Championship Food for Champion Dogs!

For over eighty years Spratt's entire efforts have been devoted to the preparation of better foods for healthier, happier pets. No other organization has done more for the breeder . . . the owner . . . in this important field.

To keep teeth and gums healthy . . . to properly stimulate digestion . . . dogs need food they can tear, break and crush. So always keep their meals as dry as possible.

Spratt's IS a "properly prepared" dry food. It is CRISP-BAKED so it can't be wolfed down. It must be chewed.

Besides being a natural food, SPRATT'S is a complete food . . . assures strong healthy dogs . . . sturdy limbs, thick glossy coats.

Spratt's Dog Meal too is excellent for breeders. It has been produced through many years of experience for which Spratt's are famous.

OUR COVER

Our Cover this month presents the young, home-bred Dalmatian, Champion Willowmount Lucky Climax, bred and owned by Mrs. Kay Robinson of Thornhill, Ontario (located on the outskirts of Toronto).

"Lucky" commenced his career at the age of six months, when he won Best of Breed and Best Puppy in the Non-Sporting Group. Since then, with a full season of shows, he has captured Best of Breed at each showing with the exception of once when he went down to his kennel mate, Willowmount Copper Coquette.

At the Toronto Kennel Club Show held in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition he won Best in the Non-Sporting Group under Judge Jack Spears. He placed in the Group at the next four shows completing these while he was still only twelve months of age.

In addition to this Champion, Mrs. Robinson has a pair of liver Dalmatians which are proving to be very popular. Both Willowmount Copper Coquette and Willowmount Little Brown Jug are making their presence felt in the show ring.

The demand for Dalmatians has become so great that orders for puppies must be booked well in advance.

Housebreaking and Training Puppies

AT the outset of his career the healthy puppy, like a healthy child, is a supreme egoist. His spirit is high. "The world is his oyster"—a special plaything designed for him alone—and men and women were made solely as his playmates. He loves to be petted and fussed over, and in his cheerful and insolent individualism he knows no restrictions, recognizes no laws. The only law he knows is his own right to do as he pleases when, where and as he pleases.

Such characteristics constitute most of the appeal of a puppy. Without them he would not be half so attractive. But if the puppy is allowed to continue in this mode of living, uncurbed and a perfect autocrat about the house, he will develop into a dog that is not only an unpleasant companion, but a constant source of worry to his master. Hence the necessity of training.

If the pup is to develop into a decent canine citizen of whom his master can be proud and his friends fond, his outlook on life must be altered. He must be brought within the restrictions of discipline and educated to a proper understanding of his relations with his master and the rest of mankind. All this must be done without breaking the spirit that characterizes him as a puppy.

The training necessary to develop an irresponsible puppy into a dog that is both a gentleman in the house and a loyal, obedient companion outside, is not difficult. It takes a great deal of patience, considerable time and a thorough understanding of the procedure. First, however, there are a few fundamental principles to be digested before even a start is made.

Keep in mind the theory that your dog is primarily interested in pleasing you. Actually he wants to do only what you want him to. Your job is to develop his mind to a point where he understands your wishes. From the very beginning you must gain the confidence of the puppy, letting him feel that you are the master, but kindly and just. He will then take pleasure in your company and will be anxious to please you. When he does right, never neglect to praise and make a fuss over him. When he does wrong, rebuke him—never whip him. If you have his confidence, he will recognize your displeasure from the tone of your voice and be thoroughly ashamed of himself. In some cases, rebuke is not enough. Then smack him on the hindquarters with a folded newspaper. The noise will scare him more than the blow will hurt him; but the same purpose is served.

When training, go off into a familiar place or room where nothing can distract his attention. If you lose his attention in the middle of the lesson, you must start all over again.

The dog must be literally a one-man dog during the training period. Let no one else take a hand in his instruction except where a second party is necessary. Let nobody else feed or care for the pup or even drop him a tidbit as a treat. His interest and affection must be centred on one person only at all times.

Be consistent in the words you use. Remember that dogs understand sounds and not words; their training evolves around the association of certain actions with certain sounds. For instance, do not use "fetch" one time and "bring" the next.

Teach a pup one thing at a time and make sure he has mastered it before going on to the next. Put him through all his early paces at the beginning and end of each later lesson. Be confident. A dog, like a horse, senses lack of confidence and will note instantly any uncertainty in your manner.

Except in housebreaking, always have your dog on a leash for the early lessons, until you feel that he has learned his lesson well enough to do it without your control.

REMEMBER, there is no place in a dog's training for anger.

The procedure for housebreaking is more a matter of common sense than of training routine. It requires a great deal of patience and careful watching, but a persistent effort should show results in a very short time. Let the dog outside first thing in the morning, last thing at night and after every meal. Those are the times he is most likely to misbehave. Go with him, when you can, to some secluded part of the garden, wait for him and then pet him and play with him if he relieves himself. In between times, a young puppy should be watched closely. The first signs of a misdemeanor will be when he runs around with short, hurried steps, sniffing for a location for his act. Stop him with a fairly loud, sharp command, preferably "No, No." Then take him very ceremoniously outside, wait for him to relieve himself and then make a fuss over him.

If you should relax your vigilance long enough for him to make a mistake then he must be shown the spot and the evidence and severely scolded. Then put him out. When he comes to understand the connection between the urge and the outside he is housebroken.

At night, leave a shallow pan of sawdust or spread newspapers for him. He cannot be blamed if he does not understand the purpose of these, but it is likely that he will.

It is important that all odour be removed immediately from a spot where he has made a mistake. A remaining odour is simply an invitation to repeat the performance. Vinegar in water is a good deodorizer, or most pet supply stores sell a prepared deodorant for this purpose.

The second essential lesson to a family dog is to lie down and stay there upon command. Regardless of a dog's popularity, there are times when he is not wanted anywhere but in his own place. To get him to lie down, get a small rug or mat, pat it and pull puppy toward it with a leash, at the same time repeating "Lie Down". When he gets on the mat, force him to lie down and then pat him and soothe him, saying, "That's right, good dog, lie down". The more often you repeat the command, the sooner he will associate it with the action.

Once he is lying down, walk away from him, apparently ignoring him. He will, of course, get up. Say "No, No", and force him back again. With a repetition of this procedure a few times, he will soon learn what is wanted of him. In the same way, teach him the meaning of "Stay there".

Once the pup has been taught proper house manners, he can be taken outside for further training. To teach him to come when called, use a light rope. Fasten it around his middle, tight enough that it will not slip off but not so tight that it will hurt him. Let him run off until about 30 or 40 feet of rope separate you and the dog. Then call him in as pleasant a voice as you can. Or whistle, if you would rather have him recognize a whistle. But be sure that the call is a pleasant one. If he does not come, pull him in on the rope, calling or whistling all the time. When he reaches you, pet him and praise him, using the same words of praise that you have used before. Repeat the procedure.

If he tries to pull away further when you call, give the rope a strong tug. The pull will hurt him a little and he will come running to you for sympathy. Before very long, he will know what you mean and will come at your call without the leash.

Never call him to you to punish or scold him, because he will probably think you are punishing him for coming rather than for his misdemeanor.

Proper "heeling" at all times is the sign of a well-trained dog. By heeling is meant that the dog walks on the left side of his master with his head level with his master's legs and sits down promptly when the master stops. To teach your dog to heel, first accustom him to a collar and then arrange the training rope about his body. Command him to "Heel" and start off at a brisk walk. If he pulls ahead, tap him lightly on the nose or chest with a light cane or a roll of paper—and say "No,no.Heel". At the same time pull him back with the rope. If he lags behind, pull him up with a sharp jerk, and command,

Saskatoon Field Trials

By A. G. Goddard

THE farms of Mr. Peter Hamm and his neighbours were the scene of much activity on September 2nd, 3rd and 4th, when the Saskatoon Field Trial Club held its 8th Annual Field Trial under C.K.C. rules. Stamping of hooves, jingling of bridles and yapping of dogs were welcome sounds to the ears of the drivers of the dog wagons as they poured through the gate into the yard. Owners were busy tying out strings of dogs and at the same time telling their nearest neighbour the virtues of them. Soon everything was organized and the Puppy Stake began.

Francis Benson of Saskatoon showed us something different in Brittany Spaniels when he turned his Pierre of Span Haven loose to win first money. "Pierre", a fourteen month old, free moving pup, outclassed all other pups in the field. N. C. MacGregor, of English Setter fame, won Second place with Ermac's Zip of Grail and Third in the same event with Ermac's Flight of Grail. Fourth place in this event was won by Skip, an English Setter owned and handled by Jack Gillis of Saskatoon. A newcomer to this field trial game, our guess is that Jake will be back next year.

Probably the happiest owner present was Harold Pope of Moose Jaw, who motored up with his son, bringing along his male Pointer, Mutual Understanding Sandy. Harold was all smiles as he finally left for home with two silver trophies and the trophy winner sharing the front seat. "Sandy" won First in the Amateur All Age Stake.

Harry Dean, of Dalmeny, had a fine brace of his Irish Setters along, winning Second place in the Amateur All Age Stake with Champion Lady Amber of Ardee and Fourth in the same Stake with Champion Red Echo of Ardee. "Amber" is a stylish going Irisher over three years old and should do much to keep the Ardee colours flying at future trials. James Forbes, of Saskatoon, who is rapidly becoming famous for his beautiful Gordon Setters, brought out a good one in Vagabond Jean of Glentanor. This bitch shows up well in action. She possesses natural ability and her stylish way of going catches the eye. "Jean" won Third in the Amateur All Age and will go high when she has had more experience on birds. Mr. Robinson, the "Irish" judge, remarked that she was the best working Gordon he had ever seen.

The Open All Age Stake was run on Sunday from sun-up to sun-down. Miss Mary Doone, liver and white Pointer, owned by George Rogers of Woodruff, N.C., won top honours in this stake. There were twenty-four starters in this event, and all but nine were American owned. The American dogs came from the training camps of the handlers, who come to the Saskatchewan prairies each summer to train their dogs. "Mary" had three finds in her initial thirty minutes' run and gave a smooth performance throughout. Every move seemed to come easy to Mary. She possessed the knack of being in the right place at the right time and doing the right thing at the right time. Running her race at mid-day under a scorching sun, she paced herself perfectly. Her manners to flush and to shot on all of her finds were those of a finished bird dog.

Second in the Open was won by Ich Rick, a male liver and white Pointer owned by C. Ridick, Indianapolis. He was out of judgment for ten minutes during the earlier part of the heat, but was brought back to put up a good performance. He ranged out well and was really going places as the heat came to an end. He had one find, was very stylish on point and displayed good manners at shot. Third place went to Siboneny, a female liver and white Pointer, owned by C. P. Collins. She ran a searching heat and ranged out to the fringes on both sides of the course. However, she failed to locate birds. Another liver and white Pointer owned by Henry Austin of Illinois won Fourth place. This dog did a workmanlike job, had one find on chicken and was steady to flush and to shot.

The four finalists, all wide-going dogs, were brought in close to find birds after the initial heats had been run. Mary Doone and Ick Rick were partners in the first brace. A large gallery was on hand, on horseback and in autos, as "Mary" styled up in some long grass on the first find. Her handling of this single chicken was perfect. "Ick Rick" then had his chance and he made the most of it. His point was the most stylish seen all day. His bird was well located and his manners on shot were all that they should be. Next, it was Mary's turn, and again her work was excellent. Then as Ick Rick styled up on another bird Mary came in to honour her brace-mate's find in the most approved manner. This brace was then taken up and Miss Dixiana kept things on the alert by pointing in some long grass. As Mr. Sabo walked in, a pair of prairie chicken took to wing, and again it was perfect bird work. It seemed to be a case of your turn next, as "Siboneny" came streaking across from the west, and whirled in her stride to nail another single. Mr. Cook walked in and fired into the ground as the bird took to the wing and Siboneny stayed put. Her pose on this point must have prompted the question asked by a sweet young thing from the window of a nearby auto, "Do they point the birds with their tails?" This second series was a fitting climax to a day that will remain long in memory of those fortunate enough to be on hand to witness it.

Monday morning found us in the saddle by seven o'clock and ready for the running of the DERBY with thirteen starters. Siboneny and Tip Top Buck were sent away in the first brace. Siboneny looked good right from the start and Buck went reaching out for those far away places. Apart from a lack of moisture, conditions were ideal and both dogs seemed to revel in the cool morning air. At the four minute mark, Siboneny applied the brakes and skidded into point and styled up beautifully on a covey of Hungarian partridge on the open prairie. She had birds well located and her manners were good as Cook walked ahead to make the flush and fire the shot. Sent on again, this little Pointer really sparkled, reaching out and giving everything she had to find birds. Cook had some difficulty in turning her as the course veered from west to south, but she looked good as she returned to the front across a field of summerfallow. Buck, too, was showing class, changing sides and crossing in front. Both dogs were ranging wide as time was called. Siboneny placed First. There should be a bright future for this fleet-footed little Pointer. Second place went to Boy, an English Setter owned by F. Tolen of Indianapolis. This dog was one of the widest going dogs in the trials and should develop into a capable Open All Age contender in the future. Third place went to Buck; Fourth went to Burison's Valentine Boy, a male Pointer owned by Mr. Hutchinson of Springfield, Mo.

After the heat of the sun had lessened, we started the Shooting Dog Stake. The pace was somewhat slower as the handlers were on foot. Mutual Understanding Sandy repeated his good work of the Amateur All Age Stake to win the coveted first place. A. D. Geiger of Regina won second spot with his male Pointer, Mutual's Majestic Consort, and third in the same event with Victoria's Regal Lady. Both these dogs have been doing well in trials in the United States. N. C. MacGregor's Dual Champion Ermac's Gunner of Grail captured fourth spot in this event. Mr. T. Robinson, County Tyrone, Ireland, was the guest judge. He found conditions here vastly different from those of his native land, where range in the Open Stake is limited to about 200 yards. He told us that in Ireland even the dogs in the Puppy Stakes were required to point and were expected to handle birds. Mr. Robinson was quick to adapt himself to any situation and entered wholeheartedly into the task of selecting the top performers.

Mr. Johnnie Van Impe, an ardent sportsman, and one who has always been keenly interested in upland bird dogs, and Mr. A. G. Goddard, with his excellent background with sporting dogs, were the local judges. The work of the judges was difficult, at times. Mr. C. Oldcroft, a recognized authority on shooting dogs, took a horse and rode with the approved judges during this event.

The American boys brought a touch of southern atmosphere to Saskatchewan. Early on Sunday morning we were riding along the bottom of a ravine when I felt sure I heard the call of Ol' Bobwhite, but it was only Freddy Arant imitating the quail call and getting his little lemon and white Setter all excited as he skirted the willows in quest of birds. These boys showed us some topnotch field trial performances and were good sportsmen.

Local club members are already talking about next year's trials; of securing more territory and of making more elaborate preparation for the 1951 trials.

"Come on.Heel". When he is at your side again say "Good dog.Heel", and walk on.

When the dog is heeling properly, stop walking and, while holding his head up with the rope, command him to "Sit". If he does not respond, force him into a sitting position. Then praise him. Repeat this until he understands thoroughly that he is to sit down at your heels every time you stop walking. Now abandon the training rope and try him with an ordinary collar and leash. If he appears to have learned his lesson, command him to "Go", and give him to understand that he is at liberty to run and play. At the same time, give him a few feet of leash to run on. When he is at the end of the leash you have paid out, command him to "Heel". If he returns to the exact position, he has learned his lesson and will probably give you no trouble if you try him without the leash.

These few lessons are the bare essentials of a well trained dog. From here you can go on to other valuable teachings, each one of which will improve the value of your pet.

Some dogs have individual peculiarities that must be curbed, and while the cure varies with the fault, we can only recommend a few solutions to problems experienced by the majority of dog owners. If your pup likes strangers as well as you and wants to be friendly with everyone, arrange with a neighbour on another street to be outside when you take your pup for a walk past his house. Have him call the dog, then smack him hard with a folded newspaper. The pup will come running to you for sympathy and, eventually, develop that distrust of all strangers necessary to a good watchdog.

Dalmatian Road Trials

By Lois Meistrell

WORKING dogs with horses appeal to Dalmatian owners who also ride. The result has been Dalmatian Road Trials put on by the Westbury (L. I.) Training Club under the direction of the writer.

At the trials held in early August, Stephen Kaye, Jericho, L. I., N.Y., the only junior club member to compete, placed first. He rode his polo pony, Cactus, and handled his obedience-trained Dalmatian, John's Own Spatterprint.

At the trial the dogs are started singly. After the first dog has covered part of the territory, the second dog is started. Each dog follows his mounted handler who proceeds at a walk, trot, canter and gallop over a five-mile course in about an hour's time. The foot judge examines each dog at the start and finish for general soundness and condition and watches the dogs in action from the elevated judges' stand.

The mounted judges divide the territory, each going part of the distance with the exhibitor and his dog. The judge marks his individual card, and the two compare scores at the conclusion of the trial and pick the winners. A perfect score is 200 points, and the dog's way of going receives the greater part of the available points.

Good points include the dog's ability to range within calling distance of the horse and rider; to keep up with the horse at any pace; to come to "hock" (heel in horse language) at the horse's heels on command and to "road," that is to follow directly behind the horse when travelling on a main highway, are the only obedience requirements for the dog. A gay alert manner and a good free stride with the leg action close to the ground, as in a hunter, with the dog still ready for more at the end of the ride is highly desirable.

THE DALMATIAN

(As adopted by Dalmatian Club of America, Paragraf on gait an addition in '50, along with revision of scale of points.)

HEAD—Should be of a fair length, the skull flat, rather broad between the ears, and moderately well defined at the temple, i. e., exhibiting a moderate amount of stop, and not in one straight line from the nose to the occiput bone, as required in a bullterrier. It should be entirely free from wrinkle.

MUZZLE—Should be long and powerful; the lips clean, fitting the jaws moderately close.

EYES—Should be set moderately well apart, and of medium size, round, bright and sparkling, with an intelligent expression, their color greatly depending on the markings of the dog. In the black-spotted variety the eyes should be dark (black or brown); in the liver-spotted variety they should be light (yellow or light brown). Wall eyes are permissible.

The rim around the eyes in the black-spotted variety should be black; in the liver-spotted variety, brown—never flesh-colored in either.

EARS—Should be set on rather high, of moderate size, rather wide at the base and gradually tapering to a rounded point. They should be carried close to the head, be thin and fine in texture, and always spotted, the more profusely the better.

NOSE—In the black-spotted variety should always be black; in the liver-spotted variety, always brown.

NECK AND SHOULDERS — The neck should be fairly long, nicely arched, light and tapering, and entirely free from throatiness. The shoulders should be moderately oblique, clean and muscular, denoting speed.

BODY, BACK, CHEST AND LOINS—The chest should not be too wide, but very deep and capacious, ribs moderately well sprung, never rounded like barrel hoops (which would indicate want of speed); back powerful; loin strong, muscular and slightly arched.

LEGS AND FEET — Of great importance. The forelegs should be perfectly straight, strong and heavy in bone; elbows close to the body; feet compact, with well arched toes, and tough, elastic pads. In the hindlegs the muscles should be clean, though well defined; the hocks well let down.

NAILS — In the black-spotted variety, black and white; in the liver-spotted variety, brown and white.

GAIT—Length of stride should be in proportion to the size of the dog; steady in rhythm of 1, 2, 3, 4 as in the cadence count in military drill. Front legs should not paddle, nor should there be a straddling appearance. Hind legs should neither cross nor weave; judges should be able to see each leg move with no interference of another leg. Drive and reach are most desirable.

TAIL—Should not be too long, strong at the insertion, and gradually tapering towards the end, free from coarseness. It should not be inserted too low down, but carried with a slight curve upwards, and never curled. It should be spotted, the more profusely the better.

COAT — Short, hard, dense and fine, sleek and glossy in appearance but neither woolly nor silky.

COLOR AND MARKINGS—These are most important points. The ground color in both varieties should be pure white, very decided, and not intermixed.

The color of the spots in the black-spotted variety should be black, the deeper and richer the black the better; in the liver-spotted variety they should be brown.

The spots should not intermingle, but be as round and well defined as possible, the more distinct the better; in size they should be from that of a dime to a half dollar.

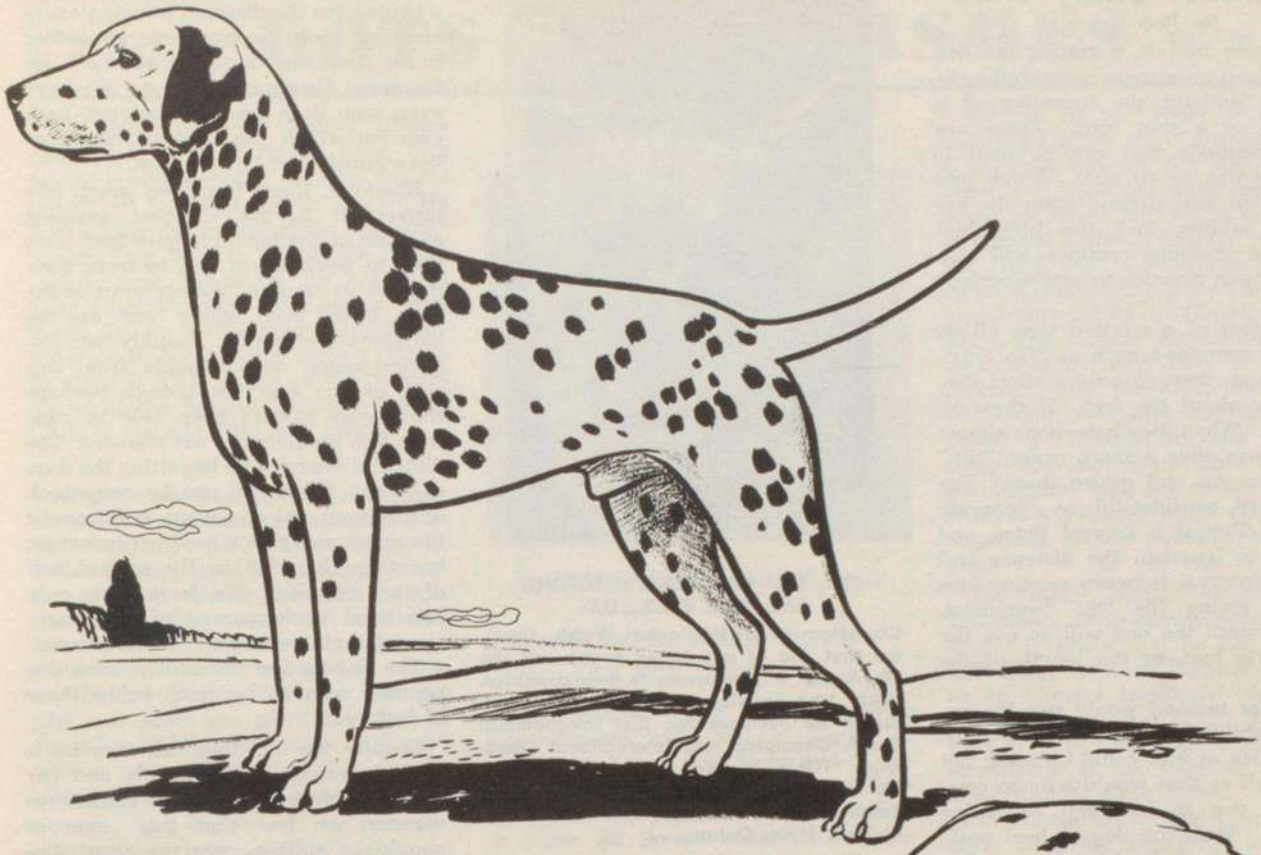

The spots on the face, head, ears, legs, tail and extremities should be smaller than those of the body.

SIZE—Height of dogs and bitches between 19 and 23 inches; weight, between 35 and 50 pounds.

GENERAL APPEARANCE—The Dalmatian should represent a strong, muscular and active dog, symmetrical in outline and free from coarseness and lumber, capable of great endurance, combined with a fair amount of speed.

Know Your Breed ...

By Alva McColl

THE DALMATIAN

FEW breeds of dogs have figured so prominently in the art of ancient Egypt and Greece as has the Dalmatian. The sporting dog depicted in those early times was not unlike the breed as we know it today. Early Egyptian art pictures show it following a chariot, as it did the coaches in later times.

Although coaches are a thing of the past, this is still the most popular breed in riding schools and stables where horses are kept.

The Dalmatian's addition to the dignity of the coach was not the only reason it was included in the equipage. Its versatility has been known for centuries, not only as a sentry and guard, but also as a good tracker and retriever. This adaptability to any situation was shown during the World War. It is not uncommon to see this breed around a fire station; hence the nickname "Fire House" dog.

The name "Dalmatian" comes from Dalmatia, a province of Austria on the Eastern shore of the coast of Venice, where it was a favourite with the Romany gypsies. It was largely due to this band of wanderers that the Dalmatian became one of the best known of all breeds in scattered places.

In appearance, it is a strong, muscular and active dog, symmetrical in outline and capable of great endurance.

Weight: Dogs and Females 35 to 50 pounds.
Height: Dogs and Females between 19 and 23 inches.

Obedience Utility Class

By Bob Noerr

THE main trouble is getting the dog to go out on a mere command and/or signal without the incentive of a dumbbell or a shot bird. There are several methods that can be used to teach the dog to go out. Which one will be best will depend upon the individual handler and the individual dog. The jumping routines will also require much practice to attain perfection.

Some dogs of a spirited type all go out on a command such as "Go Out", even though they go only a short distance, say about ten feet. If they do, then fine. When they have gone almost this distance, give a sharp order, "Sit." Then come up and praise them. For the moment, consider this as a separate exercise. Repeat it several times, and then try to lengthen the distance and the time interval between sending him out and giving the "Sit" command. Continue until the dog will go out the entire forty feet, or the length of the ring.

A similar method would use the retrieving ability of the dog as a start. Here a stick or ball could be used; not a dumbbell as that would tend to confuse the dog in its open retrieving exercises. With the dog at heel position, throw the ball about twenty feet away. Give the dog a double command, "Go Out—Get It" (or whatever your retrieving command is). As he goes for the ball, stop him about half way with the command, "Sit". Then telling the dog to stay, pick up the ball, return to the dog and praise him. In practicing the exercise, gradually drop the second or "Get It" part of the command. Then increase the distance; and finally try to get the dog to go out without having to throw the ball.

Another method is one used by field trial trainers. This calls for a long cord or rope, one end of which has a clip to attach to the dog's collar. The rope is run through a pulley fastened to a post and back to the hand of the handler who is standing beside the dog. With the command "Go Out" the handler jerks the rope backward, which causes the dog to go forward. After the dog has gone a short distance, Sit him and give him a lot of praise. As soon as he gets the idea for a short distance, increase it until the maximum needed is attained.

Much patience and a large amount of praise will be needed to handle the dog in this exercise. Encouraging words and tone of voice are most important, with lavish praise when he shows he is beginning to understand what it is all about.

The returning jump on this directed jumping exercise should be first practiced as a separate exercise. In your backyard ring, practice a "recall and jump". That is sit the dog about twenty feet in back of a jump with the handler twenty feet in front of the jump; the three on a direct line. Then call your dog, giving the command "Over" as he nears the jump. Next step a yard to one side, and with the dog in the same sitting position as before repeat the procedure. Step still further in the same direction (toward the center of the "ring" and call the dog again. This time the direct route between the dog and handler misses the jump. The dog should take the jump, and not come directly in. Should the dog try the direct route, move back toward the jump repeating the commands of "Come—Jump". Continue this practice until he will scale the jump even if the handler is twenty feet away. The dog will soon get the idea that regardless of the handler's position he is expected to go over the jump and then come in and face the handler.

The next set of exercises to work on is to have the dog make the same jump from different sitting positions across the rear of the "ring". At first the handler can remain in back of the jump; then later assume a position away from the jump. After he has mastered the high jump you can work him on the bar jump. The use of a wide mesh piece of fencing or open netting under the bar will prevent the dog from taking the "submarine" route.

Not only is the directed jumping exercises taking its toll of utility exhibitors, but the workers are having trouble getting their dogs to take all three of the scent discrimination articles; missing on one, which under the new rules means a zero, and no matter the final score, it will be a non-qualifying one.

At one show with seven utility entries, there were five zeros, a nine and a twelve, for the directed jumping exercise and about twenty zeros altogether in the three lines in the judge's book for the scent discrimination test. We have even seen dogs mess up the seek-back exercise which has always heretofore been considered "in the bag."

However, there has been much improvement in the directed jumping exercise as the handlers have had more time to work it out and to train their dogs to its routine. Lately most of the dogs have been going out on the handler's command. Frankly we expected much more trouble from this part of the exercise, though perhaps those who haven't been able to cope with this problem are not showing. The difficulty seems to be in getting the dogs to jump! Some just run by, some look at the jump and give it up. A few make the jump, and give a good performance; but then they fail in the second half of the exercise. We have seen only two good performances of this exercise, though we know there are more.

The entries for the utility class this summer seem to be much below those of last year.

Despite the fact that this exercise is an out-growth of the hurdle and bar jump which was done in a continuous manner, we feel that this exercise should be split as was the scent discrimination exercise with twenty points given for each. Then the handler who did a good job with one part, but missed the other would get recognition for that section which his dog passed. This recognition would be on the score sheet, though still lacking a qualifying score, and he would be able to praise his dog after the first jump, which he cannot do now.

Since the new Obedience Trial rules have come into effect there has been criticism, both favourable and unfavourable, in Canada and the United States. In this, our training issue of Dogs in Canada, we are happy to present some interpretations of the new tests, together with helpful instructions for Obedience training under these rules. It is apparent that we have emerged from the experimental stage into the more serious business of training for Obedience in such a manner that those dogs which do win their degrees can be justly considered "tops" in their ability.

Obedience training has become so popular in the United States that the American Kennel Club has taken into consideration the limiting of entries in Obedience Trials, in order that the number may be properly worked in the time available at a dog show. At the Trials held in Chicago last month, it was necessary to limit the Novice class to sixty-five dogs, the Open class to sixty and the U.D. class to forty-eight. So the dream of the Obedience Trial enthusiasts has become a reality and proves conclusively that purebred dogs rank high in intelligence.

INT. CH. WINDRUSH REDWING, INT. C.D., C.D.X., U.D.

Canadian bred Pembroke Welsh Corgi, the first dog of any breed to win all the Obedience Trial degrees in two countries. With his American Championship confirmed he becomes the first International Bench Champion and International Obedience Trials degrees Winner combined. He was bred by Dr. A. R. B. Richmond of Toronto, and is owned by Mrs. M. H. Page of York Mills, Ontario.

. . . DOTS AND DASHES - - -

The English Cocker Spaniel, Champion Edward of Mulberry Hills, bids fair to create a record not only for his breed, but for other breeds as well. He won his Bench Championship, and Companion Dog title in Obedience Trials, and is now competing for his Field Trial Championship. His owner, Miss Freda James, well-known Toronto interior decorator, was the second woman to place in Field Trials as the trainer-owner at the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada held last month.

After seven years of loyal service, my devoted companion, Champion Libbear Dalmally, C.D., C.D.X., Pembroke Welsh Corgi, passed to the happy hunting grounds during the past month. "Malla" as she was more familiarily known, had lived a full life, which included service as a "seeing eye" dog to a blind couple in Toronto. For the past two years she spent her days in the office of Dogs in Canada and was a willing guinea-pig for the experiments made with nose printing.

"The best laid plans of mice and men" certainly went "aglee" when our endeavour to give the winners of the Exhibition shows before the reports were tabulated backfired. The Best in Show at the Toronto Kennel Club Show held in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition was not the Miniature Schnauzer, "Yankee Pride Kandy" but the Senior Puppy, "Cosburn's Sweet Tribute," both dogs being owned by Mrs. W. Gottschalk of Toronto. It is rarely that a puppy comes up from the puppy class to win such high honours, and a glance at her record as printed elsewhere on this page justifies the confidence placed in this American import by her owner. "Yankee Pride Kandy," whom we erroneously credited with Best in Show is not to be slighted, however, as she has already gained eight points towards her title.

As a result of the ban on ear cropping in England, the breeders have through the years of breeding developed a neat, erect ear in several breeds which were cropped, such as Bullterriers and Boston Terriers. One would hesitate to attempt to apply the same breeding methods in order that the dog can be bred with naturally short tails. We do know some breeds are born that way, such as the Pembroke Welsh Corgis and Old English Sheepdogs, the latter often carrying the name of "Bobtail".

Mrs. Ernest Lowndes of Hamilton is quite confident that it pays to advertise in Dogs in Canada, as evidenced by enquiries from as far away as Greece. Apparently, the war-torn countries are finding it possible to breed dogs again.

Gained sufficient points for her Canadian Championship while still a puppy. At the Toronto Kennel Club Show held in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition she won from Senior Puppy to Best in Show All Breeds under the capable judging of Captain H. Dudley Waters, M.C., and Frank Foster Davis. Within a month of commencing her show career in Canada, she won one Best in Show, one First, four Seconds and one Fourth in the Terrier Group; was Best of Breed six out of seven times shown and Winners at the other Show where she was defeated by her kennel mate, International Champion Benrook Beau-Brummell for Best of Breed. Two of her Group placings were second to the dogs that eventually won Best in Show. Owner: Mrs. W. Gottschalk, 863 Cosburn Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. (Adv.)

The Dog Writers Association, which is an international organization of dog writers with members in five countries, has prepared and approved a style sheet for the guidance of newspaper and magazine editors as a reference to the spelling of the various breeds of dogs. It is designed to eliminate confusion in terminology and to avoid the ridiculous, often unjust, errors which so frequently appear in publications. Each part of a dog breed name is capitalized —such as Old English Sheepdog, Boxer, Shetland Sheepdog. In groups One, Two and Three the breeds are further divided into families according to their work—for instance, in Group One, Sporting Dogs—there are the Pointing breeds, Retrieving breeds and Spaniels. In Group Two, Hounds—there are the Trailing breeds, Dachshund varieties and Sight or Racing Hounds. In Group Three, there are the sheep and cattle dogs, draft guard dogs, etc., and sled dogs.

Animal breeders limit the term "thoroughbred" to the running race horse or thoroughbred. The correct word for our dogs is "purebred".

Friends of Mr. Peter Herd, whose membership in the Canadian Kennel Club goes beyond the day in which records of members were kept, will be sorry to hear that he is confined to Lyndhurst Lodge, a hospital in Toronto. Mr. Herd, who is an officer of the Toronto Kennel Club since its inception, a past Director of the Canadian Kennel Club, and largely responsible for the success of the Dog Show held in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition, was also the former Fire Chief of Toronto. Anyone from the fancy who can spare time to visit at the hospital will, no doubt, spend an enjoyable evening while relieving the monotony of the patient's hospitalization.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Thompson, well-known judge, will be happy to know that he has recovered sufficiently to leave hospital. "Bobby", as he is most familiarly known from coast to coast, was taken ill while at Port Arthur this year where he was to officiate as the judge of the Lakehead Kennel Club Show. A member of the Canadian Kennel Club since the early 20's, Mr. Thompson is also well known as a past official of the Calgary Exhibition and those of us who could not secure tickets to see the famous Calgary Stampede could always rely upon Mr. Thompson to see that our wishes were fulfilled. We sincerely hope he will be sufficiently recovered to come East with the Calgary Stampeders if they win through to the finals of the East-West Rugby game which is a highlight in the Toronto sports year.

Amongst the many prominent visitors to Toronto recently were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Twitty of the Bull-Mastiff Club of America. Mr. and Mrs. Twitty were entertained at a cocktail party by our local Bull-Mastiff fanciers, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins. Those who were privileged to attend spent a most enjoyable evening with this charming couple who have done so much for the promotion of purebred dogs.

Mrs. Anthony Donderwitz of Massena, New York, would like, on behalf of the Northern Country Kennel Club of Northern New York, to thank the many Canadians who assisted in making their recent Sanction match a success. The difficulties met when taking dogs across the border do not often allow for anything but an official show, and the Club is most grateful to the Canadians and to the judge, Mr. Art Burden of Toronto.

Canadian handlers desirous of exhibiting dogs at American shows should communicate with the American Kennel Club and obtain information as to conditions applicable to licenses issued to Canadian handlers showing dogs in the United States.

CONGRATULATIONS to Helen and Reg. Bristowe, who completed their first champion (and it couldn't happen to nicer people) Bristowe's Helping Hand, a home-bred. Sorry to hear they lost their nice Dachsie, Bristowe's Red Cinnabar, with pneumonia.

The Art. Rice's of Crescent are the proud owners of the imported International Champion Millwyre Straighaway, Wire Fox Hair Terrier.

The George Shillinglaws are raving about some Scottie puppies which really hit the jackpot; also about their Sealyham bitch which has come through with a litter after trying several years. Mrs. F. McEachren has added a new dog to her kennel. He is American Champion Michael O'Somerset, Jr., Best Terrier in Show at the All Terrier Specialty in Los Angeles; also Best Kerry Blue at the great Morris and Essex show.

The Capital City Specialty Dog Club held its fall show on September 29th and 30th. Judges were Mrs. James Roberts of Abbotsford, Mrs. W. Alden Johnson, Vic. Williams and myself.

I found my Best in Show in the German Shepherd, American Champion Ehrlich of Sunset, C.D.X., owned by Franklin O'Connor of California. He went Best in Show under Dr. Frank Porter Miller at the Pacific National Exhibition and Reserve Best in Show to American Champion Michael O'Somerset, Jr.

Mr. Williams gave the nod to the Boston, Champion Nolan's Ace's Starlet, owned by Jewett A. Bush of Oregon, and Reserve to the Cocker Spaniel, International Champion Willets Mr. Chips. Wayne Colley of Seattle did a fine job as Ring Steward, as did Mrs. Bloomfield as Show Secretary and Superintendent.

I didn't get to the last Victoria show — too many new families — but know that Mrs. Clarke worked hard, as usual. Pat Brennan of Vancouver and Bill Squelsh did the shows. Best in Show went to Marjorie Fraser's Standard Poodle, American Champion Bon-Mar Baron Rouge from California. The other Best in Show was Carnation's Scottie, Deephaven Red Seal. No Reserves were given me.

Vancouver Island Notes

By Gladys McGee

ON Saturday, September 23rd, The Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association held a Sanction Show at Duncan, V.I. The large number of breeders in and around this hospitable town turned out en masse to support the event, and fanciers from Parksville and Nanaimo took the long drive. The result was a large attendance.

Mr. J. Caswell of Victoria judged. This was quite a job, as the quality in many cases was very high. Mr. Walter Pym, who is well-known from East to West, officiated at the mike and acted as Ring Steward. Mrs. V. McLaughlin entertained members of the club afterwards at her home and everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.

After the business was disposed of and while refreshments were being served, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mellish rendered piano selections and Mr. Walter Pym favoured us with several songs.

Duncan in the past was noted for its Championship Shows, and although in recent years these have not been held, it was quite evident that the people who live there are still doggy minded.

Hope to have more news for the next issue, so more later.

Manitoba Notes

By Suzanne Borse

I had a cheerful chat with Hugh Crozier, who had just returned from a day of duck shooting. He attended the Moose Jaw show in September and spoke most highly of the friendly atmosphere and co-operation. He brought back Best of Breed and Best of Winner's ribbons with his Labradors. A very interesting bit of news came from Hugh about a black Labrador he sold. This dog is appearing in a movie called "Forbidden Journey", replacing another dog at short notice, and did his job nicely, being well suited for the part. Hugh is kept very busy and reports that the sale of puppies and trained dogs is more than satisfying.

Dr. J. L. Anderson is building a kennel and hospital combined behind his home in East St. Paul, where he will carry on his practice. It is ultra modern, designed to give each dog an individual pen and run. This is a choice location with river frontage. Good luck, J.L.

Mrs. A. D. Kayser has imported a male Belgina Schipperke from the United States. This is another new breed for Manitoba. You will, no doubt, see "Ebon" with his enthusiastic owner at our next show.

There is a very good idea afloat. The three kennel clubs are discussing the possibility of holding an annual banquet together. For further information contact the officers of your club.

Notes from the Province of Quebec

By Pamela B. Mack

HELLO, fellow members. It is nice to be able to write up some notes for you, at last, as unless the members send me their news I, naturally, cannot fill this column.

Have just heard from Mr. A. O. Oldfield that a new club is being formed in Montreal to be known as The Montreal Dog Fanciers' Club, with Mr. Oldfield as its first President. This will be welcome news, as many experienced dog breeders and exhibitors are amongst the officials. Let's hope they give us a much needed show, soon, to keep our dogs and ourselves in practice for the ring. Our best wishes go to all the members in this new club. We assure them of our co-operation and goodwill in all their efforts.

A new champion in Quebec who has made quite a name for himself is Lenshire's Shorkel, a flashy young Boxer owned by Mrs. E. M. Dossin. He took the Working Group at both Port Arthur and Fort William for five points each; also Best of Breed at Cobourg, and I understand will be leaving shortly to campaign for his American title. So watch this young dog go places and help boost the name of Quebec dogdom. Another local champion is Alan Sharp's Airedale, Churchill's Sharpshooter.

Miss C. Harvey tells me that her Labrador Retriever, Golden Jester, has now finished both his bench title and his Obedience C.D.X. which must make her very proud. Also that her Ainville's Prince Regent is now a champion. Congratulations on nice winning.

Mrs. Heeley tells me she has just purchased a beautiful new Wire which she will be showing shortly. Good luck, Mrs. Heeley, I shall be looking forward to seeing you at the shows.

CLUB NOTES

The Progressive Kennel Club Show

By Martha Stevens

IT was with trepidation that we commenced work for the second All Breed Show sponsored by our club this year. We would like to say "Thank you" to all who took part in what we consider to be the most successful show we have ever staged.

We think we have discovered the most ideal building for a dog show in the vicinity of Toronto, and as a result of the encouraging comments from the American and Canadian exhibitors, we are already planning our next All Breed Show for June of next year. We would like to go back to Unionville, which was the scene of our first venture out of the city, and should the floor be made more suitable no doubt we will. Meanwhile, having tasted the success of staging a show in such ideal surroundings as Dixie, we will make that our goal for the time being.

It was a hard task which we asked Mrs. E. P. Renner, of Great Barrington, Massachusetts, to undertake, but we had no idea when we requested the lady to be the all 'round judge at our show that the entry would be as large. The same meticulous examination was given the dogs at the end of a long, tiring day, as was shown in the first classes which she judged. There was no time for lunch or dinner. We can but express our deep appreciation to that grand lady judge who gave so unsparingly of her knowledge in judging our show.

Unfortunately, just a few hours before the show, the Sporting judge, Mr. Ray Beale, was taken ill, and so all Sporting dogs with the exception of Cocker Spaniels were added to the already heavy assignment of Mrs. Renner. Mr. John Devlin took over the judging of the Cocker Spaniels and did a most commendable job. Mr. Albert Milne, our Terrier judge, helped out with some of the Working Group, and it speaks well for both the judges and the fanciers that everybody was satisfied with the placings. Despite trials and tribulations beyond ordinary conditions, the show ended happily.

With scarcely time for a rest between, we are now busily engaged in preparing for our first winter Sanction Show to be held this month.

Collie and Shetland Sheepdog News

By Bill Clark

OCTOBER 12th to the 15th was a busy time for members of the Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Club and the Eastern Ontario Collie Club, with the Annual Banquet and the Specialty Show so close together.

The banquet was a great success in every detail, with a lovely turkey dinner, introduction of new officers and the talk on the revised standard of our breed by our guest, Mr. E. J. Myers. The congenial atmosphere and enthusiasm of those present was much appreciated by Mr. Meyers. It must have been very encouraging to the members of the Eastern Ontario Collie Club when they saw such a large number of our members at their Specialty Show held in Ottawa. Those who did not exhibit dogs, themselves, attended in person, and the conscientious judging of Mr. Meyers was received with great applause and satisfaction.

There were many humorous incidents during the judging, when the spirit of camaraderie was evident. We saw one exhibitor give his opponent half of his liver, so that his dog could show better. The excitement was so tense, at one period, that I would not have been surprised to see the boys eat the liver themselves. I know I did so on one occasion.

We are leaving the report of the show to the Eastern Ontario Collie Club. However, I would like to mention the marvellous Obedience Trial which was held in the next ring. This Obedience Trial was more than interesting, and I did hear that the Governor General of Canada was quite disappointed when he visited the show in the evening to find that this had been completed. The highlight of the Trial, as far as we were concerned, was the exhibition of one wee lassie and her Sheltie. They went through the test as near to perfection as it is possible to get. There was applause when the little miss placed above well-known trainers and handlers, and they, also, were happy to see her win over them. Needless to say, the children who were present at the show went home determined to obtain a purebred dog and try to gain some laurels for themselves. It has often been said that a child with a dog is too busy to find time for mischief, and we would like to think that in the Obedience Trial work we are helping to build these children into useful future citizens of Canada.

We take this opportunity to draw attention to that almost amazing exhibition of Obedience work by Donald Hunter of Hagersville, Ontario, given by his Collie, Shadyholme Valiant Pal, C.D., at the Obedience Trial held at Dixie, Ontario, last month. This Trial was one of the biggest of the year and the top handlers and trainers were out in full force with dogs that have won the various degrees but competed for the marvellous array of prizes which were offered at the show. Donald Hunter with his Collie won the highest score of the day in all classes and carried off more trophies and cash awards than do many dogs which won Best in Show at large All Breed shows.

Following is the list of officers elected for the coming year. The President and three of the Directors are elected for a two year term. This will assure continuity and a well balanced Board of Directors each year. President, W. J. Edwards; Vice-President, W. Clark; Recording Secretary, Ed. Hayden; Corresponding Secretary, W. Hayden; Treasurer, Ross Chapman. Directors: Malen O. Wilkins, Wm. Powell and Mrs. E. Tomlin, two years; W. Bottrell, Mrs. B. McBride and Mrs. Sleith, one year.

Our President, W. J. Edwards, is arranging a heavy schedule for the coming year. There will be entertainment, lectures and demonstrations and hard work, combined with harmony and good fellowship. Your problems will be our problems, so bring them along and we shall all profit thereby. Collie and Shetland Sheepdog fanciers are reminded once again that this is their column. Send your news and views so that we may pass them on to others.

OUR summer has been very active and progressive, with five Puppy Matches and various social gatherings. On Saturday, September 30th, our Club had a very successful Obedience Trial at Alexandra Park, Oshawa. It was a beautiful day and the attendance far exceeded our expectations. We wish to thank Mr. Edward O'Brien for judging our show and giving a wonderful exhibition of obedience with some of his dogs.

Our monthly meeting was held at the Danforth Hotel on Tuesday, October 3rd. Thirty-five members attended. Mr. Norman Brown, Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club, was kind enough to visit our meeting and demonstrate nose printing.

This month we will resume our lectures on the third Tuesday night of each month. At the first lecture, the proper procedure for grooming and exhibiting a dog in the show ring will be demonstrated. These lectures have proven to be very helpful, not only to our novice members but to all our members, and we are endeavouring to make them as instructive and interesting as they were last year.

A Sanction Show in the near future is on our Agenda, and we look forward to a most successful evening.

AMIDST the noise of racing horses, bawling cattle, the barkers at all the concessions and the delicious aroma of hot beef and chicken dinners coming from the booths run by the various W.A.'s, our first Specialty Show, "on our own", was held at Markham Fair, Ontario.

We feel the Show and the Fair were a grand success. Our large tent was erected in an advantageous spot in the Fair Grounds and it provided ample room for our benching and large ring. Captain Dudley Waters, M.C., did an excellent job of the judging, as did Mr. C. J. McGarry who was Ring Steward. Mrs. Helen Strickland, Show Superintendent, entertained our exhibitors and their friends at a very enjoyable dinner party at her home in Unionville, Ontario, after the Show.

Although we did not have as many entries as we had at our Specialty Show held in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Kennel Club Inc. Show last March, we feel that our Labradors made a very good showing at Markham. As the date of our Show and the opening day of the Duck Season coincided, most of our Labs. were out hunting—which, after all, is the main purpose of all Labradors.

We feel that our Show was different at least in one respect. You could really say that it was "engineered" by the women of our Association. We hate to admit it, but most of the men "ran out" on us—duck hunting. They left with the dogs the afternoon before the Show opened, promising they would be back hours before the Show opened in order to assemble the benching, ring, etc. However, knowing the ways of men when they go hunting, the girls got to work and had everything set up and were quite casually sitting around drinking coffee and knitting when the men came dashing in about five minutes before opening time, bringing the wet Labradors with them. As a result, we wouldn't be surprised if a new regulation for our Constitution is brought up at the next General Meeting to the effect that every other Show that is held during the hunting season will be run and set-up by the men while the women and the Labs. go hunting.

Something else that was different about our Show was that the day did not seem long. Usually at a Dog Show after your breed has been judged there is more or less a let-down and the rest of the day seems to drag. But, at our Show the day seemed short. There was so much to do. You could watch the trotting races, see the midway, attend the poultry auction or visit the beautiful displays in the Arena.

We would like to thank publicly the President and Directors of Markham Fair who were so kind to us and the local newspapers who were very generous with our advertising. Also, the many friends who have helped us in so many ways.

Now we are busy preparing for our International Licensed Field Trial for Retrievers to be held on November 18th, in the Streetsville-Huttonville, Ontario, area. (See advertisement elsewhere in this magazine). The location is perfect, with plenty of water and marsh and good ground. There are ideal facilities for spectators who may get an excellent view of the Trial without disturbing the dogs. Tents will be set up where home-cooked food will be served by some of the women of the Association. We are hoping for a large entry, in order that we can see our dogs work in strong competition.

As we mentioned last month, our Secretary-Treasurer, W. R. White, has moved again. The new address is Midland Ave., R.R. No. 2, Agincourt, Ont.

In order that the breeders of purebred dogs in Canada may become cognizant of the contents of the Live Stock Pedigree Act, we are publishing the Act as it is now in force.

We draw your attention to those sections which deal with private breeding records, identification and registrations. Paragraph 17 deals specifically with the sale of animals, and those persons who are breeding purebred live stock in Canada should read this carefully, in order that they may not suffer the penalties as provided by the Act.

The Live Stock Pedigree Act

13 GEORGE VI.

CHAP. 28

An Act respecting the Incorporation of Pure-bred Live Stock Record Associations.

[Assented to 10th December, 1949.]

His Majesty by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

SHORT TITLE

Short title

1. This Act may be cited as The Live Stock Pedigree Act, 1949.

INTERPRETATION

Definitions

2. In this Act,

"animal"

(a) "animal" includes a bird;

"association".

(b) "association" means an association incorporated under An Act respecting the incorporation of Live Stock Record Associations, chapter thirty-three of the statutes of Canada, 1900, under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, chapter one hundred and thirty-one of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, chapter thirty-one of the statutes of Canada, 1912, under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, under The Live Stock Pedigree Act, 1932, chapter forty-nine of the statutes of Canada, 1932, or under this Act;

"certificate of registration".

(c) "certificate of registration" means a certificate issued by an association setting forth the name, registration number, date of birth, sex, identification, sire and dam of a registered animal registered in the records of the association, and the name of the owner of the animal, and such additional particulars as may from time to time be prescribed by the association;

"Minister".

(d) "Minister" means the Minister of Agriculture;

"Pedigree".

(e) "pedigree" means a genealogical table showing the ancestral line of descent of a registered animal;

"pure-bred".

(f) "pure-bred" means registered in, or eligible for registration in, the records of an association.

ASSOCIATIONS

Application for association.

3. (1) Subject to this Act, any number of persons, not less than five, who desire to form an association for the purpose of keeping a record of pure-bred domestic live stock of a distinct breed, or several records each of a distinct breed of the same species of animal, may make an application for that purpose to the Minister.

Qualifications of applicants.

(2) The applicants shall be Canadian citizens, of the full age of twenty-one years, and shall satisfy the Minister that they represent the breeders throughout Canada of the breed or species in respect of which the application is made.

Form of application.

(3) The application shall be made in triplicate in the form set out in Form A in the Schedule.

Attestation.

(4) Each copy of the application shall be signed by each of the applicants, and the signatures shall be verified by the affidavit of a subscribing witness.

Certificate of approval.

(5) Upon approving the application, the Minister shall endorse all copies with a certificate of approval in Form B in the Schedule and cause one copy thereof to be registered in the Department of Agriculture and the other two to be returned to the applicants, or one of them.

Incorporation.

(6) From the date of the Minister's certificate, the applicants and such other persons as become members of the association are a body corporate and politic under the name approved by the Minister.

By-laws to be submitted to Minister.

(7) Within one year from the date of incorporation, an association shall submit to the Minister in triplicate the by-laws of the association.

(j) the issuance of pedigrees and the amendment or cancellation of pedigrees; — Pedigrees.

(k) the issuance of certificates of transfer of ownership of registered animals and the amendment or cancellation of such certificates; — Transfers.

(l) the annual report of the officers, and a detailed statement, duly audited, of receipts and expenditures for the preceding year and of the assets and liabilities; — Annual report.

(m) the keeping of a book by the secretary at the head office of the association, and by the proper officer at each branch office, wherein shall be written or printed a copy of the by-laws of the association, with all amendments thereof, which books shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of members of the association who may make copies thereof; — Books.

(n) a corporate seal; — Seal.

(o) the keeping by its members of private breeding records, and the manner in which these shall be kept; — Private breeding records.

(p) a practical and effective system of identification; — Identification.

(q) authority to conduct an inspection, on behalf of the association, of private breeding records, of the adequacy of the system of identification prescribed by the association and of the manner in which such system of identification is being practised; — Inspection of records and systems of identification.

(r) the manner in which unsatisfactory practices in respect of identification shall be dealt with; — Unsatisfactory practices.

(s) where the principle of individual inspection to determine eligibility by inspection is approved by the association, the standard that shall apply in connection with such inspection and the manner in which such inspection shall be carried on; — Standard of individual inspection.

(t) where the principle of applying performance to determine eligibility for advanced registration is approved by the association, the standards of performance that shall apply and the manner in which inspection of the application of such standards shall be carried on; — Standards of performance.

(u) the fees to be charged for registration; — Fees for registration.

(v) the fees to be charged for certificates of registration, pedigrees, certificates of transfer of ownership, and for any other service; and — Fees for certificates.

(w) the governing of the affairs of the association generally. — General.

6. (1) No by-law of an association and no amendment or repeal thereof has any force or effect until it is approved by the Minister and registered in the Department of Agriculture. — No by-law effective until approved.

(2) An application for approval of a by-law or an amendment or repeal of a by-law shall be accompanied by three copies of each proposed by-law, amendment or repeal. — Application for approval.

Evidence Minister may require.

(3) The Minister, before approving a by-law or an amendment or repeal of a by-law, may require evidence by affidavit or statutory declaration that all formalities and requirements under the by-laws have been complied with.

Certificate of approval.

(4) Upon approving a by-law or an amendment or repeal of a by-law, the Minister shall endorse all copies with a certificate of approval in Form B in the Schedule and shall cause one copy thereof to be registered in the Department of Agriculture and the other two copies to be returned to the association.

Registration and transfer rights.

(5) Notwithstanding anything in the by-laws of an association incorporated under this or any other Act mentioned in paragraph (b) of section two, no person shall be deprived of the right to register or transfer pure-bred live stock unless he has violated or is reasonably suspected by an association to have violated

(a) a by-law of an association relating to eligibility for registration, establishment of production credentials or payment of fees,

R.S., c. 6.

(b) section sixteen or section seventeen of this Act, or

(c) any provision of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act or the regulations thereunder relating to the identification, marking or testing of animals.

Binding effect of by-laws.

7. The by-laws of an association bind each member thereof as fully as though he had subscribed his name and affixed his seal thereto.

Financial liability of members limited.

8. The financial liability of a member of an association to the creditors of an association is limited to the amount due from him in respect of membership and registration fees.

Powers.

Property.

Bills and notes.

9. An association may

(a) acquire, hold and dispose of real and personal property necessary for the carrying out of the objects of the association;

(b) draw, make, accept, endorse and execute promissory notes, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments necessary for the carrying out of the objects of the association, but nothing in this paragraph authorizes an association to issue a note payable to bearer or intended to be circulated as money, or to engage in the business of banking; and

Funds.

(c) use the funds of the association for any purpose calculated to benefit the particular breed or species of live stock mentioned in the application, including grants to exhibitions.

Approval of certificates.

10. (1) The Minister may examine, and when satisfied that it is correct, may approve under seal a certificate of registration issued by an association that is affiliated with other associations pursuant to this Act.

Notice of errors.

(2) When it appears to the association that issued it that a certificate of registration approved by the Minister is incorrect, notice of that fact shall forthwith be given to the Minister by the association.

Inspection of private breeding records

(3) The Minister may at any time conduct an inspection of private breeding records, of the adequacy of the system of identification practised by an association and of the manner in which the system of identification is being practised.

Chief Registration Officer.

(4) The Minister may authorize an officer in the Department of Agriculture, who shall be known as the Chief Registration Officer, to approve certificates of registration under this section on behalf of the Minister.

Notice of meetings and annual report.

11. An association shall send to the Minister

(a) in the same manner as to members, notices of meetings setting out proposed amendments to the by-laws, and

(b) immediately after each annual meeting, a copy of the annual report, including a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the association for the preceding fiscal year and of its assets and liabilities, together with a list of the officers of the association, and where the association is affiliated with other associations pursuant to this Act, a list of its representatives elected to the Canadian National Live Stock Record Board.

Inquiries.

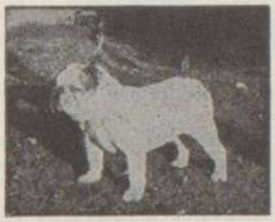

12. (1) The Minister may appoint a person to hold an inquiry into the manner in which an association is or has been conducting its business, and every person so appointed, for the purposes of the the inquiry, has all the powers of a commissioner under the Inquiries Act.

Powers of Minister.

(2) Upon the conclusion of an inquiry held under this section the Minister may require the association to take, or he may take, such action as he considers necessary to provide for the proper conduct of the business of the association.

OIL

Whether you are a pet owner or kennel operator Rex Oil should form a part of the daily ration you feed.

Hundreds of dog owners use Rex Oil regularly, year after year, because Rex Oil helps produce better coats and better breed performance.

Rex Oil supplies unsaturated fats (skin vitamins) frequently lacking in a dog's diet due to destruction from rancidity and cooking. These factors are necessary for a healthy skin and luxurious coat. Itching, dandruff, scale and summer eczema disappear when you start feeding Rex Oil.

Rex Oil is also a rich source of the Anti-sterility Vitamin and fresh feed factors which aid in preventing non-organic breeding disorders, small litters, weak young and high mortality.

Feed Rex Oil to your dog for just one month and judge its merits yourself. Accept no substitutes. Rex Oil is unconditionally guaranteed to give the desired results or money refunded. Available where pet supplies are sold.

A Message from the President

THERE are occasions when it is both opportune and beneficial for us, as individuals or as a group, to pause for a moment to review the path that we have travelled in recent months, to endeavour to evaluate our present position and to give something more than passing thought to our future course. With this thought in mind, the Board, at its September meeting, suggested that your President address a message to the membership at large. Acting on their suggestion, I propose, in this message, to deal briefly with some of the major items that are of concern to you as individual members and to the Club as a whole.

IDENTIFICATION

A great deal has been said about this subject, and as the membership generally is aware of the regulations that apply in respect to the identification of individual dogs for registration purposes, I propose to touch lightly on the major points involved in this long standing problem.

In 1932 a new Live Stock Pedigree Act was passed by Parliament and became law. This federal statute required, amongst other things, that the by-laws of an Association incorporated under the Act provide for "a practical and effective system of identification". The matter of identification (in the form of tattoo markings) was first brought before the Club at its annual general meeting in 1933, and while the then Minister of Agriculture indicated that the Club should promptly take steps to comply with the law. the subject of identification long continued to be a source of bitter debate at successive annual meetings. At the annual general meeting in 1939 the Constitution was amended to provide that a dog must be identified by one of three methods: tattoo markings, nose-prints, or charts, the last named consisting of a sketch outline of the color patterns on the dog being registered. If my memory serves me correctly the last two methods were not too well applied. Within a year representations were made to the Department with the result that colors and markings were added to the Constitution as an alternative method of identification. Within a short time and with the exception of dogs whose owners voluntarily practiced tottaoing, the great majority of dogs were identified by colors and markings, so much so that when a new Constitution was adopted at the annual general meeting in 1942, nose-printing and charting were dropped as alternative methods. The subject of identification did not again become a source of concern to the Club or its members until December 1948 at which time there commenced the series of disturbing developments now known to most of you who have experienced the delays and embarassment brought about by uncertainties that have existed from time to time since December 1948.

I am hopeful that at long last a satisfactory solution to this long standing controversial subject has been found; however, before ending these remarks about identification in general there are some observations which I believe are quite pertinent and timely to place before you at this time.

The major live stock associations in Canada recording pedigrees and issuing certificates of registration are incorporated under the aforementioned Live Stock Pedigree Act. With one exception (that of an association whose registration records are maintained independent of the Live Stock Records office), certificates of registration issued by these Associations bear the seal of the federal Department of Agriculture and the signature of a representative of the Minister. With a view to protecting, as far as possible, the authenticity of the records and certificates of registration issued by these associations the federal government makes the services of the finest police force in the country, th Royal Canadian Mounted Police, available for investigations where irregularities are reasonably well established or believed to have been committed in connection with registration, and the federal government undertakes to prosecute, in the courts, those who have committed acts prejudicial to such records. Then too the federal government, through its Department of Agriculture, makes substantial contributions, financial and otherwise, to the maintenance of first-class live stock records in Canada. It is extremely doubtful that any national kennel club in the world can lay claim to such governmental support of its registration records, and since breeders should be foremost amongst the ranks of those who insist on dependable records and certificates, I should think that such breeders would be the first amongst those who would be against any fundamental change in our position as an association incorporated under the Act, the requirements of identification notwithstanding. There seems to be an impression in some quarters that our association with the Canadian National Live Stock Records is a primary reason for identification becoming such an important issue; however, permit me to assure such members that so long as we are incorporated under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, identification is a must whether we maintain our registration records at the Live Stock Records office or maintain them elsewhere.

To those members who would seriously suggest that we surrender our incorporation under the Live Stock Pedigree Act, and proceed under some other authority, I would draw attention to the following possible developments such a step may and very likely would produce:

(1) We would no longer enjoy the protection and advantages presently afforded by the Live Stock Pedigree Act;
(2) The status which our certificates enjoy, in other countries, both for customs and registration purposes, may undergo an unfavourable change;
(3) The duty-free provisions of present statutes relating to dogs imported into Canada and registered in our records may be altered unfavourably;
(4) The possible creation of other registration bodies in Canada with consequent chaos in the whole registration system relating to pure-bred dogs;
(5) The way would be clear for a group of persons to apply for incorporation under the Live Stock Pedigree Act and if such applic. was granted then the C.K.C. would cease to be a registration body for the reason that the Act prohibits any individual or groups of persons from issuing certificates of registration when an association is incorporated under the Act for that purpose. Then too there would be no assurance that any new body incorporated under the Act would operate along the relatively democratic lines followed by our organization.

To these should be added the fact that surrender of our incorporation under the Act would compel our withdrawal from the Canadian National Live Stock Records system. With these possibilities before us I believe the great majority of members will agree that surrender of our incorporation under the Live Stock Pedigree Act is unthinkable.

Tattoo-markings have been long recognized by the Department as an effective system of identification, but for those who did not wish to use this method of identification, a successful effort was made to obtain nose-printing as an alternative method of identification. This latter method is included in your Constitution on a trial basis, extending over a long period, and I would be other than frank with you if I did not make the observation that the success of that method and its establishment as an effective and practical method of identification will depend largely upon the sincerity with which those who adopt the method carry it out in a practical and effective way. In other words, the submission of only good nose-prints is a fundamental requirement, and for their part, the Board and the staff will do their utmost to advise members regarding the taking of satisfactory prints.

We have made available nose-print forms and other equipment for taking nose-prints. The equipment that was first advertised was found to be most satisfactory during the period that experiments were conducted prior to our seeking approval of this method. Within recent weeks experiments have been made with what I shall call "tube ink", and since these experiments have proven so successful, we are now arranging to make the tube ink available, at a nominal price. To overcome the problem of the prints becoming adhered to one another, glassine paper has been inserted between each page of nose-print forms mailed from the Toronto office. It is suggested that those using this method place a small portion of this glassine paper behind each print submitted to the Records office.

Experiments have also been made in respect to alternative methods of taking prints, and since another satisfactory method has been found, information on this method has since been forwarded to all members.

It is perhaps inevitable that for a time following the introduction of what, to most members, is a relatively new method of identification, there should be difficulties experienced by those unfamiliar with its practical application. It is only a matter of a few weeks since the method was approved by the Department, and it is perhaps too early to expect that all those who have adopted it will have become sufficiently experienced in the technique of taking prints of an acceptable kind, although it is obvious that a number of members have found no real difficulty and are obtaining registrations, in the usual way, when this method is used.

While I believe that the Department and the Records Office will co-operate to the fullest in accepting nose-prints which reasonably come within the requirements set down in the Club's regulations, I feel that we as breeders should do our utmost to see that any nose-prints submitted are of a kind that both the Department and the Records office can accept without hesitation. Of paramount importance both to the Department and the Records office is that any two prints submitted for any given dog shall be sufficiently alike so that anyone examining the prints can readily see that they were taken off the same dog.

SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING HELD ON JULY 10th

Towards the end of May the Secretary received a petition, signed by more than the 80 required members, demanding that a special general meeting be called to consider certain matters referred to in the petition (see notice in June issue). While the Board entertained some doubts that certain of these matters could properly be dealt with at such a special general meeting, the Club's solicitor advised that it was not within the province of the Board to delete any of these items, and that the Board had no alternative but to call the special general meeting so that the items referred to in the petition could be properly dealt with in accordance with the Club's Constitution. Accordingly the Board called a special general meeting which was held at Toronto on July 10th.

The first item discussed was that of identification. Much was said about the matter and a great deal was also said about individual persons concerned with developments on this controversial subject. I shall not attempt at this time to refute any of the misleading statements that were made, particularly about persons concerned with the final settlement that was reached, for the minutes of the meeting indicate that discussion on identification closed with a resolution which in effect endorsed what had been done by your Board of Directors and officials of the Club who had participated in the final consultations with officials of the Department.

The next item in the petition referred to "changes in the Board of Directors". The petition did not set out notice of any specified sections of the Constitution to be amended nor was any specific notice given of the "changes" contemplated. The minutes do not indicate that the members present at the meeting took any action to make changes in the Board of Directors, therefore comment here is hardly necessary.

The third item in the petition referred to the activities of the C.K.C. Representative. Members present very clearly indicated their desire that the Representative, or a deputy where necessary, attend championship shows. The Board has since decided that so far as the Club's finances permitted, the Representative would attend championship shows but it was agreed that the 25c supervisory fee, authorized by the amendment adopted at the last annual general meeting, would not be imposed for the balance of 1950.

The members assembled, then proceeded to make decisions on two matters of which specific notice had not been given in the petition and in the notice calling the meeting. The first of these matters dealt with a "Board of Governors". Whatever may be said of the proposal to create and elect such a body, the fact remains that no specific notice was given of an intention to amend the Constitution in order to provide for such a body, and the Club's solicitor advises that the action taken in that regard should not be acted upon. The Board of Directors, acting on the advice of the Club's solicitor, has since decided that since specific notice was not given the membership at large regarding such proposal, no action will be taken by it. It should, however, be clearly understood that such a decision on its part should not be construed as a reflection on the five members "elected" to such body, for all have contributed much to our sport, nor of the advantages of such a body if and when created in the proper manner.

The meeting by resolution directed that a contract be entered into with the Managing Editor of DOGS IN CANADA. No specific notice was given to discuss such a matter, and as the Club's solicitor advises that the Board is not bound to observe this direction, it has been decided that no action will be taken. The Board does not feel that it should enter into a contract that will be binding on the next Board of Directors, particularly in view of our financial position.

FINANCIAL

I believe it only true to say that apart from identification nothing has given your Board of Directors, in 1949 and again this year, so much concern as the Club's financial position.

At its annual meeting in February of last year the then Board set up a very stringent budget, and although it was faithfully observed we barely managed to conclude our 1949 operations "on the right side of the ledger" as the saying goes. During the closing months of 1949 your Board of Directors was compelled to conclude that only if revenue was obtained from other sources, such as dog shows, field trials, etc., could the Club hope to return to normal operations with its customary services and at the same time remain relatively free from fear of ultimate insolvency. The issue was firmly faced by your 1950 Board of Directors with the result that at its annual meeting in March it considered immediate introduction of fees applicable to show and trial clubs and to dogs entered at events staged by such clubs. Detailed reference to such contemplated fees was made at the annual general meeting of the members but no action was taken at that meeting pending the outcome of representations which a committee, appointed at that meeting, was to make to the Minister of Agriculture regarding identification and our future activities and responsibilities regarding shows, trials, etc. I think it unfortunate that before the annual general meeting adjourned, a definite decision was not reached on the application of additional fees so that the Board of Directors would not have a bear the sole responsibility for the imposition of fees when the club's future role in respect of shows, trials, etc., was known.

Meanwhile with the passing of time the identification issue remained unsolved and the Club's revenue at the Live Stock Records office dropped alarmingly. With no early settlement of the identification issue apparent, your Board of Directors felt that it must take the responsibility of taking steps to prevent the Club's financial position being irreparably damaged. After obtaining the opinion of the Club's solicitor that it was within their power to do so, the Board ordered the imposition of the 50c recording fee, of a $15.00 date fee for a sanction show, and a charge for engraved championship and other certificates. There have been some objections to these fees but I am happy to tell you that show and trial clubs, and exhibitors at such events, have responded magnificently, and there can be no doubt that the revenue obtained from these sources will be of assistance in financing the Club's 1950 operations. To reduce costs in connection with the publication of official business, the Board ordered the abbreviated show reports now being published in the official organ but it is hoped that this need be but a temporary measure. However unpopular these steps may be in some quarters, your Board is charged with the responsibility of protecting the Club's interests, and whether the measures taken are adequate or otherwise, they cannot help but improve the Club's financial position.

So that the members may get a clearer picture of our financial position at the end of nine months operations in this year, the following information is provided:

(1) Revenue at the Live Stock Records office during the first nine months of this year decreased by $11,660.60 as compared with the same period last year. In 1949 our revenue at the Records Office totalled $65,765.16 of which $25,679.01 was paid to the Live Stock Records for its services. It will therefore be obvious that 39c (39%) out of every $1.00 of revenue received at the Records Office went to cover costs at that office. If, for purposes of evaluating our position, we take the same percentage for the first nine months of 1950 then our costs at the Records Office will have dropped by $4,547.40 (39% of $11,660.60). In other words we had $7,113.20 ($11,660.60 less $4,547.40) less to use for our other purposes.

(2) During the first six months of the year our magazine realized an estimated profit of $834.71, and advertising in the last three months (July, August and September issues) increased by $297.00 over the same issues last year.

(3) As previously stated, show and trial clubs and exhibitors have responded magnificently in respect of the extra fees imposed, and on the basis of fees already received it is clear that these extra fees will result in extra revenues of not less than $3,000.00.

(4) The Club held $7,000 worth of Provincial bonds and $10,000 C.N.R. (Dominion guaranteed) bonds. The provincial bonds were payable in United States funds and their sale was effected prior to re-evaluation of the Canadian dollar. These bonds were sold for more than $2,200.00 than they originally cost the Club, and since the funds realized on the sale of these bonds have been reinvested in bonds, our capital investment in bonds has been increased by $2,000.00.

(5) Notwithstanding some small increases that have been made in the salaries of the stenographic and clerical members of the staff, salaries (exclusive of DOGS IN CANADA) for the first nine months had decreased by $755.00, and it is presently estimated that the total decrease for the year will amount to not less than $1,000.00.

(6) As has been previously stated, abbreviated show reports were ordered published as an economy measure. It is difficult to forecast, at this time, the exact saving that this step will bring, but it is presently expected that this measure will save approximately $1,000.00.

Now these figures do not of course cover all facets of our revenues and expenditures, but the major items are covered, and it should be obvious that the picture is not what the "prophets of doom" would have some of us believe.

With a view to further restricting our operational costs the Board has appointed a committee whose duty it is to locate less expensive quarters for our head office. It is expected that a definite decision will be reached on this major item at an early date.

When we consider the dreadful dislocation of our business in the first six months of this year we have reason to feel satisfied with the situation that now exists, however unsatisfactory it may be, particularly when we consider how different things might have been had the identification situation never developed, or remained unsettled for so long.

In the July (1949) issue of DOGS IN CANADA I addressed a message to the membership regarding the Club's finances, a message that was prompted by the then Board's concern about our financial future. I have no desire to labour an issue but I feel that it is advisable to refer to some of the points raised in that message. The following points bear repeating:

1. The present revenue of the Club does not permit of it providing the services expected, particularly where members are concerned. Our actual staff at Toronto is no greater than it has been for the past two years and it is not adequate to perform the services that we would like to provide. To this problem must be added the fact that our costs have increased proportionately just as everything has increased in the present day market.
   (Since the above was written the Club's Toronto staff has, of necessity, been reduced in numerical strength even though work required of the staff is now no less than it has been for some considerable time).
2. In only one Department of your Club's operations can it be said that revenue exceeds costs, and that in respect to fees received for registrations and transfers.
3. The bulk of the Club's revenue is derived from registration and transfers and any substantial decrease here would inevitably bring about further curtailment of services and efficiency, to say nothing of the possible disastrous results that could easily occur before remedial action could be taken.
   (Since the above was written there has, of course, been a considerable drop in registrations and transfers because of the identification issue, and while these items are now picking up favourably, it will likely be some time before registrations return to normal).
4. Services provided are not in proper ratio to charges made resulting in an unfair distribution of charges, particularly where breeders are concerned.

Some conception of the tremendous increase in the Club's business over the past few years may be gained by comparison of the last complete year (1938) before the war with those for 1949. For example in 1938 we had 1,435 members, last year the total was 3,616. Individual registrations in 1938 amounted to 7,360 as compared with 18,602 in 1949; transfers 1938—7,393; 1949—18,882. Likewise the number of shows, field and obedience trials has increased tremendously, in fact the total number of competitive events (shows and trials) in 1949 was double that of 1938. It is hardly necessary to add that costs of administering the Club's affairs and providing the usual services have increased greatly, however let us first examine the actual figures for revenue and expenditures for 1938 and 1949.

REVENUE	1938	1949
Membership fees	$ 5,932.00	$15,427.00
Registration, transfer fees, etc.	13,677.78	50,338.16
Interest on bonds	1,480.00	1,198.75
DOGS IN CANADA (exclusive of allowances for membership fees, publication of official business)	7,033.80	13,394.86
Miscellaneous	2,107.32	1,995.10
TOTALS	$30,230.90	$82,354.87

EXPENDITURES	1938	1949
Share of expenses of Canadian National Live Stock Records	5,571.19	25,697.01
Office salaries (Toronto — exclusive of DOGS IN CANADA)	7,162.00	17,495.10
Travelling expenses	1,729.54	2,404.10
Rent, telephone, telegraph and light	972.88	4,542.11
Postage	400.64	1,296.81
Salaries (DOGS IN CANADA)	3,042.33	5,241.00
Printing DOGS IN CANADA (inclusive of official business & show reports)	4,907.05	14,599.63
Miscellaneous (including DOGS IN CANADA	7,782.93	10,305.65
TOTALS	$31,568.56	$81,581.41
Profit on year's operations		$773.46
Loss on year's operations	$1,337.66

Some pertinent observations and explanations regarding the foregoing figures is indicated.

(1) It will be noted that the bulk of revenue which makes the operations of the Club possible is derived from registration and transfer fees.

(2) The per transaction cost (21½c in 1938) to handle each membership record, each application for registration and each application for transfer of ownership through the Live Stock Records office has about doubled since 1938, which means that the balance left over from each $1.00 of revenue at the Live Stock Records office has been decreased accordingly. That fact and the tremendous increase in members, registrations and transfers accounts for the increase shown in the share of expenses of Canadian National Live Stock Records.

(3) As the amount of the Club's business at the Records office has increased tremendously, so also has the amount of business handled at head office. The necessity of maintaining a larger staff and the fact that the scale of salaries for stenographic and clerical help today is very much higher than it was in 1938 accounts for the increase in Salaries at the Toronto office. It should however be noted that in 1949 the percentage of expenditures for salaries (exclusive of DOGS IN CANADA) in relation to total expenditures and gross income, is lower than it was in 1938. Although work in the Toronto office has not decreased it has been necessary to cut the numerical strength of the staff. Where the Secretary formerly had the assistance of two stenographers, he now has only the one, and there is now one less typist in the show and trial records section. This has naturally led to adjustments in the internal handling of work within the office, and amongst these adjustments has been the taking over by DOGS IN CANADA of the physical handling of the book-keeping required in connection with the advertising accounts and subscription (NOTE: In 1938 the staff at the Toronto office comprised the Secretary-Treasurer, Asst. Secretary-Treasurer (now the Sec. Treas.), one stenographer, one bookkeeper-typist, the Managing Editor and Assistant to the Editor (6 in all). Today the staff is comprised of the Secretary-Treasurer, the C.K.C. Representative, two stenographers, one typist, one bookkeeper-typist, the Managing Editor and Asst. to the Editor (8 in all).

(4) The substantial increase in the rent, telephone and light account has been brought about by the very much higher rental paid on the Club's present office quarters.

(5) Printing costs have increased sharply in recent years. Analysis of the 1938 and 1949 statements indicate that while the cost per page to print our magazine in 1938 was less than $10.00 per page, it was well in excess of $20.00 per page in 1949, as a matter of fact it now costs in excess of $24.00 per page to print official show reports.

The Board feels that it is unfortunate that no real effort has been made to provide those interested in showing and running dogs with a clear picture of our contribution, particularly the financing, to that phase of doggy activities relating to shows and trials. Many of those activities are known to those who have had reason to be concerned with such matters. Apart from the correspondence which passes between this office and clubs and exhibitors at shows and trials, our show and trial records department is concerned with the following activities: Checking judges' books against official returns sent to us by show and trial clubs, computing championship points, preparing and proof reading show and trial reports published in DOGS IN CANADA, checking records for eligibility for entry in the various classes and issuing cancellation notices wherever necessary, checking information furnished by exhibitors on the entry forms and drawing attention to errors or omissions wherever necessary, checking ownership of recorded dogs and issuing notices in that regard wherever necessary, checking championships and issuing confirmations and certificates, recording wins on records maintained at this office and various other procedures involved in the keeping of such records. Three members of our staff are concerned almost entirely with this work and it is estimated that salaries (exclusive of the Secretary-Treasurer and Bookkeeper) of those employed to do this work amounted to not less than $7,500.00 in 1949. Taking into consideration the number of dogs (including those shown or run more than once during 1949—14,000 odd in 1949) it is apparent that labour costs last year was approximately 50c per dog.

So that these records may be kept, it is necessary for head office to obtain, from the Live Stock Records, a duplicate of every certificate of registration issued and in addition we are notified by the Records office of all transfers of ownership effected in the Records maintained at Ottawa. The cost to obtain these records and information in 1949 amounted to $4,070.00.

It is estimated that the cost to print show and trial reports amounted to $4,500.00 in 1949.

None of the foregoing costs take into consideration overhead costs such as rent, light, miscellaneous printing, telephone, auditing, postage, stationery, office equipment and maintenance, but I feel that the foregoing figures will give some indication of the financial costs to the Club where shows and trials are concerned.

If our memberships, registrations and transfers are not maintained as they have been in the past two years, and of course these items have not held up this year because of the identification situation, then it is not hard to foresee our future financial position unless steps are taken, along lines already initiated by your Board, to reconstruct the Club's financial position along modern and realistic lines. As it is our services are far from normal and only an imminent improvement in our financial position will make it possible for us to do these things which are expected of us and as promptly as you, the Board and the executive staff would like.

I commend your consideration of these observations, and if any members have any suggestions to offer you can be sure that the Board will be delighted to receive them.

RE-ORGANIZATION AND THE 1950 BY-LAWS

At the 1948 Annual General Meeting the members present adopted a new constitution and by-laws. As required by the Live Stock Pedigree Act, this constitution and by-laws were submitted to the Minister of Agriculture for Ministerial approval. The Constitution and by-laws, unapproved, were returned to the Club by the Department, with advice to the effect that in the opinion of the Department such activities as dog shows, field trials, obedience trials etc., did not come within the scope of the Live Stock Pedigree Act, and until such time as these activities were removed from the Club's constitution, Ministerial approval of the Club's 1948 constitution and by-laws could not be expected.

In 1949 the Board of Directors again submitted this constitution and by-laws for Ministrial approval, but they were again returned without Ministerial approval. As President of the Club, I addressed a letter to the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, suggesting that the new Live Stock Pedigree Act about to be presented to Parliament be drawn in such fashion that inclusion of dog shows, field trials, etc., in the Club's constitution would be proper.

It is however apparent that the Act, which passed Parliament on November 30th and received Royal Assent on December 10th, 1949, did not differ from the previous Act so far as it concerned the activities of organizations incorporated under the Act. When the Deputy Minister acknowledged my letter(in which I recommended changes in the Act regarding activities of associations incorporated under the Act, he suggested that the Club should seek other authority for dealing with such matters as shows, trials etc. He also suggested that we should take action to bring our existing constitution into conformity with the new Act.

Upon my re-election as President for 1950, I arranged for officials of the Department to attend the first meeting of the Board of Directors in January so that the 1950 Board of Directors could obtain first-hand information as to just what the Department had in mind in suggesting that we establish a separate body to deal with shows, trials, etc., and also where the Department felt our existing constitution required revision in order to comply with the new Act.

After hearing officials of the Department, the Board decided as follows:

(1) All references to dog shows, field trials, etc. would be deleted from the Club's constitution, thus making The Canadian Kennel Club strictly a registration body;
(2) It would be necessary to set up a separate body, but at that time we were advised that it could not be part of the Canadian Kennel Club but could operate along with The Canadian Kennel Club by agreement.
(3) In order to have time for the preparation of new by-laws for The Canadian Kennel Club which would conform to the new Act, and preparation of other material for the consideration of the members attending the Annual General Meeting in so far as it concerned the new corporation, the Annual General Meeting, then scheduled for early February, was postponed and was eventually held on March 29th.

At the Annual General Meeting on March 29th, the members approved, with few amendments, the by-laws prepared by the Board of Directors for The Canadian Kennel Club, and at the same time approved, in principle, of the setting-up of a separate organization to govern dog shows, field trials, etc., providing such organization was governed by the same Board of Directors elected for The Canadian Kennel Club. A committee was however appointed to discuss this matter with the Minister of Agriculture. Conferences were held with the Minister on April 17th and again on May 2nd, and while no definite settlement was reached, it was tacitly understood that we would carry on under our existing constitution.

As a result of observations that were made, by Departmental officials during the final settlement of the Identification problem, the Board of Directors again reviewed its earlier discussion in the matter of the new corporation, with the result that it decided to consult the Dominion-wide board. After obtaining their views, it was decided that application should be made for a charter, and the Club's solicitors were directed to take the necessary steps. The matter was discussed with the Club's solicitors, who pointed out that unless the charter was obtained and all arrangements were completed for the new corporation to function effectively before September 15th, the submission of the by-laws adopted at the Annual General Meeting held in March at any time after September 15th and before the end of the current year, may give rise to complications in respect to the elections for 1951.

When the solicitor's views were considered by the Board of Directors, it was agreed that it would be inadvisable to submit the 1950 by-laws during the balance of 1950. This will indicate why such by-laws have not been submitted for Ministerial approval.

CONCLUSIONS

Since December 1948 we have come through a very difficult period, one that has taken its toll of the administrative efficiency of the Club, as well as in connection with its finances. We must now plan so that the administrative and financial structure of the Club can be brought back into line with present-day methods and costs. The Club's operations today are of such magnitude that the Executive personnel presently employed are not sufficient in number to cope adequately with the over-all administration of the Club's affairs and activities, and I am of the opinion that the time has been reached when we should appoint, as a permanent member of the staff, someone who will have both the authority and the responsibility of making decisions (subject always to the endorsation of the Dominion-wide Board of Directors) and seeing that prompt action is taken so that stability in the Club's operations will once again become normal and routine.

Until our revenue reaches its normal proportions we can not hope to have all our administrative work carried out as efficiently and as promptly as has been our custom, and I can only respectfully suggest that those who have occasion to deal direct with the Club's Toronto office bear in mind the trying times through which we have been passing and make allowances until we can once again resume normal operations.

MINUTES OF MEETING OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

September 26th, 1950

1690. The meeting of the Board of Directors on August 16th, 1950 was adjourned to reconvene at the call of the President, and the Board reconvened, at the call of the President, in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario, on Tuesday, September 26th, 1950, commencing at 2 p.m. The President, W. J. Risewick, presided. Officers and Directors present included: Douglas Riedel, Paddy Boughs, Mrs. Ellen Brown, J. J. Farmer and C. S. Spratt.

1691. (1662) MINUTES

SUBJECT: The Secretary tabled the minutes of the meetings of the Board held on July 24th and August 16th.

ACTION: The Minutes were ordered held in abeyance until members of the Board had examined the minutes as prepared by the Secretary.

1693 (1681). BOARD OF GOVERNORS

SUBJECT: The Secretary reported that Mr. David Fingard and Mr. Peter Smith were apparently desirous of appearing before the Board of Directors and were waiting in the Club's offices for that purpose. The Secretary was directed to ascertain whether or not Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith wished to appear before the Board, and if so, for what purpose. The Secretary subsequently reported to the Board that Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith wished to appear before the Board in respect to the acion aken at the Special General Meeting held on July 10th with regard to the Board of Governors. Following discussion, the Board agreed to hear Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith.

DISCUSSION: Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith appeared before the Board and enquired what action the Board proposed taking in respect to this matter. The President pointed out the opinion received by the Board from the Club's solicitors, and after discussion, the solicitors' letter dated August 15th was read, as was also a letter from Mr. W. H. Pym, Vancouver, who pointed out that action taken in respect of a Board of Governors had been without proper notice of intention to deal wih such matter at the Special General Meeting.

Mr. Fingard stated that if members were not given an opportunity to submit proposed amendments to the constitution for consideration at the special general meeting called as a result of the demand submitted to the Secretary, then the responsibility for such condition must rest with the Board of Directors who called the meeting. Mr. Fingard contended that the Minutes of the meeting indicated the duties of the Board of Governors were that such body was to function along the same lines that the Senate does in connection with matters dealt with by the House of Commons. Mr. Fingard stated that in the event action is not taken by the Board of Directors so that the Board of Governors may function as intended, then legal action would be taken to resolve the issue.

Mr. Smith stated that the personnel of the Board of Governors wished to know whether the Board wished to take any action in the matter, so that the personnel of such Board could commence functioning as apparently intended by the members attending the Special General Meeting held on July 10th. Mr. Fingard and Mr. Smith then left the meeting.

The Secretary read a letter from Director Mrs. G. O. Alsen, who stated that on behalf of members whom she represented she protested every action taken at the Special General Meeting held on July 10th.

The Secretary read a letter from Director C. G. Biggar, expressing the view that the Board of Governors was not legally created, and that if it was the desire of the membership to create such a body, such action should be taken in the form of a proper motion to come before the annual meeting.

The Secretary read a letter from Director Mrs. Pat Randall, stating that "when and if the Ontario Board proceed to follow instructions from this meeting, will be time enough to take action," and that she did not believe "the West is prepared to have their patience and tolerance abused much further by a small handful of members."

The Secretary read a letter from Messrs. McCarthy and McCarthy, acting on behalf of Mr. David Fingard, asking that the Board of Directors take prompt action to implement the decision reached by the meeting on July 10th, regarding the establishment of the Board of Governors.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to refer the communication received from Messrs. McCarthy & McCarthy to the Club's solicitor, with a request that he inform Messrs. McCarthy & McCarthy that he had advised The Canadian Kennel Club that proceedings taken prior to, and at the Special General Meeting, held on July 10th, were not such as to amount to an amendment of the Constitution of the Club, and, accordingly, that no Board of Governors was created.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from W. H. MacKendrick, Oakville, requesting information as to why Minutes of the Special General Meeting held on July 10th, 1950, relating to the "election of the Board of Governors" had not been published in DOGS IN CANADA.

ACTION: The letter was ordered tabled.

RESOLUTION: Following discussion, it was regularly moved by Director J. J. Farmer, seconded by Director C. S. Spratt,

"THAT, in view of our legal advice which is herewith submitted to the members, and the expression of various Directors outside of Ontario and also from one member who was a former Director and Vice-President of the Club for seventeen years, it would be useless for the Board to consider further the matter of the creation of a Board of Governors or any other matter dealt with at the Special General Meeting, which is not in accordance with the Club's Constitution and which was not subject of a proper Amendment to the Constitution."

Motion unanimously carried.

1694 (1674) DOG SHOW MATTERS

REPORT: The Secretary reported that Mrs. R. Goss, Bewdley, Ont., had submitted a protest to the Toronto Kennel Club in connection with its Championship show on September 1st and 2nd, in which Mrs. Goss claimed that the Bulldog RICE'S BRITISH CINTORSON, owned by Mrs. Mary B. Rice, had not been returned, on the second day of the show, until after 12.30 p.m. The Secretary further reported that the Toronto Kennel Club had sustained Mrs. Goss' protest. A letter was read from Mrs. Rice explaining that due to difficulties in reaching the show on its second day, she had not been able to comply with the regulation relating to dogs being returned to the show, before a stated time, on the morning of the second day.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Vice-President Riedel,

"THAT, the wins earned by RICE'S BRITISH CINTORSON at the Toronto Kennel Club show held on September 1st and 2nd be cancelled and the necessary adjustments be made in the Club's records."

Motion carried.

1696 OFFICE ACCOMMODATION

SUBJECT: The President suggested that with the settlement of the identification problem, and wih an increasing revenue in respect of registrations and transfers, the Board might well consider endeavouring to find office accommodation which would be less expensive than that presently occupied. He suggested that if at all possible, quarters should be purchased so that in time the Club would own its own office building.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Farmer, seconded by Vice-President Riedel,

"THAT, a Committee composed of Directors Spratt, Mrs. Brown and Boughs, be appointed to study the matter of a new location for a head office of the Club, with a view to curtailing overhead costs (rent), and report their findings to the Board of Directors as soon as possible."

Motion carried.

ACTION: The President suggested that in the event the Committee is able to locate accommodation which may prove satisfactory to the Board, the owners of the building in which the offices are presently located should be approached with a view to obtaining release of the present long-term lease.

1697 (1670) ACCOUNTS AND FINANCIAL MATTERS

SUBJECT: The Secretary reported the following expenditures for the month of August:

	$ 465.72

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Vice-President Riedel, seconded by Director Spratt:

"THAT, the expenditures reported by the Secretary be approved."

Motion carried.

REPORT: Director Farmer reported that he had, as authorized by the Board, discussed with the officials of the Canadian National Live Stock Records the matter of the monthly levy paid to the Live Stock Records office for its services in connection with maintenance of the Club's registration records. As a result of such discussion, he had obtained a break-down of the number of transactions handled by the Live Stock Records office during the first six months of the year, and an arrangement had been made whereby the Club would not pay the monthly levy ($2,200.00) for the month of August, and the monthly levy for the remaining months of the year would be dropped from $2,200.00 to $2,000.00.

ACTION: The Board complimented Director Farmer on the action taken, and directed the Secretary, when setting up the financial statement for the first six months, to allow for Records office costs the sum of $9,495 (this being the figure reached by multiplying the number of transactions for the first six months by 45 cents per transaction) and after the said adjustment had been made to forward each member of the Board a financial statement as revised.

REPORT: The Secretary reported that he had, as directed by the Board, obtained opinoins as to whether or not it would be advisable to dispose of the Club's holdings of $10,000 5% C.N.R. bonds, due February 1st, 1954, and replace these bonds through purchase of Dominion of Canada or Provincial bonds, and further reported that the opinions which he had obtained indicated that it would be a matter of preference as to whether or not such action should be taken.

RESOLUTION: Following discussion, it was regularly moved by Director Boughs, seconded by Director Mrs. Brown:

"THAT, the President (W. J. Risewick) and the Secretary-Treasurer (N. F. Brown) of The Canadian Kennel Club Incorporated be and are hereby authorized to sell, on the Club's behalf, Canadian National Railway bonds (No. 664 and No. 673 inclusive, due February 1st, 1954), are authorized to complete all such documents and forms as may be required by the Bank of Montreal and transfer agents in the sale of said bonds, are authorized to use the seal of the Club in connection with the completion of such documents and forms as may be required in connection with such sale; and all the proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be deposited to the credit of the Club in its account with the Bank of Montreal (Bay and Bloor Branch, Toronto)."

Motion carried.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed, following the sale of these bonds, to purchase Province of Ontario bonds (new issue) in the amount of $11,000.00.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Vice-President Riedel, seconded by Director Boughs:

"THAT, these applications be approved conditional: (1) the applications comply with the applicable rules; (2) that the residents of the United States selected to judge dog shows are licensed by The American Kennel Club to judge the breeds set out in their respective assignments reported by tht Secretary; (3) That the lists for shows and trials to be held outside the Province of Ontario are approved by the local provincial Director." Motion carried.

SUBJECT: The Secretary reviewed correspondence with Director Mrs. Alsen regarding the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association's desire to hold a sanction show at Duncan on September 26th.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to inform Director Mrs. Alsen that the Board had no objection to such show providing Mrs. Alsen approved and also providing the sanction show date fee of $15.00 was paid.

SUBJECT: The Board reviewed its earlier discussions regarding the adoption of special rules relating to National Championship Retriever Stakes held as provided for in Section 21 of Chapter 10 of the Field Trial Rules and Regulations.

ACTION: Following discussion the Board adopted the following special rules which, subject to changes made from time to time by the Board of Directors, it ordered effective in connection with such special stake:

1. Only the winning dog is to be named at this trial and that dog is entitled to the official designation "NATIONAL RETRIEVER CHAMPION OF 1950".
   (NOTE—The judges are to select a reserve to the winning dog but such selection is not to be considered an official award but is to be made only as a precaution should it be necessary to cancel the award to the winning dog. The reserve selection is to be marked in the judge's book but no announcement or other recognition is to be made of such selection).
2. All Retrievers and Irish Water Spaniels which placed first, second, third or fourth in the Open All Age Stake at a Retriever trial held under the Field Trial Rules and Regulations of The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. in 1950 shall be entitled to be entered in this Stake and, except as otherwise provided in these Special Regulations, the owners of such dogs shall be invited to enter such qualifying dogs.
3. Owners of dogs qualifying for entry in this stake shall be invited, by registered mail, to make entry of a qualifying dog or dogs. Invitation shall be accompanied by a Post Office Department card (No. 39B) "Acknowledgment of Receipt", and all such receipts must be forwarded to the Canadian Kennel Club along with the official returns for this Stake.
4. Ribbon: To the winner only—The 1950 Championship blue rosette.
5. To the winner only—such prizes as may be offered in the premium list for the stake.
6. The stake must have at least ten tests or series, five of which shall be held on land for upland game, and five on water for water fowl.
7. Owners invited to enter qualifying dogs are to have not less than two weeks in which to decide whether to enter a qualifying dog or dogs and shall be provided with sufficient entry forms (one for each dog invited) together with the following information: Dates of trial, exact place where trial will be held, names of approved judges, information regarding the stake and what a dog must have accomplished in order to qualify for entry, date of closing of entries, prize or prizes offered, entry and other fees, name and full address of person to whom entries are to be mailed. Owners are to be advised that entries received after entries close will not be accepted, and the owners of invited dogs should be advised to send entries by registered mail. Persons entering a dog in the stake are to be required to certify that any dog which they enter qualify according to conditions laid down in part two of these Special Regulations.
8. Any information furnished by the Canadian Kennel Club Inc. regarding wins of dogs at trials held under its rules is entirely without prejudice to The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. for such information is intended solely to assist the organization staging the stake. The responsibility for determining the dogs which qualify and are entitled to be invited rests entirely with the organization staging the stake.
9. Not less than three judges shall officiate.
10. The organization staging the stake shall name a Field Trial Committee of five to manage the stake and all arrangements connected with such stake. The Field Trial Marshall shall be Chairman of the Committee which shall also deal with any protests.
11. Within ten days after the trial the organization staging the stake shall submit the following to The Canadian Kennel Club:

(a) A full list of the names of the persons (and their addresses) invited to enter a dog or dogs in the stake, and the names of the dogs owned by such persons;
(b) A full list of the owners who entered dogs in the stake;
(c) All entry forms;
(d) The name (and full particulars) of the winning dog (also the name of the dog selected as reserve to the winning dog) certified to over the signatures of the officiating judges;
(e) All recording and listing fees set by The Canadian Kennel Club Inc.
(f) Information regarding each of the tests conducted on land and water.

12. Except where such Field Trial Rules and Regulations are inconsistent with any of these Special Regulations, the Field and Trial Rules and Regulations adopted by The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. shall apply in connection with this stake.
13. Regardless of any wins earned by their dogs, no person denied the right, by The Canadian Kennel Club Inc., to enter dogs at trials held under Canadian Kennel Club rules shall be entitled to enter dogs in this stake.

SUBJECT: The Board discussed Director Farmer's suggestion that provision be included in the rules that The Canadian Kennel Club is in no way responsible or liable for any accidents, damages or injuries occurring in connection with any competitive event held under the Club's rules.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to prepare, for the consideration of the next annual meetings proposed amendments intended to incorporate this provision in the various rules adopted by the Club and presently in effect.

SUBJECT: The Secretary reported that the National Retriever Club (Canada) Ltd. had selected the following to officiate as judges of the National Championship Retriever Stake which it is scheduled to stage on November 3rd, 4th and 5th, 1950:

Dr. E. H. Sproston, Vancouver, B.C.; W. N. Egerton, Vancouver, B.C.; O. E. Krog, Vancouver, B.C.

ACTION: Director Mrs. Alsen having indicated approval of this list of proposed judges the Board agreed that the list be approved.

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from the Show Secretary of the Cape Breton Kennel Club regarding protests submitted in connection with its championship show held on September 22nd.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to suggest to the Cape Breton Kennel Club that it should deal with any protests, properly submitted to them, as provided in the Dog Show Rules and after its Show Committee has reached a decision on each protest, inform the persons concerned of such decision.

SUBJECT: The Secretary presented the C.K.C. Representative's reports on the following shows:

Guelph Kennel Club—August 19th.
Central Canada Exhibition—August 26th.
Toronto Kennel Club—September 1st and 2nd.
Canadian National Exhibition—September 4th, 5th and 6th.
Canine Breeders & Exhibitors' Association—September 7th
Canine Breeders' & Exhibitors' Association—Sept. 7th and 8th.
Western Fair Association—September 15th and 16th.

ACTION: The Secretary was also directed to prepare proposed amendments, for the consideration of the next annual general meeting, intended to delete from the Dog Show Rules the reference to the procedures prescribed for the ultimate selection of Best Canadian-bred and Best Canadian-bred Puppy.

SUBJECT: The Secretary asked for an instruction regarding the recording of points earned at championship shows for which no 50c recording fees had been received.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to write the clubs concerned regarding such fees and to withhold recording any wins or points pending receipt of the required fees.

1704. MEMBERSHIP FEES—1951

DISCUSSION: The Board discussed the action that should be taken by the Live Stock Records office regarding 1951 membership fees received before the end of the current year, particularly in view of the increased fees set out in the By-laws adopted at the 1950 Annual General Meeting, which By-laws may come into effect early in 1951.

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to instruct the Live Stock Records to deposit, to the credit of the persons concerned, any fees submitted in connection with 1951 and to inform the persons concerned of the action that has been taken pending further instructions regarding 1951 membership fees.

1705 (1681) GENERAL MEETING—JULY 10th

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to forward, to the Department of Agriculture, for its files, a copy of the minutes of the Special General Meeting held on July 10th, 1950.

Vice-President Riedel and Director Boughs left the meeting.

1706 (1682) RE-ORGANIZATION

REPORT: The Secretary reported that:

(1) Immediately following the meeting of the Board of Directors on August 16th he had, as directed by the Board, asked the Club's solicitor to proceed with application for a charter as agreed by the Board on July 24th;
(2) As a result of conference with Mr. Frank Wilkinson, K.C. (Club's solicitor) and Mr. Peter Wright on August 21st and 22nd, a second memorandum on re-organization had been prepared by these solicitors. In this memorandum attention was drawn to the following points:
  (a) If, as contemplated by the Board, the By-laws adopted at the 1950 Annual General Meeting were to be submitted for Ministerial approval following the issuance of a charter for the new organization, then it would be necessary for the new organization to be ready and able to operate by the 15th September, 1950, or it would be advisable to defer its operations until 7th January, 1951. The solicitors pointed out that the 1950 By-laws relating to elections differed in detail from the system set forth in the existing Constitution, and Ministerial approval of the 1950 By-laws, after September 15th, may result in the allegation that the elections for 1951 had been carried out in accordance with neither the existing Constitution nor the new By-laws.
  (b) To complete all arrangements by 15th September it would be necessary for the local members of the Board and the Club's solicitor "taking great and irretrievable responsibility in the matter"; in other words, it would not be possible to consult the Dominion-wide Board before all arrangements had been completed.
  (c) An alternative plan of procedure which would: (1) allow of the entire Board being consulted regarding all arrangements in respect of the new organization, (2) Permit of the entire Board participating in the application for the new charter; (3) eliminate possible confusion in respect of the elections for 1951; (4) provide for the new organization to begin operations early in January, 1951. This plan called for the Dominion-wide Board to be consulted, the application for the charter to be made by all members of the Board, the new organization to begin operations as soon as the Election Commission's report (for 1951 elections) was received, and the approval of the Minister of Agriculture on the 1950 By-laws to be sought after the 1951 election was completed).
(3) These developments had been reported to the President who was also of the opinion that no action should be taken and arrangements completed in respect of the new organization without the prior knowledge and participation of the full Board of Directors;
(4) On return from vacation he had, as directed by the President, forwarded a copy of the solicitor's second memorandum to each member of the Board;
(5) Vice-President Williams stated that it was questionable whether the action taken at the Special General Meeting on July 10th, regarding re-organization, was legal and pointed out that the decision reached at that meeting in respect of re-organization was different from that contemplated at the 1950 annual meetings;
(6) Director Mrs. Randall endorsed, with two minor suggested changes, the plan outlined by the Club's solicitor in his second memorandum;
(7) Director Biggar agreed that it would be inadvisable to arrange for the 1950 By-laws to become effective before the 1951 elections were complete and suggested that as the new organization could not begin operations before 1951 the entire matter be deferred to the 1951 annual meetings;
(8) Director Mrs. Alsen "opposed all actions not approved by the members in the proper manner";
(9) Director Pratt approved plans calling for submission of 1950 By-laws to the Minister for approval and application for the new charter to govern dog shows, field trials, etc.

DISCUSSION: The President referred to the accusations against certain members of the Board regarding their intentions in respect of this new organization and suggested that it would be advisable to have the original by-laws of the new organization formulated, for the consideration of the full Board of Directors, by a special committee composed of members who are not on the Board of Directors at the present time. He further suggested that, in view of the confidence implied by the selection of five members at the Special General Meeting held on July 10th, the special committee be composed of the same five members.

RESOLUTION: It was regularly moved by Director Mrs. Brown, seconded by Director Farmer:

"THAT, because of their intense interest in the welfare of the Canadian Kennel Club, a special committee composed of Dr. J. A. Campbell, Dr. W. Shute, George P. Davies, Wm. A. Harris and Peter Smith, or such of them as are willing to act, be appointed to draft, for the consideration of the full Board of Directors and members, by-laws which are to accompany the application for charter for governing of dog shows, field trials, obedience trials, speed trials, and that in the event that any of the members named herein is unwilling or unable to serve on such committee, the President name another member or members to serve in his or their stead". Motion carried.

ACTION: It was agreed that the President would:
(a) Write to each of the five persons named in the foregoing resolution and explain the Board's decision in respect of the "Board of Governors" and formulation of the by-laws for the new organization;
(b) Write Dr. J. G. Taggart, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and report what is being done in respect to re-organization;
(c) Address a message to the members outlining not only the situation in respect to re-organization but also in respect to such other major items as identification, finances, etc.

1707 (1638) BRAQUE SAINT GERMAIN

REPORT: Director Farmer reported that although he had made a search of the library at Ottawa he was unable to locate any authoritative information on the breed known as "Braque Saint Germain."

DISCUSSION: The Board reviewed its earlier decision (see item No. 1664) regarding the application for registration of a "Langharische Duitsche Staande Hond" and agreed that the same conditions should apply in connection with the "Braque Saint Germain".

ACTION: The Secretary was directed to inform J. A. Robitaille, who had written on behalf of Mr. Dupuis (importer of the dog) of the Board's decision.

1709 (1680) FOXHOUND TRIAL RULES

REPORT: Director Farmer reported that he had contacted officials of the All Canadian Foxhunters' Association with a view to meeting for the purpose of discussing proposed arrangements and rules for Foxhound trials, but nothing had been done in response to his suggestions regarding such meeting.

ACTION: The matter was ordered tabled.

1710 (1666) FIELD TRIAL REPRESENTATIVE (QUEBEC)

SUBJECT: The Secretary read a letter from Director Mrs. Mack recommending the appointment of C. C. Costar as Field Trial Representative (Quebec) for the balance of 1950.

ACTION: The matter was ordered held over for further consideration.

1711. ADJOURNMENT

On motion by Director Mrs. Brown, duly seconded and carried, this meeting of the Board adjourned at 9.40 p.m. to reconvene at the call of the President.

(NOTE: These minutes are subject to correction when presented to the Board for adoption.)

ADDITIONAL

INFORMATION ON NOSE-PRINTING

The following information is provided for the guidance of those using this method of identification

How To Take Nose-Prints

For the information of those using this method of identification we would report that the following method of procedure, in taking prints, has proven satisfactory.

1. A small amount of tube ink (see below) is placed on the smooth surface of a piece of wood, glass, or other smooth surfaced material and is spread evenly on such surface.

2. Excessive moisture is removed from the dog's nose by cloth or other absorbent material.

3. Using tip of index finger, a small amount of ink is spread as evenly as possible across area of nose to be nose-printed. The amount of ink to be used and the extent to which the ink is spread by finger-tip can best be determined by experiment.

4. Take an official nose-print form (or plain paper when experimenting) and grasp it firmly, at centre of its outer edges, by the finger-tips of each hand, holding the form in a vertical position.

5. Person taking print (while dog's head is firmly held by another person) takes position directly in front of dog, facing its nose and holding the form (still in vertical position) so that gummed side is toward holder of form.

6. Move form forward till contact is made, at centre of form, with nose, then carry outer edges of form slightly more forward so as to allow for curvature of dog's nose.

7. As soon as print is taken, remove form by quick backward movement of hands.

8. Set print to one side until ink is thoroughly dry.

As a suggestion to those nose-printing such breeds as Boxers, Bulldogs, Pekes, etc., make fold in the form about one-third from bottom of form, and in taking print see that fold is directly opposite the lowest section of the nose to be printed. Straighten out form after print is taken.

Care should be exercised, when folding the form, to see that gummed edge folded back does not adhere to gummed section unto which it is folded.

General Information

1. TWO nose-prints, on official numbered forms, will be required with the application for registration of a single dog identified, for registration purposes, by this method.
2. New applications for registration are now available. These forms provide a section where the applicant for registration is to insert the numbers appearing on the official nose-print forms accompanying the application for registration of an individual dog.
3. Applicants using the old style application for registration forms should place the following information, IN INK, at the left hand side of the form (turn form on its side to do this):

   "Nose-prints No.—— and No.—— enclosed with this application". This should also be done with applications previously submitted to the Canadian National Live Stock Records, which were returned for further identification, and the registration fee in effect at the time the application was first received at the Records office will apply. It is not necessary to make out new applications for registration providing the originals are in order.
4. The two nose-prints for each dog need not necessarily bear consecutive numbers. For example the nose-prints for a dog may be No. A25 and No. A32. (DO NOT forget to indicate the letter appearing with the numbers on the nose-print form). DO NOT place more than one nose-print on a single nose-print form. It is not necessary to account for unused or spoiled nose-print forms. Spoiled nose-print forms should be promptly destroyed.

   Nose-print forms need not necessarily be used by the person to whom they were sold; there is no objection to such forms being used by other breeders.
5. DO NOT attach or adhere nose-print forms to the application for registration form or to any other enclosure being forwarded to the Live Stock Records office. DO NOT write or typewrite on the nose-print forms.
6. It is strongly recommended that persons using this method of identification experiment, on plain paper, in the taking of prints in order that they may obtain experience before turning to the use of the official forms.

Other Nose Print Ink Available

It has been found that excellent prints can be obtained by following the method, outlined above, and using the same type of ink that was used, for nose-printing purposes, some years ago. In order to accommodate those who would wish to use such ink, arrangements have been made so that a two-ounce tube of this ink may be obtained from the Canadian Kennel Club, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ont., on payment of 75c. Official nose-print forms (30 for 25c) can be obtained by forwarding order, with covering payment, to the Canadian Kennel Club. No C.O.D. orders please.

FEED SOLID GRO-PUP AND SAVE!

GRO-PUP is a solid food—not 70% water like most canned dog foods. You add the water.

1 Yes, you can feed Gro-Pup and save—less than half the cost of most canned dog foods. Why? Because Gro-Pup is solid nourishment—through and through!

2 Yes, GRO-PUP contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need. Easy to digest, ready in seconds. No wonder it's the food selected by so many famous breeders.

3 And dogs really go for Gro-Pup cubes. These hearty bite-size chunks require good chewing—help keep teeth clean, gums firm! In 2-lb. and 25-lb. sizes.

Also in meal form:
2, 5, 25-lb. SIZES

Three year old bitch Imported from U.S.A. She is NOT a top quality show dog but her breeding can hardly be improved upon. Has had two litters, from different males, she raised them all, every pup was very sound and of excellent quality. This bitch has a wonderful disposition, marvellous with children, obedient, handles well and no bad habits.

Also one bitch pup 6 months old from her last litter.

These dogs are only sacrificed because of my continued ill health and will be a bargain to someone.

"Bonnet and her pups are in excellent condition . . ."

The above snapshot shows Grafmars Sun Bonnet, one of the few Weimaraners (as yet) in Canada, and her litter, believed to be the second of the breed to be whelped in this country.

Jack Mayer, Jr., owner of Coverdale Brittany Kennels, Gunningsville, N.B., sent us this picture with this comment: "Bonnet was imported from the U.S.A. by R. T. McCully of Moncton. She has been fed Purina since her arrival, and both Bonnet and her pups are in excellent condition.

"I have been feeding Purina Dog Chow to all my dogs in training and also my brood bitches, and find it not only a perfectly balanced dog food but most economical to use."

PURINA DOG CHOW IS THEIR CHOICE

You'll find, if you investigate, that a great many breeders in the top-quality group consistently feed Purina Dog Chow. They want a ration that consistently delivers palatability, full nutrition, and economy — and Dog Chow is built to do just that.

Maybe, because so many "big" breeders make Dog Chow their choice, and it has such a reputation for high quality, you have felt that it must be high-priced. Actually, it isn't. Check with your local Purina dealer, at his Store with the Checkerboard Sign, and you'll be pleasantly surprised!

If you buy in substantial enough quantity to come under the provisions of the Purina Courtesy Card plan, you'll be even more pleasantly surprised. Better check with your dealer about that, too.
