LETTERS

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles or other items contained in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, colour, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same.

ABOUT BOSTONS' EARS

. . . How many of you people would like to see Bostons in the show ring with natural erect ears—erect without the aid of cropping? I have just finished a female to her championship and her ears were cropped, and in my opinion it took something of the natural beauty away from her.

I would like to know what the rest of the Boston breeders think of this and whether you are for or against cropping. Please drop me a line and let me have your opinion. I keep in touch with many breeders in both U.S.A. and Canada, and they too would like to see cropping abolished in Bostons.

MRS. VERNON T. GLENN
280 Gibson St.,
Fredericton, N.B.

We are pleased to publish Mrs. Glenn's query, together with her address, and hope that breeders with opinions on the subject will also address them to this department. Little is mentioned regarding ears in the Standard, except that they should be "carried erect; small and thin; situated as near corners of skull as possible . . . Fault: Ears poorly carried or in size out of proportion to head."—Ed.

GUARDS FOR GOOSE FARMS

. . . We are interested to obtain some plain and dependable book or literature on the selection of the right breeds of watch-dogs, as well as on the proper breeding, rearing, feeding, training and general care of same.

We are managing a large goose-farm. Geese are mainly outdoor birds, and they are bothered mostly by dogs, foxes, coons and like predators, as well as, rarely, human intruders.

We would also be thankful to get a number of addresses of dependable dog breeders, of the desirable breed, with reasonable prices.

COMMUNITY FARM OF THE BRETHREN

Under separate cover we have forwarded a copy of Dogs, which will give you an idea of the variety of good guard dogs, together with a book list from which to make a selection once you have decided on the breed required. —Ed.

CANADIAN SHEPHERDS TOPS

. . . I am a member of the Canadian Kennel Club and a receiver of Dogs in Canada and enjoy your book very much. Could you tell me where in Canada I could buy a good trained German Shepherd dog, male, about 2 or 3 years old? This dog must be very obedient and a good watch dog and protector, and be fond of children.

If you could also tell me some address in Germany where they train and sell these dogs it would help me if I can't get one in Canada. I would be very thankful if you could tell me about how much one of these dogs would cost in Canada to buy, and also the cost to get one imported from Germany.

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR

With the announcement of The Canadian Kennel Club officers for 1957, it is our firm conviction that the Club is launched on another year of progress and prosperity. It was a genuine pleasure to work with the president, Mrs. M. Eileen McEachren and members of the Board during the past months. We look forward to another worthwhile year with her and the directors returned to office, as well as those whose names newly appear on the 1957 slate. Such distinguished leadership bodes well for purebred dogs in Canada and their owners.

In Search of B.C. The kindness and hospitality shown your editor on a recent whirlwind visit to British Columbia bears out the reputation for hospitality held by the West. Not for a minute did she feel a stranger. So many, many people went out of their way to make the visit not only pleasant but very worthwhile. A great number literally took the safety of their lives and automobiles in their hands to drive through virtually impenetrable fog. But the warmth and interest of the breeders, exhibitors and Obedience enthusiasts dispelled the oppressiveness of the white mist to the extent that without seeing more than a few hours of B.C. sunshine, we left a good deal of our heart there. We look forward to presenting the first British Columbia issue in February.

Special memo to Alberta fanciers. You're next! Let's start thinking now — who are the oldest breeders, or those with the longest record in your province? Who has bred what the longest time? What breed is seen in the greatest numbers? Who are the outstanding people in Alberta dogdom? Drop us a note if you have the answer to any of these questions. The editorial and advertising columns of the March issue are open to material now.

Our all-encompassing wish for the New Year is that your kennels will succeed mightily so that more people may learn the pride and pleasure of owning a purebred dog and constant companion. . . . that incomes will exceed bills payable so that more breeders and exhibitors and dog lovers in general may afford the transportation to attend shows farther afield and widen their circle of acquaintances. An exchange of ideas and insight into the problems of others cannot help but be beneficial to dogs and their people. A happiest of Happy New Years to all.

What's all this about

TO most people outside of dogdom the idea of Obedience Training for dogs is something of a mystery.

But the more we learn of dogs, the more they seem in truth "little people". This is not mere sentiment but straight observation. Dogs are more like children than many humans would care to admit. As such, they should be clearly shown what is right and what is not. They should be taught manners with just as thorough method, if not quite to the extent, that you would a child. The ultimate purpose is the same — to make it an agreeable companion, rather than a precocious little horror. Allowing a dog to completely have its own way is not doing it a favour.

First of all, the onus rests with the parent or owner. The "teacher" must have a clearcut idea of what is to be done. Only then can he expect the pupil to understand, digest the instructions, then carry them out. In fact, once your dog learns that you mean what you say, he will develop a lasting respect.

With some pupils, the absorption is slow; others learn with amazing alacrity. Psychologists aver that in many instances the more slow to absorb may retain the knowledge longer, while the rapid learners may be quick also to forget.

Whether a dog is slow to learn, or disinterested, may be two different things, but Obedience instructors find that the majority of dogs, while requiring patient and persevering training, respond well. In most cases they are delighted to perform correctly for the pleasure of their owners, while not at all averse to the praise and frequent tidbit awards.

Apart from having a well-trained companion who will walk at your heel, turn when you turn and stop when you stop, there are many other advantages. An Obedience-trained dog is less apt to wander. Even the Irish Setter, whose love of the world in general has at times resulted in a tendency to roam, becomes a real homebody.

Obedience training has saved many a fine dog's life. Supposing your dog sees you across the street, and is about to dash across the road. Your voice and the down-stay signal with your hand will tell him to stop and stay put until you give him the release signal.

Suppose you've taken your dog for a walk, picked up several bags of groceries en route, which load up both arms. Wouldn't you rather have your dog stepping smartly beside you, than waging a miniature war and making you both look ridiculous?

Excellent books on training are available, but there is much to be said for Obedience classes.

"Buttons", C.D. (Can. & Am.), Miniature Schnauzer owned by Miss Madeleine Amos, carries flags in aid of Mountain City Obedience Club Hungarian Relief fund.

Dogs need not be Show material to learn obedience. In one city, a class is held in a district where money is scarce, but dogs are not. Many of the pupils are anything but purebred. It follows, however, that once an owner learns the finer points of a dog (of most of which he was totally unaware), his next purchase will be a purebred and perhaps even Show material.

Half the battle is over when the owner learns to give commands briefly and clearly. A dog confused by careless instructions cannot respond well.

By the same token, many shy owners who cannot feel at ease with strangers suddenly blossom out and become good companions themselves. In these instances, instructors feel doubly repaid for their efforts. One instructor tells us that, when some people get on the floor with their dog, their shyness strangles their voice to a whisper, and a blush rises like a portentous dawn.

"Speak louder!" he commands, "How can your dog obey if he can't hear you?"

Friendships may be somewhat marred by a spirited dog jumping up in greeting. There are some perfectly nice people who do not appreciate an armful of dog, or paws on their shoulder. A simple command to a well-trained dog keeps door-answering the dignified and friendly greeting it is meant to be. And conversely, when friends know your dog is well trained, their invitations are more likely to include your pet.

An Obedience-trained dog is a much better travelling companion in and out of the car. When you have to leave him for a short time, you may be sure he will not be upending the upholstery and barking himself hoarse.

There is a great deal of pride in being able to add title initials to your dog's name. It is something for which dog and owner have worked together; you can't buy it. Under Canadian Kennel Club regulations there are six competitions:

Novice Class A

The initials C.D. after a dog's name stand for Companion Dog. Dogs entering trials for these initials may be of any breed (pure-bred) and of either sex. One dog only may be entered in this class by an exhibitor, and every dog in the class must have a separate handler. It must be exhibited by the owner or a member of his immediate family, and in this instance neither professional handler, trainer or kennel employee may be allowed to compete.

IMMUNIZATION

by members of the Toronto Academy of Veterinary Medicine

For certain diseases it is possible to inject substances called vaccines and antiserums into animals and thereby create a resistance in the recipient animals to those diseases. If the resistance created is great enough, the animals are immune to the disease for which they are injected and the procedure is called immunisation.

There are four diseases for which immunisation procedures are available and recommended. They are:

1. Distemper
2. Infectious Canine Hepatitis
3. Rabies
4. Leptospirosis

DISTEMPER

Distemper is a highly infectious disease of dogs caused by a filtrable virus. A filtrable virus is a disease producing organism so small that it readily passes through the pores of the finest filters, and can only be seen after magnification by the most powerful microscopes.

The disease is generally accepted as the most serious infection a dog can contract. It is most prevalent and severe among puppies with a very high death rate. It is not a simple disease generally occurring in two phases, the first being due to the virus and the second to bacterial complications. (Bacteria are other disease producing organisms or germs which are comparatively much larger than viruses). These bacteria are able to cause disease, due to the animal's natural resistance being lowered by the virus. The combination of virus and bacteria is called the distemper complex. Many dogs can be successfully treated for the bacterial complications, only to die several days or weeks later from convulsions or fits after the virus has found its way into the brain and/or spinal cord. Others, while not dying, are frequently left with some nervous derangement such as twitching of various muscles or groups of muscles which may persist for life.

Symptoms

The animal runs a fever being hot to touch. The eyes become reddened and commence to discharge, watery at first, then as the disease progresses it becomes a thickish greenish yellow discharge. In rapid succession, there is loss of appetite and depression, vomiting and diarrhea. Pneumonia is usually a bacterial complication giving a heavy nasal discharge and coughing accompanied by difficult breathing. In short, where a puppy or young dog appears to have a "heavy cold" and he has not been inoculated for distemper the likelihood is that he has, or is contracting, the disease.

The disease is transmitted via the atmosphere much the same as a cold in humans.

Prevention by vaccination has been proved to be the only practicable means of controlling the disease, and should be commenced as soon after weaning as possible. There are several methods by which vaccination may be achieved, and even in an area no larger than Metropolitan Toronto, a procedure which is most successful in one district may be much less effective in another district. However, the local veterinarian is conversant with the problem in his particular area and familiar with the method that will give the best results. In addition, puppies in poor health due to worms, poor nutrition or other factors may need special procedures. Thus it is best to consult the local veterinarian and be guided by his advice as to the best vaccination procedure to follow. The main point to remember is that a vaccination procedure, best suited to the individual puppy and the district in which he lives, is the safest guarantee that the animal will not contract and succumb to the disease.

INFECTIOUS CANINE HEPATITIS

This is also a highly infectious disease caused by a virus. It is not as lethal as distemper but, nevertheless, once symptoms appear the death rate is high particularly in young animals. It frequently occurs in conjunction with distemper, when the death rate is higher than when each disease occurs separately.

Symptoms

There is severe depression, loss of appetite, fever, and tenderness of the abdomen over the liver near the last rib. There may be a cough and enlarged tonsils. Sometimes there is severe vomiting. Frequently, puppies are found dead from the disease without showing any sickness, or just depression and some vomiting for less than 24 hours. The disease is generally seen between weaning and one year of age. It is usually transmitted via urine contaminated food and water dishes, the virus remaining in the urine of an animal which has recovered for many months following recovery. Thus recovered cases are dangerous carriers of the disease.

There are two methods available for vaccination, one conferring what is called a passive or temporary immunity which lasts for one to two weeks, and the other an active immunity which lasts for several months.

The former is called antiserum and is generally in combination with distemper antiserum, so that one injection protects the puppy against both diseases for 1-2 weeks. This inoculation is used to protect a dog going to a show. The other is called a vaccine and consists of the virus which has been chemically inactivated, similar to the Salk vaccine recently introduced for poliomyelitis in human children. One injection of this vaccine, shortly after weaning, confers an immunity lasting for several months. For best results, it should be repeated every 6-12 months, but since the disease is most prevalent up to one year, two injections six months apart are generally sufficient.

RABIES

Rabies is an acute disease of the brain also caused by a virus. Unlike distemper and hepatitis which are specific for the canine species (dogs, foxes, wolves, etc.) rabies can be contracted by all warm blooded animals including man, and once symptoms develop it is always fatal.

Unlike distemper which can be transmitted via the air the animal breathes, or hepatitis via the urine from an active or recovered case, the rabies virus is chiefly excreted from the body in the saliva of infected animals. Thus it is generally transmitted from animal to animal and animal to man by means of a bite and contamination of the wound with virus laden saliva. Rarely, the disease may be transmitted by virus contamination of already existing wounds. It does not penetrate the intact skin of man or animals. The virus may be present in the saliva several days before the animal shows symptoms.

Symptoms

There are two main forms of the disease:

a. Furious Rabies.
b. Dumb Rabies.

a. Furious Rabies

This is the typical "Mad dog" form. Commonly, the victim appears alert with dilated eyes. Dogs, unless tied most securely, break their ropes or chains and travel the streets and highways. Movement causes the animal to attack the moving object whether it is an animal, human or automobile. At this stage, the bite apparently is not to kill, just to inflict a wound, when the dog moves on to another victim. Drooling from the mouth is common. They also usually chew and swallow straw, sticks, stones, etc. This vicious stage lasts a day or two, to be followed by coma and death, the great majority dying within five days from the onset of symptoms.

b. Dumb Rabies

The victim is depressed with profuse drooling from the mouth. Most prominent, is paralysis of the lower jaw.

PART IV

THE FEMALE CANINE– Genetics and Breeding

by Dr. Lee Ford

The "heat" period of your female

What it means to her, to the stud dog, to you, to the neighbors, and to the puppies. Best dog to use as stud. Female reproductive system. Hormones. Relation to genetics and offspring.

Cycle in the female

The female canine generally goes through about two complete possible reproductive cycles during the year. She may have her first "heat" from about nine to ten or eleven months of age, although some come "in" sooner. Our one collie female, Shamrock Lady, delivered her first litter when she was not yet nine months old. This was one of those "unplanned", but quite "proper" families!

As we mentioned in a previous article, the "heat" period begins with noticeable swelling of the "vulva" (the external part of the female reproductive system located under the tail), plus a reddish discharge from the same organ. However, sometimes the discharge is so very slight as not to be noticeable. The discharge continues to become lighter until about the eleventh day when the female is generally ready to accept the male. Although the last few days before mating she will allow the male to mount her, she will not permit a "tie" until she is ready for mating. So the best way to know when the female is ready to mate is simply to try her with the male. If she refuses him, she probably is not ready.

The mating

There are females who will for some psychological or physiological reason refuse to accept the male. Generally, these are "spoiled" females, who have lived very closely with people and not with other dogs, or who perhaps have gotten older and were never bred. My own personal collie is a female, now four years of age, and I never have to worry when she is in "heat" for fear she will be mated without my knowledge! She will play with the male, even let him (almost) mount! But she absolutely refuses to be mated. She has never been bred. She is completely "my" dog, due to living alone with me most of the time, and is no more friendly with people than she is with other dogs! But she is the exception. Not a good idea to take a risk that maybe your female might be like this when she is in "heat"!

Generally, however, about eleven to fourteen days after onset of the "heat" period the female can be mated by the stud dog and, if the eggs are duly fertilized, she becomes "pregnant" and in about 60 to 63 days she will deliver a fine litter of puppies! If she is not mated, the cycle goes into conclusion and in about five or six months repeats again.

False pregnancy

It is not too unusual for a female who is not bred to go through a "pseudo-pregnancy" period wherein she puts on weight, appears to be in whelp, and sometimes even goes so far as to produce milk at the proper time. This is all quite misleading and confusing. In such case, my suggestion is for you to check with your veterinarian.

Right day for mating

If you have tried mating your female and "missed" or failed to get her to accept the male, perhaps she might have been ready for mating either earlier or later than the usual eleven or twelve days. So, when she comes in "heat" the next time, you might check with your veterinarian and see if he will take a series of vaginal smears to attempt to determine the proper day for mating. Then, if she still refuses the stud you may be justified in helping them out a bit.

Premature litters

If your female lost her last litter of puppies prematurely, or if she has perhaps lost even several litters of puppies then, again, it is a good idea to check with your veterinarian ahead of time. There are certain hormone treatments which have been found of some value in helping to prevent early loss of puppies. Remember, your veterinarian can not guarantee success always, but if you get to him early enough he has a much better chance to improve the situation.

Meaning of the "heat" period

The meaning of the "heat" period to the female and to the stud is, essentially, the same. At this time she has a completely uncontrollable urge to locate a male, and he has a similar urge to get to her. This is nature's way of assuring another generation of dogs, so don't be "too hard" on either of them. Without this impossible-to-control urge on the part of the male and the female, there would be no puppies. Or, at least, there wouldn't be very many if "man" were not around. So the "heat" period can be a time of excitement to you if you are planning on that "pick litter" with your own female and the stud dog of your choice—or, if you do not understand its biological impact, and "don't want any puppies", then it may be a time of the year to be dreaded.

My best advice to you is just to be thankful your female does have a "heat" period, understand its importance in the production of the next generation, and treat her sensibly and firmly until she is again her charming, obedient, quiet self.

Selection of stud

You will want to select a stud dog from the same breed as your female, one who is registered, one who is suited to be a good strong parent genetically speaking. If possible, a stud who has been tested and proven to be free of "bad" hidden recessives. If he is linebred within your same line, watch out for the same faults that your female may have, so as to avoid intensifying them. If he is an outcross mating, then try to add strong points to the puppies which may be lacking in your female.

Sterility

Sometimes you may have had your female actually mated, actually have had the "tie" necessary (generally) for the production of a puppy family, never noticed the loss of the puppies during the pregnancy period, but simply never had any puppies. So you assume the male was no good. This could be true! Perhaps the male was sterile but, if he is a proven stud, and if he has been in good condition and used some but not too much, chances are it was not his fault.

There are many reasons why your female may not have had a family. Perhaps somehow the date of mating was wrong. Perhaps she was too fat or out of condition. Perhaps she may have been improperly fed and thus have had a nutritional deficiency of some sort. Perhaps she had a uterine infection previously and was not able thus to conceive again. Maybe it was just a strange environment with strange people and strange handlers, and she had psychological sterility. (This is one of the best arguments for not shipping your female out alone in a box to a strange place for mating.)

Perhaps there are still other reasons why she may not have conceived. She actually might be anatomically or physiologically abnormal, with "production" of puppies impossible. Sometimes this can be remedied surgically by your veterinarian. Or perhaps she has some sort of hereditary basis for sterility. Maybe even she has a heavy infestation of parasites, either external or internal.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

VS. SOAP AND SLIPPERS

NOW and then, a man has to think that he'd be better off without a best friend, especially if the best friend is a dog. Having a dog for a best friend is a first-class arrangement for the dog, but a man sometimes thinks he'd just as soon have a sore throat as such a best friend.

As a best friend, a dog doesn't have much discretion. Not the lowest of a man's human best friends would wipe their muddy feet on his trousers out of sheer exuberance and friendliness and camaraderie.

As a human, I have some human friends who are practically discards. No other human but me likes them.

But I have yet to wake up and find that one of my human friends has chewed up half a slipper, has shed handfuls of hair over the chesterfield, or pulverized several bones in the front hall.

At times, my human friends might have had such notions, but they don't dare whack around like that. I wouldn't pay them the money I owe them.

But my best friend, who is a black and white Springer Spaniel named Moses, will perform any of those numbing feats just to prove he loves me.

Old Moses is maturing, though. It has taken a couple of years, but he shows indications of becoming a responsible sort of beast.

The only times he digs up the front lawn, rolls up the sod in the backyard, chews down a few trees, or goes off with the dog catcher is when he is seized by a fit of pique.

For instance, the last time he chewed up a slipper, I chopped up the remains in the meat grinder and served them to him in his dog food. He had finished eating before he realized what he'd done.

At that point, he gave me a look of sorrow, of compassion, of hurt, and of disbelief intermingled. Then he walked slowly out the back door and ate nine zinnias, seven asters and stripped all the leaves off a flowering almond.

He was hurt at what he considered a betrayal.

Lately, Moses has taken to shower baths. I don't object to the habit, except that I'm usually in the shower when he is overcome by his fits of cleanliness.

I don't even mind that he eats the soap. I have some human friends who have queer tastes in food, too.

After all, if the dog likes soap, let him eat soap. It's cheap. And I can always tell people that Moses is clean inside and out. If he learns to blow bubbles, maybe I can book him into a few night clubs and he can help earn his keep.

Trouble is, it looks peculiar when people walk in and find me taking a shower with a dog. No one has said anything nasty yet, but I've had some strange glances bounced off me of late and neighbors are stopping on the street to point me out to strangers.

If man's best friend didn't have to be his dog, you could reason with the beast. If a human friend climbed into your shower and ate the soap, you could hold his head under the water until he was broken of the habit.

But you can't do that with a dog. The Humane Society would post your picture in every dog kennel in the city.

Of late, I've been getting up early and taking my shower before Moses is awake. He keeps banker's hours. But this morning, just as I had stepped out of the shower, he came trotting into the bath room and, realizing what had been happening, he gave me one of his You-Dastardly-Traitor looks.

Then he walked mournfully out the front door and climbed into the dog catcher's truck, just to prove that his feelings had been seared. And I'm going to leave my best friend there for a couple of days.

Then I can have a shower in peace and privacy. I might even get the first bite out of the soap for a change.

TRAIN THAT PERSON

by Jack Paar

T-V funnyman and MC says the choice is up to the dog

With the right amount of discipline—a man can be a dog's best friend.

EVERY dog should have a person of his own. A person comes in handy for making a dog's supper, opening doors, and driving the car on long rides. And, if trained correctly, a man can be a dog's best friend!

The first thing a dog should look for in choosing a person is good health. The condition of a man's health can sometimes be determined by his nose which, unlike a dog's, should be warm and dry. And remember, the color of a man's tongue is not indicative of his health or breeding.

Avoid in all instances a man who chases pretty girls. This is a very hard habit to break. There will be many times when a dog feels like going for a walk and as soon as he steps out of the house, the man will see a pretty girl, and he'll talk and talk until the dog is blue in the face.

If a dog intends keeping a man in the house, he should get a lapman. That is, one with a lap to sit in. A good substantial lap makes a fine insulation against the cold floor.

Some men train very easily and in no time at all can be taught to shake hands, fetch a ball and sit down. But a dog should realize that a human being does not have a dog's infallible instincts and it is not his fault when he misunderstands a dog's commands. Sometimes a good reproachful look can accomplish more than violence. The dog should show dissatisfaction by gently, but firmly, chewing up a pipe or bedroom slippers.

The basic thing you should teach a man is how to walk, or as it is technically called, how to "heel." This is done by waving a long leather leash in front of him until he attaches one end to your collar and loops the other around his wrist. Now start off down the street, stopping at frequent intervals (or poles) until he realizes he is under control. If he persists in going on, walk around him once at the end of the leash, winding it deftly around his ankles. This should discourage him and subtly throw him on his back.

HOW TO RAISE A YOUNG GERMAN SHEPHERD

by Nellie A. Corser

ALL puppies are not alike. Some fatten easily — some have to take on the years to fatten. Because your puppy is not as fat as the one down the street is nothing to worry about, providing he has a clean bill of health. He has years ahead of him for the Show ring. All children are not alike. No matter what some children are fed they do not get fat. Animals are the same.

A few things you as a new owner might try. Every night in his evening meal give him a teaspoon of melted lard. Do this consistently. Do not try it for a couple of weeks and when you find he is not gaining by leaps and bounds, say "lard's not worth a darn; I've tried it." It works, but only after a period of several months without ever missing one evening meal. My dog is older; he gets a tablespoon of lard melted every evening. It's a slow fattener. You don't see your dog put on 5 pounds a week. Five pounds in 3 months would be more like it. Another fattener, if your dog will eat it, is the real Italian macaroni, about a half cup in each evening's meal. So I'm told by an authoritative American breeder. One well known handler suggests bread, butter and honey — all your dog will eat. I stick with the lard.

Let your puppy lead his natural puppy life. Do not worry if he seems still a very young puppy when you see him with older dogs. He is a young puppy until he is one and half years old, at least. And do not use him for breeding until he is around that age. Give him lots of good food, some vitamins and cod liver oil, but don't overload him with them. That can be as harmful as lack of vitamins. Because a little is good don't think a lot is better — it isn't! Give him lots of milk. It's a natural bone builder.

Be firm but kind with your puppy. That baby Shepherd puppy is just about the most adorable thing on earth, but do look ahead two or three years and visualize a large, badly spoiled tyrannical Shepherd dog. That is what you will have to cope with if you let your pet away with murder as a puppy. And don't ever underestimate that puppy of yours. He's smart. He very well knows when he has the whiphand over you, and unless you check him then and there you've had it, and so has everyone else who has to do with him. If you make your puppy mind and make him know you are boss, you will have years and years of pleasure and comfort out of your Shepherd dog. Remember, he's only a puppy for a very short time. He's a full grown dog for years, years and more years. Make him nice to be around and a better dog to live with. That is what training does.

Shepherd Shorts.

Ch. Kaydon's Happy Talk, famous Pembroke Welsh Corgi, Sire of Ch. Bodega's Alva's Taffy, C.D., shown on the cover.

The Welsh Corgi

Patrolman, Showman, hunter and friend of cottagers and kings

A SMALL dog with a head shaped somewhat like a German Shepherd, with exquisite markings in the lay of the hair, and short legs which propel him over the ground at a remarkable speed — this in brief is the Welsh Corgi, beloved in England's thatched-roofed cottages and royal palaces.

Corgis are notoriously good guard dogs, with a special way of dealing with intruders. If a low growl is not heeded as a warning, the tiny patrol will clamp onto a leg it suspects and follow it around. Possibly this stems from the work of ancestors in rounding up moving stock. The Corgis are primarily herd dogs.

Corgis are highly sensitive to atmosphere, and tend to show excitement when their owner does, or will remain quiet when quiet is indicated. If the owner wants a playful pet, the Corgi will most likely oblige. The Corgi feels he has a place in the world, and, with his keen intelligence, should be kept busy. He is particularly valuable in the country and should be given various jobs — he can catch rabbits and rats, herd cattle and shepherd the livestock, and can also serve as a gun dog. He is quick to gain confidence of other animals.

Another endearing aspect of the Corgi is its kindness and protectiveness. Many a nervous and over-excitable colt has quietened down through the moral support of its tawny friend. This breed has been known to take exceptional and even helpful interest in a newborn colt, to the extent of helping the mother and lying down beside the baby when it is resting.

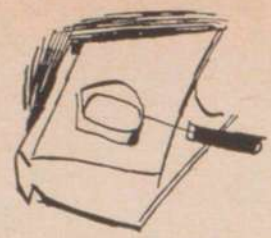

Their mouths are soft and their jaws careful — they can carry a bird or even an egg with dexterity. They have an extraordinarily good sense of smell, and do well in Obedience training. Their intent concentration on their owner's face and the motions required of them is distinctly appealing.

Here is a genuine working dog who can navigate over rugged terrain in a flash. Yet his size and temperament fit him well into family life in small apartment or house.

Despite the argument of some, the Cardigan Welsh Corgi and the Pembroke Welsh Corgi are two different breeds. The former is claimed to be the older, having come to the countryside known as Cardiganshire with the Celts from Central Europe, around 1200 B.C. The Pembroke, which is seen more frequently now than the Cardigan dates its origin back to 1107 A.D. The Flemish Weavers introduced to Wales by Henry I of England are credited with bringing along the direct ancestors of the dogs we know today. Apart from their weaving they were farmers, and the dogs were their aides.

There are noticeable variances between the two: The Pembroke is slightly taller than the Cardigan, the legs lighter-boned and straighter, and the coat of a finer texture. But the ears are notably different: the Cardigan's are rounded and the Pembroke's are pointed at the tip and stand erect. The Cardigan's tail is full length, usually trailing, while the Pembroke's is short. There are many other characteristics which fanciers delight to compare and contrast.

One factor in the Pembroke's current popularity and esteem is the fact that the Queen, her family and children are devoted to their Corgis and are frequently photographed with them. Mrs. A. E. Thompson, a noted Canadian breeder, has given the Royal family valuable assistance with their Corgis. Other Canadian breeders are also producing exceptionally fine stock.

BOOKS

The Popular Pekingese . . .

by John A. Vlasto, M.B.
The Ryerson Press

There is much more to a Pekingese than most people realize, from the standpoint of character, conformation and personality. Dr. Vlasto has packed so much valuable material into this book that it should be owned and referred to by every Peke owner. To an onlooker, the Peke must surely be one of the more difficult breeds to judge; the show points are explained in detail with simple sketches. The fine points of grooming and showing the Peke are also given briefly and clearly.

The Modern Dog Encyclopedia . . .

By Henry P. Davis, Editor.
General Publishers, $12.50

This comprehensive book is worth every cent of the price. Almost every dog topic is covered, from the various types of breeds and their work, dog anatomy and physiology, first aid, breeding from mating to weaning, American Kennel Club rules and regulations (conformation standards are the same for shows held under the Canadian Kennel Club rules) and even a dictionary of coursing and racing terms.

This encyclopedia, apart from being a valuable work, is written in readily understandable language and makes fascinating reading; 600 pages profusely illustrated.

Alice Scott's Blue Ribbon Dogs . . .

by Alice Scott.
General Publishers, $2.50

This small book, just off the press, is a discussion of the basic care of the dog in the home. Mrs. Scott is a radio and newspaper writer, whose love of dogs and concern for the lot of the average pet keeps four-footed subjects to the fore in her radio and TV scripts.

Her newspaper column, Blue Ribbon Dogs, earned her the 1955 "Fido" award when she was selected as Dog Writer of the Year in a nation-wide poll conducted by Gaines Research Centre.

This book will prove especially useful to people who are owners of just plain dogs, as well as possessors of show stock. The latter might not find the book detailed enough for their liking — it is a general round-up of the responsibility and fun of having a dog in your home.

Dog Training My Way . . .

by Barbara Woodhouse.
British Book Service (Canada) Ltd., $2.75

Mrs. Woodhouse, who is noted for her conversations with an assortment of animals, presents sound logical answers for the hundreds of questions that go with raising and training a dog.

Most incorrigible animals are in a sense a direct reflection on the owner, claims the author. She deals with such refinements as scent discrimination and taking your dog through Obedience tests. This is a worthwhile book, whether or not you plan to go through the fine points of Obedience Trials.

So You Want a Pet Shop . . .

by Charles Foster Caswell
Comet Press, $2.50

This country could stand more reliable, well-stocked pet shops. Mr. Caswell briefly tells the do's and don'ts of the business from choosing a location, stock merchandising, and even being selective about customers. This little book serves as an inspiration rather than a text book on the subject, but it does give a good insight on a business that women can run, and even children can participate. Is there a living in it? Yes. Mr. Caswell now specializes in pet supplies, and two of his three children earn their salaries via pets and show stock.

My Dog Tulip . . .

by J. R. Acherley.
British Book Service (Canada) Ltd., $2.25

This is a light-hearted story of the author's experiences with his German Shepherd, Tulip. Like many females, Tulip had much to say against the human race, which she could bear only at a distance, until an understanding veterinarian calmly informed the owner he was the real trouble. This book is informative at times, and occasionally constructive. It will be especially enjoyed by other German Shepherd owners.

First Aid for Pets

by Dr. Leon F. Whitney. Copp Clark. $3.00.

First aid for animals, as with human beings, is solely for emergency treatment. A veterinary should be called for anything but the slightest injury or ailment.

With these words of precaution, it is safe to say that First Aid for Pets is a book which should be kept handy by owners of anything from a budgy to a boar. Generally speaking, the ailments mentioned are the most common, and the treatment is discussed in simple language. The chart outlining the characteristics of the diseases is easy to read and commendably logical. The section on the Distemper Complex is well done.

The Popular Chow Chow. By Lydia Ingleton with Doris Rybot.

This book is the product of the experience of Lydia Ingleton who has bred and exhibited the dog from China for more than 40 years. Her champions are known the world over, including Canada. Doris Rybot, who collaborated on the book, is better known as the novelist, D. A. Ponsonby.

This small volume is actually addressed to the owner of one or two Chows who might like to show or breed. Many interesting anecdotes enliven the basic facts about the Chow.

The Complete Kerry Blue Terrier . . .

By Dr. E. S. Montgomery
General Publishing Co. Ltd. $4.75

An attractive well-bound book that should be owned and read by every Kerry Blue owner, and particularly the new purchaser. Well illustrated with photographs and sketches, it deals with the whys and wherefores of diet to a great extent, grooming for the show-ring, breeding, etc. The background is also interesting, particularly in view of the great strides made by devoted Canadian and American breeders in recent years.

The Popular Cairn Terrier . . .

J. W. H. Beynon
The Ryerson Press. $2.00

A valuable background book containing an extensive record of the most famous lines of the Cairn Terrier, as well as the outstanding Champions up to 1950.

The faults, good qualities, types and trends, over which many bitter arguments have occurred, are outlined in detail. Recommendation in the section on preparing a Cairn for Show—"honestly try to find his faults and take care of them as best you can . . . the good ones will look after themselves."

Bull Terriers . . .

edited by Major Count V. C. Hollender.
McClelland & Stewart Limited. $1.50

With the increasing interest in Bull Terriers by way of recent wins and particularly the movie in which a Bull Terrier played the lead role, this small book will have a new appeal. The Bull Terrier was a favourite in Canadian dogdom at the turn of the century. In fact, some enthusiasts went so far as to refer to it as Canada's national dog.

The author has combined his own knowledge with that of other writers, to compile highly interesting reading. There is noted, for example, a killer owned by the late Sir Harry Preston. The dog adopted two stray mongrels and showed them how to jump the back wall of the hotel, then guide them to where food had been placed. Had any other dog attempted to clear the wall, he would have made it a death leap for them.

Recent Trials

Montreal and district enjoyed its last trial of the year when the Mountain City Obedience Club held its 9th All-Breed Licensed Trial on Saturday, October 27 last. Thirty-nine entries were judged by Miss Blanche Saunders of New York, widely known authority on dog training and the author of three books on the subject.

Top scoring dog in the Trial was a Standard Poodle, Petitcote Phantom, Can. and Am. C.D., who earned 198 points in Open "B" under the guidance of its owner Mrs. R. H. Bryson of Westmount, Quebec. A familiar winner in the Utility Class was Mrs. R. W. Tyner of Senneville, Quebec whose Standard Poodle, Amanda of Merrychance, Can. and Am. U.D.T., scored 187½ points. Novice "A" honours went to a Boston Terrier, Fay-Don's Candy Jones, who chalked up 192 points for Mrs. T. G. Hawkins. In Novice "B", M. O. Pfennich of Ottawa, Ontario guided Jeanie, a German Shepherd, to first place with a score of 196 points. A Miniature Schnauzer, Cosburn's Game Traveller, C.D., owned and handled by Madeleine Amos of Westmount, Quebec, placed first in Open "A" with a score of 193½.

The Trial was held in celebration of ten years of obedience training in the Province of Quebec. It was in the fall of 1946 that the S.P.C.A. invited Miss Saunders to come to Montreal to show her films on obedience training and to talk about dog training. Those who attended that meeting in Victoria Hall went home marvelling at the way Miss Saunders' Poodle "Jester" obeyed her commands and performed the various obedience exercises. Due to the enthusiasm that followed, Mrs. Alex. Casgrain organized and ran the first training class in the Province of Quebec after taking a course on training with Miss Saunders in New York. Two years later the first obedience training club was formed in the City.

Much progress has been made in Montreal and district since 1946. Today the City has two well run obedience training clubs and a number of training classes. This year 8 obedience trials and 1 tracking test were held. The people of Montreal can be proud of the progress they have made with obedience during the past decade. We know that we can expect great things from them during the next ten years.

News Bits

The Mountain City Obedience Club treated Montrealers to their first obedience clinic on October 28 under the chairmanship of Miss Blanche Saunders, the internationally known authority on dog training.

An enthusiastic audience listened and watched as Miss Saunders carefully explained and demonstrated the proper training methods. It was truly amazing to see how the dogs and their handlers improved under her instruction and guidance. Handling too was discussed and many a handler walked out of the ring a lot wiser for the experience.

Many questions and problems were discussed and how Miss Saunders stood on her feet from 2 P.M. to 9 P.M. this writer will never know. It was our first experience at an obedience clinic and we certainly chose an excellent one.

At a recent tracking test held north of Montreal two "firsts" came into being. For the first time a jeep was used by the judges and stewards to get from one track to another. Anyone who has judged a tracking test will know how welcome transportation is, especially when the tracks are well spread out over rugged terrain.

The other "first" was the use of a "walkie-talkie" system. One unit was carried by the track layer and the other unit was carried by a steward who accompanied the judges. In this way it was possible for the track layer to be in constant touch with the judges. He was able to report back to the judges as to the time the last track was layed, thus eliminating the use of runners, etc. Tracking has really gone modern by keeping up with the times.

Miss Sheila Houstoun, well known Montreal dog enthusiast, has left for Caracas, Venezuela with two of her German Shepherds, Tosca and Dazzle to attend an international dog show.

The 23-year-old Miss Houstoun has been invited to start the first dog obedience class in Caracas. She will remain there about three months during which time she will organize and run the class. Miss Houstoun will also train someone to carry on before she returns home.

Miss Houstoun has been very interested in obedience for the past eight years. She has handled many of her own dogs to oustanding wins all over Eastern Canada and the United States. She is an instructress with the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club and has conducted training classes on her own at the Unity Boy's Club in Westmount, Quebec.

We all wish you the best of luck, Miss Houstoun, in your new endeavour.

CHAMPION CAESAR VON ATTICA

This young red grandson of the famous "Dictator" and son of Int. Ch. Sinbad of Reklaw, made his debut in the show ring at 11 months—finishing his Championship before he was 13 months. Since finishing, he has been shown 5 times in specials—taking Best of Breed 3 times—Best Opposite Sex once. At the Canadian National Exhibition he was Best of Breed and 3rd in the Working Group, defeating some of America's top-winning Dobes. His record and bloodlines speak for themselves.

He is offered at Stud for the first time to approved bitches only.

KERRY BLUE TERRIER

CH. MELBEE'S STARDUSTER

(Reg. No. 364907)

Sired by Ch. Downsview Democrat and out of Melbee's Strictly Business, this young dog completed his championship at the C.N.E.

An absolute gentleman with man or dog he carries many attributes of the famous "Downsview" line. The long lean head, small, extremely dark eye, graceful neck, gay tail, ideal shoulder height, dense wavy coat, moves as a Kerry should when pushed by powerful quarters.

Prospective breeders wishing to use this dog as a stud can have pedigree on request.

NOTICE

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

NOTICE is hereby given to all members of The Canadian Kennel Club that the Annual General Meeting of the Club will be held in the

on SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 17th, 1957

commencing at 1.00 p.m.

Business to be transacted at said meeting will include the following:

1. Minutes of previous Annual General Meeting.
2. Reports of Officers, Directors and Committees.
3. Reports of Club's Representatives to other organizations.
4. Report of Auditors.
5. Reports of Election Commission.
6. Election of Representatives to other organizations.
7. Appointment of Auditors and Election Commission.
8. Proposed amendments to By-Laws, Rules and Regulations (see ARTICLE XXXVIII, Section 4, of the By-Laws).

Section 6 of Article VIII, MEETING OF MEMBERS, of the By-laws of The Canadian Kennel Club, reads as follows:

> "All ordinary members who had been members six months prior to the date of the General Meeting and who are members in good standing at the date of such general meeting shall be entitled to attend and vote at such meeting and in the case of a partnership or company only the authorized representative may attend and vote."

As the annual general meeting of the Club will be held on February 17th, 1957, only those who were members in good standing on August 17th, 1956, and who have paid their 1957 membership fees may attend and vote at said annual general meeting.

Toronto, Ontario
Nov. 9, 1956

By order of the Board of Directors,
N. F. BROWN,
Secretary-Treasurer.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3556. A special meeting of the Board of Directors of The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. was held in the Club's offices, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ont. on Monday, August 27th, 1956, commencing at 10.00 a.m. with the President, Mrs. M. E. McEachren, in the Chair, and the following members of the Board present: Walter Brown, J. H. Daniell-Jenkins, R. T. Lawrence, J. W. MacCallum, Mrs. Pamela B. Mack, W. J. Monaghan, and Mrs. N. T. Smith.

3557. PRESIDENT'S OPENING REMARKS

The President opened the meeting with the following remarks:
It is now something more than two months since we last met as a Board, and I take this opportunity to welcome you to this meeting.

An indication of his very real and active interest in our business is indicated in the presence of Mr. Walter Brown, who has left the hospital to be here with us.

As you have heard from the Secretary, Mr. Loveridge is in St. Michael's Hospital with a condition which holds little hope for satisfactory recovery. Apart from his value to us as a member of the staff, I am sure that we are all personally distressed by this information. Any further development here will be promptly reported to the Board.

I have asked Mr. Wright to be with us for two purposes:

(1) To hear our discussion regarding the Winnipeg meeting and the minutes relating to that meeting; not for the purpose of giving legal opinion on each and every point raised. I feel that it would be advantageous to Mr. Wright if he were present and hear such discussion in the event the Board, as a Board, decides to seek his opinion on any of the matters touched upon in the discussion.

(2) To answer any questions we may have regarding the Apex financial statements and the question of publishing any information on that subject.

The agenda for this meeting has been restricted to those matters requiring immediate attention. Regardless of any Board meetings which may be necessary I do feel that there ought to be at least one more meeting before we complete our work for this year, and I suggest that it be held in November. I feel that such a meeting would enable us to clear up the remaining business.

Not too long ago I arranged for the Secretary to address a letter to the members of the Board in Ontario requesting their views on the arrangements which should be made for the distribution of long service buttons. The replies which we did receive showed no unanimity of opinion on what should be done. The distribution of these buttons was left in the hands of the Directors, and at the conclusion of this meeting we might make up our minds what should be done. My own thought would be that we arrange to have them mailed with a suitable letter to each recipient.

Through advertising in the daily newspapers, the Secretary has sought a sub-tenant, so far without success. His two most likely prospects have apparently lost interest because of the fact that the lease which would be available was for too short a period. Meanwhile we are making limited use of the premises which we are seeking to sublet. In this very same connection, I would report that your Property Committee has been very active and it is anticipated that, following its next meeting on September 5th, a comprehensive report will be submitted to the Board.

The Secretary has added to the agenda a letter received from Miss V. E. Meyers, indicating her resignation as Ontario Obedience Trial representative. While I knew that Miss Meyers had put considerable time and effort into her duties in that office, it came as a distinct shock to me to note the number of miles that she has travelled on our behalf. Just how it can be done I do not know, but I do feel that there ought to be some recompense in some form for Miss Meyers' out-of-pocket expenses.

We will now proceed with the regular order of business.

3558 (3544). MINUTES

The secretary tabled the minutes which he drafted of the meeting of the Board of Directors held at Winnipeg on June 11th, 12th and 13th, 1956.

Mr. Monaghan stated that he wished to raise a point of order based on his letter to the Secretary-Treasurer dated August 22nd, subject "The Winnipeg Meeting" (see appendix).

The President read the following statement (see appendix).

A discussion followed regarding paragraphs 1 to 14 inclusive of Mr. Monaghan's letter.

After discussion the President ruled that Mr. Monaghan's point of order on these questions had been exhausted.

A number of points in Mr. Monaghan's letter were then discussed and Mr. Wright was asked to give his views and advice with regard to a number of matters.

It being necessary for Mr. Wright to leave the meeting in the course of the discussion to keep another engagement, it was regularly moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mr. Daniell-Jenkins:

"THAT, we defer action on these minutes until Mr. Wright returns, and proceed with other items of business."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

3559 (3545). FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Secretary placed before the Board the financial statements prepared by the Club's auditors for the six-months period ending June 30th, 1956, and the information which he had distributed to members of the Board.

Mr. Monaghan: (1) pointed out that at the end of 1952 the Club's net worth was approximately $15,000 as compared with nearly $45,000 shown in the current statement, an increase of nearly $30,000 over a period of 3½ years; (2) provision had previously been made for authority to the signing officers to pay expenses of operating the Club.

It was regularly moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mrs. Smith:

"THAT, the financial statements for the period ending June 30th, 1956, be received and published."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

3560 (3554). COMPLAINTS

The Secretary reported that Mr. Walter Brown (presently hospitalized) had asked Mr. R. T. Lawrence to take over temporary chairmanship of the Complaints Committee, and had also asked Mr. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins to serve as an additional member of the Committee until the Committee, as originally constituted, could continue its work.

—The Board recessed for lunch and later reconvened with the President in the Chair and the following members of the Board present: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mr. Monaghan, Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Smith.

3562. LETTER FROM MISS V. E. MEYERS (OBEDIENCE TRIAL REPRESENTATIVE FOR ONTARIO)

The Secretary read a letter from Miss V. E. Meyers asking that the Board accept her resignation as Obedience Trial Representative for the Province of Ontario due to the critical illness of her mother, and being unable to give the time and money required for her work. Miss Meyers stated that during the first six months of the current year she had driven a total of 2,275 miles as representative and had missed only two trials held in the province. Miss Meyers suggested that Mrs. Southcott would be a suitable person to carry on the work until new appointments are made.

It was regularly moved by Mrs. Smith, seconded by Mr. Daniell-Jenkins:

"THAT, Miss V. E. Meyers' letter be tabled until the next meeting, and in the meantime Mrs. Mary Southcott be requested to temporarily act as Obedience Trial Representative for Ontario."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

The Secretary was instructed to convey to Miss Meyers, on behalf of the Board and members, deepest sympathy in her recent bereavement.

—Mr. Wright re-entered the meeting.

3563 (3558). MINUTES

Discussion on the questions raised in Mr. Monaghan's letter of August 22nd was resumed and the Board discussed the proper procedure for rescinding motions.

Mr. Monaghan referred to the resolution in Item #3542 and enquired whether the reference to "liaison officer" referred to him. The President replied in the affirmative. Mr. Lawrence stated that the resolution was not directed to any particular person, but was intended to clarify the position of the liaison officer whosoever that person may be at any time.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. Irving who suggested corrections in Items 3522 and 3530. The Secretary stated that the corrections suggested by Mr. Irving were appropriate corrections and should be made.

The Secretary was authorized to make the following corrections: (Corrections made in published minutes).

It was regularly moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mrs. Mack:

"THAT, the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors held June 11th, 12th and 13th, 1956, be adopted as corrected."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mrs. Mack, and Mrs. Smith.

ABSTAINED FROM VOTING: Mr. MacCallum and Mr. Monaghan (on the grounds that they were not present at the meeting in June).

Motion carried.

Mr. Monaghan asked that he be provided with a transcription of the discussion which took place at this meeting regarding his question in connection with Item 3542.

3564 (3559). FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (DOGS IN CANADA)

The Secretary reported that all members of the Board had been provided with a copy of the financial statements for Apex Publishers & Publicity Co. for the period ending April 30th, 1956, with a copy of Mr. Peter Wright's letter of July 19th, and Mr. Monaghan's letter of July 24th.

The President pointed out that Mr. Wright's letter had stated that it is quite proper for a copy of the financial statements to be furnished to every member of the Board of the Club for his confidential information but it should not receive further circulation, and Mr. Monaghan had indicated that the same should apply to a copy of a report (provided by Mr. Monaghan) made by Misses Dunn and Peer at the annual meeting of the Company.

Asked to express his views on the question of publication of the Apex statements, Mr. Wright stated that the Company is a private one, and while the Club has a financial interest in the Company, publication of its financial statements would constitute publication of the private affairs of others having a financial interest in the Company.

Following discussion it was regularly moved by Mr. Brown, seconded by Mrs. Smith:

"THAT, we send a letter to the Apex Publishing & Publicity Co. congratulating them for their efforts on our behalf, and the splendid magazine they are producing, and wishing them every success for the future."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Smith.

ABSTAINED FROM VOTING: Mr. Monaghan (being a representative of the Club on the Board of Directors of Apex).

Motion carried.

Mr. Wright stated that he is very gratified to see how the agreements made in 1955 hold out incentives for the Misses Dunn and Peer to carry on, and although they made little for their services during the first year of the agreements they intended to carry on. Mr. Wright stated that during the negotiations the question had been raised about the Club paying the postage costs on magazines sent to members, a cost previously borne by the Club, and although the question was not then resolved, he felt that any assistance which the Board might now order in that direction would encourage the publishers.

Mr. Monaghan outlined the several postage costs borne by the publishers in their distribution of each issue, and reported that at the last meeting of the Board of Directors of Apex he had suggested that the publishers furnish an analysis of postage costs, an analysis he understood was being prepared.

It was agreed that the matter be held over until the Club's representative were in a position to furnish the Board with detailed information on this question.

Mr. MacCallum enquired whether the Club was now prepaying for magazines mailed to members.

The Secretary reported that the original prepayment of $3,000 had been used, and the publishers were now rendering an invoice to the Club as each issue is published and mailed to members.

It was regularly moved by Mrs. Smith, seconded by Mr. Daniell-Jenkins:

"THAT, the annual report of the Apex Publishing & Publicity Co. be received."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan, and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

The President thanked Mr. Wright on behalf of the Board. Mr. Wright then left the meeting.

Mrs. Mack pointed out that the official organ was carrying an advertisement of a breeder advertising "registered Border Collies" for sale, when the Club does not recognize or register such dogs. Mr. Monaghan reported that he had already advised the publishers that the advertisement in question is misleading and stated that he would again bring the matter to their attention.

3565. LETTER FROM GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF CANADA

The Secretary read a letter from the Secretary of The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada who stated that their organization had received several requests from German Shepherd dog clubs in the process of formation in different regions of Canada asking if they could be affiliated with their Club "under a parent-regional club organization similar to that which exists in the United States under The American Kennel Club", and asking whether or not it would be possible for their Club to be officially recognized as the parent club for German Shepherd Dogs in Canada.

A discussion followed on whether or not it was within the power of the Board or the Club to institute the arrangement referred to by the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada. Following discussion, it was agreed that:

(1) the matter be placed on the agenda of the next annual meeting of the Board of Directors;
(2) all persons elected to the Board in 1957, and not presently members of the Board, be provided with a copy of this correspondence for their consideration before the 1957 annual meetings;
(3) the Secretary advised the German Shepherd Dog Club that their request is under consideration, and would be referred to the next annual meeting of the Board of Directors.

3566 (2352). FOXHOUND FIELD TRIAL RULES

The Secretary:

(a) Reported that in 1952 the Board had approved a set of rules governing the National Championship Stake for Foxhounds;
(b) For some time those interested in the field trials for Foxhounds had been giving consideration to evolving an arrangement whereby, in addition to the National Stake, point field trials could be held under C.K.C. rules;
(c) Following the Annual Meeting of the All-Canadian Foxhunters Association at Belleville on July 7th, Mr. Monaghan had submitted a draft set of rules for Foxhound point trials, with a suggestion that these receive tentative approval of the Board in order that a number of district Foxhound trials could be held under C.K.C. rules in September and October;
(d) These had been submitted to the members of the Board, and Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Lawrence had indicated their approval; Mr. Irving had suggested a number of minor changes and expressed the thought that these rules, when approved, would be included in the book of Standing Resolutions; and Mrs. Gove had indicated that she would abide by the majority opinion of the Board on tentative approval of these rules.

Mr. Monaghan suggested that the Board by resolution tentatively approve these suggested rules on the understanding that any revisions such as those suggested by Mr. Irving be referred to the annual meeting of the Board for consideration at which time the Board could then ratify a final version of the rules.

It was regularly moved by Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, seconded by Mr. Walter Brown:

"THAT, the rules for running Point Trials for Foxhounds be approved on a temporary basis".

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan, and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

3567 (3546). APPOINTMENTS

The Secretary reported that Director Mrs. Gove had recommended the appointment of Mrs. A. King and D. W. McIntyre as members of the current Amendments to Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards Committee. It was regularly moved by Mr. Lawrence, seconded by Mr. Monaghan:

"THAT, Mrs. Gove's recommendation be approved."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

3568 (3550). LONG SERVICE BUTTONS

The President pointed out that although the members of the Board in Ontario have been asked for their views regarding distribution of long service buttons to members in Ontario entitled to them, replies received indicated no unanimity of opinion as to just how this should be handled. Letters received from Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. MacCallum and Mrs. Smith were read. Following discussion it was agreed that:

(1) Efforts would be made to present as many of these buttons as possible during the Canadian National Exhibition Dog Shows;
(2) It be left to Mrs. Smith to make arrangements for the presentation of buttons to those members entitled to them who reside in the Hamilton area and other points in southwestern Ontario;
(3) It be left to Mr. Monaghan to make arrangements for presentation of the buttons to those members entitled to them who reside in the eastern part of Ontario.

3569. (3413). MEDALS

The Secretary raised the question of any action the Board wished taken with regard to the presentation of medals offered by the Club annually. Following discussion it was agreed that:

(1) Arrangements would be made to present to the President the medal won by her dog;
(2) That there be forwarded to Mr. Monaghan the medals won by a dog owned by Mr. John I. Florence of Ottawa. Mr. Monaghan to make arrangements for presentation of these medals;
(3) It be left to the President to make suitable arrangements for the presentation of the medal won by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph West of Detroit;
(4) The Secretary would ascertain the wishes of Dr. Watson, Director for Saskatchewan, regarding arrangements for presentation of the medal won by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Miller, of Moose Jaw.

3570 (3314). COMMITTEE RE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS No. 17, No. 18 and No. 19.

Mr. Daniell-Jenkins reported that, before entering the hospital, Mr. Walter Brown had asked him to take over temporary chairmanship of the Special Committee appointed in connection with proposed amendments No. 17, No. 18 and No. 19. Mr. Daniell-Jenkins stated that he had hoped to have a meeting of the Committee in Ottawa during the Central Canada Exhibition Dog Show; however, that had not been possible and he inquired of Mr. Monaghan whether it would be convenient for him to meet with the other members of the Committee before returning to Ottawa. The matter was left in the hands of Mr. Daniell-Jenkins and Mr. Monaghan to see if a meeting with the other Committee members could be arranged.

3571 (3408). PROPERTY COMMITTEE

The President reported that a meeting of the Property Committee would be held on Septembr 4th, and that as soon as possible thereafter a full report of the Committee would be dispatched to all members of the Board.

3572 (3509). STUD BOOKS

The Secretary sought an instruction with regard to the number of Stud Books which the Board felt should be ordered in the printing of Volume No. 59.

Following discussion it was regularly moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mrs. Mack:

"THAT, 600 copies of Volume No. 59 for 1955 be ordered."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan, and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

Mr. Monaghan stated that copy for the 1952 Stud Book was being prepared in the Live Stock Records Office, and suggested that the Secretary be authorized to include, with the next notice regarding renewal of membership, order forms for the 1952, 1955 and 1956 Stud Books.

It was regularly moved by Mr. Monaghan, seconded by Mr. Brown:

"THAT, the Secretary be authorized to send out order forms for the 1952, 1955 and 1956 Stud Books."

FOR THE MOTION: Mr. Brown, Mr. Daniell-Jenkins, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. MacCallum, Mrs. Mack, Mr. Monaghan and Mrs. Smith.

Motion carried.

3573 (3540). LONG RANGE PLAN COMMITTEE

Mr. Monaghan gave notice that at the next meeting of the Board of Directors he would move the following motion:

"THAT, the motion adopted by the Board of Directors on June 30th, 1956, reading as follows:

'THAT, the Long Range Plan Committee be dissolved.'

be rescinded and the Long Range Plan Committee be carried on."

3574. ADJOURNMENT.

At 6.50 p.m., on motion by Mr. Brown, duly seconded and carried, this meeting of the Board of Directors adjourned.

NOTICE TO C.K.C. MEMBERS

Elsewhere in this issue there appears a notice regarding the 1957 Annual General Meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club to be held at Montreal on February 17th, 1957.

C.K.C. members who expect to attend this meeting and who would be travelling by railway to and from the meeting are asked to communicate, as soon as possible, with the Secretary-Treasurer, 667 Yonge Street, Toronto. An effort is being made to arrange for Standard Certificate (convention) travelling rates to apply to members travelling by railway to and from the meeting.

Novice Class B

In this group dogs who have not won their C.D. title may be handled or exhibited by the owner or any other person, and exhibitors are welcome to enter more than one dog in this class. Each dog, however, must have a separate handler for the "Sit" and "Down" exercises when judged together.

Open Class A

In this competition dogs which have won their C.D. in the previous classes are eligible. One dog only may be entered in this class by an exhibitor, and every dog in the class must have a separate handler who will handle it in all exercises. The handler, in this case must be the owner or a member of his family.

Open Class B

In this case a professional handler may take the dog through his paces if the owner or relative does not wish to do so. Exhibitors may enter more than one dog in this class, but the same handler who handled each dog in the first five exercises must handle each dog in the "Sit" and "Down" exercises — except that where he has handled more than one dog in the first five exercises, he must have an additional handler for each additional dog when judged together. In other words, when the dogs are judged as a group, each dog may have his own handler to give the commands. Just to make things a little more exciting, it is against regulations to enter a dog in both Open Class A and Open Class B at any one trial. Having won the title of U.D. (Utility Dog) or C.D.X. (Companion Dog Excellent) he may continue to compete in the Open Class B.

Utility Class

Now you're getting into higher education in canine classes. This section is for dogs which have won their C.D.X. in Obedience Open Classes. Handlers, trainers and kennel employees may compete in this class, and exhibitors may enter more than one dog. Each entry, however, must have a separate handler for the Group Examination when they are judged together. Once your dog has his U.D. he may continue to compete for prizes.

Tracking Test

Here is where a dog's natural tracking instinct comes to the fore. Even if you have only a small back yard or a handy park you and your dog can have hours of constructive fun. Two judges assess this test. If your dog has not yet passed a Tracking Test, his entry must be preceded by a written statement by a person who is accredited by the C.K.C. to judge a Tracking Test to the effect that he considers the dog ready to try it. In this instance trainers, handlers and kennel employees may put a dog through his paces. More than one dog may be entered by an exhibitor, and the holding of other titles, including the T.D. does not bar a dog from competition.

One trick every man grasps easily is shaking hands. In a stubborn case, when a man doesn't grasp the idea, get your front paws muddy, walk up to him and put one muddy paw on his trousers. He will usually immediately grab your paw.

Men are playful creatures and some of them delight in doing the stunt known as throwing a stick. This takes a certain amount of effort on the dog's part in retrieving the stick because the man has a very bad aim and frequently the stick lands in water.

To teach your man to sit down, wait until he is in front of a chair and slightly off-balance. Then rush at him from across the room and jump directly on his chest with all four feet, saying the one simple command "Arf!" (Note: "Arf" is a good all-around word to use on a man. Don't use any longer words, as men are easily confused.)

Diet is very important. To make sure that the man does not over-eat, sit by his side at the table and look at him with soft eyes, whining a bit as he puts each forkful to his face. Quite frequently you may have to eat some of the food yourself.

With these precautions, your man should be very happy and serve you a long time. A human with care can last as long as 60 or 70 years. We had one man in our family for four generations.

The dog's mouth hangs open inviting the owner to investigate the mouth for bones, etc. With unprotected hands, this is dangerous, due to the virus being in the saliva. These animals seldom bite due to the paralysis. The paralysis progresses and the victim usually dies in a coma in three to five days.

The incubation period is quite variable, from 10 days to several months, but most cases occur in 10 to 40 days following a bite.

Since humans can contract the disease, immunization of dogs is most important in an area where rabies is known to exist. One injection of the vaccine now in common use will probably protect a dog for three years, certainly for one year, and an annual booster inoculation will maintain the dog's immunity. Except where cases are numerous, vaccination is not recommended under 3½ months of age. If done under 3 months, a booster injection should be given at 6 months.

Children should be warned to avoid all stray dogs while the disease is in the vicinity. Furthermore, they should be warned to avoid any normally wild animal such as a fox, raccoon, squirrel, skunk, etc., if it appears to be "tame" or unafraid of them and does not run away. These animals normally avoid humans, whereas a rabid animal knows no fear and may attack instead of running away.

LEPTOSPIROSIS

This is a bacterial disease which is being more widely recognized in the dog population. Like rabies, dogs can transmit the disease to humans.

Symptoms

The dog refuses to eat, vomits and runs a fever. Depression follows rapidly and the temperature drops. The rear legs frequently appear stiff and ulcers often appear in the mouth. The vomit contains blood as the disease progresses and the gums usually bleed. The urine is usually deep orange in colour and the eyes become very red. In some cases jaundice appears, when the skin, mouth, etc. become yellow. Death often occurs in 5-10 days from the first symptoms.

There is an anti-serum and vaccine available similar to hepatitis.

As in hepatitis the antiserum affords protection for 1-2 weeks only and is indicated to protect a dog attending a show.

The vaccine has only recently been made available and two injections two to four weeks apart are recommended.

Perhaps she has been bothered with some disease which has caused sterility, or even has a sterile condition left over from a previous disease, or even a previous disease treatment.

There are many reasons why your female may have failed to produce a family. If this happens I suggest again that you check with your veterinarian for a possible cause. Then, if you do find a cause or a possible cause, maybe he can work with you to remove it. Then perhaps next time you can have that litter of puppies you have been waiting for.

Female reproductive systems

The diagram of the female reproductive system shows only the general outline of reproduction. The ovaries are paired, one on either side, very small, generally less than an inch in size, located near the kidneys. Here the eggs of the female are formed by the process of oogenesis.

The horns of the uterus are elongate and paired, and here the foetuses (unborn puppies) grow until time for delivery. You will note that the horns are paired. This is why you generally have two puppies born at about the same time, and then have to wait a half hour or hour or even more for the next two.

The vulva is located externally, connected to the horns of the uterus by the vagina, wherein the sperm of the male are deposited. Many sperm are deposited, which swim up to the eggs for fertilization. The number of eggs produced at this time by the female determine the size of the litter.

Hormones

As you know, hormones control most of our physiological activities, including reproduction. But, so far as I have been able to find out, actually not too much is known today about dog hormones. It is true that some of them have been worked on, and some have been proven already to be of value clinically. For instance, the hormone progesterone is used by the veterinarian for preventative therapy in connection with the female inclined to lose her puppies prematurely. And often with good results. It is also of value, they say, when you have to transport a female who is pregnant, to help avoid losing the puppies. I think they have other hormones also which are of value in the control of "dripping" following "spaying" (ovariectomy) of the female, and others which are able to cut down on the flow of milk when the puppies are taken from the female early for one reason or other. But there is still room for more research work in connection with dog hormones.

From Here and There

Following is an excerpt from the October 1956 Newsletter published by the Vancouver Dog Obedience Training Club:

"We sincerely hope that newcomers to our classes do not think that Monday evenings, or even Vancouver trials, comprise the main part of the dog activities of this club. Far from it!

Surprisingly large numbers of our members attend trials over a very large area. So far this year members have competed at no fewer than eight trials in Victoria, at Edmonton, at Seattle, Renton, twice at Vancouver, Wash., Portland, Salem, Longview, Astoria, Ore., and Tacoma. Our members have attended shows at even wider dispersed spots, including Idaho, Calgary, and Coco Wyman-Pilcher attended with Mrs. Lyle three shows in New York in May and won high poodle honors, against the continent's toughest competition.

Mrs. Lyle so far this year has judged trials in Vancouver, Wash., Yakima, Victoria, Calgary and Montreal — as well as judging the graduation of Miss Blanche Saunders' Boxer Training Class in New York when she was visiting there in May prior to judging at Montreal.

All of us who have had lots of fun out of these jaunts, and who have made many fine friends, human and canine, enroute, sincerely hope that many of the people newly enrolled with their dogs will join us on these various expeditions during 1957."

Congratulations to all you people on the West Coast for doing your part to improve dog obedience trials and put them on an international basis. We wish you continued success during the year 1957.

Mrs. R. D. McLellan of Montreal writes to us to say that on September 22 last at Oakville, Ontario, Georgia Putz placed first in Open "B" with a perfect score of 200 and won the Calvert Trophy for the highest score in the trial. This Puli, owned by Mrs. R. de Wardener of North Stonington, Conn. is the first of its breed to win the Calvert Trophy with a perfect score. Our sincere congratulations to you, Mrs. de Wardener.

At this time we would like to take the opportunity to wish all our readers a very Happy New Year.

We also wish everyone the best of luck in their training and in the obedience trials during 1957. The year 1956 has been a good year for obedience in Canada—let's make 1957 a better year.

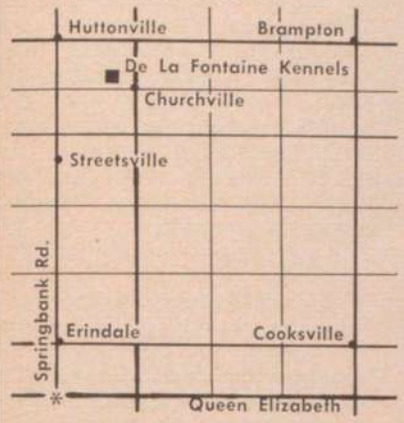

Once again may we remind you to send all obedience information of general interest to your editor at 635 Lansdowne Avenue, Westmount, Montreal, P.Q.

CLUB NOTES

The Miniature Schnauzer Club of Canada

by Mrs. W. Gottschalk

The annual meeting of the Club was held at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Gottschalk, Toronto. As all officers were elected in 1955 to a two-year term, all offices remained filled.

Treasurer Mr. C. Carter reported a good financial year, with trophies in reserve for our booster and specialty shows.

New Schnauzer owners are being welcomed into the club at each meeting. The demand for Miniature Schnauzer puppies far exceeds the supply.

The next Club meeting will be held January 29, 1957. Any information regarding the club can be obtained by phoning or writing Mrs. W. Gottschalk, 313 Blantyre Ave., Toronto 13, Ont.

The Toy Dog Breeders Association of Canada

by Doris Green

The annual meeting, held November 6, included election of officers for the coming season. President, Mrs. Yan Paul; first vice-president, Mrs. M. Sheahan; second vice-president, Mrs. G. DeForest Simmons. Directors: W. H. Glenney, Mrs. M. Symons, Mrs. J. Walker, Mrs. P. Sharman, Mrs. M. Sheahan. Secretary, Mrs. Doris Green; assistant secretary, Mrs. Willa Marks; show secretary, Mrs. G. DeForest Simmons; treasurer, Mrs. M. Sheahan; trophy secretary, Mrs. M. Boughs; social convener, Mrs. M. Symons; publicity, Mrs. Doris Green. Auditors: Mrs. G. DeForest Simmons and Mrs. M. Symons.

The club will again hold a Toy Specialty Show in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show in March.

Our date for our monthly meeting has been changed to the second Tuesday of every month.

Perth County Kennel Club

The Dachshund Club of Canada

by Jean M. Bodemer

The annual meeting of the club was held in Brownsville, Ont. on December 2.

We are very pleased to see a new president for 1957 and a new slate of officers. Elected are: Dr. Fred Bridgman, Burlington, president; past president, Leo Bodemer, Stratford; vice president, John Mahon, Exeter; secretary, Carl Sharen, Sarnia; treasurer, Joe Chatfield, London, Wilson Kerr, Wallaceburg, Ernie Lindsay, Willow Cove, William Katzenmeier, Brownsville; historian, Mrs. Elizabeth Sharen; press reporter, Jean M. Bodemer, Stratford.

Leo Bodemer, president for 1956, gave a report on the activities of that year and on the club's success and the success of the Specialty Show. He hopes to see more members and greater progress in 1957.

Ernie Lindsay, treasurer for last year, gave his report and was pleased to see so much progress.

The club congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kerr on the arrival of their baby girl (Sharon Rose) last November.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada

by Mary E. Southcott

Although shows in this part of the country have virtually gone into hibernation for the winter, Club activities continue to flourish. The Special Activities Committee sponsored another highly successful rummage sale on November 3, and also a Club party in the Orange Hall at Cooksville on November 17. An interesting innovation was a display of dog pictures, supplied by the members. There were snapshots, photographs and paintings set up as an art gallery, and prizes were given for those judged to be the best in various classes.

December 16 is the date set for our Annual General Meeting and dinner. At this time the results of the election of Officers and Directors for 1957 will be announced, and Club awards given to the Shepherds owned by members which have proven themselves outstanding in both Obedience and Bench during 1956.

We wish to all dogs and their owners everywhere the very best of the Season, and happiness in the year to come.

German Shepherd Dog Club of Western Ontario

by Alice Cook

At our November meeting, Dr. George Boyce was voted in as an Honorary Member, and Club Veterinary. A hearty welcome to Dr. Boyce and to Mr. and Mrs. R. Pennington who were also accepted into the club at the last meeting.

The Obedience Training Classes wound up for the season and members of this class met with us recently to receive awards for having completed the course satisfactorily. George Carpenter, President, addressed the meeting and welcomed members of the London Canine Association who were guests for the evening. A film "Basic Obedience Training" was enjoyed by all present after which Gord. Brackett presented certificates to eleven members of the Training Class. Those qualifying for awards were as follows:

Miss H. Seabrook, with her Miniature Poodle; Mrs. J. Patterson with her West Highland White Terrier; Mrs. A. Atkinson, Cairn Terrier; Allan Mahaffy, American Foxhound; Garry Goulden, Mr. Wayda, Jack Wilton, Sandra Colvin, George Colvin, P. Wimbush, Paul Bruneau all with German Shepherds.

The Annual Christmas Banquet was held at "The Nordon" on Dec 8.

The Irish Setter Club of Canada

by Mrs. Evelyn Howe

The September meeting, held at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Bob Allen, Ancaster, heard an interesting address by Mrs. N. T. Smith, C.K.C. Director, on the early history of the Canadian Kennel Club. From the archives were read reports of the first dog shows held in Canada. The reporters of those early days were sparing of praise and ruthless in criticism in describing individual animals and entire breeds. A report was made by Editor Bob Allen on the successful production of the first edition of the Club magazine, "Paw Prints".

The Club's Thanksgiving Week-end at Tynoka Lodge, Huntsville, was so successful that it will probably become a regular annual event. The Lodge was filled to capacity with members and dogs, the overflow accommodated in two adjacent cottages. Two free, sunlit days in the gorgeously coloured autumn woods and one day of group sessions in Ring Handling and Obedience Training provided a dog activity for everyone. Youngest week-ender was Miss Denise Snider, aged 3 months, with mama Joyce, papa Peter, grandfather Wes Ionson, and Wynfield's Danny Boy.

The October meeting held at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Bruce Hutton, Rathgar Road, Toronto, received the Membership Secretary's Report that Club Membership is higher now than at any time since the Club's formation. Hal Marshall reported on the types of coverage and rates of Dog Insurance that are now available. The advisability of changing time, place and form of our 1957 Specialty was also discussed.

The Field Day was held October 28 at the farm of J. G. Crang, Agincourt, with 25 carloads of participants and spectators on hand. Fourteen dogs performed creditably in field, ring and obedience work before an appreciative gallery. Many of the spectators were sportsmen readers of King Whyte's "Out of Doors" Column in the Toronto Star. The morning was devoted to field work, John Royston judging. Winner of Puppy Class was Conifer's Duke O' Aragon, owner and handler, Dr. G. J. Mainprize; winner of Open Class, Ch. Brigshain Sieger, C.D., owner and handler, George H. Howe. In the elimination run-offs, Dr. Mainprize's "Duke" carried off the honours to become Field Dog of the Day. The amateur Ring Handling award went to Wynne Marshall with Conifer's Red Michael; Amateur Obedience (no formal training or trial experience) went to Doris Dafoe with Ch. Red Barn Red Star Dust.

The club gave a party at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Bruce Hutton, on November 17 in honour of President Roy and Doris Dafoe who left in December for a year in Australia.

The Lakehead Kennel Club

by J. W. Haggerty

The annual election of officers for the coming year was the main order of business at our December meeting. Results are as follows: President, J. W. Haggerty; vice-president, W. (Bill) Grimshaw; secretary-treasurer, Marion Young; executives, Lemp Koski, T. W. Kelly, Irene Brooks, R. Heald, Eva Ross and Ted Pappin.

Planning for the coming year's shows is on the agenda. July is considered to be the best month.

Another breed welcomed to the club is the English Bulldog.

Members hope to get another chance to show off the dogs in their favorite breed at the Lakehead Sportsman's Show coming up in March.

Obedience class is still looking for inside accommodation beginning in January. Any help would be appreciated.

The Progressive Kennel Club of Canada Inc.

by Gertrude W. Drew

The December meeting was well attended and featured the auditors annual report and election of officers for 1957.

The auditors report showed the year to be one of the most successful in the club's history.

Election of officers was as follows: president, Mr. Clarence Stevens; 1st vice president, Walter Brown; 2nd vice president, Dick Nattrass; secretary treasurer, Mrs. Mary Lake; recording secretay, Mrs. T. A. Adams; trophy secretary, Mrs. Isobel Woods; publicity and social, Mrs. Gertrude Drew; advertising chairman, Jim Flood; show secretary, Mrs. Martha Stevens; show superintendent, Mr. A. H. Lake; auditors, Mr. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins and Mr. A. H. Lake.

Following elections a discussion regarding obedience classes to be held by this club took place. Mr. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins was appointed chairman of this branch of activities.

The Scottish Terrier Club of Canada

by T. E. Gundersen

The monthly meeting was held November 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fraser. Business dealt with the All Terrier show for 1957. It was decided our show would be held in Ottawa in May directly following the two shows held annually by the Ottawa Kennel Club.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Honorary president, H. L. Walley, Toronto; Honorary vice-president, Dr. Stewart Carter, Buechel, Ky.; Honorary members, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Winnifred Batt, Guelph, Ont. and Mr. T. E. Gundersen, Ottawa, Ont.; immediate past president, Lt. Col. Harold Stothers, Ottawa; president, Mr. Fred Fraser; first vice-president, Mr. Steve Titus; second vice president, Mr. John Treleaven; secretary, Miss Betty Stothers; treasurer; Mr. Arthur Ball; directors, Kenneth Greene, Miss Irene Ball, Mrs. E. Picton, Mr. H. Loughran and Mrs. H. Loughran.

Boxer Club of Canada

by Dorothy M. Newman

The November meeting was held on the 25th at 19 Hendon Ave., Willowdale. A new member was welcomed, Miss Margaret McPherson, who is the owner of two Boxers. All members are invited to the next meeting to be held the second Sunday in January, same address. There will be an amateur point judging contest with two live animals present.

It was decided to hold a Booster Show at the Sportsman's Show, 1957. The Specialty Show will be held in June at the German Shepherd Dog Breeders Association Show.

Calgary Kennel and Obedience Club

by Agness Hammond

The club plans a full and active season . . . shows, trials, obedience schools and a series of talks on care, grooming and handling of dogs. The junior branch of the club is growing with good attendance each week.

A brief review of 1956, the first year of operation for the CKOC. Four championship shows, two licensed point obedience trials, an obedience clinic under the direction of Blanche Saunders, a sanction trial and a puppy match, numerous dog nights and a dance. Also, the forming of a junior branch of the club and the producing of tri-monthly club paper "WOOF". Happy New Year to you all!

PORCUPINE QUILLS

A dog's misery when he winds up a day's hunting full of porcupine quills is a sad sight and means a long and painful quill-by-quill operation.

One way to make it easier and faster is to soak the quills in alcohol or hot water. The purpose is to let out the air in the quills which then makes them soft and easier to remove with pliers.

by Dick Hayman

PUPS on a CURBSTONE

Mexico City has long had its "Street of the Dogs." A few years ago it was on downtown Madero, street of tourist shops and the famed Sanborn's House of Blue Tiles, between the Alameda Park and the Zocalo, heart of the Latin metropolis.

Today it's a bit further from the core of downtown, having been re-located in Colonia Roma, opposite the large Sears Roebuck department store, off of Avenida Insurgentes, the sophisticated section of the highway which reaches all the way from the Rio Grande border with the United States to the Pacific resort capital: Acapulco.

Perhaps the Anglo-Saxon love of most any kind of pup accounts for the Street of the Dogs location today: Previously beside the North American-run-and-patronized Sanborn's; now across from the equally North American Sears Roebuck.

In any case, norteamericanos (Canadians and Americans) are certainly high in the percentage of puppy purchasers the year 'round. Both local residents and visiting tourists!

From late morning until early evening the same set of canine vendors lounge on the grassy islands which separate Avenida Sonora into a divided boulevard. When their day's wares include a wide selection of Pups-for-Sale, a coarse sheet of a petate (woven fiber mat) is secured to the ground, and there the animals sleep or play or watch the passing traffic.

Bus, taxi, and private car passengers, find this type of display entertaining, especially when the corner traffic light brings the vehicles to a halt. When interest seems salesworthy-high, one of the sidewalk salesmen holds a pup to the car window for admiration and petting. He well knows that contact with the warm, furry body is worth more than a dozen verbal praises.

Some days a handsome Collie, Boxer, or Irish Setter, full-grown, is held on a rope leash or tied to a convenient tree trunk, priced way below their usual worth for quick disposal. (It's generally supposed that most of these animals are stolen, or, at least, lost pets picked up on the loose.) Large breeds are much in demand as watchdogs against the all too active ladrones, feather-footed housebreakers.

Freshly washed and brushed, the dogs and pups are tempting merchandise, especially to the innocent pedestrian ambling down Sonora Avenue, window shopping or bent for busy Insurgentes Avenue and its wild, constant traffic.

We found this out for ourselves not long ago, when a handful of fluffy white fur caught our attention mainly because of the bright red tongue that popped into and out of the dot of a black mouth each time the silly-looking pup yawned. Her bright eyes assured us that she was a healthy specimen of caninehood, and her laughable expression reached out and lifted wallet from hip-pocket into spending hand.

Our frank interest activated Senor Vendor into an avalanche of assurances of the pup's qualities: health, fine ancestry, potential obedience, faithfulness, alertness, and long life. This rapid sales-talk was followed in quick order by: "and for you, I'll make the price only ninety pesos."

Although bargaining is seldom associated with the purchase of a canine pet, a sharp adjustment to this situation must be made on the Street of the Dogs. Our infatuation with the white fur package worked us through all of the stages of price settling known in Mexico. Initial horror at the price mentioned was overcome by a sudden cooling interest in the tiny beast. This wavered back and forth with infrequent agreement to the praises of the perrita's beauty, obvious intelligence, and fine family background.

Finally the dog was ours at twenty-five pesos, and our day's shopping was abruptly ended.

We had started out originally for a magazine at Sear's book department, but what we hadn't counted on was passing the pet-trap of Sonora. Our subsequent visit to the veterinarian disclosed our particular trap to be a two-month-old half-Lhasa, half-Maltese pup in topnotch condition.

She was soon named all of Tippitlan Tortilla Sucia: Tippitlan for "place where the tip of her tail is black;" Tortilla for the typical Mexican food she loves best (next to any form of meat, of course); and Sucia because her long white fur stays clean only half the day of her monthly bath. But, inevitably, what she really answers to is just plain Tippi!

BEAGLE TRIAL

The excitement of a Beagle Trial—who can even guess at the outcome

To give readers an insight into the running of a Beagle Trial, we are publishing in more than usual detail the report of the Ottawa Valley Beagle Club Trial, held November 3 and 4 as submitted by Secretary H. G. McConnell. First day:

13" Females (17 starters)

All dogs registered, measured, numbered and assembled at Hazeldean running grounds at 9.00 a.m. Dogs cast at 9.10 a.m. and "tally-ho" raised 9.11 a.m. From that moment the little females ran steadily under excellent conditions till ordered up at 1.20 p.m.

A well-marshalled gallery were entertained by the unusual situation of hare and dogs coming out into open areas near their observation area and some excellent hound work was viewed by a pleased audience.

Game was abundant but only an occasional dog strayed from the pack, to quickly return without splitting the chase.

13" Males (4 starters)

A disappointing entry in this class, but judges, handlers and gallery reported from the Twin Elm running grounds that a tight, fast chase confined to a limited area gave satisfaction to everyone.

It almost seemed as though the hare realized the small size of the class and chose to run in a very close circle, making the work of the judges facile and most discerning.

Sunday, November 4:

15" Females (16 starters)

A hard running class that kept judges and handlers busy for the first hour, when a split pack developed on the arrival of a fox. After this was broken up, the pack settled down and a steady chase through two sections of the Twin Elm grounds gave an interested gallery good viewing of the chase.

15" Males (17 starters)

Another early start at Hazeldean. Spotty running at first, but after a few of the poor hounds had been ordered up the remaining pack gave an excited gallery another open field chase before moving into deeper bush and settling down to a chase that kept the judges busy until after 2.00 p.m. that day.

Judges' Comments:

W. Waddington: I have never judged at better running grounds.

R. DeWitt: First time I ever judged dogs without having to move more than twenty feet in any direction — wonderful.

G. Stone: Man, these hares are trained. You don't have to look for the dogs, the hare brings them to you. This is living at its best.

J. Shewchuck: Wihout a doubt, you have the finest running grounds in all Ontario. It is indeed a pleasure to be here as a judge.

Owners' and Handlers' Comments:

Dr. Ray Lawson: Best trial I have ever been at in my life.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Smyth: You did one of the most pleasing things ever witnessed at your trial — no one left the running grounds before all dogs were picked up.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Haig: Well-handled, good marshals and committee.

Leo Zimmerman: Wonderful running grounds, judging cannot be questioned under such perfect conditions.

Reg. Travers: Accommodation, kennels, restaurant, banquet and dance hall all within 100 yards — how do you do it?

"No, that isn't him either!"

THE PAGEANTRY OF GUN DOG TRIALS

Henry P. Davis, noted authority on Field Trials, writes this exciting account of one of the open all-age stake trials of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Long Island, with competitions for both Cocker Spaniels and English Springer Spaniels. We print the following courtesy Sports Illustrated.

IN the matter of spectator enjoyment, spaniel field trials rank high in the whole pageantry of gun dog competitions. They are colorful, exciting and packed full of action with a minimum of nonactive delays. The spectator who follows along with the gallery is accorded the opportunity to witness what he can seldom see in many other canine competitions—the entire cycle of events for which these breeds have been developed and trained; the search for, finding, handling and retrieving of game birds from both land and water.

In the early days of field trials ownership of the top dogs was concentrated in a handful of enthusiastic devotees who were willing to import the best England had to offer. But nowadays, while importations are made with regularity, there is a growing tendency to breed and develop our own stock.

Spaniel trials differ in several ways from bird dog trials. In only a few bird dog trials is game actually shot, while shooting is necessary in spaniel trials to test retrieving ability as well as the finding of dead or wounded game. In bird dog trials the dogs are run as braces, two dogs working the same course at the same time. In spaniel trials the dogs are put down in braces but the bracemates work parallel courses, each about 50 yards wide, and must not interfere with each other.

The trainer's art is clearly reflected in spaniel field trial performances, for the dog must be taught to do things that are against his natural instincts and inclinations, such as stopping instantly at flush, remaining steady until ordered to retrieve or resume hunting, and restricting his range to proper gunning distances.

The social side of a spaniel trial is as much fun as the trial itself. Devotees of this sport are friendly outdoor people, ready to welcome novices and explain the fine points of the performances.

Spaniel field trials have contributed much to the conservation of wildlife resources through encouraging the use of retrieving dogs in hunting. Whether he be a rough-and-ready, unschooled and devil-may-care performer or a perfectly mannered field trial dog, the spaniel can prove his worth on any day of the open season through the salvage of game that would otherwise have been wasted, to say nothing of the added pleasure of hunting behind him and the loyalty of his devoted companionship.

In a closely contested finish in the springer trial, Ludlovian Bruce of Greenfair came through with a performance which carried the day. As a large gallery of field trial enthusiasts watched the final heat in silence, this eager white-and-liver-colored English springer increased the tempo of his slashing pace and wheeled into the rough cover to his right. Ahead of him a big cock pheasant flared from the thick bramble cover with a loud squawk and an explosive roar of wings and streaked for the safety of the woods line ahead.

The dog stopped instantly, dropping to his haunches, and sat marking the game bird's flight, every muscle aquiver with intense eagerness. "Ride it out," signaled the judge, and the gunner held his fire in recognition of the request for a "long fall." At the crack of the gun, the pen-raised bird crumpled and slanted down into the high cover which bordered the woods, foretelling the difficult retrieving task for which the judge had hoped.

Out in the cover some 20 yards in front of his handler the spaniel still sat steady, restrained only by the memory of his training and indicating his impatience by an occasional backward look. The judge was testing the dog's gun manners under pressure. After an interval he signaled the handler to "send him," and at the voiced command to "fetch," the dog was off and back at a gallop in a few minutes with the downed bird delivered tenderly to hand.

It was an example of spaniel field work at its best: a hard-paced ground-covering heat, with the course properly quartered, a proof of fine scenting ability, willing handling response, perfect steadiness to wing and shot and a difficult retrieve properly executed. International Field Trial Champion Ludlovian Bruce of Greenfair had added another first place silver bowl to his owners' well-filled trophy case.

It was not an easy win for Bruce over the rough courses on the magnificent estate of Marshall Field at Lloyd's Neck. He was pressed hard throughout, and the judges, Mr. Robert Moulton of Norristown, Pa., and the writer were forced to hold a third series, in addition to a water test, to settle the issue.

Charles M. Wright, President of the All Canadian Fox Hunters Association, has added two champion Basset Hounds to his kennels at his recently-purchased farm near Ottawa.

Ch. Millvan's Casper, male, was bought from Dr. Nordulla's Kennels, Long Island, N.Y., and Ch. Long View Acres Just Daisy, female, from the kennels of Chris Teeter, Detroit. Both have been shown in Toronto by Walter Martin.

WEIMARANER SPECIALTY

Bill Tomlinson, Weimaraner breeder, tells us the Weimaraner Club plans to stage a Weimaraner Specialty at the Sportsmen's Show this year. The Club is gaining interest and now boasts more members (per capita) than any Weimaraner Club in the States.

COLLEGE TRIALS

Sponsored by the Moravian College Field Trial Club, the Club's first licensed trial was held at Split Rock near White Haven, Pa., October 19 and 20. This A.K.C. licensed trial was open to English Springer Spaniels and Cocker Spaniels only. Judges were Mrs. Evelyn Monte, New York, and Charles S. Goodall of Winnetka, Ill.

This was the first year for the trophy offered to the Ladies Amateur Spaniel Handlers Association to the LASHA member handling the American or English Cocker Spaniel or English Springer Spaniel winning the most points.

The Moravian Club is the only one of its kind on the American sporting scene. It was started in 1947 when Dr. J. Richard Jones decided college students who like dogs and hunting could train spaniels as an extra-curricular activity.

ALL THIS — AND HEAVEN TOO!

MAN'S best friend was never better off, according to Charles Carey, Los Angeles Times. He reports:

Last year Americans spent more than $275,000,000 for prepared dog foods for the estimated 22,500,000 dogs—an increase of 57 per cent over 1950. The researchers estimate the United States dog population will reach 26 million by 1956.

Two American companies (also Canadian) are selling dog biscuits in six flavours. Dog candy is no longer news. Nor is a special line of hats for male and female dogs, imported flannel jackets, Angora sweaters, pajamas, jewelled collars and alluring perfumes.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals estimates that the average life of the dog has increased from seven years in 1930 to 12 years in 1956—by reasons of diet and improved medical care. Dogs are treated for almost every ailment known to man, can be covered by health and life insurance, and aided by the latest surgical techniques, antibiotics, as well as hearing aids, eyeglass, and "happy pills".

Dogs of affluent owners in some cities are driven in chauffered limousines to beauty parlors where their masters are clipped for $25.00. These aristocrats may escape daily routine by relaxing at doggy dude ranches, play canine games or paddle in swimming pools. When their day at last is done, they may be placed in a pet cemetery with perpetual care.

Why GAINES is the answer to the dog breeder's nutrition problems

Here's the Problem. It is no secret to dog breeders and veterinarians that many commercial dog foods vary considerably in their nutritional value—frequently from feeding to feeding. This state of affairs has led to a problem in the correct feeding of dogs — where, as these experts well know, a completely balanced diet is essential.

And Here's the Answer. The unique homogenization process, developed and used exclusively by Gaines, GUARANTEES THE DOG UNIFORM NOURISHMENT. In Homogenized Gaines Meal, all ingredients are blended into nuggets, each containing a balanced amount of ALL the food elements that the dog needs to build and maintain health and strength. Nutritional values thus cannot vary from feeding to feeding.

The Proof of the Pudding...! Homogenized Gaines Meal is the result of many years of research by Gaines Research & Control Laboratories (and by the famous Gaines Research Kennels). Every step of this research has been carefully checked by ACTUAL FEEDING TESTS, carried out on generations of dogs at the Gaines Kennels.

Economical in Use. Gaines Meal contains balanced quantities of carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals —plus more meat and fish proteins—all derived from natural foods. However, in spite of its high nutritional value it is by no means expensive. Cheaper, inferior meals require supplements if the dogs are to receive all the food elements they need. Gaines does not. It should be remembered also that a 25 lb. bag of Gaines contains all the food values of 75 lbs. of canned dog food!

Considering these factors, it is easy to see why Gaines is the world's largest selling dog meal. Be sure that the next consignment of food you order is Homogenized Gaines Meal.
