An Apology to Our Readers

Several production delays combined to postpone the announced publication date of the combined July and August, 1953, issues of DOGS IN CANADA. We regret that our readers — and some of them voiced their impatience — had to wait a few days longer for this "Midsummer" edition. But we feel sure they will understand a staff temporarily on a one-man basis and somewhat delayed by a death in the family, is faced with an extra burden. Late arrival of needed advertising plus vacation-time mechanical backlogs from over-capacity orders added to the production setback.

Elsewhere we have outlined a strict policy on deadlines for both editorial and advertising matter in forthcoming issues. We hope that we shall have the co-operation of everyone in our effort to deliver DOGS IN CANADA on schedule.—I. H. M.

On Picking Judges

SHOULD dog clubs which sponsor shows have the right to pick their own judges? This was the question asked unidentified exhibitors recently in the Detroit area and instead of the editor's opinion this issue here are these opinions as reported in the press.

According to a Detroit newspaper, the average fancier who enters a few shows each year claims the practice is unfair. Said the paper: One fancier put it this way:

"In all other sports, such as baseball, hockey, football, boxing and what have you, club owners having nothing to say as to who will judge or umpire. That's done by leagues or associations—not individual clubs.

"In dog shows if the sponsoring club does not like a certain judge he is not selected.

"For instance most dog club officials own kennels. When his club is sponsoring a show, he seldom enters his dogs in his own meet. But a few weeks later he may be travelling to another show, where he will run into one of his "favorite" judges.

"You can bet he won't get the worst of it when one of his dogs comes before his pet judge

"As a result you will see numerous dogs crowned champions each year that no more deserve to be champs than an alley mongrel. On the other hand there's many good dogs that never get to be champions because they are not in the clique.

"Let the Kennel Club assign all judges to shows: The names of the judges should be withheld until the day of the show. That's the way they do it in all other sports events—why not dog shows?"

A. V. "Bert" Martin Dies in Maritimes

By GEOFFREY G. RYDER

ANOTHER former Canadian Kennel Club director has been added to those who have "passed on" in 1953. A. V. "Bert" Martin whose Oakland Collies were well-known, as he was, through Canada and the United States died in May just about three weeks after the death of another former Maritimes director, Wendell P. "Dinty" Moore.

In the last 28 years, there have been few shows in the maritimes which "Bert" Martin has missed, either as an exhibitor or an official. He has figured prominently in the canine affairs of the region.

A breeder of many champions, he was believed to be the first Canadian breeder to have a dog win both Canadian and American titles. This dog's bloodlines—Can. and Am. Champion Major Lukeo—will be found in many American Rough Collies today.

He was at one time president of the first dog club in Nova Scotia, the N.S. Kennel Club, and later the Bedford K.C. into which the N.S. Club was absorbed. Later, he served as president of the Halifax Kennel Club which in turn had absorbed the Bedford club.

Mr. Martin was a member of the CKC for nearly 30 years and a director for three, one term being during the club's jubilee.

Due to ill health, he was forced to dispose of his kennel within the last year.

At his funeral, the dog fraternity was well represented. His many friends remember him as a real sportsman and one of the stalwarts of the game.

To both "Bert" and "Dinty" whose death was reported in the June issue, it is "Hail and Farewell" to two grand sportsmen and true gentlemen. The Maritimes will certainly feel their loss.

Our Frontispiece

The foremost Best-in-Show winning Kerry Blue Terrier in North America today is our cover dog this issue. She is Canadian and American Champion Miss Showoff of Cangewaugh, owned by Mrs. M. Eileen McEachren of Tailteann Kerry Blue Kennels, R.R. No. 1, Todmorden, Ontario, a few miles northeast of Toronto on Steele's Avenue East.

Not only is Miss Showoff one of the leaders in the Canadian Best in Show derby for 1953, but she has been highly successful in a number of dog shows in the United States. This champion of two countries has compiled an enviable record since she first entered the show ring and her long list of top awards — Best in Show, Reserve Best in Show, Best in the Terrier Group and Best of Breed — are the outstanding achievements which would make any owner of a 2½-year-old Kerry extremely proud.

Miss Showoff is adding to the laurels which many outstanding Kerry Blues have brought and are continuing to bring to Tailteann.

Mechanics of Dog Breeding

By F. J. "BOB" BARTOS

Mr. Bartos, manager of Carnation Farm Kennels, Wash., has had extensive experience in some of the largest kennels in the United States.

THE mechanics of breeding purebred dogs is often confused and mishandled, because of the lack of understanding of basic fundamentals. A great deal has been written and published on the reproductive system of the dog, but little concerning the techniques of breeding. In order to bring about a method of management in the breeding of dogs, a review of information on the reproductive system should be made and applied to one's practice.

THE BITCH IN SEASON

The bitch in season presents a series of visible reactions, which are brought about by the internal processes of the estrum cycles. The mucous membrane lining the vulva and vaginal region is continuous with that of the uterus and fallopian tubes, and therefore visibly reflects the progress of estrum. This is an important aid in a practical sense and a help in judging when to breed the bitch so that the ova or eggs are most likely to be present and ready for fertilization by the male sperm cells.

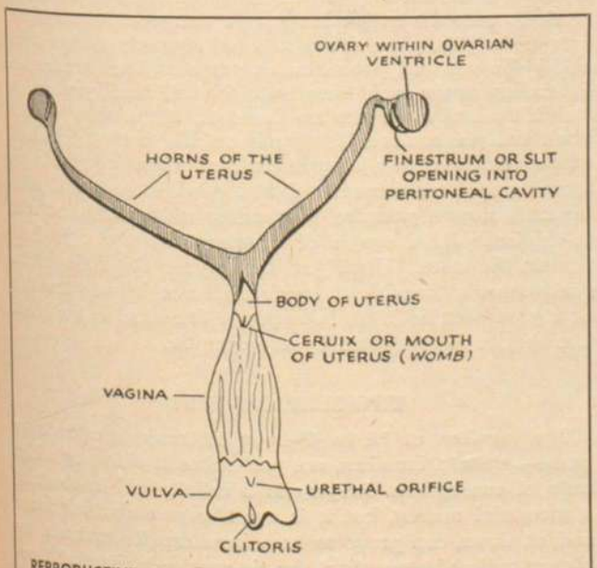
The proestrum period is indicated by hemorrhage from the mucous membrane lining the uterus. This is noticeable, externally, as a heavy, dark-red discharge, which gradually lightens in color until it becomes clear. This is external evidence that the hormones are preparing the uterus for the implantation of the fertilized ovum as it descends through the fallopian tube, from the ovarian capsule.



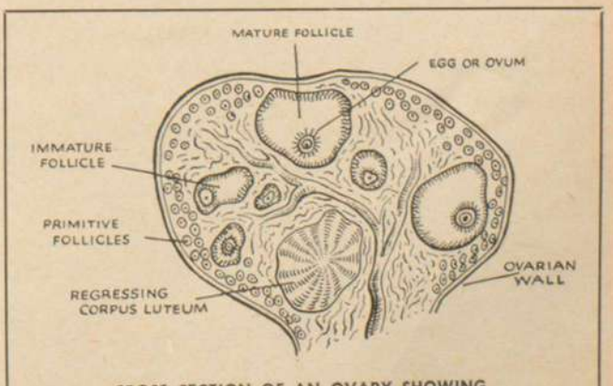
REPRODUCTIVE SYSTEM OF THE FEMALE WITH THE VULVA—VAGINA—CERVIX—BODY OF UTERUS LAID OPEN.

It is during this period of color discharge that the old surface cells are shed and a new layer of highly specialized cells are developed in the uterus to receive and nourish the fertilized ovum. Without this sequence, the fertilized ovum, unable to find a proper site for developments, fails to implant and grow. On the second and third day, after the first visible signs of a dark-red discharge from the vulva, a decided amount of congestion and swelling of the vulva becomes evident.

These external manifestations indicate what is transpiring in the ovaries themselves. It is during this period that a great many ova are beginning to ripen within the ovaries. Each ovum is contained within a follicle, (Graffian Follicle), which is a small sac growing towards the outer surface of the ovary. This sac fills with a fluid, manufactured by the ovary, which contains the follicular hormone. This follicular hormone is responsible for the many changes involved in the development of sexual desire in the female. The follicles fill and distend until one or several rupture, releasing the ova into the tip (fimbria) of the ovian duct which surrounds the ovary. Immediately, in all the follicles, a mass of cells begins to grow. These rapidly form little bodies which are called luteal bodies (Corpora Lutea). The luteal bodies secrete a hormone which, when a sufficient amount has been manufactured, puts an end to the mating cycle.

As the congestion and swelling develops in the reproductive tract, the surface cells of the uterus are being discharged in the flow from the vulva. The follicles are enlarging to the bursting stage, until a climax is reached; when the follicles rupture, releasing the mature ova, the luteal bodies then begin to form and the congestion in the entire tract begins to subside. This is noticed externally by the red discharge lightening in color to a pale red or clear fluid; and by the hard swollen vulva, beginning to soften.

Often the bitch will stand for the dog while the vulva and vaginal tract are still very congested, only to pull away or fight when the dog makes a contact for entrance. Even though she may stand for the service, the male usually is unable to tie the bitch, due to the mechanical interference of her small congested vagina, which prohibits the male from making a complete penetration. This forces the male's locking glands out of the vagina as they swell upon ejaculation, or he is never able to get beyond the vaginal sphincter muscle, thereby preventing a tie service.



CROSS SECTION OF AN OVARY SHOWING DEVELOPING FOLLICLES.

WHEN TO BREED

As a general rule, we find that around the 10th to 12th day the congestion begins to lessen, whereupon making a digital examination, we find the vagina dilating and softer. As ovulation usually coincides with the marked reaction of the vulva becoming soft and flabby, this provides the best indication as to when to breed the bitch successfully. The acceptance of the dog by the bitch, generally precedes this condition by several days, and if bred on the first day of acceptance, usually results in a miss.

It is therefore understandable that breeding by the calendar is not good practice. Each bitch and each estrum period is a case unto itself. In order to have the proper ovulation and field for development of the fertilized ovum, the entire hormone system must be in balance, with no mechanical hindrance such as cystic ovaries, etc. The development of estrum will necessarily vary in individual dogs. One bitch may be receptive to the dog and ready to conceive on the fifth day, another on the 15th, or maybe not until the 20th day. Since there is so much variation in bitches, it is better to breed them on evidence of the external genitals, as described above.

We find it best to keep the stud entirely away from any bitch in season. When you think she is about ready to breed, by seeing that the congestion is lessening in the vulva, discharge color lightening up, etc., introduce her to the stud. This introduction generally leads to preplay, which will indicate just how receptive the bitch is, and will have the effect of bringing the stud's interest to a high point. Some bitches will stand and twist their tails, while others will fight; consequently we govern our handling accordingly.

If the bitch appears agreeable, and the dog interested, we place the bitch on a table and make a digital examination. First, clean away any excessive growth of hair surrounding the vulva region. Next take a large piece of cotton and drain the anal glands, by pressing firmly, both sides of the rectum, at the same instant. Then wash the hands very thoroughly in some good antiseptic solution, rinsing well in clear water.

Use a latex cot (finger cover) on the index finger and lightly lubricate with one of the water soluble jells, such as K.Y. lubricant, and insert into the vagina. If there are any fibres or webs across the vaginal tract, they should be ruptured, either manually or surgically, and the vaginal tract dilated by simply using side traction. These fibres or webs occur in virgins and may reoccur in maternal bitches. Dilation may be aided by the use of a human rectal speculum, which lubricated and expanded gradually, will exhaust the vaginal sphincter muscle, and bring about a relaxation of the entire vagina.

A male, inserting, will often hit a fibrous obstruction or a very constricted vagina. He will then back off far enough so that the locking glands will not be inserted past the sphincter muscle of the vagina, thereby, losing the tie. This is also one reason why a male will make one or two attempts to breed a bitch—then refuse to mount again.

Introducing the dog to the bitch (Preplay)

MAY NEED MOUTH TIE

If the bitch is ugly, but upon examination we feel that she is ready to breed and we have given her another day or so to show a receptive mood, we then make a mouth tie, using a double length of two-inch bandage. This is looped once around the muzzle with a cross tie under the jaws, then passed up and around the head, back of the ears and tied on top. The mouth tie keeps the bitch from being able to bite and gives your assistant a firm handle to aid in controlling the front of the bitch. It is definitely desirable to have an assistant help in the breeding of dogs. With your assistant holding the head of the bitch, he is in position to aid the stud in maintaining balance, if necessary, and to subdue any obstinate reactions of the bitch, thus leaving you free to manipulate the male and follow through.

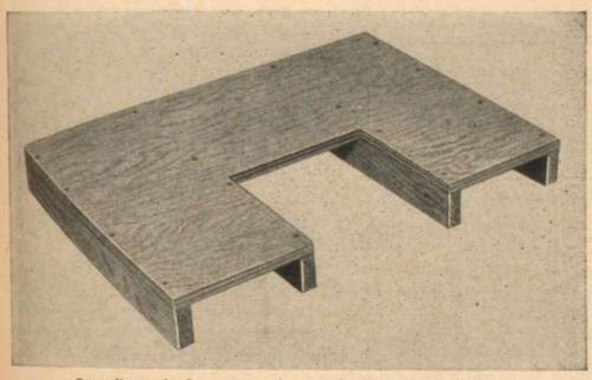
It is often a bit difficult for males of certain breeds to maintain complete balance and control of the situation. This is especially true of the short-legged dogs with deep briskets. This handicap can be overcome by using a platform (see photo) and by having an assistant hold the head of the bitch to aid in maintaining the stud's balance. Kneel on the right side, facing the rear of the bitch. Call the stud up. Then, preferably, lift the male onto the platform and into mounted position. With the left hand under the bitch, roll the folds of the vulva open, but do not distort so that the vagina is constricted. With the right hand, place the male's penis in correct position for proper entrance. As he moves into the vagina, place the right hand squarely on his stern, below the tail and push him on for complete penetration. By feeling at the same time, with the left hand, you can be sure if the locking glands are inserted. If the male starts to swell and you can feel the glands outside, back the stud off of the bitch, and in a moment or two, when the glands are again normal, start over. With a good contact, and after the male stops a pumping-to-treading action, hold him solid to the bitch for a couple of minutes, with the right hand against the stern. When you feel or see the throb of the stud's anus at regular intervals, and not before turn him slowly, so that he faces in opposite direction to the bitch. The service is completed by a proper tie.

TWO SERVICES BEST

Two services at 24 to 48-hour intervals, considering a positive tie as a breeding, are preferable in obtaining a high ratio of conceptions. Preplay is a definite aid in obtaining a successful mating, but it is not always a deciding factor and, at times, can prove to be a handicap. To maintain the highest ratio of conception, the tie-service is the vital function of a fertile male's part in that it follows nature's way of procreating the canine family.

The theory that the dog ejaculates in a three-stage sequence was first suggested by the Russian scientist Ivanhof. Later findings tend to substantiate his thinking. The first ejaculation lasts 6 to 26 seconds, then is succeeded in a like interval of time by a second ejaculation, which lasts 10 to 44 seconds. The third ejaculation lasts from 4 to 16 minutes or longer. The quantity of semen produced by these first and second ejaculations is from 1 to 2 cc in each case, but the third ejaculation may amount to 10 cc or even to as much as 20 cc. These amounts, of course, vary with the size of the animal. It is this third ejaculation, which the male continues while tied to the bitch, that definitely is the important one in obtaining the best ratio of conceptions, although pregnancy may result in some cases from either of the initial ejaculations. The average of conceptions from non-ties is quite low.

The semen of the dog dies rapidly upon exposure to light and air. The supposition is that, upon being deposited in the vaginal tract of the bitch, it normally remains active up to a 48-hour period. A large amount of seminal fluid, deposited in a good service under normal conditions, is lost externally from the vulva upon completion of the tie. A portion of the semen travels up the uterine horns and ovarian tubes to fertilize the ova as they are liberated from the ovary; with a quantity escaping through the finestrum or slit at the upper end of the ovarian duct into the peritoneal cavity, there to be absorbed by the bitch.



Breeding platform may be made in various sizes.

One difficulty we sometimes encounter is the stud which shows little interest, though the bitch is receptive. Experience has shown that, if we feed the male a small meal and then try again within a few minutes, we can generally promote a successful service. The male may regurgitate the food, but this does no harm.

In starting a young, non-too-aggressive male, place an older and very receptive bitch in his run and let them play. When the male has reached a high point of eagerness, ease up to the bitch and gradually help the male into position. Do not try too hard for a tie service, the main point being to get the male to ejaculate and the locking glands to swell. With patience you can generally bring about a climax. When the male starts to swell, if he is inserted far enough for a tie, well and good. If not, grasp the penis back of the glands, between the first and second finger of the left hand and draw the penis between his hindlegs, by turning the male just as though he were tied to the bitch. Hold the penis in this position until the glands deflate naturally. If desired, rubber gloves may be worn during this operation. Otherwise the hands should be clean. Then next morning, attempt the breeding again. Usually the young stud will tie naturally this time, but occasionally the educational procedure will need to be repeated. This method also is of value with a stud that has not been used for some time, since it apparently stimulates a sluggish dog and tempers one that is inclined to work too fast.

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION

At times, due to a great difference in size or for an unexplainable reason, we are unable to get a tie service. A held tie can be used to solve this problem.

Items used in preparing bitch for service.

When the male has inserted, and you can feel the locking glands beginning to swell outside the vulva, grasp the penis back of the glands with the spread fingers of the left hand. At the same time, hold the bitch firmly to the stud. Now turn the male as in a normal tie, retaining your hold of the locking glands, and grasp the tails of the two dogs with the right hand. You can, with these two hand holds, keep them tied for the complete service. By holding them in this manner until the male's glands deflate normally, you will get a very good percentage of conceptions. This method, we feel, is preferable to artificial insemination.

Although some of the first work with artificial insemination was done with the dog, and while the collection of the semen and the introduction of it into the bitch is not difficult, the results have not been too favorable. This is possibly due to the lack of a specific technique in the handling of the semen or to some peculiarity of the species

The use of hormones as an aid in the breeding of dogs has given variable results. If one feels that there is need for their use, he should seek the advice of his veterinarian.

It should be understood that success in breeding dogs can only come through a basic understanding of their reproductive systems, the mechanics of breeding, experience, and the application of good judgment at all times. Of these, the experience of "doing" and common sense are of the utmost importance.

Tragedy Stalks The Mountainside

By ALANDALE HASSELL

I AM GOING to tell you a story packed with beauty and intensely dramatic canine tragedy. Because it is absolutely true and shows so clearly the all-sacrificing love in which I believe the dog to excel all other living creatures, I like it as well as any story I have ever written or told. It should have a very special appeal to doggy people.

When I retired from radio in 1945 I did so in order to indulge a long established hankering to devote more time to my dogs. I motored right across the U.S. from coast to coast searching for bitches to breed to my ALANDALE PARADER. I was looking for show specimens that also possessed character plus. And I wanted these qualities when they had existed for generations believing firmly in the axiom "Marry not the maid who is the only good maid in the clan". One bitch I purchased from Edwin Pickhardt after staying at Sterling Kennels for three days and going over the more than 70 Collies there, was STERLING OF ALANDALE, 8 months old. We put her in the car and continued our journey.

The very first night I realized I had a dog of remarkable character. I was travelling with my three young daughters and a housekeeper. Joy, my youngest daughter who is a bit of a genius where dogs are concerned, was tremendously taken with the young bitch which we had decided to name "Char" after Charlotte, Ed Pickhardt's wife who had been so hospitable and kind to us. Char fully realized Joy's special attachment because when I took her with me to say good night to the girls after they were in bed at the auto camp, Char with a little whine jumped on to the foot of Joy's bed and by snuggling her head into the coverlet made it quite clear she wanted to stay the night. So gratefully including her in my goodnight kisses I left her there.

I had given instructions that under no circumstances must a door be left open or Char be allowed out of the cabin or car without a lead. We were right beside Highway No. 10 and I trembled to think how I would feel if I lost the bitch that had been my pick of the continent and for which I had paid more money than I cared to think about.

In spite of this a door was left open and Char got out. As soon as I realized she was gone, I frantically raced outside and started to call and whistle but Joy said, "Don't get excited Daddy, she'll come," then quietly called her. Sure enough round the corner of the cabin, with tail wagging, trotted my precious acquisition. Char went right up to Joy, licked her hand, then looked up at me with that true quizzical expression that makes a Collie seem forever smiling at the antics of the human race. Never once while we finished our journey to the Pacific or during the several weeks while the kennels and fences were built did she give us a moment's worry. She slept at the foot of Joy's bed and never wandered though she had complete freedom. I had confidence to give her that I can assure you.

KENNEL AT WHONOCK

When I located the kennel at Whonock I considered it ideal and very beautiful—a big old house of solid logs with huge stone open fireplace, in a most lovely rustic setting. Perched on tableland on the mountainside a thousand feet above the highway, it was surrounded by huge first growth B.C. Douglas firs and cedars, some of them eight feet through at the butt and towering majestically over 200 feet to the sky. Looking through them from the living room windows you saw the mighty Fraser River, miles wide, slowly meandering to the Pacific. Behind the river were peaceful farm lands and behind that again the mountains rose sharply.

A man who has lost his wife and has three girls still in school needs reminding that "God is in His Heaven and All is Well with the World." That inspiring conviction came to me many times through the magnificence of the view. A quiet mist condensed by the morning chill lay over the river. It filled the valley then rose in rolling, pure white clouds over which you could see the mountain peaks peeping through. Then behind it, all from out of glory, the sun rose. Its rays, separated into every color of the rainbow by the mist, illuminated the tops of the white clouds with beautiful soft colors that gradually grew more brilliant until they dissolved the mist and the river could be seen far below with its surface saturated with colors which slowly faded until day arrived.

We learned that Mr. Fred Stevenson, our nearest neighbor, had trained dogs in the Royal Air Force during the war. He gladly accepted the job of kennelman and the girls were soon affectionately calling him "Stevie".

Char once again demonstrated her remarkable character, for no man could come into the house while I was away and the girls were alone. A woman could, but not even Stevie dared venture in to get hot water to mix the dog food.

The tableland was large enough for the house, kennels, and three small runs, then it sloped quite sharply for perhaps a hundred feet to where a mountain stream rushed to the mighty Fraser. The opposite bank of the stream rose steeply then leveled off to enter woodlands of maple, birch and the occasional giant fir and cedar. There was ample shade. The ground drained off immediately after rain and being hard was excellent for the dogs' feet.

The gravel road from Whonock to the kennel was extremely steep. In some places where it was so narrow two cars could not pass there was a sheer drop over the side. Several families lived on the lower levels of the road and when there was any sound of a car on it the dogs raced happily down the bank, over the creek, up the other side and right around the two and a half acres we had fenced. This meant that in wet weather we could release the dogs, then telephone Stevie to toot the horn of his car. The dogs got a fast run of more than a mile in a few minutes and could be put back in the kennels without getting seriously wet. You could regulate the amount of strenuous exercise any dog received.

I have never seen a more perfect setting for a kennel but there were disadvantages as we learned to our sorrow.

PUT IN FUEL

As we approached the winter of 1949-50 we put in our winter's fuel. Five cords of logs for the open fireplace, several barrels of oil for the kitchen range and the heaters in the bedrooms and kennels. Here I must tell you that the coastal climate of B.C. is generally mild. The temperature in the winter seldom drops much below freezing and snow hardly ever lasts more than a few days. Of course, everything is built for these conditions.

The winter of 1949-50 was the most severe in the history of the province. Well, before Christmas I had serious fears that our fuel would not last. There was a foot of snow on the ground. At Alandale the thermometer was registering around zero; the steep road up to the kennel was all but impassable. I took the big Packard out, determined to get as much meat and fuel as possible. When ten miles from home I left the main highway to go into the mink ranch to get the meat I found the road completely blocked with snow drifts. I walked the mile through snow past my knees. The mink rancher was running short of meat but let me have what he could spare and tried to get it out to the road for me across a field with a team of horses and a wagon. Carrying those 50 pound blocks the last quarter mile was very tiring. As long as I live, and I sometimes think beyond, I shall never forget trying to get home. Although there was a snowplough ahead of me I could

Strict Deadline Policy Announced

MONTHLY publication of DOGS IN CANADA will resume with the "Showtime" issue for September, and with it starts a strict policy of deadlines. These must be kept in order that production and printing schedules may be met and the magazine will be off the press for distribution no later than the 27th or 28th of the month preceding the publication date.

Such a policy should mean that ordinary mail deliveries will be completed in British Columbia and Nova Scotia by the 7th or 8th of the month of publication. Areas closer to Toronto should get delivery progressively sooner with the Southern Ontario region complete by the 1st or 2nd.

Deadline for all copy is the 10th of the month preceding publication. That means that all copy should be sent to DOGS IN CANADA before the 10th — not the 15th or the 20th, etc., with the "hope that you can get us in."

CORRESPONDENTS, FREE - WILL CONTRIBUTORS AND ADVERTISERS SHOULD HAVE THEIR COPY IN THE MAIL NO LATER THAN THE 5th of the month preceding in order to insure its arrival in Toronto on time. (Early arrival gives the staff that much more time to process this copy.)

So that closing dates will be fair to all parts of the country, mailed copy will be accepted on the following basis:

Editorial Deadlines*

Ontario, Quebec—5 p.m., 10th preceding
Prairies—5 p.m., 11th preceding
B.C., Maritimes—5 p.m., 12th preceding

Advertising Deadlines*

Toronto area—5 p.m., 10th preceding
Ontario, Quebec—5 p.m., 11th preceding
Prairies—5 p.m., 12th preceding
B.C., Maritimes—5 p.m., 13th preceding

* If the deadline falls on a Saturday or Sunday, copy arriving up to 12 noon the following Monday will be accepted. NO CLUB NEWS, ETC., WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION IN THE FOLLOWING MONTH'S ISSUE AFTER THE ANNOUNCED DEADLINE and no new advertising orders will be accepted after the 13th of the month preceding (or the following Monday.)

Plan to send your copy on the 5th of the month preceding the publication in which you want it printed. This will not only help the small staff in processing your copy before the monthly "pile-up" comes but will make sure your copy is given early attention.

Give Your Dog Air

Is your dog an enthusiast for automobile rides? If he is, some time this summer you'll probably be faced with the problem of leaving him locked in your car.

You should avoid this practice as much as possible for it is often hard on your pet. But, if you have to leave your dog parked — for a short time only — make sure you leave your car in the shade and with some ventilation for the animal.

A couple of the car's windows should be lowered at least an inch to 1½ inches (if you must lock the car to prevent a theft) and the animal should not be left more than a few minutes during the heat of the day. (Of course, the same holds true in cold weather.) The car soon becomes stuffy and unbearable in hot weather and any living thing left under such circumstances is forced to suffer.

In order that cruelty can be avoided, a "breeze" or "draft" should circulate the air for your dog left in the car. This can often be done by opening a side front window slightly and the opposite side window at the back of the automobile.

Coronation Issue Read Far and Wide

THE far-reaching effect of DOGS IN CANADA's June "Coronation" issue has overwhelmed one of the magazine's biggest boosters, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson of Toronto. The Thompsons have already sold one of their fine Welsh Corgis (Pembroke) to a British buyer and have had letters of inquiry about their dogs from England, Ireland and the United States as well as Canada.

This fall, the Thompsons will ship one of their Dalmally Corgis to British Guiana as a result of their advertising in DOGS IN CANADA.

Here is what Mrs. Thompson says in part about her success with advertising in the magazine: "How far-reaching DOGS IN CANADA can be (is seen) when visitors from England (who saw the June issue of the magazine before coming to Canada) visit Dalmally to view our Corgis... We have sent the magazine to different owners of kennels in England and have developed pen pals that share goodwill, fine sportsmanship and information in the dog fancy.

"Dalmally is very proud of DOGS IN CANADA... we have made pen pals in Australia and South Africa. And from the four corners of the earth we have made valuable friends through DOGS IN CANADA."

Foxhounds Feature Of Obedience Trial

By LORNA CASGRAIN

UNQUESTIONABLY the stars and main attraction at the Mountain City Obedience Club's two trials recently were the foxhounds from the Lake of Two Mountains Hunt. By kind permission of the Master, Air Vice-Marshal Adelard Raymond, M.F.H., the hounds were exhibited in action, and what a wonderful show they put on. The trials were held at Senneville, Que., not far from Montreal, on the beautiful estate of Commander and Mrs. F. W. Angus.

Right on schedule each day, a note on the hunting horn signalled the huntsman, Raymond Cottier, to bring his hounds across the spacious lawn towards the waiting crowd. It was a sight not soon to be forgotten, the huntsman in traditional pink coat and mounted on his lovely grey mare, the hounds following in a pack, and the two "whips", Mrs. Angus and Mrs. F. H. Dillingham on their glossy thoroughbreds.

First they paraded the hounds at a walk, past the judging ring and around through the woods in a circle. Several of the watching dogs signified they would like to join the pack! Next time around they went at a jog-trot, calling to the hounds with the jargon and intonations peculiar to huntsmen and whippers-in for centuries, and at the same time dodging photographers who had stepped out of the crowd. Finally, sounding "Gone away!" on the horn, they broke into a gallop, down the driveway, through the woods and back, and around the orchard.

The obedience displayed by about eight couple of hounds (sixteen hounds) controlled only by voice and horn, was magnificent. They stayed right at the grey mare's heels, ignoring the spectators and the competitors with their dogs; except for one awkward moment on Sunday when several hounds stopped to inspect a large black poodle in the show clip, but with a sharp "'WARE FUR!" from the huntsman they turned away obediently. The poodle looked considerably relieved. "'Ware fur" means beware (stay away from) all fur bearing animals except foxes.

After the gallop, or "run", hounds were held up for a few minutes, then led away across the lawn, horses and hounds making a delightful picture as they disappeared through the trees. The MCOC is most grateful to the Lake of Two Mountains Hunt and its members for those marvelous displays and to Commander and Mrs. Angus for the use of their lovely home and grounds.

C.D.X. Work Is Easy

By ROMAINE JONES

ALL YOU have to do is take one dog, preferably a big, strong male, with four legs, a head and tail, make or buy a dumb-bell, collect some old boards and bricks from under the back porch for jumps and you are all set.

First of all, you pick up the dumb-bell in one hand, grab the dog in the other and say "take it". Don't be discouraged if the dog clenches his jaws shut as tightly as he can. Drop the dumb-bell and with both hands pry the jaws open with all your strength and then reach for the dumb-bell. You will find that as soon as you release your hold with one hand the jaws snap shut so in order to save your other hand you let go of the dog and then you are back where you started.

You go through this routine several times; in fact, you keep it up until the children come home from school and it is time to start lunch. After lunch you have a short nap on the living room sofa to recuperate.

Then you decide to try the jumps. You haul out the bricks, place three or four boards on them to form a broad-jump, put the dog on the lead, and with a dash you clear the broad-jump, while your dog, heeling at your side, very sensibly walks across. This is repeated over and over again until you are either in shape for the Olympics or ready to collapse.

At this point you go into the house to refer to Blanche Saunders work and noticing that it is only an hour until it is time to start supper you decide to call it a day.

After supper you tell your troubles to your husband who duly sympathizes and he, being the clever type, picks up the dumb-bell, shows it to the dog who is at the far end of the room and says "take it". The dog trots up to your husband, takes it in his mouth and trots back and forth in front of you several times until you feel an almost uncontrollable desire to let fly with a shoe.

Your husband stretches out full length on the sofa, saying, "I don't see why you had so much trouble", stretches out an arm and says "over" to the dog and the dog—blast him—clears the arm, dumb-bell and all.

Now, at this point, your hackles rise, so you set to and do homework every day faithfully and at the end of three weeks your dog gives in and takes the dumb-bell on command. He is also going over the jumps — in his own fashion.

Now you find your next trial is only one week away and you have high hopes. The dog is duly entered, groomed and you drive off to the show together in happy expectation. He seems to be feeling fit and happy as he nods to his canine classmates while you, in turn, nod to your human ones.

Your turn finally arrives and you enter the ring. Your dog heels well except for those times when you have to stop and wait for him to catch up with you. He does the "drop on recall" perfectly except for one thing. He didn't hear you the first time so you have to repeat the command. The "retrieve on the flat" isn't quite so good. He starts trotting toward the dumb-bell, halts, changes his mind and comes back without it. His "retrieve over the high-jump" isn't too bad. He at least takes the jump going in one direction. He walks over the broad-jump.

You are a good sport about the whole thing until you get your dog in the car then you turn to him and say, "What on earth possessed you to put on such a show?" He looks you straight in the eyes and answers, "Mum, I just wasn't in the mood today and that's that."

Southern Tier Again Caters to Canadians

CANADIAN exhibitors who travelled to the Southern Tier Kennel Club dog show in Hornell, N.Y., last year will find it doubly worthwhile to make the trip Sunday, August 16.

Fran Maher, chairman of the 1952 classic is again in charge, and with his able committees have gathered a list of premiums to offer this year's exhibitors exceeding the $3,000 cash and silver awards which attracted a record 550 purebred canines to the Maple City last year.

Long the talk of the show-circuit was the "get-to-gether" party held in the Rathskeller of the famous Old Ranger Brewery in Hornell. Plans have been made to present the party again this year for the benefit of the many exhibitors and handlers who will travel the 60 miles after the Finger Lakes Kennel Club show.

Scheduled to be held at Barton Hall on the Cornell University campus, the welcome addition of the Saturday date should tend to swell the entry list of the Southern Tier show that last year was presented as a single attraction.

With beautiful, shaded Maple City Park, as the site again, visitors can look forward to the same cool comfort which delighted the record crowd at the '52 show.

Colorful opening ceremonies will include raising of American and Canadian colors.

Chairman Maher has asked that all exhibitors and handlers await arrival of the Southern Tier Kennel Club premium list as the quantity and quality of the cash and silver trophies will make a weekend on American soil well worth the Canadian visitors while.

An excellent panel of American and Canadian judges has been submitted for approval.

Those desiring premium lists or housing accommodations are asked to write to the Southern Tier Kennel Club, Box 1, Hornell, N.Y.

JOSEPH PERKINS DIES

One of the old Airedale breeders and exhibitors in the Toronto area, Joseph Perkins, 82, died at the home of his daughter in Weston, Ont., in March.

Mr. Perkins will be remembered by oldtime Terrier breeders for his untiring efforts for the welfare of the breed, his unselfish assistance and friendly criticism to newer breeders and exhibitors. He came to Canada from Yorkshire, carrying with him the true conception of what an Airedale should be and his many friends attest to his continued efforts to improve the breed.

THE Northumberland and Durham Kennel Club has lined up four outstanding judges for its all-breed championship dog show and obedience trial on September 12 next at the Cobourg, Ontario, Memorial Arena. Two are Americans and two are Canadians.

Following are brief biographical sketches of these judges, outlining their experience in dogs.

MRS. VIRGINIA KECKLER

An attractive woman judge of 15 years' experience who has had assignments from New York to California leads the American end of the judges panel for the Cobourg show. She is Mrs. Virginia Keckler of Greenville, Ohio.

She and her husband have been in Great Danes for almost 20 years, owning and breeding some 57 Great Dane champions. They also have bred and owned Cocker Spaniels, Smooth Fox Terriers and Miniature Pinschers.

A member of the Great Dane Club of America, she is well known for her book "The Great Dane" which is now in its second edition.

GEORGE KYNOCH

A man who has had long experience in Sporting dogs will be one of the judges at this year's Northumberland and Durham show in Cobourg.

George Kynoch of Winnipeg brings with him the experience of having handled more than 150 dogs to Best in Show. He has bred and owned scores of champions of many of the top breeds.

He came to Canada in 1905 where he apprenticed in dogs in Toronto at one of Canada's largest kennels for $15 a month. Prior to service in World War I, he took boxcar loads of dogs to shows all over Western Canada and some to the east.

Mr. Kynoch has judged many of the largest Canadian shows from coast to coast — Victoria, Vancouver, C.N.E. (several times), Ottawa, Saint John, N.B., etc.

LOUIS K. SCHMIDT

Another top American judge for Cobourg is Louis K. Schmidt of Wooster, Ohio. He began breeding Cocker Spaniels in 1920 but refused to judge the breed until 1945 when he was well experienced.

From 1925 to 1945 when their kennels were hit by a disastrous fire, Mr. Schmidt and his wife kept from 30 to 40 brood matrons and studs for experimental purposes. From this experimental work in Cockers, checking color in inheritance, dominant and recessive characteristics and factor linkages, seven champions resulted. Several of these are still very dominant in the production of today's top quality platinum buff Cockers.

Mr. Schmidt who has had many judging assignments in the U.S. is a member of the Standards committee of the American Spaniel Club.

ALAN A. SHARP

A Canadian from Montreal will be judging obedience at Cobourg September 12th. He is Alan A. Sharp, first president of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club.

He has been interested in obedience training since 1946 and began judging at informal trials in 1948. He has held several other assignments in Ontario and Quebec and this year judged the foremost Ladies Kennel Club of Canada trial in Montreal.

Mr. Sharp has been prominent in the organization of obedience work in the Montreal area and is a charter member of the Montreal D.O.C., which he organized in 1948.

LEFT BEHIND

A forlorn paper shopping bag sat at the Coliseum following the Sportsmen's Show last March. Even the efforts of the gay red sweater couldn't cheer up the rubbers, extension cord and lunch dishes who were waiting for their owner.

The shopping bag has been waiting for some months now and is being cared for by Mrs. Alf Loveridge, 376 Lippincott Street, Toronto, LO. 3354. Although she has been good to it, it would prefer to be home again.

New Club Formed

A new dog club has been formed in the Vancouver area. It is the Memorial Kennel Club and recently held its first all-breed show at field house of the University of British Columbia. Best in Show went to Mrs. C. A. Melchers' Herder Firebrave Icelin, a Poodle.

Arthur Barker is president of the new club. Mrs. Dorothy Barrie is vice-president and Mrs. Wyn Barker is secretary-treasurer.

A well-known Canadian Collie breeder, William Powell of Toronto, judged the Western New York Collie Club specialty last month in Buffalo, N.Y. Some 600 Collies were entered.

Moose Jaw Colorful

A COLORFUL Coronation touch graced the Moose Jaw Kennel Club's dog show recently when little Donna Cushway, a four-year-old, dressed in red, white and blue, presented the trophies to winners.

The prize table was also decorated in red, white and blue which with the good weather helped to make the show an outstanding success.

Many exhibitors travelled a long distance with Maxine Beam and Polly Ayoub coming from Texas. Mr. and Mrs. A. Glenn came from Kimberly, B.C., with their Kerry Blues and Agness Hammond, the new Alberta CKC director was there for the first time with her Dachshunds. Others from a distance included Pat Randall, George Kynock and Hugh Crozier.

A prominent B.C. English Springer Spaniel, Champion Poplar Personality Pilot, owned by Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Busby of Abbotsford has passed on after a full life. Sire of several champions, he won during his show career 33 Best of Breeds, Best Canadian Bred and Best Canadian Bred Puppy as well as several placings in the Sporting Group. Leading Springer of Poplar Kennels at his death, he is sadly missed by his breeder-owners.

Manitoba Shows Prove Successful

By SUSAN BORSE

ONCE again the Civic Caledonian Rink was the setting for two successful all-breed championship dog shows staged by the Greater Winnipeg Ladies Kennel Club and the Fort Garry Kennel Club.

Best in Show at both events went to T. W. Wright of Fort William, Ont. Honors the first day were awarded to his Wire - Haired Terrier, Stra'ven Brigadier and the second day to a daughter of that dog, Rosalea of Thunder Bay.

(Other awards are listed officially in the Shows and Trials section of the magazine.)

Mrs. Pat Randall of Saskatoon judged the Ladies K.C. show the first day and W. D. Nixon of St. James, Man., was the Fort Garry show judge. Proceeds of the Fort Garry Club show were in aid of the Humane Society and Miss Sally Warnock of the society finished off the perfect day by presenting the Best in Show trophy.

Dr. H. J. Zahalka of Minnesota was a sad man at the shows. His champion German Shorthair Pointer died mysteriously last spring after winning several Best in Shows.

Much interest was added to the shows by the entry of a Lhassa terrier by Mrs. E. L. Ross of Fort William. This breed, we believe, has never been shown in Manitoba previously.

Canadians Big Winners

CANADIANS were the big winners at the Basenji Club of America's specialty show in Rome, N.Y., June 28.

Can. Champion Abakaru of Blue Nile, owned and handled by Mrs. A. D. Jenkins of Oak Ridges, Ont., was top dog. He was Best of Breed over an entry of 28 Basenjis. He now just lacks three points for his American championship.

The few Canadian dogs made a most creditable showing, practically sweeping the board. Reserve winner's dog was Ch. Joss of Glenairley, bred and owned by Mrs. J. W. Anderson of Victoria, B.C. Both the sire and dam of the winner's bitch, Fairmont Lynn Lysande, owned by Mrs. A. E. Westlin, Palisades, N.J., were bred by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Doane, Truro, N.S.

CORRECTION

The Poodle, PETICOTE DOMINO, shown at the Victoria City Kennel Club Show, March 28th, went Reserve Best in Show.

The German Shepherd Dog Breeder's Association

By MARY HART

THE club's first all-breed championship show—planned for so many months—has come and gone. Best in Show went to a Doberman Pinscher, Ch. Tatjan of Recklaw, owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. Wickstrom of Kitchener and a German Shepherd, owned by Anthony "Bib" Sacco of Niagara Falls, Ont., was given the Best Canadian Bred Puppy award. (Other results will appear in the official Shows and Trials section.)

The excellent panel of judges included: Frank Foster Davis, Ventnor, N.J., Wm. McDerment, M.B.E., Collingwood, Ont., Miss Marie Leary of Greenwich, Conn., who judged German Shepherds and J. J. Wodisky of Cleveland who judged obedience.

There was a large entry of 64 for Miss Leary and not once did we see one German Shepherd show lack of confidence in her. They say dogs always understand those who love and understand them and it appeared they all sensed this in Miss Leary and were all doing their best for her. Gleam of Volstar, bred and owned by George Taylor, went Best of Breed over six competing champions, and also won the Beau of Tammlar Memorial Trophy (donated by Mrs. Doris Wilson of Bronte) as Best Canadian Bred Shepherd.

First summer matinee show was staged by the club May 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Scott near Pickering. A new member, Mrs. Helen Cappelli of Hamilton, judged under the supervision of Mr. Scott. Doris Wilson's Beau Belle of Briardale went Best of Breed.

A second matinee was scheduled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wilson at Bronte June 28, with Murray Harris as judge and the writer acting as senior. The matinees provide exhibitors an opportunity to practise their dogs in ring manners for championship shows.

The club is also happy to note the many new members who have joined within the last few months.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada

By MARY E. SOUTHCOTT

SUMMER has finally arrived with plenty of outdoor dog activities. The club's first matinee show was held at the home of members Arnold and Anne Schmocker, Cooksville, Ont., May 24, and proved a huge success. Eric Jackes did a highly commendable job of judging the bench show while Larry Snell, along with Joe Sheppard as student judge scored the obedience tests most efficiently. Members from as far distant as London, Ont., attended. The next Club matinee show is to be held at the home of Max and Mitzi Frohle, on the banks of the Humber River in Toronto.

The club obedience training classes held weekly in the Horse Palace at the C.N.E. (and which are continuing) have been paying off for a number of members and their Shepherds. They have been highly successful in obtaining qualifying scores at the various Obedience Trials.

Plans for the 31st annual German Shepherd Specialty Show are well underway and none other than the well-known Shepherd specialist, Mrs. Margaret Horn of Grafmar fame is to be the judge. It is the west end baseball diamond at the C.N.E.—a beautiful spot and with plenty of room for a huge ring, which Shepherds need for proper showing

This year the Special Activities Committee will sell refreshments for the convenience of the exhibitors and spectators and the trophy table will be loaded down with valuable prizes as usual. All in all, September 26th is a date to remember.

The demonstration of Obedience Training which several of our members and their Shepherds performed so successfully at the Sportsmen's Show last March was repeated at the Guelph Kennel Club Show, May 23 and again proved quite a hit.

KERRY Blue Terrier Club of Canada has elected the following officers for 1953: Vic. Black, President; W. R. D'Eath, Vice-President; G. A. Frawley, Sec.; Mrs. A. R. Winter, Show Sec.; Mrs. W. R. D'Eath, Trophy Sec.; Mrs. R. V. Marks and Mr. Pat Garrity, directors.

The club held an evening sanction show June 3 in conjunction with the North York Veterans' Branch No. 66 carnival. The turnout was quite good in spite of showers. The results:

Best in Show—Irish Setter, owned by Sandy McKay, Best of Opposite Sex—English Bulldog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dewsbury. Best Puppy in Show—Scottish Terrier, owned by Miss Irene Ball.

THE annual election of officers took place at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McDowell. Results of the voting were: President, Mrs. A. A. McDowell; 1st Vice-President, J. Russell; 2nd Vice-President, C. D. MacGregor; 3rd Vice-President, Percy Laing; secretary, Mrs. C. D. MacGregor; Treasurer, Miss Elinor Fair.

On May 25 the club held its annual banquet at the Hotel Rankin, after which the members were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor.

There is general agreement that this year's dog show at Chatham was a good one, although the loudspeakers did act up at the outset. Missed this year, however, was Mrs. J. G. Watson, the show superintendent who was very ill. It was the first time in the history of the show that Mrs. Watson was not on the job.

THE May meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lake was well attended. Plans for a specialty show to be held at the Royal Winter Fair are under consideration and will be decided upon at the June meeting.

Four new members were reported: Mrs. C. Morehen, West Hill; Mrs. P. C. Polley, Bishop's Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. E. McGowan, Toronto. Total membership is now 50.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Mary Southcott of Cooksville who gave an interesting "lesson" in obedience. This was greatly appreciated as many of the members are novices. Mrs. Southcott also gave a brief history of obedience work.

The members' match and picnic Sunday, June 14, was a great success. About 50 members and friends attended with their dogs. The ever popular Bob Blythe of Streetsville Gun Dog School did the judging.

The show began with the Dumbbells Class, open to all dogs and owners. It was a test of "how badly can you show your dog" and "how dumb can a judge be." It was filled with laughs. Mr. M. Cattanach with his dog Lady Kerry of Devon carried off first prize. In the regular classes winner's dog and best of winners went to Brigshain Sieger, owner, Geo. Howe.

Western Canada Boxer Club

By T. J. BRAAMS

THE Club's annual specialty show was held in conjunction with the B.C. Ladies' Kennel Club, May 18. Judge was Dr. R. C. Harris, whose competent judging pleased both exhibitor and spectator alike. He chose as his Best Puppy, Mr. T. Braams' little Breakaway female, Waltz Away. His winner's male was Mr. and Mrs. D. McArthur's Gai Caesar Von Schell. To Mr. A. H. M. Campbell's Canyonaire Autumn Breeze, went winner's female, also Best of Winners.

For his Best in Show Dr. Harris chose from his Specials, Miss Jane Campbell's Can. & Am. Ch. Edmar's Caesar Augustus.

The club was pleased to welcome back to the ring one of Vancouver's first Boxers, owned by Mr. J. T. O'Connor, Int. Ch. Flare of Cynshirit who has sired many of our leading Boxers, including the Best in Show winner.

The novel feature of the show was the children's handling classes. The trophy table's theme of red and gold helped to complement the elaborate display.

Dr. Harris was guest of honor at an informal cocktail party after the show.

Ed Monks was appointed show superintendent to be assisted by Syd Longhurst. Roy Boug is to be chief ring steward and Miss Hilda Wells will convene the refreshment committee. The club will sponsor the refreshment concession this year with the ladies in charge.

The members went to the home of their guest speaker for the May meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Earle Zeigler at nearby Delaware were hosts and Dr. Zeigler gave an interesting talk on Collies, his breed.

President A. L. Hill led a discussion on the bone structure of dogs and five persons were admitted to membership. They are Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Price, Mr. and Mrs. E. Summerfield and Ken Gowie.

THE Manitoba fancy wishes to extend its congratulations to Alec Gostick on his appointment as Manitoba director of the Canadian Kennel Club to replace the late Mrs. J. F. Kerr. He has been a CKC member for more than 20 years and a director on two previous occasions. It is expected he will soon be making an announcement about committees to be appointed and other matters affecting the area.

George Kynock, president of the Coronation club, has recently spent considerable time in hospital undergoing special treatments.

Dr. J. L. S. Anderson who left Manitoba sometime ago to take up new duties at the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ont., is recuperating in hospital at Weston, Ont., after a serious operation.

B.C. Dogs Do Well

By JEAN FLETCHER

CANADIAN dogs did well at the recent show at Tacoma, Wash. Jim Lightfoot's German Shepherd—Maida of Sandorea — is now an American champion as well as Canadian. She went Best of Breed and 4th in the Working Group.

Another Best of Breed went to Mary Jane Campbell's Can. and Am. Ch. Edmar's Caesar Augustus over an entry of 25 Boxers. He was 3rd in the group. Her father's Canyonaire's Autumn Breeze picked up three points, going Winners Bitch.

Still another Best of Breed went to Mrs. L. Melita Wood's Cairn Terrier Ch. Firecracker of Melita and the fourth BB was recorded by Clyde Ritchie's Borzoi, Zina O'River Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Minet's Kerry Blue Ch. Michael O'Shorn finished his American title at the show.

While we do not report ordinary litters, there is news in the fact that the German Shepherd Ch. Bon Accord Minx Von Idlewold, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce, who only finished her championship a few weeks ago recently whelped 12 pups.

Mrs. Frank Creasey's recently imported English Bulldog, Can., Eng., and Am., Champion Juneter's Ace, has an enviable record with nine Best in Show in 16 times shown. He has taken the Non-Sporting group 14 times.

Another English import, Can. and Am. Ch. Lymas Master Key, an English Cocker, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, has won his 28th group.

B.C. Ladies Kennel Club

By ELSIE MURRAY

THE ROYAL Canadian Air Cadets, Wing I, at Vancouver benefited from this year's B.C. Ladies Kennel Club all-breed championship show in Seaforth Armouries. The Western Canada Boxer Club again held its specialty in conjunction with the show and Dr. R. C. Harris of Sirrah Crest fame was judge.

Best in Show went twice at the all-breed events to the imported Bulldog, Canadian, English and American Champion Juneter's Ace, owned by Mrs. Gladys Creasey of North Vancouver.

Group Captain R.A. Shaw officially opened the shows and the air cadets under Flt.-Lieut. Patrick Tripp were very active, helping to put up the benching, selling tickets and guarding trophies

The obedience trials, too, were a major attraction as was the special display of Samoyeds described elsewhere in this issue.

London Canine Association

By MILDRED DARK

WORK and recent meetings of the London Canine Association have been filled with talk about the club's show which was held at the end of June. The executive and most of the members had large parts to play in making the event a success.

Interest in club doings has been at a peak and three new members were enrolled recently.

The Scottish Terrier Club of Canada

THE Scottish Terrier Club of Canada held its regular meeting at the home of its vice-president and his wife Mr. and Mrs Harry Fraser of Ottawa.

A report on the Coronation tea May 20, was given by the convener Mrs. Fraser who said the tea was a great success. A vote of thanks to the ladies of the club was given by T. E. Gunderson, Hon. member and a supported vote of thanks was given by the President, Colonel Harold Stothers.

The secretary Miss Nita Freeman read various letters including one from an Honorary member, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who regretted being unable to attend the Coronation Tea because of duties elsewhere. Also a letter was read from the former secretary, Miss Betty Stothers whose duties with the Dept. of External affairs have taken her to Indonesia, stating her thanks to the club for the farewell gift of a travelling clock that was presented upon her retirement.

Copies of the Scottish Terrier Standard are to be distributed to the members of the club. These will be forwarded to the members in the near future.

Discussed fully was the club's Specialty Show to be held Aug. 28 at the Unitarian Hall in Ottawa.

Judging will be by Robert Gorman of Hampton, New Hampshire, an American judge of wide repute. The show will commence at 6.00 p.m. It is noted that on the two days following an All-breed Championship Show will be held at the Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa and on the 30th, another All-breed Championship show will be held in Hull, just across the Ottawa River. The opportunity to make a champion in three days was widely emphasized.

The prize committee, headed by Fred Fraser, reported prizes for the specialty will be the best yet.

It was approved that the club entertain all members, exhibitors and wives to an After-the-Show dinner. U. S. exhibitors will be heartily welcomed and the club will arrange accommodation for all those who are not familiar with the Ottawa area.

All persons wishing further information on the Specialty Show should write to the Secretary Miss Nita Freeman, 624 Melbourne Ave., Ottawa.

It was suggested by Mr. Gunderson that the club hold a garden party and Mrs. Harry Fraser suggested the club have a combined picnic and dog show. These will be discussed at a future meeting.

not see it for the snow falling like a blanket, but blown across my front like a sweeping inferno. I finally paid a boy to stand on the running board to keep the windshield clear and tell me when I was too close to the ditch. Cars had been abandoned on the road, we had to push them to the side as we made our slow and extremely painful progress. I could not leave my car, I had to get home. Thirty dogs would probably starve if I did not and three young girls of school age were relying on me. I refuse to let myself even think about the last lap. When we arrived at the foot of the mountain road, I somehow got the car off the road and left it there with the meat and two sacks of dog meal; no fuel had even been thought of. I climbed the hill with the last dregs of an utterly exhausted strength.

We spent the next day going up and down that hill which by now had become a nightmare. We started taking forty pound loads, but we reduced it to twenty-five pounds, slipping back and sometimes falling as we struggled up the slope. Two high school boys I paid to make one trip refused to attempt a second. However, we finally got all the dog food and some for ourselves up there. I refused to consider what we would do when it was gone.

Two days later a snowplough and bulldozer cleared the road so far up, but even they quit about half way. It took us two days to shovel the road so that with the aid of a specially shod team and in the last stages a block and tackle and hours of shovelling snow we got the Packard back home.

This same horse team in front of a six wheel truck with chains tried to get fuel up to us but had to unload where the snowplough had quit. Then again it snowed and again it thawed slightly, and again it froze solid, and kept this up again and again until you generated more heat trying to free the fuel with a big axe, and carry it to the top, than you derived from it when you got it there.

Four days before Christmas there was a gale driving a blizzard that blew down trees which fell across power lines and cut off all communication. No telephone, no telegraph, no lights, no power which meant no water in the house as we operated an automatic system from a well situated away from the house down a steep, ice-covered slope. No heat or cooking in the kitchen because the oil stove had an electric blower.

The mails did arrive, but nearly a day late, and in them were 15 orders for Christmas puppies. Have you ever been short of money and had lots of puppies to feed and get 15 definite orders in one day and not be able to ship one, not even send a telegram? The puppies were for Xmas, only four days away. We did ship one puppy, one of the girls carrying the crate and I the puppy to the flag stop three miles away. But there we were told they would not take more and we would have to ship from Mission, 10 miles away. It was out of the question.

OUTER PIPES FROZEN

When the power and lights came on the day before Christmas I put a big electric heater in the kitchen near the oil stove for 24 hours as the pipes and taps on the outer wall were frozen and I was afraid the coil in the stove might be also. My judgment was not good enough because when I lit the stove, the coil was still frozen and it exploded, blowing the fire box right out and knocking me unconscious for an hour.

With the kitchen out of use and our fuel going down at an alarming rate we decided that two of the girls should go into Vancouver, and Joy my youngest daughter would stay and help me with the dogs. Somehow we got through Xmas, and headed into worse weather yet. Joy and I holed up in one room with a curtained partition, to save fuel, and when well into January all the oil was gone, I cut green vine maple which, dried in the oven for a few hours, burned reasonably well. And then one evening, when Stevie came over for a cup of tea and a game of crib there came over the radio warning of a great storm. I can yet see the alarm on Stevie's face as he said, "I think we had better get out of here", and Joy replying, "Oh, Daddy, we can't leave all these dogs". I knew we wouldn't. And when Stevie said good night we looked at the thermometer—14 below zero. There seemed an ominous murmur in the great firs and cedars darkly outlined as they lifted in their majesty toward the quiet starlit sky. A person who has never seen one of these famous trees can not imagine their great size. One lower branch starting sometimes 50 feet from the ground can be larger than the average tree. Now these branches were drooping with a terrible weight, a foot of snow had fallen on them, then partly thawed, then froze to solid ice, then the process had been repeated again and again until the great branches hung under terrific strain, their wood rendered hard and brittle by the unheard-of cold, sprung to breaking point. It seemed to my frightened soul that the great trees were murmuring angrily as though vowing vengeance on some helpless mortal for the cruel burden placed upon them.

Joy and I talked for a while but we finally got to sleep to be awakened at dawn by the most awful crash. Wind was howling and tearing past the house like a triumphant fiend. Joy's dead white face appeared around her curtain, and in a hushed whisper she said, "What was that, Daddy?" Then another crash that shook us, then another as I said to Joy, "Seems as though we are being bombed. I'll go out and see." "No, don't go and leave me, Daddy." But I knew I had to go, and I went. The wind almost swept me away as I opened the back door and I could hardly believe what I saw. The terrifically powerful wind was sweeping under those great branches overloaded with tons of snow and ice and in the sub-zero temperatures they were breaking off and crashing to the ground like bombs all round us, shaking the earth as they fell, the wind howling like a triumphant banshee overriding the piteous howling of the helpless dogs. After each crash the dogs went silent as though trembling, then burst out again with renewed terror.

IN LITTLE DANGER

The house was in little danger as we had cleared the trees near it to let sunlight into the kennel runs, but there were two huge trees near the kennel. Joy was yelling against the wind for me to come back as I battled my way to the main kennel where among 12 of my collies I had three bitches due to whelp. Several of the dogs had broken the doors right off their pens and had jumped on top of the kennels knocking everything down. They were milling around. Those in the pens were jumping up and down with howl-like screams. The bedlam made me feel literally desperate.

Sue, one of the top bitches I had selected but left to be bred during my trip through the U.S., was due to whelp in two days, and really heavy in whelp. I hated to think what those terrified gymnastics might do to her. Somehow I carried her struggling into our one warm room. Then I went out again to try to calm the dogs but could not even make myself heard. My instinct was to stay with the dogs as they seemed calmer when I was with them. Torn between them and my daughter, considering the spot she would be in if something knocked me out, I decided my duty was to her first. I left the dogs in the kennel as it was not nearly as dangerous there as it was outside.

Returning to the house I stoked up and prepared to bolster Joy's courage but when I met her eyes they tried hard to smile for me as she tremulously said, "Some bumps, Daddy."

Going to see how Stevie had fared I learned that a branch from a comparatively small tree had gone through their kitchen roof and hit the stove. No one was hurt. Stevie said he would stay with Joy while I went to the village to see what help was needed there.

All communications were cut again. Tree branches that were as big as houses had fallen on the road and completely blocked it. Once while climbing over one of them I fell through onto blocks of ice that had edges sharp as knives.

ENTRIES CLOSE SEPTEMBER 1

The wind had died. The main highway was snow-covered, wind-blown and completely deserted. Considerable damage had been done but no humans had been seriously hurt. Snowploughs and repair crews were expected so I struggled back up that ice-covered hill, over those branches to arrive exhausted but generally encouraged.

When I returned, all the dogs were okay, except Char who was due to whelp in five days. She was lying on a sheet of ice and a small branch that had fallen and struck her across the back was lying beside her. The blow had paralyzed Char so she could not get up or use her back legs at all. She was bleeding behind. I carried her into our one room and laid her in the corner opposite Sue.

Everything in the bathroom and kitchen was frozen, also the underground waterpipes and the septic tank. Nothing had been built for that kind of weather. Getting water from the well was a trying procedure. Joy fed and watered the dogs. We had a meal ourselves. I cut a few more vine maples for fuel. We were just beginning to relax, looking forward to a restful night when, as it began to get dark I lit the coal oil lamp, glancing at Sue, saw that tell-tale bearing down so many dog breeders look forward to, but which at that moment was the last thing I wanted to see. Sue was panting hard. The veins showed in her face. Her puppies had started to come and I was exhausted. Joy was only 16, but I had never known a better canine midwife. Telling her to get some sleep so she could relieve me later, I put a blanket on the floor and lay down in front of Sue. I stayed awake with her until midnight when five puppies had arrived, several more to come.

I just couldn't take any more, so called Joy, flopped on my bed, clothes and all, and immediately collapsed into oblivion.

Two hours later Joy wakened me with "Come quickly, Daddy, I think there is something wrong with Sue. She is acting funny." I hurried to the bitch who lifted her head and looked at me with the most agonized expression in her brown eyes. I put my hand beneath her underjaw and said, "What's the matter girlie?" Still looking at me she bent her head way over her back and with a groan intense with strain she died right there in my hand. This was too much for Joy who had never seen a dog die before. She jumped on the bed and covering herself with the blanket sobbed, "Oh! What will her babies do, Daddy?" Wishing to save my daughter further shock, I quietly carried Sue outside and covered her with the clean snow.

When I returned Joy was still under the blanket, quiet with shock. But poor, lovely Char, paralyzed so she could not use her back legs at all, had dragged herself right across the room to those motherless puppies and was cleaning and encouraging them to nurse. A trail of blood from her haemorrhage showed the course she had taken. I remember Joy pushing the blanket aside and saying, "If Char has that much courage, Daddy, so have I!" From that moment her spirit never flagged. I must admit that their heroism helped one other frail human to carry on.

Though Char's puppies were not due for five days, she had milk. She raised four of those five puppies for me. The only four we saved out of 48 born that winter.

It was impossible to get near a veterinary for several days, but when we did he told us that Sue had died because a bloodclot let loose by her frantic jumping in the kennel, had lodged in the heart or brain. One other bitch that whelped died the same way, her puppies went with her. The vet advised against operating on Char, saying her puppies would probably arrive normally. Organs of nourishment and expulsion had evidently been paralyzed and the puppies died and went bad inside her. Finally, unable to watch her suffering more, we had her sent painlessly to her reward. I myself carried her to her grave, and am not ashamed to say that the tears ran down my face and inside my collar as I took my last journey with the body of that sweet and lovely dog, whose glorious spirit I am sure had flown to the Doggy Heaven.
