OUR COVER

This Terrier issue is featured by a well-known Wire-Haired Fox Terrier, American and Canadian Champion Wynwyre's Saddle, the proud possession of Mrs. E. A. Kraft, of Royal Oak, Michigan.

Mrs. Kraft's Wynwyre Kennels have been very prominent in the news of show successes in the past year. Saddle is a son of Ch. Dogberry Sir Lancelot and his dam Wynwyre's Thais, is a good producer—she is the dam of Wynwyre's Snowflake who it will be remembered is the phenomenal youngster who captured last February's American Fox Terrier Specialty Show, in New York City.

Saddle's 1944 wins include Winners dogs A.F.T.C. Specialty Show, Best in Show at Windsor All-Breed Show and the All-Terrier Show, Best in Show at Guelph, and the Reserve Best in Show at the All-Terrier Show sponsored by the Kerry Blue Terrier Club of Canada.

FEEDING THE TERRIER

As the Terrier is an active dog, beef, mutton, lamb, boiled fish, and dehydrated horse meat, comprising at least one-third of the allowance of food stuffs is needed for a balanced diet.

Cereals, particularly the granulated dog foods or kibbled and smaller biscuits, stale bread, toast, breakfast foods such as corn flakes, rusks, mixed with the meat for the heavy meal of the day assists in the digestive process.

Vegetables at least one kind a day is desirable, selected from spinach, asparagus, thoroughly boiled onions, tomatoes, well cooked string beans. This could be mixed with kibbled biscuits to which has been added a little bone meal and milk.

If the dog is young and inclined to rickets increase the bone meal as it contains both lime and phosphoric acid. In older dogs there is a tendency to skin diseases, particularly on the back at the root of the tail. Raw liver, soups, broth, and stale bread combined with a little fresh yeast will do much to combat this. A change from a diet of meat and vegetable to all dog biscuit will often work wonders particularly in the hot weather.

A well balanced diet for a Terrier is suggested. Morning meal, one-fourth of a half pound of raw chopped beef mixed with well dried stale bread; evening meal, one cup full of kibbled biscuits over which has been poured scalding hot water, let stand until just warm mix in a helping of well cooked vegetable, and a little bone meal.

Change over from beef to the other meats, as variety will keep a dog eager for food, a large fresh beef bone assists the assimilation of a heavy meal, as the digestive juices are increased by the chewing on the bone.

On Trimming The Terrier

By Alva McColl

Legitimate show preparations are a very simple procedure if simple rules are followed. The chief thing required of the show dog is to so comport himself in the ring that his good points may be taken in at once by the judge, and that, while full of life does not pull himself out of shape, by straining against the lead.

A few weeks training in ring deportment is necessary not only for the dog, but also the novice owner. Occasionally a judge will take time with a novice handler, but time is a big factor in the shows today and a good actor may beat a much better specimen if the judge is pressed for time. Nervousness must be entirely absent, and a calm handler transmits his confidence to the dog.

The work of trimming a terrier is not to be approached by the novice until after a thorough study of the standards has made him familiar with the ideal specimen; because all trimming must be done with a silhouette of the ideal in mind. A dog's coat plays such an important part in his general appearance that a tyro can easily mar his dog temporarily by stripping lightly a part that should be cleaned, thus making the part look heavy in comparison. It would be well for the novice to practice on several dogs whose appearance is not so important before attempting to trim a show specimen preparatory to competition.

In trimming it is necessary to work with two ends in view—first, to make the subject resemble the ideal as closely as possible; and secondly, to balance each part with the remainder of the dog's body.

Starting at the head, just above the eyes, trim closely back beyond the occiput and down the cheeks to the neck. Under the throat should be trimmed clean from the whiskers back. The ears are stripped inside and out and trimmed around the edges.

When the skull and ears are finished, clip the eyebrows to accentuate the keen look in the eyes. If the brows are brushed outward and forward and trimmed properly, the appearance of the head can be greatly improved. Down the side of the neck is a long frill which has to be straightened by judicious trimming. The shoulders are trimmed down to the legs at the sides and the front to make the front and shoulders appear as dead straight as possible. Leg hairs are never touched beyond a slight trimming to preserve the straight, round look. Sometimes a not-so-straight front can be made to appear perfect with careful trimming. Hairs on the feet at the toes can be clipped a rounder, smaller appearance.

Level off the back and sides, paying particular attention to the set on of tail and the straightness of back. Just before the tail a slight roach is desirable, and the tail should leave the back at a definite, clean-cut angle. The tail should be trimmed with a view to balance.

The hindquarters present a difficult problem to amateur trimmers. If the bone structure of the specimen in hand is not sufficiently bent it can be made to appear more so by trimming close at the back and leaving more hair at the front. Below the hock, the back legs should be trimmed round and straight, and the feet should be treated the same as the front feet.

A good terrier has a very noticeable tuck-up; and in trimming the underline, it is well to accentuate this by trimming lightly at the chest and more closely toward the back.

Once the dog is trimmed, stand back and inspect it from a distance. With the silhouette of the ideal in mind, compare the finished product with what it should be. Then give the dog the finishing touches.

The above may be applied to the Wire Haired Fox Terrier, Scottish Terrier, Sealyham Terrier, Welsh Terrier, Airedale and Irish Setter. The Sealyham and Scottish Terriers require a longer body coat, and should be stripped in time to allow proper growth. As the Scottish Terrier's tail is naturally short, it should be tapered toward the end, leaving plenty of hair on the root.

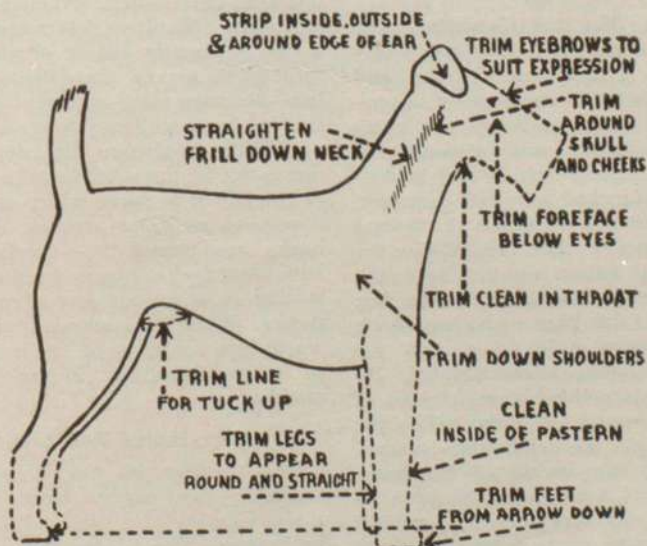

The Welsh, Airedale and Irish Terriers present a problem in that the colour of the top coat is darker than the undercoat, and time is necessary if the colours are to blend and be natural on the day of the show.

Smooth Fox Terriers and Bull Terriers carry a short coat; the cheeks, throat, neck and hindquarters should be rasped down by degrees, and the coat groomed daily to remove all the shedding hair. The Bull Terrier's tail resembles a whip stock and tapers to the end.

Kerry Blue Terriers have a single non-shedding coat which cannot be stripped. Frequent bathing followed by scissors trimming is needed, the skull, ears, neck and shoulders are closely trimmed, the back levelled off, the short tail trimmed very close and set on a level with the back. Cairn Terriers require some trimming, the ears are tidied on the inside and around the edges. A fine sawdust brushed into the coat will lift the hair and assist in giving a rugged appearance.

The teeth and nails are similar in all the Terrier family. While it may not be necessary to brush the teeth daily, regular attention assists in keeping the tartar from pushing the gums up and loosening the teeth. Do not cut a dog's nails to the "quick". A cinder yard will assist in wearing the nails down, and constant application of a file will do the rest.

A few Terrier breeds have what is known as "horny feet". Neets foot oil applied at night will soften the corns and a hot bath the next morning will assist in the eradication of this condition.

SIMPLIFIED TRIMMING DIAGRAM

Parts to be trimmed heavily are indicated as a solid outline in this sketch. Those parts needing little or no trimming are indicated by dotted lines.

Description and Standard of Terrier Points

FOX TERRIERS (Smooth and Wire)

The following shall be the standard of the Fox Terrier amplified in part in order that a more complete description of the Fox Terrier may be presented.

Head.—The skull should be flat and moderately narrow, gradually decreasing in width to the eyes. Not much "stop" should be apparent, but there should be more dip in the profile between the forehead and the top jaw than is seen in the case of the Greyhound.

The cheeks must not be full.

The ears must be V-shaped and small, of moderate thickness, and drooping forward close to cheek, not hanging by the side of the head like a Foxhound. The top line of the folded ear should be well above the level of the skull.

The jaws, upper and lower, should be strong and muscular and of fair punishing strength, but not so as in any way to resemble the Greyhound or modern English Terrier. There should not be much falling away below the eyes, his part of the head should, however, be moderately chiseled out, so as not to go down in a straight slope like a wedge.

The nose, towards which the muzzle must gradually taper, should be black.

It should be noticed that although the foreface should gradually taper from eye to muzzle and should tip slightly at its juncture with the forehead, it should not "dish" or fall away quickly below the eyes, where it should be full and well made up, but relieved from "wedginess" by a little delicate chiseling.

The eyes and the rims should be dark in color, moderately small and rather deep set, full of fire, life and intelligence and as nearly as possible circular in shape. Anything approaching a yellow eye is most objectionable.

The teeth should be as nearly as possible together, i.e., the points of the upper (incisors) teeth on the outside of or slightly overlapping the lower teeth.

There should be apparent little difference in length between the skull and foreface of a well-balanced head.

Neck.—Should be clean and muscular, without throatiness, of fair length, and gradually widening to the shoulders.

Shoulders.—Should be long and sloping, well laid back, fine at the points, and clearly cut at the withers.

Chest.—Deep and not broad.

Back.—Should be short, straight (i.e., level), and strong, with no appearance of slackness. Brisket should be deep, yet not exaggerated.

Loin.—Should be very powerful, muscular and very slightly arched. The foreribs should be moderately arched, the back ribs deep and well sprung, and the dog should be well ribbed up.

Hindquarters.—Should be strong and muscular, quite free from droop or crouch; the thighs long and powerful; stifles well curved and turned neither in nor out; hocks well bent and near the ground should be perfectly upright and parallel each with the other when viewed from behind, the dog standing well up on them like a Foxhound, and not straight in the stifle. The worst possible form of hindquarters consists of a short second thigh and a straight stifle.

Stern.—Should be set on rather high, and carried gaily, but not over the back or curled. It should be of good strength, anything approaching a "pipe-stopper" tail being especially objectionable.

Legs.—The forelegs viewed from any direction must be straight with bone strong right down to the feet, showing little or no appearance of ankle in front, and being short and straight in pastern. Both fore and hindlegs should be carried straight forward in traveling, the stifles not turning upward. The elbows should stand perpendicularly to the body, working free of the sides.

Feet.—Should be round, compact and not large; the soles hard and tough; the toes moderately arched, and turned neither in nor out.

Coat.—Should be smooth, flat, but hard, dense and abundant. The belly and under side of the thighs should not be bare.

Color.—White should predominate; brindle, red, or liver markings are objectionable. Otherwise this point is of little or no importance.

Symmetry, Size and Character.—The dog must present a generally gay, lively and active appearance; bone and strength in a small compass are essentials; but this must not be taken to mean that a Foxterrier should be cloddy, or in any way coarse—speed and endurance must be looked to as well as power, and the symmetry of the Foxhound taken as a model. The Terrier, like the Hound, must on no account be leggy, nor must he be too short in the leg. He should stand like a cleverly made hunter, covering a lot of ground, yet with a short back, as before stated. He will then attain the highest degree of propelling power, together with the greatest length of stride that is compatible with the length of his body. Weight is not a certain criterion of a Terrier's fitness for his work—general shape, size and contour are the main points; and if a dog can gallop and stay, and follow his fox up a drain, it matters little what his weight is to a pound or so. According to present-day requirements, a full-sized, well-balanced dog should not exceed 15½ inches at the withers—the bitch being proportionately lower—nor should the length of back from withers to root of tail exceed 12 inches, while, to maintain the relative proportions, the head should not exceed 7¼ inches or be less than 7 inches. A dog with these measurements should scale 18 pounds in show condition—a bitch weighing some two pounds less—with a margin of one pound either way.

Balance.—This may be defined as the correct proportions of a certain point, or points, when considered in relation to a certain other point or points. It is the keystone of the Terrier's anatomy. The chief points for consideration are the relative proportions of skull and foreface; head and back; height at withers and length of body from shoulder-point to buttock—the ideal of proportion being reached when the last two measurements are the same. It should be added that, although the head measurements can be taken with absolute accuracy, the height at withers and length of back and coats are approximate, and are inserted for the information of breeders and exhibitors rather than as a hard and fast rule.

Movement.—Movement, or action, is the crucial test of conformation. The Terrier's legs should be carried straight-forward while traveling, the forelegs hanging perpendicular and swinging parallel with the sides, like the pendulum of a clock. The principal propulsive power is furnished by the hindlegs, perfection of action being found in the Terrier possessing long thighs and muscular second thighs well bent at the stifles, which admit of a strong forward thrust or "snatch" of the hocks. When approaching, the forelegs should form a continuation of the straight line of the front, the feet being the same distance apart as the elbows. When stationary, it is often difficult to determine whether a dog is slightly out at shoulder, but, directly he moves, the defect—if it exists—becomes more apparent, the forefeet having a tendency to cross "weave" or "dish". When, on the contrary, the dog is tied at the shoulder, the tendency of the feet is to move wider apart, with a sort of paddling action. When the hocks are turned in—cowhock—the stifles and feet are turned outwards, resulting in a serious loss of propulsive power. When the hocks are turned outwards the tendency of the hind feet is to cross, resulting in an ungainly waddle.

Wire-Haired Fox Terriers

This variety of the breed should resemble the smooth sort in every respect except the coat; which should be broken. The harder and more wiry the texture of the coat is, the better. On no account should the dog look or

MAJOR RAYMOND BOYDEN,
a prominent Toronto physician and a member of the Canadian Kennel Club. Relative of the late Joseph Russell, president of the Canadian Kennel Club for many years, Major Boyden is keenly interested in pure-bred dogs

With the Canadian Corps in Italy.— (CP)—Fighting on their third sector of the Italian front, the Cape Breton Highlanders joined other Canadian infantry and armor in the drive that pushed the Germans back from the broken Hitler line in a withdrawal that became a full retreat with bitter rearguard pockets to protect it.

It was those rearguards, exacting casualties with artillery, mortar, machine-gun and sniper fire, that belabored their advance to the Melfa River, across it and through the valley of the Sacco to Pofi, Arnara and beyond.

Except for one brief lunge at the German positions fronting the Arielli River on the Adriatic front months ago, this was the unit's first attacking role.
Its third sector of duty was one of monotonous, static warfare in the surly mountain country north of Cassino, the bulge in the Gustav line from which the Poles struck forth in the opening of the general Italian offensive May 12.

The advance from the Hitler line was six days of enemy resistance characterized by frequent heavy shellings by artillery and mortars, of brushes with machine-gun nests and snipers who would impede progress, then flee or become captive when the advance got too close, of greetings from enthusiastic peasants with vino and embraces to speak their feelings, of hungry, dogged soldiers who at one stretch had one meal in two days. It was an advance that produced incidents and men like these:

Maj. Tony MacLaughlin, Great Village, N.S., was wounded in the heavy fire that met the advance of his company to its first objective beyond Melfa. He directed his men to the objective before he would go back for medical attention.

Capt. Clarence Archibald, Truro, N.S., got his company to the same objective,
then was killed by a shell.

Maj. R. W. Boyden, Toronto, the medical officer, did his work with a courage and personal disregard that was the talk of the unit for days. He organized his regimental aid post into two sections, the first being his "tactical headquarters," the second his main regimental aid post.

The first consisted of a Bren-gun carrier painted white and marked with red crosses and two stretchers fitted into the rear behind the protection of the steel sides. That went with the Major everywhere he went and, the troops said, he went everywhere.

When an armored regiment called for medical assistance, Maj. Boyden went forward with his batman, Pte.
A. (Sax) Pitre, New Waterford, N.S., and together they went from wounded man to wounded man, took them from burning tanks, cared for them and sent them back. Snipers and machine-guns tried to interrupt them but they kept on working. Transfusions from the blood plasma they carry in their carrier saved more than a few lives, here and elsewhere.

Both were wounded but Pitre refused to be evacuated until their job was completed. The Major never went back.

A shell landed among a group including them, wounded tankmen and other tankmen trying to help. The new wounded and the old took the meagre shelter available. When a break came in the shelling they made a dash as best they could for the protection of a hillside. There were only three stretchers. Some of the wounded went back themselves. Others had to wait until the stretcher-bearers could come back a second time.

Husky Pte. T. E. Morrison, Sydney Mines, N.S., volunteered to carry one severely wounded soldier, loaded him on his back and refused to put him down until he reached safety despite machine-gun fire, thick undergrowth, a steep and high hill.

Pte. M. Melnick, Glace Bay, N.S., saved the lives of several men by attending to their wounds under heavy fire. Pte. S. S. Johnson, Liverpool, N.S., tried to hide his wounds suffered as a medical runner because "you'll need me up here."

Another stretcher-bearer, Pte. F. E.
Outhouse, Karsdale, N.S., carried on under strong fire, refusing to leave his platoon until it reached its objective.
He was already exhausted.

L.-Cpl. Charles Hart, Glace Bay, tended the wounded of two platoons, saved the lives of at least three.

In the main R.A.P., Medical Sgt.
Joseph McIntyre, Glace Bay, N.S., was in charge. Cpl. D. A. Bushie, Mulgrave, N.S., was the medical corporal.

When a spell came in military stresses,
Maj. Boyden found himself besieged by day and night by wounded Italian civilians. For his attentions they generally brought two eggs. Some were so badly wounded they had to be evacuated. Others were patched up and sent back to their homes.

The scout platoon under Lieut. (now Acting Capt.) Tom Lowe, Edmonton, acted as a forward recon force and as counter snipers, took at least eight prisoners, and worked more than once while the rest of the battalion snatched a needed rest.

When Spandaus opened up from two houses on a company under Maj. A. C.
Ross, Sydney, N.S., a platoon under Lieut. J. A. MacDonald, New Waterford,
N.S., went forward and Cpl. J. S.
Francis, Milton, N.S., got his section on the objective by able leadership. But by the time L.-Cpl. G. M. Drinkle, Midland, Ont., got there first the Germans had fled. Shortly after a platoon under Lieut. D. B. MacKean, Halifax, was pinned down, then freed when the Germans fled again before artillery fire and threatening tanks.

At other times, Cpl. C. T. MacDonald, Baltic Lot, P.E.I., was wounded, carried on under fire, reached his section's objective and consolidated; Lieut. H. N.
MacLeod, Saint John, N.B., carried a bullet in his leg a day before he was evacuated. He was wounded getting his platoon to its objective.

Those were some of the men and some of the incidents in those six days.

OBEDIENCE TRIALS

By Alva McColl

The Obedience Utility Class shall be for dogs of any breed and of either sex which shall have won the title of "C.D.X." (Companion Dog Excellent) in Obedience Open Classes. Dogs in this class may be handled or exhibited by either an amateur or a professional. Exhibitors may enter more than one dog in this class, but each dog must have a separate handler.

Section 21. The tests in the Obedience Utility Class for each dog shall be:

1. To speak on command.
2. To exercise scent discrimination.
3. To seek back for lost articles.
4. To stand for examination.

Section 22. The score of points for a perfect performance of each of these tests in the Obedience Utility Class shall be:

1. Speak on Command..... 45 points
2. Exercise Scent
Discrimination ..... 60 points
3. Seek back for lost article 60 points
4. Stand for examination.... 35 points

Maximum total score..... 200 points

1. Speaking on command. The dog shall bark at command of its handler, from a "sitting", "standing" and "down" position. The "sitting" and "standing" positions should be directly in front of the handler either on or off leash. The "down" to be done at a distance of at least 15 feet from handler.

2. Scent discrimination should be exercised on three articles belonging to handler. This test should be repeated three times, testing a different article belonging to the handler each time, which shall be placed amongst (but not covered by several other articles. One article used to be a mental object. Handkerchiefs must not be used. The stranger's article, put down for this exercise should resemble the handler's article. The handler shall place his object upon the judge's judging chart, and the judge in turn will then drop it amongst the other articles without touching it. The handler meanwhile shall stand so as to block his dog's view.

3. Seeking back for lost article. The article used must be approved by the judge and must not be a conspicuous one nor white in color. The article used shall be dropped surreptitiously by the handler as he is walking with his dog at heel. After the handler has proceeded at least 30 paces from the place where the article was dropped, the dog shall be given the order to "seek back" and must retrieve the article and return with speed. The dog may retrieve either by sight or scent.

4. Stand for examination. Dog to stand with the handler approximately the length of the leash away while the judge touches legs, body, head and tail. Dog must show no resentment. This exercise may be performed either on or off leash.

Obedience Trial sample judging chart, this can be used as a guide for the C.D. and U.D., this is for the Companion Dog Excellent classes

MAXIMUM TOTAL SCORE--200 POINTS
Dog Number
Heel on Leash (25 Points)
Heel Free (40 Points)
Drop on Recall (25 Points)
Retrieve on Flat (30 Points)
Retrieve over Obstacle (40 Points)
Long Jump (25 Points)
Long Sit (30 Points)
Long Down (30 Points)
Total Score
OPEN CLASS "....." WINNERS	First Prize	Second Prize	Third Prize	Fourth Prize

NOTE: The long sit and long down must be done with all dogs in the ring together, with handlers out of sight.

5. Tracking must be performed with dog on leash, the distance to be covered to be not less than one-quarter mile long, the scent to be at least one-half hour old and that of a stranger who will leave the article to be found at the end of the track. The tracks should be plotted on the ground by the stewards on the day previous to the Tracking Test meeting when possible. The tracklayers shall then follow the plotted tracks, deposit the article to be found at the end of the track, and return over the track, collecting the marked pegs on the return journey, one peg not more than 30 yards from the commencement of the track to be left in, to indicate the direction of the track. The tracklayers must not wear rubber soled shoes. The length of leash used in tracking shall be 30 to 40 feet in length and the dog should work at this length with no help from the handler.

6. A word of praise is allowed between tests, but no offering of any kind of food must be given in the ring. At the end of each test the judge should say "Exercise Finished" in order to give the handler this opportunity.

Before a dog shall be permitted the use of the title of "U.D.", signifying "Utility Dog", he must pass a "tracking test". Tracking Tests shall not be permitted at Obedience Trials held as part of and in connection with dog shows. Any club giving an Obedience Trial having a "Utility Class" and not held in connection with a dog show may give a "Tracking Test" at its trial provided the trial is held in open country in which a "Tracking Test" is practicable or any club giving a "Utility Class" may at another time hold a "tracking test" by applying to the Canadian Kennel Club for permission and approval of location and judge, and shall immediately after the test is held forward the results to the Canadian Kennel Club. The Canadian Kennel Club will then issue

"Tracking Test" certificates for the dogs successfully passing such test.

The Canadian Kennel Club will permit the use of the letters "U.D.", signifying "Utility Dog" to be used in connection with and after the name of each dog which shall be certified by Judges to have received scores of 160 or more points in Obedience Utility Classes and in addition there have been awarded a Tracking Test certificate.

The total number of dogs required to compete in the Utility Class and in the Tracking Test, and the number of Obedience Utility Classes in which a dog must receive a score of 160 or more points in order to be permitted to use the letters "U.D.", shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club.

(At present to be permitted to use the letters "U.D." a dog must receive a score of 160 or more points in Utility Classes at three Obedience Trials in each of which classes two or more dogs were competing, and in addition must have been awarded a Tracking Test certificate in a Tracking Test in which three or more dogs were competing.)

The following colors shall be used for prize ribbons in all classes except at sanctioned Obedience Trials:

- First Prize..... Blue
Second Prize..... Red
Third Prize..... White
Fourth Prize..... Yellow

If ribbons are given at sanctioned Obedience Trials they shall be of the following colors:

- First Prize..... Rose
Second Prize..... Brown

"THE ALL-ROUND DOG"—By Lena Shortt

Your Editor, Mrs. McColl refused to take "no" for an answer when she asked me to write on Wire-Haired Fox Terriers for this issue, so here I am but very conscious of my shortcomings as a writer. Naturally I consider the Wire Fox Terrier the all-round dog, they adapt themselves to any environment whether it be in the city or a home of several acres in the country. As I have grown up with them, and have had many experiences both with dogs I have sold, or my own, I can say they are equally at home killing a ground hog, huntings for rabbits, walking on a lead down Broadway, or living in a hotel room for days at a time. Some people who never owned a Wire and a very few who have, think they are too active and high strung. They are active but they are very intelligent and if the owner takes the trouble to raise them correctly they will develop into well-mannered, affectionate dogs without losing their pep.

The Wire-Haired Terrier as I believe most people know is an English breed but I can safely say that in the last few years Canadian and American breeders are breeding stock which can compare very favorably with any of the English breeders. In breeding Wires for show it is easier than in most breeds to pick a promising show prospect at a few months old because a Wire pup at a very early age shows whether they will have a long lean head, hard coat, long neck, correct quarters and straight front. The things we cannot tell are whether a pup will grow too much, and finish up leggy and too big, or stop growing at five months and finish too small. Other faults that may develop are high ears, gay tail, and of course there is the occasional puppy that looks to be a flyer and yet finished without any outstanding quality. A breeder whether he be a novice or of many years' experience has several things to consider,

MISS LENA SHORTT
has bred Wire-haired Fox Terriers for thirty years with success, several champions have emanated from her Vanity Kennels.

such as good points or faults of sire and dam, pedigrees, and one of the most important things—the health and feeding of the dam before whelping and while feeding puppies. We believe in plenty of meat, milk, eggs and with these calcium glutonate tablets. We begin to give puppies meat and milk when three weeks old, gradually adding cereal, (biscuits), vegetables and biscuits. Worming is also very important.

Now we will say we have a puppy about four months old we have picked to keep. As in all other breeds he should now be taught to lead and pose but in the Wire we should also begin to work on coat, trimming the puppy fluff and at the same time teaching the pup to stand still to be worked on. Possibly we have decided on a show when he or she is seven months' old so we take off the body also the head and neck and tail, but leaving whiskers, leg coat and quarters untrimmed but well combed and brushed. About two weeks before the show, take down neck and head and shoulders and make the quarters neat by careful trimming. It is advisable to keep the nails short even as a young pup as this will help to improve feet. When a puppy is fitted for their first show it is a very good idea to notice exactly the length of time he needs to get into A1 condition, usually about eight to ten weeks from the first stripping, and when showing again follow the same procedure. Of course there are some coats that continual trimming can keep in pretty fair show condition. Possibly I have given the impression that it is easy to fit a Wire by following the above method. On the contrary it is hard work and even with all my years of experience I am still seeing little things that I find can be used to advantage. I am sorry to say that Wire Fox Terrier entries have been smaller these last couple of years and possibly one of the reasons is the inability of the novice or small breeder to place their dogs in the ring to compete on equal basis with dogs shown and fitted by experts and big kennels where hours are spent on one dog, trimming every wrong hair. In closing let me say that right now Canadian breeders have a wonderful opportunity to produce some top notch show dogs in the next few years, as there are many well-bred dogs, and high class, well-bred show bitches, and I do hope that when this war is over and the small breeder has more time to give to breeding, fitting and showing we will again have the big entries of a few years ago when thirteen puppies in a class was not unusual. The Wire has never lost its popularity with the general public so let us breeders do our utmost to bring it back to the show ring in quantity as well as quality.

Another proof of EASTER PARADE'S ability of siring WINNERS is Mr. Albert Collin's beautiful bitch, "WYNOT LORRAINE", who went Winners at the last OTTAWA SHOW.

EASTER PARADE'S sire as well as his older brother have each produced four champions, E.P. himself has so far produced TWO full CHAMPIONS and SEVERAL WINNERS with five and more points towards their title. His GET in turn is also producing TOP FLIGHT SHOW STOCK.

His Fee is $25.00.

We just mated our Int. Ch. Crackley Striking bitch to him and Ch. Vivadora Lady of Fairmounts is heavy in whelp to Ch. Westdale Streamline.

THE GREYHOUNDS ARE COMING

By James Coleman

(Courtesy Globe and Mail)

Some one with an eye to the future and an ear to the ground is working on plans for the construction of a new greyhound racing track in the environs of Toronto. The Department of Income Tax should keep a close eye on this gentleman, because, unless we miss our guess, he'll be Canada's first postwar millionaire. Greyhound racing is one spectator sport which hasn't been exploited successfully in Canada, but the man who will attempt it in the near future is almost certain to find that there's gold in them thar fugitives from the hamburger factory.

Greyhound racing is a cinch to be a popular pastime in Canada after the war because Canadian troops who have been stationed in Britain have been exposed to its dubious pleasures.

Our distinguished confrere, Hon. Capt. Ralph Allen, who has been representing this journal in foreign fields, made quite an impression on the home office when his first four or five expense accounts were despatched from England for payment. His hotel bills were relatively modest, but his expenditures under the heading of "Entertainment" caused some raised eyebrows in the accounting department.

In the "Entertainment" column, the Cap'n had listed such gaudy expenditures as:

Princess Irene .....	£25
Duchess of Luxembourg .....	25
Madame Pompadour .....	10

Generally speaking, those of us in the office were rather proud of the Cap'n. Personally, we remembered the Cap'n when he was only a freckle-faced boy playing the trumpet in the Oxbow (Sask.) Boys' Band, and it gave us a pleasant thrill to think of him hob-nobbing with Continental aristocracy. Allen

JAMES COLEMAN,

Sports Editor of the "Globe and Mail", Toronto, is optimistic regarding the future of greyhound racing in Canada. Mr. Coleman is a well-known sportsman and the owner of several race horses, the most prominent Western Prince won the Canadian Derby last year. Born in Winnipeg, and a graduate of McGill University he has gained prominence in the newspaper field during the past eleven years. The following story was gleaned from his column in the "Globe and Mail" always was a toff at heart, though. When the rest of us merely gulped our lager straight, Allen always insisted upon putting a dash of salt into it.

This paper's promotion department had just cabled overseas for photographs of the Cap'n dining with Princess Irene when an expatriated Britisher on the staff received a copy of a London newspaper and discovered that "Princess Irene", "the Duchess of Luxembourg" and "Madame Pompadour" were greyhounds, all of whom had finished in the can at the White City race track on May 30.

Cap'n Allen's expense account was paid, but all of us were saddened by the denouement.

The greyhound men in these parts still are breeding dogs hopefully and last year an extremely successful meeting was held at Guelph. There was parimutuel wagering on the beasts that day, despite the fact that it is forbidden by the Criminal Code of Canada.

The greyhounds are speedy critters and are alleged to be able to knock off 35 miles per hour on the flat and 33 per hour over the hurdles.

According to that jolly bedside companion, The Encyclopaedia Britannica there are statues of greyhounds in Egypt which indicate that the dogs were known there as early as 2000 B.C.

However, none of our Egyptian friends in bookmaking circles on Spadina Avenue know very much about the antecedents of the capering canines. Angus MacFeitelbaum, the three-horse-parlay and no-limit Miami historian, refused to be quoted other than to say that he suspected that there was some greyhound in the last shipment of Philadelphia Hard Salami.

Greyhound racing doubtless will be welcomed by those indignant citizens who invariably blame the jockey when they lose their bets at Dufferin.

And greyhound racing should be welcomed as an alternative sport by those impoverished horseowners. After all, you can keep a greyhound in your bathroom and, even when they're not winning, they don't eat as much as a horse. (Hiya, Broom Time!)

MRS. S. McDOUGAL

ROLPH HERBERT DeLACEY SIM
Who has bred and shown Boston Terriers since nineteen nineteen. Manager of the oldest Industrial Hockey Club in Toronto, he also enjoys fishing and hunting. Mr. Sim has two sons in the Active Service—F/O Jack Sim, and R. Art Sim, who is in the Pacific War Zone. The Boston Terrier fanciers have selected Mr. Sim to judge their breed at the Peel County Show at Hawthorne Lodge, Brampton, on August 12th

A meeting of interested dog fanciers was held in the Blue Room of the King Edward Hotel, in Toronto, for the purpose of forming a dog training club. E. S. McKay was elected as chairman for the inaugural meeting and explained the purpose of the club. Mr. McKay welcomed the fanciers who attended from all parts of the province.

Officers were appointed for 1944: President, E. S. McKay; first vice-president, J. Hayman; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mary Weller. The directors were chosen to represent the six groups of dogs recognized at the shows and were as follows: Working dogs, Cecil Corry, David Fingard, W. Hammerton, the latter will represent the club at London, Ont. Non-Sporting, Walter Kenyon; Sporting, Andrew Dunn, Frank Fallis; Sporting (Hounds), Mrs. M. Cluxton who will also represent the club at Guelph. Toys, Mrs. Audrey Carley and William Harris.

The president appointed a committee to draw up a suitable constitution and Miss Sylvia Pomerlaw was elected to write the lessons to be distributed amongst the members for their guidance. After discussion it was decided to call the club the Canadian Dog Training Club, and the object to foster obedience schools throughout Canada.

Membership fees at two dollars per annum was considered sufficient to finance the club, and show secretaries have been requested to include Obedience Trials at their Fall shows.

Through the generosity of Fred Orpen, of the Metropolitan Racing Association, the grounds at Dufferin Race Park will be available for the schooling of the dogs, with the exception of the weeks when horse racing is scheduled.

Interested fanciers are requested to communicate with Mrs. Mary Weller, 540 Kingston Road for details regarding time and place of the schooling of the dogs.

MARITIME NOTES

By Geoffrey Ryder

At the outset of my notes this month, I must make a correction, and with it, an apology. In my notes last month I referred to the "Atlantic Kennels" of that grand sportsman "Billy" Smith, of course I should have said the "Maritime Kennels", sorry Bill, I won't do it again. And while on the subject of the "Maritime Kennels", when I was down there a few days ago, Bill showed me a grand Irish Terrier bitch he had quite recently purchased from her breeder, Mr. H. S. Burrows, of the Stewartstown Kennels, in Toronto, she is a very promising youngster, sired by Culbarn Comehither out of Ch. Stewartstown Lass and traces, through her dam to the celebrated Ch. Clover Patch Red Particular and Newtonwards Irish Rose, we shall hear more of this one . . . . It would appear that the "Stork" enjoyed a session of "African Golf" recently, while up in the Annapolis Valley Country, for he visited Mrs. Detmolds "Spruce Kennels" and rolled out two "sevens" and the same evening he visited Dr. Paul Webster's Kentville Kennels and rolled an "eleven", to Mrs. Detmolds beautiful Eng. Setter, a daughter of Int. Ch. Sig of Blue Bar, and are sired by Jim Hamilton-Catty's new dog, (but more of him later), this is a perfectly line bred litter, and carry the blood of many outstanding Setters, two crosses of Kandarque Racket's Boy and Ch. Mallhawk Racket's Boy, three crosses of Int. Ch. Pilot of Crombie, and many other well known dogs including Ch. Rummy Boy of Stafboro, Ch. Rose of Stagboro. On the same visit, the second "seven" was to Mrs. Detmolds new love, her Brittany Spaniel Nanette who has a lot of winning field trial blood in her veins, he left a nice litter sired by Bog-a-long of Langoat, by a peculiar coincidence there were four bitches and three dogs in each litter, the same evening he went on to Kentville and to "Doc" Webster's good bitch Kentville Smutty he brought a "dream litter" of eleven, 9 dogs and 2 bitches, these youngsters have a real blueblood for a daddy in no less a person than the record Best in Show winner, Ch. Maro of Maridor, you deserve our commendation "Doc" for your enterprise. Earlier I spoke of Jim Hamilton-Catty's new dog, Jim always has a good one, but I do not think he has ever owned a better one than this, his latest, he is a fine upstanding orange belton, bred by Orrin Jones, of Columbia, Mo., U.S.A., his sire was Ch. Rummy Boy of Stagboro and he is out of Lady Gloris Mallhawk, he is one of the most beautiful Setters I ever saw, a perfect mover, with a gorgeous coat and a sweet headpiece, I venture to predict an outstanding show record for this one, he is just over two years old, and Jim will have lot of fun with him . . . I must close my notes this month on a note of sadness and sympathy for Jim Eldridge, of "Beech Ridge" Kennels, in the loss of his grand little home-bred bitch Gypsy Gem of Bedford, this one was, I believe,

A New Brunswick Item

Geo. T. Kane, the well known judge and fancier, owner of horses and all-round sportsman, is now the owner of the Moosepath Trotting Park on the main highway three miles from Saint John, this is a new departure for the versatile George, and we who know him best as the owner of many top Boston Terriers, and also as a judge of that breed, send him our heartiest good wishes. George will judge the show of the Charlottetown K.C., on Sept. 8th, and the Specialty Show of the Boston Terrier Club of America, at Wakefield, Mass., July 9th.

Flash

As we go to Press we hear that the Hon. L. D. Currie's Am. Ch. Strathglass Craig's Crust was awarded Best in Show at the Specialty Show of the Kerry Blue Club of Canada, in Toronto, July 2nd.

Local Boys Make Good

At the recently held Show of the Progressive Club of Toronto, on June 25th, the Welsh Terrier, Amer. Ch. Strathglass Craig's Crust, owned by the Hon. L. D. Currie, won the Terrier Group and was high in the running for the supreme award. Our heartiest congratulations to L. D. on his grand win, may he have many more of them—and he will!

Also our "congrats" to Jack Sheridan, whose grand solid black Cocker, made it hot going for Best of Breed honours at the same Show, in a field of no less than 75 Cockers, I understand that the judge found it difficult to decide between Jack's dog, Ch. Hiawatha, and the dog that eventually went Best in Show.

FLASH

The Annapolis Valley Kennel Club Show was an outstanding success, and bids fair to become a fixture in the dog show list for many years to come.

Mrs. P. A. Margesen, of Kentville, N.S., judged Best in Show, Messrs. G. D. Anderson and E. V. Turner, the general specials. Groups 1, 3 and 6 were judged by E. V. Turner while G. D. Anderson passed on groups 2, 4 and 5. Best in Show won by the beautiful Cocker Spaniel Ch. Hiawatha, owned by Jack Sheridan, Halifax, N.S., recently returned from a trip to Toronto. Best Canadian-bred in show the English Setter Ch. Spruce Solace owned by James Hamilton-Catty, Kentville, N.S.

Best in Sporting Group the Cocker Spaniel, Ch. Hiawatha, also Best in Show. Hound Group, the Beagle, Beach Grove Wing, owner C. C. Eidt; Working Dogs, Doberman Pinscher Count V. Merkle, of Nova Linvield, owner C. W. Moffatt, Dartmouth, N.S. Best Terrier, Sealyham Terrier St. Margaret's Sinful, owner Miss Alice O'Brien. Best Toy, Pekinese Shagho of Cedar Crest, owner Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Halifax, N.S. Best Non-Sporting the Boston Terrier, Saint's Rest Righto, owner Alden T. Johnson, Halifax, N.S.

With the Maritime Circuit scheduled for September might we draw attention to the two special prizes given by the Canadian Kennel Club to dogs owned by members of the Canadian Kennel Club. Best in Show if owned by a member and Best Canadian Bred if owned by a member carries a cash award of ten dollars each.

NORTHERN ALBERTA NOTES

By L. H. Horncastle

Preliminary arrangements are well under way for the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Fall Show, scheduled for the Palace Gardens on September 11th, with George Kynoch officiating as judge. Expectations are for a larger entry than usually obtained for the Fall show, as this year the date hooks up with an Alberta circuit, commencing with Medicine Hat on Labor Day, Sept. 4th, and Calgary on the 7th and 8th; we understand that Vic Williams, of Vancouver, and Will Judy, of Chicago, will judge these two shows, respectively. Mrs. M. D. Gardner is the secretary of the northern event, with Mrs. Marie Glover as convener, the premium list being in the hands of Miss Mary Lee Tyrell, assuring an attractive array of prizes; the Navy Mothers' League will benefit in the proceeds. We refer you to the advertisement regarding this Alberta circuit, appearing in this issue, and pass on for the consideration of those planning a vacation in September, the attendance at these dates, with the probable side trip to either Banff or Jasper National Park.

We recently paid a visit to the home of S. R. Northwood, south of Coronation, who has a kennel of rough Collies, and at the time of our visit he had three females nursing promising litters, both tri-colored and sable. Mr. Northwood reported more orders for pups than he could supply, having to return several money orders for pups ordered south of the boundary. This gentleman and his wife are very busy people, working around 1,000 acres of his two-section farm, besides having a herd of registered Herefords, milking 26 cows and delivering milk and cream in town, feeding 150 pigs, besides having some turkeys and chickens. Another farmer in this section of Alberta who is raising registered dogs is J. A. McBride, of Benalta, whose fancy is Scottish Terriers. Then there is W. A. Thomson, of Red Deer, who we understand specializes in Springers and Retrievers, with training his specialty. We notice several other names on the list of C. K. C. members who reside at rural points in Northern Alberta, whom we hope at a future date to meet. It would be nice if the members residing at outside points could be induced to come into Edmonton for the periodical visit of Mr. H. P. Saunders.

We are pleased to note that Jack Young is again back in the dog game, following a few years of retirement from active activities, he having recently imported a German Shepherd from the Longworth Kennels at Allegan, Mich. This is a young female sired by Ch. Marlo von Hoheluft out of Nyx of Longworth, and has three lines of Int. Ch. Pheffer von Bern.

Mary Lee Tyrell is proudly exhibiting two litters of Kerries, one being sired by the California dog Int. Ch. Blue King 2nd, the dam being Princeton Blondie, an English importation, the other litter is by her own champion mated to Shuga Shanrahan.

TERRIERS IN ALBERTA

By H. P. Saunders

Alberta can boast of some real Terrier enthusiasts, perhaps the oldest of the present-day generation is the members of the old firm Quilley & Caswell, of Edmonton, Alberta, who have added considerable to the Terrier game for a number of years. Billey Quilley was the authority on Wires, Smooths and Scotties, Joe Caswell was tops on Irish Terriers and English Curly Coats. They now conduct separate kennels; Quilley heads the NorWest Kennels and Caswell heads Varscona, both names to be conjured with, and long may they be spared to assist in building up Western Canadian dog shows.

Mary D. Gardner owns and operates her kennel under the Felbourne banner. She is an authority on Terriers of all breeds and especially does she excel with Sealyhams, Scotties and Wires.

Mary Lee Tyrrell, of Edmonton, does not take a back seat for anybody when it comes to Kerry Blues and Bedlington. She owns and operates Shanrahan Kennels in conjunction with her husband George Girvin.

J. G. Young is a keen admirer of Sealies and for many years our keyman in Alsations.

Eva Graham has a kennel of Wires in Edmonton and can be counted on to make the competition of the very keenest.

You can depend upon Calgarians to take their Terriers to any show within reasonable distance from their home city. Mrs. Dr. MacNab owns and operates a kennel of Kerry Blues that are real "typey", she shows her stock at all the major shows within reach and has had the extreme satisfaction of winning in the hottest competition.

Jack Brooks, a Wire Specialist, is now shipping his stock across the line and has had some very glowing accounts about the quality he sends. Jack is really up and coming, and one of the best sports around these parts. He has the right idea of getting the choicest foundation stock.

Miss A. E. Beggs adheres strictly to Scotties and she has mapped out a breeding program that will surely take her places. Her latest addition is a litter by Int. Ch. Dorel Black Nugget—every one a future contender.

Bill Pratt would not own anything but a Scottie and he very fortunately got in on the right foot; very seldom has a fancier gone from scratch to the fame he now enjoys, in so short a time. He certainly got the right blood lines to boost him up, and I know he intends to keep climbing.

Bill Forrest, now easily the Dean of Scottie Fanciers, Breeders, and Exhibitors, went right across the pond and selected his material to found his kennel of Scotties.

Mr. Williams, of Shouldice Park, another Terrier fan in our midst has some very classy Fox Terriers and also some Scotties. A son of Viceroy heads the Scottie section and he is leaving some fine pups.

Mrs. Novack, of Medicine Hat, specializes in Kerry Blues. She has lately sent one of her females to be mated to one of the best dogs on the continent.

S. R. Swepson, another fan who specializes in Scotties went out to Bert Forrest's Kennels and when he returned he was in possession of a Tayside pup that is making history.

Mr. and Mrs. Shillinglaw, of Calgary, sent across the line for their Scottie male and then bought some females from Bill Pratt and are now getting their dogs ready for the big circuit in the Fall.

Mr. Schofield, of Calgary, another Terrier fan, is one of the very quiet kind, and Mrs. Smith, of Calgary, another Scottie fan has some real nice stock.

— So Come and Visit Us

MANITOBA GOSSIP

By Alex Gostick

September 8th and 9th are the dates set aside for the Fort Garry Club's 25th anniversary show, with the well known and popular Alf Loveridge as the appointed Judge.

Twenty-five years devoted unselfishly to the interests of pure-bred dogs is a highly worth-while achievement, twenty-five years, during which time the Club has steadfastly encouraged and helped the Novice and Amateur fancier. Many of the original members have passed on or gone into retirement but the theory they held and practiced is strongly instilled in its present membership and officers. The Fort Garry folks are mighty proud of their record and they want you people, East and West, to come and celebrate their anniversary with them, you'll be assured of a Western welcome, a run for your money and an expert's rating of your dogs.

Pot-Pourri

It may be that some of you folks, not being Cocker Fanciers, passed over Elsie Mayhew's article in the last edition titled "Cocker Spaniels". If you are one of these we would suggest you turn back to it, because there's a lesson for all dog fanciers in it. It will give you courage to go at your breeding programme more sincerely, it will shame you out of taking long short cuts to success, by the process of using the "Color line" to make points easier to acquire. We heard Miss Mayhew make a very earnest appeal to Cocker breeders to get down to serious breeding when she spoke at the annual meeting in February, to the motion in favor of establishing a point rating for Red. Her words were to the effect that while the Reds were definitely not holding their own against the Blacks, it behove the breeders of Reds, and she is one of them, to get down to serious breeding, and look to the day when their enterprise would bring them the necessary points in competition, rather than take the easy route, and gain a championship on a basis of color. That way cannot possibly strengthen this breed as a whole, it can make more less desirable champions. If 70% of the Cocker breeders were as courageous in their breeding ideals as Miss Mayhew, it is not hard to imagine, to what extent the "Cocker Spaniel" as a dual purpose dog would benefit.

Another article worthy of some study is Maxwell Riddle's "Common Sense Judging", a good place for it is your favorite scrapbook, so that when you come home from one of those shows where nothing back of the ears appealed to the judge you can re-read it, and remind yourself that there are "all-over" Judges. We would appreciate the privilege of quoting a couple of the more prominent statements from this article.

"There is too great a tendency among Judges to condemn dogs for minor faults rather than to look for true quality". "All over quality would suit the occasion better. Exhibitors sometimes express amazement that I attach importance to a dry lip in a sporting dog."

We recall some fanciers howling to high heaven at a recent show, when the Judge called a Pointer to have too much lip. Such a thing couldn't possibly be, they said.

"How often do you hear someone speak in horror of a good dog being too throaty. Throatiness is a mar to beauty, but we never heard of it preventing a dog from winding its game."

All of these remarks recall our own pet theme, "over done fadism."

Dogs in Canada, has given us some worthwhile articles in recent issues, articles that will tend to make better dog fanciers of us all.

MASS BUYING

Ted Hicks of Lindsay sold $400 worth of Victory Bonds in less time than it takes to tell. It happened when a man operating a small business on Kent St. announced he wanted a $50 bond apiece for himself, his wife and their six children.

PACIFIC NOTES

By Dollie Wall

Several weeks ago I had the pleasure of going to Victoria and spending the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Creasey, who have just imported five beautiful Pekingese from Hollywood. All of these dogs will add greatly to competitors in the show ring and help considerably in improving our stock.

We also learn A. L. and Mrs. Minet have imported a young Kerry Blue female of the Sirane blood lines. Their home-bred Camargh O'Shoorn was Best of Breed at the last Victoria show, May 17, in very stiff competition.

In order to help maintain the interests in breeding and exhibiting purebred dogs the Vancouver Exhibitors' Association will sponsor an all-breed dog show on Labor Day, September 4th, to be held in the Forum building at the Exhibitors' Park. We look forward to this show of exhibitor's standard and wish it great success.

If any one having news of interest to our readers would in future kindly get in touch with your writer we will see that all items are sent to the Editor.

In my notes for the July issue there appeared a typographical error, the sentence should have read: "In Vancouver, on May 24th, the gate was especially large, although this show usually does draw a large attendance of both exhibitors and spectators".

BEST CANADIAN BRED IN SHOW

In the lower box on the entry forms for the dog shows there is written a question—"Are you a member in good standing of the Canadian Kennel Club?" This is a most important question, as it assist the secretary of the show in determining the dogs eligible to compete for the two awards of ten dollars each given by the Canadian Kennel Club.

Not only does the Canadian Kennel Club give to its members the facilities of the organization, plus a fifty per cent reduction in registration and transfer, plus free registration of a litter if noticed within sixty days, plus the official organ Dogs in Canada, but also the twenty dollars prize money at each show and assistance to the show-giving clubs.

The following are the BEST CANADIAN BRED DOG OR BITCH IN SHOW from April 7th, 1944, to July 2nd, 1944:

Saskatoon Kennel Club, April 7th—ELMHILL ENVOY IN BLACK, Collie, owner Dr. J. T. Cooper, Saskatoon. Also BEST IN SHOW.

Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club, April 10—STRA'VEN ADMIRAL, Wire Haired Fox Terrier, owner Wm. Semple, Regina, Sask.

London Canine Association, April 15th—MERRYMAN OF WARWICK, Cocker Spaniel, owner Miss Mildred Dagger, Unionville, Ont. Also BEST IN SHOW.

Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association, April 19th—LADDIE OF MOYRA, Springer Spaniel, owner Mrs. Jean Williams, Vancouver, B.C.

CAMARGH O'SHOOR

Kerry Blue Terrier, bred and owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. Minet of Vancouver, B.C., placed Best of Breed at the Victoria City Kennel Club Show on May 17th, 1944

Windsor Kennel Club, April 16th—INT. CH. KURRAM EL MYIA, Afghan Hound, owner Mrs. E. R. Matchett, West Hill, Ont.

Victoria City Kennel Club, May 17th—ECLYPSE OF TYNEDEALE, Wire Haired Fox Terrier, owner Joseph Dodds, Vancouver, B.C. Also BEST IN SHOW.

Greater Winnipeg Kennel Club, May 19th and 20th—CH. LADDIE OF FAIRMONT, Irish Setter, owner E. H. Jones, Winnipeg.

Guelph Kennel Club, May 20th—CH. RENCO VON MANNERHEIM, Doberman Pinscher, owner Mr. and Mrs. H. Reynolds, Toronto, Ont.

International Kennel Club of Vancouver, May 24th—LADDIE OF MOYRA, Springer Spaniel, owner Mrs. Jean Williams, Vancouver, B.C.

Ottawa Kennel Club, May 27th—EDSWYRE SUPERMAN, Wire Haired Fox Terrier, owner Ted Ward, Clarkson, Ont. Also BEST IN SHOW.

London Kennel Club, June 10th—KRASNA BORIS OF RADZIWELE, Borzoi, owner Mrs. M. Cluxton, Guelph, Ont.

Progressive Kennel Club Show, June 24th—CH. KEMPSTON MORAVIAN AJAX, English Bulldog, owner W. Brown, Toronto, Ont.

Irish Terrier Fanciers' Association, All Terrier Show, July 1st—EDSWYRE SUPERMAN, Wire Haired Fox Terrier, owner Ted Ward, Clarkson, Ont. Also BEST IN SHOW.

Kerry Blue Terrier Club of Canada, All Terrier Show, July 2nd—KINDON BLUE CHAMPAGNE, Kerry Blue Terrier, owner Mrs. G. H. Conquergood, Toronto, Ont.

AN AMERICAN VISITOR TO CANADA

By Margaret Megahan

*So you'd like to know what we found one day
At the end of a trip on the Queen's Highway?*

To tell you what we found we should tell you perhaps how we happened to be on the Queen's Highway at all, Marlo and I, on Friday, June 2nd, 1944. The reason goes back several years, to the day when The Shepherd Dog Review first came to our house and I began to read the items signed RAM—in which seemed to be reflected the real love of our Shepherd breed, the real good sportsmanship, and the real good friendship that one likes to believe this hobby of ours should produce. The more I read of the Canadian dog clubs and the more I wished sometime to exhibit my dog in Canada, the more I wished to see for myself if these people were really as near tops as they sounded. That's how we happened to be in Canada, on June 3rd, at the Hamilton show. We went with hopes, naturally, of starting on a Canadian title, for Marlo already had his American Championship. In other words we went as a serious competitor for top honors. As such I can imagine many groups where we might not have been too welcome.

It was a cool, clear, windy day—ideal for a show. There were 17 Shepherds there, three of them American-bred, and those three took home from a Canadian show all the top honors—Winners dog and Winner bitch, Reserve Winners Dog and Best of Breed—and I did not see on the face of a single exhibitor disgruntlement at the decisions, or hear a word of criticism. From the moment that we walked into the show, complete strangers, until we left it, we were treated as friends and welcome guests.

You, who were evidently friends of long standing, had planned dinner together at a club—it would have been perfectly easy to say a cordial goodbye to us before you left, but you invited us along—so our first visit to a Canadian show ended with a delightful evening, plenty of good natured fun and a welcome to us, outsiders, the sincerity of which no one could doubt.

We talked about you as we came back over the Queen's Highway—we couldn't help but speak of what good sports you are, good winners and good losers—we spoke of how, at least at the one show of our experience in Canada, the spirit seemed one of good natured competition among friends rather than of professional rivalry. We said we had not been wrong when we thought you must be "tops" and that we hoped some day to come again and know you better. We want to travel the Queen's Highway again some day because we found at the end of our first trip over it, real people with a real love for their dogs, and a real and deep interest in the breed they happen to choose.

BRUCE McRAE AND JACK SHERIDAN met at the Progressive show in Toronto. Mr. McRae of Toronto owns Defender of Wilmarry II and Mr. Sheridan of Halifax owns his litter brother, Ch. Hiawatha, who won Best in Show at Annapolis Valley Kennel Club, July 15th. The similarity in type was noticeable and called for this snapshot. The dogs were imported from Ray Wilcox of Greensboro, N.C.

Best Conditioned Dog At Crufts Show

Owner Wins Cup Third Time

Three times, Mrs. M. Langdon-Thomas has won the "Petanelle" Challenge Cup, awarded each year at Cruft's for best-conditioned dog in show. Each time, the winning dog was conditioned with Karswood Powders.

She writes:

"At Cruft's Show yesterday my home-bred Pomeranian 'Ch. Perivale Wee Memento', was awarded the 'Petanelle' Challenge Cup for the best-conditioned dog, all breeds, in show."

"This is the third time one of my dogs has won this cup at Cruft's, and I feel sure that my continual success is due to Karswood Dog Powders. I always make certain my dogs are in Perfect condition by giving them Karswood Powders."

Karswood Powders are an excellent tonic for dogs of all sizes and breeds.

Alva McColl, who was right there, nominating Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davies, who came 20 miles in terrible storm in car to pick up dog—house and feed him for the night, fetch him to show next day in real shape—and were offended when I asked charges. Real friends, of the many I made at show! Met Bruce McRae, Stan Jones, who were getting a big kick out of it. Bruce showed and Stan advised, good team and swell guys. Bill Price doing a nice, methodical and consistent job; had a tough class, and don't let anybody kid anyone he had a bed of roses. Dogs were the real goods; bitches were only fair; (Canadian breeders will have to get better bitches). A lady, Mrs. Chapman, and her daughter, on bench next to me, could not do enough for me, and fed and watered the dog and looked after him all day, while I walked around looking things over. These are real friends (lets all be that way at the shows), and maybe they weren't pulling for me. I know they were, my thanks to them. Dick Heppleston with perennial bow, looking for long necks and good shoulders. Good old Dick (what would shows be without these guys). Andy Dunn and Walter Reeves, discussing gun-dogs, letting down our Cockers. Wallie Reeves also agreeing on best Canadian Bred at shows (maybe a change here). I saw a dog from my own city take Terrier group. Was the owner excited! Towards close started looking for taxi, got one; only to meet Mr. McKay with an Irish Setter, who told me something for not looking him up sooner. Next time I will.

The thrill of showing for first time in fast company; I knew I had a chance. Mr. Price sure gave them a thorough going over, looking for weak spots. Would liked to have won (don't we all). Gave Hiawatha five hot-dogs (buns included) and believe it or not a cup of coffee; he had a hard trip. On Sunday we started for home, thrilled one minute, disappointed the next. Arrived home tired, but glad I went. Will be back again sometime soon I hope with a bitch (Heppleston take note). Made some real friends. Mrs. Hamilton, with her always good showing, and a real sport, gave me an invitation which I hope to accept next time. Jim Haig rushing hither, thither and yon, taking away some firsts. The two old chaps putting up benching, and kidding one another—real wise-crackers, (hope I'm happy as they when as old). Alva McColl at ring-side studying, studying, and studying. Mr. Broley with a real dog, perhaps a flyer, a nice one anyway, and the hundreds of others, whose names I don't know. Lets all be the same, start the same line, and may the best dog win. The friends we dog fanciers have are innumerable. Lets all keep friendly and play the game. Life's so short, be good winners and good losers—above all lets be fair.

"J. P. S."

P.S.—All our dogs have a little something wrong with them.

DOG OWNERS TELL HOW "REX OIL" CLEARS UP SUMMER ECZEMA

REX OIL TREATS THE CAUSE!

- D.M.W. "My dogs were nearly hairless. Given Rex Oil, in seven days' time, their hair had grown an inch. In two weeks, the hair was actually sleek and shiny."
- L.M.C. "My dogs were bothered with eczema. In a month after giving Rex Oil it was cleared up."
- O.D.V. "My dog had a bad case of eczema. I gave her Rex Oil. It cured her."
- M.L. "I have found no product equal to Rex Oil for improvement in coats—makes them thicker and glossier."
- E.Z. "I wish you could see the change in their coats since I have been feeding Rex Oil. Their coats shine like a bottle."

When your dog has eczema, dandruff or scale it means he is sick inside as well as outside. These skin troubles are symptoms of a lack of essential fatty acids in his diet. Rex Wheat Germ Oil is one of the richest known sources of the unsaturated fats essential to a healthy coat and skin.

4 oz.—enough to keep your dog's coat in superb condition for six months—$1.25. 20 oz. $5.00. At pet shops, feed, seed and drug stores.

WELSH TERRIERS

Description and Standard of Points

Head.—The skull should be flat and rather wider between the ears than the Wire-haired Fox Terrier. The jaw should be powerful, clean-cut, rather deep, and more punishing — giving the head a more masculine appearance than that usually seen on a Fox Terrier. Stop not too defined, fair length from stop to end of nose, the latter being of a black color.

Ears.—The ears should be V-shaped small, not too thin, set on fairly high, carried forward and close to the cheek.

Eyes.—The eye should be small, not being too deeply set in or protruding out of skull, of dark hazel color, expressive and indicating abundant pluck.

Neck.—The neck should be of moderate length and thickness, slightly arched and sloping gracefully into the shoulders.

Body.—The back should be short, and well-ribbed up, the loin strong, good depth, and moderate width of chest. The shoulders should be long, sloping, and well set back. The hindquarters should be strong, thighs muscular and of good length, with the hocks moderately straight, well let down, and fair amount of bone. The stern should be set on moderately high, but not too gaily carried.

Legs and Feet.—The legs should be straight and muscular, possessing fair amount of bone, with upright and powerful pasterns. The feet should be small, round and catlike.

Coat.—The coat should be wiry, hard, very close and abundant.

Color.—The color should be black and tan, or black grizzle and tan, free from black pencilling on toes.

Size.—The height at shoulder should be 15 inches for dog, bitches proportionately less. Twenty pounds shall be considered a fair average weight in working condition, but this may vary a pound or so either way.

CAIRN TERRIERS

Description and Standard of Points

General appearance.—To be a game, alert, fearless, small Terrier. To be shaggy, hardy, active and well proportioned. To be strongly but not heavily built. To stand well forward on forefeet. To have strong hindquarters and to be deep in the rib. Coat to be harsh, resisting rain. Head to be wedge-shaped and well furnished with hair.

Skull.—Broad in proportion, with a decided indentation between the eyes.

Muzzle.—Powerful yet not heavy. Jaw very strong with large teeth neither undershot nor overshot. Nose black.

Eyes.—Set wide apart. To be medium in size, dark and keen. To be rather sunken, with shaggy eyebrows.

Ears.—Small, pointed, widely set, well carried and erect.

Tail.—Short, well furnished with hair but not feathery. To be carried gayly but not to curl down toward back.

Body.—Compact. Level back, well-sprung deep ribs, strong sinews and very strong hindquarters. Back to be medium in length and well coupled.

Shoulders, Legs and Feet.—A sloping shoulder and a medium length of leg; good but not too heavy bone. Forelegs not to be out at elbows, but forefeet may be slightly turned out. Forefeet larger than hindfeet. Thin, ferret feet most objectionable. Pads to be thick and strong. Legs to be covered with hard hair.

Coat.—Very important. Must be double with profuse, harsh, but not coarse outer coat and short, close, furry undercoat. Head to be well furnished.

Color.—Any, except white. Black points typical.

Ideal weight.—Dogs, 12 to 15 pounds; bitches, 11 to 13 pounds.

Faults

Muzzle.—Undershot or overshot.

Eyes.—Too prominent and large.

Ears.—Too large or rounded at tips, or too heavily furnished with hair.

Coat.—Silky or curly. A slight wave permissible.

Disqualification.—Flesh-colored nose.

Shoulders and Chest.—Shoulders long and sloping well into the back, shoulderblades flat. Chest deep, but not broad.

Body.—Back short, strong and straight. Ribs well sprung.

Hindquarters.—Strong and muscular, with no droop. Hocks well let down. The tail set on high and carried gaily, but not curled over the back.

Legs and Feet.—Legs perfectly straight, with plenty of bone. Feet small and round, with a good depth of pad.

Coat.—Hard and wiry, and not so long as to appear ragged; it should also lie straight and close, covering the dog well all over the body and legs.

Color.—The head and ears, with the exception of dark markings on each side of skull, should be tan, the ears being of a darker shade than the rest, the legs up to the thighs and elbows also tan, the body black or dark grizzle.

Size.—Dogs, 40 to 50 pounds weight. Bitches slightly less.

It is the unanimous opinion of the Airedale Terrier Club of America that the size of the Airedale Terrier as given in the above standard is one of, if not the most important, characteristics of the breed; all judges who shall henceforth adjudicate on the merits of the Airedale Terrier shall consider the undersized specimens of the breed severely handicapped when competing with dogs of the standard weight.

A $64 Question

Are you interested in how many Champions any given kennel has OWNED, or do you base your evaluation on how many Champions the actual breeding stock of any kennel has PRODUCED — and is still producing?

The country home of Saints Rest Bostons.

In the recent 5-year period, sons and daughters of Saints Rest studs or broods, have completed 1 Int. Championship, 4 U.S. Championships, 3 Canadian Championships, with several more well on their way. The Championship points awarded are almost equal the total obtained by the PRODUCED stock of all major Boston kennels in Eastern Canada combined. The fourth and fifth generation of Saints Rest OWN stock is now winning in the show-rings.

We offer for show-ring competition ONLY such Bostons as have been produced by Saints Rest OWN brood females, by Saints Rest OWN studs, or related bloodlines.

We do not purchase and exhibit show-specimens that are foreign to our OWN established stock and bloodlines, in order to use their wins as a "false front" for our actual kennel operations.

With us, Bostons are a hobby. Our motivating thought is for breed improvement only. Aptly, we quote from the recent book, "Fifty Years Of Boston Terriers"—

"Commercialism in itself, is no cause for criticism. The menace to a breed is apt to be found in those who subordinate this urge towards perfection, to less worthy motives—more interested in receiving a check than in improving the breed."

Fortunately for the future of the Boston breed, the majority of Boston fanciers feel as we do. Breeders whose sincerity and integrity leads them to win in show-ring competition using Bostons that are produced almost entirely from their own stock. Or breeders who have recognized the Champion-producing qualities of Saints Rest bloodlines, and have either purchased or bred accordingly, with the honest thought of breed improvement.

With them, as with us, the Boston fancy may purchase or breed, with complete confidence in the PROVEN quality of the stock they are obtaining.

KEEP DOGS WELL!

When your dog is listless—doesn't want to eat or play—he's out of condition and needs DISTEMPOUT (On-The-Nose). Just a dab on his nose—he licks it all off, and soon (often the same day) is all set to go again. Dog and cat lovers have used Distempout (On-The-Nose) successfully for over 23 years. Don't be without it. A large tube costs only $1.00 and lasts a long time. It's a true friend when danger strikes.

OTHER "TESTED" PRODUCTS

NOSE LAX—a companion product, is a mild Laxative given by the famous On-The-Nose method. Avoid muss and bother of giving oils, powders or pills. In handy tube, only 50c.

BALSA-PERU aids healing, either fresh, or old stubborn cuts or bites. Made of Balsam of Peru, Lanolin, etc. It soothes, relieves pain and smarting, and starts nature's healing processes. Also good for Humans. In handy tubes, only 50c. Ask your Dealer or order direct.

Skull.—Flat, very slight stop.

Jaws.—Strong and deep, nearly level with cheeks.

Mouth.—Even, strong, level teeth; roof black; teeth undershot or overshot; highly objectionable.

Nose.—Black, nostrils large and wide.

Ears.—Not too heavy, V-shaped; carried forward towards the eye.

Eyes.—Dark or dark to hazel, medium size and well placed.

Neck.—Well proportioned; well set on shoulders and moderately long.

Shoulders and Front.—Shoulders fine and sloping to the body and well knit.

Chest.—To be deep and of moderate width.

Back.—Strong and straight, medium length, well coupled.

Loins.—Broad and powerful.

Ribs.—Fairly well sprung, deep rather than round.

Hindquarters.—Strong and muscular, showing good development, thighs powerful. Hocks, strong and near to the ground. Dewclaws a disqualification.

Feet.—Strong and fairly round, toe nails black. Cracked pads a possible disqualification.

Forelegs.—Straight, plenty of bone and muscle.

Tail.—Of medium length, carried gaily, but not carried over the back.

Color.—Any shade of blue from light to dark; slight tan or other foreign markings allowable up to the age of 18 months, after which tan and other markings, outside of black, to constitute a disqualification.

Coat.—Silky, weather resisting; the head and feet should be clear, the body well coated but tidy. The whole of the coat must be groomed to exemplify all of the definite Terrier qualifications and characteristics.

General Appearance.—Active, hardy and wiry, with plenty of substance, indicating strength without clumsiness. Must show gameness and intelligence.

Serious Defects.—Weak mouth and jaw, bumpy cheeks, white toe nails, light eyes.

Disqualifications.—Faking or dyeing.

SCOTTISH TERRIERS

Description and Standard of Points

Skull.—Proportionately long, slightly domed, and covered with short, hard hair, about three-quarters of an inch long or less. It should not be quite flat as there should be a sort of stop, or drop between the eyes.

Muzzle.—Very powerful and gradually tapering toward the nose, which should always be black, and of a good size. The jaws should be perfectly level and the teeth square, though the nose projects somewhat over the mouth, which gives the impression of the upper jaw being longer than the under one.

Eyes.—Set wide apart, of a dark hazel color; small, piercing, very bright and rather sunken.

Ears.—Very small, prick or half-prick, but never drop. They should be sharp pointed but not cut. The hair on them should not be long, but velvety. The ears should be free from any fringe at the top.

Neck.—Short, thick and muscular, strongly set on sloping shoulders.

Chest.—Broad in comparison to the size of the dog, and proportionately deep.

Body.—Of moderate length, not so long as a Skye's and rather flat-sided, but well ribbed up and exceeding strong in hindquarters.

Legs and feet.—Both fore and hind-legs should be short and very heavy in bone, the former being straight or slightly bent and well set on under the body, as the Scotch Terrier should not be out at elbows. The hocks should be bent, and the thighs very muscular; the feet strong and thickly covered with short hair, the forefeet being larger than the hind ones, and well let down on the ground.

Tail.—Which is never cut, should be about 7 inches long, carried with a slight bend, and often gaily.

Coat.—Should be rather short, about 2 inches, intensely hard and wiry in texture and very dense all over the body.

Size.—About 16 pounds to 18 pounds for a bitch, and 18 pounds to 20 pounds for a dog.

Colors.—Steel or iron-gray, brindled or grizzled, black, sandy and wheaten. White markings are objectionable and can only be allowed on the chest, and that to a small extent.

General Appearance.—The face should wear a very sharp, bright, active expression and the head should be carried up. The dog, owing to the shortness of his coat, should appear to be higher on the leg than he really is, but at the same time he should look compact and possessed of great muscle in the hind-quarters. In fact, a Scottish Terrier, though essentially a Terrier, cannot be too powerfully put together. He should be from 9 inches to 12 inches in height.

Faults

Muzzle.—Either under or overhung.

Eyes.—Large or light-colored.

Ears.—Large, round to the points, or drop. It is also a fault if they are too heavily covered with hair.

Coat.—Any silkiness, wave or tendency to curl is a serious blemish, as is also an open coat.

Size.—Any specimens over 20 pounds should not be encouraged.

It should be the spirit and purpose of the judge in deciding the relative merits of two or more dogs to consider the approximation of nature to the standard rather than the effect of artificiality.

SEALYHAM TERRIERS

Description and Standard of Points

The Sealyham should be the embodiment of power and determination in a Terrier. Of extraordinary substance for his size, yet free from clumsiness.

Head.—The skull, unusually wide between the ears, slightly rounded, and domed with practically no stop and a light indentation running down between the brows. Long, powerful, level jaws, the upper finishing in a large black nose with wide nostrils. Brown or butterfly nose a very bad fault.

Body.—Comparatively short between back of neck and set-on of tail, but of good length from the junction of the humerus and shoulder-blades to the back of the hindquarters, thus giving great flexibility. Very deep, well ribbed up with comparatively wide front, the chest let well down between the forelegs, giving large heart and lung room (the latter being very important for a dog that has to stay long underground).

Coat.—Dense undercoat, the top coat being hard and wiry.

Ears.—Of medium size, set low and carried closely against cheek.

Hindquarters.—Wide and massive, with strong second thighs, stifles well bent, and hocks well let down.

Legs.—Short, heavily boned, the forelegs as straight as is consistent with the body being well let down between them.

Feet.—Of medium size, round with thick pads and very strong nails. The forefeet being larger though not quite so long as the hind.

Eyes.—Set somewhat wide apart, of medium size and dark or dark hazel.

Teeth.—Strong, large, square and white; the canines fitting closely between each other. Undershot or overshot jaw very undesirable.

Neck.—Of good length but extremely strong and muscular.

Tail.—Docked and carried gaily.

Color.—Coat to be all white with lemon, tan, brindle or badger-pied markings on head and ears. Heavy markings on body undesirable.

Size.—Between 8 and 12 inches at the shoulder. Dogs should weigh from 18 to 22 pounds, bitches from 16 to 20 pounds.

Faults.—Overweight, light eyes, light bone, jaws overshot or undershot, brown or butterfly nose, heavy marking on body.

IRISH TERRIER

Description and Standard of Points

Head.—Long; skull flat, and rather narrow between ears, getting slightly narrower towards the eye; free from wrinkles; stop hardly visible except in profile. The jaw must be strong and muscular, but not too full in the cheek, and of a good punishing length. There is a slight falling away below the eye, so as not to have a Greyhound appearance. Hair on face of same description as on body, but short (about a quarter of an inch long), in appearance almost smooth and straight; a slight beard is permissible, the only longish hair (and it is only long in comparison with the rest).

Teeth.—Strong and level.

Lips.—Not so tight as a Bull Terrier's, but well fitting, showing through the hair their black lining.

Nose.—Black.

Eyes.—A dark hazel color, small, not prominent, but full of life, fire, and intelligence.

Ears.—Small and V-shaped, of moderate thickness, set well on the head, and dropping forward closely to the cheek. The ear free of fringe, and the hair thereon shorter and darker in color than the body.

Neck.—A fair length, gradually widening towards the shoulders, well

IRISH TERRIERS

carried, and free of throatiness. There is generally a slight sort of frill visible at each side of the neck, running nearly to the corner of the ear.

Shoulders.—Fine, long and sloping well into the back; the chest deep and muscular, but neither full nor wide.

Body.—Moderately long; back strong and straight, with no appearance of slackness behind the shoulders; the loin broad and powerful and slightly arched; ribs fairly sprung, rather deep than round, and well ribbed back.

Hindquarters.—Strong and muscular, the thighs powerful, hocks near the ground, stifles moderately bent.

Stern: Generally docked; free of fringe or feather, but well covered with rough hair, set on pretty high, carried gaily, but not over the back or curled.

Feet.—Neither turned out nor in, strong, tolerably round, and toes moderately small, arched. Black toenails most desirable. Legs moderately long, well set from the shoulders, perfectly straight, with plenty of bone and muscle; the elbows working freely clear of the sides; pasterns short and straight, hardly noticeable. Both fore and hind legs move straight forward when traveling, the stifles not turned outwards, the legs free of feather and covered, like the head, with as hard a texture of coat as body, but not so long.

Coat.—Hard and wiry, free of softness or silkiness, not so long as to hide the outlines of the body, particularly in the hindquarters, straight and flat, no shaginess, lock or curls. Whole colored. The most preferable bright red, red-wheaten, or yellow-red. White sometimes appears on the chest and feet; it is more objectionable on the feet than on the chest. A speck of white on chest is frequently to be seen on all self-colored breeds. The most desirable weight in show conditions is 27 lbs. for a dog, and 25 lbs. for a bitch. The dog must present an active, lively, lithe and wiry appearance; substance without clumsiness, as speed and endurance, as well as power, are very essential. Dogs must be neither "cloddy nor cobby".

SKYE TERRIERS

Description and Standard of Points

Head.—Long, with powerful jaws and incisive teeth closing level, or upper just fitting over under.

Skull.—Wide at front of brow, narrowing between ears, and tapering gradually towards muzzle, with little falling in between or behind the eyes.

SKYE TERRIER

Eyes.—Hazel, medium size, close set.

Muzzle.—Always black.

Ears (Prick or Pendant).—When prick, not large, erect at outer edges, and slanting towards each other at inner, from peak to skull. When pendant, larger, hanging straight, lying flat, and close at front.

Body.—Pre-eminently long and low. Shoulders broad, chest deep, ribs well sprung and oval-shaped, giving flattish appearance to sides. Hindquarters and flank full and well developed. Back level and slightly declining from top of hip joint to shoulders. Neck long and gently crested.

Tail.—When hanging, upper half perpendicular, under half thrown backwards in a curve. When raised, a prolongation of the incline of the back, and not rising higher nor curling up.

Legs.—Short, straight, and muscular. No dewclaws. Feet large and pointing forwards.

Coat (Double).—An under, short, close, soft and woolly. An over, long—averaging 5½ inches—hard, straight, flat and free from crisp or curl.

Hair on head.—Shorter, softer, and veiling forehead and eyes; on ears, overhanging inside, falling down and mingling with side locks, not heavily, but surrounding the ear like a fringe, and allowing its shape to appear. Tail also gracefully feathered.

Color.—(Any Variety). Dark or light blue or grey, or fawn with black points. Shade of head and legs approximating that of body.

Dog.—Height at shoulder, 9 inches. Length, back of skull to root of tail, 23½ inches. Length, muzzle to back of skull, 8½ inches. Length, root of tail to top joint, 9 inches. Total length, 41 inches.

Bitch.—Half an inch lower, and two and a half inches shorter than dog, all parts proportional; thus, body 22 inches, head 8½ inches, and tail 8½; total, 39 inches.

MINIATURE SCHNAUZER

Description and Standard of Points

General Impression.—The Schnauzer is a robust, sinewy, more heavy set than slender dog, of somewhat rectangular build. His nature combines high-spirited temperament with extreme reliability.

Head.—Strong and elongated, gradually narrowing from the ears to the eyes and thence towards the tip of the nose, in proportion to the size of the body. Its total length (tip of nose to occiput) should compare approximately to ⅓ the length of the back (withers—first dorsal vertebra—to the beginning of the tail). Upper part of the head (occiput to the base of the forehead) broad between the ears—its width should not be more than two-thirds of the length—with flat creaseless forehead and well muscled, but not too strongly developed cheeks. Ears small and V-shaped of moderate thickness set well on the head and dropping forward closely to the cheek. Eyes medium sized, dark oval, turned forward, brows arched and wiry.

The powerful ferreting snout, formed by the upper and lower jaw (base of forehead to the tip of nose) should be in proportion to the upper head and should end in a moderately blunt manner, with long, heavy, stubby whiskers. Ridge of the nose straight and running almost parallel to the extension of the forehead. The tip of the nose is black and full. Lips tight and not overlapping with strongly-developed fangs, healthy and pure white.

Neck.—Not too short with skin close fitting at the throat. Nape strong and slightly arched.

Forequarters.—Shoulders slanting and flat, but strongly muscled. Fore-legs (upper and under arm) seen from all sides are vertical without any curve.

Chest.—Moderately broad with visible strong breast-bone and reaching at least to the height of the elbow and slowly extending backwards. Back strong and straight and well-developed short thighs. The length of back equal to shoulder height (from withers vertical to floor), built squarely, belly well drawn up towards the back.

Tail.—Carried high and cut down to three joints.

Hindquarters.—Thighs slanting and flat, but strongly muscled. Hindlegs (upper and lower thighs) at first vertical to the knee, from knee to hock in line with the extension of the upper neck line, from hock vertical to ground.

Paws.—Short, round, extremely compact paws, with close arched toes (cats' paws), dark nails and hard soles.

Coat.—Close, strong, hard, and wiry, on the back seen against the grain—unruly—that is, neither short nor smooth; shorter on ears, forehead, legs and paws, and over ¾ inch long on back.

Height.—Under 12 inches at shoulder for bitches, 13 inches for dogs.

The Canadian Kennel Club, Incorporated

From the office of the Secretary-Treasurer

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., was held in the Board Room of the Club's offices, 25 Melinda Street, Toronto, on Thursday, July 6th, at 6.00 p.m. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included: Walter H. Reeves, Mrs. E. Brown, Miss A. Elsie Mayhew, W. P. Gudgeon, and Captain H. Dudley-Waters, M.C.

Adoption of Minutes

The cream of the crop. Not the dross.

Reputable kennels such as Marienhof are proud to combine the Marienhof name with that of their BEST dogs. Misty and Patsy are worthy of the illustrious kennel name they bear.

Half brother and sister, they will produce line-bred offspring of the very finest blood lines obtainable. No out-crossing.

A Championship does not make a dog any better than he was before he won it, but it is good for business, and we hope to have one or two before long.

BREEDING TROUBLES

The experience of owners and breeders has definitely proved the unique value of Rex Wheat Germ Oil in overcoming non-organic breeding troubles. We have hundreds of letters on file testifying to the startling results obtained with Rex Oil in overcoming slowness to mate, absence of heat, abortion, weak young, etc.

Rex Oil promotes bigger and stronger litters, too. A few drops a day, added to the dogs' diet, is all that's needed. 4 oz. costs $1.25, a small price for the amazing and positive results. Get it at pet shops, feed dealers and drug stores.

CAIRN TERRIER

I wish I had a tail to wag
When I feel very voluble;
A bite or snarl would help a lot
When things are quite intolerable;

If only I could indicate
Emotional joy or pain,
As honestly as Rover does;
There would be much to gain;

We human beings go through life
Afraid of what we feel;
We might all get on better if
We tried less to conceal.

HE'S BRED—AND FED— FOR HAPPY DAYS!

Yes, he's kept sound, vigorous and healthy with the help of GAINES, The Complete Meal

THE TESTED MEAL . . . Breeders know that GAINES is The Complete Meal for healthy dogs because they've proved it to their own satisfaction for more than 14 years. For instance, haven't you found that GAINES helps to make glossy coats and sound teeth and bones? That's because GAINES contains meat meal, cereals, milk nutrients, vegetables, minerals and vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, B<sub>6</sub>, D, E, niacin and pantothenate . . . everything to keep a dog in tip-top condition.

THE TASTY MEAL . . . Nine out of 10 dogs like GAINES the very first time they try it. And they don't tire of it. No wonder more and more breeders have turned to GAINES as the complete answer to their dog-meal problems. They have found, too, that GAINES is the nutritionally complete meal . . . that it is easy to feed . . . that it is economical. No wonder breeders have played such an important part in making GAINES the largest-selling dog food in America. Available in 2-lb., 5-lb., and 50-lb. bags.
