MORE AND MORE CANADIAN KENNEL OWNERS DESCRIBE THE PERFECT "EVERY-DAY" DOG FOOD LIKE THIS...

If you were asked to list the qualities of the perfect food for daily feeding, you'd certainly say that first and foremost it must contain all the nutrients dogs need in their daily diet. You might go on to say that it should be an eagerly eaten food—so that there's no time wasted in feeding. You'd add that it must mix readily with liquids so that you could use it even at weaning time. And you'd probably end by saying that it should be a light, easily digested food that dogs can be trusted to eat but not over-eat. You'd be describing Purina Dog Chow. And you'd be in complete agreement with a rapidly growing number of successful Canadian kennel owners.

Purina Dog Chow—thoroughly tested and proved at Purina's famous Dog Care Centre—is available in 50 lb., 25 lb., 10 lb. or 5 lb. bags and in 2½ lb. boxes.

The Miniature Poodle shown on this month's cover is Ch. Karas Buccaneer of Ma Griffe, an ambitious youngster who obtained his title at 19 months of age, finishing at the 1961 Canadian National Exhibition Shows under Judges Alva Rosenberg and C. Schwartz.

He comes from exceptional stock, sired by the noted Best in Show-winner Am. and Can. Ch. Poodhall Gus out of Ch. Firebrave Honourine. Bred by Miss Phyllis Walker and M. N. Karageorgis, the owner is Miss Walker who, with her brother Peter, is the proprietor of Le Chien Elegant in Toronto.

The smiling silver Poodle who appeared on the January, 1961 cover of Dogs, Ch. Jay's Ma Griffe Silver Sparkle, known as "Peanuts", is temporarily relinquishing her cherished duty as receptionist at the doggy salon to attend to her latest son. Her young cream son, Ma Griffe Rebel, was judged Best Canadian Bred Toy in Breed at the 1961 CNE shows by Judges Rosenberg and Schwartz, and should make a name for himself this year.

Ch. Firebrave Juba and Ch. Firebrave Honourine, as well as Merrymorn Taree, were all imported by Miss Walker following a visit to England.

In addition to Buccaneer, the following are at stud: Ch. Karas Punjab (black), Ch. Firebrave Juba (black), Ch. Firebrave Titmarsh (white) and Merrymorn Taree (silver), who has seven points.

Le Chien Elegant celebrated its first anniversary last September. The shop, located on Yonge St. above Lawrence Avenue, Toronto, caters to all breeds as well as carrying a complete line of accessories. Miss Walker, who has been in Canada eight years and formerly coiffed canines for nobility in England, specializes in one of the finest lines of dog jewellery in Canada, featuring Italian imports.

FROM THE EDITOR

This year will see more owners of purebred dogs, more fanciers belonging to dog clubs and more actual breed and specialty clubs. These clubs will be running more shows. Since shows are usually the culmination of many executive, general and committee meetings there is much to be said on How to Run a Dog Club. This is entirely apart from parliamentary procedure and constitution. It is people working with, for or against other males and femmes.

Criticism will occur in a meeting (or out of it) as sure as minutes are read and approved. And someone, sooner or later, will become personal. But there are ways of offering suggestions and organizing mutual criticism which will benefit all concerned.

The quick way to make enemies is to tell fellow members exactly what you think of their ideas, or their dogs — whether or not the opinion has been invited.

People are touchy. Remember this as long as you are connected in any way with the running of your club and you won't go far wrong. Watch out for the person who says with a disarming grin. — go ahead, tell me what's wrong with my dog (or idea or plan). Tell him — and he may harbor resentment for life. On the other hand, too much flattery will fall flat on its physiognomy. Because even the most egotistical man will realize after a time he, or his dog could stand a little improvement. Unnecessary or useless criticism is the chemical most likely to dissolve a group of breeders or club members.

Nor can a single "expert" run a club. The so-called expert can offer sound, practical advice and almost certainly can help avoid pitfalls but the lone worker, no matter how capable and serious about his efforts, cannot do as well as several good heads, thinking and discussing the project at hand. The lone worker, further, is subject to more criticism by the shirkers, because in their hearts they resent being shown up.

Supposing a suggestion does come up which, through lack of experience or thought, falls short of the mark. It can be heard through and the individual thanked but with a helpful suggestion that although it won't work, his future ideas will be welcome.

Each society needs a warm friendly atmosphere to channel discussions and sift ideas for their real value, so that when a person has temerity to go out on a limb he feels rewarded for his action. Every club will fail if:

(a) everyone is too frightened to express his ideas, or

(b) everyone brings ideas forward, none are properly assessed and nobody profits by the occasion.

It all boils down to a simple equation: interest, friendly attention, and courtesy. With these ingredients an association can be a joy to its members and a credit to purebred dogdom.

PLENTY OF PEMBROKES

. . . re Dr. G. V. Mowbray's letter regarding record litters (Dogs, October, 1961) Rover Run Ojai Belle, Pembroke Welsh Corgi owned by Walter Simonds, San Rafael, Calif., whelped 11 pups in one litter. In the next litter, Belle whelped 13 pups. Belle, herself, was from a litter of 13.

A Pembroke in Canada whelped ten pups in her litter in 1960. She is Can. Ch. Bhilwara Sea Maid, owned by Sheilah Roberts, Victoria, B.C.

I too, believe I can claim a record for Pembrokes. Bundocks Mellow de Rover Run, owned by my husband, made her final leg for her Utility Dog degree at the Pacific National Exhibition August 30 in Vancouver, B.C. She now has her championships and UD degrees in both United States and Canada. I believe her to be the first Pembroke to achieve both honors in both countries, and one of few dogs of any breed to hold all these titles.

CAN YOU HELP?

. . . May we ask your help, and that of all dog owners and breeders to help us locate a beautiful Weimaraner female stolen from the Kimberley, B.C. area around November 25. This is a grey, spayed and good-mannered dog, Tattoo P.U.H. 5. P in left ear. Answers to 'Candy' and is a fine bird dog. She had on a leather collar with rabies tag #121314, also a local license #20, Chapman Camp. She has a few barbed wire scars on chest and top of head.

This appeal is just a grasp at the proverbial straw, prompted by the thought of the children of the R. J. McAllister family who are grieving for their playmate and protector.

BRISK WESTIE COMPETITION

. . . The Canadian West Highland White Terrier Club in 1961 inaugurated a challenge trophy. The Daniell-Jenkins Jeudwine Memorial Trophy.

The next two or three years should see "Westies" really on the move because of the incentive provided by this trophy. There is a close run between two top winning "Westies". The Kayes' Dina-Ken's Little Pip, who had one Best in Show, three Best Canadian Breds in Show, 14 Best Canadian Breds in Group, 12 group first, five seconds, and two thirds — and even took time out to have a litter!

The success of this first year's competition was also ensured by the Western breeders, especially, when Mrs. S. Hudson's import Whitebriar Journeyman challenged competitors like the Cox's Am. Can. Ch. Rannoch-Dune Deputy and Mrs. Freemantle's Am. Can. Ch. Remasaia's Piper, and in a race at the finish even "journeyed" to Calgary and took the group on both days, giving him seven group firsts, three seconds, and three thirds.

Westies from the eastern seaboard have not been new to local competition, but this year saw Mrs. Freemantle send three entries from Victoria to the Burlington Show and the club Specialty in September. Wouldn't it be a wonderful idea to hold a specialty mid-way between Toronto and Victoria and make it possible to get all the great Canadian Westies together?

THE OLD TIMER

In principle The Old Timer agreed with the proposal that judges undertake written and oral examinations, but consider, he warned, that fees could skyrocket.

The Old Timer was scraping varnish from some battered old show crates when I came into the kennel. This was an annual winter chore with him. Religiously he removed the old varnish each year, sanded down the crates and then revarnished them. The result was that when the show season started he had new looking, clean equipment to take to the shows.

"Back at it again," I suggested.

"Yep." he answered "and doing a little thinking at the same time."

"About what" I prodded.

"Well," he said "I got a letter from a CKC official asking me what I thought about a proposal to have all presently authorized judges requalify by going through this new procedure of written and oral examinations."

"And what do you think of it?" I asked.

The Old Timer cleaned off his varnish scraper carefully. He tucked it away in a tackle drawer, then filled his pipe and pulled out his chair.

"Haven't quite made up my mind," he said. "In principle I think it would be a good thing but in practice I'm afraid it could be disastrous."

"Disastrous is a pretty strong word," I said. "Just how do you justify it, particularly if you think that in principle the idea is sound?"

The Old Timer tilted his chair back against the wall. He shoved his hat on the back of his head and pulled at the lobe of his right ear. He lit his pipe and thought for a minute or two while he got it drawing freely.

"I'm thinking of the show-giving clubs," he said "and just what it would do to them when they start to get together a judging panel.

"Let's suppose for a minute that the C.K.C. were to suddenly decide to cancel all judging authorities obtained under the old system. Just where would your club go for the judges for its 1962 show?" I probably looked a little startled for the Old Timer looked at me a bit quizzically.

"Guess I made you think eh?" He said. "Now I don't suppose for a minute that the C.K.C. would suddenly cut off the judging privileges of all those who qualified under the old system. I'm quite sure they would come up with an orderly plan but——"

He hesitated a minute while he relighted his pipe.

"What I'm afraid of," he said "is that a large number of our really good dog people—those authorized to judge only a group or so would not bother requalifying and their services would be lost."

"Why not requalify?" I asked.

"Because these people are not primarily interested in judging. Their main interest is in exhibiting. They know the breeds in their own group. They don't campaign for assignments and judge, at the most, two or three times a year. And when they do they usually judge without a fee or for expenses only as a contribution to the game. I think a very small percentage of these would sit for an examination in order to be authorized to do something they are not particularly interested in doing. Then there's a second group."

"What one is that?" I asked.

"I'm thinking particularly about old timers in the game." he said. "Over the years these people have seen a lot of dogs. They know what is right and what is wrong about the majority of the breeds. They may not have memorized the standard, but nine times out of ten they'll get the right dog."

"And why shouldn't they requalify?" I asked. "After all they know dogs."

"Certainly they know dogs," said the Old Timer "but can they express their knowledge in terms of the standard for the breed. To pass these written and oral tests you pretty nearly have to address correspondence to

VALERIE H. McMILLIN, 4 TOPSAIL BLVD., DARTMOUTH, N.S.

Happy New Year and all the best of wins to everyone—if it were only possible!

Scarcity of news this month I'm afraid. Halifax KC is busy with its annual elections, as is the Maritime Toy Dog (N.S. Division), Mrs. Aileen May is now President of the latter.

Evangeline KC held a very successful Sanction show on November 17 in Wolfville. This was judged by Mrs. Phyllis Gratton who awarded BIS to Avon Baker with his Boxer bitch, Avon Valley Trixie.

Marg. Godfrey full of glee over her very successful trip to the Fall shows in Bermuda, came home with four and six points on two of her Pekingese; nice going.

Mel Babcooke took his Irish Setters to the Ontario field trials and is pleased to have done some most respectable work there.

E. K. Morton of Avon Valley Kennels died at the end of November, he had been in poor health for some time. Sympathy is extended to his family in Windsor.

Roger Bonoyer (Bona Dea German Shepherds) is awaiting the arrival from Germany of a new stud. I have not the name as yet.

Miss Alice O'Brien is making plans to attend the Westminster show in February, also expecting a new Sealyham out from England. Miss O'Brien is a charter member of the Sealyham Club of America, a CKC "long service" member, charter member of the Shearwater KC of Dartmouth and many other clubs. She is also very active on the executive of several clubs and is taking on the Show Secretaryship for the SKC of D Spring show. This is being chaired by Mrs. Evelyn Kings. ■

RCMP DOGS VIA DISNEY

The Siberian Husky has found such favor with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police that all 250 RCMP dogs will be replaced with this breed, it is reported. Says Superintendent W. G. Fraser, head of the RCMP's Arctic division: "The Siberian is a good worker, easily trained, less vicious and much more disease-resistant than the Canadian Arctic sled dog." In support of his belief, he obtained six of the Siberians free last year after Walt Disney Productions had completed the film, Nikki, Wild Dog of the North, in the Canadian Rockies. After going to great pains to obtain this number, Disney was looking for good homes for the 34 canine actors. Supt. Fraser later started a breeding program and now has 70.

He suggests that responsible Indian and Eskimo dogteam operators might eventually be allowed to buy some of the Siberians if they can be depended upon to give them proper care and keep them separated from mongrels.

OBEDIENCE FORUM

AUDREY LANGFORD
"What Do You Think?" Address queries to Audrey Langford, c/o Dogs in Canada Magazine.

The CKC has set up a high standard for our Obedience judges through the examinations required and maintain this standard by the suspension of judges who have two violations reported in two years. A violation is where a judge fails a dog that should have passed, or passes one that should have failed as set out in the Regulations and Standards in the principal features of an exercise.

The examinations are written under the eyes of an examining committee, one of whom must be a judge. Then an oral examination is conducted by this committee who were chosen by the representative for their knowledge of Obedience. The applicant must receive 75% before he is permitted to apprentice. The final file is reviewed by the Chairman's Standing Committee for Obedience and the apprentices' books compared with those of the officiating judge and only then does the recommendation for approval go before the Board of CKC. Aware that a judge may become careless after some years, the suspension ruling keeps them alert and conscious of the Regulations and Standards. While realizing that a judge is human and may slip once, they will not condone it as a habit. All this ensures the exhibitor that he is not just gambling his entry fee, but may expect to be competently judged within the Regulations and Standards.

The American Kennel Club mails the examination to the applicant, who may copy the answers from the rule book. Nor is it mandatory to have put a dog through to the degree they wish to judge. When one has judged several Trials in the Novice, he may apply to judge open and be approved, and so on to Utility. When one has judged Utility a number of times, he may apply for and receive approval to judge Tracking. No exam, no apprenticing.

An American resident applied here and wrote our examinations. Although he failed our exams, he is now approved by the AKC and thus eligible to judge in Canada. Another American judging in Canada recently was guilty of three violations in one Trial.

The AKC asks that our Canadian judes go through their complete procedure even though they have put a dog through Utility and have judged all classes in Canada with no violations. I feel that our judges are fully qualified to meet the AKC requirements immediately by examination without the nonsense of working their way slowly through approval of all classes. They should not automatically accept our judges; no one should approve the unknown. No exhibitor should risk his entry fee under a judge who is not completely familiar with the rules, nor one who applies them to suit his own whims, nor scores a dog through prior knowledge of its ability. The exhibitor should feel certain that he and his dog performed well enough that day to receive a qualifying score or there is no pride in the degree. Nor should he be deprived of this score if his performance merits it.

I think that Chap. I, Sec. 5, Subsec. 2 should be changed to require all judges to write our examination before being approved for their first assignment in Canada, but that those approved by accepted Kennel Clubs not be required to apprentice.

What do you think?

HAS ANYONE SEEN THESE DOGS?

Three elderly dogs, inseparable buddies for years and wise in the way of returning home, have completely disappeared from two Toronto homes. They are Mac, a Beagle, and Cindy, a black Labrador who have lived with the family of R. N. Starr, Toronto for eight years. The third member of the trio is Tip, (no purebred but very much loved) owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peacock. The threesome have long been a familiar sight on their hunting trips along the Bayview section of the Don Valley or skirting the Rosedale golf course.

Mrs. Starr reports that one Sunday morning in late November Tip called for his friends. They had their usual discussion in the hall, because Cindy sometimes doesn't feel like hiking and in that case they all stay around home. This Sunday Cindy apparently consented to go, and off they went. At the time of writing, there has been no sign of them. Mr. Starr tells Dogs someone may be holding them for a larger reward (he now is offering $100). They have contacted the Humane Society, run advertising in the three Toronto dailies and made announcements over the air.

Any information on the threesome should be telephoned immediately to the Starrs at HUdson 3-0796.

Your Veterinarian has

a pill that kills fleas, lice...even ticks

Now you can keep your dog free of fleas, lice, and ticks without using smelly, messy sprays, powders, or dips. Tests by veterinarians show that Ectoral, taken every other day for eight days, then just once weekly, can eliminate these troublesome parasites entirely in most cases. ■ Ectoral works from the inside out—killing the fleas, lice, and ticks that prey on your dog. Used regularly, in the amount recommended by your veterinarian, Ectoral can safely protect your dog against external parasites and the skin diseases they cause. ■ Though more effective, Ectoral costs no more than the regular application of potent insecticides—and is far more convenient to use. Ask your veterinarian about this unique new way to control fleas, lice, and ticks. Ectoral is available only from veterinarians.

WINTERIZE YOUR DOG

According to nationally-known dog authority Clarence C. Fawcett of the Purina Dog Care Center, dogs shouldn't be bathed in winter. A good daily brushing to remove dirt and loose hair will help his coat keep its healthful glow. Waterless cleaners which are available for winter use with very old or very young dogs reduce the danger of chills.

If you should have to bathe your pet, be sure to keep the room warm and draft-free. And if it's inconvenient to bathe the dog at night, after he's had his last walk outdoors, see that he has at least two hours to dry before going out again.

Your pet's feet need special attention in snowy weather. Examine his paws periodically to remove snow that may cake between his toes. They can also be badly irritated by the salts sprinkled on streets to melt snow. These salts also cause diarrhea and vomiting if much is swallowed when a dog licks his feet.

Mr. Fawcett says the most important thing to remember about your pet's winter home: keep his temperature consistent. If he's accustomed to a dog house, he can stay there all through winter (except perhaps in an unusually severe cold spell). But don't make the mistake of bringing him into the warm house one night and then leaving him out the next.

Guard against drafts and dampness whether the dog sleeps indoors or out.

If your dog makes his home inside your home with the family, train him to sleep on his own "bed" which is at least four or five inches off the floor with side pieces. Don't set it near the radiator or allow him to spend too much time near the fireplace during the day. Intense heat will lower his resistance to cold when he does go outdoors. Heat also tends to dry his coat.

Protection from drafts, dampness and extreme temperature changes, and cleanliness will help your dog have a healthy winter. When the mercury starts dropping, remember he needs special care, too!

HIP DYSPLASIA IN GERMAN SHEPHERDS

by Dr. A. J. Cawley, Department of Medicine and Surgery, Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ont.

Since 1935 when Schnelle first reported hip dysplasia in the dog, this condition has become an increasingly important problem to both the owners of German Shepherd Dogs and veterinarians. Much confusion exists concerning the various aspects of the disease. The aim of this article is to discuss the problem fully in the light of present knowledge.

A brief description of the hip joint of the dog will help in understanding the disease more fully. The hip joint is a true ball and socket joint which allows movement of the leg in various directions. The socket or acetabulum originates from the convergence of the three bones of each half of the pelvis. Each of these bones is formed from cartilage models and all unite to form one solid bony acetabulum at approximately three-and-a-half months of age. The rim of the socket remains as cartilage until the dog is approximately six months old. At this time the acetabulum should be a true hemisphere. The ball portion of the joint, the femoral head also originates from a cartilage model and makes its appearance at the end of the first week of life. From that time on bone replaces cartilage until maturity is reached. The surfaces of both the femoral head and the acetabulum retain a cartilage covering, approximately 1/16 inch thick, which minimizes friction. The socket and femoral head are joined by a heavy elastic ligament, the ligamentum teres, which limits the joint movement and preserves the surrounding fragile tissue. Immediately around the joint is its capsule, a rather fragile membrane, which exudes the joint lubricant, synovia (Fig. 1). The entire joint is surrounded by muscles, all of which tend to pull the femoral head into the acetabulum.

Hip dysplasia is an abnormality wherein the socket fails to develop to a depth sufficient to prevent sliding and displacement of the femoral head when the joint is in motion. It occurs in all species of animals. An appreciation of hip dysplasia can be gained by placing a ball in a saucer—the ball can easily be pushed over the rim. If however the saucer were replaced by a bowl, displacement of the ball becomes much more difficult. The dysplastic hip has a saucer, rather than a bowl-shaped socket, consequently partial dislocation, subluxation, or even complete dislocation becomes rather easy. Subluxation in itself is not a disease but is the result of primary abnormality of the joint which allows for displacement of the joint components. The presence of subluxation cannot be used as the sole basis of diagnosing hip dysplasia in the dog as not all dogs with hip dysplasia show subluxation (Olsson).

A number of theories have been advanced to explain the cause of hip dysplasia. Some learned individuals have suggested that hip dysplasia in the German Shepherd Dog results from the lack of normal pressures at the site of the socket during the early stages of development. While it is true that a shallow socket results if a young pup's hip dislocates and remains dislocated, it is a rare thing to find dislocated hips associated with dysplasia. Others persist in the belief that faulty diet is the cause of hip dysplasia. Few individuals who breed or raise German Shepherd Dogs are ignorant of proper feeding requirements but many are confronted with the problem of hip dysplasia. If poor feeding were the cause then surely an adequate diet would eliminate the problem or a poor diet should increase its incidence. This has not been shown to be so by anyone who has carried out controlled experiments. Yet another suggested cause of hip dysplasia is insufficient exercise or more specifically poor muscular development. The adherents to this theory have observed that well-developed dogs do not show the abnormal gait or lameness associated with dysplasia. These individuals have however omitted to look beyond the obvious and have not troubled themselves to have the hips of these dogs examined. The dog with no sign of lameness but with very poorly developed sockets is not a rarity. (Henrickson and Olsson). In these animals a good clinical examination or exertion of the hip joint will produce pain; the presence of dysplasia can be established by x-ray examination.

It has been definitely established that hip dysplasia in the German Shepherd Dog is hereditary. The mode of inheritance is still debatable; it has been shown to be dominant, although it appears that it is not a simple dominant mode of inheritance. Henrickson and Olsson have suggested that the genes are perhaps sex-linked. The major complicating factor in establishing the exact mode of inheritance is the lack of known normal dogs, entirely free of the trait.

If hip dysplasia is to become an uncommon disease in the German Shepherd Dog population as a whole, it must be recognized by individuals breeding such dogs and the affected animals must be removed from the breeding stock. Dogs with hip dysplasia can be classified into two general groups, those that show obvious symptoms and those that show little or no abnormality of gait.

The first group (figure 2) will show lameness in one or both hind legs by the time they are three to six months of age. These pups invariably have very shallow sockets and subluxation of the hip joints. Such pups have difficulty in rising, walk with wobbling hind quarters and fall easily, particularly on slippery footing or in turning. They will be less lively than normal and tend to keep to themselves because it hurts them to move. When seen from behind the hips appear wider and higher than normal and the rumps appear flattened above. Poor development of the thigh and rump muscles is the rule. As these pups age, muscular development may reduce the degree of subluxation, which occurs with each step, so that the gait may perhaps improve to the point where an expert would be unable to detect any abnormality. However, by the second year of life the abnormal slipping of the femoral head in the socket will destroy the cartilage from the weight-bearing of the femoral head. This exposes bone which increases the friction in the joint; pain is produced, and inflammation occurs, the femoral head flattens and the dog becomes lame for a second time. In addition subluxation produces tension of the joint capsule at each step; this causes the formation of bony spikes at the points of attachments of the capsule to the acetabulum and femoral neck. The bone changes are progressive and will advance most rapidly with severe subluxation and extreme exercise.

The less severely affected group of dogs with hip dysplasia often shows periodic lameness, which will shift from one side to the other if both hips are abnormal. Outwardly these dogs may appear quite normal in conformation. Their sockets may be shallow almost to the point of absence, and may be considerably more abnormal than in some individuals which are more lame. The difference in performance is accounted for by the presence of subluxation (Henrickson and Olsson); the greater the degree of subluxation the more severe the lameness. Less severely affected dogs will eventually experience the degeneration of their hip joints and will become crippled though at a more advanced age than the first group described. An indication of dysplasia may be gained by a good clinical examination but radiography is as yet the only satisfactory means of diagnosing hip dysplasia. It must be borne in mind that the dog's sockets do not reach full development until about the sixth month of life, so radiographs of younger dogs may be misleading.

The treatment of dogs with hip dysplasia will produce some freedom from pain when certain types of drugs are used. Unfortunately the arthritic process advances at its original rate to produce eventual crippling. The treatment of these animals to keep them in shows or to prolong their reproductive life is a practice which is to be condemned.

Nine of the popular breeds of the 29 different families comprising the Terrier Group are presented here in word and picture by some well-known breeders and exhibitors. Watch for new strides in breeding and competition as described in these columns.

AUSTRALIAN TERRIER

by Mrs. Marjorie Bywater

My first Australian Terrier was a blue and tan, a frightened unwanted little female who, upon my taking her in, became so much a part of my home that I became enslaved by the breed for life. This rewarding association has brought me right across the world to the United States and Canada, then to England and back to Australia.

For those who like a choice of color in a breed, there is the blue and tan (or Blue-black and tan) which seem to be the more popular with the public, or the second preference of the solid color "clear red" or "sandy".

As a breeder hoping for perfection, a close study has been made of the type of coat and color most preferred by and acceptable to prospective owners, plus the most desirable coat for a terrier which goes to ground. I have found that the coat should be able to resist the ravages of harsh undergrowth, be weather resistant and also able to act as protection from the retaliations of its defensive quarry. For, as adorable and adaptable as he is to the comforts of home life, the Australian Terrier is also an excellent and game hunting dog.

The blue-black and rich tan has, over the years, proved to be the first choice, followed by the blue and tan with its greyish shading in the silky topknot.

Personal experience has been that in the lighter blue and tan coloring, the coat requires more attention. Although harsh, it has a tendency towards looseness. The tan is generally not so deep, and fades away into the blue body. losing the distinct division between the tan and blue portions of the coat. Breeders, by not following the correct inherited tendencies, can come up with smutty tan on the head, chest and feet, as well as a light fawn undercoat, all of which is undesirable. There is also the possibility in the blue-black and tan, if inherited points are not heeded, to produce a coat that is too smooth and minus the short downy undercoat. In favor of the blue-black and tan is the minimum amount of shedding of coat and grooming, plus the naturally short hair on the feet, (as required by the Standard), along with the two to two and one-half inch length of glossy blue-black coat all over the body, complemented by the contrasting dark golden topknot and frill around the neck and on feet and legs. This color is extremely successful in the show ring. Also the bi-color scheme of blue and tan is a more perfect camouflage for the dog amongst undergrowth, which in itself is often dark and light by degrees.

Clear red with blond topknot has been my aim in the alternative color, and a fine example is Australian Ch. Seven Oaks Caruso, carrying profuse frill and blond topknot, small dark eyes, with dark eyelids, small pointed erect ears and clean, cat-like feet.

In Australia, the original home of the breed, no other colorings have been considered since the breed's conception nearly 100 years ago.

WIRE-HAIRED FOX TERRIER

by F. L. Mayne

Westmayne Kennels, Westchester, N.S. The devotion of a well-bred Fox Terrier is almost beyond belief. The breed prefers human company to that of other dogs, as only humans can comprehend their conduct. This terrier's eye is always on his master to ascertain, "Am I doing okay, boss?" Seldom can he be stepped upon — he is always alert to every move with that sturdy body of bone and muscle that can be so taut when trouble is expected, to get at vermin or enter a good tussle.

We like the snap of the Wire Fox Terrier, very alive on the lead and full of interest but readily bored with any attempt to get him to pose if he doesn't want to. He can be readily taken into a home and meet other dogs and into motels while travelling.

We do not like the rough type of dog, but rather those that can control their emotions and rarely fight, unless called upon to do so. Since stables and vermin have nearly disappeared there is very little work for the Fox Terrier to do, and therefore there is no need to have a rough dog. They are such proud mothers that when nursing they are always willing to have you help with the "housework".

Even at the earliest age Wires are alert and with a wave of the paw and those bright sharp eyes they almost talk to receive attention.

There are very few problems with the young stock, learning to behave as to roaming, or being rough while running loose. We allow all our stock the run of the lawns and the five acres and they very seldom misuse the privilege. There is always the guidance of a good bitch so that the growing stock is more adaptable to new surroundings when sold.

We find that as pets the darker colorings with tri colors quite prominent are very well liked. However, too much black can look dull. As to ears, the shows should and must help by not giving ribbons to dogs with poor ears, if we are ever going to help this fault.

Keeping the dog in good coat condition is a pleasure. They love to be worked over and kept stripped out at regular intervals and the nails kept tidy. There is no shedding.

Correction is a "must" at an early age, as many dogs take advantage of the easy-going master and could readily become unmanageable and a disgrace to the breed.

We are asked about itchy skins or scratchy dogs. The correct diet will clean up these troubles with any breed, along with proper housing conditions.

Housing today is a matter for a pet, rather than a "working" Wire. We do not like cement runs for this breed because in wet weather they are inclined to get damp and since the terrier is active by nature, he is likely to become a bit mussed up on the legs and underparts. We do like the wire floors in the runs for the Fox Terrier or any smaller breeds. They can keep very clean and white with some good fine hay for the nest box or house. A length of board or two is kept in the run so that they do not get the walk dirty. We use plywood inside. The runs are 4' x 4'; overall size is 16' x 20'. We obtain used fox wire of 1½" mesh, rugged wire that does not give much under the feet of man. All our young stock are kept on wire floors in the runs.

We would be pleased to furnish any information on this breed. more overleaf

KERRY BLUE PROGRAM

by Mrs. Dennis Gardiner

The Record of Conformation Study Group is gathering momentum following the first trial held early this summer. It proved that five judges can give one a reasonably accurate and uniform appraisal of their dogs. It proved that many, many breeders are interested in some type of Permanent Records of Conformation. Letters from breeders and clubs in the United States as well as Canada (not all Kerry Blue breeders) clearly indicate a great desire for the expansion of this program.

There are sceptics, who, if they will contact their nearest Agricultural representative and obtain information about the Holstein program, will find it is a separate operation to the showing of livestock. Although the livelihood of these dairy cattle men depends on their animals, they do not fear, but rather depend on permanent Records of Conformation and Production to improve their herds. Primarily there may have been a difference of opinion, but as the breeder and appraisers gained more knowledge the assessments became more uniform. Therefore it is reasonable to believe the same thing could result for dog breeders.

There are many advantages to this system. The Old Timer admits in his column (Dogs, December, 1961) that he has reversed his opinion, agreeing that, with Permanent Records of Conformation for several generations, together with pedigrees, if one should wish to improve the head or other features, these records would be invaluable. Breeders sell their surplus stock, often wondering if they have sold a show potential. Imagine how it would help their breeding program if they could arrange with the new owners to have their dogs appraised at a certain age and the reports sent to them. In turn if the new owner had assurance that he possessed a dog with show potential, he might make the effort to have it shown, thus increasing show entries.

In letters and comments to date there seems to be general feeling on the looseness of the Breed Standards, allowing too wide a range of personal interpretation. One suggestion: as the dogs in every breed have the same component parts, head, neck, body, why not set up a uniform basic form to which each Breed Standard may be readily adapted, thus producing a word picture detailed enough to radically reduce the element of personal interpretation. The article on Shelties in the November issue of Dogs showing correct and incorrect bone lengths and angles and resultant gait is a good example. The Holstein breeders have gone further. They set up a panel and with the aid of a sculptor had replicas of the cow and bull produced to the most minute detail, color and conformation.

The first Kerry appraisal showed that there was a great deal of work and thought necessary to set up a concise and practical form for appraisal. This will be accomplished only through trial and error. The form for the next appraisal is now being developed. When this is done, it might be wise to turn again to the experience of the Holstein men in setting up a general recording office to handle this program.

At Kerrycroft, Orono, Ont. where the first session was held, the owners had the fronts and rears on three dogs X-rayed to actually see the bone formation and angulation. They have devised a reasonably accurate means of measuring bone lengths and angles. Mrs. Susie Mae Weir is taking slow motion film to see what type of gait their structure produces. It has been suggested that if measurements of as many Kerries as possible be obtained (including top winning dogs) with the aid of an unbiased committee, the perfect skeleton, the word picture of the perfect Kerry and perhaps some day a model of perfection might be set up. In aspiring to the "perfect" dog, of course, environment and temperament must be considered. Some fanciers of other breeds have been measuring and also finding the results revealing. Interested readers may write to Dogs in Canada or Kerrycroft, R.R. #2, Orono, Ont.

THE LHASA APSO

by Mrs. Barbara Ratledge

The origin of dogs, no matter what breed, is always an interesting topic, but when a breed such as the Lhasa Apso (that has proof of existence for at least 800 years) is brought to light, naturally it is of great interest to dog lovers.

Tibet, located in the centre of the continent of Asia, is surrounded on three sides by high mountains, including the lofty Himalayas whose altitude is from 13,000 to 14,000 feet. Because of this high altitude and rarified atmosphere, Tibet has an inhospitable climate, subject to great extremes of heat and cold. A country which is hard on both humans and animals. This is the home of the Lhasa Apso, an exotic little breed, known in Tibet as the "Abso Seng Kye", meaning the Bark Sentinel Lion Dog. It is no wonder, then, that these dogs have such a hardy and vigorous constitution.

There are four breeds native to this country: the Tibetan Terrier, a dog of true Terrier type raised in all parts of the country; The Tibetan Spaniel, an alert toy dog; the Tibetan Mastiff, used extensively as a guard dog and who is inclined to be quite fierce; and the Lhasa Apso. These four breeds have two characteristics in common — the heavy coat of hair that protects them from the rigorous climate—and the tail upcurled over the back.

This is a country where danger lurks constantly, and so the powerful Tibetan Mastiffs are used as outside guard dogs. The Lhasa Apso has been bred for centuries as special indoor sentinels, guarding against intruders, for this country has no accommodation for travellers other than in the homes of the Tibetans. These little dogs are never allowed outside the Temples or homes and are well adapted for this sentinel work, as their keen hearing and well developed instincts enable them to detect friends from strangers.

The Lhasa Apso has never lost this characteristic of keen watchfulness, nor has he lost his hardy nature. These two features should always be developed since they are of outstanding merit. The Lhasa Apso are easily trained, never requiring drastic punishment, and are responsive to kindness. To anyone they trust they are most obedient. Their high intelligence enables them to comprehend quickly what is desired of them. They are neither stubborn nor bull-headed. They will work steadily and willingly as long as they know they are pleasing their master, and their beautiful dark eyes will shine appealingly as they wait for some sign of appreciation.

The Lhasa Apso is a rare breed and, as travel has always been limited in this wild mountainous country, visitors have had no opportunity to see these dogs as they are kept within the sanctity of the homes of the mighty in the villages around the sacred city of Apso. For this reason they were never mentioned by early travellers. The breed originates in Lhasa, the capital city of Tibet, and were bred mainly in the Lamaseries and villages around this sacred city. They cannot be bought—the few that have come to the outside world have been given as gifts. Some of them were given by the Dalai Lama to the Imperial Families of China, where it is considered a great honor to receive one of these dogs, as it supposedly brought good fortune to the recipient. The Panchon Lama took with him on his travels his two favorite dogs—a golden Lhasa Apso female, and a black and white male.

It has been suggested that the Lhasa Apso has a place in the religion of Tibet, but evidence for this belief has never been brought forth from this mysterious land.

The Lhasa Apso is a beautiful and distinctive dog. They are a small, short-backed, compact dog. Very hardy, extremely adaptable, of very high intelligence, and in disposition—inherently faithful. Altogether a delightful companion and at the same time a discriminating and courageous guard. The male stands 10" to 11" at the shoulder, with the bitch slightly smaller. They have well developed bodies; well ribbed up with strong loins and good quarters and thighs. The straight hard very dense coat of good length enchances the beauty of the dog, and they remain neat in appearance even when not groomed. This profuse coat which is inclined to be shaggy, is possibly the reason for the "Apso" in the name, which is from the Tibetan "rapso" meaning goat-like. They are bred to be Lion-like in appearance (in honor of the lions which saved Buddha's life when he was pursued by his enemies) so the golden colors are preferred. Other colors seen are sandy, honey, dark grizzle, slate, smoke, parti-color, black, white or brown. Dark tips to the beard and ears are an asset. The skull should be narrow, falling away behind the eyes in a marked degree; not quite flat, but not domed or apple shaped. They should have a straight foreface of fair length. The nose is black - about 1½" in length, or the length from the tip of the nose to the corner of the eye should be roughly one-third of the total length from nose to the back of the skull. The mouth is level, otherwise undershot preferred. The muzzle should be of medium length but not square. The eyes are dark brown, very expressive; neither very large or full nor very small and sunken. There should be heavy head furnishings with a good fall over the eyes; good whiskers and beard. The ear pendants should be heavily feathered. The forelegs should be straight, with fore and hind legs heavily covered with hair. The well feathered feet should be round and cat-like with good pads. The tail, well feathered, should be carried over the back in a curl. The length from the point of the shoulder to the point of the buttocks should be longer than the height at the withers.

There is no problem in the care of the Lhasa Apso, for they are healthy and have a life span of 19 years given normal care and attention. They reach their full maturity at three years of age, and remain the dog they are at this time for the rest of their lives. He carries himself proudly. He has a springy walk and seems to prance. However, the movement is level and the dog does not bounce up and down. Their feet are picked up directly off the ground, which accounts for the bouncy appearance (thus the term "Lhasa Bounce"). In actuality the Lhasa Apso is not a Terrier even though they have a Terrier head and mouth. They do not have the chiselling and Terrier attributes of most Terriers. Faults to avoid are too long a back, a roach back, too prominent eyes, too short a nose, and a curly coat. The eyes and nose of the Lhasa Apso should have nothing of the Pekingese about them.

The Lhasa Apso does not demand attention. They are an easy dog to live with and are a pleasure to have as a companion. They are very clean and have no odor. No trimming of the coat is necessary. They are neither a sissy nor a fighter, but are gay and alert and play with enthusiasm. They are a really true companion whose greatest pleasure is to lie contentedly near you. They are happily at home in a city apartment or a country estate. At the age of six months they are beginning to keep a watchful eye on those whose acquaintance they have not made. Children and Lhasas make a wonderful combination as the dog joins in the games with the children, at the same time keeping a watchful eye over them. They do not readily make up with strangers, which is both fortunate and unfortunate as people are drawn to the dog and those who love dogs may feel rebuffed—however this restraint is never accompanied by a snap or growl.

Familiar for centuries in its native land, the Lhasa Apso has only become known in England in very recent years. The breed was first brought there in 1928 by Mrs. Eric Bailey, whose husband Colonel Eric Bailey was for many years British Political Officer for Tibet, and it was on one of their annual visits that Mrs. Bailey was presented with her first Lhasa Apsos. Mrs. Bailey bred these two and later secured other stock. The Lhasa Apso was originally shown in England in November, 1929, at the Ladies Kennel Club Show. About 1934 the Tibetan Breeds Association was formed and a strong movement started to get the breed and type, according to the standards, set up. It was then that the present name was established.

In the beginning of the 1930s Mr. Suydum Cutting of New York, interested in the natural life of the land of Tibet, began a lengthy correspondence with the Dalai Lama and later with the Regent and received from them his first pair of Tibetan Lhasa Apsos as a token of friendship and goodwill. They were a black and white male (Taikoo) and a female of the color of raw silk (Dinkie). From their breeding came colors of black and white, grizzle and white, golden, honey, and brown and white. Over the years Mr. Cutting has received additional stock from the Dalai Lama and it is not uncommon for the Dalai Lama to be the breeder of some of the dogs exhibited in the U.S.A. The last pair to come over was in 1950. Mr. Cutting returned the graciousness of the people by sending them such articles as Steuben Glass, sterling silver, and other articles not obtainable in Tibet.

The pure Tibetan Lhasa Apsos are the same as they have always been, and when they are well fed and groomed will astound you. To you who are fortunate enough to own a pure Tibetan Lhasa, carry on this pure line and be as conscientious in your breeding as is humanly possible. Do not let this strain become tainted with the blood of dogs of questionable heritage. Do not use impure blood just to produce a shaggy dog or bigger litters. Breed for quality—not quantity. Breed to produce a dog as close to the standards of The Canadian Kennel Club as possible and you will feel that you have done your best for this very distinctive breed. Our Judges will, after judging dogs of both the pure and the impure strain, soon learn to distinguish the difference and the pure strain will win out. Then you will know that all your efforts have born the fruits of your loving labours.

MANCHESTER TERRIER

by Ruth Turner

The surest way to anger a standard Manchester breeder is to say, does he come from Toy blood.

The Canadian Kennel Club, obedient to the wishes of its Standard breeders, has kept the two varieties two separate breeds, although the American Kennel Club two years ago made the Manchesters one variety, over the objections of Standard breeders.

more overleaf

The Toy of today is far different from the spindly dome type three and four pounder shown only ten years ago in the States. The Standard, although not popular with the public, is used by the Toy people to upgrade their little ones. At a recent show half the Toys should and would have been disqualified had the judge ordered a weighing.

Some of the Toys at that show had more bone and frame than a 20-pound Standard, and an overgrown Toy shown as a male Standard at nine months weighing 20 pounds was named Winners Dog.

The most pleasant moment I had at the Exhibition last summer was when my dogs lost to a Canadian bitch, bred by F. MacLean and shown by Miss Bay Meyers, called Mehitable, for she was the half sister of my own Am. and Can. Ch. Willowdale Jewel, purchased from Fred MacLean and used as the basis of my Standard Manchesters.

I have tried to keep all Standard blood. The picture shown here will bear out the present quality of the larger dogs in conforming to those shown in England in 1892 and again in 1933.

At the present time there is a motion before the American Manchester Club, whose annual meeting will be in April at the International show, to remove the weight limit on Standards.

Our Betsy, as we called Jewel, had a tremendous frame but not coarse; there is a difference. She was rugged, with a head that looked like Starkie Ben but better fill under the eyes. Until the day she died at the age of 12 in August, last year, she stood on the tips of her toes — the most perfect feet I have ever seen.

The Canadians should be proud of their kennels. I often hear the comment "the dogs are poor quality, American shows are best." But I can tell you no one need back from the Willowdale Manchesters, the West Highlands; the Kerry Blues; unfortunately I do not know many of the other strains for when they come to the States and are then absorbed into the kennels it is impossible to trace the pedigree unless you are breeding the particular dog.

My greatest thrill is to take in a good Standard dog in the Terrier Group before an old timer and have him "give the dog the works". And my joy knows no bounds when I come out with a placing, for I know the judge had to buck public popularity to put up a Manchester.

So many times they are called miniature Dobermans! Dobermann was a dog catcher, and used the Standard Manchester, the Rottweiler and other types to create a guard dog. And a guard dog he is and should be so considered. I warn customers that Standard Manchesters are introverts, different from almost all other terriers, who are definitely extraverts.

Although we breed Toys and have won far more with our Toys than our Standards, my first love are my Standards and proud will I be when I breed the Best-in-Show dog.

Ch. Mary-Bee is a great-granddaughter of Willowdale Jewel and has placed twice in Terrier Group under the greatest of terrier competition — Devon with 700 dogs, Scranton with some 600 dogs, under terrier specialists Dr. William Montgomery and Percy Roberts.

We do more breeding than showing but in a couple of years my husband and I will be retired and then we can follow the show circuits. At that time I'll show these critics of the "old-style" type Standard Manchester.

MINIATURE SCHNAUZER

by Mrs. W. Gottschalk

As far as we can ascertain, the first publicity of the breed appeared in 1491, when Albrecht Durer, a great German painter, incorporated a Schnauzer in some of his pictures. It is thus established that the breed is a very old, long-established one.

I believe the original Schnauzer was a standard size. The giant and the standard sizes are shown in the Working Group — the Miniature in the Terrier Group. The original Schnauzer is believed to have resulted from a cross between the black German Poodle, the gray Spitz and the Wire-Haired Pinscher.

Schnauzers were first shown at Hanover, Germany, in the 1900's. They were classed as Pinschers. The profuse whiskers earned them the name of Schnauzer, the German name for beard. (Pronounced schnoutzer).

The Miniature size is derived from crossing the Standard with an Affenpinscher, the latter a very small dog with a short face, very harsh, wiry coat and black in color. They were closely inbred for the short faces the Affenpinschers produced.

In Canada and the United States the salt and pepper color is generally considered the most attractive. Following are the all black and the black and silver. Schnauzers have "agouti" hair; that is, layers of distinct colors on each hair — white, gray and black, rather than a mixture of each color, as might be expected. This is the reason the breed should be hand stripped when shaggy. Any other method of removing the old coat ruins the color and texture.

The ideal Miniature Schnauzer is around 13½" the official size is 12" to 14" for both dogs and bitches and the weight preferably not below 12 pounds, as primarily the Schnauzer is not a toy, but a robust dog.

The Miniature Schnauzer has a tremendous personality. Even when asserting himself as a watch dog, the appearance is attractively alert.

He is an exceptionally easy dog to train, to housebreak and for the show ring. We ourselves rarely have had to train our dogs for show manners. Given the freedom of the home they adjust so readily and are always anxious to please their owners. Happy pals for children, babies are their special friends. Left to guard the owner's car, no stranger can approach without receiving a severe warning.

The Miniature Schnauzer will accept as a friend practically any other dog. In fact we find many breeders of larger dogs turning to the Miniature Schnauzer as their second breed. This is a dog that needs no special grooming. They have no "doggy odor", they do not shed their hair. Brushing their coats to remove dead hair, combing their whiskers and leg furnishings are the most important part of their grooming.

We went into this breed as an experiment over 11 years ago, and have never regretted it. Our first Schnauzer was an 11-months old male. He accepted us as his family immediately, after completing his American and Canadian championship. He settled into our home as though he had been born there, and down through the doggy generations we are still showing his descendants, continuous line breeding.

STAFFORDSHIRE BULL TERRIERS STAFFORDSHIRE TERRIERS

by Robert N. Phillips

Some confusion exists between these breeds because of the similarity in names.

The breeders of Staffordshire Terriers in North America are not responsible for the selection of the breed name. When The American Kennel Club first recognized the breed in 1936 they (the AKC) insisted on the name "Staffordshire Terrier", much to the amazement of the breeders who had requested the name "American Bullterrier". Several years ago the Staffordshire Terrier Club of America again requested the AKC to change the name to American Bullterrier, but to no avail. A similar proposed amendment in Canada, introduced for the purpose of keeping the record straight, was defeated.

In 1949 the AKC, at the request of the Staffordshire Terrier Club of America ruled that Staffordshire Terriers and Staffordshire Bull Terriers were two separate and distinct breeds. I was notified that if any cross breeding between the two breeds took place the offspring of such matings would not be eligible for AKC registration. On the basis of this ruling I requested the CKC to grant recognition of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier as a separate and distinct breed and this was done. I obtained a copy of the breed standard from the Kennel Club (England) which I sent on to the CKC and the English Standard was later adopted.

Had the breeds been accepted as one, the Staffordshire Bull Terrier would soon have lost its identity in America. As a separate breed it can be developed in Canada along exactly the same lines as in England, thus retaining its true identity.

Regarding weights of Staffordshire Terriers, to my knowledge there never has been any specified weights in the AKC Standard. During a 15-year-period, 1936 to 1951, most of the males weighed 60 to 70 pounds, females 50 to 60 lbs. There were smaller dogs in those days and perhaps they are breeding them smaller today, but only a year or two ago I saw a picture of a new AKC champion whose weight was stated as 62 pounds.

Before the breed was recognized by The Canadian Kennel Club there were some 30 to 40 breeders in Ontario, but by the time recognition was granted less than half a dozen were still active, many of the old-timers having passed on. Failure to have the breed name changed to American Bullterrier had much to do with the virtually ending of the breed in Canada at that time. According to Volume 63, Stud Book, a litter was registered in 1959, the first in Canada in several years.

For detailed description of the Staffordshire Bull Terrier see Dogs, January, 1961. — Ed.

THE WELSHMAN

by Barbara Pirrie

The original Welshman was used, as were other terrier breeds, for hunting, usually with a pack of hounds, and was kept for his stamina, gameness and tenacity. Their quarry were usually animals which went to ground, such as badger, otter or fox. Unfortunately, the Welsh Terrier in many cases was a typical Celt and took a little too seriously the Welsh motto, 'Better death than shame". Alas, several of the first show dogs met an early demise upholding this tradition. In almost every case however they met their end not from the animal they were hunting, but from over zealous hounds mistaking them, through their black and tan color, for fox or otter, hence, the introduction of the white Terrier (Fox Terrier or Sealyham) into the Hound Packs.

The Welsh were first shown as a distinct breed in 1889 in England. Prior to this they were exhibited in classes such as Working Terrier, Black and Tan Wire Haired Terrier and Any Variety Terrier. From 1885 to 1889 they were registered jointly with the Black and Tan Terrier. However, records show that the first pedigree maintained of a Welsh Terrier dates back to 1850.

The first Welsh to appear on this side of the ocean was a bitch with the remarkable name of "Which", and a dog with an equally odd appellation of "'I' Other". They were imported in 1886 and these two made up the "larger" part of an exhibit of three in the first class of Welsh Terriers shown at Westminster in 1890. This year's entry was 32, a notable increase.

Now, why hasn't this grand little dog become more popular? Certainly not many breeds can boast of having one of their brethren ensconced in the White House, where "Charlie" is holding the fort against "Pushinka", the Russian dog. Not many breeds can brag that one of its members played "touch" football with the President of the United States — on several occasions Charlie stole the ball!

Where would you find a breed that would fit so compactly into your life? Their height — 15", makes them very adaptable to apartment living and travelling in small cars. Their weight — 20 pounds, makes them economical to feed, and I've found that if they are not quite satisfied, a new pair of slippers will fill them up nicely! Color — black and tan; coat — wiry, such that with a little brushing every day, you only have the need of being "drowned" in a bath about twice a year. Disposition — excellent, and it is quoted in many sources that "they are the least aggressive of all the terrier breeds".

I'm sure you're saying to yourself, "these dogs surely must be at the top of the Terrier registration list". In 1959 they were 10th, but when examined a little more closely we find that No. 1 on the list, Scottish Terriers, registered 482 dogs; No. 2, the Wire Fox Terrier registered 457 dogs, and the Welsh (prepare yourself) 49 dogs!

First, we'll have to be honest and admit that many of our sales go to the Wire Fox Terrier. They simply are a flashier dog. I once heard the Welsh likened to the Wire Fox, as a hackney to a race horse, and this to me is a perfect analogy. The Wire Fox is a much racier dog, 15½ inches — 18 pounds, compared to the Welsh's cobby 15 inch — 20 pound frame. All men don't like tall, willowy, girls, some prefer the more robust type, so there must be a few souls who would appreciate this in a dog as well. Do they ever get a chance to see a Welsh? In the whole of Canada in 1960 there were only 57 in competition as compared with 208 Wire Fox Terriers. It's rather difficult to get enthusiastic about something you've never seen! From the lack of demand, comes the lack of breeders and this is a problem, because it's very difficult to sell a dog that's never been born! Last year two of the long time Canadian breeders of Welsh went out of the breed. From time to time new breeders start out with great idealism, but unfortunately idealism in itself is seldom a sufficient reward, and after a year or three they throw in the towel. And can you blame them? I find it very difficult to, as I've very nearly joined their ranks on several occasions.

Now, what's the solution? Get your Welshman out before public! If they are good specimens, take them to dog shows where you can usually pick up a variety of ribbons to show your neighbours. For the first few shows you may be the only Welsh exhibitor there, until some day someone spots your dog at a show and decides that his own is nicer. Then he enters the next show, and the ball starts rolling. Unfortunately, not all dogs are perfect examples of the breed but these too have an excellent show case — the Obedience ring and walk your dog up and down "Main Street" every opportunity you get. You'll be amazed how many new friends you'll make, most of whom will say, "I had an Airedale when I was younger and I haven't seen one in years". Enjoy every moment of this, for where else can you get a captive audience with potential converts! Whichever way your interest lies, in shows, Obedience or just plain walking and talking, get those Welshmen out so people can get a look at "our Dog"!

Many Welsh have distinguished themselves in Obedience — in the United States the record from 1938 through '59 is CD — 63; CDX — 22; UD — 5; UDT — 2. This is quite an impressive record for a breed registering less than 1,000 dogs per year, and I'm sure when the totals are in for '60 and '61, these figures will jump considerably.

Last year in the United States a Welsh, Timothy of Lleyn, scored a perfect 200 in Utility — a score that any breed would be proud of. Previous to this he had been shown 63 times, with an average of

more overleaf

194, an envious record. Not that we'll ever hope to equal this but last year my bitch, Ch. Calonyn Mafon, completed her Canadian and American CD with an average of 193 in six straight shows after nine weeks of training. She also had the honor of winning, at the German Shepherd Trials last year, the trophy for "Highest Scoring Dog in Novice A of dogs trained with the club last year".

The slogan of the Welsh Terrier Club of America sums up the breed in one neat sentence — "Taffy was a Welshman, Taffy was a thief, Taffy came to my house and stole my heart, not beef"!

WEST HIGHLAND WHITE TERRIERS

by Dorothea Daniell-Jenkins

The "Westie" is a most satisfactory all-purpose dog — small, strong, hardy, easy to groom, affectionate, intelligent. He is ideal as a companion, efficient as a guard and retains to the full his qualities and ability as a Working Terrier.

He has a natural appeal, both in looks and character. Steadily increasing success in the show ring has not spoilt the temperament of show dogs or of the breed in general. In all-breed competition Westies are included in top dogs of the year in 1961 in both Canada and the United States and Specialty shows are well supported with entries of extraordinarily uniform and high overall quality, well put down and conditioned. In Obedience they also have a fair and steady record of achievement.

Equipped by nature to deal with fox and badger at close quarters, they never lose the hunting instinct. It is fascinating to watch a mother training her puppies, while still quite small, to take the different "holds". Westies of all ages enjoy among themselves a game where first one and then the other is on top and worrying at the throat of the "victim." I have seen a pair make quick work of digging out and killing a groundhog and account easily for rats and mice. One dog (a Best in Show winner at that!) caught and killed a bat which had strayed down the chimney and been driven by a flourished newspaper to fly on a low level round the room.

meet your new president

J. W. (Mac) MacCallum, Toronto, newly elected President of The Canadian Kennel Club, is one of the best-known figures in Canadian dogdom. A member of the CKC for approximately two decades, he has served on the Board of Directors for many years. He is undoubtedly the man most frequently seen in the show ring, as show superintendent or chief ring steward. Many stewards credit their ability and composure in the ring to training classes he has held. He also devised a measuring stick which has on many occasions neatly settled doubts about the actual height of an entry.

Mac grew up with dogs and horses on his family's farm near Renfrew, north of Ottawa. The MacCallums showed horses, mainly trotting horses, Morgans and Arabians, as well as Shetland ponies. He has maintained his interest in horses and is still active in The Canadian Pony Society. A dozen or more breed and specialty clubs know him as a member, and he is frequently called upon to address clubs on affairs of the ring or The Canadian Kennel Club.

The new President has a working knowledge of many breeds. He has bred and shown and ofttimes judged Bulldogs, Smooth Fox Terriers, Cocker Spaniels, Pekingese, Pomeranians and of late, Schipperkes, Miniature Pinschers and Great Danes. His Schipperke kennels are the largest in Canada.

NOTICE

SUBJECT: Colour inheritance and disqualifications as such apply to registration of dogs and breed standards.

In the November issue of "Dogs in Canada" notices were published seeking comments and views on the following questions: (1) the standard for the Boxer; (2) the standard for the German Shepherd Dog; (3) registration of white Boxers.

Mr. W. J. Monaghan, Chairman of the New Breeds and Standards Committee, has taken up with Dr. C. G. Hickman the question of inheritance of white coat colour in dogs, and the following is an extract from a letter, dated September 26th, 1961, which Mr. Monaghan received from Dr. Hickman:

"Resulting from our recent telephone conversation, I have reviewed the literature on the inheritance of white coat colour in dogs.

"I find that there are basically three types of white in addition to albinoism. One is dominant, one is recessive and the other is a homozygote of the alleles causing brindle. I have not been able to find any reference to a deleterious condition being associated with whiteness. I would judge that white coat colour, aside from that associated with albinoism, does not produce any harmful side effects.

"The preferences of a breed association with regard to colour is of course the business of the association which should have full rights to decide the colour characteristics of their breeds.

"Colour restrictions will not do genetic damage to the improvement of a breed unless the restrictions limit the selection for more important traits. This is not likely to be a problem in well-established breeds unless a narrow genetic base was created because of original colour restrictions and high rates of inbreeding thus resulted."

The questions which prompted the publication of the several notices referred to above will be considered by the Board of Directors at its annual meeting in February at which time the report of the New Breeds and Standards Committee will be placed before the Board. The Committee's consideration of such questions will be greatly assisted if those persons interested in such matters, when submitting their views and any information or data in their possession, will comment specifically on the following questions:

(1) Will you distinguish between "white" and "albinoism" and then particularly comment on the deleterious affects of either or both, indicating whether or not you know or have evidence of any such arising as the result of a dog being just plain "white".

(2) Will you also comment on the following: If white is acceptable in such breeds as the Poodle, the Samoyed, the West Highland White Terrier, the Maltese, why is it so unacceptable in the Boxer, the German Shepherd?

(3) If it were decided, in the case of a specific breed, to debar a "white" puppy or dog from registration, will you please indicate whether or not all the other puppies in the litter should be debarred from registration too; and/or whether or not the registration of the sire and dam should be cancelled - supporting your views, comments, suggestions, etc. by stating why you feel your view is in the best interests of the breed you have in mind.

(4) What are your views and comments about "hybrid vigour", the probable benefits, the deleterious effects, etc. ?

(5) If you are in favour of the enactment of a rule to provide for the debarment from registration of a dog or a litter because of some disqualification, such as "white", or a rule to cancel the registration for some characteristic forbidden by the standard of the breed, how do you suggest that the provisions of such a rule be enforced. Please outline in detail.

All responses should be addressed to the Secretary, The Canadian Kennel Club, 667 Yonge St., Toronto 5, Ont. so as to be received not later than January 25th, 1962.

DOGS and PEOPLE

William H. A. Carr, columnist and reporter for the New York Post and a member of the Dog Writers Association of America, has been presented with the Albert Schweitzer Medal of the Animal Welfare Institute in recognition of his outstanding articles urging decent standards in the care and treatment of dogs and other animals.

Through his efforts a major reform in conditions in one laboratory was made and interest stimulated to follow this good example elsewhere.

Died: Mr. J. J. Stephenson, 64, owner of Trailway Kennels, Mount Forest, Ont., after a long painful heart ailment. In his 12 years as a member of The Canadian Kennel Club he imported English Cockers, Bloodhounds and Doberman Pinschers from England. Although not able for the past four years to breed or show, he still looked forward to Dogs in Canada each month, reports Mrs. Irene McCall, who plans to continue with the kennels.

Tom Murphy and friend.

T. J. Murphy of Kingston, Ont. undoubtedly owes his life to his Black Labrador, Annwyn's Tric or Treat, better known as "Pat".

Mr. Murphy, hunting with Charlie Compeau and Rev. F. M. Devine, took a punt out to retrieve a duck. Winds and currents blew him out into the channel off Wolfe Island, in the St. Lawrence River, about 1,500 yards from shore. Helpless with only a small paddle, Murphy prepared for the end, as every wave threw spray over man and dog. His one hope was to give the big Lab the rope. Unfaltering, the dog made his way through the icy water, towing the punt. After nearly two chilling hours, the pair were ashore.

"It was the most courageous thing I've ever seen a dog do," said Father Devine. Pat, who has won many ribbons and trophies in the ring and in the field, was bred by Frank Jones, Annwyn Kennels, Minesing, Ont.

Tribute is paid to the late John Milner (Dogs, December) Honorary President of The Canadian Kennel Club, who recently passed away. Mr. Milner, who came to Canada from Leeds, England, in 1906, started his Corona Kennels in the vicinity of Winnipeg in 1910. In time both owner and kennels became so well known in Weston, a district of Winnipeg, that when a new cinema was opened, it was named Corona. Later a street was named for Mr. Milner. To hundreds of people he was known as "Uncle Jack." His kennels were respected across Canada and in England as well. From time to time he wrote articles for the Winnipeg papers and for this magazine. The Canadian Kennel Club and the dog fancy has lost a great man.

As far as can be ascertained Mrs. Maureen Samuels is the only Ontario Chihuahua breeder with two champions both holding Canadian and American CD degrees in Obedience.

Mrs. E. T. Driver, (Manville Kennels) Collins Bay, Ont., has been invited to assist in the Standard Poodle Ring at the Crufts Show in England, a singular honor . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. B. (Tim) Reid, (Oak Gables Kennels) Stittsville, Ont., flew to England December 23, where they visited with Mrs. Reid's parents . . .

Died: Suddenly, on December 7 at Sunnybrooke Hospital, Toronto, Major Fred Drayton, Draybrook Kennels, Mono Road, Ont., breeder of Scottish Terriers.

Mrs. Donald Lyle, "Wycliffe," Vancouver, B.C. travelled 1,000 miles to attend the Central California Poodle Specialty and the San Mateo KC show. Two hundred Poodles were entered at the Specialty, including 37 Standards; the San Mateo entry was 1,200. At the Specialty Mrs. Lyle's Standard, Wycliffe Theodore, went WD for five points; Dalwynne Malinda (Ch. Wycliffe Thomas ex Ch. Wycliffe Monica) won the Junior Puppy Bitch Class; Acadia Barbara Beloved went Reserve Bitch (Ch. Wycliffe Thomas ex Ch. Wycliffe Nicola, CDX) and Ch. Wycliffe Thomas won the Stud Dog Class "with a ringful of himself and six large black children" and was roundly applauded. These wins were under Judge Schoenberg. At San Mateo, under Mrs. Putnam, Ch. Wycliffe Victoria of Acadia went BOS; Acadia Barbara Beloved went Reserve Bitch. Wycliffe Xavier, exactly six months old, took the big Junior Puppy Dog class, while Dalwynne Lariss (Wycliffe Thomas ex Ch. Wycliffe Monica) took the Junior Puppy Bitch class. (For picture of Thomas going BIS see Recent Winners.) Mrs. Lyle had earlier spent a weekend in Bozeman, Montana holding an instructors' clinic in Obedience for the Gallatin Dog Club.

At a recent CACIB show held in Holland, the Dutch judge, Mr. Franzen, gave the CACIB in a big Collie entry to Mrs. Kat's English-bred blue merle dog, Ravensglen Silver Bullet (Ch. Westcarr's Blue Minoru ex the Canadian-bred Hawthorne Mist of Ronas Hill). This winner has captured several CACIB's in Europe and is believed to be a champion in Switzerland. Hawthorne Mist has five champion brothers and sisters in Canada, writes breeder, Mrs. G. F. Lovett of Stittsville, Ont.

Recent visitor to the office of Dogs was Mr. Walter Riome of Moose Jaw, during a visit to a number of Ontario cities as well as Detroit, Mich. He had just returned home in time for his 80th birthday. Anticipating a quiet evening, he was coerced into visiting a photographer. There he was astounded to see his three sons, Donald of Victoria, B.C., Howard from Toronto and Stanley from Nipawin. After a festive dinner he returned home, to find the house full of guests. A pioneer in Moose Jaw, Mr. Riome will next year celebrate his 50th year in that city. In addition to purebred dogs (Poodles in particular), this hearty octogenarian's interests are the Moose Jaw Humane Society of which he is president, the exhibition board and the horticultural society.

The wheel chair presented to Mr. Bob Carrier on the event of his 57th birthday was the gift of all clubs in the British Columbia area, writes Mrs. Elsie Murray. Dogs, (October, 1961) had specified the Greater Vancouver Kennel Club as the donor.

More than 125,000 spectators lined the route of the Hamilton Safety and Christmas Parade of 1961. Prominent in the parade was the float of the Hamilton Obedience Club which carried a wide variety of breeds in order to acquaint the public with the fact that Obedience work is enjoyed by breeds of many types.

DOGS and PEOPLE

Died: Am and Can. Ch. Laddy-Pak Uncle Wiggily, six-year-old Basset Hound owned by Mrs. Charles Woods of East Natick, Mass.

Landseer owners are elated over the recent wins of Montana Mustang, Newfoundland shown by Seeward Kennels, Clinton, Conn. This is the first time, it is reported, that a Newfoundland of the Landseer line has obtained an American championship in 27 years . . . Can. Ch. Royal Shah's Challenger, American Cocker Spaniel owned by Mrs. Ruthe Stringfellow of North Tonawanda, N.Y., went BOV for two points at the Onandaga Kennel Association All-Breed Show held at Syracuse, N.Y., November 12, handled by owner. Then, handled by ten-year-old Sally Sue Stringfellow, he topped the Open A. Junior Showmanship class.

Mrs. Sally Vertulia of St. Catharines has returned home after a six-months visit in Fort Wayne, Ind. Her English Setter, Ch. Ludar's Ludette, obtained her American championship by going Best of Breed at the Progressive show held in Detroit.

Ch. Dane-Acres Challenge, Great Dane owned by Miss Lois Burpee of Moncton, N.B., took Winners Male at the Lewiston Auburn Dog Show under the well-known judge, Mrs. Virginia Keckler. "Teddy" was handled by his owner.

Newfoundland fanciers will be sorry to learn of the death of Ch. Eskimo Grey Mug, owned by Mrs. Veronica Payne (Dina Ken Kennels, Reg'd.,) of Bathurst, N.B. and Little Bear Kennels. Born the year the Eskimos won the Grey Cup, he was given this significant name. He died of a heart condition. At the time of writing Mrs. Payne was confined to hospital. . . . Died suddenly of leptospirosis, Mrs. Dorothy R. Vaughan's famous blond Cocker Spaniel familiarly known as "Freddie", in Key West, Florida.

terrier club activities

BRITISH COLUMBIA ALL-TERRIER CLUB

by Mrs. J. S. Leedham
1675 Austin Road
Coquitlam, New Westminster, B.C.

This club was inaugurated in September, 1958. We are now in our fourth year. The idea to start an All Terrier Club was the brain-child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leedham who felt a need to get terriers back in the shows. At that time they were fast disappearing from the show ring and since the start of the club it is a joy to see a larger number of terriers competing for honors.

From a handful of members who met at that first meeting we have grown to between 35 and 40 members. We have 14 or 15 different terrier breeds represented and more coming along all the time.

The executive for 1960-61 was returned to office for another year and is as follows: President, Mrs. E. Stewart; Vice-President, Mr. J. Leedham; Secretary Treasurer: Mr. R. C. Newby.

The aims of the club as set out in our constitution are as follows: The encouragement and development and scientific breeding of purebred terriers.

To cooperate with The Canadian Kennel Club toward the betterment of dogs and to assist and educate owners of terriers in the proper care and handling of such dogs.

To hold shows.

To encourage people to study the breed Standard and rules pertaining to shows.

To foster and encourage sportsmanship and good fellowship in all matters pertaining to purebred dogs.

Our major project for 1962 is the All Terrier Specialty on May 20, to which we are looking forward.

It is too early at this time to discuss other projects but we will be continuing the live model discussions that were so interesting in the early Fall.

THE ALL TERRIER CLUB OF CAN.

by Jane R. Devlin
P.O. Box 436, Thornhill, Ont.

The All Terrier Club of Canada was formed in November 1957 and has held four successful Championship Specialty Shows and has also held three Booster Shows in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show. We are again planning a Booster Show for 1962.

The aims and objects of the club (as set down in our constitution) shall be to foster and promote the interest of these breeds comprising the Terrier Group, to encourage breeders of terriers to make the breed and its qualities wider known, and to assist breeders in every way. And to hold Championship Shows for all or any Terrier Breeds. We have an active membership of 57 ordinary members and two associate members. There are 14 terrier breeds represented in our membership.

During the past year we have had a number of very enlightening Educational meetings, under the leadership of Mrs. D. T. Weir ably assisted by Mrs. Ross Pirrie and Mrs. Eric Golby, and we are looking forward to many more in the future. These educational meetings are open to any one interested in the breeding and handling of purebred dogs, and are not limited to the terrier breeds alone. Any one of the executive members listed below will be glad to give any information regarding these meetings: Mr. James G. MacFarlane, Richmond Hill, Ont., President; Mr. John Devlin, Jr., Thornhill, Ont., 1st Vice-President; Mrs. Rowena Tate, Scarboro, Ont., 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Jane R. Devlin, Thornhill, Ont., Secretary; Mr. C. T. Wright, Islington, Ont., Treasurer.

We are now planning our Specialty Show for May, 1962 and are looking forward to bringing to Canada a judge who has never been here before: Gen. E. B. McKinley of Lexington, Ky.

Foster urges Public Relations

by Evelyn Unkelback

Better public relations are needed as a deterrent to public disenchantment with dog owners in general.

So maintains Frank Foster Davis, noted judge. Speaking at the Manhattan Dog Fanciers Luncheon Club in New York, he pointed out that while it is mostly the single pet owners who are responsible for the growing wave of anti-dog legislation in the United States, the serious fancier will have to play a bigger part in educating those owners in control, care and responsibility. He came out in favour of the so-called "leash laws", whereby dogs are restricted to their owners' properties unless on a leash. Such laws, he said, are a boon in controlling contagious "street diseases", to say nothing of reducing the number of mongrel puppies resulting from "street breedings". Further, such laws restrict the nuisances and damages caused by loose dogs.

Mr. Davis suggested that dog food companies might also engage in some worthwhile public relations by distributing instructive literature with their products. This would create an awareness of responsibility among purchasers, especially those owning a dog for the first time.

There is also such a thing as public relations in the show ring said Mr. Davis, for there are usually people present who are trying to decide on just what breed to buy. Thus, when two terriers are permitted to snap at each other in an effort to produce alertness, the novice observer gets the impression that the breed is vicious. Or, when Shepherds are gaited 15 or 20 times around the ring, the same novice might feel that the breed requires too much exercise. Mr. Davis admitted that some of this nonsense was the responsibility of the judges.

He stated that he always demands a loose lead when a dog was in motion. On a loose lead, no dog can hide his own defects. On the other hand, a smart handler can cover a multitude of sins by employing a tight lead and stringing-up the dog.

Questioned about his practice of never touching a dog around the mouth, Mr. Davis advised that he wasn't afraid of viciousness, but that he had some qualms about transmitting germs or disease from one dog to another. He noted that this practice was now prevalent in Canada, although it was not generally observed by judges in the States.

Mr. Davis closed his remarks with the confession that he had not placed many dogs which he would have loved to own himself, and that he had placed others over them because of closer adherence to the Standards. His job, he emphasized, was not to rewrite the Standards.

The club's monthly meeting continues to be held at Luchow's on the third Wednesday of every month. All dog lovers are invited to attend. The club is unofficial, in that it operates without benefit of regular officers, members or dues. The price of the luncheon is the only charge. In the past year dog fanciers from England, Australia, Brazil, Canada, France, India and Japan have been welcomed. ■

Henrickson and Olsson have shown that the present German Shepherd Dog population in Sweden can be expected to produce about 17.5% of affected pups when both parents have been proven by radiography to have normal hip joints. Snavely showed that 21% were affected in his experiments. Both figures are surprisingly similar, which would suggest their accuracy. If in the general population apparently normal dogs can be expected to produce approximately one defective pup in every five, how can that trait ever be eliminated? It would seem that the secret lies in the fact that these dogs are apparently normal but they are carriers of the trait. The German Shepherd Dog has existed for several hundred generations and dysplasia has become an integral part of the genetic makeup; other animals have hip dysplasia but no great heredity problem exists because the disease has imposed limitations on the individual which makes reproduction undesirable, difficult or impossible. The dog unfortunately is fairly easily kept, widely raised, prolific and the German Shepherd Dog in particular is a popular breed. There is therefore every reason to expect that any genetic trait will only be confined by the limits of transportation, which in this day and age causes little resriction. If the genetic traits of conformation and coat type, for example, appear in German Shepherd Dogs throughout the world, it may be expected that the hip dysplasia trait could be present throughout the world and in time would affect all dogs of this breed. The complexity of the trait and its widespread occurance makes its elimination difficult. It has been shown that the frequency with which hip dysplasia occurs in German Shepherd Dogs is 28.5% (Olsson) and 62% (Snavely) if one parent is affected, 41.6% if the male is affected and 46.2% (Olsson) and 87% (Snavely) if both parents are involved. There is every reason to believe that an incidence of almost 100% can be achieved by consistent breeding of affected dogs and conversely elimination of the trait by breeding only normal animals. Neither extreme could be reached in three or four generations, but a signficant reduction in the incidence might be expected in ten to fifteen generations.

Such a breeding program could be undertaken by one or two individuals with large numbers of animals and would produce few truly normal dogs which would be thoroughly inbred. Obviously such a plan is impractical from the economic viewpoint and the number of dogs obtained would be small. A much more significant contribution to the breed could be achieved more cheaply by encouraging the breeding of "clean" stock on a large scale. Such a program is in effect in Sweden. The Swedes have simply insisted that Champions of the German Shepherd breed must be certified as having normally developed hip-joints. As all breeders of any consequence aspire to own champion stock, they all have potential champions certified. The only satisfactory means of diagnosing hip dysplasia is by x-ray. Obviously abnormal hips present no diagnostic problem but borderline cases can be troublesome. In the first place positioning of the animal for x-ray can give these hips a normal appearance and in the second place individuals viewing the films may hold different opinions. Thirdly there is always the individual who is unwilling to accept an adverse opinion and will seek several opinions until a favourable response is obtained. All three problems have been solved by Swedish German Shepherd Dog clubs. They have appointed a single veterinary radiologist to certify all German Shepherd Dogs for hip dysplasia. Films may be taken by anyone but must meet his specifications of quality and must be "read" by him alone. His opinion of the films is noted on the dog's pedigree which accompanies films for certification.

This means of eliminating hip dysplasia is practical and could work on a national scale even in a country with as large a dog population as the United States if there is the wish to eradicate the disease and if the scheme is slightly modified.

memorize the standard—and believe me memory work isn't as easy at 60 or 65 as it is at 15 or 16. I'm afraid a lot of these old timers would fall by the wayside."

"What I'm afraid of is that the majority of those who would requalify under the new system would be, what I would describe as 'professional judges', people who are anxious for assignments and who regard judging fees as a part of their livelihood. I'm afraid many of those who judge largely as a contribution to the game would decide to sit that examination out. And if they did I'm afraid the show-giving clubs would be in trouble. I think we'd see more and more of the same old faces in the ring and more and more of the so-called American all-rounder coming into Canada to pick up fat, juicy judging fees."

The Old Timer picked up his electric sander. He pulled out a crate from which he'd already removed most of the varnish. He tapped the dottle out of his pipe.

"Mind you," he said "I could be wrong. I could be seeing a danger where none exists. And as I told you I agree with the principle of the proposal. But it's one about which there should be a lot of thinking to insure that the services of these good, let me call them amateur, judges are not lost and show-giving clubs are not placed in a position where the demand so far exceeds the supply that judging fees will skyrocket to a figure no club can afford to pay. ■

Aurora & District Kennel Club Inc.
by Phyllis Harris
Box 216, Oak Ridges, Ont.

The annual meeting of the club was held at the Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges on the evening of December 5. With Mr. Clark in the chair the election of officers for 1962 got underway with the following results: President, Mr. Joe Sullivan; Vice-President, Mr. Wm. Luckins; Secretary, Mr. Luckins; Treasurer, Mrs. L. Hamilton; Show Superintendent, Mr. Luckins; Show Secretary, Mrs. Clark; Auditors, Mr. J. W. MacCallum and Mr. K. Hurst; Trophy secretary, Mrs. J. Sullivan assisted by Mrs. Draper and Mrs. Hurst; Advertising, Mrs. H. Jansen; Directors, Mr. W. H. Glenney, Mr. W. Hill and Miss P. Harris; Publicity, Miss Harris.

We were sorry to learn Mr. Hurst would be unable to continue as Secretary, a position he has held for the past two years so ably, but Ken told us he is completely 'snowed under' with work. With reluctance his resignation was accepted. However, the voting was unanimous for Mr. Luckins and we feel sure we have a worthy successor.

It was nice to welcome Mr. Bill Hill, who has re-joined the club.

Plans were discussed for our show to be held in the Bradford Arena next May and the evening rounded off with a delightful lunch supplied by the proprietor of the Ridge Inn, Mr. McCachen. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Our next meeting will be held on the evening of January 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luckins of Richmond Hill.

We take this opportunity to wish all members and friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

The Barrie Kennel Club
by Paul A. Robins
Ridgelea House, Oro Station, Ont.

It has been some time now since the social notes of this club graced the pages of this magazine. However, it has not been due to a lack of interest or activities.

The matter of a correspondent was not settled at the annual meeting in July so was bound over to the next regular monthly meeting in September. So much interest in and rivalry for the position was experienced that an election in the "democratic" fashion was necessary. Hence, 'yours truly' was "elected".

A new and active social committee is laying plans to rival its predecessor. Mrs. Lillian Cordier, new to the club in the past year, heads the committee. Mrs. Ruth Robins and Miss Amy Lea, a veteran of social functions, complete the triumvirate. Operating at most times only two decimal places out of insolvency, every function becomes a challenge in itself.

The November monthly meeting was at the home of Mrs. Obrien-Saint. Usual business was completed and the finishing touches were put on plans for the club's third annual Christmas banquet, although on this point there was some division of thought between the "wets" and the "drys"

Guest at this meeting was Dr. Lloyd Fisher of the Barrie Veterinery Hospital. Upon introduction a panel discussion rapidly developed as the membership posed questions on problems they had had or were experiencing. The discussions covered a wide field touching upon fleas, worms, inoculations to heart surgery. Much useful knowledge was gained by the newer members and many interesting facets of "dog health", not commonly known, were brought to light. At the close of the meeting, Dr. Fisher was warmly thanked by Club President Mr. Harold Butler.

Dr. Fisher has kindly offered to speak to the club again at a later date on the field of Dog Psychology.

At this writing, the Barrie Kennel Club offer their sincerest condolences to Charter Member Muriel Kay on the recent loss of her father.

The All Terrier Club of Canada
by Eileen M. Stewart
R.R. 2, Aurora, Ont.

Nominations for our 1962 Executive took place at our regular meeting in November, the marked ballots to be opened at the annual general meeting in January.

Two applications for membership were presented to the members; Miss Ursula Floeter, whose particular interest is Kerry Blues and Mrs. Gwen Thomas, another Scottish Terrier fancier. Both applications were accepted unanimously.

There is keen interest in Obedience work among quite a number of our members and also among owners of dogs bred by our members, and this resulted in an extremely interesting evening, arranged by our educational committee and held on November 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Weir. A lecture was given by four instructors from the German Shepherd Club, Mr. Davies, Mr. Harradine, Mr. White and Mr. Reid, pointing out the desira-

"DEAR ABBY"

Abigail Van Buren, widely syndicated problem consultant, is at times called upon to meditate between dogs and people—on paper. There was the woman who wrote that she was careful not to let her dog lick her baby on the mouth because she feared the dog would catch something from the baby.

A woman replied controversy occurred between herself and daughter-in-law. When the woman's son was away in the army she invited the daughter-in-law to share her bedroom. It was taken for granted the 66-pound Standard Poodle would also share the double bed. The mother refused. The younger woman left with the poodle. They haven't spoken since. That was in 1944.

Another wrote that if the mother was afraid of what the Collie would pick up from the baby, she should muzzle the baby! A doctor replied: Will you please tell that idiotic woman that it is dangerous to be licked on the mouth by a dog. Have her family physician explain the danger of Cysticercus. I personally have seen children and adults die from it."

A fourth reader wrote: A dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's. You have never seen a dog with bad teeth, and you never will. I'd sooner give my dog a sip of my soda than you!" Replied Abby: Let him have it. It's bad for my teeth."

bility of having a well-mannered dog, even if you are not seriously thinking of Obedience trial competitions, and I am sure we were all in agreement. A lively, informal discussion period followed with the four German Shepherd Club members competently answering our questions.

We are beginning a new year! Let us support our 1962 Executive and our club by attending the meetings. Put a big ring on the calendar around the second Thursday in each month and mark it "Reserved — ATC meeting!"

The Boxer Club Of Canada
by Mrs. B. V. McMartin
Rexdale, Ont.

The club is now entering its 14th consecutive year of training, shows and social activities.

At the annual general meeting, held on November 12, the following officers were elected: President, Dr. Fred Clement; 1st. Vice-President, Stan Whitmore; 2nd Vice-President, Scott McNair; Secretary, Mrs. Pearl Brockington; Treasurer, Mrs. D. T. Weir; Show and Judging Secretary, Stan Whitmore; Trophy Secretary, Mrs. Eve Whitmore; Program Secretary, Bill McMartin; Publicity Secretary, Mrs. Beatrice McMartin; Membership Secretary, Mrs. Audrey Clement; Disciplinary Committee, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. MacKendrick.

A sincere vote of thanks was expressed to the outgoing officers for their enthusiasm and energetic work on behalf of the club during the year.

A Specialty Show, which will be held in conjunction with the 1962 Sportsman's Show, was discussed. A well known American judge has accepted our invitation to officiate.

The registration of "White" Boxers was also considered at the meeting, and the members present were definitely opposed to their registration. However, it was felt that methods of policing might lead to advanced registration.

The Secretary was requested to notify the Secretary of the CKC that the club has already adopted the AKC Standard for Boxers. This was done because it was suggested in a letter in the November issue of Dogs in Canada that part of the Standard should be changed.

All of our members look back on the 1961 Christmas Party as the "refreshingiest, appetizingiest and the entertainmentiest," one of all time.

The club extends to one and all Best Wishes for a Prosperous and Happy New Year.

Chow Chow Club of Canada
by Doug Schwoob
25 Churchill St., Waterloo, Ont.

On November 5 at the Group VI Show this club held its last Booster Show of the year with 13 dogs entered. We were sorry there was not a larger Canadian and American entry as we had one of the most capable judges from England judging the breed.

Following the show the club entertained the judge at a buffet dinner.

The annual Christmas party was held on December 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nattrass. After a great deal of controversy those attending finally got down to the business of devouring the turkey and all the trimmings, including some very delicious pies.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting on January 22.

In reviewing 1961 it is encouraging to see that Chows have placed in Group quite regularly and that there have been more puppies born this year than in many a year. It is also most discouraging that with the number of litters increasing so few puppies are finding their way into the show ring. Let's try to remedy this in 1962.

Coastal Canine Academy
by Ann Whitton
5867 132nd. St., North Surrey, B.C.

We have just wound up the Fall session of the club with a mock trial, and now the members are free to plunge ahead into the holiday season.

At the Boxer Club trials in November Bill Strutinski, with his Collie "Dixie", won the Highest Scoring dog in one trial, and Mrs. Luke, with "Banner", won highest scoring German Shepherd.

Our class graduation went off very well. The biggest thrill of the evening was to see the dog that won the "most improved" trophy also win the best dog of the Beginner's class prize. Both trophies were richly deserved by the dog and owner, Mr. E. C. Brown of Surrey.

Our 'mock' trial had a small attendance but a lot of work was accomplished by those who came. Miss Marion Powell judged and helped the handlers with their various ring problems.

The club has a social planned for during the Christmas season.

Our next class begins January 16 with a lecture by our training director, Ben Taylor and a demonstration of Obedience work by the instructors.

We all wish you a very happy New Year and every success in the many trials coming along in '62.

The weather for the Fall Sanction Show held by this club under the auspices of the Wolfville Lion's Club, did not dampen the enjoyment of this outing. Neither dogs, exhibitors nor spectators seemed to mind the rain. A goodly number of Novice and Puppy Dogs turned out for an evening of fun. The Toy Class was exceptionally strong and every dog and owner belonged to the Nova Scotia Toy Dog Club. We thank them and all who gave us their support. Making her debut as judge was Phyllis Gratton, wife of our Maritime Director, who is well known as a serious breeder of Smooth Fox Terriers.

"TEDDY", as he is called by his fond owner MISS LOIS BURPEE of Riverside, New Brunswick, has the darkest of eyes, a perfect bite, good tight feet. He is firey and showy, yet possesses the typical lovable character of all true Danes. He is remarkably well balanced, with the solid, sound hindquarters which have been the chief aim at "DANE-ACRE" for some time, and is the third generation of "DANE-ACRE" breeding.

"TEDDY" was regretfully withdrawn from competition at the Oakville Show September 9 due to a severe throat infection. He has since recovered and gone on to win points toward his American title under the well-known breeder and authority on "Great Danes", Virginia Keckler Moss.

Gateway City Obedience Club
by Mrs. Grace Anne Penno 1474 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg 3, Man.

Our graduation classes were won by a German Shepherd, Springer Spaniel and a Miniature Poodle in Beginners. Mr. R. Shrier and Standard Poodle won Novice. A demonstration of CDX work was given by Grace Penno and Penny. Joan Lawrence presented Gordon Ashcroft with a prize for the winning name, "Collar n' Leash", for our club news letter. This bulletin, still in its infancy, is edited by Mrs. Monica Torrence. She is doing a wonderful job with interesting news each month. A further benefit is the increased interest shown by Beginners in club projects and Obedience Trials. We hope it will be sustained by continued help and donations of any interesting news.

Club interest, of recent months, was pretty well centred around December trials. The trial committee had everything running smoothly. These trials proved to be the best opportunity to obtain final legs on CD or CDX for many members as well as a start for newer enthusiasts.

Plans are being finalized for a series of trainers' sessions to further increase the high standard of uniformity in training which Gateway stresses.

Special thanks go to Gordon Ashcroft for his help at the pre-trial training session. He put a lot of effort into helping and advising each handler.

Winter classes begin January 8 and there is a long waiting list. Those too late for this one will be able to enroll in Spring classes which start early in April.

The club was very pleased to hear recently from Wally Owens, a former charter member of the club. He is now living in New York and is fortunate to be associated with Milo Pearsall's Obedience and Tracking classes.

We hear Blanche Peters of Tarna Kennels has been ill and we hope her recovery is now complete.

At Sanction Shows held each Sunday for the past four weeks our club members have given a good account of themselves and their dogs. The first, November 12, saw Owen Brett and his female go to BOS from the Open Class. November 19, Herb. Burrows with his female, repeated this win. Dennis McGuire won the Senior Puppy Bitch class with Leba. The Under Six Month Bitch class was topped by G. Dallin's Aria. The Under Six Month Male class was won by the writer with Armin, litter brother to Aria.

The 26th saw three litter brothers go 1, 2, 3, the 2nd place to Bob. Thomson with Airmas, 3rd to the writer, with Armin. The 1st place deserves mention, I think, although not owned by a club member. He was bred by White Hart Kennels, and from his Under Six Month class win he went on to Best Puppy in Show. The 2nd place male went Reserve WD. Aria won the Under Six Bitch class and went on to RWB. Owen Brett was again winner of the Open Bitch class, and BOS December 3 saw the same male puppy go BOB and 2nd in the Working Group. His litter sister, Aria, again won her class. At all these shows there were 12 or more Shepherds entered. We will look forward to seeing them out at the point shows in '62.

On the sick list: Lloyd Dove, in Sunnybrook, with a heart condition; Hilda Burrows, in great pain with a spine that is misbehaving. We wish these folk a speedy recovery and return to club affairs. I would like to say a personal 'Hello' to Mary Hart, in Manitoba. Also wish all Shepherd folk all the good things in 1962.

The German Shepherd Dog Club of Can.

by Warren Parkinson
10 Neville Park Blvd., Toronto, Ont.

We completed our '61 club program with an Obedience class graduation at Fort York Armories December 17 and a $300 Christmas charitable donation. In this past year we have held many shows, tests and trials, all the best in their class, for the benefit of all Shepherd enthusiasts. "The German Shepherd is a working dog". We have presented a working dog program in the form of training classes, tracking test, large outdoor conformation shows, Obedience trial, etc. This is certainly not to say that we have done all that could be done, but we did do our best.

We start the new year with 70 dogs enrolled for Obedience training January 7 and plans completed for another Sportsmen's Booster Show in the Spring. 1962 could and should be another good year for our club and its objectives.

Here and there: Congratulations — Ed Summerfield honored with a life membership in our club. Miss Laura Treble will serve as temporary Secretary in the absence of Mr. Wendy Steinhausen vacationing in Europe. A correction and an apology, Best Canadian Bred at our 39th Annual Specialty Show was Seagritz Brandie, owned and bred by Adam Cwick. Mitzi Frohle back from the Sieger Show, both conformation and working, was very impressed by the good sportsmanship, harmony and solidarity as evidenced in the 26,000 member SV. A special note of appreciation to Dogs for full page coverage of our Fall shows.

Our annual general meeting was held on November 19 with the President, Mr. W. J. Brown, in the chair.

The second year as a national club saw not too many changes in activities. We held one licensed show, one Booster show in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show, one Licensed Field Trial and two Picnic Trials as well as three training sessions.

The Goldens have done well in licensed field trials this past year and our congratulations go to the owners and dogs for their splendid performances.

One of our hardest working members, Rodger Drysdale, will be away from Canada for a year. Our thanks go to Mr. Drysdale for the enthusiastic support and hard work he has put forth these past two years.

Elected to Board of Directors: M. J. Seguin, W. J. Brown, Jutta Baker, G. K. Davey, Rev. R. Owston, James Taylor, Barry Taylor, M. C. MacDonald, John McNicol, L. Barks, R. Drysdale, Cdr. M. T. Our members send all good wishes to those who plan to exhibit at the 1962 dog shows; may you all have lots of wins! And much success in your dog breeding programs. Included in these wishes, is one for a happy 1962 for all dogs, everywhere!

We won the Brantford Challege Trophy! Reg Lewis was named president at the club's annual meeting in November. Fall activities of the club were highlighted by a well-attended unbenched show and obedience trial held October 22. This was the first time a show had been held in the Fall in Saskatoon and it attracted numerous out-of-town exhibitors despite freezing temperatures and a heavy snowfall. It is hoped to make it an annual feature of the club's program.

by Mrs. Ray McCormick
194 Brookview Court, Ancaster, Ont.

The club extends to all members and friends wishes for a Very Happy Holiday Season and successful doggy ventures in the New Year.

Jolly Old St. Nicholas officially arrived in Hamilton on November 18. Preceeding him, on a float sponsored by the Hamilton Obedience Club, were a seletion of trained dogs who certainly stole the hearts of the small fry along the route. Although hardly resembling reindeer, Prince Rory of Kenton, CD, and Challenger's Irish Lancer, CD, were among the dogs who charmed the onlookers.

The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Forest, Burlington, Ont. Elections were held for the 1962 Executive, with results as follows: President, Mr. Bob Allen; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Jim Tumelty; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Ernie McGowan; Treasurer, Mrs. E. McGowan; Secretary, Mrs. R. Dafoe; Social Convener, Mr. Bill Kennedy; Trophies, Mrs. R. E. Allen; Membership, Mrs. W. Ionson; Publicity, Miss Joan Zurbrigg; Field, Mr. John McCallum, Sr; Obedience, Mr. Ray McCormick; Awards, Mr. George Howe; Paw Prints, Mr. Roy Dafoe.

November 30 was graduation night for those who have been taking CD training for the past ten weeks with the Hamilton Obedience Club. An Irish Setter did it again! Out of a class of 28 dogs, Red Saint of Shanandoah, owned by Mr. Bill Kennedy, graduated first in the class with a score of 195½. Congratulations to you and Shan, Bill. Another graduate was Agro Lane's Berryllium, owned by Mrs. Roy Dafoe, with a score of 182.

Election of officers highlighted the meeting of the Nova Scotia Division of the Maritime Toy Dog Club held at the home of Mrs. Eileen May, Seaforth St., Halifax. Mrs. May was elected to head the association as President by the large number of members present for the session. Other officers elected included 1st. Vice-President, Arthur Buss; 2nd Vice-President, Cyril Taylor; Secretary, Donald Duff; Treasurer, Mrs. Rita Boyd; Directors, Mrs. Agnes Misener and Edison McNeill, of Dartmouth.

Committee heads include Publicity, Mrs. Agnes Misener; Ways and Means, Mrs. Alma Robinson; Sick and Welfare; Mrs. Arthur Buss.

Following the election, plans were discussed for the Summer Point Show as a means of giving the public an opportunity to view many of the attractive Toy breeds owned by the members.

The Saga Waga Kennels Reg'd, owned by Mrs. Arthur Buss, have imported a four month old pug from California, a long trip for a wee lad.

The Citation Kennels, Reg'd., owned by Mrs. Donald Duff, are the proud owners of Tippy, daughter of the famed Pomeranian, Rogrueland's Warrier Chief.

We hope Mr. Laskey has the opportunity to go to Ottawa to attend the Cat Breeders Association, of which he is a director.

Peggy Danby's silver Toy Poodle, Merrymorn Princess Pretty, has been doing quite a lot of winning, also Merrymorn Pandora. Peggy is very pleased with her little girls.

18. The bylaws were the large portion of business but were duly drafted and approved. It was also decided that a monthly paper be sent to all members, which will include valuable information on our little friends.

The next meeting will be in January and will be our annual supper meeting, at which time election of officers will take place. So see you there! Until then, a Happy New Year. Come out and help keep your little friends "The King of the Toys."

Miniature Schnauzer Club of Canada

by VeNorma MacKendrick
"Boxerly", 2038 Lake Shore East, Oakville.

Although the number 13 is often considered unlucky, the Baker's Dozen of members who turned out for our December meeting felt quite the contrary, and enjoyed a brief but productive business meeting during which we heard some reports and had a few animated, but unheated discussions. At this time, it was decided not to hold our Miniature Schnauzer Specialty Show with the Sportsmen's Show in March, but to have our show later in the year. A film taken at the Montgomery, Penna. Miniature Schnauzer Specialty was shown and, after a select but satisfying snack, we all went the four ways of the compass, hoping to get all those cards written which, by the time you read this, will have, no doubt, gone out with the old year.

North York Obedience Club

by Margaret Thompson
16 Sabrina Drive, Weston, Ont.

The third graduation and first Mock Trial of the North York Obedience Club was held on Sunday December 10 at the York Farmers Market, Thornhill.

Two rings were set up, one for the graduates of the third training class and one for the Mock Trial. The graduation class was judged by Mrs. J. Lang, Peterborough and the Mock Trail by Don Foster, St. Catharines, Mr. Peter Kirk, Honorary President of the club, acted as Show Superintendent, Show Chairman was Grace Probert and Show Secretary, Margaret Thompson. Trophies were handled very ably by Peggy Brooks, assisted by Sandra Bargent and Mrs. Bentley. Ring Stewards were Ted Smith, Doug Shepherd and Jim Proctor.

In the Mock Trial, 16 dogs were entered and trophies were awarded as follows:

Novice A; 1st, Mrs. Pearl Currie with Chow Chow, "Guy"; 2nd, Miss D. Mills, Oshawa, with a Kerry Blue Terrier; 3rd, Mr. Clive Brown with Welsh Corgi, "Buddy"; 4th, Mr. V. Bargent with German Shepherd, "Heidi". Novice B: 1st, Mrs. D. Shepherd with Labrador, "Cindy". Open A: 1st, Miss O. Floeter, Oshawa, with Kerry "Maverick."

Twenty-two dogs were entered in the graduation class. Trophies and ribbons were awarded to: 1st, Mrs. Hynd with Cairn Terrier "Tammy", score 194. 2nd, Mrs. Harding with Miniature Pinscher, "Jennifer" and Mrs. Proctor with Dalmatian, "Cinders", tying with a score of 188. Mrs. Proctor won on the tie breaker. 3rd, Mrs. Donnelly with Dachshund, "Fritz", 194. 4th, Mrs. Younkie with Toy Poodle, "Tony", 180. Best Performance, Mrs. Hund with Tammy. Best Handling, Mrs. Harding with Jennifer. Greatest Improvement, Mrs. Younkie with Tony. All those with qualifying scores were presented with diplomas. Other trophies were: Highest Scoring Terrier of the Day: Mrs. Hynd with Tammy. Highest Qualifying Score in the Mock Trial, Mrs. Currie with Guy. Highest Qualifying Score in the Graduation Class: Mrs. Hynd with Tammy.

Following the presentation of awards a demonstration in advanced Obedience work was given by Marjorie Parkinson with her Miniature Poodle, "Charm" and her Sheltie, "Promise"; Don Foster with his German Shepherd, "Knight" and Grace Probert with her German Shepherd, "Tarzan". A draw for three catalogue prizes and 18 door prizes completed a very successful day.

Oakville District Kennel Club

by Mrs. Sally Furlong
9 Oakwood Crescent, Oakville, Ont.

The November meeting was mainly taken up by voting in the new slate of officers for 1962. Very regretfully the club accepted the resignation of the President, Mr. George Kennedy; his reason being he felt that after three years he should make way for someone new. Mrs. Sally Furlong also resigned the Vice-Presidency as she and her husband are shortly leaving this country.

Elected were: Mr. Ernie McGowan, President; Mrs. Ruth Hicks, Vice-President. Re-elected were Lt. Col. M. H. A. Drury, Secretary; Mrs. Ethel McGowan, Treasurer.

The new directorate was scheduled for announcement at the Christmas Party December 9, when the returns from the members postal ballot were opened and counted.

The Oshawa Obedience Association

by Mrs. T. J. Grosart
Box 204, Oshawa, Ont.

The club met on Monday, December 4, for the regular monthly meeting. A most successful bowling party had been held the previous Saturday and the entertainment convener, basking in the obvious approval of the satisfied members, announced that the Christmas party will be held on January 20, our first social engagement for 1962!

More serious business was the consideration of the arrangements for the Trial to be held on March 4. The club has been fortunate enough to secure the use of the Oshawa Airport facilities for this event and, as you will read in the advertisements in this issue, the good fortune is doubled for Mr. Jake Giacomelli is to do the judging.

The graduation for the Fall classes took place on December 5 and the trainers are to be congratulated. With Reba Scott as judge and Ursula Floeter and Helen Bathie as ring stewards, the graduation tests went off very smoothly and dogs and handlers showed admiring friends the enormous progress made in ten weeks.

Peggy Boorman with her lovable Miniature Poodle, Corky, led the advanced class with a score of 194. Marilyn Mills' Kerry Blue, Siobhan, battled with true Irish tenacity for second place with 193½ points. Another Miniature Poodle, Muffet, handled by Betty Barton, was at the head of the beginner's class.

Two new members are welcomed to the club; Mrs. H. Wenzel who has a Miniature Schnauzer and Mr. Beerthulzen who trains a German Shepherd.

The next training classes will begin in January and we are looking forward to resuming our work with the dogs.

The Oshawa Obedience Association wishes all dog lovers everywhere "A very happy and a very successful New Year".

Ottawa Kennel Club

by Mrs. A. E. Bales
158 Russell Ave., Ottawa 2, Ont.

The club closed a busy, successful year and started off on another year of activities at the annual general meeting and election of officers on November 16. The President, Mrs. J. Neill Malcolm was in the chair.

Respect was paid to the memory of the late Mr. Kenneth Greene who passed away in October. Mr. Greene was a Life Member of the OKC and with the exception of several years in Australia as Canadian High Commissioner and in Washington he was a constant and generous supporter of this club.

Reports of the various committees were presented and showed the club in a most satisfactory condition. The election results follow:

Past President, Mrs. J. Neill Malcolm; President, E. B. (Tim) Reid; 1st Vice-President, J. W. Dockrill; 2nd Vice-President, Blanche Bleeks Walters; Secretary, Phyllis Jackson; Treasurer, J. W. Goodman. Directors Wilhelmina Bales, Earl Harrigan, Dennis Hayes, H. R. Hills, Eileen MacDonald, Henry McNamara, Henrietta Reid, Jim Reynolds. It was noted that all members of the executive are also members of the CKC.

Committees have been formed and an interesting program outlined for the general meetings in 1962. Arrangements are well underway for Sanction Shows in January and February and plans nearing completion of our Spring Championship Shows and Obedience Trials.

Many OKC members have been travelling far afield attending dog shows and observing and taking part in other dog activities. Fred Fraser flew over to Britain and reports an enjoyable, interesting and successful few weeks concerned with dog affairs. Dennis Hayes returned recently from a tour of Europe, observing the use of dogs in many countries. We are in hopes that he may talk to us of the interesting and (we understand) amazing numbers of dogs, bred and trained for various uses in different parts of Europe.

The annual smorgasbord and dance was held on December 2. The affair was a huge success. We enjoyed the company of many members of sister clubs in the Ottawa area and we were happy to meet a number of our new members and (as the saying goes)" "a good time was had by all". Nevertheless, we missed a number of our most faithful members who were prevented from attending, through illness.

The Ottawa Kennel Club extends to all dog clubs in Canada, best wishes for 1962.

Pekin Palace Dog Club of Canada

by Vera Pasek

Bridgeview Survey, Ont.

Our first meeting of the new season was held Sunday, November 12, in the Farmers Market (Board Room) Thornhill.

Most of the members attended and we welcomed three new members; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis and Mr. William Taylor.

The regular business reports were approved. We then discussed the advisability of holding a point show for our breed only. After some discussion, and due to the fact Pekes are not too plentiful, it was decided we would have a better show if we held one for Group 5. This suggestion was approved.

We will have a point show for Group 5 early in the Spring, shortly before the Sportsmans Show. Watch for future announcement.

Mr. J. W. MacCallum of the CKC then spoke to us regarding the proposed purchase of land and the erection of a building by the CKC. This building would eventually be used for club meetings, shows and annual meetings. Our members were very interested. We will be watching for further reports on this subject.

As the weather was uncertain and some of our members come from some distance, the meeting adjourned at 4:45 p.m.

The Progressive Kennel Club Inc.

by Gertrude W. Drew

120 Ranleigh Ave., Toronto, Ont.

The annual meeting held on December 6 brought out 18 members. This was the largest attendance of the year.

The President, Mr. Clarence Stevens, was in the chair, the minutes were read by the Recording Secretary, reports of officers were given, all of which were approved. This left a practically clean slate for 1962 as there were no old items of business to clear up. The auditors' report was tabled until the January meeting.

Judges for the June 1962 show were selected tentatively. The show secretary was instructed to contact these people and report as soon as possible.

There was considerable controversy on the choice of an arena in which to hold our show. This, coupled with the rather doubtful question as to whether it is logical to bother with benching owing to the high cost of labor, brought out many salient points in favor of an unbenched show. Both subjects were put to a vote which resulted decisively for an unbenched show, the place, Scarboro Arena Gardens.

Mr. Stan Whitmore, show committee chairman spoke favorably for our sanction show held December 3. He said it was very satisfactory from all angles and reports from visitors were most gratifying. He thanked the members who had cooperated so well, making it possible to end the show at the required time. The weather, being exceptional for the time of year, encouraged many spectators.

Mr. Walter Brown took the chair for the election period. There were very few changes. Mr. R. White was elected to the post of 2nd Vice-President. The office of Recording Secretary was left to be decided at the January meeting. Otherwise the executive

by Gertrude W. Drew

120 Ranleigh Ave., Toronto, Ont.

The last meeting of the year, held November 27, gave evidence of the increasing interest in our club and progress made during the past years.

There was an excellent attendance, including two new members. The minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report showed us to be in fine financial standing and it is possible we will not have to sponsor any kind of project in order to raise funds for the club's operation in 1962. The financial report on the Specialty Show was also given and approved. The secretary gave her report and read the correspondence. There was an enquiry from another province asking for information about our club. The secretary will send this information on.

Considerable time was spent discussing our 1962 Specialty Show. With the rent of the York Farmers Market being raised to a prohibitive figure we felt that a specialty show could not meet the new demands. After much deliberation on all the requirements favorable to putting on a successful show, a decision could not be reached. It was decided to defer the matter to our next meeting for further consideration.

No elections were necessary this year, but, we do have a new treasurer, Mrs. Norine Clouter.

Once again the Irish Setter has been glorified, this time by gracing the 1962 calendar of Master Pet Foods. Naturally we appreciate the gesture and wish to thank this company for honoring our breed.

Rather than take up any more space with business notes I am cutting them in order to present Mrs. Dawn Miller's "Highlights of the Year", which follow:

Our game night held in lieu of a Christmas party was quite hilarious. But it also held a touch of the classroom as the anatomy questionnaire put the majority of us under the dunce's cap.

Our annual draw again proved most successful and aided us substantially in procuring very lovely trophies for both the Hamilton Kennel Club and the Ontario County Kennel Club, as well as our Specialty Show.

A number of interesting and instructive films were shown throughout the year on the anatomy and on proper feeding and nutrition. Highly picturesque films were also shown on the natural habits of game birds.

Some fine demonstrations were presented to the club on the anatomy of the breed with a glossary of terms on the Irish Setter as well as on the specific functions of the dog's body.

Training classes were held in the spring and fall to further familiarize the members in grooming and handling for the show ring.

A picnic and member's match was held in June and in spite of the strong wind accompanied by the pandemonium created between numerous children and dogs, a good time was enjoyed by all.

Our crowning venture was our Specialty Show in October. The show was well attended and with the elegant trophy table and artful decorations as an attractive backdrop, the flaming beauty and regal bearing of the Irish created a vivid and picturesque show and brought our year to a most successful close.

Scarborough Kennel Club Inc.

by Edward Onderisin

41 Denison Ave., Toronto, Ont.

The club held its last general meeting of the year in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clements and in conjunction with same, elected its executive officers as follows:

Mr. Howard L. Hood, President; Mrs. E. Farrell, 1st Vice-President; Mr. Edward Onderisin, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Audrey Clements, Show Secretary; Mrs. Joyce Holdham, Secretary; Mr. Ed Holdham, Treasurer.

Board of Directors: Messrs. Albert Farrell, John Darch, William Clark and Mrs. Yan Paul.

Mr. Walter Brown, President of The Canadian Kennel Club and honorary member of the club, presided as chairman.

The traditional teamwork reflecting our past is history and it is with eager anticipation we look forward to an even bigger and better year.

Many thanks are in order to the refreshment committee headed by Mrs. Darch and Mrs. Clark, whose preparations were enjoyed by all throughout 1961.

Skyway Obedience Club

by Dorothy Walker

Group Box 215, R.R. 5, Hamilton, Ont.

The November meeting was held November 11 at the Belvena Hall in Burlington.

Congratulations are extended to the following; Mrs. Marguerite Kergan's Miniature Poodle, Bon Bon, who received her second leg toward her CD at the Burlington Trial on Sunday, December 3 with a score of 187. She received the Burlington trophy for Highest Scoring Club Dog and another for Second Highest Dog in Novice B. Mr. George Cook's German Shepherd, Beau-Gal, received her CD at the Burlington Trial with a score of 186.

The graduation of our training classes took place Sunday, December 3. In the CDX class Mr. Albert Briffett's Airedale, Flossie, received a trophy with a score of 174. In the training classes, the first class trophy was won by Mrs. J. Varga's Scottie with a score of 195. In the second class the trophy was won by Mr. Howlett's Shepherd who scored 179½. The third class trophy was won by Mr. Sayers Labrador with a score of 197. In the fourth class the trophy was won by the writer's Standard Poodle, Co Co, with a score of 196. The highest scoring dog of the evening was Mr. Sayer's Labrador, with a score of 197. He was presented with a lovely trophy. Pictures were taken of all the winning dogs by our club photographer, Mr. Bruce Saunders.

Our Christmas dinner and dance took place December 2 and a lovely time was had by all, Our thanks to Mr. Harry Wilkinson for a job well done.

The Windsor and District Kennel Club

by Joyce Roberts

"Canidae", R.R. 2, Maidstone, Ont.

The WDKC takes this opportunity to wish its members and all their doggy friends the very best of everything for the New Year. May it bring Peace, good sportsmanship and better dogs—what more could one wish for?

1961 is nearing the end as I write this. It has been a good year for our club and we are looking forward to an even better one in '62. One of our aims is to set up an informative educational program which will be of interest and benefit to all members. We have made a start in this direction with talks on Obedience, Ring Stewarding and some of the members demonstrating their dogs. At our last meeting Mrs. Fran Ferguson showed us the finer points of Golden Retrievers with her male, Ch. Shadywell Sir Duff and Mrs. R. McNaughton demonstrated her male Pomeranian, Ch. Sunspot of Hadleigh. As both these dogs were Group winners we feel that they were good specimens of their breed.

Before closing I should like to brag about member wins at the Motor City Specialty Clubs Association Show in Detroit. Joyce and Stu Roberts garnered the following: with 34 Longhaired Dachshunds entered, Am. Ch. Canidae's Caprice, a black and tan bitch now owned by M. Vandagriff, went BOS to BOV (who also went Best in Show), BOW with their black and tan male, Can. Ch. Halestone's Dark Knight (for his 2nd major in the States) and Reserve Bitch with Canidae's Maharanee, a clear red.

Well, folks, this is all for now, see you in the New Year.

BEST OF VARIETY

It's a Dog's Life

We have a two-year-old Miniature Poodle, "Corky", who has ruled our household since he was six weeks old. Recently we purchased a 3½-month old female, with some concern as to how she would be recieved by Corky.

The following day we had our answer. A special treat Corky likes was sitting on the edge of the table when he jumped on my lap. After sniffing it I gave him permission to take the treat, but he left it and got down.

A minute later he was up again, picked up the candy, took it over where the puppy was lying, dropped it in front of her, then sat beside "Tuna" while she ate it.

Since then we do not worry because he looks after her like a mother hen with her chicks.

The following appeared in a recent newspaper classified advertisement: Basengi (shown as spelled) female dog wanted for stud only.

Winner of $4,000 in a dog food jingle contest in the States was Miss Cecile P. Wulff. The lady happens to be a cat lover, and has at least nine cats in her apartment, but nary a dog. The contest sponsor makes dog food only.

"I feel strongly that someone should repay dogs for the friendship they have given to man."

This statement by 75-year-old Jerry Green, an English financier, is the keynote of a luxury hotel which will mean Christmas the year round for hundreds of canine waifs.

The luxury rest home, which will cost $840,000, will be ready for occupancy next May. The home will cover a 12-acre site and workmen are constructing 1,060 kennels.

For the cornerstone ceremony Mr. Green brought two spaniels of doubtful ancestry, pointing up the fact that all homeless dogs will be welcome.

"There will be no gas chambers," he announced. "Not even for strays. All dogs coming here will be able to live out their natural lives, if we cannot find congenial homes for them."

Twas the night before Christmas
And all through the kennel
A perfume was wafting
As fragrant as Chanel!
So searched for the cause
And found that my Peke
Had married a gal
From the Poodle Boutique!

Every fifth purebred dog newly registered during 1961 in the United States was a Poodle, according to the manufacturers of Ken-L-Ration dog food. Eight of the top ten breeds in the new purebred registration rankings are classed as small.

Because the trend may well follow in Canada, here are the leading U.S.A. breeds by registration:

1.	Poodles	73,739
2.	Beagles (leader of the parade until a year ago)	39,600
3.	Chihuahua	35,452
4.	Dachshund	35,225
5.	German Shepherd	29,767
6.	Pekingese	16,220
7.	Cocker Spaniel	12,162
8.	Collie	11,610
9.	Pomeranian	9,838
10.	Boston Terrier	9,774

For the first time in years the Boxer has been edged out of the first "top ten".

Larger dogs, however, are coming to the fore in the public eye through increased use as protectors. The year 1961 saw more law inforcement agencies using such guardians than ever before.

DOGS IN THE NEWS

Raymond Glenn of Miami, Florida, was summoned to court for flouting the law stating no riders outside vehicles. He told police his German Shepherd regularly rides on the roof of his truck.

In Turner, Maine, Mrs. Robert Dixon was hanging out a washing when a hawk silently swooped into the yard and picked up her 3½ pound Chihuahua. The dog wriggled loose, but the determined bird swooped in for another pass. This time it got the tiny dog five feet off the ground before it struggled free. It raced for shelter under the Dixon's trailer home.

A 20—pound Beagle was being carried off in Goffstown, N.H. by a great golden eagle when the dog's owner shot and killed the bird to save his dog.

At the Chihuahua Club Autumn Open Show at Seymour Hall, England, two tiny members of the breed shared a handbag hanging from a coat-stand. They were Blaycroft Ebony Boy and Blaycroft Zimba, owned by Mrs. V. Bostwick of Hook, Surrey.

BEST DRESSED DOG

A dress from Paris was the admired prize in a lottery at the fashionable Dockland Settlements charity ball. The winner was a Labrador Retriever. Mrs. Delores Selborne had pulled out a ticket which read: "Major John Wills' dog, Goona." Major Wills, a friend of the Royal family, looked a bit uncomfortable and said: "Better draw again. Goona's my black Labrador. Never wears dresses."

The lady drew again and intoned: "Major John Wills' dog, Goona." Again she drew, and somewhat perturbed read: "Major John Wills' dog, Goona."

By this time the Major felt he owed an explanation. He had volunteered to sell a book of tickets, but did not get around to doing it. So he had bought them all himself and divided them among himself, his wife — and Goona.

MIRACULOUS RESCUE

The year 1961 closed with one of the most heart-warming stories — which was so close to ending in tragedy for a hound as well as his master.

Trapped nearly 50 days in a caved-in mineshaft in Gilbert, West Virginia, Brownie had been given up for dead when his owner, Richard Hatfield, 21, failed to return from a hunting trip last October 28. Eighteen days later a cousin heard him yelping as he hunted in the same mining area. After a long and steady search rescuers discovered the crevice into which he had fallen and were able to drop food into his narrow tomb.

From that time on volunteers hacked away at the face of the steep bank. Eventually a bulldozer was used to crash the wall. Brownie is alive and well, but 20 pounds lighter.
