CH. SAINTS REST HIGHLAND QUEEN

Another champion has been added to the list of those produced from Saints Rest stock.

Formal confirmation of "Saints Rest Highland Queen's" Canadian Championship has recently been received by the Schellings.

She was sired by their famous "Easter Parade", and her dam was "Highland Missy", a female who is almost equally as strong in producing ancestry as that great stud, thus proving again the soundness of Saints Rest scientific breeding practice.

Queenie's outstanding awards include Best of Winners at one of the Toronto Boston Terrier Club annual Specialty shows, and the winning of the Non-Sporting Group at the Toronto Canine Breeders' show of last year.

In between her show appearances, she found time to have a few litters, and demonstrated her abilities as an excellent brood as well as a kind and considerate foster-mother. Her full litter sister is Saints Rest Highland Missy, a splendid show female with points, owned by Roy McKay of Halifax, N.S., and her half-sister, bred to Easter Parade produced Edalice's Easter Parade Bekon (owned by Mrs. Winters of Niagara Falls, N.Y.), a male who is awaiting confirmation of his C.K.C. Championship.

Origin of Sporting Dogs By Alva McColl

In the days of the Ancient Romans three main groups of dogs were recognized—the Celeres, the coursing or Greyhound type dogs; the Pugnaces, the fighting dogs; and the Sagaces, the hunting dogs. Tradition has it that the Sagaces dogs originated in Greece and it is quite possible that these cultured people did develop the Spaniel type of dog although the very name suggests Spain. The earliest record is dated 1387 and in 1406 a writer informs us that a Spaniel must not be too rough and describes the way these dogs work, going ahead of their master, tails wagging, raising and starting fowl and other wild beasts. It is quite likely that at that time there was no distinction between Spaniels. The Spaniel played several parts in catching game. He was used to drive up the game and send it into the traps or nets. In using the nets the dogs scenting ability was used to trace the birds, and in the early days these birds were not nearly so afraid of man with the result that the hunters were able to approach much closer. The hawk was used to make the birds hide whereupon the net was placed over the crouching dog and the birds to which it was pointing. The crouching position of the dog led them to be called sitting dogs or setting dogs. It seems altogether possible then that our present day Spaniels, Pointers and Setters originally came from one family; the Spaniel who first "pointed" to his game and then "set".

It is not until 1790 that we find mention of Springers and Cockers, although in the early part of the seventeenth century we find mention of Land Spaniels and Water Spaniels. The Springer was used for springing game and the Cocker, a much smaller dog, was used to work for woodcock in the tangled undergrowth where the larger dog could not penetrate cautiously. By 1800 we find the two classes well established—the Springer, a large and graceful dog, and the Cocker.

The Clumber Spaniel, a special type kept by the Duke of Newcastle at his seat Clumber, in Nottingham, was quite possibly an Alpine Spaniel, a slower dog which may have given credence to the story that the Duke in his old age needed a slower Spaniel and because of this produced the Clumber.

Changes in sporting procedure—the replacement of the net and the improvement in the gun brought about the popularity of the Pointer. This dog worked slowly and cautiously allowing the hunter time to get prepared. He had time to examine the charge and the gun-lock and could half raise the gun to the shoulder while the birds, aware of the approach of the dog, cowered in the underbrush hoping to escape attention. These dogs did not attempt to catch the game but rather, when they became aware of it, stood quite still.

When guns had been further improved, the sportsman no longer needed so much time and the slow work of the Pointer became a handicap. A faster dog was necessary to chase around to find the game and then point. The Spaniel, unless well trained is a bustling dog and crossed with the Pointer has probably given us the Setter. In this day we have three well-known types of this breed—the Irish, English and Gordon. The Irish Setter is well-known for its capable workmanship and is reputed to be the most intelligent. It has remarkable powers of endurance but because it ranges further than other members of its family it is less under control and needs more breaking. The origin of the Gordon Setter is unknown but it is said to have been descended from the Irish Setter. Various other breeds have been suggested as having been introduced to produce the Gordon, including Bloodhounds, Collies and even a Sheep-dog. The English Setter depicted in illustrations around 1800 is a handsome dog, strongly built, well proportioned and powerful. Apparently it was a well established breed at that time for it was known as the Old English Setter. It was used extensively in pheasant and partridge shooting.

A story on hunting dogs would be far from complete were no mention made of Retrievers. There are today a number of varieties—the flat coated or smooth coated Retriever, the curly coated Retriever, the Labrador, the Yellow and the Golden Retriever. Their name typifies the work they do; they accompany the sportsman and collect the game he has brought down. In fact at first the word Retriever did not indicate a breed but rather the duty such dogs performed. They possibly sprang from the Newfoundland dogs brought to Europe when it was found that they were particularly successful in penetrating thick coverts. These dogs were comparatively small and strong and were of the Labrador Spaniel and lesser Labrador breed. That the name did not indicate a breed is evident from the words of many authorities who described the work done by such dogs as Terrier-Bulldog crosses and rough-haired Scotch Terriers and even Deerhounds. But the Labrador was given credit for being the best Retriever because of his marvellous intelligence and a Newfoundland crossed with a Setter made an excellent sporting dog for marshy country. The Labrador and the Setter were crossed to produce the flat-coated Retriever and Mr. L. P. C. Astley in Cassell's Book of the Dog suggests that the curly-coated Retrievers probably came about by Poodle cross with the Labrador.

After the Crimean war the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks became interested in some cream-colored dogs performing in a circus and purchased them. He found them useful tracking deer and retrieving game. Constant inbreeding reduced the vitality of these dogs and a search was conducted for dogs of this breed but with no success. Out-crosses had to be made and probably both Bloodhounds and Setters were used but the breed now known as the Golden Retriever was saved, the color remained constant and the type, a squarely-built, Collie-like dog, retained.

My Impressions at Guelph

By the Judge
Charles G. Hopton

of New York City, whose "Rodney" Kennels date back to 1887. Mr. Hopton came to America in 1893 to visit the World's Fair and later went into the Oriental rug business in New York City. He established his kennels at East Orange, N.J., where he bred smooth St. Bernards and Bulldogs. Mr. Hopton has been a representative for Our Dogs and American Field since 1898, as well as several other publications for shorter periods and for thirty-five years was an Associate Editor of The Spur. Descended from an old military family, his great-uncle, General Sir Edward Thomas Hopton, V.C., was Governor of the Isle of Jersey and Equerry to Queen Victoria. Mr. Hopton is an eminent judge of dogs and is the first from America to judge in England, Ireland, France and Germany.

Sincere greetings and the hope of a very successful year to all Canadian fanciers. Not having officiated at a Dominion show for some time and having been so favorably impressed with many exceptionally good Canadian-breds at the Guelph Show, on May 20th, may I express my impressions of same.

First, I most gratefully thank Mrs. Alva McColl for her self-imposed Herculean efforts as Steward and to Mr. Ted Williams for his support at the "loud-speaker". In all this was the most keenly contested show I have ever judged in the Dominion in my forty-odd years adjudicating north of the "Line". When it is said that several noted American champions were rightly beaten by Canadian-breds, and the final line-up of the six Group Winners were quite the equal of any show during the first four months of this year in United States, one feels justified in enthusing.

With kind memories of the huge crowds at the Exhibition dog shows, and the keen interest displayed, I am mystified why the Toronto papers do not give more space to dogs. It is no idle statement that no town, either in the dear old Dominion, or in the States, has so many profoundly sincere fanciers, be it dogs, pigeons, rabbits or cage birds as has Toronto. Hence the thought that if an interesting column, or two, reported the shows and club meetings, fanciers would cheerfully respond with advertising and subscriptions.

In my judging I tried to emphasize the importance of balance, marked breed characteristics and a natural pose. I realize that I am "galloping where angels might fear to tread" when criticizing this modern craze for "furnishings"—that is the fulsome amount of hair left on muzzle, front legs, and hind-quarters. Really it is well-nigh impossible to get an idea of power in muzzle, depth of chest, formation of feet. Many of the gun-dogs have a sort of "snowshoe" formation, rather than the much required depth of pad; while in Hindquarters, one's heart goes out in deep sympathy for one of the present day winners to go afield and run into deep cover. Such "furnishings" would indeed be a hindrance.

I hope my insistence on the Terriers being held on a fairly loose leash and allowed to approach each other showing aggressiveness, thus accentuating placement of ears, improving "Terrier" expression, shortening the body and bringing the tail into a natural pose did not offend. The mode of pressing the tail forward, mars topline and balance; the latter a paramount feature for no point should be carried to excess, thus marring balance.

On the Sunday following the show I had the pleasure of seeing the famed "Green Acre" Kennel of "Jones Terriers", owned by those ardent fanciers, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Case, famed authorities on horse and hound. What a study of evenness in type and marked breed characteristics! These veritable "Mulum in Parvos"—like "peas in a pod"—were the personification of gameness; such marked power in loins and quarters with pronounced first and second thighs and a decided turn at the stifles gave one the impression that all could enter a drain, yes, and back out again, it is to be hoped that classes will be made for this impressive Working Terrier at the shows.

I enthuse about the final line-up which contained the six Group winners; all were good enough to win so the "going" was indeed heavy. After a careful tryout for sound gait, then allowed to pose "au naturel", I awarded top honors to the American-owned Wire, Wynwire's Saddle, thus reversing the New York Terrier Specialty award, where the kennel mate, Wynwire's Snowflake, then a sensational puppy, won Best in Show. There was very little between them—the dog had a shade the best of it in texture of coat and quarters. There was an exceptionally good Cairn from the famed Cairndania Kennel, which won Best of Breed and a splendidly balanced and clearly colored Kerry Blue, all good enough to win Terrier groups. Gun dogs were led by a very typical and free moving black Cocker, Whirlaway of Irolita, closely pressed by a most impressive liver and white Springer, Donmar's Miss Meggy, still a puppy. When fully matured this really good debutante is apt to make history. Then came a very useful Irish Setter, Terry of Glenariff, somewhat short of coat, otherwise hard to fault being essentially "Irish" in head, with soundness at both ends and cleverly shown by the owner, Mrs. G. Rocomora.

Hounds were interesting with keen competition but the rare condition and marked type and soundness of the Borzoi, Krasna Boris of Radziwell, yet another typical champion to be shown by that ardent fancier, Mrs. Madge Cluxton, who has worked so sincerely for the breed won handily. Then came a very typical Afghan, Khyber El Myia, as truly Afghan as its name, in good coat and moving well, with a close race for third between a nicely balanced Beagle, Foster's Majorette, extra good in head, ears and expression with the best of feet and quarters and the Dachshunde Egyptian Sugar of Joyce. Apart from lack of development in middle-piece it was hard to fault this nicely topped and extra good headed Teckel which should mature into a real one.

The Working division was quite interesting with at least four good enough to win. However an exceptionally good black and tan Doberman Pinscher, Ch. Renco von Mannerheim, shown in perfect form, could not be denied. But it was no easy task in the breed for the two noted Westphalia champions, Raswan and Rameses, to whom I had awarded top honors at American shows were in good form but the winner scored in topline, condition and gait. Next came a very typical and sound coated black Newfoundland, Shelton Mermaid Queen, which with her well matched kennel mate, Sable Queen, won the Brace class. Then came a very sound, well balanced Bobtail from the noted Clearbrook Kennel and in close order a sound well-angulated German Shepherd, Churchill of Salmere was fourth.

It was pleasing to be able to place an old favorite breed, the Bulldog at the head of a nice Non-Sporting. Here again I insisted on a natural pose and hope that the improvement gained in expression with ears carried on a level with top of skull thus intensifying wrinkle and sour expression will prove an object lesson. This wrinkle and sour expression was clearly shown by the winner, El Torro Dusky Crusader, a massive dark brindle who, while not quite so well finished in face as the white dog, Piccadilly Imperiale, had the heavier bone and better body. There were several nice youngsters including a heavy sound fawn and a nice brindle

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

By Alva McColl

AM. CH. CZAR III OF GLENWILD

This Borzoi, owned by Mrs. Madge Cluxton, of Guelph, Ontario, was the first of his breed to win the C.D. and C.D.X., title. He accomplished this feat in 1939-1940.

Last month we gave the general and Novice Class rules as adopted by the members of the Canadian Kennel Club and this month we are continuing them with the C. D. X. Rules. Many fanciers who a short while ago belittled obedience are now among the most enthusiastic supporters. A meeting of the Obedience Test enthusiasts has been called for Monday, July 10th, at 8 p.m., in the Blue Room, at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto. All those interested are cordially invited to attend.

A dog shall be ineligible to compete in the Obedience Novice Class after having won the title of "C.D."

(Open Class A). The Obedience Open Class "A" shall be for dogs of any breed and of either sex which shall have won the title of "C.D." (Companion Dog) in Obedience Novice Classes. One dog only may be entered in this class by any one exhibitor, and may be shown only by said exhibitor or by a member of his immediate family. No professional handler or trainer, nor any kennel employee, shall be allowed to compete as exhibitor or otherwise.

(Open Class B). The Obedience Open Class "B" shall be for dogs of any breed and of either sex which shall have won the title of "C.D." (Companion Dog). Dogs in this class may be handled or exhibited by either an amateur or a professional. Exhibitors may enter more than one dog in this class, but each dog must have a separate handler. No dog may be entered in both Open Class "A" and Open Class "B" at any one trial.

The tests in the Obedience Open Class for each dog shall be:

1. To heel on leash.
2. To heel free.
3. To drop on recall.
4. To retrieve dumb-bell on the flat.
5. To retrieve dumb-bell over obstacle.
6. To make a long jump.
7. To sit for a period of three minutes.
8. To lie down for a period of five minutes.

In the event of and only in the event of there being less than six competitors in either the Open Class "A" or the Open Class "B" at an Obedience Trial, Test No. 7 (to sit) and No. 8 (to lie down) shall each be conducted with all the dogs in both Open Class "A" and Open Class "B" competing in the ring together at the same time.

The score of points for a perfect performance of each of these tests in the Obedience Open Class shall be:

- |                                |           |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| 1. Heel on Leash.....          | 25 points |
| 2. Heel free.....              | 40 points |
| 3. Drop on Recall.....         | 25 points |
| 4. Retrieve on Flat.....       | 30 points |
| 5. Retrieve over Obstacle..... | 40 points |
| 6. Long Jump.....              | 25 points |
| 7. Long Sit.....               | 35 points |
| 8. Long Down.....              | 30 points |

Maximum total score..... 250 points

3. Exercise one and two were explained in the Novice Trials (see June issue). To execute the recall to handler the dog is ordered to and must be made to stay in the "down" or sitting position at one end of the ring while his handler moves to the other end, and when the judge gives the order "Do the Recall", the handler calls his dog, which comes straight in to its handler at a smart pace. The dog is told to and at command drops as it is coming in, and then on command rises and continues on its way and when it reaches a point immediately in front of the handler, first sit, and next at command and/or signal go smartly to heel.

4. In retrieving dumbbell on the flat the dog should not move forward to retrieve nor deliver to hand on return until ordered by the handler. The retrieve should be executed at a fast trot or gallop without mouthing or playing with the object. After delivering the object from in front of handler the dog upon command should go to heel. The size of the dumb-bell may vary in proportion to the size of the dog. The weight of the dumb-bell for all breeds except the smaller breeds shall be about 16 oz., and for smaller breeds about 8 oz. The orders given by the judge in this test should be "Throw it", whereupon the handler throws the dumb-bell; "Send him," whereupon the handler sends his dog to retrieve; "Take it," whereupon the handler takes the dumb-bell from dog; "Finish", whereupon the handler gives the order to heel.

5. In retrieving dumb-bell over an obstacle the same four commands are used as in the "retrieve on the flat". The dog must jump the obstacle both going and returning. The obstacle or high jump shall be jumped clear and

COCKER SPANIELS

By A. Elsie Mayhew

A. ELSIE MAYHEW, born in Cookstown, the daughter of Dr. James Mayhew, veterinary surgeon. Dr. Mayhew had an extensive practice with hunting dogs and Miss Mayhew inherited her love of sporting dogs from him. She has always been interested in Spaniels and has bred Cockers from a practical and scientific viewpoint with the thought in mind that this breed is primarily a gun dog.

In asking me to prepare an article on Cocker Spaniels, I presume the Editor has in mind the old saying that experience teaches even foolish people. Certainly I can write from years of interest and devotion and the Cocker still remains with me as the "Dog". His lasting popularity makes him subject to many hazards. To lead in registrations both in United States and Canada for as long as he has; to occupy as many cover pages on magazines as he does; to be screened and photographed as he is shows definitely his place in the hearts of all types of people. But, alas, these very things make his breeding more hazardous if we are to consider his "standard of perfection".

Considering the shortage of paper, I think we can pass quickly over the early years of the breed—they were mentioned as early as 1387. Later Spaniels assumed a very wide variety of sizes, types and colors. In time they were separated into two groups, land and water Spaniels. Then the land group was separated as to size and the water group into English and Irish Water Spaniels. The Irish was supposed to include crosses with the Poodle, a dog that few people consider for the clever individual he is.

Large land Spaniels finally were divided into Springers, Sussex, Clumber and Norfolk. Smaller ones became Cockers and Toy Spaniels. Finally the Toys were taken from the Sporting Group entirely and put into Toys. Long ago size and weight seemed to be the only distinguishing feature. All animals seemed to be possessed of sufficient sporting instinct to allow their admission to Sporting classes. In 1883 in England classes for Cockers were listed in shows and in 1893 the English stud book admitted Cocker Spaniels.

Then the trouble started. The little beggar must have been just as engaging then and before many years breeders had him so built that his usefulness in the field had been reduced to nothing. He was a long, low, beautifully-coated pet, and his place had been taken by the Springer. However, Mr. Farrow, in 1879, brought the Cocker back again by producing Obo and definitely founded the American Cocker, weight 22 lbs., height 10", eye to nose,  $2\frac{1}{4}$ ", nose to occiput  $7\frac{1}{4}$ " and length overall 29". Compare that, breeders, with what we have today and remember that Mr. Farrow worked as he did for the one reason of bringing the Cocker Spaniel back to the Sporting Group.

The writer feels very keenly that Cocker breeders fail to keep this thought in view. They apparently capitalize on the winsome winning ways of the little fellow and forget his classification. The standard of perfection fades away and we see an affectionate, appealing-eyed, tail-wagging, faithful soul in most any kind of a body. His popularity makes him saleable and the almighty dollar robs him of his right to remain a group No. 1 Sporting dog.

Our Mr. Norman Brown published some years ago a most interesting set of "family trees" from the Obo strain. The Cocker fancy should be very grateful to him—American magazines and clubs paid tribute to his energy—because it was possible through this to follow the change in form of the Cocker.

A Cocker is limited to certain game by his size and that game is hunted in certain cover which requires the certain size. So many individuals forget all this when they breed. They do not think that Group No. 1 Sporting dogs Cocker Spaniels Class requires an animal that must be such a height to the withers to enable him to clear certain obstacles or hazards; that his front legs must be straight and set under him by well-shaped flat shoulder blades that must be tapered to meet; that his neck must be long enough to let his nose to the ground; that his ears be long enough to entrance his hearing but not long enough to hinder his running; that his eyes be placed so that when his nose is down for scenting he sees straight ahead; that he has a rib spread sufficient to let his lungs work; that his body be sufficiently short coupled to be strong and that his hind legs be so built as to give him driving power.

I repeat again that the personal appeal of the Cocker has been his greatest hazard. We have drifted back and forth. Hunters can't be bothered with our attractive lap dog types. Individual owners care only for appeal—breeder (so-called) care only for the dollars. One thing remains—the pride of possession and two places remain where your opinion of your dogs can be vindicated; the Dog Show and the Field Trial. I still maintain that the same individual should be able to stay tops in each place and I believe that more people are thinking that way.

Several months ago this magazine published a very worthy article by Mr. W. A. Price re the new standard adopted by the American Kennel Club. I sincerely hope every Cocker Breeder in the C.K.C., read it. Color and weight appear to be the principal differences over there. At the annual C.K.C. meeting the motion to establish point rating for Reds was defeated here. This may be important but let us first breed a Sporting Group No. 1 Cocker Spaniel—a bold, fearless, free-moving dog and we shall be rewarded every minute he lives.

Dear Dad,—

The skies are clearing over here,
The sun is breaking thru'.
And soon I'll be back home again
To the kids and Mum and you.

So put my gun togs out to air
And give my dogs a run—
Out where the game scents fresh
And warm, from the body of Quail and Hun.

I long to breathe fresh air again
And hear the "Honkers" call;
I'm tired of the stench of powder and flesh
And all the sights that appall.

So get my gun dog's nose warmed up
And leave him start to roam.
So he'll brush away the cobwebs,
For soon I'm coming home.

Common Sense Judging By Maxwell Riddle

At the London International Show, the editor of Dogs in Canada asked me if I would write something about Sporting Dogs and Hounds. She left it to me whether it would be a critique of the dogs I saw at London, or some subject of my own choosing.

The quality of the dogs was quite high, and I think the Hound Group would have graced any show in North America. However, I do not propose to write a critique since, for the most part, I tried to give the reasons for my decisions in the ring, while the dogs were still present.

Yet, using certain nameless dogs which did appear before me, I would like to give you some of the considerations which seem important to me as a sporting dog judge.

I believe there is too great a tendency among judges to condemn dogs for minor faults, rather than to look for the true quality of each dog. Perhaps this is a psychology inherited by judges from their breeding days, when they felt it necessary to snipe at competitors.

And then too, we tend to over emphasize certain points at the expense of over all quality. Lastly, it seems to me that many breeders and judges alike are ignorant of the original purposes of their breeds. Thus, many important attributes of a Sporting Dog or Hound are forgotten.

The Cocker Spaniel of today is one of the most beautiful of all dogs. But, in developing a very full, prominent (if beautiful) eye, and a fantastically heavy coat and feather, breeders seem to have forgotten that the Cocker was meant to be a briar and water dog.

Exhibitors sometimes express amazement when I attach importance to a dry lip in a Setter or Springer. And yet a dry lip is a very fine attribute for retrieving dogs, since fewer feathers stick in the dog's mouth. Also, many droolers appear to me to be more nervous than is desirable.

I told a Springer exhibitor—and meant it—that while I could wish his dog had a darker eye, dogs will not hunt by eye color. Since this dog and another were approximately equal in quality otherwise, I put this lighter eyed dog down. But to me, it was a minor fault only.

How much more important it is that Sporting dogs and Hounds have deep pads, clean and sound bone, and rhythmic gait! That their legs have drive and reach!

A lovely Irish Setter came into the ring and I immediately tabbed it as too straight behind. But something in me demanded that I prove it. So I gaited this dog, observing from the side. His hind feet over-drove the front—an indication that this dog had better than average drive, and that there were compensating factors involved.

That is what I mean by condemning dogs undeservedly. A well angulated stifle may mean more reach than is true with the straight stifle on the whole, but it is by no means always true.

Similarly a Beagle came in the ring which I immediately tabbed as being too heavy or "loaded" in the shoulders. But as I kept studying the class, something kept asking me IS HE loaded in shoulder.

I made every check I could of this dog's shoulder and front leg structure. The dog moved true in front. Viewed from the side, the dog also moved true. Some would have condemned him for being too wide. And yet his front action was perfect, and his hind motion in no way interfered with his front.

I therefore considered that other things being equal, I had no justifiable reason for turning this dog down. I told the owner, and the other owners in the ring, how I felt. The owner of this dog then said he had been "running the dog".

A classic error along this line once occurred at Morris & Essex. A noted all-rounder turned down a whippet champion, saying she was loaded in the shoulder, and that anyway this dog didn't have proper running gear. The previous day, the dog had won two heats at the races, running close to world's record time. She simply was in running condition.

Here was a dog who was condemned purely because she didn't fit into a judge's idea. He turned her down without checking to see whether or not she actually was faulty.

Viewed from behind, one long-haired dog appeared to move forward in correct manner. But viewed from the side, it was evident that the dog's left hind leg actually was thrown out of line and set down in a manner which would be ruinous to a coursing Hound.

Again and again I hear someone speak in horror of a dog as being too throaty. I always want to ask "what of it?" Throatiness is an obvious mark to beauty. But I never heard of it keeping a dog from winding its game.

If because I have added the dogs up approximately even, one is to go down because of throatiness, then I believe in telling the owner why his dog is losing. And also I believe he should know that I count it a minor fault, and that personally I would be proud to own a dog with nothing more seriously wrong with him than that.

When I do this in the ring, time passes swiftly, and superintendents begin to complain that I am taking up too much time. And several people have told me I ought to be able to make my choices while the dogs are swinging about the ring, after their first entrance. "Your going over them is just to verify what you've already seen," they say.

But I have found that a close study of the dogs, somewhat as outlined above, has brought a radical change in placings. And while I'm the first one to admit that I have, and do, and probably always will make mistakes, I think I make fewer this way.

Growth of Field Trials

By Lloyd Courtice

Like a rolling snowball that grows larger with every turn, the sport of running Beagles in field trials has come up through the years. As its ranks swelled with the influx of new followers, the sport increased accordingly in importance, surpassing even the most optimistic expectations of its early supporters. Rich in the qualities that draw sportsmen, field trials could not help but climb to the significant position they hold in the world of sports today. And what of the future? With the record of the great progress made during the past fifty-two years as a guide, it appears safe to predict field trials will not stop climbing until they have reached the very highest rung of the sports ladder. Already ranking with the topmost sports in United States, it no doubt will have the same rating in Canada in a very few years. The field trial game is second to none in promise for the future. Owners of Beagles, previously limited to a few fall hunting trips, found the shortened shooting seasons far too confining for their favorite recreation.

That a number of Beagle owners have not joined the field trial movement is due, not to a dislike for the sport but to the fact that they have not been introduced to field trials. Who has never listened to a hunter extol the virtues of the Hounds he guns over and laud to the skies the promising puppies which grace his unimposing backyard kennel? The sole reason that many of these enthusiasts are not seen in front of the judges when the order to "put 'em down" is given is that they have not been granted a taste of the sport. Possibly quite a few of them are unaware that local clubs are running both spring and fall stakes within easy driving distance of their homes. Local clubs, springing up like mushrooms in every section of the country, have brought the sport within easy reach of everyone gifted with a Beagle and enough interest to put it through a period of training. Sportsmen who are using their Hounds exclusively for hunting will prove a welcome addition to the field trial fraternity.

Beagle field trials, as a sport in the United States, were inaugurated in 1890 with the trials of the National Beagle Club held at Hyannis, Mass. The National was the only club to function until 1893 when field trials were also held by the Northwestern Beagle Club at Whitewater, Wis., and the New England Beagle Club, of Oxford, Mass. The field trial held at Hyannis in 1890 had an entry of three in the 13" female class. Today there are frequently seventy-five in this same class. The first Canadian Field Trial was held at Ojibway, near Windsor, in 1916, by the Canadian National Beagle Club. They are still holding very successful trials, as well as clubs at London, Hamilton, Oshawa and Montreal. Canadian Beaglers also attend trials in United States, especially in Michigan and New York.

So many erroneous ideas prevail among those not familiar with the sport that an explanation of what happens at the trials may be of use to owners of good Beagles who hold back because of lack of information. Many believe it is necessary that they be a member of a club holding trials in order to compete. This is not so. No clubs holding fall field trials restrict their entries to members. At all sanctioned or licensed trials and member trials, the entry is open to all. A proposed rule now being considered will limit the entry to Hounds registered, or eligible, with the C.K.C. Classes at most trials consist of two derby stakes, four all-age stakes both being divided to size, 13" and 15", with both dogs and females running together. There must be six starters in the all-age stakes before the class may be divided by sex. Derby stakes are open to Hounds born on or after January 1st the year preceding the stake.

Before Hounds are entered at a trial it is best to inform the secretary of your intention so that the Hound may be recorded and measured in advance of the drawing which is usually a few minutes before the start of the running or at trials with a large entry the evening before the start of the class. Either the judges or the measuring committee will measure the Hound so that it may be entered in the proper class. The height of a Beagle is determined by measuring its height across the highest point of the shoulder blades with the Hound standing in a natural position with its feet well under it. Hounds measuring thirteen inches and under compete in the thirteen-inch class while those over thirteen and not exceeding fifteen inches are commonly referred to as fifteen inches. Hounds measuring thirteen inches or under are not eligible to compete in the fifteen-inch class. Derbies are not given championship points unless they win first in all-age classes for derby classes carry no points.

For the draw, all of the Hounds entered are designated by name or number on slips of paper which are placed in a container and mixed, a disinterested person drawing the slips one at a time. The first name drawn becomes the first Hound in the first brace, the second name drawn, is the second in the first brace. This is repeated until all of the names have been drawn and the running starts. If an odd number have been entered the last Hound is called the "bye". A Hound is selected by the judges to compete with the bye in the last brace or another name is drawn as the brace mate for the bye—determined by the club rules governing this point.

The Hounds are taken to the field with the first two hounds drawn running as the first brace. Approximately one-half hour is given each brace under

ENGLISH SETTERS

By Frank Fallis

For the benefit of the English Setter Breeders in Ontario, that are producing top show and field stock, I would like to take this opportunity of pointing out a few of the leading males. Time does not permit of my securing the names of our Western and Eastern dogs, for the benefit of the breeders at and near our coast, but I may, however, add, that the names can be secured from the Directors of the Kennel Club in your province.

For the benefit of the novice: You should first ensure that the dogs are registered, also, that you are after bench or field stock when breeding and that the female has good background on both the dam and sire side, after which select only the top dog for the mating. If this is done you will then have an excellent start for your kennel.

For the top dog of the day in Canada I would select that grand old showman, Pal of Maridor, owned by Mr. Bethune L. Smith, of Toronto. Pal is a strapping, large Orange Belton, whelped in 1936 at the Maridor Kennels. The name of Maridor is an instinctive go ahead sign to any breeder in the English Setter Class. Pal is sired by that great stud dog, Rummey Stagboro, out of a beautiful female, Lakelands Nymph. Breeding such as this is a credit to any kennel. Out of eleven times shown in Canada, Pal was Best of Breed ten times; Best in Group four times, and finished as Best in Show three times, which is an excellent record. However, Mr. Smith never permitted this dog to be shown for points in Canada, this in order to give other dogs the opportunity of becoming champions.

Major of Caledon, owned by Hugh G. Guthrie, of Guelph, Ont., is a Blue Belton; the first son of Pal of Maridor out of Ch. Sally of Glen Grove, and is not unlike his sire. Major of Caledon has produced some very fine show stock—one son being a Best in Show and a Best Canadian-Bred in Show. The stock from Major is also excellent for shooting dogs; one of the best for small females was whelped in 1940.

Mike of Stagboro, owned by Fred Rife, of Toronto, an Orange Belton, sired by Rummey Stagboro, out of Knoll Croft Wally, whelped in 1939, was one of the best for a small female and, if correctly mated, can produce very worthwhile stock. Mike is also producing some excellent shooting dogs, and it is my considered opinion that he is well worth a breeder's interest.

Sig of Blue Bar, owned by A. F. C. Archambault, of Montreal, I find, has been sold again; in this instance to the Southern States. Sig, shown by Mr. Archambault soon became an International Champion and has also sired some very worthwhile puppies for his owner; two males, Big Boy of Bourbon, an Orange Belton; also Sir Roger of Bourbon, a Blue Belton, out of that grand female Int. Ch. Doris of Blue Bar. These two males, whelped March, 1943, will, undoubtedly produce some very good stock; both as well flecked and have ample size and good bone, having an excellent background in breeding.

In closing, I would like to say that there are several other good males in Ontario, but, as the owners decline to bring them out, I find it impossible to mention them as to value as stud dogs, or to recommend their lines as stock. It is my hope that these few notes will be of some value in the future to Novice and Breeder alike, in building up their stock. I find that the average female is smaller and the construction generally too fine, thus a good large sire is required to build up our English of today.

HIGH CLIFF KING PIN,

an English Setter bred and owned by Mr. Frank Fallis of Toronto. This dog won Best Canadian-bred in Show, All Breeds, at the Canine Breeders and Exhibitors Association Dog Show last Fall.

PERSONALITIES

High Cliff Kingpin, an English Setter, bred and owned by Mr. Frank Fallis, of Toronto, owes his life to the intuition of his mother, Starry Light of Myia. Two years ago Mr. Fallis' brand new kennels were burned and sixteen dogs were lost including Am. Ch. Maewyd Windy, owned by Mr. A. C. F. Archambault, Montreal. The night before the tragedy Starry Light of Myia, then in whelp refused to go in the kennels. Nothing could induce her to go and finally since it was a lovely warm night, Mr. Fallis decided to let her spend the night in the kennel run. At three o'clock in the morning the kennels were burned to the ground and Starry Light was the only one saved.

Mr. Heppleston is of the opinion that all the bad men are not in Europe. At the Guelph Show someone emptied the gasoline out of his car leaving sufficient to get about five miles out of town. Although Dick has passed the three-score mark he is sure he would have had the strength on that lonely stretch of road to incapacitate the thief.

The Free French Committee, Toronto Branch, recently held a raffle for the benefit of the French relief. A Cocker Spaniel, Libre Dore, donated by Mrs. D. Brown, and won by Mrs. George Knight, of Toronto, was the outstanding prize of the evening.

International Champion Rana of Chaman, owned by Marion Foster Florshiem, Darien, Connecticut, swept through the shows on the Texas Circuit recently, winning all Best of Breeds, placing in all groups and winning four, and garnered top honor by going Best in Show, at Waco, Texas. Rana is now home for a good rest. This grand dog was imported from Ireland a few years back and has done much to pioneer his breed throughout Canada and United States.

Visitors to the Toronto Kennel Club and Canadian National Exhibition Dog Shows found a friend in Peter Herd, of Cocker Spaniel fame. Superintending a dog show requires much tact and patience but Mr. Herd was able to maintain his tranquil attitude. He has now been promoted to the position of deputy chief of the Toronto Fire Department, after thirty-eight years' of service.

Mr. W. A. Harris, of the Hargrove Kennels of Miniature Pinschers, has been making a lot of sales lately. Hargrove Chox, a six months' old chocolate male has been sold to E. J. Trojand, Windsor, Ont. Mr. Trojand is so satisfied he wants a female so he can begin breeding. Hargrove Gay Boy, by Am. Ch. Skipper of Geddesburg ex Toots of Geddesburg, another male pup, has been sold to Dr. Wilfred Shute, of Guelph. Dr. Shute is already schooling

MRS. WILSON WYLIE of Vinlands, Ont. Her many friends in the dog fancy will regret to hear of her passing. In her Cairndhu Kennels she bred some outstanding Pomeranians and in thirty-one consecutive years at the Westminster Kennel Club Show her dogs were always in the awards. Mrs. Wylie was also a member of the Canadian Kennel Club since 1908

the puppy for the Fall shows and has reserved a female puppy out of Freya von Rochsburg's next litter. A female pup out of Freya's last litter, Hargrove Dancer 2nd, has been sold to Mr. Allan Lester, of Ottawa. Mr. Lester is still going to High School but has his mind set on raising dogs and has chosen Miniature Pinschers. When he is through his schooling, he intends to establish a fair-sized kennel.

Mrs. Gertrude Drew, of the Wildair Kennels of Irish Setters, reports a litter of fourteen puppies sired by Trademark of Wildair on D-Day. On the same day news was received of the transfer of her son, Petty Officer Writer Douglas Drew, R.C.N.V.R., to Windsor, Ontario.

Mr. W. J. Risewick, President of the Canadian Kennel Club has not shown a dog since taking office in the C.K.C. However, he formerly owned and bred some remarkably fine English Bulldogs and was asked to judge this breed at Fairfield County Kennel Club, at Westport, Conn., on June 18th. Although the thermometer rose to 90 degrees, one of the largest Bulldog entries of the year was on hand, a fine tribute to the judge from Canada.

According to Mr. T. Donnelly, of Bartonville, owner of the Whippet that took Best in Show, at Hamilton, there is a prize of one hundred dollars offered for the fastest Whippet in Canada. This prize and the glory that goes with it should give an added impetus to Whippet racing.

Dr. Wilfred Shute, of Guelph, has reason to be proud of the Doberman Pinschers he has bred. Out of four litters he has set a record. The first litter produced Ch. Adam v. Mannerheim, who won Best in Group at Winnipeg last Fall. The second litter produced Ch. Barbel v. Mannerheim, who took Best in Show at the 1942 Winnipeg Show. This year Ch. Renco v. Mannerheim won Best in Group and Best Canadian Bred in Show at Guelph. The latest to score is Eric v. Mannerheim, who got Best of Winners at Winnipeg, being defeated by the ultimate Best in Show, Ch. Clive v. Rupprecht-heim.

Mrs. Ole Lindland, of the Don Karin Skye Kennel, Lowell, Ore., has purchased Grey Girlie of Talisker, from Mrs. Percy Adams, of Westmount, Que. This makes Mrs. Lindland's sixth Talisker for show and breeding stock. Grey Girlie will be sent on her way as soon as she has weaned her June litter.

Said to have been the finest Skye of all time, the stud and show dog, Ballochmyle Jock, of the late Lady Rachel Alexander's Kennels, was lost overboard in mid-ocean, a very great loss to the whole Skye fancy.

Mrs. F. Luke, of the Stocktonian Kennels, hopes to have some new bloodlines in her Pekingese soon. Stocktonian Mar Jar Rie, who won Best of Winners, at the age of seven months, was purchased by Mr. John B. Royce, of New York. Mr. Royce will breed this smart Canadian-bred to one of his top dogs and a puppy will be shipped to the Stocktonian Kennels.

Jack Fry, of Halifax, has now returned to the active part of the dog shows, as a handler. A breeder and exhibitor for many years, Mr. Fry was instrumental in campaigning many American dogs to their championship while a resident of United States. One of the outstanding ones was a Springer Spaniel, Belmoss Rose Bud, owned by H. Placy, of Sherbrooke, Que. Mr. Fry was a Director of the Canadian Kennel Club for two years and is well-known as a judge both in Canada and United States.

The Peel County Kennel Club is honoring the memory of the late J. D. Strachan, former secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Kennel Club, by donating a trophy for his favorite breed, the Shetland Sheepdog, at their show on August 12th.

George Getty, of Quarrybrae Kennels, entered four dogs at a recent show. He May 24th saw the first point show of the season on the mainland of British Columbia for the year 1944, put on by the International Kennel Club, preceded by two on Vancouver Island in Victoria. These shows have all had good entries and drawn large crowds, much credit is due their clubs. In Vancouver, on May 24th, the gate was especially large, although this show usually does not draw a large attendance of both exhibitors and spectators. It was held at the Horticultural Hall, on 41 Avenue and Fraser, where in recent years most of their shows have been held owing to the difficulty of obtaining suitable buildings.

All breeds were well represented, there being an excellent entry. Mr. A. W. Forbes, of Tacoma, U.S.A., judged the Working Dogs, all Terriers, Sporting Hounds, Non-Sporting, Best Canadian-Bred dog in Show and Best Dog in Show. Mr. W. R. Willgress, of Vancouver, B.C., did all Sporting Dogs except all Cockers, Best Novice Bred in Canada and shown by a novice exhibitor. Mr. Harry Arnold, Vancouver, B.C., all Cockers, American and English and Best Puppy Bred in Canada, and your writer did all Toys and Best Novice Dog from the U.S.A.

ALBERTA NOTES

By H. P. Saunders

We regret the passing of Mr. Bob Brand, of Staveley, Alberta, one of the most noted dog fanciers of his day. The late Mr. Brand was only interested in the utility side of Dogs and certainly knew the intricate points when it came to training, conditioning and putting his dogs down in good shape.

Many times have I mentioned that Grand Old Man of Western Canada, A. P. Patrick, of Calgary. Mr. Patrick is now around and again greeting his many friends after his confinement in the hospital caused by breaking his hip.

I attended the Winnipeg show last month and had the extreme pleasure of meeting some of the elite in the dog game.

Mr. A. F. Picard, so well known in St. Bernard circles, all over the continent; his dogs did more to advertise Western Canada, especially Winnipeg, coupled with my friend Chevrier, and Carl Tangstad and the late Tom Johnson; they were in themselves a source of advertising that made people really know there was a place like Winnipeg. Today's exhibitors are doing their share, but it took these fellows to reach out and really go places.

Showing her dad's dog, Four Winds General Monty, Mrs. Caruso, the Peke specialist, had a grand exhibit, and as usual carried off a great many prizes.

It certainly was a great pleasure to again meet Mr. Dargie who is doing so much to keep up the interest in Irish Terriers. His dogs were put down in grand shape and certainly showed well. N. J. Dinnen, one of Winnipeg's most outstanding citizens and an ardent Cocker fan attended this show.

Sam Saidman, another Cocker pillar, brought in a very typey Cocker that will be heard from, I do wish he had placed this one in competition. I would like to own it.

Mrs. Einfield, a Cocker fan, always accounts for many wins and her dogs were to the front at this fixture.

Frank Gorth and Whiteside did not exhibit at this show. I was very sorry for I did want to look their stuff over. I think it is a bad mistake not to take in all shows as many want to see the good ones and they advertise your kennels best when at the shows.

Alex Gostick, the Manitoba director, was busy showing dogs and I was very much impressed with his young Setter dog; given a little more development and Blue Dan of Trondheim will make a name for himself.

Geo. Kynoch, a handler deluxe and a judge of all breed without a peer, was on hand. How he manages to do all the work assigned to him I cannot understand for he is working from dawn to almost dawn again and then some. He certainly must have marvellous endurance.

Dr. French, of Saskatoon, one of our very best dog fanciers, brought her Airedale down to the show. Take the Dr. out of the picture and really her place simply can't be filled.

Pat Randall from Saskatoon was busy handling her many charges fresh from judging Victoria Show and getting ready to officiate at Port Arthur.

Corporal Bill Nixon made a great hit handling many dogs. Bill is very popular and well versed in the art. I understand he did a great job judging one of Winnipeg's recent shows.

Mrs. Currie, of Bulldog fame, takes in all the shows with her much admired dogs and owns some of the very best. Mrs. Wade is really one of the very finest, and she certainly spends her hard earned money to get the very best Scotties. Her latest acquisition, Kinclaven Kismet, went Best of Breed. He has a marvellous body and will do the fanciers a lot of good in Western Canada. Mrs. Pateman was on hand with her lovely Cockers put down in marvellous shape. Mrs. Pateman has a name to be conjured with when it comes to Springers. Mrs. Pettigrew confines her activities to Cockers and she really gets the very best. Like the others she takes in the outside shows and exhibits fearlessly and always does well.

I was pleased indeed to again meet my old friend Tick Coleman, the Doberman fancier. Tick knows the good ones and he is a grand sport.

I want to tell you when it comes to executive ability you have to hand it to Mrs. Bob Simpson, she had her work as Secretary well in hand and was so pleasant all the time, she kept things working efficiently all the way through. I wish there were more like her at the shows. Her husband is, and has always been, one of the continent's best Cocker fanciers and their stock has been sold everywhere. Joe Valente needs no introduction. He has made a name to be envied when it comes to Bostons.

Mrs. Cove, of English Setter fame, was a very interesting spectator; her stock is already famous and she is always so willing to help with her grand advice. Just watch her expression when the English Setters are in the ring. I think she is one of the most outstanding authorities on English Setters. I do hope that after the war she will go in for English Setters on a larger scale.

Bill Chadderton, the good looking

President of the Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club, told me that they had something like twelve hundred dollars to the good after the first day so they must have finished with a good cash surplus. I hope to see the day when each Kennel Club owns its building and equips it with the most modern benching.

Our next show will be held at Regina, Saskatchewan, and Capt. Will Judy has been selected to judge all breeds. No man should be better qualified for he has written so many excellent articles on all breeds and he has studied dogs from every angle. Calgary was indeed fortunate to secure his services for the forthcoming show in September.

Medicine Hat, under the careful guidance of Bill Armstrong, plans a show for Labor Day. More about this later.

Calgary will follow with their show, sponsored by the Elks, then the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club will hold their show immediately after Calgary, so come along and bring as many entries as you possibly can.

We were indeed pleased to have Mrs. T. H. McGuire, of Hamilton, Ontario, with us in Winnipeg, she brought along two very promising Kerry Blues. I do hope she will make it a point to take in all the Western shows.

M. Anna Johnson, of Calgary, entertained the Prize Committee, June 13, and we are pleased to report that a very special list of prizes has already been procured for Calgary's forthcoming show, so we are looking ahead to a bumper entry.

SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

By Lyla Semple

I am afraid I owe the Saskatchewan members an apology for the hurriedly written letters I have sent to Dogs in Canada during the last two months, but folks, the Provincial election is over, we were victorious and now attention to dog news again.

Mr. W. A. Childs, of Saskatoon, sent me this news. He says, "Molly of Windsor has been bred to Miss Mayhew's Whirlaway of Irolita. The puppies were expected in early June. He also booked Nonquit Sweet Marie and another Try Cobb Candidate bitch to Mr. Broly's Brookwood Candidate. Ch. Boydox Display was sold to Mrs. Lynch, of Richmond, Virginia. Ch. Chimney Sweep Roamer and Ch. Sugartown Holy Smoke were sold to Homer Sherlock at Sidney, Montana. This makes seven sales to this gentleman". Mr. Childs reports he ordered a puppy whenever available from Roamer as it wasn't easy parting with this dog. Claythorn Corporal went to O. A. Martin, Fresno, Cal. Five breeders bought more than one dog from Mr. Childs and have come back for more. I am sure that is one of the highest tributes one can pay a breeder.

Mr. Childs comments on the improvement in the Straven Wire-Haired Terriers compared with a few years ago. He suggested at that time Mr. W. Semple should purchase a good female which he did from Mr. P. K. Nichol, of Seattle. This female, Ch. Hope Fulfilled, has presented him with a litter of six puppies.

Mr. Brown, of Cupar, writes a very interesting letter. He reports for years he has been trying to raise a good Peke to send to the shows. Haven't we all, Mr. Brown! It seems the more we breed the less satisfied we are but they tell me that is necessary to produce better stock.

He reports he may send some Pekes to our Regina Show and we will be looking forward to these.

Could YOU be a St. Bernard? Why is the dog full of strength and pep, when the same effort leaves a man exhausted and helpless? Because a healthy dog assimilates more vitamins than YOU do. Is YOUR dog getting them?

Feed him Dr. Ballard's "CHAMPION" Dog food. It is made from rich, red meat, fresh vegetables and healthful cereals, vitalized with the extra vitamins your dog needs for vigor.

Try Dr. Ballard's "CHAMPION" on your dog just once, and he'll want it again. It is dehydrated, and easy to prepare. And it is backed by Dr. Ballard's more than 30 years' experience as a practicing veterinarian.

Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Williams, and Mr. Semple report a very busy time from now until Show time.

Mr. Baldwin bought a red male Cocker from Birch Grove Kennels, Hampton, B.C. He has just had thirteen new arrivals bred by this dog, Birchgrove Red Squire. He is a great grandson of My Own Brucie.

We expect to see you all at the Regina Exhibition Show folks. See you all then.

GROWTH OF FIELD TRIALS

judgment. Usually the field marshal designates where the second brace and following braces will be started. The Hounds are turned loose to search and start their own game. If spectators, handlers or judges see game before the Hounds find, the Hounds are taken to the line and given the trial. After judges have followed each brace of the class they select a certain number of Hounds, possibly one from a brace or often both from the same brace to be rebraced as they see fit for a second series. When the judges have seen the Hounds enough to decide they give their findings to the field marshal or club secretary and the winners are announced. Some have won top honors on their first visit.

There is nothing complicated to learn. Club officials and judges will give advice and assistance to those not familiar with the sport. Most clubs have experienced Beaglers to handle Hounds sent in by those who cannot attend in person. Then, too, there are many handlers making a circuit of trials who will take care of your Hounds for a modest fee.

Many sales and enquiries from prospective buyers in the Prairie provinces prove that the breed is gaining popularity in the West. It is their intention to hold Beagle field trials at Winnipeg in the near future.

MANITOBA GOSSIP

By Alex Gostick

We had what I thought were some helpful suggestions re the judging situation in May. Some of the articles, and that includes our own ideas, can stand to be "sifted" in order to separate the wheat from the chaff, but just so long as they lean toward improvement they are all to the good.

Dave Fingard favors a purely technical system. We'd like to talk this over with Mr. Fingard one day—there are points both for and against such a system. We've seen students that were high on theory or a purely point system, that faded out completely in practice, oft times due to the fact that the blending of component parts failed to register with them.

Ella Withers thought of a prospective judge serving some sort of an apprenticeship as a steward, is one that had not occurred to us, but we think that the idea has merit and is worthy of consideration. The idea we have consistently tried to put over is the use of Sanction Shows as a proving and training ground, that is the place for the would-be judge to gain his experience, not where championship points are at stake. Mr. Fingard says, those of us that continue to harp on the judge question are consistently accused of being disgruntled over the fact that our dogs don't win. This makes an easy out for the self-satisfied or the would-be racketeers but the fact remains that if a dog places first in one show and the next time out, runs out of the money, one of two judges is inefficient, always providing the dog in question is in equally good condition.

Bill Pym's article is worthy of a re-reading, he favors a combination of theory and practice, we've discussed this set-up with Mr. Pym on several occasions and we're satisfied that it has merit. It takes theory, practice, personality and prestige to make a successful judge. That sounds kind of highfalutin but that's the type of judge we want to place our dogs. Mr. Leckie Ewing says "personally, I don't bother competing at bench shows, good hunting strains are much more important". The judge we want can tell a good hunting strain too, Mr. Ewing, it comes under the heading of character and characteristics and these things are discernable to the efficient judge.

The Greater Winnipeg Club wound up their two-day show on May 20th, very successfully. You will see elsewhere a full report of the wins. For our part we'd like to say what a pleasure it was to receive a visit from Mrs. McGuire and her Kerry Blues, Harry Saunders with the McKay string from San Francisco and Bill Quilley from Edmonton and we'd certainly appreciate seeing all three back again. The Winnipeg ladies have had some very nice things to say about our Hamilton visitor and for our part we'd have been perfectly satisfied to see her walk off with the Best in Show. Blue Horizon was in the first three, with Ernie Jones' Irish Setter placing second once again and Frank Bagnall's Doberman taking Best in Show.

The Gun-dog Club of Manitoba held its first early morning dog-meet a couple of weeks ago, on the grounds of the Horseman's Club, the set-up was ideal and the turnout was good. Springers, Cockers, Irish Water Spaniels and a Pointer were there to answer roll call, most of them were as green as the grass they ran on but breeding counts and with proper coaching they'll learn fast. A number of these meets will take place during the summer months with possibly some mid-season attraction of interest to the public, prior to the Fall field trials, the details of which are already under discussion.

We hope also to have some interesting data re Fort Garry's 25th Anniversary Show next month, details relative to dates and a judge have already been made and only require official confirmation from the Board. In the meantime the wheels are turning and Winnipeg can guarantee you folks both East and West an enjoyable visit, plus a run for your money. We hope we'll see you.

MARITIME NOTES

By Geoff Ryder

My editorial this month will take the form of an appeal, an appeal on behalf of the newly formed Annapolis Valley Kennel Club, who, as I informed you last month, are staging their first point show in the picturesque town of Kentville, on Saturday, July 15th.

It has been the writer's privilege to be present at a couple of this Club's meetings, and I have no hesitation in saying that I have never seen greater enthusiasm, or determination to put a show over in a really big way than that shown by all the members of this club.

It is, therefore, my very great pleasure to ask all our members, and all who are interested in pure-bred dogs, to give to this go ahead organization all the support in their power, all of you who have ambitions for your dogs, enter them and give them a preliminary canter before the more serious work of the Maritime Circuit comes along, while those of you who are not exhibiting, can be assured of a thoroughly enjoyable day in the beautiful Land of Evangeline.

As I predicted last month, almost the whole of the evening of our May meeting was taken up by the business of the coming annual show, there was a very good attendance. There were four applications for membership, they came from: Ernest Nickerson, Timberlea, Cocker; Neville Gilpin, Halifax, Cocker; Roy Ward, Halifax, Scotties; Kenneth G. Carnell, Rockingham, Beagles.

We cordially welcome these four gentlemen into our ranks, with an especial word of welcome to Mr. Carnell, who is one of the real "OLD GUARD".

The election of the Show Executive came next, this was a very unanimous choice: Show Superintendent, James D. Whiteley; Chairman of Committee, Sam (story-teller) Kominsky; Show Secretary, Geoff Ryder.

The selection of a judge was a more difficult proposition for the Secretary reported that he had communicated with 25 well known judges, of that number only six names were available for the consideration of the meeting. After considerable discussion it was unanimously decided to avail ourselves of the services of Earl T. Adair, Esq., of Pittsburg.

A Cocker Spaniel Association for the Maritimes

I hear that there is a movement afoot to form a Cocker Spaniel Club in these Maritime Provinces, I am sure that all devotees of that beautiful little animal will welcome this news. I understand that similar associations exist in most of the other provinces and it is only right and proper that the Maritimes, where there is some of the best stock in the Dominion, should have their own Specialty Club. Any Cocker fancier that is interested in this project is invited to communicate with G. F. L. Horner, 445 Quinpool Rd., Halifax.

It would appear that the doggie stock has devoted all his activities to increasing the Terrier population during the month just past. Col. A. E. Earchman, O.B.E., D.S.O., reports that his nice bitch Millflow Mitzi has whelped a very nice brace of puppies, sired by the Colonel's own stud, Ch. Hallwyre Hi-Tom, the young lady of this pair is particularly outstanding, the inimitable Billy Smith, of Atlantic Kennels (Reg'd.) also has a dream of a litter out of his Ch. Fairmount's Little Lady, this litter is also sired by Col. Earchman's Ch. Hallwyre Hi-Tom, five dogs and one bitch, all doing well, and all sold, good for you Bill. The Welshmen have been equally busy, or perhaps I should have said the Welsh ladies, for I hear that "Glendower Kennels", owned by Mrs. Marion L. Madden, has been augmented by the arrival of three litters, totalling sixteen puppies, I do not know the composition of these litters because that very busy little lady, I refer, of course, to Mrs. Madden, has not sent me particulars, perhaps she will take this gentle little hint and so so, then I will tell you. The Hon. L. D. Currie's venture has started to bring in dividends, for he tells me that one of his recently imported bitches has whelped a litter of four, one dog and three bitches. The dam is Strathglass Da, and the puppies were sired by an outstanding dog, Ch. Strathglass Bingo's Venture, this dog you may remember, was beaten only by the eventual Best in Show Winner at the recent Westminster Show.

I am indebted to that well known sportsman "Dick" Zwicker for this item which will, I know be of great interest to my readers. It appears that, at the time of the last visit of the late Field Marshal Earl Haig to St. John's he saw a litter of eleven puppies the result of the mating of two Registered Newfoundlands, the dam of this litter was owned by Mrs. Collins, of St. John's, and the sire was owned by Father Pippy, a Roman Catholic priest. One of this litter was a pure white puppy that afterwards matured into a dog weighing 145 lbs., a very typical Newfoundland except for his color. In addition, he turned out to be an excellent retriever and was used for shooting. However, the most interesting part of this story is that it throws a very interesting side-light upon the origin of the Newfoundland dog, which has always been more or less shrouded in conjecture, but this would seem to prove one very popular theory, that the dog was first brought, at least his forebears were, by Basque fishermen, who came to Newfoundland, and this very apparent throw back to the Great Pyrenees would appear to prove that in the original ancestors of the present day Newfoundland there was a strain of the Great Pyrenees, this coupled with the fact that the Labrador Retriever is very generally considered as an ancestor of the Newfoundland, would appear to account for the retrieving ability shown by this dog.

Ears of Sporting Dogs By Dr. J. A. Campbell

Among the various groups of dogs, the Sporting breed suffers most from ear diseases during the warm weather. It is hard to understand why dogs, used for hunting game in the bush, should be handicapped with long dangling ears. The wolf, coyote and fox, wild dog representatives on this continent, have ears that differ vastly from those of the dogs used by man for hunting. Their ears are carried erect, so constructed that they are not in the way and do not interfere with the dog when it is dashing through woods and brush. The funnel-shaped opening allows ample ventilation to keep the ear passage dry and permits the easy expelling of water by a slight shake of the head. The heavy-eared domesticated variety of dog cannot do this.

drooping ears, particularly those with a heavy covering of hair, close or obstruct the passages so that little or no ventilation reaches the inner structure. As a result of this man-made development of ear carriage, an ideal medium is formed for the growth of bacteria as heat, moisture and food are present for these microscopic animals. Infection takes place, followed in due course by inflammation and irritation. Dogs so affected are incessantly scratching or rubbing their heads along the ground and considerable injury may result from this behaviour. An offensive odor is given off also which attracts flies, furthering the dog's discomfort and suffering.

In some kennels "ear mites" are more active during the warmer months. These are close relations of the parasite that causes Sarcoptic mange and are distinguished by the fact that they are only found in the ears. They can be readily seen with an ordinary magnifying glass among the excretion taken from the ear of an infected dog. A characteristic symptom is that the affected dog tries to stand on its hind legs while shaking its head.

For the eradication of ear mites, the following is very satisfactory: carbon tetrachloride, two ounces; castor oil, eight ounces. This mixture is introduced into the ears which is then manipulated so as to distribute the medication to all parts. The treatment should be repeated every five or six days but care should be taken to remove any discharge that may have accumulated in the passage.

The main factor in dealing with ear trouble in general is to encourage dryness in the ear canal. First, excess hair should be removed from the ear flaps to lighten them, then clean out the parts with an ordinary boracic acid solution, carefully drying the area afterwards. Follow this by folding the ear flaps over the top of the head, holding them in place with adhesive tape for two or three hours. This treatment should be given every other day. If a catarrhal condition has become established, it is advisable to have the dog examined by a veterinarian. If sores have developed on top of the ears, an ointment made of two drachms of oil of tar and two ounces of petrolatum, applied morning and afternoon to the affected parts will heal the sores and discourage flies.

It is most essential that a constant check be made on the ears of all long-eared breeds. Simple remedies and cleanliness will prevent these unpleasant and painful diseases — which usually have their beginning during the warm weather — becoming established and chronic.

Club Activities

WALTER G. KENYON
president of the Chow Chow Club of Canada, which had the second largest entry at the Hamilton Show on June 3rd, being topped only by Cocker

The Chow Chow Club of Canada had a field day at the Hamilton Show, June 3rd. It was the first occasion a specialty judge has been assigned to judge this breed in Canada, so the Chow owners justified the confidence placed in them by the Hamilton Kennel Club and provided an entry of twenty.

It was the second largest entry of the show being topped only by Cocker.

Chow benches looked quite smart as all members of the Club and their dogs benched on an artificial green grass rug, each member displaying a large attractive membership card. The trophy table was also very attractively decorated with a large black velvet banner with the Club's name in gold lettering.

An imposing array of trophies was in evidence topped by a sterling silver flower-vase for Best of Breed, given by the judge, Mr. Robert A. Heussler. This was won by Mrs. D. Gwendolin Kenyon's eighteen months' old red male Kylin of Chalfont who (subject to confirmation by C.K.C.) finished his championship that day. Winners Bitch went to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ormond's Ruba El Khali of Yankee, now a 7-point winner. Reserve dog was Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hollinger's Yen Yen of Yankee. Mr. Hollinger also took Reserve Bitch with Soo Ying of Tay Yang.

After the Show the members sat down to dinner at the Estaminet, Burlington, with Miss E. M. Stellwaggen, of Buffalo, and Mr. Robert Heussler, the judge, as the guests of honour. This young club, only four months' old, is apparently going places. Of recent years the older Chowists could only muster a few entries, and it must be gratifying to the earlier pioneers to see their Breed entries grow to sixteen at the London

Spring Show, fourteen at Guelph, and now twenty at Hamilton.

A Specialty Show is scheduled for October 7th, with Mrs. Ralph W. Spike, Port Huron, Mich., as judge.

The Boston Terrier Club of Toronto held their recent annual meeting, May 18th, 1944, at the home of the President, Mrs. M. Firman.

The existing officers were returned by acclamation. A very successful year with a substantial bank balance was reported.

A donation was sent to the Mine Sweeper's Fund.

Plans were discussed for the Club's annual Thanksgiving show, to be held in October.

A euchre and bridge will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Firman, in June.

The Windsor Kennel Club held their annual election of officers recently and the following were appointed for 1944-1945: Honorary Presidents, Mrs. Wallace Campbell, O.B.E.; John Webb, Esq.; Honorary Vice-Presidents, Preston D. Norton, Esq.; Anthony Moor, Esq.; Mayor Arthur Reaume; Honorary Veterinarians, T. S. Burke, V.S.; John C. Bradshaw, V.S.; President, H. R. Wellington; Vice-President, Clyde Vandellinder; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. William G. Wellwood (for the 7th year); Committee, George Hewson (Past President); Mrs. Louise K. Stanard, Miss Mary Markesino, Thomas Nichol, and John Davis.

The Club is growing by leaps and bounds and many new members joined during the past year.

Our 13th Annual International All-Breed Dog Show was very successful and we are handing the Windsor Active Service Club a cheque for $400.00.

GEORGE POTTS
president of the Progressive Kennel Club which held the Breed Show at Dufferin Park, on June 24th. Mr. Potts has been an outstanding breeder of Pomeranians since 1926 and will judge all toy breeds and the group at the Peel County Show on August 12th

MRS. CHARLES FIRMAN, who has been re-elected president of the Boston Terrier Club of Toronto. Mrs. Firman has bred Bostons in Toronto for more years than any other Boston breeder

During the past year we held a very successful Club banquet, to which all the officiating judges were asked. We also held a picnic in the summer.

In the June issue of Dogs in Canada there was an error in the names of the executive of the Lakehead Kennel Club. The report reads as Mr. T. Grimshaw as Secretary-Treasurer. It should read as follows: Mr. T. Grimshaw, Vice-President; and Mr. E. A. R. Laker, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Canine Breeders' and Exhibitors Association held their annual meeting and elected the following officers for the current year:

Honorary President, W. Risewick, Toronto; W. Pym, Vancouver, B.C.; President, Harold Carter; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. C. B. Firman; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. S. McConaghy; Treasurer, Mr. Armstrong; Secretary, Miss King; Trophy Secretary, Mrs. R. DeShane; Show Secretary, Mr. C. J. McGarry; Auditors, Messrs. Butler and McKay; Executive Committee, W. Brown, A. Farrell, Mrs. S. Buchanan, Alroy Butler and W. McCallum.

The membership roll of this association is soaring to a new high and the suggestion for another show to be held at Woodbine Park is being entertained.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada are now actively engaged in training their dogs for the Obedience Classes. Jake Hayman will be at Dufferin Park, every second Sunday, to extend a helping hand to those who need it, so bring out your dogs and get started. Booklets are available to any shall be three feet, six inches high for all large breeds with the exception of such heavily built breeds as Newfoundlands, St. Bernards, Great Pyrenees, etc., for which it shall be two feet in height. For the smaller breeds such as Dachshunde, Fox Terriers, Beagles, etc., the high jump shall be twice the shoulder height of the dog.

6. The broad or long jump shall consist of four separate hurdles, built to telescope for convenience, ten inches high at the highest point. When set up they shall be spaced so that the jump shall be six feet over all, except for the smaller breeds, for which one hurdle shall be removed and the three remaining hurdles spaced so that the jump shall be about four feet over all. In the execution of the broad jump the handler shall stand at the side of the jump within the range of the first and last hurdles. All jumps should be painted white or a very light color.

7. In the sitting three minutes test all handlers leave the ring and remain out of sight of their dogs until the time limit has expired.

8. In the "Down three or five minutes test", the same conditions prevail as in the Sitting tests, except that the dog must remain in a lying down position. The order is "Down Stay". In the five minutes test all handlers leave the ring and remain out of sight of their dogs until the time limit has expired.

All the competing dogs take the "Sit" and "Down" tests in the ring together.

The Canadian Kennel Club will permit the use of the letters "C. D. X.", signifying "Companion Dog Excellent", to be used in connection with and after the name of each dog which shall be certified by judges of Obedience Trials to have received scores of 220 or more points in Obedience Open Classes.

The total number of dogs required to compete in the Open Class "A" and Open Class "B" combined and the number of Obedience Open Classes in which a dog must receive a score of 220 or more points in order to be permitted to use the letter "C.D.X." shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club.

(At present to be permitted to use the letters "C.D.X." a dog must receive a score of 220 or more points in Open Classes at three Obedience Trials in which the combined number of competitors in Open Class "A" and Open Class "B" at each trial shall be four or more dogs.)

A dog may continue to compete in the Obedience Open Class "B" after having won the title of "C. D. X." and/or "U.D.", and may continue to compete in the Utility Class after having won the title of "U.D."

MY IMPRESSIONS

ped. Bostons were very good with little between the winners. I noted that several had quite enough "make-up" on, and we sincerely suggest modifying the use of grease paint on the muzzle. When the lines are too square it spoils the expression. A shade the more "blocky" in body just carried Paddy's Bombadier to Winners dogs over the nicely fronted Edalice's Easter Parade, while in bitches there was no denying the splendid front, gait and clear markings of Star Bonny which also took Best of Winners. Best of Breed went to the very good headed, clearly marked and well matured bodied Ch. Our Wee Sammy, which finished a close second in the group.

Toys were a complete surprise with an old favorite from the States much in evidence—the famed parti-colored Pekinges Kai-Choo of Dah-Lyn—leading the breed and finishing a very close second to a beautifully balanced Miniature Pinscher, Ch. Trail Blazer of Geddesburg, yet another extra good champion bred in the noted Geddesburg Kennel in New York City. Third in the group went to a richly colored orange Pomeranian, extra good in head, ears and expression, trappy body and the right texture of coat, with a good Yorkshire, Yorktown Blue Prince well up in the running. It was pleasing to see that very promising home-bred Smooth, Canadian Ambassador, to whom I

When your dog has eczema, dandruff or scale it means he is sick inside as well as outside. These skin troubles are symptoms of a lack of essential fatty acids in his diet. Rex Wheat Germ Oil is one of the richest known sources of the unsaturated fats essential to a healthy coat and skin.

EARLY HOUND HISTORY

run two hundred miles a day, as gal-lant as a horse and that some were white and brown. Two were brought to England in 1840—"having tremendous speed they hunted gazelle". Pharaohs rode to the chase, hawks on wrist, Salu-kis on leads—also hunted boars, jack-alls, foxes, hares.

The Saluki shows great attachment to his owner and is gentle with children, affectionate without being demonstra-tive. Good watch dogs, but not aggres-sive, deep far-seeing eyes, an expression of dignity mixed with gentleness. The Arabs loved this gentle breed and a Court Poet of 800 A.D., writes: "His master is to him a slave; at night he is the nearest to his cradle and if the dog is naked he covers him with his cloak."

As early as 1575 in the history of Eng-land we read of dogs called Sleuth-Hounds—who had marvellous wit and able to discover the whereabouts of miscreants long after they had fled—some were red and others were black. When Claudius Aelianus wrote his his-toric Animalium in the third century A.D., he mentioned a breed of Hound unrivalled for scenting power and pos-sessed of such great determination it would never leave a trail till the quarry was located. The Bloodhound is called the oldest race of Hounds that hunt by scent and theory has it that it was known throughout the Mediterranean countries long before the Christian era. To the Bishops of the twelfth century goes much of the credit for keeping the strain clean; so much care was taken that the dog was called the "Blooded Hound". There were two strains—black and white. The black were famed St. Huberts of the eighteenth century and the whites later became known as Southern Hounds. Both varieties have played big parts in the development of other Hounds and Hound types. In temperament they are solemn, noble and dignified; with wit, wisdom and power. "They wring their faces and draw their skins through overmuch intention like sorrowful per-sons." The Bloodhound trails more for his own sport and unlike police-trained dogs, does not attack the victim.

The Greyhound of Ancient Greece is said to have been descended from the Saluki—the Greyhound of the Arab. The word Greyhound has long been a matter of dispute but the explanation that the words Greek Hound have been cor-rupted to Greyhound would seem logical. Certain areas of the Grecian Empire were known as dog breeding centres and coins and gems bore the effigy of a Greyhound. In the many years that have passed the breed spread from Greece to England and Ireland. Those who were fortunate enough to gain pos-session of Greyhounds kept them under close supervision and were very loath to let others have any of their progeny with the result that the ownership of one of these dogs was a highly prized asset, particularly in England. It is told that King John gladly accepted a leash of Greyhounds in lieu of a debt, while Queen Elizabeth was an ardent coursing enthusiast. There is an old Welsh prov-erb which says that a man may be known by his hawk, his horse and his Greyhound. According to the laws of King Canute, no man below the rank of gentleman was permitted to keep a Greyhound under pain of death. Their graceful appearance and astonishing speed and agility would attract the notice of all people and in rural districts the ownership of a Greyhound meant the end of starvation because of the dog's ability to catch game. They can easily overtake their prey and with one snap of their sharp teeth, the animal is dead.

Coursing is against the law in Canada and certain parts of United States, con-sequently, it is a sport little heard of on this side of the Atlantic. Actually, one finds it hard to understand the ban on coursing when Hounds are permitted to chase and kill foxes. Although coursing had been undertaken in England for many years it was not until 1776 the modern coursing was founded by the Earl of Orford. Eccentric, enthusiastic and anxious to see the Greyhound be-come even a faster dog, he tried many ways to develop Greyhound qualities. He crossed his dogs with Lurchers and Bulldogs. In the latter experiment it took seven generations to eliminate the Bulldog. The cross was successful for it led to Greyhounds with small ears, rat tails and skins almost without hair. The question arises continually — are these racing Greyhounds the same as those seen on the show bench? The answer is, basically yes. However, it is obvious that those on the bench are not chosen for their speed alone but because they conform more truly to the standard so well summed up in the "Boke of St. Albans", produced in 1841 which declared "A Grehounde shulde be heded lyke a Snake and necked lyke a Drake. Foted lyke a Kat. Tayled lyke a Rat. Syded lyke a Teme. Chyned lyke a Beme."

The main difference from the show dog is that the racing one is usually larger, bigger boned, narrower of chest to better negotiate the corners and in running his hind feet go outside his front ones. The show dog is a sturdier looking animal, broad of chest, flatter in the back, more compact, better fleshed and his hind feet track his front ones.

Greyhound racing has seized the in-terest of the public and tracks are scattered across the universe. The largest track in the world, the White City Track at London, England, covers thirteen acres. It is not necessary for the Greyhound to taste the kill in order to run. The electric lure is a camou-flaged rabbit but it has often been noticed that the dogs will chase the motor after the rabbit has been taken off by one of the dogs.

While the war has not entirely stopped Greyhound racing in England, it has deterred it to some extent and some of England's outstanding racers have been sent to Canada for the duration in order that their speed and ability will not be lost to future generations.

One of the attractions at the Hamilton show was an obedience test arranged by the Doberman fancy. In other days such an exhibit would have been given by the Shepherd Club and we would have dominated the show. It was disappointing, therefore, to see a rival breed steal the show, especially when our Shepherd entry was four times that of the Doberman entry.

There will be a meeting of all Obedience Test enthusiasts on Monday, July 10th, at 8.00 p.m., in the Blue Room, King Edward Hotel, Toronto, to organize a club to further interest in these tests for pure-bred dogs. # The Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

From the office of the Secretary-Treasurer

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room of the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday, June 8th, 1944, at 6 p.m. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Directors present included: Mrs. E. Brown, Miss A. Elsie Mayhew, W. P. Gudgeon, and Captain H. Dudley-Waters, M.C.

The Secretary read a wire from Director W. W. Rooney advising that due to pressure of work and the labour situation, he was unable to consider and forward his comments on the items appearing on the Agenda for the meeting. The Board was also advised Mr. William McDerment would not be present.

Adoption of Minutes

Second Vice-President W. H. Pym's and Director G. G. Ryder's comments in respect to the minutes of the last meeting were read advising they wished to be recorded as voting against the adoption of these minutes inasmuch as the appointment of a Publications Committee was out of order.

After discussion it was moved by Mr. Gudgeon, seconded by Miss Mayhew, and carried:

"That the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors held on May 11th, be approved."

Letter From the American Kennel Club

The Secretary advised that on discussing this matter with the Club's Solicitor following the last meeting of the Board, Mr. Wilkinson suggested that a letter be sent to the American Kennel Club asking that they advise us of their final decision in the matter. A letter from Mr. H. D. Bixby, Executive Vice-President of the American Kennel Club, was read which stated that the Directors of that Club went on record as being unwilling to license any Beagle Trials not held within the confines of the United States. The Board agreed that Mr. Bixby's letter be replied to suggesting that the Canadian Kennel Club was quite in sympathy with the views of the American Kennel Club in this matter.

Letter From Mr. D. Fingard

A letter from Mr. D. Fingard addressed to the Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club and intended for publication in Dogs in Canada was read. After discussion it was agreed that the letter would be published in the next issue of the magazine.

Gaines Research Kennels announces the appointments of Harry Hartnett as managing director and Arthur H. Davies as kennel manager. After alterations, the recently acquired property, at Ridgefield, Conn., will be devoted to studies in nutrition and genetics, and experiments in the care, management and training of dogs.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Toronto, who won Best of Breed and second in the Sporting Group, with Paddy Boy of Wildair, at the recent Hamilton Show.

There are some honest people left in this world. Mrs. McEachern, of the Tailteann Kennels, lost a valuable diamond bracelet when she attended the Windsor Show this spring. A housemaid at the Prince Edward Hotel found it when she turned the mattress after Mrs. McEachern had checked out. The insurance company rewarded the girl in the amount of $100.00, and the management of the hotel are very grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gudgeon's young son, Billy, led the field at Appleby School this year by carrying off all the top honors in the sports events. When Mrs. Gudgeon was asked why she chose Afghans she explained that her final choice was dictated by the nature of this noble hound. In its native haunts, the Afghan goes from one extreme of temperature to another. As this condition is met with to a certain extent on the shores of Lake Ontario, Mrs. Gudgeon decided on this breed.

According to Mrs. Donald Hamilton, of Kincaid Kennels, Aurora, Ont., there is never a dull moment on the farm. A couple of years ago Mrs. Hamilton had fifteen refugee children, eighty-five dogs, and fourteen horses — to say nothing of cattle, sheep, five hundred hens, ducks, pigs and even four goats. She had no household help so each of the fifteen children had to take a turn in the house, learning cooking, laundry and cleaning work. In addition each child was given certain definite dogs to look after, including getting them prepared for the shows. Late one afternoon Mrs. Hamilton sat down in the sunporch for a cigarette before starting on preparations for supper. Her rest was of short duration for around the corner of the barn came the Cocker, Happy Jim O'Raith with an eight-pound Rock hen in his mouth. Before she could get her breath along came another

Best in Group and Best Canadian-bred in Show all Breeds at Guelph. Bred in our kennels, and owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. Reynolds.

- (1) This Kennel sold three Dobes which finished their Championship last year. Two of these have won the Working Group at recent shows.
- (2) Our present stud dog, COGNAC von GLENHUGEL, needs but one more show to finish his Championship. His latest win—Best of Breed and Second in the Working Group at London, under Mrs. Enno Meyer. He has defeated all the American champions and near champions shown in Ontario this year. His breeding is by far the best available in America today—8 of his brothers and sisters are now American champions and several of these have gone Best-in-Show. His pups are "tops"—several now about ready to show can finish their championships. His first son to be shown won Best of Winners at the Winnipeg Show, May 20th.
- (3) Our continued success depends upon the use of only quality breeding stock. We have excellent prepotent representatives of ALL THREE of today's winning strains, including the greatest producing matron in Canada today, a Champion daughter of the top sire of all time—CH. KURT v. d. RHEINPERLE-RHINEGOLD.
- (4) We now own the "All-time, All-American bred", American Champion Dietrich of Dawn. There are only two American-bred sires now living who have produced four or more champions and he is one of them. Puppies by him will be available by fall. He will be bred to our own females only.
- (5) Champion Judy of Navigator will shortly have puppies by American Champion Troll of Englestoitz.

These are the reasons why we can confidently state that we will continue to show, breed and sell the winning Doberman Pinschers in this part of Canada. If you want the best write to

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

out of condition and the two minor faults which apparently he has had since he was a puppy, showed up more distinctly than at any time in his career.

Someone in New York, who was very much interested in Danes and had plenty of time in the evening, made up a list of the shows at which the super-dupers won their "Best of Breed". I think in one case, thirty of the "Wins" were in one-point shows.

I think the most pleasure Mrs. Day and I have derived from breeding dogs is what it has taught us regarding the health and conformation of the other animals in our little farm zoo up in northern Connecticut. When we started to raise goats, pigs, sheep and a few cattle, blood lines and fifteen grains of sulfanilimide for each twenty pounds of body weight came in very handy.

The best pup we have ever raised is still under wraps. His half-sister made a champion this winter in some pretty good competition, but we think "King Kong" will be something.

I still think the British will win the war with a little help from the Canadians and the Americans, but when we all sit around talking the overall strategy, it sounds a lot like the "Fancy" discussing post-mortems after a dog show.

HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB DOG SHOW

The beautiful grounds of the Ontario Jockey Club, at Hamilton, Ontario, was the setting for this fine show which drew an entry of over three hundred. Judge W. W. Rooney, of Montreal, awarded Best in Show to the Whippet, "Strathoak Sandbloom", bred in United States by C. Young and owned by T. Donnelly, of Bartonville, Ont., who also placed Best in the Hound Group. This is the first time in many years that a Whippet has won Best in Show. Mrs. W. P. Gudgeon, of Bronte, Ont., officiated as master of ceremonies at the loud-speaker and made a very fine job of it. Mr. George Wade, of Toronto, gave a demonstration of obedience training with his fine Doberman Pinscher, Am. Ch. Westphalia's Rameses, C.D.X.

Best in the Sporting Group was won by the Cocker Spaniel Cee Tee's Flash

We aim to be Big and Strong

... that's why we speak for GAINES,
the Complete Meal

YOUNG OR OLD, all breeds of dogs thrive on GAINES, the nation's most popular dog food. GAINES is the Complete Meal, containing meat meal, cereals, milk nutrients, vegetables, minerals and vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub> B<sub>2</sub>, B<sub>6</sub>, D, E, pantothenate and niacin—everything needed to nourish dogs completely. As prize-dog breeders know, this balanced formula has been successful for 14 years in helping to make glossy coats and sound teeth and bones, and keep dogs in vigorous health.

FIRST AND LAST, dogs like GAINES. 9 out of 10 like it at first taste—and they don't tire of it. That's one of many reasons why breeders have helped to make GAINES the largest-selling dog food in America. It's easy to prepare—merely add water, stir and feed. It's definitely economical. It's available in 2-lb., 5-lb. and 50-lb. bags.
