During such busy days it was especially generous of him to devote his personal time to the preparation of such an excellent advertisement as that which appeared in Dogs in Canada on our behalf. I might add that no advertising programme has brought forth more enthusiastic comments from our members and we believe it contributed immeasurably to the success of the show.

SHOW BUSINESS

Six entrants to the class. Four soon eliminated — beam too narrow, apple headed, incorrect balance, snippy. Two well matched dogs are left. Nothing between them. Tough job this—but wait! No. 358 keener, positively glowing, obviously enjoying himself! Yes, he's the one. The deciding factor — his perfect condition.

CONDITIONING

Although wisely cared for, your dog may occasionally lose condition. Blood-purifying is the usual need. Karswood Dog Powders act directly on the liver, kidneys and bowels—organs responsible for cleaning and refreshing the blood stream. FAMOUS DOG WRITER TO SPEAK IN TORONTO

E. McDowell Lyon, of Glen Arm, Maryland, famous judge, lecturer and author of the authoritative book Dogs in Action, will speak in Toronto on October 18, at the King Edward Hotel.

Mr. Lyon will illustrate his lecture on the "Structure and Gait of the Working Group" with charts and slides. His visit is sponsored by the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada (Educational Committee). Apart from the educational interest, the evening is also in aid of the club's Seeing Eye Fund, and proceeds of the very small admission charge will help build the fund.

Several suggestions come from Committee Chairman Mrs. Nellie Corser: 1. Everyone attending be prepared to join the Question peroid following the lecture. 2. Owners and breeders of Working Group dogs in points outside of Toronto, i.e., Niagara Falls, N.Y., Buffalo, Kingston, Barrie and other cities make up parties and pool their cars.

ARTIST VISITS ZISKA

. . . I recently paid an unexpected visit to Ziska Kennels owned by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dickson, Samoyed breeders. It was a pleasure to see the 30-odd dogs in their large, dry, clean and odourless pens and runs . . . After admiring the dogs from every standpoint, I was further astonished by the splendour displayed in the trophy room, further proving the top notch qualities of the Ziska Sams. I have noticed that in the ring the Dickson dogs are consistant winners and I admire their owners' practice of entering pups and unseasoned dogs as well as their many champions. I lately discovered that Mrs. Dickson's mother owned Sams before she was born.

In the light of these facts and considering that Mrs. Dickson is vice president of the British Samoyed Club, it seems strange to me that the Dicksons are not members of the Samoyed Fanciers, an organization that could well benefit by professional guidance.

THE OLD TIMER

Forget about alibis and tricks of trade— just play it straight, he advises

"In my book," said the Old Timer, "a lot of dog show people get exactly the kind of judging they deserve."

"What brought that up," I asked" and what do you mean?"

The Old Timer was busy changing the blade in his electric clippers and before he answered he finished that job. Then he ran the head for a minute or two in a mixture of kerosene and oil, wiped the clippers dry, carefully put them away and reached for his pipe.

"I was talking about judging," he said "the universal beef of those who show dogs."

"And you said a lot of dog show people got exactly the kind of judging they deserved and I asked 'How come?' " I reminded him.

"That's right, you did," he answered.

"Well, how come?" I asked again.

"Too many dog show people have larceny in their soul," he said. "Now just a minute. I don't mean they'd steal in the ordinary sense of the word. They wouldn't and I'd trust ninety-nine out of a hundred of them with my last dollar but I'd be willing to wager that a large percentage of those 99 honest ones would cut a corner if it meant grabbing the points in the show ring. Now they wouldn't do anything really dishonest — just little things. For instance, in the ring they might just happen to call their dog by the name of some famous champion of the same breed and make sure the judge heard it. Or they might just mention casually to the judge, when he's going over the dog, that he's a son of so-and-so, was best of breed the week before and only needs one point to finish."

"But surely that's legitimate," I said. "Surely you're in there to win, honestly of course if you can, but primarily to win."

"Sure it's legitimate," said the Old Timer "even though I think ineffective with nine out of ten judges. I was only using those examples to make my point that nine out of ten dog show people have a slight touch of larceny. It's the result of this slight touch of larceny that I'm complaining about."

"And that result is —?" I asked again.

"That far too few people are prepared to give a winning dog credit for the quality it has. To alibi the fact that their own dog was beaten they look for reasons beyond the quality of the dog that beat them. Maybe they saw the owner of the winning dog talking to the judge before he went into the ring. Immediately they're quite positive that the results were all fixed up at that time. Or maybe the judge happens to call the handler by his first name. If that happens there'll always be one loser prepared to swear that friendship and not the dog did the winning and he'll shout his belief from the housetops. The real dog people know better of course but there are always a few novices around ready to believe and to repeat and magnify the stories and that has cost the dog game a lot of good, promising judges."

"What do you mean it's cost the dog game a lot of good, promising judges?" I asked.

"There's an old complaint in Canada that the best people—the business executives with keen business minds, the successful lawyers, the thousands of others who have made a success of their own affairs and who have the ability to contribute to the country's progress—won't run for public office. They won't take the abuse and the mud-slinging that too often goes with politics. The same thing goes for a lot of people in the dog game — people who could make a real contribution in the judging ring and who probably would not charge the clubs a cent for their services. They accept one or two assignments—maybe three or four

MEMO FROM THE EDITOR

Midge Baird, wife of Jack Baird, big-hearted dog writer and judge, has not been well. Her condition precludes all engagement in the outdoor activities of which this fine sportswoman is so fond. Jack, who comes up smiling after every one of his innumerable painful operations, could stand some cheering too. It has been a long hard session for the Bairds, and if readers would take a moment to send them a note, their load would seem much lighter. The address is: Washington Road, R.F.D., Cromwell, Conn.

Seems no time at all since nominations began drifting in to the CKC for the 1956-57 slate of officers. Although this magazine has no part in the internal affairs of The Canadian Kennel Club, a reminder to vote and vote thoughtfully cannot come amiss.

Note re advertising and editorial matter . . . To maintain uniformity with the style followed for many years by the Canadian National Livestock Records, we are adopting its style in the designation of champions and would appreciate your co-operation. Championships should be shown as: Ch. (Am.) Peter's Little Mutt; Ch. (Eng.) Mary's Big Lamb; Ch. (Can. & Am.) Bert's Smarty; Ch. (Can. & Eng.) Metro's Goliath; Ch. (Can., Eng. & German) Scotty's Act. When no country is shown in brackets it to be understood the championship is Canadian. If the abbreviation Int. is submitted it will be omitted because there is no indication of what countries the championships were obtained.

Going to press news: It is with regret that we have learned that Mrs. Eileen McEachren, president of the Canadian Kennel Club, is foregoing the pleasure of future judging assignments in Canada for some time. She has served well as a goodwill ambassador for the Club and its members in many distant cities, but it is her feeling that increasing pressure of affairs of the C.K.C. now demands the greater part of her time.

Flash: Of importance to Obedience enthusiasts — the 11th Annual All Breed Obedience Trial of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Clubs will be held November 10 at the Detroit Artillery Armoury. One of the greatest Obedience meets of the year, it is held in conjunction with The Motor City Specialty Clubs Association in which approximately 1,000 dogs compete for Best in Show.

Cover Story

Mr. and Mrs. W. Harry MacKendrick of "Boxerly," Oakville, Ont., whose Miniature Schnauzer and Boxer are the "cover dogs" this issue, were Irish Terrier breeders prior to World War II. Then they were smitten by another breed, Boxers. In the course of many dog shows they became increasingly interested in the Miniature Schnauzer, and have been breeding them for about seven years. Sugar Plum and Pantywaist are both Canadian champions and are well known for their contribution to their respective breeds. Panty is 9 years old.

Best in Show honours in the first C.N.E. show fell to the Airedale Terrier, Tedhurst Major, owned by Joseph J. Forker of Davisville, Pa.

The Miniature Pinscher, Printz Johann Von Albright, owned by Mrs. Esther L. Albright of Bellevue, Ohio, was awarded Best in Show in the second C.N.E. show.

Kaukauna's Aldebaran, 11 months-old Doberman Pinscher now a champion, made a clean sweep in the third show by taking Best in Show, Best Canadian Bred in Show and Best Canadian Bred Puppy. Owner is Mrs. B. England, Crediton, Ont.

THE three two-day C.N.E. Shows held in Toronto August 28 to September 3 proved full of surprises. The three top dogs brought due attention to completely different breeds. Sensation of the show was the near history-making performance of Ch. Kaukauna's Aldebaran, Doberman Pinscher puppy who captured all three top awards the third day.

Mrs. Mary Matchett's Afghan, Ch. Yoga El Myia, proved in fine fettle by taking Best Canadian Bred in Show the First and Second Shows.

Another sensation was the winning of two high awards the same night by the same breed. Mrs. Dorothy R. Vaughan's black female Cocker Spaniel puppy, Vaunhaven's Veronique, took best Puppy in the Sporting Group the first Show, Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show in the second, and the Third Show again took the Puppy Sporting Group while the male, Vaunhaven's Vanquisher, took the Sporting Group the same night.

Breeds with the largest entries were: Boston Terriers (who led all entries in the three shows), Boxers, Labrador Retrievers, American Cockers, German Shepherds, Chihuahuas (smooth), Manchester Terriers, Kerry Blue Terriers and English Bulldogs.

THE DOBERMAN PINSCHER

Ever dream up a dog? That's how one man produced one of mankind's greatest protectors.

WAY back in the 1870's veteran dog breeder Louis Dobermann had a vision. His dream took various forms of a dog until by 1890 he knew exactly what he wanted — a dog built along the lines of a Terrier, with all its agility and grace, the strength of a typical German working Shepherd or draft dog. He knew exactly how his new breed should look. It would have the appearance of a five-pound Miniature Pinscher but would weigh a good 15 times heavier.

The animal he would develop would be what the Germans call "sharp"; ready to attack human or beast. In fact his new breed at that time was so completely independent and fearless it required a certain amount of courage and daring to own one.

The breed, produced in an era when sportsmen were becoming intensely absorbed in the development of purebred dogs, caught on immediately.

Matriarch of the breed which Dobermann and his assistants, a grave digger and a bell ringer, presented in 1890 was Schnupp. When the Doberman Pinscher Club was formed in 1912 she was given first place in the stud book. Neither Schnupp nor her puppies were beauties, and their temperament, according to the records, was just as deplorable. The history of the breed is a little vague as to the ingredients used by Dobermann. Whether or not there is Pinscher blood, Shepherd (for which its native Thuringia was noted) or some bob-tailed strain as well, is only surmised. The Rottweiler is substantially represented and is directly contributory to the great power.

Later breeders did use crosses of the English Manchester Terrier (itself a cross between the Manchester Ratter and Whippet) which had the effect of gentling the breed. The Germans immediately counteracted the softening of temperament by introducing the blood of some notably savage Greyhounds and brought the "sharpness" to the fore once more. After Dobermann's death the Manchester Terrier blood introduced improved colour, a lengthened head and a short, hard coat.

Ironically, when the Dobes became outstanding to a great degree, much of the foundation stock came from Holland.

Colour: The range of basic colours is black, brown, fawn or blue. There are fewer blues, not because of the hue, but for some reason the stock has never been equal to that of other colours. The coat should be short-haired (without any trace of woolly undercoat) made up of dense, hard hair lying close to the skin. On the head the hair should be shorter, smoother and softer than on the rest of the body. Little grooming is required, because the Dobe takes care of himself to a great extent.

A rarity of this breed is the frequency of puppies born with bob tails. Researcher Philipp Gruening estimates one in every 300 pups.

Characteristics

It is a significant insight on the Doberman that when the Doberman Pinscher Club of America set forth its standards in 1947 this sentence held an important place:—"An aggressive or belligerent attitude toward other dogs shall not be deemed viciousness".

If you have another dog, you should think twice about adopting a Doberman, unless you bring him into your home as a very young puppy, or the reverse.

The Doberman has gone down in war records as having performed under incredible circumstances. He is highly respected as a police dog and guardian for children. In fact, some owners are perturbed because their Dobe seems to retain a certain reserve, even with their master. But in many instances this may be construed as simply the dog's attitude that business comes first.

This trim dog is a real hunter, a skill which is not sufficiently recognized. He is best as a lone hunter, where he will not likely encounter other dogs. His keen sense of hearing, acute eyesight and fine nose are all to the advantage of the owner. He can be readily trained, and is rarely gun shy.

Sportsmen in Canada and the United States have used him well in treeing cougars and hunting bear. His idea of teamwork is to move with his owner alone. Members of the breed have done outstanding tracking and treeing in Kenya and Uganda and Tangyanika, and particularly on lions. In Germany and other European countries he has successfully stalked and located another quarry —criminals.

The Doberman is no longer the savage animal of the early generations. If called upon to fight, he will take on the devil himself, fanciers avow. Generally, he is a guard dog who minds his own and his master's business. Just as a person with a reserved, aloof mien is misunderstood and even resented until better acquainted, the Dobe is often regarded with an unfriendly eye.

As a guardian and protector he needs no special training — it's as much a part of him as breathing. All that is required is a good home and responsibility.

OUTSTANDING BOOK ON THE DOBE

The Doberman Pinscher, History and Development of the Breed, is one of the most learned and comprehensive treatises on any breed today.

Philipp Gruenig, in addition to being a student and scientific breeder as well as respected judge, has proven a fine writer and something of a philosopher.

Scientifically detailed as it is, and dealing extensively with work on line and colour breeding which may be applied to any breed, the book is nevertheless written in simple language readily digestible.

Numerous sketches, photographs and drawings amplify the absorbing text. Interestingly enough allusions to the development of the human race are equally worth reading. Cost of this book is $6.95. Also excellent: The Complete Doberman Pinscher, by Denlinger, at $6.95. The Pet Doberman Pinscher, $1.25.

Canadian Dobermans Challenge U.S. Winners

by Dr. Wilfrid E. Shute

Elsewhere in this magazine, you will find a general description of the origin and development of the Doberman pinscher. Incidentally, the second word in the breed name should not be capitalized and also, the first word should end with two "n's". However, in the U.S.A. and Canada, the name adopted has been the "Doberman Pinscher."

In Canada, sporadic importations, almost all from the States, were made about 1928. On the West Coast, C. A. Roy and his Palanka kennels advertised the breed as a police and guard dog de luxe, but soon Mr. Roy moved his kennels and dogs to California. In Toronto, Mrs. Kennedy imported a female and had a litter of puppies. However, temperament was then really "sharp" and sometimes unreliable, and this female unfortunately fell into this latter category.

Later, about 1935, the Taylors of Ottawa, imported Navigator of Pontchartrain and Navigator's Girl. Both became American and Canadian champions and produced several progeny which carried on for one or two generations until the Taylors switched from dogs to horses. At least three made their American championships.

Descendants of these Taylor dogs are still carrying on in the Montreal area, but are not shown very extensively.

About 1943 or 1944, Mr. Kelly of Vancouver and George Wade of Toronto brought in some stock from the then well-known Marienland kennels in the U.S.A. Had these two men continued with this stock they would certainly have produced some excellent Canadian-breds. Mr. Kelly did produce a pair of excellent first generation dogs by breeding to the great Dictator — the top sire of all time in America.

However, the largest concentration of good dogs and the centre of conformation showing has been in the Windsor, London and Toronto district of Ontario. Of course, the relatively large number of shows in Ontario, the proximity of New York and the Eastern States through Buffalo and of Michigan and the Central States through Detroit, has facilitated the breeding of our good females to good American sires as well as the comparison of the best Canadian-breds with the best American dogs. This has always been a two-way street. Many American owners desirous of boasting of a dual American-Canadian Championship for their dogs, have exhibited in the larger Ontario shows. Also, several of the better Canadian dogs have been adjudged capable of competing for an American championship by their owners and have been shown in the United States.

Although the number of breeders is relatively small, a considerable number of Canadian-bred and owned dogs have finished their American championships without much trouble and have won in the largest Eastern and Mid-Western shows. American and Canadian Champion Renco von Mannerheim was Reserve to the great Dictator at the Annual Specialty Show of the Doberman Pinscher Club of America in 1943. Four dogs bred by Mr. John Lundberg in Windsor finished their American championships as have five others owned or bred by the writer. However, more often it is our experience that Canadian-bred dogs defeat the best of the invaders at Canadian shows, often under American judges. Since 1941 the quality of Canadian-breds has been good to excellent, occasionally so good that several top dogs are shown against each other at the same time.

We have the best American bloodlines available in Canada, with the two top kennels consistently breeding to the American sires.

Fortunately also, we have been very careful of the temperament of our stock. The Doberman is still the best of all watch dogs — by nature — but a guard dog should be completely reliable, biddable and calm, and that we all seem to realize.

There is one field of activity in which we have all been remiss however, and that is this matter of obedience. The Doberman was the original police dog, the original breed used to guide the blind and is ideally suited for obedience work. However, no one has really begun this fascinating and valuable hobby and that is a pity. Quite apart from the pleasure of owning a trained, obedient dog, the publicity for the breed is invaluable.

The Doberman is the ideal house dog, the ideal obedience dog, the guard dog par excellence and should be headed for a bright future in Canada.

The following is a summary of the standard. For complete detail consult The Complete Dog Book (available through this office).

GENERAL CONFORMATION AND APPEARANCE: The appearance is that of a dog of good middle size, with a body that is square. Height, males 26 to 28 inches; females, 24 to 26 inches. Compactly built, muscular and powerful, for great endurance and speed. Elegant in appearance, of proud carriage, reflecting great nobility and temperament. Energetic, watchful, determined, alert, fearless, loyal and obedient.

HEAD: Resembling a blunt wedge, widening gradually toward the base of the ears in a practically unbroken line. Top of skull flat, turning with slight stop to bridge of muzzle. Cheeks flat and muscular. Jaws full and powerful. Nose, solid black in black dogs, dark brown in brown ones, and dark grey in blue ones.

EYES: Almond-shaped, not round, moderately deep set, not prominent, with vigorous energetic expression.

EARS: Well rimmed and carried erect.

BODY: Back short, firm, of sufficient width, and muscular at the loin extending in a straight line from withers to the slightly rounded croup. Withers pronounced and forming the highest part of the body. Brisket full and broad, reaching deep to the elbow. Chest broad, and forechest well defined. Spring of ribs pronounced. Belly well tucked up, extending in a full curved line from chest. Loins wide and muscled. Hips broad in proportion to body, breadth of hips being approximately breadth of body at the rig spring. Tail, docked at approximately second joint.

GAIT: Free, balanced and vigorous, with good reach in the forequarters and good driving power in the hindquarters.

COAT, COLOR, MARKINGS. Although woolly undercoat not permitted generally, invisible gray undercoat on neck permissible. Markings (see note on colours in article elsewhere in this issue) rust red, sharply defined, and appearing above each eye, on muzzle, throat, and forechest, and on all legs and feet, and below tail. White on chest, not exceeding one-half square inch, permissible.

C.N.E. AFTERMATH

Tyke was a happy blond Cocker Spaniel and John his happy 13-year-old master. Together they made the happiest team on the show circuit. Tyke was within two points of his championship, having just gone second in the Sporting Group at the first Exhibition show. As you can well imagine, John's enthusiasm and expectations knew no bounds. And then tragedy struck — a bird, a happy cocker spaniel, a car — a sudden crunch — and Tyke lay dead in the ditch.

There were many tearful eyes among the breeders when Miss Balshaw unfolded this tragic tale next morning at the show. There was also a great feeling of helplessness — how could it be possible to replace Tyke in John's affections. All agreed that while this was impossible, John should have another dog to love and to show and that interested breeders should help to get it for him. It took only an hour or two for the news to spread around and for sufficient money to be donated for his new puppy. And so, when the Spring shows start we shall all hopefully watch for another happy combination, another Tyke and Johnnie twosome gleefully accepting blue and purple ribbons from beaming judges.

To all those who contributed (including a policeman on duty) we can only add our thanks to young Johnnie's tears of gratitude.

THE MINIATURE SCHNAUZER

The Miniature is exactly the same as the standard or Giant Schnauzer (outside of size and slight variation in colour) but it is not simply bred down from medium-sized Schnauzers. It is an outcross of Schnauzers and Affenpinschers.

It should be stressed to enquirers that the Miniature Schnauzer is not a toy, but a robust, generally healthy, active dog.

With regard to colour, it may be a pepper and salt or similar mixture, light or dark, and including the "red pepper." Also permitted: pure black and black and tan. The black occasionally has a tendency to softness. This is regarded as having been inherited from the black German Poodle, an early ancestor.

Crosses of the Miniature and Standard Schnauzer are not eligible for registration.

The Miniature is cocky, asserts itself to other dogs, but is not a fighter. He is quick, and if necessary can give a good account of himself, unless the balance of size and weight of the adversary is overpowering.

Although highly recommended as a house dog, the Miniature Schnauzer is completely at home in the country, and can easily handle a hike of a dozen miles.

Primarily a pet, the Miniature Schnauzer has an acute sense of hearing and gives an excited alarm, serving as an alert guard dog.

While most dogs grow hair all one colour, the Miniature Schnauzer has the Agouti pattern, which means each hair consists of many shades of grey from nearly white to black at the tips.

Most Miniature Schnauzers resent being touched by a stranger, although on seeing the individual approved by the family, exude cordiality.

This breed is exceptionally adaptable as a traveller, likes to choose its own place in the car and settles down quietly. Not a bouncer.

Another characteristic: likes to accompany owner to bed, does not like to be out of sight of family.

Despite smallness of stature, men like this breed, probably because of big personality in little dog.

Miniature Schnauzers love food, but because they put on weight quickly, the adult should be fed sparingly. One teacup of food is adequate for the evening meal. If fed in the morning as well, one third cup is sufficient for breakfast.

Because the nails of this breed are black, they should be filed rather than cut, to avoid injuring the invisible quick.

In selecting a Miniature Schnauzer there are several critical points to consider. Any hint of "toyishness" does not belong to this breed. It is a sturdy little creature with a "squared-off" appearance. The muzzle should be strong, moderately blunt, with wiry whiskers, accentuating the rectangular shape of the head.

Another important aspect is the forequarters, which should have flat, strongly muscled, somewhat sloping shoulders. The forelegs should be straight and vertical. The chest should be moderately broad, reaching at least to the elbows and extending well back. The back should be strong and straight, with well-developed withers. The length should equal the height to the withers. The belly should be well drawn up toward the flank, but should not give a tucked-up appearance. Too narrow or too broad chest, loose shoulders or elbows, weak back, and shallow body are faults.

Check the hindquarters. They should have strongly muscled, slanting thighs. When standing naturally, the line from hip to knee should be vertical, from knee to back should be parallel to the upper neckline, and from the hock to the ground should be vertical.

The above are just a few of the most critical major features, selected from the standard set forth in The Complete Dog Book. With the present standard about to be revised, discussions are evolving particularly around the head. This will suffice, however, to show even the uninitiated the characteristic outline.

Investment in a sound purchase saves money in the long run, says breeder author Lilliace Mitchell

HOW ABOUT PET SHOPS?

WHEN people with eyes swollen like boiled onions come to my door and say, "I-I want a little Peke puppy! We just l-l-lost our little Mitzi—had her eighteen years . . ." then I know that eighteen years ago they probably paid forty dollars or so for the pup.

A sale to these people is really a job of selling. It must be explained to them that Hill Brothers coffee then cost 39c a pound. Nowadays, the very same coffee costs $1.09 a pound. So, the puppy they bought for forty dollars will be a real bargain at one hundred.

It is of scant use to glare at them while saying the price of your puppy. Even before bringing out a puppy at all, I tell them that I'd like to know what they paid for Mitzi. Then I gradually accustom them to the idea that everything costs more now than it did eighteen years ago. However, inasmuch as they took good care of Mitzi and she lasted that long, it is my opinion that they will do as well by one of my puppies. My prices start at one hundred, I tell them. Usually they gulp and swallow. Then they say doubtfully that as long as they are here, they will look. After looking, they say the pet shops sell for less.

That is most true. The pet shops and wayside kennels and the mail order houses sell for much less. They do not state in so many words that they are selling show stock. (The mail order houses imply this but it is not stated so on the sales checks.) They do not infer or state that this is breeding stock. Is there a difference between show and breeding stock and that pale, wan little sister—pet stock? Is there!

Breeders who raise this type of stock keep costs down as low as possible. They get low prices and their margin of profit is very tiny. Any stud at all is used—just so he's AKC registered. Any female is bred—just so she has "papers". And at six or eight weeks the puppies are boosted out—before they eat too much. I asked one such breeder what she fed.

". . . . . and water," she said sturdily.

"But when the little matrons are making puppies?"

". . . . . and water," she said again.

"No vitamins? No dicalcium phosphate? No meat or eggs?"

She gave a snorting laugh. "Are you kidding! No. Just . . . . . and water."

So, if puppies bought at pet shops and wayside kennels and mail order houses are not sturdy, if they require a Vet bill of fifty dollars a year just to maintain life—well, the pet shops have sold pets and these are usually treated like a member of the family, doctored when they are ill, hospitalized when necessary.

Actually, a show-type dog or a breeder-type would be far cheaper and more company in the long run. But if all the buyer wants is pet stock at pet prices, there are plenty to be had.

Most people find it heart-breaking to have a pup die even after being doctored and being in the animal hospital for weeks. But surely they go into this with their eyes open. How could dog prices remain at the level of twenty years ago when everything else is tripled in cost?

I had one buyer return here after leaving and buying at a highway kennel. She left here, furious, at my asking a hundred dollars for the gorgeous little ball of fluff. When she returned two months later (they practically always return!) she immediately asked me for "Fluff-ball".

"Fluff-ball went to Newfoundland," I told her.

"I knew it! I just knew in my bones you wouldn't have her now. I went over to ———— Highway Kennels. They had a real pretty little Peke girl puppy for $65.00. She seemed kinda languid but for five or six days she was okay. Then she began to toss up everything she ate. Nothing at all was digested. So we took her to the Vet and he thought he had better keep her in the hospital under observation. Well, to make a long story short, the Vet bill and hospital was $118.00. And here's my receipt to prove it. So I paid $65.00 and the doctor bill of $118.00 and what have I got! They aren't highway kennels at all! They're just modern highway robbers. There certainly oughtta be a law!"

But who can make or enforce any law to force breeders to feed expertly—and expensively—and offer sturdy stock to the highway kennels at wholesale prices? Or the mail order houses?

If this were just one story, it wouldn't be worth talking about but in this last month I have had exactly eleven such tales. And it isn't the money—nor the principle of the thing. The people loved the dogs and the dogs died.

In dogs, as in anything else, you usually get exactly what you pay for. And a cheap dog is no bargain any more than a stiff, cheap pair of shoes that "kill your feet" may be a bargain. The serious and honest breeder isn't losing a single thing by the mail order houses and highway kennels selling at cheap prices. In the long run, the buyers will come to you—and be glad!

DOBERMAN NOTES

Under the heading of promoting the Doberman on the basis of quality and knowledge on the part of breeders, an unusual event precedes the show slated by The Doberman Pinscher Club of Chicagoland the weekend of October 12-13. The first is a competition between the Ten Top Show Winning Dobermans of 1956; the dogs to be scored against the standard by five specialty judges. The scores will be tallied and the winning dog presented. Judges were selected by ballot by club members.

The second outstanding event is a Forum of Breeders and Judges. The panel includes the judge, for this specialty, Willi Rothfuss of Stuttgart, Germany, a breeder for over 30 years, and some of America's top Doberman breeders and judges.

Only Canadian to be elected by the membership as a director of the Doberman Pinscher Club of America is Dr. Wilfred E. Shute, noted heart specialist and Doberman breeder now practising in Port Credit, Ont. He was for three years chairman of the Education Committee of that organization. Dr. Shute is the only Canadian breeder to be elected by the membership to judge the Annual Specialty Show in Chicago.

This Doberman expert has one of the top six kennels of all time on this continent, having owned or bred 24 champion Doberman Pinschers. Other representatives of his kennels have, through the years, earned points at an enviable rate.

Dr. Shute has judged six Doberman Pinscher Specialty Shows in the United States, where he is licensed to judge six of the Working Breeds and the Working Group. In Canada he is one of the "all-rounder" judges.

The first litter of Doberman Pinschers raised by Mrs. B. England of Crediton, Ont., is sailing along, with five out of eight in the litter collecting points rapidly. Outstanding puppy of the litter is Ch. Kaukauna's Aldebaran, 10 month-old youngster who took Best in Show at the third 1957 C.N.E. show. In addition, "Roxie" has captured five Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Show awards: Ottawa, Stratford, Sarnia, Preston and Oakville. Handler is Lorna Jackson.

Flash: Best of Breed was captured by Am. Ch. Helge aus der Bodenseeheimat in the exciting 35th Annual Specialty Championship Show of The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada held in Toronto September 21. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Collins, Farmer City, Ill. Best Opposite Sex: Ch. Ero V.D. Auwallenburg, owned by H. J. Watson, Stoney Creek, Ont.

DOGS and PEOPLE

Canine history was made on the West Coast when a Basenji went Best in Show for the firse time on the North American continent September 7. Dainty Dancer of Glenairley, nine months old female owned by Mrs. M. Robertson of Victoria, B. C. took the top award at the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Show at Victoria under Judge Robert Waters. Dainty, who was bred by Mrs. M. Bowden of Victoria, was handled by Bob Hastings.

Among wins scored by Canadians at the recent Westchester Show, Rye, N. Y. Messrs. Aubrey-Jones and Taylor report that of the five Pekingese they showed each won a first in its class against competition. Also won: Reserve Winners Male with a nine months old puppy, St. Aubrey Cock Robin of Elsdon; and Winners Female, Best of Winners and Best Opposite Sex all by Ch. Dulcia of Calartha, who finished her American title in four shows with two groups. The Best of Breed was taken by a Peke recently sold by them.

In Toy Poodles their Merrymorn Lita, on her U.S. debut, won Best Opposite Sex. In Brussels Griffons their St. Aubrey Maerdy Midget won Best of Breed over six specials at The Specialty of the A.G.B.A. show and also placed 4th in the Toy Group.

The increasing popularity of Basenjis was evident at the recent show at Hornell, N.Y., when the entry of 61 representatives of this breed proved to be the largest in the competition. Basenjis were judged by Louis J. Murr of Spring Valley, N.Y. At this show Canadians were notably successful:

Horace King's Glen Echo's Jocko, a male puppy, won Bred by Exhibitor class, male, as did Glen Echo's Sukie, female. Both are puppies. Mr. King has Glen Echo Kennels, Anscaster, Ont. Open Dogs: In a class of 15, Beau Bunty of Blue Nile, owned by Bill Leitch of Midland, Ont., placed 3rd and Glen Echo's Jocko placed 4th. In the Open female, Winners, female was taken by Glenairley Song Bird, owned by Earl Hannah of Kitchener, Ont.

Going to press note:

Best in Show winner at the Oakville and District Kennel Club Seventh All-Breed Championship Show held September 14 was Can. and Am. Ch. Tailteann's Jim's Show Off. This win marks the 110th Best in Show won by representatives of Mrs. Eileen McEachren's Tailteann Kerry Blue Terrier Kennels, Todmorden, Ont., over a period of 20 years devoted to improvement of this breed.

Mrs. Winifred Batt, Haldon Kennels, Guelph, Ont., reports in a charming letter to this magazine that due to advancing years and physical disability she is closing her Scottish Terrier Kennels. Mrs. Batt is one of the oldest and most able Canadian breeders, and is highly regarded in Scottish Terrier and other circles.

Ch. Bang Away of Sierra Crest, considered the greatest Boxer of all time, died September 6 of acute indigestion. On September 5 he was perfectly well. The following day he suddenly became ill and was rushed to hospital under police escort. Blood transfusions, injections of adrenalin and everything known to veterinary science was applied without succcess. The sympathy of not only Boxer fanciers but of everyone in dogdom who has watched the amazing career of this world-famous Boxer is extended to Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Harris of Sanata Ana, Calif. in their loss. The Boxer fancy has received a severe blow.

Bang Away, who would have been nine in February, won more than 100 Best in Show awards before retiring and sired over 50 champions.

A noted winner in England, the Pekingese Dulcia of Calartha, is now on this side of the water. Within a few hours of her arrival, she was on her way to Burlington and Montpelier, Vermont, and took the Toy Group at both shows. This captivating Peke is owned and shown by Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor of Montreal.

Ch. Malabar's Sudden Warning, owned by Mark Gordon of Winnipeg, is pictured winning Best Canadian Bred in Show and Best Working Dog in Show at the recent Lakehead Kennel Club competition. Judge is Mrs. Elsie Murray of Vancouver. Bred by S. W. Scarpa, he has been owner-handled through consistent group firsts.

Doc Lionheart Skyway, outstanding Airedale owned by Miss Mary E. Curran, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., now has three champions to his credit; the offspring, shown in California and Colorado, are Ch. Saltash Royal Guardian, Ch. Sundown Forty-five and Ch. Sundown Sharpshooter.

Sharpshooter lacked a major win, although he had 16 points, but was killed by a car before he could collect his major. "The A.K.C. Gazette printed his name with Ch. before it", writes Miss Curran, "I guess posthumously."

L. to R.: Glen El Tee's Gold Charm, 10 months old Sheltie with 6 points toward championship, went Winners Female at the first two C.N.E. shows and Reserve Winners the third. Her mother, Ch. Quarrybrae Little Princess, has taken Best of Breed four consecutive years at C.N.E. shows, this year taking BB at all three. Quarrybrae Little Valentino 1½ years, who collected 6 points in four shows, took Winners Male at all three and Best Opposite Sex at all three 1957 C.N.E. shows. Owner: Mr. & Mrs. Sidney Taylor, Richmond Hill, Ont.

Calgary dog fanciers recently saw, for the first time, a musical Obedience drill, performed by ten members of the Calgary Kennel and Obedience Club and their dogs. The drill was an added attraction.

The members and dogs moved smartly to the music, executing figure eights, reverse circles as well as other figures. The drill followed the lines of a mounted ride, with the owners going through the manoeuvres on foot and the dogs obediently at heel.

Little blankets worn by the dogs spelled out the word Obedience (see picture at right). The drill was under the direction of Agness Hammond. The enthusiastic response of the audience well repaid the members for the time and effort spent in producing the first drill of this kind in the province, reports Mrs. Marie E. Peacock.

First Obedience match to be held in Lethbridge, Alta., took place August 5. Nine dogs graduated in the Dog Obedience School exercises, assessed by Mrs. Marie Peacock of Calgary. Honours for top dog went to Bob Findley's Weimaraner, "Lady".

Miss Agness Hammond of Ghost River Ranch, Cochrane, Alta., judged the match. Mrs. Roy Senda's Dachshund, "Cookie", was awarded the trophy for top score. Second was Henry Ens' Collie "Duchess' and third was James Livingston's Irish Setter "Paddy".

School instructor is Mrs. Pat Gould, whose training has been evidenced in the progress of the dogs and their owners. It is anticipated that before long they will be competing in Obedience Trials.

Mexico has again requested the services of Mrs. Eileen McEachren to judge this month. She judges a show in Mexico City October 6, another three days later, then a third in Acapulco on October 12.

Canada is again represented in the selection of judges for the Bermuda Kennel Club shows. Bulldog fancier Reg. P. Sparkes of Kamel Bulldog Kennels, Reg'd., Toronto, judges October 31, November 1 and 2. He will judge all breeds, alternating.

Hi-Hope's Merry MacDuff, U.D., Sheltie, was highest Scoring Dog in Trial at the Olympic K.C. show, August 17, in an entry of 85. This mark was scored in the Open B class under Miss Margaret Downing. Owner Frances Clark, Hi-Hope Kennels, Reg., Richmond, Vancouver, B.C., reports that this gave "Duffy" the third leg on his Am. C.D.X.

Steverino, outstanding Greyhound, was chosen as the American canine most exemplifying dogdom by the National Dog Welfare Guild, Inc., sponsors of National Dog Week which celebrated its 30th observance the week of September 22 through 28. DAMON RUNYON SHOW HONOURS JACK BAIRD

FIRST dog writer to be named Dog Man of the Year, Popular Jack Baird has received many honours. Most recent was that of having the Damon Runyon Show, sponsored by The Southern Tier Kennel Club, Hornell, N.Y.,

Jack Baird is famed as one of the fathers of obedience and tracking work on this continent, and particularly for his work with juniors.

dedicated to him. The entire proceeds of this lively annual show are turned over to the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research. Each year the club dedicates the show to someone outstanding in sports, who must personally fight this dread disease.

Jack has valiantly battled cancer for more than 20 years, and has undergone surgery at least 29 times.

Best in Show went to the Norwegian Elkhound, Tortasens Bjonn II, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. Wells Peck of Litchfield, Conn. This winner had arrived from Norway just three weeks before the show. The exceptional trophy was a piece of Steuben Crystal, created by the artisans of Steubens and Hawkes of Corning, N.Y., and donated by the Hornell Board of Trade. The inscription will be cut in the crystal.

GERMAN SHEPHERDS IN MANITOBA

by M. King

The late Carl M. Tangstad had one of the first kennels devoted to Shepherds in Western Canada, and during his lifetime, Villa Carlena bred and imported many fine specimens. Miss Fern Hebert acquired a Major of Northmere granddaughter in 1948 which started her breeding activities, and, more recently, has imported Wallingrove's Jolla. Mrs. George Brown bought her first pup in the early 1950's and Ch. Colonel of the Rockies is well known in the middle West for his numerous Bests of Breed. Since then she has been active in showing and breeding her Ch. Regina Jean.

Mrs. Mary Avent of Vancouver made her home in Winnipeg from 1949 to 1955 and during that time her enthusiasm inspired and guided many novices into showing and breeding. Mrs. Avent showed many Shepherds to their title; among them Ch. Dina of Logeros, who now resides with Al and Marion King, along with Major of Villa Carlena. Bill Lillies imported a matched breeding pair from Long-Worth kennels; has shown Rebeckah to her Canadian title, and also had considerable success on an American circuit last fall. More recently we have the Frasers, Wollards, Wachs, Lechelts and Gawleys — all sincerely interested in the advancement of the breed and it is hoped that this interest will be stimulated even more by formation of a breed club in the near future.

PROVINCIAL PROBLEMS

by Nigel Aubrey-Jones

When the editors of Dogs in Canada started their Provincial issues the amount of interest it aroused in the members seemed to be the reward for the tremendous amount of work that had gone into making the paper the success it now is. I, like many other people commended the foresight on the part of the editors in realizing that as yet the Canadian Dog Fancy is just in its infancy and the prospects that have been more evident year after year were beginning to bear results. We are taught when young to fly our kites against the wind so that they will rise higher. We all know the amount of ill wind that this magazine had to fight. And nothing but praise is deserved by the hardworking and persevering workers of this magazine, but they depend on each and everyone of us to help make each issue better than the last.

Those people who were detailed to organize the material for the Provincial issues obviously did not imagine the amount of work entailed or realise that their own personal issues should never have entered into the field which might prove detrimental to this magazine that depends on each and every member regardless of our odd little traits. Few of us would still be in dogs if at some time or another we did not think we had the best dogs in the world and the little reward we get from showing and breeding is minute compared to the hard work that has to be put in 52 weeks in the year. Some of the people who put the most into the dog game are the ones that one has to search for when it comes to handing out the credits, but it would not have taken long to have done that had the desire and the interest in making the magazine a success been put before

We are pleased to announce that we have added to our Kennel the breeding of BASENJIS along with our well known GLEN ECHO BOXERS.

It was only after long and careful consideration we decided on the BASENJIS as a small breed to go along with our noted Boxers. Next was to procure the best bloodlines obtainable. The stock we have is 100% the famous Congo strain.

Several of our dogs are on their way to their championship. Our present young stock was sired by that outstanding young stud dog INT. CHAMPION GLENAIRLEY FORTUNATE TRUMP, owned by Mr. & Mrs. A. R. Weeks, Tillsonburg.

At the 1st and 2nd Show at the C.N.E. we went Best of Breed at both shows with two different dogs.

all. Advice should have been sought from those more experienced in the canine journalistic field rather than resented and a more satisfying issue would have resulted. But we all have to learn by our own experience, but it is sad to think that because of the oversights and negligence on the part of some of the contributors that the magazine should suffer. It is never any discredit not to know, but disastrous to think you do.

I would like to outline to some of our lesser active members of the present setup of Dogs in Canada. It is exclusively run by people who are not active in the dog fancy and whose experience in the field of dogs has been gained since they took over the magazine. This you might think is not good, but I want to impress upon you how fortunate we are in having such people run it. The whole policy of the paper is unbiased in every way, truly objective and entirely without prejudice giving a simple picture of the fancy from coast to coast. To the editors it is just as important to publish a story about someone who has bred their first third prize winner as it is to mention the wins of Best in Show made by some of the more seasoned exhibitors. This magazine is different from any other dog magazine published. Every member of the Canadian Kennel Club receives a copy. Its purpose is to promote Canadian Dog activities be they big or small and I might add it's the smaller things we need to know about as those of us interested can read about the glory of the bigger breeders and exhibitors elsewhere if we are interested enough.

This is essentially a magazine with a circulation that is made up of people who are primarily interested in Canadian Dogs. If they were not interested in some degree they would not be receiving the paper. Everyone's bits of news are of interest. As a publisher I fully realize the tremendous headaches that beset a venture of this kind and the editors are dependent on your notes to keep them informed. If you don't write and tell them how are they to know?

The Provincial issues were to my mind one of the most interesting things that have happened to the magazine. Through letters to the editor and chit chat at the dog shows and other gatherings they have caused a lot of talk which proved that people did read the magazine and were interested enough to pass comment. Had the people who had been detailed to organize these issues made a success of them we would not have heard much comment. There were many, like myself, who thought that some of the issues carried bias, and through the organizers being seldom asked to put pen to paper, could not be broad and refreshingly unprejudiced enough to swing into the great prospect of the tremendous amount of value the Provincial issue could bring to local members. As the honour, shall we call it, fell to the Directors of the Province, who should be the best people to know of the activities of their electors, did not necessarily mean they were the most competent people to cope with it. They should have realized that they needed the help of their local members to help make the provincial issue a success.

It all boils down to the fact that through the dissention some of the Provincial issues caused that there is obviously unlimited interest that just needs fostering. This magazine is the place to do it. If through lack of publicity or recognition given to the right people in those issues the future interest should not be allowed to wane. I would like to see Provincial issues every year and I am sure after our first effort, now that everyone is well aware of the possibilities that much could be done with these ventures.

We personally have seldom used this magazine as compared with some of our other advertising campaigns in other fields, but, we have found that the results have been tremendous. To the extent that we now advertise without being asked to do so, which should prove a relief to Miss Peer and Miss Dunn!

If this article can heal some of the wounds that the Provincial issues caused (I am sorry that I cannot add unintentionally in all cases) and inspire those that thought they were forgotten to rise above it, it will have proved worthy of the time. Lets look forward to next year and let each and everyone of us now that we know the score make our Province shine and tell the whole of Canada what we are doing.

These will be the last reader comments carried on the subject of the recently completed Provincial series. It has been interesting to note the national interest created by this series. As publishers we are cognizant of the tremendous difficulties involved in such an undertaking.

It is our opinion that the Directors of the CKC and all those concerned with supplying information to this magazine did a magnificent job in compiling material without any precedent to serve as a guide.

We are certain that a subsequent series (probably 1959) will be more comprehensive and satisfying to our readers.

NAMING YOUR PUPPY

A dog's name is as important to him as a man's is to a man; it becomes a part of its owner's personality. And a dog's name can be equally important to his owner. Properly used, it is the most effective way of keeping a dog under control.

A puppy can hardly be too young to be taught its name. The earliest method is to associate the name in the puppy's mind with its food. If the puppy is called by name when it is picked up from the nest and repeatedly while it is placed before the food, then praised by name after it has eaten, it will soon learn to come when called.

Because the sense of identification does become absolute, it is never a good thing to change a dog's name. Be sure it is right before you decide on it. The name should be short, and one that can be pronounced distinctly, both in a tone of warm affection or abruptly, if need be. Pronounced sharply, it can jerk a dog out of danger or make him stop doing something he shouldn't do.

DO YOU
CREATE DOG HATERS?

Seventy-nine years ago Hugh Dalziel wrote that . . . "in the vast majority of cases dog haters have been made so by self-styled dog lovers who, resting satisfied if their dog gives them pleasure, ignore the eternal law of duty to their neighbour and through selfishness, ignorance or idleness, leave their dogs untaught and undisciplined to exercise their worst instincts and consequently become a common nuisance, and frequently a source of serious danger."

The dog that damages the neighbour's flower beds is headache enough, but one that jumps on strangers or barks needlessly at passers-by is doing a disservice to all dogs. He is helping to create a fear of dogs that may later be translated into the type of action that causes some communities to pass overstrict and discriminatory laws governing the freedom of pets.

The owner is the only person who can give the dog training in being a good citizen. It is an obligation not only to the dog and to himself, but to the community and to all other dogs.

Klari Meduna recalls herdsmen and helpers

HUNGARIAN'S BEST FRIEND

The "Puszta" being a prairie kind of land, was excellent for producing grain and for raising live stock. But handling of flocks of sheep and herds of cattle could not have been done without the indispensible help of the Pulik. They herded sheep into the field and back to the "Karem" (a kind of shed); they brought back from the fields daydreaming cows; they disciplined the most unruly bull by running him and jumping and hanging on to his heavily sagging double chin until the herdsman came with his Hungarian type lasso and caught the rebel. I have seen Pulik in every part of Hungary because Pulik were the most popular breed of dogs. And no wonder! They were able, intelligent animals; and their faith and loyalty were proverbial. People kept them in their fields as working dogs, in their homes as pets and on their farm as watchdog. But the "puszta", where they worked in a team with the shepherds or the cowherds, was the real show-place for them. Eyes could hardly follow as they raced through the fields, their agile little bodies changed position in split seconds as they outwitted the wildly running, naughty little lambs and when the work was done, they stayer faithfully by their masters the shepherds or the cowherds. It was unimaginable in the "Puszta" to see a shepherd without a Puli or a Puli without a shepherd. In good weather the Puli was glued to the shepherd's heels, and in bad weather he found a shelter under the shepherd's "Suba" (pronounced: Shubah).

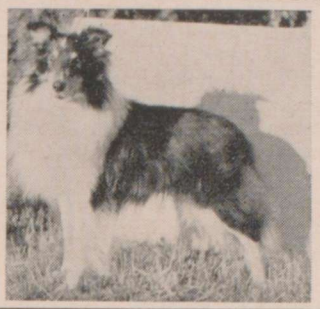

The "Suba", a typical Hungarian peasant garment, is a kind of reversible cape made of sheepskins, a cape so big and wide that it hung down to the ankles of its wearer. The shepherd wore his "suba" all the year round. When the thermometer registered above 100° he wore his "suba" to keep him cool; i.e., with the fur outside. In the winter when the temperature fell below zero, he wore it to keep him warm, with the fur inside. Whether it was warm or cold, the Puli found sweet shelter in closeness to his master's body (maybe this old, old custom accounts for the Puli's tremendous love for the closeness of a human body).

When I was five or six years old, I shared with a Puli the shelter of a "suba" for an evening. One chilly noon in early autum my grandfather decided that the livestock needed the master's eyes and ordered his horse saddled. Then suddenly he changed his mind and told my grandmother that everyone in the house should accompany him on this trip.

"Be ready and make it in no time", he ordered. His words, everyone knew, were to be obeyed. In no time, the whole family, which consisted of my grandmother, my two aunts, four of my girl cousins, six of my boy cousins and myself, was ready. The family coach was loaded to the brim, and we children were thrilled to be piled upon each other.

It is, I think, needless to say that our carriage did not run on smoothly cemented highways, but on narrow sharply "marcelled' country roads. Our elders called our attention to the sweet fragrant smell of the freshly cut hay; so we children kept sniffing the honeyed air and forgot all about the bumpy road. Silence and peace surrounded us. The poplars on both side of the roads looked like silent, saluting guardsmen. We children kept unusually quiet, listening to the coachman's abrupt calling to the horse to keep to the right or left. The terrain was as level and smooth as an open palm; and for miles and miles there was nothing to be seen except the blue sky above, the straight line of the horizon and the famous Hungarian landmark, the "gemes-kut" (a kind of draw well).

When we arrived at the grazing herds the head shepherd greeted us. I can see him yet as he approached us, his tanned face with its distinctly Asiatic features, his dignified gait, his homespun, wide-sleeved shirt (the sleeves so wide that their edges, when he raised his arms, reached down to his hips), his linen pants, the multicolored embroidered ribbons on his round hat which he turned and turned around in his hands as he gave report to my grandfather; and, of course, on his shoulders his indispensable "suba".

After the head shepherd making his report and my grandfather doing some checking on it, hearty preparations for dinner began. Young helpers collected kindling, brought out some logs, and then carried an immense cauldron and hung it above the fire. The head shepherd acted as chef. We children and all the Pulik sat around the fire, watching the preparations. Onions by the dozens and smoked bacon were cut up and then browned in the cauldron. Later, cubed milk-fed young lamb, green peppers, tomatoes, and a canful of sweet paprika were mixed with the browned onions and bacon. The appetizing scent which rose from the brewing lamb stew would have made a Roman Emperor hungry; it made us children and the Pulik wild with hunger. Finally the head shepherd tasted the stew and then lilfted his spoon as if to give a signal, whereupon my grandmother stepped forward, ceremoniously opened a white napkin, and from it took out her own handmade and cut-up egg noodles and put them into the stew. While we were eating the Pulik made wild rushes from one person to another for the coveted bones. Then when all the guests and all the helpers had had enough to eat, the head shepherd apportioned the left-over to the Pulik. Now, in the shortest possible time, they lapped up with gusto the highly seasoned food, then one by one, they ran to the little creek to wash down the pleasant burning sensation of the paprika. The guests, all the helpers, and yes, we children too, drank wine.

Then a light drizzle began to come down like a soft shower. Coats were buttoned, hats were pulled down, and every "suba" was put on its wearer. The Pulik, as if in response to a signal ran to their "suba" owners. "You little girl, come here", the head shepherd called to me, lifting one side of his fur cape. I ran. The little Puli nestled one side of the "suba" and the little girl under the other. Then our host took out from the pocket of his many folded pants, a kind of oboe, a Hungarian specialty which was called "tarogato", and began to play old Hungarian songs.

"Miklos Nagybercsenyi weeps bitterly along,
For poor soul has no soldiers any more."

This song had been written in the middle of the 16th century. As he played,

I began to hum the song. Then he played another. I continued humming — for, as saying went, all Hungarian children sucked the sweet melodies with their mother's milk. Then I felt a soft little body moving. The Puli came over to my side of the "suba". He put his head into my lap and I am sure he, as I did, enjoyed the rest of the music.

Just a few weeks ago, a friend of mine sent to me in Chicago a record of an old Hungarian song. I sat on the sofa, my little four-months old Puli puppy in my lap. As the music stopped, little Shayo lifted his head as if he were asking for an encore. Still under the influence of the soft melody and the old memories I asked him "Don't you remember? We have heard that song before."

When I look back now to those days, I truly believe that my people of the Puszta did not differ much from their ancestors who had come to Europe 1000 years before. The Nomad tribe called "Magyarok" presumably set forth upon their migration from somewhere in Central Asia. They had to descend the Tibetan mountains and to cross the Gobi desert until they found their dreamland in the Carpathian basin. Historians are puzzled as to how those people could have made their more than 100 years trip with women, children, and dogs and survived the hardships. Well, who knows? Without question, they were tough people, tough to the core. But they must have been kind people, too, for though food at that time was not abundant, they did not leave their dogs behind.

or a few more—and then suddenly discover they are too busy to take on any more. In many cases business is the excuse. The reason is they've had a judge's eye view of the exhibitor and they haven't been too happy with what they've seen. I know, I went through it once when I was young."

"How about elaborating?" I suggested.

"There wasn't anything big, just a succession of small things that happened after my first assignment was announced," he said. "For instance one rather big exhibitor, in my own breed who had never previously shown any great interest in my stock suddenly sent two females to my sire, because, he explained, he had always believed my dog had so much to give. At the next couple of shows I went to I got a great deal of attention. Two or three wanted to take me to lunch. Half a dozen wanted to buy me drinks. At least a dozen wrote telling me how glad they were I had finally agreed to take on a judging assignment and assuring me they knew I would do a good job. They were in the minority, of course, but there was enough of it to be unpleasant and embarassing."

"Then what happened?" I asked.

"The next show much of the same thing, except that I was doing a breed specialty along with my other assignments at this show. And believe me I was on the spot in the specialty. A woman from whom I had purchased several brood bitches, to whose dogs I had bred on at least four occasions and with whom I had stayed frequently came five hundred miles to show under me. I couldn't turn her dog down for it had taken the breed at the New York specialty and at Madison Square Gardens and was pounds better than anything else in the ring but in my opinion that was a win she could very well not have tried for. Certainly I could understand why some of the people who showed under me were a little suspicious that friendship had something to do with her dog's win that day. Believe me, I got criticism and plenty of it. Then came the payoff."

"What was that?" I asked.

"The most abusive letter I have ever received and from a man, who, by position, reputation and experience in the dog game should have been above all that. I was doing best in show and my final choice was between his dog, a grand specimen of his breed, and one other. Finally I gave it to the other dog. I mentioned to the loser, whom I had long regarded as a personal friend, the minor faults I thought I had found in his dog. He said nothing then, but a week later I got this letter and that was the straw that broke the camel's back. I completed the assignments I had already accepted but I accepted no more. That was twenty years ago and I've never judged a dog show since."

"But surely it's not all the exhibitor's fault?" I argued. "Surely he often has legitimate grounds for beefing."

"Of course," said the Old Timer. "I've got some ideas on that too but let's save that for another day. Meantime, nobody compels any exhibitor to show under any particular judge. When the exhibitor enters his dog he agrees to accept that judge's opinion of its merit. He may not like that opinion. It's too bad and perhaps he is right and the judge is wrong. But beefing and complaining will get him nothing except a reputation for poor sportsmanship and poor sportsmanship is something the dog game can very well do without."

CLUB NOTES

by Mrs. Elsie Murray

August 11 saw the Toy Dog Club with their first Toy Puppy Match held at the home of their president, Mrs. Wall. I had the pleasure of judging this match and feel that type shown in the different breeds and the work the members put into everything makes sure their Toy Club will be one of the best. Best in Match was Miss Rhoda Wright's Pomeranian Puff. Best Opposite was Mrs. Chamberlain's Miniature Pinscher.

August 18 the Boxer Club staged their annual Puppy Match at Central Park. Eighteen puppies of very high quality were out. As the years roll by each Puppy Match improves in type and quality. Miss Mary Wilkinson was the judge and turned in a fine job. Best in Match was a six months old female, Lady Amber of Darbey owned by Verne Darbey; Best Opposite was Bob Ells' Bazooker owned by Mr. G. B. McIntosh.

The Working Dog Sanction was very successful despite the rain. Judge Mr. Kingston did an excellent job. Forty dogs were present and Best in Match went to a German Shepherd owned by J. L. McAuley. Best Canadian Bred Puppy was a Beagle owned by H. T. McLeod.

Collie breeders were shocked at the sudden passing of Mr. A. Thompson. Mr. Thompson was a great booster of his breed and was a member of the Collie Club and the Working Dog Association. Our sympathy is extended to his son.

Obedience is in the news! Miss M. Cummings' Shetland Sheepdog scored 197 at the Renton show. He is Hi-Hopes Merry MacDuff. He also scored highest in the Show. Classes are now enrolling for the Fall Sessions. Soon the Sanction Shows will start for the Winter season. The Junior Kennel Club has met all summer outside in the park and several new members have signed up. Their Obedience department is growing and Mrs. Appel is now the instructor.

In Field Trial News, Rhett of Coldwater, owned by H. L. Straight, won the top trophy at the Richmond Lions Retriever Club Trials recently, winning the Grassie Challenge. He was handled by Ken Gibson.

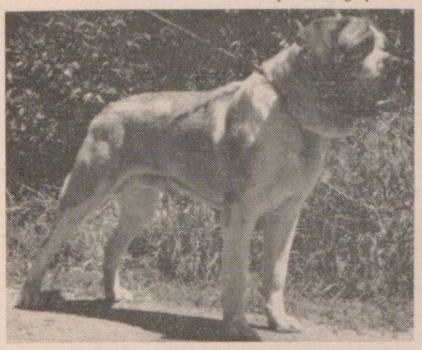

Junior handling at the Boxer Match was won by three members of the Junior Club: Dot Simpson first, Elizabeth Campbell second and Donna Langdon third.

election of officers recently at the home of Mrs. E. O'Brien Saint. Mr. Albert Kaye was re-elected president; Mrs. Vina Jones also re-elected as secretary treasurer. Other officers are: vice-president, Albert Fell; bench show committee, Mrs. Muriel Kaye, Ian Austin, Frank Jones and Cliff Van Valkenburg under the chairmanship of Harold Butler.

Two new members were introduced to the club—Mr. Ken Johnson, breeder of Bullmastiffs and Welsh Corgis and Mr. Gordon Beswetherick who has Coonhounds.

The annual report showed a successful year.

An enjoyable picnic was held during the summer and now we are down to hard work preparing for our 1958 All Breed Show.

Club Tai-I-O de Montreal

(taken from the Club Bulletin)

Our Fun Trial was a huge success and many Beaglers are urging us to hold another one the latter part of September.

We want to take this opportunity of thanking George Carpenter (Izaak Hunter) for his wonderful writeups about our club and club activities.

Harold McCracken played host at the fun trial held at Athelstan, and the only tough part was that the 29 15" hounds hit a deer and the judges couldn't get anything on them. In the 13" class, judged by Dunc Galloway and Doug Holmes of Ottawa, Harold McCracken's Concert Joe was First. Alvin Florea's Windy Hill Sugar second, Frank Krutil's Happy Melody third, and Gerald Stone's Lady, fourth.

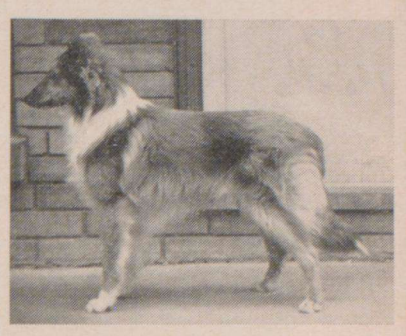

Among the visitors were Walt Magoon, Dannamora, N.Y., Joe St. Denis, Plattsburg, N.Y., Terry Riches, Bill Jackson and Buzz McConnel of Ottawa, Jimmy Stone, Malone, N.Y., Marcel Chartrand, Joe Tessier, Carl Kuhn and Art Warren, Cornwall, Ont.

After the trial, most of the Beaglers gathered at the Chateaugay Hotel, just across the border for a Hunt Supper specially prepared by Bob Reed owner of the Hotel.

The TA-I-O Club welcomes the following new members: Andy Harkin, Leighton Watson, John Godine and Viateur Lavallee.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada

by Helen I. Scott

The club has once again given independence to a great degree to a blind Canadian. Mr. Nick Genovese, noted baritone singer, a resident of Dundas, Ont., has returned to his home from Whippany, New Jersey, U.S.A., with "Valla" his Seeing Eye Dog. The Special Activities Committee and the Obedience Group of the Club are responsible for Nick being able to have Valla.

Come 1958 our Club is hoping to hold its first Puppy Futurity Sweepstakes. Lots of work has to be done, and it will be doubly hard for us, it being our first Sweepstakes. However, the National Chairman of the American Futurities is being most helpful. We are being guided by the Futurities in the States, with whatever changes are necessary which might be peculiar to our location. As yet the Futurity Committee have not made a decision on their Judge. But as soon as this is done, date and Judge will be published. Mrs. Nellie Corser is the Chairman of this committee.

Two members of our Club completed their Shepherd's Championship at the Preston Show. Mr. P. G. MacDonald's Ingo now will be an International Champion, and Phyllis Bluett's Tandy of Woodmere now will also have the right to be called Ch. Tandie.

Two of four Club members also did very well in Obedience. Mitzi Frohle's Shepherd was first in Novice A and Highest in Trial — John Mitsch's Shepherd was second in Open B at Ithaca. The Trial at Hornell saw these two members again show how wonderful Shepherds are in Obedience. John took a second in Open B and Mitzi a third in Novice B.

Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club

by Mollie Hudson

All members of the club will be sad to hear of the death of Mrs. D. B. Hudsons Ch. Oakcrest Pantoffel U.D. The little Keeshond who was the reason for the start of the Club in May, 1949.

Obtaining his Championship in 1947 and his U.D. degree in 1952 he was a companion in every sense of the word and his mistress was seldom if ever seen without him.

He saved the Municipality of Oak Bay quite a lot of money, as he was the means of finding the lads who, at that time, were going round shooting out the street lights.

Making friends wherever he went, he had several invitations to revisit Auto-Courts both on the Island and in the States, in recognition of his behaviour.

We will all miss him and join in saying, "Well Done" Toffels.

The summer classes have progressed quite satisfactorily. They have had to be taken indoors, owing to the numbers involved and the instructors being away in relays, on their holidays.

IN KERRY BLUES

The Haggerty pedigree is not very impressive. We go back to Tipperary through O'Farrells. O'Creamers, Hannigans, Egan's, Devon's and on till our history reads like "Flannigan's Ball" or "Finnigan's Wake". There were horse thieves, cattle rustlers, cradle robbers, bootleggers, rum runners, big eaters, hard drinkers, great fighters, cowards, tender lovers, philanderers and all. We are not inordinately proud of our Irish pedigree but we are proud of our Kerry Blues.

This season we have some notable wins to our credit and we are not finished yet.

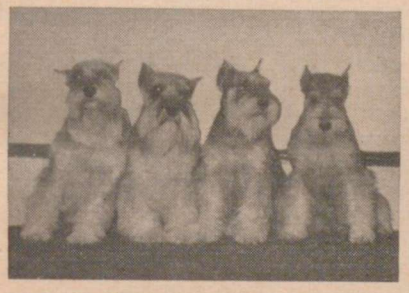

CH. MELBEE'S STARDUSTER — 2 Terrier Groups in Canada and 3 major wins in the U.S.A. (needs 1 point to complete his U.S.A. championship).

CH. DORCLIFF FIREFLY—a major win in the U.S.A. Has 8 points toward her American Championship.

SAPPHIRE SPRINGS DRAGONFLY—Came up through the puppy classes to win over the open females for a 3 point major win at the Duluth Minnesota show under Dr. Mitten.

SHOW & PET PUPPIES FOR SALE FROM THE FINEST STOCK
Mrs. E. Betts
R.R. 1, Richmond Hill, Ont. TU. 4-3002

An amusing and interesting incident happened at one of our training sessions towards the end of the evening. Some of the members had congregated round the coffee table, others were talking to each other in groups, many of them had left their dogs lying down under orders to "stay". At this moment two large dogs, both on leash, decided to be very rude to each other, luckily a fight was averted.

Immediately the noise started a small forest of hands were upraised as the anxious owners of the "downed" dogs called "stay".

I couldn't help laughing and wishing that I were a cartoonist, and felt very proud of each and every one, as none of the dogs got up to join in although the keenness of their expression made one realize how much fun it would have been to them.

The Annual Gymkhana was a great success, held at the home of Mr. R. Nutter. Added to the usual games and fun we staged a Tracking race. Obtaining a very dead fish head, this was trailed along a mapped out path, through an orchard, long wild grass and sawdust mounds for about 150 yards. The dogs left one by one and were timed. All but one completed the course, the winning dog being a Labrador "Sarah", owned by Mrs. D. A. Young and handled by her young son, who, dragged at full speed over the ground, completed the Track in 31.4 seconds.

The Lakehead Kennel Club

by J. W. Haggerty

Our three-day shows proved a social and financial success. Thanks to exhibitors, judges and members for every cooperation. Quality of the dogs exhibited was rated very high by all judges. How long will it be until a Lakehead dog wins a B.I.S. at the Lakehead? Wilfred Wright was the last man to own and show a dog to a B.I.S. from the Lakehead, winning at Winnipeg with "Wires". Open challenge to all members—who will be first?

Should there be enough puppies around we may try and hold a Sanction Match. Sustaining a year around interest in dogs proves troublesome. Obedience helps so let's get a place for winter exercises.

Two dog parades were held in August at Chippewawa Park and Boulevard Lake. Ted Pappin and Marion Young handled the parades.

The coming Winnipeg shows have attracted a number of Lakehead exhibitors with an eye on silverware. The final show within travelling distance will be the Minneapolis Show in November and a few members have already planned to attend.

The London & District Scottish Terrier Club

by Mrs. E. Needham

The regular monthly meeting of the club was held August 26 at the Harris Shire Kennels, Belmont. Last minute preparations for our Specialty Show were completed. Mr. Harris showed members his new Scottish Terrier Wheatons. The two little pups he owns are the only ones of their kind in this part of the country.

The club picnic held at Springbank Park was a great success and everyone had a good time. New members are always welcome and anyone wishing information is asked to write Mrs. E. Needham, 57 Craig St., Apt. 3, London, Ont. The club meets on the last Monday of every month at the Harris Shire Kennels, Highway 74, Belmont, Ont.

The Progressive Kennel Club of Canada

by Gertrude W. Drew

The first fall meeting was held September 4 and drew a large attendance. The club meetings have gradually grown larger as the year progressed but latterly they have been somewhat of a record.

There was a great deal of important business on the agenda which the President handled very ably, permitting the meeting to end reasonably early. Many of the members come considerable distances and appreciate getting away in good time.

The benching has been much in demand by other show-giving clubs this year, thereby rewarding the club with substantial revenue. This investment has proven to be a good one and the club is indebted to Mr. Clarence Stevens for his foresight and work in making this a reality.

Next year's point show will be held on June 7. The Judges selected at a previous meeting were confirmed by the show Secretary. Judges for the sanction show to be held on Nov. 11 were also chosen.

A committee was selected to revise the constitution.

Mrs. R. T. Lawrence visited the Maritimes shows in August and reported the entries up considerably over other years. She had the good luck to finish her imported Cocker and got points on all others.

Mrs. Martha Stevens' little Boston continues his winning ways. He took all three Best of Breeds at the C.N.E. shows.

News has just reached me that Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Adams have had another Best in Show with one of their Westies, this time at the Ontario County show.

Wallaceburg Kennel Club

by Wilson H. Kerr

First annual meeting was held September 12 with the following election of officers: president, Wilson H. Kerr; vice president, Eric Taylor (also historian); secretary Mrs. Marg Chizma; treasurer, Mrs. Norma Shimzy; directors, Ed Chizma (also obedience trainer); Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zavitz, Yon Shimzy, Mrs. Harold Ansell; card and flower convenor, Mrs. Rose Marie Kerr.

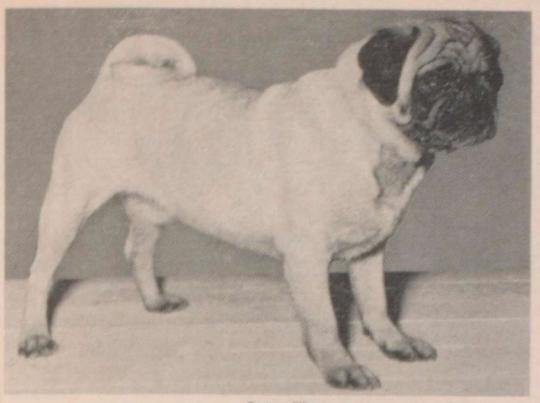

The president's report of first year's activities included: total membership of 30, held 12 regular and four executive meetings, two outdoor social meetings, one Christmas dinner, one Turkey raffle, showed three movies, gave four training demonstrations to scout groups, held one Obedience Training class and started the second on September 12, held one Sanction Show, donated nine books to the Wallaceburg Public Library.

The club is planning a membership drive, ring steward and handling classes, a monthly bulletin, special speakers and events for this Fall and Winter and a Championship Show for 1958.

VISITE AUX MARITIMES

by Mrs. Robert Stock

Les expositions du Nouveau Brunswick offrent à l'éleveur des autres Provinces l'agrément d'un beau voyage et une compétition sérieuse avec un choix de très bons chiens, peu nombreux il est vrai, ce ne sont pas encore des expositions encombrées de sujets médiocres destinés à pousser de rapides championnats.

Le but de notre voyage de vacances était d'assister aux 4 expositions 2 à Frédéricton, 2 à St. John. Notre congé ayant été écourté, j'ai dû me contenter d'une seule expo. dans chaque ville. Le confort des chiens et des exposants était exceptional à Frédéricton, la piste entièrement recouverte d'un tapis bien fixé aidait à la bonne tenue des chiens à toute place. St. John offrait moins de confort, mais aux deux endroits une égale amabilité.

Le mérite des juges est évident, si l'on songe au travail qu'exige l'examen de quelque 200 chiens de toutes races, en quelques heures, compétence, patience, célérité combinées. Certain y joignant une constante affabilité, Les présentations sur la piste sont presque entièrement accomplies par des pilotes professionnels, ce qui permet à beaucoup de chiens d'être envoyés fort loin sans leurs propriétaires. Cependant que cette coutume très généralisée déplace un peu l'objet de la compétition-chiens pour une compétition entre "professional handlers", chacun employant ses petits trucs de métier pour retenir l'attention du juge. C'est de bonne guerre, sans doute, mais un peu commercial.

Les routes étant assez bonnes, le voyage aux Maritimes reste donc fort intéressant. Le logement, chiens compris, en motels, hotels, cabines est très facile, ce qui aide à l'agrément du séjour. Pour les éleveurs, ces expositions méritent d'être suivies et la qualité des exhibits maintenue. Pour le simple touriste et, sous-entendu, amateur de chiens, c'est une attraction à ne pas manquer, et qui laissera un excellent souvenir.

ARTHRITIS RELIEF

The beneficial use of two "human" steroid drugs in the treatment of animal ills was the subject of a symposium held for veterinarians recently in New York. Discussing the veterinary uses of Meticorten and Meticortelone, two "super cortisone" compounds now standard treatment for human beings suffering from rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. Lee R. Phillips of Lakewood, Colo. said: "At the present time we do not have a cure for arthritis in the canine, but with proper treatment and management, we can rid most of the joint pain from the majority of our patients and enable them to live normally.

Why GAINES is the answer to the dog breeder's nutrition problems

Here's the Problem. It is no secret to dog breeders and veterinarians that many commercial dog foods vary considerably in their nutritional value—frequently from feeding to feeding. This state of affairs has led to a problem in the correct feeding of dogs—where, as these experts well know, a completely balanced diet is essential.

And Here's the Answer. The unique homogenization process, developed and used exclusively by Gaines, GUARANTEES THE DOG UNIFORM NOURISHMENT. In Homogenized Gaines Meal, all ingredients are blended into nuggets, each containing a balanced amount of ALL the food elements that the dog needs to build and maintain health and strength. Nutritional values thus cannot vary from feeding to feeding.

The Proof of the Pudding . . . ! Homogenized Gaines Meal is the result of many years of research by Gaines Research & Control Laboratories (and by the famous Gaines Research Kennels). Every step of this research has been carefully checked by ACTUAL FEEDING TESTS, carried out on generations of dogs at the Gaines Kennels.

Economical in Use. Gaines Meal contains balanced quantities of carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals—plus more meat and fish proteins—all derived from natural foods. However, in spite of its high nutritional value it is by no means expensive. Cheaper, inferior meals require supplements if the dogs are to receive all the food elements they need. Gaines does not. It should be remembered also that a 25 lb. bag of Gaines contains all the food values of 75 lbs. of canned dog food!

Considering these factors, it is easy to see why Gaines is the world's largest selling dog meal. Be sure that the next consignment of food you order is Homogenized Gaines Meal.
