"Tops in Conditioning" Says Handler of Prize Winners

Young in years—he's just 19—George Boyd is old in experience. He is already recognized as one of the top-ranking spaniel handlers at Canadian and United States shows. His record is a long string of "Best in Show", "Best in Group" and "Best of Breed". George knows that dogs that show in fast company must be in good condition and that diet is "so important". He feeds Master K-9 Meal and recommends it. This is what George Boyd says about Master Dog Foods:

"I have been using your Master K-9 Meal and Kennel Kibble for over a year and have found by experience that they are 'TOPS' in conditioning and keeping a dog in perfect shape.

"Your K-9 Meal really improves the sheen on a long-haired dog's coat and I am pleased to recommend it at any time to my clients."

Little Brown Dog

Little brown dog with the soft wise eyes,
Your plate stands empty, your pillow lies
In the sunny corner you loved so much;
And fingers ache for the silken touch
Of your head thrust into a curving palm,
Little brown dog.

I'll fetch my slippers myself to-night,
Find my own paper, and where the light
In the corner always suited us best
I'll sit alone; yet your head will rest
On my foot, I know, and your tail slap-slam
Gently, little brown dog.

The cats may prowl on the garden wall
Without your bark; and the postman's call
Brings no click of toes on the polished floor;
My footstep rouses no joy at the door,
No frenzied ecstasy crashing the jamb,
Little brown dog.

Little brown dog, though you've gone away
To some upland slope where sunbeams play,
Day in, day out, with your scampering soul,
Your spirit lingers—an aureole
Of adoring love—wherever I am,
Little brown dog.

The Editor's Line

The Mastiff Club of America is attempting to revive an interest among real breeders in the mastiff. This breed, owing to its rarity, is mentioned in this issue.

The Mastiff has long been known in Britain and has been referred to as a large-headed dog, with blunt muzzle. The animal has massive limbs and is broad and muscular. At the time of Chaucer, they were known as Alans or Alaunts:

"About his car there wente white
Alaun's

Twenty and more, as great as any steer,

To hunt the lion or wilde boar
And followed him, with muzzle fastly bound."

—Chaucer, The Knights Tale.

We see Sir Robert Sibbald terming the mastiff "the molussus" and Dryden, who translated Virgil's Georgics about 1666, say:

"Nor last forget thy faithful dogs;
but feed

With fattening whey the mastiff's generous breed."

In the original the word is molussus, translated by Dryden into mastiff.

In "The Gentlemen's Recreation," in four parts, viz: Hunting, Hawking, Fowling, and Fishing, published London, 1686, is some mention of the mastiffs. It states, that the English Mastiff is an Indigena or native of England, and that "The King of Poland has a great race of English Mastiffs, which in that country retain their ferocity, and are brought up to play upon greater beasts." It mentions that the wolf will carry off a porker with ease, unless stopped by Mastiffs or horseman; and "When the wolf is hunted with Hounds he flieth not far before them, and unless he be coursed with Greyhound or Mastiffs, he keepeth the covert ways," and again, on Bear-hunting; it recommends Mastiffs to be mingled with the Hounds for more speedy execution, stating: "for they will pinch the bear and provoke her until at last they bring her to bay," etc.

In further reference to the mastiffs owned by the King of Poland, Col. H. Smith mentions two mastiffs, standing 30 inches at shoulder, according to his own measuring, that had belonged to the Elector of Saxony and King of Poland."

CH. SING LEE OF JALNA

Mrs. Zara Smith of Seattle, Washington, has kindly sent us cuts of her lovely Pekes, International Champion, Shia Wee Toi and his son, Canadian Champion, Sing Lee of Jalna. Fire destroyed Mrs. Smith's kennels in April and Shia Wee Toi lost his life. Fortunately, Mrs. Smith has some of his progeny to continue her breeding plans for his blood-line.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

Marion Foster Florsheim, and her Afghan mascot Int Ch Rudika of Blakeen. The Afghan which was Best-in-Show at London in April, and runner-up for Best-in-Show the following day at Windsor.

Marion purchased a four-place Fairchild plane in April and has just completed a 2½-months' solo trip visiting top kennels from Canada to Omaha, Detroit, through Illinois, Kansas City, Tulsa, Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, and even across the Rocky Mountains to Santa Fe, New Mexico, to see Amelia White and Alex Scott of the Kandahar Afghan Kennels.

Rudika, who had never flown before, proved a perfect mascot and loves to fly. Mrs. Florsheim told us the dog seems to know from the air pressure when she is 50 feet off the ground, sits up and begs for the windows to be opened so she can proudly stick her head out. Marion Florsheim was in the U.S. 319th Army Air Forces as a pilot, flying ships for the Ferry Command. Once the American shows open again she plans to fly her Afghans, and top dogs of several other favorite breeds cross-country for exhibit. Her plan is to campaign Int Ch Rudika on the Pacific Coast.

Rudika, a beautiful black-masked daughter of a famous sire, Int Ch Rudiki of Prides Hill, was recently sold to Mr. Charles Costabile of Texas, but The Florsheim's "Five Mile Kennels" now again have a half interest in her, and consider her America's top show bitch. Rudika has sired one litter, from which came four top offspring, three of which have won many groups, two have won Best in Shows. The fourth dog unfortunately is not in a show home, though Mrs. Florsheim considers him the best of the lot. The three best known from the litter are: Ch Asri Havid of Five Mile (owned by Mrs. Eve Gudgeon of Hamilton); Ch. Yenghiz Khan of Five Mile (owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kennedy of Detroit); and Ch Zumurrud of Five Mile (owned by Mrs. John Bamburger of Salt Lake City). Ch Zumurrud has just whelped a beautiful litter of six, sired by Int Ch Rana of Chaman. Three pups are black masked reds, the other three creams. The Florsheims were so enthusiastic about them they have purchased the entire litter, which was whelped in the kennels of Mr. and Mrs. John Hickey, professional handlers, Kansas City, Missouri.

The Florsheim's have orders for 8 top show specimens from English show kennels, and are breeding 4 line-bred Rudiki litters from which they expect to choose stock, retaining it until 6 months old before taking it to England where it must go through quarantine.

International Champion Rudika of Blakeen has some remarkable wins to her credit. She has 21 Best of Breed awards, 21 Placed Group, 19 Best Hound, 3 Best of American Bred in Show and 1 Best in Show.

Mrs. Florsheim's "Five Mile Kennels" situated at Route One, Darien, Conn., are famous for their Afghans.

A CORRECTION TO ANNUAL MINUTES OF THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB

Would the members kindly take note of the following correction which has been brought to the attention of the Secretary by Mr. Alex. Gostick, Director for Manitoba.

On the right-hand column of page nineteen and the left-hand column of page twenty: the statements attributed in these two columns to Mr. Gostick should have been attributed to Mr. Wm. Pym. Kindly note that this error crept into the Minutes owing to the fact that Annual Meeting Minutes are made by an outside Court Stenographer, who evidently confused Mr. Pym and Mr. Gostick, who were seated close together.

The remarks attributed to Mr. Orge at the Annual Meeting were made by Mr. Riome. Mr. Orge was not present and the Court Reporter evidently mistook Mr. Riome, a new Director, for Mr. Orge.

Hollywood's Glamour Collie

Lassie, the Collie film star, had to swim in the chilly waters of Lake Louise, in the Canadian Rockies, during the filming of his new picture, "Son of Lassie". After each plunge, Lassie received a thorough drying from his owner and trainer, Rudd Weatherwax.

Lassie, the California-born collie screen star, became the toast of Canada during a seven weeks' visit there. No Canadian-born star could have been taken to heart with more enthusiasm.

On location filming for his second starring picture, "SON OF LASSIE", the handsome brown and white animal was followed everywhere by throngs of admirers. With candid cameras working overtime, they stuck close to him on the windswept seacoast of Vancouver Island, climbing over back-breaking trails to summits in the Canadian Rockies, and rowed out onto lakes high in the Rockies to get a glimpse of the dog star.

By actual count on one average day, Lassie posed for seventy-eight snapshots. His owner and trainer, Rudd Weatherwax, estimated that he was photographed more than 3,000 times during the trip by admiring fans.

He also bowed gracefully and extended his paw for friendly handshakes on countless occasions with such visiting dignitaries as the Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney-General of British Columbia, an Air Vice-Marshal of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and a Major General of the Canadian Army.

Lassie, making his third distant location journey since signing his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract, took to travelling like he took to his fans. His previous trips—to Lake Chelan, Washington, for "Lassie Come Home", and Jackson Hole, Wyoming, where filming of "Son of Lassie" began—had proved him a stout trouper.

On Vancouver Island, he chased over rugged seacoast rocks with his fellow actors, Peter Lawford, Robert Lewis and Leon Ames. Then he moved over to the nearby Patricia Bay station of the Royal Canadian Air Force where, on the air field there, he played scenes with Lawford and Curtis.

It was in the Canadian Rockies, however, in the area around the famous resorts of Banff and Lake Louise that Lassie and the entire film troupe had their most exciting adventures. Most spectacular were two climbs to the Upper Victoria Glacier, overlooking Lake Louise, and the Athabasca Glacier in the Columbian ice fields, both over 2,000 feet above sea level. The first found a group of twenty-six essential members of the cast and crew, led by a veteran Swiss guide, packing in with their equipment on fifty horses, the first time a pack train ever had gone into this two-mile patch of ice. Color cameras had to be carefully padded to protect their delicate mechanism from freezing in the cold, or from possible accidents where footing was precarious.

Visiting Canada's most beautiful scenic spots, Director S. Sylvan Simon also took his company to such famous locales as Moraine Lake, Lake Minnewanka, the Bow Falls and Bow River, Herbert Lake and the Valley of the Ten Peaks. These latter ice-capped summits all are more than 10,000 feet high.

There were no tricks or stunts associated with the making of "Lassie Come Home" or the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer photoplay. Sam Marx, producer of both pictures, would be the first to throw a large share of credit for the emergence of Lassie as a Hollywood hero and his fine, natural performances in his two pictures on the shoulders of young Rudd Weatherwax, the modest trainer whose business it is to make his four-footed charges feel at home in front of a movie camera.

Of course the degree of success in any such endeavor is partly dependent on the intelligence of the animal. A dog, like a human being, may be highly "showy" and photogenic and not take direction worth a darn. Lassie, however, not only showed amazing responsiveness, after Weatherwax's initial period of months of patient work with him, but seemed to have more fun working on a movie set than any body else around.

Lassie's story has all the Cinderella element. A scrawny and not too prepossessing young pup, he was turned over to Weatherwax, operator of a West Coast kennel, in payment of a ten dollar debt. Weatherwax, who trains dogs, horses and other animals because he enjoys it—aside from the fact that the work provides him with a good livelihood—liked his new charge from the start but hadn't the faintest notion that he was playing godfather to a coming dog star. Lassie (who was at that time called Pal) learned all the elementary practice things in jig time, lying down, rolling over, playing dead, opening a door, disarming a man with a gun. No dog that Weatherwax had ever owned showed a stauncher sense of loyalty and obedience. Lassie, after a few months of working under Weatherwax, would no sooner have thought of disobeying his trainer's command than of flying.

A good example of this was supplied in a sequence of "Lassie Come Home", when the dog, at the trainer's command, was told to stand facing a herd of Scottish longhorns. A big bull, venom in his eye, began to advance toward the collie. Lassie whimpered and looked up pleadingly, but didn't budge an inch. When the bull had come to within a dangerously close number of yards, Weatherwax gave the signal for Lassie to vamoose, and he sped away like a bullet.

Lassie, the Collie screen star, looks over his family of four children. The youngster at the extreme left is Laddie, who has a part with his illustrious father—for Lassie, despite the feminine name, is actually a male dog—in the new technicolor motion picture, "Son of Lassie".

The dog trainer works in the closest co-operation with the S.P.C.A. on all his movie chores, and won't tolerate the use of whips, sticks or even harsh language. When Sam Marx and Fred Wilcox, the director, decided after looking at literally hundreds of canine prospects, that Weatherwax's collie was the one they wanted to gamble on, the trainer stayed with them day and night. He worked with Lassie much as might a dramatic coach who sees a favored protege facing his big chance for fame and fortune. So well had he trained Lassie to swim against a roaring current, with a camera grinding overhead, that not a single retake was needed in the difficult river sequence that played an important part in "Lassie Come Home". Lassie, a normally gentle dog, also learned how to counterfeit bristling rage in a fight, how to simulate pain and injury and how to express tenderness, fear, disappointment, excitement and other emotions in a way that brought enthusiastic praise from those seeing him on the screen.

Weatherwax's theory, which has been pretty well demonstrated in practice, is that a collie has perhaps the surest and strongest homing instinct of any dog, and this—plus his naturally high intelligence and physical appearance—makes him a good choice for an action-character screen story. Hollywood folk have expressed great surprise at the trainer's ability to maintain an unruffled temper, against conditions that would drive lots of writers, actors or directors slightly daffy. If Weatherwax ever reaches the point of complete discouragement with an animal (which seldom happens) he will merely put the particular pupil away by himself for a few days, and then try again. He says that a dog which has absolute trust in his master, and in that master's fairness, will accomplish almost anything; but that one slip-up on the trainer's part, one show of anger or rancor, may ruin weeks of patient handling.

"Son of Lassie" will bring back to the screen two actors who were seen in the first dog picture, Donald Crisp and Nigel Bruce, along with Peter Lawford and June Lockhart. Another Lassie production is to come to moviegoers later in the year—a story of a dog's readjustment to civilian life after doing his time as an Army sentinel. This picture will be released under the title "Hold High the Torch".

Dogdom's bluebloods—the aristocrats of the collie world—will appear along with Lassie, the collie dog star, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Son of Lassie", the technicolor sequel to "Lassie Come Home". As the picture's opening scene, one to delight the heart of every dog-lover, fifty of Southern California's most valuable show champions were selected to make their debut before the cameras.

With several of the collies valued as high as $10,000 each, total value of the fifty was approximated at $100,000. Included were champions from shows all over the country, from North Hollywood to Madison Square Garden, New York. Outstanding among these were such dogs as Champion Irela of Glamis, a twenty-time winner of best Collie in show, owned by Cherry Osborn; Champion Lauriden of Redberry, Bench Show winner owned by Nancy Haston; Champion Black Douglas of Alstead, tri-color champion owned by Ted Kattell, rated best of breed at Morris and Essex, America's largest dog show; and Donell's Rollo of Glamis, many-time winner, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Volz.

Ten of the fifty collies were owned by Rudd Weatherwax, owner and trainer of Lassie, and his brother, Frank.

Rated as a full-fledged movie star, Lassie has his own "dressing room"—a portable kennel—which is taken along on all location trips. He is shown here on the shore of Lake Louise, in the Canadian Rockies, where part of his new picture, "Son of Lassie", was filmed.

THE LATE FRANCIS DAGGER

By A. Elsie Mayhew

Dog lovers in general and Cocker Spaniel breeders in particular sustained a great loss when Francis Dagger of Unionville passed to his reward recently. Mr. Dagger had been associated with his daughter, Miss E. Mildred Dagger of "Warwick Kennels" at Unionville for the last six years.

At the time of his death he was President of the Canadian Cocker Spaniel Association, Inc., and with his daughter and the writer was one of the seventeen Charter Members of that Association when it was granted its Charter in 1928. This, I believe, was one of the first breed clubs to apply for incorporation. At the present time it is not active, its members having agreed to be so until the conclusion of the war. Its membership stretches from coast to coast. In passing, I would like to mention that the above club owes its formation to Mr. W. A. Price, of Windsor Arms Hotel, Toronto, the the writer's mind the dean of Cocker people in Canada. He is at the present time Vice-President of the Association. He never would accept the Presidency because of personal pressing business elsewhere.

The writer has personally known the late Mr. Dagger for twenty odd years and will feel his loss quite keenly. He had what I admire so much, real brains, a wonderful memory and a great sense of humor and, above all else, he loved the country and nature and his first love the Sea. Miss Dagger told me that when he went to the Rest Home where he died he took two sea pictures with him. In business, Mr. Dagger was a telephone man. One of their most respected pioneers. I have before me a copy of the Canadian Telephone Journal which has many wonderful things to say of him. I quote: "Francis Dagger, one of the outstanding figures of Independent Telephone History, graces our Front Page. Known, respected and admired by executives in the industry in all parts of Canada, he enjoys the friendship and goodwill of all those with whom he comes in contact." Isn't that a wonderful thing to have said about you? Thank goodness, it was written in his lifetime.

To me the most interesting thing about him was that he was a salt water sailor. Three times around Cape Horn, once around the world, six times across the Equator and once around the Cape of Good Hope, and all in a sailing ship of seven hundred tons. No wonder he was good company with all those experiences in his head, and how he loved a joke and how well he could tell one.

To his surviving daughters, Miss Mildred and Mrs. Bain of Ottawa, and his son Gordon, goes out sincerest sympathy. He lived his life so that his passing will be long felt with regret.

The Collie Standard

EDITOR'S NOTE: A large number of enquiries have come in for authentic information regarding Collies. We have, therefore, asked the Secretary of the Collie Club of America to let us have the latest edition of the standard. In enclosing this information to our office, Mr. B. J. H. Ribert, Secretary of the Collie Club of America, drew attention to the fact that no point rating is included. He stated that a discussion on this matter came up some years ago but no definite action was taken.

1. HEAD—Skull flat, moderately wide between the ears and gradually tapering to the eyes. There should be but a very slight prominence of the eyebrows, and a very slight depression at the top. The proper width of skull necessarily depends upon the combined length of skull and muzzle, for what would be a thick or too broad a skull on one dog is not necessarily so in another of the same actual girth, but better supported by length of muzzle. It must also be considered in conjunction with the size of the dog and should incline to lightness, accompanied by cleanness of outline of cheeks and jaws. A heavy-headed dog lacks the bright, alert and full-of-sense look so much to be desired. On the other hand, the attenuated head is most frequently seen with small Terrier eyes, which show no character. Muzzle should be of fair length and tapering to the nose, which should be black; it must not show weakness or appear snipey. The teeth of good size and even. English standard says, "Mouth the least bit overshot," but this is by no means desirable, and if at all exaggerated should be treated as malformation.

2. EYES—There being no "brow" in which to set the eyes, they are necessarily placed obliquely, the upper portion of the muzzle being dropped or chiseled to give them the necessary forward lookout. They should be of medium-size, never showing too light in comparison with the color of coat, nor with a yellow ring. Expression full of intelligence, with a bright and "What is it?" look when on the alert or listening to orders; this is of course largely contributed to by the throwing up of the ears which accompanies the "qui vive" attitude.

3. EARS—The ears can hardly be too small if carried properly; if too small they are apt to be drawn quite erect or prick-eared; and if large they either cannot be properly lifted off the head or, if lifted, they show out of proportion. When in repose the ears are folded lengthwise and thrown back into the frill; on the alert they are thrown up and drawn close together on the top of the skull. They should be carried about three-quarters erect. A prick-eared dog should be penalized. So much attention of late having given to securing very high carriage of ears it has resulted in reaching the other extremes in some cases, and that is now necessary to guard against.

4. NECK—Should be muscular and of sufficient length to give the dog a fine upstanding appearance, and show off the frill, which should be very full.

5. BODY—Rather long, ribs well rounded, chest deep, but of fair breadth behind the shoulders, which should have good shape. Loin slightly arched, showing power.

6. LEGS—Foreleg straight and muscular, with a fair amount of bone, the forearm moderately fleshy; pasterns showing flexibility without weakness; the hind legs less fleshy, very sinewy, and hocks and stifles well bent. Feet oval in shape, soles well padded and the toes well arched and close together. Low when the dog is quiet, the end having

7. TAIL—Moderately long, carried in an upward twist or "swirl"; gaily carried when excited, but not carried over the back.

8. COAT—This is a very important point. The coat, except on the head and legs, should be abundant, the outer coat harsh to the touch, the inner coat soft and furry and very close; so close that it is difficult on parting the hair to see the skin. The mane and frill should be very abundant. The mask or face smooth, the forelegs slightly feathered, the hind legs below the hocks smooth. Hair on tail very profuse, and on the hips long and bushy.

9. COLOR—Immaterial, although a richly colored or nicely marked dog has undoubtedly a considerable amount of weight with judges—the black and tan with white frill and collar, or the still more showy sable with perfect white markings, will generally win, other things being equal.

10. SIZE—Dogs, about 24 inches at the shoulder; bitches about 22 inches. Weight, dogs, about 60 pounds; bitches, about 50 pounds.

11. EXPRESSION—This is one of the most important points in considering the relative value of Collies. "Expression," like the term "character," is difficult to define in words. It is not a fixed point as in color, weight or height, and is something the uninitiated can only properly understand by optical illustration. It is the combined product of the shape of the skull, muzzle, the set, size, shape and color of the eyes, and the position and carriage of the ears.

12. GENERAL CHARACTER—A lithe, active dog, with no useless timber about him, his deep chest showing strength, his sloping shoulders and well-bent hocks indicating speed and his face high intelligence. As a whole he should present an elegant and pleasing outline, quite distinct from any other breed, and show great strength and activity.

FAULTS—Domed skull, high peaked occipital bone, heavy pendulous ears, or the other extreme, prick ears; short tail, or tail curled over back.

Mrs. J. Shaw, 221 St. James St. Longueuil, Montreal, Quebec, has written us quoting from Our Dogs of England to the effect that Flying Officer, John Shaw, R.C.A.F. (her husband) has persuaded Mr. and Mrs. Rees of Remor Kennels to sell him their grand bitch Flika of Remor. He has also purchased the outstanding pup, Hartsbourne Martin, sired by the famous Hartsbourne Masterpiece from Mr. Walker. Both these dogs are now boarding at the Remor Kennels until F.O. Shaw takes them to Canada where he plans to breed Irish Setters.

Lacolle, Quebec

The two friends, Bill and Harry, were poultry exhibitors. The Poultry Show was over and Harry was feeling a bit blue.

"I don't think much of your friend, as a judge, Bill. He may be a good judge of chickens at a night club, but as a judge of poultry, he is like a lot more of them—just a guesser. Look what he did to my red rooster, a bird that has never been beaten till that punk put him down this morning."

"Aw, forget it, Harry! We have five hours to wait for our train in this God-forsaken town, and it's coming on to rain. Gosh! here it comes! Let us duck into this building. We'll be wet through in a minute if we don't."

Sheltered in the entrance of the building, a big sign faced the two friends—DOG SHOW, now judging—Admission 50c.

"Let's go in, Harry, it's going to rain for hours, by the look of it."

Bill plunked down a dollar, "Two please, Lady," and in they went. Together they wandered around and Harry said,

"I'd just as soon have stayed out in the rain as have to listen to all this racket."

"Hey, Bill, look at this funny one! It looks like one of the Rushing Woof Hounds. Let's get a catalogue so we can see what breeds they are."

Someone shouted, "Nos. 83, 84, 85, 86, 88, in the ring."

Having gotten a catalogue, they went over to have another look at the funny one.

"It's No. 123," said Harry. "See what it is. It says here it is an Afghan Hound," Bill replied. "And it seems to be quite a good looker to me."

"Good looker, my legs," says Harry, "give me that Vancouver dame, Yvonne de Carlo, any time. It looks too much like Hallowe'en night to me."

Just then the owner of the Afghan came along and looking at Harry said, with a smile,

"You seem to be interested in my Hound."

"Yes," says Harry, "it's got a grand tail. It curves over just like my red rooster's does."

The owner gave him a dirty look and said,

"To the dickens with you and your red rooster." Bill said,

"Come on, let's take a look at the Bulldogs! They are being judged now in the ring. Here's one coming now. Gee, what a face! It looks for all the world like Churchill, him that says, 'we will fight in the lanes and through the fields'. I wish he had said 'and in Dog Show,' too," said Harry.

The Bulldog class was over and one owner looked really mad. Harry followed him to the bench and when the man had tied the Bulldog up, Harry said,

"Did you get a ribbon, Mister?" "Yes, I did, a Third, and I should have won."

"A Little Nonsense Now and Then Is Relished by the Best of Men"

By John R. Milner
Toronto, Ont.

Ah, yes, Mr. Milner, but there is more truth than poetry in your little story. Thanks for holding up the looking glass!—ED.

I never saw such rotten judging in all my two years' experience of Dog Shows. I don't know where they got a judge like him. He put that wry-faced cripple over my good dog. The punk should be judging rabbits, not dogs. I bet he doesn't know what a wry-faced Bulldog looks like."

"Gee," says Harry, "I wish I had some rye bread with a couple of weiners in between right now."

"Are you trying to be funny?" says the Bulldog man. "If you are, you can come outside."

"Let's go," says Bill. "First thing you know, one of these guys is going to take a poke at you."

Someone yelled, "Nos. 147, 149, 150, 153 in the ring please."

The two chums drifted over to the ringside to watch the dogs come in. Bill turned the pages of his catalogue, found No. 147, and said to Harry,

"They're Boxers."

A bystander, wishing to enlighten them explained and said,

"This breed originated in Germany and were great fighters," Harry said,

"So is Henry Armstrong! But I wouldn't be surprised if they were fighting dogs. See how they have their faces pushed in and their tails chewed off."

The awards had been given out, and as the exhibitors filed out, one of them who hadn't got a ribbon said,

"Well, I'll be ——— if that guy knows a Boxer when he sees one—some judge!"

"Come on," Bill said, "it's still raining, let's have another look around."

They drifted over to the Toy Section. One middle-aged lady had a Pomeranian in her arms, and said to it,—"Kiss your Muvver, darling." This made Harry laugh. He said to Bill,

"Gee, I'd like to see my old woman hugging my red rooster and saying, 'Kiss your Muvver, darling'. These dog Show people must be nuts."

Close by was a group of women holding Toy dogs in their arms; one of them was telling a story. Howls of laughter followed.

"I bet she wouldn't tell that one to the Minister," Bill said.

Harry's attention was drawn to a lady putting a very tiny dog in a cage.

"Look, Bill, let's take a peek at that funny little jigger that women has there. It's No. 263—see what breed it is."

Bill found No. 263 and said, "It's a Chi, it's a Chi-your-your."

The owner, on hearing them, smiled and said,

"You pronounce it She-wah-wahs."

"What makes her do that?" asked Harry.

"I don't understand you," replied the lady.

"Well, you said she-wah-wahs. I'd like to see her do it. I bet my red rooster could lick a dozen of 'em."

As they walked away, they heard the heard the lady say,

"Well, of all the darned idiots!"

Bill said, "Come on, let's get out. It's nearly train time and it's stopped raining."

"Gee," says Harry, "so that's a Dog Show! The judges know nothing and the . . . !"

"Aw, shut up," says Bill. "It's just the same as the Poultry Shows. The judges know nothing and ninety per cent. of the exhibitors know less."

"That's all right," replied Harry, "but look what that dizzy dope of a friend of yours did to my red rooster—doesn't that prove?"

"It proves nothing—only that you are one of the ninety per cent, so shut up," says Bill.

"There's a restaurant over there. We have just time enough to eat. Gee, Harry, you're dumb!"

"Dumb, my legs! What's my old woman going to say when I tell her our red rooster got licked."

Bill laughed and said, "Sing her the 'Red Rooster' song. You know how it goes—"

"Said the Big Red Rooster to the Little Brown Hen,

"You haven't laid an egg since God knows when,

Said the little Brown Hen to the Big Red Rooster,

Well, you don't come around as often as you uster."

"Not me," says Harry. "She was mad one time and I started to sing, 'Laugh, Clown, Laugh,' and I wasn't able to go to work for a whole week after."

PROVINCIAL NOTES

MAINLAND OF B.C. NEWS

By Mrs. H. E. Fletcher

In the mail bag this month comes a letter from Mr. W. Baker of Lillooet, B.C., who owns the "Lancaster" Springer Kennels. His "Ness of Avandale", purchased from E. Chevrier of Winnipeg, is now looking after a family by "Bruce of Inver". Ness is by "Ch. Keith's Brownie". Jull of Travers, a black and white Springer, has been bred to "Ch. Keith's Brownie", and Mr. Baker informs me that three half-grown males from this pair's previous litter have been sold to the United States at good prices.

Miss M. P. Matheson (now with the "Dorn Dog School", R.R. No. 4, New Westminster) sent her little Pomeranian to the Winnipeg show June 2. "Gold Flame Guinea Gold" came back with a flock of ribbons and a considerable supply of hardware in the way of specials. One was for Winner's Bitch, another donated by G. Kynock for the dog coming the greatest distance.

Miss Pamela Powles, one of our younger breeders, breeds Cocker Spaniels. "Live Oak Lorena Lady" has presented this young fancier with a litter sired by Mrs. G. McGee's "Holdfast Noble Son". Mrs. T. P. Murray's "Abbey Belle" has paid a visit to one of the kennel's studs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Vipond, Sandon Cocker Kennels, sent in a lovely head study of their red Cocker "Ch. Windridge Whizz of Sandon", who finished for the title with points to spare. "Whizz" has been handled throughout his show career by Mr. Vic Williams and won under Bart King, Capt. Will Judy, G. Kynock and A. W. Forbes. He was bred by the well known Miss Swallow of Washington, being by "Windridge Wings" ex "Windridge Sun Flash". "Windridge Blackeyed Susan", also imported from Miss Swallow, made her debut going Winners bitches and is to be mated to a son of Try-Cob's candidate ex Ch. "Benbows Night Fighter".

Mrs. Vipond is very enthused over a litter from her last imported female, a daughter of Blackstone's Bond. The puppies are by Ch. Eask's Golden Boy who was B.W. at Westminster this year. Being beautifully line bred to top quality eastern dogs, it is hoped that they will add something worth while to their reds.

The newly formed Skookum (means Big-Great in Indian) Kennel Club propose to hold an out-door championship show, August 8th, in one of our beautiful evergreen parks. An international all-breed judge, Edwin L. Peckhardt of Hopkins, Minn., will don the ermine on his way back from judging a Specialty Show in California.

CH. WINDRIDGE WHIZZ OF SANDON, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Vipond, Sandon Cocker Spaniels, Vancouver, British Columbia.

This show promises to be the event of the year, the members of the Skookum Club being some of our younger generation.

Incidentally, a very attractive premium list is being arranged. Honorary patrons are our Vice-President of the C.K.C., Mr. W. H. Pym, and our B.C. director, Mr. Vic Williams. President of the club is Mr. H. McCullough. Directors are Mrs. Del Foster, Richard Drew, Bob Williams, Miss Doreen Clarke, Bob Frearson, and Bob Crosby. We hope the fanciers, old and new, will support this show by our younger generation.

Although Eva and Jay Ingersoll are well known for their "Kayo Kenpels of Boston Terriers", they are probably better known in the Fraser Valley, as the owners of the "Valdina Shorthorn Farm" at Aldergrove, B.C. Here they have 255 acres, which is two miles from the International Border on the Bellingham Linden Highway. They have the only accredited herd of Shorthorn in the Fraser Valley, made up of 32 dual purpose animals, headed by the herd sire Hollywood Parragon Second, whose progeny has been finding a ready market to Shorthorn breeders as far afield as Illinois, U.S.

The herd has been built up through careful selection of the finest strain of dual purpose Shorthorns. The nations in the herd have established some enviable milk records.

It is here on the farm where the Bostons are raised and they all have a turn at living in town with their owners, but the favourite and constant companion is "Ch. Mushon Kayo", who has already sired 8 litters this year. Just before the war, three Bostons were shipped to France. Eva has been raising her favourite breed for 20 years with her original stock coming from Mrs. McGlone of the Misholne Kennels, New York. Several dogs from this kennel have done some nice winning at the California shows which is a boost to the Ingersoll's.

June second and third found a number of our Vancouver fanciers in Seattle, at the North West Retriever Trial, held at Lake Washington.

By all reports, everyone I have talked to had a grand time both at the trials which were held before approximately 5,000 spectators, and at the banquet held in the Roosevelt Hotel, where they enjoyed a grand full course Turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, and the drinks were on the house.

The Calcutta Sweepstake with $1,453 in the pot was won by Mrs. Reid of Seattle, who had bid on the two winning dogs, and I understand collected 85% of its pot. Congratulations to Mrs. Reid!

This Stake was won by Scornine of Deer Creek owned by Mr. C. Beacon, Seattle, and second place to a Vancouver dog, "Brackens Sweep", owned by Mr. Bert Blair, Vancouver, B.C.

Many well known dogs were entered from as far as Illinois, but the Vancouver owned dogs took a good many prizes and, as one well known dog trainer put it, the Vancouver dogs were equally as good as the best American dogs.

Dr. McLean of Vancouver got so enthused over his dog that he fell in the Lake, but his good friend and shooting partner, Tyke Abernethy, pulled him out.

Coffee and do-nuts were on the Club and were much appreciated.

The judges were: Mrs. Gentry of Illinois, and Mr. Bishop of Portland. Winners were: 1. Diver of Trab, owned by S. B. Spellman of Seattle; 2. Prince Boy, owned by Mr. H. Tite of Vancouver; 3. Judy of Tutland, owned by Mr. C.

Snell of Portland; 4. Nelson's Black Prince, owned by Mr. Nelson of Vancouver. Non-Winners' Stake: 1. E. J. Cameron of Vancouver, Sky Pilot Judy; 2. Tyke Abernethy's Sky Pilot Tupper of Vancouver; 3. Bernard Larson's Prince, Seattle. Open Stake: 1. C. Beacon's Scornine of Deer Creek, Seattle; 2. B. Blair's Brackens Sweep, Vancouver; 3. E. J. Cameron's Sky Pilot Judy, Vancouver; 4. Lt. Com. Blakewell's Little Pierre of Deer Creek, Seattle.

In closing my notes I would like to say, if any of you have news to put in the magazine, mail it in to me before the end of each month. Everyone is entitled to use the magazine and it does not matter who you are. I put in all I receive. I have heard people saying they never get a "write up". Actually, it is your fault, not ours. If you want to mail me any news, my address is 2587 Douglas Road, New Westminster, B.C.

Bob Carriere has purchased an Irish Setter female from Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnston of the Quirts and Leach Stables and Kennels, Clovis, New Mexico. Bob hopes she will turn out to be a flyer, being sired by the famous Ch. Kleilight of Agaron out of Ch. Shannon Belle O'Aragon, who is a double granddaughter of Ch. Higgins Red Coat.

Bob is expecting to move shortly to Port Coquitima, B.C., where he intends to set up a modern kennel for his Irishmen and also for boarders.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NOTES

By Gladys McGee

A real summer day and a good Dog Show is a combination hard to beat, and as we all wended our way over the "Malahat" towards Duncan, we looked forward to a pleasant time. After several of us had met the Vancouver boat in the morning to see if we could be of assistance in the transportation problem, we found that the boat, due from Seattle around nine o'clock, would not be in until late on account of some happening or other, and as the Duncan Club had arranged for a large van to transport the dogs and any who cared to ride with them up to the Show, we filled up the spare seats in our cars and were on our way. On arrival we found the building large, accommodation good, and, above all, the thing we always hope for, a decent sized ring. An efficient Committee, headed by Mr. J. Aitkin, was on hand, and I know I am right in saying that with over two hundred dogs entered, the extra help given by Mr. Harry Dodds and Mr. F. Clark of the Victoria City Kennel Club was much appreciated. Mr. A. W. Forbes did his usual good job, and I think most exhibitors were satisfied by his placings.

Our Director, Mr. Vic Williams, was present and as usual many exhibitor friends from the South of us. We had an ideal place to park our cars and exercise our dogs, and as the building is in the centre of the town it was possible to get food without going too far. All-in-all, a pleasant day was spent among friends in surroundings most congenial, and I know we are all waiting for the next Show. It gets in the blood.

Mr. A. Sperry of Seattle, Wash., won the Best in Show award with his Wire Haired Terrier "Reflector of Wildoaks"—a son of Ch. Foxhaunter of Wildoaks x Striking Hot of Tykemere, and bred by Mrs. R. C. Bondy, New York, U.S.A.

Mr. Grant Mahood of Vancouver did some nice winning with his Boxer, "Mazelaine's Full Page", and his Labrador Retrievers.

Miss Rosamond Billett, Mrs. L. M. Wood, Mrs. C. A. McGee, Mrs. J. F. O. Wood and Mrs. H. Mellish were among the Victorians who took home the "purple ribbon".

I am indebted to Mrs. G. Skuce for the following Boston notes:

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hancock have established an ideal kennel to house their Boston Terriers, among whom are "Kerr's Step Up" by Kerr's Ravenroyde Rockefeller x Phillips Paramount Miss Kid Boots—who was bred by Mr. J. F. Kerr in Manitoba, a new brood bitch from the kennels of Mr. McKenzie Marois, Sherbrooke, Que., and other nice ones—an invitation to visit the Hancock menagerie is open to all.

Mrs. G. Skuce is an old member from Winnipeg, who now makes her home here on the Island, and also a Boston fancier. She was showing a nice female brindle, also a nice male—a home bred by "Beamish Boy" who is a son of "Mosholu Brown Bomber". These two Boston fanciers will be an asset to the fanciers on the Island, and will be heard from in future shows. Our Director, Mr. Vic. Williams, was also present at the show—busy as ever, and contacting old and new members alike to help in any way.

A very interesting letter from Mrs. H. W. Mellish, whose kennel carries the Heatherbelle prefix, informs me that their Scottish Terrier, Heatherbelle Bluebell's Sally, finished her championship at the recent Duncan show. Sally is a daughter of Heatherbelle's Robin Adair ex Heatherbelle's Bluebell of Scot, both of these being sired by the imported Ch. Gaigill Nicotine.

Also in the limelight is their West Highland white terrier, Belmurtle Zephyr, who is very near the coveted title. He is a son of Ch. Charan Minstrel, and his dam, the outstanding Westie, Ch. Belmurtle Alba, who won her championship in three shows, Westminster, Morris and Essex, and Kansas. A new Westie Stud has been added to the above in the person of Tayside Heatherbelle's Rover, sired by Ch. Tayside Sandy Mac ex Tayside Rose O'Day. Two more Westies of best English bloodlines have also been acquired. With this breeding program behind the dogs at Heatherbelle, it is no wonder they are proud to state they have shipped both breeds to nearly forty states, including Alaska, Honolulu, Florida, Texas, etc. Good luck Heatherbelle. Keep up the good work.

Mrs. McGee in closing her notes gave us a few side-lights upon her trip to the Duncan Dog Show, and your Editor feels that this experience is so typical of the honest to goodness dog breeder that it is reproduced for the benefit of our members:

"The night previous to the Duncan Dog Show a spare wheel had been put in the back of the car and the pump had been taken out. By some oversight it was not replaced. On the return from the Duncan Dog Show at a late hour the party had their first "flat". They put on the spare and proceeded another twenty miles when another "flat" developed. Now the unpleasant fact came to light that no pump was in the car, no second spare and no patches. Alone on the Mountain, the little party flagged the night bus and gallantly put the passengers on it. The passengers were requested to telephone to Mrs. McGee's son when they got into Victoria and ask him to send a tow car. Mr. and Mrs. McGee had practically given up hope by 6:30 a.m. when Mr. McGee flagged a car to take him into Victoria with the spare tire. Mrs. McGee remained in the company of her Cocker until 10:00 a.m. when her husband returned. By the time tires were changed and the McGee family reached the home port there were the usual chores to do—such as feeding and exercising the kennel. It was 12:00 midnight when peace descended on a tired family. Mrs. McGee said exactly what every dog breeder says in a case like this: 'We were pretty tired, but it was worth while and we would do it again if we had to'."

Mrs. McGee in her letter commented on the Annual General Meeting Minutes. She was very enthusiastic about the idea of training student judges and fostering the talents of a new generation in judging dogs. She was very much interested in the new regulations regarding Protest Forms which Show Superintendents will use if dogs are not on the bench. She states that she used to exhibit at California Shows before she came to British Columbia to live, and at that time Show Superintendents in California used to mark the dogs which were not benched at a given time as "absent". She says that this cured a great many people of keeping their dogs off the benches when they should be there for all to see.

Mrs. McGee expressed in a very spontaneous way her realization of the tremendous amount of hard work which falls upon the shoulders of the Board of Directors and the Canadian Kennel Club staff in connection with carrying out all of the wishes of the membership. It is heart warming to hear such a thoughtful expression of appreciation of the vast amount of work entailed.

SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

By Lyla Semple

Hello Folks — Saskatchewan has warmed up at last. Moose Jaw and Regina are going ahead with their Shows.

Mr. Fred Wilson is proving to be one of the most capable Secretaries the judges and exhibitors are going to find — a great asset at our three-day exhibition show. I don't think there is anything more satisfying than having an efficiently run show.

We felt very badly when Mr. Nichol, of Seattle, informed us of his loss. Straven Flirt was killed by a car. People who saw her shown commented on her flashy appearance.

I wonder if any of you readers have had any experience with puppies born with a thick white film over each eye. We had a lovely healthy pup which I discovered in that condition. I consulted Dr. Hewitt, Veterinary, in case of blindness. He assured me it was lack of vitamin B, and should have been given to the female before birth. However, he prepared a prescription with instructions how to administer. The film had practically disappeared by the time the puppy was walking. With the aid of a salve it disappeared leaving only one small transparent spot on each eye. This refused to budge. The puppy reached the age of five months and we sold it as a pet with instructions to continue with the salve. We are very curious to see whether this will disappear in time.

We will have seen all the Western exhibitors and friends before this is published, and we hope there will be many with many more dogs.

PACIFIC NEWS

By Dollie Wall

On the morning of June 9, we again arrived at Duncan, B.C., and, as usual, it turned out to be a very pleasant outing. The drive from Victoria to Duncan is one of the most beautiful trips imaginable. The scenery is unsurpassed. Unfortunately, part of the "Malahat" road was closed for repairs and we had to take the "Shawnigan Lake" road, which is equally lovely. The road itself not being as good as the "Malahat". We arrived in Duncan shortly before lunch and had plenty of time to get the dogs benched and settled before seeking refreshments for ourselves.

Judging was scheduled to start at 1 o'clock, and all from Vancouver had their dogs ready by that time. The Agricultural Hall proved to be a very fine building for the show, being large and well ventilated. It was kept fairly cool for the dogs in spite of the fact there was a record entry and the largest turnout of fanciers I have ever seen at Duncan. Competition was keen in all breeds. The show was judged by that well known, all-rounder, A. W. (Sandy) Forbes, of Tacoma, Wash., U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O. Wood, of the Quandalla Kennels in Victoria, have purchased the beautiful English Cocker "Alberstan Oak Leaf" from A. S. and Mrs. (Alberstan) Dainard. Mr. and Mrs. Wood have one of the most modern and up to date boarding kennels on the Pacific coast. Situated on the main highway, they are easy to find and all visitors are welcome. When over on the island, drop in to see them.

John Colbeck, of the Boston fancy, reports the arrival of two new Boston females from Nova Scotia. Many of the very old timers remember "John". He has been in the game more years than he wishes to tell.

W. A. and Mrs. Mountfield report the sale of one of their Collies to Mrs. T. R. Berg, of Anchorage, Alaska. This dog went by boat to Juneau and from there on in by plane. Another good Collie from their kennels has found its new home with W. R. Van Dycke, of Philadelphia, U.S.A.

In July, a very outstanding Bull Mastiff female will be arriving at the Heatherbelle Kennels, Victoria, from England. Mrs. Mellish tells me this will be the first to be imported from England as far as she can find since 1938, according to the stud book. This dog is from the world-famous kennels of "Le Tasyll". "Charlotta of Le Tasyll" has for sire and dam two of the most outstanding Bull Mastiffs in England today. In her pedigree she has the following champions: Ch. Spring Major, Ch. Roger of Fenns, Ch. Tenz, Ch. Beppo of Bulmas, Ch. Timba, Ch. Wisdoms of Wynyard, and Ch. Athas. This breed has become very popular in the Old Country, being marvellous guards, easily trained, and have the most wonderful dispositions, also being very affectionate. Their first thought is to guard life and property. They are wonderful with children and other dogs. They are not fighters, but are very capable if necessary, which is very rare.

Mrs. Mellish tells me they guard all their dogs, puppies. While these dogs are not heavy feeders, they are very strong and muscular. They were used by game keepers over a 100 years ago to knock a person or poacher down and hold them.

At the present time two Bull Mastiffs are already housed at the Mellish's "Heatherbelle Emperor" and Heatherbelle Empress, both dogs require two points each to complete their championship, and according to records as far as can be found they will be the first Mastiff champions in Canada.

How does one go about writing anything of this kind after the housecleaning is done and everything is so tidy that you can't find your notes? I knew where things were before, but now—so, if your items that you so kindly phoned in, don't appear in this paper, you will know the reason why.

Sam Saidman now has his new Cocker A & A's Belden and he's quite a dog—a grandson and great-grandson of the great Ch. Stockdale Town Talk by Belden Town Talk's Pride out of Belden Town Beulah. If this chap does as much for Cockers as Sam's Cinder of Heavengate did, Sam will rightly feel quite proud. He made quite a good beginning by going Best American Cocker at the recent show, and he's only 11 months. By the way, the Saidman's have changed the name of their kennel and now operate as the A & A.

We must congratulate Joan Cumming on completing the Championship of her Collie, McCreary's Dusty, and also Dr. and Mrs. Anderson for the same feat for their Dachsie, Byway Blitzkreig. The wonderful entry of Dachsies at the recent show was something to see, 14 dogs—7 of each sex. This was the largest entry ever seen in Winnipeg. Mr. Allen, besides winning Best in Show with Ch. Rose O'Day, also completed the championship of Rose's brother, so the Allen's had a very successful day.

Joe Valenti reports the sale to the Southern States of his Boson male, Ch. Mr. Royal Kid, but has kept a very good son of his to carry on at stud.

Mr. and Mrs. Caruso of the Orchid Pekingese fame have now joined the celebrated Order of Grandparents. Virginia Honey—(Caruso) has presented them with a 6½-lb. granddaughter and everyone is quite pleased. At the last report, grandma had gone to see that everything was running smoothly and to make sure that Virginia looks after their grandchild properly. These Grandmothers!

Dr. Anderson is very proud of the wonderful showing his sister-in-law made when she graduated as a V.S. at Guelph last month. She had the highest marks in the class and was awarded the Gold Medal. She is Winnipeg's first graduate lady vet. and we all wish her the best of everything in her new work.

I was up at the Jefferson Pomeranian Kennels recently and Mrs. Staniland really has some beauties now that should make a few people sit up and take notice when she brings them out. She has been concentrating on inbreeding for the last while and is really getting results.

We hear that there is a new Boxer pup in town. Too bad he was just a few days too young for the June Show. We'll probably be seeing him out in September.

Welcome to our new member, Mr. Saunders of Port Arthur. I met Mr. Saunders when he was up here for the show and he extends a cordial invitation to all our members to come down to Fort William to their show August 15th. He promises a royal time to all who make the trip. While in Winnipeg, he purchased a black Cocker bitch, Our Own Lady Judy, from Mrs. Elwood, so with his Shepherds and Cockers, he intends to have a busy summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Long are now settled in their new home out in Tuxedo. They have about 3 acres of land so should be able to give their Danes and Dobes plenty of room. They also have a whole acre of peonies so if anyone has to be ill, please hurry up and do so while Charley's peonies are in bloom.

The vet. tells me that no matter what calcium you use, the dog will get more of it for its own use, if it's fed in conjunction with cod liver oil. Therefore, do not discontinue C.L.O. during the summer, especially bitches in whelp.

ALBERTA NOTES

Alberta will surely be show conscious the early part of September as Medicine Hat will put on their show on the third, Calgary the fourth, fifth and sixth, and then Edmonton the tenth, so everybody get their dogs in shape and bring along as many entries as you possibly can.

Medicine Hat always has a grand show, and there is always keen competition in every class, and this year will be no exception. The ladies are working very hard to make this show the "Best Yet", and they usually get what they want. Bill Armstrong is a giant when it comes to putting on a dog show, nothing escapes his eye, and he personally works out every detail. I wish there were more like him.

The Calgary bunch are getting right down to brass tacks, and are clearing the decks for action. Bill Pratt is showing great promise for his first year as President, and he is ably supported by the Cocker fancier Pat O'Brien who has lately assumed the office of Secretary. Pat has had a lot of experience in clerical work and he is a great asset to our club. Miss Davina Johnson, who always celebrates her birthday at Jack Goff's Medicine Hat party is our genial Treasurer and with her mother Margaret, surer and with her mother Margaret Anna heads up the prize committee, and nowhere will you find more efficient service. A number of others have volunteered their services so we are looking ahead to everything going off very smoothly. A number of very prominent outside exhibitors have expressed their intention to take in these shows, so a big entry all around is assured.

I have not heard very much about Edmonton people's plans but expect to hear from them any day now. They have some marvellous workers up there. Jim Young with his vast experience in doggy matters can be relied on to help put the finishing touches on. He wrote a very concise article on the procedure at a dog show that I am anxious to have announced at the dog shows, for so many people just do not realize just what is going on, so if the clubs used the article it would convey everything to them at the proper moment. I have written so many times about the valuable assistance rendered at the Northern City show by such splendid workers as Mary D. Gardiner, Mrs. Glover, Mrs. Main, Mrs. White, Mrs. Grant, her husband and son, Albert, Jack Tanton, Billy Quilley, Joe Casewell, McDonald, Chas. and Jessie Batte, Mrs. Austin, Chas. Haggith, L. Horscastle, Bill Gardner, one of the greatest judge's clerks of all times, Mrs. Ayerst, who has made a great success of everything she undertakes, and who is one of the hardest workers in the dog game in the west. I wish there were more like her. Ralph and Mrs. Edgerton Smith, Mrs. Barnett, and my old friend Tuson, Mary Lee and George Girvin, Mrs. Marr, Dr. Malmes, Glen Hepner, R. C. MacPherson, G. E. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Robinson, Yomans, R. Litchfield, Edwin Marshall, Irene Watts, Lorna Lyster and Betty Rawlings, Rawlings and Rawlings, John J. Patterson, A. J. Hale, Mrs. Arno. M. A. Ainstlie, and Harry Nash, that pillar of Dogdom and many others, the combination of these make success.

Many thanks to Mrs. Bob Simpson for sending me a marked catalogue of the Winnipeg show. Many secretaries could well take a few tips from Mrs. Simpson. She is very efficient, and has the real faculty of keeping things running smoothly all the time. Bill Chatterton, the president, has had wide experience and has his club well organized. I was pleased to hear that the judge, Ed. Williams, did such a grand job. Surely some of the other clubs would be well advised to have Ed. perform for them.

I hope to have an article on Hungarian Partidge and how you hunt them for the next issue. I already have a picture of one of Calgary's fair daughters showing just how to handle a setter in the field.

H. P. Saunders.

Mr. Geo. Kynoch reported that he greatly enjoyed his judging assignment at the Victoria City Kennel Club All Breed Show held on June 9th in Crystal Garden, Victoria, B.C. He had a very large entry with a goodly number from the United States. Forty-three breeds were represented with quality making competition keen.

Mr. Kynoch mentioned in his letter a large number of old friends and acquaintances with whom his meeting was a great pleasure. Unfortunately, reports of this show from our official correspondents contain many references to the same persons, and it is impossible to publish Mr. Kynoch's letter in full.

There's Nothing Like REX OIL to Rid Your Dog of Eczema, Sore Skin, Dandruff or Musty Coat

Rex Oil starts at the root of the trouble by supplying the essential unsaturated fats your dog must have for perfect skin condition and a healthy lustrous coat. These fats, linoleic and arachidonic acids, often known as "skin Vitamins", are not contained in many dog foods. Rex Oil is one of the richest substances known for these "skin Vitamins" and a few drops added to the daily diet, assures freedom from skin troubles and promotes rich thick coats. Because Rex Oil does not go rancid, these important fats are not destroyed but are always available for your dog's benefit. Rex Oil is economical too... four ounces lasts a dog six months.

A DOG MUST FEEL GOOD INSIDE TO LOOK GOOD OUTSIDE!

SHEPHERD SHORTS

By R. A. M.

At our July meeting, it was decided, through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Soules to hold our Specialty Show for 1945 on the grounds of their home at Port Credit, and the event should be a huge success.

Date of the Show is Saturday, October 6th, Judge to be announced later.

Congratulations to Jake Hayman on his dog "Cholo" being the first dog in Canada to win its "C.D.X."

We extend the hand of welcome to two new members of our club: Mr. Vern Whillier, 16 VanDuesen Blvd., Toronto, and Mr. Blake Hunt, 61 Chester Ave., Toronto.

In deepest sorrow we report the sudden passing of our friend and member, Irene Gaynor, on June 29th. Our Visiting Committee Chairman, Eric Jackes, had called on her and her sister, Gladys, only that afternoon and Irene seemed in good health and good spirits. She died unexpectedly late that night. Her passing is a distinct loss to our Club. All who knew Irene Gaynor loved her. The Club will miss her and we offer our deep and sincere sympathies to her sister Gladys in this hour of bereavement.

Congratulations are in order to Geo. Jerman and Ted and Mary Weller for some wins gathered at the Progressive Show, July 7th, Dufferin Park. Briardale's Beda of Rosemere, owned by Ted and Mary Weller finished her championship by gathering Winners Bitch Ribbon, and Rickey of Oakmere, a 7 months old Puppy won himself laurels by starting in the Junior Puppy Class and going right through to Best of Breed, and also winning the Working Group.

For many years our love of the canine world has centered in Shepherds, and the year's events have not caused that love to diminish or to become even slightly dimmed. We have lived to see our breed condemned by the more timid ones over a period of years. But all through that time our Club has managed to keep our Shepherds in the foreground in Canada among the other breeds. The Shepherd entry in the All-Breed Shows has been well up in the higher brackets and we have been content to see the Shepherd win the Working Group occasionally which may have been as good as average in all breeds. Now the Shepherd has come into his own and has been elevated in a show to that position which in our estimation is his proper place. That place is Best Dog in Show. It was our good fortune recently to watch a Shepherd owned by one of our members claim the top title which all breed fanciers hope for and which only one person in any show can win.

On June 9th a goodly number of Shepherd owners went to the London Show, each one in the hope that his dog might win one of the two spots that would give him some points toward a Championship title. Among these contestants was one who apparently had little hope of attaining that end, for the entry was placed in the Limit Bitch Class. The only entry in that class as a matter of fact. Well, the judging of the Shepherds gets under way with Mr. E. D. McQuown, of Dayton, Ohio, passing on our breed. The male dogs are gone over with Beau of Tammalar, owned by Tammalar Kennels taking the Winners Dog Ribbon and Gunner of Briardale, owned by Briardale Kennels, being placed Reserve.

The bitches are then brought in and the Limit Class is won by Black Magic of Rosemere, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Flink. She just had to win this class because as we have stated before, Black Magic of Rosemere was alone in the class. But when the class winners were brought in it was Black Magic who took the ribbon with Elf von Saliba, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Coleman, as Reserve.

Then into Best of Winners and Best of Breed with Black Magic of Rosemere sweeping all before her. This would have been enough for any Shepherd in one show but fate had more in store for her.

By the time the Working Group was judged, Edna Flink who had been showing Black Magic was so weak from excitement that she turned the dog over to Alf Loveridge who showed her in a masterful manner, as usual and presented the Group Ribbon and trophy to Edna. At this time many of the Shepherd exhibitors went home in the belief that this was about all anyone had a right to expect from one dog show. Those who remained were treated to an unforgettable event.

Alf Loveridge again took over when the breeds went in for Best in Show. By that time the handler and the dog were more used to each other and Alf gave us a splendid exhibition of handling by bringing out the best qualities in the dog. The rest is history. A Shepherd had gone Best in Show. Walter had remained in Toronto to look after the home front. When his dog won the Best of Breed Ribbon, Edna called him on the phone to apprise him of their win and he refused to believe it. It took the combined efforts of several friends to convince him. When Edna called him a second time to tell him of the most important win, it was too much. Walter spent a sleepless night. It's o.k. Walter, we can't blame you. We think we would have gone out and looked up a "Speak" under the circumstances. In our time we have seen history made in our Club and by members of our Club. We have seen the Von Stephanitz Trophy brought to Canada by one of our members. We have seen a 7-month-old puppy go Best of Breed. We have had some of our Shepherds win the Working Group, one of which went to Reserve Best in Show, and now we have a Shepherd winning the title of Best Dog in Show.

Are the Shepherds on the way back. We think they are back. Keep 'em winning!

OBEDIENCE TRAINING

The President of the Canadian Dog Training Club, Mr. E. S. McKay, and the Secretary, Mr. W. O. Flink, have shown a great deal of energy and foresight in bringing obedience training to public attention. As this training is quite spectacular it always proves a drawing card. A great deal of education be given to the public in this way as to the correct handling of many breeds of dogs about which they know very little. It should also serve to make the dog, if anything, more popular by showing what marvellous work can be done by an intelligent dog in the hands of an intelligent person.

Show Secretaries should pay attention to the great progress being made by the various obedience clubs. The Canadian Dog Training Officers have asked me to stress to all Show Secretaries the necessity for getting in touch with the Dog Training Club before attempting to organize an obedience test in conjunction with a dog show. There are a number of features of an obedience test which are not very well known to the Show Secretaries, and for which provision must be made under the obedience rules. For instance, it is only required to bench dogs who are being shown in obedience work for one hour. Also, it should be noted that the ring which is used for obedience trials must either be a special one which has not been travelled over by other dogs or the Show Superintendent must undertake to have a ring thoroughly disinfected before an obedience trial is staged. The reason for this precaution should be entirely obvious, but has sometimes been overlooked in making show arrangements.

Show Secretaries should immediately contact Officers of any Dog Training Club with which they are co-operating in putting on shows and, before issuing premium lists or making any other definite arrangements, they should understand thoroughly just what is necessary in regard to the obedience trial, and also what degree of co-operation they may expect from the Training Dog Clubs in the matter.

Regular Schooling classes are being held by The Canadian Dog Training Club, and membership is invited. The secretary, W. O. Flink, is to be addressed at 132 Heward Avenue, Toronto.

CANINE BREEDERS' PLAN AUTUMN SHOW

Mr. Bruce McRae reports that the Canine Breeders' and Exhibitors' Association have again been successful in securing the Palace Pier at the Humber River, Toronto, for AN ALL-BREED SHOW, OCTOBER 15th. Watch for further announcement.

THE SALUKI

By AUDREY M. HOLLIS
Lieut. R.C.A.M.C.

THE SALUKI is claimed to be as old as the earliest known civilization and his story must be pieced together from fragments from many sources all down the ages.

Perhaps the earliest glimpses of the Saluki are seen in Egyptian records, and there survives a carved marble head study from the pre-dynastic period 6,000-5,00 B.C. Salukis are again seen in a tablet of the great Pharaoh Antef between 3000-2000 B.C., and are mentioned in a papyrus about 1,000 years later. The most valuable record is in a fresco at Western Thebes (about 7,400 B.C.), showing the governor receiving tribute which includes Salukis from the desert tribes. Mention is made of Salukis in the writings of Xenophor's expedition in Arabia, and by Alburquerque, 1596, at the time of his conquests at Ormuz in the Persian Gulf.

These greyhounds of the East became the fashion among the Crusaders, who brought them back as proof of their pilgrimage. Traders from Aleppo and caravans trading between Venice and Arabia introduced the breed to Europe, where they are seen in the works of such famous artists as Paul Veronese, and Benvenuto Cellini.

The habitat of the Saluki comprises all the region stretching from the Caspian Sea to the Sahara, including Egypt, Arabia, Palestine, Syria, Mesopotamia, and Persia. Considering how the Mohammedans despise ordinary dogs, which they regard as unclean, it may seem strange that they should honour, and even revere the Saluki. The hounds are not only prized for their sporting abilities but in the wastes of the desert the owners may have to rely upon the Salukis to provide meat.

Throughout the ages the great tribes have carefully guarded the precious strains, which have been handed down to them. Famous dogs are known all through the desert; pedigrees are learned by heart, "sung or chanted," and handed down by oral transmission from generation to generation.

A Saluki is spoken of as "El Hor, the Noble One," or "Barake, Specially Blessed," and is granted every privilege, even admission to the Shiek's tent. In and is never sold but presented as a mark of esteem. In the encampments the East, a Saluki is considered sacred the valuable Salukis are carefully protected. Great care is taken of the pups, and often they are nursed by the women of the tribe.

The game for which Salukis are used are hare, fox and other desert animals. The Saluki, having tremendous speed (37-40 miles per hour) is used by the Arabs in bringing down gazelle, one of the fastest antelopes. These dogs have very keen eyes and hunt mostly by sight, their sense of smell being less highly developed.

The sport for which the Saluki is famous is falconry, and the team work between the dog and the bird is remarkable. Once the game is sighted the dog and hunter pursue it by following the flight of the hawk. It is the Saluki's duty to come up and hold the gazelle until the hunter arrives to kill in the orthodox Moslem way.

MAZURI BINZUKA, Saluki, owned by Mrs. Angel, Mazuri Kennels.

DIAMOND HILL HADJI—Saluki—Bred by E. K. Aldrich, Jr., owned by Lieut. Hollis.

The life of the Saluki, like that of his master, is not an easy one. He hunts over the rough rocky country and the blistering sands, and endures the scorching sun by day and the frosty desert night.

Salukis are first mentioned in England in 1835 and again in 1840 when a bitch owned by Sir Hamilton Smith, a dog in St. Regent's Park zoo, and one owned by the Duke of Devonshire were spoken of as Persian Greyhounds. Evidently there was no real interest in Salukis until the Hon. Florence Amherst imported the first Arabian Salukis in 1895, from the Kennels of Prince Abdulla in Transjordan, and a great deal of credit is due to the Hon. Florence Amherst for popularizing the breed in Europe.

Interest was just being aroused in the public and the press when the Great War intervened and stopped all activities. At the close of the war Salukis again became conspicuous, and specimens were brought back by officers and men returning from the East. Mrs. Mervyn Herbert brought back several fine specimens from Egypt, and Mr. Vereker Cowley imported Malik-el-Zobair and Zobeida-el-Zobair. These with Ch. Sarona Kelb and Sarona Sarona, imported from Mesopotamia by Brigadier-General Lance in 1920, figure prominently in the pedigrees of our present day Salukis. In England Salukis are fast becoming one of the most popular breeds.

The Saluki was well established in the Old Country before he came into his own on this side of the ocean. Not until 1927 was the breed officially recognized by the A.K.C., and at Westminster Show the same year two Salukis were shown in the Miscellaneous class. The following year there were ten entries and the breed was judged by Mr. G. V. Glebe.

In July, 1927, the Saluki Club of America was formed with only seven or eight fanciers among its members. Since then interest has been steadily growing and dogs have been imported from England and the East. After a favourable start the depression caused a temporary set-back but in 1934 Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. L'Hommedieu, Jr., and others endeavoured to revive interest and to date some 350 Salukis have been registered in the A.K.C. In the New York area most entries have been due to Mrs. Paterno's El Retiro Kennels and in New England to dogs from the Diamond Hill Kennels of E. K. Aldrich, Jr.

In Canada the Saluki is a rare breed and so far only ten dogs have been registered in the C.K.C. Mrs. C. A. McGee's Sheik El Ra was the first dog to cross the border and soon after, in 1937, Dr. G. Bagnani imported from England, Mazuri Adonis and from Mrs. Greenwood's Kennels, Nablous Mish-Mish. No other dogs came into the country until November, 1944, when I imported Diamond Hill Hadji from Mr. E. K. Aldrich, Providence, R.I.

Although we have not quantity we have quality, for in these dogs is found the best blood in England, America and the East, combining such strains as Amherstia, Grevel, Ruritania, Rushford, Sarona and Zobiar.

The future of the Saluki in Canada looks bright. In colour he can meet the demands of the most fastidious; in disposition he shows great attachment to his master, is gentle with children, affectionate without being demonstrative, a good watch dog but not aggressive; in appearance he is graceful, dignified and refined, possessing subtle strength and power. In fact, he has everything to commend himself to you.

COCKER SPECIALTY SHOW IS OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

By Russell Robinson

The Third Specialty Show of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Central Ontario held at Unionville, Ontario, on June 30th, was an outstanding success, which was particularly gratifying since proceeds from the show went to the Markham-Unionville Lion's Club in aid of its many charitable causes.

Crosby Memorial Hall, with its spacious arena and grounds offered splendid show facilities which, with ideal June weather prevailing, made the show an enjoyable event for the many who attended.

Presenting keen competition, entrants numbered some 75 Cockers, with over sixty exhibitors being represented. American exhibitors included Mr. Chris G. Teeters, Royal Oak, Mich.; Mr. L. Bobbie, Dearborn, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Funk, Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wuchter, Akron, Ohio.

Best in Show was captured by Mr. L. L. Broley's Brookwood Candidate, with Miss A. Elsie Mayhew's Glen Rouge Kitty Foyle going Best of Opposite Sex. The Puppy Sweepstake, consisting of 15 entries, was taken by Miss Mayhew's Sun Joy Candidate. We will refrain from giving further details here as, at the time of writing, it is presumed that complete results will appear in this publication in due course.

A commendable job of judging was performed by Mrs. Dorothy Conway, of Kenmore, N.Y., whose fairness and ability were apparent throughout.

A most interesting feature of the day was the obedience trials judged by Mr. Alex Gooderham. To the uninitiated, dog shows with their many intricacies familiar only to the fancier, can prove somewhat uninteresting. To everyone, however, this demonstration of educated canines proved highly diverting. It is interesting to note and indeed appropriate that, among the Shepherd breeds more commonly associated with obedience work, first in the Novice Class was taken by a Cocker, Dunrovin's Eve O., owned by Mr. Ed O'Brien, which passed with 89 points.

Still another special attraction was the Airedale Ch. Trevor Corrigan owned by Colonel Thompson, Highland Creek, Ont. This dog is the official mascot of the Toronto Scottish Regiment. Having recently returned from overseas, he has seen service in France and has received many honours and medals which were also on display.

Also in aid of the Lion's Club, a lucky draw was held with the following results:

Winner of $50 War Bond—Mrs. Ruby Saunders, 2125½ Yonge St., Toronto.

Winner of Cocker Puppy donated by Mr. R. G. Fraser—Mr. T. Laidler, 216 Donlands Ave., Toronto.

Winner of Cocker Puppy donated by Mr. L. L. Broley—Mr. Dick Adams, 260 Glebeholme Ave., Toronto.

Winner of Silver Serving Tray—Mrs. G. Atkinson, Unionville.

Winner of Silex Coffee Maker—Mr. Earl Robson, Milliken, Ont.

Mr. Raymond Tyrwhitt, the Ring Steward, surprisingly enough and much to everyone's amusement, was the fortunate winner of the catalogue lucky number draw for a cash prize donated by Miss E. Mildred Dagger.

Particular credit for the success of the show is due to Mr. A. Burden, Show Superintendent; to Mr. Raymond Tyrwhitt for his able assistance as Ring Steward; and to the Trophy Committee comprising Mrs. R. Lockhart, Mrs. Bruce McRae, Mrs. LeRoy DeShane, Mrs. C. L. McLean, and our better half, Winnifred Robinson. But for lack of space, other names would be included. However, the Club wishes to take this opportunity of thanking everyone who made the show possible.

CANADIAN DOG TRAINING

By Walter O. Flink

Secretary-Treasurer

Results of the Obedience Tests, held in conjunction with the Cocker Spaniel Club of Central Ontario, June 30th, 1945, at Unionville, were as follows:

Afternoon Show, Mr. Alex Gooderham the Judge, Novice Class "A": First, "Dunrovens Evo", a Cocker Spaniel, with a score of 89. Second, "Annabelle of Ellen Mar", a German Shepherd, with a score of 83, just under the necessary 85. Third was Elizabeth of Briardale, a German Shepherd, with a score of 43. Fourth was Zelda of Sandorea, a Shepherd, and Fifth, Wavell of Nebrie, also a Shepherd.

In Open Class "A", First was "Sultan of Nebrie C.D." with a score of 226, 220 being a pass. Second was Carla of Briardale, also a Shepherd, with a score of 103.

In the Evening Show, Mr. W. A. Unthank Judging, Novice Class "A", first was "Annabelle of Ellen Mar", with a score of 98; Second, "Dunrovens Evo", with a score of 95, and third, "Elizabeth of Briardale", with a score of 65.

In open Class "A", First was "Sultan of Nebrie" with a score of 243, and Second, "Carla of Briardale" with a score of 154.

Results of Obedience Tests held in conjunction with the Progressive Show at Dufferin Park, July 7th, Mr. Sturgess, of Detroit, judging, were: Novice Class "A", First, "Dunrovens Evo", Cocker Spaniel, handler, Mrs. E. O'Brien, with a score of 94 points. Second, "Annabelle of Ellen Mar", Mrs. A. Kerr, owner, with a score of 90. Third, Elizabeth of Briardale, handler, Mr. Gordon Hurst, with a score of 70.

As a result of the above, Mr. O'Brien's little Cocker Spaniel now has won it's C. D. Title. Congratulations to you, Mr. O'Brien.

Mrs. Kerr's Shepherd now has two legs on his title, and should win it's "C.D." at the next Obedience Show.

Welcome to the following new members: Mr. Robert Burney, Mrs. E. O'Brien, Mr. W. N. Pennycook, Mrs. M. S. Soules, Mr. C. H. Spratt.

Remember, if you want to have a well behaved dog in the Show Ring, a dog that you can walk around at your side, join the Canadian Dog Training Club, and come out to our training classes at Acorn Park every Sunday afternoon, at 2.00 p.m.

Our Club has now put through several "C.D." Dogs as well as one "C.D.X." dog and I believe much of the credit should go to our Training Director, Mr. George Wade and his Assistants, Alva McColl and Spencer Weller.

For any information on training, you can contact the Secretary at 130 Heward Ave., Toronto 8.

A Rare Dog

The Barkless Basenji

Mr. Alexander Phemister, President of the Basenji Club of America, has been kind enough to send this up-to-date standard, which we trust will be preserved by all those who are interested in this breed, as at the present time, it seems impossible to get copies of the Complete Dog Book, which contains the up-to-date standard.

BASENJI STANDARD

Adopted by the Basenji Club of America and approved by the Board of Directors of the American Kennel Club at their meeting, November 9, 1943.

HEIGHT—Approximately 17 inches dog, 16 inches bitches.

HEAD—Of medium width, not coarse, tapering towards the eyes, well chiselled, with lofty carriage. The skull should be flat. The foreface should taper from eye to muzzle, and should be shorter than the skull, teeth should be level. Wrinkles should appear upon the forehead when the ears are pricked, giving a puzzled expression. These are a special characteristic of the Basenji, but exaggerated wrinkle is to be avoided, as the excessive loose skin tends to give a Bloodhoundy appearance and spoils the clean lines of the breed.

NOSE—Black greatly desired, but a pinkish tinge should not penalize as otherwise first class specimen.

EARS—Should be pointed and erect, set well forward and of fine texture.

EYES—Should be dark hazel, almond shaped, small deep set and far seeing.

NECK—Of sufficient length, well crested, and slightly full at the base of the throat. It should be well set into flat laid-back shoulders.

CHEST—Deep and of medium width.

BODY—The body should be short and level. The ribs well sprung with plenty of heart room and deep brisket, short coupled and ending in a definite waist.

FEET—Small, narrow, with arched toes.

LEGS—Straight with clean bone and well defined sinews. Pasterns straight rather than otherwise, but not of the Fox-terrier type.

HINDQUARTERS—Strong and muscular, with hocks well let down, and turned neither in nor out, with long second thighs.

TAIL—Set on top and tightly curled over to one side.

COLOUR—Chestnut with white points and tail tip, also black and white, and black, tan and white, red and white, fawn and white.

COAT—Short and silky, skin very pliant.

MOVEMENT—Both hindlegs and forelegs should be carried straight forward with swinging stride, greatly resembling that of a racehorse trotting full out, this swift, tireless running gait being a special characteristic of the breed.

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS—Basenjis do not bark. The appearance should be one of springy poise and alertness, greatly resembling an antelope.

HAMILTON CLUB SILVER JUBILEE

Hamilton Kennel Club show, on Saturday, September 8th, will be a big event. As this is the Silver Jubilee of the Hamilton Kennel Club, it is hoped that the many fanciers who have enjoyed Hamilton shows for a long period of time, will show their friendly spirit by turning out in large numbers.

THE BARKLESS BASENJI

Dr. A. R. B. Richmond, Toronto, Ontario, has done a great deal to make this breed better known in Canada.

GUELPH SHOW BENEFITS UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN

Underprivileged children in that city will benefit by the successful International Dog Show held by the Guelph Kennel Club this year. Half the proceeds went to the Guelph Optimists' Club, a service organization specializing in the care of needy youngsters.

Entry fee proved the largest item of receipts, amounting to $659.75 after exchange on cheques had been deducted. Catalogue advertising brought $459.82, while the booklets sold for $63.95. Public interest in dogs, aroused by the show, is demonstrated by the fact that paid admissions totaled $332.10. Sale of draw tickets brought another $253.25. Total receipts were $1,815.37.

Advertising and printing cost $337.74, and draw books and prizes took another $175.53. Judges and ring stewards cost $214.66. Rent of benching, plus transporting and insurance, amounted to $120. Supplies, cleaning, labor, typing, postage, telephone and telegraph tolls, and the other necessary expenses, brought the total expenditures to $1,009.27.

The net proceeds, $806.10, will be divided between the Optimists Club, for charitable work, and the Guelph Kennel Club, who will set their share aside toward the cost of building their own benching.

Officers of the Guelph Kennel Club include William Rimmer, President; Simpson Milton, vice-president; Mrs. George Haennel, secretary; Mrs. G. Fraser, assistant secretary.

Officers of the Optimists Club include Al Freeman, president; J. Amell, past-president; J. Lafontaine, secretary; Alex Cadwell, treasurer.

HISTORY OF THE GREAT PYRENEES BREED IN CANADA

The Great Pyrenees breed in Canada is seldom seen and little known, although when the French first wintered in Newfoundland at Rognoust and on the shores of Placetentia Bay, as far back at 1662, it is known that they brought the great white dogs of their native mountains, the Pyrenean Mountain Dogs, as protection against wolves and other animals. It was while fulfilling this role of guard-dog and pet that Pyrenean dogs became mated with the sporting pets brought over by the English settlers, the Curly-Coated Retrievers, and from this mating resulted a breed which has long made dog history and is popular to-day (though in a modified type) among large dogs—the Newfoundland. Why the Pyrenean dog did not continue as an adopted dog by the English and so leave descendants to-day in eastern Canada remains a mystery.

Nothing further was heard of the breed until about twelve years ago when hearsay carries the news that a French woman brought back with her from France to guard her home in New Carlisle on the Gaspé Peninsula, five great white dogs from the Pyrenees.

The first Great Pyrenees registered in Canada with the National Live Stock Records Office in 1935 was "Basquaerie Marie Blanche," born at Needham, Mass., in 1933. This dog was taken as a companion to Fort McPherson, Northwest Territories, a post among the Indians, within thirty miles of the Arctic Circle. Here Marie is thriving and happy, living out in the cold northern winter and making herself useful by pulling ice and wood on a sled.

NATIONAL DOG WEEK DATES SET—RIPLEY 1945 GENERAL CHAIRMAN

The eighteenth annual National Dog Week, and the first to be held under its new incorporated set-up, will be observed this year under the general chairmanship of Robert L. ("Believe It or Not") Ripley the week of September 16th-22nd, it is announced.

Direction of the movement will emanate from the newly-opened secretary's office at 424 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Officers for 1945 of National Dog Week, a not-for-profit corporation organized under the laws of Illinois, include: W. E. Armstrong, one of the best known figures in the American dog fancy, President; Captain Will Judy, authoritative writer and speaker on dogs, Vice-President; and Harry Miller, executive secretary of the National Dog Week for the past two years, Secretary-Treasurer.

This year's observance will follow largely the pattern of last year's successful event, which was planned as a tribute to the dog in honor of his outstanding performance on the war front and the home front. The slogan featured in the 1944 National Dog Week literature, "In War, In Peace, 'Man's Best Friend'," will again be used in 1945. Fund-raising activities and the organization of committees for community observances this fall will get under way immediately.

923 College Street, Toronto, Ontario.

Why breeders feed GRO-PUP

Breeders know it is not safe to try to raise dogs on "table scraps" alone. Dogs must have a properly balanced diet that gives them everything they need for strong bones, sound teeth, and a beautiful coat. That's why breeders feed Gro-Pup.

It's a properly balanced diet to keep dogs of all ages, sizes and breeds at their natural best. It is easily digestible. It contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need for sturdy growth and vigour.

Money Saving! Gro-Pup costs about 1/2 the price of many other brands of dog food.

Economical! A 2-lb. box of Gro-Pup Cubes feeds an average 15-pound dog a week.

Get it at grocers or pet shops in the 2-lb. box of cubes—or in the new 5-lb. bag of meal... and at feed stores in either cube or meal form in bulk up to 100 pounds

9 OUT OF 10 SPEAK FOR GAINES!

It's COMPLETE MEAL
with a 15-year success record that speaks for itself!

DOGS speak for it! Countless tails are wagging today! That's because dog owners, fanciers, breeders and exhibitors are really discovering GAINES — Complete Meal, fed to many outstanding prize-winners for more than 15 years. Recent surveys reveal that, with 9 out of 10 dogs offered GAINES, it's a case of Love at First Bite!

DOG HEALTH speaks for it!

GAINES has been for years the stand-by of prize-dog breeders. It gives your dog a scientifically balanced formula combining meat meal, cereals, dehydrated vegetables, milk nutrients, minerals, vitamins A, B₁, B₂, B₆, D, E, Niacin and Pantothenate—tested for adequacy, digestibility and easy assimilation.

YOU'LL Speak for it! GAINES is The Complete Meal in every sense of the word. It comes in two forms. Gaines Dog Meal, to which you add hot water. Gaines Krunchon—crunchy pellets for the morning meal, or for treats. Both in 2 lb., 5 lb., and 50 lb. bags.
