1. The late Reichsegerin Can. and Am. Ch. Senta Hexengold. A magnificent fawn shown sparingly, Senta had one Best in Show in Canada. She is pictured with Can. and Am. Ch. Pimpernal of Mercia, Best of Breed, 1939, Westminster. 2. The late Can. and Am. Ch. Pax Von Birkenhof, one of the best Great Dane females of all time. Her wins include five Bests in Show in Canada and numerous groups. 3. Our present star Can. and Am. Ch. Trogalana's Bridey Murphy. This lovely Brindle is pictured finishing her Am. title at the Great Dane Club of America, Purchase, N.Y., 1961, where she placed Best of Winners. Bridey has won a Best in Show and six Groups 4. The late Can. and Am. Ch. Inge Hassia (imported March, 1938). She won her in Canada. American Championship easily and defeated several top winning dogs for the breed. She was Best in Show Montreal, May 1940. Inge is pictured with the famous Kilmet and Grey Girl. 5. The late Can. and Am. Ch. Gilbert's Nancy of Brae Tarm, whose wins in Canada included four Bests in Show (one of which was the last show put on by the National KC, November, 1946) and 12 Groups. In the States Nancy won one Best in Show and two Groups, one at Westchester KC, September, 1946, after she had won the Great Dane Club of America Specialty. She also won the Specialty in 1947. 6. The late Zen Von Zordane. This very tall upstanding Fawn had great success in both the U.S.A. and Canada. His numerous wins included Best in Show and 9 Groups (he always placed in the Group) in Canada. In the United States Zen had many Group placements.

Our record over 30 years speaks for our Cairn Terriers

The late Can. & Am. Ch. Kilmet of Cairndania. We salute this wonderful homebred. She won 4 Cairn Terrier Club of America Specialties in a row: 1944, (no show in 1945), 1946, 1947, 1948. Kilmet also won BB 1946, 1947, 1948 at Westminster and 7 Groups in Canada.

Eng. Can & Am. Ch. Redletter McRuffie. One of the outstanding show and stud dogs in the history of the breed. He has won 7 Terrier Groups in Canada and 9 in the States, 3 Cairn Specialties 3 BB at Westminster. McRuffie is the sire of 19 champions, grandsire of 29 and great grandsire of many other champions.

Can. & Am. Ch. Tanis Grey Girl of Cairndania Although not Cairndania-bred, she is ex Callen of Cairndania. Grey Girl was BB in 1942 and 1943 at Westminster.

Can. & Am. Ch. Rossmar's Clancy O'Cairndania, McRuffie's most famous granddaughter, has 5 Bests in show, 9 groups in Canada and 4 Groups in the U.S.A., as well as 2 Cairn Specialties 1961 and 1962 and Best of Breed at Westminster 1962.

Can. & Am. Ch. Cairndania Clansman's Grey Girl. We are not the breeder, but she is an ex Cairndania McRuffie's McGay and was named after her granddam, pictured above, whom she closely resembles. She was BB at Westminster, 1960.

The late Can. & Am. Ch Kiltie's Foxglove of Cairndania, grandson of Kilmet and himself an outstanding show and stud dog. He was the sire of at least 6 American champions and grandsire of many well-known champions. Foxglove placed 2nd in Group at Westminster in 1953 and was BB in 1952 at both the Cairn Specialty and Westminister He also won the Group at Batavia, N.Y., June, 1953.

Seven Champions at Stud. Fee $60 to $100. Eng., Can. & Am. Ch. Redletter McBrigand, one of a litter of five Splinters whelped before coming to Canada. McBrigand is shown winning Best in Show, all breeds, Stowe, Vt., 1960 He also won 5 Groups in the U.S.A. and two Bests in Show in Canada, plus 8 Groups.

letter FROM THE PUBLISHERS

It is our privilege to be closely associated with one of the oldest existing clubs in Canada. The Canadian Kennel Club is not only venerab with respect to age, but its annual dollar transactions and financial solidarity might well be the envy of many a business firm. It is highly regarded the world over.

Members of the Board of Directors and representatives have given free of their time and energy throughout the entire 75 years. In tracing back through the pages of the official publication of The Canadian Kennel Club, we have been able to observe, step by step, the growth of a mere idea through to a flourishing organization. The founders of the Club had little or nothing to guide them. They simply knew that in order to establish purebred dogdom in this country there must be some kind of order and a form of standardization. And before long there was need for protection of many kinds-registration, sale of dogs, breeding, shows.

It is utterly amazing how well the early officials laid the foundation for the young Club. Much of the initial legislation stands today, with little or no revision.

To Mrs. Phyllis Smith of Dogs In Canada staff fell the gigantic task of reading through 900 issues of the voice of The Canadian Kennel Club-first as The Gazette, then Kennel & Bench and in later decades Dogs In Canada. Her knowledge of virtually every detail of Canadian dogdom enabled her to recognize items which we feel sure will be of interest to today's readers and has made possible an issue of this scope. Many other contributors have added their worth.

Our sincere thanks are extended to the many specialists in the various facets of Canadian dogdom and others without whom this work could not have been compiled: To the Canadian Kennel Club executive secretary Norman F. Brown and his staff; to Miss Bay Meyers who tells the story of Obedience as it developed in Canada; Mr. Bob Blyth who gives a resumé of the development of Field Trials; Mr. Tom Hughes, head of the Ontario Humane, who traces the progress of humanity to animals in the Dominion; Dr. T. K. R. Bourns and the University of Western Ontario for material on the London Canine Association (at whose show The Canadian Kennel Club was formed); Mr. George Lawless for material on the Hamilton Kennel Club; Mr. J. G. Cavanaugh, President of the New Brunswick Kennel Club; Mr. R. B. Laskey of St. John, N.B. long-time CKC member and show worker; E. St. John Green of Canning, N.S.; Mr. William Pym and Mr. George Kynoch, of Vancouver; officers of the Canadian Kennel Club, and the kennel owners who so grandly supported this Souvenir issue.

COVER STORY

Special acknowledgement goes to the owner of "Wunderbar" with our sincere thanks. Mrs. Pat Fisher, Wunderbar Kennels, Ancaster, Ont., who for many years has purchased cover space in the February issue, has used her cover this year to salute The Canadian Kennel Club. Best known as a breeder of Standard Smooth Dachshunds, Mrs. Fisher also breeds and shows Miniature Long-haired Dachshunds as well as Afghans. The kennels are located at Duffs Corners, near Ancaster, on Highway No. 2 where it meets Highway 53. Mrs. Fisher was one of Canada's first women ferry pilots in World War II. She is a well-known judge, whose interests include gardening.

Is your dog bone-hungry, too?

MILK-BONE satisfies the bone hunger of your dog.

A dog needs to chew, and knows it. In the absence of a bone, even the best-trained dog will find something else to chew—often something he shouldn't. But there are few bones in today's kitchens. Many that are available are not safe or good for your dog. That's why the modern dog goes bone-hungry.

The answer is MILK-BONE—the biscuit with the real bone shape that makes wonderful chewing, without a real bone's tendency to splinter or upset the digestion. MILK-BONE also gives your dog all the important nourishment found in milk, meat, bone-meal and vegetables. Get MILK-BONE in the biscuit size that suits the size of your dog—regular or large.

"Looking for a new bome"

During the past 4½ months of severe illness, when I was confined to hospital and home, so many encouraging cards and letters arrived from friends -- even strangers. Without a doubt these good wishes played a major part in my recovery and gave me strength to fight back when there was little remaining.

I want you all to know how much your kind thoughts are appreciated. It is impossible to write you individually, and even if it were, I could not sufficiently express my heartfelt thanks.

With the help of the Lord I am enjoying very good health at this time and am busy rebuilding my kennel, buying back many of the dogs I sold when it appeared I could no longer continue this lifework, and at the same time importing more Bulldogs from England. Within the next three or four months I hope to have my kennel up to full strength once more.

With an engagement February 16 at the First Company Governor's Foot Guard Show in Hartford, Conn., I am resuming my judging activities.

It is always a pleasure to have people call and see our extensive kennel operation. Anyone desiring to visit may do so at any time, at their convenience. A fully detailed, illustrated folder of our dogs will be available in the near future. A copy will be sent you on request.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS - 1963!

Each year thousands of animals suffer pain and distress as a result of ignorance, indifference, and intentional cruelty. This presents a tremendous challenge to the Ontario Humane (SPCA) which has the task of fighting this cruelty to animals throughout the Province of Ontario.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL CLUB athree part STORY

part one 1888-1913

In this backward glance over the 75 years of The Canadian Kennel Club, dog shows played a major role. They were the arena in which breeders could measure their progress in the development of purbred dogs. In the evolution of Canadian dogdom, dog shows, as in other countries, came first, then show-giving clubs and thirdly an association to govern canine affairs.

There is no record of when or where the first dog show was held in Canada. We do know, however, that shows were held prior to 1888 — by the Manitoba Pet Stock Association in 1885; Montreal, 1883-1884; Ottawa, 1883; St. John, N.B., 1886; Toronto Fair Grounds, 1880; Horticultural Gardens, Toronto, 1884-1885. These Shows were held under American Kennel Club rules, and dogs were registered by the AKC.

Before long, Canadians grew restive under this arrangement. Continued showing and registering of their dogs under the rules of another country was not for independent folk. Rumblings ripened into a meeting at the London Canine Association show in September, 1887. This was the turning point. A general meeting took place at the next important gathering of dog fanciers, in the now demolished Tecumseh House in London, Ont. the following year.

The time had come, this gathering agreed, to form a club which would govern the affairs of Canadian dogdom. And so The Canadian Kennel Club was born. The major objects: to promote the breeding and exhibiting of "thoroughbred" dogs in Canada, to formulate rules for the governing of dog shows, to recommend suitable judges and to open a registry to record purebred dogs.

Officers elected at this meeting were: President, Richard Gibson, Delaware, Ont.; Vice-Presidents, J. D. Gregory, Quebec; Samuel Coulson, Montreal; Thomas Johnson, Winnipeg; W. J. Jackson, Toronto; Secretary, C. A. Stone, London; Treasurer, F. C. Wheeler, London. Executive Committee: C. M. Nelles, Brantford; Dr. S. J. Niven, London, William Hendrie, Hamilton; J. L. Campbell, Simcoe; W. W. Wells, Chatham; F. T. H. Mercer, Ottawa; W. H. Scully, Toronto; T. G. Davey, London; Robert McEwen, London.

An official voice was the next important step. H. B. Donovan, Toronto, publisher of The Canadian Poultry Review, after much urging agreed to publish an official paper as a supplement, to be called The Kennel Gazette. Volume I, Number I, was published in February, 1889.

Next item: a committee was appointed to approach the American Kennel Club in New York to suggest some kind of reciprocal arrangement. The journey was successful. The clubs agreed to allow dogs to be exhibited on both sides of the border without registration in both stud books. Both governing bodies would recognize suspensions or expulsions of members. This held good for only a few years (1894) when the American Kennel Club took steps to cancel the agreement. But it did agree, as did The Canadian Kennel Club, to continue to recognize one another's suspensions and expulsions. Now, however, it became necessary to register a dog with the AKC if it were to be shown in the States, and vice versa.

The 14 members who attended the first annual meeting learned that the membership had grown to 70 and 350 dogs had been registered — all within the first 12 months. Registrations were free to all members and only members had the oportunity to register dogs in Canada. The honor of the first registration fell to CKC Secretary Charles A. Stone, with his English Setter, Leicester. Registrations increased steadily in the next three years; 1889 with 402 dogs; 1890 — 455; and a jump to 847 in 1891.

Competitive interest flamed and shows blossomed. Clubs were formed in Kingston, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. Every club held a show between September 1 and October 1, 1891. The size of the entry in these fledgling events was remarkable. The Toronto Kennel Club in 1892 drew an entry of 733. Large individual entries were not out of the way. The Industrial Exposi-tion Show held in Toronto in 1890 offered a prize for the largest entry by a single exhibitor. First award that year went to Mr. B. F. Lewis of Philadelphia, who entered 32 dogs. Second prize fell to Mr. G. S. Thomas of Boston with a personal entry of 24. This was in an era when the fastest form of transportation was by horse and buggy or tedious train.

The drop in the Toronto KC Show entry to a mere 630 in 1893 caused such consternation that some members wanted to cancel the 1894 show plans.

At the annual meeting in 1893, four years after the CKC was formed, the annual report listed 212 members. For some reason, in September 1894 membership decreased to 143. This, of course, altered the financial picture. The income for 1893 was $659.00. After paying all bills, the treasury shrunk to $17.51. At the close of that year, it was worse: income, $418.00 - expenditure $429.89.

These dire circumstances led the Executive Committee to approach the AKC with some thought of amalgamation. A lengthy agreement was drawn up to which both parties finally agreed. The "marriage" completely killed the entity of The Canadian Kennel Club. Instead it became just another member club of the AKC, as did the clubs in the western United States, operating under the banner of the Pacific Kennel League. The Canadian Executive Committee became The Canadian Advisory Committee of the AKC. During this period Canadian shows made application to the AKC for dates, sending their deposits to the AKC and working under its rules. Registrations of Canadian dogs were also conducted by the AKC. The tragedy was spelled out in five acts written by "Fidelis", entitled the Death of The Canadian Kennel Club and published in the Gazette.

The general membership was so averse to this form of legislation that the agreement was cancelled six months later.

Financial stress was not the only river to be crossed by the young organization in its earliest years. One president was charged with misdemeanor. He in turn laid counter charges for libel. The AKC found such ructions distasteful and was not averse to the termination of the reciprocal agreement.

The year 1896 saw a revision in the By-laws and Constitution as well as dog show rules. The Canadian Kennel Club at this time became The Canadian Kennel Club Inc. Two interesting revisions of Dog Show Rules: "Show fees. In future shows where the entries do not exceed 250 entrants will pay a fee of $10.00; 250-350 entries, $15.00; 350-450 entries, $25.00. In all cases a deposit of $25.00 must be made with the Secretary-Treasurer of the Club when claiming dates. A refund of this sum will be made in proportion to number of entries specified above, after entries have been published. . . . No dog born after July 1, 1896 shall be eligible for competition at any bench show held under CKC rules that has its ears cropped." (This ruling was cancelled at the annual general meeting September 7, 1898).

Entry fees for shows at this time were $2.00 and entries closed about two weeks prior to show date. Shows were usually of four-day duration. Listing fees at that time were 25c.

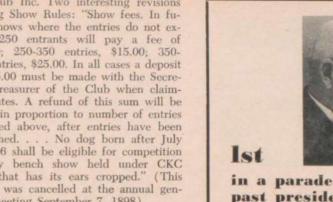

It was in 1896 that the suggestion was first made to have handlers wear an armband. The idea was tried with success and has continued to this day in Canada and the United States.

Even in those days The Canadian Kennel Club was severely criticized for appointing judges who, some felt, were incapable of assessing the breeds assigned to them. The familiar complaint against inviting American judges for our Canadian shows in the face of competent Canadian judges was frequently heard in those days.

HOW CHAMPIONS WERE MADE

The answer to the query: "Will you kindly give the necessary wins for a dog to become a Champion?" was published in the Gazette, May, 1901.

The CKC rule read as follows: "The Winners Class at any show shall be open only to the winners of first prizes at that show, and the winner of four first prizes in this class, two of which have been won at shows either giving $500.00 in cash prizes or having not less than 400 entries (in the case of Manitoba and British Columbia, $300.00 in cash prizes or 200 entries), will thereby become a champion of record, be so registered by The Canadian Kennel Club and will, if registered in the stud book, be entitled to a Canadian Kennel Club Champion Certificate. Before awarding "reserve" in this class, the dog or dogs having placed second to the winner in any of the regular classes must be brought before the judge for competition with the remaining dogs in said Winners Class. No Class winner can be withdrawn or withheld from competition in the Winners Class. A dog that has already won one or more first prizes in the late challenge class shall retain these wins to its credit toward becoming a Champion of record, the remaining qualifying wins to be gained in the Winners Class. The Winners Class can be divided by sex, provided other classes are also divided by

The first mention we find of Field Trials was that of the International Field Trial Clubs held at Mitchell's Bay, near Chatham, Ont., November 14, 1899. Of the total entry of 23, 17 were English Setters. Six were from Michigan and the remainder from Ontario.

After trials and tribulations enough to flounder any young organization, The Canadian Kennel Club emerged on solid rock and wound up the year 1899 with a balance of $533.00. The Secretary-Treasurer reported: (1) arrangement made to supply the Gazette and Stud Book to each member. (2) Circulation of petition to express companies now ready (urging reduced rates for shipping dogs to and from shows). (3) Manufacture of special dies, and medals from same offered at the different shows. (4) The adoption of new show classifications. (5) The purchase of plates of show rules - three sets - for use of show committees. (6) The acceptance of representatives from local clubs to the Executive Board. (7) The recognition of AKC and PKC (Pacific Kennel Club) wins.

J. Lorne Campbell, Simcoe, Ont., elected as President at the annual meeting September 17, 1890. He served on the Board until September 16, 1891. It was at this time under his guidance, that kennel names were first registered. Mr. Campbell was the first approved judge to pass on Gordon Setters in Canada.

(8) The adoption of an annual listing fee. Membership was 143. Registrations were 397.

Many changes have come about since that meeting, but none so significant as when ladies were permitted to have their say. The September, 1903 Gazette recorded in the minutes of the annual meeting: "The session lasted for about three hours and practically all present took part. Several ladies, members of the club, honored the meeting by their presence, including Mrs. Coleman ("Kit" of The Mail); Mrs. Waters, St. Thomas and Mrs. Gammon, Hamilton."

DOG SHOWS CAPTURE PUBLIC

Exactly 60 years ago, the graphic headline appeared in the Gazette September, 1903: TORONTO'S ONE THOUSAND ENTRY DOG SHOW. "That was a notable entry that Toronto secured from all parts of Canada and the United States. 1,014 entries beats anything heretofor benched in the Dominion and stands well out as a Canadian record" . . . The Dog Show 'drew the crowd' as an attraction; on Monday alone about 13,000 passing through the turnstiles at 10c each.

In the very next issue another headline: OTTAWA SHOW OVER FIVE HUNDRED ENTRIES ALL CANAD-IAN.

Other Canadian cities could also pride themselves on large shows in the "Gay Nineties" era: Montreal, 950; Gore KC at Hamilton, 264; Victoria, B.C., 211; Peterborough, 181. Other pre-1900 shows were held at Guelph, Woodbridge, Winnipeg, Brantford, Barrie, Petrolea, all with larger entries than these centres would now draw.

The breed entries contrast widely with those of today. Here is a sample entry at one show: St. Bernards, 62; Mastiffs, 10; Bloodhounds, 24; Newfoundlands, 1; Great Danes, 47; Russian Wolfhounds, 31; Deerhounds, 12; Greyhounds, 30; Foxhounds, 4; Pointers, 54; English Setters, 46; Irish Setters, 19; Griffons, Kortais, 2; Chesapeake Bay Dogs, 2; Clumber Spaniels, 4; Field Spaniels, 35; Cocker Spaniels, 88; Collies, 43; Old English Sheep Dogs, 16; Dalmatians, 6; Poodles, 65; Bulldogs, 96; Bull Terriers, 68; Airedale Terriers, 36; Boston Terriers, 147; French Bulldogs, 50; Basset Hounds, 3; Beagles, 85; Dachshunds, 50; Whippets, 7; Fox Terriers, 129; Irish Terriers, 76; Scottish Terriers, 58; Welsh Terriers, 12; Black and Tan Terriers, 12; Sky Terriers, 5; Bedlington Terriers, 1; Yorkshire Terriers, 16; Toy Terriers, (other than Yorkshires) 21; Pugs, 11; Pomeranians, 30; Toy Spaniels, 87; Toy Poodles, 2. This is also the order in which they were judged. The show was held by the Ladies Kennel Club, but the record does not specify which one. It does indicate that ladies not only had a say in dog affairs, but made the most of their recognition.

The August, 1904 Gazette reports: "The Toronto management seem to have struck a happy idea in offering a prize of a silver cup for the best kennel of four dogs entered and shown by a lady. There must be some gallant on the committee, as last year they had ladies' parlors set aside especially for what the American humorist terms 'the fair sect', and this year this will be added to by an exercising ring for the exclusive use of dogs owned by lady exhibitors."

Canada was not alone in attracting huge entries. On February 19, 1895, Westminster drew a record entry of 1605. Largest entry for breeds was St. Bernards, 148; Fox Terriers, 143; Spaniels, 123; Pointers, 111; English Setters, 102.

The annual meeting in September, 1906 brought forth the need for many changes in policy. These dictated changes in the Constitution and By-Laws as well as in the Dog Show Rules.

1906-MAJOR POLICY CHANGES

Most noticeable among these were: Article III — Officers, read: "Sec. 1. The officers of the Club shall be a President, a First and Second Vice-President, and one Vice-President for each Province, and Secretary-Treasurer; all of whom shall be annually nominated and elected as herein set forth . . ." The remainder has been revised but little.

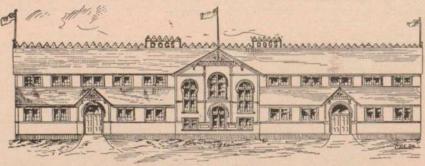

Article IV-Executive Committee reads: "Sec. 1 — The Executive Committee shall consist of the officers named, except the Secretary-Treasurer, and twelve other members elected at the same time and in the same manner. It shall convene in September, during Toronto show week, and on the second Friday in January, April and July . . ."

"Sec. 2. Any Club having at least ten members of the CKC, in good standing, may appoint or elect a representative to the CKC executive."

This section was dropped when the constitution was again revised in 1913. The reason has a familiar ring: . . . pointing out that there were 11 of such in Toronto, and this tended to give Toronto undue representation on the Executive Committee.

By-Law No. 5 — Fees. Required annual membership of $3.00 paid in advance. Cost of registration was $1.00 each, with one given free each year to members. Cost of listing was 25c. Search for pedigree, 25c; copy of pedigree, 50c, to members 25c; registration of prefix, $2.00; registration of kennel name, $2.00; duplicate of certificate, 25c.

A fee of $1.00 was charged to cover average cost for investigation of each complaint not arising out of misconduct at shows held under CKC rules. Members could make a complaint without charge. They received a copy of the Canadian Kennel Gazette each month free of charge as well as the annual stud book. The CKC offered at each show held under its rules handsome silver and bronze medals for which only members could compete. A silver cup was awarded each dog attaining championship honors, where registered and owned by a member.

These items show the CKC now well organized and operating on a very business-like basis — 57 years ago.

It is surprising how little the Dog Show Rules vary from those in use today. There were, however, some major differences. Rule #XV, Classes, for ex-ample: "1. The puppy class shall be for American bred dogs over six months and not exceeding 12 months of age, and no entry can be made of one under six months, or whose date of birth, breeder, sire or dam is unknown. An American bred dog is one born on the continent of North America. 2. The novice class shall be for American bred dogs never having won a first prize at any recognized show, wins in the puppy class excepted. 3. The limit class shall be for all dogs never having won four first prizes in said class at any recognized show, but no dog having been recorded champion shall be eligible for this class. 4. The open class shall be for all dogs of any age over six months. No prize winner shall be debarred from competing. 5. The winners class at any show shall be open only to winners of first prizes in any class recognized at that Ten points, won under at least two different judges, constituted a championship.

The number of points allotted at any show depended upon the number of dogs actually benched:

"Not less than 650 dogs — five points. Not less than 500 dogs — four points. Not less than 400 dogs — three points. Not less than 250 dogs — two points. Less than 250 dogs — one point.

The scale of points for all shows held west of Port Arthur varied:

Not less than 300 dogs — five points. Not less than 250 dogs — four points. Not less than 200 dogs — three points. Not less than 150 dogs — two points. Less than 150 dogs — one point.

Specialty club shows, confined to one breed, were scaled as follows:

Not less than 100 dogs — four points. Not less than 75 dogs — three points.

Not less than 50 dogs — two points. Before awarding reserve in this class the dog, or dogs, having been placed second to the winner in any of the recognized classes, must also be brought before the judge for competition. No class winner may be withdrawn or withheld from competition in the winners class. No entry fee shall be charged for competition in this class. Winners classes shall not be allowed where two or more breeds are combined. The winners class shall be divided by sex, provided at least the open class is also divided by sex. The winner of ten points in this class

The winner of ten points in this class shall thereby become a champion of record, be so recognized by the CKC, and will, if registered in the Stud Book, be entitled to a Canadian Kennel Club championship cup. In the latter case, however, all points must have been won while the dog was owned by a member of the CKC.

The above rule shall take effect on March 1st, 1907.

Any dog that previous to this date has partially qualified for the championship title, shall be allowed to complete its championship under the old rule which was in existence previous to August 31, 1906.

A certificate of the number of dogs actually present, signed by the President or chairman of the Bench Show committee, and the Secretary or Superintendent of the show, and endorsed by one or more members of the CKC Executive Committee, shall be sent by registered mail before the close of the show to the Secretary-Treasurer of the CKC. Blank forms for this purpose will be supplied by the CKC.

6. The miscellaneous class shall be open to all dogs or established breeds for which no regular class has been provided in the premium list. Entries in this class must specify the breed of the exhibit. Failure to comply with this condition shall cancel the award, if any.

XVI. In estimating the number of prizes a dog has won, the number of prizes won shall be calculated up to 12 p.m. of the day preceding the closing of the entries of the show.

XVII. If a prize winner is disqualified, the next dog in order of merit as placed by the judge shall be given the prize thus forfeited, and the win shall count in every respect the same as if it had been the original award. An equal first prize shall be counted as a win for each dog, dividing first and second money, the dog next in order of merit receiving third money.

XVIII. No dog eligible for special prizes can be withdrawn from competition unless it has been stated on the entry blank, "Will not compete for special prizes."

XIX. Dogs may be entered for exhibition or for specials only, if so stated on the entry blank; but any dog entered for competition and received at the show building must compete in all the classes for which it is entered, and failing to do so, shall be fined an amount equal to the entrance fee for each class. Dogs competing for specials only must be entered in one of the regular classes in which they need not compete. In judging "gen-eral specials" or specials, of a similar nature the competition shall be restricted to dogs that have won first in their respective winners' classes. In cases where a special prize has already been awarded for the best of a breed, only the winner of this special shall compete.

XX. No special prizes may be accepted or offered by a show committee after the regular judging has commenced.

XXI. The age of a dog shall be calculated up to and inclusive of the day preceding the show; for instance, a dog whelped April 30 shall not be eligible on April 30 of the following year to compete for dogs under 12 months of age.

T. C. Davey, London, Ont., became President on September 16, 1891, serving for the one year to September 13, 1892. He was a breeder of and authority on English Setters, being the first Canadian judge to get CKC approval for this breed. Mr. Davey was appointed to the Executive Committee when the Club was formed in 1888.

XXII. An objection to a dog may be made by any exhibitor, or any member of a club a member of this association, but must be in writing and be lodged with the Secretary within seven days of the last day of the show. No objection shall be entertained unless accompanied by a deposit of $5.00, except the same is lodged in the name of The Canadian Kennel Club, which may be made at any time. (For subsequent proceedings in protest see Rule XIV. of club regulations).

XXIII. A person guilty of misconduct of any kind in connection with dogs, dog shows or field trials, may be suspended by the President of The Canadian Kennel Club, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or by the committee of the show or trial where the offence was committed. The disqualification of an owner shall apply to all dogs owned by him, or connected with the perpetration of a fraudulent act.

XXIV. No person under suspension or sentence of disqualification may exhibit to take a prize, act as agent for an exhibitor, or take a dog into the judging ring, at any show, or be connected in any capacity with dog shows held under CKC rules.

XXV. Entries made in the names of a kennel must be accompanied by the name or names of the actual proprietor, or proprietors, but not necessarily for publication. The partners in a kennel will be deemed equally culpable in the case of fraud perpetrated in their names.

XXVI. The person presenting the identification ticket shall be recognized as the agent of the owner in the latter's absence, and his receipt for prize money shall be binding on the owner, unless notice to the contrary is endorsed on the identification ticket."

Professor T. Wesley Mills, Montreal, Que., was elected September 13, 1892, serving as President until September 12, 1893. A Professor at McGill University, he proved to be an aggressive, progressive officer. His books on various subjects dealing with dogs became very popular.

show under Canadian Kennel Club rules, provided it abides by the following regulations:

I. Applications for dates must be filed with the Secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club for approval by the Executive Committee or such sub-committees as may be empowered to grant dates. Such approval, however, shall be subject, to the subsequent endorsement of the premium list as being in accordance with the requirements of The Canadian Kennel Club.

II. Sec. 1. Application for dates must be accompanied by a deposit of $25.00 which will be forfeited in the event of the show not being held, or failure to comply with the requirements of The Canadian Kennel Club, as set forth herein. Sec. 2. Shows not exceeding 250 entries will be charged a fee of $10.00, 250 and under 350 entries, $15.00; 350 and under 450 entries $20.00; and over 450 entries $25.00. The difference between these amounts and that of the deposit shall be refunded on publication of the entries.

III. Sec. 1. The show shall not extend beyond four full days. Sec. 2. Entries shall close not less than seven days prior to the first day of the show, and a club accepting any entry after that date (unless postmarked on the date of closing entries) shall be subject to a fine of not less than $10.00 for each entry so accepted. No alteration of the date of closing entries shall be allowed. Sec. 3. The classification shall be confined to established breeds, which may be divided by sex and otherwise, as provided for in the dog show rules. No change in classification will be allowed unless announced before the date for closing entries, unless such change is covered by the published regulations of the show.

IV. Sec. 1. Every bench show must employ a qualified veterinary surgeon. Sec. 2. A qualified veterinary surgeon is a graduate of a recognized college entitled to confer the degree of V.S., or one who, without having a diploma, has had at least five years' practical experience to fit him for the practice of his profession.

V. The premium list must contain the dog show rules of The Canadian Kennel Club, also a list of the officials under whose management the show is to be held, who, with the exception of the paid employees, shall be held responsible for the payment of all prizes within 60 days of the last day of the show, in default of which the said officials shall be suspended or disqualified for such time as The Canadian Kennel Club shall de-

VI. No special prize can be offered except for dogs of established breeds, and none can be offered, unless publicly announced before the regular judging has commenced.

VII. All prizes must be in accordance with their description in the premium list. Prizes of gold and silver must be of the purity of standard coin. Prizes in a given class shall be awarded regardless of the number of entries, except as otherwise defined in Rule XII.

VIII. No person under sentence of suspension, disqualification or expulsion may be employed in any official capacity, or exhibit, or take a prize, or act as agent for any exhibitor, or show a dog in any judging ring.

IX. No entry shall be accepted of any puppy under six months of age, either for competition or exhibition, subject to a penalty of $10.00 for each under age puppy placed on exhibition.

X. No entry can be accepted on any dog not marked "listed" or "registered" on the entry form, as per dog show Rule II, subject to a fine of $5.00 for each

XI. A club may act as agent for exhibitors by accepting the fee for registration or listing, but must make immediate returns thereof to The Canadian Kennel Club. A penalty of $10.00 for each day will be enforced for any delay beyond ten days from the date of closing of the show, in making such returns to The Canadian Kennel Club.

XII. The catalogue of the show must give all the particulars required of exhibitors in entering dogs, as provided in Rules II., III., IV., XV. (section 6) of the dog show rules. It must also contain a list of the officers under whose management the show is held, together with a copy of the dog show rules and such other regulations as were announced in the premium list.

XIII. Only Canadian Kennel Club Stud Book numbers shall be used in the catalogue.

XIV. In the event of a protest being filed in accordance with Rule XXI. of the dog show rules, the mode of procedure shall be as follows:-The show committee shall at once meet and decide upon any objections lodged during the show, and from their decision an appeal may at once be made to any member of the Executive Committee of The Canadian Kennel Club who may be available, provided such member is not on the Show Committee. If the second decision is adverse to the appellant, the deposit of $5.00 is thereby forfeited to the Show Committee.

Immediately upon the lodging of a protest with the Secretary during the show, it shall be his duty to request the judge to select reserve numbers, if he has not already done so, in order that any prize which would be affected by the disqualification of the protested dog may not fail of being awarded.

If the objection is lodged subsequent to the show, it must be decided by the Committee within 20 days from its receipt. Five days' notice of the date and place of meeting for that purpose must be given to all parties interested.

From any such decision or decisions appeal may be taken to the full Executive Committee of the Canadian Kennel Club. But such appeal must be forwarded to the Secretary within seven days of the decision being rendered, together with a deposit of $10.00. If the decision appealed from is sustained, the $10.00 deposit shall be forfeited to the Canadian Kennel Club, but if the decision is reversed then all deposits must be returned to the applicant.

XV. In the event of the suspension by a Show Committee of any person for misconduct, as provided for in Rule XXII. of the dog show rules, notice of such suspension shall be forwarded within 24 hours to the Secretary of The Canadian Kennel Club, who shall at once notify the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, who shall investigate the case, and if he sees fit suspend the penalty until the next meeting of the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee must, at their first meeting thereafter, either remove the suspension or must impose a penalty of disqualification for such a period as they may decide upon.

The disqualification of an owner shall apply to all goods owned by him or connected with the perpetration of a fraudulent act. The Executive Committee of The Canadian Kennel Club is however, empowered to use such discretion in the enforcement of this penalty as shall protect innocent parties. No person shall, however, be disqualified without due notice, and formal charges and specifications, and an opportunity given of being heard in his own defence.

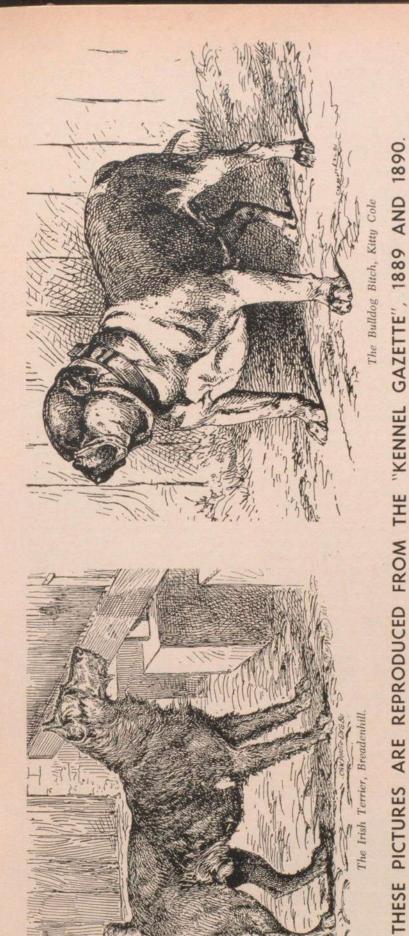

XVI. Such regulations may be adopted for the government of any show as shall be considered necessary, provided they do not conflict with any of the foregoing or of the dog show rules. Finally adopted.

Recognized Shows

Wins at all shows under CKC or AKC rules will be recognized. (The latter at shows held outside of Canada only.) Special Note: As The Canadian Kennel Club recognizes all wins made under AKC rules except in the case of winners classes, at shows held outside of Canada, owners should be careful to enter dogs in their proper classes. Adopted Jan. 25, 1907."

TWO SIGNIFICANT YEARS

During 1912 Secretary-Treasurer Donovan retired and was succeeded by Dr. Alfred Boultbee, who also inherited the official publication. The first copy of Kennel & Bench appeared in October, 1912, a magazine independent of the poultry publication.

At that time every letter received by the CKC was published in the magazine, together with its reply, as drafted at a meeting of the Executive Committee. On more than one occasion this policy was criticized by letter writers, who felt their business with the CKC was not necessarily that of all of Canada. And at times the subjects introduced in such letters did nothing to advance the thinking of those who read the correspondence. This system was changed with the new Secretary and from that point on letters were merely referred to in the minutes.

Kennel names in the news in the pioneer days, and still in use today (albeit pertaining to different owners and different breeds), include Tipperary, Avondale Kennels, then owned by Arthur Ellison, Mount Hamilton, who bred Scottish Terriers; Birchcliffe Kennels, owned by James W. Bain, Toronto, who bred Airedales; Challenger Kennels, owned by Mrs. Paul Malovitz, Montreal, a Bulldog fancier; and Dorian, then owned by A. J. Smith, Toronto.

The "Holiday" edition of Kennel & Bench was thoroughly supported with advertising. In this one issue seven breeders took full pages, two had double page spreads, one had a page and a half, 11 had purchased half page space to promote their kennels. Rates were different, but so was the rate of income. The CKC stenographer, for example, received $12.50 a week. Average stud service was $15.00. Average income in those days and the rate of $13.50 per page were commensurate with income and publishing costs today.

A second national kennel club was formed in 1913 by dog fanciers in Western Canada. The creation of The Dominion Kennel Club caused a flurry in the CKC. This great wide country, officials and members avowed, was not big enough for two governing bodies. A special committee was formed posthaste to meet with the new leaders in the hope of somehow uniting the two. A meeting for the Manitoba members of the CKC was held in Winnipeg on December 30, at which it was agreed to set up an Advisory Board, much the same as the Pacific Advisory Board in British Columbia. Although there were only 11 members in all of Manitoba, the new Board consisted of five.

And here is how the Dog Show regulation on officiating at a show or trial not under CKC rules came about. In the hectic year when the two governing bodies existed, the CKC Executive Committee formed the rule to allow some measure of penalty for CKC members who were so brash as to ride two

In August, 1914, Kennel & Bench reports, the CKC was compelled, reluctantly, to disqualify a number of members who had officiated at shows in defiance to this ruling. Bid farewell were previous officers, old friends and old members, who took their medicine with varying emotions. The dismissal of 35 members at one fell swoop represented considerable loss to the indivi-duals, the club and shows as well.

part two 1913-1938

With its inaugural troubles successfully weathered, the CKC embarked on its second 25 years with hopes of smoother sailing. But this was not to be. The First World War had its effect on the organization and dogdom as a whole. Tales of canine heroism in action were many, and Canadian dogs were no ers on this continent an incentive to do more importing. How so many dogs managed to cross the Atlantic safely is little short of miraculous. Alsatians, as they were called, Bulldogs, Golden Retrievers and many other breeds made their Canadian debut. Some breeds, of German origin, became less popular as war-embittered feeling grew.

A new incentive was given to showgiving clubs. Proceeds of drives and shows went to many good causes. One of the most popular was the Blue Cross Show, held in Toronto to aid members of the Canine Corp. It drew a large entry and considerable money.

One of the most active workers may be remembered by older British Columbia readers. An attractive booth, tastefully decorated with patriotic emblems, stood in downtown Victoria. Without resorting to tricks, the Spitz did exactly what he was trained to do — lie quietly on his red plush cushion, unattended. Few could pass without patting him and leaving a coin in the box he so proudly tended.

Because of the manpower shortage, many clubs combined to keep shows going in their area, proof that club differences can be forgotten when the need for unity arises.

The inevitable lessening in dog activities in wartime reversed as men returned home. Kennels, dog clubs, the rounds of shows and trials once more reached normal proportions. Service men came back with descriptions of breeds they had never before encountered and some brought back specimens.

Postwar days brought about many changes in the operation of kennels. A growing interest in purebred dogs appeared in many forms. Advertisements for new dog foods, supplements, fencing, crates suddenly emerged. Lists of books and articles on breeding practices were published in dog magazines. Small animal hospitals were started, and well advertised. During the frightening rabies epidemic, owners became more conscious of the need for protection against contagious diseases. As a result of the hard work, heartache and suffering of these early days, kennel owners of today benefit in many ways.

OLD ACQUAINTANCES

Many names appearing in the "Twenties" are familiar to dog folk today. Mrs. Routley and the late Herb Routley of Peterborough imported the first Springer Spaniels to Canada from England. Mrs. Routley is still actively breeding excellent Springers, showing and running them at field trials. Bulldog fancier Reg. P. Sparkes, Toronto, then, as now, imported good Bulldogs, showing and winning with them. Although not active as a kennel today, the Alva Kennels and their owner, Alva McColl, are still well-known. Another name well known, although no longer active in breeding and showing, is CKC recep-tionist, Mrs. Loveridge. The kennels of Alf and Meta were steadily in the limelight. George Kynoch, whose headquarters in those days was Winnipeg, was Canada's leading handler. Now he is equally well known as a judge.

The names of the well-known American judges, Alf. Lepine and Vincent Perry are familiar to many Canadian exhibitors. Few know that Mr. Perry hailed from London, Ont. and served many years on the Board of The Canadian Kennel Club, and that Mr. Lepine operated a kennel in Montreal.

Even then, Mrs. R. P. Adams of Ste. Agathe, Que. and her Talisker Skye Terriers were internationally known. Ted Ward, of Terrier note, took over from his famous father and exhibited at many of the shows. Jack Fry, Gormley, Ont., now an all-breed judge, represented the Maritimes as CKC Director. The Laskey brothers, W. W. and Robert J., were active breeders then and still are. "W. W." also represented the Maritimes on the Board and "Bobby" is noted for staging shows. The Jubilee Boston Terrier Kennels of Martha Stevens, Toronto, ran large advertisements offering puppies and a wide choice of studs. Until recently, when ill health intervened, Mrs. Stevens has been a faithful exhibitor and show and club worker. Walter Reeves of Oakville, recognized as a leading judge in Canada and the United States, for many years wrote the monthly column, "The Canadian Fancy" in Kennel & Bench. On the West Coast were many outstanding kennels and breeders. One of the best-known breeders and still active in various civic affairs, is Bill Pym. There are many others in every province whose fine kennels and dogs have set their stamp on today's kennels.

CKC JOINS LIVE STOCK RECORDS

Prior to 1914 a group of breed associations, including horses, cattle, swine, decided to band together to conduct registrations of their animals in one central location and thus reduce costs. Because these animals were all considered livestock, the idea had the blessing of the Department of Agriculture (Federal) who in turn offered assistance by supplying a building rent free, including light and heat, and a grant of no small amount. This organization is now known as The Live Stock Records Committee, operating under the Live Stock Pedigree Act. The Canadian Kennel Club made application to be incorporated in this venture during 1914 and was accepted in 1915. From this date on all registrations have been conducted by The National Live Stock Records, Ottawa. These are done on a unit cost system upon direction from The Canadian Kennel Club. To meet the requirements of the Act required amendments to the Constitution, such as end of year and approval by the Department of Agriculture and By-Laws (not including Show or Trial rules). These were amended and accepted, signed, sealed and delivered February 20, 1915.

BLACK LIST AND OTHER THINGS

During 1914 the AKC and The Kennel Club, England, agreed to recognize one another's "black list". The CKC had a similar type of agreement with The Kennel Club in 1906.

Around 1915 Dog Show Rules were

Dr. J. S. Niven, London, Ont., was elected from the Executive Committee to the Presidency on September 12, 1893 and was re-elected in 1894, serving in this capacity until September 10, 1895. On the first list of approved judges he is shown as a judge of Setters and Spaniels. He provided excellent leadership and were it not for the fact that the Club was at a low ebb at the time he held office, he undoubtedly would have been acclaimed as one of the Club's best Presidents.

amended whereby points had to be won under three judges instead of two.

During 1919 the slate of officers changed from a Vice-President for each Province to two Directors from British Columbia, one for Alberta, one for Manitoba, one for the Maritime Provinces, one for Saskatchewan. Ontario had seven and Quebec two.

Advertising appeared during 1919 for a kennel of Airedale Terriers owned by Lieut. Col. Reg. Pellatt. The kennel prefix? Casa Loma.

During 1919 the Dog Show Rules were again amended. While some are most important, others would not be of interest today. Up to that year, points were based on the number of dogs entered at a show. It was revised to the number of dogs benched (including dogs entered for exhibition) in each breed. The color of ribbons was also defined: First, blue; Second, red; Third, yellow; Winners, royal purple; Reserve, white; Special prizes, green. Ribbons were to be two inches wide and eight inches long.

The idea of a semi-annual meeting is not new. A semi-annual session was held in September, 1925 — with one difference. It was open to the general membership and was well attended.

SHOW RULES UNDERGO RADICAL CHANGES

Dog Show Rules were revised many times since the first draft. Perhaps the most significant one in the early period came about at this time. Up to 1927 dogs were divided into breeds and were not shown in any special order, except that "Big Dogs were judged first, followed by little dogs and lastly Toy dogs". The revision required the breeds to be divided into Groups. Several new

H. Bedlington, Hamilton, Ont. was another of the original Executive Committee to be elected as President. He assumed office September 10, 1895 and served as President until September 9, 1897. Mr. Bedlington could well be called the travelling President, for he travelled far and wide at his own expense to further the interests of the Club. It was during his tenure of office that the controversy regarding cropping began, providing the President with considerable problems.

breeds were also recognized at this time: Schnauzers, Retrievers (Golden) and Schipperkes.

From the minutes of the CKC, 1920: "One of the members took exception to the name Belgian Sheep Dog, and produced proof that dogs owned by him were registered in the land of their origin as "German Shepherd Dog". It was moved and seconded "that the proper name for the several breeds of European sheep dogs be established".

A new way to win a trophy was devised in 1927. The Governor-General had offered a sterling silver trophy for the best Canadian bred dog or bitch. Three dogs had won an equal number of points and the Secretary had advised that he had suggested that the three names be drawn to see who would take home the coveted trophy. All agreed, and the Secretary placed 24 pieces of paper in a hat, 21 of which were blank. The Vice-President made the draw and after drawing six blanks drew the name Int. Ch. Glenrose Flashaway, owned by Joseph Greenwood, Beamsville, Ont.

As a result of Seppala's famous dogsled race with precious serum to Nome, Alaska dog-sled racing became a popular sport in northern areas of Canada as well as in Alaska. A movement was started, although never completed, to make the Husky Canada's national dog. At that time the United States claimed the Boston Terrier as the national dog, England had its famous Bulldog, France claimed the Poodle, Germany the German Shepherd. The people concerned (not Husky breeders) made the suggestion that Canada accept the Husky.

This paragraph appears in the April, 1927 minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors: "The Secretary read a letter from the Records Office regarding the proper classification of certain dogs offered for registration known as Schnauzers, and advised the Board that he had been advised that the breed was simply the breed hitherto known as Wire-haired Pinschers, and that it was becoming very popular in the United States and was already catching on east and west in Canada." The Secretary was instructed to include Schnauzers in the list of recognized breeds.

Up to 1929, this was the method of judging Best Dog in Show. The winner of the title of Best Dog or Bitch of its breed, where a special had been offered, appeared in the ring and paraded before the judges. In January of that year the following notice of motion was made by T. B. Grimshaw: "Pursuant to Canadian Kennel Club Dog Show Rule 31. Amendments, at the forthcoming Annual General Meeting of The Canadian Kennel Club, I will move: That Dog Show Rule No. 30 - List of Recognized Breeds - be amended by prefacing the present sub-headings of the breed divisions to read as follows: Group 1. Sporting Dogs; Group 2, Working Dogs; Group 3, Terriers; Group 4, Toys; Group 5, Non-Sporting. That the new rules to be known as Rules 31, 32, 33 be added to the existing rules, Rule 31 to be read as follows: The Judges shall designate the best specimen of each breed, male or female, judged by him, entered either in the breed classes or for Specials only.

Rule 32 to read as follows: Each allbreed show-giving club shall provide for five group specials not divided by sex, each group to be arranged in the same order, and to comprise the same breeds as appear in rule 30. Only dogs designated Best of Breed by the Judge, as already set forth, shall be eligible to compete for the Group Special in which they belong, according to this grouping. All entries for such Group Specials shall be made after the judging of the regular classes, and the showgiving club may charge an entry fee, if said entry fee has been published in the premium list. In case of absence or failure of the dog winning Best of Breed to enter in the Group Special to which it is eligible, no other dog of the same breed shall be allowed to enter this Group Special.

Rule 33 to read as follows: The five dogs winning in the above five-group specials may compete in a final group special for the title of Best in Show, for which no entry fee is charged. Not more than five judges shall officiate in this group. When specials other than the above group specials are given, they shall be judged subsequently to and by the same judge or judges as have judged the final Group Special for the Best in Show.

In support of the aforementioned Amendments and proposed sustaining Rules 31, 32 and 33, I would simply refer to that jumbled spectacle seen at most of our All-Breed shows in Canada when the Special for Best Dog in Show, all breeds, has to be judged. Really, it always reminds me of the story of Noah and the Ark. At shows where ring space is invariably small, the existing arrangement is provocative in the extreme. The procession moves on. A Shepherd Dog takes a snap at a Peke, or vice versa. Nose to tail they go, and if anyone stops, the others seem to pile up, and there is trouble from the start. In the ring there may be a score or more that have no earthly chance to be placed Best of Breed. By the arrangement I propose, at shows where all the breeds might be in competition, 27 dogs would be the most that could come together to have their "Best" selected. Of course I refer to Group 1 - Sporting Dogs. There never would be 27, for the reason that breeds such as Basset Hounds, Griffons, Harriers, Norwegian Elkhounds, Otter Hounds, Field Spaniels and Sussex Spaniels are seldom seen at shows in Canada, so that at the largest of our shows 20 breeds of the Sporting Group would be the limit.

With these groups coming together in this impressive grouping, there would be impressive interest sustained as the show was nearing its close. Then as the five animals selected from the Groups came together for the Best Dog in Dog Show, 1909.

Show, all breeds, there would be sensible ring room. The judge would have at least a chance to see the virtues of the selected five, and to rate their qualities conveniently and accurately. The interest would be sustained until the very last moment of judging, and much of the unrest so noticeable at most shows amongst the exhibitors would disappear."

When this proposal was brought before the annual meeting it caused quite a stir. Among the Directors at that meeting were Mr. Pym, Mr. Sparkes and Mr. Reeves, who will well recall the discussion. Nevertheless, Rules 30, 31, and 32 were approved as written. Rule 33 was approved only as far as the sentence beginning "When specials . . ."

33 was approved only as far as the sentence beginning "When specials . . ."
In March, 1930, the name Alsatian was changed to German. Thus The Alsatian Shepherd Club of Canada became The German Shepherd Club of Canada. All references where the word Alsatian occurred were changed accord-

At the annual meeting in 1931 an important motion was made, seconded and passed by a vote of 71 for and 23 against. That "All judges shall be licensed by The Canadian Kennel Club. Judges residing in Canada shall be recommended by the Advisory Committee for the Province in which the applicant resides. All applications from outside Canada shall be dealt with direct by the Board of Directors at Toronto. No fee shall be charged for judges' licenses."

At the same meeting an amendment to license handlers was defeated by a vote of 42 for and 50 against. This was a very busy meeting for here, too, the old rule which prohibited cropping was rescinded. Henceforth dogs with cropped ears could be shown.

Miniature Poodles were added to the breed classification in 1931. This was upon the request of the Records Office who had received applications for dogs registered as Miniature Poodles in England that would have to be registered as Toy Poodles here.

At the end of 1932 the list of breeds recognized in Canada included:

A PERIOD OF STRESS

During the early "Thirties" several references were made to the tattooing of dogs. As usual some were in favor, others violently opposed.

Throughout every year amendments were proposed to the Constitution, By-Laws or Dog Show Rules. Some were routine, others most interesting, illustrating that members and exhibitors felt much the same about many topics "way back when" as they do today.

John G. Kent, Toronto, Ont., was elected President on September 17 1898. He held this office until December 15, 1916. His Terra Cotta Kennels were well known throughout the dog fancy. Through his efforts, small clubs were organized in such places as Guelph, Barrie, Woodbridge, Belleville, Petrolia, and a second club in Hamilton. As President of the C.N.E. he encouraged bigger and better shows.

Charges were made, for example, that elections were crooked, which called for an investigation by the RCMP. All charges and accusations were proven unfounded. Perhaps, although we hear similar statements today, this has deterred members from making their accusations official. The columns of Kennel & Bench and copies of minutes were filled with problems concerning registration matters. Some were charged with misrepresentation, others for forged transfers, more on accusations of crooked or incompetent judging.

At that time all amendments were sent to the Secretary in a form of a Notice of Motion. The mover was required to be on hand at the annual general meeting or have someone there to present his case. This was seconded by anyone from the floor and a free discussion took place. Then the President called for a vote. If found favorable as presented it was passed then and there. But often amendments were made and accepted until at times the mover of the original amendment could hardly recognize it as the one he originally submitted. At least this type of rule changing brought more members to the annual general meeting, as it is not uncommon to read that members were present from as far west as British Columbia. Those from Winnipeg and Montreal were many.

BIRTH OF OBEDIENCE

The year 1932 was vital for dog lovers interested in Obedience - then and now. The first Obedience Trial under CKC rules was held at the CNE show. The rules are vastly different from today, as witness part of an article from the October, 1932 Kennel & Bench:

The obedience class made its debut to the fanciers and general public at the 44th International Exhibition at Toronto. This is the first time that a class of this nature has been held at an All-Breed Dog Show in Canada. The obedience class proved its merits as a drawing card by the large crowd in attendance. The ringside could not begin to accommodate the hundreds of people crowded around its four sides to watch the dogs in action. The upper gallery was crowded and it was observed that people were standing on chairs, benches and up the two stairways in order to get a glimpse of the proceedings. This was all very satisfying to the sponsors of the class, The German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, who are desirous of having the Obedience Class adopted as a regular feature of all CKC shows.

Evidently the CNE thought well of the venture for they scheduled one for 1933. Here are the results as reported by Judge Randall Perry: "1st with 94 points, Wolfe V. Stettin, owned and trained by C. W. Radford. Lost two points in Ex. 1 for lagging and slowness; one point in Ex. 2 for moving up towards handler; three points in Ex. 3 for hesitating delivery and slowness." Applause from the crowd made an entirely different dog of Wolfe. From this time on he scored full points in the last three exercises. Mr. Perry gave the same type of explanation for each of the seven dogs entered. The article concludes: "In this class the prize money was divided among the first three, 1st getting $30.00; 2nd getting $20.00 and 3rd getting $10.00, all very much worth

for the	Companion Dog class:
Exercise	1-Heeling (Free),	10	pts.
Exercise	2-Sit - Down - Sit,	15	pts.
Exercise	3-Simple Retrieve,	15	pts.
Exercise	4-Retrieve (Jump),	20	pts.
Exercise	5—Down — Heel,	15	pts.
Exercise	6-Down - Advance	25	pts.
Possible		100	pts.

POINT RATING

The present method of point rating was drawn up by a committee headed by Mr. Walter Reeves and presented for approval in 1933. The Best of Winners was added at the same time, as was the Group winner receiving the points as it is today. These points were only allotted at All-Breed shows. Specialty shows still worked on the old principle of dogs benched, i.e., not less than 100 dogs shall count 5 points; not less than 75 dogs shall count 4 points; not less than 50 dogs shall count 3 points; not less than 40 dogs shall count 2 points, less than 40 dogs shall count 1 point.

Another rule we have today also came from this committee's recommendation: Iunior and Senior Puppy classes with the requirements as they are today.

It was in 1933 that ladies took courage and ran for the Board. Two ran for the position of Ontario Director - and both were defeated.

two from New Brunswick and one each from Quebec, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan. Many names are familiar today. Some are still active, others still interested but inactive. Here are a few names taken at random from the list most likely to stir memories: Victor Blochin, Aurora, Ont., Scottish, Cairn and West Highland White Terriers; Joseph Dodds, Vancouver, all breeds; Mrs. Camille de P. Doniphan, Montreal, all Toys; John Fry, Jr., Halifax, all breeds; George Kynoch, Winnipeg, all breeds; William W. DOGS IN THE NEWS

"Contented Dog" at "Carnation Farm" is the heading of an article that relates how a Canadian Bred Dog, a Golden Retriever, was chosen to be the only representative of the Sporting Group at this well-known farm. It is said that 15,000 visited the farm each year and the stock carried for exhibition runs over $1 million. Ch. Rockhaven Mermaid was bred by Mr. S. S. Magoffin, North Vancouver, B.C.

Since the beginning of the CKC Canadian dogs have shown their worth on the other side of the international boundary. The Bull Terrier, Haymarket Faultless, owned by R. H. (Humphrey) Elliott of Ottawa, who took BIS honors at Westminster in 1918, must have made the Canadian dog fancy very proud.

If pictures can be trusted, Miss Helen Cluff of Caledon, Ont., must have been thrilled when her Old English Sheepdog, Ch. Snowflake, took Reserve BIS at Westminster in 1934. Dr. L. G. Hagmeier of Preston, Ont. must have been pleased when the editor of Hounds and Hunting listed Haig's Traveller "The Greatest Beagle I Ever Saw." Three well-known authorities of that time agreed.

The early editions provide many "pearls of wisdom". The Editorial Comment, written in June, 1936, contained six paragraphs all of which (space permitting) would bear repeating. These comments would apply equally as well in 1963 as they did in 1936.

"Probably the time is opportune to focus on some phases of the condition of Canadian Dogdom at the present time. Generally speaking, the industry—or sport—whichever term our readers may prefer, is substantially sound and healthy. Nevertheless, we are reluctantly obliged to notice evidence of the lack of good sportsmanship indicated here and there, and from time to time. If our dog lovers, as a complete whole, could only be as consistently on the "up and up" as the dogs are themselves, what a beautiful canine atmosphere might prevail in this vigorous young country of ours".

SO ENDETH FIFTY YEARS

The turbulent second 25 years of The Canadian Kennel Club saw some of the most significant developments in dog-dom.

In summing up . . . one of the most

in a parade of past presidents

Joseph Russell, Toronto, Ont., was elected February 14, 1917 and served as President until December 31, 1925. When he joined the club on October 15, 1915, it was immediately apparent that his parliamentary experience in the Government, both Federal and Provincial marked him as a leader. At the close of his first year in office, the dream of reaching 1000 members had been realized for the first time. The foresight of the members in choosing this dapper little gentleman as President was borne out.

important was the decision of the Board in 1914 to join with other breed associations in the Canadian National Records Committee. Registration figures before and after confirm the wisdom of this more overleaf step . . . licensing of judges resulted in the application of many leading American judges . . . Canadian judges, too numerous to name, and for more than those receiving assignments today, were invited to judge major American shows . . . (some of these are still the same "old guard" who filled the roles in earlier years) . . . the official magazine had an outside editor (other than the Secretary) for the first time . . . the financial picture looked rosy despite the depression . . .

A Canadian breeder travelled to England with two Bulldogs. One, Can. Am. Ch. Prince of Wales, after serving a long quarantine in England, swept everything in sight to gain his English Championship. During this time he had to have his name changed, as The Kennel Club would not accept the registration of a dog carrying that title. So the Prince of Wales became Dominion Fortitude.

The second half-century starts with a new President, Reg. P. Sparkes, and new faces on the board. Mr. Sparkes came to the Board after serving for many years as an Ontario Director. He was well acquainted with problems that could - and did come his way. Reg., who is no longer a member of the Board, still has a keen interest in everything pertaining to the promotion of purebred dogs. This applies as well to the then 2nd Vice-President William H. Pvm and two of the Ontario Directors, Mrs. Ellen Brown (mother of the present Secretary - Treasurer, Norman Brown) and William McDerment. The latter is serving in the same capacity for 1963.

ENTER NORMAN BROWN

It was at the beginning of this era that Mr. Brown joined the ranks of the CKC as Assistant Secretary and General Manager. He was a young, single man, with years of experience in doggy matters through his mother's O'The North Schipperke Kennels, Mr. Brown has performed inestimable service for the past 25 years. Every rule and its reason is at his fingertips. Despite his heavy schedule he finds time to talk to any member who drops into the office. It speaks well for the ability of the Secretaries that the CKC has had few changes in secretaries during its 75 years. Mr. C. A. Stone was secretary from 1888 to 1890; Mr. S. F. Glass, 1890 to 1891; Mr. H. B. Donovan to 1912; Mr. Alfred Boultbee to 1916. From 1916 to 1919 the post was held by several employees in an acting capacity. Otherwise these men were elected to office by the Executive Committee. Then Mr. James F. Strachan was employed as Secretary to 1941, when Mr. Brown succeeded him.

IDENTIFICATION COMES TO A HEAD

Problems commenced at the very first meeting of the new Board. The Livestock Pedigree Act calls for the identification of animals before they can be registered. Just why they never enforced this rule with the CKC is not known, but 24 years passed before it was made obligatory. Even knowing this, many members took exception and it was a battle that had to be fought repeatedly. The first time it was actually put to the members, 618 out of the 1,316 members signified the method they preferred. They were given a choice of (1) charting (2) tattooing (3) noseprinting. The results were 88 votes for (1); 251 for (2) and 279 for (3). This eruption caused a tremendous drop in the registrations. To give a comparison: in October, 1938 there were 698 registrations and 753 transfers. For the same month in 1939 the registrations were 333, transfers 408.

It was in 1940 that Dogs in Canada was born. The Board deemed that the name Kennel & Bench did not lend itself to the promotion of circulation. From a motion made by Mr. Vic Williams and seconded by Mr. Walter Reeves, the change was made for the March issue of that year. In these issues we find show results much more easily read and that several breeds have been transferred to a different group. For example, Boxers have been taken out of the Non-Sporting Group and are shown in the Working Group. Standard Poodles are now in the Non-Sporting Group instead of the Working Group. Group II is now the Sporting Group (Hounds). Both Miniature and Standard Schnauzers are now shown in the Terrier Group.

Members and breeders would find it difficult today to realize the amount of trouble caused by the identification rule. Some members were positively against nose-printing while others could not accept tattooing. The other alternatives, color and marking or charting had equal opposition. It was stated that it is next to impossible to use either of these methods with a solid color dog. Numerous articles were written by the CKC President and Secretary as well as the heads of the Records Office. Identification was a step that had to be taken, like it or not. Eventually tattooing or nose-printing were the methods accepted. At first nose-printing was the most popular, but gradually more showed preference for the tattoo. Today the balance appears in favor of the tattoo.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

One of the most critical steps in the Club history came about at an annual general meeting when by a motion that carried 30 to 17 it was agreed to dispense with Dogs in Canada and send out the minutes and other official business in mimeograph form. As may be imagined, this idea required many hours of debate and members did not hesitate to speak their thoughts. However, at the next meeting the Board ruled that the magazine would continue to be printed. But the motion was inches from defeat.

During 1938 many discussions were held concerning the separation of American and English Cockers. Until this time they had been interbred at will. Finally a decision was reached. Dogs whelped on or after May 9, 1939, as a result of a mating of English and American Cockers could not be registered.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS

While figures are sometimes uninspiring, those concerning importations and exportations of dogs released in 1942 are revealing.

Total importations: 1930, 288; 1931, 198; 1932, 233; 1933, 343; 1934, 395; 1935, 433; 1936, 489; 1937; 501; 1938, 562; 1939, 366; 1940, 239; 1941, 129.

The largest number ever imported from the United States in one year (according to this 1942 report) was in 1938 with 461 imports and from Great Britain in 1930, a total of 194. Highest number from other countries was 11, in 1938.

Total exportations: 1934, 1,015; 1935, 1,135; 1936, 1,113; 1937, 1,131, 1938, 929; 1939, 894; 1940, 834; 1941, 824. The largest number exported to the USA in any one year, up to 1942, was in 1937 when 1,124 Canadian dogs were sold across the border, and in 1938 four went to Great Britain. Japan was by far our biggest market other than the USA. A total of 116 dogs went to this country during the years 1934 to 1938 inclusive. Other countries purchased 68 Canadian dogs in 1934.

An interesting event took place in 1942 when a Field Trial held by the Ontario Bird Dog Association combined trials for Retrievers, Spaniels and Pointers and Setters. Each division was run in a separate area at Niagara-on-the-Lake, simultaneously. This two-day trial, combining the three types, might be of interest to clubs today.

Lt.-Col. G. Franklin McFarland, K.C., was a man of high rank and a world of experience who took up presidential duties upon his election January 21, 1926, an office he held until February 6, 1931, and again from February 5, 1932 to February 8, 1934. After this long service he held the office of Honorary President for many years. His accomplishments and contributions to the Club are far too numerous to mention. His name will always be mentioned along with other "greats" whenever one refers to the history of the CKC.

Surely this would be something of a record for a handler: "Mr. Alf Loveridge had phenomenal success at the London and Windsor shows recently. At London he piloted to victory the BIS Afghan, BCB and BCBP, Bulldogs; BB and BOS in English Setters and Dachshunds. BB; Cocker Spaniel (English), Cocker Spaniel (American), Boxers, Collies, German Shepherds, Fox Terriers (Smooth), Cairn Terriers, Irish Terriers and Bulldogs; BOS in Boston Terriers. At Windsor the following day, without any sleep, he took BCB in Show with a Bulldog, 1st in Hound Group with an Afghan. He followed with BB for a Cocker Spaniel (English), Dachshund (also BOS), Collie, Boxer, Fox Terrier (Smooth), Bulldog, Afghan, and BOS with a Boston Terrier.

The death of Jimmy Strachan in 1944 was a blow to the CKC. He had served as Secretary-Treasurer for 22 years and for the greater part of those years as editor of the official publication. Ill health had earlier brought about his resignation, but he continued active in dog affairs and was an On-tario Director for four years until his death. He was one of the best known and most respected officials on the CKC, highly regarded on both sides of the border as well as across the Atlantic. His death left vacancies difficult to fill. His seat as Director was taken over by Mr. W. E. McDerment, who received this appointment shortly after his return from war service.

In 1945 the Board decided to stop publishing the minutes in Dogs in Canada. This action created a gap in published records and since much of this research has been done in early volumes, some of the activities of the next three years must go unrecorded.

At this time Mary Fix became the first woman editor of Dogs in Canada.

During this period persons who handled dogs for gain were required to obtain a license from the CKC. At first no fee was charged. Beginning in April, 1948, a charge of $5.00 was made for handlers' licences.

Publishing of the minutes was resumed in 1948.

During this time the CKC accepted registrations from clubs at a very nominal fee. Many clubs took advantage of this arrangement. When a club applied, under Article 26A of the Constitution, the name of the club was published and objections were accepted up to a given date.

SHOW REPRESENTATIVE APPOINTED

"Perhaps at no time in the history of breeding and showing of purebred dogs has interest in that sphere of activity shown such a decided increase over a period of five years as has been the case since 1942. Membership in the Kennel Club has doubled, more championship shows and field trials are now scheduled than ever before and registrations of litters and individual dogs have reached heights never before attained in this country".

So begins an article in 1947 which announces that Mr. Alf Loveridge has been appointed by the CKC Board to the position of CKC Representative. His duties were set forth: 1. Attend shows and Field Trials for the purpose of assisting in the management of any such affairs; to lend guidance and a helping hand to officials, and to take steps to ensure that those attending such affairs conform to the requirements of the rules, 2. He will report all infractions of the Rules to the Board of Directors, who will then decide on what action will be taken to prevent a recurrence of the infraction of the Rules. 3. To lend a helping hand in the formation of new clubs. 4. To do such other things as may from time to time be designated by the Board.

TWO-DAY SHOWS PROHIBITED

In February, 1948 members at the annual meeting decided to prohibit Championship shows of more than one day's duration in Eastern Ontario, Representations were made to the Board by the various exhibition associations seeking exemption from this new rule. The Board of Directors held a special meeting to consider this problem. It was decided, however, that the rule could not be amended except by the annual general meeting. The Canadian National Exhibition was the first club affected and for that year they held three oneday shows. Shows for the year held by the Royal Winter Fair, Norfolk County Agricultural Society and the Central Canada Exhibition were cancelled. The rule was revised at the annual meeting held the following year and no further changes have been made to this day.

Brig.-Gen. C. M. Nelles, C.M.G., a Cocker breeder from Brantford, Ont., was elected as President February 6, 1931 after serving many years, in one capacity or another, on the Board. He remained as President until February 5, 1932, serving nobly and well and giving unstintingly of his time not only as President, but in each of the offices he held.

The Central Canada Exhibition came back into the fold but neither the Royal Winter Fair nor the Norfolk Fair have returned. And they are still sorely missed.

CONSTITUTION IN JEOPARDY

Members attending the annual meeting in 1948 drew up and approved a completely new Constitution. This was necessary because of a request from the Records Department to bring the Club rules in line with the Live Stock Pedigree Act as revised. This Act would not permit an association to refer to dog shows and trials in the Objects of the Club. Although a great deal of time was spent on the redraft, it was returned by the Minister, unapproved.

This was a blow to the Board. A delegation of Mr. Peter Smith, Mr. David Fingard and President, W. J. Risewick was appointed to go to Ottawa to intercede with the Minister on the setting up of an entirely new organization, similar to that of the AKC. Control of shows and trials would thus remain with the CKC.

Between this great upheaval and the uncertainty of just what would be the acceptable means of identification, the Board experienced one of the most trying times in the history of the CKC. As though this were not enough, the financial picture looked extremely bad. To overcome some of the loss of revenue, brought about by the unwillingness of some breeders to identify the dogs, strict economy was advocated. It was at this time that the 50c recording fee was imposed and all other registration fees were increased, after taking a special referendum ballot.

For the first four months of 1950 fees received at the Records office totalled $19,807.76, compared with $26,024.39 for the same period in 1949. This substantial drop in revenue resulted in insufficient funds to meet current expenditures.

With a redraft of the Constitution allowing members to vote by the referendum ballot and bank loans, employing the Show Representative's time in the office for the recording of show wins and other items, the postponing of the printing of stud books for 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951 and the sub-letting of a large portion of the Club office, this troublesome period came to an end.

Strange as it may seem today, no nominee accepted their nomination for the office of President for the year 1952. Consequently no election took place for this office. Vice-President Farmer led the Board until the annual meeting in February of that year, when he was appointed President by the Board.

THE TURNING POINT

From this point on the Club seemed to steadily climb upward. The past ten years have seen a steady improvement. Despite the turbulence of the late "Forties" and early "Fifties" many worthwhile things came to pass.

Among them was the referendum ballot which gives every voting member a voice in the affairs of the club regardless of where he lives — a privilege which should be appreciated and supported.

The picture presented by the 1962 financial statement is most promising. Several times during the past 75 years as herein recalled, there have been times of financial stress. This would appear to be a thing of the past and no Board should experience the dark days that confronted the Club's officers in former years.

Registration, Kennel Names, and Complaints Committees have had difficult problems to resolve during the history of the Club. It cannot be said that the work of these present day Committees will diminish. Instead, with the registration of dogs and membership increasing, their difficulties will, in all probability, increase. The foundation laid during this last three quarter century, however, has been built on solid rock.

Since many events of the latter years of this third period are still fresh in the minds of most readers, they are not recounted here. Research into the past highlights many events which could be considered stepping stones to the success of the CKC today. Perhaps the most significant was the decision in 1914 to affiliate with the Records Office.

The Canadian Kennel Club is now ensconced in its new offices at 1173 Bay St., Toronto. Should any member be in Toronto with time to spare, it could well be spent in a visit to the office. And for anyone wishing to personally delve into the fascinating history of this world-renowned club, there are comfortable chairs and a warm welcome.

PREDICTIONS FOR 2038

Seventy-five years from now we predict that:

- There will be fewer recognized breeds. Other new breeds will be recognized.
- Purebred owners in the most remote parts of Canada will be able to breed to the Best in Show winner at Crufts, or any desired dog of the same breed, anywhere in the world. Artificial insemination will be in common use.
- The dog show at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, will be one of the most popular on the continent and draw entries from the far corners of the earth.
- There will be no quarantine—because disease will have been conquered. There will be no fear of distemper or hepatitis. The average Canadian breeder or owner will not even recognize these names.
- It will be just as feasible to show in Capetown or Caracas or Tel Aviv as a few hundred miles from home.
- It will be announced that the first Canadian-bred dog to go Best in Show on the moon will be returning home today. A reception will be planned.
- Mongrels will be a thing of the past—a collector's item.

- Every breeder and exhibitor will be an enthusiastic member of the CKC and "George" will not have to "do it".
- The oldest Canadian exhibitor will be celebrating his 150th birthday.
- Several of the youngest and most able junior handlers of 1963 will be disappointed at not receiving judging assignments due to the availability of younger judges.
- The Show Committee Chairman of one of the larger show-giving clubs will have to turn down the offer of assistance from at least 25 enthusiastic members, due to an over-abundance of help.
- The annual general meeting of the CKC will be concluded within two hours and 15 minutes. All reports will be accepted as read.
- Greyhound racing, with pari-mutual betting, will be one of Canada's most popular spectator sports.
- Spectators will be turned away at the wickets of Canada's major shows. Dog show popularity will be such that tickets must be ordered two weeks in advance.
- Mono-rail coaches will have special air-cooled compartments for dogs.

History of the Humane Movement

by tom bugbes

Seventy-five years ago the Humane Movement in Canada, like many other Canadian organizations at that time, was very much in its infancy. Certainly it did not resemble the Society of 1963. Equally certain, is that if the leaders of the Humane Movement of that far-off era could return today, they would undoubtedly suffer from mixed feelings when they considered the present form of the movement.

The main purpose of the movement then was to protect the vast number of working horses that existed in the country. Small animals, as such, did not play an important part in the main activities of the Societies and, in fact, much of the treatment of small animals, especially dogs, that is rejected today as being inhumane, was then considered perfectly normal.

Few dogs lived in the house. Almost invariably they occupied an out-door kennel which often consisted of a barrel or some rough wooden box. The type of dog which was commonly kept in those days was somewhat different to the popular dog of today. There were comparatively few dogs kept purely as pets. Almost all dogs had a purpose although of course, there were numerous dogs that were "retired" from their work that were allowed to occupy a corner of the stove or a corner of the hearth in their owner's home. Reference to photographs, pictures, files, books and magazines of the era frequently talk about the "rheumaticky old hound" or the "near blind retriever" that was allowed to live out its days purely as an act of grace on the part of the appreciative owner.

Dogs did not live to a very old age in those days either. Any working dog that lived to be seven or eight was considered aged, and it was a common practice of the time to destroy a dog of that age because then it was considered to be finished.

The veterinary care that was available for small animals then was entirely different to what we have available today. The small animal hospital, which is becoming larger and more modern and well-equipped every day, did not exist 75 years ago. Certainly not in the form we know it today.

"Doc" was mainly a large animal man; if you had anything wrong with your dog you either treated it yourself or asked "Doc" to look at it when he paid you a visit to look at your horse.

I don't think there has been a more marked change in the last 75 years in any phase of animal work than there has been in the veterinary profession. I feel that the credit for this change can be claimed by the Humane Movement and by the purebred dog breeder. Certainly it was the insistence of the Humane Movement that the dog was, and should, be entitled, when sick, to the best veterinary attention possible that encouraged the veterinary profession to take a greater interest in the small animal practice.

Certainly it was and is the responsible attitude of the purebred dog breeder to the problem of disease that has helped to encourage the general public to look on veterinary care for the dog as the "normal" rather than the "unusual".

It is highly doubtful if the widespread acceptance of vaccination against distemper could have been achieved without the active support of the breeder. If this vital protection had not been pushed by the breeder, but rather left to the individual owner, there would be far fewer dogs inoculated and a great deal more distemper than we have at the present time.

Seventy-five years ago the Humane Movement consisted of a comparatively small number of people whose major interest and prime motive was to protect horses against cruelty. A study of the Minute Books of the Societies of that period shows that they spent most of their time discussing whether or not they should put water troughs in various positions in various towns, or whether they should or should not prosecute certain people for neglecting their horses, or, much more commonly for working their horse or horses in a cruel way.

These early records don't show any great discussions or considerations for the problems of animal control; the ways in which animals were killed; the use of animals in research; the slaughtering of animals for human consumption; Humane Education of children or the problems of Public Pounds.

These are all modern problems that have been accepted by the Humane Movement as their responsibility, sometimes by default, and which have only arisen in the last 25 to 30 years.

A study of the people involved in the Humane Movement in the last seven and a half decades is interesting. In 1888 the officers of the Humane Societies almost invariably included the Chief of Police, the local veterinarian and a large number of retired military men, generally of the cavalry persuasion. Women played a less active part in those days than they do today only, I am sure, because women were, generally speaking, less active then in public affairs, than they are today. However, those women who did hold office were undoubtedly worthy champions of the cause, and many of them gained a reputation as militant and doughty champions. The music hall conception of the enraged female humanitarian of that age in which the lady is portrayed as brandishing an umbrella was probably not too far from fact. There is nothing more dangerous than the female of the species when aroused and, fortunately for animals and small children, cruelty to both these defenceless creatures find worthy champions in the "ladies."

I think an interesting point is that the Humane Movement of those days concerned itself with both animals and children and, in fact the Children's Aid Societies as we know them today had their origins in the Humane Societies of the 18th and 19th centuries. To this day some groups in Canada such as the Nova Scotia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty and some in the United States such as the American Humane Association, still do concern themselves with children as well as animals.

The split occurred undoubtedly because of the constantly changing concept of cruelty and because of the increase in the work which necessitated more than one organization specializing in the particular form of humane effort.

It is interesting to remember that the first cases of cruelty to children in the United States were prosecuted under the Cruelty to animals Law. Equally too it is interesting to remember that the great humanitarians of the 18th century in Great Britain were men and women who fought cruelty both to children and animals where-ever and when-ever they came across it.

The fact that they succeeded in their efforts despite persecution, apathy and indifference of a large section of the general public is a good indication of their moral strength and intestinal fortifude.

Fighting cruelty to animals and children or any other section of the public that does not exercise a political influence is a difficult role for anyone to follow. If that is true today, and it certainly is, then it must have been a great deal more difficult for the pioneers of the Humane Movement.

With the economical and social upheaval that followed the First and Second World Wars a marked change occurred in the Humane Movement. First, the number of working horses dropped drastically with the increasing use of motor vehicles for pleasure and work purposes. At the same time, countless numbers of ordinary men and women who, at one time, could not have afforded to keep dogs purely as pets because of the cost of feeding them, found in an increasing prosperity the opportunity to enjoy the companionship and affection of dogs. This resulted in the increasing demand for purebred animals as opposed to the chance-bred animal of 75 years ago.

It is interesting to note how many breeds of animals have been accepted by Kennel Clubs throughout the world for registration as "new" breeds during the past 75 years.

With this continued increase in the dog population, a great change came over the Humane Movement. The personnel directing the affairs of the Societies changed from primarily being horse owners to being dog owners.

Naturally too the Societies began to devote more and more time to the problems of dogs. It is also interesting to note that the wheel is turning a full cycle and today in 1963 the dog is no longer the most popular and populous pet, but has been succeeded by the cat and by budgerigar in numbers. Perhaps in years to come the main work of the Humane Movement will be towards the problems of cage birds or some other animal!

Public Pounds certainly did not exist in any great quantity in the 1800's. Today pounds are being built all over the country as a result of the need for some form of Government control over the large number of dogs that are now living in an increasingly complex civilization; a civilization that includes throughways and sub-divisions. These efforts have led to many problems, the solution to which has not yet been found.

Another drastic change that has occurred in the period of time under review is the fantastic, and that is the only word for it, fantastic, number of and type of animals' foods that now exist. Seventy-five years ago the working dog lived on flesh and oatmeal. In some parts of the world fish was substituted for flesh. On this diet dogs performed as a common place thing, herculean tasks; Fox Hounds in Britain trencher-fed, every other day, were quite accustomed to running 60 to 70 miles during a day, and in fact, still are. This particularly applies to the Fell Hounds of Northern England. The ubiquitous and sagacious farm Collie was frequently not fed at all but was expected to find what food it could by its own wit and intelligence. Often the farm dog would steal a drink from the milking pail when an unwary farm hand turned his back. Labradors and Chesapeake Retrievers spent long hours every day in ice cold water when working in the duck marshes in Britain and North America. Newfoundlands were used both as draught dogs and to haul the fishing punts to the dockside on the coasts of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Labrador. Sled dogs covered countless miles on what undoubtedly was a staryation diet.

What a far cry from today, when 99% of ordinary household pets are fed out of a can by modern housewives, who are confronted in the super market by shelves full of food of every size and description.

The standard of animal feeding is a matter of vital concern to the Humane Societies because the average complaint that is investigated by the Humane Society resolves around whether or not the animal is adequately fed. Cases of animals canabilizing each other are common in this day and age. They were unheard of 75 years ago.

In looking back over 75 years, one cannot help projecting one's thoughts forward into the future. Where will the Humane Movement be 75 years from today? Will the changes that have occurred in the last 75 years be repeated in the next three quarters of a century?

Will the primary work of the Humane Movement as we know it now be performed by a Government Department?

Many people believe that certain aspects of the work should in fact be the Government's responsibility to ensure proper performance and a uniform application of the principles.

These people feel that with the law enforcement aspect of the work taken care of by a Government Department then the primary purpose of the Humane Movement would be an increasing emphasis on Humane Education.

To sum up, the Humane Movement in its attempts to prevent cruelty to animals is faced with the problem of changing modes and changing public concepts of morality.

The contest for public support can only be won in the public mind. This can only be reached through education.

It can be described best by saying that the concept of the Humane Movement is to "prosecute the present generation and educate the next."

The operative word is "present".

Prosecution punishes those guilty of cruelty to animals and acts as a deterrent. Humane Education seeks to alter the public attitude towards animals in such a way that cruelty is 'prevented' and prosecution unnecessary.

In 2038 A.D., if anyone is around to worry, they will probably look back to 1963 with amused tolerance for our peculiar and old fashioned ways and ideas.

I don't know if our way of doing things is a great deal better than 1888 and I am not at all sure whether the next 75 years will be any better.

However, I am quite certain that their ways will be very different.

ESTIMATE OF UNIT COST (PER DOG) FOR RECORDING SHOW AND TRIAL AWARDS

Recording fees in 1962 totalled $16,802.00 (Statement 1) which, at 50¢ per dog meant a total of 33,604 dogs entered in competition (16,802 x 2). Total expenditures for the Show & Trial Section totalled $19,191.30 (Statement 2). Therefore estimated unit cost per dog based on these figures amounted to 57.11¢ in 1962.

These statistics, together with those of the previous ten years, follow in tabulated form:

(Explanatory notes: Commencing in 1951 adjustments were made in the rates on which the Club was charged with certain items. For example, in 1950 and previous years the Club was charged one full operational item for each notice of transfer of ownership which the Live Stock Records Office sent to the Secretary, but in 1951 the charge was decreased to 1/4 item per notice; thus, while there were 3,644 transfer notices in 1951, we were charged with 911 operational items. The charge for such notices was decreased to 1/6 item in 1953. The Club is charged at the rate of 1/2 operational item for each re-issued certificate of registration. The Secretary is provided with a carbon copy of each certificate issued for dogs individually registered in the Club's records. Previous to 1953 the charge was 1/4 item for each such copy; but this charge was decreased to 1/6 item in 1953. Previous to 1953 the charge was 1/4 item for reach such copy; but this charge was decreased to 1/6 item in 1955. Previous to 1953 the Club's records. Office is charged to the Club at 2 items. Commencing with 1958 the Club was charged at the rate of 1/2 item for each such kit in addition to 1 item for the litter certificate included in the litter kit. The additional charge to the Club for the issuance of a litter kit was reduced from 1/6 item for 1960. Previous to 1955 the Club was charged at the rate of 1/6 item for each such kit is was reduced to 1 item in 1960. Previous to 1955 the Club was charged at the rate of two items for the posting of a title on the records at Ottawa; this was reduced to 1 item in 1960. Previous to 1955 the Club was charged at the rate of two items for the posting of a title on the records at Ottawa; this was reduced to obtain these copies, and also Secretary's transfer copies in March, 1960, hence a considerable reduction in the number of these items charged against the Club in 1960.

Kennel Tests Prove New Burgerbits gives dogs the taste they really like...the solid nutrition they need.

Here's the dog food that kennel tests proved superior to all others in palatability and nutrition.

Dogs tested preferred new Burgerbits

... thrived on new Burgerbits.

Here's why:

Increased Fat Content, with an improved fat-protein ratio, gives unsurpassed palatability, maintains glossy coats and healthy skin, helps prevent shedding.

New Flavour-Kernels. Smooth preformed kernels of uniform size and shape eliminate jagged, uneven particles and dust of ordinary dog foods.

Spray coating of natural meat fats locks in flavour, protects nutrients.

Aids Digestion. New Burgerbits is expanded to gelatinize starches for easier digestion.

Less Porous. Crunchier consistency helps keep teeth, gums and jaw healthy . . . absorbs liquids without getting mushy . . . feeding pans clean easily without scraping or scouring.

Exceeds NRC Requirements for daily nutritional intake, providing a complete and balanced diet.

Feed Dry or Wet. Kennel tests prove that many dogs prefer Burgerbits dry.

Fed wet, Burgerbits retains the crunchy texture and meaty aroma dogs really enjoy.

Special Professional Discounts. As with all of Dr. Ballard's Dog Foods, new Burgerbits carries a special Kennel Discount. Your local representative will be pleased to provide you with

MY FIRST organized dog activity was over forty years ago, when my sisters and I took Bill, the family dog, to a sanction show. Bill was a German Shepherd but he had been given to us as an Alsatian and as such he was duly entered in every class. Competition was strong in Shepherds, but Bill won every class for Alsatians! We were convinced he was the best dog in the whole wide world - the complete lack of competition did not enter our minds! Some time later we asked Alex Gooderham the difference between the two breeds and he told us, very gently as was his wont - particularly with novices. It was a great disillusionment as Bill never won a prize as a Shepherd.

During the '20's I decided to breed dogs and settled on Pekingese. All I can say is that I didn't know any less about them than I did about any other breed. My first show with my first homebred stands out in my memory - it was there I learned that you teach ring manners beforehand and don't depend on divine guidance to see you through the judging. My very small Peke puppy had never been on a lead and when it got in the ring it sat firmly on its bottom and wagged its tail madly. Not knowing what to do, I decided to ignore the whole thing and strode solomnly around the ring in my riding breeches, looking neither to right nor left, towing the puppy still sitting and still wagging its tail. As a number of riding friends had accompanied me to see their first dog show, it was a day I shall never forget.

All our dogs had to have good manners but it never struck me that this was "training". My first sight of real training was when, as a great treat, we were allowed to visit Alex Gooderham and watch the Shepherds work. This fascinated me and my own first effort at training was trying to teach a Pekingese to retrieve a full size dummy out of the water! Possibly this is why my Pekes grew so large they became known as sleeve St. Bernards.

Dog memories of those days are mainly of dog people. The kindness of Mrs. Ellen Brown, never too busy to help or advise. Something curled up on the bench with her dogs — something which I now realize must have been the present manager of the Canadian Kennel Club! Jimmy Strachan, then secretary of the CKC, patiently explaining rules. Sid Perkins with his Airedales. Fred McLean and his son Mac showing thirty-odd Manchesters at the CNE. Ted Ward showing dog after dog and looking as though he and all dogs had just stepped out of a bandbox. George Kynoch telling outrageous stories with a straight face.

I did little showing until I brought the first Boxer into Canada - Anthony Adverse of Barmere, shown in volume 38 of the CKC stud book as a Boxer Spaniel! Not feeling I knew enough to show such a good dog (he wasn't!) I employed a handler – Alva McColl. The dog had white on each side of his muzzle and Alva decided this was not permissible so she used plenty of indelible ink to cover it. Great was the horror when the judge grasped the muzzle firmly with both hands and the ink was not dry! The only competition was a dog of Edgar Eaton's, shown by Bill Scarpa whose amusement equalled my embarassment.

During the '30s I first saw obedience trials for all breeds. They were impromptu affairs and light heartedness was the order of the day. I remember Marg Eddis calling her Giant Schnauzer in, when he came with such velocity that he went clean across the next ring in a sitting position, scattering the breed judge and the toy dogs practically to the rafters.

It was in England in the spring of 1939 that I decided to study training, and when I returned to Canada in 1946 I found that there was quite a lot of interest around Toronto. The Canadian Dog Training Club was in full swing with Alva McColl as a leading light and we used to meet in a basement in Cabbagetown where, if we were lucky, Ed O'Brien gave us a lesson. If he wasn't there we muddled through amid hilarity and dog fights.

In those days the CKC did not have the referendum ballot and all amendments were brought up, to be approved or not, at the Annual General Meeting in Toronto. That was truly a time of the survival of the fittest. I remember going home at two o'clock in the morning, leaving the meeting going strong. Three hours later I got a phone call to hurry back as they wanted to pass another amendment and didn't have a quorum!

It was at this time that Canada adopted the AKC obedience rules, and each year they were altered by whoever could talk the longest and had the most stamina. The net result was that some of the trials were nothing if not interesting because nobody, not even the judge, was sure of the tests. If you were first in the ring and the judge asked you to do something you were not sure was right, you did it and so did the following competitors - until someone came in who knew it was wrong. Then everyone started all over again. There was a lot of informality too. At an early outdoor trial in Guelph (Randall Perry judging) it teemed with rain so we went into the basement of the armouries where the tanks and trucks were stored and there was one small light. When the dumbell was thrown it disappeared into pitch darkness, under the vehicles. But the dogs HAD to retrieve because none of the handlers would crawl under the trucks, through the oil slicks, in the dark, to find their dumbells. One constant U.D. competitor used to drop all 15 scent discrimination

Dr. Jim Corbin (above) Manager of Dog Research, says—"I'm sure that many Canadians will be interested in the facilities that we have and the work that we do down here in Gray Summit, Missouri. The Purina Dog Care Centre is located at the 778-acre Purina Research Farm, about 35 miles from St. Louis. It's the largest and most modern dog centre in the world and it's devoted to dog nutritional and management research.

"At the Centre we put the emphasis on CARE of the dog. Our research provides us with a tremendous amount of practical information on care, feeding, training and management of dogs. This information is continually being made available to both professionals and the general public alike."

16 DIFFERENT BREEDS UNDER ACTIVE STUDY

Beagles • English Setters • English Pointers • German Shepherds • Border Collies Shetland Sheepdogs • St. Bernards • Miniature Poodles • Dalmations • Red Bone Coonhounds • Dachshunds • Wire Haired Foxterriers • Boxers • Labrador Retrievers Greyhounds • Springer Spaniels

The breeds are rotated regularly to help us achieve the widest possible range of nutritional, breeding, endurance and growth studies. At all times, there are about 700 dogs at the Centre, including puppies. There are approximately 70 brood bitches...and between 600 and 700 puppies are raised every year.

DOG NUTRITION IS A CONTINUING RESEARCH

The Purina Dog Care Centre works closely with our modern Research Laboratories and with the new Purina plant at Clarkson, Ontario on a continuing programme of nutritional research. 35 individual laboratory units work constantly to produce the finest possible animal rations... and to make sure that every bag of Purina Dog Chow and Purina Dog Meal carries a full quota of essential nutrients.

This brief introduction will give you some idea of the scope and the size of the Purina Dog Care Centre. If you'd like more information—or if you have any kind of problem involving the care, feeding and management of dogs—please don't hesitate to write. We are here to be of service to you.

by Robert L. Blyth/Chairman C.K.C. Field Trial Council

THE PUBLISHERS of Dogs in Canada have asked me to provide for this special issue some background information about the extent and development of field trials in Canada over the years.

If one examines Volume I of The Canadian Kennel Club Stud Book he will be struck with the fact that a very high percentage of the dogs which were registered in the early days of the Club were representatives of the Sporting breeds. While I am unable to state how many of these dogs registered in those early days were suitable for field trial work, nevertheless I suspect that conditions at that time were ideal for those who worked their dogs under natural hunting conditions. The pointing breeds were high on the list of dogs registered and I believe that there was the occasional field trial for pointing dogs. Pointing dog trials have been more or less at a standstill in Ontario for some time but I am hoping that, with the increase in the Hungarian Partridge population in various parts of Ontario and Game Farms that have sprung up as well as quite a few government preserves where game birds can be shot, these hardworking and beautiful-looking dogs will again become popular.

There were two field trials in Ontario, eight in British Columbia, nine in Alberta, four in the Maritimes and one in Saskatchewan, a total of 20 Pointing dog trials with over 400 dogs competing. I would like to see these Pointing Breed Clubs get together and have a National Stake which might engender a little more enthusiasm among Pointing dog owners.

Licensed Beagle field trials had their start in Ontario in the 20's and have had an ever-increasing number of adherents as witnessed by the increased number of clubs now operating in the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia. In 1962 there were 20 Beagle trials in Ontario, six in the Maritimes and four in Quebec, a total of 30 trials with 1747 dogs competing. Here again I would like to see a National Stake for both Packs and Braces.

In 1934, interest in licensed Retriever trials was sparked by the adoption of field trial rules for the retrieving breeds and although there was only the occasional Retriever field trial in the succeeding 30's the number of licensed field trials for Retrievers has grown to number 54 in 1962: 17 of these in Ontario with 1051 dogs competing; eight in British Columbia with 287 dogs competing; 12 in Alberta with 176 dogs competing; two in the Maritimes with 71 dogs competing; seven in Manitoba with 423 dogs competing; two in Quebec with 78 dogs competing and six in Saskatchewan with 317 dogs competing for a total of over 2400 dogs in competition.

Spaniel field trial rules were adopted in 1934 but this branch of field trial activity has not witnessed the same growth as have the other types, something that I do not understand, for a good working Spaniel is a pleasure to watch and hunt over. There were seven Spaniel trials held last year, all in Ontario, with 174 dogs competing.

Foxhound field trials had their start under Canadian Kennel Club rules in 1952 when the first National Championship Stake for Foxhounds was staged. Unfortunately, those who enjoyed a day's sport with a working Foxhound have been discouraged by a dearth of foxes during the past two or more years. Unfortunately, the 1962 National for Foxhounds was not staged because of the conditions cited above.

Field Trials in the early days were centered in the Chatham, Niagara and Hamilton areas of Ontario.

In the first stud books for the years 1888 to 1891 there were 157 English, 45 Irish and 31 Gordon Setters. Fifty-four Pointers were also listed.

The breed name for Dachshunds was changed to "Badger Dogs", at one time, because of their usefulness as hunting dogs of that particular animal.

The following excerpt is taken from the Gazette, June 1900 "The Brandon K.C. decided to make three events in their coming field trials: 1st, Derby Stake for Setters and Pointers whelped on or after January 1, 1899. Purse $70.00; 2nd, Open all age Stake for Pointers and Setters, no previous winnings debar. Purse $90.00; 3rd, Manitoba Stake for Pointers and Setters owned and bred in Manitoba. Purse $30.00.

In this brief review of field trial activity in Canada I have avoided any reference to clubs or individuals for the list of those who have in some way contributed to the advancement of field trials in our country is a rather lengthy one.

I believe that a record for a single field trial was set in 1953 when, at a Beagle field trial held in Ontario, 305 Beagles actually competed in a two-day trial.

I am satisfied that the future further development of field trialing in Canada will depend a great deal on the appointment and satisfactory operation of a separate Field Trial Council for each distinct type of field trial activity. In my view, each Council should be comprised strictly of persons having a good working knowledge of their respective type of field trial activity.

To a huntsman, the work of a good sporting dog or bound is a joy to behold and, as huntsmen generally become thoroughly familiar with the value of a trained hunting dog both as a hunting companion and a conservation agent, we shall see an ever wider acceptance of the use of purebred sporting dogs and hounds and recognition that field training is an invaluable aid to the development of good hunting dogs.

THE COCKER

During the first 25 years the trend seemed to be toward "Cocker Spaniels". Three hundred and ninety-eight were registered in the stud book for the years 1889, 1890 and 1891. As shown in pictures, the Cocker has changed tremendously over the years, a change many approve of on the basis of eye appeal. Leading kennels were located in the Hamilton, London and Ottawa area. Their owners travelled to numerous American shows and the dogs were considered, by American authorities, to be the best in the country. Many honors were brought home from these shows. The Cocker, although always a favorite, seemed to grow rapidly in popularity after the famous "My Own Brucie" won BIS at Westminster. The following era could well be termed the Cocker age, for it was not unusual to see 70 or 80 Cockers entered at the larger Ontario shows

ST. BERNARD

The St. Bernard was a close contender for numbers of registrations. Divided according to coat, Rough and Smooth, Volume 1 of the Stud Book records the registration of 239 Rough-Coated and eight Smooths. Large St. Bernard kennels were located all across Canada and according to photographs the breed has remained very much the same in appearance.

POINTERS AND SETTERS

Pointers and Setters were the most popular breeds for Field Trials. The first Field Trials held in Canada were for these breeds, which raises the question—where are they today? Entries at the Trials held "way back when" would equal, if not surpass, entries at today's Retriever Trials. Trials were primarily held in Ontario, in the Chatham, Niagara and Hamilton area. There were 157 English, 45 Irish and 31 Gordon Setters in the first Stud Book, together with 54 Pointers.

WHIPPET RACES

Because Whippet races, run under CKC rules and CKC license, were very popular during the first 25 years, this breed was also one of the popularity leaders.

However, as it was not necessary at that time to register dogs, but merely 'list' them for a nominal fee, Whippets generally appeared under the heading of listed dogs. Races originated in Toronto and shortly the fever spread to Peterborough and other points in Canada. It was not long until Whippet races started in the United States.

BLOODHOUNDS

Although Bloodhounds are seldom seen today they were very popular at one time, and would appear to have been much larger than the contemporary Bloodhound. The largest kennel of this breed was in Ottawa and except for a tragedy which overtook this kennel, the popularity of Bloodhounds might have continued for a longer period.

TERRIERS

All Terriers, appearing in the early records, were prominent. The first Stud Book records registrations for Manchester Terriers (known then as Black & Tan Terriers), Bedlington Terriers, Bull Terriers, Dandie Dinmonts, Fox Terriers (Smooth and Wire), Scottish and Skye (without the e) Terriers. These breeds accounted for 274 registrations in the first Stud books.

SPANIELS AND BEAGLES

Other Spaniel breeds were much more prominent then, for there were quite a number of kennels of Clumber, Sussex and Field Spaniels. Beagles got off to a slow start, although there were large Beagle kennels in the Galt, Guelph area. They rapidly gained in popularity, however, and with the English and American Foxhounds were widely used as hunting dogs.

BULLDOGS

Although few in number in the early days, Bulldogs took hold about 35 years ago and were well advertised. Page after page in the old Kennel Gazette, later (Kennel & Bench), was devoted to this breed. The best known, perhaps, was the famous "Prince of Wales", later renamed "Dominion Fortitude". This dog travelled to England and there made a name for himself. Kennels of this breed seemed to center in Toronto and surrounding district. It should be pointed out, however, that this opinion has been arrived at from the advertisements and articles we have noticed in our research.

GERMAN SHEPHERDS

German Shepherds came to prominence during the first World War. Registered as Belgian Sheepdogs, then Sheepdogs (Alsatian), then Alsatian Shepherd Dogs, they at last became known as German Shepherds. In reading old magazines it can be readily understood how and why so many people today refer to them as 'police dogs'. In articles of heroism, history and general articles they were referred to as 'Police Dogs'. The breed has not changed substantially, although the early pictures seem to indicate a much leggier animal with a more pointed, or as it is known today 'snipey', head and nose. Color, too, seems to have changed, for the early Shepherds were lighter sable. Black and black and silver or black and tan would seem to have come into prominence during the last period of our history.

COLLIES

Collies have always been the 'country' favorite and here again the type seems to have remained. This breed was one of the more popular in the beginning of Canadian dogdom, with 125 registered. As the Collie always has been and undoubtedly always will be "the farmer's helpmate", its popularity is guaranteed.

THE TOYS

Toy breeds were not particularly prominent in the early years although 47 Pugs are found in the first volume of registrations along with 14 Yorkshire Terriers. Toy Manchesters, English Toy Spaniels (listed under several names). Maltese and Pomeranians came along very quickly in that order. The popularity of the Pekingese in the Orient soon spread to England, and then to Canada. The Pekingese found a welcome niche in dog circles across our country. Other breeds quickly gained favor with the city dweller where limited space discouraged ownership of the larger breeds. With the advent of apartment houses the trend to smaller dogs caught on. Today, Chihuahuas are one of the top breeds.

Dec. 10, 1962 Toronto, Ontario By order of the Board of Directors, N. F. BROWN, Secretary-Treasurer.

SUGGESTED STANDARD FOR THE BULLMASTIFF

At its annual meeting commencing March 13th the Board of Directors will consider a proposed new stand-ard for the Bullmastiff, as published on this page.

Any clubs or persons having any interest in this proposed new standard may submit their comments for the consideration of the Board, all such comments to reach The Canadian Kennel Club, 1173 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, before March 10, 1963.

ORIGIN & PURPOSE: The Bullmastiff was developed in England by game keepers for protection against poachers. The foundation breeding of the modern pure-bred was 60% Mastiff and 40% Bulldog. It is a guard and companion dog.

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS:
TEMPERAMENT - The Bullmastiff should be bold, fearless and courageous, a dependable guard dog. He should be alert, intelligent, loyal, obedient and suitable for training. Vicious dogs and timid dogs are not dependable and should not be used for breeding purposes.

Faults: Viciousness.

Shyness.

Apathy and sluggishness.

GENERAL APPEARANCE - The Bullmastiff is a powerfully built, symmetrical dog, showing great strength and activity, but not cumbersome. An upstanding and compact appearance, with breadth and depth of skull and body, set on strong, sturdy, well boned legs, is highly desirable. The height, measured vertically from the ground to the withers, should nearly equal the length measured horizontally from the forechest to the rear part of the upper thigh. Height at the hips should be slightly less than at the withers. Bitches are feminine in appearance, of somewhat lighter bone structure than the male, but this should not be interpreted to mean that undersized, poorly built, plain-faced bitches are desirable.

Faults: Lack of balance.

Poor bone structure.

Light bone structure.

Light bone structure.

Lack of muscular development.

Ranginess.

Lack of muscular development.

Ranginess.

SIZE - Height at the highest point of the withers - dogs, 25 to 27 inches; bitches, 24 to 26 inches.

Weight - dogs, 110-130 lbs.; bitches, 100-120 lbs.

It is important that weight be in proportion to height and bone structure, to ensure balance.

(d)

ture, to ensure balance.

Faults: Over maximum height (DISQUALIFICATION)
Under minimum height (DISQUALIFICATION)
Over maximum weight.
Under minimum weight.

COAT - short and dense, giving good weather protection.
Faults:

"Staring" coat, which means poor condition.

COLOR - Any shade of brindle, fawn, or red, but the color to be pure and clear. A slight white marking on chest permissible but not desirable.

White markings expect for the color of the pure and clear.

White markings except for a very small white spot on chest. Black shading on body, legs or tail. Faults:

HEAD:
SKULL & MUZZLE - The skull should be large and square, viewed from every angle, with fair wrinkle when interested. The skull may measure the height of the dog; it should be broad and deep with well developed cheeks. Forehead flat, with furrow between the eyes. Stop definite.

The muzzle should be short, broad and deep. The distance from the tip of the nose to the stop should be not more than one-third of the length from the tip of the nose to the centre of the occiput, broad under the eyes and nearly parallel in width to the end of the nose; blunt and cut off square, forming a right angle with the upper line of the face, and at the same time proportionate with the skull. A black mask is essential. The nose should be black; broad with widely spreading nostrils when viewed from the front; flat, not pointed or turned up in profile. Flews not too pendulous. The lower jaw broad to the end.

Narrow skull.
Shallow skull.
Domed forehead.
Insufficient stop.
Muzzle too long, too narrow, or lacking in depth.
Muzzle too short, especially if nostrils set on top.
No mask (DISQUALIFICATION).
Liver mask (DISQUALIFICATION).
Nose upturned or laid back.
Lower jaw too narrow. Faults:

Nose upturned or laid back.

Lower jaw too narrow.

H - Preferably level or slightly undershot. Canine teeth large twide apart; other teeth strong, even and well-placed.

Teeth overshot. Small teeth
Teeth more than 1/4" undershot.
Irregular or poorly placed teeth.

Dark or hazel, and of medium size; set apart the width of TEETH and set Faults:

EYES

the muzzle.

Faults: Yellow eyes (DISQUALIFICATION)
Light eyes.
Eyes too close together.
Eyes too large or too small.

EARS - V-shaped and carried close to the cheeks; set on wide and high, level with the occiput, giving a square appearance to the skull which is most important. They should be darker in color than the body, and the point of the ear should be level with the eye when alert.

Faults: Rose ears.

Ears too long.

Lack of darker color. (d)

Lack of darker color. Ears too short.

NECK, BODY & TAIL:
NECK - Well arched, of moderate length, very muscular, and almost equal in circumference to the skull.

Faults: Neck too short or too long.
Neck weak and serawny.

BODY - Compact. Chest wide and deep, with ribs well sprung and well set down between the forelegs. Back short, giving the impression of a well-balanced dog. Loins wide, muscular and slightly arched, with fair depth of flank.

Faults: Body too long.
Lack of rib-spring.
Roach back.
Too much tuck-up.

TAIL - set on high, strong at the root and tapering to the hocks may be straight or curved, but never carried hound fashion. So tail or crank tail a definite fault.

Faults: Screw tail.
Tail set too low.
Tail carried hound fashion.
Tail too heavily coated. Tail too long or too short.

FOREQUARTERS & HINDQUARTERS:
FOREQUARTERS - Proper angulation and proportionate bone lengths of the forequarters are very important. The shoulder bone should slope forward and downward from the withers at an angle of 45° from the vertical. The humerus (upper arm) should form a right angle with the shoulder bone, 45° from the vertical. The shoulder bone and humerus should be approximately equal in length. The length of the foreleg from the ground to the elbow should be a little more than half the distance from the ground to the withers, approximately 52%. The shoulders and upper arms should be muscular and powerful, but not overloaded. Forelegs powerful, with round heavy bone, vertical and parallel to each other, set well apart; elbows square. Pasterns straight and strong. Feet of medium size, not turning in or out, with round toes, well arched. Pads thick and tough. Nails black.

Faults:

Lack of proportion in bone.

Lack of bone in forelegs.

Elbows turned in or out.

Shoulders too steep. Shoulders overloaded.

Forelegs bowed.

Splay feet. Weak pasterns.

Splay feet.

White nails.

Splay feet. Feet turned in or out.
White nails,
White nails,
White nails,
White nails,
White nails,
HINDQUARTERS - It is important that structure, angulation and proportionate bone lengths of the hindquarters be in balance with the forequarters. The pelvis (hip-bone) should slope backward and downward from the spine at an angle of 30°. The femur (upper thigh bone) should form a right angle with the pelvis. The lower thigh bone (stifle) should set at an angle of 45° to the vertical. The length of the lower leg, from the ground to the hock joint, should be approximately 30% of the distance from the ground to the top of the hip bones. The lower leg should be vertical to the ground. The hips should be broad, in balance with shoulders and ribcage. Hind legs strong and muscular, with well developed second thighs, denoting power and activity, but not cumbersome, set parallel to each other and well apart, in balance with forelegs and body. Feet of medium size, not turning in or out, with round toes, well arched. Pads thick and tough. Nails black.
Faults: Lack of proportion in bone.

Lack of proportion in bone.

Feet turned in or out.

Narrow hip structure.
Poor angulation at hip-bone.
Stiffle too straight.
Cowhocks.
Solay feet,

Stiffle over-angulated.
Bowed hindlegs.
White nails.

GAIT:
The gait should be free, balanced and vigorous. When viewed from the side the dog should have good reach in the forequarters and good driving power in the hindquarters. The back should be level and firm, indicating good transmission from rear to front. When viewed from the front (coming toward) or from the rear (going away), at a moderate pace, the dog shall track in two parallel lines, neither too close together nor too far apart, so placed as to give a strong well-balanced movement. The toes (fore and hind) should point straight ahead. Poor moving dogs, indicating structural weakness or poor angulation of forequarters or hindquarters, should not be used for breeding purposes.

Direction to exhibitors and judges: The dog should be moved in the ring at a sufficient speed to show fluidity of movement, and not at a slow walk.

Faults: Rolling, paddling, or weaving when gaited.

Faults:

R. Rolling, paddling, or weaving when gaited. Any crossing movement, either front or rear. Stilted and restricted movement.

EVALUATION OF FAULTS

Note: The faults listed below are important according to their grouping (very serious, serious, minor) and not according to their sequence as placed in each grouping.

DISQUALIFICATIONS: Over maximum height. Under minimum height. Liver mask. Yellow eyes.

VERY SERIOUS: Viciousness. Shyness. Lack of balance. Poor bone structure. White markings other than on chest. Narrow skull. Shallow skull. Pointed muzzle. Muzzle too long, too narrow, or lacking in depth. Muzzle too short, especially if nostrils set on top. Nose upturned or laid back. Nose pointed. Lower jaws too narrow, Teeth overshot. Teeth more than 1/4" undershot. Sway back. Roach back. Croup higher than withers. Screw tail. Crank tail. Lack of proportion in bone (forequarters and/or hindquarters). Shoulders too steep. Elbows turned in or out. Forelegs bowed. Poor angulation at hip-bone. Stifle too straight. Cowhocks. Bowed hindlegs. Rolling, paddling, or weaving when gaited. Any crossing movement, either front or rear. Stilted and restricted movement.

SERIOUS: Light bone structure. Lack of muscular development. Ranginess. Over maximum weight. Under minimum weight. Too much white on chest. Plain faced. Light eyes. Rose cars. Neck too short or too long. Neck weak and scrawny. Body too long. Shallow chest. Lack of rib-spring. Tail set too low. Shoulders over loaded. Lack of bone in forelegs. Weak pasterns. Spiny feet. Narrow hips. Stifle over-angulated.

MINOR: Apathy and sluggishness. Long soft coat. "Staring" coat. Black shading on body, legs or tail. Domed forehead. Insufficient stop. Flews too pendulous. Irregular or poorly placed teeth. Small teeth. Eyes too close together. Eyes too large or too small. Ears too long. Ears too short. Ears lacking darker color. Too much tuck-up. Tail carried hound fashion. Tail too long or too short. Tail too heavily coated. Feet turned in or out. White nails.

It may be noted that the faults classified as MINOR are either, largely, points which would not of themselves contribute to unsoundness in the dog or, in some instances, are the result of poor conditioning, which might be controlled.

LOCAL KENNEL CLUBS

When the Canadian Kennel Club was organized, there were several local kennel clubs conducting shows under the guidance of the A.K.C. Few of these are still active, but records reveal that the London Canine Assoc. was the original nucleus of the Canadian governing body. Many of its members were charter C.K.C. members, and such names as Fred Hessel are still very predominent in the local club activities. The club is still going today, but is less active for the time being. The current active members have not been able to locate any of their early records, but Mr. Wm. Cooper, a breeder of Bulldogs, is perhaps one of the oldest C.K.C. members still interested and still a C.K.C. member. It is to be hoped that this oldest club can revive interest and by so doing, be more active in the years to come.

The New Brunswick Kennel Club, one of the original clubs, ceased operations about the time the C.K.C. was formed. They were reorganized in 1907 and since have been conducting shows annually. Perhaps this one club has contributed more C.K.C. Directors than any other single club. Although small in number of members, the club has always contributed greatly to the dog fancy. At the present time, nine of their members have a total of 415 years of service.

The Hamilton Kennel Club was the first club to be organized after the formation of the C.K.C. An article appearing in the Kennel Gazette in 1889, written by the H.K.C. President, A. D. Stewart, announces the formation of the club and a promise was made for a show the following year. Mr. Stewart later became the Mayor of Hamilton and from this article it can be assumed that he was a very good politician, for he at once started many platform renovations of the C.K.C., several of which were adopted. He became one of the most prominent officers of the C.K.C. and served on the Executive Committee until his death. The H.K.C. played an important role throughout these early days. From the records it would seem that the area abounded with "doggy folk" and many large kennels were in the area. In the first dog of a breed registered, many were either bred or owned by someone from the "Ambitious City" (as it was referred to at that time) who, records reveal, were members of the H.K.C.

The first club lost some of its identity during the first World War, when it united with the Wentworth Club for show purposes. But shows have been held every year since 1890, either under the name of the Hamilton Kennel Club or Hamilton-Wentworth Kennel Club.

The city might well have earned its nickname "The Ambitious City" as a result of the ambitious plans of this organization. In 1892, when they found their finances at a low ebb, they sponsored an Opera to be held in the old Grand Opera House, which was highly successful and recouped the losses.

One fact seems to stand out from these records. When the club was organized, the yearly membership fees were $2.00, and that still is the figure for dues today.

From these three clubs, many others have sprung up. Some have dropped from existence, others dropped for a time and then were reorganized and some of the early clubs are still going. Other areas held shows in these early days, but they were not held by any local kennel club, but by Fair or Exhibition Associations such as the Central Exhibition at Ottawa and the Exposition at Kingston.

Following is a list of clubs that have held shows. The year represents the year in which they held their first show. In some cases it was not possible to locate the date of the first show. While every effort has been made to present a complete list, it may be that some clubs have inadvertently been omitted.

FLAT - COATED RETRIEVERS

For Bench and Field

Outstanding litter available soon by Halstock Javelin (Eng. Imp.) out of Rabinda Hawker C.D.

Halstock Javelin is a young dog of great promise. Shown 3 times at A.K.C. shows he was B.O.B. at each. Before leaving England he had placed 2nd in Open Dogs at Leicester Championship Show when only 8 months old. His sire is a well-known worker and holder of 2 C.C.'s and 5 R.C.C.'s. Javelin's dam won 4 straight C.C.'s, including 2 B.O.B., last summer.

C.C.'s, including 2 B.O.B., last summer.

RABINDA HAWKER C.D. is an extremely fast and stylish worker in both Field and Obedience. She is also a good-looking bitch, 1962 Westminster B.O.B., as well as many other wins. Her sire, Rab of Morinda (Eng. Imp.), was the 11th ranking Derby Dog in the U.S. (1957) and is an Open All Age placer. He in turn is the son of an Eng. Ch. out of the daughter of another Eng. Ch. Hawker's dam, Jet of Lilling (Eng. Imp.), is a litter sister of Eng. Ch. Claverdon Jorrocks of Lilling, winner of the working test at the National Game Fair. Jet is by a famous worker out of an all-time great Ch. brood.

"WUNDERBAR" REG'D.

Dachshunds are our business our only business

WE are pleased with our progress of improvement in the past ten years, having finished NINE-TEEN CHAMPIONS OF RECORD . . . Ch. Danny's Girl, Ch. Chloe, Ch. Moepple, Ch. Mark, Ch. Miss Mathews, Ch. Stefan, Ch. Whirlaway, Ch. Tristan, Ch. Salute, Ch. Advancer, Ch. Begaye, Ch. Party Doll, Ch. Brian, Ch. Ariel, Ch. Britto, Ch. Flirtation, Ch. Merribit, Ch. Mistybit and Ch. Torbahn. Some of the above Champions are not today owned by Wunderbar; many were sold as youngsters and shown by their owners . . . BUT ALL WERE CHAMPIONS OF RECORD COMPETITION; ALL THE ABOVE SMOOTH CHAMPIONS ARE OF CERTIFIED TRUE SMOOTH COAT. We have had "BEST IN SHOW ALL BREEDS", "BEST CANADIAN BRED IN SHOW ALL BREEDS" and "BEST CANADIAN BRED PUPPY IN SHOW ALL BREEDS".

The past ten years have been kind to us . . . our little Dachshunds have been good to us, seven of our youngsters across Canada have points; our good wishes for their owners in 1963.

If more thought could be given to matings . . . WUNDERBAR would give it.

If more love could be given the little Dachshund . . . WUNDERBAR would give it.

If better bloodlines could be had WUNDERBAR would have them.

Ch. Ziska's Nansen. Chief's son, by Lady Liska.

Ch. Snowland Ziska Buck (Imp.)

Ch. Chief of the Glade. Sire: Ch. Whit Star of Kobe. Dam: Diva of the Arctic (B. A. Dickson's import into Canada 1948.)

Following the appearance of our Samoyeds in Dogs in Canada in Recent Winners and Show Results, we are honored to have sent one or more Ziska Sams to every Province in Canada and a number to the United States. We are also very proud to be able to state that of the four Samoyeds to have won the ultimate in shows — Best in Show — in Canada, two were from ZISKA. First, Ziska's Buster, in British Columbia in 1961. Then in September, 1962, his 7½ year-old sire, Ch. Snowland Ziska Buck went BIS at Scarborough under Judge Tommy Joel (believed to be the first Samoyed BIS in Ontario). At his first show, at ten months, he went through from Best Puppy to BB at the Samoyed Fanciers Specialty (Canadian National Sportsmen's Show) and since has taken many 1st placements in the Working Group. We thank Mrs. Lorna Jackson who has guided Buck from his first to the ultimate. Now we are leaving the winning mostly to his progeny. Our records to date show 14 Championships won by his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. We started Ziska in Canada in 1948, coming from England with two imports stemming from the finest bloodlines: ARCTIC, KOBE, SNOWLAND and RIPPLEBY. We have since imported another 12 from the same bloodlines. Here's hoping for another good year for all the ZISKA's — wherever you are. And the best for Dogs in Canada, and the most capable staff.

in a parade of past presidents

Mrs. Alva McColl, Toronto, Ont. was the first woman to be elected to the Presidency. She served in 1938, 1951 and 1952 as an Ontario Director and as President in 1954 and 1955. She returned to office as Vice-President for 1959. Although a breeder, handler, judge for many years she is perhaps best known as a former Editor of the official organ and as one of Canada's first Obedience Judges.

CHOICE PUPPIES FOR SALE BOTH BREEDS R.R. #3, London, Ont. (Ph. Byron 1044W)

Kennel Gazette, February, 1889

The first exhibition of the Victoria Dog and Poultry Association was declared open to the public by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nelson; among the visitors present being Mr. D. M. Eberts, president, and Lieut. Col. Prior, M.P., treasurer of the society; Chief Justice Sir Matthew B. Begbie, Hon. Judge O'Rielly, Mr. F. S. Bernard, M.P., and a large number of ladies and gentlemen of social prominence.

The delicious music of "C" Battery band was mingled with the occasional howling of the homesick canines and the cackling of the fowls, as the visitors inspected the exhibits and commented on their individual excellencies.

Passing down the right, on entering, a number of splendid Setters, of all the peculiar breeds, are first visited. Then some Greyhounds, Deer-hounds, Retrievers and all the other intelligent friends of the sportsmen; with several sturdy Mastiffs occupying a prominent position at the View St. end of the rink. Spaniels and pet dogs of many kinds are found in full force; while "toy" dogs, no bigger than kittens are not fifty feet away from the family of Great Danes. Danish boar hounds, massive creatures, with faultless symmetrical limbs, and almost speaking eyes. These handsome animals are the property of Mr. Meyer of Port Townsend and are apparently the visitors' favorites. In all, over 150 dogs are exhibited and each and all are splendid specimens of the canine race. The Judges were Chief Justice Sir Matthew Begbie and Judge O'Reilly, Victoria.

Kennel Gazette, May, 1893

A correspondent, in all seriousness, hands in the following notice, which has since been vouched for by eye-witness. It is in order for any reader to inquire what vintage the genial benedict is now using:-"At Dixie, near Cooksville on the CPR, a Pug bitch belonging to Mr. P. Curtis, Atlantic Hotel, whelped 30 puppies on Saturday night, April 29, of which 28 are living.

Kennel Gazette, December, 1895

"I see the CKC is about to take a vote on the cropping of dogs' ears. I am very sorry the Club is thinking of prohibiting the cropping as I am a breeder and exhibitor of Black and Tan Terriers. I have been breeding this variety for the past ten years and find it hard to breed a decent specimen as it is without having to breed for a certain type of ear, so if the Club doesn't permit the showing of cropped dogs I will have to drop out of exhibiting and I know of several others in the fancy that say the same. I don't think that dog fanciers in the country are so numerous that we can afford to let any drop out. I sincerely hope the Club will let the matter stand and let those who want to crop do so. We certainly have as much grounds for cropping as others have for docking the signed F.C. McLean, Hull, Nov. 12, 1895. (Does this name seem familiar to many of the breeders of today?)

articles down the front of her dress before she went in the ring. She was not small, and by the time the articles were required they had become buried. It was the usual procedure for the judging to be held up while she searched frantically in her bosom, and if that was unsuccessful, to lean over and try to shake them free.

Obedience judges learned along with competitors. Well do I remember Ed O'Brien's first assignment - he finished his novice classes before he realized he had forgotten the Stand exercise. The competitors, one after another, rushed into the ring, stood their dogs and rushed out again. At the same trial there was a bitch in season - so he judged it in the next ring!

Confusion was not confined to Obedience trials. Bench shows used to go on until two, three or even four o'clock in the morning! You arrived when you liked, and did what you liked. It was a great shock when Alf Loveridge was appointed Show Representative and everyone suddenly found that rules were made to be obeyed.

During the late '40s, Lorna Casgrain and her obedience classes in Montreal

in a parade of past presidents

Mrs. M. Eileen McEachren, Todmorden, Ont., was world famous for her Tailteann Kerry Blue Terriers. She was elected as President in 1956, a post she held until 1958. Her untimely death cut short her dreams and ambitions to continue to improve her stock of "Kerrys" and purebred dogs in general.

were given some fine publicity in the Toronto papers. Prior to this the average dog owner had never heard of such things and it created considerable interest. So not only did Lorna start obedience in Quebec, she gave it a great boost in Ontario. Meanwhile, my own classes had started more or less by accident, Some friends who admired my

The winner of which will be the Field Trial Champion under the CKC Rules adopted 1932.

I train his dog. I told him I did not run classes, but the next day he telephoned and so did his friends. From there it mushroomed, and I was in the dog training business.

Looking back over shows and trials I think obedience can claim the greater progress. We have much more uniform judging than we used to have, due to proper examinations for judges and having representatives attend trials. On the debit side, there is too much sloppy work in trials (I am referring to Ontario) due, I think, to people conducting training classes without sufficient knowledge of either obedience or teaching. They know the rule book, but just knowing the rule book doesn't make you a good obedience teacher any more than breeding a few litters makes you a good show judge.

I am firmly opposed to professional handlers judging anything other than specialty shows. If for no other reason, they are subjected to unpleasant suggestions of partisanship. In my opinion, this is unfair to the handlers, misleading to those who don't know any better and hence bad for the dog game in general.

In obedience there is a good deal of discussion about interpretation of the rules. To me, this comes from a change of emphasis. It used to be that the enjoyment was in training and it was fun to compete against other trainers. Now, it appears that the emphasis is on competition and training is just a necessary adjunct. People keep saying such-and-such rule should be clarified. I'm agin it! I want my dogs to lie down in the house or anywhere else, on command. That doesn't penalize me in a trial if the judge allows dogs to be pushed down. If one judge makes me stand my dog from the sit in the Signal exercise while another judge lets me keep it standing from the heel, so what? Why can't we train all ways? The more training the more fun. I believe we have good obedience judges and so long as they stay within the rules, the more interpretations they dream up the better - it makes it interesting. If we go on trying to get every eventuality provided for in black and white, trials will end by being a bunch of robots judged by a calculating machine.

We all have our favourite memories. One of mine is Ed O'Brien giving a demonstration and Hellion sailing over the jump, retrieving an ice cream cone from some poor child's hand, returning over the jump and sitting straight, six feet from Ed, while he finished the cone. Then without command, going back over the jump and retrieving the dumb-bell to deliver it in perfect style. And there was the thrill of George Lucas and Pilot winning top score in obedience and Best in Show the same day. And one of my particular treasures was an early Kingston show where I went Reserve Best in Show with a Canadian-bred Puppy. The trophies had just been presented when the judge came and took back the ones for BCB and BCBP and announced he was going to judge those two separately instead of awarding them automatically. I shall always remember his worried expression when he said, "I am sorry Madam, be-cause yours is the best dog-but they don't seem to want me to give it to you"! However the final tally at that show with my three Poodles was Reserve Best in Show, Best Canadian-Bred, Best Canadian-Bred Puppy (the latter two re-awarded to me by the CKC, some months later), 1st in Group 5, 2nd in Group 6, Best Brace in Show and Highest Scoring Obedience Dog. It was quite a day! But for sheer poetry of motion, one of my favourite pictures of a dog show and one seen many times, is late evening - enthusiastic crowd - big ring - and (tongue well out) Horace Hollands gaiting an English

In retrospect, the carping and criticising, the backbiting and pettiness, disappear and the dog game appears a pretty good game. It must be, because once you are really in it you can't get

Ritz at luncheon hour with the blaze air of a regular patron. He's brought into this story because he's the new shade of grey which the dressmakers are featuring in everything from tulle to homespun. The other afternoon on the Champs Elysses we saw them together - a woman gowned in grey swinging along with a Schnauzer tugging at the end of a leash. Jean Dupas might have painted them as one of his vivid fashion posters.

Kennel & Bench, 1930

An amendment was proposed to be discussed at the annual meeting in 1930 as follows: "That, Article 6 - Officers be amended by the insertion of the words: 'Any person nominated for office in the Club that seeks the support of the members through the media of election literature to assist him in his election, shall become disqualified'. The proposal was defeated.
