OUR COVER

Our Cover this month pictures two outstanding home-bred Collie Champions.

Champion Bonacres Pickwick, bred by William Powell, Toronto, Ontario, crowned his splendid show career by going Best in Show, all breeds, at Ottawa. Last year, at the Sportsmen's Show, he went from Senior Puppy to second in Working Group under Mrs. Meyers Nolan of Milford, Ohio. At Montreal, under Mr. Williams of New York, he was placed Best of Breed. This is quite an achievement for a dog just twenty-five months of age.

Mr. Powell says that this mating was carefully planned. His grandsire, Champion St. Adrian Scarborough, was Best of Breed at New York. His granddam, a daughter of Champion Beulah's Golden Sultan, holds the record of winning the Collie Club Challenge Cup three times. His grandsire was Beulah's Night Victorious, one of England's great post-war sires.

Champion Pickwick is an honest Collie through and through, with natural tipped ears derived from his sire and dam; his tremendous coat of right texture and well bent stifles give him beautiful angulation. His pups are showing great possibilities, and several smart breeders in the United States have used him at stud. Mr. Powell has sold Collies this year to be exported to England, Long Island, New York and California.

Champion Bonacres Victoria O'Killoran is without doubt one of Canada's greatest prize winning Collie females. She placed nine times in the Group and went Best Canadian bred several times. Bred by Mr. Powell, this dog (sire, imported Beulah's Golden Victory; dam, Champion Pleasant Stargleam), went Best of Breed five times in five consecutive shows. She was sold to Mr. John Low of Winnipeg at six months of age.

The Diagnosis of Rabies

In our desire to furnish as much information as possible on the current topics now being discussed amongst the breeders of purebred dogs, we have gone back into the history of the Canadian Kennel Club.

It was not until 1908 that the rabies disease became known to any great extent. At that time, little was known about it, and the following address, given by Dr. J. A. Campbell, V.S., B.V.Sc., before the members of the Toronto Veterinary Medical Association, was widely published in the newspapers.

"In making a diagnosis of rabies in a dog, it is preferable to preserve the animal in order that the development of the disease may be observed. In case the dog has been killed, it is possible to make a diagnosis, if the brain has not decomposed, by the inoculating process, or by means of the Negri-bodies. These are small, round or oval structures found in the nerve cells, located chiefly in the cells of Hippocampus major, and can be demonstrated by p r o p e r staining methods. This procedure is universally adopted by world-wide state authorities.

"Now the question arises when is a dog not suffering from a true case of rabies. No doubt everyone has seen a dog suffering from hysterical convulsions tho' it appears to the average layman to be a rabid animal.

"It has been my experience to attend a number of dogs which have presented typical text book cases of rabies. I might cite two cases in point, one a Fox Terrier that I was called to see. On arriving at the house I was informed that the dog had been acting in a peculiar manner for two days and suddenly seemed to lose all control of itself. I found the animal in the cellar in a highly excited state, oscillating eyes, frothy muzzle, snapping and biting and giving vent to a characteristic howl-like bark. Here was apparently a typical text-book case of rabies. The dog rushed aimlessly about, colliding finally with the clothes horse of which it seized the leg. I took the opportunity to grasp the animal by the neck and carry it to the laundry tub, allowing the cold water to run over its head. During this period the animal was furious, snapping the tap and sides of the tub. I was almost convinced that it was a case of true rabies and decided to take the dog to my hospital so that I could watch developments of the disease. On arriving at my office I administered a dose of hypnotic and placed the animal in an isolated cage. It was very much exhausted and crawled into a corner and collapsed, remaining in the same position until ten o'clock in the evening. No new symptom appearing, I left for home. On the following morning I found the dog apparently normal, except for a slight condition of exhaustion. On being offered food the animal ate greedily, and from then on steadily improved. I had the case under my observation for a week, then sent it home in a normal condition. Here was a case in which the condition was brought on by teething.

"The second case I might mention is that of a Bulldog which was suffering from what appeared to be a case of dumb rabies, the lower jaw paralyzed and dropped, the tongue protruding and cyanosed, eyes staring, marked paralysis in the hind quarters and great emaciation. On careful examination the case proved to be one of Gangrenous Stomatitis.

"These cases simply go to show that one must not be too hasty in rushing blindly to a diagnosis, but must view such cases from a sane and scientific standpoint. I may truly state that many of the above conditions require the keenest observation. Now we must admit the actual existence of the disease rabies, but it is not common. In a large percentage of cases said to be rabies it has been found that the diagnosis is at fault; the condition is simply one of cerebral or spinal irritation, brought about by a gastric disturbance, such as teething, intestinal absorption of toxic products or retained faeces, or extreme irritation caused by intestinal parasites.

"The condition may also be brought about by a rapid rise in blood pressure.

"This being the first occasion that the question for the prevention of rabies has been brought so prominently to the public notice, and owing to the extreme agitation in the public mind concerning this subject, I consider this a most opportune moment for bringing the question of rabies before this society for discussion.

"I shall endeavor to epitomize a few of the widely scattered facts concerning the disease.

"Rabies, coming from the Latin "rabere" meaning "to rave", is all that the name indicates when the animal is suffering from the furious form which only occurs in 15% of cases. It is principally a disease of the dog and his species, communicable to man and domesticated animals, the infection transmitted by inoculation only and under no circumstances does it develop spontaneously. The virus is located in the saliva and affects the nervous system. It is found that in man the period of development extends from three weeks to three months, but it is impossible to lay down any hard and fast rule because the period may be shorter or prolonged over one year. This point is most mysterious to the layman's mind, but is simply due to the fact that the portal of entry may be located at variable distances from the nervous centres from which it may be carried in very infinitesimal portions. It has been observed by scientists that bites in the region of the head, and those with marked lacerations, usually produce a rapid development of the disease. It is known that the disease takes two forms, dumb rabies and furious rabies. Dumb rabies is that in which paralysis is the early symptom, whilst the furious type is a form in which a very pronounced excitement prevails."

Dr. Campbell's contribution was considered to be well advised and authentic, and it had the effect of allaying fear and creating respect for the hated muzzling laws.

Rabies' inoculations had not been perfected at the time of the above address, so a muzzling law was enforced, with the result that the disease rapidly disappeared.

After reading the above article, it should be quite simple to recognize the symptoms, although its appearance in Canada is quite negligible.

An interesting article in the Journal of the Veterinary Medical Association is worth repeating. "No tragic epidemic has ever been traced to household animals," the Journal reports, "and of the many infectious diseases transmitted to man by animals it is remarkable how few of them originated in dogs." The Journal further states that dogs can catch certain diseases, such as tuberculosis, through contact with human sufferers from this disease, but there is no known case where a person has contacted it from the dogs. In the rabies field, few cases are traced to household pets. The majority of these are caused by stray dogs and that majority, according to the latest article by Dr. Wm. P. Darrow, D.V.M., is that out of the whole of the United States only thirty persons developed rabies last year from an infected animal, which does not necessarily mean a dog.

"SHE won't come for you, miss. She's going to have puppies in a few weeks and she's nervous," said the tall, sixteen-year-old boy politely. I had been vainly coaxing the great Collie to pose for a picture. "Merlis, here, Merlis," he whistled, and the beautiful animal bounded over at once, nuzzling into the boy's hand. "It's just that she knows me best," he explained. "I train her and feed her, and when I graduate next year, I can take her home as my dog."

The blind boy's feeling of pride and comradeship with his dog was typical of all the students we met on a recent trip to the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind, which had been famous for more than a century for its academic and vocational training, specially adapted to the needs of blind children from kindergarten through high school age. We had heard that work with animals played a vital part in the school's plan to develop blind children into happy, secure, and responsible people, so we went up one day to learn the details.

"The Institute visualizes dogs, and other animals as companions and friends for the blind, not as guides," said Dr. Merle E. Frampton, Principal of the School, as he outlined the history of the work. "Our work with dogs did not begin seriously until last fall, when the first student-operated kennel was built, but actually our work with other animals was started many years ago, raising rabbits and poultry.

"Blind children, in order to develop normally, without a sense of inferiority, in a world where they must compete with sighted people, must have normal childhood experiences. We feel that the love and loyalty of a pet is one of the most important of these experiences."

Dr. Frampton went on to explain that teaching proper care and treatment of animals is directly correlated with the educational policy of the school, not as a form of psychotherapy, but as an important foundation in preparing the blind child for normal living.

Fourteen children, of all ages, are now enrolled in the animal training classes. Children in the Manual Workshop are making attractive leather leashes for the dogs. Recently, a wild life study group toured the Bronx Zoo and wrote essays in Braille on their experience. This work in the school year is followed up during the summer at the Berkshire camp maintained by the school, where dogs frolic and sport with their young masters. The program comes to fruition when the students graduate and take the dogs they have worked with home as their own pets.

The real test of the growing success of this animal training program came in talking with the children themselves, marking their delighted, spontaneous laughter, watching them play with their dogs and teaching them simple rules of obedience training. In the school's block of excellently equipped kennels and hutches, furry angora rabbits, pigeons and chickens share prominence with a wide variety of dogs, including Dalmatians, Cockers, Collies and Boxers. As the training course is in its experimental stages, teachers are still trying to determine which breeds are best for the work. Generally small or medium-sized dogs are preferred, as the excessively large dogs terrify the younger children.

It is a challenging experience to witness the fine work being done by the New York Institute. Not only are they brightening the childhood of the blind, in providing them with the affectionate companionship of a dog, but they are also opening new vocational horizons, through the breeding and training of dogs. Most important of all, they are instilling a spirit of self-reliance and personal security in children that will last through life.

"I Prefer Quality"

By Percy Roberts

THE shows held last year were somewhat less in number of entries than during the first two years after the war, but the quality in most groups have been maintained. There have been just enough new dogs to give the older campaigners a good workout and, in some instances, they have gone over them, which has added considerably to the spice of competition.

The writer would say that the Terrier Group has been the one that kept up to par in quality even though the actual entry is light in a number of breeds at some particular shows. Any judge assigned this group must perforce put his thinking cap on, for any one of the breeds represented in this group has a standard bearer that is the essence of type and quality. Very rarely do we see a dog of mediocre quality in the Terrier Group, which cannot be said of some of the other groups.

It has seemed to this observer that more attention could be paid to this much sought after attribute—quality. Some use the word "class"; I prefer quality. For where quality is, show presence is usually close at heel. How often do we see different specimens move up and down the ring to make the deciding factor in the placings when there are several dogs in the ring that smother them in type and have various much-sought-after points, such as correct shape of head, placement of eyes and size of same, general balance and the over all picture of something really beautiful to look at.

The writer well remembers receiving a letter some years ago from a fancier out West saying he had a dog he would like to sell me which had all the necessary qualifications of a top line specimen. He gave details, such as marvelous length of head, shortness of back, superb bone, legs and feet and in his own words "as sound as a bell of brass." Not knowing anything of this chap's knowledge of a dog, I wired him and said I would like to take a look against expenses both ways if the dog did not suit. Well, the dog arrived, and his owner had described him according to his viewpoint truthfully as to points, but forgot the one most sought after attribute—quality.

By that, I do not mean a lightweight, but as a person would look at a thorough-bred horse against a common bred one. The true connoisseur is always looking for the most important details. We must depend on our judges by their placements to keep the different breeds up to par thus enabling breeders in other sections of the country to gauge by judges' decisions the actual merit of a dog and so have confidence to breed to him if a dog, and, if a bitch, that she can be the example for a breeder to strive to produce.

During my trips to Europe since the war, I have noticed small but important defects creeping into different breeds which, ten or fifteen years ago, would have kept a dog with these faults from reaching the heights, and so he would not have been used at stud to pass on these defects to his issue. One fault in particular in the terrier breeds I noticed was too much white showing around their eyes. Some dogs could look straight at you and still show a white ring around the pupil, which robs any terrier of all character to my mind. Terriers are not alone in this defect and I would suggest that any discerning breeder should go down the benches of his own particular breed and see how many measure up to what is termed a good eye in that particular variety.

This is just one of the faults I consider serious, because if allowed to go on, those breeds that should have the devil dancing in their eyes will all become what I term open-faced, and so lose one of their main attractions—character.

I mentioned earlier in this article the use of the words "sound as a bell of brass." This, of course, was taken for granted by me to mean a good mover which was quite true. This particular dog was, but I wonder how many judges go into the details when they judge a variety group. By details, I mean for instance, the facts that an Irish Setter has a different way of going than an English Setter; that an Old English Sheepdog should move differently than a Shepherd; and that a Pekingese should move in a different manner from a Japanese Spaniel. From what one can observe, providing a dog moves moderately straight in front and wide enough behind, it appears to be taken for granted that his movement is correct.

The above remarks are written constructively and are not intended in any way or form as criticism, but the writer has always considered the group judging as one of the most interesting parts of a dog show and to see a good group well judged is worth the price of admission.

WEIMARANER

Description and Standard of Points

As recommended by the Weimaraner Club of America and approved by AKC directors 11 July 1944.

GENERAL APPEARANCE—Color Gray (Silver, Bright, Dark Yellow); the Dark Gray may be either ash or blue, often blending to a lighter shade on head and ears. A white star on the chest is allowable, but at no other place on the body. Any yellow tinge in such star is a definite fault.

Look for individuality and class in carriage as an indication of character and breeding and indicated by the head, eye, and stance. There should be every indication of a good hunting nose well balanced over a business-like muzzle with reasonably deep flews. There should be a strong, clean neck gracefully joining muscular shoulders separated by a well-balanced chest—all supported by staunch legs. The back should be moderate in length, strong, and straight over well-developed ribs. The hindquarters should slope gently over muscular legs with low stifles and firm feet. The whole should sum up to the maximum of power, speed, grace, and endurance, absolutely sound fore and aft.

WEIGHT AND HEIGHT—Dogs 65 to 85 pounds, bitches 55 to 75 pounds. Height at withers—Dogs 24 to 26 inches; Bitches 22 to 25 inches. Oversize should not be considered a too serious fault if conformation is correct and instinctive character is outstanding.

HEAD—Fine featured and aristocratic. Somewhat narrower than the pointer, or at least giving that effect because of the long muzzle and rather prominent occipital bone and trumpets which set well back but beginning at the back of the eye socket. The flews should be quite deep, enclosing a powerful jaw. The foreface should be perfectly straight, delicate at the nostrils, and the hair slightly darker than the hair on the body, with the skin tightly drawn.

EARS—General characteristics of the hound, slightly folded and placed rather high—soft coat.

EYES—Color—Blue-gray, or amber, appearing amber to gray, dependent upon light—quite prominent when alert—and if the pupils are dilated the eyes may appear almost black. Should be set well enough apart to indicate good disposition and intelligence.

TEETH—Well set, strong and even. Must be well developed and proportionate to jaw with powerful scissors bite. Teeth undershot or overshot is a serious fault.

TAIL—Cropped to 1½ inches when a puppy (within 3 days). Approximately 6 inches at maturity—tendency to be light rather than heavy and carried expressively.

LEGS—Fore—Straight, muscular and well-boned.

Hind—Muscular and evidence of driving power. Stifles well let down.

FEET—Firm, well arched and closed, giving evidence of ability to stand hard work and withstand bruises. Nails should be gray, black, or amber.

GAIT—The walk is rather awkward, promptly to become a perfect rhythm at a trot and effortless ground covering grace on extended leaps.

TEMPERAMENT—The breed is lively, fearless, kind, and obedient. They are extremely sensitive and exceptionally smart and anxious to please. Any sign of weak nerves, shyness, or viciousness should be heavily penalized.

Know Your Breed ... By Alva McColl

ONCE again the German people have produced a canine which has drawn attention from all over the world. In their desire to breed a dog which could be everything a man wished, both as a companion and hunting dog, the virtues and qualities of various breeds were studied until it was decided to cross the Red Schweisshund (known to us as a Bloodhound) with the Blue Great Dane, and by judicious crossing and re-crossing they were able through many generations of line breeding to fix a certain type and quality. Several other German hunting breeds were evolved from this experimentation and the sportsmen-nobles in the court of Weimar adopted what was then known as the Weimar-pointer, a dog with great scenting ability, speed, courage and intelligence. So the Weimaraner, also called "Grey Ghost" because of its silent speed, came into being.

In order to keep the breed true, the originators did not allow it to pass out of their hands; a club was formed and one could not purchase a Weimaraner unless their previous record of sportsmanship was of high standard. Once a member of the club, the breeder had to adhere strictly to the rules which were so stringent that the Weimaraner never became numerous. It was not until 1929 that an American sportsman was able to purchase two of the breed, but these had been sterilized before being sent across the ocean to prevent breeding. It was not long before Howard Knight, the importer, had interested sufficient friends to form a club in the United States which carry out the same principles as those of the parent club in Germany, with the result that the dogs were then allowed to be imported for breeding purposes. Even now, a puppy cannot be sold until the prospective owner has "signed the pledge" certifying that he will carry out the traditions of the breed.

There are but some 1500 in existence today.

One of the strange characteristics of the breed is that the puppies are born with their silver-taupe coat striped like a zebra. If they do not have these stripes at birth they will die within three days. If the stripes do not fade out into a solid colour, the puppies are likewise doomed.

Legends surrounding the fabulous "Grey Ghosts" are many. They can run effortlessly, passing an automobile travelling at 39 m.p.h. Their boosters say they do not even appear winded. A Weimaraner will jump a bridge rail with a 30 foot drop to retrieve a duck, without hesitation. A young Weimaraner found a child that had been missing for days, after Bloodhounds had lost the trail.

Judging by the Score Card System

Competition is the spice of life and it is the desire to own a dog of sufficient merit to win a ribbon in the ring which inspires a purchaser to own a purebred dog. One has only to listen to the conversation of the breeder when selling dogs to realize that his selling point is based not only on the purity of the strain but also the prize winning possibilities derived from the careful breeding of that particular dog.

It is rarely that one can purchase a good dog cheap, and so it is up to us, the breeders of purebred dogs in Canada, to guide our amateur and novice purchasers with care. With a little encouragement, the novice becomes a permanent breeder who will invest considerable money in purebred dogs in his desire to produce a winner in the show ring.

Judging is the heart of dog showing, and is the hub of the wheel around which the whole system of breeding and selling dogs revolves. The Germans recognized this, and when dogs were shown the winners received not only a ribbon but a scoring card from which the owner was able to understand the good and bad qualifications of his dog. The writer exhibited German Shepherds under two German judges in 1927. From the score cards was learned the special requirements necessary in breeding goods dogs of that breed.

Dog Shows are no longer in their infancy, and if the breeding of good dogs in Canada is to maintain the high level of the past, then we must develop a system whereby our dogs can be judged honestly and fairly. The scoring system is not new to many of us, but for those who have but recently become enthused over the showing of dogs, we would like to quote the following article which was written by Mr. Wm. Caldwell, a well-known breeder of Great Danes some years ago.

"Now let's consider judging Great Danes by the scoring system. Let's concede that this method of judging is not new. Different judges from time to time have employed their own particular methods. Some have taken the points as specified in the Standards and have grouped them so that instead of assigning individual points to eyes, teeth, neck, etc., they have used the complete head and neck assembly as one unit and have grouped other sections of the body similarly. Others have used different "systems", and as far as the individuals were concerned if they applied their "systems" consistently against all the dogs before them, their results would be perfectly all right. Until I developed my system no one had offered one that was complete and simple in its application so that it could be easily and understandingly used by everyone. I frankly admit that my suggested system is not perfect, but neither is our Standards. Many people dispute the relative importance of the break-down of points allocated to the various component parts of the Great Dane. When our Standards was compiled it was done with a sincere desire to properly evaluate the Great Dane, but actually the various points were assigned on a basis of opinion rather than on a basis of scientific knowledge. I say this fully aware of the fact that I was on the Committee that revised our Standards in 1935, and I do not propose any Standards revision at this time. I think that can wait until some future date when we have all developed and perfected our knowledge of the Great Dane, the relative degree of value of his component parts, etc. This will be brought about more quickly, I believe by the holding of judging sessions and the use of the scoring system which affords a universal method and creates a mutual understanding of the merits and faults of the Great Dane as provided for in our Standards. Under this system all 14 points of the Standards have been taken into consideration and each individual classification or all combined may be rated as "perfect", "very good", "good", "fair" or "bad". Under this system, a dog whose points totalled less than 44 would be rated "bad"; from 44 to 57 he woudl be rated "fair"; from 58 to 85 he would be rated "good"; from 86 to 99 he would be rated "very good" and for 100 he would be rated "perfect".

"Now I am fully aware of the fact that perhaps a hundred different people might offer a hundred different suggested changes concerning amounts to be deducted using percentages instead of set figures, etc., and they might all be right. Nevertheless this system does work; it has proven itself to be a satisfactory, workable system that gets us all thinking about the dogs' faults and perfections in a common channel and that is the most important thing to accomplish at this time. Later on, when we all agree on the definition of a "perfect" head or a "very good" head, etc., etc., we can give more intelligent consideration to the perfection of both our Standards and our scoring system. In the meantime, I unhesitatingly recommend the use of the revised score card that I developed both for group judging and actual ring judging.

"Now let's get down to the procedure of judging under this system...

"When the class comes into the ring, have the dogs walked around the ring just as is done under any other system so as to offer the dog an opportunity to limber up and become accustomed to other dogs in the ring. This, also, affords the judge an opportunity to observe faults which might be apparent when the dog is moving under natural conditions but which might be covered up by a clever handler when the dog is being individually examined. After the dogs have come to a halt and are lined up along the side of the ring, have the dog on the end of the line brought out to the center of the ring so that he may be observed by everyone around the ringside as you go through your examination.

"Now take your chart and systematically go over the dog for his ratings of every one of the fourteen classifications. Examine his head, make a mental comparison between it and the ideal, refresh your collection of faults by glancing at the chart, determine whether it is "perfect", "very good", "good", "fair" or "bad". If it is "perfect" record the full 12 points allowed by the Standards on the chart. If it is 'very good", deduct one point and credit him with eleven. If it is "good", deduct 2 points and credit him with ten. If it is "fair", deduct 3 points and credit him with nine. If it is "bad" deduct 4 points and credit him with eight. Follow this procedure right through all classifications down to and including movement. After you have seen the dog move, make a sub-total and start with the next dog following the same rigid, systematic procedure. After all dogs in the class have been judged up to this point, compare your sub-totals, get your best dogs lined up from left to right and then rate them for general appearance. This offers you the opportunity when scores for the individual parts of the dogs totalled up result in a tie or close score, to rate the dog that is best put together, without serious hereditary faults, in the highest position simply by rating his general appearance above the others. After you rate the general appearance you add that to the sub-total and you automatically have determined your placings. Use a separate sheet for each class and indicate on the sheets what classes they are. After each class has been judged, you copy the ratings of the winner on a sheet labeled "Winners Dog" or "Winners Bitch". In this way you have practically pre-determined the "Winners Dog" or "Winners Bitch" without having to rejudge them, but this is not necessarily an absolute rule. When one dog outclasses the rest of the dogs, it is safe to accept the class scores as final. If the scores are close or tied, then the ratings should be compared and the dogs moved to see if upon a more thorough examination something might have been overlooked that might change the rating. If no change seems justified, then you must make your choice on the basis of "general appearance". Reserve Winners Dog should be determined by comparing the score of the second highest dog in the class won by "Winners Dog" against the second highest score of the dog in the "Winners Dog" class.

Now after the "Winners Dog" has been selected, copy his ratings on a sheet marked "Best of Winners" and go through your judging of the bitches in the same manner, adding the ratings of the "Winners Bitch" to the "Best of Winners" sheet to determine the "Best of Winners". If there are no dogs entered for "Specials" then the Best of Winners automatically becomes Best of Breed. If there are dogs entered in "Specials" then a sheet should be made up for "Best of Breed" and the ratings of the "Best of Winners" placed on it for comparison with those entered in the "Specials", the highest score determining which is "Best of Breed".

That's all there is to it, but some of you may say, "Well, it sounds all right, but I bet you'd never get finished judging a large Show." My answer is that it takes less time to do the job than to tell how to do it. I judged a show of 45 dogs in a morning session under this system, observing every regulation enumerated above, without hurrying myself one bit, and I don't believe that it would have been done any more quickly under any other system. When it was over I had the satisfaction of possessing a complete record of my work for the enlightenment of myself and the exhibitors.

DESCRIPTION AND STANDARD OF POINTS

COCKER SPANIEL (American)

(As revised by the American Spaniel Club and approved by AKC, Oct. 12, 1943)

SKULL—Well developed and rounded with no tendency toward flatness, or pronounced roundness, of the crown (dome).

The forehead smooth, the eyebrows and stop clearly defined, the median line distinctly marked and gradually disappearing until lost rather more than halfway up to the crown.

The bony structure surrounding the socket of the eye should be well chiselled; there should be no suggestion of fullness under the eyes nor prominence in the cheeks which, like the sides of the muzzle, should present a smooth, clean-cut appearance.

MUZZLE AND TEETH—to attain a well proportioned head, which above all should be in balance with the rest of the dog, the distance from the tip of the nose to the stop at a point on a line drawn across the top of the muzzle between the front corners of the eyes, should approximate one-half the distance from the stop at this point up over the crown to the base of the skull.

The muzzle should be broad and deep, with square even jaws.

The upper lip should be of sufficient depth to cover the lower jaw, presenting a square appearance.

The teeth should be sound and regular and set at right angles to their respective jaws. The relation of the upper teeth to the lower should be that of scissors, with the inner surface of the upper in contact with the outer surface of the lower when the jaws are closed.

The nose of sufficient size to balance the muzzle and foreface, with well developed nostrils, and black in color in the blacks and black and tans; in the reds, buffs, livers and parti-colors, and in the roans it may be black or brown, the darker coloring being preferable.

EYES—The eyeballs should be round and full and set in the surrounding tissue to look directly forward and give the eye a slightly almond-shaped appearance. The eye should be neither weak nor goggled.

The expression should be intelligent, alert, soft and appealing.

The color of the iris should be dark brown to black in the blacks and tans, buffs and creams and in the darker shades of the parti-colors and roans. In the reds, dark hazel; in the livers, parti-colors, and roans of the lighter shades, not lighter than hazel, the darker the better.

EARS—Lobular, set on a line no higher than the lower part of the eye, the leather fine and extending to the nostrils; well clothed with long, silky straight or wavy hair.

NECK AND SHOULDERS—The neck sufficiently long to allow the nose to reach the ground easily, muscular and free from pendulous "throatiness." It should rise strongly from the shoulders and arch slightly as it tapers to join the head.

The shoulders deep, clean cut and sloping without protrusion and so set that the upper points of the withers are at an angle which permits a wide spring of rib.

BODY—Its height at the withers should approximate the length from the withers to the set-on of tail.

The chest deep, its lowest point no higher than the elbows, its front sufficiently wide for adequate heart and lung space, yet not so wide as to interfere with the straight-forward movement of the forelegs. Ribs deep and well sprung throughout.

Body short in the couplings and flank, with its depth at the flank somewhat less than at the last rib.

Back strong and sloping evenly and slightly downward from the withers to the set-on of tail.

Hips wide with quarters well rounded and muscular. The body should appear short, compact and firmly knit together, giving the impression of strength.

LEGS AND FEET—Forelegs straight, strongly boned and muscular and set close to the body well under the scapulae. The elbows well let down and turning neither in nor out. The pasterns short and strong.

The hindlegs strongly boned and muscled, with well turned stifles and powerful, clearly defined thighs. The hocks strong, well let down and parallel when in motion and at rest.

Feet compact, not spreading, round and firm, with deep, strong horny pads and hair between the toes; they should turn neither in nor out.

TAIL—Set on and carried on a line with the topline of the back, and when the dog is at work its action should be incessant.

COAT—Flat or slightly waved, soft and dense; the ears, chest, abdomen and legs well feathered.

COLOR AND MARKINGS — Blacks should be jet black, those showing shadings of brown or liver in the sheen of the coat or feathering should be penalized though not disqualified; solid colors other than black should be of sound shade, but lighter colored feathering, while not favored, does not disqualify; a small amount of white on the chest of solid colors should be frowned upon, but does not disqualify; white in any other location on solid colors does disqualify.

In parti-colors at least two definite colors appearing in clearly defined markings distinctly distributed over the body are essential. Dogs (excepting black and tans) which are in the opinion of the judge ninety per cent or more one solid color and possess limited markings of another color on the skull, neck, toes or other locations are to be disqualified, as they are neither solids nor parti-colors.

Roans may follow any typical roaning shade or pattern, and are classed as parti-colors.

Black and tans are shown under the variety classification of "Solid colors other than black, to include Black and Tans." The markings of black and tans should be definite. The black should be jet and the tan rich in shade.

Tan pigmentation solely under the stern and on the underside of the ears does disqualify. The same penalties apply to white markings on black and tans as apply to solid colors.

WEIGHT—Not under 22 nor over 28 pounds. Weight under or in excess of these limits shall be severely penalized. Puppies are exempt from the minimum limitation.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION — Embodying the foregoing we have a serviceable-looking dog with a refinely chiselled head; standing on straight legs and well up at the shoulders; of compact body and wide, muscular quarters.

The Cocker Spaniel's sturdy body, powerful quarters and strong, well boned legs show him to be a dog capable of considerable speed combined with great endurance.

Above all, he must be free and merry, sound, well balanced throughout, and in action show a keen inclination to work; equable in temperament with no suggestion of timidity.

COCKER SPANIEL (English)

(As compiled by American Spaniel Club and approved by AKC, Feb. 1, 1945)

GENERAL APPEARANCE—The English cocker spaniel is an attractive, active, merry sporting dog; with short body and strong limbs, standing well up at the withers.

His movements are alive with energy; his gait powerful and frictionless. He is alert at all times, and the carriage of head and incessant action of his tail while at work give the impression that here is a dog that is not only bred for hunting but really enjoys it.

He is well balanced, strongly built, full of quality and is capable of top speed combined with great stamina. His head imparts an individual stamp peculiar to him alone and has that brainy appearance expressive of the highest intelligence; and is in perfect proportion to his body. His muzzle is a most distinctive feature, being of correct conformation and in proportion to his skull.

CHARACTER—The character of the English cocker is of extreme importance. His love and faithfulness to his master and household, his alertness and courage are characteristic.

He is noted for his intelligence, and merry disposition; not quarrelsome; and is a responsive and willing worker both in the field and as a companion.

HEAD—The skull and forehead should be well developed with no suggestion of coarseness, arched and slightly flattened on top when viewed both from the stop to the end of the skull as well as from ear to ear, and cleanly chiselled under the eyes. The proportion of the head desirable is approximately one-half for the muzzle and one-half for the skull.

The muzzle should be square with a definite stop where it blends into the skull and in proportion with the width of the skull. As the English cocker is primarily a sporting dog, the muzzle and jaws must be of sufficient strength and size to carry game; and the length of the muzzle should provide room for the development of the olfactory nerve to insure good scenting qualities, which require that the nose be wide and well developed.

Nostrils black in color except in reds, livers, parti-colors and roans of the lighter shades, where brown is permissible, but black preferred. Lips should be square, full and free from flews. Teeth should be even and set squarely.

Faults: Muzzle too short or snipy. Jaw overshot or undershot. Lips snipy or pendulous. Skull too flat or too rounded, cheeky or coarse. Stop insufficient or exaggerated.

EYES—The eyes should be of medium size, full and slightly oval shaped; set squarely in skull and wide apart.

Eyes must be dark brown except in livers and light parti-colors where hazel is permissible, but the darker the better. The general expression should be intelligent, alert, bright and merry.

Faults: Light, round or protruding eyes. Conspicuous haw.

EARS—Lobular: set low and close to the head; leather fine and extending at least to the nose, well covered with long, silky straight or slightly wavy hair.

Faults: Set or carried too high; too wide at the top; insufficient feathering; positive curls or ringlets.

NECK—Long, clean and muscular; arched towards the head; set clearly into sloping shoulders.

Faults: Short, thick; with dewlap or excessive throatiness.

BODY — Close-coupled, compact and firmly knit, giving the impression of great strength without heaviness.

Depth of brisket should reach to the elbow, sloping gradually upward to the loin.

Ribs should spring gradually to middle of body, tapering to back ribs which should be of good depth and extend well back.

Faults: Too long and lacking depth; insufficient spring of rib; barrel rib.

SHOULDERS AND CHEST: Shoulders sloping and fine; chest deep and well developed but not too wide and round to interfere with the free action of the forelegs.

Faults: Straight or loaded shoulders.

BACK AND LOIN: Back short and strong. Length of back from withers to tail-set should approximate height from ground to withers.

Height of the dog at the withers should be greater than the height at the hip-joint providing a gradual slope between these points. Loin short and powerful slightly arched.

Faults: Too low at withers; long, sway or roach back; flat or narrow loin; exaggerated tuck-up.

FORELEGS: Straight and strong with bone nearly equal in size from elbow to heel; elbows set close to the body with free action from shoulders; pasterns short, straight and strong.

Faults: Shoulders loose; elbows turned in or out; legs bowed or set too close or too wide apart; knees knuckled over; light bone.

FEET—Size in proportion to the legs; firm, round and cat-like with thick pads and strong toes.

Faults: Too large, too small; spreading or splayed.

Champion Alberstan Invader

(Monty)

Born at the Alberstan Kennels of Mr. and Mrs. Dainard in British Columbia, this beautiful dog has been shown at most Eastern Canada Shows, the last win being the McCullough Trophy at the Sportsman's Show in Toronto, reported to be the largest entry of English Cockers ever to be shown in Canada—25. Monty is a large light blue roan, very sound front and rear, a good mover and a true sporting dog. His daughter, Miss Powell's Perry, has just completed her Championship at 9 months of age. Both dogs were handled to the title by Mr. Paddy Boughs of Toronto.

Monty's wins include 24 Best of Breed with several group placings.

We are expecting a few outstanding youngsters in July.

Information

WALTER FERRIER

1960 Dorchester W. Montreal, P.Q.

HINDQUARTERS—The hips should be rounded; thighs broad; well developed and muscular, giving abundance of propelling power. Stifles strong and well bent.

Hock to pad moderately short, strong and well let down.

Faults: Excessive angulation; lightness of bone; stifle too short; hocks too long or turned in or out.

TAIL—Set on to conform with the topline of the back. Merry in action.

Faults: Set too low; habitually carried too high; too short or too long.

COLOR—Various. In self colors a white shirt frill is undesirable.

In parti-colors the coloring must be broken on the body and be evenly distributed. No large portion of any one color should exist. White should be shown on the saddle. A dog of any solid color with white feet and chest is not a parti-color.

In roans it is desirable that the white hair should be distributed over the body, the more evenly the better. Roans come in various colors: blue, liver, red, orange and lemon.

In black and tans the coat should be black; tan spots over the eyes, tan on the sides of the muzzle, on the throat and chest, on forelegs from the knees to the toes and on the hindlegs on the inside of the legs; also on the stifle and extending from the hock to the toes.

Faults: White feet are undesirable in any specimen of self color.

COAT—On head short and fine; on body flat or slightly wavy and silky in texture. Should be of medium length with enough undercoating to give protection.

The English cocker should be well-feathered but not so profusely as to hide the true line or interfere with his field work.

Faults: Lack of coat; too soft, curly or wiry. Excessive trimming to change the natural appearance and coat should be discouraged.

WEIGHT—The most desirable weights: Males, 28 lbs. to 34 lbs., Females, 26 lbs. to 32 lbs.

Proper physical conformation and balance should be considered more important than weight alone.

B.C. Mainland News

By Jean Fletcher

CONGRATULATIONS to Alvera Molin, whose two Champions finished at ten months, and untrimmed at that, going five times Best Boston, First in Group and twice placed in Group.

Our hearts go out to Mrs. A. W. Smith, of Destere Fox Terrier Kennels, who is seriously ill in hospital.

Our sympathies go, also, to the family of "Toots" Cameron, well-known sportsman, who died suddenly.

It is nice to see our Director, Mrs. G. O. Alsen, up and at it again after her recent illness. Mrs. "A" wishes to say "Thank You" for all the flowers.

Nice going for Mr. McEachren, who took two Best in Show awards at Winnipeg and one Reserve with Champion Danny's Masterpiece of Tailteann.

Miss Pat. Hudson of Willowbrook Kennels, West Vancouver, has just returned from a long holiday in England and Scotland. She visited the world-famous Cocker Kennels of Mr. Lloyd. While in Scotland, she bought two (brothers) Cockers, blue, roan and tan, and an orange roan from Mrs. Kirkland's Kennels, "Longlea".

We were happy to hear that Mrs. Hilda Brint won Best in Show at Kelowna, with her new Peke, Champion Jai Ta Pan of Gingis Khan, bred by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Gagan. This was his second Best in Show; was also Reserve in Show at the second Kelowna Show. Hilda Brint has bred Pekes for a long time and this new lad was a Mother's Day present from hubby.

At the recent Sportsmen's Show put on by the Kiwanis Club and the Province Paper, some of Vancouver's leading Sporting dogs and hounds were on display under the guidance of Mr. W. H. Pym.

Probably the most important news of the month was the sale of the Golden Labrador, Oakcreek Van Cleve, to Stoddard and Wendle Motors of Spokane, Washington, who are really going first class, buying Van Cleve for a record prive of Fifty-five hundred dollars. Last year, "Van" won seven Open All Age Stakes, made a record for Canada for field trials in any breed, was the first dog to qualify for National, and the first Golden to win the Northwest Retriever Trials in Seattle. He will be missed greatly by his former owners, and Helen and Jack Smyth, whose house pet he was.

July will see a Sanction Show put on by the dog breeders here in aid of the Manitoba Flood Relief, and how our hearts go out to all you folk down there. It will be held at Second Beach on July 21st. Meantime, any donations or help will be received by Mrs. Alsen, Telephone Westminster 1784 L 2.

Vancouver Island Notes

By Mrs. A. L. Wilkie

THE many friends of Gladys McGee will be sorry to hear that she is ill in hospital with pneumonia. I am pleased to report that she is progressing favorably.

A combined effort of the Victoria Gun Dog Club, Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club and the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association, staged a very successful day at Goldstream.

Island dog fanciers welcome Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hinton and son Jeremy, who have recently arrived from England with their lovely English Cocker, Robin, and German Shepherd, Sadie. Mrs. E. C. Lambert, of Sidney, has further arrivals from the Latham Pomeranian Kennels in California.

The Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association held a very successful show on May 6th. Due to the sudden illness of Frank Creasey of Vancouver, Mr. Walter J. Pym did a grand job of judging the entire show, finishing by 10:15 p.m. Mr. A. E. Jolivet's Labrador, Ch. Colmoor Judy, won the lovely Best in Show trophy, an electric mantel clock from an outstanding array of trophies donated by fanciers from the U.S.A. and Canada. Mrs. Ethel Webb, Show Secretary, Mr. Kenneth Rickman, Show Superintendent, Mrs. Elsie Murray, Ring Steward, assisted by Mrs. Gladys McGee, combined to produce a smoothly running show.

Northern Alberta Notes

By G. Wells

ANOTHER month has gone and everyone is planning their summer holidays (and how to get rid of the neighbour's dog that keeps digging in their garden)! Some day the City Fathers in all of Canada will specify that dog owners will have to put a fence around their property before they can have a dog license. It seems the only solution, unless someone finds a way to talk to dogs and explain the situation to them.

Jimmy and Gerry Kilgannon have moved their Redwood Kennels to a new location on the St. Albert Trail. Jimmy has a lot of out-buildings in which to keep dogs, but will need all summer to get them in shape. They will be glad to welcome all visitors, especially if they come prepared to work!

I had a nice card from Cec. and George Aitchison. They lived in Edmonton at one time, but now they are in Ontario. How about bringing a Dobe up for the Fall show?

No local news, this time, but hope the members will write or telephone before time for the next issue, so that we may keep our column going.

Saskatchewan Notes

By Mary Miller

MEMBERS of the Moose Jaw Kennel Club are now all working hard with plans for their shows. They promise bigger and better shows than ever before. Start getting your dogs ready so they will look and act their best. Give them a little ring training every day and get them in top condition in plenty of time, as this is one job that cannot be done over night and does pay dividends in the ring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Heaven, well-known Regina Dachshund breeders, left Regina early in May for a five week motor trip through the States. Their final destination is Florida, but they hope to visit many American kennels enroute and look over some of the famous American Dachshund Champions. Best of luck, Burnie and Joe. Hope to have you back with us soon.

Plans for the Regina Kennel Club Dog Show are well under way, and the Club hopes that there will be a good showing of dogs from all over Canada and the United States. This year's Show will be bigger and better than ever, with three one-day Championship shows.

We are happy to report that Mr. William Semple is home again after undergoing a major operation in a Regina hospital, and is well on the road to recovery.

Mr. J. Perkins was a recent visitor in Regina. Mr. Perkins, who is eighty odd years young, is a noted Airedale breeder from Toronto and made the trip to visit his son, who has been transferred here. While here, Mr. Perkins visited many of the Regina Kennels and made a lot of new friends.

Dr. and Mrs. English and family left Moose Jaw last week, for Winnipeg, where the Government has transferred the Doctor. We wish them all good luck and every success.

Wedding bells rang out in Brandon, Manitoba, on Saturday, April 29th, when R. G. Boughton, President of the Moose Jaw Kennel Club, married Jean Gibbs of that city. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Boughton left by car for their honeymoon in Winnipeg, where they attended the shows. Club members join me in wishing them every happiness.

Don't forget, folks. If you want this column to continue you must send me news.

Manitoba Notes

By Suzanne Borse

THE courage and co-operation shown amongst people here during the flood of the Red River Valley was remarkable. That old Arabian Proverb, "He who has health has hope; and he who has hope has everything," must have been prevailing, for it was this hope that kept up the spirits of both men and women and both did their share to keep those dikes strong enough to battle the threatening torrent of waters.

The flood is over, but there is now the big job of rehabilitation. Mr. C. Tangstad and Mrs. J. Gove gave you a good idea of the tragedy around us. It is impossible for me to mention names, but I have been told that dogs of all breeds—good dogs—even whole litters of puppies—have been lost as a result of exposure to wet and cold. Roy and I are very thankful to be among the fortunate few with no damage done to our property.

In spite of all the losses and grief, dogdom must carry on. I hear Freddy Schultz has two new dogs which he acquired lately and might have reason to advertise. Dr. J. L. Anderson and family have taken up their summer residence at Victoria Beach once again.

Mr. H. H. Allen has been doing a nice little share of judging around the U.S.A. He recently returned from Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

I am taking the liberty on behalf of Manitoba to say "Thank you" to Mrs. Alva McColl, the Canadian Kennel Club and members, for extending their sympathy and for the very kind offer of help.

P.S.: Manitoba—Let's show our Editor that we can support our magazine.

Notes from the Province of Quebec

By Pamela B. Mack

WELL, members, it looks as if the shows in this district are over for the time being. Hope you all did well with your dogs and that the winners will go on to more shows and glory. Hope the losers will try again and have better luck the next time.

The three shows at Ottawa and Hull were well attended by Quebec members who came in for some of the major awards.

Am sorry to hear from Mr. Blatch, our hard-working Provincial Committee representative in Hull, that his wife has been seriously ill in the hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery, and send our best wishes for her complete return to good health.

As usual, the two Quebec shows on May 27th and 28th were most enjoyable. About 150 dogs were entered at the largest show yet held by this Club. Everyone, including the dogs, had a good time in the old Capital and were made more than welcome by the members of the Quebec Kennel Club.

The Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada show held in Montreal was very successful, as in the past, with over three hundred and fifty entries, and forty in Obedience. Five top judges were kept on their toes marking the large entry and the competition was very keen. Am glad to be able to report that from the proceeds of the Montreal show three "Seeing Eye" guide dogs will be donated to blind residents of this province. I understand one will be a blind war veteran. We all wish them good luck with their new "eyes" and continued success to the Ladies' Kennel Club in this worthwhile work.

CLUB NOTES

Halifax Kennel Club

By Barbara J. Edwards

ON May 24th, The Atlantic Beagle Club and the Eastern Cocker Spaniel Club combined forced to hold what has been acclaimed by many as the best Sanction Show ever held in the Maritimes. At any rate, it was certainly the largest, having an entry of eighty-three dogs. The judging was carried on by four judges in two specially-floored rings.

Mr. W. T. (Dinty) Moore, the Maritime Director of the Canadian Kennel Club, officially opened the show, which moved smoothly from start to finish due to the capable engineering of the Committees of the two clubs. The apparent improvement in the quality of Maritime show stock during the past few years was gratifying, indeed, to dog fanciers in attendance.

In "Champions on Parade", one interesting feature of the show, twelve canine "blue bloods" strutted before a most appreciative audience. At one time, there were in the ring in consecutive order three generations of Champion American Cockers, and the audience found Mr. S. G. Ritchie's running commentary very informative. (We in the Maritimes have found audiences particularly appreciative of our Champions on Parade, which has become a regular feature of most of our Point Shows, especially the Halifax Show.)

The Labrador Retriever Association of Ontario

By Jeanne White

NOW that the hustle and bustle of our Spring Specialty Show is over, it appears that our Association should settle down to a nice quiet normal routine. But—such is not to be! Plans are now under way for Field Trial training for our members by competent instructors, and the Post Office Department and telephone companies are reaping large profits from our frantic endeavours. The May meeting of the Association was held on Sunday, May 28th, 1950, at the Streetsville Gun Dog School. Bob, ably assisted by Bill Price, a Charter Member of the Association, gave a splendid demonstration of Labradors retrieving on land and water, and both were most generous with their helpful tips and suggestions towards training. After the demonstration, a delightful supper was served by Mrs. Blyth, assisted by Robert, Jr. Actually, a Labrador Retriever needs very little training. Perhaps a personal happening may strengthen this statement. Upon moving to our present address, the Whites took over not only a house and lot but a flock of chickens. Unfortunately, the wire enclosing the chicken run was none too secure, and it was a common occurrence to see the writer, with a broken ankle, hobbling along like long John Silver chasing chickens across the length and breadth of York Mills. However, our favourite Labrador evidently felt that he should assist. With no poultry training whatsoever he marched boldly out, retrieved a fat hen and, despite her loud protestations and frantic pecking, deposited her safe and sound and without a ruffled feather in the chicken run. Being rewarded with a pat on the head he set to work and retrieved the entire flock. Now, poultry husbandry in our district is no problem!

We would like to congratulate Charter Member Jack M. Crabb of Simcoe, Ontario, for his splendid wins at the Guelph Show. Such wins as this show that Labradors are not only the top Field Dog, but are also proving their worth on the bench in competition with the more attractive, and shall we say "prettier", members of the Sporting Group.

The June Meeting of the Association will take the form of a mock Field Trial at the country home of members Mr.

Collie and Shetland Sheep Dog Club of Canada

By Bill Clark

The monthly and final meeting for this year was held on June 8th and a very interesting evening it turned out to be. The highlight was the adoption of the new constitution which will become effective for 1950-51.

The report of the Specialty Show proved that it was a great success, and Mr. Ormston W. Roy, Dean of the American Collie, came through with a very commendable job of judging.

An interesting note was the fact that many of the old timers stated this show provided most of the top quality Collies that they had ever seen at a Specialty Show.

Another interesting note was the fact that fifty percent of the entries were from the United States, with Mary Beresford's, American Champion Popular Program, going from Winners Dog to Best of Breed.

The Shelties, also, had a very nice turn out with Quarrybrae Kennels taking Best of Breed with Little Laurie.

The success of this show was unquestionably the result of great effort on the part of our esteemed President and wife; our Vice-President, Mrs. Laura Getty, Mr. Powell, Mr. Bill Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Hewson, Mr. Ross Chapman, Mr. Dave Otis and our good friends from Ottawa, Alma Harwood and Dorothy Pranschke. Mrs. Harwood completed the successful day with a very competent job of judging the men's and women's handling class. — It will be a show long remembered by all!

The program for the summer has not been completed as yet, but it is anticipated that a Strawberry Festival will be held within the next month at the residence of one of our members, and an invitation has been received from Malen O. Wilkins of Jarvis, Ont., for all members to attend a corn roast and some cream and sugar servers from the puppy match in September at his lovely farm. More details on these items in the next issue.

It is interesting to note the wins that are continually coming forward from a lot of our new members and breeders and the success that the Collie is holding throughout the shows in the past year. Quarrybrae's Farm Parader has had two Best in Show; Bonnacres Pickwick has had one Best in Show. Glen Hardie Kennels' puppy, Victory, has had great success in going Best of Breed and Best Canadian Bred puppy in show at Port Colborne. The Purdons are very happy people as their Allandale Lea went Winners Bitch. Mrs. MacBride is a very happy young lady these days, as after a string of very nice wins her ten month old female Brae-Doon After The Storm, has completed her championship in grand style.

Time and space does not permit the mention of each and every individual or their dogs which have helped make the show season which is now coming to a close, a tremendous success. Our American friends have contributed a great deal to the success of these shows and we have had visitors and club members coming from all parts of Ontario and the United States.

This is my first time in writing, and your criticism and suggestions will be gladly received and accepted. Let us have your comments and your views.

The Toronto Doberman Pinscher Club

By Nellie Potter

THE members of the Club met on Monday, May 29th, at Mrs. C. Watson's home on Jarvis Street to honour a new member made eligible by her marriage to Mr. Fred. Jackson. Business was cut to a minimum to permit members to become acquainted with the bride. The Secretary of the Club presented the happy couple with handmembers and extended all Best Wishes on behalf of the President, Mr. R. Thornton, who was unavoidably absent.

Other recent changes in the Club's affairs include the election of Mr. W. Buckner as Vice-President, replacing Mr. H. D. Howe.

The Club members have three new Champions, this year: Champion Trinka von Edelwesen, owned by Miss Joy Wright; Prince von Lisaschloss, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Les. Thompson, and La Rose's Camdau von Rosecourt, owned by Mrs. E. Lawton.

The Club's Secretary, Miss N. A. Potter, will be glad to hear from Doberman owners in the province, and to help with any member contacts required.

From Morris and Essex comes the good news that the Cairn Terrier, "Kindon Saucy Sue" placed Fourth in the Terrier Group, an exceptional win for the Cairn Terrier breed, and we are proud of the fact that it was a Canadian bred which scored so highly. The owner, Mrs. G. W. Hyslop, had a Field Day in Cairn Terriers, winning not only Best of Breed with International Champion "Kindon Saucy Sue," but Best of Opposite Sex with "International Champion Imp's Rascal of Cairndania," and Best of Winners with "International Champion Imp's Toearly of Cairndania" and Reserve Winners Dogs with a puppy "Kiltie's Foxglove of Cairndania." In Great Danes, "Lettie of Cairndania" won the Brindle class and "Lady Michelle" won Second Open. These are the only Canadian winners recorded so far from the Morris and Essex.

The Manitoba flood has receded and the breeders are returning to their homes. It was nice to hear that Mrs. Suzanne Borse has returned home without any serious after effects occurring from her enforced stay in a one room cabin with her daughter and twenty-three dogs. There was still ice and snow on the lake where the cabin was located; it rained incessantly and the two women were kept busy chopping wood to feed the little rusty stove which was their only means of heat.

Pure bred dogs played a prominent part in securing donations for the Flood Relief Fund. Hugh Crozier, of Winnipeg, donated a Labrador puppy named "Crozier's Diker" and a large amount was added to the coffers when the puppy was auctioned off over the radio network. Mr. Crozier gave shelter to sixty dogs and some cats, so doing his part to help in the good cause.

Congratulations to Will Judy, Editor of "Dog World" of Chicago, on the publication of his June issue. It is the largest to date, 196 pages. There were 54,500 copies printed at a cost of $29,-300. When Gordon Sinclair made the announcement of the winner of the "Share the Wealth" contest, of which we wrote last month, he was quite perturbed that the Dachshund did not stand higher in the rating. In order to show the popularity of various breeds across Canada, the following is the standing as given at the close of the contest: Cocker Spaniel, Collie, Boston Terrier, Boxer, Great Dane, Springer Spaniel, Labrador Retriever, German Shepherd, Dachshund.

CHAMPION LIBBEAR DALMALLY, C.D., C.D.X. (Welsh Corgi, Pembroke). C.K.C.S.B. 182671. Sire: Ch. Libbear Bowhit Porgie (Imp.). Dam: Bowhit Bossie (Imp.). Believed to be the first Welsh Corgi, female, to complete such high Obedience honours. Her puppies, also, win in the show ring and Obedience Trials.

The Spring issue of Gaines Dog Research Progress bulletin is brought forcibly to one's attention by the lovely aroma of violets which greets one as they open the envelope. Whether the ink is scented, or the paper, we do not know, but the scent and colour of violets used in this issue make a unique combination for a dog publication. "What We Don't Know About Distemper", by Dr. James A. Baker, also other articles, make this publication well worth reading. Anyone wishing a copy may have it free of charge by writing to Gaines Dog Research Center, 330 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

The breeding and registration of pure bred dogs reached a new high in the American Kennel Club for the period ending May 31st, 1950. The total transactions — i.e. — individual registrations, litter registrations and transfers, number 182,000, against 176,000 a year ago. There is also an increase of 46 shows in the first half of this year. The total number of events scheduled to date for this year is 76 more than last year, with a gain in the number of dogs attending dog shows. These figures augur well for the future of pure bred dogs. In the Canadian Kennel Club, there is an increase of 20% in the number of shows held for the first five months of this year.

The following from A. W. Brockaway of Chicago, who judged several of the breeds and groups at the recent Guelph Kennel Club Show held in that city on May 24th, is worthy of mention in our columns. His letter says in part. . .

. . . First of all I must pay a great compliment to the wonderful building in which the show was held. As far as I know, there is nothing to compare with it in the States, other than the International building here in Chicago. The idea of the "Bull pen" where the next class was waiting to be judged, and the loud speaker system which was heard only in the room where the dogs were benched, were perfect, and surely aided in the smooth running of the show.

The various breed representatives which appeared in the Groups were all of excellent quality, nice type and sound movers, as were also many of the class dogs. In fact, a lot of them could give a good account of themselves in any company.

I found as I have always found in my Canadian engagements, the finest sportsmanship. As always, I was happy from start to finish in judging this show. The officers and members were extremely hospitable and courteous; my stewards were most efficient, and in my estimation all are a very fine bunch, indeed.

Mrs. C. E. Hall, of Sardis, B.C., sent in some good advice for those who ship dogs on short or long railroad journeys. It is the shipper who is to blame, in many cases, for neglecting to attach a cheap but useful can opener to the dog's crate, according to a railroader with more than forty years' experience. Few baggagemen carry this necessary tool to open the many cans of food which are sent with the dog, and it is not always convenient to delay the train's movement from a station while frantic efforts are made to open the cans, so the dog's meals are sometimes neglected.

MARCH 30th, 1950

1554. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors reconvened in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Thursday, March 30th, 1950, commencing at 2.00 P.M. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included: W. W. Williams, Mrs. G. O. Alsen, C. G. Biggar, Paddy Boughs, Mrs. Ellen Brown, J. J. Farmer, Mrs. Pamela Mack, T. B. McRae, W. P. Moore, W. W. Pratt, Mrs. Pat Randall, and C. S. Spratt. The President reported that Vice-President Riedel found it necessary to return to Kitchener.

1555 (1552-1556). RE-ORGANIZATION AND IDENTIFICATION

DISCUSSION: At the invitation of the Board Mr. A. H. Loveridge, C.K.C. Representative, entered the meeting. Mr. Loveridge was asked whether he had any further suggestions or thoughts on the matter of revenue and expenditures in connection with the handling of the work re show and trials, and where economies could be effected. Mr. Loveridge explained that the calculations already given to the Board resulted from discussions which he had with the Secretary after receiving the President's request that he review the matter for the Board's consideration. Director Farmer asked whether anything could be done by Show Secretaries to lessen the work required in the recording and reporting of show and trial wins. Mr. Loveridge stated that show secretaries might prevent the necessity of cancellations if, as far as possible, they checked the eligibility of dogs entering the various classes, and, as an example, suggested that show secretaries check the ages of dogs entered in the puppy classes.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Directors Mrs. Mack, seconded by Director Biggar:

"THAT, Mr. Loveridge and the Secretary further consider this matter and present to the Board any further suggestions they may consider worthy of the Board's consideration, particularly in respect to effecting economies in the handling of this work." Motion carried.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Director Mrs. Brown:

"THAT, Mr. Loveridge be thanked for the information and suggestions which he has placed before this Board." Motion carried.

1556. MINUTES OF ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

SUBJECT: The Secretary asked whether or not the Board wished the minutes of the annual general meeting published verbatim, or a resume published as was done last year for purposes of economy.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Director Mrs. Brown:

"THAT, every member of the Board be provided with a verbatim copy of the minutes of the annual general meeting and a resume prepared by the Secretary, and each member of the Board either approve the resume or submit suggestions regarding changes, additions or deletions." Motion carried.

1557 (1547). DATES, JUDGES, SHOW AND TRIAL MATTERS

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a telegram from the Secretary of The Cocker Spaniel Specialty Club of Western Canada stating that the application for membership of its President had been forwarded by airmail, and that the membership fee of the Vice-President had been paid "a week ago." The Secretary tabled the application for membership of the President of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Western Canada which had been received on March 30th, but reported that no information had been received from the Records office regarding payment of the renewal of membership fee of the Vice-President of that Club.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Director Boughs:

"THAT, we adhere to our telegraphic message to the Cocker Spaniel Specialty Club of Western Canada dated March 27th." Motion carried unanimously.

DISCUSSION: Director Biggar suggested that the Secretary be given the power to approve a change of date for either of the shows to be held on May 1st and May 3rd, so that the shows would be held on consecutive dates.

ACTION: Director Biggar's suggestion was endorsed.

DISCUSSION: The President expressed the view that while the Board must not shirk any responsibility in connection with the Club's official magazine, nevertheless the Editor should have full control and responsibility for the publication except for the official business of the Club published in the magazine.

1567 (1534). NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP RETRIEVER STAKE

DISCUSSION: Second Vice-President Williams stated that the set up contemplated by the National Retriever Club (Canada) Ltd. was the same as that prevailing in the United States, that the Club was composed of active participants in Retriever trials, that its officers were responsible for successful trials that had been staged in B.C., and he saw no reason why any application submitted by that Club should not be approved providing all requirements of the field trial rules are complied with. Director Pratt stated that no one province should be permitted to monopolize the staging of this stake.

SUBJECT: The Secretary referred to a letter received from Mrs. C. de P. Doniphan, Boucherville, Que., in which Mrs. Doniphan pointed out that the absence of up to date stud books represented a real hardship to breeders desirous of keeping in touch with pedigrees of winning and imported dogs, and in planning their breeding programme with an aim to producing better dogs. Mrs. Doniphan suggested that a portion of DOGS IN CANADA be devoted to publication of material normally appearing in the Stud Books.

ACTION: The matter was left over for further consideration.

1572 (1267). MEETINGS OF THE BOARD

ACTION: The matter was left over for further consideration.

MAY 2ND, 1950

1575. The meeting of the Board of Directors which adjourned on March 30th, to reconvene at the call of the President, reconvened at 7.00 P.M. on May 2nd, 1950, in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included Douglas Riedel, Paddy Boughs, Mrs. Ellen Brown, J. J. Farmer and C. S. Spratt. Also present were Mr. David Fingard and Mr. Peter Smith.

1576 (1559-1555) IDENTIFICATION AND RE-ORGANIZATION

The President reported that he had reconvened the meeting so that the Board could receive and deal with the report of the Committee appointed by the annual general meeting to meet with the Minister of Agriculture for the following purposes:

(1) Clarification of the Club's position in respect to competitive events for pure-bred dogs;

(2) To obtain approval of noseprinting as an alternative method of identification;

(3) To obtain clearance of those applications returned for further identification.

The President reported that he had invited Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith to attend so that they could personally report to the Board on the conference with the Minister of Agriculture which took place on April 17th, the appointment with the Minister having been arranged by Mr. Fingard.

The President, a member of the Committee, reported as follows:

By arrangement within the Committee it was agreed that Mr. Fingard should confer with the Minister on the matters for which the Committee was appointed at the general meeting of the members. When Mr. Smith and I entered the conference it had already been arranged that the Canadian Kennel Club, because of its 60 some years in regulating shows and trials, because these activities are part and parcel of the dog business and because these events are the only recognized proving ground in establishing a value on pure-bred dogs, should carry on as before in connection with competitive events for pure-bred dogs. Now while that very important point was settled, I believe to the satisfaction of the membership generally, nevertheless I believe it should be clearly understood that the idea of a separate organization to deal with such matters did not originate within the Canadian Kennel Club. The Constitution and By-laws adopted at the annual general meeting in 1948 were returned by the Department of Agriculture with advice that before such Constitution and By-laws could receive Ministerial approval all reference to dog shows, field trials, racing and coursing would have to be eliminated. The same Constitution and By-laws (1948) were re-submitted for approval in 1949 but were again returned, unapproved. In a letter to myself dated December 2nd, 1949, the Deputy Minister suggested that the power to deal with such matters should be sought from some other authority. At the first meeting of the 1950 Board the Chief Registration Officer of the Department of Agriculture suggested that we apply to the Secretary of State for Canada for a charter to deal with competitive events for pure-bred dogs. It should be clear then that these developments led to the By-laws which the Board presented at the last annual general meeting and also their plan for a new organization to deal with dog shows, trials, etc.

The next important item of discussion was identification. Much to my amazement the Minister stated that the Director of Live Stock Records was responsible for the return of applications to breeders for further identification. I said that in all my years on the Board it was my experience and understanding that the Live Stock Records was the agent of this Club in the processing of certificates and the keeping of breeding records of pure-bred dogs and as such was governed by the Constitution of our Club and was therefore in no position to regulate policies in respect to identification of dogs. Out of that discussion came an understanding that the Deputy Minister would meet with other officials in the Department and formulate an understanding which would be sent to us in the form of a letter clearly setting forth whose responsibility it was to decide on what is and what is not adequate identification. I checked with the Secretary this afternoon and asked if any such letter had been received. When he indicated that he had not received any letter I felt it was desirable to obtain some direction for this meeting and therefore got in touch with Dr. Taggart, the Deputy Minister, by telephone. Members of the Committee may recall that during our conference with the Minister I expressed the view that the great difficulty is the fact that someone is deciding what is and what is not adequate identification and yet the breeders are without any clearcut definition of identification requirements. I also stated that I believed a plan should be constructed so that breeders would know what they had to do to identify their dogs and so long as they observed the regulations their applications should be processed without anyone saying whether or not the form of identification followed by the breeder is adequate or not. In my conversation with Dr. Taggart this afternoon he agreed that the biggest problem is that there are not any clearly defined rules and regulations that breeders have to adhere to. He said that the only way to get harmony is to have a clear definition of the exact way that identification is to be accepted. He said that we should attempt to clearly set out the requirements in respect to noseprinting, tattooing, colors and markings and send them to his Department. He assured me that they would be attended to immediately for he is very anxious, and I know that we are very anxious, to have the issue settled. Dr. Taggart did not say that you would be tied down to any of the three methods.

He stated that so long as the requirements are clearly stated and the breeder complies with the requirements then the application could not be turned down by anyone in the Department. They know that noseprinting was adopted at the annual meeting, and they expect noseprinting to be included with the methods you will send down to them for approval. He said they have expert investigators investigating noseprinting, and they will have these people available:

"To summarize: The Kennel Club may carry on as before in connection with competitive events for pure-bred dogs. On identification—the procedures and requirements for each method be clearly defined and submitted to the Minister for approval. It was indicated that they would be approved."

The substance of Mr. Fingard's report was as follows:

MR. FINGARD: At Mr. Risewick's suggestion I interviewed the Minister alone at first. I placed before the Minister the wishes of the members in respect to the Canadian Kennel Club continuing to be the governing authority for shows, trials, etc. and also their desire that noseprinting be an approved method of identification. I would say that after 1½ hours discussion with the Minister things were agreed upon in principle only. The Dr. Taggart, the Deputy Minister, and Mr. Young, Chief of Production Services, entered the conference and I reiterated what I had said to the Minister, Mr. Young doubted that applications were being turned back for dogs that had not been tattooed but after Mr. Young and I talked, by telephone with Mr. Hitchman, Director of Live Stock Records, it was clear that applications were being turned back.

I pointed out that noseprinting was not the answer and that tattooing was, of all systems, the least effective and Mr. Gardiner wanted to know why. I repeated what I had said at the annual general meeting to the effect that no system of identification could or would prevent any breeder, so inclined, from giving the wrong name of sire, wrong name of dam or wrong date of birth. At any rate, after discussion it was agreed that noseprinting would be acceptable. Everything had been about settled according to what the members wanted. It was my understanding with the Minister and the other Departmental Officials that we would carry on as we had regarding shows, trials, etc.

Mr. Risewick and Mr. Smith then entered the conference. As the President has informed you, he stated that the Director of Live Stock Records was not in a position to decide for us whether any particular method of identification was practical and effective. Furthermore, the President stated that Mr. Hitchman had no authority, in his opinion, to decide that dogs identified by a method approved by the Minister and the Kennel Club could not be registered when properly identified by that method.

Mr. Gardiner's reply was that Mr. Risewick was correct in his deductions and continued by saying that this entire matter was one that should be taken up with the the breeds association and that this association is the only one empowered to tell Mr. Hitchman what he must and must not do and in brief the matter was out of the Minister's hands. To this latter statement I remarked surely in the name of heaven our 2½ hours here has been wasted and surely it will be if we have to get a meeting called by the breeds association. Mr. Risewick then pointed out that solid colored thoroughbred horses worth many thousands of dollars and upon which millions of dollars are bet, are registered solely with a statement of their color or colors. Therefore Mr. Gardiner agreed that if we wanted noseprinting it was up to us to have noseprinting as a means of identification. As it was 1.30 and lunch time the Deputy Minister suggested that the matter be left with him to work out something that would be satisfactory to all concerned.

I was up to the Kennel Club office the other day and I called Dr. Taggart and I said, "What about these registrations?" and he said, "You have not sent down the by-laws". I said, "Mr. Gardiner agreed that we were going to have what we want". He said, "I did not understand it that way". I said that, "We will come down and bring a court stenographer; that we would have either of these forms of identification. If you want to identify a solid black dog, it is up to you to decide which of the two systems you want. If you want to stamp the tattoo in his ear or noseprinting." That is the way the situation was left and Dr. Taggart said that he was waiting for these by-laws and I tried to get Mr. Brown to send these by-laws. I was going to write a letter thanking them for what had been mutually agreed on. Apparently, however, it is necessary for the Board to decide as to how the amendment on noseprinting shall be presented for approval.

It was my understanding with the Minister that we would leave everything in the 1947 Constitution as it is now, and that we would include noseprinting with the other methods we have already in that Constitution. I understand that it is now just a question as to how your legal advisor feels that you should prepare this for it is my opinion that you, the Board present this amendment in person in order to get it through promptly. When talking to Senator Hayden the other day I told him how difficult it is to get things through with the government. I further told him that I may call for his help on this situation. Senator Hayden very kindly agreed to help us, without any charge for his services, and I would suggest to the Board that since the Senator is leaving Ottawa in a few days, and in fact he is leaving for Europe shortly, we should therefore immediately arrange for a further conference with the Minister and have the Senator with whoever goes to Ottawa to present the Amendment for approval.

The substance of Mr. Smith's report was as follows:

MR. SMITH: The basic points have been covered by the President. The Minister was definitely in accord that tattooing was not the complete answer. He was therefore agreed that if noseprinting was a practical means of identification in the opinion of the Canadian Kennel Club and its members that it should be introduced as an alternative method of identification. Mr. Young at that point interjected that certain breeders, particularly in the west, were demanding that tattooing be enforced. He was referring to field trial Labrador Retriever fanciers. It was the opinion of this Committee that if they wished to tattoo that there was no reason why we should prevent it, and therefore that the three methods of identification should be permitted. Mr. Gardiner was fully in accord with this, and Dr. Taggart asked us to leave it with him and his assistants for a few days when asked specifically for an approximate time before a decision could be expected, we were led to believe that we would receive it within four or five days. We left the Minister and the Deputy Minister with the feeling that within at least one week a favourable report would be received from Ottawa giving us the right to use any of the three alternative methods of identification.

Since Mr. Fingard had to leave immediately to catch the Toronto train and Mr. Risewick and I had time to visit the Live Stock Records Office before our plane left for Toronto, we interviewed Mr. Hitchman after leaving the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Hitchman indicated that the difficulty in adhering the noseprints to the certificate of registration presented a problem but we pointed out that all that was necessary was to staple one noseprint to the certificate and one to the application being retained in the Records Office. I might add that we pointed out to both Mr. Gardiner and Mr. Hitchman that no coding or special files would be necessary as we are not interested in locating, in the Records office files, the nose-print of a particular dog whose identity is entirely unknown. Mr. Hitchman very definitely stated that it was beyond his jurisdiction to decide whether or not any method of identification is acceptable and that the responsibility for the hold-up of pedigrees lay definitely in the hands of the Chief Registration Officer, the Department apparently not being satisfied that "color or colors" was suitable for proper identification.

DISCUSSION: The President pointed out that since no communication had been received following the conference, he had reconvened the Board to receive the report of the Committee and to decide how the matter should now be dealt with. He pointed out that the understanding with the Minister that the Club should carry on its usual activities presented a problem in that the By-laws discussed and adopted at the annual general meeting held on March 29th, 1950, were designed primarily for the Club to operate simply as a registration body, and that all reference to the governing of shows, trials, etc., had been deleted. He pointed out that the matter had been discussed with the Club's solicitor, and the President then read Mr. Wilkinson's letter to the Secretary dated May 1st, the letter reading as follows:

"I have discussed with you at some length the question of the proposed amendments to the Constitution and by-laws of the Kennel Club and I agree with you that the matter has now reached a stage where it should be fully discussed by your Board of Directors.

"As I understand the situation, it was firmly indicated to the Club by the officials of the Department of Agriculture that the Club's activities in connection with Dog Shows must be completely divorced from its other activities, and with this situation in mind the matter was presented to your last general meeting for consideration by the members.

"After considerable discussion certain amendments to your by-laws were passed and a committee of individuals was named to attend at Ottawa to interview the Minister of Agriculture, if possible, to endeavour to work out a programme.

"Following the Annual Meeting, this committee attended in Ottawa and interviewed the Minister with the result that it now appears that he has no objection to the Club carrying on all its activities as before and that he does not require that the Club cease to be interested in the conduct of dog shows.

"The problem that now presents itself is whether the Board of Directors is required to submit the amendments passed at the Annual Meeting to the Minister of Agriculture for his approval.

"I see nothing to require that those amendments be submitted for approval within any particular time, but difficulty arises in that the Board of Directors, if it carries out the apparent intention of the Annual Meeting, would now present them for approval.

"The Directors are now aware of the position of the Minister as expressed to the members of your committee who attended on him, and they are aware that that position of the Minister was not known at the time of the Annual Meeting and was not presented to the members.

"It is highly probable that had the circumstances as they are now known, been presented to the Annual Meeting, the amendments in question would never have been passed in their present form.

"However, it is not for the Board of Directors to attempt to decide what the members in general meeting would have done, but the Directors are bound to act reasonably and intelligently and if it is their considered view entirely aside from any personal feelings of their own that the Annual Meeting would have acted in a different manner had knowledge of the present circumstances been made available to them, in my judgment the Directors are bound to decide whether they should put the amendments forward for approval now or withhold them until the whole matter can be reconsidered by a general meeting.

"Technically, of course, a general meeting should be held, but it is such a difficult and expensive proceeding to call a special general meeting that the Directors must make a careful decision.

"A suggestion might be that the Directors withhold applying for approval of the proposed amendments and that their reasons therefore be explained by publication in "Dogs In Canada". That explanation might very well invite comments by the members as to the Directors' proposed action and on the basis of the number of comments received and their nature the Directors could then decide future action.

"The alternative to this proposal would seem to be the submission of the amendments for approval. It may be, of course, that approval would be withheld, but if it be granted the Club could then proceed as heretofore but it will have sacrificed many of its disciplinary powers, particularly with respect to non-members. As a suggestion, the Department might be informed that the next Annual Meeting would be asked to consider further amendments relating to the objects and powers of the Club, and concerning disciplinary powers connected with objects now specifically authorized."

The question of the amendments respecting nose printing might, in my judgment, be dealt with entirely separately even if the directors decided not to submit for approval the general amendments at this time. I think there is nothing to prevent the amendment respecting nose printing being segregated and being submitted for approval. The question as to whether approval would be granted or withheld would seem to be on an entirely different basis than any question arising out of the remaining amendments. This matter it seems to me, should be dealt with separately as it has to do only with identification and has nothing whatsoever to do with the Constitution of the Club.

It seems to me that the problem facing the Directors is to decide whether the proposed amendments be submitted for approval at this time or, there being no time specified in which they should be submitted for approval, whether they should withhold the application at this time, particularly in view of the creation of a situation which did not exist or which was not apparent at the time the matter was considered by the members.

If the application is to be withheld the directors should consider whether or not a special meeting should be called or whether an explanatory note should be published with a request for comments by members."

The President expressed the view that the discussion with the Minister and other officials of the Department would be finalized if nose-printing were added to the Constitution presently in effect. Mr. Fingard suggested that the by-laws adopted at the last annual general meeting be submitted with a covering letter. The Secretary pointed out that at the 1948 annual general meeting the members had adopted a Constitution and by-laws, that these were the Constitution and by-laws, that these were the Constitution and by-laws returned, without approval, in 1948 and again in 1949, and suggesed that the Board consider the advisability of submitting that Constitution and By-laws on the understanding that the Committee going to Ottawa arrange for any necessary changes to bring them into line with the new Live Stock Pedigree Act and also arrange for the addition of nose-printing as adopted at the 1950 annual general meeting. At this point discussion took place as to whether the work of the Committee, appointed at the annual general meeting, should be considered complete. The President expressed the view that the functions of the Committee were not complete. Director Farmer expressed the opinion that the reports of the members of the Committee appeared to indicate that an understanding, in principle, had been reached on the two major points referred to the Committee, and that clearing up the details involved could be left to the Board.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Spratt, seconded by Vice-President Riedel:

"THAT, owing to the fact that the members of the Committee have more valuable information than the rest of the Board, that they continue to assist this Board in bringing these matters to a satisfactory conclusion."

For the motion: Mr. Riedel, Mr. Boughs, Mrs. Brown, Mr. Spratt.

Against: Mr. Farmer. Motion carried.

DISCUSSION: Following discussion it was agreed that a committee should be appointed to interview the Minister, if possible, so that the earlier understandings reported by the Committee could be finalized.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Vice-President Riedel, seconded by Director Spratt:

"THAT, the Committee be composed of Mr. Farmer, Mr. Fingard and the Secretary, and the Committee have power to add to the Committee." Motion carried.

DISCUSSION: Following further discussion it was agreed that:

(1) The Committee would proceed to Ottawa, and after preliminary discussion within the Committee, should:
(a) Present for Ministerial approval the amendment in respect to the addition of nose-printing to the two methods outlined in the Constitution presently in effect; or,
(b) Present for Ministerial approval the Constitution and By-laws adopted at the 1948 Annual General Meeting subject to such changes as may be necessary to conform to the Live Stock Pedigree Act, 1949, and with the addition of nose-printing as a method of identification; or,
(c) Present for Ministerial approval the By-laws adopted at the 1950 Annual General Meeting with the addition of such sections (including nose-printing as a method of identification) consistent with the understanding reached with the Minister on April 17th, 1950.

(2) The section on nose-printing read as follows:
(c) NOSE-PRINTS: The breeder or owner will be required to provide nose-prints in accordance with instructions appearing in the addenda of these By-laws."

(3) Color or Colors be deleted as a method of identification if considered advisable;

(4) In order to comply with the suggestion that the requirements for each method be clearly outlined for the guidance of breeders and owners, the regulations re tattooing and nose-printing, as drafted by the Secretary, be approved.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Vice-President Riedel, seconded by Director Spratt:

"THAT, the Committee appointed at this meeting await upon the Minister of Agriculture in an effort to finalize by-laws and regulations which the Club can proceed under." Motion carried.

1577 (1563). SHOW AND TRIAL MATTERS

REPORT: The President reported that Mr. Loveridge, C.K.C. Representative, had asked for an opportunity to speak to the Board, and he had therefore suggested that Mr. Loveridge appear before the Board at this meeting. Mr. Loveridge entered the meeting, and was invited to indicate why he had sought an audience with the Board.

Mr. Loveridge stated that he was not unaware of the financial problems facing the Club, and he felt that as a measure of economy and to save labour in the office, the Board might consider his recommendation to the effect that show reports published in DOGS IN CANADA include only Reserve Winners and higher awards. He reported that he had already dispensed with the services of one typist and that by cutting down the reports as he had suggested, he would likely find it possible to carry on with the present staff. He estimated that approximately $3,000 a year would be saved by the abbreviated show report and smaller staff handling the show and trial records and reports. He further suggested that in order to be reasonably sure that the present trained staff would remain as employees a small increase in salary should be accorded them which he felt would be an encouragement to them to handle the extra work that would be required of them because of the smaller staff.

RESOLUTIONS: It was regularly moved by Vice-President Riedel, seconded by Director Spratt:

"THAT, as from this date all show reports prepared for publication in DOGS IN CANADA report only Reserve Winners awards up to Best in Show." Motion carried.

It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Director Boughs:

"THAT, the salary of Miss B. Knowles be increased $3.00 per week, and the salary of Mrs. R. Wallis be increased $2.00 per week." Motion carried.

SUBJECT: Director Farmer enquired whether Mrs. Helen Lovett, Carp, Ont., had sought any guidance on the eligibility for entry, at championship shows, of dogs that had been kenneled on premises on which there existed distemper.

The Secretary reported that on April 14th Mrs. Lovett had been mailed a copy of the Dog Show Rules, and had been referred to the provisions of Chapter 16, Section 13 of the Rules.

SUBJECT: Director Farmer referred to the Board's earlier discussions regarding charges for work done in the office in respect to the recording of show and trial awards, and enquired whether the Board contemplated taking some action to implement any of the proposed charges, considered by the Board at its annual meeting, so as to offset the costs in that connection.

DISCUSSION: The Board discussed the advisability of setting a recording fee on all dogs entered at championship shows and licensed trials.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Spratt, seconded by Director Farmer:

"THAT, commencing to-morrow a recording fee of 50c (exclusive of listing fee but inclusive of the recording fee referred to in Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules), per dog entered at a championship show or licensed trial be charged, such fees to be forwarded to the Canadian Kennel Club within 48 hours after the show or trial."

For the motion: Directors Boughs, Farmer and Spratt.

Against: Vice-President Riedel, Director Mrs. Brown. Motion carried.

(Vice-President Riedel stated that he had voted against the motion because of inadequate warning to clubs whose premium lists had already been distributed. Director Mrs. Brown stated that she had voted against the motion for she felt that the 50c charge should include the listing fee).

ACTION: The Board dictated a telegraphic message to clubs holding shows and trials in the near future.

DISCUSSION: The Board discussed other possible sources of revenue in connection with shows and trials.

ACTION: Following discussion it was agreed that:

(a) For each sanction show or sanction trial date approved in future a non-refundable date fee of $15.00 would be payable by the club or association applying for permission to stage a sanction show or trial;

(b) A charge of $2.00 would be payable for each championship certificate, issued in the future, although no charge would be imposed for the confirmation of championship notice;

(c) A fee of $1.00 would be collected in connection with each request for information in respect to championship points earned by a dog, each request for list of wins earned by a dog, or a request for a copy of the pedigree of a dog.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from Mrs. Elsie Barnes, Toronto, pointing out that the Pekingese ALDERBOURNE CREAM PUFF, owned by Mrs. May Bresser, Cedar Lake, Ind., had been exhibited in Canada, as a listed dog, at more than three shows.

DISCUSSION: The Secretary reported that Mrs. Bresser had been in touch with the office, before the show at which this dog had appeared as a listed dog, seeking information on our registration requirements, and that he had, in accordance with Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules, granted permission for this dog to be exhibited as a listed dog at the Windsor Kennel Club show held on April 16th pending the registration of this dog in the records of the Club.

ACTION: No action was taken.

1580 (1560). FINANCIAL MATTERS

REPORT: The Secretary reported that fees received at the Live Stock Records office up to the end of April totalled $19,807.76 as compared with $26,024.39 in 1949, and because of this substantial drop in revenue there was not sufficient funds available to meet current expenditures.

DISCUSSION: The Board reviewed accounts payable, and agreed that $3,000.00 should be sufficient to meet immediate requirements.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Spratt, seconded by Vice-President Riedel:

"THAT, the loan obtained from the Bank of Montreal be increased by $3,000, and bonds be posted as collateral. Motion carried.

1582. ADJOURNMENT

After discussion the Board agreed that this meeting of the Board should adjourn to reconvene at the call of the President should further development in respect to identification indicate to the President that the Board should meet again before the regular meeting of the Board in June.

At 11.50 p.m. on motion regularly moved by Director Spratt, duly seconded and carried, this meeting of the Board adjourned to reconvene at the call of the President if he considered that to be advisable.

MAY 10th, 1950

1583. The meeting of the Board of Directors which adjourned on May 2nd, 1950, reconvened in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, on May 10th, 1950, commencing at 7.00 p.m. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included Douglas Riedel, Mrs. Ellen Brown and C. S. Spratt.

The President reported that the Club's solicitor, Mr. Frank Wilkinson, K.C., was present at his request, as was also Mr. David Fingard and Mr. Peter Smith.

The President reported that he had reconvened the meeting so that the Board could deal with the report of the committee (composed of Director Farmer, Mr. David Fingard and the Secretary) which met with the Minister of Agriculture and Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa on May 4th, and to deal with other matters requiring the Board's attention.

1584 (1576). IDENTIFICATION AND RE-ORGANIZATION

REPORT: The Secretary read the following report of the committee which met with the Minister of Agriculture and Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa on May 4th:

(Note: This report was included in the President's message on identification as published in the June issue of DOGS IN CANADA).

The Secretary read copy of a letter, dated April 25th, which Mr. J. W. Graham, Chief of Production Services (Live Stock and Poultry Division, Department of Agriculture) addressed to Mr. W. S. McMullen, District Live Stock Fieldman (Toronto office of Department of Agriculture) regarding further tests and experiments on the tattoo marking of dogs.

DISCUSSION: The matter of identification was then thoroughly discussed as to the proper procedure to adopt so as to ensure a proper and satisfactory solution to the present problem facing those who do not wish to tattoo mark dogs for registration and identification purposes. It appeared to the Board that the Minister was of the opinion that one method of identification be adopted, and if his Department, including himself, was satisfied that nose printing was a proper means of identification, he would then accordingly grant his approval.

Mr. Fingard expressed the view that the mipister's reference to one method was intended as a cue to the course of action to take so that there could be no further misunderstanding as to how dogs must be identified for regstration purposes. He stated that he had drawn the Minister's attention to Mr. Graham's letter to Mr. McMullin.

The matter was discussed at length in view of the fact that the By-laws of the Club now provide for two other methods of identification. It was the unanimous feeling of the meeting that nose printing would be of far greater value than either of the other means of identification, and it was unanimously agreed that it was the sense of the annual meeting that nose printing should be adopted at all costs as a means of identification. It was decided therefore that if the only means of securing nose printing for identification purposes was by providing that it should be the sole method then the necessary steps should be taken.

It was also considered that the resolution, passed at the last annual general meeting of the Club, as follows:

"THAT the Board of Directors be empowered, as a result of any negotiations which they may have with the Departmental officials, to take such action as the Board sees fit in the event that any Article does not meet with Departmental approval, and the Board in preparing these have the power to re-number or re-word paragraphs so long as it does not change the principle as we have adopted it to-day."
empowered the Directors to adopt nose printing as the sole method of identification, and that such procedure would not offend any principle of the motion adopted by the annual meeting.

RESOLUTION: Accordingly it was moved by Director Spratt, seconded by Director Mrs. Brown:

"THAT, identification by tattoo markings and identification by color or colors be abandoned as identification requirements for registration, and that nose-printing be adopted as the sole method of identification for registration and oher purposes of the Club; and that Article 24, IDENTIFICATION, of the Constitution of the Club be amended by deleting clauses 1 and 2, and substituting therefor the following:

"A breeder or owner, in order to identify his or her dog or dogs, shall use the method known as nose-printing, and in so doing shall be governed by regulations and rules adopted by the Board of Directors from time to time."

Unanimously carried.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to:

(a) Submit the amendment adopted by the Board of Directors to the Minister of Agriculture at the earliest possible date;

(b) Provide members of the Board not present with a copy of the Committee's report, and inform them of the action taken by the Board of Directors;

(c) Inform Senator Salter Hayden of the Board's appreciation of the assistance which he rendered when the Committee met with the Minister and Deputy Minister on May 4th.

Mr. Wilkinson, Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith left the meeting.

1585 (1577). CHARGES IN CONNECTION WITH SHOWS AND TRIALS

REPORT: The Secretary reviewed telegrams and letters received from show-giving clubs following their being notified, by wire, of the recording fee of 50c per dog set by the Board of Directors when it met on May 2nd.

ACTION: At the suggestion of the President the matter was referred to the Club's solicitor for his opinion as whether the Board had the power to assess such charges in connection with shows and trials.

SUBJECT The Secretary asked whether or not the 50c recording fee set by the Board was inclusive of the 25c recording fee referred to in Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules.

ACTION: The Board agreed that the 50c recording fee was inclusive of the 25c recording fee referred to in Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to:

(a) Seek the opinion of the Club's solicitor as to whether the Board has the power to postpone the date on which this amendment may come into effect, or was it obliged to place the rule into effect immediately and follow its provisions implicitly;

At 10.40 p.m. on motion by Vice-President Riedel, duly seconded and carried this meeting of the Board adjourned to reconvene in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario, on Wednesday, May 17th, 1950, commencing at 3.00 p.m.

MAY 17th, 1950

1592. The meeting of the Board of Directors which adjourned on May 10th, 1950, reconvened in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge St., Toronto, at 7.00 p.m. (the meeting having been postponed from 3.00 p.m. in order that members of the Board and staff could attend funeral services of the late Hon. Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland, Honorary President and Past President of the Club). The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included Douglas Riedel, Mrs. Ellen Brown and C. S. Spratt.

Vice-President Riedel expressed the view that some provision should appear in the Club's Constitution giving the Board the power to require the resignation of any member of the Board, resident in Ontario, who, for any reason except illness, consistently fails to attend meetings of the Board.

It was agreed that when any member of the Board residing in Ontario finds that he or she cannot be present, the Secretary should be notified as far in advance as possible so that other members of the Board may be advised, if necessary, that there will not be a quorum to carry on the business of the Club.

The Secretary was directed to enquire of Director T. B. McRae whether there is any change in his position that prevents him from attending meetings of the Board, to state that the Board feels tha it is his duty to attend meetings of the Board and that if it is not convenient for him to attend Board meetings the Board would appreciate having that information.

1595 (1584). IDENTIFICATION

REPORT: The Secretary reported that on May 12th application had been submitted to the Minister of Agriculture for approval of noseprinting as the sole method of identification, this in accordance with instructions given at the meeting of the Board held on May 10th. The Secretary read a letter from Director Mrs. Randall protesting the adoption of noseprinting as the sole means of identification. Mrs. Randall pointed out that many breeders had gone to the expense of purchasing tattooing equipment and suggested thet the two methods (noseprinting and tattooing) should be available.

DISCUSSION: The President suggested that a full report be made to the members in the next issue of DOGS IN CANADA on the standing of the identification situation up to the time the magaznie goes to press.

ACTION: The Board endorsed the President's suggestion and directed the Secretary to instruct the Editor to hold printing and distribution of the June issue so that a message from the President on this subject could be included in the issue.

1597. LETTER FROM A. G. SEABROOK

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from A. G. Seabrook, Regina, Sask., to which was attached copy of article, published in New Liberty magazine, entitled "Beware of the Dog" by Dr. Paul H. Fluck, also copy of an answer to this article, published in the Cocker Spaniel Visitor, by Bart King. Mr. Seabrook suggested that Dr. Fluck's article should not go unanswered, and that if it remained unanswered "untold injury to our organization will result."

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to inform Mr. Seabrook that efforts would be made to obtain information about the identity of the author of the article, and that if considered advisable, an answer would be sent to the publication in which the article appeared.

1598. LETTER FROM W. S. K. CHANT

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from W. S. K. Chant, Toronto, who expressed the view that present dog show procedures did not permit of an exhibitor learning why placements are made by presiding judges nor do they allow of an exhibitor ascertaining the good points or faults of a dog which he may exhibit. Mr. Chant suggested that dogs should be judged on points according to the scale of points set out in the standard of the breed and submitted a draft layout of a page for a judge's book which could be used under such an arrangement.

DISCUSSION: In discussing Mr. Chant's suggestion the Board agreed that it had no authority to enact any new procedures of judging at dog shows for such procedures are as outlined in the Dog Show Rules as adopted by members at general meetings.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to convey to Mr. Chant the Board's appreciation of the time and effort indicated by his letter and enclosures, and to point out that until such time as members at a general meeting, amend the rules relating to procedures at dog shows, the Board had no authority to place in effect the method which he suggests in his communication. The Secretary was directed to further suggest to Mr. Chant that as a member of the club it was his right to submit proposed amendments to the Dog Show Rules which, if adopted by the members, may bring into being the arrangement which he suggested.

REPORT: The Secretary reported that the Club's auditors had drawn attention to the fact that instead of being applied to the bank loan obtained by the Club in 1949, the proceeds of the bonds redeemed in 1949 had been re-invested in the purchase of $2,000 Dominion of Canada 3% 1966 bonds.

ACTION: The Secretary's action in following this procedure was endorsed.

The Secretary was further directed to state that in view of the sanction show rule referred to the Board does not feel that it is in a position to approve the application of the Society and to suggest that the Society consider the possibility of staging a championship show in conjunction with its annual fair.

ACTION: The Board endorsed the action taken by the Secretary.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from the Central Canada Exhibition Association enquiring whether the Board would have any objection to Mr. Lewis Worden judging their show to be held on August 26th in view of his having judged at Montreal on April 30th.

ACTION: The Board agreed that sufficient time had elapsed between these assignments and directed the Secretary to inform the Central Canada Exhibition Association that it would approve the selection of Mr. Worden as a judge at its show.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from the Halifax Kennel Club regarding the raffling of a puppy at its show.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to inform the Halifax Kennel Club that the Board had no objection to the puppy entering its show providing that it passes the usual veterinary inspection, that it receives a temporary inoculation against distemper, and further providing that it is kept as far away as possible from the dogs regularly entered in the show.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from W. R. White, York Mills, Ont., who reported that the Black and Tan Coonhound STOVER'S BLACK KNIGHT, exhibited by Mrs. R. L. Potter, Toronto, was absent from the second day of the Sportsmen's Kennel Club show held on March 24th and 25th. ACTION: The Secretary was directed to communicate with Mrs. R. L. Potter and enquire whether the dog in question was absent from the second day of the Sportsmen's Kennel Club show held on March 24th and 25th, and if so, had permission been received by Mrs. Potter to remove the dog before the end of the show.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from Grant Mahood, President of the B.C. Kennel Club Ltd. with regard to that Club's credit in the books of the Canadian Kennel Club.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to forward to Mr. Mahood a cheque, payable to the B.C. Kennel Club Ltd. for the amount standing to the credit of that Club.

SUBJECT: The Secretary reported on a letter received from Mrs. Isabella P. Bloomfield, Victoria, who reported that a four-month-old puppy was brought into the judging ring at the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association show held on May 6th, the puppy being a prize in a lucky number draw. The Secretary also reported that Mrs. Bloomfield claimed that instead of rosettes, the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association distributed ribbons for group awards at its show.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to communicate with the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association and seek an explanation for the conditions reported by Mrs. Bloomfield.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter (accompanied by a protest fee of $5.00) from Mr. W. H. and Mrs. MacKendrick who claimed that Mr. Jos. E. Quirk, while judging at the Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada show held on April 30th, 1950, had held conversations, during judging, with a person at the ringside and with the ring steward.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter, addressed to the Board, by the C.K.C. Representative who reported that the judge's book for the Ladies' Kennel Club of Canada Inc. show indicated that Mr. F. L. Coleman, Wrightville, Que., had "refused to take a second ribbon".

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to write Mr. Coleman and secure his explanation for failing to accept the ribbon proffered him by the presiding judge.

REPORT: The Secretary that many exhibitors who had exhibited dogs as listed dogs at three shows were concerned about registration in order that they may continue exhibiting their dogs without risk of having wins cancelled in view of the provisions of Chapter 16, Section 2 of the Dog Show Rules.

ACTION: Following discussion the Board authorized the Secretary to extend the number of shows at which a dog may be entered as a listed dog pending settlement of the present situation in respect to identification. It was agreed that any extension granted an exhibitor is subject to:

(a) The exhibitor taking immediate action to register his dog in the records of the Canadian Kennel Club as soon as the Secretary notifies the exhibitor of identification and registration requirements; and

(b) The dog being eligible for registration in the records of the Canadian Kennel Club.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from H. V. P. Lewis, of the York Field Trials Club, suggesting that in order for the Canadian Kennel Club field trial rules to be identical to those of the American Kennel Club insofar as it concerns championship points allotted to dogs placing in the All-Age Stake, the Board consider the advisability of authorizing the allocation of one-half championship point to a dog placing fourth in the All-Age Stake.

ACTION: It was regularly moved by Director Mrs. Brown, seconded by Vice-President Riedel:

"THAT, as from this date each dog placing fourth in an open all-age stake or limited all-age stake be credited with one-half championship point."

(c) The Sportsmen's Kennel Club had upheld these protests.

ACTION: Following discussion the Board agreed to sustain the decisions reached by The Sportsmen's Kennel Club on these protests, and directed the Secretary to:

(a) Cancel the wins of CH. WEE PENNY ANN at the Sportsmen's Kennel Club show held on March 22nd and 23rd, 1950;

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

On June 28th, 1950, the Department of Agriculture, over the signature of the Deputy Minister, approved the following amendment to Article 24 of the Constitution of The Canadian Kennel Club Inc.:

"THAT Sections 1 and 2 of Article 24 IDENTIFICATION, of the Constitution be deleted in their entirety and the following substituted therefor:

1. In order to be eligible for registration a dog must be identified by one of the two methods outlined in section 2 of this Article so that the certificate of registration issued for the dog will make it possible to distinguish it from any other dog of the same breed. A breeder or owner shall have the choice of the methods outlined in this Article, except that dogs born in Canada and under four months of age at the time of application for registration must be identiled by the method which the applicant for registration has elected to use for identification purposes. By notifying the recording office a breeder or owner may change his method of identification. Regardless of how or by whom a dog is identified for registration purposes the applicant for registration is responsible for the proper identification of the dog.

2. METHODS OF IDENTIFICATION:

(a) TATTOO MARKINGS. Any person desirous of identifying dogs by this method shall be governed by the following regulations:

He must apply to the recording office for and be allotted identification letters for his exclusive use.

A dog born in Canada of a litter registered in or eligible for registration in the records of the Canadian Kennel Club must be identified with tattoo marking in the right or left ear, lips, belly or flank (right or left side), with the registered identification letters of the owner of the dog at birth and a serial number followed by a designating year letter to signify the year of birth. The letter "A" will signify that the dog was born in 1946; "B", 1947; "C", 1948; "D", 1949; "E", 1950; "F", 1951; "G", 1952; "H", 1953. The letters "I", "O", "Q" are not to be used as designating year letters.

An imported dog must be tattoo marked for identification by the letters allotted the Canadian importer and a serial number.

A dog owned in the United States, or born in Canada and registered in the National Coursing Association Stud Book, the Field Stud Book, or the International Fox Hunters Stud Book, must be tattoo marked for identification by the letters allotted the owner and a serial number.

In the event of a change in the name of a partnership, company or kennel, or if a member of the same family is taken into partnership, the tattoo letters may be transferred on application to the recording office, of the registered owner or his authorized representative. Likewise transfer may be made from the Estate of a deceased owner to his heir.

After the expiration of five years, registered tattoo letters shall be forfeited if they have not been used in recording dogs by the registered owner during that period. Such letters may, at the discretion of the Board of Directors be allotted to another breeder for his exclusive use in tattooing dogs. For the purpose of this regulation all identification letters registered prior to December 31st, 1949, shall be deemed to have been registered on December 31st, 1949.

(b) NOSE PRINTS. Any person desirous of identifying dogs by this method shall be governed by the following regulations:

The application for registration of a dog identified by this method must be accompanied by two nose-prints, on forms provided by the Club for that purpose, and each nose-print must be complete, clear and distinct, and free from smudges or blots of any kind. The application for registration must clearly show, in the space provided for that purpose, the numbers appearing on the nose-print forms accompanying the application. The acceptance of nose-prints depends on the comparison of one with the other; in the case of dispute, the matter shall be referred to the Board of Directors.

3. Each breeders' private breeding records shall also contain full particulars of the identification of each dog in his possession by reason of ownership, lease or agreement.

This amendment is therefore effective on and from June 28th, 1950.

I am informed that approval of noseprinting is in the nature of a trial to extend over a period to at least February 28th, 1953, during which time it is anticipated that the practicability of noseprinting, as a method of identification, will be firmly established.

I am sure that the past eighteen months have been trying ones to all of us. Your 1949 and 1950 Boards of Directors found it impossible to do any planning on matters affecting the welfare of the Club when our main source of revenue was so uncertain because of the lack of proper understanding as to identification requirements. Now that this problem has been removed it is up to all of us to put our shoulders to the wheel so that our Club may rightfully attain the heights which we would all like to see it realize.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing thanks, on your behalf, to the Right Hon. James G. Gardiner (Minister of Agriculture), to Dr. J. G. Taggart (Deputy Minister of Agriculture), to Mr. A. W. Peterson (Chief of Live Stock Division of the Department) and to Mr. R. G. T. Hitchman (Director of Canadian National Live Stock Records).

W. J. RISEWICK,
President.

PET-PEPS

A meat flavoured diet supplement containing a balanced formula of Vitamins and Minerals necessary for good health, coat and temperament.

For Vigor and Vitality every Dog needs PET-PEPS regularly

Start now to improve your dog's condition, for breeding, for better appearance on the bench, for greater endurance at obedience or field trials.

One PET-PEP tablet crushed and mixed with the daily meal will show a decided improvement in your dog's health and condition. PET-PEPS supply all the important minerals and vitamins not available in the dog's regular feed, yet so necessary to round out a completely balanced diet, which is reflected in improved temperament, reduction in shedding, sounder nervous system, better appetite, greater resistance to infection and skin conditions, development of good boned sturdy bodies and prevention of rickets in pups. Mayvic KENNELS

Doreen of Dorcliff . . . grandsires on both sides International Champions, imported from England.

George V. Black and his daughter, Miss Joan Black, of 46 Wright Ave., Toronto, have some of the finest Kerry Blues in Canada in their "Mayvic Kennels". Breeding tells — especially when it's matched with extra-good management and feeding.

About a year ago, Mr. Black started a litter of 8 on Dog Chow. He raised them all, and they did so well that he became thoroughly "sold" on Purina. He finds that he can start puppies very satisfactorily on Dog Chow Kibbled Meal with a little milk, without pampering them on special baby food; and he is particularly pleased with their strong bone and strong healthy bodies. He can cut his cost by reducing meat to nearly the vanishing point; and he reports that since switching to Purina troubles of any kind have been practically eliminated—bowel trouble completely.

Mr. Black with Ch. Miss Burlington of Orr-Mur . . . bred by Mr. and Mrs. Orrin H. Black, Pittsburgh. Sire, Int. Ch. The Gob of Orr-Mur. Dam, Ch. Ballyhoo of Orr-Mur.

PURINA DOG CHOW IS THEIR CHOICE

You'll find, if you investigate, that a great many breeders in the top-quality group consistently feed Purina Dog Chow. They want a ration that consistently delivers palatability, full nutrition, and economy — and Dog Chow is built to do just that.

Maybe, because so many "big" breeders make Dog Chow their choice, and it has such a reputation for high quality, you have felt that it must be high-priced. Actually, it isn't. Check with your local Purina dealer, at his Store with the Checkerboard Sign, and you'll be pleasantly surprised!

If you buy in substantial enough quantity to come under the provisions of the Purina Courtesy Card plan, you'll be even more pleasantly surprised. Better check with your dealer about that, too.
