Pictured on this month's cover is Pepi of Samingo, five months old son of Ch. Blairdale's Amon-Ra and Samingo's Karna. Breeder was John Kempster. We are looking forward to having him at the Sportsmen's Show.

Rather than presenting a detailed report of our progress, Samingo Kennels invites you to refer to the Show Results in Dogs in Canada, which prove beyond doubt the winning ways of the Samingo Samoyeds.

Very little breeding was done at Samingo in 1962. The only dog shown in the classes was Ch. Samingo's Tobie who, at eight months, was Best Canadian Bred Puppy in Group III at Woodstock, under Judge Glen Stevens. He attained his Championship in short order, with stiff competition, finishing the season by going Best of Breed at the Canadian Samoyed Club Specialty Show on October 7 at 11 months of age under Judge George P. Davies. His sire was Ch. Samingo's Prince Charming and his dam was Ch. Bri-Pens White Jade O'Samingo. Tobie is now owned by Mrs. Barbara M. Clarke, 4720 Dunbar St., Vancouver, B.C.

Two litters were whelped last month; one from Ch. Blairdale's Shasta, sire Samingo's Zero; and Ch. Samingo's Anastasia, sire Ch. Blairdale's Amon-Ra. Some of these youngsters will be retained for future show and breeding stock but a few will be for sale.

Our puppies are raised with intimate human contact, which is reflected in their happy, affectionate and responsive temperament. Puppies from Samingo can be purchased with confidence, whether for companions, foundation stock or show specimens.

TO THE EDITOR

cheers for Ed O'Brien

... The members of The Hamilton Obedience Club wish to express their appreciation of the Obedience Column, written by Mr. Ed. O'Brien of Canfield, Ont. Primarily an Obedience Club, we have our share of breed enthusiasts, which makes for many an hour of discoursing on what it takes to bring out a good dog in the Obedience Ring.

We all know apathy can be detrimental to our obedience sport, and feel that if Dogs in Canada are generous enough to allow Obedience people a full page span, let's take advantage of it, and send in all our gripes or praises to Mr. O'Brien, so he may express his opinion or enlighten us on some aspect of Obedience.

We've alerted our members, and hope our fellow Obedience clubs will follow suit and support this column devoted in our own interests.

Who will start the ball rolling?

JEAN GIACOMELLI

Assistant Secretary, The Hamilton Obedience Club

why an obedience association?

... I was a member of the Ontario Obedience Association when there were only five clubs associated with it, and have watched it grow until today there are over 27 affiliated clubs.

As a Past Director of the Ontario Association I wonder why Quebec has not started their Association. I got my first nibble of Obedience years ago from Mrs. Lorna Casgrain in Montreal. Clubs have been formed and are still being formed in and around Montreal, but there are many areas yet that could have an Obedience Club.

If you have any suggestions, any comments or constructive criticism to make concerning articles in this magazine, or with regard to shows, your opinion of what is happening to various breeds with regard to size, colour, coat, etc., write a brief letter to the Editor. We must reserve the right, however, to edit same.

Possibly the other Provinces are wondering what an Obedience Association could do for their area. The Association helps interested groups form an Obedience Club. It also supplies ring stewards when requested by clubs giving trials. This is a godsend to a small or a new club. A Spring get-together is held for all affiliated clubs. A speaker is provided or help is given in almost any way to promote interest in Obedience.

Mr. Ed. O'Brien, who is writing the articles on Obedience at the present time, is the Ontario Association President and what he doesn't know about Obedience, as the young fella said, "just ain't worth knowin'".

What do the clubs and the members of these clubs in Quebec feel about an Obedience Association for Quebec? ... I have several old copies of the "Ontario Obedience Link" on hand that I could pass around, and believe me it really is an Obedience Link. Through this medium we know what clubs are doing in training classes, service work and trials. The Association in Ontario does not charge any fees to their own provincial members, but I understand there will be a fee charged this year to affiliated members not residents of Ontario.

We have joined an Obedience Club here in Montreal, (Montreal Dog Training Club Inc.) ... but I would like to know what the members of Obedience clubs think regarding a Quebec Obedience Association.

Possibly Ed. O'Brien would write an article on "What your Obedience Association Can Do For You."

roses from Quebec

... May I take this late opportunity to wish the editorial staff and all members connected with the publication of Dogs in Canada a very Happy New Year and continued success for many more years to come.

I really look forward to receiving my monthly copy of Dogs, as it keeps me in touch with many of my friends in the dog game right across Canada. I was pleased to see the article concerning the Canadian judges. We can be mighty pleased and proud of the men and women who have the thankless job of judging our dogs at the Canadian shows. My sincere thanks to them for a job well done. Last year, I personally feel that Dogs did an excellent job in supplying articles of interest to all doggy people, and I do hope that the same excellence in material continues in '63.

MALCOLM C. FELLOWS

... Your Club Roundup is splendid (whatever anyone else says!); the best improvement you have made, and at last, after many years, Quebec has a fair share of the limelight, thanks to Mrs. McCullough and Dogs.

FROM THE EDITOR

THE following editorial reproduced from the Toronto Telegram so eloquently expresses the feelings of many that Dogs has received permission to reproduce it in full in this department:

Magistrate R. B. Baxter has asked that adequate publicity be given to his decision that acquitted a couple of willfully neglecting to provide adequate food, water and shelter for a large number of dogs.

It is good that he made this request for it appears today that somebody should take up the case of neglect and cruelty to these animals.

On the same day that Magistrate Baxter found that the Retrievers, Collies, Terriers and Chihuahuas on a Brighton farm were not wilfully neglected, Magistrate A. D. Barron ruled in Kitchener that a dogcatcher who killed a dog by hanging it had the "right" to perform that macabre execution.

No quarrel can be taken with the rulings of these magistrates. Magistrates must be guided by the law. They interpret it wisely and, if anyone wants to contest their interpretation, their ruling may be appealed.

The evidence in the Kitchener case was that the dogcatcher there performed the hanging and this was not disputed. The evidence in the Trenton case is that some dogs were so hungry that they resorted to cannibalism and that the barn in which some were kept was ill-ventilated.

What really matters is that the dogs in both cases were subjected to unusual discomfort, to say the least.

This should not be allowed to happen. And if our laws allow such discomfort to dogs—or cats, or goats, or white mice, for that matter—it should be tightened.

Where neglect or cruelty—willful or not—is allowed, the senses of civilized men and women are grossly offended. The Humane Society does excellent work in protecting animals. It would be good if those who are outraged by such cases not only supported that organization but appealed to our legislators to stiffen the law that is designed to protect animals.

Even a suggestion of cruelty to animals is a blot on our society.

THE 1963 show season starts off with a bang this month, with another record season in sight. Dogs in Canada hopes you will still find time to send interesting news items to these columns. Your letters are particularly welcome. Dogs hopes to cover even more shows than last year. All success to show-giving clubs and their events.

Book Shopping Centre

A library of good books is a must for all serious, conscientious dog breeders, exhibitors, handlers and trainers. The following are only a few that we can supply. Simply circle the numbers corresponding to the books desired on the order blank below and mail TODAY with your remittance. Include 25c for each book to cover packaging and mailing. We accept C.O.D. orders.

GROOMING AND SHOWING

1. GROOMING AND SHOWING INSTRUCTION by the famous Blanche Saunders. A book of 125 pages filled with useful information for novices and experienced handlers alike. Illustrations show how to trim and groom both long coated and smooth coated dogs of all breeds. $4.75

2. COMPLETE TRIMMING CHART, which illustrates the proper trimming methods for such breeds as Airedale, Sealyhams and other Terriers as well as Setters and Spaniels. $1.50

3. CLIPPING YOUR POODLE, by Margaret Sheldon and Barbara Lockwood. A small, inexpensive book in which the authors give the benefit of their vast experience to the new Poodle owner. $1.00

KENNEL BUILDING and MANAGEMENT

4. KENNEL BUILDING AND PLANS, by Will Judy. This book gives plans for the erection of all types of kennels, from the one dog "dog house" to the most elaborate kennel building. Drainage, etc., is well covered with useful information. $5.35

5. COMPLETE KENNEL CONSTRUCTION, another Denlinger book of value to those who contemplate building a kennel or for those who have plans to renovate their present buildings. $4.50

BREEDING AND HEALTH

6. BREEDING AND GENETICS, by Anne Fitzgerald Paramore. A small book (68 pages) but full of useful information. No breeder should be without one. $3.65

7. HOW TO BREED DOGS, by Leon Whitney, which explains the mode of inheritance in a most interesting way. The author, who has long been one of the foremost American dog breeders, talks the language of the breeder. $6.25

8. THE NEW ART OF BREEDING BETTER DOGS, a revision by Phillip Onstott of the older book by Kyle Onstott. A book much in demand for its comprehensive study of the art of breeding dogs. $7.50

9. FEEDING OUR DOGS, by Dr. Leon F. Whitney, is a practical, scientific and economical method of ensuring your dog's good health. $6.00

TRAINING, FOR FIELD AND OBEDIENCE

10. THE COMPLETE BOOK OF DOG OBEDIENCE, by Blanche Saunders, explains how to set up a Training Club with a sample set of By-laws and how to run training classes. She tells how to conduct the courses from start to finish. $6.25

11. TRAINING THE HUNTING RETRIEVER, by James Lamb Free. A book that is a must for every owner, or prospective owner of the Retriever, Golden, Labrador, Chesapeake etc. $6.25

12. TRAINING YOU TO TRAIN YOUR DOG, by Blanche Saunders. In this new and revised work Miss Saunders teaches you a totally new approach to the subject of training dogs in obedience. The whole idea behind the book is summed up in the title: it is the owner who needs the training. $5.00

13. AMERICAN BEAGLING, by G. G. Black (Old Kickapoo). This well known Beagler gives to others the advantage of his 40 years of study. He touches an every possible angle of the sport of beagling. Beginning with puppy selection, he continues progressively with feeding, general care in good health and poor, kennel layout and construction, yard training, field training, field handling and on and on throughout the 288 pages. $6.25

BREED BOOKS

14. THE POPULAR WHIPPET by C. H. Douglas Todd, an English author who has distinguished himself as a breeder exhibitor and judge of Whippets. Chapters are on all subjects, including Whippet racing, that should be of assistance and equal value to the beginner and the experienced owners. $4.95

15. THE PEKINGESE MANUAL, by George Bindley Davidson. A manual that has many famous breeders appearing as writers of various chapters; Charmain Lansdowne, Jack Robards Watts, Marjory Nye Phulps, John B. Royce, Rose Marie Katz, Iris de la Torre, Irene Ruschhaupt and others. With these as writers can anyone doubt the value of such a book? $5.00

16. THE PEKINGESE, by Anna Katherine Nicholas. This book is a complete presentation with illustrations of the origin, development, breeding, showing, training, kenneling, care and feeding of this breed of dog. Surely a book every Pekingese fancier will want to own. $4.65

17. THIS IS THE CHIHUAHUA, by the well known Maxwell Riddle. It is a most authentic, up-to-date book on this little breed. Its profusion of illustrations makes it easy to read and simple to understand. Chapters on history, character, personality, feeding, breeding, showing, make this a complete, authentic book, accurately written by an authority on the breed. $6.25

18. THE BULLDOG, by Enno Meyer. As artist, breeder and judge, Enno Meyer spent the better part of a long lifetime studying pure-bred dogs, with the Bulldog as an especial favorite. He is conceded to be a world authority on the breed. In simply expressed text and drawings, he explains the Bulldog in a manner never done before. $3.50

19. ALL ABOUT FOX TERRIERS, a practical guide for every owner of Wire or Smooth, by George Frank Skelly. A volume profusely illustrated with photographs, charts, tables and drawings that make a complete handbook equally useful to those who keep one or more of the breed as companions, as breeding stock or as show contenders. $4.50

20. THIS IS THE GERMAN SHEPHERD. This long awaited book by Capt. Goldbecker is now in stock. This new, practical, complete and authoritative book should be at the finger tips of every Shepherd breeder and owner. $6.00

21. THIS IS THE POODLE, by Lester H. Martin, a new book in our book department which covers in great detail training, trimming, bathing and diet, to name only a few items about this very popular breed of dog. $6.00

GENERAL KNOWLEDGE

22. FIRST AID AND NURSING FOR YOUR DOG, a revised edition by F. Andrew Edgson, M.R.C.V.S. and Olwen Gwynne-Jones. This excellent little book should be on the bookshelf of every dog owner, whether he owns one pet dog or keeps a large kennel and the time to read it is now before the need arises. It is very easy to read besides being a valuable and comprehensive work of reference. $2.50

23. FIVE GREAT DOG NOVELS, by Jack London, John Brown, Alfred Ollivant, Marshall Saunders and Louise de la Ramee. Full original texts, with original illustrations of five classic dog novels that have thrilled and delighted millions of adults and children. $1.75

Superheterodyne Electronic Dog Trainer

Unit is most reliable known today to stop your dog from running off-game, dog tracks or for correcting bad habits. Whip aerial telescopes to achieve range up to 1/2 mile. The signal "triggers" the shocking device by electros inside the collar. Increased efficiency of four tuned circuits and narrow band-pass characteristics makes tuning very sharp, and virtually eliminates accidental shock to your dog. Battery life is extended 10 to 20 times that experienced in past. This amazing electronic innovation can actually operate at 700 sparks a second.

MODEL 306: complete deluxe Superheterodyne unit (Portable Transmitter, Shocking Collar, Practice Dummy Collar and special Antenna Holder). Battery installed. Complete instructions. $184.50.

Difficult to operate? Not a bit. No knowledge of electronics is necessary. You can start your training program immediately.

The Old Timer had been procrastinating and when I came into the grooming room he was sorting out the 1962 Christmas cards and listing names and addresses of the senders. As I sat down he tossed one of the cards over to me and asked;

"What do you think of that?"

"A very attractive card" I answered, and indeed it was attractive.

"I'm not asking you to be an art critic," the Old Timer said. "Open it up. There's a message there. Read it and take a look at who sent it."

The card, from a western director of The Canadian Kennel Club, carried the usual seasonal greetings. But handwritten below was an idea.

"I'm thinking of suggesting that for purposes of electing directors to the C.K.C. Ontario should be zoned," the sender had written. "What do you think of the idea?"

"Zone Ontario for the purpose of electing directors," I asked. "Just what does he mean?"

The Old Timer reached for his pipe and began to fill it carefully.

"I think he means exactly what he says—divide Ontario into zones and have one or more directors elected from each zone," he answered. "But it's something that would have to be worked out very carefully, and if done that way it might easily serve a useful purpose."

"All right," I said. "I'm listening. Let's have your thoughts on this revolutionary plan."

The Old Timer pulled out his old barrel chair. He got his pipe drawing freely, shoved the battered old fedora to the back of his head and leaned back.

"You used the right word when you said revolutionary," he said "because the plan is revolutionary in effect. But out of revolutions have come good and I think this idea has merit."

"Let's take a look at the situation as it is now," he said. "There is no doubt that the heavy concentration of Canadian Kennel Club membership is in Ontario and equally no doubt that the large concentration of Ontario members is in the Toronto area. The Canadian Kennel Club has recognized this heavy Ontario concentration by providing five Ontario directors as compared with only one for each of the other provinces of the Dominion. I rather imagine that is pretty fair proportional representation, even though it means Ontario's voice in C.K.C. affairs is a pretty substantial voice."

"Anything wrong with that?" I asked "particularly if, as you say, the five Ontario members reflect properly the number of Ontario members in relation to those from other provinces?"

"Not a bit," said the Old Timer. "But I wonder if under the present system, the five directors elected from Ontario really represent the voice of that province?"

"What do you mean?" I asked.

"If you remember," he said "I remarked earlier that a large number of the Ontario members were concentrated in the Toronto area. Take a look at the Ontario directors. Four of them live either in Toronto or its immediate suburban area. The fifth is only 60 or 70 miles away."

"Is that bad?" I asked.

"Not necessarily," said the Old Timer "but there certainly is no voice that speaks for Western Ontario, none that speaks for the North and none that speaks for the eastern part of the province."

"The answer's simple," I suggested. "Let the people in those areas nominate a candidate and then get behind that candidate."

The Old Timer smiled. "Boy it's not that simple," he said. "Remember I said the large concentration of Ontario members is in the Toronto area — let's say in a circle around Toronto about 60 miles in diameter. Now, any candidate from outside that Toronto area circle must enlist support from Toronto to be among the first five. If he doesn't get that Toronto area support he has little chance of being elected."

The Old Timer made sense on that one and I agreed with him.

"But if a candidate from Windsor campaigns actively surely he could get Toronto support?" I suggested.

"Yes, he could," said the Old Timer "but first of all he'd have to be known — which would mean he would have to do a lot of exhibiting. And secondly he would have to be prepared to spend money. If my figures are right there are more than 1,500 Ontario members of the C.K.C. That means at least 1,500 letters have to go out. Stamps have to be bought. Printing has to be done. And it all costs money. A candidate from the east, west or the north would have to consider he would have a pretty fair chance to take the gamble and run."

"And what advantages would you see in zoning Ontario?" I asked.

"I think it would encourage good dog people from other parts of the province to accept a nomination who will not accept one now. It would give a diversified opinion of doggy affairs. It would help in bringing an understanding of the problems of the clubs in the

OBEDIENCE

Ed. O'Brien, Canfield, Ont., is well-known as Canada's leading professional trainer of dogs in Obedience work. He is a licensed Judge, one of Canada's first. He began his career in the West, training dogs for herding and other farm work. Since moving to Ontario he has specialized in training dogs for police and guard work and for disabled people. Mr. O'Brien also breeds German Shepherds and Dobermans.

Not long ago I was asked to substitute for another judge at a most unusual trial, and this turned out to be quite an experience and something of an education for me, as well as a lot of fun: that is, we all had fun except the dogs, who all wore expressions of complete bewilderment, as though wondering why their world had suddenly become such a madhouse.

To start off this . . . well, we'll call it a trial for lack of a better name! . . . the dogs were each given a number, all the numbers were then placed in a hat and each handler drew one and then worked, or attempted to work, the dog whose number he had drawn. The result was incredibly funny: handlers owning small dogs found themselves with dogs which to them must have seemed as big as horses while others, owners of Shepherds, Dobermans etc., found themselves attached to a Cocker, Sheltie or an even smaller breed. Men with voices like army generals tried to encourage their charges by imitating the softer tones of the dogs' legal owners, while gentle women did their best to sound really tough.

Now, all the judge had to do was to pick out the best working unit — that is, dog and handler — from each class: yes, all classes had entrants. How does one judge this kind of trial? Would it be best just to lay the book of rules on the table and forget about it? Luckily, the CKC Trial Representative was not participating. Anyway she was the one who shanghied me into this deal so she could not do much about infractions of the rules. So, we pretty well ignored the book and enjoyed the fun. Though a few of the dogs did a very creditable job so far as trial rules were concerned, the majority were mainly interested in locating their actual owners, while some simply went on a sit-down strike. I think each of these dogs did what was right, from his own viewpoint, and acted according to his own nature. Some, because of their training, worked almost mechanically through the exercises, doing almost as well with a stranger as with their own owners but the vast majority — and this included some dogs who constantly score very high in trials — evidently found it virtually impossible to work for a stranger. For instance, all of the handlers in this topsy-turvy trial gave the usual commands and signals (as well as a good many unusual ones) yet very few of the dogs responded as they would have done for their owners. While in most cases the dogs were being handled by complete strangers, and allowance must be made for that, it was noticeable that on the whole the dogs usually handled by men did best when a man was handling, and the same was true of dogs owned by women who were worked by women in this trial.

All this points up what I have tried to stress for a long time: the necessity for being consistent in the training of our dogs. For example, verbal commands, as well as signals, should be given as nearly as possible in the same manner if we are not to confuse our dogs. We can hardly expect a dog to drop instantly on recall at the word "down", if on other occasions we say to him: "Now, you lie down!" Much as some owners try to humanize their dogs, words, as words, mean nothing to the dogs. They know them only as sounds and the fewer sounds used for each thing we wish our dog to do, the more sounds he will be able to relate to some particular exercise. Be firm, consistent and confident with your dog and he will respond. Lack of confidence on the part of the handler often upsets the dog and gives a rather bad impression to anyone watching. I think, too, if the handlers would work with their dogs in different places before entering trials both handlers and dogs would be less disturbed in the Obedience ring.

One last point: a friend, commenting on Obedience trials, wonders why handlers feel it necessary to be so noisy when commanding their dogs. This, he points out, is especially noticeable when a whole class is putting the dogs down, and again when ordering them to stay. He feels that a better impression of Obedience training would be given the public if we gave our commands in a more quiet and dignified manner. What do our readers think?

You can learn many things from your dogs. How much patience you don't have, for instance.

THE HUMANE SOCIETY

BY TOM HUGHES

Ninth in a series by the General Manager of the Ontario Humane in which he discusses "life" in the North.

To some people, life in the far North of Canada—the Arctic—is a romantic, almost glamorous way of life in which one spends one's time hunting, fishing and, during the winter, doing nothing mixed with lots of sleep. The summer is warm and pleasant. The winter is very cold and pleasant. In summer one tents; winter one igloos.

Travel is accomplished in summer by boat; in winter by sled. I wonder how many thousands of people still retain a one word picture of the North: "Mush" is written indelibly on their minds. At the other end of the line is a hard-working; clever; handsome; noble sled dog—"White Fang". The illusion is completed by the idea that "pemmican" is a form of Canadian corned beef.

In reality life in the North is very basic and possesses none of the false glamour so carefully engendered by the writer of fiction and some fiction posing as fact.

A trip to the North West Territories; a study of excellent first hand reports by conscientious travellers; hours of talk with men who have spent their life in the Arctic either as police officers or administrators, two visits to the Eastern Arctic, these have convinced me that no matter what else may or may not be true, the present way of life cannot continue. Something has to give.

With this in mind I recently received two very different letters. One was from a very sincere humanitarian who lives in the North; the other from a resident of Philadelphia, an equally sincere and genuine humanitarian who has dedicated his life to working for the cause of animal welfare. Both letters brought to my attention the condition under which animals mainly dogs in the very far North, but also horses in the so called "banana belt" — live, work and die. The letters were only two of many that I have received over the years. Always I have felt that it was not my problem; that "someone else" should look after it —maybe the "Government"; that I had enough to worry about either in British Columbia or now, Ontario. Always I pushed the problem in the back of my mind and turned to those more immediate worries.

Let me quote from one of these letters.

"I now live in the Eastern Arctic—what hurts and haunts me day and night is the plight of the poor, helpless, brutes. In this harsh and forbidding land these ever faithful creatures (sled dogs) have no "rights; nobody seems to care whether they live or die; no redress. I feel so helpless; just one person against a tradition which has been handed down from one generation to the next; animals don't matter . . . "frequently they (the dogs) will eat frozen excrement that may have already been eaten two or three times before, in an effort to gain some nourishment" . . . "They frequently start out without any food and haul the sleds or Komatiks for four or five days without any food at all until they drop dead, one by one, in the harness—they die without complaint." . . . "Dogs are chained by the neck 90% of the time, winter and summer. The neck chains are very short and they in turn are fastened to a long master chain which is staked at each end. The dogs stay chained in this way all the time they are not working. In winter, in howling blizzards; in rain, sleet or 40 degree below zero, they stay there; worse still in summer with the temperature up to 80 they lie there with mosquitos so bad that it is hardly bearable for a human being; the dogs are enveloped constantly in a cloud of mosquitos, especially around their ears, eyes and parts not covered with coat" . . . they rarely get any water and very little food" . . .

And so it goes on. An unemotional, factual account from an experienced Arctic resident that describes what "life in the Arctic" is really like for the animals who live, or more correctly exist, and die to provide the most reliable form of transportation known to the North until the advent of the airplane.

However the words that really got through to me were, "I feel so helpless—no one cares or does anything about it". I decided that I did care and I did intend to do something. I wrote first of all to people who knew the North. They all confirmed the picture. I remembered my own experiences. I finally wrote to the Minister of Northern Affairs Mr. W. Dinsdale. He was most sympathetic. He replied confirming that most dogs live on a diet which is normally close to starvation. He offered to arrange for his Northern Affairs Officers to help this Society wherever they could.

The problem then was to decide what was the best way to help the sled dogs. Obviously we can't put the whole world to right. Equally obvious we can't change the attitude of the Eskimo or white, but particularly the Eskimo; and far more certain, we can't hope to feed all the unfortunate animals. A sort of "doggy welfare world" was and is out of the question.

I came to the conclusion that the only way we, that is you and I, could help would be to make an appropriate gesture which would help to prevent the worst conditions, i.e. complete starvation, and at the same time show that at long last we are aware of conditions in the North and we are trying to do something rather than merely talk.

I suggested therefore, to the Minister of Northern Affairs, that I would appeal to humanitarians, especially doggy people, to provide food that could be transported to the North and there cached under the supervision of his Northern Affairs officers, to be issued by them when they felt the need was urgent. He agreed to this. This alone shows the value of the scheme.

Considering the practical problems, it became obvious that only dry dog meal would be suitable. Anything else, such as canned meat, would quickly end up in a frying pan. Hence the name "Balladburger". The meal would have to be packed in water-tight bags of not more than 50 lb weight. Finally the meal had and has, to be delivered to Fort Churchill. From there on the officers of the Northern Affairs Department will look after it.

I wrote to all the newspapers in Ontario and all the major papers throughout Canada. I figured this was a "Canadian" problem, not a regional one. The response has been most encouraging. As a result the first two tons of dog meal is now on its way to Fort Churchill. The next consignment is being collected and will go later this year.

If you want to play your part in this unique project please send a small donation to "Operation Arctichow", c/o the Ontario Humane, 45 Avenue Rd., Toronto. Every penny will be turned into food.

If nothing else, you will be doing your part to show that we don't really believe that life in the North is a bowl of cherries dipped in blubber.

"Mush".

PERVINAL IN NEW TABLET FORM

Pervinal, the nutritional supplement widely employed as a powder and syrup for kennel and show dogs, is now available in tablet form.

Pervinal tablets are available in drug stores, pet shops and pet departments of large stores. The tablets contain the same nutritional formula as the powder and syrup, providing vitamins A, D, E, B-1, B-2, B-6, B-12, niacin, pantothenic acid, citrus bioflavonoids, methionine, choline, inositol, calcium, phosphorus, potassium, sodium, iron, manganese, copper, zinc, iodine and cobalt — as are found in human nutritional supplements.

The tablets are packed in boxes of 60, and may be hand-fed or crumbled and mixed with food.

Lots of people know a good dog — the moment somebody else sees it first.

SPANIELS

IN THE FIELD

George Tabner, a well-known breeder and exhibitor of Springer Spaniels in both show and trial, is a firm believer that show Springers must also be able to give good account of themselves in the field. He is President of the English Springer Spaniel Club of Canada and sparked the establishment of Ontario's only Spaniel Specialty Show for all Spaniels.

The necessity of meeting a deadline in writing these columns; December 1 for this February issue (as February was entirely devoted to the Canadian Kennel Club's 75th Anniversary, Mr. Tabner's February article was held over to March—Editor), April 1 for the June one etc. makes certain articles old by the time they would appear in print. An excellent story on the Niagara Spaniel Club Inc. Trials of Ontario, submitted by Mr. Henry P. Nicholson, unfortunately has thus succumbed. However, I will quote a few sentences from the story, which I believe answer often-heard criticism of our Spaniel Trials.

"These trials are as near to a day's hunting of pheasants as is possible to imitate; and what these Spaniels do at these trials they will do in ordinary day's hunting." "A judge may look for certain qualities in a dog and mark him high if he finds these qualities. But if a Spaniel 'breaks' on flush, or shot, he is out. It is not just the judge's opinion that counts for everyone can see the 'break' and knows the dog has erred". "It does not matter if a dog is a champion, has won many Open All Age Stakes, and has given a perfect performance on several birds, the judge has no alternative."

At the 1962 National Stake, as at several other Open All Age Stakes recently, good dogs broke and were out of further competition. Several times gallery comments were heard to the effect that a certain dog was the best if only —. The luck of the day frequently has decided the winner of trials. Certain dogs get the opportunity to work on, and finally produce, runners, while others may pick up planted birds instead. So one shows his nose and ability to trail, the other does nothing spectacular. Again some birds land to produce long blind retrieves giving another chance for spectacular performance. Others may have extremely difficult retrieves which confuse dog, or handler, to spoil his chances.

When this occurs we get suggestions to even things out, eliminate chances, etc. To do this will remove the "simulation of a day's hunting", a requisite of our trials. To standardise retrieves might be fair all round, but impossible as trials are set up. To use uniform cover is another impossibility. There isn't sufficient of the same cover to be had. To re-use the same ground fouled by previous scents would be even worse than now. Breaks, pointing, hard mouth or other cardinal sins of Spaniels are necessary disqualifying factors. If a dog sins he is done regardless of how spectacular he may be otherwise. Frequently, it is a very fine line only between a fast, hard-driving dog and one who suddenly goes out of control. The one who goes too far is out, the other may win the trial. To change things would be a complete change of our Spaniel Trials. If the best dog does not win there is always another trial; today's winner is today's top dog.

One of our regular entrants who has turned the impossible into a fact (Les Bunker, of Brampton) is, I believe, worthy of special note. A beginner at trials, with no previous training experience to guide him and against the advice of experts he has proven most critics to be wrong. "Show dogs don't win Trials" he was told, but being stubborn and sticking to a training program (perhaps being lucky too), he has taken a show Champion and produced a Field Trial Champion. My hat is off to Les. (He even won that from me). Also to Ch. (Can. & U.S.) and F.T. Ch. Dan-Dee of Melilotus. Dan is a dog I know well, a pleasure to handle and one who wants to please. His breeders, Mr. and Mrs. L. Cesaroni, have good reason to be proud.

Mr. R. A. Meeks, a Springer breeder from Bruce, Alta., has written telling of his hopes to import a British sire of Field Trial stock.

From Mr. Chas. Mee, Somerville, Ohio, came a suggestion on planting pheasants. He recommended the head be under the wing, legs under the bird and "tail feathers up in the wind". We tried this, and his theory that the scent carries better seems to be true. Also, should a dog try to pick up the bird by what he sees first, he gets only feathers and the bird flies.

The Western Ontario Spaniel Club plan to hold their 1963 Spring trial over two days. By devoting more time to the Open All Age, the dogs will get a longer time to prove themselves; and perhaps to spread around the opportunities for luck.

Thanks to all who have passed comments along. May they continue please.

BEAGLES

IN THE FIELD

A big voice booming out over the fields, a roaring laugh and a personality merry as a Beagle's. That's Joe Tiede, founder of the Beagle Association of Ontario and for many years the representative for Beagles for The Canadian Kennel Club. A judge of Beagle Field Trials, he is one of Canada's top working Beagle men.

The commencement of another year of Beagling and Field Trials is starting to shape up. The weather, I think, has not helped much any place this year in getting pups started and underway for the derby events. I always look forward to the derbies and futurities more so than the all-age trials, as from these promising derbies come the great all-age dogs. I do agree at times an odd individual will not show any great achievements until three to five years old, and even older, but this is a rarity.

To me, in getting the puppy ready, it is always a challenge, after he has been taught to handle, know his name, and lead broke, which should be done before the pup is five months old; this I feel is as early an age as the majority of Beagles will be ready for any intensive training.

First comes the getting acquainted to the bush and surroundings out of his yard and general area, or what is commonly called bush broke, and over their fear of getting lost. Each time out will give the pup more confidence in himself and he will wander away farther each time and the more sure he becomes of himself the more inquisitive he gets snooping under brush, trees, stumps and generally everything new to him.

I always take several pups to the bush together as they tend to encourage one another more than if they are taken alone with an already trained Beagle or pack, and should the pup be carried away for a distance the older dogs will soon outdistance or tire out the pup and there he is all alone and likely where everything is strange to him. Usually, at this early stage, the pup has not learned to track himself back, or has not yet developed his sense of direction and all he can now do is run around and howl because he is lost and hopes you will hear him and find him. This always disturbs the pup and he becomes much more cautious in venturing away.

I always try to find a rabbit sitting in a stump under a tree or clump of grass, and then try and get the pups around the area so they can see it when it bolts away, and as soon as they have seen this a few times, and until enough courage is achieved and they will then sight chase the rabbit and in no time they will be tonguing and chasing at the same time.

Another great help in starting the pup is to put his nose into the spot or squat, where the rabbit had been sitting, as there is always a very strong scent here. It is amazing how quickly pups will associate the scent of game with the joy of tonguing and trying to find the pleasure to chase after the object.

The really big thrill comes when the puppy makes his first efforts to run the scent, giving tongue and making progress along the line. All the hard work that went into taking him to bush and getting him in the right position to see the rabbit disappears in those few minutes and makes Beagling the great sport it is. Again, this is where several puppies will help, as they are all eager to get in the act and when one gets the scent usually another will stumble onto it and in no time each one takes its turn finding the trail.

At this point the training then becomes serious and the pups must be taught the right way to search for the line and keep the game moving. Now is the time to introduce the accomplished veteran, preferably one not too competitive or too fast, and one that will not be disturbed by the babbling of the pups around him or her. In many cases, to get the right hound to train pups with is a problem but this must be done in order to give the puppies the encouragement they need to go on and eliminate the mistakes of searching away from where scent was last found or racing too far past where the rabbit turned or trailing the scent backwards. These are the times that can either make the pup a field trial hound or a poor gun dog.

The steady training then must begin and other strange dogs or pups must be put together so that they become familiar to go to one another as they find the scent; it is also advisable, after the pups are able to keep their game moving, to associate the running of the game to the shooting of a gun. At this early a stage rarely, if ever, does a dog become gun-shy, unless they may be highly excitable and this type should never be introduced beyond the house pet stage.

Next comes the Derby Trials which are emphasized more at cottontail trials than on hare. As each club holds a Derby Trial a pup may be entered as many times as the owners wish, up until the time he has been awarded a place, which includes reserve. When all

CANADA'S CHAMPION BREEDER

The writer of this article, Mrs. Natalie Maydanski, is the first recipient of the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy. Her Thor Kennels at Edmonton, Alta. produced the most champions of one breed in the year 1962. Shown above are her five 1962 title winners, all of whom have also earned at least their C.D. in the Obedience ring. They are left to right: Ch. Thor's Medic, CD; Ch. Thor's Nike, CD; Ch. Thor's Jana, CD; Ch. Thor's Hebe, CD; Ch. Thor's Helios, CD, CDX. Training from puppyhood, their owner believes, is the first step toward gaining a championship.

The year-end records at "Thor" showed an increase in performance over the previous year. Seven champions over the 1961 record of six; 11 Companion Dogs over the previous year's nine; three CDX over two. Some Thor's own breeding, some newcomers to improve the breed . . . German Shepherds, of course. I could not accomplish this alone. It is the willingness of this tremendous, understanding breed to please their master, the ease with which they learn, their devotion.

For the past four years I have not had the proper time to devote to my own dogs. I have had too many "other breeds" in for training, too many other things to look after, in addition to starting from scratch on a new acreage. Working with my own breed only as time would allow, I continually felt I was not giving them a fair chance, yet hoping each year to find more time for them. I read about various awards, but gave them little thought, considering it useless even to hope.

Under these circumstances, one can understand that it was more than a surprise, more than a thrill when word arrived that I had won the Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy. I am not ashamed to say tears rolled down my face, not only for joy but in memory of this "great lady" and the work she had done. It brought to memory an incident.

I was travelling on one of the circuits with several dogs, doing well right up to Best of Breed with one dog, when another dog with an obvious fault kept defeating me. When we came to be judged under Mrs. McEachren (my first encounter with her) I was quite dejected. Suddenly my dog got the winning nod. She had caught the fault in the other dog that so many other judges had overlooked. Later she said: "You are doing all right. One day you will reach the top."

To think that I have won her Memorial Trophy — on its first year. The dog Mrs. McEachren put up is the grandsire and great-grandsire of several of the dogs that helped me obtain this trophy. May God bless Eileen McEachren. I will always remember her in prayer.

Although it is hard work to reach the top, it is harder yet to stay there, particularly where breeding is concerned. It takes constant study, constant experimenting. There are continual ups and downs and it is only through faith in God and His help that one may achieve success. One must never allow a failure to disappoint beyond the desire to try again. The only way to have the courage to carry on is the sincere love in these animals, the real desire to produce an animal at its best.

At "Thor", the sale of a puppy is the beginning of a long and lasting friendship. The new owners need coaching and encouragement. Their problems must become your problems. It is like one of the family. As the puppy problems dissolve, training problems arise and new members are back once more for advice.

There are varying age-group training classes at our kennels — the division is canine as well as human. Children come out from far and near during summer vacation to learn to handle their dogs, and later to visit and help in the kennels.

Every kennel has a routine. Briefly, this is "Thor's". The expectant mothers are kept by themselves, taken out for their daily exercise, enjoying their special diets and care. The whelping box is brought in on the 56th or 57th day. All whelping accessories are prepared as soon as the first signs appear. If these signs occur at night, a sleeping bag for myself is brought in. Then, except for special care for the mother and the constant battle of keeping things clean, two weeks of rest follow. Then the fun begins. First one meal a day, gradually increasing to three. Each day after three weeks the puppies are taken out and placed on a crate to become accustomed to being out and handled. The busiest time is between the fifth and sixth week. Everything happens: the weaning, meals increased to four or five, the first worming and the tattooing.

By the time the sixth week flashes by they are graded as to show quality and wear their first collars. Leash breaking is done between the sixth and seventh week and as much additional training from then on as time will allow. Distemper shots follow on the eighth or ninth week, hepatitis shots two weeks later. By the time they are six months old they are ready for the show ring and should be ready for their CD if there has been enough time to train them. If at all possible they are campaigned in breed and obedience at the same time. They ought to get their CD and CDX while they are getting their championship, then enter into Specials while working on their Utility. Every animal is X-rayed before used for breeding. And the cycle begins again.

We cannot over-emphasize the importance of a Thor dog going to a good home. If a puppy is purchased by a show-minded person, it is guaranteed. If, by the time the puppy is a year old, it does not develop as expected, it is replaced and the original returned to Thor where the same care is taken to give it a good home and good human to own. Like people, no two are alike. It is very possible to have a dog and human not compatible, whereas with another human the same dog is one of the best.

I have experienced more ruined dogs brought to me as a result of novice training. Often it is a lack of patience following a truly conscientious start. Perhaps the methods prescribed by one book are not applied correctly and the novice buys another book. Then a friend tells him this is all wrong. Exasperated, he goes to a training class where the trainer tells him still another way. The last resort is a professional trainer. Why must we get them only after all else has failed?

It is quite permissible to have several correct ways of applying training or feeding, whether pet or kennel dog. If advised by a reputable kennel or trainer and the results are satisfactory, there is no need for a change. If the kennel where you purchase your puppy has dogs in good condition as well as puppies, try their method of feeding. But there are always individuals, and where one system works for one type or breed of dog, it might not for another. Then too, the other person just may not have the same touch.

It all boils down to loving and understanding your animal. Receiving that devotion in return is your continuous reward. Winning public awards such as this one this year is the Bonus Reward!●

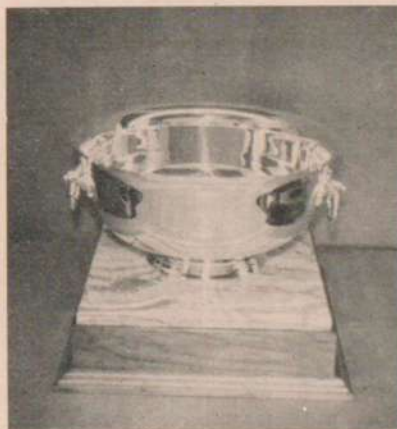

HOW A CHAMPION IS MADE

To gain a Championship degree for your dog, is oftentimes a long, uphill battle.

Just as soon as a puppy is old enough to stand, he should be handled and posed. If this is done regularly you will be pleasantly surprised to see him set himself up in a good stance — and without onerous hours of practice. Lead training should also be started early. Regular grooming and in numerous breeds, trimming, is most important. To learn the correct appearance and methods, the novice should attend as many shows as possible. There is much to observe: how the breed is prepared for the show ring. How the breed is posed and gaited. Show ring procedure. If you're lucky enough to live in an area where handlers' classes are conducted by local kennel clubs, which also hold puppy, picnic, members or sanction matches, make the most of these opportunities. Exhibitors and handlers are usually most helpful.

One of the first requisites is a copy of the Dog Show Rules, obtainable through The Canadian Kennel Club. Here you'll find the blueprint of shows: what class to enter, how to enter, all the regulations.

A book showing the Standard of your breed is an absolute must. Full knowledge of the Standard will help you consider whether or not your dog is of championship material. The ability to recognize the faults in your dog as well as the qualities is a big step on the way to a title. Above all, be patient. Editor.

The Eileen McEachren Memorial Trophy is awarded annually to the Canadian breeder who has bred the greatest number of dogs, in any one breed, which completed their Canadian conformation Championship during the preceding calendar year — regardless of who owns or shows the dogs. Championship points need not have been acquired in their entirety during the year in which the Championship was completed. In case of a tie, the trophy is awarded to the breeder whose champions earned the highest aggregate number of 3 point wins (or better) during the period each champion was campaigned to his Championship.

The Maltese Dog

BY LAURA M. PATON, B.A., D.C.C.

"Frantic letters and phone calls have been received from Maltese breeders requesting something be done about the "under 3 pounds ideal" in the standard. New people interested in purchasing a Maltese write to MANY breeders and do not believe the fact that there are no Maltese under 3 pounds being shown today. When they are advised that a 5 to 6 pound Maltese is the average in the show ring (the exception one top winning dog about 7 pounds), they are amazed and skeptical. Much time is wasted by breeders answering and explaining the situation and by prospective buyers. June 21, '58 the Maltese Dog Club of America sent a letter to the A.K.C. stating that at the meeting held Feb. 10, '58. It was decided to ask the A.K.C. to really consider the following phrases: (a) Under 3 pound ideal (b) Smaller the better (c) Low to the ground and also deep in loins".

The foregoing was copied from Mrs. J. P. Antonelli's column in Popular Dogs December, 1959. It is but a representative sample of the text of the main theme of American writings that I have been able to collect in the past seven years, vainly regretting and criticising their own accepted standard. Nor are the anomalies mentioned in the letter to the AKC the only anomalies in their standard.

It would appear from Mrs. Virginia T. Leitch's book, The Maltese Dog, that the American Standard was formulated on the strength of some very ancient accounts set down by notable historians of earliest times, who spoke of a small dog "the size of a ferret", found on the island of Melita (the ancient name for Malta) and in great demand throughout the then civilized world. The American breeders with the lofty desire to reproduce today's Maltese in the exact form it existed thousands of years ago, it would now appear, overemphasized size to the detriment of perhaps more important considerations. Of what value is any one exemplary characteristic if it in itself promises the breed nothing but extinction?

In evolving their standard the Americans took various wrong turns which they now deeply regret. In the first place, in ancient times there is written evidence to show that there existed simultaneously at least two islands in the Mediterranean named Melita, or "Beautiful Isle" and from the conflicting reports on the typical original Maltese, we can reasonably conclude that each had its small dog of somewhat different characteristics. There were a number of indigenous dogs considered the typical breed of the island—the Bichon, the Shock Dog, etc.—the latter Mrs. Leitch believes to be the ancestor of the Maltese of today and which was even then the size of a Miniature Poodle. Nor has it been definitely established that the tiny dog so prized in early times was actually the Maltese as we know it today. The early accounts speak of them being more frequently reddish or black than white, and during one period the blacks were the most highly prized. It is the opinion of the Hon. Mrs. Neville Lytton in her book, Toy Dogs and Their Ancestors, the original dog of the Malta of today was the Pomeranian, which she insists on designating as the "Melitaie". Indeed, the fact that they were reported to have prick ears and Pomeranian colors in these early times would seem to substantiate her contentions. The Maltese as we think of it today she believed to be a cross between this indigenous Pom (Melitaie) and a red and white variety of Chinese dog imported to Italy in Roman times, and similar to the King Charles Spaniel. It seems to many now that the greatest mistake made in the American standard was overlooking the fact that the ancient writers who describe this dog as the "size of a ferret" also pointed out that the "bitches die suddenly when they bear puppies more than once" and frequently at their first whelping. The American Maltese breeders have thus placed themselves in the paradoxical position whereby if they attempt to conform to their own standard they immediately commit breed "hari-kari".

The most successful Maltese judges in the United States, whether they realize it or not, judge Maltese not by their own American standard but by the British standard, and due to their foresight and fortitude the Maltese dog has been able to not only survive on this continent but to flourish. We owe these courageous judges a great debt of gratitude; but for them we would still be discarding our best specimens and saving the runts of the litters.

On the other hand the Maltese fancy in Britain have encountered no such difficulties. The British have always been followers of the Middle Way and have avoided all extremes. They have survived and flourished while others who overshot the mark have gained only oblivion. I have it on several excellent authorities that the British Maltese are still top quality in world Maltese, today.

On the island of Malta itself they tell me there are only 12 Maltese dogs left and these ironically enough are all owned by one person and stem from a pair imported in 1949 from England.

In Italy the story is the same. The most active and most successful breeder there for the last more than 20 years, Nadya Colombo of Milano, (Electa Kennels), developed her famous dogs also from English bloodlines.

In retrospect then, I feel that we of the Maltese fancy in Canada are in an extremely enviable position. We have evolved no Canadian standard as yet for our Maltese and can still follow and adopt the standard of any country we wish. Nor does it follow that because we live on this continent we must accept the standards laid down by the United States, especially when they are more than willing to admit they blundered in their Maltese standard. We should therefore, take advantage of the opportunity to profit by the mistakes of other countries and thus surmount them and, as it were, "reach heaven at a single bound". If the countries like Malta herself, and Italy, the countries who were closer in time and geography to the original Maltese dog, bred their own dogs into extinction and had to start afresh with British bloodlines, why should we not start from there by adopting the British standard at the outset and share in the overwhelming breed success Britain has enjoyed for over a century?

You might well ask what is this standard that has made the British Maltese dog so outstanding. Here it is in full as compiled in Theo Marples book of British standards, (and published by Our Dogs, Manchester, England):

"The Maltese as its name implies, is undoubtedly a native of the island of Malta, the well-known British possession in the Mediterranean. Dr. Johannes Caius, a very ancient writer, describes them as a Toy Spaniel. He says: "They are called Melitaie, of the Island of Malta". Strabo, one of the earliest writers, ascribes their origin not to Malta, but to a town in Sicily called Melita, and states they were the particular favorites of women."

"The Maltese is a very ancient breed, and has been kept in purity for centuries. In Malta, Greece, and Italy the breed abounds, many of the specimens being colored. Fawn-coloured specimens which are shaved like a Poodle, and described as the "Lion" dogs of Malta, are often exhibited at continental shows, and occasionally in England. We in England, however, nowadays really recognise only the pure-white specimens. In character the breed partakes of both the Terrier and the King Charles Spaniel, and that is probably why some writers ally them with one and some to the other. The Kennel Club recognised neither, but simply placed the Maltese on the lists as "Maltese", whilst by their size they also come under the category of a "Toy" Dog."

"Maltese have been exhibited in England at the very earliest exhibitions, and whilst most other breeds have undergone a metamorphosis at the hands of the enterprising fancier the Maltese has remained the same, being today in size, type, coat and general characteristics exactly what it was when first exhibited on the English show bench."

"The breed is a very handsome one, and one that breeds to type without any difficulty. Of course, coloured spots and pink noses keep cropping up, but all such marked puppies ought to be drowned. The chief features to be aimed at are: Diminutiveness, purity, and straightness and quantity of coat. Black noses and black rimmed eyelashes are essential. The head should resemble that of a Skye Terrier in miniature, the ears should drop at the side of the head and be covered with a profusion of hair, extending all over the head (forming a "fall") and body. Indeed, the dog should be literally buried in pure-white spotless hair of great quality. Legginess is another fault; the dog should be on short legs, quite straight in front, and the body should be moderately short. Many Maltese are somewhat long in body, which is not desirable. The tail should curl on the back, and be covered with long hair. The coat of the Maltese, like that of the Yorkshire Terrier, is parted down the centre of the back, extending to the forehead and fall. The Maltese requires, like all long-haired dogs, considerable attention to its toilette — washing and grooming frequently, and particularly the day before going to a show. They should be dried quickly, being combed the while."

"In selecting Maltese puppies at from two to four months old, those are likely to make the best dogs which are the smallest (not weaklings), possess most coat, shortest bodies, and shortest legs."

"The following is a scale of points as a guide to the judging of the Maltese:—

Head	5	Coat (texture & length)	20
Ears	5	Colour	15
Eyes	5	Condition & appearance	10
Nose	5	Size	10
Legs and feet	5
Body and shape	10
Tail	10
Total			100

The standard description of the Maltese is as follows:—

CHARACTERISTICS—Sweet tempered and very intelligent.

GENERAL APPEARANCE—Should be of a sharp terrier appearance, with a lively action; the coat should not be stained but should be well groomed and long and silky.

HEAD AND SKULL—Head should not be too narrow, but should be of a Terrier shape, not too long, but not apple-headed. Nose should be pure black.

EYES—Should be a dark brown, with black eye rims, but not too far apart.

EARS—Should be long and well feathered and hanging close to the side of the head, the hair to be mingled with the coat at the shoulders.

MOUTH—Level, with terrier bite (scissor bite).

NECK—Of medium length—set on well sloped shoulders.

FOREQUARTERS—Legs should be short and straight. Shoulders well sloped.

BODY—Should be short and cobby, low to the ground, and the back should be straight from the top of the shoulders to the tail.

HINDQUARTERS—Legs should be short and nicely angulated.

FEET—Should be round, and the pads of the feet should be black.

TAIL—Should be well arched over the back and feathered.

COAT—Should be a good length, the longer the better, of a silky texture, not in any way woolly, and should be straight.

COLOUR—Any self colour is permissible, but it is desirable that they should be pure-white; slight lemon marks should not penalise.

WEIGHT AND SIZE—The most approved weights should be from 4 to 9 pounds, the smaller the better, but it is desirable that they should not exceed 10 pounds.

FAULTS—Bad mouth, over or undershot, gay tail, curly or woolly coat, brown nose, pink eyerims, unsound in any way."

To round this out into a more complete understanding of the Maltese I have asked the publishers of this magazine to include a picture copied from Mrs. Virginia T. Leitch's "The Maltese Dog", showing a perfect type Maltese with its coat completely stripped off. To anyone not having seen this picture before, or having the idea that the Maltese body is similar to that of the Chihuahua, it will come as a great revelation. The salient points which it shows so well are as follows:

- (1) The well sloped shoulders which means in any creature with such shoulders it must toe out. In the case of the Maltese one can readily see that to be correct it must toe out in the back quarters as well as in front.

Mrs. Romaine Jones, well-known sled-dog racing enthusiast and judge, is also a successful Samoyed breeder, with kennels and farm at Sutton, Que. Here she interviews Dr. Roland Lombard, famous racer and veterinarian; Bob Lacourse, noted bicycle and sled dog racer; Dr. Jim Corbin, head of the Ralston Purina Dog Research Centre, and Frank Peck.

Dr. Lombard, have you ever heard of wolves being used as sled dogs?

Yes, I've talked to many people in Alaska and their stories are very interesting. Wolf teams were used for freight at one time but were very unpredictable. The team might go two miles then quit or they might keep going for 50 miles with no trouble at all but the driver had little or no control over the team. Some men had results with quarter or half bred teams but mostly these dogs had the cunning of the wolf and the viciousness of the dogs. The best results were from the sixteenth or thirty-secondth part breeding.

It must have been a job to harness the wolves.

Yes, but they had a system. The wolves were kept chained and when needed were caught by a loop slipped over their heads on the end of a pole. Then the harness was put on. Those wolves never overcame their suspicion and fear of men. One interesting thing about the instincts of wolves that has been observed from the air is their means of travel through deep snow. They would string out in line and when the leader tired he moved to one side and dropped to the back of the line and the wolf who had been directly behind him when he was leading the pack would take over and break trail. In this way they could keep going for mile after mile. I am convinced that this manoeuvre is an instinctive one and not the result of thought as it is too mechanized.

Doctor, a dog's mentality is different from the wolf, as we know. When you plan to use your dog or dogs for racing, how can you bring out the best in them? Personally, I prefer to be as close to my dogs as possible in order to bring out as much intelligence as they possess. Where a dog has only to figure the best way to get game he improves and develops his instincts but his reasoning powers are best developed when he is under the same pressures in life as his owner. The better he knows and loves his owner the harder he will try to please him. My dogs are disciplined but I never give an unnecessary order. If, by chance, I do, I insist that the dog carries out the order. The one time that discipline is absolutely necessary is in the matter of fighting. You cannot drive 11 or 12 dogs and allow such a thing to happen.

Doctor, at what age can you estimate the future speed of a puppy?

I can tell by the time a puppy is four months old whether he will be fast enough for the team or not.

At what age do you put a dog in your racing team?

I put them in the team at a year if they have the necessary speed and stamina. I have two first-year dogs in my team now and they are well over the hump. They are proving themselves and will probably run in the team next year. My Siberian "Toke" has been on the team for five years and he will probably run again next year.

Doctor, do you drive bitches when they're in season?

Yes, I do.

How do you manage that?

Well, we just do. The dogs love to run. I have seven bitches in my team right now, not in season, but they will be.

Can you take a work dog from Alaska and race it?

Yes, it makes no difference whether it is hard muscled from work or not as long as it has the speed.

What is the breeding back of these Alaskan Huskies?

About 80% Siberian Husky and 20% Alaskan Malamute.

How many dogs do you have in your kennel at present?

We have 35 dogs plus ten puppies and some old dogs that my wife won't part with.

Doctor, do you have any problems with jealousy among your dogs?

Yes. I have an old dog in the house who can't run any more and when I go out walking the young dogs he usually finds a way to get even with me. He usually finds something that I value and chews it up a bit. At any rate, when I get home I know I'm in disgrace.

Old dogs are nice, aren't they?

I love old dogs. In my veterinary practice I would rather prolong the life of an old dog for six months than save a puppy. When people lose an old dog they have lost a member of the family and it is never easy for them.

2 Interview with Bob Lacourse

Bon Soir, Bob. You're looking as happy as ever. How can you feel this way when your dogs aren't beating the top teams?

Oh, Madame, that's not hard. It is the best sport in the world. To work with dogs and be out all winter is good. It keeps the doctor away. Don't you worry, Madame. I just start this sport. Everyone has to start sometime and we can't get much worse so we get better, eh? When I first start to ride the six-day bicycle races I am always last and I think this guy Torchy Peden and Henri Bedard are too good for me but I try and I keep trying and one fine day I beat them. So, you see, one day I beat these big dog drivers and that will be good, eh?

Yes, and I'm sure you'll make it. But, Bob, you love your dogs and spend a lot of your time with them. How does your wife feel about it?

Oh, my wife loves the dogs. You see her in the dog show Friday night? She shows one of her dogs. My small boy loves the dogs, too. Perhaps, my wife knows if I don't drive the dogs I might be a bad boy.

Now, do you really think you are the type to be a bad boy?

No, Madame, not THAT type of bad boy. By bad boy, I mean to spend time at the drug store and the pool-hall and then to sit and watch TV and get soft and fat. Time goes by and nothing is done.

Well, I must say, you aren't likely to develop ulcers with this approach to the sport of dog driving.

No. It is a good life and the dogs, they like it. They are happy and my family, too.

3 Interview with driver Jim Corbin

Dr. Corbin, now that the race is over, what did you think of it?

I think sled dog racing is the most exciting sport in the world. I wouldn't have missed it for anything.

And what do you think of these sled dogs?

I think these dogs are wonderful. They are submitted to the most gruelling test that could be put to them under conditions where they are working for the sheer joy and love of working. I just can't say enough about them.

They have tremendous heart, don't they?

In my opinion, they expend more energy than any other breed of dog over 15 or 20 mile course. Next to the sled dogs would be the Greyhound but he only runs a three-eighths mile course. This course calls for a great burst of speed but he doesn't have the staying power or the stamina of the sled dog.

What about all the other dogs who work?

are in a different class for they can, to some extent, pace themselves in their work and ration their energy over a longer period.

Doctor, to the layman these dogs look pretty lean. What do you think of their condition?

I am very impressed by the top physical conditioning of these dogs and by the men who work them and handle them.

Doctor, what primarily is the work you do at your research centre?

We work on dog nutrition to make the best possible ration to include proteins, nitrogens and minerals in order to help dogs in their life's work and to prolong their lives. At present we have 500 dogs in our kennels and last year we had 722 puppies. Included in these kennels are 18 different breeds of dogs. We are very interested in Greyhounds as Clay Centre and Abilene are the Greyhound centres of North America and thousands of dollars are invested by Greyhound breeders in these areas and many hundreds of pups are born each year.

Nutrition for these pups must be a very important factor in their future as racing dogs.

It is, and for all breeds. American pediatricians say that puppies are better fed than American children.

Do you think the time will come when we will have puppy pediatricians?

I don't see why not. We already have some great veterinarians specializing in brain, heart and bone surgery.

Doctor, are you doing any special research other than your nutritional work at present?

Yes, indeed we are; we have just built some new environmental labs to house dogs and puppies. Our research will be on the effects of temperature on coats and on reproduction in dogs.

Now, tell us, would you like to have a team of sled dogs?

I sure would. There's nothing I'd like better. I've taken rolls and rolls of film and when I get home and my children see the sled dogs I know they'll want to make harness for their Labradors. I'm looking forward to having lots of fun with them and, if possible, I'll be back next year.

4 Interview with Frank Peck

Frank, how did you first get interested in Alaskan Malamutes?

Well, we got our first dog—he was a mongrel dog—when my wife and I first moved to the country. She wanted a dog to keep her company when I was at work and we had him for awhile and then he was killed. We felt real bad. I didn't know you could feel that way about a dog so one day we saw an ad in the paper for a litter of Alaskan Malamutes. When I was a kid I read stories about Alaska and the Gold Rush days and it all seemed so romantic so my wife and I decided to go and see this litter. That did it. We fell in love with the breed and brought one home.

Frank, I have an idea you're a little soft in the head about your dogs.

I guess so. They sure get away with murder. But I don't like to see a dog mistreated. I sold a puppy to a man once and heard he wasn't using it well so I went to his house. I slapped the money he'd paid for it on his kitchen table and no damned talk about it either. I just took the puppy home.

But, Frank, in spite of being soft with them, I thought you were pretty annoyed when your team loafed around the course today.

I wasn't annoyed. I was just plain mad. I know they can run because they equalled the time for Dr. Lombard's team over four miles of the course last Thursday.

Yes, but then you got back to the truck and started calling them names they didn't seem to mind at all. The tail waving and happy smiles made me think they were having a ball.

Well, sure they were, and that made me even madder. They got away with murder today and they knew it. Just wait till next year. I know they can run. They do it at home in our local races and they can do it here.

Perhaps it would help if they weren't in such beautiful, fat show condition.

Well, I'll tell you one thing. I decided today that they won't get any more ice cream cones and that's for damned sure.

sled dogs in the show ring

BY E. B. "TIM" REID

The place — the lovely, rambling La Marquise Inn in beautiful Ste Agathe des Monts in the Laurentian highlands of Quebec.

The event — the Laurentian Sled Dog Club's annual dog derby and specialty show for sled dogs — Samoyeds, Siberian Huskies and Alaskan Malamutes.

To be invited to judge the specialty I regarded as a compliment, for these sled dog people know their dogs and they are not ones to be fooled by grooming and presentation. So to me, the invitation to judge the dogs was a challenge.

This year's entry totalled 28 with the big entry Samoyeds. The sled dog drivers themselves are still a bit hesitant about entering their racing dogs in a conformation show, but club officials say that the interest is growing. In this year's show a reasonable proportion of the Siberians and the Malamutes were actually racing dogs. Club officials hope the proportion will grow.

While I found my Best in Show in Romaine Jones' Samoyed, Ch. Frosty Ledge's Nigannimush, a beautiful example of his breed, I was agreeably surprised by the quality of the Siberians particularly that came in from the dog teams and that were to race the next day.

Best of breed of the Siberians was Ch. Sargo of Seppala 2nd owned by J. M. McDougall. This one had spent the whole of the 1962-1963 racing season in harness and was a perfect answer to those who say a dog that does the job it was bred for cannot win in a conformation show. His racing had made him trail hard and this, added to the way he was made and his typical Siberian quality, made him a real contender for top honors against the Samoyed.

I was a little disappointed in the Alaskan Malamutes, not because of their

VANCOUVER ISLAND DOG FANCIERS' ASSOCIATION

The Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association held its annual meeting on December 5. The following officers were elected: President, Ron Sless; 1st Vice President, Miss V. Lyne; 2nd Vice-President, John McCoy; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. D. Anderson; Bench show chairman, H. Lindsay Beaman.

Mrs. E. L. Webb, who has been Secretary for the last 13 years, decided to retire from office. She reports having enjoyed, not only every minute of the time, but also the wonderful people she has met. Mr. and Mrs. Webb, in appreciation of their long and untiring service, were honored by a life membership in the club. The award took the form of a framed certificate which was presented by the President, George Donaldson, at the Annual banquet. This was attended by 79 people, and was held at the Chez Marcel on December 7. The door prize was won by Dr. Ray Cranston, and a lovely quilt, made and donated by Mrs. Whitehead, was raffled and won by a lucky visitor.

GREATER VICTORIA DOG OBEDIENCE TRAINING CLUB

Mrs. D. B. Hudson, Secretary of the Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club, sends an interesting report of their end-of-year festivities. The general meeting on December 14 was followed by a Xmas party for owners and other dogs. The tree was hung with little glass bells from which hung stamp-sized pictures of the breed of each dog. Honored guests of the party were two dogs who have recently completed U.D. degrees. They were Labrador Ch. Mossbanks Merry Majorette owned by Mrs. Bates and Boston Terrier Bhilwara Feelahen owned by Mrs. V. McLaughlin. Mrs. N. Abkhazi presented a golden medallion to each dog and a cup and the club's certificate of merit to each owner. The work and time spent to achieve a U.D. degree seemed very worthwhile.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hudson were given life memberships in the club and a scroll honoring them for starting the club 16 years ago. Special mention was made of their Keeshond, Ch. Oakcrest Pantoffel U.D., who was the first Keeshond in the West to win his U.D. in 1951. His top score of 199 was won under Mr. Roy Hatfield.

Mr. O. Roberts showed a delightful film taken during their holidays. Included were pictures of their Corgis taken at shows and a group of Corgis romping on the beach and over the rocks.

Christmas refreshments, organized by Mrs. S. Macro, ended a very enjoyable evening for the 50 members present.

MINIATURE DACHSHUND CLUB OF CANADA

From Mrs. Kitty Wake of Victoria, Secretary of the Miniature Dachshund Club of Canada, comes news of the winner of the Canada Annual Trophy. Last year's runner-up, Ch. Garner's Little Nicky M., owned by Mrs. F. Bodrug, outdistanced the field with a score of 34 points. This wonderful lead was the result of taking a Best in Show at the Thunder Bay Kennel Club. This is really outstanding as so few of the "wee beasties" achieve this distinction in Canada. In second place is Dr. and Mrs. H. Walker's Miniature Smooth, Nordakora Cherokee, with 10 points while in a third place tie is Mrs. V. C. A. McLaughlin's Bhilwara Merry Velvet Blue Tit and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher's Lo-Dachs Wee Hansel M with five points each. Congratulations to them all.

Mrs. Wake also reports the death, at the age of seven, of her Little Peter Pan bred by Agness Hammond. Peter had the distinction of being Canada's first Miniature Dachshund to achieve his CD degree in Obedience. A wonderful little dog, gay, loyal and in perfect health up to the end.

BANNER YEAR FOR WYCLIFFE

Mrs. Jean Lyle reports on a banner year for Wycliffe poodles. Some of the highlights are as follows:

"The total of 'Wycliffe champions' has swept to 40, with 11 new championships being won during the year by Am. Ch. Wycliffe Theodore, C. D., Am. Ch. Wycliffe Twinkling Tiara, C. D., Am. Ch. Wycliffe Vanessa, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Veronica, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Xavier, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Zoe, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Gabriel of Belle Glen, Am. and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Victoria of Acadia, Can. Ch. Wycliffe Theresa, Can. Ch. Wycliffe Unona, U. D. T., and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Xychus, C. D.

"Am. and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Jacqueline, Am. U. D., Can. U. D. T. has far outstripped her nearest rival (her mother with nine) as top producing Poodle dam, with 20 finished champions of the total of 41 puppies which she bore — as far as we know this is a record for all breeds! Am. and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Nicola, C. D. X. reached the top-producing dam list this year with four finished champion children.

"Am. and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Thomas has become a sire of much importance with a total of 11 champions, his eight new ones during 1962 being Am. Ch. Lady Margaret of Belle Glen, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Gabriel of Belle Glen, Am. Ch. Acadia Barbara Beloved, Am. Ch. Acadia Boulet, Am. Ch. Loribon Canadian Caper, Am. Ch. Dalwynne Larissa, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Zoe, and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Unona, U. D. T. Am. Ch. Wycliffe Timothy has become a top producing sire with six champions, his 1962 ones being Am. Ch. Wycliffe Vanessa, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Veronica, Am. Ch. Wycliffe Xavier, and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Xychus, C. D.

"Bests in Show were won by three Wycliffe dogs or Wycliffe descended dogs, Am. and Can. Ch. Wycliffe Thomas winning an unbelievable four during the year to bring his total Best in Show to seven, Ch. Wycliffe Virgil winning one, and Can. Ch. T-Bar-U Mischievous Michael (Ch. Wycliffe Nigel ex Ch. Wycliffe Incredible Imogene) winning one. In addition a Best Canadian Bred Dog in Show award was won by Ch. Wycliffe Theresa, as well as three such awards for Thomas and three such awards for Michael."

Mrs. Lyle has accumulated and organized a tremendous amount of material with regard to the records of Wycliffe Poodles. It should be of great interest and help to all interested breeders.

Perhaps those who wish further details would write to Mrs. Lyle at 1709 Acadia Rd., Vancouver 8, B.C.

SYMPATHY IS EXTENDED

A letter from Mrs. H. Bishop of the Totem Kennels, Alberni proved rather nostalgic to your correspondent as she mentioned being a nurse at a veterinary hospital years ago when my Can. Am. Ch. Taunton Brigadier was alive and visiting there.

Mrs. Bishop reports an unfortunate aftermath of typhoon Frieda. The Samoyed dogs, the sheep and the goats weathered the storm well but later, while the Bishops were helping a neighbour stem an overflowing creek, the dogs found a hole in the fence, made by a huge cedar felled by Frieda, and escaped. Dawn and Champ Nanook were on the logging road and the latter had been hit. Nanook after only three lessons, had entered the Inter-Island Club's obedience shows, taken the highest out-of-town Novice A, followed the next week by highest scoring dog Novice A: a real combination of beauty and brains.

Best wishes for your recovery Nanook.

ALBERNI DISTRICT DOG OBEDIENCE CLUB

The club finished the fall classes with a Mock Trial and Christmas party. The New Year's commenced January 14 with Mrs. Bev. Kirkman in charge.

THE COASTAL CANINE ACADEMY

The Academy held the graduation of its autumn class on November 20. Mrs. Pam Arthur, the judge, awarded the trophy to Mr. Springenatic and his German Shepherd.

A mock trial, judged by Miss Powell and Mr. Joe Gilbert, was held in Vancouver on November 23 from 8.00 to 10.30 p.m. There were 27 dogs present and the trial proved an excellent opportunity to correct ring problems.

The annual Christmas party was held at the Royal Towers Hotel in New Westminster on December 1. Twenty-eight members enjoyed the games, dancing and buffet supper. After supper trophies were given to members whose dogs had won degrees during the year. Mrs. Luke's German Shepherd, "Susie", won a C.D. and a T.D. Joan Williams' Keeshond, "Pixie", Jenny Anson's Whippet, "Kelly", John Service's "Prince", and Don Holland's Golden Retriever, "Rusty", all won C.D.'s. Susan Holland drew the number for the door prize, pulled her own ticket, and received the prize. Mrs. Whitton, club secretary, sent pictures of the winners and of the trophy table, but unfortunately they are not clear enough for publication.

A December trial was held in Richmond with the following results; Mrs. Luke's Shepherd, "Susie", completed her C.D.X. and tied for highest scoring dog. Mrs. Arthur's Whippet, "Pickles", gained another leg of her C.D. Mrs. Lord's Dachshund, "Queenie", received the first leg of her C.D. Mrs. Whitton completed the C.D. of her Bouvier, "Boris" — a particularly pleasing accomplishment as he was paralyzed last spring as a result of a back injury, and has only recently returned to the ring.

Winter classes commenced on January 15 with a lecture by Ben Taylor. Twenty-two dogs were enrolled in two fall beginner's classes. Seven club members are working on C.D.X. and U.D. degrees.

Mrs. Barbara Webster (Urray Kennels) spent some time in hospital after a car accident on the icy roads. Her dog classes for the Langley School Board were taken over by Mrs. Whitton. Glad to hear that Mrs. Webster is now recovered and feeling much better.

The Coastal Canine Academy has donated a trophy for the highest scoring dog to the Kiwanis Dog Show to be held in April.

The next training course for this club will commence on March 19. Beginners are advised to make early application as accommodation is limited.

If your correspondent had to award a prize to the most faithful contributor to this column, it would go to the secretary of the Coastal Canine Academy.

ALBERTA

News from Alberta comes from the Lethbridge and District Kennel Club whose Secretary, Mrs. Frances Hoye, reports that this enthusiastic year-old club held their first and very successful Sanction Show on October 13 with Best In Show awarded to the 11 month old Shetland Sheepdog Doren Dell, owned by William Lang, President of the Alberta K.C. in Calgary. Novice A in Obedience was won by Joan Deeken's German Shepherd, Karo 11, and Novice B was won by Jack Anderson's Doberman Pinscher, Humoresque, from Calgary. This was the first dog show held in Lethbridge since 1933 and this club hopes to hold their second Sanction Show as soon as possible. In December, at their first annual meeting, the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Steve Wild; Vice-President, Mr. Hugh Reid of Taber; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Frances Hoye. The President reported on their first year's membership of 34, three 10-week beginner's classes in Obedience with 36 dogs enrolled, the Sanction Show, and the posting of a reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons responsible for the poisoning of many dogs in the area. Mrs. Joan Deeken was presented with a gift from the club in recognition of her two C.D. achievements during the year. An excellent beginning, Lethbridge, and good luck with further projects.

Mr. E. A. Moore, Calgary, reports for the German Shepherd Dog Club Of Alberta that with temperatures running from zero to 35 below, driven through the thermal underwear by winds gusting to 50 miles per hour, the German Shepherd Dog news and activities around Calgary, the Stampede City in sunny Alberta, are just as frigid as the banks of snow nature has wrapped them in. Officers for 1963 are: President George Kuss; Vice President, E. Corbett; Secretary, Mike Stoochnoff; Treasurer, Pat Mattei; Directors, Mike Stoochnoff, Pat Mattei, Paul Kussman, Horst Keller, and Elmer Moore. The first German Shepherd import, brought into this area from Germany by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Rola vom Auerberg, has produced a litter, sired in Germany by Jalk von Hannastein, of the quality hoped for from planned breeding principles. Mr. Corbett, through contacts in Germany established by Horst Keller, has imported two German Shepherds. The bitch, Natja aus der Kueckstrasse, is a full sister to Mutz aus der Kueckstrasse, the 1962 Sieger; and the dog, Ulbert vom Elbbachtal, is sired by Caesar V. D. Maelmannsheide, one of Germany's outstanding producers of dominance in type. The pedigrees of these dogs go back to such famous dogs as Rolf V. Osna-brueckerland, Billo V. Oberviehland, and Condor V. Hohenstamm, the 1958 Sieger. With the introduction of these bloodlines direct from Germany, the German Shepherd breeders in this area hope that Western Canada will soon be able to hold its own in any German Shepherd competition in Canada.

SASKATCHEWAN

William Dawson, Saskatchewan Director, reports that in November he and Mr. Dewhurst of the Prince Albert Kennel Club travelled to North Battleford to address a group of dog lovers there. After talking to the group on CKC affairs, dog shows, obedience work and field trials, Mr. Dawson showed a film on Obedience and gave a demonstration of Utility work with one of his own dogs. The enthusiasm and interest shown by the group was most heartening and we will hope to hear of the formation of a club in North Battleford in the near future.

The annual meeting of the Moose Jaw Kennel and Obedience Club, held in November, elected the following officers: President, Mr. W. W. Riome; Vice-President, Mr. Patrick Murphy; Secretary, Mrs. Mary Miller; Executive Committee, Mr. George Miller, Mrs. H. Zumstein, Mrs. H. Bidewell, Mr. J. Schaan, Mrs. J. Schaan, Mrs. H. Murphy, A Publicity Committee was elected consisting of Mrs. H. Bidewell and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schaan to see that the general public gets more information on the club's activities. Mrs. Bidewell reports the loss to the club, through a transfer with the R.C.A.F. to another base in Saskatchewan, of two active helpers, Mr. and Mrs. Andy L'Heureux, with their Chihuahuas. We are very sorry to hear of Mary Miller's loss of two young Pekingese during the recent spell of severe cold and strong winds which caused a down draft of deadly gas fumes in the kennels. This is a great loss to Mary as she was planning to show these dogs on the Spring circuit. Obedience training classes for Moose Jaw have been in the capable hands of Mrs. Hilda Murphy. She conducted fall classes with an entry of 12. Graduation exercises were judged by Mrs. E. Pawson of Regina. With 10 entered, seven were successful, Senior Trophy going to Mr. R. Andrew's German Shepherd and Junior Trophy to Mrs. Dowden's Dachshund. Further classes will be held this spring and if Mrs. Murphy's own dogs are an example of her work, we will expect to see entries with excellent ring manners from the Moose Jaw area. Mrs. Murphy's Rough Collie, "Ch. Clareton's Copper Glow", which has had many Group wins in Western Canada is now on the way to his American Championship with a Best of Breed in an entry of 24, including four Specials, and a 3rd in Group under Mrs. Marie Meyer, and a Best of Winners in an entry of 25 under Melbourne Downing. These wins do not surprise me. Copper Glow is an outstanding specimen of his breed — one of those rare GOOD movers. Mrs. Murphy reports that she has imported a silver Miniature Poodle from England for her daughter who has taken a keen interest in this breed ever since Hans Brunotte, well-known handler and Poodle breeder from Ontario, let her handle his Pood-hall Bandoola in Junior Showmanship at last spring's Moose Jaw show. Mrs. Hettie Bidewell reports good progress with her kennels and in enquiries about her Nova Scotia Duck Tolling Retrievers a rare breed in these parts.

MANITOBA

This month we welcome another young club to this column. Mrs. Murray, reporting for the Portage La Prairie Kennel Club, tells us that officers for the year are: Hon. President, Mr. C. P. Stewart; President, Mrs. Adelaide Stevenson; Vice-President, Mr. Orval Fenner; Secretary, Mrs. E. S. Murray; Treasurer, Mrs. Audrey Healy; Public Relations Officer, Bill Linden. Obedience training classes are held weekly under the direction of Bill Linden. This club sponsored a float in the Santa Claus parade and awarded a prize for the best decorated dog. They have held their two required Sanction Shows and are holding their first Championship show in May, following the two Fort Garry K.C. shows in Winnipeg. I am sure it will be a great success judging by their enthusiasm, tempered with caution, to date.

There is so much good news, good humour and good food for thought reported in the Gateway City Obedience Training Club (Winnipeg) monthly Newsletter that it is difficult to pick out the highlights. Graduation night in November saw 23 in Beginners and 12 in Novice graduate. Over the years Gateway has trained over 1,000 people to train their dogs. Winter classes are by now well on to completion under the guidance of Gordon Ashcroft as usual, with the thought always in mind that with the rapid growth of Winnipeg and ever increasing restrictions, owners more and more are faced with the fact that a controlled dog is a must, and a happier dog as well. The Gateway Demonstration Team which includes Avis McLeod, Becky Hawley, Rupert Shriar, Bill Fiedler, Grace Ann Penno, Marion King and Joan Lawrence, gave a display, with Doug Lawrence as MC, at HMS Chippewa in January, followed by a film showing how the blind are taught to handle their Seeing-Eye dogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

der Bay Kennel and Training Club, Fort William, visited the Monkman family in Winnipeg early in the year. Mary Avent and husband Dave, formerly of Winnipeg, plus two German Shepherds, had Christmas dinner in Winnipeg with Marion and Al King en route from Dartmouth, N.S., to their new home in British Columbia. Mary Johns, obedience instructor from Hamilton, also visited with Gateway club members in Winnipeg recently.

A note from the Vernon and District Kennel Club in British Columbia asking for assistance in extending their mailing list with the opening of the Rogers Pass, gives me hope that the future will see more and more interchange of exhibitors between the provinces in Western Canada.

ontario

VINA JONES, R.R. #2, Minesing, Ont., Labrador breeder and exhibitor, valuable contributor to dog club, humane, first aid, other club work.

Now that the holiday season is over we hope we can get club news up to date. With the February issue being the Souvenir issue, with no club news included, I have combined the news for February and March.

ALL TERRIER CLUB OF CANADA

The club had a very interesting night when Mr. Tom Adams visited the club and answered questions pertaining to registration of dogs, both homebred and imported, leasing of dogs and other situations which the CKC have control over. An executive meeting was held in February, during which anatomy of the dog was under discussion. All educational meetings are open to anyone interested in attending.

The McFarlanes (Badenock Cairns) had an upsetting situation crop up at their kennels when a rabid coon appeared. Luckily, Mrs. Mac saw it and called the police who were able to dispose of the culprit before any damage was done.

An informal get-together in December finished off the year for the club and the annual meeting in January got them off to a fresh start with Mr. John Declin being returned to office as President. Mr. Ross Pirrie was returned as 1st Vice-President and Mrs. Thelma Adams is the new 2nd Vice-President. Mrs. Elsie Betts will act as Secretary and Mr. James McFarlane as Treasurer for a second term.

Judges have been selected and approved for the Booster Show to be held the last day of the Sportsmen's Show, the Specialty Show in May and also the Puppy Sweepstake judge for the Specialty Show. The club is happy to announce that The West Highland White Terrier Club will join them at their Specialty and will have their own judge, providing extra points for the Westies.

A Welsh Terrier, Tyrone Griffith, owned by Mrs. J. McLeod of North Vancouver, B.C. won the first Annual Obedience trophy for 1962. The two runners up were just one point behind the winner. Another Welsh Terrier, Ch. Wil-Wag's Drop of Brandy, received the trophy for top scoring dog at the North York Obedience Club's Fall graduation.

Several club members have enjoyed holidays in the sunny south.

Mrs. Thelma Adams and the McFarlane have had very nice wins in the U.S.A. and the McFarlane's now have one of their Cairns in England. Ch. Badenoch Echo is, of course, in quarantine but will be out in May, in time for a few of the English shows.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaye's Westie, Ch. Dina-Ken's Little Pip, in addition to winning the Daniell-Jenkins-Jeudwine Trophy for the Westie of the year, has now been awarded the Ken-L Ration award for the second consecutive year (this being for the Mid-Eastern Division, All Breeds). Much credit must be given to this outstanding little bitch who has also found time to whelp three litters during her short but busy career. The Kaye's must be very proud of her as the All Terrier Club is of them. It's an honor to any club to have such people as members.

BARRIE-HURONIA OBEDIENCE CLUB

The club reports a full calendar is planned for the coming term. New training classes will commence in May at the home of the President, Mrs. Rosalie Harvie. Mrs. Harvie and her Corgi, Rusty, presented the Retarded Children's Association with a cheque for $25.00 on behalf of the club.

BARRIE KENNEL CLUB

The club was busy during January with preparations for its Sanction Show (which was held January 27 and which was very successful). The club enjoyed an entry of 168 dogs with several new faces among the exhibitors. Members are now turning all effort and attention to their All-Breed Show coming up in May. Several members have had serious illnesses during the winter and we hope all concerned will soon be well.

The club extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaye who, for the second year, have won the Daniell-Jenkins-Jeudwine trophy for the Westie Of the Year, with their Ch. Dina-Ken's Little Pip who has also won, for the second consecutive year, the Ken-L Ration award, Mid-Eastern Division, all breeds. In achieving this height of fame Little Pip took time out to whelp three litters of puppies. Congratulations, Albert and Muriel, from the club. May your success continue.

THE BOXER CLUB OF CANADA

The club reviewed its summer's business at its first Fall meeting. Motions were passed to hold a Specialty Show in conjunction with the Sportsmen's Show and Boosters with the Working Group and

The Forest City Kennel Club. It is also the club's intention to have a parade of Champions at this year's Specialty Show.

The club decided that the annual awards would not be made for 1962 but would be revised and presented again in 1963. Ground rules for these awards will be published in the March issue of Dogs in Canada.

The puppy match, held at the C.N.E. grounds last summer, was a great success in spite of the heavy rain. The Gardiner Expressway provided a dry cover for the match which was moved under the roadway at the rear of the Horse Palace. A reception followed the match at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Whitmore. This gave members, owners and friends an opportunity to meet the judge and his wife.

BULLDOG CLUB OF CENTRAL CANADA

The club enjoyed one of the largest meetings in recent years when members turned out to elect officers for 1963. Mr. Harold Ince is President for the coming term; Mr. R. E. McCutcheon the 1st Vice-President and Mr. Alan Smith 2nd Vice. Treasurer, Kenneth Clark, with Mrs. Ann Clark acting as Secretary and Show Secretary. Mr. R. E. McCutcheon will be in charge of trophies and Mrs. G. McKenzie in charge of publicity.

The annual Specialty Show will be held on June 2 and the Booster Show will be held with the Progressive Kennel Club on June 1 when the club hopes to have its own judge. The annual Puppy Match has been set for August 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cross of Erin, Ont.

A Booster Show is to be held at the Sportsmen's Show on March 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross have recently moved to Erin from Burk's Falls, Ont. and the club is looking forward to having them at its meetings.

BURLINGTON & DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB

The 1963 season promises to be even more successful and interesting for the club. A vote of confidence returned the 1962 executive to office for a further two-year term, with Mr. Jim Taylor as President.

Mr. Abe Zvonkin, with his assistants, continues to do an excellent job with the obedience classes which commenced at the Sea Cadet Hall on January 6.

The first meeting in the new year dealt primarily with a review of past events, as well as proposed plans for the Sanction Show which is coming up in March in the Burlington Arena.

At the time of writing the Junior Burlington and District Kennel Club were looking forward to the fourth of a series of six breed identification sessions. This one will be Group IV (Terrier Day) at which time the youngsters will be educationally instructed by Mr. Thomas Joel.

Please make note — the club's 1963 annual Christmas Party will be held Friday, December 20. Mr. John Tough, entertainment chairman for this particular event, will accept reservations even at this early date.

Club members wish the CKC Board and officers a successful year and the best year ever to all friends.

FOREST CITY KENNEL CLUB

The club advises that Mrs. L. A. Atkinson has resigned as Show Secretary for the club and Mrs. Scott McNair has been appointed to fill the position. All future correspondence with the club should be sent to Mrs. McNair, P.O. Box 6, Ilderton, Ont.

GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

With three quarters of the membership present in December, the Association saw plans well advanced for the Specialty Show, held February 3. Judges were also nominated for the Specialty Show being held in June.

The breed committee reports unanimous approval of the proposed idea of setting up a breed recording system within the club. The system as suggested, does not classify or evaluate dogs but is a method of comparing dogs to the breed standard. By extensive use of movies and written reports of actual physical examinations, the system will provide accurate and useful information for future members and will give present members an opportunity to play an even greater part in breed improvement.

The club's monthly paper, Breeders Tails, is proving to be very successful and anyone wishing a copy please contact Mr. G. Gerigs, Pickering, Ont.

In connection with the June Specialty Show, Mr. Lloyd Dove of 88 Watson St., West Hill, Ont. has been appointed Show Secretary to replace Mrs. Gerigs who found it necessary to resign that office.

Miss Anne Gerigs is in Oshawa General Hospital recuperating from a fractured back sustained in a motor accident December 26. Cards and notes to Anne in Room 3005 F Wing, Orthopedic Ward, Oshawa General Hospital, will do much in helping her to pass the time and cheer her up.

GERMAN SHEPHERD DOG CLUB OF WESTERN ONTARIO

The following officers will guide the club's business for the coming year: President, Mr. Ed. Summerfield; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. James Howard; Recording Secretary, Miss Evelyn Jermy; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Cardona. Directors are: Wm. Lamprecht, Ralph Beer, Wm. Pegg, Jos. Cardona and Mrs. Thomas Evans, Training Master, Mr. Jas. Howard. Mrs. Ed Summerfield will take care of the publicity.

The club extends special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beer for a wonderful evening of music following the Christmas Party.

HAMILTON KENNEL CLUB

The club elected new officers for 1963 and are pleased to announce the following will guide the club's activities for the next term: President, Mr. Geo. Lawless; Vice-President, Mr. Clarke Diamond; Secretary, Miss Lola Richards; Treasurer, Mrs. Audrey Langford; Directors, Mrs. H. Cole and Mrs. Mary Krawesky; Publicity, Mrs. Maude Cooper; Trophy Committee, Mrs. Mary Krawesky; Advertising, Mrs. Louise Diamond. The Sick Committee will be headed by Mrs. Geo. Lawless.

HAMILTON OBEDIENCE CLUB

The club reports its winter trial was held February 10 with judges Mary Southcott and Walter Konradt. Mrs. Gwen Street is the new trophy convenor and has excelled herself in selecting trophies for this trial. As well as class trophies there was a huge one provided for the Highest Storing German Shepherd, Poodle (any size), Shetland Sheepdog and Hunting dog.

Two rings and two judges ensured a quick trial and plenty of parking space and refreshments were available.

A party, with all the trimmings, is being planned for their 10th birthday, coming up soon.

At Burlington recently, Mr. Reg. Peters was successful in getting his second utility leg with his Welsh Corgi, Tammy. Mr. Dawson Street recently graduated with a 199% score and three days later entered the Burlington Trial and gained his first C.D. leg with a 199 score with Princess, his year-old Sheltie.

Glad to report Ed. O'Brien is recovering from his bout in the hospital.

IRISH SETTER CLUB OF CANADA

The club presents the following slate of officers as elected for 1963: President, Mr. E. McGowan; 1st Vice-President, Mr. R. Daffoe; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. R. McCormick; Treasurer, Mrs. E. McGowan; Secretary, Mrs. R. Daffoe; Publicity, Miss Joan Zurbrigg; Social Convenor, Mrs. R. Allen; Membership, Mrs. A. W. Forest; Trophy Convenor, Mrs. R. McCormick; Awards, Mr. R. Allen; Obedience, Mr. R. McCormick; Field, Mr. J. Tumelty; Paw Prints, Mr. R. Daffoe.

Another issue of "Paw Prints" has gone to press. Look for your copy soon.

LONDON CANINE ASSOCIATION

The Association reports it has welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Samoyed breeders, to its membership and are hoping that soon they can double the number already on their membership roll. The election of officers was held in December and saw only one change. Mr. Warren Henderson, who has held the office of 2nd Vice-President, was replaced by Mr. George Tabner. The Hendersons have sold most of their dogs and no longer have any interest in the club. The President, Dr. Kenneth Bourns, led a lively discussion regarding voting for CKC officers.

NORTH YORK OBEDIENCE CLUB

At the January meeting, Mr. T. S. Adams of the CKC, talked to the club about Trials. He gave pointers on how to conduct a successful trial and how to avoid mechanical and clerical errors so commonly made. He stressed the role of the CKC in supplying information and guidance to clubs holding trials and shows.

Winter training classes have commenced at Winchester Street school. Graduation for this group will be combined with an Open Obedience Match on March 24 at the York Farmers' Market, Thornhill, Ont. beginning at noon. Peter Kirk will judge the trainees and Bud Flanagan of Oshawa will judge the Open Obedience Match. The first 25 entries received for the latter will be accepted and should be sent (with 50c entry fee) to the Secretary, Mrs. Audrey Jeffrey, 56 Joanna Dr., Scarborough, before March 15.

OAKVILLE AND DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB
The club enjoyed a talk on the Gordon Setter by Mr. A. T. Dalby, who is the owner of a new puppy imported from the States.

Nominations for the 1963 officers returned Mr. E. McGowan as President; Lt. Col. M. Drury accepted the office of Vice-President and Mrs. A. J. Horn as Secretary. Mrs. Ethel McGowan was re-elected Treasurer and Directors returned to office are, Mr. H. Bennick, John Broedersand, Mr. Alf. Veale. New directors are Mr. Fred A. Carter, Mr. Wm. Cummings, Mrs. G. Galloway, Mr. Alex J. Horn and Mrs. A. J. Veale.

Following the business session the members were entertained with one of their popular "thumb nail" talks where selected members bring specimens of their particular breeds and give short talks on the origin, history and standards, etc. For this meeting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lowe had their two imported, seven months old Boxer puppies. These puppies no doubt will give a good account of themselves at the 1963 shows.

OTTAWA KENNEL CLUB

From this club comes the report that the 1961-62 Board has been re-elected to office by acclamation. The reports of the various committees showed a busy and successful year of club activities.

Phyllis Jackson, Wilhelmine Bales and Lorne Moore have been presented with life membership in the club. The President, Mr. E. B. Reid, expressed his opinion of the far-reaching effects of the amendments on breeding and showing while Blanche Walters was in the chair.

The club sadly reports the death of "Mac" McLean, for many years a life member and life director of the kennel club and who was internationally known as a breeder and judge of Manchester Terriers.

The club is holding a sanction show in March, as it did in January and February.

PEKIN PALACE DOG CLUB

The club is now meeting at its new permanent meeting place, 15 Mackay Dr., Richvale, and meetings are being very well attended. Any Pekingese breeder or lover wishing to join the club may get in touch with the Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Curtis, 39 Hi Mount Dr., Willowdale, Ont.

THE PROVINCIAL IRISH SETTER CLUB

Resume of the club's year's work: Nomination night brought forth a few changes in the executive. Mrs. Gertrude Drew was re-appointed President; Mr. A. H. Lake as Vice President, and Mrs. Mary Lake as Corresponding Secretary. Mrs. June Pugh accepted the office of Treasurer and Mrs. Dawn Miller is Recording Secretary.

In honor of Dr. F. D. H. Clement the club presented the Dog World award for diligence and faithful contributions to the welfare of dogs.

Variety night was again lively with games and laughter and a good sum was realized for club work.

During 1962 lectures were provided for education of breeders as well as dog fanciers, most notable being one by Dr. Clement on internal parasites; another on the training of sporting dogs, the speaker being Max Ritchie, who lauded the Irish Setter as a comprehensive worker, intelligent, understanding and eager when given a chance.

Several instructive films were shown; training classes and instruction in trimming and grooming were given the newer members.

Trophies were again made available for two all breed shows. These trophies are presented yearly to further the aims of the club in promoting our breed and assisting show-giving clubs.

Many interesting topics pertaining to our breed were presented to the membership for open discussion. A card party was held to raise funds for the club's trophy fund.

The highlight of the year was our Specialty Show. The vast assortment of elegant trophies made for lively competition among the 30 dogs in attendance.

SAINT BERNARD CLUB

The club is making plans for its second annual Booster Show at the Sportsmen's Show, in March.

Mr. Paul Shearer has presented the membership with dog tags bearing the club name.

Mimeographed copies of the Standard were given the members and movies were shown to those present at a meeting where Mrs. D. T. Weir gave her opinion and interpretation of the Standard.

Following are the newly elected club officials: President, Mrs. B. Sorrell; Vice-President, Mr. Paul Shearer; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Richard Seaman.

Anyone wishing to show their Saints at the Sportsmen's Show may write for application forms to either Mrs. R. Seaman, R.R. 2, Markham, Ont. or to Mrs. B. Sorrell, 299 Bogart Ave., Willowdale, Ont. Any donations of trophies will be greatly appreciated.

The club has planned to visit convalescent homes and orphanages to demonstrate dogs in harness and show just what the Saint Bernard can do when hitched to a sleigh.

ST. CATHARINES AND DISTRICT KENNEL AND OBEDIENCE CLUB

In order to make the meetings more interesting, the club decided that the Board of Directors discuss all club business before the monthly meeting and their decisions be brought to the general meeting for the members' approval. So far, this plan has worked very successfully and has eliminated a good deal of pointless discussion. The members have enjoyed having with them Mr. R. G. Deeks, of Niagara Falls, a specialist judge from England who went over their dogs and his choice of a Best in Show specimen was a Belgian Sheepdog owned by Tony Vanuden.

SALUKI CLUB OF CANADA

The club continues to increase its membership with the addition of two new members in November. Mrs. Laura Haferkon has found it necessary to resign her office as Recording-Secretary and will be replaced by Mrs. Ruth Coates who is also Vice-President.

For the first time in history, a Canadian Saluki, Kesari Sahari Saiyd, owned by Mr. Elmer Grieves of Calgary, Alta. will be shown at the Westminster show in New York (Editor's note—Mr. Grieves dog was Best of Breed at Westminster). Mr. Grieves has invited Mr. Tour Alker, a noted Saluki breeder from Richvale, Ont. to accompany him on this trip. At present Mr. Alker has two Saluki litters.

Kesari Ahrany Tamyn, a bitch owned by Dr. Edith Williams, made the front page of the Women's section of the Toronto Daily Star on January 4 when a head portrait appeared in an article by Penny Longley entitled "At the Peak of Dogs' Social Ladder". The article also praised Mrs. Ruth Coates for her work in introducing Salukis to Canada.

SARNIA KENNEL CLUB

The club has purchased books to start a lending library for its members.

Obedience training classes have been very successful in 1962 and plans are underway for classes this year. Conformation classes will commence in the Spring to help the novice exhibitor. The Show Committee is planning a big show for 1963. Some of the members have had great wins with their dogs elsewhere.

Hope all took note of the Sarnia Kennel Club page in the February issue of Dogs in Canada.

SCARBOROUGH KENNEL CLUB

The club has returned Mr. Howard Hood to office as their President. Directors are: Mr. W. Clark, Mr. A. Farrell, Mrs. Y. Paul, Mrs. A. Clement. First Vice-President, Mr. MacCallum; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. A. Farrell; Secretary, Mrs. B. Hardinge; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Holdham; Show Secretary, Mr. W. Hardinge; Trophy Secretary, Mrs. E. Britten; Publicity, Joey Nattrass.

The presentation of plaques to members having finished a Champion during the year were made at the Christmas banquet. One of the highlights of a very successful year was the arranging for the club to supply and maintain a Seeing Eye Dog through the C.N.I.B. and they are hoping that someone in their area will be the recipient of this dog but placing the dog is something the club has no control over.

SKYWAY OBEDIENCE CLUB

Mr. Jack Walker, who has been re-elected for a second term, will guide the club for 1963. Vice-President of the club is Mr. Harry Wilkinson; Secretary, Mrs. B. Walker. Mr. W. McDiarmid will carry the responsibilities of the Treasurer. Members elected to the executive are Mr. Don Peall, Mr. Ernest Lane and Mr. W. Dean.

Graduation night, held in December, was judged by Mr. Abe Zvonkin and the trophy for top score was awarded to Mr. E. Healy and his Newfoundland.

The evening was saddened by the passing of Mr. Alex Chesnin who, just before being presented with the trophy for his class, suffered a heart attack.

The man and wife team of Bruce and Barbara Saunders was successful at the Hamilton Club Frolic, both being awarded prizes for the best handlers.

UPPER CANADA KENNEL CLUB

The club made no exception in celebrating the holiday with a club Christmas party. A presentation was made to the retiring President and his wife, Dick and Jeanne White. Dick found the pressure of his work as President of the North York Humane Society made it impossible for him to carry on as President of the club. Mr. Fred Patterson (1st Vice-President) will carry on as President until the elections are held early in 1963.

WINDSOR AND DISTRICT KENNEL CLUB

The annual meeting of the club saw all officers returned to their respective offices. Mr. Jack Critchley was re-elected to the board of Directors and also to the position of Show Superintendent, Mr. Jansen having resigned. Mr. Art Ferguson and Mr. R. McNaughton were newly elected to the remaining offices as Directors. The balance of the evening was given to discussing judges for the July shows.

quebec

EVELYN McCULLOUGH, 26 Golf Ave., Pointe Claire, Que. Breeder and exhibitor of Standard Smooth and Wire Dachshunds.

Quebec members will be saddened to hear of the deaths of the following well-known old timers in the dog world.

Harry Armistead, of Wire Fox Terrier fame, whose kennel name was Westpark, will be sorely missed by all who knew him down through the years. One of the original members of the old Montreal Kennel Association, and one of the oldest members in the Province, he managed the Ormsby Kennels of the late James Strachan for years, and piloted many dogs to their championship.

Ed Wright was another figure active in the dog game for many years with Bulldogs, Welsh Terriers and Min. Schnauzers, being one of the first to import the latter to Canada. His Winwell dogs were shown consistently until ill health forced him to retire from the ring.

A fine lady who leaves a spot hard to fill, Miss Olive Hosmer was connected with Ladies' Kennel Club from its inception, and was one of the club's staunchest supporters.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Bea Everitt (Acadia Lodge Kennels) who recently lost her husband, and to Jean Ferrabee (past Hon. Sec'y, L. K. C.) whose mother passed away just before Christmas.

Montreal Dog Obedience Training Club completed the Fall season with cocktails and dinner, with the following receiving awards: The Willis'; gold medal for U.D. with their Lab, Ming, and Helen Sinclair, bronze medal for C.D. with her Sheltie, Blaze. May Birch was presented with a Teletone Record Player in appreciation for all her efforts the last few years, prize-wise, and otherwise.

The Basic Obedience graduation was judged by President Doug Armstrong and his wife Marg, with Norma Prescott and her Scottie, Pixie, first in Group A, and Donna Kirby and Min. Poodle, Candy, leading the second group. This is the first time one of the Terrier Breed has been top dog, and it is of special note that the Scottie's owner, Norma, is only eleven. Could be she inherited some of that dog-sense from her grand-dad, Bert Collins.

It was decided last fall to donate money for the purchase of a guide dog from the Leader Dog School in Rochester, for the Montreal Institute for the Blind, and the dog, King, was presented to Mr. J. E. Assels by Hazel Slaughter, Vice-President, and Abe Tafler, Director, of the M.D.O.T.C.

Cocker Spaniel Fanciers take note: (Especially Mrs. Pat Perrin of Crabtree Mills, and her letter in December issue of Dogs in Canada). An American Cocker Spaniel Club is in the process of being formed by a temporary committee consisting of long-time breeder Mr. A. Ouellet, Mr. Laflamme, Mr. Gascon, and Mr. Cozak, acting as Secretary. As soon as a charter is drawn up and the club organized more details will be available to all those interested.

Mountain City Obedience Club hosted the first of three inter-club competitions, surpassing even previous occasions with hospitality and refreshments. Mrs. J. Dempster handled the judging and the standing so far is as follows: M.D.O.T.C. 614, M.C.O.C. 589, 200 Club 393.

At the club's annual Christmas gathering, which always features a best dressed dog contest, Boston Terrier, Star, in Hawaiian costume, assisted by President Jack McBride, presented a cheque to W. E. Milton of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to be used in its program of supplying guide dogs to the Blind.

The Dominion Collie & Shetland Sheepdog Ass'n (Montreal Branch). At a recent executive meeting it was decided to adopt colours and royal blue and white will now be associated with the Montreal Branch. This theme will be carried at all the shows, starting with the Specialty show held in connection with the L.K.C. shows on April 27 and 28th. Subject to CKC approval, the Specialty judge will be Mrs. Sarah Bar-barezi.

Beginning March 4, another series of handling classes will be held under the direction of Sheila Houstoun, providing not only instruction for the novice but a chance for old-timers to brush up on ring technique before the show season is in full swing.

The All-Breed Sanction Show: Once again the members put on a most efficient show. Held on the fourth floor of Morgan's Dept. Store, with the maximum entry of 150 dogs, judge Tim Reid chose as his Best in Show Nigel Aubrey-Jones' and Bill Taylor's Peke, St. Aubrey Eloise of Elsdon, and she also was Best Canadian Bred and Best Canadian Bred Puppy. Group wins were as follows: Group 1, Mr. Nickle's Lab, Bergwaun Thundercloud; Group 2, Mrs. Mack's Saluki, Nicky of Macksons; Group 3, Ruth Mingie's Sheltie, Meridian Scotch on the Rocks; Group 4, Mrs. Prescott's Scottie, Treleaven's Rattler; Group 5, The Pekinese; Group 6 Valerie Reid's Miniature Poodle, Sunlock Snow Dancer. The continuous commentary in both French and English, capably handled by Lee Baker, Vi Dery, and Peggy McCoy, and the obedience demonstrations, (also in both languages) held the interest of the crowd throughout the day.

Around the Show — Bill Taylor, not only feeling fit and well again after his serious automobile accident, but proving it by handling his Peke through to B.I.S. with Nigel, svelte and tanned from Swiss sun and Sauna baths, beaming from the sidelines — kudos to judge Gladys Taylor handling a tremendous assignment many veteran judges would have found difficult, with such speed and aplomb — Pam Mack finding time to arrive with entourage of Corgis, Salukis and Lhasas, etc., just hours before leaving for England — George Cohan's splendid exhibition with his Seeing Eye dog — Long time breeders, Miss Steggall, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Doniphan, Bert Collins, Arthur Wells, to mention a few, discussing shows past, present, and future — cramped quarters but few complaints — the over 4,000 spectators, a record crowd at any show, particularly at a Sanction one — the great interest shown, with resultant sale of many puppies — absentees at a minimum despite the freezing rain and hazardous driving conditions — entries from the Eastern Townships, Ottawa, Hull, and points between, the most distant, Ruth Mingie from Mass., renewing old friendships and capping her trip by winning the Working Group — the calm, efficient way the committee performed its many and varied duties with no apparent effort and complete success — Mac Stephens' easy to spot Red cap (Carlings are certainly missing a bet here!) — and an E for effort to the very efficient floorwalker patrolling the area with a most ineffectual can of spray mist in his hand. Now all look forward to the club's first point show and

TWO CONFORMATION SHOWS — ONE OBEDIENCE TRIAL

WE'LL HELP YOU FIND ACCOMMODATION

If you want help in finding a place to stay let us know when you send in your entry. We'll be glad to assist.

The hard-working hospitable members of the Ottawa Kennel Club are hard at work to make your visit to the Ottawa shows again a highlight of the dog show season. You'll find clean show premises with ample space for grooming and benching. You'll find good exercise rings and a show superintendent who works hard to set up the show for your convenience. And of course, judges with a reputation for competence and fearless placing. Plan to attend.

JUDGES: Stanley Whitmore, Albert Collins, Mrs. Ethel Gottschalk, Obedience — Fred Tremain.

hope one will be held in the near future.

The Laurentian Sled Dog Club Inc. and International Sled Dog Races: (Some impressions — full coverage elsewhere in this issue.) Under the capable judging of Tim Reid, and Peggy McCoy's efficient superintending, once again this was a very successful show. Out of 30 odd entries, about two-thirds were from La Belle Province, some in the ring for the first time and enjoying the informal atmosphere of La Marquise Hotel. (As the ad truthfully states, a new name but the same delightful hospitality). — Romaine Jones' Samoyed topping Mac McDougall's Siberian and Lawson and Gloria Williams' Alaskan Malamute for the Best in Show trophy, presented by that Big Bold B, Mac Mackenzie, a man with ideas and enthusiasm — the conversation piece of the evening the pint-size clean-up equipment which none-the-less proved more than adequate. Never was so much owed by so many to so little! Glorious weather the first day of the races and the teams a beautiful sight — Bunt Dunlop, the only female entry, doing a magnificent job competing with those hardy, husky males with adventure in their blood and the 5BX plan unheard of — the three top places taken by New Englanders, two of them Vets, and all blue-eyed, as were most of the other drivers, which must be indicative of something — only one complaint, namely the disinterested characters on the many Ski-doo's, with the whole lake to ride on, cavorting around the finish line, frightening some of the teams, and making it virtually impossible to pick up the mike announcements above the up-roar.

SOMETHING TO BRAG ABOUT

Hjalti Lady Jane, Mac Stephens' Sheltie, now has three points towards her American Ch. under the capable handling of Horace Hollands. Mac reports that both Winners Dog and Winners Bitch were won by Canadian Shelties at a recent American Show he attended.

All dressed up and places to go describes May Birch's two Miniature Poodles, Boo and Jolly who, complete with costume changes, have been spreading cheer to young Montrealers in hospitals, orphanages and at church affairs for the past few years. Boo, a real old trooper, with Jolly as her "straight man", gets as much enjoyment out of the performance as do the children. An obedience enthusiast for many years, May points out that all the tricks in this clever dog act are based on straight obedience work.

Congratulations to Harold Perrie of TA-I-O Beagle Club, whose Silver Lake Sheik is now a Fd. Ch.

Marg Hamilton, back from the Florida Circuit, which she attended with Betty Hyslop and her Cairns, was able to apprentice at two Trials, a big step on the way to obtaining her American Obedience judging license.

The TA-I-O Beagle Club recently held a Fun Trial at Hemmingford, the objective being to raise money to help defray the legal costs that will be incurred in the case of the three purebred hounds shot while hunting in a bush near St. Placide last Fall. A total net receipt of $200.00 was realized and it is hoped that this rare test case, if successful, will point out the fallacy held by many people of Quebec that they have the right to shoot any dog they find in field or bush. This case is slated to be tried in St. Jerome in February and the results are eagerly awaited by all dog lovers.

POT-POURRI

A Miniature Poodle, Chez Caniches Silver Bonnet, has been imported from the Kennels of Mrs. Ada O'Donnell, Plymouth, Mass., by Joan Kyle, to add to her "silver" collection.

Valerie Reid also has a new import, (a gift for her brother) a Welsh Corgi from Cote des Neiges Kennels in Bedford Village, N.Y. Val will be showing and handling the dog and hopes to bring him out in the Spring.

The Jack Langs, formerly of Peterborough, continue to share their enthusiasm, having given an obedience dem-

Readers will be sorry to hear of the untimely death of Sutherland's Little Luana, a Sheltie owned by Audrey Gray, who was killed by a car recently. "Dainty" was the dam of Champions and will not only be missed for her sweet personality but also for her contribution to the Sheltie breed.

Bill Scarpa of Malabar Boxer fame, reports that he is now settled in his new location (the whole house, kennels and contents therein having been moved 11 miles to the new site) and is once again in the swing of things. One of his bitches has been bred to a famous American stud dog and Bill has many plans underway for breeding and showing in the near future.

How about that Corgi in "Little Dog Lost"! (Such excellent photography). It was a joy to read the credits and discover this clever little dog, Bundock's Rover Run Concerto, not only had his CD in Obedience but is a breed Champion as well. This Walt Disney effort should do as much for the Corgis in North America as did the Royal Family in the British Isles.

Robinson; Sick and Welfare, Mrs. A. Buss; Show Chairman, Arthur Buss.

The club held its January monthly meeting on the 8th, at the home of Mrs. A. May, when the judge for the Specialty show was selected and further plans for the show were discussed. Following the business session refreshments were served by David Talbot assisted by Denyce Buss.

Definition of "Backyard Champion": A dog which looks and acts like a top notcher when at home but does not show to advantage when at a Dog Show.

The man who maintains a judge will never give his dogs a BIS is probably right.

Fifteen Specialty Shows will be held in conjunction with the 23rd annual International Dog Show under the sponsorship of the International Kennel Club of Chicago April 6 and 7. Ten additional Specialties are scheduled the day before in Donovan Hall, adjacent to the Amphitheatre where the International is held. Indoor Field Trials and exciting Whippet and Afghan racing will again be among the feature attractions of this ten-acre show.

For the first time, American Kennel Club registrations have topped the half million mark in a single year. In addition to 516,800 individual dogs registered in 1962, the club also registered more than a quarter-million new litters and recorded more than 100,000 changes of ownership. The leadership of Poodles has been more definitely established with a striking gain over 1961. The second-place Beagle showed a slight decline. German Shepherds made an impressive gain and advanced their position from fifth to fourth. The Boxer dropped slightly.

★★★★★

Judge T. E. Gundersen, Ottawa, placed the Boxer, Tresider's Painted Lady, BIS at the Greater Miami KC Show where a record entry of 1,020 dogs were shown. This is her tenth BIS.

★★★★★

American dog owners, dog lovers and their friends will now be able to join the Dog Owners' Association of America, a non-profit organization dedicated to the owner, his needs, pleasures and privileges. National headquarters: 1300 U.S. Highway 46, Parsippany, N.J. Mr. Fred Finkl is President; Mr. Weldon J. McCluskey, Secretary and Mr. A. W. Sage has been appointed National Director.

★★★★★

Rachel Carson, distinguished naturalist and author of Silent Spring, The Sea Around Us and The Edge of the Sea, has been named to receive the 1962 Albert Schweitzer Medal of the Animal Welfare Institute, in recognition of her contribution to the protection of vertebrate animals from needless suffering and death resulting from excessive dangerous insecticides.

★★★★★

The BIS winner at Westminster last month, Ch. Wakefield's Black Knight, English Springer Spaniel, headlined the annual salute to "The Wonderful World of Dogs." This dog show, at which stars from the Broadway stage make personal appearances with their own dogs, is presented by the Manhattan Savings Bank, New York.

west highland white terrier club annual awards

Mrs. Albert Kaye receives the handsome Daniell-Jenkins-Jeudwine Memorial Trophy from co-publisher Kaye Peer.

Presentation of glittering annual awards was a feature of the annual dinner of the West Highland White Terrier Club of Canada, held recently in the handsome new Canadiana Motor Hotel on the outskirts of Toronto.

For the second consecutive time the outstanding Westie Ch. Dina Ken's Little Pip earned the Daniell-Jenkins-Jeudwine Memorial Trophy for her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaye of Richmond Hill. Offered for the top winning Westie of the Year, the trophy was donated by the Westie Club and friends in Canada and the United States.

Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins received the trophy offered by Mrs. Thelma Adams for the member whose bitches captured the most Winners Bitch awards during the past year. Philomel of the Rouge and Vigil of the Rouge were the winners.

Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins' trophy for the member whose dogs earned the most Winners Dog awards was won by Mrs. Bradley of Strathmore, Alta. with a male import, Sir Thomas of Neil Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cox of Victoria, B.C. with their Sally-Deans Dainty Ballerina, earned Mrs. Kaye's trophy for the member whose bitches won the most Puppy awards.

Mrs. Nona Navin's trophy to the member whose males won the most Puppy classes during the year went to Mrs. Daniell-Jenkins and her Mercury of the Rouge and Gallant Lad of the Rouge.

Mrs. Jean Chase's Best of Breed award to the Westie scoring the most BB awards went to the Kaye's Ch. Little Pip.

The Best of Opposite Sex trophy offered by Mrs. Kaye for the Westie of opposite sex to the BB winner (and given points for each BOS win) was won by Mrs. Adams with her Ch. Rose-neath White Crusader.

The Manderley Trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Flanagan for the smaller centres. And it would give the people in these smaller centres a director who was aware of their problems and who would have a personal interest in going to bat on them."

The Old Timer relighted his pipe. He took another look at that particular Christmas card.

"Yes," he said, "I think the idea has merit. I hope they really look into it. And this year would seem to be the year in which to put rezoning into effect."

the clubs have completed their individual trials, then comes the big day — The Derby Championship. This is always held around the May 24 weekend, with one of the clubs in the Association being the host club, providing the grounds and facilities to conduct the Championship Stake.

The puppies that were placed at the club trials are the only ones eligible to enter this Championship Stake, and from this competition comes a 13" derby champion, and a 15" derby champion.

In some cases these puppies have advanced so rapidly that quite often they have achieved AKC or CKC licensed points at licensed trials held previous to the derby trials. This situation is more prevalent in the United States than in Canada, as their facilities are much more advanced than in Canada.

DOGS & PEOPLE

Honored: Commodore Reg. P. Sparkes (Kamel Bulldog Kennels), Toronto. He was recipient of the Award of Merit for 1962 presented by the Canadian Boating Federation to the person, club or organization who has done the most to advance the cause of better boating and safety afloat. Mr. Sparkes has been an active participant in boating for nearly 40 years, particularly in international racing. It was through the constant badgering of the CBF's first safety committee headed by him that a kapok-filled cushion became recognized by the Department of Transport as a piece of life-saving equipment.

Prominent speaker: Mrs. Lilah S. Lymburner, of Port Colborne, was chairman of a banquet attended by 2,000 women at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. The event was the largest ever served by the hotel. Purpose: The launching, by Economics and Development Minister Robert Macaulay, of the Ontario's consumer trade crusade and "Buy-Canadian" policy. Also in attendance, Miss Margaret Slaney, member of the Central Ontario Beagle Club and editor Kaye Peer.

In hospital: Mrs. E. B. (Tim) Reid, (Oak Gables) Stittsville, Ont., following surgery . . . Miss Anne Gerigs, (White Hart Kennels) Pickering, Ont., in for a lengthy confinement at the Oshawa General Hospital with a fractured spine, following an automobile accident. Fortunately there is no damage to the spinal cord.

Congratulations: to Miss Agness Hammond, (My Little Kennels) Cochrane, Alta., on her recent marriage to Mr. William Connaughton, artist.

Speaker: Mr. T. E. Gundersen, Ottawa, recently spoke at the meeting of The Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Association, Montreal and District Branch, in his capacity as a judge, and Registrar of the Canadian National Live Stock Board. On March 11 he speaks in a more humorous vein to the Ottawa Shrine Club at the Chateau Laurier.

Mr. R. B. Laskey celebrates his 50th year as a member of the New Brunswick Kennel Club of St. John, N.B. on August 14. This club has a three generation membership, reports Gladys A. McGuire: Mrs. H. R. Brodie, her daughter Mrs. Leslie Banks and granddaughter, Mrs. Freeman Ping. Does any other breed or specialty club have this distinction?

Always a welcome switch: A Canadian-bred Samoyed, Can. Ch. Samigo's Prince Charming, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ian C. Miller of Aurora, Ont., was recently sold to Mrs. John Morony, owner of the Marylake Samoyeds in Alamo, Texas. . . . Lt.-Cmdr. Loveday, commanding officer of RCSCC Courageous, London, Ont. and family have moved to Florida. The officer purchased a Samoyed puppy from Mrs. Betty Dickson (Ziska Kennels), Dorchester, Ont. Christmas Eve, 1960, and named him Noel. Nicknamed "Frosty" by the family, he is staying with Mrs. Dickson until the family is settled and then will be flown to Florida. Cmdr. and Mrs. Loveday plan to purchase a Ziska female this year and begin breeding. Noel's litter brother, Ziska Norstadd, is with Dr. D'Aguilon in Jamaica.

Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garrett, Goodwood, Ont., a son, Garwood C. Garrett.

Sympathy: to Mrs. Spencer Weller, Toronto, in the loss of her father, Mr. George Ross, a long-time dog fancier.

U.S. winner: Can. Ch. Canidae's Maharanee, Standard Long-haired Dachshund, obtained two major wins on successive days by going Best of Winners at the Munroe KC show and Winners at the Mid-West Dachshund Specialty in Long-hair entry of 45. Her owners are Stu and Joyce Roberts of Maidstone, Ont.

Mrs. George Getty, (Quarrybrae Kennels), Toronto, recently suffered a fractured arm.

Congratulations: to Mr. Stephen J. Navin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Navin, (Shipmates Kennels) Willowdale, Ont., on his marriage February 23 to Jo Anne Beverley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Van Wart, Calgary, Alta.

When the Dominion Collie and Shetland Sheepdog Association held a draw at the Group III show February 23, the proceeds were earmarked for a very special cause. Recipient will be Miss Anne Gerigs whose misfortune is mentioned above. Other clubs may wish to hold a similar draw. Prize in this instance was donated by Ken-L-Ration.

Only two "Fido" awards were made by the Gaines Dog Research Centre for 1962. Robert Forsyth of Chappaqua, N.Y., known to many Canadians, was selected by a special committee of the Professional Handlers' Association to receive the title "Dog Handler of the Year". Wentzle Ruml, Jr., of East Orange, N.J., secretary-treasurer of the Dog Writers' Association of America, was voted "Dog Writer of the Year".

Harry Watson, Beamsville, Ont., German Shepherd specialist and judge, has imported another Shepherd from Germany . . . Sam Dardarian, Preston, Ont., breeder and exhibitor of German Shepherds and Doberman Pinschers, now has a Great Dane as well.

NA-ROBI KENNELS REG'D.

CH. NA-ROBI'S FIESTA

(Na-Robi's Casanova ex Ch. Na-Robi's Greta) has a litter of puppies born Dec. 20, 1962 sired by Na-Robi's Marcus. Marcus is a very promising son of Ch. Ero v.d. Auwallenburg ex Ch. Na-Robi's Helge. He will be shown this coming season.

PUPPIES of either sex available. Sable or Black and Tan. Some look very promising at this age.

- (2) The front feet are placed close together and the dog when it moves moves placing these feet close together. To the uninitiated this gives an impression of paddling. There have been those who accused my best dogs of paddling but when I took the trouble to move the dog slowly they had to admit that it was merely an illusion created by the dog carefully placing the front feet side by side in the prescribed close manner when he moved. The body being at all times buried under a coat of great quantity and quality it is difficult for judges to have a clear cut picture of what the Maltese body should be. It was Mrs. Leitch's intention to clear this up by presenting the above photograph in her book. Those who believed the body to be a miniature copy of the Westie body will see how wrong they were. There are similarities to the Skye Terrier, and especially the terrier character but in structure much has been retained of the spaniel-like ancestor. I hope too that this will aid in the Maltese being judged by their own structural standards rather than by that of the Yorkshire Terrier.

- (3) The great angulation of the hind quarters, with hocks well let down, and the hind legs placed well beneath the body. It is this typical angulation that gives the Maltese so much spring and bounce in his movements, and makes him a "dancing" little dog. The proper angulation is such that when the Maltese moves away from you, you should not be able to see the hocks unless, of course, the legs are sparse of coat.
- (4) The tail is looped above the body, and need not lie flat upon the body to one side as in the case of the Pug. It is actually the carriage of the tail combined with the proper angulation of the hind quarters that determines the straight back.
- (5) They should be comparatively as long in back as they are high in leg.

I would appreciate hearing from all Maltese breeders across Canada in a concerted effort to formulate a sound, progressive, workable Maltese standard for our fine Canadian Maltese. ●

A careless handler does a lot of work sitting down. That is where he shines.

In showing terriers success depends a lot on luck and pluck.

excerpts from

ANTI - VIVESECTION

an essay written by a High School student

The following excerpts are taken from a truly remarkable paper written by a high school pupil, Maria Wright, of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. We wish that space availed to reproduce it in its entirety. It is a remarkable mature and painstaking study of the subject, supported by many pertinent quotations and fortified by an impressive bibliography, all of which reflects the wide scope of her research.

In discussing vivisection with the girls in school as well as with other people, I have found that they are shocked by some of the experiments, but they feel that "If it's medical research, it's all right!"

The minority of us who have found out what vivisection is, hope that the majority of American people, as well as all the people of the world, will find out what vivisection is, and when they do, I think many more will do all they can to arouse the moral consciousness of the people to despise this barbaric practice. I say this because I have great faith in the fundamental goodness of the average person, and I believe if he really knew what was going on in the medical laboratories he would be revolted by this senseless cruelty to defenseless animals who cannot speak for themselves other than to plead with their eyes

One might ask the question: Can we be neutral where cruelty is concerned? The answer is No, in my opinion because you can not be in heaven and hell at the same time. "The word neutrality," wrote Ella Wheeler Wilcox, "sits becomingly on the lips of weaklings," adding, "To stand without opinion in the world which needs constructive thinking, is a coward's part."

A child may be started on a career of crime and killing by witnessing vivisection experiments because in a cruel child it often awakens and arouses a dormant sense of satisfaction to watch a living animal suffer. Boston's great surgeon, Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, said [concerning his medical students] that, "it is the blood and suffering, not the science, that rivets the breathless attention of the students."

Some high school pupils having witnessed experiments in vivisection in schools have been caught repeating atrocities later, when alone at home.

The moral and spiritual influence of teachers in our schools cannot be overestimated. Dr. Francis H. Rowley in Our Dumb Animals made the statement, "Into the hands of teachers of the public and private schools of America is committed as into those of no others the noble task of training a generation

PUPPIES

A RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR A RARE BREED

A WORD ABOUT THE PUPPIES' DAM

The dam has never been defeated in her breed in Canada and on six occasions, on her way to her championship, she placed in fast Toy groups. Twice shown in the U.S. she took the points on both occasions.

AN OAK GABLES' ITALIAN GREYHOUND

Here's a breed that's ideally suited for apartment or city home life. It's dainty, but hardy. It's short-haired—non-shedding and has no doggy odor. It's an intelligent, easily trained dog that has been an affectionate home companion and pet since the days of ancient Rome. You'll be happy with an Italian Greyhound, and we have, at the moment, two puppies available.

moulded by the principles of the 'Coming Education.' If the recognition of the sacred rights of the animal world is clear in the soul of the teacher, if in his or her vision of the things that constitute personal character at its best are these fine and generous impulses of kindness, mercy, thoughtfulness for all that lives with the capacity for pain or pleasure, the children daily feeling the power of such a teacher's life will be fashioned into the same image."

The effect of practising cruelty is debasing and degrading to the experimenter and to the watcher and these vivisection experiments eventually lead to human vivisection.

In writing this paper I have had to read about experiments that were so barbarously cruel, that I felt continuously nauseated, often to the point where I could no longer continue, and had to leave my work on this paper.

The reason I have continued to study this subject is best expressed by George Bernard Shaw, "This is the true joy in life, the being used for a purpose recognized by yourself as a mighty one; [I feel that exposing vivisection is a mighty and holy cause] the being thoroughly worn out before you are thrown on the scrap heap; the being a force of Nature instead of a feverish, selfish little clod of ailments and grievances, complaining that the world will not devote itself to making you happy."

Another reason why I chose to investigate this subject and continue with it even though it was sickening to read about all these experiments on animals, is that I would like myself some day to do something worthwhile; and I feel that rooting out cruelty to animals is very worthwhile, and I would like to spend my life doing what I can along that line.

I feel from all the statements by good and kind doctors that I have read, that all this inflicting of torture on helpless animals is to no purpose. No one who has a heart and reads in the medical magazines about the experiments that are carried on, can help but feel that it is one of the greatest cruelties that has ever been known in the history of the world. And in this practice of vivisection exists a great danger to man-

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Although all amendments that appeared in the Referendum ballot passed, some do not take effect immediately. Those pertaining to the By-Laws are subject to Ministerial approval and therefore do not come into effect until after April 1. Those pertaining to Dog Show and Obedience Trial Rules come into effect January 1, except where specifically stated otherwise.

The amendment to Chapter 12 of the Dog Show Rules on Officials and their duties, which is an addition to the present chapter, DOES NOT COME INTO EFFECT until January 1, 1964. The same applies to the deletion and substitution of Sections four and five of Chapter 19. Both of these amendments are too lengthy to repeat in their entirety in this column, and those interested are advised to procure copies of them at their earliest convenience to be prepared for their enforcement on January 1, 1964.

These two new rules both have to do with the measuring of dogs. The first concerns Clubs and Associations contemplating a show in 1964. Before making date application the Club must appoint a Measurement Committee of TWO qualified persons to act as measurers on the day of the show. The qualification and experience of those so named must appear on the application. The other one dealing with this subject concerns the measuring and weighing of all dogs which carry a weight or height disqualification and all breeders and exhibitors of any of these breeds would be well advised to procure copies and read these two sections most carefully.

The remainder of the new amendments come into effect AT ONCE and will be in effect at all of the shows commencing January 1, 1963.

Section 3 of Chapter 25 of the Dog Show Rules and Section 4, Chapter 1 of the Obedience Trial Regulations and Standards, deal with 'Participation'. In the past, a resident of Canada who was denied the privileges of the American Kennel Club or The Kennel Club (England) was automatically denied the privileges of The Canadian Kennel Club. With the passing of the new rule, this will no longer be the case and each case will be dealt with by the CKC.

Chapter 10, DOG SHOW SUPERINTENDENTS, has been amended by a new section 3, which NOW is in effect and reads: Any person officiating as Superintendent of a show shall not enter a dog nor handle a dog at the show which he is superintending, and the same shall apply to any member of his immediate family residing under the same roof.

Chapter 11, Dog Show Secretary, also has a new section 2: Any person officiating as Secretary of a show shall not enter a dog nor handle a dog at the show of which he is secretary, and the same shall apply to any member of his immediate family residing under the same roof.

The change in the Chapter 13 dealing with Ring Stewards also comes into effect immediately and reads: Any person officiating as a ring steward shall not enter a dog nor handle a dog at the show at which he is ring stewarding, and the same shall apply to any member of his immediate family residing under the same roof.

There has been a definite change in the definition of the BRED BY EXHIBITOR CLASS, which is in effect NOW. Heretofore the dog entered in this class had to be owned by the breeder, but anyone could handle the dog in the ring. Now, however, the breeder must OWN AND HANDLE the dogs entered in this class.

A new section has been added to Chapter 1: Section 4, "Exhibitor" means the owner of the dog.

The new CKC Book of Standards, now available through the CKC office, is a most attractive well published book that should prove very valuable to Canadian breeders and exhibitors. It has long been needed and should soon be on the "best seller" list.

Members of The Canadian Kennel Club attending the club's Annual General Meeting on March 14 should note that the only members of the CKC entitled to vote and speak at that meeting are the individual ordinary members whose membership fee for 1963 has been paid and whose name appeared in the list of voting members published in the October, 1962 issue of Dogs in Canada. In the case of partnerships, the right to vote and speak may be exercised only through the authorized representative for such partnership. Ordinary members, whose 1962 membership fee was paid after June 30, 1962, and associate members (all of whose membership fees for 1963 have been paid), may attend the meeting but may not speak or vote.

kind because it is hardening, and develops cruelty

I have read the statements of some of our most famous medical men who agree with Prof. Henry J. Bigelow, M.D., LL.D., when he said, "The time will come when the world will look back to modern vivisection in the name of science as they do now to burning at the stake in the name of religion." . . .

Even the people who now believe that vivisection might be a help, I am sure would not agree that millions of animals should be used to establish things that are already in medical books and well established knowledge, just so each student can see this same fact for himself.

Since vivisection is a moral question, we can't be neutral; we must fight against it or we are committing a black and ugly sin. In the Ten Commandments it states, "Thou shalt not kill," and in the Beatitudes it states, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

Reprinted from "Reverence for Life" magazine, December, 1962.

quality but rather because of their lack of ring manners. I learned later, however, that there was a reason for this. Miss Lorna Jackson brought five of them to the show. But she had had troubles. There had been difficulty among her stock at home which delayed her departure for the 350 mile trip from Toronto to Ste. Agathe. She had had car trouble en route. The result was that she did not arrive until the judging of the Samoyeds had been almost completed. She had to rush the dogs directly from the car into the ring and had no real opportunity to school them. Their failure to show to advantage was understandable.

My best Alaskan, as a result, was the male, Igloo Koyuk of Cold Foot owned by Lawson A. and Gloria Beverly Williams of California, a good type specimen. There was some consolation for Miss Jackson however, in the fact that by the time it came to judge Best Brace in Show her dogs had settled down and her brace, Lorn-Hall's Kayak and Lorn Hall's Kiska, went to the top in this division.

Best puppy in show also came from the Samoyeds, Sno-Lane's Rish, owned by Wilfred Bell of Ottawa and shown by its breeder, R. Lacroix of Ste. Rose de Lima, Que.

"Sandy," called his mother. "Hurry! Your Chihuahua has disappeared."

"That's funny, Mother," replied Sandy. "She was here a minute ago when I tried to clean her with the vacuum cleaner."

congratulations to CKC

... On behalf of the membership of The London Canine Association, may I extend congratulations and an expression of warm appreciation to CKC on its Jubilee.

Too often do we fail to appreciate the privilege which is ours of holding indi-

Canadian Kennel Club and the well-being of our dogs.

THE BEST OF VARIETY

It's a dog's life

Recently my Shetland Sheepdog "Cookie" whelped her first litter. She showed no signs of whelping the previous evening as she was not due. Unknown to me she had whelped one puppy before she woke me and as I was busy getting her box ready and still saw no signs of whelping I was most amazed when my husband called to me from the bedroom that our year-old Miniature Dachshund had brought him a live puppy to the bed. She was carrying it so gently in her mouth and was so very proud of herself. Needless to say, had she not found it, it would have died. It is a fine healthy puppy today and our thanks go to our "Tiny Too".

Five Dollars will be paid to the sender of an authentic anecdote selected each month to appear in this department. Items, which must not exceed 150 words, may tell of an heroic action, an hilarious incident concerning your dog, or describe an incident where a dog used real ingenuity to solve a problem. Items submitted cannot be returned unless accompanied by a stamped self-addressed return envelope. Address, "It's a Dog's Life", Dogs in Canada Magazine, 1173 Bay St., Toronto, Ont.

MARCH MADNESS

There is only one nearly perfect specimen in every breed class, and every exhibitor in the ring feels he owns it.

Some dogs are like flowers — they grow wild in the woods.

Winning at shows is like golf — looks easy until you try it.

Discretion is the art of raising the eyebrows instead of the voice.

Some dog fanciers do not know what they want. Others are not so lucky.

Definition of a greyhound race track: one of the rare places where the windows clean the people.

Some breeders conduct their business on the cafeteria plan — self service only.

A girl exhibitor may be too beautiful for words, but not for arguments.

Puppies do make a difference to the home — but it usually can be repaired.

OF ALL THINGS

In Italy a mastiff boarded a bus at a passengerstop, commandeered the wheel and stopped traffic for 30 minutes. First the casual canine stalked up the aisle and firmly sat down beside the driver.

"Get out of here," commanded the driver. The big dog bared his teeth. In tacit agreement the driver and passengers quickly abandoned the bus. The dog then silently slid over into the driver's seat, put one paw boldly on the wheel and gazed out the window as traffic piled up all around.

Eventually police coaxed him out and the passengers gratefully returned.

"There are animal lovers and animal haters, and there are those who don't give two hoots, but the dog-catcher always gets caught in the middle." This was the swan song of Joseph Barron, dogcatcher for Scarborough (Toronto) for 35 years. He said dog owners would cut him one day and love him the next, depending on his attitude to their dogs.

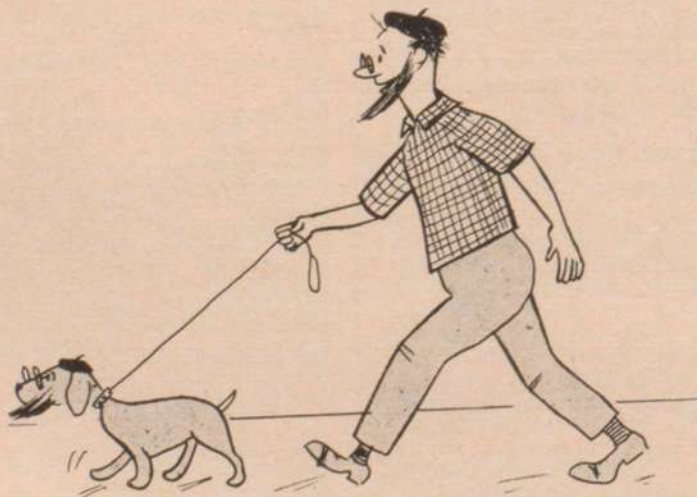

While the son of the house was being beaten during a $500,000 jewelry robbery in Toronto last month, the family Greyhound barked vociferously — not at the thieves but at his young master.

And while an Ontario doctor's bag containing codeine tablets and medical equipment was being stolen from his car, Trixi, a Miniature Pinscher who usually raises a fuss, apparently was lured to one side by a thief while the other broke in.

LIFE WITH GROVER

Did you ever hear a Shaggy Man story? Then let Grover Brown tell you one. Who's Grover? He's the Chesapeake Bay Retriever who went through life thoroughly believing he was a person, and a very privileged one at that. He was thoughtful and drew up plans such as the observance of "Be Kind to People Week." Grover possessed other rare qualities in addition to being able to talk. He often expressed his feelings in verse. In fact, he could do everything but retrieve a duck or goose — the very thing for which his ancestors were famous.

Alexander Crosby Brown tells this amazing story. Amusingly illustrated with photographs and sketches. Available through Dogs in Canada Book Department at $2.50.
