were good enough to go Best in Show, when Breeds with comparatively small entries went as high as eleven times Best in Show during the same period.

"If the present condition is due to the way the Cocker Breeder is breeding, it is time he changed his system. If it is that the Cocker is the forgotten breed (as far as Best in Shows go) then it is time he is being remembered.

"Mr. and Mrs. Cocker Fancier, what do you think is the matter? The Michigan Cocker Spaniel Club would like your comment on this and maybe the trouble can be remedied and the most popular breed in the U.S.A. and Canada today—the Cocker Spaniel—will be on a level with the rest of the dog world. Please let us hear from you. We want your ideas."

We are looking forward to a good Cocker entry at National Kennel Club All Breed Show to be held at the Royal Winter Fair November 21-22-

WESTERN NOTES

Breed Editor,

H. P. A. Saunders,
1010—4th Ave.,
Calgary, Alta.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge a letter from a new breeder, Jas. C. Whenham, of Cardston, Alta., who owns an outstanding dog by Captain Teach out of Alberta Dusky Dinah.

Gladys McGee, of Victoria, B.C., has exchanged Holdfast Lady Petite for the light buff female, Holdfast My Betty in whelp to Holdfast Sonjo. Her dam is Gloria of Dene which indicates a classy litter for Mrs. McGee.

J. R. Turner, of Croyden Kennels, Regina, has just imported a cocker stud from Camp Creek Kennels, Macomb, Ill. He is sired by Traders Own out of Gnilwock Gaiety. Mr. Turner also owns a very promising young bitch sired by Ch. Cinders of Heavensgate. He tells me he intends to advertise his stud in an early issue of Kennel and Bench. He cannot do better and I hope more breeders will follow the example set by him and Mr. Tanton.—H. P. S.

DACHSHUNDE

Breed Editor,

Mary McNulty Fix,
(Mrs. Albert Fix)
30 Lakeshore Rd., Humber
Bay, Ontario.

Dachshund owners and breeders are looking forward to the big event of November—the Royal Winter Fair. The Dachshund Club of Canada will make its first appearance at that time and members are coming from far and near. Mrs. A. K. Hedley-Peek has already advised that she is sending an entry of six dogs from Victoria, B. C. Mrs. H. E. Fletcher will exhibit two and Miss Westinghouse is seriously considering joining the British Columbia contingent also. These dogs are coming in care of the Canadian Pacific Railway Express in heated express cars and will be under constant supervision of a trained attendant. They will be exercised in the open at various points en route and will, no doubt, arouse much interest along the way as well as here in Toronto. It is hoped that our friends from the Province of Quebec, when they realize what efforts are being made to make this a truly nation-wide event, will join us with a good showing of their fine dogs.

It is expected that every coat will be represented and perhaps some miniatures. A large entry of long-haired dogs of excellent quality is already assured but it is hoped that every owner of the long-haired variety will participate as we must admit that Canadian owned stock in long-hairs is second to none in any country taken as a whole.

The annual general meeting of the Club will take place the first morning of the Show.

His Excellency, the Governor-General has graciously accepted a Life Membership in the Dachshund Club.

This will be presented in the form of a gold medallion with the Club emblem accompanied by a scroll containing names of all foundation members. This will be completed about the 5th of November and all members in good standing will be included. Some dachshund owners may have been inadvertently overlooked in notifications but anyone interested should get in touch with the editor of this column who is Secretary-Treasurer of the Club. His Excellency's numerous engagements while in Toronto make it impossible to present this memento at the Show but photographic prints will be made of the presentation case as a souvenir for each Club member.

In addition to prizes of the National Kennel Club and Canadian Kennel Club, the Dachshund Club is offering sixteen prizes from the Club and its friends including handsome cups from the T. Eaton Company and the Robert Simpson Company for best Canadian-bred smooth and long-haired respectively.

The mail-bag was light this month but interesting nevertheless. Mrs. Claude Flanders of Brockville reports a joyous event. Her Alisha is the proud mother of five, well assorted as to colour and sex. The proud papa is Dr. E. R. Marquard's Champion

CH. HASSO-FLOTTENBERG
An extremely typey dachshund whose wins on United States show circuits have created a near record

Hugo von Lindwood. This adds to our ranks some Lindenbuhls which should prove worth while.

Another letter came from Wichita, Kansas. Dr. Everett W. Johnson of the Evwajoheim Kennels encloses a picture which I am passing on to you. It is Champion Hasso-Flottenberg, a German import. This dog has been shown ten times in twelve months and collected six firsts in the HOUND GROUP aside from other honours. He is really beautiful. Note the lovely straight back line, the legs set in good balance, the graceful, deep chest, the long well-modelled head with alert but kindly expression. We can't help wishing that Dr. Johnson would bring this fellow to our Royal Winter Fair.

This brings us back to our main interest for the time being. All Canadian Dachshund owners extend a very hearty invitation to our American neighbours to take part in our first Club effort at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto and incidentally do honour to our specialty judge, James W. Trullinger, their fellow-countryman.

WEST HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIERS

Breed Editor,
Anne Elizabeth Blochin,
Aurora, Ont.

Owing to the preponderance of show reports in last month's issue, a few vital statistics had to be lopped off this department's garrulous meanderings, so I shall take the precaution of inserting them at the masthead this time.

One was a correction in my own copy. I find upon further research, and I knew it all along but was in such a state of high fettle that I slipped up—I was a century late in crediting the West Highland with royal favor. The gentleman who really was so taken with "the white earthe dogges" was James the First of England (1566-1625), who shipped not less than six to France, dividing his precious cargo among several vessels for safety, "lest they take skaith by the way." So, in addition to sponsoring the authorized translation of the Bible, this son of Mary Queen of Scots also gave his recorded patronage to the white dogs of Scotland, thus pre-dating them among all the Scottish terrier family. My husband now suggests that I look up some primitives of the Ark, and see if I cannot ast, Mr. H. S. Jackson, who conducts the W.H.W. department in the English "Dog World". I am pleased and flattered to learn also, that he has considered our Canadian news sufficiently important to quote at some length and frequently, in that up-to-the-minute dog paper. Mr. Jackson also sent me a most plucky little dog magazine from Czechoslovakia called "Kynologie", and (through his offices, I've no doubt) I note that they have used photographs of Westies both as a cover and as feature illustrations. It was touching to have this paper, just as things were so black for the little country. Perhaps now there will be no more circulation for what I am sure was their only dog publication. So beautifully printed, and I'm sure, interestingly written, though the pictures and occasional references to the W.H.W. "terrière" were all I could take in. God bless them, and may they carry on the good work somehow for the dogs they love.

"How far the little candle throws its beam. . ." When the article showing the photograph of Malcolm of Paltaloch appeared in our Jubilee Number, Mrs. Aemilius Jarvis was greatly interested in it, while glancing through our magazines. "Why," she said, "Colonel Malcolm's grandson will be visiting us in a little while, and I must show him this." She did even better—brought him over to see the dogs themselves. He was thrilled with the sight of so many West Highlands in one place again, as at home, and even running about over the hills as they can here, much as they do in Scotland. He has promised to bring his own terrier, given him by his grandfather, down to see us, and offered us his service if we "approved." Imagine—a real Paltaloch terrier right here in Canada! I know you'll be just as anxious to hear what he is like as we are to see him. I do hope that one of our lassies will appeal to him, and that the Dunstaffnage and Paltaloch strains may be joined in the new world, as I am sure they often were in the old.

We reproduce in this issue, a photograph that for homey companionship and demonstration of what West Highlands mean to their master, I think is a little gem. Mr. Benson of Edmonton with two of his "Pastime" favorites, dubs this pose, "Us Three Dogs." His chair-mates are the new champion "Bobbie of Rushmore" (left) and "Pastime Little Dorrit." I wish we could have pictures of the several new champions and their masters and mistresses too. Mrs. Horwood has one, Mr. Devereux, and I believe very soon, Mrs. Barclay of British Columbia will have another.

I hear that Major and Mrs. Neilson have returned from England, and will settle in the neighborhood of Niagara. One of Mrs. Neilson's dogs, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Parsons of Toronto, spent the summer at our kennels, and his family met the Neilsons on the boat coming home. Mrs. Neilson says that she will not breed her dogs again—but I believe in my soul that no one ever gets over West Highland terriers—and I know that she still has two of her best-loved pets. We have all missed her beautiful dogs at the shows here, and sincerely hope that she will come back to give us some stiff competition again. We would certainly welcome it, and it would be a new zest for the breed.—A. E. B.

US THREE DOGS

Mr. J. R. Benson, of Edmonton, with his two Westies, Bobby of Rushmore (left) is the new champion of record. His mate is Pastime Little Dorrit. A case where three is certainly company and not a crowd find somewhere, triumphant among the survivors, a white-whiskered, wiry-coated terrier. I have no doubt that if I did, I should be successful!

The acknowledgement of a letter from Mrs. Gordon Lindsay of Regina, fell by the wayside, too. Mrs. Lindsay noticed the reference to Cooden dogs, and wrote me that she owns a son of "Cooden Shadow" by "Ch. Brean Tauric" yclept "Roderick James". That is doubly interesting; as you remember, it was the Brean dogs that illustrated the article on Malcolm of Paltaloch which we quoted from the English "Country Life." What beauties! Well, that makes another real West Highland city in Canada. I'm thinking of making a little map with white pins in it! Surprising that it will go right up to the Arctic.

I find that my "unknown chum" who has been sending me so many valuable clippings on the breed, is none other than the British enthusi-

AIREDALES

Breed Editor,
Mrs. W. H. Humphries,
R.R. No. 1,
Richmond Hill, Ont.

My apologies to Mr. F. McQuin for implying that his good young dog, Rockside Tyrant, was defeated by another Canadian dog at the Morris and Essex; actually he was second in his class, with Ch. Rockley Brigadier third. Tyrant is now in the charge of Mr. Gateley, and should do well on the U.S.A. circuit, while I believe a litter brother of equal quality will be making the competition hot at our Canadian shows.

Among the many replies and opinions received à propos of Mr. Downer's article, there has been nothing but commendation. The general impression seems to be that shyness and hysteria are hereditary, and that dogs and bitches known to be afflicted should not be bred from. While a puppy can be forgiven a hysterical fit at his first show, surely adults should be capable of taking shows and judges in their stride. A dog with this "germ" of unsound temperament inherent in his breeding can be sent off by the merest trifles, loud-speakers, fire-crackers, thunderstorms, and frequently by indigestion, where a sound dog will be quite unaffected. There is an appreciable difference between actual shyness and the indifference sometimes shown in the ring by a working dog who regards shows as just so much unnecessary and meaningless routine, and the judge's nods and becks as extremely dull in comparison with the serious manoeuvres of a ground-hog. Any judge, and indeed, any ring-sider, can tell the difference, but shows are shows, and it is obvious that many a game, keen worker in the field who can only achieve an expression of patient long-suffering at a show, will go down to the charming "show-offs" that have all the tricks of the chorus-girl. The ideal is of course, to combine the two, but for that you have to "catch 'em young."

It is only fair to our Canadian airedales to say that a very fair percentage of the winners are not only sensible and intelligent, but some are excellent workers. Mr. Thompson's Glenalla Mississauga Don has only recently, (and to his disgust!) left the free life of the northern woods for the show kennel, and is a natural hunter. Our own Eastthorpe Patience was taken in hand soon after she arrived in this country, and striking up a friendship with our No. 1 ground-hog killer, surprised us this spring by bringing home a few herself, in direct competition with her "pal". It is a fact, and several American judges have noticed it, that for a number of years now, there have been no shy or hysterical Canadian-breeds at our shows. The occasional "jittery" one, the "chip-on-the-shoulder" lad, the dog that backs up and his companion who tries to bite the judge, have been seen, BUT, believe it or not, they have NOT been Canadians!

Count Cardelli's Allfire of Aldon, purchased as a puppy from Mrs. Harlatt, is going strong in the U.S.A., and we are hoping to see him in Canada before long. In fact, if all the "dark horses" we have heard about lately turn up for the Royal, there should be a record entry. In the old days when there were twelve in each class, and an entry of 100 was no novelty, it was an honour to get any place at all. Now, we have fewer dogs and make our entries more cautiously, but I do not see why we cannot have fifty Airedales at the Winter Fair, and the Terrier Show. With fair specials, and two judges who most conspicuously please themselves and place them as they see them, exhibitors should make a real effort to enter all they can, and end the year in fine style.

BOSTON TERRIERS

Breed Editor,
J. V. Dillon,
Agincourt, Ont.

To the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto and the general Canadian Boston fancy, no year is complete without the annual Thanksgiving Day specialty show at the Prince George Hotel. This year's show is rated among the most successful ever held, with eighty-three dogs benched—in-disputable evidence of the advancing popularity of our breed.

Judge Evan Ramsay passed on the dogs with a sincerity and thoroughness of manner that impressed everyone at the ringside. Best of breed was Int. Ch. Lipe's Bonny Kaye, a Canadian-bred female who continues to bring credit to Canadian breeding with her consistent wins. Best of winners was lovely little female, Saints Rest Tiny Ace, owned by Bob Schelling, Fort Erie, Ont. Paddy Boughs took the winners male class with a newcomer to Canadian shows, Kings Partner, recently purchased by the Disturber Kennels and a son of the famous Royal Kid. He is still a puppy and bids fair as a serious contender for championship honors before very long. Another Disturber dog, Paddy's Wee Sam, stud force of the kennels, took the Bubbling Over trophy for the stud dog with the largest number of his get at the show.

The Jubilee Kennels of Stevens and Richardson (by the way, the partnership was completed last month) have had a most successful month. Prince of Ringmaster took best of group at the New Glasgow show and Fashion Parade went winners female at both New Glasgow and Montreal. They also have a newcomer in Flash Again Regards, recently imported from Mr. Peak, of Washington, D.C. This is the winners dog at the 1938 Morris and Essex and will make competition mighty keen in Canada for a while.

To Mrs. Vettters, Vetterlee Kennels, we extend the sympathy of the Boston fancy in the loss of the typey little dog she cherished so deeply.

A sale of note is that of Bamford's Duchess Rowena who has been bought by Mrs. E. P. Anders, Linden, N.J.

(faded) brindling; white forehead line; white collar; white stockings and white tail tip. Danes with such white marks should be excluded from showing.

(b) Fawn Danes. Golden yellow up to deep golden yellow color; black mask is desirable and also black nails. The deep golden yellow color must always be given the preference. Faults: Yellowish gray, bluish yellow, grayish blue and dirty yellow color (drab color) must be given lower rating. With regard to white markings, what has been stated above under (a) also applies here.

(c) Blue Danes. The color must be a pure steel blue as far as possible without any tinge of yellow or black. In connection with blue danes, lighter colored eyes are permissible. Faults: Yellow or deep blue color, very light, piercing or glassy eyes. What has been stated under (a) above applies here also with regard to white markings.

(d) Black Danes. Color black, glossy, black nose, dark eyes. Faults: Yellow black, brown black or blue black; light colored eyes. Danes with striking white markings must be given a lower rating in shows. White markings, such as stripes on the chest, speckled chest and markings on the paw are permitted here, but danes with deep white collar and high stockings and white belly should be excluded from shows.

(e) Harlequins. Base colors pure white, if possible, without any pointings, with black spots irregularly and well distributed over the entire body, pure white neck preferred. (Eligible but less desirable are a few small gray spots.) The eyes should be dark but light colored eyes or two eyes of different color are permitted but not desirable. Black nose; black spotted or pink colored noses are permitted. Faults: White base color with a few large spots, bluish gray pointed background and water colored, red or bleary eyes.

Males should not be less than 30 inches at the shoulders, nor females less than 28 inches.

Ideal conformation of an ideal great dane is seen in the Porcelain Statue by Rosenthal "Deutsche Dogge" No. 960-1, 2046-1.

GREAT DANES

Breed Editor,
Mrs. A. McColl,
2388 Gerrard St., E.,
Toronto.

In answer to many requests and to settle a number of controversies on Dane color we reproduce here that portion of the standards adopted by the Great Dane Club of America, the Canadian Kennel Club and the American Kennel Club pertaining to color.

Color—(a) Brindle Danes. Base color ranging from light golden yellow to deep golden yellow, always brindled with black, strong cross stripes. The more intensive the base color and the more intensive the brindling, the more attractive will be the color. Small white marks at the chest and toes and also light colored eyes and nails are not desirable. Faults: Silver blue or grayish blue base color; dull

SCOTTISH TERRIERS

THE SCOTTISH K.C. SHOW

Edinburgh (Scotland's Largest Show)

We are taking up considerable space this month, in order that our readers may become acquainted with a very peculiar situation, which had its inception at the above famous fixture, in which two Scotties were chosen to be included in the final five, one of which was to obtain the supreme award. The three judges had approximately one hundred dogs to sort out by the process of elimination. However, let's hear what Mrs. Phyllis Robson, Editor of Dog World has to say in her editorial of Oct. 14th issue:

At long last the three judges weeded out the candidates to five, two Scottish Terriers, a Cocker, a Chow and a Dalmatian. With all due deference to the three judges, we contend they were not at all well advised to keep two specimens of the same breed in such a small number for the final. We have never seen such a thing done before. Surely one of a breed is enough from which to make a selection? The Scottish Terriers were Mr. Robert Chapman's ten months old dog puppy, Heather Benefactor, purchased a month ago, formerly named Walsing Wonder and owned by W. M. Singleton, and Mr. G. M. Barr's bitch, Rosehall Bright Charm, and the piquancy of the situation was that Mrs. Pacey, the eminent Scottish Terrier judge, had already placed the bitch as best of breed, thereby beating the dog. It can therefore be imagined with what mixed feelings the vast doggy crowd watched the three

Our sympathies are with Mr. G. M. Barr and Ch. Rosehall Bright Charm, but might there not be a cause underlying all this controversy. We will presume in the first place that "Heather Benefactor" is sound, then we will refer to last year's Metropolitan and Essex Show, Earl's Court, London. 5,049 entries, held on Dec. 9, '37. Mr. J. L. Merrill judged Scottish Terriers. His critique in the "Gazette" read "Rosehall Bright Charm, good-bodied bitch, nice head; lost on movement and soundness." If the three judges decided that "Heather Benefactor" had movement and soundness, therein lay the reason for their final judgment. "Our Dogs" on commenting upon Mr. Merrill's thorough job on the day has this to say "Mr. Merrill evinced decided ideas about the weight question while he was judging, because on several occasions he lifted the exhibit from the floor."

Having watched Ch. "Rosehall Bright Charm's" career from a pup we were extremely interested in the above, especially as our "Ch. Susan of Agbrigg" met and defeated "Bright Charm" twice, under Mr. J. L. Merrill at the above mentioned Metropolitan and Essex Show. Now let us hear again the judges' emphasis on soundness, on the day. His critique in the "Gazette" reads "Susan of Agbrigg, real good bitch, one of the few sound ones here today, nice clean skull, good body, front and hindquarters, should make a name for herself."

Our next show will be the Canadian Fox Terrier Ch. Show held at the Labor Temple, Church St., Toronto on Nov. 12th. Mr. Arthur Ellison, possibly the most experienced in point of actual breeding of Scottish Terriers, will be judging our breed. He deserves an excellent entry.

There is one show at which we can be sure of meeting all those interested in the breed, namely the Royal Winter Fair. This fixture finishes the 1938 circuits and is slated for Nov. 21-23. Clarence Grey, Esq. of international reputation will be our judge.

The next fixture of the Canadian Terrier Club will be held on Friday, Dec. 9th, at the Labor Temple, Church St., Toronto. It is at shows of this quality, that your young dogs will get the experience, that will so well stand them in good stead at future championship shows. We have advance knowledge that the premiums already subscribed, are away and above those usually experienced at sanctioned affairs.

ALL-TERRIER SHOW NOVEMBER 12

A goodly list of prizes and special trophies has assured a splendid entry for the all-terrier show of the Canadian Terrier Association to be held in the Labor Temple, Toronto, on November 12. The recently issued and excellently arranged premium list is now in the hands of exhibitors with the following list of judges: Mr. Fred Smith, Toronto—bull terriers; Mr. Arthur Ellison, Toronto—Scottish terriers; Mr. George Davies, Newtonbrook, Ont.—Kerry blue terriers; Mr. Wm. McDerment, Toronto—all other breeds and best in show. The late Harry Robinson was originally scheduled to pass on Cairn terriers and, since his sad death, his breed will be done by Mr. McDerment.

expert judges solemnly give a dog—which had been beaten for best of breed—the supreme honour of best in show.

The Scottish papers commented on this award in no uncertain terms. The Scottish "Daily Express" said "Boos mingled with cheers when Heather Benefactor was judged best dog of the 55th Scottish Kennel Club Show," and "The Bulletin" said "A verdict received in silence by the crowds around the judging ring."

Whilst congratulating Mr. Robert Chapman on winning the supreme award for the fifth year in succession at the Scottish K.C. show, four times running with Ch. Heather Realisation and this year with a son of his late champion (surely a record)—we do feel very strongly that the Kennel Club should not allow the two challenge certificate winners to compete for best in show. Only the best of breed should be permitted to come in for the final contest. This method would shorten the now wearisome procedure of three judges going over some 80 to 100 dogs and finally selecting one which has already met its Waterloo.

Truly the American system of selecting best in show from groups is far ahead of ours and never does such an anomaly occur in the States as that of a beaten dog taking the supreme honour.

GERMAN SHEPHERD DOGS

*Breed Editor,
Ted. Weller,
540 Kingston Rd.,
Toronto.*

At the recent C.N.E. show it was a pleasure to see Mr. Van Hecewyck go best of breed with his Thor of Bismarck, a very fine black and tan of excellent conformation and character ably handled by Ed. Kent. Winners bitch was Valorie of Northmere, bred by Alex Gooderham and now owned by Robt. Gilmore. It was indeed disappointing to see such a small entry at such a large show but I find that most people think that three days is too much for a dog show and sometimes I think they are right.

The Toronto Kennel Show the next day after the C.N.E. was also sadly lacking in entries. However, Mr. Hopton, the judge, chose as his winners dog and best of breed, a very fine black and grey dog bred by our old friend Mrs. Calow and now owned by Mr. Randall. I am sure that Mr. Randall will be showing this dog very extensively on the spring circuit and will be a decided threat for those important purples against all comers. Much to the personal delight of your Editor, Brenda of Briarnole got the necessary point to make her a champion; which of course gave us a great deal of satisfaction as we intend to breed her in the near future to a selected American stud dog.

At the Hamilton show Dr. Hodgson, who is a shepherd dog man of long experience, had a rather small number of dogs to pass his opinion on, although the quality of the dogs at this show was excellent. He chose as his winners dog, Kerry of Northmere, owned by Cameron Chisholm. This dog is trained for field work and stands like a soldier on parade in the ring, and it is a decided pleasure to see the control that Mr. Chisholm has over his dog. The winners bitch and best of breed was no other than the 1937 Siegerin of Germany, Traute Von Bern, who is paying a visit to the kennel of Mr. Chisholm. This bitch is a very dark black and tan of small size, with the finest gait I have ever seen.

To those owners who plan on showing at the Royal Winter Fair it will be good news to know that the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, are having their specialty show in conjunction with this great event and plan on making this the best show of the year. In addition to the usual good money prizes that this show pays to the exhibitors, the club will have additional money prizes in all classes to those who can go to the top of their class. The National Kennel Club have obtained the services of a specialty judge from Chicago who has never judged in Canada. He is Dr. Wm. Redlich who is the owner of some first class shepherds, and a man of vast experience in the breed, so we will all get a brand new opinion on our dogs. Let us all get together and give him a great big entry. The writer will be at this show with the Briardale entries and if any novice owners who are not sure of the ropes will come to our bench, I will be very glad to help them in any way possible, so let's go for a five point show.

WESTERN NOTES

*Breed Editor,
Mrs. F. E. Jullien,
1803 5th St. W., Calgary.*

I had promised to report news of our prairie shows, but I regret very much there will be little to write about as all Shepherd entries, in this section of the country, were very small. Edmonton was minus a Shepherd entry and Saskatoon had but one and Best of Breed was awarded to Dr. E. S. Washington's Sheila Daphne of Javenhass. At Regina, Mr. Pete Ban's Duke was Winners dog and Sheila won Winners, Best of Winners and Best of Breed. Likewise Winnipeg had but two entries; I am sorry I am not able to give the name of the dog who placed Winner, and I believe, Best of Breed, but Sheila again won Winners in bitches and these several wins would credit her with numerous points towards her championship. Winnipeg ended our prairie shows until November 25th and 26th when the Children's Hospital Aid will hold a show in this city. Mr. A. W. Forbes, who is well known on the Pacific Coast and who has judged there on a number of occasions, will be doing all breeds at this show.

I regret exceedingly that I must regretfully omit news of either Saskatchewan or Manitoba as none has been sent to me and I only wish fanciers would communicate with me as generously and regularly as do the B.C. Fanciers. While Miss Pearl Prinsep expected several litters, her letter states that she has but two litters instead of the expected five. Her Olga had seven, four males and three females but one male died; Fifi had three females by one of Rajah's sons "Just It".

I am delighted to be able to congratulate Miss Barbara Percy as her Flamette von Drachenfels won her final required points at the Duncan show. Flamette won Best of Breed and she placed second in the Group; she was also Best of Breed at the Victoria and Nanaimo Shows.

The Victoria Show was held on August 24th and Mrs. G. O. Alsen judged working dogs. Winners dog was Mr. William O. Greene's Billo of Black Forest, a son of Int. Ch. The Bat of Black Forest ex Greta von Flemming. At Nanaimo winners dog was won by Mr. P. Hanson's Shepherdholm's Spur by Arko v Schaferhof ex Shepherdholm's Dina. Mr. W. H. Pym was judge of all breeds at the latter show. At the Canada Pacific Exhibition Show held at Vancouver on September 2nd and 3rd and judged by Mr. J. G. Murphy of St. Paul, Minn., Miss Pearl Prinsep's Sonny Boy was winners, best of winners and best of breed. An Alva's Pride of Westhill ex Shela von Trail son. Winners bitches to Miss Gertrude M. Jarvis' Cleo von Drachenfels. Sonny Boy has a goodly number of points towards his championship and I sincerely hope his luck continues. At the September 5th Show which was judged by Mr. Anton Rost, of Brooklyn, N.Y., winners dog was awarded to Mr. Greene's Billo. Winners bitches, best of winners and best of breed to Mr. Edgar Aston's Notsa Shadow von Cito who was entered in Jr. Puppy Class. She is a daughter of Abarard Junker von Cito ex Abarard Gypsy El.

I wish to remind fanciers of our next Calgary Show which will be held on November 25th and 26th and Mr. A. W. Forbes of Tacoma, Wash., will do all breeds.

I regret very much that Miss Olga P. Mead is no longer Editor of the Shepherd Dog Review, a task which she so ably fulfilled. It is to be hoped the new Editor will continue along principles set by Miss Mead which gave each and every fancier his or her share of publicity.

I am certain that Western Exhibitors will be pleased as well as interested to know that Mr. A. W. Forbes of Tacoma, Wash., has been appointed to judge All Breeds at the forthcoming Children's Hospital Aid Show, to be held in this City on November 25th and 26th next.

This will be the Society's fourth annual show, and each year entries at this show have increased, both numerally and in quality.

Edmonton is holding a show earlier in the same week and possibly these will be the last opportunities for fanciers in this section of the country to compete for the many noteworthy Canadian Kennel Club Prizes.

NEWFOUNDLANDS

Breed Editor,
Mrs. Mercedes Gibson,
Carlington Post Office,
Ontario.

There has been, among breeders of the Newfoundland, a great deal of controversy regarding what a really good specimen should be. It might, therefore be as well, in this issue to give the official standard (as adopted by the Newfoundland Club of America) and in later issues to discuss it.

Symmetry and General Appearance. The dog should impress the eye with strength and great activity. He should move freely on his legs with the body swung loosely between them, so that a slight roll in gait should not be objectionable; but at the same time a weak or hollow back, slackness of the loins or cowhocks should be a decided fault.

HEAD. Should be broad and massive, the occipital bone well developed, there should be no decided stop, and the muzzle should be short, clean cut, and rather square in shape.

COAT. Should be flat and dense of a coarsish texture and oily nature and capable of resisting the water. If brushed the wrong way it should fall back naturally into place.

BODY. Should be well ribbed up with a broad back. A neck, strong, well set up on to the shoulder and back, with strong muscular loins.

FORELEGS. Should be perfectly straight, well covered with muscle, elbows in but well let down and feathered all the way down.

HINDQUARTERS AND LEGS. Should be very strong; the legs should have great freedom of action and a little feather. Slackness of loins and cowhock are a great defect.

CHEST. Should be deep and fairly broad and well covered with hair but not to such an extent as to form a frill.

BONE. Massive throughout, but not to give a heavy inactive appearance.

FEET. Should be large and well shaped. Splayed or turned out feet are objectionable.

TAIL. Should be of moderate length, reaching down a little below the hocks. It should be of fair thickness, and well covered with long hair, but not to form a flag. Tails with a kink or curled over the back, are very objectionable.

EARS. Should be small, set well back, square with the skull, lie close to the head and covered with short hair, and no fringe.

EYES. Should be small, and of a dark brown colour, rather deeply set but not showing any haw and they should be rather widely apart.

COLOUR. Dull jet black. A slight tinge of bronze or splash of white on chest and toes not objectionable.

HEIGHT AND WEIGHT. Size and weight are very desirable so long as symmetry is maintained. A fair average height at shoulder is 28 inches for a dog and 26 inches for a bitch and a fair average weight is dogs, 140 to 150 lbs.; bitches, 110 to 120 lbs.

In a future issue we shall discuss the present type of Newfoundland of which there are two kinds to be seen.

POMERANIANS

Breed Editor,
George Potts,
94 Belgravia,
Toronto 10.

The pomeranian fancy in general, and Canadian Pomdom in particular, suffers a severe loss in the retirement of C. W. Copeland, St. Catharines, Ont., as a sponsor of our breed. While this kennel, known as "The Lindy Pomeranian Kennels", confined its exhibiting activities to the larger American Shows, its victories in the breeding line were important and many. Mr. Copeland was a genius in his ability to pick the best England had produced. He spent large sums of money in the importation of many of the best specimens of this breed. The results are apparent in quality stock in both Canadian and American kennels. We understand Mrs. W. Wylie, of Cairndhu fame, has made arrangements to take over the Lindy stock.

We anticipate, with the issue of Kennel and Bench, readers will be in possession of all particulars in regards to the prize list of the forthcoming National Kennel Club Show at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. The increase in entries at the Canadian National Exhibition was a matter for congratulations but it is as yet far from what we have witnessed years ago and which ought yet to be a normal condition at our shows. Our breed is generally in good condition at this time of year and we look for it to be represented in quality and numbers in a reasonable ratio to the registrations which disclose the popularity of the pomeranian as the favourite toy dog.

DOBERMAN PINSCHERS

*Breed Editor,
Edwin L. Kerr,
432 Main St. E.,
Hamilton, Ont.*

Space will not permit of general information on the feeding of dobermans, particularly puppies. However, if there is one food item that our breed must have plenty of, it is meat. A three month old puppy should have one half pound of meat a day and gradually increase this amount so that from six months to maturity one pound of meat per day is given. Beef or horse meat are the best. Never feed pork, potatoes, cake or pie crust. The meat fed with kibbled or broken biscuit along with milk should be the main diet. Meat may be fed raw twice a week and cooked the other days. Salmon, beef heart or pig's liver can be fed as a change in diet. Cooked carrots grated and few dessertspoons of tomato juice over the food twice a week are beneficial. Never give chicken or small bones. Large veal bones are best for puppies as they are soft and do not splinter. All dobermans should have plenty of exercise as they are an extremely active breed. Puppies owned in the city should be broken to the leash early in life, and must never be abused with the lead. Never use the lead as a means of punishment. A sharp clip with a folded newspaper and harsh words are all that is needed. A puppy recognizes the tone of your voice if you are scolding him, and they do not like to have you cross with them. They are usually anxious to please even if they do not seem to show it. The leash should be recognized as a signal for a walk, or a run, and never be looked on with fear and trembling. Puppies should be taken in the congested areas, made acquainted with noises people, street-cars, autos, and the general racket of city life. Take it very easy at first, stop when he stops, do not yank him, speak quietly to him. Gently urge him along but let him look everything over until he learns he has nothing to fear.

Mrs. Olga M. Day of Vancouver has purchased Leo von Dorn, one of the Ch. Beda of Plantation Grove—Ch. Rolf von Lackanblick litter from Jasper M. Daniels.

Mr. J. Ortengren who used a doberman as a sleigh dog in Iceland when he was five years old, has again swung back to the breed and has acquired a puppy as companion and guard for his two young sons.

In an interesting letter from Mrs. Chas. A. McGee she advises that new kennels have been built in or near Victoria, B.C., and they are now in a position to breed again in earnest. A breeder of Dobes for ten years they now have two well bred brood matrons in Motte von Oxbo sired by Ch. Hans von Tannenhau, and Leda von Kluck.—E. L. K.

SPANIELS

*Breed Editor,
Andrew Dunn,

Port Credit, Ont.*

Ottawa saw a very good entry of our favourite breed at their Exhibition show; and some new faces were paraded, including Am. Ch. Bozo's Bar Mate. Bar Mate is a field trial champion as well as a bench title holder and looked then as though he would soon complete his Canadian championship. Although Int. Ch. Whitelight took top honors at Ottawa, Bar Mate obtained his title in three straight shows. He is a very happy and showy mover, though he could do with a little better shoulder and front.

John Ritchie's Dunoon Floradora went best of winners and thus added her name to the list of Canadian champions. Mr. McNeill showed several promising puppies and Mr. Slack, of Smiths Falls, had three that look like comers. He is too good to them, however, carrying a little too much fat for perfect show condition.

H. Mellenthin was honored with an exceptionally large entry at the C.N.E. Show in Toronto and it did not take him long to place them. Never before have I seen dogs placed as quickly. Bozo's Bar Mate got top class honors with River Park Shot reserve. Ch. Dunoon Donald Dhu went down to defeat for his second time, although he had beaten Bar Mate in ten straight shows in the United States. Int. Ch. Whitelight was not shown at this event, but Mr. Gudgeon entered a couple of very typey youngsters, particularly a male that went reserve at both Ottawa and Hamilton.

At Hamilton the entry was smaller but the quality was there and Mr. Pym—undoubtedly one of the best and most sought after judges—took great pains in going over them. Bar Mate was again best of breed with Mrs. D. Lerch's Nodnol Countess going best female—a very nice, deep muzzled bitch. All were sorry to see the new import Trevillis Fear Less going down in his first three shows. He is a very striking colored dog with a nice head but just a little too much dog and a little too throaty for the judges he came under. Rumor has it that his cost in England was well into four figures. It seems the type in England differs greatly from what is required on this continent to get the Rosettes.

There has been considerable controversy in the east as well as the west regarding the selection of judges by show giving clubs. There appears to be a certain resentment over some of the placings of judges who while quite competent to judge some breeds, do not appear to have a thorough knowledge of other breeds they are asked to pass on. I believe that, while the exhibitor is the immediate sufferer from the result of these selections, the show giving club will be the ultimate loser when these exhibitors refuse to make an entry in the next show. As proof of my contention I would refer to a letter in my possession from the president of a very strong spaniel club in the United States in which he states that his club has advised the American Kennel Club that they will not recognize any show as their specialty show if certain Canadian judges are selected, after recent placings.

In the English Our Dogs—Mr. Warner Hill, springer critic, judge and owner of perhaps the greatest team of springers alive, makes a few comments worth mentioning here. He says a dog with a good short back, correct shoulders, well sprung ribs, straight tight front and good rear quarters can always afford to give away a few points in head quality and still win. And he claims that a dog with these points cannot fail to be a good mover.

Dan Lerch, Nodnol Kennels, London, had a nice win at the London show when his Ch. Dunoon Donna captured the group class at the first show and then placed best of breed the following day under a different judge. Dr. and Mrs. Barlow, of Detroit, finished their Dunoon Chocolate Lady at the same show. John Ritchie, who finished Dunoon Floradora at Ottawa, followed up his win with winners female at the Canadian National Exhibition.

At the Detroit show on October 9 in a very good entry under judge Fred Hadley, Mrs. D. Lerch was prominent among the winners with Nodnol Countess, winners bitch; Dunoon Donna, second open. In addition she went best bred by exhibitor and best brace.

Canadian springers are making history in the field as well as on the bench. A lone Canadian entry at the Albany trials, Remington Jade (Imp), owned and handled by Mr. Colbart secured second place in a field of fourteen under judges H. E. Mellen-thin and Donald Carr. Mr. Colbart is now working on four more for later trials and these youngsters look very promising.—A. D.

CAIRN TERRIERS

Breed Editor,

Phyllis Stephen,

80 Gormley Ave., Toronto.

It has been rather disappointing to see such a small turnout of cairns at the fall shows. However, the lack of quantity has amply made up for itself in quality.

At the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto Kennel Club and at Hamilton, Pimperl of Mercia went Best of Breed. This grand little dog owned by Mrs. G. W. Hyslop holds her own wherever she goes, not only in the cairn classes; but she is usually "in the running" in the terrier group. Another of Mrs. Hyslop's dogs, Blinkbonny Thrums, has been much in evidence as winners dog. Thrums won best male puppy at Westminster last spring. He was bred by Mrs. Alan Horwood at the Blinkbonny Kennels, Ottawa, and is sired by Int. Ch. Tinker of Tapscott.

Mrs. Horwood's "Blinkbonny Bawbee" won best Canadian bred at the Toronto Kennel Club show. She also showed a very nice pair of dogs in the brace class.

The Happyhill Kennels have brought a newcomer to the ring in "Happy Find of Clairmar" who took best of winners and best of breed at both London shows. Happy Find is a sturdy little cairn and her future should be well worth watching.

At the Toronto shows Mrs. McColl's "Alva Cairngorum" created much attention from her bench among the great Danes and Miss Dorothy Kelly's "Lady Luck" won the award for novice dog privately owned.

I had a long letter from Mrs. Wood, "of Melita Kennels", Victoria, B.C., a few weeks ago. Mrs. Wood took me up on the challenge that seven puppies was a large litter for a Cairn. It seems that several years ago she had a litter of ten—eight males and two females. That surely is a record!!

I know we were all grieved to hear that Harry Robinson had passed on. He was a familiar figure at our shows and had become a part of our particular cairn world. Where the cairns were benched we could be sure to find Harry. He managed Mrs. W. C. Routley's Clairmar Kennels for some years, and I believe that his knowledge of breeding cairns and his untiring work among them was largely responsible for the Clairmar strain which has become so well known both in Canada and the States. We have lost a friend and a genuine Cairn enthusiast and we shall certainly miss him.

May I once more appeal to ALL cairn owners, to become members of this column—we want news from every province—suggestions, criticisms, or kennel news will be welcome. I ask each of you to do your bit to help me gather material to bring to the front the little dogs which we know are such delightful pets and loyal companions.

MAJOR McALLISTER'S LABRADOR "MOSS" WINS OPEN ALL AGE STAKE AT RETRIEVER TRIALS.

The first licensed C.K.C. Retriever Trials held in British Columbia, were run by the B.C. Gun Dog Club, Sunday Oct. 2nd at Woods Island. Despite the rain in the forenoon a large gathering of enthusiastic spectators watched the proceedings. Major McAllister's Labrador took first place in the open all age stake, winning the handsome trophy donated by R. J. Pop. "Wylderness Tangerine", golden retriever owned by Rockhaven kennels was a close second, winning Archie Hazeldine's trophy. Third place was taken by "Flag", Labrador retriever owned by Mr. C. G. Clements. This dog gave a very good account of himself.

Possibly one of the most outstanding dogs in the trial was the puppy winning first place, "Gilmockie Pluto", owned by Gilmockie Kennels, Inglewood, Colorado. This youngster has the heart of a lion and a great searching instinct. Second place was taken by the Labrador, "Capilano Bingo", owned by R. M. McLuckie, a fine young prospect. Third place went to "Nith of Trap" Labrador, owned by S. B. Spellman, of Seattle. Another splendid youngster, with a little more experience this dog will be a real contender.

Mrs. S. S. Magoffin presented the trophies to the owners of the winners at the close of the trials. Ernest Scott, of springer spaniel fame, did the judging and his placings were well received.

CANADIAN NATIONAL BEAGLE CLUB TRIALS

The appeal of this progressive organization continues to draw huge entries to its Annual Championship Beagle Trials, and the 1938 version is probably the all-time high for an enthusiasm which reached out as far as Kentucky, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia, North Carolina, Ohio and Missouri. The six-day meeting found record entries for most classes. The weather was favorable, and the sport was excitingly enjoyable. The judges: Messrs. Harvey Herb. Robsonia, Pa.; H. L. Pollock. New Concord, Ohio, Earl Wall, Forest, Ont., and Jack Parry, Windsor, Ont., all played their respective parts brilliantly and satisfactorily. As usual with this outstanding event personal pleasure was planned for. Several dances and the club's annual banquet were social events which kept the contestants, friends, and the large galleries in that degree of harmony that is so noticeable at Field Trial fixtures.

Much of the credit for the healthy condition of the "Canadian National" must be given to Mr. George Abel, the club's progressive president, and to his right hand man, Secretary F. L. Petersmarck. Both officers are residents of Detroit, but their influence extends all over the United States and Canada and their club trials are a year round activity.

Following are the winners of the several well contested issues:

IRISH TERRIERS

Breed Editor,
A. Palmer,
1 Birchmount Rd.,

Please pardon the omission of the many valuable suggestions, hints, and ideas sent in by the various Irish terrier breeders and fanciers as this article was written before the letters started to pour in. However, accept our thanks and rest assured that good use will be made of all the information received.

The Irish coat is unquestionably straight and wiry, medium in length and harsh in texture, giving a broken appearance, with a heavy or thick undercoat to bear exposure, since the Mick is essentially a working dog.

The correct coat requires very little attention and will never at any time hide the pleasing, jaunty, racey lines of the dog. The right type of coat will take the breeder a long way.

The Mick, however, like most other things, has gone modern. The craze for long, lean heads with lots of whisker by, may we say, surface buyers who buy on sight and appearance rather than on stability and soundness, has been met by breeders producing long whiskers. Such whiskers are invariably accompanied by a much softer and linty coat at the expense of the natural, correct coat.

The continued success of the Irish coat depends entirely on the care with which breeders make their matings in an effort to eliminate the linty element which will eventually produce soft, sheep-like terriers.

In color, red is the most desirable with permissible shades running from deep mahogany to wheaten. What is more pleasing than a nice warm wheaten red showing such quality and vitality making tampering and camouflage in the show ring unnecessary.

Like every living thing, Irish coats will respond in texture, color and growth to conditioning, treatment and diet; but space does not permit a detailed explanation of such treatment. Possibly, in some future issue we will be able to discuss conditioning; but in the meantime we will be glad to help with any problems our readers may come across.

Next month—Standards in Size and Weight.

The success of the Irish depends upon the breeders in more ways than one. May we suggest your monthly co-operation in the form of a reminder on this page of any dogs or puppies you have for sale. Keep in mind that next month is our Christmas issue when all the leading kennels will be represented in good sized advertisements.

GUN DOG CLUB TRIALS

Saturday and Sunday, September 17th and 18th, have gone into Saskatchewan history as marking the fourth annual Field Trials of the Northern Saskatchewan Gun Dog Club. The Club, having made proper arrangements with the weatherman, was given that brand of weather known as "glorious", something like "Hennessy's" in good brandy. Twenty-one dogs toed the mark in three events, i.e. "All Age Shooting Dogs",

"All Age Field Trial Dogs" and "Derby". Eight starters featured in the first two events, with thirteen contesting the "Derby".

Birds were plentiful and vigorous and excellent opportunities were available at all times, and so splendid sport was furnished a gallery of around two hundred out o'doors folk who had reached the Trial grounds through the agency of forty automobiles, several trucks and "Bennet Buggies", and it was noticeable that the enthusiastic gallery responded to the sport on both days.

The Judges were Charles Black, South Carolina, and J. M. Ayre, Saskatoon, and they had to be good to make this report the kind of reading that Gun Dog men like to have served up to them. The winners of the "All Age Shooting" were T. Matthews', Saskatoon, "Pal", R. Salisbury, Saskatoon, "Gypsy", and E. Howe, North Battleford, "Battle Rex". In the "All Age Field Trial" the winners were Dr. Sifton Campbell, New York, "Jenique", T. Matthews' "Pal", and W. Little, Rosetown, "Spunky Creek Lulu".

To Dr. J. T. Cooper go the "orchids" for his endeavours to have these trials under Canadian Kennel Club Championship Rules and it is pleasing to notice the steady development of this sport in Canada.

The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc.

Meeting of the Board of Directors, Oct. 20, 1938

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room of the Club's Offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday afternoon, October 20th, 1938, at 3.30 o'clock. The President, Col. J. N. MacRae, presided. Directors in attendance included W. H. Reeves, Dr. H. E. Batt, Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. R. McColl, W. J. Risewick and Capt. H. Dudley-Waters.

The President called for the reading of the minutes, and it was regularly moved by Mrs. McColl, seconded by Capt. Waters and carried:

"That, the minutes be taken as read."

The Secretary advised that Mr. Walkerdine would appreciate meeting the Directors that afternoon at 4.45 o'clock. The President advised that he had invited Mr. Walkerdine to attend.

The President reported that in view of the resolution passed at the last Board meeting he had written to each of the Club's Directors (excepting the Directors present at the last meeting), on the matter of satisfactory methods of identification; a copy of such letter was read as information. However only two Provincial Directors had replied, Mr. Rooney, and Mr. Irving both of whom had expressed their opinions frankly on the several proposed methods. The President advised that a conference had been held at Ottawa on the previous day when the matter of the means of noseprinting had been discussed, and reminded the Directors that full particulars of all proposed methods of identification would have to be filed with the Department before the end of the present month in order that the proposed amendment could be considered in good time. He thought that such amendment should embrace the alternates of tattooing, noseprinting, charting or any other method which may hereafter be found to be practical. To the President's proposal the Directors agreed.

Dr. Batt suggested that the November issue of Kennel & Bench would offer an opportune time for the appearance of a short educational article with illustrations and it was agreed to leave the preparation of the articles in the hands of Mrs. McColl, Mr. Walkerdine and the Secretary.

A letter was read from the American Kennel Club which set forth that championship points were the same for all shows whether separate specialty shows or when held in conjunction with an all-breed show.

The Secretary read a letter from the Club's legal adviser reporting on the matter of the Committee on Constitution (Col. J. N. MacRae and himself), and received instructions to have a copy sent to each officer and Director as advance information.

In respect to the calling of Special General Meetings, the forthcoming such meeting called at Montreal for November 4th, the Secretary mentioned the impossibility of compiling certain information asked for. The President advised that the figures in respect to the Records end of the Club's business could be compiled but that the cost might be in the vicinity of $1,000, and of course this would not and could not include the cost of preparing the figures of the Toronto office.

A letter was read from the Club's legal adviser, Mr. Peter Wright, with regard to the proposed Toronto Pet Shop By-law. Mr. Wright was of the opinion that it would be quite essential that the Kennel Club would make sure that certification for kennel licenses would only be made in the interest of bona fide owners of registered dogs.

The secretary advised that Mr. Walkerdine had just entered the office, and was instructed to have him attend in the Board Room, and upon Mr. Walkerdine entering, the President advised that he had received a letter from Mr. Walkerdine who had been informed that the chart system had been considered abandoned, and that he had agreed to drop it altogether, but that was not so. The President was of the opinion that the chart system could function with the other two systems, and it was his intention to frame an amendment to the Constitution that could be discussed by the members at the Annual General Meeting.

After discussion it was regularly moved by Mr. Reeves, seconded by Mr. Risewick and carried:

"That, Mr. Walkerdine had been assured by the President that the Working Committee was still functioning."

The President suggested that the various proposed methods of identification must be in his hands by October 27th in order that a properly worded proposed amendment could be drawn up and made ready for the Minister of Agriculture.

A letter was read from the Records office in respect to membership cards for 1939, and it was agreed to endorse the action of the Secretary in authorizing them to be printed.

A letter from Mr. Irving, Vancouver, was read together with a statement of costs in connection with the Special General Meeting held at Vancouver on August 12th. At this juncture a letter was read from the Club's legal adviser, and in consequence it was agreed to hold this matter in abeyance until Mr. Wright was in a position to advise the Directors concerning it.

Jubilee History

given the publicity which it deserved. We refer of course to "Major Oak Perfection", who was later known as "Lucknow Lottery". This dog came out at the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Show in 1920 under judge Mr. Arthur Garrick, and went from novice to winners. The 'wiseacres' shook their heads in mournful fashion, and Mr. Garrick's decisions were criticized and ridiculed with an irritating frankness. The critics just couldn't see anything in the little invader from the "Peg", but here is what followed immediately afterwards. In 1921 the dog went to winners at Nassau County Kennel Club, at Devon, Poughkeepsie, North Shore, Rhode Island, Fairfield, Delaware, the Bronx and at Englewood. Then in 1922 our Canadian-bred cocker hero won Best Sporting Dog—All Breeds at Westminster, Winners at Morris County, Best in Show—All Breeds at Mineola (587 dogs), Long Island, Moston, Patterson, Tuxedo. Specialty Show at Boston gave him Best Sporting Spaniel (106 dogs), 1923 he won the honors at the New York Specialty Show, Best Sporting Spaniel at Westminster again, Best Sporting Spaniel at Belmont Park, Best Sporting—All Breeds at Long Island and at Mineola again, Best Sporting Spaniel. During his show career "Major Oak Perfection" (Lucknow Lottery), came under Messrs. W. T. Payne, H. E. Mellenthin, F. Neilson, Townsend Scudder, Dr. H. B. Kobler, Macy Willets, Mrs. Halcy Fiske, Dr. John de Mund, Howard Garden, etc., etc. The dog was bred by Mr. Jack Sutton, Winnipeg, and it is a pleasure to record this belated tribute to a worthy dog, we have had other Canadian dogs that have built up wonderful show backgrounds for themselves, many of these were imported from England and elsewhere, but this dog was a Canadian-bred.

The year ending December 31st, 1923, found that from a bank balance carried forward from 1922, of $10,202.42 there came to be added an income of $25,071.08 which made a total of $35,273.50, and on February 21st, 1924, Col. McFarland recommended the investing of a portion of the Club's funds in Canadian Government Bonds, and the Directors very promptly passed a resolution embodying the Colonel's recommendation, and named Mr. Russell, Mr. Strachan and Col. McFarland a committee to look into the matter of investments with power to act. Truly the pangs of financial starvation were fast becoming the residue of an ugly nightmare. On March 20th, 1924, the "Committee on Investments" reported the purchase of Canadian National Railway 5% Bonds guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada Government, dated February 1st, 1924, and due February 1st, 1954, to the value of $10,000.00, the purchase price being 98½.

This chapter of our Club's history has been produced under a terrific handicap, and for its known lack of cohesion we crave our reader's indulgence.

more devoted to their gallant little black chum, and Nipper's presence pervaded the whole life and actions of the regiment.

Then, early in 1932, the once-tireless body began to falter. Age was coming on. Nobody knew how old Nipper had been when he attached himself to the "Straths" in 1923. But he had been no puppy, in those early days. And the cavalymen had to admit, among themselves, that he was now an OLD dog.

During spring months, he would sometimes neglect a parade or a visit to the sentries. This for the first time in his career. More and more, he missed his former self-imposed duties. And he slept a great deal. Then, one July morning, Nipper awoke, seemingly as vigorous and as gay as ever. From sunrise until noon, he jogged gaily about on his oldtime routine. At lunch time, he trotted into the mess kitchen. There he stood for a moment, wagging his tail. Then he tumbled to the floor, stone dead.

Do you wonder they buried him with full military honors?

AIREDALE NOTES

Although rumored for some time, verification of the following news arrived too late to be included in Mrs. Humphries' Airedale Notes.

Following the sale of Rockley Riot Act and Rockley Roasting Hot to United States breeders, Sid Perkins, owner of the Rockley Kennels, has just imported a new stud force for his kennels. He is Champion Eleanor's Prince Hal, by International Champion Merry Sovereign out of Eleanor's Dorothy, who is a daughter of International Champion Walnut Challenger. His recent show record in the United States includes winners dogs at Lennox, N.Y.; Hamilton, Mass.; and Bar Harbour, Maine; and best of breed at Charlotte, S.C.; Greensboro, Penn.; and Charleston, S.C. At present he is in Ted Ward's new kennels at Oakville being groomed for the Royal Winter Fair, the All-Terrier show and the Chicago show.

REVISED PRIZE SCHEDULE AT WINTER FAIR SHOW

Principal news emanating from the recently issued premium list of the National Kennel Club All-breed Show, in conjunction with the Royal Winter Fair on November 21, 22 and 23, is a revised schedule of prize monies which is claimed to be a great deal more fair than any system heretofore at this show. The old system was found to be economically sound up to an entry of four or five hundred dogs, but beyond that point prize money started to exceed revenue. In addition, it is claimed that the former system embodied a vicious principle that allowed breeds with small entries to take away as much prize money as those with larger entries, thus working a hardship for the breeds that best supported the show.

Under the new schedule, prize monies vary directly with the size of the entry, up to twelve dogs, and an additional prize of five dollars is offered for best of breed, in all breeds with an entry of five dogs (both sexes) or more. That the plan is being well received and that its essential fairness is being recognized by breeders is well proven by the number of applications for entry forms from both Canada and the United States and the volume of advance entries being received at the Royal Winter Fair office. Competent judges have been appointed for the show. Their identity is shown in the advertisement of the National Kennel Club in this issue.

LINTOX

Although wrongly spelled in the September issue of Kennel and Bench, the correct name of Sherley's popular distemper remedy is Lintox, rather than Lintex.

Healthy Puppies

are the ones that get a good start

And LACTOL gives them that good start! When mixed with water, this powder becomes the equal of mother's milk. It contains an extra proportion of Vitamin D, which a puppy won't get if allowed to eat the wrong kind of food—particularly sweets and starchy human foods, often given to young pups in mistaken kindness.

For the first few weeks after he has left his mother, feed a pup LACTOL, and continue longer if it seems desirable. Then he will grow up strong and sturdy, with good bones and teeth. Use it for conditioning the mother too, and for all adult dogs as a drink in the morning instead of meat and vegetables.

LACTOL is used by the foremost kennels and fanciers in England. For sale in Canada at department stores, drug stores and dog shops. If you can't find any locally, write to the Canadian Agents, Ralph W. Barton & Co., Limited, 137 Wellington St., West, Toronto.

Sherley's Famous line includes:
 Sherley's Tonic and Condition
 Powders.
 Sherley's Mange Remedy.

THESE THREE . .

A dog looks well only when he feels well—his outside is a mirror to his inside. Take a look at these three—sparkling eyes, gleaming teeth, cold, black noses—have you ever seen three dogs look better?

SPRATT'S DOG FOOD is the reason for their tip-top condition, for SPRATT'S is prepared after a careful study of every canine feeding need—a study extended to sizes, breeds and even temperament.

How about YOUR dog? Do you feel he lacks that indefinable something which separates champions from also-rans. If so, it's certain sure it's SPRATT'S he's missing.

Try him on SPRATT'S delicious hard-tack diet. He'll enjoy it and do himself the world of good at the same time.
