LETTERS

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles or other items contained in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, colour, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same.

NEW MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

. . . I am most grateful for your information . . . and have purchased a Cairn Terrier. There is no end to the delight she has brought me and my family. I just thought you would like to know that your trouble has not been in vain.

I have found your magazine very interesting and colourful.

CUSTOMER IGNORED

. . . About a month ago I saw an advertisement in our magazine advertising a breed I was interested in. I answered the ad, asking what they had to offer in puppies. I was not looking for a $5.00 pup. I was prepared to pay $100.00 or more. Yes, you have guessed it. I received no reply.

Perhaps if you wrote an article on this subject I might learn why people pay out money to advertise if they don't want to sell, or if they are sold out, why they are not decent enough to answer their correspondence.

A READER

Illness or some other emergency may have prevented a reply, but it would seem only good business to make at least some acknowledgement to a potential purchaser.—Ed.

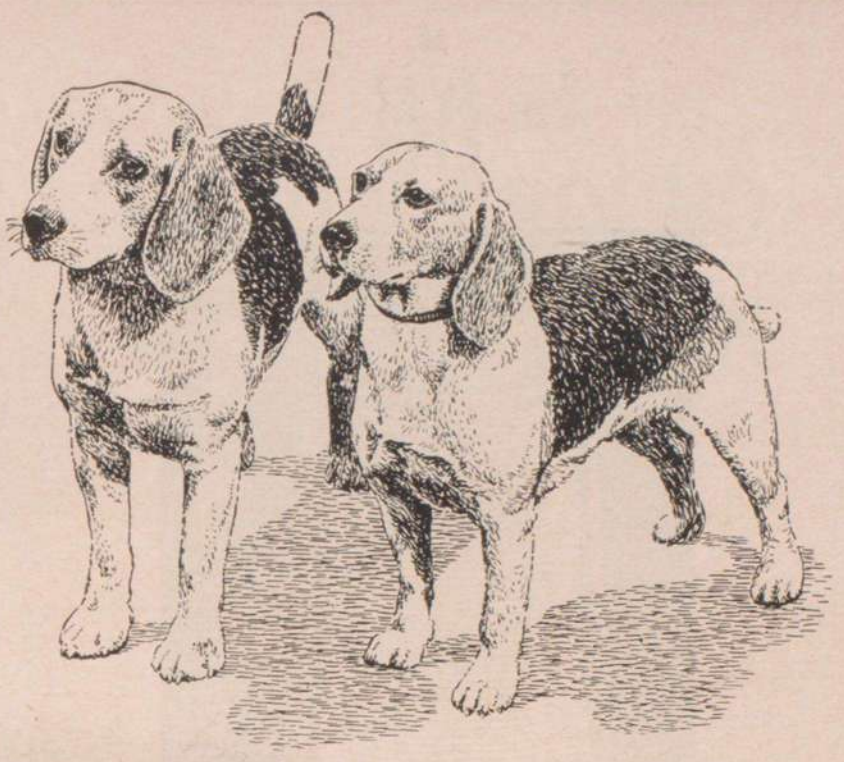

CALLING SPITZ BREEDERS

. . . Congratulations. Dogs in Canada gets better with each issue. We have read the Editor cols. each month with deep interest and were wondering if you could help us with our problem?

Could you give us the names of Spitz breeders? We are very interested in this breed, although it is not registered by CKC or AKC. We would like to hear from Canadian breeders of the Spitz.

MRS. MARGUERITE LOCKE

Several other requests have come in lately for the Spitz.—Ed.

SHOW BUSINESS

Six entrants to the class. Four soon eliminated—beam too narrow, apple headed, incorrect balance, snippy. Two well matched dogs are left. Nothing between them. Tough job this—but wait! No. 358 keener, positively glowing, obviously enjoying himself! Yes, he's the one. The deciding factor—his perfect condition.

CONDITIONING

Although wisely cared for, your dog may occasionally lose condition. Blood-purifying is the usual need. Karswood Dog Powders act directly on the liver, kidneys and bowels—organs responsible for cleaning and refreshing the blood stream. Karswood's also provide Phosphorus, Iodine, Tonic Salts, Sulphur and Calcium for Nerves, Muscles, Glands, Skin and Bone development. If you're in this Show Business, you can't afford to be without

SECOND GUESSING

. . . In a prominent place in all our Premium Lists and Show Catalogues for all members of show-giving clubs and exhibitors to see, we find the following notice. "A Judge officiating at a show held under The Canadian Kennel Club Dog Show Rules shall not be subjected to indignities of any kind during the progress of the show, and it shall be the duty and obligation of the club holding the show to see that this ruling is effectively carried out".

Having been closely connected with a great number of shows in Ontario and an observer at a great many elsewhere, I am alarmed at the increasing number of violations to this rule. Let me therefore pass on to you an article printed in the catalogue for the Fort Garry Kennel Club (Winnipeg); an article which to me, hits the nail right on the head.

An exerpt from "A Judge Talks Back" by Dr. J. P. McCain, as it appeared in the September issue of the Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Review.

. . . "There is far too much second guessing from the ringside, and far too many exhibitors who are seeing their first or second dog show, who set themselves up as authorities of the breed being judged. They are free with their comment and criticisms, thus prejudicing the spectators against the judge who may be doing a very competent job. I have noticed that those who know their breed best are the slowest to criticise. A wise spectator realizes there are so many things that the judge encounters inside the ring that are impossible for the outside to see and appreciate. When you enter your dog at a show you make a contract to take the decision of the judge. You pay your fee for his opinion. What he decides is not final, it is simply his opinion. It makes your dog no better if he puts him up and no worse if he puts him down. If you do not have faith in the Judge's opinion, then it will be far better for you to keep your dogs at home".

May I add to this—"If you do not have faith in the Judge's opinion, then it will be far better to keep yourself and your own opinion at home". Let's exercise more respect for judges in the future. One of you "beefers" may be judging some day and then the shoe will be on the other foot.

(MRS.) MARY HART

FAST AND QUIET

. . . I was slightly annoyed at the article "A Good Shooting Dog Makes a Better Man" (August issue). The writer mentions most of the hunting breeds but no mention of the best one of them all, and the most versatile—The German Shorthaired Pointer. I must admit I was very skeptical about this breed until I got one for myself. Then I became so enthusiastic I imported one. These dogs are natural hunters and very amenable to training. They really try to understand what you want . . . and although sometimes stubborn, I think they are very easy to train. As this breed becomes better known they should be extremely popular because of their disposition and versatility. They are quiet and do not yap . . . make good guards and are excellent house dogs. What more could a man ask?

I enjoy reading Dogs in Canada and especially am looking forward to the articles on breeding under the title "You Can Understand Mendel's Laws". This is something that is of real value to me, a newcomer to the breeding fraternity.

SALUKIS OR AFGHANS

. . . I was surprised and shocked to note in your Dogs and People section of Dogs in Canada, August, 1956 issue, the article on the "Afghans" owned by John Clemens of Sudbury.

I saw, this same week, the picture spread in the Star Weekly about these same dogs, and cannot understand why the accuracy of each article was not checked before being published.

These so-called "Afghans" are not Afghans at all, as anyone with half an eye can see. Nor, in any case, are Afghans "Desert dogs". Afghans are mountain dogs, with heavy coats, and rather narrow naked tails, curled for the most part.

The dogs owned by Mr. Clemens are Salukis—surely that is obvious! It seems, also, to stand to reason that Mr. Clemens' dogs cannot be registered dogs, else he would know what he has. Would you please check your facts again, and please try to correct them. It bothers me that an official paper such as Dogs in Canada should leave itself open to ridicule in this way.

MRS. RUTH COATS

Toronto, Ont.

Having looked at the illustration and report on the canine penthouse in Time Magazine (June 4, 1956) with more than half an eye, DIC promptly wrote Mr. Clemens for further information. Unfortunately we received no reply and trusted the source of our information for accuracy. Many thanks for bringing this to our attention.—Ed.

STAFFORDSHIRE BULL TERRIER

. . . Re your May issue, we were very impressed with your new items therein, in which you list all the winners of Best in Show, Winners of Groups, etc. However, under the heading 'The following is the list of total dogs in competition by breeds in All Breed and Specialty Shows in Canada' we have looked in vain for mention of our own breed, the Staffordshire Bull Terrier. Now these dogs may have been entered under Bullterrier, but if so we would like to enquire why, as our dogs are a quite distinct breed from the Bullterrier, and we notice that even a breed where only one dog of that breed was shown in 1955 can be mentioned, ours is not, though we have shown more than that number.

In 1954 we showed four dogs of our breed in Moose Jaw, and three at Regina; in 1955 we showed three dogs at Saskatoon, three at Calgary and six at Moose Jaw. We do not know how exactly you have arrived at the totals shown, but would like clarification on the subject.

If we were to be lumped under the heading Bullterrier, our dogs would not be shown as a separate breed, which they are. Possibly the mistake is not in your office, but rather from where you obtained the figures but we, as breeders of an unusual (for Canada) dog, do like to keep our name before the public whenever possible.

MR. & MRS. A. J. HORN

Patty's Kennels,
Moose Jaw, Sask.

Our profound apology to Mr. & Mrs. Horn, who, we believe, showed all of the 27 Staffordshire Bull Terriers shown in 1955. In the tremendous number of figures involved in the tabulation, apparently one sheet was overlooked. This is a magnificent showing by one kennel. The shows entered were primarily Western ones, and we hope to see some of Patty's Kennels in the East.—Ed.

SATISFIED ADVERTISER

. . . I am glad to be able to tell you of the very satisfactory results from advertising in Dogs in Canada. My Pugs are now in homes all over Canada and the States. I am interested in improving the breed and have just added to my kennel a black English import in whelp to an English champion.

I should like to hear from Pug breeders regarding the classes for black and fawns. I would like to see a class for black Pugs, as I find it is hard to finish a black pug when there is a flashy fawn beside it. Shall be glad to answer all letters.

GERMAN SHEPHERD FAN

. . . I am thinking of purchasing a German Shepherd this summer, and would like some information about them. Please supply (1) the cost (2) the Shepherd's temperament.

Some friends of mine seem to think that a German Shepherd is not to be trusted and might turn on me. I do not believe this, as I think that if you bring the animal up with care and affection, the dog will grow to love you.

CAROLYN MCLATCHIE

Perhaps some of the German Shepherd breeders would like to write Miss McLatchie and reassure her as to the excellence of the Shepherd's temperament, which is the pride of serious breeders and owners. As we do not quote prices in this column, perhaps they would also give an idea of cost.—Ed.

BEEF RING

TEMPEST IN TEAPOT

. . . My beef is against those who are frantically spooning water in an effort to stir up a tempest in a teapot with talk of a controversy over the interbreeding of the various coats and sizes of Dachshunds.

Members of the Dachshund Club of Canada, both the current club and the now defunct previous club of some years ago, letter writers to Dogs In Canada, members of the C.K.C. including the Registration Committee Chairman and Directors both individually and as a group have all expressed themselves as being opposed to interbreeding.

This "controversy" exists supposedly because some breeders wish to interbreed. However, like the Wee People these breeders are no where to be found.

The remarkable fact remains that not one person has ever come forward to say that he is in favour of the interbreeding of Dachshunds. How then can a controversy exist if everyone is in complete agreement on the subject?

In Time of Need

When a girl wants to be alone, there's a powder called Heat-X, made by Pacific Coast Scent Co., which nullifies odours of a female in season. Manufacturer guarantees effective and absolutely harmless. Another Pacific product is National Housebreaking Scent, which trains mature dogs as well as youngsters to eliminate at the spot you prescribe.

A Good Name

You can't take a chance on unknown products in treating your dog. Buy name brands, such as Sergeant's, for the many conditions you can treat yourself. Worming, for example, can be done at home, but only with completely reliable products. Some items come in two forms, for the older dog, and for puppies and dogs under ten pounds.

Blood Purifier

Skin and bone, blood and muscle, all must be in top condition to produce winners. Karswood Dog Powders are composed of the ingredients essential for conditioning throughout the body. Conditioning is something that can't be done overnight, but should be a regular consistent program, whether you show, hunt or have a pet.

Family Size

Or perhaps we should say litter size in speaking of the 26-ounce cans of Ken-L-Ration made and marketed by Quaker Oats. Seems only sensible to save by buying the economy size, whether you have one dog or a dozen.

Have you, or rather your dogs, tried the new Ken-L-Treats? Fish, milk, bone, cheese and meat flavoured biscuits, all in appropriate shapes and interesting colours.

Stop his scratching misery

Is your dog frantic from scratching? It's a sign of fleas or summer eczema. Stop his itching torture quick — with Sergeant's Scratch Powder. Kills fleas, ticks, lice. Checks fungus and doggy odor. 49¢ and 79¢ at any drug or pet counter.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR

With all due respect and regard for promptness and order, it does seem there are times when an exception might be made. A case in point is where a responsible long-time exhibitor mails an entry but is not accepted for showing, although the post-mark indicates the correspondence arrived in the city prior to the closing date and time. Some rare delay between the arrival at the post-office and actual delivery to the desk shortly after the stated time limit means non-acceptance of entry, with resultant inconvenience, cancellation or having to pay for accommodation and other arrangements, to say nothing of acute disappointment.

Could the time limit, as in many major contests, not state something to the effect that "all entries must be post-marked not later than midnight", followed by the final date?

In all fairness to the show-giving organizations, rigid rules must be made and observed. But when the postmark proves on-time arrival in the post-office, could not such an exception be made? The exhibitor, of course, must expect non-appearance of name, entry, etc., in the catalogue, but this would be a minor detail compared to an otherwise major disappointment.

The financial statements appearing in the CKC members' copies of this issue are indicative of the tremendous strides being made in the Canadian dog world. An unprecedented interest is being shown in Dogs in Canada by breeders and new owners on both sides of the border. Although The Canadian Kennel Club's fiscal year is little better than half completed, prospects are that records will reach an all-time high with regard to membership and all aspects of records. The volume of business represented by way of fees is likely to reach new heights, and is another indication of the exceptionally sound financial status of the Club.

No small credit is due President Mrs. M. Eileen McEachren and the Board of Directors and Committees. Usually one looks for such results at the end of the year, but to find all totals steadily climbing midway is indeed a mark of good management.

The President has engaged in a heavy schedule of travel in accepting widespread judging assignments. In this manner she is able to meet with members and exhibitors from the East to the West, talk to individuals at first hand and assay problems pertinent to varying geographical locations. With such interested leadership an organization cannot help but progress.

DOG FOR FREE

by Loraine Porter

Peggy, my wife, has a one-track mind. When she saw Ben's yellow Labrador, Sandra, in the village, she was determined to own it.

"You promised me a dog for my birthday, Joe," she reminded me.

"I know, and I intend to get you one." I knew a farmer on the Town Line who had half a dozen mongrel pups that he was only too anxious to get rid of, and I intended to pick one up for Peggy on Saturday.

"Sandra's been to school, and I wouldn't have to spend time training her. She's a wonderful watchdog too, so I wouldn't be nervous out here in the country if you had to be away."

"Look, hon, how do you know Ben wants to sell her?" I asked.

"He told me so. He said he would make a great sacrifice, and let me have her for $125.00."

"She's a bargain, I know," Peggy rattled on heedlessly. "Ben wants to breed her in September and he said if he could have Sandra back then I could have my pick of her pups. Of course it would have to be a female, because if I took a male Sandra might forget he was her son after awhile."

"Why not buy one of Sandra's pups after Ben has bred her? The pup won't likely cost more than $50.00 or $75.00," I suggested, trying to save a fast buck on this queer deal.

" Because this is only April and I need a dog now while we're on the farm. When we move back to town for the winter I can't keep a dog in the apartment."

"You'll have Sandra, and the pup too," I pointed out.

"Oh, darling, that's what I'm trying to tell you. It's all so logical. Ben will board Sandra for free all winter, if I let him use her for breeding. I'll have a pup for free that I can sell for $75.00. So you see I really get Sandra for $50.00."

It sounded like good arithmetic so I gave Peggy the go-head sign and Sandra came into our lives that afternoon. She was a well-trained beautiful animal, and I was the lucky owner of a dog that even the neighbors admired.

The dog-happy summer passed and Sandra went back to Ben in September. I almost forgot about Sandra until one raw day in November when I arrived home to find Ben in my armchair smoking a cigar. "Have one, Pop" he invited, pushing a fat cigar into my hand.

"Sandra's had her pups," Peggy explained in an excited voice.

"Well, well," I said, affecting a Santa Claus jocularity.

Ben snapped his fingers. "Just like that," he said. "No trouble at all."

"Well, well," I said again.

"Seven of them," Ben said. "Five males, two females."

"Well!"

"Black as sin, every one of them." Not a yellow in the litter."

"Oh!" I was really surprised.

"The father's a black Labrador," Peggy said, kicking me surreptitiously in the shins and rolling her eyes toward the sideboard. I took the hint and went over for three glasses and my best Scotch.

"This calls for a drink," I said.

"It certainly does," Ben agreed. "Say I sell them at $50.00 each, I'll make $300.00 minus veterinarian fees, but I'm more likely to get $75.00 each and six times . . ."

"You said seven pups," I interrupted.

"One's yours," Ben said magnanimously. "For free. A bargain's a bargain I always say."

"Joe, let's go and see them right now," Peggy said. And that's just what we did, drove forty miles to Richmond Village. Peg's eyes shone with excitement when she saw the pups. I enthused too, but toned down my ecstasy when my wife picked up a wee black wiggler and said: "I choose this one and I'm calling her Black Mandy."

At the end of six weeks I drove out and brought Mandy back to the apartment. After all Ben was giving us the pup for free, and looking after Sandra for us. It was hardly fair to expect him to keep Mandy until we moved out in June, nearly five months away.

"I don't think dogs are allowed in this apartment building," I said to Peggy, after a pointed snub from the Janitor as I walked in the building with Mandy in my arms.

"Don't be silly, darling. Mandy's not a dog." She cuddled it close to her and whispered queer sounds into the velvety ear: "She's an itsy bitsy puppy wuppy! No one will ever hear her."

But Mandy had a talent for making herself heard. At the end of the month there was a note in our mailbox: "Get rid of your dog or get out."

"I'll 'phone Ben," Peggy said after deep thought. "He may have a suggestion."

Ben's a thoughtful guy. He offered to board Mandy for a dollar per day.

"Gosh, Peg, she'll be there for four months!"

"I know, dear, but after all Mandy didn't cost us anything. Anyway February's a short month so you'll save three dollars."

I saved on cigarets and dessert to pay Mandy's board of $120.00, and we didn't paint the house when we moved out in June. Of course two beautiful animals like Sandra and Mandy added to our prestige in the community, but they definitely curtailed our freedom. Sandra was a quiet matronly soul if left alone, but she reverted to puppy ways now that Mandy was with us. Mandy insisted on going everywhere that Peg and I went. If we left her at home she retaliated by retrieving shoes, books, ties, stockings and the sofa cushions. When we returned the house was a shambles. Having a penchant for law and order, the girls finally got on my nerves. Peg was a bit jittery too after Mandy retrieved an angel cake and two apple pies from the baker's basket.

Peggy always solves her worries by quick action. She ordered lumber, hired a carpenter and — presto — Mandy had a kennel and runway. As Peg pointed out, our peace of mind was worth the eighty-five dollars it cost.

Unfortunately, Mandy expressed loud objections to her outdoor home, and protests started coming in from irate neighbors. Peg couldn't bear the thought of making enemies in the neighborhood.

"I think we'll have to sell Black Mandy," she announced sadly.

"Too bad," I said brightly.

Peg put an ad in the local paper, stating Mandy's snooty background, and price of $100.00.

I guess all dog lovers were on vacation. We didn't get a bite. Peg tried city papers with no results. Then we lowered the price to $75.00, and finally to $50.00.

"If we could only find a good home for her," Peggy said.

"Why not give her back to Ben?" I suggested generously.

Ben happened to drop in the next day and Peggy told him he could have Mandy for free.

"Gosh, folks, I don't know what to say."

"Don't say anything," Peggy beamed. "There's no one I'd rather give Mandy to than you."

"You don't understand," Ben said. "It's this asthma of mine. Seems I'm allergic to dogs."

Peg looked shocked. "You mean you don't want Mandy for free?"

"Nope," said Ben.

Peg gave Ben a searching look. "What did you get for Mandy's brothers and sister?"

"Seventy-five dollars each," Ben boasted.

Of course, we're still friends with Ben. After all, he made us a free gift of Mandy.

Mandy has shown us her generous nature too. Yesterday she presented us with a various assortment of pups. It came as quite a surprise. In a few weeks I shall hang a sign on my gate —PUPS FOR FREE.

YORKSHIRE TERRIER

THOSE LOVABLE TOYS

They're tiny, but tremendous—in love and loyalty, and even warding off intruders!

TOY BREEDS have been popular in high court circles for centuries. But with the current trend toward more apartment buildings and small homes, small dogs are becoming increasingly important. They are the answer to the frequently heard statement, "I wouldn't keep a dog in the city." Many breeds exist which would be totally out of place in the city. The thoughtless challenge, "Call that a dog?" has its own answer.

Toys are certainly dogs, and even the tiniest show an incredible valour and determination. In a momentary fracas on an estate a somewhat surly large dog broke loose, and ten small dogs posing for the camera were scattered like leaves before a storm. All but one, a Pekingese who valiently nipped and yipped at the heels of the troublemaker.

Each member of the Toy Group is totally different. To help decide which one fits into your way of living, here are some of the qualities of the breeds:

Chihuahua:

Smallest of the Toy breeds, this tiny bundle of energy gets along well with the larger dogs — Boxers, Newfoundlands, Great Danes, and with the family Budgie! Not yappy as some people think, but his exceptionally keen hearing makes the mighty mite a good watch dog. Most Chihuahuas like to be covered at night, love to completely drape themselves under their own little blanket. Shivering, a characteristic of the breed, need not denote a chill, but often expresses fear or confusion. Completely loyal, it is said some Chihuahuas actually shed real tears when parted from their master. Excellent car traveller, and often chosen by celebrities as constant companions. This handful of dog is one of the longest-lived of all breeds. A real eye-catcher is the long-coated variety.

Pomeranians:

A popular pet about 25 years ago, the Pomeranian is again becoming a much-wanted dog, to the extent that anyone breeding them should do well. Many would-be purchasers recall a childhood Pom and want one for their own family. They are a happy dog, and while anything but a fighter will attack virtually any threat to their owner. A good watchdog, they are the bane of intruders, approaching soundlessly, then letting loose in outraged chatter. Other qualities: fastidiously proud of their coats, dainty eaters, which makes them fine travellers. Their ability to adapt themselves in small spaces, good manners and genuine friendliness makes them welcome guests.

Pekingese:

No fawning animal is the Peke, but rather a bundle of dignity and independence. Even his sometimes exasperating wilfulness serves to render him more endearing to his owners. This luxuriously-coated little animal, as testified by ornate Oriental carvings and idols from the early dynasties, was originally held sacred in China and has held a high pace in Occidental life since the late 19th Century. He is a good tempered, cordial, if somewhat condescending companion. Privately he enjoys a bit of rough and tumble play with his family.

PEKINGESE

Toy Poodle:

The Toy is a small edition of the Standard Poodle, which is 15 inches or more at the shoulder and the Miniature which is under 15 but no more than 10. Toys are under ten inches. The same standards otherwise apply to all three. Experts claim the Toy rates equally with his larger cousins in intelligence, gaiety and all other tendencies. They are healthy, good companions at home or on a journey. Travelling celebrities enjoy them particularly for these qualities. As for colour, they may be a solid black, silver, brown, white or apricot. The toenails are interesting; either black or the same shade as the dog.

Pugs:

Another ideal house dog is the Pug —a compact, neat, alert and companionable creature, requiring a minimum of care. They are notably free from breath or skin odours, and are just independent enough to want affection but not coddling. Silver or apricot-fawn are the prescribed colours, with black mask. This dog, too, traces its lineage to the early Orient.

English Toy Spaniels:

While the origin of these princelings of the earlier upper classes is credited to Japan, England and Spain, it is well established that this breed was the favourite of Mary, Queen of Scots, whose especial pet refused to leave her side, even on the scaffold. Judging from old paintings, and there are many which show romping or fawning Toy Spaniels with posing royalty, all were black and white up to the time of King Charles II. And although many believe it was during the reign of this 17th Century Monarch the breed made its first appearance in England, it was actually in evidence a good century before. Other varieties are: the tricolor combination of white, black and tan; the Ruby, a chestnut red; and the Blenheim, white and chestnut red. Characteristics are identical.

Japanese Spaniel:

One of the oldest of the Toy breeds, the Japanese Spaniel is known the world over; high in quality but not in quantity. A soundly healthy animal, his only enemy is said to be distemper, but with the use of inoculation there is no reason why there should not be many more in this country. Here are the chief qualities: grand companion, highly sensitive to praise or rebuff (what may appear to be an injured dog may be suffering only from hurt feelings) game for fun, alert to the owner's wishes. He is naturally clean and can be happy in either warm or cool housing as long as there are no drafts.

POMERANIAN

The Maltese:

Some breeds just never wear out their welcome. Such is the Maltese, Ye Ancient "Dogge of Malta", a canine aristocrat for more than 28 centuries, and even today more in demand than breeders can supply. The Greeks thought so much of this particular pet they erected tombs to their favourites and Greek paintings and ceramics pay tribute to the silken little handful. According to The Complete Dog Book, official book of The American Kennel Club, the Maltese are Spaniels, not Terriers, as is generally supposed. There are so many enquiries about the Maltese that Canadian breeders would do well to include this breed in their kennels.

Brussels Griffon:

A saucy package of good nature, a tiny storm of insolence and likeable indignation at other times, the little Griffon results from a combination of the German Affenpinscher and the Belgian street dog, both of which are virtual rarities today. The coat is harsh and wiry like that of the Irish Terrier, and occasionally is seen with a smooth coat. His high intelligence makes him almost overly sensitive to the point of being shy and self-conscious. Two other recognized versions; the Brabancon, with smooth short coat of reddish brown colouring or black with reddish brown markings, and the Belgian. The latter has the same characteristics and conformation as the other two, but strictly adheres to the following colourings; black and reddish brown mixed, with accompanying black mask and whiskers; all black, or black with reddish brown markings.

King Charles Spaniel:

Titan's work in the 1500's showed the forerunners of today's King Charles Spaniel, and Landseer later used excellent specimens in his work. A prized pet of crowned heads, the lively little King Charles has been kept prominent by high social circles and weavers in the North of England.

He is a closely knit little dog. It is easy to judge the correct proportions: his body should be approximately the same length as his height, excluding the head and tail.

Italian Greyhound:

If you admire the Greyhound but live in today's smaller type of accommodation, here is your miniature edition. A far cry from its probable ancestor, the Gazehound, the tiny Italian Greyhound has nevertheless remained unaltered for over 2,000 years. Contrary to the opinion of many, he is not a racing dog at all, but purely a pet, a favourite of royalty in past centuries, particularly in Italy, Prussia, Denmark, Greece and England. Resembling in almost every detail but size the English Greyhound, this tiny graceful animal is just an eight-pound handful.

Papillons:

Ladies and gentlemen of the 16th Century nobility were rarely painted by the old masters without their favourite Papillon. Madame de Pompadour owned two; Mimi and Inez. Marie Antoinette owned one, and these little Butterfly dogs (so-called for the set of their ears) then known as dwarf Spaniels, brought a good price in the courts of Spain, Italy, France and Poland. The Papillon is a hardy, lively little pet, equally at home in an apartment or the country. He has an agreeable, affectionate nature, can be recommended as a companion for women and small children, and is nevertheless game enough to command the respect of men and boys.

Miniature Pinscher

This little fellow, similar to a Doberman Pinscher but only about 11½ inches at the shoulder, has some of the qualities of a poker player. Weighing only from six to ten pounds, he makes an excellent guard, bluffing and gruffing like a dog several times his size. A great little showman, he has intelligence, style and pep, and is actually used for stage work. Next time you attend a dog show, watch the peppy gait, like that of a spirited hackney pony. Note to the home owner: The Min. Pin.'s coat is close, needs little care, always looks clean and trim. He deeply loves his home and owners.

Mexican Hairless:

Except for a slight fuzz on the top of the head and a few hairs in the tail, this dog is bald. There are several other breeds equally naked, but science still cannot say why. Here is one dog which might have a very specialized market in Canada. Doctors state that adults and even children allergic to dog hair may safely own a Mexican Hairless. Enquiries to date have not brought to light a breeder in this country. The greatest breeding centres are on the West Coast of Mexico and in Mexico City, where even today the ancient Aztec legends of the healing qualities of this hot-skinned little dog persist.

Yorkshire Terriers:

One of the most delicate of all Terriers in appearance, the Yorkie is nevertheless one of the hardiest and long-lived, most resistant to disease, and if ill usually puts up a good fight and makes a fine recovery. With his fine, though soundly constructed bones and long silky coat, it is a temptation to carry this delightful pet. But walking is his pleasure and he should be carried only as a necessity.

Yorkies are highly intelligent, and the yappiness with which they are sometimes discredited can be corrected. Even to those unfamiliar with the breed, they are readily recognized at shows by their paper curlers, or at judging time, bright little ribbons. Both are employed to keep their long silken hair under control.

Toy Manchester Terrier:

This breed, too, is becoming much in demand. His true ancestry is subject to many theories, but it is thought that both the large and Toy Manchester Terriers have some Greyhound or Whippet blood, which may explain the roached back, rarely a Terrier trait. Size and ear carriage are the only differences between the two types. The present-day standard weight is up to 12 pounds. At one time breeders brought the weight as low as 2½ pounds, but stamina was lacking. Here is another diminutive dog surprisingly robust for his size.

YOU CAN UNDERSTAND MENDEL'S LAWS!

by Edna M. DuBuis

Jackson Memorial Laboratory

An individual which possesses a pair of identical genes which determine a particular character in that individual is called a homozygote. (The word homo means one and the same). Such an individual is said to be homozygous or purebred insofar as that one characteristic is concerned. As it possesses only one kind of gene, it does not matter which member of the pair it contributes to its offspring. Both members are identical and will, therefore, produce the same result.

An individual which possesses a pair of genes which are unlike each other is called a heterozygote. (Hetero is the opposite of homo, and means "different"). Such an individual is said to be heterozygous, or hybrid, insofar as that one characteristic is concerned. As it possesses two kinds of genes, it may matter greatly which member of the pair it contributes to its offspring. The contrasted pair of genes are capable of determining in two different ways the expression and development of the character they represent. Consequently, the results produced by one member of the pair will be different from the results produced by the other member.

Mendel proved that genes remain pure indefinitely and that they are unaffected by the presence of any other genes with which they may come in contact. This is a very important point to remember. As an example, a particular gene may be thought of as a red marble which has been dropped into a basketful of blue marbles. Though the red marble may be covered or partly covered up by the blue marbles, no matter how long it remains in the basket it may be sorted out in its original form. Close association with the blue marbles, even for long periods of time, will not turn the red marble blue, nor will the colour or form of the red marble be changed or diluted in any way as the result of this association. This theory has been tested many times by geneticists and has been proven correct. Though genes may be carried hidden "in the bottom of the basket" for hundreds of generations, they do not become weakened or contaminated, nor do they blend with other genes with which they come in contact. Genes remain pure.

Mendel's experiments proved that genes are independent factors and that they are capable of shifting about during the process of reproduction and becoming paired with a like partner or an unlike partner. This process is known as "Mendel's Law of Segregation." Each pair of genes may also be shuffled with other pairs of genes and form all possible combinations. For example, a pair of genes for red coat colour may become associated with a pair of genes which determine long hair, with the result that the particular offspring which has received both of those pairs of genes from its parents will have a long, red coat. If a pair of genes for red coat colour become associated with a pair of genes for short hair, the result will be an individual with short, red coat. This is known as "Mendel's Law of Independent Assortment."

When Mendel crossed two purebred varieties of plants together, he found that the hybrid offspring were uniform in type and that they resembled one parent entirely insofar as the character he was studying was concerned and did not bear any resemblance whatsoever to the other parent. For example, when plants which had round seeds were crossed with plants which had wrinkled seeds, all of the first generation hybrid offspring had round seeds. The genes which were responsible for producing round seeds in the offspring had completely dominated the genes which produced wrinkled seeds. Mendel therefore called the stronger pair of genes dominant factors and the genes which appeared to have receded from view he called recessive factors. Mendel found that even though no sign of the recessive wrinkled character appeared in the first generation offspring this character had not been lost, for when he bred the hybrid plants together the wrinkled character appeared again in its original form in some of the resulting offspring. Like the red marble which was dropped into the basketful of blue marbles, the wrinkled character had been covered up temporarily by the stronger, round character, and it was therefore unable to express itself or be seen in the offspring. In future generations, when the recessive, wrinkled character liberated itself from the union with the dominant, round character, and became paired with a like partner — a gene which was not capable of covering up the wrinkled character but which was exactly like itself — the wrinkled character again found expression in the offspring.

Substituting dogs for plants, we may use as another example of this discovery the mating of a black cocker to a red cocker. In this breed, the colour black is dominant over the colour red. A cocker which possesses two identical genes for black colour is a homozygous or purebred dog insofar as coat colour is concerned. Since it possesses only one kind of coat colour gene, it can transmit only one kind of coat colour gene to its offspring. A cocker which possesses two identical genes for red colour is also a homozygous or purebred dog insofar as coat colour is concerned. Since it possesses only one kind of coat colour gene, it can transmit only one kind of coat colour gene to its offspring. When a homozygous black cocker is bred to a homozygous red cocker, every one of the puppies will receive one gene for black colour from one parent and one gene for red colour from the other parent. Insofar as coat colour is concerned, the puppies will be heterozygous, as the pair of genes they possess are not identical. Since black is dominant over red, every one of the puppies will be black. The black gene which each puppy possesses will cover up the red gene and, therefore, the colour red will not appear in the first generation offspring. However, as Mendel proved, the red gene is not lost. It is only temporarily covered up. If one of the heterozygous black puppies is bred upon reaching maturity to a like partner—a cocker which also possesses genes for red coat colour in its sex cells—the red genes contributed by each partner may become paired, with the result that some of the offspring will be red.

Important factors to remember about dominant and recessive genes may be listed as follows:

Dominant characteristics do not skip a generation. In order for a dominant character to be handed down to the offspring, it must be expressed (visible) in at least one of the parents. If a dominant character is not expressed in an individual, it is not present in that individual, and that individual cannot hand the character on to its offspring. Even though an individual is descended from a long line of ancestors, all of whom possessed the dominant character in question, the individual will not be able to hand down the dominant character to its offspring unless the dominant character is exhibited in that individual. An individual may be homozygous or heterozygous for a particular dominant characteristic. The only way in which a breeder can determine whether an animal possesses a pair of dominant genes or whether it possesses one dom-

Breeders of German Shorthaired Pointers are watching two females owned and bred by Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Richmond Hill, Ont. Ch. Kristin Von Lindenwald, who finished in the States for an American Championship with five major wins, 17 points on June 11. Ch. Katrin, her 16 months old litter sister went Winners Female at the Western New York Specialty Show in April for 5 points, then at Niagara Falls, N.Y., in competition with 14 Shorthairs, took the breed for another major, gaining 8 points in two shows.

Having read James Street's gem, Good-Bye My Lady, we were again impressed by the little Basenji. Looking back over our notes on Canadian Basenjis, we note that Sinuhe of Blue Nile, owned by Mr. & Mrs. W. E. H. Munro of Toronto and bred by Mrs. Roberta Jenkins, Oak Ridges, Ont., won the strong Hound Group competition at the Kingston, Ont., Show earlier this summer. Sinuhe comes from a line of winning Basenjis; his sire is Can. & Am. Ch. Abakaru of Blue Nile who, we are told, was responsible for judges noticing and placing the Basenji in the group, and was the first of his breed to win a group in Canada.

Stopping to pet a dog one day, indirectly started Dorothy Asendorf on one of the world's most unusual feminine careers. She is the only woman permitted in the pit area at stock car races throughout Canada and the United States. Her work is to check all racing cars for use of air and oil filters. About the dog? She stopped to pet it one day, got talking with the owner, and eventually married him. He is an enthusiastic stock car man, who gave up racing and now does the same kind of work as his wife.

Ch. Martingate Snowland Taz, owned by Mrs. Miller of Enkenglo Kennels, Corning, N.Y. passed away in June, writes Mrs. Antoinette Callahan of Dunellen, N.J. "A grand dog, who had sired close to 30 champion sons and daughters, among whom is my own Am. & Can. Ch. Tazbel, and a host of second generation champions. He was a few days lacking of being 12 years old."

Among his descendants in Canada: Sheilah Jan Mayen, Ziska Buck, Mrs. Callahan's own Snowland Janic of Frostyways, Snowland Saratov. Other long-lived but recently deceased offspring: daughter Tabarka, out of Ch. Snowland Barkeeta, owned by Mrs. Marie Grillox, Snowcrest Kennels who died July 3, just under nine years, and Mrs. Grillo's Ch. Valdina, pure line Snowland, son of Ch. Nansen of Farmingham of Snowland and Snowland Doll, just under 12 years.

Ch. Tregoads Achara, owned by Mrs. E. Betts, Tregoad Kennels, Richmond Hill, Ont. went Best of Breed at the Buffalo Show recently, her first American event. She went Best of Breed and fourth in Group at the German Shepherd Breeders Show in Scarborough where the Kerry Blue Terrier Club held a Booster Show. Achara's mother Ch. Oscurcalma Jessabel (Imp.) finished with four points at the same show.

Hailstones hit the 50-acre show site at Hereford, England, and in one hour created the following havoc: Two immense dog marquees were struck by lightning and fell in a soggy mess of ripped canvas, ropes and snapped poles. Seven hundred dog benches lurched into the air and came down with the canvas. A big flower tent collapsed under the weight of water. Twenty soldiers were rushed to the spot, and had new tents erected and order restored before the first exhibitors arrived next morning.

Canadian wins in the United States are always noteworthy, but in the case of the two All Obedience Trials sponsored by the Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club, honours were nearly evenly distributed. Brian Saunders of Victoria took the Novice "A" trophy in the 1st Trial with his yellow Labrador Spiller's Stormount, to earn his C. D. Arthur Kilgour, South Burnaby, took the Trophy in the 2nd Trial with his German Shepherd, Columbia's Black Trygge.

Mr. Jensen of Portland, Oregon won the tie for highest Novice "B" with his Standard Poodle Cinnabar Moon Mist, "Tinsel", by a narrow margin from Mr. S. E. Strath, Duncan, B.C., with his German Shorthaired Pointer, Cleo's Blue Rocket. Mrs. C. Laundy of Victoria took the Highest scoring Toy in both Trials with her Pekingese Shantung Ah Ching, to complete his C. D. X. Mrs. Lil Fowler of Seattle, Wash. won Highest scoring Bench Champion with her Elkhound, Norska of Greenwood. Tieing for highest scoring dog in Trial were Mrs. I. BERMUDA INVITES CANADIAN ENTRIES

A pleasant holiday, only five hours from Montreal or Toronto, no quarantine, and a welcome to both owners and dogs from leading hotels and guest houses —these are just a few of the inducements offered by the Bermuda Kennel Club, an affiliation of The Canadian Kennel Club.

The Club's second All-Breed Show will be held November 1-3 at the Government Agricultural Station in Paget Parish, and will feature an all-breed competition as well as Obedience Trials. As for points, "it is possible for a contestant to win all 10 points in our three-day show," says Lady Conyers, president of the Bermuda Kennel Club. This means a third title can be gained without going to Europe to compete.

The history of this club dates back to the late 1920's, but with the advent of World War II, the club became inactive. The new organization held its first all-breed show in April, 1956, and was judged by Mrs. Eileen McEachren, president of The Canadian Kennel Club. The Club's first Obedience Training Course was started by Mrs. Alex Casgrain of Montreal, last November. All breeds are now represented in the Club's Obedience classes.

WOMAN TO SELECT WESTMINSTER B.I.S.

For the second time in its 80 years, the Westminster Kennel Club has nominated a woman to select best dog in show at its 1957 competition to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, February 11-12.

She is Mrs. Beatrice H. Godsol, Woodland Hills, Calif., one of the few women ever to be approved by the American Kennel Club to judge all breeds of dogs. In her New York assignment, her sole responsibility—and a tremendous one it is—will be to select one of six finalists to receive America's most coveted canine award.

Mrs. Godsol has been exhibiting dogs for 30 years and has been a judge since 1937. In the United States, she has, in previous years, judged many of the breeds at Westminster, Los Angeles, Chicago, Kansas City, and Boston. She has also officiated in Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, Cuba, and England.

Since none of the group judges officiates in any of the breeds, the top winner will have won under three different judges. In all, 49 judges will participate.

The entry will be limited to approximately 2,500 dogs all of whom (except puppies) must have won a blue ribbon in an earlier show.

100TH BEST IN SHOW

Congratulations are due Tailteann Kennels, Todmorden, Ont., on chalking up its 100th Best in Show with the BIS win of Ch. Tailteann's Miss Gaiety at the Guelph Kennel Club Show August 11. This win signifies more than good luck. It involves many years of serious study, long-range planning, doing without sleep for many hours to personally ensure the welfare of the whelping mother and babies, plus a combination of science and sometimes costly trial and error. Such consistency cannot help but bring results, and our good wishes go not only to this fine kennel but to all others working with tireless devotion to produce the best possible specimens of their breed.

EXERCISE DOG TO MINIMIZE SHEDDING

Brisk outdoor exercise for their dogs would do much to help dog owners meet the problems of excessive shedding, advises the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York. When it is possible, give dogs a run in a field, park or recreation ground. Regular walks at a brisk gait will develop muscles and stamina, increase circulation and tone up the condition of the dog's skin and coat.

Dogs kept in heated homes with very little exercise will often suffer from dry skin and coat, causing the hair to shed profusely. After his exercise, if a dog is placed on a paper or outdoors on the ground and given a massage, the owner pressing both hands down the dog's sides and back from head to rump, much of the loose hair will be worked out. If massage is followed by a good, vigorous brushing, there will be much less hair to drop off in the house.

Exercise also serves another purpose. Dogs are less liable to expend their pent-up energy in nervous barking, in chewing on household articles, or indulging in other "bad habits," which very often are due to boredom and lack of activity.

FALLEN FIGHTER

When a dog is allowed to run loose, or it can even happen on the end of a lead, tearing cuts can happen in a flash. Don't be mislead by the theory that a dog's tongue can heal all its injuries. Dogs are susceptible to infection as readily as people. However, if the wound is kept clean, it will undoubtedy heal well. A soothing ointment helps.

When a gash is long and wide, stitches may be necessary.

DOBERMAN PINSCHERS

The new kennel progresses but oh so slowly! Meanwhile we have no stock for sale—unless you're interested in a real brood bitch prospect.

TEMPERATURE OF DOG'S NOSE NO HEALTH CLUE

Whether a dog's nose is warm or cold has nothing to do with his state of health, states Harry Miller, director of the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York. The theory that a dog's nose is his thermometer is one of those ancient legends that persists despite its fallacy and one that often misleads dog owners into using it as a method of diagnosis.

A dog may be in perfect health and yet have a nose that feels warm to the touch. By the same token, a dog with a high fever, even in the last stages of a serious illness, may have a nose that feels cool.

Dogs normally lick their noses, sometimes as a reflex but mostly because the tears from the tear ducts drain just inside the nostril. It is just as normal for a dog to lick his nose as it is for people to lick their lips.

When a dog's nose is wet the moisture on it evaporates until it is dry. Evaporation makes the nose become cold in the same way that a person's finger feels cold if he wets it and holds it up to test the direction of the wind. When the dog's nose is dry it becomes the same temperature as his body and feels warm.

As with nearly all beliefs, there is some basis for the "cold nose—healthy dog" theory, states Mr. Miller, because a dog with a fever will get a warm, dry nose very quickly, but it will still feel cool to the touch while it is moist. The nose of a dog in perfect shape may feel hot after he has taken a nap when his nose has been tucked against his body or covered by his tail.

BONES MUST BE BIG

It's no kindness to give your dog chicken bones, spareribs or other bones which may splinter and either become lodged in the mouth or tear the intestines. Ask your butcher for large knuckle bones (he might or might not charge a few cents) which can be gnawed harmlessly for hours on end.

If you can't resist giving the dog a steak or circular bone, watch him like a hawk. Even the smartest dog can be hopelessly stupid about his favourite plaything.

YOU CAN SAY NO

Puppies as well as children should be taught table manners as one of the early steps in everyday obedience. Begging at the table should be discouraged. At first you might not mind, but before long the puppy with the pleading eyes can become a real nuisance, particularly when he discovers he can get attention by pawing at your knee, drooling, or even whining and barking.

If you can't resist giving him a tidbit, give it to him in his own dish, away from your table. This will help ensure a peaceful meal, and particularly so if you have guests.

BROKEN TEETH

If you care about your dog's teeth, don't let him carry heavy chunks of wood or rocks. When he brings you something hard to be thrown, exchange it for something soft, like a piece of leather, or a ball. Some dogs' teeth become worn down to the gums through this otherwise innocent game. Hunting dogs and terriers that enjoy digging are apt to have the roughest teeth. Country dogs' teeth, too, suffer when they go after groundhogs, badgers etc., and permit neither root nor rock to stand in their way.

TRAINING YOUR PUPPY

A puppy is a very simple little animal. All he wants in life is a reasonably comfortable home, nourishing food, care when he is sick—and just one more thing—he wants to please you and make you proud of him.

Your number one training task is to teach him the meaning of the word "No". Instant obedience to this single command is essential not only for your convenience but for his happiness.

Don't use the command any more than you have to. You mustn't make the poor pup think that the whole world is off limits. And never say "No" unless you absolutely mean it and unless you can enforce it. But start early, keep everlastingly at it, and if you never teach him another thing in his whole life, you will still have a fairly well behaved dog.

Since a dog can't draw fine lines between right and wrong, he needs things labeled clearly. A "No" will provide the label. But one word of warning, don't change labels on him or it will only serve to mix him up. Don't allow him to jump on you when you have your old clothes on, and then try to teach him not to jump on you when you have on your Sunday best. And don't let him chew your old slipper and then forbid him to gnaw on your new shoes. Decide what is to be off limits and use the "No" to put it there and keep it there.

RIDGEBACKS AND CYSTS

Mrs. Gwennythe H. Appell, Sunnyslope Kennels, who has been active in organizing The Rhodesian Ridgeback Club of Canada, on the West Coast, comments on cysts in this breed:

"It was most gratifying to those of us so very enthused about Ridgebacks, to see them at last getting a little attention and publicity . . . (Dogs in Canada, October, 1955).

"We have never had any experience with cysts either with grown stock or puppies . . . The dogs have been bred here on the West Coast for the past eight years, to my knowledge. We have had about 35 puppies at Sunnyslope Kennels during the past year. I have had extensive correspondence with kennels in England, Africa and United States, and so far have never heard anything about cysts."

JAPANESE SPANIEL

by Leta Tompkins

THE JAPANESE SPANIEL is not too well known in Canada, yet according to students of the breed, our Canadian-breds are far superior to the English imports seen at the American shows, and also better than the American-breds. It is a pity that they are not shown more by Canadian breeders, for we have in our stock the true elegance and style, the refinement of bone, lovely head and proud carriage so much in demand. Especially the grand old Nippon San strain. This is the same line that was bred and shown by Mrs. Huntington so successfully before the war. Her dogs always won whenever and wherever shown in the States and Canada.

I was the first breeder in Western Canada. There is now one breeder in Vancouver, and one just starting on Vancouver Island. In Ontario Mrs. Koski has a kennel and does show her Japanese Spaniels. She has one female champion. There are two more breeders in the East, but I have not yet located them. On Cape Breton Island, Mrs. Watts has her kennel home of the Nippon Sans.

I fell in love with the breed after acquiring my first puppy, quickly nicknamed "Sweetie." She came from Cape Breton Island by 'plane to Vancouver. Then by steamship to Squamish. From there by P.G.E. rail to our whistle-stop, where I met her and carried her by horse-back up the mountain trail to our summer camp. Never had I seen such a rare and beautiful puppy. Her clever and charming ways won the hearts of all who saw her. She was soon joined by a mate, Ch. Nippon Tamoshimi San, and later others. Everybody wanted a puppy, and often two or three. There is always a waiting list. The men love them as much as the ladies do, for few breeds are more courageous, sporting and dignified. They are hardy, plucky, and full of vim. Always very gentle, I have never known one to snap or snarl at a person. They are clean and easily trained, love to go for walks and swims, and perfect to take car-riding. I have sold them to elderly ladies to be apartment pets, to families for children's playmates, and to truck-drivers wanting a companion on their long trips with transport trucks. In all cases they have become cherished and loved beyond compare.

USE BRAINS, NOT BRAWN

That all important lesson—teaching a dog to "heel" or stay at your side on a closely held leash instead of pulling ahead—is more a matter of using brains instead of physical strength, states the Gaines Dog Research Center.

For example, consider your dog's temperament and try to understand why he pulls. A nervous dog is likely to pull hard or an excited dog will often forge ahead but trying to match your strength to his, or jerk him into position continually, will only add to the problem.

A well-recommended way to teach the pulling dog to heel is to hold the end of the leash in the right hand, keeping your dog at your left side. When you command "heel" use just enough strength to attract his attention. As in all training, you must have the dog's attention. Use your left hand to encourage your dog to come to your side, and, of course, talk to him. The use of your voice is important. Dogs soon learn the tone that denotes approval or disapproval.

The same method of encouragement can be used for the dog that lags behind or refuses to keep up. Too often the person walking the dog slows down to stay back with the lagger, or tries to pull him along. Instead of suiting your pace to the sluggish dog, walk briskly and purposefully. Keep the tone of your voice light and merry as if making a game of the "heeling" lesson.

Mr. Jones was skipping down the street whistling a gay tune. His neighbor, falling in step with him, remarked, "You're pretty happy this morning."

"Right you are," grinned Mr. Jones. "I just cured my wife of yelling at me all the time."

"Well, well. How did you do it?"

"I convinced her that it was making a nervous wreck out of the dog."

inant gene which is covering up a recessive member of the pair is by test mating. As the recessive gene in question may be an undesirable one from the breeder's point of view, it may be very important to determine whether a particular animal will breed true or whether it carries hidden recessive genes which it may transmit to its offspring.

Recessive characteristics may appear to skip one or many generations. Even though they may be covered up for countless generations, they remain capable of sorting out and becoming paired with like partners, and when they are paired with like partners they remain capable of expressing themselves in the offspring in their original form. Recessive characteristics must be handed down by both parents before they can be expressed (become visible) in the offspring. Each parent must contribute one recessive gene for the characteristic in question. The pair of genes which are contributed by both parents may then form a union and express the characteristic in the offspring. A recessive characteristic which is exhibited in the offspring is always homozygous (purebred) because both members of the pair of genes are identical. If the members of the pair were not identical, the recessive member would be covered up by the corresponding dominant gene and the recessive characteristic could not be seen in the offspring. A homozygous recessive animal—one in which the recessive characteristic in question is seen—always breeds true, for it has only one kind of gene to transmit to its offspring. Even though a homozygous recessive animal is descended from a long line of ancestors, all of whom possessed the corresponding dominant gene for the character in question, it cannot hand the dominant gene to its offspring. It does not possess the dominant gene. Therefore, it cannot transmit it.

TRAINING A RETRIEVER

by Bob Blyth

ANYONE CAN TRAIN a Retriever who has a few minutes to spare each day, a wealth of patience and the love of a dog somewhere in his make-up.

The first requirement of course is a the dog and a good background is a great help. You may get a good Retriever from any breed but the breeds that have been cultivated for this job are the ones to start off with.

You have bought your Pup. Now comes the question of when do you start training. Should it be at three months, six months, twelve months or older? If you are training your dog as a gun-dog only, start playing with him when he is still a pup. There is no reason why your pup can't retrieve your old socks when he is three or four months old, but remember at all times this is fun and two or three short, quick retrieves is enough at a time.

Don't Over-train

There is more harm done by over-training your dog than anything else. Once sicken your puppy by too much work or obedience and you have a dog that is more than likely ruined. This is one thing that you must bear in mind at all times while training. Far better a few weeks longer than one minute too much. I will guarantee there are more good dogs spoiled by a few minutes over training than there are dogs spoiled by not enough training. I should know, because I get a lot of these kind to train. The owner starts out to train his dog, spoils him in a few easy lessons. Then he takes him to a trainer and expects him to do in a few weeks, what he could not do in probably six months. Give me the dog that has had no training whatsoever, rather than the dog that is partly trained by its owner.

It's Your Job

Now let's get back to our pup. You have started him to retrieve by having him retrieve something soft, an old stuffed sock that is not too heavy. Throw it out for him, and run away from him so that he is always in a hurry to bring the dummy back to you. Take lots of time with him; it does not have to be done every day to start with. Do the job yourself. Do not let junior take the job over for you.

Step number two would be a start in obedience at five or six months of age. Make him sit at your side. When you say "Sit" your dog should do so at once and you must insist on this. You do not have to be rough with the pup as you will find a keen pup is always looking for a way to please you. This is just another way he has of doing just that. Talk quietly to him at all times, but when you give an order it must be carried out then and there. This is important. Once he gets a chance to disobey you a few times he keeps trying to outwit you at all times. It is amazing how some dogs can really put it over you once they find out how. While you do not have to be smarter than the dog I can assure you it is a great help if you are.

"Stay"

Now you have him sitting for you. Try leaving him there and walk away from him. Tell him to "Stay" and keep on insisting on this. Do not walk away from him too far until he gets the idea as he is going to be afraid of staying there all by himself until he knows what it's all about. Do not turn your back upon him; just back up from him keep saying "Stay" then come back to him and make a fuss over him. He will soon get the idea and will stay there as long as you wish him to.

Getting Serious

Now you have your dog doing a little retrieving each time you take him out. He will also sit and stay. By this time he is eight or nine months old. Now we start some more serious training.

Walk away a distance of fifty yards with the dummy and throw it well up in the air. Make sure the dummy is out where the dog can see it to start with. Gradually work back. Let him go as soon as it is in the air the first time or two. Then make him sit and stay at your side till you send him. After you are satisfied he is doing alright on this job you can introduce him to the gun and of course a starting pistol. A .32 or .38 with blanks is a good bet for this job. After your dog is keen on picking up the dummy have your helper throw the dummy well up in the air about one hundred yards away, then fire the gun while the dummy is still in the air. If he breaks for it the first few times, let him, till he associates the gun with the dummy; then check him and make him stay with you. If he shows signs of nervousness only fire the gun off maybe once each time until he gets used to it. Then gradually work closer to the dummy till you can have it thrown in front of your dog without him breaking or running in. When he is steady to this work you can try him on a pigeon or game bird of some kind and carry on the same way.

That's nothing, he's a bird dog

You can introduce your dogs to the water at anytime the water is warm enough. Romp around in the water with him or get your children to play with him in the water until he gets used to it. Then have him retrieve the dummy (preferably a small boat bumper, or a dummy filled with kapok or cork) and carry on the same as you were doing in the field.

When the shooting season starts do not forget the hours and weeks you have spent on your dog. Keep your eyes on him at all times as this is the crucial test. You might better miss the first few ducks and have a steady dog than get a couple of ducks and find out that you have spoiled all your work in a few careless minutes. Watch him the first season at all times and at the end of the season if you have been careful you have something that will not only be a pleasure to watch, an accomplishment worth while, but a means of doing your part to conserve the wild-life of your country for future generations.

ENGLISH SPRINGER SPANIELS COMPETE FOR HIGH HONOURS

The English Springer Spaniel will be seen in its glory and magnificent action at the Annual Licensed Field Trial sponsored by the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada at Port Colborne (No. 3 Highway) September 29. Leading dogs and owners of this breed from the United States and Canada will compete.

The six majors events will be a delight to dog lovers, regardless of breed, with the water tests one of the most exciting sections of the competition.

TRAVELLING LIGHT

An ideal dog food dish while hunting or travelling is the paper tray used by meat markets. No dishes to wash, just burn them when used. For larger breeds, there are large sizes of meat trays, say two or three pounds. Trays are usually available from local wholesale paper products companies at a very small cost.

CANADIAN CHESAPEAKE RETRIEVER TRIALS

Cooking Lake Sea-plane base, 18 miles south-east of Edmonton, Alta., was the site of the first Retriever Trials sponsored by the Canadian Chesapeake Club recently.

There was an entry of 45 dogs to face the difficult tests laid out by the Judges. The water test in particular was very rugged and brought out the best in the dog and handler. The Labradors outnumbered the Chesapeakes by about 7 to 1. The Chesapeake, best known as a superior duck and goose retriever, is gradually developing the technique required for trials.

The trial was run off smoothly under the capable direction of the veteran trainer and handler Pat St. Peter, and Archie Baker did a top job as steward of the course. Alf Guns did yeoman service wherever he was required.

The judging was done by popular and experienced trial-men. W. G. Slocombe, E. E. (Bus) Brown, Dr. F. McDonald took care of the open all-age. The puppy and non-winners were handled by Percy Silk, J. Phillips and M. Draper. The President of the Club, Jim Bell, made the presentations and complimented the winners.

The winner in the all-open was Baker's Jeff, a black Lab, owned and handled by Frank Cockrall, who only a year ago almost became a victim of hepatitis. He is quite sound to-day. Other wins were reported in the August issue of DIC.

MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING

3478. MEETING WITH ONTARIO FIELD TRIAL REPRESENTATIVES

The President reported that the Ontario Field Trial Representatives had been invited to meet with the Board to discuss any matters of concern to them in their official capacity as Representatives of the Club.

Mr. Joe F. Tiede, Ontario Field Trial Representative for Beagles, entered the meeting, and was invited to discuss with the Board any matters of interest to Beagle field trials in Ontario.

Mr. Tiede reported that he had received from the Secretary a copy of the A.K.C. application for official measurement of a Beagle and said that the following was the generally recognized procedure in the province in connection with the measurement of Beagles for field trial purposes:

(a) four official measurers had been named and approved by the Board in 1955 (Messrs. Dawsett, Trevina, Liittisch, and Salter), one or more of these being present at all licensed Beagle trials in the province;

(b) each Beagle is measured at each trial and notation of the measurement indicated on a form retained by the owner or handler;

(c) if at three trials a dog is measured into one height division, then it is considered to be officially measured into that division, and entitled to a measurement certificate testifying to it having been measured into that division;

(d) if at three trials at which the dog is officially measured it is found that the dog is not measured in all three cases into the some height division, then it must be officially measured by the four designated official measurers and their finding is final.

Mr. Tiede recommended and it was agreed that the measurement form be altered to permit of this arrangement being carried on.

Mr. Tiede requested and it was agreed that the Ontario Field Trial Representative for Beagles be notified of any Beagle club submitting its field trial returns after the official deadline for the receipt of such returns at the C.K.C. office.

——Mr. Andrew Dunn, Ontario Field Trial Representative for Spaniels, entered the meeting.

Mr. Tiede enquired whether Beagle clubs were applying for permission to stage sanction trials, and the Secretary reported that applications for permission to stage sanction trials were being received. Mr. Tiede suggested that sanction trial dates and licensed trial dates should not be permitted to conflict.

Mr. Tiede outlined the effort being made to prevent undue repetition of the same persons as judges at licensed Beagle trials in Ontario, and for the qualification of new Beagle field trial judges.

Mr. Tiede referred to an enquiry which he had received from the Secretary regarding the status of the Canadian National Beagle Club and stated that while it was to all intents and purposes a new club he saw no reason why they should not be permitted to carry on under that name.

Mr. Tiede reported that the Beagle clubs were endeavouring to draft a standard entry form for use in connection with Beagle field trials but had not reached a unanimous opinion on what constituted the best form.

Mr. Tiede reported that the Ontario Association of Beagle Club was considering a recommendation to the Board that when less than five members of a Beagle Club staging a licensed trial are present at the Club's trial, the Board should order that championship points will not be allowed in connection with such trial. This question was discussed but no action was taken pending submission of the Association's recommendation to the Board for its consideration.

Mr. Tiede stated that he appreciated the opportunity to appear before the Board and left the meeting.

The President invited Mr. Dunn to speak on any matters of interest to Spaniel field trial activity in Ontario.

Mr. Dunn stated that the two proposed amendments to the Spaniel Field Trial Rules discussed at the annual general meeting had been very well received by Spaniel field trial enthusiasts, and he hoped the proposed amendments would receive a favourable ballot when voted on by the membership generally.

Mr. Dunn reported on difficulties with officials of a Humane Society in connection with the last Spaniel trial, and stated that it was the hope of Spaniel field trial fanciers that the Canadian Kennel Club would support them in their efforts to convince authorities that field trials are a means to conservation of game.

Mr. Monaghan offered to discuss this subject with an official of the Department of Justice.

The President thanked Mr. Dunn for his presence at the meeting, and Mr. Dunn then left the meeting.

3479 (3477). SHOW & TRIAL MATTERS

Mrs. Smith reported that the Dachshund Club of Canada was holding a specialty show for Dachshunds in conjunction with the Hamilton Kennel Club's all-breed championship show on June 30th, and enquired whether a dog may be entered only in the specialty show or must it also be entered in the all-breed championship show either for competition of exhibition only. Mrs. Smith reported that Mr. Irving was of the opinion that a dog may be entered in the specialty show only but a notice should appear in the premium list and catalogue to the effect that dogs entered only in the specialty show are subject to the same regulations as those entered in the all-breed show except where otherwise specified.

Following discussion the Board approved the arrangement suggested by Mr. Irving.

The Secretary reported that the Lakehead Kennel Club had applied for permission to hold championship shows on August 31st-September 1st, dates already granted to the Canadian National Exhibition for championship show purposes.

The Secretary was authorized to request the Lakehead Kennel Club to select other dates.

The Secretary read a letter from the Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Club of Canada who enquired whether the recent action of the American Kennel Club in declaring monorchids and cryptorchids ineligible for entry at shows held under American Kennel Club rules applied in Canada.

Following discussion it was agreed that:

(a) The change which the American Kennel Club had ordered in connection with its dog show rules had no effect in Canada; however,

(b) Monorchids and/or crytorchids would be subject to disqualification if so provided in the standard of any breed.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. F. T. Freeman who:

(a) Reported that due to an accumulation of pus in the womb it had been necessary to perform an operation on the Samoyed female AM. CH. TESS OF ALTAI who had already earned seven championship points towards her Canadian championship;

(b) Requested that, under the circumstances, the dog be allowed to continue in competition until championship status in Canada had been attained.

Following discussion it was agreed that the rule disqualifying spayed females made no exceptions for circumstances reported by Mr. Freeman, and therefore the Board had not the power to grant his request.

Mr. Monaghan suggested that the attention of trial-giving clubs be drawn to the requirements of the Obedience Trial Regulations regarding ribbons to be provided at licensed obedience trials held under the Club's rules.

3480 (3442). STUD BOOKS

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. Monaghan who:

(a) Reported that the copy (except indices) for the 1955 stud book would be ready about June 15th, and the indices copy soon thereafter;

(b) requested that the subject of advertising in the volume be placed on the agenda of this meeting;

(c) reported that copy for the 1952 would likely be completed early enough to permit a start to be made on the 1956 volume before the end of the year.

It was agreed that Mr. MacCallum be asked to convene the Stud Book (Advertising) Committee for the purpose of determining what action should be taken to solicit advertising for the 1955 volume, or whether to forego advertising in the 1955 volume and concentrate on securing advertising for the 1956 volume.

3482. STATISTICS (LONG RANGE PLAN COMMITTEE)

Mr. Daniell-Jenkins reported that the Chairman of the Long Range Plan Committee had named him Chairman of the Records sub-committee of the Long Range Plan Committee, and for the purposes of the sub-comittee he wished to be informed:

(a) Whether there is any method of compiling statistical information by breeds on obedience title holders;

(b) Whether it would be possible to provide information, in any given breed, as to the number of times the breed had been awarded Best in Show also Best in Group since the breed had been recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club.

The Secretary replied to these questions as follows:

(a) It would be possible to compile a list of all obedience title winners since obedience trials became a recognized activity in Canada, and such a list could be segregated into the various breeds;

(b) Only by examining past issues of the official organ would it be possible to compile a list of Best in Show and Best in Group winners in any given breed.

Mr. Daniell-Jenkins gave notice (seconded by Mrs. Mack) that at the next meeting of the Board of Directors he would move:

"THAT, the Secretary be instructed to include in the official show reports published in the official organ Best Brace in Group, Best Team in Group, Best Brace in Show, and Best Team in Show awards."

3483 (2052). STANDARD FOR THE RHODESIAN RIDGEBACK

The Secretary:

(a) Stated that when the Canadian Kennel Club had recognized the Rhodesian Ridgeback some years ago the Board had approved a standard for the breed;

(b) Reported that the breed had been recognized recently by the American Kennel Club who had adopted a standard for the breed;

(c) The Club's By-laws provide that except where otherwise ordered by the Board the Canadian Kennel Club shall recognize the same standard as that adopted by the American Kennel Club;

(d) Enquired whether the Club continued to recognize the standard approved by the Board in 1951, or the standard now recognized by the American Kennel Club.

The Secretary distributed a copy of the standard recognized by the Club some years ago on which was indicated the difference between it and the American standard.

The matter was left over for consideration at the semi-annual meeting.

3484 (3431). EMERGENCY FUND

The Secretary tabled a letter received from the Hazelwood Kennels, St. Thomas, Ont., reporting the loss of dogs by another member.

It was agreed that the letter should be referred to the temporary trustee of the Emergency Fund.

3485 (3423). RECORDING MINUTES (SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING)

The Secretary sought an instruction regarding the recording of discussions at the coming semi-annual meeting. It was agreed that the recording be left in the hands of the Secretary and Asst. Secretary.

3486. LIAISON WITH RECORDS OFFICE

The Secretary reported that Mr. Monaghan had provided him with a list of various decisions of the Board (including such items as #3418, #3417, etc.) all of concern to the registration of dogs at the Live Stock Records office, and suggested that Mr. Monaghan, as the duly appointed liaison between the Club and the Records, be authorized to discuss these with the Director of Canadian National Live Stock Records, the results of such discussions to determine whether confirmation by letter should follow, or whether further discussion by the Board was desired. This suggestion was approved.

3487 (3449). REGISTRATION OF DACHSHUNDS

The Secretary reported that he had received replies to the memorandum which Mr. Monaghan had presented at the last meeting of the Board, and was placing the file on the agenda for consideration at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

3488 (3344). COMMITTEE ON DOG FOODS

The Secretary reported that he had received a letter from Mr. Irving following up the Board's discussion on this subject at its annual meeting, and he was therefore placing the file on the agenda for consideration at the semi-annual meeting of the Board.

3490. ADJOURNMENT

At 10:55 P.M., on motion by Mr. Monaghan, duly seconded and carried, this meeting of the Board of Directors adjourned.

RARE HUNTERS

Unusual hunting dogs owned by Bodo S. Winterhelt, Toronto, include a Drahthaar, (first, as far as can be ascertained in Canada, some in the United States) and a Poodle (Pudel) Pointer, first, according to Mr. Winterhelt, in Canada. He also owns one of the rare Hunting Terriers, known in Germany as Jagd, probably the only one in Canada, although there are a few in the United States.

SOLE CANADIAN SCORES

Only Canadian entry in a show of 754 dogs, the Black and Tan Coon Hound, Ten Oaks Sweet Talk, took Best of Breed for two points at the Chain O' Lakes Show at Lake Forest, Ill. George Deyman of Port Credit, Ont., is the owner.

DOGGY SOCIAL GROUPS

Dog groups with the most rigid hierarchic social structure are inclined to be more hostile to strange dogs than those with a weak or poorly organized social structure, according to experiments reported by Dr. John A. King, of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, in the Proceedings of the American Philosophical Society. He worked with Basenjis and Cocker Spaniels, and the "strangers" were dogs of these same breeds. His findings: There is a tendency for agressiveness to strangers by the groups to decrease in the following order: (1) strangers of the same bred and sex; (2) strangers of the same sex but different breed; (3) strangers of the same breed but different sex; (4) strangers of both different breed and sex.

CLUB NOTES

Barrie Kennel Club

by Roy Black

The club held its annual meeting and election of officers at the Arena on July 12. Mr. Albert Kaye was re-elected president along with Mrs. Vina Jones as secretary-treasurer. Other officers: Vice-president, Roy Black; Bench Show Committee, Harry Morren, Stan King, Bunny Austin and Roy Black, under the chairmanship of Cliff Van Valkenburg.

The members were pleased to hear the secretary read many letters of appreciation from exhibitors and others who attended this year's show.

We look ahead to 1957 and want our show to meet with your approval.

As we do not hold a regular meeting in August our Social Committee have a get-together in the form of a picnic where there is plenty of doggy talk with a good time for all.

British Columbia News

by Elsie Murray

The Working Dog Association of B.C. have just completed their two annual shows. All members feel gratified with the move to the Summer resort of White Rock.

Mrs. Dolly Wall and Elsie Murray were recently guest speakers at the newly formed Mt. Baker Kennel club at Bellingham. An excellent way of exchanging views and getting acquainted.

The Junior Kennel Club have been Training all Summer, meeting weekly. The children have entered handling competitions at different shows.

A gathering of fanciers recently presented Mrs. J. Kingston with a farewell gift as a token of their esteem. Jack has been transferred to Montreal.

We are saddened by the death of W. A. Forbes—"Sandy" to many.

B.C. ladies express regret to their many supporters at having to cancel their Fall shows but building troubles made it impossible.

The Western Canada Boxer Club have now started their Training Class for Boxers.

Calgary Kennel and Obedience Club

June 8 the club held the graduation of its second Obedience Class. The class valedictorian, Rex, gave three well chosen Woofs, on command. Rex, a German Shepherd, is owned by Charlie Willows. Two other honour graduates were Pepper, a Weimaraner owned by Bob Early, and Nipper, an English Pointer, owned by young Eugene Collins. Eugene and Nipper drove over 60 miles from the farm each week to attend the Obedience Classes, many times in below zero weather. Bob Ings gave a very interesting exhibition of training with his German Shepherd Islah. Although the obedience school has closed for the summer, enquiries are already coming in for the Fall school.

Dachshund Club of Canada

by Jean M. Bodemer

The First Specialty Show of our club was held on June 30 at Burlington Arena. It went over with great success.

Best in Show went to Ch. Steinheim's Candida (female) owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bodemer. B.C.B. in Show went to Ch. Steinheim's Candida as well. B.O.S. to Dalton's Hilary owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney G. Sims. B.C.B. puppy was awarded to King's Diana owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chatfield. Best of Breed in Long-Hair standard was Virginnia's Wee-Mite Lucky Boy owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mahon and Best of Breed in the Miniature Long-Haired went to Primrose Patch Gold Duchess owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. F. M. King.

The officers and members of the club want to thank Mr. T. Joel of Toronto who judged this show and who helped us make it a success. Also, thanks to the Hamilton Kennel Club and all who offered trophies.

After the show the members had a short meeting. It was decided not to have another meeting until October.

Dog Lovers' Association

by Geoffrey White

For the August meeting our members drove out to Edgar to spend the evening with Mrs. Childs at her Poodle and Samoyed Kennels. In place of the usual type of meeting in which we have an appointed speaker we decided to have a "pot-pourri", during which we could bring to the fore our own special problems and ideas.

Two new members were introduced who brought along an interesting imported German dog. Members are Sgt. Rodney and Mrs. Lyall Rodney and the dog was described by Sgt. Rodney as a Heiderwachtel. These two people would be interested in hearing from anyone who has or knows anything about this breed and would gladly answer all letters. Their address is R.R. # 1, Stayner, Ont. Sgt. Rodney told of the difficulties experienced in shipping and receiving this dog after it had reached Canada from Germany. All too often we hear of troubles with shipping facilities, customs, quarantine arrangements, etc. As long as everything is above board and not 'agin the government' it should not be difficult and certainly should not be made more difficult by the officials to import a dog.

We hope for our next meeting to visit a pack of wolves — the genuine Canis Lupus.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada

by Mary E. Southcott

The coming of warm summer weather has brought a slowdown in show activity around this part of the country, but we are extremely busy getting everything lined up ready for our big Annual Championship Specialty Show being held in Exhibition Park, Toronto, on September 15. In case of bad weather the show will be held indoors in the Horticultural Building in Exhibition Park.

Our 3rd Club Matinee Show was held in July at the home of members Bob and Robbie Walker of Hamilton, and proved another very successful affair, with an excellent turnout of members and Shepherds. Ed Summerfield did a highly commendable job of judging the breed, and selected as his Winners Dog and Female, Felix of Matterhorn and Pia of Matterhorn respectively, owned by the Alfred Schmockers of Copetown, while Best Shepherd was the Walker's Ch. Drama of Long-Worth. In spite of the fact that we had a violent hail and rain storm during the afternoon, the judging went off as scheduled and a wonderful time was had by all. A hearty vote of thanks is due our refreshment convener, Doris Smith, who saw to it that a most delectable supper was served.

London Canine Association

by Mildred Dark

The July meeting was held in the Club rooms at 261 Hill St. Three new members were welcomed and an application for one more accepted. The final arrangements for the Fall Show were made and everything points to a large entry.

Our members are being given an opportunity to appear on TV Channel 10 every Thursday at 2.45 p.m. and it is being well received by TV fans.

Mountain City Obedience Club, Montreal

by Laura Nygren

Entries at our trials on May 26 and 27 were well over 50 each day. After glorious sunshine on the Saturday it came as quite a shock to wake up to dismal rain on Sunday morning. Typical of the sporting attitude of Obedience enthusiasts towards their hobby were the 24 post-entries, who arrived at the show in a torrent of rain, to make a total of 56 canines at the trial. A big bouquet should go to our judges, Mrs. Lyle of Vancouver, and Mrs. Southcott of Toronto, who both had a cheery word for each exhibitor. Our hosts, Cmdr. and Mrs. Angus, did everything possible to make the trials memorable despite the weather. Highest scores in each of the trials were won by Standard Poodles with the identical scores of 199½! On Saturday the honour went to Mrs. R. W. Tyner's "Amanda of Merrychance", Can. & Am. U.D.T., and on Sunday to Miss Blanche Saunders' "Robin Hill of Carillon", Am. U.D., ably handled by Christa Skiebe.

Elected at the annual meeting on May 26 was the 1956-57 Executive Committee. New President is Mrs. Jean Ferrabee; Vice-President is Mr. Gerald McNally; Secretary is Miss Laura Nygren; Treasurer is Miss Patricia Murray; and Councillors are Miss Dorothy Budge, Miss Gladys Burns and Mrs. Alex Casgrain.

CLUB NOTES (cont'd from p. 29)

All exhibitors seeking final points should make a special effort to attend. This arena is comfortably large for both dogs and exhibitors.

The Toy Breeders Club are providing a special judge and are making this a specialty for all toy breeds. There will be double points which should be significant to all exhibitors in this group.

The picnic and puppy match held at the Daniell-Jenkins estate on July 22 proved a most interesting outing.

The club is indebted to Mr. Jenkins for the trouble he went to in preparing the lawns and rings for the affair.

Mr. "Mac" MacCallum, popular director of the C.K.C. did the final honors of choosing best puppy in match. His choice being the lovely chow belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nattrass.

At the time of writing Mr. Walter Brown is in the Hospital with a foot ailment. The club extends best wishes for an early recovery. The same to Mrs. A. Turner who has not been well for some time.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 5. Note meeting place on your notices, which will probably be St. Clair Y.M.C.A. same as July and August.

Weimaraner Club of Canada (Ontario Branch)

by Mrs. B. Schulze

On Sunday, July 22, members met, with their dogs, at Heidehof, Niagara Falls, for a Field Fun Trial. It was a family affair in more than one way. Out of the nineteen dogs present fourteen were under one year.

The water trial was held with live ducks. The owners of the two winning dogs in water and field, Reinhard from Heidehof and Mr. McCaldron's Dust, waived the prizes in favour of the younger dogs.

The field work was done with guinea hens and pheasants. First prize went to Mr. and Mrs. F. Wood's Rondorf's Baron von Albrecht; second prize to Rondorf's Count Otto owned by G. S. Williams; third prize to a young puppy five months old, Kreig owned by a new members of the club, H. W. Sommerville of Toronto. Fourth prize went to Mr. Barclay's dog, Rondorf's Silver Misty.

Mr. L. Winterfeld of Toronto acted as judge for this affair.

SHOW AND TRIAL RESULTS

These are the official awards as compiled by the recording department of The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. Any correspondence relating thereto must be addressed to the Secretary Treasurer, The Canadian Kennel Club, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ont.

5 good reasons why GAINES is the answer to the dog breeder's nutrition problems!

It is no secret to dog breeders and veterinarians that many commercial dog foods vary considerably in their nutritional content—frequently from feeding to feeding. This fact has led to a common problem in the correct feeding of dogs, where it is well known that a completely balanced diet is essential to good health and top condition.

There are five good reasons why HOMOGENIZED GAINES MEAL supplies the answer to dog feeding problems. Here they are:

1. Gaines contains all the nourishment dogs need to keep them healthy, happy and in top condition.
2. Gaines is homogenized. So there's a balanced diet in every mouthful of every feeding.
3. Gaines is always ready to eat—dry or moistened.
4. Gaines is the truly tested dog meal, the product of years of research on whole generations of dogs, at the famous Gaines Research Kennels.
5. Gaines goes a long way! A 25 lb. bag of Gaines contains all the food value of 75 lbs. of canned dog food.

Be sure to order your supply soon!
