DOG LOVERS OF CANADA

we, the dogs of Canada, embrace you

(WITH TEARS OF GRATITUDE IN OUR SOFT BROWN EYES)

Yes, DOG LOVERS, you have made us very happy. Since the introduction of Fetch (ah delightful delicacy, made by Nabisco, Makers of Milk-Bone) you have been buying it for us in ever-increasing quantities. Yes, Mr. and Mrs. Dog Lover, dogs all across Canada, are happily eating Fetch . And by doing so they are taking on new health,  and their dispositions are becoming even more mellow and loveable. In short, Mr. and Mrs. Dog Lover, by buying Fetch with such enthusiasm, you have placed the dogs of Canada in your debt. And you will be repaid with great measures of love and affection from the dog of your choice.

KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK, MR. AND MRS. DOG LOVER!

Spread the word about Fetch to such unfortunates who may not yet have heard how Fetch contains more than generous quantities of calcium, iron, ash, and other necessary factors in a healthy dog's diet. Tell them how dogs consider the flavour of Fetch to be comparable to that of charcoal-broiled porterhouse. Tell them that there is no higher way of expressing love for a dog than by buying him

Cover Story

This month the cover features the black and tan American Cocker Spaniel, Am. and Can. Ch. Leelon's On Parade. "Smudgie", as he is known to all, has set a new record in the show ring for a black and tan and is also the top winner Cocker of all varieties for 1960.

Handled exclusively by his owner, he finished his Canadian title at 11 months of age, winning one large Sporting Group while still a puppy. He completed his American championship in a record number of shows winning a five-point major at the Detroit Specialty and a three-pointer at the Upstate Cocker Specialty, Syracuse.

Shown in the Specials, "Smudgie" has two Best in Shows (The Western Ontario Spaniel Club and Canadian Save the Children Fund, Ottawa). This year alone he has eight Sporting Groups and two Second placings.

Whelped June 1, 1958, he is a son of Am. Ch. Kobbytown's Cappie who sired four American champions in 1959 for the Donderwitz's. His dam is the lovely black bitch, Sherristar Deborah, owned by Shirley Loveless of West Falls, N.Y. As a note of interest "Smudgie" was one of five in the litter and was not kept because he was a black and tan! The Donderwitz's saw him at ten weeks of age and brought him home.

Quoted: "We did not see his future glory but we did see a sound little fellow, a delightful disposition, a beautiful soft Cocker expression, and a puppy who at ten weeks was a born showman. We thank the many judges who have found these same qualities in our boy".

Mr. and Mrs. Donderwitz own the Kobbytown Kennels at Massena, N.Y., have bred Cockers for twelve years and finished 21 Champions.

CKC MEMBER WINS CASE

His Honor, P. H. Steves, handed down judgment in the case of The Town Planning Commission of Albert County, N.B., against Edward Norman Payne in favor of the defendant. It was alleged that Mr. Payne was operating a kennel in a residential district and that such an operation was not permissible in that the by-law did not set out such a use as a permissible one.

Fredericton barrister Lawrence Garvie, well-known all-breed judge, defended Mr. Payne in this test case. Only witness called on behalf of the defendant was Robert Little of Fredericton, a CKC director for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Concluded Judge Steves: "It would seem to me it would be simpler and more practical if the by-law in question set out the uses that could not be made of land, rather than attempt to define the permissible uses by general and vague language."

Little boy to pal, as they leave dog show: "I like television better. It's not so far to the bathroom."

FROM THE EDITOR

As breeders, large and small, will testify one of the primary pleasures of having a kennel is in choosing a kennel name and selecting registration and pet names as the litters come along.

Selecting an acceptable kennel name, as first-timers are discovering, is a real challenge. Unless you are lucky enough to hit on an acceptable name, you will more than likely save time by coining one. The Canadian Kennel Club avers that much disappointment could be prevented by consulting their list of name styles which are not acceptable. A first and second choice, as in ordering theatre tickets, is strongly recommended.

When you are considering a name there are 16 checkpoints contained in a CKC application form headed "Record of Kennel Names". The name you choose must not have more than 12 letter spaces. It must not be presently registered with The Canadian Kennel Club, The American Kennel Club or the English Kennel Club, nor with Chase Publishing. It must not be a proper name, i.e. John's Kennels. Nor an historical one like Fort York Kennels. It must not be a name place shown in the Canadian Railway Guide nor can it be the name of a city, town, village, post office or well-known geographical location (i.e. Okanagan Valley) in Canada. It cannot be a qualitative adjective such as Superior Kennels nor a descriptive adjective like Favorite Kennels. Registered kennels cannot be prefixed by a color, i.e. Purple Kennels. Nor may a surname be used, with the exception that where an applicant "has, prior to January 1, 1958 registered more than ten dogs with his surname as a prefix." One should avoid trying for a name too similar to a kennel well-known in other countries, notably Great Britain and the United States. Apart from the unethical aspect of trading on the success of another kennel, it is confusing, particularly as to pedigrees. A sound kennel owner will want his own good name.

Nor may the name of a breed be included in the kennel name, i.e. Mandrake Boxer Kennels. While Boxers may be the breed at the time, who knows but what the breeder will change his fancy, or add more breeds, thereby limiting himself. The use of a name too similar to a breed has the same effect . . . Ymar, for example, or Korgy Kennels.

What does that leave? It allows a choice of thousands of names you may coin by using syllables from one or more names. It might be a combination of names from your birthplace, from your favorite holiday spots, from novels. If you consult racetrack results, you'll find some wonderful ideas from race-horse names. The old English style of place-names lends itself to interesting new possibilities. The Canadian Kennel Club has prepared a sheet of suggested names, most of which are available, but which serves even better as a springboard to your own imagination.

When selecting a name, consideration should be given as to whether you will still like it five years from now; how it will look in print in your advertising, on your stationery or sign. Does it lend itself to interesting possibilities in the secondary names (many breeders like to use one letter of the alphebet in naming each litter, i.e. Shipscor'e Sandra, Sammy, Snookie). Is it easy to spell, to give over the telephone, and does it lend an air of prestige to your kennels?

While the majority of our readers have long since established their own kennel names, they are nevertheless regularly dealing with clients who may consult them on this question. It is claimed that an average kennel exists seven years (some have lasted well over 40). This means new kennels are coming along regularly, as witness the monthly list of applications shown in Dogs.

If you find that a name you have decided upon is already registered, but has not been in use for some time, you may approach the previous owner for its use. Final arrangements are made through The Canadian Kennel Club. No registered name is available, however, as long as the owner is a member of the CKC. If, after five years he ceases to be a member or have last registered a dog individually in the club's records, the card is taken out of the active kennel file, then is put in a reserve file and name will not be granted for ten years.

All this may seem like "red-tape". However, there is a purpose in it. If other kennels are thus protected, so are you for many, many, many years. It has taken a great deal of thought to develop an international system and counter-recognition, but the eventual confusion and misuse is held at a minimum.

SHOW TALK

The engaging young Papillon, Am. Ch. Joujou de la Rouge who appeared on the cover of the April issue of Dogs completed her American championship at the age of ten months after spectacular major wins as a 6-months puppy at the Papillon Specialty show held at the Chicago International and at Indianapolis earlier this year. With a total of 16 American points, she also has several Canadian points. Breeder, Mrs. J. H. Daniell-Jenkins, (Kennels of the Rouge) Rouge Hill, Ont., is co-owner with eight-year-old Clifford Clark. . . . The Pekingese, St. Aubrey Marigold of Elsdon, completed her American title in four straight shows, something of a record. She is owned and bred by Messrs. Nigel Aubrey-Jones and R. William Taylor of Montreal. She is by Goofus Fangio Tu out of Ch. Simba Salote of Elsdon whose third champion offspring this is. . . . Only Chow female in Canada to hold the degree of CD, Currie's Tanya of Marhal took first place in Novice "A" Class in Trial No. 7 at the Burlington and District KC Obedience Trial June 12, with a qualifying score of 194, 21 dogs competing. Owner is Mrs. Pearl Currie of Toronto. . . . With his American championship newly under his collar, the Harlequin Great Dane, Ch. Count Zepton Von Zordane now has his Canadian and American titles plus Canadian and American CD, CDX. "Zep" is now working on his UD. This outstanding Dane is owned by Mrs. Florence Westbrook of Brantford who shows "Zep" and put him through CDX herself. Breeders: Florence and Ian Stewart, Zordane Kennels, Brantford, Ont.

"NAUGHTY" ON TOUR

Naughty Marietta, white Miniature Poodle who accompanies her mistress, Metropolitan soprano Teresa Stratas on her operatic engagements, recently threw the company into a fit of laughter during a rehearsal in Vancouver. In one of the climaxes in the first act of Madama Butterfly, the cast shouts angrily at Miss Stratas. At one point she is pushed violently to the ground by the man who plays the uncle. "Naughty" first yapped and growled, then indignantly tugged at his trousers. Finally, as Miss Stratas continued to lie on the floor, "Naughty" feared she was really hurt and began crying and kissing her face. Rehearsal was temporarily suspended as the young singer, the "uncle", the producer, director and other members of the cast tried to explain that it was all part of the play.

En route to Vancouver from Toronto "Naughty" delayed the plane for 20 minutes while staff searched for the pre-arranged kennel which wasn't there. Arriving at Vancouver they held up the welcoming committee ten minutes while Miss Stratas refused to leave the plane until Naughty was cleared and brought to her seat. The operatic Poodle was bred by Mr. A. Simard, (Simloch Kennels) Toronto.

SHOW BUSINESS

Six entrants to the class. Four soon eliminated—beam too narrow, apple headed, incorrect balance, snipy. Two well matched dogs are left. Nothing between them. Tough job this—but wait! No. 358 keener, positively glowing, obviously enjoying himself! Yes, he's the one. The deciding factor—his perfect condition.

CONDITIONING

Although wisely cared for, your dog may occasionally lose condition. Blood-purifying is the usual need. Karswood Dog Powders act directly on the liver, kidneys and bowels—organs responsible for cleaning and refreshing the blood stream. Karswood's also provide Phosphorus, Iodine, Tonic Salts, Sulphur and Calcium for Nerves, Muscles, Glands, Skin and Bone development. NEW THOUGHTS ON DYSPLASIA

. . . Good for DIC. There is nothing I like to see more than an article that is controversial, as much useful information can result in the various reactions to such, and if the article on Dysplasia in the August issue written by Dr. Snavely doesn't stir up a storm, I miss my guess.

I have been very concerned about this condition for several years and have carefully studied all the information I could get from sources I had to feel were both reliable and qualified, but, in one fell swoop this article contradicts everything I have so far been led to believe is correct. Why not follow this through and try and get the opinions of some of the other well known authorities who have also made quite a study of dysplasia. Might I suggest the following as a start: Dr. A. J. Cawley of Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph Ont., Dr. Schnelle of Boston, Dr. Philip McClave of California, and there are others.

Unless I have interpreted this article entirely wrong, and I don't see how this could be, Dr. Snavely is in almost direct contradiction to the other authorities. Personally, I don't feel qualified to offer any comment on the article at all, but you may be sure that article is already in my files.

FIRST LICENSED OBEDIENCE JUDGE

. . . My attention has been called to the letter headed Obedience "Firsts" written by Blanche Saunders in the July issue of Dogs in Canada.

Miss Saunders questions two statements made by Mrs. N. T. Smith in her article "Obedience Convention" (June issue) in which it was stated that Frank Grant, Detroit, Mich., was the first licensed Obedience judge and that he trained and handled the first U.D.T. dog in the United States. I did not see the article in question which no doubt was a report on part of the talk I made at the "Obedience Convention" and apparently, though I am sure, not intentionally, I was misquoted. Had I seen the article, I probably would have requested a correction.

I did not say I judged the first Obedience Test. Probably the trial held on June 13, 1936 and judged by Mrs. Wheeler H. Page was first, which merely meant the judge was approved for that show. What I did say was that I was the first licensed judge, which meant I judged the required number of shows to be licensed by the AKC. These days nobody has a license; all judges are approved for each show.

I did not say I trained the first UDT dog in the United States. I did say I trained one of the first Doberman Pinschers to gain the UD title in the United States. In fact, this dog was well trained before the AKC approved Obedience Trials. We in The First American Amateur Training Club for Working Dogs actually held our own trials in the form of exhibitions in licensed All Breed Shows for several years before the AKC recognized Obedience Trials. The Poodles and German Shepherd mentioned by Miss Saunders could well have been the first UD dogs, perhaps one of them was in the tracking test I watched on, I believe the Whitehouse Walker Estate, years ago and judged by the late Josef Weber, the professional trainer who was so helpful in getting Obedience Training started in the early days of this activity.

"THESE THINGS"

I was quite appalled at the article 'THESE THINGS I SAW' by Margo Nesselrod in your recent July issue of Dogs in Canada. While it is probably a vital necessity that animals be used by the various research institutions and companies in developing new drugs and procedures, I believe that this type of research could at least be done humanely.

I noted that this article originated in the U.S.A., but there is always a possibility that these things can happen in our own country. If they do, it is time that the dog lovers and breeders in Canada investigated the situation thoroughly.

Dog lovers could help by reporting any such incidents to the S.P.C.A., while the various dog clubs and organizations, including the C.K.C., could help the S.P.C.A. by donations to help carry on the cause of man's inhumanity to animals.

GOODBYE, JOE!

. . . As "Dorothy-Jane Goulding", I was the Kindergarten of the Air Lady for nine years over the CBC, and in answer to requests for my picture, I used to send out one of myself and my Cocker Spaniel, Joe.

Joe therefore, came to be one of the best known Cockers in Canada, receiving letters, Christmas cards, Valentines, and even Easter eggs!

This week, at the age of 14, Joe was put to sleep. He was suffering from cancer of the skin. We are glad to remember that his end was as quiet and peaceful as his life had been, and those of your readers who knew him from his picture might like to know that he kept his figure, his looks, and his vitality to the end!

HAPPY MEMORIES

. . . Mr. William Kendrick's article was a great joy to me. It brought back happy memories of the days when "I was young and fair without a care", in his mentioning the great men in our Canadian fancy, most of whom I enjoyed close friendship with.

Lance Farwell, great Cocker breeder and gentleman. The first "really big" stud fee I ever paid ($50) was to his fantastic black dog, whose name I can't recall. George Ward, immaculate, debonair, waxed moustache, boutonniere, a real English dandy, a top Airedale breeder whose Ch. Silver Birch Banker was head man of his day. Bert Swann: top handler. His pride and joy the Airedale, Ch. Polam Maxim, an English import . . . how he paid me $1.00 to drop peas on Ted Ward's head from the balcony of the old Exhibition building in an effort to put him off stride when he and Ted were fighting it out with Banker and Maxim in the ring below and the judge, George Thomas, calling up "That's enough, S——". Norman K. Swire, old Doc Campbell's right hand man, judge and universal favorite. I recall our setting out to see Shoulder Arms (Chaplin) when Doc called us back to help in an operation on a Melbourne Pom. I carried the kidney stone around with me for long after.

Jimmie Strachan, my beloved and father confessor. Melinda Street was my second home, then. How he lectured me "just for my own good". His pride and joy was a dark-eyed laddie in knee britches. One day watching him sorting out mail, Jimmie said fondly, "He will be president some day." Up pipes the kid: "I don't want to be the president". And, by heck, he has kept his word. Presidents come, presidents go, but he keeps on forever, and as long as he occupies his present chair all will be well with The Canadian Kennel Club. He will slay me for this, so I'll sign,

PROTECTION TRAINING WANTED

. . . Could you tell me where in the Maritimes I can send my dog (registered German Shepherd) to give him an advanced training in the protection field. I am working in the very early hours of the morning and I greatly need protection, believe me. The dog has already received the basic training for obedience at the Kennel Club to which I belong. Is there a school in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police which trains dogs for protection work?

Would you also have any idea of the fees for such training, and if there is no such school in the Maritimes, could you tell me if there is any in Montreal or in Toronto. I would not like to be too far away from the dog as I understand that the handler has to be in contact with his dog once in a while.

I would be so happy if you could give me all this information at your earliest convenience. The little you can do to help me would be greatly appreciated. I thank you very much for the favor of your kind attention.

BREEDER'S CHOICE

. . . It was a privilege to be present at the panel discussion following the recent general meeting of the Burlington & District Kennel Club.

On this panel of breeders were Mr. McKendrick, Mr. Ken Ellis, Mrs. E. Whitmore, Mrs. Pat Fisher and Mrs. Robbie Walker, who spoke with authority and enthusiasm.

Of the various forms of educational entertainment presented by the club I personally enjoyed this evening greater than any preceding. These people deserve thanks and commendation for taking the time to share their views and knowledge with the novice.

One topic on which the panel members were not in accord was their reaction to the following question: "In the event of disaster a German Shepherd Dog breeder was left with three male dogs (all with good conformation but one fault) the first, all white; the second, monorchid and the third, hip displasia. Which of the three studs would you use for future breeding program?"

I would be interested in hearing other comments and reactions to this question and the reasons for some.

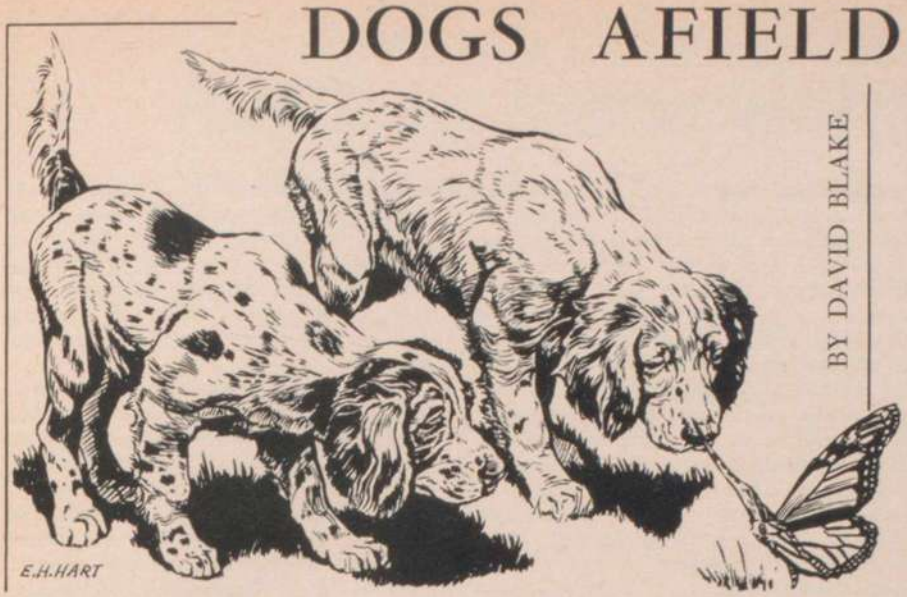
DOGS AFIELD

BY DAVID BLAKE



It works both ways — a demonstration of sporting dogs at work fascinates the public while helping to keep them in condition.

I never cease to be surprised at the interest shown by the general public in things which seem commonplace to the sporting dog man. A recent experience was a repetition of this kind of eye opening, which convinces me that we fanciers of working dogs may be missing many opportunities to awaken our friends and neighbours to the vitality and fruitfulness of life with a trained, functional dog.

The event was a local horse show, given for a worthy charity. The director of the show asked me if I thought an occasional break in the equine activity might be a crowd pleaser. There was nothing to base my opinion on, but I was certainly willing to give it a try to help the good cause and, in so doing, possibly establish some appreciation for the kind of dog to which we devote such a large part of our lives.

With a nucleus of dogs used now and then for exhibitions, it soon came to light that there were local dogs that could be added and in some places substituted for them. I contacted the owners and worked their dogs with them, easily fitting them into a well integrated program—and don't think the local newspapers didn't latch on to the local talent to publicize the activities of these sportsmen, whose avocation had not until now been appreciated or understood.

Passing up the obedience work and demonstration of how guide dogs are trained to serve the blind—which, though nonetheless important, are not exactly in our bailiwick — we gave our audience a pretty well rounded picture of dogs afield.

An English Setter was used to represent the pointing breeds. Cast off in a field adjacent to the riding ring, he swung to the handler's commands, was brought in and sent to a likely piece of cover to one side and then sent on to freeze majestically on a planted bird.

An English Springer Spaniel showed how flushing dogs quarter within gun range, stop on a single whistle blast, swing on a double, respond to recall, heel, and stop to flush. She then marked and retrieved triple falls, demonstrated control by leaving a retrieve on command and coming back to it after completing the other two and handling by hand and whistle to a blind planted among the audience. In this latter part of the Springer's work, only the water work of a finished retriever was lacking.

Using a drag, a winding line was laid down, a nearby tree tapped and the drag hung in the tree. Brought to the line, a black and tan coonhound opened beautifully, ran the line down and barked tree.

These things are, as I have said, commonplace to us, but many of the audience were seeing these things for the first time. To say that they were spellbound is an understatement. Even the oldtimers enjoyed seeing good work under unusual circumstances and, you can be sure, got a real belt out of the knowledge that their neighbours were learning to appreciate the activities so dear to their hearts.

Yes, it was a success. Asked to repeat in next fall's show, we couldn't refuse—and an hour's program is scheduled for a strawberry festival staged two weeks hence for the benefit of a scholarship fund. Three area newspapers are already publicizing the appearance of sporting dogs for this occasion.

It's a lot of fun. It affords out-of-season activity. It is incentive for getting dogs in the pink. It certainly boosts our cause as well as aiding those more needy in some way or other than we.

Take a look around your area. Approach those who might be aided in the work of their cause by a display of the qualities of sporting dogs in action. Can't tell, you might even sell some bench fans the idea of training their dogs or slanting their efforts toward dogs bred to do their job in accordance with their heritage.

"LE COIN FRANCAIS"

by MME. LEO DERY

Ce mois ci, je vous traduis certains extraits du message adressé aux membres du Canadian Kennel Club par le président M. Walter Brown pour le début de la nouvelle année.

Sur le point d'entrer dans une nouvelle anneé, on se rappelle de l'ancien dieu Janus, d'où le nom de "janvier" est derivé. Janus était représenté par deux faces opposées, symbolisant les deux côtés d'une porte. On est porté à penser à une personne qui tout enregardant vers l'avenir, jette un regard sur le passé.

Lorsque toutes les statistiques pour '59 seront compilées, nous verrons que dans tous les domaines nous avons atteint de nouveaux records. Dans les 71 ans d'existence du Club, jamais les membres ne furent aussi nombreux que cette année. Jamais y eut-il autant d'enregistrements de chiens au cours d'un année. Jamais n'y eut-il autant de concours de compétition. Bien qu'on puisse se réjouir de tels records, il faut d'abord s'assurer que les bases sur lesquelles reposent cette expansion sont solides.

On a remarqué que les membres du Canadian Kennel Club croient souvent que le Conseil des Directeurs, le bureau du Club et son personnel forment le C.K.C. Il est vrai que ceux-ci représentent les manifestations extérieures, mais le Club n'existerait pas s'il n'avait pas ses membres répartis d'un bout à l'autre du pays.

Chaque amateur réalise sans doute que la façon dont il conduit ses affaires avec les autres rejaillit sur lui, bien ou mal. Peut-être ne réalise-t-il pas que s'il agit mal, il n'est plus seul en cause mais il compromet l'avenir des chiens de race. Nous le constatins par le nombre de chiens vendus comme chiens de race et où les vendeurs négligent de fournir les certificats d'enregistrement. L'éleveur qui a du succès sait trop bien qu'un client satisfait est sa meilleure annonce. Heureusement la majorité des éleveurs connaissent leurs obligations légales et morales, et c'est à eux, et à ceux qui donnent leur temps gratuitement, que nous devons l'expansion que nous atteignons aujourd'hui.

Voici certains sujets qui ont été abordés au cours des différentes séances du Conseil des directeurs au cours de '59:

Affaires internationales:

Le Conseil a entrepris des démarches pour éliminer complètement la nécessite de dépots, droits au sujet de chiens traversant la frontière canado-américaine dans quelque but que ce soit. On doit s'attendre à ce que de telles démarches soient très lentes et les résultats prennent du temps.

Affaires d'enregistrement et livres d'enregistrement:

Depuis un certain nombre d'années les règlements d'enregistrement du Dachshund comptent 6 races distinctes et on ne peut enregistrer la progéniture du mélange de ces races (en réalité, variétes). D'autres pays d'où ces chiens sont importés, n'ont pas ces mêmes classifications et cela comporte certains problèmes. Un comité a été formé pour étudier les moyens de remédier à ces problèmes.

Apres 2 ans de travail, on a enfin le nécessaire d'enregistrement de portée. Pour ceux qui ne le connaissent pas, disons que lorsqu'un éleveur fait enregistrer une portée, on lui retourne un certificat accompagné d'un nombre de feuilles (selon le nombre de chiens) d'enregistrement partiellement complétées. Si la portée excède 5 chiens, on envoie des formules additionnelles suffisantes pour enregistrer tous les chiens de cetter portée. Si vous avez des suggestions à offrir à ce sujet, vous êtes les bienvenus. Seul l'avenir nous dira si ce service doit être maintenu ou non.

Le Conseil des directeurs réalise que de nombreux membres aimeraient voir un certificat d'enregistrement issu avec l'entente que ce chien qui est vendu ne doit pas être employé pour l'élevage et si cette entente n'était pas respectée, la ou les portées issues de cet ou ces accouplement no pourraient être enregistrées. Un projet est à l'étude en ce moment et doit être poursuivi au cours de l'année.

Nous terminerons ces extraits dans un prochain article.

BOXER PUPPY MATCH

More than 60 entries competed in the recent Boxer Club of Canada Puppy Match. One of the most important Boxer events of the year, the match was staged outdoors at the CNE Grounds, Toronto and was judged by Mr. Richard Hollinger of Hollee Kennels, Detroit, Mich.

Among the noteworthy wins: Puppies from the first Boxer litter of Mr. and Mrs. Scot McNair of Ilderton, Ont. placed 1st, 2nd and 3rd in the large 2-4 month male class. Mr. Hollinger's consistency was apparent in that both the Best Male Puppy and the Best Female Puppy are litter mates who bear a close resemblance. This pair, Verwood's Big Dipper and Verwood's Suzanne, are inbred to the noted Am. Ch. Marjack's Golden Windjammer.

Among the American-sired puppies, of ten entered, four 1sts, two 2nds, three 3rds and a fourth were captured.

Interesting note: Best in Match puppy, Mrs. C. Huber's sound and typey 17-month-old female, Hubertus Tulinkara has an up-and-coming litter sister in Ch. Hubertus Temptress who was winners female at the Boxer Club of Canada Specialty Show last March.

Hubertus Tulinkara, 17-month-old female, was judged Best Puppy in Match by Judge Richard Hollinger (left). Owned by Mrs. C. Huber, Toronto.

Trophies were awarded for the first four placings in all classes and all exhibitors received dog food donated by the Quaker Oats Company (Ken-L-Ration). Results were:

2-4 month males: Bonnie Lee's Fancy Dan, sired by Am. Ch. Hollee's Top Preview. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Scot McNair.

4.6 month males: Teridon's Cracker Jack. Sired by Ch. Haviland's Stormaway, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith.

6-9 month males: Verwood's Big Dipper, sired by Mazelaine's Lodestar. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jeffries.

9-12 month males: Haviland's Major v. Baron, sired by Ch. Markmar's Whirlaway. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Major.

Best Male Puppy: Verwood's Big Dipper.

2-4 month females: Bonnie Lee's Dancing Doll. Sired by Ch. Yermo Red. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Scot McNair.

THE PRAIRIES' POINTER "CROP"

Each summer a section of our midwest becomes a training ground for 2000 dogs — potential champions of the breeds that scent out upland game.

By Kyle Walker

Courtesy C-I-L Oval

● Graduate pointer, held on leash by trainer, is now ready to show his proud owners that he can scent and "point" out a bird.

It may be a surprise to most Canadians that for the past half-century the broad prairies of southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba have been the center of North American summer bird-dog training.

Thousands of top-flight field trial and shooting dogs, mostly pointers and setters, come up annually from the United States for a 60-day period of intensive schooling on Sharptail Grouse (or "Prairie chickens" as Westerners now know them, though the true chicken has become almost extinct).

Three prime factors make these vast prairies ideally suited to the development of the outstanding pointing dogs of the world. First, the weather is hardly ever too hot for dogs to be worked even in mid-summer. Second, our midwest offers the open country which is conducive to developing the fast, wide-ranging dogs so much in demand as field trial performers. And finally, of paramount interest is the adequate supply of game birds. It takes lots of practice in "flushing" for the development of top dogs, and these prairies still contain plenty of birds.

In the early 1900's a few United States trainers discovered the unparalleled training conditions of the Canadian prairies and started a trend which has been followed ever since. These bold forerunners of the modern professional trainers came by train to Winnipeg, where they rented or bought horses and wagons to transport them into the prairie country 20 or 30 miles from the city. Here they found ideals conditions and game birds in such profusion that it was an easy matter to teach their charges to "point".

Most of the early trainers came from the southern states where the big plantations fostered the development of quality bird-dogs, which were used not only for field shooting but on an increasing basis as competitors in the fast-growing sport of pointing-dog field trials. The shipping of a dozen or more dogs and all equipment of the trainer entailed many problems, but the end results—the continent's finest setters and pointers —justified this effort.

The development of modern automotive transport has been a great boon to the bird-dog fraternity. Today, scores of trainers annually bring up an estimated 2,000 pointers and setters in modernly equipped trucks. This great mobility enables the trainers to disperse over a wide area to places where conditions are most favorable for their work.

Earlier in the century most of the trainers were grouped in a compact area of southeastern Saskatchewan and southwestern Manitoba. Now they go many miles north in both these provinces, and as far west as eastern Alberta.

The Canadian training program is supervised by the game departments of the provinces. Each trainer is assigned a territory which is ample for his use—in many instances one trainer will have as much as 100 square miles over which to work. They lease vacant farmhouses as living quarters, and many of the trainers return to the same grounds year after year. They have built up good kennels and have improved living conditions steadily over the years. Some trainers have purchased the land on which their permanent summer quarters are built, and have brought in electricity, artesian well water and other conveniences. Wherever possible, supplies are bought locally.

Today's professional trainers come from many parts of the United States — an example is E. A. "Red" Weddle whose permanent headquarters are at Lake City, Florida. Each year "Red" migrates more than 2,000 miles to his summer camp near Broomhill, Manitoba. Here he has purchased land and has built one of the most elaborate training camps in Canada. Other trainers come from such widely separated states as California, Washington, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Illinois.

The trainer's retinue, in addition to his family which usually travels with him, contains as many as six or eight helpers. The amount of help is usually governed by the number of dogs that are to be trained. Some handlers bring strings of a couple of dozen dogs, while others have upwards of 100 pointers and setters.

The dogs are worked from horseback, as it would be impossible to follow these fast-stepping performers on foot. Wagons equipped with automobile wheels and tires are converted into prairie "dog wagons", pulled by a team of horses. Each morning the trainer tells his helpers which dogs are to be worked that day. These are loaded on the wagon, which is driven by one helper. The handler and his other helpers mount their horses and the entourage starts off across the prairies, not to return to camp until late in the afternoon. When one dog has been shown his quota of birds and his pointing style improved, he is returned to the wagon and another one is put down.

The "dog wagon" driver often has time to work puppies on check cords to help them in learning to point game. Many times he will flush a "chicken", mark it down in a nearby clump of willows and poplars, and then lead the young dog to the vicinity. When the dog scents the bird, the trainer holds him back on the cord and begins to "form up" his stance.

The bird population is not depleted as a result of the trainer "invasion", since only blank cartridges are shot to train the dogs to be steady to wing and shot—qualities required of a finished field trial performer.

At the conclusion of the summer training season, three major field trials are held—one at Frobisher, Saskatchewan, and two in Manitoba, at Broomhill and Pierson. Many owners and spectators attend the trials and it is not unusual each fall to see visitors from New York, Florida, Texas and other distant parts.

For many years the late Carl Duffield, a Texas oilman who owned some of the top English Setters in this hemisphere, annually journeyed to the prairies to train his own dogs. Today his son Carl continues his father's practice. He says the call of the prairies makes itself heard each year.

Most trainers agree with veteran "Uncle Jake" Bishop that prairie training is a must for outstanding field trial performers. Now 86, Bishop has made the trip from Union Springs, Alabama to Carnduff, Saskatchewan each summer since 1910. He says, "There are no training grounds in the world which offer as favorable summer conditions as the Canadian prairies for the development of 'class' bird dogs." And a good many of his countrymen support this view, since practically all of the United States National Champion bird-dogs for the past quarter-century have been trained in Canada.

● Team pulls "dog wagon" full of trainees. It is equipped with pneumatic tires for cross-country travel on all-day sessions.

We hope you'll enjoy this presentation, but as you can see, the chart shows but a fraction of the true picture, based on the replies. With activity in this realm growing at an amazing rate, and Canadian dogs gaining fame throughout North America, it is to be hoped that next year a more complete chart will be possible.

JUDGING RETRIEVER FIELD TRIALS

BOB BLYTH — a man who really knows breeding, training, and working retrievers, believes many fine dogs lose out. Here's why . . .

The time has come when a closer look should be given to the judging of Retriever Trials. Some of the judges, I think, are making mistakes and a serious situation is developing which should be rectified.

The integrity of our judges is not to be doubted; however, the tests are being set up improperly and the best dogs are not being given a fair chance.

At these Retriever Trials, as in other Field Trials, the element of chance is something of which we are all aware. Everyone is hoping that sooner or later his lucky day will come along. In fact at every trial we are all hoping that we can have just such a day. But when a judge deliberately (and in most cases this is through lack of knowledge) sets up what is purely a "Luck Test", then it is time that the situation was carefully studied.

Let me try to explain what I mean by a "Luck Test". Before running a dog in any trial, a great deal of training is required. This training, together with the dog's natural ability and the trainer's perseverance results in the dog becoming a good marker. This marking instinct is a most desirable trait. If a dog is not a good marker and is unable to remember accurately where a bird has fallen, he is simply not worth carrying any further. A poor marker seldom gets beyond the first series, unless the judges have set up a "Luck Test".

In order to bring out a dog's natural ability to mark he must be allowed to see every dummy, pigeon, duck or pheasant hit the ground or water. Then he is sent straight to it and is able to mark the exact spot on which it fell. This is done for months and sometimes years. Then something like this happens: the dog is taken to a trial and some misguided judge will have the bird thrown behind a clump of trees or bushes, over a knoll, behind some reeds, or against a skyline where the dog gets just a glimpse of the bird. He has not had an opportunity to see the bird fall. In this case the lucky dog gets the bird.

The element of luck in such a test has been intensified to such an extent that it is no longer an equal test for all dogs. The good marking dog will go to where he last saw that bird. This is what he has been taught to do; this is the way he has been trained; this is what his instinct tells him to do. Under these circumstances he becomes confused and the results are frequently poor. The lucky dog, on the other hand, takes a good line and gets the bird quickly.

Everyone will agree that good marking dogs are most important. So let us see that all tests are designed to allow every dog to mark every fall, thereby giving each one the chance to which he is entitled.

Let us consider another point: the blind retrieve. In this case, of course, the dog has not seen the bird fall and depends on his handler for directions. Nearly a quarter of a dog's working life is devoted to learning how to respond to the whistles and hand signals of his handler. It takes at least two years to teach a dog to handle properly. The exceptional dog learns more quickly but as a general rule this exacting and scientific job cannot be accomplished in less time.

After months of preparation the dog is taken to a Field Trial with the hope that the dog does not forget all that he has been taught. The judge in this case sets up a test in which a junior dog could go out on a line and pick up the bird without once being asked to handle. We have all seen this happen at one time or another. The trainer then goes home, wondering to himself why he spent all those weary months and years teaching his dog something that he was never asked to do.

A good judge should be able to set up as many simple tests as the terrain and the number of dogs will allow. These tests should be kept as close together as possible. The dogs would, and should, be allowed to eliminate themselves.

If our judges would keep in mind the following basic rules in selecting a top dog: Such a dog is one that marks well, retrieves quickly to hand, takes a good line from the handler, stops to the whistle and takes hand signals as directed. The rest is simply a matter of following CKC rules.

One other point concerns the Field Trial committee's practice of using junior judges in what we might call the lesser stakes, particularly the Junior Stakes. In the Junior Stakes it is most important that we have the best judging possible. The novice exhibitor is the mainstay of our Field Trials and from this source could come the champions of the future. These stakes should be conducted with this in mind. Every effort should be made to encourage both the handlers and the dogs. The tests should be simple and straightforward. Most important of all, every bird should be dropped where the dog can mark the fall.

Apprentice judges must, of course, gain experience somewhere. But must it be at the expense of our junior dogs and junior handlers? It would seem advisable to put apprentice judges in the Open or Qualifying Stakes with more experienced and better qualified judges who could criticise their work. In this way everyone would benefit.

These opinions are entirely the views of the writer. Anyone wishing to criticise them may feel free to do so.

Mr. Blyth is internationally known as a breeder and trainer of Labrador Retrievers. He is also a director of The Canadian Kennel Club for the Province of Ontario. Comments should be addressed to "Letters to the Editor".—Ed.

THE CENTRAL ONTARIO BEAGLE CLUB

by P. B. Jacobi

The COBC was formed March 2, 1923. The original aim of the Club was to promote good-will among beaglers; to hold field trials and shows. At this inaugural meeting there were eight beaglers present: Mr. Harry Taylor, president; Dr. Warner, vice-president; Mr. Emerson Robertson, secretary-treasurer. Several field trials and bench shows were held at Mono Road. It was not uncommon to have an entry of 60 hounds. The fee for a judge in those days was $5.00 per day.

The Club was dormant between the period 1936 to 1948. In 1948 Mr. Robertson was instrumental in stirring up interest. Again, the club held an inaugural meeting with eight beaglers present. Mr. P. B. Jacobi, president; Mr. Robertson, vice-president; Dr. F. Rushton, secretary treasurer. The membership has grown in leaps and bounds and to-day we have 91 members. Three old-timers of the original Club, Mr. W. T. Johnston, Mr. Ed. Johns and Mr. Geo. Foster are still active members.

A trial on Hare is held every fall over the Thanksgiving week-end at Barrie. The entries have been as high as 93 hounds.

Our Specialty show held on the second Sunday in June is now the largest Beagle Specialty in North America.

The interest of the members is equally divided between field and show hounds and everyone pulls together for the benefit of the club.

Our president, Mr. W. H. Ford is an excellent organizer and has maintained harmony throughout all our activities.

The Club suffered a great loss in the passing of Emerson Robertson in May this year. It is now up to our younger members to take hold and follow in his footsteps.

Our aims are still the same as the original constitution and that is: The improvement of the Beagle as an animal; to hold field trials, shows and educational programs.

WHAT'S YOUR GAME?

In the days when the world was very young, dog joined man in the essential business of hunting. Every dog was, by nature and necessity, a hunter. No loving owner provided a balanced diet. Today there are more hunting breeds than any other type, with two out of six groups thus classified. Nature was thoughtful in providing a specific type of dog for the various types of terrain and growth. In Southwestern Asia, where the air is dry and hot, and vegetation has scant chance of survival, any dog with two eyes in his head can see for miles. Even for a dog with an impaired sense of smell, any game was fair game. In other areas in these same parts of the world, dense vegetation obscures vision, so that a dog with below normal eyesight, but a keen sense of smell, could hunt with success.

On this continent there is such a variety of growth within a matter of a few square miles, the choice of a field dog is an important one. What kind of game do you like best to hunt? That is the question to be decided before you select the actual breed, let alone the dog.

Trials Lengthen Season

In these days of conservation and bag limits, the hunting season is all too short for the sportsman. Pointers, Setters and Retrievers have become as important as a man's gun. With them, and by means of various types of field trials held throughout the country almost any time of the year, a man can indulge in this type of outdoor living almost any time of the year.

These breeds are outstanding as working by scent rather than by sight: Black and Tan Coonhound, Beagle, Basset, Bloodhound, Drever, and the American and English Foxhounds. The Blue Tick and Redbone hounds are not recognized by The Canadian Kennel Club or The American Kennel Club, nor is the Plott Hound.

All other hunting dogs either hunt by sight, with some breeds able to track as well. For condensed details of various types, see the Sporting and Hound Gallery in this issue. There are several dual-purpose breeds: others are said to be all-purpose, successful on all types of fur and feathered game.

Once you've established the game and the breed in your mind, be sure to make your selection only from kennels you know have proven "working" stock. This will save you and the dog many hours of arduous disappointing work later.

Your first choice is actually the parents. Have the sire and dam a Field Trial championship — and their parents before them? If that is the case, you're well away. The hunting instinct and know-how is close to the surface in their youngsters. While it is ingrained in a hunting breed, it must be kept in use, generation after generation, or it becomes dimmed. Then training becomes tiresome for both dog and owner, and the result is a faulty, indifferent worker. A puppy of active working parentage, conversely, almost trains itself.

In what? Nose — that is, game-locating ability, pace and style, genuine enjoyment of cover and water — and natural retrieving skill. The dog will be willing and obedient, and a good companion, rather than a big worry. He will have a sense of responsibility, not only in working, but as protection. Many a hunting mishap might have ended in tragedy, were it not for a canine companion obtaining help.

If breeders could or would take time to give their sporting or hound puppies a start in training (a few do) they would be giving the breed, their kennels and eventually their pocketbook a real boost. Their kennels could become known for this specialty, and prices could be regulated accordingly. Many professional men enjoy hunting weekends, but have little or no time to work their dog in between.

When you meet a dog with bench and Field Trial championships he is a winner indeed. Most breeds cannot be a glamorous show dog, and gain rough-and-tumble experience in the field. Take the Cocker Spaniel. You can't expect a Cocker to hunt, and come up with a show Coat and feathering unmarred, any more than you would take a lady hunting in an evening dress. A show Cocker's long ears would catch under cover,

Your Editor Says:
It is with very deep regret that we refer to the recent passing of a very good friend of ours, Robert Douglas (Doug) McLellan. We were shocked to learn of Doug's death and we know that his other friends were affected likewise.

"Doug", as he was known to his friends, was one of the staunch supporters of obedience training and obedience trials, as well as dog shows. He was one of the guiding lights behind the formation of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club back in 1948 and at the time of his death was a charter member of that organization. Back in the early days of obedience training in Montreal, there were not too many people who had confidence in the sport and could visualize that properly organized, it would prosper. We are proud to say that Doug was one of the few who openly said years ago that the sport would make great strides over the years ahead and he was right. He worked hard in the formation of the Montreal Club and was a tower of strength working at the Club's trials. He went further than that, for, when calls for assistance at trials came from Ottawa and other centres, he would often accompany the writer to those places to do a day's work. He was a real friend in need. On more than one occasion Doug acted as Chief Ring Steward for yours truly in the writer's early days of judging. His appearance in the ring on such occasions lent a feeling of confidence. All in all, Doug's contribution to dogs, obedience trials and dog shows will never be forgotten — it will long be remembered.

Our deepest sympathy goes forward to Mrs. R. D. McLellan — "Dick", as she is known to her friends. Dick, like her late husband, contributes much to trials and shows. She is still very active in "dogs" and we hope she will carry on the breeding and showing of Pulis, once practically unknown around these parts until the McLellans made their presence felt.

The dog world has lost an ardent supporter and many of us have lost a good friend. However, the many things Doug McLellan did for dogs should be an inspiration to those who are left behind. The many good things he did for his friends will never be forgotten.

Coming Trials
Once again this year members of the Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club, Inc. are holding their annual fall obedience trials at Chalet Cochand, Ste. Marguerite Station, Province of Quebec. The locale of these trials is roughly 45 miles north of Montreal in the beautiful Laurentian Mountains. The 24th and 25th licensed trials of the Club will be held on Saturday, October 1, 1960, while the 26th trial will take place on Sunday, October 2, 1960. Entries for the Saturday trials close September 12, 1960. Post entries will be accepted up to 8 p.m. October 1, 1960 for the Sunday trial.

There will be three well known judges from the United States handling the entries on both days in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Pearsall, Holbrook, Long Island, N.Y. and Mr. John F. Ringwald from Malverne, Long Island, N.Y.

As has been the custom for many years, the show dinner will be held on Saturday night at the famous Chalet Cochand. Members of the Club are hopeful that there will be a large entry including many of their friends from the United States. Further particulars of these trials may be found in an advertisement in this month's issue of Dogs in Canada.

Fall trials seem to be coming the vogue in and around the district of Montreal. Advance advice comes to us from the Mountain City Obedience Club to the effect that the Eastern Township members of the Club will hold a tracking test and an obedience trial in North Hatley, P.Q. at the Pleasant View Hotel, October 15 and 16 respectively.

Obedience entries are limited to 50 while tracking entries are limited to ten. Judges for these events are the well known Misses Marion Barry and Lucy Lane from the New England States.

Entry forms, etc. and complete information may be obtained from the Co-Chairman, Miss Ruth M. Taylor, P.O. Box 211, North Hatley, P.Q. Closing date for entries is October 3, next.

Letters of Interest
The following letter came to us from Mr. Andrew Wayda of 80 Elgin St., London, Ont.:

"I own a German Shepherd Dog (Lucky's Chico) which I schooled through the obedience training by myself, as there is no advance training beyond C.D. in London so far. He finished his C.D., C.D.X., and U.D. before he was two years old and is now out tracking.

I have been told by a couple of different clubs and also by an American judge (who has been judging for some time) that they have never heard of such a young dog finishing at such an early age, so I guess this must be some sort of a record. The first year he had pneumonia and was just recovering when he tore a ligament and was laid up again and still he finished before the age of two. If this hadn't happened, hard to say how young he would have been when he finished.

In obedience, even if there is no school available, if a person puts his heart and mind to it, you will always succeed. I covered nearly all the shows (whether I was showing or not) talked to the judges and watched the good handlers in the ring and asked a thousand questions.

I entered my dog in shows, knowing he was not ready, just to find out my mistakes and there was always someone to lend a helping hand for which I was very grateful.

Would be very interested to hear if this has been beaten."

First of all, our sincere congratulations go forward to Mr. Wayda and his German Shepherd on their outstanding accomplishments. We have no way of knowing if a record was set by his German Shepherd in earning a Utility Degree before the age of two. In any event, it was a wonderful piece of work which should be publicized. It should be an inspiration to others. Mr. Wayda is quite correct in saying that a person can train their dog for obedience ring even if there are no obedience training classes to attend. There are, of course, certain fundamental requirements; for example, a person must want to accomplish the training and must be willing to devote a considerable amount of time to it by way of study and training. However, it should be pointed out that the trainer must know about the training methods and if no training school is available, then he must obtain this information by way of reading the various good obedience training books that are available. Above all, the trainer must know what he is about to do before he starts training the dog. The one drawback about training outside a training class is that the dog misses the presence of other dogs. The presence of a number of dogs in a class is good for all, for the dogs learn to work with one another and become accustomed to being with others. Training class or no training class, the important points to bear in mind are (a) the desire to train and succeed, (b) knowing how to train (methods and procedures) and (c) a willingness to devote a considerable amount of time to the training. And above all remember, if at first you don't succeed, try again.

What do You Think?

by AUDREY LANGFORD

I think that the regulations and standards for Obedience Trials should be clarified. Let us look at Chap. 2, Sec. 3 for one example. "No offering of any kind of food may be given in the ring". The penalty for most infractions is stated, but here it is not specific. If this does happen in the ring, what is the judge to do? Can he decide if the dog would indeed have performed the principal feature of the exercise without the offering of the food? Should he have to make such a decision?

Some dogs will put on a very alert performance with the anticipation of a tidbit, and even refuse to obey a command unless this morsel is forthcoming. Such a dog, aware that the handler is unarmed with this offering, could refuse to obey a command and get killed. To show this dog any leniency would be unfair to all competitors who do conform to the proper methods. Offerings of food may be desirable with some dogs in the very beginning of training, but should be dropped when the dog understands the meaning of the command.

Ignorance of the regulation cannot be accepted as an excuse. The exhibitor signs on his entry form that he has read the rules, understands them, and is willing to comply with the regulations of The Canadian Kennel Club. Also "As each handler enters the ring, the judge shall ask if he has knowledge of the Rules and Regulations." When the handler replies to this question, he is honor bound to abide by all rules with no exceptions.

If a dog will not obey a command without the offering of food it would be awkward to live with, and could not "demonstrate the usefulness of the pure-bred dog as the companion and guardian of man" which is the purpose of Obedience Trials. I think such a dog should be expelled from the ring and it should so state in the Regulations and Standards for Obedience Trials. This is my opinion. What is yours?

SPORTING AND HOUND GALLERY

BASSET HOUND

Considered "modern" from the standpoint of current popularity; the Basset's predecessors were favorites of the Pharoahs, around 1900 B.C. Apart from the ears, the Basset Hound has changed but little in 4,000 years. Originally he was used for hunting small game over the desert and mud flats. Here his big webbed feet were perfect. The thick pads afforded protection for his feet and his long high tail with its white tip enabled his owners to follow his progress through high marshes. The Basset is a scent hound and works with his nose to the ground, the loose skin virtually covering his eyes. His long drooping ears take over the job of trail marking, and he follows his own scent for the return trip, becoming "the dog who can't get lost."

GREM-LYN KENNELS, REG'D., 577 Division St., Peterborough, Ont. Owners: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Henderson. Shown here is Am. Ch. Lyn-Mar Acres Bojangles who now has nine points toward his Canadian title. At stud to approved bitches. Puppies and grown dogs available.

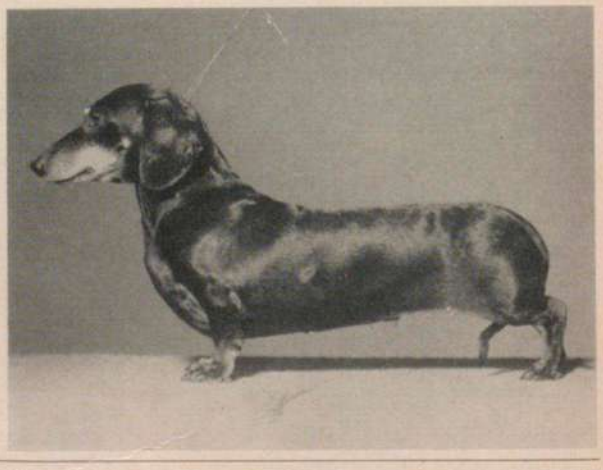
BEAGLE

There are any number of reasons why the little Beagle stays high in popularity and will undoubtedly continue to do so. He's dog enough for the husband, cuddly and neat enough for the housewife and a merry friend for the children; one of the most kindly, practical breeds. He is hardy, needs little care, in fact is only too happy to help the hunter in the family bring home the game. Looking like a Foxhound in miniature, the Beagle stands only 15 inches at the tallest; this means he is acceptable in the small home, travels without taking up too much room and withal, is a good watchdog. This cocky little sportsman is quick and willing to learn, needs less training than most gundogs, always has dignity.

MISS M. A. ARCHIBALD, owner, 185 Stanley Ave., Ottawa, Ont. Shown here is Can. and Am. Ch. Jacobi's Journeyman, 14⅝", an all-rounder, outstanding in show career, participating now in field trials, known for quality, soundness and disposition. At stud.

DACHSHUND, (Miniature Smooth)

This breed, one of the smallest, is actually garnering a great share of regard and admiration. The Miniature Dachsie has the identical build and characteristics of its Standard cousins, except for size and the fact that both the feet and the chest are scaled down in order to take smaller burrows. It travels well even in today's small sports cars, is the treasure of the small home and the housewife's delight. No grooming other than ordinary care, no plucking no shedding and of course, the Dachsie characteristic of no odor. The Miniature is bred in all three coats of the Standard.



GHOST RIVER RANCH, Cochrane, Alta. Owner: Miss Agness Hammond. Pictured here is the famous Ch. Del Rey Trinketina; shown 42 times in Canada, "Trina" has 34 Group placings — two 1sts, 11 2nds, 12 3rds and nine 4ths. Now ten years old, she is retired, but in spite of her age in both 1958 and 1959 she won the Miniature Dachshund Club of Canada Award for highest points.

NORWEGIAN ELKHOUND

Friend and hunting companion of the early Vikings, the Elkhound was one of the most courageous of dogs, tackling the huge Elk of its native Norway. Adaptable to snow and cold and to the warmer climate of our country, this hunter is an all-round worker. He has proven valuable as a herder of sheep and cattle, has turned out to be an excellent retriever and gun dog and works well on small game. He carries his tail proudly, as do all northern breeds; has a gay, dapper appearance and personality to match. His gray coat has black tips with long covering hairs. The texture is rich, thick and hard, and the hairs lie quite smooth. A neat size for city or country living, average height is about 19".

POINTER (German Short-hair)

This amazing sportsman appears to have whatever the hunter requires. If he wants a slow-moving steady dog, this pointer obliges; if he wants a high-stepping, wide-ranging dog, he measures up well. American devotees describe this versatile German breed as "Bird dog by day and houn' dog by night." He not only points and tracks but retrieves on land or water. His special advantages are webbed feet and a water-repellant coat. He can equal virtually any retriever on land or water. Very serious about his work, he can be depended upon for steadiness rather than being flashy. Distinguished from other pointers by color (solid liver, or liver and white, spotted and ticked) and his docked tail.

HUNTERSFIELD KENNELS, REG'D., R.R. 1, Old Bolton Road, Bolton, Ont. Owner: Arthur E. Smith. Shown here is Erne v.d. Radbach; sire, Ulk v.d. Radbach; dam, Cora V. Elsenhof. Erne is at stud: also Streak's Timmy, sired by F.T. Ch. Skriver's Streak; dam, Butzi von Berg. Stud fee, $75.00. Puppies by Erne for sale shortly.

RETRIEVER (Chesapeake Bay)

This breed came about as the result of a shipwreck. His ancestors had something of Newfoundland origin; they were sturdy ships dogs, hardy and eager, fearless of wind and water. The breed, which emerged clearly around 1885, became known for its skill and stamina in working the wintry tidal flats of Chesapeake Bay. Since then he has proved his worth as a retriever of upland game as well, making a name throughout Canada and the United States and in Britain. His reddish-tan or dead-grass color provides a great advantage, blending with marshland cover and hiding him from the watchful eyes of waterfowl. The Chesapeake's coat is well-oiled like that of most retrievers; actually he has two coats, one to ward off brush and ice and another woolly undercoat for warmth.

CONROY MARSH KENNELS, REG'D., owned by Mrs. E. Lavoy, Boulter, Ont. Shown here is Conroy Golden Redgie, double granddaughter of FTC. Conroys Golden Arrow. She was mated to Bakers Brown Boy and the puppies are due early this month.

RETRIEVER (Labrador)

Originally known as the St. John's Dog, the Labrador is a truly Canadian dog, stems from Newfoundland. Much admired in many countries, this great swimmer's phenomenal sense of smell and scent discrimination makes him one of the most desirable hunting dogs. Shorter of leg than other retrievers and more powerfully built, he is nevertheless an extremely agile performer on land or water. The breed is alert and friendly, willing to learn and work. He is readily recognized by his short dense black or yellow watershedding coat, and his round otter-like tail.

FOXLEIGH KENNELS, REG., 10 Model Ave., Downsview, Ont., (ME 3-6526). Owner, Dr. G. I. Weisbrod, handler, John Darch. Shown here is Can. and Am. Ch. Glengarven's Win of Waterloo, Canada's top-winning Labrador, 1959. Dam, FT Ch. Burndale's Cedar Lass. At stud to selected bitches. Puppies for sale in the Fall.

RHODESIAN RIDGEBACK

Known as the Lion Hound, this spectacular hunter was first developed in South Africa by Boer farmers badly in need of protection for their stock, and was a hunting companion of the Hottentots. He more than proved his value by flushing game birds, bringing down wounded animals and baying the King of Beasts. The Ridgeback is also remarkable for the ridge of dorsal hair growing from hip to shoulder in a direction opposite to the lay of the rest of his short glossy coat. One of the most rugged of dogs, he can endure daytime heat and nighttime chill, withstand insects and work for 24 hours without water. In this country he serves well as a home protector and guardian of children.

KRAAL KENNELS REG'D., Kleinburg, Ont., near Toronto. (Telephone AT 8-0333). Owner, Dr. Hagar Hetherington. Pictured here is Ch. Kraal's Kay. An outstanding example of careful breeding, Kay recently produced a litter of fine pups, a few of which are still available.

SETTER (Gordon)

A native of Scotland, this black-and-tan setter is gifted with a good memory, an eager willingness to work long and hard for his master. He's a slow but sure hunter, able to handle heavy cover and is especially good on woodcock and ruffled grouse. He is considered a prize for his brains and nose, readily accepts training and is easily broken to retrieve. Slightly heavier than the two other setters, he more closely resembles the English Setter in build, having a deep chest, sturdy, well-muscled body with plenty of bone and stamina and a good width across the forehead. Now breeders are working toward even greater speed and range while retaining the Gordon's dependable bird-finding ability.

HICKORY SMOKE KENNELS, REG'D., R.R. #1, Queensville, Ont. (GRanite 8-4218). Owner, Mrs. E. P. Muntz. Shown here is Sergeant's Colorful Major, CD. Puppies occasionally.

SPANIEL (American Cocker)

This merry breed continues in great popularity and sound breeders are bringing out better specimens every year. There is little to compare with a really good Cocker; the beautiful domed head with its pronounced stop, the long soft ears and gorgeous feathering, the prominent soulful eyes and the long silky coat. There is little to beat the temperament of a sound Cocker as an all-round family dog. It should be remembered that he was created as a bird dog and is still a great companion in the field. The wide variety of color combinations are an added appeal. It should be stressed: buy the best Cocker you can afford from the sound breeders for the joy of your life.

MARBRUKEN KENNELS, 212 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, Ont. (LE 1-2305). Owners: Mary and Bruce McRae. Presenting Ch. Marbruken's Miss Summertime, the young parti-color who at nine months won Best of Breed over 97 Cockers at the 1959 Cocker Spaniel Club of Northern Ohio Specialty. Champion dogs at stud. Puppies.

WEIMARANER

Probably one of the most selectively bred hunting breeds today, the "Gray Ghost", so named for his blue or amber eyes and his lustrous "twilight" shade coat, is one of the most versatile, powerful hunters. Developed by the Court of Weimar for their Thuringian game preserves, the "Ymar" first stalked deer, bear and wild boar. When big game grew scarce in Germany, he took to pointing and retrieving birds. This exotic, silver-tinged hunter is much desired for his ability to retrieve ducks, locate and point birds, and to trail. His outstanding qualities are high intelligence, speed, courage and willingness to brave icy waters.

VON HAR KENNELS, 15 Ossington Ave., Ottawa, Ont. Owner: Earle Harrigan. Posed here is Ch. Argo Von Har, sired by Am. Ch. Deals Sporting True Aim, the sire of more bench and field champions than any other Ymar. His dam is Ch. Karins Miss Thunder, well known as a consistent shown winner. At stud to select biches.

WHIPPET

This is the youngest and smallest of the coursing hounds. The breed was developed about a century ago to fill a sporting lack in the lives of north England miners who could not afford to breed and race Greyhounds. Terriers were crossed with small Greyhounds to produce a little speedster, then later crosses with the smaller Italian Greyhound gave the sleek, cleancut silhouette of the refined, fashionable dog we know today. Racing Whippets have been known to travel at 35 miles per hour. In this country the Whippet is an elegant attraction in the show ring and a quiet, dignified companion in the home. He is a sturdy little dog, requires no extra grooming. Average height: about 18 inches.

TIP TOP KENNEL REG'D., 96 Elmwood Place, Montreal 8, Que. Owned by Dr. and Mrs. Leo Dery. Shown here is Ch. Zelda. Accepting advance orders for puppies. Stud available: Ch. Seagift Singing Grass.

SHOW AND TRIAL RESULTS

The awards at shows and trials reported in this issue are in accordance with official returns received by the Canadian Kennel Club. Shepherds in the Ring

by DR. WERNER FUNK
translated by Grant E. Mann

THE breeders of mere beauty and fad breeds can never understand the amount of diligence and self-sacrifice which was necessary in order to bring the Shepherd Dog from the planning and development stage up to their present fulfillment.

In some countries it is occasionally said that our dogs are inclined to be biters and overly aggressive. Must this not be determined by what extent a dog is required to be seized by the hands of total strangers, fumbled over and felt? A working dog must be capable of offering protection and this is no more than reasonable. A dog should be calm and dispassionate — in other words he should be without prejudice of any kind. When someone however, walks up to him and lifts his legs up high thereby twisting and contorting his anatomy or someone takes the liberty of fumbling over his entire body in order to satisfy himself as to whether or not every part of a dogs structure is fully developed — then a dog is required in compliance with his training to look upon such treatment as an act of aggression. One cannot view him with disfavor when he tries to call a halt to such treatment. It is no more than a sign of awakeness and attentiveness with the natural evidence of his developed self-respect that he should have a resentment toward a third person with whom he is totally unacquainted taking such liberties. According to a recent ruling which has been made effective in another country a dog may be disqualified if he displays resentment toward such fumbling and feeling. We (Germans) do not want biting dogs — that means one which will attack or threaten to attack without apparent reason. We do not consider a dog with such a character a German Shepherd Dog. An animal displaying such a character as to bite a person for sheer joy must be expelled from the ring without an award of any kind and must further be banished from any further breeding activities. It is possible that such dogs occassionally appear not only in other countries but also in Germany.

What we desire is a robust, lively dog that will observe and appraise a situation as to whether it is threatening or not. If danger does threaten then he must certainly resist it. Now why should a dog be pawed over and pulled to pieces in the ring in order to test his temperament? A judge can determine this in an orderly fashion without resorting to such exhibitions.

We want a wideawake, unintimidated dog but not a sluggish, half asleep, spiritless, soft, anxious or downright shy dog. Such an animal is no more entitled to an award than the oversharp or biting dog. —from the S. V. Zeitung

HIP DYSPLASIA FILE

Mrs. Harold Kraus, (56 Sundale Drive, Decatur, Illinois) official gatherer and dispenser of news for the Samoyed Club of America, reminds her readers that owners of Samoyeds who are interested in breeding better dogs and wiping out hip dysplasia are contributing to the Hip Dysplasia File.

"To join," she writes, "all you need do is have your dog x-rayed for hip dysplasia, giving all the necessary information on the information sheet (sent to the club members) and send it with a copy of the dog's pedigree to me. In return all the information contributed by others is forwarded."

A similar system could be set up by other breed club members in Canada. Mrs. Kraus would send a copy of the form to the club secretary so requesting.

It is suggested that it would be less expensive in the long run and more satisfactory picture and x-ray if a qualified veterinarian or radiologist is consulted.

In Canada the following have shown specific interest in the subject: Dr. A. J. Cawley, Small Animal Division, Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ontario and the Ministere de L'Agriculture, Ecole de Medicine Veterinaire de la Province de Quebec, Affiliee a l'Universite de Montreal, Saint-Hyacinthe, Que.

Dr. W. H. Rhodes, The School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia 4, Pa. suggests:

"The position of the animal at the time the radiographs are made is of extreme importance. . . . I request you suggest the following instructions for making radiographs of the pelvis. The dog should be placed on its back, the hind legs extended fully and held parallel, with the legs rotated inward as far as they will go. It is of extreme impoortance that the dog is not twisted as this distorts the radiographic appearance and makes critical evaluation impossible. Sufficiently high kilovoltage should be used in order that bone detail of the hip components can be seen clearly. The central ray of the x-ray beam should be directed at the midline of the dog at the level of the hip joints.")

Dr. Richard L. Ott, Washington State University, says ". . . Unfortunately, hip dysplasia is not such a simple problem that it can be solved merely by observance of X-rays. In several cases, hip dysplasia, being a dominant factor, is transmitted by a dog whose X-rays show only such minor changes as to be missed in reading that particular X-ray. Also, dogs that may appear normal at six to seven months of age may show changes characteristic of hip dysplasia in X-rays taken at, let us say, a year of age. At best, there are several factors which enter into the problem. It is absolutely essential that anyone who wishes to clear up the problem of hip dysplasia in their kennels must have a real desire to do this, regardless of what it might do to some of their breeding animals and it must be a cooperative program between the breeder and the veterinarian. Each must take an active part in attempting to remedy the situation. In certain circumstances, it will take actual breeding trials in addition to X-rays. I am therefore, not in favor of taking just one X-ray of an immature dog and giving a clean bill of health on this one X-ray, and from then on, stating that this dog could not possibly have hip dysplasia because he was cleared by such and such an individual."

At the present time the following groups are making studies of hip dysplasia: John L. Fuller, Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Hamilton Station, P.O. Box 847, Bar Harbor, Maine; S. F. J. Hodgman, MRCVS, Director, Canine Health Centre, Kennett, North New Market, Suffolk, England; Dr. Patrick G.

Laing, Orthopedic Research Laboratory, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh 13, Pennsylvania. (Dr. Laing is interested in obtaining dysplastic dogs for study); Griselda F. Wolf, DVM, Division of Veterinary Medicine and Clinics, College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota; Wayne H. Riser, DVM, M.S., 3511 Kent Street, Kensington, Maryland. (Dr. Riser is interested in obtaining both dysplastic and non-dysplastic dogs — Particularly puppies—for study.)

Says Mrs. Kraus: "A dog does not necessarily have to have any symptoms to have hip dysplasia. The only way to make sure that your dog is clear of this condition is to x-ray all your dogs several times.

I believe that a good x-ray program would be to x-ray your dog at: six months, one year and before each mating. This may at first glance seem excessive but I can tell you from bitter experience that it is not.

I believe that when you get conflicting opinions as to hip dysplasia in a dog, it is better to assume for breeding purposes that the dog has hip dysplasia until it can be proved otherwise.

I believe that we should generally either replace the dog or refund the money for anyone who has purchased a dysplastic dog from us. Some cases may be slightly different depending upon how the dog was sold, the price paid, whether registration papers were included, the age at which dysplasia is discovered, etc.

One way to assure more x-rays taken of Samoyeds is to include in your purchase price of the puppy the cost of an x-ray taken at the veterinarian or radiologist of your choice.

Some German Shepherd breeders as a group have taken advertisements in dog magazines guaranteeing sound animals or a replacement or refund. This is something we should definitely consider."

WHAT'S YOUR GAME

and the heavily feathered feet would be an attraction for burs and brambles. The Cocker is a natural keen hunter, but if you purchase one for use in the field, don't expect him to compete against show circuit troupers.

It's a slightly different matter in the case of Springers, Setters and Pointers, where length of coat, ears and feathering of feet are compatible with their work. A number of owners find they can hunt and show these types as well, barring accidents and scars.

Picking a Puppy

This is difficult, even for the experienced gundog man. Since the puppy will be about eight weeks of age, how can you assess the essentials such as love of water and cover, nose, and pace? R. A. Moxon, (Gundogs: Training and Field Trials) looks for the smallest, sound and healthy puppy, but admits he's been lucky.

"Generally speaking," he writes, "the best bet is the bold puppy, which comes up to you fearlessly, does not back away when you extend your hand to him or roll on his back. Try clapping your hands loudly, to watch the reaction, and refuse any puppy which shows signs of fear . . . Other things being equal, I like a puppy with a good broad head, straight legs and a good tail."

Watch the puppies in the field, if you can. Do they "keep their flag waving? Tail action is extremely important. If every puppy has some great appeal to you, better get a friend or expert to help you make the choice. It's wise to see the sire and dam working. Check their good points or lesser qualities against the puppy you want. You will have to take your time about this choice, and weigh every aspect well. Some hunting dogs do not even show their good qualities (or lack of them) until six or eight months.

If the breed from which you are making your selection is a water variety, take some of the youngsters to the water, wade out and call them. One or more of the pups will show water aptitude well beyond the others. ■

Introducing the persons responsible for the advancement of the Kuvasz, Hungarian Sheepdog, in Canada are, left to right: Margaret Phinn of Detroit; James Dowds of London, Ont., who is in charge of the kennels and prime instigator, artist Joseph S. de Papp of Detroit.

KUVASZ KENNELS IN CANADA

A Hungarian patriot and former Canadian who now resides in Detroit, has recently brought the rare Hungarian Kuvasz dog to Canada "for sentimental reasons."

Joseph Sulyak de Papp, artist and civil engineer, who will be remembered in the London area for his art exhibits, was born in Hungary but became a British, Canadian and now American citizen, respectively.

Knowing that the Kuvasz was now becoming almost extinct in Hungary, Mr. de Papp flew two female and one male Kuvasz into Canada. They are now at Burncranna Kennels, R.R. 1, London, Ont.

Canada's first Kuvasz arrived in London from Germany last summer. But it was only during a later trip to Czechoslovakia that Mr. de Papp was able to arrange with the zoo in Brno to ship another male and female on condition he send two Canadian wild geese or other Canadian animals in exchange.

A splendid strain, the Kuvasz were raised as canine bodyguards for Hungarian kings from the early 15th century. (Dogs, January, 1960). King Matthias I, who ruled Hungary from 1458 to 1490 placed far more reliance upon his Kuvasz than he did upon human bodyguards. He personally supervised their breeding and raised a pack which he used for hunting deer, bear and boar. The Kuvasz, a very unexcitable breed, adjusts admirably to all conditions, climates and family life.

Mr. de Papp invites interested dog lovers and Hungarians particularly to view his Kuvasz at Burncranna Kennels, 1½ miles east of Delaware on No. 2 Highway. ■

CLUB NOTES

IMPORTANT: Club Notes are for the purpose of reporting activities and plans of Breed, Group and other specialty organizations. There are certain news items which cannot be considered as "club notes", but rather as advertising material. Names of judges may be used only if the club's show advertisement appears in DOGS IN CANADA. Wins of dogs which will be or have been reported in The Canadian Kennel Club "Show and Trial Results" cannot appear in these columns. Make your club notes meaty and interesting.

The All Terrier Club of Canada
by Eileen M. Stuart,
R.R. #2, Aurora, Ont.

The All Terrier Club of Canada held its August meeting. Mr. John Devlin, Vice President, presided.

Our main topic of discussion was judges for our 1961 Specialty Show to be held in May. Three new members were accepted into the Club, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Barnes, breeders of Miniature Schnauzers and Mr. Bev. Lewis, breeder of Bull Terriers.

Any Terrier breeders interested in joining the All Terrier Club may apply to Mrs. Jane Devlin, P.O. Box 436, Thornhill, Ontario, or to our Membership Convenor, Mrs. Eileen Stuart, R.R. #2, Aurora, Ontario.

Barrie Kennel Club
by Amy Lee,
40 Worsley St., Barrie, Ont.

The Barrie Kennel Club held their annual meeting and election of officers on July 13 at Mayor's Motel. President Ken Johnson presided. One new application for membership was voted upon and accepted. Financial and committee reports for the past year were read.

After the regular business there was an election of officers. The new officers for the ensuing year are: President, Frank Jones; Vice-President, Harold Butler; Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Frank Jones; Assistant Secretary, Miss Audrey Halfyard.

Committees were chosen by the new executive and they are to elect their own chairmen.

The Basset Club of Canada
by I. Alexander

Mrs. Christine Gibbs, member of the Stewards Club of America, spoke at the July 30 meeting of The Basset Club of Canada in Burlington, Ont.

She recommended that a bench show committee be formed, even for sanction shows; that a big enough ring be arranged with a steward for every ring. She outlined the duties of the stewards, stressing how efficiency on their part can make the judging assignment a pleasant and speedier task.

"Never get mad at being beaten," urged Mrs. Gibbs, pointing out that all the "good ones" get beaten.

She also outlined ring procedure as well as the duties and responsibilities of the judge. Since Mrs. Gibbs' views were based on her wide American experience, the Canadian listeners found it all the more interesting.

An expression of thanks was made on behalf of the club by President Mike Knott and a presentation was made the speaker.

Black & Tan Coonhound Club of Canada
by Jeanne White
"Tanglewood", Main St. North, R.R. 2, Newmarket, Ont.

With Autumn approaching, members are anxious to get their Coonhounds in the woods for nights filled with the music that only Black and Tan Coonhounds can make. For those who have never taken part in a coon hunt or coon chase, let me say that it is a sport for only the rugged. The Coonhounds are taken to the woods, field or swamp after dark and there set loose to find the trail. The chase will probably last for several hours and cover many miles over land and water, but the constant, deep, bugle-voiced song of the Black and Tans on the trail will be something that will be long-remembered. And the familiar bark of "chop chop" to indicate the Black and Tans have treed their quarry and are holding it steadily treed makes a thrilling finish to a cold and possibly wet, night in the woods for both Coonhounds and houndsmen.

One of our most enjoyable afternoons was spent at the All-Breed Puppy Match held by the Pekin Palace Club. Four Coonhounds, aged five months and all from one litter bred by d'Argenteuil Kennels Reg'd, made their ring debut. First in Females and Best of Breed was Roxanne, owned and handled by Dick White; second to Bettine, owned and handled by Ken Jenkins; third to Arlette, owned and handled by Jeanne White. First in males and Best Opposite Sex was Lucien, owned and handled by Phyllis Harris. Roxanne went on to win the Hound Group.

To all hunters we again say, a good sportsman is a good conservationist of our natural resources.

Brantford Obedience Club
by Marga Loerch
41 Woodman Drive, Brantford, Ontario

Since last writing we have not been too industrious but we are still around.

Congratulations are in order for Albert McPherson and "Duke" who so capably captured third place at Buffalo with 135 dogs competing. He also came first in the German Shepherd Class, so thanks Albert for letting people know that BOC dogs are no slouches. Of course other members attended and returned home quite satisfied with the day's outing.

We had the good fortune of demonstrating obedience work at the Hagersville Army Camp and 12 of our "Red Shirts" put on a spectacular display.

Plans are underway for the Labor Day Parade which we are entering, as well as putting on demonstrations throughout the afternoon activities.

The rules and regulations governing the Challenge Trophy we are offering are ready for the press and will be mailed soon.

So, all Obedience Clubs, let's see your smoke.

Burlington and District Kennel Club
by R. L. Dafoe, Publicity
3047 Woodland Park Drive
Burlington, Ont.

Mr. Fred Lowe gave a report on the last graduating class. There were 22 Novice "A" and of this group six qualified. There was also one CDX and two UD. Obedience classes are being held each Wednesday at the Roseland Plaza and these are drawing considerable gallery and should increase the interest in obedience training and purebred dogs in general.

At this time of the year we elect our Obedience chairman to carry on for the next term. Mr. Fred Lowe was again elected to this position.

Considerable activity was reported on the Junior branch of the Club. Mrs. Pendlebury is to be commended for her efforts on behalf of the children. The classes are well attended and at time of writing membership stands at 16. A Pet Show was held August 17th at Hidden Valley Park and was judged by Mrs. Lorna Jackson. The children are being trained in obedience work, showing of dogs and general care of their pets. Several newspapers including the Telegram, Spectator and the Gazette of Burlington have covered this phase of our Club's work and will be giving it newspaper space. CHCH-TV have also promised their support.

At the conclusion of our meeting, we heard a very interesting talk by Miss Kaye Peer. Miss Peer covered several items, one of which was the steadily increasing purebred population and the responsibility of the breeders. At the conclusion of Miss Peer's talk we were privileged to view the Westminster Dog Show film.

Bay Kennel Club is that arrangements for the first All Breed Championship Show ever to be held in Newfoundland are nearing completion. The premium lists and entry forms have been mailed and the trophies purchased. Every purebred dog owner that we have been able to trace in Newfoundland has been contacted. The show is to be held in the spacious new Harbour Grace Recreation Centre on Saturday, September 24, 1960.

Why should you, wherever you are, make a point of attending this show? Because it will be a good show with a large entry of good quality dogs of all breeds. For instance, in addition to the well over 100 dogs from all parts of Newfoundland who have already expressed interest in attending, there is every indication that a large entry will be coming from the Maritime Provinces, and firm commitments have already have been received from Montreal. In addition, top dogs will be shown from the U.S. Naval Base at Argentia, Nfld. It is a certainty that there will be worthy competition for any dog entered.

Secondly, Mr. Harvey Gratton, the C.K.C. Director for Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, will give an exhibition of Obedience Training, always an entertaining and instructive event.

Thirdly, it is hoped that Mr. Lawrence Garvie will show off his new wife in addition to his judging abilities! The Conception Bay Kennel Club extends to Mr. and Mrs. Garvie our warmest best wishes for the future.

Fourthly, the visit to Newfoundland in the fall will give you a memory of scenic beauty that will never quite be eliminated during your winter hibernation.

Fifthly, we believe our Trophy List to be at least the equal of any show anywhere.

Lastly, contrary to apparent opinions held by some people, Newfoundland is not the back of beyond of the dog world. It is a rewarding field long overdue for CKC attention and expansion. When you visit with us in September, you will see that the enthusiasm of Messrs. Gratton and Little is more than justified. You will be treated as valuable people when you bring your valuable dog to win valuable points and valuable trophies.

These are six reasons, among many, why you should be in Harbour Grace, Newfoundland on September 24, 1960.

The Dachshund Club of Canada
by Ernie Lindsay
Willow Cove (Sub. P.O.)
Burlington, Ont.

Our monthly meeting was held at the Lindsay's, Burlington, Ont., on August 7, with Mr. Breckon presiding, in the absence of our President, Dr. Bridgman. Being blessed with nice weather, we held an open air meeting again, having fairly good attendance in spite of so many vacationing. Our guests included Mrs. Mary Krawesky, Mrs. Nellie Willmar, and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Ready.

The business agenda included discussions on advising our Specialty Show judge, Mr. Ed. Drumm, of a suitable topic for his brief speech at our after show dinner, to be held at supper hour in the Arena.

Also decided we choose our 1961 Specialty Judge in the very near future and as in previous years, working with the Burlington and District Kennel Club, in so doing. At this point, the secretary was advised to write B. & D.K.C., asking their permission to hold 1961 Specialty on same day, same place, in Burlington Arena.

It was pointed out that although the Trophy Fund donations are rather slow in coming in, we still anticipate having our usual outstanding prize list come Show Day on September 24.

Our next meeting on September 4, being held at the Lindsay's is to be followed with Mr. Leo Bodemer giving handling instructions or demonstration, which should prove beneficial to all attending.

The executive members have decided to hold our October 2 meeting in The Nelson Hall (Cor. of #5 and #25 Hwys.) This is to be an open meeting, with invitations being sent to all Dacksie breeders in the area. Mrs. N. T. Smith was appointed as moderator of quiz panel of her choice. This should prove interesting and educational.

The meeting was adjourned at 4:30 p.m., followed by a demonstration of Dacksies in Obedience. These Dacksies being supplied

Despite the fact that it was a holiday month, the turnout at our July meeting was very good. It was held outside at the home of Joe and Eileen Darlington. Eileen served hot dogs, which I think is a wonderful idea for a summer meeting.

Our new members Jean and Ken Bowen will be moving to their new home in Burlington at the end of August. In spite of the fact that they will be so far away they plan to attend our meetings and other events.

Plans have been made for a matinee show in September at the home of Pat and Bob Savink. As all those who have attended our handling classes will know, Pat and Bob have a lovely spot for our usual spacious ring. For those who are not aware of where they are located a map will be on our flyer which of course will be sent out very soon. The judges? Two of our own club members, Herb Burrows and my mother, Iris Gerigs.

The date for our rummage sale has been tentatively set for October 1. Tentatively because positive arrangements have not yet been made for a building, but further bulletins will be issued.

The great day for the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada's Specialty Show is drawing close. This column wishes them all the luck in the world. Come on folks bring out your dogs it sure would be nice to see a Canadian dog go Canadian Grand Victor.

Please take note of the following announcement! Our handling classes held every Tuesday evening have changed their location. They will now be held at (our house) George and Iris Gerigs. If you wish directions please call Whitehall 2-4953.

Now a very special bit of news! At least I think it is special, our president, my father Mr. George Gerigs, will be judging German Shepherds for the Progressive Kennel Club in October.

We do hope that Bruce and Betty Allen's son makes a speedy recovery from his recent illness.

Always finish with a smile. Question: If you had only a slight knowledge of Shepherds and you were asked to judge, how would you go about it? Answer: under an assumed name.

ring in a beautiful setting, superb trophies, exhibitors dinner, form a strong chain necessary for a successful specialty show. May trophies sparkle in sunlight as we gather again, in a spirit of good sportsmanship, to take part in the "Canadian Classic", September 17.

The following day, September 18, a completely separate event takes place. The American Breed Survey Society, under Club sponsorship, will carry out our second Annual Breed Survey. Here the dogs are measured, weighed, temperament tested, and structural faults and virtues carefully evaluated. All particulars with perhaps breeding recommendations are then mailed to owners, as well as published in the "Annual Survey Book." Last year's "Volume I" marked the beginning of a new era in the development of better German Shepherds in North America.

The Frohles opened their beautifully improved "Swiss Chalet" home to the Club, July 24, for our third summer matinee show. Judge, Fred Pfeifle, carefully placed the Walker's Na-Robi's Helga BOB in a good entry, both quantity and quality-wise. Matinee show obedience entries, though, have recently fallen off drastically, calling for an appraisal to find the cause. This we are doing, and are open to all suggestions. The pleasant afternoon was followed by a friendly social evening complete with more food, coffee, club talk and singing around the piano. We are again indebted to our hosts, Mitzi and Max Frohle, who give so generously of their efforts, in so many ways.

Sorry I missed last month's issue. Mr. Abe Zvonkin did terrifically on the June double trial with a score of 199½. He was proud to take nine trophies which were won by his dog, Domino. Howard Ward was right behind him with a score of 199. The trial was a great success.

Well, we're getting up to date. The Club is changing their Monday night training classes to Thursday. We're hoping the Fall classes will be a big success.

There was no regular meeting of the club last month but the President, Mr. Clarence Stevens called a special meeting for August 10. This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. K. Shanks, Port Credit.

Several members were unable to attend, some being away on holidays and others who found transportation too far. However the show secretary, Mrs. Martha Stevens, reports a small but quite satisfactory meeting with most of the time given to trophies and advertising.

With our point show coming up Thanksgiving weekend, October 9 and 10, the preparation is of course becoming more concentrated. We are looking forward to a large entry on account of the suitability of time and place. It should be thoroughly understood that this is an all-breed show and the only limit is the final specials which includes groups, best in show, also best Canadian-bred, and best Canadian-bred puppy. Please remember that the judging stops at best of breeds.

The Kawartha Kennel Club are holding their show at Peterborough the day before our show, that is on Saturday, October 8. Those coming from United States or from considerable distances would do well to make it a weekend and avail themselves of two sets of points. Watch for the advertisements in Dogs in Canada. This is also one of the final shows at which championships may be completed this year.

There is parking space for three hundred cars and the location at Thornhill Farmers Market is accessible from all directions. There will be a lunch counter and plenty of seating space and any member of the club will be glad to assist strangers and others requiring information.

Don't forget — make the Progressive Kennel Club show your thanksgiving engagement.

The Provincial Irish Setter Club
by Gertrude W. Drew

With no meeting in July our club news is not as abundant as usual. Still there seems to be a great deal doing among individual members and visitors from afar are numerous and frequent, always bringing interesting news from their country or locale.

Last year "Wildair" entertained visitors from India and Burma. This year another Burmese couple came to call here at the request of the former visitors. These people are literally "dog crazy" and they are especially enthusiastic over Irish Setters. They took dozens of pictures of our dogs to take home when they return at the close of their visit in Canada and United States.

We have planned for a day in the field with our dogs during hunting season. This is not a field trial but merely an opportunity to see what our dogs can do in the way of finding birds, their style and their innate qualities to follow their instinctive impulses. We hope to learn something about our individual animals, whether they have the necessary natural aptitudes and to what extent. We have invited Mr. George W. Boag of Kingston to be our guest that day and to give us the "lowdown" on our dogs. Mr. Boag is a lifelong dog and bird man and he intends to bring two of his trained English Setters with him.

The executive are now working on our fall specialty show. Mrs. Mary Lake has again consented to be show secretary. Any enquiries regarding the show may be directed to her. A welcome is extended to all Irish Setter exhibitors and fanciers to attend this affair.

A banquet following the show will be held at Pellers Banquet Hall on Yonge St., corner of Sheppard. This is a most convenient location and is only a few minutes' drive from the Farmer's market where the show will be held.

Mr. Mac MacCallum, who so ably superintended our show last year will again act in that capacity and Miss Alma King will do the stewarding. The building is ideal for a specialty show and of course it will be heated if necessary. Light refreshments will be available.

We have had enquiries from some American exhibitors and those who attended last year are looking forward to a return visit. A special invitation is extended to all American fanciers. This show is unbenched. If you would like entry forms please write to the undersigned address.

Our members' match and picnic was held the end of August. We have also planned three training classes. Members will be notified.

For information and entry forms please write to Mrs. Mary Lake, 200 Maple Leaf Drive, Toronto, 15, Ont. Ch. 1-3709.

The Irish Setter Club of Canada holds no regular meetings during July and August. However, the month of June closed with a successful invitation match at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Honsberger of Streetsville, Ont.

The weatherman provided a perfect day for the match which was held on the lawns and gave access to an extremely large ring for the exhibitors. The complete show was conducted as a point show and before the judging commenced instructions, along with an accompanying demonstration, were given on the correct and incorrect manner of handling an animal in the ring. These instructions were found to be most helpful as many were in attendance as spectators and novice handlers, with several people in the process of acquiring their Irish puppies.

It was gratifying to see the large attendance of our members, with some coming from as far as Orillia for the event. An excellent selection of trophies was presented by our convener, Mrs. Joyce Allen, which covered all placements.

Mrs. Helen Sinclair of Meadowvale judged the event and was presented with a gift

Members are now wearing the title sequins on their club pins. Blue denotes a CD in the family, green a CDX, red a UD and white a TD. This is proving to be an inexpensive but striking way of attracting the public's attention to the degrees and thus to Obedience.

Also new on the scene is a system devised by training director McNally whereby each dog at the practices is marked on the trial routines by a "tester" who pin-points the weaknesses. Armed with a marked paper, the owner reports to the "trouble-shooter", who assists on the particular problems that have occurred.

We have just learned that our club secretary, Victor Madge is in hospital following a heart-attack. We hope that by the time this appears in print that Vic will be well on the road to full recovery. ■

THE GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF CANADA

by WARREN PARKINSON

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada was founded in 1923 . . . its aim then as now to promote the breeding, showing and training of better German Shepherds. We who are the club to-day, respect those who, in the past, devotedly carried its aim: Randel Perry, Ben Stitt, Cecil Radford, Sandy Chisholm, Dr. Hodgson, Ray Moll, Bob Gilmore, Gordon Coles, Vince Bradley, Doris Craig Smith, Pappa Schmocker and Alex Gooderham, to mention just a few, who all added their contribution, as we are adding ours, to the character of The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada.

We now explain in detail how the club of to-day is carrying out these basic aims. There is no order of importance for they interlock and balance, forming a complete program.

Training is to Shepherd breeding what music is to dancing. A good dog needs training and a trainer needs a good dog. Our obedience training program is undertaken in the form of three, ten-week training classes held in Toronto's Fort York Armories. An average of 60 dogs of all breeds are entered in each course. It's quite a sight to see all the dogs working on the huge (120' x 250') floor at once. Here, for the first time in many cases, the owners learn the true value of the Shepherd as a companion and working dog, and the breeders are given a first hand knowledge of trainable temperament. The Club Trainers, who receive no remuneration, have formed a demonstration team which performs mainly to cub and boy scout groups. ed the embarassing habit of growling at your best friends the fault is one of environment. In other words it is your fault. This nasty little habit developed by an otherwise nice-tempered dog can find its origin in several ways.

Generally speaking it is brought out by you when he is quite young in your over-zealous efforts to make yours the best behaved puppy in town. The constantly seizing hold of him as though he Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Mary Southcott (Cara Mia Kennels, Reg'd.) Milton, Ont., in the loss of her father, . . . Sympathy also to the family of Mrs. Mabel Doherty of Scarborough, Ont., who passed away suddenly on July 1. Mrs. Doherty, a long-time member of The Canadian Kennel Club, specialized in Retrievers.

Representatives of Galphay's Kennels Reg., North Surrey, B.C., are continuing to win in American shows. The young Papillon (eight months) Galphay's Sugar and Spice, recently went Best of Breed and third in the Toy Group at Salme, Oregon under Judge Percy Roberts. Galphay's Diana of the Dale, 15" Beagle, went Winners Female under Mr. Roberts . . . Glengarven's Win of Waterloo has been bringing attention to Canadian-bred Labradors with outstanding wins in the U.S.A. This three-year-old black Lab, owned by Dr. G. Weisbrod, Toronto, won his American title in five shows, all major wins, taking the breed four times and placing in the group. His most recent American wins were BOB at Kalamazoo, Mich. and South Bend, Ind. Starting his show career at two years of age, "Win" achieved his Canadian championship and the distinction of being the top Labrador in Canada in 1959. Sired by Invernan Ben, an English import, "Win" is out of FT Ch. Burndale's Cedar Lass, Canadian bred, and has been handled by Lorna Jackson and John Darch.

During her recent visit to Toronto Mrs. John Openshaw of Bermuda purchased a female Boxer puppy from Miss Jean Grant (Blossomlea) Richmond Hill, Ont.

Although many beautiful articles have been woven from combings from Samoyeds, few have been attempted from Poodle combings. Actress Ann Collings, Toronto, who received a spinning wheel as a birthday gift from her husband, musician John Fenwick, plans to spin combings from Sam, Standard Poodle owned by her parents. Ann, who has lived in many parts of the world, coupled her stage work in Iraq (while in her teens) with running a stable of 24 Arabian horses.

Mrs. Betty Dickson (Ziska Kennels) Dorchester, Ont., recently shipped a 12-week-old puppy 2,500 miles by air transport (three different planes) and train to Burns Lake, B.C. The puppy had received excellent care all the way and was greeted by numerous local citizens of this bear country who had never before seen a Samoyed. The puppy's new owner had seen a picture of "Buck", in the Working Gallery of Dogs in Canada and immediately ordered a pup for his young son.

Miss Susan Radley of the Poodle Studio, Toronto, recently returned from England and France.

Mrs. Elizabeth Golby, Willowdale, Ont., took in some of the Maritime shows, with one of her young Kerry Blue Terriers, a daughter of the famed multi-titled Tailteann's Rare Gem.

First Canadian ever to be invited to assess Pekingese at a championship show in Great Britain, R. William Taylor of Montreal will judge at the Invicta Pekingese Club Championship show, London, November 9.

Died: Long-time CKC member R. J. Grant Mahood, of West Vancouver, July 23. A well-known mining figure and prominent Mason, he was primarily in sporting dogs and in addition had a large and successful kennel of Boxers. He was a charter member of the National Retriever Club, Canada, Ltd., was their first president, and presented the club with the National Championship Trophy, which is still up for annual competition. . . . On July 6, Dick Berry, a director of the Niagara Peninsula Retriever Training Club and well-known and well-liked in retriever circles and service clubs.

Success knew no limits for Mr. and Mrs. Abe Zvonkin at the Hamilton Obedience Club competition. Their white Poodle, Domino poses happily amongst the nine awards taken during the double trial. Score was 199½.

New Junior Kennel Club

I thought you might be interested in hearing about a junior kennel club that has just been formed in Burlington, Ont., for boys and girls between the ages of eight and sixteen years. It is called The Burlington and District Junior Kennel Club, and is connected with the Senior Kennel Club.

Our first meeting was held July 5 and seven or eight children joined. We now have about 16 members and I understand more are wishing to join. Many breeds of dogs are in the club, and they don't have to be purebred. We have a Samoyed, Siberian Husky, Boxers, Beagle, Miniature Poodle, German Shepherd, three Cocker Spaniels, Dachshund, Standard Poodle, Pekingese, Wire-haired Fox Terrier and several questionable breeds.

We elected a president and vice-president from among our members. There are adult members from the Burlington Senior Club, including Mrs. Norman Smith and Mrs. Ted Pendlebury to teach and show us how to train our dogs. They show us how to make them heel, sit, stay, etc. We find it lots of fun and we think our dogs do, too.

We held a pet show on August 17, not only for dogs, but for cats, frogs, turtles, budgies, snakes, and pets of all descriptions. There were prizes for the best handler, dog with the shortest tail, longest tail, etc.

I understand this is the first junior kennel club in Ontario and the second in Canada. The other one is in Vancouver, B.C.

We paid an entry fee of $1.50, and 25c a week to cover expenses, and we meet once a week at the home of Mrs. Pendlebury.

We had Mr. Roy Dafoe at our meeting this week, showing us how to handle our dogs and train them for a show. Besides loving our dogs, we want to make them obedient too, so that we can be even more proud of them. We all enjoy our club very much and hope to have many more members in the future.

Denny Ready, age 12.

Outhandles Adult Competitors

Fifteen-year-old Roger Love, Burnaby, B.C., has handled his English Pointer, Love's Ken's Best to three wins, one second and one third in the Open All Age Stakes at picnic and sanctioned trials this year. All other handlers were adults. "KB" as Roger calls him, placed as follows: March 13, Picnic Trial, first; March 27, Sanction, first; July 10, Sanction, third; July 24, Sanction, second; July 31, Picnic, first. Roger is a hard worker with the pointing breeds of his family's kennels.

Another challenge to grown-up handlers was seven-year-old Micki Zavaglia at the Sanction Show held at Kelowna, B.C. on July 10 by the Kelowna and District Kennel Club. The cup for the Best Toy in the show was won by Kymat's Micki's Mimi, a tiny 15-month old female blonde Pomeranian who was trained and shown by her owner, little Micki.

In Ireland this month, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Getty, Toronto where they will visit the former's brother and sister in Belfast. . . . Reg. P. Sparkes makes a fast trip to England on judging assignment in Birmingham September 2 and 3 and family visit at Bath, Somerset. Dr. Agnes Threlkeld of Halifax journeys to Lisbon, Portugal to attend the international naval display and the celebrations for Prince Henry the Navigator, national hero, on the 500th anniversary of his death. Included in trip, a visit to several Irish Setter kennels in England.

Last minute news: Still ill in hospital at time of writing is Michael Barnes, Toronto, husband of Barbara Barnes, Miniature Schnauzer enthusiast. . . . Victor Madge, secretary of the "200" Club is recovering from a serious heart attack. Died: Mr. Henry Beechey, 81, who had made his home with his neice, Mrs. Lucille V. Harris (Harris-Shire Kennels), Belmont, Ont. . . . Mrs. Margrethe Gundersen, Ottawa, mother of T. E. (Ted) Gundersen, the last surviving member of a group of Danish families who settled in Ottawa in the 19th century. Although 88 years of age, she was possessed of a clear mind and vitality until a recent stroke.

Ch. Timberidge Typesetter, CD, Sheltie, took the points at the great Seattle KC competition while his granddaughter, Keltie's Miss Symphony (owned by Mr. Steven Lansberry, Vancouver,) was Reserve Bitch. Typesetter also took the male points at the Evergreen State Shetland Sheepdog Specialty in February in Seattle. He now has ten points toward his American title. Can. Ch. Hi-Hope's Merry Imp, CDX, Am. CD, earned the 2nd leg on her American CDX at the Seattle KC show, scoring 197 in Open "B". Owners are E. H. and Frances Clark of Richmond, B.C.

were a menace to society every time you have visitors (in case he ends up in their lap, which he would dearly love to do) proves his undoing. Not only does it convince him that you do not like these people, it also over-develops the natural instinct of your Shepherd to be aloof to strangers.

As time goes on it will do the same to his guarding instincts. The sense of protection he has for you is diverted into a general mistrust of everyone but you. This does not mean however, that you should allow your youngster to climb over every one who visits you. Instead of letting him dive at people, it is much easier if you put him on a collar and lead and introduce him like the gentleman he is. Teach him to like people and to take advantage of a stronger animal mind than his, namely yours. One method of correction of this ill-mannered action of his is to ask your friend to immediately take the dog outside, on a collar and lead of course. Be sure to ask that the dog not be spoken to and that they do not force their attentions on him. It is far better to allow the dog to decide that your friend is not such a bad sort of fellow after all. He will revert to his temperament which, as stated, is aloof without being aggressive.

It's a Dog's Life

I had, after much difficulty, obtained a copy of "Champion of Champions", the story of my Smooth Fox Terrier's very famous ancestor. Consequently I was frequently showing my friends the pictures in the book; one and all would look at my dog and to his delight exclaim: "Why! It's Tony!"

One evening a neighbour and I engrossed in our conversation completely ignored Tony. After a few minutes of thinking over the situation he trotted out of the room but was back in a flash, holding high "Champion of Champions", he deposited it gently on my friend's lap. Then he stood, quivering, eyes shining, tail up, waiting for the inevitable shower of praise and admiration.

Teacher: Now tell me where Irish Wolfhounds are found.

Jackie: Irish Wolfhounds don't get lost, ma'am. They're so tall they can see where they're going.

"Did I tell you about the big wins our Scottish Terrier made in the States last week?"

"No. And thanks a million."

IN THE NEWS

When their landlord forbade them to keep a dog circus acrobats Nina and Lilly Kohler circumvented the ruling by hoisting their Newfoundland through a window instead of using a door. Their big shaggy pet co-operated by refraining from barking.

Officials were temporarily confounded, but wagers had to be refunded when Greyhounds in a race at the Raynham, Mass. track caught up with the mechanical rabbit.

Although their owners have long since passed away, a dog cemetery in Hyde Park, London, England is still well tended. Pets were buried there during the years 1881-1893.

Fleet-footed messenger is Shadow, a German Shepherd who works a regular eight-hour day as inter-office messenger in a Glendale, Calif. laboratory.

First woman to be honored with a Veterinarian-of-the-Year "Fido" is Dr. Jean Holzworth of Boston, a cat specialist, who received her award from Harry Miller, director of the Gaines Dog Research Center, at the convention of the American Animal Hospital Association.

ROOM SERVICE

We've all read about the famous knights of King Arthur's court and their exploits, but how many of you know that the Little People also had their brave knights? One of them was out on his charger, a high stepping Airedale, looking for deeds of derring-do one night when he was caught in a downpour. He hurried to a near-by inn and sought a room for the night.

"Have you a reservation?" asked the sire of modern room clerks without looking up from his reading. The Little Knight hadn't made one. How was he to know it would rain?

"No rooms without a reservation," was the reply. The Little Knight was about to go out into the rain when the inn keeper looked up and saw the Little Knight astride his Airedale. He was goggle-eyed. "Just a moment," he said, "I'll find something for you. I wouldn't put out a knight on a dog like this."

Harvey Barcus,
President, DWAA.

One exhibitor to another: "Eloise never complains when she loses . . . and I just can't stand her."
