"Master Dog Meal Was Recommended by my Veterinarian"

—Says FRED LISTER

Fred C. Lister is known to skeet shooters all over Canada. He is a member of the unbeaten five-man team of the York Skeet Club — six years holders of the Ontario Championship and 3 years holders of the Quebec and Dominion Championships.

Fred Lister is also known as a trainer and handler of good bird dogs. His English Setter bitch, Skeet, shown at the left in this picture, won the Eastern Canadian Championship at the Toronto Field Trials in 1942 and the Shooting Dog Stake at Niagara in 1943 and at London in October, 1944. Skeet also won the Open All Age Stake at Niagara in April, 1945.

Three puppies whelped by Skeet have also placed in trials — Jennifer, owned by J. J. Naylor, Hi of Skeet, owned by Mr. Lister, and Citation of Skeet, owned by Wallace Findlay.

This is what Mr. Lister says about Master Dog Meal:

"I have been feeding Master K-9 Meal to my dogs for several years. It was recommended to me by my veterinarian. I found it a most satisfactory feed and have continued to use it. It is the basic feed in my kennel. I have found Master K-9 Meal excellent food for puppies as well as for grown dogs. I have recommended Master Meal and Cubes to several friends and have given samples of the meal to men who have bought puppies from me. What better evidence could I give of my preference for these foods? Master Meal and Cubes have what it takes to keep hard running gun dogs in condition."

The July issue will feature the Non-Sporting Group; August will feature Hunting and Field Dogs. A reservation for the December cover has been received, leaving only September, October and November available.

Extract from letter of J. R. McKenzie Marois, Sherbrooke Kennels Reg'd, 31 Quebec Street, Sherbrooke, Que., dated May 21st, 1945:

"I must say that my add in your magazine has produced results. I sold my last three dogs to Mr. S. F. Hancock of 1544 Westall Avenue, Victoria, B.C. If you wish you may publish this information."

Mrs. G. Mattice of Boucherville, Que., has just left for the Dah-Lyn Kennels of Brookline, Mass., to mate her lovely grey brindle Peke female, Shen-Tung, a daughter of Ch. Cha Ming Shen Hung, to John B. Royce's famous particolour, Int. Ch. Kai Choo of Day-Lyn, who is also a Pekingese Club champion. Several of the Wu San Matrons are expecting puppies shortly and Mrs. Mattice is expecting a good crop of show type puppies, as all are exceptionally well bred.

Mrs. G. W. Hyslop has recently imported the beautiful Great Dane Bitch which went Best of Breed at Madison Square Gardens this year over 72 entries. The bitch is Champion Gilbert's Nancy of Brae Tarn, imported from W. J. Gilbert.

Flt. Lt. S. W. BROWN

KILLED ON ACTIVE SERVICE

Flight Lieutenant Sydney W. Brown, of 190 Coxwell Ave., Toronto, was killed on Active Service, according to news received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown. He was with the 258th Squadron, R.C.A.F., India Command. Before enlistment in 1941 he was employed by D. Smellie & Sons, jewellers. He attended Roden Public School and Eastern High School of Commerce.

"OUR FRONTISPIECE"

The Miniature Schnauzer puppies, Strathburn MP Alpha Cath and Strathburn MP Alpha Andy, featuring the frontispiece this month, are first-class specimens of a very fine breed of the Terrier group which, though not too well known at present, is bound by its general merits and attractive appearance to reach its deserved position in popular favor as soon as careful selective breeding produces a sufficient quantity of representative specimens to supply the present demand and make more widespread the present localized favour in which the breed is held. Wherever the Miniature Schnauzer is shown he creates intense interest and an immediate demand, limited at present only by the small number of shows at which the breed is exhibited, and the circumscribed area over which these shows are distributed.

The puppies pictured on the frontispiece are carefully bred from the finest available stock. Their grandsire on both sire's and dam's side is Champion Cockerel of Sharroque, Dog of the Year 1942, sire of futurity winners 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1942, litter brother of Sandman, Westminster Best of Breed, and over 14 champions spring from this same breeding. Cockerel's sire was the famous Champion T.M.G. of Marienhof, a Morris and Essex Best of Breed and considered one of the greatest sires of the breed. Behind these stand such remarkable animals as Champion Marks of Marienhof, another Madison Square Best of Breed; undefeated German Sieger and American Champion Marko Von Beutenberg, who stands second on the Galton Rating List (1935); Champion Mehitabel of Marienhof II, model of the breed and sixth on the Galton Rating List (1935); Czech Sieger and American Champion Urian Thuringia, and many others much too numerous to mention. On the distaff side we find infusions of outstanding Heintzelmannchen and Von Neff strains.

Quality is paramount at Strathburn Kennels and the greatest care is taken to ensure that animals of inferior quality are never used for breeding purposes. Quantity is relatively immaterial, and it is better that Canada should have a few good Miniature Schnauzers rather than a host of inferior ones. Close breeding is the surest way to produce quality and uniformity until inherent faults crop up, and then we must be prepared to breed out to another quality bloodline to eradicate these faults, physical or mental. This Strathburn Kennels are now in a position to do, thanks to the generosity of Mrs. Joseph Sailer of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa., for many years devoted to the improvement and promotion of the breed, whose gift of her American Champion and Dog of the Year 1944, Neff's Luzon is gratefully acknowledged.

Strathburn Kennels also gratefully acknowledge the kind advice and assistance of Miss Marguerite Neff, breeder of Neff's Luzon and many other notable Miniature Schnauzers, in their effort to improve and promote the breed in Canada.

W. C. CH. NEFF'S LUZON, Dog of the Year, 1944.

There are two Schnauzers in the Terrier group, the Standard and Miniature, with the Giant Schnauzer in the working dog group.

The Miniature Schnauzer is derived from interbreeding the Standard Schnauzer with the Affenpinscher and the Brussels Griffon, and, as a breed, dates back only to the close of the nineteenth century. The earliest known picture of a Miniature Schnauzer, that of Jocco-Fulda-Lilliput, is dated 1899. The word Schnauzer (pronounced "schnowtzer") is derived from the German word schnauze, meaning snout, and has reference to the stubby whiskers which are characteristic of the breed.

A harsh, wiry coat, with abundant face and leg furnishings are characteristic of the Miniature Schnauzer, and colours run all the way from solid black to quite light grey with white markings. In addition to salt-and-pepper we often find a little red-pepper in the color scheme, probably derived from the old larger Schnauzer stock, which dates back to the seventeenth century and farther, and is believed to have been rehfärbig (fawn) or black and tan, and occasionally parti-colors which appear to be a specialty of the Abbagamba Kennels. Medium or dark grey with white markings and a slight trace of red-pepper is, however, by far the most popular and spectacular color scheme.

The height limit for males is 14 inches at withers and weight runs between 16 and 17 lbs., largely depending on weight of bone. The Miniature Schnauzer should not appear toyish, and good bone is called for, though often difficult to produce.

The forequarters should have flat, strongly muscled, somewhat sloping shoulders, without the steep-set "terrier front". This is something which might be taken particular note of by some Terrier judges who penalize Miniature Schnauzers if they lack a "Terrier front".

Generally speaking, the Miniature Schnauzer should be sturdily built, nearly square in proportion of body length to height, with plenty of bone, less racy in outline than the Fox Terrier, and without any suggestion of toyishness.

He is a robust, active dog, hardy and resistant to common canine ailments, of lively and affectionate disposition and particularly noted for his apparent love of home and absence of the desire to roam. An ideal companion for the city apartment dweller or the owner of many acres. An occasional walk around the block or romp around the house is all the exercise he requires, but he can keep up with a master who likes long walks in the country also, and is quite capable of 15 miles a day, or more.

Canadian Champion Silvermist of Marienhof is the original stud dog owned by Mr. Thomas C. Wylie of Strathburn Kennels. American Champion and Dog of the Year 1944 (American Miniature Schnauzer Club award). Neff's Luzon was recently presented to Mr. Wylie by Mrs. Joseph Sailer of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa., for many years devoted to the improvement and promotion of the breed in the United States.

Ch. Neff's Luzon is an outstanding specimen of the breed in every respect, mental and physical, difficult to fault, and will be used for the improvement of the breed in Canada.

The Pug is coming back into fashion, and startled dog breeders by coming right up to the top of the Toy Group at Westminster last winter. "Winna Pugs Kennel", Montreal, owned by Miss Winifred Steggall, have played a prominent part in bringing these little dogs to the fore once again.

NEW ALL-BREED DOG CLUB FORMED

The dog-loving people of Canada expressed a keen desire for All-Breed Dog Shows and the CANADIAN NATIONAL ALL-BREED DOG CLUB has been organized to provide the type of show which will be a credit to every good breeder of dogs, and which will encourage the breeding of the champions of the future. The organizing Board of the Club is as follows:

President, David R. Feetham; First Vice-President, Walter G. Kenyon; Second Vice-President, Edgar A. Eaton; Secretary-Treasurer, Alroy K. Butler.

The Club has decided not to participate in holding Sanction Shows, but to devote its entire efforts to producing first-class point shows at all times, ever having in mind the aim of assisting in keeping breeding at its highest standard.

The Canadian National All-Breed Dog Club is giving earnest consideration to many requests for two shows each year.

A further announcement will be made at a later date.

MINISTERIAL ORDER No. 62

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by Section 17 of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act, Chapter 6, R.S.C., 1927, I do hereby order that:—

All dogs for entry into Canada from the United States of America shall be accompanied by a certificate in ONE of the following forms:—

- (a) A certificate signed or endorsed by a veterinary inspector of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, certifying that the dog has been inspected and found free from any symptoms of contagious disease; that the dog has not been exposed to the infection of rabies and that no case of rabies has occurred within a radius of fifty miles of the place in which the dog has been kept for a period of six months immediately prior to date of shipment.
- (b) A certificate signed by a licensed veterinarian of the State, of origin certifying that the dog has been inspected and found free from any symptoms of contagious disease; that so far as can be ascertained, it has not been exposed to the infection of rabies and that it has been vaccinated against rabies within a period of six months of the date of shipment.

Performing dogs entered for temporary stay and kept under direct control while in Canada shall be exempt from this order.

My orders of August 29, 1944, and March 24, 1945, are hereby cancelled.

Dated at Ottawa this twenty-sixth day of April, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-five.

(Sgd.) H. Barton,
Deputy Minister
Department of Agriculture.

Ever since the rabies ban was imposed last September, Mr. W. J. Rise- wick, President of the Canadian Kennel Club, has steadily endeavoured to have modifications made. At various times, both delegations and private members have worked to that end, often with most discouraging results. Mr. Rise- wick continued unceasingly to marshal his facts and objections with a view to convincing the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa that the ban was unreasonable, and he is very thankful to clubs and members all over Canada who made their protests to Ottawa to help clarify the situation in the official mind. He is particularly thankful to many Toronto members, among whom are Mr. David Fingard and Mr. L. L. Broley for the efforts which they put forth to the same end.

Mr. W. Fulton, of Napanee, reports the loss of his outstanding Boston Terrier male (135419) "Hagertys Kings Chieftain". This dog had sired twenty litters and had proved himself outstanding.

The Canadian National Live Stock Records report 992 Transfers and 839 Registrations during the month of April.

Mrs. C. Smith of the Clarewood Kennels, Toronto, reports a brisk demand for Mexican Chihuahuas. She has recently sold a promising son of Ch. Henry's El Capitan—Clarewood's Capitan, to Langley Prairie, B.C. Her recent sales also include a dog sent to the Maritimes. She states that there is a growing appreciation of the merits of these little dogs and that she has purchased three new females in order to keep up to the demand. Chihuahuas are sensible little dogs and well behaved. They are alert watch-dogs and have a strong instinct for play. It was the Chihuahua who was supposed to guide the spirits of the departed across the seven rivers to the heights of Heaven. He is a 100 per cent American dog, native of the Province of Chihuahua in Mexico and apparently has no infusion of European or Asiatic blood. His dainty little figure has been found by archeologists among Mexico's ancient ruins. He was revered by Mayan, Toltec and Aztec and it is possible that he existed 8,000 years ago in much the same form and type as now. The Chihuahua usually has a smooth coat but there are, however, a few long-haired specimens.

Yorktown Kennels, owned by Mrs. V. Dalton, Clarkson, Ontario, sent us a picture of Yorktown Blue Prince, which unfortunately did not lend itself to reproduction. Mrs. Dalton has recently added a new "Yorkie" to her kennels, which she purchased in Vancouver. This little lady is "Rose's Tid Bits".

Mrs. Dalton's Yorktown Prince Romeo is nearly nine years old, but she tells us that he is as active as a puppy. Yorkies with their non-shedding coats and their keen intelligence make splendid pets.

NEW RETRIEVER RULES

Observations by William H. Pym

This Retrieving game, properly conducted, is a major league sport. The game opens the way to increase our membership and registration revenues. Our task is to put the game on a sound basis locally.

A dog that can win a championship under the new rules will be a fit candidate for any trial, but next year we will be obliged to step them up again.

One of the objects of the Pacific Coast Retriever Association will be to have funds on hand to pay the expenses of a worthy dog and his trainer to the National Trials regardless of the financial position of the owner. We have the material here in the shape of retrieving dogs, but it requires some one to raise the standard of the work. We have taken a long step forward with the new rules.

NOTE: Copy of these rules has been sent to secretaries of all field or gun clubs operating under C.K.C. regulations.

LETTER FROM AGE PUBLICATIONS LTD.

The Secretary,
Canadian Kennel Club,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Madam:

The Minutes of the Annual Directors' Meeting, the Annual Meeting and the March 17th Meeting of the Board of Directors have been on hand since the month of March, and we would like to make clear the reason for the delay in printing them.

As you are aware, we take care of a large number of publications and under wartime conditions our staff was limited to our current needs. In order to expedite the printing of the Minutes, we attempted to find some outside printing establishment which would care to take them, but we were unsuccessful. It was, therefore, necessary for us to do this extra work on overtime, if and when we could get extra staff.

The Minutes will be out within the next few days, and we trust that your members will understand the difficulties with which we have had to cope.

Yours very truly,
AGE PUBLICATIONS, LTD.

Editor's note: We trust our printer's explanation will give our readers some idea of the difficulties of the printing situation in the City of Toronto. The minutes for the three meetings are somewhat bulky and the Canadian Kennel Club Office also endeavoured to find some printer other than the printer of our magazine, which would undertake this additional work, but all Toronto firms contacted were unable to guarantee any quicker delivery than our regular printer could give.

Mrs. Bernice Paine of Aztec Kennels sent us this clear and interesting snapshot of a Toy Manchester. Mrs. Paine specializes in Toy Manchesters and Mexican Chihuahuas. She remarks that the Black Chihuahua is almost a thing of the past in Canada. She has been fortunate enough to breed some of the Blacks and is very proud of them.

Private Breeding Record Books

A great many breeders start out with high ideals but end very badly. It might be said in truth that 75 per cent of the people who earn bad reputations for themselves as breeders, earn that reputation not through any actual wish to be cheats, but simply through a carelessness in keeping records which one day or another proves disastrous.

Careful record-keeping regarding kennel transactions is not only very necessary, in order to breed scientifically and correctly, but it is obligatory under The Canadian Livestock Pedigree Act.

Many people pride themselves on a good memory, and imagine that with a small kennel of four or five dogs, they should have no trouble at all in remembering the transactions.

After a generation or two, they wonder whether they are breeding dogs or rabbits. It becomes more and more difficult to remember parents, grandparents, great grand-parents and so on, as time goes on. No breeder worthy of the name would be content to proceed on a breeding program in such a haphazard manner.

For the purpose of keeping records, the Canadian Kennel Club has prepared a PRIVATE BREEDING RECORD BOOK. We herewith reproduce the instructions on the inside of this book, and also illustration of record sheets for male and female animals. This book may be obtained from The Canadian Kennel Club, and is priced at 50c.

This record book has been designed to meet the constitutional requirements of The Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and the Canadian National Live Stock Records, and to conform to the Live Stock Pedigree Act.

To keep a dependable private record becomes a source of pleasure and leaves nothing to chance.

Chapter 49, Live Stock Pedigree Act 22-23, Geo. V., Section 5, sub-section 1, clause m, reads as follows:

"The keeping by its members of private breeding records and the manner in which these shall be kept."

Only breeding records should be kept in this book. All transactions such as selling prices, dog show awards, etc., must be kept in a separate book.

In Memory of The Late Sir Claude and Lady Alexander

By MRS. PERCY ADAMS
Vice-President, Sky

It is seldom that we have the pleasure of coupling husband and wife as very ardent "fanciers", but in the case of the late Sir Claude and Lady Rachel Alexander, we have an example of a true Highland gentleman and his wife, who shared, until death, their true deep love for animals.

Lady Alexander died in February, 1944. A beautiful as well as a sweet and gracious lady, she was the founder of the British Cat Club, and from 1913, perhaps earlier, until her death, the Honorary Secretary of the Skye and Clydesdale Club of England, in which she took the most profound interest. She was an authority on the breeds and judged at many shows, and it has been said her judgment or criticism was never known to be unjust or unkind.

Lady Alexander became interested in Skyes because her husband kept them as a boy. She showed her first in 1897, a year after her marriage to Sir Claude, and from then until 1939 her Ballochmyle exhibits were to be seen winning top honours at practically every championship show. Speaking of her favorites, Lady Alexander said: "Their fascination to me is that they attach themselves to their owner and to no one else—I don't care for a dog who likes everybody. The old Skye Club of Scotland's motto, 'wha daur meddle wi me', exactly describes their nature." She also added, "We were never troubled with tramps or peddlers, because they knew that they might get an unpleasant surprise by finding perhaps old Ballochmyle Whiskey walking down the drive to meet them." An old Scotchman once remarked to Lady Alexander, "Skyes is the worst dogs I hate", so she concluded he spoke from bitter experience.

For 48 years Lady Alexander always kept to one type—the Highest—her first entries (in her husband's name) were with Ballochmyle Tum Tum, Ballochmyle Bashful, and Ballochmyle Levity, her last was the grand win of Ballochmyle Jock at Crufts, in 1939, when he won the Championship Certificate, defeating the great Ch. Rip of Merrymount, Ch. Togo of Merrymount, Ch. Southernhills Moonglow and Ch. Southernhills Dust Storm. At Crufts, in February, 1933, she had the outstanding honor of winning, with Lightning (the litter brother of Ben of Merrymount), the Peranella Challenge Cup for the best conditioned dog in the show—when entries totalled nearly five thousand it is apparent what a magnificent win this was. Another good one, young Roseberry, had such wonderful Skye character and was such a "laster" that at the age of 13 years he won 1st in a very strong variety class at Richmond.

Lady Alexander was also a very successful exhibitor of smooth Collies, and her several varieties of famous "short hair cats" made her very prominent in the Cat Fancy. Her prize fowl were also one of her keen interests.

Sir Claude Alexander, Bt., passed away on March 18th, 1945, in his 79th year, at his home Fay Gate Wood, Sussex. The name of Sir Claude Alexander, Bt., of Ballochmyle will go down in Skye Terrier history, as he was the leading authority in the world on the breed which he had kept from childhood, and his Ballochmyle Kennel had an outstanding influence. As well as for Skyes, he was known for his famous herd of cattle and also Hackney horses—Airedales and Clydesdale Terriers, flat-coated Retrievers also shared his interest.

He at one time was an active member of the committee of the English Kennel Club and always a supporter in general of anything relating to dogs and dog shows. He was a staunch supporter and lover of the Skye Terrier since a young school boy, and his services as a judge were keenly sought at leading shows. His first Skye was a drop-eared son of the famous Mr. Pratt's "Piper", called Ghillie, who became a pillar of the Stud book.

In the good old days, when the streets of Glasgow and Edinburgh were full of Skyes and Clydesdales, Sir Claude used to make a practice of hunting for good ones in bad condition and as a consequence could be bought cheap. Old Mr. Wm. Millar used to collect some for him when he knew he was coming to Scotland, and on one occasion he brought him such a rare one Sir Claude protested. "Hoots, mon," said the old Scotsman, in his broadest Doric, "Dinah fash your heid about that, for Mistress Alexander wad grow a coat on a dog-box."

Some years ago Sir Claude sent me a picture of the late Mr. Pratt's Skye Terriers, Sandy Grant and Piper, telling me to study this picture thoroughly as an object lesson, because it shows so well every point, good and bad, of both dogs most accurately. He said he hoped all breeders of Skyes would file it for reference, for he said, "It is of more value than all the standards in the world to show what a Skye should be." He also remarked, "Learn to know the anatomy, points and type of a Skye before you bother about trying to grow a coat." Sir Claude said he had often been accused of unduly liking little ones, and equally often of preferring big ones. To both these criticisms his answer was the same, "I don't; I like them good."

As a young man, Sir Claude bred and showed both drop-eared and prick-eared Skyes, but latterly he and Lady Alexander swung to the prick-eared variety. I give here a list of some of their most famous Skyes: Ballochmyle Ghillie, Nellie Grant, Panel, Ballochmyle Creamy Cress, Ballochmyle Beautiful, Ballochmyle Brother Beautiful, Ballochmyle Length, Ballochmyle Levity, Ballochmyle Tum Tum, Ballochmyle Rosemary, Ballochmyle Abbess, Panda, Laird of Ballochmyle, Ballochmyle Whiskey, Ballochmyle Stella, Ballochmyle Knut, Lass of Ballochmyle, Ballochmyle Lightning, Ballochmyle Starlight, Accrington Wonder, Accrington Duchess, Young Roseberry, Miss Billee, Oldentimes, Wolverly Wallace, Ballochmyle Chance, Ballochmyle Bashful, Lily Scott, Ballochmyle, Priscilla, The Adel Monk, Ballochmyle Yellow Broom, Wee Mac of Adel, and more latterly the Ballochmyle show string consisted of Schiehallion, Rorytogo Piper, Aurora, Miss Given, New Moon, Dust Storm and Jock. Many of these were champions.

In 1939, Sir Claud was instrumental in Roland of Meerend and Skyhigh Lady Fay of Talisker coming to my kennel. In 1941, Ch. Schiehallion was sent to me as a gift, and shortly after Lady Alexander's death, in 1944, her lovely Skyes, The Ballochmyle Merrywidow, Skyhigh Mina and Ballochmyle Jock, were sent out to me. Jock, who Sir Claud described as probably "the best Skye of all times", was lost overboard in mid-ocean on his voyage to Canada—a terrible loss to me and to the breed. In 1939 he sent out as a gift to Miss Frances Stillman, Ch. Ballochmyle Togo and, I believe, selected both Dora and Portia of Meerend for Miss Stillman, and as recently as January of this year he wrote advising the purchase of a very beautiful little bitch who I expect will arrive in Canada some time in June.

"BAMBI" and "MANELON", Talisker Skyes.

I feel sure all members of the Skye Terrier Club of America will join me in paying tribute to the late Sir Claud and Lady Rachel Alexander, who for so many years meant so much to the Skye Terrier fancy and who gave so freely and kindly to all who asked of their knowledge and experience relating to our beloved breed.

I would love to have the honor of offering at our post-war specialty shows a silver trophy in memory of Sir Claud and Lady Alexander, to be known as "The Ballochmyle Trophy", to be won three times by the same exhibitor for the Best of Breed. I hope there will be much competition.

POMERANIANS CAN TAKE IT

By Kenneth A. Ross

In view of the somewhat widespread impression that toy dogs in general are inclined to be frail, especially when exposed to cold temperatures, it might perhaps be interesting to the readers of Dogs in Canada to learn about the experience which the writer had a few years ago in connection with a little Pomeranian female, "Melbourne" Nerine, which had been purchased from the late Mrs. J. W. Bruce. This little dog came to the writer at eight months of age, in early March, 1941, a good physical type of the breed, with better than average lineage, but extremely nervous and emotional in temperament. From the first it was evident that she was possessed of frantic dislike toward men, which made it almost impossible for the writer to approach her near enough to place a hand upon her.

However, we endeavored to win her over by keeping her in the house with one or two other of our pets. After three or four days it seemed reasonable to permit her to take a little outdoor exercise with the other dogs and this was done in the early afternoon of a bright sunny day. Right here is where we made a fatal mistake, for no sooner had Nerine sniffed the outer air than with a toss of her head she streaked across the countryside in an easterly direction, disappearing in a thick wood some half-mile from our place.

To get a proper perspective it must be explained that the temperature was considerably below zero, with deep encrusted snow covering the land. Naturally we followed the little dog, not for a moment abandoning the search until darkness set in.

Without wearying the reader with all details of the harrowing days which followed, it is only necessary to state that twelve days and nights passed without word of Nerine. On the morning of the thirteenth day, however, our joy can be imagined when a kind-hearted neighbour informed us joyfully that our little dog was at his home, having been discovered by him the night before, cowering in an old shed some two miles away from our place. She was pitifully emaciated, completely unable to hold any food on her stomach, a truly heart-breaking sight.

Again, we recall that the weather during the entire period had been extreme, the temperature at night dropping to twenty below zero, with a bone-chilling north-west wind blowing most of the time. Many times Nerine was seen running wildly about the countryside. She was shot at several times by the young men of the district, quite innocently it is true, due to her resemblance to a fox. Fortunately for Nerine and her owner the shots went wide.

The sequel to this story lies in the fact that Nerine was restored to perfect health, having since whelped a total of 19 beautiful puppies who have gladdened the hearts of satisfied purchasers from Moose Jaw to the State of Virginia and points between. But Nerine still hates men.

NEW LICENSING REGULATIONS RE JUDGES

A judge may be granted a temporary license upon application, endorsed by three members of the Canadian Kennel Club, two of whom must reside in the same province as the applicant, the names of applicants, together with members sponsoring them, to be published in Dogs in Canada.

No person will be granted a license to judge who has not proved to the satisfaction of the Board that:

- (1) He has bred and/or owned registered dogs for at least three years, not necessarily consecutive, and has shown dogs at regularly licensed dog shows in Canada at least five times.
- (2) He has an understanding of such fundamental anatomy as is necessary for the interpretation of breed standards.

- (3) He can repeat the breed standard of each breed covered by his application. He must be able to repeat the so-called "major faults" and "faults" and he may be required on demand to pass an oral examination to prove his knowledge of the breed or breeds for which application has been made.

An applicant so licensed shall be required to judge at three shows satisfactorily, and may then be granted a permanent license to judge these breeds, by the Board of Directors. At each of these three shows a member of the Board, or someone appointed by the Board, shall report in writing to the Board of Directors upon the judges' work. In addition the show-giving club shall be required to report in writing on the judges' work.

Any temporary or permanent license may be revoked at any time upon just complaint, which complaint shall be made in accordance with 14 of the Show Rules, or Section 22 of the Constitution and shall be passed upon by the Board of Directors of the Canadian Kennel Club.

No judge who has had his license revoked shall be permitted to apply for reinstatement until at least 12 months have passed since his license was cancelled.

The above rules not to apply to field trial judges.

It was moved by Mr. Wylie, seconded by Dr. Shute and unanimously carried that the above rules be adopted as a whole, and be published in the next issue of Dogs in Canada together with the application questionnaire set forth below:

"Wire" News From Britain

By Cyril Dolman

Arlidene Terrier Kennels,
Dryden Ave., Swinton, M/c.

ED. NOTE: We are much indebted to Mr. Dolman for the interesting material which he has sent us.

After having met many of your fellow countrymen at shows over here, and hearing the mixed views on Wires, it has occurred to me to send across a photographic print of my dog, "Harrowhill Straightahead", and a word or two to boot.

As you are no doubt aware, the famous sire of my dog has been purchased by Mrs. P. S. Bondy of New York, and it may be of interest to breeders "over there" to see what kind of stock they may reasonably expect to breed from this dog they are to receive in their midst. "Harrowhill Straightahead" was bred by Miss Howles, a well known owner of some of our finest bitches, all home-bred. I purchased him, unshown, after a long search lasting over five months, and it was only after continued pressure that I eventually brought him to the company of the Arlidene's. He has proved to be the most outstanding dog by Straightaway, and is producing stock second to none. Over here it is harder, I think, to win at our Manchester Toy Terrier Club than at many of the pre-war championship and open shows.

The "weeds" have disappeared and many a dog "down the line" is a "best in show winner" at large entry variety shows. Few breeders of any note over here are breeding haphazardly, which should speak well for those of your countrymen who have agents over here ready to purchase stock for them now the final "ALL CLEAR" has sounded. As an example, I am now rearing a litter from my winning bitch by Champ. Talavera Nigel, and the puppies are five times line-bred to the great Champion Talavera Simon, being by a great stud dog by Champion Talavera Romulus (Simon) ex a bitch by Champion Tala-vera Nigel and my bitch is by Nigel, as already stated.

This is the type of breeding that is being done by those who think first and who are not much interested in how many, so long as they keep the true blood lines running and produce type and quality with intelligence. This is my aim, and I am not disturbed by any "flyer" that crops up chance bred. To me these dogs never seem to have a consistent ability to reproduce their type, and are successful at stud merely because the crowd cannot judge for themselves. Give me the man every time who doesn't want to know what the dog has won, but can form his opinion on the spot whether the dog is the type for his bitch or otherwise. These are the men the "others" say, who know how to breed, and in many cases never use the "big winner" unless he suits him, of course. I have enclosed the brochure on him and you have my full consent to publish same for the benefit of your readers, and the notes in all or part if you wish. Any cost arising from same, I shall gladly meet, as I have heard so much said of the standard of wires falling over there that I am sure your readers will appreciate the purchase of Crackley Straightaway by Mrs. Bondy as a lucky stroke for them, and will agree that if they can breed them like Harrowhill Straightahead from their new dog, that they will at least be free from disgrace in any ring. Should you publish this, or part, I only ask that you send me a copy at the current rate, as I have not had one since August, 1943, and would appreciate it very much indeed.

Thanking you on behalf of the Wire breeders of Britain.

Look at the records for the last two years. Our dogs have consistently defeated every imported, American-owned and Canadian-bred dog shown east of Winnipeg.

We count on "Breeder's Luck", too, but we have the stock and we know our breeder's alphabet and think these latter two factors account for our WINNERS IN EVERY LITTER. At least six of our home-breds should finish this year across the continent, in spite of the fact that we are not exhibiting ourselves.

EXCERPTS FROM TWO RECENT LETTERS

"In our fire, he (Ch. Adam von Mannerheim) opened the door from the kitchen into the dining room and then raised a howl in the bedroom and would not quiet down until I got up and saw the smoke. He then grabbed Peggy's boots and ran in to her with them. We would never have known the house was on fire if it hadn't been for Adam!"
 "My Dobe is wonderful; he has beauty, temperament, brains and health. He has everything. Everybody envies me. I have been offered $500 for him but refused. Now he is my dog, living with me most of the time and we have great fun together. He is already well-trained and behaves like a gentleman."

The Winna Pugs, established in 1928, have an enviable show record both in Canada and the U.S.A. The vast majority of champions in both countries, of recent years, emanate from this strain, and young stock from these kennels have gone far afield to found new kennels of this increasingly popular little breed.

Space does not permit of a full account of the recent winnings of the Winna, but it is with pride that the magnificent win of Ch. Vdalia's Mei-Ling of the Toy Group at Westminster this year over some of the top dogs in the country is mentioned. She is a Winna bred Pug and the only one of the six finalists at the Garden that was not American bred. It is interesting to note that her mother was Winners and Best of Winners, whilst Ch. Winna John Bull, a full brother to her sire, was Best of Opposite Sex, all of which goes to prove that breeding will out. The stock in this kennel, through selective and scientific breeding, combines and accentuates some of the finest bloodlines available anywhere. Assuming that the strength of a kennel is in its bitches, a strong force of matrons is on hand. The stud force has not been overlooked, and in addition to two International Champions there are three other proven studs available.

The Pug is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds, and at long last its sterling qualities, for a time overshadowed by finer feathered breeds, are being appreciated by the discriminating fancier.

A backward glance down Memory Lane, covering a longer period than some of us are willing to admit, presents to our view "a satisfying something" that comes with a realization that, among other things, we have to some extent at least the joy that comes through real endeavour in our chosen field. Association with quality dogs must of necessity connect one with "quality" people; if this is established, then my friends of the older days, who have endured through the years, will take this in a complimentary sense when I say that the connection has been a gratifying one—for I have been extremely fortunate in my friends and "our" friends (the dogs).

I have read with a great deal of pleasure the articles written in our magazine dealing with the Spaniel family in general, and the Cocker in particular. Cockers were my introduction to dogdom, and my first love. There has never been a time over the years when their sterling qualities have not appealed, their cheery disposition, the understanding displayed, the eloquent, tender expression which bespeaks their loyalty, the chuckle peculiar to the Cocker when he is doing what you require of him, either at work or at play. Not too small for usefulness in the field, not too big for the home, never too tired for a romp with a child, and always ready to understand the mood of the adult. The person who has not experienced the joy of a Cocker pushing his muzzle in their hand and looking up with those "wonderful eyes", just when the bottom had seemed to have fallen out of everything. Well! As Al Jolson used to say, "They ain't seen nothin' yet."

Mr. Gostick's reference to the Chevrier dogs and to the history of Goldstream Guard certainly struck a responsive cord, started a train of thought, and hurriedly painted a series of pictures of men, of dogs, and events, of triumphs, and near triumphs, of times when one felt cheated or elated, felt joyful or sad, of times when one wondered why the judge could not recognize such quality, and again of the times when you still wondered why on earth he did! Being on the other "end of the lead" all through the years has had its compensations; mingling with the truly great in men and dogs, and gradually learning to discriminate between the "points" and the "faults", to feel that one knew a "good head", whether it was on a man or a dog, is an experience I would not have missed. "For we've had a lot of fun."

To record the contribution of their respective provinces and the developing of the worthwhile in Cockers certainly gave Messrs. Gostick and Saunders quite a thrill, judging from the enthusiasm displayed in both articles; the former in the fact that a "line" was established, the latter in that he gloried in the stake his province had in its "establishment". Maybe I could be pardoned for a certain amount of exuberance when I recall that I was honoured to be the one to choose the most suitable sire available at the time for Mr. T. P. Murray's Lady Betty. I had won a service from the owner of Matlock Durbar. By arrangement this service was applied by transfer, to the satisfaction of all concerned. As a result, the names of the late T. P. and Mrs. Murray will go down in Cocker history as the breeders of that splendid little campaigner, Gold Stream Guard of Cordova. What an appropriate name for one destined to be the pro-genitor of that "Gold Stream" of quality that has, and is, maintaining itself in the world's most popular dog, and its foremost representatives. By what is a usual procedure—known as the "pick" of the litter for service, the Guard automatically became my property.

He was born on the last day of the year 1925. It will, in passing, be of interest to note that Mr. Chas. Hopton never set eyes on the Guard in any Winnipeg show, for the best of good reasons: he was never shown in this city.

Mr. Wm. Livesay had an option to purchase "Guard", the pup. The time limit on said option expired, Goldstream was duly entered in the Toronto Exhibition, September, 1926. On arrival in Toronto Mr. Livesay enquired if I had brought the pup along. I said I certainly have and feel sure he can win; he is entered in all classes that he is eligible for. Having satisfied himself that the pup possessed real quality he said, "George, what do you stand to win, for I think with you he can do it." I would rather take this pup for my client the way he is and be credited for picking a good one. So the matter was settled with satisfaction. He was withdrawn from competition and that's how Goldstream Guard became "Goldstream Guard of Cordova".

Leaving home in Scotland at an early age I never matriculated. As a matter of fact I never reached junior high, but I did go as high as a junior could go who didn't stay to finish. (Since then I have, however, learned a thing or two.) Arriving in Toronto, in 1904, I contacted Mr. James S. Clark, who will be remembered by the oldsters as a breeder of quality stock, in Cocker. It was while in his service that I had what I consider the greatest thrill in my life, for still in my teen years, I had the satisfaction of conditioning, handling, and naming the dog "Clark's Dare". Because of my youthful enthusiasm, I thought him good enough to "dare" anything; so my joy can be easily appreciated, when under the critical eye of the noted judge, Mr. Geo. Douglass of Woodstock, Ontario, I was awarded best Cocker in show at Madison Square Garden, New York. I am reminded also of another series of wins that gave me a wonderful lot of satisfaction. I was successful in obtaining for the Clark's the last five wins on the famous Midkiff Trophy presented by W. T. Payne, Esq., for best Cocker in show, for competition in the United States.

This trophy is now one of the proud possessions of Mrs. Clark in her home in Toronto. The following is an incomplete list of Cockers handled and piloted to their respective championships during the period of my connection with the Deer Park Kennels: Ch. Clark's Kildare, Ch. Clark's Lady Pauline, Ch. Midkiff Kermit, Ch. Clark's Jessie, Ch. Brookdale Toby, Ch. Clark's Quinteen, Ch. Clark's Diadem, Ch. Lance Farewell, Ch. Lenore.

This experience at Deer Park has been of immense value to me, for to the extent that I have developed what is called "an eye for a dog", this schooling was justified. Let me illustrate: A Cocker Spaniel was pulling a child's sleigh. It appealed to me in the rough, and I saw its possibilities. I contacted the owner and without paying a king's ransom for the dog I trimmed and entered him at the Toronto Exhibition, and under Arthur Garick, a judge whose decisions were highly regarded, I won Best Cocker in Show. Mr. Garrick liked the dog so much that he purchased him on the spot for the famous Judge Scudders, who after numerous successes sold him to the famous Lucknow Kennels, owned by J. Robinson Beard. I am referring, of course, to that dandy little dog Ch. Lucknow, "Lottery".

To Mr. Chevrier belongs the credit for owning and exhibiting the first Springer Spaniels shown in America, in the old Madison Square Garden, New York, in 1922, with an entry of 12 dogs. Best Springer in show was Chasalton Belinda, the award being made by the Dean of Dogs, Mr. Freeman Lloyd. The year 1923 saw further successes for the Chevrier string in Ch. Boghurst Rover, an importation of real quality, who placed Best of Breed under the capable expert, Mr. R. A. Ross, Montreal. At this point came Canada's sweetheart Springer, if we take the word of one reputed to know. We are, of course, referring to no less an authority than Walter H. Reeves, who said of Marvel of Avondale that he considered her to be the greatest Springer of all time. So great was his enthusiasm after placing her Best in Show over a large field at St. Paul, Minn. The frequency of Marvel's wins thereafter is one definite and clear indication that Mr. Reeves understands his business. When Marvel placed Best in Show at Canadian National Exhibition under that celebrated authority, W. J. Marples, he was known to have said, "I consider this the greatest Springer Spaniel that was ever produced." The campaigning of this wonder dog, through her entire career, with just one exception, is one of those pleasing and thrilling experiences that are exceedingly rare; with 24 Best in Shows in Canada and three in the U.S.A. Knowing a dog's record and piloting it through a glorious career, feeling the response and your urging reflected in a dog's behavior to show herself to the best of her ability, makes Marvel, or "Shiela", as we named her at Silverdale, something more than a memory.

In my opinion, the next in importance was the fortunate importation by Mr. Chevrier of Springbok of Ware, who's appearance in this country was made possible by the fact that the shows were cancelled in Britain, owing to World War No. 1, which was then in progress.

As Mr. Chevrier once said, "That was one good thing which came out of the war!" Otherwise we would have been deprived of one of the finest stud forces that has dominated, in no uncertain manner, the pedigree of most of the quality Springers produced in this country and the United States. Like many another, old "Punch", as Springbok was familiarly known, ended his day on the old Silverdale Ranch.

No list of the Chevrier dogs could possibly omit the "Int. Ch. Lavistok Powder Horn", whose disposition did not make a hit with Mr. Chevrier, but it must not be forgotten that his bid for fame was established when it is remembered that he was the sire of the one and only "International Ch. Marvel of Avondale".

Next in importance was the great "Lyle Messenger Boy", a beautiful black and white dog which I handled to his International Championship. His first wins of note were Best Springer, Best Sporting Dog, and Reserve Grand Champion at Pasadena, California, in 1926. It will surprise many Springer breeders to learn that he was the son of Dual Ch. Flint of Avondale. Wins of importance were also made in New York and Chicago. In passing, I must mention that upon arrival the "Messenger Boy" looked so tough that our old friend Charlie Cowell, kennel manager for Mr. Chevrier at that time, said: "Brother, what do you think of this one?" I replied, "He looks to me like a small Setter with his tail docked!" As a result of the pains-taking care that Mr. Cowell was noted for, he soon developed into the great Springer that he really was. I am reminded at this point that Flint of Avondale had a shy, retiring disposition. He acted like his life has been one of continuous frustration, his attitude towards even the most attractive of the opposite sex was such, that in alarm Mr. Chevrier wired his previous owner to learn the possible cause. The reply came in just three words: "Feed him potatoes." For what it is worth we pass this on to you, for Flint became a most prolific sire. In conclusion, I would say that in my considered opinion the best Springer Spaniel made ever produced in Canada was International Champion Masterpiece of Avondale, who most clearly approached what the standard requires in this breed of dog that it has been my pleasure to see.

I have many times been asked how many dogs I have piloted through to championship status, so just for the record, I am pleased to say it has been my joy and privilege to have owned and handled, or handled for owner, almost 300 dogs (297 to be exact) who have been admitted to the charmed circle of "champions".

A little girl asked me which kind of dog I liked best and why I wasn't satisfied with one dog like her daddy. I could, of course, have given her several good reasons, but the fact is, that if I said I like Cocker's best, the Airdales and Bulldogs would think I'd let them down, for I have raised at least 27 Champion Airdales and 26 Champion Bulldogs. The Airedale that gave me the biggest thrill was that real pal and campaigner, Ch. Silverdale Tornado (old "Bunty" to my friends and his admirers), who had the distinction of defeating International Ch. Walnut King, who was the dog to beat in his day.

In Bulldogs my most notable win was with Ch. Silverdale Dimple, who went to Best of Winners at the Chicago World's Fair, 1933. To conclude this article, I am going to return to Ch. Goldstream Guard of Cordova and give you as clear a picture as I can of this truly remarkable Cocker, who really "arrived", and left an imprint in doggie history that can never be erased:—

As a very young pup, the "guard" seemed to have everything, "If he had not turned out well, he should have been sued for breach of promise", because he was so richly endowed with the features and characteristics that go into the make-up of a dog that so nearly approaches the ideal. If you will visualize with me, a Cocker coming toward you that has everything you would like in your dog—and then some!—you will have an imaginary glimpse of the dog that was almost all: "GOLD STREAM". That is responsible for the "stream" becoming a flowing river of beauty, of constancy and affection, which is the Cocker's contribution in his relationship to the home-life of thousands.

With a truly wonderful body, supported by free and jovially moving, beautifully rounded feet, whose pads were firm enough when contacting the ground to emphasize the free, easy, rhythmic gait of the "happiness boy" of Dogdom. If you want me to itemize, I would say our subject possessed a beautiful head, grand neck and shoulders, real conformation, was splendidly ribbed and short-backed, with an even slope from the withers to a tail carried correctly with the top line of the back, which functioned as a Cocker's tail should under the stimulation of interesting work, or joyous play. The Guard had a lovely, very dark eye, sparkingly and intelligently alert, his expression was at once tender and irresistible. His black flat coat had a lovely sheen, a really splendid fellow, and definitely conscious of it. I have been asked quite frequently just what was wrong with Gold Stream Guard. The question is more difficult than it would appear. It is customary to say he was a little "funny" in mouth, but if you still persist I'll go on record as saying that if a person were submitted to treatment for the same trouble, the dentist's bill would not go high, or if you prefer, he was a little "funny" in the mouth. I give you my word that he was neither under or over-shot, he possessed square, even jaws, with a muzzle that was at once smooth and clean cut. He had style, quality, character. I was going to say "as pretty as a picture", but I would not have been doing him justice, for he was a picture, a beautiful, "animated" picture. My thanks to all contributors to this series and for the privilege of taking part in so interesting a discussion.

If my friend, Mr. George Climo, is brought a little more into the limelight he will soon be signing autographs, dodging the publicity boys, and even the cameraman.

No. 1 — FROM THE WEST—

THAT GREAT COCKER THAT NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION

CH. STOCKDALE THE GREAT

This young stud has caught the eye of every breeder that has seen him and they all praise his short cobby body, his immense bone, his beautiful head and expression, unexcelled top line plus heavy coat and feathering—IN SHORT, A WORTHY SON OF A WORTHY CHAMPION.

Bookings for his services are almost full but will accept a few more reservations. So book early and avoid disappointment. To the breeders who book him in advance for later stud services for this year the INTRODUCTORY FEE will be $25.00 if bookings are in before August 1st—after this date the fee will be raised.

Pedigree on Request

No. 2 — FROM THE EAST—

That Amazing Cocker Who Has Sired 13 CHAMPIONS and is the Grandsire of 6 CHAMPIONS—
THE ONE AND ONLY

CH. HOLMERIC OF BROOKVILLE

The dependable bloodline that consistently throws the better than ordinary heads, and also as a rule throws both blacks and reds. This young stud has that beautiful head, more than average stop and square muzzle, deep black eye, low set ears, and every other Holmeric feature such as cobby body, loads of feathering, swell topline and lots of rib.

This young stud will not be ready for service until August but will book now at the same terms as above.

We expect a lot of bookings, so book at once for later services. Pedigree on request; also the SIRE'S splendid show record and names of the champions sired.

To our best knowledge we believe we have picked the bloodlines that today are siring the most champions and are the most sought after sires in the States today who are consistently throwing litters that end up into champions.

ONTARIO BIRD DOG ASSN. REPORT

Despite gasoline shortage and the rabies ban on U.S. dogs, the Eleventh Annual Provincial Spring Trials of the Ontario Bird Dog Association, held at Niagara-on-the-Lake, on Sunday, April 22nd, was a most successful event. Following a Saturday which saw heavy snowfall in many parts of the province, Sunday was a bright, sunny day, with just sufficient cold to make scenting good.

Four events were contested, Puppy, Derby, All-Age and Novice Stakes. Judges were D. E. Beadle, Holley, N.Y., and W. J. Redden, Rochester, N.Y. They judged the biggest turnout of purely Canadian Setters and Pointers ever to compete in a trial of the Ontario Association. The competition in the Puppy and Derby Stakes was particularly keen—two fields of ten promising contenders being unleashed in each event. Judges were mounted and horses were also available for use of the gallery, many members of which followed various events on horseback. Dogs performed on pheasants released by courtesy of the Department of Game and Fisheries.

Manchester Terriers

(Toy and Standard)

By

MISS LUCILLE DUHAMEL

A life member of the Ottawa Kennel Club, Mr. F. C. McLean, needs no introduction in Canada or the United States as a breeder of Toy and Standard Manchester Terriers. Mr. McLean and his son "Mac" (whose Toy "Virginia Brass Hat" went Best of Breed at Madison Square Gardens in the last show) have jointly about forty-five specimens in their kennels at present. They have recently furnished the basic stock for two new Ontario breeders of these aristocratic little dogs. Mr. F. C. McLean has judged the breed both at Madison Square, and Morris and Essex shows, and was the President of the original Black and Tan Club of America (now the Manchester Terrier Club) organized in 1901.

The McLeans have among their many beautiful trophies the "Manitoba Challenge Cup", which had to be won three different times, under three different judges, and with three different dogs. This was offered for a Standard Manchester Terrier-medium weight (17 lbs.). In discussing the breed with Mr. "Mac" McLean, he said that in his opinion the Toy Manchester was favored more in Canada than the standard type.

As early as the sixteenth century, the Black and Tan Terrier was described, and was the foundation of the present Manchester Terrier. A group of breeders located in Lancashire, England, produced from the original Black and Tan, the type now known as the Manchester Terrier.

By the selective breeding of the smaller specimens of the Manchester Terrier (standard) the Toy Breed was produced.

These alert, intelligent little dogs, apart from being very adaptable to city abodes because of their tiny size, have their usefulness as well. They are excellent rat killers and with their exceptionally keen sense of hearing make excellent watch dogs, and needless to say the food bill doesn't run too high.

Mr. McLean stressed the fact that breeding for proper color and markings was of paramount importance, and in their kennels no dog is kept which is lacking in this respect. He quoted the following points which are the desirable and necessary qualities for the standard of perfection in the Toy variety of this interesting breed:

Head—Long, narrow, tight skinned, almost flat, with a slight indentation up the forehead; slightly wedge shaped, tapering to the nose, with no visible cheek muscles, and well filled up under the eyes; level in mouth, with tight-lipped jaws.

EYES—Small, bright, sparkling, and as near black as possible; set moderately close together; ablong in shape, slanting upwards on the outside; they should neither protrude nor sink in the skull.

Nose—Black.

EARS—Of moderate size; set well up on the skull and rather close together, thin, moderately narrow at base; with pointed tips; naturally erect carriage. Wide, flaring, blunt tipped or "bell" ears are a serious fault; cropped or cut ears shall disqualify.

NOTE: Disqualification for cropped ears shall apply only to dogs whelped after October 11th, 1938.

Neck and Shoulders—The neck should be of moderate length, slim and graceful; gradually becoming larger as it approaches and blends smoothly with the sloping shoulders; free from throatiness; slightly arched from the occiput.

Chest—Narrow between the legs; deep in the brisket.

Body—Moderately short, with robust loins; ribs well sprung out behind the shoulders; back slightly arched at the loin, and falling again to the joining of the tail to the same height as the shoulder.

Legs—Forelegs straight, and well under body. Hind legs should not turn in or out as viewed from the rear; carried back; hocks well let down.

Feet—Compact, well arched, with jet black nails; the two middle toes in the front feet rather longer than the others; the hind feet shaped like those of a cat.

Tail—Moderately short, and set on where the arch of the back ends; thick where it joins the body, tapering to a point; not carried higher than the back.

Coat—Smooth, short, thick, dense, close and glossy; not soft.

Color—Jet black and rich mahogany tan, which should not run or blend into each other but meet abruptly, forming clear, well defined lines of color division. A small tan spot over each eye; a very small tan spot over each cheek; the lips of the upper and lower jaw should be tan, extending under the throat, ending in the shape of the letter V; the inside of the ears partly tan. Tan spots, called rosettes, on each side of the chest about the front legs, more pronounced in puppies than in adults. There should be a black "thumb mark" patch on the front of each foreleg between the pastern and the knee. There should be a distinct black "pencil mark" line running lengthwise on the top of each toe on all four feet. The remainder of the forelegs to be tanned to the knee. Tan on the hind legs should continue from the pencilling on the feet up the inside of the legs to a little below the stifle joint; the outside of the hind legs to be black. There should be tan under tail, and on the vent, but only of such size as to be covered by the tail. (White in any part of the coat is a serious fault, and shall disqualify whenever the white shall form a patch or stripe measuring as much as one-half inch in its longest dimension.)

Weight—Not exceeding twelve pounds. It is recommended that at all dog shows the open classes shall be (and any or all other classes, except puppy classes, may be) divided as:

Lest We Be MIS-Understood

We hasten to correct an erroneous impression which we may have, unintentionally, conveyed. We are mere "Novices". No One knows and Realizes that fact more than We Do. We are Always willing, and anxious to learn. We Deeply Appreciate constructive criticism. Hence when it was drawn to our attention that we had conveyed the impression—in our advertising—that we were concerned chiefly with HOW MANY Champion-prefixes were behind our various foundation dogs, we realize that we may have created just that impression, so it is up to us to explain ourselves. "While we Do appreciate having an ample supply of Champion prefixes appearing before the names in the pedigrees of our foundation stock, this is by no means our greatest consideration. We are more concerned with Who those Champs Are—and What They Have Actually Produced, and we are greatly concerned in seeing that the Combinations of the various blood-lines, Which Have Proven Highly Effective in the Past, are evident in the pedigree of a dog or bitch we acquire for breeding purposes. Firstly, our reason for desiring plenty of Champ background is this: We are told by the best authorities that however carefully thought out a breeding program may be, one is always faced with the possibility of a "throw-back" to some un-desirable ancestor. Now, If there is Any value in the accumulated judgments of qualified dog-show judges, there should be little change of a dog of undesirable type or conformation being in possession of the Ch. prefix. But we realize That is not All! A Sire or Dam may in itself be of Good type and conformation, yet may Not be able to Transmit these qualities to its progeny when crossed with certain other good strains, yet will produce really wonderful progeny when crossed with still another good strain. Witness the success of the Brucie-Trader strains! Hence, In Addition to the NUMBER of Championships appearing in any of our pedigrees, we look for evidence of the presence of The Right Combinations Leading Up to Our Subject Dog. Take for instance our "County Clare's First Lady". Nine Chs. in 3 generations, 17 in 4, 29 in 5, and 54 in 6 generations. Far More Important to us, is the Fact that a study of her pedigree shows the famous cross of Brucie-Trader, close up, On Both the Sire's and the Dam's Side. Then again, All Four Grandparents are Champions, Every One of Whom was, in turn, the product of Champion parents. Now, we are prepared to concede that the Odd dog which attains Ch. status is Not gifted with the ability to pass on that quality, but the law of averages is definitely against this being the case with All Four Grandparents—and with Their parents! Still again, we recognize in this little bitch's pedigree the presence of some Non-Champion names which, to Our way of thinking, are as valuable, if not more so, than the names of Some of the Champions. For instance: That famous producing bitch Orthodox Glendye of Irolita, dam of quite a number of Champions. Noble Sir, and Brightfield Charm, the latter being the Dam of Ch. Brightfield Delight, who was in turn the Dam of Champion Try Cobs Candidate, he being Sire of the Dam of our "First Lady". My Own Playfair is another non-prefix name worthy of note, Glidmere Buzz being another. The Un-Titled Red Brucie appears twelve times in this little lady's pedigree. Trader appears five times, Brucie twice. Her Sire, Champion Whirlaway of Irolita, went B.I.S. at Buffalo, N.Y., and Twice B.I.S. at Toronto. Her Dam, while not herself a Champion, Is the litter-sister of Champion Nonquitt Nola's Candidate. So, we say that, if All this accumulated, and Consistent "Quality" which is So Evenly Distributed Throughout the Entire Six Columns of This Pedigree (27 of the 54 Chs. being on the Sire's side and 27 on the Dam's side) CANNOT be accepted as an indication of "To-Be-Expected Quality" in the progeny of this excellent little bitch, "Showing" dogs is Purely and simply a waste of time and money. NO OTHER CONCLUSION CAN BE ARRIVED AT! One of the leading United States students of Cocker-Spaniel blood-lines, says of the pedigree of "County Clare's First Lady" and we quote, verbatim: "I like the pedigree of County Clare's First Lady. Every dog in the whole pedigree occupies a prominent place in my mind as a parent of outstanding winners. Far more than can be seen in the pedigree. No-where in the United States do I know of a more desirable pedigree, nor a better combination of the best blood than exists here. What you have so very outstanding in this pedigree is the famous cross of My Own Brucie and Trader in both Sire and Dam. She is firmly bred to quality." (End of quote.)

So, we conclude by hoping that we have made it clear that "Counting Champions" is Not our only occupation.

I still get many phone calls and letters asking what the Cairn is like, so to those who do not know our breed I pen this short sketch:

Back in the 17th century the small dog of Scotland was known as the "terrier". At that time he was bred to work, not exhibit. His work was chiefly fox-bolting and keeping down all vermin. In those days the "standard" as we know it, was unknown. Beyond general size requirement, the Terrier did not conform to any particular type. Every laird or crofter followed his own idea, some demanding speed, others endurance. It is therefore not surprising that there are many variations in height, weight and colour. Only in recent years has stress been laid upon what we now know as "points". The Cairn was recognized as such in 1909.

The Cairn is a small terrier, in fact the smallest working terrier, but not in any sense a toy. Characteristically he is

THE CAIRN TERRIER

By Lillian Wood

shy, chiefly due to the outdoor life his forbears led. After puppyhood he does not make friends with anyone and everyone. This brings greater loyalty in the end. Once he has been won he is single-heartedly devoted to his owner. He is at his best in the field, a natural retriever, will dig out moles, or run anything on four legs till he drops from exhaustion. His two coats serve him well, one shake and he is fit to go indoors. Inside the house he lays aside his restless activity, is quiet and well-mannered, very easy to train. His sensitive nature makes him entirely amenable to spoken reproof, a whip invariably spoils a good sport and loses a friend.

Cairn colour ranges from black brindle through silver, reds to cream, black points desirable. Weight, bitches, 12 to 13 lbs.; dogs, 14 to 15 lbs. I received a letter from England that 7 to 10 lbs., are winning, but let's hope its just a wartime phase.

A word of warning, a section amongst Cairn breeders use the slogan "a real terrier", unflinching the animal is a good terrier but a Bad Cairn Terrier.

The old true type possesses what the Gaelic-speaking fancier calls "Enden Kath" (cats' faces). He must have eye-lashes. There is no doubt the Cairns are extraordinarily difficult to breed really good. Far too little attention is paid to "gait".

So here's to the Cairn for his infinite variety, so fascinating to the breeder, so annoying to the orderly-minded judge! May he continue to grow in popularity.

Mackie, a Dog

By Johnny Milner

"Mamma, Mamma, Tommy's got a dandy puppy. He let me hold it and it licked my nose. Gosh, I wish it was mine!"

"Listen, Billy, I've told you time and time again not to come in the house with mud on your shoes. Just look at them and look at my clean floor. You've been down by the water. I am tired of telling you not to go near the water, and another thing, don't say, gosh."

"All the other kids say gosh, Mamma."

Tom and Molly Wilson had been married 12 years and Billy was their only child. Tom idolized Billy, and at night after supper was over, the two would get together. Tom had to listen to Billy's chatter about the beautiful puppy Tommy had, saying, "Please can I have a puppy, Daddy." After Billy had gone to bed, Tom said, "Billy will be 10 years old next week. We will have to get him something for his birthday. He wants a puppy in the worst way. I'd like to have one, too."

"That's the last thing I want him to have," Molly said. He is the most unruly boy I ever saw. I am forever cleaning up after him. You make too much fuss over him, and I can't do a thing with him all day long."

"It might be a good idea to get him one. One of the men at work was telling me the other day about his boy, what a trouble he had been to them and how he had changed since they had let him keep a stray pup he had brought home. Believe it or not, he said home is like heaven again. All I heard before was, 'Johnny did this and Johnny did that.' I never dreamt that letting a boy have a dog would bring so much happiness in a home and alter a boy's outlook on life. We just tell him the pup will go if he isn't a good boy. The idea seems a good one to me," said Tom.

"I don't want a dog around the house at all, but if I could only get him to pay attention to me. Most of the time I may as well talk to the wall. If only he would be a good boy. I'd try anything, even putting up with a dog in the house."

So the matter was settled. The next evening Tom took up the evening paper and turned to the Dogs for Sale column. "Listen to this, Molly, 't reads good to me. Collie puppy, three months old, well bred, house broken, $20.00. Slip your hat and coat on, it's not far, and we will see what it's like.' When they reached home again they had bought a pup. They said they would be back to get it next Tuesday night."

"How did you like him, Molly?" It's sure a friendly one," she replied. 'You know, I don't like dogs, but it sure looked a cuddly little thing and its eyes seemed to want to tell you how happy it was to see us.'

The following Wednesday Billy came downstairs. His mother said, "Many happy returns of the day, Billy Boy. Get your breakfast and then you can see your present, not before." Billy was excited. He thought of a hockey stick, roller skates and a dozen other things. Finally Molly said, "Your present is in the kitchen, go get it yourself." Billy opened the kitchen door and the pup bounded to him, its tail swinging from side to side in its joy. Billy put his arms around it and hugged it to him. All he could say was, "Gosh, Mamma, thanks." "It's all yours, Billy, but only if you are a good boy and do as you are told." From that day, he was Mamma's little helper. The pup's name was "Mackie" and like Mary's little lamb, they were never apart. Love and adoration for each other shone in their eyes as they romped together. Mackie seemed to understand so, and grew rapidly. When older boys teased Billy, Mackie would growl and show his teeth. Billy was the only god he knew. The love of a dog for a little boy is priceless, and develops a kindness of heart that lives on and on throughout the years to come.

The months went by; winter was over. Mackie had grown into a big dog, sturdy and strong. The ice in the river and the melting snow had made the peaceful river a swollen flood. One evening as the two were playing together two older boys came along, carrying fishing rods and a can of bait. "Come on," said one of them. "I've got lots of string and you can get a stick off one of the trees." Billy refused to go, saying, "I promised Mamma I wouldn't go near the river." The two boys snickered and called him Mamma's little pet and "Mamma's little baby." "Dare you, dare you," they said.

This was too much for Billy, a dare was a dare. "All right, I'll come," and with rod, string and bait, he sat down by himself with Mackie by his side. The water frightened him, it was so rough and swirling. He wanted to go home but the boys had dared him. Darn them, he said to himself, I'll show them. The swollen river had undermined the bank where Billy sat. After a while he said to the boys, "I'm going home." Just as he rose to his feet the bank gave way. Billy's head came up in the water several yards away. One of the boys ran as fast as he could to tell Mrs. Wilson. Out of breath, he said, "Your Billy is in the river." "Oh, God! Billy Boy." Her flying feet reached the river in seconds, crying and praying as she ran. The other boy said, "He's over there. Mackie jumped in after him. Molly saw a white face, then it disappeared again. The face appeared again, and she saw Mackie had hold of Billy firmly by the coat collar and was fighting for every yard he gained. They were closer now; Molly was in the river, the water up to her armpits. Closer and closer they came—four more yards, three more, then her reaching arms clasped her Billy Boy. The boy had run to get the doctor and he was waiting on the bank. Off came his coat and through her tears Molly watched the still white face for some sign of life. At last it came. Billy opened his eyes and closed them again. The doctor rose to his feet. "He's all right now. Get him into bed and wrap him up warm. I'll be along in a few minutes."

Tom had been sent for and together they stood at the bedside, each thanking God in their hearts. Billy opened his eyes and said, "I want Mackie, Mamma. I didn't mean to go near the river, honest I didn't." Molly went to the head of the stairs and called Mackie. Up he came, still wet and muddy. Nothing mattered now. On to the bed he jumped, his long tongue licking Billy's face delightedly. Billy had his arms around him.

The story is rather old; it belongs to the days gone by. Mackie is now 13 years old; he can't understand why Billy isn't there any more, but Billy is where he should be, a front line sergeant with the Canadian Army Overseas. He has been decorated for bravery. And the old dog lies there in the warmth, waiting and waiting for a voice that doesn't come.

MY SHEPHERD HAD A SEVERE CASE OF ECZEMA. I HAD ALMOST GIVEN UP HOPE OF CURING HIM WHEN I DECIDED TO TRY REX WHEAT GERM OIL.

I FED IT TO HIM DAILY AND ALL SIGNS OF ECZEMA WERE COMPLETELY GONE AFTER A FEW WEEKS! I LAUGH WHEN I THINK OF ALL THE MONEY I SPENT TRYING TO CURE HIM.

"AND ALL IT TOOK WAS A LITTLE REX WHEAT GERM OIL"

Sirs:

My Shepherd had a severe case of Eczema. I had almost given up hope of curing him. Every night I applied medicine to stop the itching. His diet was carefully watched; he was given all kinds of pills. I was at the end of my rope when I decided to try Rex Oil. I fed it to him daily. Believe me, you cannot imagine my relief to see all signs of the Eczema completely gone after a few weeks. Now his hair is beginning to have a beautiful gloss.

I have to laugh when I think of all the money I spent trying to cure him, and all it took was a little bit of Rex Oil to do the trick. I would not believe such a result possible if I had not seen it with my own eyes.

Niagara Bird Dog Association Trials

April 28, 1945

The Niagara District Bird Dog Association was fortunate in having ideal weather for the running of their Spring Trials on Saturday the 28th of April. The Holger Pedersen Farm was the meeting place. The ground was slightly damp and scenting conditions were excellent. A record entry of 88, comprising 47 Pointers and Setters and 41 Spaniels, made this an outstanding event. Between 300 and 400 spectators followed the different stakes with great interest. Niagara District Pheasant Breeders Association supplied the pheasants, which were afterwards liberated in Welland County.

Louthaven Toby, owned by Dr. C. A. Nelson, won the Open All-age class, while Frejax Invader, owned by Rymer Brothers, St. Catharines, won the Shooting Dog Stakes for Spaniels.

OUR AMERICAN FRIENDS

Marion Florsheim with CH. RUDIKA OF BLAKEEN and new owner, Charles Costabile of Texas. RUDIKA was Best in Show, London, April 21st, 1945.

AFGHAN HOUND, CH. RUDIKA OF BLAKEEN, IS AWARDED BEST-IN-SHOW AT LONDON, CANADA

Taken to Canada for the first time by Marion Foster Florsheim, Ch. Rudika of Blakeen, many times contender for the chief honor in the States, crashed through against many of Canada's best entries, and was awarded the top honor by Judge W. C. Baldwin, at London, Canada, on April 21st.

Again shown the following day at Windsor, Rudika was Best Amer.-Bred in Show and runner-up for the top honor under Judge Wm. E. McDerment. The Afghan was beautifully handled by Mr. Alf Loveridge, of Canada, and showed proudly with neck and head carried high, with her eyes constantly following the judge as he moved in the ring.

Ch. Rudika is one of the outstanding daughters of Int. Ch. Rudiki of Prides Hill; is a red with black mask ears, a beautifully coated and finely built bitch. After finishing her championship when a youngster she was retired from the ring and produced an outstanding litter of eight sired by Int. Ch. Rana of Chaman of Royal Irish. From this litter three were fortunate enough to go into show homes and are top winners; Ch. Zurmurrud of Five Mile (owned by Mrs. John Bamburger of Salt Lake City) has won many groups and is a top bitch the same color as her dam; Ch. Asri Ravid of Five Mile is a Best-in-Show son, and is owned by Mrs. Percy Gudgeon of Canada. Another Best in Show son of this litter is Ch. Yenghiz Khan of Five Mile (owned by Mrs. Wilfred Kennedy of Detroit, the English Setter fanciers).

Resuming her show career for a short time last summer Ch. Rudika's wins to date are: 21 Best Breed; 20 Pl. Group; 11 Best Hound; 2 Best Amer.-Bred in Show; 1 Best in Show. This bitch now possesses all points necessary to becoming an international champion, but must be shown once more in Canada and win under a third judge before she is awarded the Canadian title.

Rudika is now owned by Mr. Charles Costabile of Texas, who travelled to Canada to see her shown, but will remain at the Florsheim's Connecticut "Five Mile Kennels" to avoid the Texas heat this summer.

AMERICAN SPANIEL CLUB 1946 Year Book

The 1946 Yearbook of the American Spaniel Club will contain a unique 16-page section devoted to an illustrated Cocker Spaniel Standard by famed artist Paul Brown, working under a grant by the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City, it is announced.

The grant was made in line with the Center's belief that the judging and breeding of Cockers would be greatly benefitted by the existence of a pictorial standard to accompany the textual standard now in use. Expectations are that it will make for greater uniformity in judging on the one hand, and, on the other, give breeders, particularly novices, a concrete ideal "to shoot at." It is hoped that the adoption of similar pictorial standards by other clubs will prove a definite contribution toward the breeding of more desirable dogs in all the several classifications.

NATIONAL DOG WEEK

The 18th consecutive observance of National Dog Week in the United States will take place September 16-22. Due to restrictions on important shows, more dog folk are taking an active interest, volunteering for duties in connection with their community in N.D.W. observance.

Secretary Harry Miller says more people are beginning to see N.D.W. for what it really is—a powerful tool in the service of those who love dogs or depend on them for a livelihood—one which safeguards the welfare and future of all dogs.

Enemies of the dog, ever ready to stir up trouble are already at work in Washington, New York State, California and elsewhere. Through its seven-point program, National Dog Week Headquarters strives so to handle the dog's public relations as to take the wind out of the sails of those whose aim is to discredit "Man's best friend."

PROVINCIAL NOTES

ALBERTA NOTES

By H. P. Saunders
Calgary, Alberta

The Alberta Field Trials were run off last week on the club's course from Hubalta to Shepard.

The field trial club is to be congratulated on being able to function in spite of the troublesome times we are passing. It needs just this to get people to enjoy recreation, and experience the thrills always experienced at such a competition.

The judges were Vic Grainger, whose experience runs over many years, first with Setters and now with Pointers. Vic has bred and produced many winners and is still in the game right up to his ears. He is also interested in Retriever trials.

The other judge, Walter Cory, is a Calgary product. His dad is one of the most outstanding sportsmen in Western Canada. He has always had wonderful Pointers. Long may he be spared to enjoy his favorite sport!

Both judges performed their duties to the entire satisfaction of the dog owners; also the gallery.

The Derby class was run off first and was won by an English Setter, Bings Rivetter, owned by Dodger Lewis of Calgary, Alberta. This dog put up a real classy performance. He is wide, fast and stylish and displayed a lot of intelligence, and also made it appear that Dodger had given him lots of work. He is sired by that fast, wide dog, Smoogie, and his dam was bred by Joe Rudolph.

Second place was won by an English Setter, Lucky Strike, owned by Scottie MacPhail, also of Calgary. Scottie developed that wonderful performer and producer, Tick Tock, bred by Nick Nickolson of Forest Lawn, Alberta, who has owned and campaigned so many field trial winners.

Third place went to the Pointer Graingers Gremlin, owned by Andy Lund of Calgary. This dog will be heard from again, I am sure, for he packs around just about what it takes to be a good one, but he was unfortunate. Watch him another time. This last event was a split between Graingers Gremlin and Mindy's Ace, a Setter owned by Jimmie Wordie, and was he a good-looking. He is a litter brother to Lucky Strike. Jimmie Wordie always has a good dog and no person enjoys working them as much as Jimmie.

Mac MacLaughlan had some real contenders in this event, but they were also unfortunate in drawing fields where the birds were scarce. The classic was the all-age and the large gallery was treated to some of the finest exhibition of dog work.

The winner of this event was a big upstanding Pointer and was he good-looking. He put up a performance that brought the gallery right up on its toes and they gave him thunderous applause. This dog was bred by Dave Sinclair of Calgary, Alberta, who years ago owned an imported dog that has left his stamp on some wonderful progeny. Towit Gus Dumas and Church of Balsac were made famous by the same breeding. Frank Fallon had another and they were all performers. The winner is owned by the Creach brothers, Mike and Jimmie, and are they proud of this dog, and well they might be, for he just simply stole the show. I would like to own this dog, for he demonstrated that he could handle birds to perfection and he was as staunch as the rock of Gibraltar. He was handled by the maestro, Charlie Webster, who has trained and handled more winners than any other man in Western Canada. You know, Charlie received his early training from my friend Charlie Murray, who was so well known and respected by the field trialers from the very early days. Don't think for a minute that Charlie Murray is only locally known, for while I was in New York, in February, Dr. Bruette related many experiences he had in days gone by watching Charlie Murray win the big stakes with his dogs. I told the Dr. that we now had Charlie Webster carrying on the good work in our province and he was a counterpart of the original Charlie Murray.

Every time I go to see the field trials run I contact Charlie Webster and ask him what is cooking, and Charlie always has the correct dope. He told me at this last event that Creach Bros.' Pointer was outstanding, and had you been there to have seen the team work between the dog and his trainer you would have agreed that Charlie was right, as he always is. I would have liked to have had a motion picture of this dog and his trainer winning this All-age. Creach brothers are to be congratulated on owning this dog, on having the common sense to have Charlie train, fit, and run their dog. This dog likes to work. He demonstrates that he can put style, speed and range in his work, and when Charlie stepped in front of him and put up the birds he never batted an eye, but Charlie had a twinkle in his eye that told the dog volumes, and was Mike Creach pleased. I don't blame him, neither did every member of the gallery.

Second prize was won by Bow Valley Queen, so well and favorably known by all field trial followers. She was unfortunate for she did not get a find, but she has already shown what she can do, and when she gets a chance she can repeat some of her previous experiences.

Third was won by a Pointer owned by Ken J. Morgan, also a good one, but rather unfortunate also.

Dodger Lewis' and Wm. Toole's Setters put up a very searching heat, but did not locate.

Them Kerr has a Pointer that put up a game race. He demonstrated to the gallery that he knew what is was all about, but he also was on a course where there were no birds, but next time just keep an eye on this dog—his name is Carolina Jack.

Frank Stewart had a real contender. His Pointer went right out and gave a very neat performance. You know, Frank always gets a great bang out of a good working dog, no matter who owns it, and Frank always has a good one.

Charlie Crist was on hand as usual. Charlie generally tops the list, but this time he drew a bad course, but he will be back and next time he may be more fortunate. Here is hoping.

FORT GARRY KENNEL CLUB

Est. 1919

By Mrs. Glenora Mills
157 Tait Ave., West Kildonan
Phone: 51-679

At an executive meeting the other evening our Manitoba Director, Mr. Gostick, leaned across to whisper to me that his son, Ray (who has been serving in his Dad's old regiment, The Fort Garry Horse, was out of the French hospital and was now in a convalescent home in England and that they expect he'll be sent home soon. We all remember Ray as a young fellow just starting in the kennel game when he enlisted, and we'll all be mighty glad to see him home again. We know it won't be long before he'll be out in the training field with his hunting, once he's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aconley are rejoicing over the return of their son, Bert, who has spent the last five years in the Royal Canadian Navy. During this time he served on eighteen ships and also managed enough time ashore to collect a wife. They are both at home now, and eager to get going, helping Bill run the kennel.

At the last reporting, the Ainville kennels had eight new litters of Labs and two of Cockers. That should keep the young folk running with the feed bowls as soon as weaning time comes around. I understand that they also have a new imported Lab. stud, but more of him in a later issue.

At our last meeting, Dr. Anderson, V.S., gave us a most interesting talk on Doberman-Pinschers, stressing the difference in temperament to any other breed, and making it very clear that breeders should be very careful to whom they sell stock. This is Dr. Anderson's favorite breed, and he is very proud of the fact that they were chosen as the official dog of the United States Marine Corps.

Billy Trevenen has had a spot of tough luck. The night of our Sanction Show he arrived home dog-tired (wotta pun!) and fell into bed about 12.30 a.m. About 2.00 a.m. the sound of smashing glass awakened him, and he found the house next to his, blazing madly. Within a few minutes his own was afire, and Bill and his wife had quite a time to get their five children out safely. Luckily no one was burned, but both Billie and his wife received nasty cuts from glass. Their furniture was practically a complete loss, but at last report the house was habitable again. To cap it all, Billie had to leave with his horses for the East before things at home were fixed up, but a few of our good Club members have been out to see what they could do to help. As soon as possible I shall visit Mrs. Trevenen, and report on the progress made.

I do wish members would co-operate a little bit in regard to phoning news to me. I got quite a raking over the coals recently for not reporting the wins of a member's dog; they didn't bother to phone me about it, but "thought someone would". What you won't do yourself, you can't expect others to do for you. I'm no psychic, you know, but I have a bad temper. Ask the fellow who phoned!

B.C. NOTES

By Gladys McGee

Mrs. Webb, late of Winnipeg, collie breeder under the Mayflower prefix: of over thirty years has come to make her home on the Island and is off to a good start with some nice collies, among which are a tri-colored sired by Ch. Sterling Starmist ex Sterling Sadon, bred by E. L. Pickard, Vancouver, and a nice female, Elmhill Elnora, bred by the well known Dr. Cooper of Collie fame.

Buccleuch Kennels.—Mrs. Chas. A. McGee (Cockers), reports a new arrival being awaited from the kennels of Mrs. J. Hill, Washington, U.S.A. This cocker, a female sired by the well known "Benbow's Night Slier", should prove an asset as far as bloodlines go, he being a son of Ch. Try Cob's Candidate ex Benbow's Princess. Live Oak Lorena Lady, owned by Miss P. Powles, new Westminster, B.C., was a visitor this week to our Holdfast Noble Son, he a grandson of Int. Ch. Live Oak Sand Storm.

Mrs. B. Davidson and Mr. James Stark, partners of Tulloch Kennels, have purchased a group of (Am.) type Cocker Spaniels from the kennel of Miss Pamela Powles, New Westminster. One of these, Highland Park Miss Muffet, is in whelp to Rockcroft Fascinator, who is a grandson of Ch. Try Cob's Candidate. There is also a lovely young red dog by Tri Ch. Live Oak Spring Storm ex Live Oak Lorena Lady, and two blacks and a golden of Stockdale Town Talk ex Ch. Marquita Cavalier. With this array of blood lines Mrs. Davidson is off to a good start and will be watched with interest by Cocker breeders. An interesting Toy purchase was also made by this good lady from Mr. E. Duke, Happy Valley, namely the Pekingese Der Fu of Orchard Hill, sired by the well known Remenhan of Orchard Hill, bred by Mrs. R. Quigley, U.S.A. The other Pekes are expected at Tulloch shortly.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NOTES

By Gladys McGee

Although by the time this appears the Victoria City Kennel Club Show will be over, I thought for the benefit of those who could not attend a few comments might be of interest. Held under the auspices of the "Jr. Victorian Order of Nurses" it was held in the Crystal Garden. The modern benching was arranged to give a maximum of comfort to exhibitors and spectators alike. Harry Dodds who is so well known to us all superintended, assisted by an efficient Committee, and kept things running smoothly. Whether it was the fact that we were celebrating VE day yet or not I don't know, but there seemed to be more of a spirit of friendly rivalry than usual, and as far as I could hear less grumbling, in fact it was "one swell show".

There were two hundred and twenty-five dogs entered for the judge, Mr. Geo. Kynoch, of Winnipeg, to go over, and the quality was high. As most of the trophies were won by mainland or U.S.A. dogs, I'll leave Mrs. Fletcher the correspondent for that part of B.C. to tell you of them.

Among the spectators I noticed several fanciers of a few years back, namely, Mr. Harry McKenzie, who bred English Setters carrying the Bank Bay prefix, Mr. Jack Creighton, who bred Cocker Spaniels and has judged at many of our B.C. shows, W. C. Burns, of Springer Spaniel note, and many others. It was truly nice to see them again.

Mrs. Ena Bell, of Victoria, was again in the ribbons with her Pomeranian puppy, "Greeba's Ben-My-Chree, who shows much promise. He won the Best Senior Puppy.

Mrs. Gladys Creasey also did some nice winning with her Pekingese "Fiesal of Fernray".

Had a very interesting letter from Mrs. G. Harrison up Vancouver Island at Parksville. She has some nice young Cockers coming along carrying the Windridge Whizz, Sandon Red Cloud and Windridge Black Eyed Susan bloodlines. More news of this Kennel later.

Miss P. Prinsep, of the Sunshine Kennels, late of Vancouver, is now located at Albernie, V.I., where she is still breeding German Shepherds. She reports many inquiries from the East and Western provinces.

I had also a very nice letter from Mr. E. Duke of the Bushy Ruff Pekingese Kennels at Happy Valley, V.I. He writes "A few months ago I purchased from Mrs. Caruso, Orchid Kennels, a nice parti-color female, "Koo-Kee of Wangoo" who is by Chee Kee Wa of Wang X Wunni Wee Wong of Wangza, but unfortunately lost her a day or two after whelping. He says he managed to raise one puppy by hand—a nice little lady now four months old that shows promise. He also purchased from the same Kennel a silver grey dog by Sun Sing of Orchid X Pixie of Orchid. His name is "Pat Tee" and he is a full brother (former litter) of Int. Ch. Sou Chow of Orchid.

MAINLAND OF B.C. NEWS

By Mrs. H. E. Fletcher

An interesting sale is that of the grand young English Setter, Ch. Shiplake Navigator. Mr. Mahood has purchased him from Mrs. Jean Williams, and we hope he keeps up the good work. Navigator made the title undefeated and won several groups and Best Canadian Bred in show. He was bred and raised by Wally Willgress of New Westminster.

Everyone is busy these days grooming their dogs for the forthcoming International Kennel Club's double-header, two shows. What a break for the fanciers! It's been a long time between shows on the mainland. Two well known judges are doing the honors, Will Judy of Dog World fame and Harry Saunders of Calgary, who is well known to you all.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Willgress are the proud owners of a litter of ten (six dogs, four bitches) Brittany Spaniel puppies, which they believe to be a record litter for that breed. The dam is Mae De Borean, who several years ago was imported from France. Mae was bred to Mr. A. Principe's imported stud.

A newcomer to this kennel is a very promising Brittany youngster from Mr. Principe's kennel. He will be retained as a future stud. This breed seems to be gaining popularity in leaps and bounds.

Another good old one to pass on to doggie heaven is the Boston, Ch. Expectation 3rd, owned by Pat and Mrs. Brennan of the Mountview Kennels. Although Expectation was twelve years old he sired a litter two weeks before his death; the females will be retained for breeding stock.

Three new Bostons have been added to this kennel in preparation for the day that Pat will be home again to take up the breeding of his favorite dog—a very promising young stud which should cause considerable comment and two very flashy bitches.

A dog strangler who seems to delight in hanging and strangling dogs has caused the death of several, the last victim being a wee Pekingese. However, its screams were heard and it was saved the fate of its unfortunate friends.

Mr. W. H. Pym has suggested to the police to use Bloodhounds on the case as he is of the same opinion that several others are; that anyone contorted in mind enough to do that to a dog wouldn't hesitate to hurt some little child.

PACIFIC NEWS

By Dollie Wall

As this issue is to feature toy dogs we will mention some of the wee dogs that have been brought into this province in the last few years. Mrs. Winnifred Powles, later of Cocker fame, was responsible for some of the finest Pekes being brought into Canada. Among the many good ones she has brought in was "Junky Chong", who soon attained his championship. There are many good Pekes in Vancouver today, sons and daughters and grandchildren of "Ch. Junky Chong", such as "Ch. Yangtze's Little Black Sambo", owned by Mrs. Jack Andrews, an old-timer in the Peke world, and Mrs. F. Marshall's "Loo Keo", another son, and many more such good dogs. Mrs. Marshall, by the way, is one of the oldest Peke breeders in Vancouver and is still in the game. Mrs. Cockett is another old-timer in this fancy and she has piloted quite a number of these dogs through to their championship. Mrs. Annie Moore of Vancouver Island was another fancier who has not been so active in later years. Mr. E. Duke of Victoria imported the Peke "Der Fu of Orchard Hill" and has done some nice winning with this dog. On the list of importations was a pair brought in by Mrs. Hilda Brint, from the Orchard Hill Kennels, U.S.A. These two dogs came from some of the best blood lines ever imported into the U.S.A. Pier Dinah of Orchard Hill was a very beautiful black female and her partner, "Ch. Romeo Tu of Orchard Hill", a lovely red male. "Romeo" has sired some very fine puppies and is still in fine form. Mrs. Laura Young is producing some very fine puppies and can be seen at nearly all shows. The H'In San Kennels in Victoria, owned by Gladys Creasey, need no introduction, the records of their wins and sales speak for themselves. At the present time we have a lovely litter of male puppies sired by their "Fiesal of Fernray". These puppies are nearly all spoken for and one will be going all the way to Halifax to Mrs. G. Taylor, who had her order in before they were born. Mrs. Taylor has recently joined the Kennel Club and we shall be hearing quite a bit from her in the near future.

"H'IN SAN'S TINKER TOI"—owner Gladys Creasey, B.C.

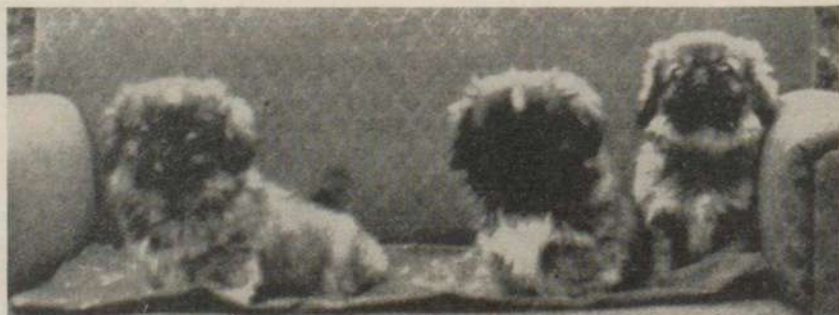

"MOL-LEES PUNG CHEE OF BOI" and "FIESAL OF FERNRAY".

Mrs. Miller, a comparatively new fancier, has chosen the Pomeranian. We understand she has been fortunate in securing some stock from Mrs. E. Bradley, who is well known out here for her outstanding Poms. Other toy breeders to be seen in our rings are Mrs. Clyde Ritchie of Kelowna and her Chihuahuas; when unable to come herself she usually sends her dogs down for all shows. Griffons are now making their appearance in quite a number of our shows. Mrs. L. M. Wood of the Melita Kennels in Victoria having secured some.

Bert Blair's Labrador Retriever "Braken Sweep" added more honors to his kennels when he won the open-age stake, also the annual Challenge Cup for the best dog in the Annual Retriever Trial of the Laker Mainland of B.C. Gun Association. This dog is trained and handled by Keith Coughlan. Many good dogs competed at this trial, a total entry of 63 in all, and nearly 2,000 fans and fanciers attending. Judging got away to a good start in the morning and was not completed until late evening. The judges were Billy Oates, Frank Andrews, Slim Hall and V. W. Williams. Incidentally this makes the third straight win for "Braken Sweep", having now completed his field championship.

HILL RIDGE CHING, HILL RIDGE BON VEE BOITU and HILL RIDGE MI LADEE, owned by Mrs. Brint, B.C.

SHEPHERD SHORTS

By W. O. F.

At the April meeting of our Club Mr. Geo. Ross who has been appointed Chairman of the Field Trial Committee, declined with thanks, and in his stead Mrs. Levack was elected.

An invitation was read from Mr. Ben Schultz inviting us to hold a matinee show at his home in Niagara Falls, Ontario, and it is hoped that we can avail ourselves of this opportunity at some later date.

We wish to extend a hearty welcome to two new members, namely Mr. T. O. Saunders, 25 College St., Port Arthur, and Mrs. W. W. Thoburn, 43 Farnham Ave., Toronto.

We are glad to report that our genial Treasurer Bob Gilmour has almost entirely recovered from his throat ailment, and that Mary Weller has also recovered from her recent illness.

For the benefit of our friends from the United States we print an item appearing in one of the Buffalo newspapers:

"In response to appeals by summer visitors, Canada has modified its regulations governing the importation of dogs from Buffalo and other rabies-infested areas, it was announced by Customs Collector Wm. G. Stamp at Fort Erie. The new rules will permit dogs to be brought into Canada, provided a certificate has been obtained from a licensed veterinarian that the animal has been examined and has been found free of any symptoms of contagious disease, has not been exposed to rabies and has been vaccinated against rabies within a period of six months of the date of entry into Canada."

At the recent show in London, T. V. Saunderson's dog "Flight of Longworth" won Best of Breed with John Van Heze-wyck's bitch "Margo of Cosalta" winning "Winners Bitches". At Windsor Margo of Cosalta won Best of Breed and Mrs. Hendrie's Yip of Sandorea was Winners Dog.

"...for conditioning champions!"

R. C. Vaughan, owner and handler of Champion Cashier of Barrie (shown above), outstanding winner in Eastern Canada, twice going Best of Show, and constant winner in sporting groups, says: "I have raised many fine Cocker Spaniels at Garwood Kennels, and every one of them was raised on Gro-Pup—ever since it was first introduced in this area. I am convinced that you can't beat Gro-Pup for conditioning champions."

(Signed) Mr. R. C. Vaughan,
Garwood Kennels (Reg.), Brookville, N.B.

Why breeders feed GRO-PUP

It's a properly balanced diet to keep dogs of all ages, sizes and breeds at their natural best.

It is easily digestible. It contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need for growth and vigour.

It helps build solid bone structure and gives a dog an even, lustrous coat—and pep!

Money Saving! Gro-Pup costs about 1/2 the price of many other brands of dog food.

Economical! A 2-lb. box of Gro-Pup Cubes feeds an average 15-lb. dog a week.

...ask the experts

Get it at grocers or pet shops in the 2-lb. box of cubes—or in the new 5-lb. bag of meal... and at wholesale suppliers (listed below) either cube or meal form in bulk up to 100 lbs.

Our show was very successful in spite of the fact that V-Day occurred during the week and in many cases people were so far behind in their work that they could not take the time to get their dogs ready. We are very pleased and we decorated our trophy in red, white and blue and had a beautiful flag along the front and we called our show the Victory show!

Kindest regards and very best wishes for a bumper June issue.

GLADYS A. MCGUIRE,
Secretary-Treasurer.

LAKEHEAD LOOKS AHEAD

By Kenneth A. Ross

The members of the Lakehead Kennel Club, judging by the atmosphere which permeated the May meeting, are living in the future, the said future embracing such items as newly-born Cocker Spaniel puppies, soon to be born Boston puppies, prospective championships, and last but not least, the forthcoming all breed point show of the club, on August 15th.

Mr. C. J. Boyle, the immediate Past-President of the club, is beaming his satisfaction over the recent birth of a litter of six Cocker puppies, whelped by his Kappa Chloe, a litter sister of Ch. Kappa Son of Surprise, and sired by none other than that great dog Ch. Whirlaway of Irolita. Mr. B. M. Battley, an enthusiastic member of the club executive, has just shipped his Boston bitch, Taylor's Winnie, to Paddy Boughs at Toronto, to be bred to that popular dog, Paddy's Best Regards. Then Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, keen members of the club, who have just returned from the East, report the success of their fine German Shepherd, Flight of Longworth, who was placed Best of Winners and Best of Breed at London, April 21st, and Reserve Winners at Windsor the following day.

Mr. Tom Grimshaw, one of the founders of the club, reports no less than three Wire litters at an early date. Tom is one of the club's most enthusiastic breeders, the type that cannot help making things go.

Incidentally, Ken Ross of the Keneva Pomeranian Kennels, sent his two little show dogs, Melbourne Blazing Glory and Keneva Brucie, to Saskatoon and Edmonton this spring, where between them they picked up four points. These little travellers are currently showing at Quebec and Guelph with results to follow. This breeder has recently added a second breed to his kennels, the Airedale, having purchased from Mrs. Kenneth D. Marlatt, Aldon Kennels, Oakville, Ont., a nice eight months' bitch puppy, All Spirit of Aldon (Cricket of Aldon), by Ch. All Flash of Aldon ex Alomi of Aldon. This puppy was sent West a week after she reached Mr. Ross, where she was placed best Airedale at Edmonton, also picking up a point at Saskatoon.

Don't forget the Lakehead Kennel Club Show, on August 15th. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

We Aim to be Big and Strong

... that's why we speak
for GAINES THE COMPLETE MEAL

Speed Valley Ambassador and Speed Valley Amber Boy ... bred by Speed Valley Kennels of Guelph, Ont. The pups, and their mother as well, are fed Gaines Meal.

YOUNG OR OLD, all breeds of dogs thrive on Gaines. It is the Complete Meal, containing meat meal, cereals, milk nutrients, vegetables, minerals and vitamins A, B₁, B₂, B₆, D, E, niacin and pantothenate—everything needed to nourish dogs completely. As prize-dog breeders know, this balanced formula has been successful for 15 years in helping to make glossy coats and sound teeth and bones, and to keep dogs in vigorous health.

FIRST AND LAST, dogs like Gaines. 9 out of 10 like it at first taste—and they don't tire of it. That's one of many reasons why breeders have helped to make Gaines the largest-selling dog food in America. Comes in two forms. Gaines Meal, which you mix with warm water, for regular feedings. Gaines Krunchon—the same food in crisp pellet form—for other feedings and for treats. Both come in 2 lb., 5 lb., and 50 lb. bags.
